

Stream Project Engenders Heat At Martin Meet

Protection from Flood Interests More Than Insurance Discussion

Flood protection rather than flood insurance drew the most heated discussion at the meeting held at the Martin Elementary School Saturday afternoon by arrangement made by Congressman Carl D. Perkins.

County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. said he drew more than his share of the "heat" when the discussion turned to flood protection—an issue that has existed at Martin since funds for the Beaver Creek channelization project through Martin and on downstream were appropriated by Congress in 1967.

"That was when I was still a sophomore in college," Turner said.

But he added that he is "totally committed to bring this channelization question to a conclusion as far as the acquisition of right-of-way (goes) before this calendar year is over."

He said later this week that he plans to move for immediate appointment of commissioners to appraise each parcel of property on which right-of-way has not been procured.

Turner also said a commitment has been received from the Army Corps of Engineers to put four men in the Martin

Roadbuilding Clears Part of Town

"Garrett Hollow," once filled with miners' homes built in the heyday of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation's mining activities at Garrett, is now cleared of every building of any size for the four-lane KY 80 under construction. Blasting is being done on the point running down onto old KY 80 to make room for four lanes of traffic. Across the old road (at left, out of camera range) work is under way on a four-lane bridge across Right Beaver Creek.

Hamilton Slain, Minister Faces Murder Charge

A long-standing dispute between two Floyd county ministers over a roadway ended last Thursday in the slaying of one by the other in the Beaver section of Mud Creek.

The Rev. Charlie (Hatler) Hamilton, 54, died of a single .38-caliber revolver bullet admittedly fired by Elder Lee Hamilton.

Lee Hamilton was severely beaten—by the victim of the shooting, he said—and was taken to the McDowell Regional Hospital for treatment. He later was moved to a Pikeville hospital by State Police as a precautionary measure, and this week was a patient in the Highlands Medical Center here.

County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. said Hamilton's doctor has advised that the accused man is able to participate in a preliminary hearing on bond but only if the hearing is held in his hospital room. Turner said a hearing at the hospital was being considered.

The trouble between the two men began about five years ago and had been the subject of a court action here. Their difference apparently arose over access to the Lee Hamilton home, up a hollow, above the Hatler Hamilton home.

Lee Hamilton said that when he drove to a store Thursday he found, on his return, the truck of the other blocking the road in front of the Hatler Hamilton home. He claimed he pleaded for a peaceful settlement of the difference but that the other struck him a blow on the head with the butt of a 22-caliber rifle. He said he made his way to his truck and that he procured his revolver from the seat of the truck and fired one shot after Hatler Hamilton had snapped the rifle at him.

The bullet struck Hamilton in the left side of his chest and ranged downward, it was said.

KSP Detective Keith Scott, who investigated the shooting, said three loaded .22-caliber cartridges were found on the ground at the shooting scene, and that one unfired cartridge was in the rifle.

The shooting may have been witnessed by none except the two principals. But relatives of the slain man said the shooting apparently took place 10 minutes after a heated argument, and they indicated they may produce evidence to the effect that Lee Hamilton went into his home and returned to the scene, armed with the revolver. The identity of two persons who may have witnessed the shooting is also known, Magistrate Herschell Hamilton, a brother of the victim, said.

The victim was a minister of the Church of God of Prophecy and had been a member of that church 30 years. His adversary is a minister of the Old Regular Baptist Church.

The shooting victim was a son of the late Wilburn Lee and Jane Tackett Hamilton and was a former miner and a veteran of World War II. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Goldie Edith Hall Hamilton; two sons, Kenneth Dale Hamilton, Taylor, Mich., and Timothy Lee Hamilton, Clinton, Mich.; three

Bond on Murder Voided by Order

Randy Hall, who has been at liberty under bond pending his trial on a murder charge in connection with the gunshot death of his sister-in-law on Mud Creek, was arrested Monday by Joe W. Lewis on an order of arrest issued by District Judge Harold J. Stumbo and was returned to jail here.

The order of arrest pointed out that Hall was admitted to bail May 5 on the condition that he was not to be in Floyd county unless accompanied by his attorney, Public Defender Gary Johnson. Later, a prosecuting witness who was not named in the arrest order told the court that Hall came to her home in this county and attempted to enter. His attorney was not with him, as required by the bond, it was alleged.

Hall is accused by his former wife of killing her sister.

District Judge Stumbo said he has also issued an arrest order for Cisco Neeley, who had been released on condition that he go elsewhere.

A warrant issued in Magoffin county has been sent to Sheriff Doug Lewis, asking Neeley's arrest on an armed robbery charge. The warrant was issued last Thursday on the affidavit of Donna Brown, who alleged that Neeley entered her trailer near the Floyd-Magoffin line at Gunlock and took $250 and a pistol.

Floyd Hospitals Get Strike Help

Two Floyd county hospitals have received checks to help them overcome a financial situation created by last winter's record coal strike.

Our Lady of the Way Hospital at Martin recently received from William L. Short, secretary of the State Development Cabinet, $297,224. At the same time Mr. Short presented a check representing the first installment of a total of $298,410 awarded to the Highlands Medical Center here.

The checks represented part of a total $6.2 million made available by the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) and the Economic Development Administration (EDA) to 22 hospitals in five states which were adversely affected by last winter's record coal strike.

According to Short, Gov. Julian Carroll's ARC alternate, grants totaling some $2.5 million were provided for six eastern Kentucky hospitals "so that they might continue essential health services and retain essential health personnel."

Short said a grant from the ARC and EDA funds is also being awarded to the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville.

Hospitals located in Whitesburg, McDowell and South Williamson will receive grants from a $1.4 million fund earmarked specifically for Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Short said.

Barker's Body Found In Buckhorn Lake

The body of George Duncan Barker, 58, former Jenny Wiley State Park manager, who had been missing since April 28, was recovered Saturday morning by a fisherman from Buckhorn Lake, near Hazard.

The body was recovered near the spot where his empty boat and watersoaked cap were found three weeks earlier.

This Town...That World

HORNSWOGGLED

Reading helps, sometimes. Here I've rumbled along, all my life, declaring on occasion that I've been hornswoogled and never knowing just what I meant or whence came the expression. Now I learn (by reading Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings) that whenever I'm in that fix I'm like the cow which tried to jump the high fence and got hung up—hornswoogled, no less.

NO BARGAIN

Then there is this one who bought a giant of a mastiff for a watchdog. Got him at a bargain. Left his doors unlocked, trusting Old Faithful to take care of any who might think to filch from him. Trouble was, he forgot that bargain dogs never bite.

ELECTION REPORT—

This is being written on Tuesday. Election day (or had you heard?). This may be one election during which the law is being carefully tracked. Nobody cares enough to break it. The "strikers" are missing. So are those who pass out candidates' cards to the voters. And those who were so busy saving county, state, nation, dear, old homeland at other elections are elsewhere. Most of them may not even get to the polls to vote. Reminds me—I'm almost among the missing, myself.

"THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW . . ."

Rained out of his gardening this morning, Watt Hale decided to put in a call for help. Says he would like for me to use my influence, if any, with Congressman Carl Perkins to get him to push for some badly needed legislation. "I'd like," he specified, "to get a bill passed to force every man, prior to retirement, to take a course in house-keeping, especially in making up beds and shoving a mop."

Slim Leads Reported In Kidnapping-Murder

Officers investigating the execution-type slaying of a Paintsville motel night clerk in Pike county were quoted this week as saying they have leads to the identity of the slayer, but they declined to discuss their findings in any detail.

The body of the victim, James Leonard Wells, 26, clerk for the Heart o' Highlands Motel, Paintsville, was found late last Tuesday afternoon, about 150 feet off the Little Creek road in Pike county. He had been tied to a tree, shot twice in the head. Strips from a blanket had been used to tie the victim, and the blanket was draped over him.

Two empty .22-calibre cartridge cases were found on the ground, near the body. Some Pike county residents theorize that only a person familiar with the area where the body was found would have known of the road.

Wells was abducted from the motel around 4 a.m. Saturday, May 13, and $608 of motel funds were missing. A widespread search followed, and the FBI has joined local and state officers in the investigation of the murder.

A composite sketch of a man seen registering at the motel has been circulated.

The room assigned Edward was not used.

Police confirmed that Edward was not the suspect's real name.

Wells was the son of Mrs. Lorraine Wells, Southside, Paintsville. He was graduated from Paintsville High School in 1969, graduated with honors from Mayo State Vocational-Technical School and attended Lees Junior College and Berea College.

The body was found by Luther Boyd, an employee of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company. A family lives about 100 feet from the death scene but apparently did not hear the shots.

Paintsville has its second robbery-kidnapping in eight days early last Sunday morning, but the latest, officers say, had no connection with the kidnapping and murder of James Leonard Wells, motel clerk.

Held in the Johnson county jail in lieu of $200,000 bond are David Maynard, 23, and Terry Judge, 21, both of Martin county. According to Paintsville Police Chief Ross Spears, the men were arrested on two counts of robbery and one count of kidnapping.

Police were 10 seconds away from a self-service Texaco station when alerted of a robbery in progress. The two men allegedly abducted station attendant Lon Butler at gunpoint, took $600, and fled in a 1965 Buick.

Sheriff's deputies followed the vehicle into Martin county, but lost the car when the driver stopped to shove the hostage out and they stopped to pick him up.

Spears said Butler suffered abdominal knife wounds.

Police arrested the suspects near the Nolan bridge in Pike county on KY 292 after a tire blew out on the Buick and they abandoned it for another vehicle.

West Virginia authorities are conducting an investigation to see if the incident is related to a Kermit, W. Va., robbery, which, according to Spears, "was the same type of deal."

In Pike county a robbery-abduction was reported last week by Renee Bartley, clerk at the Modern Villa Motel, Pikeville, who said a man rifled the cash box of $350-$400 and forced her to drive him away in her own car. She said she escaped when the man left her vehicle at a landfill, south of Pikeville, to talk with the occupant of another auto parked there. The woman said she was pursued by the two men but that she lost them in the Shebiana-Chloe Creek area.

Manager Says Tests Show Water Is Safe

Laboratory reports received Monday on three water samplings from the Martin water system calmed much of the stir created there last week by a laboratory report that water taken from the faucet in a Martin home was unsafe for consumption.

Bob Hackworth, who doubles as water system superintendent and as constable in Magisterial District 2, said he received Monday afternoon state laboratory reports on three water samplings made later and that all three "were good."

"There never was anything wrong with the water," Hackworth insists. He added that the sampling from the faucet in the home of Robert Campbell, in the mid-section of town, "must have been messed up, some way." Checks on the water, made last week by representatives of the Environmental Protection Agency and the State Water Quality Commission showed nothing amiss, he said.

Two of the three samples reported upon Monday by the state laboratory were taken from the Campbell home, and the third from elsewhere in the system.

The disturbing water report came from a sampling made by a sanitarian of the Floyd County Health Department at the request of Dr. Page, of Pikeville. At the same time, another water sample from elsewhere in the system was given a good rating.

How the first sample from the home was contaminated is not clear. Earl Compton, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department, said it was possible the faucet from which the first sample came, or the container in which it was placed, was contaminated.

Mrs. Campbell said her sons as well as others had suffered from dysentery and that one or more doctors had suggested testing of the water.

Hackworth said he is required to send water samples twice a month to the state lab and that he checks the water four times daily for chlorine and fluoride content.

The plant superintendent described the furore as "mostly a political thing."

Law-Related Education To Involve Students

Simulated elections, mock trials and moot courts may involve students in Kentucky social studies classes next fall when pilot programs in law-related education are implemented across the state.

An awareness conference on citizenship and law-related education will be held June 26-27 at Eastern Kentucky University. It will bring together parents, teachers, school administrators, lawyers, judges, legislators, probation and parole officers and youth advocates to talk about "turning students on to active citizenship," said Helen Worthington, social studies consultant for the Department of Education.

"We're high on involvement and participation by students in citizenship education," Worthington said. "Text-book teaching is out."

She explained that students do not become as involved in studying a civics textbook as they might in brainstorming a topic, doing the research themselves and seeking solutions.

"If a student says 'there ought to be a law, let them work on it,' she said. Students can discover how a law is written, the steps in passing it, how lobbyists work to get a law passed and how to implement a law.

Persons who have attended the conference, according to Worthington, will later help students develop an understanding of a constitutional democracy, the skills necessary to function as effective and responsible citizens and create a willingness to use democratic processes and procedures when making decisions or resolving conflicts.

Topics might be found in law-related education program include voter education, lawmaking, law enforcement, juvenile problems, courts, parole, and individual rights and responsibilities.

Kentucky teachers will be given an opportunity to pilot law-related curriculum materials in their schools next fall. Community resource people in the political and legal professions will help teachers improve civic education in the schools.

Sponsors for the conference will include the Kentucky Department of Education, Kentucky Council for Social Studies, Kentucky Bar Association, League of Women Voters, Kentucky Bar Auxiliary, Justice Department, Kentucky Court of Justice and higher education.

CARD OF THANKS

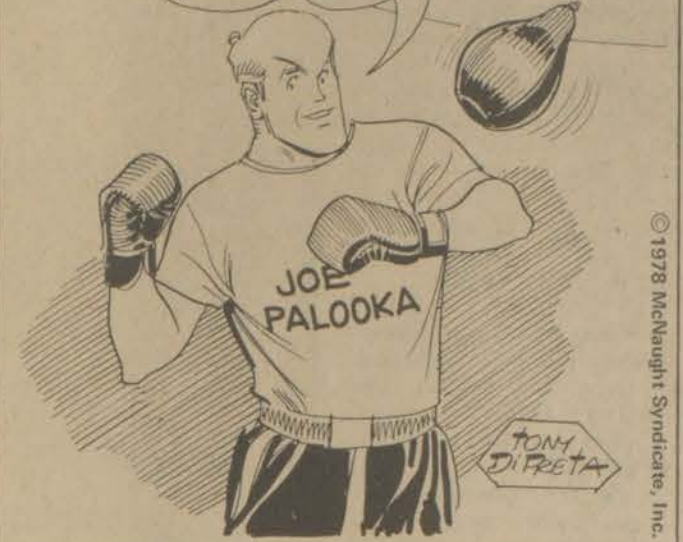

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to all who were so kind to us upon the recent death of our beloved mother, Effie Daniels. We would especially thank those who sent floral tributes and food and all the nurses and doctors at Our Lady of the Way Hospital and the ministers of the Little Union Church for their comforting words. And special thanks to aunt Mary and uncle Serge and daughters and all who prepared food, also the Hall Bros. Funeral Home for its courteous and efficient service.

Rum Raids Are Among Arrests

Four recent liquor raids were reported this week by law enforcement officials in the county.

Of two raids reported from the Auxier vicinity, the first, made on May 8 by Sheriff Doug Lewis and Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hughes, resulted in the arrest of Mary Lewis Fitzpatrick on a charge of illegal possession of alcoholic beverages. The officers seized 54 bottles of beer and a single fifth of whiskey from her residence on the Patton Hollow and she later paid a fine following a plea of guilty to charges. In another raid at Auxier Jerome Greathouse was charged with illegal possession by Deputy Sheriff Linzie Hunt.

Charged with illegal possession for purpose of sale by ABC Agent Ted H. Salisbury, Sunday, was Larry Wright, of Martin. Wright was charged after Salisbury recovered a quantity of alcoholic beverages from his car. Wright was also charged with assault in third degree, resisting arrest and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Everett Carroll was charged with illegal possession by Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis, Kenneth Hughes and Chuck Akers after the officers, acting on a search warrant, recovered six pints of whiskey from Carroll's residence on the Tackett Branch at Grethel.

James Moore, Jr., of Lackey was transferred last Wednesday from the Letcher county jail to the jail here by Joe W. Lewis and Deputy Sheriff Randall Lewis where he was booked on a charge of theft by unlawful taking. The charge stems from the alleged theft of a transmission valued at approximately $500 from an automobile at Lackey owned by Emily Conley.

In other action by county officers, Joe W. Lewis and Deputy Sheriff Harold Johnson destroyed 1,115 marijuana plants found growing in a field near Wheelwright, last Thursday.

Others booked at the county jail over the past week, charges against each, and arresting officers follow:

Donald Kimberly, assault in third degree and wanton endangerment in the second degree, by State Trooper D. Stumbo; Charles J. Sturgill, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis and Chuck Akers; Ronald Stanley, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policeman Darrell Conley; Larry Vanover, wanton endangerment in the first degree, by Deputy Sheriff Larry D. Goble; Homer Music, drunk driving, by Allen Policeman Steve Brackett; Malcolm Johnson, drunk driving, by State Trooper Roderick; Rodney K. Hopson, drunk driving, by Sheriff Doug Lewis; Robert Friend, drunk driving, by State Trooper Roderick; William Scalf, drunk driving, by State Trooper Stephens; Walker Newsome, drunk driving, by State Trooper Roderick; Eugene Hicks, criminal trespass, by Constable Bob Hackworth; Douglas Sexton, drunk driving, by Constable Bob Hackworth.

South Central Bell Repair Service To Have New Toll-Free Number

Beginning May 25, South Central Bell's repair service will have a new number, said Phill Scott, local South Central Bell manager. The new toll-free number is 1-557-6611.

The toll-free number connects customers with a centralized repair bureau where a trained repair attendant will type the customer's telephone number into a computer, he explained. Instantly, a record of the customer's service appears on a viewing screen. Then, the repair clerk types a description of the telephone problem, and the computer takes over.

Within minutes, the customer's trouble is analyzed, processed and transmitted by the computer to the repair test center in Winchester. There, the report is screened and tested. The trouble is either cleared within the central office or a local repairman is sent to the customer's premise.

"Using the computer, our people can repair telephone service faster and more efficiently," Mr. Scott said. "Although a repair report must travel from the centralized repair bureau back to Winchester, the new system will enable us to give better repair service."

"With our new repair system, we keep the quality of your telephone service high and keep costs down at the same time," he said.

