Newsome Becomes Betsy Layne Coach For Coming Season

Significant changes in the staffing of three schools were effected at Saturday's meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education when teachers were employed for the 1975-'76 school term.

Most of the changes took place at Betsy Layne. There, Tommy Boyd, veteran basketball coach, was named athletic director and classroom teacher. The coaching position was filled by the appointment of William Newsome, former net coach at Pikeville High School.

Forrest Curry was moved from the principalship of the John M. Stumbo Elementary School at Grethel to become assistant principal at Betsy Layne and assistant director of the Head Start program in the county school system. Gary Newman, who has been assistant principal at Betsy Layne, was named principal of the John M. Stumbo school.

Denzil Halbert, who last year was athletic director at Allen Central High school, was named visiting teacher with the school board's attendance department.

Fiscal Court Votes To Sue On Park Site

The Floyd fiscal court at its meeting last week voted condemnation of two tracts of land to provide a site planned for a mini-park at the mouth of Sizemore on KY 122, Left Beaver Creek.

One tract of 3.63 acres is owned by Palestine Stumbo Vanderpool; the other, which is 90 by 100 feet, is owned by the Wentz Stumbo heirs.

Also slated for condemnation is right-of-way for an additional 10 feet of the road across the property of Alonzo and Elsie Lafferty on Bull Creek.

After a discussion of the solid waste program in the county, the court voted to call for payment to the Galion Manufacturing Company of $28,798.42 for the bulldozer in use at the county-landfill on Turkey Creek. The payment is to be made from the Coal Producing Development Fund representing monies due the county on the coal severance tax.

The poll officials serving at the recent primary election were paid the basic $15, plus mileage for some who brought ballot boxes were from outlying precincts.

Leslie To Join War II Mates In Ship Crew's Second Reunion

Ex-Sheriff Frank Leslie, of Emma, will leave today (Wednesday) on a "sentimental journey" to San Diego, Calif., where he and other survivors of the 1300-man crew of the World War II heavy cruiser, the USS Salt Lake City, will hold a reunion.

To those at the reunion who will recall the years of the Salt Lake City, Pacific adventures, from Pearl Harbor to the Japanese surrender, the Floyd countian will be known as Boatswain First Class Leslie.

The first reunion of the Salt Lake City's personnel, which Mr. Leslie did not attend, was held last year, and 90 crewman reported. They hope a greater number will be in San Diego for this year's meeting, which will begin tomorrow (Thursday) and continue through Sunday.

The former Floyd sheriff recalls that he was perhaps the last Floyd countian to see Walter Karr Bowling, this county's first war casualty, alive. The two had

Unloaded 'Evidence' Results in Arrest

An attempt to dispose of a "hot" tire last Monday night resulted in the arrest here of a man and his wife on a charge of theft by unlawful taking.

City Policeman Ralph Thornsby said as he, Commonwealth's Detective Doug Lewis and City Policeman Trusty were following a van which they observed on Highland Avenue at a late hour, "the door opened and something came out." The officers stopped the van to investigate and upon recovery of the discarded object found it to be a new tire and rim. It was later identified as belonging to a truck on the lot of Music-Carter-Hughes Chevrolet-Buick here. William O. and Kathy Tapp were booked at the county jail by the officers and later executed bond.

"If they hadn't tried to get rid of the tire we would have never suspected anything," Thornsby said.

Monday night, Policemen Thornsby and Trusty arrested Robert Wolfe and charged him with third degree burglary after Wolfe was observed by Policeman Trusty's brother entering WPRT radio station through a window. Nothing was taken from the building in the incident.

Others booked at the county jail over the past week, charges against each and arresting officers follow:

Paul D. Crider, reckless driving and eluding a police officer, by Deputy Sheriff Craig Kilgore and Park Ranger Haley; Guy W. Scott, indecent exposure and harassment, by City Policeman Darrel Conley; John Williamson, criminal mischief, by State Trooper Williamson; Allen Ousley, assault in the

Animal Shelter Needs Planning, City Mgr. Says

The city of Prestonsburg is scheduled to receive $38,000 soon for the founding and operation of an animal shelter, and this week city Manager Curtis Clark appealed to residents of the county for their interest and help in effecting proper use of the money.

The fund is the result of a bequest made by a London, Ky. woman.

The city manager pointed out that for a successful program to afford humane treatment of small animals, such as dogs and cats, to be implemented a shelter must be build, a veterinarian and personnel employed for operation of the shelter. He also pointed out that a manager and a board of directors must be appointed. These must be capable of organizing the undertaking.

"Won't you call the City Clerk's office (886-2335) and give your name and address, no matter where you live in the county, if you can or will help in this project?" Clark asked in an advertisement seeking public cooperation.

He said that as soon as a sufficient number of persons show an interest in the operation of such a shelter for stray, unwanted or sick animals a public meeting for the planning of the project will be called.

2 Floyd Groups Fight Pike Fire

Five fire departments, including those of Prestonsburg and Betsy Layne, fought the blaze which early last Friday night claimed the life of one man and destroyed a dozen units of the 50-unit Modern Villa motel in the southern section of Pikeville.

The victim was identified as Donald Huffman, about 40, of Pikeville, in whose motel room the fire apparently originated, possibly from a cigarette. Pike Coroner Bradford Hall said the body was identified by members of the vic-

Engineers' Recreation Area Gets Heavy Use by Public

Next time you see a station wagon loaded with fishing gear, picnic baskets, children and a dog heading in the direction of Dewey Lake and Jenny Wiley State Park, it may not be stopping at the state park at all. Because, nowadays, a large recreation area, constructed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers directly below the base of Dewey Dam, is attracting huge crowds all by itself.

The park was opened in 1972 after an access road to the area was constructed, and visitors to the area have multiplied steadily as more and more recreational facilities and equipment have been added. Before construction of the access road, the only way to reach or leave the area of the present park was by descending—and, much worse, ascending—165 of the steepest steps to be found anywhere.

Now, a black top road winds gently down a hill to 25 acres of beautifully landscaped bottomland and a play and relaxation area that offers, as Dean Murray, Dewey Reservoir manager said, "some kind of attraction for just about everyone." A full-size, two-goal basketball court, baseball diamond, tennis (or volley ball or badminton) court and $15,000 worth of playground equipment offer the more active visitor plenty opportunity to work off some energy while the relaxation seeker can take advantage of the 50 picnic tables and grills provided by the Corps and eat barbecued hamburgers or hot dogs or, maybe, a "store-bought" chicken box to the sound of the lake's tailwaters rushing through the nearby spillway. For the fisherman, a cross-section of about every variety of stream and lake fish in the area can be caught in the spillway or farther downstream in Johns' Creek. As Mr. Murray said, "Dad can fish, Mom can sunbathe, and the kids can play, all in the same general area."

Marked, blacktop parking spaces are provided for 48 vehicles. Murray said, "We've started adding new spaces, due to the demand." The "demand" has become so great on recent week-ends that many cars have been turned away. According to Murray, last Sunday was probably the biggest day yet. "In an hour's time we had to turn away 155 vehicles from the area," Murray said. "We're getting mostly family-type groups," according to Murray, "and they're coming not only from the surrounding counties. You'd be surprised at the number of cars we get from places like Kermit, Logan and Huntington, W. Va. and Grundy, Virginia."

Martin Says Report Of Suit Was Incorrect

Dicky Martin, of Garrett, said last week that The Times was incorrect in its recent story relating to his damage suit against county officials. He says he did not execute bond, as was noted on the jail record, but was released on writ of habeas corpus. He also says that the court did not order him to remove obstructions from the road in question.

Board Names Teachers for 1975-'76

Loss of attendance and per capita funds has resulted, as predicted, in a lower number of teachers for Floyd county's schools, next school year, but the number of those not employed by the Floyd County Board of Education last Saturday is no more than 10, and this number may be reduced by the opening of the new school term, it was said. All those who were not hired are not on continuing contract.

The list of teachers employed follows:

Water, Gas Ordinance Annulled

City Council Voids Rebate to Consumer In Effect Since '65

Principal business of last Thursday's City Council meeting was the repeal of the 1965 ordinance governing water, gas and sewer service.

Repeal of the ordinance was asked by Bill Harvey Howard, superintendent of the Municipal Water, Gas and Sewer System, who pointed out that the ordinance requires a rebate of 75 pct. of the water bill and 30 pct. on gas to a consumer who constructs his own line until the consumer is reimbursed for his or her construction cost.

Mr. Howard said the city has neither gas nor water to provide service to new customers outside the city limits, that such service improves the property of the consumer and that repeal of the rebate is justified. He pointed out as a hypothetical example of what the city might be required to do under the ordinance as it stood, that the city limits extend to the top of the mountain at the head of Trimble Branch and if only one home were built at the top of the mountain and connecting line provided by the owner, the city would be obligated to supply water at only 25 per cent the rate normally charged until the owner's cost of line construction was recovered.

The repeal of the ordinance mainly affects areas outside Prestonsburg and it does not affect consumers who have already contracted and received services under provisions of the old ordinance.

City Attorney Joe Hobson said a new ordinance will be drafted soon.

The water and gas system office moved recently from the Blaine Hall building on Lake Drive to the Fire Department building in the Mayo Addition. The move was made after Mr. Hall had announced plans to use the room occupied by the office for his own purposes. The office in the Fire Department building was remodeled by CEP employees using materials purchased by the water and gas system, and central heat and air-conditioning have been added.

