Chase Ends In Capture Of Fugitives

One Prisoner Named For Murder Moved To Fayette Co. Jail

James Carl Quick, 26, one of two men who were captured at Allen last Wednesday afternoon by State Trooper Don Weedman after a high-speed chase punctuated by revolver fire, has been transferred by state troopers to the Fayette county jail, Lexington, for safekeeping.

His companion, Rocky Gardner, 21, driver of the stolen car in which the two sought to elude arrest, remains in jail here in default of $7,500 bond asked by District Judge Harold Stumbo after a hearing on a charge of knowingly receiving stolen property (a stolen auto).

Quick was held to $20,000 bond on a first degree wanton endangerment charge and $5,000 for knowingly receiving stolen

Quick is wanted in North Carolina on charges of murder and kidnapping, and in Georgia as an escapee from the Department of Offender Rehabilitation in Atlanta, authorities said. Gardner is wanted in North Carolina on misdemeanor counts.

The arrest of the two resulted from a hit-run incident in which their vehicle was involved in Pike county, earlier in the day. A woman remembered their license number and reported it to State Trooper Weedman was in the vicinity of the Alpike Motel, south of Allen, when he spotted the car. He stopped it and used his cruiser's loudspeaker in ordering its occupants outside.

Instead of obeying the order, the driver sped away, Trooper Weedman in pursuit, at a speed described by Weedman as "a little above 100.'

Quick fired several shots at the pursuing cruiser but the bullets went wild. Trooper Weedman said he counted three shots but added, "You don't keep too accurate count under such circumstances." A .38-calibre revolver later recovered had five empty shells in

The chase ended at the intersection of US 23 and KY 80 at Allen. As the fugitives' auto ran a red traffic light

SANDRA DEE GOBLE

* The dream came true Saturday night for Miss Sandra Goble when she was crowned Miss Floyd County, 1978. The winner's trophy was presented to her by the reigning queen, Miss Paula Hinchman, of Allen. Miss Goble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Goble, of Cow Creek, is a 17-year-old senior at Prestonsburg High School. She plans to enter Translyvania University in the fall. She was sponsored by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club.

A record crowd was on hand at the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse when the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club presented its 15th annual Miss Floyd County scholarship. The theme for this year was "Paradise Island."

Miss Linda Godsey was first runnerup, and was also the recipient of the talent award. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Garland Godsey, of Prestonsburg.

This was the first year when three contestants tied for the Miss Congeniality award. They were Linda Godsey, Terry McClung and Karen Duff. Miss Karen Duff, 20, was also second runnerup. She was sponsored by the Wayland-Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

James A. Duff, of Hueysville. Dan Rowland served as master of ceremonies, and special entertainment was provided by the Meade School of Dance, Miss Edith Yates who was accompanied at the piano by Paula Hinchman and Miss Dianah Cornett. A wardrobe valued at $2,123 was donated to the new Miss Floyd County by local merchants. A description was given of each outfit modeled by Paula Hinchman. Escorts for the evening were Jeff Burchett, Grady Stephens and Tony Vandine.

Miss Goble's next assignment will be to prepare for the Miss Kentucky Pageant in Louisville and, hopefully, for the Miss America in Atlantic City, N. J.

Site Inspection For New Airport In Area Slated

Two new airports are scheduled for construction, possibly by 1985, in the fivecounty area served by the Big Sandy Area Development District, a Frankfort news release says.

And this week-weather permitting-Federal Aviation Administration and Kentucky Aeronautics Administration teams will inspect four possible sites for a new airport in the Floyd-Johnson-Martin county area. The inspection will be both on-site and from the air, and recommendations made following the visit will go far to determine the location of the facility

One of the sites considered, and said to be the largest in the field of four, is known as "the Pocahontas site," which is in the head of Daniels Creek, in the vicinity where Martin, Floyd and Johnson counties join. This and another, on Long Branch, in the Dewey Dam area, are former strip-mine locations. Two others given consideration are the Sally Stout site on Middle Creek and Green Rock, near Denver, Johnson county. The Middle Creek and Johnson county sites are mountaintop locations which have not had the benefit of excavation for

One of the airports recommended for the Big Sandy ADD area would be a $13 million commuter field, equipped with precision landing instrument system and capable of handling commercial flights. The other, a general aviation facility for smaller aircraft, would cost an estimated

When, and if, these airports are built, Combs Airport and the Pikeville airport would be eliminated, it is said.

Pike county is already building its own airport, independent of the area development planning.

Other new eastern Kentucky airports called for in the plan announced for the state as a whole include a $1.8 million

Carroll Tells Plan To Bring Gov't 'Closer'

Gov. Julian Carroll announced Monday the creation of a new state Office of Inter-Agency Relations with five regional state offices whose primary function will be to coordinate and expedite governmental

One of the regional offices will be located in Prestonsburg.

Gov. Carroll made the announcement at a meeting attended by top-level officials from the federal regional office in Atlanta. The new state approach, which the governor mentioned as part of his briefing on his 1978-'80 executive budget, is modeled after the Federal Regional Office concept.

In addition to Prestonsburg's, the regional offices will be located in Covington, London, Louisville and Madisonville.

Each office will be headed by a regional director who will report directly to a deputy secretary of the cabinet.

Joe D. Elam, a former state budget director, was named to the new position of deputy secretary of the Cabinet for Inter-Agency Relations.

"Government is getting too big!" Gov. Carroll said in announcing the new setup. "To get anything done, you simply have to go personally to the state Capitol and follow it through.

In Record Coal Year 1977 . . .

Floyd County Ranked 8th in Ky. Production

by the coal strike which began in December, coal production in Kentucky experienced a record year in 1977, and of all the state's coal-producing counties, Floyd ranked eighth in total production.

Of the 147,827,929 tons of coal produced by surface and underground operations in the state last year, 5,548,491 tons came from Floyd county, according to annual tonnage totals compiled by the state Department of Mines and Minerals. Floyd county's production was split almost equally between the surface and underground methods, with 2,639,074 tons from underground operations and 2,909,417 tons from strip-mining.

The statewide total is more than five million tons above 1976 production levels, and is higher than the previous production record of 144,204,511 tons set Kentucky's production was far above that of other coal states. West Virginia ranked second with 95,405,977 tons. Pennsylvania, Illinois and Virginia meet those needs."

Despite the drop-off in mining caused followed with 86,421,876, 53-512,209 and 35,547,933 tons, respectively. Pike county was the biggest Kentucky coal producer, mining 17,958,230 tons. Muhlenberg county, perennially Kentucky's highest producer, fell to second place with 17,353,345 tons.

Other "top ten" coal producing counties in the state with tonnage figures included the following:

Harlan county, 10,813,461; Hopkins, 10,319,026; Martin, 8,943,533; Perry, 8,841,875; Breathitt, 5,726,353; Bell, 5,156,349; Knott, 5,494,057.

The surrounding counties of Magoffin and Johnson produced 2,223,156 and

3,115,905 tons, respectively. Commenting on the tonnage figures,

Gov. Julian Carroll said, "The hard winter we just came through demonstrate again the nation's continuing reliance on coal as a major energy source, and Kentucky's production in 1977, despite the adverse conditions of a strike, demonstrate Kentucky's ability to

Next Tuesday's Primary Vote To Conclude a Dull Campaign

One of the least sensational campaigns of the era will come to its close next Tuesday with the primary election at which Democratic and Republican nominees for U.S. Senator and a Democratic nominee for U.S. Representative from the Seventh Congressional district will be named.

Democratic incumbents, U.S. Senator Walter "Dee" Huddleston and Congressman Carl D. Perkins, are the favorites on the Democratic ballot.

Huddleston is opposed by George W. Tolhurst, Jack A. Watson and William Jacob Taylor.

Perkins has one opponent, Frank V. Burns, of Ashland.

Republician candidates for U.S. Senator are Oline Carmichael, Jr., Jouie Guenther, Jr., and Thurman Jerome.

Music Festival, Largest in Years

The all-county band and chorus, which several years ago was a regular feature of the annual festival, was reorganized this year through the work of choral and band directors throughout the county and the All-Floyd County Concert was held last Tuesday night at the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse before a large audience in conjunction with the crowning of the festival queen.

Tuesday night's activities included performances by the junior high school chorus under the direction of Elizabeth Lynn Frazier, senior high chorus under the direction of Carlos Haywood, and concerts by the junior and senior high school bands. Directors of the junior high band were Billie Jean Osborne, of Betsy Layne high school, Dallas Sammons, of Wheelwright High, and Judy Looney, of McDowell. The senior high band was directed by Wally Ratliff of PHS, John Filkens, of Betsy Layne, and Kay Scutchfield, of Allen Central High School. Master of ceremonies for the concerts was Ronald Hager.

