Seniors Ask Court Help At Centers

Senior citizens worried about their bus service and hospital workers interested in the fate of an ordinance regulating security guards crowded last Wednesday's fiscal court meeting, causing it to be moved to the district courtroom.

Delmas Saunders, speaking for more than 80 senior citizens, told the court of the dependence of the elderly on the five vans operated out of senior citizens' centers at Archer Park, Martin and Wheelwright, urging the county to put up funds for their drivers.

Salaries for some of the drivers will be cut off at the end of this month, following President Reagan's termination of the CETA program which supported them.

Saunders noted that the Prestonsburg city council recently voted $500 a month toward support of a busdriver and kitchen worker at Archer Park, on the understanding that the county would make a like contribution.

This Town...That World

Phew! The last issue of the paper before the Election-if we get it out before next Tuesday.

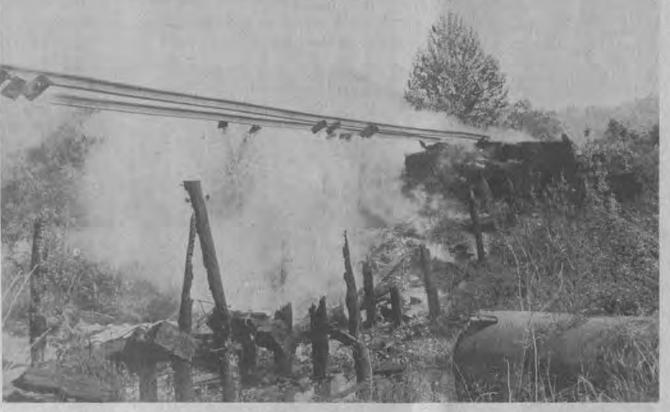

All the rhetoric and claptrap aside and all the ties of friendship and kinship to the contrary there really is only one decision for the voter as a good citizen to make, and that is which candidate for each of these several offices will best serve the county.

A BRAVE MAN

As every candidate tries to get his best foot forward, so to speak, I am reminded of the old gentleman who several generations ago had taken the best shots of the opposition and at the last hour faced a challenge of his courage. He was exceeding wroth, to put it mildly, as he mounted the platform to defend himself. Said he:

I can look any man among you in the eye without flinching. And I can do somethin' else that most of my opponents can't do-I can look in my own mirror and not flinch, either."

STEEL RAILS and a few charred beams were all that remained of a C. & O. Railway bridge which was burned early Sunday morning a short distance west of Wayland. The incident is believed to represent the reaction of striking U.M.W.A. miners to recent shipments of coal along Chessie tracks by L. & N. trains.

Four area fire departments refused to respond to the blaze on account of telephone threats, according to the police report. A Martin firefighter said Wayland, Left Beaver, Maytown and Martin fire departments had all received anonymous calls warning them that they might be shot at if they tried to extinguish the blaze.

The 76-foot trestle was on a line owned by the Chessie System. Recently, however, L. & N. trains began using the track to haul coal from the Hazard osifield into Martin, an arrangement made possible by last year's merger of the two systems.

On each of the three days prior to the destruction of the trestle, L. & N. trains of about 100 gondolas each had passed over the track

Election Heat Felt as Primary Draws to Close

The sometimes torrid campaign waged by candidates for nomination to county offices will come to a conclusion with next Tuesday's primary election. Of the 89 candidates, only four are Republicans, all in Magisterial District No. 4, and all running for the office of constable. The lone race for state office is also in District 4, where a few precincts are included in the 94th congressional district, most of which lies in Pike county

Election officers who will serve at the county's 44 precincts in the May 26 primary will be the same as those who presided at the election last November

Grand Jurors Session Ends Here Tuesday

Eighty-nine indictments, half of them for "cold" checks, were reported by the grand jury of Floyd circuit court Tuesday

Noting that the issuing and passing of worthless checks is "becoming a serious problem," the grand jury urged merchants to take stricter precautions and police to enforce the law strictly in this regard.

Bearing the signature of foreman Clarence R. Rice, the jury report commends county officials for instituting countywide garbage collection, encourages the cooperation of citizens in the project, and urges that litter laws be strictly enforced.

Laws restricting burning should also be stringently enforced and all areas of the county should be closely monitored for violations, especially during dry periods, the report suggested.

Notable for its absence from the report was any reference to alleged mismanagement of Beaver Elkhorn Water District funds, a subject to which Circuit Judge Hollie Conley had instructed the grand jury to address itself. Commonwealth's Attorney James Allen refused to comment on the omission.

Eight indictments were returned stemming from incidents allegedly involving members of the striking hospital workers' union, including four against union officers. Tom Woodruff, district president of the union, was named on two assault charges arising from a fight that broke out last Thursday between union pickets and hospital security guards. Woodruff is accused of striking Thomas R. Clark and Larry Herzner with a rock. Larry Daniels president of the Highlands Hospital union local, is accused of striking Clark and Herzner with a baseball bat

Gwen Calhoun is accused of striking Rhoda Short numerous times across the back and head with a baseball bat, charges stemming from the same

Woman Accused After Husband Gunshot Victim

Arraignment has been set for July 1 in the case of a Melvin woman charged with murder in the shooting death of her husband Sunday night.

Julia Hall Keenes, 40, was accused of shooting James Albert Keenes, 44, in the couple's home at the foot of Abner Mountain around 9.15 p.m. Sunday. Keenes died of a bullet wound in the forehead.

Two of the couple's nine children were reportedly at home at the time of the shooting, which was said to have followed a domestic argument.

The possibility that the woman shot her husband in self defense was supported by witnesses who are said to have told state police Keenes was pursuing her with a pocket knife shortly before the shooting. A knife was reportedly found in the pocket of the victim's trousers after his body was taken to McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital.

Mrs. Keenes posted a $1000 cash bond in district court here Monday, on condition that she leave the state within six hours of her release from the county jail.

After meeting with lawyers for both sides, Circuit Judge Hollie Conley amended a restraining order issued March 25, spelling out in further detail restrictions to be observed at the violence-plagued picket line.

According to the order, the union was to remove its tent from the hospital premises, dismantle a wooden barricade erected around the tent, and give to state police a daily listing of those scheduled for picket duty. Further, all pickets were ordered to carry identification and to refrain from wearing masks.

Hospital guards were ordered not to carry arms, to move a van and portable lighting unit back from the hospital gate, and to remain within the perimeter of the hospital parking lot, "except for escorting personnel, sweeping up debris, or reacting to emergency situations.

State police were instructed by the order to make periodic inspections, to confiscate ballbats, sticks, clubs, bottles, nails and anything else which might be used as a weapon "to obstruct free ingress and egress to and from the hospital premises," to disperse unauthorized pickets, and to "arrest and lodge in the county jail forthwith" anyone failing to disperse.

Job Corps Sets Two-Week Drive For Enrollment

A team of Job Corps specialists will be in eastern Kentucky during the next two weeks to conduct on-the-spot enrollment for the Prestonsburg Job Corps

The Job Corps Center offers free training in a variety of vocational programs to qualified young people between the ages of 16 and 22. The programs require a minimum of six months for completion.

Any young person who wants a high school equivalency diploma (GED) may complete the GED course of study in only three months.

To eliminate any delay in approving applications, Manpower Services will bring a qualified screener to five eastern Kentucky sites. Manpower Services is part of the Department for Human Resources which administers the program.

Approved applicants will be enrolled, on the spot. Transportation will be available, according to Manpower Services officials.

In addition to free training, Job Corps includes medical and dental care and a living allowance for personal expenses during the enrollees' training period at the Job Corps Center

Job Corps also provides a readjustment allowance to be put aside for each student for the time between leaving the center and finding the first job.

"Activities at the Job Corps center including educational, recreational and skills training are oriented to one purpose-to prepare the young person for the outside world by providing

Parents Ask School Pickets To Take Protest to Board

Parents and teachers of Prater Creek grade school students gave this clear message last Thursday to the small group of women who had picketed the school the previous two days

"Take your protest to the school board-we will even go with you-but don't disrupt the school.'

The five women, together with more than a dozen seventh and eighth graders, picketed the school last Wednesday and Thursday to protest the resignation of head teacher Sandy Boyd, following charges late last month that he had given marijuana to a Betsy Layne high school junior to sell and a public avowal later that he himself used the drug.

While most of those at Thursday's meeting remained non-committal on the merits of Boyd's departure, they appeared united in the view that interrupting classes was not an appropriate way to resolve the issue.

Emotions ran high as teachers and parents told of older students running the school hallways, early Wednesday morning, bursting into classrooms, insulting at least one teacher and frightening younger students, bringing pressure on some of them to sign a petition in support of Boyd.

Many parents had kept their children away from school Thursday-only 46 of the school's 160 pupils attended-out of fear for their safety, it was said. And teachers complained that teaching was all but impossible as long as the pickets remained.

Two of the pickets, Marcie Jarrell and Carol Dillon, denied responsibility for the alleged excesses, but their disclaimers failed to persuade others at the meeting, some of whom angrily noted that Mrs. Jarrell had no children attending the school.

First grade teacher Sherry Tackett sobbed as she told of the change in student attitudes which she attributed to the demonstration,

"I've worked all year to get my children to enjoy school, to want to learn, and now," she said, addressing the pickets, "you come down here, two weeks before school is out, and make them afraid to come to school.

"As far as the seventh and eighth graders are concerned." she added, "the teachers have become the enemy.

Glenna Childers, a remedial reading teacher at the school, said some of the striking students had insulted fifth- and sixth-grade teacher Bonnie Harmon, one threatening to "bust her mouth."

Students told her they had been instructed by the pickets not to pay heed to the teachers, Mrs. Childers charged.

Another parent condemned the pickets for "using the children as pawns" for their own ends.

Though she supported Boyd, the picketing "is not helping him," said Teresa Cooley. "And it's not helping the school," she added, in response to a claim by one of the pickets that their demonstration was also aimed at forcing improvements in the school buildings.

"Good teachers have been damaged" and may be lost to the school if the disruption continued, Mrs. Cooley warned

The marriage of Miss Rosalee Bowen to Mr. Floyd C. Taylor was solemnized at 12 o'clock Saturday, May 16, at the home of the bride at Inez. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Cloud Horn.

Miss Bowen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bowen, of Inez, and Mr. Taylor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Taylor, of Hunter.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Sheldon Clark High School, and the groom is a 1977 graduate of McDowell High School. He is employed at Brown Produce Co.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, and after the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip.

Two Floyd Students To Get $500 Awards

The Rev. Ralph Beiting, president of the Christian Appalachian Project, announces that Laura Renee Hamilton, 17, of McDowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy F. Hamilton, of McDowell, and Brian Hugh Akers, 17, Betsy Layne High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Akers, of Grethel, have been awarded a $500 scholarship.

The award was based primarily on the students' involvement and contribution in community activities. Applications were reviewed by a committee composed of several residents of Floyd county and the Christian Appalachian Project. Formal presentation of the award will be made at the schools.

This year, due to a generous grant from the Caroline and Roxanna Montrose Educational Foundation of Pala Alto, Calif., the Christian Appalachian Project was able to extend the scholarship awards to Pulaski, Clay, Floyd, Knott, Letcher, Martin, and Whitley counties. Grants of $1,000 also were made to Buckhorn Children's Center, Oneida Baptist Institute, and Red Bird Mission, Inc.

Silver Program Nets $14 Million For VA

One of the least known internal programs of the Veterans Administration netted the agency nearly $14 million in 1980 The program is VA's sophisticated system for recovering silver from photographic waste.

VA began the program in 1962 by recovering silver from dental amalgams, hearing aid batteries and photographic waste. In the first year of the program, only $31,300 was recovered, but with higher silver prices and modern technology, the figure has jumped to nearly $14 million in 1980. Surprisingly, the cost to VA for 1980 amounted to less than $185,000.

Silver recovery has become more important because of the rapidly increasing price of the scarce commodity. But there are other reasons for conserving this limited resource with its unique photographic, electronic and aesthetic qualities. Scrap recovery helps make up the large deficit between current market demand and mine production. Recovery conserves the environment by limiting the discharge of silver into waterways, and it reduces the need for additional mining and smelting of new ore, thereby reducing air pollution and conserving energy.

Today's modern recovery process might be called a scientific wonder. At most of VA's large hospitals and clinics, x-ray processors automatically feed used photographic fixer into holding tanks until enough is gathered to warrant recovery. An electrolytic silver recovery unit is then placed over the container and run for about 24 hours.

The fixer is tested with a clean copper wire to determine its silver content. If the wire turns silver after being held in the solution for 15 seconds the electrolytic process continues. But if the wire remains a copper color, the silver has been recovered and the solution disposed of.

The silver is then sent to the Bureau of the Mint's Assay Office in New York for refining into pure silver ingots. The General Services Administration then sells the silver and the funds are returned to VA for the purchase of medical supplies.

The effectiveness of VA's silver recovery system can be traced to several areas;

-VA has a large source of silver in its hospitals and clinics.

-The agency has conducted a vigorous campaign to inform hospital administrators and technical personnel about the importance of the program.

 All VA hospitals have set recovery goals based on the amount of x-ray film used.

-The incentive is superb: monies recovered from the sale of silver are returned to a revolving fund that offsets the costs of medical supplies.

 An active internal audit group monitors the program's effectiveness and oversees control of the recovered silver.

-A standardized and simple program with clear instructions and frequent feedback on each hospital's effectiveness is conducted. The savings to the American taxpayer over the years has been considerable. Growing from a little over $31,000 recovered in 1962 to nearly $14 million in 1980-VA's precious metals recovery program is unique in government.

Special Education on Agenda for Teachers, Parents of Handicapped

Eileen Schepers, staff member at Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, focuses full attention on the illustration that Dr. Jerry Nelson, professor at Pikeville College, is shown drawing at the Special Education Club Conference held at Pikeville College recently, 121 persons attended the spring meeting held for parents and trainers of the handicapped.

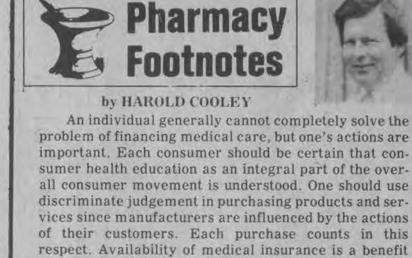

Fikeville College's Special Education Club hosted a conference for parents, and educators of handicapped persons Friday, May 8, in Chrisman Auditorium. Parents of the handicapped, social workers from rural health clinics, trainers from Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, and all the practical nursing students from Mayo State Vocational School comprised the group totaling 121.

Kathleen Sweeny, president of the SEC stated the importance of the conference, "We schedule two meetings yearly to stress the importance of the family in the education process. Our responsibility as special education teachers reaches beyond teaching the child. We must share techniques and experiences with the family as well."

The program consisted of a panel discussion and 6 workshops scheduled throughout the day. The topic for the panel discussion was "Community Services—What is Available and What is Needed." Dr. Audrey Barkman, chairman of the Education Department at Pikeville College, Reverand Mardeiter of the Assembly of God Church in Pikeville, and Ruth Simpkins of Home Health Services served as members of the panel, and Dr. Jerry Nelson, professor at Pikeville College, acted as moderator.

A broad range of topics were discussed in the workshops. Mrs. Charlotte Mann, a parent of a handicapped young adult, led the "Parent Sharing" session. "How to Deal With Public. Schools" (when you have a handicapped child) and "How Parents Should Meet With Doctors" were the sessions Dr. Nelson led. Judy Yunker, Eileen Schepers, Paula West and Peggy Schilile of Mountain Comprehensive Care Center led sessions on "How To Deliver Religious Training," "How To the Adult Handicapped" and "Training of the Infant and the Preschool Handicapped Child.' During the noon luncheon the SEC presented the Outstanding Service Award, Ruth Bevins, a TMH teacher at Jackson Rowe Elementary and Darlene McCoy a EMH instructor at Pikeville Elementary received the honors.

Pikeville College and SEC club advisor made arrangements for the conference. Dr. Nelson, designed and developed the program.

WOULDN'T YOU LIKE THE GUARANTEE OF A 40% INCREASE IN YOUR SALARY AND BENEFITS IN THE NEXT 24 MONTHS?

That's what Highlands Regional Medical Center offered the union before they walked out.

Our proposal will mean that in 24 months, by the time the third year of the contract begins, the lowest paid workers at Highlands Regional, those in unskilled positions who we must train, will make a starting salary of $9,400 a year. This is a total of $11,000 a year in salary and benefits. We think that is a very fair offer.

The union's demand calls for a 72.5% increase in salaries and benefits over the next 12 months.

To meet this unreasonable demand, your hospital bill would have to be increased by at least $65 per patient, per day. For us to agree to that would be irresponsible and would place far too great a burden on the community.

