

Folk Festival To Feature Old 'Ways,' Music, Dances

Highlands Fest To Begin Friday, To Run 3 Days

Native singers, dancers, tale-tellers, poets, musicians and craftsmen from many parts of Kentucky, as well as from Floyd county, will be joined this weekend, Aug. 31-Sept. 2, by performers from as far away as Florida and Michigan in the eighth annual Highlands Folk Festival at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Beginning Friday evening, the three-day event will feature several different varieties of traditional Appalachian music as well as arts crafts displays, mountain dances and other products of mountain folk culture.

Friday and Saturday evening's performances, which will begin at 7, will include string bands and various individuals singing ballads, accompanied by such instruments as the fiddle, guitar, banjo, autoharp and dulcimer. Square dancers will also "clog" to the tune of lively "breakdown" and "hoe down" numbers.

Saturday afternoon, regional poets and artists will recite and display their work at a special "Poet's Corner."

The festival will be concluded by a Sunday program scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. which will feature religious music dating back to one of the earliest forms of worship demonstrated by a rhythmic choir through traditional mountain hymns, down to the music of today.

Scheduled to appear at this year's festival are banjo pickers, Buell Kazee, (See Story 2, Back Page, Sec. 1)

Weight Control Class

The Floyd County Health Department has been holding a weight control class at 7 p.m. every Tuesday in the basement of the health department building.

A public health nurse is present at each of these meetings, showing films, giving out materials, and leading exercises. The purpose of these classes are to form good eating habits in relation to weight control. Those interested in joining the weight control class should call the Floyd County Health Department at 886-2788 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Three Arrested In Liquor Cases, 2 on 'Pot' Count

Three liquor law violation arrests and the arrest of two Ohio men on a marijuana possession charge featured the work of peace officers in the county during the week.

Philman Caudill, of East McDowell, was charged with transporting intoxicants after he had been arrested at Wayland Aug. 21 by State Trooper Dennis Williamson. The trooper said he confiscated 47 cases of beer from the trunk of Caudill's auto. Caudill was booked in Magistrate Denzil Ray Hall's court. Williamson said that he had earlier arrested Caudill as a transporter and that on that occasion he found 54 cases of beer in the Caudill auto. Both cars were 1968 Pontiacs but were different in color, he added.

ABC Agent Arvel Nelson confiscated 1,992 cans of beer at 4:30 a.m. last (See Story 4, Back Page, Sec. 1)

This Town... That World

The Cynic says:

"Advice is wonderful. Take it and you can make the same mistakes everybody else does."

AND THAT'S HOW-COME

Don Music, a Floyd county expatriate who now lives in the Cincinnati area, was in for his annual visit, the other day, and heard this definition of a "Buckeye" from Jim Goble:

"An Ohioan is a Kentuckian whose car broke down on the way to Michigan."

PLAINTIVELY WE REPORT...

I am far from Pollyanna, the gladsome gal who could smile through her tears. No Allegro, I. The weight of circumstances bear down, and I have no mane to shake, no power to stomp myself free.

This matter of not knowing where the next week's supply of newsprint is coming from isn't helping. The word has got around, the daily newspapers, TV, radio and even the grapevine are bruited the sad tidings about, and acquaintances dolefully ask me if things are looking any better. All of which makes me look more the misanthrope than I really am.

Akers Sues To Halt TV Franchise Action

Bids on franchises for cable television service in several areas of this county were received last Wednesday by the Floyd fiscal court but were not opened at that time and in all probability will not be opened until a hearing is held on a complaint asking the Floyd circuit court to restrain the fiscal court from selling and issuing franchises.

The compliant asking a temporary restraining order was filed Wednesday by Everett Akers and the Akers Cable System, Inc., of Martin, which seeks to extend its services. Named as defendants were the county judge, the four magistrates comprising the fiscal court, and nine owners of cable TV systems who had submitted bids for franchises to operate exclusively in the areas which they now serve. System operators named defendants are Herman Porter, Hubert Bartley, Bertha Cole, Fred Fraley, John Campbell, James E. Allen, Fred F. Bailey, Lowell Conley and Paul Gearheart.

The temporary restraining order was served on County Judge Henry Stumbo, Friday morning. The bids were reportedly scheduled for opening and consideration by the fiscal court at its next regular meeting, Sept. 5.

The petition filed to halt court action on the franchises points out that the plaintiffs have made an investment of more than $100,000 in towers, cables and equipment and that the investment is such that they cannot make a fair, or any, return on their money unless they can expand their cable system into other communities of the county. Issuance of franchises to other cable systems would prevent that. The Akers system recently extended cables into Allen and New Allen and contracted with residents there to supply TV transmission on 12 channels and is in the process of arranging to extend service into areas presently served by other systems. The complaint points out that the other systems supply only three or four channels and that its 12 channels will be supplied at a price per channel which is substantially lower than the price charged by defendant system operators.

Plaintiffs alleged that the sale of exclusive TV franchises, as proposed, are in violation of the U. S. and Kentucky constitutions. They claim one violation lies in the fact that it impairs contracts which the plaintiffs have entered into with persons at Allen and New Allen. Constitutional violations also lie, it is claimed, in the deprivation of plaintiffs of property without due process of law.

On the later constitutional violation it is argued that:

1. Plaintiffs would be prohibited from bidding on franchises in other areas and will be completely encircled by franchised territories to the extent that they cannot expand sufficiently to operate at a profit. So encompassed by other franchised systems, it is claimed, plaintiffs would be arbitrarily deprived of the opportunity to supply service to potential customers living in the county outside the areas covered by the franchises.

2. In New Allen and other territories where plaintiffs have a television system but cannot bid on the franchise the purchaser of the franchise would acquire Akers existing facility at a price fixed by an appraiser appointed by the fiscal court and without opportunity for a hearing.

Once a Cluttered Hillside ...

Twenty-five years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stephens moved to their Westminster Street home here, this hillside was a clutter of bushes, weeds and massed honeysuckle. The photo fails to show the kaleidoscopic floral color of the scene now, but the orderly beauty of the same hillside stands as a tribute to "elbow grease" and an eye for beauty.

The hillside has been terraced, stone walls built, stone benches installed, bird baths provided, a great variety of flowers planted.

Mr. Stephens hauled river-rounded rocks from as far away as Elkhorn City, and the two worked in pouring concrete, laying stone on stone for steps and walls. The grass on the slope is hand-clipped.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens did not work to make their home a public showplace. Rather, the hours that have been devoted to the work has been their own response to a love of orderliness and beauty.

Miss Floyd County, 1973

PCC Soph Is 1973 Winner Of Miss Floyd County Crown

The dream came true Saturday night for an area young woman when she was crowned Miss Floyd County of 1973. The winner's trophy was presented to Miss Sharon O'Quinn, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lacy O'Quinn, of Garrett. She also captured the silver award for the evening in swimsuit competition.

A sophomore at Prestonsburg Community College, Miss O'Quinn was sponsored by the PCC Chess Club. At the conclusion of the evening, following evening gown, swimsuit and talent presentations, she was crowned Miss Floyd County of 1973 by Miss Miki Jane Little, of Melvin, the 1973 queen.

A record crowd was on hand at the Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre Saturday night when the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club presented its annual Miss Floyd County Scholarship Pageant. The theme of this year's pageant was, "Imperial Garden of Beauty."

Miss Benita Riley was the winner of the first runner-up trophy. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Niagara Riley, of Wheelwright, and was sponsored by the Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club.

Miss Claudia Hunter, of Prestonsburg, was the winner of the second runner-up trophy. She presented a vocal arrangement and was sponsored by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club.

Miss Patricia Flaney was the winner of the talent award in which she presented a piano selection by Chopin. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Flaney, of Allen, and was sponsored by the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce.

The hardest job of the evening was that of the panel of judges. Their assignment was to choose one winner from eight of the county's loveliest girls. The panel included Carolyn Beauchamp, of Louisville, Donald Hendrickson, of Richmond, and Vernon DeSear, of Louisville. After each phase of competition, the judges' chairman, Mrs. Roger Jurich, gave the judges' voting cards to the auditors, who tallied the votes. These auditors were Dickie Fitzpatrick and Bud Reynolds.

Master of ceremonies was Dan Rowland and guest-vocalist for the evening was Steven Hale. Organist was Mrs. Chalmer Frazier. Escorts were Ricky Davis, Willie McGuire, and Kippy McNally. Joe Kopesky was responsible for the scenery and was also lighting and sound technician; Maxine Bierman and Sharon Watson served as hair stylists.

One of the highlights of the production was a fashion show of the wardrobe which will be presented to Miss O'Quinn by several local business firms.

Miss O'Quinn's next assignment will be to prepare for the Miss Kentucky Pageant next June in Louisville, and, hopefully, for the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N. J.

TO CLOSE FOR LABOR DAY

The Floyd County Health Department will be closed Monday, September 3, in observance of Labor Day. Regular business hours will resume the following day.

Classes Begin Today In PCC's Tenth Year

Prestonsburg Community College will begin its 10th year of service to Eastern Kentucky with the beginning of classwork today (Wednesday).

Enrollment for the new semester will not be known for several days yet. The regular registration of students will continue through Thursday, and the last day to enter an organized class is Sept. 5.

As of Tuesday morning, 441 students had registered. Last year enrollment totaled 501, and Robert R. Allen, academic dean at PCC, said this year's

Plant Hope Here Rests On Building 'Reasonable' Rental Of KAI Structure Sought by Group

A clothing manufacturer's location of a plant here depends upon the so-called KAI building at West Prestonsburg becoming available through sub-lease from Irving Industries, it was said here this week.

The difficulty apparently lies in ability of the new occupant to sub-lease the building at what is regarded reasonable monthly rent.

The $30,000-a-year rent asked by an Irving official is considered exorbitant. That figure was compared this week by Ed Music, of the Prestonsburg group which built the structure to entice KAI here. Mr. Music said the rental paid by Irving Industries on a lease-purchase agreement is $1,100 a month, or $13,200 a year.

The West Prestonsburg building which was occupied by KAI was financed by 32 Prestonsburg business men in 1966. When the plant required additional space, an addition was built. But KAI closed, two years ago.

"We were glad to have KAI occupy the building, but we did not build it for its doors to be closed," Mr. Music said. "If we could get the use of the building for a few months, we could get this new plant here, and in the meantime we could build a new building, if necessary and if Irving wants to use it for manufacturing purposes."

An Irving representative came here Monday, inspected the plant structure and indicated he would recommend a reasonable rent. A decision is promised within the next 10 days.

Meanwhile, according to business leaders here, a South Carolina manufacturer is waiting a rental agreement on the building. The company has indicated it would employ 125 persons, mostly women, at first, and within two years would double that payroll.

Lake Level Drop Of 12 Feet Seen To Permit Work

When the annual drawdown of Dewey Lake is made this fall, the reservoir level will be dropped 12 feet instead of the usual 15, George Barker, Jenny Wiley State Park superintendent, said this week.

The drawdown of an additional seven feet will be made, beginning Nov. 1, mainly to permit the laying of water line from the Auxier Water System to the Goble Branch camping area now under construction and, in the other direction, to the U. S. Corps of Engineers' installations at Dewey Dam.

But the drawdown will serve another purpose, too, Mr. Barker said. It will permit dredging to be done in the Jenny Wiley boat dock area where boats sometimes run aground in shallow water created by the normal fall letdown of the water level by five feet.

Except for the dock building, the wooden section of Jenny Wiley dock will be completely rebuilt, the park manager said. Bids will be received from contractors on the job. Mr. Barker said he also hopes to have 25 additional slips ready by next spring for houseboats for a total of 50.

He also said he can see no reason that the Goble Branch camping area completion will not be completed in time for next season's camping. "If it isn't, I am going to be badly disappointed," he added.

The contract on water service to the area has already been delayed beyond the scheduled Aug. 1 date, however. Letting of the contract on the sewage treatment plant and utilities is scheduled for Oct. 1.

registration is expected to exceed that.

A second nursing class is being opened at the college this year, and 81 student-nurses will be in the 1973-74 program. The first nursing class graduation will be next May.

Mr. Allen said students who register after Wednesday of this week should apply at the admissions office in the Johnson Administration Building.

New faculty-members and additions to the faculty will be announced shortly, it was said.

Council To Seek Volunteer Leaders

A drive to increase the number of Girl Scout volunteer leaders in Floyd and the other 56 counties of the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council will get under way September 4.

Goal of the drive - part of a nationwide Girl Scout effort - will be to find and train enough adult volunteers so that every girl six through seventeen who wants to become a Scout will be able to do so.

The campaign is being headed by Mrs. Mary E. Birenbaum, Lexington, and will be coordinated on a local level by leaders in each of the Council's 57 counties.

