

Board OK's Garage Bid Of $336,000

Dana Firm To Build Structure at Garth; Chairman Honored

The $336,000 bid of Akers & Akers, Dana contractors, for construction of a county school bus garage at Garth was accepted last Wednesday evening by the Floyd County Board of Education.

No other bid was offered on the project. The contract provides for blacktop surfacing of the four-acre site of the garage as well as the construction work. The structure, approximating 80 by 100 feet, will be of prefabricated metal. An outside wash bay also is included in the specifications.

The bid opened last Wednesday is about the same figure asked for the work in earlier bidding. A contract was not awarded then, however, because the bid exceeded available capital outlay funds. With the beginning of a new fiscal year at the end of next month, however, sufficient funds will be at hand, it was explained.

The Allen school bus garage now in use was flooded last year at considerable loss to the school system. The Garth location is above high water.

During the board meeting John M. Stumbo, of Harold, board chairman, was surprised when Supt. Grigsby presented to him, on behalf of the superintendent and the Kentucky School Boards Association, a certificate in recognition of his long service as a board of education member. Mr. Stumbo's 26-year tenure is among the longest in the state.

The board approved the lease of approximately seven acres of land adjacent to Betsy Layne High School from Mollie Boyd at a rental of $600 a year. The land will be used for football, track and other sports but is too narrow for a baseball field. The offer of Swartz & Co. to supply a dishwasher for the Osborne Elementary School for $3,595 was accepted as lowest submitted.

The board designated Supt. Grigsby for a two-year term on the county Economic Aid board, reappointed Ray Brackett as treasurer of the board for two years and W. W. Burchett as attorney for the next school year. The Bank Josephine's contract as depository for board funds was renewed for two years, beginning with the new fiscal year, July 1, and Linton & Co. was named to do the audit for the school system, next fiscal year.

Other items of business transacted included employment of Juanita Cox as replacement for Lenice Manns, who resigned at Garrett Elementary; two

Preliminary Work Begun on Highlands Terrace

Workmen are pictured unloading steel in preparation to the start of actual construction of the $2.8 million Highlands Terrace housing complex at the mouth of Mays Branch here. The project, secured through a joint effort of the Highland Terrace Corporation, Prestonsburg Housing Authority and Church Housing Association, is being funded through the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the Appalachian Regional Commission. In addition, $50,000 was provided as part of the bequest of Mrs. Ethel Cheairs, of Winchester, Ky. Estimated completion date for the 80-unit, four-story complex for the elderly and handicapped has been set for next summer. General contractor on the project is J. T. Goggans, of Danville.

Conn Death May Remain A Mystery

State Prober Finds No Clue in Slaying At Strip Mine Site

The April 29 gunshot slaying of mine guard Berton Conn is an airtight mystery that may defy solution, it was indicated this week.

State Police Detective Keith Scott, who has led the investigation of the mountaintop murder, said Monday, "There's nothing—not a clue."

But the probe continues, Scott said. Its success may depend upon finding a witness who saw another person in the vicinity of the slaying on Saturday, the day authorities believe the shot was fired.

Circumstances barring any easy solution of the mystery include these:

Conn was alone at the time of his slaying. His body was not found till the following day, and in the meantime considerable rain had fallen, obliterating any tracks that might have been left by the slayer. Only a sliver of the bullet which killed him was recovered, and it is considered of no value for ballistics tests. And, if there is a known motive, officers aren't saying anything about it.

Of one thing investigators are certain: Conn's death was murder, not suicide. His own weapon, unfired, was in his pocket. Nor was robbery a motive; $187 was on his person.

The nightwatchman's body was found lying behind his truck. Coroner James J. Carter said he may have been dead as long as 15 hours when found.

State Police Find Growing "Pot" In Toler Ck. Area

An investigation by State Police Troopers Weedman and Stephens last Wednesday turned up a total of 121 marijuana plants found growing on an abandoned farm at the head of Akers Branch of Toler Creek, near Harold.

The plants, according to the officers, had been cultivated in small peat containers and fertilized, although the identity of the persons practicing the illegal horticulture has not been determined. State police said the plants would be destroyed.

A list of persons booked at the county over the past week, charges against each, and arresting officers follows:

Chester Neeley, illegal possession of alcoholic beverages, by State Troopers Rederick and Stephens; Bill Crum, drunk driving, by State Trooper Stephens; Paul L. Osborne, drunk driving, by Park Ranger Neeley; Randy Stapleton, drunk driving, by State Trooper T. Hall; Ranson Mullins, drunk driving, by Wayland Policeman Norm Thornsberry; Martin Earl Meeks, criminal mischief in second degree, by Deputy Sheriff Randall Lewis; Donald E. Leckrone, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Police Sgt. Darrel J. Conley; Dwayne Puphl, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Police Sgt. Darrel J. Conley; Paul E. Oser, Jr., possession of switchblade knife, by Park Ranger John Wright; Madeline Hall, drunk driving, by State Troopers R. Hall and Shelton; Larry Newsome, drunk driving, by State Trooper Rederick; Omer Gene Bradley, drunk driving, by Allen Policemen Conn and Brackett; Vernon E. Clemons, drunk driving, by Allen Policemen Brackett and Conn; Bill Little, Jr., wanton endangerment, by Wheelwright Policeman Harold Johnson; Willie Goodman, assault in third degree, by Martin Policeman Hershell Lester.

Officials Differ On Fiscal Effect Of Court System

Officials of the five incorporated towns of Floyd county aren't agreed on the fiscal effects of the Judicial Act which eliminated their police courts, fines and court costs. The new law which diverts the caseload of all city courts to the district judge provides that the cities affected shall be reimbursed by the state, the amount to represent the average each city received in fines, forfeitures and court costs over the last three years.

Prestonsburg and Allen apparently are satisfied with the arrangement. Martin, Wayland, Wheelwright are not. "It's sure hurt us," Robert Webb, chairman of the Wayland board of trustees, said. "The revenues aren't up to what they were."

He added that the population of the town is in large part retired people, and the town doesn't collect enough property taxes to pay for street lighting. "We're going to have to raise property taxes in order just to survive," he said.

This Town...That World

THRILL, THRILL

I've had a big week. Heard via radio Pete Rose get his 3,000th hit. Saw via television Steve Cauten, the Kentucky boy, ride a Derby winner, first try. Right in the thick of the action, that's yours truly. Next, I'll be watching these fishing shows and really get going.

According to the Wall Street Journal, this one is told by retired U.S. Senator Sam Ervin, of North Carolina, suh: "There was a young lawyer who showed up at a revival meeting and was asked to lead the congregation in prayer. Unprepared, he gave a prayer straight out of a lawyer's heart: 'Stir up much strife amongst thy people, Lord,' he prayed, 'lest thy servant perish.'"

A WAY TO HELP

Then there is the one that wound up on this desk from the Sunbury (Pa.) Daily Item, which tells of the Protestant minister who needed funds for a new church. He sent out printed appeals for contributions, and one of these wound up in the hands of the parish priest. The minister and he had been good friends for years, but it was unthinkable that he should subscribe to a Protestant church building fund. So, after some thought, he wrote: "Dear Rector, you will appreciate the fact that I cannot assist in building your new church. But I take pleasure in enclosing my check toward pulling the old one down."

Grants to Hospitals To Help Cut Losses

Grants totaling some $2.5 million are being provided to six eastern Kentucky hospitals—three in Floyd county—to help cover the financial losses which accumulated during the record coal strike.

Gov. Julian Carroll said the grants are part of a $6.2 million fund set aside by the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) and the Economic Development Administration to enable approximately 20 hospitals in a five-state area to continue essential health services and to retain essential health personnel.

Development Cabinet Secretary William L. Short, Carroll's ARC alternate, said that in addition to three Appalachian Regional Hospitals receiving aid, the Methodist Hospital at Pikeville, Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, and Highlands Regional Medical Center, Prestonsburg, also will receive financial assistance.

According to Short, Pikeville Methodist will receive $499,050, Our Lady of the Way $261,565 and Highlands Regional Medical Center $29,395.

Short said hospitals in McDowell, Whitesburg and South Williamson will receive grants from a $1.4 million fund earmarked specifically for Appalachian Regional Hospitals. Kentucky also is handling funding procedures for regional hospitals in Beckley and Mann, W. Va. and Wise, Va., Short added.

In addition to the $6.2 million grant program, Short said the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has provided $2.6 million under its Rural Health Initiatives Program to assist financially distressed health clinics.

Short said the out-patient clinic at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, the Clover Fork Clinic at Everts and the Lynch Medical Clinic will receive funds from the HEW grant. Grants are also under review for the McDowell Medical Clinic, the Highlands Regional Medical Clinic and the Hazard Family Services Clinic, he added.

