

Emergency Med Services System Sought by Court

Fiscal Court Offers Reward for Litterers Of County Roadsides

Implementation of a countywide emergency medical services system was asked in a resolution adopted at Monday's meeting of the Floyd fiscal court.

The resolution noted that the Floyd County Economic Aid Board has already agreed to purchase communications equipment for the area emergency medical services with 75 per cent federal-state funds, 25 per cent local, and that the FIVCO-Big Sandy Emergency Medical Services, Inc. has expressed a desire to assist in upgrading these services in the county. The court promised its support and help in making a system of emergency health services effective.

Pointing to the wide use of county roadsides for dumping of garbage, Magistrate Kenneth Roberts moved that the court post a reward of $25 for information leading to the identification of any person guilty of such an offense. The court unanimously approved the motion.

In other action the court: Voted to purchase from the Kingsley Equipment Company a backhoe on its low bid of $16,375.

—Voted to employ an engineer to survey the road on Hays Branch in Pike-Floyd Hollow, Betsy Layne to establish the line.

—Accepted the sheriff's settlement for taxes.

—Recommended that the Department of Transportation cut the wire fence between Ivel and Tram and permit access from old US 23 to new US 23, near the property of Chester Layne.

—Authorized Road Engineer Sam Fitzpatrick to purchase gravel needed for the completion of some flood projects.

—Directed County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson to advertise for 5,000 tons of gravel.

The motion of Magistrate Bill Wells to allow the Maytown Volunteer Fire Department $2,500 died for lack of a second.

Five Trials Set In Circuit Court During the Week

With seven defendants failing to appear for trial and their bonds forfeited, and the same number of cases being dismissed, circuit court had not as it entered the second week of its session Monday had a trial.

Two cases were set for trial Tuesday. In these James Lee Hall was charged with theft, and Charlene Akers with attempted murder.

Bonds forfeited included those of Jeffery Johnson, charged with theft; Paul Sherman Mullins, first degree assault; Larry Music, selling illegal drugs; John Turner and Ruby Carol Butcher, possession of alcoholic beverages; William A. Riley and Albert Kingerly, robbery; Diana Lynn Howell, forgery, and Greg Little, third degree burglary.

Cases dismissed:

Edward J. Hall, first degree assault, subject to reocket; Ruby Lyon, theft; Stevie Allen Akers, wanton endangerment, dismissed on request of the prosecuting witness; Thomas D. Bartram, first degree assault; Franklin D. Goble, third degree criminal mischief; Kenneth Ray Lafferty, second degree assault, and Norm Thornsby, third degree assault.

The court kept going last week under the most trying conditions, with temperatures in the 90's and the central air-conditioning system out of commission. Repair of the unit had not been made Monday, but a break in the heat wave for the day favored occupants of the court.

Schools Enroll More Students For New Term

Although the enrollment in the schools of the county in the first week of the new school year was 57 below that of last year, the number of those enrolled had jumped in the third week of the current term to 203 above the 1976-'77 total, data released this week by the office of the superintendent of schools show.

Total enrollment, the first week of last year, including 120 in kindergarten, was 9,392. In the third week of this year the total was 9,631, including 213 in kindergarten.

Allen Central and Prestonsburg high schools show enrollment losses this year. Allen Central had 583 enrolled, the first week of last year, but its student body in the third week this year was at 545. Prestonsburg High dropped from 852 to 831 in the same periods.

Elementary schools which had enrollment losses are Daniels Creek, Drift, Prater, Allen, Betsy Layne, Garrett, J. M. Stumbo and the Dwale trainable class.

Betsy Layne High School had the biggest increase—from 514 to 569—but the grade school there had a loss of 27.

One Killed, Two Injured in Wreck

An Indiana man is dead and his wife remains in critical condition as the result of a three-car collision Tuesday morning on KY 114 (the Mountain Parkway), approximately two miles west of Prestonsburg. State Sen. Jim Hammond, of Prestonsburg, was also injured in the accident.

William DeRossett, 53, of Kendallville, Ind., formerly of Buck's Branch, near Martin, was pronounced dead on arrival at Highlands Regional Medical Center following the crash which occurred at about 11 a.m. His wife, Ruby, who suffered internal injuries, was listed in critical condition following surgery at the medical center.

According to State Trooper Terry Hall, who conducted an investigation on the scene, the tragedy occurred when the westbound auto driven by Senator Hammond attempted to pass the DeRossett vehicle, apparently causing an eastbound heavy duty utility-type truck driven by 18-year-old Alvin York, of Stanton, Ky. to run off the road. Trooper Hall said that, although Senator Hammond's car apparently pulled back into the correct lane of traffic "in time," the truck swerved off the road, lost control, and came back onto the highway striking the DeRossett vehicle, head-on, and also striking Hammond's car in the rear section.

York and a passenger in the truck, Jeffrey Townsend, 28, of Stanton, were uninjured. Senator Hammond suffered a shoulder injury and lacerations.

Funeral arrangements for the victim were incomplete Tuesday afternoon, it was said at the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

This Town...That World

Know when summer will be past? When the air-conditioning system begins working at the courthouse.

NOT ALL MELANCHOLY

Autumn is for most of us, including the poet, a time of "melancholy days." The death of the flowers, the stripping of the trees, and so it goes. But what season's end doesn't have its tinge of sadness? Take them, one by one, and if you try you'll find something to be happy about, too, as they pass.

The springtime bursting with life should stay, but there are those days of summer ahead for play, picnicking, fishing, family reunions, leisure, just plain loafing. And then the enjoyment of summer is lost only to the glory of autumn color, a bracing atmosphere, soft sounds, blue skies. Mourn its passing, and you forget the Christmas joys and a time when those who wandered in fairer weather are coming home.

If I had time, believe I could find enough to brace myself against the winter.

Ensemble Routed by Flood To Return Here in October

Very few people have forgotten the ravaging destruction of the Eastern Kentucky floods of last spring. And it is doubtful that the 25 members of the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra will forget those floods either.

The professional ensemble from the North Carolina School of the Arts was already quartered at Jenny Wiley State Park in preparation for presenting a concert program here when word of the advancing waters of the Big Sandy River came. They were advised to leave or be stranded indefinitely.

The orchestra left, but it will be back next month as part of the Eastern Kentucky Concert Series.

The Piedmont Orchestra, under direction of Hungarian-born Nicholas Harsanyi, was formed in 1969 with a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation. It will appear October 25, at the Prestonsburg Grade School presenting a program of instrumental music of the 17th to 20th centuries.

The concert following the Piedmont Orchestra will be the exciting All Nations Dance Company on February 21.

Members of this folk dance ensemble have performed in places ranging from Rumania to Trinidad, from Israel to New York City. The dancers themselves come from all over the globe, and will demonstrate an exotic assortment of authentic ethnic dances of their native lands.

The company promises "to give you the world" and through its dances, it does: A black-booted Russian doing the Cossack stomp, a Korean fan dance, an Arabic dance from the ancient harems... all are part of the program to be seen

Fair To Begin At Park Today

The annual display of handcrafts and livestock and the festivities associated with carnival rides and cotton candy which is the Floyd County Fair will begin today (Wednesday) at Archer Park here.

Exhibits will be entered today between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. with judging later in the evening. Flower exhibits will be displayed Friday morning with judging after 12 noon, and the livestock exhibits will be entered Saturday with judging beginning at 11 a.m.

Among the types of displays will be fresh garden produce, field crops, fruit, canned goods, foods, clothing, arts, crafts, quilts and other handwork, and a variety of special school exhibits.

Schools entering exhibits will be judged in three categories—high, grade and rural schools. Prize money of $25, $15, and $10 will be awarded for first, second and third place winners, respectively. The theme for this year's school exhibits will be Career Education.

The exhibit building will be guarded at night to insure against any theft or vandalism.

This year's carnival rides and games will be provided by the Kissell Bros. Shows.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the County Extension Office, 886-2668.

Garfield Place . . .

Lack of Money Poses Problem

The response to The Times' editorial plea last week for preservation of Garfield Place here has been wide and favorable, but how it is to be done remains an unsolved problem.

Both County Judge Henry Stumbo and Prestonsburg Mayor Harold Cooley this week expressed an interest in preserving the historic home, which is on the National Registry, but finding the money for its purchase is a problem. Federal funds are available for restoration and maintenance, at least in part.

Miller Slaying Believed Traced To Ashtray Find

Woman Jailed, Admits Shooting of Husband Last Thursday Night

Two lipstick-stained cigarette butts may have cost a Floyd county resident his life last Thursday night.

Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen said Monday that Mrs. Pearl Jean Miller, 44, of Lenoir, N. C., admitted last Thursday night, shortly after the death of her husband, Richard Byrd Miller, 46, of a revolver wound in the region of the heart, that the shooting stemmed from the discovery of cigarette butts in an ashtray at her husband's trailer-home.

Mrs. Miller was jailed on a murder count, and she was scheduled to be arraigned Monday afternoon before County Judge Henry Stumbo.

