

'Invasion' from Ohio Seen in Coal Strike

Sheriff Leslie Asked To Keep Watch on Cars

Sheriff Frank Leslie said Tuesday morning he had been notified by Pikeville Post, Kentucky State Police, that its personnel was on a stand by basis after having received a report that a group of Ohioans was en route to Eastern Kentucky, presumably bent on closing down non-union coal mines which yet are operating.

Leslie said he had been asked to stop Ohio cars coming into this county and to determine their contents and the destination of their drivers.

Floyd county has no problem, except unemployment, during the current coal strike. All its coal operations are said to have been closed since the UMWA walkout in the absence of a contract.

But in Pike and some Kentucky River counties it is a different picture. Thirty coal camps serving perhaps 150 mining operations were still in use in Pike county, it was reported Monday, although 13 ramps serving about 90 mines have closed. Some of the ramps closed soon after the strike began but four closed this week after picket lines were established. The picketing, described as peaceful, has closed off spur lines leading to mine tipples and railway workers have honored the picket lines.

Robert Holcomb, president of the independent Coal Operators & Associates, said most non-union operators are closing their workings when union representatives or members request them to do so.

Of the coal strike one union source said, "There may not be a break in this situation until people can't turn on their lights."

If that is the key to settlement, a return to work may be some weeks away. Most of the power-generating companies of the country have large stockpiles of coal, enough to last from one to two months.

No serious talks on a new contract have been held since last Thursday.

Floyd Man Files $1 Million Suit Naming 2 Firms

Pending in U. S. district court in Milwaukee, Wis., is a $1 million suit filed by former Floyd countyman, Thomas M. Montgomery and Fox Valley Dodge, Inc., the Oshkosh, Wis. motor vehicle agency which he headed, against the Chrysler Motor Corp. and the Chrysler Credit Corporation.

Here this week, Mr. Montgomery said he expects a hearing of the case later this year, possibly next month.

The court action alleges that the defendant companies conspired to drive Montgomery and his agency out of the ownership and operation of their auto sales and service business.

Plaintiffs allege that when their contract with Chrysler was renewed in October, 1969 they entered into a floor plan agreement because plaintiffs informed them their original contract would be terminated if they did not sign the new pact. They claim they signed, believing it was necessary to finance cars through Chrysler Credit Corp., although they already had adequate financing.

Montgomery also alleges that he was required to buy more than 60 1969 model autos at a time when the 1970 models were available and that he was obliged to sell these at invoice price, or below. His action also claims Chrysler Credit required him to accept reassignment of contracts on autos sold by him on installment payments, although these contracts had been bought by the credit company without recourse. It is claimed the reassignment was accepted

Housewife Exchanges Shots with Intruder

The story of how a plucky Mud Creek housewife exchanged gunshots at close range with a man who had invaded her home and how she thwarted a possible robbery attempt by persons who sought entry to the house was unfolded at an examining trial held here last Wednesday.

Mrs. Dempsey Clark, a woman in her 40's, said her husband, Purvis Clark, was away from home at work when she heard a car stop near her home. She said she keeps her doors locked when she is alone, and that when a woman came from the auto to her front door, she asked admittance she refused to open the door. The woman returned to the car and two men approached the house, walking across the yard to the rear of the house. The woman drove away. Next, Mrs. Clark said, she heard a screen being removed from a window.

Mrs. Clark said she got her gun and went to the room whence the noise had come, and

This Town . . . That World

STIFF COMPETITION

This gubernatorial campaign is bucking the stiffest kind of competition in trying to get the attention of the dear public. The war, and now a coal strike, and Christmas ahead and sweet taters to dig at first sign of frost—it's hard for us voters to get our minds on the troubles of these candidates at a time when we've got a whole passel of our own.

CANDID

Our reference to sweet taters recalls the time when a smart-aleck diner noticed that the restaurant menu advertised "candied yams," and was untaftful enough to inquire of the proprietor if he didn't mean "candied yams."

In high dudgeon the prop. informed his customer:

"No-sirree, I don't mean candied yams. Them sweet taters never saw a drop o' candy—and I'm being candid about it!"

Comes now the time of year when I wish these eyes of mine had an instant replay attachment. How nice it would be, along about Christmas, to look out on the bare hills, the trees standing like so many skeletons, and be able to flick back to a panorama of autumn color. . .Not even the flowers die as beautifully as the leaves.

I MERELY QUOTE

Since that memorable occasion when I gave in this very column the wrong date for the transition from Standard to Daylight time, and had men rising before dawn and showing up for work an hour ahead of their more enlightened fellows, and had school bus schedules topsy-turvy, and so on, I've hesitated about making further pronouncements of the sort. So for the upcoming change in time I simply quote my Morehead contemporary, "Snooks" Crutcher, who already has assured one and all that fast time ends with the last Sunday in October and that all you have to do on Oct. 31 is to set back your clock one hour.

(I hope Mr. Crutcher is more accurate about this timely matter than he is in his confident predictions of Kentucky Derby winners.)

Farrabee Lauds Mental Health Program Here

"I wonder if you realize how much you have done? . . . You're doing a magnificent job," Dr. Dale H. Farrabee, Kentucky Mental Health Commissioner, told a group here last Thursday evening at a special meeting of the Floyd County Mental Health-Mental Retardation Association and the local chapter of the American Association of University Women.

A proposal by Dr. Farrabee to the Regional Board at Louisville that it contract with the state to take over operation of Central Hospital there is chief among recent innovative measures taken by Kentucky's Mental Health Commission.

He said that "SUCH A MOVE HAS NOT BEEN HEARD OF BEFORE." The basis for this radical change from previous state administration of hospitals is the belief that regional boards in direct contact with community centers can react more quickly to needs of the community than is possible at the state level. Dr. Farrabee said that "patient care should improve. . .the local community knows its needs best." He pointed out that the move would make more federal funds available to Central Hospital, partially through third-party payments such as Medicare and Medicaid.

The latter two programs, and the approval

LaViers Firm Is Paid $8.9 Million Damages

Harry LaViers, Jr., of Paintsville, flew home from Washington last Friday with two checks totalling $8,907,000.

The checks represented settlement by the United Mine Workers of America and the Consolidation Coal Company of the judgment awarded against them in U. S. district court on an anti-trust action filed by the South-East Coal Company, headed by LaViers and his father, Harry LaViers, Sr., also of Paintsville.

The money was paid in two equal amounts by the UMW and Consolidation. A federal court jury in 1968 found them guilty of conspiring to put South-East, a medium-sized company, out of business.

The case attracted nationwide attention and was widely cited as an example of the type of union-company power-wielding that made operations difficult for small and medium-sized coal firms.

Officials of the U. S. District Court for the District of Columbia said the settlement was the largest of its kind on record in this district.

One of the final roadblocks in South-East's attempts to collect the judgment was cleared away earlier this week by the U. S. Supreme Court, which refused for a second time to hear an appeal in the case.

According to an agreement reached between the parties last month, the UMW and Consolidation said they would pay the settlement "promptly" if their appeal motion was rejected.

LaViers buoyantly acknowledged that South-East was pleased to have the affair settled, but he pointed out that much of the money will be consumed by creditors and attorneys' fees.

"I'm giving the news to our creditors already," he said. "Now we can pay off our debts. As for the future. . .we'll continue to do what we have always done—get up in the morning, go to work, and so on."