This Town . . . That World

Such a day! Low-hanging clouds, a cold sort of drizzle. . . but think how happy all the ducks are.

WHO CARES?

The truth of the matter is, such days fail to depress me as much as the old visage might indicate. Despite the failure of an umbrella to keep out the rain as expected and a dog that wanted to feast on my left hind-leg, I got the feeling during a walk this morning that the scenery about—fog around distant hilltops, dark hollows trickling down toward the open valley, and the craglike mountainsides—must not be unlike the Scottish Highlands. Mind you, I have been no nearer the aforesaid Highlands than Washington, D. C., and my knowledge of some comes from a picture of wild, untamed scenery I once saw in a book. But the pleasant feeling lingers that all this around us must be like that particular part of the Old Country from which many of our progenitors came.

But who cares a hoot, mon, how I feel about the matter?

PCC Service Program Lists Summer Classes

A course in yoga "hatha" will be taught at Prestonsburg Community College through the Community Service Program by Mrs. Kathy McCavitt. This class is open to the beginning student and also to those who have had some yoga experience.

Meeting eight consecutive Mondays beginning June 23, at 7 p.m., in Room 155, Johnson Administration Building, the class will focus on postures, breathing techniques and relaxation techniques. Some attention will be given yoga philosophy, concentration techniques and the concept of meditation.

Mrs. McCavitt and her husband presently live at Sitka, Kentucky, having recently moved there from Pittsburgh. She has had two years of formal instruction at the Center for Human Development in Pittsburgh.

The class will be limited to 20 participants.

The Community Service Program also is offering a course in Prepared Childbirth, which will be taught by Mrs. Jean Rosenberg. This course will offer training for husbands and wives in techniques of prepared childbirth, including conditioning exercises and discussions on the process of labor and delivery. Beginning Wednesday, June 18, at 7:30 p.m., the class will meet at the home of Mrs. Rosenberg, 19 Burchett Street, Prestonsburg, and will meet for six consecutive Wednesday evening sessions.

Summer karate classes will be offered at the college, beginning July 7.

Piano lessons will be taught by Mrs. Nancy Masino at the college, beginning June 23.

For information on any of these courses, write the Office of Community Services at the college or phone 886-3863, extension 208.

Goins' To Appear At Area Festivals

The Goins Brothers Bluegrass group, of Prestonsburg, currently playing the national Bluegrass festival circuit, will perform this week-end along with some of the country's best groups, at Merrimac, West Virginia, near Williamson.

The festival, which runs Friday through Sunday will also feature such performers as Don Reno and Bill Harrell, Ralph Stanley and the Clinch Mountain Boys and Bill Monroe. Location of the festival is five miles out of Williamson on Route 49.

The 5th Annual Goins Brothers Bluegrass festival will be held the next week, Thursday through Sunday, June 19-22, at Lake Stevens Park near Beckley West Virginia. Featured groups will include Ralph Stanley Larry Sparks, The Osborne Brothers, Jimmy Martin, Hyle Brown and several others. Lake Stevens can be reached by taking Rt. 3 out of Beckley.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS . . .

What was feared to be tragedy turned out last week to be merely motor trouble, bane of modern fishermen, and at least one fisherman's wife. When a man and wife who were expected to return from a night's fishing on Dewey Lake early Saturday morning failed to appear, the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad was called to investigate. Members of the squad responded to the call promptly, and in about an hour located the couple unhappy but well except for an ailing motor.

Let Men Work at This Job

As the state of Kentucky and federal agencies undertake an attack on unemployment through public financing of jobs, they should seriously consider, as County Judge Henry Stumbo suggested recently, to return to the work-methods which require men and not chemicals and machines.

We would encourage such consideration when the clearing of highway rights-of-way is undertaken.

The current method of killing bushes, weeds and other vegetation by the spraying of herbicides not only removes from employment several thousand men who need jobs but it also makes of the Kentucky slogan, "Keep Kentucky Green," a sad farce.

Besides the esthetic damage done to otherwise inviting roadsides, it is known that certain herbicides are fatal to birds and perhaps other wildlife with which they come in direct contact. Some species of birds are already threatened with extinction by chemicals which destroy the reproductive process. And there is a growing suspicion that the damage to human health and life from the promiscuous use of herbicides and insecticides is greater than is yet known or admitted.

It is not only the highway crews that do damage in this way. Rights-of-way for communications and fuel lines are cleared in similar fashion.

It's a cheap method, for the moment. What the cost may be later will perhaps not be known till later.

The roadside clearing crews were referred to, when they were used several years ago, and not without some contempt, as "weed-cutters." But it was honorable work, and they killed nothing they didn't set out to kill. No bird-song was stilled and no roadside browned by chemicals.

Offers Plan for Organized Baseball in This Area

It is time for all of us to be neighbors so that we will have national recognition. We all know there's plenty coal but we need other things for everybody to get together and be recognized.

I have a plan that I think will get us on our way. As many sportsmen in Eastern Kentucky know, any major league baseball team will sponsor a ball team and guarantee they won't lose any money at the end of the season. All they require of the people who head the ball team is a ball park with lights. They call these leagues an all-rookie league.

Why couldn't there be an all-rookie league formed here and called the Eastern Kentucky Coal Field League? Places such as Pikeville, Hazard, Harlan, Jenkins, Prestonsburg, Hindman, Paintsville and Middlesboro could have a six or eight-team league. I am pretty sure the coal people would be glad to build a ball field to give our young people a chance to try professional baseball and give all the people a place to go for entertainment. The teams would be named for the town which sponsors them, such as the Pikeville Dodgers, Prestonsburg Yanks, Hindman A's, etc.

I am ready and willing to help get this started for our people in Eastern Kentucky. The major league clubs will furnish the managers, players and uniforms. If anyone wants to contact me, call 606-378-2633 or write me at Ary, Ky. 41712.

PEARL STRONG

Martin Judge Ousts Sheriff

In neighboring Johnson county last week Paintsville Mayor John Chandler resigned, and in Martin county the sheriff was removed from office by order of the county judge.

Mayor Chandler announced his decision to quit the office following a lengthy discussion of a one per cent occupational tax which Chandler had proposed as a possible answer to the city's financial problems.

After Chandler had pointed out that a study of salaries paid city employees in the region showed that Paintsville's were the lowest paid in the area, the City Council voted a 10 per cent pay raise, but there was no motion on the occupational tax. After the pay increase was voted, Mayor Chandler announced his resignation, effective at the close of the meeting, adding that he would not "run a city with a deficit budget."

Later, the occupational tax squeezed through by a 3-2 vote, but Chandler's resignation stood. Mayor Pro-tem Jim Tom Newman was acting as mayor last week.

In Martin county Sheriff Sam Moore was ousted last Tuesday by County Judge Ray Fields after Moore had failed to post bond as required by state law. Judge Fields said the law requires sheriffs to post bond by June 1, and that he had contacted the attorney general's office which told him there was no alternative to ouster.

Sheriff Moore was expected to appeal the judge's action.

'Election' Pokes Up Its Head

Letters from those who have left Floyd county appear fairly often in The Times. Uniformly they are full of praise for the paper and the changes they found in Prestonsburg and Floyd county upon visiting. Until very recently, we have been members of your fan club from abroad.

We cannot expect one who has never left to understand the anticipation and joy that arrives with each "Flo-Co" on Thursday or Friday, depending upon location of the recipient. Highlights of The Times that we especially enjoy are: The social doing of the Paul Neil Allens; clarification of names involved in lawsuits; people who will no longer be responsible for debts incurred by anyone other than themselves; and, with the exception of a few "fishy" sounding stories, the editor's column, "This Town, That World."

Several weeks ago, we were relieved to read that the "poke" of Floyd county was at long last to be placed under the care and direction of an able official. We, at the earliest moment, forwarded our absentee ballots to the poke election headquarters. Since that time we have been plagued with a dearth of information about this most important race. Owing to distance, and uninformed relatives, The Times has been our only link with the campaign. It is indeed a trial to plod along week after week thirsting for knowledge of the poke warden race.

Then come Thursday or Friday, depending (which has already been explained) we tear open our plain brown wrappers, and find to our dismay that no poke official has as yet taken office in the fair county of Floyd.

We beg you to show a little consideration to those from afar who love and respect poke, and get on with this confounded election.

Impatiently yours,

Praises Young Singers

I just want to say, "hurrah" for our young people who are singing and giving the Lord the praise. If you were not at the Martin Free Will Baptist Church on Saturday night at the singing convention, you really missed a blessing. One young group from Pikeville, one from Bull Creek, one from Dwale and another from Ohio.

We really appreciate our young people at the church that are singing for the Lord, too—the Harmonizers and many other young people at the church.

ment, and Gene Frasure, former coach, will succeed Halbert at Allen Central as athletic director.

After a lengthy discussion, the board of education voted to require its depository to pay 5 1/2 per cent interest on its monthly deposit balances, and on the recommendation of Supt. Charles Clark agreed to renew the depository contract with the First National Bank here for one year.

It was explained that the interest requirement results from the large balance in the general fund, as compared with the "hand-to-mouth" financing situation which existed a few years ago when the Finance Department, State Department of Education, sent only two checks a year to the local board, necessitating the borrowing of money to meet payroll requirements. Asst. Supt. Ray Brackett was named treasurer of the board, a post formerly held by an official of the bank where the funds were deposited.