The slain man's birthday was Monday of this week, and Mrs. Miller had arrived from North Carolina last Thursday, bringing with her a birthday present for her husband. According to the statement attributed to her, she went to his trailer on the Middle Creek road before he returned from work in Martin county and there found the two cigarette butts colored by lipstick. When he arrived a bitter argument ensued.

Miller left, driving a truck, and his wife procured his .38-calibre revolver from the glove compartment of his car and followed him to the mobile home occupied by Dennis Miller, near the Clark school, the prosecutor said. She apparently arrived before her husband got inside, and began firing.

Allen said three bullets from the four empty cartridge cases in the revolver have been accounted for—one which passed through a window of the home, another which struck the side of the trailer and a third which entered the door. This third shot is believed to have been the one which first hit Miller.

The couple were involved, early this year, in a divorce action, which later was settled. Miller was superintendent of the Long Branch Coal Company in Martin county. He was a son of P. L. and Mattie Johnson Miller, of Lenoir. Survivors, besides his wife, are three children and a brother, Otis Miller, of Lenoir.

The body was taken from the Carter Funeral Home to the Miller Funeral Home in Lenoir where funeral services were conducted.

School Board Receives Part Of Flood Fund

The Floyd County Board of Education has received $533,825 of the $711,767 approved by HEW for repair of flood-damaged school properties with the exception of the Martin school, Supt. of Schools E. P. Grigsby, Jr. said following last week's meeting of the board.

The funding of the Martin school repair remains unresolved. The school was damaged by the April flood before the contractor's work had been accepted, and the unsettled question is—Shall the repair be done with HEW funds or at the contractor's expense?

Work on the several schools is being done without interruption of classwork. The work was begun at the county system's expense while promised federal funds were awaited.

Although it was not damaged by flood, the Home Branch school is undergoing extensive repair, the superintendent said. Work under way involves improving the water supply, building of new privies, painting of the two buildings and installation of new light fixtures. The superintendent said it is hoped gas can be procured for heating this winter. "We're trying to get the school so that it is adequate for the children, but it takes time," he commented.

The board employed a speech therapist, Kathleen Irene Christine, of Lexington, after a period of three years during which such service was not offered in the county schools. More such specialists are wanted here but are hard to find, it was explained.

Wildcat Strikes in August Totalled 947,300 Man-Days

Wildcat strike activity during August totalled an estimated 947,300 man-days, the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association (BCOA) said last week. In making the statement, Joseph P.

Brennan, president of BCOA, pointed to the loss of more than $18 million to the UMW Health and Retirement Funds as a result of the strike activity as "a very serious blow that has had a severe negative impact on all four Funds. This is an experience that cannot be repeated because it is absolutely essential for the mines to be working fulltime if the Funds are to meet their obligations."

Brennan also noted that striking miners had lost nearly $59 million in wages during the August strike, which generally was in protest of miners having to pay up to a maximum of $500 a year per family for health care which had previously been fully paid by the Funds.

Losses to strike activity for the year are now approximately 2,273,600 man-days or 16 percent more than the losses experienced during all of 1976, Brennan said. During August, about 8½ million tons of coal were not mined because of wildcat strikes, bringing the year's total to 21,816,800 tons, about 6½ percent more than the tonnage not mined in 1976. A chart showing losses by month for 1977 is attached.

STEAK WAS 12 CENTS PER POUND

The lowest retail price ever recorded for round steak was 12.2 cents per pound in 1894, according to U.S. Census Bureau figures.

Would Recognize Women

One of the goals of the International Women's Year is the recognition of the contributions of women to the development of our country. The National Women's Conference, to be held in November, 1977, and the state meetings for women to precede it, have been authorized by Congress (Public Law 94167) in commemoration of the contributions of American women during these past 200 years. This law was signed by President Ford in 1975.

I have been appointed by Dr. Allie C. Hixson, of the Kentucky International Women's Year Coordinating Committee, to launch the quest for information on the women who have helped to shape Kentucky's history.

We have decided to begin this search at the county level and would like to know about the women of your county. These women may be from any period in your county's past or from its present. We are interested in women who have been involved in education, community affairs, the arts, science, politics, business or public health, but we are also interested in any woman who has served your county in any capacity. A woman's contribution to history often goes unrecorded except for the oral traditions of her area. If your area has any of these oral traditions please share them.

Please include a biographical sketch of each candidate and a list of any printed source material. I will need a list of the women your county wishes to nominate within two weeks and the rest of the material within three weeks.

This is an important and long overdue project. The results could help to fill a void in Kentucky's recorded history. Please make sure that your county's women are included.

To Seek Greater Share Of Coal Severance Funds

In the 1976 Legislature Governor Carroll reduced the amount of Severance Tax being returned to the coal counties from 25 percent to 10 percent. Yet, our needs are great in almost every area of our life: housing, schools, garbage collection, recreation, and human services. Almost everybody in America knows how great our needs are. Unless we can keep more of that tax here where the coal is mined we shall be forever behind the rest of the state and nation.

It is ridiculous that we sit on some of the greatest wealth in America and let the benefits of it be taken away from us. If people in other places depend on taxes from their industries to support public services and schools, why can't we? Now, while production is high, we must claim the benefits of coal or we are losers again. We cannot continue to give away our only wealth and still think of coal as our "Ace in the Hole".

Persons and groups from East Kentucky are being invited to develop a coalition to convince the Governor and Legislature that a larger portion of the Severance Tax is rightfully ours. We believe that only a mass citizen effort can make this happen.

A meeting to get started will be held at Hazard Community College Thursday afternoon, October 6, 2 to 4.

We are inviting you to come help. Bring a friend or two. If you can't come, write to tell us of your interest. One-sixth of the state's people live in these East Kentucky counties. There are enough of us to make a difference, if we will. Nobody else will fight for us if we won't!

This is our chance to make a difference in Eastern Kentucky. Join us.

Shall Garfield Place Go, Too?

No! The Garfield House should not go. To me it is one of the few things of our town to be treasured. I, as a member of the community, have fond memories of the Garfield Place, as Mrs. Stephens took my oldest daughter and I through it once. My daughter said it was the nicest visit she had shared with Mrs. Stephens. I recently asked my son Dwayne if he had heard of the Garfield Place. With an affirmative reply, he also noted that it should be restored as another landmark of our heritage here in Prestonsburg.

While reading your editorial concerning the Garfield Place, I realized that instead of destroying it, it desperately needs to be improved and used as a display center of historical arts and crafts. You definitely have my vote to restore the house for the public now and citizens to come.

The City of Prestonsburg has truly gone downhill in preserving its beautiful and historical features through neglect and indifference from modernistic approaches. Is this what one calls progress? Prestonsburg used to be known widely for its "Garfield Place." If it is destroyed, our children will have missed one of the grandest features of this town—which could have left a warm memory of the "old home town." Let's all hold up our community history by preserving its remains.

The three panelists for the Prestonsburg debate will include: Julia May, Prestonsburg, speaking in favor of a constitutional convention; Estill Lee Carter, Prestonsburg, speaking against the question; and Laura Weddle of Prestonsburg Community College, academic panelist.

The questions to be addressed at each seminar are: Is there a need for revision of Kentucky's Constitution at this time?; Does the revision process provide sufficient safeguards for protecting the basic rights of Kentuckians and the basic framework of our state government?;

The General Assembly approved placing the Question on the November 8, 1977 general election ballot in regular session in 1974 and 1976.

Co-sponsoring the seminars with LRC are the Kentucky Jaycees and the League of Women Voters.

house. But circuit court was in recess for the day.

Other cases set for trial this week: Today (Wednesday), Ronnie Jarrell and Billy Ray Jarrell, first degree assault; Thursday, Phillip E. Osborne, possession of alcoholic beverages.

On Garfield Place

Upon reading the editorial in this week's paper concerning the preservation of Garfield Place I would like to express my opinion by saying it seems a shame that all the old landmarks are being destroyed.

I would like to see this place preserved as a memorial of by-gone days.

If there are funds for this purpose why should they not be used for it?

