

Court Asks EDA Opinion On Span Bid

Low Bid on Bridge At Allen Rejected, Contract Delayed

Assistant County Attorney Greg Stumbo said in a telephone call from Atlanta Tuesday afternoon that EDA has recommended that all bids on the Allen bridge be rejected and that the project be readvertised. A 30-day extension of time to permit re-advertising for bids has been promised by EDA, he added.

The Floyd fiscal court last Wednesday rejected the low bid on construction of a bridge to connect the county park under construction near Allen with KY 80, and awarded the contract to the next bidder, but a meeting with EDA officials in Atlanta was arranged Tuesday to reach a final decision on the project.

The award was made to Bush & Burchett, Prestonsburg contractors, on their bid of $308,725, but the contract has not been signed.

"We propose to lay the entire proceeding out before EDA for a final decision," Greg Stumbo, assistant county attorney, said. County Judge Henry Stumbo, County Planner Claude Swiney and representatives of some of the bidders were expected to accompany him to Atlanta.

The low bid was offered, Monday of last week, by Kay & Kay Constructing, Inc., London, Ky., which originally asked $258,719 for the work but whose bid rose after recalculation of concrete work to a total of $295,759.

The court delayed final action at Monday's meeting till Wednesday afternoon. At the second meeting it was pointed out that Kay & Kay Constructing had omitted from its bid the name of the minority business enterprise required by EDA for projects which it funds. This EDA requirement provides that every contract shall include a commitment to use at least 10 per cent of the contract for minority business enterprises, and that each bid shall include the name of such minority bidder and the work to be performed.

Jerry Fisher, EDA's legal adviser, was consulted by telephone, and his opinion as expressed at that time was that unless the minority business form was completely filled out, the bid was "not responsive" and, therefore, could not be considered by the court.

After that, the court voted unanimously to award the contract to Bush & Burchett.

Workman Gets Life; Defender Asks New Trial

Public Defender Gary E. Johnson filed Monday motion and grounds for a new trial for his client, Bobby Workman, who last Wednesday morning was held guilty by a circuit court jury here of the murder nine years ago of James Chaffins and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The jury received the case late last Tuesday, but failed to reach a decision before court adjourned for the day. Its verdict was announced about an hour after court reconvened the following morning.

In his grounds for a new trial Johnson listed these reasons, among others:

—That the verdict was "flagrantly against the evidence."

—The evidence was insufficient as a matter of law to corroborate the testimony of Mickey Porter who was described in the petition as "an accomplice to the charged crime."

—The evidence was insufficient to sustain the verdict "where the evidence used to impeach the prosecution's own witnesses" was itself impeached and was used as substantive evidence to prove defendant's guilt.

—Defendant's rights to confrontation under the Sixth Amendment were denied him.

—Defendant's rights were denied when the court refused to permit him to submit evidence that he had passed three polygraph tests and also refused Sgt. Godby, State Police polygraphist, permission to testify.

—The court failed to declare a mistrial after learning that a newspaper account of the trial was taken into the jury room during the jury's deliberations and after learning that at least three persons had read that article, or portions of it, and that at least one juror had in the presence of others commented on the article.

Doug and Tavis Boyd are brought to safety by Terry Trimble after being stranded in mid-river in their coal truck.

Truck Occupants Rescued from River

When Doug and Tavis Boyd attempted to drive their coal truck across the low water bridge at Ivel from Diamond Coal Company's tippie, Monday afternoon, the waters of a swollen Big Sandy river which had covered the bridge caught the truck broadside and pushed a front wheel off the span, leaving the truckers in a precarious position.

Knowing that the same current could, at any time, sweep the vehicle into the deep water on the lower side of the bridge, the Prater Creek men could do nothing but sit and wait and hope that rescuers would reach them in time.

Luckily, there were witnesses to the mishap, including Ron Anderson, of Banner, who summoned help. The help came in the form of an outboard runabout brought by Terry Trimble. Later, a unit of the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad arrived to help. Trimble, fighting the powerful current and swirling water, managed to rescue the marooned co-owners of the truck and bring them to shore.

Anderson said the Boyds had successfully crossed the bridge in one of their two coal trucks but failed on the second crossing when they were unable to negotiate the current. He said at one point a large drifting tree struck the truck, jarring it, and adding to the stranded men's anxiety.

Free Parking Offered On Fridays, Saturdays In Downtown Section

Roy Ramey, president of the Prestonsburg Area Chamber of Commerce, announced Tuesday that parking will be free in the downtown area here each Friday and Saturday until Christmas.

Parking in all municipal parking lots and at all street meters will be without charge for those two days, beginning this week and continuing till Christmas.

All downtown employees are being asked to carpool or park out of the downtown area in order to provide more parking space for shoppers.

Library Board Honors Mrs. May

Attending Sunday's library dedication were, from left, Charles Clark, library board chairman; the Rev. Walter Applegate, pastor of the First United Methodist Church here; Mrs. Barbara May Williams, state librarian, and Homer Lee Hall, regional librarian.

The Prestonsburg woman who led the development of the library movement in this county for 16 years, was honored posthumously Sunday afternoon when the Floyd County Library Board of Trustees dedicated the Floyd County Library building here as the Emma Wells May Cultural Center.

In a brief dedication ceremony at the library Charles Clark, former Floyd superintendent of schools and successor to Mrs. May as chairman of the library board, reviewed Mrs. May's dedicated service, pointing out that "she was the heart of the library idea." He recalled that when she became chairman of the board in 1961, when he was superintendent, the library was housed in one room of the former high school building on Second street, with only one employee and few books. The decision by the board to move its offices from the courthouse to the school building required the library to move elsewhere, and immediately, he said, Mrs. May began urging that the school board make available a portion of its lot for a library.

"She literally outtalked me," he recalled.

The result, he said, is the present library structure, one of the finest in Kentucky, with 50,000 volumes and a large staff serving the county and regional libraries.

Mr. Clark presented on behalf of the library board to R. V. May, husband of Mrs. May, the board's resolutions recognizing her services. The portrait of Mrs. May was unveiled during the program by her granddaughter, Emma Archer Atinay.

Homer Lee Hall, regional librarian, as master of ceremonies introduced the speakers, and he also paid tribute to the life and work of Mrs. May. Mrs. Barbara May Williams, Frankfort, state librarian, spoke briefly. The invocation was said by the Rev. Walter Applegate, pastor of the First United Methodist Church here.

Among the estimated 100 persons attending the dedication ceremony were Mrs. Vivian Dawkins and Miss Betsy Crawford, of the state librarian's office, members and employees of library board from adjoining counties.

First Strike Day Passes Quietly In this Section

The nationwide strike of soft coal miners began at midnight Monday and continued through Tuesday on a quiet note in the Big Sandy valley, one of the heaviest coal-producing areas affected.

State Police at Pikeville said Tuesday afternoon that there has been scattered picketing but no violence.

Trucks hauling coal from independent mines continued to travel during the day, a KSP spokesman said.

Yet there was uneasiness over the coal fields. One local union president was quoted by a relative as saying the miners are determined to stop the movement of all coal. "We'll even stop the trains from running," he was quoted as saying.

Robert Carter, district UMW president, said, however, that there are no plans at this time to set up picket lines and shut down independent mine operations.

The strike, expected by many to be a long one, followed the failure of negotiations between the United Mine Workers of America and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association. Wages, fringe benefits and the right to strike are obstacles in the way of a settlement, and of the three wages is the least worrisome; it has been reported.

Johns Cr. Route for Road To Inez Wins Approval

Roads of the future directly affecting Floyd, Martin and Johnson counties were the subjects of two separate meetings held here last week.

In the first meeting, a public hearing held last Wednesday at Jenny Wiley State Park, alternate routes for the US 23 sector between Prestonsburg and Paintsville were discussed, and generally the present route of KY 1428 (old US 23) through the Little Paint section was approved.

The second meeting, held last Thursday, was that of the Big Sandy Area Development District's transportation committee on the KY 40 corridor into Martin county, and the committee adopted a resolution recommending the present KY 3 route, connecting with the present US 23 at the mouth of Johns Creek, near Auxier.

Apparently there was little disagreement over the path a new four-lane US 23 will follow between Prestonsburg and Paintsville. Some representatives of the Johnson county-seat expressed a preference that the route follow the present US 23 from Hager Gap into Paintsville. An alternate would be to join US 460 at Staffordsville, then swing northeastward and join the existing US 23 at KY 201.

At the Prestonsburg end, the new road would eliminate the present Abbott Mountain route and enter Abbott Creek in the Big Branch vicinity, from there joining the present US 23 from the western end of West Prestonsburg.

One of the alternate routes discussed was the present US 23, but nobody favored it.

Big Sandy ADD's transportation group endorsed the Inez-Auxier route for the KY 40 corridor as the most beneficial of the three routes proposed. The route to Ulysses, Lawrence county, was rejected, but it was later said that a road serving that section because of large coal holdings will be built, possibly even before the main corridor work.

Russell Williamson, of Inez, chairman of the ADD committee, said, "Ulysses has a lot of good points. It is six miles shorter, it would cost $21 million less to build and it would take very few houses. We would also get it two or three years quicker than any other road. But I have always said that KY 3—the southern route—fits Martin county's road system better than any other."

Yet Williamson said that the most important corridor must be from Kermit, W. Va., to Inez. From there, traffic can move up U.S. 52 north into West Virginia.

Jim Smith, a central planner with the Kentucky Department of Transportation in Frankfort, said, "An overall systems viewpoint shows that KY 40, Paintsville, fits in best with the state and regional transportation network." But Smith added that the southern route would not make much difference in that network. He said the present route from Martin county to US 23, near Auxier, is the most heavily travelled route by Martin counties. Engineering figures show that an estimated 5,900 vehicles would use that route in the year 2003, compared with an estimated 4,500 that would use the Paintsville corridor.

The Department of Highways is doing a location study on the US 23 link between Prestonsburg and Paintsville, in which all six corridors will be screened, regardless of any consensus at last Wednesday's meeting. Factors involved in that study are environmental, archeological, and social effects, DOT spokesman Jim Smith said, as is cost and displacement of persons.

The study will take at least two years and the design stage another two, Smith said.

FACTS?

This column has been accused, with some reason, of seldom supplying any real information. Well...lesee...

When you think of Cicero (not the city), you may think of the silver-tongued Roman orator. But how did Cicero get his name? We have the word of somebody that the word, "Cicero," stems from another word, "wart," and that the old spellbinder was so named because he had one on his nose.

You are aware, I suppose, that the word, "cicerone," is applied to guides taking folks on tours. So-called, obviously, because, like Cicero, they have free-wheeling tongues.

The Times erred in its report (Nov. 2 edition) of a damage suit filed by Sally Nelson against Jot Marsillett when it stated that Marsillett was convicted of the slaying of Mrs. Nelson's husband, Sam Nelson.

Mr. Marsillett was acquitted at the April circuit court term here of the charge arising from Nelson's death.

This error has only now come to our attention, and we are glad to make this correction.

Pike Considering Suing Over Road Conditions

By BRYAN WILKINS (In The Lexington Herald)

Pike County Judge Wayne Rutherford has made public a letter in which he warns the state Department of Transportation he is considering filing a discrimination suit if charges that the department is not maintaining roads because of destruction by the coal industry prove to be factual.

The Department of Transportation says it has not replied to the November 3 letter from Rutherford and also said it is conducting a review of the state-administered County Road Aid program. Rutherford's letter was published last week in the Pike County News.

Meanwhile 97 students who attend Johns Creek High School and Bushy Elementary School on Pike county have signed a petition demanding immediate repairs to their road. They charge the road is in such a bad condition that their education is suffering.

The petition states that students are often late for school and goes on to add that they can not attend extra-curricular activities because of the road.

"We feel we are being discriminated against literally as a step-child. Although we are small in number we still have the right to expect fair and equal treatment and every chance for a good education," the petition says.

The petitioners charge that county road equipment has been left sitting on the side of their road (Ky. 1095) for "up to three weeks at a time." When it rains or snows the road is impassable, the school children say.

The demand for road repairs comes almost a month after Rutherford sent a blistering letter to Transportation secretary Calvin Grayson, charging that the department is running "a very weak maintenance program in Pike county."

Rutherford charged the highway department with being understaffed, which contributes to road problems in the repairs they do attempt.

"Many of our roads are potholed. When they are patched, cold patch is dumped and patted down with a shovel and run over with a truck, yet throughout Kentucky you hot patch," the letter continues.

Rutherford said that Pike county pays $19 million to the state and that the county court collects no taxes. "We deserve a maintenance program," he said.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT RELOCATION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

County, Floyd, SP 36-216-9R1, Federal No. RS 5358 (3)
Termini of the project: Replacement of existing Bailey Bridge Ky 979

The purpose of this announcement is to advise all persons whose property will be affected by construction of the above project that negotiations for right of way on this project commenced on December 1, 1977.

It is the policy of the Kentucky Department of Transportation's Bureau of Highways and the Federal Highway Administration that no person shall be displaced by a Federal-aid Highway Project until adequate replacement housing has been obtained by him or has been offered to him at a price within his financial means.

The owners and/or tenants of residences, businesses, farm operations, or non-profit organizations who are displaced by this project will, if they meet the eligibility requirements, be entitled to receive the following payments for:

- Moving Expenses
- Replacement Housing
- Increased Mortgage Interest
- Expenses Incidental to the Purchase of a Replacement Dwelling

In order to be eligible for any of the above payments, an owner or tenant must occupy the premises at the time the Bureau of Highways' representative contacts the owner for the purpose of making an offer to purchase the property.

Any occupant who plans to move must first contact the district relocation agent so that his eligibility for these payments can be established. Do not move until advised to do so by the relocation agent.

In order for owner occupants to be eligible for relocation benefits, title to the property required must be conveyed to the Bureau of Highways.

The eligibility requirements for and the limitations on payments are contained in the Informational Pamphlet on the Relocation Assistance Program.

Prior to this time each relocatee should have been contacted and given one of the Pamphlets. Additional copies of the pamphlet and additional information may be obtained from the undersigned district relocation agent:

Poster Contest, Tie At Betsy Layne Hi

When art students at Betsy Layne High School vied in a commercial poster contest sponsored by the children's tutoring program, Tortoise and the Hare, 15-year-old Kenny Akers had the contest all but won before it began.

According to art teacher Lizzie Roberts, a silent consensus was reached among the other art students when they learned that Kenny was submitting multiple entries. Collectively, they decided it was futile to try to outdo Kenny in a poster drawing contest.

Only the unflappable Teresa Akers submitted a poster, anyway. And with it the 16-year-old junior tied-up the contest. Both Kenny and Teresa were named winners.

The daughter of Hugh and Judy Akers, of Branham's Creek, Teresa is related to Kenny, not by ancestry but by artistic ability. He is the son of Richard and Goldie Akers, of Dana.

The contest poster drawings for Tortoise and the Hare depicted the famous tale of the same name in which a tortoise and a hare run a race and, to everybody's surprise, the tortoise wins.

"The slow starter doesn't have to finish last," explained Mrs. Elizabeth Doyle, Director of Tortoise and the Hare, "and that's the reason for the tutoring program."

Tortoise and the Hare is for children in grades one through twelve who would benefit from individual instruction in reading and mathematics. After interview by appointment, children are assigned a regular time-slot during which they receive help in academic areas where they are having difficulty.

The children's tutor, Mrs. Elizabeth Doyle, has a Master's degree, teaching certificate, teaching experience, and published articles on education in Boston. A native of San Francisco, she is the wife of Dr. Walter Doyle, a children's dentist in Lexington and Betsy Layne.

Appointments for tutoring at Tortoise and the Hare may be made by calling 478-9326.

Electrical Training Scheduled at Martin

East Point Club Meets December 1

The East Point Area Development Club met December 1, W. L. Baldrige, chairman, presiding.

A motion was passed that the club would present each patient in Jenny Wiley Rest Home with a small gift. Mrs. Landon Tackett was to contact the Jenny Wiley Rest Home to see how many patients were there.

The club also decided to distribute fruit and candy to the elderly sick and shut-ins of the area.

Improvements on the Community Center are more than half completed with the men still meeting in work sessions, evenings, to finish the improvements as soon as possible.

The chairman discussed the supplementary funding of the N.E.K.R.C.-D.A. Awards Banquet.

A motion was passed to buy 60 serving trays and an electric can-opener for the Community Center. A decision was made to look into the cost of an awning for the front door of the Center.

Motion was also passed to replace existing lights with fluorescent lights.

On Thursday, Dec. 15, there will be a Christmas bean dinner, and food will be furnished by the club. The public is invited.

Those at the meeting were Mrs. Alma Baldrige, Miss Mary Stambough, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Leake, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baldrige, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Ramey and Mr. and Mrs. Landon Tackett.

Where Will the People Go?

The Ashland Daily Independent in its edition of Dec. 2 offered an editorial argument for the Ulysses corridor of KY 40 into, and from, Martin county, and asks, "Where will the coal go?"

The Independent argues reasonably and well for its own hometown and home county, Ashland and Boyd, pointing out that if a proposed bridge across the Tug Fork of the Big Sandy and a road from Inez to Kermit are built, as suggested by Russell Williamson, Inez banker and civic leader (who, incidentally, voted for the southern corridor from Martin county to join US 23, near Auxier), Martin county's coal will be going to West Virginia, which already has enough of its own.

But The Independent fails to ask the big question: "Where will the people go?"

Not to Ulysses, in Lawrence county, certainly, as The Independent suggests. And, even if the road were built to Ulysses, would that turn Martin county coal into Kentucky from West Virginia, if the suggested Kermit bridge and road are ever built?

We think of this KY 40 corridor into Martin county as more than a mere coal-haul road. It is being planned, surely, to serve people as well as coal. Hopefully, Martin county will have people long after its last lump of coal has been mined.