"Of course, we hope our customers never have to call for telephone repairs. But, if they do, I think they'll like our new system," Scott said.

Letters to the Editor

Warns Railroad

The following letter has been addressed to the C. & O. Railway Company: I'm a resident of a small community known as Price, Kentucky. I have lived here 17 out of the past 18 years. I own property adjacent to your railroad. In the past years you have refused to honor your obligations of keeping your property in a state of repair that will insure the safety of your neighbors.

I am concerned about the total abandonment of railroad trackbed upkeep throughout our state and nation. However, I am more concerned about the condition of the track in front of my home. I have pleaded with your representatives at Martin, Ky., and also with our Railroad Commissioner. Apparently you could care less for my fears.

It does not require an expert to realize that you are endangering the lives of people unfortunate enough to live along your railroad. Over half of the cross-ties move under a man's weight. Several cross-ties are missing and have been for over a year. When I confronted your representative with this problem, he informed me that if only one tie was missing there was no danger. We were standing in front of a train wreck at the time. His attitude was uncaring and he seemed not to be interested in the matter in the least.

Within the past six months, your train has derailed in front of my home. Luckily, it did not wreck and returned to the tracks on its own. You have not repaired your tracks before or after this incident.

Within the past week you have had a train wreck within 1/2 mile of my home. Within the past four years, derailments have caused the death of two men within 1/4 mile of my home. These were separate accidents.

Within the past five months your train crews have left your engine unattended and running for 12 hour-periods on two occasions in front of my home. This resulted not only in aggravation to the local residents who were forced to put up with the noise but also created a serious safety hazard on highway 122 when the flashing lights operated both times during these periods.

It is a common occurrence for these flashing lights to blink for hours while the train crews assemble a train of gondolas. Residents have become accustomed to this practice. Perhaps this is a contributory factor to the accident on a dark night a couple of years ago when a young girl was killed when the car she was riding did not heed these lights and hit the end of a train that was slowly backing onto the roadway without the benefit of a flare of flagman.

I would like to invite the responsible officials of this railroad to visit me in my home, or to sit in their cars with their families in front of my home when their train speeds out of this section of railroad. I am sure if they were to see the tops of their gondolas moving 2-3 feet, swaying towards their loved ones, they would understand our plight. I am sure sirs that you could and would pay for my home in event that your train should damage it. However, I am concerned for the safety of my family. All your millions of dollars cannot replace one life.

I can see no difference in guilt of railroad officials who require to keep their equipment in safe condition and cause wrecks that destroy human lives and guilt of manslaughter charged against drunk drivers on our highways.

Gentlemen I have pleaded with you for over two years. I have talked to the railroad commissioner to no avail. I have reported your negligence concerning the highway crossing lights to the state police. Nothing does any good. The only time that I can remember when you act is after a wreck, or after some one blows your bridges or tunnels up with dynamite.

I do not intend to wait any longer for repairs. I consider the danger that you thrust upon my family no less than that of a rabid dog. I am sure that my neighbors will support me in trying to get a court injunction to stop your operations. I am also sure that if we can't get such an injunction, we can stop you in some other fashion.

TERRY THORNSBERRY
Rt. 122, Price, Ky. 41654

Parents Express Thanks

We would like to thank the people and the school children of Auxier, Ky. We read about their holding the Bike-a-Thon for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. We are the parents of three children who had cystic fibrosis. Two of our sons have passed away. Larry Douglas Sherman lived to be 29 years old and died Feb. 20, 1977. Our daughter, Deborah, is now in St. Joe Hospital in Ann Arbor, Mich., very ill. She has lived 23 years with cystic fibrosis.

Praises Ex-Sheriff

On the front page of the county newspaper of May 10 Attorney Henry E. Hughes, defense counsel for Ralph Anderson for the slaying of Mack Lewis at Ivel a few months ago, alleged that Ex-Sheriff Joe W. Lewis, a brother of Mack Lewis, has threatened to kill Anderson on the witness stand or any attorney that represents him or helps Anderson in any way. Personally, I think Mr. Hughes has been badly misinformed by some people, somewhere, or some place.

I have known Joe Wheeler Lewis all of his life and also knew his father real well, also his mother. They were hard-working, honest people. George Lewis, Joe Wheeler's father, had a little trouble with a man by the name of Henry Adkins from the same neighborhood. Henry Adkins cut Mr. Lewis with a pocket knife and got three years in prison. He did all of his time for the cutting. He told his buddies in prison he would destroy old man Lewis. He wasn't out but just a few days when he met George Lewis at the mouth of Ivel Creek, they made friends, and started up the creek by themselves. Yes, they found Uncle George shot in the back of the head, dead. They tried Henry Adkins in this county, and gave him ten years, and sent him back to La Grange. If Joe Wheeler Lewis wanted to kill some one, why didn't he kill that man that killed his father?

I used to be a bootlegger and Joe Wheeler has raided me on several occasions and has taken real large quantities of beer and whiskey from me. Some times, State Police were with him and sometimes deputies. He has been chief deputy under two or three sheriffs and has been elected Sheriff two times in this county, and I am sure that his son who is sheriff now was elected for the friendship they had for Joe Wheeler.

Joe has sherried and worked in the coal mines all his life. He has raised about 13 or 14 children, he and his wife. I don't think he had any one killed by his deputy in the two terms he was in office. I believe that to be a record among sheriffs over the state. When Joe used to come and raid me, he didn't come with his gun in his hand and cursing me out. He had perfect respect and didn't tear your house all up, and not fix it back.

Why he won my respect and friendship—I have never in all my life heard of him drinking one drop, or taking a bribe, or running after loose women. And that's a record that's hard to equal.

I have never in all my life heard of Joe Wheeler Lewis threatening any one. I personally don't think he is the killer type. He has had lots of chances in 25 years, and he has not killed anyone yet. I know he has been very lucky and used excellent judgment, or else his record wouldn't be as spotless and clean as it is.

I'll assure Mr. Hughes or any other attorney that Joe W. Lewis will never harm a hair on their head, because he isn't dumb; he has got one of the best memories of names, and places in this county, than any man I know of. These good people who have been electing him know he is a good, dependable man and can be trusted.

BENNIE BLACKBURN
Rt. 1, Allen, Ky.

Protest Coal Tipple

We, the 34 undersigned residents of the old 114 Middle Creek Road are placing this letter in the Floyd County Times as a public protest to the building of a coal tipple near our homes.

In June of 1977, a petition was filed with the Fiscal Court and the court rescinded a motion of easement of county property for a coal tipple. All work on the tipple ceased until May of this year. Then the work was resumed.

Several county officials have been contacted as to whether or not an easement of the county has been signed or applied for an according to the Fiscal Court records, it is our understanding that records are the same as was filed in June of 1977.

We are protesting this tipple, because we are barely able to travel the road to our homes now. The overloaded coal trucks have already made dangerous dips in the road which are hazardous to driving. We are also worrying about the destruction of our health, our homes, the heavy traffic and the safety of our children riding the school bus.

We are making this public as a plea to anyone who can supply us with any helpful information on the matter. (Names of signers of letter may be seen at home of John Ed Shepherd or Dexter Baldrige on the Old Middle Creek Road.)

Officers Find Plot Of Marijuana Plants

Police Chief Harold Johnson, of Wheelwright, and Joe W. Lewis last Wednesday confiscated 1115 marijuana plants which were being cultivated in a plot behind a slate dump on 79 Hill at Wheelwright. The growers had not been identified this week.

Twenty Years Ago

(May 22, 1958)

Bids were opened last Friday preliminary to the awarding of a contract on the Prestonsburg-Auxier bypass of U.S. 23. . . Bodies of two well-known Floyd county men were found last week, hours after each had died alone in highway accidents. The dead: Joe H. Cooley, 49, claimed in a wreck early Thursday morning on the Ball Alley curve here; and John Wesley James, 53, of Endicott, killed Thursday evening on his way home when the truck he was driving left the Cow Creek-Buffalo mountain and plunged 100 feet down the embankment. . . Interest in public libraries reached a new peak in this section Saturday with the official opening of the five-county Eastern Kentucky Regional Library here. . . Although concern over coal prices was voiced here by United Mine Workers' officials who suggested last week that the truck mine operators should close shop and go fishing, a leading operator in this county said Monday that he believes the bottom has been reached in both demand for coal and the money it will bring. . . Rudy Robinette, 13, of Banner, won the Floyd county marble tournament, Saturday, May 3. . . Married: Miss Lillian Lowe, of Harold, and Cecil M. Sturgill, of Detroit, Mich., May 15 at Harold; Miss Margaret Rorrer, of Lancer, and Jimmy Reffitt, of Blue River, April 30 at Clintwood, Virginia. . . Hicks, 78, of Garrett, Saturday at home; Tommie Brown, 61, Monday at his home at Langley; Mrs. Lois Stiles Taylor, 34, formerly of Prestonsburg, Monday at Columbus, Ohio.

Thirty Years Ago

(May 27, 1948)

Labor disputes Tuesday caused suspension of operation of the Sparks Brothers Bus Company for the second time in the last 45 days and paralyzed work at the Dewey Dam. . . One of six men who lost their lives Thursday beneath tons of coal in a Dante, Va. mine was Oakley Crager, 38, son of Jim Crager, of Abbott Creek. . . Floyd county's boom coal mining industry has been feeling the rail car shortage pinch for the last month, and this week the squeeze was becoming more painful, a spokesman for the Floyd County Truck Mine Association said. . . The poppy sale, begun here last Saturday for the benefit of disabled veterans, will be resumed Saturday of this week, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, chairman of the Floyd county cancer committee which is handling the sale, has announced. . . Married: Miss Louise Whitt, of Drift, and John Paul Billiter, of Martin, May 15, at Pikeville; Miss Henrietta Lewis and Sgt. James E. McClanahan, both of Betsy Layne, May 20. . . Born: to the Rev. and Mrs. Winn T. Barr, of Allen, a son, Tuesday at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville; to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sirkle, a son, Raymond Bryan, May 19 at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin; to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Butler, of Jump, a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, May 5; to Mr. and Mrs. Edd Carr, of Langley, a daughter, Lavern Rae, May 8; to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bailey, of Handshoe, a son, Wesley, May 11; to Mr. and Mrs. Landell Thornsbury, of Wheelwright, a daughter, Mildred; to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hamilton, of McDowell, a son, Larry Douglas, May 8; to Mr. and Mrs. Dee Howell, Jr., of a Orkney, twins, Connie Carroll and Jimmy Carroll. . . ## Forty Years Ago

(May 26, 1938)

A permanent injunction to restrain the Floyd County Board of Education and Superintendent Town Hall from purchasing a school site outside the town of Martin and removing the high school from the town in any way was asked in a suit filed in the clerk's office of the Floyd circuit court Saturday by a group of Martin citizens. . . Providing physical recreation, opportunity for handiwork, and a kindergarten for tots, all under supervision, Prestonsburg's W.P.A. playground will open today (Thursday) on the high school grounds, Mrs. Grace Burke, county director of recreation, announced. . . A freakish wind, claimed by old-timers to be "one of the strongest in years," swept through Prestonsburg Saturday evening, overturning two buildings, smashing window-panes, and damaging and uprooting trees. . . Married: Miss Gladys Mellon, and Samuel R. Cumpton, of Catlettsburg, May 12. . . Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Buster Patton, of West Prestonsburg, a daughter, recently. . . There died: Shelley Martin, 45, Saturday at Wayland.

area to identify property parcels in question and that all landowners desiring that the Corps come to their property and stake off or identify the portion of their property to be taken should file a written request at his office.

"I think everyone would agree," Turner said in a prepared statement, "that this matter must be brought to a conclusion. It has been my experience that even most of those who were initially opposed to the project feel that it best to put this matter behind us, and this we will attempt to do."

A representative of the Federal Flood Insurance Administration explained how flood insurance rates will be determined later, how flood levels determined by the Corps of Engineers will affect rates on structures built in the flood plain, and restrictions that will affect new construction in flood-prone areas.

The county attorney said the right-of-way acquisition work will place an unusual strain on his office, since the county has not provided him an assistant as in other years and the office now has only a part-time assistant. He also pointed out that on two occasions in the past the county has hired special counsel, in addition to the work of two of his predecessors in the office—and all without success.

million for 14 projects, two of which are in this county.

One Floyd project, an abandoned deep mine site near David which discharges acid water and degrades the supply of drinking water, will cost from $250,000 to $500,000. The other, an abandoned gob pile at Wheelwright that has impoundment potential and poses a threat to several homes, will cost an estimated $200,000.

Other reclamation projects listed for the area and the estimated cost of each: —Cockenback Lake, near Payne Gap in Letcher county, that is a potential threat to downstream dwellings; $100,000.

—A slag pile above Tilford in Perry county, causing air and water pollution, $100,000.

—A water impoundment behind a slag pile near Defiance in Perry county, threatening dwellings and businesses below the lake, $20,000.

—A burning slag pile near Owl's Nest in Leslie county, near Hyden, $15,000.

—An unreclaimed strip mine in Pike county that has caused slides and flooding to private property, $10,000 to $20,000.

All were listed as "extreme danger areas."

HONEY BEE INSTALLED AS WISCONSIN'S STATE BUG

MADISON, Wis.—The honey bee became the state insect of Wisconsin recently.

In a Statehouse ceremony, acting Gov. Martin Schreiber approved a bill designating the honey bee as the official state insect and paid tribute to its contributions to Wisconsin.

In Wisconsin in 1976, honey bees produced more than 10.2 million pounds of honey—fifth in the nation.

MAY HAVE STARTED LATE

Watt has two pet crows for which he had high hopes for a time. Thought he might make gentlemen out of them, so to speak. But their behavior indicates, he says, that he may have started bending the twig a bit too late.

THE EYEOPENER

Most of us grope for things, wandering about in a daze upon arising, mornings, and till a cup of coffee arrives would have been better off if we had "stood in bed." Best escape hatch from these morning blazes that I know is to sit real quiet and listen for a bird-call. We have a redbird which is bustin' his buttons with cheer (vocal, not potable) at that hour, and when I can stir myself to listen and wonder the caffeine isn't really needed.

Mr. Barker, who was director of camping and boat docks for the Kentucky Department of Parks, had gone fishing alone, at night, during a call at Buckhorn State Park. He had earlier been hospitalized because of a heart condition.

A former mayor of Junction City and a former president of the Bank of Danville, he was a native of Springfield, Ky. Prior to his association with the Bank of Danville, he had been cashier and vice-president of the Citizens Bank of Junction City.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Caldwell Barker, and one son, Nicholas Barker, both of Frankfort, and his mother, Mrs. Nona C. Barker.

His funeral was conducted Monday from the Preston-Pruitt Funeral Home, Danville, and burial there was made in Bellevue cemetery.

Three Youth Corps Projects in Section

The largest Youth Conservation Corps program ever conducted in Kentucky will put more than 400 teenagers to work in beautification and conservation programs benefiting their communities, Gov. Julian M. Carroll has announced.

There will be only three projects in Eastern Kentucky, all non-residential programs lasting six weeks. Sponsors, number of positions and proposed work are the following:

Rowan county, 20 positions, beautification on school and city-owned property, including working on 2.7 miles of hiking trails in Morehead City Park. Enrollees will also construct a botanical garden to be used by high school students.

McCreary county, 10 positions, constructing hiking trails and beautifying a creek area by damming to create a small pool at the county park.

City of Paintsville, 10 positions, landscaping and beautification work in parks and other city-owned property.

The Youth Conservation Corps is a federally supported work-study program for young men and women, at least 15 years old but not over 18. It is funded through the state, the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and the Interior, and through the project sponsors—city or county governments, for the most part.

Young men and women interested in applying for jobs in the YCC program should contact the Bureau for Manpower Services office which serves their county.

FBLA Scholarship Recipients

Recipients of the second annual Future Business Leaders of America $100 scholarships are, from left: Reta Karen Ratliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ratliff, of Langley; Bernadette Blevins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kedrick Blevins, of Langley; and Debi Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles F. Patton, of Eastern.

Misses Ratliff and Patton will be attending Mayo State Vocational Center to major in the legal and clerical fields. Miss Blevins will attend Prestonsburg Community College. She plans to become a legal secretary.

All Business and Office students from the five high schools that attend Garth Area Vocational Education Center have a chance to apply for the scholarship, provided they are seniors, have at least a B average, and are a member of the FBLA. Qualified students from other high schools elected not to apply.

Is Fifth Doctor In P'burg Family

When Keith Leslie was graduated May 14 from the University of Louisville's School of Dentistry, he became the fifth doctor in a Prestonsburg family.

Dr. Leslie's father is Dr. Edward B. Leslie, veteran dentist here. Two brothers, Dr. Rondall H. Leslie and Dr. Larry M. Leslie, are in medical practice here. Another brother, Dr. Edward D. Leslie, is a Frankfort dentist.

Dr. Leslie was graduated from Prestonsburg High School in the class of 1970 and in high school was a member of the National Honor Society and the basketball team. He received his A. B. pre-med degree from the University of Louisville in 1974.

He entered U. of L. with a four-year basketball scholarship but played only during his freshman year. That first season, he won the Scholastic Award of the freshman basketball team. A T. U. of L. he was a member of Delta Sigma Delta fraternity.

Dr. Leslie will practice in Prestonsburg.

Sound Happenings

By COEY HARRIS

Hey folks, Pike Co. Jam I! Yes, finally some interest has been taken in local rock talent. Saturday night, May 20, under the stars, on Daniels Creek, a lowboy was hauled into an open field and the air was heavy with rock. Two bands took turns turning the crowd of over 300 people on and on. Let us not forget to mention these upcoming talents—Night Hawk and Thunderhead. For only a little green, people brought blankets and enjoyed heavy rock by stretching out, taking in the night and music or by kicking off their shoes and boogying down. The bands Night Hawk and Thunderhead brought out current sounds of Aerosmith, AC-DC, Seger, Foghat and BTO as well as some goldie oldies of Skynyrd and Free. This happening was laid down by Fantasia Productions of Pikeville and they hope to make it an annual event, each year bigger and better. Who knows with a little support, maybe it could be managed more often. Come on you music heads, quit complaining of nothing to do and make some excitement by supporting these efforts! Maybe even Floyd county can come up with a rock happening too!