South-East brought suit against the union

New Bell Manager

Phil G. Scott became manager of the Paintsville-Prestonsburg operation of the South Central Bell Telephone Company, effective Oct. 15. He succeeds Bill Gibson, who resigned recently.

Mr. Scott has been employed by South Central Bell since 1956. All of his experience has been in the commercial and marketing fields. From 1956 to 1961 he served as commercial representative in Pikeville. Since 1961 he has been a communications adviser in Pikeville and Winchester.

He and his wife, the former Sally Ann Blankenship, and two children will move to Paintsville as soon as housing arrangements are complete.

Regional Chairman John Ward, a member of the Pike County Board of Education, will preside at the dinner meeting, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the park's May Lodge. Pike County Supt. Tilden Deskins is secretary of the region.

KSBA State President Scott C. Detrick, a member of the Louisville Board of Education, will speak on the mutual concerns of school boards throughout Kentucky.

Vocational and special education, public kindergartens, year-round schools, personnel relations, teacher salaries and school finance will be discussed by the board members as they prepare for the 1972 session of the Kentucky General Assembly.

Five Win Suit Against Conn; Jurors Listed

A Floyd circuit court jury recently awarded five youths a $500 judgment against Constable Gellis Conn, of Magisterial District 4, for his alleged use of mace, or tear gas, in their arrest at Allen, June 13, last year.

The plaintiffs, Imo Jo Case, Luke, Bertee, Barbara Lynn and Kathleen Kidd, sued the officer for $9,000 damages.

The most recent criminal conviction was that of Randy Hall, who entered a plea of guilty to shooting into the dwellings of Magistrate Denzil Ray Hall and Dester Hamilton. He was given a two-year reformatory term.

Circuit court was in vacation this week. Early days of the November term will be devoted to civil cases, but later in the month criminal trials will be held, and adjournment will not come till a week before Christmas.

The civil docket remains laden with suits filed to acquire rights-of-way for new US 23 through the county.

Four Arrested On Rum Counts; Raid Hits Club

Four liquor raids by state and county officers have resulted in the arrest of four men and the confiscation of a large quantity of intoxicants, mostly beer.

A raid on the Eagles Club here last Wednesday night by Sheriff Frank Leslie, Chief of Police Bill Potter, and Deputy Sheriffs Virgil Conn, Arvel Nelson, Tom Blackburn and Frank Vaughan netted 96 cans of beer and resulted in the arrest of Russell Howell as operator of the club.

Heaviest haul was made by state troopers in the Sunday raid on the premises of Cleo Johnson at Buckingham where 356 cans of beer and 75 half-pints of whiskey, gin and vodka were taken. A raid also was made on the Clarence Martin premises, near McDowell, by the troopers but the amount of beer and other intoxicants had not been reported here as of Monday afternoon. Those arrested in these raids were booked to county court.

Johnny Hallum was arrested Friday night by Deputy Sheriff Nelson on U. S. 23 at the lower limits of Prestonsburg. Nelson reported 24 quarts of wine, 40 cans of beer and a "fifth" of whiskey as having been in Hallum's possession at the time. He was booked in Magistrate Bill Wells' court.

Officers were busy over the week-end, and a number of arrests were reported. Among these were:

Wilford Howell, charged with drunk driving, and Martin Collins, accused of hit-run driving, both arrested by Policeman Darrell J. Coney; Darrell E. Hall, interfering with an officer, by Deputy Sheriffs, James Allen and Virgil Conn; Harvey, Hall, fishing without license, by Conservation Officers Conley and Cantrell; Kenneth Bradford, no operator's license, by Deputy Sheriffs Arvel Nelson and Steve Best; Jackie Eugene Hall, drunk driving, by State Trooper E. B. Allen; Lee Thomas VanHoose, stolen car, held for Johnson county; Freddie Daniels, drunk driving, by State Trooper Donald Lafferty; Otis

Prisoner Among Four Wounded by Gunfire

Four persons have been wounded by gunfire in the county within the week but all are expected to recover.

Most seriously wounded was Charles DeVries, 25, who was wounded in both arms late last Thursday night on Cow Creek by shotgun blasts fired at short range. Adrian Jarrell was jailed in the shooting.

DeVries told Sheriff Frank Leslie Monday that he was scheduled for surgery later in the day for amputation of his left arm and that he feared he may lose the other arm.

Bobby Gale Fyffe, 25, of Boldman, was shot in the side near here early Sunday night by Deputy Sheriff James Puckett when, the officer said, Fyffe suddenly attacked him and was choking him. The bullet struck a rib and ranged around Fyffe's side, it was said. He is at the Prestonsburg General Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff Puckett said he had arrested Fyffe on a drunkenness charge at Boldman and that his prisoner was in the front seat with him when, opposite the Goble-Roberts Addition here, Fyffe seized him.

A third shooting took place on the head of Cow Creek last Wednesday night when Robert Lee Burchett was shot in his arm, allegedly by his half-brother, Oliver Music.

The fourth shooting was that of Harry Williams, who was struck in the thigh by a shotgun blast allegedly fired Saturday on Little Mud Creek by Kelly Boyd. Boyd later was arrested at Printer by State Detective Richard Ray. Williams was taken to the University of Kentucky's Medical Center, Lexington.

The DeVries shooting took place at the

Consumer Group Selects Seven In First Poll

From a list of seven nominees named in voting at as many points in the county last Wednesday night three consumer-group members of the new board of directors of Comprehensive Health Care, Inc. will be elected Friday night, Oct. 29, in balloting to be held at seven designated voting-places.

These, with two consumer members already on the board and five others previously appointed, will complete the 10-member board which is to serve in an interim capacity for the reactivation of the now-stalled pilot Floyd County Comprehensive Health Program.

In all, 527 votes were cast in Wednesday night's balloting for nominees. Voting held at the John M. Stumbo school, Grethel, for the Mud Creek section was heaviest, with 203 votes cast there. The vote at each of the seven points follows:

Grethel—Milford Adams, 126; Woodrow Rogers, 77.

Osborne School—Estill Cole, 82; Joe Burgha, 14; Alma Bates, 3.

Allen—Fred Lewis, 30; Elmer Fields, 3; Wayne Conn, 2.

Garrett—Joseph Ratliff, 34; Chuck Reed, 22.

McDowell—Bill Dye, 15; Gale Collins, 12; Jason Moore, 7; Junior Caudill, 6; Frank Daniels, 4.

Hearing Slated On Gas Cutoff

Hearing by the Public Service Commission of the protest filed by residents of Rock Fork Creek, near Garrett, to suspension of natural gas service to their homes has been continued from last Wednesday to next Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the cut-off date has been moved ahead from Oct. 15 to Oct. 31, State Senator Clifford B. Latta, attorney for the protesting group, said.

Ohio-Kentucky utilities is seeking withdrawal of service to 16 listed dwellings on Rock Fork says it is losing its source of supply from Southeastern Gas Co., which is plugging its well and pulling lines in the area.

The citizens' group, headed by Gold Reed Jr., claims that the group facing the loss of gas service is primarily composed of disabled pensioners, war veterans, low-income workers and welfare recipients.

The utilities firm claims the consumers will have gas available from a nearby line. But Reed claims that Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Co., which owns the lines adjacent to the Rock Fork section, has indicated it will not supply gas because of a wholesale contract with the Kentucky-Ohio firm.

He said Kentucky-West Virginia informed him the only way it could serve that sector would be for the Ohio-Kentucky Utilities to give up its franchise for the entire service region in Floyd county which extends from Allen to Wayland and includes the Rock Fork sector.

