Five Additives Blacklisted As Cancer-Inducing Hazards

Frankfort, Ky.—The Division for Consumer Health Protection in the Department for Human Resources is looking for products containing any of five additives which have been banned by the federal Food and Drug Administration. The additives (minute quantities of substances added to products for color, preservation, or other effect) are carbon black, chloroform, Red Dye No. 2, Red Dye No. 4 and safrole-free extract of saffras.

adulterated. Any firm which uses the banned substance is subject to regulatory action. However, because the substances have been widely used for a period of time, no general recall of products manufactured prior to the bans will be carried out. The uses for the banned substances and effective dates of the bans are: —Carbon black, used in candies, as color-coding on drugs and in cosmetics such as mascara and eye shadow; banned as of September 23, 1976. —Chloroform, used in drugs, cosmetics and tooth paste, banned as of July 29, 1976. —Red Dye No. 2, used in candies, canned fruits, meat products, pastries and other items, banned as of February 13, 1976. —Red Dye No. 4, used in maraschino cherries, candies and drugs; banned as of September 23, 1976. —Saffras and other products containing safrole, used as a flavoring agent, banned as of June 10, 1976. Townsend says that his branch has been advised that a number of other color additives are expected to be banned by the end of the year. The Division for Consumer Health Protection is responsible for enforcing federal rulings such as those banning food and drug additives. Persons who find products which were manufactured after the above dates should contact the Food Branch of the Division for Consumer Health Protection, Bureau for Health Services, Department for Human Resources, Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601. The phone number is 502-564-3127.

Workmen Comp. Poses Problems

Frankfort, Ky.—A 17-member commission appointed by Gov. Julian Carroll to look into Kentucky's workmen's compensation program has agreed that ideas for short-term solutions to the crisis should be sought from labor and insurance experts alike before recommendations are made to the Governor.

During its initial September 21 meeting here, the group expressed doubt that far-reaching proposals could be readied in time for consideration by a special legislative session to be called later this year by Gov. Carroll. (The Governor did not set a reporting deadline for the commission.)

Companies writing workmen's compensation insurance were granted rate increases averaging 32 per cent last July 1 by the state Department of Insurance. The rate hike came on the heels of two recent Kentucky Supreme Court rulings expanding benefits workers may receive.

In a June 11 ruling on the "Apache case", the court determined that the minimum weekly benefits for the permanently disabled applied equally to the temporarily or partially disabled. The decision is not yet conclusive, as a petition for rehearing has been filed with the court.

An earlier ruling on the "Pennington case" held that certain permanent partial disability benefits should be based on the injured worker's average wage rather than on the statewide average.

The decisions have caused labor spokesmen to applaud the additional benefits while insurance companies have canceled several workmen's compensation policies in Kentucky. The Governor's commission agreed that any proposal regarding workmen's compensation must be agreeable to both parties.

According to Kentucky Department of Insurance Commissioner Harold McGuffey, the state's Assigned Risk Plan has acquired an additional 140 participants in the past several months. The plan guarantees the availability of insurance but carries an eight per cent surcharge. (All Kentucky employers are required to carry workmen's compensation insurance.)

Leonard (Scottie) Smith, executive secretary of the state AFL-CIO and a member of the commission, agreed that employers are justified in their concern over the increased rates but added that the employe and decent benefits must not be overlooked.

Smith said most states base benefits on two-thirds of the average weekly wage, but Kentucky uses 55 per cent. Smith added, too, that most states pay benefits after a three-day absence from work, while Kentucky uses a one-week minimum.

State Sen. Kelsey Friend, D-Pikeville, a co-chairman of the commission, presented two methods which he said could reduce rates. He first suggested that the state set up an inspection system to guarantee that all employers carry adequate workmen's compensation insurance.

The senator noted that as an attorney he had encountered many cases in which the employer was uninsured. Those cases then draw on the state Department of Labor's special fund, made up of assessments on workmen's compensation insurance companies.

While noting that he did not necessarily favor a tax, Sen. Friend said a one cent levy on each pack of cigarettes sold in Kentucky could add $16 million to the fund.

Generally favorable reaction was given by the group to self-insurance programs that would cover day-to-day claims with an additional plan to take care of catastrophes.

The commission meeting at 1 p.m. yesterday began hearing expert witnesses on workmen's compensation. An interim legislative Labor and Industry committee also took up the workmen's compensation issue at a recent hearing.

NOTICE

DEAR CONSUMERS IN THE ALLEN WATER DISTRICT:

As you are aware, past and present operational problems have made it difficult or impossible to deliver reliable and consistent water service to each of our customers. In an effort to correct our present problems and eventually be in a position to make improvements to the system necessary for future water needs, certain actions are now of an absolute necessity.

Therefore, effective November 1, 1976, all consumers will be subject to the following regulations:

1. All billings will be based upon actual meter readings, with the owner of any meter being financially responsible for any water passing through his or her meter.
2. All residential or commercial structures must have a working water meter. Those structures are defined as "every separate residential structure used primarily for human occupation of separate households, or, every separate structure used primarily for commercial use for separate commercial purposes."
3. Those meters will be installed by the Allen Water District, with a hook-up fee of $35 in addition to the actual meter cost.
4. All hook-up fees and meter costs must be deposited with the Allen Water district on or before Dec. 15, 1976. Deposits will be required for any new hook-ups thereafter. Further, after Dec. 15, 1976, anyone without a meter or deposit and pending application for a meter will be cut off from the Allen Water District service system.
5. All billing for water services will be placed in the mail by the 1st of each calendar month, with payments due thereupon by the 15th day of that calendar month. Any payments not received after the 15th will be subject to a 5 percent penalty and after the 30th subject to a 10 percent penalty and cut off from the system. Further, any consumer cut off under this basis will be required to deposit $50 with the system for future service.

This strong and hard line is found necessary by the Commission due to the contractual obligations with the City of Prestonsburg, which require us to make payments to them by the 15th of each calendar month.

We members of the Commission recognize these regulations represent an abrupt change from the policy of the past, but are made because those policies of the past have forced the system into near bankruptcy and often times total ineffectiveness. The rendering of good water service is possible only on a business basis and will be approached by this commission at all times with that in mind.

An open meeting on Oct. 21, 1976, at 7:00 p.m. will be held, at the City Hall of Allen, Ky., for a complete discussion of the foregoing.

'Ugly Duckling' of the Insect Kingdom

The "ugly duckling" of the insect kingdom is folk the "doodlebug" by most country folk. It is known as the "antlion" by naturalists, as it devours ants and other insects that fall into the cone-shaped pits it makes under high, dry cliffs.

Once I conducted a group of teenagers to a dry cliff, to study the doodlebug and its interesting ways. This drab, hairy creature, with its formidable pincers, is especially designed by nature to keep a check on the exploding ant population. Ants are the most numerous insects of earth; the antlions are also numerous and devour them greedily.

On first seeing a doodlebug, the teenagers called it a little "woolly booger." The drab creature has a flat, grayish body covered with stiff hairs. It crawls backward in the manner of a crowdad, and lives in the dry pits it scoops out in the dusty sand under overhanging cliffs. The doodlebug is one of the most interesting creatures for the children to study.

In the days when people had more leisure time and were not running about like mad, the parents, and teachers, too, often took the youngsters out to show them some of the most interesting sights of nature; so they gained intimate knowledge of such interesting creatures as antlions.

The group I once took out to the dry cliff soon found scores of the cone-shaped pits in the dusty sand. In the bottom of each, hiding in the sand to lie in wait for some hapless ant to tumble in, there was a doodlebug. The teenagers wanted to know some of the old "charms" for calling a doodlebug out of its pit. I gave them two and they were soon holding their mouths down over the pit, chanting:

"Doodlebug, doodlebug, as still as a mouse,
The ants are swarming all over your house!"

When this one didn't seem to work, they tried another:
"Doodlebug, doodlebug, down in your hole,

Come up now and get your firecoal."
Soon one of the boys jumped up and yelled, "I've got one!"

He held it out in the palm of his hand for all to see. What fun they had watching the antics of the little antlion! It crawled backwards across the boy's palm. "It's sure an ugly critter," one said.

"But the 'ugly duckling' often changes and becomes the finest one of the flock."
"What will this doodlebug make?"

"In the fall, it will spin itself a cocoon out of grains of sand glued together and sleep tight until spring. Then it will cut its way out of the cocoon and will have gauzy wings and a slender, streamlined body, called the "antlion damsel fly," as it looks much like a real damselfly. This beautiful creature will fly over the earth, laying millions of eggs under dry cliffs."
Around the pits, we saw the hulls

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY • COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

As summer slips into autumn, a mystic dreamlike atmosphere once again begins to settle down on the land.

The approach of autumn in most years is heralded by an all but incredible display of arboreal color.

This process is still something of a mystery, but the color of the leaves is the result of the hardening of the cells at the base of each leaf.

Allege Malpractice Damages of $149,000

A malpractice suit filed by Terry and Patti Bellamy as parents and by Patti Bellamy as mother and next friend of their 11-months-old son, Scott Ashley, against Dr. James Adams and Dr. William B. Cook in circuit court here last week seeks to recover a total of $149,000. They allege careless and negligent performance of a caesarian operation in the birth on Oct. 6 last year of the child, and claim that the baby was born with lungs which were not fully developed. Plaintiffs ask $100,000 damages for the child, $20,000 for the mother, $9,600 for past medical expenses and $20,000 for future medical expense.

(Reports of damage suits present only one side of the case, the plaintiff's.)

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. E. A. Stumbo observed her birthday last Sunday. When she attended services at the First Methodist Church, on Sunday morning, she was surprised to have a dozen red roses, presented to her by friends and her family. Following services, she was entertained to dinner and presented gifts by members of her family, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer Frazier and Mrs. Elizabeth Sutherland, and throughout the day many friends and neighbors called.

Betsy Layne F.H.A. Holds First Meeting

The Betsy Layne Chapter of F.H.A. held their first meeting September 8. At the meeting the new officers were introduced. They are: President, Sharon Sturgill; first vice, Susan Ross; second vice, Terri Trimble; secretary, Alisa McKinny; treasurer, Paula Frasure; recreation leader, Sherry Layne; regional recreation leader, Sherry Watkins; song leader, Sylvia Martin; parliamentarian, Anita Hamilton; reporter, Mary Lou Parsons; historian, Teen Sturgill.

Among several topics discussed were a legs contest and a fashion show. The first event that the F.H.A. club put into motion was the Most Beautiful Legs Contest. It was held in the cafeteria for two days. The male teachers allowed the F.H.A. to take pictures of their legs and display them, so that the students could vote on the teacher with the prettiest legs. Voting cost a dime for one vote or three for a quarter. A total of $19.00 was raised. The money was donated to the Jerry Lewis telethon for Muscular Dystrophy. The winner of the contest was Mr. Frazier.

VISITOR IN LEXINGTON

Mrs. Grace Burke was in Lexington for a few days last week to visit her son, Dr. W. L. Burke, and family.

Capt. Sims Assumes Duties As Post 9 Head

Replacing Captain Billy Lykins as officer in charge of Kentucky State Police Post 9 at Pikeville is Captain Walter R. Sims, who assumed his new duties, October 1.

Capt. Sims comes to Post 9 from Elizabethtown, Ky. where he has served since 1972 as commander over investigative personnel at the Elizabethtown and LaGrange State Police Posts.

Capt. Sims, 48, is a native of Boyle county, Kentucky where he attended Parksville High School. A U. S. Army veteran, he attended Eastern Kentucky University and first worked with the state police as a trooper with the Elizabethtown post in 1956. He attended the FBI National Academy in 1971.

Capt. Sims has also served within the Investigative Command of the state police with the Richmond post and brings to Post 9 a long and varied experience in police work and administrative duties.

Post 9 includes Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties.

Opinion Says Cars Bearing Deputies Need Blue Lights

Frankfort, Ky.—“Lawful deputies” should have blue lights in their cars, regardless of who owns the car, according to an opinion from the state Attorney General’s office.

The opinion, issued by Charles W. Runyan, assistant deputy attorney general, was in answer to a letter from Capt. William J. Wright, of the Fort Thomas police department. Capt. Wright had asked whether deputies could display blue lights on private cars.

Runyan noted that lawful deputies included all those filling regular deputy positions as authorized by orders of the fiscal court. “Thus full-time, paid deputies can drive their own vehicles, if authorized by the sheriff, in performing their official duties of law enforcement; and such vehicles should have blue lights.”

It does not matter “whether the vehicle is owned by the county, the sheriff, a deputy or some other person or corporation” he noted, as long as it either is used by a lawful deputy in the performance of his official duties or an emergency vehicle.

Hazel Green Academy Gas Service Assured

Frankfort, Ky.—The Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) has ordered the Capital Oil and Gas Co., Richmond, to continue supplying Hazel Green Academy in Wolfe county with natural gas at rates agreed upon by contract in 1964.