Oil Spill Damage Not Believed To Be Serious

Downstream water plant facilities escaped interruption of service and no fish and wildlife damage is expected from the oil spill which was discovered early last Friday morning at the Kentucky Oil & Refining Company plant at Betsy Layne.

An estimated 36,000 gallons of highgrade oil spilled from a company tank, but dikes contained all the spill except the 3,-5,000 gallons which escaped into the nearby Big Sandy river through an unused drain that had been thought closed, Dale Tomlinson, plant manager

Mr. Tomlinson said a truckdriver who was loading oil for transport to West Virginia apparently fell asleep and permitted the oil to continue running. He said all of the spill except the portion that entered the river was recovered.

'We have dikage (dikes to contain oil spills) sufficient to hold our full capacity-only, the drain which we thought was closed was open, and the oil trickled through it," Tomlinson said.

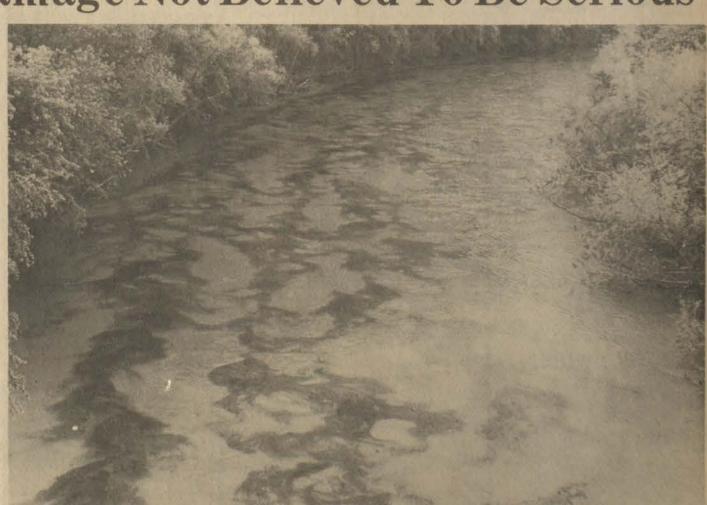

He said that as soon as the spill was discovered around 6 a.m., all water plant downriver from Betsy Layne, fish and game officials, the U.S. Corps of Engineers, water quality and environmental personnel were notified.

'We, of course, are ready to do whatever we are asked to do by way of correcting the situation," Tomlinson The oil which entered the river is a

Stephens Signs with Alice Lloyd

Pippa Passes, Ky.-Grady Stephens, a 6-5, 205-pound forward for Prestonsburg High School, has signed a letter of intent to play basketball for the Alice Lloyd College Eagles next fall.

A son of Harrison Stephens, of Pyramid, he averaged 25 points and 10 rebounds per game during his senior year at Prestonsburg. He was named one of the top five players in the 15th region, was twice named all-state honorable mention by The Courier-Journal, and high school all-American by American High School Athlete magazine.

Said Stephens' high school coach, Fred Setser, "As far as I'm concerned, he can do about anything he wants to do with the ball. He plays like a person who's 6-10. He can dunk it any way you want.

Stephens, who intends to major in premed at Alice Lloyd College, earned a 3.61 grade point average (4.0 is a perfect "A" record) as a student at Prestonsburg. He is a member of the National Honor Society, the Beta Club, Co-Ed Hi-Y, 4-H. and Teens Who Care.

"Grady was sought by a number of large colleges," ALC Eagles Coach Dan Wilson said, "but he chose us because of ALC's academic reputation, and because he wanted to stay near his family.'

The Great White Father Will Reclaim 'the Orphans'

Kentucky eventually will share in federal funding of the cost of reclaiming land despoiled by mining operations of other years.

It is encouraging to note that one of the projects proposed for this work is the acid-laden left fork of Middle Creek, in the David area where water issuing from an old working has made 10 miles or more of Middle Creek as devoid of life as if it were the Dead Sea. It is estimated that the cost of this undertaking will run from $250,000 to $400,000.

Although we are glad that something is at last planned to correct this and other man-made situations, we cannot overlook the fact that it is, after all, an injustice to the American taxpayer that his tax monies are to be spent on a corrective or curative measure that was, to begin with, the responsibility of the company that created the situation.

It is not only acid-laden streams that need attention. All over Eastern Kentucky are those sulphurous slag heaps, smouldering hillocks of mine waste, the fumes of which peel the paint from homes and God knows what from the lungs of those who breathe them; those spoil banks that are called "orphan" because nobody is around to admit their parentage. The list is long.

Nobody claims them now, except the Great White Father in Washington-at the expense of us all.

another vehicle was pulling into the intersection from KY 80. Both cars swerved, averting a smashup, but the fugitives' car hit a guard rail, bounced back, spun twice and crashed into the guard rail on the median, near the end of the nearby bridge.

Quick and Gardner, Weedman said, "were quite hesitant about getting out of their car," but Detective Kenneth DeBoard said the decision to obey came when the trooper stepped from his cruiser armed with an AR-15 rifle.

Weedman arrested the pair and handcuffed them. They were shaken up by the wreck but did not require treatment.

Detective DeBoard commended Weedman for his prompt action in handcuffing the two men rather than waiting for assistance. "In the middle of US 23, when you stop traffic for two minutes, you've got traffic backed up out of sight. He had the situation well under control by the time we got there," DeBoard said.

Two .38-calibre revolvers were found in the wrecked auto.

Although North Carolina and Georgia authorities may lay first claim to Quick, he faces charges of wanton endangerment, possession of a stolen vehicle and hit-run driving as a result of last Wednesday's events. Gardner is charged with attempting to elude a police officer, reckless driving, driving without an operator's license and possession of a stolen vehicle.

THE RESPONSE

Our friend, Watt Hale, remains among the precincts not heard from, but one of his stories comes, second-hand. I don't guarantee to retell it accurately but it runs along these general lines.

This character was nearing the end of his rope. He had led a pretty wicked life. Wild women, maybe a bit of moonshining, other activities which they used to call nefarious-and they all took place at one favorite hangout, up in the head of the hollow.

A concerned friend approached the bed. "I know, Sam, you can't talk, but if you hear me you can make a sign," he said. "If you have repented, just move a finger. Point up if you have, down if you

The sufferer heard-and pointed. Up the hollow.

Several other facilities in the eastern portion of the state are targeted for expansion or renovation.

Bernard May, state aeronautics planner, said the need to improve scheduled air service to eastern Kentucky stems from recent economic growth of the region due to coal production, which he termed "a bit unforeseeable.'

In all, 14 new airports are recommended for the state by the year 2000, at an estimated cost of $332.5 million.

$4.55 Million Contracts Let

State Transportation Secretary Calvin G. Grayson has awarded six contracts totalling $4,556,045 for highway projects in Eastern Kentucky.

Grayson said the contracts stemmed from the Bureau of Highways' April 21 bid-letting, which resulted in a statewide total of $10.9 million in contracts.

The largest contract calls for blacktop surfacing and incidental construction on the Somerset-London Road (KY 80) in Laurel county, starting about two miles west of Vernstadt and extending east for 5.6 miles. The Kentucky Stone Company of Louisville submitted the successful bid of $3,382,740.

Nally and Gibson Surfacing, Inc., of Springfield, successfully bid $888,233 for a contract calling for surfacing along a total of 26.4 miles of five Harlan county roads, one of which is the Harlan-Whitesburg Road (US 119), starting at KY 413 and extending northeast for 11.6 miles.

Other highway contracts for Eastern Kentucky are:

Construction of a bridge and approaches over Williams Creek on the Rush-Kilgore road (KY 854) at the Carter-Boyd county line, contract awarded to M. C. Webb, Inc., of Danville, on its bid of $199,000; blacktop surfacing on the Leatherwood Branch-York road, starting at the end of the blacktop three miles northwest of KY 2 and KY 7 and continuing northwest for seven-tenths of a mile, contract awarded to Standard Materials, Inc., Portsmouth, Ohio, on a bid of $38,985.

(Editor's note: Although the following education. Can we agree at the outset that every problem has its component parts? Then, do we agree that everyone should have a chance to be heard?

Dialogue can be useful. I feel compelled to comment, though you may not want to publish this dissent. Those babies found in Floyd county are only the tip of the iceberg. This thing keeps happening, and contraception (despite wishing and hoping) may be the only effective solution. If teenagers are sexually active (and a great many are) they are at risk of pregnancy unless they use contraceptives or happen to be sterile. Often they don't use birth control, in many cases even if they have it available (they can get it in all health departments, I like to think) and some of the reasons for this failure to protect self are not always clear. Do we solve the problem by preaching and consigning them to hellfire? No.