Magistrates Ray Wilcox and Ed Caudill spoke in favor of the proposal, Caudill offering to contribute $1000 from his salary if funds for the drivers were otherwise unavailable. Judge-Executive Bill Wells said any funding would need to be extended equally to all centers, but cautioned that funds may not be available. The county faces a $125,000 deficit this year, he said.

Despite a plea by the group for a more definite commitment of money, Wells promised only that funds would he budgeted for the drivers "if the money is there.

The court passed an ordinance requiring the licensing of private security guards employed in this county. Persons to be hired in that capacity will need to be screened by the sheriff's department, according to the ordinance, which was proposed last month by County Attorney Arnold Furner, Jr. to prevent the hiring of socalled gun thugs during labor strikes. Members of Hospital and Health Care Workers Local 1199, who inquired of the court whether it would prohibit the hiring of outsiders as guards, were advised by Assistant County Attorney Eric Hall that the ordinance contained no local residency requirement for guards. Highlands Hospital, which the union is currently striking, recently expanded its security with the hiring of a Cincinnati firm.

On the recommendation of Judge-Executive Wells, the court named commissioners for the Beaver Elkhorn Water District to replace two who resigned recently, following suggestions that water district funds have tieen mismanaged. James Scott, of Estill, was named to replace Doug Marshall and Monroe Vanderpool, of Hippo, was named to replace Gary Martín.

In other business, Mare Creek residents urged repair of their road and Flo Weddington pressed her complaint about the condition of a road at Emma; bids will be advertised for a cable television franchise for an area extending from Rough and Tough to the Magoffin county line; the County Attorney was authorized to take legal steps toward retaining the stateoperated juvenile detention center; and the court decided not to pay a South Central Bell bill for $1608, said to be owing for phone cable damage done by a county grader at Dwale.

Boyd And Marijuana

I would like to state, as a member of several local and a regional drug education groups, that I was astounded when I read the account of Sandy Boyd and his rationale on the use of marijuana.

In the emotional upheaval of this situation at Prater Creek some facts have been forgotten.

Marijuana is "illegal," a carcinogen, can damage almost every organ in the human body. It also remains in the fatty cells of the brain for approximately 30 days. Scientists, worldwide, are warning millions who smoke "pot" that they may be damaging their brains and decreasing their chances of giving birth to healthy babies. This illegal substance was condoned by Mr. Boyd. His reasoning was, it eases his stress.

This man, when he was hired by our local board of education, accepted a position of trust, leadership and responsibility when he assumed the role of head teacher. His wisdom, in taking a public stand regarding marijuana, was questionable.

We as parents recognized that children in elementary school use their teachers and principals as examples to follow. I can't help but wonder how many children he has influenced with statements he has made publicly concerning his "private," illegal use of marijuana.

This county has severe drug problems we must face and resolve. Statements such as those from Mr. Boyd will do a great deal to undermine the efforts of people who are trying to stop the drug abuse among children and this community.

I'm sure most of us are praying that Mr. Boyd seeks counseling so he can find a solution to the problem which, he says, Viet Nam fostered.

We can not allow, however, someone in such a position of influence to remain in school. His statements on his illegal drug use are controversial, to say the least, and, in my opinion. morally wrong.

Asks Traffic Bumps

In March of this year, I contacted Ray Wilcox's office to ask for traffic bumps to be put on the streets around the Allen school.

I was told I would need a petition with signatures of the majority of persons living on this street.

I took the petition back to Mr. Wilcox in the early part of April. He promised me that he would get right on the mat-

The first of May, the traffic bumps were still not there. I called Mr. Wilcox again and he said they would be put down as soon as the weather got warm enough.

Although the school board has not endorsed the proposal, a report released by state education department officials in January recommended consolidation of the Prater Creek, Daniels Creek, Allen and Home Branch grade schools, in a new school to be built at Allen, as the first priority for future school construction in this county.

Amid expressions of loyalty to the school and support for its present teachers, the meeting secured an agreement by the pickets that their demonstration would be called off and decided to send a delegation to the next school board meeting to press there its demands for repairs to the physical plant.

Classes resumed Friday morning without incident, with a substitute teacher in charge of the seventh and eighth graders.

Enough of sordid reality, present and past. How long has it been since you last backtalked an echo, or even heard one? Remember?

Time was when almost every hollow had its echo, ready to be awakened by youngsters in the early mornings or late, just before dusk, when the wind lay quiet. The echo still sleeps but not in as many places as in other years. Those long, quiet hollows where the magic voice bounded back and forth between the hills are now too thickly peopled for elfin sound to be heard.

Find you a hollow that yet is a fit dwelling place for the echo. He's still there. Awaken him. But I warn you. He'll not answer in

Rev. Poole Farewell

A farewell party for Rev. William Poole, pastor of the Floyd County Catholic parish, will be held in the fair pavillion at Archer Park, Sunday, March 31, at 1:30 p.m. All are invited to attend

Now it's the last of May, there's just a few days of school left.

As traffic is getting to be quite heavy in this area, I'm concerned about the safety of our children.

Now is the time for every concerned parent to call Mr. Wilcox and ask for these traffic bumps. I urge each one to do so.

After some child is injured by a car, then it will be too late.

CINDY PARSONS Allen, Ky.

As chairman of the 1981 Easter Seal campaign in Floyd county, I want to thank all the people, business firms and organizations who contributed to the campagin in so many ways.

The many volunteers who gave of their time, money and talents, those who helped publicize the story of crippled children's needs including The Floyd County Times and Radio Station WPRT can be assured that their efforts are deeply appreciated by our local campaign committee and by the children who benefit from Easter Seal contributions.

Although the annual spring campaign ended Easter Sunday, the rehabilitation program by Easter Seals is carried on every day of the year, so it is never too late to give to help crippled children.

We especially want to thank the members of the Kentucky Army National Guard for another outstanding effort for Easter Seals.

Thanks again to all who played a part in our dirve for those less fortunate than ourselves.

Greatest Needs

A statewide teacher survey, believed drugs; teacher stress; training in to be the first of its kind in the nation, has been completed to determine the greatest needs of Kentucky teachers. Some 26,000 teachers in 156 of the 181 school districts responded to a survey sent to all public and private schools.

The survey was part of a "protocol materials" project initiated in 1980 by the Kentucky Department of Education's Bureau of Instruction, Each state university was asked to select a topic from a list of needs and prepare material which could be used in staff development activities for teachers. Western Kentucky University selected teachers' needs on a major scale.

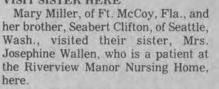

Kentucky teachers indicated through the survey that their greatest needs were in the areas of: techniques for motiviating students; legal responsibilities of the classroom teacher; strategies for classroom disciplinemanagement; first aid training; teaching slow learners; dealing with cardio-pulmonary resuscitation; managing classroom time more efficiently; and self-concept activities for students.

Department of Education staff believe that the survey is going to be a powrful data base for detrmining all kinds of needs, especially in determining inservice programs for the future.

The survey instrument contained 71 topics which appeared with the greatest frequency in an open-ended survey of about 2,000 teachers. Through the cooperation of the College of Education's Professional Developcentralized needs assessment as its ment Center at Western Kentucky topic and decided to do a full-blown University and the inservice coorstatewide survey to determine dinators at the regional universities, the survey was distributed to all local school districts.

Each respondent to the survey was asked to indicate both knowledge level and need level on each topic. The response to the survey was overwhelming, according to Bob Cobb with the

"In order for us to get a true picture of what teachers' needs were for each local school district, we had to collect data from all the teachers in that district, not just a few," explained Cobb. "Statistically it is a very valid survey. The teachers did a super job on cooperating with us."

Joe Clark, director of staff development with the Department of Education, said the survey was truly the teachers speaking.

They came up with the topics and then told us what their need levels were," he explained. "It wasn't the Department of Education telling them their needs or superintendents speaking; it was strictly the teachers.'

Identification of teachers' greatest needs will enable the Department of Education as well as local districts to provide workshops, conferences and training activities that will meet these needs, said Clark,

Survey results were sent to each local school district to enable personnel to look at their staff development offerings for teachers and see if they coincide with the needs identified by the survey for their district.

The use of the survey results is only limited by the imagination, according to Cobb. He believes that there will be a great demand for the results from all kinds of interest groups.

"I have already been contacted by the Kentucky Academy of Science which is very interested in what science teachers need," Cobb said. 'We can look at the survey and say this is what the science teachers are telling us.

Survey results can be broken down by geographic area to see if the needs of teachers in urban areas differ from the needs of their counterparts in rural areas, he said.

"If we need to know what Title I teachers think about this or that we can look at the survey and pull out the information," Cobb emphasized. "We can gear it for any specific target group.

Cobb said that one of the driving elements behind the survey was Dr. Donald Hunter, head of the department's Bureau of Instruction.

"I am excited by the scope of this project because of its ability to give us more current data on the needs of our teachers than any state in the union." Hunter said.

VISIT SISTERS

Mrs. Richard Branham and Mary, of Ypsilanti, Michigan, visited her sisters, Mrs. Joe Tussey, of David, and Mrs. Marie Stephens, of Langley, recently.

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT 1:

I, Ray Wilcox, candidate for Magistrate in District 1, would like to ask my opponents why they are making promises to the people of District 1 that they cannot possibly fulfill. Anyone who has any concept of county government knows that a magistrate has only one vote. Why haven't these candidates attended the Fiscal Court meetings since announcing their candidacy? Everyone knows that Fiscal Court meetings are open to the public and are held every second Wednesday of each month. I am sure, had they taken the time or the interest to attend, they would have found that a member of the Fiscal Court has no control over the other members and one member cannot control three other gentlemen as well as the County Judge-Executive as to decisions made.

Some of my opponents are stating that they are for garbage control, fire departments, sewage, water, etc. I too am for these projects if they are in the best interest of the citizens. The records will show that these projects are already in effect, or will be shortly.

One of my opponents states that he has already consulted an engineer for survey work. This statement should speak for itself. Can this candidate control the Fiscal Court? He needs to run for higher office if he has that power. This candidate couldn't possibly understand the function of county government or he would not have made such a statement. Although he is an ex-City Councilman, why was he defeated in the last city election? Controlled by an individual. Ask who?----

Some of my opponents are photographers and make nice pictures, but I have found operating heavy equipment is far more complicated than operating a camera and progress exceeds pictures.

As your friend and neighbor, I ask you the voters of District 1 to STOP and THINK. Do you, for the next four years, want a magistrate that you will have to contact some other individual before you can get results?

Are my opponents willing to give up their present employment to serve you as a fulltime magistrate?

Again I ask for you, the voters of District 1, to support me for magistrate. The first and only fulltime Magistrate of District 1.

THE STRIKE GOES ON...

For the last 2 months, employees at Highlands Regional Medical Center have been on strike. There has been a lot in the media from both sides. But certain facts stand out.

* * * *

- 1. The Union proposed not to strike but to submit all issues to Impartial Arbitration. The hospital refused.
- 2. The Union's proposals would merely bring employees up to the standards of other regional hospitals of similar size and service. They can be paid for by a 7% budget increase.
- 3. The hospital is operating at less than 25% of capacity, causing a health care crisis for our friends and neighbors in five counties.

- 4. The hospital is spending thousands of dollars per day on armed security thugs. In fact, they have already wasted more money on this strike than a decent contract for us would cost.
- 5. Clarence Traum, the administrator, makes $65,000.00 per year. In addition, he is President of a Pennsylvania consulting corporation which has been paid tens of thousands of dollars in the last year.
- 6. The hospital administration has refused to make any change in it's proposals since the strike began.
- 7. The Union is willing to compromise to settle this strike in a reasonable way. The hospital administration refuses to compromise.

Future Of Appalachian Studies To Be Discussed At UK Conference

The past, present and future of Appalachian Studies at the University of Kentucky will be covered in a conference at the King Library on the UK campus May 21-22.

Appalachian Studies has grown rapidly as an academic area of study over the past few years. The conference participants will look at problems and progress to date, according to John Stephenson, director of UK's Appalachian Center.

The Appalachian Studies program at UK was developed during the past four years with financial help from the National Endowment for the Illumanities.

Sponsored by the Appalachian Center, the M. I. King Library, and the Appalachian Journal, the conference will include the presentation of papers by distinguished scholars from the mountain region. The papers will be published later in the Appalachian Journal.

Conference registration begins at 1:15 p.m. Thursday, May 21, at King Library North Gallery. The second day's program will begin at 8:30 a.m. The registration fee is $20.

For further information, contact H. Rika Goldman, the Appalachian Center, University of Kentucky (606) 258-4852.

PHIPPS

Two troopers from the Kentucky State Police post at Pikeville were among 18 state police officers honored here today for recovering more than $2.5 million worth of stolen vehicles during 1960.

The two Pikeville post officers were Trooper Charles S. Woodard, who was credited with recovering 32 vehicles valued at $140,400, and 14 auto theftrelated arrests, and Detective Donnie Jack Phipps.

Phipps was credited with 28 recoveries, valued at $203,950, and 17 arrests.

In addition, the Pikeville Post also was cited as having had the thirdhighest vehicle recovery and arrest record among all 16 KSP posts. During 1980, the Pikeville post recovered a total of 233 stolen vehicles, valued at more than $1.2 million, and made 73 arrests.

The two top posts were at London, with recoveries totaling more than $1.4 million and 219 arrests, and Harlan with a $1.3 million-plus total and 105 arrests.

Both Woodard and Phipps were awarded .38 caliber, Smith and Wesson handguns for their performance. The awards were made by the Independent Insurance Agents of Kentucky who have supported the KSP's "Screaming Eagle" Auto Theft Program since it was started in 1975 to focus attention on Kentucky's auto theft problems by recognizing those troopers who make the most recoveries and arrests annually.

State Police Commissioner Marion D. Campbell, who was at the ceremonies to congratulate the winning troopers, also commended the Independent Insurance Agents for their support, saying that in the seven years since the Screaming Eagle Program was created, the number of stolen vehicles recovered by state police annually has risen by more than 120 percent.

"Last year alone, we recovered, on the average, something like one stolen vehicle every four hours, and more than one-fourth of all those recoveries were made by the 18 troopers we are recognizing here today. In my book, that is a pretty impressive achievement," he said. Campbell went on to say, however, that despite the progress which state police have made in uncovering several major auto theft operations recently, "the bad news for the car owner is that there are at least another 35 to 40 professional theft rings still operating here (in Kentucky), and those are (only) the ones we know about. "And if they get your car before we get them," he said,..."well, of the 10,000 vehicles stolen last year, at least 4,000 will never be seen again. They were stolen to order, cut up and shipped all over the country. The commissioner characterized auto theft as "the fastest growing, and most lucrative racket in Kentucky and the nation, today. Right now, while I am talking with you, the losses from auto theft in Kentucky alone are climbing at a rate of $56 a minute, $3,400 an hour, nearly $82,000 per day, for a staggering annual total of better than $30 million a year," he said.

Nationally, the loss figure is closer to $4 billion annually, or about one stolen vehicle every 29 seconds, he said.

Campbell said that one of the biggest setbacks for the auto thief in Kentucky would be the passage of an auto title law, and he urged everyone to "let your local officials and your state legislators know that you support (such a law) for Kentucky.

"A centrally-controlled title law will never inconvenience an honest car owner," he said, "but it will hit the car thief right where he lives—in the pocketbook."

VOICE YOUR OPINION

 Do You think Floyd County Sanitation should be allowed to use the Garth dump?

2. Do you feel Floyd County Sanitation should have to continue hauling to Johnson County?

YES NO

PLEASE ANSWER THE ABOVE QUESTIONS BY CHECKING THE APPROPRIATE BOXES, AND MAIL TO: FLOYD COUNTY SANITATION, C/O PAUL SLONE, P.O. BOX 192, DWALE, KY. 41621

To The Voters Of District 3:

As I travel over District 3, and talk to the people they tell me our present magistrate has really neglected us, and has not performed his duty as he should. I agree with what the good people say. Our magistrate seems to think that hauling gravel at election time will make us forget his neglect for the past $3\frac{1}{2}$ years for District 3.

Mr. Edward Caudill, our present magistrate states in the May 13, 1981 edition of The Floyd County Times that he did the planning and building of the Mini-Park, at Minnie, Ky. Now, Mr. Caudill, I can see why you would like the credit for this little park because it gives our young people something to do. Good people of District 3 don't let our present magistrate make you believe this. I have in my possession the blue prints for the planning and building of this park, dated October 17, 1975. This park was bought and paid for during my term as your magistrate, 1974 to 1978.

When I was a member of the Floyd County Fiscal Court, the court house annex and the juvenile detention center were also build, and paid for. The Floyd Fiscal Court also bought the land for the Stumbo Memorial Park at Allen, Ky.

Here are some improvements during my term as Magistrate 1974-1978.