Both candidates for governor, Henry Ward and Louie Nunn, have promised a new bridge to serve residents of the Harold and Mud Creek sections of this county. A blast which almost demolished a home in Branham Hollow, Wheelwright, Tuesday afternoon, claimed the life of a 15-month-old child and seriously injured two others. Organization of the Mud Creek Water District has been effected and work has been initiated to provide a large section of the county with a modern water system. The formal dedication of the new Our Lady of the Way hospital will take place Sunday. Bill Hall, of Prestonsburg, last Sunday became the first Floyd countian ever to win the Paintsville Country Club golf championship. Married: Miss Gayle Watkins, of Frankfort, Ky., and Randol Stephen Pennington, of Prestonsburg, Friday, Sept. 1, at Frankfort; Miss Winnie Ann Little, of Melvin, and Dr. Daniel Craig Greer, of Mt. The worst is yet to come, food buyers have been warned in this country. The talk now is of $1-a-dozen eggs, $1-a-pound butter and meat higher even than that. The Allen Livestock Market was destroyed by fire Thursday night at a loss of $5,000. The town of Wayland, scene of new railroad development and mining activity, will get its first home glimpse of the game of football Saturday afternoon when the Wayland high school Wasps will entertain the Fleming Pirates. Ralph Wick Cook, 14-year-old McDowell schoolboy, died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, Sunday to an accidental gunshot wound suffered 16 hours earlier while hunting near McDowell. For the second time within 10 days a falling meteorite landed at Betsy Layne recently. The meteorite weighed 35 pounds, was 18 inches long, and irregular in width and thickness. According to County Attorney Forrest D. Short, indictments were returned by the grand jury this week against three men on cattle rustling charges after theft of a number of cattle from a farm owned by W. L. Stumbo, near Martin. Prestonsburg's WPA street widening program reached Court Street this week, when workers under the direction of A. J. Archer, began excavation preparatory to adding approximately six feet of pavement to the width of the street. There died: Wes Hicks, 76, Sunday at the home of a son at Mousie.

"WHY NOT LEAVE THE WEEDS? THEY HIDE THE BEER CANS!"

Washington Declares Ginseng 'Endangered'

Ginseng has been placed on the "endangered" list, and so a generations-old avocation followed and enjoyed by residents of Eastern Kentucky is endangered.

Shippers and exporters of ginseng have been notified that none is to be shipped after November 1. The federal action was taken because, it was said, the root is considered threatened with extinction. But those acquainted with ginseng say the action is "ridiculous." Congressman Carl D. Perkins will be hearing more from them soon as they seek a reversal of the stop order.

George D. Brown, who deals in ginseng here, said ginseng is in no danger. First of all, he pointed out, fewer people are walking the hills to dig, these days of high wages. Floyd county, for instance, with a population of 45,000 has not more than 150 who dig the herb.

Besides, he points out, ginseng is impervious to the threat of extinction. Its seed is so hard that the claw of no bird can digest it and so it is reseeded every year. The tiny seed is, in fact, so hard that only a blow from a hammer can crush it. (The digger of ginseng takes only the root.)

Mr. Brown tells of a time when one area was considered bare of ginseng and its residents beat Washington to it by deciding it had been exterminated there. That was on Lost Creek, Lawrence county, about the year 1915, and a thorough job of ginseng-digging had been done there. Last year, however, Oliver Setser, of Auxier, spent two days on Lost Creek and returned here with $195 worth of ginseng.

Although ginseng hunting is only for the hardy and the keen of sight and considered a "sideline," it has been a cash crop for many the mountain family, and still is. One year, for instance, $50,000 worth of ginseng was shipped from this county. It is estimated that Floyd and Pike counties now produce an average of $3,000 worth a month.

The major market for ginseng is China, where its medicinal properties are highly regarded.

RETURN TO NORTH CAROLINA

Mr. and Mrs. John Leake, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C., have returned to their home following a visit with relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. Leake were the houseguests during their stay here of his sister, Mrs. Joe DeRossett, and Mr. DeRossett, and spent some time visiting his aunt, Mrs. Katherine Stephens here, and his step-mother, Mrs. John Leake, Sr., at Staffordville. They attended the 40th reunion of the class of 1937, of Prestonsburg High School Saturday night at May Lodge.

REUNIONS HOME

Mrs. Peg Hewlett has returned to her home here following a visit with relatives in Columbus, Ohio. While there, she visited her son, Don Hewlett, and family and her daughter, Mrs. Virginia Fridley, Mr. Fridley, and children. Mrs. Don Hewlett, her daughter, Mrs. Sandy Henderson, and baby daughter, Lindsay, accompanied Mrs. Hewlett to her home here for a few day's visit.

went prospecting for gold in the western mountains, back in the 1870's, got snowed in and were missing the entire winter. Only one, a man named Alfred Packer, emerged from the mountains next spring. And he was so fat and sassy that none believed he could have survived and remained in such good condition unless he had turned cannibal.

He went on trial, charged with the murder of his five companions, and the story goes, the trial judge shed his dignity and addressed the defendant from the bench to this effect:

"You blankety-blank-blank-blank, you've gone and eat the only five Democrats in the county!"

A week or so later, a Nevada woman begged to differ with the feeling against Packer. She says the Republicans came to his defense. "Surely," they declared, "he couldn't have eaten those Democrats—did you ever try to clean one?"

THE PERSUADER

Some months ago James Morell sent me an item taken from the San Angelo Standard's old files of 1895. It told of an incident in which a well-known practical joker, one Berry Ketchum, and a bartender teamed up on a prominent cattleman who had lingered over the cup overlong and rose, next morning, with a head that he was certain did not belong to him. While he had been sleeping it off, Ketchum and the bartender had found a particularly large toad and had loaded him, a la Mark Twain, with buckshot.

Next morning when the afflicted one entered the bar, Ketchum was ready to invite him to have a drink. While the cattleman's attention was diverted, the barkeeper smuggled the frog onto the bar, near the sufferer's glass. The cattleman reached for his glass and was greeted by the sight of the frog, sitting there, solemnly blinking at him.

"Gee, where did the frog come from?" yelped the cattleman.

"What frog?" said the barkeeper. "You must be off, I don't see any frog." "Berry, you see that frog, don't you?" the cattleman asked, turning to his friend.

"I don't know what you are talking about," said Ketchum, and he and the barkeeper looked at their victim with a sorrowful, sympathizing look, which spoke a lot plainer than words.

Quickly pulling his six shooters and cocking them, the cattleman covered both of the jokers and asked them, "You see that frog now, don't you?"

They both hastened to assure him that the bar was covered with frogs.

9-County Group Gets Grant To Develop Small Companies

Gov. Julian M. Carroll and Secretary for Human Resources Peter D. Conn have announced that the Kentucky Highlands Investment Corporation, London, has received a $3.9 million federal grant to continue its program of developing permanent jobs through investments in new, small manufacturing companies.

The grant will cover a two-year period. Kentucky Highlands serves nine counties: Bell, Clay, Clinton, Harlan,

Jackson, McCreary, Rockcastle, Wayne and Whitley. Companies started through past investments include:

—Possum Trot Corporation, McKee, a wholly-owned subsidiary employing 100 people. Possum Trot manufactures stuffed dolls and toys.

—Outdoor Venture Corporation, Stearns, a tent manufacturer employing 130 people.

—Phoenix Products, Inc., Tyner, which produces fiberglass kyacks and accessories. It employs 25 people.

—Kentucky Woodcrafts, Inc., Gray Hawk, which makes black walnut and other hardwood plaques and bases for trophies. The firm has been in operation for approximately one year and his 15 employees.

—Jane Wilson, Inc., Tyner, whose five employees make expensive tapestries, pillows and other decorator items.

—American Bap Corporation, Pine Knot, a firm in operation only two months; it has 30 employees and makes sleeping bags.

—Williamsburg Hog Enterprises, Williamsburg, which buys feeder pigs and finishes them to market-size hogs. Although only four people work at the hog finishing floor, its existence means that local farmers can raise feeder pigs profitably.

Other businesses started through Kentucky Highlands loans are a day care center in Whitley City and a produce store in Williamsburg. The director of community development for the corporation, Ike Adams, estimates that businesses begun under its program will have gross sales of approximately $10 million and a payroll of $2 million for 1977. Adams says that a portion of the grant may be used to expand existing firms, but its primary purpose is to develop new companies through standard debt or equity investments.

The federal grant is from the Community Services Administration.

Statute Revision Hearing Held at Park

The fourth of eight hearings to be held in September for an initial report from the Municipal Statutes Revision Commission was held Tuesday evening at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Gov. Julian Carroll appointed the Municipal Statutes Revision Commission in 1976 after its creation by a special session of the legislature. Following the hearings this month, a final draft will be prepared for presentation to the governor and the 1978 General Assembly.

Farm Bureau Awards Scholarships

Churches Plan Help In Future Disasters

A group of local Presbyterian pastors and lay people from communities affected by the devastating floods last April met in Lexington, September 8, to confer with national and regional denominational representatives of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Individuals in the meeting shared what they had learned from their satisfying and frustrating flood-related experiences which hopefully will help both denominational bodies be more effective in responding to human need created by natural disasters in the future in this and other locations.

Concerns of the group focused on three general areas:— (1) relief efforts directed toward basic human need— food, shelter, clothing, medical care— immediately following a natural disaster; (2) long-term recovery procedures and programs for restoring community life to normal; and (3) the way in which some human practices compound the destructive impact of natural disasters.

The Presbytery of Transylvania (Union), the regional body for both denominations in Eastern Kentucky, hosted the meeting. Local representatives came from Appalachia, Va.; Williamson, W. Va.; Harlan, Phelps, Pineville, and Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Health Tip

From the American Medical Association

WHOOPING COUGH

Whooping cough is an acute infectious disease which involves the respiratory tract.

