

Turn to Deep Mining Seen with New Law

Strip Mine Law Effective Feb. 3 Causes Concern

A marked shift from surface to deep mining is expected in Eastern Kentucky by next February when new federal strip-mining regulations go into effect.

Some industry representatives say that the day of the small strip-miner will be past with the enforcement of the new law and that only larger firms financially able to buy necessary machinery and do extra work to comply with the regulations will be able to operate.

Others point out, however, that the return to deep mining will employ more workers and at the same time maintain coal production at a high rate.

Hundreds of smaller tracts of land, they say, may be mined by "small" miners in this way if they can find financial backing.

Still others claim that the higher cost of reclamation under federal guidelines will be justified by the higher price of coal.

Numerous industry representatives attending a seminar in Louisville last week on the new regulations closely questioned members of the task force that drew up the proposed rules and asked for more time to comply with the law.

But members of the Implementation Task Force of the Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement warned that the Congress considered but rejected a proposal to delay implementation of the law.

The law, signed by President Carter on Aug. 3, sets minimum standards for reclaiming strip mining sites. The law governing the nation's 4,000 strip mines goes into effect Feb. 3.

"It appears to us that the Congress didn't give us an option" to delay implementation of the law, said Richard Hall, a member of the task force which wrote the proposed regulations.

Hall said that even if strip mine operators were unable to obtain necessary equipment to meet the stan-

Court Voids Order For Receivership

Last Tuesday's Floyd circuit court order appointing William L. Wells, of Auxier, receiver for the Auxier Water Company was rescinded this week on oral motion of the plaintiff in the action, the Prestonsburg Utilities Commission, after the company had fully satisfied the commission's claim of more than $54,000 for water sold the Auxier firm.

In ordering dismissal of the action Circuit Judge Hollie Conley directed the postmaster at Auxier no longer to deliver water company mail to Wells as receiver.

Newsome Sues Church Housing For $1½ Million

John Henry Newsome, who is serving a 15-year prison term at LaGrange reformatory for the slaying here of Gerald McBrayer, last Thursday filed suit in the Floyd circuit court asking for himself and his three daughters a total of $500,000 damages from the Church Housing Association in whose property they resided at the time of the slaying.

He claims $30,000 for damages suffered by his daughters, $15,000 for himself and $5,000 for loss of personal property.

Newsome and two of his daughters, Barbara and Gloria Faye, were convicted last February of first degree manslaughter. The girls, both juveniles, were committed to the Kentucky Youth Authority.

The petition was filed by Newsome as a pauper and was not prepared by an attorney. He alleged:

—That the Church Housing Association unlawfully procured a summons and complaint against him and his daughters while they were living in the Highland Heights housing project and kept them from returning to their home, Apartment 24, which was leased from the defendant group.

—That defendants claimed plaintiffs unlawfully killed McBrayer, "found plaintiffs guilty before the court ever sat in judgment," and turned the people against them.

—That CHA unlawfully violated his lease and the constitutional rights of plaintiffs under the Civil Rights Act by breaking the lease.

(Allegations made in the filing of a damage suit do not include defendants' side of such cases.)

Fiscal Court Orders Action On Overcharges

Following up on its recent order setting the top monthly fee to be paid by customers of television cable systems at $5, the Floyd fiscal court Tuesday authorized the county attorney to file suit against any TV franchise owner who is overcharging on rates.

The idea, the order indicated, is to get customers' money refunded if they have been overcharged.

Television franchises otherwise claimed considerable attention during the session. Jim Dotson was granted exclusive franchise for a cable system serving Spurlock Creek and Conley Fork, and Curt Reed Burchett was permitted to continue operation of a system serving a motor court. Purchase by Lowell Conley of the cable system operated by Sidney Bailey in the Eastern area was approved.

Other TV system sales approved included one dated Dec. 30, 1975, that of Fred Newsome to Ivan Boyette. Other sales by Boyette, Bertha Cole and Fred Newsome to Tel-Com, Inc., of Harold, were approved.

The court requested the Floyd County Health Department to make an inspection of the open sewer situation at

WE QUOTE

I absolutely refuse to take a stand in the matter, but Clifford Wright says I may quote him: We will return to "slow" time Saturday midnight.

WEATHER NOTE

Hope I'm not giving the annual Red, White and Blue Day the "kiss of death," but can't resist noting that fair weather has prevailed for the day, these past eight years. In contradistinction, it begins clouding up as soon as the Floyd County Fair catalogs are distributed.

WE'LL PLAY IT SAFE

The rules for Hallowe'en observance locally forbid anybody 12 years of age or older to wear a mask. Watt Hale and I have decided to play it safe and not go out at all, mask or no mask. This decision was reached when Watt recalled the time when a certain yokel ventured forth at Hallowe'en and promptly got himself crested by the village constabulary for wearing a mask when, in reality, it was the poor fellow's natural ugliness that had horses shying and children taking to their heels.

I STAND CORRECTED

Site Access Problem May Be Near Solution

The situation which has for several years stalled development of an industrial site at Cliff apparently is being unraveled with the proposed location of Highland Heights, a 94-unit housing project of the Church Housing Association here, on a part of the acreage.

The site has frequently been eyed by industrial developers who found it attractive, but the lack of an adequate highway access stood in the way. At the same time, the state refused to invest funds in the highway access until an industry was located there to justify the outlay.

Location of the housing complex there may have broken the deadlock.

This week, County Judge Henry Stumbo announced that the office of William Short, secretary of the Development Cabinet, Frankfort, had informed him that a total of $240,000 has been approved for the access road—$168,000 by the Appalachian Regional Commission and $72,000 by the state.

Meanwhile, the City of Prestonsburg and Floyd County jointly served second notice this week of intent to request from HUD $500,000 of Title I funds for a variety of purposes, including the access road. Other purposes for which the funds are planned include these:

—Acquisition of a 12- to 15-acre site on Abbott mountain for the development of 40 homes for those of low and moderate incomes.

—Later use of Community Development funds to extend road access, water and sewer lines to the development.

—In connection with the Community Development effort to rehabilitate the Old Lancer neighborhood to ask disaster funds to extend this effort to include West Prestonsburg, Martin, Allen, Emma, Betsy Layne and Harold.

—Make available rehabilitation loans to both businesses and private owners who desire to repair their property to meet minimum standard adopted jointly by city and county.

—to make available rehabilitation grants to those of low income, the elderly and handicapped in cases where it is essential that such an individual's home be brought to minimum property standards and where additional federal and state funds are not available.

—A rehabilitation grant to be made available to the Highland Heights housing project.

Drawdown of Lake To Begin Nov. 1st

The annual five-foot drawdown of Dewey Lake will begin next Tuesday, Nov. 1, Dean Murray, reservoir manager, announced last week.

By Nov. 30 it is expected that the lake level will be lowered from its summer pool stage of 650 feet to 645 feet.

Many boats docked at the lake will be removed with the drop in the water.

Week's Arrests

Major arrests within the week follow, including charges filed and arresting officers:

Alex Wicker, third degree sodomy, booked by Deputy Sheriffs Ed Isaacs, Randall Lewis and R. Boyd; Darrell Melvin, drunk driving, by State Trooper Cantrell; Vernon Hall, eluding Wheelwright police and reckless driving, by Danny Bryant; Steve Knight, destroying private property and resisting arrest, by Allen Policeman Virgil Conn; Larry Hobson, drunk driving, by State Trooper Don Weedman; Walker Newsome, operating a vehicle on suspended or revoked license, by State Trooper Stephens; George P. ### Bids on Extension Of Sewer Line Set To Serve Hospital

Bids on construction of a six-inch sewer line extension from the new Kentucky Army building on US 23 to a point opposite the Highlands Regional Medical Center will be opened by the Prestonsburg Utilities Commission next Wednesday.

Because the project was declared an emergency by Secretary Russell McClure, of the Kentucky Department of Finance, a contract will be awarded without advertising for bids. Specifications and invitations to bid were mailed, however, to all five of the firms which submitted bids on the sewer from the Prestonsburg system to the army.

Cost of the project will be paid out of coal severance tax funds. The extension will consist of approximately two miles of force main.

If an acceptable bid is received, the work may be completed by Jan. 1, Bill Harvey Howard, utilities superintendent, said.

Bid by McGuire Lowest Offered On City Project

$685,940 Price Tag Set on Construction Of Municipal Building

Tom O. McGuire, Prestonsburg contractor, is the apparent low bidder on the construction of the Municipal building proposed for Prestonsburg to house all city offices and departments.

His bid, one of five opened last Tuesday afternoon, asked $685,940 for the work.

Other bids offered:
Tri-State Builders, Huntington, W. Va., $739,000; James A. Coleman, Paintsville, $745,155; Gold Key Builders, Dayton, O., $784,400; James N. Gray, Glasgow, Ky., $793,218.

If the McGuire bid is accepted, as expected, work would begin on or before Nov. 23, with the completion date nine months from that time.

The Economic Development Administration (EDA) earlier this year earmarked $729,000 for the project. The two-story structure will be built on the former Stephens estate property on North Lake Drive.

Bids on the Wheelwright swimming pool and Archer Park tennis court improvements were received last week but will not be opened by the Floyd County Economic Aid Board until Friday, it was said by Marvin Crider, Jr., architect. The Wheelwright work will include remodeling of the swimming pool filtration system and replacing the bath-house roof. The Archer Park improvement would consist of tennis court surfacing and lighting.

Former Resident Killed by Auto

Mrs. Shirley Hager Meade, 57, administrator of the Louisa Medical Center and a former resident of Prestonsburg, was killed last Friday by an automobile in Acapulco, Mexico.

The body arrived Monday at the Heston Funeral Home, Louisa, but funeral arrangements were not complete at that time.

Mrs. Meade was vacationing in Acapulco with four other Louisa women at the time of the tragedy. From these came the report that they had checked out of their hotel and were taking a taxicab to the airport for their return home when Mrs. Meade turned and crossed the street. When she did not return her companions went to a point on the street where a crowd had gathered, there to find that she had been killed by a car.

She was a daughter of the late Rev. J. C. and Edna Sizemore Hager and attended high school here, staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Flora Sizemore. At the time of her death she was a candidate for Louisa city council. Mrs. Meade was a Democratic party leader in Lawrence county, a teacher in the Sunday School of the First Baptist Church at Louisa, was a past president of the Louisa Woman's Club and director of the Heart Fund and Cancer Crusade campaigns in the county.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Betty Cook, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Judy Mantenfel, of Cincinnati; three brothers, Arthur Hager, Kansas City, Kans., Charles F. and James R. Hager, of Louisa; and sister, Mrs. Florine Hampton, of Louisa, and three grandchildren.

Estimated 18,000 Attend 8th Red, White and Blue Day

The rum-a-tum-tum beat of the drums was heard by an estimated 18,000 persons who gathered here Saturday for the eighth annual Red, White, and Blue Day celebration.

High point of the day was the parade with bands from 16 schools in the area, 23 floats, units of the color guard from Morehead State University, Pikeville and Paintsville. Shriners from Ashland and Lexington lending a slightly zany, rambunctious touch, plus contestants in the Red, White and Blue beauty pageant and their escorts.

The day's events began at 10 Saturday morning at the Municipal parking lot with the invocation given by the Rev. W. D. Jagers. Following the flag-raising and playing of the National Anthem, Mayor Harold W. Cooley gave the welcoming address. Sgt. Shepherd, of the Pikeville Army Recruiting Office, was the principal speaker.

Prior to the parade, the Goins Brothers and other Bluegrass and country groups provided toe-tapping entertainment.

Winners of the Red, White and Blue pageant were:

Little Miss Red, White and Blue, Sarah Gullett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gullett, of Wheelwright, escorted by Todd Bailey, son of Mary Jane Bailey, of Wheelwright; Junior Miss Red, White, and Blue, Linda Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hershell Short, of East McDowell, escorted by Barry Spurlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Spurlock, of Printer; Miss Red, White, and Blue, Liz Hamilton, daughter of Pay Hamilton, of McDowell, and Dorothy DeRossett, of Prestonsburg, escorted by Stevie Newsome, son of Mr. and Mrs. Town Newsome, of Ligon.

Winning float in the school division was Mayo Vocational School, Paintsville, with second place going to Betsy Layne High School art department. In the miscellaneous group, Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce's float won first place, and second place honors went to Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The end of a perfect autumn day was marked by square dancing led by the Hoedown Island Dancers Saturday evening.

Red, White, and Blue Day almost became a week-end celebration this year, beginning with Friday evening's beauty pageant and concluding Sunday with an afternoon concert by Marlow Tackett and the Southern Comforts.

"The Old Chairmaker." 83-year-old Dewey Thompson, will leave his Sugar Loaf home soon where his building of a "better mousetrap" has caused hundreds to beat a path to his door. In failing health, he will go to Columbus, O. to live with his children.

Mr. Thompson will be guest of honor at open house to be held at David by the David Crafts Center from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 30. His friends are being invited to attend.

The chairmaker's craft, involving the selection, seasoning and shaping of the wood, the stripping of bark and its use in fashioning attractive and lasting chairs, was the subject of a 20-minute film "The Chairmaker," produced by Appleshop of Whitesburg and shown over educational television in recent months over the nation.

Mr. Thompson has lived on Sugar Loaf the last 13 years, moving there from Buffalo Creek. Hundreds of visitors from a wide section of the country have visited his home to watch him at his work and to buy chairs.