- 1. Resurfaced Arkansas Road
- 2. Resurfaced Simpsons Branch Road at Drift, Ky., one mile.
- 3. Completed Stumbo Hollow Road at Drift, Ky. so the people would not have to drive through the creek.
- 4. Blacktopped Frasures Creek Road 21/4 miles.
- 5. Built new bridges and re-floored old ones.
- 6. Made a parking lot at Drift Cemetery.

Campbell-Tackett To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Campbell, of Weeksbury, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Cheryl Lynne, to Elmer Douglas Tackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tackett, also of Weeksbury. The wedding will be solemnized at the Wheelwright Methodist Church on Saturday, June 6, at 4 p.m., with the Rev. John Adams officiating.

A reception will follow at the home of Miss Campbell's brother, James Campbell, of Melvin. The gracious custom of open ceremony will be observed, and everyone is invited to attend.

TO ALL MY FELLOW CITIZENS: Your support for Arvel "Mush" Nelson for Magistrate of District 1 will be greatly appreciated.

CONGRATULATIONS, MAYOR LARRY HALL!!

YOUR QUEST TO PREVENT THE PEOPLE OF MARTIN FROM HAVING THEIR STREETS REPAIRED WAS A HUGE SUCCESS!

THE CONTRACTOR QUIT.

- At the April 13, 1981 council meeting you signed a contract agreeing to pay R&L Paving Co. for street repair. Present and all voting for the needed work to be done were: Councilmen Phil Jenkins, Alan Whicker, Joe Everage, Ken Peters and J. R. Key. Not present was Councilman David Chaffins.
- One week after work began you issued a check to R&L Paving for over $6,000.00. Thirty minutes later you called the bank and stopped payment. Your only excuse given the contractor was that you wanted to teach people a lesson. What people, Mayor? The people of Martin?
- The contractor lost 2½ days of work plus spending hours in a lawyer's office before you released his funds, with the promise of no further trouble. However, just four days later you refused to sign the second check due R&L Paving for over $12,000.00!
- When confronted by council members and Roger Thornsberry, owner of R&L Paving and asked to sign, your only excuse was "I don't have time." I'm sure you'll hear those very words repeated back when you ask for votes in two years.

We the undersigned members of Martin City Council want all streets repaired. We have the money but the contractor has pulled out because of this outstanding $12,000.00 bill you owe, Mayor.

If you, the people of Martin want your streets fixed we urge you to call Mayor Hall at 285-3608 or his unlisted home phone 285-9641, and tell him so!

- 7. Re-floored all the swinging bridges.
- 8. Bulldozed and cleaned the lot at Minnie, Ky. for the new association building built there.
- 9. Graves were also dug during my term of office.
- 10. I made the motion in Floyd Fiscal Court for all county employees to be paid every two weeks instead of once a month.
- 11. I made the motion in Floyd Fiscal Court for all county employees to have medical insurance paid by the court.
- 12. When I was elected your magistrate (1974 to 1978) there was only one grader for Districts 3 and 4 to share. Soon after I was sworn in as Magistrate, District 3 got a new grader.
- 13. Resurfaced Salisbury Road connecting with District 4.
- 14. Resurfaced Dinwood Road.

When I was your magistrate my telephone number WAS LISTED in the telephone directory. If I'm elected your magistrate IT WILL BE LISTED again.

In the May 6, 1981 edition of The Floyd County Times I read where eight new roads were built in another district. I wonder why no new roads were built in District 3, and I'm sure the voters would like to know also. In the same edition of The Floyd County Times, Mr. Caudill states that he DOES NOT NEED THE JOB AS MAGISTRATE. I certainly agree with him because he RETIRED as DISABLED a few years ago.

I think after you read this and compare some of my improvements from 1974 to 1978 to your present magistrate's record you will agree it is time to Elect Leroy Akers Magistrate. A man who will see that District 3 gets their fair share of all tax dollars. I will be a FULLTIME MAGISTRATE for all the people.

I am a member of the James W. Alley Masonic Lodge No. 869 F and AM., a member of the United Mine Workers of America, and a World War II veteran.

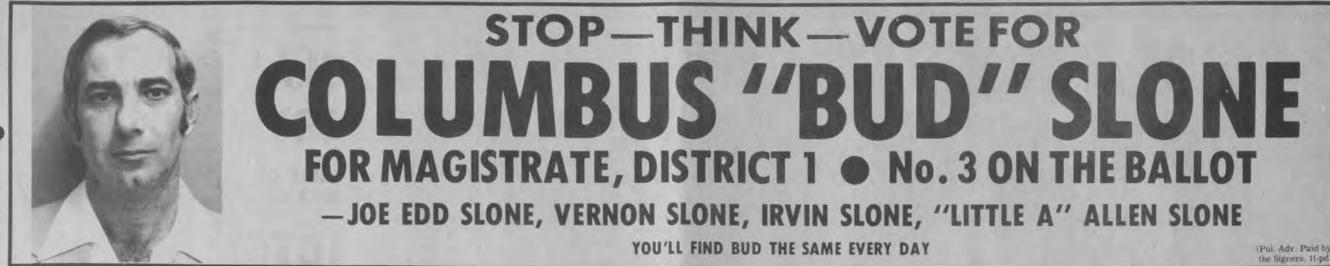

Voters, I am asking for your vote and support. Go to the polls on May 26 and Elect Leroy Akers Magistrate of District 3 (Number 9 on the ballot). A MAN WHO HAS PROVEN HE CAN GET THE JOB DONE. Honest and dependable. your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

VOTEFOR A TRAINED CORONE

Floyd Group Says Power Firm Method Of Charging, Wrong

RE-ELECT PAUL STILTON

(Pol. Adv. Paid For by the Candidate)

FOR SHERIFF OF FLOYD COUNTY

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

This has been a very hard but rewarding campaign. I feel it has been worth the effort. Old friendships have been renewed and many new friendships begun. I've found that most people of this county have basically the same goals-they want Floyd County to grow and prosper, to be a safe and secure place to raise their families. These are my goals too-this is why I am running for Sheriff.

I have listened to each of you on this campaign and one fact stands out-you have not been receiving the service you deserve from your Sheriff's department. Many of our residents live in isolated communities-they have to depend on the Sheriff for protection and security. They have no city police to call on. How many calls for assistance have been delayed or not heeded?

We have had 8 years of one family's rule and now they are asking for 4 more. Can Floyd County afford this? Our constitution has encouraged a change of Sheriffs every 4 years from the people. They need to be accountable to the people. Otherwise the possibility for abuse of the power of the Sheriff's office is staggering. I say NO to another 4 years. Floyd County cannot afford 12 years of the same. From the great support and encouragement of all of you, I am sure you will vote NO to 12 years.

I have tried to run my campaign on my own merits and qualifications. Evidently, certain opponents feel differently. Malicious and scandalous handbills and lies against me are being circulated. Voters do not be misled. This is the work of desperate men. Why are they afraid? I regret their unscrupulous tactics because of the hurt to my family.

Friends, let's get down to work and show them. May 26 is the day for change. The people will speak. They will vote to return the Sheriff's office to the people. They will vote for a change.

Remember only 4 more votes in each precinct in 1977 and we would have won the Sheriff's office then.

Stand together and be counted. Let's make it a big victory in 1981. Thanks to all. Henry C. Hale

How Kentucky Power Company figures electricity bills came under scrutiny at a Public Service Commission hearing in Frankfort recently. Members of a consumer group called the Floyd County Citizens' Association and their attorney were among those testifying at the hearing.

The power company practice of charging its largest customers less per unit of electricity than its smaller customers was criticized by the group as encouraging over-consumption and spurring the need for new plant construction

Eula Hall, of Honaker, one of those who testified, charged that high electricity bills force some low-income consumers to choose among necessities. She urged the adoption of programs to provide an essential minimum of electricity at an affordable cost, so that the poor "will not have to choose between electricity and food.'

While some critics of the utility's rate structure argue that it shifts the cost burden away from larger industrial users toward residential users, power company officials reply that residential rates are disproportionately low when return on investment is taken into account.

While the company enjoys a 17 percent return on its investment in the industrial sector, the rate of return from the residential sector is only three percent, it is claimed.

This month's hearing completed the first phase of a statewide investigation of utility rate structure, mandated for all states by the Public Utilities Regulatory Policies Act of 1978. A second round of hearings is scheduled September 8 and 9, and a third October

The Floyd County Citizens' association was represented at the hearing by Rich Born, an attorney with the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund

STOP, ASK AND LISTEN BEFORE YOU VOTE A FINAL MESSAGE FROM JOE WHEELER LEWIS

My two major opponents running for Sheriff also have a record to run on. One of my opponents has served once as your Sheriff. If you are too young to remember his term as Floyd County Sheriff in the early 60's—I respectfully urge you to inquire about what kind of Sheriff he made. He is asking you to return him to office.

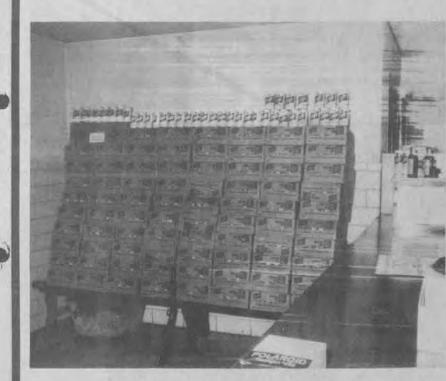

My other opponent once served you as Kentucky State Police. Why is he not now State Police? Again, I urge you to ask your friends and neighbors about the character of this candidate.

By the same token, I have a record of law enforcement. A record to which I am proud to ask for your support again for Sheriff. Even my opposition admit my performance as sheriff was unblemished and honest. I was returned to office for the second time by the largest majority in Floyd County's history. The only reason my opponents can give as to why I should not be again elected as your sheriff is: "Two terms are enough." Well, my answer is: Why gamble with your safety and your children's future? I served you—and I think you agree—with vigor, honesty, and dedication for eight years as your Sheriff. It is with this spirit, I again ask for your vote.

I lost the "Mock Election" at Emma by seven votes. I am told my opponent hauled several car loads of voters to the site to vote for him. I appreciate and thank the unsolicited people who took time to vote for me at Woods Grocery.

Please think about it before you vote.

Environmental Horror Story

After many years of enjoying some of the world's safest drinking water-free from the cholera, typhoid, and other water-borne diseases that plagued their ancestors-Americans are now facing a new and different threat to their water supply according to National Wildlife magazine.

The threat is chemical contamination-mostly from industrial wastes that seep into our waterways-and this menance to our drinking water may become the "environmental horror story of the 1980's," the National Wildlife Federation's bimonthly publication reports. At certain concentrations they can cause nausea, dizziness, tremors, and blindness.

There is also evidence that some of the chemicals found in drinking water present a potential risk of cancer. Dr. Kenneth P. Cantor, an epidemiologist at the national Cancer Institute, told National Wildlife that several recent studies "heighten our suspicions about a drinking water link to cancer, especially to colon, bladder, and rectal cancers.

The Gallery

Where do these unwanted chemical contaminants in our drinking water originate? Eckhardt C. Beck, a former Environmental Protection Agency official, explained to National Wildlife: "Industrial discharges, agricultural and urban runoff and accidental spills combine to make many of our rivers and streams a lethal soup of organic chemicals." Recent surveys have found more than 700 organic chemicals in drinking water supplies, including 49 known or suspected cancer-causing compounds. The Mississippi and Ohio Rivers are among the most polluted waterways.

Chloroform-a suspected cancer producer-has been found in the drinking supplies of almost all surface water systems surveyed. It has also been found in 170 percent of chlorinated ground water systems.

National Wildlife also reports that there is mounting evidence that "contamination of ground water, once a pristine source of drinking water for 100 million Americans, and for 95 percent of the people in rural areas, is even worse in some areas than surface water." Two examples:

-Twenty-three public water supply wells in Nassau county and 13 in Suffolk county on Long Island were closed because they were contaminated with synthetic organic chemicals. Almost two million people are served by those contaminated water supplies. a recent study found all three of Long Island's major aquifers to be contaminated.

-In Michigan, the water in 268 wells is already contaminated and pollution is suspected at 381 other sites. Because this water does not flow like a river, a contaminated underground drinking supply is virtually impossible to clean

Many of the chemicals contaminating groundwater come from industrial discharges. A recent congressional subcommittee report revealed that each day 50 billion gallons of liquid industrial wastes are dumped in surface impoundments.

Fortunately, EPA believes that only a small percentage of the nation's aquifers have been irretrievably impaired by contamination. However, as Beck told a congressional committee last year: "The story of hazardous wastes and vulnerable ground waters is just beginning to be written, but the opening chapter is enough to predict that this will become the environmental horror story of the 1980s.

What's needed to rid our drinking water of the dangerous chemical cocktails discovered in recent years?

National Wildlife has these suggestions

-First, we must keep toxic chemicals out of our rivers and streams. Under the Clean Water Act of 1972, toxic discharges into the nation's waters must be eliminated or greatly reduced by July 1, 1984. Environmental groups will fight to insure that industry complies with these tough restrictions.

-Second, we must do a better job of keeping hazardous wastes from contaminating ground water and surface water used as sources of drinking water

-Third, the protection, monitoring, and treatment of our drinking water must be improved.

Can concerned consumers take action? National Wildlife suggests that they insist that their water utilities test the water for chemical contaminants and then do whatever is necessary to get those contaminants out of the treated water. In addition, consumers can test their drinking water themselves, by writing their local state health departments for a sterile sample bottle and instructions. If anything questionable turns up, they should contact officials immediately.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD CO.:

Friends, the campaign for Sheriff of Floyd County will soon be over. May 26 is the day the voters will decide who the next Sheriff of Floyd County will be for the next 4 years.

I am confident that I will be the winner. Your response to my campaign has been heartwarming. I feel grateful and humble for the support and encouragement given to me by all of you during my campaign. Our county is a large and complex one and the people's needs are many. But you have expressed yourselves to me on issues, and one fact stands out-

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER THE PEOPLE WANT AND DESERVE:

Strict and fair law enforcement without abuse and brutality

Your Sheriff and deputies available night or day-not just for office hours

Concentrated effort with all law agencies against the drug and alcohol traffic

Protection for our churches and schools

A Sheriff's Dept. devoted to service to all the people-no matter how far out in the county.

These are a few points that you the people have impressed on me as important to you. They are very important to me also. You have my pledge and promise that I will be working for you to bring about these changes. Let's put Floyd county on the road to progress.

Call upon your friends, urge them to vote. This is your right. You have the right to change, a change for better law enforcement.

To victory on May 26!

State Democratic Party Chairman Tracy Farmer said, the new line "will allow those people around the state, who have never called us, an opportunity to pick up the phone and let us hear from them."

In addition to the statewide number, the party has installed a direct to Lexington line. Area residents may call 254-8582 to reach state headquarters.

"We want the Democrats of Kentucky to know we are here to serve them," Farmer said. "One of the best ways we know of to get their opinions is to talk to them personally," he said.

RETIRED TEACHERS MEET The Floyd County Retired Teachers' Organization held their quarterly meeting Thursday, May 14, at 10 a.m., at the Floyd County Library, with the president, Mrs. Norma S. Stepp, presiding.

The devotionals were given by Mrs. Lucy Regan.

Mrs. Minnie Grace Sutherland, program chairman, introduced Ellen Hillander, of the Mountain Comprehensive Care program, who spoke on "Drug and Alcohol Abuse." She also showed a film, entitled, "For parents Only." This film had been borrowed from the Martin County Citizens' group, depicted the seriousness of these problems among young people. The speaker challenged the group to "do whatever you can to combat these problems communitywise."

Mrs. May K. Roberts, who with Miss Ruby Akers, represented the F.C.R.T.'s group at the K.E.A. meeting in Louisville recently, gave highlights of this meeting, and stressed the importance of membership.

The president, Mrs. Norma Stepp, reported on the results of the Kentucky Joint Legislative Questionnaire, which members had completed during the last meeting. She also presented each member, a booklet, entitled, "Portfolio of Vital Information," which she had received from the National Retired Teachers' Association. The president issued a special welcome for teachers retiring this year to join the F.C.R.T. group.

In last week's Floyd County Times one of my opponents, Henry C. Hale, promised four years of law enforcement "without abuse or brutality."

I have served the people of Floyd County two terms, eight full years, as sheriff, 12 years as deputy sheriff, four years as city marshal, and I am proud of my record. I am proudest of the fact that in all eight years as Sheriff, 12 years as deputy, four years as city marshal not one person was killed by me or any of my deputies, and never was a posse of officers led by me to arrest one man as occured in the case of John "Zig Frog" May, who was killed at his home on Cow Creek Mountain when Henry C. Hale and others went there to arrest him.