The drive, she noted, is particularly significant at this time since the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. recently lowered the membership age from 7 to 6, making a great number of first-graders eligible to wear the Brownie uniform.

Kentucky fire-fighters, 156 in all, have been planned for Boise, Idaho to aid fire-fighting efforts in six Western states.

What Must I Do To Be Saved?

1. Matthew, Mark, Luke and John give the life of Christ, or the evidence that He is the Saviour, and the only Saviour. "These are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name" (John 20:31).

2. The Book of Acts tells how to become a Christian. Especially chapters, 2, 8, 9, 10 and 16 answer this question.

3. The Epistles or letters are books of instruction on living the Christian life.

4. Revelation tells us to be faithful to death, that we may inherit the crown of life.

Difficulties Cleared Up
 We have clearly given the Scriptural answers to the question asked. However, if one reads the chapters in Acts on becoming a Christian, he will find that not always is the same answer given. Let this confuse some, we clear it up here. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Acts. 16:31). And, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you" (Acts 2:38), will illustrate. Remember that these did not represent the same condition. Those who did not yet believe were told to believe, which was the next step for them. Those who did believe were not told to believe, but to repent and be baptized, which would be the next step and a proper answer for them.

The State Insurance Department has approved a plan of the Insurance Services Office of Kentucky which will result in an overall 10 percent decrease in private passenger automobile insurance rates. More than one-half of the automobile liability and physical damage insurance written in Kentucky is placed through companies who are affiliates of ISO.

Part-Time Teacher, Part-Time
 Avon Lady, Fulltime Missionary

Anne England Tackett will be 79 years old, Friday (Aug. 24), and she has much to celebrate. The blithe McDowell woman counts among her blessings the satisfactions of successfully raising four children on her own, educating hundreds more in her 33-year teaching career, and of caring and contributing to the lives of hundreds of families through her dedication to her church.

A retired teacher, she is still going strong despite a pin in her hip from an accident two years ago. Until then, she was still teaching part-time, dedicating spare hours and week-ends to her church and continuing her present occupation as the community's independent Avon representative.

This second career shoe fits Anne Tackett to a "T" because she has always been in someone's doorway visiting, helping neighbors, adding beauty to their lives. She has been a top "Avon Lady" nearly 40 years, winning nearly every special award for managing the business of selling its products. Not long after she broke her hip, she was back in the top 10 percent of her district in sales.

"Avon has been helpful," says Mrs. Tackett. "It has helped keep me young. I may be growing old in years, but I'm young at heart. I've enjoyed meeting so many good people, understanding them, knowing what they expect of me as their representative."

It's never been easy for Anne. At age 10 she lost her father and spent her early childhood helping her mother take care of the four younger children. She lost two husbands and raised her own four children with a rugged independence that has become her trademark. At 19 she took her first teaching job in a one-room school at Orkney. She taught 76 children, first through eighth grades, with a large, pot-bellied stove for heat.

At 32 she went back to school in order to keep her teaching credentials. To get to the school in time to register, she walked several miles in a rainstorm, with her two small sons. She completed the required years of high school and two years of college work, taught one year and moved to McDowell for three more decades of full-time teaching.

Along the way, she has given endlessly of her time and heart. Countless church associations, picnics and benefit dinners have gained from her continual service and cooking talents. She has always been available to help when tragedy befalls a family in her church of community.

STUDENT INVOLVEMENT

A survey of 6,156 Maryland high school students reports that students want to become more involved in areas relating to student discipline and grievances, and that their goal is school improvement, not personal power. The report also makes recommendations for student involvement.

Memorial To Honor Late Jesse Elliott

The Betsy Layne United Methodist Church will hold its 1973 homecoming fellowship and a memorial dedication service for the late Jesse Elliott, Sunday, Sept. 2. The following program is planned:

Morning workshop service at 11:30, basket dinner on church lawn at 12:30, Memorial dedication service at 2:30. All former members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from The Floyd County Times, 20, 30 and 40 years ago)

Twenty Years Ago

(September 3, 1953)

The homefolks marched here last Saturday in honor of Sgt. Raymond Shepherd, the first Kentuckian to be repatriated in the prisoner exchange at Freedom Village, Korea. They marched again Sunday to honor Cpl. Fred Obroff on his return after 27 months a prisoner, then on Monday afternoon here Cpl. Charles Ray Boyd, the first Prestonsburg prisoner of war, was likewise honored. . . . Floyd school people moved this week toward an election fight by which they hope to pile up a big vote for amendment of Section 186 of the State Constitution and thus effect a Minimum Foundation Program. . . . Otis Blankenship, 28, was killed at Manton by a rifle shot Saturday night. . . . Robert Gordon Carr, 19, of Knoxville, Tennessee, Sunday became the seventh person to drown in Dewey Lake. . . . Sixteen-year-old David Allen scored a 98 in the National Casting Tournament at Toledo, Ohio, Sunday afternoon in the three-eighths-ounce accuracy division. With his 96 in the five-eighths division he tied for top overall score and won a place on the All-American bait-casting team. . . . The Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr., successor to the Rev. L. W. Benedict as pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, arrived here this week from Lexington and will preach his first sermon from the local pulpit next Sunday. . . . The Methodist Conference, meeting last week, named the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey pastor of the First Methodist Church here to succeed the Rev. G. M. Haggard. . . . The Rev. Joe Combs, of Springfield, Missouri, has been named pastor of the Church of God at West Prestonsburg and Martin, succeeding the Rev. Vernon Wright. . . . There died: G. A. "Uncle George" May, 88, of Langley, Thursday at a Martin hospital; Mrs. Josie Conley Dotson, 72, formerly of this county Friday at Ivyton; John Stratton, 77, Tuesday at Banner; Palmer Williams 32, of McDowell, Sunday at at Paintsville hospital.

Thirty Years Ago

(September 2, 1943)

The Floyd County Board of Education has given rural school teachers a $10 pay raise, plus an additional $5 "allowance" which will cover travel expenses, and extra duties, such as janitor work, that rural teachers are often required to do themselves. . . . Instead of taking a holiday on Labor Day, approximately 60,000 miners in the Big Sandy and Hazard coal fields have made it known that they are willing to work Labor Day "to help win the war". . . . The disappearance from the Floyd Circuit Court Clerk's office, August 22, of three election contest petitions this week remained a mystery to officials investigating the case. . . . The War Department announced last week that Pvt. Jesse Erskine, 23, of Glo, had been killed in recent fighting in the southwest Pacific. . . . Lieut. Burr P. Hereford, Jr., formerly of Cliff, who had been missing since June when his Flying Fortress was shot down over Europe, was reported last week as a prisoner in a German prison camp. . . . Miss Frances Amburgy began work Wednesday as Floyd county's first home demonstration agent. . . . County police destroyed a four-barrel copper moonshine still on the head of Little Mud Creek, Monday night. . . . Born: to Pfc. and Mrs. James F. Spurlock, of Prestonsburg, a son, James Thomas Spurlock, Jr., August 26, at the Paintsville hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. John Pennington, of Lancer, a daughter. . . . There died: A. L. Turner, 54 years old, at his home on Turkey Creek, Thursday; Ronald Lee Little, one year old, of Hi Hat, Tuesday, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin.

Forty Years Ago

(September 1, 1933)

Jimmy Crawford, 13-year-old Clear Creek boy who had been a prisoner in a corn crib at the hands of his parents for months, was adjudged insane last Thursday and was taken to the Institute for the Feeble Minded at Frankfort. . . . George Leake, 39 years old, was fatally injured Friday evening when his car collided with a truck near his home on Little Paint. . . . Telsie Akers, 22, died in the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, Saturday evening as the result of a knife wound in his abdomen. . . . Isadore Johnson, of Melvin, ill and on his way to see a physician, was killed late Tuesday as he walked, head down, too close to the railroad tracks and was struck by the Left Beaver passenger train. . . . J. M. Whitt, Jr., 10-year-old Garrett boy, died Tuesday morning in the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, from the effects of a bullet wound in his abdomen. . . . Trapped beneath a ton and a half of slate inside a country "coal bank, Isaac Sammons, 19, was crushed to death near his home on Arkansas Creek, Friday. . . . Married: Miss May Stevens, of West Prestonsburg, and Mr. Richard Grey, of Bull Creek, Friday; Miss Nellie Hayes, and Mr. John D. Morris, formerly of Maytown, at Shelby, Kentucky. . . . Born: to Mr. and Mrs. James Hyden, of Maytown, a son, at the Beaver Valley hospital. . . . There died: Mrs. Lizzie Justice Elkins, 55, at her home on Town Branch, August 23.

Interlocken Group Finds Area "Not As Bad Off" As Painted

Pippa Passes, Ky.—About 68 high school students, mostly from New York City, Long Island and Boston, visited Alice Lloyd College last week as part of a summer-long tour of America. With 14 leaders, they spent the week visiting settlement schools, strip mines, underground mines, ALCOR centers and coal towns. . . . While on campus they were given opportunities to do mountain arts and crafts and attend Our Appalachia Day activities. Maung Ba Win, the Burmese leader of the group, said that the purpose of the tour, called Crossroads America, sponsored by the Interlocken Summer Camp in Hillsboro Upper Village, New Hampshire, is to combine a traveling vacation with an educational experience. "Before I came here," said Lowell Gallin, a high school senior from White Plains, New York, "my ideas about Appalachia were a watery and meager concoction based on 'The Beverly Hillbillies' (TV show) and 'Lil' Abner' (the comic strip.) Then, when I started doing some reading to prepare for the trip, I read that the people of Appalachia were downtrodden. Well, I found out that Appalachia is definitely part of the 20th century and that the people who live here are proud and educated, and that they aren't as bad off as some writers would let you believe." Interlocken also operates Crossroads Tours to Great Britain, France, Scandinavia, and a combined tour of Japan and Korea, said Ban Win. The 82 members of the Crossroads America tour left Boston June 30, and are scheduled to return there August 26. The group travels in seven Chevrolet vans. Each van carries camping equipment, food, supplies, five boys, five girls and two leaders, Ba Win said. . . . Between the scheduled stops, the 12 members of each van-group are free to travel wherever they please. Sometimes the group stays at camp sites in state and national parks. Interlocken has also made arrangements with farmers across the country for Interlocken groups to camp on their property in exchange for work, said Ban Win. . . . At Alice Lloyd College, the group spent time beautifying the campus, and helped clean up after Our Appalachia Day. "We want the tour to be more than a vacation experience. We want it to be an opportunity to see and meet different kinds of people in different parts of the country," said Ba Win. . . . "We also try to avoid the places where tourists usually go, for two reasons. First, because their parents can take them there anyway. Second, because when you visit the regular tourist places, you tend to only meet other tourists, rather than the people of the area." . . . Too many farmers fail to use safety precautions when they use pesticides. Extension entomologists at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture warn that there is great danger when mixing or diluting these poison concentrates. They urge farmers to be very careful not to get pesticide on their skin or in their eyes and to avoid breathing the fumes.

Floyd County 4-H Club Members Win At State Fair

Aged, Blind, Disabled To Get Supplemental Income Payments

The Prestonsburg social security office is now taking applications for supplemental security income payments, a federal program scheduled to start in 1974 which will establish an income floor for people in financial need, who are 65 or over, or blind, or disabled, according to Fred Reffett, social security manager. . . . But people already getting state old-age assistance, or state aid because they are blind or disabled, do not have to apply, he said. They'll be getting more information later this year about how the program will help them. . . . "The first monthly payments under the federal program will be made in January, 1974," Reffett said. "Until then, state and local public assistance offices will continue to make payments in the usual way." . . . People not getting public assistance now who think they may be eligible for the new federal payments should call or write social security to find out if they should apply, according to Reffett. . . . "Federal supplemental security income payments will be made by the Social Security Administration," Reffett said. "But the program will be financed by federal general revenues—not by social security contributions from workers and employers. It's not the same as social security."

The aim of the new program is to provide supplemental payments in cases of need so that people 65 or over, or the blind or disabled will have a basic cash income of at least $130 a month for one person and $195 a month for a couple. . . . "This doesn't mean that every eligible person or couple will be getting that much from the federal government every month," Reffett said. "The amount of the federal payment any person gets will depend on how much other income he has. "Eligibility for federal payments will depend not only on the amount of income people have but on the value of their assets." . . . "If you're single—or married but not living with your husband or wife—you can own things worth up to $1,500 and still get federal payments," he said. "A couple can own things worth up to $2,250 and get payments. Not everything you own has to be counted toward your total assets, however." . . . A home of reasonable value will not be counted as an asset, Reffett said. In addition, the federal government will not put liens on the homes of people getting federal payments. Personal effects and household goods will not count in most cases. Insurance policies or a car may not effect eligibility either, but it will depend on their value. . . . Certain income also will be disregarded in deciding on an application for supplemental security income. The first $20 a month of income generally won't affect the federal payment at all, Reffett said. . . . "In addition, people who are working part time should know that the first $65 a month of earnings will not be included in

ASK VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

The Pineville School Board has decided to apply to the State Department of Education for approval of its application for funds for a vocational school building. Supt. Robert Strickland noted that the school would include vocational nursing and home economics. If the application is approved by the State Department of Education, it will be forwarded to various state and federal funding agencies.