Joe Walsh appears again with a new album "But, Seriously Folks" and as usual he is anything but serious. Each cut was written by Walsh and contains heavily constructed guitar pieces as well as Walsh's touch of zaniness. The album pulls together fellow Eagles Don Felder, Don Henley and Glen Frey plus "Thunder Island's" Jay Ferguson. Must I put it down—o.k.—the music is great, how could it not be? Now, Eagle fans hold on, the next predicted production from these fellows is a new Eagle album—stay tuned.

Daryl Hall and John Oates just after releasing "Livetime" a couple of weeks ago are back in the studio. They brought their "harder than usual rock" sound off the road and into the studio by using the same band. The album is due for release next month promoted by another tour. Hall and Oates, on the move!

Gregg Allman has kicked drugs and found a new old home. Allman discovered a band that "blew his socks off" in My Brothers Place, near Macon, Ga., Gregg's old homeplace. The band's name believe it or not is Nighthawk—not the band before mentioned. Allman plans to do some recording with 15 songs he has written the scores for. Allman blues-rock rides again!

Genesis becomes a trio on their new album, "Then There Was Three." Steve Hackett, who felt his talent and style was limited with Genesis, left the group for a solo career and a solo album, "Please Don't Touch." Daryl Sturmer, an American veteran of three years jazz playing with Jean LucPonty, replaces Hackett. The sound has not waivered as the album contains shorter 11 cuts with "Follow You, Follow Me" as a fronting single. Hackett has not expanded his talents as of yet since his solo album has the sound very similar to that put with his days in Genesis.

Keep them ears tuned for new sounds and happenings. Again, next week, Coey.

IN APPRECIATION

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to all who were so kind to us upon the recent death of our beloved son and brother, Bobby Gene (Duck) Martin. We would especially thank all who sent floral tributes and food and cards; the ministers, Rev. Lee Edward Caudill and Rev. Bob Martin, Miss Lois Holmquist and the singers; all others for their comforting words, and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its courteous and efficient service.

Wallen, Frank DeRossett, Tom Branham, John Branham, Paul Messer, Zebrum Campbell, Bill Boatwright, and Clyde Porter.

Hard Work Benefits Spruce Pine School

It is amazing what a little cooperation and hard work will accomplish.

The Spruce Pine P.T.A. sponsored rummage sales, pie socials and country music shows and matched funds with the Floyd County Board of Education. And, as a result, the community now is proud of its school building, which has been painted. Inside is a remodeled lunchroom with a refrigerator, stove and sink. A welcomed addition is the inside bathrooms. Outside is a new chain-link fence enclosing the school and its grounds. New playground equipment consist of swings, slide, merry-go-round, see-saw, hand bars and basketball goals.

The P.T.A. acknowledged the help of those who donated time and effort, and also the assistance afforded by the Floyd County Board of Education.

Eugene Lawson is president of the P.T.A.

GROWTH IN THE economy between 1976 and 1985 is expected to create nearly 17 million jobs, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook.

HELP NEEDED

The Conley cemetery on Abbott Creek is in need of perpetual care. If you have friends or relatives buried there, and would like to help with the upkeep of this cemetery, please mail your donations to one of the two persons in charge of the work there:

Mrs. Angie Bays or Mrs. Eukie Merritt
Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653

All contributions will be appreciated.

Obituaries

Mrs. Gladys H. Wellman

Mrs. Gladys Lou Ellen Harris Wellman, 80, formerly of this county, died last Wednesday morning at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington, a victim of a stroke and complications.

A daughter of Robert Walker Harris and Kate Leslie Harris, she was born Aug. 2, 1897. She was reared in West Prestonsburg, attended the old Prestonsburg Baptist Institute and was a member of the first graduating class of Prestonsburg High School.

Before her marriage to the late Felix D. Wellman, of Louisa, she was a teacher in the Prestonsburg and Floyd county schools, later moving with her family to Morehead where her husband was in the wholesale grocery business.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Morehead, a life member of Adah Chapter No. 24, Order of the Eastern Star, of Prestonsburg, a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Morehead, of the Kentucky Historical Society, and a charter member of the Big Sandy Valley Historical Society.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Martha Alice Hanson, of Des Plaines, Ill., and two sons, Robert S. Wellman, of Nashville, Tenn., and James E. Wellman, of Justice, Ill.; 10 grandchildren, five great-grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Martha H. Allen, Mrs. Fannie Runnels, Mrs. Grace Sutherland and Miss Alice Harris, all of Prestonsburg.

The funeral was held at the First Baptist Church of Morehead at 3:30 p.m. Friday, with the Rev. R. D. Baker officiating. Burial was made in the family plot of Forest Lawn cemetery, Morehead.

Among the pallbearers were Dr. Gene L. Samsel, David Hanson, Tate Rich, Hargis Harris, E. J. Music and Dr. Gene Samsel, Sr.

Frank Calhoun

Frank Calhoun, 43, of the Auxier road, died Friday at his home following an illness of a year.

Born September 14, 1934 at Water Gap, he was a son of Mrs. Hazel Miller Calhoun, of the Auxier road, and the late Bert Calhoun. He had been employed as maintenance foreman at Jenny Wiley State Park, and was associated with the Kentucky Carpet Company.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Phyllis Combs Calhoun; two daughters, Mrs. Sharon Branham, of the Auxier Road, and Miss Stacy Susann Calhoun, at home; two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Hyden, also of the Auxier Road, and Mrs. Bess Hughes, of Lancaster, O.; a brother, Sam Calhoun, of Turner Station, Ky., and one grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Carter Funeral Home chapel by the Revs. Bill Campbell and Bill Amburgey. Burial was made in the Richmond cemetery.

Pallbearers were Larry Hyden, Eugene Calhoun, Burklin Calhoun, Jay Combs, Edgar Adams, Woodie Cecil Branham, Roscoe Branham, and Estill Bays Branham.

HOSPITAL ADMISSIONS

Admitted to the Highlands Regional Hospital during the past week were Clifford Bevins, Clotine Burchett, Henry Chaffins, Otto Cornett, Virgie Goble, Joda Gunnells, Glenda Hackworth, John Hammonds, Margaret J. Hewlett, Grover Holbrook, Eva Hopson, Ella Hunter, Jackie M. Leedy, Douglas Martin, Lucille Meade, Joni Parsons, Kevin Allen Porter, Paula Robinson, Mary Spradlin, Eugene Wells, Melvin Wells, Denzil Whitten, and Nova Williamson, all of Prestonsburg; Ellis Castle, Alice Caudill, Winnie Caudill, Ethel Collins, and Geneva Mullins, Auxier; Daisy Branham, Judy Pack, and Eva Whitaker, Martin; Lizzie Coburn, and Charles Vanderpool, Garrett; Arnold Daniel, Eastern; Vina Davis, and Emma DeRossett, Dwale; Marvin Neeley, Hueysville; and James Jarvis, and Jack Jervis, Endicott.

Breathitt Co. High Reunion Set July 1-4

There will be a reunion of classmates who attended Breathitt High School between 1950 and 1960 at Jenny Wiley State Park during the July 4 week-end. It is hoped that everyone who can will attend, especially those from the Evanston area. Further details can be obtained by writing Mrs. Shirley Bartrum White, 650 Olive Road, Dayton, Ohio 45427.

Vera Carver

Vera Carver, 79, Route 1, Monticello, Ind., died at 11:30 p.m. May 11 at White County Memorial Hospital in Monticello. She had been in ill health two years and in the hospital one month.

She was born October 7, 1898 in Tennessee, the daughter of Robert B. and Vicie Harmon Hall and was married February 5, 1918 to Edgar N. Carver, who preceded her in death in 1967.

Surviving are five sons, H. F. Carver, of West Palm Beach, Fla.; Robert L., Ypsilanti, Mich.; Dan, of Prestonsburg; Donald R., of California; Edsel, of Naha, Okinawa; five daughters, Dorothy Whitaker, Monticello, Ind.; Esther Lapelusa, Columbus, Ohio; Jerry Vincitore, Freehold, N. J.; Nedra Carvajal, Clinton, Md.; Teresa Mullett, Columbus, Ohio; 23 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren; one sister, Grace Adams, of Monticello, Indiana.

Mrs. Carver was a member of Calvary Baptist Church of Monticello and lived in Monticello with her daughter, Dorothy Whitaker, since the death of her husband.

Services were held May 15 at 11 a.m. at Miller-Voorhis Funeral Home, Monticello, with the Rev. Richard Boswell officiating. Burial was at Lake Worth, Florida, May 16.

John Franklin Martin

John Franklin Martin, 54, of McDowell, was found dead at his home last Thursday.

Born September 4, 1923, he was a son of former Magistrate Ellis Martin and Mrs. Virda Martin, of Lancer. He was a disabled miner and a veteran of army service.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by one son, Stephen Martin, of Louisa; three daughters, Mrs. Judy LeMaster, of Prestonsburg, Mrs. Patricia Childers, of Huntington, W. Va., and Mrs. Sherry Frye, of Martin; a brother, Wendell L. Martin, of Prestonsburg; a sister, Mrs. Christina Stewart, of Minnie, and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Sunday at the Old Beaver Regular Baptist Church at Minnie by ministers of the church. Burial was made in the Lucy Hall cemetery at McDowell under direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Mrs. Ruby M. Brewer

Mrs. Ruby Mullins Brewer, 65, of Lexington, died May 7. She was a daughter of the late Bent and Leora Bailey Mullins, and was a native of Hueysville.

Surviving are three sisters and three brothers, Miss Grace Mullins, Dayton, Mrs. Agnes M. Allrid, Maitland, Fla., Mrs. Mildred Estridge, Willard, O., William H. Mullins, Benton, Ill., Robert B. Mullins, Lexington, and Samuel H. Mullins, Portland, Maine. She also leaves four grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted May 10 from the Bradford & Connelly Funeral Home, and burial was made in Woodland cemetery, Lexington.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our deepest appreciation to all who showed their concern and sympathy for us upon the recent death of Luther Kidd. We are grateful to all who sent food and flowers; to the Church of Christ at Betsy Layne; the ministers, Frank Kidd, Jr., Richard Bowers, and Tommy Spears; a special thanks to Truman Kidd and all who helped with the grave. We also are grateful to Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

The Kidd Family

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Byron Keith Bentley who left us May 30, 1977 for a better world we hope:

High on top of a lonely hill,
A silent grave in death so still,
It's only a grave that needs our care
Because our loved one is buried there.
Death was sudden, the shock so severe,
We had to give up one so dear.
The pain of parting without a goodbye
We will remember until we die.
He was only 15 when God called him away,
We will never forget that sad day;
We will never forget him, now that he's gone,
And his memory will live with us from now on.

Sadly missed by his Mother, Father, Sister, Brothers and the Bentley Family,
especially his Grandma Bentley
who is still in grief.

In Loving Memory Of Bobby Gene Martin

Four years ago,
In my time of despair,
He came into my life
And showed me that he cared.

He knew I was unhappy
And for me there had been much sorrow,
But he made me see the light
And the sunshine of tomorrow.

The love and closeness that we shared
Was much more than divine;
It was the kind of love many people search for
But that few of us ever find.

His kindness and understanding
Became a must to me each day,
And we began to count on each other
Because we felt the same way.

This person of many deeds
And this well-respected man
Will live in my memories forever,
Because his wish was my command.

National Guard Waging Battle; Object—100 Percent Strength

The Kentucky National Guard is waging one of the toughest battles in its history. It's not on any battlefields where Kentuckians have fought before as in the Philippines, Korean or Vietnam—this battle is at home and it's for recruits.

Kentucky Adjutant General Billy Wellman has made his top goal to bring the Guard to 100 percent strength this year.

The Prestonsburg National Guard Unit had as of last week added 17 members during its recent recruiting drive and hopes to beat 100 percent strength within a month.

At the beginning of May, the Kentucky Guard was at 81.4 per cent in strength. That means that the Guard now has 5,147 men and women, while needing another 1,216.

Wellman says this is a problem that every Kentuckians should be aware of and should respond to for several reasons. First, the Commonwealth could lose federal revenues amounting to several million dollars because Guard units are not up to full strength. Wellman stated, "It is common knowledge that Washington gives the most money to the states that are full strength." He added, "The Kentucky Guard will have a hard time in the future requesting more units when we have difficulty filling the existing ones."

The Adjutant General's second reason for the need for full strength is that if the Guard were mobilized or needed now either for war or natural disaster, their job would be harder to fulfill. He noted, "Most Kentuckians feel we were there during the 1974 tornadoes, 1977 floods, the past two winters and if it happens again, they will be protected. But if the Guard is not at full strength and more disasters hit the state, we could be stretched to the limit of our men and machines."

How will the Kentucky Guard recruit 1,000 persons? Wellman said, "We feel if enough Kentuckians become aware of the benefits of the Guard, we can attract more young persons to enlist."

The 1978 session of the Kentucky legislature enacted or continued several programs that benefit Guardsmen. The Kentucky National Guard Educational Encouragement Fund enables Guard members to go to any accredited two- or four-year college, business or vocational school in the state and the Guard will pay up to half their tuition cost or $500 per year. Other benefits include special license plates for a one-time $25 fee, state tax deduction and good insurance and retirement plans, and excellent pay.

Wellman said, "It's still the most important part-time job in the state." He also noted, "Many parents should consider us when advising their children about college expenses. With half of the tuition paid and their week-end drill check, it might be the only method a young person could use to attend a college or vocational school."

What happens if the Guard does not gain 100 per cent strength? The Adjutant General doesn't like to think about that possibility. "We will do everything possible to gain full strength," Wellman said. "If it means moving Guard units to another community, then it will be done," he added.

Wellman noted, "Governor Carroll has given us his complete support and the state General Assembly has acted positively on our benefit package, so we now are trying to make all Kentuckians aware of what the Guard means to their communities and how they can help support our program."

Salisbury Receives State ABC Promotion

Ted H. Salisbury, Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) agent, of Martin, has been promoted to Grade G-15 standing by the state ABC board.

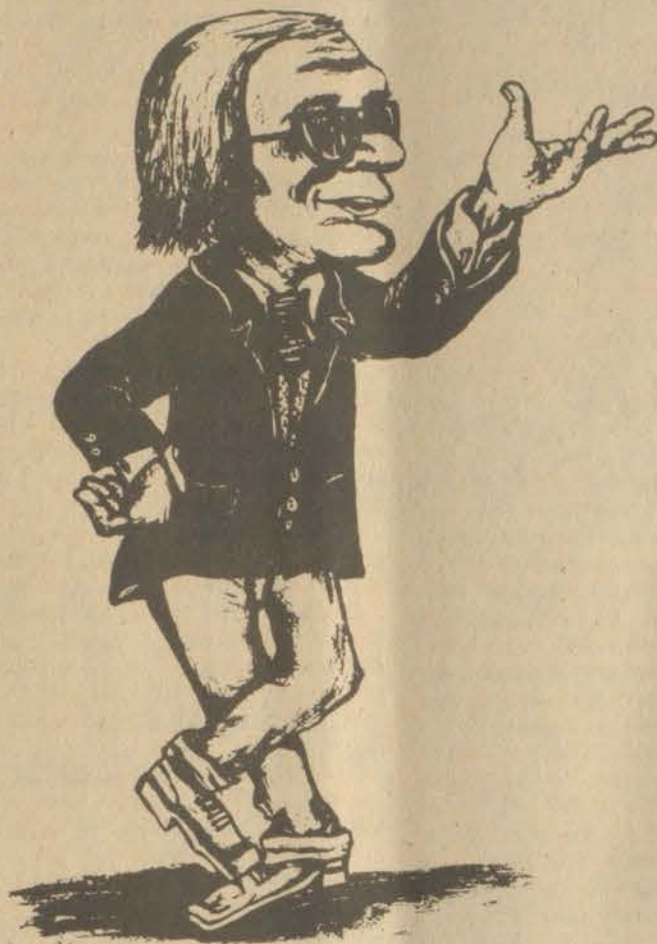

Salisbury, an ABC agent in Floyd county for the past 2½ years, also has been designated a senior officer with a resulting five percent pay increase.

The promotion came as a result of Salisbury's completion of a total of 120 hours of special law enforcement and alcohol control training attained at Eastern Kentucky University through a program of the state Department of Justice, Bureau of Training.

QUESTION BOX

The Question Box answers from the Bible to questions from readers. By Pastor Forrest Howe, M Div., Box 462, Allen, Ky.

QUESTION: Does the Bible teach that there is a hell? If it does then what is it and where is it located?

Seventh-day Adventist Church of Prestonsburg.

ANSWER:

The Bible most definitely teaches that there is a hell! The word "hell" is mentioned over fifty times in the Bible. (see Psalms 18:5; Revelation 20:13; Matthew 5:22). It is a Bible doctrine and cannot be ignored by the serious student of the Scriptures.

As to "what" and "where" to its location the Bible must be examined more closely. There are four words which are translated into the English word "hell". The first is the Hebrew word SHEOL. This "hell" has reference to the place where all go when they die—the GRAVE. SHEOL thus translated thirty-one times as the "grave" and as the "pit" three. It does not have the meaning of a burning place but rather one of darkness and of quiet. Jonah cries from the belly of "hell" in Jonah 2:2.

Closely related to this word is HADES. It is the Greek translation of SHEOL. It has practically the same meaning. It is used ten times in the New Testament. It is used in connection with death because it is the grave.

A third word used is GEHENNA. GEHENNA was the refuse dump outside the city of Jerusalem. It was a place that burned continuously much like a slag pile today. Christ used this as an example of the fate unrepentant sinners would meet on the day of Judgment.