The first triplet births at the Pikeville Methodist Hospital in several years were recorded Sept. 23 with the arrival of the Morgan triplets, two girls and a boy, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Anthony Morgan, of Harold. All are doing well. Mrs. Morgan is the former Sheila Lewis who at one time was employed at the hospital. The Morgans have two other daughters, Rita and Tracy, both at home. First of the triplets to arrive was Ronald Anthony, II, at left, who was born at 11:10 a.m. and weighed six pounds, 8½ ounces. In the center is the smallest of the three, Brandi Renee, who was born at 11:14 a.m. with a weight of three pounds, 15 ounces. Brooke Razell, the other girl, weighed six pounds, 10 ounces when arriving at 11:12 a.m.

One-Day Workshop On Learning Phases Slated Here Nov. 17

A series of one-day workshops on character education and global perspectives in education will be held between October 25 and November 18 in the area development districts of the state. In this area the workshop will be held Nov. 17 at Prestonsburg Community College.

The social studies instructional supervisor in each district and one social studies teacher from each elementary, middle and high school have been invited to participate in the workshops. Character, or values, education is a mandated program in the school and a written plan is necessary for accreditation.

Global education and character education often walk hand-in-hand, according to Helen Worthington, social studies consultant for the Kentucky Department of Education (KDE).

"Schools cannot ignore the need to develop education with a global perspective, since it is a fact that we now exist in a highly interdependent and conflict-ridden world," Worthington said.

The workshops are "an effort to provide social studies teachers with practical classroom materials to revitalize citizenship education in Kentucky," Worthington said.

2nd Legal Notice
NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS
Prestonsburg-Floyd County
Section 407 Disaster Program
APPLICANT:
The City of Prestonsburg,
Floyd County
c-o Mrs. Anna Jean Tackett
P. O. Box 31
Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653
(606) 886-2336 ext. 263

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES,
GROUPS, AND PERSONS:
On or about Sept. 30, 1977, the City of Prestonsburg will request the U.S.
Department of Housing and Urban Development to release Federal Funds totaling $500,000 under Title I of the Housing and Community Development
Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) to be used for the acquisition of a 12 to 15 acre housing site, extension of water and sewer facilities, curb and street repairs, and rehabilitation grants.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION
The City of Prestonsburg and Floyd
County intend to conduct a rehabilitation program within the areas devastated by the April 4, 1977, flooding of the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River. The project activities include the acquisition of approximately 12 to 15 acres of Abbott
Mountain to be used for the development of 40 to 45 low and moderate income housing units with HUD funds. An access road to serve 94 units of Section 8 New Construction at the Cliffside Site and an industrial area will also be constructed in combination with Kentucky Department of Transportation and Appalachian Regional Commission Funds. Community Development Funds would then be used to extend this road and water and sewer lines up to the Abbott Mountain site.

In connection with the Community Development effort to rehabilitate the Old Lancer Neighborhood in Prestonsburg
the Section 407 Disaster Application extends this effort to include the neighborhood of West Prestonsburg, the community of Martin, and the unincorporated areas of Allen, Betsy Layne,
Emma and Harold. Section 312
Rehabilitation loans will be made available to both businesses and residents of the area who desire to repair their property to minimum property standards as adopted by the City of Prestonsburg and Floyd County. Through the Section 407 Disaster Application rehabilitation grants will be made available to low income, elderly and handicapped where it is essential that the house be brought up to minimum property standards and where additional Federal and State Funds are not available. Also a rehabilitation grant will be made available to the Highland Heights housing project, owned by the Church Housing Association, a non-profit private housing corporation. (Rehabilitation aid to this non-profit corporation is not available through the FDAA regulations for the 20 flood damaged units.) Rehabilitation grants will be issued in accordance with the criteria adopted by the City of Prestonsburg and Floyd County for flood damaged structures. This rehabilitation efforts combined with the new construction of Section 8 housing and the New Section 202 housing project, should provide a comprehensive approach to dealing with the housing needs created by the April 4, 1977, disaster.

An Environmental Review Record
respecting the project has been made by the City of Prestonsburg which documents the environmental review of the project. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying, upon request, at the Prestonsburg
Housing Authority, Floyd County
Courthouse, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.
The City of Prestonsburg-Floyd County will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) under Title I of the Housing and Community Development
Act of 1974.
The City of Prestonsburg-Floyd County is certifying to HUD that the City and Harold W. Cooley, in his official capacity as mayor, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the City of Prestonsburg-Floyd County may use the Block Grant funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases: (a) That the certification was not in fact executed by the Chief Executive Officer or other officer of applicant approved by HUD;
and, (b) that the applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process. Objectives must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to the Department of Housing and Urban Development, 601
South Floyd Street, Louisville, Kentucky
40201.
Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after November 1, 1977, will be considered by HUD.

Cemetery Suit Threatens Cut-Through

Litigation surrounding the removal of the grave of a leader in the famed Hatfield-McCoy feud threatens Pikeville's Civic Center project and the mammoth $40 million cut-through work there.

A letter was received last week from the Department of Housing and Urban Development advising the city to stop property acquisition for the riverfill portion of the cut-through project, at least until a suit now pending is settled.

A request for an injunction against the riverfill is included in a lawsuit primarily concerned with protecting the historic Dils cemetery where Randall McCoy, of the legendary Hatfield-McCoy feuds, is buried. The cemetery is to be moved about 200 feet to make room for the Civic Center complex.

"As things now stand, the entire project is at a virtual halt," Mary Lou Draughn, director of Pikeville's Model City program, said.

Plans for the riverfill involve filling in that portion of the Big Sandy River which passes through town with waste from the excavation of the cut.

Miss Draughn said she could not understand why the riverfill project was included in the cemetery suit, which was filed in U.S. District Court three months ago by 11 Pike county residents.

"The riverfill in no way touches or affects the Dils site," she said.

But John Forsyth, a Pikeville resident close to the group which filed the suit, said that no satisfactory feasibility or environmental study had been done regarding the riverfill.

He said it was feared that sewage from towns upstream would tend to pool in the small recreational lake that is part of the project.

"Then we'd have one big septic pool right here in the middle of the city," he said.

He said the group included the riverfill in the Dils suit because "we didn't see any point in having three or four or five lawsuits going at once."

Miss Draughn said the letter from HUD only confirmed a policy the city had been following for several weeks.

"We had already stopped acquiring property," she said. "If we went ahead and then lost the suit, the city would be responsible for repayment of any money we had spent."

Bob Johnson, executive director of Pikeville's Urban Renewal and Community Development Agency, said if the riverfill is halted permanently the cut-through itself could be in jeopardy.

"It's a chicken and egg sort of thing," he said. "If we can't acquire the land (for the riverfill), there's no place we can put the waste yet to be removed from the cut."

Johnson said nearly 5 million cubic yards of dirt and rock remain to be removed from the cut, which will serve to reroute the flood-prone Big Sandy away from the city.

The diversion of the river was originally scheduled for the fall of 1979, he said.

A hearing has been scheduled for Oct. 28 in Pikeville to hear arguments in the case.

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT of Labor reports that when there is a difference between federal and state garnishment laws, the provision that gives greater protection to the employee prevails.

THE ADAGE, "from soup to nuts," contains good dental advice, the November Reader's Digest reports. The theory is that a flow of alkaline saliva acts as a buffer against any acid formed by plaque from ingested sugar. Salted peanuts, for example, stimulate a flow of the protective saliva, contain little readily fermentable carbohydrates and are not strongly acid. So it's a good idea to polish off your meal with a small snack of nuts.

State Agency To Foster
Labor-Management Accord

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Julian M. Carroll today announced the formation of the Office of Labor-Management Relations within the Kentucky Department of Labor.

The Governor also announced the appointment of Charles E. McCoy as director of the new office, which is designed to expand the state's labor mediation and conciliation services.

"A good labor and management relationship is essential to the development of a sound economic future for Kentucky," Gov. Carroll said.

"We have formed the Office of Labor-Management Relations to bring state government closer to our business sector so that we can help to develop viable solutions to the problems that face us."

"Not only does a good labor-management climate affect our existing industry, it affects our efforts to attract new industry. And we must have this favorable labor-management atmosphere to enable us to achieve the ultimate goal of my administration—providing jobs for every Kentuckian capable of working," the Governor said.

Labor Commissioner James Yocom said the new agency will work with labor and management "to help settle situations before they become major disputes."

The purpose, Yocom said, is to "head off trouble before a strike occurs. Strikes result in lost wages and, thus, have a detrimental effect upon our state's economy. The Office of Labor-Management Relations will work to head off unnecessary strikes."

McCoy is a native of Grant County and has been with the Department of Labor since 1964. He has served as labor standards inspector, regional supervisor and assistant director.

For the past four and a half years, McCoy has been director of the Division of Labor Standards and has provided mediation assistance to parties with labor disputes.

"Mr. McCoy brings to the position a thorough knowledge and experience in the field of labor-management relations which will provide a much needed service both to labor and management," Yocom said.

"McCoy is one of the most talented mediators in Kentucky."

McCoy, a resident of Owenton, is past president, vice president and director of the Interstate Labor Standards

Association and currently is a member of the Association of Labor Mediation Agencies and the American Arbitration Association.

A graduate of Grant County High School, he also attended the University of Kentucky, Kentucky State University and the University of Maryland.

YOU WON'T BE able to synchronize your watches by atomic time for many years to come, but scientists have been doing so since 1972. Instead of using the movement of the stars, according to the November Reader's Digest, Coordinated Universal Time is being kept by an atomic clock in Paris based on the average of atomic-clock readings from 18 timing centers around the world. The clock is so accurate that it could run for more than a quarter-million years without losing or gaining a single second.

Important To Report
1977 Farm Acreage

"Due to the number and complexity of changes in farm programs triggered by the new farm act (The Food and Agriculture Act of 1977), some of the details of the new programs will not be available as soon as we and area farmers would like. But, we do expect to be making an announcement concerning proposed farm program rules very soon," so states Cynthia Duncan, chairperson, Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee—the agency within the U.S. Department of Agriculture charged with administering federal farm programs. "Farmers are quite naturally interested in getting program details resulting from the new farm act as soon as possible, since some of the changes will also affect some crops planted and harvested in 1977, as well as crops covered during the four-year life of the new law," Duncan said. "We are currently gearing up to make wheat deficiency payments, which were generally increased by 43 cents per bushel for 1977 crop wheat by a provision of the new law. The process can only work just so fast with so many changes, and we hope farmers will be patient with us for the short time it will take from the signing of the law until the new regulations are developed," Miss Duncan added.

"The law has some new wrinkles that have to be ironed out," she said. "For example, the law requires us to establish the 1977 acreage on each farm which is normally used for the production of crops—Normal Crop Acreage (NCA)—a term farmers will be hearing a lot. County and State ASC Committee members are very much a part of the process being used to determine program rules on NCA. This is one reason it's important that farmers report their 1977 crop acreage to their ASCS county office, if they have not already done so," Duncan stated.

"While the details of the 1978 Agricultural Conservation Program have just been announced, practices in addition to the wide range of national practices may also be developed at the local level to meet specific pollution or conservation problems. This is another indication that farm programs will be based more on local situations and on solving local problems," she said.

"The economic and environmental impacts of the new farm program rules must also be determined as a part of the process of making the rules. The local input and public scrutiny may tend to slow the process of getting out final rules and regulations, but will help assure ASCS and the farmers we serve of having solid, meaningful programs for American agriculture," Duncan concluded.

November, Wind Month

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD
UK College of Agriculture

In temperate regions November is a month in which Mother Nature seems to be holding her breath. For the time being, at least, farm work is at a minimum, the harvesting season is largely over and crops are secure in the barn, haymow, pantry and cellar. The fields are barren and shrill, gusty winds whirl dead leaves along the ground like scurrying spiders. Autumn seems over and winter has not quite begun. The Anglo-Saxons who had a way of naming things simply and picturesquely, called November the "wind month." They also called it the "blood month," probably because this is the traditional month for slaughtering farm animals for the winter supply of meat.

November is a winter month and a time for winter indeed. It is time for lights to shine out early on gray afternoons, for houses to be close and warm. It is for this time that all the year's work has been performed—the apples packed away in the cellar, the corks of kraut put down, the vegetables layered between earth and straw in the garden corner, the corn gathered, the barn loft crowded with hay and fodder and huge piles of golden pumpkins glorifying the barn shed.

November is the month country people once yearned for—they longed for the snows to come so that they might feel the fatness of the land and experience that great comfort of the preparation for it.

In November the late mown hayfields lay brown and dying ferns by the roadsides are brittle to the touch. Blue haze stains the sky and the sun drops over the western hills in a blood red glow. Moonlight is of a richest yellow, casting strange shadows upon the land and from far away in the stillness of the night comes the stirring call of skeins of wild geese winging their way down the sky.

November is one month to which the Romans never troubled themselves to give a name. They simply called it the "ninth month" because that was originally its place in the year. From the Latin word "novem," meaning nine, came its present name.