The board declared an emergency exists in reference to the need of a contract for work which will prevent washing of dirt from the board parking lot and grounds here onto Second street, and it asked the Division of Buildings and Grounds to approve the initial step (a BG-1) toward blacktopping and draining the lot.

Supt. Clark also was authorized to file a BG-1 for installation of an air filter in the woodworking department of the Garth Vocational School. Cost of the work is estimated from $20,000 to $25,000.

The board heard at its meeting a report from Lawton Allen, C.P.A., who praised the excellence of the school system records, complimenting, particularly, Wanda Hamilton, head bookkeeper, and Ray Brackett, assistant superintendent and finance officer.

Saturday, June 21 was set as the special "clean-up" meeting of the board to end the current fiscal year's work and prepare for the new which will begin on July 1.

It may be encouraging to the Appalachian Regional Commission and the state of Kentucky to know that they will never need to build a settling basin for the silt from all those dozens of strip-mines on Johns Creek. The U. S. Corps of Engineers built a catch-basin for that silt, some 20 years ago. Namely, Dewey Lake.

It has been suggested to me that I call, with my usual effectiveness, for a cost study to show if the investment of all those millions in this lake to be used for this purpose is justified. Maybe so, I wouldn't know.

But worry not. We have the solemn assurance that the Corps of Engineers, the Environmental people at Frankfort and perhaps one or two blind men are "keeping an eye on the situation."

GRAMMAR REVIEW

This afternoon I was a poor third in a learned discussion of English grammar as she was taught in the oldtime schools where you had to learn your cases, how to diagram a sentence, parse a noun, conjugate a verb, etcetera. Then we recalled etymology (the study of words), syntax (the construction of sentences) and prosody (versification). Somehow, we missed orthography, which has to do with the sometimes difficult matter of spelling.

I should never have forgotten any of these, for there still runs in my mind the singsong an old schoolmate used to remember these four: "OrthoGRAPHy, etmoLOGy, swing-em-back and poosum-doozie."

But Woodrow Burchett came up with the best remark of the session when we came to "syntax." Said he:

"I thought that was what you paid for your transgressions."

dinner together, the Sunday preceding Pearl Harbor. Duty at sea took the cruiser out of Pearl Harbor before the Jap attack, but the ship returned there, the day following the raid which began World War II.

The Salt Lake City's men are proud of its record. Mr. Leslie recalls that the ship took the first U. S. offensive action of the war in the bombardment of Jap-held Wotage atoll in the Marshalls. He and his mates will recall the escort role their cruiser played when Doolittle led his bombing raid on the Jap mainland, the rescue of survivors from the aircraft carrier WASP which was torpedoed a thousand yards away, of covering the landings at Guadalcanal and at Tulagi, the first American land offensive.

The battle "itinerary" of the Salt Lake City from February, 1942 to May, 1945 included such places as Savo Island, the Komandorskies in the Aleutians. Tarawa, the Marshall Islands, Eniwetok, Saipan, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. During that time the cruiser exacted of the Japanese a toll of four cruisers and destroyers, 11 cargo vessels and 12 planes and participated in 29 bombardments of Japanese-held islands.

Prestonsburg Fire Chief Tom Blackburn said that, except for the services of three Kentucky Department of Highways tanker trucks, the firefighters would have been unable to save any portion of the motel. These wheeled to the scene 7,000 gallons each per load. The motel is on US 23, approximately a mile south of the Pikeville city limits, and fire hydrants have not been placed there.

In addition to the Floyd county firefighters, the departments of Pikeville, Elkhorn City and Mullins were involved in bringing the blaze under control.

Coal Firm Agrees To Pay Damages

Frankfort, Ky.—Two coal firms have agreed to pay $2,000 each and undertake water pollution control measures as a result of action taken by the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

In an agreed order, Chapparral Coal Corporation, of Virgie, agreed to pay $2,000 as damages to the state. Chapparral further agreed to a constant monitoring program to insure no more water damage, including designating a person to check all disposal pumps, lines, processes and emergency ponds at least twice during each work shift. Under the terms of the agreement, no water will be discharged prior to being diverted into ponds or other devices for treatment.

The department had charged Chapparral Coal Corporation with violating state water quality standards and with failing to notify the department of spills that contaminated a nearby stream, as required by law. The department said that on two occasions last November and December coal fines from a coal preparation plant operated by Chapparral spilled into Levisa Fork and blackened that stream. The agreed order recognized that the firm has undertaken extensive water pollution abatement control measures.

South-East Coal Company, of Irvin, was the second firm to agree to pay damage to the state. The company was charged with violating state water quality standards and failing to notify the department of a spill of contaminated water. The department maintained the spill, which occurred in late January, contaminated the Kentucky River and caused downstream water treatment plants to cease operation until the contaminated water had passed. The company has also agreed to begin a 24-hour monitoring program designed to prevent future spills.

Wins Golden Horseshoe

Michael Skeens, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Skeens, of Barboursville, W. Va., was recently awarded the Golden Horseshoe Award of West Virginia and was made a member of the National Junior Honor Society.

In a May 16 ceremony in the House of Delegates chambers at the state capital in Charleston, he was "dubbed" a Knight of the Golden Horseshoe by State School Superintendent Daniel B. Taylor. He was one of 220 winners throughout the state from more than 30,000 eighth grade students who were tested on their knowledge of West Virginia history. The four students in each county scoring the highest on this test are awarded the Golden Horseshoe Award.

On May 20 he was inducted as a member of the Village Chapter of the National Junior Honor Society at Barboursville Junior High School.

He is an eighth-grade student at Barboursville Junior High School, where he is an honor student, a member of the golf team, and a former DAR Award winner. He is the grandson of Magistrate and Mrs. Dewey Roberts, of Harold.

MONARCH by mercury a new kind of car... for a new kind of America

Meet the Precision-sized Mercury Monarch for 1975. Over 1 foot shorter than last year's average mid-size car. Yet, Monarch has more headroom, front and rear, and comes within 1.5 inches in legroom.

The idea behind this all-new precision size Mercury Monarch is simple. Design a car trim enough to get good gas mileage; yet, roomy enough for 5 adults. It meant engineering a small car around people rather than crowding people into a car.

A Family Car in Every Way
Monarch's high seat positions and large windows offer excellent road visibility. Its big 14.8 cubic foot trunk can hold 8 typical pieces of family luggage with room left over. Precision design rather than excess weight makes Monarch strong. Its solid, one piece uni-body is built of the same gauge high quality steel as your biggest Mercury.

Good Gas Mileage
Monarch's miles per gallon figures ranged from 22.5 to 18.8 under highway driving conditions and 15.6 to 13.2 under city conditions. Based on results of tests conducted by the Environmental Protection Agency (as of 8-8-74) on this type of car equipped with a 250 1-V engine and frequently purchased options. Your gas mileage will depend on the type of driving and driving habits, road and weather conditions and your car's maintenance and equipment (with air conditioning subtract 1.0 MPG; automatic transmission, 2.0 MPG).

The Monarch Ghia
Monarch Ghia 4-door sedan. Comes equipped with precision cast 250 CID 6 cylinder engine, front disc brakes, fully reclining Orthoposture bucket seats, solid state ignition, WSW steel-belted radial tires, 18.2 gallon fuel tank, high level ventilation, map pockets behind front seats, carpeted luggage compartment, deeply grained vinyl roof, wire spoke wheel covers, body guard molding, foot-operated parking brake, flush mounted windows and door handles.

Stickler-Guion Vows Said Here

The wedding of Miss Mary Katherine Stickler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stickler, of Drift, Ky., and Mr. David A. Guion, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Guion, of Russellville, Ky., was solemnized on May 17 at 3 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Prestonsburg.

The Rev. William Thomas performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with spiral candelabra and greenery. A small floral arrangement graced the organ.

Mrs. Chalmers H. Frazier, of Prestonsburg, provided a program of nuptial music which included the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional, and accompanied the wedding soloist, Mrs. David Hatchett, of Russellville, who sang "O, Promise Me" and "Because".

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a designer gown of ivory imported organza, enhanced with chantilly lace, crystal ruching and seed pearls. The high neckline, cardinal sleeves with tight cuffs, empire waist and A-line silhouette added to the beauty of the lovely attached chapel train. Her profile headpiece was sparkled with pearls and held her floor-length mantilla veil strewn with chantilly. She carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias and white sweetheart roses to complete the radiant picture.

The maid of honor, Miss Teresa Ann Martin, of Drift, Ky., was attired in a cornflower blue and green floral print on a pale blue background of silk organza over blue taffeta. The gown was fashioned with an oval neckline and short cap sleeves. The wide blue cummerbund was caught in the back and ended with long blue streamers. She wore a matching blue, wide-brimmed picture hat, short white gloves, and white shoes, and carried three white rosebuds with long white streamers.

Miss Stickler chose as her bridesmaids, Jeanna Barnard, of Eustis, Florida, Madonna Spradlin, of Pikeville, Ky., Nancy Reed, of Drift, Ky., and Susie Smith of Bardstown, Ky. They wore gowns and headpieces identical to that of the maid of honor and each carried a single white rosebud. The flower girl, Sharon Fugate of Drift, cousin of the bride, wore an identical ensemble also.

