

Riverview Manor To Cost $960,000

Health Facility Here Approved For 105 Beds

Owners of the Mountain Manor Nursing Home here last week won the approval of the state Comprehensive Health Planning Council for construction of a second facility here, Riverview Manor, which will cost an estimated $960,000.

Riverview Manor, a two-story structure housing 49 intermediate care beds and a 56-bed skilled care facility, will be built on a two-acre lot purchased from the J. D. Mayo estate, south of Briarwood here. A contract on the construction project is expected to be awarded during the coming winter, and a year will be required for completion.

The four Prestonsburg men involved in this and other health facilities and services are H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Tom G. Dingus, Dr. J. D. Adams and Jack Absher.

At the same time the Comprehensive Health Planning Council approved Bel-Aire Manor, an Ashland facility planned by the same group, at an estimated cost of $2.6 million. Planned for the greater Ashland area, Bel-Aire Manor would provide 100 intermediate care beds and 60 skilled nursing beds. Approval of the project was made with the stipulation that the Flatwoods Convalescent Center, Flatwoods, Ky., be permitted to withdraw its certificate of need.

(Skilled nursing care, such as provided at Mountain Manor here, is on a 24-hour basis. Intermediate care beds are for those who do not require such skilled care but can under supervision care for themselves.)

The Prestonsburg group recently won approval of plans to construct an intermediate care facility at Pikeville, and the Council approved at its meeting last week a change in the name of the facility

Discuss Patriotic Day Plans

Discussing the parade route for this year's Red, White and Blue Day in a planning session Monday, are National Guard representatives Capt. Philip L. Antle and SP-4 Rebecca L. Coldiron, founder of the event Mrs. Marcella Bailey (seated) and Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce representative Ron Frasure (at right). This year's patriotic celebration, which has been designated an official Kentucky bicentennial event, will be held here October 25.

Harbor Dredging, Dock Renovation Ready To Start

Work will begin Saturday on the $806,038 harbor and dock renovation project at Jenny Wiley boat dock on Dewey Lake, George Barker, manager of Jenny Wiley State Park, announced Monday.

Contract for the two-phase project was awarded last week to P & N Construction Co., Lexington.

Phase 1 of the undertaking will involve harbor dredging and landscaping at a cost of $436,669. This will involve the removal of five feet of silt from the bottom of Brandy Keg Cove in which the boat dock is located and pumping the silt into the area drained by a small hollow, a short distance upstream from May Lodge. A dike will be built there to hold the silt and form an area which may provide other recreational facilities for the lodge.

Phase 2, which will cost $369,369, will involve enlarging of the dock, new flotation of slips, repair of the existing covered slips and construction of a display room, office and repair shop. Along the east bank of the harbor area new, walk-on slips for houseboats will be constructed, with electricity and running water provided. The boat launching site will be extended an additional five feet.

Dredging will begin with the extreme upper end of the cove where a small branch flows into that arm of the lake. Estimated volume of accumulated mud and silt to be removed and pumped to the new disposal site is 12,000 cubic yards.

Although the work is to begin this week, Mr. Barker said it apparently will not necessitate the removal of boats docked in the area prior to the lake drawdown date which is to be announced later.

This Town...That World

Lest we forget,—how could we after that debacle?—, we hasten to apologize for a flock of errors in our Floyd County Fair story last week. The jury is still out and has called for more coffee, but we have an idea the verdict will be: "The guy has either slipped or flipped."

PRAIRIE NIGHTMARE

One of the best cartoons to come this way is one of the Ace Reid "Cow Pokes" jobs which shows three cowpunchers, one with a branding iron in hand, remarking, "I had a horrible nightmare last night. I dreamed we had to start carryin' Malpractice insurance."

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE

We have never been able to get excited about all this talk of detente, treaties, union and the like. Things have come to such a pass that the old story of the father using twigs or sticks to prove to his sons that in union is strength fails to draw the amens from this corner that it did in the past.

The fact of the matter is, there's a world of difference in "unity" and "union." Unity means much. But union—consider this illustration of the difference between the two terms:

Tie two strange cats together by their tails and throw them across a clothesline. There, my friend, you have union, but could you call all that scratching and yowling unity?

P'burg, Martin City Races May Enliven Voting

The town of Martin has a full-fledged city election coming up Nov. 4, with a mayor and a full city council to be elected, and Prestonsburg has 11 candidates running on three tickets for its eight-member city council.

Wheelwright and Wayland have unopposed tickets for board of trustees. The deadline for filing was last Wednesday.

The Independent ticket has eight candidates for council here. They are Paul Joseph, George C. Brown, Ronald L. Hager, Donald C. Nunnery, Harold W. Cooley, Hansel Cooley, Abigail Allen and E. "Shag" Branham.

Edward R. Nairn is a council candidate here on the Independent and Impartial ticket; Paul Phillip Hughes on the Progressive, and Cloyd Johnson on the Liberty.

Six of the 11 candidates here—Joseph, Nunnery, Harold Cooley, Branham, Johnson and Hansel Cooley—are incumbents.

At Martin the incumbent, E. P. "Pete" Grigsby Sr., is opposed for the office of mayor by James "Jack" Conley, who is an Independent party candidate. Running for council on the Progressive ticket with Mayor Grigsby are Denzil Halbert, Clyde Hogsed, Sanford Ousley, John L. Maddox, Raymond Griffith, Jr., and J. C. Skeans.

Council candidates on the ticket with Conley are Glenn C. Patrick, John Quincy Salisbury, Harlen Bradley, Wheeler D. Crisp, Joe Everage and Howard Hamilton.

Wheelwright's unopposed board of trustees slate is composed of Delbert Davis, Frank Childers, John Bartuka, Roy Curry and Robert Fields.

The Wayland board of trustees ticket, also unopposed, includes Hobert Webb, Sr., James Castle, Willard Ratliff, Elmer H. Morrison and Hobert Webb, Jr.

Husband-Wife Tragedy Told

The Sept. 5 deaths in Kansas City, Mo. of Mrs. Antoinette Goodman Jenks, 31, native of West Prestonsburg, and her husband, Dr. Bud Jenks, 46, have been described by Kansas City authorities as murder-suicide. Investigators held that Dr. Jenks had killed himself after shooting his wife.

Cause of the double-tragedy is not known. The bodies were not found until an estimated 12 hours after death.

Mrs. Jenks was a daughter of Tom and Christine Preston Goodman, of Pikeville, formerly of West Prestonsburg, and was a granddaughter of Mitchell Preston, of Paintsville. She was a senior medical student and shortly before her death had been engaged in preparing for her internship.

Dr. Jenks formerly was a member of the faculties of Pikeville College and Marshall University.

Besides her parents, Mrs. Jenks is survived by one brother, Thomas Goodman, Jr., Virginia Beach, Va. attorney, and a sister, Mrs. Rosalie Huffman, Dayton, Ohio.

Her funeral was conducted in Kansas City.

Judge Names Stumbo Special Prosecutor

Harold Stumbo will not realize his desire to get the Eddie Jones murder trial over and done with before he leaves office Dec. 31 as commonwealth's attorney, since the case has been continued till next Jan. 12, but he may be an attorney in the trial, after all.

When he entered the continuance order in the case last week Special Judge Ralph N. Walter, of West Liberty, appointed Stumbo special prosecutor "to handle this action to its conclusion."

Magistrate Offers Reward for Arrest

Magistrate Kenneth Roberts this week posted a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who threw dynamite onto the driveway of his home on Stone Coal Creek at Garrett, early last Sunday morning.

The blast damaged the auto of the Roberts' daughter, Mrs. Claudia Jacobs, of Lexington, who was visiting her parents. Magistrate Roberts was not at home at the time. Notified by his wife of the explosion, he quickly called Kentucky state police to investigate.

No clue to the identity of those responsible is known to have been uncovered. It is believed the charge consisted of a single stick of dynamite.

Floyd Fair Information

To correct errors in the Floyd County Fair story published in last week's Times:

The fair begins today (Wednesday) and will continue four days through Saturday.

All exhibits, except livestock, poultry and flowers, must be at the Fair and properly entered with department chairmen by 5 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 17. Flowers must be entered between 9 a.m. and 12 noon Friday. Livestock and poultry must be entered by 11 a.m. Saturday.

The two bicycles will be given away at 5 p.m., Saturday. Holders of lucky tickets must be present to win.

A Meeting of Behemoths

Although details concerning the crash were unavailable Tuesday afternoon, three trucks, two tractor trailers and an in-unit coal truck, were involved in a serious smashup earlier that day at the intersection of US 23 and Rt. 80 at Allen. Injured in the wreck were David Compton, of Hueysville, Vernon James, of Grayson, and a third man, unidentified. They were taken to hospitals at Lexington, Paintsville and McDowell for treatment. None are thought to be critically injured, it was said.

Three Arrested On Rum Counts

Sheriff Joe W. Lewis reported this week that 50 pints of whiskey were confiscated last Thursday in a raid on the premises of Clifford Jarrell, of Banner. Officers in the raid were Commonwealth's Detective Doug Lewis, Deputy Sheriffs K. Kelley and Linzie Hunt.

Clay Smith was arrested here Sunday night on an illegal possession charge when six half-pints of whiskey and 31 cans of beer were taken from his car by Detective Lewis and Deputy Sheriff Kelley. The auto of Bobby Clay, of Arkansas Creek, was impounded after 37 halfpints of whiskey and eight cans of beer had been confiscated by the Sheriff's department.

Other arrests, charges lodged against each defendant, and names of arresting officers follow:

First National Wins Approval For Branches

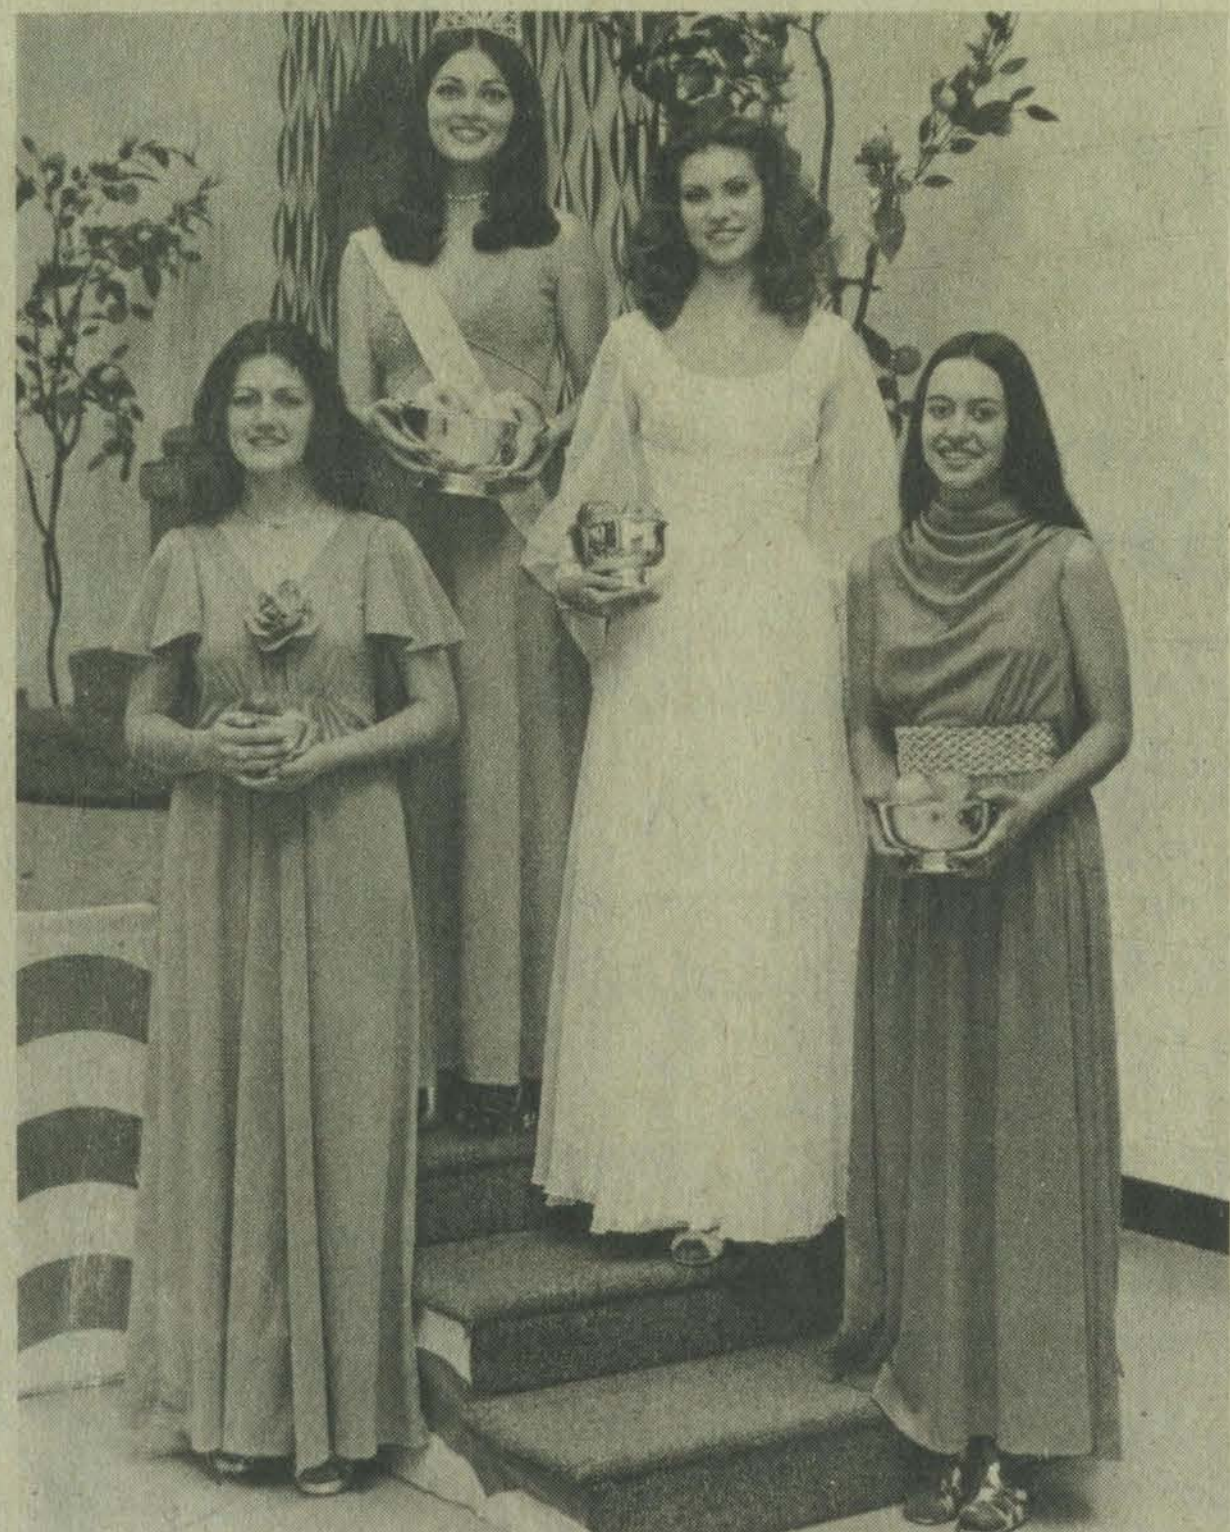

The Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C., announced on Sept. 8 its approval of The First National Bank's applications for two new branches, to be located at U. S. 23 & 460, Betsy Layne, and on North Lake Drive in Prestonsburg.

According to Burl Wells Spurlock, executive-vice-president of the bank, both branches will offer a full range of banking services, including drive-up facilities. "The expansion of our facilities", Mr. Spurlock said, "is intended to help us keep pace with our rapid growth rate, as well as to provide expanded customer services."

Although no official date has been set for groundbreaking ceremonies, it is anticipated by the First National Bank management that both branches will be fully operational by late next spring.

Their opening will give First National four banking facilities in the county. In addition to the main bank here, a branch at Martin has been in operation several years.

Floyd Girl, Apple Fest Queen

Miss Cathy Whitaker, 18-year-old Transylvania University junior (second from left), was crowned Miss Apple Queen 1975 at Paintsville last Saturday night in a pageant which included nine candidates for the honor.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Whitaker, of the Middle Creek road, Miss Whitaker will reign over the Johnson County Apple Festival, Oct. 3-4, and represent Kentucky at the Miss U. S. Apple Queen contest Oct. 11 at Bigerville, Pennsylvania. She was presented a silver bowl and a cash award of $150.

Miss Whitaker is a pre-med honors student at Transylvania.

First runnerup honors went to Miss Lee Stambaugh, of Ashland (third from left), 17, a freshman at Ashland Community College and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stambaugh. She was awarded a silver bowl and $100 cash.

Miss Sharon Lee (at right in photo), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom A. Lee, of Catlettsburg and a junior at Boyd County High, was second runnerup. Her awards were a silver bowl and $50.

The congeniality award for the pageant, "The Apple of My Eye," was won by Miss Robin Gillespie (pictured at left), 17, Johnson Central High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Gillespie.

Proposed Lake Ends Camp's 42-Year Service to 4-H'ers

The J. M. Feltner 4-H camp in Johnson county, which has hosted thousands of 4-H'ers from Floyd and other counties of Kentucky's Northeast 4-H district since it was opened as Rhododendron Camp in 1933, saw its last group of campers come and go this summer.

Lying in the watershed of the proposed Paint Creek Reservoir, the camp has been closed after acquisition of the property by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, and a new 4-H camp has been established in Boyd county.

