Says Levee Would Curb Lake Debris

Sedimentation May Also Be Controlled Thru Construction

A levee in the upper area of Dewey Lake, designed along the lines of a miniature dam, has been suggested as the main hope of reducing sedimentation of the main part of the lake and of preventing a yearly collection of unsightly debris along the shores of the impoundment.

Dean Murray, Dewey reservoir manager, has suggested such construction, but availability of funds is a big factor and acceptance of the plan is by no means certain.

Mr. Murray has suggested a levee to be constructed across the lake at German, orfarther upstream, with a road across its top and a spillway to take care of an unusual volume of water in flood seasons, if necessary. The normal flow of water would continue into the lake below.

Such construction, he maintains, would reduce siltation in the main body of water as much as 80 percent and would serve as a means of catching all debris from upstream sources before it is spread along the shores farther downlake and left high and dry when high waters

This spring's rise of the lake into the timber left a string of plastic jugs, bottles, cans and other waste materials for miles along either side of the impoundment. Unless a central catch-point can be established, the same situation will arise almost annually in the future, it

Akers Wounded, Two Are Jailed

Two men were jailed here Sunday by state police troopers, a few hours after Hillard Akers, Jr. had been shot in his arm during an altercation at a Wheelwright Junction service station. Booked at the county jail on shooting and wounding charges were Carlos Hall and Sid Triplett. The wounded man was jailed at the same time on a drunkenness count. He was released Monday morning and on leaving the jail announced he was going to a hospital to have the bullet removed from his arm. State Troopers Ivel Newsome, Paul Estep and Phillip Tucker and State Detective Gary Rose were called to the shooting scene.

Others jailed within the week: Benjamin H. Brooks, charged with having no Kentucky usage license, arrested by Transportation Officer Eugene Mullins; Lenzie Shepherd, flourishing a deadly weapon, by State Trooper Newsome; Reon Slone, arrested by Trooper Newsome on a warrant alleging no operator's license; Charles Hall, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, by State Trooper Newsome; Ellis Castle, drunk driving, by Park Rangers Setser and Kilgore; Roger Dale Cartmell, drunk driving and no operator's license, by State Trooper Leeman Bevins.

Lake Fertilization Resumed

This Town . . . That World

This has been for us one of the more pleasant political campaigns. The boys haven't disgraced themselves and polluted the moral atmosphere with much mudslinging, and, generally speaking, most of us have wound up in a mood to settle back down and live at peace with our neighbors after the Big Day is past. One more thing on the plus side: Nobody made a speech.

UP OR DOWN, LEFT OR RIGHT

I get along with newcomers reasonably well until we get into the matter of directions. Any "furriner" will speak of going from Prestonsburg down to Pikeville or up to Paintsville, and that's when we tangle. I point out that, as any fool can plainly see, Pikeville is upriver fromPrestonsburg and that Paintsville is down, and so... and then they get technical and point out that Pikeville is south of here and blandly inquire, "When did you start going up south:

I know, this river of ours runs the wrong way, but I still insist it's up to Pike county and down to Johnson.

Comes now information relating to the reaction of another old mossback such as I after he had read the careful directions given by The Courier-Journal for locating the Sky-Lab as it makes its way across evening skies. The newspaper suggested the watcher should fix his gaze at 17 degrees, explaining that 90 degrees is directly overhead.

"Seventeen degrees!" the oldtimer snorted. "All I want them to tell me is how far to the left or right it'll pass, as I face yan-ways, over the Nancy P. Gap. If they'll do that, maybe I'll set up one night till 9 to see it.

Miller-Favored Trio Loses UMW Election

The United Mine Workers of America leadership under new president Arnold Miller suffered an apparent setback in District 30, according to unofficial totals of the voting for district officers.

The Miller-backed slate-Forrest McCown, of Melvin, for president; Kenneth E. Smith, Grundy, Va., for secretary-treasurer, and Evans "Tore" Robinson, Vansant, Va., for the International Board-lost, according to Monday's ballot county. Only Robinson made a real race of it in his loss to Tom Raney, of Pikeville, veteran union of-Squire Feltner, of Pikeville, was elected district president with 1775 votes to 973 for McCown and 429 for George E. Faine, of Wheelwright.

Julius Mullins, of Melvin, is the apparent winner for secretary-treasurer with 1197 votes. Kenneth Smith trailed him with 648 votes. Lynn B. Sullivan, of Mouthcard, had 517: Robert Carter, of Burdine, 369; Alvis Smith, of Phelps, 176, and Franklin D. Scalf, of Sidney, 158.

In the race for International Board member, Raney at the end of the tabulation had 968 votes to 967 for Robinson. The vote for other candidates for board member: J. B. Trout, of Pinsonfork, 655; Walter W. Akers, Hellier, Admittedly a "staunch supporter" of W. A. (Tony) Boyle when Boyle ran for reelection as UMWA national president, Feltner said, "I am not 'a Boyle man.' I will support President Miller and the international organization to the best of my ability. As president I intend to carry on exactly as I have for the past 14 years.... My first priority will be to reunite District 30 so that we will stand a better chance to organize the unorganized in this district.

Feltner has been a District 30 employee 14 years, the last three years as safety coordinator.

Mullins, the new secretary-treasurerelect, said his aim will be "to work together in the best interest of the union and the men who are its members."

The balloting which began May 5 in all 76 locals in the district, ended Saturday. The count was completed Monday by 20 tellers under the supervision of U.S. Labor Department compliance officers.

The vote will be certified by Carl Couch, the Labor Department's administrator in the area, to the Washington department, and then the returns will be certified to U. S. District Judge Thomas Waddy, Washington, D. C., whose ruling resulted in the district elections.

Candidates have 10 days in which to protest the results, it was said.

Officer Warns That Littering To Be Target

Littering Floyd county waters, especially Dewey Lake, is risky business, and it's going to get riskier, Conservation Officer Dalton Ray Conley said this

Conley issued two citations last Sunday to persons accused of throwing litter into the lake. And he warns:

"I intend to issue citations for throwing anything bigger than a cigarette butt. The minimum fine for littering is $44.

Hammond Gets Chairmanship; To Revise List

A full-dress hearing of the election board case was in the making Tuesday morning, but at a conference attorneys entered into an agreement which settled the case. The agreement provides:

1. That Jim Hammond remain as chairman of the county election board and as successor to C. "Ollie" Robinson.

2. That the election officers named for the November, 1972 general election serve at next Tuesday's primary, with all who are now candidates or members of candidates' families removed from the list and replaced by new officers.

Negotiations toward a settlement of differences between members of the Floyd County Election Board as it faces the task of preparing for next Tuesday's primary ended Friday in a lawsuit.

A meeting of members was scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday following the meeting Thursday night of board and candidates with Secretary of State Thelma L. Stovall, who is chairman of the State Election Commission. Following the Thursday night meeting, Friday afternoon's meeting was scheduled, Gormon Collins, Republican member, and Jim Hammond, Democrat, who has been declared chairman of the board by attorney general's opinion, agreeing on the Friday meeting date.

But Collins later notified Hammond he would be out of town and could not attend the meeting. Sheriff Frank Leslie, exofficio member, did not appear. And while Hammond and Yvonne S. Jones, appointed Democratic member, awaited a quorum for the session Hammond was handed notice that Sheriff Leslie had filed suit in circuit court against him to enjoin him from acting as a member and chairman of the board.

The temporary injunction requested had not been issued as of Saturday morning. Instead, Circuit Judge Hollie Conley set 1 p.m. Tuesday (this week) for a hearing of the case.

Mrs. Stovall is expected to be a witness at the hearing, Mr. Hammond said. He expressed the hope that the court decision will determine the whole matter and result in an orderly selection of precinct election officers.

The Leslie action asks the court to restrain Hammond from acting either as a member or as chairman of the election board; to hold that a primary is not an election within the meaning of the state Constitution and Senate Bill 162; also to hold that, since the new election law did not become effective till Dec. 1, 1972, it

Theatre Announces '73 Productions

The Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre in its sylvan setting will be the scene of coming Summer Theatre productions.

Three award winning musicals will be one of the most original, exhilarating presented at the Jenny Wiley Summer

Music Theatre during the coming season. The song-and-dance version of how the Declaration of Independence came to be, the fable of a baseball fan who dickers with the devil for the privilege of helping his favorite baseball club win the pennant, and the melodic double portrait of Cervantes and his creation, Don Quixote, combined with a highly talented and professional company of actors, singers, dancers, musicians and technical personnel will feature the entertaining season planned at the theatre, this summer. Opening the season June 20th and continuing through July 8th (with a special performance on July 4) is "1776," musicals in years.

An airy and attractive song-and-dance fable about a baseball addict willing to trade his soul in exchange for a mighty batting arm, so that he can help the Washington Senators take a pennant away from the Yanks, "Damn Yankees" is witty and original, melodious and fun.

This is a pennant-winning musical. The final show of the season will be "Man of La Mancha," playing August 1st through August 29. The finest and most original work in musical theatre since "Fiddler on the Roof," "Man of La Mancha" is a combination of biography and romance as it tells of the Spanish novelist, Miguel de Cervantesy Saavedra, and of Don Quixote, the immortal romantic character he created. The show moves from an imaginative beginning to a heart-wrenching end without an in-

This season, shows will be presented on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, beginning at 8:30. Season tickets are now on sale at Francis Department Store, Cooley's Apothecary, and Burchett's Jewelry Store. Only 1,000 season tickets will be sold. To the first 150 purchasing a season ticket, the theatre is giving a free album of the original cast recording of "Jenny Wiley!" Second Pool Among Attractions at Park

City Manager Curtis Clark said this week that Archer Park, with added attractions, improvements made between seasons and others to come, is set for its best year-if the weather will cooperate.

A 20 x 40-foot training pool, in the vicinity of the Olympic-size pool in operation at the park for some time, has been completed and is ready for younger children. The pool ranges in depth from one to three feet. Two new sliding boards, one for each pool, have been installed. The new "tot" pool will be used in the mornings to teach youngsters swimming, and in the afternoons for public use by pre-schoolers. Sharon Meade, of Prestonsburg, qualified lifeguard and swimming instructor, will supervise the youngsters

The children's playground area has a new addition, too. This is Witches' Castle, 16 feet in height with witch's peak and all, plus a slide.

Nearby tennis courts are due resurfacing soon, Clark added.

Blacktopping work ready to begin includes 39 camp pads in the parking camping area and the surfacing of the road within the area. Camping facilities at the park, which, the city manager has maintained, could be the most lucrative operation of the entire facility, will be complete with the paving of pads. Gas, electricity and city water, plus a bathhouse, are ready.

Blacktopping work at the park will also include surfacing in the War Memorial

Funding for these improvements comes from several different sources. The new pre-school swimming pool was constructed using $8,000 in city park commission money and the city government recently allocated $5,755 in revenue sharing funds for work on the various park projects. Also, road, parking area and camping area improvements are being accomplished using a $9,000 Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR)

Elsewhere in Prestonsburg, City Manager Clark said, a backhoe has been bought for use in various draining and filling work, and a new garbage truck is on order. Mr. Clark said the volume of wastes handled by the city's sanitation department has quadrupled in the last six years and that the department has grown in 10 years from three to eight employees.