The characteristic cough accompanied by a whooping sound is almost diagnostic.

There isn't much whooping cough around any longer, but even the few cases need not happen. There is a good vaccine that prevents whooping cough.

The American Medical Association points out that whooping cough was described in medical reports as early as 1578 and occurred in epidemic form in England in the 17th century.

The organism responsible is a red shaped bacterium known as Haemophilus pertussis. It is found in the discharge coughed from the respiratory passages by a victim of the disease. The organism does not survive long outside the body and is quickly destroyed by drying and exposure to heat and sunlight.

The disease may occur at any season but is most common in late winter, spring and summer. Most cases appear at ages under 5 years. One attack usually produces immunity.

Vaccination against whooping cough is effective. Many school districts require vaccination against whooping cough and several other childhood diseases before children may enroll in school.

Symptoms include inflammation of the respiratory tract and much secretion of mucus, which becomes quite thick and sticky as the disease progresses. Coughing may be prolonged and violent and accompanied by a whooping sound. Sometimes the child may vomit after a coughing spell.

Convalescence usually begins after four weeks. Very young children are most seriously affected. Medical care, isolation and good nursing care are essential. But, most important, make certain the small children of your family are protected by vaccination against whooping cough.

The doctor most often gives the whooping cough (pertussis) vaccine along with two others—diphtheria and tetanus. The serum is known as DPT—diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus.

7 Gas Companies In Floyd County Win Rate Boosts

Increased wholesale rates charged by suppliers of natural gas has resulted in a series of rate boosts being allowed by the Public Service Commission (PSC) to companies serving Floyd county customers.

The separate PSC actions on rates follow:

—Granted Columbia Gas of Kentucky permission to raise its rates because of the increased costs of wholesale natural gas from its supplier, Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. Columbia estimates that annual recovery in gas costs caused by the supplier's increase in wholesale rates amounts to $6,498,100, an increase of about 12.3 per cent. The new monthly rates are: a minimum monthly charge of $3.40; first 1,000 cubic feet per month, $3.651, next 49,000 cubic feet per month, $2.375.

—Authorized Equitable Gas Co. to increase its rates by $34,468, an increase of about 4.5 per cent. The new monthly rate is $2.24 for the first 2,000 cubic feet of gas; the next 18,000 cubic feet at 93 cents per 1,000. Equitable, which receives its wholesale gas from the Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Co., serves customers in Floyd, Letcher, Leslie, Johnson, Pike, Perry, Lawrence, Knott and Martin counties.

—Authorized the Ohio-Kentucky Utilities, Inc., of Prestonsburg, to raise its rates because of an increase in the cost of natural gas from its supplier, Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Co. The new rates are designed to cover the increased cost of wholesale natural gas in the amount of $8,288, an increase of 4.3 per cent. The new monthly rates: First 2,000 cubic feet or less, $4.33; next 48,000 cubic feet, $1.58 per 1,000 cubic feet; all over 50,000 cubic feet, $1.44 per 1,000.

—Authorized the Mike Little Gas Co., of Melvin, to raise its rates for customers. The rate increase was requested because of an increase in the cost of wholesale natural gas from its supplier, Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Co. The increase will amount to $4,095, an increase of 4.6 per cent. The new monthly rates: First 2,000 cubic feet, $3.57 per 1,000 cubic feet; next 28,000 cubic feet, $1.68 per 1,000.

—Authorized the Auxier Road Gas Co., of Prestonsburg, to raise its rates because of an increase in the cost of natural gas from its supplier, Columbia Gas of Kentucky. The company estimated the annual increase in cost caused by the wholesale rate change would result in an annual increase of $16,759, an increase of about 9.7 per cent. The new monthly rates: First 2,000 cubic feet per month, $3.14 per 1,000 cubic feet; all over 2,000 cubic feet, $2.71 per 1,000.

—Approved rate increases for Mountain Utilities, Inc. and Bucks Branch Gas Co. The increase approved for Mountain Utilities amounts to $9,219, an increase of 10.8 per cent. The new monthly rates: First 2,000 cubic feet, $2.30 per 1,000 cubic feet; next 48,000 cubic feet, $1.79 per 1,000; all over 50,000 cubic feet, $1.67 per 1,000. The increase approved for Bucks Branch amounts to $10,569, an increase of 9.56 per cent. New monthly rates for that company are: First 2,000 cubic feet, $2.97 per 1,000 cubic feet; over 2,000 cubic feet, $2.82 per 1,000.

—Granted the Neeley Gas Co. of Melvin permission to raise its rate because of an increase in the cost of wholesale natural gas from its supplier, Columbia Gas of Kentucky. The new rates are designed to cover an estimated increase in the cost of natural gas in the amount of $3,144, an increase of about 10 per cent. The monthly minimum is $7.73 for the first 3,000 cubic feet or less. All over 3,000 cubic feet was set at $2.66 per 1,000 cubic feet.

Modern Education

By WILMAY
More than once trends in current-day education over the land have been deplored in this column. Every educator and parent should read the terrific expose on same that none can question, found in the Sept. 12 issue of U. S. News & World Report. From a recent issue of The National Enquirer, the following by Stuart Wilk is quoted in part, with permission. Its title: OUR SCHOOLS ARE SEWERS.

"America's public schools are 'sewers' that are spewing forth illiterates—but they can be restored to places of learning by applying some old-fashioned disciplines, says one of the country's top educators. 'The public schools in the U.S. are experiencing a decline unprecedented in the annals of education anywhere in the world,' said Dr. Howard L. Hurwitz, principal of Long Island City H.S. in Queens, N.Y., author of 11 books, including 8 high school textbooks. 'I believe American education is at the lowest point in history—it's never been worse. We're putting more than ever before into our school system—about $85 billion a year—and we're getting less than ever in return.

"I would say approximately one third of our students are functional illiterates—even after going through high school and receiving diplomas."

"He says a two-point discipline program is the only hope for the American public school system. 'First,' he said, 'we must remove from the classroom any student interfering with the education of others. If he's less than 16, we must put him in a small alternative school—some place with a maximum enrollment of 250. If he's over 16, I say expel him! Public schools cannot solve all the problems of society. If a kid is 16 years old and he's interfering with the education of others, he should be denied further education in the public schools.

"Second, we must concentrate on the three first grades in elementary schools. No student should advance beyond these grades who is not reading, writing, and doing arithmetic at approximately third-grade level. If we can do these two things, we'll be on a 10- to 20-year road to recovery. But we must start right away if we are to return to the time when students going to public schools were reasonably well educated. . . You have throughout the country a level of classroom discipline that is so poor that most teachers spend a good part of their time trying to keep order. And if you're trying to keep order you're not teaching anybody anything. Show me a school where the floors are dirty, kids are running around the halls at all hours of the day, and the classrooms are dirty, and I'll show you not a school but a sewer.' " End of quote from The National Enquirer.

Strong language, but the guy has some points. Many of us ordinary teachers (present and past) often said the best teachers and smallest classes should be in the first three grades. The average child who masters those usually can proceed on his own, at least with normal progress, even if he gets an occasional lazy teacher later on. It has taken two decades to convince some educators that youngsters with no desire to learn should by one means or another not be allowed to hamper the development of those who do want an education. The solution in small places is complex. As for the present situation practically everywhere, teachers, parents and society combined are responsible, and it will take all three to change the course that is proving so costly today. Though right and necessary, integration has played a role in the deterioration of standards. So has busing because children who must spend long hours riding to and from school lack adequate time for needed homework.

The President intimates that we owe the Panamanians something for having mistreated them years ago. If he fully believes in reciprocity should be not reimburse the Indians for much land taken from them at a mere pittance of its value? Must the U.S. return Louisiana to France, and Alaska to Russia? Who is fooling whom? The current big thrust in foreign affairs is just another move toward one-world government to which all Bilderbergers, Trilateralists, and One-Worlders are totally committed. They consider it the sole way to maintain peace. How sadly disappointed they will be when their vision of one-world government becomes a reality. One fifth of the U.S. members belonging to the Trilateral Commission of Japan, America, and Europe hold important offices in the present administration. For decades international leaders and money kings of the world have had plans for the next world-wide government and authority. When it happens U.S. sovereignty will be a thing of the past. It is drawing closer at roller-coaster rate, fulfilling scripture, all the while. The prophet Daniel while interpreting the dream of old Nebuchadnezzar foresaw the different world governments, four of which have passed into oblivion, Rome being the last. The Book of Revelation makes clear what people should do and not do when this horrible time arrives. We claim to believe that people should control their own governments but our leaders are continuously telling little nations what to do and not do. And America is not the only power doing this, something we would not tolerate from others!

Can't Save Your Life

WASHINGTON—A smoke detector alone is not enough to keep you safe from the danger of fire. You also need a good escape plan.

That's the word from the National Fire Prevention and Control Administration.

In Maryland, an analysis of 60 recent fire deaths showed that five of the victims owned smoke detectors.

Federal investigators said that in two cases the detectors did not work—one had never been installed, and the other had worn-out batteries.