Fiscal Court Meets For Budget Review

County Judge-Executive Yvonne Jones' first meeting with the Floyd fiscal court since her appointment to the office was held Tuesday.

The special meeting was called for the court to review the county budget to be adopted for the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

Anderson Council Renews Change of Venue Effort

In a strongly worded supplemental affidavit filed last Thursday Henry E. Hughes, Lexington attorney, counsel for the defense, continued his efforts to get the trial of Ralph Anderson, charged with murder in the slaying of Mack Lewis, transferred to another county.

Circuit Judge Hollie Conley has not ruled on the new motion.

Attorney Hughes' supplemental affidavit said that he has directly and indirectly been threatened with death if he participates in the trial of Anderson. He added that he has received four telephone calls threatening his life if he engages in Anderson's defense.

Possibly the most sensational statement made by Hughes in his affidavit alleged that Ex-Sheriff Joe W. Lewis, brother of Mack Lewis, "has not only threatened to kill defendant on the witness stand but has threatened to kill any attorney who represents or helps defendant in any way."

The attorney said that the killing was "a strike-related incident," that hostility still exists and that it would be impossible for his client to get a fair trial in any coal-producing county in Eastern Kentucky. He cited a statute which, it is claimed, removes the requirement that change of venue be made to a contiguous county, and asked that the trial be held in one of six more distant counties: Madison, Clark, Fayette, Scott, Jessamine or Jefferson.

Perkins Slates Martin Meeting On Flood Help

A flood insurance and flood protection meeting has been arranged by Congressman Carl D. Perkins at the Martin Elementary School's multipurpose building, Saturday, May 20, at 3 p.m.

Perkins said that he has called the meeting to have representatives of the Federal Flood Insurance Administration of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and representatives of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers discuss flood protection and flood insurance in an open meeting with interested public officials, citizens and residents of frequently flooded areas in Floyd county.

Federal insurance officials will explain and answer questions concerning the federal flood insurance program, such as:

- What are the requirements of local, State and federal officials in providing full flood insurance benefits
- How flood insurance premiums are determined
- What the cost of such premiums might be
- Restrictions on a new construction or improvements in flood-prone areas
- How flood-prone areas are determined
- The administrative steps required in implementing the flood insurance program

Representatives of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will explain current surveys, investigations and plans for additional local flood protection.

Criminal Term Of Court Ends

The Floyd circuit court ended its criminal term last week and will not be in regular criminal session till September.

Two murder cases—Ralph Anderson's on June 20 and Randy Hall's on July 13—have been docketed for trial during an intervening civil term session.

The grand jury for the September term will convene the last week in August, prior to the opening of the regular criminal session. Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen said the grand jury will begin work before the term begins, to permit him to be with the jury without conflicting with trial duties.

Although the trial of Ralph Anderson for the slaying of Mack Lewis is docketed for June 20, his attorney is continuing his effort to have the case venued to another county (see separate story).

TAKING THE OATH . . . Yvonne Stumbo Jones, of Prestonsburg, is sworn in as Floyd county judge-executive by state Supreme Court Justice James B. Stephenson as Gov. Julian Carroll stands by. Mrs. Jones was appointed county judge-executive by Gov. Carroll following the death of her father, Judge Henry Stumbo.

"HAM" RADIO HAPPENINGS

By DAVID LAFFERTY, WB4SYG

Several local "Hams" attended the Dayton Hamvention recently. The Dayton Hamvention is the largest ham gathering in the world which draws about 18,000 persons annually.

The Sandy Valley Amateur Radio Association met May 1, at the Floyd County Library. The club voted to send a letter to the American Radio Relay League in response to their letter to the club about proposed FCC rules and regulations changes concerning amateur radio. The club voted to participate in Field Day June 24 and 25 and discussed possible locations for our Field Day operations. The definition of Field Day will be discussed next week in this column. Representatives from the club's class reported that 10 people are presently attending class and are progressing rapidly.

After all club business had been discussed, members viewed a film about computers which was supplied to us by the Bell System. The meeting was then adjourned.

If you would like to know more about the amateur radio service, we invite you to come to one of our meetings and bring a friend or write to the club at the following address: The Sandy Valley Amateur Radio Association, Publicity and Public Relations Department, Rt. 2, Box 127, Martin, Ky. 41649.

WAYLAND NEWS

DISCUSSES METRIC SYSTEM

A discussion of the approaching use of the metric system was held at the April 17 meeting of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Rex Martin, of Dema. Mrs. Jack Stevens, club speaker, gave a brief history of the various items used as weights and measures before the current system came into being. She explained that the metric system will be incorporated into the school system by 1981 and that many stores have items on the shelves already showing metric weights and measures. She also pointed out that weather forecasters are currently giving temperatures in both Fahrenheit and Celsius degrees.

"Soon it will be necessary for everyone to understand the metric system", she emphasized.

Mrs. Don Hughes led the Pledge to the Flag prior to the program and Mrs. S. M. Martin read the Club Collect. Mrs. J. T. Spillman gave the devotions.

Mrs. S. M. Martin, chairman of the nominating committee, reported that all current officers of the club had agreed to serve for another term, and this was unanimously approved by the members present. The officers are Mrs. Bobby Joe Castle, president; Mrs. Marie Mullins, first vice-president; Mrs. Ronnie Patton, second vice-president; Mrs. James E. Martin, recording secretary; Mrs. Don Hughes, treasurer; Mrs. Otto Martin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. C. Wells, parliamentarian.

In further business before the club, it was voted to sponsor Karen Duff in the Miss Floyd County Pageant. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Duff, Hueysville. Mrs. Duff is a past president of the club.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. Jack Stevens, Mrs. James E. Martin, Mrs. S. M. Martin, Mrs. J. T. Spillman, Mrs. Don Hughes, Mrs. Bobby Joe Castle, Mrs. Marie Mullins, Mrs. Lula Coburn, Mrs. Otto Martin, and the hostess, Mrs. Rex Martin.

The next meeting will be the May breakfast, at which time the officers will be re-installed for another term. The date and place of the breakfast will be announced later.

Kentucky Afield

By JOHN WILSON

If you're a pretty good shot with a flintlock rifle and would like to shoot competitively you might want to try out for the official state muzzle loading rifle team this spring.

The team will be composed of the 10 marksmen scoring the highest averages in two separate tryouts, according to Bill Furnish, vice-president of the Kentucky Corps of Longriflemen, the sponsoring organization. Any flintlock shooter in Kentucky is welcome to participate, Furnish says.

The first shoot will be May 13 and 14 at the Knob Creek Muzzleloader Range, located on Ky 44 about 1½ miles from the intersection of US 31W in Bullitt county. The second shoot, scheduled for June 10 and 11, will take place at the Tollgate Range at Ft. Knox. Ask for directions to the range when you check into the Ft. Knox military post.

Furnish emphasizes that shooters must participate in both the May and June shoots to make the team. However, it's only necessary to show up on one day of each shoot—either May 13 or May 14 and either June 10 or June 11.

Those who make the team will participate in at least two shooting matches, one in October at the Daniel Boone Festival in Barbourville and one with the Tennessee team at a time and place to be set in the future.

At the tryouts, each shooter will shoot two targets at 50 yards and two at 25 yards, firing five shots at each target. All shooting will be done offhand, and the flintlock rifles must be equipped with open iron sights. Peep sights will not be allowed.

Shooters are also expected to "load out of the pouch"—that is, to carry their powder, patches, bullets and other necessary equipment with them to the firing line in pouches, frontier style.

There is also a "renegade" team comprised of the second highest 10 shooters. This team, Furnish says, also participates in the competitive shoots and sometimes wins over the first team, so close is the quality of the shooters.

Those who make the team also become members of the Kentucky Corps of Longriflemen, an organization which grew out of a series of competitive shoots with Pennsylvania to settle a friendly dispute over whether the flintlock rifle should be called the "Kentucky" rifle or the "Pennsylvania" rifle. "The fact that nobody talks about a Pennsylvania rifle indicates what the outcome of this contest was," Furnish says.

The Kentucky Corps of Longriflemen, is an official state organization and often represents Kentucky in parades and ceremonies. Each year, the governor, who is the colonel-in-charge of the longriflemen, makes $1,000 available from his contingency funds to help defray expenses for such appearances, according to Furnish.

Registry Suit
Filed in Pike

The Kentucky Registry of Election Finance has filed suit in Pike circuit court against seven individuals who co-signed a promissory note for County Judge-Executive Wayne T. Rutherford in his 1975 race for lieutenant governor.

The Registry asks the court to declare that endorsement of a $125,000 note to Citizens Bank of Pikeville, with eventual payment of sums on that note, constitute violations of laws which limit campaign contributions to $3,000.