William Guion served as best man for his son. Ushers were Kenneth Whitley and Drexel Herndon of Russellville, who also served as taper lighters; James Nicks, of Bowling Green, and Eddie Stickler, brother of the bride, who also laid the aisle cloth. The ringbearer was Todd Harkleroad, of Russellville.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length dress of mint green, fashioned with an empire waistline, oval neckline, and short sleeves. She wore white accessories and a corsage of white orchids. The groom's mother chose a floor-length peri-winkle blue chiffon gown and silver accessories. A white cymbidium orchid was attached to her handbag.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. The long refreshment table was covered with lace-edged white linens. A three-tiered pale blue wedding cake accented with white rosebuds and topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table and was flanked by spring bouquets and crystal candelabra holding antique ivory candles. Greenery led to crystal punch bowls at either end. Mrs. B. A. Reed, Mrs. Hugo Miller and Mrs. Glen Burton, all of Drift, and Mrs. Clarence Diersing, of Louisville, the bride's great aunt, presided. Also assisting with refreshments were Mrs. James Reed, Mrs. William Hoffman, Mrs. Clarence Cahill, Mrs. Harry Martin all of Drift, and Miss Bureta Gearheart, of Prestonsburg.

Kim Miller, of Drift, presided at the bride's register in the church vestibule. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guion, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Don Horton, Dr. and Mrs. Bill Webb, Dr. and Mrs. N. R. Harkleroad, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carner, Kavonne Webb, Julie Webb, Kim Harkleroad, Rodney Harkleroad, Jim Carner, Lisa Hatchett, and sisters of the groom, Jane and Susan Guion all of Russellville; Julie Guion and Andy Guion of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnstone, of Princeton, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnstone and Sarah Johnstone, of Berea, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Diersing and Mrs. Neil Bell III, all of Louisville, Ky.; Suzanne Berry of Paducah, Ky.; Eloise Spradlin, Pikeville, Ky.; Edward Stickler of Dearborn Heights, Michigan; and Craig Turner of Frazer, Michigan.

The bride is a graduate of McDowell High School, and Mr. Guion is a graduate of Russellville High School. Both will graduate from the University of Kentucky next spring with degrees in pharmacy. They are residing at 1825 Liberty Road, Lexington.

The rehearsal dinner, held at the Highland House, Paintsville, was given by the groom's parents. The wedding director was Mrs. R. W. Ankrom, of Prestonsburg.

A pre-nuptial shower in honor of the bride was given by Mrs. Harry Martin at her home in Drift.

We Need Help

Persons in Prestonsburg or Floyd county who would like to teach and enforce the practices of humaneness toward animals and provide facilities for preventing the suffering and abuse of lost or unwanted animals are asked to contact the City Clerk.

To accomplish this aim, an animal shelter must be built; a veterinarian and proper personal employed to pick up stray, unwanted or sick animals.

The City of Prestonsburg will soon receive about $38,000 from the estate of a person who wanted to see such a shelter built in this vicinity. A board of directors and a manager must be appointed, capable of organizing such an undertaking. Won't you call the City Clerk's Office, telephone number 886-2335 and give your name and address, no matter where you live in the County, if you can or will help in this project.

Just as soon as enough persons show an interest in this humane venture to assure its success, you will be notified of a public meeting to form plans.

This service is for small animals such as dogs, cats, etc. and will help control the birth rate of these animals. This could be one of the most rewarding decisions you have ever made.

The recent refund to the county of excess fees by County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson was the thirteenth time such payment was made by Mr. Robinson who has completed his 13th year in the office.

Leach Earns World Conservation Award

Glenn Leach, a Scout in Troop 27, Prestonsburg, sponsored by the Community Methodist Church, has earned the new World Conservation Award, John Fanning, Scout executive of Lonesome Pine Council, announced this week.

The award is made by the World Wildlife Fund, of Washington, D.C., through the Boy Scouts of America and recognizes achievement in environmental improvement, natural resource conservation, and an understanding or world conservation problems.

The purpose of the award is to point up to young people that countries of the world are closely interrelated through natural resources and that we in this country are interdependent with our world environment.

To win this award, Scout Leach earned Conservation and Environmental skill award, merit badges in Environmental Science, Soil and Water Conservation, Fish and Wildlife Management, and Citizenship in the World.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leach of Lancer.

Mrs. Dingus To Organize Women Democrats in Knott

The Floyd County Democratic Women's Club held its last meeting of the summer, May 14, at May Lodge. Mrs. Ann Scutchfield, president, introduced C. "Ollie" Robinson, Floyd County Court Clerk, as guest speaker. Mr. Robinson explained what an important role women play in the political field. The club accepted several new members, and Mrs. Scutchfield announced that Mrs. Gwendolyn Dingus had been selected as chairman of a committee to organize a new Democratic Women's Club in Knott county. Next meeting of the club will be September 10 at May Lodge.

Lands Big Florida Bass

Curtis Branham (left), of Sebring, Fla., caught this 11-pound, 27-inch bass in Dinner Lake, Florida. His brother-in-law, Jesse Laferty (right), of Allen, had a part in landing the big one. "I netted it," he said.

ARC Allocates $305,000 Fund To Halt Strip-Mine Siltation

After a year's delay because of a technical problem, the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) in Washington last week approved a $305,000 grant to build a series of six settling basins along the branches of Troublesome Creek in Knott and Perry counties to stop the silt caused by runoff from abandoned strip-mines.

An additional $103,000 in state and local matching money and services will give the conservation districts, under the direction of William D. Gorman, of Hazard, the tools to do the job.

This program will be the first the state has undertaken using funds authorized for strip-mine reclamation by the ARC. Ironically it was a technicality in that section of the law that has delayed final approval for more than a year.

In April of 1974, U. S. Rep. Carl Perkins' office issued a press release saying the ARC had approved a $730,000 project to clean up Troublesome Creek. But that included nearly $300,000 in federal money to reclaim the abandoned mines causing the silt runoff.

And under the wording of the ARC law, reclamation on privately owned lands was not permitted. So the application had to be redrawn, with the state and the conservation districts taking the responsibility themselves for revegetation of the orphan lands.

Dr. David Maneval, ARC's science adviser, acknowledged that without reclamation of the abandoned mine areas, construction of the settlement basins would be futile, for silt would continue to run off the hills until the basins filled with debris.

Six basins, covering three to five acres each, are planned, according to Gerald Hart, soil conservationist in Hazard. The idea is to stop the water that runs off the hills, let the sediment settle to the bottom and then release the cleaner water from the basin into the creek, he said.

One possible site is near where the city of Hindman plans to build a water storage reservoir. Another is above Robinson Forest in Breathitt county.

Most of the affected landowners already have given the conservation districts rights to use their property for the basins, Hart said.

The Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and environmental protection and the U. S. Interior Department's Bureau of Mines will monitor the project.

Little Baseballers Draw Big Crowds

The area's littlest baseball players, the five and six-year-olds of the local farm league, have been attracting sizeable crowds at their games on the Prestonsburg Community College campus. Here, members of the Cardinals team warm-up before a game with a little batting practice.

Ducklings, A Tourist Attraction In Themselves

These young ducks, under the watchful eye of mother and two drakes, are an added attraction for visitors to the Jenny Wiley State Park boat dock. Bill Pettrey, park employee, feeds the ducklings and their elders regularly and a shout from him never fails to bring every duck within earshot paddling in high gear.

The Work Incentive Program (WIN) was authorized by Social Security Act Amendments of 1967 and 1971 to train and place in productive employment members of families receiving Aid to Families of Dependent Children.

22-Ounce Baby Born At Martin Hospital

A baby born at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, last Sunday is attracting more attention than usual. The infant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Darling, of Wheelwright, weighed only 1 pound, 6 ounces, and is the smallest to be born at the hospital and survive. Although born three and a half months prematurely, the baby was apparently doing well, Tuesday. The Darlings have four other children.

Major League Draft May Cost Local Team

Post 117 American Legion baseball opened a 45-game schedule last week under the guidance of Manager Steve Butcher. Assessing this year's squad, Butcher is pleased from at least one point—turnout. Twenty-eight boys answered the call for practice last Monday. Last season only 15 showed up for tryouts. New additions to the squad which pleased Butcher are catcher Paul David Brown, who played for Paintsville High School this year, and Greg Bryant, a right-handed pitcher from Sheldon Clark High. At the moment Butcher's major concern is the future status of his returning shortstop, Rob Herrick, of Prestonsburg. Herrick is being closely scouted by the major leagues and there's a good possibility he will be called in next month's major league draft. Herrick was worked out by Cincinnati last Saturday at Riverfront Stadium.

RECIPROCAL VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Tackett and Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Allen travelled to Louisville last week-end to visit Mr. and Mrs. William Kendrick. While there, the Kendricks introduced their visitors to a new grape soda by Welchade, which according to Mr. Kendrick "is almost as good as Grapette," and served a special thick-slice bologna sandwich. This weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick arrived from Louisville for a Saturday night of general frolic and good cheer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tackett.

COMMUNITY SHOWER

A community shower will be given Saturday night at 7:30 in the Maytown Methodist Church basement for Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rowe whose home was destroyed by fire last Sunday. The public is invited.