With Less Than 30 Days Left, Reregistration Still Lagging

Frankfort, Ky.—If reregistration continues at its current pace some 100,000 voters in Kentucky may be ineligible to cast a ballot in the November election.

As of July 31 the computer showed only 684,427 Kentucky voters on the rolls. Secretary of State Thelma Stovall has estimated the final total at 1.2 million. The deadline is September 24.

Mrs. Stovall says that since August 1 the total has risen approximately 800,000 with reregistration continuing at about the same pace as in July when 179,424 reregistrations were recorded.

Although counties in the state reported, 1,454,575 voters on the rolls as of last year's primary date, it is not expected that figure will be reached. Many counties have not had a complete purging of voter rolls for some time and the reregistration is automatically performing this duty.

Mrs. Stovall made special reference to two counties, Jefferson and Wolfe. In Jefferson county the computer reported only 10,079 registrants as of July 31 where 237,711 were registered May 23, 1972. The secretary of state said that Jefferson's figure will now exceed 80,000 in the computer and the clerk there has reported over 206,000 reregistered.

Mrs. Stovall said on a recent visit to Wolfe county she saw a number of registration cards being checked before submission to the State Board of Elections office. These now have been received but were not in time to be included in the July 31 report.

In addition to Jefferson and Wolfe, 26 counties show less than 50 percent reregistration completed.

Only two counties report more voters now than as of May 23, 1972. Bullitt and Mason county figures are above the previous records.

Less than 1,000 more registrations are needed to bring seven counties up to the 1972 figure. These are Bourbon, Carlisle, Clark, Fleming, Lyon, Montgomery and Nicholas.

Reregistration of all Kentucky voters was ordered by the 1972 Kentucky legislature. Computerization of the voter lists has virtually eliminated the purging problem—since changes such as death, failure to vote, and changes of address will automatically kick out the disqualified voter when the proper time arrives. The only reports that will need to be made to keep the registers updated will be name changes or address changes within a county, and reregistration when changing counties.

The computer list will be provided, precinct by precinct, to each clerk prior to each election. For the first time, a complete record of all Kentucky voters will be on file at the State Board of Elections office.

BUILDING LOTS—75x150-ft. Meadow View Estates and Frasure-Hill Estates. Cable TV, school bus by door.
Three miles to Prestonsburg High and Central schools. Restrictions: No mobile homes or brick veneer. Your home will be completed, $23,500 and up.

DUPLEX—2 story apartments, each containing 2 bedrooms, kitchen-dining room, large living room. Downstairs completely furnished, kitchen upstairs fully furnished, and two air-conditioners to stay. Located on Highland Ave., within sight of both grade and high school, and within walking distance of the college. Live in one while the other helps pay for both. Possession immediately.

THIS IS THE ONE you've dreamed about—City conveniences in a country setting on a rolling 3/4-acre, with drilled well (plenty water) and pump house. Tri-level, largely brick, with 2-car garage and full basement (opening out on ground level in front). Four bedrooms, large kitchen (complete with dishwasher and garbage disposal), large TV room, extra large living room with open fireplace, fully carpeted with high quality, plenty closet space, all outside doors are sliding type to conserve space, custom tailored drapes and curtains and drapes. Stays with house: Large drapes, garbage disposal, dish washer, cook top stove and double oven, TV system (including line, antennae, boosters). Located on Little paint, approx. 5 1/2 miles from Prestonsburg, on school bus route.

ALMOST NEW, and looks it inside and out. Three-bedroom, 1 1/2 ceramic baths, large kitchen, dining room and living room. Nice rolling lawn with beautiful quality shrubbery on 150-ft. lot with drilled well, pump house and storage. House paneled throughout, fully carpeted, fully insulated, wall electric heat with individual thermostats. Located on State Road Fork, approx. 1/2 mile from Mt. Parkway.

INVESTMENT PROPERTY in New Allen. Two A-1, 2-bedroom apartments, kitchen, dining room, large living room, fully carpeted and paneled, nice large bathrooms. Also, two garages and wash, grease or paint room, one currently occupied—other with floor hoist and shelving for rent: The two apts. and one garage now generating $420 per month. This one will pay for itself while you live in one of the nice apts. and collect your rent.

THREE-BEDROOM HOME—Two full baths, large kitchen (with cabinets), dining room, living room, small entrance room, nicely paneled, all carpeted except double carport in front with brick part way up, metal paint, panel electric heat, drilled well, concrete block foundation. Located 4 1/2 miles from Prestonsburg on Right Middle Creek near Clark Elementary school, with private bridge. Containing some 15 acres with the most complete privacy one could desire.

THREE-BEDROOM HOME—Two large bedrooms, one medium, large living room with built-in book cases, large bath room and linen closet, carport, patio with double gas or charcoal grill. House plumbed for washer and dryer, wall-to-wall carpet, completely redecorated, fully insulated—walls and ceiling, central heat and air, located in New Allen. Immediate possession.

BUSINESS PROPERTY—Three-bedroom home, three apartments, two fully-furnished, one partly-furnished. Business property has been occupied by same tenants for fourteen years. Income (without dwelling) approximately $3600.00. Tenant waiting list for apts. Ideal for home with income property on same lot. Located in Martin, Ky. Seen by appointment only.

FOUR-BEDROOM, 2-STORY BRICK. Corner Westminister and Carter, Prestonsburg. Inclosed garage one side, nice driveway other side—parking for four cars off street. 1 1/2 baths, small basement with shelving, hot water tank, etc. Large living room, fireplace, dining room or TV room connecting. Fully carpeted. Located in one of best sections of town. High quality furniture, most of which can be bought from present owner. Curtains and drapes (except sheer) to stay.

THREE-BEDROOM BRICK. Two full bathrooms, large living room with built-in bookcase. Compact kitchen—built-in cabinets, floor and wall, extra large dining—family room. All fully carpeted. Two utility bldgs. in rear—one wood, one metal. Nice patio. Dishwasher, refrigerator and stove to stay. Located on dead end street adjoining well-kept city property.

THREE-BEDROOM BRICK. Garage, large living room—dining room. Nice kitchen with built-in cabinets, large pantry, large utility room that can double for bedroom. Space, extra wide entrance doors. Attic completely finished. Room 12'x16', balance 38'x12' for storage. No. 1 oak floors. No. 1 pine. On lot 105'x770', surrounded by waist-high concrete block fence. Nice shrubbery. Located in Wheelwright near churches and schools.

Three TV Channels for 20 Years . . .

NOW?

If cable systems are franchised, as proposed, on August 22, no provision would be made requiring more than the present three channels.

If franchises are not granted and the TV subscriber is left free to choose the cable service which would bring programs into his or her home, all cable systems will seek to improve their services—and Akers Cable System can give them 12 channels now.

The Public Needs To Consider and Be Considered!

AKERS CABLE SYSTEM OFFERS MANY ADVANTAGES:

- ★ More Variety—12 Channels.
- ★ The Sharpest Black and White and Truest Color On All Channels.
- ★ Programs from All Three Networks—NBC, CBS, ABC.
- ★ Two Educational Channels.
- ★ Local Weather Channel From Martin.
- ★ Three Lexington Stations.
- ★ Kentucky News & Sports Events.

NOW YOU HAVE A CHOICE!

Akers Cable System Provides the Following 12 Channels:

WBLG, Lexington, Ky.; WHAS, Huntington, W. Va.; WHIS, Bluefield, W. Va.; Weather Station, Local origination, Martin, Ky.; WKYH, Hazard, Ky.; WLEX, Lexington, Ky.; WCHS, Charleston, W. College To Offer Real Estate Study

Prestonsburg Community College will offer two real estate classes during the fall semester.

Real Estate Principles I, with three credit hours, will be a general introduction to real estate as a business and as a profession, designed to acquaint the student with the wide range of subjects necessary to the practice of real estate. Real Estate Finance, also with three credit hours, is designed to acquaint the student with the important role that real estate financing plays in community development; the financial instruments that are used in transactions involving real estate; the nature of financial institutions that are an integral part of the mortgage market, and how the mortgage market is influenced by government policy.

The first class meeting for these courses will be Monday, September 10. Registration will be held Monday, August 27 from 6 until 9 p.m. in the Martin Student Center.

NO BOOM FOR TEACHERS

The number of surplus teachers in the U.S. may grow to one million by 1978, according to a new federal report. The report also states that one teacher in three may have to seek a job elsewhere. However, the report predicts another teacher shortage within 15 years.

SUBMITS BARGAINING BILL

KEA, in conjunction with a number of other public employee groups, has drafted a bill calling for mandatory collective bargaining for all public employees (includes teachers). The new bill was presented to the Interim Committee on Labor and Industry in Frankfort on August 15.

DISMISSAL UPHELD

The Lewiston, Montana Board of Education has been upheld in its dismissal of a probationary teacher without honoring the teacher's request for a hearing. The U.S. District Court in Montana ruled that the 14th amendment does not deny a board the right, in the interest of creating a better teaching staff, to dismiss a probationary teacher without a hearing.

The Broad Form Deed

By HENRY P. SCALF

A native mountaineer, who is a pilot, often flies from the mid-West over Eastern Kentucky to Virginia. As he looks down on the scarred and devastated hills he remarks to either himself or a passenger: "I'm back home again."

"Home," a few years ago and on back into time, was a sylvan sweep of giant trees, their pea-green verdure enclosing meadows or edging the pencil-like streams. The first settlers came, hacked and cleared at the forest but did little to impair the panorama of rolling beauty.

Came the Civil War and a few of the more observant Union soldiers looked at the small coal mine openings the landowners had gouged out to provide fuel. One soldier in blue, marvelling at the great seams of coal, was R. M. Broas.

The war ended but Broas could not forget the vast mineral riches of East Kentucky and he spent much time in the ante-rooms of offices of bankers and capitalists in Boston, New York and Pittsburg, pleading for backers to finance proposed explorations. In 1881 Broas found a man in Toledo, Ohio who had heard of the coal at the confluence of the Tug and Big Sandy, near the present Louisa. His backer, one of the Walbridge family, sent Broas there. Broas reported the coal in the section was of no great value. Walbridge began to lose interest in Eastern Kentucky, and Broas went searching for a new source of financial aid. He found Nathaniel Stone Simpkins, of Boston.

Broas heard of the vast coal seams in the upper reaches of the Big Sandy, especially on Elkhorn Creek. Simpkins ordered Broas to explore the area. Moving deeper into the mountains with a party, one of whom was Judge John F. Hager of Ashland, Broas constructed coke ovens to test what Hager called the "King of Coal Seams." It was fine coking coal, Broas, who had a scientific education, concluded. Prof. A. R. Crandall, of the University of Kentucky, who was surveying mineral possibilities in the mountains, came to the Broas camp on Elkhorn Creek. Broas, Hager and Crandall talked long into the nights. This coal had to be brought to the attention of the "outside" world, they agreed. To do so, they constructed a huge, wooden sled, loaded it with coal and, drawing it with oxen, dragged it to Pikeville. There it was put on a steamboat and shipped to Louisville where it was exhibited at the Southern Exposition.

The elderly Simpkins died and for awhile Broas was without a backer but John Simpkins, a nephew, evinced a casual interest in the Elkhorn coal field and agreed to finance Broas. Finally, having accumulated all the data he wanted, Broas reported. He found John Simpkins had lost interest.

No amount of argument could get John Simpkins to resume interest. At one time Broas told him: "This coal field is one of the richest in the world and it can be bought for a song." Simpkins shook his head and Broas, disheartened but still determined, went ahead, acquiring as much acreage as his limited finances would permit.

A new man now entered the scene. He was John C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville. At first Mayo was wholly without any resources except intelligence, vision and determination. By 1890 he had acquired 30,000 acres of coal. That year, he met the disheartened Broas. The next years, he bought the pioneer prospector out at a low price.

Mayo haunted the offices of northern capitalists for years and finally they began to get interested. Companies were formed and thousands of acres in Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Pike and Letcher counties were bought. Mayo was on his way to riches and the Big Sandy Valley by the first decade of the Twentieth Century was on the threshold of an exploitative industrial boom.

Basis of this vast alienation of coal lands from the uneducated and sometimes simple mountaineers was what came to be called the Broad Form Deed. This deed was the product of an attorney's office in Pittsburg. It is one of the most remarkable of instruments. On signing it, the grantors were to bind themselves and their posterity into a legal straight-jacket from which there was no escape. The late Attorney S. C. Ferguson, of Prestonsburg said, "The only right left the landowner is the right to breathe unless it bothers the company."

