

Grand Jury Nears End Of Session

Manslaughter Trial Of State Senator Is Begun Tuesday

The grand jury failed to conclude its work Tuesday, as expected, and will return today (Wednesday) for a final session and the filing of its final report.

The trial of State Senator Jim Hammond on a manslaughter charge growing out of a fatal wreck on the Mountain Parkway, near here, began Tuesday morning and will go into its second day today. Both Circuit Judge Hollie Conley and Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen disqualified for the trial. Caswell P. Lane, of Mt. Sterling, is presiding as special judge, and Larry Roberts, of Frankfort, is the special prosecutor.

Senator Hammond entered a plea of not guilty and is being represented by his legislative colleague, Senator Kelsey Friend, of Pikeville.

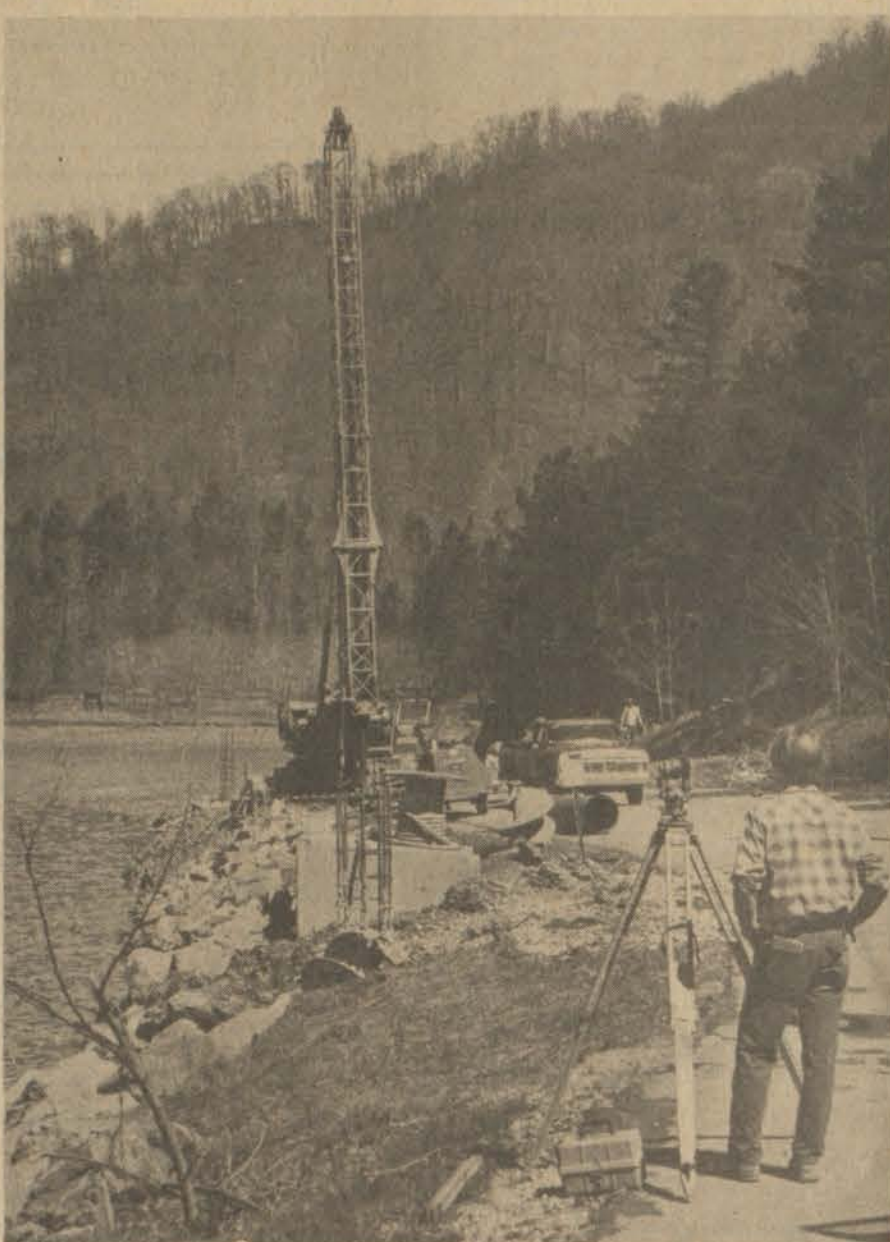

Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen said Monday that two of the four murder trials on the current court docket will not be held till later.

Trial of Donald S. Gearheart, charged with the slaying at Eastern of Brian Conley, was scheduled to begin next Monday, but the defendant's attorney, Dan Jack Combs, recently filed a motion to withdraw from the case, and Allen said it is doubtful if new legal counsel could prepare for the trial as scheduled. Combs asked permission to quit the case on the grounds that he has not been paid his attorney's fee.

A second case, that of Edward Roy (Eddie) Jones, will not be heard in this county but in Pike, Allen said. Two murder charges against Jones for the slayings of Lawrence Conley at Garrett and James Clayton Conley near Wayland were transferred to Pike county for trial. Jones won an acquittal there in the

Dock Addition Work Under Way

Work was well under way this week on a $78,000 project which will provide 14 additional boat slips at the Jenny Wiley State Park boat dock. Employees and machinery of McKinney Drillers, of Louisville are pictured drilling into bedrock preliminary to the installation of concrete supports and anchors for the new slips. The 32 x 16-ft. slips which are being provided by Construction Products, Inc., of Jackson, Tenn. are of the "floating concrete" variety which employs foam insulation completely enclosed and sealed by concrete. The new docks, considered to be the strongest and most durable design available, are said to carry a life expectancy of 100 years. Work on the new addition will be completed in an estimated 60-90 days.

3 Die in Crash Near McDowell, Another at Ivel

Four persons died in this county during the week-end as a result of auto collisions, and a driver in one of the crashes has been charged with second degree manslaughter. Three others were injured—two, seriously.

The family of Wilburn Elliott, Jr., of Price, was almost wiped out Friday evening when their auto was struck, head-on, on KY 122, near McDowell, by a vehicle driven by Ruby Collins, about 30, of Prestonsburg.

Mr. Elliott, 25, his wife, Priscilla Bell Elliott, 23, and their two-year-old son, Stevie Dwayne, died at the scene of the wreck. Elliott's stepson, Kermit E. Bell, about 5, is in a Lexington hospital and is reported in critical condition. Miss Collins is in the McDowell Regional Hospital with shoulder injuries but was said to be in satisfactory condition.

In the second wreck, which occurred on US 23 at Ivel at 1:30 a.m. Sunday, 11-year-old Michele Stephanie Carol Stumbo, of McDowell, was killed when the car in which she was a passenger was struck broadside by an auto driven by Jimmy Ritchie, 32, of Salyersville. Thomasina Lawson, 12, another passenger, is reported in critical condition in a Lexington hospital.

Ritchie was later arrested on a warrant charging him with second degree manslaughter, and State Trooper James Rederick, who investigated the wreck, was slated to appear before the grand jury Tuesday morning.

The auto in which the children were passengers was driven by Janet Lawson, of McDowell, who, en route home from Lexington, missed the turn onto KY 80 at Allen and was making a turn at Ivel to drive back north when her vehicle was hit. Trooper Rederick said Ritchie was driving north in a southbound lane of the four-lane highway.

Annual Mt. Dew Fest Slated This Weekend

The 14th annual Mountain Dew Festival, one of the premier collegiate events in Eastern Kentucky, will be held this week-end (April 13, 14 and 15) at Prestonsburg Community College with approximately 1,000 college students and faculty members representing 12 junior and community colleges in Kentucky participating.

The three days of competition will feature 37 events, including competition in archery, art, badminton, arm wrestling, basketball, bowling, checkers, chess, golf, horseshoes, pool, tug-of-war, talent, tennis, and volleyball. Trophies will be awarded for the first three places in each event.

Other activities will include the popular Miss Mountain contest to be held in conjunction with the talent contest, Friday, at 8 p.m. in the Prestonsburg Elementary School auditorium. A representative from each of the 12 participating colleges will compete and be judged in four categories.

There will be two dances during the festival. On Thursday night, "The Arrival Disco" will be playing and they will feature a light show. This dance will be held from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. in the Martin Student Center. The annual Mountain Dew dance will be held in the Martin Student Center, Saturday, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. "Southern Portrait" will be playing.

All activities will be open to the public.

Wounded Man Asks $100,000 In Damage Suit

Glen Martin, who was wounded recently by a Wayland policeman, last Wednesday filed a $100,000 damage suit against the town of Wayland and its two policemen, Normes and Thomas Thornsbury.

Martin claims that a bullet wound in his left leg has permanently impaired his earning capacity. He also alleged that he was shot "without reasonable or probable cause and without warrant or process of any court."

At the time of the shooting it was reported to authorities here that Martin was shot by Thomas Thornsbury in a struggle with Martin during an effort to arrest him.

Seek Fifth Dam To Curb Floods Along Big Sandy

A fifth dam to strengthen Big Sandy flood control is being urged by Pike counties.

Upwards of 200 residents of that county recently told Congressman Carl D. Perkins that a dam at Haysi, Va., on the now-uncontrolled Russell Fork of the Big Sandy, is of top importance. Perkins has said he will seek the release of funds for the undertaking.

Fishtrap, Pound, John Flannagan and Dewey Dams have saved the valley millions of dollars' damage, the U.S. Corps of Engineers estimates, but the Russell Fork, where there is no dam, is the "chink in the armor."

Congressman Perkins said the Haysi dam, which has been authorized for nearly 30 years but has never received funding, could be constructed in four years if planners move on the project immediately.

"And I think there's a good chance we'll get it, if people get behind it and push for it," Perkins said.

"If we're lucky enough to get money from the appropriations committee—and I'm confident we will—we could have the plans ready in about two years, and the dam finished easily in about four."

Perkins said much of the water which caused the April, 1977 flood originated on the uncontrolled Russell Fork where the proposed dam would be located.

"We think a dam there would give everyone adequate protection downstream," he said.

Perkins said the Haysi Dam would cost approximately $70 million.

Fire Hits Residence 2 Days Last Week

The home of widowed Betty Hunter and her four children in the Cliff vicinity, was considered a total loss this week after it had been swept by fire on two consecutive days.

The four-year-old brick structure was first damaged Friday night. The blaze was discovered in the roof by a neighbor while Mrs. Hunter and her children were visiting in the community. The Prestonsburg Fire Department halted the fire, but an undetected smoldering area burst into flame again Saturday.

All contents of the building were lost, it was said. The loss is partially insured. Faulty wiring was blamed.

Body of Second Baby Found In Mountainside Dump Heap

The body of a second unwanted baby was found in a garbage heap near the top of Cow Creek mountain Tuesday morning.

The macabre discovery was made while the investigation into the death of the first infant at Drift was yet under way.

Coroner James J. Carter said there is "nothing to work on" in the most recent case. All area hospitals have been contacted by Carter and State Police in an effort to determine if a woman has been hospitalized after giving birth to a child. The body, that of a boy, was taken by state troopers for an autopsy by a pathologist at King's Daughters' Hospital, Ashland.

Second Brother Again in Jail

Marvin and Cisco Neeley, Hueysville brothers who were released under bond recently pending the results of their appeals from eight-year pen sentences, were in jail here this week.

Cisco was returned to jail after he was arrested by state troopers and booked on charges of drunk driving, resisting arrest and escaping custody. His brother was jailed last week-end by Troopers Terry D. Hall and James Rederick who charged him with public drunkenness and resisting arrest.

He pleaded guilty to the drunk count and was probated by District Judge Harold Stumbo on his promise to go to Texas while his appeal was pending, but when he failed to do so Judge Stumbo ordered him returned to jail.

State Troopers Gary Rose, Don Weedman and John Sizemore raided the premises of the brothers' father, Chester Neeley, on Salt-Lick last Sunday and reported they confiscated 30 half-pints of whiskey and about 30 cans of beer. Neeley was not at home at the time, but the troopers said a citation for him to appear in district court Friday was issued because the intoxicants were found on his property.

Sheriff Doug Lewis and Joe W. Lewis last Saturday confiscated six fifths of whiskey and 17 cans of beer in a raid on the Buck's Branch premises of Donna Brown Wright. She executed bond for appearance in district court.

A raid last Wednesday on the premises of Paul Kazee, of Betsy Layne, by Joe W. Lewis and Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis and Ken Hughes netted 12 pints of whiskey.

School Closing Date Is Changed

Because another day was lost to bad weather conditions after the Floyd County Board of Education had adopted a revised school calendar, the board found it necessary to amend the calendar again at its meeting last Tuesday.

At that, schools, pupils and their teachers are not in a bad plight, although the State Board of Education did not allow Floyd county two spring vacation days to make up lost time. The last day for classes—barring further interruptions of classwork—will be June 8, and teachers will close out their work for the school year on the following day. The extra one hour and 12 minutes of teaching time will end on May 1.