I have treated the people right and have enforced the law, fairly and without violence, THE RECORD SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

Ky. Mine Yield 151 Mill. Tons

Kentucky coal operators reported a total production of 151 million tons in 1980, according to a report published in this month's Kentucky Coal Journal. Twenty two companies producing more than a million tons each generated 40 percent of the total. The top 10 producers: Peabody Coal (16,107,662 tons), one of the nation's top two coal producers; MAPCO (6,511,518); Falcon Coal (5,526,798); Island Creek Coal (3,972,866); Eastover Mining (2,947,367); Pyro Mining (2,643,229); U.S. Steel (2,577,568); R. and M. Coal (2,195,109); Beth Elkhorn (2,133,010); and Addington Bros. (1,825,888)

Addington Bros. conducts mining operations in Floyd, as well as in Magoffin, Johnson and Elliott counties. Total MAPCO production comes from Martiki (2.6 million tons), Pontiki (1.5 million) and Toptiki (.3 million) in Martin county, and 2.5 million from operations in Webster and Henderson counties. Island Creek and Beth Elkhorn operate in Pike county.

Among other Floyd producers, Leeco Inc. produced 660,394 tons (from operations in Floyd, Laurel and Leslie counties); Ligon Prep Co., 413,838; Triple Elkhorn, 383,000; Bailey Mining, 359,888; Bizwil, 298,532; Hite Prep. Co., 263,573; J.R.M. Coal, 216,379; Diamond Coal, 148,749; Little Elkhorn, 134,675; Gum Branch Coal (Floyd and Knott counties), 131,711; T. and N. Coal, 125,247; V. and M. Mining, 118,420; and Cline Branch Coal, 111,573.

Some 757 small operators, producing less than 100,000 tons each, accounted for 35 million tons, or 35 percent of the total production.

Money Raised For UK Cancer Center

Gov. John Y. Brown Jr. has strongly endorsed the effort of the Ephraim McDowell Cancer Research Foundation to raise $19 million in private funds for the construction of a statewide Cancer Center here.

At a May 6 press conference at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Brownell Combs II, president of the McDowell Foundation, reported that $4 million was raised last year for the Cancer Center. By the fall of this year the foundation expects to raise another $2 million.

This $6 million will enable the foundation to begin construction in September of the first phase of the Cancer Center, which will be located adjacent to the UK Medical Center.

After the press conference, Brown and Combs presided at the erection of a sign announcing the construction of the Center will combine research, treatment and education facilities under one roof. It will be open to cancer patients from throughout Kentucky.

The first phase of the Cancer Center will include 25 in-patient beds, an outpatient clinic, and the programs of the McDowell Cancer network. The network includes Hopeline, a toll-free

NATURAL BEAUTY WITH AEROBICS

The aerobics method uses sustained movement to stimulate circulation, organs, and muscles to a level where dramatic benefits occur. Dedicated followers experience new vitality, a more youthful appearance, and a trimmer more shapely body. Best of all, aerobics exercise beautifies the body in a totally natural way, without artificial gimmicks. The result is a body shaped in harmony with nature - a body you will find more beautiful, vibrant and alive than ever before.

Q—I'm a young woman, age 20 and unmarried. I was told by a friend that I should have a regular Pap test to check for cervical cancer. I know she's right, but I can't think of anything more embarrassing and frightening. Is there any alternative?

A-There really is no effective alternative to the Pap test.

If you are like most women, your embarrassment stems from having this examination by a male physician. Be assured that doctors, both male and female, are careful to respect their patients's sensitivities. The procedure takes only a few second and is painless.

The Pap test was developed in the 1920s by Dr. George N. Papanicolaou. Used in conjunction with a pelvic examination, it is the best method of detecting cervical cancer while it is still highly curable, even before a tumor can be seen or felt. Cells are scraped form the cervix and examined under a microscope for abnormalities.

Cervical cancer is found most often among women who have not yet entered menopause. Generally speaking, it grows slowly, but if not detected early and treated, women do die of it. With regular Pap tests and the treatments available, no American woman should have to die of cervical cancer.

For many years, the Pap tests was recommended as part of a woman's routine physical examination. In July, 1980, the National Cancer Institute sponsored a panel of physicians who determined that asymptomatic virgins (those without symptoms, which includes most virgins) need not be screened for cervical cancer. It recommended that they have regular Pap test after the onset of sexual activity. If the first test indicates no abnormality, it should be repeated in one year. If the second test is also satisfactory, regular Pap tests should be scheduled at intervals of one to three years, depending on the recommendation of the physican.

Many women decide to have a Pap test once a year as a birthday present to themselves. Of course, any abnormal bleeding or other unusual symptoms should be reported to a physician right away.

Pap tests are available from local health departments and Planned Parenthood Centers as well as from family doctors and gynecologists.

For more information about the Pap test or about cervical cancer, call the Cancer Hopeline toll free at 1-800-432-9321 from 9-9 Monday-Thursday or 9-5 Friday. The Hopeline mailing address is 915 South Limestone Street, Lexington, Kentucky 40536.

GARY LILLY Company Inflates Figures, Former Employee Charges CONSTABLE, DIST. 1

"has prepared forecasts of energy use in direct contravention of existing data," charges a former AEP employee in an affidavit released today. The affidavit charges that AEP ordered manipulation of residential energy forecasts "with the specifically stated intent of demonstrating higher levels of consumer demand for increased energy, when in fact no such levels have been statistically indicated.

The affidavit was executed by Brent David Rosenthal, who worked with residential energy forecasting in AEP's main forecasting department for six months until February of this year. American Electric Power, the nation's largest investor-owned electric utility, operates here as Kentucky Power Co. Forecasts of future energy demand are the basic planning tool us-

American Electric Powr Company ed by AEP and other utilities to decide what power plants and transmission lines must be built, and to justify these decisions before state and federal regulatory authorities.

The affidavit was released by the Coalition of American Electric Consumers, a six-state consumer network which has been critical of AEP's forecasting and construction planning. Speaking for the Coalition, Dr. Richard Austin observed that "higher forecasts are used by AEP to justify more construction, and more construction is used to justify higher rates. It now appears that AEP is deliberately cheating on its forecasts so that it can persuade state public service commissions to grant higher rates than the utility would otherwise be entitled to. The cheating which has been revealed to us strikes at the heart of the whole scheme by AEP to over-forecast, overbuild, and over-charge its customers."

In his affidavit, Rosenthal told how the alleged cheating took place. "On frequent occasions in my calculations of residential demand within the AEP system, I was told to alter or adjust certain independent variables to ensure that the result would show the desired rate of increased energy demand. It was well understood that if our calculations did not demonstrate a high energy demand, then the independent variables were to be changed by easy calculations which would demonstrate such a high use pattern."

The affidavit describes two specific examples of faking figures for AEP forecasts. One took place in December, 1980, in response to studies on AEP demand growth submitted to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by Energy Systems Research Group of Boston. The ESRG studies "apparently demonstrated that the AEP (residential) demand growth rate for a 10-year period was about 2.6% annually. In fact, my extensive calculations demonstrated that AEP's actual residential demand growth rate would be approximately 2.7% per year. Upon clear instruction from my supervisors, I was required to adjust the independent variables which affected the growth rate (especially conservation) in order to achieve approximately a 5.2% annual demand growth rate for the 10-year period under consideration.'

The second example concerns AEP's effort to construct a 765,000 volt transmission line to the Martinsville/Danville area in southern Virginia. The need for this line had been contested by Citizens for the preservation of Floyd County and other groups on the grounds that AEP's forecasts were faulty and that only a fraction of the capacity of such a transmission line would ever be required. The affidavit states that "My supervisors instructed me to determine that the decreased energy demand during the previous few years had been caused by warmer winters. Although the winters were somewhat warmer and did account, in part, for the decreased demand, the weather factor was not sufficient by itself" to explain the decrease. "I was required to manipulate other independent variables to generate the highest possible demand figures for the line's service area.' Citizens for the Preservation of Floyd County have submitted the affidavit to the US Department of the Interior, which is currently evaluating whether to permit the proposed transmission line to cross the Blue Ridge Parkway. Likewise, the Coalition of American Electric Consumers is today submitting the affidavit to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, which is currently reviewing the studies by Energy Systems Research Group, and AEP's response to those studies, in connection with a determinatin whether to grant AEP a preliminary permit to study construction of a 3 million kilowatt pumpedstorate power facility at Brumley Gap in southwest Virginia.

★ EXTENSION SERVICE NOTES ★

By FRANCES H. PITTS County Extension Agent for Home Economics CAULK YOUR HOME TO REDUCE

SUMMER FUEL BILLS Spring is a great time to make a list of those areas in your home where you felt cold air sneaking in during the winter. Write the problem areas down so that you will be prepared to go outside when the weather warms up and fill those cracks with caulk or weatherstripping.

The newest type of caulk is a foam that comes in a pressurized can. These cans are much more expensive than the standard tubes of caulk, but manufacturers claim that one can will produce as much caulk as 10 to 16 tubes.

Since most foams need to be used within 30 days after being opened because after that time the product breaks down. Plan to do all your caulking within a short time. The foams are a little tricky to aim and should be handled with gloves.

Foam that has hardened is very difficult to remove from hands and countertops so you need to wear old clothes and put newspapers down to protect counters. Also, if foam is exposed to direct sunlight in utside applications, it should be painted or stained for a permanent water-tight bond. There are some advantages to foam caulks. Certain brands expand to twice their applied size so they can be used to fill larger gaps than standard caulks. The foams do not shrink, dry out or become brittle with age, so they will not pull away from the edges. Also, foams are easily trimmed, sanded and painted.

The three more familiar types of caulk are oil base, latex base and silicone base. Oil is the least expensive, about $1 per tube, but it lasts only a year or so before it needs to be replac-

Latex is more long-lasting than oil (2 to 10 year life) and will stick to most surfaces, but it costs about twice as much as oil base.

Silicone caulk is even more expensive, about $5 per tube, but it will last up to 20 years. However, silicone does not hold paint very well so use it in you need to use weatherstripping. The weatherstripping rules apply the same to cooled houses as to heated ones. Weatherstripping will prevent the summer heat from sneaking in and making your air conditioner work harder.

A house that is properly caulked and weatherstripped will keep those electric bills down this summer. So save the money and take a summer vacation!

Turn Out To Polls, Young Voters Urged

Democratic state Chairman Tracy Farmer urged young Kentuckians to help reverse the failure of Americans to vote in their country's elections.

The Cynthiana banker and businessman, who took over his party's reins in March, told graduates of Lee's Junior College, "I don't care for what candidate or what party you vote, only that you do vote. We are no longer isolated in the hills and 'hollers' of eastern Kentucky, far removed from the world and its governments. Our very lives are dictated by national coal policy and international oil policy."

Citing recent voting statistics, Farmer charged that "the worst voting record in America is by voters 18-24 years old."

He pointed out that after young voters finally won a constitutinal amendment in 1971 lowering the voting age to 18 nation wide, that in 1972 their turn out was 48.3 percent. In 1976 it dropped to 38 percent. And early studies of the 1980 results indicate it fell even farther last year.

Farmer said the problem was typical of the nation as a whole. "In many states, primarly in the area where we live, less than two-thirds of the eligible voters are registered and less than 50 percent actually vote."

He compared America's poor participation in elections with other countries, citing Autralia and Belgium where 95 percent of the people vote, West Germany, Sweden and Italy, all of which are above 90 percent, France at 83 percent and Great Britain at 76 percent.

Calling voting a duty "you dare not ignore", Farmer said, "you won't always be right and your side won't always win, for who among us is always right or victorious, but you dare not risk leaving your destiny in the hands of others."

HIE SAMONS

MAGISTRATE, DIST. 3 "A MAN YOU CAN COUNT ON"

Pol. Adv. Pd. for by Candidate, 4-29-41-pd.

I would like to take this opportunity to ask my many friends and supporters to VOTE for and to ask their support and help in electing Jerry Lafferty, Jr., my nephew, as our next County Judge-Executive.
Jerry has the knowledge and perception of what the people of the county need in their County Judge-Executive.
Jerry will do his utmost to make Floyd County a safe and better place in which to live and raise our families.
Jerry's experience and success as a businessman

Jerry's experience and success as a businessman coupled with his desire to serve all the people honestly and effectively, qualifies him as the best choice for our next Floyd County Judge-Executive.

This is why I am endorsing my nephew Jerry Lafferty, Jr., for Floyd County Judge-Executive, number 1 on the ballot, in the May 26th primary.

(Political advertisement paid for by the Committee for Jerry Lafferty, Jr., for County Judge-Executive, Jerry Bryan Lafferty, treasurer, 1t-pd.)

It has been a pleasure serve you good people of Floyd County as your Property Valuation Administrator (Tax Commissioner). I have taken pride in the office and have tried to give equal and courteous service to all. I'm looking forward to giving you the same courteous service the next four years. Your continued support will be truly appreciated.

(Pol. Adv. Pd. by the Candidate

BEING MAGISTRATE IS SERIOUS BUSINESS FLOYD COUNTY BUDGET 1980-81: $1,653,324

The four elected Magistrates, along with the County Judge, make up the Floyd Fiscal Court. It is their business to run the Floyd County government, just as our State Senators and Representatives set budgets and make laws in Frankfort, and as our Senators and Congressmen do in Washington.

Floyd County's budget is over one and a half million dollars a year from all revenues: property taxes, coal severance taxes and road funds. How this money is spent is decided by the Fiscal Court. That is serious business.

I am a candidate for Magistrate in District Number 1. This office represents all of the people in Abbott, old and New Allen, Auxier, Bull Creek, Little Paint, Cliff, Goble-Roberts Addition, Cow Creek, David, Dwale, both forks of Middle Creek, Prestonsburg, and West Prestonsburg. We make up the largest Magisterial District in Floyd County. We pay 40 to 45 per cent of all property taxes in this county. Our District contains 35 per cent-more than one-third-of the registered voters in Floyd County. But what are we getting for our money?

The Magistrate of District 1 should be a businessman. He should have experience in government. He should know about budgets, programs and priorities. He should have a plan-one that is thought-out and projected for four years—to make sure the people of Number 1 get the county services and programs they want and need.

My plan is set out below in detail. I hope you will read it, think about it and support my candidacy for election. I would appreciate your comments and ideas on this plan, and I am always available to hear you.

ROADS: Because District 1 includes all of Prestonsburg, and the city government takes care of all the city streets, a lot of people seem to think that district 1 doesn't need much road money. The people outside the city limits know there are plenty of roads in District 1 that need plenty of work-and not just at election time.

I believe the road money should be allocated to each district on the basis of the number of miles of county roads in that District. District 1 is by far the largest district in terms of size as well as people. We should get our fair share of the road fund.

In addition, I have already consulted with a licensed, registered engineer, who has agreed to volunteer his services to develop a road program for District 1. As soon as I am elected, we will survey all the roads in the District. With his professional help I will draw up a schedule for repairing, blacktopping and graveling roads according to need. The worst roads will be fixed first. There will be no road work done for political reasons.

Education: I am 48 and was born in Floyd County. I attended Morehead State University, majoring in economics and sociology for four years, lacking only three hours to get a degree in Business Administration.

Business Experience: I have been employed at Columbia Gas Co., for nearly 25 years. As an engineering technician, I assist in all phases of engineering work and deal with Federal regulations and requirements.

Government Experience: For six years I served on the

This program will let us get the best use of our road money. We can schedule equipment, men and materials on a year-round basis. You can see the schedule at any time to know when your road work will be done. It will be a business-like approach to our road problems.

Prestonsburg City Council, actively participating in the city's programs involving county, state and national government.

WATER AND SEWAGE:

I propose developing a long-term plan for water and sewage. At the present time, water lines are extended without thought to sewage disposal. When new areas are developed, problems arise with sewage disposal. Many times it ends up in creeks. There is not a creek in this county that your child could wade in with safety. I pledge to develop a water and sewage program that will be efficient, thorough, and protect the health of the people of Floyd County.

GARBAGE:

The problem with garbage pick-up and disposal is not that the county doesn't have a plan, but that the Magistrates aren't acting on that plan. The solution is available, but we need action. The county is supposed to take over this operation itself on May 18. I pledge that as your Magistrate I will work personally to see that this plan is implemented instead of turning the problem over to a committee.

NEW IDEAS:

I propose a Summer Employment Program for young people. This would help high school and college students get jobs doing road work, cleanup and park jobs to help them further their education.

A Dewey Lake Clean-Up: The lake is a Federal program but the county could and should assert its jurisdiction to get the lake cleaned up. Summer workers could assist in this program.

A cooperative program with the railroads to prevent crossings being blocked. A blocked crossing could prevent ambulances, fire or police vehicles from reaching you and your family in emergencies. I would favor looking ahead to the construction of overpasses at critical places such as Goble-Roberts, Cliff, Dwale, and left Middle Creek.

Developing more new Ideas: I believe Floyd County should be the No. 1 county in Kentucky and I believe the Magistrates should talk to and listen to the people to get their ideas for continued growth. I want your ideas. Hand them to me and I'll listen.

CONTINUING (?) PROGRAMS:

In the past four years, Floyd County has acquired two fine new facilities, both needed and both in District 1. Now, due to lack of county financing we are losing them both.