Later when two extra months were added, November became what it is today, the 11th in the series, but the name was never changed. July was named for Julius Caesar, August for Augustus Caesar, and as a story goes, a subservient Roman Senate offered to call the eleventh month after Tiberius Caesar, but he declined the honor by asking:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, various groups and governmental agencies in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, have requested that the City take steps to control the celebration of Hallowe'en, and

WHEREAS, it is obvious that some control of this holiday must be instituted to protect the rights and property of our citizens,

NOW, THEREFORE, the Mayor of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, proclaims this following limitation of the celebration, of Hallowe'en in Prestonsburg, Kentucky:

- 1. The practice of trick-or-treat is limited to one (1) night only, Monday, October 31, 1977.
- 2. No one over the age of 12 years will be permitted to wear a mask of any kind.
- 3. A curfew of 9 p.m. is hereby imposed on all persons engaged in trick-or-treat celebration.

HAROLD W. COOLEY
Mayor, City of Prestonsburg, Ky.

EXCHANGE PULPITS

It was Pastor-Exchange Day at the United Methodist Churches throughout the area last Sunday. The Rev. Walter Applegate, pastor of the First United Methodist Church here, delivered the message at the First Methodist Church, Paintsville, while the Rev. Graham Abbott, pastor of the church there was the guest speaker at First Methodist.

"What will you do if you have 13 Caesars?"

The number of days in the month has not been so constant. Originally, there were 30, then 29, again 31, but from the time of Augustus, it has had 30 days.

In the United States, the outstanding festival of the month is Thanksgiving and fortunate is the city dweller with friends or kinfolks owning and living on farms in the country. There is no better place to spend Thanksgiving than down on the farm, especially a farm with hunting territory on it. The thing for a city dweller to do therefore is to wangle an invitation to spend the holiday with some of these friends, go rabbit hunting in the morning and return at noon to the drowsy warmth of the farmhouse redolent with the wonderful odors of an old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner.

With farm work temporarily at a minimum, November is a month in which to get a little relaxation. It is a time to give thanks, to welcome friends, have mom bake some spoon bread to eat with cow butter and fresh sorghum, to clean out the gutters, rake leaves off the lawn so they won't smother out the grass, put up a bird feeder, install storm windows, put another blanket on the bed, go rabbit hunting and enjoy turkey, chrysanthemums, cranberries and life in general.

Happy November, everyone.

Judge Stumbo
To Retire
After 38 Years.

"County Judge Henry Stumbo, has announced that he will end his career as a public official with the end of his next four years in office.

"Judge Stumbo will pass the usual retirement age before his next term of office ends, and says he almost decided not to seek re-election this year. "But there are a few more ROADS and BRIDGES THAT I WANT TO BUILD, and I want to see this County's SOLID-WASTE program working before I QUIT."

Did Judge Stumbo do any of these? This is what he said on Nov. 21, 1973 in the Floyd County Times.

Is The Above Statement True or False?
Don't you think he should have done what he said?

Alcoholism Biggest Cause Of High Absentism

Alcoholism, a disease which causes high absenteeism and low production levels in industry and business, costs Kentucky firms more than $100 million in lost wages each year, according to the Department for Human Resources (DHR).

But that loss may be decreasing along with the number of problem drinkers in the state through recent cooperation between labor, industry, mental health workers and DHR's office of occupational programs, according to the agency's head, John Brand.

Brand's office works through labor, industry and private business to create programs to reach alcoholic employees. He says several Kentucky-based corporations have reported success rates as high as 70 per cent among problem drinkers receiving help from company counselors and others.

"A problem drinker on the job costs his employer anywhere from 25 to 40 per cent of his wages," said Brand. "When this person is located and treated, his absentee rate goes down 50 per cent generally during the first year," he said.

Brand estimated that absentee rates among problem drinkers are "five or six times higher than the rates of others. One major company we know of did an independent study that shows 37 employees cost the company $64,000 per year," he explained. "Following treatment through the company program, the study showed a reduction of about 50 per cent in medical insurance claims and absenteeism," Brand said.

Ashland Oil and L & N Railroad are among some 40 Kentucky firms employers currently helping alcoholics keep their jobs. Brand said his office has helped "banks, school systems, manufacturers—you name it" set up programs to locate and identify problem drinkers.

Ross Little, an employe relations official of Ashland Oil, calls alcoholism "a behavioral-medical problem." Within the past two years, about 200 of Ashland's employes have been rehabilitated," he said. Little estimated that five to seven per cent of Ashland's 30,000 employes are problem drinkers. "Problem drinkers are costing Ashland about $6 million per year," Little said.

He said employes are singled out when their "jobs seem to be slipping. Sometimes a supervisor will notice high absenteeism or some other sign that an employe is troubled," Little said. Sometimes family problems, illness and other emotional problems are identified when employes are referred to counselors, but he said, "Alcohol is the big one."

An L & N Railroad official said his company estimates that an employe with a drinking problem costs L & N about $2,000 in lost wages each year. He said labor unions have been very helpful in referring L & N employes to counselors.

State funded labor programs to reach alcoholics "motivate workers to seek treatment," said Ralph Gilmore, executive director of an AFL-CIO administered union-management alcoholism program. "The unique aspect of our program," said Gilmore, "is union and management working together on a human service level." He said agreements with management groups in 16 companies last year resulted in 73,000 union employes being covered by treatment programs. Gilmore said an additional 28,000 union members in Kentucky are covered by labor and management agreements reached since July 1.

"When a union member covered by one of these agreements seeks treatment, his job is protected," Gilmore said. In the past 15 months, he said, about 350 union workers sought treatment without placing their jobs in jeopardy.

Gilmore said his Louisville office is offering help to any union interested in developing an alcoholism program. "It's strictly a joint effort between union and management," he said. "Cooperation between the two is the only way."

Gilmore's office is one of six in the state trying to educate employes, management and the public. "We have to teach people that alcoholism is an illness and not a moral weakness," Gilmore said. "We are concerned with restoring the alcoholic's health, keeping his family intact and making it possible for these people to continue contributing to their communities," he said.

Kentucky's programs to locate and counsel alcoholic workers began in 1971 with a grant from the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. The state now funds the effort through a $241,000 grant to the AFL-CIO and grants to ten mental health centers across the state.

Unpredictable Winter Affects Feed Outlook

Memory of last year's problem of stretching a short supply of feed through a long, cold winter injects the only question into Kentucky's favorable cattle feed outlook this fall.

With this in mind, an Extension specialist urges farmers to use all the feed they can get this fall from pastures, hay fields, cover crops and harvested corn fields. This will save stored feed that will be needed this winter and reduce cattle wintering costs by making use of feed that otherwise would be wasted.

"Our cattle feed situation is good this fall, much better than it was a year ago and than it is now in states farther south," says Garry Lacefield, forage crops specialist in the UK College of Agriculture. "Pastures generally are in very good condition throughout the state, and hay supplies appear to be quite adequate."

But whether or not there is enough hay and silage to last until spring will depend on how long and severe the winter turns out to be.

To get the most value from the cattle feed that is out in the fields, Lacefield offers these suggestions:

Graze bermudagrass and lespedeza-grass mixtures right away, if frost hasn't already nipped them. These warm season plants deteriorate rapidly after frost. Alfalfa, red clover, cool season grasses, mixtures of clover or alfalfa and grasses, cover crops and crop residues can be grazed even after a killing frost.

Sudangrass and sorghum-sudan hybrids are in a special category because after a light frost they can cause prussic acid poisoning of cattle. Don't graze them at night when frost is likely, for two weeks following a light, non-killing frost, or until after the plants have completely dried off after a hard, killing frost.

Turn cattle into alfalfa and clover fields right after the first hard freeze or in early November if a hard freeze hasn't occurred by then. This won't hurt the stand if cattle are kept out when the ground is wet and soft after a rain. Research at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station shows forage quality is quite high for two or three weeks after a killing frost or until plants begin to lose their leaves.

Stockpiled fescue and bluegrass that were fertilized this fall are the last pastures to graze. They will hold their quality longer into the winter than other pasture and hay crops.

When gleaning corn or other grain crop fields after harvest, match forage quality and quantity to the nutritional needs of the animals. This means giving young stock and milk-producing cattle first access to the field. Follow later with dry cows to clean up the field.

To get the most feed from stockpiled pastures and harvested grain crop fields, Lacefield recommends strip grazing. Use an electric fence to restrict cattle to a small area at a time, enough for two or three weeks' feed supply. Move the fence ahead of the cattle as they clean up the field. Mob-grazing an entire field at a time wastes a lot of valuable feed, says the specialist.

No Scarcity of Squirrels At Marshall University

Huntington, W. Va.—Marshall University's student population continues to grow, but the squirrel population may be climbing even more rapidly.

While no one is keeping enrollment figures on the frisky, tree-dwelling rodents, some upperclassmen, faculty members and administrators who have been around Marshall awhile agree that the squirrels have never appeared so numerous, active or bold.

There is some scientific opinion on campus which tends to support this.

"It is a high concentration of squirrels for a populated, urban situation," said Dr. Mary Etta Hight, mammalogist and assistant professor of biological sciences at Marshall. "They are very active in the brisk weather we are having and apparently the youngsters have joined the adult squirrels in foraging the campus for food. They are doing this during the day when a lot of people are moving about and they have become tolerant and relatively unafraid of humans."

W. Gene Frum, assistant professor of zoology and mammalogist, said the squirrels at Marshall are all gray members of the Scuriidae (tree-dwelling rodent) family. "The red squirrels usually prefer living at high elevations in the hills and mountains," he said.

Frum said Marshall always has had a squirrel population but this year's group is especially active. He said it would be difficult to estimate how many are residing on campus this fall, but they are "quite plentiful."

Dr. Hight, who did research on squirrels as part of her studies in earning her doctoral degree at Wayne State University, said part of the foraging routine at Marshall includes soliciting handouts from faculty, staff and students. "No one minds and the campus squirrels, while not as well prepared for winter perhaps, don't have to store as much food as their rural cousins."

"They are appealing and it is hard to resist feeding them," she said.

Dr. Hight, a member of the American Society of Mammalogists and the Society for the Study of Evolution, said the Marshall squirrels, while tolerant, don't permit anyone to pick them up. "They'll come quite close because they are conditioned to students scurrying about, but petting isn't part of the routine," she said.

Dr. Hight also said she had no reports of either red or fox squirrels on campus. "The grays here at Marshall are a healthy looking crew, though," she said. "The adults each probably weigh slightly more than a pound and their food supply, in addition to handouts, would include seeds, buds, and nuts from the campus trees. If squirrels were capable of economic evaluations, I'm sure they would rate their standard of living quite high."

Also a possible factor in the high squirrel profile on campus, Dr. Hight said, is the fact that no one is hunting them. "Once in a while a neighborhood dog or cat will come to college for a squirrel run across campus," she said, "but usually the squirrels are too quick and escape."

Dr. Hight said the female gray squirrel has about two litters of three or four each per year. The males become bachelors after mating season and generally ignore the females until next courting time.

On the Marshall campus, the mother grays seem to stay with their small ones closely until about the fourth or fifth month and then the offspring are "on their own" Dr. Hight said.

The scientist said neither she nor her colleagues could give an accurate estimate of the campus squirrel population. "By the dozens would probably be a safe way of putting it," she said. "There definitely is no shortage of them. I only wish all of my students were as active."

Look! . . . Once Again, Big Sandy To Be Studied for Navigation

Again . . . Studies are being resumed to determine the feasibility of improving the Big Sandy River and its tributaries, Tug and Levisa Forks, for commercial navigation purposes.

The Huntington district office of the Army Corps of Engineers said resumption of studies at this time is based on renewed national emphasis on the use of coal as a primary energy source and increased interest on the part of potential waterway shippers.

Commercial traffic currently operates in the lower seven miles of the Big Sandy where the channel is maintained by dredging.

A federal navigation system, consisting of three locks and dams on the Big Sandy and one each on the Tug and Levisa Forks, served river traffic from 1910 to 1952 when the Corps of Engineers suspended locking service because low-volume traffic on an overall aging effect on the system.

All the structures were removed in the early 1960's except for Big Sandy Dam No. 3, near Louisa, which was left in place primarily for water supply.

The overall study will require about three years. Initial efforts will concentrate on the 27-mile mainstem Big Sandy to the confluence at Louisa of its two forks. The extent of subsequent engineering studies for Tug and Levisa Forks will depend on the results of market analyses.

Canalization of the Big Sandy to Pikeville was at one time seriously considered in the Congress when the late Congressman A. J. May and Dr. O. W. Thompson, of Pikeville, led the fight for the improvement. But rail, coal and union interests defeated the plan, and it has lain dormant since that time.

ASCS Reminds Farmers To Report on Acreage

Floyd county farmers who have not reported their total crop and land use acreages to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) are urged to do so as soon as possible. Will Boggs, chairman of the Floyd County ASCS Committee, said the acreages must be reported to be eligible for 1978 program benefits.

Even though farmers may not have needed to certify crop acreages last year, it is very important that they report their 1977 crops, he said. So far, only 35 farmers in the county have certified their crop acreages. Farmers who fail to certify will be ineligible to participate in 1978 programs.

The importance of correctly reporting acreages cannot be overemphasized. Crops should be reported on a field-by-field basis. Random spot checks of program crops will be made to assure accurate reporting.