Prisoner Among Four Wounded by Gunfire

home of Thomas Boyd on Slick Rock Fork of Cow Creek. Authorities said DeVries' courtship of Jarrell's estranged wife, Evelyn Jarrell, 25, may have figured in the case. Mrs. Jarrell, now a resident of Idaho, said she, DeVries and Darrell Branham went to the Boyd home so that she could discuss with her husband a possible divorce and the custody of their three children.

They arrived there, late at night, and DeVries had with him a loaded .20-gauge shotgun which, she said, DeVries brought with him only "to do some hunting." This weapon, she claimed, was deposited on the porch of the home before she and either of the two men were permitted to come to the house.

Mrs. Jarrell said she went into the home and that when DeVries came onto the porch she saw Adrian Jarrell run into the bedroom and fire through a window. Then, she said, he went onto the porch and fired again at the wounded DeVries. Sheriff Frank Leslie said DeVries ran a distance of approximately 1,200 feet before collapsing.

Branham, who is being held as a material witness, is a nephew of Jarrell. He said he did not see the person who fired the shots but that the first was from a bedroom window. He said he ran to call officers. Mrs. Jarrell said she prevented Jarrell from shooting Branham.

Jarrell had not made a statement as of Monday morning, authorities said. Although the two witnesses interviewed by Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo and State Detective Chester D. Potter said DeVries did not have a gun in his possession, his shotgun is bloodstained.

Shopping Cart Casualties

Myrtle picked out a shopping cart at the market, placed her baby son in the front seat, buckled the strap and made her way to the vegetable section. But as she was examining the lettuce, the child burst through the strap and fell to the floor.

In short order, Myrtle sued the store for damages. She said the strap was so badly worn that it should have been replaced.

"That is possible," countered the company, "but it is also possible that the child put excessive strain on the strap. She admits she was not looking at him at the moment he fell, so she just does not know how hard he was squirming."

Nevertheless, the court held the store liable. The judge said the strap should have been sturdy enough to withstand all the pressure a baby was likely to exert.

In supplying shopping carts to its customers, a store must live up to basic standards of safety. Furthermore, it must keep a reasonably watchful eye on the way the carts are handled.

In another case, a small boy began trundling a cart briskly through the aisles, even though he could hardly see where he was going. Finally, coming around a corner, he slammed into a startled woman shopper.

Here, too, the management was held liable. The court pointed out that the boy had been circulating for more than 10 minutes, time enough for employees to bring him to a halt.

Still, a store is not liable if the accident cannot be traced in some way to its negligence. Take this case:

A woman suffered a sprained finger when the shopping cart she was pushing came to a sudden stop. It seems that a stray piece of string had somehow gotten tangled around a wheel, locking it tight.

But when she filed suit for damages, a court could find no grounds for blaming the management. The court said this was the kind of an accident that would simply have to be chalked up to bad luck. As one judge put it:

"The shopper bears some of the hazards of life inside a supermarket as well as outside."

Tax and spend, tax and spend, tax and spend—that's the way it has been for four Republican years. Now we have a 5¢ sales tax, and car and truck license fees have been raised from $5.00 to $12.50. Our driver's license has been raised 50 per cent to $3.00. Auto transfer taxes were imposed by the Nunn administration at 5¢ on the dollar, regardless of how many times the car had been sold. The best news in years for Kentucky taxpayers will be the news that Wendell Ford has been elected governor. He has already helped by getting the tax off prescription medicines and farm implements and automobile transfers between family members. His record proves he deserves to win. of the 1965 bond issue, he credited with putting at least 6,000 patients under private care, thus making it possible for state hospitals to give specialized treatment in psychiatric, alcoholic and drug addiction problems. Dr. Farabee noted that one of every three patients admitted to state hospitals has an alcohol problem, and that while "five years ago virtually no patients were admitted with this problem, now 20 every month are admitted for drug addiction. There is no use saying these problems do not exist, but we feel that they can be overcome with proper treatment."

"Mountain Mental Health here is definitely one of the best in the state, and this state leads the nation," he continued, addressing mental health workers representing the five-county area of Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin, and Pike.

Dr. Farabee recalled that a few years ago the state could not even find one social worker who would come here. At that time, psychiatric care was available only at the four state hospitals or from private psychiatrists, with 95 per cent of those needing such care being cared for by the state. Now, he said, most patients will not be hospitalized for more than three years, because of the work of such local units as that in Floyd and surrounding counties.

Outlining other advances in the mental health field since 1965, Dr. Farabee cited the 20-bed psychiatric unit soon to be opened at Methodist Hospital in Pikeville; the foster grandparent program at Pikeville, one of two such pilot programs in the U. S.; the planned day-care centers for emotionally disturbed children; the fact that there are now at least 23 more psychiatrists in Kentucky than in 1969—one fulltime and one part-time psychiatrist in this area.

"Collaborative and cooperative spirit is the key to the success of your program," he said adding the local program is one of "the most aggressive rural divisions in the state."

Single Pollution Agency Endorsed

Frankfort, Ky.—An interim legislative sub-committee has agreed that all anti-pollution functions should be consolidated into an independent state agency.

The joint subcommittee on environment asked that a bill be drafted to give such a new agency responsibility over air and water pollution, solid waste, land use and noise control. Stripmining reclamation and other essentially conservationist matters would be left in the Department of Natural Resources.

Both major nominees for governor—Republican Tom Emberton and Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford, a Democrat—have said they would favor plans to centralize pollution control programs.

The major change from the existing setup under the subcommittee's plan would be to remove the solid waste and pollution control program from the State Health Department.

A new 13-member citizens' commission also would be created to replace the separate air and water pollution control commissions.

The only functions of the new commission would be to adopt rules and regulations and to review or hear appeals from decision by a hearing officer in individual cases.

Now, hearing officers make recommendations to the air and water pollution control commissions and those bodies act on them. Under the new approach, the hearing officer's decision would be final, subject to appeal to the new commission.

Five commission members would be appointed by the governor, four by the lieutenant governor and four by the speaker of the house. The governor now appoints all members of the water and air pollution control commissions except for those who serve by virtue of their office as heads of certain state agencies.

Membership of the new commission would be unrestricted except that no one could be appointed who was regulated by the commission and who thus would have a conflict of interest. Certain members now are designated to represent industry, others the general public and one for local pollution control districts.

In addition, the bill to be drafted will provide a statutory basis for the physical resources coordinating commission to coordinate activities affecting the environment. Gov. Louie B. Nunn has set up a coordinating commission, and another dealing with human resources, by executive order.

The new department would be headed by a commissioner appointed by the governor, as nearly all other state agencies are now.

Although several subcommittee members complained that present pollution control laws were not being enforced properly, all generally agreed that the primary problem was financing.

Notice of Rate Adjustment

Please take notice that the Martin Gas Company, Martin, Kentucky, has filed an application with the Kentucky Public Service Commission to increase its rates. Its proposed new rate schedule is as follows:

First 1,000 cubic feet per month, $3.50; next 49,000 cubic feet per month, $1.25 per MCF; all over 50,000 cubic feet per month, $1.10 per MCF; minimum bill, $3.50.

Penalty—10 per cent added after 16th of month.

A public hearing on the application, previously set for September 30, 1971, will be held before the Kentucky Public Service Commission on October 27, 1971, at 9 o'clock A. M. Eastern Daylight Time, in the Commission's offices at Frankfort, Kentucky.