Hazel Green filed a request with the commission last May asking that Capital Oil be prevented from discontinuing service to the academy and also from raising its rates. A 1964 contract between Holly Creek Gas Transmission Co. and the academy setting out service rates was also filed with the PSC.

Capital Oil purchased the Holly Creek Company in 1971 but denied any obligation to provide service to Hazel Green.

A public hearing was held in the commission’s Frankfort office August 2 to clarify the case. The PSC discovered that the commission had not been consulted for either the purchase of Holly Creek or the rate adjustment. Both actions require commission approval.

Also, a later field investigation was made by the PSC staff member, who reported that the academy was supplied by a transmission line. There had been some question as to whether a gathering line or transmission line serviced the school.

Besides directing Capital Oil to continue honoring the 12-year-old contract, the September 20 commission order further directed the utility to file an application with the PSC by Oct. 1 for a certificate of convenience and necessity authorizing its continued operation.

THE LEVEL OF THE U.S. national debt is increasing at breakneck speed. Figures reported in the October Reader’s Digest show that it took 173 years for federal spending to hit $100 billion a year; nine years for the level to increase from $100 billion to $200 billion; four years for it to reach $300 billion. In 1976—only two years later—government spending will pass the $400-billion mark.

THE DANGEROUS ROAD WEIGH THE ISSUES

Consider What’s Best For America

Mr. Carter is for:

- Abortion, the murder of the unborn.
- Gun control, taking our guns, leaving our homes defenseless.
- Forced unionism on everybody—Hence, lost freedom.
- Increased bureaucracy, created for the one-party control, or Monopoly—hence, onward to Socialism, Communism.
- For energy sources competitive to coal—hence, Kentucky suffers.
- Easy on drugs, his connection with Rolling Stone magazine.
- Anti-moral standards, playing around with Playboy.
- Anti-free enterprise; he’s not for small business.
- Forced busing, a colossal waste and consternation.
- Pardoning the draft-dodgers, even though thousands of others fought and died for America, (Is one mother’s son more valuable than another’s? —No, No, Never!)
- Spending us dry on wild domestic outlays.
- Tax increase for more money to waste. Who pays? The hard-working class and the small business of this country.
- Laxity on interest in defense.
- Dangerously cutting defense.
- Inflationary and inflammatory ideas.
- His flagrant, dangerous, explosive foreign policy statement in regard to Arabia on oil; very undiplomatic.
- Wavery on his ideas, vague on the solutions.

ABSOLUTE AUCTION

October 16, 1976
Saturday, 1:00 p.m.

70.07 acre farm located 1 mile South of Hwy. 15 and ¼ mile West of the Virden Ridge Road.

This farm lays good and is gently rolling with shallow hollows and is a beautiful farm for development. It has not been used or in cultivation for the last 20 to 25 years. There is an old log house and log outbuildings of very little value. Some of the brush and undergrowth has been cleared recently so the prospective buyer can see the terrain and soil conditions. A large majority of this farm can be cleared and put into pasture and cultivation, that could be mowed by a tractor. There are some of the most beautiful home sites on this farm that you will find in this area. There is approximately 2700 feet of road frontage on the old county road which serves this property along with an old road that serves the back boundary of this property. This is one of the finest farms for investment as a tax shelter ever to be offered in this area. There is a water service on the Virden Ridge Road from the Powell Valley Water District line and an easement across the adjoining property will be granted, should the purchaser desire this type of water service. There is a small tobacco base. The mineral rights are intact and this farm will be sold as a whole and in fee simple. If you've been desiring to own a good, rolling hill woodland farm with many possibilities close to a good highway system, and the Mountain Parkway and being only a 40 minute drive from the greater Lexington area, do not hesitate to look this property over and be at this auction.

Title is up-to-date and title in fee simple is guaranteed. To get to the auction take the Mt. Parkway to the Irvine - Clay City Exit, exit take Hwy. 15 West, 1 mile, turn left 1 mile on Virden Ridge Rd., turn right ¼ mile. Auction arrows will be posted. Inspect this property prior to Auction time, by calling the co-owner and selling agent.

This is an absolute auction and will sell without reservation to the highest qualified bidder.

Officers Book Johnson Youths On Weed Count

Deputy Sheriff Doug Lewis and State Trooper Shelton confiscated about two pounds of marijuana Thursday night after arresting two Johnson county youths at a local drive-in restaurant.

The officers charged Gary Thomas Underwood, of Van Lear, and Clyde Raymond Tackett, of Paintsville with trafficking in marijuana after reportedly observing the activity of the two for some time prior to their arrest.

In a raid on Buck's Branch, near Martin, Friday, Deputy Sheriff Randall Lewis and ABC Agent Ted Salisbury arrested Mike Ousley on a charge of possession and sale of alcoholic beverages. Ousley was allegedly selling from a small restaurant. The officers confiscated 15 cases of beer.

Tanzil Martin, of Drift, was arrested Sunday at Lackey by State Police Detective Gary Rose and State Troopers Weedman and Stephens on a charge of transporting alcoholic beverages. The officers seized 42 cases of beer and two cases of whiskey from the truck Martin was driving. The vehicle was also impounded.

Others booked at the county jail over the past week, charges against each, and arresting officers follow:

Timmy Adkins, burglary, drunk driving, by State Police Sgt. Hutchinson and Trooper Williamson; Adam Noble, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriffs J. D. and Melvin Martin; Ernest Cooper, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriffs J. D. and Melvin Martin; Carlos Little, drunk driving and no operator's license, by State Trooper Hall and Wheelwright City Marshals Harold and Mildred Bates; Vernon Hall, resisting arrest, escape in third degree, by State Trooper T. Hall; Jerry L. McGarey, drunk driving, by State Trooper T. Hall; Green Lemester, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriffs Bradley and Spurlock; Gary Meyers, drunk driving, by State Trooper T. Hall; Harry Johnson, drunk driving, by State Trooper T. Hall; Timothy Williams and Mitchell Bentley, theft by unlawful taking, by Constable Bob Hackworth; Debbie Byers, theft by unlawful taking, by Prestonsburg Policeman Dick Campbell.

State Police Head Visits Pike Post

State Police Commissioner Truett Ricks, who visited Post 9 at Pikeville as one of the first stops on a current tour, said he intends to "keep lines of communication open for all personnel in the bureau," and will start a concerted effort this month.

During October, Ricks will visit each of Kentucky's 16 State Police posts and talk with troopers and local persons concerned with police business.

The entire command staff from headquarters will accompany Ricks on the tour. He said with the entire staff along, they can go about "getting a real feel for problems men in the field have."

In addition to inter-bureau communication, Ricks said he wants to reinforce the idea of public awareness and education as part of the trooper's job. He said, "the lines of communication with the public being open" is essential to efficient police operations.

The commissioner's tour will begin Monday, Oct. 11, and go through Oct. 28.

Girl in the Green Gingham Dress

By GEORGE L. MOORE

For many years after the turn of the century, most of the clothing worn by boys and girls in Eastern Kentucky was made in the home. The mother was usually the dress and skirt maker in the family. Most of the homes had some type of sewing machine. This machine was powered by tramping a foot pedal. The sewing machine was used for all types of sewing except in the making of quilts. Pieces of cloth for making the quilt were sewed together by hand, using thimble, thread and needle.

All of the country stores were well stocked with yardgoods in those days. Such goods came in bolts several yards in length. It was interesting to watch a country merchant measure cloth with a yardstick. First, he would place the bolt of cloth on the counter. Then he would take the yardstick and grasp it firmly in his right hand. As he pulled the edge of the cloth through his left hand, he would apply the measuring stick at 36-inch intervals. He did this at a surprisingly rapid rate. However, if the customer called for a fraction of a yard, that slowed the measuring process considerably.

The mother knew exactly how many yards of cloth were required to make a dress for each of the girls in the family. She also knew the amount needed for making shirts and overalls for the boys. She usually purchased a little more material than was necessary for making the garment, so that some scraps would be left over for piecing quilts.

There were two kinds of cloth used in making dresses—calico and gingham. The gingham was considered a better cloth than calico and costs a little more per yard. The more affluent made wider use of gingham while the less prosperous had to settle for calico. At the opening day of school in the big, log schoolhouse on the head of Clay Fork, calico dresses were in the great majority and, like Joseph's coat, they were of many colors. It made little difference how poor the family was, the mother saw to it that her oldest daughter had a new gingham dress for the opening day of school.

My mother had made a new gingham dress for my oldest sister. It was a beautiful shade of green. She was cautioned not to get it soiled or torn on the first day of school.

On the opening day at Clay Fork, my oldest sister and two companions found a secluded spot above the school to spend a part of the noon hour. A big poplar tree had uprooted and fallen across the stream. When Clay Fork was at flood stage, it had scooped out a pool just below the big log. The three girls were sitting on the logs, dipping their bare feet in the cool brook below, discussing the events that had taken place during the summer. Suddenly my sister gave a loud scream and began to jump up and down—but let my informant tell the story:

"She started jumping and screaming while Grace and I went crazy, laughing. We did not do a thing as we could not get hold of her. We didn't know what possessed her. When she got through tearing and pulling at her green gingham dress and had removed the rest of her clothing, there was a big lizard on her back. When this was revealed, we all began to scream. We told Ethel that we did not know what she was dancing about."

I would like to add that the green gingham dress was soiled and torn in many places. My informant for the lizard part of this story is Mrs. Nola Johnson, 2348 Beechmont Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio. She was one of the participants.

The Man Who Built Wheelwright

By DWIGHT BRATCHER
(In The Kentucky Coal Journal)

There is a certain romance that surrounds the businessman, the high roller, the manipulator, and the rags-to-riches types. Even the enemies of the free-enterprise system love to read about the heroes of capitalism; everyone enjoys a good drama.

These men are easily recognized in films, books, and articles as hardy workers, scrappy fighters, or tenacious plodders, all working feverishly at empire building. The coal business has had its share of these interesting characters; but business in general, and the coal business in specific is not usually carried on by such complicated visionaries.

Business as usual is carried on by another type. This is the man who can take a dream and mold it into a finer product, a man who can enjoy his friends, family, and fellow workers as well as his business, a man who understands the past and appreciates his heritage, one who keeps on top of current trends, and who, more importantly, can relate those trends to the future. This is the businessman who is admired by those who work for him, is appreciated by his community, and is steadily increasing productivity and profit. Such a man was E. R. Price.

Edwin Reynolds Price was born January 10, 1889, in Meyersdale, Pennsylvania. His father, Kennedy Price, was a lumberman in coal-rich Somerset County, and died when Edwin was four years old. The mother and her four children moved to Barbourville, Kentucky, where Edwin's grandfather, L. J. Hobitzell, one of the early mineral explorers and geologists of the East Kentucky coal field, took them in. Young Edwin was called Jack by the family and eventually by all others who knew him well.

Hobitzell's headquarters were located in the old offices of one of Kentucky's most famous characters, Caleb Powers, the Kentucky Secretary of State accused in the assassination of Governor William Goebel, January 30, 1900. One of Jack Price's earliest memories was meeting Caleb Powers in his grandfather's office.

In 1905 Price graduated from high school and was expected to go to college. But he surprised the family when he decided to go to work as a laborer in a brickyard. From the brickyard he went into the mines. His pay was $1.75 for a ten hour shift. (as manager of the Wheelwright mines in the 1950's Price paid $14.75 for a shift for eight hours.) During his youth Price was six-foot-two with 190 pounds of solid muscle.

From laborer, Price moved up to engineering and in 1913 was offered a job as assistant to C. F. Ice, manager of Consolidation Mines at Van Lear in Johnson County. Price was made manager in 1917, succeeding Garner Fletcher. For a short time he was called to the main mines in Somerset, Pa. to help with a strike emergency. Price could have stayed in Somerset, which was fully settled, and had all the modern conveniences, a nice social life, and most of the luxuries of the day. But when he was offered the choice, he immediately planned his return to the hills. Things were going to happen in the coal fields of Kentucky and he wanted to be a part of the action.

Price moved back to Van Lear and for the next fifteen years was manager of the Millers Creek Division of Consolidation. He is remembered in Johnson County as the most cooperative operator to ever have associated with the citizens. He helped the county officials purchase right-of-way for what is now U. S. 23, and his plant at Van Lear generated electric current for Paintsville and Prestonsburg. He built his miners the first bathroom in Kentucky, got their children in school, cleaned up Van Lear, and wrangled better roads.

Jack Price cherished the friendship of the mountain people, and he loved and appreciated the local customs. One of his favorite pastimes was riding on muleback over the mountains with Jim Salisbury of Prestonsburg and John M. Duncan of Van Lear, two legendary old-timers in the coal fields of Eastern Kentucky. On Left Beaver at the mouth of Jack's Creek, Price would spend the night with Red Will Hall, who liked to season his white corn liquor with black pepper.

