

Second Phase At Allen Park Near Beginning

Swimming Pool Work Administration Building To Follow Span Finish

Phase II, the construction of an administration building, will get under way at the Allen park upon the completion by Burchett & Bush, contractors, of the bridge spanning Beaver Creek and connecting the park with KY 80, it was said here this week.

Economic Development Administration (EDA) funds have already been approved for this part of the overall construction project.

The bridge is expected to be completed within a few days.

After that, County Judge-Executive Yvonne S. Jones said, will come construction of the swimming pool and bathhouse. She said the fiscal court is hopeful that work on the golf course can be added to that construction phase. The county has $235,000 on hand for the work, and will apply to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation for an additional $125,000.

Phase I—construction of walkways, tennis courts and other recreation areas—has literally been a headache for the court, officials say, with the contractor, Big Wheel, Inc., far behind schedule and more than once on the verge of losing the contract.

Judge Stumbo said she has received from Kemper Insurance Co., parent company of the contractor's surety, American Manufacturers' Mutual, assurance that it is ready to reimburse the county liquidated damages when judgments are final. Kemper learned only recently that Big Wheel and the fiscal court have been named defendants in 11 suits filed by suppliers and subcontractors of Big Wheel.

The fiscal court has notified Milton R. Fish, president of the contracting firm, to produce invoices for materials and labor, with all other records pertaining to its work at the park, at the next court meeting, Sept. 26.

Defense Balks At Baril Tests

The Commonwealth has indicated a desire to have Tony Greg Baril, accused knife-slayer of Lester Earl Porter at the TCT Truck Stop near here recently, undergo psychiatric testing at a Louisville hospital, but Public Defender Gary Johnson has declined, at least temporarily, to agree to the action. The tests would be to determine the defendant's competency prior to trial.

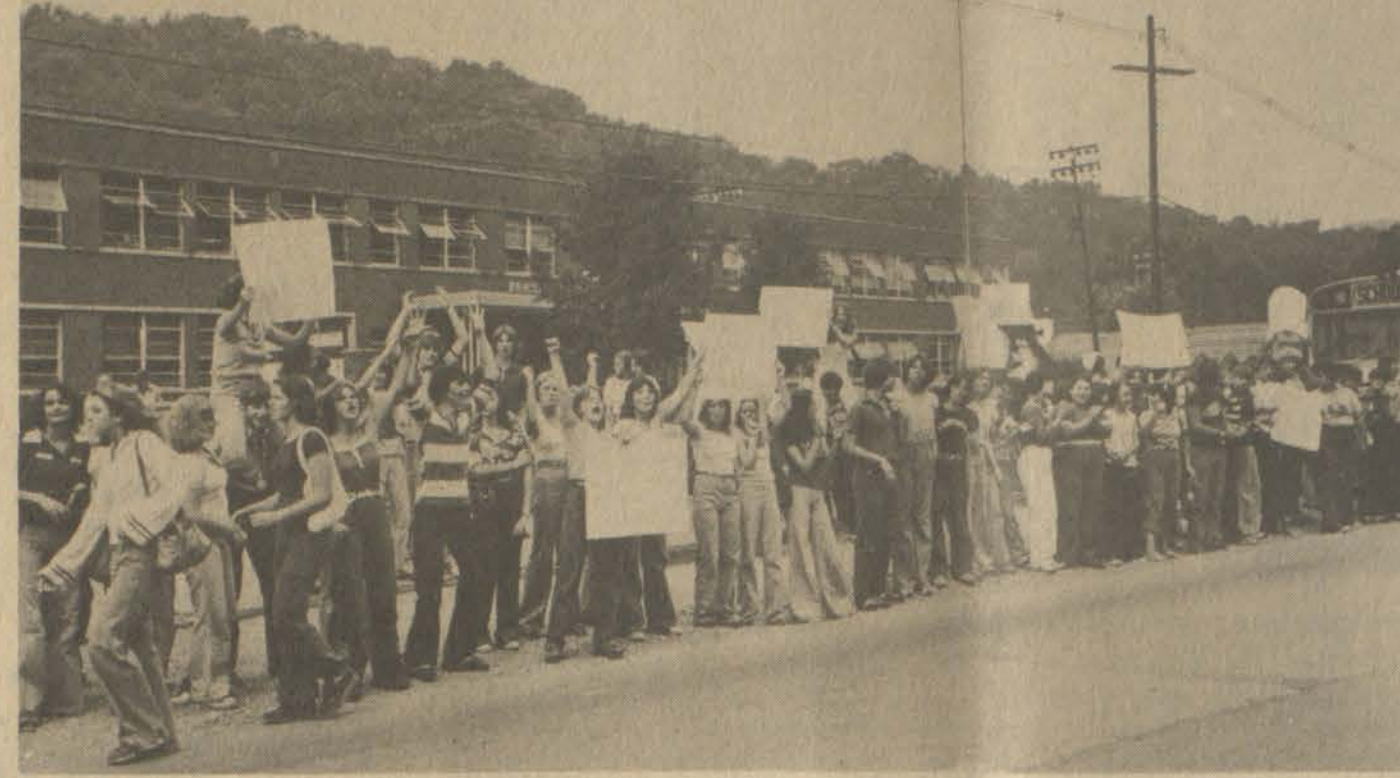

The 18-year-old Baril remains in jail here in default of $50,000 bond. Because of a packed court docket, his case is not expected to go to trial before next January.

Meanwhile, the public defender has filed a motion to quash the murder indictment against Baril on the grounds that the grand jury was improperly empaneled, that jurors may have been excused from service without legal cause before the grand jury was drawn from the jury list, that the panel was improperly drawn and the jury drum improperly filled.

The court delayed a ruling, pending introduction of evidence by the public defender in support of his motion.

Four criminal cases were scheduled today (Wednesday) for guilty pleas and

County Gets $20,796

For Gas Line Work

Floyd county has received initial approval for $20,796 in coal county development funds for gas line work.

Three miles of two-inch gas line is to be replaced with three-inch to provide adequate service to residences and the Golden Years Nursing Home at Lackey.

The state Department for Local Government submitted the completed application to the legislative advisory committee for Coal County Development Funds which approved the allocation.

Some Students Are Suspended From Classes

A demonstration by parents protesting conditions at Prestonburg High School was averted last Wednesday when work was begun on a new roof for the building, but a small fire in the school was followed the next day by the walkout of students.

Only a small segment of the student body—teachers said less than 100—took part in the walkout while classes for others continued.

School authorities reacted to the demonstration by suspending 20 or more students.

Although the physical condition of the high school has been the topic of discussion by a group of parents here for some time, apparently the fire which broke out in litter piled near a hallway door Wednesday morning and the fact that that door and three others in the connecting gymnasium were chained and locked touched off the walkout. Another report said some students were planning the demonstration, the day before the fire occurred.

Reacting sharply to the protest, Supt. E. P. Grigsby, Jr., said in a prepared statement:

"It appears to me that there are a few radical elements who feel that protests, walkouts and sensationalism can supplant authority vested in Boards of Education and administration. This is a very serious and erroneous supposition on behalf of a few citizens and pupils. We have no intention of being replaced by any militant or subordinate groups of people, citizens or pupils...I am directing each principal and every teacher to impose maximum penalties to any and all violators who try to stop our educational process in this school system."

Mr. Grigsby's complete statement appears elsewhere in this edition of The Times.

Prestonsburg Fire Chief Tom Blackburn said he cut the chains and locks from the doors, last Wednesday when the fire department was called to the school and that he told school authorities he proposes to visit the school each morning to see that the doors are not locked during school hours. He conferred later Thursday with the superintendent, school principal and maintenance supervisors. The fire chief also said one entrance to the area at the end of the building next to the football field, where the fire broke out, was chained and that the other was blocked by cars. Hand extinguishers were used in fighting the blaze.

His statement that he had warned against locking the doors while students were inside the building was confirmed by Supt. Grigsby, who said he instructed the school principal a year ago that the doors were not to be locked while students were in the building.

Grigsby said "panic hardware" was installed for the doors but students tore it up. The chaining and locking of doors was acceptable at night as a security measure, it was explained, but janitors were instructed to have the doors unbarred for the morning opening of school.

Fatal Shot Said Self-Inflicted

Coroner James J. Carter said Monday that the death last Saturday morning of Beverly Jewell Burke, 28-year-old Bypro housewife, was the result of a self-inflicted shot from a .22-caliber pistol.

Mrs. Burke had been despondent, and a note dated Sept. 7 was said to have been indicative of her condition. A .22-caliber bullet in the temple resulted in almost instant death at the Burke home.

The tragedy was investigated by Governor Carter, State Detective Kenneth DeBoard, State Trooper Danny Stumbo, Sheriff Doug Lewis and Harold Johnson, Wheelwright town marshal.

Mrs. Burke was a daughter of Woodrow and Margaret Fleming Childers, of Shelby Gap, Pike county. Other survivors are her husband, Gordon Burke, of Bypro; two sons and one daughter, Brent and Leslie Ray Burke, and a daughter, Carolyn Ann Rosenberger, all of Bypro; and five sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Joyce Wallace, Pound, Va., Mrs. Estelle Estep and Miss Donna Childers, both of Shelbiana, and Mrs. Barbara Hunt, of Virginia.

Funeral rites were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday, and burial was made in the Childers family cemetery at Shelby Gap under direction of the Merion Funeral Chapel.

Court Votes Welcome To Gasification Plant

This Town...That World

COMING UP—THE EQUINOX

As a rule, you can count on the weather kicking up its heels at the equinox, spring or fall—if you can figure the date. Time was (I think) when you could depend upon the equinox turning up either the 21st or the 22nd of March or September, but a look at the calendar shakes us with the information that this year it comes on Saturday, Sept. 23.

So for the week-end we confidently predict rain, storm or other unsettled weather.

We go back to "slow time" soon, but I wait for Clifford Wright to make the announcement—for reasons which I have hitherto explained.

MORE WORK FOR THE EPA

Now comes the announcement from Washington that measurable amounts of the suspected cancer-causing chemical PCB were found in the milk of nearly a third of all nursing mothers tested in a 1975 nationwide study.

For the protection of defeated candidates for office we must get the Environmental Protection Agency to check on that mare's milk so freely offered and dispensed on election nights by Gorman Collins. And, while we're at it, might as well have a check run on possible air pollution on Salt River.

ADVICE

Mont Gibson writes from Dana to advise me, after reading that I might undertake some beachcombing down south next winter, that if I do that I should read the fine print on my accident policy and see if it covers injuries sustained in tripping over seashells or Billy Brew cans.

HO-HUM...

If our story last week about the threat which milfoil poses to Dewey Lake created any excitement, those who were disturbed must have without delay hit the tranquilizer bottle. But we didn't expect anybody to rush in, wild-eyed, with that air of take-to-the-hills-younguns-the-dam-has-broke. We've all sat supinely by so long while the lake has silted in and otherwise gone to pot that the only thing that could excite us now would be some good news about it—which we aren't going to get.

The Floyd fiscal court last week adopted by unanimous vote a resolution welcoming to this county or this section of Kentucky the coal gasification plant which Scott county apparently does not want.

The resolution, adopted in support of the move initiated in a legislative interim sub-committee by Rep. James "Jitter" Allen, noted that "by unanimous vote the Floyd county fiscal court extends its support of the proposition that this coal gasification plant be relocated in Floyd county or the Eastern Kentucky area."

At the same time the court, on motion of Magistrate Kenneth Roberts, adopted a resolution objecting to a coal ramp at Hueysville and recommending that the Department for Natural Resources conduct a public hearing.

Another motion, introduced by Magistrate Eddie Caudill, was adopted, calling on all officers of the law and the dog warden, Sherman Cook, to help the county by assisting in catching garbage violators.

Magistrate Ray Wilcox' motion to send two "uninvolved" citizens and the county road foreman to the Corn Fork road and to investigate its closing.

Any action relating to South Central Bell's requests for easements at Auxier are tabled as a result of the court's adoption of a motion by Magistrate Wilcox.

Another motion adopted, that of Magistrate Roberts, directed that a letter be written to Paul Gearheart, head of the county's largest TV system, asking that he appear at the Sept. 26 court meeting for a discussion of rates. The letter, the court ordered, was also to ask Gearheart to refrain from any cutoffs prior to the meeting.

The sale of a cable television system by John Gordon Goble to Phillip Goble was approved. Another item of business was the voting of a $100 donation by the court to "Preacher Milford Adams for medical expenses."

Bullet Victim's Wife Released On $30,000 Bail

Eighteen-year-old Kathy Johnson Phillips was released here Monday afternoon under $30,000 bond after she had surrendered in answer to a warrant charging her with the fatal wounding last Friday at her Wheelwright home of her husband, Carroll Eugene Phillips, 21.

The bond is to assure her appearance in district court at a hearing to be set after results of laboratory tests are learned. Mrs. Phillips entered a plea of not guilty.

Phillips, a miner, was shot one time over the right eye with a bullet from a .22-caliber pistol, around 5 p.m. Friday and died at about 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the UK Medical Center, Lexington.

His wife, who was admitted to the McDowell Regional Hospital, suffering from shock or a nervous condition, an hour after the shooting, came here after her release from the hospital Monday morning.

Although defendants in such cases are normally refused bond until the burial of the victim, she was admitted to bail because of her condition, with District Judge Harold J. Stumbo directing that she not attend her husband's funeral and that she remain away from the family of the victim.

Span Construction At Garrett Talked At Hearing Tuesday

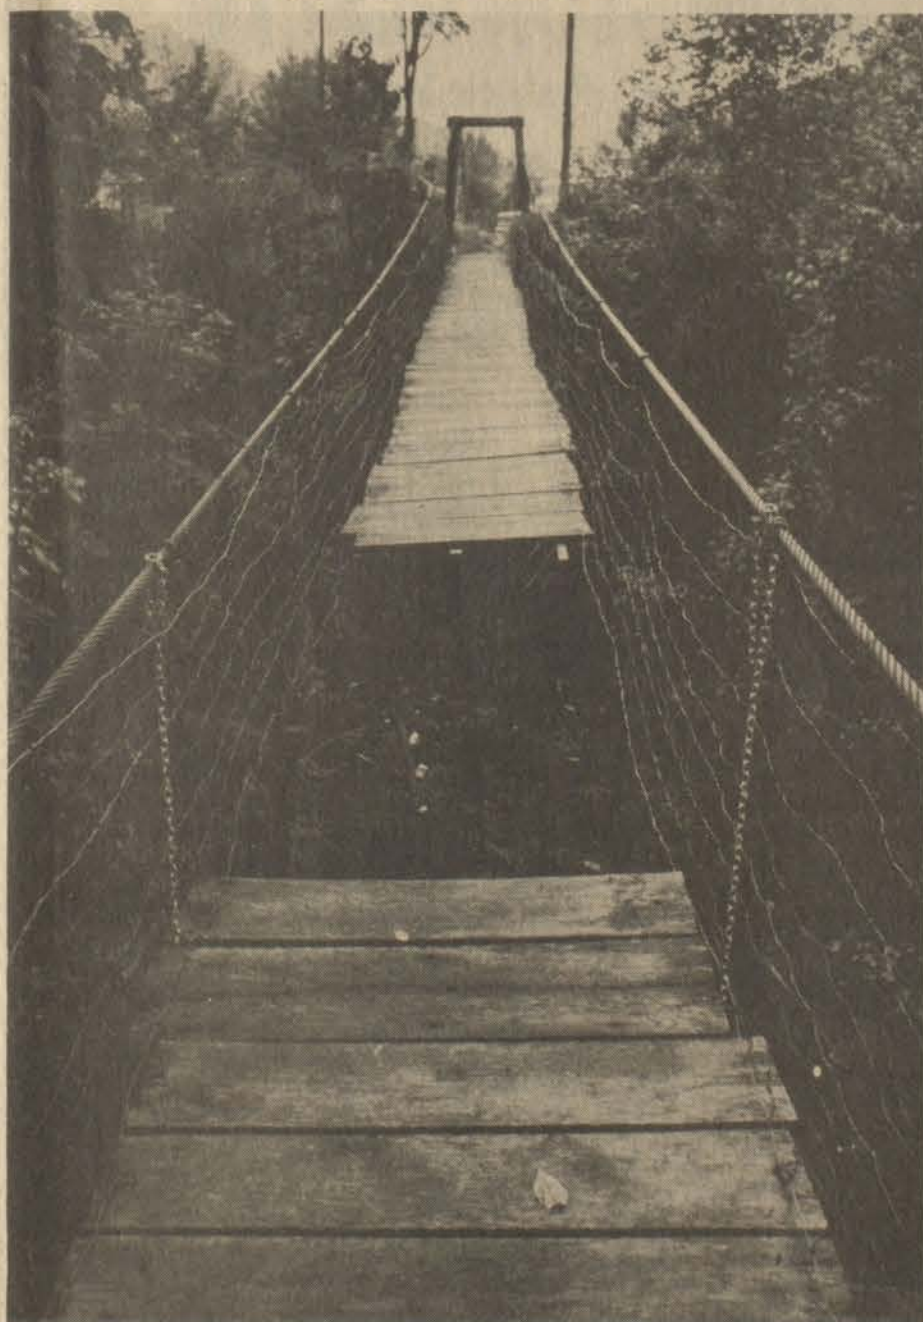

At the direction of Governor Carroll, state Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson himself attended the hearing at the Garrett school gymnasium last night (Tuesday) on possible flood dangers to the town of Garrett from construction of a four-lane bridge there as a part of new KY 80.

A complete review of the situation was scheduled for the meeting.

Residents of Garrett fear that the fill at the west end of the new span, in the vicinity of the Garrett Elementary School and the junction of Rock Fork with Beaver Creek, will divert water into the main section of the town and increase flood danger.

Engineers for the state, however, maintain that the construction, as planned and let to contract, will not endanger Garrett properties.

One Injured in Bridge Collapse

This bridge spanning Pike-Floyd Hollow which divides Betsy Layne, near the elementary school, has served the community many years. The foot traffic has been heavy, and on occasion motorcycles cross it. But local efforts to maintain it have at last failed. The vertical rods connecting the heavy cables forming the superstructure with the support of the bridge bed have rusted and some have snapped. At places chains were used as substitutes for rods. Last Wednesday evening, a sizeable section of the span broke, and with it two youngsters dropped approximately 25 feet. Fourteen-year-old Kathy Church, fell into the top of a tree beneath the bridge, and remained there till an ambulance arrived. She was treated at the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville, for injuries which included a broken wrist and elbow and bruised ribs. A youth who also fell was saved from injury by the football gear he was wearing. Another boy, Lester Newsome, clung to the heavy upper cable.