Armed with blank deeds, agents of the coal companies spread out all over Eastern Kentucky. Mainly the landowner was offered 50 cents per acre, which he was willing to accept except in Greenback currency. That kind of money had been in ill-repute in the mountains since early post-Revolutionary days, for money of the Continental Congress became so depreciated as to be practically worthless. Memory of that paper money became part of the lore of the descendants of the War for Independence and they looked with suspicion on all paper money. The Civil War aggravated this suspicion, too, for many a man with Southern sympathies found himself holding a roll of worthless Confederate bills. The mountaineer may have been uneducated, but he had a long folk memory. He had to have the total purchase price in gold.

Typical of this distrust of greenbacks was that evinced by Harvey W. Stratton and his wife, Phoebe. She was the daughter of John Sellards, a pioneer Floyd countian, veteran Indian fighter and Virginia militiaman. He had passed on to his daughter stories of paper money that "was not worth a continental." Too, Mrs. Stratton had lived through the Civil War and her knowledge of the worthlessness of paper money was personal. She shook her head when offered currency. The land agent went away, returned with his saddlebags in which he carried gold coins. When he returned Mrs. Stratton was sitting on the porch, industriously churning. The land agent dumped $300 in gold in her lap and said: "There, Aunt Phoebe, is what I'll give you for your 600 acres of coal." What she and her husband sold later became the major part of the vast tract mined by the Pike-Floyd Coal Company at Betsy Layne. As an after-thought, the Strattons reserved three acres for domestic coal. Their heirs later sold this minuscule acreage for $150 per acre.

Gold posed a problem for the land agents, especially in isolated sections of Floyd, Knott, Pike and Letcher counties, for lawlessness was rampant in many valleys. For a saddlebag full of coins a Civil-War-bred outlaw would cut throats without compunction. One land purchasing company in Pittsburg wrote the late Walter S. Harkins not to allow, under any circumstances, purchasers to travel up Beaver Creek without a companion who was armed. "A considerable quantity of gold coin would be tempting to many," the official wrote.

Some of the "broad form deeds" were especially vicious with legal pitfalls, especially in Southeastern Kentucky. Many contained a stipulation that the unpaid remainder of the purchase price would be paid when the landowner had his land surveyed, platted and a copy delivered to the grantee. Since most landowners had no exact knowledge of their acreage, this was necessary so that the remaining purchase price could be calculated. So the buyer said. However, the years went by, the grantor neglected to have his land surveyed and platted. He was in for a rude awakening. The coal companies came, surveyed with their own engineers, and platted with their own draftsmen. A typical case was the owner of 100 acres he had sold for 50 cents an acre of $50. He was paid $15 down. The company, having surveyed and platted, calculated the expense of doing so much more than the remaining purchase price. In scores of cases the landowner had now lost the 100 acres except for the initial payment of $15 and with the presentation of a bill he found he owed the grantee much in excess of the remaining $35 due him. This tricky deed wrought havoc in Perry and Breathitt counties. In Perry the infamous feud between the Frenches and Eversoles was mainly caused by this unsavory stipulation. More than 100 men died in Perry county alone as the result of that feud.

Typical of the broad form deeds is the following Floyd county sample of what was conveyed:

"The Coal, Stone, Iron, Fire Clay, Pottery Clay and all metal and mineral substances and the oil gas, salt, and mineral waters and all the subterranean products in, upon and under the tract of land hereinafter described, together with full power and right to enter upon said land and remove therefrom the coal, stone, iron, fire clay, pottery clay, mineral, metal, ores and mineral substances, the oil, gas, salt, mineral waters and subterranean products thereon and thereunder, including the rights of way, and the rights to construct, maintain and keep in repair and operate any and all railroads, tramways haul roads, canals, waterways, coke ovens or dams or pipe lines deemed necessary or convenient by the party of the second part his heirs, vendors and assigns to remove said products from said land as well as to remove the products taken from or out of any other land owned by the party of the second part, his heirs, vendors and assigns, or from any land which they may hereafter acquire, also the right to erect and maintain upon said land hereinafter described and to alter repair and remove all houses, shops, buildings, tanks, derricks, stables, hotel, store and warehouses by the second party deemed necessary or expedient for the cheap and successful operation, removal, conversions and reduction of the products in and under said land hereby conveyed.

"Whereas the said party of the first part expressly reserves the timber upon said land and the use of the land for agricultural purposes so far as the latter is consistent with the rights hereby granted to the party of the second part."

Toll Road Use Up In July But Four Show Revenue Loss

Frankfort, Ky., August 16—Kentucky's Department of Transportation announced today that toll receipts on the state's 10 toll roads totaled more than $2 million for the month of July.

The total revenue collected on all 10 roads last month was $2,104,088. This compares with $1,941,163 collected during the same period in 1972, although four showed decreases in revenues. Receipts on each toll road for last month as compared to July, 1972 follows: Kentucky Turnpike, $812,730, down from $825,710 for July, 1972; Shawneetown Bridge, $36,656, down from $38,081; Mountain Parkway, $200,312, down from $201,058; Western Kentucky Parkway, $348,551, down from $354,403; Blue Grass Parkway, $230,787, up from $229,234; Pennyrite Parkway, $48,827, up from $47,602; Sebree Bridge, $4,465, down from $4,467; Audubon Parkway, $53,133, up from $30,800; Daniel Boone Parkway, $23,623, up from $20,880; the Green River Parkway, which was opened in December, 1972 collected $144,174 for July, 1973; and the Cumberland Parkway, opened in February, 1973, collected $27,477 last month.

Boggs-Conley Vows Solemnized

Miss Sharon Rosalind Boggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Boggs, of Garrett, and Mr. Michael O'Neal Conley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Conley, of Martin, were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony conducted July 27 at the Hueysville Church of Christ, with Bill Ford the officiating minister.

The altar was decorated with a lighted brass archway with spiral candelabra and baskets of pink and white mums and daisies.

Nuptial music was provided by the pianist, Alicia Mayo, and soloist, Joan Chaffins. Songs included "Twelfth of Never" and "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Boggs, of West Liberty, Ky., wore a white, floor-length gown of French voile with venise lace and pink satin ribbon accentuating the ruffled cuffed bishop sleeves, high ruffled neck, and the A-line skirt with double ruffled hem. The empire bodice was re-embroidered with matching lace and pink satin flowerettes, with a detachable chapel train trimmed to match the wedding dress. Her cathedral veil of illusion was fashioned from imported silk net, matching scalloped venise lace and pink satin laced ribbon, and was held in place with a mid-Victorian lace and ribbon torseau. Miss Boggs carried a nosegay of white and pink rose buds adorned with ivy and pearls.

Miss Bonnie Castle, of Hueysville, bridesmaid, and the flower girl, little Miss Robin Roope, of Wayland, wore identical gowns, and Miss Castle carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white daisies while the flower girl a white lace flower basket with rose petals and daisies.

Miss Boggs' maid of honor, Miss Sharon K. Ridener, of Estill, wore a dacron and polyester organza gown of palest pink, accented at the waist and square neckline with delicate cotton venise lace, short, puffed sleeves, flowing A-line skirt with double ruffled hem.

Salyersville Plant Expansion Planned; To Add 50 Workers

Continental Conveyor & Equipment Company is expanding its Salyersville plant after two years of operation there, it was announced last week by Mickey McCaleb, vice-president in charge of manufacturing and manager of the Magoffin county operation.

Equipment has arrived to begin work on an addition to the present 32,000-square-foot plant which will almost double the working area and put a total of 15 acres under roof. A portion of the addition, however, will be used as a storage area, with only a roof over blacktop surfacing.

More workers will be needed, McCaleb said—about 50, initially. Currently, 105 are employed, all but three of whom are Magoffin countians.

The company manufacturers conveyors and components for above or below ground installation. Underground installations is a major part of its work. Most of the equipment is sold in eastern Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and Ohio, McCaleb said.

"Prospects for additional business in all divisions indicate that sales for 1973 will show continued improvement," said Nelson J. Kemp, chairman of the board and company president. In 1968, net sales of Continental Conveyor totaled $14 million and in 1972 net sales were $30 million.

Continental Conveyor established its plant in Salyersville at a critical period in the town after a camper manufacturing firm moved out.

The ringbearer was Fred Ridener, Jr., of Estill. Best man was the brother of the groom, Jeffrey Conley and ushers included Terry Kinzer, of Pikeville, Joe Howard, Jr., of Martin, and James S. Stout, of Martin.

The mother of the bride chose for her daughter's wedding a pink polyester street-length dress with wrist-length sleeves, white roll collar, covered buttons and white piping trim accentuating the skirt. She wore a shoulder corsage of white orchids tied with white net and gold lace ribbon.

The groom's mother wore a semi-fitted A-line street length dress with jewel necklace, short sleeves and gored bodice in heaven blue polyester. She carried a white bag with matching shoes and jewelry and her shoulder corsage consisted of white rosebuds bedded in aquanet and tied with silver ribbon lace.

A reception was held in the upstairs of the church following the ceremony.

The young couple will be at home to their friends at Martin after a honeymoon through the South.

Fall Frolics In Kentucky

By BETTY ELLISON

Fall frolics in Kentucky include both the russet foliage on mist-shrouded mountains and lakes, and the festive events that bring the vacation season to a close.

Nature sometimes turns coy about revealing just when the red, gold, russet and brown leaves will reach their peak—depending on temperature and moisture condition. Kentucky's fall calendar of events is not so fickle; they have all been well planned and scheduled in advance. Scenery is always fantastic in the Red River Gorge, just off the Mountain Parkway, and in the surrounding Daniel Boone National Forest. The 26-mile-long gorge is great for leaf-lookers on foot along hiking trails, or by automobile on roads that pass scenic overlooks.

Farther eastward, along the serrated ridges of Pine Mountain, the Little Shepherd Trail stretches 38 miles between Harlan and Whitesburg. From the trail, Big Black Mountain, Kentucky's highest point—4,145 feet above sea level—is visible. Southwest of Big Black Mountain is Cumberland Gap, near Middlesboro, another fine feature attraction for fall foliage.

Kentucky's eight principal state-owned woodlands range from Pennyrite Forest in the western portion of the state to Dewey Lake State Forest in the east, and several of them are near some of the fine state resort parks. All state forests have hiking trails. Some have roads all the way through them, others have only access roads into the middle of the tract. Fall events in Kentucky seem almost as plentiful as the leaves.

The first of all these—the Highlands Folk Festival, an annual event—will begin at the Amphitheatre in Jenny Wiley State Park on Aug. 31 and continue through Sept. 2. During Labor Day weekend there is the second annual Kentucky Lake Folk Festival at Hardin, where Kenlake State Resort Park is located, and the meet of the North-South Skirmish Association at White Hall State Shrine, near Richmond. A flea market and craftsmen's fair will also be in operation at White Hall.

An open-air display of arts and crafts, along with musical performances, will be the features of Louisville's Salute to the Arts Festival on the River City Mall and Belvedere (along the Ohio River shore) from September 9 through September 16.

On September 14 and 15, Burnside will have a Gay 90's event. Burnside is on US-27, nine miles south of Somerset, near General Burnside State Park on Chandler Island, Kentucky's only island park. Park facilities include excellent camping sites along the shores of Lake Cumberland, a perennial favorite with autumn color seekers.

Lebanon, on the same dates, will feature Kentucky Country Ham Days. Activities include a band festival, an arts and crafts show, a flea market and, of course, a country ham breakfast.

An antique automobile show, parade and flea market will be the features of Versailles' sixth annual Fall Festival, September 22. Six miles from Versailles is the Clyde E. Buckley Wildlife Sanctuary, a quiet though colorful refuge operated by the National Audubon Society.

For more than a week, September 22-29, taps will be clicking on the floors at Kentucky Dam Village State Resort Park, Gilbertsville, in the fifth annual September fest. This is square dancing Western style, and instruction is offered.

An event almost as colorful as the autumn leaves is the Johnson County Apple Festival, October 4-6, at Paintsville. During the week-end there's a variety of gala events, and apples in every form—glistening in the peel, bubbling in pots of apple butter and sparkling in clear cider.

For the past 25 years, Barbourville has celebrated the Daniel Boone Festival. This year the dates are October 9-13. There is square dancing, a parade usually a long-rifle shoot, a re-enactment of the signing of the Cane Treaty with the Cherokee Indians, a trapshoot, gospel singing and much more. Barbourville is on US-25E, 17 miles southeast of I-75 at Corbin. Just out of town is Dr. Thomas Walker State Shrine, honoring Kentucky's first tourist, who was also a surveyor and explorer.