The note is the subject of a pending suit by Robert Holcomb against Judge Rutherford. Holcomb seeks to collect one-sixth of the amount, the figure he has paid the bank on the note, from the judge.

The seven are Holcomb, William Deskins, John Jack Adkins, F. M. Burke, Hobart Potter, Terrill Coleman, and Marrs Allen May. Holcomb, in his suit, said all, except Deskins and May, had paid considerable sums on the note. Deskins, a former Pike county sheriff, has refused to pay, saying it would open him to charges from the Registry.

Attorneys for the seven who signed the note contend there was no violation of the Corrupt Practices Act because they had no intention of paying the note, or of their final responsibility for paying it.

QUESTION BOX

The Question Box answers from the Bible to questions from readers. By Pastor Forrest Howe, M Div., Box 462, Allen, Ky.

QUESTION: In the Old Testament when a person died, the author often said that "he... was gathered unto his people" or some similar phrase (see Genesis 49:33). Doesn't this imply that a person continues to live somewhere with his ancestors after he departs this life?

Seventh-day Adventist Church of Prestonsburg.

ANSWER:

To "go to... (one's) fathers in peace" (Genesis 15:15), to be "gathered to" one's people (Genesis 25:8, 17; 49:33) or to one's father's (Judges 2:10), and to sleep with one's fathers (II Kings 10:35) are common Hebrew idiomatic euphemisms to indicate death. This was simply the Hebrew way of saying, "He died."

For example, we might compare the statement of the apostle Paul with that of the apostle Peter regarding the death of David. Paul: David, after he had served the counsel of God in his own generation, FELL ASLEEP, and WAS LAID WITH HIS FATHERS, and saw corruption." Acts 13:36, RSV. Peter: "Brethren, I may say to you confidently of the patriarch

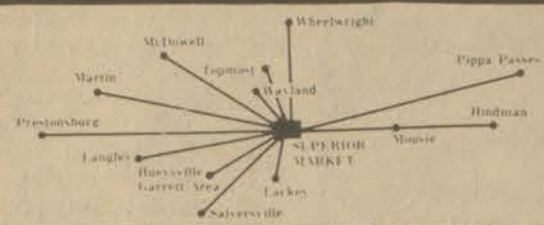

David that he both DIED and WAS BURIED, and his tomb is with us to this day. "For David did not ascend into the heavens" (Acts 2:29, 34, RSV).

In this instance Paul uses euphemistic idioms: "fell asleep," "was laid with his fathers." But Peter on this occasion used plain speech: David "died and was buried." We speak in a similar manner when we say a person "bit the dust" or "she has passed through the door." These Bible euphemisms relate to the acts of dying and burial; they do not imply that life continues on in another form.

Education Officials Confer in Lexington

Superintendent of Public Instruction James B. Graham and representatives of the state Department of Education will meet today (Wednesday) and tomorrow with Eastern and Central Kentucky county school superintendents during four regional meetings in May. They will discuss topics of concern to the local districts, including the Educational Improvement Act and the minimum foundation program.

The meetings are a follow-up to an April meeting with superintendents from across the state. At that meeting, superintendents were asked what topics of concern to the local districts they would like to discuss at a future meeting.

The Educational Improvement Act, including testing programs and plans for remedial training, was most often cited as an area of concern. Bonus units and funding under the foundation program were also topics selected by many superintendents.

Other topics which will be discussed during the two-day meetings will be school calendars, kindergartens, changes in the Kentucky High School Athletic Association, and teachers' salaries.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR administering and enforcing mine safety and health was assumed by the U.S. Labor Department on March 9, 1978.

Teacher Says Senior Trips Worthwhile

Senior classes of McDowell and Allen Central High Schools at Ft. Sumter, South Carolina.

Are senior trips worth the money that is spent and the time that is taken from the regular curriculum? It is if you ask the seniors who go on such trips. Even though it is not listed in any book on curriculum construction, such trips are very educational. It educates the students in the basics of life: how to get along with others, courtesy, and how sacrifices have to be made in life. Each senior makes his-her own money and in many cases some sacrifices have to be made, but in the end one will never hear any complaints about those sacrifices. Generally speaking, those things for which we sacrifice, we esteem very highly.

with other people as they travel. They learn how their rights must end when the other fellow's rights begin. At first they may be shocked at the fact that other people whom they meet could care less about their senior trip, but later they come to realize that other people and other groups have their own goals and wishes. The seniors learn these things by experiencing them and not by being told or reading it from a textbook.

The senior trip gives the teachers and students an opportunity to know each other in ways that could not be possible in the classroom. This sponsor feels that he came to understand and appreciate several students in a way that would never have been possible under normal classroom conditions.

While the McDowell seniors were traveling, they saw two cultural events which were probably the first encounter many students had had with these types of art. In Washington, D.C. they saw The American Dance Machine, a selection of dance numbers from Broadway musicals, and in Orlando, Florida, they saw a stage production of My Fair Lady. From comments made by the senior class, it is evident that they were impressed with these productions. And rightly so! Both productions were superb.

It is gratifying to see the progress that these students make in dealing with the public as the trip continues. Certainly, some students are out of line and do things that shouldn't be done, but they become less and less as the group travels and on the whole, the group learned how to "give and take" with the general public by the end of the trip.

Being a teacher and a parent, I can see the picture from both ends. I would consider it an asset to any child's life if he had the opportunity to make such a trip. A senior year without a senior trip is like a day without sunshine.

AUCKLAND—New Zealand has a relatively new and rapidly expanding meat industry—deer farming. Deer, introduced into New Zealand in the mid-1800s, have multiplied so rapidly that venison exports have become important. About 130 deer farmers have a total of more than 20,000 breeding animals.

Mine Violations Cost $20,000

The Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection collected $20,000 in April from seven coal companies for violations of strip mine regulations.

J. L. Thacker, Inc., of Middlesboro, paid the largest fine, $6,000, for working prior to the issuance of a permit, working within 100 feet of a power line, failing to maintain adequate silt control and working off the permitted area near Fonde in Bell county. The company also started a storage area prior to approval by the department.

Other companies fined were:
 —Cameron Coal Co., $3,000 for failing to maintain adequate silt control, allowing slides to occur, causing material to leave the permitted area and failing to properly seed and mulch the mine site near Piso in Pike county.

—Falcon Coal Co., $3,000 for blasting material off the area permitted for surface mining near Wilstacy in Breathitt county.

—Princess Cindy Mining Co., $2,000 for allowing another company to strip mine a site near Charley in Lawrence county after its surface mining permit had expired.

—GRI Coal Co., $2,000 for failing to properly grade its mine site near Dollar Branch in Leslie county, constructing an unauthorized access road across a hollow and failing to construct a silt structure according to approved plans.

—Savoy Coal Co., $2,000 for failing to construct a silt structure according to approved plans and allowing material over the outcrops of its operation near Woodbine in Whitley county.

—Nally & Gibson Enterprises, $2,000 for allowing water to collect on the bench (flat area cut in mountainsides providing access to coal seams) and cutting mud and water over the outcrops and into a silt structure on its site near Helton in Leslie county.

Farmers Offered Payments To Divert Feed Grain Crops

Floyd county farmers who participate in the 1978 feed grain set-aside program can receive payments for voluntarily diverting additional acreage, J. P. Hill, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee, reported. The regular 10 percent feed grain set-aside provisions remain unchanged.

"The additional diverted acreage must equal 10 percent of the 1978 acreage of each crop of corn planted for harvest," Mr. Hill said. Also the 1978 acreage of each crop may not exceed the 1977 acreage of that crop.

The payment for corn will be 20c per bushel times the farm yield established for corn, times the actual corn acreage planted for harvest.

Hill said farmers will receive one-half the payment when they sign up. "The 1978 acreage of NCA crops, required set-aside, voluntary diversion, and any hay acreage for payment cannot exceed the farm's normal crop acreage," Hill said.

For more information on voluntary diversion of any or all of the feed grain crops, contact the local ASCS office at 886-2802.

Groundbreaking Slated at David

To meet the critical need for housing above the 100-year flood plain, the David Community Development Corporation (DCDC), in conjunction with the Human Economic Appalachian Development Corporation (HEAD), of Berea, are constructing at David a demonstration hillside house on a pole foundation. Funds for the project will come from the Episcopal Church, the United Church of Christ, and the Lutheran Church of America.

Normally, Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Farmers Home Administration's (FmHA) site policy guidelines do not permit construction on steep slopes or where there is difficulty in getting water and sewer. The water for the home is coming from the new water system operated by the David Water District and sewerage will be provided by the biodegradable clevis multrum system, pending HUD approval.

