

Mental Health Told Growth Grant Okehed

Greater Service, Added Facilities Seen for County

The Floyd County Mental Health-Mental Retardation Services has received informal notice that its growth grant has been approved and has announced that the grant will mean the placement of a fulltime clinic and day-care in the northern (lower) end of the county, as well as a more effective transportation system.

This information is included in the agency's annual report covering the period, May 1, 1970 through April 30, 1971.

It also was announced that the regional supportive staff will be increased, especially in the area of children's services. Other plans include addition of workers in retardation, another psychologist and an additional psychiatrist.

Mental Health Services also reported it would soon benefit from a 22-bed psychiatric unit in the new Methodist Hospital at Pikeville and that a multi-purpose building will be erected in Floyd county to house regional business offices, a center for the retarded and a day-care program.

These plans should double the staff serving Floyd county in the next two years and greatly increase service capacity of the program, it was said.

The statistical report shows that as of May 1, last year, the total caseload of 385 was composed of 334 outpatients and 51 day-care patients. On April 30, this year, the caseload was 392, with 328 outpatients and 64 for day-care.

New persons contacted during the year numbered 389 for an average of about three every two days. The total number of visits to Mental Health facilities during the year was 4766, or an average of slightly more than 21 per business day.

Floyd YD's Back Schechter Health Plan for County

The Floyd County Young Democrats have got into the Comprehensive Health Services Program melee.

After hearing Dr. Arnold Schechter, deposed director of the controversial program, discuss the situation at the courthouse here last Thursday night, the Young Democrats voted to write Congressman Carl D. Perkins, explaining their position in supporting Schechter and his plans for the program. A copy of the letter was sent to the Health, Education and Welfare Committee and the Labor Committee of the Congress, as well as to several newspapers.

Approximately 30 YD's attended the meeting.

It was announced that the election of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the Young Democrats Club will be held at 7 p.m., May 27, at the courthouse. Michael J. Halbert, president of the Young Democrats, said that an open election will Lick that six-cent stamp goodbye!

And I can remember the days when a two-cent stamp would get your letter from Prestonsburg to the most distant point reached by rail on either of the Beaver Creeks in time for the recipient to answer it and get you a letter back, that same evening.

WHY?

Sometimes I doubt the sanity or good commonsense of the whole passel of us (and that is not only at times when I have been particularly foolish and gone fishing in the foulest of weathers). Just the other day, while pinned by the weather in a cabin at Wautauga Lake and trying to outstare a television screen, there came a statement which caught me by surprise so much that I still doubt my hearing. Traffic Offenses Dot Jail Blotter

Traffic offenses again were predominant on the county jail blotter after last week-end. Those arrested within the week, charges against each and names of arresting officers follow:

Terry L. Bettis, drunk driving, by Policeman Thomas Blackburn and Deputy Sheriff Conley; Hallard Hall, reckless use of a deadly weapon, by Deputy Sheriffs Otto Fannin and Virgil Conn; Millard Setser, destroying private property, by Deputy Sheriffs Claude Flanery and Virgil Conn; Jim Stumbo, drunk driving and no operator's license, by State Trooper Williamson; Randy Hall, no operator's license, by State Trooper Gary Rose; Randy Stapleton, drunk driving and no operator's license, by State Trooper Rose; Abe Lincoln Boyd, no operator's license, by State Trooper E. Health Program Fate Remains in Question

Two County Women Named Postmasters

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount this week announced the appointments of 40 postmasters to fill vacancies in the Cincinnati Region.

Among the new Kentucky postmasters are two Floyd county women—Mrs. Nickie C. Hall, postmaster at Galveston, and Mrs. Audrey A. Newsome, at Teaberry.

Congressional Hearing Posed If Work Ends

Although the multi-million-dollar Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program remained under threat of suspension this week, nobody here knew, or admitted knowledge of, what lies ahead. Funds, except those needed to pay debts, were declared frozen by Dr. Leon Cooper, chief of comprehensive health programs, at a meeting here two weeks ago, but program operation continues.

Two top staff members, Dr. Robert Titzler, medical director, and Paul Stark, administrator, were discharged last week by the program's executive board, but they remain on the job.

Among the new developments were these:

1. A declaration by Harry Eastburn, executive director of the Big Sandy Community Action Program, that a congressional hearing will be asked if the threatened suspension materializes.

2. The reported ransacking of the program's Martin outpost over the week-end. (Last week's report that the office of Dr. Titzler at Wheelwright was entered is denied in a statement by six program employees. See separate story.)

Mr. Eastburn said a congressional probe, and not one by OEO and the Office of Health Affairs, will be asked because Health Affairs has not acted in good faith in the matter.

He was quoted in a Courier-Journal story as saying Dr. Titzler and Mr. Stark were dismissed "because they were working against the boards that hired them," and as

Six Challenge Titzler Office Break Report

Six Floyd county men associated with the Comprehensive Health Services Program, last Friday challenged the accuracy of reports published in newspapers and given television time to the effect that the office of Dr. Robert Titzler, the program's project physician, was entered last Tuesday morning and one or more desks overturned and files rifled.

The same news release said Dr. Titzler left his Wheelwright office, fearing bodily harm, and went to the program's Osborne outpost.

A statement signed by Paul Dean Wells, Earl Compton, Can C. Collins, John Milton Stumbo, Charles Patton and Rinaldo Frasure said, in part:

Appellate Court Rejects Motion To Ban Building

The Kentucky Court of Appeals last Tuesday upheld the ruling by Special Judge W. Major Gardner denying Everett Akers and other residents of Martin a temporary injunction forbidding the Floyd County Board of Education to build a seven-room addition to the school at Martin. The same order, signed by Chief Justice James B. Milliken, denied a motion for oral argument of the case.

It was one of several court actions lost by residents of Martin in the long-standing legal battle involving the school there and the construction of a consolidated high school at Eastern.

But the battle was not over. Two days after the Appellate Court opinion had been made, the Martin PTA in a special meeting approved the filing with the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare of a request for an investigation of the State Department of Education and the Floyd school board. The probe would pertain to school conditions at Martin. Requests for the investigation went to Elliott Richardson, HEW secretary, and Congressman Carl D. Perkins, chairman of the House HEW committee.

The PTA group pointed out that investigations asked earlier by state agencies have not been made and that the school addition proposed by the Floyd board for Martin will not provide adequate facilities for pupils.

Jones Held Here In Hall Slaying Sunday Evening

What officers described as a beer-drinking party through most of the day Sunday at a Stone Coal Creek home, near Garrett, ended shortly before nightfall in the slaying of Gernis Hall, 50-year-old World War II veteran and a resident of Estill.

D. C. Jones, about 35, of Stone Coal, was jailed here by Wayland Policeman Troy Mullins and Constable Kenneth Roberts and will face arraignment later in the week before County Judge Henry Stumbo on a murder charge.

Hall was shot in the left chest at close range with a .22-calibre rifle bullet which apparently struck his heart. He died almost instantly in the roadway fronting upon the Jones home. Deputy Sheriff Solmie Holbrook said a group of men had been drinking during the day at the Jones residence and that he and another officer had followed Jones, Hall and Mark Reed in their travels by auto to Wayland and other points. Holbrook said Hall was not drunk when he saw him.

As Holbrook recounted the day's events, there apparently was more than one fight. When Hall crossed the bridge from Jones' home to the road, around 8 p.m., Jones fired a single shot from beside his car.

Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo took the affidavits Sunday night at his home here. Five persons who said they were witnesses. Some said Hall had a shotgun when he was shot; others said they saw no weapon in his possession. No weapon was found on Hall's person or at the shooting scene, Stumbo said he was told.

The victim was a son of Mrs. Eva Slone Hall, of Garner, and the late Perry Hall. Besides his mother, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Beulah Hite Hall; six sons and three daughters, James Hall, of Wayland, Phillip Hall, in the U. S. Army, Roy, Gary, Delmas and Gernis Hall, Jr., all of Estill, Mrs. Donna Kay Doubas, Cleveland, O., Bonnie and Lobanna Hall, of Estill; four brothers and two sisters, Clester Hall, of Lackey, Delmas, Cleon and Dillard Hall, all of Willard, O., Mrs. Vivian Hite, Cleveland, O., and Miss Phyllis Hall, of Garner. He also leaves two grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday from the Lackey Free Will Baptist Church, and burial was made in the Rene Hall cemetery at Topmost under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Housing Project Completion Seen

Construction work on the 78-unit low-rent housing project in the Goble-Roberts Addition of Prestonsburg apparently is near resumption, it was said this week after the bonding company for the original contractor had submitted a proposal by a new contracting firm to complete the job.

The proposal, made by Bradley and Powers, of Prestonsburg and Paintsville, awaits city approval, and this is expected to be given within the next few days.

Completion of the work devolved on the bonding firm of the original contractor, Britt Bertram Associates, when the contractor ran into financial difficulties and was unable to complete the work. The housing complex is 79 per cent complete.

