

Agency Asks Funding Of Abbott Mt. Sites

As the final application for funds for a gigantic renovation job in the town of Wheelwright was being prepared this week the Floyd County Urban Renewal and Community Development Agency was also in the process of filing with HUD an application for funding of site preparation for single-family housing on a 117-acre tract on Abbott Mountain, near here.

The final application for $3 million for the wide-scale Wheelwright program is being made at the invitation of HUD, and this invitation is construed as almost certain approval of the project.

Yet the ownership of most of the town by the Florida-based Mountain Investment Company stands as a barrier to the planned improvement. Unless that company's interests there can be acquired, the community plans cannot reach the work stage, it was said.

Anna Jean Tackett, executive director of the Urban Renewal and Community Development Agency, said Monday that the application on the Abbott Mountain project will be for site development funds. It is proposed that 46 sites for single-family residences be made available on the mountain tract. An application also is being made to the Appalachian Regional Commission for funding assistance.

Mrs. Tackett explained that after sites are developed home construction could be done by a private developer, who in turn would be required to sell the homes within a specific price range, or individuals could build their own homes.

In either case, she said, construction funds would be provided through Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) loans.

The homes are planned for low-to-medium-income families.

The area acquired in 1977 through a HUD grant for the building sites extends from a point near the Cliff bridge to the top of the mountain, excluding the former Spradlin home.

Area Priorities Focus of Meet

Of the multitude of projects which have been proposed and are generally considered much needed in the counties served by the Big Sandy Area Development District (BSADD), it was the task of that organization's board of directors Monday night to begin ranking those projects in an effort to identify which would be of greatest priority in future applications for funding.

The difficult task of assigning priorities is required as part of the district's Regional Comprehensive Improvement Program (RCIP), a program mandated through the state Department for Local Government in response to recommendations made by federal funding agencies, particularly the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Economic Development Administration. The ultimate object of the program and a related program, the Area-wide Action Program (AAP), according to ADD planner Bill Moyer, is to increase the involvement of local officials and citizens in the planning process.

In a recent series of meetings with representatives in each of the five ADD counties, separate lists of projects were compiled and ranked according to their relative importance. From these lists, Moyer pointed out, a "master list" of overall regional objectives will be defined.

Projects were included under seven categories, and in Floyd county's list of

This Town...That World

It may be it's the competition from nature, with yellows, pinks, purples, almost the entire spectrum bursting into view all around, that has caused the brightness of those seed catalog pictures to fade for me in recent weeks. Then there are those who ungraciously contend that my interest in those things to plant has waned as the thermometer has risen.

OBJECT LESSON

If it could be arranged that every person in Floyd county would be forced to stand unprotesting in word or action while a motorcade of "furriners" drove through, tossing cans, bottles, plastic jugs, every imaginable kind of trash, into yards, onto the roads and into the streams, it just might be brought home to us what we ourselves are doing to this beautiful part of America.

A GOOD PLACE TO START

Speaking of pollution, every time I think of those grandiose pronouncements sounded forth from Washington to the effect that every stream in the nation must be cleared by a given date I recall that Washington's own Potomac has been for years and is so filthy today that bathing in it is forbidden. One wonders...

SO ENCOURAGING

When I get discouraged about my own shortcomings, especially about my inability with the spoken word, I turn to television and a baseball or football game, and there find something heartening. Here are men who are pros, paid

1000 Expected To Be Here For Mt. Dew Fest This Week

The 15th annual Mountain Dew Festival, one of the largest collegiate events in Eastern Kentucky, will be held April 19, 20 and 21 at Prestonsburg Community College with approximately 1,000 college students and faculty members representing 10 junior and community colleges in Kentucky.

The three days of competition will feature 38 events, including competition in archery, art, badminton, arm wrestling, backgammon, basketball, bowling, checkers, chess, golf, horseshoes, pool, tug-of-war, talent, tennis, and volleyball. Trophies will be awarded for the first three places in each event.

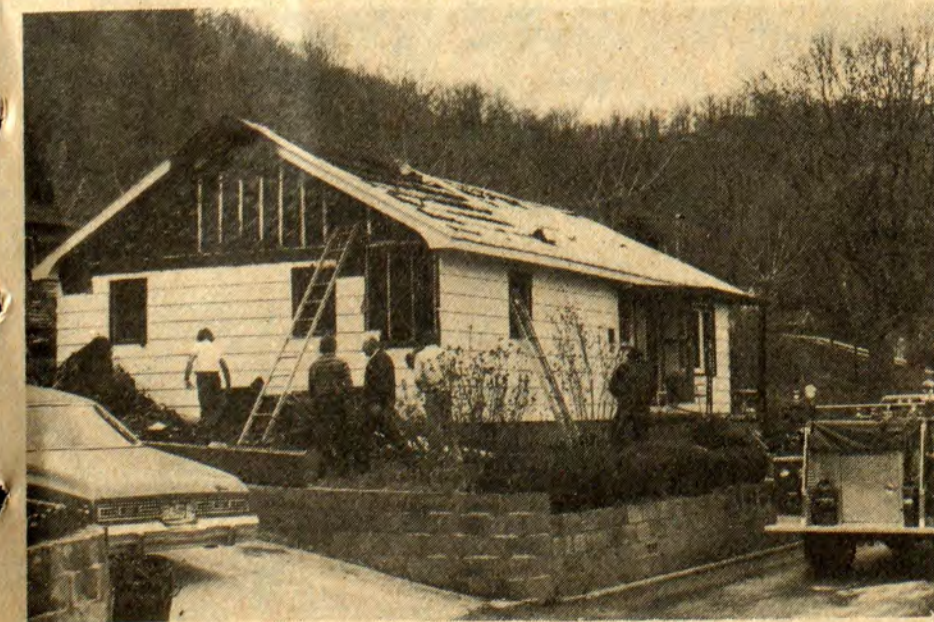

Other activities will include the popular Miss Mountain Dew contest to be held in conjunction with the Talent Contest, Friday, April 20, at 8 p.m. in the college Student Center. A representative from each of the 10 participating colleges will compete and be judged in four categories.

There will be two dances during the festival. Thursday night, "The Arrival Disco" will be playing and they will feature a light show. The annual Mountain Dew Dance will be held on Saturday, with music by the "City Lites". Both will be held in the Martin Student Center.

All activities will be open to the public.

Colleges participating in this year's festival include Lexington Technical Institute, Somerset Community College, Ashland Community College, Alice Lloyd College, Southeast Community College, Hazard Community College, Maysville Community College, Jefferson Community College and the host, Prestonsburg Community College.

GUTTED BY FIRE, Friday on Trimble Branch here, was this single-story frame house owned by Mrs. Ella Vaughn Blackburn. Cause of the blaze, which burned much of the house and destroyed the contents, had not been determined as of this week.

Task Force on Waste May Need More Time

Floyd county's task force on solid waste, now in its third month of work, will probably go beyond the 90-day period originally allotted for a study of the serious garbage situation in the county.

"The farther we get into this thing, the more complicated it gets," one task force member said this week.

The task force has been assigned the job of assessing the countywide situation—which, members say, is "disgraceful"—and then suggesting to the fiscal court a practical means of reversing the trend toward "burying ourselves in filth."

The task force is not yet ready to fill that big order, but it will continue its study.

Meanwhile, the month of May has been proclaimed by County Judge-Executive Yvonne S. Jones as Cleanup and Beautification Month in the county. Appealing to community pride, she asks in a formal proclamation that "all citizens, individually and collectively, cooperate" in this yearly effort. Pointing to the great natural beauty of the county, Judge Jones asked all citizens "to discontinue using the public roads and streams for garbage dumping."

Aside from any troubles the county may be having with those who dump refuse indiscriminately and with the collection and disposal of waste, there remains the unsolved problem of finding one or more landfill sites which may be termed "legal" after their approval by the state.

Up-hollow sites are frowned upon, because they are near small streams that

School Systems Ask More Funds

Floyd county's schools are not alone in their need for additional income. At least three other area county school systems have taken steps which school leaders hope will result in increased taxes for school purposes.

Floyd county's attempt to impose a utilities tax died recently with a public hearing here at which strong protest was registered.

Morgan county has held a hearing on a tax rate increase, and Lawrence county has the issue of a higher rate on the May primary ballot.

The Magoffin Board of Education has set April 25 as the date for a hearing on its proposal to raise the school tax rate from the current 13.2 cents per $100 property valuation to 15 cents. The rate

Jury Votes Kidd 10-Yr. Pen Term

John Melvin Kidd was convicted by a circuit court jury last Wednesday on a first degree robbery count and his pen term was set at 10 years.

Kidd was accused of taking between $600 and $900 from Larry Lyons, of Abbott Creek, allegedly at gunpoint. A juvenile who also had been named in the case appeared as a Commonwealth witness and testified that Kidd committed the robbery.

The defendant and three other witnesses testified, however, that Kidd was in another county at the time of the robbery. Testimony of these witnesses did not coincide at some points.

Donald (Ducky) Newsome was convicted Monday of a first degree wanton endangerment charge and the jury set his term at three years. He was accused of shooting into Giovanni's Restaurant at Lancer following an altercation with the restaurant manager. The defendant denied that he fired the shots into the building. The charge against his brother, Johnny, was dismissed.

The murder trial of Rufus and James Clemmons, Knott county brothers is scheduled to begin here, April 26. The case was sent to the Floyd circuit court for trial on change of venue from the Knott court. The first scheduled trial of the case here resulted recently in continuance to the April 26 date when the brothers' attorney reported ill.

David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross and the Switchblade," will speak Thursday and Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse. Admission is free.

Lower Interest Loans Offered As Bonds Sold

An upsurge in home construction is seen for Floyd county with county-state efforts combining to make money for this purpose available at lower-than-usual interest rates and on a lengthened loan repayment schedule.

First of all, the Kentucky Housing Authority has allocated $2 million to the Bank Josephine which may be loaned to persons in the $16,000-$20,500 income bracket which may be used for either homebuilding or the purchase of existing homes. The maximum loan is $40,000 and may be for a 20-30-year period at 8 1/2 per cent interest. The down payment required of borrowers maybe as low as 5 per cent.

Then last Thursday the sale of Floyd county's residential mortgage bond issue of $18.57 million made available through all three of Prestonsburg's banking institutions $15.375 million for borrowers of up to $80,000 for new home construction only. These loans are available to persons whose income does not exceed $40,000 a year, plus $1,000 for each dependent, at 8.8 per cent interest over a 20-year repayment period. Borrowers, however, will be required to make a cash

Louisville Man Asks $501,000 In Damage Suit

Edward Kallaher, of Louisville, has filed in U.S. district court a suit seeking to recover from Adrian Lafferty, Thomas Lafferty, Jr. and six county officials a total of $501,000 damages allegedly resulting from his having been wounded last Oct. 31 at the Plantation Motel, near here.