Circumstances took Price to Jenkins, where he helped engineer the building and improvement of miners' dwellings, schools, tipples, and parks. In 1928 Price again moved. This time his name would be associated with what was to become the most talked about coal town in America. He accepted a management position with Elkhorn Coal Company in Wheelwright. For the next twenty-five years Wheelwright was known as "The town that Jack build."

Shortly after Price became manager of the Wheelwright mine, Elkhorn was purchased by Inland Steel Company and they kept Price on as manager. In 1930 Price met Harvard-educated Clarence B. Randall, Inland's vice-president in charge of raw materials. The two became quick friends and saw eye-to-eye on the necessity of considerate treatment of labor.

Price, with Van Lear and Jenkins to draw on, wanted to build a model coal town, second to none in the country. He convinced Randall that it could be done, and for the next twenty years Randall approved virtually every proposal Price made. Price began by building the first steel tippie in Kentucky. He next put indoor plumbing in the miners' homes, and added a new bathroom, plus an extra room.

He also underpinned the houses with masonry. In the next few years Price built a sewer disposal system, a city incinerator, natural gas lines, a pure water system and cleaned up the town. He built a school and increased the teaching staff from four to thirty, and Wheelwright had the only Negro high school in Floyd County.

In 1942 Price began remodeling and building the business section of Wheelwright. He changed what was a muddy, unattractive section of town, with frame buildings that sat on wooden posts and outdoor privies that drained into the creeks, into a handsome street with a brick hotel, library, bowling alley, theater, church, and modern shops.

Allen Trout in 1950 described Wheelwright as "one mining town where the miner is helped to stand forth in man's desirable estate of dignity and conscience. It is the shining star among coal camps in Kentucky, if not the nation."

Randall, who became president of Inland Steel, and came to Wheelwright as often as possible, kept an aerial photograph of the town in his office, the town the nation's press admired.

Jack Price retired in 1954 as president of Inland Steel at Wheelwright. A Kentucky town is named for him just a few miles from Wheelwright. Today Wheelwright is painfully recovering from the loss of the coal business that nearly emptied the town in the 1960's. There are some heroic people in Wheelwright who believe they can build a new town from nothing. They believe it because they knew men like Jack Price.

Cub Scout Pow Wow Scheduled Nov. 6

The annual Cub Scout Leaders' Pow Wow will be held at Jenkins High School, Jenkins, Kentucky on Saturday, November 6, 1976, starting at 10:00 a.m., it was announced today by Mrs. Barbara Polly of Big Stone Gap, Council Vice President-Cub Scouting. Mrs. Polly went on to say that preregistration for the Pow Wow can be made by sending a card or letter to the Scout Service Center, P. O. Box 110, Pikeville, Kentucky 41501. She said that registration cost is $1.00 through November 5, and at the door the registration fee will be $1.50. The Pow Wow is slated to commence at 10:00 a.m. and conclude at 3:00 p.m.

Mrs. Polly indicated that the Cub Scout Leaders' Pow Wow is a training event intended to give valuable pointers to all leaders in Cub Scouting throughout the 13 counties served by the Lonesome Pine Council. Those specifically invited include den leaders and their assistants, Cubmasters and their assistants, Webelos leaders and their assistants, and all pack committee members. The program will be comprised of "How-to-do-it" sessions centered around Cub Scout crafts, ceremonies, games, skits, puppets, songs, displays, activities, and pack administration. All adult leaders in Cub Scouting and those interested in finding out more about Cub Scouting will find the Pow Wow to be an informative and worthwhile event.

To Play in State Piano Competition

David Leslie, 17-year-old Prestonsburg High School senior, will compete in state piano competition at the University of Kentucky, November 2. Leslie, the 1976 regional winner of the annual Keyboard Competition sponsored by the National Music Teachers Association, is also the winner of last year's regional competition and has achieved superior ratings in all previous performances. In the November competition the young pianist will perform works by Bach, Chopin, Ravel, and Bartok in addition to Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 1. Leslie, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David B. Leslie, and a nephew of Mrs. Betty Castle, of Prestonsburg, is a student of the Patricia Flanery Klatka School of Music at Allen and plans to enter the University of Louisville School of Music next fall.

Bull Cr. To Get Grant To Help Lower Minimum

Curtis Hatfield, commissioner of the Bull Creek Water District, was told Tuesday by the office of Congressman Carl D. Perkins that the district will receive additional federal funds, perhaps $75,000, which will help keep minimum water bills within reach of the average consumer. It is expected the added funds will bring the minimum down to the $9 to $9.50 suggested by Kenco Engineers, Ashland. The water district has pending a $275,000 grant from the Farm Home Administration, and $70,000 from Big Sandy ADD. Total estimated cost of the project, which is designed to serve the entire Bull Creek watershed, is $575,000. The water district has 213 customers who have signed for water service.

Consumer Comments

By ROBERT F. STEPHENS
Attorney General

The Christmas catalogs have already been sent and you may be ordering some of your Christmas gifts through the mail. To insure that you receive these mail ordered gifts before Dec. 25, you should familiarize yourself with the Federal Trade Commission Mail Order Regulation. This regulation gives the buying public certain rights to assist them in resolving problems with mail order companies. It establishes the basic requirement that mail order companies ship ordered merchandise to the buyer within company-advertised time periods or, if no such time is advertised, within 30 days after receiving the buyer's order.

If these deadlines cannot be met by the company, the consumer must be notified within the advertised time period for shipment of the order or, when no time is advertised, within 30 days after the company receives the consumer's order. At this time the company must give the consumer an option to either consent to a delay in shipment or to cancel the order and receive a prompt refund of money.

The company is also required to supply a cost-free means, such as a postage-paid card, for the consumer to notify the company of his or her intentions. If a consumer wants to cancel or consent to a delay, this card must be returned. If the consumer fails to respond to the notice of delay in delivery, the company can assume that the buyer agrees to the 30-day delay in delivery. If there is to be a delay beyond that, the buyer must consent to it in writing.

If the consumer has paid by cash, check or money order, and cancels and requests a refund, the company has seven days to make a refund. If the consumer used a credit card to pay for the merchandise, the company is permitted one billing cycle to credit the consumer's account.

The most important aspect of this new trade regulation rule is the option to cancel. When you receive a notice that your merchandise will not be shipped by the originally designated time, make sure that you return the postpaid card if you want to cancel the transaction and get your money back.

This regulation covers all mail ordered items except: (1) subscriptions such as magazines ordered for serial delivery, after the initial shipment is properly made, (2) seeds and growing plants, (3) orders made on C.O.D. basis, or (4) goods ordered or sent under negative option plans.

In addition to the help provided to consumers by this FTC rule, the U. S. Postal Service will continue to provide assistance in resolving complaints about mail order purchases.

If you have a mail order complaint or any other consumer complaint, write to the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Protection, Frankfort, KY 40601. The office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write when you have a complaint. However, if you have an emergency situation, call the consumer hotline. The number is 1-800-372-2960.

South Central Bell To Have Open House

If you've been wondering what's inside the operation of a large telephone company such as South Central Bell, here's your chance to find out.

The telephone company is scheduling an open house for Floyd county residents on October 18, from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Guided tours of about 45 minutes will be conducted.

"We want the public to meet the people who provide their telephone service, and see them demonstrate the complex equipment involved," Phill Scott, manager of South Central Bell, said. "We hope that many Floyd county residents will accept our invitation and that they will find the occasion interesting and enjoyable."

Workshop To Stress Cable TV Potential

Frankfort, Ky.—Plans are firming up for a two-day Cable Television Workshop slated to begin Nov. 15 at the old Capitol in Frankfort.

Jon Dunn, Kentucky Arts Commission director of public media, said "It is planned that the conference will increase public awareness of the vast potential for the uses of cable." Cable originally was designed to bring television into those areas where reception is poor because of distance or because of other intervening features either topographical or man made.

The workshop is being funded by a Kentucky Humanities Grant. Humanities spokesmen complain that "Broadcast television has turned viewers into passive and apathetic 'observers' of life rather than participants," according to Dunn. Cable offers an alternative by re-humanizing our communities by creating opportunities for real input into many uses of video in our communities, Dunn said.

"The uses of cable were found to be virtually endless as a tool following the discovery that cable gathering of signals for delivery could be two-way," explained Dunn. This led to the development of alternative uses such as delivery of programs of high local interest, such as town meetings, school board meetings and zoning board discussions, he said. Programs by or about local government brought about greater community involvement and a deepening interest in community functions. Local art and cultural groups made tapes preserving local folklore, crafts and arts events. Call-in programs provide a one-to-one interaction between the public and public officials. The uses seem limited only by the imagination of the local community, remarked Dunn.

Information about the workshop sessions which are open to the public can be obtained by writing to Jon Dunn, KAC, 100 W. Main St., Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

East Point Meeting Set for Discussion Of Highway Needs

Gail Mullins, resident engineer, Kentucky State Highway Department, will meet with residents of Little Paint Creek and East Point at 7 p.m. October 14, at the Masonic Hall, East Point.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss and answer questions concerning improvements needed on Route 1428 (old US 23).

"Every person in the Little Paint and East Point communities should make every effort to attend this very important meeting," a spokesman for the East Point Development Club said.

At 6 p.m., a "soup-bean" and cornbread supper will be served.

The couple will reside in Prestonsburg.

Carroll Says New Court System Not To Reduce Cities' Revenues

Any Kentucky city that has relied heavily on traffic fines to finance its operations is going to have to find a more traditional method to get revenue, Gov. Julian Carroll told a luncheon meeting of the Kentucky Municipal League in Lexington last week.

But, he said, implementation of the Judicial Article on court reform adopted last year will not result in any "loss or decrease in the net revenue" of a city. Neither, he said, will the state reap a profit from the implementation of the article, which replaces local county quarterly, magisterial and police courts with state district courts.

"I am personally confident that we can operate our court of justice with revenues generated within the system and still maintain for our cities the level of 'income,' if you will, that most of you have realized in the past after deducting your costs and expenses," the Governor said.

While the state has good data on circuit courts and county courts, it had no information about revenues and expenses of city and police courts, Gov. Carroll said.

"In order to arrive at a formula or process for an equitable return to the cities and towns of court-generated income, we had to find out what your gross revenues and your operational expenses were from your courts," the Governor said.

Toward this end, he explained, "the nationally recognized accounting firm of Touche, Ross & Co. has been retained to prepare a report of the gross revenues generated by the police courts in all cities of the first through the fourth classes during the past three years." He added that "due to the magnitude of the project and the shortness of the time available," the accounting firm has been authorized to subcontract portions of the work to other accounting firms around the state.

He urged local officials to cooperate so the report can be finished by early November.

He cited the "substantial expense that you are now incurring," such as maintenance of court buildings, utilities, and salaries, and noted that under the judicial article, cities will have no responsibility for these costs.

Gov. Carroll explained that when the state takes over operation of the courts, it will have to find space for the new courts. The state, he said, will have to contract with local governments for space or will share revenues to pay for space.

In addition he said, the state will have responsibility for the operation of jails. "All prisoners will be state prisoners," he said, and cities and counties will have no responsibilities for the housing of prisoners. In this instance also, the state might contract with local governments.

Pointing out that other states who have initiated court reform have taken from five to eight years to complete it, Gov. Carroll said that by implementing the law within two years, as Kentucky is trying to do, "we will have some difficulties not faced by our sister state."

However, he said, "There is no practical alternative," to implementing the articles. Gov. Carroll noted that if the law is not implemented by the state federal courts could do so. The General Assembly should have the opportunity to make the decision on the final article," he said.

Roll up your sleeve America

FLU has a special place in the history of epidemic diseases. Plague, smallpox, yellow fever, typhus, and the classic scourges have now generally been controlled. Flu, however has not.

This is so because the virus which causes the disease changes its makeup so often that man cannot build up specific immunity to it. Once every ten years or so, there occurs what scientists call a major antigenic shift. When this happens, the flu virus has changed so much that almost nobody has any immunity to it. The population is wide open, unprotected against infection. This happened in 1957 with what was called the Asian flu, and again in 1968 with Hong Kong flu. In both years, millions of Americans were sick within a period of a few months.

Scientists have now identified a swine flu virus which represents a major antigenic shift from viruses currently circulating in the human population. The new strain was first identified in early 1976, following an outbreak of flu at Fort Dix, N.J. Several hundred recruits were infected and one died.

Scientists do not know for certain if this virus will spread to the general population during the next flu season. If it does, it could cause a worldwide epidemic with extensive illness and death.

There is no known cure for flu, although antibiotics are important for treating some of the complications of the disease. Vaccination before exposure to the disease is the only way an individual can protect himself.

This year, the Nation is carrying out an unprecedented effort by the public and private sectors to make vaccine available to all U.S. citizens. A vaccine to provide protection against swine flu will be available for persons 18 years of age and older who wish to take advantage of it. The vaccine is also expected to be made available to children following vaccine field trials which are currently underway.