And these people are interested in getting to the hospitals and schools and other services that are in the Prestonsburg-Pointsville area and which any road that is built should make not only accessible to them but also convenient.

While on the subject, The Times would compliment the Big Sandy Area Development District on its choice of the Warfield-Auxier route as one that is practical and best-suited to serve regional needs. That is what Big Sandy ADD is for—to consider matters such as this from the regional point of view and to act accordingly.

court, pointed out that Kay & Kay had later stipulated a minority contractor, a plumbing firm.

The assistant county attorney, acting in the absence of County Attorney Harold Stumbo, said EDA approval or disapproval of the contract as awarded is necessary. "They may throw the whole thing out," he said.

If a contract is approved now, work must begin on the bridge by Dec. 19 in order to save for the county the $454,000 EDA grant made for the work. If it is not approved, the court will seek an extension of time to permit re-advertising the project for bids.

Union miners face days of idleness and lack of income at Christmas time but say they are determined to stick the strike out, however long it may be.

At the same time, electric power plants and steel mills are better prepared for the layoff, some having stockpiled coal enough to last three months.

Mineworkers will be hard-hit by loss of medical benefits, and union funds are not at their onetime high to meet strike emergencies. The chain of Appalachian regional hospitals also will suffer added woes during a year that has already seen them losing ground.

The money circulated by 10,000 free-spending miners also will be lost to the general economy.

But there was a general attitude of "we'll get by."

Julius Mullins, treasurer of District 31, summed it up:

"When miners work they pay their debts," adding that because of this favorable reputation there has never been a mortgage foreclosure on a miner during a strike.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Women of the First United Methodist Church met at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Fellowship Hall for their annual Christmas party. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Gertrude Bradbury. The scripture was from Luke 2.

The monthly program, "The Night the Angels Sang," was given by Mrs. Vera Ford, assisted by Mrs. Shirley Callihan and Miss Myrtle Pugsley.

The group joined in singing Christmas carols. Cookies, candy and cranberry punch were served to Elizabeth Ramey, Edna Carol Greenwade, Vera Ford, Goldia Baldrige, Katherine Stephens, Lack Roberts, Douglas Perry, Gertrude Bradbury, Ellen Tankersley, Eleanor Horn, Gladys Blackburn, Peg Hewlett, Virginia Shivel, Dorothy Stover, Myrtle Pugsley, Geneva Carter, Ruth Worland, Ina Mae Hereford, Josephine Fields, Bonnie Applegate, Dorothy Harris, Barbara Mosley, Roberta Davidson, Shirley Callihan, Mary Jo Hereford, Ruby Clark, Pearl Crum, Mary Jane Brown, and Miss Mary Callahan Hereford, a guest.

The interesting features of the publication is the ads—Delco-Light, sold by the late Henry Porter; the Sandy Valley Hardware Company at Allen, then operated by Judge Hall and D. B. "Doc" Stephens; the Beaver Hardware Company at Smalley (remember Smalley?); the J. P. Laven Lumber Company at Dwale; the Bailey Hotel at Allen, and—remember, if you're old enough—the Liberty Restaurant at Allen.

Then there were the "cards" of professional men, mostly attorneys, which newspapers at that time published for the princely pay of $5 to $10 a year. These listed 11 attorneys-at-law, none of whom are yet living: B. M. James, William Dingus, John D. Smith, A. T. Patrick, A. J. May, J. Bascom Clark, W. P. Mayo and J. N. Hamilton, all of Prestonsburg; O. C. Hall, then of McDowell, and A. J. Kirk, of Paintsville.

If you are past 40, you may have read this far.

MISSED OPPORTUNITY

Last primary election day, this column printed the anecdote which follows:

HENRY TO THE RESCUE

I am always at the point of fawning upon anybody who will tell me a story that can be printed in this space without first a trip to the dry-cleaners. This one, though you may have heard it, will do.

It's the story of Carter, Nixon, Kissinger, a hippie and a priest who were the sole occupants of a plane when suddenly over the inter-com came the pilot's voice.

"Gentlemen," he said, "remain cool, but I must tell you that we have just ruptured a fuel line and must crash. My co-pilot and I have two parachutes and will be jumping in the next few seconds. You have four chutes. Be gentlemen, decide who will use them, and good luck."

Carter softly reminded the others that he didn't want to seem presumptuous but that, since he was President of the United States, much depended upon him and he should have one of the parachutes. The others agreed, and he floated out.

Nixon then told the other three that only he could tell the full story of Watergate, that he thought it would be of benefit to the nation, and so should be next in line. No objection.

Then Kissinger spoke up in his broadest accent: "I am the smartest man in the world, and my mind is needed as this country of ours faces one crisis after another." The other two agreed, and he jumped.

The priest then spoke up. "I," he told the hippie, "am an old man. I have lived a full life, you are young, and I want you to take the one parachute that is left."

"Cool it, man!" the hippie cried. "We've got two chutes, man! Put one on and jump. That 'smartest man in the world' just jumped with my knapsack on his back."

We now list that yarn under the heading of "Lost Business Opportunities." If any reader had taken the time, he or she might have sold it to Reader's Digest. I say that, because Reader's Digest this month on Page 144 has the same story, with variations. Read it and compare.

My story, months after we printed it! Wonder why I wasn't smart enough to cash in on it?

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY • COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Almost every predatory animal and bird including man loves to eat the cottontail. And well man should. A freshly-killed, field-dressed rabbit taken in the autumn, hung up by the heels in the smokehouse and allowed to chill overnight is some of the best wild game eating in the world.

When rolled in flour and fried in a covered skillet, wild rabbit is indeed gourmet fare. To top off this feast, milk gravy made in the skillet where the rabbit was fried has a taste you wouldn't believe. When spooned over a chunk of thick cornbread, this gravy approaches the sublime in goodness and appetite-satisfying quality.

Modern methods of farming have changed autumn rabbit hunting from what it used to be. In more recent days weed and broomsedge fields that once provided excellent rabbit shelter are kept clean as a whistle by mowing machines. The corn shock that once provided both food and shelter, is no more and for many other reasons, the rural countryside no longer is the fine habitat it once was for rabbits. All of which is a pity and a great loss. Beside the good eating provided, rabbit hunting was fine sport. To go afield on a crisp November or December day with a good rabbit dog was the epitome of country sport. And when there was plenty of food and shelter, there was never any shortage of rabbits.

A healthy adult Molly Cottontail will produce at least two litters each summer and given half a chance, most of these progeny will be living in the briar patches come hunting season. At one time each weed and briar field could be expected to be the residence of three or four rabbits and there was usually one or two more in every half dozen panels or split rail fence.

There's still quite a few rabbits left, but strangely enough they are mostly congregated in or near urban areas. As evidence of that fact, traffic killed rabbits are more often seen on highways on the outskirts of towns.

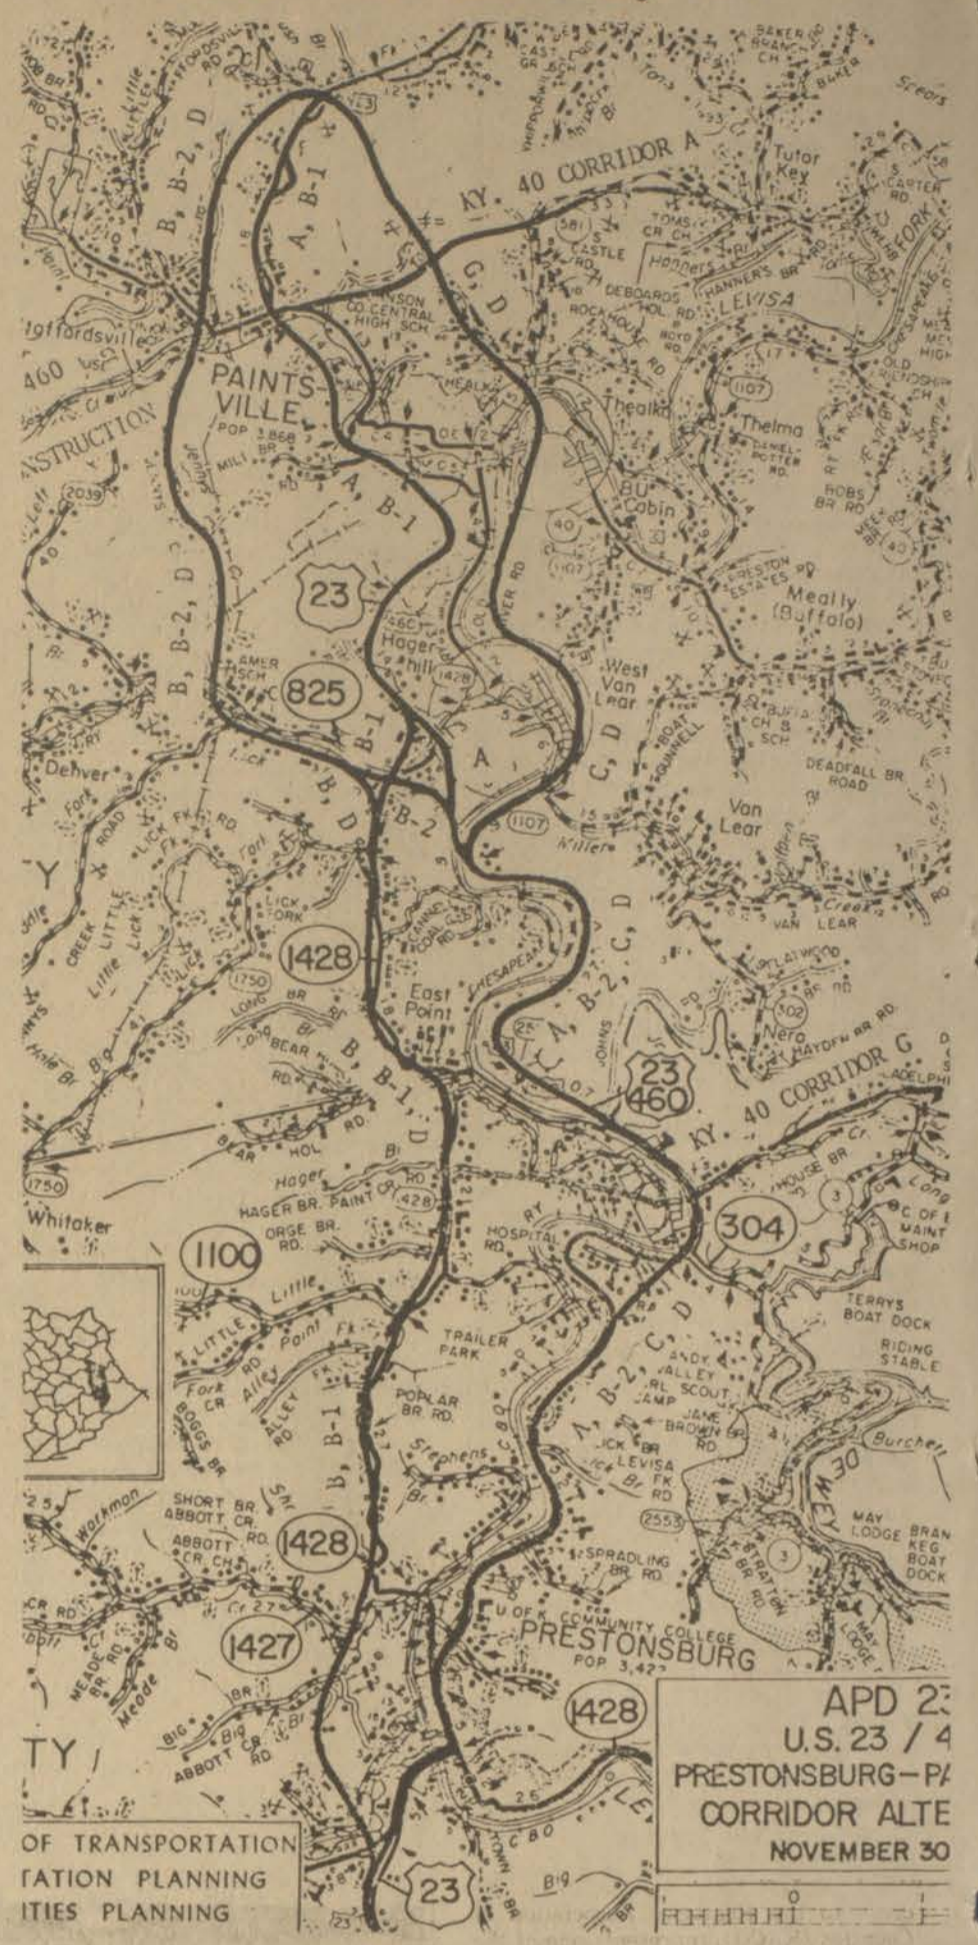

The cottontail is a wonderful little animal and for generations was the prime quarry of farm boys armed with a .22 rifle or a single-barrel shotgun.

While it is considered a meek little critter and devoid of weapons of defense, it does have courage and will, on occasion, fight like a demon. It prefers to run away from danger whenever possible, but will sometimes fight by leaping over its adversary, kicking it on the back and head with its strong hind feet and legs. We have seen a rabbit vanquish a small snake and bluff off a housecat in this manner.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH OF SON

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gene Halfhill, of Prestonsburg, announce the birth of a son, Michael Gene Halfhill, Jr., November 21, at King's Daughters' Hospital, Ashland, Kentucky. Mrs. Halfhill is the former Peggy Lee Pruitt, of Allen.

How US 23 May Go

The favored route for a new US 23 from Prestonsburg to Paintsville is depicted by the heavy line at left on map. The two lines forming a loop in the Hager Hill area represent alternate routes considered on north from that point. Line at right represents the present cliff-bordered US 23 which has almost unanimously been rejected for the future four-lane highway.

The state will continue to maintain existing U.S. 23, but no reconstruction work will be done on it. That news worried some of those present, who said they must continue to travel old U.S. 23 after the new highway is completed. They voiced concern over the danger of slides on the present highway.

Pikeville District Engineer Gail Mullins said public input about present U.S. 23 initiated the study for a new route, and for "something to be done in a hurry."

Mullins explained the reason for the late start on this segment of U.S. 23 between Paintsville and Prestonsburg. He said the survey taken in 1965 suggested the road was handling the traffic load then. That is no longer true, he said, and this prompted a study for additional routes.

BETSY LAYNE NEWS

WSCS MEETS

The W.S.C.S. of the Betsy Layne United Methodist Church held its regular monthly meeting last Thursday at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Dale Meade. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. James George. At the business session the club decided to publish a cookbook which will be ready for distribution around Easter.

The meeting was then turned over to the program leader, Mrs. Kelsa Elliott, who gave a program on Christmas, entitled, "You May Have the Joy Bells." A number of members took part in the program, doing short readings. Songs were sung by the entire club throughout the program. Mark and Lisa Meade each sang Christmas solos for the group. The program was closed with prayer by Mrs. Elliott. The hostess served refreshments to Mrs. R. K. Larson, Mrs. Kelsa Elliott, Mrs. B. C. Caldwell, Mrs. Emory Osborne, Mrs. Curtis Wallen, Mrs. E. P. Davis, Mrs. Burt Allen, Mrs. James George, Mrs. G. H. Blackburn, Mrs. Dean Osborne, Mrs. Eliza Blackburn, and guests Robin Larson, Mark Alan Meade and Lisa Ann Meade.

Hall Assumes Deputy Jailer Position Here

Phillip Randy Hall, of Wayland has assumed the duties of deputy jailer at the Floyd county jail here, a position he has held since Nov. 3.

The 27-year-old Hall is a former Knott county patrolman and is a son of Mrs. Beulah Hall, of Wayland.

Space Problem For New Court Is Under Study

With about one month remaining before the new judicial system takes over, physical accommodations for the district court—courtroom and office space—are being sought.

William Davis, of the state Department of Finance and Administration, conferred here last week with County Judge Henry Stumbo on needed district court space, and it now appears that Judge Stumbo (as county judge executive after Jan. 1) may move his offices to the new Courthouse Annex, leaving the office room he now occupies for district court use with the adjacent county courtroom.

The fiscal court meeting place also may shift to the new building. If that happens, Judge Stumbo said, records of the fiscal court may of necessity be moved there from the county clerk's office.

These arrangements are not definite yet. But one thing is:

Judge Stumbo says that, since he will not have judicial authority after January 1, he will not in any way be responsible for juvenile cases. This, he said, is strictly the problem of the Department for Human Resources.

An office which will become of more importance is that of Circuit Clerk Frank DeRossett. Since that office will handle the district court records as well as those of the circuit court, the office staff is expected to be increased to possibly 14 persons.

"THE OTHER WISE MAN" FILM TO BE PRESENTED

"The Other Wise Man," a Christmas film in color, will be presented by the Maytown First Baptist Church as a part of its "worship the Christ of Christmas" program at 6 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 18.

Showing of the film will be preceded by recitations and the singing of Christmas carols by the younger children. The public is invited to attend.

ENTERTAIN RELATIVES

Mrs. John Worth Spears, of Meta, entertained at a turkey dinner on Thanksgiving Day, having as her guests Mrs. Nora Stepp, Mrs. Mae Kendrick, and Miss Jane Ann Kendrick, all of Prestonsburg, Mrs. Don House, of London, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spears and little daughter, Misty Dawn, of Meta.

Mrs. Dennis Lumpkins and son, Chet, and Mrs. William Chester Porter and son, Brad, were in Lexington Thursday for medical reasons and also shopping.

Carroll Proposes Regional Councils

Gov. Julian Carroll announced last Friday that he is proposing creation of multi-agency, state regional councils in possibly four areas of Kentucky because of his dissatisfaction with state government's ability to respond to local government needs.

