Dawahare Tells Plan for Plant

$160,000 Offer For Idle Plant Is Conditional

A Lexington business man said this week that, given the necessary state and local cooperation, he can reactivate the now-defunct manufacturing plant formerly operated at Auxier by the Princess Manufacturing Company.

Frank Dawahare, head of Dawahare' stores in Lexington, has offered to buy the Auxier plant building and facilities. all of which are involved in a bankrupt proceeding, for $160,000, on the condition that existing legal and financial entanglements can be resolved.

Mr. Dawahare says three of the top men in the industry are committed to association with him in the plant operation, and that the facility would at first produce men's sports coats comparable to the best-known lines now on the market. He said the plant would produce an estimated 80,000 coats a year and that that production could easily be marketed. His long-range program, he said, would be the manufacture of men's suits, with one plant in each of possibly 10 Eastern Kentucky counties.

"If I acquire the plant," Mr. Dawahare said, we will form a company which will (1) employ Floyd county people, (2) operate as a union or non-union shop as the workers desire, and (3) try to interest Governor Carroll and county officials in Dawahare said he will contact Governor Carroll to seek the use of coal severance tax funds as a loan, not as a grant or gift, to finance the undertaking, which would be a step toward the diversification of industry talked about for coal counties. So would be established, in effect, he said, a "revolving fund" which could be reinvested in similar plants in other mountain counties.

The Lexington merchant said he has not yet discussed his plan with Floyd officials but that talks with Perry and Letcher county authorities have been enthusiastically received.

He said three men now holding responsible positions with well-known manufacturers are ready to leave their present jobs to join him in the operation of the Floyd plant and others as they are established. These include a designer and cloth-buyer, a sales manager and a plant manager.

"The idea," Dawahare said, "is real simple: Put people in the area to work, (See Story No. 1, Page 4)

Boat Overload Blamed as Baby Drowns at Lake

An 18-months-old baby was drowned late Saturday afternoon in Dewey Lake when a boat loaded with members of a West Virginia family capsized and sank near Copperas Creek, in the upper section of the impoundment.

It was the second tragedy in little more than a week to involve overloaded boats. A week earlier, Tony Wells, of Auxier, was drowned in the vicinity of the entrance to the Stratton Branch arm of the Saturday's tragedy involved the family of Harold D. May, of Switzer, W. Va. Nine persons reportedly occupied their boat, which was swamped by the wake of a second heavily loaded boat. Mrs. May, it was said, attempted in vain to throw her infant son, William Harvey, onto the shore as the boat submerged. Other members of the family reached safety. (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

Court Affirms Life Sentence

The Kentucky Supreme Court last Friday unanimously affirmed the lifeterm murder conviction of Greenberry Tackett, who was convicted here last year of the slaying of Carlos "Junior"

The court supported Circuit Judge Hollie Conley's ruling that the death-bed statement of Hall was admissible evidence and at the same time rejected the defendant's contention that Judge Conley's interruption of the trial to hear testimony of a witness in the judge's office and outside the presence of the trial jury had "prejudicially undermined the credibility of the witness.'

Hall was killed by one or more bullets allegedly fired by Tackett. The shooting took place on Mud Creek.

Geologists report that Solomon's gold mines have been found in the mountainous region between Mecca and Medina, in the area known as "The Cradle of Gold." National Mines Makes Land Gift For Allen Park

Floyd county last week became the owner of a portion of the land needed for the construction near Allen of a county playground and recreational center when the National Mines Corporation's deed for its holdings there was received by County Judge Henry Stumbo.

The Floyd fiscal court had received from George E. Evans, Jr., National Mines president, assurance that the deed was in preparation, and the court was so confident of the transaction that it 'accepted'' the gift of the land at its June 7 meeting, three days prior to actual receipt of the deed signed for the corporation by Mr. Evans.

The deed conveys the land "for the purpose of operating and maintaining a public playground and recreational park," and it provides that title will revert to National Mine when and if the land is no longer used for that purpose.

There are five tracts involved in the conveyance, all lying on the west side of the C. & O. railway tracks bordering the present golf course near Allen. The deed is subject to fee tracts conveyed to C. & O. (mainly, right-of-way), and it excludes all seams of coal above and below the Elkhorn No. 3 seam.

Judge Stumbo said the fiscal court must move immediately on acquiring from C. & O. the 9.93 acres of level land at the site on which the present golf course is located. C. & O. agreed to accept $33,300 for the tract, which is the same price it had asked of National Mines. The court earlier this year accepted the offer.

Ahead lies the problem of access from KY 80 to the recreation center site. Either a bridge must be constructed across Beaver Creek or the county road from Allen alongside the railroad must be improved. The county does not have the funds to build a bridge that would accommodate vehicular traffic. Development of the acreage into a major recreation facility will be done mainly through the use of federal recreational funds. The work will in-

Beer Arrest Report In Times Erroneous

Confused information from the Sheriff's office last week resulted in an erroneous report by The Times that Jeffrey McKinney had been arrested while in possession of eight cases of beer.

Coal Company Stockholders Sue Childers

Four former stockholders of the Daniels Creek Coal Company have filed suit in circuit court here seeking to collect their share of the $533,308.85 which they claim Walt C. Childers, Jr. wrongfully diverted from the earned income of the firm.

The plaintiffs are W. B. Stone, Sr., who held 100 shares of the company's stock; Dorothy Childers, 400 shares; W. B. Hazelrigg (now Johnson-Martin-Lawrence circuit judge), 75 shares, and Lonnie Parker, 100 shares. The defendant held 325 shares.

The plaintiffs say that in July and August, 1974 the corporation had earned in excess of $600,000, and that during the same time they were negotiating the sale of their capital stock, which eventually was sold. During the same two months, they allege, Childers "wrongfully, unlawfully and in fraud of their rights as ." caused to be paid out stockholders . . as dividends to him or members of his family or to persons to whom he gave money a total of $533,308.85.

Last Wednesday, Becky Tackett, a recent bride from Stambaugh, Johnson county, stepped beyond her depth in almost the same spot. The Boater, Not the Boat, Needs the Life Preserver Water safety regulations established in Kentucky are greatly improved, it must be admitted, but in at least one respect they are ridiculously weak. We refer to the regulation requiring Coast Guard-approved lifejackets for each person occupying a boat at a given time but not requiring that they be worn.

Two drownings have occurred at Dewey Lake within as many weeks, and in neither tragedy, it is claimed, was any individual actually wearing a lifejacket. The boat in which a baby drowned late last Saturday had the required safety equipment in the boat, but there was no time to don it when sudden emergency arose.

A flotation device such as a ring or cushion also is required, but when a boat overturns and sinks such equipment has as much value as a millstone, because there's nobody to toss the device to the person who is in desperate need.

It takes no great amount of acumen for anybody to see that the boating laws should require every person in a boat to wear an approved lifejacket. A regulation to that effect should not be necessary, but is is, since we are all lulled by the fallacious thinking that it didn't happen yesterday and it won't happen today to us.

And that sort of thinking, if it can be considered thinking, requires somebody on these lakes and waterways to enforce the regulations. Dewey Lake last Sunday was described as "a madhouse"-boats running, full speed, separated by a distance of only a few feet; young children perched daringly on the sides and bows of boats; children on skis or sleds being pulled through heavy traffic and water tossed high by the wake of watercraft.

Where was the lake patrol? Or is there one?

The Way to Diversification

Lexington business man Frank Dawahare has an idea that the state of Kentucky could follow the example of the federal government in making loans to stimulate business enterprise, and that the coal severance tax, a part of which is dedicated to industrial development, could be the source of such aid.

We think his idea deserves the most serious consideration by Governor Carroll, county officials and all concerned.

His proposal would apply locally to acquisition and operation of the now-defunct Princess Manufacturing Company facility at Auxier. He does not think of a grant or a gift to get that plant back in operation and persons now idle back in employment. Instead, he suggests a loan out of what may be termed a revolving fund for future loans to similar enterprises in other coal-producing counties.

Industrial diversification is a major aim of the Kentucky Department of Commerce, the state Chamber of Commerce, the General Assembly and just about all others who have given serious thought to the present and future needs of coal-producing counties. A small plant here as a pilot, others patterned after it and benefitting from its areas of success and failure, could provide that diversification.

and if it works out to expand to other counties.'

H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., president of The Bank Josephine here, strongest financial backer of the original Princess Manufacturing operation at Auxier, commented:

"In my opinion Mr. Dawahare's plan looks good. He has made a reasonable offer for the plant facility, and it can work if everybody gives a little and takes a little. Princess Manufacturing employed about 100 persons, mostly women, when it closed last year.

In upholding the Savage conviction the

-The challenge to the composition of the jury was not made prior to the finish of the jury selection process.

The failure of Lawrence Circuit Judge W. D. Sparks to observe "the mandate" of one law was a "harmless error" and that he "had no duty" to advise Savage of provisions of another

A summer program for the Floyd county Girl Scouts has been planned for June 21-25, at Archer Park, 9 p.m. to 2 p.m. It is called Day Camp, which means camping by day and returning home at night. Directing the program is Mrs. Lila DeRossett and Assistant Director Judith Hackworth.

School buses will transport the 69 Juniors, 95 Brownies, 5 Cadettes, and 36 registered adult Scouts. The 10 nonscout mothers and 25 pre-school children will be transported by car. Only four troops in the county are not represented in this

The program will include swimming, cooking, hiking, songs, games, sports, knot-tying, making ice cream, making dye from natural materials, tie-dying, making new friends, and other goodies that go with Day Camp. A clean-up service project is planned for June 19, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., Archer Park.

A fee of $6 was charged each scout, but camperships were donated to Scouts who wanted to go but could not afford the cost.

Donations from any one wishing to give to this tax deductible cause are still being accepted and needed. Contact your town leader or Lila F. DeRossett, 874-2844. Checks are to be made to Floyd County

VA Chaplain Service Observes 30th Year

As quietly as they go about performing spiritual guidance. their duties, the more than 1,000 members of the Veterans Administration's held the post of director. The present Chaplain Service are celebrating their 30th anniversary this month.

Organized as a national service only in the months immediately following World War II, chaplains have actually been a part of the nation's veteran care program since 1865 when the first of them were assigned to the newly established National Homes for Disabled Volunteer

An early record indicates that the chaplain's salary in those days was "that allowed by law to a chaplain in the Army-$1,500 p. a., quarters and forage for one horse.

Although the so-called Consolidation Act of 1930 brought together all national veterans programs and created the Veterans Administration to operate them, it was left to a group of prominent clergymen to suggest to then VA Administrator General Frank T. Hines after World War II that the chaplain service should be established on a national scale. General Hines agreed, ordering the change to assure that veterans under VA

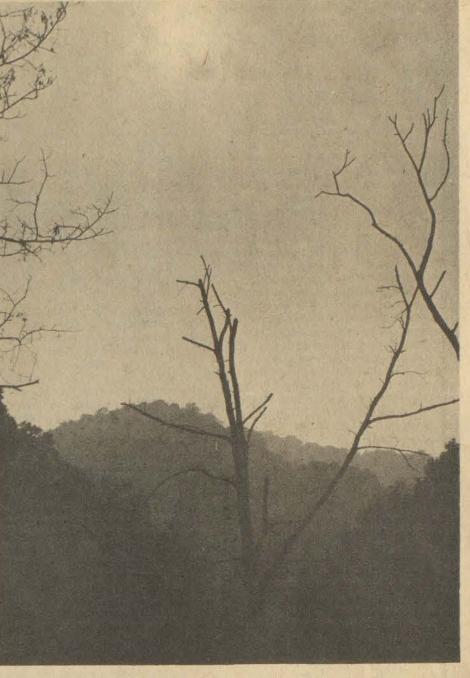

care received "the best possible

Since that time, seven clergymen have head of the Service, Chaplain James E. Rogers of the United Methodist Church, was named to the post in 1974. His predecessors have represented Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths.

In a tribute earlier this month to the members of the Chaplain Service, Terence Cardinal Cooke of New York said

"Their compassion, kindness and loving dedication to the men and women now confined long months-and even years-in hospitals has been a real source of inspiration to me and has provided my life as a priest with moments which have been touching and

"You have been called, as VA chaplains, to serve those who have served our country well. You have been called to serve our veterans-sick, confined, disabled-our veterans who could well be forgotten-and you have served them well.

THE HAZE which has persisted in the area for the past week made the sun appear as little more than a dull glow in the afternoon sky Tuesday on Spurlock Creek.

together, true to marriage vows spoken back in 1904, longer than most folks live. "Congratulations" is a puny word for expressing the sheer admiration we have for such people.

Saw in a news release, the other day, that somebody or some group had employed an econometrician. Wonder how many more degrees he has than a plain economist?

Why be an early bird if all you get is the worm? . . . The robins at our place seem to be doing pretty well in the wormgetting business, late these June afternoons.