Here are answers to the most commonly asked questions about influenza:

Q. How effective is the new swine influenza vaccine?

A. Recently completed field trials showed that approximately 90% of persons over age 24 responded well to even the lowest dose of vaccine tested. While persons 18 through 24 had less favorable response, the trials showed that around 85 percent of persons in this age group can expect to develop some immunity following a single dose of vaccine. Additional trials, now underway, are expected to determine a satisfactory dosage level for children and the advisability of a second dose of vaccine for persons under age 25.

Q. Will the flu vaccine make me ill?

A. Most people will have no side effects from the vaccine. About 3 percent may experience some minor discomfort for a short period, such as low grade fever. No serious side effects developed among the more than 5,000 persons who participated in field trials for the swine flu vaccine. Extensive use of flu vaccines during the past 20 years has shown that it has rarely, if ever, been associated with severe reactions. Moreover, flu vaccines of recent years have been less likely to cause even mild side effects than earlier vaccines.

Q. Can I get flu from the vaccine?

A. The flu vaccine contains a virus that has been killed. No one will get flu from taking the vaccine. Because the virus used in making the vaccine is grown in eggs, people who are highly allergic to eggs should not take it.

Q. What can I do for protection if I am allergic to eggs?

A. Persons known to be hypersensitive to egg protein should be given a skin test or other allergy-evaluating test using the swine flu vaccine as the antigen. Many of those who are allergic may be safely vaccinated under the care of a physician experienced in dealing with allergies. Even if an individual cannot take the flu vaccine, he will get some benefit from the mass vaccination program. This is so because the unvaccinated will be living in a more protected population and therefore will be less likely to be exposed to the disease.

Q. Are there any special recommendations on swine flu vaccination for pregnant women?

A. The Public Health Service Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices states that women who are pregnant should be considered as having essentially the same balance of benefits and risks regarding flu vaccination and flu as the general population. The Committee noted that while physicians generally avoid prescribing unnecessary drugs and biologics for pregnant women, it knows of no specific reasons why the swine flu vaccine, which is a killed virus vaccine, should not be given to pregnant women.

Q. What relationship does this swine virus have to the 1918 flu pandemic?

A. Flu viruses were first isolated from man in the early 1930's. Therefore we cannot be sure about the viruses causing earlier epidemics. But testing of blood of individuals who were living in 1918 shows almost all have antibodies to swine-like virus. This suggests that a virus of this sort may have caused the 1918 pandemic.

Q. How was the 1918 flu pandemic different from others?

A. It was unique because of its high mortality, and the fact that so many of the deaths occurred among apparently healthy young men and women. It is estimated that the 1918-19 pandemic resulted in a worldwide death toll of more than 20 million, 500,000 of them in this country. By comparison the Asian flu of 1957-58 — the most severe since — caused an estimated 70,000 deaths in the U.S., primarily among the elderly or individuals with chronic illness. There is, however, no evidence that the new swine virus is as virulent as the 1918 virus.

Q. Can I get swine flu from eating pork?

A. No. Flu is spread from person-to-person. When a person has flu, or is just coming down with it, the fluids in his nose and mouth contain viruses. They are expelled into the air when he sneezes, coughs or talks. Then they get into the noses and mouths of other people and cause disease.

Q. Is there more than one kind of vaccine?

A. Yes. Certain people, such as those with chronic medical problems and the elderly, need annual protection against flu. Therefore, besides protection against swine flu, they also need protection against another type of flu (Victoria flu) that was around last winter and could occur again this winter. A separate vaccine has been prepared to give them protection against both types of flu.

Kentucky Afield

By JOHN WILSON

Those gun racks which fit over the back window of pickup trucks are handy gadgets, but there are potential problems associated with their use, particularly if rifles or shotguns are kept in them all the time.

For one thing, the guns are too conspicuous, inviting anyone with a larcenous bent and a facility at opening locked doors to make off with your favorite firearms. Guns are highly prized booty among thieves because they are usually easy to sell for a good price. Leaving rifles, shotguns or other sporting equipment in an unattended vehicle, even a locked one, is an open invitation for a good ripping-off, especially if the firearms are in plain sight.

And living in the cab of a pickup is hard on the guns themselves. Dust and road dirt will stick to the oily surfaces of a gun, not only causing a gummy mess but also creating increased wear on moving parts if particles of grit get between the metal surfaces of the action.

Guns left in a rear-window rack are also subjected to extremes of temperature which can prove harmful over the long run. Remember how your car windows steam up in winter? Well, the same condensation (created by warm, moist air from the heater striking cold surfaces) forms on guns too, not only on their exterior but also in the barrels and actions. Moisture leads to rust, and rust, as every sportsman knows, is the firearm's number one enemy.

It's also possible that the summer sun could damage the finish of the stock or forearm. Have you ever seen old furniture with the finish cracked or crazed? That's caused by sunlight and excessive heat—conditions to which guns are subjected in a closed vehicle on a hot day.

Ashland Woman Shot In Johnson Robbery

An Ashland woman was hospitalized at Highlands Regional Medical Center here Sunday morning after being shot by an unidentified assailant who robbed the woman and her husband earlier that day near White House, Johnson county.

According to state police reports Mr. and Mrs. James Castle were en route to Ashland after visiting friends in the White House vicinity when a man flagged down their vehicle and demanded money. Mr. Castle turned over about $40 to the man who then unexplainably shot Mrs. Castle four times with a .22 calibre pistol.

She was listed in fair condition by a hospital spokesman.

Churches Consolidated Oct. 10 at McDowell

The McDowell Baptist Mission was consolidated into the First Baptist church of McDowell on Oct. 10. The following churches were represented at the services: First Baptist, at Martin, Lancer Baptist, of Prestonsburg, Lambert Baptist, of Wheelwright, and First Baptist, of Mousie.

The Rev. Lee Caudill of Lancer Baptist gave the charge to the church, the Rev. Ishmael Elliott of Lambert Baptist was moderator for the business session, and special music was presented by the Lambert Messengers. The Rev. Dean Robinson was called as pastor for the church.

Scouts To Hold Fall Camporee

The Wise-Scott Lake of the Jefferson National Forest will be the scene for the 1976 Boy Scout Fall Camporee to be held, October 15-17.

Attending will be Scouts and Scouters from five counties of southwest Virginia and eastern Kentucky including the Pine Mountain, Breaks, and Pike Districts of the Lonesome Pine Council. Scouts from the Jenny Wiley and Kentucky River Districts have also been invited to participate.

"Gold Rush Days 1976" will be the theme of this autumn's gathering, giving an atmosphere of a pioneer nature.

Each troop involved will have its patrols pull their sled with their equipment, much as the dog teams pulled sleds in the early days of the Yukon. The sleds will be pulled through a series of four skill stations where proficiency tests will be given in pioneering, signaling, nature and first-aid. "Nuggets" will be awarded to the patrol displaying the greatest proficiency in these skills.

APPLICATION APPROVED

The Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) approved an application by Everett Dotson to use a one and one-fourth inch plastic pipe in the construction of a service line from his residence on Middle Creek to a gathering line of Inland Gas Company. The Oct. 5 PSC order notes that plastic pipe may be used in lieu of the standard black steel pipe if buried at least 36 inches. The service line is to be inspected by a commission staff member before it is covered.

Cornett Is Arrested For Role In Letcher Co. Shooting Incident

WHITESBURG, Ky.—Jimmy Cornett, 26, of Line Fork, Ky., has been arrested by state police and charged with a number of felonies in connection with a shooting spree last week at the home of Letcher County Sheriff Reuben Watts.

Cornett was arrested Saturday after an exchange of gunfire with two state troopers, police said. He is being held in the Letcher County Jail.

Another suspect was arrested last Thursday and charged with first degree wanton endangerment in connection with the Oct. 3 incident at Watts' home.

or may be obtained from Howard K. Bell, Consulting Engineers, Inc., P. O. Box 546, Lexington, Kentucky 40501, upon receipt of deposit of $25.

The deposits of General Contractors making legal bids to the Owner will be refunded in full on the first set of plans and specifications ordered if they are returned unmarked and in good condition within two weeks after the bids are opened. Deposits for additional sets by bidding contractors and by parties not making legal bids to the Owner will be returned less a reproduction and handling charge of $10 upon receipt of plans and specifications unmarked and in good condition within two weeks after the bids are opened. Deposits will not be refunded under any other condition.

Plan sheets may be purchased by manufacturers, suppliers, and sub-contractors at a cost of $1.00 per sheet and pertinent specifications may be obtained without charge, but only on written request where sheet and page numbers are listed by the party making the request. No refund will be made for individual plan sheets.

Sealed proposals for this contract shall be clearly marked on the outside of the envelope as follows:

"Sealed Proposal for Contract to Construct Park Facilities at Allen, Kentucky. Not to be opened until 10:00 A.M. Local Time, Monday, October 11, 1976."

If forwarded by mail, the sealed envelope containing the proposal must be enclosed in another envelope and mailed to the County Clerk, Floyd County Courthouse, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653, allowing sufficient time for such mailing to reach this address prior to the scheduled closing time for receipt of proposals.

Bids shall be accompanied by a certified check or bid bond made payable to Floyd County, Kentucky in an amount not less than five per cent (5 pct.) of the base bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of Sixty (60) Days after the date bids are opened. He may, however, withdraw his bid at any time prior to the time and date scheduled for opening of same or any authorized postponement thereof. Any bid received after the time and date specified shall not be considered and will be returned unopened to the bidder.

The Contractor's attention is called to the fact that funds will be made available from Federal Agency grants and the owner's current funds for the construction of this project.

Work to be performed by Contractors involved in this project is subject to the minimum wage rates established by the U. S. Department of Labor under the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act and the Kentucky Department of Labor, as set forth in Chapter 337 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes (per amendments adopted by the 1970 General Assembly.) Contractors will be required to pay whichever minimum wage rate is higher for the individual crafts.

Both Federal and State wage rate determinations will be incorporated into the specifications by an addendum issued prior to the scheduled bidding date.

The project is to be financed in part by a Grant from the U. S. Department of Interior, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and be referred to as Project BOR-21-00397.

Bidders must comply with the President's Executive Order Nos. 11246 and 11375, which prohibit discrimination in employment regarding race, creed, color, sex or national origin. Where the President's Executive Order No. 11246 is shown, Executive Order No. 11375 also applies.

Bidders must comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Anti-Kickback Act and the Contract Work Hours Standard Act.

The Fiscal Court of Floyd County, Kentucky may consider informal any bid not prepared and submitted in accordance with the provisions of this advertisement and/or the specifications and may waive any informalities or reject any and all bids.

Works Bill Help For County Idle Is Yet Unknown

Floyd county officials, as will others over the nation, must wait till state fund allocations are made under provisions of the recently enacted Public Works Bill, and then wait longer till the breakdown of funds is made to counties and cities, before they can make an assessment of the effects the legislation will have on local unemployment.

In any event, Floyd county is certain that its work force under existing programs will be greatly enlarged. Its 9.7 unemployment per centage assures it a favorable position for funds when they are disbursed.

Presently, approximately 140 Floyd residents are employed in six separate work programs administered by the Big Sandy Community Action Program. John Milton Stumbo, Floyd county coordinator for these work projects, gave these approximate figures on employment they are providing at this time:

About 50 in the Concentrated Employment Program (CEP), working on roads, parks, etc; 17 senior citizens who work 20 hours a week; 24 Title VI employees whose work is mainly on roads; 25 Title X employees, who work on homes for the elderly; seven women outreach workers who do chores for the elderly; 16 Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) workers.

Wages for these range from a minimum of $2.30 an hour to the maximum $2.65 hourly wage paid the five crew chiefs.

PRATER CREEK HOMEMAKERS MEET, SEPTEMBER 27

The Prater Creek Homemakers Club resumed its monthly meeting, Sept. 27 following summer vacation. The meeting was called to order by its president, Lynn Boyd. The lesson for this month concerned food additives, by Frances Pitts.

The club welcomed these new members: Ruby Conn, Destaphine Boyd and Shirley Conn. It was voted by members to collect dues of 25 cents a month in order to help a needy organization at Christmas.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Alpha Kidd, Joann Watson, Janice Akers, and Lynn Boyd to the following members: Katherine Akers, Florida Tackett, Doris Akers, Lazelle Williams, Blanche Akers, Shirley Conn, Destaphine Boyd, Ruby Conn, Toda Tackett, Lois Johnson, Hazel Boyd, Emodel Boyd, Lucille Akers, Loretta Conn and Francis Pitts.

VISIT GRANDPARENTS

Jeff and Randy Hopson, of Cumberland Gap, stopped here last week on their way home from attending a dental meeting at Pikeville, and visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Hopson, and other relatives.