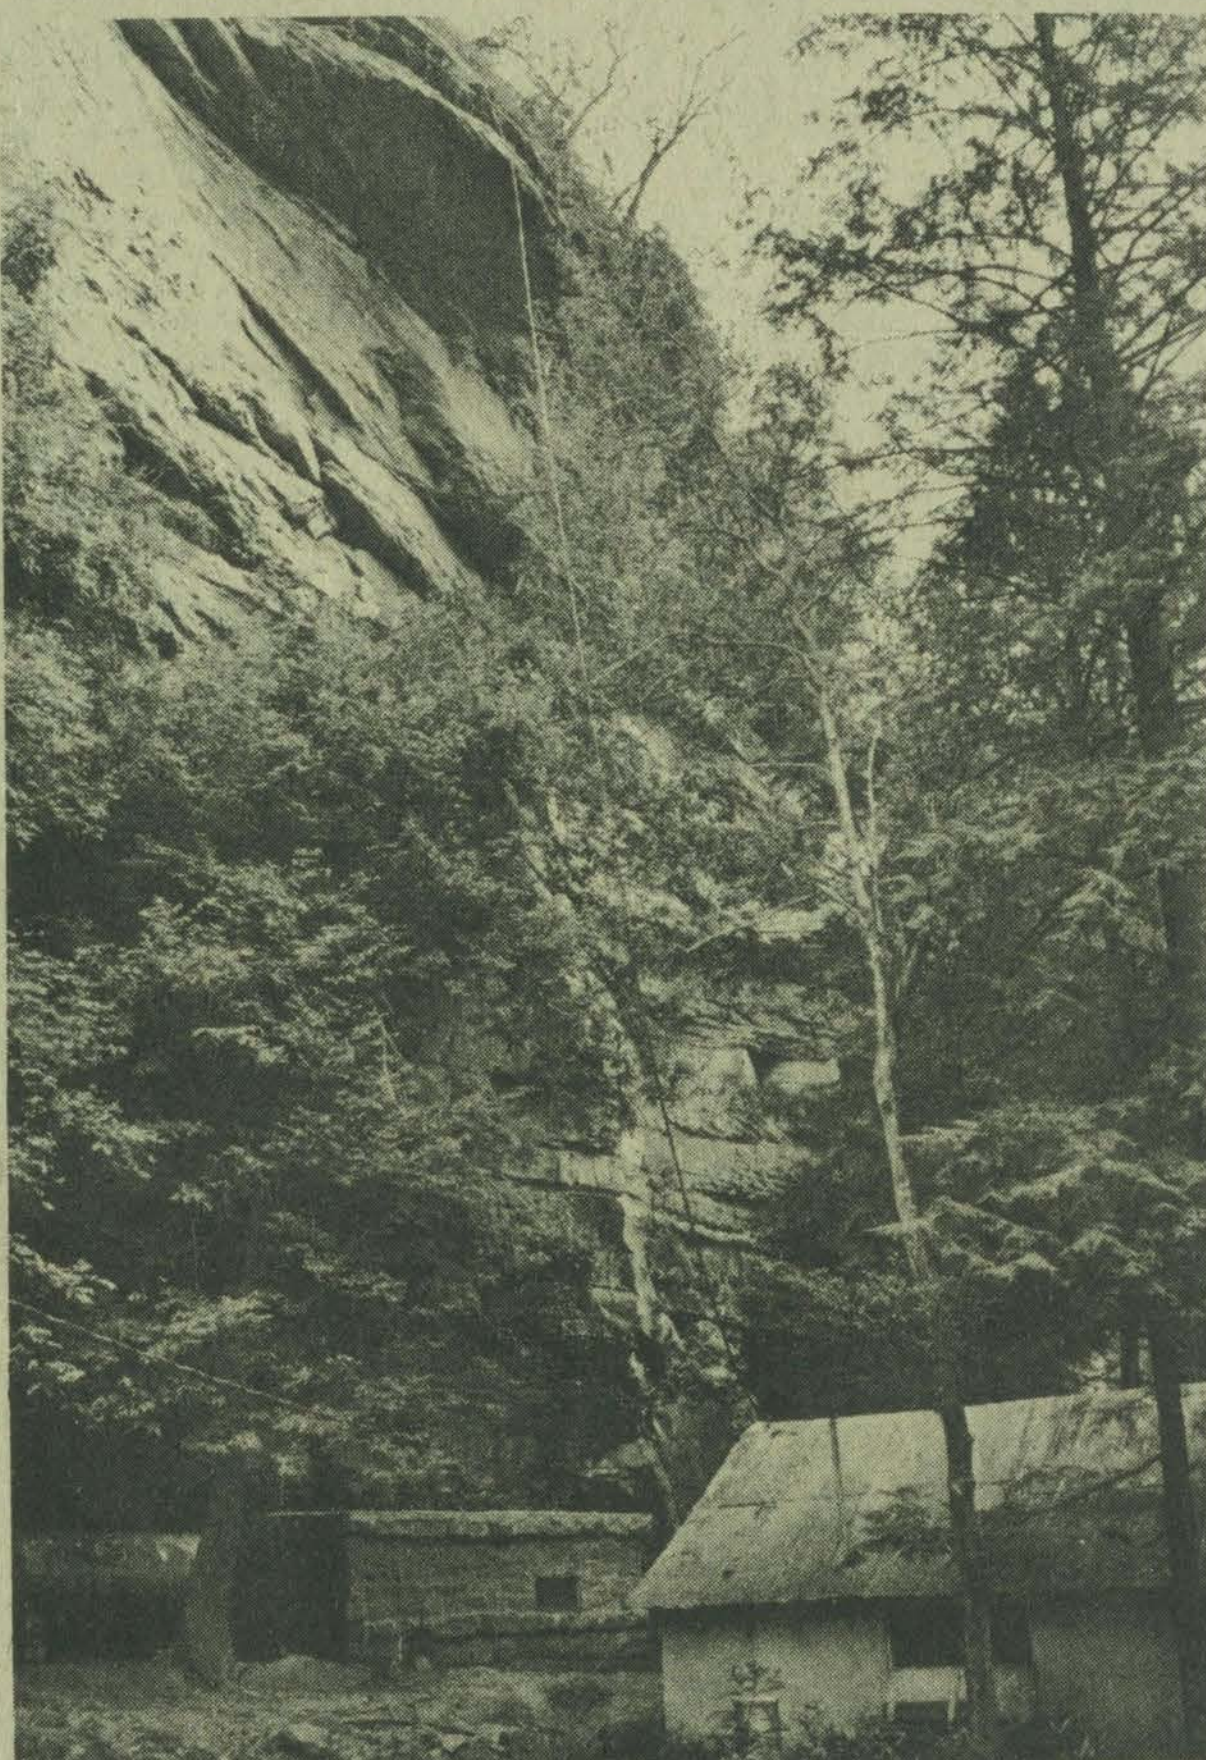

That first camp in July, 1933 was attended by 29 club members and seven camp leaders from Floyd county as well as County Agent Sam Isbell. Less than 100 campers attended the first summer from the entire Northeast 4-H district. This year, a record 188 4-H'ers attended the camp from Floyd county alone, with more than 1,000 campers, agents, leaders and parents from the 10-county Northeast area camping there.

Floyd county club members attending that original 4-H outing at Rhododendron Camp included: Harry J. Layne, Jenevieve Robinette, Hattie May Hopkins, Inez Baisden and Sarah Marie Parsons, of Betsy Layne; Charlotte Purdue, Pearl Kidd, Harry Layne, Bill Jackson, Kermit Howard, Russell Johns, Carmel Clarke and Carsey Kidd, from Harold; Marvin Music, Sam K. Rice and Clyde Music, of Little Paint; H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Harold Holcomb, Dick Mayo, M. G. Stephens, Robert Runnels, Southa Branham, Shirlene Branham and Anna Laura Hagans, from Prestonsburg; Anna Marie Smith, Erma Hays, Rose Hagan, Hershel Begley, from Maytown, and Pauline Akers, of Banner.

Marvin Music, Sr., now of Prestonsburg, who, with Sarah Marie Parsons was elected Star Camper in '33, recalls that first camp as being "rather rustic." Barracks were nonexistent and the week of July 24-29 was spent tent-camping. "Actually, the only buildings were a small storehouse built under a rock overhang and a cooking area," Music said. "There was no road directly to the camp and we had to carry all our food and gear down the hill." It is coincidental that Music's grandson, Marvin Trey Music, was a member of the last group that camped this year at J. M. Feltner.

The camp, which consists of several log and rough lumber structures which serve as barracks, bath houses and storage buildings, sits at the base of an imposing rock cliff. Huge cedars shade the grounds and the waxy leaves of wild rhododendron cling in thick clumps to the rocky terrain. Directly across the clear water of Paint Creek other rock faces and "rock houses" convey an atmosphere of wildness and isolation.

County Agent Jack Friar, who since moving here in 1957, has been instrumental in making Floyd county's 4-H program one of the most active in Eastern Kentucky, is more than a little sad about the passing of the camp. "It's just hard to imagine how beautiful it is down here (at the camp) when the rhododendron and wild flowers are in bloom," Friar said on a recent visit there.

Towering sandstone cliffs and rock overhangs provided an impressive natural setting for 4-H'ers camping at J. M. Feltner.

The new camp, located near the Boyd-Carter-Lawrence county lines, includes 50 acres of rolling land and will feature a large, winterized lodge overlooking a small lake, a swimming pool and bath house, and the area will permit the development of nature trails, an amphitheatre, a softball field and other facilities in the future.

Friar said the main concern now for the 4-H program is paying for the new camp. Friar said the $41,000 received from the Corps of Engineers "will not begin to build a new camp, due to the money-consuming requirements of health and safety codes and since the original heirs will get part of this settlement as a result of a reverter clause in the deeds."

To help finance the new camp, called Irish Acres 4-H Center, a Floyd County 4-H Fund has been organized to solicit funds from county residents.

"Floyd county has always been a leader in 4-H work," said Friar, "and the continued success of the 4-H program depends a great deal on whether we can raise enough money to support this new camp, now that J. M. Feltner is closed."

(Contributions may be sent to Floyd County 4-H Camp Fund, P. O. Box 111, Prestonsburg, and are tax deductible.)

More than $400 million is wasted annually on worthless arthritis "cures." Only a fraction of that amount, 20 million a year, is invested in arthritis research and professional training for arthritis specialists. Meanwhile, the total annual cost to the nation's economy due to arthritis, is a staggering 9 billion a year.

Little Miss Patriotic Registration Is Urged

The Little Miss Patriotic contest for girls, ages 2 to 5, as a prelude to Red, White and Blue Day, will be held Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m., in the Martin school auditorium, it was announced this week.

The Martin Woman's Club, sponsor of the contest, is urging parents to register their daughters of this age group for the contest. Registration may be made at the Martin Floral & Gift Shoppe, or by calling 285-9411 or 377-6461.

Two EKU Band Members Are from This County

RICHMOND, Ky.—The 190-member Eastern Kentucky University marching band includes two members from Floyd county. They are Melissa Lee Lafferty, clarinet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lynwood Lafferty, of Allen, and Jonell Tackett, saxophone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Tackett, of Prestonsburg. Both are graduates of Prestonsburg High School where their band director was Franklin Honeycutt.

Heavy Damages Asked in Suits

A suit for $375,000 was filed last Friday in Floyd circuit court, by Thomas M. Montgomery, doing business as Col. Thomas M. Montgomery & Associates, against Tennessee Plastics, Inc., doing business as Modular Structures Division. The action also names as plaintiffs two of the firm's officials, E. R. Buchi, president, and Alvin Hassell, sales manager.

The court action stems from the purchase by Montgomery of a modular home from the Tennessee firm and the claim by the plaintiff that the home was defective either in workmanship or materials, or both. On this count the plaintiff asked that $699.68 expenses which he has incurred as a result be paid, or the defects remedied, or the selling price adjusted.

Big items in the suit are in Count II in which Montgomery alleges he was defrauded because of the alleged poor workmanship and false representations, and that he consequently has lost business to the extent of failing to build 35 additional houses on which he would have realized a profit of approximately $5,000 per house. Compensatory damages of $175,000 and punitive damages of $200,000 are asked.

(Montgomery contends the transaction was the basis of indictments voted against him by the September grand jury. He alleges that his reputation as a reputable builder "has suffered because of defendants' statements and workmanship.")

Damages of $100,000 are asked by Leo Roberts in a suit filed Sept. 9 against the Western Pocahontas Corporation. Roberts says he leased a tract of coal on Toler Creek from the Osborn and Roberts heirs last May 3 and that he began preparing to mine coal immediately but was halted in August by a letter from Western Pocahontas, stating that his mining activity on the Keathley Branch of Toler Creek was on mineral lands owned by Western Pocahontas and notifying him to stop all mining there. Plaintiff contends that the defendant had no interest in the land or the mineral underlying the land which he had leased.

A total of $70,000 damages is asked by Magistrate Dewey Roberts and his wife, Sola, in a suit filed against Ira C. Hale, of Coeburn, Va., as the aftermath of a highway wreck last March 29 in which the Roberts auto was allegedly hit from behind by Hale's car. Mr. Roberts claims damages of $20,000; Mrs. Roberts, $50,000.

(Statements reported in damage suits reflect only the claims of plaintiffs and not those of the defendants.)

"Where Confidence Gets Business and Satisfaction Keeps It"

Apple Festival Time in Paintsville

By HELEN PRICE STACY

If you've ever been to the Kentucky Apple Festival in Paintsville, then you know what I'm writing about; and if you've never been, then this is the year to show up in Paintsville Oct. 2-4. You will walk along city streets (always roped off for this event) and delight in the aroma of apples, cinnamon and sweet cider.

"I smelled those good apples before I go to the pie booths," commented a Lawrence County woman at last year's festival. "By the time I got my pie—still warm from the pan, I was drooling."

Small pies, warm and sweet-smelling and sprinkled with cinnamon and sugar; stack cakes made from dried apples and exuding the scent of wine; red and gold apples sparkling with a candied coating; jugs of amber-gold cider; candies and cookies—even ice cream—all are part of this annual festival that will highlight this year's county Bicentennial activities.

You can take your pie with you and eat it as you go along, stopping at the various concession stands and viewing the antique displays in store windows. You can stop at the famous apple-butter kettle, and if you have not had your pie yet, the sight of this golden butter bubbling in the big kettle will whet your appetite to the point that you want to hunt a pan of hot biscuits immediately.

Growers are expecting their biggest apple harvest this year," said acting extension agent Prichard King. "We toured some apple orchards last week and noted that more than 130 acres are in orchards."

The festival already has a new king, for Ken DeBoard of Thelma, who last January was selected Kentucky's State Police Trooper of the Year, recently was named to succeed Cecil Meek of Meally.

A new apple queen will reign over this year's festival when Andrea Bridgett (Blair) Timbo will crown her successor in Paintsville High School gym Sept. 13. The new queen also will represent Kentucky in competition for Miss Apple Queen USA in Biglersville, Pa. this weekend after the John county festival.

In addition to palate-pleasing foods offered from dozens of booths, visitors will be provided constant entertainment throughout the event with special performances by celebrities.

On Friday night Conway Twitty and the Twitty Birds with Karen Wheeler and Johnny Russell will perform; and Saturday night a Johnson Central High School, Jim Ed Brown, the Cates Sisters and Bobby Bare will present concerts. Various musical and singing groups will play on downtown streets.

Kentucky craftsmen will be on hand to sell their wares and thousands of flea market items will be offered near the grade school gym.

Also features of the program are a giant parade, square dance, apple baby contests, band festival, antique car show, kiddie rides and numerous school athletic and other activities.

If you want to wear your calico dresses and bonnets and your jeans overalls complete with bib and bandana, you'll be right in style. If you don't own a calico dress, don't let that stop you from attending the apple festival. If you aren't there you'll miss out on apples to take home, apple butter, a pie or two and a cake and maybe a gallon or two of cider.

"I save up for the apple festival," said the Lawrence County woman. "Everything is so tasty. I can make apple pies at home, but they don't taste like the ones at the festival."

Order Would Stop Laurel Coal Firm

FRANKFORT, Ky.—A Laurel county coal firm has been issued a restraining order by Franklin circuit court Judge Henry Meigs as a result of action taken by the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

B & H Coal Co. was charged with strip mining without a permit about seven miles from East Bernstadt on Twin Branch Road.

The state division of reclamation issued B & H Coal Co. a notice of non-compliance for strip mining coal without a permit on April 3. An administrative hearing on the charge was held before the environmental department on May 29. As a result of that hearing, on July 22, John S. Hoffman, secretary of the department, ordered B & H Coal Co. to stop strip mining and reclaim the affected area.

The suit filed in Franklin circuit court by the environmental department Sept. 9, says Hoffman's orders were not obeyed and the coal company has created a situation constituting a great, immediate and irreparable threat of harm to the surface lands of the state. The state also seeks penalties.

The Grand Jury Report

The Floyd circuit court's grand jury had a point well taken when it pointed out that it should be standard procedure for a new grand jury to take a look at the recommendations of its predecessor and to determine what had been done toward making such recommendations mean something.

It is not enough for a grand jury, or any other body, or even the most powerful individual, simply to look out on the hard-worked field of crime or on areas of official neglect, then to dismiss the whole matter with a perfunctory statement expressing disapproval and alarm. If a grand jury is to be trusted and if its report has any reason for being a part of the court records, its recommendations deserve more than a mere reading.

Recent grand juries have commented on several items of wide public interest. They have called for intensive investigation of the drug situation in the county and the county's schools; for something to be done about the widespread pollution of streams, and about the desecration of many roadsides by those whose idea of ridding themselves of their own filth is to dump it on the property of another. Even cleanliness in the courthouse and orderliness in the courthouse grounds where parking is a daily source of vexation to officials and the public alike—such matters as these have been recommended for action.

Yet the grand jury reports have meant little more than a small contribution to the supply of reading material; apparently, they have been read and laid aside.

Perhaps the next grand jury will get action if it insists, as the September jury suggested, on taking a look at what was asked and what was actually done. Or even attempted to be done. Failing to find any evidence of action, it might decide exactly where the fault lies and begin to explore the means available to it to get something done.

DESERVES—AND NEEDS—HONOR
Today, Sept. 17, marks the beginning of Constitution Week, and I am expected to write an editorial about it (thanks, ladies, but I am just not in the mood).

I will say this: Honor the Constitution in every way possible. It needs it, with all the dishonor that is being done it. The Supreme Law of the Land has been amended, interpreted, misinterpreted, hacked and slashed, the spirit called substance and substance called spirit till we all are a bit confused.

From that one, basic law this country has evolved a multitude of picayunish opinions and tenets that are matched only by the multiplicity of nitpicking regulations that evolved from the Jewish Law.

Men extol its virtues, orations have been delivered about it for generations, sermons preached, vows of allegiance made—and yet it stands in danger of destruction by the very people whom it has so long and faithfully served.

The unemployment rate must not be so high, hereabouts. There is a patch of the tall and uncut around my place that cries for either a mower or a couple of goats.

Agree To Pollution Pay settlements

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Julian Carroll announced Monday that four Kentucky firms have agreed to pay a total of $46,000 for violating state pollution laws, bringing the total of such settlements to $284,420 since last January.

Penalties collected for all of 1974 were $157,960.

All the firms also agreed to take corrective action.

Harlan Fuel Coal Co. of Harlan County will pay the state $19,000 in damages for violating state water quality standards. It also will take steps to prevent future blackwater spills.

Agrico Chemical Co., of Henderson, will pay $15,000 for violating state air pollution standards.

Calgon Corp., of Boyd county, will pay $10,000 for violating water quality standards.

Cumberland Strip and Auger, Inc., of Williamsburg, will pay $2,000 in damages for strip-mining without a permit in Leslie county. The company also has agreed to reclaim the area affected.

from Mountain Manor Intermediate Care Home to Highlands Manor. Its skilled nursing care facility, Mountain Manor of Pikeville, is already in operation.

Action on two local applications was deferred and were sent back to the Regional Health Planning Council. The applications are those of the Highlands Regional Medical Center to add a hemodialysis unit, and of Mountain Comprehensive Care Center here to establish a child-abuse program. The latter was deferred on the grounds that the applicant did not delineate programs, services and financial support needed to justify an expenditure of this magnitude.

Other Eastern Kentucky services and facilities approved are:

Kings' Daughters Hospital, Ashland, to replace the present laundry service at an estimated cost of $225,000.

Riverview Rest Home, Ashland, to reduce the licensed capacity by five personal care beds.

Whitesburg Appalachian Regional Hospital, Whitesburg, to convert 25 acute beds to 25 intermediate care beds.

Cumberland Valley District Health Department, Manchester, to expand services to include Rockcastle county.

Laurel Heights Home for the Elderly, London, to add 38 intermediate care beds and 22 personal care beds at an estimated cost of $660,000;

Memorial Hospital, Inc., Manchester, to convert 11 extended care beds to intermediate care beds on a temporary basis.

Dishman Personal Care Home, Monticello, to add six personal care beds;

Sunrise Manor, Inc., Somerset, to convert 24 personal care beds to skilled nursing beds;

Hazard Appalachian Regional Hospital, Hazard, to convert 25 skilled nursing beds to acute care beds.

Mud Creek Health Project, Beaver, Mountain Health Services, Inc., McDowell, and Highlands Regional Medical Center, Prestonsburg, to establish a chronic obstructive pulmonary disease program, with the stipulation that the three facilities must meet minimum standards of the respiratory disease committee.

Elliott Family Care Home, Girdler, to establish a three-bed family care home, with the stipulation that the applicant must meet all safety and sanitary requirements.

Although cost of the undertaking exceeded original estimates and are more than the $750,000 appropriated by the state early this year, federal funds have been made available to help with the work.

Each phase of the contract has been allowed 150 days for completion, but Mr. Barker said the contractor has said work on both phases can be done simultaneously, much of the time, and so completion of the entire project is expected before the opening of the 1976 boating and fishing season.

for hearing on a charge of killing Crit Butler.

It appeared this week that the chances of the trial of Robert Sykes, one of four men who were indicted for the murder of Mrs. Boone Deskins in Pike county, are brighter. Circuit Judge Hollie Conley, who will preside at the trial, has issued orders that Boone Deskins, who is serving a pen term for his wife's slaying, be brought here from Eddyville state prison for the duration of the trial and that Eugene Thompson, who is wanted by Sykes as a defense witness, be returned by U. S. marshals from the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas.

The murder docket for the term will conclude Oct. 1 with the trial of Tom Puckett, who is charged with the Abbott Creek slaying of Vernon Hopkins.

When Rodney Damron, charged with grand larceny, and Danny Adams, under child desertion indictment, appeared in court Monday and reported not ready for trial, both were remanded to jail.

Two defendants have been convicted on liquor charges, both on pleas of guilty. Greg Hall was fined $20 and sentenced to a 30-day jail term on a possession count, and Clarence Martin was fined $100 and given 60-day jail terms on each of two charges of possession.

Two charges of selling illegal drugs were dismissed. The dismissal order pointed out that the action was taken because the prosecuting witness did not wish to reveal the informant's name. (Present law requires that the informant in such cases be identified.) The liquor possession indictment against Eugene Wright was dismissed because of a defective search warrant. The motion to dismiss the drug possession case against Roger Voelker was overruled.

Bonds of seven defendants were forfeited when they failed to appear on the trial date: Kenneth Allen, of Left Beaver Creek, rape and incest; Clarence Slone, obtaining money under false pretense; Ruthie Tackett Hall, possession of alcoholic beverages; James Shepherd, transporting illegal intoxicants; Don Howard, third degree assault; Billy Jo McCarty, theft; Clarence Slone, arson.

Cases set for trial: Vonne Yates (Damron), knowingly receiving stolen property, Sept. 29; McKinley Hall, first degree assault, Sept. 17; Charles E. Sexton and Namon Samons, hit-run and leaving the scene of an accident, Sept. 30; Jim Bb Vance, first degree assault, Oct. 2; Freddie Cline Williams, possession, Sept. 29; Harold Joseph, possession, Oct. 2.

Cases dismissed: Jackie Dean Endicott, third degree criminal mischief; Bee Hall, obtaining money under false pretense; Henry Hall, Jr. and David Lawrence Daniels, grand larceny and knowingly receiving stolen property; Kentucky Coal Co., Potters and Walters Coal Co., pollution; Phillip Erdman, grand larceny and knowingly receiving stolen property, and Mr. and Mrs. Erma Tackett, cold check, both cases filed away, subject to redocket.

My Diary

October 2: Today my life began. My parents do not know it yet. I am as small as the pollen of a flower, but is I already. I will be a girl. I will have blonde hair and blue eyes. Nearly everything is settled already—even that I shall love birds.