FROM ONE WOOL-GATHERER TO ANOTHER

When a dear relative of mine called on Saturday night, June 5, to wish me happy Father's Day and I expressed a vague sort of opinion that she might be jumping the gun, so to speak, she reminded me that Daylight Saving Time had me so confused I was mixed up about the calendar. Several days later, she phoned in a correction. It runs in the family-my side of the family.

NO PERFECT TIMEPIECE

There was a time, Watt Hale tells me, that in his neighborhood down in Carter county there was no such thing as an alarm clock. Moreoever, there was not more than one clock of any kind to the family, and, since few of these were dependable, there was some doubt around most farmsteads about just what the exact hour was. Watt says his family had one advantage. A certain dominecker rooster did his best to solve the problem. At 4 a.m. on the dot, Greenwich Time, this rooster bestirred himself, took a firm grip on the roosting pole and let forth with a mighty call to rise and shine. Then, to make certain all were awake, the king of the hen-roost shook the rafters exactly 30 minutes later with his second and last call.

"You could set your watch by this rooster," Watt recalls. "The only trouble was, when we slept too soundly or somebody got his good ear against the pillow, we weren't sure whether it was the 4 o'clock alarm or the second."

They talk about these long-haired young'uns. I can remember when women wore "rats" and "switches" in their hair and men had "roaches."

Disabled Veterans Name Joseph Dist. Commander

The 49th annual convention of the Disabled American Veterans was held June 10-13 at the Holiday Inn, Corbin, Ky. New officers for Seventh district are:

Commander, Hershell Joseph, Chapter 18, Prestonsburg; auxiliary commander, Jean Howard; senior vice-commander, Margaret Griffin; first junior vicecommander, Christine Akers, Betsy Layne; second junior vice-commander, Grace Hicks, Garrett; adjutant and treasurer, Florence Merrifield, Louisville; Anna Ray Boyd, Dana, V.A.V.S. Hospital chairman.

Attending from the 18th Chapter, Auxier, were Commander Eugene Akers, Betsy Layne, Adjt. Hershell Joseph, Prestonsburg, Unit Commander Christine Akers, Betsy Layne, Senior Vice-Commander Wilma Sturgill, Auxier, Junior vice-dommander, Mary L. judgment. He said the Mitchells have also tried to pressure him. Croot said the two companies, T&R and B&M, are "at each other's throats," apparently over a boundary dispute. Reclamation records show the Mitchells were closed March 2 for failing to keep up reclamation, and fined $6,000 civil penalty. B&M, in which the officials have interest, was the subject of an order handed up last Dec. 15 by Croot. B&M drew a $3,000 civil penalty Croot's superior, Nevard Wells, head of the Prestonsburg reclamation office, said he had not pressured Croot nor had he been pressured by Stumbo to close the Mitchell mine. Wells and Croot both said the violations warranted closure.

Judge Stumbo said he became angry with Croot over inconsistent inspection reports. "I told him one time that I was going to see that he does his job better than what he did . . . I've got no confidence in the man. I just told him I know how to get to Frankfort. There's no pressure. All I want is to be treated like the rest of the people."

In the second instance, both deny allegations of threatened condemnation. A couple who refused to lease property to the coalmen, Harry and Mamie Leslie, and Elkana Sexton, who sold some of his land, said Allen told them if they didn't lease the land, it could be condemned. Both said they understood Allen meant he and Stumbo, as county officials, could condemn and take land, but they did not believe such to be true, and resisted the pressure to lease.

"I knew they couldn't do that," said Sexton, who held out and sold the men a strip of land for a rail siding at a price of $20,000. The rail has not been installed because of the dormant coal market. Stumbo said the money paid Sexton was paid by Harry Hale Ranier.

Both Allen and Stumbo denied threats were made. "That's completely untrue," Allen said. "I know better," added the judge. "There's no law to do that!"

Both men said they had entered the coal business because state law limits their salaries to $14,000 a year. They see no conflict of interest between their coal interest and duties as coal-county of-

'We feel we have a right to be in business, any business we want, to make money," Allen said. "The present salary level is not sufficient to make a good living on.'

Former P'burg Man Critically Injured As Plane Crashes

Robin Goble, 38, of Peoria, Ill., formerly of Prestonsburg, was critically injured in a plane crash which claimed the life of a student-pilot last week near the Peoria airport.

The control tower at the Peoria airport reported the plane, apparently in trouble, was in view when it crashed from a height of about 500 feet.

Goble, a son of Billy and Elizabeth Goble, former residents of Prestonsburg, was a Navy Reserve navigator during the Vietnam war and was in the Air Force Reserve at the time of his injury, it was said by a relative who surmised that Goble and the pilot were on a training flight. He suffered compound fractures of his legs and arms, head and internal

Our Mistake

A news-story in The Times last week incorrectly listed the name of Dr. John Adler as Dr. Sadler.

By LARRY BURKE

"A narrow window may let in light,

A tiny star dispel the gloom of night, A little deed an ancient wrong set right."

For most of us great earth-shaking achievements will never be ours. We will very likely never be known throughout the world for our accomplishments. Nor will we be known as failures because this recognition never came to us.

The most successful of all people are those who have accomplished indirect achievements. The little tasks we perform. Year after year a person who gives his best to needy neighbors, and through this effort he helps them gain triumph.

Who can determine the good that comes from a single unselfish deed.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: look, and there may be an end to strife; one smile, and hate may sheathe her cruel knife."

Honored with Awards

H. K. Milligan, general agent for International Life Insurance Co., was honored Sunday evening at May Lodge with a dinner and presentation of a scroll and other awards. The awards were presented to him by John Evans, executive vice-president of International's sales marketing division. The special awards were granted for top sales performance, service to his customers, and quality of business

Mr. Milligan's interest in selling began while he was still employed at the Atomic Energy Plant in Oak Ridge, Tenn. in 1955. His career with International began in 1956. He became a district manager in 1962; in 1970, he became a general agent. His agency has led the company in top life and health production during the first five months of 1976, and he has been among the top five personal producers for the past 20 years.

Mr. Milligan attributes his success to the fact that he quickly and willingly serves the people in his area and that he has always set his own personal goals, and then worked hard to achieve them. He is a member of Masonic Lodge 283, Folsomdale, Ky., and of the First Methodist Church of Prestonsburg. The father of six, three of them still at home, he and his wife Sue and children live in the Briarwood Addition of Prestonsburg.

Tramel Named Area Engineer In Reclamation Office Here

James Tramel, of Johnson county, has been named a reclamation area engineer to the Prestonsburg reclamation office of the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Pro-

A former engineer with the state transportation department, Tramel has been added to the staff here as part of a readjustment of the working organization of the division of reclamation. That realignment sets up engineering positions in each regional reclamation office, establishes two additional area offices and redistributes the coal counties covered by both the old reclamation offices and the new ones.

Tramel, a registered professional engineer, has worked in the design division of the transportation department. First employed as a senior draftsman in the Morehead area for the old highway department, he also worked on projects in the Pikeville area before being transferred to the central offices of transportation.

Department officials said that the engineers in the regional offices will be responsible for the permits and reclamation work within their areas. The two new offices have been set up and the reclamation areas have been redrawn to balance out the work load that has been centralized in certain heavily mined areas and to lighten the travel loads required for inspecting strip mine areas.

With the realignment, Prestonsburg inspectors will be monitoring strip mine operations: Floyd, Martin, Johnson and Magoffin counties.

A Way of Life

By GEORGE L. MOORE

As the years go by, a way of life has been relegated to a place of less and less importance in our society. This is especially true as far as the bureaucrats in Washington are concerned. They seem to know-or at least they seem to think they know-more about what is better for the individual than he knows himself. To them, what the people themselves want is of little consequence. It has become old-fashioned and outmoded for the people to have a direct voice in deciding what programs are good for them.

I am convinced that we would have followed a different course if the people could have voted on the various federal projects that affected them. It is my personal opinion that a number of dams in Eastern Kentucky would not have been built if this had been the case. This is not to say that no dams should have been built; many of them were necessary and served a very useful purpose, but the Corps of Army Engineers has gone on a dam building binge for Eastern Kentucky and have dammed, or is in the process of planning to dam, practically all streams in this part of the state. That a way of life is being destroyed means nothing to a Washington bureaucrat. The main reason advanced by the bureaucrats for building the dams is that they would enhance the economic prosperity of the region. This would seem to say that money is everything; nothing else counts.

Perhaps the Amish, more than any other people, demonstrate best what is meant by a way of life. I doubt if anyone could find a more self-supporting, independent people than the Amish. They do not accept any help from the federal government; they feel it is their responsibility to look after their own. If other groups had a similar attitude, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare could shut up shop and go home. They believe and put into practice the philosophy of helping one another. If a barn or a house burns, neighbors for miles around come and help replace it. They have been criticized for clinging to old ways of doing things; for using the horse and buggy instead of a pickup truck; for their particular mode of dress and their religious practice. One thing that their critics ignore is that a peaceful, contented mind is the most cherished possession of any mortal.

It would seem to me that we need to reevaluate what the real values of life are. Jesus Christ, who influenced the thinking of the western world more than all the philosophers, politicians and statesmen put together, relegated money to a place of no importance in His life. I believe it was the Apostle Paul who said, "We brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out." We are beginning to learn that money is not the solution to all problems. It is hoped that the federal government will learn this before it is too late. It may be more important to be a good neighbor than it is to be a millionaire. Patience and sympathetic understanding with those less fortunate than we are the real things that count. Let us be helpful where help is deserved and needed.

Drama in Schools Is KAC Pilot Program

Frankfort, Ky.-Actresses Kay Thompson and Susan Kingsley performed in a different kind of audition recently in the gymnasium of a Frankfort high school. The two professionals were putting their hour-long, two-woman show to a test of its appeal in a student

Their production included impromptu acting, the performance of two one-act plays, and a complete demonstration of their craft-costume changes, makeup and rehearsal.

Their performance, part of a tour of several Kentucky schools, is a pilot project of the Kentucky Arts Commission. After gauging student reaction to their presentation, the women can choose the final form that will become part of the commission's artists-in-theschools program next year.

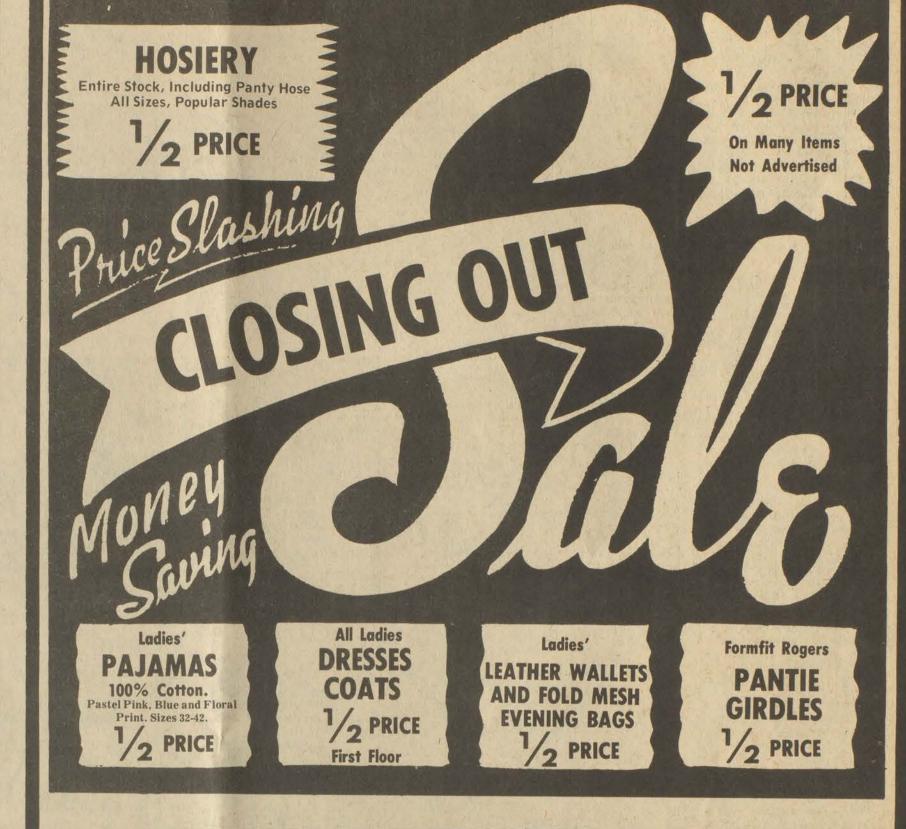

The portable production travels in a large red box which holds props, costumes and makeup, and unfolds to provide a screen for costume changes. An adaptable format chosen by the women lets them tailor their presentation to audiences of different ages as they show students that acting is both an art and a profession.

Their choice of the short, modern plays was deliberate, Thompson said, "When I was in school, all we saw was Shakespeare from traveling companies. We wanted to expose the students to modern experimental theatre."