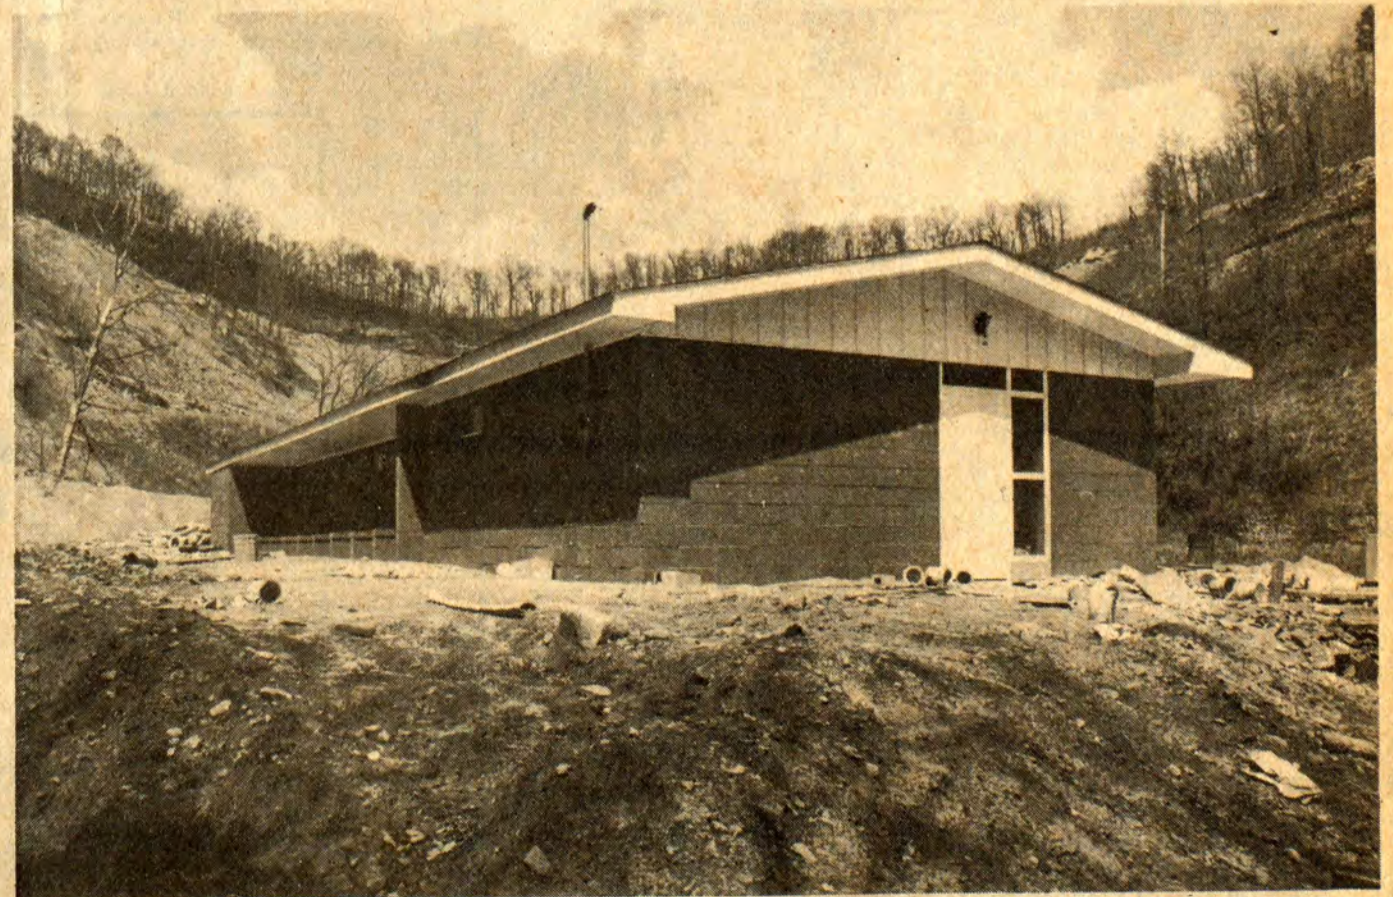

Officials named as defendants with the Laffertys are Sheriff Doug Lewis, County Judge-Executive Yvonne S. Jones and members of the fiscal court, Magistrates Ray Wilcox, Kenneth Roberts, Eddie Caudill and Hershell Hamilton.

Plaintiff alleges that the Laffertys were serving as deputy sheriffs at the time of the shooting and that the incident involved their placing him under arrest, applying force to his person and firing the pistol shot which wounded him. He contends that these two defendants were deputy sheriffs with the "special approval and consent" of the fiscal court and that their acts are imputed to Floyd county and Sheriff Lewis.

Kallaher claims $1000 for medical expenses, $50,000 for physical pain and suffering, $50,000 for humiliation and embarrassment and $400,000 damages.

(Reports of the filing of civil suits present only the plaintiff's version of such cases.)

Animal Shelter Nears Completion

Completion of the animal shelter on the old Middle Creek road near here was said to be 95 per cent complete this week, awaiting only sewage and plumbing work and interior finishing. Located on the site of the former county landfill, the facility will accommodate 18 dogs with separate bays for puppies and cats and kittens. John Burke, Jr., president of the Floyd County Humane Society, said upon completion of the project, a man-wife team would be hired to serve as warden and shelter manager. Burke said the work is expected to be complete by June 1.

W'wright's Hunter Wanted Big-Time Atmosphere of UK Football

By KENNY RICE
Last December Wheelwright's all-area football stars Vic Rhea and James T. Hunter signed Ohio Valley Conference letters of intent with Division I-AA power Eastern Kentucky. The signings meant neither player could sign to play football for another OVC school, however they could sign with another school outside the OVC.

Since then Rhea has signed the national, and binding, letter with EKU, but Hunter has taken a different route. Hunter signed a national letter of intent with the University of Kentucky a couple of months ago.

The 6'4", 235 lbs., Hunter explained his decision to play football at UK, "I always wanted to go there (UK). At the last moment I signed with Eastern, because they have a good program, but when it came time for the national letter to be signed, I chose Kentucky because they have a solid program and I wanted the chance to play major college football."

Hunter played nose guard and fullback at Wheelwright under Coach Don Daniels. At what position does he think the Big Blue will use him? "I was recruited by UK as a nose guard. Coach Curci might use me at defensive end, it depends on my speed whether I'll play nose guard or end."

Curci has Hunter on a weight training program that includes running a mile each day. He'll stay on this program until June when he reports to Lexington for summer training and practice.

Hunter says he feels in good shape now and is "working hard. I'm going to give it my best shot. I like the atmosphere of the UK program and I want to be a part of it."

Hunter is not sure as to what field of study he will pursue at UK, but he is "leaning toward the business administration department."

YAHOO, IT'S MT. DEW

Over a thousand students from a dozen Kentucky two-year colleges will be in the Prestonsburg area within the next 24 hours for the annual Mountain Dew Festival which runs from Thursday through Saturday night.

Mountain Dew is one of Kentucky's largest sports competitions where the emphasis is on the "minor" sports such as badminton, table tennis, horseshoe pitching and volleyball. The participating schools accumulate points for first, second and third place finishes in such varied events as tug-of-war, golf and talent show competition. At the end of the three-day festival, the college with the most points after all the more than twenty events have been finished is the winner of the Brown Jug award, symbol of the Mountain Dew championship. Prestonsburg Community College is the defending champ.

The majority of the competition will take place on the PCC campus, but certain events will be held in the Paintsville-Prestonsburg-Pikeville area. Information on the day, time and place of events can be obtained by contacting Prestonsburg Community College.

A VIP VISIT

George Steinbrenner, owner of the New York Yankees, is scheduled to address the Paintsville-Johnson County Area Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 on May 3 at the Paintsville Country Club. Paintsville professional baseball team is now a Yankee farm club in the Appalachian League.

MUSIC'S AWARDS

Congratulations to Prestonsburg's Dee Dee Music on completing a clean sweep of All-State awards. The 6'1" senior center who averaged 34.6 points and 21.7 rebounds per game this season was recently named to the Courier Journal and Lexington Herald All-State first teams. Earlier, Dee Dee was selected to the Associated Press first unit. Music has signed a letter of intent to play collegiate ball with state women's basketball power Morehead State.

INTRASQUAD

Since Joe Hall became head coach at the University of Kentucky, Blue-White scrimmages in pre-season have been held throughout the Commonwealth giving Wildcat fans an opportunity to see their favorites up close and personal, as one of the network sports departments like to say.

Intrasquad games have been very popular, especially in Eastern Kentucky. Hall's Cats have played pre-season games in our area numerous times.

Last year, the National Collegiate Athletic Association restricted these games to within a 100 mile radius of the campus and limited UK from playing games in certain parts of our region. The NCAA lifted that restriction this year, but the Southeastern Conference has imposed one that does not allow intrasquad games to be played off campus, meaning the Wildcats will not be allowed to travel anywhere in the state next season and knocking many Floyd counties out of their only chance to see UK in person.

Hall and Athletic Director Cliff Hagan are trying to get the SEC to rescind the rule.

AIT FIELD

Seven teams have accepted bids to join host Ashland in the Ashland Invitational Tournament to be played after Christmas.

The 15th Region will be represented by Phelps, which features the state's top scorer Ervin Stepp. Ballard, Oldham county, Franklin county, Richmond Madison, Clay county and Fairview complete the field.

BOURBONS' SCHEDULE

Kentucky's entry in the American Professional Softball League, the Bourbons, have released their 1979 home schedule. All dates are doubleheaders and will be played at Bishop David Field in Louisville, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

May 12-13, Pittsburgh; May 28, Cincinnati; June 2-3, Fort Wayne; June 16-17, New England; June 23-24, Pittsburgh; July 3, Cincinnati; July 7-8, Cincinnati; July 20-21, Cleveland; August 4-5 Fort Wayne.

Victim on Display

This osprey (fish hawk) was the recent victim of an indiscriminate and illegal killing at Grayson Lake, left, explains the incident to Col. James H. Higan, Huntington district engineer. Two fishermen saw an unidentified driver stop his auto, load a shotgun and shoot the bird out of a tree at the lake's edge. They retrieved the osprey and delivered it to Napier who obtained U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service permission to have it mounted for educational purposes. The osprey, a member of the eagle family, is protected under federal law. This victim, with a wing span of about three feet, is on display at Grayson Lake to acquaint people with the bird's coloring and appearance.

Housing Study Delay Voted

The Kentucky Housing Corporation board of directors has agreed to delay—at least temporarily—the proposed statewide housing study after hearing a special committee's recommendations. The committee, chaired by Carroll Knicely, state Commerce Commissioner and a member of the corporation's board of directors, was formed to "review the scope of the study, study all proposals (form consultants) and recommend a course of action to the board."

On April 3, the committee heard the presentations of proposals by two firms who bid to undertake the study project. Research Triangle Institute of North Carolina put the cost for the first phase of the project at $134,112, while Hammer, Siler, George Associates, a Washington, D.C. firm, estimated $234,000 for the first stage.

After hearing the costs and determining the wide scope of the study the board wants to undertake, Knicely's committee recommended the study not be started until "a better defined scope of informational needs is determined by the board of directors."

The committee's report also recommended that the board establish priorities as to what information it wants to get from the study and that the people be done by state universities or by the staff of KHC to reduce the cost.

The proposed study has come under fire recently by some KHC directors. Board member Jack Rhorer, a Frankfort savings and loan president and an outspoken KHC critic in recent months, has called the study "a total waste of money." Rhorer questions the need for the study, the high cost and the wide scope of the project.

The committee also recommended the board request the KHC staff to begin redefining the study by preparing a proposal of a more narrow scope, focusing on the housing delivery systems (the availability of new or existing houses) and availability of financing.

The board reviewed the recommendations made by the committee and voted to file them and to continue reviewing how the study should be made.