ROPES Region 11 Honors Ramey

Attending the ROPES board of directors meeting were, from left, Charles Clark, chairman of the board and superintendent of Floyd county schools; Dr. John Claunch, president of the Kentucky Council on Economic Education, and Reo Johns, executive director of ROPES.

Directors and staff members of ROPES Region 11, meeting here May 30, presented a plaque to retiring board member George L. Ramey in appreciation of his services. Mr. Ramey has represented the Department of Education on the ROPES board since its establishment in 1972. Dr. Curtis Phipps, director of the Division of Guidance Services, Department of Education, will replace Mr. Ramey.

Reo Johns, executive director, discussed regional workshops, including the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Education workshop to be held at Prestonsburg Community College, June 25 and 26; the Due Process and Discipline workshop to be held July 18 at a location to be announced later, and the cabinet meeting to be held in the ROPES office on June 4.

Board members also heard reports on regional program activities by Region 11 staff members, Bronelle Skaggs, Shirley Beard and Larry Jervis.

Arnold Guess, deputy director of the Division of Administration and Finance, State Department of Education, appeared before the board to discuss the equalization bill. Guess told the board that the bill will provide for equalization of leeway money, a shift from local to state taxes on real estate, and full state funding of the foundation program. In addition, Guess told the Board, the bill would eliminate the required local effort and repeal the House bill commonly called "the rollback bill". He stressed that the equalization bill would not increase state control of education. Although the bill has met with opposition in some sections of the state, the ROPES board voted unanimously to endorse it.

Also appearing before the board were: 1. Joe Billy Mansfield, commissioner of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association. Mr. Mansfield, speaking in support of regional basketball clinics, told the board that the Association is trying to alleviate the shortage of good referees by holding training programs for officials. These training programs will be conducted in each region by the assigning secretary or someone else who has been trained to conduct them and will consist of five three-hour sessions. Mansfield stressed that the training sessions will teach not only the mechanics of officiating, but the means of judgement.

2. Ted Cook, director of the Adult Basic Education Unit, State Department of Education. Mr. Cook discussed the possibility of a regional adult basic education program to supplement adult programs already in operation in the Region. The regional program would differ from those presently operated in the region by employing teachers to teach adults in their own homes. Personnel involved in the program will be a regional consultant and two teachers for each school district. The board authorized the ROPES staff to make application to have this program funded for the region.

3. Dr. John Claunch, president of the Kentucky Council on Economic Education. Dr. Claunch told the Board, "If we continue to allow the same rate of increase in the governments involvement in redistributing money, 67 pct. of every dollar will go into the government's pocket and control in 25 years." Dr. Claunch advocated economic education as a means of preventing this. He stressed that it is better to have the whole school concerned about economic education than to have one organized course.

In other action, the board voted unanimously to adopt a resolution commending Governor Carrol for his interest in education and his increase in the amount of funds available for secondary and elementary education and approved Herald Whittaker, superintendent-elect of Magoffin county schools, to replace retiring superintendent, Creed Arnett.

Unemployment Increase Less than Earlier

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Although unemployment in Kentucky continues to rise, the rate of increase is not as large as it has been in previous months.

April's unemployment rate was 7.6 per cent of the labor force, compared to 7.4 per cent in March. There are 108,800 unemployed Kentuckians, according to Bob MacDonald, chief statistician for the Bureau for Manpower Services, Department for Human Resources (DHR).

Compared with April of last year, unemployment has increased by 52,000 and the rate of unemployment has grown from 4.4 per cent in April of 1974 to 7.6 this year.

April's rate of 7.6 per cent compares to the national, non-seasonally unadjusted rate of 8.6 per cent, leaving Kentucky one per cent below the national rate.

MacDonald attributed the continued increase in unemployment to an increase in the number of people being laid off, especially in manufacturing, and to the fact that those laid off in the past are not going back to work. He was, however, encouraged by the fact that the April increase was less than that of previous months.

Harris, IRS Employee

Ross Harris, a native of Floyd county, has been selected as an attorney (estate tax) with the Internal Revenue Service at Louisville, effective June 22.

A graduate of Wheelwright high school, Mr. Harris received his B.A. degree in Political Science from Eastern Kentucky University and a Juris Doctor Degree from the University of Kentucky in 1974. He was admitted to the Kentucky Bar on May 6, 1975. While a student he was a member of the American Bar Association (student division), Student Bar Association, and the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity. He has been employed for the past three years by the Lexington Blue Grass Army Depot at Lexington.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Harris, of West Prestonsburg, and is married to the former Sharon Kaye Sammons, of Bypro. They have one child, Tanya Leigh.

Development Clubs Win Awards

The Floyd County Community Development awards banquet was held June 6 at the Prestonsburg High School cafeteria.

This year, community development clubs were entered in three divisions. Abbott Creek was entered in the farm category, a first for the county in this division. Clubs enrolled in the village category were Auxier, West Prestonsburg, Wheelwright. Wheelwright, a junior development club, first for the county as well as the Northeast Area; rural non-farm—Prater Creek, Tram and Weeksbury; farm—Abbott Creek. County winners were Wheelwright, Weeksbury and Abbott Creek.

Development clubs were cited for their work.

Wheelwright conducted a spring and fall clean-up campaign, mowing grass, whitewashing trees in keeping the community park attractive, conducted book drive and donated money to the community library which was established last year. Members worked on establishing a credit union.

West Prestonsburg Club members made quilts, handicraft items, working with the Rescue Squad in Operation Santa Claus, provided gifts for underprivileged children. The club also assisted the Community Action Program in distributing garden seed to low-income families.

Prater Creek, organized last month, conducted a clean-up campaign as its first project, and sponsored a chicken supper June 14 at the Prater Grade School.

Tram members worked on road improvement and repairing the bridge leading into the community.

Weeksbury Development Club was cited for its work in conducting 12 educational programs, sewing classes, and Operation Santa Claus, in which toys and clothes were collected for the needy. A Christmas party held at the Community Center for about 350 children. They also have a Senior Citizen Club which meets in its community center. The club worked with the County Extension Service in signing up families interested in raising and purchasing broccoli plants.

Abbott Creek had a busy year since organization last August, expanding school library facilities, building bookshelves, fencing the school yard, erecting basketball goals with the help of men from the Concentrated Employment Program. The club hosted a Christmas

The story is told of the great conductor Sir Michael Costa. Once he was rehearsing a great orchestra of hundreds of musicians. The orchestra was filling the auditorium with thunderous music. The drums, the cymbals, the cornets, the string instruments—all combining to make splendid harmony.

"Stop!" he shouted. All fell silent to see what Sir Michael wanted. "Where is the piccolo?" he asked. In that immense and powerful orchestra, one man had been silent.

Sir Michael had missed that tiny note and the rehearsal was imperfect.

This incident has a great lesson for all of us. In the mighty chorus of life, we too, are missed if we become silent. Every man has a place—has a part, whatever that part may be.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: ONLY YOU CAN FILL YOUR PLACE.

A Wayward Son of the Hills

By GEORGE L. MOORE

There was no other boy in the Pine Grove rural school like Timmie Jones. He entered the school when he was eight and during his sojourn of four years scarcely a day passed that he did not cause a minor disturbance or uproar in the school.

He was frail of stature, with high cheekbones, small, deep-set eyes and a long, narrow forehead. He would always say and do the unusual. The teacher would constantly keep reminding: "Timmie, sit down, Timmie, quit that whispering. . . Timmie, throw that apple outside."

In order to keep Timmie quiet while a class was reciting, the teacher would sometimes ask him to demonstrate the correct posture that a pupil should have at his desk. Timmie liked to do things like that and would set up as straight as a Prussian soldier at his desk for a long period of time. When he happened to relax, the teacher would say, "You are slumping, Timmie." Whereupon, he would resume his rigid position.

After the afternoon recess on Friday, the remainder of the day was used for the children to recite poetry, tell stories or do other things. Timmie did other things. The teacher would sometimes ask him to demonstrate the actions of Dick Segrave's mule after it had been released from a hard day's work. To those who are not wise in the ways of mules, I might explain that the first thing that a mule does when it is released from working in the afternoon is to lie down and roll in the dirt. If the animal happens to turn completely over in the rolling process, he is said to be worth a hundred dollars.

When Timmie went into his act, it was the highlight of the entertainment of the evening. They would sweep off a clean place on the floor. Timmie would begin the preliminary movements that a mule makes in lying down. Finally he would stretch prostrate on the floor and begin to roll and kick and toss his head from side to side. Although he used all his energy, he could not turn completely over despite his best efforts. However, with one last desperate effort and a mighty heave he did turn completely over. Some boy would then call out, "Boys, he's worth a hundred dollars." This was the signal for a broad grin to spread over Timmie's face as he slowly rose from the floor in a state of exhaustion.

This was during the period that the rural people called Hoover Times. Most people were hard put to obtain the necessities of life. Timmie's father, as did many others, had a hard time keeping the wolf from the door. As a last resort, the Red Cross came to the rescue. From that day on there was always a soft spot in Timmie's heart for the Red Cross.