October 19: I have grown a little, but I am still to small to do anything by myself. My mother does everything for me, although she still does not know that she is carrying me under her heart. But I am a real person just as a crumb of bread is still real bread. My mother exists, and I do too.

October 23: My mouth is just now beginning to open. Just think—in a year or so I'll be laughing, and later I'll start to talk. My first word will be "mama."

October 25: Today my heart began to beat. It will beat softly for the rest of my life, never stopping. After many years it will tire and stop. Then I shall die.

November 2: I am growing continually. My arms and legs are taking shape, but I must wait a long time before these tiny legs will raise me to my mother's arms; before these little arms will be able to conquer the earth and befriend people.

November 12: Tiny fingers are beginning to form on my hands. How small they are. One day I'll stroke my mother's hair and tell her how nice she is.

November 20: Only today the doctor told my mother that I'm living here under her heart. How happy she must be! Are you happy, mother?

November 25: My mother and father are probably thinking about a name for me. And they don't even know that I am a little girl, so they are probably calling me "Andy." But I want to be called Barbara. I am growing so big.

December 10: My hair is growing. It is as bright and shiny as the sun. I wonder what kind of hair my mother has.

December 13: My eyes are almost fully developed, although the lids are still shut. When mother brings me into the world it will be full of sunshine and overflowing with flowers. I have never seen a flower, you know, but more than anything I want to see my mother. How do you look mother?

December 24: My fingers and toes are fully formed. Even my nails are beginning to develop.

December 26: I wonder if my mother hears the delicate beat of my heart? Some children are born with sickly hearts, and then the gentle fingers of the doctor perform miracles to make them healthy. But my heart is healthy. It beats so evenly: tup-tup, tup-tup. You shall have a healthy daughter, mother.

December 28: Today my mother killed me.

God says, Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord; and the fruit of the womb is his reward. (Psalm 127:3)

The Psalmist wrote, I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made. Marvelous are thy works, and that my soul knoweth right well. My substance was not hid from thee when I was made in secret and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth. Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfected; and in thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them. (Psalm 139:14-16)

Isiah said, The Lord hath called me from the womb; by the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name . . . And, now, saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant . . . (Isaiah 49:1-5)

Floyd Co. Residents Contribute $3,628 To Heart Fund Drive

Floyd county residents contributed $3,628 to the Heart Fund drive in 1975, an increase of $2,493 over the 1974 total of $1,135, according to Mrs. Jeanne Brown, county chairman.

Audited figures for the statewide drive, as reported at the end of the fiscal year on June 30, showed a total of $726,476 given in 1975 as compared to $650,751 donated last year.

State Campaign Chairman Jesse Stuart of Greenup, well-known novelist, poet and lecturer, said "We are proud of this sizeable increase of 11 per cent, especially in view of the current business situation and the generally unfavorable weather we had on Heart Sunday (February 23) during our house-to-house solicitation."

A heart victim himself, Stuart pointed out that "54 per cent of all deaths from all causes in this country—more than all of the others combined—are due to heart and blood vessel diseases." He urged "continuing and increased support" for the three-point program of research, health education and community service being conducted by the Kentucky Heart Association.

How do you tell whether or not you have arthritis? If you suffer pain, stiffness, soreness or swelling in the joints, if you are losing weight and don't feel like eating, if you feel generally weak and tire easily, better see your doctor right away.

Mrs. Polly, First Woman On Scout Executive Board

Mrs. B. E. Polly, Jr., of Big Stone Gap, Va., is the first woman to be appointed to the executive board of the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, it was said this week by John Fischer, Council president.

Mrs. Polly has been assigned the position of Council vice-president for Cub Scouting which is a new position recommended for all local Scout councils throughout the country. In her new position, Mrs. Polly will plan and organize council-wide activities for Cub Scouts as well as council-wide training events for Cub leaders.

Few people realize how much can be done about arthritis, to control pain, to prevent deformity and disability. For the facts, write or call the Kentucky Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation.

Pike Is Only County Applying for Funds

By ROBERT L. MARSH
(In The Herald-Dispatch, Sept. 13)
PRESTONSBURG, Ky.—With the deadline just two days away, only Pike County among the five counties in the Big Sandy Area Development District (ADD), has applied for a portion of the $375 million available nationwide under Title X of the Economic Opportunity Act (EOA).

The reason is to be found in a disagreement among Big Sandy officials over the eligibility guidelines and the fact that at least three of the counties were not aware of the program.

The deadline for applications is Monday.

Joe McCauley, executive director of the Big Sandy ADD board, stated yesterday that under information available from the Atlanta Regional Office of the Economic Development Agency only counties with 11.1 per cent unemployment as of June 1975 could qualify. As a result, only Magoffin County was notified of the funds.

According to McCauley, a project was developed initially but later scrapped when it was discovered that only a small portion of the project costs would involve labor. Under the guidelines of the act, 60 per cent of project costs must go for labor.

Steve Friend, Pike County planner, disputes McCauley's explanation of the criteria. He pointed out yesterday that the qualifications listed in the program's guidelines required only one or more of the following:

An unemployment level of 6.5 per cent or more for six months, a county already eligible for CETA (Concentrated Employment Training Act) funds or a county in a district designated as a redevelopment area.

"All the Big Sandy counties would qualify under at least two of these qualifications," Friend argued, "and some under all three."

The dispute began Monday when Friend first learned of the existence of Title X funds.

James Masino, Johnson County planner, learned the same day through a telephone inquiry from a consultant. The consultant asked if Johnson County planned to apply for any of the funds.

When interviewed yesterday, Masino was asked how the county usually is notified of such programs.

"Normally, such information would come from the district human resources planner, L. B. LeMaster," Masino stated.

LeMaster, it was learned, did not inform the counties because "I was told by the executive director (McCauley) that there were no funds available for these counties."

A telephone check with Prestonsburg and Floyd County confirmed that they were not aware of the existence of Title X or the possibility of applying for any of its funds.

Mayor Allan Perry of Paintsville, a member of the ADD Board, was likewise unaware of the program. Martin County Judge Ray Fields could not be reached at his office for comment.

Late yesterday afternoon, Judy Gaines, a staff member at the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC), one of the agencies receiving applications, was contacted by phone.

Miss Gaines confirmed Friend's analysis of the Title X funding eligibility.

Arthritis Campaign Chairmen Named

A goal of $1300 has been set for Floyd County in its 1975 Arthritis Foundation fund-raising campaign. Since the first drive was held here four years ago, the county has met or exceeded its goal.

Miss Burieta Gearheart, county chairman, this week announced the names of community chairmen who will conduct fund-raising efforts throughout the month. They are:

Miss Lorena Hall, Maytown-Langley, sponsored by the Maytown Woman's Club, Miss Ruby Akers, Drift, Drift Woman's Club, Mrs. Alma Key, Martin, Mrs. Jerry Frost, Allen, Mrs. Virginia Jamerson and Mrs. Ethel Osborne, co-chairman, Wheelwright, Burton, Melvin and Weeksbury, Mrs. J. C. Wells, Garrett, Wayland, Lackey, Wayland, Garrett, Lackey Woman's Club, Mrs. John W. Sutherland, Victory March chairman, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Bonnie C. Walters, Emma, Mrs. Maye Akers, Harold, and James A. George, Betsy Layne.

Funds raised through this and similar drives throughout the state are used for research and treatment of arthritis sufferers. Among the clinics benefitting from grants from the Arthritis Foundation are three in Louisville at St. Joseph's Infirmary, Norton Children's Hospital and General Hospital, and two in Lexington, at the Medical Center and the new Veterans' Hospital. In addition, the 39th Arthritis Teaching, Clinical and Research Center in the country was established in Louisville in September, 1974.

Unemployment insurance benefits of about $5.5 billion were paid to approximately 6.7 million individuals during fiscal year 1974.

Babe Ruth 'Athletes of Year'

Four members of the Floyd County Babe Ruth Baseball League have been named to the organization's "Athletes of the Year" program for 1975. Pictured above, they are, from left, Wesley Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Case, of Martin, Mike Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Estill Smith, of Manton, Brian Click, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Click, Jr., of Martin, and Jeff Samons, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Samons, also of Martin.

Babe Ruth League managers and presidents over the country made nominations for this honor earlier this summer. Standards for selections are based on athletic ability including statistics and overall performance, sportsmanship and personal leadership displayed during the current season. In addition, a player must have been an active participant in an officially recognized Babe Ruth league during 1975. Sponsored by Babe Ruth International, Athletes of the Year is an annual honor roll paying tribute to team players from the world's largest regulation baseball activity for young people between the ages of 13 and 18.

The National Advisory Board for the program is composed of prominent baseball personalities including Mrs. Babe Ruth, Mrs. Ford Frick, former baseball commissioner, Lefty Gomez, Elston Howard, Vada Pinson, Brooks Robinson, and Al Downing.

She added that as long as the application met the approval of the local comprehensive plan or was not in conflict with it, either public or private groups could apply.

Miss Gaines pointed out, however, that the submission of an application gave no guarantee that it would receive approval.

ARC forwards its Title X applications to the Department of Commerce once it has been given ARC approval. The application must then compete with those approved by other federal agencies for the $375 million appropriated, she added.

It is probably because of this competition that Pike County has asked for the assistance of Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky.

Unlike her sister counties, Pike County rushed through an application once it heard of the program. The application for $79,000 to be used in the development of solid waste disposal was forwarded by registered mail yesterday morning.

According to Friend, Pike County has informed Rep. Perkins of the application and asked for his help in obtaining a favorable response.

McCauley says that his information about the program came in a conversation with Charles Mason, a former Martin County resident, now directing EDA operations in Atlanta.

It is possible that the difference of opinion is to be found in the existence of different agencies.

As many as 100 different federal agencies could conceivably accept applications for Title X funds. Each may have interposed its own criteria on top of the congressional guidelines, in which event, both McCauley and Friend apparently may be correct.

Nevertheless, the question of local officials having the necessary information on which to base independent judgments remains.

July Highway Construction In State at All-Time High

Frankfort, Ky.—More than $31 million in contracted work, an all-time high, was performed during the month of July, according to a report made recently to Gov. Julian Carroll by state Secretary of Transportation John C. Roberts.

The total amount of $31,331,933.06 exceeded the previous high of $25.5 million in October, 1974.

"This increased activity is a reflection of our insistence on doing as much as we possibly can to keep Kentuckians working and to see to it that more Kentuckians get work during this period of high unemployment," Gov. Carroll said.

"This figure is the amount of work performed by contractors, not the amount of bids let," Roberts emphasized.

"The additional $6 million over the previous high figure is a result of industrial haul road activities," Roberts added, "combined with the efforts of the Department of Transportation toward progress in some of the more difficult areas."

The pay estimates due contractors for work completed during July in each highway district and their headquarters are:

- District 1 (Paducah), $1,696,499.09;
- District 2 (Madisonville), $1,672,372.95;
- District 3 (Bowling Green), $1,086,657.25;
- District 4 (Elizabethtown), $1,604,167.97;
- District 5 (Louisville), $2,779,223.70;
- District 6 (Covington), $4,840,140.94;
- District 7 (Lexington), $1,972,458.79;
- District 8 (Somerset), $2,174,090.86;
- District 9 (Flemingsburg), $1,999,093.26;
- District 10 (Jackson), $4,381,941.43;
- District 11 (Manchester), $4,126,565.36;
- District 12 (Pikeville), $2,998,721.46.

Of the three districts with the most work accomplished, District 6 is the site of construction on I-471 and I-275 near Covington; District 10's main project is the Appalachian Development Program centered near Hazard; and a large number of industrial haul roads are currently being upgraded in District 11.

Fishing Unlimited Week-ends Planned

For the 15th consecutive year the Kentucky Department of Parks will sponsor its fall Fishing Unlimited program at Barren River Lake State Park and Lake Cumberland State Park. These lakes should provide for excellent fishing, beautiful scenery, and good weather. Fishing unlimited also provides for fun, relaxation, and enjoyment for all who participate.

The first Fishing Unlimited week-end will be at Barren River Lake State Park, Lucas, Ky., September 26, 27, 28. The second at Lake Cumberland State Park, Jamestown, will open its angling competition October 24, 25, 26. Programs for both Fishing Unlimited week-ends begin at noon (local time) on Friday and end at noon (local time) on Sunday with the trophy presentation to follow at 12:45 p.m.

Willenbrink's, Inc. of Louisville, will display the latest in items for the fisherman at both programs. They will feature Taylor Britton and Bill Stenbridge, president of Stenbridge Flitail, famous artificial plastic worms, at Barren River, and Vern Buchman, director of Field Testing for Berkley and Company, Spirit Lake, Iowa, will be at Lake Cumberland. These men will be at the Fishing Unlimiteds not only to display their products but to help the fisherman with his questions about rods, reels, line, lures, or just about any question he may have regarding fishing. Hope Carleton, director of Public Relations, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, will be the special guest at both programs to speak on fishing techniques.

Reservations should be made by September 12, for Barren River, and by October 10, for Lake Cumberland.

IN APPRECIATION

We, the family of Andrew Jackson (Jack) Case, take this opportunity to thank all our wonderful friends for the many kindnesses shown us upon the passing of our dear father and grandfather. A very special thanks to Linnie and Junie Boyd and all the wonderful women on Prater Creek who worked so hard to make our sorrow a little lighter. May God bless you always. We thank the ministers and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for such kind and efficient service. To every one who helped in any way, may God be with you always.

Big Sandy Crime Group To Join Other Councils In Buckhorn Park Meet

Officials of law enforcement agencies in the 21-county Cumberland Valley, Kentucky River and Big Sandy regional crime council districts will attend an organizational meeting on crime prevention slated for 10 a.m., Sept. 18 at Buckhorn Lake State Park Lodge.

The meeting, which is sponsored by the state Justice Department's Office of Crime Prevention, is being held in advance of a major statewide crime prevention conference scheduled for early next month at which Gov. Julian Carroll will officially launch Operation Identification.

Police officers from this region and those attending similar planning meetings in seven other areas of the state will be given literature, films and other materials for use during the identification campaign which will include getting citizens to mark their personal belongings.

A Plea for Help

Concerning three recent deaths in the Henderson family: I am asking for help because my husband is disabled to work, and we live on a very small income. We have lost three children in the past 22 months, two of whom have passed away within the last seven months. We couldn't buy insurance on them because of an incurable disease.

Anyone who wants to and is able to donate a few dollars toward funeral expenses for the children, it would be greatly appreciated, and I am sure God will bless you for it.

The president of a college stands before a thousand students who have completed their studies and are present to receive their diplomas.

"I confer upon you the degree recommended by the Dean, I accord you its privileges, and I remind you of its duties."

Every privilege carries with it a duty. It is sometimes hard for us to understand this.

We are free—not to do as we want to do but to do as we ought to do. Freedom does not mean license; it means the opportunity to do what is right. When personal liberties are increased—so are personal duties. At this particular time in our nation—we all need to be reminded of this fact.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: To be really free—one must accept the obligations of freedom.

Gov. Carroll Opposes Red River Reservoir

Gov. Julian Carroll announced his opposition last Thursday to the construction of the proposed Red River Dam.

During a press conference in his office, the governor said he had reached his decision after receiving additional information in a report from the U. S. General Accounting Office and the results of an archaeological investigation of Red River Gorge announced last week.

"After months of study, consideration of a multitude of information, numerous conferences and personal observations, based on the information available to me, I find no compelling reason to build the Red River Dam," said Gov. Carroll reading from a 22-page statement.

The governor said he has informed Col. James N. Ellis, district engineer of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, of his decision, and telephoned Rep. Carl Perkins and U. S. Senators Walter Huddleston and Wendell Ford.

Carroll said that, based on previous statements from the Army Corps of Engineers and the Secretary of the Army, he believed his official opposition "is sufficient to stop" construction of the proposed dam.

While not bound by law to do so, the Corps of Engineers which proposes to build the dam, traditionally has dropped projects that have been opposed by "host governors."

Gov. Carroll said he would not anticipate any further involvement by him even in the event the Corps of Engineers decides to proceed with the construction despite his opposition.

Further involvement by him, Carroll said, "would just be a simple matter of placing my statement of today in federal court."

Last week Federal Judge Rhodes Bratcher issued a preliminary injunction preventing the Corps of Engineers from allocating money for the project or attempting to buy land for construction.

The dam construction, authorized in 1962 by the U. S. Flood Control Act, has been proposed for a site on Red River about four miles northeast of Slade, Ky. in Menifee, Powell and Wolfe counties. The $34 million project has drawn criticism from environmentalists interested in protecting scenic Red River Gorge, which is partially located in the proposed construction area.

The Corps of Engineers has said that the dam and the 1,500 acre lake that would also be part of the project would provide the three-county area and counties north of it with needed flood control, a contingency water supply to contend with future shortages, and recreational benefits.

In making his decision, Gov. Carroll said he weighed the objectives of the project against its impact on the natural surroundings, and whether any acceptable alternatives to the construction of the dam were available.

Carroll said plans for the dam thus far, in his opinion, have "precluded any consideration of possible alternatives" in realizing the objectives of the project.

Carroll said that, while a dam on the Red River would provide flood protection, other streams greatly contribute to the present flooding problems there. "If this is true, structural measures consisting of levees, or a combination of levees and channel diversions would possibly provide even greater flood protection."

On the subject of the lake providing a future water supply, Carroll said: "While there have been numerous estimates of water needs, there is a definite future need for a greater water supply for Lexington."

"The differences" he said "come when you try to compare the questions of how much and when will an increased need exist. While a sufficient supply of water for our future should be a matter of continued concern to us, water supply represents only 5.8 per cent of the multi-purpose, benefit percentage of the project."

Now that he has made his decision, Carroll said he will support alternative efforts to relieve flooding problems caused by the Red River.

"Our concern for the welfare and needs of all our citizens demands we monitor the water needs of central Kentucky and support whatever effort is required to secure for that urban center a sufficient supply of water for the future."

Carroll said he initially assumed that the project would create recreational benefits that would have "a substantial economic impact on the surrounding area."

"However, later when I learned that the dam would provide only a 1,500-acre lake, I soon realized that the benefit would be much less than I had expected. Then upon further investigation, it came to light that no gasoline-powered motorboats would be allowed on the lake. I am well aware of similarly restricted lakes in Kentucky and the only value, of course, is fishing. Water skiing is thus prohibited."

The governor added that since most of the lake and dam would be located in the Daniel Boone National Forest, development of lake homes and other "compatible commercial establishments" would be minimized.

Club Discusses Plans For Oct. 25 Pageant

The Allen Woman's Club held its September meeting at the home of Sue Frost. The president, Lois Marshall, presided over the business meeting.

Members discussed the plans for the Little Miss Red, White and Blue pageant. Sue Frost, the club's pageant chairman, has resigned, and two new co-chairmen were selected, Hollie Blanton and Jo Ann Adams. The pageant will be held Oct. 25. A concession stand will be provided by the Woman's Club during the pageant. All schools will be receiving letters or phone calls, asking them to hold their pageant.

Mrs. Marcella Bailey, founder of the parade, talked with Anita Lafferty and Sue Reynolds Monday night at May Lodge, discussing details of the pageant and parade.

Refreshments were served to Janet Lester, Nancy Marcum, Bonnie Spencer, Jo Ann Adams, Anita Lafferty, Margaret Tackett, Sue Reynolds, Hollie Blanton, Lois Marshall, Mary Hinchman.

Increase to Mini Homes, DHR Clients in Effect

By JEANNE BECKETT

Frankfort, Ky.—A monthly payment increase of $25 to public assistance recipients in Family Care Homes (mini-homes) was announced today by Gov. Julian M. Carroll. It becomes effective September 1.

The Governor also announced a $25 monthly increase in Caretaker Services allowances with the same effective date.

The mini-home increase will subsequently be paid to Family Care Home operators to help them meet rising costs of operations as well as increased costs resulting from stricter regulations imposed on managers of such facilities earlier this year by the Department for Human Resources (DHR).

Owned and operated by private citizens, Family Care Homes offer basic daily care in a home setting to ambulatory persons who are aged, blind, or disabled. These homes are licensed to care for two or three persons and could realize $50 to $75 in additional monthly revenue because of the increase.

Caretaker Services allowances go directly to eligible DHR clients, enabling them to purchase daily care within their neighborhood or community. Most recipients of this care are aged and live at home.

"Scrutiny of all Family Care Homes has been intensified over the past six months," Governor Carroll said. "However, additional measures will be taken to see that a high level of service is being maintained."

"The Department has increased its surveys of these facilities from yearly to quarterly to insure high quality care and meaningful lives for mini-home residents," said DHR Secretary C. Leslie Dawson. "In addition, steps will be taken to see that this high level of care is continued."

At present, DHR clients living in mini-homes and Caretaker Services recipients are paid $181 per month.

The increase raises monthly payment rates to $206 in each case.

DHR's revised regulations for Family Care Homes include a "continuing education requirement" for operators. At least one training program a year, either certified by or offered by the Department, is mandatory for home operators.

Also, DHR has set up improved record-keeping methods in areas of meals served, medication given and basic health services.