Prestonsburg's twice-a-week garbage collection is matched by few cities in Kentucky, he said.

Water-Sewer Plan for Area Being Reviewed

Dr. George P. Archer, chairman, reported to the Big Sandy Area Development District board of directors Monday that the Big Sandy water-sewer plan for the area had been completed in draft form and is being reviewed by members of the board, state government and HUD. Completion of the plan, he said, will qualify the district for watersewer funds when they are available.

The board met at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park-O. T. Dorton, board treasurer, discussed his trip to California as a member of the Governor's industrial committee which is seeking to "sell" Kentucky as a future home for new industries.

Chalmer Frazier, chairman of the Big Sandy Development Corporation, said a director and secretary-bookkeeper had been hired for the Family Planning Program which will be administered through the county health departments. O. T. Dorton, chairman of the Big Sandy Comprehensive Health Planning Council, spoke of the need for selecting and hiring a qualified person to coordinate activities designed to develop plans for providing improvement in the delivery of health services for the area. Floyd county's fifth annual elementary Track and Field Day will be held at the high school football field here May 26, beginning at 10 a.m., Superintendent

Charles Clark announced Monday. "This is the climax to our year-long Physical Fitness Program on an individual merit basis," Mr. Clark said. He pointed out that each year for the past five years more and more students are winning the Presidential Physical Fit-

At this year's Field Day approximately 450 youths will be competing for trophies and ribbons.

The winners of each of the county's elementary school eliminations will compete by age groups (12 through 14) in nine events. There will be a total of 54 events for both boys and girls.

The events will begin at 10 a.m. and continue throughout in this order until finished: 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, shot-put, discus, high jump, running broad jump and standing broad jump.

A student will not be permitted to participate in more than three events, two of which can be running events.

The winning and runner-up schools in both Class AA and Class A will be presented trophies, and the first, second, and third-place finishers in each event will be awarded ribbons.

Osborne Elementary won last year's Class AA event and Allen won the Class A title. Four hundred seventy-four youths participated.

Grain Sorghum Is Alternative To Corn for Late Planting

Lexington, Ky.-Some Kentucky farmers are turning to grain sorghum as an alternative to corn because of planting delays caused by wet weather.

"Ideally, grain sorghum should be planted in May, but it can be planted later without the kind of yield losses you get with late planted corn," says James Herbek, Extension grain crops specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Herbek says grain sorghum is a good alternative to corn for farmers who need grain to feed their livestock. It should yield 80-100 bushels per acre and it has 95 percent of the feed value of corn on a pound for pound basis. However, the grain needs to be rolled, cracked or ground to get maximum feed efficiency Grain sorghum is a good crop for double cropping after small grains, Herbek points out. In trails conducted in western Kentucky grain sorghum planted around July 1 has produced 60-80 bushels per acre.

The UK specialist says anyone planning to grow grain sorghum should have marketing arrangements planned if they aren't going to feed the grain. Many grain elevators are not set up to handle grain sorghum.

Artificial drying is another important consideration for those planning to grow grain sorghum. "Artificial drying is necessary for storage of the grain," says Herbek. "It doesn't dry very fast in the field, but if you leave it in the field past maturity the plants will start lodging.'

For planting grain sorghum, Herbek recommends mid-season to full season varieties. Birds like to eat the grain in the field, so bird resistant varieties may be needed in some cases. Bird damage is most likely on small field areas or near buildings and trees.

Grain sorghum requires about the same fertilization as corn, except that nitrogen requirements are somewhat lower. Herbek says 100-120 pounds of nitrogen per acre should be adequate on most soils.

A well prepared seed bed is necessary for planting grain sorghum. The best time to plant is when soil temperatures are in the 65-70 degree range or higher. Planting depth should be about one inch, and never more than two inches.

Yield trails on hybrid grain sorghum varieties have been conducted in Kentucky the past two years. Trial results and other information on grain sorghum production are available from local county Extension agents.

Add Poster Contest To '73 Competition

The Kentucky-wide Conservation Essay Contest, sponsored annually by The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times for 30 years, will be joined by a new conservation-oriented contest next

The Louisville newspapers are adding the Conservation Poster Contest to their annual Farm Incentive Program which includes the Conservation Essay Contest, FFA Contest, 4-H Club Award of Excellence Program, and Tom Wallace Farm Forestry Awards.

The Conservation Poster Contest will be concurrent with the Conservation Essay Contest, and the subject of both competitions will be the same each year. Subject of the 1973 essay and poster contest will be "Fish and Wildlife Conservation: What Can I do?

The annual essay conpetition, open to all Kentucky elementary and high school students, is probably the largest essay contest of its kind in the United States. Last year, there were 89,372 essays written on"Trees-Their Effect on Me and My Local Environment." Some 1.2 million essays have been written by students on various essay contest subjects since its inception.

The new annual poster competition will be open to all Kentucky elementary students in grades one through five. Although the essay contest is open to students in these grades, students may not enter both the essay and poster contests during the same school year.

In the essay contest, students are asked to write essays of no more than 1,000 words on the current subject, and the top award winners-121 district winners and three state winnersfrom the two Louisville dailies.

In the poster contest, students will be asked to make original posters with the current subject as the theme of the posters. $175 in U. S. Savings Bonds will be awarded in three state winners, and 121 district winners will receive plaques.

Co-sponsors of the conservation Essay Contest and Conservation Poster Contest, along with The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times, are the Kentucky Department of Education and the Kentucky Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Maximum weekly benefits for temporary total disability under workmen's compensation vary from $175 in Alaska to $56 in Mississippi.

Stop the "Little" Watergates, Too

Government at the local level will be affected by the results of next Tuesday's election and by all elections to follow.

At this level the "little" Watergates occur and the "big"

Watergates begin.

So it is of the utmost importance that voters exercise their ballots at these elections and in doing so consult their consciences to the end that they will elect the best officials available for service.

The little Watergates begin with every vote bought or sold or stolen. Men who know better make the purchases and commit the larceny, those who take an oath to enforce the laws commit the crimes. Just as in the case of the big Watergates.

Time was in this county when ballot boxes and their contents were stolen, when the courthouse was broken into. That belongs to the past, but men today may tamper with the ballot in other ways.

The conscience of the nation begins with the individual. Is it a laughing matter with you when political skulduggery is committed? Are you shocked by the oath-breaking by men who are sworn to devote their abilities to seeing that an honest election is held to the end that the wishes of the people may truly be known? Is it only when your special interest in an election is affected by dishonesty that you are moved to protest?

How much of Watergate are we all a part?

If we callously assume that all politics is crooked, then we must assume that all government is crooked, for politics is the machinery of government. We may assume, instead, that crooks make politics crooked, but if we conclude that all who are involved in the political process are venal, then our system of government is doomed. It is true that the spirit of "anything goes" is pervasive, but it is not all-pervasive. Men of principle yet live-not perfect men, but men who still place principle above power and position and bank balance—and the search for these should be No. 1 priority for each of us.

Vote, next Tuesday. And, first of all, be honest with yourself.

Pickle Popularity Unchanged

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD

Lexington, Ky.-Kentucky farmers now producing cucumbers for pickles might be interested in knowing that the great popularity and demand for this vitamin-packed tidbit is not likely to wane and that, as the population grows, the market for this fruit of the vine will probably grow in like proportion.

Leastwise, this has been the history of the cucumber pickle which according to food historians, was introduced into North America in 1494 by none other than old Christopher Columbus himself.

As the sage continues, the pickle soon afterwards was saving many early pioneer settlers from scurvy and other ills usually visited on people during long winters when there was a lack of fresh fruits and vegetables. For many generations, therefore, these settlers depended upon the cucumber as one of the very few green vegetables that could be preserved throughout the entirety of the cold season. With this as a matter of fact, it is no wonder then that Americans developed such a long and enduring taste for pickles and that laying down a few crocks or canning up a few jars every summer became a traditonal rural art that still fills country kitchens with a pungent, appetite-stimulating aroma of spice and vinegar

Even with refrigeration and swift transport which keeps fresh fruits and vegetables on American tables the year around, food experts say the pickle still lies close to their hearts and that the average American eats eight or more pounds of pickles a year-all of which bodes well for the cucumber grower.

Pickles come in many types-sour dills, sweet gherkins, kosher, bread and butter, onion, garlic, and others-plus such relish preserves as piccalilli and chow chow. More pounds of pickles are picked and packed in the United States than canned peaches, corn, peas, apple sauce, or tomatoes. Pickles also use more glass jars and bottles than any other food product.

Besides making a valuable contribution of vitamins to the diet, the average dill pickle counts only 11 calories and serves as a good snack for weightwatchers when hunger pangs strike, according to Extension foods specialists at the University of Kentucky. But it is the mouth-watering ways of pickles that have put them where they are today.

"I know, " as Thomas Jefferson once said, "of nothing more comforting than a fine spiced pickle brought up troutlike from the sparkling depths of an aromatic jar below stairs in the cellar." Millions of Americans still feel the same way today.

Down through the centuries pickles have played a regal and healthful role and had many notable exponents. Cleopatra claimed they made her more beautiful; Julius Caesar wrote that they made his soldiers fight with greater ferocity; and Emperor Tiberius attributed his long life-95 years-to them.

King John and Queen Elizabeth I were among England's pickle lovers, and notable American fans included George Washington, Johns Adams, and Dolly Madison. It is also said that Calvin Coolidge's fondness for silence was exceeded only by his addiction to pickles.

BILL WELLS Magistrate, Dist. No. 1

Democratic primary Your help and support will be appreciated. 3-7-tf

THE ISSUE OF COAL

For the past 10 years, Bill Reynolds has represented Floyd County in the State Legislature. Coal has been and still is Floyd County's most important industry.

Yet in 1972, Bill Reynolds voted for a bill to put a thirty cents a ton tax on coal. Some of this burden could have been put on oil and gas, but that might have hurt some of his friends in Western Kentucky or his own employers in West Virginia.

The coal industry is in trouble already and Bill Reynolds has not helped it out.

In 1972 Bill Reynolds voted "YES" on the workman's compensation bill, which gave some improvements to black lung victims. BUT THE MAIN PORTIONS OF THAT BILL DEAL WITH SETTING ATTORNEY'S FEES FOR BLACK LUNG CASES AND INCREASING WORK-MAN'S COMPENSATION RATES TO THE COAL IN-DUSTRY.

The sponsor of that bill was the State Senator from Pike County who as a lawyer, made over a million dollars last year in black lung cases.

Look at what happened to the rates which the coal industry has to pay: For large mines they went up from $2.50 per $100 of payroll to $43.47. For small mines, they went up from $29.29 to $60.60. That bill became effective Jan. 1 of this year and Bill Reynolds voted for it and brags about it.

The coal industry cannot hold up much longer with this kind of support from Frankfort. And if the coal industry is in trouble, Floyd County is in trouble.

On May 29, vote for a man who will help Floyd County, the coal industry, and the working man in the mines.

Alcohol, Not the 'Hard Stuff,' Biggest Drug Problem, Claim

Chicago, Ill. (Special)-"It's no secret has made a legislative commitment to anymore. Alcohol, not heroin or hashish, is the cause of the biggest drug problem in the United States," says Dr. Morris E. Chafetz, psychiatrist and director of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, in the May issue of The PTA

Dr. Chafetz points out that nine million Americans are alcoholics, almost 10 percent of the nation's work force. These victims and their problems touch the lives of another 40 million people, many of whom are children.