You said that any dolt can either teach or learn 'the basics' in the proverbial 'one easy lesson". We hope you don't think sex education is teaching them how to copulate. There is no use to teach that, because Nature has taken care of that since the beginning. Would they get the 'one easy" at the poolroom, street corner, bawdy house, TV, or where? Just 'any teacher" can't teach this sensitive anatomy, physiology, and sense of responsibility to children.

We have seen the dismal results of having picked the wrong instructor, such as a person without training in sensitivity and human sexuality, or a lewd and lascivious lecher. This can be worse than no sex education at all. We know of one instance where, a few years ago, the person selected to teach sex education used the allotted time to tell the class about his own personal at home sex life and exploits. An individual of insensitive caliber must not be picked to do this teaching. Further, the teacher has to be qualified and informed, aware of and able to give proper instruction. We must start at the elementary level, maybe no later than 4th grade.

We must start early because menarche (onset of menstrual periods) starts more early than formerly (sometimes at 9 or 10 years of age) and a girl who menstruates almost always ovulates. The ovum, if united with a sperm, sets in motion a pregnancy. Too young, did someone say? No, because there is the problem of about 13,000 girls under 14 who give birth each year. It is urgent that we educate them to the facts, and thus help keep them out of trouble. Truth and objectivity have

In light of all this and more, do you feel that anybody but "us chickens" can be expected to solve these dilemmas? If you knew how many people want an abortion, maybe you would take another look, perhaps reconsider your strong views. More and more people are opposed to and disgusted with the enforced motherhood foisted on women over the ages.

We have got to educate in a way to prevent premature pregnancy and childbirth. It is better sometimes to have early abortion. The message now is that every unwanted pregnancy should not be expected to result in "the miracle" nine months later. Until the day when no longer needed, abortion is part of the fabric of our society. Look at Italy . about the same number of illegal abortions each year as term births. Italy is now on the verge of legalizing abortion. Why not? That may be the only way to reach the day when it will no longer be needed

I refuse to believe you have a closed mind on the topic, for an inflexible editor would not be much help. Let's hope your article will not be the last word from you. There are many things to do if we are to create a better society. If you could attend a clinic or two, I think you'd write about it in a different way.

Certainly the children need home, church, and school teachings. How much have parents been able to help? Church? School? Not enough. Home and church have been slow. The television has helped and hurt. Let's get real comedy on TV (the present comedy is trash) and learn how to laugh at ourselves and our folly. We need to learn how to say out loud (for better or for worse) that we have organs for reproduction and that Nature's laws can be frustrated only up to a point. Perpetuation of the race is probably the strongest urge in existence. If we are hell-bent to frustrate the natural laws forever, including natural selection, we only serve to prolong an impossible

By now you may feel I am the inflexible one. If so, be my guest. But at any cost, let us try to avoid a holier-than-thou attitude, which to many people appears unseemly. The dirt does not leave the house if we only sweep it under the rug.

A. S. HOLMES, M.D. Health Officer Kentucky River District Health Dept., Hazard, Ky.

I would like to give a big thank-you to our cooks at McDowell lunchroom. They have really done a fantastic job for our children at McDowell school this year and especially for Easter and also during these past weeks of the extra long days. Thank you for a job very well done. DOREEN A. MARTIN

SHORT ROWS

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD (UK College of Agriculture)

Back in the days B.C. (before commodities) just about everybody with a piece of land or able to rent a little plot, had a vegetable garden. These gardens often required considerable effort, but when the cold winds of autumn started keening around chimney corners, there were usually beans to bubble in kettles on the hearth, potatoes to roast in the ashes, and turnips and cabbage to cook with a piece of hog jaw. There were also rows of canned stuff on shelves in the pantry and cellar

But somewhere along the line the act and art of gardening slipped into desuetide with the subsequent result there are fewer "good livers" than there used to be. So many young people growing up today wouldn't know a bean from a black-eyed pea and subsisting largely on hamburgers, cola drinks and weird "crunchies" of one kind or another, will never know the goodness of a tomato, roasting ear, or radish plucked fresh from a garden.

In this day of inflation, everyone who can should put in a garden. It will substantially reduce cash outlays for foods thus providing money for other needed goods. It will provide a more varied and healthful diet, and lessen the necessity for standing in commodity lines at the county seat or at the food stamp counter at the post office.

Also cultivating a garden provides far more than just food. The work has a therapeutic value. As the prophet said, it helps a person keep pace with the earth and soul of the earth. He becomes alive and more keenly aware to the joy of the seasons, and in the accomplishment of a good crop, attains a greater measure of dignity and self respect.

Some folks do not plant and cultivate a garden because they say, "We can buy stuff cheaper'n we can raise it."

Maybe so if they have a steady job at high wages. But even so what pithy, wilted turnip purchased cheaper in a food store can taste half as good as one raised by one's own hands and pulled fresh from a patch in the garden? Then there's the deep down satisfaction of sitting under one's own fig tree and eating his own figs. This satisfaction cannot be purchased at any market, super or otherwise.

Of course all this does not apply to those engaged in occupations that require much time and strenuous effort. Raising a garden, while most rewarding in many ways, is also a job that requires a lot of time and work.

Actually gardening is a lot of pleasure and your County Extension Agent stands ready to provide novices with a wealth of information on how to do it. A garden will go a long way-toward restoring the nostalgia of the good old days.

Regulations Revised On Handicapped Scouts

The Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, has announced that the age restrictions on enrollment and advancement of mentally retarded and severely handicapped Cub Scouts, Scout, and Explorers have been eliminated.

Through action taken by the BSA's national Executive Committee, the BSA's Rules and Regulations will include new guidelines for registration and advancement of mentally retarded and the severely handicapped youth, including the blind, deaf, and emotionally

H. C. Van Meter, president of the Lonesome Pine Council said the new regulations will apply immediately to those presently enrolled as well as all pending cases for exceptions to former regulations.

In order for members to meet the new guidelines, appropriate medical authority must certify that the candidate has a severe mental or physical handicap as defined in BSA regulations, and the council's appropriate committees must certify as to the completion of all existing requirements for each progress award, including the Eagle Scout award.

If proper certification is given, Cub Scouts may remain in the program after their 11th birthday, Scouts can participate after age 18, and male and female Explorers may remain in their units after the age of 21. All of them will continue to be eligible for their respective advancement programs.

Van Meter pointed out that there are 60,000 handicapped persons registered in almost 4,000 Cub Scout packs, Scout troops, and Explorer posts, including special units for the handicapped.

FOR VETERANS' benefits and programs VA will spend 3.8 per cent of the total federal government budget in Fiscal Year 1979

By WILMAY

A recent visit with Lucy Patton in Mountain Manor disclosed her consistent optimism. It is doubtful that anyone ever heard her complain about anything. Seeing Ruth Sowards at the same time was an added pleasure. Her cheerfulness always lifts visitors. The cleanliness, efficiency and loving service of Mountain Manor are impressive. Praise from patients and families give it Grade A. Since publications disclose much corruption and negligence in some nursing facilities, we here are lucky to have good ones near.

Good planning, organization, cooperation, enthusiasm, expert county and local leadership can give Cleanup Month a grand finale, or will it be like the Dogwood Trail? Redbud, mountain laurel, azaleas, rhododendrons, dogwood, and wild ferns help make our area the most beautiful in Kentucky. The goal of every citizen should be to keep things clean and lovely, at home and countywide.

Anyone desiring to know what is wrong with America can get a birdseye picture by reading R. K. Bennett's review of "Time For Truth" in May Reader's Digest. Wm. Simon, author of the book, and former Secretary of the U.S. Treasury, tries to arouse the populace to the dangers of big government, which some still do not recognize.

Hearts go out to Betty Ford, the wives of senators and others who have the same problem. Even prescribed drugs often present peril. Medicine that cures one individual may be poison to another, since body chemistry varies widely, and the most eminent physicians cannot always know what reaction drugs may produce, or in whom. It is reported that of more than 20,000 only a small percentage have been adequately tested, or can be, as research staffs are never ample, and it often takes years to evaluate final effects of some drugs. Remember thalidomide! Most drugs do have some side effects. These may differ drastically with individuals. Some can tolerate practically anything. Others are allergic to nearly all medicines.

Fortunately, professions involved are discovering more about such and trying to educate the public, who are advised against increasing dosage, taking another's medicine, or an old drug, using several at once unless prescribed. They are asked to consult a physician-or even a pharmacist or nurse in emergencyabout uncertainties, to note and report deviations in behavior, conversation, physical condition, particularly if the patient is allergic to any drug or on habitforming ones, which some diseases necessitate. When things seem amiss a doctor should be contacted. Medical magazines and authorities writing in others claim that errors occur in private offices, clinics, hospitals, prescription departments, etc., despite attempts to prevent them. Mistakes are common in all professions but less harmful in most others. Incorrect dosage may be given, some drug given the wrong patient, Medical personnel appreciate being told when something appears faulty. If unchecked, results can be disastrous, especially for out patients. Crimes, including murder, have been committed by people under the influence of alcohol or drugs, often by individuals who would never do such normally.