The juvenile detention center in the new Courthouse Annex has been praised as a model of its kind-a place to keep young delinquents for short terms. The state has been giving us 100% financing to operate the center-the only one in Kentucky that gets no county money. Because of present economic conditions, the state will no longer pay 100% of operating our detention center. It doesn't do this for Pike or any other county center. The girl's side has already been closed. The entire center will be closed on June 1 unless something is done. That "something" must be county funds to help run the center. The Fiscal Court says it has no money for this needed center. But, unless we have this center, a 15-year-old who robs your house tonight will be on the streets tomorrow because the Judge will have no other choice. Under state law he is not allowed to put juveniles in the jail with adult offenders.

The county animal center was built through a generous bequest to the county of $30,000. Private citizens, the City of Prestonsburg and, for awhile, the Fiscal Court, made up the money to operate the center. Now the Fiscal Court refuses to help and the center has closed for lack of funds. Now threre is nowhere to take stray dogs and other animals. They roam the streets and hollers as they did before. If your child is bitten by a stray dog you know the agony that child and all your family will go through if the dog is not found.

The animal shelter and the juvenile detention center benefitted all Floyd Countians but the County Fiscal Court says it cannot afford to contribute to their support.

This Fiscal Court pays each of the four Magistrates $17,028 a year. Members of the Prestonsburg City Council are paid $72 a year for their two regular meetings a month and the numerous other meetings and business they do. Members of the Floyd County Board of Education receive $240 a year for one meeting a month and all the county's school business, including overseeing a $10 million a year budget.

The Magistrates meet twice a month. I favor reducing Magistrate's salaries and putting more money into financing programs needed by the people of Floyd County.

I, Arvel "Mush" Nelson, would like to take this last

From Kenneth Roberts To the People of District 2

I have stood up for you, going on eight years now. I have done everything I could for you —worked the roads, graveled the roads, red-dogged the roads, put in culverts, built two new roads.

One of these roads I built is the one on the Sage Allen Branch, took the people out of the creek. The other is the Howard Branch road where the people were in the creek, also.

The first four years I was in office, each Magistrate got $100,000 to use in his district, put it anywhere he wanted to. The streets in Maytown have been blacktopped twice-the first time, Johnnie May blacktopped them when he was Magistrate; the second time, I blacktopped them. I was told by some people in Maytown that the Judge got it done, but he did not-I did.

I blacktopped Shop Fork and Stamper Branch above Wayland, blacktopped the road at Lackey and the Baptist Bottom road both ways and part of the church parking lot.

When I took office the two old trucks were falling apart. I bought two dump trucks and a backhoe out of the $100,000 that I got. Seven thousand and some few dollars went in on the Sage Allen Branch. That is where my $100,000 went.

If we had the money, I would like to have everybody's road blacktopped to their house, but you have to do with what you have to do with. I have done the best job I can.

We haven't got any severance tax money back. The state tells us what we will get. We set the budget up, they approved it, then they come back and say, "you have to cut it," and we have to go back and cut again. We are over $100,000 short, which has to be made up. It is not money that we spent-it is money that we never got.

Some of the people running for Magistrate put in the newspaper stuff about what all they will do if elected. They either don't know what they can do or they don't care what they tell you people. The records are open for you people to check for yourselves. If the county doesn't get money from the state, it can't operate the Juvenile Detention Center or the Animal Shelter. Some of the people running for Magistrate have ideas so big that I don't think a Magistrate's place is for them; I think the Governor's office would suit them better.

Some of the candidates for Magistrate have been putting their families in the paper. That is fine. I am sure every man running has a family, and I am sure their families would support them. My wife helps me in every way she can. Some of my opponents say they will think for themselves. I want my opponents to know that I think for myself and that I have never been a Yes-Man for anybody. I make my own decisions, I don't have to hide from my wife so I can chew tobacco. I have got some running against me, if they were to be elected I think you people would have a woman magistrate. You people had better take a long, hard look, for it seems that the School Board is taking a hand in this race. The board member's brother in this district is running, and he is doing all he can to get his brother elected. Take a look at other districts. The board members in these districts have them a man running. Let them get all of the Fiscal Court set with their men, then watch your taxes go up. The present Fiscal Court cut the people's taxes from 17.4 (seventeen point four) to 15.2 (fifteen point two). Let them get the Fiscal Court and they will have everything in the county, from top to bottom. We have enough taxes already. The people are taxed to death. I am not for more taxes, but if your property taxes are raised, then a utility tax imposed on you, then you are going to be in tax trouble. As for the people talking about ambulance service, that is a good thing. I would like to see it. If there was money for it, we would have already done it ourselves. As for the garbage service and landfill that they say they are going to take care of, it is an easy thing for them to say, for it has already been done. The landfill has been bought, eight or nine more trucks have been bought, the landfill has been approved by the state, so they wouldn't have any problem doing something that is already done. All those talking about the Magistrates' salaries, what they would do, in my opinion, is take a candy bar from a child. I am glad that the new garbage trucks are ready to roll, for the county will need them to haul away all the promises and bull some of the people are strewing. To the people of District 2: I have done the best job I could with what I had to do with. I have stood up for you all. Compare what I have done with what has been done before. It is no secret, it is out in the open. All you have from my opponents is a big bunch of promises. I thank you all for voting for me in the past, and I thank you all in advance for the support you will give me at next Tuesday's election.

OPEN LETTER

Dear Voters,

I want to take this means to express my thanks and appreciation to the many friends, neighbors and relatives who have campaigned and spoken kind words for me during the past several weeks. I only regret that, because of unfavorable circumstances, I have been unable to personally visit with you and solicit your vote. I am humbled by the many friends who called my office inquiring about the status of my recent illness.

I think you agree, I have served you honestly, ably and impartially during the past four years. I hold no ill will toward my opponent. However, it is most unfortunate that he continuously tires to mislead the people and other candidates, by purporting that I am "somehow" taking sides in the County Judge-Executive race. The truth is that I am only seeking re-election for County Attorney and consider all candidates for Judge and their supporters my friends.

As always, I will continue to work with all of your elected officials on initiatives and programs that are in the best interest of our county. Please do not forget to vote in my race, and your vote and support will long be remembered and appreciated.

C. "Ollie" Robinson Floyd County, Ky. Sheriff. I am sure we can all look back over the past years and see little if any improvement made in the techniques of Law Enforcement within the Sheriff's office.

The criminal mind is always on the offense learning new methods to abuse the good citizens of our country. So should our citizens have Law Enforcement officers with a broad range of mind. Think, voters! How long has it been since a constable has patrolled and made any arrests in District 3? Do we want outlaws to become law or do we want strong law enforcement? I will attend ball games. I will treat all alike. I will patrol District 3 and escort funerals.

Five Highway Contractors Told Merle M. May To Give Records to Grand Jury

Five highway contractors have been told to turn over some of their records to a federal grand jury that is investigating highway construction in Kentucky

The Kentucky Association of Highway Contractors, in recent newsletters, identified the five as East Kentucky Paving Corp., Grayson; E'town Paving Co., Elizabethtown; R.E. Gaddie Inc., Bowling Green; Mago Construction Co., Bardstown; and M.C. Webb Inc., Danville.

The subpoenas do not necessarily mean that the companies are targets of the investigation.

M.C. Webb, who delivered subpoenaed recrods to the grand jury in Louisville May 11, said that this appearance lasted less than 30 minutes and that he was asked no more than 10 questions. Webb said the subpoena asked for records of his company's highway-project bids and its contracts with subcontractors and prime contractors since Jan. 1, 1977.

The president of Mago Construction, Dinwiddie Mathis, referred questions to attorney Doug Hubbard, of Bardstown, who said the subpoena to Mago called for records of state highway contracts since Jan. 1, 1976.

R. E. Gaddie, asked about the subpoena to his firm, said "I've been instructed on advice of counsel not to talk to anyone about it."

Jack Ruth, president of East Kentucky Paving, and W. J. Crowe, president of E'town Paving, were unavailable for comment.

Mark Sheehan, a Justice Department press officer in Washington, said the Louisville grand jury's investigation "is into possible trust violations in the highway-construction area and may involve some construction other than highways.'

To The Voters of District #2:

What will it take to buy your vote? Will you sell it for a load of gravel, a drain pipe, or a fist full of money?

Remember, those candidates that buy votes will be expecting to gain ten times what they spend-if elected. Of course, their profits will come out of your pockets-by way of your taxes.

You do have a choice. I, Kedrick Blevins, will not and cannot buy votes! I do pledge to you that I will be honest and fair with the people of every precinct in District #2 and your tax dollars will be spent to help YOU.

ELECT KEDRICK BLEVINS MAGISTRATE—DISTRICT #2 (Pol. Adv. Pd. by Candidate, It-pd.)

KENTUCKY AFIELD

By JOHN WILSON If you've been putting off cleaning up those fence rows and mowing weeds, good—put it off a while longer, says Lee Nelson, chief wildlife research biologist with the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Most ground nesting birds, including quail, will be actively nesting until about the middle of July. Mowing operations before this time are among the prime destroyers of nests, according to Nelson.

Of course, hay must be cut when it's ready and when the weather is right, but leaving an eight-foot uncut strip around the edge of the field will provide wildlife cover and allow most nests to survive, Nelson says, since wildlife tends to concentrate around field borders.

Idle fields must be mowed periodically to keep down brush, but if this mowing is done in strips on alternate years, much wildlife habitat will be preserved and the new growth in the mowed areas will provide additional food for rabbits and other species. But again, remember to wait until after the middle of July to do your bush-hogging.

Some farm "clean up" operations are "clear out" signals to wildlife, Nelson says. A clean fence row offers no food or shelter, but one allowed to grow up in brush and shrubs provides excellent habitat. Odd corners of the farm should also be allowed to grow naturally instead of being cleared just for the sake of appearance.

"Clean" farming, growing huge fields of a single crop, plowing to the fences and other current agricultural practices, while they may be necessary from the standpoint of economics, nevertheless destroy much wildlife habitat, Nelson says. Wildlife thrives in areas with varied landscapes and vegetative types, with an abundance of "edges" between croplands, meadows, pastures and woodlands.

The loss of these edges, Nelson says, makes it increasingly important for landowners to be aware of the techniques of wildlife enhancement-and there are many things a landowner can do to help wildlife. The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources will offer technical advice and assistance to anyone wanting a wildlife plan for their property. Interested landowners should get in touch with their local conservation officer for details, or write to Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Division of Public Relations, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 for the free pamphlet, "Fish, Wildlife and the Farm.

IRS Resolution Questions And Answers

The Internal Revenue Service has special Problem Resolution Program (PRP) Offices to assist taxpayers who have been unsuccessful in solving their tax problems through normal IRS ls. The IRS has supplied the following questions and answers about PRP Q-It's been almost four months since I filed my tax return, and I still don't have my refund. I called the Internal Revenue Service a few weeks ago, but no one seems to know what happened. What can I do? A-There's a special IRS office to solve problems like yours. It's called the Problem Resolution Program (PRP) Office and it's for taxpayers who have contacted the IRS at least once, but have been unsuccessful getting the problem remedied. Q-What's so different about this office? A-The PRP has the authority to cut the red tape and take care of cases promptly. Often, the problem can be resolved in five days, and when it can't PRP will keep the taxpayer informed about the progress of the case. Taxpayers usually get personal attention, dealing with only one person. A-Specifically, what kind of problems does PRP help with? A-Any tax problem that has not been resolved through routine methods is a PRP problem. Most complaints involved missing refund checks, mixed up Social Security Numbers, incorrect billings by IRS, or by taxpayer errors. Some types of problems are outside PRP's authority. For example, PRP cannot overturn audit results or technical decisions, nor can it handle Freedom of Information Act requests and Privacy Act inquiries. Q-How do I contact the Problem Resolution Office? A-Contact the PRP Office by calling the IRS at 584-1361 in Louisville, 255-2333 in Lexington, 628-0055 in Covington, or toll-free at 1-800-428-9100 elsewhere in Kentucky and asking for Problem Resolution. Remember, though, that Problem Resolution is not meant to substitute for regular Taxpayer Service. The IRS says that taxpayers should try routine methods at least once before going to the PRP Office. Last year PRP solved over 72,000 taxpayer problems out of more than 41 million written, telephone and walk-in requests for assistance. That means most taxpayers will probably never need PRP

Foyt, Jr., as the only four-time win-ners at Indy, but he will face stiff competition from the top drivers in the world, including Foyt and Al Unser, the only other man with as many as three victories in the most important auto race in the world.

ABC Sportscaster Jim McKay will an-chor the coverage of the "500." Also on the ABC Sports team reporting from "The Old Brickyard" will be Jackie Stewart, Chris Economaki, Bill Flem-ming, Sam Posey and Dave Diles. Stewart, three-time World Driving Champion, and Posey are both past competitors in the "500."

Past, Present & Future Is Theme Of Morehead Appalachian Program

Eastern Kentucky's past, present, and future will be the theme of Morehead State University's fifth annual Appalachian Celebration June 22-27

In addition to traditional mountain music, dance, crafts and folklore, the 1981 celebration will highlight activities centered around the region's current and future business, economic and social service needs.

Activities scheduled include the heritage arts workshop; economic development conference; elderhostel program; Jesse Stuart symposium; concerts, dances, exhibits and displays; natural heritage tour and hike; scholar in residence; and Alumni Week.

The heritage arts workshop will be devoted to the development and preservation of the skills and traditions that are distinctively a part of the Appalachian mountain culture and heritage with courses in music, literature, dance and crafts.

Economic development conferences will include one related to the wood industry (June 23), one on land development (June 24), and one on public finance (TBA). A special report, "The State of the Economy in Eastern Kentucky," will be available to participants.

An Elderhostel Program will coincide with the celebration to give participants an opportunity for an enriched Elderhostel experience.

The Jesse Stuart symposium (June 25-26) will provide an opportunity for interested persons to study Stuart's life and works in the land that has inspired his literary creations. Activities include lectures, papers, readings, panel discussions, displays and a tour of the Stuart home place, W-Hollow, in Greenup County.

Featured speakers and discussion leaders will include Jim Wayne Miller, Hal Richardson, Lee Pennington, Doug Adams, Gary Cox, Jerry Herndon, Joyce chaney, Don Cunningham, Marc Glasser, John Spurlock and James Stuart.

Concerts and dances will feature Cratis Williams singing and discus-

Earn EKU Degrees

Eastern Kentucky University conferred degrees upon about 2,038 candidates at its 74th spring commencement Saturday, May 9, including nineteen from Floyd county.

The degrees were conferred by Dr. J. C. Powell. EKU president, during the graduation program at Hanger Field. He also presented honorary degrees (doctor of laws) to Dr. Frank Graves Dickey, Sr., former University of Kentucky president, and Dr. James M. Boswell, retired president of Cumberland College.

Floyd students receiving degrees are siong Appalachian ballads on Monday, June 22, 7 p.m.; the McLain Family Band, outdoor concert, noon, June 23, and an indoor concert at 8 p.m.; Jean Ritchie, in concert, Saturday, June 27, 8 p.m. Both the McLain Family and the Ritchie concerts will be followed by dances. All concerts and dances are free and open to the public.

Exhibits and displays will be available June 22 and 23, with John Rice Irwin, one of the world's most renowned authorities on Appalachian relics, artifacts and general memorabilia. He will be available to discuss his areas of expertise including traditional Appalachian guns, musical instruments, farm and household items of the handmade variety, baskets and coal mining artifacts.

Also scheduled is a book exhibit sponsored by the Council of the Southern Mountains Bookstore and will include autographed copies of books by John Rice Irwin and Appalachian Development Center publications.

The Natural Heritage tour and hike will be a day-long tour of the Morehead region and include Cave Run Reservoir, Natural Bridge, Sky Bridge, Red River Gorge and a hike into the forests of Tight Hollow. Applicants will be accepted on a first-come-first-served basis.

Annual Driving Costs up 13% Lochie Morrison, Mrs. Lochie Mor-

The average cost of owning and operating a 1981 intermediate-sized car is $3,601 per year, or 24 cents a mile, according to the Blue Grass Automobile Club.

This is an increase of slightly more than 13 percent over the comparable 1980 cost of $3,176, or 21.2 cents per mile

The AAA report, detailed in a new pamphlet titled "Your Driving Costs," is based on a 1981 Chevrolet, 6-cylinder (229 cu. in.) Malibu Classic 4-door sedan, driving up to 15,000 miles per year and kept for four years.

In making the calculations, AAA divides auto expenses into variable and fixed costs. The variable costs breakdown includes gasoline and oil, 6.27 cents per mile; maintenance, 1.18 cents; and tires, 0.72 cents. These total 8.17 cents per mile and are directly related to the number of miles driven.

Fixed costs include insurance, $510 per year; license and registration fees and taxes, $88; depreciatin, $1,287; and finance charges, $490. Totaling $2,375 per year, fixed costs remain the same even if the car remains parked in the garage.