"Our society acknowledges the tip of the iceberg-the obvious alcoholic, the derelict," he says, "yet overlooks or ignores the 'hidden' millions who drink too much too often. These are the ones who, ironically, toast their own illness, vet manage to get to work most days and, despite their problem, somehow rear

The magazine story reports that in the last two years, the federal government attack the problem of drinking and has established the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA).

"These are significant steps," Dr. Chafetz believes, "for they signal, perhaps, the beginning of a change in public attitute. The legislation wasn't passed in a vacuum: it was passed in response to the deplorable conditions that have made alcohol the most abused drug in the nation.'

Dr. Chafetz indicates that one of the highest priorities of the NIAAA is the development of public education programs. These programs seek to prevent the abuse of alcohol by changing attitudes and practices-changes that are essential if problems involving alcohol are to be reduced.

Special pilot education projects to combat alcohol and cigarette smoking have been initiated in five states by the National PTA. The NIAAA, a unit of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, has provided funds for the National PTA to work toward solutions for the growing problems related to alcoholism in young people. It has joined the National PTA and the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, also a unit of HEW, to launch this innovative education-information

The pilot programs, which are being conducted in the states of Connecticut, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, and Wisconsin, are enabling parents and youth to work together to combat cigarette smoking and alcohol abuse. These programs, however, are only the latest of numerous efforts in the field being conducted by PTA in many other states under the leadership of the National PTA, a multi-million-member organization

As Dr. Chafetz points out, such public education programs point out the clear distinction between responsible and irresponsible drinking. They also stress that any person's decision to abstain from alcohol should be fully accepted, and that he should not be subjected to overt or subtle pressures to take a drink.

To further its emphasis on alcohol abuse and alcoholism through public educatin programs, the National PTA has scheduled a workshop, "Alcohol: Family Affair," at its annual convention to be held May 20-23 at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis, Mo. Moderator of the workshop is Mrs. Carolyn Hendrick, program coordinator, National PTA Smoking and Alcohol Education Project.

Copies of the May issue of The PTA Magazine are available at National PTA Headquarters, 700 North Rush, Chicago,

The New Jersey Supreme Court has held the state's system of financing public schools to be unconstitutional. The court said the system discriminates against students in districts with low real property ratables and that it discriminates among taxpayers by imposing unequal burdens.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I come to you in The Floyd County Times during the closing days of this election to ask you, the voters of Floyd to elect my son, James "Jitter" Allen, as your next Representative.

I am the same Bill Allen who drove the Sparks Brothers bus and owned and drove the Allen Brothers Bus Company here in Floyd county for 35 years. I hauled most of you and your children on the bus. I was your friend then just as I am your friend now. I wish I could get out personally and campaign with you, but I have been disabled for five years.

My father, "Preacher" Alex Allen lived, worked and preached the word of God in our county all of his life. He was your friend and neighbor.

Please vote and elect my son, James "Jitter" Allen, Representative. He will work for you, the people, hard in Frankfort.

Your bus driver and friend.

Incidence of Dreaded Rabies Said on Increase In Kentucky

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD (UK College of Agriculture)

Of all the dread diseases known to mankind, none is more terrible than rabies. Once the virus has attacked a victim, be it man or beast, there is little, if any, chance of recovery and no prospect but horrible suffering and violent death. Those who have witnessed the last hours of a person stricken with rabies have described it as the most terrible of all human experiences.

Down through history, rabies has extracted an enormous toll in human suffering, economic loss, and depletion of wildlife resources. And, according to William E. Wise, Extension specialist in veterinary science at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, rabies is well established in the animal populations of Kentucky.

What is more unfortunate, says Wise, Kentucky is facing an alarming increase in the incidence of this disease among animals. During the past year there were 271 laboratory confirmed cases from 52 counties, with foxes, cows, dogs, skunks, and cats, in that order, suffering the greatest casualties.

Even more disturbing is the fact that, for every case confirmed by laboratory tests, there were at least nine others that were not. This, says Wise, will hold true in any given year.

He quotes the State Board of Health as saying that wild animals, especially foxes, are the primary reservoirs of the rabies virus in Kentucky but it is beginning to show up with greater frequency in skunks. Dogs and cats are less frequent sources of the disease but, becasue they live much closer to man, these animals represent a much greater

For this reason, Wise recommends that pet owners have their animals properly immunized. Kentucky law requires that all dogs 6 months of age or older must be vaccinated against rabies. So far, cat vaccination is not mandatory, but this may be enacted into law in the near future.

The National Research Council of National Academy of Sciences recommends rabies shots for cats and dogs at the age of from 3 to 4 months and booster shots thereafter at from 1- to 3-year in-

Ford Leads Search For New Industries

Governor Ford carried the "Call of Kentucky" with him last week as he led a 70-member contingentof government, business and financial representatives to California, seeking to entice west coast industry to the Bluegrass State.

The industry-hunting trip was cosponsored by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce and Associated Industries of Kentucky. Meetings with California industrialists were held in both Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Ford said he and other state officials and businessmen made the trip to the west coast "to tell what's good about Kentucky." He listed several items which were stressed in the conferences-Kentucky's "liveability factor," viable work force, favorable tax climate, and an abundance of natural resources and trained workers

Prior to the three-day trip there had been indications that some Californiabased firms were looking for expansion room, and Ford said he expected the state has a good chance of attracting such facilities, since some California industrialists seemed "most interested" in exploring the possibilities for locating home offices.

An advance party from the Department of Commerce arranged the final details for the meetngs, and advertisements were run in Los Angeles and San Francisco newspapers which, Ford said, provided "an excellent opportunity to generate interest in our state by those seeking new plant locations and corporate expansions.

Ford said there may be later trips to hunt for new industry and added that he felt this was a proper role for state officials. "A governor should brag on his state shouldn't he?" Ford said.

Tige's owner always spoke of that afternoon with a quaver in

"If you ain't never owned a dog for a long time, you can't have any idea how sad I was, goin' home. But, you know, when I got there I heard something whimperin', under the floor, and when I crawled back there, there was Tige. I got him out, and he didn't seem to have a scratch on him. But the shock of that explosion had done something to the poor dog's nervous system. He never was the same again. had no application to the November election of that year and that election officers appointed to serve in the November, 1972 election are not to serve in the primary unless selected to do so by Leslie, Collins and Mrs. Jones.

Sheriff Leslie's suit attacks the appointment of Hammonds as a member of the election commission to succeed C. "Ollie" Robinson upon the latter's disqualification as a candidate. It alleges that, without consulting Leslie or Collins, Mrs. Jones reported to the State Election commission that the parties could not agree on a successor to Robinson, and, without notice to either, the state commission undertook to appoint Hammonds as member and as chairman of the (Leslie and Collins met May 8 and, claiming they represented a quorum, appointed election officers. Meanwhile, acting on an opinion by an assistant attorney general, Hammond and Mrs. Stumbo have contended that the November, 1972 list of precinct officials shall serve at the primary after vacancies are properly filled.)

Leslie's suit claims no meeting of the county election commission was held to name a successor to Robinson and that it has never since the "attempted" appointment of Hammond met except on May 8 when only Leslie and Collins attended and named election officers.

Another argument voiced by the court suit is that since County Clerk Robinson is unopposed in the primary he is not disqualified to serve on the election board, and that Hammond's appointment is consequently void.

Arguing for a court opinion holding that a primary is not within the meaning of the law an election, the plaintiff's appointed to serve at last year's general election cannot serve in the primary unless they are appointed by two of the three members of the election board. It is also claimed that KRS 127.040, as amended by Senate Bill 162,is not applicable to primary elections and is effective only as to general elections.

At last Thursday night's meeting Secretary of Stae Stovall cited the attorney general's opinion which holds that the person who takes the place of the county clerk should be chairman of the board.

"The attorney general's opinions are what we have to live with until somebody goes to court and changes it," she commented.

At that time Hammond and Collins appeared to be nearer settlement of their differences. They reportedly agreed to meet Friday and to notify Sheriff Leslie and Mrs. Jones to meet with them. And they issued a joint statement, saying:

"If anyone is appointed to serve and does not serve without good cause, we will go before the next grand jury and ask them to investigate why these people did not serve, and if there is no legal basis for not serving we will ask for indictments.'

are very dim. Only the volunteer work of the Allen Boy Scout troop, to begin May 26-and perhaps others, later-will make a dent in the mess. The Corps of Engineers, in addition to its four permanent employees, has only three temporary workers, a few students in the work program and three Mainstream employees. It cannot, it is claimed, undertake any serious cleanup effort. The Department of Parks is said to be in the same predicament.

The sedimentation problem at the lake is one which obviously exists as the water continues to carry a heavy load of mud, but the Corps of Egineers is only now making a survey and installing siltation markers which in the future will make actual measurements possible.

A complete inspection of the lake, one such as was made at Fishtrap, may be urged. Upstream stripmining, sportsmen maintain, adds to the load of earth and coal wastes which enter the lake in its upper area. Both the Corps of Engineers and the state Division of Reclamation pass on applications for such mining permits in the lake area before they are issued. How many, if any,have been refused is not known, but the number of those approved is heavy.

A Corps of Engineers spokesman in the Huntington district office told The Times last year there was no siltation problem apparent at that time in the lake.

Meanwhile, the Department of Fish& Wildlife Resources announced it this year will again work to improve fertility of the impoundment by adding a total of 83,500 pounds of fertilizer to its waters. Five fertilizer applications are scheduled, the first on May 22, and following with applications on June 12, July 3, July 31 and August 28.

The fertilization program, now in its fifth year, is regarded as having a beneficial effect.

OUR GOAL: NO UNHAPPY OWNERS

Dear Voter,

Throughout this week's edition of the Floyd County Times you will find my case stated on several issues that are important to Floyd County in this election for State Representative.

During this campaign I have spoken to many of you personally about these issues, and I have discussed them in the newspaper and on the radio. My opponent's only answer so far has been to ask his friends in Owensboro, Louisville and Frankfort for more endorsements.

I am concerned about the needs and the future of Floyd County and I do not believe we have had the best representation available in Frankfort over the past ten years.

My own goals are these:

2. To work for the changes—which are available right now—that would bring better and higher benefits to the victims of black lung.

2. To work for more industry and more employment for Floyd County. We need more jobs—not for my son or my relatives but for everyone.

3. To work for changes in the State Election Law—passed in the 1972 session of the Legislature—which is even confusing to the highest elected officials in Frankfort and which is causing confusion and dissent and may interrupt our own election here in Floyd County.

4. To work for changes in the reapportionment act of 1972 which took more than 2,900 voters out of Floyd County races and put them in with Pike, Johnson, Lawrence and Boyd.

5. To seek a fairer tax on Kentucky's minerals—one that would include oil and gas and take some of the burden off of our coal mines.

6. To see that Floyd County gets its fair share of rural road funds from the State Highway Department all year and every year—not just at election time.