The two-woman performance is only part of the drama-in-the-schools project planned by the program's coordinator, Susan Rice. "Our artists-in-the-schools program has never had a drama component," Miss Rice said, "but we will introduce one next year." The expanded program will include a one-woman show and workshops for teachers in the use of drama in the classroom, she said.

At this time, the program places poets, filmmakers, and visual artists in residencies at Kentucky schools. Next year's program will include a dance residency and folk artists residencies for the first time.

Those interested in obtaining more information about the artists-in-theschools program may send inquiries to the Kentucky Arts Commission, 100 W. Main St., Frankfort, Ky. 40601

Saving Kentucky Archaeological Sites Is Urged

(From the Courier-Journal)

LEXINGTON, Ky.-In what is now Adams county, Ohio, about 50 miles east of Cincinnati, a forgotten tribe of Indians built a skinny, twisting mound of earth nearly a quarter of a mile long.

The mound has seven deep curves and could represent a large snake with an immense open mouth. Lying before the open mouth is another mound-in an egg shape—that the snake could be swallowing

The two, together, present an intriguing mystery. Scientists who have studied the site since 1846 really don't know why anybody-especially someone using crude tools-would drag that much dirt into such a fancy pile.

They think the mounds could have been built as early as 1,000 B.C., probably by Indians of a culture archaeologists call

It is obvious that the mounds represent a lot of work by somebody, and the State of Ohio has seen fit to preserve them. It also has built a museum there that displays artifacts found in the nearby mounds, and it calls the place Serpent Mound State Memorial.

It cost Ohio $18,167 to maintain the memorial during the 1975 fiscal year, and 160,380 persons visited it. That figures about 11 cents a person.

Sixty miles to the southeast, in Boyd county, Ky., there's a similar serpent on a hill that overlooks the Big Sandy River above Catlettsburg.

The Big Sandy serpent is somewhat smaller—about 850 feet long—and was built of carefully laid sandstone blocks. It hasn't been studied as much as the Ohio serpent because it's coils were discovered only a few years ago.

For many years, many Boyd county residents knew only of its head, and thought it was a walled enclosure of a type called an "Indian Fort," also found in both Kentucky and Ohio.

Lansing Brisbain Jr., a West Virginia amateur archaelogist who discovered the coils, thinks the Big Sandy serpent probably was a prototype for the Ohio one and probably is somewhat older. He'd like to see the Kentucky one en-

There have been problems in keeping the Kentucky serpent intact, Brisbain said in a recent interview

In February, 1972, he said, a workman building an access road to a power station ran a bulldozer through the serpent's head.

A year or so later, he said, he and others who know about the mound had to mount an effort to keep the state from building U.S. Highway 23 through it.

Brisbain thinks the state of Kentucky is taking chances with a valuable historic and educational resource, and in that he has the agreement of Dr. Lathel Duffield, Kentucky's state archaeologist.

Duffield, who is an anthropology professor at the University of Kentucky and has his state office here, believes, in fact, that official state appreciation for Kentucky's archaeological treasures hasn't reached the level it has in some surrounding states.

Ohio's Serpent Mound, for example, is only one of 11 ancient Indian sites in that state that have been preserved and put on public display with accompanying educational materials

A spokesman for the Ohio historical society released figures last week that indicate 870,567 persons visited archaeological parks in Ohio during the 1975 fiscal year

It cost Ohio $148,140 to maintain the parks, a state expenditure of about 17 cents a visitor.

An archaeological park program similar to Ohio's is in operation in

Jack Miller, director of Tennessee parks, said his state has operated a museum and visitor center at an Indian site called Old Stone Fort near Manchester, in south central Tennessee, for three years.

He said that 148,345 persons visited the site last year. The cost to Tennessee was $95,397—or about 64 cents a visitor. State officials are so pleased with that park, he said, that 10 similar ones are in planning or development stages.

State officials in other states that border Kentucky indicated in telephone conversations that Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia also have developed their prehistoric archaeological resources for Duffield, the Kentucky archaeologist, said the Big Sandy serpent site is only one of many in Kentucky with potential for attracting visitors.

He suggested: -The McCleod Bluff Site, near Fulton, where Indians of the Mississippian culture-1,000 to 1,600 A.D.-built a large temple mound for their elaborate

-The Page Site in Logan county, where someone-apparently Mississippian peoples and some from the earlier woodland period-built a series of small mounds and several stone box religious rituals.

-Eskipithica, also called "Indian Old Fields," in Clark county and represents the remains of the last Shawnee village in

-A Harrison county site used by the last group of Kentucky's prehistoric Indians during the 1200 to 1650 A.D. period. Duffield said that site would lend itself to reconstruction of a village complete with stockade and dwelling Duffield and Mrs. Edlred Melton, the State Historic Preservation Officer, suggested that the likely state agency to develop any such parks or memorials would be the state parks department.

Billy Thompson, executive assistant to Parks Commission Bruce Montgomery, said that Kentucky has two parks connected with pre-history, Big Bone Licks and Blue Licks parks. Both are associated with prehistoric animals rather than people, and he said they don't appear to be as popular as state historic

In a recent year, for example Big Bone Park drew 356,000 visitors and Blue Licks drew 229,000, while My Old Kentucky Home State Park drew "half a million"

BANKAMERICARD

-A shell mound site on the Green and Levi Jackson State Park drew a million, he said.

But Thompson said he is certain parks officials would listen to a proposal for an archaeological park.

'If they can show there's a need, I'm sure we'd be receptive to it" he said.

The Hayes Scandal

How many took time to commend Congressman Mazolli for his firm stand in regard to the latest Washington uproar? He is entirely right. A noted philosopher and statesman once said the surest way for evil to triumph was for good men to do nothing. His comment holds good even now. He might have added, "and to SAY nothing." Aren't most of us sometimes guilty of permitting evil and false things to pass undisputed, lest we become involved, though scripture strongly denounces this, and it is really just one form of cowardice, and often the desire to avoid losing friends, and to retain popularity? If America does not soon reverse her downward trend of condoning much that is wicked, or sweeping it under the rug, or excusing it because "everybody's doing it," or looking the other way rather than taking an unmovable position against wrongs or falsehoods, or abdicating our responsibilities by insisting that whatever officials, politicians, and others do in private life is their own concern. God is going to deal with this nation in no uncertain terms. The sands of time are littered with the corpses of once-great countries that chose to ignore and uphold corruption and outrage.

Sadly, the capital stench seems to grow worse yearly, and sometimes the worst escapes print for decades. Our national debt is a disgrace as are fringe benefits the Congress and Senate continue voting themselves. If the United States paid its debts we would be the poorest nation on the globe; and, as one friend remarked, if we collected debts due us we would be one of the wealthiest in history. Our debts are being paid for gradually by inflation. Hidden taxes, plus others, take up to fifty per cent of some incomes. More than one millionaire does not pay a penny of taxes because of loopholes his money probably helped to establish or see incorporated in laws, according to published reports; for powerful force. Big government is directly responsible for inflation, high cost of living, high taxes. No country can spend itself into prosperity. As certain as pay day must and will come for any individual or family, it will assuredly come for every nation on earth. The longer the delay, the worse it will be. Woe unto America when the pay day for the last wars does arrive. Reports indicate that millions in worthless paper money are floating around. U. S. gold is at an all-time low. Yet we continue trying to keep up almost the entire world, even financing our enemies via loans, et cetera, when God no more expects one country to maintain other than he expects or requires one man to support an entire county or city.

True, we should gladly help develop weaker lands, aid the people to help themselves, but reliable magazines report multiplied millions of American goods that went to waste abroad because no one knew how to use the drugs, medical supplies etc. The American taxpayers has paid for the most absurd things imaginable, here and abroad. There are reports and indications of almost inconveivable graft in many deals, some of which are just coming to light. Our enemies want to destroy faith in our form of government which is still the best in the world, and which has not failed though some of its leaders have, miserably so. Citizens almost anywhere rejoice when some government project or improvement comes their way, often forgetting that these are charged to posterity. Who would praise the husband who gave his wife a yacht, furs, jewels galore, mansions on every continent, if he charged them to his great-greatgrandchildren? Who would? Yet we laud the officials who give us this or that, without thinking that our futuregenerations must pay the bill! An everpresent facet of liberalism.

A high percentage of those on welfare need every penny and deserve help, but who does not know able-bodies persons who knew little about work all their lives and cared less? Who denies that it is almost impossible to hire someone to do anything? Who dares maintain that the middle-class can forever support what it is doing today? One of the greatest cornerstones of our beloved land was THRIFT in capital letters. Since World War I this fundamental principle that will bless individuals, families and nations, has been studiously ignored. Along with it truth, honesty, morality, sobriety et cetera seem to be going down the drain at roller-coaster rate. It will take many men and women at the grass roots level to turn the tide, or will it be turned in time, for time is running out!

McMillen Is Named Headmaster at MMI

David McMillen, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ira McMillen, of Lebanon, Ohio, former residents of Prestonsburg, assumed his duties as Headmaster of Millersburg Military Institute, Millersburg, Ky., June 7. Until the end of the current school year, he was assistant principal of Nicholas County High School, Carlisle, Ky., where he has been on the faculty for the past five years.

MMI was founded in 1893 and is presently the only military school in operation in the Kentucky-Ohio area. Several former students and graduates are from Floyd county. The president of the school is Col. Alvin Hadley, retired Army officer.

McMillen received the B. A. and M. A. degrees from Morehead State University and has done further graduate study there. He will continue to reside in Carlisle with his wife, the former Geraldine Hatfield, of Elizabethtown, and their three-year-old daughter, Emily. Inquirires concerning the school may be addressed to David McMillen, Millersburg Military Institute, Millersburg, Ky. 40348.

Sgt. Dye Returns Home To Recruit for Army

Louisville, Ky., June 3-Floyd county is going to be seeing a lot more of an old friend. Sergeant First Class Andy Dye, the son of the Rev. Woodrow and Monnie Dye, of Price, will be recruiting in the county. He will work with Staff Sergeant Jerry Miles, the Army recruiter in SFC Dye, a graduate (1961) of Mc-Dowell High School, is hardly new to the area, though he hasn't, till now, worked outside his recruiting area in Richmond, Ky. After his graduation from high school he entered the Army and served in Germany, Korea, Okinawa and Viet Nam, as well as at various stateside posts. He has earned two years of college credit while in the Army, and qualified and worked as a field artillery crewman and club manager before beginning recruiting duty.

He recently distinguished himself by being named "most outstanding recruiter" in the Lexington area, as determined by a competitive quality scale. This award is based on the quality of the people SFC Dye has enlisted over the last six months. He was in competition with all other Army recruiters in the 36 counties that compose the Lexington recruiting area.

Dye was presented the award in a ceremony held in Louisville by Lieut.-Col. Franklin J. Scherer, commander of the Louisville District Recruiting

Federal Jury Holds Knott Man's Rights Violated by Sheriff

A U. S. District Court jury in Pikeville, ruled, June 2, that Knott County Sheriff Hylton "Cuch" Chaffins and Deputy Sheriff Homer Hall had violated the civil rights of Arnold Ramey, of Leburn, in an incident which occurred April 21, 1975, on the Possom Trot road. Ramey had claimed in that suit that his constitutional rights had been violated by Chaffins and Hall, who were accused by Ramey of shooting at him and into his pickup truck. Ramey claimed that the alleged assault upon him was in retaliation by Chaffins and Hall for his signing an appearance bond for his brother, Duke Ramey.

Chaffins and Hall admitted shooting at Ramey, but claimed that their acts were justified because Ramey was attempting to run them down with his truck, after threatening to kill them. The jury, however, rejected this contention and accepted the testimony of Ramey and his witnesses to the effect that the shots, estimated by witnesses to total seven or eight in number, were deliberate and unprovoked.

District Judge H. David Hermansdorfer, in his instructions to the jury, indicated that if they accepted the claim of Ramey, a classic case of violation of civil rights was presented.

Ramey's attorney explained that the action against the officers had been brought under the Federal Civil Rights Act of which prohibits deprivation of the constitutional rights of citizens by persons acting "under color of law." The jury verdict, allowed $250 compensatory damages and $1 punitive damages.

beware of "cluster-sign" salesmen. While the cluster-sign-a large billboard carrying several advertising messages-can be both an attractive and highly commercial way of letting the public know what civic groups and industrial outlets are located in a particular community, the recent experience of more than a dozen firms in southwestern Kentucky indicates that it can also be illegal and expensive.

The plight of those firms was brought to the attention of the Kentucky Department of Transportation recently after a "cluster-sign" bearing each near a rederal-aid highway "The sign was illegal on two counts," said state Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts, who ordered that it be

First, the law does not permit such signs to be erected within the view of motorists traveling any federal-aid high-

Secondly, no cluster-sign-regardless of where it is used-may carry more than two advertising messages.