Water Growth Here Draws EDA Interest

Although prospects for significant Economic Development Administration (EDA) funding for the Big Sandy area as a whole appear to be slight for the coming fiscal year, a bright spot, especially for residents of Prestonsburg and surrounding areas, may exist, according to EDA Representative Charlie Mason.

Mason, featured speaker at Monday night's meeting of the Big Sandy Area Development District's executive board, told the group, "the only project the regional (EDA) office is seriously considering is the Prestonsburg water treatment plant."

Mason referred to the proposed expansion of the Prestonsburg water system to a service capacity of three million gallons daily from the current capacity of 1.3 million as well as the increase of filtration capacity to include federal construction of a 500,000 gallon storage reservoir of three miles of transmission lines with line stations and installation of other specialized equipment.

The project, which asks $912,000 in EDA funds plus $688,000 in local and Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) money, received a considerable boost little more than a month ago when Charles Oxley, regional director for EDA in Atlanta, came to the area at the invitation of Congressman Carl D. Perkins for a first-hand look at local water needs.

"Up until that time," commented Joe McCauley, BSADD executive director, "EDA officials didn't fully understand the need for such a project." A special meeting held August 21 brought Oxley, Congressman Perkins, Mason, ADD representatives, state and local officials and representatives of area industry together to discuss the importance of the project and McCauley said the meet was especially valuable in impressing on the EDA official the importance of adequate water service to future industrial expansion.

"At that time," said McCauley, "Mr. Oxley said, according to the action of Congress on EDA appropriations, EDA would be interested in accepting a pre-application for the project."

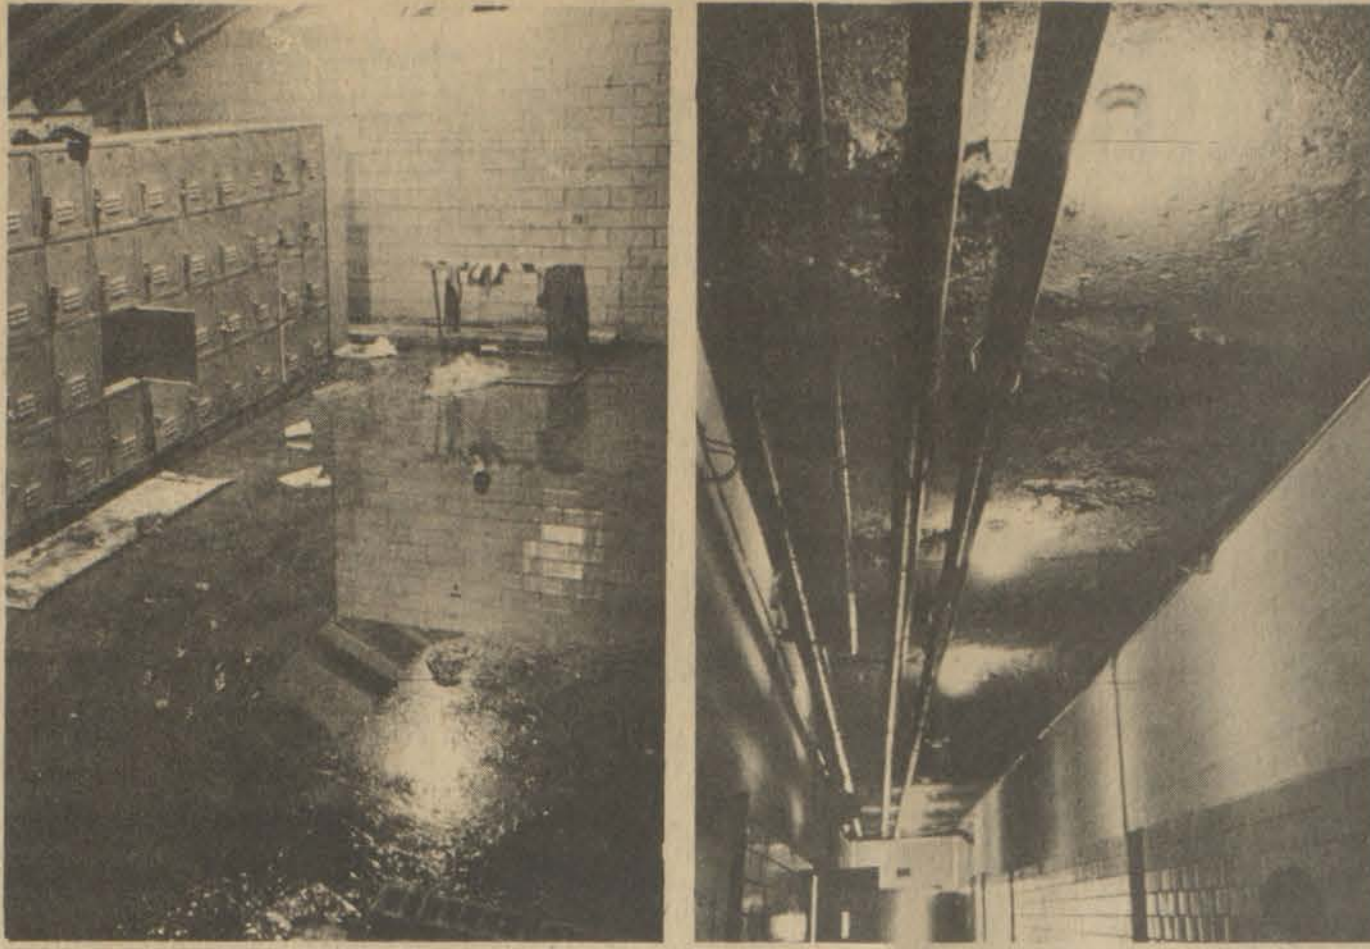

"This means, in effect," continued McCauley, "that if EDA gets the ap-

Group Views Head Start Immunization Program

The Big Sandy Area CAP, Inc. - Head Start Health Services Advisory Committee met at the Johnson county courthouse, September 7, to consider a special immunization project through Head Start during the 1978-'79 program year. The recommendation of the group was that two persons be employed, part-time, to assist both Head Start and local health departments in searching records to validate all Head Start enrollees' immunizations and identify children in Head Start families who need immunizations.

Dr. Mary Fox presided at the meeting. Others attending were Wade Underwood, Robert Preston, Bonnie Hayes, James Grayson, Frona Tackett, Joe Cantrill, Clifford Austin, Janet Schnacke, Helen Horrall, Theresa Preston R.N., Margaret McReynolds R.N., Evelyn Grayson, Virginia Pack, Madelaine Crum, Esther Titlow, Donna VanHoose and Mike Prater.

PROBLEM AREAS pointed out by students at Prestonsburg high school are the boys' locker room, in which water is standing, and the school ceilings, from which asbestos hangs. Other problems facing the school are discussed elsewhere in this week's paper.

GO TO GATLINBURG

Mrs. Carl Horn and Mrs. Leva Clark joined employees of the Hardware Charlie Gas Company, of Paintsville, and their families during the past week-end for a visit to Gatlinburg, Tennessee.

With the Forecast Gloomy . . .

Winter Road Plans Begun

The forecasts—for what they are worth—say the coming winter will be worse than last year's weeks of heavy snows and deep freezes, and the state and county are joining in plans to meet the situation as best they can.

County Judge-Executive Yvonne S. Stumbo said Monday that state-county planning has been under way for the last six weeks. The county has listed with the Department of Transportation "snow-and-ice roads" for special attention, and the completion of the listing has been set for Sept. 29.

The state, Judge Stumbo said, is suggesting that the county hold in reserve funds, as much as possible, to meet emergency road conditions during the winter.

She added that Governor Carroll's allocation of $24,000 to Floyd county was very helpful last winter. This fund helped the county employ private industry to assist county road crews in keeping roads open. This work at times was on a seven-days-a-week basis, according to Judge Stumbo.

What can the county do if the coming winter is as severe as predicted? "About all we can do is stockpile sawdust and red dog in strategic areas and try to get it on the roads as quickly as possible," Judge Stumbo said.

The work of repairing last winter's damage to roads remains a problem for both state and county.

KMA Meeting Slated At Lexington Center

Varied topics on medical subjects will be offered to Kentucky physicians at the Kentucky Medical Association's annual meeting scheduled September 25-28 at the Lexington Convention Center.

The three-day scientific program, beginning on Tuesday morning, September 26, will accentuate the program themes, "Pulmonary Disease" and "Endocrine Problems."

The House of Delegates of KMA will meet September 25 and 27. Other highlights include meetings of 20 specialty groups and the interim meeting of the KMA Auxiliary.

Camp Shawnee Lodge To Get a New Roof

The E. O. Robinson Mountain Fund, of Ary, Perry county, has announced a gift of $1,800 to the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, to replace the roof on Blackwolf Lodge, the dining and recreation hall at Camp Shawnee.

The work of replacement will be under the supervision of Bill Scott, Pikeville contractor who is also assistant scoutmaster of Troop 504 at Meta. Mr. Scott and his crew will be assisted by members of the Order of the Arrow from throughout the Council. The reroofing will be completed before winter. The present roof was installed 26 years ago.

IN APPRECIATION

We would like to thank all the family and friends for their sincere sympathy. We want to thank the ministers and the singers and everyone who participated in the services. Thanks to those who showed their appreciation of our father by sending flowers.

We would also like to thank the Mountain Manor Nursing Home for their kindness and care of our father. That was his home till he passed on to a better one. Thanks to Carter Funeral Home for their fine service. Thanks to everyone.

Candidates To Address Political Action Group

The 16th Kentucky Educational Medical Political Action Committee (KEMPAC) seminar and banquet will be held Monday evening, September 25, in the ballroom of the Hyatt Regency in Lexington. The reception will begin at 6 p.m. with the banquet and program to follow.

Senator Walter D. Huddleston (D) and Louie Guenther, Jr. (R), Kentucky's U.S. senatorial candidates, will be the featured speakers. Rex Kenyon, M.D., chairman of the American Medical Political Action Committee, will also address the group.

Floyd Man Pays Fine On Power Theft Count

Orris Collins, of Mud Creek, was fined $50 and costs last Wednesday upon his conviction in district court of stealing electric power service from the Kentucky Power Company.

Power theft, a company spokesman said recently, is not an unusual violation in Eastern Kentucky but is one which seldom reaches the courts. Prosecution of offenders may be undertaken more frequently in the future.

ALLEN COMMUNITY NEWS

Allen Baptist WMU women met last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Jo Waugh. The study program was entitled, "State Missions and Our State Missionaries," given by Mrs. Rosemary Frasure, Mrs. Mary Ann Hall and Mrs. Pearl Watts. Mrs. Irene Campbell reported on all the activities of the past year. A discussion on projects for the coming year was held by the members. The GA's gave reports on the mission trip to Marrowbone Mission, and on the trip to GA camp at Cedarmore Camp at Bagdad, Ky., this summer. Members and guests sang the theme song, "God's Wonderful People," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Rosemary Frasure. Mrs. Waugh served refreshments to the following WMU Act-Teens, and GA members: Irene Campbell, Pearl Watts, Maxine Rice, Norma Davis, Alta Malone, Ocie May, Ruby Imes, Charlotte Stumbo, Donna Stone, Rosemary Frasure, Opal Martin, Eleanor Martin, Vickie Body, Irene Stephens, Gertrude Bevins, Frances DeRossett, Margaret Tackett and Julie Waugh.

Mrs. Mike Damron and son, Chris, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Darryl Jones, were in Ashland last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Porter had as guests several days last week her brothers, J. C. Beverly and Forrest Beverly, both of Fairborn, Ohio. Also visiting them was Clyde Beverly, of Steele's Creek.

Donna Sue Clark was here last week-end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Clark.

Dr. J. S. Williams, who had to reenter Our Lady of the Way Hospital at Martin, may be released Monday to return to his home. Mrs. Williams has been there with him, and she was also in Nicholasville one day last week on business.

Mrs. Irene Stephens, Mark Stephens and Kenny Bentley were in Huntington, Wednesday and Thursday, on business.

Mrs. Hermie Bentley, of Chelsea, Mich., who has been here visiting her sister, Mrs. Audrey Belcher, is now a patient at Highland Regional Medical Center, Prestonsburg.

The Baptist GA's kick-off held Wednesday evening at the Allen Baptist Church with refreshments served by Mrs. Irene Stephens, Mrs. Pat Branson, Mrs. Rosemary Frasure, Mrs. Ruby Imes and Mrs. Donna Stone, was enjoyed by Vickie May, Debbie Kate, Daneque Branson, Emily DeRossett, Traci Stumbo, Maletta Campbell, Delilah Rice, Julie Waugh and Stephanie Tackett.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen R. Brackett and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brackett visited Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Preston at Ulysses, Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Brackett were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Preston, of Paintsville.

The Rev. and Mrs. Larry O'Brian and children, of Paintsville, were visitors at the Allen Baptist Church services Sunday and were dinner guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Waugh.

Mrs. Charlotte Stumbo and daughter, Angie, and Miss Rita Stephens were at the Lexington Clinic last Wednesday.

Mrs. Claybourne Stephens, of Prestonsburg, is a patient at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington, where she is quite ill. Her daughter, Linda, and Mr. Stephens are there with her.

A youth-led revival will be held at the Allen Baptist Church, Sept. 22-24, starting at 7 each evening. Eight young men and women from Cumberland College will conduct special preaching and singing services each night. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Blackburn said that if a match had been tossed beneath the gymnasium stage where a heavy accumulation of litter had been left for some time, a fire of serious proportions would have resulted. The accumulation was cleared out after the blaze.

The group of parents that has been protesting conditions at the school disclaims all responsibility for the student walkout. Their complaints have centered on asbestos insulation left exposed in the music room and hallway, uncovered wiring outlets, restrooms and shower stalls, as well as the leaky roof which is now being replaced.

Tests of the asbestos have showed no air contamination, but Fire Chief Blackburn said the tests were made when the upstairs was unoccupied and the asbestos was not being jarred. (Asbestos insulation fibres have been regarded as a possible cause of lung cancer.)

Supt. Grigsby said the exposed wiring was ordered covered last week and that the repairing of water fountains is awaiting the arrival of parts. Ceiling repair and elimination of the insulation problem are next on the agenda, he said.

He blamed flood costs and lack of funds, together with the spreading thin of maintenance workers who have 25 schools to maintain, for the failure to get repairs done here. A reroofing program in the county schools has been under way for some time. "We have known it (the Prestonsburg roof problem) existed, but can't get around to them all at the same time, and roofs of some other schools are in worse condition," he said.

The superintendent added that the board has been forced to let repair projects to contract and that it has been difficult to maintain a full staff of custodians at the school here, as well as elsewhere, in the face of rising pay for labor. Last week the school here had a full staff for custodial work for the first time this school year, he said.

People for Better Schools (PBS), the citizens' group recently formed, has scheduled a meeting tomorrow (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at the high school. In addition to a discussion of school conditions, the group will nominate and elect officers, and committees will be appointed. Mrs. Ruby Catherine Clifton, representing the organization, asked that all persons concerned about the situation attend the meeting.

propriation, the ultimate funding of the water system expansion would be almost assured."

McCauley credited Congressman Perkins with much of the success the proposed project has had thus far saying, "He has pulled every string in the book."

Mason, in his address to the ADD group Monday, spoke of the keen competition for EDA funds in all sections of the country and pointed out that a large amount of the funds are allocated to urban and inner-city projects with an emphasis away from rural development. He also explained that the reason the Big Sandy area received so much in the way of EDA funds in the '60's ($3.7 million in 1967 as compared with $600,000 in '78) was due to the fact that the economy of Eastern Kentucky generally was at such a low ebb. "You were ready for it," Mason said. He pointed out that in the 12 years of EDA the Big Sandy area had received nearly one-fifth of all EDA public works funds allocated to Kentucky.

Mason told the group that EDA is "really sold" on the development district concept. He said ADD's serve as the intermediary between an area's people and federal agencies and said ADD's "promote what people are interested in."

agreed verdicts. The defendants and pen terms they are expected to receive are:

Jimmy Ritchie, on two charges of second degree manslaughter resulting from auto wreck deaths, eight and seven years, his terms to run consecutively; Rocky Lane Garner, knowingly receiving stolen property, two years; Charles Edward Kidd, second degree burglary and theft, one year on each count, terms to run consecutively; Earles Bolen, knowingly receiving stolen property, two years.

Ritchie's consecutive terms mean that he has 15 years to serve. Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen said the maximum penalty for second degree manslaughter is 10 years.

James Carl Quick, who was arrested at the same time State Trooper Don Weedman and other troopers captured Garner, is in the Fayette county jail at Lexington, held under maximum security. He also is expected to plead guilty to charges of wanton endangerment and receiving stolen property.

Unlikely LETTERS By Williams

Letters to the Editor

From Suspended Students

In reference to our very unfair suspension from Prestonsburg High School, due to our what we feel was a legal walk-out, we would like to stress a few points.

We have to admit that some of the destruction of our school is due to some irresponsible students. For instance, the shape of the bathrooms. The privacy in the bathrooms is about as much as you have in the classroom. There should have been something done about this when it first happened. So we guess it wasn't just the students' fault. For instance, the leaking roof. Believe me, its no fun wading in water to get to your class. When it rains outside it also rains inside the high school. The biggest part of the time, there is water standing in the locker rooms. The leaks are also causing portions of the ceiling to fall. Most of the time the water fountains do not work. There are many windows in our school which have been broken that have not been repaired. The school is also infested with rodents.

There was a fire at the school Wednesday, Sept. 13. The fire was in a trash can inside the school by the doors of one of the smoking areas. The doors were locked. So were the doors on the other end of the hall. When the fire department arrived the gates in which they should have gone through were also locked. They had to go completely around the building in order to get to the fire.

There is something that many students and parents would like to know. Where does all the taxpayers' money go? We have heard for several years now that our school building was going to be repaired. So far, there hasn't been much of a change. Why? We really don't understand this whole mess. What the students want is a decent school to go to. It looks like these repairs could have been made over the summer vacation.

What the students need is more support from the parents. Why don't you as a taxpayer come and see what your hard earned tax money is supposed to but has not been used for.

Ask Volunteer Help

Giving is an American tradition—not the outpouring of material things, but the giving of oneself. Nowhere is the spirit of giving better exemplified than the volunteer service adults donate to youth organizations, such as Girl Scouts.

There is hardly anyone who isn't aware of the value of Girl Scouting for young people. For the past 66 years, it has served as a growing-up experience of fun and learning for generations of girls. It would be a shame if today's and tomorrow's girls were denied the same world of opportunities because of lack of adult leaders.