Emberton, Leader In Mock Election

Tom Emberton, Republican candidate for governor, claimed an easy victory in a mock election held October 12 at Prestonsburg Community College. Emberton carried 56.6 per cent of the vote, with 40.6 per cent for Wendell H. Ford and 2.7 per cent for A. B. Chandler.

Approximately one-third of the fulltime student body participated in this Student Government-sponsored election, with supporters of the two major candidates campaigning heavily all day. Sandy Boyd, of Dana; is chairman of the College young Kentuckians for Emberton.

A "Youth Explosion" will be held Sunday, October 24, beginning at 3 p.m., at the Arnold Avenue Church of Christ here, it was announced this week. The program is to be sponsored by the Big Sandy Youth Rally, but an invitation is extended to all area young people and interested adults.

The program will feature Ronald Overholser, dramatist, in portrayals of the life of Christ and his Apostles. In the past few years in eight states many hundreds of persons have heard for the first time the words of Jesus spoken with emotion. By using their imaginations, these people felt that they were living in the time of Christ.

Mr. Overholser spent three years in the U. S. Navy, studied voice and dramatics at Bowdoin College, and studied Bible at Johnson Bible College and the Cincinnati Bible Seminary.

Four portrayals will be given at two separate times. At the 3 o'clock service Overholser will make James the son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot "come alive" and at the inspirational 7 o'clock service he will portray Judas Iscariot and John, the beloved disciple.

The afternoon will be filled with activities for all. Another highlight of the all-day program will be a 30-minute movie, entitled, "Whispering Mountain." Other features will include singingspirations, jam sessions and a bag-supper for all attending.

Bill Gilliland, minister of the Arnold Avenue Church of Christ and a leader in the program, said, "I believe this will be a program which the young people will remember as long as they live. We want the youth of the Big Sandy Valley to know that we are on their side. It is a real privilege to have Ron Overholser come, and I know he will thrill the hearts of those present."

Dance, Free Eats Draws Big Crowd

Sometimes, you can be too hospitable. Thompson's IGA Store announced last week that a square dance would be held in its parking lot here Saturday night, the Goins Brothers would play and free hot dogs and soft drinks would be served.

"We expected, maybe, 500, but the crowd was nearer 2,500," Paul Hunt Thompson said.

When would the store sponsor another dance with the free "fringe benefits"? Mr. Thompson wasn't certain. "You can't afford these things too often," he commented.

100,000 Tourists Short At Jenny Wiley State Park for 1971 up to August 1 These are official figures!

The loss to the area motels, service stations, groceries, sport shop and other public service establishments runs into millions!

What has caused this dramatic loss in tourists at Jenny Wiley State Park?

The answer is in the confused, inept and inefficient administration of the park by the Nunn Administration.

Do you know . . . . .

1. The Boy Scouts, civic-minded citizens and sportsmen had to clean up the park area themselves?
2. The Nunn Administration has provided only TWO small camp areas for primitive camping?
3. In 1970 there were 349 deer hunting licenses issued. Most of them say they will not come back due to the confusion in the minds of the management as to hunting areas.
4. Do you know that the Nunn Administration has built no cabins in the park and the cabins scheduled under the Breathitt Administration were cancelled by Nunn after the Democratic Administration had built the road to the site?
5. Do you know that according to official figures that if a tourist stops one-hour in the park area he will spend $6.00? Multiply that by 100,000 and see what the area loses.
6. Do you know that if a person stays all night in the area he will spend an average of $16.00? Multiply that by 100,000 and see what the area loses.
7. Do you know that a tourist who camps will spend $25.00 on his first trip to the grocery? Multiply that by 100,000 and see what the area loses.

All of this loss is due to the confused, inept and inefficient management of the park by the Nunn Administration.

All of this can be changed by electing Wendell Ford for Governor and Julian Carroll for Lieutenant-Governor.

1,946 Horses Vaccinated in Floyd VEE Program Ending Oct. 12

By CHARLES WESSON

The vaccination program for VEE (Horse Sleeping Sickness) in Floyd county was completed October 12, and the program appears to have been very successful. The vaccination was done by Drs. Applegate and Hicks, of the Woodford Veterinary Clinic, with Bob Case and Paul Heilman, of the Kentucky State Division of Livestock Sanitation, KSDA, assisting in distributing vaccine, and lining up the vaccination at each stop. I rode with the veterinarian each day in order to show him the stops, and to write up the necessary vaccination certificate covering each vaccination.

Since we only had a total of 465 horses called in, it is impossible to be certain of the exact number in Floyd county. However, from the numbers we received by interviewing several people throughout the county we estimate there are 2,500 horses, or fewer. In our vaccination program, we vaccinated 1,946 horses for 1,183 owners. An estimate was made by the state livestock inspector that because of vaccinations by other veterinarians, and some horses being taken to Johnson county vaccination stations, we missed no more than about 50 animals out of Floyd county. If this is true, we have obtained a rate of 98 per cent here. I believe a conservative estimate would give a rate of 95 per cent or better vaccinated, and the USDA was shooting for 90 per cent in all areas.

Anyone desiring information on the harvest and storage of Chinese chestnuts should contact the County Extension Office, upstairs over the Prestonsburg Post Office, Phone 886-2668. We will mail you the information we have available.

Invitation to Bid

The Floyd County Board of Education will accept sealed bids until 12 o'clock noon Saturday, November 6, 1971 on the following items:

Lease contract for one year for two 24 ft. x 32 ft. relocatable classroom units. These units will be leased for use by the Floyd County Schools for the school year 1971-1972, with option to purchase when money is available.

Further details and specifications may be obtained by contacting Ray Brackett, Director Title I, Superintendent's Office. The Board reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

NUNN CROWD USES THE BIG LIE!

Last week, an article appeared in The Floyd County Times falsely stating that Lt. Gov. Ford introduced a bill to put a 15c tax on coal and a 4c tax on labor. This is a gross misrepresentation and typical of the Nunn-Republican campaign technique.

The fact is: There were never any such bills introduced in either the House or Senate in 1968.

Now let's really set the record straight!

Every Kentuckian knows that Lt. Gov. Ford and the Democratic leadership led the fight to take the tax off prescription drugs and farm equipment. Had it not been for the efforts of Lt. Gov. Ford, the Nunn-Republican tax would be on everything, across the board.

Isn't it time the people had a governor?

Republican failures 1968-1971

- ✓ Government payroll increased by $60 million a year.
- ✓ Over 90,000 unemployed Kentuckians.
- ✓ 5% sales tax.
- ✓ License fees more than doubled.

Isn't it time someone really cared?

The wage earner and family man can't continue supporting this kind of Republican administration. We need a governor who cares enough to do something about the high cost of government. Someone who will do something about unemployment and taxes. We need Wendell Ford.

Wendell Ford believes that our taxes must be changed to give the working man and woman a break. He has already led a successful fight to get the sales tax taken off prescription medicines, farm implements, and certain automobile transfers. The next step is to get the tax off groceries.

Join the revolt against high taxes and wasteful government. Support Wendell Ford.

Rain, Lopsided Score End Game; P'burg, Wheelwright Record Win

Wheelwright high school took a 46-0 lead in the first half of its game with Mullins high at Virgie last Friday night, and this margin was so decisive that both coaches agreed it wasn't worth playing any longer in the rainstorm that swept the field.

Meanwhile, the prestonsburg Black Cats played it out to the last second in heavy rain at Whitesburg, continuing their win streak and downing the host Yellow Jackets, 15 to 0.