In the other three cases the alarms alerted the occupants but two residents did not leave their homes and the third left the house, then went back in to call the fire department.

Federal fire experts urge families to rehearse what they would do in the event of a fire and have a place to meet outside so it can be determined if everyone has escaped safely.

All Floyd Teams Lost Last Week

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON

The three Floyd county football teams had a rough week-end as Prestonsburg suffered its second straight loss at the hands of Johnson Central by a score of 36 to 14. Wheelwright suffered its first loss of the season by losing to Greenup County, 46 to 6, and Betsy Layne lost to Elkhorn City, 45 to 12.

Betsy Layne, playing its second year of football but only its first of varsity competition, improves with each game. The Bobcats scored their first touchdown on a three-yard run by Donald Chaffins after Jeff Scott had set it up on a 62-yard run, and the second touchdown came on a 30-yard pass play from Jeff Scott to Rick Ferrell. Although Wheelwright lost to Greenup county the Trojans are undefeated in district play, with a 3-0 record and overall are 4-1. Wheelwright's one touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a 69-yard run by Darren Little.

This week's schedule, all games Friday night:

OBITUARY

By THELMA HICKS

A. Vincent Adams. Born September 30, 1911—died September 10, 1977, at Blackey, Ky. (Letcher county). He was the son of John and Ella Back Adams.

With much sadness I will try to write the obituary of a dear beloved husband, daddy and father-in-law.

He was married to Christine Symon Adams, June 16, 1933. To this family was born five children, one son, Kelley Vincent Adams (deceased), and four daughters including twins, Nancy E. Adams (deceased), Mary Elizabeth Stumbo, Johnnie Francis Sizemore and Georgia Ann Allen, all of Martin; two foster sons, John Symon, of Louisville, Ky., and David Symon, of Martin. He also leaves one brother, Bramble Adams, of Brownstown, Ind., one sister, Inez Howard, of Indianapolis, Ind., nine grandchildren and a host of relatives and neighbors.

He was a United Mine worker for 35 years, a good, moral and honest man who gave his family and grandchildren good advice if they'd take it. But most of all he belonged to the church for many years.

So to the children and grandchildren—do as Papaw told you and you won't go wrong. The Bible tells us a person's death is greater than birth if they die in the Lord. I believe with all my heart he is at rest so sleep on. We know he can't come back to us but by the grace of God we can all go to him.

Not our will but Thine be done.

NOTE OF THANKS

We would like to thank all who sent flowers, food, or helped in any way at the passing of our loved one A. Vincent Adams. We especially thank the ministers for their consoling words and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

Drinking by Teenagers Said Heavy

Teenage drinking has been a serious problem since Prohibition, but parents continually refuse to accept the fact that the majority of high school age children are consuming alcoholic beverages at an alarming rate.

Findings from a study conducted by Eastern Kentucky University's Traffic Safety Institute within the College of Law Enforcement has been released which indicate at least 67 per cent of Kentucky teenagers drink alcoholic beverages at least once while over 10 per cent drink from once a week to daily.

Data was compiled from a survey of 12 Kentucky high schools involving over 1,200 students from both wet and dry counties, urban and rural settings and various geographical regions throughout the Commonwealth. Codes were used to identify the schools because one provision of administering the survey was that the schools would not be identified by name.

The facts, statistics and research information gathered in this study are concerned with the teenagers of Kentucky and their use of alcohol, especially their use of alcohol as it relates to driving and highway safety.

According to Jerry L. Leber, project coordinator with the Traffic Safety Institute, "Data from this survey shows Kentucky youth represent over involvement in highway accidents by 92 percent compared with a national over involvement figure of 69 percent. This denotes a serious problem and signifies a definite problem among teenagers in Kentucky. It is a problem we definitely need to do something about.

From information obtained, Eastern's TSI, utilizing a California film company, has developed a 16 mm film titled "Dialogue About Drinking" from funds authorized by the Office of Highway Safety Programs. Made in Central Kentucky, the film was developed as part of a federal project called Youth, Alcohol and Traffic Safety designed to develop educational countermeasures to curb the incidents of teenage alcohol-related automobile crashes.

A package that includes the film, teacher's guide, brochures and educational materials will be distributed to each Kentucky high school to insure its exposure to every high school student in the state.

As expected by the research team, the survey revealed that higher drinking consumption is found among the junior and senior students. Drug use, primarily marijuana, was also found to be prevalent among the students as 40.5 percent of the respondents stated they "smoked pot" at least once a month and 23.7 percent indicated they smoked at least once a week.

Since 1924, a review of literature reveals, "every competent investigation demonstrated that the use of alcohol is a major source of highway crashes, especially violent crashes."

The U.S. Department of Transportation has reported that alcohol contributes to about 50 percent of all highway deaths, and to appreciable percentages of the more numerous non-fatal crashes. "One of the most dangerous combinations as far as highway safety is concerned is the combination of inexperience in driving and inexperience in drinking," the report says.

The 67 percent figure of drinking teenagers in Kentucky may seem to some as startling, but more shocking is the report from the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) which says 1.3 million Americans between the ages of 12 and 17 are plagued by serious drinking problems. Recent NIAAA studies have shown that 75 percent of high school students say they have consumed alcoholic beverages more than once before graduation and one-third state they drink with some regularity.

A Gallup Poll indicates the use of alcoholic beverages by young people is seen as a serious problem throughout the country. Sixty-nine percent of the people surveyed believed that students should be required to study about the effects of alcohol and other drugs, and a total of 55 percent of the public now considers alcohol a serious local youth problem.

It is a general consensus of prior studies that driving while intoxicated proves to be the number one killer of young people today. Results of the Eastern study on alcohol and/or drug use and driving related problems indicated a fairly high incidence of driving under the influence. For example, almost 17 percent of the students had been stopped by police at least once. Over five percent of the students stated they had an accident while drinking and almost three percent had an accident when using marijuana.

When asked what percentage of the time they drink after having something to drink, 37.3 percent said at least occasionally; 10.8 percent said every time, and 15.8 percent said about three-fourths of the time.

Other findings were that 39.1 percent of those surveyed said they would consume at least one drink in a two-hour period and still drive; 30 percent said they would have two or more drinks and drive; 25 percent said they would consume three or more drinks and still drive; 15 percent would consume four or more drinks (this amount would put most teenagers over the .10 percent presumptive level of intoxication); 10 percent would have five or more drinks in two hours and drive; eight percent would consume six or more drinks and drive, and five percent would have over eight drinks and still drive. A minimum of 15 percent of the students surveyed would drive while under the influence of alcohol.

From the survey data, the EKV Traffic Safety Institute concludes that the youth of Kentucky are highly involved with the use and abuse of alcohol. The survey further denotes that many of these youth drink and drive, and of the drinking drivers, one-half are classified as beginning drivers.

A second proposal has been submitted to the Office of Highway Safety Programs in Frankfort for support of this project for another year with funding for the follow-up phase. This would allow members of the Traffic Safety Institute to go out in the field and work with teachers in dealing with alcohol education problems in Kentucky's high schools.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY • COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Don't be alarmed, as many landowners have been lately, if you should happen to see several red or yellow-coated, mean-looking insects, antlike in appearance, but considerably larger, crawling around the homestead. It is not the dangerous fire ant that in recent years has invaded parts of the South and Southwest.

Don't be alarmed, but be careful. This creature has a sting more painful than that of a wasp or hornet and isn't a bit hesitant about using it. Back on the farm we used to call this creature the "cow killer." A resident of old rail fence rows and pasturefields, it often stung our dogs and livestock and while its poison was not powerful enough to be lethal, it often caused livestock to hurt themselves by running into barbed wire fences or other objects in an attempt to escape the pain of the sting.

Actually, this insect which is called "velvet ant," is not an ant at all. Instead it is a mutillid wasp and is parasitic on wasps and bees, especially of the solitary species. For some reason these insects are more active in late summer and autumn and it is only the wingless females that are seen crawling on the ground. This gives reason to believe that these females are hunting for nests of solitary bees and wasps. Once it finds a nest of one of these bees or wasps, it forces its way in, chews a hole in the host cocoon, and deposits an egg on the pupa within. The invader then repairs the hole in the cocoon with salivary material, and covers the nest back up, leaving her offspring to fatten in security on its unfortunate cell mate.

This wasp, or ant, has been with us for a long time and fortunately for hunting dogs, livestock and country people is comparatively few in numbers. They are decidedly uncomfortable to have around, and to be stung by one is to suffer exquisite pain which lasts much longer than that of a wasp. And while it is not considered to be lethal, its sting could be extremely dangerous for those allergic to insect stings.

The velvet ant is native to almost the whole of the eastern half of the United States and is about seven tenths of an inch long. The males have black wings and do not sting. It is the female that is capable of doing the damage.

A Heart Too Good To Die.