Although volunteerism is still very much alive in our communities, the truth is that too many who can contribute their time, don't. People are not always sure just where or how they can be useful. By becoming a volunteer leader or assistant or other volunteer jobs in Girl Scouting, you can be sure that your abilities will be used and appreciated. And, what is more, you will receive the kind of training that will develop your skills in human relations and other areas.

So again, we strongly urge young adults, male and female; singles; married couples; senior citizens; and former Girl Scouts to join those who already know the joy of sharing. Contact me at 874-2844, and see how you can help in Girl Scouting.

$505,746 Marked For Rural Roads This Fiscal Year

The state Department of Transportation has announced a $505,746 allocation to Floyd county for rural secondary road maintenance and improvements in fiscal year 1978-'79.

The funds are to provide maintenance along 109.2 miles of rural secondary roads, Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson said.

Improvement projects include: Surfacing on 2.2 miles of KY 306, .8 mile of Jefferson road and .2 mile of Rabun road; grading, drainage and stone for one-half mile of the Wills Branch road, 1.1 miles of the Ned Fork road, one-half mile of the Spradlin Branch road and one mile of the Tackett Fork road, and replacement stone on 4.6 miles of KY 680, the McDowell-Mud Creek road.

Three projects were authorized for KY 194, the Emma-Endicott-Thomas road; replacement stone on 4.9 miles, guard rail on three miles and developing plans for a bridge over Johns Creek.

The rural secondary road program was established in 1948 to help maintain and improve the farm-to-market and other essential rural roads. It is financed with two cents of the nine-cent tax collected on each gallon of motor fuel sold in Kentucky.

RETURN FROM TENNESSEE

Mr. and Mrs. Leffie Harmon and sons, Leffie, Jr., and Timothy, returned home Sunday from a visit with Mrs. Harmon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lawing, of Greenville, Tennessee.

On the High School

Prestonsburg High School, as most every one knows, is in a deplorable condition. Those that don't really know just how bad it is should visit it if they have any interest in it at all.

As bad as I need an education, I wouldn't go to it. Everything is in disarray, the ceilings are falling in, there's holes in the walls where light sockets once were, the bathrooms stink and are messy. One I went into, there was no light and I couldn't find one to turn on. It looked like a dungeon and stank like an outhouse. It is absolutely terrible.

This school should be put in first class condition at once, or as soon as possible. The students, the teachers, the principal and all others should be made accountable and responsible to keep it in good condition. The taxpayers have to work hard and give up their hard-earned money to furnish a school. If we are going to furnish a good one, let's put on the pressure to maintain a good one, by cooperation from all concerned. Let's find out where goes the dough, and use it as it is supposed to be used.

CHARLES M. MCCOY Prestonsburg

Cites Decision Made On City Marshal Powers

After being well aware of the Floyd county grand jury report while acting under the advice of the County and Commonwealth Attorney, at this time we offer no criticism to either the grand jury or the attorneys. We think they did a splendid job.

The report stated that Deputy Marshal Joe Wheeler Lewis be restricted to the Wheelwright city only. If Joe Wheeler Lewis is within the law as being a marshal for the city of Wheelwright, then he should have the same authority as any other marshal of the same class city.

Here is a decision that was handed down by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, Department of Justice, Bureau of Training, Box 608, E.K.U., Richmond, Kentucky:

1. City of the first class—no statutory requirements are set out; 2. city of the second and third class—must be a qualified voter in the county containing city of employment, able to read and write and understand English language, a person of sobriety and integrity, and is and has been an orderly law abiding citizen. In a second class city or urban county must not be over 50 years of age.

Fourth and fifth class city—Must be a resident of the county containing city of employment; at least 21 years of age; able to read and write English language intelligently; sober, moral, and sagacious; and not convicted of a felony. The age requirement is different if the city police operate under a civil service system.

City of the sixth class—No statutory requirements are set out and police of first, fourth, fifth and sixth class cities have countywide jurisdiction to arrest for offenses of the state as well as the city.

Police in a second class city only has jurisdiction within the city limits to arrest for offenses against the state.

The above decision was handed down on July 10, 1978.

At this time I will bring to your attention an opinion of the Commonwealth of Kentucky and the office of the Attorney General by Assistant Attorney General to Mr. Stephen R. Brackett, who is a city marshal of the city of Allen, Kentucky, February 3, 1978.

I will direct your attention to O.A.G. 74-166 which concerns the arrest power of a Marshal. They have the power to make arrests outside the city and anywhere in the county in a number of cases, among them being Helm v. Commonwealth 26 K.L.R. 165, S.W.270 (1907). This would mean, of course, that such officers would have the authority to enforce the laws of the Commonwealth as well as the local laws of the city, and the marshal is entitled to his fees for service which would, of course, be the same as the marshal. Statute No. KRS 95.800 (3)

Since there are no statutory requirements set out that mention the sheriff, then why should not he have the same power as any other marshal?

DONALD R. DANIELS Wheelwright, Ky.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving memory of Ronnie Dean Dotson who passed away six years ago, September 24, 1972.

In the cemetery softly sleeping where the flowers so gently wave, lies the one we loved so dearly but whom we could not save.

This day brings sad memories of our loved one gone to rest, and those who think of him each day are the ones who loved him best. No one knows the silent heartache. Only those who have lost can tell of the grief we bear in silence for the one we loved so well.

What would we give to see his face, his loving hand to touch, to hear his voice and to see his smile that meant so much to us.

Our hearts still ache with sadness, secret tears will always flow, what it meant to lose you, no one will ever know.

Memories are all we have left now. Oh, we dearly loved you so, And these memories we will treasure, until we meet you on the shore.

Loved and sadly missed by his parents;

MR. AND MRS. GREELEY DOTSON and FAMILY

At White House Reception

Dr. and Mrs. Gan Maddiwar, of Martin, were among the 150 Asian American guests of President and Mrs. Carter at a White House reception held August 1. Members of the Asian American Democratic Caucus attended meetings highlighting increasing significance the Asian community is assuming in the U.S. Dr. Maddiwar was the only member to attend from Kentucky.

This was the first time in American history for a coalition of Asian Americans to be invited to the White House. President Carter asked for help and advice in formulating foreign policy, especially for the Western Pacific and Eastern countries.

While in Washington, Dr. Maddiwar also contacted Congressman Carl D. Perkins' office and visited with an aide of the Congressman.

Dr. Maddiwar is the surgeon at Our Lady of the Way Hospital. His wife, Surekha, is attending Prestonsburg Community College. Dr. and Mrs. Maddiwar have three children, Leenata, Neeraj and Paraag.

RC&D Re-Elects Preece

Harrison Preece, of Inez, was re-elected chairman of the Big Sandy Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Area Council for next year, starting October 1, at the election held at the annual meeting of the Council at the Highland House Restaurant in Paintsville last Thursday night. Other Council officers elected or re-elected were H. D. Fitzpatrick, of Prestonsburg, vice-chairman; Ollie J. Arnett, of Salyersville, secretary, and Carl Maynard, of Pikeville, treasurer.

Among the highlights of the annual meeting were reports of RC&D construction projects in Pikeville and Martin county. Robert Hampton reported that the recreation area (community park) near Pikeville High School is under construction and is expected to be completed by early December. Facilities being installed include a picnic shelter, rest rooms, cooking grills, walking trails and a canoe mooring pier. Harrison Preece reported that the seeding and mulching of the road banks around Inez Lake is almost complete.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Danny Amburgey, wish to express our heartfelt gratitude to all who showed kindness in any way during the passing of our beloved son and brother. We are grateful to everyone who sent flowers, brought food, sent cards, and offered words of comfort. We especially wish to thank the ministers of the Joppa Regular Baptist Church for their consoling words, the Merion Funeral Chapel for its kind service, and the 1976 graduating class of Wheelwright High School for their expression of sympathy. We wish to extend a special thanks to Danny's friends and classmates at Eastern Kentucky Rehabilitation Center for their show of love and care. We are grateful for all who love him, miss him, and mourn him as we do.

IN APPRECIATION

We wish to thank Rev. Alex Patton and Rev. John Frank Ratliff and the friends and loved ones who helped in our time of sorrow.

Sound Words From A Wise Lady

Muriel Humphrey, making the transition from wife of a great public servant to her new status as junior Senator from Minnesota, seems to be showing the same steady good sense that we've come to expect from her during the last thirty years.

Many people like the way she has settled quietly into her new position of responsibility. Furthermore, many like the way she avoids the temptation to speak out on every issue before the Senate—so that when she does, we owe it to ourselves to listen.

Senator Humphrey recently announced, for instance, that she is fully committed to passage of the Labor Law Reform Bill, which is scheduled to come before the Senate some time this year.

A number of lobbying organizations have been attacking that bill. They claim it would upset the balance between labor and management in this country. Some of the opponents of the bill get very exercised about that bill, and suggest that it would somehow lead to a 'labor dictatorship' over all the rest of us.

Nonsense, says the Senator from Minnesota. She offers a welcome, clear-headed contrast to all that oratory. She says frankly that "during the brief period that I have served as a Senator, I have been concerned over the exaggeration and distortion regarding this bill that has been

Muriel Humphrey voiced by some persons and organizations."

Muriel Humphrey suggests that it would be well for a lot of people to actually see what is in the bill (S. 2467). When they do, she predicts, "I certainly hope this important legislation will receive the overwhelming support of Congress and the nation." So do we.

Many agree with Senator Muriel Humphrey and hope the Senator will act quickly and wisely to pass the Labor Law Reform Bill. These people seem to be in good company, along with Secretary of Labor Marshall and seven of his predecessors; a number of experts in labor-management relations; and a very large group of civic, women's and minority organizations. They can't all be wrong!

KENTUCKY HISTORY SPEAKS TO YOUTH

THE KENTUCKY HISTORICAL SOCIETY'S NEW HISTORYMOBILE highlights the evolution of the state's leading industry— coal. Divided into three stages, the exhibit depicts the small father-son operations which existed from 1840 to 1880; the company owned operation, from 1880 to 1940; and the growth of large corporations from 1940 to the present.

Included in the exhibit are around 250 photographs, 20 artifacts, models of conventional mining and modern strip mining operations and a diorama of an early coal barge. Also included is a slide show with the comments and voices of old timers and modern miners, along with ballads that were written as coal was industrialized.

Historians travel with the mobile museum to explain the exhibit and demonstrate the video equipment. Chapters of the Kentucky Junior Historical Society use the video equipment and mobile unit for workshops and various kinds of history projects.

The society's other Historymobile, featuring the pioneer exhibit, and the new one are available to schools, parks, nursing homes, prisons, county fairs, community festivals, and any group which can provide a 220-volt electrical outlet and parking area. To schedule either Historymobile, contact Dan Zwyer, (502) 564-3016.

At top left, junior historians use the Historymobile video equipment to create oral history recordings. At right, Bob Geiman, historian, shows a youngster a "puncher," one of the first undercutting machines used by coal miners in the early 1900's. At left, junior historians view the work of other students at the annual convention, and watch the Historymobile slide show about Kentucky's coal industry.

CAR CARE CORNER

HERE COME THE JUGS

Changing the motor oil in your car yourself is one of the best ways to stretch both the life of your engine and the buying-power of your pocketbook.

Once strictly a job for filling station attendants and teen-age auto enthusiasts, changing your own oil is almost fashionable now.

With the advent of rising energy prices, and the resulting shift toward self-service gasoline stations where fewer and fewer motorists call on service-station personnel, there has been a pronounced shift toward do-it-yourself car maintenance.

"More and more of our customers are women," says Amalie Refining Co. General Manager William J. Abbott. "They buy the oil at supermarkets during grocery shopping trips, and we've found that a significant percentage of single women have taken to changing oil."

Fully 58 percent of oil changes today are performed by the individual in the home garage or driveway, he says. Such statistics reflect the fact that the job's no longer as difficult as it once was.

With Amalie's unique new one-gallon re-sealable Dispos-Oil-Jugs, it's not even a messy job. You no longer have to puncture individual quart cans. Neither must you find a way to dispose of the black mess you drain off. With the use of a funnel, you can pour it into this ecologically-sound plastic jug and throw the whole thing out at one time.

Even lady drivers can change their own oil with Amalie's new re-sealable, plastic one-gallon oil jug.

With the Amalie Jug you can also store unused oil until it's needed for the next change. No contaminants can reach it, and it fits snugly into the trunk of your car.

But Amalie's also hoping that its Dispos-Oil-Jug will prompt people to help in the recovery and recycling of used motor oil. "Right now," says Amalie's Abbott, "consumers are pouring away over one billion gallons of old oil a year. So we're working on a new program to encourage consumers to return their oil to then be put to good use in asphalt shingles, road surfacing and a variety of other forms."

Understanding Your Insurance

HOW TO BUY INSURANCE

By George T. Frazier, President, Independent Insurance Agents of America

Sometimes learning how to do something simply means learning the right questions to ask. This can be particularly true when buying insurance on your home and automobile.

Knowing where to get good advice is also a big help. A good person to ask is your Independent Insurance Agent, who may represent eight or more companies.

Insurance is a complex topic. You should go to a professional for insurance counseling...an Independent Insurance Agent...just as you would go to a professional for legal or medical advice.

For example, when buying homeowners insurance, if you ask about deductibles, you'll find that your Independent Insurance Agent can offer you a policy with a $500 deductible clause which can save you up to 20 percent in premium payments.

Also, be sure to ask about 80 percent coverage. The general rule is that if your house is covered for 80 percent or more of its replacement cost and one or two rooms are destroyed by fire, you will be paid in full for your loss up to the limit of your policy. If you are insured for less than 80 percent, you will have to assume part of the loss.

The independent agent works for you and lives in your community. You can look to him for service and help when you have to

BRILLIANT DEDUCTION—A homeowner's policy with a $500 deductible clause can save you up to 25 percent in premiums, make a claim. He's independent because he's not an employee of any one company, his concern is for you, his customer. By being able to choose from the best features of several insurance companies, he can offer insurance that is tailor-made for each individual homeowner's needs.

How do you find a qualified independent insurance agent if you don't already have one? You can probably locate him by a walk down Main Street in your town or check the yellow pages of your local telephone directory.

My knees shook and I stumbled over my words as I made the presentation.

How Boom Boom Willis got his name.

I scrawled on the blackboard as big as I could: "Good-bye, Mrs. Willis," taking care to dot all the i's. My best penmanship for my favorite teacher. Mrs. Willis was quitting to have a baby.

When I told my Dad we wanted to give the baby a present, he suggested a U.S. Savings Bond. Said it would be a lot better than any blanket we could buy. So we took up a collection for our Savings Bond baby.

My knees shook and I stumbled over my words as I made the presentation. I thought the Bond would make Mrs. Willis very happy, but she looked like she was going to cry any minute. She finally got control of herself, though.

Then Mrs. Willis let us all come up and listen to the baby's heartbeat through a stethoscope she'd brought. There it was: Boom... boom... boom. You never saw such a bunch of excited kids. And right then and there is how we gave poor Boom Boom Willis the nickname he is known by to this day.

Saw Boom Boom last week. All 6 feet 2 of him. Sure seems like he grew up fast. Taking off for college this fall. Paying for it with the collection of Savings Bonds we started for him when we were kids. Just think. Not only did we give him his nickname. We got him started on an education, too. It's enough to make you proud!

U.S. Savings Bonds are safe, steady and dependable. And they grow right along with you. There's no better way to get a good start on the future. Buy Bonds.

Take stock in America.

A Sunny Taste For Tables NEW FASHIONS IN FOOD

Maybe a cruise to the Greek islands isn't in the budget this year, but you can capture some of the local color and authentic tastes right in your own kitchen.

This dinner-in-a-dish has the warmth and spice so typical of dishes from the Mediterranean region, where the main meal of the day may be assembled slowly and carefully in an earthenware casserole over a charcoal fire.

Fortunately you can put it together much more quickly and easily with the help of modern conveniences such as the electric skillet and quality convenience foods such as Contadina tomato sauce.

Start by frying pork sausage and ground chuck in the electric skillet. Sauté onion and garlic in the same pan. After draining excess fat, stir in three cans of warm and flavorful tomato sauce along with oregano and other seasonings. While this is cooking, peel a medium eggplant that weighs about one pound. Cut it into half-inch slices. Arrange over the tomato mixture and cook until just tender. For a final Mediterranean touch, sprinkle shredded cheese and sliced ripe olives over the eggplant.

Set the table in a suitably sunny style. Use your favorite earthenware dishes and country linens, with a centerpiece of fresh flowers. Even a small bunch of daisies in a stoneware mug has an enormously brightening effect.

With Eggplant Mediterranean, serve a basket of crusty French bread and a mixed green salad that includes watercress, sliced fresh mushrooms and a sprinkling of raisins or slivered pine nuts for texture. Orange sherbet would be a sunny finale to this delicious meal, designed from start to finish to make you feel as if you're on vacation!

EGGPLANT MEDITERRANEAN

(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

- 3/4 pound bulk pork sausage
- 3/4 pound ground chuck
- 1 cup (1 medium) sliced onion
- 1 crushed garlic clove
- 3 cups (three 8-ounce cans) Contadina Tomato Sauce
- 3/4 teaspoon oregano leaves
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 medium (1 to 1 1/4 pounds) eggplant
- 3/4 cup (6 ounces) shredded mild Cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup (2 1/4-ounce can) drained sliced ripe olives

Fry sausage and ground chuck in 11-inch electric skillet set at 300°F. Stir in onion and garlic; sauté until onion is tender. Drain off excess fat. Stir in tomato sauce, oregano and bay leaf. Reduce heat; boil gently (about 210°F.), covered, 20 minutes. Peel eggplant; cut into 1/2-inch slices. Arrange eggplant over tomato mixture. Cover and cook additional 15 to 20 minutes or until eggplant is just tender. Remove cover; sprinkle cheese and olives over eggplant. Cover and cook 5 minutes.

MIDWEST SNOW JOB

The delivery of canned goods and other food was among the voluntary help given by Army Reservists during the Midwest blizzard.

A "snow job" usually means something without much truth or substance. Such was not the case when Army Reservists did a snow job this winter in the blizzard-bound Midwest during the area's worst storm of the century.

Nearly 1,200 of these citizen-soldiers volunteered their services in a massive snow emergency effort in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, declared disaster areas by President Carter.

The Reservists manned bulldozers and other heavy equipment, provided by their engineer units, to assist in snow clearance. Other Reserve volunteers flew their helicopters to help in rescue operations in weather that would keep most normal aircraft on the ground.

Among those isolated by the storm were many elderly people who were reached with food supplies and fuel. In some areas, large scale evacuation operations took place, with Reserve personnel and equipment pitching in to lend helping hands.