Fullback Danny Wells had his biggest evening with 124 yards gained in 32 carries against Whitesburg, scoring one of the two Cat t.d.'s. Prestonsburg's first touchdown came on a 64-yard run by Rickey Reynolds in the first quarter. This was followed by Wells' three-yard smash into the line for a second marker. Burke kicked the extra point. Prestonsburg's final two points were scored in the fourth quarter when Phillip Neeley tackled Whitesburg's York in the end zone.

In the abbreviated Wheelwright-Mullins contest Kenny Armour ran for 198 yards and three touchdowns, bringing his scoring mark for the season to 154 points. He is the state's scoring leader. Armour scored on runs of 31, 40, 2 and 40 yards, and on his last touchdown annexed the two extra points on a run.

Parker, who added the two extra points after Armour's first marker, scored the second Wheelwright touchdown on a 32-yard run. Armour added the two-point conversion. Mike Armour, younger brother of Kenny, scored the sixth touchdown on a 40-yard dash. Darrell Branham added two extra points on two of the touchdowns.

Despite his sensational scoring record, Armour is modest about it all. Returning by bus with other team-members from the game, he stood up and thanked other players for their support. "With a line like this," he said, "anything with two legs and one arm could carry the ball across," he said.

Prestonsburg faces a big challenge here Friday night when the Hazard Bulldogs come to town. The Cats now have a record of five wins, one loss and two ties. Wheelwright goes to Jenkins tonight (Thursday).

Party Leaders Say Fund-Raising Crowd Was GOP's Largest

Party leaders said this week that the Oct. 9 fund-raising dinner held at the Prestonsburg high school cafeteria drew the largest crowd ever to attend a Republican function in this county. They estimated the gathering at 400.

Speakers were Doug Moseley, candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and Mrs. Jewel Hamilton, Republican nominee for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Ervin Akers, Floyd Republican campaign chairman, presided and introduced Mr. Moseley. The welcome address was made by James Funkhouser, and recognition of guests was by Frank Harmon. Music was provided by the Prestonsburg high school chorus.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn announced Central State Hospital near Lakeland will be expanded to treat mentally ill criminals. State criminal institutions and courts will be able to send persons to the hospital. Housing, diagnosis and treatment for about 50 patients will be provided.

GREENHILL-MULLINS VOWS SAID

The marriage of Miss Verlon Elaine Greenhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Greenhill, of Sheffville, Ala., to Mr. Terry Dalton Mullin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burnis Mullins, of Martin, was solemnized at 2 p.m., October 9, at the Highland Park Church of Christ in Sheffville by Brother Robert L. Willis, minister.

The ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with candelabra interlaced with greenery and standing baskets of green gladioli and gold carnations. Selections of wedding songs were sung by soloists, Mrs. Charles Burns and Mrs. Jody Morris.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza and imported alecon lace over peau de soie fashioned with an empire waistline and A-line skirt. The fitted bodice, covered with lace encrusted with crystal and pearl beading, had a high ruffled neckline and full bishop sleeves with ruffled cuffs. The skirt was bordered with a deep edging of lace accented with pearls, and the full chapel-length train that fell from the shoulders was appliqued with motifs of lace and pearls. Her elbow-length veil of illusion framed the bride's face with delicate leaves of lace encrusted with crystal and pearl beading. She carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid and streamers of lace and satin.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Everett Greenhill, and bridesmaid, Miss Mildred Mullins, wore floor-length gowns of gold chiffon over taffeta accented with beige lace. They carried nosegays of flowers in tones of gold and green.

Acting as best man was Mr. William Everett Greenhill and usher was Mr. Kenneth Abernathy.

Miss Deanna Fleming, flower girl, wore a floor-length gown of green chiffon fashioned with an empire waistline. She carried a miniature nosegay similar to that of the bridal attendants.

The bride's mother wore a beige knit dress with matching accessories. The mother of the groom wore a knit dress of gold and rust.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the wedding ceremony. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Madge Doran, Miss Diana Blankenship, both of Prestonsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dempsey, of Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullins are now residing in Prestonsburg.

Who... Me?
YES... YOU!

If you are tired of rising prices... If you are tired of public officials who break their promises... If you are tired of the high cost of living and sky-high taxes... If you care about your family's future... THEN TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2 IS YOUR ELECTION!!

LOUIE NUNN and Tommy EMBERTON HAVE GOT TO GO!!

Living Costs
have gone up and up... Food costs are 22 to 59% higher... Our economy has deteriorated... Unemployment has climbed... ALL SINCE 1967 WHEN LOUIE NUNN TOOK OVER.

High Taxes
Despite their promises, Gov. Nunn and his assistant, Emberton forced through the Legislature the biggest tax increases in history: the 5 cent sales tax on sales, including all food items... car license tax increased from $5.00 to $12.50... farm truck license tax raised 150%... Driver's license tax increased from $2.00 to $3.00... a new deed tax of $1.00 per $1,000... and an auto transfer tax of 5%... ALL JUST WEEKS AFTER CAMPAIGNING ON THE PROMISE OF NO NEW TAXES.

Truth in Government
We must have reliable men in public office... men who take their pledges seriously... men who keep the promises they make... LOUIE NUNN PROMISED TO RAISE TAXES. FORD AND CARROLL PLEDGED TO REDUCE TAXES. LOUIE NUNN and his assistant Tommy Emberton put the 5 cent tax on medicine and wheel chairs... Wendell Ford and Julian Carroll took it off... Nunn and Emberton put the 5 cent tax on farm machinery... Ford and Carroll took it off... Nunn and Emberton ARE PROVEN TAX-RAISERS. Winegold October Weather Means Festival Time

West Liberty, Ky.—In spring when grass is green it is a welcome sight to everyone. In autumn when grasses, weeds and flowers lose their green, they are none the less beautiful.

With a bit of help from sunny October skies they seem to glitter in fields and meadows, as if touched by a breeze with gold dust to scatter about.

Eastern Kentucky is approaching her flamboyant season, when she packs away her summer wardrobe and gets her orange and rust outfit to hang out to air. It is a perfect time for families to load the children in the car—even the dog, if the children insist—and travel country roads to the Cave Run Gateway Tobacco Festival in Morehead, Oct. 22-25, and the Morgan County Sorghum Festival in West Liberty, Oct. 22-23.

The term, "country roads," should not mislead you into thoughts of narrow lanes through the countryside. The Mountain Parkway takes you to West Liberty's beautiful side entrances at either the Campton or the Adele exits, and I-64 leads to Morehead's handsome new front door.

The fact that both festivals are scheduled the same week-end will work nicely, for the four-day Morehead event allows ample time to drive over the hill to West Liberty for the Sorghum Festival, and vice versa.

The connecting highway between the two county seats is not a fast-traffic road, but is a blacktop thoroughfare that takes you high on Hogtown Ridge from where you can survey the horizon of at least six counties. Hills and mountains will be vistas of yellow, crimson, russet and burgundy with trees at their peak of autumnal beauty. Bittersweet is making orange patches along fencerows and wild grapes are entangled in bushes and trees.

The Tobacco Festival will take place in Morehead Tobacco Warehouses and will feature booths, rides, country music, tobacco auction, square dance and queen preliminaries on Friday (the 22nd). Saturday's activities include a parade, white elephant auction, dance music and queen finals and coronation.

On Sunday a gospel sing will be held from 2:30-6 p.m., and on Monday, country music star Loretta Lynn appears in two shows, at 2 and 8 p.m.