Student Art Show Set at Library

A showing of more than 30 pieces of art work by Pikeville College beginning drawing and water color students, as well as elementary teachers in the Appalachian Graduate Consortium, will open at the Floyd County Library tomorrow (Thursday) and continue through November 10.
 Some intriguing India ink works, reminiscent of Persian calligraphy, involve student drawings using their names in a backward and forward manner. The exercises, called "shaker uppers," take some time to master.
 Among other works in the exhibit are drawings of fruit and vegetables done with pen and sharpened sticks. The line designs on paper and scratchboard are drawings similar to the graffiti designs that the megalithic people (circa 5000 B.C., huge stone builders) employed on their passageways (passage graves).

 The collages (pasted pictures, done by elementary teachers in a Morehead graduate class, represent their first attempt at atmospheric landscape. They used tissue paper in warm and cool colors and used their own ever-changing landscapes as subject matter. The same teachers worked in prepared wax grounds in a scratchboard way.
 Several watercolors, in the transparent medium, are of especial interest. Pale washes of color build up the volumes within the harvest still life. Form is of importance as well as color tonality and composition. Two especially charming works are by Tracey Barnett, of Grethel, and Mrs. Herminia Rivera, of Prestonsburg. Other water colors are of tree scapes in fall tones.

Students whose work is in the show are John Hicks, of Langley; Genoa Castle, Sandra Branam, Lola Adkins, Jeffrey Ford, Connie Lee, and Cora Nunn, of Pikeville; Joe Damron and Jody Jones, of Virgie; Robert Bass Moore, of Logan, W. Va.; Behrooz Karim-Zadeh, of Tehran, Iran; Betty Stanley and Vi Derossett, of Canada; Susie Jane Runyon, Williamson, W. Va.; Judy Sartin and Edith O. Vipperman, of Turkey Creek; Suzy Lucas, of Jenkins; and Susann Von Nottren, of South Williamson, Ky.

Pastor Here To Go To Cynthia Church

The congregation of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church heard from the Rev. W. D. Jagers official announcement of his decision to leave after 15 years and four months as its pastor. He will begin his pastorate of the Cynthia Baptist Church next month.
 During his stay here the Rev. Jagers' work has been singularly successful, and his services have extended far beyond the church. His resignation was accepted "with deep regret." He and his family came here from the First Baptist Church at Jackson after the resignation of his predecessor here, the Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr.
 The Rev. Jagers' last sermon as pastor here will be preached Sunday, November 6.

Parent-Child Meet Held at Church Here

The Parent and Child Association held its first meeting on Thursday, October 13, at the First Presbyterian Church.
 Edith Kowalsky, R.N., presented a multimedia program on emergency first aid for babies and small children. Control of bleeding and poisoning as well as techniques of artificial respiration were discussed. Using volunteer Michael Rosenberg, she demonstrated measures to relieve choking.
 Refreshments were enjoyed by everyone, as were the services of Prestonsburg High School's Future Homemakers Club that provided babysitting for those who attended the meeting.
 The next meeting will be November 10 on the subject of parent-child communications. Anyone interested is invited to attend. Families are encouraged to bring their children.

May Appeal Flood Grants Until Oct. 31

Victims of the April floods in southeastern Kentucky who wish to appeal the decision of Individual and Family Grant Program panels may do so until Oct. 31, according to officials of the state Division of Disaster and Emergency Services (DES).
 Brenda Moreland, DES individual assistance coordinator, said that all such appeals must be received at the Frankfort office by the closing date.
 More than 7,100 applications have been processed by the state agency, with $17,348,558.45 expended through mid-October. It is the second largest such program ever conducted.
 Moreland said that appeal letters should fully explain all circumstances of the grant application and any information that might assist an Appeals Board reviewing the case. A three-member panel considers each appeal.
 Any documentation of loss or eligible expense not already submitted should also be included with the appeal letter, she noted.
 Approximately 1,300 appeals have already been reviewed.

GRANITE PREVAILS CRUST

A MESSAGE TO DEMOCRATS

There is a drive as never before by the Republican Party to put a Republican candidate in the Court House, whether it be County Judge, Sheriff, or Magistrate. All Democrats accept the premise that a man is but a man, but the current list of Republican candidates consists of men who have opposed the election of Jimmy Carter, Julian Carroll and even Carl Perkins, for U.S. Representative. In fact, their "slate" is headed by the Chairman of the Republican Party, who in that capacity, has fought and opposed the election of every county and state Democratic Official that has had any Republican opposition.

These Republican candidates have, and will continue to fight for the defeat of every Democratic Candidate and Official you may nominate hereafter. As a Democrat, do you want to see them continue this fight from the strength of office in the Court House, and then for the next four years challenge the candidates and goals of your party?
 Vote for the party you chose and the Republican Candidates rejected, vote for your party.

Floyd County Health Notes

Glaucoma is a serious disease that can cause blindness and it usually affects one out of every 50 Americans who are over 35 years of age. It can come in one of two forms—acute, which strikes suddenly, inflicting cloudy vision or chronic, which progress slowly and painlessly so that partial or total blindness may result if the disease is not diagnosed and treated early.

The best way to prevent needless blindness from glaucoma is to be tested for the disease. The Floyd County Health Department will be doing glaucoma screening, free of charge, Friday, October 28, from 9 to 11:30 and 1 to 3. If higher than normal pressure is found in your eyes, you will be referred to a physician who can give you further tests, diagnose, and treat the problem.

The Floyd County Health Department recommends a glaucoma check-up every two years for all persons 35 and older.

Diabetes is the sixth leading cause of death in Kentucky and the third leading cause of blindness in the United States. Diabetes results when the body can't transform sugars and starches properly, thus the amount of sugar in the blood is abnormally high. This condition is most likely to occur in people who are over 40, people having diabetic relatives or women who have had a baby weighing over nine pounds at birth. Other common symptoms of diabetes are being overweight, constantly thirsty, eating excessively, tiring easily or finding that wounds heal slowly.

If you have any one of these symptoms, you could be what is known as a hidden diabetic.

The Floyd County Health Department offers diabetes screening, free of charge, Monday through Friday, from 8 to 12 and 1 to 4. Early discovery by these simple tests can prevent serious complications of diabetes.

The Floyd County Health Department Family Planning Program will be closed Wednesday, November 2, from noon through Thursday and Friday, November 3 and 4. Anyone needing information or supplies before November 7, are asked to please come in by Tuesday, November 1.

Seek Archeological Sites in Pulaski Co.

More than 40 archaeological sites are officially recorded in Pulaski county, but Tom Gatus and Tom Sanders, prehistoric archaeologists with the Kentucky Heritage Commission, are looking for more. The two archaeologists conducted a similar survey in this county last spring.

Gatus and Sanders are covering the entire county to search for prehistoric sites and to interview Pulaski county residents. They would like any local persons interested in archaeology or knowing the locations of any sites to contact them at the Holiday Motel during their four-week survey which ends Oct. 2.

The Kentucky Heritage Commission has chosen Pulaski county as one of 24 counties in which to study historic and prehistoric resources. A historic survey team, which preceded the archaeologists, is completing its work.

Gatus explained that the Heritage Commissioner's survey team expects to find remains from each of the prehistoric periods present in the eastern United States. Those periods are known as Paleo-Indian, Archaic, Woodland, and Mississippian.

"The Paleo-Indian peoples," he said, "were hunters of now extinct big game species such as the mastodon and mammoth. They were the earliest inhabitants of North America, living about 10,000 to 12,000 years ago." He said their most characteristic artifacts were spear and arrow heads that are narrow at both ends.

"The peoples of the Archaic period lived from about 8,000 to 1,000 B.C.," said Gatus. "As hunters, gatherers, and fishermen, they moved their camps frequently in pursuit of food."

"Next came the Woodland Indians," Gatus continued, "who lived from 1,000 B.C. to 900 A.D. They stayed in their small villages for longer periods of time. They also hunted and gathered food but they are best remembered as Kentucky's first farmers. They built some of the first burial mounds and had discovered the art of making pottery."

Sanders said, "By the Mississippian period, people were living in large villages or outlying hamlets. Farming was now the basis of the economy, and sites were occupied long enough for large mound complexes to develop. Common crops included corn, beans, and squash. The Mississippian period was still in existence when first observed in the 1500's by the earliest Spanish and French explorers."

According to Sanders, the survey team is especially interested in meeting local collectors since their familiarity with the sites and their personal collections can be of tremendous importance to the success of the survey.

The best milk and ice cream you can get is labeled Pet.

Better taste is one good reason why. To many people, Pet Fresh Milk and Pet Ice Cream taste better than other brands.

Others put their faith in the famous Pet name and Pet reputation for honest, quality dairy products. They know — from good experiences — that everything named Pet has passed the toughest tests, met the highest standards for quality, freshness and taste.

At the dairy case and at the ice cream cabinet, the very best you can get is always labeled "Pet."

41% of Pupils Get Reduced Cost Meals

Forty-one per cent of Kentucky's high school and elementary school students participate in reduced price or no cost lunch programs at their schools. This is slightly above the national average, according to Cooper Whitt who is with the Administration and Finance Bureau of the state Department of Education.

Last year, the 1,600 public, private and parochial schools in the state served 92 million lunches—36 million were served at no cost and three million at reduced prices.

Most schools charge from 40 to 60 cents for a lunch, an amount which does not cover the entire cost of serving the meal, said Whitt.

"That's why the federal government reimburses schools at a rate of 14 cents for every regular priced meal and up to 63 cents for every meal served at no cost," he said. Last year, these reimbursements to Kentucky schools totaled nearly $37 million with $27 million of that covering reduced and no cost meals.

Reimbursement rates for regular cost meals have gone up from nine cents in the late 1960's to the 14 cents currently paid.

How distribution of tickets or tokens for full price, reduced price and no cost lunches is handled is up to individual schools, according to Gail Rowland, who is with school food services for the education department. "The schools work out a method which prevents the obvious identification or singling out of those who receive no cost or reduced price lunches," she said.

Eligibility factors include the size of a family, the income of the family and consideration of hardship factors and emergency situations. Applications are sent home with all school children at the beginning of the school year, but the program is open to applicants at any time of the year.

FRANCE BANS SMOKING IN MANY PUBLIC PLACES
PARIS—Smoking was banned Saturday in many public places in France, including public elevators, schools and hospitals.

Smokers who persist face fines of 40 to 80 francs ($8 to $16). The government banned smoking in public transport—road, rail, sea and air—but said a maximum of half the seats could be for smokers, provided that smoke did not waft into nonsmoking sections.

Among other places where lighted cigarettes and pipes were forbidden are youth centers, any public or private place involved in health care and places where food is prepared. The ban does not apply to cafes and restaurants.

Channeling of Beaver Creek at Martin is one of 17 projects selected for state funding, $100,000 to improve 4.3 miles of channel will be granted in the initial funding of the Community Flood Damage Abatement Program, it was announced recently by Governor Carroll. This is in addition to state and federal funds already made available for the project.

The 1976 General Assembly appropriated funds for the Flood Damage Abatement Program which is aimed at assisting in the prevention of nuisance flooding.

According to Carroll, the program is not geared toward major dams or large construction projects, but at minor flooding problems which tend to plague communities again and again following heavy rainfall.

TALKING ABOUT ALCOHOL

A Public Service Feature Presented By Mountain Comprehensive Care Center

He is miserable. And disgusted with himself for being drunk again as he whimpers repeatedly, "I'd give anything in the world if I could stop drinking."

He wants to quit but lacks determination, slumped in the comfortable chair at the Layne House. He takes advantage of the services offered at this facility, frequently sitting in that living room chair as he sobers up from another alcoholic splurge.

The process to get him back to normal once again is called detoxification. The Layne House, situated on Front Avenue in Prestonsburg, is the place to go for alcoholics in this five-county region when they need help in getting off a drunk.

"I thought you were coming down sooner," says a Layne House counselor, carrying an armful of groceries en route to the kitchen. "Your daughter called this morning to say you would be arriving."

"Yeah, I was, but I got too drunk," he shrugs, shaking his head. He seems to be well-liked by counseling staff and other consumers.

The Layne House provides non-medical services to drug addicted persons in the Big Sandy Area. Consumers may be referred from outpatient workers at Mountain Comprehensive Care Center and similar area health centers, jail, family and friends of the problem drinker or voluntarily by the individual.

While watching afternoon soap operas on T.V., he converses with a fellow resident reliving memories of 20 years past. They engage in lively discussion. When the buddy begins to sob, tears dripping off his chin, talking abruptly ends as each man drifts back into his own problems.

He rises, and saunters into the kitchen toward the refrigerator. While nibbling on a snack, he expounds on his cooking accomplishments at the Layne House. "The last time I was in here I helped a staff member do the cooking for everybody," he brags.

"He's a good cook," agreed a Layne House worker, "he made soup beans in the morning!"

During visits at the House (maximum length of stay is five days), clients help the staff attend cooking and cleaning responsibilities.

All seem content during their stay here. Through this controlled atmosphere where drinking is prohibited, the alcoholic has occasion to view his alcoholism in sober surroundings. Layne House staff inflict no pressure on the client to change, but willingly offer solutions to drinking when asked.

He is labeled as a habitual excessive drinker. This designation is given to alcoholic persons who either become drunk more than 12 times a year or are recognizably under the alcoholic influence more than once a week, even though not intoxicated.

He attempts to blame his unsuppressed drinking on marital problems and employment hassles. He worked as a coal miner for 27 years before alcoholism became his boss.

He struggles to constrain his drinking. A staff representative, told of an instance when he entered the Layne House voluntarily, slightly intoxicated to prevent further drunkenness.