Some work must be replaced. This includes approximately 80 feet of curb, gutter and sidewalks from which the base was washed by heavy rains.

P'burg-to-Allen Road Bids Slated for Opening, June 5th

Contractors' bids on construction of four-lane US 23 from the Mountain Parkway, near here, to New Allen will be opened by the Department of Highways, June 5.

The Katy Friend-Allen sector of the highway has been divided into two parts—one extending from KY 114 (the Mountain Parkway) to a point near Water Gap, a distance of 3.357 miles; the second, from Water Gap to near New Allen, 2.541 miles. Grade, drain and Class I bituminous surface will be involved in the contracts. The bridge to span the Big Sandy at New Allen is not mentioned in the advertisement for bids.

Letting of a contract early next month is expected to permit beginning of construction work in July.

Completion of the highway between New Allen and Pikeville is scheduled for completion next year.

Tuesday, May 25 - Here's the Lineup

Although the Republican party has opposing candidates for all offices except those of attorney general, state treasurer, state auditor, 29th district state senator and 95th district representative, 99.9 per cent of the interest in next Tuesday's primary lies in the Democratic races.

The race for the top spot on the Republican side of the house is sought by four candidates, but Governor Nunn's choice, Tom Emberton, has it in the bag. On the other hand, the Democratic campaign for governor between Ex-Governor Bert T. Combs and Lieutenant Governor Wendell Ford is engendering most of the heat that has marked a campaign with only a warming trend.

The 15th Democratic race for the senatorial nomination, though having local interest, is marked mainly by the fact that two incumbents are after the place on the November ballot. Because of redistricting, Senator Clifford B. Latta, of Prestonsburg, and Senator Pearl Strong, of Perry county, are at political odds. They are opposed by Former Circuit Judge John Chris Cornett, of Hindman, Little "A" Allen Slone, of Blue River, and Delmas Inmon, of Garrett.

Besides Combs and Ford, Democratic gubernatorial candidates include William Shires, Jesse Nicholas Ryan Cecil, William Benge Cupp, Robert McCreary Johnson and John E. Knipper. On the G. O. P. ticket Emberton is opposed by Reid Martin, Samuel "Sam" Prater, and Thurman Jerome Hamlin.

Your name is Wendell Butler—
In state office, you seek to stay.
Do you ask to serve the farmer
With the same old pile of hay,
As you have served the children,
And teachers of our state,
Or will you give the cows and pigs,
Any fairer shake?

Why have you said to voters,
As Superintendent of Kentucky schools,
I cannot do what should be done,
And go by laws and rules?
Have you ignored state laws and rules
In the job you now are in,
To pay your dues to big "Fat Cats"
For deals that may have been?

With your record, how can you cackle and crow,
Don't you think you've failed the test?
As a public official, you should know,
We think you've deserted the nest!
If you become Commissioner of Agriculture,
We'll wish we'd never been born,
For we are almost certain
To choke to death on corn.

And what has come to pass.

A Floyd Woman Speaks for Combs

I wish to express through the pages of your paper my feelings concerning the Democratic primary election coming this month and the interest we should all take in it.

We have one candidate (Mr. Bert Combs) that I would like for everyone that lives in Floyd, Perry, Knott and Magoffin counties to give much consideration to. He gave up a job that would have meant much more to him financially than that of being Governor and I am sure it was because he is so deeply interested in Kentucky and especially the mountains.

He wants for us to have better living conditions and all the facilities that the rest of the state can boast of.

When he was Governor before, he built roads that our past Governor said led to nowhere. These same roads did not lead from Frankfort to Versailles but they gave the Mountain people a way out and industry a way in.

Since we have these extra roads many factories have been able to come into the area employing thousands of people. Many of which would now be on relief rolls.

We trusted him before and he has proven worthy of that trust. I am sure we can trust him again to give us our fair share of the taxes we pay.

The Mountain people have in the years gone by paid their taxes and got nothing in return until Mr. Combs became Governor. We feel like we have had a new lease on life. Our financial status has changed so very much that we feel that we are not excluded from the rest of the world, and we certainly owe much of it to him.

Think this over carefully and when you go to vote, don't forget to whom we are so much indebted.

VISIT RUFUS REED

Maytown Girl Scout Troop 256 accompanied members of the Maytown Homemakers Club to Lovely, Ky., May 1. There the members of the two groups met Rufus Reed, author of "Nature Trails," regularly featured in The Floyd County Times. Mr. Reed led the group on a "wild-flower hike" through the Martin county woods. With the aid of Mr. Reed, the group was able to identify approximately 95 specimens including lady's slipper, yellow root, anise root, wild ginger, wild geranium, and Jack-in-the-Pulpit. While rambling through the hills the host told stories, answered questions, related folklore, and entertained all those present. Those making the trip and enjoying the hospitality of Mr. Reed were Jane Gibson, Billie Martin, Yvette Martin, Debbie Reffett, Beverly Reffett, Ann Flanery, Angela Combs, Sheila Allen, Teresa Huff, Beverly May, Betty May, Libby Flanery, Anna Mae Huff, Melvin May, Marcella Bailey, Helen Boyd, and Mrs. Evelyn Fowle.

Cohen Publishes Poetry Volume

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Dr. William H. Cohen, professor of humanities at Alice Lloyd College, has published a book entitled "The New World of Man."

Published by the Office of International Education at Southern Illinois University, the book contains 32 of Dr. Cohen's poems which were inspired by his trip to Mexico in 1968 to represent the U. S. in the Olympic Poetry Seminar held in conjunction with the Olympic Games.

The design of the book, by the author and Richard "Corky" Meyer, of Southern Illinois University, features symbols from the 1968 Olympics.

Dr. Cohen plans to leave the Alice Lloyd College faculty to devote himself to a year-long ecological crusade in Kentucky.

BERT T. COMBS For GOVERNOR Combs Labor Record Unmatched

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

1. Increases during Gov. Combs administration, 1959-'63, gave approximately $4,000,000 MORE to Kentucky injured workmen. MORE INCREASES THAN ANY ADMINISTRATION BEFORE OR SINCE.

2. Combs' administration in 1962 enacted KENTUCKY'S FIRST "BLACK LUNG" LAW by classifying PNEUMOCONIOSIS as an occupational disease—YEARS AHEAD OF W.VA. AND THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT (The 1970 law merely streamlined procedures).

3. In 1972 Combs will bring state standards and benefits on "Black Lung" up to Federal Standards.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

Increases in benefits during Combs Administration amounted to $10,000,000 to Kentucky's unemployed for the same number of unemployed workmen. AGAIN, MORE THAN ANY ADMINISTRATION BEFORE OR SINCE.

The Alternatives

Is this Comprehensive Health Services Program worthwhile? Was it ever?

If there is any merit in the program and if it holds any future hope of better health services to the disadvantaged, it deserves support. Support even from those who do not agree with OEO and the federal government's way of doing things.

Federal money finances this program, and where such funding is done there are always strings attached. It must be done according to federal tastes, as in the field of education. So the situation seems to boil down to this:

Accept the government way, if it's worthwhile. If it isn't, if its main purpose was to create jobs and a big payroll, do nothing and let the whole shebang do a fadeout.

Thursday's Play To Name District Baseball Titlist

The Floyd county district high school baseball play-offs are being held this year at the Drift ball park where play began Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Leading off the three-day tourney were Betsy Layne and Wayland. At 4 o'clock, Wheelwright was pitted against Martin.

On Wednesday, the winner of the Wayland-Betsy Layne game played McDowell at 2 p.m., and at 4, the Martin-Wheelwright winner played Prestonsburg. The winner of these will contend for the district title at 3 p.m., Thursday.

McDowell, last year's district champion, is again one of the leading contenders as are Martin and Prestonsburg, but all teams are expected to give keen competition. The winner of the district play-off will compete at Morehead, May 27-28 for the regional title, and the state championship is determined in Lexington.

Tournament manager is Coach Pete Grigsby, of McDowell.

Thacker To Head Basketball Camp

Rudy Thacker, former Maytown high school star who has concluded a brilliant basketball career as a guard on the Vanderbilt University team, will conduct Rudy Thacker's All-Star Basketball Camp at the Prestonsburg high school gymnasium next month.

The camp will last two weeks—from June 14 to June 19, and from June 21 to June 26. Boys from the seventh grade through the senior year of high school are eligible. Mr. Thacker may be contacted at Langley, Kentucky.

Turner and Smith EKU Net Recruits

RICHMOND, KY.—A pair of outstanding guards, Ron Smith, of Palmyra, Ind., and Craig Turner, of Frazier, Mich., has become the first two signees for Eastern Kentucky University head basketball coach Guy Strong.

Smith, a 6-1 standout for North Harrison high school in nearby Ramsey, averaged 22.8 points this past season and handed out 189 assists, good enough for third place in the state in the latter category.