Family Care Homes and Caretaker Services offer alternatives to institutionalization of the Commonwealth's aged and disabled citizens. DHR studies show such family settings as advantageous to the general well-being of these persons and the cost is substantially less than care in state residential facilities.

RIGHTS OF PARENTS AND THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES

Students and teachers have rights. No, Philadelphia parents have rights also, contained in the Parents Bill of Rights and Responsibilities. This document drafted by parents groups and approved by the school board, includes the following parent rights: to be treated with courtesy by the school staff; to be respected, regardless of age, sex, race, or economic status; to be informed of school policies and decisions, as well as avenues for changing policies and appealing decisions.

With these and other rights also come responsibilities: to strive to prepare the child emotionally and socially to make him receptive to learning and discipline; to try to have the child attend school regularly and one time, and to help the child develop proper study habits.

Lake Restocked With 2,000 Bass

Through the efforts of the Highlands Bass Masters fishing club, 2,000 black bass, ranging in size from four to eight inches, were released in Dewey Lake last Wednesday by Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife personnel.

Released in the vicinity of the Terry boat dock, these fish represented the first stocking of bass of this size in the lake's history. Previous stocking efforts provided fingerling bass, which, the club believes, were decimated by larger predator fish. It is hoped that the larger bass, which were released last week after being transported from the Minor Clark Fish Hatchery near Morehead, will be more able to fend for themselves, thus assuring a higher survival rate than in previous stockings.

The club has also been promised further white bass and restocking for the lake.

Less than a year old, the club, an affiliate of the Bass Angler's Sportsman Society (B.A.S.S.), has become quite active in recent months in its efforts to improve the quality of Dewey Lake for the benefit of fish life as well as the fisherman.

A petition bearing more than 2,000 signatures has been sent to the Army Corps of Engineers, urging the corps to take action, including the construction of silt "catch" dams in the head of the lake, to help protect the reservoir from further damage from heavy siltation caused primarily by mining operations on upper John's Creek. A club spokesman said "positive action" had been promised.

The club has also received approval from the Corps of Engineers concerning its plans to plant vegetation around the lake banks and place artificial structure in the lake after the annual drawdown of the reservoir. It is hoped that the plants will promote the growth of bait fish, and that the placement of the "structure" will provide cover for game fish.

The club is also sponsoring the formation of a Coast Guard auxiliary to help boaters (not only fishermen) on Dewey Lake.

The club, composed primarily of Johnson and Floyd county residents, will sponsor a club bass tournament on Dewey Lake, October 12, from Terry boat dock. First, second and third-place prizes will be awarded as well as a special award for the largest bass of the day. Points will be awarded on the weight of the fish, and all bass under 12 inches must be released. Only club members may enter the tourney, although those wishing to participate may join the club and sign up for the tournament at 6 o'clock on the morning of the event. The tournament is restricted to the use of artificial bait only.

Leading for the club's $100 prize for the year's largest bass is Jimmy Goble, of Prestonsburg, with a 23 1/2-inch caught last spring.

Allen Speaks at Meet Of Democratic Women

County Attorney James R. Allen was guest speaker at a meeting of the Floyd County Democratic Woman's Club at May Lodge, September 10. Chairman of the Floyd County Park and Recreation Board, he said that because of the availability of more county funds, the park near the Allen golf course is closer to becoming a reality. In addition, several mini parks will be established over the county with ideas for these parks coming from the people in each community where they are located.

Mrs. Ann Scutchfield gave a short report on the animal shelter to be established in the county. She said that membership cards are now available. Meeting of the organization are held on the first Tuesday and last Thursday of each month.

Mrs. Scutchfield, president, announced that Mrs. Olma Hamilton has been elected the new associate director of the 7th district. Delegates and alternates elected to attend the Democratic convention in Louisville Oct. 3-4 are Sally May Goble, Julia May, Tribby May, Dee Burchett, Juanita Hager, Kathleen Wellis, Ray Patton, Jessie Burchett, Charlotte Mullins.

The next meeting will be held October 8 at May Lodge.

Black-Lung Costs Food Industry Nearly $2 Million, Is Report

Winchester, Ky.—Kentucky's retail grocers, wholesale distributors and food processors last year paid nearly $2 million for assessments and taxes to the state special fund that finances coal industry black-lung benefits, says the Kentucky Council on Compensation Insurance.

According to a study released earlier this week by the Council, estimated charge of $1,925,520 were included in projected industry workmen's compensation insurance premiums of $9,929,701.

They ranged from a weighted average of about 30 cents for every $100 of payroll for food retailers to more than $1.26 per $100 for butcher employers. Special fund assessments and taxes are charged against the earned premiums of companies writing workmen's compensation insurance in Kentucky, but are included in rates they charge employers.

Last year's levies amounted to nearly 20 cents (19.388) of every workmen's compensation insurance premium dollar. Current rates reflect a five per cent increase over that figure.

The food industry study was based on payrolls reported for unemployment insurance purposes to the state Department for Human Resources and premium rates established with the state Department of Insurance.

LETTERS To the Editor On Hospital Disturbance

The employees of the Highlands Regional Medical Center wish to inform the general public that the disturbance occurring at the entrance to the hospital on September 9th was not initiated by the employees or union 1199.

Mr. Dan Stewart, union organizer, met with off-duty employees in the hospital parking lot to read a letter which was written to the trustees informing them of the management's refusal to cooperate with employees in seeking an election.

Mr. Divine, hospital administrator, caused the disruption by summoning three state police officers, who arrested Mr. Stewart on a disorderly conduct charge without a warrant. Mr. Stewart was conducting himself in a quiet manner and in no way was there any interruption in patient care.

Mr. Stewart, of Charleston, was contacted in August when employees of Highlands Regional Medical Center sought union 1199 to represent them in their efforts to obtain improved working conditions and benefits for all.

Local Conservation Districts Get Aid

By MARVA GAY
Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky's 121 local conservation districts recently received $500 each to help them keep regular office hours and to get more work done.

The $500 grants, made by the division of conservation in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, are the first of two grants the districts will receive this year. When the first $500 has been spent, the division will allocate each district an addition $533.

According to Stanley Head, director of the division of conservation, the districts use the grants to hire clerical assistance and limited field aide services.

"The funds permit conservation district offices to remain open during the day," said Head. "It is most discouraging for people to come to a district office and find it closed because all the technical people are in the field working on conservation measures. Using the grants, the districts are able to hire clerical workers who will remain in the office to assist people who come there seeking help."

Head said the clerical help hired with the grant funds also relieves professional and sub-professional district employees of paper work, such as writing reports, inking maps and typing conservation plans. That permits them to spend more time planning and developing conservation measures.

NAVY INVESTIGATING REPORTS THAT JET BUZZED INDIANS

WASHINGTON—The Navy said yesterday it will investigate reports that a Naval Reserve F8 Crusader jet buzzed the Acoma Indian pueblo in New Mexico last month during a religious ceremony. "The Navy is gathering information in this matter and it will be investigated," a spokesman said.

The spokesman said a Navy aircraft filed a flight plan from the Miramar naval air station in California to Albuquerque, N. M., on July 27 "and did fly over that area."

Cats Down Johnson Central; Wheelwright Loses Close One

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON
The Prestonsburg Blackcats last week maintained their winning streak over Johnson Central High School, while Wheelwright's Trojans suffered another close loss.

The Blackcats won over the Golden Eagles Saturday afternoon at Paintsville, 6-0. This upped the Cats record to 2 and 1 and Johnson Central now stands 2-2. Johnson Central has never won over the Cats.

Terry Sloan, who churned out 105 yards in 16 rushes, romped 43 yards for the lone touchdown of the game. Sloan's burst proved to be the only offense the Cats needed as the defensive unit held Johnson Central's explosive Rick Adams to only 21 yards in 15 carries and the Blackcat defense recovered two Eagle fumbles.

The Cats will get another tough test this Friday night at home when they will entertain the undefeated Rowan County Vikings from Morehead.

The Wheelwright Trojans lost another close game at Pikeville Friday night, the undefeated Panthers defeating the Trojans, 20 to 13. Wheelwright got on the scoreboard first as Jamerson scampered 15 yards for the first score. Jamerson also kicked the extra point. Pikeville came back and scored in the first quarter, and again in the second. They led at halftime, 14 to 7. Wheelwright's Little scampered 70 yards in the third quarter, but Pikeville came back in the fourth quarter to win the thriller, 20-13. Pikeville's record is now 4-0; Wheelwright's, 1-3.

More than 500 of Kentucky's 4,577 licensed attorneys are now a part of the state's public defender program for indigent defendants. That's more attorneys than ever before to participate in the three-year-old statewide program.

Consumer Comments

By ED W. HANCOCK
(Attorney General)

"Special offer for a color portrait—satisfaction guaranteed." If you are confronted with this sales pitch, make sure your picture is taken, not just your money.

Many people would like to take advantage of an opportunity to have professional portraits done for a nominal charge. While many offers are legitimate, take caution when a salesperson appears at the door or makes offers on the phone.

Beware of "deals" which offer unusually low sitting fees, salespeople that try to "switch" you to higher-priced pictures or try to coerce you into buying unwanted extra copies. Some people have paid money and had their pictures taken, only never to see the picture or photographer again. If any of these ploys are tried—investigate.

Take the following precautions when having pictures made.

First, listen to the sales pitch carefully. Critically examine the offer. If the studio offers a free photograph, make sure you know what you must do to get the picture.

Don't be afraid to say you will call them back. A reputable businessman can wait for your decision. Use this time to decide if you really want the pictures and can afford them. Also, check the photographer's reputation and reliability with local consumer groups, the Attorney General's office, friends or relatives. If a claim of an unbelievable low price is made, shop around and compare prices. Some offers purported to be at substantially lower prices are not.

When you've decided to order the pictures, review all the details with the photographer. Be sure you know exactly what type of picture or picture package you are purchasing and what the total cost will be. Problems often arise over the quality of the picture. Discuss with the photographer what degree of quality you expect and know what procedures will be followed if you are not satisfied. But do remember the old saying "the camera doesn't lie."

Before signing any contracts or paying any more make sure you understand all the conditions and terms of the contract. If anything is unclear or unexplained, don't sign until you do understand.

If you think the salesperson or photographer is engaging in false, misleading or deceptive business practices of if you have a consumer complaint, report this to: Attorney General, Division of Consumer Protection, The Capitol, Room 34, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. Kentucky consumers may call the toll-free consumer hotline by dialing 1-800-372-2960.

Health Notes

By DONNA J. GRIFFITH
Health Educator

The Floyd County Health Department will sponsor a health booth at the Floyd County Fair, September 17-20. Public health nurses will be doing weights and screening for high blood pressure.

Since high blood pressure (also known as hypertension) and excess weight are two major factors in heart disease, the health department urges all Floyd countians to visit the health booth and to take advantage of these free screening services.

The booth will also be supplied with free literature on diabetes, immunizations, dental health, venereal diseases, prenatal care and other aspects of health.

A public health nurse will conduct an outpost clinic Sept. 22 at the Mud Creek Health Project at Craynor. Clinic hours will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., with the following free services being available: Immunizations, TB skin tests, diabetes screening and blood pressures.

The health department invites all persons in the Mud Creek area to take advantage of these free services.

The Age Discrimination in Employment Act, enforced by the Wage and Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor, prohibits employers, employment agencies and labor unions from discriminating on the basis of age against any person between the ages of 40 and 65 in hiring, firing, promotion, or other aspect of employment.

Internationally-Known Potter To Conduct Workshop at PCC

Paul Soldner, internationally known potter, will conduct a workshop on the campus of Prestonsburg Community College during the week-end of September 27-28. The workshop will be the second of four co-sponsored by the Community Service Program's Potters Guild of Prestonsburg Community College and the Kentucky Arts Commission.

A workshop was presented last month by Charles Counts of Rising Fawn, Georgia, and future workshops include Naoma Powell, of Vest, and Okey Jackson, of Prestonsburg.

Enrollment in each workshop is limited, and registration in advance is required. Those interested in participating should contact James Ratcliff, coordinator of Community Services, Prestonsburg Community College.

An innovator in pottery, Mr. Soldner will reflect in the workshop here his current thinking as he lectures and demonstrates throwing techniques, slab work and constructs a temporary raku kiln. He will also present a slide presentation with his lecture. Each participant is permitted to bring one or two pots for firing, and they should be made of raku clay.

Soldner is currently a professor of ceramics at Scripps College and Claremont Graduate School in California. He is also the administrative director of the Arts program of the Anderson Ranch Art Center located near West Village, Snowmass Resort, Colorado.

Recently Soldner has been represented in the Second Chunchi International Exhibition of Ceramic Arts in Nagoya, Japan, and he was one of several ceramicists to represent the United States in the world crafts exhibition, In Praise of Hands, in Ontario, Canada. Soldner has published "Kilns and Their Construction" and numerous articles, and many ceramic textbooks include reproductions of his work. Among the museums and galleries which own his work are the Emerson Museum, the Syracuse, the Smithsonian, the Oakland Art Museum, the Lowe Art Gallery in Miami, the Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York, the National Museum of Modern Art in Kyoto, Japan, the San Francisco Museum of Art and many university and college museums.

Today, there are 74 Arthritis Foundation Chapters involved in providing an increasing number of services to the U. S. arthritis population.

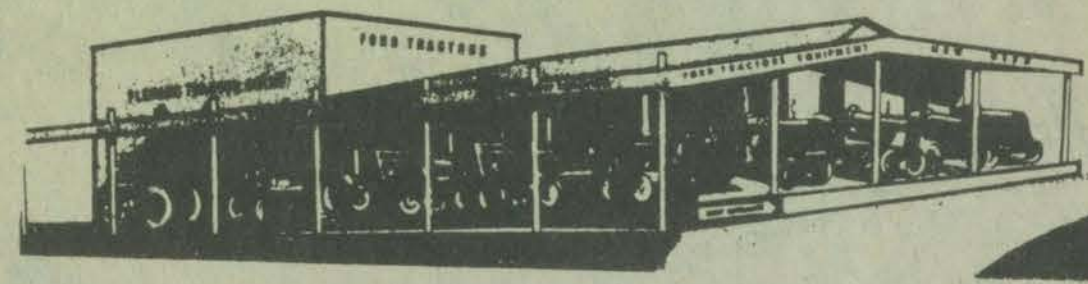

ATTENTION COAL MINE OPERATORS!

We now have our new coal testing laboratory open and ready for business. In most cases we can give you 24-hour service, all of our equipment is A.S.T.M. approved, and all of our work is done by A.S.T.M. standards. We invite you to stop by and visit our laboratory and meet our well-qualified technicians, Mr. John Salisbury and Mr. Mike Jervis. We are located 3 miles south of Prestonsburg, on old route 23, beside H.B. Ranier Construction Co. Building.

A Shuck-Tearing on Sinking Creek

By GEORGE L. MOORE

Moses Clayton had a large family. Jim was the second oldest son in a family of ten. As the children grew up, it was necessary for them to work in the field with Moses to help him earn a meager living from the rocky soil.

But no one could remember when Jim Clayton had done an honest day's work. His father said of him, "I never got any work from Jim, to speak of." While he was yet a small boy, Jim was too lazy to carry in the stove wood or fetch a pail of water from the nearby spring. As he grew older his father said, "I though he would improve but he didn't."

There was only one thing that Jim liked to do; he liked to trap furbearing animals. He would sit for hours whittling away to make triggers for his deadfalls. A deadfall is just what the term indicates. When it falls on an animal, death comes quickly. A deadfall consisted of a large flat rock propped up by a set of three triggers. There was a long trigger extending far back under the stone with the bait attached to the top end. When the animal pulled on the bait the triggers were sprung and the rock came crashing down on the victim.

Jim caught scores of opossums and skunks in his deadfalls during the trapping season. The mink and raccoon were more cunning and harder to catch. He invented a cheap and ingenious method of taking the coon. He would place the bait in a small opening at the base of a hollow tree and drive a horseshoe nail through the edge with the sharp end, slanting inward. When the coon reached its foot inside to retrieve the bait, its foot was caught on the sharp nail as it was withdrawn.

When Jim reached 21 he got married. They did not have showers in those days but they did have a shuck-tearing for Jim and his bride. For the unsophisticated it may be well to explain that a shuck-tearing was a combined working and social gathering in which young people took part. After the shucks were removed from the ears of corn, they were stored in a dry place. When the young people assembled for the event, a huge pile of shucks was placed in the center of the room. The young people sat on the floor and formed a circle around the pile of shucks. Each member of the group was given a kitchenfork and the shuck-tearing was under way. The fork was inserted at the base of the shuck and pulled through to the end. This procedure was repeated until the shuck was reduced to shreds. After enough shucks were torn in this manner to fill two striped bed-ticks, the group was ready for the social activities.

But first I would like to mention to those not familiar with shuck beds that this type of bed was quite comfortable. However, it did have one serious defect; you could hear the shucks rattle for a hundred feet when the sleeper turned over. The more affluent had feather beds which were considered the ultimate in ease and comfort as far as sleeping was concerned.

The festivities at Jim's father's place consisted mainly of square dancing. The favorite tunes that were played over and over were "Sourwood Mountain," "Cripple Creek," and "Sally Goodin". There was room for only one set of dancers at a time; the others stood in a circle around the room, clapping hands and patting their feet against the floor. When the banjo-picker and the fiddler led off with "Chickens a crowin' in the Sourwood Mountain," the merry-making was under way. The first set did, "You swing Yore Girl, I'll Swing Mine." The next set did "Four Hands Across."

About midway in the festivities the audience would begin to call for Jim to do a hoedown. He was no square dancer but nobody could do a hoedown like Jim could. His wife called for the music makers to do the "Pig Town Fling." She said Jim "allus dances it so purty." At the first draw of the fiddler's bow, Jim was off with a light shuffle, toe-tapping, back-steppin' performance, the likes of which had never been seen before. Some in the crowd kept calling for Jim to do the "Buck and Wing" while his little brother kept yelling for him to do the back-step. After Jim's performance the square dance continued but the tempo slowed to "Darling Nellie Gray."

One would have thought that Jim would have taken more interest in work when he moved out on his own, but he didn't. Since he did not earn enough from his trapping to tide him over the summer, he was forced to do a little farming in order to make both ends meet. He was never prosperous enough to own a horse, so he borrowed an ancient nag from a neighbor. The horse was called Old Barney. Old Barney had seen his best days and he looked as if each step he took would be his last. What time Jim did not spend in hollering "Haw" and "gee", he was urging Old Barney to get up. It was said that he hurled enough profanity at Old Barney to commit the whole animal kingdom to purgatory.

His oldest son, Callup, had now reached the age of ten. He had never manifested any more interest in school than had his father, and Jim had never darkened a schoolhouse door. The only printed material in which Jim took any interest was the pink sheet from the Funsten Fur Co., in St. Louis. It listed all the prices of the different grades of fur. Jim would listen attentively as his wife read the list to him. At the urging of some of the neighbors, Callup entered the Pine Grove rural school when he was ten. He started in the chart class and the teacher encountered much difficulty in teaching him the alphabet.

Callup could never remember the letter "g." One day when he stalled at this point, the teacher asked, "What does your dad say to the horse when he is plowing?" With a doubtful look on his face Callup blurted out: "Get up here Barney, damn yore old soul." The school room rocked with laughter, and the teacher laughed the loudest of all.

Despite this experience, Callup did make some progress. He learned, with much difficulty, to spell a few simple words. He stood up around the wall with the other children for the spelling match on Friday afternoon. In one such match the girl above him missed the word, "father." Callup spelled the word correctly. The teacher said, "Turn her down, Callup." He looked up at the teacher in complete bewilderment as he clinched his fist and said, "No I can't do it; I can't hit a woman."

After Jim's boys were big enough to work, they migrated north and found employment in the steel mills. Jim soon followed and never returned to the hill country again.

Reception Held; New Officers Named

New officers of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club pictured above include, in front row, from left—Mrs. Ron Wallen, second vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth D. Brown, president; Mrs. Paul P. Burchett, third vice-president; back row—Mrs. Terry Webb, recording secretary; Miss Faye Miller, treasurer; Mrs. C. "Ollie" Robinson, first vice-president; Rita Campbell, corresponding secretary.

The Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club held its annual membership reception at the Floyd County Library last Sunday. Six guests and nineteen members attended.

Mrs. Kenneth D. Brown, president, welcomed guests and members. She told prospective members of their eligibility requirements as established by the club's bylaws and spoke briefly of money and service projects of the organization. Mrs. Brown presented each prospective member with a profile of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club in which the prospect is told of the activities and duties of a clubwoman. Membership applications were also issued. She pointed out that in order to meet eligibility requirements for membership, prospective members must either attend the reception or the September club meeting on September 18 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Brown then recognized the membership chairman, Mrs. Harold Cooley, all present officers, department and standing and special committee chairmen, and past presidents. Leach Hicks, conservation chairman, Mrs. William G. Francis, education chairman, Mrs. Eddie Stanley, home life chairman, Mrs. Bruce Boss, international affairs chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Kidd, public affairs chairman and Mrs. Larry Jupin, the arts chairman, reviewed activities occurring within their departments recently.