7. To see that our school teachers get fair pay increases to bring them in line with those of other states.

8. To support fully the local mental health programs of our Mountain Comprehensive Care Center.

9. To get more improvements and expansion of the facilities at Jenny Wiley State Park; to make sure that it is not run down while other parks in the state system get most of the money.

10. TO BE A FLOYD COUNTIAN, WORKING FOR FLOYD COUNTY IN THE STATE LEGISLATURE—TO BE MORE CONCERNED OVER OUR NEEDS THAN THE NEEDS OF "FRIENDS" IN WESTERN KENTUCKY AND WEST VIRGINIA.

I hope you will sincerely and honestly think about these points and about my opponent's record of the past ten years. I hope you will not confuse the record of former Floyd Countians who have served in the Legislature with the record of my opponent.

l ask for your vote on Election Day, May 29, and I promise to work hard for you and Floyd County throughout the next two years.

Sincerely,

JAMES "JITTER" ALLEN

Grethel Girl Wins Walk-a-Thon Award

Miss Sharon K. Potter, of Grethel, has been awarded an achievement plaque in recognition for her effort in the May 5th Walk-A-Thon for Southland Bible Institute. Miss Potter, a student at Southland, won the first-place award in the female student catagory. She had more dollars per mile pledged to her 10mile walk than any other girl in the student catagory.

Miss Potter is a senior at Southland, which is located 17 miles south of Pikeville. The Walk-A-Thon, an alumnisponsored event, was held to help raise funds to start a multi-purpose building for the school's campus.

Eighty students, teachers, staff members, alumni, and friends of the school took part in the Walk-A-Thon. When all pledges are collected it is expected that the goal of $5,000 from the event will be exceeded. Miss Potter's effort, which won for her this award, amounted to $17.00 per mile for a total of $171.10 pledged in her walk.

wonderland, but every year the state's lakes and streams become scenes of tragedies for those who ignore boating safety rules.

There are 14,000 miles of navigable streams, a number second only to Alaska, and 306 lakes of more than 10 acres in Kentucky. The state's 90,000 registered boats, and the estimated 40,000 that come from surrounding states each year, indicate the size of the problem.

As a result of various kinds of boating mishaps, 36 people died on Kentucky's waterways last year

According to the Division of Water Enforcement in the State Department of Transportation, there are a number of steps that each boater should follow in order to insure the safety of his boat and passengers

David C. Collins, director of the division, and Ben Wright, senior officer. agree that the first step a boater should take is to obtain a copy of the "Kentucky Rules and Regulations" concerning boating. They can be obtained from the Division of Water Enforcement and from each of the state's county clerks.

These contain specifications concerning the proper maintenance and operation of boats. A boater should evaluate his craft and if necessary bring it up to the state specifications before he puts it into the water.

A second step is to obtain a map of the waterways the boater intends to be using.

When the boat is ready to be put into the water another set of precautions should be observed. One of the most important is that a boat should never be overloaded.

Wright describes this as "one of our biggest problems." Collins said he remembers seeing a 12-foot boat with 10 people in it. "I thought we would have to rescue them all," he said.

They also recommend that a boat not be overpowered. A motor too large for

By ED W. HANCOCK

(Attorney General of Kentucky) A very angry young man called on our Consumer Hotline recently and told us that his wife had signed a contract for $100 worth of baby pictures after a salesman had called while he was at

Now, however, under the new "three-day cooling-off period" law, the consumer may rescind, in writing, within three days, any contract amounting to $25.00 or more made by a salesman who contacted him at his home without being invited to do so. This relieves the consumer from most. but not all, responsibilities under the contract. The law also provides that, upon cancellation of a contract on which there has been a down payment, the seller is entitled to keep, as a cancellation fee, 5 percent of the cash price (if that amount does not exceed the Kentucky River To Be Made Safe For Swimming, Its Entire Length?

(In The Lexington Herald)

Meeting in Frankfort Friday, the state Advisory Council on Water Resources Research will examine planning programs designed eventaully to make the Kentucky River fit for swimming through its entire length.

Dr. Robert B. Graves, chairman of the University of Kentucky chemical engineering department and new director of the Water Resources Institute, said yesterday that the institute would work more closely with state authorities in a long, weary and expensive effort to solve Kentucky's multifaceted water problems.

In addition to his institute directorship. Dr. Graves is a member of the effluent standards and water quality information advisory committee of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in Washington, of which Robert W. Fri now is the administrator.

The Institute here, financed by a $100,000 annual U.S. Interior Department grant matched in part with University funds, is similar to those established in other states but is designed to concentrate research on Kentucky's water problems which Dr. Grieves described as "horrendous." In every Kentucky county, he observed, "the water flows out.

The institute operates under tight federal guidelines which now are tending toward a regional approach to water resources research. Dr. Grieves said that, for Kentucky, he would seek to utilize scientific talent in all regional universities as well as the University of Kentucky.

As for the stream cleanup timetable, Dr. Grieves said that federal programs will require the best practical technology (BPT) for eliminating pollution to be in operation ty 1977 and the best available technology (BAT) by 1985 when "zero discharge" into streams is fixed as the last anti-pollution step.

Dr. Grieves said he could not be certain that the final goal would be achieved nationwide by the deadline year but did assert that the Kentucky River, which has an average flow of 6,837 cubic feet per second at Frankfort, could be made fit for swimming its entire length.

Alarm about the future of the Kentucy River was expressed last year by former U.S. Rep. William P. Curlin Jr., who told the Lexington Rotary Club that "without this river, the Blue Grass is doomed.'

The EPA has been working primarily on "point" pollution of rivers or pollution piped directly into a stream from an industry or municipality. Dr. Grieves pointed out, however, that Kentucky has runoff problems and pollution from abandoned strip mines as well as industrial and municipal, pollution.

One anti-pollution approach widely considered, he said, would impose fees on industries discharging municipalities "for the use of a river."

If the fee were properly set,he added, than it would encourage industries and municipalities to examined that cost in relation to the cost of installing adequate anti-pollution systems.

The institute director estimated that Kentucky's streams could be cleansed at a cost of millions rather than billions of dollars over the years ahead.

encourages its members to vote for and support

JOE WHEELER LEWIS SHERIFF OF FLOYD COUNTY

- (1.) Joe Wheeler Lewis has given his full support and effort to the basic tenets of the Christian Dry League, a "DRY" county where law and order prevail.
- (2.) Joe Wheeler Lewis, in our opinion, made an outstanding sheriff in his previous term.
- (3.) Joe Wheeler Lewis has demonstrated what can be done about those who break the alcoholic beverage laws of this county.
- (4.) Although we do not intentionally wish to hurt any other candidate, we feel that the voters should know that Joe Wheeler Lewis has been our friend and has given more than lip service to our concerns for a better Floyd County.

Since there are only a few days left of the campaign, I feel that each candidate should make clear what he stands for. I feel that each voter should know the candidates' platforms.

Each candidate has been well advertised in The Floyd County Times but at this time not one of my opponents has attempted to tell you what they intend to do about the sale of alcohol beverage. The federal and state statistics show that alcohol beverage is the No. 1 killer through the country. It is involved in 90 percent of the crime, yet not one of my opponents has told you they will try to stop the bootlegging in Floyd County. (Wonder why?)

If I am elected sheriff of Floyd County I will do everything I can to make our highways and rural roads safe so that our church people can travel without fear. Since we have voted Floyd county dry, I feel that our sheriff should do his best to keep it dry. I ask for your support so I can support you.

Monitoring Wins Praise

The Division of Air Pollution in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection is conducting what I believe is one of the nation's most comprehensive air quality monitoring programs.

This program, conducted through the operation of a statewide air monitoring network, concentrates in areas of major air pollution priorities. It employs a sophisticated array of devices which meets or exceeds all federal minimum equipment guidelines.

I am proud to relate that a recent program evaluation report issued by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency said, "Kentucky's air monitoring network is probably the best designed and most efficiently operated state system in EPA Region IV." That region includes eight states.

In support of this network, the Division of Air Pollution employs a fully equipped chemistry and calibration laboratory and a computerized system to monitor air quality data.

EPA said in its evaluation report that, "This agency has an unusually good grasp of the reasons why it should have a well managed air quality data base."

We have several purposes for air monitoring. We use it to judge compliance with state and national air quality standards, to activate emergency procedures in the event of severe air pollution situations and to observe pollution trends throughout the state.

We also use air monitoring as an aid in urban land use and transporation planning; and to develop pollution abatement strategies.

Though we are very proud of our accomplishments in this area and pleased with EPA's evaluation, we realize that more must be done in order to continue our progress in this vital area. We plan to pursue methods to obtain an immediate

4-Month Toll On Area Roads Includes 8 Dead

Eight were killed and 307 injured in highway accidents in the five-county area served by Kentucky State Police Post No. 9 at Pikeville during the first four months of this year, Capt. Billy Lykins, Post commander, reported last Four of the fatalities for the quarter ending April 30 were in Pike county, two were in Martin county, one in Floyd and one in Johnson. Magoffin, the other county in the Post area, had none.

During April 108 persons were arrested on charges of durnk driving-40 in Pike, 26 in Floyd, 20 in Magoffin, 14 in Johnson and 8 in Martin.

In Pike county 58 accidents were investigated; Floyd had 39 such investigations, Martin 10, Johnson 18, and Magoffin 11. State police made 25 criminal investigations and 18 criminal arrests in this county during April. Pike county had 34 criminal arrests, Martin 1, Johnson 7, and Magoffin 13.

The highway death toll in the five counties during the three years, 1970 through 1972, stands at 122-37 in 1970, 38 in 1971 and 47 last year. Floyd county had 11 such fatalities last year.

Federal Black Lung Claim Filing Still To Be with Social Security

Social Security offices will continue assiting miners to file for federal Black-Lung benefits after June 30.

Daryl E. Ratliff, district Manager of the Pikeville Social Security office, said the June 30 deadline contained in the Black-Lung benefit law means that after that date Black-Lung benefit eligibility determinations will be under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Department of Labor instead of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Social Security Administration.

To be approved for monthly benefits under the existing law, a living miner must either have complicated pneumoconiosis, category A, B, or C, as diagnosed by X-ray evidence, or be determined totally disabled to perform his usual mine duties from a respiratory condition. The fact that a miner is continuing to work full time in a regular coal mine occupation is ordinarily conclusive evidence he is not totally disabled within the meaning of the Act and any claim filed would be denied. Additionally, before a miner can be determined eligible and paid federal Black-Lung benefits, he must file for any State Workmen's Compensation payments he would be due.

Should a miner's medical conditon cause him to stop working as a miner after June 30, he would not be prevented from filing a claim for federal Black-Lung benefits at that time. There is no advantage to a miner filing a claim based on total disability from a respiratory condition while he is currently working as a miner, Mr. Ratliff said.

Social Security offices will continue to

CHESTER PORTER

Democratic Candidate For Magistrate

District No. 1

No. 2 on Ballot

To the Democratic Voters of District No. 1:

I would like to put to rest a rumor that I will, or have, come off the ballot as a candidate for Magistrate. The same ones that spread these false rumors know that I, Chester Porter, am a winner, and they are trying to discredit me. I ask all my friends to help me to be their next Magistrate. I am a partially disabled man and will make you a full time Magistrate.