It did not help matters economically that Timmie had learned to smoke and chew by the time he was weaned. There were two things that he could not do without—Strater's Natural Lead for chewing and Prince Albert for smoking. From the tin of Prince Albert he rolled his own. The finished cigarette was shaped like a chicken's bill at the end. When Timmie graduated from Prince Albert to Camels it became increasingly more difficult to secure the necessary funds. His father had taken temporary employment in Olive Hill, some six miles away. One day Timmie told his mother that he was going to town to visit his father. He had been gone about three hours when his mother looked out the window and saw him running toward the house at top speed. He fell in the front door, completely exhausted. He said, "Ma grab the baby and run. Pap is dying with a heart attack." After his mother was out of sight, he gathered up three chickens and headed for the store to replace his supply of smoking tobacco.

On another occasion he slipped away from the house with two frying chickens. In a short time his father missed him and set out in pursuit. Timmie had stopped at the Pine Grove school to play a game of Round Town with the school children. It was here that his father caught up with him.

In order to make absolutely sure that Timmie did not escape, his father had brought along a rope plowline with which to tie him. In the meantime, the chickens, feet tied, had flopped back some distance under the schoolhouse floor. His father tied the rope around Timmie's ankle and sent him under the floor to retrieve the chickens. Timmie called from under the floor and said, "Give me a little more slack, Pap." He then untied the rope from his ankle and looped it over a nearby snag. He gathered the chickens gently, holding them by the neck to prevent their squawking, emerged from beneath the opposite side of the floor and resumed his journey to the store. His father thought it was taking too long to get the chickens. He tugged at the rope with no results. Finally he gave a sharp pull and said, "Come out from under there, Timmie, or I'll pull yore leg off." He stooped over and looked under the building. Timmie had disappeared, and so had the chickens.

Another time, his mother sent him to Olive Hill to sell a bushel of fall beans. His mother said to him, "Now, Timmie, I want you to get back here with a dollar for these beans." "Man," he said, "you know you can depend on me." As he came into town, he passed the brickyard. The people who worked there lived on a hill overlooking the plant. The first man he encountered purchased the beans from him for one dollar. He instructed him to deliver the beans to his house on the hill. The next man he met, he sold the beans to him. He kept on in this manner until he had sold the beans six times to six different people. After he had made his last sale, he started on his homeward journey but he still had the beans in his possession. He said that he wanted to be fair about the matter and treat all his customers alike. So, on his return journey, he dumped the beans from the bridge into Tygart Creek. He gave his mother one dollar and kept five for himself.

It was at this time that a new group of religious people came to the Pleasant Hill community. Rural people called them "The Tongues," because they spoke in unknown tongues at some period during the services. They attracted huge crowds and had many joiners. One night, when the invitation was made, Timmie came to the altar. It was their custom to pray in unison but Timmie's high, rasping voice could be heard above all the rest as he repeatedly called upon the Lord to bless the Red Cross. After all others had ceased Timmie continued for a moment and finally concluded by saying, "Now, Lord, whatever you do, be sure—don't forget the Red Cross!"

CLEAN AIR...SURE.

But how clean, and at what cost?

We all want clean air and water. But cleaning them up requires more than just legislation. It requires spending a lot of money.

Billions!

And you and we, as consumers, have to pay for it. Fact is, we're both paying for it right now—today—in nearly every product we buy.

When a chemical company, steel mill or auto maker has to invest in pollution control equipment it becomes a part of their cost of doing business, and increases the price of their products.

The same is true of our product, electricity.

The cost of installation, and operation, of equipment for pollution control becomes part of your cost of electricity. That's why we're eternally questioning the need, the method and degree of pollution controls.

It's a good bet no one ever bothered to tell you what cleaning up the air will cost you.

Let's consider what it would cost to perform only one function: removing sulfur dioxide the way the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) suggests electric utilities do it.

If we, at just the newest plant in our American Electric Power System, were to install scrubbers to meet clean air standards it would cost $260,000,000. Plus $91,000,000 a year . . . year after year . . . to operate them.

And that's just one plant.

Encouraged by EPA, electric utilities have installed or committed to install 101 scrubbers. What will the cost be?

Hold onto your bankbook . . . 3 1/2 billion. Plus $1,125,000,000 a year . . . year after year . . . to operate them!

If you have difficulty measuring that amount think of it this way: if the first 3 1/2 billion were in one dollar bills, it would make a line long enough to encircle the entire earth over 13 times.

In terms of your bill you'd face this potential: some experts estimate scrubbers would increase the cost of electricity as much as 30%.

That would be a terrible waste of your money when there is a proven, more effective, less expensive way to maintain the clean air standards.

One problem. Unless the Clean Air Act is amended we don't have the flexibility to use the less expensive method. If you want the savings, why not write your congressman. He wants to know how you feel.

Waste—a Contemporary Problem

Frankfort, Ky.—Cavemen threw bones and other leftovers in a pile outside their caves. The Vikings, when on their ships, simply dumped their refuse overboard. Pilgrims slopped garbage out their back doors. Today, people can't get rid of their rubbish so easily.

What happens to garbage now depends on whether it's a solid, liquid or gas waste. A gas waste is easily definable, but defining the difference between solid and liquid wastes is a problem.

At a recent public hearing on the new solid waste regulation proposed by the state, the question of clarifying the definitions was posed to the solid waste division in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

The hearing covered a regulation proposing several changes, including landfill compliance schedules, permit denial criteria, an additional information requirement for permit renewal and requirements for closing a landfill.

The most discussed change, however, was a section on financial responsibility, which requires permit applicants to post bond with the state treasury for the landfill operation.

After the meeting, Jim McDonald, solid waste disposal specialist for the Louisville and Jefferson County Health Department, suggested some ways of improving the proposed regulation. McDonald, who arrived late, also cited some of the problems with Jefferson County's Lees Lane landfill as justification for more severe state landfill rules.

The state environmental protection department has ordered the owner of Lees Lane landfill to begin immediate corrective actions, following an investigation into the causes of a dangerous gas leak. Several families living nearby were forced to evacuate their homes.

McDonald also said that the proposed definition of a landfill appears to be ambiguous since it doesn't specify what types of material can be accepted in sanitary landfills.

It's difficult to categorize many industrial wastes as either solid or liquid, since some of them may combine to form a goo. Therefore, McDonald recommended a firmer definition of solid and liquid wastes based on flow rates and percentages of liquid.

Other types of landfills which McDonald feels should be covered under the solid waste regulation are industrial, demolition, hazardous wastes and other method landfills.

McDonald also suggested:
—Processing of applications for landfill permits through the local health department, which may be more aware of local problems;

—Increasing bonds for landfill operators to a minimum of $2,500 per landfill acre, instead of the proposed $3,000 per landfill site plus $500 per acre;

—Requiring the bonds to be held for a minimum of 10 years instead of the two-year minimum proposed by the state;

—Requiring landfill preventions for gas leaks and water drainage.

Veterans Must Act Quickly To Receive Educational Help

Veterans who plan to attend school for the first time under the GI Bill this summer or fall must act promptly if they want advance payment of educational checks.

The VA says a veteran who plans to enter school should first make certain he has a certificate of eligibility. These may be obtained from the nearest VA office.

The certificate must be presented to the school of the veteran's choice. The school, if it accepts the veteran, will forward it and the enrollment certification on the reverse side to the VA.

Officials explained if the agency receives this information at least 30 days before registration, veterans who train half time or more may pick up their first check when they register. The first check will cover training allowances for the first two months, or one month and a portion of a month, depending on the registration date.

Under current rates, a single veteran in school full time receives $270 monthly. Veterans with one dependent draw $321; two dependents, $366, and with three or more dependents, an additional $22 is added for each dependent over two.

Half time rates are $135 monthly for a single veteran; with one dependent, $160, and for two dependents, $182. Veterans with three or more dependents receive an additional $11 monthly for each dependent.

Consumer Comments

It's not your fault if you don't understand no-fault insurance; it's a complicated subject. But you had better find out about it before July 1, 1975, when Kentucky's no-fault automobile insurance law goes into effect.

In the past, injured consumers waited days, weeks, months and even years to receive compensation. As of July first, under no-fault insurance you will no longer have to prove the other driver is at fault and then try to recover compensation for your injuries from that driver's insurance company.

The new law provides immediate payment of consumers' out-of-pocket losses up to $10,000. The benefits will be paid by the company insuring the automobile in which the injured person was riding, no matter whose fault the accident is.

If you are seriously injured (if your medical and rehabilitation expenses exceed $1,000 or if there has been permanent disfigurement or loss of body member or function), you receive your basic no-fault benefits and still have the right to seek additional damages from a negligent driver.

Kentucky's new no-fault law requires you to have and carry basic auto liability protection of $10,000-$20,000 for injuries and $5,000 for property damage, plus a minimum of $10,000 basic no-fault benefits for each person. Get those figures? If you didn't, or if you need a further explanation of no-fault, contact your insurance company or the Kentucky Department of Insurance.

By the way, if you're a pedestrian and think this doesn't apply to you, you're wrong. If you, as a pedestrian, are injured in an automobile accident, the company insuring the automobile makes the payment. If the driver cannot be identified or does not carry insurance, your insurance company will pay.

If you already have an automobile liability policy, it will automatically be changed by your insurance company to include the basic no-fault personal injury coverage.

However, anyone may reject this plan and maintain the present system of injury compensation, including proving fault. If you decide to reject no-fault, your rejection must be in writing and on a form you may obtain from your insurance company.

But if all members of your family do accept no-fault protection, you will receive a 10 per cent reduction in your liability rates.

Remember, though, that no-fault insurance applies only to personal injury and not to property damage or collision. Wrecked vehicles will be handled exactly as they are handled today.