The theme of the tea was "Ring the Bells of Freedom" and various items were displayed depicting this theme. A display table included the awards won by the club in 1974-75. The club pressbook and yearbook, and other momentos from 1974-75 were viewed by members and guests.

Guests present at the meeting were: Barbara Keeth, Carolyn Stout, Ebbie Prater, Sharon Mitchell, Margaret McGrew, Cathy Naumann.

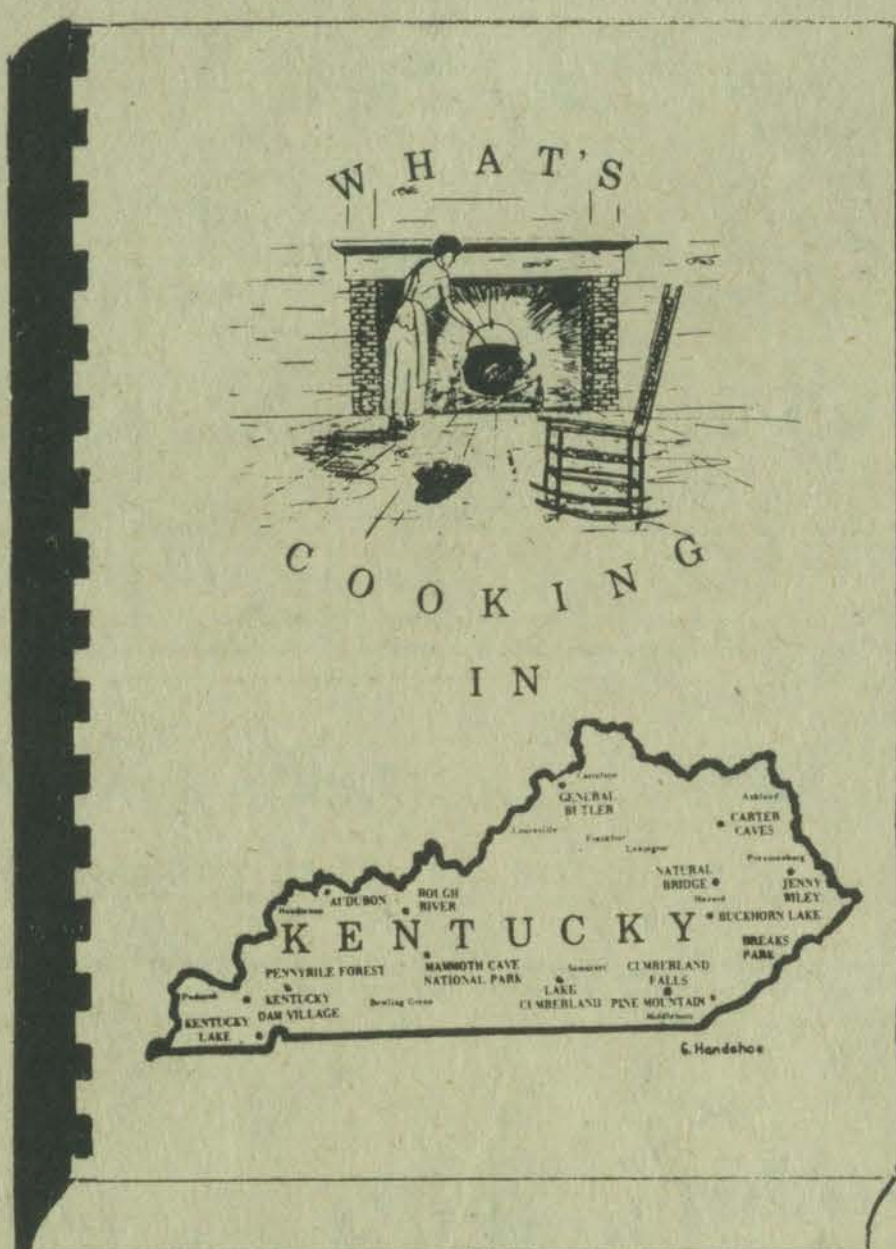

Members attending included: Leah Hicks, Shirley Thompson, Rhonda Jupin, Hannah Stanley, Earlene Spears, Linda Setser, Rita Campbell, Peggy Kidd, Susan Wallen, Carol Burchett, Patrice Webb, Faye Miller, Linda Francis, Virginia Boss, Delilah Vaughn, Barbara Robinson, Kay Cooley, Janice Allen and Jeanne Brown.

"What's Cooking In Kentucky"

In Response To Thousands Of Requests

LIMITED EDITION

CONTAINS 700 RECIPES OLD AND NEW

THE FOLLOWING IS AN EXPLANATION OF THE DIFFERENT COVERS AND EDITIONS OF "WHAT'S COOKING IN KENTUCKY".

Cover No. 1 was used on the first edition of the cookbook which arrived December 10, 1964. To identify this first edition, the letter S was missing from the word Prestonsburg under the picture of May Lodge. The recipes were continued from page to page.

The first change was made in 1965 to rearrange the recipes so that none were continued from page to page. THE RECIPES WERE NOT CHANGED.

In 1966, to straighten out the copyright, the diet section which belonged to Bev-Ron Publishing Company, of Kansas City, Missouri, was deleted. The cover was changed to Cover No. 2 because the cooking pot was copied from art work from the Bev-Ron Company. THE RECIPES WERE NOT CHANGED.

In 1970 the cookbook was revised. In order to make it more representative of a larger area of Kentucky, over four hundred recipes were substituted. It also contains 700 recipes. Cover No. 3 was used on the revision. It is also $5.95.

THIS IS WHAT SO MANY HAVE WAITED FOR—A REPRINT OF THE FIRST EDITION OF "WHAT'S COOKING IN KENTUCKY."

WHILE THIS FIRST EDITION WAS OUT OF PRINT, OFFERS THREE AND FOUR TIMES THE ORIGINAL PRICE WERE MADE FOR A COPY.

BOTH EDITIONS HAVE BEEN RATED BY MANY AS, "My favorite of all cookbooks." OVER 80,000 IN PRINT.

PERFECT FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTING . . . NO GIFT WILL BE APPRECIATED MORE THAN THIS SPECIAL EDITION. ORDER NOW—THERE IS NO GUARANTEE HOW LONG THE FIRST EDITION WILL BE AVAILABLE.

AVAILABLE ONLY AT: THE FRANCIS STORES IN PRESTONSBURG, MESSER'S STORE IN MARTIN, AND BY MAIL.

SUNDAY CALLERS

Mrs. Faye Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Garnett, of Paintsville, visited Tom Fields at his home here, Sunday. Mr. Fields is improving nicely from injuries sustained in a recent car wreck.

INSTALLATION AT VAN LEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kawaja were the installing officers for Van Lear Chapter No. 431, Order of Eastern Star, Friday. Refreshments followed the meeting with several attending.

ATTEND ANNUAL REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kawaja attended the annual reunion of the Kfeirian Brotherhood held at the Holiday Inn, South Point, Ohio, August 30-Sept. 1. Those in charge of arrangements from Williamson, W. Va. were Mrs. Nellie Kawaja, Abe Cantees and Sol Steffon. Sunday morning, Father Zacharia Nasr, of the St. Nicholas Orthodox Church, Beckley, W. Va. delivered the Pontical Divinie Liturgy, assisted by Phillip Saliba. It was decided the reunion will be held at the New Holiday Inn, Huntington, W. Va., next Labor Day.

THANK YOU

It looks as though a miracle or a long awaited dream has come true. I live in the head of Rough and Tough in Floyd county. Have lived here for 73 years and raised a family. My only source out was through the creek most of the way and many a time it was impossible. Thanks to the Wolverine Mining Company with their equipment and the help of our county officials, they have solved our problems. We now have a new road of which we are very proud and can never thank them enough. If more people would work with our industry, we would accomplish more. MALCOM PRATER 1t-pd.

To Present Concerts, Sunday

"God's Looking Glass," quartet from Cynthia, will be holding two Prestonsburg area concerts Sunday, September 21. From left above are Chuck Cooper, Rhonda Cooper, Donna Clark, and Mike Courtney.

Sunday morning the group will be singing at 11 a.m. at the Allen United Methodist Church. They will appear at the evening service of the Prestonsburg Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m.

The last concert of the quartet in Floyd County was in May for the Floyd County Gospel Sing Association.

The late Rev. Bob Dunaway began the quartet almost six years ago at Morehead State University. Since its beginning, the group has traveled in seven states, cut one album, and has made three television appearances. In November the group plans a 10-day tour of the Holy Land and Belfast, Ireland as a part of an international mission.

Rhonda Cooper is the only original member still with the group. She is 23 years old, a soprano, and pianist for the quartet. Floyd county's Donna Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark, of Allen, is alto and guitarist. Miss Clark, 23, has been with the group almost four years. Chuck Cooper, 20, Rhonda's brother, is tenor and bass guitar player. He has been with the group for a year. In May the quartet added Mike Courtney, 22, to sing bass. He is a South Carolina native.

There is never an admission charge for a concert by "God's Looking Glass." The public is invited.

Landfills Are Quiet Popular Unless They're Next to You

By MARVA GAY

Frankfort, Ky.—In general, Kentuckians favor landfills as the best way to get rid of their garbage—unless the landfill is going to be located near them.

That's the main reason development of sanitary landfills in the state has slowed during the past two years.

"Despite all our efforts and the intense efforts of our staff, only 150 landfills have been permitted since the state outlawed dumps and required permitting of landfills in 1967," said Sam Johnson, director of the division of solid waste in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection. About 100 of the landfills are sanitary landfills that accept garbage and refuse, 25 are industrial landfills that accept no waste other than that of the owners and 25 are industrial landfills that accept no household garbage.

Most of the landfills that are operating now were permitted before 1972. More than half of the permitted landfills are on the site of what was once an open dump. Johnson said persons who live near dumps are usually glad to see them upgraded and therefore give more support to developing a landfill on an old dump site than on a new one, although the enthusiasm still is miniscule.

"Before 1972," said Johnson, "those counties and municipalities that were most financially capable of upgrading their existing dumps to sanitary landfills went ahead and developed the landfills." Now, the division is left with the problem of financing other landfills, as well as educating people to the necessity of them.

About two-thirds of the counties in the state have permitted sanitary landfills. Those without landfills are concentrated in northeastern Kentucky. One of the division's goals is to establish landfills and solid waste collecting services throughout the state.

"Some counties," continued Johnson, "simply don't have the money to develop and maintain landfills. In many of those areas it would be extremely costly to operate a landfill because of the low density of the population and the minimum economic capability of the local government. These areas also typically have inferior roads that hamper solid waste collection and access to a landfill." Operation of a landfill usually costs from $20,000 to several hundred thousand dollars depending on the amount of solid waste that is handled and the ease of transporting it to the landfill.

Johnson said that coal severance tax excess has eased much of the problem of paying for construction of landfills in Eastern Kentucky. However, in that region, topography and geology make it extremely difficult to find suitable sites for landfills. The division is helping local government in this area find suitable landfill sites.

A suitable site should have a minimum of drainage problems, be fairly accessible from a highway, be centrally located and near sufficient cover material. Sanitary landfills must be covered with dirt each day.

Other than financing the landfills, the biggest handicap in developing one is finding a place acceptable to nearby residents.

"Sometimes it seems that everyone wants a landfill unless its going to be located near them. Then they object," said Johnson. "Unfortunately, many people still associate dumps with sanitary landfills. The open burning dumps, which typically had problems such as odors, rodents, water and air pollution, have given such a bad name to all sanitary land disposal facilities that many people are scared of them."

The division of solid waste has heard an increased number of those fears and complaints about proposed landfills during the past year as a result of a state law passed in 1974. That law required that a notice of proposed construction of a landfill be printed in the local newspapers. "People see these notices, get scared and try to stop construction of the landfill," said Johnson. "That's one big reason behind the decrease in new landfills in the state."

Consumer Comments

By ED W. HANCOCK

(Attorney General)

If your latest purchase is defective—you've got a gripe. To have your problem resolved may depend on how you complain. Are you an effective complainer, or just a noisemaker?

To complain effectively, calm down and examine your problem. Decide what your specific complaint is and immediately contact the person or company that sold you the product.

If you complain in person, take the purchase receipt and guarantee or warranty with you. Quietly and concisely state your complaint. If the salesperson or company representative says he cannot act on your problem, ask to speak to the highest person in authority. Don't allow yourself to be put off by "buck-passing" techniques.

If you're not getting any satisfaction from the store owner or manager, direct a written complaint to the manufacturer. The public library or local Better Business Bureau can help you to locate the manufacturer's address.

When you complain by mail, be sure to include the brand name, model number, size, color and any other detail which would identify the product. Compose a letter explicitly describing your problem. If you send any documents—send a copy not the original. Be sure to keep all paper and copies of correspondence. If you need to return the merchandise, be sure to get it insured.

By making a complaint to the store or manufacturer, you are letting them know whether their goods and services are reliable and worthwhile. Valid complaints often will be resolved and the information appreciated. Also, effective complainant can prevent other consumers from experiencing the same problem.

If your "gripe" is not resolved, or you have any consumer question, write to the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Protection, the Capitol—Room 34, Frankfort, Ky., 40601. Kentucky consumers may call toll-free on the consumer hotline by dialing 1-800-372-2960.

Carroll Sues To Require U.S. To Stand Busing Costs

Gov. Julian Carroll took action Monday designed to cause the President of the United States and the U. S. Congress to propose and pass a Constitutional Amendment against forced busing.

Gov. Carroll filed suit in U. S. District Court in Louisville seeking a declaratory judgment finding that:

1. Neither state nor federal law requires additional state payments to the Jefferson County Board of Education to fund the increased costs of forced busing.

2. That the increased costs of transporting students as a result of forced busing is properly the obligation of the United States of America and not the Commonwealth of Kentucky;

3. That in the event the Commonwealth of Kentucky is required to appropriate state funds to pay the increased expenses that results from forced busing, the money should come from federal funds regardless of federal law that specifies to the contrary.

Gov. Carroll pointed out that his action could not be filed until Judge James Gordon has issued his busing order because the question of financing busing did not exist until then.

"While only the federal courts, the President and the Congress can stop forced busing," Gov. Carroll said, "the terrible consequences of forced busing require every official in Kentucky to do what they can legally do to stop it. That is exactly what I have been doing and that is what I intend to continue doing."

Gov. Carroll took this quick action following the federal court busing order because he feels that bus financing could be the subject of further orders from the federal judge.

"I am unalterable opposed to forced busing," Gov. Carroll continued. "I will not recommend to the Kentucky General Assembly that it pay for forced busing and I do not think the General Assembly will readily accept the burden of paying for federally-ordered forced busing."

Gov. Carroll said that he additionally is opposed to the premise that the federal courts can order forced busing and require only the states to pay for it. He said that forced busing is apparently based on a federal court interpretation of the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution and that it is not a state responsibility required by Kentucky's constitutional mandate to provide a system of public education.

"Therefore," says Gov. Carroll, "the taxpayers of Kentucky should not be required to pay the bill."

The governor said that it is hard to believe that the Congress has passed a law which prohibits federal financing of forced busing but does not prohibit forced busing itself.

Compliance action by the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division—responsible for enforcing a variety of labor laws—including the Fair Labor Standards Act—disclosed $65 million in minimum wage and overtime pay due to about 327,000 workers during fiscal 1974.

"The federal Congress refuses to even consider a constitutional amendment which would relieve the states of federal court-ordered forced busing," the governor said.

"I have no intention of permitting the inaction of the President and the Congress to go unchallenged."

Gov. Carroll says he believes that the federal court will at least be receptive to his complaint to the degree that it will strike down the federal law that does not allow federal money to be used to pay for forced busing.

If the federal court in Louisville should so hold, he added, he will file a second action in the federal court for the District of Columbia and will ask that Congress be ordered to pay for forced busing in Louisville and Jefferson County.

"My purpose is simply this," concludes Gov. Carroll, "I don't believe the U. S. Congress will want to pay the bill for forced busing. That burden is so great, the price will be too high for them."

"Thus, they will have to turn to the other alternative and pass a constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing."

"This is the quickest and best way I know to really get the attention of the President and the U. S. Congress."

AMENDMENT TO "ORDINANCE OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF ALLEN, KENTUCKY, PROVIDING FOR THE ACQUISITION AND CONSTRUCTION OF AN INDUSTRIAL BUILDING PROJECT BY THE CITY FOR USE AND OCCUPANCY FOR INDUSTRIAL PURPOSES, INCLUDING AN INDUSTRIAL BUILDING, THE SITE THEREOF, AND APPURTENANCES THERETO, TOGETHER WITH CERTAIN MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT, IN ORDER THAT SAID CITY MAY BE PROVIDED WITH FACILITIES FOR INDUCING ADDITIONAL PRIVATE INDUSTRY TO LOCATE IN THE COMMUNITY AS A MEANS OF AVOIDING OR REDUCING UNEMPLOYMENT AND OF PROMOTING THE GENERAL WELFARE OF SAID CITY; AUTHORIZING AND PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF $1,000,000 OF CITY OF ALLEN INDUSTRIAL BUILDING REVENUE BONDS, DATED APRIL 1, 1975, WHICH WILL BE PAYABLE SOLELY AND ONLY FROM REVENUES AND RENTAL INCOME FROM SAID INDUSTRIAL BUILDING PROJECT; AUTHORIZING THE ACCEPTANCE OF A DEED CONVEYING THE SITE OF SAID PROJECT TO THE CITY, AUTHORIZING THE EXECUTION OF A CONTRACT OF LEASE AND RENT (AND A SEPARATE GUARANTY AGREEMENT), WHEREBY SAID PROJECT WILL PRODUCE REVENUES AND RENTAL INCOME SUFFICIENT TO PAY THE INTEREST ON AND THE PRINCIPAL OF SAID BONDS AS THE SAME BECOME DUE; PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION, SEGREGATION AND APPLICATION OF THE REVENUES OF SAID INDUSTRIAL BUILDING PROJECT; SETTING FORTH THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS UPON WHICH SAID BONDS ARE TO BE ISSUED AND OUTSTANDING; PROVIDING FOR THE RIGHTS OF BONDHOLDERS AND THE ENFORCEMENT THEREOF; PROVIDING FOR THE NEGOTIATED SALE OF SAID BONDS; AND INCORPORATING BY REFERENCE A DETAILED BOND RESOLUTION ADOPTED CONCURRENTLY HEREWITH."

WHEREAS, the City of Allen, Kentucky, has heretofore authorized the issuance of $1,000,000 of its Industrial Building Revenue Bonds to finance the construction of an industrial building project to be leased to Brandeis Machinery & Supply Corporation, hereinafter referred to as the "Company," and

WHEREAS, it has now been determined that it is necessary in order to finance such Project that $1,300,000 of bonds be issued, and it is necessary to change the amount of the authorized bond issue,

NOW, THEREFORE, THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF ALLEN, KENTUCKY, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the amount of $1,000,000 in the Whereas clauses of the Ordinance authorizing such $1,000,000 of bonds is changed to $1,300,000.

2. That the reference in such Whereas clauses to the Contract of Purchase of Bonds dated as of April 1, 1975, is amended to refer to such Contract of Purchase of Bonds as amended by an Amendment to Contract of Purchase of Bonds dated as of October 1, 1975.

3. Section 3 of the prior Ordinance authorizing $1,000,000 of bonds is amended to read as follows:

"3. For the purpose of financing the costs of said Project, as defined above, there shall be and there are hereby authorized to be issued the negotiable, City of Allen Industrial Building Revenue Bonds, dated October 1, 1975, in the aggregate principal amount of $1,300,000, consisting of 260 Coupon Bonds, numbered 1 to 260, inclusive, in the denomination of $5,000, and bearing interest from October 1, 1975, payable semi-annually on April 1 and October 1 in each year, the first coupon becoming due on April 1, 1976 at the rates of 7.35 pct. for bonds maturing in the years 1976 through 1978, 7.4 pct. for bonds maturing in 1979 through 1981, 7.45 pct. for bonds maturing in 1982 and 1983, and 8 pct. for bonds maturing in 1985 through 1990, which interest rates have been agreed upon by the City, the Company and the proposed Purchaser of the Bonds, pursuant to Section 103.230 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes.

"That the numbering, principal maturities, and principal and interest requirements of said $1,300,000 of Bonds, shall be as follows:

NUMBERING	MATURITY OCTOBER 1	PRINCIPAL	PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST
1-18	1976	$ 90,000	$188,477.50
19-37	1977	95,000	186,862.50
38-57	1978	100,000	184,880.00
58-79	1979	110,000	187,530.00
80-103	1980	120,000	189,390.00
104-128	1981	125,000	185,510.00
129-155	1982	135,000	186,260.00
156-184	1983	145,000	186,202.50
185-216	1984	160,000	190,400.00
217-250	1985	170,000	187,600.00
251-252	1986	10,000	14,000.00
253-254	1987	10,000	13,200.00
255-256	1988	10,000	12,400.00
257-258	1989	10,000	11,600.00
259-260	1990	10,000	10,800.00

4. That Section 4 of such prior Ordinance is amended to provide that such $1,300,000 of bonds shall be sold to the Purchaser, Dupree & Company, Inc., in accordance with the Contract of Purchase of Bonds as same has been amended by Amendment to Contract of Purchase of Bonds. The form of such Amendment to Contract of Purchase of Bonds has been read to and approved by the members of the Board of Trustees and is now on file in the office of the City Clerk, labeled "Exhibit A1." The Chairman of the Board of Trustees is hereby authorized and directed to sign said Amendment to Contract of Purchase of Bonds in acceptance thereof for and on behalf of the City; and the City Clerk shall attest his signature thereto.