I have found through my traveling and talking with the people of District 1 that you need an accommodating Magistrate that you can find and depend on in time of need. Our present Magistrate has a fulltime job in Johnson County! Having been a Police Judge for eight years, serving the people, I feel that I am qualified for this job.

If you will go to the polls and give your honest vote, I do solemnly swear that I will give you four years of honest, fulltime service. As your Magistrate I will personally visit every country road in my District and will do everything in my power to see that they are improved.

Your vote for a Full Time Magistrate will be appreciated. You deserve no less.

THE ISSUE OF THE LOST VOTERS

The Reapportionment Bill of 1972—voted for by Bill Reynolds-took 2,900 voters from eight precincts in Floyd County and put them into districts in Pike, Johnson, Lawrence and Boyd Counties.

In this election for State Representative, 2,400 voters in Harold, Toller, Tickie, Antioch, Head of Mud and Branham Creek cannot vote for a Floyd Countian for State Representative. They will be voting for a man from Pikeville.

In the next election for State Senator, 500 voters in Auxier and Abbot Creek precincts cannot vote for a Floyd Countian. They will be voting for a man from Paintsville, Louisa or Ashland.

Was this step necessary? Even a Pike County candidate for the 94th District, which now includes those six precincts in Floyd County, says it was not. He says these precincts should be returned to Floyd County "as under the law it is now possible and should be done." But what does Bill Reynolds say? He took them out of Floyd County.

Besides the loss of these voters, that bill which Bill Reynolds voted YES for, will cost this county $3,000.00 more this year to hold the election. It will cost that much more money to print the different set of ballots for the six precincts transferred to Pike. It is costing more money besides that $3,000.00 to publish those extra ballots in the newspaper. In the next election for a State Senator, it will cost even more money.

> THIS IS YOUR MONEY— FROM YOUR COUNTY GOVERNMENT

On May 29 vote for a man who cares about Floyd County-A man who will work to have these precincts brought back to Floyd County.

To the Voters of Magisterial District No. 1

I, Grady Skeens have not and will not come off for no reason and for no one. Anything contrary to this is untrue. Has my opponents concocted this, if so why? You the voters of District No. 1 be the judge.

Mr. Bill Wells, Secretary for the Big Sandy R.E.C.C., should by all means stay in his county which is Floyd County, a county which is yours and mine. Instead, he is in some other county or state for the R.E.C.C. when you want and need him the most. He could stay at home and take care of all your needs first if he is proposing to be your Magistrate.

I think that I know your needs for I have been around our county and I can see the conditions of our roads and bridges. So keep your Magistrate at home, vote for GRADY SKEENS. I will stay at home and do my best to serve you. All you need my friends is to vote for me and try ME as you have already tried the other for eight years. TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

Mothers, fathers, and concerned citizens: You have been asked to "Look at the Record" by a candidate for Sheriff. Lets LOOK at the record and ask these questions.

Do you remember, just a few years ago, the reputation Floyd County Law Enforcement had for brutality to old and young? Do you want another 4 years of this?

How about the times you called for help you desperately needed and did not get it? Did you have a Deputy available in your community?

Did YOU have regular patrols by the Sheriff and Deputies up the Creeks and hollows?

Was there COOPERATION between Sheriff and other law enforcement agencies? or was there friction and bad feeling? Are you sure force and violence are necessary in making an arrest or conducting an investigation? The answer is NO!

Floyd County Citizens DO NOT want this kind of Law Enforcement. They want a fair and hardworking man for their next Sheriff. A man who will come to their aid when needed and who will be on the job 24 hours a day. Let's get Floyd County back on the right track and make our Sheriff's Department one we can be proud of. The Issue of Influence

The election in the May primary is not for Governor, as some may have been led to believe, but for a State Representative for Floyd County.

LET'S SET THE RECORD STRAIGHT:

Bill Reynolds never served in the House of Representatives while Bert Combs was Governor.

Bill Reynolds was not in the House of Representatives when the bill was passed to establish our Community College in Prestonsburg. That bill was introduced by "Little A" Allen Slone.

Bill Reynolds was not in the House of Representatives when construction started on the Mountain Parkway or when work began on Jenny Wiley State Park.

The two men who served from Floyd County when Bert Combs was Governor were Allen Slone and C. "Ollie" Robinson, and they should get the credit for most of the good things that came to Floyd County—not Bill Reynolds.

It should be further noted that both of those men were serving as Freshmen legislators at the time, which proves that sometimes a Freshman can do more than a man with 10 years experience and powerful friends.

Bill Reynolds has the blessings of the present and former governors—not to mention the party chief from Owensboro who is his "Frankfort roommate"—but none of these men has a real interest in the present needs of Floyd County. None of them works here, or earns a living here, or drives over our roads, or sends children to our schools, or shops in our local businesses, or owns property here, or votes here.

On May 29, vote for a man who is interested and believes in Floyd County . . . A man whose closest friends are Floyd Countians a man who will work for Floyd County in the State Legislature.

Meet To Stress Ropes Priorities

Educational priorities will be stressed at the meeting tomorrow (Thursday) of the board of directors of ROPES Region 11, it was announced this week by Reo Johns, director.

The meeting, which will be held at the Porter elementary school, Johnson county, will be attended by State Supt. Lyman V. Ginger, Bill Lockhart, of the Bureau of Vocational Education, Dr. Arthur Cotterill, of the state Office of Planning and Research, and others. The officials will assist in setting up priorities. The directors will select from a list of priorities in the areas of program, services and activities.

Mr. Johns, Bronelle Skaggs, assistant director, and Shirley Beard, administrative assistant, appeared before the Paintsville City Board of Education and the Paintsville Kiwanis Club last week and again this week to explain initial steps taken in the development of ROPES and to point out the potential that ROPES will have in the general education and vocational education programs and the services that may be rendered to the local school districts through the regional office.

Car Wreck Claims Child, 4; Mother Seriously Hurt

A single car accident on U. S. 80, two miles east of Martin last Tuesday, claimed the life of a four-year-old Martin boy and seriously injured his mother.

Gregory Scott LeMaster was killed when the late model Toyota driven by his mother, Judith Ann Martin LeMaster, hit a high shoulder and ran off the road on Shingletop Hill. The auto apparently struck a large culvert hole and turned over, throwing young LeMaster out. Mrs. LeMaster was seriously injured but is reported to be improving at Central Baptist hospital, Lexington. Another child in the car escaped serious injury.

Born April 15, 1969 at Pikeville, he is also survived by his father, John LeMaster, Jr.

Other survivors include three brothers, David Lemaster, of Salt Lake City, Utah, Johnny LeMaster, of Springfield, Ohio, and Henry Durham LeMaster, of Martin, and three sisters, Susan LeMaster, Martin, Debbie LeMaster, Springfield, and Mrs. Diana Groins, of Bay Minetta, Funeral rites were conducted Friday at 1 p.m. at the Hall Brothers Funeral Home Chapel with the Pastor, Lorie Vanucci, officiating. Burial was made in the Collins cemetery at Oil Springs.

For Floyd Jobs

Governor Wendell H. Ford announced last Friday that $711,000 from the U.S. Department of Labor has been made available to provide jobs for disadvantaged youth in 87 counties in Kentucky this summer.

The agreement, signed by state Economic Security Commissioner Gail S. Huecker and Cattie Lou Miller, commissioner of state personnel, provides for summer jobs for approximately 2,500 disadvantaged youth in certain eligible public agencies throughout the state.

In this area Floyd county will receive $17,920 to provide 70 jobs; Johnson county, $11,264 for 44; Pike, $19,792 for 77; Martin, $15,360 for 60. Magoffin county has not been allocated any funds.

Governor Ford said one of the major benefits of the program is that it will provide assistance to needy Kentucky youth so that they may remain in school. "Hopefully, it will also help to prevent juvenile delinquency by providing meaningful employment instead of idleness during the summer vacation period," he said. Youth will be employed only by public agencies for an eight-week period, beginning June 18 and ending August 11. Jobs will be funded by the federal Emergency Employment Act of 1971 and will be apportioned as equally as possible in city and county governments and local city or county school systems. Commissioner Huecker said the department's 25 local offices will provide job information, screening, referral, terested and eligible applicants. Jobs are expected to fall into four general occupational categoriesclerical, maintenance, service and semiskilled labor.

orientation and counseling to all in-

Commissioner Huecker said once applicants have begun working, an employment service counselor from the local employment office will provide follow-up counseling and supportive services as needed.

Employed youth will be paid bi-weekly at the rate of $1.60 an hour for a total of 20 hours per week of 40 weeks in each pay

(The following is a copy of a Page 1 news-story published in The Floyd County Times on Jan. 8, 1970)

> Circuit Judge Hollie Conley, in his instructions to the grand jury empaneled Monday for the first court term of the new year, called for strict enforcement of the "dry" law in this county.

He pointed to the overwhelming dry vote cast at last year's local option election and told the jury it should work to see that the people have what they obviously want.

"For the past three or four years," Judge Conley remarked, "our county has been in pretty good shape." He commended outgoing sheriff, Joe W. Lewis, for a job well-done. "I'm sure the new sheriff will do an equally good job," he the jury, "are not the worst crimes to be brought before you, but many times when there is a murder, a breaking and entering, a child desertion or a broken home, whiskey is involved.'

Democratic primary, May 29

JOE WHEELER LEWIS DEMOCRAT FOR SHERIFF

No. 2 on Ballot

Since I have served as deputy sheriff for ten years and a sheriff for four years, I do not feel it necessary for me to give a long story about who I am and what I stand for. I feel like we all will be judged by our past record. My greatest desire to be sheriff is to make Floyd County a better place in which to live. I am one hundred percent against the sale of alcoholic beverages and will do my best to stop bootlegging and dope peddling. I will work, day and night, to stop breaking and entering. All deputies will be sober, honest and respectful and will be in uniform when patrolling roads. Two deputies will work day and two will work at night. I will have one person in the office to receive calls at night.

I want to thank all my opponents for their kindness in the race. I believe this has been the cleanest sheriff's race I have ever seen in Floyd County. I am running my own race and ask the support from all candidates in other races.

Your Vote and Support Appreciated.

JOE WHEELER LEWIS FOR SHERIFF

P.S. The pint they don't get to sell may save a life (who knows, whose)

We, the undersigned coal miners who participated in the picketing at Garth, Kentucky, would like to set the record straight, since B. J. Jones has distorted the facts against Henry C. Hale.

Both sides were well armed, and the situation was very dangerous. Henry C. Hale, then sheriff of Floyd County, and in conjunction with the Kentucky State Police, came to the picketing to do their lawful duty to insure that the union had the right to picket without interference from any person or group and without fear of their life and to insure that there was free access and flow of traffic to the mining site and the neighboring communities, so that local residents could get to and from their homes without being harmed or put in fear of being harmed. At no time did Henry C. Hale order us to stop picketing or to break-up our picket line.

In doing his lawful duty, Henry C. Hale prevented someone from losing their life or from being seriously injured.