KHC Executive Director F. Lynn Luallen agreed with the findings of the Knicely report and said he thought the KHC staff has the "capabilities of developing the necessary information to give you the scope you want."

In other action, resigning board member Robert Hoff described the recent criticism of KHC of giving loans to middle-income families. The board recently voted to establish guidelines which limit the maximum adjusted gross income of a person seeking a loan through KHC to $15,000 a year or $16,500 in 36 eastern Kentucky counties put a ceiling on the price of the house at $40,000 and place an asset limitation so that the person seeking a loan must not have more than one-third of the purchase price in liquid assets.

Hoff criticized the new guidelines saying they were an error that "will be reflected in KHC's inability to serve the lower-income families in the single-family program it was intended to serve."

Hoff called for the removal of the new guidelines and then asked the board to "intelligently and reasonably consider the special committee's recommendation."

The board tabled Hoff's proposal, saying the new guidelines should be given a testing period before any changes were made.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE-EXECUTIVE

The future development of Floyd County is, once again, in our hands this coming election. If we are to achieve our chosen objectives, we must have leadership in our county offices that exhibits qualities of DETERMINATION, MOTIVATION, and SINCERE DESIRE for PROGRESS, GROWTH, and PROSPERITY in this county.

The opportunities of achieving these chosen objectives are abundant and the only shortage of opportunity is the shortage we declare and accept. If a sincere, positively determined desire for progress exists in our county's leadership nothing can cause us to accept less than what we are striving to achieve.

The one realization we all must face is that in order to have the means of support to BUILD and MAINTAIN our county we simply cannot afford to take our tax dollars elsewhere. We must make beneficial use of them here and intelligently apply the return profit to our county's use, also.

The reason I am seeking this office is one of DEMOCRATIC DESIRE and DETERMINATION for a more POSITIVE, ECONOMICALLY-BALANCED future for ALL Floyd Counties.

TOGETHER WE CAN HAVE IT THE WAY WE WANT IT!

Sound Platform 'Planks'

Every political candidate has platform "planks" that we and others like. They are designed to be liked, to appeal to as many voters as possible. For this and other reasons we have no intention of endorsing any individual for any office.

Two such planks make so much sense to us, however, that we mention them here. Both are the products of Democratic candidates for governor.

First, State Auditor George Atkins endorsed the idea of establishing a Kentucky Power Authority which, in short, would construct coal-burning electric power generating plants in the coal fields, burn the coal there, thus converting it into electricity and, in a word, shipping the power of this fuel by wire rather than by rail and highway.

This makes sense—if private industry's investment in the electric power business can be protected, and if centralized power production with the use of coal can be done without an attendant centralization of air pollution.

The second suggestion which this newspaper likes was more recently made by Terry McBrayer, and Lt. Gov. Stovall who say they would concentrate upon the construction and improvement of more rural and farm-to-market roads rather than continuing the emphasis on the interstate system.

A discouragingly big portion of the population of this state is, as of this date, unable to reach those four-lane highways in any sort of comfort or safety. Obviously, these "feeder" roads can never serve the people unless most of the state's highway funds are turned to their improvement for a while.

payment of 20 per cent of the cost of the proposed new home, but banks will be permitted to accept real estate as collateral toward meeting this requirement. The borrower's indebtedness or other obligating may not exceed 25 per cent of his or her gross income, and certain eligibility standards must be met.

But the total of $17,375 million that is at hand for those wanting to build will be available only for a limited time. The $2 million in Kentucky Housing Authority funds for loans not exceeding $40,000 per qualifying borrower must be loaned within nine months. The remaining $15,375 in bond funds, placed with the Bank Josephine, the First National Bank and Floyd Federal Savings & Loan Assn., must be loaned within 30 months.

The Housing Authority money may be loaned outside as well as within Floyd County, but the residential mortgage funds may be loaned only in the county.

Bank representatives here said interest in both sources of funding have already created wide interest.

well to dish out the gab, and usually I find them unable to handle the simple pronoun "I" or "me." How many times have you heard these fellows sprawl on national hookup over the cases?—for example, "to Jack and I." Sometimes, it would appear that they have a real fear of the word, "me."

The latest bit of encouragement came last Sunday when some poor soul describing the action in the Cincinnati-San Diego baseball game said that this player had "mentally made up his mind."

But how could these guys be letter perfect, or even sensible, and talk as much as they do?

There's always an iconoclast around. This sign was seen on an auto here: "Have you slugged your kid today?"

increase is proposed as necessary for the county to get its full share of state "power equalization" funds. The state "power equalization" program was created to give less wealthy counties a chance at receiving state aid in amounts similar to those received by wealthier counties, but it provides minimum tax rates as a means of qualifying for such help. The minimum this year was 10 cents. Next year, it will be 15 cents per $100 assessment, it was said.

Floyd and Morgan counties have budget deficits which are blamed on inflation and overstaffing.

Letters to the Editor

Cites Nuclear Power Dangers

In view of the danger of nuclear power, how can the public be so apathetic? Nuclear enthusiasts (those same people who supported the Vietnam war as an attempt to make the world safe; those same people who are responsible for the blacklisting of the innocent in the '60's) say nuclear power is the safest most economical form of energy (Three Mile Island proves how "safe"). After all, accidents occur at electrical plants and in deep mines as well as strip mines.

What a ludicrous viewpoint! Only a nuclear power plant can affect such a vast area. Only radiation can affect genetic makeup. Wouldn't you rather have scars or even black lung than a child with a deformed body? I cite Hiroshima as an obvious example. Thirty-five years after the bomb, the mutations live on. If such an accident happened here, with serious contamination, half the state would have to leave and stay gone for years, as radiation doesn't just go away.

Not being a believer in absolutes I don't buy their pledges of safety. Unless its absolute safety, even a million to one odds are too great. The so-called "radical protestors" have been telling us this for years (Clamshell Alliance, Diablo Canyon Alliance, etc.). They're protesting the right to have their children raised in a normal environment. I think its about time we got our apathetic bandwagon and did something. Unless, of course, we'd rather wait until a nuclear plant is built on the banks of the Big Sandy. Then we'll see action.

Gas Rates Compared

Several weeks ago I wrote to The Times concerning one of the most common complaints in the town of Martin: the unusually high natural gas bills. There is striking inequity, for example, between gas bills received from the Martin Gas Company and Prestonsburg Utilities. Our church in Prestonsburg received a February gas bill of $66, while our Martin church received a gas bill of $111, but the Martin church in one-half the size of the Prestonsburg church!

Obviously, the present rate of The Martin Gas Company has been approved by the Public Service Commission. Protest at this point may have the effect, however, of a closer examination of request for future rate increases.

The Public Service Commission has advised that Dr. C. L. Allen is the president of the Martin Gas Company and that Judge Bert Combs is the director.

One Way To Save

After hearing President Carter's Energy Plan and his appeal to every citizen to cooperate, I immediately recalled what I have long thought was a tremendous waste of energy in the transportation of Floyd county school children: the high school parking lot is filled with automobiles while school buses are being provided for the transportation of most pupils.

For the future of our country's energy supply it is hoped that all patriotic pupils and teachers, in this small way, will use school buses for transportation to and from school when at all possible.

How much gasoline and money will you save if you ride the school bus?

This Device Would Help

The LKLP (Leslie, Knott, Letcher and Perry) Community Action Agency has come up with an idea that should be of interest to most homeowners, especially those who because of remoteness, ill health and disabling features do not always feel secure in their own homes.

The system consists of only a piece of wire, an electrical switch and a flashing blue light. The switch to activate the lights could be located near the head of the bed so that disabled persons could reach it with very little effort.

A person who is physically unable to get up, or someone who could hear an intruder or prowler, could utilize this to summon a neighbor or passing motorist. Any of the people who saw this signal and didn't want to be involved could use their CB or telephone to inform the appropriate authorities. This should make our older, infirm and disabled people feel much more secure, because help would always be a finger tip away.

Hearing Here To Sound Sentiment On Dewey Primitive Weapons Area

The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources will conduct a public hearing next Tuesday at the courthouse here to determine public sentiment for designating the Dewey Lake Wildlife Management Area (WMA) a primitive weapons hunting area.

The 7 p.m. meeting is open to the public. Officials of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will be present.

The 8,650-acre area is owned by the Corps of Engineers and managed for wildlife by the state Department of Fish and Wildlife under license. It has been closed to hunting but will be open for a short bow deer season next fall.

The proposal to designate the area a primitive weapons hunting area follows a request for such an area in far eastern Kentucky by Dr. W. W. Campbell, of Jackson, who represents the Seventh Wildlife District on the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission. Currently the only primitive weapons hunting area in Kentucky is the Pioneer Weapons Wildlife Management Area of the Daniel Boone National Forest, located in Bath and Menifee counties. On that area hunters may use only longbows, crossbows and muzzleloading firearms.

According to Joe Bruna, director of game management for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, the public meeting here is being held to assess the degree of public support the proposal has in the area.

The retiring Mr. Johnson has served with Pikeville National Bank since 1938, and has been president since 1963. During his 16 years as president the bank has grown more than tenfold, with present assets of $210 million.

Mr. Coleman, the new president, has been with Pikeville National since 1949, and has been serving as executive vice president.

Brandt Mullins, who has served at Pikeville National since 1948, and has been vice president and cashier, was named executive vice president. He will also continue his responsibilities as cashier. John N. Pinson was promoted from assistant cashier to assistant vice-president of mortgage lending.

Lon B. Rogers, prominent Pike county attorney, was elected a director replacing Mr. Johnson, who also resigned his directorship. His father, Lon Rogers, was one of the organizers of the bank in 1903. The other 11 directors were re-elected.

Two Pike Coal Firms Fined

The state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection collected $11,500 from five coal companies during March for violations of state strip mining regulations.

Companies fined were:
—Mountain Drive Coal Co., $3,000 for providing inadequate silt control, allowing material over the outcrops, pumping muddy water into the main stream without adequate silt control and constructing an access road off the permitted area on its site near Middlesboro in Bell county.

—Standard Sign & Signal Co., $4,000 for blasting without a warning signal, placing spoil over the outcrops, operating without a valid permit and failing to properly construct the hollow fill on its site near Pikeville in Pike county.

The company also allegedly failed to post perimeter markers to designate the boundaries of the permit area and conducted work off the permitted area near Vortex in Wolf county.

—Chapman Coal Co., Inc., $1,500 for allowing substandard water to discharge from its silt basin and into a stream near Gatewood in Daviess county.

—Merit Coal Co., $1,000 for pumping murky water out of a pipe from the mine, through a coal stockpile, and into Lowe's Branch, near Hatfield in Pike county.

Floyd, 4 Other Counties To Get Pilot Program

The Appalachian Regional Commission has approved a $300,000 grant that will be used to establish a flash flood warning pilot program to serve Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia, Kentucky Senators Wendell Ford and Walter (Dee) Huddleston announced last week.

The senators said that initially five Kentucky counties—Pike, Magoffin, Martin, and Johnson, Floyd—will be served by the new warning system. The West Virginia counties of McDowell, Wyoming, Logan and Mingo also will be covered.

Eventually, the Virginia counties of Buchanan, Wise and Dickenson are expected to be part of the program.

The warning system, which will use radar, computers and automated rain gauges, as well as conventional equipment and volunteer observers to give advance warning of floods, will be the first of its type in the nation.