5. That Section 5 of such prior Ordinance is amended to provide that the Amendment to the Contract of the City with the Fiscal Agent, Dupree & Company, Inc., has been read to and approved by the members of the Board of Trustees, after having been approved by the Company, and is now on file in the office of the City Clerk, labeled "Exhibit B1." That the Chairman of the Board of Trustees is hereby authorized and directed to sign said Amendment to Contract in acceptance thereof for and on behalf of the City.

6. That the first literary paragraph of Section 6 of such prior Ordinance is amended to read as follows:

"6. That the City reserves the right and option to redeem the Bonds of said series at any time, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, without any redemption premium, in the event of major damage or destruction, condemnation of the property, in the event of legal changes rendering the Contract of Lease and Rent as amended impossible of performance, in the event there are imposed on the Lessee unreasonable burdens or in the event expenditures are made at the site of such Project which cause the interest on such Bonds to become subject to Federal income taxation. If there are Bond proceeds remaining after the completion of the Project, the Bonds are subject to prior redemption at par plus accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, in inverse numerical order, to the extent there are proceeds available. Otherwise, such Bonds are not subject to prior redemption, without the consent of the holders thereof, except that the Bonds maturing on and after October 1, 1986, are subject to prior redemption on any interest payment date on or after October 1, 1985, in the inverse order of their maturities, less than all of a single maturity to be selected by lot, at the face amount of the Bonds redeemed plus accrued interest to the date stated for prior redemption."

7. Section 7 of such prior Ordinance is amended to provide that the date therein shall be changed from April 1, 1975, to October 1, 1975.

8. That Section 8 of such prior Ordinance is amended to provide that the period of the lease shall be from October 1, 1975, through September 30, 1990, instead of April 1, 1975, through March 31, 1990, and to declare the intentions of the City to lease the Project to the Company during such period pursuant to an Amendment to the Contract of Lease and Rent, and to enter into an Amendment to the Guaranty Agreement between the City and such Company, the forms of such respective instruments having been read and approved by the members of the Board of Trustees and are now on file in the office of the City Clerk, labeled "Exhibit C1" and "Exhibit D1," respectively. That the Chairman of the Board of Trustees is hereby authorized and directed to sign said instruments for and on behalf of the City; and said City Clerk shall attest his signature thereto.

9. That the provisions of the Amendment to the Resolution authorizing the $1,000,000 of Bonds is incorporated in this Amendment to Ordinance by reference thereto, and all of the provisions of Section 9 of such prior Ordinance shall be applicable to all of the instruments referred to therein, as amended, and to such $1,300,000 of Bonds.

10. That such Amendment to the Resolution, together with the Amendment to Contract of Purchase of Bonds, the Amendment to Fiscal Agent's Contract, the Amendment to Contract of Lease and Rent, and the Amendment to Guaranty Agreement as approved in said Amendment to the Resolution, all of which are hereby further incorporated into this Amendment to Ordinance by reference thereto, shall be placed on file in the office of the City Clerk and made available for public inspection by any interested party immediately following the passage and approval of this Amendment to Ordinance as required by law.

11. That the term of the Contract of Lease and Rent, as amended, set out in Section 14 of such prior Ordinance, is hereby amended from April 1, 1975, through March 31, 1990, to October 1, 1975, through September 30, 1990.

12. That such bonds and the interest thereon will be subject to the provisions and limitations set forth in Section 103 (c) (6) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by P. L. 90-364 and P. L. 90-634. That the City shall not in any event issue any additional bonds if as a result of the issuance thereof the interest on the bonds herein authorized or the interest on such additional bonds will not be fully excludable from the gross income of the recipients thereof under Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, except in the case of the single exception of such bonds being held by a person who is a substantial user of the facilities or a related person after giving effect to the provisions and limitations set forth in Section 103 (c) (6) (D) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

13. That the City hereby elects to have the provisions of Section 103 (c) (6) (D) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by P. L. 90-364 and P. L. 90-634, applied to the bonds herein authorized and covenants and agrees to take any and all action necessary to effectuate such election. That the Chairman of the Board of Trustees and the City Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to take any and all further action which may be required to implement and effectuate such election including, without limitation, the preparation and filing of such statement or statements or other document or other documents as may be deemed by them to be necessary or advisable in order to comply with the procedure set forth in Technical Information Release 1002 announced by the Internal Revenue Service on November 29, 1968, or any definitive regulations which may be promulgated by the United States Treasury Department under the provisions of such Section 103 (c) (6) (D) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended as aforesaid.

14. That this Amendment to Ordinance and the Amendment to Bond Resolution which this Amendment to Ordinance authorizes, approves and incorporates by reference, shall become effective upon the publication of this Amendment to Ordinance, as required by law; and if any section, paragraph, clause or provision hereof shall be held invalid, the invalidity thereof shall not affect the remaining provisions.

15. That all motions, ordinances, resolutions, and parts thereof, in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed, and this Amendment to Ordinance shall take effect and be in force immediately after its passage, approval and publication as required by law.

Passed and approved on September 8, 1975.

Kentucky Fishing Report

Frankfort, Ky., September 15—With the recent cold snap in Kentucky, water temperatures on the major lakes have dropped as much as 15 degrees into the 70's over the past week. Fishing is generally improved, particularly for black bass. The lake-by-lake rundown, as compiled by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife:

NOLIN: Bluegill good around deep banks on the upper lake; black bass fair to good on artificial nightcrawlers along shallow banks on the lower lake; white bass fair trolling deep runners off deep banks and points on the lower lake; clear to murky, rising, two feet below pool and 77 degrees.

CUMBERLAND: Black bass good fly fishing bass bugs or still fishing small crawfish; crappie good over deep cover; below dam, trout fair to good; clear, stable, 41 feet below timberline and 78 degrees.

GREEN: Black bass good on spinner baits and medium runners over drop-offs; crappie good in inlets and bays over submerged cover; below dam, trout fair; clear to murky, falling, one foot below pool and 76 degrees.

LAUREL: Black bass good on surface lures in inlets and bays; crappie good in timbered coves; clear, stable and 74 degrees.

BUCKHORN: Crappie good around stick ups; black bass fair on surface to medium runners over weed beds; clear to murky to muddy, falling, four feet below pool and 72 degrees.

DEWEY: Catfish good on cut bait over drop-offs; crappie fair over submerged cover; clear to murky to muddy, stable and 76 degrees.

GRAYSON: Bluegill fair to good around stick ups in inlets and bays; crappie slow to fair over submerged cover; below dam, trout slow; clear, falling slowly, one half foot below pool and 72 degrees.

KENTUCKY: Sauger good trolling deep runners and still fishing minnows over channel drop-offs; black bass fair to good casting surface to medium runners over submerged cover; below dam, catfish slow; clear to murky to muddy, falling, 3 1/2 feet below pool and 76 degrees.

BARKLEY: Crappie fair in inlets and bays over submerged cover and around stick ups; black bass slow on surface to medium runners in inlets and bays and on artificial nightcrawlers over drop-offs; below dam, catfish fair; clear to murky, stable, 3 1/2 feet below pool and 74 degrees.

BARREN: Black bass fair to good on surface to medium runners along points and sandy banks; crappie fair over submerged cover; clear to murky to muddy, falling slowly, 1 1/2 feet below pool and 73 degrees.

CAVE RUN: Black bass good on the upper lake casting artificial nightcrawlers and still fishing minnows and fair in the lower lake on surface to medium runners; musky fair casting and trolling deep runners over channel drop-offs; clear to murky, stable, 3 1/2 feet below pool and 68 degrees.

DALOE HOLLOW: Black bass fair in jumps on surface lures; crappie slow in inlets and bays over submerged cover; clear, falling, 2 1/2 feet below pool and 80 degrees.

FISHTRAP: Crappie fair over submerged cover; black bass slow on deep runners around rocky points; below dam, trout slow; clear, stable, two feet below pool and 78 degrees.

HERRINGTON: Black bass fair on surface lures and flyrod poppers in inlets and bays early; bluegill slow along deep banks; clear, falling, sevenfeet below pool and 77 degrees.

ROUGH RIVER: Crappie fair over drop-offs; bluegill fair along deep banks; below dam, trout slow; clear, stable and 76 degrees.

Melvin Trial Witness Accuses Officials

The trial now in progress in the Johnson circuit court at Paintsville of Sheriff Ray Melvin on bribery-extortion charges in connection with bootlegging activities has resulted in unverified charges being voiced against five other county officials.

Herbert Gene Wheeler, an admitted bootlegger, testified during the trial that he made payoffs to County Judge Bill Ward, Trial Commissioner and Judge Pro-Tem Bob Stafford, Jailer Sambo Griffith, Magistrate Arthur Ray Picklesimer and Constable Clarence Meeks.

The grand jury has extended its term there and will presumably look into the charges.

Of the Johnson county trial Gary Galyeon wrote in last Sunday's Lexington Herald-Leader:

Wheeler said he was offered immunity from prosecution for his testimony.

He was on the witness stand for two and one-half hours yesterday.

Commonwealth Atty. Eugene C. Rice told the court he had only heard Wheeler's story Friday night. He said the matter would be referred to the present grand jury, now in extended session here.

During a recess, Rice made this statement:

"In view of the evidence heard in this trial, it is anticipated that witnesses will be presented concerning these individuals."

In the second day of testimony in Melvin's trial, Wheeler said the sheriff paid him $25 for each $250 he collected in "protection money" from the bootleggers and delivered to the sheriff.

Wheeler said his collection fee amounted to about $125 per month. He then alleged that he had to use that money and more of his own money to pay County Judge Pro-Tem Stafford $550 in "protection money."

Wheeler testified that County Judge Ward, who is presently hospitalized, warned him (Wheeler) that if Wheeler ever revealed their agreement, "I'll burn you one way or the other."

Wheeler said in exchange for the $550, Stafford would call and warn him if the Kentucky State Police had secured a search warrant and were preparing to raid him.

If caught and fined, Wheeler further testified, Stafford would give him a receipt for the amount he was fined, although Wheeler would not have paid the fine.

The bootlegger testified that the county jailer had arranged for Wheeler's first meeting with Paul Raymond Tackett, also indicted for attempting to bribe Melvin, who has been alleged to have been an agent setting up the pay-off system for the sheriff.

On cross-examination, Dan Jack Combs, defense attorney, played a recorded statement Wheeler had made to the attorney in August.

On the tape, Wheeler, who told the court yesterday he sold between 30 and 70 cases of beer each week, was heard to say, "In no way have I offered Ray Melvin one dime or given him one dime . . ."

"I'd say he's the best sheriff Johnson county has had for some time."

Because his taped statements appeared to conflict with his testimony, Wheeler was asked if they did conflict, and replied:

"Yes, but I wasn't under oath. I'm under oath now."

Under oath, Wheeler said that at a meeting with Melvin on U. S. 23 near the Lawrence county line, the two men (Wheeler and Melvin) agreed that each bootlegger wanting the sheriff's protection would pay $250 on the 15th of each month.

Wheeler said he made five deliveries to the sheriff, the first of which was $1,250 and delivered to the sheriff's office.

Following Wheeler's testimony, his wife, Mrs. Dorene Wheeler, testified to several pay-offs and meetings at which she claimed to have been present.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler stated they knew nothing about actions taken on the six dates cited in the indictment on which Melvin is being tried. All of their testimony dealt with events previous to those dates.

In the afternoon, however, Glenna Tackett, Riceville, one of the prosecution's major witnesses, testified she was present at the alleged pay-off on each of the six days listed in the indictment.

Admitting to being a bootlegger for the past 10 to 15 years, Mrs. Tackett, who is not related to Paul Raymond Tackett, said she paid these amounts on the following dates at Melvin's farm near Paintsville:

April 21, $250; April 28, $200; May 20, $100; May 30, unsure; June 21, $150, and June 27, $150.

Melvin has been indicted on six counts of bribery while a public official and six counts of thefts by extortion.

Concerning the extortion charge, Mrs. Tackett alleged "he (Melvin) told me to get in the clique or close my door or he'd close it for me and that made me a little hot under the collar."

It was for this reason, she said, that she taped a secret meeting which allegedly took place between Melvin and several bootleggers.

This recording was eventually turned over to Rice, who asked the state police to make an investigation.

When asked by Combs if she had been promised immunity, the middle-aged woman replied, "They didn't promise me nothing . . . They ain't told me nothing."

TO RETURN 'HOME'

Mrs. Grace Tipton, of Westland, Mich., formerly of Prestonsburg, will celebrate her birthday on September 28 by returning to Kentucky for a week's visit. She will be the guest of her granddaughter, Kathi Hall, husband Thone, and their six-month-old daughter, Jenni Kim, of Lexington. Mrs. Tipton plans to visit Prestonsburg and visit friends. Mr. and Mrs. Tipton left Kentucky four years ago to live in Michigan. They have seven children, 18 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

More than one-fifth of all owner-occupied private residences today were built under the GI home loan program administered by the Veterans Administration.

John Henry Carr, 80, of Allen, died last Monday, September 8, at Highlands Regional Medical Center following an extended illness.

Born September 8, 1895 at Allen, he was a son of the late Press and Mickie Smith Carr. He was a retired farmer.

His widow, Mrs. Lizzie Webb Carr, survives him.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m., Wednesday, at the residence by the Rev. Bill Amburgey. Burial was made in the Jones cemetery at Allen under direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

CARD OF THANKS

I am truly grateful to every person who was so thoughtful and kind to me upon the passing of my husband, John Henry Carr. How could I ever put into words my appreciation of such true friends and their expressions of love? I especially want to thank the Rev. William Amburgey for his comforting words and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its kind and efficient services. May God bless you all.

(Mrs.) ELIZABETH CARR

Charles David Maurer

Charles David Maurer, 80, of Shamokin, Pa., brother of Mrs. B. F. Reed, of Drift, died last Tuesday morning, September 9, at Shamokin State General Hospital after an illness of a few days.

A native of Shamokin and former president of Shamokin Packing Company, Mr. Maurer had resided in Drift with Mr. and Mrs. Reed from 1964 until July of this year when he returned to Pennsylvania. His wife, Mary Alice Foust Maurer preceded him in death in August 1964. A graduate of Bucknell University, Mr. Maurer was a veteran of army service in World War I. He was a member of Grace Lutheran Church, the American Legion and the Rotary Club.

Survivors, other than Mrs. Reed, include two sons, Robert D. Maurer, of Belleville, Pa., and John F. Maurer, of Camp Hill, Pa.; four sisters, Mrs. Anna Schick, Mrs. Frances Snyder, Mrs. Florence Billing, all of Shamokin, Pa., Miss Marian Maurer, of Philadelphia, Pa.; two brothers, Harry A. Maurer, of Shamokin, Paul W. Maurer, of Williamsport, Pa. and three grandsons.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Farrow Funeral Home in Shamokin by the Rev. Charles Souders. Burial was made in the Shamokin cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends for the food, kindness, help and sympathy during the illness and at the death of my wife, Sylvia Skeans. I also wish to thank the Hall Bros. Funeral Home, for their kindness and efficient service, the pallbearers, the Rev. Lori Vanucci, and those who sang before and at the funeral. These things will be long remembered.

ELLIOTT SKEANS

Laura B. Hatfield

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Hall Brothers chapel for Mrs. Laura B. Hatfield, 85, of Hunter, who died Sunday at her home following a prolonged illness. The officiating minister will be Clarence A. Pouch.

Born November 5, 1889 in Prestonsburg, she was a daughter of the late Dorse and Mary Ratliff and was the widow of John H. Hatfield. She was a member of the Jehovah's Witnesses of Allen.

Va., and Norman Blevins, of Columbus, O.; two sisters, Mrs. Maude Fitch, of Raul, W. Va., and Mrs. Mae Peters, of Beaver, Pa.; 14 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m., Friday, September 12, at Preston Funeral Home chapel in Paintsville with the Rev. Lowell Webb officiating. Burial was made in the Holbrook cemetery on the Middle Creek Road.

Mrs. Dorsie Jones

Mrs. Dorsie Jones, 54, of Beaver, died last Friday at Methodist Hospital in Pikeville following a brief illness.

Born August 7, 1920 at Beaver, she was a daughter of the late Henry and Lissie Bentley Jones.

Survivors include her husband, Dennis Jones; two sons, Effort and Hatler Jones, both of Beaver; four daughters, Mrs. Arizona Tackett, Misses Elzie, Lizzie, and Artie Jones, all of Beaver.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m., Monday, at the home, and burial was made in the Jones family cemetery under direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Mrs. Jeffie G. Turner

Mrs. Jeffie G. Turner, 72, wife of Raymond B. Turner, of 2121 Nicholasville Rd., Lexington, and a former resident of this county, died last Thursday at St. Joseph Hospital.

A native of Mayfield, Ky., Mrs. Turner, was a daughter of Albert B. and Emma Hall Galloway. She was a member of the Church of Christ, and was a former Floyd county teacher.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are a brother, Norman L. Galloway, Augusta, Ga., and one sister, Mrs. Idella Jones, of Bell, California.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the Roberts Funeral Home at Mayfield, and burial was made in the Highland Park Cemetery there.

Samuel R. Childers

Samuel Russell (Sammy) Childers, 67, of Auxier, died last Tuesday, September 9, at Highlands Regional Medical Center following a three-week illness.

Born September 4, 1908 at Auxier, he was a son of the late Wesley and Margaret Bays Childers. A veteran of World War II army service and a retired miner, he had made his home with a niece, Mrs. Mary L. Crider, for the past 15 years.

Other survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mabel Hardy, of Cincinnati, O., and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m., Friday, at the Auxier Free Will Baptist Church by the Rev. T. A. Patton with members of the Disabled American Veterans conducting a special chapel service. Burial was made in the Goble family cemetery at Auxier under direction of Carter Funeral Home.

College To Inaugurate New President, Oct. 9

PIKEVILLE, Ky.—Jarrett M. Wood, chairman of the board of trustees of Pikeville College, has announced the inauguration of the twelfth president of the college will be held in conjunction with Founders Day.

Wood said Dr. Jackson O. Hall will be inaugurated in ceremonies to be held in Faith Chapel of the Record Memorial building, Thursday, October 9.

Hall, a former administrative assistant to the president of Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, became president of the 85-year-old college last March.

PRESTONSBURG BOOSTERS CLUB TO MEET

BETSY LAYNE NEWS

Angela Dawn (Angie) Boyd celebrated her second birthday with a party, Aug. 27. The party, which was mostly a family affair, was held on the lawn at her home. Her mother was assisted in the balloon blowing and other decorations, by her brother, Randy, her cousins, Lisa Williams and Anita Hall. Cake and ice cream were served to the following who also assisted in opening the gifts:

Roy and Lester Ballard, Tod and Tyra Stapleton, Steven and Lynn Branham, Shannon Reynolds, Tammy Jo Williams, Lisa Lynn Williams, Anita Hall and Randy Boyd.

Others attending or sending gifts were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Gradis Boyd, of Betsy Layne; her great-grandmother, Mrs. Ocie Parsons, of Harold; aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ballard and Mr. and Mrs. Morris G. Williams, of Betsy Layne, and Mrs. and Mrs. Rick Reynolds, of Allen. Also attending were Mrs. Pam Branham and Mrs. Katy Luster, of Betsy Layne.

Arthritis also attacks infants and children. There are at least 250,000 children in the U. S. today who have juvenile rheumatoid arthritis.

Cadillac is first in U.S. luxury car popularity.

In the last model year, purchases of Cadillacs were more than double those of the nearest luxury car competitor. And figures for 1975 indicate that our lead is widening. In fact, the 1975 model year could be—despite the recession—the third best sales year in Cadillac history.

Cadillac is first in U.S. luxury car resale value.

Cadillac consistently leads all U.S. luxury car makes in resale value. Therefore, it comes as no surprise that according to recent issues of Automotive Marketing Report, the 1974 Cadillac has retained a higher percentage of its original value (Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price) than any other U.S. luxury car make. Models compared were priced to include those popular options that were installed on 50% or more of a particular body style.

Only one can be Number One.

Cadillac is first in U.S. luxury car share of market.

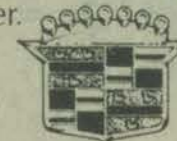

As long as most people can remember, Cadillac has been the leader in the luxury car field. And now figures show that, for the last three model years, Cadillac has been actually increasing its share of luxury car sales. So much so that Cadillac sells an average of nearly 475 more cars a day than the closest competitor.

Cadillac is first in U.S. luxury car model choice.

The first luxury of Cadillac is the luxury of choice. There are ten basic Cadillac models—including the only luxury convertible built in America, the only American-built production car designed and built as a limousine and the international-sized Seville.

Cadillac is first in U.S. luxury car repeat ownership.