"I'm sick, and I don't know how to get well, I don't want to drink," he quivered.

A polite man, depressed with his indulgence in alcohol, constantly downgrades himself with what he calls "breaking over". "It helps me out when I come and talk to these people here," he added.

"I can quit drinking faster than anything as long as I'm here," he said, "I just can't stay sober when I'm away from the Layne House."

Family appears supportive of him, encouraging sobriety, declaring they are willing to do anything to compel him to change his drinking patterns.

The family of the alcoholic can do more. Study of the alcoholic problem is of first priority to combat the disease. Counseling for the family as well as the alcoholic is essential. Attendance in Al-Anon (associated with Alcoholics Anonymous, which deals with the family of the alcoholic), is beneficial in relating to other families sharing the turmoil of alcoholic kindred.

OPPORTUNITIES "APLENTY" IN AG EDUCATION

"Opportunity knocks but once," according to an old adage.

"If that's the case, then there's a mighty loud rapping noise on the 'doors' of a lot of high school students in the realm of agriculture and agriculture-oriented careers," says Mike Richey, director of student relations for UK's College of Agriculture.

With the emphasis on food and fiber in business—and with the ever broadening aspects of agriculture, most agricultural companies today are looking for agriculturally trained graduates from institutions—such as UK's College of Agriculture—to supply personnel for their business activities, which are becoming more specialized and technical.

As a result the College of Agriculture at the University has geared its curriculum to meet the needs of the students for careers in agriculture—not only for "down on the farm occupations," but also in agri-business fields.

"I don't believe there has been more opportunity in agriculture than there is now," Richey avowed.

A Message From Clyde George:

$7,694,000!

What? Jiminy Crickets!

Where Is This Money? Where Was It Spent?

How Did You Benefit From It?

Friends, here are some facts in regard to the $7,694,000 that they would have you believe that our county Judge is on "the ball" and getting more Federal Funds than any other four counties combined. You know better, your community is suffering too much from badly needed services. Pike County has just received $683,000 for water projects for their people. Would you ever realize that Pike County has received since 1965 in total Federal Funds, $84,750,000? In last weeks' paper they told us that Floyd County has received since 1965 $7,694,000 in Economic Development Grants. Needless to say, this was published with the intent to confuse you. What they did not tell us was that most of the EDA grants are based on the shameful unemployment figures of each county. Since Floyd County has the third worse unemployment record of any Eastern Kentucky county, naturally, more EDA grants are "given" to us.

They know that the good people of our county are concerned about us not having leadership that will bring industry into Floyd County. If our County Judge had the energy and the leadership to provide employment for our people, we would not need and would not qualify for these grants that only give a false hope and temporary job opportunity. Our County Judge would have one believe that he is responsible for the $3,945,000 that was obtained under the leadership of the late Mayor George Archer that built a Regional Five County Hospital that is situated in our county. We also know of $716,000 that was obtained for a Prestonsburg Fire Station and a City Hall Building. Our County Judge would have one believe that the city of Prestonsburg had nothing to do with obtaining these funds. What about the $454,000 that was obtained to build a bridge leading to our County Park? Could you use this money on your worn out County roads? Also, Mud Creek has received $1,400,071 for their water projects. Where and how in the world was this money spent? Ask the good people of Mud Creek today what they think of their Water System. During the same period, Pike County's Marrowbone Water District obtained $1,976,000 for their water projects. The people of Marrowbone Creek will tell you that they have a workable and an efficient water system. In a similar vein, Pike County has just received $109,054 to build a "Group Home for Juvenile Status Offenders". We could go on and on comparing Eastern Kentucky counties that are moving ahead of Floyd County because they have young, dynamic leadership in the County Judge's office. You know there is far too much wrong with your community to let them in the closing days of this campaign try to "brain wash" you into thinking that we are doing better than in any other Eastern Kentucky county.

In the closing days of this campaign, also, look for a very dirty campaign against Ronald Frasure for County Judge. Ronald Frasure is a decent and honorable man and has conducted this campaign on a high level and based on the issues. Why doesn't our County Judge discuss the true issues in this campaign that are concerning you. What does he plan to do about your problems if he is elected for another term? Not one single time has our County Judge told us from this newspaper what he plans to do for our people during the next four years. You know, why, he has not told you what he plans to do for your community if he is elected? He thinks he does not have to promise or actually do anything for your community, because you will always vote the "Straight Democrat Ticket". We think this time our County Judge will find out that the people now understand that the hills are not going to come together and the ground will not fly up and hit them should they cross their ticket and vote for Ronald Frasure for County Judge Executive and put their community ahead of Partisan Politics.

70-Year Term Recommended For Owsley County Sheriff

McKee, Ky.—Owsley County Sheriff Danny Bowling has been found guilty of eight counts of criminal solicitation by a circuit court jury.

Bowling was convicted of criminal solicitation to commit six kidnappings, one murder and a bank burglary, according to Samuel Isacs of the Attorney Generals' office in Frankfort.

Isacs, along with Ray Larson prosecuted the case at the request of Gov. Julian Carroll.

The jury of nine men and three women recommended that Bowling's punishment be set at 70 years, (10 years on each of the seven felony charges involving the kidnappings and murder solicitations), Isacs said.

He was also fined $100 on the single count to commit bank burglary.

The court ordered Bowling to be lodged in the Jackson county jail without bond.

Formal sentencing has been scheduled for Thursday morning. Bowling has 10 days in which to file an appeal to the convictions, Isacs said.

Isacs said the state is considering asking that the court that Bowling continue to be held without bond, if he decides to appeal the conviction.

Bowling is still the sheriff of Owsley county. The state has not decided whether to attempt to remove Bowling from his elected post, Isacs said yesterday. Bowling's term reportedly expires in January, 1978.

The jury deliberated less than 30 minutes before reaching its verdict, Isacs said.

MEMBERSHIP IN THE nation's 212 labor unions and professional and state employee associations totalled 24.2 million in 1974, an increase of 1.1 million over 1972, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Fall Fire Season Calls for Caution

The official fall fire season in Kentucky began October 1 and continues until December 15.

During this time it is unlawful to burn any material within 150 feet of the woods or 150 feet of material capable of spreading the fire to the woods before 4:30 p.m.

Last spring there were 115 fires in Floyd county. These were all man caused fires and therefore preventable.

The division of forestry personnel will be issuing citations for burning law violations during the fire season.

If further information is needed regarding burning requirements any of the following offices may be contacted: Prestonsburg District Office, 886-8562; Big Sandy Ranger Office, Thelma, 789-3506; Pike County Ranger Office, Meta, 437-7463.

Any division of forestry employee can be contacted for information.

Centennial Mall May Be Doubled

Jack Deskins, general manager of the Pikeville-based Centennial Development Company, announced last week that Centennial Mall, to be the area's first fully enclosed, all-weather shopping facility, has doubled in size since the initial plans were announced.

"Due to the substantial positive response we have had from national chain stores and local shops, we have doubled the size of our original plans for the Mall," Deskins said. The mall will now consist of 400,000-500,000 square feet, equal in size to a 10-acre building.

It will include three major national tenants of first class quality and 75 shops made up of national chain stores and local merchants, he predicted.

Additional land for the expanded mall required several months of negotiation and was obtained by contracts signed recently. The site approximately 36 acres of flat land, is located next to the Pikeville Country Club on U.S. 23.

"Most of the site was above the recent flood level and the remainder of the site will be filled so that it is also above the flood level," Deskins said.

POSTAL SERVICE REPORTS DEFICIT OF $400 MILLION

WASHINGTON—The Postal Service said recently that its deficit for the year ending Sept. 30 will be $400 million, one-third of the loss last year.

Frank Biglin, senior assistant postmaster general, said the less-than-expected deficit is due to increases in the amount of mail and reductions in the labor force.

Mail volume increased from 89.6 billion pieces in the last year to an estimated 91.7 billion this year.

The deficit is the sixth since the Postal Service was established six years ago to replace the Post Office Department. It is the lowest deficit except for the $13 million in 1973.

The Postal Service finances its deficits by borrowing money from the U.S. Treasury.

YOU THINK YOU'VE got troubles! The November Reader's Digest informs us that the women who prepared the Plymouth Thanksgiving feast numbered exactly four. With the help of five teenage girls, they fed about 50 invited Pilgrims, along with 90 Indians who turned up for the spread.

THINK BEFORE YOU VOTE

Election day is getting close. It's almost time to choose the candidate you want to represent you the next four years. Stop and think about how our taxes have gone up, then look at our roads. Where has our tax money gone? We notice the little town of Auxier has been forgotten; also, Allen and Prestonsburg need help. I believe in working with our city officials with their problems. Let's back our working people—help those that try to help themselves. And we need honest, upright people to serve as jurors. They need to be paid more.

Your vote will be appreciated.

CAN WE CLAIM KIN?

There are jokes about candidates claiming kin when running for office, but jokes aside, kinship does often decide how a person votes. Election or not, we are proud to claim our relatives, so here goes:

I am the son of Dr. M. M. Collins and Beatrice Adams Collins, the grandson of William Collins and Martha Nolan Collins, and of Garland Whitaker Adams and Nancy Jane Prater Adams, and the great-grandson of Ell Bee Collins and Betsy Holbrook Collins, Steve Nolan and Margaret Stone Nolan, and of William Adams and Peggy Bayes Adams and John Wesley Prater and Sarah Stone Prater.

My wife, Rose Marie, is the daughter of George E. Martin and Maggie Case Martin, the granddaughter of Dial Hayes Martin and Lelia "Girlye" Allen Martin and of Emory Case and Darcus Patton Case. "Girlye" Allen was a sister to Preacher Alec Allen and the daughter of G. B. "Briarpatch" Allen. Dial Hayes Martin was the son of Big Joe Martin and Samantha Hayes, sister to Sylvester Hayes.

We have four children, Steve, Tim, Crystal and Melody. Steve's wife is Donna Combs, daughter of Harris Combs (cousin of Gov. Bert T. Combs) and Billie Gearhart Combs. Tim's wife is the daughter of Hershel Conn and Coney Crisp Conn, and a great-granddaughter of Hi Conn.

We could name many more of our ancestors and relatives, but if we went much further back we would probably exceed the memory of the living.

Kinfolk and friends alike, your vote is needed and will be appreciated.

TAKE EXTRA CARE IN CHOOSING WOOD STOVE FOR MOBILE-HOME USE

Don't buy a fireplace or wood-burning stove for your mobile home unless it is "UL-approved" for such use. The safest stoves or fireplaces for a mobile home often come complete with stovepipe and chimney package, plus clear instructions on how to install it. They cost more than standard units, but there's good reason.

"A conscientious dealer won't even sell you a fireplace or wood-burning stove if it's not listed for mobile-home use by Underwriters Laboratories," Larry Piercy says.

"The extra fire hazard associated with mobile homes and their vulnerability to wind damage mean you need a wider margin of safety," he explains. Piercy is a safety engineer with the UK College of Agriculture Cooperative Extension Service.

Many of these stoves and fireplaces are designed with an outside air intake so that they do not take combustion air from the living area.

Space is often a problem, as you need safe clearances from walls, floors and all other burnables. Facing wall surfaces with brick and setting the stove on a brick or ceramic hearth help fulfill safety requirements, according to Piercy.

Follow the stove company's recommendations to the letter on clearances. Wood stoves need a Class A all-fuel chimney for safe venting, Piercy emphasized. The chimney gases from a wood fire are many times hotter than those from the fossil fuels. That's why a chimney that was safe for venting a gas furnace may not do at all for a wood-burning stove.

Two from Martin Attend HFMA Meet

The Kentucky Chapter of the Hospital Financial Management Association (HFMA) held its annual Fall Institute at the Hospitality Inn in Lexington September 21-23.

Ruth Shelton and Annette Vannucci, of Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, attended the three-day institute.

Seventy-five representatives from hospitals, nursing homes, and other allied health care organizations from throughout the state participated in the three day institute. The purpose of the institute was to provide the participants with training and education to better equip them to meet the challenge of efficient and effective financial management in today's health care environment.

A workshop was conducted on "Communications for Hospital Financial Managers" which dealt with planning, reporting, and communicating financial information necessary for effective and efficient management of health care facilities. Workshops on "Budgeting and Rate Setting" were provided as an essential tool in the fight for cost containment in health care.

A TOTAL OF 210 organizations—173 unions and 37 professional and state employee associations—are listed in the "Directory of National Unions and Employee Associations," published by the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Last year this country celebrated its 200th Birthday, and within the last few days we have observed VETERANS day and FLOYD COUNTY'S "OWN" RED, WHITE and BLUE day, with ELECTION day less than two weeks away. It has given me something to think about. FREEDOM, and the words of Henry Thoreau who likened himself to a muskrat that "WILL GNAW ITS THIRD LEG OFF TO BE FREE".

I count my blessings daily, and think of my loved ones even though we are separated by hundreds of miles. I have only three children, one in Indiana and two in Michigan, they were forced to leave their HOME and HERITAGE in Floyd County to seek employment and support their families, and along with them are my seven grandchildren. The only time we can all be together is at Christmas or a family reunion.

My son-in-law the Rev. Donald Brady is pastor of a church in Taylor, Michigan with approx. 500 Members. He tells me it's about 50 percent FLOYD COUNTRYANS, which raises a few questions. How much FREEDOM does a man have that has been FORCED to leave his HOME? Why did so many of our loved ones have to leave home for a job? Is it LACK OF LEADERSHIP? I BELIEVE IT IS.