Alcohol has long been a problem everywhere. For years Washington has had the highest per capita consumption of any city in the U.S. Many women who join its cocktail circuit find they have no margin of safety, not that one excuses such indulgence. Numbers of men who take a drink with associates wind up as alcoholics. When not forsaken little sins often lead to big ones. While liquor and drug addiction are diseases they are also sinful. Though legal addiction comprises a separate category, it, too, is laden with hazards. Many become habituees through prescribed drugs, yet the intentions of most physicians are unquestionable. Some patients insist upon having sleeping pills or tranquilizers for their nerves, et cetera, or obtain non-prescription ones. Numbers would fare better without them even if never ensnared. The body has tremendous curative powers that have little chance to operate when drugs are

Current statistics of drug dependency are staggering. The armed forces, athletes, people from every walk of life are confronted with drug abuse, whose toll is barely starting. With vast numbers of youths confirmed addicts, what can be expected of their unborn children? Alcohol and drugs fill many beds in hospitals and other institutions, and break up countless homes and lives. National Health Insurance and socialized

Sound Happenings

By COEY HARRIS

It's here folks!! The king of rock 'n roll. Bob Seger, has hit the area on album and 9-tracks with his new release, "Stranger In Town." After a four-month delay of retaping, re-designing the cover five times, and a nationwide tour, this musical construction was worth the wait. Seger's touch is in every phase of the album except pressing the vinyl and who knows for sure about that? Out of the nine cuts seven are written by Seger besides helping in the producing and the mixing. The style is unmistakably Seger from the slow, mellow "The Famous Final Scene" to the moving, jumping "Feel Like A Number." Some old funky blues appear in the song "Brave Strangers". Great talent attracts great talent and "Stranger in Town" is a good example. Frankie Miller, an artist now doing well on his own, contributes a song, "Ain't Got No Money." "Old Time Rock 'n Roll" by George Jackson and Thomas Earl Jones done with Seger's pounding voice and music will most likely be another single release from the album. Besides having one of the top rock 'n roll bands as backup, the Silver Bullet Band, Seger pulls in the Musle Shoals Rhythm Section, the Eagles' Glen Frey and Don Felder, and the great keyboard talents of Bill Payne and Doug Riley. This album is heavily constructed for greatness. Feel like you're burnt out on Seger? Well, go straight to your favorite record store and have them dish you out a generous dose of this album and I can assure you, you will re-discover Seger, probably like

Another hot one! Roghat! Yea, Foghat is "Stone Blue" as they rock 'n roll you on and on. Roger Earl, as always, comes forward with drum solos that are the backbone to Foghat's heavy rock 'n roll rhythms. Craig Mac Gregor charges the sound with his bass to entwine your mind and pull you deep into the music. We mustn't forget the man who rounds out the hard edges, Rod Price, on acoustic guitar, slide guitar, and dobro. Last, but not least, the upfront man, Lonesome Dave Peverett, brings on the vocals and lead guitar to totally drown you in rock 'n roll. Jam down with the cuts 'Stone Blue" and "High On Love." Boogie down with "Sweet Home Chhicago" and "Chevrolet". Get lonesome with the bluerock cuts "Midnight Madness", "It Hurts Me Too," and "Stay With Me." Get into rock 'n roll-get into Foghat's "Stone

Blue''! "When I was stone blue, rock and roll sure helped me through," I'm sure it can do the same for you! Don't forget Foghat in concert May 21, Civic Center, Charleston, W. Va.

More confusion erupts on the new Boston album. One report distastefully states they have not entered the studio. But wait, hold back those tears of frustration, another source predicts the album release to be in June, A suggestion-hang on. Comforting, huh? The Rolling Stones are beginning a U.S. tour, promoting a new album called "Some Girls" that's due to be released in early June. The tour begins the summer outdoor tour June 17 at JFK Stadium in Philadelphia. The closest outdoor performance for this area will be Cleveland, Ohio, July 1 at the Cleveland Municipal Stadium. Indoor concerts will also be performed, however this info has not been yet released.

Country and western fans, down home country comes home. George Jones at Betsy Layne, June 3, 8 p.m., one show only. Don't forget it! Advance tickets are on sale at a few of the local businesses.

Voc Ed Decision Expected June 5

Final action on Kentucky's 1979 program plan for vocational education has been postponed until June by the State Board for Occupational Education.

At a recent conference the board heard a brief analysis of the vocational education plan for the coming year after deferring a vote until its next scheduled meeting, June 5.

With daily revisions still being made, the proposed vo-ed package is contained in a 242-page prospectus. A boardapproved product must be submitted to the U.S. Office of Education in Atlanta by the end of June.

With federal approval, Kentucky will receive approximately $11 million for vocational education, according to Don Coffman, who coordinated the plan's preparation for the state department of education. Coffman said the 1979 proposal updates a five-year plan adopted by the board last year.

Ham Operators Slate Field Day

By DAVID LAFFERTY, WB4SYG
Amateur radio operators in the Floyd
County area will take to the field
Saturday and Sunday, June 24 and 25, for a 24-hour demonstration of their ability to handle communications under actual field conditions, cut off from commercial power mains, in the annual Field Day sponsored by the American Radio Relay League, national association of amateur radio operators.

Members of the Sandy Valley Amateur Radio Association will meet Saturday morning to erect tents and shacks, set up equipment and string antennas. The stations will be completely powered by emergency power equipment including generators, batteries, and just about any other power source that can be found.

The field day is a test of self-powered equipment and is participated in by hundreds of clubs and thousands of individual amateurs throughout the nation. The portable stations attempt to contact as many other stations throughout the nation as they can within the allotted time. Any of the amateur bands may be used; the more used, the wider the coverage and more convincing the demonstration of the versatility of the Field Day undertaking.

Mobile units which will be operated by members of the club will add flexibility to the operation. Both voice and code transmissions will be employed during the test

If you would like more information about Field Day or Amateur Radio Operations write to The Sandy Valley Amateur Radio Assoc., Public Relations-Publicity Department, Rt. 2, Box 127, Martin, Ky. 41649.

SEWING & DECORATING CENTER 1st Ave., Ph. 886-6219, Prestonsburg Weightlifters of the Week

Dennis Daniels, a 5-10, 150-pound eighth grader, has been selected as Weightlifter of the Week. Weight Coach Bob Stetson said, "Dennis is just now beginning to hit his growth spurt. He's growing taller and gaining weight. The main thing is that he is staying on our conditioning program as consistently as any player we have and this is what it takes."

Bill Greer, a 5-10, 185-pound sophomore, is one of the hardest workers the Blackcats have. Coach Stetson said, Bill is going at it all the time. He never cheats himself, is willing to put in extra time, and just has a super attitude. I wish we could say the same for some of our other players, such as James Wells, Howard, Robinson, Reynolds, Marcum, Gearheart, Collins, Ousley, Jarrell, and Goble, to mention a few, who we never know if they're going to be there or not. Of course, a lot of this has to do with maturity, responsibility and selfdiscipline, and Bill is just a good example of a young man with these qualities."

Dwayne Rodebaugh, Marty Branham, John Holland, Desi Whitt, Dewey Layne, Bobby Wells, Terry Click, Raymond Gibson and Lonnie May were also recognized again this week.

State Ahead Closing Dumps

Kentucky is ahead of schedule in at least the first step involved in closing open dumps in the state.

The state environmental department's Division of Hazardous Materials and Waste Management reports that in the last two months more than 350 open dumps have been identified and ownership has been determined on 164.

From this 23 have been closed and 18 have undergone some type of cleanup operation. Division officials estimate that only 47 dumps were closed during Inventorying of open dumps is in response to federal legislation calling for their closing by 1983. The survey is also an attempt to determine the scope of the program and to provide the groundwork for establishment of solid waste management systems to serve all parts of the state.

Norm Schell, division director, believes the inventory will provide counties with an incentive to plan solid waste management systems required by legislation passed by the 1978 General Assembly. Such systems for collection and disposal of solid waste would handle waste that is now taken to open dumps. "The inventory will also let people know that the state is getting information on ownership and that we will be carrying out the mandate of the law which carries stiff fines for open dumps," Schell adds.