In the most meaningful test of them all—the test that takes place every day in the marketplace—there is only one leader. Cadillac. In fact, the percentage of repeat new car buyers for Cadillac is consistently the highest of any U.S. luxury car make. There is no more convincing demonstration of Total Cadillac Value—the value inherent in every Cadillac...when you buy it...when you drive it...and when you trade it. There is no better reason to talk to your Cadillac dealer.

Total Cadillac Value. It explains a lot of things.

METHODIST WOMEN MEET

The Allen United Methodist women met September 9 at the parsonage, with Kay Lemaster as hostess. Maude Snodgrass, president, opened the meeting by reading a selection, entitled, "The Art of Believing," taken from the volume, "Art of Living." After a short business meeting she turned the program over to Sharon Snodgrass, who has made different summer tours of Europe and spent a summer with an Austrian family to enrich her speech in Germany. She is a former teacher of German in Jefferson county schools. Dressed in a native costume of Austria, she showed many slides of her travels. After the program, a dessert course was served by Kay Lemaster to Edna Mae Callison, Kay Gray, Jerri Martin, Maude Snodgrass, Jewel Allen, Elizabeth Bailey, and guest, Sharon Snodgrass. The October meeting will be with Jerri Martin, with Jewel Allen in charge of the program.

German Sextet To Appear Here

Germany, the land of the three B's—Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms—is also celebrated as the land of the waltz. The liting music of the Lukas Sextet will make an exclusive U. S. appearance in Kentucky, with its debut taking place at Covington's Devon Park during Oktoberfest, September 20-21, Northern Kentucky's official Bicentennial celebration, and will appear at Jenny Wiley State Park Sept. 26 for the final performance of the tour.

This sextet, which has appeared at celebrations and fairs in all the major cities of West Germany, is flying to Kentucky for a limited engagement which includes a tour of five state parks. Each park is planning a special all-German menu to coincide with the appearance of the band. Such delicious foods as Mett sausages, sauerkraut, hot potato salad and soft pretzels will set the pace for a delightful evening with an International flavor.

Authentic German folk music, waltz, and modern, as well as American 'Pop' will be performed under the baton of Lukas Jansen, band director of the sextet, which has its home base in Lorup. The band wears typical native costumes of the old Hanover state of Northern Germany, affording the public an opportunity to learn something of the cultural life of people from other lands, as well as its influence on our own musical and social heritage.

The special tour will begin at Cumberland Falls State Park, September 22, followed by concerts at Rough River State Park on September 23, Lake Barkley State Park on September 24, Barren River State Park on September 25, and a final performance at Jenny Wiley State Park on September 26.

The cost of the buffet, which will be served from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., is $4.95. The band will be playing at intervals in the dining room at this time and the following concert is free.

How To Get Most Out of Your Money

Three local men made a dream come true for 20 handicapped youngsters. Joel Robinson, director of Floyd County Children's Services for Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, decided that the young enrollees in the summer program who had faithfully attended the special classes all summer should experience a first-hand knowledge of nature by having a real camping experience.

With the help of a staff composed of Denny Layne and Floyd Davis, mental health workers, Karen Guman, intern psychologist, and six counselors, Robinson planned a full week of activities at the J. M. Feltner 4-H Camp in Johnson county. Two cooks were recruited, lists made, plans on paper down to the last detail were made, then the dilemma that affects us all arose—Money!

An appeal was made, and three local business men associated with the fuel industry underwrote the entire financial needs for the camp, including the traditional camp store.

Seventeen children showed up for the bus ride to camp. Three others were privately transported.

Things learned during the summer were put to practical use. Being able to assume personal responsibility such as bed-making, keeping one's own possessions in order and making one's own crafts were rewarding. There were few disagreements and a busy happy group emerged.

Thursday night was Parent and Visitor night. St. Vincent's mission assisted the cooks in preparing a spaghetti dinner for campers and visitors. Entertainment was provided by a professional clown who was visiting in the area.

The men who made all this possible are Marvin Music, Sr., Wes Blackburn and Harry Hale Ranier.

About 2 million more people than attend National Football League games during a regular season receive treatment annually in outpatient visits to Veterans Administration medical facilities.

View Society of the Future

Leo Weddle, professor of Sociology and Psychology at Prestonsburg Community College, recently attended a conference on Futurology at the College of Mount St. Joseph in Cincinnati, Ohio. Present at the conference, which dealt with the social, economics and educational implications in the world of the future, were such consultants as Former Senator Sam Irvin, former Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas, and former Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz. The conference was predicated on the idea that in a rapidly changing world society should begin to make choices and preparations to circumvent possible problems which these changes might bring.

Sorghum Fest Set Oct. 10-12

By HELEN PRICE STACY
Arthur Barker sits in the shadow of two hills and deftly works hickory strips into a seat for a walnut stool; Henry Sexton can be found most days in a shed across the road from his house on Ditony Ridge, weaving slender strands of basket oak into a work of art; Irene Vest makes tiny stitches on a red calico apple to combine with other patchwork fruit for a table arrangement.

These craftsmen, along with almost 100 other people who create interesting and beautiful handiwork, are getting ready for the fifth annual Morgan County Sorghum Festival in West Liberty Oct. 10-12.

"The dozens of booths in two long rows on Main Street already have been subscribed," said Mrs. Boyd Blair, of West Liberty, arts and crafts chairwoman. "In addition to all the regulars, we will have new faces and new crafts this year."

On this special week-end in October, Morgan county and all of Eastern Kentucky take on a festive air, for all the beauty of autumn is symbolized in the array of variously colored articles that will be for sale.

The county's well known quilt makers will offer traditional patchwork—and perhaps some that is not so traditional; originality in using every conceivable scrap of cloth to make what it will in a bed cover is the trademark of mountain women.

Quilts and coverlets, gingham and calico necklaces, flowers, fruit, skirts and shirts and table linens helped attract at least 40,000 visitors to last year's event.

Women of the Methodist Church again will grind fresh corn meal on the spot; knife-makers will demonstrate their art, as will silversmiths. Knitters and crocheters, tatters and lace-makers will show how they create beauty and will offer their articles for sale.

Mrs. Roy Tyler, whose draw-work lace trimmings seem to get more beautiful each year, has dozens of pillow covers and other items already made for the festival. "I'm not as young as I once was," commented Mrs. Tyler recently, "and I've been trying to show Grace Adkins and some other friends how to draw threads to make lace."

Handsome pieces of furniture made with a pocket knife aided by a draw knife will be for sale, as will various other hand-carved articles, including miniatures.

The county seat's Main Street looks like a giant circus with its tents and booths; persons working in the booths may not "hawk" their wares, but they will be friendly and helpful.

In addition to hundreds of crafts, artists are invited to bring paintings to exhibit around the courthouse. Also, church and civic groups in Morgan county will cook beans in open kettles, to be offered along with cornbread, side meat and onions; other concession tents will fry country ham for biscuit sandwiches. The smell of country sorghum—being cooked the old time way—will be everywhere.

"We'll try to have cane pieces enough for everyone to taste sorghum right from the pan," Mrs. Blair said. "We have the best sorghum molasses around and invite all visitors to taste this hill delicacy that in olden days was considered a must on every farm. Anyone who has not spooned sorghum over hot biscuits on a wintry morning has missed a real treat."

While most of the craftsmen are local artists, some outstanding celebrities have been invited to exhibit their works. "This includes musicians," added Mrs. Blair. "We will have street dancing, a parade on Saturday, a Sunday afternoon gospel sing, Cherokee Indian dancers and craftsmen, as well as the crowning of a Sorghum Queen to take place at half-time activities of the Sorghum Bowl football game."

The brilliance of fall in the hills makes this an excellent time to visit Morgan county and its friendly citizens, who will do all they can to make your visit to the festival a memorable time.

Sports Afield

By TED KESTING

"Summer and fall are very good times to sample some of Florida's superlative bass fishing, and the prices—especially in the fall—are very attractive," Robert O'Byrne, Travel Editor of Sports Afield, reports. Here are some of his recommendations:

Lake Jackson, at the northern limits of Tallahassee, Florida's capital city, has been a top bass-producing lake for a number of years. It is noted for the number of consistently large fish taken from its waters. There are several fishing camps at Lake Jackson with boats, motors, guides and tackle available. Lake George, on the famed St. Johns River, is another fine spot for large bass, bluegills and crappies. There are more than 45,000 acres covered by the lake which is located in the area north of Fla. 40, midway between Daytona Beach and Ocala. Despite the shoreline build-up in recent years, big fish are taken regularly from the lake.

Just to the north of Lake George, near Welaka, is the Rodman Pool, born during the construction of the Cross-Florida Barge Canal. Despite the controversy over the canal and the periodic draw-downs of water level, bass and panfish spilled into the pool from the Oklawaha River. The result has been some fantastic fishing. Principal access to the pool is by boat from the St. Johns through the lock which operates at regular intervals, starting at daylight.

Another prime fishing spot in northern Florida is the Dead Lakes area of the Chipola River. This is located in sparsely settled country near Wewachitka, where a dam forms the lakes just before the river joins the Apalachicola River. There are plenty of fishing camps with accommodations around the lake. The lake is easily reached by Fla. 71, which parallels the lake.

In Central Florida there is another of Florida's fine lakes, Tsala Apopka. Actually, it is a series of lakes connected by canals to the Withlacoochee River. Headquarters for the fishing are centered around Floral City, Inverness and Hernando. U. S. 41 borders the lakes' western side.

Four lakes in the Kissimmee River valley form another of Florida's top fishing areas. Lake Tohopekalgia at Kissimmee has excellent fishing. A few miles to the south is Lake Kissimmee with a surface area of 36,000 acres. In between these two lakes are lakes Hathineha and Cypress. All three are well worth fishing. Lake Okeechobee is so well known as to need no further mention, but to the south is that vast expanse of the Everglades often called "The River of Grass." This area is best fished out of West Palm Beach, Ft. Lauderdale and Hollywood.

Keathley-Henderson

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keathley, of Allen, Ky., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Suzanne, to Mr. Clayton Bruce Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Henderson, of Willoughby, Ohio. The ceremony will take place at Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, October 4, at 6 p.m. The gracious custom of open church will be observed. The reception will be held in the basement of the church, immediately following the ceremony.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN MEET

The Republican women met Sept. 9 at 7:30 at the Floyd County Library. The president, Maxine Bierman, presided. Lists of registered women voters were turned in, and plans were discussed as to what the group can do for Huda Jones, Republican women candidate for Secretary of State.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Oct. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the library.

Contingency Fund Grant To Help Fight Encephalitis

Gov. Julian Carroll has issued a $15,000 grant from his contingency fund to the Kentucky Department of Agriculture for mosquito-spraying operations in Western Kentucky.

The aerial spraying operations are to prevent further outbreaks of suspected viral encephalitis ("sleeping sickness") in that area.

Riggins Flying Service, of Adairville, has been awarded a $10,000 personal service contract to carry out the spraying operations and an additional $5,000 was appropriated for the purchase of chemicals.

According to Wendell P. Butler, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, there is an outbreak of encephalitis in Union, McCracken and Ballard counties.

The disease is spread by the Culex mosquito and their extermination is the only known method of control.

Gov. Carroll noted that more than 40 cases of suspected encephalitis have been reported in the state so far this year.

"Unless we take immediate action to control the mosquito population," he said, "we could be facing an epidemic of encephalitis in Jefferson county and in parts of Western Kentucky."

Encephalitis causes inflammation of the brain, spinal cord and the tissues covering them. Its symptoms may include mild headaches, vision and speech impairments, drowsiness and comas. No specific treatment has been developed for the disease, which has a fatality rate of less than 10 per cent.

Cases of encephalitis have been reported in Union, McCracken, Ballard, Henderson, Hopkins, Jefferson and Henderson counties. Nine other states have reported similar outbreaks, with Mississippi reporting the largest number of suspected cases.

This is the first time since 1964 that the disease has been reported in Kentucky.

The Veterans Administration manages an insurance program of 8.9 million policies with a face value of $90.8 billion.

KEA Hails Pike County Decision

By MARY MUSICK (Education News Service)

It took years of work, two lawsuits and a new state law, but the Kentucky Education Association (KEA) has conclusively proved school boards don't have arbitrary power over their employees. At the end of this past school year, the Pike county school board demoted 10 administrators to the lower paying position of elementary classroom teacher. But, a recent ruling of the Pike circuit court has overturned the school board's action. KEA General Counsel Jim Slattery calls the court decision a significant victory, especially since it represents the legal and legislative effectiveness of KEA. A KEA lawsuit filed in 1970 for Pike county administrators who faced similar wholesale demotions, the fair demotion law for administrators, and the current lawsuit all related to the court's recent decision. The 10 administrators, all of whom are KEA members, filed as plaintiffs in a lawsuit challenging the action of the board. The court ruled in regard to all but one plaintiff requesting additional facts concerning Hobert Dye, a high school principal in the system.

The hearing transcript sets out various violations of the fair demotion law by the board. Some cited by the court were: -The defendants did not issue a statement of facts upon which the proposed demotion was based including appropriate dates, times, names, places and circumstances. -The alleged "financial circumstances" of the board gave the plaintiffs no basis from which to prepare a defense. -Financial problems, as such, are not grounds for demotion since the grounds must relate to the individual administrator's fitness to occupy the position. -Written grounds for the demotion must be given each administrator. -Each administrator has the right to be heard separately and decide whether his or her hearing will be public or private. -The demotion hearing time schedule as prescribed by law was not followed by the board. The KEA-backed case of Snapp v. Deskins involving the 1970 administrative demotions speaks to the issue of arbitrary action by a school board. In finding for the plaintiffs, the judge wrote, "While the initial burden of proof was on the plaintiffs, the burden has been shifted to the defendants by the strong evidence of arbitrariness. The defendants have utterly failed to meet the burden of justification so shifted upon them." Therefore the court ruled that "the transfer is shown to be arbitrary" and that "the courts have a firm duty to enjoin the arbitrary acts and restore the injured parties to their former position." According to Slattery, there are two other important aspects of the case: First, the court held the school board in contempt of court because of certain actions taken in apparent defiance of the court. Then, too, the court was concerned about the issue of whether or not the superintendent and school board members could be held financially liable for repayment to the plaintiffs. Those two issues of the case will be considered by the court at a later time.

A PINTO DOESN'T HAVE THE GUTS TO BE A RABBIT.

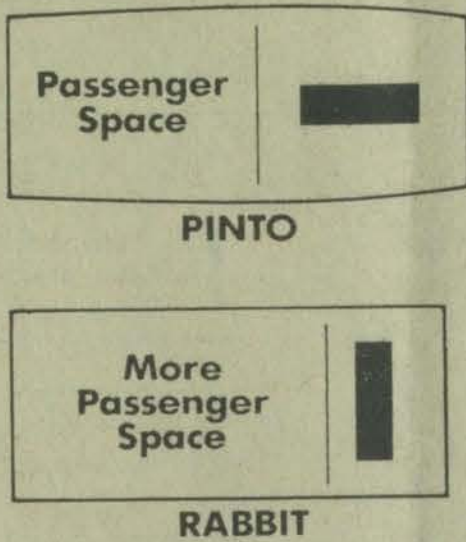

Pinto claims to be a better buy than a Volkswagen Rabbit. But it's really not. Because when you add up all the features that are standard on a Rabbit and optional on a Pinto, plus all the features you can't even get on a Pinto, you come to a startling conclusion. The Rabbit is not only a better engineered car. It's a bargain at the price.

The Rabbit has front-wheel drive. Like an Eldorado and a Toronado.

Features that are standard on a Rabbit and that cost more on a Pinto.

They compare a 2-door Pinto to a 3-door hatchback Rabbit. How much does a hatchback Pinto cost? $215 extra. To get the same kind of performance as a Rabbit (0 to 50 in 8.2 seconds), you have to order a larger 6-cylinder engine with a special rear axle. $272 extra on the Pinto. Of course, with the larger engine you'd only get 22 mpg on the highway and 16 in the city.

The Rabbit has the engine mounted sideways to give you more passenger space.

The Rabbit gets 38 mpg on the highway and 24 mpg in the city. So driving an average of 12,000 miles a year, you'd spend about $10 extra for gas every month with the Pinto.

To get the same effortless 3.3 turn lock-to-lock steering as a Rabbit, you'd have to get power steering on the Pinto. $117 extra.

Features on a Rabbit that you can't get on a Pinto at any price.

Front-wheel drive. This gives the Rabbit greater tracking and stability. Not available on the Pinto.

Dual diagonal braking system. If one braking system should fail, another is there to help stop the car. Not available on the Pinto.

Negative steering roll radius. This helps stop a Rabbit in a straight line. Not available on the Pinto.

4-wheel independent suspension. This gives added riding comfort and better handling on rough roads. Not available on the Pinto.

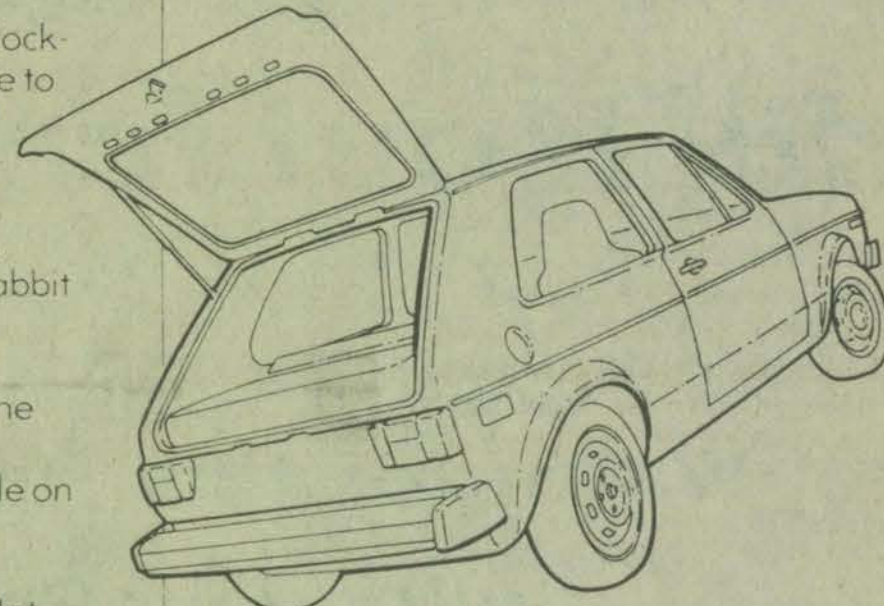

The Rabbit has 4-wheel independent suspension. Like a Porsche.

Interior room. The Rabbit is much roomier than a Pinto. In fact, it has as much leg and head room as some mid-size cars.

Visibility. A Rabbit has more overall glass area than the Pinto's big brother, the Lincoln Mark IV.

Protection. The Rabbit is built so well it's covered by the Volkswagen Owner's Security Blanket, the most advanced car coverage plan in the world.