The fourth and final word for hell is TARTARUS. It according to Greek legend was the place where punishment was meted out. It also had the connotation of darkness and is used only once in the Bible.

The greatest misconception concerning this subject is that there is a burning hell presently in effect and will exist throughout eternity. This conclusion is incompatible with other Biblical teaching on this subject. Malachi 4:1-3 shows that the destruction of the wicked will be upon the face of the earth and that the righteous will eventually walk upon their ashes. This would be impossible if the future hell were without end.

The most important thing for those of us living is to accept Christ. We not only must make a profession but must seek to obey his commands. Then when the judgement is set we can know that our eternity is with Him.

Frenchburg Job Corps Center Scheduled To Re-Open June 30

A Job Corps Training Center in Frenchburg is being reopened after being phased out in 1969, according to Dan Hile, its temporary director.

"We have begun renovating the existing facilities and we're preparing for the first 50 corpsmen who are expected by June 30," said Hile, also center director of the Pine Knot Job Corps.

Construction of two to three dormitories, an education building, a mess hall and an addition to the gymnasium is being planned which will bring the training capacity eventually to 224 people.

Until more space is developed, the center will not be coeducational. Hile thinks it will be at least a year before young women can be trained there.

The first 50 corpsmen will be transfers from other Job Corps centers who have already completed their academic requirements, since Frenchburg will not have educational capabilities for the first year. These first enrollees will be doing vocational skill training projects.

The planned trades to be taught at the center are: building maintenance, carpentry, cement masonry, brick and block masonry, auto mechanics, cooking and construction work.

The Job Corps was established in 1965 by the federal government as a national residential program for economically disadvantaged young people, 16 through 21, who have left school and need the program's intensive training services.

The Frenchburg facility is Kentucky's fifth Job Corps center. Hile says it is part of the federal government's move toward doubling total Job Corps enrollment by 1980. Presently, there are 21,000 training positions in the U.S.

"I think this center will be an economic boost to Menifee county and the surrounding area," Hile said.

After the Job Corps left the state in Frenchburg in 1969, the buildings were used as a rehabilitation center for first offender and low risk juveniles. It was opened by the Kentucky Department of Corrections.

This Job Corps center is operated by the U.S. Forest Service and the Department of the Interior.

Youth who are interested in enrolling in Job Corps training can receive further information and complete applications through the offices of the Department for Human Resources, Bureau for Manpower Services.

MEADOWS REUNION SET AT PIPESTEM, W. VA.

The 1978 Meadows Heritage National Reunion will be held October 20-22, 1978 at Pipestem State Park, Pipestem, W. Va. All families and descendants of the Meador-Meador-Meadows (and other variant spellings) lineages are urged to attend the Meadows Heritage National Reunion and bring copies of any records they have on their family. Reservations should be made without delay. ## Kentucky Fishing Report

Frankfort, Ky., May 22—Despite continuing slow fishing overall in the state, some anglers are enjoying good fishing for black bass, bluegill, crappie and white bass at some locations. The lake-by-lake rundown, as compiled by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources:

LAUREL: Black bass good on surface lures and artificial nightcrawlers in timbered coves and along shallow banks; crappie good around stick ups; clear, stable, 1½ feet below power pool and 69 degrees.

GREEN: White bass good at night still fishing minnows off deep banks and during the day trolling deep runners over flats; black bass slow on surface lures in inlets and bays and over submerged cover; clear to murky, falling, three feet above summer pool and 63 degrees.

DALE HOLLOW: Bluegill good in inlets and bays; black bass slow casting and drifting minnows and live night-crawlers off points and shallow banks; clear, stable, one foot below summer pool and 69 degrees.

CAVE RUN: Musky fair on medium running crank and spinner baits off shallow banks; black bass fair on spinner baits and artificial nightcrawlers in timbered coves; clear to murky, falling slowly, five feet above summer pool and 69 degrees.

HERRINGTON: Bluegill fair still and drift fishing crickets off deep banks; white bass fair at night still fishing minnows off deep banks; clear to murky, falling slowly, eight feet above summer pool and 66 degrees.

BAREN: Crappie fair over submerged cover; black bass fair on the lower lake on crank baits in inlets and bays and slow to fair on the upper lake on artificial nightcrawlers off points and over drop-offs; in tailwaters, white bass

EPA SAYS IT WILL NOT APPEAL CAR INSPECTION CASE

WASHINGTON—A deputy administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency says the agency will not appeal to the Supreme Court a California federal appeals court ruling that the EPA does not have the authority to impose an auto inspection and maintenance program on a state.

Deputy Administrator Barbara Blum said Friday the decision does not mean the EPA agrees with the ruling. She said the agency feels that similar cases in Cincinnati, Philadelphia and New York stand a better chance than the California case of getting Supreme Court approval for the program.

In the meantime, she said, EPA is working cooperatively with California, where the court ruling applies, to develop a state program.

slow; clear to murky, falling slowly, 1½ feet above summer pool and 70 degrees.

CUMBERLAND: Black bass slow on the lower lake early and late on surface lures and artificial nightcrawlers in inlets and bays; white bass and crappie slow on the lower lake at night still fishing minnows off rocky points and deep banks; crappie slow on the upper lake during the day still and drift fishing minnows over submerged cover; bluegill slow still fishing worms in inlets and bays; in tailwaters, crappie, sauger, trout and white bass excellent; clear to murky to muddy, stable, one foot below the timberline and 69 degrees.

State School Boards Head Tells Why Staff Cuts Made

There are several reasons why some school districts have reduced their staffs, despite significant budget increases granted by the 1978 Executive Budget, according to Dr. James Johnson, president of the Kentucky School Boards Association (KSBA).

Johnson's statement came in response to those asking why it is necessary for local districts to reduce staff or programs when the General Assembly approved an additional $153,307,742 for increases in teachers' salaries. (KEA was among those questioning teacher cuts.)

"Part of the answer can be found in the fact that these funds must be spent for teachers' salaries," Johnson said. "A school district can have increased funds for salaries and still be required to have fewer teachers simply because there has been a reduction in the number of pupils."

Johnson said that Kentucky school districts are losing about 5,000 pupils per year, which amounts to approximately 250 teaching positions; also, he said, since school districts receive funds on the basis of the number of pupils in attendance, state support for teachers declines as pupil attendance declines.

Another part of the problem is that local tax revenue and federal funds for special programs have not kept pace with increasing costs or mandated salary increases, Johnson said. He said that in 1977 about 5,200 teachers were paid with local and federal funds, which are not now sufficient to meet state teacher salary standards.

"Our only alternative is to reduce teaching and administrative positions," Johnson said.

Finally, Johnson said, there are other major costs which the school districts must bear. For example, he said, in 1974 the state required a retirement program for all classified employees at a cost of $1 million. In 1976 the state required workers' compensation insurance for all local board employees at a cost of $4.5 million. For the next school year, the federal government has required unemployment compensation insurance for all full-time employees of local school districts at a potential cost of $9 million.

"All of these costs are charged to the local school districts," Johnson said.

While Johnson said that there are a number of reasons why staff cuts had to be made, he added that the situation may not be as bad as it first appears. Local districts are required by law to notify, by April 30, any teacher who will not be reemployed. Since many local boards of education have not been notified of their federal program fund entitlement or state foundation program allotment by that time, they are unwilling to over commit themselves to salary expenditures, Johnson said.

"In order to be on the safe side, boards notify some non-tenured teachers that they may not be reemployed, pending final budget figures from the U.S. Office of Education and the Kentucky Department of Education."

4th Shriners Bluegrass Fest Set June 22-25

The fourth Annual Shriner's Bluegrass Festival is set for June 22, 23, 24 and 25 at the Wise County Fairgrounds in Wise, Virginia. This year's event features probably the biggest and most expensive package of bluegrass talent scheduled anywhere in the country this year. Bluegrass and old time music acts to appear include Osborne Brothers, J. D. Crowe, New South, Seldom Scene, Ralph Stanley, Country Gentlemen, Larry Sparks, Bluegrass Alliance, Lost and Found, Marshall Family, John McCutcheon, Smoky Mountain Special, Janette Carter, Wry Straw, Messa Grass, Katie Laur, II Generation, Kentucky Ridge Boys, Goins Brothers, Highwoods Stringband, Singing Cookes plus many more. Friday night June 23 will feature an early Country Gentlemen reunion with Charlie Waller, John Duffey, Tom Gray and Eddie Adcock. Thursday's music will begin at 6 p.m. and run continuously until 1 a.m. Friday and Saturday's music will begin at 10 a.m. and again run continuously until 1 a.m. each day. Sunday will exclusively feature mountain and bluegrass gospel music beginning at 10 a.m. and running continuously until 5 p.m.

The one hundred-acre fairground site provides free camping and spacious parking facilities and features a modern stage and covered grandstand. A restaurant featuring country food will also be available. For further information or advance tickets call or write Glenn Roberts, Jr., Norton, Virginia 24273, Phone 703-679-3601. All profits go directly to the "Shriners" Crippled Children's Hospital.

BISHOPS ARE DISMAYED BY CONDITIONS IN TURKEY
OKLAHOMA CITY—United Methodist bishops have voiced dismay at the "flagrant violation of human rights of the Christian minority in Turkey" and sent that word to the U.S. Secretary of State.

Their statement, adopted at their spring meeting, came shortly before the Carter administration indicated it wants Congress to resume military aid to Turkey.

PANELS FACE DEADLINE FOR BILLS

WASHINGTON — Congressional committees had to finish drafting by midnight Monday all bills that authorize spending and revenue targets for fiscal 1979. The deadline meant that the legislation must be sent to the House and Senate floors by then. Neither house could act on any bill providing the money until after Monday.

Bush Gallery Reopens Here

View of part of the display of arts and crafts at the newly-reopened Bush Gallery here.

Bush Gallery, the area's only art gallery dedicated completely to the display and sales of the handwork of local artists and craftsmen, reopened Sunday after having been closed since mid-winter.

Closed last January by a combination of severe winter weather and a resulting scarcity of income, the gallery, which is operated by the Appalachian Guild of Artists and Craftsmen, enjoyed a large crowd of visitors at the reopening Sunday, according to a guild spokesman.

A non-profit organization, the guild maintains as its primary purpose the encouragement of local artists and craftsmen and the perpetuation of area craft traditions. Proceeds from gallery sales are returned to those who display their work with part of the earnings being used for maintenance of the gallery.

The gallery displays include wood carvings, handmade musical instruments, quilts, weaving, painting, ceramic art and sculpture as well as various other pieces representative of the area's art and craft heritage.

Bush Gallery is located adjacent to Milady Dress Shop on North Lake Drive and is open, Friday, Saturday and Mondays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Summer Energy Conservation Tips

Winter is not the only time to think about energy conservation. There are also economical ways of saving on your utility bills in the summer. Listed below are a few suggestions for saving water and energy throughout the summer months.

To keep your house cool, be sure it is well insulated. The insulation that preserves heat in winter, preserves cool air in summer. Close air ducts, registers and fireplace dampers when the air conditioner is on to prevent loss of cool air. Use as little air conditioning as possible. One degree of temperature can save five percent of the energy used for air conditioning.

Other ways to save energy in your home are to turn off lights, television or other heat producing sources when not in use. Consider using fluorescent lighting.

The bathroom is the most economical place to save water. Approximately 74 percent of the water used in a home is used in the bathroom. You can put a water-saving device in your toilet's water tank or, if you are buying a new toilet, choose one designed for saving water.

Take showers instead of baths, but don't let the water run excessively. The National Bureau of Standards estimates you can save twenty gallons of water per day by using a flow-restricting shower head and not letting the water run when not in use.

The next biggest savings of water can be in preventing a faucet from dripping. If it is the hot water faucet, savings are doubled.

There are numerous other methods of conserving energy in your home. No one is suggesting doing without water or electricity or any of our other energy resources; simply try to use these resources more efficiently. In doing so, waste will be kept at a minimum and you will save money.

If you have a consumer complaint which you can't resolve, contact the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. Our office has found that it can most effectively handle written complaints and encourages you to write if you have a complaint. Study Shows Only 1 of 5 Young Voters Go to Polls

Increasing numbers of young people are not voting, experts told a conference on the subject at Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, last Tuesday.

A reliable study just completed indicates that only one out of five persons between 18 and 24 years old votes, according to Malcolm Jewell, EKVU professor of political science. Voter turnout in Kentucky, while lower than the national average since 1936, reflects a larger trend, he said.

Jewell emphasized that the study was based on actual voting records rather than on data from questionnaires, a frequently used method which is less reliable. The study was conducted under a program to promote voter education among the state's citizens and was initiated 18 months ago by Secretary of State Drexell R. Davis.

The study, based on a county-by-county analysis of voter patterns over a four-year period, was directed by Judson Edwards, director of voter education, and Bill Mabry, staff assistant to the secretary of state.

Jewell and other political scientists agreed that while full participation is not expected in our form of government, the discovery that less than 20 per cent of young people are now voting is cause for further inquiry into the phenomenon.

In related studies young persons have explained their non-voting in terms of a growing sense of frustration that the political process won't or can't remedy the many economic and social problems that directly affect them.

Dr. Jack Bizzel, chairman of the Political Science Department at Morehead State University, said, "Young persons say, 'They don't listen to me,' and 'Why don't they listen to some new ideas?'"

Students of voter trends at the conference stressed their position that voter apathy is not necessarily a sign of danger for government, but that if the percentage of persons voting continues to shrink, rigorous analysis of such questions as who is voting and why becomes more important.

Morehead Meet To View Issues, Evolve Policies

Gov. Julian M. Carroll has announced that a Kentucky Appalachian Development Conference will be held June 19-21 at Morehead State University. The conference will be a joint effort of the public and private sectors to identify development issues in Appalachia and formulate policies and strategies to address those issues.

The recommendations which come out of the conference will then serve as a cornerstone for an overall state development strategy. Theme of the conference is "Focus on Economic Development in Kentucky Appalachia."

The conference, which will coincide with the opening of the new Appalachian Development Center at Morehead State University, is being held through the coordinated efforts of the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC), the Governor's Economic Development Commission (GEDC) and the Kentucky Development Cabinet.

Four delegates appointed by the governor from each Appalachian county in Kentucky will participate in the conference.

Expected to address the conference participants are Gov. Carroll; Gov. Robert W. Scott, of North Carolina, federal co-chairman of the ARC; Alex Mercure, assistant secretary for rural development for the United States Department of Agriculture; state commerce commissioner W. Terry McBrayer; J. L. Jackson, president of Falcon Coal Company; Harry Teter, executive director of the ARC; Leonard Schwartz, states' Washington representative of the ARC and Herbert Ligon, president of Ligon Specialized Haulers and chairman of the executive committee of the GEDC.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

Members of the Prestonsburg Day Homemakers met Tuesday afternoon, May 9, in the clubroom of the Kentucky Power Building. The president, Beckye Short, presided. In the absence of the secretary-treasurer, Phyllis Herrick, these reports were given by Mary Sue Moore. The president announced the state Homemakers' meeting for May 18, and the Cultural Arts camp which is to be held, May 30-31. Members of the club decided to attend a macrame lesson, an all-day meeting, at the First Christian Church, May 16. It was agreed that there will not be a club picnic this year. Members were urged to attend the Floyd County Homemakers' meeting at the First United Methodist Church here, August 23. Opal Dingus and Mary Sue Moore presented the lesson on "Recycling the Wardrobe." Clothes for possible recycling were brought by Beatrice Collins and Peg Hewlett. The club welcomed four new members: Mae K. Roberts, Norma Stepp, Mae Kendrick and Beverly Schissler. Eleanor Horn, and Peg Hewlett, co-hostesses, served a dessert course to Mesdames Norma Stepp, Mae K. Roberts, Beverly Schissler, Gertrude Bradbury, Gladys Blackburn, Beatrice Collins, Dorothy Burke, Opal Dingus, Docia Woods, Ruth Francis, Beckye Short, Peg Hewlett, Eleanor Horn, Mary Sue Moore, and Alma Keenon.

This was the last regular meeting for the club year. The new year will begin in September.

EARLYBIRDS HOMEMAKERS CLUB MEETS, MAY 9

The Prestonsburg Earlybirds Homemakers' Club met at the home of Mrs. Rita Allen, May 9 at 10 a.m. The devotion was given by Billie Grey Goble. The lesson, "Recycling the Wardrobe," was presented by Mrs. Barbara Burchett.

Officers for the club year, 1978-'79 were elected as follows: President, Rita Allen; vice-president, Barbara Burchett; secretary-treasurer, Nancy Spradlin; telephone chairman, Lois Crum, and devotional leader, Patsy Brown.

The hostess, Mrs. Rita Allen, served a desert course to Mesdames Barbara Burchett, Billie Grey Goble, Lois Crum, Marthan Damron, Lynn Leslie, Nancy Spradlin, Kathy Nauman and Debbie Warburton.

The club would like to express its thanks to Marthan Damron for her leadership as president this past year.

PASTOR FORMALLY INSTALLED

The pastor and members of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church observed a Day of Covenant and Celebration last Sunday. During Sunday morning's services, the Rev. Dean L. Pack was officially installed as minister of the church. Dr. David Jester, of Georgetown, who served the church as interim pastor prior to Rev. Pack's ministry here, delivered the charge to the minister. Special music was furnished by the director of music, Gus Kalos, by the Primary Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Kalos, and Mrs. Alice Gray Buchanan, organist. The Rev. Pack then presented to the church his acceptance as pastor. H. C. Francis, a member of the board of deacons, led the group in the responsive reading, "A Time of Covenant."

From 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday the members of the church paid honor to the Rev. and Mrs. Pack and their little daughter when they entertained with a community reception at the church.

At 5:30, in the afternoon, a special adult choir gave a presentation of old hymns.

USDA Proposes Ban On Schools' Sale Of Certain Foods

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is proposing regulations to prohibit the sale of candy, soda water, frozen desserts, and chewing gum on school premises until after the last lunch period, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman announced in a speech to the Newspaper Food Editors and Writers Association. The Department's action implements a provision of Public Law 95-166, enacted last November, which provides the Department with authority to prohibit the sale in schools of food items that the Department determines to be of little nutritional value.