It's our guess you've never even heard of cardiopulmonary resuscitation—right? Well, there are some new lifeguards around these days. Trained by the Heart Association in a lifesaving technique called cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). You'll see them in hospitals, industrial plants, ambulances, football stadiums—even large offices. Many are doctors, but others are firemen, nurses, ambulance and rescue personnel, policemen—and just plain people. When someone's heart stops, his brain begins to die. Minutes count. Prompt application of mouth-to-mouth breathing and chest compression keeps blood flowing to the brain. CPR can restore life, or sustain it until complete cardiac care can be started. Thousands of victims of sudden heart arrest have been saved by these CPR "lifeguards." A lot is being done these days to prevent premature death. To save hearts "too good to die"—and the Heart Association is doing it. Your gift to the American Heart Association will keep us at it.

Give to the American Heart Association

$132,000 Grant to Enable College To Serve Coal Industry

Pikeville College has received notification of a grant award of $132,000 from the Appalachian Regional Commission, the Institute for Mining and Minerals Research of the University of Kentucky and the Kentucky Center for Energy Research.

Dr. Maurice Bailey, chairman of the Division of Science at Pikeville College, explained that the purpose of the grant is to establish and implement a technical assistance program for the coal industry in Eastern Kentucky.

The funds will be used to collect, analyze, store and deliver information concerning coal mining and mine reclamation. In cooperation with the Institute for Mining and Minerals Research, the faculty at Pikeville College will provide information on coal mining regulations, safety, extraction technology, and development in combustion.

"Many of the 1,400 coal companies in eastern Kentucky do not have the staff or information retrieval facilities to gather and put to use the voluminous literature pertaining to the various aspects of coal mining, processing, and utilization," Bailey commented. "Through this project, library facilities will be made available and extension services provided to deliver this information to the coal industry."

Among the specific implementation plans are expansion of Pikeville College's current mine water quality courses, establishing a land surveying course leading to licensure, installation of a computer terminal linked to the University of Kentucky and the Denver office of the U.S. Bureau of Mines and work in soil analysis.

Last week-end saw the defending champions, Francis Stores, capture their second consecutive title with wins over David, Arkansas and two wins over the home town favorite, Best-Way Food Market.

The pitching for Francis Stores was done by Carl D. Hall, Roy Conn and Everett Patton. Garland Colegrove, from Francis Stores, received the trophy for Best Defensive Player, and Larry Crum from Arkansas received the trophy for Best Offensive Player.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnett, of the Abbott road, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wells, of Spurlock Creek.

Cats Fall to Johnson Central

The Johnson Central Golden Eagles blasted the Prestonsburg Blackcats last Friday night, 36-14.

Johnson Central exploded for 20 first-quarter points, and after that the game was never close. Central opened the scoring with a 70-yard return of the opening kick. The Cats took the ball and picked up a first down, but then fumbled and JC took over. Johnson Central then fumbled and after five Prestonsburg players tried to recover it Bill Fairchild picked it up and ran it in for the second JC score, the first of his four TD's of the night. Prestonsburg then completed a 20 yard pass for an apparent first down, but a fumble after the reception gave the ball right back to the Eagles. Fairchild broke loose for his second TD on a 50-yard run and the game was all but over.

Head football coach Philip Haywood was anything but pleased with his team's performance. "I don't mind losing, but I don't particularly care to give games away on a silver platter," he said.

The Blackcats didn't help themselves at all, fumbling seven times and losing five of the fumbles. They also had two interceptions and a couple of key penalties.

Coach Haywood commented: "Defensively, to be blunt about it, we were terrible. If it hadn't been for our free safety (Paul Ackerman) they might have scored a hundred."

Prestonsburg, basically a young team and with 3 or 4 key players standing on the sidelines with injuries, definitely showed its inexperience. Coach Haywood did not completely agree, however, that inexperience was wholly to blame. He said, "I'm sure inexperience and injuries hurt us to a certain extent, but that's no excuse. We simply didn't play the way we are capable of playing. I was totally embarrassed by the whole affair."

Danny Daniels scored the Cats' first touchdown on a one-yard run in the third quarter and then in the closing moments Daniels hit tight end Jeff Burchett on a 95-yard pass play. Jack Goodman, who also had two interceptions, ran for the two-point conversion.

Prestonsburg hits the road again this week-end as they travel to Harlan to take on AAA Cawood. Cawood has a reputation for playing good football and, according to Haywood, it will be another tough game. "We certainly have our work cut out for us and we are going to have to work very hard to improve on every phase of the game," he said.

CANCER Answer line
American Cancer Society

(A regular feature, prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.)

A pet store owner asks: "Is it true that Laetrile has never been properly or fairly tested as a way of treating cancer?"

ANSWER line: Laetrile, an extract of apricot pits, has been tested by the National Cancer Institute, the Canadian Food and Drug Directorate, the State of California, and the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York City. A "proper" and "fair" test means that a substance is studied in an objective way using a variety of methods known to be valid and then cross-checking results through experiments repeated by independent scientists. Sloan-Kettering has just completed four years of such testing of Laetrile, subjecting the substance to very sensitive laboratory tests that have shown anti-cancer activity for every cancer drug now in use. The results with Laetrile were "negative in all respects to anti-cancer activity." The president of the Institute, Dr. Robert Good, made it clear in announcing these results that the research teams worked under the philosophy of "looking under every stone," to discover if Laetrile has curative powers. The answer was "No."

A retired school teacher writes: "I was very much relieved to learn that the breast lump that Mrs. Rosalynn Carter had wasn't cancer. How often does this happen?"

ANSWER line: The answer to your question is—most of the time. While many women wrongly assume that breast lumps automatically mean cancer, the truth is this: eight out of every ten breast lumps are benign, which means harmless. Women are urged to examine their breasts regularly and to see a physician if any kind of change, lump, swelling, occurs. Medical testing is the only way to determine if a lump is harmless or if cancer is present. Knowing that the vast majority of breast lumps are benign should encourage women who may be afraid to examine themselves. Please ask your local American Cancer Society unit for a free leaflet explaining everything you need to know about breast self-examination.

A carpenter explains: "When I tried cigarettes as a teenager, inhaling made me feel so sick that I never went on with it. Was I unusual?"

ANSWER line: A new report by the Royal College of Physicians in Britain (which is significantly titled, "Smoking Or Health") notes "when inhaling smoke for the first time, most people have symptoms such as palpitations, sweating, nausea and vomiting." Why, then, are there cigarette smokers? Continued smoking builds up tolerance to nicotine to the point that people can not only smoke without these effects, they can take higher and higher doses of nicotine which they do as they go from 10 cigarettes, to a pack, to two packs and upwards a day, and all too often to premature death.

Five Generations Represented

Five generations were represented among the 83 relatives who gathered Sept. 5 for the G. W. Holbrook family reunion at Ada (O.) Memorial Park. Shown in photo are Mr. Holbrook with his twin great-great-granddaughters, Amy and Angie Keasler; standing, from left, his daughter, Mrs. Letha Williams; his granddaughter, Mrs. Leatrice Prater, and great-granddaughter, Mrs. Zora Keasler. Mr. Holbrook, now 83, and a native of the Prestonsburg vicinity, has nine children, 39 grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren. A retired farmer and former Alger, O. merchant, he and his wife, Bertha Childers Holbrook, reside in Ada. His first wife, Rachel Music Holbrook, died in 1962.

The reunion, which honored Mr. Holbrook, drew relatives from Bryan, Cleveland, Lima, Harrod, Kenton and Alger, Ohio. The 1978 reunion will be held on Labor Day at Ada Memorial Park.

The First Presbyterian Church of Flemingsburg has been listed on the National Register of Historic Places, according to the Kentucky Heritage Commission staff.

Mrs. Eldred W. Melton, executive director of the heritage commission, said the church, built in 1819, is one of the oldest Presbyterian meeting houses in the state. The church, located at the northwest end of the 19th century portion of Flemingsburg, is the best-known major surviving work of local architects Samuel Stockwell and John Eckles.

Tips for Travel, Healthful Vacation

The traditional annual vacation of the American family is highly recommended by your doctor. The family needs to get away from customary home and office chores, forget day-to-day worries for a short time and generally get rejuvenated and ready to face another year.

Whether your vacation will be a short trip to a nearby lake, camping out in a national park, a plane trip abroad, or what have you, there are a few things to keep in mind that will help avoid having the holiday spoiled by illness.

Depending on where you're going, you may need some vaccination shots. Tetanus, certainly for anyone who expects to include some out-of-doors activities. Typhoid, if your journey includes areas where the water supply is uncertain. Ask your doctor about these, and possibly other immunizations.

The American Medical Association suggests that you remind yourself to use common sense about your vacation diet. Many a family trip has been spoiled by too many roadside hamburgers and soft drinks. A sound rule while driving cross-country is to eat lightly. Be cautious about heavy, rich meals, particularly if you're not accustomed to such fare at home.

Know what sort of climate you will encounter at your vacation spot and dress accordingly. It can get cold in the mountains at night, even in midsummer. Good walking shoes are important to the travel wardrobe.