It doesn't take a blizzard, however, to demonstrate the Reservists' willingness to help their neighbors in time of need. Throughout the year, community service plays an important role in the peacetime training of the more than 3,000 Army Reserve units across the country.

Less dramatic perhaps than the relief operations described here, but just as effective, are the year-round projects the units engage in to make their communities better places in which to live.

Community service may take the form of turning a litter-riddled vacant lot into a playground for underprivileged children; or, providing free medical examinations; or, clearing a contaminated stream. This community involvement not only helps the people, but it provides Army Reserve units with an opportunity to apply their military occupational skills in peacetime missions.

Protecting Our Environment

WHAT SOME ARE DOING

There's good news for people concerned about the quality of life in America. At least one company is working hard and spending millions of dollars to help keep our ecology stable and our air and water cleaner.

The J.P. Stevens Company has spent over the past 12 years more than $20 million for environmental controls.

It has an Environmental Service Laboratory staffed with professionals who use the latest scientific equipment to analyze and monitor wastewater. The lab is recognized as a leader in the field and its services are made available to other industries, municipalities, engineering firms and others concerned with any kind of water analysis.

The company has also taken an innovative approach toward reducing pollution through reclamation techniques. A companysponsored project in wastewater technology has resulted in the invention of a patented hyperfiltration system.

KEEPING AMERICA CLEAN is part of one company's business.

In addition, through a companywide effort, Stevens has achieved a 13 percent energy savings as compared with 1973, and the Federal Energy Administration has given official recognition to three outstanding energy conservation programs at Stevens' installations.

Two Strikes Affect Area; Martin Mine Resumes Work

Two strikes centered in neighboring Martin and Johnson counties have affected the entire area economy, including this county's, since many of its residents are employed at the idled workings.

The American Standard plant near Paintsville remained idle for the 12th week, and most Martin county coal operations are still hamstrung by the long Norfolk & Western Railway strike.

One break in the gloom came Monday, however, when Raymond Bradbury, president of the Martin County Coal Corp., called company employees back to work for at least this week. It was reported that more than 350 miners were back at work Monday.

"We'll get in all of this week and after that it will depend on whether we get another train," Bradbury added.

Bradbury said that during the past two months, his firm has sold its 30,000-ton stockpile and had it trucked off. "That's how we were able to reopen this week," he added, "and we anticipate a N&W train in the next day or so."

The company's miners comprise the first large group returning to work in the area since a strike began sidetracking most N&W coal trains in Southern West Virginia, Western Virginia and Eastern Kentucky.

An estimated 16,000 miners in the three states have been laid off or idled because of the N&W strike.

Many of the affected miners also were idled by the four-month-long United Mine Workers of America strike last winter and have worked less than four months thus far this year.

Bradbury said his firm, owned by the A.T. Massey Coal Co. Inc., has been idled since late July because it lacks space for stockpiling coal, and normally depends on the strikebound N&W for regular shipments.

After the strike began July 10, N&W spokesmen said they would not move any coal.

But that decision was changed, and last week, a few coal trains, manned by company supervisors, moved into the three-state area.

There have been several acts of violence since supervisory personnel have been moving coal trains into the area.

Coal industry spokesmen said that near-normal rail service must return before full-scale mining operations can resume in the area served by the N&W.

Grigsby Wins Place On Board of Control

Floyd Superintendent of Schools E. P. Grigsby, Jr. was elected last week to the Kentucky High School Athletic Association's Board of Control, representing Regions 15 and 16.

Mr. Grigsby's two-year term on the board began immediately. He defeated Frank Welch, principal of Belfry High School, to serve the unexpired term of former control board member Paul Trimble, who resigned his post as principal of Paintsville High School and by doing so vacated his place on the Board of Control.

At stake in the contest between Supt. Grigsby and Mr. Welch is the location of regional basketball tournament sites in this area for the next two years. After his term on the Board of Control ends, a successor will be named from the 16th region.

Mr. Grigsby was basketball coach at McDowell High School 16 years before becoming assistant superintendent of Floyd schools in 1974. His teams won 386 games while losing only 160. He completed his second year as superintendent of schools last July 1.

Fire Rodeo Slated At Archer Park, Sat.

Floyd county's first fire rodeo will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Archer Park. Sponsored by the newly-formed Floyd County Firefighters' Association, the rodeo will feature fire departments from all parts of the county in team competition in such events as ladder climbing, hose laying, tug of war, obstacle course, and other fire-related activities.

A money-raising attraction will be a softball throw "dunkster" with county fire department chiefs and Prestonsburg's city inspector as prime targets.

All proceeds from the rodeo will be used for work of the Firefighters' Association.

At a meeting Monday night, officers and board members of the organization were elected. They are the following:

Paul Burke, of Prestonsburg, chairman; Reuben Stephens, of Allen, assistant chairman; Howard Ferguson, of Auxier, secretary; Jim George, of Betsy Layne, treasurer; Ricky Davis, of Prestonsburg, publicity chairman.

Board members are Edward F. Robinson, of Maytown; Robert Campbell, of Martin; Danny Stephens, of Allen; Hershell Hamilton, of Mud Creek; Lee Johnson, of Wheelwright; Tom Blackburn, of Prestonsburg; Howard Ferguson, of Auxier; Owen Short, of Left Betsy Layne, and James George, of Betsy Layne.

Next meeting of the group is scheduled October 16 at the Betsy Layne Fire Department when a representative of the state fire marshal's office will speak.

Gardens are beautiful now with every kind and color of flowers, their faces lifted toward God and we're reminded of you.

It's been three years now since you went to be with God—there's never a day we haven't missed or needed you.

Now your dear friend Paul has joined you in God's Beautiful Garden as he did on the engine in work, reading your Bibles and praying together.

Forget you never—all things you were to us remain forever.

"Kentucky Now" Hunts Ginseng on KET

"Kentucky Now" reporter Guy Mendes goes ginseng hunting Thursday, September 28 at 8 p.m. (ET), on KET, the Kentucky network. Another segment of the public affairs program takes a look at skatresses, or waitresses on skates, in Elizabethtown.

"Kentucky Now" has a new repeat time on Sundays, beginning October 1. The program will shift to 2:30 p.m. and "Comment on Kentucky" will begin a repeat at 2 p.m. on Sundays.

Ginseng, a multi-million dollar crop in Kentucky, is believed to be an aphrodisiac by Orientals. Mendes talks with a farmer who is growing the herb, and discusses the possibility that the plant will be placed on the Endangered Species list.

Jack Lyne, Kentucky essayist, also presents timely pieces on "Kentucky Now" each week.

Ban on Ginseng Export Lifted, But Diggers Haven't Got the Word

The federal Endangered Species Scientific Authority has lifted its ban on exports of wild ginseng, and the ginseng market is bullish—not less than $80 a pound—but diggers of the herb haven't got the word that the ban has been lifted, and so the product of those who dig isn't finding its way to market.

The Courier-Journal reviewed the ginseng situation last week and ascribed the faltering sales to the federal ban on exports. But George D. Brown, of Prestonsburg, veteran dealer in ginseng, said there is another reason for the few sales.

Mr. Brown said the 'seng in the three-prong size simply hasn't appeared above-ground this year. Ginseng, he explains, is not a perennial in its three-prong stage, or larger, but sprouts stem and leaf only every two years. Last year's growth was heavy; this year's, negligible. Next year's, on that schedule of growth cycle, is expected to be heavy.

Ginseng volume is off about 60 percent, said Simon A. Goodman, a partner in S. Goodman & Sons, Louisville, the state's largest exporter of wild ginseng.

Most of the exported ginseng goes to the Orient, where many believe it has extraordinary medicinal powers.

Goodman said that he thinks bureaucratic confusion and red tape have caused many rural Kentuckians to stop digging ginseng roots.

But Goodman, along with others in the ginseng trade, expressed a hope that the latest government announcement will filter down to the diggers before the first hard frost ends the 1978 ginseng season.

He said efforts are being made to inform the diggers of a conservation plan being developed to protect ginseng and to keep the government from cutting off exportation again.

The government became involved in the ginseng trade after the plant was listed as a potentially endangered species by the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Flora and Fauna.

Some ginseng dealers have contended that ginseng isn't disappearing and should never have been put on the list. A spokesman for the endangered species authority, Roger McManus, conceded that the plant was listed before the international group refined its methods of identifying endangered species. And he said there isn't any record of who proposed that it be listed.

McManus added that botanists and others can't seem to agree on whether ginseng is becoming more or less plentiful in this country. Still, he said, there is evidence that ginseng has been heavily exploited and needs some protection.

The real confusion started last year, according to Thomas R. Chambers, a Louisville exporter and president of the recently formed Kentucky Ginseng Association.

First, he said, the endangered species authority announced that it was cutting off wild-ginseng exports, an act that would end the market for the plant.

Then, he said, the government issued "export permits" for the 1977 ginseng crop. When the permits expired in November, he said, exports were suspended again.

At that point, Chambers said, work was started on a conservation program that would satisfy the authority. At the direction of Gov. Julian Carroll, the University of Kentucky set up a program to run until 1980, when the Kentucky General Assembly will be asked to pass a law regulating the ginseng trade.

The endangered species authority has temporarily accepted the Kentucky program, McManus said, and also decided to allow ginseng exports from Indiana and most other ginseng-producing states. But he said the agency will look at the ginseng business again next year to see whether exports can be sustained without threatening the species.

UK officials said they are dealing mainly with large ginseng dealers and exporters, who get the roots from local buyers, who get them from diggers. They said the dealers are being asked to sign voluntary registration forms and to work with buyers in keeping records of ginseng purchases.

Herbert F. Massey, director of regulatory services in UK's College of Agriculture, said the diggers will be encouraged to plant seeds from every ginseng plant they take from the ground. To give the seeds time to ripen, he said, plants shouldn't be dug before Aug. 15.

Mr. Brown, the Prestonsburg dealer, said Michigan has the ideal legislation covering the ginseng situation. There, he said, ginseng dealers are licensed, as are hunters or fishermen, and a digging season is set from August 15, at which time the berries have ripened to permit dissemination of the seeds by birds, till November 1. And the penalty for digging ginseng out of season is stiff.

Eastern Kentucky is famous, he says, for its wild ginseng, but the Michigan product is among the best.

VA mobile vans have logged more than 500,000 miles carrying benefits specialists to veterans in remote areas of the United States. Counselors aboard 10 mobile offices have interviewed some 225,000 veterans and dependents since 1972.

"The loser is always suspicious." Publilius Syrus

By LARRY BURKE

"BELIEVE YOU CAN, AND YOU CAN."

The above statement is something you might believe—or disbelieve. However, belief is one of the most powerful of all problem solvers.

As an illustration—it was generally accepted for many years that it was impossible for a man to run a mile in four minutes. Along came a trail Englishman by the name of Roger Bannister—he ran the mile in 1954 in four minutes flat. Today there are many who even break that record.

Why do men break records? They believe they can!

Why do people reach for goals? They believe those goals can be obtained.

The chief reason that people are beaten down by difficulties is because they allow themselves to think they can be beaten.

Don't all of us finally find out that we are usually bigger than all our difficulties.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: We repeat: "Believe you can, and you can."

CANCER Answerline

American Cancer Society

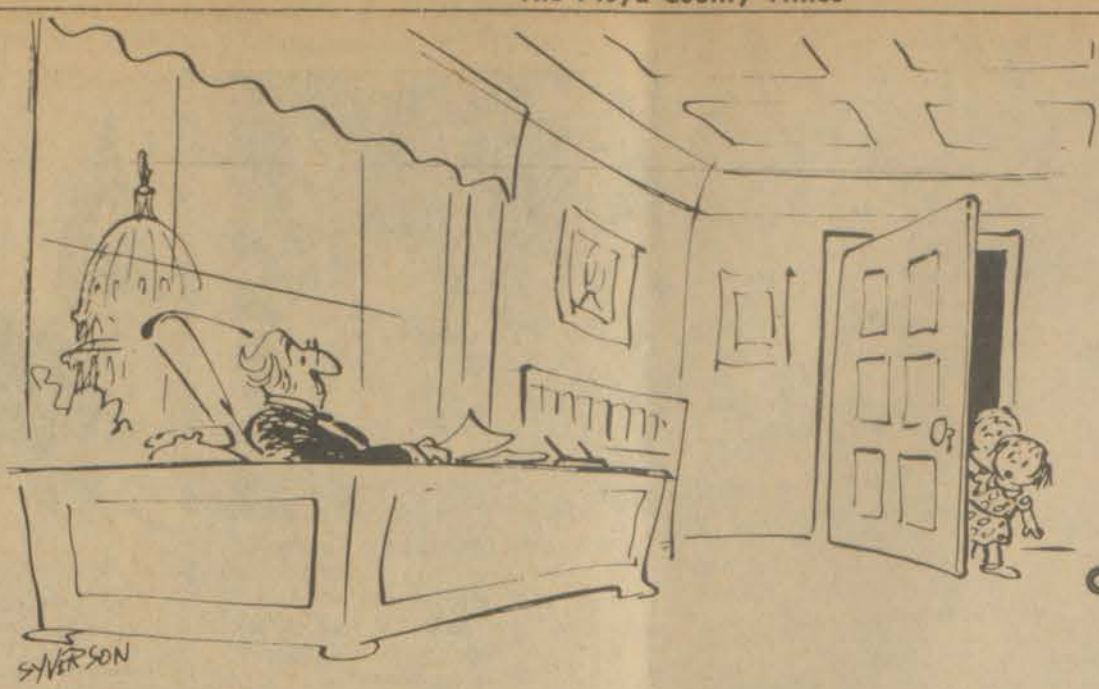

A regular feature, prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.

Unit has a new pamphlet of facts about skin cancer that's yours for the asking.

A woman asks: "Can breast cancer be treated by drugs alone?"
ANSWERline: Surgery is the major method of treating women who have breast cancer. For many women, radiation therapy and chemotherapy are used in addition to surgery. New drug combinations can reduce the recurrence rate of breast cancer in some patients after surgery. Drug combinations can provide prolonged control for a number of advanced breast cancers. At present, however, the use of drugs is not sufficient to treat breast cancer.

A retired engineer explains: "I have a skin condition which my doctor says is precancerous. What does that mean?"
ANSWERline: Certain abnormal skin conditions have a tendency to become malignant. A common condition is a scaly skin-thickening that develops in a small area, usually the face, neck or hands. This kind of abnormality most often develops in older persons whose skin has been exposed for many years to the ultraviolet rays of the sun. The fact that you have a precancerous condition means that treatment can prevent a potential cancer from developing. Your local American Cancer Society

Unit has a new pamphlet of facts about skin cancer that's yours for the asking.
A woman explains: "When I developed breast cancer in my 40's, it was discovered by mammography. Now I am disturbed to learn that women in my age group are being told to avoid mammography. I am afraid that lives will be lost if this technique is avoided."
ANSWERline: Under guidelines currently being followed in special breast cancer screening demonstration projects sponsored by the National Cancer Institute and the American Cancer Society, mammography (x-ray) examination of the breast is done on a routine basis for women 50 years or older. For those younger than 50 it is recommended if there is a close family history of breast cancer or if the woman has already had cancer in one breast. These guidelines refer to women without symptoms. A woman under 50 who experiences any kind of breast change should have no qualms about mammography because it is an effective form of diagnosis. Some experts feel that critics of mammography, in their "zeal" to protect the public from a theoretical radiation hazard, may have prevented some women from having the benefit of mammography because some 30 percent of breast cancer occurs among women in the 40-49 age group.

A Boulder APPROACH: OR how Hoover Gave a DAM.

In the early 1900's, a concrete solution was needed to prevent flooding along the Colorado River. The Hoover administration provided it. 4,400,000 cubic yards' worth. Enough concrete to pave a two-lane highway between New York and San Francisco.

It was the Hoover Dam at Boulder City, Nevada. And it not only controlled flooding and irrigation, but today it generates power for Southern California, Arizona and Nevada.

The cost: $385 million. And one of the ways money was generated was by Americans buying government securities and taking stock in America.

Today, you can take stock in America by buying United States Savings Bonds. It's easy when you join the Payroll Savings Plan.

That way, a little is automatically set aside from each paycheck to buy Bonds. Before you know it, you'll build up a nice reservoir of savings.

So buy Bonds. It's one savings plan that holds water.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Kentucky's squirrel hunters should find populations just about average for the Aug. 19 opening day, says Jim Durell, assistant director of the Kentucky fish and wildlife department's game management division.

Durell based his statement on annual surveys made by the game division of mast producing trees. Mast—seeds and nuts which represent the major portion of the squirrel's diet—varies in abundance from year to year and directly influences squirrel numbers.

"Some portions of the state showed slight increases in mast, while others showed slight declines," Durell said. "But overall, I doubt that the average hunter can tell the difference."

Early season squirrels are often scattered and difficult to locate, Durell added, particularly in the eastern portions of the state. "Squirrels often are feeding on shagbark hickory or buckeyes during the beginning of the season," he said, "so the hunter who can find stands of these trees with ripe nuts will probably find squirrels."

Heavy foliage can make it hard to see squirrels, even when they are found. Most early season hunters use shotguns and Number 5 or 6 shot. Later in the season, when the leaves have fallen, a .22 rifle can be used effectively if the hunting area permits one to be used safely—remember that a .22 bullet can carry over a mile.

The first phase of the squirrel season runs from Aug. 19 through Oct. 31. It reopens with the small game season Nov. 16, is closed during the gun deer season (Dec. 2 - Dec. 4) and runs through Dec. 31.

As in past years, the daily limit is six squirrels per hunter with 12 allowed in possession after two or more days of hunting.

Squirrel hunters may not use breech-loading rifles of .240 caliber or larger, nor may they carry buckshot or slugs while squirrel hunting. Hunting hours for squirrels (and for other species except raccoon and opossum) are one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset, prevailing local time.

Supt. Grigsby's Statement

Because of recent events and accusations, it is imperative that the good citizens of Floyd county know what this administration and Board of Education will do to curb these adverse activities that would interfere with the educational process in Floyd county. We shall continue to provide the best possible learning environment for our boys and girls and do everything within our power to insure that every child shall have an unobstructive path to a free education in our public school system. As Superintendent of Floyd County Schools, I have released the following directives to principals, teachers, and employees of the Floyd County School system:

"It appears to me that there are a few radical elements who feel that protests, walk-outs, and sensationalism can supplant authority vested in Boards of Education and administration. This is a very serious and erroneous supposition on behalf of a few citizens and pupils. We have no intention of being replaced by any militant or insubordinate groups of people, citizens, or pupils. Indeed, just the opposite shall occur and that is the strengthening of our legal positions as administrators and teachers as given to us by authorization of local Boards of Education.