Supt. of Schools E. P. Grigsby, Jr. said his office has been in close contact with

Coal Company Pledges Royalty to Shrine Cause

Intermission time at the Shrine Circus here Monday night was particularly enjoyable for the Shriners because it was marked by the announcement that the Co-Op Mining Company was making a gift of 25 cents per ton of coal produced and shipped from its operations at the Ball Alley curve here for the Oleika Hospital Fund. The announcement, made by James B. Burchett, certified public accountant, and authorized by Donald L. Horn, consultant for the company, provides that "this contribution is to be reserved and used by Oleika Temple Hospital Fund only for the operation of the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital in Lexington, Kentucky." Mr. Horn estimated that the per-ton contribution may run to a total of $100,000. Pictured at the presentation, from left to right are, Billy Adams, rural circus chairman; Ed Strong, editor, The Oleikan; Kelly Moore, local circus chairman; Clyde McGuire, vice-president, Sons of the Desert; James Burchett; Jack Farmer, Oriental guide; Henry Conley, president, Sons of the Desert; Okie Sparks, captain, Trail 70's, and Charles Gibson, lieutenant, Trail 70's.

An Unusual 'Youth Revival'

Editor's note: The following is excerpted from a feature written by Patricia Pelphrey Gibson as a journalism class exercise at Morehead State University. It refers to an unusual series of youth church services which were led by her brother, Paul L. Pelphrey. The parents of the writer and the leader of the services are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray Pelphrey, of Prestonsburg.)

"If it keeps getting better and better—oh, Lord, I don't know what I'm gonna do."

This is the motif given to—no, not the SEC game of the week or Saturday night's beer blast, but the demonstrative and moving youth services held at the First Church of God Tabernacle in Clearfield, Ky., near Morehead.

The sanctuary has been at the mercy of their youth for 10 successive nights. According to the youth leader, Paul L. Pelphrey, "We started out by holding Sunday night's meeting and it just hasn't stopped. We have had more than 30 people converted during this revival. It's a night-to-night decision as to whether the services continue. It's been great."

The meetings are most unusual and unpredictable. Monday night's gathering lasted four continuous hours; yet there was not a person in the building who wasn't emotionally touched or involved. There were shouting, tears of joy, testifying as to God's love and greatness, singing, toe-tapping, handclapping, laughing, crying and many other demonstrations of genuine happiness and sadness—not your run of the mill Sunday morning services by any means.

Despite the claim that it was a "youth revival", the older members of the church were as entangled and outspoken as the others.

These services have not only touched the people who attended them but, according to their testimonies, have also affected the entire town of Morehead.

Word has it that the local high school, Rowan County High, will never be the same. One new convert has been preaching during study hall period and the others have been "on fire" for the Lord. As an older sister of one of these young people put it "When I was in high school, you didn't get up and broadcast the fact that you were a Christian too often but these kids are really getting in there and giving it their all. It's great."

Also, the basketball team has begun having devotionals and prayer before each game which they had never done before. Tuesday night there was a local game and many of the youth weren't present at the services "but I believe that ball game tonight is not going to be all ball game. I'm sure there will be some preaching and advertising for the Lord" was one young girl's opinion.

The elderly members expressed their approval and how proud they felt that these young people were standing up and defending what they believed in. It was one of those rare occasions when the mothers and fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers were looking up to and commending the youth for their beliefs instead of demeaning them for being the future ruin of the country with their newfangled ideas and actions.

The unique and most pleasurable aspect of these services to me was that there was no planned order in which things were to be done. Anyone, young or old, was welcomed and encouraged to stand up and express their opinions or feelings at any time during the services. People often get into a rut when attending church because there is a pre-planned and accepted fashion for the services to be carried out. This leaves no room for expressing opinions, emotions, personal experiences and beliefs. It also causes people to sit in church, Sunday after Sunday, watching and never participating in their surroundings, and perhaps even tuning out what goes on in these services.

Pike County, Ky.-Cleveland, O.

The American taxpayer is hurting, and two widely separated cases of taxpayer resentment indicate a brewing "revolution." In Pike county it was proposed that a $38 million bond issue be voted for the building of four schools. The taxpayers last week rejected the idea, 18 to 1.

In Cleveland, Ohio parents were told their schools would close if added taxes were not voted to provide funds for teachers' salaries. Close or no, the voters flatly turned the tax plan down.

These examples of public resistance to added taxes did not result wholly from popular disgust with the educational system. Despite its shortcomings, parents still want to keep the schools open and to have decent buildings for their youngsters. But they're dead set against loading more taxes on themselves until those handling their tax monies provide positive proof that they are doing all they can with the money that is already at hand.

A call for more taxes for other improvements or alleged needs of government would get the same answer.

As these same voters realize that they are being loaded with more taxes—without an opportunity to vote for or against them—through unproductive, often useless, programs, they may balk on a wider front than Pikeville, Kentucky and Cleveland, Ohio.

The prosecutor indicated that the indictment here will be dismissed and that the trial is a matter for the Pike circuit court under the original indictment.

Left on the docket for trial are the murder cases of Randy Hall, set for May 2, and Ralph L. Anderson, June 20.

Blackcat Gridders Earning Respect

Over the past three years under the supervision of head football coach Philip Haywood, the Prestonsburg High School football team has begun to earn the respect of both schools and coaches throughout the entire state for the calibre of football they play. This can readily be seen by the way the team plays—with enthusiasm, with a "winning attitude," as the players put it, and with a lot of class. It is common knowledge that the Cats work hard, which is a part of this winning attitude they speak of, and can be evidenced by their prowess on the field. However, the Blackcat gridders not only work hard on the field, but off the field as well. They are becoming known for their responsibility and dependability in doing the job, whatever it may be, and doing it well.

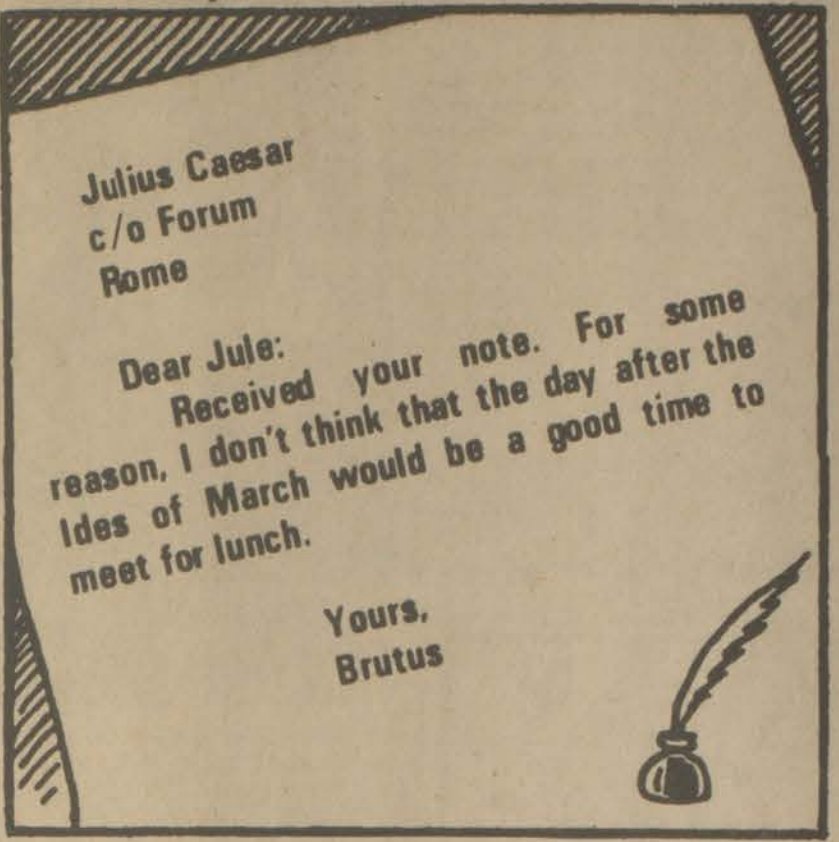

Of course, the primary reason for the Cats' off-season work is to raise money for needs such as football camp, weights, practice equipment and field equipment. All one has to do is to walk into the Cats' weight room, equipment room, or see their field equipment to see what these young men have already accomplished. The football team's latest project was undertaken this past Saturday in order to raise enough funds to purchase new cleats. About half of the team participated in setting out close to 10,000 pine trees for a mining company doing reclamation work. With supervision from Coach Haywood and Coach Robinson, Dewey Layne, Richard Burchett, Jack Wells, Greg Haywood, Robbie Horton, Robbie Tackett, Lee Carter, Kevin Hedrick, Lonnie May, John Holland, Monty Branham, Randy Robinson, Dennis Daniels, Joe Frazier, Danny Daniels, Bobby Wells, Randy Chaffin, Keith Colvin, Greg Dillion, Steve Rice, Desi Whitt, Steve Wright, Andrew McClanahan, Ralph Gilliam and Gerald Derossett worked a little over half a day Saturday completing one site. The team will complete their job this coming Saturday at another location. It seems very clear that the Prestonsburg High School football team is definitely earning respect in doing the job, both on and off the field.

Apology

The Floyd County Education Association's Board of Directors, who are officers and representatives of all five educational districts, would like to sincerely apologize to Melissa Banks, Floyd county KEA spelling champion, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Epp Banks, for their inconvenience and disappointment due to the confusion about the location of the district KEA Spelling Bee held last month in Ashland. The local association received notices of two different spelling bee locations in Ashland, and, assuming the last communication to be the correct one, informed Melissa and her parents that the match would be held in the Crabbe School. The Banks family encountered an empty parking lot and school building upon their arrival at the designated place, only to learn later that the spelling bee had actually been held at the Ashland Community College.

The FCEA would like to express its deepest regret that conflicting notices (from both EKEA and KEA) served to prevent Melissa from representing our county in the district match, and to reaffirm our faith in her as a potential winner.

Since that time, the FCEA Board of Directors has learned that the same situation occurred in Mason county, and their representative also came to the Crabbe School.

Again, we deeply regret the mix-up, but most of all, we are profoundly sorry that Floyd county was deprived of an opportunity to be so well represented in the district KEA spelling bee.

JOHN MADDOX, President
Floyd County Education Assoc.

On the Planned Cleanup

Recent announcement of the planned countywide cleanup is well and good. Such action should have been taken much earlier.

After the cleanup—what? Can we expect those in authority to see that it is kept clean? Will violators of the anti-litter law finally be prosecuted? Since the chief item along side our roads in the litter line is the beer can, will there finally be some action taken more than token enforcement of the dry law?

The plastic jugs clogging our creeks and roadsides are a disgrace. I am ashamed to invite friends, outside of the area, to visit. Burning of these plastic jugs was declared dangerous. I have been unable to determine that danger—unless someone sticks his head in the fire.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Abbott Homemakers met Tuesday evening, April 4, at 7 o'clock, in the Annex building there, with Mrs. Helen Neeley and Mrs. Sharon Neeley as co-hostesses. Prior to the meeting, John Sparks county agricultural extension agent, gave a brief discussion on "The Growing of Broccoli, Cauliflower, and Zucchini." Plants were purchased from Mr. Sparks by some of the members. The president, Mrs. Grace Conley, presided. Mrs. Muriel Hill led the devotions from "Revelation." The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Helen Neely, gave her reports on last month's meeting. Mrs. Frances Pitts, county home economist, presented the lesson on "The Growing of Flowers," illustrating her discussion with slides. Favors made from corn cobs by Eukie Merritt, Ethel Ratliff and Grace Conley, were shown. A salad course was served to Mesdames Grace Conley, Alta Hall, Cynthia Frasure, Sharon Sparr, Muriel Hill, Ethel Ratliff, Frances Pitts, and the hostesses, Mrs. Helen Neeley and Mrs. Sharon Neeley, and guests, Miss Phyllis Hall, of the Abbott road, and Mrs. Rhoda Brickley and Mrs. Otella Smiley, from homemakers' clubs in Prestonsburg.

The group's next meeting will be on Tuesday evening, May 16, at 7 o'clock, in the Annex Building, with Mrs. Cynthia Frasure and Mrs. Ruby Frasure as co-hostesses.

Says New Legislation Could Affect Retirees

I wonder whether your readers are aware that their future incomes can be drastically lowered when they retire?

I am referring to Public Law 95-216, which is a provision attached to the Social Security Finance Bill.

This law, if passed, would affect some 600,000 teachers in 12 states (including about 32,000 in Kentucky) who are covered under special retirement plans rather than Social Security.

This bill not only applies to teachers but applies to about 6 million other local, state and federal pension workers.

Under the Social Security program, spouses have been drawing a benefit amounting to 50 per cent of the Social Security retiree's benefit. Under the provisions of the new law (PL 95-216) this benefit for spouses would be reduced by the amount that the spouse is drawing as a benefit from a special retirement plan. For example:

If Mr. Smith is retired under Social Security, and is receiving a $400 per month check, Mrs. Smith would automatically receive a $200 per month check from Social Security.

If, however, Mrs. Smith is a retired teacher drawing $200 per month or more from the teacher retirement system, or if she is drawing a like amount from another pension system, the federal government would stop paying her a Social Security benefit.

This means their total retirement income would be reduced by $200 per month or more, an amount which could make a distinct difference in their standard of living, particularly in these times of inflation.

I have not read of this law in any of the daily papers and became quite concerned when I read of it in the KEA News, March 16, 1978, from which I have quoted much of this letter.

I wish to stress that this law will not only affect the income of teachers, but also all others who will retire under a pension plan other than Social Security.