'While it may seen innocuous," said Roberts, "we are guided by both federal and state laws in these matters, and when such signs are found to be in conflict with those laws and regulations, we have no choice but to require their removal.'

The secretary suggested that any business firm or organization planning to erect a cluster-sign, or take advantage of space on one that has already been erected, contact the state highway district office in their area if they have any doubt the legality of the sign's location.

"It could save the potential advertiser some money if the sign is, in fact, in violation of the law," he explained.

Roberts said the general practice followed by cluster-sign salesmen is to contact several businesses, churches and civic groups in the local community and offer to paint and install their messages on the "cluster-sign" for a set fee. That fee also may include the cost of renting the land and erecting the sign.

"However, if the sign is erected at an illegal location, as was the case in southwestern Kentucky, and we are compelled to order it's removal, the advertisers may be unable to get a refund on their money from the solicitor," he said.

In that particular incident, several advertisers did lose their money. One local wrecking service had paid $90 to have its message placed on the clustersign, then decided to check further before agreeing to accept the service. They subsequently turned the solicitor's offer down after being advised that the sign proposal was not legal.

Extradition Hearing Set Next Thursday; Jones Trial, July 12

A hearing on the extradition of Bobby Workman from Michigan to this county to face a murder charge will be held in Ann Arbor, Mich., next Thursday.

County Attorney Harold J. Stumbo, who instituted the extradition proceedings while he was commonwealth's attorney, said the Commonwealth will be required to supply testimony identifying the accused and stating that he was in this county at the time of the slaying of James Chaffins.

Workman has refused to return voluntarily, and his extradition has been delayed a matter of months. The slaying of which he is accused took place on Arkansas Creek, near Martin. If extradition is granted, his trial may be set for the next criminal court term.

In another case, that of Eddie Jones who is charged with the slayings of Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Conley at Garrett and James Clayton Conley, near Wayland, trial was set recently by Special Judge Caswell P. Layne for July 12 in circuit court here. The trial date was set following a pre-trial conference between the trial judge and opposing Frankfort, Ky.-Pick any Kentucky high school during this time of graduations and you'll find an audience of proud parents, a speech about setting forth in the world and a group of giggling graduates in their black caps and gowns. Or will you?

125 Dropouts Get Diplomas

Some high school graduations—including the one at the Newport Alternate High School-Adult Learning Center-are quite different. Their relatives were just as proud, but in this case, many of the relatives were husbands, wives and children instead of parents. These graduates had already set forth in the world and are no longer giggling teenagers.

They ranged in age from 17 to 56 and all for one reason or another, had been high school drop-outs. But in May, 125 of them received their high school diplomas.

The school they attended was designed to meet the needs of adults, both in terms of time and academics. The atmosphere is relaxed and free, according to the coordinator, Ed Lindsley and the academic program is prescribed on the basis of a diagnostic test the student

Along with the general program,

The students attend for various reasons, Lindsley said. Sometimes they need the diploma for a job and sometimes they just want the satisfaction of getting it. "Those who drop out and come to us looking for an easier way through school usually don't stay very long," he added, "It usually takes a year of bumming the streets before they're ready to do what it takes." Lindsley is obviously proud of all his graduates, many of whom go on to college or vocational school. And the graduates are proud of themselves-with justification. Lindsley said he saw one man with tears in his eyes as he clutched his diploma.

Lindsley also pointed out that the number of adult students is increasing. In 1974, only 29 graduated as compared to 47 in 1975 and the 125 in this year's class.

This program, which is offered through the state Department of Education's adult education unit, is extremely important in offering adults a second chance, he said.

Clearing Work Begins On Jenny Wiley Trail

After more than three weeks of rightof-way acquisition along the 10-mile stretch of the Jenny Wiley Trail which will wind its way along Floyd county ridgetops to meet with another section of the trail under construction in Elliott county, actual clearing work on the Floyd section of the hiking trail is expected to begin this week.

According to Paul David Tackett, a foreman for the trail work in this county, the trail route is ready for construction, and work will begin either in the vicinity of Jenny Wiley State Park, the southern terminus of the trail, or the Bear Hollow area at East Point. Work on the trail in this county will provide employment to 18-25 persons, Tackett said.

In addition to clearing work on the trail route, two open-face shelter structures will also be erected and will provide rest stops and drinking water to hikers.

Conceived as a development project by the FIVCO Area Development District to provide local jobs, the trail, which is being constructed with $150,000 awarded by the Appalachian Regional Commission last fall, will stretch from South Portsmouth to Jenny Wiley State Park. The trail follows ancient buffalo traces.

Indian footpaths and abandoned county roads, and will follow, at least in part, the route that the pioneer heroine, Virginia Sellards (Jenny) Wiley, traveled as a captive of the Indians.

The Jenny Wiley Trail is said to be unique in that the entire 200 miles of the trail are being built on private land. Richard Howerton, project director for the trail for the FIVCO ADD, said, "The cooperation of landowners along the route has been remarkable." Tackett also commented that landowners in the county had been quite cooperative. "The success of the trail has really depended on the generosity of the landowners,"

Tentative plans call for a later extension of the trail to link with the Appalachian Trail in southwestern Virginia. Side trails are also planned to connect the Jenny Wiley Trail with Greenbo Lake and Carter Caves State Resort Parks, Cave Run Lake and the proposed Kehoe

Stop Order Issued To State Beef Co-Op

Frankfort, Ky.-The Kentucky Department of Banking and Securities' crackdown on recently formed profitmaking farm cooperatives continued today when securities director Jack Bunnell announced that III Beef Plant Cooperative of Estill county has agreed to temporarily half further stock sales.

Bunnell said the decision was reached last week on the eve of a hearing called by the securities division to ascertain whether unrealistic claims had been made by the co-op to prospective stockholders. The agreement was completed through a cease and desist order, which Bunnell read to a group assembled for the hearing. The Estill county cooperative is a member of a group of farm co-ops known as Interrelated Industries, Inc., or Triple I. The group, formed in 1970, includes and uncompleted Adair county slaughterhouse and a site in Estill county for a plant that has not yet been constructed. Retail outlets in Pikeville, Morehead, Lexington, Ashland, Somerset and Northern Kentucky also make up Triple I. Some 2,000 Kentuckians have invested in the cooperative.

The order notes that sales must stop for a 90-day period during which time Triple I is to show evidence of permanent financing for the Adair county operation. Triple I also is to comply with securities regulations by maintaining a full disclosure of offering materials and related sales procedures.

In addition, the order specifies that a complete audit must be undertaken to determine the co-op's financial state.

The cease and desist order applies to all Triple I members except the Adair county co-op. Bunnell noted that Adair county sales were conducted before a law became effective March 1 that brought farm cooperatives back under the jurisdiction of the antifraud provisions of Kentucky's securities acts. He said the division was not aware of further sales or misrepresentations by Triple I in the Adair County area.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY . COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Down through the ages, the apple has played a most important role in the history of man. It has figured prominently in his legends, his literature, his diet, and perhaps in his destiny. Had not Adam and Eve meddled with the forbidden apple, mankind might still be living in the Garden of Eden and had not an apple dropped down on the noggin of Sir Isaac Newton, it might have been years before somebody else discovered the law of gravity. In any way it is taken, the apple is a wonderful fruit and has contributed tremendously to human health, nutrition, economy, and enjoyment.

Something else about the apple not generally known is that it is the most widely grown fruit of temperate regions and, perhaps, the world over, the most valuable fruit of all. To some extent, it grows in every state in the Union, blossoms throughout Europe, all across Asia, and is picked and eaten in Japan, Australia, New Zealand, and South America. It thrives and by the French in Canada. where there are moderate Apples, like honeybees, acwinters in which the tree can get some rest, and it comes in varieties that can withstand degrees below zero.

There are many species of apples but one of those from which our present varieties were developed, Malus pumila, probably originated in southwestern Asia in the area between the Caspian and Black Seas. Long before man started recording history, however, the fruit had spread across Europe. There is evidence that Stone Age lake dwellers of Central Europe not only stored away fresh apples for winter eating but also preserved them for future use by peeling, slicing into small pieces, and drying in the sun much as apples are often preserved today.

Apple orchards started with the beginning of agriculture, especially in Europe. In a 4th century botanical treatise, the Greek philosopher, Theophrastus, mentioned a number of varieties being grown in his country. Early Romans prized the apple and introduced it into England. By the time of the discovery of America, it was the most important fruit in central and northern Europe.

Since the apple is such a delightful and nutritious fruit, it is no wonder that seeds were taken along by the first settlers to this good land of North America. Apples were planted by the English in Virginia and New England, by the Dutch in New York, companied the white settlers westward as, state by state, they established what is now temperatures down to 40 the United States.

Consumer Comments

(Attorney General) Spring brings many people into the country to look at land to buy. Some of the property bought on Sunday afternoons for vacation and retirement homes has developed into serious and costly problems for consumers. While most real estate people are reputable, follow these tips to save yourself from land sales schemes:

1. Get copies of the contract, the property report, a map with the location of your property clearly marked and all other pertinent documents. If a

Dewey G. Collins and Daisy M. Collins, his wife . . . Defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the March 9 term, 1976 in the abovestyled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction on the 18th day of June, 1976 at 10 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of six months, the following described property to-wit:

Two certain tracts of land lying and being on the waters of Left Beaver Creek in Floyd County, Kentucky and being the same property conveyed Dewey G. Collins and Daisy M. Collins, his wife, by deed of June 2, 1972, from Cassie Johnson (now Cassie Johnson Howell), recorded in Deed Book 209, page 505, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, and being more particularly described as follows, viz: TRACT NO. 1

Beginning at the main branch opposite a Mulberry, corner to P. Newman's line; thence up the hill N 31 30 W 163 feet to a marked rock; thence up the hill N 44 10W 383 feet to a 10" marked Cedar at Milford Caudill's line; thence N 60 15 W 210 feet up the hill to a Cedar marked on top of point; thence S 62 40 W 304 feet to a marked stone at a corner to E. J. Brown's line; thence, with said line N 69 05 E 122 feet to A. Akers line; thence with said Akers line N 74 05 E 59 feet to the point of beginning. TRACT NO. 2

Beginning at an iron stake at the County Road; thence up with the County Road to the Branch; thence down the branch to Pete Caudill's line; thence across with Pete Caudill's line to a stake the beginning, so as to include all land in said boundary, except a walk road to and from the bridge. The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $2,992.83 with interest thereon at 81/2 percent annually from the 2nd day of January, 1975 until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

MARSHALL DAVIDSON Master Commissioner Floyd Circuit Court Cost of Adv. $48. salesperson will not let you take this information home, go home without it, and without buying property. There is no reason why you should not be allowed to take this information home for further study or for consultation with a lawyer.

2. Once you have the contract, read itall of it. Some contracts allow the seller to retain title to the property until the buyer has paid in full. Under this arrangement, if the buyer misses a payment, the seller could resell the property to someone else. If this happens, the consumer loses the land and a probable increase in property values, along with the higher interest rate his money might have brought elsewhere. The consumer would only be refunded the money paid until that time. Have the property title transferred to you immediately and always make payments on

3. If a salesman gives you any special assurances or guarantees, get them in writing. It's the written contract that counts-not what you've been told. A legitimate business will be delighted to put everything in writing; a swindler will not. Our office has received complaints that consumers were told one thing, while the contract said something else. If you are told something different from what is contained in the contract, go elsewhere for your land-and go quickly.

4. Don't fall for the "last lot" routine. If you have to sign immediately to reserve the lot, pass it up. There are many more lots and many more developments where the companies do not use rush tactics.

5. Inspect the land! Consumers have complained that their land was not what was promised. If your land is to be near a lake, ask to see the lake. If your land is an oversized lot, have it measured again. Check the property report and compare it to what you see. Don't agree to sign now and see later, with the option to cancel if you don't like it. For one reason or another, you may not be able to see the land until your right to cancel has ex-

6. Just because the company or development is registered with the federal government (Department of Housing and Urban Development), that does not mean the government has inspected or endorsed the property.

7. Promises, promises-of smooth roads, modern water and sewage systems, fancy recreational facilities: don't believe them. Have all promises of future facilities put in writing.

8. Be prepared for high-pressure sales tactics. Can you be talked into buying anything? If so, leave your checkbook at home and take a strong-willed person with you. Make it a policy to wait two days before investing, giving you time to read carefully and to ask around.

If you have a consumer complaint, write to the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, Room 34, The Capitol, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

The office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write when you have a complaint. However, if you have an emergency situation, call the consumer hotline. The number is 1-800-372-

"Come now, let us reason together" (Isa. 1:18)

Working together is the only way.

Keeping electricity coming is a big job.

It's more than just taking care of the day-today problems of supplying power. It's also making sure we have enough fuel and facilities to keep up with the increasing needs of our area.