Our present County Judge (in last weeks paper) tried to make you believe he had gotten 7,694,000 in EDA Funds to provide jobs in our county. Where did this money go? Are these figures misleading? I think so.

With our nation only 200 years old, we have one man who has been elected to serve Floyd County for ALMOST ONE FOURTH OF THAT TIME, and I feel we have not moved forward at the same rate of speed as our neighboring counties. This same man is asking for AT LEAST FOUR MORE YEARS. A ONE WAY STREET CAN ONLY TAKE US ONE WAY. I believe RONALD FRASURE has the ABILITY to lead us and make Floyd County more ATTRACTIVE to INDUSTRY, and bring our loved ones home. I urge you to consider the FUTURE of FLOYD COUNTY and OUR CHILDREN. If you think it's time for a change LET'S DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT NOV. 8th. LET'S STAND UP AND BE COUNTED by going to the Polls and vote for RONALD FRASURE for COUNTY JUDGE EXECUTIVE.

Pine Mountain Park To Echo To Sound of Dulcimer Music

Music of the mountain dulcimer will play against a brilliant autumn setting in the Eastern Kentucky mountains, at the Great American Dulcimer Convention, Oct. 28, 29 and 30, at Pine Mountain State Resort Park near Pineville.

Autumn has a unique quality in the mountains... a colorful softness on the ridges and in the valleys, a blue sparkle in the sky.

The mountain dulcimer captures that quality and the essence of the Kentucky highlands in notes which can be soft and muted as a mountainside in the morning mist or lilting and sharp as the bright oranges and yellows of the trees in the Kentucky Ridge State Forest.

The Great American Dulcimer Convention will feature a performance by Jean Ritchie in the park's Laurel Cove Amphitheater. Ritchie popularized the dulcimer almost single-handedly, with mountain ballads and songs she learned as a girl in Eastern Kentucky.

Kentucky folksinger and songwriter Nancy Johnson will conduct classes on the dulcimer, giving any aspiring dulcimer player the opportunity to strum a tune on the instrument. Johnson is also scheduled to perform in concerts throughout the week-end.

Dick and Anne Albin, performers who have been popular with state park guests for several years, will conduct workshops and will perform in concerts featuring Kentucky music on the guitar and banjo as well as the dulcimer.

For persons interested in building dulcimers, the convention will feature craftsmen and builders demonstrating their skills in a unique opportunity to compare the products and techniques of several dulcimer builders.

An antique dulcimer exhibit, and arts and crafts demonstrations by Ken Snyder, Fort Boonesborough craftsman, and artists Muff and Mugg Jones will round out the week-end's activities.

More information on the Great American Dulcimer Convention may be had by contacting Jim Ettman, Naturalist, Pine Mountain State Resort Park, Pineville, Ky. 40977.

Thanks Contributors

The Kentucky Black Lung Association would like to thank those persons who gave donations to the Floyd County Chapter to help send members to Washington to lobby for the Black Lung Bill. Without these donations, it would have been impossible for the Floyd County Chapter to have done so, as their treasury had been completely exhausted. Those persons giving donations were Arnold Turner, Sterling Hamilton, Alberta Hamilton, and Harold J. Stumbo. And a special thanks goes out to Bill A. Hall who collected this money.

MAYTOWN NEWS

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS
The regular monthly meeting of the Maytown Woman's Club was held October 20 at 7 p.m., at Allen Central High School. Club President Bonnie Crisp presided and the reading of the club collect was by Judy Halbert.
Main topic of discussion was the proposed membership drive for the month of November. Each member present was urged to invite prospective new members for a membership meeting to be held in the form of a covered dish dinner.
The annual Christmas party was discussed, with a location to be named later. It was also decided that the office of first vice-president, which is now vacant, should be filled at the November meeting.
Mrs. Crisp gave details of the seventh district meeting which was held at Martin, October 1, and the group then decided to place an ad in the Kentucky Clubwoman Magazine in the spring.
Those members present were Sissy Hall, Judy Halbert, Judy Banks, Peggy Gibson, Denise Queen, Nancy Blevins, Alicia Hughes, and Bonnie Crisp.

Coal To Return As Energy King

Some 3,500 representatives of the coal industry in the U.S. and abroad last Tuesday heard U.S. Interior Secretary Cecil Andrus predict "coal will reclaim its place as the leading source of energy in America."
 "We are betting that the tremendous coal reserves that this nation has will be America's 'ace in the hole,' and we will win the energy game in the years immediately ahead," Andrus said. But he noted that the energy needs of the country demand wise use of that "ace."
 Andrus was addressing a conference of the National Coal Association at Freedom Hall, Louisville. Coal producers from Australia, Great Britain, Canada, South Africa, West Germany, Japan and France, as well as representatives from Poland and the Soviet Union, were in attendance.
 Andrus explained to the conference that regulations governing a recently-passed federal strip mine law would soon become effective, for new operations on Feb. 3 and for old operations on May 3. "To mine coal, to treat it, to transport it and to use it requires team work" from government, the coal industry and consumers, he said. This same spirit of teamwork was involved in the preparation of the new regulations, Andrus said.
 "The Department of the Interior task force that prepared these regulations, working under the assistant secretary for energy and minerals . . . went to considerable lengths to get public and industrial input on these regs," Andrus said. The task force held meetings with representatives of coal producing states, the coal industry and the public, he said.
 Gov. Julian Carroll told the conference that he is "fearful" that the nation's leaders have not predicted well enough in advance "our need to return to the coal bucket and the crosscut saw. Indeed, those of us involved in the industry for years have known of the dwindling supply of oil and natural gas."
 This shortage, he said, is not isolated to the U.S., he said, but is worldwide. At the present rate of production, he said, present supplies cannot last beyond the next 10 years.
 Gov. Carroll criticized Congress for its members' "inability to read a financial statement." He said the Congress doesn't seem to understand that coal companies need to expect enough profit for their product to make the original capital investment worthwhile.
 THE AIM OF THE Farm Labor Contractor Registration Act is to improve working conditions for migrant farm workers.

Historical Society To Meet Nov. 5

The regular meeting of the Big Sandy Valley Historical Society will be held Saturday, November 5, at Johnson Central High School in Paintsville, with Dr. O. Norman Simpkins, of Marshall University, as the main speaker, according to society president Edward R. Hazelett.
 The meeting will begin with a noon luncheon, which will be followed at 1 p.m. by Dr. Simpkins' address, "The Ancestral Background and Characteristics of the Appalachian People." A special selection of Appalachian folk songs will be presented by the Jennie Wiley Chantresses directed by Mrs. Edith James.
 Luncheon tickets may be purchased by members and guests at the time of registration. Individuals wishing to purchase advance tickets should contact the society president at 1215 Stafford Avenue, Paintsville, 41240, or telephone (606) 789-3416 after 5 p.m.
 A board of directors meeting will be held at 11 a.m. and a business session will follow the program. Local history and genealogical publications about Virginia, Kentucky and West Virginia will be displayed and sold.

Coal made the day.

The coal industry provides the good things in life for Kentuckians like Butch Ratliff. He earns a good salary as a coal mining engineer. So he and his family are able to enjoy weekends of camping and boating. The Ratliffs and families like them can look forward to a lot more. Because there's ample opportunity ahead for men like Butch in the coal industry.
 More than 40,000 Kentuckians work directly in coal mining; another 20,000 are involved indirectly. That's 60,000 jobs — more than three quarters of a billion dollars in wages — all generated by Kentucky's leading industry.
 Jobs in Kentucky's coal mining industry are secure because increasing energy requirements will put higher demands on coal as a fuel source each year. The same demands are opening job opportunities — for high school and college graduates, and for people who want on-the-job training that leads to higher positions.
 Coal has made life in Kentucky good. And it will for a long time to come. Kentuckians who want a solid future will find it right here — in coal.

Consumer Comments

By ROBERT F. STEPHENS
Attorney General
QUESTIONS CREDITORS
CANNOT ASK

When applying for credit recently, a young woman was asked specific questions concerning her marital status. Under the Equal Credit Opportunity Act creditors are not allowed to inquire about a person's marital status if someone is applying for an individual, unsecured account (one which does not require you to pledge your property in case you cannot repay).

If you apply for a joint account or a secured account, you may be asked your marital status. However, when applying for home mortgage, creditors may ask, but you are not required to answer, questions about your marital status, race, color, religion or national origin.

The Equal Credit Opportunity Act was passed by Congress to insure that when applying for credit you will be judged on your ability to repay, not on other unrelated factors. This act prohibits denial of credit on the basis of race, religion, marital status, sex, age, whether or not you receive income through a public assistance program, or whether you have exercised your rights under the Consumer Credit Protection Law.

If you rely on alimony, child support, or separate maintenance payments from a former spouse as your income, the creditor must consider these payments as income as long as they are regular. A creditor can ask whether any of the income listed on your credit application is from alimony, child support, or separate maintenance payments, but only if you are told beforehand that you did not have to reveal that income if you did not want it considered when deciding your credit eligibility.

You are also not required to choose to use Ms., Miss, Mrs., or Mr. on the credit application since this could lead to discrimination on the basis of sex or marital status. Any information concerning birth control practices or your intentions or ability to have children is also prohibited. You may be asked, however, the number and ages of your dependents.

Creditors cannot refuse to grant you an individual account because of your sex, marital status or due to another factor specifically outlawed by the Equal Credit Opportunity Act. An account can be listed in your married or maiden name, or a combination of both, such as Mary Johnson Smith, Mary Johnson, Mary Smith, or Mrs. John Smith.

If you qualify for an individual, unsecured account, the creditor cannot require your spouse to co-sign the credit agreement. Should a co-signer be necessary to back up the account so that you can obtain the amount of credit you want, the creditor may ask someone to co-sign and thus be liable on your account; however, you cannot be required to have that person be your spouse.

Within 30 days after applying for credit, you must be notified whether you were granted or refused that credit. If you are refused credit, the creditor must then give you a written notice with a statement of specific reasons for the refusal, or a notice stating that you have 60 days to request such a statement. Also included must be a statement of the provisions of the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, and the name and address of the federal agency to contact if you have any problems or questions.

If you have a question or complaint about the inquiries a creditor can or cannot make, contact the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. The office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write. However, if you have an emergency situation call the toll-free Consumer Hotline at 1-800-372-2960.

TOLL-FREE telephone service to Veterans Administration offices is now available in all 50 states.

IT'S ONLY COMMON SENSE!

When any citizen runs for the OFFICE OF GOVERNOR, U.S. REPRESENTATIVE, or UNITED STATES SENATOR, he wants the SUPPORT of every person he can get. But, he especially wants the support of as many POLITICAL LEADERS as possible.

FLOYD COUNTY DEMOCRATIC LEADERS have always supported Governor Julian Carroll when he ran for state office. They have always supported our great Congressman Carl D. Perkins; they have supported both Senators Ford and Huddleston, as well as President Carter.

Would these State and Federal officeholders NOW prefer to work with REPUBLICANS who tried to defeat each of them?

Ex-Governor Louie Nunn answered this question for ALL of us. Shortly after he was sworn into office, he FIRED hundreds of DEMOCRATS who had opposed him. He DEMONSTRATED that elected officials prefer to work with people who have helped elect them.

Improved roads and bridges, sewer systems, expanded water systems, ALL require state and federal assistance. Local Floyd County Democrats know this and are working hard to get ALL the help that is available. They are working hard to get the job done!

Let's keep the Winning Team of Governor Carroll, Congressman Perkins, Senators Ford and Huddleston, and the LOCAL FLOYD COUNTY DEMOCRATS! Right now there is no other combination that can do as much for FLOYD COUNTY.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ADMINISTRATION GRANTS

On September 28, 1977, in the Floyd County Times, Mr. Clyde George paid for a Republican Ad which made the following statement:

"Why are our Neighboring Counties receiving grants and loans to provide thousands of jobs for their Citizens? What about leadership in your Floyd County Courthouse?"

Is the above statement True or False?

Since the Economic Development Administration is the Number One Federal Agency which funds projects for promoting INDUSTRIAL GROWTH and JOB DEVELOPMENT throughout the United States, let's compare the number of GRANT DOLLARS which twenty Eastern Kentucky Counties in our section have received since EDA came into existence in late 1965:

Name of County	Amount of EDA Federal Funds
FLOYD	7,694,000
Bell	4,366,000
Perry	4,116,000
Johnson	2,286,000
Martin	1,920,000
Harlan	1,694,000
Pike	1,693,000
Leslie	1,160,000
Letcher	1,072,000
Wolfe	1,062,000
Owsley	974,000
Powell	893,000
Knott	886,000
Rowan	769,000
Jackson	732,000
Lee	699,000
Clay	672,000
Breathitt	608,000
Morgan	600,000
Knox	559,000

The RECORD ABOVE comes from the OFFICIAL RECORD published in 1977 by the Economic Development Administration.

Mr. Clyde George and his Republican Candidate must admit that ONE of the following is TRUE:

1. He and his republican Candidate are trying to deceive the voters of Floyd County, or
2. He is publicly admitting that he and his Republican Candidate don't know what is going on.