The fixed and variable costs added together provide the total annual cost of owning and operating the vehicle. A motorist driving 15,000 miles per year would pay $1,226 (15,000 x 8.17c) in varialbe costs and $2,375 in fixed costs, according to AAA.

The AAA pamphlet on driving costs also includes a suggested auto vacation budget. Two persons should plan on spending $44 a day for meals (not including cocktails and tips), $44 a day for lodging and $7.50 for gasoline, oil, etc., for every 100 miles of travel with the car averaging 20 miles per gallon. But these figures can vary considerably, AAA says. In small towns or rural locations, lodging and meal costs might be 25 percent lowr, while in large metropolitan areas, they could be as much as 75 percent higher.

The AAA report on the cost of car operation was supplied by Runzheimer and Company, a Rochester, Wis., management consulting firm specializing in measuring living costs, including transportaiton.

Single copies of the 1981 edition of "Your Driving Costs" are available from the Blue Grass Automobile Club, 155 Walnut St., Lexington, Ky. 40507.

RE-ELECT RE-ELECT

Auxier-Inez Project Dead . . . Now Inez-Ulysses Road Cut

The Carroll administration's grand plan of modern coal resource recovery roads to serve Martin county, the state's No.2 producer of bituminous coal, lies pretty well in ruins.

Little more than two years ago, the conversion of KY 3 from a point near Auxier in this county to Inez, the Martin county seat, was high in planning priorities. The comparatively new link between Floyd and Martin counties-a road fit only for coal trucks-was to be four-laned.

That part of the plan was scrapped, months ago, by the Brown administration

But there remained the plan for the extension of KY 3 from Inez on to connect with U.S. 23 at Ulysses, in Moderate fatigue is not harmful to you or your work, psychologists say, but extreme fatigue should be avoided. Experiments show it takes three times as long to rest up from being overly tired as from ordinary tiredness. Short rests, however, and relaxing with a refreshment like a glass of iced tea can help keep you up to par.

Lawrence county. A four-lane highway this was to be, also. Contracts were awarded, work was begun. Grade and drain of approximately half of the 14-mile road, all four lanes, have been pretty well completed. One four lane bridge is already finished.

Then came word from the office of Transportation Secretary Frank Metts that plans for the road have been redrawn, that it will be of only two lanes, with an occasional third passing lane

Steve Reeder, state transportation deputy secretary for legal affairs, termed the Inez-Ulysses road plan "an extravagance in a time of tight money." He said cutting the route to two lanes will save the state about $8 million.

The only barrier to the change is a restraining order issued by Circuit Judge W. B. Hazelrigg to prevent the state from revising the road plan. No date has been set for a hearing on the injunctive action.

Leo Marcum, Inez attorney who requested the restraining order against the state, said the Kentucky Turnpike Authority has issued about $85 million in resource recovery road revenue bonds since late 1975 to finance the road.

Reeder compared the Inez-Ulysses route to new KY 80 from Water Gap to Hazard-a road which, he says, "was engineered to unaffordable standards.

But Former Governor Carroll, who freely admitted the high standards set for KY 80 as a major coal-haul route, saw to it that no successor of his could change that plan.

Over 1¹/₂ million Kentuckians have come to the same conclusion.

They've selected Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky for their health care coverage. And no wonder. We're the leader in providing better benefit programs to meet today's cost of health care.

We offer a range of programs to cover families, individuals, students and Medicare Supplement Plans. In addition, since a long, sustained illness could mean financial catastrophe to many, we offer $250,000 Major Medical coverage.

What's more, Blue Cross and Blue Shield members have the added advantage of carrying the card that's honored throughout the country. So even when you travel you have the peace of mind of knowing you can get health care services anywhere you go.

In recent years, we've introduced practical, cost-saving benefits like outpatient coverage and same-day surgery coverage-ways that help hold down the costs of health care for all of us.

Since our claims are normally filed by hospitals and physicians and payments are made directly, our members are usually free from time-consuming paperwork.

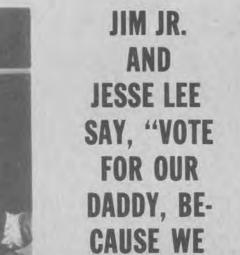

If you'd like to find out more about the pre-paid health care plans that so many Kentuckians have come to depend upon, write us. Just clip and fill out the coupon and we'll get the benefits story to you right away.

We think you'll come to the same conclusion 11/2 million other Kentuckians have: Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky.

To The People of District Three: I would like to take this time to let the people of District 3 know that I am no longer a candidate for magistrate. I want to ask all my friends and relatives to get out and vote for Edward Caudill for Magistrate in District 3. I've known Ed for a long time and honestly believe that with his experience in running heavy equipment, and the building of roads and bridges, that he is the best qualified man for the job.

THANK YOU—ROGER HENDERSON

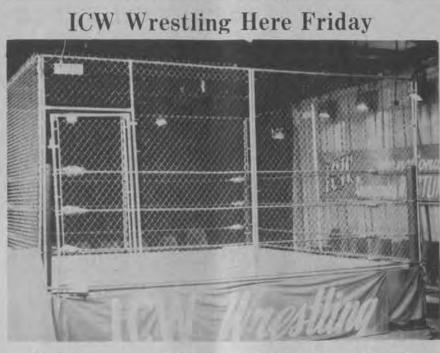

VOTE OWENS FOR MAGISTRATE

We would like to say to all our friends, that in the next few days that you will be making a decision of who you want for Magistrate for the next four years, a part-time or a full-time Magistrate. We want to thank you for the enthusiasm you have shown us in support of Hurshel Owens for Magistrate of District No. 1.

We have made no special promises to anyone on Hurshel's behalf, other than to tell you that we believe that he is the best qualified of all the candidates and will be a full-time Magistrate for all the people of our District and not just a chosen few.

Thank you again, SAM AND IRENE WALLEN

Randy Savage and Ronnie Garvin will battle it out in this steel cage when they meet in the main event of the ICW wrestling card to be presented at the high school gym here, Friday night.

International Championship Wrestling will present what is being billed as the biggest wrestling card ever to come to Eastern Kentucky at the high school gymnasium here Friday at 8:30.

In the main event, a steel cage match return bout, ICW heavyweight champion Randy "Macho Man" Savage will meet the challenge of "One Man Gang" Ronnie Garvin. Also scheduled is a grudge match between Pistol Pez Whatley and Hustler Rig Rogers, and in a special handicap match, 7-ft., 500-lb. Crusher Broomfield will take on both Ric McCord and Bob Stabler. And in addition to these bouts, Ricky Starr will tangle with tough Danny Doyle.

Both ringside and general admission seats will be available for those who come early. The event, which is expected to draw an overflow crowd, is being sponsored by the athletic department of Prestonsburg High School.

Are you, the voters of District I, tired of being promised full support before election, and receiving little or no help after? If you want the same support you've had for the past four years, vote to keep the magistrate you have, or vote for Arvel "Mush" Nelson on May 26th, an honest, dependable man who can devote 100% of his time to the Magistrate's office, instead of the part-time devotion you are promised from his opponents. A man who does not serve a favored few, but works to help all the people. And also a man who does not care to let the big man know what the district needs. I ask you to support and vote for "Mush" in the upcoming election, a vote you will be proud to say you cast. Your vote will be greatly appreciated. Pol. Adv Pd by JACK NELSON Jack Nelson 11-pd

By JOHN WILSON If you've been waiting for your favorite stream to get its May stocking of trout, you'll have to wait a while longer, according to Pete Pfeiffer, assistant director of fisheries for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

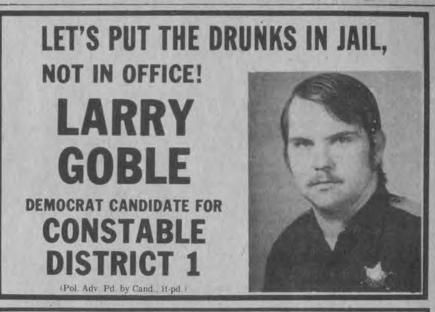

The may stocking has been cancelled, Pfeiffer says, because of weather conditins last summer. The prolonged hot spell, coupled with low water levels in Lake Cumberland, caused a serious loss of trout at the Wolf Creek Hatchery, Kentucky's source of trout.

The intake pipe which draws water from the lake into the federal hatchery just below the dam is normally deep under the surface, where it can supply the under 60 degree water that trout need. But last summer, when this spring's trout supply was growing, the situation was different according to Pfeiffer.

"Trout are stocked on a put-and-take' basis," he says. "So we would like the fish to be a desirable size-at least around nine inches long-before we stock them. We decided that it would be better to wait a month and stock larger fish than to go ahead with the stocking as scheduled.

The cancelled May stocking will be made up later, according to Pfeiffer, by a double stocking later in the year. A total of 30 streams, nine tailwaters and eight lakes are on the monthly stocking schedule.

did not cancel its scheduled stocking of streams in the Daniel Boone National Forest, so if you want some trout fishing during May, one of the 11 trout streams in the national forest would be your best bet

In the meantime, the intake pipe for the wolf Creek Hatchery has been temporarily lengthened and plans are under way for a permanent extension to make sure the hatchery's water supply stays cold and the trout stay healthy.

Beshear Answers Questions On "Kentucky Journal"

Wednesday, May 27, Kentucky viewers will have another opportunity to address their questions to Attorney General Steven Beshear on KET's news and public affairs series, 'Kentucky Journal.

Many new issues have arisen since the call-in in March and because many viewers were unable to get their questions through the phone banks, KET officials felt that another call-in would be a public service.

Issues expected to be addressed are: odometer roll-backs used by some used car dealers; the increasing number of stolen vehicles "dumped" in Kentucky: and, Kentucky's "Ten Commandments Law" as well as other issues relating to the Attorney General's decisions.

Viewers may call in questions to the number that will be flashed on the screen the night of the call-in.

The "Kentucky Journal" call-in airs at 8 p.m. on KET and is hosted by Charles Thompson and Jonas Chaney.

HAVE DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Collins, Sr. entertained to dinner last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Scott Collins, Mrs. Betty Porter and Astor Collins.

To: Joe W. Lewis

We would call your attention to a couple of items that should have been cleared up as they are on a lot of people's minds. Especially since your paid political ad in Floyd County Times dated May 13, 1981, states, "My past record shows that your Sheriff's office was run honestly and professionally," end of quote.

The Kentucky State Auditor's report to the Floyd County Fiscal Court, dated September 16, 1980, and published in Floyd County Times on April 8, 1981, states, "Upon Completion of this audit, the former sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis had not paid the 1976 taxes that we showed due from our audit report dated Jan. 29, 1979. The amounts due from various taxing districts are as follows: Fiscal Court 1,557.00; School Board 1,915.00; Health Board 96.00; Library Board 41.00; Cooperative Ex. 26.00. Total due: $3,635.00. Also, the audit reports, "That the former sheriff, Joe Wheeler Lewis had not paid the 1977 excess fees of $292.00 that we showed due the county in our audit report dated Jan. 29, 1979."

Mr. Lewis, that comes to $3,727.00 that you owe to all the people of Floyd county, according to auditor of Public Accounts of the State of Kentucky dated September 16, 1980. Since no word has been forthcoming from you that this is in error, may we assume you still owe the Floyd county citizens $3,727.00?

Another item in the above quoted audit report is a matter the present sheriff is responsible for paying but since it is connected to you, this is what the State Audit Report says, dated September 16, 1980, quote, "The Sheriff paid former sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis $4,289.00 representing deputy salary and withholdings. Section 99 of the State Constitution prohibits an elected Sheriff from serving as a deputy under the succeeding sheriff. We, therefore, were unable to allow the above amount as a disbursement." Joe, you knew before you took the deputy job this was against the law. Remember the campaign ad you had published for your son in 1977? It appeared on page 2, section 4 of the Floyd County Times, May 4, 1977. In this campaign ad, you said, "Under our present constitution the outgoing Sheriff cannot be an active deputy." Mr. Lewis, do you think you are above the law?

Now the outgoing sheriff must be out of pocket $4,289.00. But the taxpayers are out of pocket $3727.00. Can they expect payment soon?

KENDRICK KILLED

Joe Oliver, 18 years old, of Breathitt county, was crushed to death Wednesday night. August 24, while working in the mines of the Elk Horn Coal Cor-poration at Wayland, beneath a slatefall of approximately two tons in weight. Another miner was slightly inured, it is reported by G. D. Ryan, local funeral director, who prepared the body for burial.

Oliver lived about fifteen minutes after being found, according to the first report received here. Word received here from Glo, however, states that the young man was dead when discovered and that it is not known how long he had lain under the mass of slate, since the part of the mine in which he was working had not been visited for several hours prior to the discovery of the body. The report also states that the victim was a native of Greenup county and that the body was taken there for burial.

Surviving the victim are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Oliver; three broth-ers, Henry, Monroe and Samuel Oliver; and three sisters. Mrs. Martha Wright and Misses Vina and Susle Oliver.

BOYD HOLBROOK For MAGISTRATE

I have pledged my full support to you, the people of District 1. By working with the public for 15 yrs. at Ford Garage in Prestonsburg, and with students, as an instructor for 25 years at Paintsville Mayo Vocational School, I am capable and qualified to be your magistrate.

My desire in seeking this office is to represent you, the people, at the Fiscal Court. I am sure, that by working together in unity and taking steps necessary to carry out a plan of action, we will make this job succesful!

With all sincerity and honesty I ask you, the voters, to give me this opportunity.

Vote For CLOYD ELLIOTT PRICE, KY. CANDIDATE FOR MAGISTRATE DISTRICT 3

I would like to take this opportunity to ask the support of the people of District 3 in my candidacy for magistrate.

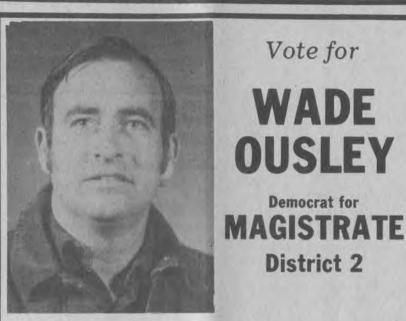

I have spent the past 17 years in construction work and have a first-hand knowledge of the needs of my fellow citizens in our district.

I am the son of Wilburn and Rebecca Hobson Elliott, of East McDowell. YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT WILL BE GREATLY APPRECIATED. THANK YOU.

(Pol. Adv. Paid by Candidate, 4-29-4t-pd.)

TO THE PEOPLE OF DISTRICT 2: Let me introduce myself.

I am the son of the late Rev. John W. Ousley and Audrey Howard Ousley, of Stephens Branch, Manton. My paternal grandparents were the late Allen Ousley, of Spurlock Fork of Middle Creek, and Della Stephens Ousley, of Caney Fork of Middle Creek.

My maternal grandparents were the late William "Doc Bill" Howard and Sarah Ann Conley Howard, of Howard's Branch, Magoffin County.

Every voter of District 2 knows the bad conditions

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT 1:

Since my declaration as a Democratic candidate for the office of Magistrate in District 1, I have made a tireless effort to personally contact each and every voter in the district, not to make false or misleading promises to you that can not be fulfilled, but to talk to you as a fellow citizen and taxpayer as to the problems in your community and to discuss the possibilities of solving these problems.

When elected Magistrate of District 1, I pledge to you to be your fulltime Magistrate with a genuine interest in not just a select few but each and every community's need. You and I know that we the people of District 1 have paid for and deserve much more than we have received from past Administrators.

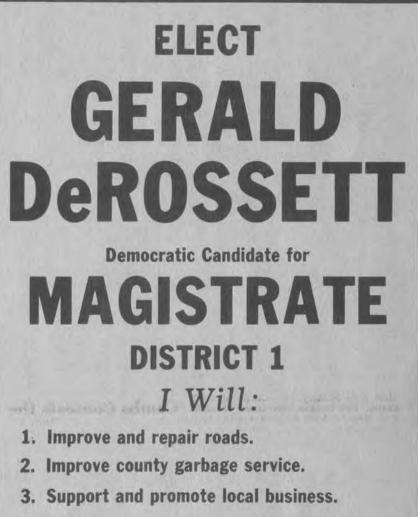

Given the chance I intend to reverse the present conditions through the support of the people and the cooperation of our county officials. I sincerely believe this to be the most effective way for us to deal with the awesome conditions that we are subjected to at the present time.

As Election Day nears I ask you to look around your community and decide for vourself whether or not we have the need for a Magistrate that has this genuine interest. If so, I ask you for your vote and support in the May Primary.

Your vote and support will be greatly rewarded and deeply appreciated.