Operation of the system, which will begin on a limited basis later this year, will be the responsibility of state offices of emergency services and of the county governments, with input from the National Weather Service.

The system will be used as a model for programs in other floodprone areas of Appalachia and the nation.

Vote for Marcella R. Bailey

Democratic Candidate for County Judge-Executive

May 29 primary election

A message to all voters and citizens of Floyd County and America—We have approximately 5 weeks left until you will be ready to go to the polls and vote. Folks, you who aren't registered to vote, please register—and I want to plead with the ones who told me they've quit voting—disgusted—don't stay at home on election day but go and cast your vote, regardless how you vote—but vote. Let's bring that voting percentage back up in our precious country—else we may wake up some morning and find we don't have a place to vote. We could lose it—our freedoms all taken away. Take a long, hard look at it, people. Stop! Think! We've got little ones coming up in this world and they're our future leaders of tomorrow—They need to be taught about voting, honesty and love for their fellow man. Our country needs to turn around and let God be our guide before it's too late. We can sure build the finest roads that can be built, beautiful schools, and everything anyone would want, but if we lose our freedom we won't need anything—maybe jails—gas chambers, or else. Folks, think about it—it's possible, people. Go vote—let's restore faith back on the national, state and local government levels.

Folks, keep calling me and working for me. If God be willing, I'll be your next County Judge-Executive. Sounds real good.

A VOTE FOR MARCELLA IS A VOTE FOR ALL.

Governor Cites Tourism Growth

Gov. Julian Carroll told the steering committee of the Commission on State Parks Development last week that tourism in Kentucky is growing at a rate of 25 per cent per year. "Our Brussels office has almost tripled the amount of international visitors since 1978," he said. Carroll told the group a "massive investment" will be necessary in the next several years to support the Commonwealth's growing tourism industry. "We've got a cry coming up from the whole state, to build more recreational facilities," Carroll said. The responsibility of the 500-member Commission on State Parks Development is determining what needs to be done in the area of tourism development in Kentucky and then creating a lobbying force to get it done, he added. "I'll be back with you in January as a citizen lobbying for you because that's how strongly I feel about it," he continued. On the rising cost of gasoline, Carroll said, "Gas is going to be more expensive and there's not going to be as much of it, so tourists won't be able to go as far. We want them to stop in Kentucky." The Commission on State Parks Development was established by Carroll in January and charged with identifying and determining long-range requirements of tourism and recreational facilities throughout the Commonwealth. Described as a capital improvements task force by Carroll, the commission's responsibilities also include determination of economic and cultural effects of tourism development and site location work. With a membership of private citizens from across Kentucky, the commission plans to hold public hearings to solicit input from the private sector. Carroll has asked the commission to present him with the results of its efforts in the form of recommendations by the first of November.

Third Graders Quiz Policemen

When Police Chief Dickie Campbell, Officer Craig Kilgore, and Auxiliaryman David Chaffins spoke to members of a third grade class at Prestonsburg Grade School, recently, they found an interested and surprisingly knowledgeable group, some of whom are shown above. Among the more routine questions as to why policemen stopped people, how many bullets their guns held, one Kojak-oriented youngster wanted to know whether their pistols were .38 calibre or .357 magnum. Oh, for the innocence of youth!

Changes Made in Tobacco Program

William R. Vincent, acting state executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), has advised that an all-out effort is being made to inform burley tobacco farmers of the changes in the burley tobacco program effective for 1979 and subsequent crop years.

Vincent said it is very important that each burley producer knows of these changes before planting time in order that he (she) may adjust planting to as near the 1979 effective quota as possible to eliminate overproduction.

Vincent said the changes were made to strengthen the administration of the burley tobacco program, to discourage the overproduction of tobacco, and to help prevent program abuses.

The changes are:

1. Procedure for storage of producer carryover tobacco with (marketing agent) warehouse is discontinued.

Farm operators will not be permitted to store their poundage of tobacco produced above 110 per cent of their farms, 1979 effective quota under assignment (contract) to warehousepersons and receive payment October 1, or later as in the past.

Each farm operator will be responsible to store his or her own tobacco produced above 110 per cent of the effective quota for the farm.

Each farm operator will be required to report at the end of each marketing year, beginning with the 1979 crop tobacco, the amount of tobacco on hand and where the tobacco is stored.

The procedure for transfer of burley poundage quota to and from the same farm in the same year has been discontinued.

Greensburg was established in 1792, the year Kentucky entered the union, and was named for Gen. Nathaniel Greene.

Pamery, Ohio in the early 1800s was a few hundred miles from Louisville via the Ohio River. In 1819 the community mined its first coal and transported 1,200 bushels of the fuel to Louisville, where it was sold for 25 cents a bushel.

In 1846 Maj. Jacob Fowler lived in Covington. When he was 80 a newspaper account of his experiences in early Indian battles stated that "his eye has not waxed dim, nor his natural force abated" and that the Kenton Countian "can still pick off a squirrel with his rifle at 100 yards distance."

Jane Kelly was an infant when her grandfather in Pennsylvania became alarmed for the family's safety in settlement days in Mason county and sent for his son and family. Jane's father was killed enroute to Pennsylvania, but she made it to her grandfather's, where she grew to womanhood and became widely known for her remarkable beauty.

In the Battle of Perryville, one of the participants was a lad who had run away to join the army at age 10. John Winton Clem (Klem) became known as the Drumer Boy of Shiloh. At the time he stood 30 inches high and weighed about 60 pounds. Native of Licking county, Ohio, Johnnie Clem also was called Drumer Boy of Chickamauga and when grown stood about five feet tall and weighed 105 pounds.

Thank you

We would like to thank the woman who found our seven-year-old son, Michael Cole, and brought him home, last Friday, April 6. That day, he missed his bus ride home from Allen Elementary school, and walked nearly seven miles to his grandpa's above Martin, to avoid walking across the four-lane highway in Allen. When we reported his absence over the radio, this lady must have heard the report, found him walking, and brought him home. As Michael described her, she had blonde hair, and drove a red car. So, we wish to thank her, and the principal of Allen Elementary for his return.

A hydroseeder mulch material workshop will be held May 10 and 11 at the Community Center in Paintsville, beginning each day at 10 a.m.

The first day will consist of a discussion of various mulch materials and application equipment by the companies, including the latest research and technical information available on mulching spoil banks.

The second day will be in-field demonstrations of equipment and application of the mulch materials on mine slopes of the Martin County Coal Company.

This is an excellent opportunity for mine owners, reclamation and highway personnel and others using hydroseeders. The meeting is being sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service. To have plenty of seats available those who plan to attend will need to pre-register. Interested persons should contact Henry Sparks, County Extension Agent, Box 325, Inez, Ky. 41224.

Dewey Lake Garbage Dumps

"If you had the vocabulary, we could talk 10 minutes coast-to-coast for only $2.57."

Reach out. Reach out and touch someone.

Obviously, talking with faraway family or friends isn't for the birds. But with bargain-time rates being what they are, can you blame a bird for trying? Why, you can dial the One-Plus way clear across the country after 5 p.m., talk for ten minutes, and it won't cost you more than $2.57 (plus tax). Could cost you even less, if you call after 11 p.m. or on weekends. So reach out and touch someone who's waiting for you to call. Call up and just say "hi" or "Gawk."

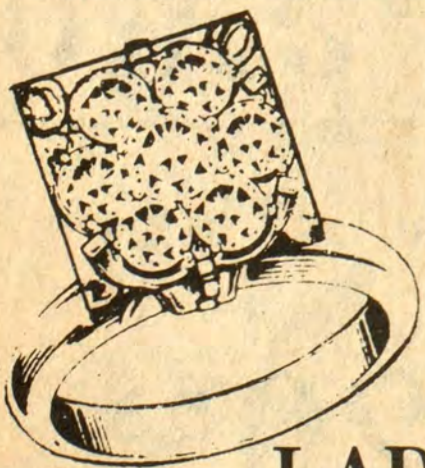

Low One-Plus rates do not apply to operator-assisted or coin telephone calls.

State To Use Convict Labor for Road Work

Convict work crews will help maintain Kentucky highways beginning next month, under an agreement announced Tuesday by state Transportation and Justice officials. Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson said prison inmates will do routine highway maintenance jobs and cleanup that the state cannot otherwise afford to do, while Corrections Commissioner David Bland said the program will provide needed job opportunities for prisoners. "One of the most important tasks of the Bureau of Corrections is to teach inmates the importance of work and the necessity of work to having a stable society," Bland said at a news conference. He called it a "travesty" that 500 of the 1,830 inmates at the state reformatory in LaGrange have nothing to do. "We can leave inmates sitting inside the walls and let them while away 24 hours a day, (but) my mama always told me idle hands were the devil's workshop," Bland said. "It makes a lot more sense if a person can come back to a decent meal and go to bed tired," he said. "One of the most important therapies is to know what it is to work and to be satisfied with a job done." Inmates from the LaGrange Reformatory and the penitentiary at Eddyville will be given a chance to volunteer for a place on one of the six road crews. They will be paid from $1 to $1.80 a day for jobs ranging from fence repair and painting guardrails to paving ditches and picking up litter. "There are a lot of miscellaneous jobs that we don't have the manpower to do now," Grayson said. "We have not had sufficient manpower to keep ahead of repairs, mowing and litter pickup." Each 10-man crew will be guarded by three corrections officers, two of them armed. The prisoners will not wear prison clothing and will not be shackled. The work sites will be within a 50-mile radius of the reformatory or the penitentiary, and prisoners will be transported in specially-equipped Transportation Department vans. Bland said inmates volunteering for the program would be carefully screened by institution personnel. Inmates are ineligible who are serving time for rape, attempted rape, sodomy, or several other crimes involving personal injury, or who have escaped or attempted to escape within the last five years.

JUST SAY "CHARGE IT"

Our Fragile Earth

By DR. JERRY HOWELL
 Director of Environmental Studies
 Morehead State University

Although it seems unusual, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has very little authority over hazardous waste disposal sites. According to Douglas Costle, EPA Administrator, many states have more legal authority over these very toxic wastes than does the federal government. Even the extent of the problem has been better researched by the individual states. Some states have completed individual surveys of hazardous waste sites, while others, including Kentucky, are presently finishing their studies.

been cleaned up and others are involved in lawsuits.

Old, sometimes forgotten hazardous dumps present a problem. EPA has very limited authority to clean up inactive or active sites, although they can take enforcement action against the owner if it presents a substantial human health danger.

Cleanup causes some problems to surface. The owner or operator often does not have enough money or the proper equipment to do the job. When ownership has changed, the cleanup burden is difficult to assign. A very real question is whether the owner or operator can even be held liable because early laws were not strict on disposal. Another problem is state liability; it is not clear whether states should use tax money to help with cleanup expenses, which sometimes exceed one million dollars per site. EPA is trying to get Congressional approval for help with expenses, but legislators are divided on this proposal because EPA was intended to be a regulatory agency, not a granting one. One way EPA plans to get the money is to change a surtax or reclamation tax, to come from hazardous waste handlers.

Under the Toxic Substances Control Act and the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, recently passed by Congress, EPA will have more jurisdiction. They have already proposed rules governing hazardous waste production from "the cradle to the grave." However, these rules will only apply to those toxic substances produced now or in the future; old dump sites are not covered.