Groundbreaking will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at 10 a.m., near the DCDC office. Attending will be members of the Public-Church Interface group and Assistant Secretary of Rural Development Alex Mercure; Governor Scott, federal co-chairman of the Appalachian Regional Commission; Hal Wilson, executive director of the Housing Assistance Council, and local and state officials.

Weightlifters of the Week

LEE CARTER TOM HASTINGS

Lee Carter, 6-1, 225-pound sophomore, moved up to 285 pounds on the bench this past week. Dewey Layne, 6-1, 198-pound sophomore increased to 265 pounds, while Tom Hastings, 5-11, 170-pound sophomore, went up to 255 pounds on the same lift. Terry Click, 6 foot, 215-pound freshman, added an extra 20 pounds to his maximum military lift and the Black-cat gridders keep right on improving in "the factory." Weight coach Bob Stetson said, "We have some guys who are really improving in strength, speed, and quickness. Of course, these are the ones who have been at it all the way and just don't miss a work-out." He continued, "It seems that we keep mentioning the same players each week, but they are the ones that keep with it. However, I believe we have a few more who are about to get their heads on right, and if they will just start getting after it every day, maybe a few new names will appear."

One That Didn't Get Away

RETIRED TEACHERS MEET

Members of the Floyd County Retired Teachers Association held their regular quarterly meeting Saturday afternoon at the Emma Wells May Cultural Center here. Preceding the meeting, a dessert course was served by Mrs. M. Robert Regan and Mrs. Beatrice Collins, co-hostesses. The president, Mrs. May K. Roberts, presided, and introduced the Rev. Taylor Biggs, pastor of the Community Methodist Church, who gave the devotional. The Rev. Biggs talked of his association with teachers—including his grandmother, and Kentucky's co-poet laureate, Jesse Stuart, who served as principal of the school he once attended. He also reminded the group that Christ was a teacher. Mrs. Roberts then introduced Phillip Price, executive director of the Meals on Wheels program and Bob Meyer, director of the Title VII program. These agencies serve eight senior citizens' groups throughout this area.

Mr. Price said that the primary purpose of his program was to deliver meals to those in need of food, due to age or illness. He stressed the fact that persons may also come to the Meals on Wheels Center here to eat when they desire.

Mr. Meyer told of the varied activities—such as arts and crafts, tours, and recreational facilities—made available by his group, and urged members to take part in these activities. He added that transportation would be furnished, if needed. A question-and-answer period followed Mr. Price's and Mr. Meyer's discussions.

Following the program, Mrs. Norma Stepp, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Anna May Mellon, treasurer, announced that the organization now has 96 paid members, and asked that those who did not pay their dues during Saturday's meeting to mail them to her before July 1.

It was asked that persons knowing of retired teachers who are ill contact Mrs. May K. Roberts or Mrs. Norma S. Stepp, so that cards may be sent to them.

The president, Mrs. Roberts, presented Edgar Bingham, a member of the group, who stressed the need for retired teachers to become more involved in "certain educational policies and situations of the day." Mr. Bingham urged the group to do more writing on matters pertaining to education.

Following his discussion, the president presented another member, Clem Martin. Mr. Martin discussed with the group the importance of recent laws enacted by the Social Security Administration as they affect teachers and other persons at retirement time. He also presented letters prepared by him and Mrs. Martin, to be signed by the members of the organization, and sent to four senators, and to Congressman Carl D. Perkins, asking them to cast their votes for the Waggoner Bill (HR 10533) which will repeal the "offset" provision of the Social Security Bill. The letters were signed by all teachers at the meeting.

Mrs. Roberts announced that the National Retired Teachers' Association will be held at Morehead State University, August 11, and asked that persons wishing to attend this meeting contact her or Mrs. Stepp before that time.

Guests present were the Rev. Taylor Biggs, Phillip Price, Bob Meyer, Mrs. Julia B. Stephens, E. Dick Roberts, Delmas Saunders, and W. H. Martin. One retired teacher, Mrs. Hattie Reedy, attended her first meeting, Saturday. Members in attendance were Mesdames Hattie Reedy, Anna May Mellon, Norma S. Stepp, Victoria M. Spradlin, Grace Conley, Opal S. May, Ethel Ratliff, Edith M. Hopkins, May K. Roberts, Docia B. Woods, Minnie Grace Sutherland, Lucy C. Regan, Edna Saunders, Nora Martin, Lola P. Ousley, Beatrice Collins, Rhoda M. Howard, and Rozella H. Lewis; Messrs Clem Martin, Edgar Bingham, and Wayne Ratliff.

The next meeting will be held Saturday, August 12, at the Emma Wells May Cultural Center. A pot-luck dinner will be held at 12 o'clock. All Floyd County Retired teachers are urged to attend.

Engagement Announced

The engagement of Miss Brenda Carol Calhoun and Mr. Gordon Edward Fitch is being announced. Miss Calhoun is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Green Calhoun, of Dwale, and Mr. Fitch is the son of Mrs. Julia Fitch, and the late Andy Fitch, of Lancer.

The wedding will be solemnized May 19 at 7 p.m. at the Lancer Baptist church. The custom of open church will be observed.

Women of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church met at the home of their president, Mrs. Julia Curtis, Monday evening, May 1. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Janice Pack. The minutes of the April meeting were read by Mrs. Helen Clark, secretary, and approved. In the absence of Mrs. Julia Harrington, Mrs. Pat Minns gave the treasurer's report. At the conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. Curtis welcomed new members, Mrs. Linda Mulford, and Mrs. Janice Pack, and a guest, Mrs. Ann Alley. Mrs. Lois Williams, program leader, presented Mrs. Clay Mulford, who showed slides and gave an informative report on the B.S.U. trip sponsored by her and her husband to Oklahoma last year. Sound Happenings

By COEY HARRIS
Bob Seger Destroys Lexington, Ky. !!!!

A blinding magnetic force of rock 'n roll struck Lexington, Ky. in the Civic Center area Saturday night, April 29. Casualties ranged in the area of 17-18,000 music fans that were gathered in Rupp Arena. The more serious cases involved blown minds, erratic handclapping, uncontrollable screaming especially of the words "more" and "alright", and spastic body movements known as "dancing in the aisles." Lesser casualties dealt with acute stages of excitement and stunned looks of disbelief or admiration. After extensive research, the Federal Commission on Rock 'n Roll Control identified the force as Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band. The force was made up of individuals such as Bob Seger, the apparent leader, as lead vocalist and occasional operator of a piano and an acoustic guitar. Alto Reed played a saxophone while flying over the audience spinning 360 degree circles. Charles A. Martin particularly worried the Federal Commission as his drum playing was so powerful they feared the force has declared war. Drew Abbott flashed his weapon (lead guitar) before the legions and is believed to be the main factor in the blowing of minds. Robyn Robbins was thought to be a possible weak point through which the Commission could enter and split the force but they were disappointed when his keyboards produced hard rock 'n roll sounds and was the focal point of the more mellow songs. Chris Campbell's bass forced the Commission's appearance during the incident to be terminated prematurely, as his low, rhythmic tones solidified the force's sound. However, some members of the Commission became mystified with the voice and physical aura of the group's new member, Shawn Murphy, and found it difficult to leave. The force added more kick to their charismatic effect by announcing the new album is due to be released in two weeks or less and then played three cuts from the album. The crowd had to be debriefed as it took two encores before they could leave. The force will be further penetrating into this area in approximately 1 1/2-2 weeks. Keep an eye on your local record shops for Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band's album. Join the legions of infested rock 'n rollers, find true rock 'n roll bliss by seeking the album and sacrificing the funds for it.

CONCERTS:
Lexington—May 29—Jefferson Starship, Rupp Arena.

Foreigner—May 10—Coliseum, Knoxville, Tenn.; May 11—Civic Center, Roanoke, Va.; May 12—Freedom Hall, Johnson City, Tenn.; May 13—Civic Center, Charleston, W. Va.; May 14—Civic Center, Wheeling, W. Va.

Foghat—May 18—Civic Center, Roanoke, Va.; May 18—Coliseum, Greensboro, N. C.; May 21—Civic Center, Charleston, W. Va.

Country music seems to be planting some seeds (singles) for a powerful harvest. Hank Williams, Jr. with Jackson Browne's "You'll Love the Thunder" is climbing the chart. After "Feeling Better" and "New South" from the "New South" album this new album should be a definite second step to success in Williams' new style. Dave & Sugar has a new song "Gonna Have to Quit Looking at You Baby," which is probably only a taste or another hit album from these folks. After having five hit singles from his "Love Is Just A Game" album, Larry Gatlin also has a new single "Night Time Magic." If this is the beginning of another album that has been designed to top the last one, watch out! Bobbie Gentry, after having "Ode to Billy Joe" made into a movie, has reappeared with a new single "Steal Away." Sterling Whipple and Rayburn Anthony are coming forward with their singles "Dirty Work" and "Maybe I Should've Been Listenin'", respectively. "The man who whispered his way into country music and sang his way out" (CMA Awards, 1976), none other than Bill Anderson, is whispering again and beautifully so with "I Can't Wait Any Longer."