I, therefore, am directing each principal and every teacher to impose the maximum penalties to any and all violators who try to stop our educational process in this school system. Students are to be dealt with individually and to receive unexcused absences for being absent from classes if they participate in these activities, and are also to receive suspensions if teachers and principals deem it necessary. No student who participates in these kinds of activities shall be allowed to circumvent the policies of this Board of Education pertaining to student absenteeism and class participation. If parents are involved, then I expect them to follow rules, regulations, and policies of your school just the same as your students. If any of our employees of the Board of Education are involved, then I suggest they direct themselves to their own jobs and duties, or else severe penalties shall be invoked against them.

"We intend to take every step possible to provide a learning atmosphere for all boys and girls in Floyd county and we shall not be sidetracked by any radical element within our society. I urge you to convey this message to the faculty and members of your staff and to hold a tight rein on educating our youth in Floyd county."

PETE GRIGSBY, JR.,
Superintendent
Floyd County Schools

Lawrence Sheriff, Magistrate Draw Federal Pen Terms

Lawrence County Sheriff Charlie Vinson and Magistrate Arlie Thompson were sentenced by U.S. District Court Judge H. David Hermansdorfer Monday for their convictions on conspiracy and extortion involving an Ohio coal firm.

Vinson received two four-year prison terms, to be served concurrently, for the conspiracy and first extortion conviction. He was given a suspended 10-year sentence and $10,000 fine on the second extortion conviction.

Thompson was sentenced to two concurrent three-year prison terms and was given a suspended five-year sentence and a $5,000 fine.

Lawyers for both men indicated they would file appeals within 10 days.

July Strike-Caused Stoppages Said Lowest in 14 Years

Idleness due to work stoppages in July was .17 percent of estimated working time (1.7 working days idle per thousand), according to preliminary estimates by the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Strike-included idleness was at the lowest July rate in 14 years but higher than in any month since the bituminous coal strike ended in March.

Idleness for the first 7 months of 1978 averaged .19 percent of estimated working time after generally moving down since its most recent high in 1974.

An estimated 810 stoppages were in effect during July, the lowest July total since 1972 when wages and prices were under controls.

Some 338,000 workers participated in stoppages during the month, an increase over the last three months.

Labor-management disputes resulted in about 3 million man-days off the job in July, about the same as in 1973 but otherwise the lowest number of days idle for this month since 1964.

Stoppages averaged 417 workers per walkout in July, higher than that recorded for the previous month.

Average strike duration moved down to 8.9 days in July. This trend has continued since February, except for June.

Six large strikes involving 5,000 workers or more were in effect in July.

These disputes accounted for 20 percent of all workers involved in stoppages and 30 percent of all days idle this month. In July, 1977 large stoppages accounted for 34 percent of all workers engaged in strikes and 37 percent of all idleness. Workers involved and idleness for the five-day Postal Service stoppages are not available.

An estimated 463 strikes began in July, compared with 545 during June and 552 in July last year, and some 211,000 workers walked off their jobs in July, 32,000 less than in July, 1977 and the lowest July total since 1973.

For the first seven months of 1978, there were 2,923 strikes, the lowest seven-month total recorded in 11 years.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

Big Sandy RECC has filed with the Public Service Commission (PSC) of Kentucky an application to adjust its rates in order to comply with PSC's regulation relative to the Fuel Adjustment Clause as defined in Case No. 6877. The basis for the increase in the base rate is limited to the wholesale power supplier's revision of its Fuel Adjustment Clause. The increase in base rates is limited to the amount of the reduction of the Fuel Adjustment Rate and in no way affects the actual cost of power to the consumer.

A public hearing concerning our application will be held at the offices of the Public Service Commission of Kentucky, 730 Schenkel Lane, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky, on September 27, 1978, at 10:00 A.M. E.D.T. The following rates in condensed form are as follows:

California leads the nation's Vietnam era veteran population with 961,000, followed by New York, 596,000; Texas, 480,000; Pennsylvania, 467,000; and Ohio, 431,000. The Golden State also leads the nation in total veteran population with 3.3 million. New York, again, is second with more than 2.5 million residents who once served in the military.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Prestonsburg City's Utilities Commission

Sealed bids will be received by the Prestonsburg City's Utilities Commission, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, on a 1979 rubber-tired loader-backhoe, at the City's Utilities Commission Office, until 7:30 P.M., October 12, 1978, at which time bids will be publicly opened and read aloud, for furnishing labor and materials and performing all work as set forth by this advertisement for bids. Specifications can be obtained from the office of the City Utilities Commission Fire Department Building, 1048 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653.

Bids received after the scheduled closing time for reception of bids will be returned unopened to the bidder. Bids must be accompanied by bid bond, payable to the City's Utilities Commission in an amount not less than 5 percent of the base bid.

In the event an award is made and the successful bidder fails to execute contract for performance of the work under the award then the bid bond shall be forfeited as liquidated damages for such failure.

Bids and bid bonds shall be in a sealed envelope bearing the bidder's identification, addressed to the Prestonsburg City's Utilities Commission, P.O. Box 468, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653, labeled in the lower left-hand corner.

The Prestonsburg City's Utilities Commission reserves the right to reject any or all bids, which bids shall not be withdrawn for 45 days subsequent to the opening of bids, without consent for the Prestonsburg City's Utilities Commission.

Bill H. Howard, Superintendent, Prestonsburg City's Utilities Commission

Hunter Education Course Scheduled

The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources will sponsor a hunter education course at Prestonsburg Community College, Sept. 27-29. There is no charge for the course. The Wednesday and Thursday classes will begin at 3:15 p.m., and at 3:30 p.m. on Friday. Field training on Friday will be held at the Dewey Lake Fish & Game Club.

The course will include classroom instruction in firearm safety, sportsmanship, hunter ethics, first aid and outdoor survival.

The Friday afternoon session at the game club will feature actual range firing and practice with both firearms and archery equipment.

Those successfully completing the course will receive safe hunter certificates valid in any of the 23 states where such certification is required. Completion of this or a similar hunter education course is also a requirement for youngsters participating in the youth deer hunts at Land Between the Lakes. Attendance at all three sessions is required for certification.

Any person, regardless of age, who is interested in the shooting sports or wants to become a safer hunter is welcome to attend. For additional information, contact Kevin Brumley, Floyd county conservation officer, phone 587-2277.

Floyd First with Energy Audit

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE—Ken Weaver, left, Big Sandy Area Development District, and Junie Tutterow, center, Department for Local Government (DLG) energy specialist, show Floyd County Judge Yvonne Jones how lack of automatic door closures on the court house uses energy. Discrepancies are being identified through a DLG energy audit for the county.

Floyd county is the first local government in Kentucky to sign an agreement with the Kentucky Department for Local Government (DLG) for an energy audit.

A DLG audit provides uses of last year's energy bills for all 12 months, determining a percentage of energy usage that can be compared with a national model.

Junie Tutterow, energy specialist with DLG, working with local officials, will do a "walk-through" of Floyd facilities to identify measures needed to correct deficiencies. A report is then made to local officials listing improvements that can be made at no cost, others that will be minimal cost items and others that will require commitments of capital expenditure. Suggestions may range from keeping certain doors closed, changing certain temperature settings or weather-stripping some windows to a complete reworking of heating or cooling systems.

Local governments agree to provide necessary data for DLG, cooperate with the walk-through audit, and provide a monthly report on modifications and usage.

Perry Co. Deputy Finds Bomb Wired To His Automobile

Deputy Sheriff Mike Cornett, of Viper, Perry county, found what appeared to be a homemade bomb connected to the spark plugs of his automobile early Monday after receiving a pre-dawn telephoned death threat.

Federal Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agents went to Perry county Monday to determine whether the device was explosive.

"I got a threat by telephone late Sunday night and the caller said he was going to blow up my home and kill me and my wife and kids," Cornett said.

"I found the device when I checked out everything at home," he added.

He said the device was a canister with an electric blasting cap attached, weighing about two to three pounds. The device had been hooked onto his 1971 Ford's spark plugs.

The vehicle had been parked Sunday night in front of Cornett's home.

Notice of Intention To Mine

1. In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that: Hayes Leasing Corporation, Betsy Layne, Kentucky 41605, intends to file an application for the surface disturbance mining of approximately 25.0 acres located northwest of Dana in Floyd County. The proposed operation is approximately 1 mile west of Prater Creek Road's junction with Johnson Fork Road and located west of Johnson Fork of Prater Creek, latitude 37-33' 44", longitude 82-40' 37". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by: Hayes Leasing Corporation, Dennis Kid, Vaughn Watson. A brief description of the kind of mining activity proposed is: Contour stripping, mountain top removal and hollow fill method.

The application will be filed at the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Prestonsburg Area Office, South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg Kentucky 41653.

Persons wishing to file written objections and/or request a formal administrative hearing in regard to the above described surface mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. A copy of the newspaper clipping must be attached to the written objection. The objection or request for a hearing will reference application number 036-0009. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2) and must be forwarded to the Director of Permits, Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

2. Notice is hereby provided pursuant to 30 CFR 715.13 (d) (10) and KRS 350 that the proposed post mining land use does not constitute a change from the pre-mining land use. Public comment regarding a proposed change in land use may be submitted to the address listed above.

Catholic Committee Meet Slated Here

The Catholic Committee of Appalachia will hold its fall conference at Prestonsburg Community College, October 14 and 15, on the theme of developing a personal theology for out-reach ministry. The keynote speaker will be Joseph Holland, of the Center of Concern, Washington, D.C. The committee is part of the Commission On Religion In Appalachia, which unites 18 Christian denominations to help "meet the pressing needs of the Appalachian people."

Five forum sessions will be offered on October 14 at 2 p.m. centering around land use, family life, nuclear power Christian presence and films. A worship service will be held at 5 p.m. at the college, be followed by supper and business meeting at the Plantation Motel. Preacher at the worship service will be Bishop Walter Sullivan, of the Richmond (Virginia) diocese. About 200 participants are expected.

The conference and all its sessions are open to the public. Further information may be had by calling the office of the Catholic Committee of Appalachia at 886-8488.

Perry Slayings Suspects Held

Chicago Police arrested two men last Thursday after warrants were issued in Perry county in connection with the double slaying of a man and woman who were found in the North Fork of the Kentucky River, tied together and weighted down with a plow.

Dan White, 36, and Ronny Whitmore, 28, were lodged in Cook county jail in Chicago, awaiting extradition to Kentucky, Lt. Ray Brittain, of the Kentucky State Police Post at Hazard said.

Lt. Brittain said that evidence collected by investigators placed the two men at the scene of the double murder. He added that the evidence indicated that White, Whitmore and the two found in the river were affiliated with a Chicago motorcycle gang.

Positive identification of the male was made, Lt. Brittain said. He is Johnny D. Coleman, 38. Identification of the female has almost been completed, he added.

Autopsies on the two were conducted by the state medical examiner who determined that each had been shot. A burned-out car found near Leatherwood in Perry county was connected to the murders, Brittain said.

The two bodies were found by a railroad worker near Chavies on Sept. 6. An autopsy indicated that they had died four days earlier. Lt. Brittain said that White was a former resident of the Chavies area. Charges of murder and receiving stolen property were placed against both White and Whitmore.

Courthouse Cleaning Court Responsibility

Jailer Lawrence Hale said this week that janitor work at the courthouse is now the responsibility of the fiscal court, not his.

The change became effective under state law in June, he said.

Who Is Lowe's And

Well, we're glad to say we can't answer those questions in just a few lines. Even these 2 pages can only highlight the attitudes, people, products, and services that we believe you'll enjoy discovering at Lowe's Pikeville manager, 47-year-old Frank Bockway, is married to a Pike County native, the former Katie Justice, a graduate of Pikeville High School.

Frank and Katie, the daughter of Lula Justice, of Robinson Creek, were married 28 years ago and are the parents of two children, a daughter who lives in West Palm Beach, Florida, and a son who is a salesman of Lowe's Matewan, West Virginia store.

Frank is a native of Huntington, West Virginia. He has 14 years of service with Lowe's in Huntington. "I've worked on the sales floor and waited on a lot of people from Pike County," he revealed. He used to work for Van Zandt as a Salesman and called on the old York Furniture Company in Pikeville. Ironically, York's was located where Lowe's new store now stands on South Mayo Trail. "All these years people in Pike County have driven to Huntington to trade with Lowe's," Bockway recalled. "Now Lowe's has come to Pike County."

Bockway is glad to be in Pike County, where "the progress is exciting" and watching all the changes is interesting.

Good Merchandise...

To buy a particular product, the benefits you expect to get from it have to be worth more than the dollars you pay for it. To insure that you get your dollar's worth, Lowe's offers you nationally known name merchandise... products you can trust... products with built-in quality. Each Lowe's store combines the merchandise, service, and functions of a lumber yard, building material supplier, air conditioning, heating, plumbing, and electrical supply center, hardware store, appliance and home electronics dealer, hard goods discount, and complete home improvement center.

Lowe's Sells More Than 8,000 Items

Lowe's has everything you need for the house... in the house... around the house... even the house! All the materials for building a house — from the foundation to the roof — are at Lowe's. We also have all it takes to care for the yard around your house... and to make life a little easier inside the house.

Brand Names

The complete inventory at Lowe's contains over 8,000 items! These include lumber from Weyerhaeuser... insulation from Owens-Corning... plywood from Georgia-Pacific... Gypsum board from National Gypsum... siding from Abitibi... asphalt roofing from GAF and Celotex... paneling from Vanply and Pacific Wood Products... carpet from Dan River and Armstrong... bathroom fixtures from Artesian... lighting fixtures from Thomas and Diamond F... ceilings from Gold Bond and Owens-Corning... heating and cooling products from McGraw-Edison... tillers by Magna-American... steel storage buildings by Arrow... storm doors and wind by Croft and Andersen... mowers by Dynamark and Murray... bicycles by Murray Enterprise paint... appliances by Hotpoint and Whirlpool... power tools by Black & Decker and Skil... small appliances by Northern and General Electric... home entertainment units from Lloyds, Zenith, and RCA, just to name a few. These names stand behind their products — so do we!

National Recognition By The Brand Names Foundation

Lowe's national recognition includes having been named Building Supply Retailer of the Year for 1977 by Building Supply News magazine. We've also been honored by the Brand Names Foundation as Brand Name Quality Remodeler of the Year in 1973. We believe that Lowe's is the first "Triple Crown" winner, since we've already won the Distinguished Merchant Award in '72 and were named Brand Name Retailer of the Year, popularly called the "Oscar of Retailing" in April, '71.

Consumer Reference Library

In 1973, we began the compilation of a Consumer Reference Library. We not only include our own reference materials, researched and produced by Lowe's to give you the most pertinent information about our products, but we also stock other helpful and informative publications. We consult reference libraries, our suppliers, trade associations, and government sources to collect material. We include technical, specialized information like Span Tables and Grading Rules for Lumber. The books are obtained from commercial sources, screened for content, stocked in our stores, and constantly up-dated.

What Do We Do?

Lowe's of Pikeville. Lowe's is a group of motivated people who want to earn and deserve the opportunity to serve you as customers for a long time. We want Lowe's to become your Household Word.

Good Services... Credit Policy

Fifty million people in the United States are holders of the 2 major bank cards, Master Charge and VISA. Purchases of merchandise at Lowe's may be made on both. Also, the Lowe's Charger Credit Card is available in all stores. If you don't have one, why not visit Lowe's and apply for your own card? The "Charger" vouchers for your credit at every Lowe's store. Each Lowe's store also has a Layaway Service, which many customers use, and commercial accounts for professional buyers, purchasing agents, etc. Your Lowe's store manager has all the details on each of our credit options. Why not stop in and see which one suits you the best. Your satisfaction with all our services is guaranteed or your money will be refunded in cash.

Delivery Policy

Arrangements can be made for delivery of merchandise purchased from any Lowe's store. A fleet of delivery trucks is available, modern and efficient equipment can fulfill your delivery needs. Lowe's delivery charges are modest. For information concerning this service, please contact your Lowe's salesperson. Whether you need a single delivery or a series of deliveries to a construction site, Lowe's will come up with a price and a schedule to fill your particular need.

Trained Sales People

Each of the people who make up Lowe's sales force has been carefully trained not only to want to help you, but to know how to help you. They must be ready to help you choose the right item for the job at hand. This means that they must have a working knowledge of their products and your needs, whether you're building a house or buying a TV.

Computer Sales Tickets

In the mid-60's, Lowe's installed computers on each sales floor to calculate and print each sales ticket. This system has been continually up-dated, till — now — the salespeople in most stores can get an immediate readout on the inventory status of the product in question.

Express Checkout

Since it takes a while to help a builder order all the materials he needs for a home, his delivery schedule, etc., the consumer who just stopped in to buy an iron won't want to wait in line behind him! So, each Lowe's store now has a special checkout desk for small items. This way, each customer, the builder and the consumer, gets the service he deserves.

Lowe's Low Prices...

Lowe's Total Profit After Taxes Averages Less Than 4c Per Dollar — Less Than The Sales Tax In Many Areas.

Long before the federal government's price control program of the past few years, Lowe's had our own price control program, called Lowe's Low Prices. The original idea was, and our commitment to our customers still is, to hold prices to the lowest level possible, consistent with keeping Lowe's alive and well. And the idea worked! Lowe's has grown from one small store in the Carolina mountains to 180 stores in 16 states. And yet, Lowe's total profit after taxes averages less than 4c per dollar — less than the sales tax in many areas. In 1974, inflation was the number one culprit in the mind of the American Consumer. We decided to see just how bad it really was in some of our product lines. We searched our advertising files of 5, 10, 15 and more years back and actually found many items which had come down in price! This study resulted in an intensified campaign to let you know about our lower-than-ever prices in a time of terrible inflation. We called it Un-flation™. The first ads ran in Spring of 1974 and brought an immediate sales response, helping us to maintain our strong customer relationship through a difficult business period. And so, Un-flation™ has become a big part of Lowe's Low Prices!

You Name It!

By WILMAY

Once more it was a delight to see little Kevin Martin, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Martin. Watching Lowell with his child was worth an admission fee as he dug plants and bulbs, explaining everything to the curious youngster, who recognized insects and called "critters" unearthed by name. Though Kevin had experienced a painful introduction to yellow jackets a few days before, he was utterly fearless of other "bugs." Lowell was the epitome of patience, tenderness, giving his son interest, concern, motivation, and—best of all—himself, something not every parent does. When Kevin enters school in 1982 we feel confident that he will not be just a pupil but a star one. Preschool training of many kinds starts children off well, and parents need not be teachers to provide it. It always pays high dividends, too.