Shortly before the new rules were proposed, EPA released its estimate of possibly hazardous sites. There are at least 32,254 facilities, owned and operated by military installations, private industry, federal research units, and city and county governments, which may contain hazardous wastes. More than 100 of the sites have some information on file with EPA; some have

Many old abandoned dumps have been discovered recently and several of them have caused human health problems. Some of these dumps, including one of the largest in the country, have been discovered in Kentucky.

Inez-Ulysses Road Bid-Letting Slated

A number of resource recovery road projects will be included in the Transportation Department's May 4 bid-letting, according to Gov. Julian Carroll.

The department will open bids on five resource recovery road projects: the Ulysses-Inez road in Lawrence and Martin counties, the Beattyville-Zachariah road (KY 11) in Lee county, the Fleimingsburg-Maysville road (KY 11) in Mason county, the Helechawa-Index road (KY 205) in Wolfe and Morgan counties, and the Greenville-Central City road (U.S. 62) in Muhlenberg county.

The resource recovery road program, initiated by Gov. Carroll, is financed by coal severance tax revenue.

Mark $209,126 For Coal Roads In This County

An energy road fund allocation of $209,126 for Floyd county has been announced by the state Department of Transportation for improvements on state-maintained roads.

Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson said the program for the 1979-'80 fiscal year will include blacktop resurfacing for 7.5 miles of KY 122, the Martin-Prestonsburg road.

The energy road program was established in 1976 to help maintain and improve roads in coal-producing counties. The program, financed by coal severance tax revenue, sets aside 60 percent of the allocations for state-maintained and 40 percent for county roads.

Blacktop resurfacing of 1.5 miles of KY 1100, the Whitaker road, beginning at KY 1428 and extending west, also was announced.

Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson said the project will be financed with state funds. The work will be done by a private contractor and will be up for bids May 4.

Cleaning and painting bridges are also being advertised for letting May 4. These projects are the bridge over US 23 and the Big Sandy at Betsy Layne, the bridge across the river at Cliff and the Harold bridge.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Holy Week services were conducted at the Irene Cole Memorial (First) Baptist Church, April 9-13, with various local churches participating. A large crowd attended each of these services, and the luncheons which followed at the church. The spring revival, which was held there last week, closed with the Sunday evening services. The evangelist was the Rev. Joe Vetter, chaplain at the Fort Knox Army base.

THANKS

I thank the Harris Bros. and their fine workers for their recent courtesy. When they removed a power pole at Harold last week they were careful not to damage or destroy my signs. Instead, they carefully removed the signs and called me so that I could pick them up and use again.

JOE D. WEDDINGTON Democratic Candidate for STATE SENATOR

I am proud to say that I fought for my country in World War II. I was a United States Marine and was wounded in the battle on Okinawa. I have smelled the miserable stench of burning comrades as they fell in battle. I'm no war hero. I was just a mountain boy trying to do my best for my country.

State Garden Club Open House Begins

Each year in May the Garden Club of Kentucky sponsors an Open House in Kentucky Tour. Visitors from across the nation and foreign countries come to see Kentucky's gracious homes and charming gardens.

This year, six homes and one garden will be on view in Louisville. Lunch will be served at Nunnlea, home of the Beautification League of Louisville and Jefferson County, on four days, which are May 19 and 19 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The Lexington tour includes three homes and the Walnut Hill Church, the oldest Presbyterian church now standing in Kentucky, where a $3 box lunch will be offered. Touring dates and hours in Lexington are May 19, 10 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. and May 20, 1 p.m. - 5 p.m.

In Bowling Green, May 19, from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m., five homes and two gardens will be on display with free refreshments served at the Houchen Center for Women.

Originally houses were chosen for their historic interest and their antique furnishings. Because of the change in public attitude, the Garden Club has also added contemporary homes with modern furniture.

The Garden Club of Kentucky has sponsored these tours since 1941. From admission fees, substantial funds have helped in the restoration of Nunnlea, with its crystal chandeliers and hand-carved woodwork throughout. Nunnlea's grounds include boxwood, various flower gardens and many large trees.

Other historic Kentucky homes have also received funds from the tour to be applied toward beautification and preservation.

More information may be obtained from Mrs. William P. Durkin, 9316 Hurstbourne Lane, Louisville, KY 40220, phone 502-491-6625 or 502-491-7343.

Mine Safety School To Open in MU

A program to prepare mine safety technicians will be inaugurated this summer by the Community College of Marshall University in cooperation with the National Health and Safety Academy in Beckley, W.Va.

Students throughout the nation are eligible to apply for the program, according to Dr. Paul D. Hines, university vice president and dean of the Community College.

Students admitted to the program will attend both summer terms at Marshall in 1979, beginning June 12, and complete a two-semester program at the academy during the 1979-80 academic year, Hines said. Students then will attend classes at Marshall during the summer of 1980 and the first semester of 1980-81 to earn an Associate in Applied Science degree.

The Community College also will offer a certificate of proficiency in Mining Technology requiring completion of the first year of the basic mining curriculum or completion of selected courses in one of several specified options.

All students must meet admission requirements and be accepted for the program by both the Community College of Marshall University and by the Academy. Preference will be given to individuals with experience in mining.

"The objective of the National Mine Health and Safety Academy is to develop and implement programs in mine health and safety through education," explained Dr. Michael G. Zabetakis, Academy superintendent. "The objective of the Academy-College Cooperative Program is to encourage a health and safety emphasis in mining education through direct contact with selected academic institutions and their students."

The National Mine Health and Safety Academy, operated by the U.S. Department of the Interior, is a permanent Federal Academy serving the United States. The new facility, opened in April 1976, includes the most up-to-date facilities and instruction within its six interconnected buildings.

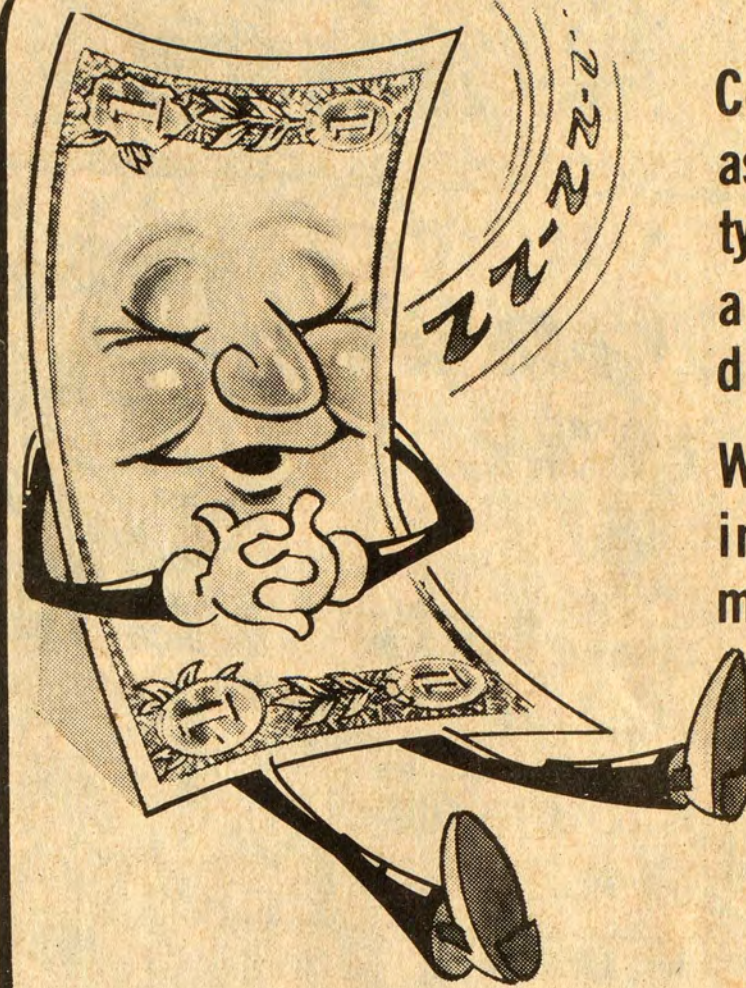

Prospective students may receive additional information and application forms by writing Larry Artrip, Coordinator, Guidance Services, Community College, Marshall University, Huntington, W. Va. 25701, or by calling (304) 696-3646. Application deadline is May 31.

All applications will be reviewed by a joint selection committee and applicants will be advised of their acceptance by letter.

Area Mine Offices Have More Authority

A functional reorganization of the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement will allow regional offices in the state to provide permitting assistance and coordination, orphan land reclamation services and a broader supervision of the bureau's activities.

Control of the bureau's regional offices, formerly known as area offices, will be shifted away from the director of the Division of Operations and Enforcement to direct control from Commissioner Gene Brandenburg's office.

The reorganization will insure that all services and functions of the bureau are available on a local level through the offices.

Announcement of the reorganization was made by Brandenburg and Eugene Mooney, secretary of the state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

Prior to reorganization, the area offices were mainly concerned with the operations and enforcement aspects of surface mining and the surface effects of underground mining.

"This move is a major corrective step toward efficiency and better outreach with respect to this major and important bureau" Mooney said. The Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement was created in October 1977.

The reorganization should also facilitate the institution of the new Small Operator's Assistance Program, he pointed out. The program was enacted during the 1979 special session to aid the problems faced by small coal operators attempting to meet new federal and state mining requirements.

The organization change now places the deputy commissioner of the bureau directly in line to the commissioner. Formerly, the deputy commissioner was mainly responsible for overseeing the orphan lands program and was not involved in other bureau activities.

"The purpose and intent of this reorganization is to foster more responsive and effective management of the bureau," Brandenburg said. "By placing more emphasis on mining control and reclamation activities in our regional offices, and concentrating on policy making, planning and administrative functions in the commissioner's office, we will thus be better able to directly coordinate the bureau's various field offices, as well as the central office operations in a more timely, positive and efficient manner."

Bill Would Cut
Period for ADA

The Interim Joint Committee on Education last Tuesday voted to prefile a bill which would permit school districts to have average attendance compensation on seven and one-quarter months, rather than the full school year of nine and one-quarter months.

Under the bill, school districts would declare only seven and one-half months of average daily attendance as the basis for compensation from the state minimum foundation grant program. The two lowest months of attendance would not affect compensation under the grant program.

Rep. Buel Guy, D-Scottsville, chairman of the committee Subcommittee on Education and the Arts, said the bill is designed to reduce the use of extended school days and cancellation of classes on "marginal" snow days by school officials.

Guy said the measure would cost about $1.4 million annually in additional minimum foundation funds.

The subcommittee drafted the measure following a resolution by the 1978 General Assembly.

"A RICH HERITAGE"

MARTHA JANE "MAMMY" TACKETT

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN "PA" TACKETT

Martha was the daughter of Greenberry Tackett and Minda Hamilton Tackett. "Mammy" had seven brothers: Andy Tackett, Georgia Tackett, Noah Tackett, Thomas Tackett, William Tackett, Henry Tackett and Sie Tackett, and one sister, Beck Tackett Newsome.

Ben was the son of Bud Tackett and Martha Caudill Tackett. "Pa", as everyone of the family called him, had six sisters, Sarah Tackett, Hattie Jones Martin, Mellie King, Lisa Johnson, Fanny Jones and Belle Tackett; two half-brothers, Jim Bob Elswick and Luther Elswick, and one step-brother, James Elswick.

The above picture is of the maternal grandparents of Benny Ray Bailey, Ben and Martha Tackett.