And the needs are growing. For instance, our electric requirements are almost double what they were ten short years ago. Simply stated, electric power continues to be called upon to do more and more things in our work and in our homes.

Keeping up with this increase is tough. It requires the best of everyone. It also requires planning, new facilities, and unfortunately, a lot of money.

And frankly, we can't do it all by ourselves.

That's why we need your cooperation. You can help by using electricity wisely. And by your understanding of the joint responsibility for supplying our future electric needs. It's a critical ingredient in our power partnership.

We know that asking you to work with us is asking a lot. But when you get right down to it, working together is the only way.

Unfortunately, we have only five The Pines of Our Region species of pine common to our region, none of the huge western pines. These are the white, the pitch, the shortleaf (yellow), the Virginia pine and the spruce pine. The latter is called by botanists the Eastern hemlock. THE SHORTLEAF PINE. This is the pie that grows tall and stately on our mountainsides, and makes a fine timber tree. You'll find a yellow pine now and then with a towering trunk, rising more than 100 feet without a single limb until the top is reached. It is an ideal lumber tree and the wood is used for flooring, veneer, paper pulp, mine headers and for interior finish. Identify the yellow pine by its immense size and by its needles, almost always formed two to each cluster; also by its rather small cones, about half the size of those of the pitch pine; by its reddish-brown bark broken into rectangular plates, and by the wood, which is light yellow. Sometimes on our ridges you will find a yellow pine almost four feet in diameter with a tall, stately trunk. The yellow pine ranks next to white pine in importance.

4. THE VIRGINIA PINE. This is the only scrubby pine of our region. It is also known as "bull pine", "jersey pine" and "old field pine," as it mainly springs up in old fields and abandoned clearings. Identify this pine by its gray-green needles also formed in clusters of two. The needles are much shorter than those of any other pine. Also identify it by its thin, reddish-brown bark, which has shallow fissures. The branches of this pine have such thick clusters of needles, they suggest a dust mop.

The wood of the Virginia pine is light, brittle and has a most beautiful orange glow. The wood is sometime used in cabinet making and interior finish. The best use of this pine is in reclaiming abandoned fields.

How Arthur Buried His Sins

"Hello, Arthur. What are you doing?" "Digging a grave."

"Digging a grave? Who's dead? 'Not for your life, worse'n that."

'Did your old cat die at last? I should think you'd be glad of that; you hated her

"Worse'n that too, Mary Jane, an' I want you to go 'way and let me bury my dead myself. I'm 'shamed of 'em.

But Mary Jane was one of those children who are very curious; and she sat still and thought she would wait and see whom he put in the grave. Deeper and deeper Arthur dug until he had a hole two feet deep. Then he sat down by his solemn looking grave, drew a paper out of his pocket, opened it and began to read what seemed to be a long list of something, while tears ran down his cheeks.

Mary Jane could stand it no longer. "Arthur, whatever is the matter with you? Are you going daffy? What are you crying about, I'd like to know? Let me see that list," and in spite of all Arthur's efforts, she got it away from him, and here is what she read:

'Sins That Must Be Buried' Stealing: Stole Dad's hammer and axe. Pride: Would not wear my old shoes to

Unmanliness: Sasses Mother and my Anger: Slapped Johnnie Small twice.

A long list it proved to be. Mary Jane was dumfounded. "Arthur, whatever are you thinking about, burying this list of sins? Why they're in you, boy, and to get 'em buried for keeps, you'll have to bury yourself. Arthur looked up through his tears. "Bury myself? Mary Jane, why it's you that's going daffy-not me!

"Well, Arthur, it's all right to bury 'em, but not in dirt.

"Well, where can I bury them so's I'll never find them again-and get out of scoldings and lickings?"

"Well, I'll tell you," said little Mary. "Mother told me.

"Yes, your mother takes an interest in you, and tells you things; mine doesn't. She just scolds and Dad licks!"

Mary went over to where Arthur sat so disconsolate, and put her hand on his head and said: "I buried mine in the blood of Jesus.

Arthur looked up in to Mary Jane's face with a look of surprise and wonder. 'Whoever told you such a thing?'

"Why, it's in the Bible, Arthur." "Oh, yes, my Dad won't let one of them books in the house, and I never heard.'

Off went Mary to her home in the next yard to get her own little Bible. She read words that stopped the strange burial: 1st John 1:7-9: "If we confess our sins . the blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth us

Then Arthur understood that Jesus had died in his place upon the cross. The children knelt beside the hole in the dirt, and Mary Jane prayed, "Oh, God, please bury Arthur's sins in the blood, and tell him to quit crying-for Jesus' sake. The children were quiet for a little while; then Arthur began to laugh. 'What's the matter, now, Arthur?"

"I don't know, Mary Jane, but a glad feeling spilled over inside me. What is it, Mary Jane?

"Why Arthur, it's the love of Jesus, and you're free from your sins, and 'way down inside your soul you're hearing the music of the glad angels because you've buried your sins in Jesus' blood.

Mary picked up her Bible and went home to tell her mother that God had saved Arthur, and Arthur went home to be a brave soldier before his ungoldly father and mother.

Jordan Says ERDA's Aim To Achieve Energy Independence by Conservation

The importance of the development of fuel conservation technologies and the extraction of synthetic fuel from coal was stressed by Paul R. Jordan, public affairs officer for the U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) in a speech delivered May 20 at Pine Mountain State Park at the second Kentucky Coal Refuse Disposal and Utilization Seminar.

Referring to the gob piles and slate dumps that smolder as eyesores over Eastern Kentucky, the Wayland native said, "I'm told that coal refuse contains up to 30 percent carbon, which is a potential energy source of no little significance." By developing the technology to utilize such potential sources, Jordan said, the United States would be well on its way toward gaining energy self-sufficiency.

Jordan stressed that "whether you feel its effects or not, our nation remains in the throes of an energy crisis." According to Jordan, the U.S. is presently more reliant on imported oil now than before the Arab embargo of 1973-'74. 'That one single prospect should convince the most skeptical that we-the United States, not some hostile sourceshould control our own energy supply and reverse a dangerous situation.'

Discussing the ERDA's committment to fuel conservation, Jordan said, "The strategy, simply stated, is this: It costs less to save a barrel of oil than to buy or produce it . . . each barrel saved means one barrel not imported.'

Jordan said conservation technologies could save almost one million barrels of oil a day within the next five years. "By the year 2000, such technologies could permit local energy consumption to be 25 percent less than now," he pointed out.

The ERDA official told the seminar group that his agency's Fossil Energy Program seeks to develop and demonstrate the technology necessary for establishing a synthetic fuels-from-coal industry, in keeping with the current stress on conservation. Jordan said if a synthetic fuels industry is created along lines now envisioned, the development could mean a 'great deal" to Kentucky. "After all," said Jordan, "Kentucky is the Nation's leading coal producer. You have plenty of water, adequate transportation facilities, and a work force ready and willing to claim its share of an expanding economy." He said ERDA projections show that production of coal should double by 1985 and probably triple by

Thus far, Jordan told the group, the ERDA program involves a coal-to-liquids pilot plant at Catlettsburg which would be the largest of its kind, processing up to 600 tons of coal daily in the production of clean liquids. According to Jordan, the University of Kentucky is also participating in coal research with more than half a million dollars in contracts with ERDA. In addition, he pointed out, Kentucky is a party to a proposal for the construction of a very large demonstration gasification plant, "probably in the western part of the state.'

Jordan said the president has proposed a Synthetic Fuels Commercialization Program directed at initiating a limited number of plants in the 1980's. "Using present-day processes to produce synthetic fuels for the marketplace, these plants could yield valuable economic, environmental, regulatory, and institutional data needed for commercializing both first and second generation technologies," he pointed out. Among a number of other federal proposals outlined by Jordan were the following: -Issuance of a program opportunity notice (PON) for proposals to develop and demonstrate a fluidized-bed concept for clean burning of high sulfur coal and coal waste in industrial boilers and

-The award of millions of dollars in cost-sharing contracts with industry to test improved methods for the enhanced (secondary and tertiary) recovery of oil

By 1985, ERDA expects this technology to add 2 billion barrels of oil and 10 trillion cubic feet of natural gas to U.S. reserves, Jordan explained, and this would mean an increase in production of 500,000 barrels of oil per day and 3 billion cubic feet of natural gas per day.

-Launching of a new program to stimulate the production of natural gas from Devonian shale in the eastern United States. Jordan pointed out that trillions of cubic feet of gas, locked in tight formations, cannot be developed economically with current technology.

"The whole idea behind this activity, of course," Jordan said, "is the attainment of energy self-sufficiency, possibly in the 1980's. . . "With continued cooperation and scientific achievment, we will hasten that day and, in so doing, preserve a high quality of living and reinforce the goals of national security.'

Carpenter said Johnson's letter was "a letter of resignation with no strings attached." He said arrangements have been made to conduct examinations in mid-July for those interested in succeeding Johnson.

"All PVAs must pass our examination," Carpenter said. "Those who pass it in Perry county will be certified to the county judge, and he will appoint a successor.

Johnson, 50, faces trial July 5 on 16 counts-14 embezzlement charges, a charge of criminal conspiracy and a charge of destroying tax records. He will be tried in Powell circuit court, where his case was transferred on a change of venue from Perry county.

The charges against Johnson stem from a 1974 state audit of Perry county tax records for 1970 through 1973. The

Camp Shawnee on Dewey Lake To Host 25 Boy Scout Troops

Twenty-five Scout troops from eastern Kentucky and southwest Virginia will be camping at Camp Shawnee on Dewey Lake this summer as part of a yearround camping program in the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America.

According to Arthur Leach, Scouting chairman, each of these troops will enjoy a week-long camping experience in which Scouts will have an opportunity to practice many of the educational and fun activities that are a part of the total Scouting program.

Mr. Leach said that one of the most important strengths of Scouting is the patrol method, which gives boys an opportunity to learn how to get along with others by actually running their troop through the troop leaders' council.

The three weeks of Scout camping at Camp Shawnee will begin on June 20, June 27 and July 4. Leach said the first two weeks of camping are nearly full, but that ample space remains for additional Scouts and units in the third Scout camping week, July 4-10. Boys who are 11 years old or have completed the fifth grade, but who may not have yet been able to join a troop and who would like to attend camp, should contact the Lonesome Pine Council office at P. O. Box 110, Pikeville, Ky., 41501 and request information about summer camp at Camp Shawnee. Boys are welcome to attend camp as individuals and small groups. When boys come to camp without their own leadership, adult leadership is assigned from the camp staff.

In order to make provision for payment of the proper costs of the 1976 project, the City hereby creates and establishes, in and with The Bank Josephine, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, a separate and special fund which is designated the "Water. Sewer and Natural Gas System Construction Fund of 1976," for convenience hereinafter referred to as the "1976 Construction Fund.

Although provision is made in this Ordinance for the offering of the 1976 Bonds at an advertised, public, competitive sale, it has been caused to appear to the City Council that in view of current interest rates, as published from day to day, there seems to be no likelihood that the 1976 Bonds herein authorized will attract any purchase bids remotely approaching the purchase bid which FmHA, in accordance with its Loan Agreement, has agreed that it will submit for the purchase of the 1976 Bonds, this being a bid for purchase of all of the 1976 Bonds at par or face value, and at a single uniform interest rate of 5 pct. per annum, applicable to all of the

Such being the case, the City must, and hereby does, recognize and take cognizance of established rules and regulations of FmHA, whereunder it is known that if on the occasion of the public offering of the 1976 Bonds FmHA shall become the purchaser thereof,-FmHA will not accept delivery of the 1976 Bonds and make payment to the City therefor until such time as it is caused to appear that the 1976 project is at or about 80 pct.-90 pct. complete; and that by reason thereof it is required that the City make arrangements and provisions for either (a) providing available funds of its own, or (b) obtaining, from other than governmental sources, one or more loans for interim construction purposes.