Named by Democratic Women

MRS. DINGUS

MRS. WILBORN

Mrs. Tom G. Dingus, of Prestonsburg, was elected second vice-president of the Democratic Women's Club of Kentucky, and Mrs. W. Stephen Wilborn, of Shelbyville, was elected member-at-large of the Executive committee at the 49th annual convention held at Kentucky Dam Village, Oct. 1 and 2.

Mrs. Dingus has been an active member of the Democratic Woman's Club and the Democratic party for many years, on the precinct, county, district and state levels. She has just completed a two-year term as treasurer of the state organization and served on the state board of directors eight years, six of those as associate director of the Seventh district.

Mrs. Wilborn, the former Kay Anne Frazier, of Prestonsburg, was a member of the Floyd County Club prior to her moving to Shelbyville, Ky. She was a charter member of the Shelby County Democratic Woman's Club, serving in several offices there. She was also associate director of the Sixth district and has just completed a two-year term as corresponding secretary of the state organization.

"The Battle for the Leadership of America"

Two of the debates are over, much was said pro and con about the leadership and proposed leadership of the country, up grading and down grading of the opponents.

To me the one great statement by President Ford stands out more than anything else, which proves to me and should prove definitely to every one else that cares to consider it in the right perspective, is as he said: "AMERICA IS STRONG, AMERICA IS FREE WITH A GOOD SOUND ECONOMIC CONDITION, WITHOUT WAR, AND THERE IS NOT AN AMERICAN DYING ON FOREIGN SOIL ANYWHERE IN WAR, WE ARE AT PEACE, WE HAVE EXCELLENT RELATIONS WITH ALL NATIONS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD."

THIS IN ITSELF SPEAKS FOR THE LEADERSHIP OF THE FORD ADMINISTRATION FOR THE PAST TWO YEARS. In other words, we have things going good for America—why not keep it that way, why take a chance on a dark horse?

Now in bringing in talks in the debate by Mr. Carter and President Ford and any other notable remarks they have made in the campaign.

Mr. Carter harped on what he called secret negotiations in foreign affairs, that all negotiations should be brought before the Congress and the American people. If Mr. Carter were president and undertook to bring to the open every detail of his negotiations with various governments, he would be in constant controversy, because while he would be trying to negotiate with one, another or many others would flare up, and he could not keep the lid on his negotiations, neither could he reach his goal. His intentions or meaning is good, but his idea would never work for any leader of any country.

Mr. Carter and Mr. Mondale keep harping on Watergate, yet they keep their dirt, or their party's dirt, under the rug. They keep saying how well Mr. Roosevelt, Truman, Kennedy and Johnson did.

NOW WE ALL KNOW, THERE IS SO MUCH GOOD AND SO MUCH BAD IN EVERY ONE.

Here are a few things that need to be brought to light. I have a few books which I will quote, which the editors or writers say are facts, which I or any one else can only assume they are facts unless these statements can be proven otherwise. One of these books is called or entitled, "A PARTY OF WAR AND TREASON," which condemns Mr. Roosevelt for secret maneuvers and negotiations, which brought on war with Japan, and it flatly states that Mr. Roosevelt had a strong desire or passion for war, and that he deliberately maneuvered our country into war with Japan, and how he set the Pacific Fleet up in Pearl Harbor as bait to the Japanese, knowing the fleet was weak. The USS Arizona is one of the ships that went down with a thousand men, which, the book says, is one of the ghastly monuments for his passion for war. The book also says the four men have 600,000 graves in the oceans or on land, which attests to their record as leaders of America.

Mr. Carter harps on inflation, but he doesn't state who caused it, neither does he say how he would stop it. It is easy to criticise, but is is something else to step in and cure the problem. The problem started in 1960 when some one said, we're gonna move ahead. Well we did, right into the biggest spending stream in the annals of history. A hundred and fifty billion in a useless war, another hundred and fifty billion in the Great Society program, another fifty to seventy five billion on the space program (the space program is good, we are getting returns in scientific information which is giving us some good benefits), but the first three hundred billion was a gigantic waste of lives and our resources, and piled up the national debt higher and higher, and no control in these inflationary times were put on management and labor. They were left running rampant, thus adding to the flames of inflation, and no president on either side had the guts to put the lid on and hold down the inflationary trend. Yet Mr. Carter today advocates more spending, and with his controlled Congress he will spend us absolutely dry. This is ideal for those that are so greedy. They say, Spend it today, we want it now, if it breaks the nation, without consideration of having anything for our children tomorrow, which shows we have many, many people in this country, both business and labor, who are a thoughtless, thankless, inconsiderate group, which also takes in a lot of would-be goody goods which are scattered all over the country. How do you hold down inflation without restraint?

WE MUST DO EVERY THING IN OUR POWER FOR WHAT'S RIGHT FOR AMERICA, REGARDLESS OF HOW MUCH IT HURTS. IT IS EASIER TO DO WRONG THAN RIGHT, BUT THE CONSEQUENCES THEREOF ARE SURELY COMING.

With Mr. Carter's big spending in mind, how does he propose to cut inflation, which he so vehemently opposes? Is not his right hand playing against his left? Did not his party predecessors contribute ninety percent of the inflation that began in 1960, which ran rampant to 1974, then Mr. Ford came, in setting a new course toward moderation and a sound economic structure.

Now according to the free rights of speech, Mr. Mondale has the right to criticise the Watergate debacle, and he is leaning on it pretty heavy. Mr. Mondale also has the right to clear up information in the July-August issue of American Opinion, which has his picture and several others of his party, showing under each picture the amount they sold their influence for to a special large organization. It shows Mr. Mondale and nineteen of his colleagues. It plainly states it as follows underneath his picture: Walter Mondale, Minnesota Democrat Bought for $85,025.00. If you will see Scoreboard 1976 "American Opinion" July-August issue, you will see the twenty persons and the price they sold for. As previously said, there is so much good and so much bad in every one. If the above is true as the paper says it is, how can America trust his party to do anything good for America? It is a shame and disgrace to see these peoples' picture in a paper stating how much they sold themselves out for. If this is true, I think they should be tried and abolished from the political scene, and sent to prison the same as the Watergate people. I would like to see Mr. Mondale try and clear himself of the accusation by American Opinion. I think it is his responsibility to do so, before he is fit for office. This publication also has pictures and information about some in his party being closely affiliated with the Communist party. It also tells the story about each one. This is a very dangerous situation for our country, if this be true, and it is until proven differently, these people should be deported to Russia. Or, better still, tie a rock to their neck, and drop them from a high altitude into the Caribbean just off the coast of Cuba. This is where Watergate all started, there were so many of the opposing side that wanted to crucify Mr. Nixon before he had a chance to expose them and their dirty slate. He knew something was bad wrong, or would never have attempted to get in to see what they might uncover. If I were suspicious of something poison to the system of our government, I would have gone in. Because if I should have asked for the key, whatever I was looking for would have been disposed of, then they would have given me the key. If I got into quicksand, I would never have lied to get out, I would have laid it on the line, that I was attempting to uncover an underground movement against the United States government.

There is a point or two I would like to bring out about Mr. Nixon, even though as much as he was despised for denying wrongdoing in the Watergate affair, he did do some very good things for America. We had fought with our hands tied by opposing forces in this country until finally, after exhaustible efforts to bring the war to a negotiated end, Mr. Nixon laid the bombs on Hanoi and the Hia Phong harbor, and laid mines at the harbor entrance, which held off all foreign vessels from bringing in supplies. Then Hanoi began to scream bloody murder, and the powerful string put them to looking for the peace table. I remember seeing them on television at news time, showing them in agony, crying over the coffins of their dead. Next this brought them to the peace table, next it showed the return of approximately four hundred of our men being evacuated or released from the North Vietnamese prisons, after some being there several years, and I never heard of Jane Fonda or George McGovern ever expressing happiness in public about the saving and return of these men. I suppose the loss of Hanoi lives was more of sadness to them than the joy if any for the returning of the four hundred men. Seeing those men returned brought tears to my eyes, I myself was overseas, but never under such harsh circumstances, yet I was away from home, I could not return, which was the same as being prisoner, except that I wasn't cooped up and starved. Mr. Nixon opened up trade with Russia, he sold grain to help the farmers, which just prior to the sale had laid and rotted on the ground; the farmers had to pile or store it anywhere they could. If trade with Russia can yield a profit to our country, I would say do so, but at the same time keep our powder dry, and without concessions to them.

Mr. Nixon also opened up friendly relations with China, which also created a deterrent to Russian ambitions, as China had and has millions of people at Russia's back door and on a 2500-mile front, looking right down the Russian's shirt collar. This naturally takes a lot of pressure off the western allies in dealing with Russia. I think the above feats alone should give Mr. Nixon great credit for the maneuvers he did to create a better balance of power, and open up trade with two great powers of the world. And the activity from this created more inflation. As I said, no one dared to put the lid on or control on labor and business to hold down prices, and over the years from 1960 to 1974 the tide of inflation rose and rose.

Now back to Mr. Carter. He made a very sharp and antagonizing statement in regard to negotiating with the Arabic oil people, that if they threatened him with oil embargo there would immediately become an economic war between the United States and Arabia. I think this was a rash and unnecessary statement, and indicates a short-tempered irresponsible, flagrant risk and is very explosive. I say, use whatever source of energy we have to, until we can do better, or become more self-sufficient. There's a lot of energy use we can cut down on, such as unnecessary trips, or just keeping the roads hot for no real purpose, and get rid of the gas-guzzling cars.

Mr. Carter picks at many problems and thinks of a lot of things to do, but never comes up with a solution, and he bounces around worse than a Ping-Pong Ball. As I said, he is not stable.

It's a great risk to rely on a dark horse. Let's stick with what we have, and give the man we have in office a chance to continue the improvement he has made during the past two years.

VOTE FOR PRESIDENT FORD TO CARRY US THROUGH FOUR MORE YEARS OF PEACE, PROSPERITY AND HAPPINESS. THINK VERY CAREFULLY, AND CONSIDER BEFORE YOU PULL THAT LEVER FOR THE COURSE YOU CHOOSE YOUR COUNTRY TO GO THE NEXT FEW YEARS. THE RISK IS ON YOU. Thank you, fellow American.

Pike Countian Named
Successor to Howard
As Council Director

Frankfort, Ky.—Jack R. Hatfield has been named executive director of the state Advisory Council for Vocational Education, according to council chairman C. Ed Brandon Jr., Louisville.

Hatfield, 40, succeeds Billy Ray Howard, who left the council to become assistant superintendent, Bureau of Vocational Education, Department of Education.

Most recently, Hatfield has served as director of the bureau's Health and Personal Occupations Education Unit. Before joining the bureau in 1965 as supervisor of adult education, Hatfield was an elementary and secondary school teacher in Pike county, a principal and a director of pupil personnel services.

At the state level, Hatfield has also been supervisor of Manpower Development and Training Act and Veterans Education programs.

Hatfield has received his bachelor and master's degrees from Eastern Kentucky University and has done additional graduate work there.

A Pike county native, Hatfield now lives in Lawrenceburg with his wife and son.

CANCER
Answerline
American Cancer Society

A regular feature, prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.

A furniture salesman asks: "Why don't health insurance companies pay for physical checkups?"

ANSWER line: The cost of providing such a service has been one main reason why checkups are not usually covered by prepaid health plans. However, the Blue Cross Association, which has nearly 90 million subscribers has just announced a major study in cooperation with the National Cancer Institute, which will attempt to find the most efficient screening method to provide diagnostic service as part of a prepaid health plan for large population groups. The study, which will take several years, will seek to answer many questions including financial ones such as: will it cost less to provide this kind of benefit and administer the program than to pay the high costs of treating cancer?

A businessman writes: "Ten years ago, I was treated for colon-rectal cancer by surgery, and I am in fine health. Lately I've been noticing that they are using a lot more drugs in cancer treatment, and in fact, a friend told me that there is a new drug treatment for colon-rectal cancer. Is this true?"

ANSWER line: Drug treatment, usually in combination with other forms of therapy such as surgery or radiation, is very much part of the medical approach to cancer in the 1970's. Where once drugs were given when cancer had become advanced throughout the body, there is now a trend towards beginning chemo-therapy earlier in the course of the disease to either control or prevent such spread. Medical science also is learning when to give drugs for maximum benefit to the patient. The treatment to which you refer is based not on the discovery of a new drug, but a new way to administer fluorouracil, a drug long used in cancer treatment. In studies done at the Nassau Hospital in Mineola, N. Y., it was found to be highly effective to give this drug for a short period of time four to six weeks after surgery for colon-rectal cancer. Until this newly-reported work, drugs given either during surgery or immediately following it had questionable benefit. Please note, however, that surgery remains the primary means of treating colon-rectal cancer.

The mother of two writes: "I bit the inside of my cheek a few months ago, and the area still seems to me to be discolored even though it doesn't hurt. Is that cause for concern?"