Help Asked

We, the people of Big Branch of Little Mud, Honaker, Ky., ask help from county or state and school board officials.

We ask help in getting a dry road at the mouth of the right fork of Big Branch, approximately 300 feet long. We have no way of getting out or in except through the branch bed for school children and in case of sickness.

We have 25 school children going to school from this branch. We did have as little as a walk path on dry land. Now, the landowner has stopped all travel on it. They have torn out the walk-bridge, piled brush and boards in said path and leave no way out except through the creek bed.

This patch of road we are asking to have fixed is only about 300 feet long. We can't understand why officials can't have this road fixed when they can have the Nelson gang work on houses for some of the parties involved in keeping us in the creek bed.

There are 79 people living behind the waterlogged road.

Poll Shows Emberton Leads Ford

A professional poll taken as late as Oct. 11-13 conducted by Strategy Research Corp. of Miami, Fla. shows Emberton defeating Ford. Emberton had 31.1 percent, Ford 29.1 percent, with 34.1 percent undecided. A similar poll taken prior to the debate had Ford narrowly leading Emberton. Since the Emberton-Ford debate, the people have had an opportunity to compare the two candidates' character, decency and honesty; as a result, Emberton is rapidly closing the gap by winning all the college elections — including Prestonsburg Community College and Prestonsburg High School.

Let us not stop progress for Floyd County and all of Eastern Kentucky.

Will You help us increase our lead?

Day-Care Center "Rolls" Into Kentucky Communities

By JOHN HUNT

Frankfort, Ky.—A novel idea is rolling into Kentucky communities these days—a day-care center on wheels.

Fully equipped and service-ready, the huge van is part of the equipment of the Kentucky Department of Child Welfare with which it hopes to promote the increase of Kentucky's day-care facilities.

Called the Donner Mobile Day Care Unit, the project has been funded jointly by the Donner Foundation, a private corporation, and the Social Security Amendment of 1967.

But the idea of using the funds as a mobile demonstration unit was Kentucky-born.

The director of the project, Mrs. Carolyn Rosenkrans, explained the goal of the mobile center.

"We thought we should use the funds for some project that would serve our purpose best. We've had demonstration and research units in operation, but the new day-care unit will make research and demonstration local to every community that wants it."

Twenty-four counties have submitted requests for the van in addition to eight towns already visited.

Day-care centers have become one of the pressing needs of the nation, according to experts. Kentucky has some 502 currently licensed centers serving 14,882 children.

National attention has focused on the promotion of day-care centers as a way of preventing delinquency and contributing to the developmental progress of children in all types of communities.

The mobile unit currently touring Kentucky communities provides appropriate day-care materials, toys and learning devices for those who will be working with children in the community.

Donkey Basketball Set at McDowell

Donkey basketball, often termed "the funniest show on earth," will be the attraction at 8 p.m. Oct. 27 at the McDowell high school gymnasium.

Those who will attempt to ride the trained donkeys goalward will be the McDowell All-Stars. The result of the game rests with the donkeys, which have been trained to lend to combine circus, rodeo and basketball in the sport. Advance tickets are available at McDowell high school and business places in the community.

Lawson, drunk driving and hit-run, by State Trooper Bevins; Vernon Akers, flourishing a deadly weapon, Tony Isaacs, flourishing a deadly weapon and resisting arrest, Randall Akers, resisting arrest, and David Akers, resisting arrest and destroying private property, arrested by Constable Gillis Conn, Deputy Sheriffs Allen, Nelson and Salisbury; Bill Crum, contributing to juvenile delinquency, by Deputies Allen and Fannin.

Martin Collins said his arrest for hit-run driving came after a hitch-hiker had taken his truck during his temporary absence on the Mountain Parkway, near here, and hit a car. He is seeking the identity of the driver of his truck, he said.

Bill Crum was arrested and a warrant was issued for B. C. Rickman on the juvenile delinquency count after a juvenile had been stopped by officers because he had no driver's license. The boy told officers the two men forced him into the truck.

HOW TO WIND UP A MEETING

It isn't difficult to end a programmed meeting, if you can get the speaker of the evening to run down. All that's necessary then is for the master of ceremonies to call for the benediction, or rap the gavel, and wind up the session. But these more informal, discussion-type gatherings can be something else.

We have a report that such a situation arose at a recent political gathering. The party faithful were there, reporting on this and that, taking snide pot-shots at the opposition, and so on. When all the business that was business was done to a brown, the boys then got down to plain palaverin' and jawin'. The chairman had to work, the next day, even if some of the others could sleep late, but he didn't want to walk out on the crowd. Finally (we are told) he had a brilliant idea and announced:

"Since all the business of this meeting is completed, we will now hear a talk by Lenna Moore for the next hour."

They ran over Lenna before he could get to his feet.

WHEN OPPORTUNITY KNOCKED

So you have foresight! If you're 50 or over and read The Floyd County Times dated Oct. 10, 1930, you may not be able to prove it. For that issue of this newspaper contained an advertisement which read:

"FOR SALE—Tract on Ivy Creek containing about 3,000 acres, at $10 per acre. This includes all timber, coal and improvements consisting of one 10-room house, two good barns, one five-room house and three small dwellings. I reserve all oil and gas and necessary rights to get it out and to market. Terms: One-half cash, balance on terms."

The ad was signed by the late James Hatcher, of Pikeville. I not only read the ad—I printed it. But I had a good excuse: I didn't have more than $30 at the time, not to mention $30,000.

The voting places will be the county courtroom here, Garrett, McDowell and Martin high schools, John M. Stumbo and Osborne elementary schools, and the Allen city hall.

Kiwanians To Lead Finance Campaign Locally for Scouts

Harold Cooley, president of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis club, said, "Meeting the needs and concerns of today's youth is an important objective of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club", as he asked for and received a favorable vote for the Kiwanis Club to conduct the 1971 sustaining membership finance campaign for Boy Scouts in Prestonsburg.

Dr. Fred Meece said that Lonesome Pine Council does not have the financial resources to meet its obligations, and that Prestonsburg is in danger of losing its Boy Scouting program unless action was taken at once to raise some money.

Members of the club will be calling on residents during the first week of November to ask for their contributions.

Boys now have a better opportunity than ever to become members.

"Scouting today is a lot more than we think," Marvin Music, Gulf Oil distributor, commented.

George Chidester, district Boy Scout executive, said, "Scouting is a vigorous program based on character development, citizenship training and mental and physical fitness". He also commented that during his 16 years as a professional Scouter he has seen the current Scouting theme "America's Manpower Begins with Boypower," come true many times.

JDC Meet at Lodge For Diamond Jubilee

United Daughters of the Confederacy held their Diamond Jubilee convention last weekend at May Lodge. The 75th anniversary meeting was on the date of the Battle of Perryville in accordance with the statewide organization's policy of utilizing an historic event as a keystone of its sessions.

Roadside Abortion Ad Removed As Protest Mounts Locally

A roadside sign offering abortion information was removed Tuesday morning from its location near US 23, north of the Plantation Motel, as a local protest mounted.

The billboard bore the words, "Abortion Information," and the telephone number to be called for such information. Abortion is illegal in Kentucky, and the sign had caused considerable comment.

A telephone call was made to the number suggested by a Prestonsburg woman, who represented herself to the Columbus, O. number as unmarried and two months pregnant. She said she was told a deposit of $50 and a doctor's statement would be required. After that, she said she was told, she would be sent to a Milwaukee or Washington, D. C. clinic or hospital, the total cost to be $225.