Court Day in Mount Sterling, on October 15, is actually like nothing else in Kentucky. People begin gathering downtown at dawn to set up their displays and stalls for the thousands who gather there each year to barter, trade and swap guns, dogs, knives (and once a man was even suspected of trying to trade off his wife). Mount Sterling is just off I-64, east of Lexington.

Veterans are honored in Prestonsburg on October 20 during the fourth annual Red, White and Blue Day. Just out of Prestonsburg is Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, where a chairlift carries travelers above the treetops for some most pleasant leaf-lookers.

Crisp autumn wind ruffling the ivy leaves on the fieldstone walls of the clubhouse at Keeneland Race Course, Lexington, signals fall thoroughbred racing in Kentucky. Keeneland's fall meet begins October 6 and ends October 27, with no racing on Mondays. From Keeneland the thoroughbreds move to Churchill Downs in Louisville and race there from October 29 to November 24.

Elsewhere in Kentucky there are country music shows and dinner theaters open all year. Autumn, however, signals new seasons for the Kentucky Opera Association, Actors Theatre in Louisville, the Louisville Orchestra and the Lexington Philharmonic.

There is always color to be found in Kentucky, both in a long list of events and along the countryside, but in the autumn everything is just a little more so.

ARE CO-HOSTESSES

Mrs. Grace L. Burke and Mrs. Frank H. Layne were co-hostesses to a get-together last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Burke on Arnold Avenue. Enjoying their hospitality were Mrs. Lillian P. Rimmer, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Neal, Mrs. Olan Prather, Mrs. Evelyn Fowle, Mrs. Olga M. Latta, Mrs. Ruth D. Sowards, Mrs. Sallye L. Clarke and Miss Mary Elizabeth Powers.

It's not only newsprint that's short. Only last night I read the list in a weekly news magazine: gasoline shortages, oil, chemicals, cotton, wool—you name it, we ain't got it.

And there at the bottom of the page was the clincher:

The supply of nightcrawlers is short, too.

Next I expect to see one of those ads which quote a catfish to the effect he would walk a mile for a worm. I may have to do that, myself.

RECYCLING, NOTHING NEW

Word comes from Watt Hale declaring that this matter of recycling materials is nothing new. Mr. Hale doesn't attempt to say where recycling began but he knows of its being practised 50 years or longer ago in his native Carter county. He explains:

"We all were as poor as church mice, and there was this old couple who thrived on tobacco. He chewed, she smoked. All the Hillside Twist they could get. But they couldn't afford both chewin' and smokin' tobacco, and that might have been somethin' of a problem, if they hadn't got this recyclin' idea. How did they do it? Well, the old man would wring him off a jawful, chew it as long as he liked, and when he got through he would lay the cud up on the shelf. There it would dry, and in a day or so the old woman had a load for her clay pipe."

Watt realizes that the process might not be scientific enough to suit some of these young whippersnappers, these days. But he challenges them to beat the results.

HONORED WITH SHOWER

Miss Ada Elizabeth Castle, bride-elect of Danny Wheeler Mayo was honored with a personal shower, Aug. 2 at the home of Mrs. Donnie Howard at Auxier. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Those attending and sending gifts were: Miss Carol Sue Hammonds, Miss Sandy Mayo, Mrs. Jane Wells, Miss Laurel Mayo, Miss Debbie Fannin, Fonetta Hall, Mrs. Cheryl Crum, Mrs. Varie Maddox, Miss Dodie Webb, Miss Paula Blanton, Miss Lynn Weddle, Miss Pat Rorrer, Miss Nancy Northrop, Miss Arlene Osborne, Mrs. Dianne Ousley, and Miss Barbara Ratliff.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ella Jane Howard and Miss Susan Castle, sisters of the bride-elect.

Three Purchase Motel Property Prior to Sale

The sale of the Plantation Motel on the Auxier road, near here, last Friday by the Floyd circuit court's master commissioner, Marshall Davidson, was forestalled by the private sale of the property, with the new owners arranging to satisfy creditors.

Joe D. Weddington, of Prestonsburg, and Dr. Thomas Brizendine and Dr. Joe Carter, both of Louisa, purchased the 34-unit motel, all its furnishings and surrounding real estate from Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Holland, H. D. Blackburn and Lena Blackburn. The sale and financing was handled through Joe D. Weddington, realtor.

The exact amount involved in the transaction was not stated, but a total of $223,986.52, plus interest, was asked in the master commissioner's advertisement to satisfy claims of The Bank Josephine, Floyd Federal Savings & Loan Association and others against the property.

Thomas Todd has purchased the Thomas Perry holdings in the vicinity of the new Highlands Regional Hospital, near Auxier, it was announced last week.

Property involved in the transaction includes a grocery store, service station and laundromat. Mr. Todd formerly operated a motel in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. Mrs. Todd is the former Angielene Conley, daughter of Mrs. Rosie Conley, of Abbott Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Perry are moving to Southern Carolina.

Another recent transaction was the purchase of the new C. E. Hovatter building on North Lake Drive here by Proctor Brown, Paintsville automobile dealer.

Goins Brothers Return From Playing Dates

Melvin Goins, of Middlecreek, lead singer for the nationally-known Bluegrass group, the Goins Brothers, returned this week from an engagement in Spruce Pine, North Carolina. Last week the group played in Toronto, Canada at the Canadian National Exposition and they are now preparing for appearances at bluegrass festivals in Delaware and the week of Sept. 13 at Bill Monroe's Festival at his homeplace at Rosine, Kentucky.

Wednesday when he arrested Gary Lee Lawson, of Harold, on new US 23 at Water Gap. The beer haul was taken from a pickup truck. Charged with transporting, Lawson was fined $72 by Magistrate Bill Wells, who suspended a 30-day jail term.

Dingus Johnson was arrested last week by State Trooper Leeman Bevins and was charged with possession of alcoholic beverages. The haul was not reported.

Gary W. Mullins and Charles W. Wiley, of Ohio, were arrested Aug. 21 by State Detective Gary Rose and State Trooper Estep who booked them on a charge of violating the Kentucky Controlled Substances Act. It was reported the two were arrested after they had been involved in an auto wreck and that marijuana was found. They were freed on bond last Thursday.

Others booked at the jail, charges against each and names of arresting officers:

Orville Tom Hall, selling alcoholic beverages, by State Trooper Tucker; Otis McClanahan, reckless use of a deadly weapon, by Trooper Tucker; Bill Porter, drunk driving and no operator's license, by State Troopers Bailey and Bevins; Chester Akers, resisting arrest, by Allen Policeman Virgil Conn; Don Gearheart, no operator's license, by Troopers Williamson and Bevins; Kenneth G. Reynolds, drunk driving and no operator's license, by Trooper Bevins and Detective Rose; Ted Keathely, Isaac Howell and Elisha Adkins, drunk driving and no operator's license, by Trooper Bevins; Johnnie Samons, reckless driving and no operator's license, by Prestonsburg Policeman Darrell J. Conley.

Hicks To Retire Sept. 1 After 45 Years' Work

Hicks at Vince Collins well on Buck Creek, Letcher county.

Alka Hicks, of Pyramid, will retire Sept. 1 at age 63 after 45 years' gas field service with the Inland Gas Company. His decision to take early retirement was influenced by the illness of Mrs. Hicks who suffered a stroke last May. "I have decided to retire and take care of her," he said.

Mr. Hicks estimates that he walked more than 165,000 miles during the 24 1/2 years when he was a pipeline walker for the company in Floyd, Knott, Letcher and Magoffin counties. He worked 17 years in the company's compressor station at Midas, and returned to the field as a well operator 3 1/2 years ago.

Black Cats Down Trojans, 24-0, For Floyd Grid Championship

A stubborn Prestonsburg defense held Wheelwright High's Trojans scoreless Friday night in a 24-0 football game that won for PHS the Floyd county championship.

In the first quarter of this annual confrontation, played this year at Wheelwright, a 65-yard Prestonsburg drive was climaxed by a one-year plunge over the goal line by fullback Steve Campbell. A kicking attempt for the extra point failed.

The second quarter saw six more points tallied by the Blackcats as defensive safety Mike Meade returned a 43-yard punt for the score. The extra point attempt again failed and at half-time the score stood at P'burg 12, Wheelwright 0.

Mike Meade's outstanding defensive play resulted in another touchdown after intercepting a Wheelwright pass and running 53 yards for the score. A running attempt for an extra score failed.

As the tough P-burg defense largely immobilized the Trojans' offensive attack, the final score of the game went to Prestonsburg with a six-yard run by halfback Ronnie Burke.

Blackcat Coach Eddie Radjumas said, "We are really pleased with our defense, although we feel that our offense should have scored more." Coach Radjumas said that Wheelwright had a "good, young club and should have a successful season."

The game was costly to the Prestonsburg team as two starters sustained injuries which Coach Radjumas fears may keep them from playing "indefinitely." Randy Wells sustained an injured knee, and Mike Meade had a shoulder injury.

Leading ground gainers for the game were Ronnie Burke, 11 carries for 78 yards; John Heinze, five carries for 63 yards; Dell Jagers, 11 carries for 36 yards, and Steve Campbell, 10 carries for 34 yards.

Quarterback Jagers completed four of 11 attempts for 73 yards. Dennis Walker caught one pass for 24 yards; Ronnie Burke, one for 29 yards; Danny Lane, one for 12 yards, and Steve Compton, one for seven yards.

The Blackcats will travel to Winchester Friday evening to meet the Clark County team.

singer, arranger, composer, and recording artists; Town Hall, of Florida, former Floyd superintendent of schools; Dennie Stone, with his old-time "frailing" style; Marie Bailey, George Brown, Charles Spencer and son, drumming the banjo; George Tucker, "Mountain Minstrel."

Fiddlers include Jimmy Skidmore, Dave Sizemore, J. P. Fraley, Hack Thornsburg and Hillard McKinney.

Groups which will be performing include the Dennis Sinnett Family, Detroit, Mich., Hack Thornsburg and the Floyd County Mountain Boys, the Homer Ledford Family of Winchester, the Frankfort Dulcimer Group, the Fraley Family Festival Group, the Kentucky Ancestors Folk Festival Group, the Carl Clark Dancers, Lexington; The Highlanders, Scottish dancers, Prestonsburg Elementary School, Mrs. Chalmer Frazier, director.

Ballad singers and soloists scheduled are Marcus Owens, Thelma Miller, Annadeen Fraley Goldia Swain, Paul Neil Allen and Jan Farley. Among these soloists are Dianna Donahoe, Mary Music and Robert Rennie who will sing ballads, unaccompanied. Dr. Leonard Roberts native teacher-author, will entertain with mountain folk tales.

Special guest at the festival will be Miss Sarah Gertrude Knott, founder of the National Folk Festival and consultant for the Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival.

The festival, jointly supported by the Prestonsburg Area Chamber of Commerce and the Jenny Wiley Drama Association, was originated eight years ago by Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James, of Prestonsburg.

CRITICALLY INJURED

Gary Bradshaw, who was injured in a Tennessee auto wreck recently while en route to this county, remains in critical condition. Others injured were his wife, Mary Francis Bradshaw, their daughter, Deba, and Mrs. Bardshaw's brother, Otis Francis.

3. The courts action in designating 10 geographical areas for exclusive franchising constitutes an arbitrary exercise of legislative power.

4. The sale of exclusive franchises for designated areas and barring operators of TV cables in other areas would create a monopoly, deprive citizens of the benefits of competition, and encourage purchasers of such franchises to fix prices in excess of their real value.

5. By barring owners and operators of cable systems in other areas from bidding on franchises, and by requiring the successful bidders to furnish adequate service within 60 days, the fiscal court's ordinance eliminates, as a practical matter, all competitive bidding and will give owners of existing systems exclusive franchises at whatever price they choose to bid.

"The obvious purpose and... effect of the ordinance," the complaint adds, "is to protect the other defendants from competition, to restrain normal trade, to create a monopoly and deprive the people of Floyd county of higher quality, lower cost television cable service..."

Revival To Begin

Thief Steals Truck, Station Wagon

Two incidents of auto theft thought to be committed by the same person or persons were being investigated late Tuesday afternoon.

An R.E.C.C. truck was reported stolen from the Kroger parking lot at about 2 p.m. It was soon discovered, however, that the felon had apparently abandoned the truck behind the Carpet Center on Auxier Road in preference to a station wagon belonging to Frank Calhoun.

The truck was recovered by Police Officer Darrell Conley and a continuing investigation seeks to recover Calhoun's vehicle as well as the guilty party.