"We are proposing to prohibit the sale of these foods because we believe they contribute substantially to plate waste, reduced participation in the school lunch and breakfast programs, and a decline in the consumption of nutritious foods in school," Mrs. Foreman said. "The proposed regulations prohibit the sale of those foods that do not make a positive nutritional contribution to children's diets, dietary habits, and appetites."

The regulations define candy as a processed food consisting of sugar, corn syrup, or other sweeteners. These may be combined with other ingredients such as chocolate, dairy products, egg products, fruits, nuts, flavorings, and colorings. Candy items include: hard candy, creams, jelly and gum-like candies, marshmallow, nougats, fudges, toffees, caramels, glazed candies, chocolates, and chocolate-coated candy, fruits and nuts. Chewing gum is defined as flavored products made from natural or synthetic gums and other ingredients which form an insoluble mass for chewing. The definitions for soda water and frozen desserts in the proposed regulations are based on definitions provided by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). Frozen desserts include flavored ice bars and sherberts. Copies of FDA's definitions are available upon request from USDA.

The proposed regulations are scheduled to appear in the Federal Register of April 25.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Margaret Rorrer Refitt, would like to express our sincere gratitude to all relatives and friends for their kindness upon the recent death of our dear mother. Thanks to everyone for their flowers and food, which were deeply appreciated by all of us. Thanks to the Regular Baptist ministers for their kind words, and to the Carter Funeral Home for its service.

TRANSPORTATION, AMERICA'S LIFELINES

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION WEEK MAY 14-20

The Kentucky Department of Transportation (KYDOT) is proud to observe National Transportation Week along with the thousands of American agencies and businesses involved in transportation. The KYDOT's 9,000-plus employees make up just a small portion of the Kentuckians dedicated to moving people and goods in the safest, most efficient ways possible.

The Department of Transportation's Bureau of Highways has an estimated construction budget of $706 million for the next biennium. The Bureau maintains over 25,000 miles of major roads, including a nearly-complete interstate system and the largest network of toll roads in the world. (At left), Governor Julian Carroll breaks ground for construction of the new Kentucky 80 in Eastern Kentucky, the state's first resource recovery road. Looking on are Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson (left), Perry Circuit Judge Calvin Manis, and Secretary of the Cabinet James Gray.

A less visible side of the KYDOT is its Office of Transportation Planning, headed by E. B. Gaither, state Transportation Planning Engineer. Gaither's office works with local and federal agencies in determining Kentucky's present and projected transportation needs. A state rail plan is currently being developed, and the new Kentucky Aviation System Plan is now complete. The Office also assists agencies in organizing carpools, vanpools and public transportation systems. (At right), one of the reserved parking areas for state employees who carpool.

CAR POOL PARKING

The many responsibilities of the state Bureau of Vehicle Regulation, headed by Commissioner O. B. Arnold, include driver licensing and commercial vehicle regulation. The Bureau's Division of Water Enforcement conducts a water safety education program and patrols inland waterways used for recreation. The Bureau also enforces motor carrier safety regulations and weight limitations on all state-maintained roads, through its Division of Highway Enforcement. (At left), an officer conducts a safety inspection at an interstate weigh station.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS
The Wheelwright Homemakers met May 18 in the Senior Citizens building. A short business meeting preceded the evening's lesson. A check received from Alice Lloyd College was donated to Myra Salisbury for use in the Senior Citizens program. New officers for the coming year were elected. They are: President, Alma Souleyrette; vice-president, Gladys Gullett; secretary-treasurer, Doris Osborne; telephone chairman, Barbara Johnson; devotionals, Dorthula Childress; flower fund, Barbara Gullett.

The lessons for the evening were "Recycling Your Wardrobe" and "Care of Houseplants." Frances Plitts, area extension agent, presented these, along with a discussion.

Members present were Dorthula Childress, Barbara Gullett, Gladys Gullett, Jenny Hagans, Dolly Hall, Mattie Hall, Gloria Harlowe, Linda Holbrook, Barbara Johnson, Katy Newsome, Doris Osborne, Myra Salisbury, and Alma Souleyrette. Hostesses were Mrs. Salisbury and Mrs. Souleyrette.

The club will not meet during the summer months. The next meeting will be in September.

Which Pet Food Is Right For Your Pet?

The average supermarket may have as much as 200 feet of shelf space devoted to food for dogs and cats. The pet food industry provides a smorgasbord of flavors and forms for your best friend. But how do you decide which of all the variety will give your dog or cat the nutrition he needs for good health?

The Pet Food Institute says one key to decide which pet food you should purchase for your dog or cat is to read pet food labels carefully. Ralph Nader once commented that there is more information on pet food packages than there is on most food for people. Consumers can rely on this decision-making information because every nutrition claim or ingredient designation is closely regulated by federal and state agencies.

A pet food label reveals if the pet food you are considering supplies complete nutrition or is meant to simply perk up your pet's diet by adding variety in flavor and texture. Nutritionally complete or balanced pet foods—canned, dry or semi-moist—provide the level of nutrients set forth by the National Research Council or standard test feeding protocols for the three stages of animal growth: growth gestation/lactation and adulthood. Some balanced pet foods are specially formulated to meet the nutritional needs of only one growth stage and are labeled accordingly.

Supplements may occasionally be fed to your pet but should be mixed with a complete food if fed every day. Treats such as dog biscuits are formulated to be healthful snack food for pets and are much better than table scraps.

Table scrap meals are not balanced and are deficient in nutrients. Adding table scraps to a balanced pet food often adds extra calories to your pet that it doesn't need. Obesity is a major pet health problem. Scrap feeding also spoils your pet's appetite for his regular meals and may make him finicky.

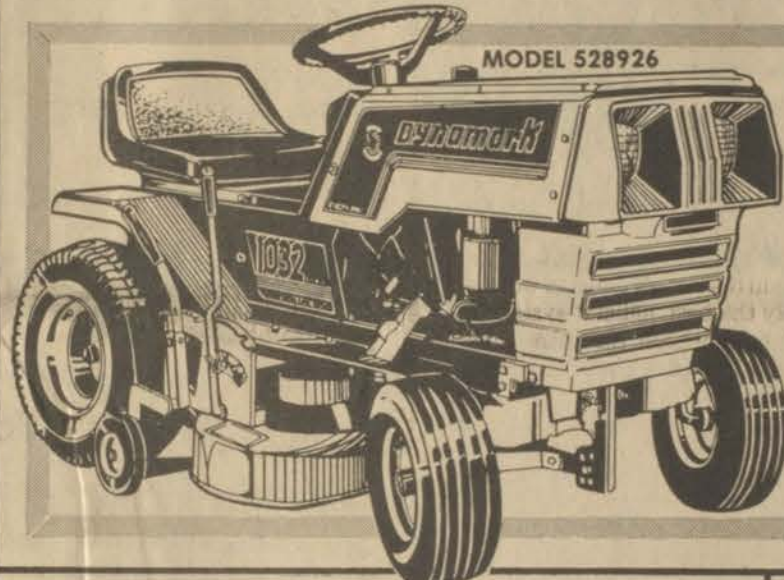

After weighing the alternatives and selecting a pet food (or foods) for your dog or cat, careful supervision of your pet's diet is important. Observe how much exercise your animal gets—this, along with his metabolic rate determines exactly how much food he requires.

If for any reason you feel your pet isn't doing well on a particular pet food brand, try another one or get the advice of a veterinarian. Animals, like people, can be allergic to and dislike certain foods. Today, because of the wide variety of pet foods available, you can cater to your cat or dog's taste preferences, give him food rewards and treats, and be sure he's getting a healthful, balanced diet.

Squad To Stage Road Block

The Left Beaver Rescue Squad and Volunteer Fire Department will hold its annual Memorial Day road block at Martin this week-end, May 27 and 28. The money collected will be used for operating expenses during the coming year.

The squad responded to approximately 140 calls last year and to approximately 80 calls so far this year. Due to increased activity and inflation, it predicts that it will cost $5,000 to operate this year.

"There is never any charge for this service; we are supported through donations from local citizens and businesses and not by any government agency," a spokesman said.

ACCORDING TO THE Federal Energy Administration most automobiles get about 25 percent better mileage when cruising at 50 mph than at 70 mph.

Governor Says Court System Is a Success

Gov. Julian Carroll told some 180 district, circuit, appeals and Supreme Court judges last week that the implementation of Kentucky's new judicial system has been successfully completed. "All our skeptics are seemingly gone," the Governor told listeners attending the 1978 judicial conference of the Kentucky Court of Justice. "The fact that we have successfully completed the implementation of the judicial article (passed by voters in 1975) has proved the people of Kentucky were right," the Governor said.

Carroll said that of all the achievements of his administration, he is "most proud" of the judicial system's implementation.

The failure of the 1978 General Assembly to approve his request for salary hikes for Kentucky's judges was his "major disappointment" of the legislative session, he said, calling judges' salaries "still far too low." The Governor said the state's Court of Justice is "probably the best judicial system in America," but insisted the state must pay the judges a wage that will entice lawyers into the system.

Gov. Carroll also expressed pride in the successful operation of the state's pre-trial release bail bonding program and a Louisville truant-program which requires attendance by problem students at a Department for Human Resources school. The Louisville program has prompted another such school in Lexington and plans for one in northern Kentucky are under way, according to the Governor.

The two-day judicial conference, sponsored by the state's Administrative Office of the Courts, has included discussion on television reporting in trial and appellate courts, media-judiciary communications and regional administration of the courts.

The conference started Monday.

Martin Coal Firm Pays $2,000 Penalty

S & O Coal Co., of Martin, has paid the state a $2,000 civil penalty and agreed to perform corrective measures on its strip mine site near Risner following an informal conference with the state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

An inspector with the department's Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement had issued a notice of non-compliance with state regulations to the company for blasting material into a no-spoil area.

The company has agreed to pull back as much of the material as possible and heavily seed and mulch the area affected by the blasting.

Child Care Center Parents of the Year

The Rural Child Care Centers at Dwale and Drift have selected their parents of the year.

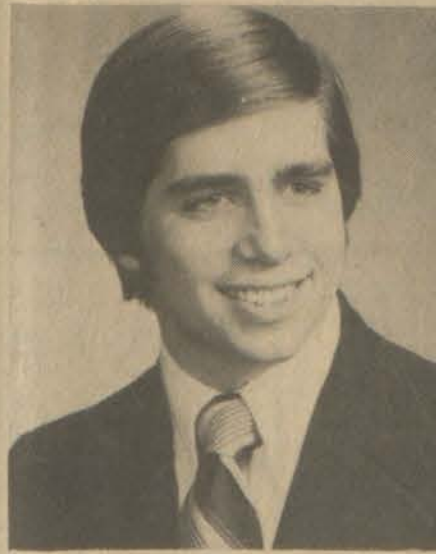

The parent of the year at Drift is Mrs. Flossie Stone, who lives at Price, and is the wife of Denver Stone. They are the parents of six children, all of whom have been enrolled in the Rural Child Care program. Mrs. Stone said, "The Rural Child Care Program has been a blessing to me, and I would like to see the program go on."

Mrs. Rebecca Hammonds, of West Prestonsburg, has been selected as the parent of the year at Dwale. She is married to Harold Hammonds, Jr., and they are the parents of two children who are enrolled at the Dwale center. Mrs. Hammonds, who put in over 300 volunteer hours this year, said, "I love to go to the center and work with the youngsters. They call me teacher."

Mr. and Mrs. Denver Stone attended the banquet in Lexington where Mrs. Stone was presented a Parent of the Year Certificate. Mrs. Rebecca Hammonds was unable to attend the banquet, but she also received a certificate.

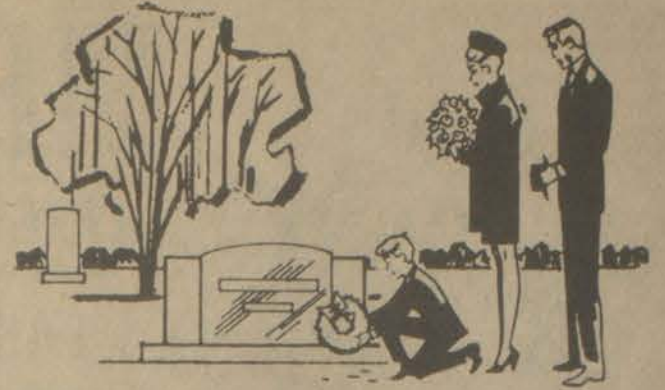

In Bulgaria it was considered bad luck for boiling milk to spill over into the fire.

Receives MD Degree

Thomas J. Burchett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Burchett, of Prestonsburg, received his Doctor of Medicine degree at graduation exercises of the College of Medicine, University of Kentucky, in Lexington Sunday, May 14.

Dr. Burchett, who completed his pre-medical studies at Transylvania University in three years, will take his residency in family practice at the University of Alabama College of Community Health in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

When a dear one has passed away it is important that the memory of the departed be preserved in every way.

Local Doctors Named Diplomates of ABFP

Kansas City, Mo.—Charles F. Arnett, M.D., and Nicholas R. Jurich, M.D., Prestonsburg physicians, have been named diplomates of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the ABFP. They are now certified in the specialty of family practice.

The intensive 2-day written examination taken by the doctors is designed to prove their ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine.

To qualify for the examination a physician must have completed either a 3-year family practice residency or have been in family practice a minimum of six years and successfully completed 300 hours of continuing medical education approved by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

ABFP diplomates also must continue to show proof of competency in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. No other medical specialty requires diplomates to prove competence on a continuing basis.

Congratulations to all graduating seniors in Kentucky, and to the many outstanding young people who have earned scholarships to further their education. Younger Kentuckians are doing things and going places—but so are older Kentuckians and in-betweeners.

In Johnson county, Johnson Central High School's Research Historians, a chapter of the Kentucky Junior Historical Society, returned from the society's state convention in Frankfort with 18 awards and honors including first place among Kentucky senior high schools.

Mrs. William Smith, who writes "Chapel Chatter" in the Fulton Daily Leader, says it well with these lines: "We may not always reach our goal, but there's recompense in trying. Horizons broaden so much more, the higher we are flying."

A Morgan countian, Mrs. Mary Dorothy McClure, has been flying pretty high. She jetted to Florida where she escaped the snows of winter and where in March she celebrated her 99th birthday. On her return she will continue to amaze visitors by touching fingers to toes without bending her knees.

Another Kentuckian who likes to fly low is Mrs. Minnie Lee Brown Duke who was born Sept. 2, 1879. Mrs. Duke talked with Shirley Rhea, of The Advance-Yeoman at Wickliffe. "I had to work in the fields in order to make myself a living. I met my late husband, I. L. Duke, at a play party one night. We were married April 24, 1899 and stayed married until the day he died." Mrs. Duke recalled that play parties "were really socials where we would all meet and dance and talk and eat. We used our horse and buggy and drove around the county a lot too. And we always took our children with us. There was no such thing as a baby sitter. You had a child and you took care of it!" She explained that her husband disciplined the children and she sewed, cooked and canned. "I guess it worked, because they all turned out the way we prayed they would."

In Wolfe county, first graders at Red River Valley Elementary School, have had an exciting time studying about the post office and its workers, according to The Wolfe County News. Each child in first grade prepared a postcard which then was attached to a helium-filled balloon. On "lift-off" day, excitement was almost as high as some of the postcards. Recently student Bronson Banks received a letter from Marc and Debbie Laurano, of Creston, Calhoun County, W. Va., wanting to know more about Hazel Green, Ky. (where the elementary school is located), and something about Bronson, his school and classmates. Each day is awaited eagerly at Red River Valley School, for students are anxious to get other replies. The class has written Mr. and Mrs. Laurano, answering their questions. First grade teacher, Mrs. Betty Brewer, will be long remembered by her students.

An elementary school that was aging and had to be abandoned at Fulton will be long remembered by Martha Mahan due to one of her teachers, Mrs. Jessie Lee Fleming. "In those days before the coming of TV, she created interest in faraway places," recalled the former student.

"Her teaching was never limited to reading, writing and arithmetic, but included music, art, famous people and current events.

In Lewis county, "Old Doc," as Dr. H. M. Bertram has been known for many years, together with his wife has become a member of the senior citizens group in Vanceburg. In Old Doc's more than 40 years practice of medicine he quit counting the babies he delivered after he reached 3720. The group's reporter Winnie Wilson writing in The Lewis County Herald, quoted from a 1955 clipping from the paper: "Night and day, in icy blasts and scorching sun, he has traveled mule back, buggy, Model T Ford, boat, rail handcar, foot and most every means of transportation to relieve the suffering of the people, rich or poor, often without hope of fee or reward. Many times he has returned home with a pumpkin, squash, bushel of potatoes or a chicken for his fee. And more than once, called to an impoverished hovel at Christmas time he made arrangement with Santa Claus to call at the home... and the beneficiaries never knew the secret." The couple remains healthy and active and both go about their day doing good things.

Aren't Kentuckians great! Little wonder that people everywhere want to know more about the Commonwealth and her citizens young and older and in-betweeners.

Floyd Coal Company Pays Civil Penalty

B. & H. Elkhorn Coal Co., of Prestonsburg, has paid the state a $2,000 civil penalty and agreed to perform corrective measures on its strip mine site near Little Mud Creek following an informal conference with the state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

A reclamation inspector with the department's Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement has issued a notice of non-compliance with state regulation to the company for cutting black water out of the pit and over the outcrops of the mine site.

The company has agreed to pump or siphon the pit to prevent further sudden releases of water.

Tips for Beating High-Chair Blues

When little kids "just won't eat" at mealtime, what's to be done?

"Maybe you need to take a good look at the snack foods you allow, and make some changes there," says Sue Burrier, a nutritionist with the UK College of Agriculture Cooperative Extension Service.