FLASH!!! Country superstar George Jones is coming to Betsy Layne! Saturday, June 3 is the date—8 p.m. is the showtime. The show is to be held in the Betsy Layne High School gym, with one show only. George will be featuring Jennifer O'Brien who will be fronting the act as well as singing Tammy's part on the duets with George. It seems her specialty is yodeling; the lady is talented. If you are a C&W fan, don't miss this show!!!

Until next week, be cool.
Coe.

Stumbo Transfers From P'burg Office To Versailles Post

Last Wednesday was Jack Stumbo's last day as Prestonsburg postmaster. Two days later, he began work as postmaster at Versailles.

Mr. Stumbo, who was first appointed acting postmaster here Dec. 30, 1965 and given the permanent appointment May 19, 1967, said he made the transfer because it meant a promotion, with increased salary. The Versailles postoffice had postal receipts of $2,139,508.98 last year and employs 20 persons, the U.S. Postal Service reported.

Hubert Frye, postmaster at Martin, was named officer-in-charge at the postoffice here until the vacancy is filled. During Mr. Frye's service here Dick Wohlford is serving as acting postmaster at Martin. Frye has been postmaster at Martin since the death of Postmaster Denzil Stumbo.

Announcement of Stumbo's appointment to the Versailles office was made by John P. Doran, regional postmaster general for the 13-state Central region. Doran said that postmasters are selected on merit, based on recommendations by a management selection board, and are appointed by the postmaster general. Senate confirmation of appointments is no longer required.

Prior to his tenure as postmaster here, Stumbo was a member of the Prestonsburg High School faculty and for a time was football coach at the school. He is a son of Mrs. Henry Stumbo, of Prestonsburg, and the late Judge Stumbo.

His wife, the former Sallye Hill, is health planner for the five-county Big Sandy Area Development District, and is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Edward P. Hill, of Frankfort. She and their son, David, will remain here till the end of the present school term.

NEWPORT'S MUPPETS TO BE AT CHURCH HERE

Jim Newport, of the Salyersville Christian Church along with his well-known muppet show will be at the First Christian Church, 429 N. Arnold Ave. here, Sunday, May 14 at 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome to come and enjoy this special service.

Worker Claims Discrimination Cost Her Post

The climb of William J. Reynolds, III, formerly of Allen, as a state employee continues to be dogged by litigation, although he no longer is with the state.

While district manager here for the Bureau of Manpower Services his appointment to the post was attacked by other employees who contended that better qualified workers were not considered.

That situation was cleared in July, 1975 when Reynolds resigned to become district manager of the Lexington office.

But his appointment there has since been challenged by a former McDowell woman, Maggie Williams, 39, who is work incentive supervisor of the Lexington office. Mrs. Williams claims that she was entitled to the manager's post but was passed over in favor of Reynolds as a matter of sex discrimination.

Now, the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission at Memphis, Tenn. has reportedly ruled in her favor, and Mrs. Williams estimates she is due up to $12,000, the difference between what she has been paid and what she would have drawn as district manager.

But Robert Riley, chief counsel for the Human Resources agency, said, "This case is very much in the preliminary stage" and that the department is making no admissions whatever.

"The (federal agency) has not made any formal finding of discrimination and we have certainly not agreed to any conciliation or settlement of her claim," he said.

Mrs. Williams, who has pushed her case for the past two years, indicated she considers the federal finding a victory and that an aide on the commission has told her as much indirectly.

Ed DeShazer, commissioner of the manpower bureau in which Mrs. Williams works, said he also has never acknowledged any wrongdoing by the state.

All he has done so far, DeShazer said, is assure federal officials that Mrs. Williams would not be discriminated against in any way while the case is being resolved.

Mrs. Williams first took her complaint to the Kentucky Commission on Human Rights, where she relates that an aide told her:

"This is not a case of sex discrimination. It's a case of political discrimination and out of our jurisdiction."

Mrs. Williams asserted she was the victim of both sex and political bias because the man promoted was the son of former state Rep. William J. Reynolds, who Mrs. Williams described in a complaint filed within the department in 1976 as "a powerful political figure in this state."

Reynolds was the House Democratic caucus chairman in the 1974 session and decided not to seek re-election. His son, after promotion, left the state post.

In her complaint to the federal commission, Mrs. Williams mentioned only sex discrimination.

The commission's preliminary findings agree that Reynolds did not possess the necessary minimum qualifications for promotion and that Mrs. Williams had considerably more education and work experience.

It noted that of 14 district program managers in the state agency, only three are women.

But the federal commission said it has made no determination of Mrs. Williams' additional complaint that certain state job classifications are segregated by sex. It made a finding only on promotion.

Mrs. Williams said that if the state fails to meet what she considers its promotion and financial obligations, "I expect to pursue the matter in court."

Appear in Stage Show Here Recently

Appearing here recently at the Strand Theatre were Miss Gina Burrus and Miss Charlotte Carr, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Goble, of Prestonsburg. They are shown above with some of the many trophies they have won.

Miss Charlotte Carr and Miss Gina Burrus recently made their stage debut at the Strand Theatre here. The 30-minute stage show was well received by the audience of 175 people. The show included song and dance and a baton exhibition. On April 15 at Mullins High School in Pike county, Miss Carr and Miss Burrus won many honors beginning with Charlotte Carr being named Queen of the Day and going on to place first in seven of nine events entered and second in both remaining events. Miss Burrus placed first in all events entered and was named Grand Champion of the Day.

On April 22, Miss Carr continued to win in Van Buren, Ohio, where she entered the 1978 Spring Twirl-O-Rama. Being named Miss Springs Sweetheart was the highlight of the day for her, and she also placed first in advanced military strut, advanced fancy strut, advanced solo twirl, and was named Mid-America Princess. This was a national qualifying contest with the winner of each age division going on to D.M.A. Nationals in early August in North Carolina. Miss Carr, also the same day, placed first in both fancy best appearing and military best appearing. She also took both costume design.

District Baseball Tourney To Begin This Week at Drift

The climax of the county's high school baseball season will get under way in the form of the Floyd County District Baseball Tournament scheduled to begin this week at the Drift Stadium.

Although the tourney was to begin Tuesday with a game between Betsy Layne and McDowell, a spokesman for the McDowell high school athletic department said the game would probably be postponed due to soggy field conditions which have resulted from recent rain.

The winner of the Betsy Layne-McDowell game will play the Allen Central Rebels team in the second contest of the tournament and the third game will pit the Wheelwright Trojans against the Prestonsburg Blackcats.

Umpires for the tourney are Steve Butcher and David Butcher.

Additional information concerning game postponements or revisions may be obtained by calling 377-6702.

Participants at the workshops will be asked to provide recommendations to the ORBC concerning the problems. County Judges Asked To Give Status Reports County judges in coal-producing counties will be asked to submit status reports on all coal severance funded projects under 1974 law. Department for Local Government staff has been directed to request the reports by members of the legislative advisory committee for coal county development funds.

Concerns of the legislators resulted from complaints issued by residents who said that projects approved as much as two years ago had not been started yet.

This money continues to draw interest as long as it remains unexpended, but legislators have said inflation rates far outweigh interest income.

Coal county development funds represent the first money allocated to the counties from the coal severance tax levied in 1974. Coal tax legislation of 1976 and 1978 has changed the method by which counties secure funds.

A balance of $975,930.56 remains uncommitted in the 1974 money as of March 31. Allocations have totaled $55,617,528.70, of which $9,054,363.74 has been allocated to projects but is not yet spent.

U.S. MILK OUTPUT INCREASES

WASHINGTON—U.S. milk production in 1977 totaled about 123.2 billion pounds, up 2.4 percent from 1976. Last year's output was the highest since 1965's 124.2 billion pounds.

Tribute to Judge Stumbo

Judge Henry Stumbo, friend to the elderly, a position he filled with marked ability, dignity and honor. We are not thinking today of the work he did for the Senior Citizens and he did a tremendous amount of work; we are remembering what a genial soul he was, so nearly akin to the sorrows and loves of life that he could ever listen to the talk of a man, separate and keep the good grain, and "with the breath of kindness, blow the chaff away." So we loved him. He was never unkind and was ever courteous. His wonderful gift of friendship to the poor and aged people of Floyd county gave him an honored position not only in his chosen way of life, but in the hearts of all of us.