Ownership of land on which open dumps exist must be determined before court action can be taken. Six senior citizens, hired under a senior environmental employment program, are handling the documentation of open dumps turned in by 12 field people working out in the state. The whole process involves re-inspection of previously closed open dumps to find out their current status and a search for active dumps not previously discovered.

Kentucky began its inventorying program in February even though criteria for identifying open dumps has not published by the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Criteria was to be published in October of last year and was to precede a national inventory of open dumps by the EPA.

"Getting background information on who owns these sites is going to be useful no matter what guidelines come from the EPA," explains Schell.

Schell says, though, that the inventory is only the beginning of attempts to attack the problem of open dumps. "How much time it takes for it all to get together, that is having facilities to handle materials that would have gone into an open dump, I cannot say," he says, "Eventually, they (open dumps) will not reappear because of adequate solid waste managements systems.

Mayor Says City Effort To Halt Mining Continues A report received earlier that the city of Prestonsburg may have dropped its effort to halt the operations of the Co-Op Mining Company at Ball Alley, in the city limits, apparently was erroneous.

Mayor Harold Cooley said Monday that the City Council has concurred with the Zoning Commission in denying the coal company's application for rezoning of the area being mined to industrial rather than residential, and that the company has been notified by letter to cease operations as of May 13.

The mining operations continue, and Mayor Cooley said Monday he was awaiting the return here of City Attorney William G. Francis for the city's next step which will possibly be the filing of an

Told of the report that the city may be dropping out of the fight, Cooley said, 'It's news to me.'

Meanwhile, the coal company insists that it is operating legally. It has indicated that it will attack the city's right to stop its operation under provisions of the "broad form" deed which it has to the coal being mined and also on the contention that the Prestonsburg zoning ordinance is invalid.

There the state are carrying Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever.

The disease, transmitted by ticks, is on the increase in the U.S. There were 1,115 cases reported to the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta in 1977—an increase of 19 percent from the year before. There were 42 fatalities reported from the 856 cases for which tension entomologist. "The major carrier in Kentucky is case-report forms were sub-the American dog tick, but several others are implicated, including the lone star tick which is common in Western Kentucky.

Both ticks are very flat, hard-bodied, leathery looking creatures with 8 legs.

To determine if ticks are carrying the disease, live specimens are needed. They may be taken to county Extension offices where special mailing tubes are available, or mailed directly to the Entomology Department, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. 40506. A small plastic bottle, such as a pill vial, containing a moist cotton ball will keep the ticks alive while going through the mail service, says Christensen.

In most cases, Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is transmitted when a tick bites, attaches to and feeds on a person, but it also may be caused by juices or feces of a tick rubbed into the skin, according to the entomologist.

He advises watching for tick bites because there is little chance of getting the disease if the tick is removed within 2 to 3 hours after it bites.

Symptoms of the disease include a skin rash, headache, intense aches in the lower back Although and fever. tetracycline and chloramphenicol are effective treatments, early diagnosis is extremely important, according to the Center for Disease Control Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever not only is a disease of man but also is contracted by certain rodents such as the field mouse which is the reservoir of the disease, according to Christensen. Ticks can be infected by feeding on an infected mouse or infected person. The entomologist also points out that if a female is infected, her eggs carry the disease and hatch out ticks that are carriers.

Health Notes

By DONNA J. GRIFFITH Health Educator

High blood pressure is a serious, chronic disease that has no symptoms to warn of its presence. Unfortunately, some people with high blood pressure think that headaches, dizziness, or feeling tense means that their blood pressure is high. They make the mistake of taking their medication only when such symptoms appear

May has been designated National High Blood Pressure Month. Statistics show that about 20 per cent of the people who have high blood pressure are successfully controlling it while approximately 40 per cent of the people with this disease do not know they have it. It is also estimated that another 20 per cent are under treatment but do not yet have it under control while another 20 per cent are not treating it at

The only way to know if your blood pressure is high is to have it checked. The Floyd County Health Department offers free screening for high blood pressure.

Preparations are complete for the grand opening tomorrow (Thursday) of Pic 'n Pay's new family shoe store here at U.S. 23 North (near Sears).

Pic 'n Pay, one of America's leading self-service shoe chains, currently has 383 units in operation throughout 13 states.

Prestonsburg's new store typifies the "new look" of Pic 'n Pay's interior and exterior design. The modular unit features the Pic 'n Pay "footprints" logo, which the company anticipates becoming nationally recognizable as the chain continues its vigorous expansion program.

"Prestonsburg was chosen for our newest store because we have been watching its growth and progress, and are impressed by its potential," Albert G. Sega, chairman of the board of Pic 'n Pay, said. "Our thorough and in-depth studies convinced us that Prestonsburg and its surrounding communities are truly representative of middle America on the move, and we want to play a part

According to Alvin E. Levine, president of Pic 'n Pay, the company believes strongly in its self-service concept. "We never resort to high-pressure tactics. We believe that customers are not satisfied if they are pressured into unwanted or unneeded purchases. Our merchandising has been built on a structure of satisfied customers who come back again and again, and we plan to continue that way.'

Mr. Levine added that his company's stores typically have 10,000 pairs of shoes on display, as well as a variety of accessories such as ladies' handbags and

The new store here will be managed by Sally Smith, of Allen.

To Do Mission Work In Liberia, Africa

Miss Ruth Martin, 19, a 1976 graduate of Betsy Layne High School, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Martin, of Grethel, has been accepted by the Missionary Internship Service of the College and Baptist Mid-Missions to work with Baptist Mid-Mission missionaries in Liberia, West Africa for a six-week summer term. She will fly from Kennedy Airport, New York City, in mid-June and return in August.

Miss Martin, who is a sophomore at Cedarville College, Cedarville, O., has been active in church and Bible camp work: Bible quizzing, junior church, substitute Sunday School teaching and helping with the music in the youth group. Patrols winning blue ribbons were the Cobra, Daniel Boone, and Pedro patrols of Troop 48, Mountain Mission School, Grundy, Va.: Troop 91, Jackson: Troop 49, Breaks Va.: Troop 9 of Whitesburg,: the Eagle patrol of Troop 42, Maxie, the Sioux and Bear patrols of Troop 41 of Hurley, and the Cobra and Eagle patrols of Troop 328, Ashcamp, Patrols which won the red ribbon include Troop 99 of Ary; the Fox patrol of Troop 328, Ashcamp; the Blackfoot, Crow and Mohican patrols of Troop 42, Maxie; Troop 323, Wittensville; Troop 27, Prestonsburg; the Road Runner patrol of Troop 48, Grundy; Troop 81 of Millard, and Troop 1 of Paintsville.

Perkins Move To Avert Head Start Funding Crisis

A funding problem for the highly regarded Head Start program in Kentucky, which would have occurred next year, was averted last Wednesday when the House Education and Labor Committee adopted an amendment sought by Congressman Carl D. Perkins.

Head Start is a program which prepares pre-school children from lowincome homes to compete in the regular grades on an equal level with children from economically better off homes. It is credited with considerable effect on breaking the poverty cycle, Congressman Perkins said.

Individual Head Start programs in Kentucky would suffer an actual loss of funding next year, when the level of funding would have reverted to the 1975 funding level, but under the Perkins amendment Kentucky programs will get a cost-of-living increase and share in any future amount available to the program.

The amendment will let Kentucky Head Start receive as much as $4 million more than under current law, but the action must be ratified through the legislative process before it becomes Congressman Perkins also submitted last week to the House the favorable report of the House Committee on Education and Labor on H.R. 12452, extending and amending federally supported employment and training programs.

The measure continues through 1982 summer jobs for youth, year round youth programs popularly known as the 'neighborhood in-school youth corps", the Job Corps, the Young Adult Conservation Corps and public service employment and training.

The bill is directed not only to the needs of the long term unemployed whose skills and training need to be upgraded, but also to the temporarily unemployed who are out of work due to declines in economic activity

Perkins said this year the concentrated employment program in Eastern Kentucky has been allocated $2,116,941,70

SINCE 1944, more than 17.3 million veterans have received educational benefits through the GI Bill. 7.8 million recipients served in World War II; 2.4 million in the Korean Conflict; and 7.1 million served during the Post Korean and the Vietnam Era.

percent of which will be allocated to school systems to emppoy 2,427 young people this summer. In addition, community action agencies in the Eastern Kentucky area will be allocated a portion of the fund for the employment of 400 young people.

These programs will begin the week of May 29. Perkins said the Eastern Kentucky concentrated employment program has received $1,097,000 for year round youth employment and training activities.

Whether or not we approve we are all governed by laws. Laws that control practically every aspect of our lives.

For example: in order to have friends, we need to be governed by laws. You don't think so? Well, there is a very important law that is essential to friendship. It is the law of association.