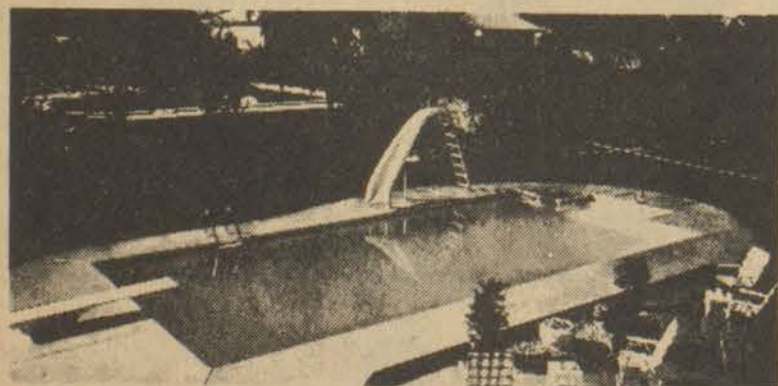

She says that lots of tykes do too much snacking between meals on the wrong kinds of foods. That's a sure way to kill the appetite for a nutritious meal offered later on. And it can lay the groundwork for poor eating habits.

You end up with a fussy eater and mealtime hassles. You worry about your child not getting enough of the right foods for good health.

Sheriff's Sale

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT
CIVIL ACTION NO. 11,811

The Bank Josephine, a corporation . . .
Plf.

VS: Sheriff's Notice of Sale

Maggie A. Adkins, Donald L. Adkins, Robert Spake, Dan Larke, Ellen Thacker, and Lark & Spake Builders, Inc., a corporation . . . Defts.

Pursuant to execution which issued from the Office of the Clerk of the Floyd Circuit Court, on April 21, 1978, in favor of The Bank Josephine against Lark & Spake Builders, Inc., a corporation, for the sum of $5,386.39, together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from April 20, 1978, and for the additional sum of $42.43 for the court costs of said action, said execution being issued in Civil Action No. 11,811 late pending in the Floyd Circuit Court, styled: The Bank Josephine, A Corporation, Plaintiff vs: Maggie A. Adkins, Donald L. Adkins, Robert Spake, Dan Larke, Ellen Thacker, and Lark & Spake Builders, Inc., a Corporation, Defendants, which execution bears the same number of said suit.

I or one of my deputies will offer for sale to the highest bidder at the courthouse door in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, at the hour of 10:00 a.m. on the 5th day of June, 1978, so much as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest, and costs including any costs incurred by the Sheriff of Floyd County, Kentucky, in advertising the property for sale and in conducting said sale, the following described real estate located in Floyd County, Kentucky.

TRACT NO. 1
A certain tract or parcel of land lying in Floyd County, Kentucky, on Left Fork of Rice Branch, and described as follows:

"Beginning at an iron stake on the bank of the branch at an elm tree; thence running down the creek with Victor Lowe and wife Evelyn Lowe line 163 feet to an iron stake; thence 200 ft. to iron stake back on hill with Leonard Akers and wife Susan Akers line; thence 163 feet up the branch to an iron stake; thence 200 ft. back to the beginning."

Being the same property conveyed by Robert Spake and Sara S. Spake to Lark and Spake Builders, Inc., by deed dated December 19, 1977, recorded in Deed Book 232, Page 336, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

TRACT NO. 2
A certain tract or parcel of land lying in Floyd County, Kentucky, on Left Fork of Rice Branch, and described as follows:

"Beginning at an iron stake at Victor Lane and Robert Spake's line and running down creek 40 ft. to an iron stake; thence running with Leonard Akers line back on hill 200 ft. to an iron stake; thence 40 ft. up creek to Robert Spake's line; thence running 200 ft. back to the beginning."

Being the same property conveyed by Robert Spake and Sara S. Spake to Lark and Spake Builders, Inc., dated December 31, 1977, and recorded in Deed Book 232, Page 337, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

SAID SALE shall be conducted on a credit of six months, the purchaser having the privilege to execute bond for the deferred purchase price together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from date of sale, to be secured by a lien on said premises to further secure the payment of said bond. If plaintiff becomes the purchaser of said property at any sum less than its debt, interest, and costs, no bond shall be required.

Dated: This the 12 day of May, 1978.
DOUG LEWIS
Sheriff, Floyd County, Ky.

June, the Glorious Month

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD

The month of June is considered the glorious month of the year. The name was derived from Juno, who, according to mythology, was the queen of the gods and goddess of marriage.

The month normally sports "perfect days," springing corn, wedding bells and no end of gorgeous roses. From a poetic standpoint it is one of the best months of the year.

But, with all its beauty and radiant days, in the eyes of the gardener June can be a "problem month". It is a month when the optimism and energy so pronounced during April and May begins to wane—when insects and plant diseases spring up to test the temper and control measures—when unlikely storms appear to flatten unstaked perennials and when laws may be beset with sod webworms.

Still, gardening must go on and to counteract some of the evils that may appear, horticulturists with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture offer these suggestions:

If borers attack the lilacs, they sometimes can be cut out or probed out with a long, thin, flexible wire, if the borers aren't too deeply imbedded. The trunks can be painted with malethion, carbon tetrachloride or carbon disulfide, with the holes sealed with putty after the application to prevent reinfestation.

If sod webworms show up in your lawn, treat the lawn with several sprayings of Sevin, diazinon or a similar material, applied, of course, according to directions on the label. Ask your county Extension agent for publication ENT-7 for full details.

And if thrips get in the roses, webworms on the mimosas or spider mites on the ornamentals, they likewise can be controlled with sprays. However, the horticulturists warn, never spray with any material until you are sure it is an approved spray for the plant and you know what precautions to take in application.

Here again, the information can be obtained from your county Extension agent.

Several species of thrips may attack roses and early prevention is important, the horticulturists point out. Once the thrips penetrate the petals they cannot be controlled by common sprays. There are sprays that control thrips when used frequently according to directions.

June is the month to prune the newly-formed seed heads from lilacs. This will insure adequate plant food for next year's flowers.

And if you want a better stand of summer phlox, you might try pinching out the tops. This will cause new shoots to sprout out and will result in a lower overall silhouette with increased blossom heads, although the blossom heads may be smaller.

Horticulturists also recommend cutting faded flowers from iris, but with the warning not to cut back the plant, rather to allow for new blooms to replace the faded ones.

For lots of color in August, June is the month to sow sweet alyssum, nemesis, nasturtium, phlox and other such annuals. Many perennial transplants can still be set out in June.

Although it's not necessary to collect grass clippings from the yard, a wise practice may be to save small amounts and use it as a mulch for perennials—applying to about a two-inch depth. The clippings will not heat up and will help reduce weed seed germination—and there will be less moisture loss.

During June the tall blooming perennials should be staked before they are toppled by summer storms. But the right stake should be selected. Nothing looks worse than being able to see the stakes before seeing the plant.

Your county Extension office has booklets and leaflets on the control of most insect pests that appear in June—and when lawn and garden problems are experienced, the local Extension agent is the handiest and best person to see, the horticulturists stated.

Kentuckians on Tour

A delegation of 14 Kentuckians left May 13 for a three-week goodwill people-to-people tour to countries of Western Europe and the Soviet Union. Primary purpose of the trip is to exchange information and ideas in the area of coal mining. Tour coordinator is Harrel N. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals.

Others joining Kirkpatrick include the following and their wives: Dave Zegeer, retired Beth-Elkhorn Coal official; Burlin Coleman, president of Coal Operators and Associates; Harry LaViers, Jr., president of South East Coal Company; John Stratton, of Gates Engineering, and Dr. Maurice Bailey, chairman of the division of science at Pikeville College.

The itinerary for the trip features stops in London, Newcastle, Moscow, Donetsk, Berlin, Dusseldorf, Cologne, Aachen, Brussels, Lille, and Paris. The group will meet with members of Britain's National Coal Board before visiting Newcastle, one of the principal coal shipping ports in Great Britain.

PUBLIC NOTICE

There will be a special public meeting on Thursday May 25, at 7 p.m. in the conference room of the Big Sandy ADD offices at 552 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. (adjacent to Kentucky Motel). The purpose of the meeting is to review the 208 Water Quality Plan with specific emphasis on septic system malfunctions.

Celebrate 51st Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Akers, of Honaker, celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary, Saturday, May 20. They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Miles (Aileen) Kidd, Mrs. Fed (Novia) Clark and Mrs. Banner (Verleen) Kidd, all of Kendallville, Ind., and one son, Otis E. Akers, of Honaker. They have eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Several relatives visited them during the day.

Pikeville College
Confers Doctorate
Upon W. P. Walters

Pikeville College conferred the honorary doctoral degree upon Walter P. Walters, Sr., of Pikeville, during commencement exercises of the college, May 7.

A member of the college's board of trustees since 1970, Mr. Walters has served on that group's executive committee. A graduate of Staunton Military Academy and Transylvania University, he is the son of the late Dr. W. J. Walters and Mary Elizabeth Syck Walters. His mother was a member of the first graduating class of Pikeville Collegiate Institute in 1894.

Married to the former Judy Fitzpatrick, of Prestonsburg, Walters has four children: Dan Houghton and Walter P., Jr., both in the coal business, Anne Jeanette Worthington, of Rochester, Minn., and Judith Carol Hinkle, a teacher in the Pikeville independent schools.

President of the Walter P. Walters Agency, Inc., he has represented the Equitable Life Assurance Society for the past 25 years, earning numerous awards for salesmanship. A member of the First Baptist Church of Pikeville, Walters has served as president of the Kiwanis Club, two terms as president of the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America (he received Silber Beaver award from that group), is a member of the Region IV Executive Board, Boy Scouts of America (earning the Silver Antelope from that group), and has been a director of the First National Bank of Pikeville, a member of the city council, a leader in the move for flood control through the Commission on Rivers and Harbors in Washington, president of Breaks Interstate Parks Association, chairman of the finance drive for the Red Cross and a member of the finance committee for the Girl Scouts.

In accepting the Doctor of Humane Letters from Dr. Jackson O. Hall, president of Pikeville College, Walters said simply that he was "very much embarrassed that a large part of the financial support for Pikeville College comes from out of state. We can improve the image of our region if we all do more to support Pikeville College."

The W. C. Condit award for the highest academic standing went to Carolyn Stone, of Hindman. She was valedictorian both of her Hindman High class and her class at Alice Lloyd College and was graduated, summa cum laude, with a secondary education art major. The Margaret E. Record award for the second highest academic standing went to Elaine Horner, of South Webster, Ohio.

These included 9-year-olds Wesley Halbert and Greta Mullins; 10-year-olds Steve Stone and Millette Lyons; 11-year-olds, Anthony Clark and Lora Hardwick; 12-year-old, Carolyn Hamilton; 13-year-old girl, Lisa Ousley; 14-year-olds Jackie Cecil and Lena Hammons. Other members participating in the event included Mecca Webb, Brenda Sue Gobie, Vanessa Burke, Susan Martin, Ora Lee Hall, Jeri Smith, Terri Bailey, Missy Bentley, Karen Moore, Anneita Hall, Charles Walker, Karen Williams, June Mitchell, Nancy Tackett, Connie Hall, Susan Stone, Katherine Hall, Brenda Akers, Eva Hamilton, Rasha Cecil, Brian Akers.

The county champions will represent Floyd county in the Northeast Area speech contest later this month.

4-H CAMP DATES

The dates for Junior (9-14) Camp have been set for June 12-16, and the Senior 4-H Camp (high school members) will be held June 8-11. Both groups will be camping at the Irish Acres 4-H Camp in Boyd county.

Paintsville Attorney
Sues for $4 Million,
Names Broadcaster

A suit filed in Johnson circuit court asks $4,025,000 from a Paintsville broadcaster and his radio station as a result of remarks allegedly made during recent conflict over creation of a minor league baseball team at Paintsville.

C. K. Belhasen, attorney, filed the action in his name, plus that of his brothers, F. K. and Ronald F., alleging that Paul Fyffe made slanderous statements before a group, then broadcast them on radio station WSIP.

Belhasen, who is chairman of the Johnson County Board of Education, alleges Fyffe's remarks were false and malicious. He asks $25,000 special damages and $4 million in punitive damages.

Please note date shown opposite your name on your copy of The Times or on the wrapper. If the date reads, for instance, "April 78" your subscription will expire at the end of April.

Because of increased mailing costs, notices to subscribers of their expiration dates will be discontinued. Subscriptions which have expired must be cancelled within one month of the expiration date.

Yearly subscription rates are: $6.30 in Floyd county; $7.35 elsewhere in Kentucky; $8.50 outside Kentucky.

Diagnostic Ultrasound Being Used at Hospital

A new department of diagnostic ultrasound has been established at Central Baptist Hospital, Lexington, and about 100 examinations a month are done there by means of diagnostic ultrasound.

Dennis A. Hall, executive vice-president of the hospital, said that diagnostic ultrasound is a relatively new method of diagnosis, using high-frequency sound waves that electronically made into a picture which is then used for diagnosis. No x-rays are used.

The method is considered completely safe and has been in use since 1952 for diagnosis in practically all parts of the body, according to Hall.

CORRECTION

Funeral rites were conducted at noon Thursday, April 27, at Hall Brothers Funeral chapel by the Rev. Lee Edward Caudill for Bobby Gene "Duck" Martin, instead of Bobby Gene "Buck" Martin.

ALCOHOLISM PAMPHLETS are now displayed in the Floyd county courthouse and will be established in other public places throughout the county, marking Alcoholism Awareness Week, May 21-27. Shown above is outpatient worker, Don Goble, of Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, looking over the literature.

New KY 80 Work in Knott Contracted for $6 Million

More than $6.5 million in road construction and improvement work was approved last week for Knott county.

Announcement of the contracts came from State Transportation Secretary Calvin G. Grayson who said that the contract awards stemmed from a bidding May 5 by the state's Bureau of Highways.

According to Grayson, the projects include grading and drainage work along almost 1.2 miles of KY 80 and the Hindman connector road, south of KY 80, and surfacing for five miles of KY 582, beginning one mile east of KY 160 and extending to Spring Branch road.

The KY 80 and Hindman Connector projects were awarded to Bizzack Brothers Construction Corp., of Frankfort, and Watts and Call Construction Co., Inc., of Lexington, at a total cost of $6,329,531.

State Contracting and Stone Co. of Beaver Dam was the successful bidder ($218,050) on the contract for KY 582.

Ten other Eastern Kentucky road projects also were approved out of the May 5 letting.

In Wolfe county, a $358,819 project to surface about 9.5 miles of KY 15 from the Breathitt county line to KY 191 at Campton was awarded to Hinkle Contracting Corp., of Paris.

Hinkle Contracting Corp. also was awarded a $246,037 surfacing contract for nearly 11 miles of roads in Pulaski county.

In Pike county, approximately 3.5 miles of KY 632 will be surfaced between the Smith Fork road and KY 94 at Phelps by State Contracting and Stone at a cost of $130,083.

THIERMAN AUCTION
SOURWOOD HOLLOW FARM
June 10, 1978 — Sat., 1:30 p.m.

We have been instructed by the owners to sell their beautiful improved farm lying in and around Sourwood Hollow of Powell County, Kentucky as follows:

This farm contains a total of approximately 174 acres and has been more or less divided into 3 tracts as follows:
Tract 1—Improved with a fine home which was built around a 125-year-old restored log house which has a loft, dog trot and a woodburning fireplace. This new home which is unique in design has a large spacious family room complete with library and dining area, ultra-modern kitchen, bath and a hallway with closets connecting to the restored log house. This home has an electric heating system, is fully insulated and all windows are double paned. There are 2 bedrooms in the log house. There are 2 large rooms in the upstairs of the log house that could be completed for family use. This home has many energy saving features which you will not ordinarily find. There are several large windows with beautiful views and this home is easily heated with a woodburning circulating heater.

There is a guest cottage which has an efficiency apartment plus a large and spacious workshop and an upstairs that can be completed for living quarters. This efficiency apartment has modern bath and a modern water conditioning unit which processes water from the pond which supplies for both the home and this building. There is a good combination stock and tobacco barn on this tract. Several acres of good, well fenced pasture land and cropland and 1 acre pond which services as a water reservoir. Several bearing-size fruit trees and beautiful landscaping. This tract contains approximately 80 acres of combined farmland and timber.

Tract 2—Contains approximately 41 acres of timber and pasture land improved with a good barn, pond, and has good fencing. There are several nice building sites on this tract of land and also some good commercial timber.

Tract 3—is approximately 53 acres of fine timberland. There are approx. 3 acres in pasture but the majority of this tract could be timbered and put into pasture and cultivation. This is a beautiful boundary and has many possibilities. You will find here some of the best hardwood timber to be seen in this area. There will be a road easement of ingress and egress along the present service road retained to this property.

So far as known all mineral rights are intact and will be conveyed with the above tracts of land. The tobacco allotment is 1500 lbs.

If you love the serenity of peace and quiet and the beauty of combined farmland and the woods, no traffic noises, no thru traffic, yet only 4 miles to the Mt. Parkway Clay City-Irvine exit, approx. 1 hour drive to downtown Lexington, Ky., 25 minutes to Winchester and Mt. Sterling, Ky., 10 minutes to Stanton, Ky., then we invite you to consider this lovely farm. This farm is .8 of a mile off of the blacktop Snow Creek Road or Hwy. 1028. This farm will be offered in the above 3 described tracts with the right reserved to group together any 2 tracts or to sell as a whole.

Upon selling of the farm we will then offer the following personal items to sell: a selection of cedar, cherry and walnut lumber; a Massie Ferguson 35 Tractor; IH Cub Cadet Tractor 126 with 42" mower; 5 ft. bush hog mower; Ford grader blade; disk harrow; pond scoop; Sears 6 h.p. rotary tiller; Wards upright freezer; Magic Chef electric range; 2 Wonderwood heating stoves; Sears 10" table saw; garden seeder; tractor cart; picnic tables; 4-drawer metal filing cabinet; room air conditioner; work bench; plow; welding table; log chains; 2 cant hooks; galvanized roofing; old bath tub; lavatory for a bathroom; lawn mower; "Perfect 36" dress form; white metal cabinet; back pump sprayer; 10' aluminum boat; old doors and windows; lumber; electric fence charger; old military guns; and many potted plants, hanging baskets, tools; Old wall telephone and many other items too numerous to mention.