When Mr. Clyde George tells you that his Republican Candidate will "build Roads and Bridges, sewer systems, provide the Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars, can YOU believe it? Is he again trying to mislead the voters, or is he admitting that he doesn't know what is going on?

If the Candidate of Mr. Clyde George is purposely trying to mislead the Citizens of Floyd County, by giving incorrect information in paid ads, we think that this is stooping to the "Old Nixon Style of Politics."

The Democratic Leadership of Floyd County HAS been awake during the past ten years. They are EXPERIENCED in working with State and Federal Government Officials to get the job done.

Maintenance A Must For Fire Extinguishers

Turn your dry-chemical fire extinguisher upside-down and give it a good shaking. Otherwise, even if the pressure's up and it's never been used, it could fail you in an emergency.

That occasional shake-up pulverizes the dry powder that can pack together and block the hose outlet, explains Larry Piercy, Extension safety engineer with the UK College of Agriculture.

Check the dial, too, just in case the unit needs recharging. It must be recharged after every use, no matter how slight. Even if you didn't use it, somebody else could have, or children might have been fooling with it.

"If the pin is pulled out, that's usually a sure sign that someone has used it or tampered with it," Piercy says.

Have the extinguisher serviced by fire-safety equipment specialists. They'll take the head off, take out the valves and clean them, put in fresh dry chemical, and repressurize it.

A high-quality extinguisher with a steel head can be used and recharged time after time for years, according to Piercy.

Your smoke detector should be serviced once a year by the same outfit, even if you test it often and it always sounds a loud-and-clear alarm. Batteries and/or bulbs often need to be replaced.

In the annals of pioneer medicine, no product from Mother Nature's pharmacy was held in higher esteem than the inner bark of Ulmus fulva, the slippery elm. It was from the Indians that the early settlers learned the bark of this little tree was highly beneficial in the treatment of a wide variety of diseases ranging from dysentery to inflammation of the lungs, bladder, stomach and kidneys. It was also utilized as a poultice to draw the inflammation from open wounds. The fresh inner bark pounded to a pulp, mixed with sweet milk and applied to festering wounds, soon eased the pain, promoted fast healing and possibly prevented blood poisoning.

The Indians also used the bark as a food and to prevent fatty substances from becoming rancid. They did this by frying animal fat with a piece of bark, permitting the preparation to remain heated for a few minutes, and then straining off the melted fat. Up until recent years some farm wives followed the same procedure to keep surplus butter and lard fresh and sweet for considerable periods of time.

Both Indians and pioneers powdered the dried bark, mixed it with a beverage of some sort, and fed it to babies, the elderly and those recuperating from some illness. The powdered bark, when mixed with sweet milk, is still said to be nutritious, wholesome, and because of its mucilaginous nature, insures an easy passage during the process of assimilation and elimination.

In one old herbal remedy, slippery elm jelly is recommended as a specific for all "diseases of the throat, chest, lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis and inflammation of the stomach." As the old recipe for making this jelly goes, "Take two tablespoonfuls powdered bark; cold water, one pint; sweeten with loaf sugar or honey; and stir until a jelly is formed."

In speaking of elm bark poultices, and old medical journal (Gunn's Domestic Medicine) said nothing is superior, particularly in the treatment of gunshot wounds. The book added that during the Revolutionary War, Washington's surgeons used it with the "happiest effects" on both fresh wounds and those where mortification was evident.

Otherwise high in his praise of slippery elm bark, Dr. Gunn stated it deserved the confidence of every person that practiced medicine.

With perhaps the exception of Maine, slippery elm is common to all states of the eastern United States. It is found principally on the banks of streams and in rich soil on low hillsides. Its bark was truly the miracle drug of pioneer medicine and is still available at natural food stores even today.

VOTE FOR HAROLD STUMBO FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

"A sensitiveness to fair play and sportsmanship is perhaps the best protection against the abuse of power, and the citizen's safety lies in the Judge, who serves the Law and not factional purposes, and who approaches his task with humility."

During the past years, I have made every effort to conform with the standard set out above.

My strength will come from your support, and I will certainly appreciate your support.

Music Ed. Group Elects Officers

A new year has begun for the Eastern Highlands Music Educators Association (EHMEA). EHMEA is composed of music teachers in Floyd, Johnson, Lawrence, Magoffin and Martin counties.

At the first meeting, a new slate of officers was elected: Todd Woods, of Louisa, president; Kaye Scutchfield, of Floyd county, president-elect; Virginia Lushbaugh, of Johnson county, formerly of Prestonsburg, secretary-treasurer; Becky Sublett, of Johnson county, publicity.

Local music students participate in events planned by EHMEA. Annually, EHMEA sponsors the All-Area Band and Chorus Clinic. Also, the Jesse Elliot Scholarship is awarded each year to a high school senior entering college as a music major.

The Jesse Elliot Scholarship is funded by private citizens and businesses. If you would like to contribute, give your donation to a member or send it to Virginia Lushbaugh, Volga, Ky. Make checks payable to Jesse Elliot Scholarship Fund.

DEFICIENCY CAUSED DWARFING

A zinc deficiency has caused some dwarfing in human beings in the Middle East.

Health Tip

(From the American Medical Association)

All of us are now and then faced with a quick decision: should we, or shouldn't we see the doctor?

The American Medical Association lists several points for consideration as a general guide to help you decide whether medical aid should be sought at once——When your complaint or symptoms are too severe to be endured, such as abdominal pain common to a gall bladder attack or appendicitis or kidney colic, or sudden chest pains. Immediate relief of pain is the purpose of getting the patient to the doctor without delay.

—When an apparently minor symptom persists for more than a few days or a week, and does not appear to be due to some easily identified cause. A nose bleed from a sharp blow is one thing; a nose that bleeds constantly or frequently for no apparent reason is quite a different matter.

—When the symptom returns repeatedly for no readily apparent cause. Digestive disturbances due to overindulgence are one thing; constant digestive distress despite great care and moderation in eating is another.

—When in doubt, it is safer to call the doctor than to take a chance.

Many accidents around the home or yard cause bruises and scratches and minor sprains that can be successfully treated at home. But some accidents require fast medical attention.

If the accident victim is unconscious, get help fast. Also when bleeding is severe or cannot be controlled; when the victim is groggy or confused; when there are signs of shock, such as pale, cold skin, sweating and weak pulse.

Breathlessness or intensive thirst after the accident require medical attention. If there is a possible broken bone, seek help. Also for severe pain, signs of poisoning, serious burns, persistent vomiting, blurred vision.

MORE THAN 3,000 representatives of 58 labor unions met during March 1974 to form the Coalition of Labor Union Women (CLUW), according to the "Directory of National Unions and Employee Associations" of the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

THE FIRST STATE bureau of labor statistics was established in Massachusetts in 1869.

MSU To Activate Appalachian Center

Morehead State University's board of regents has officially breathed life into MSU's plans to create the Appalachian Development Center.

MSU President Morris L. Norfleet said the facility would enable the University to fulfill its state-assigned mission to "enhance the economic growth of Appalachia."

He reported that the University is seeking funds to operate the Center and to renovate a residence hall to provide physical facilities for its programs.

The regents unanimously approved the project and authorized staff members to proceed with detailed planning.

"Depending on the level of state funding, the Appalachian Development Center can be fully operational within two years," Dr. Norfleet said.

In other action, the board approved policies reducing the scope of MSU's horse program, particularly horse show competition by students and MSU staff members, and officially focusing the program on its academic and recreational benefits for students. Dr. Norfleet said the University would maintain only the number of horses needed for instructional purposes.

The regents also approved a five-year development plan for MSU's Crosthwaite Outdoor Educational and Research Center at Cave Run Lake.

Dr. Daniel Stamper, of Pikeville, was administered the oath of office to fill the unexpired board term of the late William E. Justice, of Shelbyana. Other board members attending were Lloyd Cassidy and Sam Kibbey, of Ashland, James Richardson, of Owingsville, B. F. Reed, of Drift, Dr. W. H. Cartmell, of Maysville, Jerry F. Howell, of Jackson, Dr. Charles Peltrey, of the faculty, and Evan Perkins, of the student body.

PRESTONSBURG

NOTICE OF ELECTION
CITY OF ALLEN, KY.

The City of Allen, a Kentucky municipality of the Sixth Class situated in Floyd County, Kentucky, acting through its Board of Trustees as its governing body, hereby gives public notice that in conformity with the requirements of Section 96.540 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes, it has called, and does hereby call, a special election which shall be held within the corporate limits of the City of Allen, Kentucky, on November 3, 1977 (upon the occasion of the general elections which are provided to be held by law on that date), for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the City of Allen, Kentucky, a certain question in the following text:

"Are you in favor of the City of Allen selling the Allen Water System to the City of Prestonsburg in consideration of the City of Prestonsburg assuming all outstanding indebtedness of the Allen Water System in the dollar amount of approximately $255,000.00?"

It is shown as a matter of public record that the City of Allen, Kentucky, originally acquired the water system and properties which are referred to in the aforesaid ballot question, by the purchase thereof in 1966, and in order to finance the acquisition thereof, the City of Allen authorized and sold at public sale its $280,000 "Waterworks Revenue Bonds" and applied the proceeds thereof to the payment of the purchase price; and for a number of years the City operated the aforesaid water facilities without difficulty, supplied water service to the water customers in the City of Allen and also in the adjacent unincorporated areas known as New Allen and Dwale, paid its expenses of operation and paid, in due course, the principal of and interest on its aforesaid "Waterworks Revenue Bonds" which the City issued in order to acquire such water service facilities. Unforeseen and unanticipated events and developments thereafter occurred, including especially a flash flood which washed out the under-ripar water main originally installed under the bed of the Levisa Fork for providing service to the areas known as New Allen and Dwale; and the accumulation of unfortunate happenings and events increasingly reduced the capacity of the City of Allen to continue rendering satisfactory water service; and despite the best efforts of the City of Allen, and many unsuccessful efforts to obtain financial relief from outside sources, the City of Allen became unable to pay the expenses of operating such water facilities and defaulted in the payment of the interest on and principal of its outstanding Waterworks Revenue Bonds; all with the result that the City of Allen is unable to pay from the Revenues of said water facilities obligations which aggregate more than $35,000; including not only defaulted principal and interest on its outstanding Waterworks Revenue Bonds, but also substantial obligations incurred in its endeavor to keep the aforesaid water service facilities in operation pending applications for relief to every source which could be imagined to be available; all without success.

As a final resort, the City of Allen has entered into a "Proposed Contract" with the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and with the Utilities Commission of said City, which contemplates the conveyance by the City of Allen to the City of Prestonsburg of all of Allen's right, title and interest in and to the water service facilities herein referred to, upon condition that the City of Prestonsburg, through its Utilities Commission, will initially assume and pay the defaulted and overdue obligations of the City of Allen, and will gradually cause the same to be improved to the extent that such improvement may be made from the revenues and resources of the Utilities Commission of the City of Prestonsburg.

It is required by law that this avenue of financial relief (which appears to be the last available resort) must be approved by the qualified voters of the City of Allen, Kentucky, at an election called and held for that purpose; and this is the occasion for the giving of this notice and the calling of the election hereinabove provided for.

Public notice is hereby given that there are on file, in the offices of the City Clerk of the City of Allen, the City Clerk of the City of Prestonsburg, and the Utilities Commission of the City of Prestonsburg, copies of the "Proposed Contract" which is hereinabove referred to and that the same are open for public inspection by any party having a legitimate interest therein, in any of said offices, during business hours when such offices are ordinarily open for public business.

All proceedings in this matter are public records, available for public inspection. All qualified voters of the City of Allen, Kentucky, are hereby notified of all of the foregoing, and are urged and invited to vote upon the above-quoted ballot question upon the occasion of the general elections which are to be held within the corporate limits of the City of Allen, Kentucky, on November 8, 1977.

Area School Boards Name KSBA Officers

School board members and administrators from seven area school districts have re-elected Richmond Salyer as chairman of the Kentucky School Boards Association's (KSBA) Eastern Kentucky (South) Region for 1978. Salyer, a member of the Magoffin County Board of Education, will continue to serve on the KSBA Board of Directors, the governing body of that state-wide service organization.

The Eastern Kentucky (South) Region dinner meeting was held at Magoffin County High School in Salyersville on Tuesday, October 18, with Salyer presiding.

The audience of 30 meeting participants included local district school board members and administrators, and KSBA officers and staff. They discussed the 1978 school boards association legislative program to improve public schools; employee relations; and other membership concerns.

The KSBA Award of Merit, recognizing achievement in continuing education by school board members was presented by William Land, KSBA Vice-President, to Wendell Knight, of the Paintsville Independent Board of Education. Knight is a member of the KSBA Executive Committee.

John Stumbo, chairman of the Floyd County Board of Education, was re-elected vice-chairman of the Region, and Herald Whitaker, superintendent of Magoffin County Schools will continue to serve as secretary of the Eastern Kentucky (South) Region.

MAGNETIC FIELD USED TO CLEAN THE SKIN

WASHINGTON—A Frenchman has devised a method of cleaning the epidermis by use of a magnetic field. Rene Latuerre of Meudon la Foret was granted a patent recently for his method of cleaning the outer, nonsensitive layer of the skin.

The steps defined in the patent include applying to the epidermis magnetizable particles shaped to penetrate the pores and hollows without injuring the skin. This powder is massaged in, and a small magnetic field is moved over the areas withdrawing part of the dead skin cells and waste products.