The announcement, made in an address to the Kentucky Association of Counties (KACO), represents one of the first major legislative initiatives of the governor for the 1978 session of the General Assembly.

Carroll compared the proposed councils to the federal regional council which has the authority to handle requests across federal agency lines.

Agencies within the regional concept will include development, finance, highways, natural resources and "probably one or two others," according to Gov. Carroll. He added that the Department for Local Government probably will be the finance arm of the regional councils.

Gov. Carroll explained that managers in these regional offices will be able to secure state agency response across all state government lines. He said he had seen during the Eastern Kentucky floods last spring that when he placed a personal staff member in Pike county with authority to cross agency lines, "things got done."

The governor asked for the assistance of the board of directors of KACO and of the Local Government Advisory Commission in establishing and implementing the new concept of state government response.

He called 1978 "a landmark year for county government," and pledged state support to counties in this landmark year.

The governor was the luncheon speaker for the final day of KACO's three-day conference for all elected county officials in Kentucky.

IN TENNESSEE

Julian Murrill was in Lenoir City, Tenn., during the week-end following Thanksgiving, guest of his son, Howard Murrill, Mrs. Murrill and children.

Floyd County Health Notes

Mr. and Mrs. William Chester Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Huey Darby and son, Kenny, were in Ashland, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Porter's son, Brad, remained with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Porter, who visited in Paintsville, Sunday.

Ray Brackett and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grigsby, Jr., of McDowell, were in Lexington Wednesday and Thursday on Floyd county school business. They also visited Laura Brackett and Geri Grigsby, both students at the University of Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Neeley, of the Abbott road, were here to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Goble, and Mr. and Mrs. James Ed Goble, Friday evening.

Dennie Slone is a patient at Our Lady of the Way hospital at Martin. Mrs. Slone is with him. Visiting him Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Laven.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie James and sons, Allen and Brett, of Frankfort, were here last week-end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Slone.

The Floyd County Health Department will conduct two glaucoma clinics in the week to follow. The first clinic will be held Thursday, December 8, and the second clinic on Tuesday, December 13. These clinics will be conducted from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. at the health department, here.

The Community Health Nurses remind all persons age 35 and older that they should be screened for glaucoma every two years in order to prevent this disease which can cause needless blindness. This screening service is free of charge and the public is welcome to attend.

A community health nurse from the health department will also conduct an outpost clinic in the basement of the Methodist Church at Wayland, Monday, December 12, 1977. Clinic hours will be from 10 a.m. to 12 and 1 to 2 p.m. with the following medical services being available: TB skin tests, immunizations, hemoglobins, diabetes screening and blood pressures.

RETURN FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Ford, Jr. and Kelli, returned Tuesday from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, where they spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their son, Winston III. Mrs. Vera Ford, Miss Leslie Ford and Jerry Fannin went by plane from the Lexington Airport to Ft. Lauderdale, where they joined them for Thanksgiving Day.

JW Council Meeting
Features Joseph Clark

Guest speaker, Joseph Clark.

The Jenny Wiley Council of the International Reading Association met November 8 at the Floyd County Library here, with the president, Larry Jervis, presiding.

Joseph Clark, Director of Programs for the Gifted-Talented Youth of Kentucky, from the State Department of Education, Frankfort, was guest speaker. Mr. Clark explained that the gifted and talented children are those, identified by professionally qualified persons, who by virtue of outstanding abilities are capable of high performance. These are the children who require differential education programs and services beyond those normally provided by the regular school program in order to realize their contribution to self and society. Mr. Clark said that there are school districts in the state who have initiated programs for the gifted and talented.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Anna Lee Rice and Miss Elsie Stephens, Title I reading consultants and Mrs. Roberta Davidson, supervisor, all of the Floyd county schools.

The next meeting will be at Clark Elementary School, February 14, 1978, with a representative from Tarmac Company as guest speaker.

Perkins Hails Compromise
On Black Lung as 'A Victory'

After weeks of struggle, the new black lung law has been agreed on by a Congressional conference headed by Congressman Carl D. Perkins, and Congressman Perkins called it a victory for both the black lung victims and the future of the coal industry in Kentucky.

The long struggle to make the different bills passed by the House and Senate conform, basically centered on how the fund to pay black lung victims would be established, but before that numerous agreements were reached on other important provisions.

"I wanted to make sure that we got a fair deal as was humanly possible for the assessment on coal to pay the black lung claims, and I feel we have done that. No fees will be excessive on deep mined or strip mined coal, and the fund will be large enough to pay the claims," Perkins said.

But he emphasized that one of the main things he wanted—the major reason for the new legislation—has been won, and he called it the automatic review of all previously denied claims.

"This means that everyone who has a claim for black lung benefits, and who has been denied, will get his case reviewed, and it will be reviewed under standards which are more fair than some previously used," he said. "Black lung victims will be able to submit new evidence, and this will help thousands of victims who have been unjustly denied," Congressman Perkins said.

"Also," he said, "where there is no medical evidence, and the miner is dead, affidavits will be allowed. But, if the miner had worked for 25 years or longer prior to his death, and was disabled by black lung, his widow is entitled to benefits."

The Kentucky Congressman, who was the original sponsor of black lung legislation which first passed in 1969, said that there were numerous other improvements which will go "a long way to making sure that the people with just claims who have been denied, now can look forward to receiving their benefits."

He also said that while concessions had to be made to the Senate so far as the fee on coal was concerned, the best possible outcome was achieved.

"I did not want coal taxed on a Btu basis, because coal from the Western states has a much lower Btu than our coal, and so our coal would have paid a disproportionate share under the Senate formula of the black lung fund," he said. "I wanted the fee to be on a per ton basis, with strip mined coal paying less than deep mined coal, and we compromised on what for all practical purposes will be 50 cents a ton for deep mined coal and 25 cents a ton on strip mined coal."

Congressman Perkins said that there is a two percent of the value of the coal "cap" on the assessments, but with the price of coal rising, the cap is practically meaningless, and Eastern coal will not have to worry about a "break" for coal from the far West.

He pointed out that there are still some technical arrangements that have to be completed between the House and Senate, and the final agreement must be ratified by both Houses before it goes to the President.

Congressman Perkins said that persons who have been denied will be notified by mail from the government about when to submit any new evidence they have. He said it should be sometime early next year.

Floyd PCC Students in Who's Who

Prestonsburg Community College announced this week that the following Floyd county students have been nominated to "Who's Who Among American Junior Colleges." To be eligible for this honor, a student must show outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and potential usefulness to business and society.

Council Says Voc Instructors Urgently Need Pay Increases

There is an urgent need for salary increases for vocational education instructors, according to recommendations compiled last week by the State Advisory Council on Vocational Education.

The recommendations were compiled from a survey, done periodically by the council, on the needs of vocational training programs in the state.

The council advises the Kentucky Department of Education through the state Board for Occupational Education on state vocational education programs.

According to the council's report, nearly all 14 vocational education regions in the state expressed the need for salary increases. The report noted, "The ability of vocational education to attract and hold qualified, competent personnel is severely hampered by the limitations imposed by the state salary schedule. In some areas of Kentucky, particularly highly industrialized areas, the situation is critical. If the quality of vocational education in the state is to be maintained, sharp increases in salaries are necessary."

The report recommended that salaries of vocational personnel be increased well beyond the normal annual increment so as to become comparable with those paid in business, industry, and local school districts.

The council also recommended: —That each area vocational education center in the state have vocational guidance services available on a regular basis.

—An increased funding level for post-secondary and adult education programs. (An October survey indicates that 6,771 applicants were denied opportunities for upgrading their skills, just four months into the new fiscal year.)

—That career exploration opportunities for students be increased.

—That accountability be built into each program, and cooperating and coordinating agreements with existing agencies with placement potential be developed.

—That equipment in vocational schools be updated to industrial standards.

The Advisory Council report commends vocational education personnel for providing job-entry skills to the students but says, however, that vocational education must stress "providing personal skills and developing the personal traits necessary for success in the world of work."

METHODIST WOMEN TO MEET

The Allen United Methodist Women will hold their monthly meeting December 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Tincy Crisp. Mrs. Kay Lemaster will have the program for the evening. This will be the Christmas program, so each member is asked to bring a gift to exchange. All women of the church are invited. The Allen Methodist Women still have 1978 Linen calendars left to sell.

Allen Central Edges P'burg Hi for Title

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON

The Allen Central Rebels won the Floyd County Pre-Season tournament last Saturday night at the Prestonsburg fieldhouse by defeating the Prestonsburg Blackcats, 66 to 64.

Just last week in the Jenny Wiley Invitational, Coach Howard Wallen's Rebels had lost to Prestonsburg in the semi-finals by a two-point margin, and two Johnson Central by one point in the consolation game. With the win, Allen Central's record is now 5 and 5. Prestonsburg's record is 5 and 2.

Phil Slone's free shots in the overtime were the difference, and the sophomore finished out the night with 27 points, while freshman Tim Branham had 15 points for Prestonsburg. The Blackcats led in scoring by all-state candidate Grady Stephens with 24 points and Rick Morgan with 20.

Allen Central moved into the finals by defeating Betsy Layne Wednesday night, 69 to 58. Freshman Tim Branham racked up 26 points and Phil Slone had 20 for Betsy Layne. For the Bobcats Ricky Ferrell had 27 points and Ronnie Akers

17. In the semi-finals Allen Central won over Wheelwright, 69 to 50. Tim Branham had 21 points, Sophomore Mark Martin connected for 13 points for Wheelwright. Monroe Jones and Tommy Hunter each had 12 points.

Coach Fred Setser's Blackcats moved into the finals by defeating McDowell Thursday afternoon, 69 to 66. The Cats were led in scoring by Grady Stephens with 23 points. Rick Morgan had 13 and David Pitts connected for 13 points. Coach David Turner's McDowell Daredevils, who suffered their second loss of the season, were led in scoring by Steve Reid with 22 points and Steve Newsome with 20. Wes Case connected for 13 points.

No all-tournament team was selected.

The cheerleaders' trophy was awarded to Prestonsburg, with Allen Central winning the runnerup trophy. Team free shot trophy was awarded to Prestonsburg. The individual free shot trophy was shared by Gary Pack, of McDowell, and Rick Morgan, of Prestonsburg, each boy hitting 100 percent. Pack connected for 9 of 9 and Morgan 10 for 10.

The scoring:

Wednesday Night

Allen Central (69)—Tim Branham 26, Phil Slone 20, Mark Martin 7, Gary Howard 2, Keith Harris 2, Ralph Caudill 10, David Prater 2.

Betsy Layne (58)—Ricky Ferrell 27, Ronnie Akers 17, Steve Jones 5, Mike Williams 5, James Mullins, Daryl Newsome 4.

Thursday Afternoon

McDowell (66)—Steve Reid 22, Steve Newsome 20, Wes Case 13, Gary Pack 8, Steve Kidd 2, Greg Mathews 2.

Prestonsburg (69)—Grady Stephens 23, Rick Morgan 15, David Pitts 13, Allen Herrick 7, James Brown 7, Alvin Hall 2, Sam Wells 2.

Semi-Finals

Allen Central (69)—Tim Branham 21, Mark Martin 13, Phil Slone 11, Mike Thorpe 8, Gary Howard 7, Ralph Caudill 4, Keith Harris 2, Chris Holbrook 2, David Prater 11.

The Bank Josephine, a corporation . . . Plf.

VS: SHERIFF'S
NOTICE OF SALE

Bill Delong, d-b-a, Delong Construction Company . . . Def't.

Pursuant to execution directed to me which issued with the Office of the Clerk of the Floyd Circuit Court in favor of The Bank Josephine, against Bill Delong, d-b-a Delong Construction Company, for the sum of $5,000.00, together with interest thereon at the rate of 9 per cent per annum from the 25th day of February, 1977, and for the additional sum of $78.20 for the Court costs of said action, said execution being issued in Civil Action No. 12,190, late pending in the Floyd Circuit Court, styled: The Bank Josephine, A Corporation, vs: Bill Delong, d-b-a Delong Construction Company, which execution bears the same number of said suit.

I or one of my deputies will offer for sale to the highest bidder at the courthouse door in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, at 10:00 a.m. on the 26th day of December, 1977, so much as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest and costs, including any cost incurred by the Sheriff of Floyd County in advertising the property for sale and in conducting said sale, the following described land located in Floyd County, Kentucky, on the waters of Middle Creek:

"Beginning at an apple tree; thence up the hollow to a thorn tree; thence around the hill 125 feet to an iron stake; thence down the hill to another iron stake; thence back the county road to the apple tree on the edge of the road, which was the starting point."

Being the same property conveyed to Bill DeLong and Eula Ann DeLong by Osie Slone, Guardian, and others by deed dated August 27, 1960, recorded in Deed Book 175, Page 24, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

Also another tract of land lying in Floyd County, Kentucky, on Middle Creek:

"Beginning on Highway 404, running with Irvin Slone line; thence up the hill to the top joining Harminson Slone line; thence around the hill with Harminson Slone and down the hill to Highway 404; thence up the road with Highway 404 to the starting point."

Being the same property conveyed to Willie A. DeLong and Eula Ann DeLong, his wife, by Allen Slone and others by deed dated November 4, 1971, recorded in Deed Book 209, Pages 210-212, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

Said sale shall be on a credit of six months, the purchaser having the privilege to execute bond for the deferred purchase price together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from date of sale, to be secured by a lien retained on said premises to further secure the payment of said bond.

Dated: December 5, 1977.

Engineering Made It Happen.
Now, A Car With A 110-Inch
Wheelbase With A Superb
Luxury Car Ride.

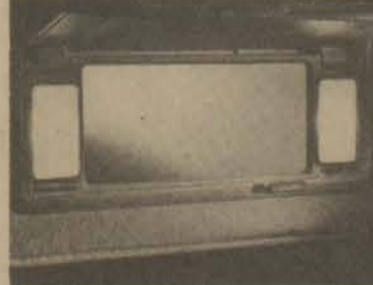

Beauty? Yes. Versailles' elegant proportions are impressive from any angle. But more than that, Versailles is also a luxury car that behaves beautifully. Its pleasing road manners were brought about by careful engineering of its body structure, suspension system and, perhaps most strikingly, by the engineering of vital connections within its drive train—the system which transmits motive power from engine to rear wheels. Selected elements of the drive train are precision-balanced with the elements next to them. Each engine is hand-matched to its Select-Shift automatic transmission. The driveshaft, the rear axle, the brake rotors, each wheel and its tire all are matched for balance to help minimize any interior disturbances that may originate in the drive train.

The result is an automobile surprisingly free from vibration; one reason why, on the road, Versailles feels like a much larger car. The quality of its ride is, of course, best evaluated through your personal experience.

On KET Special

"A Christmas special," featuring tenor soloist, Dr. Randal L. Wells, will appear on the Kentucky Educational Television network Sunday, December 18, at 12:30 p.m. "A Christmas Special" is a production of Television Center, Morehead State University.

Dr. Wells is an associate professor of Education at Morehead State University and is a 1955 graduate of Prestonsburg High School. He is the son of Mrs. Marsha Wells, of Prestonsburg, and the late Sam Wells.

Circuit Court Order Enforces $6,500 Levy Against Coal Firm

Franklin circuit court has enforced an order of the state's environmental department assessing a coal preparation plant $6,500 for discharges of black water into an Eastern Kentucky stream. The action is believed to be the first enforcement of an administrative order by the court.

The order, signed more than two years ago by then Sec. John Stanley Hoffman of the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, asked Eastern Coal Corp., of Lebanon, Va., to pay the civil penalty for three discharges of coal solids into Pond Creek in Pike county from the company's plant near McAndrews.

The company felt the penalty was excessive and petitioned the Franklin circuit court for relief, but did not move for the matter to be submitted to the court for judgment following their appeal.

The department moved for a dismissal of the coal company's appeal based upon a local rule of the court providing for such dismissals for failure to prosecute an appeal for a period of one year.

At the time of dismissal, department attorney Joe Zaluski also asked for enforcement of the administrative order.

Eastern Coal is the seventh company this year to pay civil penalties to the state after being charged with violating state water pollution statutes. Approximately $85,000 in penalties has been collected this year.

Mine Safety Program Available in Region

The Kentucky Bureau of Vocational Education has received a grant from the Mine Enforcement and Safety Administration through the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals to offer a mine safety program in five regions of the state. The Region 11 office in Paintsville is participating in this program, and Norman Goble has been employed as teacher-coordinator for the region.

Mining companies which desire to participate in the free service should contact Mr. Goble at 606-789-3115 or Bronelle Skaggs, regional director of vocational education.

A part-time staff has been employed and can currently offer electrical qualification or requalification, first-aid, roof and rib control, gas detection, principles of mine rescue, ventilation and mining laws.

This service will be provided on a first-come, first-served basis.

Wayland Club Hostess To 'Daughter' Clubs

Wayland, Ky.—The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club recently entertained its "daughter" clubs with a dinner in the dining hall of the Masonic Lodge here.

Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Anna Hoffman, of Drift, former Seventh district governor, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, who spoke on "Energy." After giving a discussion of what might be possible in the field of gas, oil and coal conservation, Mrs. Hoffman concluded by saying, "If we can send men to walk on the moon, we can do anything we set out to do." "But," she added, "it will not be done by committees."

Mrs. Hoffman told of plans for the General Federation Convention to be held in June in Phoenix, Arizona.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Bobby Joe Castle, president of the Wayland club, presented Mrs. Hoffman with a gift from the club, and Mrs. Otto Martin displayed and sold various items the Wayland club is selling in its current fund-raising drive.