Turner, a 6-2 backcourt jumping jack who averaged 16 rebounds in addition to 25.4 points per game last season for Frazier high school, holds the school career scoring record and was named most valuable player his junior and senior year. He is a son of Bill Turner, former Floyd man.

He averaged six assists per game last season and earned these honors: first team All-State, Detroit Free Press; first team, Class A; first team, All-Class; and first team, Bi-County.

Drex Davis, Experienced Public Official, Has Our Support For Kentucky Treasurer

In the Democratic Primary for State Treasurer, there is a significant factor meriting the consideration of voters who will determine this contest. Frequently in lesser political bouts, there is an absence of enthusiasm among the electorate, an absence of information regarding the candidates, and an absence of key issues relating to the office in question.

None of this is true today in the campaign for Treasurer. Widespread confidence exhibited toward one man, Drex Davis, makes him by far the leading candidate for a post dictating efficiency, responsibility and fiscal security. Abundantly clear is the message coming from two professions in particular—attorneys and bankers. In all sections of the Commonwealth they are quick to point out that the election of Drex Davis is in the best interest of the people.

Now when you find this extent of agreement on the part of lawyers and bankers, then Mr. Davis must be an exceptional person. As a matter of fact, he is! Quite capable, he has, through public service and private enterprise, gained a thorough understanding of sound executive practices; as State Treasurer, this is a prime requisite.

A former Clerk of the Court of Appeals, Mr. Davis is knowledgeable in the Statutes which govern the conduct of State affairs. He is totally immune from any special interest group, faction or other element which could create delicate decision making within the office of State Treasurer.

In 1963 when he was a candidate for the Clerk's post, one Kentucky newspaper noted: "We find no scars, blurs or other causes to challenge his efforts in seeking the Clerkship. In fact, it is refreshing indeed to realize the political ambitions of this man are dictated by decent, honest and determined service to the people of Kentucky."

Time hasn't changed Mr. Davis. He continues to be a man whose civic motives are totally in tune with the needs of his community. The best way to judge the probability of future action is to look at one's past. Drex Davis comes off with flying colors which generates strong assurance that this caliber of individual is willing to assume a vitally important State position, and will perform the task in magnificent fashion.

(Editorial of May 6, 1971. Reprinted by permission of The Fulton County News.)

Make the right choice — Nominate Drex Davis for State Treasurer.

Wendell Ford... a break with the political past.

This time, let's get rid of cheap politics and favoritism . . . that kind of special interest government that costs us millions in extra taxes and ruined land.

The politicians had you paying tax on medicine. Wendell Ford led the fight to end that tax . . . and others.

The land-spoilers are ruining our countryside. But Wendell Ford has told them, in crisp, clear words that their spoiling days are over the day he becomes governor. So the land-spoilers are supporting Wendell Ford's opponents.

Wendell Ford will break with the political past . . . will take the load off the people. And the people are saying, "It's about time".

Isn't it time the people had a Governor? Wendell Ford . . . a strong voice, a clear head.

A FIGHTER FOR PEOPLE.

Urges You Support Homestead Exemption Admendment

On your ballot at the November Regular Election will be a Constitutional Amendment — the only one, in fact, to provide an exemption of up to $6,500 in the assessed valuation of homesteads of persons 65 and over.

As your representative in the 1970 General Assembly, I co-sponsored House Bill 147, and used all of the influence of which I was capable as Democratic Caucus Chairman, to have this Constitutional Amendment placed on the ballot for the tax relief of our Senior Citizens.

Bert T. Combs for Governor also supports this amendment. YOUR REPRESENTATIVE HAS HELPED TO PLACE THIS TAX RELIEF AMENDMENT ON THE BALLOT.

Support the Senior Citizen Tax Relief Amendment in November.

Please support me again for your Representative at the May 25th Primary.

PEARL STRONG

For STATE SENATOR DISTRICT 29

We, the supporters of Pearl Strong of the 29th senatorial district, wish to talk to you about our candidate and his opponents. You have heard his opponents talk about what they've done and what they're for. What have they done and what are they really for? Latta stated that he supported the "Black Lung" bill. The record shows that he did not even vote on this bill. John Chris Cornett says that he is for education and kin to everybody in Perry, Knott, Floyd and Martin counties. You know as well as we know what he is for. Doesn't he draw a big retirement pension? Three or four more years would raise it even more. . . . Some people told us that they had a good working judge and we all certainly want to keep a good working Senator who is Pearl Strong. Our candidate, Pearl Strong, was one of the four sponsors of the "Black Lung" bill. He also worked hard for education and helped our community college in a lot of ways. He was also responsible for getting a bill passed so that people 65 and over could get their glasses made and repaired on their old age assistance hospital card. He also worked hard to help pass a bill to raise the jurors pay to $12.80 but, unfortunately, it was vetoed by the governor. All the labor endorsements that have been made are for our candidate. Isn't that proof enough that he has in the past and will continue to work for you and the future of Eastern Ky. Vote for Pearl Strong for State Senator on the Democratic ticket on May 25th, number one in the second column.

Re-discover KENTUCKY
By HELEN PRICE STACY

WEST LIBERTY, KY.—There is nothing better to sell Kentucky than a festival, whether it's called a festival, singing gathering, flea market or fair. This is being written just as Morgan County's first annual Dogwood Festival comes to a close and despite incessant rainfall, an estimated 10,000 visitors discovered true mountain hospitality and quality arts and crafts at the West Liberty event.

Morgan County artists and craftsmen in turn discovered that people can be friendly and gracious and generous...rain or sun. The Eastern Kentucky hills were as green as the emerald Isle of Erin, started with bright bloom of dogwood trees, and made a—not red, but green plush carpet to be rolled out for a welcome mat.

The last week-end in this month—starting May 27—finds three outstanding events scheduled in Eastern Kentucky, any one of which offers an opportunity to continue the state's quality entertainment, arts and crafts.

On May 27, the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen presents the fifth annual Artists and Craftsmen's Fair at Berea's Indian Fort Theatre, 50 miles south of Lexington.

Continuing through May 30, the fair's officials state, "Scenic hills provide the backdrop for exhibits, demonstrations and sales of a wide variety of Kentucky art and crafts. Join us for four days of spring celebration."

Farther east in beautiful Carter Caves State Resort Park near Olive Hill, the second annual Mountain Heritage Folk Festival will start on May 28 and continue through May 30.

"This festival is a grassroots undertaking which seeks to perpetuate the vitality of Appalachian culture, especially as expressed in its folk music and native arts and crafts," says Mrs. Barbara Edwards of Ashland, one of those connected with the festival.

The first Mountain Heritage festival held last year at Greenup was a great success with programs and activities filmed for a documentary by National Educational Television.

Throughout the festival mountain craftsmen and artists from Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia will display and sell pottery, dulcimers, quilts and other handmade objects and some will give demonstrations of their arts and crafts.

Location for the festival is at Cascade Caves within the state resort park area. Grounds open at 4 p.m., May 28, and close Sunday, May 30. Emphasized will be modern folk and Bluegrass music, and the native arts.

On May 29-30, a flea market and arts and crafts show will take place at Grayson in Carter County. There are no fees to exhibitors.

At the flea market, exhibitors will be displaying wares all day Saturday and all afternoon on Sunday at the Jaycee Show Grounds.

The arts and crafts show will be held at Prichard high school gymnasium, Grayson, at the same times as the flea market.

An art show will feature paintings in all media at Grayson City Park from 2-5 p.m. Sunday.

A little later in the summer, the arts and crafts entertainment will continue even as the county fairs begin their annual runs across the state.

At least one, the Cumberland County Fair in Burkesville, is planning, for the second year, an arts and crafts show in conjunction with the horse shows, dog shows, cattle shows and the other traditional fair-time events.

The Cumberland River Arts and Crafts Show will run Friday through Sunday, July 23-25, and last year drew some 40 exhibits, everything from cane-bottom chairmakers to rare Indian arrowhead collections. Exhibitors will be on hand to demonstrate their skills, and examples of most of the wares will be offered for sale.

On Sunday, the show will conclude with a Union church service and old-time singing in the morning, and an old-fashioned muzzleloading rifle shoot in the afternoon, both on the craft show grounds.

No state is more beautiful than Kentucky...no region more lovely and magnificent than that of the Appalachian Mountains and foothills...no people more hospitable than mountain folk who with their ingenuity, foresightedness and talents are keeping Kentucky and other states in this region on the move.

Mrs. Spiro Agnew To Dedicate Estill Co. High at Irvine

FRANKFORT, KY.—Mrs. Spiro Agnew, accompanied by Gov. and Mrs. Louie B. Nunn, will dedicate on May 21 the new Estill county high school in Irvine to the memory of the 97 Estill County casualties of W. W. I, W. W. II, the Korean and Vietnam conflicts.

A plaque with the 97 names will rest within the school and serve as a county monument to its men who have given their lives to the service of mankind.

