

Flood Help For School Is $275,000

Work at McDowell Seen This Summer, Supt. Grigsby Says

After months of vacillation, the Kentucky School Building Authority has approved calamity assistance in the amount of $275,184 to help the Floyd County Board of Education replace three classrooms that were destroyed by flood last August at McDowell High School.

At first the Authority approved $500,000 for the McDowell work, later changed the amount to $100,000, then made a final decision after a recent review of the damage.

The classrooms were damaged by a flash flood during which a five-inch rainfall was recorded. The damaged portion of the building housed social studies and practical arts classes. Since that time classes have been held in the school auditorium, with space being conserved by doubling up on special education classes, Supt. Pete Grigsby, Jr. said.

The superintendent said this week that the work to be done at McDowell will involve either the reconstruction of the damaged rooms or construction of a new building. The board of education will be forced to restrict the cost to the $275,000 approved by the School Building Authority, since, it was explained, the board's bonding potential has been exhausted by the funding of the $3.9 million Betsy Layne High School under construction at Stanville.

Supt. Grigsby said he hopes to have the work completed by the coming fall.

The authority approved $311,616 for assistance to Pike county in the replacement of a gymnasium at the Dorton school. The building was destroyed by fire, Feb. 12.

According to James T. Dotson, superintendent of Pike county schools, the building was used for much more than physical education classes.

P'burg To Pay $1250 a Month To Use Landfill

The city of Prestonsburg will pay $1250 a month to dump its garbage at the new county landfill, according to an agreement worked out by the city council and Bob McAninch, chairman of the county's Solid Waste Commission at a special meeting of the council last Thursday.

The agreement covers a five-year period. A request by the council to extend the service another five years at a monthly rate of $1500 will be referred to the commission.

The cost of the service is considerably lower than earlier estimates advanced by McAninch. The fact that operating costs of the new county garbage collection system have been lower than anticipated made the deal with the city possible, he said. Prestonsburg has been paying $1150 a month for use of the existing county landfills.

Paul Slone, who hauls garbage by contract with the cities of Allen and Martin, will apparently be able to use the new landfill at least until his present contracts expire, despite earlier reports that he would be unable to do so.

Slone said this week that officials of the state Natural Resources Department had informed him there were no state regulations which would bar him from using the landfill. His contract with Allen runs until the end of this year; his Martin franchise, sublet from E.P. Grigsby, Jr., runs until 1984.

A FREAK WIND would be an apt description for the brief series of gusts which hit Prestonsburg and surrounding areas Saturday afternoon, toppling trees and causing considerable damage to property. The Lancer area was especially hard hit as power lines were downed and traffic blocked on Lake Drive there by fallen trees. A house at Lancer was also damaged by an uprooted tree as was the home here of Sallye G. Clark, pictured above.

This Town...That World

It's still Spring, and enjoy it while you may. The last long-range weather forecast that caught my attention says Kentucky is in that part of the country that is headed for a summer that will be hotter than usual.

Within hours last week after I had written a piece extolling the virtues of the voting machine and recalling the long wait in the old days for the ballot boxes to arrive at the courthouse, it happened. The returns from a machine used at a Martin precinct didn't make it here for almost four hours after the polls closed.

FOWL (OOPS!) PLAY

Missing from this office after the election—one chicken.

Several months ago, somebody brought in a rubber chicken, plucked of its feathers (if it ever had any) and so lifelike it looked ready for the pot. Jon Lindstrom swung it up by the neck, and there it swung, week after week. Now it's gone—where, nobody will admit knowing.

Wastebaskets have been emptied, every corner of the "shop" has been searched. No chicken. Who could the thief be? We refuse to accept the hint that it might be some defeated candidate for office who wanted to get rid of the symbol of his party.

Another suggested we post a reward, but the fellow who said it should be the Pulitzer Prize was last seen being chased around the house by a member of the office force armed with the latest model gizzard puller.

THE CALL TO ARMS

Strange that the appearance of certain wildlife is the signal for every owner of a firearm to seize shotgun, rifle, musket, whatever and rush to kill it. The latest tocsin was sounded last Sunday when a small bear made the mistake of leaving hillside cover at Lancer.

The poor bear was, we think, only another frightened thing in a frightening world, perhaps bent only on escaping "civilization," but it survived the day only through the protection afforded by local officers.

This mania for killing the wild things, especially those creatures that are unusual to the area, is nothing new, however. I can remember the time when almost every year, a crane would be sighted taking his long-legged stroll along the banks of our little creek. And no sooner was one of the big birds seen than the community arsenal was trotted out.

On one occasion a triumphant

Attorney Raps Police In Drug Client's Case

Pressure brought by state police officers on the district court judge has seriously infringed on the rights of his client, a Prestonsburg attorney charged Tuesday.

A May 1 order by District Judge Harold Stumbo that Doug Neeley be returned to jail while on parole following an April, 1980, drug sales conviction, was the result of state police intervention, according to Gary Johnson, the man's attorney.

Johnson said that the district court order was issued "summarily," that neither he nor the county attorney were advised that the move was being considered, and that the role allegedly played by state police officers in the matter represented an attempt on their part to "scapegoat" Neeley in order to enhance their own image as drug law enforcers.