Accordingly, by proceedings concurrent with the adoption of this Ordinance, the City Council has adopted a concurrent Ordinance, authorizing the borrowing by the City, if necessary (on an interim basis, and in anticipation of the receipt by the City, in due course of time, of the proceeds of the 1976 Bonds, when delivered to FmHA in accordance with the prevailing rules and regulations of FmHA), of up to $ from The Bank Josephine, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, the same to be secured by a pledge that the City will repay the same from the proceeds of the 1976 Bonds, when the same are delivered in accordance with its anticipated purchase bid, and in accordance with prevailing FmHA rules and regulations; such concurrently adopted Ordinance being identified by its title or caption as follows:

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, AUTHORIZING THE BORROWING OF MONEY (IF DEEMED NECESSARY), FOR INTERIM FINANCING IN AN-TICIPATION OF THE CITY'S ISSUANCE OF ITS "WATER, SEWER AND NATURAL GAS SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS, SERIES OF 1976, ACCORDING TO THE CITY'S LOAN AGREEMENT WITH THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ACTING THROUGH THE FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE RECOGNIZING THE CITY'S ESTABLISHMENT AND CREATION OF A SPECIAL CONSTRUCTION FUND WHEREIN THERE SHALL BE DEPOSITED FROM TIME TO TIME MONEYS RECEIVED FROM ALL SOURCES FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE PROJECT INTENDED TO BE FINANCED THROUGH THE ISSUANCE OF SUCH BONDS; AUTHORIZING THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF PROMISSORY NOTES FROM TIME TO TIME IN EVIDENCE OF SUCH BORROWING; PLEDGING REPAYMENT OF SUCH BORROWINGS AND THEREON FROM THE PROCEEDS OF SUCH BONDS: PRESCRIBING CON-DITIONS RELATING TO DISBUR-SEMENTS FROM SUCH CON-STRUCTION FUND AND AUTHORIZING REIMBURSEMENT TO THE CITY, OR TO ITS UTILITIES FOR ANY AD-COMMISSION, VANCEMENTS WHICH MAY BE MADE IN LIEU OF BORROWING MONEY FROM A BANK.

said Ordinance, for convenience of reference, being hereinafter called the "Interim Financing Ordinance"; and in accordance with the provisions of said "Interim Financing Ordinance," and of the City's FmHA Loan Agreement, the following provisions are made:

(A) Until issuance and delivery of the 1976 Bonds, it is recognized and acknowledged that the City is obliged (according to FmHA requirements) to obtain (and it has obtained) arrangements for interim financing as provided in and by the terms and provisions of the aforesaid "Interim Financing Ordinance." Reference to said "Interim Financing Ordinance," as the same is of record in the City's official records, is hereby made, and the full text thereof is incorporated herein as if reproduced herein, in full

(B) All provisions set forth in the aforesaid "Interim Financing Ordinance," with reference to the pledging by The Bank Josephine, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, of U. S. obligations for the purpose of securing all deposits in the aforesaid 1976 Construction Fund, to the extent such deposits may at any time exceed the amount insured by FDIC, are hereby adopted, ratified and confirmed.

(C) When the 1976 Bonds are actually issued, delivered and paid for, as in this Ordinance contemplated and provided, the City shall apply the proceeds thereof in payment of the costs of the 1976 project, to the extent such costs have not theretofore been paid from the City's available funds or from the proceeds of the City's interim financing; and to the extent such costs of the 1976 project have already been paid by the City through application of its own funds or from the proceeds of interim financing, the City hereby pledges and commits that it will apply the proceeds of its FmHA loan to the repayment thereof, with interest thereon

Section 13. City officials to Be Bonded. The City will cause each municipal officer or other person having custody of any moneys administered under the provisions of this Ordinance to be bonded at all times in an amount equal to $50,000 or to the maximum amount of such moneys in his custody at any time, whichever is lesser, unless a greater amount is required by law; provided that the amount of said required surety bond is cumulative and not additional; and if such official (s) is (are) already bonded in such amount and if such surety bond applies to the moneys administered hereunder, as well as other municipal funds, no separate surety bond shall be required hereunder. The City will segregate and earmark such funds, consistent with this Ordinance, in such manner as to enable the City to obtain the benefit of the lowest possible surety premium rates on such surety bond or bonds. Each such surety bond shall have a surety given by a surety corporation qualified or authorized to do business in Kentucky, and approved by the governing body of the City, and the premium of such surety bond shall constitute a proper expense of operating and maintaining the project, and may be paid from the moneys available in the "1956 Operation and Maintenance Fund," hereinafter referred to.

Section 14. Adoption of Budget of Current Expenses. The City covenants and agrees that prior to the delivery of the 1976 Bonds and prior to the completion of said 1976 project, the City will adopt a Budget of Current Expenses for the operation of the combined and consolidated municipal Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System, for the remainder of the then current fiscal year, and that thereafter, on or before the first day of November of each year prior to the year of final maturity of any outstanding Bonds, the City will adopt an Annual Budget of Current Expenses for the ensuing fiscal year (as previously covenanted in the 1969 Ordinance), and will furnish a copy of such Budget or amendments thereto, upon request, to any bondholder. Current expenses shall include all reasonable and necessary costs of operating, repairing, maintaining and insuring said public project, but shall exclude payments into any of the Sinking Funds and-or the Depreciation Funds. The City further covenants that the Current Expenses incurred in any year shall not exceed the necessary and reasonable amounts required therefor, and that the City will not expend any amount or incur any obligations for operation, maintenance and repair in excess of the amounts provided for Current Expenses in the current Annual Budget, except on proper justification and resolution by the governing body of the City, that such expenditures are necessary to operate and maintain the project. The City further covenants that at the same time and in like manner, the City shall prepare an estimate of Gross Revenues to be derived from the operation of the project for said fiscal year and that sufficient Gross Revenues shall be provided, through the maintenance of proper rates and charges (and through the increase thereof if necessary), to satisfy the requirements of all of the provisions contained in this Ordinance, including the accumulation and maintenance of all required reserves specified Section 15. Separate Accounting of Water and Sewer Revenues. As noted in Section 2 hereof, a strict and separate accounting of all income and revenues of the System with reference to water and sewer services, shall be kept, and all provisions of the 1962 and 1963 Bond Ordinances, authorizing the issuance of the Bonds of 1962 and 1963, respectively, are hereby expressly ratified and confirmed, and shall inure to the benefit and security of the holders of said previously issued Bonds, respectively. From and after the retirement of said Bonds of 1962, the entire income and revenues of the Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System of the City shall constitute income and revenues of the combined and consolidated Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System, as hereinbefore more fully defined.

Section 16. Fiscal Year. From and after the issuance and delivery of the Bonds of 1976, and so long as any of said Bonds of 1976 remain outstanding and unpaid, said municipal Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System shall be operated on a fiscal year basis beginning each November 1 and ending on each ensuing October 31 (the same fiscal year previously designated by said previous Bond Ordinances, even though the Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of 1974, and the Bonds of 1976 are scheduled to mature on February 1 of each year), but subject to such accounting adjustments as may be necessitated by the requirements of the three separate Bond Issues of 1962, 1963 and 1969, and on that basis the income and revenues of said System shall be collected, segregated, accounted for and distributed as hereinafter provided.

Section 17. Provisions of Bond Ordinance of 1963 As to Flow of Funds Incorporated Herein. Recognition is hereby taken of the provisions of Section 13 of the 1963 Bond Ordinance, providing substantially as follows: (A) All of the revenues of the project are initially required to be deposited into the "City of Prestonsburg Water and Sewer Revenue Fund of 1956," which is the "1956 Revenue Fund" created in Section 8 of the 1956 Bond Ordinance. Separate accountings were therein required, and the same are hereby recognized, acknowledged and ratified,-except insofar as it appears and has been shown that certain Bonds therein referred to as being outstanding have now been retired, and need no longer to be referred to. Taking said bond retirements into account, the provisions of the 1956 Ordinance are restated, as follows

(1) A separate accounting is required of revenues of the water and sewer systems so long as any of the Bonds of 1962 are outstanding, pursuant to the 1962 Bond Ordinance, and amounts are required to be deposited into the 1956 Bond Fund (Sinking Fund of 1956) to provide for the principal and interest requirements of the Bonds of 1962 and to maintain the prescribed $40,000 debt service reserve for the further security of the Bonds of 1962. (2) Subject to the required separate accounting of water and sewer revenues as aforesaid, the cash revenues of the water and sewer systems required to be deposited into the 1956 Revenue Fund are required by said Section 13 of said 1963 Bond Ordinance to be applied as set out in (B), (C), (D) and (E) hereinafter set

(B) The "Bond and Interest Fund of 1963" was created for the purpose of providing for principal and interest on the Bonds of 1963. It is required that after observing the respective priorities (as to the application of revenues or flow of funds) with reference to the Bonds of 1962, there be deposited on or before the fifteenth day of each month from the 1956 Revenue Fund the following amounts to the credit of the Bond and Interest Fund of 1963:

(1) Monthly amounts equal to one-sixth (1-6) of the interest to become due on the Bonds of 1963 on the next interest payment date;

(2) Monthly amounts equal to onetwelfth (1-12) of the principal of the Bonds of 1963 to mature on the next succeeding November 1; and

(3) Monthly amounts of at least $400.00 into a Sinking Fund Reserve of 1963 as a part of the Sinking Fund of 1963 until the sum of $63,000 is accumulated, after which said $400 monthly deposits may be discontinued. All amounts held in the Bond and Interest Fund of 1963 and in the Sinking Fund Reserve of 1963 are required to be deposited in The Bank Josephine, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and the monthly amounts required to be deposited into said Bond and Interest Fund of 1963 are required to be transmitted to said Bank for deposit therein at the times therein required.

The balance of the income and revenues of the project is required to be applied for Operation and Maintenance and for depreciation, as follows:

(C) After all of the foregoing conditions and requirements are met, the City must transfer from the monthly balances remaining in the 1956 Revenue Fund, monthly deposits of $400 (as prescribed in the 1962 Bond Ordinance) into the 1956 Depreciation Fund until there is accumulated in said 1956 Depreciation Fund the total sum of $80,000, which amount is required to be maintained and restored when necessary

(D) In the 1963 Bond Ordinance, the City further agreed to maintain the "City of Prestonsburg Waterworks and Sewer Operation and Maintenance Fund of 1956" created and maintained pursuant to the 1956 and 1962 Bond Ordinances. The 1963 Bond Ordinance requires in Section 13 (D) that after all of the foregoing requirements have been complied with, there shall further be deposited into said 1956 Operation and Maintenance Fund, out of the balances remaining in the 1956 Revenue Fund, a sum in each month equal to the estimated cost and expense of operating and maintaining the public project during such month, together with an amount equal to any deficiency in the amount deposited therein for the previous month, based on estimates made by the City's Utility Commission, said 1956 Operation and Maintenance Fund to be maintained for the purpose of providing for the payment of current expenses of the project as therein defined.

(E) It is further provided in the 1963 Bond Ordinance that if after due observance of the respective priorities of transfers, there shall remain a balance in the 1956 Revenue Fund in excess of the estimated amounts required to be so transferred into each and all of the aforesaid special funds during the succeeding three months, all or any part of such excess may, upon order of the City Council, be transferred and deposited in whole or in part into any of said special funds, or same may be transferred over into the General Fund of the City and-or used for any other lawful purpose.

Section 18. Recognition and Confirmation of Additional Flow of Funds Required By the 1969 Ordinance. It is hereby recognized that the foregoing provisions of the 1963 Bond Ordinance provide that the City shall, out of the revenues of the 1956 Revenue Fund. transfer all amounts necessary to provide for the Bonds of 1962 and the Bonds of 1963, and to provide for operation and maintenance and for the designated depreciation funds, and said 1963 Bond Ordinance further provides that if, after all of such requirements have been complied with, there shall remain in the 1956 Revenue Fund a balance in excess of the estimated amounts required to be so transferred into each of said special funds during the succeeding three months, all or any part of such excess may, upon order of the City Council, be transferred and deposited in whole or in part into any of said special funds, or same may be transferred over into the General Fund of the City and used for any lawful purpose. In view of the recitations which were made in the 1969 Ordinance, to the effect that at the time of issuance of the 1969 Bonds all of such previous commitments had to be complied with; and by reason of the fact that such recitations have been reviewed and confirmed as being correct, it is hereby certified that it is contemplated that said System will produce sufficient revenues to meet all of the aforesaid requirements and to produce a surplus in said 1956 Revenue Fund in an amount sufficient to enable same to be transferred by order of the City Council and used for the purposes prescribed in the 1969 Ordinance, the 1974 Ordinance, and in this 1976 Ordinance, it being hereby affirmatively found and determined by the City Council that the same constitute lawful public purposes.