Ben and Martha had ten children: Ella Tackett Burga, Viola Tackett Bailey, Mellie Tackett Moore, Hannah Tackett Meade, Curt Tackett, Jim Tackett, Cora Tackett Booth, Mary Tackett Hall, Fannie Tackett Newman and Mae

Tackett Howell. Viola Bailey is Benny Ray's mother. Benny Ray has two sisters, Aileen Bailey Hamilton and Emogene Bailey Smith, and two brothers, Hendy Douglas Bailey and Earl Shannon Bailey.

One of the problems of growing up in a large city, as identified by the "experts", is that many times both parents work and the children feel somewhat neglected. This, according to "experts" is one of the prime contributors to juvenile delinquency. To combat this, social workers in large urban areas have "developed" a concept called the "extended family." The "extended family" offers young people a person who genuinely cares for them that they can talk to and that they can respect when parents are not available.

Here in East Kentucky, we had the "extended family" long before social workers were invented! Most of us who grew up here in East Kentucky can remember the important place that grandparents had in our lives. Benny Ray Bailey grew up here in the Mountains and is very aware of the importance of family. "I always felt as close to my uncles, aunts, and cousins as I did my brothers and sisters; my grandparents were like "real" parents to me. My Grandfather was the most intelligent, most knowing man I ever knew; my Grandmother was the most loving, understanding human being I ever met. The things that I value—honesty, integrity, friends, family, our Mountain way of life, and the things that I believe in—our Democratic way of life, the American system, and, most importantly my strong belief in God, were taught to me and shaped by my family. I'm quite proud of my family and feel fortunate and honored that I am a part of it." Benny Ray has always been a strong advocate for our Mountain way of life.

There are many things which help to qualify a man to be State Senator. Benny Ray believes that one of the most important qualities a State Senator can have is the ability to relate to and understand our people. Benny Ray believes in the intelligence of our people and their ability to make the right choice when given the facts. "I have tried and will continue to try to run my campaign in a manner that respects the intelligence of the people. My Grandpa always said that people resort to lying, spreading rumors and mud slinging when they cannot discuss the real issues. I sincerely believe that every time you sling a little mud, you lose a little ground. My Grandparents were never rich, so they could not leave me a great deal of money or material things. However, they always treated people fairly, were honest, worked hard, believed in our God, and never talked about other people. My grandparents left me something more valuable than money and material things. They left me A RICH HERITAGE."

Benny Ray Bailey understands our people. He grew up here in the mountains, worked his way through college, and came back home to work with us to build a better East Kentucky. Benny Ray Bailey combines outstanding academic training, proven leadership abilities with the background of growing up here in East Kentucky that enables him to relate to our people. Vote for Benny Ray Bailey for State Senator. Benny Ray will represent us well in Frankfort. He's one of us.

TO REMOVE PAINT IN WOOD GRAIN

When stripping paint off furniture, there's often a problem of paint residue left down in the pores of the wood.

Get the wood as clean as possible using paint remover and steel wool. Then coat the wood with orange shellac—just as it comes from the can. Let the shellac dry over night. Then apply more paint remover to lift the shellac. As the shellac is scrubbed off with the steel wool, the paint residue should come out with it.

PREPARE CLOTHES FOR SEASONAL STORAGE

Protect your winter clothing from moths and carpet beetles by properly storing it. Woolen garments in particular need special attention but man-made fabrics and those with moth-resistant finishes can be damaged if food spots and stains attract insects.

To eliminate any moth larvae your garments might contain, launder or dry clean them before storing. Hang clothing in garment bags containing moth balls, flakes or crystals used according to package directions. Or if you prefer, fold loosely and neatly to avoid wrinkles and store in boxes.

Cardboard boxes will do. Cedar chests and cedar-lined closets aren't needed if the boxes and closets are carefully cleaned to remove any moth larvae. Be sure to list the contents of each box in a highly visible place.

PSALMS - 95 - VERSE 6

O Come, let us worship and bow down: Let us kneel before the Lord our maker.

Verse - 7. For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. To-day if ye will hear his voice.

A Thought to Remember

By LARRY BURKE

One of the captive followers of the Duke of Monmouth was brought before James the Second. "You know it is in my power," said the king, "to pardon you." "Yes," said the man, who knew his cruel character, "but it is not in your nature."

In thinking about the state of the world today, we can easily realize that it has become so as a result of the nature the world has chosen.

This trait carries over into all individuals. They mistrust, hate and despise because it is in their nature. People love and trust, too, because it is in their nature.

Think of the ten best people you have ever known, and think of their nature. Is it not one of complete trust, love and faith in their fellowman? If the world is to become a better place, it will become so within the hearts of individuals. One at a time—the changes will be made, and mankind will be saved. So, just how important is every living human to a better world . . . a better country . . . a better community . . . a better home?

19 Complete Program At Our Lady of Way

Nineteen employees at Our Lady of the Way Hospital recently completed an eight-week program called "Work Efficiency and Effectiveness Program" (WEEP), was conducted through the auspices of the Kentucky Hospital Association under the direction of Bob Crawford, Director, Bluegrass Regional Education Center. The program, held at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, is part of the voluntary effort to reduce hospital costs.

March 27, each participant presented their project and certificates were awarded to the following: Cindy Kidd, director of nurses, Annette Webb, director of education, Sr. Marilyn, financial analyzer, Annette Vannucci, financial manager, Janice Little, purchasing agent, Sr. Mary Dempsey, family health center, Helen Bradley, food service supervisor, Sr. Rose Elizabeth, dietary technician, Ann Conley, housekeeping supervisor, Dan Hamilton, medical technologist, Pat Howard, accredited record technician, Margaret Hoover, administrative secretary, Sr. Margaret Jacobs, nurse supervisor, Mary Martin, nurse supervisor, Sheila Akers, operating room supervisor, Erma Triplett, pharmacy technician, Solomon Caudill, maintenance supervisor, and Maggie Stevens, X-ray supervisor.

The projects ranged from topics on inventory control, job sampling, work distribution and time studies, systems analysis and forms control. If the program is carried out as presented, all of the studies should result in a savings of approximately $30,000 per year at Our Lady of the Way Hospital.

At the presentation, Sr. Loretta Anne, co-administrator, challenged each of the participants to come up with suggestions of how they are going to make use of the time and money saved as a result of the ingenious programs. She stated that if this is not put into actual practice, the results would just represent savings on paper.

Prestonsburg Native Victim at Cave Run

A camping trip ended in tragedy last Thursday when the john-boat in which Donald R. Griffith and his four children were fishing, capsized at Cave Run Lake.

Mr. Griffith, 34, of Covington, was a native of Prestonsburg. His mother, Mrs. Landon Charles, resides on the Lake Road near here. Other survivors include his widow and four children; a brother, Tony Griffith, of Allen, and three sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Yvonne Goble, of Prestonsburg. Names of other survivors were not available Tuesday.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Jack Vincent, who passed away February 17, 1976.

Dear Dad,
Spring brings back such beautiful memories. I can see and recall you sitting on the end of the front porch, smoking and greeting people as they walk down the street, and as you would say "just watching the world go by." How you longed for people to stop and talk or just to come by and "sit a spell." Always such a joy for your children to come home from afar and don't get home often; it was a delight to see your face light up when I would bring the thermos bottle in, as you knew there would be some coffee left for you. Oh, Dad, it's been over three years now since our Blessed Saviour called and you had to answer that call without a good-bye or fond farewell. We often talk and speak of you and how you died. A million times we've needed you, a million times we've cried. A place is vacant in our hearts which can never be filled, a beautiful life which came to an end. You died as you lived, everyone's friend. Dear Daddy, one day we will laugh and remember together. Until then rest peacefully and be happy in the Loving Arm's of our Blessed Saviour.

We love you,
Your daughter,
ANNA MAE and
All your family

SAVE ON HOUSEHOLD CLEANERS
Consider using some common household chemicals for spring cleaning this year. You'll save some money, and you might already have these few, reliable standbys on hand.

Baking soda, household ammonia and vinegar can provide effective cleaning power. Most people just need to be made aware of the jobs each can do.

Use baking soda to clean wall tile, porcelain enamel and glass. It can remove coffee stains from china, plastic cups and stainless steel. It's useful, too, for removing odors and for cleaning the inside of the refrigerator. Be sure to rinse carefully. Don't use baking soda on aluminum items, because it will darken them.

Household ammonia is much stronger than baking soda, and if used incorrectly it can burn the skin or eyes. When opening a bottle of ammonia, be sure there is enough air circulation.

Never mix ammonia with any other household cleaner, such as bleach, because the fumes produced are very dangerous and sometimes fatal. Be sure, also, to keep ammonia in its original container and out of reach of children.

An ammonia solution is good for cleaning painted walls, washing windows and cleaning ovens. In fact, ammonia is much safer than commercial oven cleaner, although it works more slowly. Simply place one-half cup of ammonia in a container in the oven overnight. It will loosen the grime and make cleaning easier the next day.

To clean range drip pans and rims around units, remove and place paper towels between them and on top. Put the stack inside a plastic bag; a bag from the cleaners will do. Pour about ½ cup of ammonia on the towels, and fasten the bag. Leave for 4 to 6 hours or overnight. Final cleaning in the morning will be much easier.

Vinegar is a mild cleaner. It can be used to remove hard water deposits from glassware, as well as rust stains from sinks. It will also brighten darkened aluminum pots and pans. A vinegar solution is another good window cleaner.

Vinegar in the wash can reduce the need for commercial softeners. Add ¼ to one third cup of white vinegar to the final rinse to soften the wash and help remove detergent or soap residue.

World-Famous Author To Speak in City

David Wilkerson, famed author of "The Cross and the Switchblade," will be speaking at a public meeting to be held at the Prestonsburg High School fieldhouse April 19 and 20 at 7:30. There is no admission charge.

"The Cross and the Switchblade," Wilkerson's first book, is the account of his first efforts to reach and rehabilitate street gang members during the era of the gang wars of the late 1950's and early 1960's. The book, first published in 1962, is in its 28th printing, has been translated into 42 languages and has passed the 16 million mark in sales. It was made into a feature-length movie in 1970, with Pat Boone playing the part of David Wilkerson.

Wilkerson's book details the formation of the organization called Teen Challenge which in the past decade has become one of the most successful in the world for the rehabilitation of drug addicts. Teen Challenge now has facilities in over 50 cities in the United States, and a documented cure rate of 74 percent.

David Wilkerson now spends most of his time speaking to teenagers about subjects of current interest.

In addition to his duties in New York, Wilkerson now travels around the world to carry his message to young people. On an average, he speaks to 40,000 or 50,000 people each month. His message is simple and relevant. His topics include drugs, sex, rebellion, loneliness and fear.

Also, appearing with Mr. Wilkerson will be Dallas Holm and Praise, one of America's best Gospel contemporary groups.

TRINIDAD IS 'LAND OF CALYPSO' PORT-OF-SPAIN, Trinidad and Tobago—Calypso, the native Negro folk music of Trinidad, originated in the 18th century. Trinidad is called "The Land of Calypso." The term's origin is uncertain, but some sources think it was originally "Kai-so," an African term meaning "Bravo."

We Need Jerry Lafferty, Jr. As Our Next County Judge-Executive.

Jerry Will:

Lay the foundation for a united Floyd County people as he works with all of our county officials to improve our county. United we can do much, divided we can do little.