Local groups, including the Floyd County Medical Society, became interested in the advertisement. Formal action was made unnecessary by removal of the sign.

Kentucky State Police personnel will head the motorcade, which will originate at the campgrounds in Archer Park at 9 a.m. The motorcade is planned, it was explained, for group enjoyment of the picturesque Gorge region at a time when its autumn colors are most beautiful. Weather conditions will not affect motorcade plans.

Points to be visited will include Chimney Top Rock, Sky Bridge, Half-Moon Arch and Nada Tunnel. At the Gorge the group will be met by Nellie Meadows, wildflower artist, the excellence of whose work has been compared to that of Ray Harm in his portrayal of birds and other wildlife.

Urges the Rejection Of Phone Rate Hike

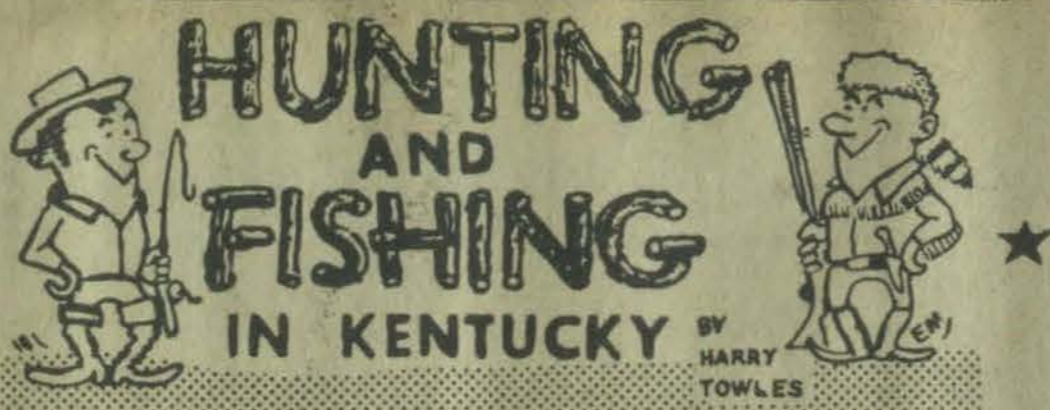

The attorney general's office has urged the Court of Appeals to uphold the Public Service Commission's rejection of a $14.8 million rate increase for South Central Bell Telephone Co.

The high court is considering an appeal by the company from a Franklin circuit court decision last Dec. 30 which upheld the commission's rejection of the increase request.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Laura Murrell filed a brief with the Court of Appeals disputing several contentions made by the phone company in its request.

The company contended it "has been in dire straits since 1967" and earnings would go to nothing if an attrition allowance was not made.

LONDON—The movie "10 Rillington Place," filmed on actual locations in and around West London's Notting Hill district, recounts the story of English mass murderer John Christie, whose killings rocked Britain and shocked the world in the early 1950s.

Frankfort, Ky.—It was early October. The first frost had not yet dipped its magic onto the trees, the bushes, the shrubs and grasses.

The air was crisp. There was scarcely any wind and only dainty ripples stirred the surface of the water.

It was a long point, formed by a tributary that angled off at a 45-degree angle. The point, or hogback, extended far out into the lake itself, but because of the low water, a wide surface had been left high and dry.

The boat glided slowly onto the point, hardly rippling the waters. They planned to fish from the point, casting out the live bait right onto the center of the hogback.

As the boat touched the shore, an anchor was tossed onto the bank and the fishermen stepped ashore.

No finer morning could have been ordered. The hillsides could have been no more beautiful. The green-blue waters of the lake could have been the setting for a beautiful color picture.

But as they turned looking onto the bank, the fishermen saw the most disgusting sight—a condition that was wholly out of place in this wonderful setting.

There, heaped under a squatty pine tree, was the refuse from this animal called man. Without an effort to clean up his gigantic mess, man had camped here and here remained his leftovers.

A fire had been allowed to burn out and sections of blackened small logs were all that remained.

This had been an inviting camping area and had been used many times over. Maybe someone had started this dirty trend by tossing away only his leftovers and maybe succeeding campers had followed suit.

We improve with age.

We like to think of ourselves as the Chateau Lafite-Rothschild of the automotive world.

We keep getting better every year.

Since 1949, we've improved our little car over 2,200 times.

Last year we gave it a more powerful engine and nearly twice the luggage space it had before.

This year we added 29 more improvements.

We found a way to keep engine noise down.

We found a way to make it run better in cold weather.

And we found a way to make it run even smoother in cold, hot or whatever weather you have in mind.

So it goes on.

Since '49, we've made over a thousand body and chassis improvements.

Since '49, we've made over a thousand engine and transmission improvements.

And the reason for all this progress?

Since '49, we've spent absolutely no time making silly styling changes.

What you see, once again, is what you get.

National Education Week Set For Observance, Oct. 24-30

By DAVE THOMPSON

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Louie B. Nunn has urged all Kentuckians to work toward the resolution of the problems besetting the commonwealth's public schools and to rededicate themselves to providing quality educational opportunities.

The governor made the request when he proclaimed Oct. 24-30 as American Education Week in Kentucky.

The nationwide event, held annually since 1921, is sponsored by the National Education Assn. (NEA), the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the U. S. Office of Education.

Measles Vaccine Now Is One-Shot

Many Kentucky children and their parents will be pleasantly surprised this year to learn that measles and rubella vaccination has been simplified—one shot now gives protection against both diseases.

The new combined measles-rubella vaccine, available in local health departments since mid-August, will be used in large-scale immunization programs wherever possible, according to Dr. Donald B. Thurber, director of the immunization program.

"This vaccine will enable us to continue the necessary emphasis on rubella immunization, and to do something about the increasing incidence of red measles at the same time," he said.

The NEA, using the motto, "Help The Schools Bridge The Gap," asked school systems to stress the importance of good citizenship and look for ways the schools can become more responsive to the needs of students without regard to cultural or ethnic backgrounds.

Governor Nunn said in the proclamation, "Our progress in promoting world and domestic peace and in assuring advances in the frontiers of medicine, the arts, science, industry and social sciences depends in large part on the fullest educational opportunities.

"It has been demonstrated that education pays dividends in better human relations, in improved earning power, in personal fulfillment, in good citizenship, in national economic growth and in international relations."

How much will your taxes be in 1974?

In 1967 under a Democratic Governor license plates cost $5.00

After 1967, under a Republican Governor, license plates cost $12.50

After a pledge of no new taxes, the Republicans added a five cents sales tax and more than doubled your vehicle license fees. What can you expect if they get in again?

Wendell Ford has always been on the side of the taxpayer. He voted to get the tax removed from prescription medicine and farm implements. He opposed the Republicans' increase in the sales tax on food. Wendell Ford knows that a spending and taxing type of government is a harsh and cruel enemy of the wage earner, the hard-worker, the family man. Join the taxpayer's revolt and support Wendell Ford.

Natural Bridge Park Supporters Ask Action on Promised Work

(In The Courier-Journal)

SLADE, KY.—"What ever happened to?" was the theme here Tuesday night as the Natural Bridge Park Association voiced criticism of the pace of state and federal governments in improving facilities at the park.

Some 35 members of the group, who describe themselves as interested private citizens, threatened to "camp" on the governor's door step to find out what happened to:

The approximately $1 million Gov. Nunn promised last November to put into the park.

The meeting recreation building to be built on the site of Hemlock Lodge, which burned in June 1969.