(A) Revenue Fund of 1969

The City has heretofore directed that from and after the issuance of the Bonds of 1969, all such surplus funds shall be deposited into a separate or special fund or account of said City, distinct and apart from all other funds and accounts, which fund was, in and by the 1969 Ordinance, created and designated and identified as the "City of Prestonsburg Water, Sewer and Gas Revenue Fund of 1969," which fund shall be maintained at The First National Bank, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and, into which all such surplus funds shall be transferred each month. The City covenants and agrees that it will deposit in said fund, promptly as received from time to time, all surplus cash revenues of said municipal Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System as hereinabove defined, and as defined in Section 13 (E) of the 1963 Bond Ordinance, said surplus cash revenues to be used, disbursed and applied by the City, however, only for the purposes, and in the manner and order of priorities, specified in the succeeding subsections of this Section 18, all as permitted by applicable statutes, as follows:

(B) Sinking Fund of 1969

There was created in and by the 1969 Ordinance a special account or fund to be known as the "City of Prestonsburg Water, Sewer and Gas Sinking Fund of 1969'' (the "Sinking Fund of 1969"), to be deposited and maintained at The First National Bank, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, From the proceeds of the 1976 Bonds there shall initially be set aside into said 'Sinking Fund of 1969," the amount authorized as capitalized interest, to pay interest on interim construction loans, and also to pay interest on the 1976 Bonds during the remaining period of construction and development of the 1976 project as has been specified in the FmHA Loan Agreement, such interest requirements being legitimate project

Thereafter, there shall be set aside on or before the fifteenth day of each month, from the net income and revenues then remaining in the Revenue Fund of 1969, such portion thereof as will be sufficient to pay any interest on and principal of the Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of 1974, and the Bonds of 1976, as may be outstanding from time to time. The amount to be so set aside and paid into said Sinking Fund of 1969 in each month, in equal monthly deposits, on or before the fifteenth day of each month, shall be sums not less than the following respective amounts:

(1) Beginning with and including (or no later than) the month in which interest shall last be payable from the proceeds of the sale of said Bonds of 1976, as capitalized interest during construction and development, a sum equal to onesixth (1-6) of the next succeeding interest installment to become due on all of the outstanding Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of

1974, and the Bonds of 1976; (2) A sum equal to one-twelfth (1-12) of the principal amount of the Bonds of 1969 and Bonds of 1974, maturing on the next succeeding February first; and effective February 1, 1976 (and retroactively to that date if the 1976 Bonds shall be issued and delivered thereafter), a sum equal to one-twelfth (1-12) of the principal amount of the Bonds of 1976 maturing on the next succeeding February 1;

(3) Beginning with and including the under subsection (1) above, a sum equal to seventy-five per cent (75 pct.) of the revenues remaining in the Revenue Fund of 1969 after providing for the payment of principal and interest in subsections (1) and (2) above.

Said monthly transfers set out in the foregoing three paragraphs of this Section shall continue until there shall have been accumulated in said Sinking Fund of 1969 an amount sufficient to pay the interest and principal of the Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of 1974, and the Bonds of 1976, as same shall become due during the ensuing one year period, and to accumulate an additional amount as a debt service reserve (of 1969) in the sum of $79,800 (being an amount equal to more than the maximum amount of principal and interest requirements falling due on the Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of 1974, and the Bonds of 1976, in any year hereafter), to be held on deposit as a part of said Sinking Fund of 1969 and designated as the "City of Prestonsburg Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Sinking Fund Reserve of 1969," sometimes referred to herein as the "Reserve Fund of 1969," or as the "Sinking Fund Reserve of 1969." Thereafter the City shall in like manner and amount make such payments as may be necessary to be made until there has been accumulated and there is being maintained in said Sinking Fund of 1969 such amounts as will be sufficient to pay the interest and principal next becoming due on the outstanding Bonds during the ensuing one year period, and at all times to accumulate, maintain, and whenever necessary, to restore, said Reserve Fund of 1969 in said minimum amount of $79,800.

On or before the fifteenth day of January and July in each year, the payee bank shall transfer from the Sinking Fund of 1969 (and from the Reserve Fund of 1969, if necessary), a sum equal to the interest, or a sum equal to the principal and interest, as the case may be, becoming due on the next following respective February or August 1, with respect to the Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of 1974, and the Bonds of 1976, and deposit the same in a "City of Prestonsburg 1969, 1974 and 1976 Bond and Interest Payment Account," hereby created, and shall notify the Alternate Paying Agent and-or the Fiscal Agent that the same is held as a trust fund to be drawn upon by the Paying Agent and or the Fiscal Agent to pay maturing coupons, and-or interest installments, or Bonds and coupons, andor principal and interest installments, as the case may be, of the Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of 1974, and the Bonds of 1976, upon presentation thereof on or after maturity and upon surrender of maturing Bonds and-or coupons. The Fiscal Agent designated by EDA in the Bonds of 1969 shall continue to make appropriate notations as to payment of principal and interest installments on any Fully Registered Bond and promptly send written notice thereof to the Payee Bank; and if FmHA shall become the purchaser of the Bonds of 1976, moneys sufficient to pay maturing interest and principal of the Bonds of 1976 shall be transferred to the registered place of payment thereof.

Each time a monthly amount is deposited in any account in connection with any of the Funds herein created, such deposit shall, if requested by the original purchaser of the Bonds herein authorized, be made with a letter of transmittal from the City to said payee bank, with a copy of such letter being mailed to the original purchaser of the Bonds, or its successor, on mimeographed forms supplied by such

Said Sinking Fund of 1969 and said Reserve Fund of 1969 are hereby pledged equally and ratably for the payment of theinterest on and the principal of the Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of 1974, and the Bonds of 1976, and are subject to a first and paramount lien and charge in favor of the holder or holders of said Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976.

No further payments need be made into said Sinking Fund of 1969 or into said Reserve Fund of 1969 whenever and so long as such amount of the Bonds of 1969. 1974 and 1976 shall have been retired that the amounts then held in such funds are equal to the entire amount of the interest and principal that will be payable to and at the time of the retirement or maturity of all of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976 then remaining outstanding.

Such payments into said Sinking Fund of 1969 and Reserve Fund of 1969 shall be made in equal monthly installments on or before the fifteenth day of each month, except that when the fifteenth day of any month shall be on a Sunday or a legal holiday, then such payments shall be made on or before the next succeeding secular day.

In the event that the income and revenues during any month are inadequate to make the required payments into said Sinking Fund of 1969 and Reserve Fund of 1969, the deficiency shall be made up and paid as aforesaid from the first available income and revenues thereafter received, and same shall be in addition to payments otherwise provided to be made in such succeeding month or months.

All moneys held in said Sinking Fund of 1969 and in said Reserve Fund of 1969 shall be deposited in the payee bank, The First National Bank, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and to the extent that same shall cause deposits of the City in said Bank to exceed the amount insured by the FDIC, the same shall be continuously secured by a valid pledge of U. S. obligations (as defined herein), having an equivalent market value, or such portion of such account as is designated by the governing body of the City shall be invested for the benefit of such account in such U.S. obligations having a maturity date prior to the date when the sums invested will be needed for meeting interest and-or principal payments, to mature or be called, as provided in KRS

(C) City of Prestonsburg Waterworks, Sewer and Natural Gas System Depreciation Fund of 1969

There was created in the 1969 Ordinance a fund known as the "City of Prestonsburg Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Depreciation Fund of 1969" (hereinafter sometimes called the "Depreciation Fund of 1969"), into which, subject to the foregoing disposition of the revenues of said public water, sewer and natural gas project, there shall be set aside and paid, in each month, as the next payment from said Revenue Fund of 1969, all of the remaining funds in said Revenue Fund of 1969, and said deposits shall continue and be made whenever necessary until there has been accumulated and is being deposited in said Depreciation fund of 1969, the sum of at least $90,800 (being an amount equal to more than 10 pct. of the total cost of the 1969 and 1974 projects, and the estimated cost of the 1976 project), as a "Depreciation Reserve of 1969," which Reserve shall continue to be maintained, and when necessary, restored to said amount.

There shall also be deposited in said Depreciation Fund of 1969, the proceeds from the sale of any equipment no longer usable or needed, fees or charges collected from potential customers to aid in the financing of the cost of extensions and improvements and the proceeds of any property damage insurance not immediately used to replace the damaged or destroyed property. Moneys in said Depreciation Fund of 1969 shall be available and shall be withdrawn and used (with or without other funds on deposit in other depreciation funds created in connection with previously issued bonds), upon appropriate certification to the payee bank, for the purpose of paying the cost of making unusual or extraordinary maintenance, repairs, renewals and-or replacements to the public project not otherwise included in the Annual Budget of Current Expenses, which would be necessary to keep the System in good operating condition, but only when there is not sufficient money for such purpose included in the Annual Budget, or for paying the cost of constructing replacements, improvements or extensions to the project; provided, however, that in the event the available balance in the Sinking Fund of 1969 and Sinking Fund Reserve of 1969 on any January 20 or July 20 shall be insufficient to pay the next maturing installment of interest and-or principal on the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976, the City shall withdraw and transfer from said Depreciation Fund of 1969 such amounts as may be required to eliminate the deficiency in such Sinking Fund of 1969 and to avoid a default; provided, further, that any such withdrawals shall be promptly restored to said Depreciation Fund of 1969 from the first available revenues of the project.

Whenever the balance in said Depreciation Fund of 1969, including the market value of investments held for the account thereof, shall equal the sum of $90,800, the monthly payments into said Fund may be discontinued, or by order of the governing body of the City, may be diverted into the Sinking Fund of 1969 to be held as a part of the Sinking Fund Reserve of 1969, and may then be used to purchase or redeem outstanding Bonds of 1969, 1974 or 1976, but only after the aforesaid Sinking Fund Reserve of 1969 shall have accumulated beyond the minimum amount hereinabove prescribed ($90,800); provided, however, that payments into said Depreciation Fund of 1969 must be resumed whenever, and so long as, necessary to restore and maintain said balance in the sum of $90,800. However, the Depreciation Reserve Portion of said Depreciation Fund of 1969 shall be available and may be withdrawn and used by the City, upon appropriate certification by the Mayor of the City to the payee bank, for the purpose of meeting principal and interest requirements, including the accumulation of the aforesaid Sinking Fund Reserve of 1969, or same may be used for any of the purposes set out in the preceding paragraph hereof. All funds in said Depreciation Fund of 1969 shall be kept separate and apart from all other municipal funds, shall be deposited in the depository bank, The First National Bank, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and shall be deposited, secured and-or invested by said Bank in the manner as hereinbefore provided for deposit, security and-or investment of the Sinking Fund of 1969.

(D) Surplus Funds

After said stipulated Depreciation Reserve Fund of 1969 has been accumulated to the amount of $90,800, if at the end of any fiscal year, after making the payments required by the foregoing, which requirements are cumulative, there shall remain a balance in said Revenue Fund of 1969, such balance shall within sixty (60) days after the end of such fiscal year be used as follows:

(1) To retire or redeem outstanding Bonds of 1969, 1974 or 1976 (or prepayments on the Fully Registered Bonds) in inverse numerical and maturity (or in inverse chronological) order, at not exceeding the call prices (or redemption or prepayment terms), in accordance with the respective terms and conditions thereof; as may be determined by the governing body of the

(2) To transfer additional amounts to the Depreciation Fund of 1969, provided however, that no such transfer shall be made unless there shall have first been accumulated in the 1956 Operation and Maintenance Fund a surplus equal to the cost (not otherwise provided) of maintaining and operating the public water, sewer and natural gas project during the remainder of the current fiscal year and the succeeding like year; or

(3) To pay principal and interest requirements of any outstanding junior and subordinate obligations against said and natural gas project, or any part thereof. Section 19. Determination By City That Proportions of Deposits Are Correct. The City Council of the City hereby finds and determines that the allocation of the gross revenues of said public water, sewer and natural gas project into the respective funds hereinabove set out, in the proportions and priorities set out above, is proper and sufficient for the respective purposes thereof. Section 20. Rates and Charges For Services of the Project. While the Bonds of 1976 authorized hereunder, or any of them, remain outstanding and unpaid, the rates for all services and facilities rendered by said public Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System to said City and to its citizens, corporations, or other requiring the same, shall be reasonable and just, taking into account and consideration the cost and value of said project, and shall be adequate to provide not less than (a) the principal and interest requirements of the outstanding previously issued Bonds of 1962 and 1963, and the current payments required by the 1962 and 1963 Bond Ordinances to be made in the various funds including 100 percent of the cost of maintaining and operating the project, plus (b) 125 percent of the amounts necessary to meet payments of interest of and principal on the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976, such amounts being considered adequate to provide for the accumulation and maintenance of the Sinking Fund of 1969, the Sinking Fund Reserve of 1969, and the Depreciation Fund Reserve of 1969, and there shall be charged such rates and amounts as shall be adequate to meet all requirements of the provisions of the 1969 and 1974 Bond Ordinances, and of this 1976 Ordinance. Compensation for services and facilities rendered to the City shall be paid out of the corporate funds of the City by monthly payments into the Revenue Fund of 1956 the same as other income and revenues of said public project are paid, and shall then be apportioned as other income and revenues thereof are required by this Ordinance to be apportioned among the various funds. Prior to the issuance of the Bonds of 1969, a new 1969 schedule of rates and charges for the services to be afforded by said project to all users was established and adopted by separate rate ordinance which provided, among other things, for operation of the public project on a fully metered basis, and without any free service or preferential customers.

various increases in rates and charges.

All of such provisions and increases are hereby ratified and confirmed.

Subsequent to the issuance of the 1969 Bonds, the City Council has authorized

The City will not at any time make any reduction in any prevailing schedule of rates and charges for the use of the services and facilities of the System without first obtaining the written determination of an Independent Consulting Engineer, as defined herein, to the effect that the proposed reduction will not adversely affect the ability of the City to meet all of the requirements of this Ordinance.