ALCOHOL DISPLAY at Alice Lloyd College's annual Health Fair gave alcohol information, pamphlets and interesting drinking facts to those throughout the region who participated in the fair recently. MCCC's Alcohol and Drug Program Director Stephen Knowles, left, explains the alcoholism display to some youngsters. At right little Tonia Hale, daughter of Durward and Bonnie Hale, of Prestonsburg, makes a point to share her knowledge of the display.

Senior Citizens Told Dangers of Drugs Use

"Drugs aren't bad when used for their prescribed purpose, but any drug can be abused," Mountain Comprehensive Care's Drug Supervisor Nancy Thomas recently told a group of Floyd county senior citizens.

An interested assembly at the George P. Archer Senior Citizens Center spent a rainy Wednesday afternoon listening to a presentation on drug abuse and dependence among the elderly in the county. "Your mobility is limited," Mrs. Thomas said, "and there could become a tendency to try to cope with pills."

She added that through a needs assessment survey taken two years ago it was found that in this area we have a problem with legal drugs, as well as street drugs. Over-the-counter, prescribed drugs are abused and present a dangerous problem.

With positive proof that Floyd county and surrounding area have drug problems, as shown by the drug survey taken in area high schools, hospitals, and pharmacies, the drug program at Mountain Comprehensive Care Center was initiated.

"There's a difference in drug abuse and dependence," Mrs. Thomas explained. "Abuse is using the drug other than in the manner in which it is intended, and dependence is something much different. The body needs the drug so much that it cannot function without it, or we just think we can't."

She stressed to the senior audience the importance of taking drugs as prescribed, explaining that body chemistries vary among individuals and that there is a danger in exchanging medicines. "The danger in sharing medication is like playing doctor. The correct dosage is not known."

She said using medication, particularly antibiotics, at least two days should be allowed before the medicine begins to take effect, since the body works to rid itself of the drug.

"When you are not sure about any aspect of the medication, call your pharmacist," she stressed.

"When I was growing up we had alcohol, beer and wine to experiment with. The youth today has added pills," she remarked. "Nobody starts out to be a drug addict or alcoholic, but it can start by depending on drugs to be social instead of trying to be social by yourself."

The speaker commended the Archer Center and other senior citizen facilities for the daily interaction between the participants. "As we get older our bodies wear out and under stressful situations, such as losing loved ones, the mind is still the same but there is a need to adjust in finding short cuts to do things which were easier done before."

Center Director Patsy Evans, then into her fifth week as the supervisor, said that special programs such as the drug presentation are planned almost every day.

"Senior citizens are those over 60 who may come daily to the Center to enjoy themselves. If they want to relax, play cards, quilt, etc.—they are invited to do so," Mrs. Evans explained.

"We have a singing choir where they can participate, plan to go on picnics. Trips to Nashville's Grand Ole Opry and attending a Governor's Conference are scheduled," she added. "Anyone is invited to come and see all the things we are doing."

"Meals on Wheels serves a hot meal each day, which costs only 50 cents; nowhere else can you get a meal for that price!" she said.

It does sound appealing.

VA Advice for Vets Is Made Available

The Veterans Administration has announced financial counseling services available without charge to veterans who fall behind in payments on their VA-guaranteed home mortgages.

Mary Sinders, director of the VA regional office at Louisville, urged all veteran home owners to take advantage of the free financial counseling. "This new emphasis on person-to-person help could make a difference between successful home ownership and a veteran losing his home," she said.

The agency seeks to help veterans plan family budgets so they can keep current with their home mortgage payments.

Counseling services are available in the Louisville regional office. Appointments may be arranged by calling, toll-free, 1-800-292-4562 from any location in the state except the Lexington area, where 1-800-253-0566 must be used.

TALKING ABOUT ALCOHOL

A Public Service Feature
Presented By
Mountain Comprehensive Care Center

By A. K. WEBB

Public Information Specialist

Living with an alcoholic—can you stand the disappointment, financial burden of his increased drinking, and heartache of a crumbling marriage?

Wondering how the wife copes with alcoholism frustration, and after interviewing local spouses it was concluded the first priority is deciding if you love the alcoholic husband enough to go the limit in cementing the family together.

Mountain Comprehensive Care Center's Alcohol Program Director Stephen Knowles says he receives frequent calls from families declaring they will do everything to keep the alcoholic sober. Knowles says he "questions how sincere they are and reiterates 'would they be willing to do anything'."

In each alcoholic marriage observed the wives, intent on fixing families and living with the alcoholic, finalized, "Yes, I'll make the needed adjustments."

These women had long since stopped nagging husbands about drinking and hiding liquor supplies, thinking it would stop the problem (these actions sometimes made them feel better but the situation got worse).

Don't get the wrong idea. They don't support drinking and are firmly convinced destruction strikes when the alcoholic takes even the initial drink, holding to the philosophy "one drink is too much and a truck load is not enough". They understand, many who after years of playing the lead role in dilemmas of the alcoholic marriage, that they cannot force the alcoholic to halt drinking. They learned patience. And then more patience. Weren't discouraged when progress was slow. Did not expect immediate personal and family adjustments and tried to keep themselves content and serene one hour at a time.

Too long, most of these ladies agree, marital tug of war with alcohol as the rope shredded their lives. Metamorphosis occurred in obtaining skills producing a normal home life as possible, regardless of the alcoholic's drinking or not drinking.

No longer possible to think of alcoholism as if it involves the alcoholic exclusively. Others in the family are affected. Treatment, therefore, of the family as well as the alcoholic is advisable and usually necessary for the complete and sustained recovery of the problem drinker.

A Floyd county woman whose husband has been sober for years, explains that she was as sick as her drinking husband. "I was miserable and irritable because of his drinking and at other times jumpy when he was sober, waiting for the next drunk."

A Pike countian shared that she feels like a yoyo with the cyclic drinking behavior of her spouse. When he is sober she relates a somewhat normal lifestyle, but then come headaches with the drinking episodes.

In counseling, wives learn to let go. They are not to blame for the husbands' drinking, although many alcoholics convince themselves and the wife she's causing the trouble for his drinking.

Learning to accept alcoholism as an illness reduces family tension and encourages the alcoholic to seek treatment for his own problem.

A new life for you, the partner of the alcoholic. For further information, write Alcohol, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653, or call toll free 1-800-422-1060.

It took astronauts about three days to get to the moon; at that rate, it would take 878,000 years to reach the closest star, Proxima Centauri.

Her Garden, Then and Now

"Did you have a garden?" asked the visitor.

"In a way," was the reply. "A little bit here, a bit there and other bits everywhere."

Tomatoes bloomed along with zinnias and marigolds, cabbage made strange foliage for tea roses and lettuce made a flower planter on a patio the brightest green spot around. The tomatoes didn't make it. Brave and green at first with their tiny yellow star-bloom by day almost as bright as star pinpoints at night, the stems and foliage gradually turned down and lifeless, and no amount of Tender Loving Care stemmed the demise.

But this is another year, another spring, another gardening season. If parents and grandparents could create lush, profitable tablefare from a patch of earth, why not their children and grandchildren? The good Kentucky soil is there, awaiting the plow and sweating brow. But who is there to drop the seeds? And where is Patience?

Many women are gardeners. For some, it might be a holdover from days when a woman was half of an Indian marriage, she agreeing to cook and raise corn and vegetables while he assumed duties of building a wigwam, hunting and fishing.

From the wedding day when they placed forefingers side by side, looked one another in the eye and smiled (meaning "I do") or wrapped themselves in one blanket, the contract was made. She would cook and garden; he would build, hunt and fish. Does it matter that he, once the teepee was raised, could devote his time to hunting and fishing?

She planted and cultivated corn to get their bread. When the blades were still green, the ears of corn were gathered, the corn mashed and ladled into the blades, wrapped and baked in ashes. Later in the season, corn was pounded in a stone basin—mortar and pestle fashion—sifted, kneaded and shaped into cakes about six inches in diameter and an inch thick, then baked on clean ashes of oak bark.

When he decided it was time to mix a bear or deer steak with the garden stuff, he went into the forests to hunt. If he was to be gone a while or if his trip was the warrior trail rather than food for the table he carried a pouch of parched corn. The corn grains had been roasted, pounded into a fine flour and mixed with sugar. On the trail all he had to do was mix one tablespoonful with water and his meal was ready. He knew never to eat more than one spoonful, for once in the stomach the corn mixture swelled and as much as two servings could be dangerous.

She got her sugar from cane or sugar maples. She collected sap from the trees and poured it into troughs hewed from trees with tomahawks. She heated stones and threw the hot stones in the sap until the liquid was reduced to sugar or syrup.