MRS. MAYO HONORED

Mrs. Danny Wheeler Mayo, nee, Ada Elizabeth Castle, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower August 20, at the First Presbyterian Church. Gifts of many miscellaneous items of electrical appliances, crystal, linens and silver were displayed on tables in the reception rooms. The refreshment table had a Maderia cut linen cloth centered with a mixed floral arrangement of mums, roses, asters and greenery. Pink candles burned in crystal candlesticks. Cakes were decorated with pink rosebuds. Mint punch was served, and nuts and mints were on the table. Hostesses honoring her were Mesdames Wm. O. Goebel, Larry Burke, Norman Martin, Billy R. Pruitt, Gus Kalos, Edw. B. Leslie, Ray Howard, Eva Allen Horn, Bill Pettrey, C. J. McNally, Hubbard Francis, Frank Arnett, James E. Goble, John C. Hall, Joe A. Spradlin, Winston Ford, Jr., Jack F. Wells, Marvin E. Music, Frank Layne, Miss Carol Hammonds.

RESOLUTION

Resolution Passed On The Death Of The Honorable George P. Archer, Mayor Of The City Of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

In recognition of the long and untiring services of the Honorable George P. Archer, Mayor of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, the City Council at its regular meeting on August 16, 1973, wishes to express its sense of personal loss in the untimely death of one it can ill afford to lose, and to express its appreciation to one who has contributed so much in time and effort to the City he loved.

Mayor Archer was interested in many things. While he had a strong sense of civic duty and responsibility to the City of Prestonsburg, he devoted much of his effort to improving medical facilities, employment opportunities, educational and cultural advantages, and recreational facilities in the Big Sandy Area. He worked untiringly in devoting much of his time and integrity to the creation, development, and operation of the municipal park which bears his name.

As few men have been able to do, he lived his life according to his own plan, and served as an inspiration to those who worked with him as members of the City Council, as City Employees, and others who were interested in seeing Prestonsburg first in many of its endeavors. His program of developing low-income housing in Prestonsburg is second to none in the nation today.

Be it therefore resolved, That this expression of appreciation be sent to the family of Mayor Archer, published in the Floyd County Times, and also that it be spread upon the minutes of this meeting.

This 16th day of August, 1973.

To Lead New Class

A non-credit class in volley ball will be offered by the Community Services Program of Prestonsburg Community College and will be held in the Archer Park gymnasium. Both men and women may participate. Rules and basic fundamentals will be stressed along with recreational and physical fitness aspects.

Instructor for the course is Deborah Faye Music Ward, of Auxier. She was graduated from Austin-Peay State University last March, and was selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Her major field is health and physical education.

The volley ball class will be held on Wednesdays, 7-8:30 p.m., September 12 to October 17. The course will conclude with a round robin tournament.

For further information, contact James Ratcliff, coordinator of Community Services, Prestonsburg Community College (886-3863).

Jones-Halbert

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Jones, of Langley, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Belinda Lee, to Mr. Martin Gregory Halbert, of Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Mr. Halbert is a Maytown High School graduate, attended Prestonsburg Community College and is now employed at General Motors in Ypsilanti. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Halbert, Jr., of Langley.

Miss Jones is also a graduate of Maytown High and has completed her junior year in business education at Eastern Kentucky University. She will complete her studies at the University of Michigan.

The wedding is planned at the Maytown Baptist Chapel Sept. 15 at 8 p.m., with the Rev. Glenn Noe officiating. The gracious custom of open church will be observed, with the reception in the Fish and Game lodge following the ceremony. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Insurance Department Saved Kentuckians $700,000 in '72

By DAVID KENNAMER
Frankfort, Ky.—Most people have some sort of insurance but very few realize that they have "insurance" on their insurance.

What can a policy holder do if his company refuses to settle a claim to his satisfaction, is very slow in settling, or cancels his policy without warning or explanation?

If he receives no satisfaction from the company, the policy holder can write the Kentucky Department of Insurance, describing in detail his problems with his company. If he has a justified complaint, there is a very good chance that the department will be able to do what he could not—get the insurance company moving.

Last year, the insurance department assisted in the recovery of $727,613.09 for Kentucky insurance policy holders in claims and premium refunds, according to Edward L. Fossett, chief counsel and deputy commissioner of the department.

Tom Dixon, chief enforcement officer for the property and casualty division of the department, described the procedure. "We act as a buffer between the insurance buying public and insurance companies. Our primary concern is with insurance buyers, but we also have a duty to see that well-managed and well-invested companies are allowed to make a profit."

Fossett said that the normal procedure for investigating a company begins with a letter of complaint. The department evaluates the letter to determine if the complaint falls within the department's jurisdiction and then requests a copy of the case file from the company. The department does not enter into factual disputes such as those often involved in automobile accidents.

Usually the department can determine the justifiability of a complaint at this point and can arrange some sort of settlement or agreement. If not, informal conferences are arranged with company representatives. If this does not work, there may be a public hearing. Fossett says that only about five percent of cases reach this stage and then the department usually waits until a recognizable pattern of "shady" practices or simple mismanagement develops with a particular company before acting.

Insurance is a billion dollar business in Kentucky with more than 900 companies doing business in the state. In 1971, Kentucky consumers paid $929 million in premiums while the companies paid $515 million in claims.

The insurance department has had to computerize its record keeping to cope with all the companies and complaints about them. At the end of each month they receive a "report card" of the activities of each company, its volume of business and the number of justified complaints.

Fossett says that although they will not recommend a company they will give out specific information on request about the way a company does business.

Many of the letters the department gets are of this sort, people wanting to know about insurance in general or about a specific company.

There are two divisions of enforcement in the department. One deals with life and health insurance and the other with property and casualty insurance.

Gus Petro is chief enforcement officer in the life and health division. During 1972, his office received 3,150 complaints of which half were considered justified.

Petro points out that the department considers a complaint justified even though the company is legally right but fails to explain the situation properly to the consumer.

About 65 percent of the complaints received in the life and health field are about agents. In this field the agents have to more actively sell policies than in the property and casualty field and according to Petro, "Many complaints arise because the policy holder thinks he is covered but isn't. The agent failed to tell him something when he sold the policy. This is our biggest area of complaint."

For example most medical policies do not cover "pre-existing conditions." Petro said, "Most insurance is bought to cover something you might get, not something you already have." Many times this is not made clear to the buyer and when he is hospitalized for a heart condition, for example, his insurance will not cover it because the condition existed before he secured the policy.

Kentucky law says a person has 10 days to look over a health insurance policy and change his mind. Many times a company will delay its business transsactions and correspondence until the deadline is past. Many of these cases end up in the Insurance Department.

The other division, property and casualty, is directed by Tom Dixon. He says that most complaints come in the area of auto insurance. "Almost everyone is eventually involved in an accident and insurance has to be renewed every year. So we get lots of cases and many people don't really understand their coverage," Dixon says. About 25 percent of the complaints they get are justified and most of these are against companies rather than agents. The division receives about 250 letters and complaints every month.

Petro said, "We welcome any complaints and inquiries. We have to periodically review companies to see how they are treating their policy holders and this is the only way we have of doing this."

The department also has qualified speakers who are willing to talk to groups about how to buy insurance.

Milk Is Not Fattening As Homemakers Think

A lot of homemakers think milk—and other dairy products—are much more fattening than they actually are. In a recent nationwide sample survey, seven of every 10 homemakers interviewed thought that regular whole milk contains 20 percent or more fat, when it is actually only about 3.5 percent fat. A majority of the homemakers also described ice cream as containing much more fat than it really does, and many also overestimated the fat content of American and cottage cheese. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Statistical Reporting Service questioned more than 2,200 homemakers in the survey to find out their attitudes toward dairy products and imitations.

Mullins-Holbrook Vows Solemnized

Miss Linda Mullins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mullins, of Melvin, Ky., became the bride of Mr. Dennis Holbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Holbrook, of Wheelwright, Ky., in a double-ring candlelight ceremony performed June 23, at 7:30 in the Wheelwright Community Church.

Dr. William C. Hampton, of Morehead, Ky., performed the ceremony. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Neil Caudill, organist, Keith Caudill, pianist, and Mrs. Betty Frazier, vocalist. Vocal selections included "Twelfth of Never" and "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of peau de soie reembroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Matching lace trimmed the high neckline, bodice and double ruffled hemline. The flowing cathedral veil was caught by a sweetheart cap scalloped with imported Chantilly lace. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered around a white orchid atop her grandmother's bible.

Miss Kathi Mullins served as maid of honor for her sister. She wore an empire gown of pink polyester crepe with ruffled sleeve and ruffled hemline, and carried a colonial bouquet tinted to match.

Bridesmaids were Miss Joyce O'Quinn, of Garrett, Ky., and Miss Rhonda Brown, of Paintsville, Ky. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor in shades of lilac and yellow. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Janet Mullins, sister of the bride, and Miss Robin Holbrook, sister of the groom. They wore gowns identical to the bridesmaids in shades of blue and green. All the attendants carried bouquets tinted the shade of their gown. Flowergirls were Miss Dawn Frazier, of Price, Ky. and Miss Tara Mullins, of Hall, Ky.

Denzil Holbrook served as best man for his son. Ushers were Mrs. Larry Mullins, of Melvin, Ky., brother of the bride, and Mr. Charles Hanger, of Wheelwright, Ky. Groomsmen were Mr. Mike Blair, of River Rouge, Michigan, nephew of the groom, and Mr. Rodney Johnson, of Ypsilanti, Michigan, cousin of the bride. Ringbearer was Shawn Caudill, of Price, Ky.

The mother of the bride wore a pale turquoise dress of polyester knit with long sheer sleeves and beige accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. Mother of the groom wore a turquoise and white dress of polyester knit with sleeveless coat to match and white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Wheelwright Club House. Serving as hostesses were Miss Gloria Newsome, Ligon, Ky., Mrs. Kaye Mullins, Melvin, Ky., Miss Anna Johnson, of Weeksbury, and Miss Patsy Martin, Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Holbrook is currently employed at the Wyandotte Savings Bank. She plans to continue her education at the University of Michigan, Dearborn Campus in January. Mr. Holbrook is employed at United States Gypsum Company, River Rouge, Michigan.

The couple resides in Wyandotte, Michigan.

To Wed, Sept. 1

Miss Deanna Nada Hall, daughter of Mrs. Omery Hall, of Price, and Mr. Larry Michael Ousley, son of Mrs. Lola Ousley, of Martin, will be united in marriage, Saturday, Sept. 1 at 2:30 p.m. at the Thornton Union Regular Baptist Church at Hite, Ky.

The gracious custom of open church will be observed, followed by a reception.

ANNIVERSARY

SALE

This month, August, 1973, we have been in business in Floyd county 27 years. While at Stanville and now at our Prestonsburg location, we have enjoyed the friendship and patronage of the people of our area. You have been "real folks," and that's being very nice, to us, and now we observe our 27th anniversary by reciprocating with special sale reductions.

Mountain Tunes Bring Wooden Dancer To Life

Pictured here at last year's folk festival, Barbara Edwards, of Ashland, and J. P. and Annadeen Fraley, originators of their own festival at Carter Caves, play a hoe-down number as Dennie Slone, of Allen, makes a gangly, hand-whittled doll follow in a lively dance. Appearing again this year, these performers are only a few of the many Appalachian musicians who will play their native music at the Eighth Annual Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival, Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2 at the Jenny Wiley State Park amphitheatre.

Boy, 10, Winner Of Casting Title

Some years ago, Prestonsburg's Bill Baker Burke was a member of a crack baitcasting team here, and, now a resident of Jackson, Ky., he has resumed the sport. But it is his 10-year-old son, William Baker Burke, Jr., who is annexing the titles.

The youngster won three national championships in the American Casting Association tournament held Aug. 8-11 in San Antonio, Texas. He placed first in both the quarter-ounce and in the three-eighths-ounce accuracy baitcasting divisions and third in the five-eighths-ounce competition. He won the overall title with his top rating in the combined accuracy competition.

Earlier in the year, the 10-year-old won the Ohio championship in quarter-ounce accuracy. He is a member of the casting division of the Blue Grass Sportsmen's Club, Lexington.

His father, his uncle, Dr. Winston L. Burke, of Lexington, and a third contestant tied for first place in five-eighths-ounce accuracy contest for men. In the castoff William Baker Burke was second and Dr. Buke third as the winner had a perfect score for the 17th time in the history of the national tournament.

William Baker Burke, Sr. was elected second vice-president of the American Casting Association. Approximately 150 casters from Canada, Mexico and the United States participated in the tournament.

KEA Says Attacks Against It By School Group Unjustified

Morehead, Ky.—Leaders of the Kentucky Association of School Administrators (KASA) and the Kentucky School Boards Association (KSBA) are making unwarranted attacks on the Kentucky Education Association, KEA president Louise Hite told some 250 participants at KEA's annual leadership conference here.

Both organizations are trying to undermine KEA efforts to pass a collective bargaining bill for teachers and all other public employees at the 1974 legislative session, Mrs. Hite of Middlesboro warned at the meeting at Morehead State University.