Mrs. Agnew will arrive by helicopter with Gov. and Mrs. Nunn. The scheduled landing site is the Nolan Brothers' Farm in Irvine.

A parade will start "Judy Agnew Day" in Irvine at 11 a.m. Several school groups, garden clubs and local organizations and have prepared floats to help celebrate the Estill Co. High dedication.

tucky menu, including succulent Kentucky Country Ham, red-eye gravy and buttery-hot biscuits.

JIMMY "GABE" TURNER

For Floyd County's STATE REPRESENTATIVE May Democratic Primary

I AM ONE OF YOU . . .

Jimmy "Gabe" Turner was born and reared in Floyd county, Kentucky, a son of Mae Burns Turner and Ernest Turner, of Drift. He is married to the former Donna J. Barnett, daughter of Rana Calhoun and John Quince Barnett. He is a graduate of McDowell high school and attended Kentucky Wesleyan College and Eastern Kentucky State University. Jimmy is a former Detective and a former representative with G. M. A. C. He and his wife run the Triangle Drive in at the Y in Martin, Kentucky.

TO THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

We, the undersigned, believe that the time has come for a serious reappraisal of the records of Floyd county's elected representative.

The incumbent has talked about his passage of the "black lung" bill; yet, only a small percentage of miners eligible can collect. He talks about his labor record; yet, his own self-interests have been contrary to the cause of the laboring man. He talks about his education record; yet, teachers in Kentucky are among the lowest paid in the country. He talks about the "common man" and the "average people;" yet, his interests are big business and big money.

Clearly, W. J. Reynolds IS NOT the man to represent Floyd county for another two years. Floyd county needs a man with no special groups or interests pulling his strings. We need a man whose life experience has been shoulder to shoulder with you and the other people who are remembered only at election time.

Jimmy "Gabe" Turner is the kind of man that Floyd county needs. He will be YOUR representative in Frankfort. We believe that Jimmy "Gabe" can best provide the vision and wisdom necessary to help move Kentucky and Floyd county forward. We would encourage you to vote for Jimmy "Gabe" Turner, a Democrat, for State Representative at the May 25 primary.

AN APPEAL TO THE VOTERS

In the closing days of my campaign for Railroad Commissioner I appeal to you for your vote and influence on May 25.

I am an ex-railroader and have served four years as Railroad Commissioner. I am sure that with all my experience I am better qualified than any of my opponents.

I would like to be able to visit and talk with each of you, but it will be impossible for me to do so. For this reason I am taking this means to appeal for your vote on Primary Election Day, May 25.

Your vote will be greatly appreciated.

THE STRIKE HITS US

If you are more than 300 miles from Prestonsburg and this edition of The Times arrives late, be reminded that an embargo was imposed Tuesday on all second-class mail...

Wonder why they talk about sowing wild oats? I thought their growing wild eliminated the necessity of any sowing.

AND THE RAINS CAME

It may not make sense to most of you, but this springtime fishing safari we indulge in, year after year, means a lot to every one of us...

And then to ramble into a complete washout as we did last week is enough to make a strong man break up and get plumb tearful...

I will spare you the sordid details—even if it does shake me to remain quiet under the strain of knowing that the springtime fishing trip is history...

THE PLAQUE PHARAOH MISSED

Called Watt Hale, the other evening, and in the course of our conversation he told of the Prestonsburg man who some years ago worked hard all day to clothe and feed a bunch of young'uns...

"I tell you, woman," he yelled inside to his wife, "if these younguns had been the Children of Isral and down thar in Egypt, old Fairo would have turned 'em loose a lot quicker than he did!"

(Continued from Page One) defending the actions of Congressman Perkins. He said the Congressman has been accused of intervening in behalf of the program but in fact had done nothing more...

The Big Sandy CAP director said Perkins has set up meetings with Washington officials but that neither he nor any member of his staff attended the meetings...

"This," he said, "is not unusual. These congressmen would do this for any group. They are supposed to help their constituents arrange meetings."

Eastburn termed the demand made by Dr. Cooper that directors of Big Sandy CAP and the Floyd health program resign and turn program operation over to an interim committee...

He said Dr. Cooper came here and suggested an outside board composed of representatives of the UK Medical Center, the State Department of Health, the Council of Southern Mountains and other groups...

With the reported entering of the Martin outpost came the announcement that Mrs. Melvana Thompson, nurse in charge of the Drift outpost, had quit the job because of alleged intimidations and lack of professional recognition...

Mrs. Clara Mays, of Allen, reported that a desk, chair and filing cabinet were found overturned when she entered the Martin outpost, Monday morning...

As the result of the home care placement service established by the program, 22 mental patients, some of whom had spent as much as 30 years in a hospital, are back home in Floyd county.

The outpatient service, the program's largest, is now at an all-time intake rate, it was reported. New staff members have been added, and facilities have been improved to meet this demand.

The in-patient facility at Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, has been changed to a unit system under Dr. Wysocki, placing all the patients from Region 11 in one building and under the direction of one staff.

Monthly staff conferences involving the patients are held to work out effective therapy and the speedy return of patients to the county.

"There were no desks overturned, nor were there any papers strewn over the floor, as can be verified by the State Police detective who was called by Dr. Titzler to investigate the incident.

"As for his leaving the Central Office for fear of physical harm, at no time did any employee speak to Dr. Titzler, let alone threaten him. This misrepresentation of facts is a common tactic of the opponents of this program who are trying to gain control of its operation."

Coal Research Badly Needed, Spindletop Director Declares

"I think the coal companies have been very derelict in not doing more research," the president of Spindletop Research Inc., said in a speech at the University of Kentucky.

"The question is how to get chemically bonded sulfur out of coal," said Theodore Broida, speaking at the three-day Energy Resources Conference which ended May 13. "If you are selling a product that's deficient in some way... and it (coal) is deficient if it's got sulfur in it, and you have to burn it, according to the new standards, then it seems to me that it's in the best of interest of the company producing and selling the product to get that sulfur out of there," he added.

Discussing the problem of regulation, Broida said there are 34 different departments and agencies in Kentucky that have some role in the management of natural resources.

"How in the world can you ever coordinate 34 different agencies and departments?" he asked. "How can you get an expression of state policy from 34 voices?"

Broida implicated the federal government in sharing the blame for inadequate research on coal, oil and coal gasification (a process of manufacturing gas from coal).

"It's a crime, in my opinion, that so pitifully little has been done in the way of federally-sponsored research," he stated. "The percentage of the national budget for research on any energy resources is so small as to be a national disgrace."

He said the national research budget amounted to $20 billion annually.

The Coal Mine Health and Safety Act was an emotional piece of legislation, Broida declared.

"The figures quoted to support the legislation has no relationship to any experimental or actual situation," he said. "There is some allegation, for example, that the coal dust standards were based on the British experience, which is a flat-out misstatement."

"Sure, there were some figures, but the people in England will tell you there isn't a mine in all of England that could meet the standards that are in our Coal Mine Health and Safety Act. "Also, nobody knows the relationship between dust levels and incidence of pneumoconiosis. I feel that the same thing is happening in the environmental area. We spent two months analyzing all the research that anybody has done on sulfur dioxide and nobody knows what the effect on humans is."

"We are rushing off to create a standard... a multi-million dollar problem by putting a standard into effect with only the flimsiest amount of experimental evidence to substantiate it, and we all sit here and accept it. Where did all those numbers come from? Well, some guy in the Public Health Service made them up. And if you ask a question to (have them) prove it... they can't prove it. They say, 'Well, you've got to start somewhere.'"

"I just don't understand how we just accept the standards that come from Washington as if this were the revealed word."

Broida touched on what he called a linkage between "the good life" and environmental problems. He said that we like to enjoy life as usual but that some citizens can't see that coal has to be surface-mined to produce electrical power that in turn gives us air-conditioned comfort.

Who is your State Senator? Do you know him? Ask your neighbor about him, how he voted in Frankfort on the $12.50 car license, the extra two-cent sales tax, transfer fees on your automobiles.

My Friends and Voters, I am asking you not to make a second mistake, because Mr. Clifford B. Latta has bestowed the highest tax burden upon the citizens we have ever had. Are you the Volkswagen Type 3 type?

Don't let the fact that this car might look like Indy 500 material throw you off the track.

Those racing stripes are a con. That sports car back is a front.

The Volkswagen Type 3 can no more fly down a racetrack than it can fly through the clouds.

What, then, can it do, and who, then is it for?

If you're more concerned with slowing down than speeding up, it has standard front disc brakes.

All 4 wheels are independently suspended so it holds the road better when cornering.

It has the most advanced system of distributing gasoline in the engine: electronic fuel injection.

Shifting on the VW Type 3 is less sticky; 4-speed synchromesh transmission is standard.

And in keeping with Volkswagen standards, it gets around 26 miles to a gallon of gas, uses very little oil, and even less water or antifreeze—none.

But contrary to Volkswagen tradition, it isn't bad looking. In fact, equipped with all the options as you see in the picture, you can make it look like the menacing, overpowering creature of the road that it isn't.