You may help to defeat Public Law 95-216 by writing to your Representatives and Senators in Washington.

Lauds Cancer Legislation

Action taken by the 1978 Kentucky General Assembly to establish a 13-member Kentucky Cancer Commission, with an annual budget of $1 million, is worthy of praise. The assembly passed this legislation to strengthen and coordinate a statewide effort to combat cancer, which is the second leading killer of Kentuckians. This is a legislative milestone, identifying Kentucky as one of the first states to follow the National Cancer Act passed by Congress in 1971, and therefore should enable Kentucky to develop its resources as a regional cancer center providing high-quality cancer care, education, and research programs. Moreover, this legislation should provide a proper forum for the planning and coordination of statewide cancer screening, treatment, public education, and documentation activities by the two university medical centers, community hospitals, health departments, and the medical societies.

I should like to point out that the development and enactment of this new legislation resulted from the efforts of a number of concerned citizens and public officials, particularly Governor Julian Carroll, who supported and encouraged the plan, and Speaker William G. Kenton, who authored and introduced the bill. Both Governor Carroll and Speaker Kenton deserve our thanks for taking this first step towards a comprehensive program to effect a reduction in the frequency and lethality of cancer in our Commonwealth.

NOTICE

An article appeared in the Floyd County Times March 29, 1978 quoting John Hill that the Abbott-Little Paint Water District had tried to avoid ill feelings in obtaining easement. John Hill stated that the water district had good cooperation from landowners except for a few.

In response to that article the following petition was initiated:

We, the undersigned residents and landowners of Abbott Creek, Kentucky, have joined together to protest the location of a water line through fields for the reason that it would be great damage to us if we were limited in the places we could locate buildings.

We are in favor of the water line and will cooperate in its construction if it is located in the ditch line on the highway right-of-way or in other places so as not to interfere with the use of our land.

Conference Studies Blast Problems

More than 160 legal and technical experts and affected citizens met April 4 and 5 at Cumberland Falls State Park to study surface mine blasting and to point out health and environmental harm caused by the extensive use of explosives and blasting materials.

Citizens gave accounts of fly rock and vibrational damage to homes, waterwells and personal health. Experts described the legal and technical aspects of blasting, and several showed concern about hazardous dust arising at the mining sites and along haulage roads.

Recommendations were proposed to the conference group. Mandatory preblast surveys (as opposed to an optional federal survey) for all residences within one-half mile of a strip mine site was one suggestion. Another was the call for more research on effects of vibration upon structures, waterwells and wells in order to better protect them and for establishing effective standards for blasting. Development of an arbitration board to negotiate blasting damage claims of less than $3,000 was another recommendation. Such a board would allow citizens of moderate income to receive blasting compensation without going to court. Current procedures which often require initial technical examinations prevent local Appalachian citizens from starting litigation for recovery of damages to homes and waterwells and for personal injury.

The conference was conducted by Appalachia-Science in the Public Interest, a non-profit research and educational organization based at Corbin.

In discussing the dust problem due to surface mining, James R. Preece, of Pilgrim, Martin county, said, "Sometimes the dust is so thick you can hardly breathe." He said coming to the conference provided a rare opportunity to get away from the dust for a good night's sleep. Strother Smith, a Virginia lawyer who has handled more than 70 blasting cases, mentioned that in Norton, Va. a 40-year-old high school football coach who never smoked and a six-year-old girl have both sustained lung damage, allegedly from excessive dust produced by blasting and haulage. Dr. Lawrence Fleener, of Big Stone Gap, Va., described this lung damage as pneumoconiosis. He emphasized that dusts produced by strip mining contain "heavy concentrations of sandstone, clay, various rocks as well as coal itself. All these substances are known to cause pneumoconiosis."

Bertha and Charley Mulkey, of Floyd county, and Floyd Jude, of Martin county, reported that boulders dislodged by strip mine blasting had crashed through their homes. They described the trauma they experienced and the legal difficulties encountered since in seeking compensation.

Conference recommendations and summaries of presentations and discussions will appear in a citizen's handbook available in June, at cost from Appalachia-Science in the Public Interest.

Paintsville Gets Franchise In Appalachian Baseball Loop

Paintsville's Paul Fyffe has for five years dreamed of, and worked for, a minor league baseball franchise for his town, and last Thursday the dream came true.

He announced that afternoon that Paintsville has been granted a franchise in the Class A Appalachian League. So it was that Paintsville became the only Kentucky city to have a professional baseball franchise. More, it's the smallest city ever to have a professional team.

The Appalachian League will have five other cities represented, this season—Bristol, Johnson City, Kingsport and Elizabethtown, all in Tennessee, and Bluefield, West Virginia. The league will open its 70-game season, June 22, and Paintsville's home games will be played on the Johnson Central High School field. The team's first game at home will be on June 26.

Fyffe, a radio station owner, and owner of the Montgomery (Ala.) team in the Southern League, began his effort to land a minor league franchise in Paintsville in 1973 when he travelled to the winter meetings in Houston. Since that time he has visited New Orleans, Hollywood, Fla., and Honolulu in search of his dream.

"It's taken a lot of patience, diligence and optimism. We've had a lot of setbacks but we've finally reached our goal. It's been an obsession with me," he said.

Why?
"I guess you could say I'm just a romantic as far as baseball is concerned," Fyffe explains. "I know it's a trite expression but the minor leagues is where it's at in baseball. That's where your stars that make it in the major leagues have to come from."

The franchise in Paintsville is unique. The team will be owned by the city, not Paul Fyffe. The City-County Recreation Commission appointed a committee to handle the operations of the team. Fyffe is the chairman of that committee.

"This club will not operate the way we operate the one in Montgomery," Fyffe explains. "The team in Montgomery is run with making a profit in mind. This club will be a non-profit organization run by the city-county recreation commission."

"If there is a profit at the end of the season that money will be turned over to the recreation commission to do with as it pleases. It can be used to improve the baseball park, to help the little leagues or anything else the commission has in mind."

The team nickname will come from a community-wide contest with the winner receiving a season ticket to all home games. Fyffe also has several applications for a team manager and—with the help of several major clubs—will name one soon.

"The total population of Johnson county is around 30,000 and we should draw well from the surrounding communities like Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Louisa, Inez, Salyersville and maybe even Ashland and southern West Virginia," he says. "We think we'll do very well."

Wright, who entered the Army in March 1977, is a 1976 graduate of Prestonsburg High School.

QUESTION BOX

The Question Box answers from the Bible to questions from readers. By Pastor Forrest Howe, M Div., Box 462, Allen, Ky.

QUESTION: I am a Christian, but I cannot study the Bible with serious understanding. My mind goes blank when studying. What's wrong with me?

Seventh-day Adventist Church of Prestonsburg.

ANSWER:

It may be that you are failing to put first things first. Like Martha of Bethany, you may be careful and troubled about the daily routine of everyday living and forget that "one thing is needful"—some quiet time each day with God. (Luke 10:38-42). It may be that when you do get around to reading your Bible, your mind is tired and you find that you cannot concentrate on what you are reading.

Jesus explained this danger in the parable of the sower. He observed that though some seed germinated and grew, the plants were later choked by thorns. Jesus explained that the thorns represented the "cares and riches and pleasures of this life" (Luke 8:14). So it may be that life's cares on the one hand or its glittering goals and pleasures on the other may be crowding out your Christian experience. A full stomach dulls the appetite. So a mind that is filled to overflowing with only secular activity and thought may have no taste for spiritual food. But those who "hunger and thirst after righteousness" the promise is sure; "They shall be filled" (Matthew 5:6).

Let me make some simple suggestions that may help to increase your interest in Bible Study.

1. Begin each day with God. When you first awake, slip to your knees and commit your life to your heavenly Father and pray for His sustaining grace for the day. Commit your life and the day's activities to His control. This was the practice of Christ (Mark 1:35). This is the practice of successful Christians. "My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up" (Psalm 5:3).

2. Take some time each day to study your Bible. If you can, do it the first thing in the morning when the mind is fresh. One helpful way to read the Bible is to study it topically, seeing what the entire Scriptures may have to say on a given subject. A free Bible course constructed along these lines may be obtained by writing me at the above address. You will be fascinated by the simple manner in which the Bible unlocks itself to your understanding. Before you open your Bible, pray that God's Spirit may enlighten your mind. As love for God deepens so will your delight in the Scriptures increase. With the prophet Jeremiah you will exclaim, "Thy words were found and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and the rejoicing of mine heart" (Jeremiah 15:16).

Digest Article Cites Knott-Based Center

East Kentucky Health Services Center, Inc. is one of three programs highlighted in an article in the current (April) Reader's Digest.

The article, titled, "America's Threatened Third Sector," is written by John D. Rockefeller, III, noted New York philanthropist. Mr. Rockefeller argues that America's creativity and energy derive in large part from its people's willingness to support the private non-profit institutions they believe in.

As examples of quality programs which should be supported Mr. Rockefeller points to the East Kentucky Health Services Center, Inc. Dr. Benny Ray Bailey, executive director of EKHSC, was formerly associated with Mr. Rockefeller's Task Force on Youth and, along with Walker Cronkite, Billie Jean King, Robert McNamara, George Meany, Leonard Woodcock, Mr. Rockefeller and others, was a charter member of the National Committee for the Bicentennial Era and signer of A Bicentennial Declaration which encouraged Americans to re-affirm their faith in the Democratic principles that were the cornerstones of America's struggle for independence.

PSC Permits Rate Boost For Mountain Investment

The Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) has authorized a rate increase for Mountain Investment Co., of Wheelwright, but the increase was less than that requested by the company.

Under the new rates, the minimum monthly bill will be $3 and each 1,000 cubic feet after that will be $1.91. At the same time a rate decrease was ordered for the Mike Little Gas Co., of Melvin. The PSC authorized the 3.41 percent decrease because of a reduction in the cost of wholesale natural gas from the company's supplier, Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Co.

Miss Stephenson-Mr. Preston Wed

Miss Mary Avonne Stephenson and Mr. John David Preston were united in marriage at the Christ United Methodist Church, Snyder, New York, Saturday, October 8, 1977, at three o'clock in the afternoon. The candlelight, double-ring ceremony was solemnized by the Reverend James B. Burwell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Stephenson, Jr., of Snyder, New York, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Preston, of Ulysses, and former residents of Allen.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of wedding music was presented by Jeanne Bartholomew, who sang, "The Wedding Song," and "I Love You Truly," Corinthians I, Chapter 13, was read during the ceremony by Bettis Rainsford, Edgfield, South Carolina.

The bride, given marriage by her father, wore a designer gown of ivory organza, with re-embroidered Alencon lace forming the bodice and cap sleeves of the gown. Lace appliques trimmed the front of the A-line skirt styled with a chapel train. A demi-cap of matching lace held her fingertip veil, and she carried white miniature orchids and stephanotis with chlorophyllum foliage.

Completing the bride's costume was a gold, pearl and diamond lavalier, which had belonged to her late maternal grandmother, Mrs. Jesse Lamar Hollingsworth.

Miss Abigail M. Snyder, of Snyder, New York, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Kenneth E. Kreisler, of Boston, Massachusetts, was the matron of honor. Bridal attendants were Mrs. Charles R. Baumann, of Jacksonville, Florida, Miss Laura Frances Brackett, of Allen and Lexington, niece of the groom, Miss Cathryn G. Cumberland, of Detroit, Michigan, and Miss Nancy R. Parish, of Snyder, New York. They wore identical gowns of rose polyester trimmed at the waist with lace, and wore single silk rose carnations in their hair. They carried nosegays of miniature pink and rose carnations and dracaena foliage.

Knox R. Burchett, of Virginia Beach, Va., served his brother-in-law as best man. Ushers and taper lighters were Ray Brackett, of Allen, brother-in-law of the groom; Bettis Rainsford, of Edgfield, South Carolina; Richard H. C. Clay, of Louisville; Michael Wallace, of Biloxi, Mississippi; and Christopher Beaufait, of Detroit, Michigan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stephenson chose a floor-length gown of blue, white and yellow floral print silk chiffon. She wore white miniature orchids. Mrs. Preston, mother of the groom, wore a sky blue floor-length gown of silk chiffon, and a corsage of miniature yellow carnations and rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a buffet and dance reception was held at Park Lane Manor House in Buffalo, New York. Three hand-painted bisque bells decorated the tiered wedding cake. The bells were a gift painted the bride's aunt, Mrs. Gilbert M. Lavender, of Bradenton, Florida.

Mrs. Preston received her degree in botany from Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts, and her master of science degree in horticulture from the University of Kentucky. Mr. Preston received his degree in history from Harvard College, Cambridge, Massachusetts, and his Doctor of Jurisprudence from the University of Kentucky. He is associated with Perry and Preston law firm in Paintsville.

For traveling, the bride wore a taupe skirt and jacket with beige bow blouse and brown accessories for a honeymoon spent in Nassau, Bahamas.

The couple resides in Paintsville.

Tough Enforcement Official Gets Federal Strip-Mine Post

A former state strip-mining supervisor whose rigorous enforcement of mining laws led coal operators to demand his ouster, has been selected by the federal government to administer its new strip-mine law.