Section 21. Parity Bonds, Inferior Bonds, And Surplus Facilities.

(a) Parity Bonds. The City shall not, so long as any of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 or 1976 are outstanding, issue any additional Bonds payable from the revenues of said System unless the lien or pledge of the revenues or other security to secure such additional Bonds is made inferior and subordinate in all respects to the security of said Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976; provided, however, that the City may issue Bonds ranking on a parity with the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976 with the consent of the holders of 95 percent in amount of the Bonds of 1969, 95 percent in amount of the Bonds of 1974, and 95 per cent in amount of the Bonds of 1976, for the purpose of (a) paying the cost, not otherwise provided, of the completion of the 1976 project, or (b) to finance future extensions, additions or improvements to the project. In the event that the cost of completing the project is in excess of funds available from bond issue proceeds and other sources, the City agrees to deposit the excess amount required into the Construction Account out of other funds of the City.

(b) Inferior Bonds. The City further reserves the right at any time or times to issue its bonds or other obligations payable from the revenues of the combined and consolidated System and not ranking on a basis of equality and parity with the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976, without any proof of previous earnings or net revenues, and without the consent of the holders of any of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 or 1976, but (after the initial completion of the 1976 project) only if such other bonds or obligations are issued to provide for additions, extensions or improvements to the System and only if such other bonds or obligations are issued in express recognition of the priorities, liens and rights created and existing for the security, source of payment and protection of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976, and any parity Bonds; provided, however, that nothing in this Section is intended to restrict, or shall be construed as a restriction upon, the ordinary refunding of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 or 1976, or of any parity Bonds. (c) Permissible Disposition of Surplus

Facilities. The City covenants and agrees that so long as any of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976 are outstanding, it will not sell or otherwise dispose of any of the facilities of the public project, or any part thereof, and, except as provided for above, it will not create or permit to be created any charge or lien on the revenues thereof ranking equal or prior to the charge or lien of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976. Notwithstanding the foregoing, and subject to the rights of the holders of the previously issued Bonds, the City may at any time permanently abandon the use of or sell at the fair market value, any part of the facilities of the project, provided that: (a) It is in compliance with all covenants and undertakings in connection with all of the Bonds then outstanding and payable from the revenues of the System, and all sinking fund reserves for all such Bonds have been fully established:

(b) It will, in the event of any such sale, apply the proceeds to either (1) redemption of outstanding Bonds in accordance with the provisions governing prepayment of Bonds of the respective issues in accordance with the priorities thereof, in advance of maturity, of (2) replacement of the facility so disposed of by another facility, the revenues of which shall be incorporated into the public project as hereinbefore provided;

(c) It certifies, in good faith, prior to any abandonment of use, that the facility or facilities to be abandoned are no longer economically feasible or producing net revenues

(d) It certifies, in good faith, that the estimated net revenues of the remaining facilities of the public project for the then next succeeding fiscal year, plus the estimated net revenues of the facility or facilities, if any, to be added to the public project, are adequate to enable the City to meet all of the requirements of the previous Bond Ordinances and of this 1976 Bond Ordinance;

(e) Notwithstanding any other provisions hereof, so long as any of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 or 1976 are held by EDA or FmHA, the City shall not dispose of its title to the System or to any useful part thereof, without first obtaining the written consent of EDA and FmHA.

Section 22. All Bonds of the 1969 and 1974 Issues And of This 1976 Issue Are Equal. The Bonds of 1969, the Bonds of 1974, and the Bonds of 1976 authorized hereunder, and from time to time outstanding, shall not be entitled to priority one over the other in the application of the income and revenues regardless of the time or times of their issuance, it being the intention that there shall be no priority among any of the Bonds of 1969, 1974 and 1976 regardless of the fact that they have been issued and delivered at different times, subject to the provisions of Section 21 (Parity Bonds, Inferior Bonds, And Surplus Facilities).

Devonian Shale Under Study As Source of Natural Gas

The U.S. Geological Survey will assess the potential natural gas which might be available from Appalachian black shales for the Energy Research and Develop-ment Administration (ERDA).

ERDA recently launched a program to stimulate production of natural gas from Devonian shales, including the Appalachian black shales. Devonian shales underlie an area of roughly 150,000 square miles between the Appalachian Mountains, the Mississippi River, New York and Tennessee. The shales remain untapped because they cannot be developed with current technology.

Under the $4.87 million interagency agreement with ERDA the Geological Survey will:

-Make a complete and detailed regional characterization and resource appraisal of the Devonian black shale in Appalachia. Develop a series of geologic criteria high, medium, or low potential for natural gas production. -Help locate areas of high potential for new stimulation techniques being developed and tested by ERDA's to determine if the shale in an area has Morgantown, W. Va., Energy Research The total volume of gas present in the black shale formations is unknown, but estimates range from 150 trillion to quadrillions of cubic feet.

Some information exists. In the Big Sandy River gas field individual wells have produced as much as .7 billion cubic feet of gas in a period of 30 to 40 years. The average well produces about 350 to 390 million cubic feet of gas before the reservoir pressure drops below the limit of profitable exploitation.

According to some data, the Devonian black shale in the Appalachian basin may have a total recoverable natural gas resource of about 220 trillion cubic feet. This volume is about six times larger than the 36 trillion cubic feet of gas produced from all known reservoir rocks in Appalachia since drilling of the first gas well in 1921.

Laboratory data indicate that by a technique called pyrolysis the Devonian shale formation would yield about 1,000 to 2,000 cubic feet of gas per ton of shale. PRESTONSBURG

Regional Group in Last Meeting

Board Chairman Charles Clark (left) receives from Reo Johns, KEDR XI executive director, a plaque in recognition of his Kentucky Educational Development Region 11 (KEDR XI) to all intents and purposes ended with last Wednesday's final meeting of its board of directors and advisory council. Reo Johns, executive director, said that all remaining activities of the agency will be to close the office on the schedule provided by the Department of Education.

Board Chairman Charles F. Clark, superintendent of Floyd county schools, was presented a plaque by the KEDR XI board of directors and staff in recognition of his support of the regional educational concept and his leadership as Chairman of KEDR XI. Mr. Clark, who led a statewide effort of school superintendents to have KEDR's refunded after they were omitted from the state budget, served as KEDR XI chairman during the entire operating period of the organization, beginning in October, 1972.

Charles E. Spears, superintendent of Pikeville Independent Schools, was presented a plaque by the board of directors and staff for his support of the regional educational concept and his service to the Board. Mr. Spears also held his position during the entire operating period.

Advisory Council Chairman W. R. Conley, Past Chairman Vern P. Horne, Vice-Chairman Woodrow Maynard, and Past Vice-Chairman Claude Farley were presented Certificates of Appreciation by Mr. Clark for the support they had given the regional organization and for their contributions to development of regional programs. Mr. Farley, a former superintendent of Pike county schools, was unable to attend the meeting because of illness. His certificate was accepted by William Hickman, finance director for Pike county schools. Executive Director Johns was presented an award in recognition of his leadership of KEDR XI.

Supt. Clark set the mood for the meeting by reminding the board and council that, although they were disappointed by the abolishment of the regional offices, they should make every effort possible to see that gains in communication and cooperation made possible by the regional offices not be lost. He urged superintendents and other board members to continue to work together for the benefit of children in Region XI. He praised the regional concept for its role in uniting school districts and providing solutions to common problems.

Vice-Chairman Spears also urged the continuation of school district cooperation and praised the greater access to the Department of Education made possible by regional offices.

In his overview, Executive Director Johns briefly traced the development of the regional offices from the ARC pilot ROPES Regions to the present statewide educational development regions. Johns praised the Bureau of Vocational Education and the Bureau of Pupil Personnel Services for the cooperation they had extended to the regional offices. Johns also introduced the staff and supporting staff members-Bronelle Skaggs, assistant director of KEDR XI and regional vocational director; Shirley Beard, administrative assistant; Audrey Pratt, special education consultant; Larry Jervis, curriculum consultant; Diane Matthews, school psychometrist; Don Burchett, area guidance supervisor, Dr. James V. Bolen, Morehead State University's regional graduate programs coordinator. Staff members spoke briefly to express their appreciation for the opportunity to serve the board.

HAROLD NEWS HONOR RETIRING TEACHERS

The Harold Elementary School faculty and staff honored two retiring teachers, Mrs. Regina Daniels and Mrs. Angeline George, with a surprise steak dinner. June 2. The two unsuspecting honorees were lured to the lunchroom for a pretended teachers' meeting, only to discover decorated and laden tables, which the cooks had prepared behind closed doors since lunch hour for the students

Silver trays, with names of the honorees and the inscription, "For Many Years' Service to Harold School from the Faculty and Staff," were presented to the

Of their teaching careers, it was pointed out that Mrs. Daniels had spent 23 of her teaching years at Harold and her remaining teaching years had been on Little Mud, while Mrs. George had been at Harold Elementary her last 18 years, with other years having been at Betsy Layne, Forks of Toler, John's Creek, McCombs Academy (Coal Blairtown (Mullins) Tuscarrora Branch (Pike-Floyd Hollow).

Harold Parent-Teachers Association honored the same retiring teachers, Mesdames Daniel and George on June 8 at the Harold lunchroom.

Former students and P.-T.A. members attended, related years taught by each of the honorees and exchanged amusing stories of former years.

David Hinchman was "chief engineer" of activities, gently pushing, with his usual humor, the two honorees toward the "pasture gate," so they might not be too sad at being turned out to pick and amble in the big world of Retirement.

Corsages were presented to Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. George by former students, Linda (Reynolds) Bush and Glenda (Reynolds) Holt.

A large cake, decorated, with the names of the honorees, made by Mrs. Maudie Hill, was used as a centerpiece for the table until refreshment time, when that and another cake made by Emma Grace Hartley were served along with fruit punch and coffee.

Many gifts and cards were presented to the honorees by those present and thanks were extended by the recipients. Other cards and gifts were sent by children the next and last day of school and were deeply appreciated and admired.

Though the honorees admitted during their acceptance speeches that many mistakes had been made during their teaching, for which they ask forgiveness, that their teaching experiences had been rewarding and they hoped they had helped many children.

Insurance Trouble Latest for Paper

The Martin Countian, one of Martin county's two weekly newspapers, continues to have its troubles. The latest is what amounts to cancellation of its fire insurance policy. The newspaper's version of the matter appeared in its

"This paper received a letter from it's insurance carrier, Kentucky Farm Bureau Mutual Company, on June 4, signed by R. Nash Neblett, Commercial Property Manager, saying that 'we will be unable to renew this policy, and any and all liability will be denied on or after June 25, 1976.

"This paper attempted to contact Neblett by phone Monday in his Louisville office, but was unable to reach him. However, this paper was referred to Mr. R. G. Fort for an explanation as to why the policy was cancelled.

"Mr. Fort at first said, 'We didn't solicit your business and we don't have to tell you why it's being cancelled.

"The Martin Countian's attorney, who was present during the phone conversation, then told Fort that the paper would attempt to seek discovery of the company's reasoning and actions in court "Finally Fort said, 'We received several calls (from people), telling us that The Martin Countian might be burned down because it had been so difficult.

"Fort would not reveal the identity of the persons who made the calls.

"The Martin Countian has filed a complaint with the Kentucky Insurance Commission, and intends to pursue the matter, Homer Marcum, editor said.

"We intend to find out who provided the insurance company with such information, and why the company took it upon itself to honor the calls without consulting, or informing the paper, of the caller's identity,' Marcum said.

Removal of Roadside Signs Of Churches, Clubs Halted

Frankfort, Ky.-Maintenance workers of the Bureau of Highways have been directed to stop removing certain church and civic club signs from public roadsides in Kentucky, Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts said today in Signs covered by the secretary's order are located "off" the right-of-way of interstate highways and primary highways eligible for federal aid.

The order does not affect church and civic club signs placed on the right-ofway of these roads, Roberts said. Those are considered "encroachments" and must be relocated. The current campaign to remove them will continue.

Secretary Roberts said that legal questions have been raised in the Department of Transportation about the intent of the General Assembly in controlling this type of outdoor advertising outside of right-of-way limits.

"Consequently," he said, "I have directed our legal and operations staffs to review this situation carefully before removing any more 'off' right-of-way

Roberts stated, "Although we have received complaints from only a few of the churches whose signs were to be taken down, I do not wish to restrict this type of signing to any greater extent than state and federal statutes require."

Since 1961 Kentucky has been in compliance with federal law controlling outdoor advertising within 660 feet of the right-of-way limits of interstate highways. Through compliance, the Commonwealth has earned bonuses which total $1.6 million and are expected to reach $2.2 million eventually.

"It should be understood that my order to withhold action on certain church and civic club signs does not affect any other part of our enforcement program. I support the purpose of the outdoor advertising control program and intend to continue enforcement of the law and this Department's regulations," Roberts