If you have a consumer complaint, contact the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection. Kentucky consumers may call toll-free on the consumer hotline by dialing 1-800-372-2960. Consumers should write to: Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, The Capitol, Room 34, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

No Sales Tax For Local Gov'ts

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Gov. Julian Carroll today resubmitted to the Kentucky General Assembly's Administrative Regulation Review Subcommittee an emergency regulation for the Department of Revenue that exempts from the Sales and Use Tax all purchases made by cities, counties and all other local governmental units.

The exemption includes utility service.

Gov. Carroll's primary reason for approving the regulation granting the blanket exemption to cities, counties and other local government units is to afford them some financial assistance, particularly badly needed now because of the soaring costs of utilities.

The governor is also concerned about the competitive advantage over Kentucky retailers heretofore enjoyed by out-of-state retailers who can make tax free sales of items of personal property to these same units of local government. This regulation will take away that out-of-state disadvantage.

A similar regulation was submitted for the legislative panel's approval on Jan. 29 but two of the three members of the subcommittee objected to a $500 limitation that was part of the proposal.

The current proposal has no such limitation and the governor anticipates the subcommittee's approval.

Memories of Dad

In remembrance of our dad, Stallard Stevens, who passed away July 15, 1973.

MEMORIES OF DAD

It was only two years ago our dad passed away.

Although he's gone his memories are here to stay. He was always kind, good, and gay. He always smiled and had something nice to say.

Before his going away he suffered much pain, But we knew our loss would be Heaven's gain. I'll never forget the good times we had. Sharing our trouble's good and bad. I'll never know why God took him away, But we all hope to meet him in Heaven some day.

Some Day You Too Might Walk Paths of Pioneer Jenny Wiley

By HELEN PRICE STACY

No one would want to walk in the actual footsteps of pioneer heroine Jenny Wiley, for she experienced much cruelty and heartache, but it may one day be possible to retrace paths taken by Jenny during her capture by and escape from Indians.

The entire trail, as proposed, would be 200 miles long and follow sectors plainly visible on high ridges, untouched in part by progress.

Even historians have difficulty believing that Jenny Sellards Wiley, wife of Thomas Wiley, made the long walk, endured the hardships and heartache and persevered to enjoy a new home in what later would be Johnson county.

A slow rain was falling that autumn evening around 1789 and it muffled any noise made by approaching Indians. Jenny was at her loom, her four children and a young brother around her. From the first Indian yell, it was only a few minutes till three children and the brother had been scalped before her eyes. She managed to save the 15-month-old baby.

Expecting her fifth child and with the baby in her arms, Jenny and her captors began the long walk that would take her from Walkers Creek, Va. through much of Eastern Kentucky. Three days after starting, Jenny saw her youngest child killed.

Always under close guard, Jenny marched along Tug Fork, crossed the Big Sandy near what is now Louisa, then along a ridge to an Indian village on the Ohio. Unwelcome there, the band traveled to Big Blaine Creek, where her baby was born. When the infant failed to pass Indian tests, it too was killed.

Months later, Jenny found a moment to slip away from her captors and, still traveling under extreme hardship, managed to make her way to freedom.

It was in offices of FIVECO Area Development District that the project to mark the Jenny Wiley Trail took shape. Initiators knew that clearing the trail and getting easements from private land owners might seem insurmountable, but as Jenny Wiley persevered to victory so could modern man in his need to retrace his heritage.

The late William Elsey Connelley, a noted historian, did extensive research on Jenny Wiley. He gave credence to her endurance only because he knew the iron will and fortitude of pioneers in efforts to survive.

Should the trail be cleared and marked as envisioned, it would include Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, near Prestonsburg, though historians claim the pioneer woman did not actually travel there. It would, however, be appropriate to include the beautiful park named in her honor.

Some day, hikers and horseback travelers might make the state park a place to rest and eat before continuing the trail; in the summertime, travelers might also camp for a few days, enjoy fine food in May Lodge dining room and a musical from the stage of the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre.

For today's travelers on Mountain Parkway and other highways leading to the park in Floyd county, the musical "Godspell" opens June 18 and continues through June 22, then plays each Friday from June 27 through Aug. 15. Other musicals are scheduled throughout the season, with tickets and information available from the theater, Box 22, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653.

Kentucky Afield

By Hope Carleton
Dept. of Fish and Wildlife

Kentucky's big lakes can get rough in a hurry when the wind comes up, and sometimes fishermen are forced to stay off the water because of unfavorable weather. At other times, particularly on holidays or long week-ends, it seems that there are just too many pleasure boats roaring around the lake to permit much productive fishing.

But there's no reason to just sit on the dock and wish you could be out fishing. Instead, try tailwaters—the streams just below the dams. Many of these tailwaters offer some good fishing either from the bank or from a boat, and fishing pressure is usually light.

Here is a brief rundown of the angling opportunities below the dams at 15 of Kentucky's major lakes and a description of some of the other facilities available. So give tailwater fishing a try—you'll probably find it a most satisfying alternative to lake fishing.

BARKLEY: Crappie, sauger, white bass, black bass, bluegill and catfish the year around. Fishing good for some 30 miles. Parking and launching for small and large boats.

KENTUCKY: Crappie, sauger, black bass, white bass, bluegill and catfish the year around. Some 20 miles of suitable waters. Parking, camping and launching for both small and large boats.

DALE HOLLOW: Tailwaters located in Tennessee.

FISHTRAP: Crappie, trout and black bass, best in fall. First three miles most productive. Parking, but no launching ramp.

HERRINGTON: Not available for fishing due to lack of access and poor fishing conditions generally.

A trout stamp is needed by all trout anglers at a cost of $2.25.

BUCKHORN— Trout, crappie, white bass, bluegill and catfish harvested spring through fall. The first three miles are the most productive. Bank fishing only. Parking area, camping and picnic tables available. No launching ramp.

GREEN: Trout, white bass, crappie, bluegill and catfish the year around. Bank fishing best within two miles below dam. Parking area and rest rooms available. No launching ramp.

GRAYSON: Crappie and trout harvested spring through fall. First mile most productive. Parking area available. No launching ramp.

CUMBERLAND: Trout, crappie, white bass and bluegill the year around. Good fishing for some 30 miles. Camping, parking and launching ramp (for johnboats and up to 20 HP outboards) available.

ROUGH RIVER: Trout, white bass, crappie, bluegill and catfish harvested spring through fall. Most productive area, first four miles. Parking area and camp sites available. No launching ramp.

NOLIN: Trout, white bass, crappie the year around. Most productive area, first 1 mile. Parking available, no launching ramp.

BARREN: Trout, crappie, white bass, black bass and bluegill, best spring through fall. Parking, camping and launching off gravel ramp (best suited for johnboat and 5 HP outboards).

CAVE RUN: Crappie, black bass, bluegill, catfish and musky, best spring through fall. Most productive area, first mile. Parking but no launching ramp.

LAUREL: White bass, crappie, catfish and black bass, best in spring. Accessible only by boat from Lake Cumberland.

DEWEY: Bluegill, crappie and catfish, best spring until fall. Most productive area, first three miles. Parking, but no launching ramp.

Freeman Receives Nat'l Safety Award

Frankfort, Ky.—Officer Cornelius Freeman, of Pikeville has received a national award from the National Water Safety Congress of Overland Park, Kansas. The award was presented as an "expression of appreciation for outstanding contributions to a local water safety program."

The certificate was presented to Freeman on behalf of the national organization by Robert Casey, safety officer of the Huntington, West Virginia office of the Corps of Engineers. Presentation was at Fishtrap Reservoir, May 28.

During the presentation of the award, it was noted that Officer Freeman conducted water safety classes for more than 21,000 students, mostly teenagers, in this area. In a four-month period, he gave side presentations and safety talks in 43 schools.

Freeman's duties include patrolling Dewey Lake and Fishtrap Reservoir performing boat inspections and enforcing boating laws. He also conducts investigations of this unit in cases of boating accidents and drownings.

A native Pike countyman, the young officer joined the Division of Water Enforcement, a unit of the Kentucky Department of Transportation, in March, 1972. Before joining the agency, Freeman was an electrician. He is married and has a two-year-old son.

Consumer Comments By ED W. HANCOCK
(Attorney General)

"We have to pay for something we did not receive!" a consumer from Paducah wrote to our office. Under existing law, he does.

He signed a contract, agreeing to pay about $80 a month for a school course for his son. The first payment was made to the school and the subsequent payments were payable to the finance company, to whom the contract had been assigned (sold).

According to the consumer, the son was soon informed that the school was closed and that all persons connected with the school had left the Commonwealth. Not only that, but the finance company was insisting on monthly payments, even though the school no longer existed and the son would never receive one bit of instruction.

This is a classic example of the problem of a legal doctrine called "holder-in-due-course." Many consumers have learned about it the hard way, by purchasing goods or services or credit, finding those goods or services defective, yet having to pay the lending institution anyway.

When consumers purchase goods or services on credit, the note or contract they sign with the seller is usually sold to a lending institution such as a bank or finance company.

In the vast majority of these cases, the contract contains a "waiver of defense" clause, which says that the consumer has no defenses against paying the lending institution, even if an item is defective or if a service was not performed.

A lending institution which buys such a contract then becomes a "holder-in-due-course," holding your contract and requiring you to pay. Most consumers do not understand the "holder-in-due-course" doctrine and many suffer because of it.