ANSWER line: Please have your physician or your dentist answer that question. White, red, or darkened patches of the inner cheek might be symptomatic of oral cancer, and for that reason, you need an expert to make a diagnosis. While a "bite" has nothing to do with cancer, your "bite" might have helped call your attention to another condition. The American Cancer Society is stressing the importance of regular mouth self-examination to help bring about earlier diagnosis of cancer when it is most easily treated. Your local ACS Unit has a new pamphlet on this subject which is available free of charge. It's called, "Word of Mouth."

By LARRY BURKE

In a great thaw on one of the American rivers, there was a man on one of the cakes of ice, which was not yet actually separated from the unbroken mass. In his terror, however, he did not see this, but knelt down and began to pray aloud for God to deliver him. The spectators on the shore cried loudly to him: "Man, stop praying and run for the shore."

We do not relate this story to belittle prayer in any way. We believe strongly in the power and comfort of prayer. But there is a latent lesson to be learned in this story of the man on the ice. It is that God is not responsible for any miracle that we can perform ourselves. He is not to be expected to accomplish any task that we ourselves can do.

No one is foolish enough to sit in his easy chair watching TV, and ask God to change the channel for him.

When we pray for the poor, the sick, and the less unfortunate, have we done all within our powers to aid, heal and comfort before we carried it to God in prayer.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT
CR 11,943

First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Paintsville, Paintsville, Ky. . . . Plf.

VS. NOTICE OF SALE

Eddie Robinson and Maggie Robinson, his wife . . . Defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the September 1 term, 1976 in the above-styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 29th day of October, 1976 at 11 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of 3 months, including a $1,000.00 cash deposit by bidder at the time of sale, except for judgment creditor, the following described property to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land lying in Floyd County, Kentucky on Arkansas Creek and being the same property conveyed to Eddie Robinson and Maggie Robinson, his wife, by deed dated September 3, 1975, recorded in Deed Book 224, page 109, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, which is more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a hornbeam tree; thence a straight line to a locust at a bluff; thence a straight line to a hickory tree; thence a straight line back down the hill to a rock; thence a straight line down by the road going South to the beginning.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $14,281.88 with interest thereon at 6 pct. annually from the 1st day of September 1976 until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 11 day of October, 1976.

PRESTONSBURG defenders swarm a Louisa running back in Friday night's game here. The Blackcats shut out the Bulldogs, 32-0.

The Sports Picture

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON

The Prestonsburg Blackcats rolled to their second win in district competition last Friday by defeating the Louisa Bulldogs, 32 to 0, while the Wheelwright Trojans lost to strong, 4A-rated Greenup County, 20 to 16. The Blackcats' quarterback, Greg Dixon, and Wm. O. Goebel rolled up enough yardage to take them to Morehead to razz the Rowan county coach for some remarks he had made about the Blackcats all during the week preceding the Prestonsburg-Louisa game. Remarks had been made that Rowan county had the best team in the class double A district, that the Prestonsburg win over Rowan County was a fluke and that Rowan County had the best quarterback and backfield. Neither rain, mud nor the Louisa defense could stop the Prestonsburg Blackcats' scoring and running attack. The Blackcat defense was outstanding as the defense held Louisa to a meager 79 yards offensively. Quarterback Dixon not only directed Prestonsburg's veer offense but totaled 158 yards rushing on 12 carries, and his longest run was 40 yards. Dixon also fired a 30-yard touchdown pass to Goebel. All of this happened during a steady downpour and at times the mud was so bad that the players were completely covered. Goebel really did his part on the ground. The senior halfback picked up 205 yards on 15 carries, and scored three touchdowns. He now has scored 80 points, including 13 touchdowns. Kerry Slone and Thomas Slone each had a good night in rushing for the Cats. Kerry Slone scored the first touchdown in the first quarter, and Stuart Wright took in the final tally of the game on a 25-yard run. Greg Dixon was successful on his first two attempted kicks after the first two touchdowns. The 'Cats overall record now is 5 and 2; in district play, 2 and 0. Louisa's record is now 3 and 4 overall; in district play, 2 and 2.

'Cats Shutout Louisa in Dis. Play; Coach Praises Overall Team Effort

The Prestonsburg Blackcats moved one step closer to the Region 4, District 2 title Friday night as they blasted the Louisa Bulldogs, 32-0. A tenacious defense, led by the tough inside play of Bobby Osborne, Mark Chaffin, Scotty Walker, Tim Patrick, Kerry Slone, Greg DeRossett, and Mike Click limited the Bulldogs to just 79 yards in total offense. Assistant Coach Ronald Robinson's secondary, consisting of Thomas Slone, Paul Ackerman, Alvin Hall, Ricky Morgan, and William Goebel was equally effective as Louisa completed only one pass for eight yards. Coach Robinson said, "We really came up well to play the run and had real good coverage on the pass. Of course, our defensive line and defensive ends really helped as they put good pressure on the quarterback and the linebackers covered the hook zones well."

Offensively, the Blackcats rolled. The "Doctor" (Greg Dixon) and his "surgeons" were at their best as they operated the wishbone to near perfection in amassing 488 yards in total offense. Dixon rushed for 158 yards in 12 carries, while passing for 75 yards. Tim Patrick caught three passes including a 30-yard touchdown strike. Thomas Slone, Kerry Slone, and Goebel each rushed for approximately 70 yards with K. Slone scoring once and Goebel twice. Stewart Wright also scored from 25 yards out.

Concerning the offense, Coach Haywood said, "Our offensive unit ran the 'bone' the way it's supposed to be run, just like you draw it up on paper. Our offensive line (Kenneth Campbell, Walker, Gene Holland, DeRossett, and Osborne) did a great job. They cut off penetration and really cleared the veer path. Our ends (Patrick, Ackerman, Morgan, Branham) did a good job blocking, especially on their inside linebackers, and caught the ball extremely well, and our backs just did their thing. I didn't even know where the ball was half of the time." The kicking game also excelled as Goebel returned 6 punts for 130 yards.

"This was our best game this year, overall," Haywood said. "Our defense was outstanding. "Between the good defense and our kicking game we had good field position all night. This allowed our offense to open up early. I also think our coaches (Ronald Robinson, Dennis Walker, Leo Whitt, and Leslie May) did a great job in preparing our team for this one."

The Blackcats travel to Olive Hill this Thursday afternoon at 1:30 to take on West Carter in another big district game. The Comets will be no easy task, according to Haywood. They lost to Rowan County this past Friday 7-0.

"They (the Comets) have really improved since the start of the season," Haywood said. "They are bigger than Rowan County and that speaks for itself. We're too close to overlook anyone at this point, especially a team that held Rowan County's offense scoreless (they scored on a punt return). It'll be a tough football game, but I think we'll be ready to play."

David Collins scored seven touchdowns Oct. 4 in Allen Elementary's 50 to 12 rout of John M. Stumbo Elementary at Ivel. Extra point conversions were made by Timmy Spencer, Vincent Finney, Russell Jarrell and Mike Cline. Spencer also had two pass interceptions.

ALLERGY SUFFERERS know they have to be especially careful in their house-cleaning chores to keep their environment free of irritating materials.

Betsy Layne High School in its first year of football continues to improve with each game. Last week, Coach Jim Cecil's young Bobcats played the Johns Creek junior varsity at Johns Creek and was in the game all the way, although they suffered a heartbreaker as they lost, 18 to 14. The score was 6 to 0 at halftime. Don Chaffins scored the first touchdown for the Bobcats, and he scored two more in the second half that were called back. In the game he rushed for 107 yards, and also scored on a two-point conversion. Jeff Scott also scored one touchdown on a three-yard run and intercepted two passes. Scott also passed to Glenn Lawson for two completions and Lawson had a total of 72 yards. Betsy Layne was led in defense by defensive ends Paul Hall and Danny Akers. The Bobcats were scheduled to play the Paintsville junior varsity on Monday night, October 11, at Paintsville and they will face the Mullins junior varsity at Mullins next Monday.

In the Prestonsburg Area Booster Club youth football program last Tuesday night the Paintsville senior division won over the Prestonsburg senior division (7th and 8th graders) by 18 to 0, and Clark won over Auxier, 40 to 0. Clark led at halftime by a score of 12 to 0. Greg Haywood scored three touchdowns on 30, 25 and 10-yard runs and scored a 2-point conversion. Jeff Shupe scored two touchdowns on runs of 30 and 5-yard runs. Denny Ousley scored on a 2-point conversion. The Prestonsburg freshman team suffered its third loss of the season by losing to the Pikeville freshmen, 26 to 15. Quarterback Danny Daniels scored on touchdown on a two-yard run while Curtis Holbrook scored a touchdown on a 50-yard pass play from quarterback Daniels. The Kittens now have a record of 3 and 3. They were scheduled to play the Johnson Central freshmen at Johnson Central last night (Tuesday), and will face the Belfry freshmen here tomorrow (Thursday) night.

Clark Scores as a Musician In Both Civilian, Military Life

Major William E. Clark, who as a boy of 12 began the study of music in Prestonsburg, has achieved outstanding success as a musician in both civilian and military life.

Major Clark taught instrumental music in the Ashland (Ky.) Independent School System, and the Ironton (O.) Public School System. He performed as lead trumpeter with the Mel Gillespie Orchestra and is an honorary member of the American Federation of Musicians. Major Clark was a member of the 202nd Kentucky Army National Guard Band for 11 years, serving as an enlisted man and then as bandmaster.

A commandant of the U. S. Army Element, School of Music, Naval Amphibious Base, Norfolk, Va., he was a music educator six years before entering active military duty in July, 1963.

He is an alumnus of Marshall University, Huntington, W. Va., where he received his BA degree (music) in 1956 and his MA degree (music education) in 1959. While attending Marshall, Major Clark served as president of the MENC Association and was selected for membership in Phi Mu Alpha, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Kappa Delta Pi.

Major Clark taught instrumental music in the Ashland (Ky.) Independent School System, and the Ironton (O.) Public School System. He performed as lead trumpeter with the Mel Gillespie Orchestra and is an honorary member of the American Federation of Musicians. Major Clark was a member of the 202nd Kentucky Army National Guard Band for 11 years, serving as an enlisted man and then as bandmaster.

Since entering active duty, Major Clark has attended the Warrant Officer Bandmaster Course of Instruction at the School of Music; served as commanding officer of the 77th Army band at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and the 30th Army band in Munich, Germany. He has also served as Staff Bands officer for Headquarters, US

ARH Hospitals Lose $1.4 Million In Indigent Care

Appalachian Regional Hospitals' trustees were told last Friday that the ARH system "cannot continue to absorb the dollar losses" created by providing care to the medically indigent.

James H. Harless, ARH board chairman, told trustees at their 13th annual meeting in Lexington that ARH must find new revenue sources in both the private and public sectors to offset the annual deficits caused by providing free care.

Yet the chairman said ARH must continue its policy of providing care to everyone "without regard to their ability to pay."

ARH is a non-profit health care system with 10 hospitals and related facilities in Kentucky, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Harless reported ARH ended the fiscal year June 30 with a $1.4 million deficit. The chairman said ARH last year provided services valued at $2.7 million to more than 19,000 patients who could not pay for the services. Since 1963, Harless said, ARH has provided services valued at $16.4 million to the medically indigent.

Harless said public understanding is essential to the health care system's quest to find ways to pay for the free care ARH provides. ARH, he said, has not effectively communicated the medical indigency problem.

"The terminology, for one thing, has been wrong," he said, adding that "free care infers that the care is not only free to the patient but also free to ARH."

Harless said ARH must explain that "each encounter involving a non-paying patient creates an expense, such as for payroll and supplies" that must be met. "Free care is free only to the patient," he said, "it is not free to ARH."

Another misconception, Harless claimed, is that the government "takes care of the less fortunate." He noted, for example, that a person who is unemployed doesn't automatically qualify for government-paid medical care. Many others who are employed, he added, have incomes so meager that they "simply cannot pay for their health care along with life's other necessities."

The chairman said ARH is committed to finding new revenue to allow it to continue providing care to the medically indigent while maintaining its current level and quality of service.

In his review of the fiscal year, Harless said ARH has revenues of $50.5 million and expenditures of $51.9 million, including $25.6 million for salaries and wages.

He also reported the system had increases over the previous year in each area of patient services. His review of services showed ARH provided care to 46,911 in-patients, an 11 per cent increase; 285,449 days of patient care, up nearly 10 per cent; 629,045 out-patient services, up 9 per cent; 130,171 emergency room services, a 10 per cent increase; 849,989 laboratory examinations, an increase of 9 per cent; and 64,942 physical therapy treatments, up 37 per cent.

EGYPT PROPOSES MEASURES TO HELP COMBAT TERRORISM

CAIRO—The Egyptian government will propose tough measures to combat terrorism, including the death penalty for airplane hijacking, the semi-official newspaper Al Ahran said Saturday.

An Egyptian airliner was hijacked Monday. The three sky pirates were overwhelmed by commandos who boarded the plane disguised as mechanics when it landed at the southern city of Luxor.