Sincerely, ARVEL "MUSH" NELSON

Miss Clay a senior at Morehead and former basketball and baseball standout at Prestonsburg high school, is a member of the starting lineup for the MSU team which earned an at-large bid to participate in the AIAW National Slow Pitch Softball Tournament which was held May 14-16 at Raleigh, North Carolina. The Lady Eagles reached the national tournament by winning the Kentucky Division II state title, and finishing fourth in the recent AIAW Rgion II Championships, held in Johnson City, Tennessee. The team carries an overall 22-10 win-loss record for the past season.

Miss Clay is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clay, of David.

MEMORIAL DAY WEEKEND

Rice's Crispies . . .

The Joy of Fishing

By KENNY RICE

It was inevitable, she would always love the sport of fishing. Her father, Hence Terry, was a fisherman's fisherman, known and respected at fishing ports, nationwide. When folks wanted advice on fishing they would stop by Terry's Boat Dock at Jenny Wiley State Park and talk with Hence,

"I can't remember my first fishing trip," she says. "I can only remember my dad taking me on countless fishing journeys and I know I have been going on fishing trips for as long as I can remember. And I have always loved

Joy Terry Messer has fished the Atlantic, the Pacific, the Gulf of Mexico, Arkansas' White River, Florida's St. Johns River, Kentucky Lake, Dewey lake and Beaver Creek, to name a few bodies of water that Joy has reeled fish from. It does not matter where she fishes, she just loves to fish.

"I love to fish for bass, but I find pleasure in the sport, regardless of where I am or what I am fishing for. I enjoy the challenge, whether it's crappie or dolphin, I honestly do," her eyes dance in delight at the thought.

She goes fishing almost whenever the notion strikes her. Each January, she accompanies another excellent fisherman, husband Truman, to Florida. Florida has been the location of some memorable catches.

Joy was fishing the St. Johns when she landed a 13-pound, 3-ounce largemouth bass. It is one of her proudest moments in a successful career of bringing in prize catches.

"That catch comes to mind pretty quickly," she laughs, "It was our first day out and it was cold, one of the coldest days I can remember in Florida. I didn't even bother to change my line or reel, it was that cold. But I hooked that bass on a 10-pound line, and brought it in. I actually had to lay down in the

Wheelwright Rolls Over Fleming Neon

By Kim Davis Karen McKinney, Anna Thornsberry, and Alan Tackett.

The Wheelwright Trojans defeated the Fleming Neon Pirates by a score of 4-1 Wheelwright Saturday, May 2. In this game Wheelwright's pitchers Charlie Williams and Gilford hall displayed their finest form.

The Pirates led off in the first inning with Jimmy Anderson grounding to the pitcher. Brad Hogg then hit a single. Frank Howard also hit a single but Davy Tackett of the Trojans committed a throwing error which moved Howard to second and Hogg to third. But they were left stranded on base when Bob Hall and Joe Anderson both struck out Tim Young was on the mound for the Pirates and he held the Trojans scoreless for three innings.

The Pirates didn't score until the third inning when Jimmy Andersn singled, Brad Hogg advanced Jim to third and Frank Howard brought Anderson in with a single. In the bottom of the fourth Trojan Gilford Hall drove in leftfielder Charlie Williams with a triple to tie the game 1-1 boat and fight it to bring it in. It was worth it."

Another fishing experience that Joy easily recalls concerns hooking something she had no idea she was in the vicinity of-a 60-pound freshwater turtle.

'We were in Florida, on Lake Dexter, and I felt something on the line, but it wasn't like I had a bite, it was more as if the line was caught on a log. After about 15 minutes I noticed the bobber moving and I started reeling. I thought I was bringing in a whale," she grinned, "Needless to say, I was surprised when I pulled the turtle in."

Fishing for rainbow trout on the White River in Arkansas with a good friend, Dr. Frances Sherman, is one of Joy's favorite fishing expeditions. She enjoys the social aspect of the sport along with the catching of fish.

"Fishing is a true pleasure for me. It is a great way to relax, to share time with friends and get your dinner for the evening. When I fish I like to go out early in the morning and stay until dark. Sometimes, friends don't want to fish with me because I stay out so long. When I go to fish, I go to fish. I think it is a wonderful way to spend a vacation.

Joy has brought in record size bass and trout on rivers and lakes, in Florida, Arkansas and Tennessee and she has reeled in dolphin and marlin on deep sea expeditions, plus numberless bass and crappie throughout Kentucky.

Her secret to fishing success is that she seldom uses artificial bait.

"I always catch fish when I go out, and the main reason for this, I feel, is that I use live bait, no matter where I fish or what I am fishing for. I used live bait when I started fishing and I guess that it has had a carryover effect.'

Joy is constantly making plans for another fishing trip, be it a weekend outing or a two-week adventure. She has come by her love of the sport naturally and she is a credit to it.

ONCE MORE

Coach Phillip Haywood has to be a proud man. For the second straight year of his football stars has been selected to play in the coaches' East-West game next month in Louisville.

Last season fullback Dewey Layne was an East all-star. Layne went on to Hillsdale College in Michigan where he had a fine freshman season.

This year, quarterback Jack Wells will be on the East squad. During the 1980 season, the Blackcats' offense opened up to one of the best passing attacks in the region. The key man was strong-armed Wells who set Blackcat passing marks and caught the attention of coaches throughout the state.

After an impressive winter of weight training to go with Tony Burchett's dandy freshmen crew from last season, Haywood may be turning out several more all-stars over the next seasons.

In the fifth inning both teams were unable to reach base.

Neon also had difficulty in the sixth inning and the Trojan's scored three runs. This was due to the effort of Charlie Williams, Eddie Little, Ronnie Little and Gilford Hall.

Charlie Williams reached first base on an error by Neon's Pitcher. Eddie Little hit a double which caused Williams to quickly move around the bases and bring in another run for the Trojan's. Ronnie Little brought Eddie Little in with a double and he scored on a sacrifice by Gilford Hall which put Wheelwright ahead 4-1 to stay

Let's show them we want a new face for law and order.

As County Judge-Executive my first concern will be with the problems and needs of Floyd County and her people. In order to make Floyd County move ahead into the progressive county that it can and will be I will gladly work with any candidate that you elect to other county offices in order to solve the many county government problems sure to face us in the next four years, problems never seen in the past. Because government as in business, runs better without chaos and confusion. As a family man and a businessman I know as you do that your roads certainly must be improved and your garbage pickup system must work and our problems with our schools and law enforcement must be greatly reduced. In order to accomplish this, I and my staff will work diligently with our state and federal governments and business people as

WHY WE SHOULD VOTE FOR AND SUPPORT ROGER NELSON FOR CORONER

Roger was born at Dwale, the son of a pick and shovel coal miner and the daughter of a Bull Creek dirt farmer.

All the money spent to educate Roger was dug from the coal seams of Eastern Kentucky.

Roger had not any of the benefits of the proverbial silver spoon, yet he aquired his education and is qualified to serve as your coroner.

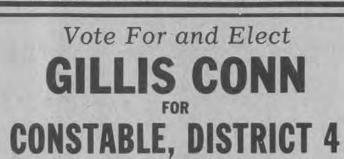

Should any man be elected to any office for life? Thirty years is a long time. Have you had enough? Isn't it time for a change?

Let's give a young man an opportunity to serve and show that the younger generation can also be qualified to perform the duties of an elected office.

Vote for and Support

(Pol. Adv. by Comm. to Elect Roger Nelson Coroner; Sandy Nelson, Treas ; 11-pd.)

NUMBER 4 ON THE BALLOT

I will work 24 hours a day, seven days a week, if needed. I will be your Constable for four years and not just at election time. I will work all ballgames and funerals in my area as I have in the past. I will patrol all roads in my area.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Winning Really Isn't Everything In Little League, UK Prof Says

"Most kids would rather play on a losing team than sit on the bench for a winning team," says Dr. Joseph J. Gruber, a youth sports coach and a University of Kentucky professor of physical education.

The much-criticized Little League-as well as all the other team sports for the under-15s-would be just fine if the adults who run them would keep in mind what the kids want, Gruber adds

Surveys by such outfits as the Youth Sports Institute at Michigan State University and the Office of Youth Sports at the University of Illinois show youngsters have the following reasons for sports participation: (1) to have fun, (2) to learn skills, (3) to play the game, (4) to get physically fit and (5) to make new friends.

Winning games is very low on the children's list, Gruber says. Citing a survey funded by the Michigan state legislature, Gruber adds that the concept of winning builds gradually until, by junior high school age, it reaches considerable intensity

This fervor for winning is often whipped along by zealous coaches and parents.

"Some youth sports," Gruber says, "are over-organized, over-uniformed and too devoted to winning.

The UK professor believes adult supervision should be more relaxed, more passive. And he believes some of the real problems in youth sports could risks will be minimized, Gruber contends.

"There should be programs for the unskilled and the physically immature child, too," Gruber believes.

And somehow, he hopes, coaches will remember that the undersized 12-yearold needs to play just as much as the big, muscular 12-year-old. Perhaps rules like the one in youth soccer which requires that every team play 20 minutes of each half, would help Gruber says.

Youth sports, after all, seem to mirror adult behavior, sometimes at the expense of children's values, Gruber says. If adults value winning above everything else, youth sports inevitably come to reflect that emphasis.

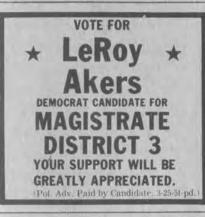

"The younger the kid, the less important winning is," Gruber says.

Krinda Kaye, Kristi Raye, and Notchie Lynn Flannery recently celebrated their 10th and third birthdays at their home at Buck's Branch near Martin. Enjoying cake and ice cream were a host of friends and relatives. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Flannery, of Martin. Krinda and Kristi are fourth grade students at Martin Grade School.

be turned around by some realistic instruction to coaches: instruction on child development, individual differences among children and children's own motivations for playing youth sports.

Gruber, an athletic 51, coaches youth soccer in Lexington, because "it's a lot of fun." His own sons-both now in college-grew up in Little League, Babe Ruth League and swimming competitively, and Gruber has learned a great deal as parent, coach and professor of sports psychology and motor learning.

As stressful as sports may be for youngsters, he says, sports are still far less anxiety-producing than the day-today school competitions such as music contests, spelling bees, dramas and science fairs.

"It's all a performance thing," he says. "The kid is asking himself: how will I do? When everybody's watching, can I produce?

But kids are very resilient, Gruber says, and bounce back from defeat far more quickly than adults do. The main thing is not to give youngsters "a steady diet of negative feedback," he savs.

Most "bad" elements of youth sports are overemphasized. Real dangers are such things as "Little League elbow," an injury caused from throwing baseball curves, as well as head blows in boxing and injuries to ankles, knees and face.

If coaches and parents will remember the enormous individual differences in maturation-some 12-year-olds are nearer 9 physically while others are closer to 16-then such

To The People of District 3:

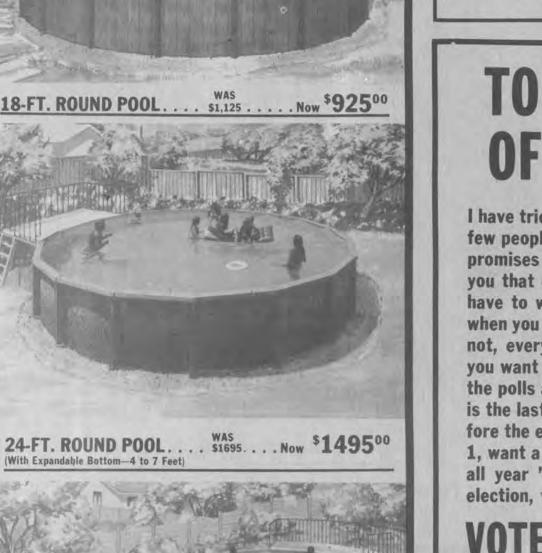

The time is drawing closer to the May 26th election. Before each election every conversation usually starts or ends up discussing and predicting what candidates are going to win or lose. To me what's important is not which candidate is going to win or lose, but are the voters of Floyd Co. (and especially District 3) going to win by choosing the right person to work for and represent them? Whether I win or lose, I feel I don't have anything to be ashamed of. I have worked as hard or harder than any elected official in Floyd county.

Every voter in District 3 must ask himself, do we want to elect a man who we aren't sure will serve the people of District 3. or do we want to re-elect Edward Caudill, a man who has proven for almost 16 years that he cares about the people in District 3, a man that has and will continue to devote his fulltime efforts as your magistrate.

A few people wonder why I don't do more door to door campaigning, or put up signs. Personally, I don't believe in waiting two months before the election and then try to lie and promise the people everything under the sun. As your magistrate, I try to do the job everyday, not just before the election. I don't spend a lot of time campaigning because in my opinion being your magistrate and working is a fulltime job. I hope the people in District 3 will agree with me and ask themselves, which is more important, shaking hands and making false promises or getting out everyday and getting the job done.

I suppose I've said all that can be said. Now, it's up to you to decide. Do District 3 voters choose a man who is always available, a man who can be trusted to do the job right, or do you choose another candidate where you may or may not get the service that the voters of District 3 deserve?

RE-ELECT EDWARD CAUDI MAGISTRATE, DISTRICT 3 "AN HONEST MAN FOR ALL THE PEOPLE" (Pol. Adv. Pd. for by Candidate, 1t-pd.)

TO THE PEOPLE OF DISTRICT 1

I have tried to get to everybody but there are a few people I have not seen. I will not make any promises that I cannot keep—But I will promise you that every man, woman and child will not have to walk in mud. And I will promise that when you call, regardless if you voted for me or not, everybody will get fair treatment. But if you want a Full-Time Magistrate you will go to the polls and vote for me, Hurshel Owens. This is the last message that I'll be able to send before the election. So, if you, the voters of Dist. 1, want a Magistrate who can get the job done all year 'round, not just three weeks before election, vote for me. Thank you.

Blood, it doesn't grow on trees.

WINNER-WINNER-WINNER

I would like to thank the voters for their support in my victory in the Mock Election held at Foley's Bakery. I also would like to apologise to my friends and supporters and all voters if I have missed visiting with you during my campaign for Constable of District 1. Now I am asking all my friends, neighbors, relatives and voters to go out and vote for me, Leonard Joseph, Jr., on May 26th for Constable of District 1, and you will be rewarded with four years of honest and fair service-the same that my uncle Corbin Joseph has served you for the past 16 years.

Thank you,

RE-ELECT HERSHELL HAMILTON MAGISTRATE, DISTRICT 4 NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

This being the last publication of the Floyd County Times before the election, I am sure it will be filled with criticism of candidates. I have never understood why a candidate gets hung up on telling the people why they should not vote for his opponent instead of telling the people why they should vote for him. I can not bring myself to try and win an election with criticism. I am running on my own record and not the records of my opponents. I have been in fiscal court for the past four years and have a record that I am proud of. Check the figures on my projects listed and count the tax dollars that have been returned to District 4. It takes knowledge and experience to get funds for road and bridge projects. The four years' experience that I have could be a great benefit for District 4.

In the past, coal severance tax money could not be spent on roads. It was spent for recreation, parks and fire departments. This law has been changed and if we receive any more severance tax it will be spent for road maintenance.

In the past four years we have had three different county judges, two different governors, and three new magistrates. To continue having new fiscal court lacking experience in local government means a great loss to Floyd County as far as gaining tax dollars.

Elections are no excuse for men trying to tear down another man's reputation.

You have heard publicity about a part-time magistrate, a magistrate's salary, and have had several pot holes displayed for you. This is a perfect example of how much people know about the importance of a magistrate's duties.

I have been out five days a week with the county employees every week since I've been in office, and some weeks I've been out 7 days. I answer an average of 40 telephone calls a day and night.

We dig graves and make roads to the cemeteries any time day or night or Sunday or Monday.

As I have said, I know criticism will reach its peak this week. If you have a question about anything concerning my duties performed in the past four years, feel free to call me or confront me personally.

The functions of the fiscal court are recorded at the county court clerk's office. If you are interested in any of the projects listed or how I voted on the TV bills, solid waste bills, or the raising of taxes, I'm available and willing to talk with you, just as I have been the past four years.

I'm asking all of the people to consider before they vote for any candidate whose campaign is based on criticism of his opponents.

Do you think it is fair for any man to ask you for a vote because his opponent is not qualified yet he never gives you a reason why he is qualified?

I can and will bring as much money into our district as possible. I feel that I can do this better than any candidate on the ballot. I'm asking you for your vote and support and a chance to make District 4 more progressive than ever before. Progress for my district has always been my goal. I love Floyd county, especially District 4. I have tried my best to treat everyone alike, and do as much for the people in Prater, Ivel, Tram, Betsy Layne, Little Mud, Toler and Branham's Creek as I have for Mud Creek. I wish there had been more money to blacktop every road in the district. The next magistrate will not please everyone ... but I have tried my best with what I had to do with. My prayer is still for my opponents and their families and all of District 4.