So if you're looking for a racy little sports car, look somewhere else.

If you're in the market for just an economy sedan, this isn't it.

But if you're the type who wants a racy, economical, little, sporty sedan, eureka!

DR. ED LESLIE TELLS WHY HE IS FOR FORD

The election of a Governor is a weighty responsibility of the voter and that duty should not be taken lightly. The issues should be examined, the personalities of the candidates studied and much consideration should be given to the background and the experience of the candidates. It took me several months to weigh out all the factors in this race for Governor and I believe my decision to support Wendell Ford was a wise one. I want to discuss with the voters my reasons for thinking Wendell Ford will serve Kentucky better than Bert Combs.

1. Kentucky needs new leadership at Frankfort. It needs not only a man who will offer experienced leadership but a man with the high moral qualities to lead Kentucky. Wendell Ford has those qualities.
2. Wendell Ford is a businessman. He is not only a successful businessman but in all his business experience he has exhibited high ethical qualities. He is a man Kentucky can trust.
3. Wendell Ford has a program for mental health and prison reform that commends itself highly. Ford has the necessary vision to lead in these fields.
4. Wendell Ford wants to expand the rural road program. He wants more access roads to the major highways. These will truly serve the people. Specifically, Ford has promised to rebuild Ky. 80 clear across the state.
5. Ford doesn't believe that the National Education Association should dictate how Kentucky should run its schools. Ford does believe that the NEA program for Kentucky will impose an intolerable tax burden.
6. Wendell Ford is interested in primary and secondary education and vocational schools. He thinks this area of education has been sadly neglected in Kentucky. He thinks that to continue to pour vast sums into college development is the wrong approach to educational development. Ford looks at the whole picture.
7. Ford is against the so called right-to-work laws. Right-to-work laws are union busting devices. If Kentucky had a right-to-work law the United Mine Workers would not have the powerful voice it does today. Wendell Ford believes in collective bargaining.
8. Wendell Ford is for a severance tax on coal but he does not want that tax to be a destructive one. Ford thinks Kentucky's severance tax should leave the state in a good competitive position with its sister state.

There are other reasons also why I am for Wendell Ford for Governor but think these alone are sufficient. The democratic form of government is the best on earth but it can be improved in Kentucky by electing Ford for Governor. He is a Fighter for People.

I earnestly urge you, the voter, to join with me in supporting this great Kentuckian for Governor.

Wendell Ford is a Fighter For People

Combs urges unifying services for the elderly

By ED RYAN
Courier-Journal Staff Writer

Former Gov. Bert T. Combs yesterday called for establishment of a state "cabinet-level agency to take up the growing problems of aged Kentuckians."

"It should be the concern of all of us that there are now dozens of separate agencies and commissions and committees shuffling the problems of the aged," the 59-year-old Combs told a senior citizens rally at the Kentucky State Fair an Exposition Center in Louisville.

"Our aged are neither athletic enough or wealthy enough to endure the runaround many of them now receive," the Democratic gubernatorial candidate said.

Combs went on to outline other parts of his platform concerning the aged:

He favors the passage of a constitutional amendment on November's state ballot that will give Kentuckians over 65 a tax exemption on the first $6,500 of the value of their residences.

"Many do not realize, however, that even if this "homestead" amendment passes, it will be necessary for the subsequent legislature to implement it with legislative action," Combs explained.

He promised that the implementation of the amendment "will be an important part of my program in the 1972 General Assembly."

He will push for a law to permit recipients of old-age assistance to reside with their children without suffering a reduction in their welfare payments. Combs noted that Gov. Louie B. Nunn vetoed similar legislation in the 1968 legislature.

If he is governor, Combs said, he will "insist on a policy of no reductions in welfare payments for the aged when federal Social Security benefits are increased by Congress."

Combs charged that his principal opponent in the May 25 Democratic primary, Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford, helped kill such legislation as chairman of the Rules Committee in the state Senate during the 1970 Legislature.

Combs proposed that the aged living near a school and in need of proper nourishment, should be able to participate in the federally financed "hot lunch" program in the schools.

"I realize we will have to get the cooperation of the federal government on that," Combs told his audience.

There should be an upgrading of institutional home standards "with regular inspection and certification by the state, regardless of the number of occupants," Combs said.

"There is no reason to distinguish between the health and safety standards in a 'mini' home where two aged citizens live and a home, where, say 20 aged citizens live," he added.

Combs also said that he will "insist that the best system of fire detection known to modern science will be used in all residential programs under the state's jurisdiction."

He suggested that "a type of smoke sensor that measures any sudden change of oxygen content in the air" be used in addition to heat sensor devices.

TAXES, MISTER?

Bert Combs, the TAXMAN, deserves defeat

IN 1959, candidate Bert Combs promised Kentuckians he would not raise taxes. He got elected that way. As soon as he took office, he broke his promise and put on the sales tax. It cost Kentuckians $376 million while he was governor, and we're still paying.

Combs crushed every effort to exempt food and medicine from his sales tax. But he did provide SOME exemptions:

He exempted equipment for drilling oil and gas and for mining coal. (It must be a coincidence that Combs soon acquired mineral rights—oil, gas AND coal—for huge tracts of East Kentucky land.)

And he exempted railroad locomotives and boxcars. (It's no doubt another coincidence that he since has had several years as a high-salaried attorney on the payroll of Southern Railway Company. S-u-r-e i-t i-s!)

The Combs sales tax put the heavy share of the tax burden on middle-and low-income families, and on senior citizens who must spend their money at the cash register, with no way to increase income.

NOW, Combs is on the stump again, wanting four years more as governor, SO GRAB YOUR POCKETBOOK.

Last month Combs committed himself to increase State spending approximately $392 million in one field alone, AND THAT MEANS MORE TAX. KEA leaders announced their request for increased State spending for the next four years—about $392 million above the present level. Combs committed himself to their spending program and publicly endorses it. In reward, leaders of the KEA and NEA publicly endorsed Combs.

Where would Combs get $392 million more to finance his giant spending program? The NEA has announced these INCREASES IN YOUR TAXES as the way to finance their Combs-endorsed spending:

1. Remove ceilings on property tax—a $1.50 school tax rate.

2. Let State Revenue Commissioner appoint your local tax commissioner, instead of local voters electing him.

Ford led the successful drive in 1970 that took Combs' sales tax off of prescription medicine and health aids. Ford is for fairness in taxes. He is a fighter for people.

Taxpayers cannot afford four more big-tax, big-spend, Bert-Combs years. Vote against taxman Combs on Tuesday, May 25.

Wendell Ford led the successful drive in 1968 to take Combs' sales tax off of farm machinery.

When you look for a low-priced, family-sized car, the search ends here.

DODGE CORONET

If your present family car is two or three years old and you'd like to get a new one about the same size and for about the same price, Coronet has to be your choice. It's the only four-door family car that was designed strictly as a four-door.

Coronet's 118" wheelbase gives you the just-right size for easy maneuverability and parking. On the inside, there's plenty of headroom for a husky six-footer. And Dodge didn't skimp on trunk size, either. It handles a family-sized load of luggage easily. Like all Dodge cars, Coronet has Chrysler Corporation engineering features such as torsion-bar suspension for better handling ease and Unibody construction for a quiet ride. Plus a standard V8 engine that's big enough to give you the performance you want, yet runs smoothly on regular gas. Not bad for a good-looking, full-sized family car with a Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price under $3000. Check it out at your Dodge Dealer's.

DODGE CORONET... fits the whole family and the family budget.

U. S. Takes First Step To Aid Tornado Victims

Preliminary meetings between federal and state officials and local groups from eight tornado-damaged Kentucky counties have been held to outline proper procedures for obtaining federal aid for those affected by the April 27 storms.

The meetings were held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 13-15, in three South Central Kentucky county seats after President Nixon declared eight counties disaster areas.

The counties involved are Russell, Adair, Green, Butler, Warren, Muhlenburg, Pulaski and Ohio.

Governor Nunn, in announcing the Presidential action last week, said the counties will qualify for full federal relief and recovery assistance which will be coordinated through the U. S. Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEO).

Estimates of damage from the three tornadoes, which killed nine persons and injured over 100, are still not complete but are expected to mount into the millions.

Assistance will be provided under the Disaster Relief Act of 1970 which allows expanded federal relief programs for disaster victims.

Under the law, persons may receive assistance from OEP in obtaining temporary housing while their own homes are rebuilt.

Federal funds may also be obtained for removal of wreckage and debris from public and private lands or streams.

TAXPAYERS!

BERT COMBS SAYS . . .

- I am against ANY increase in the cigarette tax.
- I am against ANY increase in the property tax.
- I am against ANY increase in the sales tax.

BERT COMBS SAYS . . .