If you wear glasses, take along an extra pair. Or at least a copy of your prescription. If you're taking a regular medication, make certain of your supply before you leave.

And, finally, don't overdo it. Almost no one other than a trained athlete is ready for 36 holes of golf or five sets of tennis under a broiling sun. Schedule your vacation to allow daily rest periods. Do most of the driving in the morning hours and stop for the day in early or mid-afternoon.

Your vacation should be a holiday for rest and relaxation. It should not be a grind that necessitates another vacation to rest up from the vacation.

Consumer Comments

In the past 10 years America has become a country run by credit. A person's credit history plays an important role in his purchasing power in the marketplace. In the past, however, women have found it difficult to establish their own credit records.

Even though a woman and her husband both use the same credit cards, and contribute jointly to the payment of the charged accounts, the reports to credit bureaus have always been made in the husband's name. Problems are then created when a woman finds herself in a position of needing or wanting to use credit in her own name because of death of the spouse, divorce or separation from the spouse, or for personal reasons.

The new "Equal Credit Opportunity

Act" states that as of June 1, 1977, creditors who report information to credit bureaus on how you pay your bills can be required to give both names on accounts shared by spouses. To comply with this Act, creditors are required to furnish a form with your bills asking if you want your credit information reported in both your and your spouse's names. It is especially important for married women to fill out this form so that in the event that credit is ever needed in their own names, it will not be necessary to begin the difficult task of suddenly having to establish a personal credit record.

The credit history you build up over the years is one of the most important factors creditors evaluate when extending credit. Information regarding your income, the length of time you've been at your job, and your past record of paying debts bear on your creditworthiness. The Act requires that in evaluating your application, a creditor may request and consider information about your spouse only when your spouse will be liable for the account, or when you are relying on your spouse's income or property.

Creditors have until October 1 to automatically separate accounts which are listed in both spouses' names or which are used by both spouses, or to send a notice to married couples asking if they want their files separated. This applies to all accounts opened before June 1, 1977. For accounts opened after June 1, the creditor must automatically report the credit information in both names.

The Federal Trade Commission has developed a new publication called the "Equal Credit Opportunity Act" which is available free to the public by sending a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Department 598E, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. This pamphlet also explains how the act protects against discrimination in giving credit because of sex, marital status, race, national origin, religion, or receipt of public assistance.

For more information on the Equal Credit Opportunity Act and what married women's credit rights are, write for the FTC publication or contact the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. The office has found it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write if you have a complaint. However, if you have a question or an emergency situation, call the consumer hotline number, 1-800-372-2960.

Attorney General Gives Opinion on Funds Use

Revenue sharing money allocated to a unit of local government may be budgeted and spent for any public purpose permitted by the statutes governing that government's expenditures, according to an opinion from the Attorney General's office.

The opinion, written Aug. 23 by Charles W. Runyan, assistant deputy attorney general, also states that the use of coal severance tax money allocated to a county is restricted to public or capital improvements in coal producing counties.

Schools To Provide For Handicapped

How many handicapped youngsters will enter for the first time the doors which local school districts are holding open? And, how many youngsters enrolled in regular classes will be identified as needing special education programs?

The state Bureau of Education for Exceptional Children doesn't know exact answers to these questions, yet. "But, we are working overtime to help local school districts implement the Education for All Handicapped Children Act," said Dr. Stella A. Edwards, assistant superintendent of the bureau. Effective this school year, the law requires that Kentucky's 181 school districts provide an appropriate, free education for handicapped school age children.

Last week, the bureau's 16 field consultants joined 30 members of the Frankfort staff for five days of drilling, learning and asking questions about the law. The field consultants will return to their areas throughout the state to help local school districts work out efficient ways for locating and providing educational programs for handicapped students.

Carole Kruse, director of the field consultants unit for the bureau, told the workers they will also be helping local school district work out programs for use of a recently announced state grant of $509,000, in addition to helping them plan for use of federal funds.

"What if parents disagree with the school's decision that their child should be placed in special education classes?" asked one consultant.

This is where informal conferences between parents and school personnel become a vital part of the process, answered Lois Adams, an assistant to Dr. Edwards. "However, both local school districts and parents have the right to request a hearing if the disagreement cannot be resolved to the satisfaction of parents or the school."

"During the hearing process, which may take months, the child remains in his or her existing classroom placement in the school," Adams said. "Requesting a hearing should be a last resort. Parents and local school districts should make every effort to come to an agreement informally on the educational needs of a child," she added.

The result of such an agreement between parents and the local school district, regardless of whether the hearing process is involved, will be an individually tailored program for each handicapped child, Adams told the consultants.

New State Library Site Not Certain

State Finance and Administration Secretary Russell McClure has recommended that a new state library not be built at Berry Hill where the present library is located, except as a last resort.

In a letter to Vernon Cooper, Jr., chairman of the Governor's Advisory Council on Libraries, McClure cited several problems with Berry Hill, primarily arising from its proximity to the Frankfort airport. The advisory council had proposed building the new structure at Berry Hill after a Frankfort firm withdrew its proposal to build it on a site near King's Daughters Hospital in west Frankfort.

McClure wrote to Cooper that because of the problems with the Berry Hill site, "We recommend and hope that the Council explore the possibility of other locations and that positive consideration of Berry Hill be suspended until such possible locations are exhausted."

McClure cited a memo from Edward LaFontaine, director of the state Division of Aeronautics and Airport Zoning, which said federal aviation restrictions would not allow a structure taller than approximately 46 feet to be built on the highest part of the hill.

A large part of the desirable building area on Berry Hill lies directly under the approach zone to the airport runway, McClure noted. Also, he added, "The expected increase in size, numbers and speed of aircraft will increase the hazards to people and buildings underneath, as well as the noise level."

"Because of the height restriction and the limited area of unwooded space, other than that presently occupied by the library buildings," he continued, "it is doubtful whether the facility that is needed, with its auxiliary areas for parking, loading and unloading, etc., could be constructed without destroying much of the sylvan setting the property now provides for the community, and one we feel and believe the public feels, should be preserved."

Another problem, which he said might not be critical, was that entering and leaving Berry Hill from U.S. 60 is difficult.

Finally, he said, "It is probable that if a suitable site for the Library and Archives building is found elsewhere, Berry Hill could be adapted to a use that would not require the destruction of trees or other changes in its present character."

RC&D Council Elects Officers

RC&D Council members, Ollie J. Arnett, of Salyersville, (left) and Curtis Clark, of Prestonsburg, during a discussion of the RC&D plan of action at a council meeting last week at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

The Big Sandy Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Area Council elected officers for one-year terms at its annual meeting of September 1 at Jenny Wiley State Park. They will take office effective October 1, 1977.

Elected were: Chairman, Harrison Preece, of Inez; vice-chairman, H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., of Prestonsburg; secretary, Ollie J. Arnett, of Salyersville; treasurer, Carl Maynard, of Pikeville.

The RC&D Council is composed of representatives of units of government in the counties of Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike, plus one at-large member for Martin county. The units of government represented on the council are fiscal courts, county conservation districts and the city councils of Prestonsburg, Paintsville, Pikeville and Salyersville.

Students Reminded To Report Changes

Big Sandy Area students, age 18-22, who get social security checks have several things to keep in mind this time of the year, according to Jim Kelly, area social security manager.

One of the most important things to remember is their school enrollment status, Kelly said. Most of these young men and women have been getting checks during the summer vacation period because they planned to continue their education this fall. They should report to social security if their plans have changed and they did not return to fulltime attendance, so they can avoid being overpaid.

On the other side of the coin, Kelly continued, those students who told social security last spring they did not plan to return to school this fall, but who have returned to school or college, can have their checks restarted.

There is a third group that should contact social security, Kelly added. These are the young people between 18 and 22 who became eligible for social security student benefits because an insured parent started getting social security retirement or disability benefits, or died during the summer. Their benefits can start with the month they begin attending a school, college, or university on a full-time basis, if they are unmarried and under 22.

There are other items students getting benefit checks should report, Kelly stated.

The first applies to those students who have been working for someone or for themselves and earning money. They should check their total earnings for the year to make sure they have not yet, nor will soon, go over the annual earnings test exempt amount. This is $3,000 for 1977. If their earnings are over this amount or they expect to go over it before the end of the year, they should report this immediately to social security. This way they can avoid or minimize any possible overpayment, which would have to be paid back.

The final reminder item concerns marital status. Students can generally get social security checks only if they are unmarried. Any student getting checks who has married, should report this to social security immediately.

Students wishing to make any of these reports, or anyone wishing information about social security can contact the Big Sandy Area social security office located on U.S. 23 between the Highland Hospital and Jenny Wiley State Park entrance. The hours are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and the telephone number is 886-8525.

Merchants To Meet At Library, Thursday

Subjects to be discussed will include minimum wage, bad checks, layaways, OSHA, workmen's compensation, small claims courts and related laws.