Two people can live next door to each other-become the greatest of friends. One moves far away. For months they correspond. Gradually they lose contact. One day they come to the realization that they haven't heard from each other in years. What happened? The old unchanging law of association was broken.

Well, maybe you can't really call it a law, but association is the greater part of friendship.

Square Dancing Is for All Ages

Want to know what you and your family can do together and enjoy? Square dance.

That's right. Even if you are a senior citizen, that category of mature, funloving people, you can do-si-do and promenade. If you are part of a family that includes one just past toddler age, that one can be taught the feel of rhythm and sense of coordination through square

SC's (senior citizens) in western Kentucky have been learning the art of getting through a Kentucky running set as have those in eastern Kentucky and other regions of the Commonwealth. Many of you mature ones already are skilled square dancers, holdover from the days when family musicians tuned the banjos and fiddles, rolled up the rag carpet and invited in the neighborhood to dance all night.

Square dancing on Hoedown Island at Natural Bridge State Resort Park at Slade began April 29 and will continue through Oct. 28. This park feature provides a great opportunity for family fun and togetherness. Senior citizens have been enjoying square dancing in their centers. Recently, SC's in Johnson county invited members of centers in nearby counties to a big frolic. They didn't overdo it, but no one had more fun than this group did as they swung partners from 6 till 9 p.m.

Some of the group didn't want to stop then, they were enjoying it so much. For you who want to keep in practice and for you who are still beginners in the art of

'Promenade, go round that ring while the rooster crows and the old hen sings," check with parks in your area. A number of them will be scheduling square dan-

There was a time when families had to provide their own entertainment and recreation. In eastern Kentucky, Aunt Mary Jane Robinson used to tell about the play parties in the hills. "There were always those to play the fretted instruments and just about every man could play a ditty or two on the fiddle. We'd just sing about Molly Bonder, Jimmy Randall, the Broken Ring and one called Three Times Around that dates back to the Welsh coast. Of course, there was the Butcher Boy, Erin-Go-Braugh and one the boys used when they'd pay court called Low, Lay the Lilies Low, Times when we'd all get together like this, after hard work of the week was done, then we'd push the house plunder against the wall, roll up the rag carpet and have a play party.

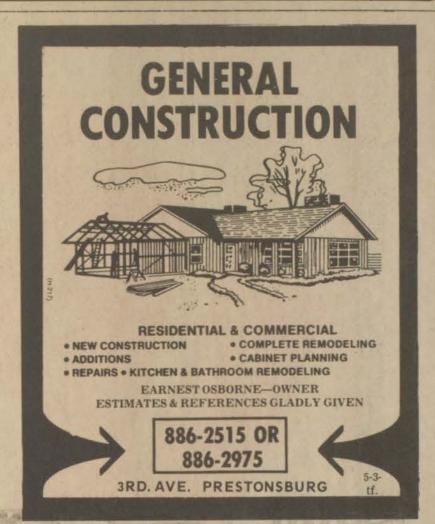

Call it folk dancing, a Saturday night frolic, play party or what-it still was a night of square dancing, and what times they had!

Richard Jett, of Campton, produces and directs the square dancing at Natural Bridge. Saturday night dances are scheduled through Oct. 28 and Friday night square dancing will start May 26 and extend through Sept. 1. Programs start at 7:30 p.m. on famous Hoedown Island, the park's beautiful outdoor patio that has seats for onlookers or for those who want to "sit one out." In addition to Friday and Saturday night dancing, Jett has scheduled five special programs related to mountain music and square dancing. On special nights visitors may see some of the nation's champion dancers and hear the best in bluegrass and mountain music. May 26-28 will be the annual Bluegrass Music and Square Dance Frolic; June 16-17, the 12th annual National Mountain Style Square Dance Festival; June 30-July 3, the 10th annual Mountain Music and Square Dance Festival; Aug. 5, annual Bluegrass Music and Square Dance, and Sept. 1-3, the 13th annual Western Square Dance Festival.

Sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Parks, these events are family features. Similar events might be on the schedule in your region. If not, travel Mountain Parkway to Natural Bridge's popular Hoedown Island and be a part of the "swinging crowd."

Grayson Says Road Repair To Cost $27 Million-Plus

State Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson has announced that it will cost in excess of $27 million to repair statemaintained highways damaged by the

"This figure indicates the money necessary to patch the damaged areas with blacktopping," Grayson said. "To completely resurface the roads would increase the cost to approximately $40

According to Grayson, "pothole patching, ditching and minor surface repairs will cost about $12 million. These are repairs which can be accomplished with state highway personnel and the cost will be absorbed by the annual maintenance budget. It is estimated that $15 million will be needed to make repairs on severely damaged highways. Severe damage includes errosion and breakage which will require special equipment and material to repair.

"At the present time, we do not have $15 million available for this work," Grayson said. "However," he continued, 'the 1978-'79 fiscal budget goes into effect July 1 and modifications will be made to the maintenance budget to include emergency work for projects which must have immediate attention.

Winter damage for 1977 was estimated at $39 million, or $12 million more than the 1978 winter.

Grayson explained that last year the state had more localized severe damage, "but this year we received widespread surface damage." "Surface damage", he said, "is easier and is less expensive to repair.

Open Public Forum Set As Part of Alcoholism Awareness Week in Area

A regional public open forum, to let the public views be aired on how to deal with alcohol abuse and alcoholism will be held on Tuesday. May 23 in the Johnson County Court House (circuit court room) at 7 p.m. to commemorate Alcoholism Awareness Week scheduled May 21-27.

Prior to the open discussion Kentucky Alcoholism Council Executive Director Ray Daugherty will address the problem of alcoholism.

Mountain Comprehensive Care's Alcohol and Drug Program Director Stephen Knowles stressed the importance of the open forum. "I hope many local citizens in Johnson, Flovd. Magotfin, Martin and Pike counties will attend the meeting to share their opinions.

"This forum is of great interest to us in treatment because we want our program to reflect the views of the community in which we served. Knowles said.

Kentucky Alcoholism Council (KAC) is a non-profit organization consisting of citizens conscious of alcoholism problems who place importance on increased understanding of the alcohol illness, successful treatment techniques, and improving attitudes toward greater insight into the alcoholic situation.

The ruling board of the state council spotlights five Eastern Kentuckians who compromise nearly one-fourth of the board membership

The governing body of KAC includes Johnson countians Stephen Knowles, of Mountain Comprehensive Care Center and James Witten, of Witten Coal and Mining Company; Frank Layne, of Prestonsburg; Pike County Attorney Dan Jack Combs and Leonard McCoy, of Caney Branch Coal Company at Phelps in Pike county.

Evans Sees New Element In Eastern Ky. Coal Field

(In The Lexington Herald)

Top executives of three Lexington coal companies say they are uncertain about the purpose of the continuing state investigation into organized crime in the Eastern Kentucky coalfields.

The three-George E. Evans, Jr., president of National Mines Corp.; J. L. Jackson, president of Falcon Coal Co. and John C. Nowicki, president of New Era Resources Inc.—said Sunday they have not been contacted by the 11member task force conducting the secretive, seven-month probe that has resuled in the arrests of four Ken-

They said this was apparently because the investigation involves small coal companies and not the major producers, but they differed on whether the probe will tarnish the industry's image.

During separate interviews, they also differed about recent events in Eastern Kentucky.

Evans and Nowicki said they have indications that a new, possibly corrupt, element they cannot quite describe or define entered the coalfields in recent years as a consequence of the coal boom.

Jackson said he had not noticed any such change.

WHO IS FRANK BURNS?

My Name Is Frank Burns and I'm running for Congress in the Democratic Primary on May 23. I was raised in Eastern Kentucky and graduated from the University of Kentucky. I'm a Certified Public Accountant and served two years in the U.S. Marines. My wife, Judy, our two sons and I live in Ashland.

Few people know how their Congressman votes. I was shocked to find that incumbent Congressman Carl Perkins had voted:

*FOR the largest peace time tax increase in the history of our country.

That tax went into effect on January 1, 1978.

*TO raise his own salary by $12,900.00.

*FOR $100 million dollars in Foreign Aid that was designed to go to three communist controlled countries.

*FOR two House Bills that helped give away the Panama Canal.

I'm tired of giving away billions of dollars in Foreign Aid and receiving insults in return. We need that money right here in this district for use on the roads, for bridges and floodwalls.

We need more jobs in this area. Why must our children have to go to a distant city in order fo find a good job. Kentucky's a great state for industry. But industries coming to Kentucky are going to Louisville, Lexington and Frankfort. Those place have people trained to lure industry in. As a Congressman, I intend to see that people in this county are trained to lure industry here. We owe it to our children and we owe it to ourselves.