The owners have bought out-of-state property and plan to move in the near future. Excellent terms can be arranged for a qualified buyer.

To get to this auction of the Sourwood Hollow farm, take the Mt. Parkway of Hwy. 15 to Clay City-Irvine exit and the junction of Hwy. 82. Then Hwy. 82 South approximately 3/4 mile, turn right on Hwy. 1028 for approx. 1 mile then turn right and follow the auction arrows. Auction arrows will be posted. For further information contact the selling agent.

Terms—Announced at auction time on the real estate; Personal property—cash.

Weinberg and Still Tabbed for Awards

Berea, Ky.—The W. D. Weatherford Award for outstanding writing about the Appalachian South was presented recently to the authors of two books—Gurney Norman for "Kinfolks" and Laurel Shackelford and Bill Weinberg, editors of "Our Appalachia."

A special award also went to James Still, of Knott county, for the body of his work in fiction and poetry, including "River of Earth," "On Troublesome Creek," "Pattern of Man" and "Hounds on the Mountain."

Norman, an editor of the "Whole Earth Catalog" and the author of "Divine Right's Trip," is a University of Kentucky graduate who now lives in California. Last year, he was writer-in-residence at the University of Kentucky. "Kinfolks," a book of short stories, was published by Gnomon Press.

"Our Appalachia" is a collection of interviews with Appalachian people that makes up an oral history of the region in this century. Laurel Shackelford is a reporter for the Louisville Times, and Weinberg, now a Hindman attorney and state representative, was director of the Alice Lloyd Oral History Project.

Both awards are made possible by Alfred H. Perrin, of Berea, to honor the late W. D. Weatherford, a pioneer in Appalachian development, youth work and race relations. They are jointly sponsored by Berea College's Hutchins Library and Appalachian Center.

The awards, established in 1970, have previously honored such works as Eliot Wigginton's "The Foxfire Book;" Dr. David Loeff's "Appalachia's Children;" Bryan Woolley and Ford Reid's "We Be Here When the Morning Comes;" Kai Erikson's "Everything in Its Path" and the New York Times and the Louisville Courier-Journal for coverage of Appalachian issues and problems.

Previous special award winners have been Dr. Robert Coles, Wilma Dykeman, Jesse Stuart, and Harry Caudill.

Weightlifter of the Week

Greg Music, 195-pound sophomore, has been selected as one of this week's Weightlifters. Weight coach Bob Stetson said, "Greg's been putting something into it the last 3-4 weeks and his improvement is easily noticeable. It all goes back to what Coach Haywood says—'What you put into it is what you are going to get out of it.' Greg is putting something into it and now it's just a matter of keeping it up."

Recognized again this week were Bill Greer, Lee Carter, who hit a maximum of 300 pounds on the bench press to lead in that category, Terry Click, Greg Haywood, Danny Daniels, Desi Whitt, Dewey Layne, Andrew McClanahan, Jody Collins, Sam Huffman, and Lonnie May.

Goble-Roberts News

Sandy Hardin, of Rich Creek, Va., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Bill May, and Mr. May, also Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mills, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hardin and daughter, Mitzl, of Inez.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mills spent the day in Cincinnati last Friday.

Bill May was admitted to Highlands Regional Hospital Monday for tests and observation.

Mrs. Opal Fitzpatrick, of Lexington, spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Phyllis Herald and family. Mrs. Herald is expected to go to Louisville this week to be with her sister, Mrs. Rhoda Schroder, who is expected to undergo surgery.

Mrs. Darvin Woods returned home last week after spending some time with her daughter in Columbus, Ohio.

Paintsville Downs McDowell For Regional Baseball Title

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON
 The 15th region finally has a champion, despite rain delays, and the titlists are, to nobody's great surprise, the Paintsville High School Tigers.
 Paintsville won the championship by downing the McDowell Daredevils, 58th district champions, 14 to 1.
 McDowell as district champion and the Prestonsburg Black Devils as runnersup represented the county in the regional tourney held at Johnson Central High School, Paintsville. In the district finals McDowell defeated Prestonsburg, 7 to 1, as the Daredevils' Ricky Kidd hurled his eighth consecutive win without a loss.

 Prestonsburg lost to Paintsville in the opening round of the regional, 16 to 8, but McDowell downed Morgan County, 11-1, and Virgie, 3 to 1, before meeting Paintsville in the championship game.
 McDowell's Steve Reid and Rick Kidd allowed the opposition only two hits each in the wins over Morgan County and Virgie. The victory over Virgie was Kidd's ninth in a row. His team closed out the season with an 18-4 won-lost record.
 Named to the all-regional team were Steve Newsome, Steve Reid, Steve Kidd, Ricky Kidd and Barry Spurlock, all of McDowell, and Chuck Hylton and Kevin Sturgill, of Prestonsburg.

Kays Elected Head Of Fish and Wildlife

Carl E. Kays, assistant commissioner of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, was unanimously elected commissioner of that department last Wednesday by the state fish and wildlife commission, according to Dr. James C. Salato, chairman. Kays will succeed Arnold L. Mitchell, who retires as commissioner July 31. A native of Eldon, Mo., now residing in Frankfort, the 48-year-old Kays has served as assistant commissioner since April, 1975. Prior to that appointment he was a wildlife biologist with the department for 18 years.

Field Day Winner

Six-year-old Christopher Thornsberry won three ribbons in first-grade competition at the track and field day held recently at Melvin Elementary school. He won blue ribbons in the crab and sack races and a red ribbon in the 50-yard dash. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thornsberry, of Melvin.

Rural Child Care News

The Rural Child Care Centers at Dwale and Drift, operated by the Kentucky Youth Research Center, will close for the summer at the end of this week.

Graduation plans have been completed at both centers. Dwale will graduate 21 in the Allen Elementary School auditorium Thursday, May 25, at 7 p.m. Drift will graduate 27, the largest class there in 12 years, at the Drift Center on Friday, May 26, at 7 p.m. The children have new caps and gowns to wear, thanks to the sewing mothers.

The Drift children enjoyed a picnic at the Dewey Dam spillway last week. They also enjoyed a magician show at the center, Monday. The children made their handprint on a paper plate and gave them to their mothers for Mother's Day.

The Dwale children will be going to the Dewey Dam Spillway on Friday for a picnic. The children gave their mothers a flower and card for Mother's Day. The children painted a small jar to which they added dirt, a flower, and a ribbon. We want to thank Mrs. Barbara Burchett for donating the jars and flowers and making the ribbons.

We would like to extend a special thanks to all the parents who volunteered their services and the local merchants who donated supplies this year.

To enroll a child at the Dwale center, contact Myrtle Jo Potter at 886-3548, or at the Drift Center, contact Esther Salisbury at 377-2427 or 377-6212.

Lyons Signs McDowell's Newsome

"I had to coach against him for three years; now I'd like to coach for him." Speaking was Pikeville College Bears' Head Coach Eugene Lyons, former chief mentor at Virgie High School.

Lyons was talking about Steve Newsome, 16-year-old McDowell High star forward. And Newsome's high school coach, David Turner, agreed with Lyons: he wishes the 1978 honorarian at the Floyd school hadn't skipped the second grade. "I could have him for two more years, and, since Coach Lyons is not at Virgie, we might make it to the state tournament."

Turner might, anyway. And Lyons isn't at Virgie. Both schools won and lost four games against the other during the past three years. Maybe the Newsomes (Robert for Virgie and Steve for McDowell) made the difference. At any rate, Lyons isn't taking any chances. He's got both of them committed to four years on athletic aid contracts at Pikeville.

In Steve Newsome, Lyons has chosen and convinced a player whose points per game average increased from zero his freshman year ("I was on the bench; I only scored two points the whole year") to an average of 10 his sophomore year and on to a startling 25 per game both his junior and senior years. His rebounds increased dramatically, too—from none to an average of 14 per game his senior year.

Steve lives about 11 miles from his high school in the community of Ligon. His father, Town Newsome, is landfill supervisor for the county. His mother, Draxie Hamilton Newsome, teaches fifth grade at McDowell. "It took me about 18 years to get through college," she laughs seriously. "I'm a graduate of Pikeville College. I taught school each year and just went to college in the summer and on Saturdays. Had three children in between." Her daughter Gloria, 25, teaches third grade at McDowell, and the Newsomes' daughter-in-law, Sharon, is a home economics instructor there.

So when Steve, the youngest in the family, comes to Pikeville, the family

PYTHON REPORTEDLY SWALLOWS INDONESIAN

JAKARTA, Indonesia—A 20-foot python swallowed a farmer but when the snake was killed and its stomach ripped open, the dead man was found without any "outward damage," a newspaper reported yesterday.

The daily Sinar Harapan said the farmer cried for help when the snake attacked him at night near his home in the jungle of central Sulawesi. Villagers went to look for him the next day and found the python whose stomach was bulging so that it could not move. The paper said villagers killed the snake and removed the corpse.

Clothing Care ALERT!

Proper Care Keeps Silk Beautiful

Silk is in again, and your delicate new silks can be among your wardrobe's most enduring components, given the right care.

The special feel of silk, and its ability to take brilliant dye colors are pushing it to new heights of popularity. Silk is becoming popular not only in scarves and ties, but now in blouses, dresses, skirts and suits—men's as well as women's.

Silk gives up soil readily and is very resistant to wrinkles. However, silks need some special precautions in cleaning and handling. The International Fabricare Institute (IFI), the national association of professional launderers and drycleaners, points out some of silk's strengths and weaknesses, and how to deal with them in caring for your silk garments.

• Strong light not only fades the dyes and brighteners used in many silks, but sunlight weakens and yellows the silk itself, so keep your silks in a cool, dark, dry place.

• Silk also yellows with age and frequent ironing. Hot ironing temperatures damage the fabric and cause yellowing, so use a low setting when doing your touch-up ironing. Don't ever iron silk velvet or any other velvets—ironing flattens the pile.

Your drycleaner often can whiten a yellowed silk garment, but there are limits to what the cleaner can do. Bleaches can harm both the fabric and the optical brighteners used in silks. Your cleaner will do everything possible to restore silks without damaging the fabric.

• Because silk dyes and finishes can be very sensitive to water and because silk is very water-absorbent, spilled drinks and even perspiration can cause problems.

• Chloride salts, contained in deodorants, perspiration and salt water damage silk fibers. The salts will do less damage and your clothes will last longer if you have them cleaned as soon after being soiled as possible. Not only does silk become harder to clean with age, but the dirt attracts moths and insects that can attack the fabric finishes. A professional cleaner has special techniques and equipment to remove stains. Point them out to your cleaner, again as soon as possible.

Your drycleaner can help restore the fabric color with professional treatment. The treatment cannot reverse fabric damage caused by years of use, though. The garment may need the same treatment every time you have the garment cleaned.

The drycleaner may also have to add sizing to replace lost fabric finishes. Some finishes break down in the drycleaning process itself. Cleaners can restore these finishes, but cannot guarantee the fabric will feel like new.

Wrinkling shouldn't be a problem with most silks. If your silks do become wrinkled, you can remove the wrinkles with a gentle steaming. Be careful the fabric doesn't get damp with moisture.

The thread of the silk-worm has been considered a thing of beauty for years, ever since the Chinese began cultivating silkworms five centuries ago. The Roman Empire considered silk worth its weight in gold. With proper care, so can today's silk garments.

Jehovah's Witnesses Set Circuit Assembly

Organizational arrangements have been completed for the forthcoming Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, Saturday and Sunday, May 27 and 28, at the Raleigh County Armory Civic Center, Beckley, West Virginia.

Louis McClung, of Huntington, convention manager, and James Hall have named some from the local area to help in supervising the 20 departments comprising the assembly's organizational structure.

Donald Wills, of Wayland, will direct the immersion scheduled for Sunday morning. A talk explaining the significance of baptism will be delivered at 9:20 a.m.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of John Hall, Jr. would express its thanks to all relatives and friends for being so thoughtful and helpful at the time of our loss. The flowers and your generosity were lovely. Thanks also to the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its efficient service and the ministers of the Old Regular Baptist Church for their comforting words and prayers. All your love and kindness will be remembered always.

Mrs. Nora Hall and Family
New London, Ohio

Tomorrow's Sun-Filled Skies

The world's energy demands are choking the planet. But tomorrow the pollution picture may be drastically different. At a recent symposium of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, participants discussed the prospect of huge solar power stations that will circle the skies. Experts say the prospect is possible with today's engineering capabilities, and such stations are being considered as a major source of supplying electricity to the earth.

According to Dr. Peter Glaser, vice president of the consulting firm of Arthur D. Little, several studies have shown that costs could be competitive with other methods of power generation, such as nuclear power, by the mid-1990's. Even though the staggering cost for a single solar power station would be about $10 billion.

The satellite station would be a huge array of solar cells, measuring from three to 12 miles, which would convert sunlight directly into electrical energy. The satellite would be in orbit at an altitude of more than 22,000 miles; from the earth it would appear stationary. The satellite would beam microwaves to receivers on earth, each of which would be six miles wide, for direct conversion to electricity.

The system is now being studied by several governmental and private agencies. And about 200 sites in the U.S. have already been found suitable to receive the beams.

By the early to middle part of the next century, says Dr. Glaser, it would be possible to have 112 such satellites in orbit through an international arrangement, and solar power from orbiting stations could supply half the world's electricity needs.

Solar power may pose its own set of problems. But, pollution from energy plants will not be one of them.

(To find out more about curbing today's air pollution, contact your Kentucky-Louisville Lung Association—the "Christmas Seal" people.)

DAV Service Officers To Explain Benefits At May 30 Meet

The Disabled American Veterans are concerned because many veterans and their dependents are not aware of federal benefits to which they may be entitled, Monroe Vanderpool, of Hippo, Seventh district DAV commander said last week.

In order to explain these benefits and provide free assistance, national service officers of the Disabled American Veterans will be at the courthouse here May 30, at 7 p.m. All veterans are urged to attend the meeting.

MORE THAN TWENTY million Americans suffer from some form of arthritis serious enough to require medical care.

Kathi Anne Mullins Represents College At Laurel Festival

Twenty-year-old Kathi Anne Mullins, daughter of Julius and Juanita Mullins, of Melvin, is Pikeville College's representative to the 47th Mountain Laurel Festival, being held this week in Pineville.

A senior music education major at Pikeville College, Miss Mullins was valedictorian of the 1975 class at Wheelwright High School. She is a dean's list student at the college where she performs in the concert band, symphonic wind ensemble and concert choir. She also teaches private piano lessons for children. After graduation from Pikeville College, she hopes to teach music in this area.

Another distinction that this year's Pikeville College representative to the festival has is that she was Miss Pike County in 1977. She currently works as a part-time secretary in the Pikeville College admissions office.

Miss Mullins' father is chairman of the board of the United Mine Workers' Health and Retirement Fund.

Elderly To Get Help In Garden Program

A program to help elderly persons have gardens has been expanded to all of the state.

Sponsored by Gov. Julian Carroll, the Elderly Gardening Opportunities program last year served more than 7,000 persons in 88 counties. The program supplies garden seeds, plants, fertilizer and payment for tillage for low-income Kentuckians 60 years of age and older.

A $112,657.81 grant to the Kentucky Association of Community Action Agencies, announced by human resources Secretary Peter Conn, will enable the statewide expansion and allow more than 8,000 elderly persons to benefit from the fresh produce grown in individual and community plots.

The program is operated by 21 Kentucky Community Action Agencies and West Kentucky Allied Services.

EASTERN NEWS

The boys and girls of the Joy Bible Club of Eastern will be having their annual program for the public Saturday, May 27, at 7 p.m. The children will be presenting puppet plays around the theme of God's Royal Family. There will be music by the children, and speaking also.

Awards will be presented, trophy cups given, display of crafts made by the children of this Bible Club.

Miss Roberta Tromp, missionary to South Africa, will be showing fascinating African curios and slides, also.

The public is urged to attend. The program will be held in the home of Miss Barbara Wynsma and Miss Lois Holmquist at Eastern, across from the Allen Central High School.

Children who will take part are from the Martin, Maytown, Eastern and Hueysville areas. Seating is available for 100.

Little Is Named Truman Scholar

Former Floyd county Robin Little has been selected as the Commonwealth's Truman Scholar for 1978. The Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation, established in 1974 by an Act of Congress as a living memorial to the 33rd President, awards a stipend of $5,000 per year for four years to college students "who demonstrate outstanding potential for and who plan to pursue a career in public service." One Truman Scholar is chosen from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Trust Territories of the Pacific.
 Little, currently a sophomore at Centre College, Danville, has been a Student Congress representative, news editor of the Cento and a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity. A Dean's List student, the recipient referred to his selection in the nationwide competition as an "outstanding opportunity for self-improvement and increased learning."
 He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Tavis Little, of Smith Mills, Ky., formerly of Floyd county.

Ultimately, Little plans to attend law school. "Yet I hope," he added, "that I have the chance to spend a couple of years doing something a little less regimented first—perhaps a fellowship abroad."

Little said that he feels his experiences in government and politics were helpful in getting the award. He has been a Congressional intern in Washington, and plans to return to Washington this summer, either as a Congressional or Senatorial intern.

On May 1, Little travelled to the Truman Library in Independence, Mo. where Margaret Truman Daniel presented awards to this year's 53 Truman Scholars.

Conservation Corps Assigns 21 Workers To Park and Lake

Eastern Kentucky will benefit from four Young Adult Conservation Corps projects which are getting under way this month, according to Peter Conn, secretary of the Department for Human Resources.