Friends of Lula Martin, who retired from teaching recently, wish for her all the joys of retirement after many years' service in teaching little folks. She has been replaced by Mrs. Lowell Martin, whose reputation for excellence is well known.

If time were changed in this month instead of next, children would not be leaving for school before dark, as will soon be the case.

Countless friends of Gwendolyn Dingus admire her fortitude and the gallant fight she is waging to recover her health. Hundreds of prayers are with her.

The Jerry Lewis marathon and its nationwide response for muscular dystrophy fully illustrate the magnanimity of the American people, as do other drives for cancer, M.S. etc. Families free of such illnesses have so much to be thankful for.

Perhaps the only thing worse than a home without a Bible is one of professing Christians who own but never use God's Word, have no grace at meals, no family altar.

Mrs. Bev. (Vada) Osborn has been in the hospital and is now in Mt. Manoir. Those who know her think of how painstakingly she landscaped and thru the years continuously beautified the cemetery in Eastern, following the interment there of her son, Herman, a victim of WWI. It gives one a good feeling to encounter persons who do not forget their loved ones.

Some overweight women must be happy to note that one husband loudly praised his plump wife. Many "fat" women make model mothers and companions, and often look no worse than the bean pole variety. When it comes to appearances, fashions and life styles in general, for decades society has boldly decreed the "in" thing, condemning digressions frequently. This has caused countless young people and adults to acquire low self images that can be devastating to them, though God looks on the heart and the inside, not on the outside. After all, beauty is only skin deep, and many beauty queens of face and figure have neither in old age! The majority of us never did have either, so there is abundant company for the "fatties" and the "skinnies." Little wonder that Abby dislikes fall styles, yet millions will adopt them whether they are becoming or not. Too often people are slaves to the goddess of fashion, yet Jesus said: Take no thought of what ye shall put on. Mt. 6:25. Who among us obeys?

Despite thousands of abortions yearly, teen pregnancies have reached epidemic proportions, with numerous contributory causes: the pill, possibly sex education, which arouses curiosity in some, and quite likely more than anything else—the permissive attitude permeating society, which does nearly everything except glorify adultery and fornication today. Some secular authorities, as well as Christian counselors, now see that many approaches and methods used in sex education are not doing the job expected. Instead, the situation grows worse. The moral side of the question has been the most neglected, and while that task rests primarily with parents and the home, if successful it must be reinforced repeatedly by school, church, social agencies, medical experts, and society as a whole. Rather than say, "Here are the best or latest contraceptives," implying more or less, "Have a good time," more counselors in various professions are beginning to realize that the soundest and wisest advice is to say, "Live clean, pure lives, girls and boys, so you and your family will have no regrets, heartaches, or guilt complexes, so no one will be tempted to commit murder—(It is murder except in rare instances when only abortion will save a mother's life.) and so no pathetic child must go thru life with the deplorable stigma of illegitimacy, for which he is not to blame." There was a time when no girl wished to risk being classified with those who stepped beyond the pale, but changing attitudes of the public have blurred and erased conduct boundary lines until few care. This does not indicate a parental or societal spirit of unforgiveness, understanding, empathy, sympathy and support when unwelcome incidents occur. Absolutely not, but prevention not only beats cure, it is far cheaper for all concerned. Fewer tragedies take place where firmness and emphasis on behavioral facets of the problem exist. For decades the nation has been satiated with sex in every conceivable manner. It is a marvel that more do not follow the downward path. While society has thrown overboard many concepts and guidelines that prevailed for centuries and produced less deviation from scriptural standards, the fact remains that God's Word never changes. Unfortunately, some individuals think they know so much more than God does that for two decades they have advocated rewriting the Bible to fit the times, instead of striving to help the times conform to it! No country or individual breaks its teachings without ultimately paying a heavy price.

The Law and the Commandments— Injunction Stays Their Display

A temporary restraining order has been issued against the Kentucky Department of Education to enjoin it from enforcing a law requiring that copies of the Ten Commandments be placed in all Kentucky public school classrooms.

Judge Squire N. Williams in Franklin circuit court issued the restraining order last Thursday after a complaint was filed by five Louisvillians.

Plaintiffs in the suit charged that the law violates their rights as guaranteed by the United States and Kentucky constitutions. The complaint charges that "the required posting of the Ten Commandments constitutes the preference by the state legislative body of one religious doctrine over other religious or non-religious doctrines and beliefs."

It further contends that "the Ten Commandments are historically a Judeo-Christian document" and that displaying copies of the document constitutes the preference of one religion over other 4-religion "which do not recognize such commandments as an integral part of their religious beliefs." The plaintiffs are Sydel Stone, a Unitarian; Judy Matheny, a Quaker; Anne H. Bowers, a non-believer; Patricia Ann Bricking, a teacher and mother of three children in Kentucky public schools, and Rabbi Martin M. Perley.

The order restrains Superintendent of Public Instruction James B. Graham or his agents from enforcing the provisions of KRS 158.178 "by collecting voluntary contributions for the purpose of financing the printing of the Ten Commandments."

KRS 158.178, which became law March 31, 1978, requires that a durable, permanent copy of the 10 commandments be displayed on a wall in each public and secondary school classroom in Ky.

Copies were to be purchased with funds made available through voluntary contributions made to the state treasurer for that purpose.

CHILD ABUSE, KET TOPIC

How do you know if a child is being abused? What can you do to stop it? What programs are available to help abusive parents?

"Whose Child is this?" a 30-minute documentary airing on KET Saturday, September 30 at 7:30 p.m. answers these and other questions related to child abuse.

An actual case study involving a Louisville school teacher who discovered an incident of child abuse in her classroom documents the changes that occurred in a child's life because one person cared enough to seek help for both child and parents.

Information is given detailing how to report abusive situations to the Protective Service Agency, and how the agency deals with the problem of child abuse.

Studies show that abusive parents were usually abused as children. Until they learn how to change their behavior, both they and their children—and grandchildren—will suffer. "Whose Child is This?" offers information that may break the cycle.

Where oh where is the lost Atlantis? The philosopher Plato wrote that it was in the area of what we now call the Azores. This theory has been dismissed as myth for several hundred years. But now, the August Reader's Digest reveals, it looks as if Plato might have been right all along. The islands of the Azores may be the peaks of the mountains of Atlantis—sunk in an asteroid explosion about 9000 B.C.

Book Review . . .

'Quare Do's' and 'In the Pine'

For its 1978 program the Pikeville College Press has produced two of its three scheduled titles.

The first, in paperback only, is titled, "Quare Do's in Appalachia: Legends and Memorats of Eastern Kentucky." It is a 200-page volume of 30 legends and ghost lore, collected mostly in Owsley county by a resident and newly retired teacher, Mrs. Berniece T. Hiser.

Some of the "quare do's" are revealed by the story titles. One is called "Always Refuse a Witch." It depicts the strong belief of those who believe in witches—that if one thinks some old crone in the neighborhood is trying to "witch you" you must not have any truck with them and refuse to give or to lend them anything.

Another records an interesting moment in the Civil War. Titled "Morgan the Raider Named My Granny," it describes how John Hunt Morgan the Rebel and his men swept through Frozen Creek valley, taking livestock, food and causing panic among the people. He stopped and surrounded a house and was told by the frightened father that his wife was having a baby and was begged to spare the house. Morgan brought his men to order until the birth. Then he spoke the family fair and said, "Name her Sally, for the most beautiful lady in Kentucky."

"Quare Do's" has a foreword by University of Kentucky professor Dr. William Hugh Jansen, has a list of tale types, and a few photos of Mrs. Hiser and family. It is for sale at most bookstores and at the Appalachian Studies Center for $5.

The second publication, now out in paperback and to be in cloth next month, is titled, "In The Pine: Selected Kentucky Folksongs." It was done by Leonard Roberts, collector, and Dr. C. Buell Agey, West Virginia Wesleyan College music transcriber. It comprises some 150 ballads, hymns and folksongs in 354 pages, collected over a period of 15 years in the eastern and central areas of Kentucky. Some 140 of the pieces have music scores, with chords for singing and strumming.

The first half of the volume contains ballads (songs that tell a story). Some of the categories and samples are, old British ballads such as "The Elfin Knight," who matches wits with a fair maiden in order to get the upper hand; "Jimmy Randal," who comes home to die because he is sick to the heart and faint would lie down—he has been poisoned; "Barbara Allen," who dies of remorse for her dead lover; and "Black Jack Davie," who charms the heart of a lady and she runs away with him. Some later American ballads are more familiar to most people who follow listening to banjo players and records: "Kenny Wagner," "Pearl Bryan," "Floyd Collins," and "Fatal Wedding."

The second half of the volume comprises folksongs, hymns, lovesongs, and humorous pieces. Some are "Man of Constant Sorrow," "The Old Cross Road," "No Drunkard," "Shoo Fly," and "Rocky Island."

The book has the usual notes and other scholarly features. It has an introduction by Dr. Roberts of his collecting adventures in the field and about the texts as found in oral tradition. Dr. Agey provides an introduction to the music, with helpful notes on singing and analyses of the tunes. The paperback edition may be found in bookstores and at the Appalachian Studies Center for $7.95.

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply grateful to friends and relative who offered, by words or service, consolation to us upon the passing of our daughter, Pauline Goble. We especially thank the minister, Bennie Blankenship, for his comforting words, the singers and the Floyd Funeral Home for its efficient service.

Allen Woman's Club Meets

Allen Woman's Club held its September meeting at the clubhouse with Mary Hinchman president, presiding.

The meeting was called to order and the secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved. The club agreed to donate $25 to each of the scout troops in Allen, and also $50 to the Central Ky. Kidney Foundation.

Motion was made and carried that the club sponsor the "Miss Red, White, and Blue Pageant" again this year. Plans are being made for the pageant to be held on the Thursday night preceding the Red, White and Blue Day Parade Saturday, Oct. 21. Co-chairman for the pageant are Wanda Weber and Bonnie Spencer.

The club decided to participate in the Read It—Read It contest which is sponsored by the Ky. Federation of Women's Clubs. The contest is a readathon, encouraging students to read books for one month. Pledges will be made for each book read. Funds go to the Kentucky Association for Mentally Retarded citizens. Vicki Boyd, Anita Lafferty, Mary Hinchman and Paula Collins will be working together on this project.

Mrs. Hinchman reminded all members about the fall district meeting Oct. 7, to be held at the Elkhorn Country Club in Jenkins.

Following the business meeting, the hostesses, Hollie Blanton and Belle Conn, served refreshments to Bonnie Spencer, Mary Hinchman, Wanda Weber, Jo Ann Adams, Deloris Smith, Pat Derosset, Paula Collins, Carol Jo Collins and guest Lila Derosset.

Since the GI Bill program was established in 1944, the VA has guaranteed nearly 10 million home loans valued at more than $147 billion.

Our Fragile Earth

By DR. JERRY HOWELL
Coordinator of Environmental Studies

Morehead State University
Both federal and state wild rivers programs have widespread support, but the Kentucky program has recently been very controversial.

The Kentucky Wild Rivers Act of 1972 permitted designation of certain pristine streams as "wild rivers." Parts of eight Kentucky rivers now have that designation, including the Cumberland, Red, Rockcastle, Green, Big South Fork, and Little South Fork Rivers, in addition to Martins Fork and Rock Creek. Most of the streams are in southeastern and southcentral Kentucky; Red River is in northeastern Kentucky.

The intent of the law is to protect these rivers from dams and overdevelopment. Stripmining, timber clearcutting, mechanized travel, and dams are all prohibited in the wild river sections. Deep mining, oil and gas drilling, agriculture and selective timber cutting may be allowed with restrictions.

Land or public access rights can be obtained by the state in various ways. Eminent domain or condemnation is authorized by law, but the state has yet to use that power. Some protected stretches are already in public ownership (U.S. Forest Service, state ownership, National Park Service land). The state can also accept grants or gifts of property, but, more commonly, they obtain wild river land through scenic easements.

Scenic easements restrict only the type of development allowed; they do not take the land away from the landowner. The landowner retains the right to restrict trespass, unless he grants a rarely-needed access agreement. In this case, the public can freely travel to and from the river. Farming or similar activities can still be carried on and new structures can even be built, provided they are compatible with already-existing buildings. The land can also be sold or given away, but future landowners must live under the same restrictions.

Controversies arise when the state and landowner fail to agree on any of the possible options. There are several stretches not yet under formal protection and these are areas where land uses conflict. There have been several well-publicized conflicts, at least two of which made it to court.

Landowner objections center around the idea that the state is restricting usage without compensation. One landowner is south-central Kentucky threatened to clearcut the timber and stripmine the land unless he was paid for the value of the resources. One group wanted to build a garish recreational development above Cumberland Falls and another family went to court trying to develop the area a few hundred feet above the Falls.

The state has recently been trying to define its legal role and the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Protection recently issued regulations for selective timber cutting on the designated land. Hopefully, all differences will soon be reconciled.

Consumer
Comments

ROBERT F. STEPHENS
Attorney General

Although funeral services are not a popular topic, they are one of the largest purchases a family makes. The average funeral and burial costs more than $2,000. Because of the grievous time, a person is not usually as cautious as he or she normally would be when making such a large purchase. A recent Federal Trade Commission study states that "grief-stricken customers are in a peculiarly vulnerable position and enter the transaction in an especially weak bargaining position." The study also placed some of the blame for this exploitation on the funeral directors who, according to the study, "manipulate consumers into paying high prices and intimidate competitors who charge less."

Some consumers are led to believe that they are required by law to have the body embalmed. In Kentucky there is no such requirement unless the person has died of a communicable disease or if the body is to be transported out of state. There is also no requirement to be buried in a coffin in Kentucky. If you have questions concerning legal requirements you can contact the State Board of Embalmers located in Beaver Dam, Ky. at (502) 274-4515. They also receive complaints consumers might have concerning funeral services.

The FTC report was not all bad for the funeral industry. In an introduction, the report noted "it cannot provide sufficient recognition of the many funeral directors who serve their communities courteously, ethically, and effectively."

The consumer should look upon this purchase as objectively as possible, perhaps prior to the actual need for the service. There are pre-paid, pre-planned funeral services and many communities have started Memorial Societies as an alternative to having to make difficult decisions during a grievous period of time.

If you have a consumer problem, please write to the Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Protection, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601 or call on our toll-free Consumer Hotline number at 1-800-372-2960.

Magoffin Sheriff Arrested,
Says He Has Been Harassed

Magoffin County Sheriff Thomas Salyer was arrested last Wednesday on a charge of failing to appear before a federal grand jury in Frankfort, Aug. 18.

A spokesman for the U.S. marshal's office said Salyer appeared before U.S. District Judge Bernard T. Moynahan and was released on $50,000 bond.

The sheriff said that he entered a hospital on Aug. 17 and that his office notified U.S. Attorney Pat Molloy in Lexington.

"They knew I was in the hospital because someone from the attorney's office called to check," Salyer said. "They and the FBI have been harassing me for the last couple of months."

Of the arrest, The Salyersville Independent reported in its Sept. 14 edition:

The Independent was told the special federal grand jury was assembled for the sole purpose of hearing testimony concerning alleged activities by the former sheriff Patrick, although the activities or any findings were not disclosed.

Sheriff Thomas Salyer phoned the Salyersville Independent Wednesday afternoon to advise the newspaper that his bond had been set at $50,000 cash or $100,000 personal property by Judge Moynahan. He was lodged in the Franklin County Jail at the time pending his release upon filling bond.

He will be forced to appear before the federal grand jury on Monday, September 18.

Salyer said the warrant for his arrest resulted after he was served with a subpoena last Friday and he advised the U.S. Marshals that he was still under the care of his doctor and wouldn't promise he could appear on the specified date.

"I have certainly been harassed in this matter. According to the warrant it stated that I refused to appear the first time I was summoned, but the fact is, they know I was definitely in the hospital and was unable to appear."

"From what I've gathered thus far, I feel I have grounds to file a suit concerning my rights and I'm already in the process of consulting a lawyer. I'll not take this sitting down. My rights have not only been abused but they have severely injured my character," Salyer said.

Salyer said the incident of his arrest was just "a drop in the bucket" compared to how they have harassed him in the past few months.

He said he would tell it all to the Independent in time for next week's issue. "I'll spill the beans. I don't care what their titles are or who they work for. I'm more than willing to cooperate with them. After all, they are supposed to represent what I'm upholding and enforcing (the law) as sheriff of Magoffin county. But that doesn't give them the right to harass anyone," Salyer concluded.

VOTE FOR ALBERT SHEPHERD
For Secretary-Treasurer District 30
Thursday, September 28, 1978

Dear Sir & Brother:

I would like to take this opportunity to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Secretary-Treasurer of District 30, United Mine Workers of America.

I am a Union Coal Miner and a member of Local Union 1741. I have served as Financial Secretary for the past three (3) years and Chairman of both the Mine and Safety Committee for the past five (5) years. I also serve on the Burial Committee. I am a third generation Union Coal Miner. My father is a retired Union Miner and a 37 year member of Local Union 7788 at David, Ky.

I was a delegate to the United Mine Workers 47th Constitutional Convention and the District 30 Constitutional Convention held in March of this year. I have been active in Local Union 1741, as well as District 30.

I actively seek your support and the support of your membership for election to the office of Secretary-Treasurer. If elected, I will dedicate myself to honest, efficient service for all of the membership of District 30, not just a select few. I will be the kind of officer the membership can depend on, not just during office hours, or when it is convenient, but at any time the officers or the membership of this District need assistance.

If elected I will work full-time to:

- Recover the several thousand dollars the International Dues System owes District 30 and the Local Unions.
- With the help of the membership and Local Union officers, work toward a massive Organizing Drive in District 30.
- Send a full Financial Report to each Local Union every six months, including itemized listings of salaries and expenses, so the membership will know how their Dues Money is being spent.
- Make myself available to the membership by attending Local Union meetings and visiting mine portals and bathhouses.

Fraternally yours,

Water Commissioners Appointed

At last Tuesday's meeting of the Floyd county fiscal court County Judge Executive Yvonne S. Jones appointed Delmas Saunders, of Abbott Creek as water commissioner with the Abbott-Little Paint Water District. Saunders, (at left in photo) whose appointment was unanimously approved by the fiscal court, replaces retiring water commissioner John T. Hill for a two-year term. Also pictured with Judge Jones is W.L. Baldrige, (second from right) who was reappointed for a term of four years, and Tom Hereford, III, whose reappointment for a term of three years was also approved by the court.