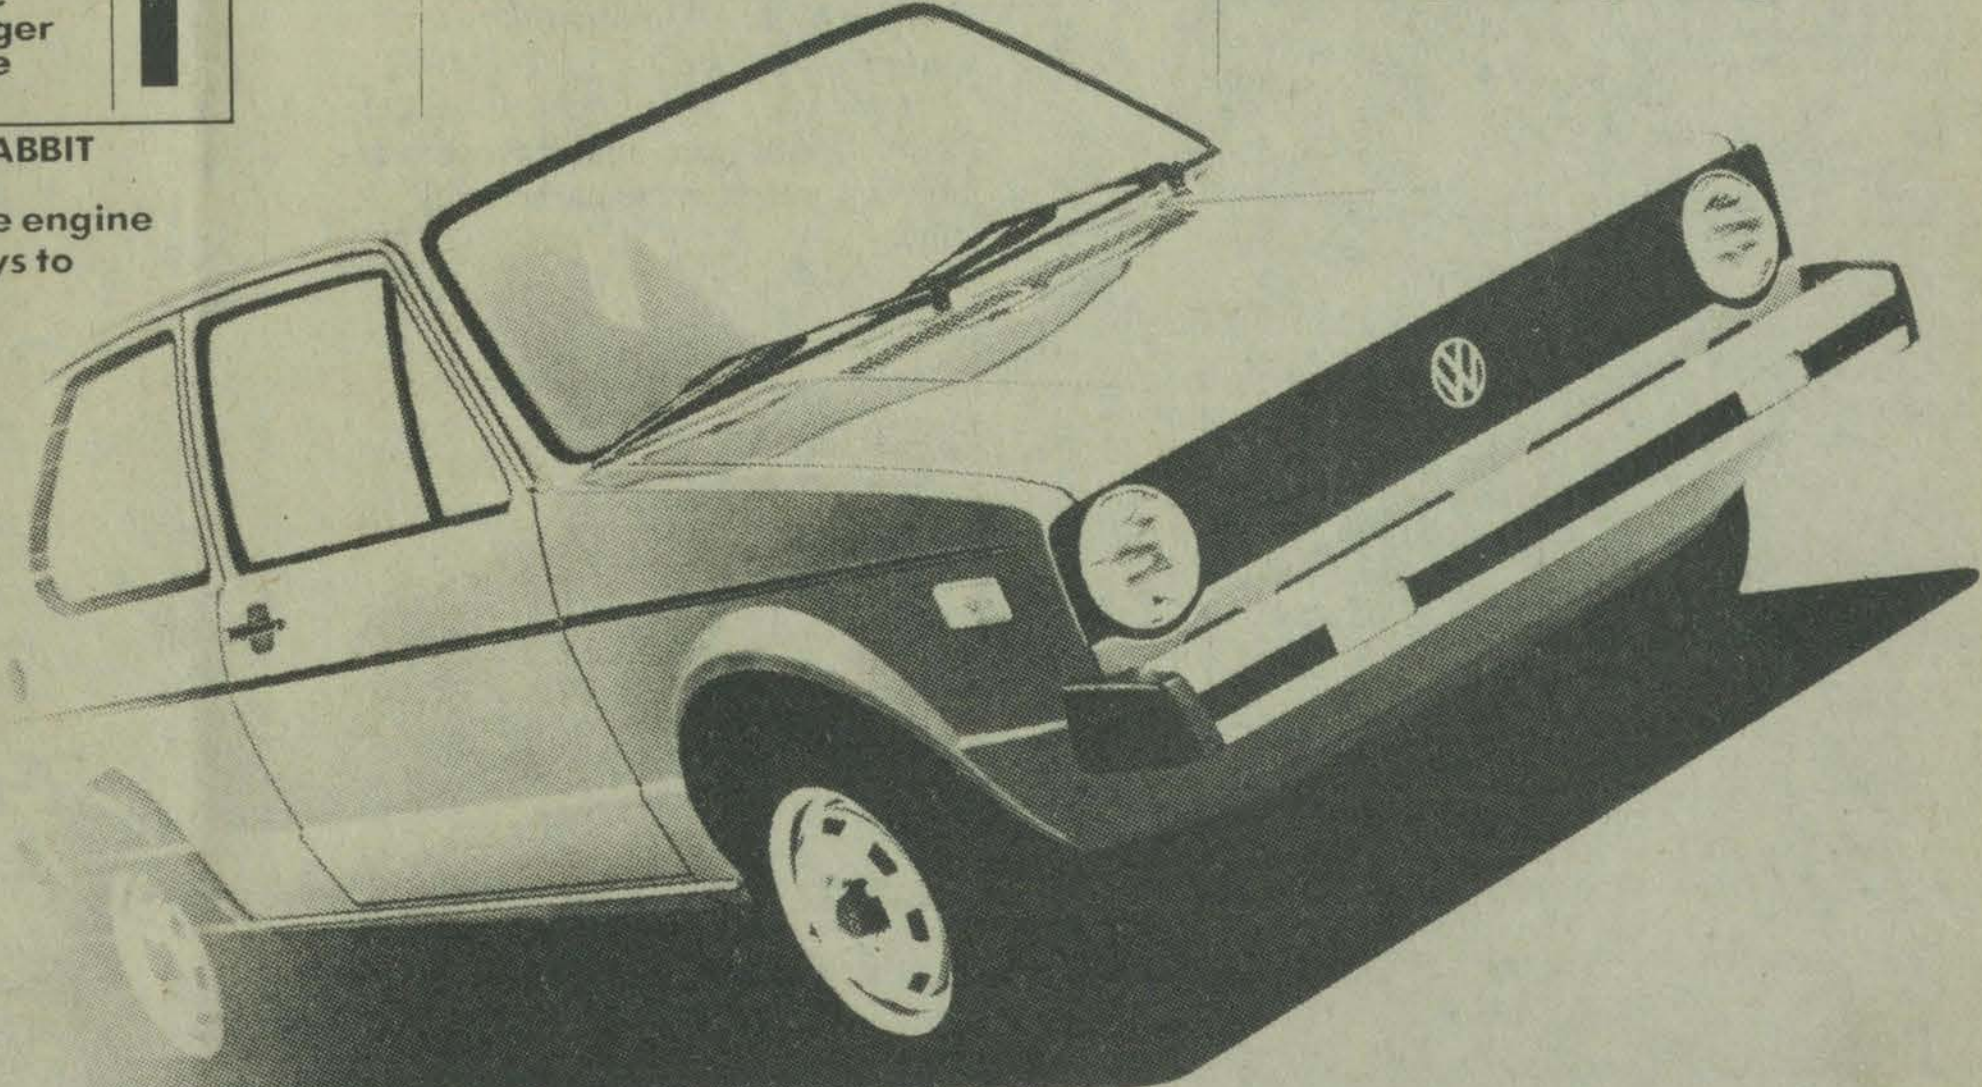

The hatchback on a Rabbit is standard. On a Pinto, it's extra.

You should also listen to the experts. Popular Mechanics called the Rabbit "The Best Value For 1975" and Road and Track named it "The Best Sedan Under $3500."

But test drive the Rabbit yourself. It's really the best way to tell what they leave out of a Pinto to make it so cheap.

If you want your check to continue coming to your present address, don't do anything. It will keep on coming just as it has in the past.

But if you do want your check mailed to a financial organization or if your check already is mailed to one, this is what you should do:

Contact the financial organization where you now have or where you want to have an account and ask for a direct deposit form SF-1199.

(Completion of the form does not permit withdrawals from your account by anyone other than those authorized by you.)

If you want more information, get in touch with your financial organization or contact any social security office.

READ THESE FACTS ABOUT DIRECT DEPOSITS....

- 1 Why is there so much interest today in the direct deposit of social security checks?
The Treasury Department has initiated a program to encourage the recipients of all recurring Federal payments to deposit these directly into a financial institution. Under this plan, an individual can have his check sent directly to his financial institution for deposit.
- 2 How will I benefit from direct deposit of my social security check?
It saves a special trip to the bank just to deposit your check. It eliminates worry about the check being lost or stolen in the mail. And, any time you are away from home or cannot come to the bank, your check is automatically deposited for you.
- 3 Can I have it deposited to my savings account as well as my checking account?
If you want a portion to go into the savings each month, ask your bank about an automatic transfer of a specified amount each month from checking into savings. By law your Social Security check must be directed to one specific account, either checking or savings.
- 4 How do I sign up for this service?
Simply complete the government form (SF1199) available at any bank. Personnel at your commercial bank will be glad to help you complete the form.
- 5 How do I get the information needed to complete the forms?
All the Social Security information you will need is on your monthly check or in your initial awards letter from Social Security. If you need any assistance or have any questions, your bank will be glad to assist you.
- 6 Do I send the form directly to social security?
No, you should complete the top half of the form only and take it or mail it to your bank. They will complete the form, sending one copy to you and one to Social Security.
- 7 After I sign up, when will the bank start receiving my check?
It should take about a month for the form to be processed. At the start of the program, it could take slightly longer.

It's easy and safe and saves you a trip to the Bank each month.
Your check will come right to us on checking or savings, or both.

To the Voters of Martin November 4, 1975

Time is at hand for a change to protect the citizens of Martin, young and old. I, James "Jack" Conley, will do everything in my power to change things for the better. I will be lied about, scorned, criticized, and maybe threatened, but I will hold fast for my city and your city.

One of my sons said, "Dad, why do you want to be Mayor? You know it will interfere with your fishing." I said, "Son, I know it will; it doesn't pay anything but headaches—but someone has to step forward and do the job, because I probably will live here the rest of my life, and I want a good town to live in, safe from the forces of evil."

Lies have been spread about me to try to turn my friends against me, to try to get votes for my opposition. I want so much to keep my campaign clean. The truth will stand in judgement before God and man. Christ was punished for the sake of man. I will be punished for the sake of our city, but I can take it. I will fight until the finish for our city. If I am the only one on the road of reform, I will go alone to fight until death for this town. I regret I have only one life to offer to the people.

Someone asked, "What do you want for the town?" I want everything possible for Martin—a new water and sewer system, a new garbage disposal system, a clean town, more parking, recreation for the young, good schools, an airport, more hospitals and doctors, better streets, senior citizens programs, 24-hour police and fire protection. I want anything that is good for Martin—nothing that is bad and evil.

Dear people, open your eyes; get on this road with me, and hold fast on the trail; let's all take the punishment together. Let us all fight together for what is right. How could anyone vote against their city? Think things over before you cast your vote. Ask yourselves, am I making the right decision? Believe me, my road is not easy; it is hard and heart-breaking. That is why I need the citizens to fight with me. We have to fight hard in the county, the state, and Washington to try to obtain grants for city improvements. We must work together as a whole and get the malice and self-greed out of our minds. Get on the old dusty road to the better way of life. Thank you.

HIGHLAND REGIONAL MEDICAL CENTER EMPLOYEES ARE ORGANIZING—HERE IS WHY

We, the employees of the Highland Regional Medical Center, are organizing to gain Union Representation and to negotiate needed improvements in working conditions, pay and benefits. WE BELIEVE THAT BETTER WORKING CONDITIONS FOR EMPLOYEES WILL MEAN BETTER CARE FOR PATIENTS. You have a right to know about our present conditions and how we hope to improve these conditions through a strong democratic Union.

PRESENT CONDITIONS

The majority of us work for minimum wage. ($2.10 per hour.)
We do not receive overtime for working six, seven and eight consecutive days.
Only registered and licensed personnel receive a shift differential.
We do not receive sick leave unless we are sick for three straight days. (In fact many of us have been told to report to work with sickness, despite the fact that we are working with sick and injured patients.)
We must pay a part of our own health insurance.
No retirement. A plan is now being proposed, a plan we first heard about AFTER we demanded Union Representation.

One Licensed Practical Nurse for the Emergency Room.
Twenty to thirty patients for one Nurse's Aide.
Too few housekeepers.
Not enough help!

There is no such things as seniority rights. New employees are hired at the same or even more money than employees who have done health care work for many years.
Pay increases and promotions are given arbitrarily.
No Job Security. The bosses have the first and last word about suspensions or discharges.

The management of Highland Regional Medical Center is doing everything possible to defeat our Union. Selective pay increases, rumors, anti-union meetings, and legal stalling are all parts of their effort to divide us.

HRMC management LOVES Unions, when a Union Health Plan is paying the bills. United Mine Workers, Steelworkers of America, and many other organized workers and their families use the Hospital and have their bills paid by Union negotiated Health and Hospitalization Plans. HRMC management only fights Unions when the Union is their own employees. Organized workers in the area can help us win our Union.

Wages & Benefits

PAY INCREASES. We deserve better pay. We want to protect the wage increase that we negotiate with a cost-of-living provision so that inflation doesn't wipe it out.
FREE AND COMPLETE HEALTH CARE BENEFITS. We work to deliver health care, but have inadequate coverage for ourselves and our families.
DECENT RETIREMENT BENEFITS. Social Security is just not enough to provide a decent retirement.
IMPROVED VACATIONS AND SICK LEAVE. In fairness to you and ourselves we should not report for work when we are ourselves sick.

Working Conditions

STAFFING. We can have an effective voice in insuring there is enough help in every department, on every floor, and for every shift.
HEALTH AND SAFETY. Good patient care begins with safe and healthy working conditions for employees.

Right & Respect

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE. We want the right to have representation and to appeal any unfair management action to an impartial arbitrator.
SENIORITY. We want seniority to begin from the original date of hire. All jobs should be posted and no discrimination in granting job promotions, weekends off, or anything else.
JOB TRAINING. We want the right to be trained and promoted to higher-skilled and higher-paid jobs.

YOU CAN HELP. HERE'S HOW:

- 1) Let friends or neighbors who work at the Hospital know that they have your support. Encourage them to take an active part in building a strong union.
- 2) Contact the Hospital Administrator, Gene Devine. Tell him that neither he nor his supervisors should interfere with employees who are actively supporting the Union. Patient care should not be interrupted for anti-union brainwashing meetings.
- 3) Urge HRMC management to consent to an election at the NLRB Hearing that is scheduled for Thursday, September 18.
- 4) Contact individual Trustees of HRMC and tell them that their responsibility is to insure a quick and fair election, and good faith bargaining so there will be no interruption in all important care for the ill and injured.

Lackey To Hold Road Aid Funds

Officials of the town of Lackey have notified the state's Department of Transportation that they do not plan to spend any of the municipal road aid money allocated to them for this fiscal year.

They earlier had been advised that their allotted share of monies being set aside by the state for municipal road aid programs would amount to $1,345.

However, according to state Highways Deputy Commission Otto Ingram, whose office is responsible for handling the program, electing not to spend the money during the year in which it was allotted does not mean that the city loses the money. Under the law, the money will be held over and turned back to the city again next year, along with its new fiscal year allotment.

In that way, cities sometimes are able to accumulate a larger deposit of road aid dollars, permitting them to finance a more substantial program of road maintenance, construction or reconstruction, Ingram said.

"In the case of Lackey, that was the specific reason given for deciding not to spend their money now," Ingram said.

ORANGE BOWL BLOSSOMED

MIAMI—The Orange Bowl had a humble beginning in 1933, when only 3,500 at Miami's Moore Park watched the University of Miami beat Manhattan 7-0. The event was then called the Palm Festival, and the halftime highlight was the emergence of the queen from a large plastic football.

Advertisement for Bids

Sealed bids will be received by the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, at the office of the City Clerk in the Ford Building, at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, until 7:30 P.M., September 18, 1975, at which time bids will be publicly opened and read aloud, for furnishing labor and materials and performing all work as set forth by this advertisement for bids.

The equipment to be furnished is as follows:

1976 Passenger Car, 4 door sedan compact. Copies of specifications may be obtained from the office of the City Clerk in the Ford Building, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Bids received after the scheduled closing time for reception of bids will be returned unopened to the bidder. BIDS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY BID BOND PAYABLE TO THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, IN AN AMOUNT NOT LESS THAN 5 PCT. OF THE BASE BID.

In event an award is made and the successful bidder fails to execute contract for performance of the work under the award then the bid bond shall be forfeited as liquidated damages for such failure.

Bids and bid bonds shall be in a sealed envelope bearing the bidder's identification, addressed to the City of Prestonsburg, labeled in the lower left-hand corner:

"Proposal: 1976 Model Passenger Car."

The City of Prestonsburg reserves the right to reject any or all bids which bids shall not be withdrawn for 45 days subsequent to the opening of bids, without consent of the City of Prestonsburg.

BEVERLY M. HACKWORTH
Clerk, City of Prestonsburg, Ky.

PELPHREY-RATLIFF

Miss Alice Diann Pelphrey and Mr. Adron Herbert Ratliff, Jr. were united in marriage August 9 at 5 p.m. at the United Baptist Church, Paintsville, Kentucky. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pelphrey, of Allen. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adron H. Ratliff, of Prestonsburg.

The double-ring vows were read by Elder Lonza Reed before an altar decorated with a beauty basket of white gladioli and blue carnations, palms and candelabra holding lighted tapers. A program of nuptial selections was presented by Keith Trimble, organist. Miss Pamela Rena Burchett sang the theme from "Romeo and Juliet."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length formal gown of white organza over taffeta, styled with an empire waistline. Peau d' ange and chantilly-type lace accented the bodice and skirt of the dress which was fashioned with a scoop neckline and bishop-styled sleeves. The dress was completed with a detachable chapel train and a chantilly cathedral mantilla with matching headpiece, both trimmed with the same lace edging as the dress. Her cascade bouquet was of blue daisies and white carnations.

Mrs. Cathy Hall, of Allen, served as matron of honor. She wore a light blue polyester floor-length gown and carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations with a touch of baby's breath and was tied with long, blue streamers. Miss Angela Dawn Pelphrey, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Drexel Crider, cousin of the groom, served as ringbearer.

Harold Gene Ratliff, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Alfred Lee Pelphrey, brother of the bride, and Woodrow Ratliff, brother of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a pale-blue street-length dress with long sleeve jacket, with black accessories, and wore a corsage of white tipped in blue miniature carnations.

The mother of the groom chose a street-length, three-piece green suit with dark green accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations tipped in green.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Highland House. Assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. Robert Tackett, Mrs. Alcus Ward, Mrs. Robert Selvaige, Mrs. Ben Miracle, Mrs. Joseph Theis, Mrs. Joe Pelphrey and Mrs. Glenard Pelphrey. Yutanne Meade registered the guests.

Following a wedding trip to Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff are residing at Auxier.

Craftsmen Club Meets In Its First Session

Weeksbury, Ky.—The Craftsmen Club held its first meeting September 8. No actual work on crafts was done, but the group had discussions and observed crafts of other individuals and exchanged ideas and notions to start their own projects.

The meeting was led by Katie Collins Newsome, co-ordinator of the club. Several persons expressed an interest concerning needlepoint stitchery, macrame, punch and pull rugs, string art and weaving.

Anna Mae Branham, a visitor to the club, presented her crafts of burlap purses, handmade men's ties, pleated drapes, pincushions, and applique aprons. Ann Laura Watts brought with her an assortment of corn-shuck dolls and flowers, three-dimensional decoupage and a crocheted tam and muffler.

Refreshments of cake, pie, coffee and milk were served. Members attending were: Katie Collins Newsome, Eddie Collins and Elsie Collins. Visitors included Sadie Bakey, Threasa Bryant, Anna Mae Branham, Marie Hall, Margaret Jones, Pamela Stumbo and Ann Laura Watts.

Club meetings are held each Monday at 7 p.m. at the Weeksbury Community Center. Crafts will be worked with at all future meetings.

All persons interested in crafts are invited to attend meetings.

PRODUCE AND PROTECT: FOR HOME GARDENERS

Build a better garden with mulches, says a United States Department of Agriculture bulletin.

Mulches keep the soil moist and cool; reduce soil erosion; add organic matter to the soil; retard weed growth; and furnish food for earthworms that loosen and aerate the soil.

Mulches For Your Garden, by USDA's Soil Conservation Service, says grass clippings, sawdust, straw, and compost make excellent mulches and are easy to apply. The bulletin explains how compost can be made from leftover plant materials such as leaves, grass clippings, stems and stalks from harvested vegetables, corn husks, pea hulls, and fine twigs.

Single copies of Mulches For Your Garden are available free from the local SCS office located at Prestonsburg.

Teens Saw Logs, Measure Trees, Fight Fires at Forestry Camp

By MARVA GAY

Mark Wright, a 17-year-old from Owenton, wants to be a farmer like his dad, some day. So do many of the 75 teenagers who recently spent a week at a forestry camp near Lake Cumberland.

The reasons the teens came vary—some came for fun, others to learn something during the summer, but many share the belief that they will use what they learned at the camp when they returned home.

Mark Wright testifies to that. He attended the forestry camp two years ago. "I've used some of the information I learned then to help my dad with tree planting and measuring back home," said Wright. "Someday, I hope to be a farmer, too, and then I'll need to know about trees and how to manage them."

This is the fifth year the Kentucky Forestry Council has sponsored the Forestry and Environmental Youth Camp. According to Harry Nadler, chairman of the Kentucky Forestry Council Camp Committee and director of the division of forestry in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, the camp is designed to give the youths a basic knowledge of forestry, plus an appreciation of the relationship of forestry to the total environmental concept.

Each year the camp, which has been held the past four years at the Lake Cumberland 4-H center near Jabez, remains basically the same. The campers learn about tree identification, forest fire detection and control, forest measurement, forest utilization and forest management. Instructors from the state forestry division, the Daniel Boone National Forest, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, private industry and the Forestry Department of the University of Kentucky put the youngsters through their paces.

There were, however, some differences this year. Not only were there so many applicants that some had to be turned away, but the camp went co-educational. Five girls were enrolled.

Jan Catlett, a junior at Anderson County High, is one of those girls who roughed it for the week. Like most of the boys, she also lives on a farm and intended to use what she learned when she returned to her home. As for her career, she's torn between nursing and forestry.

Catlett first heard about the forestry camp at her school. Other campers learned of the camp from friends or from forestry or conservation officials in their home counties. Three of the teens had attended previous forestry camps.

The campers—who came from 45 counties—were selected by a special committee after being recommended on the basis of an interest in forestry and the environment. Most of the campers had their expenses paid either by industry, their local conservation district or some other interested organization.

All but one of America's dental schools is dependent to some extent on advanced facilities in Veterans Administration hospitals.

A typical day at the forestry camp is a busy one—for two reasons. The camp organizers want to pack as many classes into the day as possible and the camp counselors want to tire the teens out by the end of each day.

The campers are broken into four groups for their classes. Then they start their rounds—a half-day for each class. It isn't a lecture in a hall or out among the trees. It's work. The campers actually saw timber, measure trees, rake leaves and form fire lines.

During one demonstration, instructors strapped the motor of an air blower to Brenda Hunter, a 16-year-old from Woodford county. She then paced through a stretch of woods blowing leaves and loose brush to the side of a fire line she was forming. A fire line is a strip of land that has been cleared of material that will burn. Formation of fire lines is one of the major ways foresters fight fires.

During other demonstrations, groups of teens cleared fire lines using hand tools. One member followed their work spraying water to cool off the area and fight imaginary spot fires.

Groups carrying yardsticks were part of a tree measurement class. They learn to measure the volume of board feet, the diameter and the merchantable height of trees. That way they can determine the value of a timber stand.

In the evening, there's recreation—softball and horseshoes are typical—and lectures. Those lectures included topics such as soils, wildlife, forests and water, forests and recreation and insects.