Jenny Wiley State Park will get 14 workers, while Dewey Lake, Cumberland Falls State Park and Kentucky Ridge State Forest will employ seven workers each. These are four of 12 projects in the statewide corps program which will offer jobs to 112 people.

Funded by the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, contracts allowing localities to begin hiring for the program were completed May 12.

"This is a work program designed to make conservation and recreation improvements on non-federal public lands and waterways," Conn said.

Those qualifying for corps employment must be 16 through 23 years old, out of school and unemployed. Applicants must affirm that they did not drop out of school for the purpose of joining this program.

Wages for the one-year program begin at $2.65 per hour to be raised to $2.90 on Jan. 1. Total cost for the program statewide is $1,044,725.

Kentucky Afield

By JOHN WILSON

Reports from several lakes around Kentucky show that anglers are beginning to catch white bass at night. This indicates that at these lakes, and probably at others, most of the whites have completed their spawning runs and have moved from the headwaters back into the main lake.

If this strange spring weather kept you from fishing the white bass runs and if you don't mind losing a little sleep, you might try some night fishing this spring or summer. This angling method is often more consistently productive than fishing for white bass during the spawning runs.

The basic techniques of night fishing are simple. Anchor the boat securely at the bow and the stern to hold it in place, shine the rays of a lantern or an electric light from a 12-volt battery into the water, bait several lines with minnows and wait.

The first creatures to be attracted to the light are several species of plankton. If you look closely into clear water, you can see these tiny organisms as they gather under the lights. They in turn will attract small shad and other species of minnows, which will eventually draw in a school of roving white bass.

Most night fishermen get on the lake before nightfall and plan on staying out until daylight the next morning. The most productive spots are generally along steep, vertical banks that drop off quickly into deep waters. If you're not familiar with a lake, just drive around the shoreline one night and look for concentrations of lights, then set up in the same general area.

Don't make the common mistake of fishing until about 11 p.m. then deciding to go in and watch the late movie on TV—most action takes place well after midnight and an ideal time can be just at the first light of dawn.

To find the correct depth to fish, lower the baited hook to the bottom and slowly reel it back up. When a fish hits, count the number of turns of the reel handle it takes to land him, and this will give you a good idea of how far down the whites are schooling.

If you have anchored over an area containing submerged brush, you'll probably catch crappie as well as (or instead of) white bass. And in several lakes, such as Herrington, Barren or Cumberland, don't be surprised if you tie into a rockfish while night fishing. These salt-water transplants are becoming more and more numerous around Kentucky, so if something tries to take your rod and reel away from you, that's probably what it is.

Besides lights and fishing gear, be sure to take along a jacket and plenty of coffee—it can get pretty cold and sleepy out on the lake, even in the middle of the summer.

Night fishing will remain productive through the summer months and well into the fall. Particularly in July and August, fishing at night is an excellent way to avoid the crowds of pleasure boaters and other fishermen who are out in force every week-end.

The limit on white bass is 60 per day and 60 in possession after two or more days (or nights) of fishing. The same limits apply to crappie and there are no size limits on either fish. But 60 fish is a lot of cleaning after an all-night session, so you might want to stop before you reach the legal limit if you don't feel like you're up to a session of several hours with the filleting knife.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT
CR 12,668

The First National Bank of Prestonsburg, Kentucky . . . PIF.

VS. NOTICE OF SALE.

Kenneth Sizemore, Bobbie Jean Sizemore, his wife and John M. Hall . . . Defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the April 18 term, 1978 in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 2nd day of June 1978 at 10:00 o'clock a.m. same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of six months, the following described property to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land lying and being on the waters of the Left Fork of Beaver Creek in Floyd County, Kentucky, and being the same property conveyed to Kenneth Sizemore and Bobbie Jean Sizemore, his wife, from John M. Hall and Evelyn Hall, his wife, by deed dated November 14, 1973, and recorded in Deed Book 213, page 573, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, being more particularly described as follows:

Beginning in main frozen creek; thence up the hill to a marked maple; thence to a black pine; thence around the hill to a dogwood tree; thence up the hill to a marked black oak; thence running up the point to a marked stone, on top of the hill; thence running as the rocks runs to a marked stone on the top of the hill; thence down the drain to a marked walnut; thence to a marked white oak; thence down the hill to another white oak marked; thence on down the hill to another white oak marked; thence on down the hill to main frozen creek; thence up with center of same to the beginning, so as to include all land in said boundary.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $4,288.82 with interest thereon at 8 1/2 percent annually from the 1st day of April 1977 until satisfied and the additional sum of $6,500.00 with 6 percent annual interest thereon from November 17, 1973, and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 15 day of May, 1978.

Historical Meeting Slated June 3rd

The regular summer meeting of the Big Sandy Valley Historical Society will be held at noon Saturday, June 3, at the Breaks of the Mountains Interstate Park. The speaker will be Mrs. Bonnie S. Ball, of Big Stone Gap, Va., who will address the group on the subject, "Dr. Thomas Walker's Exploration of Southwest Virginia, Eastern Kentucky and Southern West Virginia." Mrs. Ball has just completed the most thorough research done in the last 50 years regarding Dr. Walker's exploration.

The organization's board of directors is scheduled to meet at 11 a.m. The publications committee will issue its report on items scheduled for publication later this year. The meeting will also feature a display of local and regional history publications for sale. Luncheon tickets may be purchased at the time of registration. Members and guests who plan to attend the meeting should notify the society president, Edward R. Hazelett, by May 27, by calling 789-3416 after 5 p.m.

IN APPRECIATION

Last week my son was admitted to Highlands Regional for emergency surgery. I would like to thank every member of the third floor nursing staff for all the kindness they showed my child. He had the very best of care. Also I would like to thank both Dr. Jurich and Dr. Bader for all their concern and for taking such good care of Keith.

Board Sets Dialysis Regulation, Approves 15 Area Applications

The Certificate of Need and Licensure Board has approved its first regulation on renal dialysis facilities. Dialysis serves chronically ill patients, who must undergo regular treatments because their kidneys do not function properly, a condition known as end-stage renal disease.

The regulation specifies that the medical director of a renal dialysis unit must be a physician who is a certified nephrologist, internist or pediatrician with at least 12 months' experience or training in end-stage renal disease. Also, the facility must have on its staff at least one registered nurse who has a minimum of 18 months' clinical experience, and at least six months of that experience must be in treating renal disease patients. While patients are under dialysis, either the medical director or a similarly-qualified staff physician must be readily available, and the nurse overseeing the patient's treatment must be experienced in rendering end-stage renal disease care.

In another action, the board amended its regulations on long-term care facilities, removing sections which pertain to fire safety, since those matters fall under the jurisdiction of the state fire marshal's office. The board retained requirements that facilities cannot be licensed or opened for occupancy unless they pass the state fire marshal's inspection, and that construction plans for health facilities must be approved by both the Department for Human Resources and the fire marshal.

The board also reviewed 56 applications for Certificates of Need, which health facilities must obtain before constructing, expanding or modifying their buildings or equipment. Certificates of Need are also required when a health service plans to initiate, expand or modify its operations.

The board did approve 46 applications, approved three more with stipulations, turned down six applications and referred one back to the state Comprehensive Health Planning Council.

There were 18 applications from Eastern Kentucky. Fifteen were approved, one was turned down, one was approved with a stipulation. A proposal from Laurel River Health Plan, Inc., London, to establish a health maintenance organization and primary care center, was referred to the Comprehensive Health Planning Council.

Approved were:
—Daniel Boone Convalescent Center, Morehead, to convert 29 beds from skilled nursing care to intermediate care beds.

—Oakmont Manor Intermediate Care Facility, Flatwoods, to construct a 60-bed intermediate care facility at an estimated cost of $931,050.

—Bird Family Care Home, Olive Hill, to change location of a three-bed family care home.

—Blevins Family Care Home, Olive Hill, to establish a two-bed family care home.

—Hillard Family Care Home, Ashland, to establish a three-bed family care home.

—Roar Family Care Home, Grahn, to establish a two-bed family care home, approved with the comment that the applicant request a waiver regarding her employment; she has stated that if she is licensed, she will resign from her position.

—Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, Paintsville, to establish a group home for eight mentally retarded or developmentally disabled individuals.

—Hamilton Family Care Home, Fritz, to establish a three-bed family care home.

—Howell Family Care Home, Beaver, to establish a three-bed family care home.

—Whitesburg Nursing Home, Whitesburg, for change of ownership of previously-held Certificate of Need. The applicant proposes the construction of a 100-bed intermediate care facility, at an estimated cost of $1.2 million.

—Williamsburg Nursing Home, Williamsburg, for change of ownership of a previously-held Certificate of Need. The applicant proposes the construction of a facility with 50 skilled nursing beds and 50 intermediate care beds, at an estimated cost of $1.2 million.

—Baker Family Care Home, Barbourville, to establish a three-bed family care home.

—Dyehouse Family Care Home, Brodhead, to establish a three-bed family care home.

—Somerset Center, Inc., Somerset, to add 26 intermediate care beds to previously-approved certificates. The final bed complement in the facility will be 40 skilled nursing care beds and 12 intermediate care beds, at a total cost of $1.68 million.

—Crestview Care Home, Somerset, to add 22 intermediate care beds to the existing facility, at an estimated cost of $275,000.

A proposal from Mountain View Health Care Center, Inc., Elkhorn City, to construct a facility with 106 intermediate care and 20 personal care beds, was approved with the stipulation that the applicant furnish documentation of the location for the facility. Estimated cost of the project is $1.89 million.

A proposal from Uptown Nursing Home, Inc., Somerset, to construct a 48-bed intermediate care facility at an estimated cost of $321,500, was turned down. The basis for the board's action was that the Uptown proposal was in competition with Somerset Center and Crestview, since regional plans call for only 48 additional beds in the area. In such cases, the board gives priority to conversions of existing beds or additions to existing facilities over construction of new facilities.

Female Innkeeper

A few years ago a young lady in Columbus, Ohio had dreams of becoming a nun and teaching music. Today she is one of the youngest and one of the very few female innkeepers in the non-franchised Holiday Inn chain.

Miss Julianne Gallucci, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Gallucci, (her mother is the former Mary Lou Scott, of Garrett) says, looking back, "It's quite a switch from the sheltered life I was used to, and it came about because my father would not sign the papers for me to go to a convent."

She became interested in hotel work while a student at Ohio State University, and by the time she had graduated, she had decided to make the hotel industry her career.

Before becoming manager of an inn, Miss Gallucci had to prove her mettle. Working as a secretary for five months without a day off was one of the proofs, and acting as a trouble-shooter, which included being assigned to 15 different inns in an eight-month period, was another.

Now, as manager of an inn, she finds the work rewarding, interesting and worth all the hard work along the way.

Three Area Students Receive U. of L. Degrees

Three students from the Prestonsburg area were graduated from the University of Louisville, May 14.

Michael Ray Arnett, Fredville, and Robert Keith Leslie, Prestonsburg, both received doctor of dental medicine degrees from the School of Dentistry; and Mrs. Cathy Lynn Whitaker Perkins, West Prestonsburg, received a bachelor of arts degree from the College of Arts and Sciences with a major in biology, graduating with honors.

Degrees were awarded to more than 1,600 students who graduated from U of L's 12 schools and colleges. Another 1,255 students received degrees at the end of the summer and fall semesters and were recognized during the ceremony.

Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., author, historian and former presidential assistant, delivered the commencement address. He was special assistant to Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Schlesinger was among six persons who received honorary doctoral degrees conferred by U of L President James Grier Miller.

Pupil Immunization Survey Under Way

The Department for Human Resources is surveying Kentucky's 771,000-plus school children as the first step in a state-wide immunization campaign.

The survey, conducted with the cooperation of the state Department of Education, public and non-public schools and local health departments, is part of a nationwide effort to identify children who may be unprotected from preventable diseases.

Immunization questionnaires are being distributed to students in kindergarten through grade 12. Parents are asked to fill out the questionnaire, indicating whether each child has been immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (whooping cough), polio, measles and rubella (German measles). Immunization against these diseases is required by Kentucky law.

Immunization against mumps is recommended by the department's public health officials but is not required by law.

According to Dr. Carlos Hernandez, director of preventive services, follow-up will be done on children who are not adequately immunized. "We will urge parents to take their children to private physicians or local health departments for the needed immunizations," said Hernandez. Immunizations are free at local health departments.

Local health departments will be encouraged, he said, to set up school-based immunization clinics in schools where a "significant number" of children do not have the required protection.

"By October 1979," Hernandez said, "our goal is to have at least 90 per cent of all Kentucky children, from newborns to seniors in high school, protected against all of the so-called childhood diseases."

He estimates the present immunization level of Kentucky children to be 81 per cent.

The survey will be completed by the end of the school year.

Honors Lexington Horseman

Jack Baugh (left), president of the United States Trotting Association and owner of Almahurst Farm near Lexington, accepts an award for his contributions to the standardbred industry from Marvin Music, chairman of the Kentucky Harness Racing Commission.

The Kentucky Harness Racing Commission has honored Lexington horseman Jack Baugh for his contributions to the standardbred industry in Kentucky and the nation.

Baugh, who was recently elected president of the United States Trotting Association, receiving the award from commission Chairman Marvin Music, of Prestonsburg. Music said the award would be established as an annual presentation.

"The Commonwealth of Kentucky is indeed fortunate to have a person of Mr. Baugh's caliber as one of its citizens. I cannot think of a more deserving recipient of this honor," Music said.

As owner of Almahurst Farm near Lexington, Baugh has bred such champions as Arnie Almahurst, Oil Burner, Real Hilarious and World Champion Sunnie Tar. Baugh is director of the Lexington Trots Breeders Association, the Little Brown Jug Society and the Kentucky Horse Council. He is chairman of the board of St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington and a past member of the board of trustees of Transylvania University. He is also a sailplane enthusiast and his world record sailplane is in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.

Watch for Tagged Bass

Frankfort, Ky., May 19—There are some mighty valuable bass swimming around in Kentucky waters—fish worth up to $1,000, in fact.

In a major research project now under way, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is offering cash rewards for the return of tags from black bass. The monetary value of each tag, chosen by random selection, ranges from $1 to $1,000, with intermediate values of $5, $10, $25, $50 and $100.

The purpose of the cash rewards, according to Fisheries Division Director Charlie Bowers, is to encourage anglers to return tags.

"Other states which have conducted similar reward programs have got returns of up to 50 per cent," Bowers says. The usual return of a tagging program without incentive usually runs under five per cent, according to Bowers.

A high rate of return, Bowers explains, gives biologists a much more accurate picture of the fishing pressure being exerted on black bass, one of the most popular and most sought-after game fish. Good return figures will also help biologists better evaluate the effects of the new 12-inch size limit on bass.

Various lakes, streams and a portion of the Ohio River will contain tagged fish, Bowers says, but the names of the actual waters will not be made public. "This is to try to keep fishing pressure as near its normal level as possible," Bowers says. "If we announce that Lake X has a $1000 bass in it, that lake will obviously get fished more than it otherwise would and this would make our final figures less accurate."

Nor will the number of tags bearing a certain monetary value be made public. Employees of the fish and wildlife department and their families cannot receive cash rewards.

The bass are being captured by electroshocking, a process which stuns fish for a few minutes. The orange plastic tag with black numbers is placed partially under the scales along the fish's back and the bass is then released.

An angler catching such a tagged fish must return the tag, in a special envelope available at most docks or from the department, before he learns how much his reward will be. Tags returned in a plain envelope with the length, weight, girth and the catch location and method with several scales from the fish will be accepted.

MEMORIAL DAY

It's Time to Remember Our American Servicemen.

Throughout history, there have been many who dedicated themselves to upholding our nation's high ideals. They were from all backgrounds. But they had one common bond. They were Americans.

Each and every one of us owes them more than words could express. Let's show our gratitude now, by taking this day to honor them in our hearts... and pay tribute to their outstanding courage.

We pay homage to all those men who bravely served in our armed forces.

Allen Central Band Earns High Ratings; Sets Spring Concert

The Allen Central Rebel band participated in the Kentucky Music Educators Spring Music Festival held recently at Pikeville April 22. The band was judged in Division B, and it received one superior and two excellent ratings.

Fifteen students from Allen Central participated in the earlier KMEA Music Festival solo events. Students receiving superior ratings were Kay Craft, clarinet; Tanya Martin, trumpet; Clara Ousley, flute; Angie Ratcliff, flute and violin; Joe Allen, baritone saxophone; Debbie Beatty, trumpet and Chris Salisbury, snare drum. Excellent ratings went to Lisa Martin, clarinet; Renee Vannucci, clarinet; Ramona Sizemore, flute; Lois Hutchinson, flute; and Gabe Conn, snare drum.

The Allen Central Band is presenting its spring concert tomorrow (Thursday) at 7 p.m., at the J. H. Campbell Athletic Center at Eastern. The director of the Rebel band is Kaye Scutchfield.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES between 1976 and 1985 are expected to be good for bookkeepers, cashiers, secretaries and typists, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook.

Save Sick Trees from the Ax

An Extension forestry specialist in the UK College of Agriculture advises being slow to cut down sick-looking trees that are losing their leaves this spring. 'Chances are the problem is anthracnose, a fungal disease that's widespread this spring because of the cool, rainy spring,' says Don Van Ormer.

INVITATION TO BID The Floyd County Board of Education will receive sealed bids until 12:00 noon, June 7, 1978 to purchase one used truck. Specifications as listed below: 1975-76-2 ton truck equipped with van bed with side and rear doors.

NOTICE The Kentucky Bureau of Highways, in order to assist those people displaced by highway construction, desires to obtain listings of available housing and building lots which are for sale, rent, or lease in Floyd County in the Betsy Layne, Harold, Mud Creek area.

The specialist recommends sanitation measures to destroy over-wintering fungus as a method of controlling anthracnose in shade trees, ornamentals and nursery stock. Rake leaves on the ground and prune out infected twigs and branches. Then burn the material or destroy it by some other appropriate method.