Richard M. Hall, a consultant to the U.S. Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, said last week that William Hayes has been appointed to the $26,022-a-year post in OSM's field office at Hazard.

The appointment means that Hayes will be coming out of retirement to return to a hot seat comparable to the one he occupied from 1968 to 1973 when he served as supervisor of the state's Hazard reclamation district, the most heavily stripped section of the state.

During that period, Hayes was punched on one occasion by an irate coal operator and was the subject of organized attempts by the coal industry to persuade at least two governors of Kentucky to remove him from his job.

Hayes, 60, who resigned from the state reclamation agency in September 1976 amid reports that he had been pushed out, angered coalmen as much by his words as by his deeds.

In 1971 Hayes called strip mining "a real rape of the land" in an interview with a Courier-Journal reporter. At another point in the interview, he said, "Strip mining in the mountains is a dismal failure, and it should be banned altogether."

Hall said that the jurisdiction of OSM's Hazard office has not been officially set, but he said Hayes and five or six federal inspectors will cover Perry county and several adjacent counties in the Kentucky River coalfield.

Hayes and his staff will be responsible for enforcing the tough 1977 federal strip-mine law, inspecting each strip mine in the district at least twice a year and monitoring the state's strip-mine inspection program, which will bear the lion's share of implementing the federal standards in Kentucky.

Several coal-industry sources predicted that Hayes' appointment will be received by operators with the same dread that they have shown toward the new federal strip-mine law.

"I imagine some of them will go through the roof—the ones he harassed," one coalman, who insisted that he not be named because he said he must now try to get along with Hayes, told the Courier-Journal.

The first industry attempt to oust Hayes came in 1969, less than a year after he had taken over the state's Hazard district, during the administration of former Gov. Louie B. Nunn. Hayes weathered the storm, however, perhaps because Elmore Grim, state reclamation director, and James Shropshire, natural resources commissioner, both threatened to quit if Hayes was fired.

Hayes' replacement was again demanded in 1971 during a secret meeting in Wise, Va., between coal operators and then-Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford. Coal people later talked publicly about the meeting, however, and Hayes kept his job.

Two years later, Hayes ostensibly was promoted from the Hazard office to a newly created position as Eastern Kentucky area supervisor. Hayes complained later that he soon found that he was removed from day-to-day regulation, and that he was barred by his superiors from certain areas, particularly the Prestonsburg and Pikeville districts, where stories of stripping violations abounded.

Hayes also said that during several periods of increased strip-mining activity, he was put on other assignments. One involved a state study of coal-haul roads; another concerned reclamation of orphan banks (abandoned strip mines).

Hayes finally resigned from his state job when he was bypassed for a position as a regulatory supervisor in a 1976 reorganization of the Kentucky strip-mining program.

Both the winner and the runnerup will represent the county in the regional bee which will be held April 29 at Marshall University, Huntington, W. Va.

The spelling bee is sponsored annually by The Huntington Herald-Dispatch.

A Sign of Spring— Gardening on KET

After a cold, snowy winter in the Victory Garden, Jim Crockett is finally making preparations for the advent of spring in his popular how-to gardening show, "Crockett's Victory Garden."

An unusually harsh winter in Boston, where the series is produced, caused a delay in preparations which are needed for even the earliest crops. But long, icy winters must end some time and both "the good earth" and Crockett are ready for another season of successful planting.

Crockett, author of numerous gardening books, gives expert advice on subjects such as soil preparation, appropriate fertilizers, seedling transfers and planting times. His no-nonsense suggestions are easy-to-follow shortcuts to more productive gardening. He also takes time on each show to answer viewer questions on gardening problems such as droopy or yellow leaves and pesky parasites.

While the Victory Garden has plenty of wide open space in which to work, even city-dwelling flowerbox gardeners can benefit from the program. Many of the questions asked of Crockett are about problems that occur in ordinary house plants.

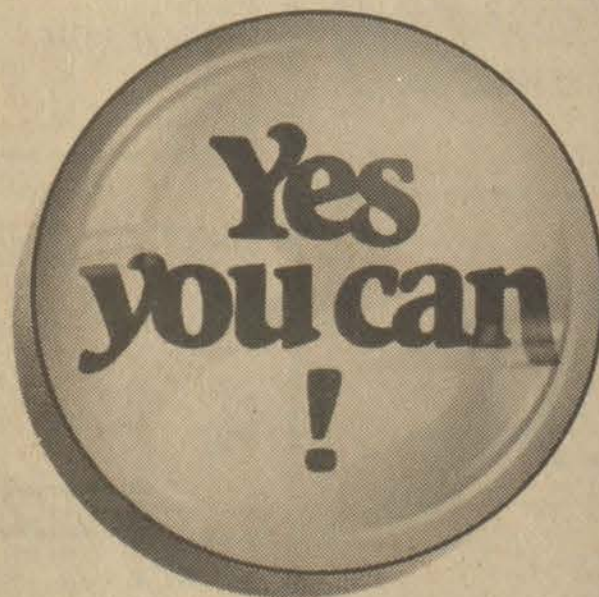

Get a head start on your indoor or outdoor garden as the new growing season begins. Watch "Crockett's Victory Garden" on KET, Sundays at 6 p.m. and Saturdays at 3:30 p.m.

Group Proposes Air Service From Big Sandy to Lexington

Limited air passenger service between the Big Sandy area and Lexington could begin by mid-May, if the Pikeville-Pike County Airport Board approves a Tennessee firm's proposal made last week.

The proposal—which would include twice-daily week-day round trips between Pikeville, Prestonsburg, and Lexington—is being submitted to the board by Appalachian Flying Service of Johnson City, Tenn.

Company officials confirmed they were negotiating with the Pike county group and would meet with them last Thursday night, but declined to give details.

Pike board members, however, said preliminary indications are the plan will include:

—Morning and afternoon commuter flights to and from Lexington, in small seven-passenger planes. Round trip cost would be approximately $40 with about 40 minutes travel time each way.

—Similar commuter service to the Bristol-Kingsport-Johnson City area, and to Wise, Va.

—An air freight transport operation, plus possible car-rental facilities at the Pikeville airport.

The only apparent hitch in the proposal is that the Pikeville landing field—located on the banks of the Big Sandy a few miles north of town—is not equipped for instrument approaches.

That means the service could operate only when visibility is good. Statistics obtained from the company indicate that weather conditions in summer should allow approximately 80 percent of scheduled flights to be completed, but that figure could drop to 60-70 percent in winter.

The firm has indicated, however, it will move to the new Pike county regional airport at Cowpen when that facility is completed. The Cowpen site, being developed by a group independent of the Pikeville Airport Board, is scheduled for partial completion in about two years.

Meanwhile, the service will use the Pikeville landing field. Larry Webster, attorney for the airport board, said he is preparing a lease allowing the facility to be used in exchange for a fee arrangement.

"We probably won't make much money from this, if any at all," he said. "But it's something the community needs, and we want it real bad."

Miss Ratcliff Honored At Pike Music Fest

Angie Ratcliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Ratcliff, of Martin, won the unusual distinction of being awarded superior ratings in both flute and violin at the Pikeville music festival recently. Her violin solo featured "Ave Maria," by Bach, and her superior rating in flute was earned by a rendition of Debussy's "Reverie on Flute."

A senior at Allen Central High School where she is a member of the Beta Club, Angie has maintained a grade point average of 3.714 and ranks eighth in a graduating class of 104 students.

Currently studying flute and voice from Gus Kalos at Prestonsburg Community College, she has accepted a full music scholarship in music at Morehead State University where she is also studying violin. Attending a string clinic at Morehead recently she auditioned and played first violin in a concert with the school's symphony orchestra.

Miss Ratcliff comes from a musical family with all her brothers and sisters playing one or more instruments and her father teaches classical violin, viola and cello as well as being recognized as one of the area's better country fiddlers and bassists.

Her father is quick to point out, "She fiddles, too."

Terms Inspection Procedures
To Halt Rail Spills 'Inadequate'

Better monitoring of railroad inspection procedures headed by a 14-point list of recommendations by Kentucky environmental chief Eugene Mooney to the federal government to prevent hazardous material spills resulting from railroad accidents.

Mooney, speaking at a National Transportation Safety Board hearing on train derailments and carriage of hazardous materials, described the Federal Railroad Administration's (FRA) current monitoring efforts in the state as a "blatantly" inadequate effort.

He reported that preliminary data from the FRA indicated that Kentucky is ranked in the top 30 percent nationally for number of rail accidents involving hazardous materials and that a 90.4 percent increase in incidents had occurred between 1975 and 1977.

"If we assume that any rail accident could involve hazardous or environmentally harmful materials, then the potential for serious spill incidents is increasing at a staggering rate," Mooney said.

"In addition, indications are that Kentucky's geographical location between major shippers and users of certain hazardous materials has resulted in an increasing traffic in these substances through the commonwealth."

Mooney said the state is also concerned with the fact that over half of rail accidents in Kentucky last year occurred on yard lines. "Since the yards are generally located in or near population centers, there exists a high relative probability of a severe hazardous material spill in a highly populated area," he said.

He added that in 1977, 493 accidents occurred at only 292 separate locations which means approximately 40 percent of accidents occur at the site of a previous one. "Why is there not better post-accident inspection, maintenance or repair of track and equipment? Or why, if repeat accidents at the same location are the result of basic design or engineering problems, why is there not adequate follow-up to detect these deficiencies and to assure corrective action?" he said.

Mooney recommended that the FRA provide additional monitoring of railroad maintenance spending to assure that it is directed toward priority areas and an evaluation of rail yard procedures and standards to assess the cause of the high accident rate in these areas.

He also called on the designation of a "national hazardous materials transportation system" composed of only lines with high quality track and in general better control by the FRA over shipping lanes so that hazardous materials are not shipped over accident-prone tracks or through high-risk areas.

Other recommendations were:

-Development of more specific procedures by the FRA for shippers in loading or unloading hazardous materials and acceleration of the FRA's schedule for improving protective devices on tank cars.

-Better post-accident analysis and inspection and fast reporting of safety violations by the FRA.

-Stricter penalties for safety violations by the FRA.

-Dispersion of hazardous material carrying cars throughout a train.

-Speeding up of funding by the federal government for rail maintenance.

-Development of a computerized data management system to analyze the flow of hazardous materials and the location of problem areas.

-Initiation of research programs to define techniques and methods which the rail companies can utilize and of planning programs at the state and federal level to assess maintenance priorities relative to anticipated traffic patterns.

Mooney's recommendations were derived primarily from an inquiry conducted by the state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, which he heads, and the state transportation department into the causes of and responses to rail accidents involving hazardous materials. Gov. Julian Carroll requested the departments to conduct the inquiry after three separate incidents earlier this year.

Summarizing the testimony of railroad representatives on what they were doing to prevent accidents Mooney said that although they report spending increasingly high percentages of revenues on rail maintenance and design and use stricter standards for maintenance than required, "approximately 42 percent of all the nation's accidents were caused by defects in track or structures and 21 percent by equipment problems."

Mooney said the state is currently "re-examining" the roles of agencies that respond to hazardous spills and new response procedures have been drafted that will be added to the state's natural disaster plan.

He called for adequate funding for response efforts and the inclusion of local government personnel in response training. He also said that railroad companies and shippers be required to post a bond so that agencies responsible for cleanup operations can recover expenses.

He concluded his presentation by warning that unless federal and state government, railroads and shippers take action to prevent spills resulting from derailments, local governments will start taking whatever restrictive action they feel is necessary.

Early Season String

Despite the fact that Dewey Lake is down from summer pool by seven feet and about as muddy as a lake can be, fishing is picking up. Junior Hamilton, of Prater Creek, Larry Lafferty and Larry Lafferty, Jr., of Johns Creek proved this last week when they landed this string of largemouth bass. Length of the seven bass ranged from 12 to 23 inches with the largest (at right) weighing seven pounds. The next largest was a 5 1/4-pounder. The bass were caught fishing in the lake's headwaters with live night crawlers.

Truck Fire Causes Blast Threat Here

A potentially disastrous situation was created around noon, Monday when a loaded gasoline tanker caught fire near the intersection of US 23 and the Mountain Parkway, here.

The tanker, carrying gallons of leaded gasoline and bound for Salyersville, reportedly was forced to "lock up" its brakes in order to avoid hitting another motorist and when the brakes failed to release completely they apparently overheated, causing a blaze.

Luckily, Prestonsburg Policeman Darrel Conley who happened to be in the vicinity, immediately radioed the Prestonsburg Fire Department and the fire was extinguished before it could spread to explosive cargo.

Just to be safe, the tanker was escorted out of town by a squad of Prestonsburg firefighters.

In School Break

Two men were arrested last Tuesday by Sheriff's Department officers in connection with a break early last Tuesday morning into the Betsy Layne school.

Sheriff Doug Lewis and Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis and Kenneth Hughes arrested Charles Edward Kidd, of Harold, and William V. Jarrell, of Salisbury, charging them with burglary in the third degree, after the two allegedly broke into the school and stole about $50 in cash. The same men were also charged, along with Milan Carl Robinson, with theft by unlawful taking in an alleged break into a soft drink machine at Boldman.