Attending the dinner meeting were:

From the Drift Woman's Club—Anna Sue Stumbo, Doreen A. Martin, Angie Whitmayer, Cedar Hoffman, Anna Hoffman, Rebecca Reed, Isabel Reed, Sophia Cahill, and Ruby Akers; from the Wheelwright Woman's Club—Myra Salisbury, Dallas Sammons, Margot Faine, and Betty Mullins; from the Magoffin County Woman's Club—Virginia Prater, Pauline Finlayson, Mabel Brown, Leneva Arnett, Mishie Reed, and Barbara Reed; from the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Club—Jenny Dixon, Dora Reed, June DeCoursey, Lula Coburn, Patsy Patton, Anne Castle, LaFaye Hughes, Maude Hatcher, charter member from Hindman, Avanelle Wells, Marie C. Mullins, Libby Martin, Loretta Martin, Eva Collins, Prestonsburg, former member of the Wayland club, Beatrice Collins and Imalee Spillman.

No refund will be made for individual plan sheets.

Sealed proposals for this contract shall be clearly marked on the outside of the envelope as follows:

"Sealed Proposal for Contract I - Sanitary Sewerage System or Contract II - Phase One Development, Schoolhouse Hollow, David Community Development Corporation, Inc., David, Kentucky, not to be opened until 2:00 P.M., Local Time, Thursday, December 8, 1977."

If forwarded by mail, the sealed envelope containing the proposal must be enclosed in another envelope and mailed to the David Community Development Corporation, Inc., P. O. Box 51, David, Kentucky 41616 allowing sufficient time for such mailing to reach this address prior to the scheduled closing time for receipt of proposals.

Bids shall be accompanied by a certified check or bid bond made payable to the David Community Development Corporation, Inc., David, Kentucky, in an amount not less than five per cent (5 pct.) of the base bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of Ninety (90) Days after the date bids are opened. He may, however, withdraw his bid at any time prior to the time and date scheduled for opening of same or any authorized postponement thereof. Any bid received after the time and date specified shall not be considered and will be returned unopened to the bidder.

The Contractor's attention is called to the fact that funds will be made available through a HUD Grant, an ARC Grant, a FmHA Grant, and a loan from the Housing Assistance Corporation for the construction of this project.

Work to be performed by Contractors involved in this project is subject to the minimum wage rates established by the U.S. Department of Labor under the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act and the Kentucky Department of Labor, as set forth in Chapter 337 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes (per amendments adopted by the 1970 General Assembly.) Contractors will be required to pay whichever minimum wage rate is higher for the individual crafts.

Both Federal and State wage rate determinations will be incorporated into the specifications by an addendum issued prior to the scheduled bidding date.

Bidders must comply with the President's Executive Order Nos. 11246 and 11375, which prohibit discrimination in employment regarding race, creed, color, sex or national origin. Where the President's Executive Order No. 11246 is shown, Executive Order No. 11375 also applies.

Bidders must comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Anti-Kickback Act and the Contract Work Hours Standard Act.

NOTICE OF REQUIREMENT FOR CERTIFICATION
OF NONSEGREGATED
FACILITIES

The Bidder will submit, as a part of the Proposal Form a Certification of Non-segregated Facilities. The certification provides that the bidder or offeror does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a de facto basis. The certification also provides that he will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a bidder or offeror to agree to the Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities will render his bid or offer nonresponsive to the terms of solicitations involving awards of contracts exceeding $10,000, which are not exempt from the provisions of the Equal Opportunity Clause.

The David Community Development Corporation, Inc. may consider informal any bid not prepared and submitted in accordance with the provisions of this advertisement and/or the specifications and may waive any informalities or reject any and all bids.

Public Comment Asked On Licking River Plan

A long-range management plan of the northern portion of the Daniel Boone National Forest has been filed with the Council on Environmental Quality and is being distributed to the public with a request for its comments.

The Licking River Unit Plan, released by the U.S. Forest Service in the form of a draft environmental impact statement, spells out how all the resources are to be managed for 10 years in the Morehead Ranger District of the Daniel Boone National Forest. The unit contains 116,693 acres of national forest land and water area, including Cave Run Lake, and covers parts of Bath, Menifee, Morgan and Rowan counties.

The plan proposes that the unit be managed for a full range of multiple use benefits including timber, water, recreation and wildlife with emphasis on recreation development and protection of scenic qualities around Cave Run Lake and along primary roads. Popular with Kentuckians and tourists from out of state for boating, fishing and swimming, the 8,270-acre lake had more than 134,000 visitor days, based on 12 hours for each day of use, during 1976 and the final 1977 total is expected to show a substantial increase over that figure.

Grand Jury Cites Welfare Fraud

The Martin county grand jury recently reported widespread vote irregularities. About the same time, the Breathitt grand jury was reporting allegations of welfare fraud. The Jackson Times reported on the Breathitt jury report, as follows:

According to the grand jury final report, widespread allegations of welfare frauds came before the panel during the session. The alleged misuse of the public funds was investigated by the grand jury but no indictments were made. The funds are administered by the Department of Human Resources.

Though no indictments were made in connection with the alleged frauds, the grand jury did recommend that the County Attorney's office proceed according to the law to cause warrants to be issued and the cases disposed of according to the law.

A member of the grand jury who doesn't wish his name used said that the alleged misuse of Welfare funds did not involve officials of the Department of Human Resources, but recipients of Public Assistance. He said that indictments were not made because the grand jury had reasons to believe that many more persons are involved in the fraud, and further investigation needed to be made.

Commonwealth Attorney, A. Dale Bryant said that the grand jury possessed enough evidence to make indictment, but he didn't know why they didn't. Bryant said that the nature of the fraud was recipients lying about their income to obtain food stamps, or public assistance, and medical card holder obtaining transportation money to visit doctors.

Another grand jury member said that a Welfare recipient would visit the welfare office claiming that he or she needed to seek medical treatment in Lexington, and had engaged a certain person to supply transportation. The office would then issue a check to pay the transportation. The check would be cashed, and the trip to Lexington never made.

Education, Too

By WILMAY

Criticism originating with Watergate goes beyond medicine. It includes education, especially in elementary and secondary levels.

Forty percent of 120,000 H.S. juniors in Florida just failed simply math tests. The state announced no more graduation for "below par" students. In six counties a high percentage of students did well on communication skills. Mass failure is not limited to locales with heavy minority population, according to multiple news media.

Causes of low standards are numerous: Poor salaries in some states, forcing many of the best teachers into other fields or states; John Dewey's progressive education theories that swept the U.S. in the 1920's; integration, though long due; teacher tenure without a merit system; the "pass-them-on" ideology of recent decades; emphasis on socialization instead of academic excellence; those teachers who do not teach; bad discipline in some homes and schools; excessive TV-ing by millions; too little study.

Wise parents limit TV time and censor programs. This pays high dividends.

Poor reading is a major complaint, since competent reading is basic to progress in all curricula. Instructors can inspire pupils to see the life-long value of systematic reading, a habit that alert parents initiate in preschool days. Effective teachers nourish the practice. A portion of students in most public schools come from backgrounds minus desirable reading materials. Countless well-educated celebrities had limited formal schooling, some not completing the grades, but they educated themselves by independent reading, for which there is no substitute.

More than one honor student comes from low economic strata. Even some deprived parents value books more than toys. Numbers do motivate their children. Other underprivileged youngsters have dedicated teachers who light the embryonic spark that challenges them to choose Knowledge Boulevard in preference to Stagnation Avenue! Perhaps the highest and most prized accolade bestowed on teachers is hearing a grateful former student say, "I owe it all to you," as some do. Youths with educated parents sometimes attribute their ambition and thirst for knowledge to the personal interest of an understanding teacher.

Teaching is more than a profession. It is a calling. Teachers have golden opportunities. Helping mold young minds daily for three-fourths of each year is a priceless and a precious privilege. It is no caricatured version to say enemies of America are out to conquer the world, piecemeal fashion—not by guns or missiles—but by capturing the minds of men; nor is a doctrine needed to admit they are doing a good job! Modern philosophy that children should be allowed to make up their own minds carte blanche is fallacious and unscriptural. Youngsters of all ages require continuous teaching and training to learn to discriminate well. The process is gradual, and a monumental task for parents and teachers throughout all adolescence. Failure to recognize this creates problems.

Flaws in education cannot be alleviated without cooperation among parents and teachers. "Tit for tat," is wrong, parents blaming teachers entirely, and vice versa. We are all responsible. But censure of the system may increase unless most of us can become more objective. Human nature is largely the same everywhere, and the majority of us are quick to defend our own profession, political party, denomination, family, friends, etc., regardless of charges or guilt, as mentioned in this column last week. This practice is as bad as it is natural. Quality performance, high criteria, good character, integrity, and truth should always be upheld.

More parents now recognize that teachers have full hands, particularly since drugs and other evils proliferated. Some communities observe Teacher Appreciation Week. In others, parents attend school as students for a day, leaving pupils at home. Schools invite parents to teach a day, to walk six hours

Question Is, 'Where Do You Get Answers?'

When you need an answer to a question, where do you go to find it? That's what many Kentuckians are being asked these days.

Kentucky coordinators and steering committees for the White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services are conducting surveys to find out where people go for information and where they think answers can be found.

Daniel Kreutzer, chairman of Kentucky's White House Conference activities and assistant state librarian, said, "We know the people go to family, friends, public library, radio, minister, another office, television, newspaper, and magazine for information. If there are any others, we would like to know specifically what they are also. But what would greatly help the survey effort is to know which are utilized the most, moderately or only occasionally."

Kreutzer added, "Citizens can also let us know what kinds of information they need. Examples are: Fiction, nonfiction, medical and health care, child rearing, education guidance programs, consumer information, ecology, legal information, news and current events, management publications and government publications."

He said surveyors would also like to know if people use their local public library, how often they go and what is usually their main purpose when they go. "Are the available statewide library services, such as interlibrary loan, state and federal government publications, talking book machines and records, copies of magazine articles, large print books and films, used by library patrons? From someone who doesn't ever use the library, we would like to know if there's a particular reason," Kreutzer said.

The information needs survey forms are being made available to libraries across the state. "But the form really isn't necessary for someone to let us know his or her needs. We welcome letters from every citizen—students, classroom groups, farmers, factory workers, public officials—no matter what their occupation is. For anyone who wants to inform us of his or her information needs, we want to listen," Kreutzer emphasized.

The survey results will be used to determine the existing and future information needs of Kentuckians. The results are one of the preparatory steps preceding the Governor's Pre-White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services which will be held next fall. Conference participants will study existing information resources and needs and will prepare to recommend future library service developments at the White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services in Washington, D. C., in 1979.

They also visited with her mother, Mrs. Maudie Hunt, who is spending the winter in Michigan.

COAL CALLED KEY TO SELF-SUFFICIENCY

There's good news for everyone concerned about meeting America's energy needs: we have enough of one energy source to last for centuries. That source is coal.

Right now, known U.S. coal reserves are estimated at 4.36 billion tons. Coal provides about 14 per cent of our energy production, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior, but by 1985 it's expected to account for 21.5 percent and for 31.4 percent by the year 2000.

To meet these projections, however, huge sums of new capital will be needed to finance opening hundreds of new mines and training thousands of new miners.

WELL WATER FOR LONGEVITY?

Drinking well water is one of the keys to long life, according to a recent study by the Soviet Institute of Gerontology. The study, published in Pravda, included the use of underground water in its report on a search for the secrets of long life.

Interviews with 40,000 elderly showed that working into old age, getting married, living in high places, eating moderately, and talking a lot also contribute to extension of life.

Ky. 4-H'ers Named 1977 Winners

Hughes Miss Yonce Kirby Miss Rodes

Four Kentucky youths have been named state or sectional winners for their 1977 4-H projects. They are Jim Hughes, 19, of Somerset; Carmeta Kaye Yonce, 15, of Loyall; Gary Kirby, 16, of London; and Jane Rodes, 18, of Danville.

All won expense-paid trips to the 56th National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 27-Dec. 1.

Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Linville Hughes, has been recognized for his work in the automotive program. His expense-paid trip to Congress was sponsored by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company.

The Pulaski County 4-H'er has been active in the automotive program for four years. Hughes is able to adjust brakes, rebuild motors, overhaul motorcycles, and many other things necessary for automotive maintenance. He is presently a freshman at Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green studying agriculture.

Miss Yonce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Yonce, has won for her work in the electric energy program. Her Congress trip is donated by Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

The Harlan County 4-H'er has learned how to make electrical repairs, construct lamps, and work safely with electricity. She has also spent time demonstrating her skills to younger 4-H members.

Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Kirby, has merited honors for his work in the petroleum power program. His Congress trip is provided by Amoco Foundation, Inc.

The Laurel County 4-H'er has acquired skills in tractor maintenance and safe and efficient operation. He does much of the work on his family's farm. He has also been active in 4-H dairy, electric energy, and leadership projects.

Miss Rodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Rodes, received a $50 U.S. Savings Bond and a Congress trip donated by Ortho Division, Chevron Chemical Company. She won both state and sectional honors in the 4-H gardening program.

Miss Rodes has grown the usual vegetables and flowers, but she has tried new ideas too. She experimented with her crops and improved many of them. The Boyle County 4-H'er built a terrarium, forced spring bulbs and propagated house plants. She is a freshman at the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

Awards were arranged by National 4-H Council, and winners were chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service. About 30 Kentucky 4-H'ers were named state winners this year.

Floyd Idle Rate Less in October

Floyd county's unemployment rate dropped to 4.8 as unemployment in the state remained fairly stable during October, according to figures released by the Department for Human Resources. October's rate of 4.3 per cent represented an increase of 0.2 per cent over the September figure of 4.1 per cent.

Robert MacDonald, chief labor analyst for the state, said, "The rate of unemployment in the eastern region remained at the same level as in September, 4.9 per cent."

Menifee and Jackson county shared the high at 8.2 per cent with Elliott county the low at 3.1 per cent.

County-by-county figures for Eastern Kentucky:

Bath 6.4 percent, Bell 5.2, Boyd 3.5, Breathitt 4.4, Carter 7.1, Clay 6.3, Elliott 3.1, Floyd 4.8, Greenup 4.2, Harlan 5.7, Jackson 8.2, Johnson 3.4, Knott 5.4, Knox 4.7, Laurel 4.1, Lawrence 4.3, Lee 5.7, Leslie 5.7, Letcher 6.0, McCreary 6.3, Magoffin 6.8, Martin 3.5, Menifee 8.2, Montgomery 5.7, Morgan 4.7, Owsley 5.7, Perry 5.7, Pike 4.3, Pulaski 4.1, Rockcastle 4.6, Rowan 3.6, Wayne 4.8, Whitley 6.1, Wolfe 5.7.

YOUTH-DEW

Estée Lauder brings you a treasure caravan of Christmas fragrance gifts

Estée Lauder turns Christmas 1977 into a long-ago traveler's romance of exotic journeys. A Marco Polo tale of perfumed riches, brilliant colored cloth and jewels. To present Youth-Dew and Azurée fragrance gifts, this year, Estée Lauder created a batik-inspired wrapping in an indigo blue and white lotus design.

For Estée, the super-star of fragrance, Estée Lauder chose a galaxy of "e" signature stars. And for Aliaje, the fragrance for all the good times, green became the background for the floral print package.

Here, a sampling from our extensive collection.

One Facility Closes, Another Set To Open

Frankfort, Ky.—A new correctional institution will open its doors by next spring, and an existing institution will be closing, Justice Secretary John L. Smith announced today.

The new facility—the Eastern Kentucky Correctional Facility—will be located on the 650-acre site of a former resort area in Powell county which has been vacant for a couple of years, Smith said. It will initially handle the placement of inmates from the closing facility, he said.

The institution which will be closing is the Frenchburg Correctional Facility, a minimum security institution, Smith said. The federal government owns the property on which the Frenchburg facility is located. Smith said he and corrections officials have tried unsuccessfully on three occasions to either obtain clear title to the property or obtain a long-term lease.

The secretary said the new institution will occupy an existing 64-room unit on the property, and renovations will begin soon to make the facility suitable for a correctional institution. He said the Frenchburg inmates will be transferred to the Powell county institution as soon as renovations will allow the move.

A new medium security institution and forensic, psychiatric hospital are already on the drawing board for the existing grounds at the Kentucky State Reformatory near LaGrange.

Secretary Smith said the expansion at LaGrange and the opening of the Eastern Kentucky Correctional Facility will help the corrections system meet the inmate housing demands which are anticipated.

He said the opening of the new institutions will also help ease the overcrowded conditions at other institutions in Kentucky. The entire correctional system is currently operating with an inmate population approximately 35 per cent over the institutions' rated capacities.

The site of the new institution is near the Powell county community of West Bend, 25 miles southeast of Winchester. It is only 40 miles from Frenchburg, and Smith said the current Frenchburg staff will be offered employment at the new institution.

The Eastern Kentucky Correctional Facility will become the twelfth correctional institution operated by the state, including the new institution planned for LaGrange and the closing of Frenchburg.

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT of Labor's Wage and Hour Division enforces the Age discrimination in Employment Act, which provides protection for persons aged 40 to 65 in hiring, discharge, leave, compensation, promotions and other areas of employment.

Grigsby Shoots and Steals LadyKats Past Northern

By BRIAN RICKERD
(In the Kentucky Kernel)
Highland Heights, Ky.—The Kentucky LadyKat basketball team broke open a close game in the final ten minutes and went on to defeat Northern Kentucky 83-65 here last night.

Kentucky led just 56-53 with 7:49 remaining but broke it open with several steals by guards Debbie Mack and Geri Grigsby. Grigsby had 12 of her 20 points in that last seven minutes as Kentucky began to run and found themselves ahead by 20 with a minute to go.

"I'm really proud because we blew them out without Pam (Browning)," LadyKat coach Debbie Yow said. Browning, Kentucky's All-American candidate, hurt her ankle 10 days ago in a tournament at Middle Tennessee.