Ohio Man Jailed In Truck Theft

Before Prestonsburg Police could investigate a report Thursday night that a person was "messing around" with new trucks at the Music-Carter-Hughes Chevrolet Buick Sales here, the person had driven off with a 1978 Chevy pickup. The man was not to get far, however, as Prestonsburg Police Sgt. Darrell Conley, who had been alerted by radio as to the description of the vehicle stopped the truck and its driver in the area of the Strand Theatre.

Upon further investigation, it was discovered that the man, Billy Ray Bowen, of Ohio, was wanted in Virginia, Ohio and West Virginia for auto theft. Bowen is wanted in all three states for allegedly stealing vehicles and driving them to Kentucky, there to be apparently stripped of parts or sold, it was reported. The investigation also uncovered a 1978 Ford truck which had allegedly been stolen from Ohio.

Bowen was charged with theft by unlawful taking and lodged at the county jail here.

Others booked at the jail, charges against each, and arresting officers follow:

Jimmie Harmon, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis, Chuck Akers and L. Goble; Howard Chaffins, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policeman Kilgore; Bobby Osborne, drunk driving, by State Trooper Castle; Brennan Hamilton, a.w.o.l., by Sheriff Doug Lewis; John M. Hall, drunk driving, by State Trooper T. D. Hall; Alvin Branham, parole violation, by Deputy Sheriff Randall Lewis; Lee Griffith, first degree rape, by Jailer; Harvey Caudill, Jr., theft by unlawful taking, by Deputy Sheriffs Don and Jack Nelson; Herman Leslie Adams, assault in first degree, by State Trooper Nickles; Charles R. Lewis, drunk driving and resisting arrest, by Prestonsburg Policeman Darrell Conley; Donald Leckrone, parole violation and contempt of court, by Prestonsburg Policeman Darrell Conley; Melvin Shepherd, wanton endangerment in first degree, by Deputy Sheriff Larry D. Goble; Robert Bryant, drunk driving and carrying concealed deadly weapon, by Prestonsburg Policeman Lawson; John T. Hunt, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriffs Randall Lewis and Chuck Akers; Tony M. Davis, drunk driving, by Curtis T. Blackburn; Randall Stapleton, drunk driving, by State Trooper Bevins; Joe Johnson, drunk driving, by State Trooper T. D. Hall; Harvey Caudill, Jr., theft by unlawful taking, by Deputy Sheriff Ollie Leslie; Jeffery Kirk, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriff Ollie Leslie; Phillip M. Blanton, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policemen Lawson and Wells; Ed Parsons, drunk driving, by Sheriff Doug Lewis; Paul D. Salyers, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policemen Lawson and Wells; Thomas Hall, drunk driving, by State Trooper Shelton; Junior Hall, drunk driving, by State Trooper Shelton; Ernie Bush, criminal attempt, by State Trooper Weedman; Chester Garrett, concealed deadly weapon, by State Trooper Shelton, and Joe Conn, drunk driving, by State Trooper Shelton.

Losing Streak Continues For Blackcats and Trojans

Prestonsburg Blackcats suffered their second loss of the season last Friday night while Wheelwright was dropping its fourth. The Betsy Layne Bobcats picked up a win over Knott County Central, however.

The Blackcats traveled to Johnson Central and lost to the Golden Eagles, 12-0. Johnson Central did all its scoring in the first half, while the Blackcats threatened to score only once. Johnson Central's defense halted Prestonsburg after the Blackcats got to the one-yard line.

The Cats will face another stiff opponent Friday night when they travel to Jackson to take on the undefeated Breathitt County Bobcats.

Wheelwright's Trojans traveled to Greenup to face the highly rated Greenup team, which is class 4-A. Wheelwright is class 1-A. Wheelwright lost, 40-14. Wheelwright will entertain the Betsy Layne Bobcats Thursday night and on Saturday the Trojans will travel to Kenton, Tennessee.

The young Betsy Layne Bobcats won over Knott County Central by a score of 22-0.

This week's schedule:

THURSDAY—Betsy Layne at Wheelwright, Johnson Central at Lewis County.

FRIDAY—Prestonsburg at Breathitt Co., Virgie at Paintsville, East Carter at Rowan Co., West Carter at Morgan Co., Boyd Co. at Ashland, Fairview at Raceland.

Last week's scores:

Johnson Central 12, Prestonsburg 0. Greenup Co., 40. Wheelwright 14. Pikeville 26. Fleming Neon 12. Boyd Co. 26. Coal Grove 18. Ashland 56. Fairview 13. East Carter 14. Lawrence Co. 0. Russell 7. Montgomery Co. 6. Betsy Layne 22. Knott Central 0. Paintsville 57. Jenkins 6.

Age of Chivalry Alive And Well in Floyd Co.

Monday night's softball game between the Kiwanis Club here and the Women's All-Star team ended in a surprisingly close 12 to 11 victory for the ladies. This, following a 11-0 lead held by the Kiwanians in the seventh inning, led some to observe that apparently the age of chivalry is not yet dead in Floyd county.

Manis Gray, of Lancer Addition, Prestonsburg, was named winner of the 1978 Monte Carlo given away by the Kiwanis Club at the conclusion of the game.

Proceeds from donations taken for the game and other sources will go to the Stewart Wright Fund.

Church League Meet Scheduled at Allen

The Big Sandy Church Basketball League will have a meeting at the Allen United Methodist Church at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 1. All pastors and coaches are being urged to attend.

Bob Hughes, of Allen, is president of the league, and further information may be had by calling him at 874-2705.

Weeksbury Team Wins

The Weeksbury men's softball team is the winner of the Feds' Creek Invitational held in Pike county.

Weeksbury received the first-place trophy after winning five games played, Sept. 17.

Two individual trophies were given the home run trophy to Tom Murphy, and the Most Valuable Player to the pitcher, Gary D. Johnson.

Goins Festival To Feature Sparks, Stanley, Others

Following the success of his July Bluegrass festival, Melvin Goins, along with Larry Sparks, will present the second annual Fall Bluegrass Festival at Archer Park, here, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 22-23.

Besides Goins and the Lonesome Ramblers, the show will be headlined by Ralph Stanley and the Clinch Mountain Boys who will perform on Saturday. Also scheduled to perform are the Russell Brothers, Outdoor Plumbing Company, Frog and the Greenhorns, South Salyers band, Goins Brothers Second Edition and others.

The festival, which will begin at 5 p.m. Friday, will provide plenty of free parking and camping with some hookups, clean restrooms, concessions, and good security around the clock. The festival site also has a large shelter to insure that performances will not be delayed by the possibility of rain.

If this is your only retirement fund you probably can't afford to retire!

An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) will help assure your financial security.

Social Security simply isn't enough to afford a comfortable retirement. It is a semi-fixed income and therefore cannot adequately keep pace with rising prices and unexpected personal needs.

You'll be amazed at how much can be accumulated with IRA. For example, if a 30 year old begins an IRA account now with an annual contribution of $1,500.00, by age 59½ he or she would accumulate $161,968.44 towards retirement.

When you retire, you'll want much more than Social Security can provide. That's why IRA makes so much sense.

We strongly recommend IRA to our customers as a sound investment program. It is safe and prudent. So, if you are not now participating in a pension plan where you work, call the IRA Representative at 886-9101 for a complete explanation and everything you'll need to start your Individual Retirement Account, today.

An Individual Retirement Account is long-term, high-interest, high-yield savings account. Each year you may voluntarily deposit the lesser of 15% of annual earnings or $1,500.00. These funds are fully tax deductible.

"Famous Kentuckians"

THOMAS WALKER: SURVEYOR AND EXPLORER

by Lynn Evans

Thomas Walker is credited as the first white man to build a house in Kentucky. He named the Cumberland River and made his knowledge about Cumberland Gap available to travelers to the Kentucky territory.

Born in 1715 in Virginia, Walker was a physician, surveyor, negotiator of treaties and guardian for Thomas Jefferson. Though educated as a physician at William and Mary College, Walker spent much of his life as a surveyor.

Walker led a surveying team to Kentucky in 1750 to survey 800,000 acres for the Loyal Land Company and select areas suitable for settlement.

Following the Warrior's Path, the party came to a seemingly impassable rock wall. Looking far to the east they saw an opening in the mountains.

Walker recorded in his journal, dated April 13, 1750, the first written description of Cumberland Gap, known at that time as Cave Gap. He wrote, "On the North side of the Gap is a large Spring, which falls very fast, and just above the Spring is a small entrance to a large Cave, which the Spring runs through... The Mountain on the North Side of the Gap is very steep and rocky, but on the South side it is not so."

This "door left open by nature" was a sharp break in the Appalachians through which many thousands of pioneers would pass on their way west.

Walker found coal on the banks of Yellow Creek. Though not significant at the time, the discovery would bring riches to the people in the mountains more than 100 years later and would result in towns being built along the path he took.

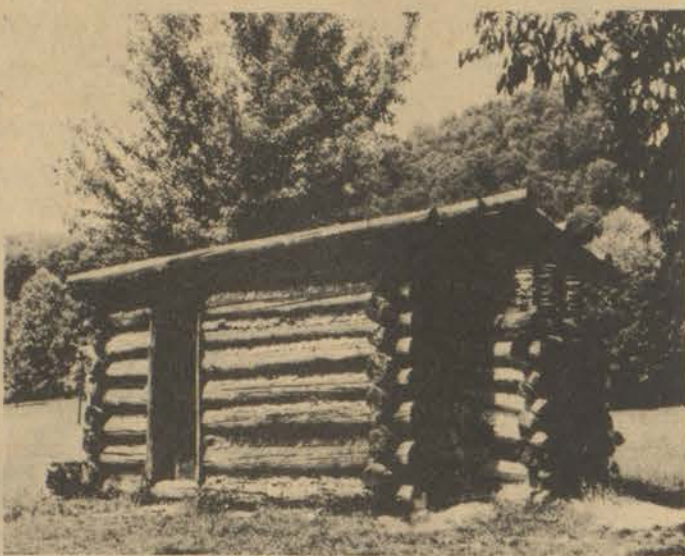

He named the Cumberland River for the English Duke of Cumberland, a hero to many because of his victory in leading an army at Culloden several years before. When Walker and his party crossed the Cumberland, they found a sizable bottom of fertile land. This was five miles from the present town of Barbourville. He left three of his men to build a cabin and plant corn and peach stones while he took the rest of the men to explore more territory. What he found was poor farm and grazing land.

Disappointed, the surveying party returned after four months in the wilderness. They traveled 200 miles of the most difficult mountains and trackless forests in the Kentucky territory. Walker had bogged down in the rugged hills of eastern Kentucky when he was only a short distance from the rolling bluegrass country.

On this journey to the land beyond the Appalachians, Walker traveled closely the route that the future Wilderness Road would follow. He had charted the easiest entry into the Kentucky territory as well as a large portion of land unknown to white men. He supplied invaluable details about licks, terrain, streams and Indian trails. He also left the cabin to be used as a base by future explorers.

Today there is a replica of the cabin that Walker's men built at Dr. Thomas Walker State Shrine near Barbourville. The park contains picnic tables, playgrounds and a gift shop.

This is a replica of the first house in Kentucky to be built by a white man. It is in Dr. Thomas Walker State Shrine at Barbourville.

Mining Probe Finds Nothing Illegal, Claim

Attorney General Robert Stephens said last week that no evidence of criminality has been found in the investigation by his office of reports of payoffs by coal-mining interests to state employees and others.

The investigation, which began nine months ago, is basically complete, Stephens said.

"But it's a limited, ongoing investigation and may not be finished until another month," he said.

The attorney general said the probe has been conducted by assistant attorneys general and staff investigators, and he has been apprised of progress orally.

"There will be nothing in writing until it's over," he said. "But at this point, there is no indication there are any violations of the law."

Stephens added, "This is one of those types (of investigations) where you run down a lot of hearsay and rumors, and we have done that."

The investigation was requested by Gov. Julian Carroll, who had been asked to take action by then-Natural Resources Secretary Robert Bell.

Neither Bell nor the governor ever made clear exactly what was being investigated.

But a letter from Bell to the governor last November emphasized the question of strip mine permit fees, indicating he had heard various rumors about possible law violations.

Carroll told the attorney general that reports imply "any misconduct would involve complex factual material and may well cross judicial circuit boundaries and thereby demand greater authority than possessed by any individual commonwealth's attorney."

This reference seemed to suggest perhaps overweight coal trucks were involved, since they cross county lines. But authorities were never specific.

Bell also indicated that previous referrals of allegations to local prosecutors did not produce investigations that were intensive enough; hence a state-sponsored inquiry was needed.

Stephens said yesterday that the investigation has not been confined to strip mines.

"It involves generally rumors that money has been paid for favors," he said without elaboration.

The attorney general said the investigation has focused on coal activities in Eastern Kentucky rather than in the Western Kentucky.

Annual Fellowship Slated at Shawnee For Work, Seminar

Tomakaken Lodge of the Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its annual fall fellowship and work weekend at Camp Shawnee this week-end (September 22-24). The Scouts will participate in ceremonies, training seminars, a lodge business meeting, and work to improve the camp. Among work to be continued or completed are work on the new Order of the Arrow cabin, construction of a water line to the chapel, and replacement of the roofs on the main lodge and the ranger's residence.

Forty or more Arrowmen are expected to attend the weekend, the cost of which is $4 per person for meals. Chris Smith, an Eagle Scout member of Troop 91, Jackson, is OA lodge chief.

Celebrates Birthday

Angela Dawn Boyd, of Betsy Layne, celebrated her 5th birthday Aug. 27, receiving many gifts from friends and relatives. A cake made by her mother was enjoyed by visitors.

The special activity of the day was a picnic at Dewey lake, which was enjoyed by Miss Boyd's parents, Randall and Donna Boyd, and her brother Randy and baby sister Shonna Ann.

Miss Boyd is the granddaughter of Morris and Golda Boyd, of Betsy Layne. Her great-grandfather, B.P. Boyd, also lives in Betsy Layne. Her great-grandmothers are Mrs. Vincent Williams, of Murfreesboro, Tenn. and Ocie Parsons, of Harold.

Ten Commandments Committee Meets

The committee appointed to help education officials implement the Ten Commandments bill met Tuesday for the first time.

The eight-member committee is assisting the Department of Education in the implementation of House Bill 156, which provides that copies of the Ten Commandments be placed in all of Kentucky's public school classrooms. Funds to implement the law must come from private contributions to the state treasury, according to the legislation.

An attorney general's opinion issued last week indicated that the law is constitutional and that local groups may donate copies of the Ten Commandments to local school districts for distribution to the schools.

About $500 has been donated to the state education department for printing costs of the copies, Shirley Williamson said. Williamson, head of the Office of Communication Services, was appointed by Superintendent of Public Instruction James B. Graham to oversee implementation of the act and coordinate the committee.

Notice To All U.M.W.A. Members District 30

I would like to take this opportunity to remind you of our District 30 election, Thursday, September 28, 1978.

This is the time that you, the membership, will be in charge of electing, for office of Secretary Treasurer of District 30, the person that you can be confident in, who will strive for you in every way possible.

I am a graduate of Fed's Creek High School and attended Kentucky Business College at Pikeville, Kentucky. My only employment has been in the coal industry, except for the time spent in the United States armed forces. I am the son of Reverend Curtis Justice who is a retired member of Local Union 8045.

I have been active in the Local union as mine Committeeman, Financial Secretary, and Vice-President. I also served as a delegate to the 47th Congressional Convention. I am a member of Local union 2267.

If I am elected your District 30 Secretary Treasurer I will be available day or night to serve both active and retired members to the best of my ability.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.
Best wishes and kindest regards to you and your membership.

Fraternally yours,

Bobby Ray Justice

Vice President L. U. 2267.

AUCTION NO. 1: 10: A.M. EDT on the premises, about seven miles east of Mt. Sterling on the Spencer Pike and Hope Road near Antioch Church in Montgomery County, Kentucky. Farm contains about 112 acres and is improved with one two-story farm house, one eight-bent tobacco barn, one three-bent stock barn, one double corn crib, one hay shed. Tobacco base for 1978 is 5,278 lbs. Average fencing, watered by pond, creek and spring; lays extra good.

AUCTION NO. 2: 11:30 A.M. EDT on the premises. Two houses and lots located in Camargo about five miles southeast of Mt. Sterling in Montgomery County, Kentucky on Highway No. 460 across from Mt. Sterling National Bank. House No. 1 has four rooms, one bath, city water and gas. House No. 2 has three rooms, one bath, city water and gas.

AUCTION NO. 3: 2:00 P.M. EDT on the premises. 123 1/2 acre farm located about seven miles east of Owingsville near Olympia in Bath County, Kentucky on Kentucky Highway 36. Farm improved with one farm house, two four-bent tobacco barns, one three-bent stock barn, one crib, average fencing and long road frontage. Tobacco base for 1978 is 2,107 lbs. New city water line in front. Two springs and creek. About 75 acres in good grass and cropland and rest in timberland.

All three sales can be shown by appointment with Ira Potter, real estate broker, Mt. Sterling, Kentucky. (606) 498-1609.

Young Democrats Plan First Meeting

Plans are being made for the organization of the Floyd County Young Democrats. The Floyd county group will be part of the National Organization of Young Democrats. For membership in the organization, an individual must be a registered Democrat in the county and be between the ages 18-35.

Chris Conn, the individual responsible for organizing here in the county, states "It seems such a loss that our young Democrats here in Floyd county have not played a more important role in the party."

Anone interested in becoming a member should contact Chris Conn at 478-9799 after 3:30 p.m. or come to the first meeting at the Floyd county courthouse Thursday, Sept. 21 at 7:00 p.m.

Five new national cemeteries are scheduled to be opened by the Veterans Administration in the next three years. Located in California, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia, they will provide nearly 1.6 million additional gravesites.

Fairest of All in the Fall

Balanced beauty—that's Kentucky. A winter that can be wild as a mustang and sweet and soft as a plum blossom. A green spring laced with golden music and then a greener summer with velvet skies. But a Kentucky autumn!

Down in Fulton and Bowling Green leaves are edging themselves with rouge and eye shadow, while up in Covington and Ashland they already are swinging and dancing in colored and ruffled splendor.

Autumn is the sound of squirrels cutting on high ridges, of crows cawing from hill to hill, of mists making foam pockets in the hollows until midmorning and rising again at night to shape pillows, ermine soft and sparkled with dew.