The average taxpayer now pays 42c of every dollar they earn in one kind of tax or another. Taxes like Sales tax, property tax, taxes on gasoline and telephone bills, and social security and income taxes. High taxes are caused by the massive waste in government. As a Certified Public Accountant, I know how to find and weed out the waste in government. And when waste in government is cut, the taxes of the average person can be cut.

Special interest groups and lobbyists have plenty of friends among the millionaires and politicians in Congress. I believe it's time that the average person had a friend in Congress. I'm not wealthy and I'm no politician, but I intend to be the friend of the average person. I intend to be the taxpayer's friend.

With all due respect to our incumbent Congressman, I believe that 30 years in Congress is TOO LONG. I believe that terms in Congress should be limited just as a President is limited to eight years in office. If a person is in Congress too long, it seems like they get in the same rut that everyone else in Congress is in and they forget how hard it is back here to make ends meet.

If you are a Democrat, I hope you'll vote for me-Frank V. Burns.

Nobody Willing To Predict Effect of Anti-Litter Law

Litter again is becoming a source of concern among people across the state. Recent articles in several eastern

Kentucky newspapers have expressed concern over the problem, and the state Environmental Quality Commission voiced similar concerns at a recent

The situation, at least for the present, is unchanged from what it has been previously, according to state officials, but they point to legislation passed by the 1978 General Assembly as at least the beginning of a comprehensive anti-litter program.

The bill levies a three per cent per $100 tax on wholesalers of products packaged in metal, plastic, paper or glass. Revenues are to be used by the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection for the purchase and placement of litter receptacles across the state, employment of persons to clean up litter, increased enforcement of litter laws and the recycling of reusable litter. In addition, the department is to use funds for various public education campaigns aimed at preventing litter.

As to how successful the program will be, at least in the first two years that it is to run before re-examination by the 1980 General Assembly, no one is willing to

'The only thing 253 (the number of the bill passed by the legislature) can do in the near term is provide for going out and picking up litter," says Norm Schell,

McGill Book Features Mountain Basketball

Kentucky Sports, a new paperback book by John McGill, of Lexington, is on sale in this area and is virtually a history of mountain basketball.

The book refers to more than 800 persons and 400 communities with particular emphasis on the glory days of Pikeville, Inez, Olive Hill and Clark County high school basketball teams. There is also an important reference to the girls' teams of Paintsville High.

The late Adolph Rupp's longanticipated all-time University of Kentucky squad is revealed in the first chapter, along with the Hall of Fame coach's top 12 college coaches and allopponent squad.

A committee of qualified, veteran observers picked an all-time UK football squad for the book. Three teams are named, offense and defense.

In other football chapters, George Blanda and Lou Michaels are named as the top grid products of UK with half a dozen other former Wildcats receiving votes, and there is a detailed review of the state's first venture into pro ball, that of Ashland Armco in 1926. Among the Ashland stars were Centre's immortal Red Roberts, Minos Gordy, Walter Skidmore and Red Weaver.

Complete state tournament records are listed, along with the top 16 individual performances in the event as selected by a veteran committee, including Gordon Moore, of Prestonsburg, and there is a list of memorable shots made in the tournament over the past 50 years.

director of the department's Division of Hazardous Materials and Waste Management.

"To that extent it will relieve the problem of litter. What percentage of it will be eliminated I cannot say," he adds.

Schell says he wants to be as realistic as possible in his expectations for the program, mainly because it will be some time before revenues find their way back to the department. By 1980, Schell estimates, the program will have "been in place" less than a year.

If the program is going to be a success, Schell believes it will be because of the education aspects of the bill aimed at behavior modification among people of the state. This, however, may take longer than two years to accomplish.

Presently, the only available tool for preventing litter is education through local enforcement of litters laws, but even this is beset by manpower problems at the state level and by patchwork enforcement at local levels, said Schell.

Despite the obstacles facing the program, Schell and other state officials say the important thing is that at least a planned and coordinated attack of litter is beginning.

Addictive Federal Financing Brings Federal Controls

By WILLARD ASHWORTH, JR. (Reprinted from The Courier-Journal by permission granted to WILMAY, Times columnist. Mr. Ashworth, a Perry county teacher for 17 years, is a resident of Happy, Ky.)

Twenty years ago, while I was in college studying for an elementary education degree, I asked my Uncle Edd why we could not get some federal money to help our county school system.

His answer: "If we get federal money, we will get federal controls.'

After 17 years in the school business I think I can see where he was right.

Some years ago the federal government started to pass out money to local school systems. They did not have to ask for it-or even use it. But the packaging was so attractive it seemed that hardly anyone could turn the money down. The federal controls were few at first, but things steadily got tighter.

The first new, easy money was earmarked for audio-visual materials for use as teaching aids. Audio-visual companies were eager to sell, and the school system had to spend the money on these tools or take the chance of not getting it next year. As a result, movie projectors, over-head projectors, slide projectors, film strips and other junk filled our closets and every other available space in our schools. The equipment was used for a short while and then, like every other fad, it faded away.

We needed gymnasiums and classrooms, but we got audio-visual materials.

Then the Atlanta regional offices of the federal agencies that provide the money and regulations decided we needed reading teachers, guidance counselors, physical-education teachers and aides. The money was provided and extra personnel was hired. These people then began looking for a steady job year after year. And the school board has to sweat out the money each fall, since several jobs are at stake if Atlanta doesn't come

If Uncle Sam doesn't supply the money, the extra people will have to be laid off, except that those with tenure may kick others out of teaching positions. Who would you hire back if more people had built up tenure than there were jobs to fill? Such questions have to be faced each fall as a new school year begins and the money has not arrived from Atlanta.

In addition, more and more controls have been put into effect as the federal money has come to the local school system over the years.

If integration were not properly carried out we would not get any federal money, we were told. Being hillbillies and sensible enough to recognize an individual as an individual, we had little problem with racism. Then Washington used poverty as a guideline. Since we are all poor, this, too, caused us no serious

In fact, we met all their demands and the money kept coming. And this has allowed the federal government to gradually inch its way into our schools and set policy

There is little question about getting plenty of supplies and materials. The problem is to get the right ones. As a teacher, I have never been asked what I need. The decision has been handed down from Frankfort or Atlanta.

I will admit federal money built a nice, modern library for my school that is air conditioned and has all the latest features. Also, an aide for the librarian was provided. But our first-grade teachers and the 35 or 40 children each has in attendance sit in glass-lined rooms with a low roof that on a warm day will generate heat in the 90's before lunch. And none of the 26 classroom teachers has an aide.

We have a new, modern four-teacher reading room. It has air-conditioning and thousands of dollars worth of special features such as reading aids. Yet it is hard to find a broom to sweep one's classroom. There is one janitor to care for a school that has 26 classrooms, library, lunch room and six bathrooms. And in my 17 years of teaching, I have never had enough textbooks so that each child could have one.

Washington also helps with our lunch program. The parents sign a free- or reduced-lunch request, stating his or her income. More lies are told on these lunch requests than on all other government programs combined.

Over the years not one penny of federal money has been earmarked for salary improvement, so the quality of teaching has not improved very much. We still have lots of people just hanging around waiting for something better to come

Whatever happened to the ideal of a Horace Mann on one end of a log bench and a bright young student on the other? Finding the time to teach bothers me

It seems that our system puts emphasis on one subject at a time and the others are ignored. Now an average of over half of our day is spent on reading. Before, it was modern math that confused more than it helped. And before that it was linguistics (whatever happened to our eight parts of speech?).

Children start classes at our school at 8:10 a.m. Twenty minutes later we regroup, with children reading on the level being brought together. I have students from six different rooms for this class, which lasts an hour and 15 minutes.

Form 9:45 until 12:45 p.m., with 30 minutes out for lunch, I have my class to myself. At 12:45, we are scheduled to go out for a half hour of physical education. My children are with me again after that, but only until 1:45 when they are again disturbed for special reading. That class lasts until 2:30, and the first bus for home leaves at 2:40.

It seems that I am trying to teach in between classes. Out of the time I have with my students, they will go to the library once a week, the fish-and-gameclub officer will visit once a month, the art teacher will come once a week, a Bible teacher will request a session once a month. And then there are also special assemblies, ball games, teachers' meetings, the school carnival, etc.

Why can't Johnny read, write or do arithmetic? The teacher doesn't have time between special-education classes and other duties to teach him.

For the teacher must take up lunch money, sell health-and-accident insurance, make out reports, do surveys, grade papers, referee ball games, coach the teams, pass out newsletters that go home to parents, take up money for special events, collect picture money, get ready for school carnivals, give children their flouride treatments.

And God only knows what we will be called upon to do next.