The first half belonged to Northern as the Norser ran out to a 7-0 lead after three minutes. "We always start slow," said Yow, shaking her head.

Northern maintained that margin and built a 31-23 lead by forcing numerous turnovers before Kentucky could get off their shots.

At that point, Kentucky began to come back. A 10-footer by sophomore forward Laura Upton gained the LadyKats a 33-33 tie.

The first ten minutes of the second half were the opposite of the first half as UK took a 36-35 lead on a Geri Grigsby free throw, and the LadyKats slowly pulled away.

Yow credited the second half surge to a halftime switch from a 2-1-2 zone to a man-to-man defense. "We were picking up too many fouls in the zone so we thought a man-to-man wouldn't hurt," Yow said.

"We took out Liz Lukschu and went to a smaller lineup for added quickness. She wasn't playing aggressively enough, but I know that she's going to be an outstanding player."

"The freshmen were playing like veterans. This was Northern's first game and they will be a lot tougher when we play them at home."

The LadyKats were led by Grigsby's 20 points, all of which she scored in the second half. "In the first half, I was doing too much thinking and I was too timid," she explained. "That's not my game."

The LadyKats also got a sparkling 16-point, 12-rebound effort from sophomore forward Debra Oden. "She's so much better than last year," Yow said. "She can do it all now."

PHS JV Cheerleaders Win Honors

Students Favor Law Requiring Helmets

The state law requiring all motorcyclists to wear protective helmets should not be repealed, according to the majority of students who attended the Kentucky Youth Traffic Safety Advisory Committee regional conference held last Thursday at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Forty-four of the 45 high school students attending the conference voted to go on record as opposing the current attempt to repeal the mandatory helmet law during the 1978 session of the Kentucky General Assembly.

"The helmet has kept me from getting hurt before on a motorcycle. It's a good law and should be kept," Kenny Thacker, a Knott County Central High School student, said.

"I've been involved in a motorcycle accident and I can only say that when you wreck, you're going to wish that you had a helmet on," Terry Whittaker, a student at Magoffin County High School, added.

The group's decision, favoring retention of the mandatory helmet law, will be forwarded to the interim legislative committee on highway safety.

"It's important that we in the Kentucky Department of Transportation, as well as members of the legislature, be aware of the young people's feelings. Their input and ideas are needed and we welcome the opportunity, provided by these regional conferences, to sit down, talk to them and find out what they think," Transportation Safety Coordinator Bennie Maffet said.

In other action, Jane Rose Britton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Britton, of Hazard, and Kenny Thacker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thacker, of Pippa Passes, were elected to serve as their region's representatives to the state youth committee for the coming year.

Britton is a student at Hazard High School and Thacker attends Knott County Central High School. Both are juniors. The youth committee, composed of high school students from throughout the state, serves in an advisory capacity to the state Department of Transportation.

Hi School Seniors From Four Counties At Career Festival

More than 650 high school seniors from four eastern Kentucky counties attended the Alice Lloyd College Career Festival last Wednesday, meeting with 51 representatives from various occupations. Little Is Jailed After Wife Shot; Five Raids Made

Bill "Banty" Little, Jr., of Bypro, was arrested last Friday by Deputy Sheriff Doug Lewis after Little had been named in a warrant accusing him of shooting and wounding his wife the preceding evening at their home.

Mrs. Little was shot in her thigh by a .357 Magnum bullet and for a time was in intensive care at the McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital.

Bernie D. Vance, of Hunter, was arrested twice last week in liquor raids staged by the sheriff's department, and the haul was larger the second time than the first. He was first arrested last Wednesday by Sheriff Joe W. Lewis and ABC Agent Ted H. Salisbury, who confiscated 15 cases of beer and about a case and a half of half-pints of whiskey. On that occasion Vance was fined $50 and costs by Magistrate Dewey Roberts, who suspended his 30-day jail term.

The second raid on Vance was made Saturday by Sheriff Lewis, Deputy Sheriffs Doug and Randall Lewis, Linzie Hunt, Ed Isaacs and Raney Boyd. That raid netted 73 cases of beer and three half-pints of whiskey.

Thirty cases of beer and 11 fifths of other liquors were confiscated last Wednesday by Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis and Ollie Leslie in a search at Harold of the auto reportedly driven by Genora Roberts Scott, of Pike county. She was booked to Magistrate Dewey Roberts. Pike county officials and others attested to the good reputation of Mrs. Scott and corroborated her claim that the liquors were not intended for sale.

Deputy Sheriffs Doug Lewis and Linzie Hunt joined State Troopers Gary Rose and John Sizemore Sunday night in the arrest on the Letcher county side of Jack's Creek mountain of Hobart Johnson, of Melvin, from whose truck 250 cases of beer and 15 cases of whiskey were confiscated. Johnson was charged in Letcher county with transporting.

A raid at Justell Sunday by Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis and Linzie Hunt on the premises of Sherman Jones netted six pints and a fifth of whiskey and 84 cans of beer.

Agencies Take Part In Disaster Exercise

Twelve agencies of Kentucky state government took part in a massive natural disaster response exercise last week.

Wilbur R. Buntin, executive director of the state's Division of Disaster and Emergency Services, said the exercise was designed to test the ability of each agency to respond to particular problems. It also tested new procedures put into effect in the state's emergency operations center.

Agencies taking part in the operation included the Kentucky State Police, Kentucky National Guard, Department of Transportation, Department of Human Resources, the Department of Education, Public Protection, the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection and the Department of Public Information.

The exercise, designed by the DES comprehensive disaster planning staff, simulated a flood along the Cumberland River in eastern Kentucky. Messages were channelled into the operations center just as they would be during an actual disaster.

As requests for assistance were received, tasks were assigned to the state agencies with assets to meet the request.

Buntin said that he is very hopeful the exercise will determine the adequacy of procedural changes and communications improvements made since the April floods.

KET Satellite Service Expected in January

The three four-foot square concrete piers, on which the "dish" of KET's satellite receiver will rest, have been poured, according to Bob Klein, KET director of engineering.

The receiver, when installed, will pick up public Broadcasting Service (PBS) transmissions from a Western Union commercial satellite. KET is currently utilizing common carrier terrestrial lines to pick up program "feeds."

"We are due to receive our dish on or about the twentieth of December," says Klein. "Actual use will begin in January, 1978 with the possibility of discontinuing present terrestrial service in February of '78."

Satellite reception will reduce operating costs and will permit an increase in the number of programs which PBS can transmit. Audio quality and visual reception will also be improved.

Wellman Appointed Adjutant General

Gov. Julian Carroll today announced, Dec. 5, his appointment of Billy G. Wellman as state adjutant general. The appointment is effective Dec. 9.

As adjutant general, Wellman will head the state Department of Military Affairs and command the Kentucky Army Guard, Kentucky Air Guard and serve as director of the Division of Disaster and Emergency Services.

Wellman, who has served as chief-of-staff of the Kentucky Army National Guard since 1975, will be promoted from his current rank of colonel to the two-star position. He will take a leave of absence from his federal civil service position with the guard to accept the Governor's appointment.

Gov. Carroll said Wellman was one of three men he considered for the position. The other two are Brig. Gen. Wilbur Buntin, Jr., deputy adjutant general, and Col. Taylor Davidson, regional director of Selective Service in Atlanta and past director of Kentucky Selective Service.

"This is one of the most personal appointments that a Governor must make, and given the superb quality of all three of the individuals I considered, it was one of the toughest selections I have ever had to make," said Gov. Carroll.

The Governor said the selection of Wellman to be Kentucky's adjutant general was made "after extensive discussions with all the men."

Wellman will succeed Maj. Gen. Richard L. Frymire who recently resigned to devote more time to his Madisonville law practice.

Wellman began his career with the Kentucky Army National Guard in 1951 and participated in the ROTC program while attending Western Kentucky University. He earned a commission in 1956, serving as a tank officer.

His military training covers virtually all army branches, including the adjutant general corps, armor, engineer, military police, and infantry. He is also a graduate of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College and the Senior Commanders Orientation Course.

He is a graduate of Morehead State University.

Wellman has worked full time for the Guard since 1957, serving in a variety of capacities.

He holds the U.S. Army Commendation Medal, the Kentucky Commendation Ribbon, Kentucky Distinguished Medal, U.S. Army Meritorious Service Medal and the Armed Forces Reserve Medal.

He and his wife, the former Betty Triplett, of Hitchens, now live in Frankfort. They have two children, John, 21, and Marabeth, 15.

Christmas Party Hostesses

Members of the Executive committee of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club served as hostesses for the club's annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. John F. Brown, Thursday evening, December 1. Left to right, they are: Mrs. Carl Woods, Mrs. Jesse Stover, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Tom O. McGuire, Mrs. Ronald Johnson, Mrs. Rex Ankrom, Mrs. Dorothy Burke, Mrs. Garland Godsey, Mrs. Richard Martin, and Mrs. W. W. Wallen. All hidden from view, is Mrs. John F. Brown, in whose home the party was held.

Members of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. John F. Brown, Thursday evening, December 1, for their annual Christmas party. The house was decorated in keeping with the yule season.

The program for the evening, entitled, "Christmas Bells," was under the direction of Mrs. Chalmers Frazier.

A trio composed of Elizabeth Lynn Frazier, recorder, Bill Frazier, guitarist, and Katherine Frazier, pianist, played a medley of medieval Christmas music. Following this presentation, the Ensemble Plus, from the Prestonsburg Elementary School, directed by Miss Elizabeth Lynn Frazier, sang selections of modern Christmas music.

From a table, decorated with a centerpiece of poinsettias, the hostesses served Christmas refreshments of spiced punch, candies and cookies to Misses Alice Harris, Ethel Burke, Elizabeth Lynn Frazier, and Christine Spradlin, Mesdames Edith James, Virginia Jeffries, Minnie Grace Sutherland, Beatrice Collins, Betty Porter, Roberta Davidson, Joyce Short Allen, Olna Hamilton, Eve May, Betsy Rennie, Victoria Spradlin, Mabel Brown, Garnet Fairchild, Katherine Frazier, Marty Hicks, Lois George, Bill Frazier, and also members of the musical group from Prestonsburg Grade School.

The club's next meeting will be held on January 5 at the Floyd County Library. The leader will be Mrs. Leo Weddle, and the hostesses will be Mesdames Gordon Collins, Sr., H. E. Midkiff, Carl Riffe, Woodrow Burchett, Sr., M. Robert Regan, Gerald Leslie, Sr., J. Y. Goble, Leo Weddle, and E. R. Burke. The program will feature local artisans and craftsmen and their work.

Federal Blasting Regulation Blasted by Division Director

Proposed new federal regulations on the use of explosives for surface coal mining were criticized at the fourth annual blasting conference in Lexington last week.

The two-day conference was sponsored by the Division of Explosives and Blasting of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals.

D. T. Froedge, division director, told the group that proposed federal blasting regulations would work a hardship on surface coal mine operations. He urged the group to encourage their congressmen to oppose the proposed regulations.

Froedge termed the proposed regulations "harassment tactics." He said the proposals did nothing to promote safety and "in some cases hindered it."

One of the proposed regulations, Froedge said, would require public notification of detailed blasting schedules, which he said would be impractical, costly and unrealistic.

Froedge said Kentucky's blasting regulations, "are the best in the country" and are sufficient to assure safety.

Among other speakers on the program was Joseph Fiedorek, of Pittsburgh, Pa., an official of the federal Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration (MESA).

He discussed changes in MESA regulations, noting that these were aimed at promoting safety at blast sites. "We want to eliminate the 'mob scene' in blasting area by minimizing exposure of personnel."

Fiedorek said Kentucky is the largest consumer of explosives in the United States. Froedge said this is due to the large amount of surface coal mining in Kentucky. About 500 million pounds of blasting agents are used each year in Kentucky, Froedge added.

The conference opened with comments from H. N. Kirkpatrick, commissioner of the state Department of Mines and Minerals.

Other topics discussed included electric blasting caps and timers, non-electric blasting systems bore hole priming and seismic monitoring.

Voiding Home Rule May Cost State Fees of Jailers

Fiscal courts of counties with a population less than 75,000 are required to provide a county jail and maintain its upkeep, according to an opinion of the state Attorney General's Office.

The opinion, written by Charles W. Runyan, assistant deputy attorney general, said that if the state Supreme Court's final ruling on the Home Rule case determines that a fiscal court is not a legislative body, then the state would bear the jailer's fees.

A separate opinion, also written by Runyan, said that the fiscal court is responsible for providing facilities for juveniles held in custody pending trial.

Both opinions were issued at the request of Wayne T. Rutherford, Pike county judge, regarding the effect on the fiscal court by the new judicial system.

Actually, Kentucky statute says that counties not containing a city of the first or second class—Pikeville is a fourth class city—must maintain a detention home or arrange for the use of private homes for this purpose, the opinion notes.

The opinion added that the Department for Human Resources may assist counties in these efforts providing state appropriations are available through the General Assembly.

Plan Gospel Singing

At Presbyterian Church

The Floyd County Gospel Singers Association will hold its monthly Gospel singing at the First Presbyterian Church here December 10, at 7 p.m. Featured groups will be The Trimbles, the Pack Family, The Reflections, Horizon and the Gospel Sunlighters.

Local groups interested in joining the association or pastors interested in having the singing held at their church may call 886-3352 or attend the monthly business meeting held the last Tuesday of each month.

DISTRICT REBEKAHS MEET

The December meeting of District 4 Rebekah lodges was held Saturday evening, December 3, with Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 serving as the hostess lodge. Other lodges in the district which were represented were Pleasant Valley Rebekah No. 116, Paintsville; Allison Rebekah No. 134, Inez; Freedom No. 200, Thealka; Ruth No. 45, Freeburn, and Queen Esther No. 53, Pikeville.

Preceding the meeting, a covered dish dinner was enjoyed by 88 members and their guests. Door prizes were awarded and an exchange of Christmas gifts was held.

The meeting was opened with the district president, Mary Zemo, presiding. State Assembly officers recognized were: Mabel Jean LeMaster, Prestonsburg, vice-president of the Rebekah Assembly of Kentucky, and Mary Spradlin, Pikeville, district deputy president of District No. 4.

The retiring district deputy president, Gertrude Arnett, presented Mary Spradlin with her official regalia, to wear during her term of office.

The next meeting will be held in March with Allison Lodge, at Inez.

Special tribute was paid during the district meeting to the memory of Edith Kendrick, a long, and devoted member.

QUESTION BOX

The Question Box answers from the Bible to questions from readers. By Pastor Forrest Howe, M Div., Box 462, Allen, Ky.

QUESTION: Is baptism essential for salvation?

ANSWER:

The subject of baptism is not as easy to clarify as one might at the first assume. Secondly, the question asked is really deeper and broader and touches on more than just baptism.

In Matthew 28:19, 20 Jesus specifically gives his disciples the command "to baptize all nations..." In John 3:5, Jesus also says that "except a man be born of the water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." All the disciples did baptize after Christ's ascension and Paul himself was baptized. It seems that if baptism were not an essential part of the Christian faith then this would not have been practiced. However important baptism is one must not push it too far. Some persons have done so and have reduced it to a mere magical incantation. A few have even gone so far as to make a major deal about what is to be said over the candidate before he is baptized. It reminds one of the "hocus pocus" a magician would use.

As I have said we must not push baptism too far as we have the classical example of the thief on the cross who was saved without being baptized. It is very clear from the text that he would be in the Kingdom of God when He came to set it up. One can only draw from this that it is not the water itself or the words spoken but rather the faith of the believer.

Does this then make baptism insignificant? The answer is no! and this brings us to the even deeper question which is inferred. This has to do with the question of obedience to God's commands. James 4:17 says, "Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Acts 17:30, "And at the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent." From these texts one can see that he is not held accountable for that which he is ignorant of or cannot "see. When however it is clear to him and he refuses to obey then he is walking upon dangerous ground in regards to his salvation. Referring back to the thief on the cross, one can see that if it had been possible for him to come down from the cross and lead a normal life and refused to follow through on his confession by being baptized then he would have been lost. A little child who has not reached the age of accountability is not required to be baptized. A man who dies and is following the Lord to the light he has will be saved even if he doesn't understand the necessity of baptism yet. God will judge the man's heart fairly and without error.

Now the challenge is returned to those who are baptized. Are we living up to all of God's commands? Just because we have been baptized does not mean we have a sure ticket for heaven unless we are seeking to do God's will day by day as completely as possible. One does not want to end up like Ananias and Sapphira.

Yule Season Bears One Unpleasant Tradition

"One unpleasant tradition of this holiday season is upon us," according to State Police Lt. Ernest Bivens. December is traditionally the second highest month of the year for traffic fatalities in the state, and State Police are urging people to drive carefully.

"The holiday shopping trips, bad weather, and parties all contribute to making it one of our worst months of the year," Bivens said. "The only one with a higher rate is July."

Last year 75 people lost their lives on Kentucky roadways during December, and the New Year week-end was the worst since 1963. Bivens said secondary roads will be one of the primary concerns since 56 of those that died were on rural roads.

The death toll so far this year is 874 compared to 799 at the end of November 1976.

Raids and Robberies Are Among Arrests

A raid Tuesday afternoon at Hunter by Sheriff Joe W. Lewis and Deputy Sheriffs Doug Lewis, Randall Lewis, Linzie Hunt, and State Trooper Williamson resulted in the arrest of Jake Moore, of East McDowell on a charge of possession of alcoholic beverages for purpose of sale. The officers seized 288 cans of beer in the action.