$35,000 Offer Made To Continue Work On Oral History

Pippa Passes, Ky.-The National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D. C., has offered to continue for another year its financial assistance of the Appalachian Oral History Project which is led by Alice Lloyd College. The offer is for $35,000, and Alice Lloyd will share it with Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va.; Lees Junior College, Jackson, Ky., and Appalachian State University, Boone, North

The funds will assure a vigorous summer program involving about 40 students in three states, according to Bill Weinberg, project director and associated dean at Alice Lloyd. Summer school at the college begins on June 11. The funds also will be used to disseminate the tape recorded material on Central Appalachia. This is part of the college's continuing efforts to serve as a regional resource center for information relating to the Central Appalachian

The Oral History Project has focused on such topics as the effects of the great depression, union organization and life in the mining camps, the coming of the railroad, and the impact of outside forces on traditional Appalachian ways of life.

The Kentucky State Fair Board has named Jimmie E. Gatlin as projects director to help develop Louisville's downtown exhibition center, one of the board's capital improvement projects. The board also approved $36,500 in addition to the $2.2 million already obligated for expansion of the Fairgrounds

To the Voters of District 3:

I would like to take this opportunity to apologize to my good friends of Magisterial District 3.

As we all know, we have had more than our share of bad weather this year, which in turn has caused the rural roads to be in very bad shape.

I have tried to take every opportunity to help restore our roads to satisfactory condition. While trying to fix the roads, I have left myself short of time, instead of trying to talk to the people of District 3 concerning the upcoming election. But I think and I hope that you, the voters of District 3 think that it is more important to repair our roads and help the people of Floyd County than to campaign.

Let me continue to work for you.

NOTICE

To the People of District 2:

On the morning of May 18 the following "smear sheet" was distributed by unknown persons to discredit me and my family:

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY

I am a citizen and a voter of District No. 2. Let's not all of Floyd County be

- 1. To have a monopoly on whiskey such as Constable Roberts has.
- 2. Open season for murders, such as has already happened to the two Conley boys. They were both my people and my friends.

3. I could write a book about this, but you're not to dumb to know what has already happened. Now let's get down to the facts.

First, let's ask Kenneth Roberts or better known as "Big Doll", to submit to a lie detector test or appear before the court or Grand Jury and tell what he knows about these murders, especially Deputy Sheriff Conley. Now as a family man and a citizen, I myself would appear before the Grand Jury and make an indictment, but I have my life and family to fear for. After all, this is the county officials job to stress the facts. Also ask Sheriff Frank Leslie to take a lie detector test too.

> Bless All of Us For a better Floyd County

Up to now this has been a clean "no name calling" race. I do not believe that any of my opponents would stoop to tactics as dirty as the above printed pamphlet. In the years that I have served the public I have never abused, mistreated or killed any person that I have arrested. I would like to state that I have always served my community and this Magisterial district faithfully. My services have always been available at all school functions, such as ball games, proms, dances and benefit shows. I have assisted in directing traffic at church meetings and I have been a part of and assisted in the funeral of many of your loved ones.

I know nothing about the two murders that happened recently in our district. I have worked with the state and local police to the best of my ability. I have nothing to hide. These two men were personal friends of mine and anything I could do to bring their assassins to justice, I would do. To the many friends and relatives of these boys, let me say that I am truly sorry that their names and mine had to be linked in what I call a "Smear Campaign," conducted by those who travel at night, ashamed to be seen, and afraid to put a name to their

KEA President Says Cutbacks To Affect State's Schoolchildren

The president of the Kentucky Education Association (KEA) warned this week that the state's schoolchildren stand to lose many basic instructional programs if federal spending cuts proposed by the Nixon Administration go

Mrs. Louise Hite, of Middlesboro, said uncertainty about federal funding for the coming school year has already caused school boards to notify a substantial number of Kentucky teachers that they will not be re-employed.

And if the reduction in teacher services isn't reversed later by a federal approporiation to enable rehiring, "it will, unfortunately be the children in the classroom who will suffer most through elimination of those vital services," said Mrs. Hite, who teachers reading at Middlesboro's West End Elementary

State Department of Education officials have estimated that 3,700 teachers throughout the state have been notified they will not be re-employed next year because of an expected reduction in federal funds.

"What is this going to do to the children?" Mrs. Hite asked. "We are concerned.'

'In some cases it will mean a severe cutback in library services. Or it can mean no physical education, no elementary-school guidance counselors, discontinuance of good art programs, elimination of foreign languarge instruction...to name a few casualties."

'Children in my own particular school will lose some of those programs and services through loss of teaches now employed with the aid of federal funds," she said.

"It's a tragedy that most innovative programs made possible by federal funds will go down the drain if we lose those

The law required school boards to notify teachers by May 15 if they are not to be re-employed the following year.

'All those teachers who have been notified are in a state of limbo until Congress acts," she said. "And we understand that it will be the end of July or sometime in August-when the opening of school is upon us-before a federal appropriations bill is approved.'

We are hoping that Title I funds, at least, which provide for instructional programs involving 2700 Kentucky teachers, will be restored next year at their present level of funding," Mrs. Hite said. "This will make it possible to reemploy that many teachers and reinstate needed instructional program.'

"But whether that funding level will be restored remains in great doubt, and there are fears that Title I funds may be cut by as much as 40 percent.'

"This would be a tremendous blow," she said.

Mrs. Hite urged parents and other concerned citizens to write their congressmen and President Nixon to urge continuation of federal school-aid programs, which now account for 15.8 percent of Kentucky's revenue for elementary and secondary schools.

She praised the efforts of Kentucky Democrat Carl D. Perkins, of Hindman, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, to extend for five years the landmark Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which expires

attorney general against a member of the Madison county school board. The suit charged the board member's two offices, postmistress of a fourth class post office and school board member, were incompatible. The judge said fourth class is the lowest designation given to a post office, and as postmistress at Big Hill, the defendant sets no policy and has no supervision. The judge ordered costs of the court action be paid by the plaintiff, the state of Kentucky

ALLEN OPPOSED BERT COMBS For GOVERNOR

JAMES "JITTER" ALLEN, who is running for Representative, in 1973 is the same man who campaigned in 1971 all across Eastern Kentucky against Bert Combs, the one governor who did more for Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky than any governor in the history of the Commonwealth.

This is the same James "Jitter" Allen who made numerous radio announcements and traveled to all areas of Eastern Kentucky making speeches against Bert Combs.

Why would a man who says he wants to help Eastern Kentucky and serve as your Representative in Frankfort work so hard against Bert Combs, a man who worked so hard for Eastern Kentucky?

After all, BERT COMBS gave us the Mountain Parkway, which opened up new industrial and recreational opportunities for Floyd county. If not for the Mountain Parkway would we have U.S. Shoe Corporation, American Standard and the extensive development of Jenny Wiley State Park?

Under his administration, Bert Combs brought to Eastern Kentucky the Prestonsburg Community College. He started education moving in Kentucky again, and gave the youth of the mountains an opportunity to continue their education in a state-supported college. Bert Combs was for education, and proved it time and time again.

Even the road program which is now underway in Eastern Kentucky was started under the Combs Administration. Combs Airport is also a product of his administration.

While this same James "Jitter" Allen was campaigning against Bert Combs, W. J. Bill Reynolds was traveling all over Kentucky working in his behalf. W. J. Reynolds thanks BERT COMBS for his great contributions to Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky.

So we ask you, Mr. Allen, if you are for Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky in 1973, why would you have been so opposed in 1971 to Bert Combs, the man who proved he was concerned in Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky as no other governor had. W. J. Bill Reynolds knows the needs and desires of the people of Floyd county, and wants to continue to serve you as your Representative.

We urge you to cast your ballot on May 29th for a man who has always been for Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky.

Vote W. J. "Bill" Reynolds for Representative, 95th District.

HENRY C. HALE

FOR SHERIFF

of Floyd County

Democratic Primary May 29, 1973

A man of proven ability who will be on the job 24 hours a day.

As you know, I am a candidate for Sheriff of Floyd County in the Democratic Primary on May 29. I have visited and talked with many of you already and will continue to do so until the polls close on election day. I want to thank all of you for the kindness and encouragement I have received from you. As I have talked to you about the important office of Sheriff, it has been heart-warming to feel the trust and confidence of you, the people of Floyd

I was born and raised in the Middle Creek section of our county, a son of the late James Hale. I am married to Winifred "Penny" Osborne of Martin, Kentucky. We are the parents of five sons and one daughter. James, age 24, in the U. S. Air Force; Tom, George, Ben, Kay, John, all in school.

I am a World War II Veteran, serving in the Navy in the Pacific. I have been employed in coal fields for about 16 years and in farming and construction work. You, the voters of Floyd County, have elected me to 3 terms of State Representative 1948, 1950, and 1952, and as your Sheriff from 1962 to

When I am elected your sheriff:

1. I will enforce all the laws of the State of Kentucky, which is the first duty of a Sheriff.

2. I will be a fulltime, working Sheriff who will be available to you both night and day. As we all know, a Sheriff's duties do not end at 5 p.m. and neither does crime.

3. Deputies will be dependable, respectful, and of sound judgment. They will attend local law enforcement classes that are available. They will also be uniformed and in clearly marked cars—as you may recall, I began this practice in my other term as Sheriff and is not something new. As before, I will provide funeral escort and deputies for any public gathering and meeting.

4. Your taxes will be collected and accounted for with complete accuracy. 5. I can and will co-operate and work with all other law-enforcement officers in Floyd County for the greater safety of all.

My aim will be an honest and fair administration. With the help of you, the fine people of Floyd County, we CAN make our county a good place to live and raise our families.

Kentucky

By Hope Carleton Dept. of Fish and Wildlife

Of all the varieties of fish in Kentucky, possibly no other species offers more varied fishing, or winds up on a stringer in greater numbers than does the white

Several weeks ago, while the whites were running on their spawning sprees into the headwater areas of the major lakes, casters and minnow fishermen caught these gallant fighting fish in limit numbers. At times anglers using dual lures caught two whites at once.

One fisherman, casting dual do-jigs on the South Fork of the Cumberland River near Devil's Jump, caught ten white bass in five casts. Needless to say, he was at the right place at the right time.

Now that the runs are all but over, white bass have another treat in store for Kentucky fishermen: fishing at night under the lights. Anglers using minnows will account for many excellent strings from the big lakes.

Night fishing has long been a popular method for taking these silver fighters. Though Lake Herrington saw the beginning of the white bass fishing story in Kentucky, as time has gone by more major lakes have been created and the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources has stocked many of theese impoundments with these excellent game fish.

Lake Cumberland, for example, is a top-rated impoundment for white bass fishing. At times the harvest has been so good that anglers, instead of saying, "I caught 60 white bass" (the daily and possession limit for white bass), have just referred to the number of pounds. 'Well, they sure were hitting last night-I caught 112 pounds.

And at the same time the night fishing occurs for these fish, the "jumps" are also beginning. Jump fishing is practiced in the still, large open waters when schools of shad move to the surface. Packs of white bass, like hungry wolves, thrash into the shad and gorge themselves.

Anglers who cast flashing spoons, spinners and plunker-and-fly combinations into these schools have some of the most exciting action of the season from the bull-dogging white bass.

Casting and minnow fishing are not all that the white bass afford, there is always trolling-another productive way for taking these fine gamesters. Trolling starts before the runs occur and will often continue until late fall.

White bass are also taken in the tailwaters of many of the major lakes. The areas below Kentucky and Barkely Dams are possibly the hardest fished, but very productive.