The meeting is open to all retail merchants. The discussion will be led by a staff member of the Kentucky Retail Federation. Additional information may be obtained from Bob Horton, of the R. H. Hobbs Company, who will serve as local chairman for the meeting.

FBI Places Herron On Most-Wanted List

Charles Lee Herron, one of five men allegedly involved in the slaying of one police officer and the critical wounding of another on January 16, 1968, at Nashville, Tennessee, has been added to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

When the two officers attempted to stop the car allegedly occupied by Herron and four accomplices, they were cut down by shots from a high-powered rifle. The death car was intercepted as it left a residence believed to be a gathering place for a ring of individuals suspected of cashing stolen money orders.

Herron is a black American who was born on April 21, 1937, at Covington, Kentucky. He is 5' 7" to 5' 8" tall, weighs 145 to 150 pounds, has a dark complexion, slender build, black hair, brown eyes, and may possibly have a short "Afro" hair style. He is also known to have a mustache and to wear dark tinted glasses. He has been employed as a clerk or service station attendant and has used a Social Security Number 402-44-7920.

Herron has used the aliases of Larry Brown, James Larry Butler, Lee Jones, D. A. Kimathi, Milo Ramsey, Bennie Leroy Smith, "Blood," "George," "Larry," and "Shorty."

Herron may be accompanied by three wanted fugitives, William Garin Allen II, Stephen Correlus Parker and Ralph Canady, who escaped from the Tennessee State Prison, Nashville, Tennessee, May 13, 1974, while serving a 99-year sentence for the murder of the two Nashville police officers.

All four should be considered armed and extremely dangerous. Anyone with information concerning Herron, Allen, Parker or Canady is requested to immediately contact the nearest office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the telephone number of which may be found on the first page of local telephone directories.

The heat pump. An energy-saving idea a lot of people are comfortable with. Even Uncle Sam.

The heat pump is a device that heats and cools your home. When it cools, it works like any air conditioner. But when it heats, it works more efficiently than any other electric heating system around. It captures the heat that exists in outside air, even on cold days. As a result, you can heat your home using up to one-third less electricity than other electric heating systems. This more-for-your-money, energy-saving feature has made the heat pump very popular with a lot of people. Including the federal government, whose energy agencies recommend it over other types of electric heat. Actually, we don't sell heat pumps. But, the way we figure it, every bit of electric energy that can be saved these days helps all of us.

STEPHENS FILES SUIT OVER HEARING-AID LAW

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Kentucky Atty. Gen. Robert Stephens recently filed suit in U.S. District Court seeking an exemption from a federal regulation that apparently weakens Kentucky's hearing-aid law.

Under the regulation adopted by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), there are no requirements for hearing-aid evaluations and written recommendations by a physician or audiologist before the sale of hearing aids.

Kentucky law requires such approvals for all hearing-aid buyers, but they may be waived by anyone 18 or older.

The FDA regulation, which took effect Thursday, takes precedence over state laws that differ from it.

Market To Expand For VA Purchasers

Veterans purchasing new homes with VA financing may find an expanded market available to them because of recent changes in VA procedures for builders enrolled in insured warranty programs such as the Home Owners Warranty.

The Veteran's Administration recently announced to its local offices around the country the agency's intent to recognize the inspection system under HOW and the warranty program's insurance against major structural defects in place of some requirements still in effect for non-HOW builders in order to qualify for VA financing.

Several early steps necessary to secure VA financing have been eliminated for the HOW builder, including the conditional Certificate of Reasonable Value and VA inspections.

Under the Agency's revised procedures, when the house is trimmed and the HOW builder has an eligible buyer, an application can be made for the CRV without the builder having gone through the earlier procedures for VA approval.

The ultimate effect of these changes is not known yet, but HOW officials at the national headquarters in Washington believe there are two possible benefits. Since VA approval will be simpler for HOW builders, some who might like the option of selling to VA buyers but who have resisted in the past because of the paperwork, may make more homes available to veteran purchasers.

Additionally, the changes in the VA procedures provide a new benefit to builders who are enrolled in the ten-year protection plan. This could lead to even wider participation in HOW, which is a voluntary effort at industry self-regulation.

Under the HOW program, participating builders offer new home buyers a one-year warranty against faulty workmanship and materials. During the second year of coverage, the builder warrants against defects in piping, wiring, and duct work on the systems in the home and against major structural defects. During these first two years, the builder's warranty is backed by an insurance plan, if, for any reason, he cannot or will not meet warranty obligations.

Over the next eight years, the home is protected against major structural defects through insurance underwritten by the American Bankers Insurance Company of Florida (ABIC). HOW coverage is also transferable to subsequent owners.

A simple, clearly-defined procedure for handling those situations where the home owner and builder cannot agree on what is or is not covered is also included in the HOW plan. Working through the local HOW council, which administers the program, the home owner can request that a conciliator be appointed. This neutral, third party will hold an informal meeting of the home owner and the home builder and help them resolve any differences. If either party is not satisfied with the outcome, he or she can request that the case be arbitrated through the American Arbitration Association.

In order to qualify and register with HOW, builders are screened by the local council for technical competence, financial soundness and a history of fair dealings with customers. HOW builders also agree to build according to HOW's Approved Standards. These standards generally accept the criteria of local codes, but in those instances where no code exists, HOW builders are required to build in compliance with a nationally acceptable code and utilize fee-inspectors. To assure continuous high quality building practices, builders must re-register each year.

In the three-year experience of the HOW program, over 200,000 new homes have been enrolled under the plan's extended protection by 5,700 registered HOW builders.

Currently, 98 local and statewide HOW councils administer the 10-year protection throughout the country.

Royce 40 CHANNEL

Royce CB 648
40-Channel
Mobile CB Transceiver

$38

SALE PRICE EFFECTIVE WEDNESDAY SEPT. 14 THRU SUNDAY SEPT. 18

With Purchase Of Any Antenna

IF NO ANTENNA PURCHASED SALE PRICE IS $48

Phase Lock Loop (PLL) circuit on the Royce CB 648 is just one reason why it performs like much higher-priced CB's!

Royce introduced PLL to CB. So to insure you big CB performance on the 648, we integrated it into the circuitry. PLL keeps you dead-center on frequency, on all 40 channels.

You never have to guess how much incoming signal strength or power output you have, when you operate the 648. Large S-RF meter gives you a fast, accurate read-out.

Get A P. A. system at the touch of a button! Just push the convenient PA-CB switch.

Receiver is silenced between calls with the fully variable squelch control.

Get terrific reception with the deluxe dual conversion receiver.

Get good receiving range with the tuned RF stage. Use it in any vehicle because of positive or negative ground operation.

Remarkable clarity is possible on the 648 because the speaker is just as big as ones the larger CB's have — a full 3".

And so much more! A metal type RF device, rather than plastic found on many CB's. Full-size, plug-in microphone. Vinyl covered metal cabinet is good-looking, will stand up, and is highly resistant to scuffs. On-off volume switch. Plus — jacks on rear panel for external speaker and P.A. speaker.

Report Is Asked on Leasing vs. Buying

The joint interim Appropriations and Revenue Committee in a meeting recently agreed to ask finance Secretary Russell McClure to submit a report on the financial effects of leasing versus buying buildings for state use.

The committee also agreed to ask for a list of buildings currently being leased by the state and the cost per foot of such buildings, along with a list of buildings now under construction or proposed to be constructed which the state will eventually lease.

In addition they asked the Legislative Research Commission (LRC) staff to prepare figures on the cost of privately leased space.

The requests were in response to a letter from Rep. Arthur Schmidt (R-Campbell County) which asked that the committee look into the lease that had been proposed for the new library building in Frankfort. This lease has been already canceled.

Space is leased by the state when there is no money appropriated for construction of a building.

In other action the committee agreed to ask the state Attorney General to look into the legality of the state keeping taxes paid on "lemon" cars, after a dealer refunds money paid for the car. This was in response to a letter from a Murray man who had bought a defective car. While the dealer had refunded his money, the state refused to refund the $300 Kentucky Usage Tax.

The committee also heard a report on the current status of estimated tax revenue. After hearing the report, Rep. Joe Clark (D-Danville), chairman of the appropriations committee, noted that at this point the budget might be sufficient to meet the growth of existing programs but not for any major new programs.

Your corporation can buy your life insurance with tax deductible dollars.

Advantages both ways. It's good for the corporation regardless of size, because the premiums for life insurance on corporate-owners, executives, key employees... all employees... are tax deductible as a business expense under a recent government regulation. So the employee gets the benefit of increased compensation, up to $50,000 in term life insurance purchased by the corporation, with no current income tax liability for either party! The employee can even have permanent life insurance, retain the cash values and benefits, and pay only the tax on the premium. It's a good concept.

Now, all you need is a little help to do something about it. Kansas City Life, The Lioness, would like to introduce you to one of our people who knows the ins-and-outs of this new concept.

Our people have a Concept 79 Planning Kit which provides you with an easy way to understand and plan this new benefit program for you and your employees.