Arrested the following day by Sheriff Lewis was John Melvin Kidd, brother of Charles, on a bench warrant charging him with robbery. Kidd was also charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon.

Others booked at the county jail over the past week, charges against each, and arresting officers follow:

Roy Douglas Kazzee, hold for investigation and petition, by Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis and Kenneth Hughes; Lon Gibson, drunk driving, by State Trooper Castle; Robert E. Myers, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policeman C. E. Kilgore; Anthony P. Bradley, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policeman Kilgore; Arnold Akers, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriffs Kenneth Hughes and Ed Rickman; Richard Carroll, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policeman Woods; Edgar Lowe, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policeman R. Roberts; George P. Ousley, drunk driving, by State Trooper Hall; Holley Barry Scott, drunk driving, by State Trooper Sizemore; Lay Thomas Young, drunk driving, by State Trooper Roderick; Frankie Gibson, drunk driving and attempt to elude police officers, by State Troopers Roderick and Hall; Gary Childress, drunk driving, by State Trooper Stephens.

Weightlifter of the Week

Richard Burchett is a 5' 11", 155-pound sophomore. Burchett is working to increase his upper body strength and his speed. Weight coach Bob Stetson said, "Richard's been working pretty steady on the weights, but he needs to put just a little more into it. We are just now getting into our running program and the speed will come."

Dewey Layne, Lee Carter, Desi Whitt, Monty Branham, Jack Goodman, John Holland, Greg Haywood, Jack Wells, and Dwayne Rodebaugh, were recognized again. Layne moved up to 265 lbs. on the dead weight bench press, while Carter went up to 260 pounds. Coach Stetson said, "These guys are getting after it, both on the weights and the running, and they are really progressing." He continued, "Most of our people are getting it pretty good, but we still have too many who are just going about it about half-way, and there are some who aren't doing much of anything. They're not only hurting themselves, but the whole team, as we're counting on them to be able to play this year."

Joe Frazier, 5' 10", 155 pounds and Robie Tackett, 5' 9", 150 pounds are both eighth graders recognized for the first time. Coach Stetson said, "Joe and Robie both have a lot of potential and they are getting strong on the weights until they received this recognition and then they just stopped. You can't go after it for a week or two and then stop. A winner goes after it every week and that's what it's all about."

The ancients believed rubies were antidotes to poison.

MORE THAN 2,000 children and adults enjoyed the Shrine Circus at the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse Monday night. Clowns, lions and other trained animals as well as trapeze acts such as the one pictured here were among this year's offerings.

Petition Claims W. P'burg Plant Poses a Threat

The fiscal court heard Tuesday a West Prestonsburg group which presented a petition alleging that the bulk plant of Marvin Music, Gulf distributor, is a threat to the public safety.

The petition followed a recent spillage of gasoline at the plant and the evacuation of most of the population of the town.

The court directed County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. to contact city officials and determine if the plant is located within the corporate limits of Prestonsburg. It was indicated that if it is not outside the corporation, the matter will be the responsibility of the city. The court also asked that the state fire marshal, or his representative, meet with it for a discussion of the situation.

ORDINANCE NO. 1-78

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, AMENDING IN CERTAIN MINOR DETAILS ORDINANCE NO. 7-76 HERETOFORE ADOPTED BY THE CITY COUNCIL AND APPROVED BY THE MAYOR ON MAY 27, 1976, DULY PUBLISHED AND NOW IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT; RECITING THE REASONS, DESIRABILITY AND PROPRIETY OF THE AMENDMENTS HEREIN MADE; RECITING THAT THE CITY'S $150,000 "CITY OF PRESTONSBURG WATER, SEWER AND NATURAL GAS SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS, SERIES OF 1976," AUTHORIZED BY SAID PREVIOUSLY ADOPTED ORDINANCE, WERE PURCHASED AT PUBLIC SALE BY THE FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION OF THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BUT HAVE NOT BEEN DELIVERED; RECITING THAT THE AMENDMENTS TO SAID ORDINANCE NO. 7-76 ARE MADE BY AGREEMENT WITH THE PURCHASER OF SAID BONDS FOR LAWFUL AND LEGITIMATE PURPOSES; IN ALL OTHER RESPECTS EXPRESSLY RATIFYING THE TERMS AND PROVISIONS OF SAID ORDINANCE NO. 7-76; AND AUTHORIZING THE PROPER OFFICERS OF THE CITY TO DELIVER THE ABOVE-IDENTIFIED BONDS, IN AMENDED FORM, TO THE PURCHASER THEREOF.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. Occasion, Desirability and Propriety of Adopting Certain Amendments, as to Minor Details, of Said City's Ordinance No. 7-76, Previously Adopted, Published and Now in Full Force and Effect.

A. The City Council hereby finds and declares that the following is a true and correct statement of certain facts:

1. At a meeting held on May 27, 1976, the City Council finally adopted said City's Ordinance No. 7-76 identified by its title or caption, as follows:

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, AUTHORIZING AND PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE AND SALE OF ONE HUNDRED FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS ($150,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF "CITY OF PRESTONSBURG WATER, SEWER AND NATURAL GAS SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS, SERIES OF 1976," TO BE DATED UPON THE DELIVERY THEREOF, UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF SECTIONS 58.010 TO 58.140, INCLUSIVE, OF THE KENTUCKY REVISED STATUTES, FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING THE COST OF CONSTRUCTING EXTENSIONS, ADDITIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS TO THE MUNICIPAL COMBINED AND CONSOLIDATED WATER, SEWER AND NATURAL GAS SYSTEM OF SAID CITY; SUBJECT TO THE VESTED RIGHTS AND PRIORITIES EXISTING IN FAVOR OF THE HOLDERS OF CERTAIN OUTSTANDING BONDS CONSTITUTING PRIOR ENCUMBRANCES AGAINST CERTAIN REVENUES, AS HEREIN SET FORTH AND ACKNOWLEDGED; SETTING FORTH THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS UPON WHICH SAID $150,000 OF BONDS ARE TO BE AND MAY BE ISSUED AND OUTSTANDING; PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION, SEGREGATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF THE REVENUES OF SAID COMBINED AND CONSOLIDATED SYSTEM (AFTER COMPLYING WITH ALL CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS INCIDENT TO THE AFORESAID OUTSTANDING BONDS); AND PROVIDING FOR AN ADVERTISED, PUBLIC, COMPETITIVE SALE OF THE BONDS HEREIN AUTHORIZED.

and said Ordinance was on that date approved by the Mayor and declared to be in full force and effect from and after its publication, and was thereafter duly published in full in the June 16, 1976, edition of the Floyd County Times, and has continuously been in full force and effect.

2. Said Ordinance No. 7-76 authorized the City's issuance of $150,000 "City of Prestonsburg Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Revenue Bonds, Series of 1976," to be dated as of the date of delivery thereof, and to mature as to principal, serially, in various amounts on February 1 in each of the years 1977 to 2006, inclusive; said bonds were duly advertised at public sale in the manner prescribed by law; on August 5, 1976, sealed competitive bids for the purchase of said bonds were received; the only purchase bid received was that of the Farmers Home Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture (hereinafter referred to as "FmHA"), and on August 5, 1976, the City Council adopted a Resolution accepting the purchase bid of FmHA, establishing the interest rate applicable to said bonds at 5 percent per annum, and authorized delivery of said bonds to FmHA in due course.

3. It is the recognized and acknowledged custom and practice of FmHA, for lawful and legitimate reasons, to withhold acceptance of delivery and the making of payment for such bonds until the municipal project intended to be financed thereby has progressed to approximately 90 percent of completion; and there is no dispute with regard thereto.

4. At the time of the public sale of the above-identified bonds, the Project of the City of Prestonsburg intended to be financed thereby was under construction, with reasonable anticipation that completion would be effected within a few months; but for reasons known to the City and to FmHA, and mutually acceptable, completion of said Project has been long delayed, and at the time of the adoption of this amendatory ordinance the bonds have not been issued by the City, delivered to FmHA, or paid for.

5. It now appears that the aforesaid Project may now go forward, and it is anticipated that construction will be completed within a period of approximately 30 to 60 days from the date of the adoption of this amendatory ordinance. Upon examination of the text of Ordinance No. 7-76, it is apparent that if the bonds authorized by Ordinance No. 7-76 were to be delivered as originally authorized, the amount thereof would have to be reduced by $3,000, inasmuch as the prescribed maturity dates of Bonds numbered 1 to 3, inclusive, in the denomination of $1,000 each, have been overtaken by events. Advice has been received from FmHA as the purchaser of the hereinabove identified bonds that it is agreeable for the City Council to amend Ordinance No. 7-76 in the following respects only: (i) that the numbering, denomination, title or designation and maturities of said bonds remain intact except that the first maturity date shall be February 1, 1979, instead of February 1, 1977, with all subsequent maturities postponed by two (2) years, and with a final maturity date of February 1, 2008, instead of February 1, 2006, and (ii) that there be a similar change in all provisions relating to the redemption of said bonds, at the option of the City of Prestonsburg, with the redemption prices remaining as originally prescribed in Ordinance No. 7-76, but with all dates relating to redemption being postponed for two (2) years; all as hereinafter recited.

B. It is the opinion and judgement of the Mayor and the City Council that such amendments of Ordinance No. 7-76 are justified upon the recited facts, may be made by agreement with FmHA as the purchaser of said bonds, will not reflect upon the integrity of the public sale of such bonds, and should be adopted in the orderly transaction and administration of the City's proprietary functions in the operation of its municipally-owned combined and consolidated water, sewer and natural gas system.

SECTION 2. Amendments to Ordinance No. 7-76.

For the reasons recited in Section 1 of this Ordinance, the City Council hereby amends the above-identified Ordinance No. 7-76 of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, in the following respects:

1. Section 4 of Ordinance No. 7-76 is hereby amended in that the numbers, principal amounts and respective dates of maturity of the $150,000 "City of Prestonsburg Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Revenue Bonds, Series of 1976," shall, in lieu of the maturity schedule set forth in said Section 4, be amended, and is hereby amended to read in words and figures, as follows:

2. The provisions permitting certain of said bonds to be redeemed by the City of Prestonsburg, at the City's option, as said provisions are referred to in Section 7 of said Ordinance No. 7-76; in the "(FORM OF COUPON BOND)" set forth in Section 8 of said Ordinance 7-76; and in the "(FORM OF FULLY REGISTERED BOND)" which also appears in Section 8 of said Ordinance No. 7-76 are hereby amended and shall hereafter be as follows: (i) The bonds of said Series maturing on and prior to February 1, 1978 (Being Bonds numbered 1 to 26, inclusive, according to the amended maturity schedule hereinabove shown) shall not be subject to redemption at the option of the City, unless the same are held by FmHA; (ii) Bonds of said Series maturing on and after February 1, 1989 (being the Bonds numbered 27 to 150, inclusive, according to the amended maturity schedule hereinabove shown) shall be subject to redemption at the option of the City of Prestonsburg prior to maturity, as a whole or from time to time in part, in inverse order of maturity (less than all of a single maturity to be selected by lot), on any interest payment date falling on and after August 1, 1988, upon payment being made by the City of the face amount of the bonds so redeemed, plus accrued interest to the redemption date, plus a redemption premium expressed in terms of a percentage of the face amount of the respective bonds so called for redemption, as follows:

Campground Opening Delay at Lake Seen

The unusually severe winter will delay opening of campgrounds at some Huntington District Corps of Engineers projects this season.

The Corps reported this week that the winter caused severe damage to facilities and trees at Dewey Lake, John W. Flannagan Dam and Reservoir and North Fork of Pound Lake, as well as many others.

An unusual situation was created by the freezing of the lakes while the campgrounds of some were flooded. Ice, several inches thick, clung to the trees and shrubbery as the water receded. Without the support of the water, the ice slowly began slicing down tree trunks, stripping them of their bark and killing them. Many picnic tables, garbage cans, cookers and restrooms also were damaged by the ice.

The extra repairs and removal of dead trees has made an additional work load in preparing the campgrounds for the recreation season. Delays may be as much as two weeks. Campgrounds normally open May 15.

Guild To Present Festival To Fund Gallery Staffing

The Appalachian Guild of Artists and Craftsmen will present a Blue Grass music festival at 7:30 p.m. April 22 at Prestonsburg High School. Many groups are featured in this performance including Buddy Ratliff, Dave Sizemore and Ray Slone.

The Guild is sponsoring this benefit show to raise funds to reopen its gallery (Bush Gallery, located here at the rear of Milady's Dress Shop.) The gallery has been closed since Christmas for two reasons—incllement weather and lack of funding for staffing.

The gallery contains a selection of art objects and traditional mountain crafts, plus literary works of local writers. There are 35 artists and craftspeople who are members of the guild, and their works will be on display in the gallery throughout the summer.

Dickens Chiller Set April 16 on KET

Fainthearted viewers should start thinking about recruiting a TV buddy for the seven weeks that Dickens' "Our Mutual Friend" will be chilling spines on "Masterpiece Theatre."

Beginning Sunday, April 16 at 9 p.m. on KET, nail-biters and other nervous Neds and Nellies will want a reassuring soul around when mutilated corpses are fished out of the murky mire of the Thames, chronicling the dastardly deeds devised—and executed—along its gloomy banks.