When the mayfly hatch occurs in the sister lakes of Barkley and Kentucky, night fishermen rig several mayflies on a hook instead of minnows-and believe it or not-take limits consistently.

These are just some of the more common methods that take white bass in

The best seasons are just beginning for fishing at night, trolling and casting the jumps. For fast action (when conditions are right), the white bass is tops.

CHANGES DISTRIBUTION

The Nixon Administration has changed the way impact aid funds will be allotted for fiscal year 1973, but more money has not been released. The President has said all categories will be funded equally, at 54 percent of entitlement. This means the $415 million will be spread more thinly, with some school districts getting more than they expected, some less. An NEA preliminary survey found at least 40 school districts losing substantial funding, and at least one school district (Douglas, S. D.) closing down because of

State Police Training Changes

Frankfort, Ky.-Ask any state trooper what makes a good policeman and he is likely to give a two-part reply: "training and experience.'

The experience arrives on its own timetable if given a chance, but training is a subject that is receiving more and more emphasis in police circles. The Kwntucky State Police, as it approaches its 25th birthday on July 1, 1973, is no exception.

Of all the changes that have occurred during the State Police's quarter century of existence, the greatest has been the amount and quaity of the training required of each potential state trooper before he is allowed to put on his uniform, badge, and gun in the name of Kentucky.

In 1948, some 25 men took part in a three-week training school to prepare them for their duties as the first state policemen. They spent two weeks in Frankfort learning principles of traffic control and traffic law. The other week was spent at Fort Knox in first aid and firearms training.

As Sgt. Harold "Pine Knot" Kinman, a graduate of that first class, described it, "It was very compact, they really put it to Even at that it was a lot more than the members of the old Highway Patrol, the State Police's predecessor, had gotten. Capt. James H. Evans, who is in charge of the State Police Academy, says, "Prior to the State Police, recruits were given a badge, a gun, a book of traffic laws, and sworn in.

Capt. Loyd Alexander, now director of administrative services for the Department of Public Safety, was a member of the second cadet class. He remembers that the entire school was conducted by one man.

His most vivid memory is of the old dormitory in which the men stayed while training at Fort Knox. "I remember most waking up every morning to dormitory filled with smoke from the heating system.

Today, the State Police training session, conducted entirely at the State Police Academy in Frankfort, is quite a bit different.

Cadets pack 854 hours of instruction and study into an 18 week period. They are taught basic policing techniques, criminal investigation, traffic laws, criminal law, first aid, physical education, firearms, English, psychology, sociology, andd criminalistics (the scientific evaluation of evidence).

Teachers from both Kentucky State and Eastern Kentucky Universities provide them with 30 hours of college level instruction.

Built at a cost of more than $600,000 in 1959, the academy is designed for the comfort and learning of the cadets. Among other things, it contains lecture rooms, a well-stocked library, living facilities for 46 men, a cafeteria, and crime laboratories.

The State Police are proud of this building and the policemen produced there. A former state police director has said that training is one of the most important staff functions in any police

He said, "That's our policy, and we're giving every trooper the best training that money can buy. Anyone who doubts the wisdom of that investment need only check the performance of our men after they leave the academy.'

Cadets put in a 101/2-hour day, beginning at 6 a.m. with a half hour of calisthentics. They continue withclassroom lectures and other forms of instruction until 4 p.m. with a short period for lunch. After another short break for dinner they continue with supervised study or more classes until 9

The improvements in training have come about as a response to changes inpolice work.

Capt. Alexander says, "Policing has changed over the years. It is more complex. Men are called upon to perform many more duties than they were just a few years ago.'

The State Police emphasis on courtesy is one very important part of the training, he says. "You may need to hit or shoot at a man but there is never any need to curse or be discourteous to him. This has carried us a long way and orienting people to this philosophy is part of the training." He continues, "It takes experience and training to be able to grin and bear it.

Although Capt. Alexander admits that this training does not automatically produce a good policeman, he says, "A police officer must be educated to the needs of the people. Training is something that is sorely needed these days. After all, it is hard to enforce the law if you don't know what the law is."

Labor Department Tells Plans For Manpower Revenue Sharing revenue sharing will operate has been outlined by William H. Kolberg, assistant secretary of Labor for Manpower, in testimony before a subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public

The key features of the approach the Department proposes to take in instituting manpower revenue sharing in fiscal 1974, under existing legislation

-Approximately 70 percent of the $1.34 billion regested in the President's 1974 budget for the Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) and the Economic Opportunity Act (EOA) will be distributed to States and localities. (The balance will be used by the Department of Labor for funding of such national emphasis programs as Job Opportunities in the Business Sector (JOBS) and Job

Eligible prime sponsors will be States, cities and counties, or similar units of population of 100,000 or more:

-Governors will receive separate funds to provide for coordination, statewide planning, and priority projects;

-State and local officials will have maximum discretion to plan and operate programs in their areas, within the existing provisions of MDTA and EOA;

-There will be no presumptive deliveres of service, although it is expected that nearly all officials will choose to utilize the services of established and experienced agencies such as the Employment Service and the Vocational Education system when their local plans include activities traditionally associated with those agencies. Up to now, the Department of Labor has required that such agencies be used to give people job training and related services:

-The Department of Labor will establish national target group priorities but local officials will be able to adapt these to their unique local population and problems. Among such target groups are veterans, the disadvantaged, youths under 22, people 45 and older, and minorities:

-There will be an application and approval process through which State and local officials will establish their performance objectives and make public plans and progress; and

-Coordination with other separately legislated manpower activities such as the Work Incentive (WIN) program, which helps place welfare recipients in jobs will be encouraged.

Kolberg said these are the basic principles that are now being embodies in regulations and guidelines for implementing manpower revenue sharing without new legislation. He said that the process of moving toward a comprehensive decentralization and decategorization or manpower programs is a complex one, and that "recognizing this, we are now able to move in a controlled manner into a transitional period in which Federal, State, and local governments are together learning the best means of accomplishing the decentralization of manpower

He emphasized that the details of the elements be described in his testimony "are still being refined by my staff, taking into consideration the advice and counsel of as many knowledgeable people in the field of manpower programming as is possible."

Kolberg said: "We consider our basic activity for most of the coming year to be one of working through with responsible local officials the efficient transition to a tailored local manpower program."

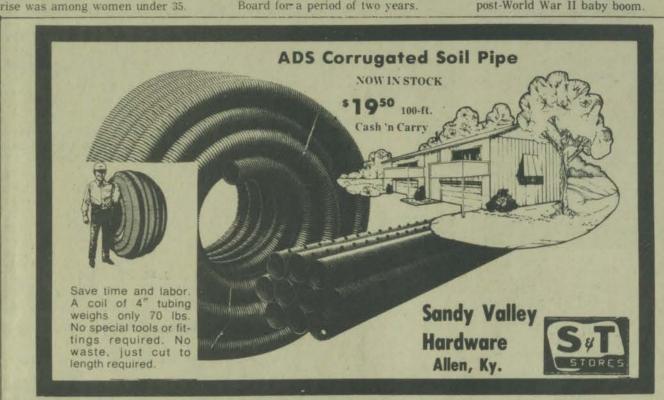

He noted that to develop the manpower revenue sharing system "It is essential that we have the authority of the MDTA available to us." That law expires on June 30 of this year.

CONPENSATION BACKLOG

Massachusetts has such a backlog of workmen's compensation cases the General Court has given the Governor power to appoint five temporary members to the Industrial Accident Board for a period of two years.

37.4 PERCENT ARE WOMEN

The percentage of women in the work force rose from 33.6 to 37.4 percent from 1964 to 1972, but will reach only 38.8 percent in 1990, assuming birth rates remain moderate by comparison with the post-World War II baby boom.

KENTUCKY SHERIFFS COMMEND HALE

The following is a copy of a letter to Henry C. Hale from Kentucky Sheriffs Association.

May 1, 1973

Honorable Henry C. Hale Blue River, Kentucky

Dear Henry:

We have just learned that you are seeking the office of Sheriff in Floyd County. We couldn't help but be reminded of the good work you did through the Kentucky Sheriffs Association and especially while you were President. We were successful in getting the blue light for all law enforcement officials, enable Sheriffs in all counties to obtain uniforms and radios, and succeeded in getting a lot of Sheriffs to mark their vehicles.

You had lots of other good ideas to help law enforcement and asked the Legislature to pass several bills to make driving on the highway safer for everyone. This legislation was defeated while you were President of Kentucky Sheriffs Association but has been passed during the last two terms of the Legislature. You had good foresight then as I am sure you do now. Should you be successful in being elected Sheriff of Floyd County. we are hoping you will again take an active part in the Kentucky Sheriff's

Student Bar Official

Paul Preston Burchett, senior law student at the University of Louisville, was elected vice-president of the student bar association for the 1973-74 school year. Mr. Burchett is also an officer in Delta Theta Phi law fraternity and was placed on the law school's Dean's List this past semester for academic achievement.

A graduate of Prestonsburg High School and the University of Kentucky, he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wheeler Burchett, of Sugar Loaf. Mr. Burchett and his wife, Carol, will reside here this summer and he will be employed by Burchett-Rowland law offices at Martin.

Stephens Wins Long Pay Fight With U.S. Army

James D. Stephens, former Prestonsburg man, has won his 12-year battle with the U.S. Army and the Pentagon for recognition of his wartime overseas service and the compensation due him.

Mr. Stephens was discharged as a lieutenant colonel after 71 months' service in the European Theatre of war during World War II and almost a year in the Pacific.

His case went to U. S. district court, then to the U.S. Court of Appeals. The War Department refused to recognize his service, although he held medals awarded him for his service in Europe and a letter of commendation from General Patton. A photograph of the Prestonsburg man on European duty which was published in The Times failed to convince.

Stephens, a son of Former Circuit Judge Henry Stephens, continued his fight. To attract interest to his case, he at one time picketed the Pentagon.

Finally, last month, a board of retired Army officers considered the case, and it ruled that Stephens is entitled to retirement pay. This compensation, which presumably will be based on the lieutenant colonel's rank which he held at the time of discharge, will not become effective until he reaches age 60.

USDA Personnel Meet At State Park Here

Carl R. Horn, district manager of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, reports a successful meeting May 1-2 at Jenny Wiley State Park.

R. Hicks Elmore, director of the Food Stamp Program for the Southeast Region, Chuck Connor, of the Regional Office, Atlanta, and Rick Crawford, state FSP supervisor, attended the meeting along with all officers-in-charge in the Prestonsburg district. The Prestonsburg District includes Kentucky and a portion of Virginia.

PRINCIPALS LEAVE NEA

Officials of the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) have voted to cut the organization's last tie with the NEA. Meeting in Dallas following the annual NASSP convention. the organization's board of directors agreed that NASSP's status as an 'associate organization" with NEA will be terminated this spring. The American Association of School Administrators has already severed ties with the NEA, and many persons are predicting the National Association of Elementary School Principals will soon follow suit.

To the people of Floyd County, especially to the self-appointed board of Wheelwright:

In last week's paper the town board of Wheelwright endorsed Joe W. Lewis for sheriff. They said they were for an honest and good man for the job. Since they seem to know so much about the right man for the job, I would like to ask them a few questions:

(1) I would like to ask Elmer Ferguson (mayor), Paul Watson police judge) and Delbert Davis board member) if they have driven on our streets while under the influence of alcohol.