Prestonsburg Police reported a rash of burglaries last Wednesday night in the Prestonsburg area. A quantity of various automotive parts was stolen in a break into Prestonsburg Auto Parts. Value of the stolen merchandise has not yet been determined. The second break discovered by officers occurred at the TCT gas station situated across the highway from the auto parts store. Officer Darrell Conley said the station's cash box was stolen at a loss of about $200. In yet another breaking and entering incident, approximately $1,000 of assorted merchandise was taken from Goebel's Discount. Officer Conley reported.

Prestonsburg Police also reported a break, Monday night, into the Short Pure Oil Distributors at West Prestonsburg. Several tires and a number of rifles were taken, it was said.

Others booked at the county jail over the past week, charges against each, and arresting officers follow:

Randell Boyd, drunk driving, by Allen Policeman V. Conn; Jimmy R. McKinney, driving under the influence of drugs, by State Trooper Stephens and Deputy Sheriff Doug Lewis; Joseph Stocksbury, drunk driving, by Allen Policeman V. Conn; Richard Carroll, drunk driving, by State Trooper Stephens; Kenneth Ray Webb, criminal trespass, by Sheriff Joe W. ### The Run for the Top 99 STEPS . . . Terry Blackburn, of Meta, (foreground) and Pat Jacobs, of Garrett, are on the last few steps of their run up the 99 at Pikeville College. The exercise was part of a physics class experiment. A graduate of Johns Creek High, Miss Blackburn is a junior medical technology student at Pikeville College. Miss Jacobs is a graduate of Allen Central High School and is a sophomore medical technology student at the college.

Sixteen students in a physics class at Pikeville College recently conducted a unique experiment in calculating horsepower. Each of them ran up the 99 steps leading from downtown Pikeville to the college campus. They then figured out their individual horsepower rate for the exercise.

Dr. Jitendra Ghosal, instructor of the physics class and associate professor of chemistry at the college, explained that horsepower is computed by determining the weight of the object (person), multiplying that by the distance run to obtain the total number of foot pounds, and then dividing this figure by 550 foot pounds per second, the amount of one horsepower.

Among the sixteen students, the quickest running time was 15 seconds. The slowest was slightly under 40 seconds. The highest calculated horsepower was 1½; the lowest, was ½.

Mobile Health Testing Unit Set for Farm Bureau Members

The Floyd County Farm Bureau announced this week the availability of a new medical service for county residents in a statewide drive to bring medical care to rural areas.

The mobile health van is brought to Floyd county under the sponsorship of the Floyd County Farm Bureau, through the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation in what is described as a totally new and unique program of health testing.

Located at Farm Bureau office here, a testing unit will begin operation December 15, and will continue through December 22. Members will be tested by appointment.

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation encourages its members to give serious consideration to taking advantage of this new service.

Lee Cundiff, spokesman for American Health Profiles, Inc., who provides the testing services, said the large medical van is equipped with the latest in biomedical testing equipment capable of performing a comprehensive medical check-up in 45 minutes. A total of 22 tests are given and a team of five paramedical technicians provide the testing services. Tests include chest x-ray, maxillo-facial x-ray, electrocardiogram (EKG), lung function test, hearing test, several eye tests, including a test for glaucoma, blood chemistry and hematology, urinalysis, TB skin test and others.

Once the data is compiled, it is sent to a profile center where it is reviewed by a team of eight physicians, each a specialist in his field. After it is reviewed the entire profile is sent to the participant's personal physician. At the same time the participant is contacted and if an abnormality has been detected, he is advised to consult with his doctor concerning the findings.

This comprehensive check-up will cost $70 for each adult.

The Women's Committee of the Floyd County Farm Bureau will be handling the appointment operation. For further information about the program and to make an appointment, Farm Bureau members may call Floyd County Farm Bureau office.

PAINTSVILLE

HAVE DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Clark had as dinner guests on Thanksgiving Day their daughters and their families: Mrs. Dennis Stephens, Mr. Stephens and children, Cindy and Stephanie, of Lexington, and Mrs. Joe A. Burchett, Mr. Burchett and children, Kathy, Joe II, and Jennifer, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Clark's sister, Mrs. James F. Pigg, also of Prestonsburg.

Resolution

Whereas, Emma Wells May did with great dedication serve as chairperson for the Floyd County Public Library District Board of Trustees from 1960 to 1977:

Whereas, during this period of time the library grew from a one room facility in the old Prestonsburg High School building with a minimum number of volumes, one employee and no public tax support; to an institution with its separate beautiful building with county tax support which affords several employees, thousands of volumes and many other modern cultural facilities:

Whereas, Emma Wells May was the driving force behind the Floyd County Public Library District Board of Trustees during the last seventeen historical years of library development and indeed did, because of her great love of things cultural for her town and county, managed to find time to diligently pursue her dream of securing a modern library for the people of Floyd County:

Therefore be it resolved that in consideration of Emma Wells May's long dedicated service to the library that the following actions be taken:

That the Name of the Floyd County Library be changed to read as follows:

FLOYD COUNTY LIBRARY (EMMA WELLS MAY CULTURAL CENTER)

and the last five words of the new title be mounted on the front of the library building, on the stationery and other appropriate places.

That the May family be asked to supply an enlarged picture or portrait of Emma which would be properly mounted in a prominent place in the building.

That the text of this resolution be printed with space for signatures of all board members and mounted in a proper frame and presented to the May family.

That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Floyd County Times for publication.

Obituaries

Former Times Writer Succumbs in Florida

Earle B. Martin, 66, a former associate editor of The Floyd County Times and former night city editor of The Orlando (Fla.) News, died last Thursday morning at an Orlando hospital after an illness of a month. He had undergone surgery shortly before his passing.

Mr. Martin retired from his Orlando newspaper position about a year ago and he and his wife, the former Opal May, of Langley, resided at nearby Winter Park, Florida.

He was a native of Minnie, the son of the late Noah and Josephine Martin. A graduate of the University of Kentucky, he taught for a time at McDowell High School prior to his Army service during World War II and his subsequent association with The Times. Following his work here, he owned and operated a shoe store at Martin, leaving there after the 1957 flood to reside in Florida.

Surviving, besides his widow, are two brothers and five sisters, William Martin, of Martin, and James Martin, of Drift, Cassie Martin, Mrs. Stella Hamilton and Mrs. Edith Hopkins, all of Minnie, Ella Martin, of Louisville, and Mrs. Bess Hylton, of Martin.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday from the Wood Lawn Funeral Home, Winter Park, and burial was made there.

Fred L. Stewart, Sr.

Fred L. Stewart, Sr., of Flatwoods, Ky., brother of Frank Stewart, of Maytown, assistant principal of Prestonsburg Elementary School, died Friday at Our Lady of Bellefonte hospital, Ashland, following a long illness.

A son of Wiley Stewart, of Maloneton, Ky., and the late Lula Hale Stewart, he was born Dec. 5, 1925 at Grayson, Kentucky. A retired processing employee of Armco Steel Corp., Ashland, he served with the U.S. Navy in World War II.

Additional survivors include his wife, Mrs. Hazel Charron Stewart, and a son, Fred L. Stewart, Jr., of Bellefonte. Three grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Carman Funeral Home at Flatwoods. Burial was made in the Flatwoods Cemetery.

Carada Terry

Carada Terry, 71, died Sunday at his home at Wayland following a brief illness.

A retired miner and member of the Martin Branch Free Will Baptist Church, he was born April 18, 1906 at Raven, Ky., a son of the late Joe and Ella Gibson Terry. His wife, Mrs. Della Scalf Terry, survives.

Surviving, besides his wife, are two sons, Irettes C. Terry, of Petoskey, Mich., and Kenneth Terry, of Wilmington, Ohio; a daughter, Mrs. Joyce Sherman, of Fayetteville, W. Va.; two brothers, Quentin Terry, of Van Lear, and Joe Terry, of Paintsville; two sisters, Mrs. Ada Miller, of John's Creek, and Mrs. Janice Warren, of Dayton, O., and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted today (Wednesday) at the Martin Branch Free Will Baptist Church with ministers of that church officiating. Burial will be made in the Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel under the direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Active pallbearers included George R. Hansford, Curt Pack, James Couch, Ray Bolden, George Bentley and Ray Patton. Honorary pallbearers were H. D. Gibson, Oakie Collier, Fred Spradlin, Reuben Miller, Arthur Mosely and James Jones.

Charles Ray King

Charles Ray King, who died November 17 at Methodist Hospital, Pikeville, was not, at the time of his death, a coal operator. He was a disabled miner. Two daughters, Misses Vickie and Kathy King, who were listed as living at Pikeville, both reside at Hueysville.

Newt Green, Jr.

Funeral rites were held today (Wednesday) at 10 a.m. at the Carter Funeral Home Chapel for Newt Green, Jr., 53, of Prestonsburg, who died Sunday at Chillicothe, Ohio. Officiating ministers were Freddie Garrett and Moses Kitchen.

A son of Newt and Molly Rose Green, he was born December 9, 1923 and was a veteran of World War II having served with the U.S. Army. He was disabled.

SHERIFF'S SALE

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT CIVIL ACTION NO. 12,189

The Bank Josephine, a corporation . . . Pff.

VS: SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF SALE

Krystal L. Owens and Hershell Owens . . . Defts.

Pursuant to execution directed to me which issued with the Office of the Clerk of the Floyd Circuit Court in favor of The Bank Josephine, against Hershell Owens for $36,779.14, together with interest thereon at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the 5th day of September, 1975, and for the additional sum of $87.85 for the Court costs of said action, said execution being issued in Civil Action No. 12,189, late pending in the Floyd Circuit Court, styled: The Bank Josephine, plaintiff, vs: Krystal L. Owens and Hershell Owens, defendants, which execution bears the same number of said suit.

I or one of my deputies will offer for sale to the highest bidder at the courthouse in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, at 10:00 a.m. on the 26th day of December, 1977, so much as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest and costs including any cost incurred by the Sheriff of Floyd County, Kentucky, in advertising the property for sale and in conducting said sale, the following described land located in Floyd County, Kentucky:

TRACT NO. 1: Located on Right Middle Creek and described as follows: "Beginning at a driven stake across the creek from a telephone or power pole near the old Harrison Williams' barn and following an old rail fence to the right of a small drain and straight up the hill and running with said fence to the top of the hill to Harrison Hackworth's line; thence down the point with the said Harrison Hackworth's line to the creek of State Road Fork; thence up the said creek about 100 yards more or less to the beginning."

Hershell Owens acquired this tract of land by a deed from Homer Williams dated March 27, 1971, recorded in Deed Book 225, Page 471, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

TRACT NO. 2: Located on the Right Fork of Middle Creek and consists of two different tracts of land which are described as follows:

TRACT NO. 1: "Beginning near a rock at the creek; thence a straight line up hill with Malcom Adams line to a beech tree; thence a straight line to a marked black oak tree near top of knob to G. W. Adams line to top of hill to George Adams, Sr., line and with said Adams line down the point to the creek; thence down the creek with the creek the way the creek now runs to the beginning."

TRACT NO. 2: "Beginning at five willow trees in the edge of Middle Creek at the point where the Nora Prater line intersects Middle Creek; thence with the Nora Prater line to new Kentucky Highway 114, commonly called the Mountain Parkway; thence with the right of way of said Mountain Parkway to the point where it intersects old Kentucky Route 114; thence up said old Highway 114 right of way to the George Adams, Jr., line; thence with the George Adams, Jr., line to Middle Creek; thence down Middle Creek with its meanders to the point of beginning, so as to include all land within said boundary except that said tract is bisected by the Mountain Parkway right of way."

Hershell Owens acquired title to this property by a deed from Albert Greenville Adams and Naomi Adams dated March 5, 1975, and recorded in Deed Book 221, Page 191, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

As to Tract No. 2, this sale is subject to the following deeds which Hershell Owens has made since the execution of the deed from Mr. and Mrs. Adams to him:

(1) Deed from Hershell Owens and wife to Woody Poe and Carla C. Poe, dated May 28, 1975, duly recorded in Deed Book 221, Page 334, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

(2) Deed from Hershell Owens and wife to Palmer Parrot dated August 5, 1976, which is duly recorded in Deed Book 227, Page 113, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

(3) Deed from Hershell Owens and wife to Krystal Lynn Owens dated April 15, 1975, which is duly recorded in Deed Book 224, Page 223, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

(4) Deed from Hershell Owens and wife to Wayne Porterfield dated June 10, 1975, which is duly recorded in Deed Book 223, Page 163, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

Said sale shall be on a credit of six months, the purchaser having the privilege to execute bond for the deferred purchase price together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from date of sale, to be secured by a lien retained on said premises to further secure the payment of said bond. Dated: December 5, 1977.

JOE W. LEWIS Sheriff, Floyd County, Kentucky By DOUG LEWIS Deputy Sheriff

ORDINANCE No. 10-77

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, PROVIDING FOR THE ASSESSMENT OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY AND FOR THE LEVY OF A GENERAL PROPERTY TAX AT THE RATE OF THIRTY (30c) CENTS PER EACH ONE-HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLAR VALUATION OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY LOCATED WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, ON JANUARY 1, 1978, AND NINETEEN (19c) CENTS PER ONE-HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS OF ALL SHARES OF STOCK OF STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES AND NATIONAL BANKS DOING BUSINESS IN THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, ON JANUARY 1, 1978.

WHEREAS, it is necessary in order to provide the revenue required for general purposes of the City's government, including general expenses of the City including but not limited to general health, sanitation, maintenance of streets, operation of parks and other necessary and indispensable services, affecting the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, that a tax be levied upon all property, both real and personal, having a tax situs in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

WHEREAS, the total Budget for all such expenses for general purposes during the year of 1978 in said City is in the amount of $702,544.00, and the budget's source of revenue for 1978 includes an estimated amount of $129,000.00 to be derived from such property taxes, and without such amount to be derived from such property taxes, the revenue required for such general purposes would be insufficient.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. A tax is hereby levied upon all property, both real and personal, having a tax situs in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, as of January 1, 1978, for general purposes, including general expenses of the City. All monies received hereunder shall be paid to the City Treasurer of Prestonsburg and placed in the credit of a general fund of the City and shall be used in defraying current and incidental expenses of said government. The tax hereby is levied as follows:

A. The sum of Thirty (30c) Cents for each One-Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation of all real and personal property located within the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, as of January 1, 1978.

SECTION 2. The property taxes for the year 1978 shall become due and payable on October 1, 1978, by which date tax notices shall have been mailed each taxpayer, and all taxes paid prior to November 1, 1978, shall be allowed a discount of 2 per cent.

SECTION 3. All taxpayers who do not pay the tax herein levied prior to January 1, 1979, shall be required to pay a penalty of 6 per cent of the amount of the tax in addition to the tax levied herein.

SECTION 4. All taxpayers who do not pay the tax herein levied on or before the 1st day of April, 1979, shall be required to pay a penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of the tax, in addition to the tax levied herein.

SECTION 5. That there is hereby levied an annual tax of Nineteen (19c) Cents on every One-Hundred ($100.00) Dollars of their fair cash value upon the shares of stock of state banks and trust companies incorporated under the laws of this state and doing business in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and of National banks doing business in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, which tax shall be for City purposes only.

SECTION 6. The Delinquent Tax Collector is hereby authorized to advertise for sale in a newspaper having a general circulation in Floyd County, Kentucky, all delinquent taxes on real property placed in his hands for collection, and the charge for such advertising shall be added to the amount of the tax bill.

SECTION 7. All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, and this Ordinance shall take effect as of the date of adoption and publication as required by law.

SECTION 8. The provisions of this Ordinance are separable, and if any of the provisions or penalties provided herein shall be held invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such decision of the court will not affect or impair any other section, clause, provision or portion of the Ordinance which is not in itself invalid or unconstitutional.

PASSED AND APPROVED, this the 1st day of December, 1977.

HAROLD COOLEY Mayor, City of Prestonsburg, Ky.

ORDINANCE No. 9-77

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, AMENDING THE ZONING ORDINANCE ADOPTED ON DECEMBER 4, 1975, AND AS PREVIOUSLY ESTABLISHED BY ORDINANCE NO. 4A-66; AND SPECIFICALLY AMENDING SECTIONS HEREINAFTER LISTED.

WHEREAS, the City of Prestonsburg has heretofore enacted a Zoning Ordinance to promote the public health, safety, and general welfare, and

WHEREAS, the Hearing Examiner has conducted two public hearings on September 5th and 12th, 1977, wherein the amendments were presented, having been properly advertised, and

WHEREAS, the Planning Committee unanimously recommends approval of the amendments, and

WHEREAS, the City desires to amend certain provisions of the Zoning Ordinance.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, THAT THE ZONING ORDINANCE BE AMENDED AS FOLLOWS:

1. Article II, Section 2.1, (Page 4) Item No. 14. Add or accessory building after "Dwelling" in first sentence.

2. Article II, Section 2.1, (Page 6) Item No. 26. Add the following at end of paragraph:

"Should the City reappoint a Municipal Planning Commission. Such commission would supersede activities of any joint planning commission (if any) within the jurisdiction of the City of Prestonsburg. The Hearing Examiner shall, if reappointed, continue in the same manner as previously outlined, except that the "Committee" and joint commission duties and responsibilities shall be performed by the Municipal Planning Commission in areas of their jurisdiction."