How important was her garden? Principal foods were corn, potatoes, beans (many varieties), pumpkins, cucumbers, melons, squashes, cabbages and turnips. To supplement the diet she gleaned fruits, nuts and berries in season and edible roots of other plants.

A favorite pottage was made from corn, pumpkin, beans, chestnuts and chunks of bear, deer or turkey. She made preserves from berries and crabapples together with maple sugar, and if she was late with dinner she shortened cooking time by covering the pot with large pumpkin or cabbage leaves.

She provided two meals a day. Some days all he got was corn soup. She had to be cautious, though, for if the corn soup became too frequent he could get dissatisfied.

A garden today is becoming as necessary as it was back then. Growing something to eat is challenging. Creative. Therapeutic. And remember, if tomatoes won't make it with the zinnias, try cabbage or potatoes. Just make sure there are some zinnias.

C.B. Club News

By HOMER DOBSON

Garrett has become known to C.B.'ers as C. B. City because of the many C.B. radios and C.B.'ers in town.

The Bluegrass C.B. Club was organized April 30 at Garrett. The first meeting was at 5 p.m. in the Garrett Elementary School building. During this meeting by-laws were presented, officials were elected and committee directors appointed.

Elected officials are: "Red Pick-Up," president; "Star Trek," vice-president; "Mayflower," treasurer, and "Lazybones," secretary.

Committee directors appointed by the president are: "The Smoke Blower," publicity; "Runabout," recreation and entertainment, and "Scout Boy," community affairs.

Helping organize and joining the club were many well known C.B.'ers.

The purpose of the club is to unite one organization with the intent to use citizen band radio to help the people of the community and in surrounding areas in any way possible, to further the enjoyment of local C.B.'ers by coming together to discuss ways of bettering local use of citizen band radio.

The club will meet every two weeks. The next meeting will be Sunday May 14. The club monitors channel 1.

Special thanks from the club goes to "Lazybones" for the fine job she did in writing up the by-laws for the club and for the help with this article.

In the Middle Ages it was against the law to tie knots during a wedding ceremony.

Coal Industry Crime Probe Results in Arrest of Five

A state "strike force" for investigation of organized crime activity in Kentucky's coal industry has so far resulted in the arrest of five men, with more arrests anticipated, Gov. Julian Carroll said last week.

In a May 3 press conference Carroll said the strike force is "finding and recovering a substantial amount of stolen property" used in coal mining. But he said the criminal activity is not limited to property theft, and that securities fraud is also a major problem that could have a major impact on the state's coal industry and Kentucky's total economy.

A letter from Gov. Carroll to U.S. Attorney General Griffin Bell, dated May 2, states that stolen property worth $868,000 has been recovered by state law enforcement officials. In that letter the governor recommends the establishment of a joint federal-state strike force to combat criminal activity in the coal fields.

Gov. Carroll said evidence indicates that the persons engaged in organized criminal activity are, for the most part, nonresidents of Kentucky. He said all five arrests were made outside the state. A warrant has been issued for a sixth suspect, but he has not yet been taken into custody, the Governor said.

Two of the men were charged with obscuring identification numbers on machinery; one for receiving stolen property; one for damaging mortgaged property; one for theft by deception and one for theft by unlawful taking. The sixth suspect is wanted for conspiracy to commit bank fraud.

The Governor said, "This is not an attack on the legitimate coal industry in Kentucky, but rather to protect that industry from criminal elements seeking to infiltrate that industry. Most of our people in the coal industry are honest, legitimate businessmen."

Outlining the method used by the criminals for securities fraud, the governor said the men would gain an option from coal operators on leases or the coal company itself. The men would then take the option document and sell it repeatedly to different investors.

After gaining funds from the multiple sale of the option, the men would return to the operator and buy the lease or company. The lease or company sale document then would be circulated among investors, with the intent again to be the fraudulent multiple sale of the lease or company.

Gov. Carroll also said certain illegitimate operators would gain a permit for deep mining and would then begin strip mining the site. When the state would start proceedings to stop the illegal mining activity, the operators would continue their mining, but would soon close down the site, often abandoning rented equipment.

He said these operators would take all the money earned by the company without paying the state severance taxes on coal.

The state strike force was created by Gov. Carroll in November 1977. The force is comprised of investigators from the Kentucky State Police and personnel from the Secretary of State's office and departments of revenue, natural resources, justice, labor and securities.

Those who have been arrested:

Clarence E. Kirkland, 30, of Colquitt, Ga., arrested last November, fined $500 and served time in the Whitley county jail. Kirkland was charged with obscuring the identity of a machine, (changing the identification number), a misdemeanor.

Richard Lee Thacker, 31, of West Liberty, was arrested in March on a charge of theft by deception, involving writing a bad check for heavy coal mining machinery, a felony. The court allowed Thacker to make restitution and not serve time.

James Knight, 35, of Corbin, on a charge of damaging mortgaged property, a felony.

The case is pending in Whitley circuit court.

Peter Francis Crosby, 55, of New York City, on a warrant from New York federal court for conspiracy to commit bank fraud, a felony.

Curtis Banks, 50, of Whitesburg, on two counts of obscuring identity of machines, misdemeanors.

Robert Stevens, 38, of Noctor, Ky., on one count of receiving stolen property and one of theft by unlawful taking, both felonies.

Why all-nitrate nitrogen in Chilean 15-0-14 and Bulldog Soda can produce more profit per acre than other nitrogen fertilizers.

Almost 50% of all tobacco is sidedressed with Chilean 15-0-14 and Bulldog Soda.

The reason is shown in the above photo of tobacco 6 weeks after transplanting in fumigated soil. Tobacco at left was sidedressed with Chilean all-nitrate nitrogen fertilizer, tobacco at right with ammonium nitrogen.

This big difference can make a big increase in your profit this year.

Chilean is the ideal tobacco fertilizer because it's 100% nitrate nitrogen—the only desirable form of nitrogen that's immediately available to tobacco plants, even in acid, cold, wet or fumigated soils.

Because Bulldog Soda or Chilean 15-0-14 go right to work, your young tobacco plants get started faster. You can also expect early, uniform maturity and excellent color.

Tests show that as the percentage of nitrate nitrogen in fertilizer increases from 0 to 100%, tobacco yields and profits increase substantially also—especially in fumigated soils.

This year, assure yourself a better profit by using Chilean nitrate of soda-potash 15-0-14 or Bulldog nitrate of soda.

KEA Requests Probe Of Teacher Cutoff

Kentucky Education Association (KEA) president Wayne Harvey has asked Governor Carroll to investigate reports of large-scale teacher cuts next year by superintendents and school boards.

Noting that dismissal notices have already gone out to many teachers, Harvey wrote the Governor: "This is an alarming situation, and one that is difficult for parents, students, and teachers to understand in view of the major increases in school funding that will come from your executive budget approved by the 1978 General Assembly."

"They are well aware that the governor has allocated more dollars for education than ever before in this state," Harvey told Carroll. "Why then, they ask, are teaching staffs being reduced and educational programs eliminated?"

The KEA president said the situation "calls for an immediate and thorough investigation from the highest level of state government—the governor's office." The KEA Executive Committee, Harvey wrote, urges the governor to initiate such an investigation so the facts can be known.

A State Department of Education official confirmed that reductions in teaching staffs are heavier than in previous years. But the precise number is unknown since there is no centralized record keeping on the matter by the education department.

One of the worst situations is in Barren county, where the superintendent recommended and the board approved the reduction of 22 teachers.

In Hopkins county the elimination of 10 teachers has brought outcries from parent-teacher groups and The (Madisonville) Messenger. In an editorial titled "Teacher Cuts Questioned," the newspaper asked, "Are we going forward or backward in education?"

Some other reported dismissals of teachers: Paducah, 16; Marshall county, 18; Henderson county, approximately 20; Breckinridge county, 13; Grayson county, 6;

Marion county, 4; Jefferson county, 25; Bowling Green, 21; Butler county, 5; Harrison county, 18; McCracken county, 3; Pulaski county, 25; Daviess county, 15; Adair county, approximately 15. The list is by no means complete or up to date, since some numbers keep fluctuating, KEA said.

(Floyd county has proposed an "across-the-board" cut in personnel, including teachers and administrative staff.)

Author Who Still Stays in Hills To Receive Honors This Month

James Still, well-known author from Wolfpen Creek, Knott county, will be honored with two awards this month. On May 9 he will receive the special Weatherford Award, an honor which recognizes outstanding literary achievements in Appalachia. This award pays tribute to his career as an author of books dealing with life in Eastern Kentucky. Wilma Dykeman, a member of the Weatherford Award Committee and an author from Newport, Tenn., will present the award to Mr. Still at a special luncheon in Berea.