The suspense-filled cliff-hanger, a TV adaptation of Charles Dickens' last completed work, is replete with rascals and rogues; damsels in various stages of stress and distress; switched identities; disguises; and, dead-of-night searches for missing wills.

Comic relief provided by a literary con man with a peg leg, a sorely taxed taxidermist and a down-at-the-heels matron trying to maintain crooked-pinkie ambience at a very unposh tea, is entwined in a story of blackmail, murder, robbery and—requited and unrequited—love.

Jane Seymoure ("Seventh Avenue" and "Captains and Kings") plays Bella Wilfer, a mercenary miss who learns it's love, not money, making the world go 'round. John McEnery is John Rokesmith, incognito heir to a fortune; Leo McKern stars as the miserly "golden distman" Nicodemus Boffin; and, Kathleen Harrison is Mrs. Boffin.

Lesley Dunlop plays Lizzie, a river wail whose livelihood depends upon how many corpses her father robs, and her brother is Jack Wild whose Artful Dodger in "Oliver" earned him an Oscar nomination.

Polly James, remembered by PBS viewers for her double role as John Milton's wife and daughter in "Paradise Restored," appears as the quintessentially Dickensian doll dressmaker, Jenny Wren. Andrew Ray, the handsome airman who attracted Hazel Bellamy's attention in "Upstairs, Downstairs" is Mortimer Lightwood, and Alfie Bass, one of the manic "Goodies" on "Piccadilly Circus" plays peg-legged Silas Wegg.

Produced by Martin Lisemore ("I, Claudius") and directed by Peter Hammond, "Our Mutual Friend" creates "a mood in which anything can happen," according to the London Times.

"Our Mutual Friend" begins Sunday, April 16 at 9 p.m. with a repeat Thursday, April 20 at 10 p.m.

Huddleston Names Bell State Campaign Leader

Senator Walter Dee Huddleston has named Tommy Bell, a well-known Lexington attorney and sports personality, as his statewide campaign chairman.

Bell, who is a former National Football League referee and who successfully managed the recent campaign of Mayor James Amato, of Lexington, will speak for Huddleston throughout the state and have overall charge of the campaign.

Huddleston said that he is "extremely pleased and highly complimented that someone of Tommy Bell's stature would agree to direct my re-election campaign. Tommy Bell is a man of high integrity and a man who cares very deeply about the role and performance of government in our society. I could not ask for a more dedicated Kentucky citizen to head up my campaign."

In accepting the appointment, Mr. Bell said, "I consider it a tremendous honor and responsibility to be selected as State Chairman for Senator Huddleston's re-election campaign. Senator Huddleston has not only shown by his promises, but by his actions in fulfilling those promises, that he stands for the things that have made our country great."

Artist Draws on Youthful Memories

The Wells College Club of New York City has invited Auburn artist Emilie Van Petten Merritt to exhibit her paintings in a group showing of alumnae art to be held April 15 at the Carnegie International Center. Fifteen artists will exhibit weaving, photography, stoneware, porcelain, leathercraft, early New England rubbings, painting, and wood sculpture.

Mrs. Merritt's paintings in the acrylic medium fall into the category of "hard-edge geometric abstractions," and they are based upon quilt motifs remembered from her childhood. She was born in Paintsville, and grew up in Charleston, W. Va. She has made research trips "back home" to discover more about quilt art.

Acknowledging her debt to the quilters, Mrs. Merritt adds that her paintings are in no way "cut-and-dried" copies of quilts, but rather an assimilation of ideas and motifs added to studies of art history past and present.

Mrs. Merritt is the granddaughter of the late Emma Johns and George P. Archer and is the daughter of Mary Archer Van Petten of La Jolla, Calif., and the late O. A. Van Petten. Mrs. Elizabeth Archer Garriott, of Prestonsburg, is her aunt.

FINAL WEEK

To all Employees and Residents in the City of Martin, Kentucky:

Due to a City Ordinance, everyone who works in the City or lives in the City of Martin must buy a $5.00 permit for each vehicle.

This is a lot better than an occupational tax of 1½ percent of monthly earnings or $20.00 fee that other cities have.

This will be enforced to the fullest. If a citation is issued, you will have to go to Prestonsburg to settle the matter before the District Judge.

This is the last chance you have to purchase a city sticker. We hate to have to enforce the City Ordinance but we have little revenue to operate our city.

This is final week stickers can be purchased. You can get them from Chief of Police Lester, Hazel Robinson at Dr. Campbell's office, and Crush Dingus will be at City Hall, April 12, 13 and 14 from 9 till 12 for railroad and hospital employees.

Any sticker over the number 1,000 is good for 1978-1979.

Nat'l Guard Recruitment Drive Under Way Here

Kentucky National Guard officials are here this week engaged in a concentrated recruitment drive to up the manpower of the Prestonsburg unit. A week-long program of appearances at area schools and discussions and meetings with local officials and civic groups will conclude Saturday with open house at the new National Guard armory here. Also included in the recruiting effort will be a display at Archer Park here. Pictured in front of the new armory building near here are, from left to right, S-Sgt. John Pyles, Archer Park Administrator Susan Johnson, Sgt. Tom Gordon, and Sgt. Calvin Howell.

Recruitment Failure Could Close Armory

The future of the new $516,000 Kentucky National Guard armory, recently completed on the Auxier road near here, depends on the success of an all-out recruiting effort currently under way in the county, according to Guard officials. Sgt. Tom Gordon, recruiting specialist from state headquarters in Frankfort, said the aim of the recruiting drive is to increase the strength of the 60-man unit here by 35 percent. If recruitment is not stepped up "substantially," according to a statement issued recently by state National Guard Adjutant General Gerald Wellman, the Prestonsburg armory, as well as several others across the state which have consistently failed to maintain adequate manpower, "stands a good chance of being closed down."

The Prestonsburg unit, Detachment 1, Co. B, 1-149th Infantry, is currently at 60 percent manpower, according to Sgt. Gordon, and it is hoped that the recruiting drive, which will continue through this week, will increase the total number of recruits here by 30.

Although not the worst in the state in terms of recruiting, Gordon pointed out that the unit here is considered "one of the major problems in the state."

Sgt. Gordon and S-Sgt. John Pyles, who will spearhead the recruiting effort, said one of the primary problems here was the lack of interaction between the unit and the community as a whole. "People just aren't aware of what the Guard offers and the advantages of having a local unit," Sgt. Gordon said. "It's our aim to change this lack of awareness."

During the week Pyles and Gordon will speak to area schools, civic groups, and city and county officials in an effort to increase local awareness "of just what the Guard's really all about." The two, who admitted that little in the way of public relations work had been accomplished by Guard representatives in the area in previous years, said they had already met with great enthusiasm by local civic groups and described local officials as "very supportive."

In addition to explaining to potential recruits the many advantages of Guard service, the week's work will also concentrate on explaining the benefits a local unit can provide a community.

"We want everyone—community leaders as well as the general citizenry, to realize the money that comes into any town as a result of an armory's activities," Sgt. Gordon said. "Things people would never think of, like the many thousands of dollars which are spent in a year by a unit's members on food, for example," Sgt. Gordon added. He explained that food is ordered for guardsmen from local restaurants at each monthly drill or special exercise.

Sgts. Gordon and Pyles stressed that they were "completely confident" that the week's recruiting would allay the possibility of a shut-down of the armory. "We'll do whatever is needed to bring this armory up to snuff," Gordon said.

An open house will be held at the new armory, Saturday, April 15, from 2 to 5 p.m. and the public is encouraged to attend.

Ky. To Mount Stronger Tourism Effort

The new Division of Tourism officially joined the Department of Commerce Saturday to pave the way for a more coordinated effort at developing what is already a billion dollar annual business in Kentucky. According to provisions of Senate Bill 305 as passed by the 1978 General Assembly, the new commerce department division will evolve into an entire Department of Tourism by July, 1979.

Commerce Commissioner W. Terry McBrayer revealed that he is considering several applicants for director of the tourism division post. "I want to be sure that we choose the best person possible for this position since it is so crucial to the future economic development of Kentucky. Tourism could very well be the foremost industry in Kentucky by the year 2,000," McBrayer said.

The commissioner noted that the new division is to concentrate primarily on upgrading local tourist industry development throughout the state, placing special emphasis on research, technical management assistance, hospitality training and other areas to better develop new tourism businesses and attractions. McBrayer noted that statistics show that with an initial outlay of $366,000 by state government for tourism promotion, nearly $5 million was returned to Kentucky by visitors from July 1976 to December 1977. "And our new international office in Brussels, Belgium is more than living up to our expectations, so better coordinated efforts toward tourism development should pump even more dollars into our economy," he observed.

Commerce department plans call for the new division to initially inventory the state's tourism needs through feasibility studies and traveler surveys. Moreover, the division has been charged with assisting communities in obtaining government financial assistance for tourism development.

The division will then later solicit tourism businesses, always maintaining contact with tourism development organizations located throughout Kentucky.

Besides the director, the division is to include another professional and a staff secretary. The General Assembly allotted the division an initial funding of $170,000 for the 1978-'80 biennium.

Department Asks Supreme Court To Modify Forest Strip Ruling

The state environmental department has asked the Kentucky Supreme Court to modify its ruling that Stearns Coal and Lumber Co. has the right to strip mine land in the Daniel Boone National Forest because of new and tougher state strip mine legislation passed by the 1978 General Assembly.

The petition for "modification and extension" of the court's opinion, filed March 31 by the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, points out that the mining and reclamation plans filed with Stearns' application conform to less stringent environmental standards that will expire soon. Senate Bill 273, passed by the recently-adjourned legislature, is in conformance with the 1977 federal strip mine bill, which requires that operations must comply with more stringent environmental standards by May 3.

"In essence, we want clarification from the court on whether we should issue a permit to Stearns even though all of the plans and proposed methods of mining contained in the application meet standards that will be no longer applicable within 30 days," explained Alan Harrington, department attorney.

The petition, which is not an appeal of the court's opinion, suggests that a current application for a permit to strip mine the land is needed to ensure that all mining and reclamation plans are based on standards that will apply after May 3, 1978. If further states that such considerations could be addressed by the Franklin Circuit Court and suggests that the case be remanded to the lower court for such a determination.

Harrington would not say what ultimate action the department hopes to achieve with the petition or in Franklin circuit court if a second application is submitted by Stearns.

In 1976 the department denied Stearns a permit to strip mine 15 acres in the forest in McCreary county on which the company holds mineral rights. The department maintained that, since surface rights were held by the federal government, the land is public property. The state's old 1966 strip mine law and the new legislation prohibit mining on public property but Stearns held the mineral rights prior to enactment of that legislation.

The petition also asks for clarification on whether all classes of "public property" should be treated the same or differently with regard to strip mining. State strip mine law prohibits strip mining within 100 feet of public property if the activity constitutes a hazard to public property.

The Supreme Court opinion, in addition to maintaining that the federal government's interest in the land did not make it public property, also said that state statutes on strip mining are only "rules governing mining activity" and that since no threat or hazard to the public health, safety or the environment was shown, the department was exceeding statutory authority in denying the permit.

The petition asks if this then means that a given parcel of land can be classified public property only if environmental damage to public or general health and safety is at stake.

"In other words, could a strip mining operation be permitted within 100 feet of a school if the operator could show there were no environmental problems with the operation," said Harrington.

Another point in the ruling questioned in the department's petition deals with the department's authority to inquire into an applicant's legal right to strip mine property. The Supreme Court ruled that in its determination that surface rights held by the federal government supercede mineral rights, the department was going beyond its statutory responsibility.

"We agree with the court's position that we cannot and should not concern ourselves with questions of ownership interests in property, but not withstanding, this statute seems to require the department to make some degree of inquiry into an applicant's source of legal right to mine," says Harrington.

The petition asks whether the submission of a mineral deed or proof of ownership is a necessary part of the permitting procedure, or alternatively whether the department is bound by whatever proof is submitted by an applicant.

The department has previously asserted that the deed giving the federal government the surface rights is not the same as a broad form deed, therefore Stearns does not have a legal right to strip mine the land.

Historically, Kentucky courts have given precedence to mineral ownership over surface possession.

The U.S. Forst Service, which administers the national forest, says that mining can begin only if it's approval is given to mining plans under the terms of the deed conveying surface rights to the federal government.

No action in the federal courts has been taken yet by the U.S. Forest Service.

Falin's Resignation At Pikeville College Effective, April 7th

Paul Falin's resignation from the posts of athletic director and head basketball coach at Pikeville College became effective last Friday.

Falin joined the Pikeville Bears' athletic program August 1, last year. Prior to joining the staff at Pikeville, Falin served as head basketball coach at Cumberland College from 1970 to 1975, receiving the distinction of KAC Coach of the Year in 1972 and 1973 and NAIA District 24 Coach of the Year in 1973.

Falin's tenure at Pikeville College saw the Bears finish the 1977-'78 season with a 10-17 record. Pikeville College President Jackson O. Hall commented that the record itself did not truly reflect either Falin's or the team's talents. The Bears encountered numerous problems due primarily to the lack of a gymnasium facility. The interior of the college's gym was destroyed by the flood of April 4, 1977. The process of securing adequate funding from the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration has been a long one, since the facility was built in 1948 and has to be upgraded to comply with current fire and safety regulations as well as completely renovated on the inside.