Asks Disaster Aid For Harlan County

Gov. Julian Carroll has asked Small Business Administration to declare Harlan county a disaster area due to flash flooding of four areas on the week-end of October 1-2. Heavy rainfall that week-end caused flash flooding of the Jones Fork, Cranks Creek, Yocom Creek and Clover Fork areas of Southeastern Harlan County. State estimates show that about 75 homes and two schools were damaged in various degrees, six homes were destroyed, and a half-million dollars in damage was done to roads and bridges. A declaration by the SBA would make low interest disaster loans available to those affected.

Asks Senior Citizens' Advisory Commission

Frankfort, Ky. (Oct. 19, 1977)—State Sen. Joe Prather (D-Vine Grove) today proposed that action be taken towards the development of a Special Advisory Commission of Senior Citizens. Prather made the proposal in his statement to representatives of several Kentucky senior citizens groups in Frankfort. The groups were attending a legislative "listening" seminar sponsored by the Legislative Research Commission (LRC).

The purpose of the proposed commission, to be created by the LRC, would be to dissolve "communications problems" that are "most serious" between senior citizens and those in public office, said Prather. "The greatest benefactor will not only be the senior citizens," but all Kentuckians, he said.

The proposed commission would have direct access to the LRC and its director, Vic Hellard, and would perform an active role in specific issues that confront members of the legislature. It would be expected to present the views of the majority of senior citizens across the state both to the LRC and the interim committees of the legislature, according to Prather.

The commission would consist of legislative committees, composed of five members from each statewide organization of senior citizens and five members from each of the state's Area Development Districts. Each commission would be responsible for encouraging active participation by senior citizens within their specific area.

The commission would be designed to meet in Frankfort at least twice annually, once in June and again in December, to report directly to the LRC and individual legislative committees. Prather said that he will also propose that funding of the commission be provided in the 1978 legislative budget. Attendance at the seminar was well over 100. Two more sessions are scheduled for Oct. 27 and Nov. 3.

What Is a District Judge?

In Floyd County, the District Judge will do the work now being done by five City Police Judges, four Magistrates, County Judge, Judge Pro-Tem, Trial Commissioner and Juvenile Judge. Floyd County will still have a County Judge (now known as County Judge Executive) and Magistrates, but their duties will be limited to fiscal matters, making up the budget and supervising the spending of the county tax money.

The District Judge will preside over all civil cases where the amount involved is $1500, or less, all juvenile matters, and the violation of all state laws and city and county ordinances, except offenses punishable by penitentiary confinement or death.

In addition to the other duties, the District Judge will also preside over a new court, known as the Court of Small Claims (matters under $500).

It is estimated that 68 of every 100 persons having business before the courts will come first to the District Court.

The office of District Judge will require a person with not only a law degree, but also with considerable administrative ability. It will require a person with good health, good nerve and a willingness to work long hours. How the office is operated for the first time may set the pattern of justice in Floyd County for a long time to come.

Believing that I am qualified for the job, I respectfully urge you to vote for me in the November election. If I am elected, the fact that my residence is next door to the court house (and jail) will somewhat ease the problem of having your District Judge available after hours.

The office is non-partisan and I welcome the vote of my Republican friends as well as my fellow-Democrats.

UFO Competes with Ghost Tales

By HELEN PRICE STACY

A former Magoffin county editor, Albert Moore, is a veteran of World War I. He served in the Mobile Ordnance Repair Unit and in October, 1918 was with his outfit in the Meuse-Argonne in France.

Moore and three war buddies who had been busy in the repair shop decided to step outside and enjoy a few minutes of the afternoon before continuing their work.

The four men were looking toward a hill just beyond the Meuse River when they saw one of the most phenomenal war experiences. "As we watched the ridgeline of the hill," Moore said, "rank upon rank of mounted, armored knights accompanied by a large company of foot soldiers passed across the horizon, just above bushes that hid the hilltop. Fading sunlight glittered on the armor of the knights, on tips of the lances, the accoutrements of the horses and bared swords and, longbows of the foot soldiers."

Awed by the sight, the men stood transfixed until the last knight passed from view. Armored knights in WWI? It was an unexplainable experience. Later, the men learned that French soldiers reported a strange visit to their trenches that same night. The visitors, according to the French troops, were armored knights and foot-soldiers with Joan of Arc in the lead!

How would you explain the experience?

Once on a visit to the Owensboro Museum, a group sat around and told stories and gave accounts of strange experiences. One story was told about an area man who in the late 1800s was returning home after calling on his sweetheart in Webertown. As the horse and buggy reached a certain spot, the man saw a strange sight. A dog was sitting beside the road, and though sitting, the animal was more than five feet tall. The man was wondering whether to shoot the animal or try to pass it, when suddenly dozens of tiny dogs started toward him. The dogs were much too tiny to be real, the man explained later. He took a number of shots into the packs, but he said the shots went through the small creatures. All finally ran away and the big dog, too, had disappeared.

The man continued to woo his sweetheart, and from that night on, each time he was making his way home, the packs of tiny, unreal dogs descended, running and barking furiously but never harming him. The dogs' appearances were never explainable.

Haunts (haunts), goblins, witches, werewolves, spectres, shades. These are the creatures or spirits that lurk in old houses, haunt lonely cemeteries and flutter through dark woodlands on these October nights preceding Hallowe'en.

It is the season when children hover around a warm fire after play time in the brisk, cold outdoors. In some parts of Appalachia, the old stories continue to entertain, but ghost tales are about to fade into the past in competition from UFOs and stories from outer space.

In Morgan county, some residents report seeing unusual sights they consider to be UFOs. At Irvine in Estill county, there have been unexplained UFO sightings. In many states drivers and passengers describe frightening experiences with weird creatures. Are these the ghost stories of the 1970s?

In Wolfe county there was an old house, scene of a family massacre. For years anyone who passed a closet in the pre-Civil War dwelling had the feeling of being sucked inside the closet where the family tried to hide.

In Russell county, a young wife fell while taking a walk with her husband. In the fall she struck her head and became unconscious. The husband picked up his wife and carried her through a sudden, dense fog to an old house with oil lamps. The house was occupied by a Dr. Winningham who told the husband his wife would have to have immediate surgery and the husband would have to serve as his surgical assistant. The husband worked alongside the doctor, and just as the operation was completed, the husband saw the doctor fade from sight and found he was sitting in a dirt road, his wife beside him, her head bandaged from the operation. Later in Danville where the wife was examined by a physician, the physician said the operation was a success and could have been performed by only one person, a Dr. Winningham who had died two years before!

Ghosts! Most people do not believe in them, yet there are those non-believers who, like Charles Dana, say they've been afraid of them all their lives and other non-believers who scoff, yet add that they wish the midnight chain rattlers in their homes would go away.

Blackcats Blank Morgan Co., 21-0 For 6th Victory

The Prestonsburg Blackcats defeated the Morgan County Cougars Friday night at West Liberty, 21-0, as the Cats picked up their fifth consecutive win.

Prestonsburg scored late in the first quarter when Alvin Hall went in on a 1-yard quarterback sneak to cap a 10-play, 80-yard drive. Dwayne Rodebaugh kicked the first of his three extra points, and the Cats led, 7-0. The Blackcats began another drive on their own 35, midway in the second quarter, and steadily moved the ball to the goal line with Kerry Slone ending the drive with an eight-yard touchdown run, making the halftime score 14-0. Prestonsburg scored its final touchdown in the third period when Hall hit Paul Ackerman on a 55-yard pass play.

Morgan County threatened only once, late in the fourth quarter, but an excellent goal line stand by Wayne Tibbs, John Holland, Marvin Marsillett, Lee Carter, Dewey Layne, Dwayne Rodebaugh, Harry Adams, Danny Daniels, Alvin Hall, Paul Ackerman and Jimmy Campbell stopped the Cougars on the one-yard line. It was the sixth win of the season for the Cats.

Jarrell, Conn Named For Babe Ruth Honor

Dwayne Jarrell, of Dana, and Ricky Joe Conn, of Ivel, are local athletes who have been selected to Babe Ruth Baseball's 'Athletes of the Year' program for 1977, as announced today by Richard W. Case, president of Babe Ruth International, and Doug Stratton, manager, Babe Ruth Betsy Layne, of Ivel.

Nominations for 'Athletes of the Year' were made earlier this summer by Babe Ruth league managers and presidents from across the nation. They were invited to nominate candidates with the best records of local achievement on their teams or in their leagues.

Criteria by which these local baseball players were nominated include the athlete's athletic ability, including statistics and overall performance, sportsmanship and personal leadership displayed during the current season. To be eligible for the program, a player must have been an active participant in an officially recognized Babe Ruth league during the 1977 season.

Sponsored by Babe Ruth International, 'Athletes of the Year' is an annual honor roll paying tribute to the team players from the world's largest regulation baseball activity for young people. The purpose of the program is to promote and encourage the playing of amateur Babe Ruth Baseball among young athletes between the ages of 13 and 18 by nationally recognizing each team's outstanding players of the current season.

The athletic achievements of each local honoree will be presented in the 1977 edition of Babe Ruth Baseball 'Athletes of the Year' Annual to be published in December.

Prestonsburg and Somerset To Meet in Big Game, Friday

The Somerset Briar Jumpers will come to Prestonsburg Friday night to take on the Blackcats. Somerset has been ranked in the top 5 in Class AA all season while Prestonsburg has gradually climbed to 11th in the polls. Both teams have records of 6-3. Somerset's losses, however, have been close decisions. They have been defeated only by Lexington grid powers, Bryan Station and Henry Clay. Their only other loss was a 19-10 decision to Class AA No. 1-ranked Corbin. Somerset, like Prestonsburg, has had trouble scheduling district games. So this game has been denoted a district game for Somerset, though it won't count as one for the Blackcats.

Prestonsburg, at the beginning of the season, was picked to win only two, perhaps three, games at most. To the surprise of everyone, after dropping three straight games early in the season, the Cats have come on to win five straight. Prestonsburg may have a slight advantage playing at home. The Cats have been tough at home, going 4-0 and recording two upsets in the process. The crowd seems to play a big part in the Cats' home games and Blackcat supporters are certainly needed to turn out for this one. Somerset will have a strong cast, including standout running backs, Thomas Venalle and Virgil Perkins, quarterback Ron Cain, and wide receiver Jackie Jewell.

Somerset has long had a reputation for playing "big-time" football, and the Cats may be slightly outmanned in both the playing and coaching departments, but this has been the case before. Yet Prestonsburg over the past two years, has begun to gain the respect of statewide schools for playing a pretty good brand of football, also. It should be a very interesting game.

Local Sports

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON

The Prestonsburg Blackcats picked up their fifth straight win by defeating Morgan County, 21 to 0, Friday night, and the Wheelwright Trojans romped to an easy win over Jenkins, 54 to 22 to close out their football season. Betsy Layne's young Bobcats lost to Clay County.

Wheelwright scored its seventh win of the season by defeating Jenkins and Wheelwright closed out the season with an overall record of 7 and 2, and for the second straight year finished atop the district with a 7-0 record.

Darren Little put on a scoring exhibition for Wheelwright as he romped for four touchdowns and two extra points. Little had a total of 179 points for the season.

Lanny Paul Hall had a good night as he scored two touchdowns and added one extra point. He scored 78 points during the season.

Doug Isaacs scored one touchdown and one extra point.

Wheelwright was undefeated in district play.

Kentucky Afield

By JOHN WILSON

It won't be long until Kentucky's hunting seasons get into full swing. With the number of different opening and closing dates for different species, it's sometimes hard to keep track of everything.

So here's a rundown of opening and closing dates for this year's hunting, courtesy of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

SQUIRREL: Opened Aug. 20, will close Oct. 31; reopens Nov. 17, runs through Dec. 2, closes for duration of gun deer season; opens Dec. 6 and continues through Jan. 31.

RABBITS AND FURBEARERS: Opens Nov. 17, runs through Dec. 2; reopens Dec. 6 and continues through Jan. 31.

QUAIL AND GROUSE: Opens Nov. 17, runs through Dec. 2; reopens Dec. 6 and continues through Feb. 28, 1978.

DEER (Archery): Opened Oct. 1, will run through Nov. 11; reopens Dec. 10 and continues through Dec. 31.

DEER (gun): A split season this year, with two "long week-end" hunts—Nov. 12 through Nov. 14 and Dec. 3 through Dec. 5. Remember that all deer taken by gun hunters must be checked either by conservation officer or at official check station.

DOVES: Opened Sept. 1, will close Oct. 31; reopens for a short season from Dec. 10 through Dec. 18.

DUCKS: Opens Nov. 19, runs through Nov. 27; reopens Dec. 10 and continues through Jan. 14, 1978.

GEESE, RAILS AND GALLINULES: Opens Nov. 12 and runs through Jan. 20, 1978.

WOODCOCK AND SNIPE: Opened Oct. 3, will close Dec. 2; reopens Dec. 10 and runs through Dec. 18.

FALCONRY: New this year is a special "early season" for those who hunt with hawks. This falconry season will open Nov. 1 and will continue through the regular open season for the species hunted.

Remember that the dates given above are for the statewide seasons. Certain wildlife management areas may have different dates or other special regulations, particularly for deer or waterfowl hunting.

THE VETERANS Administration employs 36,000 Vietnam-era veterans, more than any other federal agency.