3. Article IV, Section 4.13, (Page 25) Item "A", omit "Nonprofit."

4. Article IV, of dimensions and areas regulations, (after page 35) amend as follows:

a. Add footnote No. 4 to side yards as follows: The Board of Adjustment may permit a minimum side yard of three feet for the construction of an open carport providing such construction does not unduly restrict adequate light and air circulation to adjoining structures on adjoining lots.

b. Amend regulations to allow: 1. Minimum lot width of 50 feet in R-3 District. 2. Minimum side yards of 10 feet in R-2 and R-3 Districts.

c. Amend footnote No. 3 to read as follows: Residential uses in commercial zones must, at a minimum, conform to the dimension and area regulations of the R-2 zone and, in addition, shall provide one foot of setback on all sides for each foot of height.

d. Amend C-1 regulations to provide a minimum rear yard of 10 feet.

e. Amend C-2 regulations to allow maximum building coverage of 80 percent; to allow minimum side yards of 0 feet except for a minimum of 10 feet on side adjoining a residential zone; and a minimum rear yard of 10 feet.

f. Amend C-3 regulations to allow as follows:

1. 100 percent maximum building coverage with a recommendation for a 5 foot green space or landscaped area in front of building.

2. To allow a 0 foot side yard except when adjoining a residential zone where the minimum side yard is 10 feet.

g. Change footnote by adding: Front yard setback may be reduced to a minimum of 5 feet from the street right of way if parking is in rear or side yard and if such 5 foot area is landscaped.

h. Change location of footnote from after C-4 District to after "30 ft." in C-4.

i. Amend paragraph IB by omitting all after "Building line" add by adding: such strip may not be used for parking, storage, or industrial activities.

j. Amend Item (para.) IC by complete omission.

5. All other provisions of said Ordinance, as amended, not expressly repealed or amended herein, are hereby reaffirmed and shall remain in full force and effect.

DATED: November 17, 1977.

$1 Million Funding Of Juvenile Program Approved for State

Kentucky's plan for juvenile justice and delinquency prevention has received federal approval and has been awarded more than $1 million by the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA). Gov. Julian Carroll announced last week.

The funds, made available under the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974, represents the full amount to which Kentucky is entitled, Gov. Carroll said. The grant period dates from Oct. 1 of this year through Sept. 30, 1980, he said.

The Governor said state Justice Department officials have broken the grant into five utilization areas:

—$91,555 for emergency shelter care and alternatives to detentions for status offenders (runaway, incorrigible and truant juveniles);

—$538,883 for regional short-term alternative placements (group homes for status offenders and separation from adult offenders);

—$200,912 for community-based treatment programs;

—$127,000 for planning and administration; and

—$50,450 for special citizens advisory programs.

Actual use of the funds is subject to the approval of the U.S. Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention.

Not an Anonymous Alcoholic, Combs Tells It as It Was

Combs, speaking at recent Pikeville College seminar on alcoholism.

By A. K. WEBB

"I first decided to study law," says Pikeville attorney Dan Jack Combs, "when I was thrown into the Pikeville jail for being drunk!"

"I was embarrassed and humiliated," added Combs, who has been practicing law since 1951. "It has been eight years and eight days since I had my last drink."

Combs thinks alcoholism is the first and greatest problem facing society today, when an estimated one out of every 13 drinking Americans become alcoholics.

"Alcoholism doesn't come in bottles, it comes in people," the attorney said. The big mystery is why people develop alcoholism. Researchers are working overtime to decipher the make-up of alcoholics.

Alcohol is the catalyst as it produces different reactions in people. The same martini gives one person a gentle lift while it drives another wild with desire for more "Ethyl."

"We have something different in our systems," says Combs, a recovering alcoholic, "that, when combined with alcohol, produces an insatiable thirst for it."

For Combs, initiation into the alcoholic lifestyle came at the age of 11 with the introduction of a bottle of beer.

"I blacked out the first time I drank. I even got sick. But that didn't stop me, I drank at every opportunity."

"When it comes to alcohol," laughed Combs, "the alcoholic is the shrewdest fella in the world."

Combs went on to say it bothered him because he couldn't drink like his friends. They could handle it, he could not. "I didn't want to tell my friends I was alcoholic."

"All my hangups were alcohol-soluble," Combs said, "but ingested alcohol produced a Jekyll and Hyde type of behavior in me."

Unlike most Alcoholics Anonymous (A.A.) members, Combs is not anonymous in his alcoholism.

"I'd heard about A.A. in the early 60's but kept telling myself I wasn't an alcoholic. They were subhuman. I'd admit I had a problem with alcohol but told myself I could quit any time, like I'd done ten thousand times before."

Combs says he must now condition himself never to take the first drink. "There is no way for a drunk to drink," he smiles.

"I've learned more about life and living through A.A. than anything I'd ever studied. I'm not concerned about making it tomorrow without a drink. My past behavior is past. I try to make amends. I have no control over yesterday or tomorrow. I only control today."

A favorite A. A. saying of Dan Jack Combs is, "One drink is too much, and a truck load is not enough."

Success is his word. Successful attorney. Successful, recovering alcoholic.

WEEKSBURY NEWS

The Weeksbury Community meeting was held November 22.

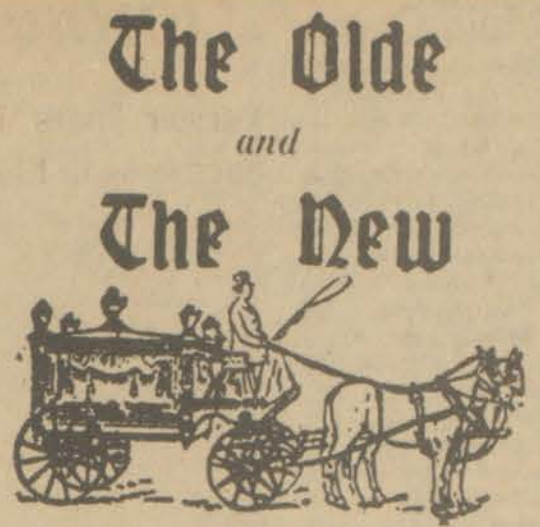

Gabe Sanders, gave a report on the Community Center Chapel with suggested dimensions of 70' by 40'. Mr. Sanders is to have the floor plan completed by February. At that time, alterations can be commented on. These plans will then be submitted to the Floyd County Planning Committee for approval. Construction is to be mostly of native creek rock and cedar shingles.

The Floyd County Development meeting is to be held at the Weeksbury Community Center, Dec. 8, at 7 p.m. Guest speaker will be John Sparks, and Bill Bridges is to show film slides of his social work abroad.

New Community Center officers were appointed as follows:

President, Peggy Bradford; vice president, Doug Sanders; secretary-reporter, Eddie Collins; treasurer, Elbert Gibson. Board members are Frank Smith, chairman; Causby Branham, Ida Burke, Clinie Hall, Gabe Sanders, Clyde Mosley.

Preparations for the annual Christmas program, sponsored by the Weeksbury Community Center are to begin Dec. 17, 10 a.m. Volunteers to fill these 300 bags of candy and fruit are Causby Branham, Frank Smith, Peggy Bradford and Eddie Collins. This treat is to be given out December 18, at 2 p.m.

Rural Child Care

The Rural Child Care Centers at Dwale and Drift operated by the Kentucky Youth Research Center have completed another month of operation.

Myrtle Jo Potter and Esther Salisbury, health social service aides for the county, report that all the children from the Dwale and Drift centers have completed their dental exams. Some will receive follow-up care. The physical examinations by the Floyd County Health Department have been completed for the Drift children and are scheduled for those at Dwale.

Thanks to Mrs. Blanche Kinsey and Mrs. Mary Thornsbury, a quilt has been set up in the county office. Anyone wishing "to stick a few fingers" is invited to stop by the office on Short street and work on the quilt. It is hoped the quilt will be finished soon, because the county office will be moved to the court house in a few weeks.

The parents from the Drift center are presently selling chances on a goblet set from Avon, also candy and fruit cakes. The money from these sales will be used to put the children's pictures in the Floyd County Annual.

The children and several of the parents enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner of turkey and all the trimmings. The boys were dressed as Indians and the girls wore long dresses and bonnets.

The drawing for the shotgun was held at the Dwale Center on November 23. Jessie Wright, three-year-old daughter of Peggy and Charles Wright, drew the winning ticket. The lucky person was Jack Gibson, of West Prestonsburg. The parents used the profits from the ticket sales to buy each child at the center a Christmas present. The children are looking forward to the Christmas party and a visit from Santa Claus on December 16.

The parents have been busy writing letters to their representatives in Congress. The Kentucky Youth Research Center notified the county office that the Rural Child Care project is now facing its most critical financial crisis during the history of Head Start. Congress is in the process of approving more money for the Head Start program, but they want it used to start new programs. We feel that the money should be used to upgrade the present programs already in operation. Won't you please join these concerned parents and write a letter to your representative concerning the bill. For more information, call the office at 886-3548.

Fire-Hit W'wright Returns New Firefighting Equipment

Except for a 300-gallon pumper, the town of Wheelwright is without fire protection, Delbert Davis, chairman of the board of trustees there, told The Times Monday afternoon.
A new fire truck arrived there last week, and a meeting was called to study the situation, with members of the new board of trustees which will take office next month invited. Only one, Don Daniels, appeared, Davis said.

Davis said it had been hoped that the new firefighting equipment could be acquired to serve not only Wheelwright but other communities, including Melvin, Bypro, Buckingham and others. This plan would have included solicitation of funds from the other communities to help with the purchase of the equipment, which was offered for $45,000.

But, the board chairman said, Trustee-elect Daniels held that the equipment must be restricted only to the service of Wheelwright and could not leave the city limits.

"So the fire truck went back to Tennessee," Davis said.
The fire truck and equipment owned by the city were ruined Nov. 21 in a fire which partially destroyed the building housing the fire department and city hall. The loss was uninsured. Two juveniles have been accused of starting the blaze.

Davis said that, even with a fire truck, Wheelwright high school and gymnasium are vulnerable, since the nearest fire plug is a quarter of a mile away. He said the Wheelwright water system is owned by Mountain Investment Company, which also owns most of the town, and that he has never succeeded in getting fire plugs installed at the school.

"The board of education offered to pay half the cost, and city water serves the school but no fire plugs," Davis added.

ASCS Head Announces Feed Grain Set-Aside

The 1978 feed grain program calls for a 10 per cent set-aside of corn, grain sorghum and barley acreage, Will Boggs, chairman of the Floyd County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, reported last week.

Announcing this conditional action now will give USDA the opportunity in January and February to review the world and domestic situation again and revoke the set-aside if conditions change substantially.

Mr. Boggs said the set-aside provision was included in the program because of record world and domestic grain stocks. Also, current farm prices are below the effective loan rate and estimated cost of production, he explained. The 10 percent set-aside is expected to reduce U. S. feed grain production by about 7 million tons, and should result in a 4-million-ton difference in U.S. stocks.

Participation in the program is voluntary. However, non-participants are not eligible for price support loans, disaster or target price payments. Farmers participating in the program must set aside one acre for every 10 acres actually planted for harvest in 1978. Under cross compliance rules farmers who do not participate in the program are ineligible for loans and payments on other crops.

Library Trustees Set State Meet

The Kentucky Library Trustees Association will host a Legislative Breakfast honoring members of the 1978 General Assembly as special guests. The breakfast will be held Thursday, January 5, 1978, 8:30 a.m., Capitol Plaza Sports Center, Frankfort, Kentucky.

MILITARY COLLECTION KEEPS GROWING

Literally hundreds of items have been donated to the Kentucky Historical Society Military History Museum during 1977, according to Nicky Hughes, curator. The museum's collection traces Kentucky's role in American military history from the days of the last Indian skirmishes to the war in Vietnam.

This year's donations include a cadet nurse's uniform, dating around 1945, and an experimental communications helmet from the 1960s. William S. Stewart, a retired Shelbyville sales manager, contributed around 200 documents of correspondence, diaries and other material, which belonged to Lt. Joseph Allen, his great grandmother's brother. Allen, a Union soldier, described his participation in the Civil War in the documents which the Historical Society will microfilm and printback for the museum.

A watch contributed by Robert Kinnaird, coordinator of the Historical Society, was worn during the war by his father, Maj. Austin Kinnaird. It was stopped at 11 a.m. to symbolize the end of World War I on Nov. 11, 1918.

Kentuckians who would like to contribute something to the museum may contact Nicky Hughes at (502) 564-3265.

Columbia Gas Strike Averted

Columbia Gas, which has not had a strike in 14 years because of company-union contract differences, apparently will go two years longer without a work-stoppage for that cause.

A tentative agreement on a new two-year pact was reached last Tuesday, a matter of hours before the strike deadline, between negotiators on behalf of two local unions of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union and representatives of Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Columbia Gas of West Virginia and Columbia Gas Transmission Corporation.

The contract will be submitted Dec. 15 to the membership of Locals 3-372 and 3-628, including more than 1,100 members, for ratification. Its confirmation is generally expected.

Main features of the new contract provide for an 8.3 per cent increase in employees' pay the first year and 8 per cent the second.

A point of major disagreement in the negotiations stemmed from the company's desire to change to the sick leave clause to eliminate the first day of reported illness. The clause, in the final agreement, remained unchanged.

Beetles get their English name from the Anglo-Saxon word bitan, meaning to bite, because they're such great chombers.

Survey Report:

Bobcats May Be Endangered; States Act To Protect Them

As its skin becomes more valuable to hunters and trappers, the bobcat, once found throughout the country, is threatened with becoming an endangered species, according to a survey conducted by the National Wildlife Federation.

As a result, eight states have taken administrative or legislative steps to save the lynx, also known as the wildcat and bay lynx, by imposing restrictions on its exploitation since the beginning of 1977, the NWF study revealed. The study covered all states but Alaska and Hawaii.

About half of the 48 contiguous states questioned reported that they regard the bobcat as in jeopardy, almost in jeopardy, or already endangered. Delaware was the only state listing the bobcat as extinct. Only Kansas and North Carolina said their bobcat populations are increasing.

A lucrative spotted fur market, encouraged by strict enforcement of limitations on skins and furs of many foreign cats, has increased bobcat trapping and is the major reason for the decline of the small but fierce wild cat. Because of the bobcat's once widespread distribution and abundance and its unprotected status under many states' laws, it was a prime candidate to replace the now-forbidden skins of exotic animals.

Second most often mentioned reason for the bobcat's decline was loss or serious alteration of habitat.

Indiana, Maryland and Ohio are the only states listing the bobcat as endangered, protecting the animal from all hunting. Only Texas and Wyoming, which list it as a predator, continue to allow unrestricted hunting. In other states, the bobcat falls under a variety of classifications, with efforts being made to protect the creature by changing its status.

The original survey, supervised by Michal Berger, NWF's assistant director of conservation for biological matters, was made in 1976. A recent 1977 update showed the number of states calling the bobcat a predator, with few or no hunting restrictions, had decreased from eleven to four. Those making the change were mostly western states with relatively large and stable bobcat populations.

New Mexico, with about 48,300 bobcats, and Colorado, with about 30,000, reported the biggest bobcat populations. However, only 15 states gave an estimate. Bobcat populations were believed stable by 25 states.

Fifteen states, the survey found, classify the bobcat as a game animal, allowing it some protection by regulating the hunting season and the number of animals that can be taken. Seven of these states also list it as a furbearer, which allows regulated trapping. Louisiana classifies it as both a predator and a furbearer and limits the hunting season to three months.

The survey showed that although many states are aware of and concerned about declining bobcat populations, an absence of population data has prevented most from imposing hunting quotas. Of the states where it is hunted, only Virginia reported any restriction on the number of the bobtailed cats to be taken during a season, and the limit is not effective statewide.

Efforts are underway by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to determine the status of the bobcat nationwide and to decide whether it should be placed on the official endangered species list. The NWF report suggests that the states—since they've already demonstrated their concern—should make their own bobcat population studies, using federal aid-to-wildlife-restoration funds.

Bobcats have adapted to a number of habitats, including swamps, deserts, and mountain country. They are nocturnal, but are often seen during daylight. They prey mainly on rodents and rabbits, but occasionally kill a young deer by pouncing on its back.

State Unemployment Shows Slight Rise During Last Month

Unemployment rose slightly during October to 4.3 per cent, compared to 4.1 per cent in September, according to statistics released Nov. 15 by the Department for Human Resources.

Robert MacDonald, chief labor analyst for the state, said "The current increase in unemployment is due to more persons being unemployed from firms covered by Kentucky's Unemployment Insurance Program, plus an increase in the number of persons who have exhausted their regular unemployment benefits."

The rise represents an increase of 3,100 persons in October bringing the total of unemployed Kentuckians to 65,700 which is 3,400 less than October of last year.

According to MacDonald, the current national rate is 6.3 per cent, a full 2 per cent higher than the October rate for Kentucky.

Alice Lloyd College To Offer Xmas Program

The public is invited to attend a special family Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. Sunday (Dec. 11) in Cushing Hall on the Alice Lloyd College campus. Admission to the program is free.

Included will be a traditional Nativity play, performed by ALC students, faculty and staff, as well as Christmas carols sung by the "Voices of Appalachia," the college choir, and instrumental musical selections. Refreshments will be served on stage following the performance.

Four Weeks Ahead—A New Court System

Less than four weeks from this date, a new court system will initiate a new court system.

District courts will replace the present system of police, county-quarterly and magisterial courts. In November, 1975 Kentucky voters approved an amendment to the state Constitution which restructured the court system.

Kentucky Supreme Court Chief Justice John Palmore explains the old and new court situations:

"Before the judicial amendment, the courts included the circuit court, which was the principal trial court. Above the circuit court was the Court of Appeals, which is now the Supreme Court. It was to this court that all appeals were taken. Below the circuit court were several small courts, magistrates' court, police court and county court (which is also called quarterly court in some counties).

"In place of these courts, we now have a four-tier system, consisting of the circuit court, Court of Appeals, Supreme Court and the lower courts, the district court."

Palmore said the advantages of the new system are already becoming apparent. The new appellate courts have already eased the backlog of cases "tremendously," he said. "When I first came on (the Court of Appeals, now the Supreme Court) ... I would say the court stayed between 14 to 18 months behind, anywhere from 1,200 to 1,600 cases behind. We were able to get our 700 to 800 cases per year, so the backlog kept backing up ... It was an evergrowing monster.