Two Locations In Prestonsburg To Serve You Better

South Lake Drive, Phone 886-6116

FRANKFORT, KY.—It's always a pleasure to go fishing in one of the big lakes. It's fun and the trip is exciting and the scenery beautiful but still it is not necessary. If it's for catching fish, a farm pond will do very well.

Some of the finest fishing is, perhaps, within a few miles of the average home.

We're talking about farm pond fishing and specifically bluegill fishing at this immediate time. Just about now, through the remainder of May, the bluegill, that pesky little battler that will give you more fight per ounce than any other type fish, is on the nest and when this condition exists it means trouble. It's trouble of the right kind, however.

Bluegill act just opposite from the black bass, for instance, when nesting. The black bass will hover around deposited eggs and will protect them but will almost never strike at a lure when on this guard duty. The bluegill, on the other hand, is gullible to the proffered lure, most generally a wiggle garden worm, while protecting his nest.

It's not known whether this vengeance is born of protection or of a healthy appetite, but the fact remains that while on the nest, the bluegill offers the best sport of the year for the fisherman.

All he needs to do is drop the meal worm or garden worm over the bed and almost before the lure settles, it will be gobbled up by the bluegill who handles it roughly and furiously. This fish, often called bream in Kentucky, also succumbs to the tempting artificial bug or fly when it is properly presented by the fly rod devotee.

Once a big bluegill has been caught from a farm pond it's a good idea, if the spawning season is on, to cast again and again over the very same area. Likely as not, each cast will be rewarded with the handsize bluegill that'll dart through the water like a drunken motorcycle rider as it is being retrieved by the fisherman.

For the first few seconds after the strike, fishermen say, the bluegill gives more fight ounce for ounce than any other species. However, after this few seconds it's easily brought in, although it will come through the water in a gliding position, never in a straight line.

Gluegill fishing offers much sport throughout the year, not only in farm ponds but from the streams and major lakes as well. Nevertheless, farm pond fishing at spawning time attracts, perhaps, more fishermen than any other species, white bass and croppie runs notwithstanding.

It's a family affair in the ponds with mom and the kids enjoying the fishing sport, even in an after-school jaunt, as much as pop will like his trip to the lake for the linkers.

C. for 16 years.

SEN. LATTA attended schools in Floyd County. He graduated from Washington and Lee University, and received his law degree from the University of Kentucky in 1953. After graduation, he practiced law with his grandfather until Congressman May's death, and he has his own law office in Prestonsburg today.

He resigned in 1967 after his successful campaign for the State Senate, where he presently represents the old 29th District of Knott, Martin and Floyd Counties. VOTE FOR CLIFFORD B. LATTA — HIS EXPERIENCE WILL HELP YOU

★ SEN. CLIFFORD B. LATTA ★
-1968- "MY RECORD" -1971-

I HAVE SERVED IN THE KENTUCKY STATE SENATE SINCE 1968,
REPRESENTING YOU IN THE 1968 AND 1970 GENERAL SESSIONS,

THE FOLLOWING ARE PROGRAMS I SUPPORTED AND VOTED FOR:

In Workman's Compensation and Labor . . .
The "Black Lung" Bill, making this disease a compensable one under the Workman's Compensation program; another to provide more compensation for injuries or disabilities limiting an injured workman's customary job opportunities; to require an employer to pay for medical expenses made necessary by injury or occupational disease and allowing employees to select their own doctor and hospital (this last was Vetoes by the Governor).

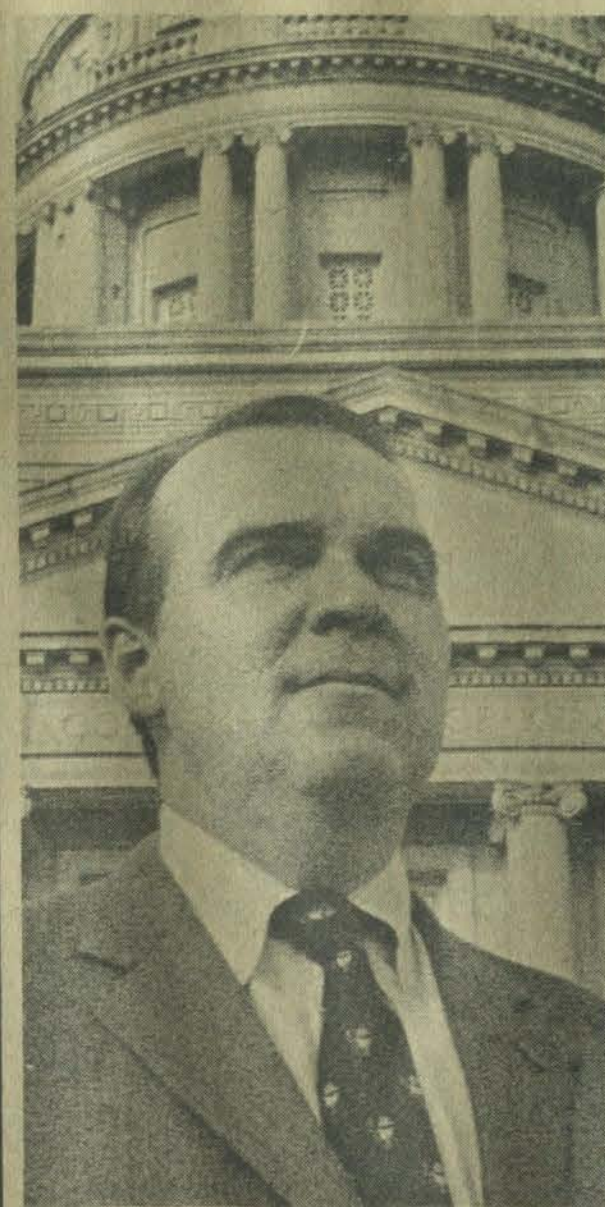

In Education . . .
To increase teachers' salaries; allow early retirement for teachers; increase State funds to school districts; increase benefits to retired teachers; set up a Task Force to deal with educating exceptional children; and create a Commission to study comprehensively the quality and quantity of Kentucky's education program and make recommendations on long-term priorities (vetoed).

In Health and Welfare . . .
To exempt medicine and drugs from the sales tax; create a Department of General Practice of Medicine at U. K. and U. of L.; authorize hospital districts to be established in one or more counties; permit old age assistance recipients to live with their children without a reduction in their assistance (vetoed); provide a "public defender" system for needy people (vetoed); create a new Division of TB Control to help locate and treat TB patients; and a bill I sponsored, to establish an office in each county to assist in training and employment of public assistance recipients and let recipients earn some money without having their assistance reduced.

In Protection of Citizens . . .
The "Crime Prevention" Package of bills which prohibited rioting and created a Bureau of Criminal Identification and Statistics and a Kentucky Law Enforcement Council; a requirement for full disclosure of all charges on consumer credit; prohibiting the unauthorized manufacture, sale, possession or use of dangerous drugs; and a bill I sponsored to establish a Business and Consumer Protection Act to prohibit fraud, false promises and misrepresentation in the sale or advertising of merchandise and services.

In Natural Resources . . .
I sponsored the "Wild Rivers" Bill to set up a wild river system and prohibit the pollution of its rivers (it died when the House substituted an entirely different bill for this one); I also sponsored a bill to allow counties or cities to acquire land for the protection and conservation of scenic, natural, recreational or historic areas of the state, which passed the Senate but not the House; and voted for half a dozen measures to strengthen air and water pollution controls.

In Better Government . . .
I strongly supported a bill which would have required all members or members-elect of the General Assembly to disclose all of their sources of income and all financial interests; lawyers would have been required to list all the clients for whom they are on a regular retainer.

Mental Retardation

The information for this section is provided weekly by the staff of Mountain Mental Health Services. If you have questions, contact your local Mental Health Office; phone 886-3893 or Mountain Mental Health Services, 413 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

1. QUESTION: Last week, in dealing with how mental retardation is measured, you mentioned classifications such as "educable", "trainable," and "custodial." What do these classifications mean?

ANSWER: These classifications, as well as the specific I. Q. score on which they are based, are merely rough estimates of the expected ability level of the person to whom one is referring. They are only estimates because it is possible for anyone to do better on a test on some days than on other days and because the test itself is not completely accurate as a measuring device. For example, the "average person" whose I. Q. score is 100 can vary up to 15 points either way (85-115) and still be considered "average." In fact, an "average person" may get scores varying from 85 to 115 if they took the same test on different days, without any inference that he was more or less intelligent on a particular day.

Since the specific score made on a test does not occur exactly the same on different days when taken by the same person neither can we say that a more general "classification" exactly fits. The "classifications", mentioned in the above question, are meant only to describe what generally can be expected of a person in a certain range of I. Q. scores. Those people whose test scores border on two different "classifications" may have some of the abilities ascribed to each classification. While there are some disagreements between experts, the following are brief and simple descriptions of what may often be expected of a person who fits into one of the three listed classifications.