Coal Employee Wins Car in Safety Program

Paul H. Howard, of Paintsville, a mechanic for Ashland Coal, Inc., is the winner of a new automobile in the "Got It Week" safety program conducted by the company's parent firm, Ashland Oil, Inc.

Ashland Coal employees and those of two related company groups worked throughout the week of April 2 without a single lost-time or disabling injury, and Howard's name was selected from among several thousand employees in a drawing that resulted from this achievement. Howard is employed by the Addington Brothers Mining division of Ashland Coal at Van Lear.

John B. Kebblish, president of Ashland Coal, presented the car keys to Howard during a brief ceremony at Job No. 6. An employee since April 1976, Howard was taken by surprise as Kebblish made the announcement that he was one of four major prize winners in Ashland Oil's Kentucky operations.

Other drawing winners receiving awards of $500 U.S. Savings Bonds were Harold Booth, Beattyville, an employee of Ashland Exploration, Inc.; John K. Riffe, Catalpa, an employee of Ashland Coal; and Judi Ison, Ashland.

Recently, drivers of auto's have ignored the warning signs of, "No Parking," in fire lanes. These have been set up to allow the fire trucks room to maneuver without hinderance from parked cars. Also yellow curbs at corners and at drive-ways have been ignored, creating a dangerous situation on the City Streets.

People who violate these parking regulations in the future will have their cars towed away, at their expense, and be fined for breaking the City's

Office at Allen May Get Cases

The Jenkins office for retired United Mine Workers pensioners will be closed next month, and its caseload of some 2,200 pensioners will be shifted to either the Allen office in this county or the Big Stone Gap, Va. office, the UMW Health and Retirement Funds announced this

The move is part of a plain to close other similar offices across the country, said Martin Danziger, the funds director. At the same time, Danziger reported that the office staff of the funds is being "substantially cut" at the present time with over 200 people already laid off since the recent work agreement was reached between the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

Danziger said that the 1978 contract cut the number of miners the funds were serving from 800,000 to under 200,000 who are beneficiaries of the 1950 Benefit Plan.

The 1978 contract terminated the 1974 benefit plan which covered the 166,000 working UMW miners and placed health insurance coverage into the hands of private insurance carriers.

Workmen collect litter from a roadside as part of Floyd county's cleanup drive which will continue through this month. Rain Delays Baseball Play

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON

The Prestonsburg Blackcats and the McDowell Daredevils will be in the regional baseball tournament scheduled to start today (Wednesday) on the Johnson Central High School field, Paintsville.

They were scheduled to meet Tuesday for the district title, but play was doubtful because of weather conditions. Regardless of the outcome of their game, both teams will be in the regional.

The regional will not start until all teams four districts have finished their championship games. Other teams that will be competing in the regional tournament will be undefeated Paintsville and Morgan County from the 57th district.

The McDowell Daredevils advanced to the championship game by defeating a good Betsy Layne team, 8 to 0. The shutout was pitched by Rick Kidd. McDowell exploded for eight runs in the top of the seventh inning to win over Allen Central, 12 to 6, in an earlier game of the district tourney at Drift.

The Allen Central Rebels were leading McDowell 6 to 4, going into the 7th, behind the pitching of Mark Martin and Mike Thorpe, as Coach Mike Reitz would bring in Thorpe from centerfield to face some of the right-hand hitters, but in the seventh neither could stop the McDowell onslaught as the Daredevils scored their 8 runs. Steve Reid started for McDowell and went the distance for the win and he also homered. Mark Martin was the loser, Martin had three base hits. The Prestonsburg Blackcats also had to come from behind to win over Wheelwright by Prestonsburg reached the finals by defeating Wheelwright as Greg Dillon held the Trojans to only four hits and helping his cause with a run-producing double. Herrick had two hits and batted in two runs. David Pitts also batted in one run. Dillon's record is now 4 and 1, and

The Story of Buck and Buck Rock

Related by B. F. Roberts to a son many years ago is a story of a halfbreed farm horse, used by a farmer on Spurlock fork of Beaver Creek, and it was from the labor of ploughing and planting, that old Buck was loosed for a vacation until harvest time. And 'twas from the green fields of pasture that Buck disappeared. The loss was not of much concern until harvest time when he was again needed. The harvest came and a search began for the large brown horse, described as a wandering halfbreed, great on the farm. He often belied his pedigree with just the right gait for the Bull tongue plough, and at the gin pole he had the knowhow. As the search went on, a keen-eyed hunter who came close to a rock where Buck was standing, leaned on a long-barreled gun and searched the fields and trees around while a black and tan hound trotted hither and thither, sniffed the horse. This caused the hunter to turn his head. He saw the horse, but he never realized his confinement. No walls, no bars or fences-freedom all around, but Buck didn't come down.

The most vivid vision of Dad's youth was manifested in a dancing dream that scribbled a small arc on the horizon of mystery, and 'twas on this plane reflected between the mountain and the moon that he saw this large brown bareribbed beast, peering east with a mysterious and complex look, that matched or mocked the expression of every other animal in the animal kingdom. It may have seemed a way out, but it was a disappointment for he was looking only into the path of the sun. And next day just as the first rays touched the tree tops, and as the master despaired, all plans for Buck's release were cancelled. He was softly bridled, and then with the grace of a thoroughbred and with humble obedience, he followed another Master down a strange one-way

The mystery is the same today as yesterday, how a clumsy animal ever ascended a barren rock; why he went up and why he couldn't find his way down. And yet another mystery, though the spirit of the beast goes down it was the observation of simple farmer, that the spirit of old Buck departed above us.

So be it. Yet we reckon with a massive parcel of Mother earth, with no sign of age, no record of beginning or birth, known as Buck Rock, still towering over the land and the folks of Spurlock.

Ohioan Is Jailed As Drugs Found

John P. O'Neill, 20-year-old Ohio man, and two juveniles were jailed early Sunday morning by Jenny Wiley State Park rangers after a variety of drugs ranging from marijuana to "angel dust" was found in the auto which they occupied.

The arrests were made by Rangers Phillip Neeley and Kenneth Donta shortly after 3 a.m., near May Lodge, when the rangers noted the erratic movement of the car and suspected that the driver was drunk.

The narcotics were taken by the rangers Monday to an Ashland laboratory, which made a preliminary report listing the drugs as marijuana, two types of barbiturates and PCP ("angel dust")

The officers at first charged the three with possession of marijuana but upon receiving the preliminary lab report swore out warrants charging them with possession of the other drugs.

A Hueysville man was fined in Floyd district court after a raid on the Cool Water fork of Salt Lick, Saturday, netted officers a large quantity of illegal alcoholic beverages.

Tivis Neeley was cited for illegal possession after Joe W. Lewis and Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis, Kenneth Hughes and Linzie Hunt confiscated 910 cans of beer and 42 half-pints of liquor from several junked automobiles. Upon a plea of guilty Neeley paid a fine of $50, plus $34.50 court costs.

Help for Stricken Youngster

Mrs. Bonnie Crisp is shown (above) presenting eight-year-old Gary Howell, Jr. a check for $100 on behalf of the Martin Woman's Club to help with expenses which the Howell family must bear as their son continues treatment after removal of a kidney and malignant tumor on November 18, last year. Since that time, the third-grade student at Bonanza Grade School has spent one day each week at a Paintsville hospital. He also goes to U.K. Medical Center, Lexington, where he must stay for five days treatment every three months. These treatments will continue for 18 months. Through all this, the youngster maintains a sunny disposition. He will observe his ninth birthday Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Howell, on the Abbott road.

The Martin club recently gave a benefit dance for him, and the check represents the proceeds of the event. Any who wish to help Gary and his family may send a check or money order to the Rev. Tommy Reynolds, care of Citizens National Bank, Paintsville, made payable to the Gary Howell, Jr. Fund.

Guest at Motel, Missing Employe Search Targets

The search in Johnson county continued Tuesday for a missing motel clerk and a man who may have abducted him early last Saturday morning when $608 of the motel funds disappeared.

The missing Paintsville man is James Leonard Wells, 27. His suspected abductor left behind on the registration desk of Heart of the Highlands Motel the name of Donald Edward, but the Akron, O. address given by him was proved fictitious, and it is thought the name used in registering for a room may be phony,

State Police Detective Kenneth DeBoard said it appears that Wells was abducted. He does not drive. The detective surmised that Wells may have been forced to accompany the man who took the money in the clerk saw him commit the robbery

A guest at the motel who had left a wakeup call for 4 a.m. told DeBoard he saw a young man registering when he reached the motel lobby. He has given authorities a description of the man, and a composite picture is being widely circulated.

A citizens' search of the area was made Monday, and farmers have been asked to keep a lookout for abandoned cars which might have been used in the getaway and in which Wells might have been left behind by his abductor.