(2) I would like also to know what the town taxes are used for? (3) I do not have to ask Harold Beaver Johnson any questions.

Drilling Halted In Johnson Co. At 14,542 Feet

Deep drilling for gas or oil, or both in Johnson county has been temporarily abandoned after certain formations had yielded what was described as "very encouraging results," The Times learned

The "failure" of what otherwise would have been a successful venture deep into seldom-explored formations was purely mechanical. It is possible that work on the hole will be resumed later.

The well, located near Meally, between Paintsville and Inez, was drilled to a depth of 14,542, which is believed to be the deepest exploration made in Kentucky. Companies involved in the deep test are Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, Chevron Oil, Signal Oil & Gas Co., and Weaver Oil & Gas Company

Other deep drilling is planned, but it was indicated no Floyd county locations have been made

Proposed lifting of the price ceiling on natural gas as a means of stimulating wider exploration for the fuel during the current shortage has been attacked in the courts. If a decision permitting higher prices, results, wider drilling can be expected, it was said.

Clark School Group Goes To Tennessee For Methods Study

Maxie Harris, Hunter.

Four members of the Clark elementary school staff visited the award-winning Dodson elementary school at Hermitage, Tennessee, May 17 and 18 to study the school's organizational patterns and teaching techniques for individualizing instruction.

While visiting the open-spaced school, the Clark staff was able to observe teaching situations where teachers were very much in the background in the classroom daily operations. Their time was utilized in complete planning of classroom activities for children, then, as teams, checking to see that materials, supplies and class activities were properly carried out by the children themselves.

In most of the classrooms, teachermade materials were used instead of usual textbooks. Children had the option of choosing learning activities for the week. Each child evaluated himself with the teacher once each week. Through this type conference the teacher-team could construct learning materials for the following week. Much freedom of movement was allowed for the children. Typing and sewing were two subjects among several from which the children could choose. The school also had a small barn with animals, and a small vegetable garden the children could care for.

Clark staff members attending the school were John K. Pitts, principal, Pauline Hicks, the Right to Read coordinator, Louise Howard, librarian, and Anne Dickerson, teacher.

Concert To Benefit Allen Central Band

A spring concert will be held at the Allen Central high school at Eastern, Friday at 7 p.m.

Presenting programs during the evening will be the Allen Central band under the direction of Mark Rice, the Allen Central choir under the direction of Mrs. Alecia Mayo, and the combined grade school bands from Wayland, Garrett, Maytown and Martin under the direction of Roger Voelker. The Man For The

The Sheriff is one of the chief administrative officers in our county. It is his duty to take charge of prisoners, to oversee juries, to prevent breaches of the peace and to carry out the judgments of the County Court.

What kind of man do you want in this office?

One who is young enough and physically capable of doing the job?

One who is educated enough to understand your problems and act with reason?

One who can humbly accept the responsibility the office carries?

One who feels deeply that law enforcement is needed now as never before?

Search your mind and your conscience. Answer these questions honestly for yourself—then act. Go to the polls, May 29, and cast your vote for Jimmy "Gabe" Turner.

YOU HAVE ALREADY TRIED THE OTHER TWO FOR SHERIFF. WHY NOT GIVE A YOUNGER MAN A CHANCE, WHO IS QUALIFIED? My deputies will be of high-caliber character. No one will serve under me who has been convicted of a crime.

HAROLD A. BALDRIDGE For MAGISTRATE, DIST. 1

Vote For

May Democratic Primary.

THE MAN YOU NEED.

WHO IS YOUR MAGISTRATE?

Bill Wells has held the Magistrate's office for two terms, eight years. Some of the mud holes your children have waded through are the same mud holes that three generations have waded through.

You have been promised to have these roads repaired at election time and your parents were promised the same thing, for many elections, and after the election you have had the same thing, except it's worse for the next four years. I promise you that if elected your Magistrate, I will start with the worst first.

Now at issue is the man for the job as Magistrate for District 1. Harold Baldridge can and will give you and your problems full-time consideration. Bill Wells with a full-time job as Ř.E.A. manager in Paintsville, out of the county, has a salary so large he can't afford to take care of the Magistrate's office here in Floyd County.

Bill Wells as manager of the R.E.A. in Paintsville has an expense account to take him to various points in the world to the point that he doesn't even need the office of Magistrate. It is a disadvantage to the people to vote for him, it is to your advantage to vote for Harold Baldridge for your Magistrate—one on whom you can call any time here in your district.

The people I have seen in my campaign during the past three months in this district have told me that they have been neglected. Some say they have been promised lots of things the last election, and haven't seen Bill Wells since, and haven't had anything done since.

I, Harold Baldridge, will be in every community periodocially to see you, and have meetings to discuss your needs for roads, and any problem you might have. I have the time to do these things.

Vote for a man who can do a man's job for you, one who will and can meet with the fiscal court and bargain with the other Magistrates in the county, and distribute the tax money equally, and get your part put in the budget where you, the taxpayer, will get your share.

I ask you, the rural voter, to vote for Harold Baldridge, and the people in Prestonsburg to go out May 29th and vote for Harold Baldridge for Magistrate in Dist. No. 1 and help your friends. You'll be glad you did.

The Indians used more than 50 different kinds of herbs in treating snakebite. They lived in the days when such a thing as a snakebite kit was unknown, and there were no doctors to adminster anti-venom shots. So they had to depend on their own remedies, some of which were said to be very effective.

In the days of the Indians there were ten times more rattlesnakes in the woods than now. The redmen seldom killed a rattler, as they regarded this snake as somehow playing an important role in the All-Wise Plan of Nature. Often they stole through the forest as silent as a shadow and stepped close to a coiled rattler without being bitten. But when they made forced marches or went on long treks through the uncharted wilderness, they moved fast and sometimes plopped their moccasined feet onto a coiled snake, so many were bitten. Then the Indians called the culprit a "wicked brother" and promptly cleaved his head with a tomahawk. The poison was quickly sucked out by one of the braves and the leg was bound tightly with a thong or a wisp of long hair if available.

Few deaths from snakebite were recorded among the Indians. If the bite occurred in the spring, the victim quickly chewed the rooots of trillium, a common spring flower found over most of the U.S. It flowers are either red or white. It was said that "trillium roots could cure the bite of a rattler in either man or beast." Trillium is abundant in our region, growing along the cool banks of brooks. The plant has three large leaves, three petals, three sepals and belongs to the Lily Family.

If no trillium was handy, the Indians crushed the roots of wild parsnip and bound this on the wound "to draw out the poison." If dried tobacco leaves could be obtained, they chewed these into a poultice and bound it on the wound. If the snakebite occurred in the fall, the Indians gathered the flat, brown seeds of milkweed and boiled these to make a dressing. If skunk cabbage could be obtained, they gathered its roots to make a pulpy dressing for the bite. One of their most dependable remedies was onion poultice mixed with bear grease and bound on the wound.

The early settlers taught the Indians a new remedy for snakebite; this consisted of a dresssing soaked with kerosene (lamp oil) and bound tightly on the bite. The settlers showed the Indians how the kerosene dressing held tight to the wound

Nude Man Is Found Beaten and Robbed

(Delayed from Last Week)

RICHMOND, Ky -A Lexington man, Fred Hanks, 57, of Westminister Drive, was found beaten and robbed here

State Police Detective John Nixon said Hanks was found nude in his car on the Boggs Lane inside the Richmond city limits about 7 a.m. Friday.

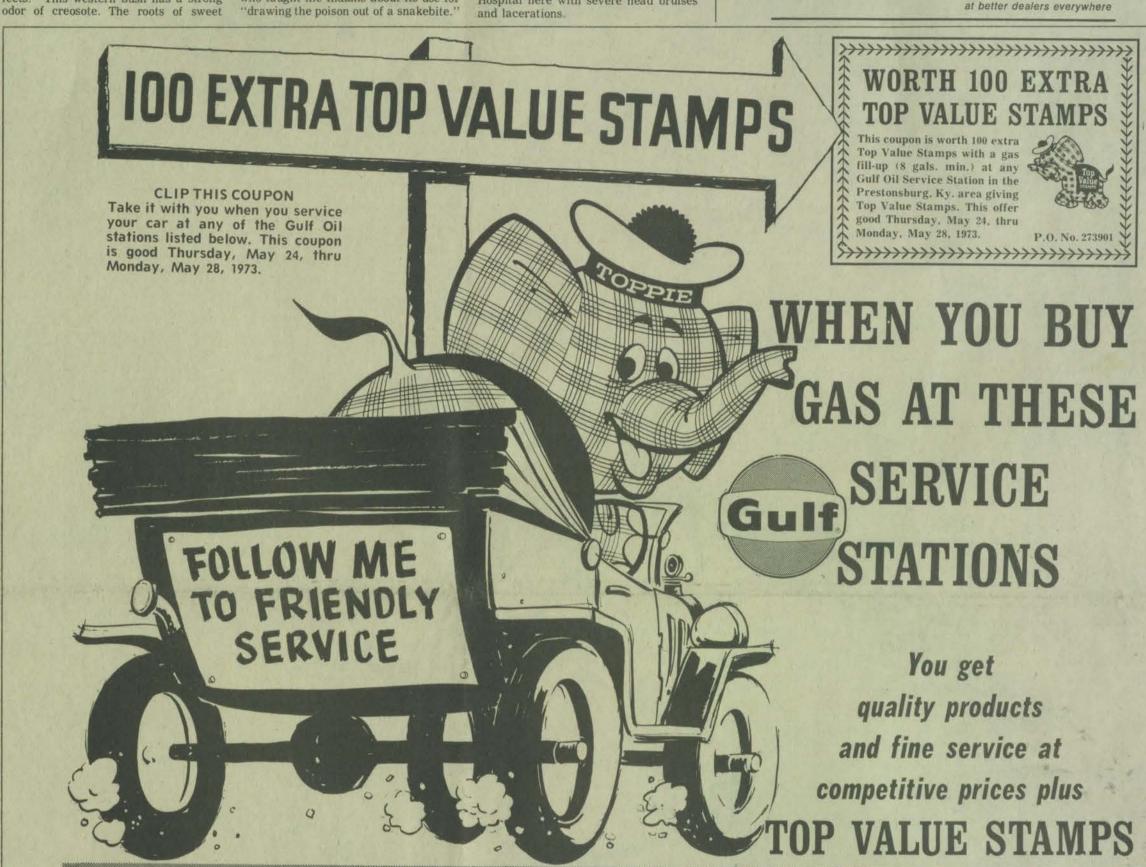

Nixon said Hanks apparently picked up two men at a service station on South Broadway in Lexington Thursday night. The two reportedly forced Hanks at gunpoint to drive them to Madison County where he was beaten and robbed of approximately $200 in cash.

Hanks told police he was in his car on Boggs Lane since 1 a.m. Friday, as well as he could remember. Nixon said the car apparently had been driven a "considerable distance" between 9 p.m. Thursday and 1 a.m. Friday

A warrant will be issued for one suspect, Nixon said.

Hanks was admitted to Pattie A. Clay Hospital here with severe head bruises and lacerations