"Now, I'd say we have less than 100 cases in our court today to dispose of. We're almost current. People are getting their cases decided much more promptly than they used to," Palmore said.

Palmore said the additional judges in the appellate system are largely responsible for easing the backlog. He noted that the Court of Appeals meets in three-judge panels across the state, which added speed to the system. "We actually have three times the people (judges) to do the work," he said.

He added that the number of judges on the Court of Appeals can be expanded if the caseload shows the need for more judges.

Palmore said the number of district courts is also an advantage. There will be 113 district judges, beginning Jan. 1, whereas the present number of judges in police, county-quarterly and magisterial courts is more than 700.

Palmore said the new court system will probably cost more than the old, since there is a new Court of Appeals, plus the district court judges' salaries of $27,500 each. But, he said, the speed efficiency of the new courts would make them "well worth the expense."

"The new system will not be as confusing as the present system," according to William Davis, executive director of the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC). "Citizens with misdemeanor or relatively small civil cases will know exactly where to go, rather than go from one court to another to find the right court."

Davis was referring to the present system's problem with overlapping jurisdiction. The jurisdictional problem was one of the major reasons behind the judicial amendment to the Kentucky Constitution, passed by popular vote in November, 1975.

"As the system now operates, a misdemeanor committed within a city is resolved by the police court," he said. "Unless, that is, the offense was committed by a juvenile. In that case, the case goes to county court."

"County-quarterly, police and magisterial courts can each try civil cases involving up to $500 claims," Davis continued. "And there is also the question about territorial jurisdiction. Police courts try cases within the city—but the city is within the county, and so the county court may become involved. There is also the question of the county court's authority over magisterial districts.

"But after Jan. 1, all misdemeanors and civil cases involving amounts up to $1,500 will be tried in one place—the district court," Davis said.

"The district court will be concerned with all misdemeanor, traffic violations and local ordinance violations," he said. "In addition, juvenile matters, uncontested probate and, in some cases, local administrative cases will come under district court review."

Davis said civil cases will be handled either in the district court, for matters up to $1,500, or in the district court's small claims division. "The small claims division will handle cases involving amounts up to $500. No attorneys will be necessary for cases in small claims court, although persons involved in cases there are allowed to bring counsel. But the counsel will not be allowed to speak for his client."

Davis noted that a limit of 25 appearances per year will be applied to persons using the small claims division. It is hoped that private businesses won't be using the courts as a collection agency," he said.

"The judicial article and legislation included provisions for district judges to appoint trial commissioners to handle cases which involved minor affairs that would be too time-consuming for the district judge," Davis said.

Not all counties will have a district judge. Counties such as Jefferson and Fayette have several judges, while those with smaller populations may have to share a judgeship with other counties. In those smaller counties, where the district judge is not a resident, the judge can appoint a local attorney as trial commissioner and allow the commissioner to handle the less-demanding matters.

Davis pointed out that the commissioners do not have the same authority as the district judge possesses. "The state Supreme Court has already defined the trial commissioner's powers," he said. The trial commissioner may hold examining trials; set bail; accept pleas of guilty and impose sentences on offenses punishable only by a fine of $100 or less; conduct preliminary inquiries and order temporary custody in juvenile cases, probate wills and appoint executors and administrators of such estates.

"The trial commissioner's salary is limited to $7,200. In fact, only a few will be able to receive the maximum amount because there are funds available for an average salary of $6,500. But he or she is not restricted from continuing to operate a law practice," Davis said. He said the trial commissioner can be replaced by the district judge at the judge's pleasure.

Davis noted that the chief district judge in a district can be empowered by the state Supreme Court to appoint additional trial commissioners if the district's workload warrants it.

Also serving the district court, as well as the circuit court, is the circuit court clerk. Circuit clerks are elected to six-year terms and have been elevated to state official status. In addition to their court duties, circuit clerks will continue to sell motor vehicle operators' and boat licenses.

"Kentucky is divided into 56 judicial circuits, which are served by 87 elected circuit judges," Davis said. "In January, the circuit courts will handle appeals on the same misdemeanors as they do now, and on the civil suits involving up to $1,500.

The circuit courts will have the same general trial jurisdiction over felony cases, as before, but their jurisdiction on civil suits has been raised to involve only suits of more than $1,500, Davis said.

The circuit courts will hear appeals from administrative agencies and appeals from the district courts.

The county judge and magistrates, stripped of all judicial powers, will serve in an administrative-supervisory capacity as members of the fiscal court, and police courts will no longer exist.

Price Church Dedication Slated Saturday Evening

The Pine Grove Baptist Church at Price will dedicate its new sanctuary at 6 p.m. Saturday, the pastor, the Rev. Ishamel Elliott, announces.

The 200-capacity auditorium, Sunday School rooms and other facilities of the new church have been in use for a month after a long construction period during which members of the congregation took part in the work.

A fellowship dinner will follow the dedicatory service. Special singing will be a feature of the service, to which the public is being invited.

The 1978 Agricultural Conservation Program has been announced by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and development of program practices and specifications will begin in the next few weeks.

Floyd county has received an allocation of $16,868 to be spent on practices which will be directed primarily toward erosion control and pollution abatement. Special emphasis will be placed on the establishment and improving of permanent vegetative cover and planting trees.

Cost-shares for high priority practices will be much higher than in previous years, with possibly 90 percent of cost shares for some practices (regardless of the farmer's income).

State Sentencing System
Based on Myths—Stephens

Attorney Gen. Robert Stephens says that new statistics prove Kentucky's system of sentencing criminals is built on a mythical base.

"We give the impression defendants are getting long terms, whereas the data shows they are serving short terms," he said.

In an interview, Stephens said his office has compiled the first reliable statewide data on just how long inmates actually serve in all state correctional institutions.

He said it bears out what he expected to find—for example, those convicted of murder serve an average of only one-third their sentences.

Stephens has advocated an end to indeterminate sentencing, in which the length of a term depends on parole, in favor of specific sentencing for specific crimes without parole.

"We feel the severity of the sentence should match the nature of the crime all across the state," the attorney general said.

His office is preparing a bill draft for the 1978 Legislature on the issue. Stephens said he was a bit surprised to discover that no over-all statistics were available.

So, he hired Bob Roper, working on a doctorate in political science at the University of Kentucky, to draw up the data.

"I want to stress that the state bureau of corrections cooperated fully," Stephens said.

The study was based on 2,322 inmates incarcerated during fiscal 1976-'77 and was fed into a computer for exact tallies and percentages.

Among the unexpected findings is that, with the exception of murder, as the severity of the crime increases, the time served decreases—the opposite of what should be the pattern under equal justice.

"We don't think that's what the people want," Stephens commented.

Crimes under the new Kentucky penal code are classified by letter according to severity—with Class "A" including murder down to Class "D" involving lesser felonies.

And yet, of the cases considered by the state parole board, the Class B criminals served an average of only 39 per cent of their terms, the Class C inmates 40 per cent and the Class D prisoners one-half of their sentences.

The same trend applies when the criminal's release has been considered under all other conditions—court order, serving the full term, shock probation, parole, pardon, escape and even death.

It indicates the "B" criminals served an average of only 32 per cent of their terms, the "C" category 36 per cent and the "D" classification 44 per cent.

The terms served for murder also are an eye-opener, according to Stephens. It appears that the average sentence actually served is only nine years, or 34 per cent of the term imposed before parole is granted.

When murder defendants' terms are grouped under release by means other than the parole board, the average term served is even shorter—only 6.5 years.

Stephens acknowledged that the average in that category is brought down rather sharply because of shock probation—a permissive system under which a circuit judge can choose to impose a term of only 30 to 120 days.

"We wanted this data to find out what we were dealing with in order to propose remedies in the legislature," Stephens said. "Our bill draft will have a wide spectrum of recommended sentences for various crimes."

Stephens' proposals have drawn a favorable response from inmates at the state penitentiary at Eddyville.

A recent petition signed by hundreds of them expressed support and said "we feel that the parole board is a failure (and) that it acts arbitrarily."

Stephens agreed that there is a tremendous amount of disparity in parole board decisions, with the advantage apparently going to prisoners who are articulate and clever in convincing the board "they are good and ready to go back into society again."

State justice officials so far have been cool to the idea because, they say, for one thing the cost of keeping criminals in prison would be much higher.

However, Stephens expressed the hope that the new data would persuade corrections officials his proposal merits serious consideration.

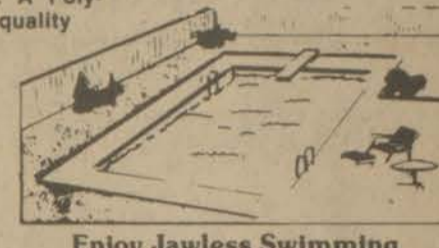

The volume of the oceans and adjoining waters is 14 times that of all land above sea level.

You have more power over your electric bill than you think.

No matter what we do to help keep your electric bill in line, there's one thing we have no power over.

The amount of power you use. So we'd like to point out the most significant places where only you have the biggest opportunities to save.

Insulation

6 to 12 inches of insulation in your attic could save you real money each year. You'll save even more if you insulate your walls, heating ducts and hot water pipes.

Caulking, weatherstripping, storm windows, shades and drapes also help keep heat inside in winter, and outside in summer.

Thermostat Control

Lower your thermostat in winter. Each degree below 68°F can save three percent of the energy needed for heating. If you have air conditioning, a higher thermostat setting will also save energy in summer.

Hot Water Use

You can save up to 5% a year of the energy needed to heat water if you turn your water heater thermostat down to 120 degrees and take quick showers instead of baths.

Fix leaky hot water faucets promptly. And wash clothes in cold water, if you can. Washing and drying only full loads of clothes and dishes is more economical, too.

Appliance Efficiency

If you're in the market for appliances and equipment, look for the new energy saving features on refrigerators, freezers, and dishwashers. Choose an Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER) of 8 or higher on room air conditioners.

While there are a lot more ways to save electricity, these are the ones that will make the biggest impression on your bill.

Kentucky Power Co.

Working together is the only way.

'Over the Rainbow' Was First Ordered Cut from 'Wizard of Oz'

They almost left "Over the Rainbow" on the cutting room floor! The song that's become one of the world's most popular ballads was ordered removed following the first preview of "The Wizard of Oz" in 1939. But, recalls a November Reader's Digest article, wiser hearts prevailed and the song stayed in.

Although the film is today considered a classic event—it has been shown on network television virtually every year since 1956—it was hardly perceived as such when it opened 38 years ago. Many serious critics thought it was dreadful; the New Yorker labeled it a "stinker." Nonetheless, M-G-M's $2.8 million investment to make the film has mushroomed, with $11 million in revenues coming from the TV networks alone since 1956.

The "yellow brick road" was often a rocky road, notes author Aljean Harmetz in describing the making of the film. For example, Judy Garland recalled in an interview years later that the 100 midgets who were brought in to play the Munchkins "got smashed every night." If true, it was probably because Culver City, site of the filming, was full of bars, and the bars were full of big people who liked to buy the little people drinks.

If the Munchkins had little difficulty obtaining refreshment, the same was not always true of the film's stars. For example Bert Lahr, glued into his 70-pound "Cowardly Lion" costume, could not open his mouth wide enough to chew. His lunches were limited to whatever he could sip through a straw—usually soup or milkshakes. Jack Haley's "Tin Man" outfit was so rigid that he couldn't sit down in it. Lunchtime for him meant a chance to take off his costume and lie down. Ray Bolger's "Scarecrow" makeup—a special rubber mask, wrinkled to simulate burlap—left permanent lines on both corners of his mouth and part of his chin.

The movie was a publicist's dream come true, and many newspapers and magazines published stories. But the most astonishing of the stories did not appear. M-G-M wanted a coat with the look of shabby gentility for Frank Morgan, who played Professor Marvel (one of six roles he assumed in the film). The wardrobe department bought a rack of coats at a secondhand store and from it selected a well-worn Prince Albert. The coat fit Morgan beautifully. Then one afternoon he turned out the pocket—and found inside the name L. Frank Baum, author of the Oz books. Baum's widow and the tailor who made the coat confirmed its authenticity, and it was later presented to Mrs. Baum.

How come the story did not appear? Says a publicist connected with the picture, "No one would believe or print the story." It was dismissed as a press agent's lie!

Family Roots Tracing Roberts Program Topic

A program in tracing family roots will be presented by Dr. Leonard Roberts this afternoon (Wednesday) from 12:30 to 1:30 at the Dick Johnson Senior Citizens Center, Pikeville.

Sponsored by the Pikeville College Center for Continuing Education, the program is one in a series of six scheduled at the center. Dr. Roberts, director of the Pikeville College Appalachian Studies Center, is known for his book, "South From Hell Fer Sartin," and for his editing of the McCoy book.

NOTICE

The Kentucky Bureau of Highways, in order to assist those people displaced by highway construction, desires to obtain listings of available housing and building lots which are for sale, rent, or lease in Floyd County in the Betsy Layne, Harold, Mud Creek area.

Information concerning any property listed with the Bureau will be made available, free of charge, to those people displaced by highway construction and at no cost to the property owner offering the property.

Any property owner having property for sale, rent, or lease, is requested to send a brief description of the property; giving the lot size, type (brick, frame, block, etc.), number of rooms, type of heat, if gas and water are available, location, and whether or not the house has a bathroom. If the house is for rent, state monthly rent; if house is for sale, the sale price. Be sure to indicate the name and address of the owner and telephone number, if any.

All properties listed just be decent, safe, and sanitary, and available for sale or rent without regard to race, creed, color, or national origin.

All replies should be sent to C. M. Coleman, District Relocation Assistance Agent, Bureau of Highways, P.O. Box 2468, Pikeville, Kentucky 41501.

 Please note date shown opposite your name on your copy of The Times or on the wrapper. If the date reads, for instance, "Oct. 77" your subscription will expire at the end of October. Because of increased mailing costs, notices to subscribers of their expiration dates will be discontinued. Subscriptions which have expired must be cancelled within one month of the expiration date. Yearly subscription rates are: $6.30 in Floyd county; $7.35 elsewhere in Kentucky; $8.50 outside Kentucky.

Baby Contest Winner

Donovan, son of Dean and Sue Hall, of Lackey, was the winner of a recent "Pretty Baby" contest sponsored by the Evelyn Rhymer Photographic Studios, of Asheville, North Carolina. Donovan was awarded $25.00. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Clester Hall, of Wayland, and Mrs. Corine Fitzpatrick, of Lackey.

To Launch Rural Health Exams Here

Comprehensive medical testing is the goal of the rural health testing program being offered through the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation which will be conducted here December 18 through December 22.

Under the sponsorship of the Women's Committees in those counties that choose to participate, Farm Bureau members will have a chance to obtain a comprehensive health examination.

As with many people, rural residents tend to neglect their most valuable asset, good health. The primary aim of the program is prevention. Early diagnosis means the most effective and economical treatment.

Abnormalities will be detected through a series of tests given by a team of five registered nurses and medical technicians who will travel from county to county in a mobile van. The mobile units are operated by American Health Profiles of Nashville, Tennessee, a firm that offers multiphasic screening services to various companies and service organizations in the country.

A total of 22 medical tests is given, and these take only 45 minutes for the testing. Tests include an EKG, chest X-ray, mouth and sinus X-ray, lung function test, breast exam, hearing tests, eye tests, and a complete blood test and urinalysis.

The cost for the tests is $70 per adult which is relatively inexpensive, and less time is involved in taking the tests.

A team of seven medical specialists in Nashville then check over the tests, looking for any abnormalities. These results are sent to the patient's family doctor for his diagnosis and follow-up. If a person doesn't have a family doctor, the testing service personnel work through his county medical society to help find one for him.

This service is already operating in Ohio and Pennsylvania through the Women's Committee. Results of these programs show that abnormalities are detected in one out of every three persons who use the service.

Senators Announce New $37.4 Million Rural Program

Washington, D. C.—Senators Walter (Dee) Huddleston and Wendell Ford have announced that Kentucky has been allocated $37.48 million for Rural Community Loan and Grant Programs for fiscal year 1978.

Senators Huddleston and Ford said the Commonwealth will receive $23.65 million for water and waste disposal loans, $5.665 million for water and waste disposal grants, $7.87 million for community facility loans and $295,000 for Industrial Development Grants.

The senators said the Federal loans and grants are available from the Farmers Home Administration of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"Kentucky rural communities need these funds to assist them with their water, sewer, community facility and industrial development problems," Ford said. "I'm pleased the state has been allocated over $37 million for this purpose."

"The Federal government for too long has neglected the rural community. They need assistance many times more than the large urban center. The flow of people from rural to urban America can be stopped if rural communities are attractive and jobs are provided."

The letter D started as the outline of an archway or door.

Huddleston added. The senators explained the different funds can be used to construct rural and community water systems, waste disposal systems, community centers, fire stations, health care, other community facilities and to facilitate development of private business enterprises in rural areas.

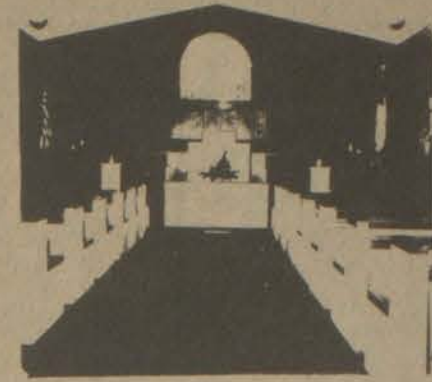

Most of the programs are limited to rural towns of 10,000 population or less and rural areas. Information about the programs can be obtained from the local Farmers Home Administration office.