The term "custodial" is often used to refer to people who are the most severely retarded. These individuals generally require supervision and care in meeting most, if not all, of their personal needs. They may be able to learn simple tasks such as using a fork. They may learn to communicate by using simple sentences and may learn to play simple games. Most can learn one step tasks.

"Trainable" retardates can learn all the self-help skills such as dressing and feeding themselves. They can talk, deliver simple messages, do chores and play in groups. They usually require supervision of money, work and their total living situation.

Most "Educable" retarded can stay in the public schools through grade school and can become self-supporting with appropriate help. They can learn complex tasks and maintain concentration for fairly long periods of time. Those people at the upper end (top scores) of their classification can hold manual jobs of many sorts and compete quite well with more intelligent but less energetic people.

We're one of America's nearly 1,000 rural electric systems. Working together, we provide power for about 25 million people ... many in remote, hard-to-reach spots. That takes almost half of the nation's power lines.

But we don't measure our progress by how far we string lines. We measure it by the growing number of thriving communities in rural America ... where the quality of living is better ... because we've helped make it that way.

MAYTOWN WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS INSTALLATION DINNER

The Maytown Woman's Club held its yearly installation dinner at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Blevins. Mrs. Roland Burchett, vice-president, presided over last meeting of club year in the absence of Mrs. George A. Patton, president.

Mrs. Anna Hoffman, 7th district governor, installed officers for the new year and spoke on the KFWC convention, she had attended in Louisville. Mrs. Hoffman presented the Maytown club with three awards that they had won in the last year—a citation for outstanding community work in the library, the Club Woman Magazine Award, and a 100 per cent club award. In absence of the president, Mrs. Patton, it was decided to have a called meeting later for planning of spring style show which will be held May 29 in the school lunchroom.

Mrs. Hoffman installed the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. Ed Stewart, president; Mrs. Paul Borders, vice-president; Mrs. Jack Lovely, treasurer; Mrs. Donny Gibson, secretary. Preceding the installation ceremonies, dinner was served by the hostess, Mrs. Blevins, to the following members: Mesdames Roland Burchett, David Reed, Hubert Halbert, Theodore Gibson, Roy May, Billy J. Patton, Denny Gibson, Paul Borders, Paul Spencer, Kenneth Blevins and Anna Hoffman.

Environmental Workshop Slated at Barbourville

BARBOURVILLE, KY.—Mayors and city councilmen in Eastern Kentucky, northeastern Tennessee and northwestern Virginia will have an opportunity to learn more about environmental problems and solutions at a special week-end workshop May 22-23 at the Union College Environmental Education Center in Cumberland Gap National Historical Park, near Middlesboro.

The workshop is the first of six environmental workshops to be conducted for special groups, according to Charles R. Saddler, director of adult education programs at the center. Funds for room, board and guest experts are being provided by the Appalachian Regional Commission, in conjunction with the college's environmental education program.

"We are inviting the mayor and one councilman from each community in the area," commented Saddler, "and we are securing experts in water and air pollution, solid waste disposal, and other vital ecological areas to speak and lead discussion seminars."

The environmental adult education program will include five more week-end workshops for specific groups and a lecture series for the general public.

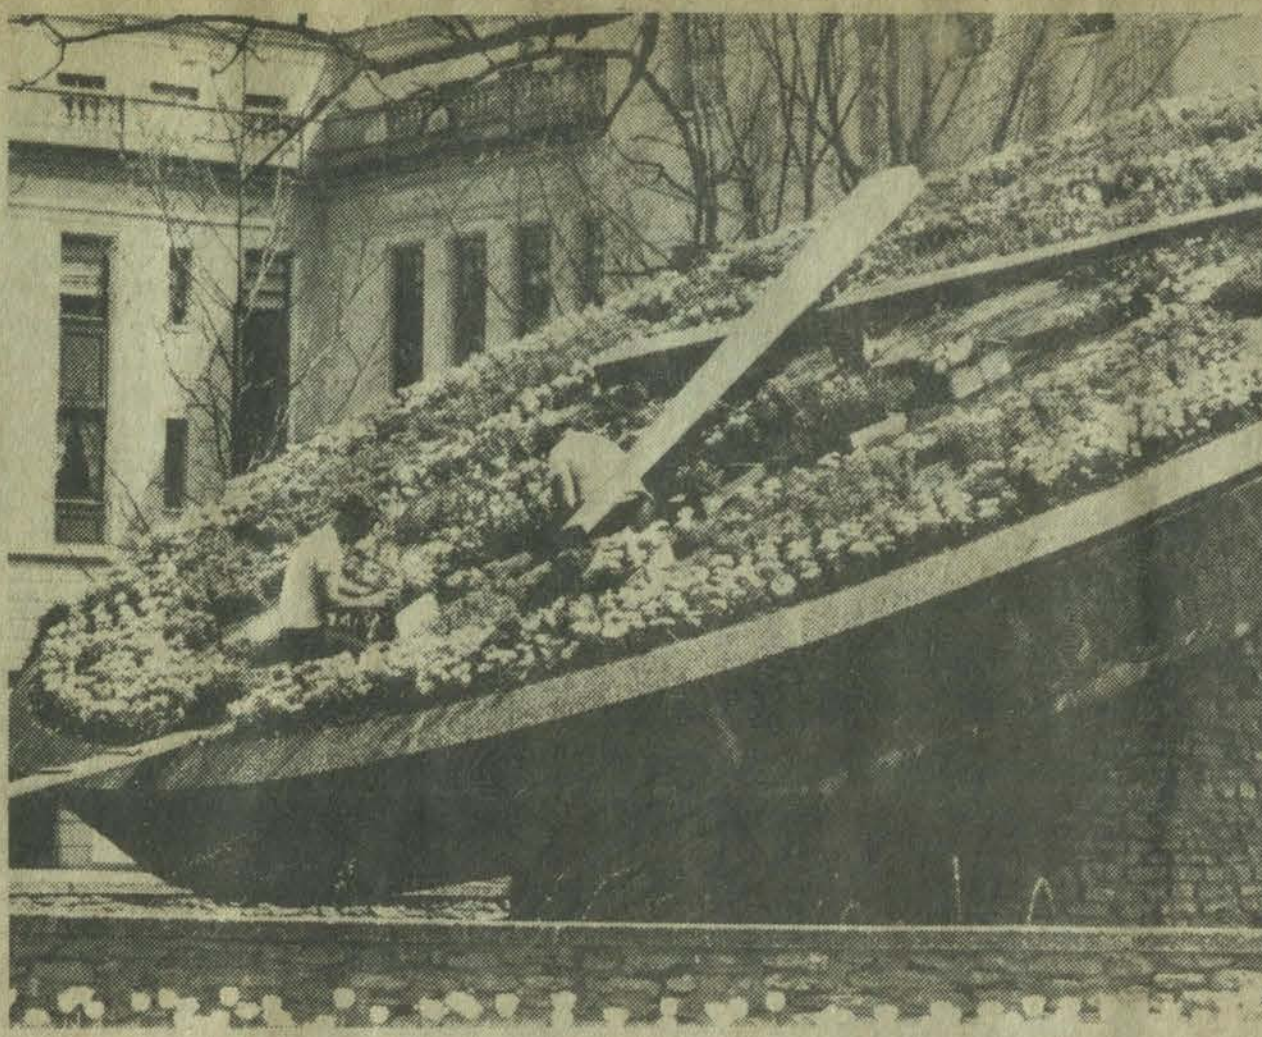

Union College began operating the special environmental studies campus in the national park last year. In addition to adult education programs, the college offers environmental studies for undergraduate and graduate students, and operates a special program for elementary students, in cooperation with public school systems throughout the tri-state area. The environmental campus includes 100 acres and 15 buildings within the 20,000-acre national park.

TIME FOR FLOWERS—One of the traditional springtime tasks around the Kentucky State Capitol in Frankfort is the setting of fresh flowers in the floral clock. Here, two workmen perched precariously near "half past" in the famous timepiece have to work fast to ensure that "time," in the form of the large minute hand, does not overtake them. The flowers are all baby chrysanthemums, of varying colors. (Jim Toole Photo)

for

State

Senator

I wish to announce my candidacy for State Senator, subject to the Democratic primary on May 25th.

I have held office in Floyd, Knott and Martin Counties.

A few years ago I was Commonwealth's Attorney of Floyd county for five years.

I am a brother to DuRan Moore, Mason Moore and Earl Moore, who have been in business for many years in Floyd county.

I have associated with many good people in these counties.

It will be my purpose as your Senator in Frankfort, to help the next Governor put into operation a program that will be of most benefit to the people of Eastern Kentucky.

I have always been interested in the education of our youth. I am chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of Alice Lloyd College. I taught school a few years while I was getting my legal education.

I will support a progressive Educational Program for Kentucky and will work for the improvement of our schools and the status of our teachers in every way possible.

I was a member of the State Legislature one session, and I helped pass the first Teachers Retirement System in Kentucky.

I worked for the Highway and Rural Road Programs.