The new law will be placed before the 360-member People's Assembly now in session, Al Ahran reported.

It said the law would provide the death penalty or life imprisonment for persons convicted of carrying guns or explosives for political assassination, for fomenting disorder or hijacking aircraft.

Bureaucracy at Work

When it comes to wildflowers, mid-summer is the season when those of the open fields, meadows and roadsides dominate the scene. Plants that made the woodland floors of spring an exotic multicolored tapestry are no more. For them, the period of glory ended when the unfolding leaves of the upper story of trees blotted out the rays of the sun. In the deepening shade, these little woodland wildflowers ripened their seed and went into a state of aestivation to store up energy for another burst of floral splendor come again April and May.

So now, where the wildflowers of spring left off, those of midsummer and autumn are now beginning to take over. In stately columns, dense clumps, broad expanses and climbing vines these late bloomers—lobelias, trumpet creepers, cardinal flowers, yellow ray flowers and goldenrod—are appearing day by day.

Perhaps the loveliest, most dainty and most fragrant of all these late wildflowers is virgin's bower, which at this time is making old fencerows, rock piles and woodland margins showy with multitudinous clusters of showy white flowers.

Classified as Clematis Virginiana, virgin's bower is also known as love vine, traveller's joy and old man's beard. Certainly, as outdoor writer Mrs. William Starr Dana, once wrote, a growth of this attractive vine does indeed make a fitting bower for a maiden seeking privacy in which to construct dream castles or for a traveller seeking shelter from the hot summer sun. Old man's beard is also an apt appellation. The gray, plummy pompoms of ripening flower clusters in October present a hoary appearance not unlike the foliage on an old gaffer's chin.

Unlike many other climbing plants, virgin's bower does not put out tendrils to twine around twigs and other supports in its ascension. Rather, it climbs an object by bending or hooking its leaf stalks much as a man would hook his elbow around the rung of a ladder.

In experimenting with this vine, Charles Darwin discovered that the young shoots possessed an ability that bordered on the uncanny. In search of support, the shoots revolved in a broad oval following the course of the sun.

Virgin's bower is a very attractive wild resource and has an unforgettable fragrance. On the 1,000 mile hike which John Muir once took to the Gulf of Mexico, he was delighted to find great growths of this vine and likened its faint perfume to something emanating from the fabled Vale of Kashmir.

Look for virgin's bower along fencerows of back country roads.

Kentucky Afield

Well, it looks like the summer doldrums are about over. We've had a few cool nights, the leaves are starting to show their fall colors and the water temperatures in our lakes and streams are starting to get down near the 70-degree mark.

Beneath the surface, the bass are starting to sense this drop in water temperature and they, like us, recognize that winter is on the way. They are beginning to stir around, to become more active. They are leaving their deep water lairs where they have spent most of the summer and are prowling the shoreline more and more in search of food.

We should get some fairly heavy fall rains about this time of year, rains which will give some color to the crystal-clear waters of summer. The light penetrating the water won't be as harsh now, and won't bother the sensitive eyes of the bass. He'll start spending more and more time in shallow water, where the temperature and light penetration are within his comfort range, and where food is abundant.

His primary food—shad—have been growing all summer and are now large enough to make a mouthful for even a lunker bass. He likes this too, because his appetite is increasing. When the water turns cold, his metabolism will slow down, he will become less active and will take less food. But now, in the fall, he is "storing up" for the lean months ahead.

The experienced angler knows all of this, is aware of what is happening in the underworld of the bass and understands the physical changes in the fish's environment and the physiological changes in the fish itself. Like the bass, the bass fisherman starts getting restless in the fall. The shortening days, he knows, pre-empt the coming of the gloom of winter when only the hardest of souls continue fishing.

Time is short and the water is waiting; conditions are right for some of the best fishing of the year. Compared to summer, the lakes seem almost deserted—the same cool water that brings the bass near the surface has also sent most pleasure boaters and water skiers to other pursuits inland. Even many sportsmen have left the lakes with the departure of summer, lured away perhaps by the call of squirrel, dove or bow deer hunting.

Yes, fall is one of the best fishing seasons of the year in Kentucky. Those surface lures which have lain in a back tray in the tackle box all summer can be brought out now and chugged or twitched along the edge of shoreline cover, cast beside stumps or exposed treetops or pulled enticingly over submerged logs or rocks. Spinner baits and medium running lures also usually work well at this time of year, and that old standby, the plastic nightcrawler, will take its share of fish too.

The knowledgeable fisherman also keeps alert for disturbances out in the lake, away from the shoreline. He knows that shad are schooling near the surface and that hungry fish—both black bass and white bass—often pursue these schools. At the first sign of surface activity, he moves his boat quietly into casting range and lets fly with either a surface lure, a spinner or a shad-imitating "vibrator" lure.

Night fishing for white bass and crappie is also productive in the fall, although the chilly nights can be a little uncomfortable. Daytime crappie anglers can also often locate schools of fish by drift fishing over submerged cover areas. And fishing the tailwaters below the dams on our larger lakes can yield a surprising number and variety of fish.

So don't put your boat and fishing tackle into winter storage yet—there's still a lot of good fishing in front of you this season.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT SWINE INFLUENZA (FLU) VACCINE (MONOVALENT)

July 15, 1976

The Disease

Influenza (flu) is caused by viruses. When people get flu they may have fever, chills, headache, dry cough or muscle aches. Illness may last several days or a week or more, and complete recovery is usual. However, complications may lead to pneumonia or death in some people. For the elderly and people with diabetes or heart, lung, or kidney diseases, flu may be especially serious.

It is unlikely that you have adequate natural protection against swine flu, since it has not caused widespread human outbreaks in 45 years.

The Vaccine

The vaccine will not give you flu because it is made from killed viruses. Today's flu vaccines cause fewer side effects than those used in the past. In contrast with some other vaccines, flu vaccine can be taken safely during pregnancy.

One shot will protect most people from swine flu during the next flu season; however, either a second shot or a different dosage may be required for persons under age 25. If you are under 25 and a notice regarding such information is not attached, this information will be provided to you wherever you receive the vaccine.

Possible Vaccine Side Effects

Most people will have no side effects from the vaccine. However, tenderness at the site of the shot may occur and last for several days. Some people will also have fever, chills, headache, or muscle aches within the first 48 hours.

Special Precautions

As with any vaccine or drug, the possibility of severe or potentially fatal reactions exists. However, flu vaccine has rarely been associated with severe or fatal reactions. In some instances people receiving vaccine have had allergic reactions. You should note very carefully the following precautions:

- Children under a certain age should not routinely receive flu vaccine. Please ask about age limitations if this information is not attached.
- People with known allergy to eggs should receive the vaccine only under special medical supervision.
- People with fever should delay getting vaccinated until the fever is gone.
- People who have received another type of vaccine in the past 14 days should consult a physician before taking the flu vaccine.

If you have any questions about flu or flu vaccine, please ask.

REGISTRATION FORM

I have read the above statement about swine flu, the vaccine, and the special precautions. I have had an opportunity to ask questions, including questions regarding vaccination recommendations for persons under age 25, and understand the benefits and risks of flu vaccination. I request that it be given to me or to the person named below of whom I am the parent or guardian.

It is unlikely that you have adequate protection against swine flu, since it has not caused widespread human outbreaks in the past 45 years. You may or may not have adequate protection against Victoria flu, although many Americans had this flu last winter. It was responsible for over 12,000 deaths.

the reasonable expense of assessing tax-exempt benefited properties) solely to the payment of principal of and interest on all Bonds authorized by this Ordinance as the same shall mature and become payable from time to time. All moneys held in said Sinking Fund and in said Debt Service Reserve portion thereof shall be deposited in the payee bank and to the extent that same shall cause deposits of the City in said Bond to exceed the amount insured by the FDIC, the same shall be continuously secured by a valid pledge of U. S. obligations, as defined herein, having an equivalent market value, or such portion of such account as is designated by the governing body of the City shall be invested for the benefit of such account in such U. S. obligations having a maturity date prior to the date when the sums invested will be needed for meeting interest and principal payments, to mature or be called, as provided in KRS 66.480.

Such investments shall be liquidated and/or changed from time to time upon orders of the governing body of the City. All sums received from said special assessments and so deposited (except as to the expense of assessing tax-exempt benefited properties, if any, as above set forth), are hereby irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds authorized by this Ordinance and shall never be applied for any other purpose until all of the Bonds have been retired.

SECTION 10. PAYMENT ACCOUNT.
On or before the fifteenth day of March and September in each year, the Bank of Josephine, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, which is the depository of the Sinking Fund, shall transfer from the Sinking Fund (and from the Debt Service Reserve, if necessary), a sum equal to the interest, or a sum equal to the principal and interest, as the case may be, becoming due on the next following respective April 1 or October 1, and deposit the same in a "CITY OF PRESTONSBURG 1976 BOND AND INTEREST PAYMENT ACCOUNT," hereby created.

SECTION 11. MONTHLY OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGE.

The City Council further convenants and agrees that so long as any of the Bonds authorized by this Ordinance remain outstanding and unpaid, it will charge and collect or cause to be charged and collected from all users of its entire sewer system, a monthly sewer rate or charge as is necessary to provide for the operation and maintenance of said sewer system (Project), including any applicable charges or fees for the collection of said annual assessments and/or said additional rates and charges.

SECTION 12. DISPOSITION OF PROCEEDS OF SALE OF BONDS.

Whenever the Bonds authorized or permitted to be issued by this Ordinance shall be sold and delivered, there shall forthwith, out of the proceeds of the sale of said Bonds, be deposited in the Sinking Fund hereinabove created, an amount equal to the accrued interest collected from the purchaser of said Bonds, representing accrued interest from the date of the Bonds to the date of their delivery, plus an amount equal to any premium in excess of face value received by the City as a part of the sale price of said Bonds, plus any capitalized interest, as noted in Section 8 herein. All temporary financing obligations, if any, of the City incurred in anticipation of the issuance of said Bonds, shall next immediately be paid, and all evidence of such interim financing shall be cancelled forthwith. Said amount so deposited, or representing interest which will accrue during such period on the Bonds and/or on interim financing arranged in contemplation of the issuance of said Bonds, shall be held in said Fund and may be used to pay interest coupons as same mature, or to pay interest on any temporary loans borrowed by the City in anticipation of the sale of the Bonds.

Thereafter, the entire remaining proceeds of such sale shall be applied to the extent necessary, toward defraying the cost of the construction of said Sewer Project of 1976, including administrative and legal expenses. Pending expenditure of such remaining proceeds for such purpose, such remaining proceeds shall be deposited in a special construction account at the depository bank, said account at said bank to be called the "City of Prestonsburg Sewer Project Construction Account," hereinafter sometimes called the "Construction Account." As provided in KRS 66.480, said deposit in said Bank, to the extent that same may cause the aggregate deposits of the City in said Bank to be in excess of the amounts insured by the FDIC, shall be collateral secured by U. S. obligations (as defined herein), having a market value equivalent to such excess; or to the extent that such deposits exceed the amount estimated by the Engineer to be required for disbursements during the ensuing ninety days, such Bank may invest for the benefit of such account whatever portion of such account is designated by the governing body of the City in U. S. obligations maturing at such time or times as to make such funds available when needed for construction purposes, and in any event not later than eighteen (18) months from the date of such investment. Prior to the expenditure of such proceeds, same shall be subject to a first and paramount lien and charge in favor of the holders of the Bonds authorized herein, and said funds shall be held as further security for such holders until paid as herein provided.

Payment from said Construction Account for such construction costs shall be made upon vouchers approved by the Engineer having charge of supervising such construction, he certifying in each instance that the voucher represents a sum actually earned by and due to the proposed payee under a contract with said City for work performed and/or materials furnished in connection with the construction of said Sewer Project of 1976, or represents a sum necessary to be expended for land or rights-of-way necessary to be acquired by the City in connection with said Project, or for any other related portion of the cost of said Project as set out herein.

To the extent that any such payment shall be for items not relating to construction contracts and compensation of the Engineers, it shall be certified by the City Treasurer, with the approving countersignature of the Mayor, that such payment represents an expenditure which may be properly made from the proceeds of the aforesaid Bonds.

All checks drawn against said Construction Account shall be signed by the City Treasurer and countersigned by the Mayor or by such other City officials as may be designated by the City Council of the City, and accompanied by such voucher before being honored by the depository of the Construction Account.

A true and accurate accounting shall be made of all deposits in and disbursements from said Construction Account, and at no time shall there be any commingling with other moneys of said City of Prestonsburg. There shall also be deposited in said Account by officials of said City, from time to time, all moneys received from any and all sources which are obtained for the purpose of the aforesaid Project, in order to assure sufficient available funds to complete the construction of said Sewer Project of 1976.

In the event that any unexpended balance shall remain in said Construction Account after completion of the Sewer Project of 1976, and payment of all of the costs thereof, as certified by the Engineer, such unexpended balance shall be deposited in the Sinking Fund.