Alcoholism Now Pre-teen Problem

More than 41 percent of the sixth, seventh and eighth graders surveyed in Kentucky drink alcoholic beverages and more than 32.5 percent of those who drink show early signs of potential alcohol abuse.
Those were findings of a survey conducted by the Department for Human Resources (DHR) in cooperation with the state Department of Education under the auspices of the Kentucky Public Health Association.

Questionnaires were completed by 767 children randomly selected at schools in rural and urban areas across the state. All were in grades six, seven and eight and most were 11, 12 or 13 years old. Of the 767 surveyed, 317 drink now or did drink in the past.

Preliminary results of the survey were reported Wednesday to members of the health association's education section. Dr. Grace Eddison, a DHR health services official and chairman of the association's Task Force on Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse, called the findings "startling."

"The most disturbing finding is the age that these young children started to drink," said Dr. Eddison. "More than one-third of these pre-teen drinkers started to drink when they were 10 years old." According to the survey, 81.4 percent of the drinkers were drinking before they reached their 13th birthday.

The children in the survey, who were guaranteed anonymity, gave a number of reasons for their drinking, said Dr. Eddison. Sixty-one percent do most of their drinking with friends. Overcoming shyness was a factor for 26.2 percent. Slightly more than 27 percent of those questioned said they lose control over what they are doing when they drink.

The survey also indicated that 59 percent of the drinkers are males, and drinking within this age group is more prevalent in urban areas than in rural areas.

Statistics on the frequency and amounts these children drink are still being computed, said Dr. Eddison. "We are not finished with the survey yet," she said. "There are 112 more children to be included—12 percent of our total. Then we will have obtained a 0.5 percent sample of the population in each of the three grades."

AAA Says More Training Programs Needed To Solve Auto Repair Problems

The American Automobile Association has called on the federal government to increase its support for mechanics' vocational training and apprenticeship programs as one way to solve auto repair problems.

In testimony prepared for delivery before the consumer subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation, D. James McDowell, managing director of automotive engineering for AAA, said the best hope for achieving the real goal—quality auto repair for the American motorist—lies in a cooperative effort between the public sector and independent groups such as AAA and the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence.

"Government must realize that it cannot solve the auto repair problem by legislation alone," McDowell said.

The AAA statement said that despite elaborate industry programs, and despite state laws requiring full disclosure and the licensing of mechanics, the automobile continues to be by a huge margin the No. 1 source of consumer complaint.

"The auto repair problem has grown to such proportions that the individual consumer cannot fight it alone," McDowell said.

The AAA representative cited a program developed by AAA as an example of what can be done by independent organizations to help solve the problem.

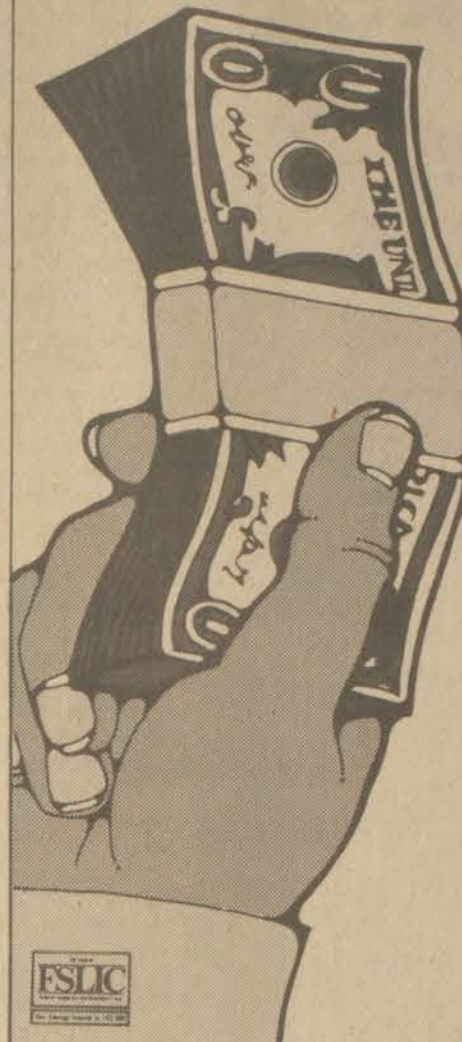

In October 1975, AAA began a new program for its members called Approved Auto Repair Services. The purpose of the program was to (1) locate honest, competent repair facilities which would stand by the work they perform and agree to abide by AAA's decision in the event of disputes, and (2) have a positive impact on upgrading the overall repair image.

Pilot tests are currently underway in the Washington, D.C. area, and in parts of Florida, Minnesota and California.

According to the U.S. Labor Department's Employment and Training Administration, eligibility requirements are tightened for unemployment insurance by the Unemployment Compensation Amendments of 1976.

A stitch in time OR Elias Howe was a SEW-SEW inventor.

When Howe invented the sewing machine in 1846, he really got needed.

Some tailors said a machine could never replace hand work, or so it seemed.

But a few followed the thread of Howe's thinking. An automatic stitcher worked faster and more consistently, and the results were highly profitable.

Which happens to be the same reason folks today sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan. It's tailored to let you buy U.S. Savings Bonds automatically. And that makes saving faster and more consistent. With results that are highly profitable.

So, save regularly with U.S. Savings Bonds. You'll have your future all sewn up.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

April Begins Season of Green

The earth feels good in your hands. Get down on your knees and take a close look at this marvelous substance that falls from your hands, loose and crumbly, to find minute crannies and nooks where it will nudge and nurture plant life. Kentucky soil is special. It gives you and others such a variety of plant life that discovering its merits and this spring rediscovering them allows no room for boredom.

In your heart you know it is true, that no other land will do for you. From Majestic in the east to Miller in the west, from Hilldago to Newport is this land we love the best.

April is that time of year when the outdoors seems to lift a green-gold horn skyward and blast out a call to you to come outside. April opens the door and pushes in sunwarmed air to add freshness and throws open windows to ruffle curtains as it beckons you with sun-drenched fingers to look up and out. Don't be left behind inside; you'll miss the fun.

The camping crowd is on the move, knowing they must reach a stopping place in mid-afternoon before the sites are filled. The walkers, boaters, climbers already are enjoying part of a Kentucky spring they know will be hidden from view when summer clothes woods, hills and valleys with dense foliage.

Those who fish are on the lakes, turning hat brims to catch spring rains while their hands busy themselves with rod, reel and poles.

Gardeners are claiming their land, raking it, nurturing it and fondling it with their hands. Of all Eden's people, those who use the earth with their hands and touch it with bended knee are aware of its deep mysteries. Their earth is simple in the way it gives life and complex in its power.

You who have been indoors must lay aside the dustcloth or the book and be an active participant in the rebirth of your land. Move the rock so the lily can grow, gather dead leaves of winter for the compost heap and as you cast on twigs and bits of rotted wood cast on also your cares and pressures.

Your pussy-willows are soft and gray as kittens, your daffodils as yellow as biddie chickens. The forsythia in your side yard is bright as summer sun and your tulips are starting their brilliant blooms with the sheen of satin.

Look around you and see the green. It is lime, lemon-yellow and chartreuse. Get down and look more closely and you will find tiny flecks of color like metallic glints in a sulphur spring.

Don't forget to check the swelling buds on your trees, especially the dogwoods, and don't forget to smile as you remember that in England this tree is called dagwood from the word dagger. You will note also that green is tipping dark branches of your redbud trees and spots of sugary fluid are clinging to trunks of maples. You out there is Wickliffe, Henderson and Owensboro; you in Louisville and Lexington and Danville; you down there in Bowling Green and Middlesboro; you in Somerset and London and you in Louisa, Pikeville and Whitesburg: Did you doubt? Were you afraid that after January, February and early March there just might not be spring?

Has Kentucky ever failed you? Has a Kentucky April brought rain and no flowers or sun and no warmth? You are beginning to enter your Commonwealth's season of evergreen. Get out and enjoy it.

THE LARGEST STATE in the nation in terms of area has the smallest veteran population, according to Veterans Administration estimates. Alaska is home to some 41,000 of the nation's 29.8 million veterans, the VA said.

THE FEMALE veteran population is nearly 580,000, says the VA, or nearly two per cent of all veterans. The VA employs 7,189 female veterans, according to VA statistics.

Doomsday, April 17 Looms for Taxpayers

With the midnight, April 17, deadline rapidly approaching, about one-third (66 pct.) of the estimated 1,224,000 Kentucky taxpayers have yet to file 1977 Federal individual income tax returns, according to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Of those 413,000 Kentuckians still to file their 1040 forms, the IRS estimates that upwards of 3,680 live in Floyd county.

Taxpayers can extend the filing deadline for two months by filing a Form 4868, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return."

When requesting an extension, the taxpayer must make two copies of Form 4868. The original is filed with the IRS on or before the due date of the tax return and the duplicate must be attached to the actual tax return when it is later filed, the IRS said.

When sending the original copy of Form 4868 on or before the due date, the taxpayer also must estimate his or her tax bill for that year and enclose full payment for the tax liability.

Later, when sending the duplicate copy with the return, the amount of tax previously paid should be entered on the appropriate line of Form 1040. Taxpayers receiving an extension of time cannot use the Form 1040A or have the IRS compute their tax bill.

If the amount previously paid is less than the amount owed, taxpayers must pay interest on the unpaid amount. In addition, if the unpaid amount is over 10 percent of the total tax bill, the law permits levy of additional penalties on the taxpayer, the IRS said.

Deadline extensions past the two-month extension date are granted only under unusual circumstances, according to the IRS. Taxpayers can apply for a further extension by letter or by filling out Form 2688, "Application for Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return." The applicant must include the reasons why the additional extension is necessary, the IRS said.

To obtain copies of Form 4868 or to have last minute tax questions answered, call IRS toll-free: Louisville, 584-1361; Lexington, 255-2333; elsewhere throughout Kentucky, 1-800-292-6570. Hours, 8:15 a.m.-4:30 p.m. EST (7:15 a.m.-3:30 p.m. CST), Monday-Friday.

For those individuals who need walk-in assistance, the IRS office in Pikeville, Post Office Building, Main and Hoffman Streets, offers free Federal tax help.

"IGNORANCE IS CRAZY."

"I've never had cancer. But I'd be crazy to ignore it. I know many cancers can be cured if they're detected early. But you've got to know the warning signals: Change in bowel or bladder habits. A sore that does not heal. Unusual bleeding or discharge. Thickening or lump in breast or elsewhere. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. Obvious change in wart or mole. Nagging cough or hoarseness.

"If one of them appears, see your doctor right away. The odds are you don't have cancer. But only your doctor can tell you that for sure."

'78 Deer Season Is 'Complicated'

A gun deer season which wildlife officials describe as "biologically sound and necessarily complicated," was passed last week by the state Fish and Wildlife Commission.

Basically, the 1978 gun deer hunting season will be for bucks only, with at least one forked antler, and will be split into two sections—November 11 through November 13 and December 2 through December 4 but that "basic" season will apply only to 74 of Kentucky's 120 counties.

Four counties—Ballard, McCracken, Livingston and Crittenden—will be open for either sex deer December 2 with bucks only hunting the other five days of the gun season. Edmonson County will be open for either sex deer Nov. 11-13 and Dec. 2-4; portions of Barren and Hart counties will be open for either sex deer Nov. 11-13 and Dec. 2-4 with bucks only hunting allowed in the remainder of those counties; 24 counties (see list below) will be open only Nov. 11 through November 13 for bucks with at least one forked antler, and 15 counties (see below) will be closed to all deer hunting—both gun and archery. The bag and possession limit of one per year per hunter, whether by gun or bow, remains unchanged.

The 24 counties open only November 11 through November 13 are Kenton, Greenup, Bourbon, Woodford, Fayette, Montgomery, Mercer, Garrard, Lincoln, Madison, Breathitt, Pike, Letcher, Bill, Knox, Laurel, Whitley, Morgan, Rockcastle, Adair, Metcalfe, Jefferson, Hardin and Jessamine. Counties closed to all deer hunting are Floyd, Estill, Jackson, Owsley, Clay, Powell, Harlan, Leslie, Wolfe, Clark, Johnson, Perry, Knott, Martin, and Magoffin.

Additionally, the following wildlife management areas are closed to all hunting, including deer hunting: Dewey Lake, Grayson, Beaver Creek, Robinson Forest, Redbird and Cane Creek. The Yellowbank Area closed to deer gun and archery hunting only.

Further details concerning the gun deer hunting seasons, including lists of deer check stations, which will be mandatory again this year, will be available from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources in Frankfort as soon as the regulations amendment procedure is completed—usually 60 to 90 days—and literature for distribution can be printed.

Bow Hunters To Have Longer Deer Season

Kentucky's bow hunters will have 11 extra days of deer hunting this fall, may use crossbows for a two-week period, and must check all deer through an official check station according to regulations approved by the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission at its quarterly meeting last week.

The archery deer season will open Oct. 1, 1978 and run through Nov. 8 with the second phase of the season opening Nov. 18 and continuing through Nov. 30. The season will reopen on Dec. 9 and run through Dec. 31, for a total of 75 days of hunting.