The Consumers' Advisory Council is considering legislation that would change this situation. A public hearing on the subject will be held Tuesday, June 17, in the Senate Chambers at the Capitol Building Frankfort. If you are interested in learning more about the "holder-in-due-course" doctrine, or if you wish to present your views on the subject, please come to the public hearing, beginning at 10 a.m.

In the meantime, remember that any time you sign a contract that has the words "consumer waives any defenses" (or any similar language) anywhere on the front or back of a contract, the contract may be sold to a holder-in-due-course, and you are, in effect, borrowing money from a financial institution and turning your cash over to the seller.

If you have a consumer complaint contact the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection. Kentucky consumers may call toll-free on the consumer hotline: 1-800-372-1960. Or you may write to: Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, The Capitol, Room 34, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Boy Scout Council Is Ready For Summertime Activities

Cub Scout day camp, week-long camping for Scouts, and trips to high-adventure bases for older Scouts and Explorers are on the calendar for members of the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Arthur Leach, of Prestonsburg, Council camping chairman, explains that most Scouting units have outdoor experiences scheduled year-round, but the heaviest schedule of activities comes during the summer months.

"We are ready to serve four to five hundred Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders during the next three months. There is no substitute for the type of program that Cub Scout packs, Scout troops, and Explorer posts can get from the outdoor program offered by the Lonesome Pine Council," Leach said.

The traditional summer camp of the Lonesome Pine Council will open June 22 and will give Scouts and their troops a week-long program. Some troops conduct their own week-long camps in other areas of the country. Camp Shawnee located in the German area of Dewey Lake, will be operated all summer by the Lonesome Pine Council. The first three weeks of camping, June 22-July 12, are reserved for Scout troops and other Scout-age boys who have and will make reservations for their week-long camping experience. The final three weeks of camp, July 13-August 2, are set aside for special camping including low-income non-Scouts and handicapped boys, although one troop of deaf boys has already made reservations to camp during the first week of camp operation.

Leach said that Robert M. Watkins, of Martin, has been selected as camping director and that Mr. Watkins has recruited an outstanding staff of local adults and older Scouts who will work together to provide the campers with exciting programs of swimming and other aquatic activities, Scout program skills, rifle marksmanship, archery, and athletics.

Many Cub Scout packs throughout the Lonesome Pine Council conduct day camps featuring abroad selection of activities related to the Cub Scout program. Scheduling of these camps is up to each Pack.

High-adventure bases for older Scouts and Explorers are located in a number of areas to offer hiking, camping, white-water canoeing, and many other activities that offer a challenge to young men and women. The council has reserved space at the Wisconsin National Canoe Base for older Scouts and Explorers who are interested in spending a week canoeing in the lake area of northern Wisconsin. The dates of this expedition are August 6-17. To be eligible to participate, a boy must be at least 14 years of age and in good health. The Wisconsin National Canoe Base is located on White Sand Lake at Bolder Junction, Wisconsin. The expedition from our council will also spend two days touring museums and other points of interest in Chicago on their return trip.

Those who may be interested in any of the summer activities which have been mentioned may obtain more information by contacting Lonesome Pine Council at P. O. Box 110, Pikeville, Ky. 41501 or by telephoning 606-437-6209.

Propose Regulation Changes For Water Quality Control

By JENNY PULLIAM

Frankfort, Ky.—Changes in five regulations, proposed by the state water pollution agency, were discussed at recent public hearings held in Frankfort by the division of water quality in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

Only one of the regulations—the minimum degree of treatment regulation—is completely new. Two regulations—the emergency episode and the permit regulations—have been modified. Two regulations which deal with stream classification and treatment technology and the water quality criteria regulations remain basically unchanged.

emergency bypasses to the environmental agency. New penalties for not reporting are contained in the revised regulation.

The other revised regulation requires a permit for building and operating a sewage system. The new version specifies additional information to be included on the permit application submitted to the division of water quality for evaluation.

The water quality criteria regulation provides water quality standards and sets forth a use classification system.

The stream classification and treatment technology regulation was the most debated.

Dean Hill Rivkin, an attorney from the Appalachian Research and Denense Fund of Kentucky, Inc., argued that the regulation isn't in step with federal water quality guidelines and state water pollution laws. He said that water quality standards should be applied on a broad definitional concept of state authority.

The new regulation controlling minimum degree of treatment sets out operational definitions of secondary sewage treatment and advanced sewage treatment.

The new regulation defines secondary treatment as the minimum allowed for biodegradable wastes and defines it arithmetically. The regulation also requires persons currently permitted to discharge biodegradable wastes to reapply for a permit by Jan. 1, 1976.

The revised emergency episode regulation requires waste treatment plants to report accidental spills and

Energy Office To Assist Industries Facing Cut-Off

Frankfort, Ky.—The Kentucky Energy Office will provide assistance in obtaining substitute fuel for those industries facing curtailments in natural gas supplies, according to John Stapleton, director of the energy office.

Last week's announcement by Columbia Gas of Kentucky stating that no natural gas would be available to industrial customers next winter was "bad news but not unexpected because of the experiences with shortages last year," Stapleton said.

"As in previous situations," he continued, "we will do everything we can to minimize impact and avoid loss of jobs."

Columbia Gas's announcement came as a result of notification by its wholesale supplier, Columbia Gas Transmission Corp., to anticipate a 28 per cent curtailment in supplies beginning Nov. 1. This is based on a normal winter and the percentage could change with abnormally warm or cold weather.

It compares with an average 20 per cent curtailment last winter, which resulted in up to 85 per cent cutbacks for large volume industrial users.

Columbia Gas has requested permission from the Kentucky Public Service Commission to immediately reduce gas deliveries to all industrial customers and to 110 commercial customers throughout the state.

State energy officials are currently surveying affected industries to make a complete analysis of the impact of these curtailments.

Stapleton noted that many firms had already made provisions for curtailment by installing standby systems using fuel oil, coal or propane. However, for those industries with no standby fuel supplies, "there is still time to do something," he said.

Stapleton added that "there are other alternatives and we don't want these industries to cut back on operations or shut down."

Last year Columbia Gas established an industrial pool in which gas was borrowed from commercial users. Stapleton said this measure was successful last year, but may not be practical this coming winter, as its effectiveness would be limited because of cutbacks to the commercial users.

The energy office will continue to stress conservation measures to all users of natural gas, Stapleton said, to possibly alleviate more drastic cutbacks at a later time.

Dr. Dee Ashley Akers, secretary of the Kentucky Development Cabinet, said that the state is attempting to avoid future shortages by taking steps in three time frames.

"For the short run we are providing technical assistance and geological data for exploratory drilling in Central Kentucky; for the middle run we are encouraging research exploration in shale gas; and for the long run we are participating in the future production of synthetic gas from coal," he said.

Akers noted that in the later category, several projects ranging from the production of low-BTU gas for local industries to the production of high quality, high-BTU pipeline gas are currently being studied for technical and economic feasibility.

Scout Camporee Winners Listed

Nearly 350 Scouts and their leaders from throughout the Lonesome Pine Council assembled at Breaks Interstate Park, May 16-17-18, for a week-end of competition and fun. Forty-five patrols comprising 22 troops participated. Each participating patrol was recognized for its achievement at the camporee. Scoring was based both upon scores earned in the eight competitive events and points earned during campsite inspections.

Six Presidential ribbons, the highest award made, were given to patrols scoring more than 100 points. Patrols earning Presidential ribbons were the Eagle patrol of Troop 328, Ashcamp, Ky., which scored the highest of any patrol in the camporee; Bobcat patrol, Troop 81, Millard, Ky.; Rattlesnake patrol, Troop 4, Big Stone Gap, Va.; Hawk patrol, Troop 142, David, Ky.; Moose patrol, Troop 12, Pikeville, Ky.; Indian Patrol, Troop 9, Whitesburg, Ky.

All of the other participating patrols were awarded a blue proficient camporee ribbon, a red standard camporee ribbon, or a yellow participating camporee ribbon.

Floyd patrols and the ribbons they won:

Troop 24, Maytown, Cougar patrol, red; Troop 32, Prestonsburg, Flaming Arrow patrol, blue, and Rattlesnake patrol, blue.

Many Boys Eligible To Join Scouting

When school lets out in June, many boys will become eligible to be Scouts or Cub Scouts and will be joining neighborhood troops or packs, according to John Fischer, president of the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Boys may become Scouts as soon as they complete the fifth grade or are 11 years of age, or they may become Cub Scouts when they complete the second grade or are 8 years of age, Fischer explained.

"One of the advantages when boys join a troop or pack in the spring is that they can get in on the special summer activities that the Lonesome Pine Council offers and that are conducted by the Scouting units," Fischer said.

Many boys learn about nearby troops or packs from their friends, Fischer said, or they may contact the Lonesome Pine Council service center at P. O. Box 110, Pikeville, Ky. 41501, phone (606) 437-6209.

Among the activities offered by the Lonesome Pine Council are week-long camping for Scouts and Cub Scouts at Camp Shawnee in this county, beginning June 22 and ending July 12; a trip to the Wisconsin National Canoe Base starting August 4 for older Scouts and Explorers, and participation in the National Order of the Arrow Conference, August 18-22, by local members of the Order of the Arrow.