SECTION 13. SALE OF BONDS.
The entire $45,000 of Bonds authorized by this Ordinance shall be offered for sale, which shall be publicly advertised, upon the basis of sealed, competitive bids, which shall be publicly opened and acted upon by the City Council; to that end, the Mayor and the City Clerk are authorized to sign an appropriate form of notice soliciting purchase bids, and to cause the same to be published in conformity with Chapter 424 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes, at least one time, not less than seven days nor more than twenty-one days prior to the designated sale date, in the Floyd County Times, which is the newspaper having the largest bona fide circulation which is published in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and is the newspaper meeting the requirement of KRS 424.110-120, for publication, in which official publications of the City of Prestonsburg are required to be published, and one time in The Courier Journal, a daily newspaper published in Louisville, Kentucky, and having general circulation throughout the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

The published Notice, the Official Terms and Conditions of Sale of Bonds and the Official Bid Form, shall be in the customary form or forms.
Suggested forms of a "Notice of Bond Sale," the "Official Terms and Conditions of Sale of Bonds" and the "Official Bid Form," having been prepared and submitted to this Council, and the same having been examined by the City Council and found to be in order, the same are hereby approved and may be used in substantially such forms for the purposes of this section.

SECTION 14. SIGNATURE OF OFFICERS.
If any of the officers whose signatures or facsimile signatures appear on any of the Bonds or coupons cease to be such officer before delivery of the Bonds, such signatures shall nevertheless be valid for all purposes the same as if such officers had remained in office until delivery, as provided in KRS 61.390.

SECTION 15. CONTRACTUAL NATURE OF ORDINANCE.
The provisions of this Ordinance shall constitute a contract between the City and the holders of the Bonds herein authorized to be issued, and after the issuance of any of the Bonds, no change, variation or alteration of any kind in the provisions of this Ordinance shall be made in any manner except as herein provided until such time as all of said Bonds issued hereunder and the interest thereon have been paid in full; provided (a) that the governing body of the City may adopt an Ordinance to evidence the succession of another Bank (s) or Trust Company as payee bank, depository, and-or Bond Registrar and may enact any other Ordinance for any other purpose not inconsistent with the terms of this Ordinance, and which shall not impair the security of the bondholders, for the purpose of curing any ambiguity, or of curing, correcting or supplementing any defective or inconsistent provisions contained herein or in any ordinance or other proceedings pertaining hereto; and (b) provided further, that the holders or eighty percent (80 pct.) in principal amount of the Bonds at any time outstanding shall have the right to consent to, and approve the adoption of ordinances, resolutions or other proceedings, modifying or amending any of the terms or provisions contained in this Bond Ordinance, subject to the provision that this Ordinance shall not be so modified in any manner that may adversely affect the rights of any certain holders without similarly affecting the right of all holders of the Bonds then outstanding, or to reduce the percentage of the number of holders whose consent is required to effect a further modification.

SECTION 16. PUBLICATION OF ORDINANCE.
That the City Clerk is directed to publish this Ordinance in the Floyd County Times, pursuant to KRS Chapter 424, and pursuant to KRS 107.090, at the earliest possible time.

SECTION 17. THIS ORDINANCE IS THE THIRD ORDINANCE OF CHAPTER 107.

For the purpose of identification, this Ordinance is the equivalent of the "Third Ordinance" as contemplated and provided for in KRS 107.090.

SECTION 18. SEVERABILITY CLAUSE.

If any section, paragraph, clause or provision of this Ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity of such section, paragraph, clause or provision shall not affect any of the remaining provisions of this Ordinance.

SECTION 19. PROVISIONS IN CONFLICT REPEALED.

That all ordinances, resolutions and orders, or parts thereof, in conflict herewith, are, to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

SECTION 20. EFFECTIVE DATE OF ORDINANCE.

That this Ordinance shall take effect from and after its adoption, approval and publication as provided by law.

Introduced, adopted, approved and order published by the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, at a meeting held on Oct. 7, 1976.

APPROVED:
WILLIAM O. GOEBEL, JR.
Mayor, City of Prestonsburg, Ky.

George Salisbury Davis, Mary Salisbury Stickler, John Q. Salisbury and Pauline Salisbury, Rhoda Salisbury Click and Jobie Click . . . Petitioners

VS. NOTICE OF SALE.

Franklin Salisbury and Pat Salisbury, Patti Sue Salisbury Allen, Paul Salisbury and Nellie Salisbury, Norris Salisbury and Ruth Salisbury, Henrietta Salisbury Jones and Morris Jones, Alma Ruth Salisbury Edwards and Scottie Edwards, Ted H. Salisbury and Rodney Salisbury . . . Respondents

By virtue of an order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the September 17 term, 1976 in the above-styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 29th day of October, 1976 at 10 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of six months, the following described property to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land lying on the waters of Left Beaver Creek, and being Lot No. 5 in the division and allotment of the real estate of William Salisbury, deceased, drawn by heirs-at-law of the estate of John A. Salisbury, Sr., a son of William Salisbury, deceased, more particularly bounded as follows:

Beginning on a large cherry tree by the fence and back of the old house of William Salisbury; thence S 83 45 W 192 feet to a stake in the center of the Long Fork Railroad at the south side of the road crossing; then with the center of said railroad 50.3 feet in a northerly direction then running across the bottom, N 68 30 W crossing Left Beaver Creek 580 feet, to a stake in the upper edge of an old road; then with the upper edge of the road, N 19 15 E 135 feet to a stake; then S 67 30 E 525 feet, crossing Left Beaver Creek and bottom, to a stake in the center of the Long Fork Railroad; then S 77 00 E 249 feet to a stake; then S 14-30 W 129.5 feet to the beginning, containing 2.5 acres, more or less.

Lots Nos. 2, 3, and 4 have the privilege of using the present road through this lot leading out to the railroad.

This property is being sold to settle the estate of the late John A. Salisbury, Sr. The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall include the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 6th day of October, 1976.

Dr. Norfleet Named MSU Head

Morehead, Ky.—Dr. Morris L. Norfleet will become the eighth president of Morehead State University, Jan. 1, next.

The 45-year-old Pulaski county native was appointed by unanimous vote of the MSU board of regents from a field of 124 candidates.

As the successor to retiring President Adron Doran, he received a contract running through June 30, 1979, at an annual salary of $40,000.

A member of the faculty and administrative staff since 1962 and the school's vice-president for research and development since 1968, Dr. Norfleet also has served since July 1 as MSU's acting interim president.

Accepting the post, he said:

"I assume this awesome responsibility with deep humility and with sincere appreciation for the support and friendship of the Board of Regents, President and Mrs. Doran, the faculty and staff, student body, alumni and other friends of the University. I pledge to give my best each day and never to lose sight of the need for a team effort in administering the affairs of the University. I am most grateful for this new opportunity to serve God and my fellow man."

MSU's president-elect holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky and master's and doctoral degrees from Purdue University. Before coming to Morehead, he served as a teacher in the Spiceland, Inc. public schools, as an instructor at Purdue and on the public relations staff of the Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative Association.

He is married to the former Loistene Tarter, of Nancy, Ky. They have a 13-year-old son, Douglas, a freshman at University Breckinridge School. Dr. Norfleet is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hewey Norfleet, of Nancy.

At a press conference after his appointment, he said he hoped "to build on the firm foundation laid by President Doran for the past 22 years."

Dr. Doran, whose retirement is effective Dec. 31, said of his successor:

"Dr. Norfleet is well qualified to assume the presidency and I am highly encouraged by the unanimity of support shown him by the board of regents and faculty and staff. It is a high compliment to the administration of the University that the board found an individual on campus who is capable of leading this institution during the next decade. I commend the board members for the procedures used in this decision-making process and for their professional approach which kept them free of political entanglement or interference."

Attorney-Lawmaker Partnership Not Conflict of Interest

Frankfort, Ky.—A partnership involving a state representative and two attorneys with a state labor department personal service contract does not constitute a conflict of interest for the legislator, according to an opinion from the state Attorney General's office.

The opinion was issued to Steven L. Beshear, state representative for the 76th District-Fayette County. It was written by Walter C. Herdman, assistant deputy attorney general.

Beshear wrote in a letter to the Attorney General's Office that the partnership arrangement consists of sharing office expenses, but he retains fees he earns and his partners, Thomas E. Meng and Timothy T. Green, split equally fees they earn. Meng obtained the personal service contract subsequent to the time Beshear joined the firm, according to facts noted in the opinion.

"We find no constitutional or statutory incompatibility or conflict of interest existing under the related facts," wrote Herdman. A review of the 1976 Legislative Ethics Act (KRS 6.755 to 6.825) also revealed "no prohibition applicable to your factual situation," he wrote.

Herdman suggested, however, that Beshear clear the matter with the Legislative Board of Ethics and the State Bar Association so far as legal ethics are concerned.

THE NATIONAL Labor Relations Act of 1935 established the first national policy designed to protect the rights of workers to organize and elect their representatives for collective bargaining, according to "Important Events in American Labor History, 1778-1975," published by the U. To The People of Floyd County and the State of Kentucky

Road leading to graveyard in Stumbo Hollow.

Another spot along road where stream is filled.

I would like for the people to know just how some people's land is left after some coal operations are done with their land. Some few weeks ago, Triple Elkhorn Coal Co., owned by Harry Hale Ranier, had on television a beautiful scene of some land he had left after he finished mining. Most of the people, I guess, saw this picture on television. But here are some pictures of some of the land they left in Stumbo Hollow on Middle Creek. I don't know whether this will grow out and look like that Harry Hale Ranier (better known as Triple Elkhorn Coal Co.) had on television or not.

Does the Reclamation Division believe this? Is this a just way to leave this land? I would like to know from the people in Floyd County or any place else in Kentucky.

The way I feel about this, if the state hires the reclamation and they are Democrats, we should vote every one out of office. I have been a longtime Democrat, but if I can't get something done about this, I believe I will change my politics and ask everybody I can to do the same.

There is a stopping place for everything—there was for Watergate. They got that straightened out. Now it's time to start here in our home county and put things back to where they should be by the people.

A few weeks ago I had an ad in the paper and got no response to it. I wonder if I will get a response to this one. I would like for the people to write me and let me know if they think I'm in the right. I believe in justice.

Irwin's View from the Moon . . .

No Pollution, Inhumanity, Killing

Astronaut Irwin presents Governor Carroll moonshot taken during the Apollo 15 mission.

Frankfort, Ky.—A man who prayed on the moon five years ago joined hundreds of Kentuckians last Wednesday in praying for the state's leaders during the fourth annual Governor's Leadership Prayer Breakfast.

Former astronaut Col. James Irwin was the featured speaker at the breakfast hosted by Gov. Julian Carroll and attended by three former governors. Irwin, lunar pilot of the Apollo 15 spacecraft which landed on the moon in 1971, holds the distinction of being the only man to quote scripture on the surface of the moon.

Since his space mission, the former astronaut founded the High Flight Foundation, a Christian organization. Irwin told several hundred people at the Capital Plaza Sports and Convention Center:

"There, on the surface of the moon, some unusual things happened to me." He was able to see the earth "with the eyes of God," Irwin said, explaining he saw no pollution, inhumanity, or killing.

Speaking not only to the 400-500 people in the convention center but to a television audience as well, Irwin issued a challenge to pray for the nation's and state's leaders. He presented Gov. Carroll with a moon shot taken during the Apollo 15 mission and told the Governor: "I want you to know that you have my prayers for wisdom and understanding for you and all the leaders of Kentucky."

The prayer breakfast was telecast by the Kentucky Educational Television (KET) network, and local church and government officials had been urged to gather groups to watch the telecast and pray. Telephones for receiving reports of the activity throughout the state were manned during the breakfast. A group from Russellville reported that 300 people there had gathered for the event.

Participants in the program included U. S. Sens. Walter Huddleston and Wendell Ford. Ford hosted the first leadership prayer breakfast four years ago. Ford, Earle C. Clements and A. B. (Happy) Chandler were the former governors in attendance.

The Rev. Bob Brown, of Lexington, chairman of the Governor's Bicentennial Prayer Events Committee appointed last spring, pointed out that the breakfast and other prayer events focus on Kentucky's religious heritage.

Events have included a luncheon in August on the Capitol grounds for 4,000 clergymen and their spouses and three regional Festival of Faith prayer services last week-end. The climax of the events will be an appearance Nov. 22 by evangelist Billy Graham in Louisville's Freedom Hall.

REVIVAL SERVICES SET AT VOGEL-DAY CHURCH

Revival services will be held at the Vogel-Day United Methodist Church at Harold Sunday, Oct. 17 through Oct. 24. Rev. Sam Glenn, of Paintsville will be the featured evangelist and services will begin each evening at 7. Pastor of the church Rev. Floyd Tackett invites everyone to attend.