Mr. Still will be honored again at the May 12 commencement ceremonies at Morehead State University when he will receive an honorary doctor's degree. This will be Mr. Still's fourth honorary degree, having received earlier honors from Cumberland College, Berea College and Lincoln Memorial University. Mr. Still has taught at Morehead State University, as well as at Berea College and Ohio University.

Mr. Still was also recently honored by the board of directors of the Hindman Settlement School. In appreciation of his many years of service to the school, the board voted unanimously to name the former library at the Settlement the James Still Building. A special dedication ceremony will take place in August during the Appalachian Writers Workshop that is being held at the school.

Born in Alabama in 1906, Mr. Still studied at Lincoln Memorial University, the University of Illinois, and Vanderbilt University. With special training in library science he came to Hindman in 1932. He came with the intention of working at the school only one summer, but found himself so involved with the school's library program that he stayed. While serving as school librarian, Mr. Still devoted much of his energy to personal contact with the library's public. He carried boxes of books from one isolated country school to the next, seeing that each child had the chance to read. While he walked, he observed and remembered the people, customs, and dialects of the people in the hollows and ridges of Knott county. These long hikes with their quiet observations became the basis of much of his later writings.

Mr. Still's first book was a collection of poems, "Hounds on the Mountain" (1937), which was written in his first years in the hills. He is also the author of the classic novel, "River of Earth" (1940), which won the Southern Authors' Award, and is scheduled to be republished this year by the University of Kentucky Press. His short stories and poems have been published in such magazines as "Atlantic Monthly" and "Saturday Evening Post". He has compiled two collections of short stories: "On Troublesome Creek" (1941) and "Pattern of a Man" (1976). His children's books have ranged from a novel about a Kentucky boy growing up in the depression, "Sporty Creek" (1977), to collections of mountain humor: "Way Down Yonder on Troublesome Creek" (1974) and "The Wolfpen Rusties" (1975). His most recent book is the delightful "Jack and the Wonder Beans," a mountain child's rendition of the entertaining Jack and the Beanstalk story.

Mr. Still continues to make his home on Dead Mare Branch of Wolfpen Creek, but he also spends a considerable amount of his time at the Hindman Settlement School where he is helping to catalogue the schools archives.

Although, Mr. Still was born and raised hundreds of miles away from the Kentucky hills, there is no question that this is his home. There is perhaps no one who can better capture the special qualities of mountain life than James Still. A reviewer of Sporty Creek wrote that "Still knows the area, and the very air and sounds and feel of Appalachia rise out of his novel."

Official Is Suspect In Area Crime Probe

Kentucky Secretary of Justice John Smith said Friday an elected official in Eastern Kentucky is apparently "intimately involved" with efforts by organized crime figures to take over the Eastern Kentucky coalfields.

The Lexington Herald reported that Smith, interviewed after the taping of a television interview program in Lexington, said a state strike force is "investigating this official and an indictment may very well come out of the investigation."

Smith would not name the official, but said charges against him could involve bribery and corruption.

Smith is directing about a dozen state employees investigating the infiltration of organized crime into the coalfields. The work of this strike force has already led to the arrest of eight persons, four of them Kentuckians, on various charges.

The secretary said he expects the next group of indictments in the case to emerge within 60 days. He would not say whether these indictments would include the elected official.

The official in question is so far the only elected official in Kentucky potentially implicated in the case.

Smith said the next series of indictments will probably involve "more substantial charges" than the ones already released.

The secretary suggested the future work of the strike force will involve corporate-type activity.

"Some persons are coming into the state, never organizing, never incorporating themselves under the laws of our state, coming in and giving false credentials, coming in and using assets from companies that have been bled dry by organized crime," Smith said during the taping of WLEX-TV's Your Government program.

"If these people have never incorporated themselves or if they are not doing business, as that phrase means under the statutes of Kentucky, that gives law enforcement a rough time. And that is going to be the thrust of where we're going now," Smith added.

Smith defined organized crime as consisting of "two or more people who are organized together, trying to carry out a criminal conspiracy." He added those under investigation "have come from different organized-crime backgrounds and have connections with different organized-crime figures, and they come from New York, Pennsylvania, the West, the South."

According to the secretary, Kentucky has not had "that permeation at all levels of government, business and industry and labor like they've had in a lot of other states."

Officials got their first inkling of the problem "about a year and a half ago," Smith said. "One of the first things that led us to it was a series of murders where some men with coal-related backgrounds were found murdered in Eastern Kentucky, and one in Virginia."

This was followed, Smith said, by "complaints coming in to the division of banking and securities" of Kentucky. For four to six months state officials sought to handle the problem "by assigning some state police detectives to work with the division of banking and securities."

Now, the strike force is beginning with lower-level figures in hopes of working up the top, Smith said.

The murders, Smith said, "have not resulted in any arrests," but were definite hints of the presence of organized crime.

"One of the reasons why we organized the strike force was, all of a sudden we found eyewitnesses drying up, not wanting to talk," Smith recalled. "That was a signal to me that someone was putting a lot of pressure on these people, and was an indication that possibly a criminal element was trying to hide the truth of what had happened."

Return from Germany

S-SG Phillip (Thurman) Hall, his wife, Betty and their 14-year-old son, Decourse, returned home April 18 from a three-year tour of duty in Balmhoulder, Germany.

S-SG Hall has 16 years of service with the Army, recently completing his second three-year duty tour in Germany. He is currently a supply sergeant and attends night school in computer programming. His next duty station will be Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He is the son of Mrs. Coreen Hall Mullett, of Weeksbury.

East Point Area Club Talks Road Condition

The East Point Area Development Club met May 5. Mrs. Lenore Gullett, of Paintsville, was guest-speaker. Her topic was about senior citizens whom she refers to as her "girls and boys," and the facilities that are available to them—low-cost meals, scenic and educational tours, arts and crafts, free bus service and others. A question-and-answer session followed her talk.

Quart jars and sugar have been contracted. A new eight foot fluorescent light has been installed in the kitchen, and painting around the windows and the apple butter shed have been completed. A skating party and wiener roast will be scheduled later.

The road breaks on Abbott Mountain and the condition of the East Point bridge were discussed. Each family is asked to call the State Highway Department and complain.

By the next meeting, marigolds will be planted in the club's flower boxes.

Waterlines are being laid from Hager Hill up Jenny's Creek and eventually to East Point. Hopefully, waterline construction will start in June on Little Paint.

The county judging of development clubs will be May 28 for the rural non-farm clubs.

A meeting on the planting, raising and preparation of summer squash will be scheduled later this month.

The Floyd county annual cleanup of the Little Paint area, from the top of Abbott Mountain to East Point, including Rt. 1428 and all side roads, will be May 10 and 11. Everyone is urged to join in the effort by picking up refuse, especially along the roadsides, placing it in plastic bags, sacks, or boxes and placing the containers alongside the roads where county trucks will be able to pick them up on Thursday, May 11.

The meeting adjourned and refreshments of coffee, soft drinks and strawberry shortcake were served. The next regular meeting will be the first Thursday in June.

KNA District 11 Meeting

KNA District 11 will meet May 18 at Prestonsburg Community College at 7 p.m. in the Pike Technology building, Room 207. The business meeting will present the draft of the revised by-laws and a vote will be taken. The program will consist of a film entitled, "The Nurse and the Employer." All registered nurses are invited.

'Summer College' for Youngsters

The Office of Community Services at Prestonsburg Community College has developed a "Summer College Camp for Youth." Designed for young people, ages 6 through 16, who attend elementary or high school, the program will run each week day, Monday through Friday, for two three-week sessions beginning June 26 and continuing through August 4 (excluding July 3-4).

Pre-registration will be held in the college admissions office between 3 and 6 p.m. Friday, June 9, and between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday, June 10. Those who are unable to register on those dates may contact Mrs. Paula Collins, who is the administrator of the program by calling 874-9579 or the Office of Community Services, 886-3863, ext. 243.

Daily classes for the young people will meet from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Courses to be offered will include folk dancing, general crafts, weaving, ceramics, sewing, office machines, movies, foreign language, clowning, carpentry, photography, macrame, playstructure, karate, table tennis, volleyball, tumbling, softball, horse-shoes, first-aid, gymnastics, block and brick laying, auto repair and perhaps others.

"Summer College Camp" has been planned to provide recreational, creative and educational activities for young people in order to expand their educational, cultural and social awareness.

"We have a well-organized program planned, and we hope to have many young people taking advantage of and participating in our summer program for youth," Mrs. Collins said.

The "College Camp" will have value also for parents who want their children to be in a wholesome, creative atmosphere during those long summer weeks while school is out. Certificate of completion will be awarded to each child who participates.