Crossbows may be used in all open counties from Oct. 1 through Oct. 14 only. Crossbows must have a minimum pull of 80 pounds.

The check station procedure will be similar to the one required of gun hunters for the past two seasons. Its purpose is to allow biologists to get a quick and accurate count of the total number of deer taken. A list of check stations will be available in late summer, before the season opens.

Fifteen counties will be closed to both gun and bow hunting: Floyd, Clark, Clay, Estill, Harlan, Jackson, Johnson, Knott, Leslie, Magoffin, Martin, Owsley, Perry, Powell and Wolfe. In addition, the following wildlife management areas are closed to deer hunting: Dewey Lake, Yellowbank, Beaver Creek, Grayson Lake, Pine Mountain, Redbird, Robinson Forest and Cane Creek.

Other archery regulations remain essentially the same as in recent years, according to Fish and Wildlife Commissioner Arnold L. Mitchell, who added that the extra days of hunting are not expected to add significantly to the total deer harvest.

Bow hunters may take either sex deer in all open counties, but specially managed wildlife areas may have differing regulations to be announced in the future, Mitchell said.

In other action, the fish and wildlife commission approved a black bass study offering cash rewards from $1 to $1,000. Over 4,000 bass in various lakes, streams and a portion of the Ohio River will be tagged, with each tag carrying a monetary value assigned by random selection. When an angler catches a tagged bass, he returns the numbered tag and will be notified of the cash value of the tag, which ranges from $1 to $1,000.

The purpose of the cash awards is to encourage anglers to return the tags. "Without the cash reward as an incentive, tag returns would not reflect an accurate percentage of legal sized bass harvested," according to Fisheries Director Charlie Bowers, who adds that an accurate harvest estimate is necessary to properly evaluate the impact of the new 12-inch size limit.

Additional information about the project will be released as final details are worked out, Bowers said.

KAC Extends Grant Application Deadline

A directory of galleries and exhibition spaces for artists needing to know where they can exhibit their works is available from the Kentucky Arts Commission.

Anne Ogden, crafts coordinator for the commission, said that the free directory is for visual artists interested in knowing where they can exhibit in the state. To obtain a directory, contact the Visual Arts Program, Kentucky Arts Commission, 100 West Main Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

A new deadline has been set by the Kentucky Arts Commission for grant applications on programs scheduled between July 1 and June 30, 1979.

The deadline for applications for visual arts, performing arts, media, literature, and community development programs is May 1. According to Anne Ogden, crafts coordinator with the commission, a new application form has been developed and anybody needing one should contact the arts commission.

Applications for the Governor's Challenge Grant and other small program grants for visual arts, performing arts, media, literature, and community development are due Nov. 1. Ogden said that the initiation of the fall program deadline and availability of a modest amount of program funds is for projects or technical needs that occur after the spring deadline.

She emphasized that the intent of the deadline is not to encourage procrastination but rather to make it possible for organizations to receive funds for projects that cannot be foreseen in the spring.

For grant applications, contact the Kentucky Arts Commission, 100 West Main Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

VS. NOTICE OF SALE

George L. Shannon, Vivian C. Shannon, George L. Shannon and Associates, Commonwealth of Kentucky, Department of Revenue, and Commonwealth of Kentucky, Department of Economic Security, Division of Unemployment Insurance (now Department for Human Resources, Division of Unemployment Insurance) . . . Defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the April 21 term, 1977 and by Supplemental Judgment of April 4, 1978 in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the location of the property on the west side of the Old Mayo Trail in South Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 29 day of April, 1978 at 10 o'clock a.m. same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of six months, the following described property to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in Floyd County, Kentucky, being the same land conveyed George L. Shannon et al by Anna B. Allen, widow, on September 11, 1963, recorded in Deed Book 183, page 274 and being the same property conveyed to George L. Shannon by Clifford B. Latta and Betty P. Latta, his wife, by deed dated the 16th day of November, 1965, and duly recorded in Deed Book 189, page 154, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, and which is more particularly described as follows, viz:

Beginning at a stake and corner common with the line of Mason Moore and R-W line of the Kentucky Department of Highways, thence running as follows: N 20 degrees 30' E 651.03' to a stake and corner; S 53 degrees 07' E 126.81' to a stake; S 26 degrees 57' E 165.58' to a stake; S 33 degrees 07' E 62.46' to a stake; S 72 degrees 02' E 120.58' to a stake; S 38 degrees 03' E 145.28' to a stake; S 40 degrees 19' E 58.44' to a stake; S 65 degrees 07' 30" E 226.07' to a stake; S 35 degrees 19' 30" E 218.59' to a stake; S 32 degrees 59' 30" E 124.96' to a stake; S 31 degrees 45' E 155.18' to a stake; S 23 degrees 28' E 71.14' to a stake; S 12 degrees 54' 30" E 131.76' to a stake; S 03 degrees 36' E 140.84' to a stake; S 04 degrees 07' 30" E 119.36' to a stake; S 16 degrees 00' W 10.0' to a stake; S 39 degrees 29' 30" W 8.20' to a large sycamore in the R-W line of the Kentucky Department of Highways; thence running with the Highway R-W line 1430' to the beginning, containing 15.45 acres.

There is excluded from and not included in the above mortgaged description, that certain tract or parcel of land conveyed by George L. Shannon, et. us. to Donald L. Horn, by deed dated August 2, 1969, and recorded in Deed Book 200, page 248, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, to which reference is made for a more particular description of said exclusion.

Subsequent to the judgment of April 21, 1977 this tract of land has been surveyed and platted into ten lots, all lots fronting on the right of way line of the old Mayo Trail, now Kentucky Highway No. 1428 which forms the southwesterly boundary of the entire tract, Lot 1 beginning at the beginning corner of this tract and running in a southeasterly direction with the right of way line of the State Highway a distance of 174.0' to a stake, and thence a straight line S 43 degrees 30' W a distance of 512' to the end of the fourth call of the tract as described and thence with the back line of the tract as described, to a stake at the extreme northern point of the land and thence in a direction of the reversed bearing N 20 degrees 30' W a distance of 651.03' to the point of beginning. The remaining lots Nos. 2 and 3 are rectangular in shape with their westerly and easterly boundaries, all having the same direction of S 43 degrees 30' W except that lot 10 for its easterly boundary has the direction S 39 degrees 13' W; all lots have as their southwesterly boundary the right of way line of the highway and have as their northwesterly boundary the back line of the tract as described. The width of the lots fronting on the highway of Lots 2-10 are respectively: 100.0'; 102.0'; 110.0'; 110.0'; 112.0'; 100.0'; 103.0'; 116.0'; 113.0'; the depth of the lots on their north-easterly boundaries are respectively as follows: 543.0'; 516.0'; 482.0'; 500.0'; 516.0'; 478.0'; 435.0'; 385.0'; and it is noted at this time that these distances mentioned in the descriptions of these lots are all approximate.

These lots are subject to an easement for a road or street having a width of 50' and extending from the southeasterly boundary of Lot 1 through the easterly boundary of Lot 10 adjacent to the highway right of way line so as to provide a street running down the front of each lot and it is noted that this easement is for the joint use and benefit of these 10 lots, only.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the sum of $5,600.00 with interest thereon at 7 percent annually from August 10, 1975 until paid, and in the sum of $8,100.00 with interest thereon at 7 percent annually from November 24, 1975, the additional sum of $13,000.00 with interest thereon at 7 percent annually from the 30th day of August, 1975 and the sum of $11,410.00 with interest thereon at 8 1/2 percent annually from April 10, 1975 until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 7 day of April, 1978.

SHORT ROWS

By Nevyle Shackelford

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD

When the frost is out of the ground, when spring peepers start shrilling from the swamps, and when oak leaves reach the size of squirrel's ears, then it's high time to get seeds and plants in the ground.

Seed planting is a relatively simple task, especially with larger seeds such as sweet corn, squash, cucumbers and melons. With the finer seeds, however, some care must be taken to assure a good stand. Usually, planting instructions are printed on the seed packets and, for best results, UK vegetable specialist C. R. Roberts recommends that these be followed closely.

He also says that, to get an even distribution in the row, fine seed should be mixed with pulverized soil or some other medium such as wood ashes. After sowing, the seed should be covered with fine soil and then gently tamped down with the flat of the hand or the blade of a hoe. This helps keep the seed from being washed out of the soil during spring rains.

If the soil is very dry at planting time, germination can be speeded up by moistening the top 2 inches of soil with a sprinkling can or a fine mist from the garden hose. When the seeds come up, thin the stand at desired intervals. Don't wait too long to do this job or the remaining plants may be stunted from overcrowding or by root disturbance.

In setting out plants, veteran gardeners recommend waiting for a cloudy day or late afternoon "after the shade has come over." This recommendation is backed up by Roberts who adds that, about an hour before transplanting, the plants and soil in the containers should be thoroughly watered.

Plants in flats should be blocked out in squares with a sharp knife to keep the root masses intact. Plants in clay pots can be removed by turning the containers upside down and tapping them gently with the handle of the planting dibble or some other object. Since they will soon disintegrate, peat and other fiber pots containing plants can be set directly in the ground.

Be sure to water thoroughly when transplanting, and always place the transplant in the ground slightly deeper than it grew in the container.

Since plants, like people, sometimes suffer from shock upon being moved to a new location, a "starter" solution dosed out at planting time will help. This starter can be made by mixing, 2 tablespoons of 10-52-17 or 10-50-10 fertilizer per gallon of water. If neither of these fertilizers is available, Roberts offers this alternative: 1/2 pound of 4-12-4 or 5-10-5 fertilizer mixed with 4 gallons of water.

Newly set plants should be protected against heat, cold and wind. Homemade shelters such as boxes, baskets, pots, or sealing jars should be kept handy in case frosts threaten, but do not leave these protectors over plants longer than necessary.

European Tourists Attracted to State

Through the efforts of the Kentucky International Tourism Office in Brussels, Belgium, approximately 37,000 Europeans will visit Kentucky this year.

Jamie Denny, director of the international office, credits much of this to what he calls tour development missions. These missions are made to Europe by state and private travel industry personnel who visit European travel brokers to promote tourism to Kentucky.

Nine Kentuckians recently returned from such a mission, visiting London, Amsterdam and Munich. Gerald White, acting deputy commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Public Information and a member of the tour, said the eight-day trip was successful. "It allowed the Kentucky representatives to promote their respective regions as well as the state as a whole."

Receptions were held in each of the cities for the travel agents and brokers there. An average of 200 Europeans attended each reception, giving the Kentucky representatives an opportunity to sell Kentucky as the place to vacation.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY • COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

One of the most popular and venerable of all the early wild greens that grace the countryside in spring is winter cress or, as some country people call it, "creasies." It is, indeed, a superb potherb for those who like it—and many do. For generations, this plant, naturalized from Europe, has been culled from the wild but now can be purchased in cans in some grocery stores.

the fields and forests. But this bitterness can be remedied by changing the water a couple of times during the preparatory cooking. Cresses that have been thoroughly washed are usually put directly into the boiling water, salted and then eaten soon after the preparation is complete. A dash of vinegar enhances the taste considerably.

A member of the mustard family, this plant is common in fields, gardens and waste places in widely distributed areas of North America. It survives in a variety of soils under a variety of conditions. During the short warm spells of winter, it grows remarkably, showing conspicuous spots of green when most neighboring plants are apparently dead.

Aside from being somewhat tasty as a wild green, country people once swore by the cress as a springtime health food. Whether this is true or not, they attested the plant a sure cure for scurvy and better than apple brandy for toning up the system.

"Eat creasies every day for two weeks," they used to say, "and you'll shed off slick as a minnow." They also recommended eating creasies to "purify the blood," banish dandruff, and brighten up a sallow complexion.

As was mentioned before, not everybody likes, or will like, creasies as a food treat or put much faith in them as a treatment. They really are good to eat, however. They are hardy and easily grown, will grow on ground not suitable for other garden crops, and can be secured without costing a cent.

In olden times in Europe, this plant, Barbarea vulgaris, was known as the herb of St. Barbara. It was so called, as the legend goes, to commemorate a young maiden who, in the third or fourth century, was slain by her father because of her religious beliefs. Upon learning that his daughter had become a Christian, he flew into a violent rage and killed her on the spot. This tragedy took place in early December, at a time when seed of this plant, dropped in late summer, sprout and start developing rosettes which by March are large enough to be gathered, cooked and eaten.

Normally, creasies, or creasies, are too bitter for most persons except connoisseurs of wild greens and other viands gathered from

A very REFINED Gentleman OR how NORBERT RILLIEUX was the original Sugar Daddy.

On August 26, 1842, Norbert Rillieux put a patent on a sweet idea.
It was a way to refine sugar.
To help the sugarcane juices evaporate more quickly, he enclosed condensation coils in a vacuum chamber. A process that's made things a lot sweeter ever since.
You can make your future a little sweeter, too, by buying U.S. Savings Bonds through your Payroll Savings Plan.
They're the dependable way to save for an education, vacation, or even retirement. Because they always pay off with interest.
So buy U.S. Savings Bonds.
And be a "sugar daddy" in your spare time.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