Alert our Federal and State officials that Jerry Lafferty will be visiting them and soliciting their assistance in obtaining funds for our county.

First order of business will be to find revenue necessary to repair our pitiful and dangerous county roads.

Forever appreciative of your support and understanding and always be conscious of the fact that you will and should "fire" your next Judge-Executive if he is not getting the job done.

Earrest effort will be made to obtain and initiate county-wide ambulance service, especially to benefit our elderly and those on fixed incomes. This service is now enjoyed by our citizens in neighboring Pike County.

Reconstruct and reorganize our Road Department to assure maximum efficiency. This can and will be done by utilizing our fine county road employees now working for us. We must and will repair our county roads and keep them maintained. The high expense of repairing our cars while traveling our bad roads must be reduced. We taxpayers deserve no less.

Together we can and will improve the quality of life for our people in Floyd County. Jerry Lafferty is a business man and with your help he can obtain the necessary State and Federal dollars to get our county moving again.

You can trust and depend on Jerry Lafferty to work hard and do good things for Floyd County.

Flintlock Rifle Team Trials Set

By JOHN WILSON

The Kentucky Corps of Longriflemen has announced the times and places of this year's tryouts for the official state flintlock rifle team.

Any flintlock shooter in Kentucky is welcome to participate, says Bill Furnish, the corps' vice president.

The team, which will represent Kentucky in various "shoot outs" with other states, will be made up of the 10 marksmen scoring the highest averages in two separate tryouts. To be eligible, shooters must participate in both shoots, Furnish says.

The first tryout will be May 5 and 6 at the Don Wells range, near Morehead. The range is located about five miles south of the Clearfield community off KY 519.

The second shoot is scheduled for June 9 and 10 at the Craigs Creek range in Woodford county. From US 62 in Versailles take the McCowans Ferry road (1964) (High Street) for about three miles to the Scotts Ferry road (just before the Bluegrass Parkway underpass). Turn right on Scotts Ferry Road and look for the sign to the range just after the road crosses the parkway again.

"If you get lost, just stop the car and listen for the sound of shooting," Furnish says. "The sight of black powder drifting over the treetops is another sure sign that you're near a longrifle shoot."

The corps of longriflemen will also hold a rendezvous April 21 and 22 at the Yellowbank Wildlife Management Area north of Stephensport in Breckinridge coty. While this is primarily a social function and is not required for team membership, Furnish suggests it will be a good opportunity to meet other longriflemen and to sharpen up the shooting eye in some of the informal matches there.

Anyone with an interest in the flintlock rifle is invited to attend the rendezvous, he says.

During the formal tryouts, shooters must use flintlock rifles and must "load out of the pouch"—that is, carry their powder, patches, bullets and other necessities with them to the firing line in pouches, frontier style.

The second 10 highest scorers make the "renegade" team and also compete in shooting matches. Members of this "second team" are on standby in case regular team members can't attend a shoot or other function.

Shooters must participate in both the May and the June shoots to qualify for the team, but it's only necessary to show up on one day of each shoot—either May 5 or May 6 and either June 9 or June 10, according to Furnish.

Those who make either the first or second team become members of the Kentucky Corps of Longriflemen, an organization which grew out of a challenge by the state of Pennsylvania over the name of the flintlock rifle. Kentucky's shooters easily won all the matches with Pennsylvania and thus retained the label "Kentucky Rifle" for this famous flintlock.

The corps is an official state organization and often represents the commonwealth in parades and ceremonies. Each year the governor (who is the colonel-in-charge of the organization) makes $1,000 available from his contingency funds to help defray expenses for the group's official functions, according to Furnish.

Drama Season Opens in June

Scenes of comedy, history and tragedy will be reenacted under the stars of Kentucky's summer evenings after the curtains open on the outdoor drama season in June.

Kentucky is a veteran in outdoor drama (since 1959), offering theater buffs everything from historical plays and Shakespearean drama to Broadway musicals.

"The Stephen Foster Story" opens its 21st season June 9 at J. Dan Talbott Amphitheater in My Old Kentucky Home State Park, Bardstown. Written by Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Paul Green, the musical is performed within a stone's throw of Federal Hill, which inspired the Foster ballad "My Old Kentucky Home."

Will run through Sept. 2 nightly at 8:30, except Mondays.

The Civil War is the theme of "Wilderness Road," which begins its season June 23 at Indian Fort Theater in Berea. The play uses elements of history to tell of the struggle of a mountain community caught in the war. It plays nightly at 8:30, except Sundays, through Sept. 2.

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" is based on a novel by John Fox, Jr. First curtain will rise this season on July 1 at the Little Shepherd Playhouse Amphitheater, north of Whitesburg on Highway Ky-15, and will run through August 31 Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m.

"The Legend of Daniel Boone," playing in Old Fort Harrod State Park Amphitheater in Harrodsburg, combines legend with history to paint a picture of the great Kentucky frontiersman who, with other settlers, established Fort Harrod and Boonesborough. The play starts June 15 and runs through Aug. 25, 8:30 nightly except Sundays.

Broadway musicals will be performed at the Summer Music Theatre in Jenny Wiley State Resort Park. The season begins June 20 with "Starting Here, Starting Now." Other productions scheduled are "Robber Bridegroom," "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "Pippin." Curtain time for all productions is "at dark."

"Ephraim McDowell" will open the season at Pioneer Playhouse, Danville, June 11. Written by the Playhouse's producer, Eben Henson, it runs through June 23. "Mrs. Moonlight" will start June 25 and play through July 7. The 1200-seat playhouse offers dinner at 7:30 with curtain time at 8:30 nightly except Sundays.

Louisville's Shakespeare in Central Park is to present three Shakespeare plays, each in a two-week run. The plays are staged in Central Park, and no admission is charged. This summer's season starts July 11 and runs for six weeks with performances Wednesday through Saturday nights.

Great Teacher Award Goes To Sammons for 5th Time

John D. Sammons, associate professor of mathematics and statistics, was recently named for the fifth time to receive the Great Teacher Award made annually by Prestonsburg Community College.

The award is made by vote of the student body. Each year, one teacher in each college of the University of Kentucky and a teacher from each of the state's community colleges are so honored.

Now in his 10th year at PCC, Prof. Sammons uses his industrial associations to help prospects find employment during the summer months, make a point of becoming acquainted with the lives and personal problems of students so that he may be of assistance to them, and each year helps several engineering students procure academic scholarships so that they may continue their education at four-year colleges or universities.

Sammons holds the bachelor's and master's degrees in applied mathematics and teachers engineering, calculus and statistics.

Harlan Rum Probe Seen

Harlan county Sheriff Harold Howard and three of his deputies have been ordered to appear before a federal grand jury to answer questions about bootlegging in the virtually "dry" southeastern Kentucky county, one of those subpoenaed said.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Larry Lewis said he and the other three were subpoenaed by a FBI agent and a state police detective.

"They told us to appear April 20 in London to answer grand jury questions about possible extortion in connection with the bootlegging operations here," Lewis said.

"I'm not sure in what capacity I'll be testifying. I don't know if I'm accused or if others are accused," Lewis said.

The deputy said the subpoena-servers "asked if we had knowledge of extortion, taking money in exchange for letting bootlegging go, and I said I didn't."

He said he has heard rumors the federal probe is more extensive "but that's just rumor."

FBI spokesmen in Harlan and Louisville would not comment. Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert F. Trevey in Lexington said, "A grand jury has been impaneled for April 19 and 20. A number of subpoenas have been issued, and they are generally confined to Harlan county."

Trevey said "perhaps other officials have or will receive subpoenas" but he would not elaborate because of "the secrecy of grand jury proceedings."

Besides Lewis and Howard, deputies Dillard Davis and Jack Coots were served. Lewis said two other deputies did not get subpoenas, nor did the department's only other employee—a bookkeeper.

"There's just seven of us in all to police a county with 40,000 people," Lewis said. "Bootleggers exist, yes sir, and they always have. But we can't let everything else go to enforce just this one law."

"The same thing happened during Prohibition," Lewis said, "and all the federal, all the state, all the local law enforcement agencies couldn't stop it."

Howard took office in January, 1978, and Lewis and Davis were hired that month. Coots joined the department in May last year, Lewis said.

"I'll tell them everything they want to know," Lewis said. "I don't want a Watergate or a Koreagate. I want an Openagate."

Bill Approves Sheriff's Fees

A bill providing sheriff's fees and one allowing for dissolution of special districts received approval today of the county issues task group of the local government statute revision commission.

The sheriff bill provides for fees for services assigned to the sheriff under the new judicial system, but for which no fees were previously provided.

For misdemeanors, sheriffs currently get nothing if a defendant is found not guilty. The proposed legislation would allow for compensation from the unit of government whose law was violated if the defendant is found not guilty.

Dissolution of special districts would be accomplished in the same manner as the district was formed, under the proposed legislation reviewed today by the commission. Districts formed by petition would have to be dissolved by petition, those established by referendum must be dissolved by referendum and those by fiscal court action by that same action.

Causes for dissolution of a district as stated in the proposed legislation would be:

1. The service which the district was created to perform has been completed or is no longer necessary;
2. The district has failed, for a period of three consecutive years, to perform or take substantial steps toward performing the service for which it was created;
3. The cost which the district charges for its service has escalated unreasonably;
4. The county or another general purpose local government wishes to perform the service, or the county determines that another entity can provide the service, and the county determines that the general purpose government or other entity can provide an equal or improved level of service at no extra cost to service users.

The bill also provides for the handling of assets, liabilities and contracts of the district in the base of dissolution.

Also discussed was content of legislation providing for removal of district officers where no such provision now exists. This will come to the committee in the form of a bill draft at its next meeting.

Final approval for action by the full commission was given to a district accountability bill discussed during the last meeting of the task group.

Martin Hospital Hosts Workshop for Nurses

An intravenous therapy workshop was held at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, April 7. The workshop was sponsored by the Kentucky State Association of Licensed Practical Nursing, District 9, Unit 1. Nurses attending were from Highlands Regional Medical Center, Mountain Manor Nursing Home, Pikeville Methodist Hospital and Our Lady of the Way, and one attended from each of the Hazard School of Practical Nursing. McDowell, and Beaver Valley Clinic. Mrs. Bonnie Williams, instructor of Scottsville, presented a program consisting of the different types of I.V. drugs, their use and effect and nursing intervention, with the different needs for I.V. therapy and the legality of the procedure as treatment.

The program was designed to assist L.P.N.'s to receive knowledge in management and starting of I.V.'s. For certification, each L.P.N. was required to return a demonstration of inserting an I.V. Each person attending received a certificate of merit and six contact hours for continuing education.

There will be a repeat of this program in the fall for other nurses who were not able to attend.

ARC To Intensify Children Benefits

The Appalachian Regional Commission plans to intensify its actions to benefit children and families in the Appalachian states, according to Gov. Julian Carroll.

Commission members unanimously approved a resolution based on recommendations from a November 1978 conference on "Raising a New Generation in Appalachia" at a recent meeting in Arlington, Va. The recommendations supported in the resolution include extension of funding for child-care programs.

Development Secretary William Short, who serves as Carroll's alternate on the commission, said only those child-care programs receiving ARC assistance this year will be eligible for extended funding. Such funding will be at the option of individual states, he explained.

The commission also adopted resolutions making ARC funds available for up to 80 percent, rather than the present 70 percent, of the cost of highways approved under the Appalachian Development Highway System after April 1, and approving Appalachian states' plans for spending some $130 million on such programs as health community development and education.