"We in KEA have made every effort to cooperate with other similar organizations," Mrs. Hite declared. "We have restrained from attacking and have made every effort to encourage cooperation. In return we would expect the same cooperation and like respect."

In KASA meetings being held throughout the state, she said, "administrators are being told to praise and stress current relationships among teachers and boards of education."

"They are told to hurry and update their policies and thus be able to say they are working with teachers," the idea being to convince legislators there is no need for a bargaining law.

Administrators who favor bargaining rights are being intimidated by KASA admonishments that "they as administrators should return to the classroom" if they don't believe as KASA and KSBA believe.

Mrs. Hite said the UniServ program of KEA—which has added 14 members to the KEA staff under three-way financing supplied by KEA, the National Education Association (NEA), and local education associations in Kentucky—is also being attacked "and the KEA is being referred to as a union."

During the previous week, she continued, KASA president Frank Hatfield, who also is superintendent of Bullitt county schools, appeared before the General Assembly's joint interim committee on education to present a legislative statement relating to the 1974 session.

"This document, which contained 11 pages, used over three pages to attack the KEA and the NEA," Mrs. Hite noted. "Much of the printed document referred to the Michigan Education Association (MEA) and the fact that Terry Herndon, former MEA executive secretary, has been employed as the executive secretary of NEA."

"The document referred to alternative bargaining strategies listed by the MEA in a staff committee report. The MEA says the bargaining section of the report was rejected by the full staff and was never presented to the board for adoption but rather as a means of informing the board of every possible alternative."

In his report KASA president Hatfield said, "Since the KEA is a state affiliate of the NEA and there is every indication the NEA has ceased to exist as a great professional organization for teachers, the KASA believes the KEA will be required to shed its professional image and resort to such strategies as those recommended by the Michigan Education Association."

Mrs. Hite praised State Representative J. O. (Oz) Johnson, a member of the interim committee, who took exception to the KASA report and expressed dismay that it was made, "stating that he was a member of KASA, the KEA, and NEA and that he resented about three and a half pages being used to attack the KEA and the NEA in a report that was supposed to contain a legislative program."

There were other legislators on the committee who felt the same, Mrs. Hite said.

"We are aware of these attacks," she told leadership conference participants, "and we are aware of the methods being used by the leadership of the Kentucky School Boards Association and the leadership of the Kentucky Association of School Administrators."

"I am shocked and angered and I

HAS BARGAINING BILL
Indiana now has mandatory collective bargaining for teachers. The law calls for recognition of exclusive bargaining representation and mandates bargaining on salary, wages, hours, and fringe benefits. Bargaining on other issues is permitted, but not required. Indiana boards must begin bargaining by January 1, 1974.

Citizens of the Pikeville Independent School District have approved a special school tax of not more than 40 cents per hundred to finance a bond issue to construct a new Pikeville High School facility. The total rate will move to 97.7 cents as of July 1, 1973.

question in depth the allegation that KASA is making when it says KEA is a union. If the KASA has not disaffiliated with the KEA then I say to you the KASA must likewise be a union."

"The time has come for us as an association to stand up, to denounce false accusations, and to keep our membership informed as to what is going on. This I, as your president, intend to do."

"Let us be alert, informed, and wide awake, or else one day we may discover that our very foundation has been destroyed from under us by those who are now preaching we must work in a harmonious spirit."

At another session leadership conference participant heard details of the proposed collective bargaining bill to cover teachers and all other public employees. The bill, endorsed by KEA, was drafted in cooperation with most other public employee organizations in the state. The coalition was formed through the efforts of the KEA Commission on Professional Negotiation.

DR. HALL PROMOTION AT MSU ANNOUNCED

Morehead, Ky.—Dr. Adron Doran, President of Morehead State University, has announced appointment or promotion of nine administrators for the 1973-74 school year.

Promotions include Dr. Palmer L. Hall, formerly of Prestonsburg, to assistant dean of graduate programs, Dr. Harry Mayhew to assistant dean of undergraduate programs and Mrs. Wanda Bigham to director of the TRIO program.

Changes include a restructuring of MSU's radio-television operation with the naming of three new supervisors. Selected were Donald F. Holloway, director of Telecommunications production; William Rosenberg, director of telecommunications services, and Leslie Davis, director of media service and maintenance.

Dr. Jerry F. Shuck has been appointed director of the Appalachian Technical Institute which is opening for the fall semester.

Dr. Jack Wilson is the new chairman of the Division of Communications and Dr. Gary C. Cox is acting head of the Department of Geography.

ACTION HELPED SOLVE PROBLEMS

In Portland, Oregon, an unusable flood basin was reclaimed by 5th, 6th and 7th graders—80 per cent of whom had behavior or academic problems. The following year only 2 per cent of those students were referred because of problems, and for the first time there was minimal flooding and property damage in the community. The community invited them back to do more, and the students are now building nature trails in an area previously dormant.

MAYTOWN COMMUNITY NEWS

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Essie Martin, whose brother, Ernie Gayheart, passed away last week, and she was not listed as a survivor. Our apologies.

Bob Tallent, of Washington, D. C., has been here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jones Tallent, and other relatives.

Nancy Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart, of Langley, and Trey Music, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Music, Jr., of Prestonsburg, spent a week at Camp Kysoc, Carrollton, Ky. They were taken to camp by Mr. and Mrs. Music and at the end of the week Mr. and Mrs. Music brought them home.

Brian and Robby Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Webb, of Beaver, Ohio, were guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Webb, last week. They returned home Sunday with their parents and sister, Christie.

Trey Music, of Prestonsburg, was the Saturday night guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart, Judy and Nancy, and attended church with them, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bailey surprised her father, Don Meade, of Minnie on his birthday with a family gathering at the Bailey home on Wilson Creek. Mrs. Bailey served birthday cake and other refreshments to Mr. and Mrs. Meade, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Showers, of Drift, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Bailey, Janie and Jim Bailey.

Pvt. James E. Robinson spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Robinson. Saturday, he and Keith Frasure attended the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ed Hicks and Larry Joe and Miss Patty Hicks, of Zionsville, Ind., have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hicks and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurmal Click were the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ramey and Tim in Alexandria, Ky., last week-end. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Glennis Ramey.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patton and Mrs. Lucy Patton spent last week-end in Cincinnati visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dillenger.

Clarence Robinson, Sr. is a patient at the McDowell hospital.

Mrs. Nora Martin, Mrs. Sid Bailey and Mrs. Virgil Rowe and Terry attended Appalachia Day at Caney College, Saturday. They were joined by Mrs. Ima Lee Spillman, of Wayland, for the Mountain Supper. They also enjoyed the country music, especially the local band, Gheard Martin and the Beaver Valley Boys, who were joined for the occasion by Dr. Lowell Martin who played the harmonica.

Bill Bamer, of Garrett, last Saturday accompanied Misses Lynn and Patty Webb to Crown Point, Ind., where they were the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Prater and daughters for a week. Mrs. Tom Webb and Tommy Dean, who had been visiting the Prater family, returned home with them.

A meeting was held Thursday in the school lunchroom to further a volunteer fire department. Jim Hampton, Area 4 Civil Defense director, and Petty Thompson, Floyd county Civil Defense director, spoke to the 13 persons present and answered questions. Arrangements were made with the directors for the community volunteer fire department to receive truck, at no expense, to mount the tank on. The tank was donated by Ashland Petroleum Company. David Reed, president of Elkhorn Industrial Products, sent to Ohio and got the tank at no expense to the community. The next meeting will be held Thursday, September 13 at 7 p.m. in the lunchroom. This will be an important meeting and everyone is invited to attend. This includes anyone living in Maytown and the surrounding area. Those attending the last meeting were Delbert Martin, John R. Rodebaugh, Carl Edward Robinson, David Smith, Kedrick Blevins, Thurmal Click, Roland Burchett, Jim Hall, Joe Manuel, Linville Hagans, James Patton, Edward F. Robinson and Doris Robinson.

Eagle Turner and Edward F. Robinson attended the annual fish fry of the Big Sandy Elkhorn Mining Institute in Pike county, Saturday.

Damage Claims Asking $494,500 Filed Last Week

Construction of the new, four-lane US 23 between Prestonsburg and Pikeville is nearing completion, but contractors on the work ran into a flock of lawsuits last week as property-owners claimed damage to their holdings through construction operations. A total of $494,500 was asked in five suits.

Heaviest demand was made by William G. Hennessee and J. U. Thacker, who demanded $250,000 compensation for land which they own on Pin Hook Branch, near Harold. They claim defendants, the Department of Highways and Bizzack Brothers Construction Corp., used their land as a dumpsite for rock and other debris, destroyed the public road to the property, deprived owners of access to the property and permanently diminished the value of the land.

In another suit growing out of construction at or near Harold, Ralph Hamilton seeks to recover a total of $100,000 from Greer Bros. & Young, contractors on a sector of the highway. He alleges that his buildings and other property were damaged by negligent blasting and other operations.

Two suits named the Winston Ford Co., Inc., of Prestonsburg, contractor on a portion of the Prestonsburg-Allen section of the road. In one of these James and Vanda Webb ask $64,500 for blasting and other damages to their buildings and property at Dwale. The second action against Ford, filed by Clifford and Donna Branham, of Dwale, asks $70,000 for damages allegedly caused in the same way as in the Webb case.

The fifth suit was filed by Roxie McCoy against the Dixie Bridge Construction Company, contractor on the US 23 bridge near Allen. Mrs. McCoy claims damages of $10,000, alleging that negligence on the part of the company in construction of the bridge caused her car to strike a steel rail.

Loss of Pupils May Cost More Teaching Posts

Floyd county's school system this week was faced with the strong possibility that it will lose another six or seven teachers as enrollment figures from the various schools indicated the number of pupils in school this week is 229 less than at the same time a year ago.

Eleven schools recorded enrollment increases while 14 suffered losses and one, Betsy Layne High School, had neither gain nor loss. The total enrollment this year is 9,110, as compared with 9,339 at the beginning of school last year.

Supt. Charles Clark said the county has lost pupils in schools where enrollment gains were normal or expected, but losses and gains were not confined to any geographic area of the county.

Melvin, Osborne and Wheelwright, in the upper section of Left Beaver Creek, for instance, were among the heaviest losers, but both the grades and high school at McDowell gained. In the Right Beaver Creek area Allen Central, Garrett, Martin and Maytown were big losers, but Wayland recorded a gain.

The new enrollment figures, with the loss or decrease for cash:

Bonanza, 56, -5; Daniel's Creek, 29 +1; Dwale, 27-2; Home Branch, 62, +4; Prater Creek, 124, -5; Spruce Pine, 64, +7; Allen, 368, +15; Allen Central, 603, -35; Auxier, 194, +14; Betsy Layne elementary, 400, -27; Betsy Layne High, 515 (unchanged); Clark elementary, 448, -2; Drift, 73, -11; Garrett, 367, -29; Harold, 276, +10; J. M. Stumbo, 645, -17; Martin, 482 -45; Maytown, 212, -52; McDowell elementary, 659, +36; McDowell High, 380, +21; Melvin, 256, -58; Osborne, 477, -25; Prestonsburg elementary, 963, +9; Prestonsburg High, 857, +14; Wayland, 252, +4; Wheelwright, 312, -41; Home Instruction No. 1, 11, +5; Home Instruction No. 2, 5, -3; Allen trainable class, 7, -3; Spradlin Branch trainable, 6 (unchanged).

Mines' Waste Water May Go into Streams

One Floyd county coal mining operation and 95 others elsewhere in the state have been granted tentative permits by the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to discharge their waste water, mainly from coal washing, into nearby streams.

The Floyd mine is operated by the Island Creek Coal Co., which was cited earlier in the year by the state for discharging "black water" into Left Beaver Creek.

The story of federal licensing of mines, as told by Bill Cox in The Courier-Journal, follows, in part:

Eventually, all Kentucky mines discharging into a stream will have to obtain federal permits. In addition to the 96 that have received tentative EPA approval, another 300 mines have applications for permits on file at the EPA regional headquarters in Atlanta.

The final number of permits for Kentucky mines will be in the thousands, according to an EPA official.

To obtain the permits, the 96 mines had to agree to take steps to significantly reduce the sediment and acid level of their wastewater.

The federal mine water pollution regulations generally are tougher than state regulations.

Kentucky doesn't qualify to administer the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System, the program that requires the permits, because Kentucky's fines for violating water pollution statutes aren't considered adequate by EPA.

The federal penalty for illegally discharging into a stream is $10,000 a day, while the Kentucky fine for the same offense is only $1,000 a day.

EPA has formally asked that Kentucky raise its fine during the 1974 General Assembly.

The 96 mines that have received tentative approval for their discharges range in size from large Peabody and Island Creek mines to small, family-owned operations in the mountains.