When autumn knocks at summer's door, it is a man with fishing gear, a golf club, a brimmed hat to shade his eyes from the brightness—and sometimes a hunting gun. It can be a woman with crisp, rustly skirts with a bit of a flirt in her eyes, a farm woman in her yard enjoying the purple asters and yellow daisies or gazing at her garden, dry and brittle where days ago bright lobed jewels hung on vines and tender grapes shared space with things low on the ground.

Autumn might be a towhead with school books in one hand and a football in the other—and it might be his sister, also with books in one arm and a football or basketball in the other. They rush to meet the Kentucky autumn on rubber-soled feet, welcoming its early coming and hoping for Indian summer.

In Frankfort and Lexington, Owensboro and Louisville, autumn paves sidewalks with sun and sometimes with leaves softened by a slow-falling rain.

Autumnal warmth gilds faces and gold-leaf hair and bronzes memories. The season that colors Kentucky highways is hovering about, ready to use umbered shadows to emphasize brilliance. Scarlet berries are falling from dogwoods and purple clusters bend pokeberry bushes to the ground, spilling wine-colored ink and flavoring the air with a heady earthiness.

In Letcher county minnows are gold slashes in Kingdom Come and in Rowan muskies are tigers, toothed and wild in Cave Run, and in Green River trees cast autumn shadows too deep to plumb with anything but goldenrod, ironweed and coneflowers.

Be a part of autumn in Kentucky. Ride a rusty trail or walk a dew-drenched path or stand on an overlook in Pike county and survey the uncommon loveliness of fall.

In Pulaski county store up bits of Autumn that dangle bronze cups of Queen Anne's lace along sideroads and reflect daisy faces from Lake Cumberland's blue water.

Pick up that football or camera or walking stick and like the towhead, get a move on to absorb all the sights, winey fragrances, parchment crispness and rusty sounds that combine in perfect balance to make the Commonwealth the fairest of all...in the fall.

Secretary-Treasurer, Dist. 30

Dear Sir and Brother:

I take this opportunity to introduce myself as a candidate for District 30 Secretary-Treasurer to fulfill the vacancy of Julius Mullins, who is now Chairman of the Board Trustee of the Health and Retirement Fund, and personal and very close friend of mine and my family.

I am a coal miner and a graduate of Pikeville College with a Master's degree, yet I chose to work in the coal industry since it's a tradition of my father, brothers, and family on both sides of my parents. I have served as Recording Secretary of Local Union 8100 for the past 5 years.

I am asking your support and nomination in my endeavor, for I feel I can do a good job and help you and this membership in many ways because of my education, experience, and above all my desire to serve the membership of District 30.

In closing, I want to assure you I will do everything in my power to make you a good and honest District Secretary-Treasurer, and I can work with anyone elected, or whoever may be elected in the future.

Come out and vote Thursday, September 28, 1978.

Best wishes and kindest regards to you and your membership.

A friend,

Group Studies Maxey Flats

A legislative advisory committee gathered in Fleming last week to plot the fate of the Maxey Flats burial site for radioactive waste.

The 10 members present of the 11-member panel represented government, the academic world and the public.

The committee members, joined by state officials and news reporters, toured the 250-acre dumping ground for low-level radioactive wastes. They were guided by scientists and officials of Nuclear Engineering Co. of Louisville.

After a discussion of the technical and public policy problems associated with Maxey Flats, the interim Special Advisory Committee on Radioactive Waste Disposal agreed to split into two subcommittees to continue study.

One subcommittee will review the current and near-term technical status of the site and necessary studies.

The other will look for ways to finance the cost of perpetual maintenance, which according to some estimates could be half a million dollars a year.

Among the questions facing the committee is how the state will pay for the eternal care of about 4.9 million cubic feet of radioactive materials and ensure continual protection of the environment and public from the hazards.

"Nobody ever said it was going to be cheap," said state Finance Department counsel Charles Wickliffe, a member of the committee. "The commonwealth...undertook this ultimate responsibility (in 1962) and this is what it's got and it's just going to have to live with it."

"This site is safe," said NECo president James N. Neel Jr. as he greeted committee members and television reporters' cameras at the isolated burial ground near Flemingsburg. "Unfortunately, it has been caught up in the nuclear power controversy."

State Rep. Pete Worthington, D-Ewing, led the committee in a later meeting at the Flemingsburg High School. The discussion there ranged from a review of the state's recent purchase of the site from NECo to the uncertain long-term future of Maxey Flats, both from a scientific and a government policy standpoint.

The state closed the site last December after a two-year public controversy over the release of small amounts of radioactivity from the site and leakage of radioactive water from some trenches.

NECo, which had owned and operated the site under a state lease since 1963, remains closely involved in the operation under a state contract to maintain the burial ground and to dispose of accumulated radioactive rainwater.

Despite criticism of the purchase agreement from some members, Worthington said the arrangement was worth it for no other reason than it gave the state tighter control over the site. "The premise now is that we won't dump any more there until we can prove it is safe."

But he noted many unknowns surround the issue, including the future role of the federal government regarding such sites and the long-term environmental and safety impacts.

"The contract just makes it the commonwealth's problem today instead of 30 years from now," said Worthington.

CF Fund Raising Underway in County

Most people don't realize that there are millions of children in the U.S. affected by lung-damaging diseases. For some of these children breathing is a struggle, rather than the natural function we, who are lucky, take for granted.

The "Breath of Life" campaign will support not only research, but diagnosis and treatment of children with lung-damaging diseases in C-F centers across the country. There are more than 110 of these centers, which also provide for educational programs and research.

The "Breath of Life" months are September and October with a door-to-door drive scheduled during that time. The volunteers will be wearing a "Breath of Life" identification tag.

(Fund-raising activities for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation are underway in Floyd county and a bike-a-thon is set for Sept. 30 in the Prestonsburg area. Information on the bike-a-thon may be obtained by calling 886-2513. Fund drive chairman in Allen, McDowell and Wayland include Glenna Bradford, Mrs. Denzil Hall, and Priscilla Webb, respectively.)

★ Kentucky Afield ★

By JOHN WILSON

September marks both the start of a new school year and time to begin thinking seriously about fall plantings of wildlife food and cover plots.

Although these two facets of fall seem unrelated, they are not to Jimmy May, a wildlife biologist with the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

May's primary job is to interest youth groups in wildlife habitat improvement projects, to find landowners willing to let the groups do some wildlife work on an odd acre or two and to give technical guidance and advice.

Now is the time these groups need to get together and start planning their projects, May says, if they want to have time for fall plantings of such wildlife foods as clover or winter wheat.

This program, which is now entering its second full season (it was initiated in January, 1977) continues to progress and receive increasing interest from youth groups, May says. His most active participants are 4-H and FFA chapters, since they are farm oriented and usually have no problem finding lands on which to carry out wildlife management practices.

But May welcomes any group—from 6th grade through high school—which has an interest in wildlife and a desire to learn wildlife management by actually doing some. (A limited amount of money (from $5 to $250) is available to reimburse the youth group for such items as seed, fertilizer, lime, soil tests or fencing.)

May would also like to hear from farm owners who can spare an acre or two, since he sometimes has groups with no place to work. He emphasizes that almost all farms have a few corners, a field border or other spots not suitable for crops or pasture which could be planted (or sometimes just fenced and let alone) to benefit wildlife. Many sportsman's clubs also own land that could be managed for wildlife, May says, and he would like to hear from them as well.

Although most habitat improvement projects are aimed specifically at farm game species, such as quail, rabbits and doves, May points out that food plots, tall grass areas and fence row plantings also benefit many desirable non-game species such as song birds and insect-eating birds.

Another major aim of the program is to introduce young people—particularly those who will be our future landowners—to the needs of wildlife and to the techniques for meeting these needs. "Many modern agricultural practices reduce wildlife habitat," May says, "so it's becoming more and more important to provide additional food and cover for wildlife. We hope this program's major benefit will be realized in the future, when these youngsters grow up and start managing their own farms."

Any interested youth group, landowner, club or individual can obtain additional details on this program by writing Jimmy May, Div. of Game Management, Dept. of Fish and Wildlife Resources, 592 E. Main, Frankfort, KY 40601.

Citizens' Comment Sought On Strip-Mine 'Danger Areas'

The state Division of Orphan Lands is seeking comment from citizens who have knowledge of "extreme danger areas" resulting from strip mining operations.
 According to division director Tim Koch, the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection will use these public comments in applying for federal funding. The second round funding will be used to reclaim abandoned mine lands or orphan lands in Kentucky.
 Funding for the first round, applied for in May by the department, is expected to be approved within the next two weeks, Koch said.
 "People who live on or near these problem sites are far more familiar with the conditions that exist as a result of past strip mining, and we would like to identify for consideration as many sites as possible," Koch said.
 He said the appropriation the state would receive would be based on the number of sites that qualify as extreme danger areas.

According to Koch, some examples of extreme danger areas are:
 —Property damage caused by flooding from creeks that are filled with silt as a result of strip mining.
 —Potential slides located above buildings or personal property.
 —Burning gob piles causing severe air pollution problems near residences.
 —Water impoundments of questionable safety upstream from houses or developments.
 All public comments will be considered by the Division of Orphan Lands and a final decision will be made by the U.S. Office of Surface Mining as to whether the site will qualify for federal funding.
 Persons wishing to comment should call or write: The Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, Division of Orphan Lands, 6th floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, Phone 502-2041.

The annual fall drawdown of Grayson Lake began Monday in preparation for the flood season.
 A Corps of Engineers' representative said the lake will be lowered eight feet at a rate of about 0.10 foot per day. Water will be discharged approximately 90 cubic feet per second.
 It is expected that the drawdown will be completed by December 1.

How to stop wondering about your next electric bill.
 If you'd like to smooth out the ups and downs of your electric bill, we have a way. It's called the Equal Payment Plan. And it's simple. We average out your electric usage and bill you a fixed amount each month based on that average. You'll continue to receive a bill each month showing your actual usage, but you'll pay the fixed amount. The twelfth month is "settle-up" or final payment month. We'll automatically review your account every six months, so that you'll know whether your electricity costs are going up, or down, or staying about the same. If an electric bill you can budget for sounds like a good idea (and it does appeal to a lot of our customers), simply contact us. We'll take it from there.

Lexington, Louisville Crime Decrease Below U.S. Average

Crime in Kentucky's two major urban areas decreased by a greater margin than the national average during the first six months of 1978 over the same period in 1977.

While serious crime decreased by two percent nationwide over the first six months of this year, Lexington and Louisville both reported approximate nine percent drops in their serious crime figures, according to the Uniform Crime Report just released by the FBI.

Lexington reported a drop in their serious crime rate of slightly more than nine percent, while Louisville reported a drop of just under nine percent.

Of the seven reporting categories, both cities showed decreases in five categories.

The figures for Lexington show that murders dropped from 12 over the first six months of 1977 to four over the first six months of this year. Forcible rapes dropped from 40 to 25. Reported robberies rose, however, from 107 to 133. Aggravated assault also rose from 240 to 251.

Lexington burglaries fell from 1,675 during the first half of 1977 to 1,516 the first half of this year. Larceny-theft fell from 4,502 to 4,047 and motor vehicle theft decreased from 293 to 265.

Louisville figures show that murder fell from 39 the first half of last year to 26 during the same period this year. Reported forcible rapes rose from 66 to 74. Robbery decreased from 573 to 547.

Aggravated assault rose in Louisville from 290 over the first six months of 1977 to 303 this year. Burglary declined from 2,871 to 2,510. Larceny-theft fell from 4,622 to 4,360 and motor vehicle theft decreased from 1,093 to 920.

Nationwide, the FBI report shows that forcible rape rose five percent, aggravated assault rose three percent, robbery decreased two percent and murder showed no change. Larceny-theft showed a four percent decline and burglary and motor vehicle theft each decreased one percent.

The report shows that serious crime in the south decreased only one percent this reporting period.

State Justice Secretary John L. Smith said he is pleased, but not surprised, that the serious crime rate of Kentucky's two major urban areas decreased by a far larger percentage than the national average.

"The criminal justice system here in Kentucky has made great strides in recent years," Smith said. "We have in operation a statewide crime prevention program that is being copied in many other states across the country."

"We have a highly effective Bureau of Training which offers intensive training programs to local police officers throughout the Commonwealth. And, the Kentucky State trooper is one of the most highly trained law enforcement officers in the country."

"Law enforcement and the protection of the public is a unified effort in Kentucky," Smith said.

OUTDOOR LORE

by Neyle Shackelford
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY • COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

A few years ago while serving as a photographer at the wedding of a friend, the church where the event was held was decorated entirely with wildflowers. Why I was so amused at what I saw, I do not know, but among the floral decorations which included goat's beard, honeysuckle, toothache tree, beard tongue, fern and other wildflowers of the more plentiful species, I spotted the white umbels of water hemlock.

of six feet, has a purple streaked stem, alternate pinnately compound leaves and small white flowers arranged in bunches at the top of the stem and the end of branches. It is a member of the parsley family and a close relative to another dangerous plant called poison hemlock. Poison hemlock is not as deadly as water hemlock and can be distinguished from the latter by its more finely divided leaves and long parsleylike root. Its leaves have a rank disagreeable odor that precludes unthoughtful nibbling.

Fortunately few persons are ever poisoned by water hemlock and the same goes for grazing animals. Early spring, when not too much fresh forage is available, or in late fall, when pastures are in poor condition are the most dangerous times for animals. At these times animals will often eat any green stuff available, even herbage that is unpalatable. The thing to do to avoid this is learn to identify poisonous plants like the hemlocks and others, and destroy them before turning livestock out to graze.

The U.S. Forestry Service says there are more than 100 plants in Kentucky that, under certain conditions, may be poisonous. These include house plants, flower garden plants and even rhubarb. But, as in the case of poison ivy, don't let this inhibit your enjoyment of the outdoors. Just don't nibble or eat on anything in the way of wild plants with which you are unfamiliar.

Maybe it was the irony of the thing (something unholy at a holy event) because my good friend Jim Herron, University of Kentucky weed control specialist, calls water hemlock the most poisonous plant in Kentucky.

All parts of the plant are poisonous and for this reason, cicutoxin, no antidote is known. A small piece of the root, says Herron, will kill a cow or a person in a very short time, so let this be a warning—don't nibble on wild plants that you cannot identify as being harmless and don't eat tubers that look like parsnips or small sweet potatoes.

The water hemlock is a stately and attractive plant that usually grows in moist ditchlines and marshy places. Sometimes it reaches a height

Union Looks to Western Coal

The Western coal fields, presently non-union, are due for attention by the United Mine Workers, UMWA president Arnold Miller has indicated.

Recently, the UMWA's interest in Western coal increased when learning that efforts are being stepped up to extract nearly 12 billion tons of lignite...

"It is becoming increasingly obvious that the development of America's Western coal will be a key factor in the resolution of America's energy needs," Arnold Miller, President of the UMWA, stated today.

The review of Western coal reserves will encompass underground and surface mining deposits of all forms of coal which includes the lignite deposits.

Fiscal Court To Meet

The next regular scheduled meeting of the Floyd County Fiscal Court, will be held on Tuesday, September 26, 1978 at 1 p.m., in the Floyd county courthouse annex conference room.

"We have had commissions of the International Executive Board survey Western coal before and I would like to inform our membership and the general public that the UMWA's interest in coal extends to all Western states," Miller added.

The International Executive Board held its July meeting in Denver, to highlight the UMWA's interest in the West. "Western coal, in all its forms, offers great opportunities for the UMWA which we cannot overlook," Miller said.

FUEL ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE

Applicable.

To Tariffs R.S., G.S., L.P., C.P.O., L.C.P., H.T.P., T.P., M.W., E.H.S., E.H.G., S.S. AND C.P.

Rate.

This rate shall provide for periodic adjustment per kilowatt-hour when the unit cost of fuel (F (m) - S (m)) used to meet the Company's Net Energy requirement (S (m)) is above or below the base unit cost of 1.200 cents per kilowatt-hour (F (b) - S (b))...

Adjustment Factor (A) = (F(m) - S(m)) / (F(b) - S(b))

In the above formula, "F" is the expense of fossil fuel in the base (b) and current (m) periods; and "S" is the KWH sales in the base (b) and current (m) periods, all as defined below.

2. Fuel Costs (F) shall be the most recent actual monthly cost, based on weighted average inventory costing, of:

a. Fossil fuel consumed in Kentucky Power Company's generating plants and the Company's share of fossil and nuclear fuel consumed in jointly owned or leased plants...

b. The actual identifiable fossil and nuclear fuel costs associated with energy purchased for reasons other than identified in paragraph (c) below...

c. The net energy cost of energy purchases, exclusive of capacity or demand charges (irrespective of the designation to such transaction) when such energy is purchased on an economic dispatch basis...

d. The cost of fossil fuel recovered through inter-system sales including the fuel costs related to economy energy sales and other energy sold on an economic dispatch basis.

3. The cost of fossil fuel shall include no items other than the invoice price of fuel less any cash or other discounts. The invoice price of fuel includes the cost of the fuel itself and necessary charges for transportation of the fuel from the point of acquisition to the unloading point...

4. Forced outages are all nonscheduled losses of generation or transmission which require substitute power for a continuous period of six (6) hours. Where forced outages are not as a result of faulty equipment, faulty manufacture, faulty design, faulty installations, faulty operation, faulty maintenance, but are Acts of God, riot, insurrection or acts of the public enemy...

5. Sales (S) shall be all kilowatt-hours sold, excluding inter-system sales. Where, for any reason, billed system sales cannot be coordinated with fuel costs for the billing period, sales may be equated to the sum of (i) generation, (ii) purchases, (iii) interchange-in, less (iv) energy associated with pumped storage operations, less (v) system sales referred to in section (2) (d) above, less (vi) total system losses...

6. Sales (S) shall be modified to reflect line losses on the Company's delivery of energy to Kentucky Jurisdictional Customers.

FOR ABOUT THE COST OF BAKING A CAKE, YOU CAN SHARE A 10 MINUTE SLICE OF LIFE. BY LONG DISTANCE.

You can share a lot of sweet memories with someone a thousand miles away. Just dial the 1+ way and talk for ten minutes for only $2.44 plus tax. Any evening Sunday through Friday between 5 PM and 11 PM. These evening rates are lower than rates for long distance calls dialed during weekdays.

Call often. And add a little frosting to a friendship.

Low One-Plus rates do not apply to Zero-Plus dialed long distance calls. Low One-Plus rates do apply to station-to-station calls you dial yourself, talk to anyone who answers and bill to the telephone you are using, and on station-to-station calls placed with an operator where long distance dialing facilities are not available. Low One-Plus rates do not apply to operator-assisted calls such as person-to-person, coin, credit card, collect, and on calls charged to another number, including special billing numbers.