Please remember that I am the serious candidate who is running for the County Attorney's office. I have always had and continue to have the specific duties for the job and goals to accomplish that are for everyone's good. I am not running simply to harass anyone or to find a form from which to express my personal grudges. Instead, I am running because I want the office and the opportunity it gives to serve each of you. what you will find. This type of service does not make front page news but quietly takes place day to day. It always has been and continues to be my intention to speak and act in your best interest and never allow personal animosity or dislike to find it's way into the County Attorney's office.

The office of County Attorney has changed drastically in the last 4 years with approximately 6800 cases a year coming through the District Court. Because of this more and more the County Attorney's office is touching and affecting more and more people. Frankly, I have found, much to my frustration, the duties seldom allow opportunities to make major changes for the good in a broad sweep, but it does give the opportunity to see that the people who oppose or need the Floyd County Attorney's office receive fair, honest and equal treatment. I promise you that if elected that is This is my commitment to you and my campaign promise. I ask for your vote and support.

ARNOLD TURNER, Jr. DEMOCRAT FOR FLOYD COUNTY ATTORNEY

Sturgill in Market for Bank

By JIM PAXTON (In The Lexington Herald) State Energy Secretary William Sturgill has made a $2.55 million stock-purchase offer in a bid for control of the Marion National Bank in Lebanon, Ky. Sturgill said he wants to buy the bank to complement two agriculture-related businesses he has in Marion county-a fertilizer plant and a tobacco warehouse

Marion county lies near the center of a ring of Central Kentucky counties where the bulk of the state's known oilshale deposits lie.

Several companies are actively seeking rights in Kentucky to mine oil shale, which can be converted into synthetic fuel.

Sturgill...bristled when asked if the industry's potential in Marion county had been a factor in the purchase.

'I own a fertilizer plant in Lebanon that we operate, and I'm acquiring a tobacco warehouse there," Sturgill said, when asked why he offered to buy the bank.

"The bank is in a community where we have some businesses, and when the bank became available, we felt it would be in our interest to acquire it," he said.

Sturgill, who receives no pay in his role as energy secretary, said he was not aware that there are significant oilshale deposits in the county.

"I really haven't been briefed on the reserves of oil shale that might be in that proximity," he said.

"You and the people in your profession are really scraping the bottom of the barrel when you try to bring up a point like this," Sturgill told a reproter.

'Those who want to read something into this can, and those who don't will have to read the pages to suit themselves," he said.

"I may decide not to buy the bank, and then those people will have you to blame for that.

The Marion National Bank ranks second among the county's five banks, according to it president, Robert Martin. It has $25 million in assets.

RAY WILCOX

DEMOCRAT CANDIDATE FOR

MAGISTRATE DISTRICT 1

THINK BEFORE YOU VOTE

I am Ray Wilcox, candidate for Magistrate in District 1. I would like to take this opportunity to ask for your vote and support in the coming May 26 Primary Election.

Magisterial District 1 is one of the largest districts in Floyd county. I have been the only fulltime magistrate in the history of Floyd county in District 1. This remark is not politically motivated, but a fact. There's a number of projects that I would liked to have completed, but District 1 being as large as it is, I have been unable to complete all of them. However, I have done my best to put District 1 ahead.

I am sure there are people who criticize me for doing certain things, but if you will consider the past history of District 1, I think you will agree that much more has been done for this area in these last four years than in the preceding years.

I have served the people in District 1 to the best of my ability with the resources that were available to me and I will continue to do so in the future.

I am not controlled by any one individual, as some of my opponents are. Think-Do you want a magistrate who you can talk with, or go through some outsider? The decisions I make concerning District 1 are made in the best interest of the people of District 1, regardless of the criticism.

All of my opponents are fine people, but I ask you not to be misled by false rumors that have been circulated. Promises can be deceiving. If you, the people of District 1 want honest government in the coming four years, I, Ray Wilcox, ask for your support in my reelection for Magistrate of District 1.

*10 VOTE FOR AND SUPPORT *10 HOLLAND B. HURLEY DEMOCRAT CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF OF FLOY D COUNTY

NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

"A VIETNAM VETERAN. A GOOD UNION MAN,"

To All Citizens of Floyd Co.:

This will be the last chance I'll get to ask for your help before the election. I will try to get around to seeing all of you that I can.

I know the county is ready for a change. I just hope you the voters are.

I or no other candidate can say we have won this election till the last vote is counted.

I am a Vietnam veteran; our unit won a Presidental Citation. I feel that I am qualified to make you a good sheriff.

I am 36 years old. I feel that if I was elected sheriff and wanted to run for something else I could, if I serve the people to the best of my ability. I am old enough to do the job, young enough to run for something else later in life.

As you know by now, I am campaigning on a small budget. I had one retired gas company employee give me $50, three railroad men gave me $50, one railroad man gave me $25. This made $225.

I haven't accepted any money from organized crime, or any coal operator.

I know these men who gave these other candidates money expect to get their money back some way.

I feel that I am one of the few candidates who can say that I will enforce the law by the book. I will work with all police officers, Federal, state and county. I will try to get Fiscal Court to help us get more money for law enforcement.

I will treat the young people right. I will take them home first. Then if they get back out the same night, I'll take them to jail. I feel they need a friend as county sheriff.

I think our young people should have a chance in life to make something out of themselves.

I will show films in schools. I want them to see firsthand what drugs and drinking does to their health. When they get of age they can make up their own mind, about drugs and drinking.

I also will have deputies, and myself ready for funerals, ballgames, and any other place we are called to go.

Pol. Adv. Pd. for by Candidate, 1t-pd.

I want you citizens to know if elected, I won't be a puppet for organized crime. I will be working for you.

If you like things the way they have been for several years, vote for someone else.

But if you want our county to have a change, move ahead, like Pike county and the other counties, vote for me. We must get involved if our young people are going to have a clean county to go to school in.

We also want a better county to work, play and go to church in. I think the Prestonsburg City Police, Kentucky State Police, are doing a good job. But I also think if I am elected sheriff I will help them.

I will patrol county roads, late at night on week nights, and weekends.

I also want our judges to know that if they lay down on the job, they to can be voted out. I respect and like all of them.

Most of the big money men are saying they have me beat. They shouldn't count their chickens after they pay for them.

I have several United Mine Workers, and railroad men on my side. They want a safe county to drive to work in.

So remember if you want a man that you can talk to day or night, who will be a friend to all: Vote for Holland B. Hurley, Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Floyd County.

I have worked for Chessie System for over 11 years. I am, at the present, Local Chairman and Asst. General Chairman of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees Union. This is the railroad track workers union. Also, most of the train men are for me. If I wasn't a pretty good man, they wouldn't have been my friends all these years. So remember vote for me. I'm No. 10 on ballot.

Please get behind me, vote for me in May. I'll serve you for four years, 24 hours a day. I'm not mad at any candidate. I just think a young man should have a chance. These older men have done the best they could when they were in before.

I will have meetings and let you citizens help select your deputies.

So if you think I will be the best man for sheriff, vote for me. If the other candidates are better, vote for them. But by all means vote. It's a way to show people you want a change. Thank you.

MY OPPONENTS SAY THEY ARE RUNNING ON THEIR RECORD. WELL, THAT'S GOOD. I AM RUNNING ON THEIR RECORD, TOO! Floyd Students Among Honorees

VA Seeks To Recover Debts Under GI Bill

The Veterans Administration and the Department of Justice have begun a nationwide effort to collect debts owed by veterans who attended school under the GI Bill.

Most of the monies owed to the agency stem from educational overpayments while the veteran was in school or from defaulted education loans

VA's aim is to collect debts of under $1,200 in instances where the veteran has not made any repayment arrangements. The veteran will first be notified by letter of the indebtedness, then be advised that approximately thirty days remain after receipt of the letter to pay the debt in full or make other arrangements for payment before the necessary court action is taken.

Debts in excess of $1,200 are being referred to the Department of Justice for collection. As a general rule, the Justice Department will demand immediate repayment of the debt. They are prepared to litigate the matter in court and also will utilize various postjudgment remedies such as taking liens on properties, garnishing salaries and attachment of bank accounts and other liquid assets.

These combined collection actions are being taken pursuant to Public Law 96-466 and a recent "Memorandum of Understanding" between VA and the Department of Justice.

Legislation to improve the federal government's collection efforts is now being considered by Congress.

Provisions of the bill would allow the government to report the names of the delinquent debtors to commercial credit rating bureaus. Another provision would permit the government to withhold wages of federal employees who owe monies for education and loan payments.

I have heard a lot of talk and a lot of rumors to the effect that people are going to vote for our present constable because he doesn't bother anybody. If this is true, then evidently he isn't doing his job. No one outside our district knows the people and their needs for law enforcement, not even the State Police or Sheriff's Department, like someone living in our district! Someone has to enforce the law, whether it be the State Police, Sheriff's Department, FBI, or Constable. The people in District 3 need a constable.

How many of you voters have gone through a phone book looking for a constable's phone number and found it unlisted, then had to call the State Police or Sheriff's Department, which is 45 miles away? This is not mudslinging—it's facts!!

I am: . Precinct Chairman of Drift number 21 . A member of the Executive Board of the Democrat Party of Floyd County . A businessman in Drift . Born and raised at Drift . Grandson of the late Old Regular Baptist preacher Ed Mosley and Julie Gayheart Mosley.

FOR

(Pol. Adv. Pd. for by Candidate, 1t-pd.)

support appreciated.

Due to my recent illness I have been unable to get out among the people of Floyd County and campaign for my brother, Henry C. Hale, who is a candidate for sheriff. Since I haven't been able to travel and visit with you, I would like to take this opportunity to express my feelings about the upcoming election. I do this not only because Henry is my brother, but more importantly because of my experience as a public servant of the people of Floyd County. For 91/2 years, I was a school teacher in the Floyd County Public School system; for four years I was the chief deputy for the Floyd County Sheriff's Department; from 1965 to 1971 I was the Captain of the Prestonsburg City Police Department; from 1971 to 1978 I served as the Floyd County detective; from 1978 to the present I have served the people of Floyd County as director of the Flood Plan Control.

All this experience has taught me that in order for the Floyd County Sheriff's Office to be effective, it must work in harmony with the Kentucky State Police, the city police departments and all the Floyd County constables. If elected, Henry C. Hale will work with all these law enforcement officials to protect all the people of Floyd County. He did in the past, his record proves it. Can the other candidates make this elaim? I know from my personal law enforcement experience that one of the other candidates has not worked effectively with these other agencies. Help all the people of Floyd County by voting for Henry C. Hale in the upcoming primary.

ATTORNEY

No. 1 on the Ballot

COUNTY

"Congratulations TO THE 85 CANDIDATES''

I first thought of not putting anything in the paper this week because my opponent, apparently, knows in advance and before the paper goes to press everything I'm putting in. For your solid opposition to this deceitful practice, I congratulate you, your relatives and friends, and I totally absolve the publisher.

For instance, on Monday evening, April 27th, a few minutes before the deadline for ads to be turned in, and while the publisher was in surgery, and without any writing, printing, or paper of any kind, and when no one else was in the publisher's office, I walked in, borrowed a piece of paper from the table and scribbled 10 words, "Jimmy (Gabe) and Arnold are after me. Help me outrun'em" and handed it to the boy in charge, paid him and he immediately took it to the back to process, and there was absolutely no one else there.

Yet, my opponent knew and had full knowledge of everything I had turned in although the deadline for putting in ads had passed, but the paper had not yet gone to press. The $64 question is how was my opponent able to compose and print a longwinded reply, and specifically refer to the 10 words quote "this week's release by my opponent" and have it published 2 days later on Wednesday, April 29th, at the same time and in the same issue that my 10 words came out in. The facts and dates speak for themselves.

No wonder my opponent has never denied or tried to explain, although I called his attention to it in my "JUNIOR'S BEEN PEEPING" article the following week May 6th. A man's actions speak louder than his words. Is this the kind of "CONNIVANCE and UNDERHANDED" tactics you want used in the conduct of the County Attorney's Office? You are WRONG when you say there is nothing you can do. You can quietly talk this over with your relatives, friends and supporters, go to the election on May 26th and push the No. 1 lever opposite the name of BURNIS MARTIN. This election, in itself means nothing to me personally, but, HOW YOU VOTE ON THIS ISSUE SPEAKS LOUDER THAN A THOUSAND TONGUES.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Ova Jacobs, of Garrett, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Vicky Lynn, to Mr. Anthony D. Yearv. son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Yeary, of Middlesboro, Ky.

The wedding is to be held at the Garrett Baptist Church on Saturday, June 6, at 11:30 a.m. The Rev. Rush Slone will perform the ceremony. All friends and relatives of the family are invited.

ABBOTT HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Abbott Homemakers met Tuesday evening, May 12, at the Church annex building, with the president, Mrs. Sharon Sparr, presiding. The devotionals were given by Mrs. Muriel Hill, who based her discussion on "The Observance of Mother's Day." The selection of officers for the club year. 1982, was announced as follows: President, Mrs. Sharon Sparr; vicepresident, Mrs. Janet Cotterill; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Eukie Merritt. Committee members appointed were: devotionals, Mrs. Ruby Frasure; reporter, Mrs. Cynthia Frasure, and telephone, Mrs. Helen Neeley and Mrs. Grace Conley. The president, Mrs. Sparr, gave the lesson on "Vacationing in Kentucky. Literature, listing places of interest for Kentucky vacations and recommended eating places in this state, was distributed by Mrs. Sparr, and Mrs. Frances Pitts, home economist. The club surprised Mrs. Pitts with a monetary gift for her daughter, Miss Jayne Pitts, who graduates this week from Prestonsburg High School. The hostess, Mrs. Helen Neeley, served a dessert course to Mesdames Grace Conley, Ethel Ratliff, Eukie Merritt, Frances Pitts, Sharon Sparr, Janet Cotterill, Cynthia Frasure, and Ruby Frasure.

WAYLAND NEWS

The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Jack Stevens, of Garrett, with Mrs. Stevens in charge of the program on International Affairs.

Mrs. Stevens reported that in a nationwide survey conducted by the Educational Testing Service to learn how much college students knew about international affairs, results revealed a "catastrophic insensitivity" to the outside world. The top score out of 3,000 students sampled was only 84. A third of those polled expressed little or no interest in international trends. The results of the survey released April 15 indicated widespread misconceptions among students about such issues as East-West detente, oil cartels, world religions, human rights, and the nuclear-power balance. Mrs. Stevens concluded that it would seem students are so wrapped up in job-related studies they are woefully ignorant of the world beyond the boundaries of the United States.

The main business of the meeting was to elect officers for the coming club year and discuss how to encourage new members to join the organization. Mrs. Otto Martin conducted the meeting in the absence of both the president and vice-president. In view of the fact that a quorum was not present, the election was postponed until such time as the president can call a business meeting, at which time the plans for the May or June installation breakfast will be discussed also. The hostess served refreshments following the meeting.

The results of a recent survey just completed by nationally-known public opinion pollsters for the noble office of High Constable in District 1 has upset them to the extent that they threaten to steal the voting machines and start the process all over again. I (The Toast of the Coast) due in part to my humility and generous traits was asked to intervene and make recommendations to the Bar Association and Legislative Research Commission about combining this office with that of Squire and lowering the qualifica-WHITE PAPER NUMBER 3-WHAT IS A HIGH CONSTABLE tions.

A High Constable must often act as Judge, Jury and Hangman. A High Constable must be well versed in law. I (The American Dream) am one of the few who even to this day understands the deal worked out with Iran. A High Constable should stand as a Beacon of Hope to a troubled people. Even now, I, (Mr. Stardust Himself) am being threatened with nationalization in El Salvador, hence a High Constable should be well diversified. A High Constable should be generous, I (The Toast of the Coast) have pledged $5,000 to remodel the governors mansion, I (The American Dream) urge other worthy candidates for High Constable as well as candidates for the lesser offices to do likewise. A High Constable must be willing to serve the people. I (Mr. Stardust Himself) propose that we buy a helicopter so I can respond to any emergency that may arise in district 1. I (The Toast of the Coast) have worked out a secret deal to buy a helicopter at one-half the price in Lexington if I (The Toast of the Coast) will support the amendment to allow Gov. Brown another term. Money to build the pad will be funnelled in from Latin America by my able Treasurer, Mr. B. B. Rebozo. A High Constable must be compassionate, a trait which I (The American Dream) have in abundance. I propose to take part of the work load from the office of County Surveyor and give them the entire second floor of the courthouse. Our underpaid Squires will breathe a sigh of relief when they learn that I (Mr. Stardust Himself) will cut their fiscal court meeting from 2 to 1 every six months, and allow them to vote by proxy. To offset their low salary ($19,000.) I (The Toast of the Coast) propose that each Squire be furnished a house to live in. As a further act of compassion, when my money machine rolls over District 1 we will deal with nothing but twenty dollar bills. The Henchman who makes the most deals will be rewarded with a purple kitten, from my cat, which recently had "7" kittens. "TO THE POLLS, YE SONS OF FREEDOM!"