Each applicant must estimate the volume of wastewater it will discharge and must provide a map showing where the discharge will enter the stream, George Harlow, an EPA spokesman in Atlanta, said.

The permit system was established by Congress to give the federal government a major role in pinpointing and controlling water pollution sources.

All firms and facilities that discharge effluents into streams and rivers must obtain the permits.

The first six permits in Kentucky were issued last month to four Owensboro distilleries and paper mills at Hawesville and Wickliffe.

EPA has scheduled a public hearing on the proposed permits for the 96 mines for 10 a.m. Sept. 25 in the Capitol Plaza auditorium in Frankfort.

The permits cannot be issued until the public has the opportunity to comment on the applications, according to federal guidelines governing the permit system.

For many Kentuckians, particularly those living in areas where coal mining activity is heavy, the hearing will be the first opportunity to comment to federal antipollution authorities on the problems of mine drainage.

Several thousand acres of Western Kentucky land, in the Tradewater Basin and elsewhere, have been destroyed by uncontrolled drainage of mine wastes. Western Kentucky coal has a high acid level that kills trees and other vegetation when mine water drains into swamps and creeks.

Eastern Kentucky coal is generally not acidic. The mine water pollution problem there is the sediment that clogs streams and reservoirs. At least one coal company in Eastern Kentucky has been fined for uncontrolled runoff of sediment that severely affected the water quality of a reservoir constructed with public funds.

Warning

Anyone caught dumping garbage or other waste on my property will be prosecuted.

Next week will be Indian Week in Pike county as approximately 200 members of various tribes gather at Broad Bottom for an all-Indian pow-wow.

Tribes which will be represented are the Cherokee from North Carolina, Chippewa and Potawatomi from Michigan, Winnebago from Wisconsin, Ottawa from Canada, Pueblo from New Mexico, Miami from Indiana, and others.

Visitors are invited to take pictures during the pow-wow, to sample Indian fry bread and corn soup, witness tribal dances and listen to the stories of the Old Ones.

Marking the coming of Indian Week to the county, John Jenkins, Indian representative, presented a peace pipe Tuesday to Pike County Judge Wayne Rutherford.

Floyd Boys in Clean Sweep

Floyd county 4-Hers made a clean sweep of senior division honors in the state poultry judging contest last week at the Kentucky State Fair, Louisville. Floyd county boys won six top spots in the judging, and the top-scoring four of the six will represent Kentucky at the national contest in Chicago at Thanksgiving. The winners (shown in photo, left to right):

Carl Eddie Steele, 16, Betsy Layne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steele and a member of the Betsy Layne 4-H club, first place with 1031 out of possible 1,100 points; Lance Blackburn, 15, Stanville, second, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Blackburn, 992 points, member of Betsy Layne club; Leslie T. Auxier, 17, Emma, third, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael T. Auxier, 975 points; Eddie Fraley, 16, Eastern, fourth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fraley, 951 points, member of Allen Central 4-H Club.

Clyde McGuire, and a member of the Allen Central club. Second alternate is Steve Green, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Green, and a member of the Allen Central club.

In the junior division Dale Conn, of Dana, and a member of the Betsy Layne club, failed by a single point to be No. 1 in judging, but his standing is unofficial, since he was state champion last year and could not hold the honor a second time. He will be eligible in the senior division next year. Rankings of other Floyd boys in the junior competition:

Phillip Gibson, Langley, fifth; John Flanery, Langley, sixth; Melvin May, Langley, ninth; Teddy Meadows, Langley, 10th; Chris Blevins, Langley, 11th; Todd Halbert, Langley, 13th; Mark Westfall, Ivel, 14th; Dwayne Moore, Garrett, 15th.

Mt. Care Center To Publish Review

Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, the Big Sandy Regional mental health agency, announced last week that, beginning this fall, it will publish a quarterly review of articles on human resources services and the delivery of these services in the Appalachian Highlands. The new publication, to be issued every three months, will be called MOUNTAIN OUTLOOK.

Previously, a regional publication containing articles about activities of the agencies programs was distributed monthly to residents in the Big Sandy region. This publication, also known as MOUNTAIN OUTLOOK, has been discontinued and replaced by separate bi-monthly newsletters to each of the region's five counties.

The new publication according to Robert Marsh, the agency's director of public information and education, will attempt to collect and publish articles by those who work daily in delivering human resource service in the Appalachian area.

"It is our hope," Marsh stated, "that the publication of articles of this nature can contribute to what the academicians refer to as "the body of knowledge" about the nature, quality and methods of delivering human resource services to the people of the Appalachian Highlands."

Perkins Co-Sponsors Legislation For Federal Disaster Insurance

Congressman Carl D. Perkins has co-sponsored a bill establishing a federal disaster insurance program to protect homeowners, small businessmen and farmers from disaster losses caused by weather.

Rep. Perkins co-sponsored the bill shortly before the Congress recessed this month.

Announcing the action from his home in Hindman, Rep. Perkins said, "If we can get this legislation through, our people would be financially protected in case of floods, mudslides, any kind of windstorm, and any similar disaster—regardless of whether it was caused by nature or caused by man."

The Eastern Kentucky Congressman said the bill includes provisions for all-risk coverage, and setting up a national disaster insurance fund to handle the costs of the program.

"We need this kind of protection in our area, and we don't have it now," Rep. Perkins said. "What we have now is a Federal Disaster Relief program, but it can only be applied on a county-by-county basis, instead of on an individual basis."

"Sometimes we have severe problems from a mudslide, or a similar disaster, that are not county-wide, and this new legislation would help in those cases," Rep. Perkins said.

"Also, some aspects of the Federal Disaster Relief program are not always funded, and help is not always available as it should be," Rep. Perkins said.

"Under the bill I have co-sponsored,"

The National Apprenticeship Act of 1937 provides for a program of promotion, expansion and training standards administered by the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training in cooperation with state agencies.

ROAD TAMER CONSTRUCTION

4 rugged polyester body plies soak up shock and deliver a smooth ride. Wards strongest polyester-fiber glass tire!

2 strong fiber glass belts reinforce the tread, reducing tire squirm for better mileage and excellent wet or dry traction!

WARDS PASSENGER TIRE GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees its passenger car tires to the original purchaser against (1) premature tread wear-out and (2) defects and road hazard damage with the exclusion of tires used commercially, as follows: (1) Premature Tread Wear-Out—If a Montgomery Ward passenger tire wears down to the top of the tread wear indicators (1/32-in. tread depth) within the period of months or number of miles stated for a given quality of tire, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire for a prorated charge determined by the months or miles of use, whichever serves as basis for the guarantee. Premature tread wear-out due to malfunction of the suspension system is excluded. (2) Defects and Road Hazard Damage—If a Montgomery Ward tire fails due to defects in materials or workmanship or due to road hazard damage (excluding repairable punctures or damage due to accidental during the original tread life (1/2 in. tread depth), Montgomery Ward will replace the tire for a prorated charge based on tread wear received. All prorated charges will be based on the actual selling price in effect at the time of adjustment at the retail store to which returned or the catalog price in effect at the time of purchase to which returned, in either case, including Federal Excise Tax. For adjustments under this guarantee, return tire with the guarantee booklet issued at the time of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch. *Commercial use is defined as use on any vehicle for other than family or personal use.

Ward-Hardee Exchange Vows

Miss Deborah Ann Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lee Ward, and Robert A. Hardee, son of Mrs. Billie Mae Lawson and Mr. Bob Hardee were married at 4 p.m., Aug. 18 in a garden wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lee Ward, of East McDowell.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carl Ray Tuttle under a blue sky. Organ music was provided by Mrs. Lilly Hall who played "Colour My World," "A Time for Us," and "The Theme from Love Story." "We've Only Just Begun" was sung by Connie Crisp. A poem, "The Heart Remembers," was read by Jill Newsome.

The arch, decorated by Jenny Wiley Florists was entwined with smilax and covered with a variety of multicolored flowers. Bill Swartz, of Prestonsburg was the photographer.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted up a white carpeted aisle by her father. Her brother, Steven Ward carried her veil.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta with a flocked bodice. Her high neckline, lantern-sleeves and button-trimmed bodice were all highlighted with cluny lace. A pill box-style cap held her lace edged cathedral veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis, orchids, miniature carnations, pink and white sweetheart roses and yellow marquerite daisies on a white lace covered bible.

Miss Glenda Lawson, aunt of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length yellow crepe gown, white picture hat and carried a long stemmed white rose. The bridesmaids, Miss Betty Pack and Mrs. Cheryl Shepherd wore yellow, pink and lilac floor-length flowered gowns, yellow picture hats and they carried long-stemmed yellow roses.

The best man was Ray Hardee, brother of the groom. Ushers were Neil Moore and Ronald Gayheart, cousins of the bride. The beautiful three tier wedding cake was made by Mrs. Norma Jean Crisp, of Martin.

Mrs. Ward attended her daughter's wedding in a floor-length gown of hot pink polyester designed and made especially for her by her mother, Mrs. Dixie Lawson. Her accessories were white and her corsage consisted of white sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Billie Mae Lawson, mother of the groom, also wore a long pink polyester gown and a corsage of white carnations.

Aunts of the bride who assisted in the wedding were: Mrs. Barbara Ousley, who attended the guest book; Mrs. Patricia Cieslak, who presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Minnie L. Simpson, who was in charge of the decorations.

The ceremony was ended with prayer by the Rev. Tuttle as the bride and groom knelt on white satin pillows.

One hundred fifty relatives and friends attended the wedding and Curley Moore assisted in the parking of the cars.

The couple is now residing at 2111 St. Xavier, Louisville, Kentucky.

Arts, Crafts Festival May Take The Place Of Club Flower Show

The Maytown Woman's Club met Aug. 16 in their clubhouse with Mrs. Jack Lovely as hostess. Mrs. Roland Burchett, president, presided. Special committees were selected for the coming year. Each member was asked to participate in the programs and projects suggested by the Federation or to get involved in a project that will meet the needs of their own community.

It was also voted at this meeting to secure a booth for the Woman's Club bazaar at the annual fish fry on Johns Branch to be sponsored by the Fish & Game Club, Sept. 2.

Plans were discussed for a new project that will be emerging this fall in place of the annual flower show that has given the club many rewarding years. It is a possibility that the public will be able to see a fall festival held at the Johns Branch Fish and Game lodge featuring arts and crafts from around the area.

More on this project will be announced later.

Mrs. Alicia Mayo, treasurer, reported that the Maytown Woman's Club's summer dance was a success. Mrs. Jones Tallent was selected to be chairman of the Cancer Drive, and Miss Lorena (Sissy) Hall was chosen to work in the drive for the Arthritis Foundation.

Refreshments were served to Miss Lorena Hall, Mrs. Hubert Halbert, Mrs. Jones Tallent, Mrs. Paul Patton, Mrs. Mike May, Mrs. Roland Burchett, Mrs. Ed Stewart, Mrs. Dennis Mayo, Mrs. Jack Lovely.

UTILITY TAX REQUESTED

Somerset and Science Hill Independent school districts have requested the levy of a three per cent utility gross receipts tax. After the required public hearing, the fiscal court is required to levy the tax.

After Work's Done Mrs. Harmon Writes

Mrs. Marie Harmon, wife of Leffie Harmon, finds time after the gardening, pickling, canning and sundry chores at her farm-home at Bayes Branch are done to turn her hand to other work.

She writes. And sells much of what she writes.

Mrs. Harmon quite naturally confines her writing to those things she knows best—to home life, the farm, garden, fruit and similar topics.

Three of her articles appeared in the August numbers of as many publications—in The Landhandler, an Allis-Chalmers trade magazine, and Farm Wife News, both published in Milwaukee, and a gardening article in Yard and Fruit, a Nashville publication.

PRINCIPALS MAY JOIN UNION

The New York State Public Employees Relations Board has ruled that New York City school principals were not "managerial" employees and therefore could continue to belong to a union and have collective bargaining rights. The decision affects some 1,200 principals.

Hill Now Associated With Cincy Law Firm

Thomas Clark Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon C. Hill, formerly of Prestonsburg, was awarded the degree of Doctor of Law from the law school of the University of Chicago in June, and is now associated with the Cincinnati firm of Taft, Stettinius and Hollister.

Mr. Hill was a Merit Scholar and valedictorian of the Man High School in Logan county, W. Va., and is a graduate of Case-Western Reserve, Cleveland. He is married to the former Barbara Friedly, of Moundsville, W. Va., who also is a Merit Scholar and Western Reserve graduate. They have one son and live at 1953 Rockland Ave., Cincinnati.

Mr. Hill is a grandson of the late Judge Edward Polk Hill and Adda Louellen Davis Hill, and a great-nephew of the late Judge Florence E. Allen, of the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

(Tom Hill is a former Floyd County Times newsboy.—Ed.)