I am still very much interested in improvement of the Highways and Rural Roads in Eastern Kentucky.

The re-construction and modernizing of Highway 80 from Hazard to Allen will be one of my ambitions.

We need to connect the Kentucky River Valley and the Big Sandy Valley in order to improve the transportation between these two great sections of Kentucky. The better our communication and transportation the better our chances are for new industry and commerce in the district. As we get more industry and commerce, we will have more opportunities for our young people to secure employment and work and stay at home, instead of having to go to other states in order to make a living.

You can depend on me to do everything possible for the improvement and betterment of our counties of Perry, Floyd, Knott and Martin and for the whole of Eastern Kentucky.

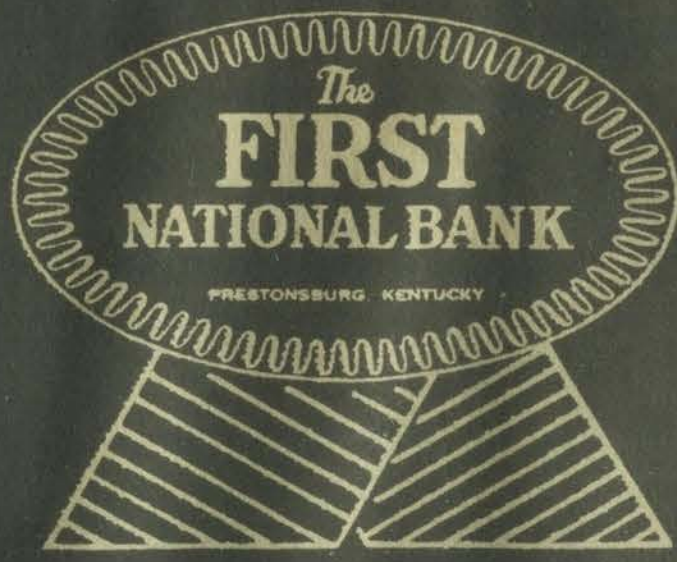

Your Friend,

JOHN CHRIS CORNETT

Grim Says Never To Gorge Mining

Reported plans by two mineral exploration firms to mine coal and uranium from the scenic Red River gorge area of Eastern Kentucky have evoked a stern "never, never" from state Reclamation Director Elmore Grim.

The firms, Lionel F. Deacon, Louisville, and Nuclear and Space Minerals Inc., has leased some 15,000 acres in and around the gorge after core samples showed the presence of commercial grade ore.

Officials of the firms indicated they hope to receive state approval for coal mining operations there to help finance the expensive exploration and extraction of more precious minerals if further analyses of core samples are encouraging.

Although the firms have not applied for state approval, Grim stated his office would never approve any strip mining or quarrying permits in the gorge.

If necessary, he said, he would call a public hearing and propose changes in the state strip-mine law to ensure state control of the mining of precious minerals.

Grim said he understands the extraction of uranium involves huge pits, much like those found where iron ore is mined.

"There wouldn't be any gorge after something like that," he added.

Grim noted the companies would be free to deep-mine the ores, since there are no federal or state regulations that would prohibit such a deep-mine operation.

Industries Along Navigable Streams Must Apply for Discharge Permits

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., May 11, 1971—Industries along navigable streams and their tributaries are being notified by the Army Corps of Engineers that application forms for discharge permits are available.

Col. Maurice D. Roush, Huntington District Engineer, said the material now on hand includes application forms and an instruction booklet, and may be obtained at any Corps district office.

Col. Roush emphasized that all industries which discharge effluents in any form into a stream must apply for a permit to discharge under requirements set forth by Federal Executive Order and pertinent legislation, to include:

The Rivers and Harbors Act of 1899, Executive Order No. 11574, the Water Quality Improvement Act of 1970, the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, and the Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act.

The Corps of Engineers, through the Secretary of the Army is charged with administering the program in cooperation with the new Environmental Protection Agency.

With some exceptions, the Refuse Act Permit Program applies to:

"All direct and indirect discharges or deposits (except those flowing from streets and sewers and passing therefrom in a liquid state) by any person, firm or other entity, including discharges or deposits from streets and sewers and passing therefrom in

"All direct and indirect discharges or deposits (except those flowing from streets and sewers and passing therefrom in a liquid state) by any person, firm or other entity, including discharges or deposits from municipal, state or federal facilities or installations into a navigable waterway or tributary or into a waste treatment system from which the same will flow into a navigable waterway or tributary." Temperature differentials also apply.

Col. Roush said inquiries should be addressed to: District Engineer, Huntington District, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, P. O. Box 2127, Huntington, W. Va. 25721.

Telephone inquiries should be made to: Code 304, 529-2318, Ext. 210 or 666.

Col. Roush emphasized that industries which don't apply by July 1st may be subject to legal action.

The application form is identified as ENG FORM 4345. It requires information on each separate plant outlet, full identification of the discharge or deposit, and a description of monitoring devices and procedures which will be used to gather information and maintain records on the effluents.

The district engineer said a fee of $100 is to accompany an application for one outlet. In the case of multiple outlets, a charge of $50 per additional outlet will be added.

Tornado Damage In Central Ky.

FRANKFORT, KY.—The savage destruction in eight South Central Kentucky counties from recent tornadoes has stirred concern among Kentuckians about future such storms.

The tornado season normally reaches its peak from April to June. The frequency increases in February with the center moving toward Kentucky through late March.

Tornadoes can occur at any hour of the day or night, but because of meteorological combinations which create them, they form most readily during the warmer hours of the day.

According to National Weather Service figures, seven tornadoes struck Kentucky in 1970 but there were no deaths. Through an 18-year period (1953-70) a number of tornado-caused injuries were reported but deaths occurred in only six instances.

Sixteen tornadoes were reported in 1967, which is almost three times the yearly average.

Tornado watches are alerting messages between the National Severe Storms Forecast Center and areas potentially threatened by tornadoes. They specify the area covered by the watch and establish a time period during which tornado probabilities are expected to be dangerously high.

Tornado warnings are issued when a tornado has actually been sighted. Warnings indicate the location of the tornado at the time of detection, the area through which it is expected to move and the time period during which the tornado will move through the area warned.

When a tornado watch is issued persons should not interrupt their normal routines except to watch for threatening weather. When a tornado warning is given, persons in the path of the storm should take immediate safety precautions.

Safe places during storms include modern, steel reinforced office buildings, storm shelters, tunnels, caves, vaults, underground parking facilities and basements.

Bill Bright, of the Civil Defense, said, "A person should seek shelter in a basement in the western quadrant of the house. If no basement is available, persons should seek shelter in the center of the house under heavy furniture." Heavy furniture will protect persons from falling or flying debris.

Bright added, "If a person is in an open area, such as a large field, he should either move away from the tornado's path at a right angle or if time does not allow, lie flat in the nearest depression, ditch or culvert."

A few windows in houses opposite the direction of the tornado should be open to relieve pressure within the building should a tornado strike.

Mobile homes, auditoriums and gymnasiums should be avoided during tornado warnings. Auditoriums usually have large, weakly supported ceilings, and trailers are particularly vulnerable to overturning during strong winds.

Income guides used by the Labor Department to determine eligibility for manpower programs for the poor have been raised by about $200. Now, a family of four, living in the city, qualifies if it has an annual income of less than $3,800. The same size family living on a farm qualifies if its yearly income is less than $3,200.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn asked President Nixon to declare Adair, Butler, Casey, Green, Russell and Warren counties disaster areas after three tornadoes tore an 80-mile path through parts of the counties April 28. The twisters left nine dead, over 100 injured, and property damage into the millions.

DELMAS INMON

Democratic candidate for State Senator
Primary Election, May 25

I am the son of Cap Inmon and Allie (Chaffins) Inmon. I am married to Sturneth Moore, daughter of B. V. Moore and Melvina (Martin) Moore. I attended Alice Lloyd College and graduated from Eastern State University. I have taught school in Floyd and Knott counties for the last 16 years. If I am elected state senator I pledge full support to the following:

1. Give education top priority.
2. Establishment of a free, statewide kindergarten program.
3. A severance tax on all surface minerals.
4. Safety legislation for coal miners.
5. An improved Black Lung Law whereby less red tape is involved in establishing proof of the disease. Much too often our friends have to chase all over the state, taking tests after test, when they are neither physically nor financially able to make these trips and their families often do not have enough money to buy food or clothing. In many cases the recipient dies before receiving his benefits.
6. Legislation to allow an increase in Social Security benefits without reduction in Public Assistance payments.
7. More aid to Mental Health and Retardation.
8. Greater efforts applied toward the preservation of our lands. Too long we the people of the 29th district have elected lawmakers who go to Frankfort and serve on committees and do nothing but, come election date, they display elaborate committees titles, trying to pull a "Snow Job." I ask you to vote for a man who will go to Frankfort and work hard for the people of this district.

(Pol. Adv. paid for by the candidate)