The insurance money the state received from the fire that destroyed the old lodge.

The scenic highway preservation plan for five miles along KY 11 south of the park.

The plan to include Natural Bridge in a 35-county National Recreation Area.

They also declared that they plan to see if Natural Bridge State Park is getting its fair share of the money appropriated to the statewide system.

Douglas Graham, Campton, president of the group, said that the "squeaky wheel gets the grease," and added that a delegation to Frankfort might produce some answers to questions about proposals that seem to die a quiet death.

Other critics of the park's development noted that nothing had been done on the new meeting building and charged that Natural Bridge State Park was "being short-changed" in its share of state funds.

C. M. Begley, Beattyville businessman, said that the Highway Department had surveyed and bought some land along KY 11 for the scenic road project and then apparently quit. He said that in the meantime a limestone quarry operation had "greatly damaged the scenic value of the area below Natural Bridge."

Deputy Parks Commissioner William H. Ray, in a telephone interview yesterday, said that construction on the meeting-recreation building would be under way this spring. The building is expected to cost about $240,000.

"That kind of criticism hurts a little, because I've been working on the project several years," he said. He explained that the million dollars Gov. Nunn promised at Natural Bridge Park Association's meeting last November was almost a sure thing then.

The Economic Development Administration (EDA) of the U. S. Department of Commerce had given a verbal commitment to fund park improvements at 80 per cent federal money and 20 per cent state money. With the $189,000 insurance money from the loss of Hemlock Lodge, the 80 per cent federal money would have brought to the total to nearly $1 million, he said.

He added, that the EDA regional supervisor at Huntington, W. Va., was changed, and the new supervisor turned the project down. "And it took them a year to say no," he said.

The loss of the federal money caused the Parks Department to have to redesign the building, resulting in more delay, he said. The building will be constructed using the insurance money plus an additional $50,000 in state funds, he said.

Ray said that the charge that the Powell county park was being shortchanged was not accurate. He said that money is evenly spread among the park system in an effort to develop them equally while at the same time stimulate local economies through added tourist interest.

By RUFUS M. REED

The Chinese name, ginseng, means "man plant," a name given it from its often stark resemblance to the nude body of a man. One often finds a root of "sang" with a torso, two legs, arms, a neck or "querl," as the old sangers called it. On the querl one may see the scars left when the old plant broke off; these are an indication of the age of the plant.

The botanical name, PANAX, means a panacea—and that's how the Chinese have regarded this plant for some fifty centuries; they use it to promote good health, long life, sexual virility and for imparting joy and warmth to the body. Once long ago, the Chinese and Tartars waged war over ginseng and the king of the Tartars built high fences around his precious plants to keep the Chinese from stealing them. The Oriental people claim that the use of ginseng tea adds ten years to a man's life. They steep the tea in silver vessels to keep it pure. The Manchurian ginseng, valued as the most potent of herbs, has been known to sell for as much as $3,200 per pound—at the rate of $200 per ounce.

Several years before George Washington became President, ginseng had been found abundantly in the deep forests of the Northeastern states and Canada. Sang diggers were soon uprooting it on a large scale for shipping to Oriental countries. About five years before Washington took office, he wrote in his Journal: "In passing over the mountains, I met up with a number of men with pack horses, carrying loads of ginseng." These were heading for the markets, which shipped it out.

Most American doctors have poo-pooed the claims of Orientals as to the healing powers of ginseng and declare it has small medicinal value. But recent scientific investigation of ginseng has completely refuted the doctors; the Russian scientists have made a careful study of the plant and have discovered some little-known and unsuspected powers of ginseng, which the old-time sangers called "the purtiest plant that grows in them thar hills." Ginseng is shy, sensitive, and hides from man in dense growths of weeds, often under the dense canopy of overhanging trees; it prefers to grow under great oaks, beeches, ashes and walnuts and for a good reason: Exposure to hot sun for a period of time will kill ginseng; it also withers and dies when watered with stagnant water, and is never found growing around murky ponds; it likes a habitat beside fresh running streams and in deep mountain coves. Large trees like oaks send their roots down deep in the subsoil and bring up the organic radioactive elements of the soil; that is why ginseng prefers to grow in radioactive soils. Recently a number of new and highly important discoveries have been made about the properties of ginseng: First, it possesses radioactive principles, which can stimulate the body and build virility; these radioactive elements are organic in origin and not at all like those from Strontium 90, which is inorganic and can destroy cells.

The reasons American scientists and doctors have not discovered the radioactive principles, of ginseng are: When the roots are dug and dried, they lose most of these good elements. In Oriental countries, when the ginseng roots are dug fresh, they are placed in leaden wrappers to preserve the radioactive elements. Also cultivated ginseng lacks most of these radioactive principles, as it is grown in soil not enriched by decaying leaves and the roots of large trees.

It has also been discovered that ginseng has ultraviolet rays, which can rejuvenate the human body. Dr. Crile made a special study of the mitogenetic radiations given off by the body and found these similar to those given off by ginseng. That is why ginseng is a physical revitalizer of man; its ultraviolet radiations inwardly warm and irradiate the body. An eminent Russian biologist found that the Manchurian ginseng emits the ultraviolet radiation that has a beneficial effect on the endocrine and sex glands of humans; they help to increase hormones which stimulate sexual virility. The Russians have recently established large plantations for growing ginseng on a vast scale; some of these, located in Southern Siberia, are said to be worth millions of dollars.

Another discovery brought to the attention of the western world is, when ginseng is in full bloom, its blooms have a phosphorescent glow and can be seen in the dark glowing like "fox-fire." Ginseng diggers in the Far East hunt for the precious plants in the dark of night, but they don't dare approach a plant in bloom, as the bloom suddenly ceases to glow. They carry with them a bow and a quiver of arrows and when they see a plant glowing in the dark, they shoot an arrow into the ground nearby, then when daylight comes they go and dig it up.

Those who would like to grow high quality ginseng must first provide a rich, radioactive soil in deep shade, preferably under large trees. And those who would benefit from the use of its root, should eat a part of a root as soon as it is dug and washed, a piece less than one inch long is enough for one dose. When the root is washed it is white and seems like live human flesh. A recent Scientific New Discoveries Magazine states that many years of experience among millions of people have convinced us that the use of ginseng is nature's natural method for rejuvenation, for restoring vitality to depleted organs by giving them the mysterious radioactive elements ginseng contains when properly handled, not exposed to sunlight. For a dose of the tea, the Orientals take about one-fifth part of an ounce; they boil the root in covered vessels to preserve all its properties. An eminent American doctor of San Francisco recently stated: "Oriental healers are successfully curing patients of sexual impotence by the use of ginseng; I can state from personal experience that the Oriental doctors have cured a great many men whom I and other doctors have failed to help." Perhaps we can find more use for our ginseng here at home, instead of shipping it to the Orient, although it now commands about $43.00 per pound.

Thomas Parr, an Englishman, was perhaps the oldest man ever known; he was a vegetarian, used herbal remedies and drank ginseng tea; lived to the age of 150. Shortly after he attained this great age, he was invited to a sumptuous feast by the king of England. The king's chef prepared a great dinner of highly spiced meats and Parr went the limit. He gorged himself on the rich diet, and the next day he was dead. John Harvey, who discovered the circulation of the blood, got permission to dissect Parr's body. He found all his organs sound and his glands were as strong and powerful as those of a young man. The Greeks called ginseng "the plant of the sorcerers," and claimed it possessed magical powers...