Columbia To Get More Gas

Substantial supplies of Canadian natural gas being developed by another unit of the Columbia Gas System will increase Columbia Gas of Kentucky's ability to serve new customers, Columbia's Prestonsburg area manager, Jack Stumbo, said this week.

Stumbo referred to an application filed Friday by Columbia Gas Development of Canada Ltd. to seek permission from the National Energy Board of Canada to export 204 billion cubic feet of gas over a 15-year period to the United States.

The Canadian gas would increase flowing gas supply to Columbia Gas Transmission Corp., an interstate pipeline company which is the primary pipeline supplier for Columbia of Kentucky and 74 other affiliated and non-affiliated gas distribution companies. All the Columbia companies are units of the Columbia Gas System.

"As we look to adding new customers this summer, the availability of this gas becomes even more important," Stumbo said. "It is further evidence of a five-year, $1 billion investment of the Columbia Gas System which has led us to the point where we can again offer our clean, efficient fuel to homes, offices, and factories."

Columbia has an application to resume gas sales pending before the State Energy Regulatory Commission.

The Canadian gas will come from the Kotaneelee gas field in the Yukon Territory. The Kotaneelee field is operated by Columbia Gas Development for itself and six co-owners, including Dome Petroleum Limited, Amoco Canada Petroleum Co. Ltd., Esso Resources Canada Ltd., Alminex Ltd., Canada Southern Petroleum Ltd. and Magellan Petroleum Corp.

Under present plans, deliveries from the Kotaneelee field would begin in 1980. It is expected that further reserves will become available for export as the Kotaneelee field is completed. Government permits to export additional volumes will be sought at that time.

Production from the Kotaneelee field began earlier this year. Gas from the field currently is being sold on a short-term basis to Westcoast Transmission Co. Ltd.

Jack Stumbo noted the Kotaneelee field is among many Columbia supply development programs, the effects of which are just now starting to be seen.

"But we're not stopping there," he said. "The Columbia System has pledged another $3 billion over the next 10 years to continue supply development."

"These new sources won't be cheap," he noted. "As we continue to go to more remote locations and drill deeper into the earth to find gas, the cost is naturally going to rise."

"The costs of all forms of energy are increasing, however, and we feel confident natural gas will remain one of the best energy bargains available, compared to the price of other fuels, for years to come," he said.

Rector To Exhibit Invention at Fair Set at Oak Ridge

Charles B. Rector, of Jenny Wiley State Park, is one of many ingenious exhibitors at the fifth annual Appalachian Inventors Fair, to be held April 27-29 at the American Museum of Science & Energy in Oak Ridge.

Rector's invention is an antipollution device for industrial smokestacks.

The fair provides Appalachian-area inventors an opportunity to show their creations to the public and to potential manufacturers. Industrialists and manufacturers are invited to view the inventions and participate in judging for awards, given in 13 categories.

A panel of judges will select the "best of show" winner and winners in the 12 other categories. Awards will be given for the most popular exhibit, judged by viewers; most attractive display; and most energy-conserving invention. The other awards are for entries in the fields of agriculture; household; industry; toys, crafts, and hobbies; tools, sports, and recreation; and transportation.

SNAKES BITE 45,000 A YEAR

AUSTIN, Texas—As many as 45,000 Americans a year are bitten by snakes, but only about a fifth of those are poisonous and the mortality rate is low, the American Red Cross says. More than half the venomous bites occur in Texas, North Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Floyd's Would Be District Jail If Proposed System Is Adopted

The state Bureau of Corrections has drafted a working proposal aimed at transforming Kentucky's antiquated and unsafe prison system into a modern three-tier district jail system by 1985.

Corrections Commissioner David Bland said last Thursday that the plan, which will establish district and feeder jails and temporary lockups, will be presented to a task force on jails today, (Wednesday) for its comments.

Under the proposal, 36 district jails would be established across the state in densely-populated, centrally-located counties to handle long-term convicts. Ten of those are now considered to be in good shape, 15 require renovations and 11 jails will have to be built from scratch.

Recommended as district jails are those of Floyd, Pike and Perry in the area. The Johnson, Martin and Knot County jails were listed as feeder jails. The Lawrence and Magoffin jails were classified as temporary lockups.

These "sophisticated" jails, Bland said, would offer all services, including inmate separation, plus all levels of security and will provide an alternative to sending an inmate to one of the larger state prisons.

The 40 feeder jails proposed in the report would hold inmates for more than 72 hours and would be located in adjacent or nearby counties. Bland said the maximum distance between a district and feeder jail would be 25 miles.

The third level of jail would be the 44 short-term lock-ups primarily located in counties of less than 20,000 people. Although the bureau proposes 44 of these jails, more rural counties may choose to maintain their facilities.

According to the report, the district jails will house 70 percent of the prisoners not placed in state jails. Feeder jails will account for 18 percent of those prisoners while the temporary holding jails will house 12 percent.

Bland, who advocated such a district jail system in 1975 as a consultant to the governor, said the new system is essential because many of the state's estimated 125 jails have failed to meet minimum fire and safety standards.

The bureau's report, which Bland emphasized is only a working proposal, also recommends that jailers be paid an annual salary rather than the fees by which they now earn their living and which are tempting areas for abuse.

"A jailer's livelihood is dependent on the fees," Bland said. "We've created a system that makes the jailer creative" by conjuring up new methods to increase the amount of his fees.

Bland and Fred James, director of regional jails, said the proposed system will result in a graduating scale of facilities, from the state prisons to the district jails to the feeder jails and, finally, to the lock-ups.

But, they acknowledged there are problems at his early stage. "The major question," said James, "is whose responsibility is it to build and maintain a jail?" He and Bland also said the question of whether the state will build the jail and then lease it to the county remains unresolved.

They said the cost of the proposal has not been determined, but James said it would probably cost "significantly less than $250 million."

An irritant to the two officials is an effort by county judge-executives, originating in Campbell county, to have the state pay for maintaining the jails or assume total control over all jails in the state.

Current conditions at Kentucky jails, they said, have surprisingly not resulted in any lawsuits. "What we have," Bland concluded, "is a system of jails getting by, by the grace of the Lord."

Panel To Meet On Special Ed.

The quarterly meeting of the State Advisory Panel for Exceptional Children is scheduled for April 19-20. The Thursday session will begin at 10 a.m. in Room 2128 of Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort. Friday morning's session will start at 9 in Room 819 of the Tower.

The principal item on the agenda for the Friday meeting will be a review of and comments on Kentucky's proposed plan for the 12-month period which starts in July.

The panel is a citizens' group which advises the Kentucky Department of Education on needs, regulations, funding and program plans for educational services to exceptional children. Exceptional children differ from normal children to the degree that they require special education and related services in order to achieve the full benefits of instruction.

ASCS Announces LTA Signup

The Floyd County ASC Committee has announced that signup for 1979 ACP long-term agreements will begin May 1 and extend through May 31.

Long-term agreements (or LTA's) are signed for periods of 3 to 10 years. Costs share rates for all LTA practices are 75 percent. Eligible practices are:

Establishment or renovation of permanent vegetative cover (for 1979 fall seeding only), diversions, grazing land protection (this includes livestock watering well), permanent vegetative cover on critical areas, water impoundment reservoirs, sediment retention, erosion, or water control structure, stream protection, sod waterways, forest tree plantation, forest tree stand improvement, permanent wildlife habitat and streambank stabilization.

LTA's are not used in lieu of regular annual ACP practices but are contracts whereby a farm owner or operator may obtain government cost sharing assistance on all practices needed to solve conservation problems on his farm.

The office will begin accepting applications May 1. Any interested farm owner or operator is encouraged to contact the ASCS office for further information at Court Street in Prestonsburg or phone 886-2802.

Poachers Get Highest Penalties Yet

Warren District Judge Henry J. Potter last Wednesday levied what Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources officials are calling the severest penalties for deer poaching in state history.

Meted the maximum fine of $5,000 each were Larry Wholbrey and Harvey Bryson, both of Bowling Green, and Lonnie McMillan, of Maryville, Tennessee. In addition to the fines, each man was ordered to pay $333.33 in replacement costs for the five deer found in possession and court costs of $27.50.

Judge Potter also sentenced each man to a total of 450 days in jail, but probated the sentence provided the men sacrifice their hunting rights for the next five years and pay the entire fine.

"It is encouraging to see deer poaching, which is a serious problem in Kentucky, being taken seriously by the state judiciary," remarked Director R.W. Garrison of the department's Division of Law Enforcement. Garrison added that this is one of several cases where maximum poaching fines have been levied since the fine was raised to $1,000 for each offense.

The three men were arrested

December 9, last, by Warren County Conservation Officer James Taylor and Second Wildlife District Supervisor Wayne Riley shortly after 10 p.m. The officers found five dead deer, a spotlight, three knives and some ammunition in the suspects' possession. The men pled guilty to charges of illegal possession of deer.

Commissioner Carl E. Kays of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources reacted with praise for the state judiciary. "Law enforcement and the prevention of poaching, vital parts of wildlife management, are possible only with cooperation from the public and the judiciary in branding poachers for the outlaws that they are."

NOTICE

Legal Notice to families who lived in public housing projects operated by the Prestonsburg Housing Authority or lived in public housing projects in any other city between March 16, 1971 - September 26, 1975.

If you rented a house or apartment from the Prestonsburg Housing Authority or any other Public Housing Agency (PHA) during the period between March 16, 1971, and September 26, 1975, you may be eligible to file a claim for a refund of part of your rent during that period if:

1. The wife or husband of the head of the household was present and dependent upon the head of the household for support and/or:

2. A dependent member of your family household was employed.

If you believe your family falls within one of the categories described above, you may wish to continue reading this Notice in order to determine how and under what circumstances you may file a claim.

On July 7, 1978, the District Court of the District of Columbia entered a Stipulated Order providing that the definition of family income for purposes of computing maximum rentals for public housing, as contained in a HUD Circular, which excluded spouses from the $300 deduction for each dependent and excluded dependents from the $300 deduction for each secondary wage earner, was invalid and violated the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended. The effect of this determination is that certain families who lived in public housing during the period from March 16, 1971 to September 26, 1975, may have been charged too much rent. Therefore, the District Court ordered HUD to establish a one million dollar fund for the payment of claims which current or former tenants of public housing may submit for a refund of any overpayments.

The District Court's Stipulated Order provides that, if valid claims exceed one million dollars, HUD has the option of having the Order dissolved in which case NTO and HUD may negotiate a modified settlement or proceed with further litigation. Thus, claimants should realize that the submittal of a claim determined valid by a PHA may result in full, partial, or no payment, depending on the total amount of valid claims submitted to HUD, or the final outcome of any further litigation. Any person wishing to receive a copy of the Stipulated Order or a claim form may do so by making their request known to a local PHA.

Individuals wishing to submit a claim must fill in the claim form made a part of this Notice and must submit it to the Public Housing Agency's address indicated on the claim form, or such other appropriate Public Housing Agency if different from the address indicated, within 120 days from Dec. 6, 1978. No claims will be accepted after the end of the 120 day period, April 5, 1979.

Information provided by the claimant on the claim form must be specific as to the time period between March 16, 1971, and September 26, 1975, for which the wife or husband of the head of the household was present and was a dependent and/or a dependent in the household was employed.