Neeley, 25, of the Auxier road, was arrested May 30, 1979, and charged with selling quantities of PCP and marijuana to undercover police officers.

As a misdemeanor, the marijuana charge was tried in district court September 27 that year, resulting in a conviction, a one-year jail sentence and a $500 fine. The decision was appealed to circuit court.

As a felony, the PCP charge was set for trial in circuit court, April 24, 1980. At that time, Johnson asked the court to dismiss the appeal of the misdemeanor conviction, his client pleaded guilty to the felony charge, and Johnson argued his case before a circuit court jury on sentencing. Neeley was given a two-year jail sentence and fined $5000 on the felony count.

Highways To Get $890,547 Total For Fiscal Year

Bus service for senior citizens seems assured, the county's rural fire departments all get a shot in the arm, and the Humane Society is allocated animal shelter funds in the 1981-82 county budget approved by the fiscal court last Friday.

A sizable part of the $2.3 million budget—$606,510—will come from coal severance taxes, which will be returned to the county in monthly installments this year after a one-year hiatus. At the same time, about half a million dollars in CETA funds have been lost to the county as a result of federal budget cuts.

Property tax receipts are expected to amount to $402,000; gasoline taxes will yield an estimated $333,120; revenue sharing monies account for $309,974. A federal grant of $399,000 for the new solid waste system is also included among the receipts.

Road maintenance will consume some $890,547, or 38 percent of the budget, including most of the severance tax monies, all the gas tax receipts, and $111,350 in revenue-sharing funds.

The county's three senior citizens' centers—at Archer Park, Martin and Wheelwright—are each allocated $6000 toward the cost of maintaining bus drivers previously funded by the federal CETA program. However, of the 45 CETA workers—mostly road laborers—only 10 or 12 will be kept on in the new fiscal year, Judge-Executive Bill Wells said this week.

The court divided over the allocation of $5000 to each of the county's eight rural fire departments—at Allen, Auxier, Betsy Layne, Left Beaver, Maytown, Mud Creek, Wayland and Weeksburg—Magistrates Kenneth Roberts and Ray Wilcox opposing the expenditure and voting against the budget on account of it. Magistrates Ed Caudill and Hershel Hamilton supported the allocation, however, and Judge-Executive Wells broke the tie to assure the budget's passage.

In explaining his vote later, Roberts

Bailey, Stumbo Not Disturbed By Court Rule

Neither State Senator Benny Ray Bailey, who is not up for re-election this year, nor Rep. Gregory Stumbo, who is and has no opposition, appeared overly concerned by reports this week that their memberships on various state commissions could jeopardize their running again for office.

Giving rise to the reports was a state Supreme Court ruling last month that disqualified a Louisville man as a candidate for the General Assembly because he is a member of the Kentucky Real Estate Commission. The suit against the man was filed by a rival candidate in last week's primary election.

Cited in the court's decision was a 1936 statute prohibiting members of state administrative boards and commissions from seeking elective office. Many legislators, and some candidates for office in this year's election, serve by appointment on such bodies.

Apart from the legislative committees on which both serve, Stumbo is a member of a coal transportation task force, while Bailey serves on a task force on jails and on the Industrial Revenue Bond Oversight Committee.

Neither man was sure this week whether his commission membership came within the scope of the law cited in the Louisville man's case. Stumbo said he considered this unlikely, since the coal transportation task force of which he is a member is an advisory rather than a regulatory body. He cited a Legislative Research Commission memorandum sent to all legislators this week which noted that, while the Supreme Court made no distinction between administrative boards and commissions and advisory commissions, "it seems logical that there certainly is a distinction to be made."

Since the court decision, two other suits have been filed seeking the disqualification of victors in last week's primary on account of their memberships on state boards, one an Elizabethtown Democrat and the other the Republican candidate for mayor of Louisville.

Count in Three Races Unchanged After Primary Voting Reviewed

Gerald DeRossett and Kenneth Roberts, last week's victors in magistrates' races in Districts 1 and 2, respectively, and Willie Hale, nominee for District 1 constable, all survived challenges by their nearest rivals this week. E. "Shag" Branham and Leonard Joseph, Jr. had requested recounts in the first district balloting and Birchell Duff in the second. The recount, conducted Tuesday, produced no change in the original tally however.

Meanwhile, as the dust settled following the primary balloting, vote tallies from the county's 44 precincts (published elsewhere in this edition) produced a clearer picture of the strengths and weaknesses of the 91 candidates who sought their party's nomination for the 16 offices at stake in this county.

The race for judge-executive found the winner, Jerry Lafferty, Jr. ahead in 23 precincts, with particularly strong showings in the Mouth of Beaver, Jim Banks (Bull Creek-Water Gap), Jack's Creek, Toler, Little Mud and Ivel precincts. County Planner Dick Leslie ran strongly nearer the county seat, notably at Trimble Branch, Depot (West Prestonsburg) and Cliff, winning 20 precincts in all.

Lafferty gained 7508 votes to Leslie's 6776, a difference of 732. The third candidate, Jimmy "Gabe" Turner, won only in his home precinct of Drift, finishing well behind the leaders with

Floyd Faculty Members Win Honors at Pikeville College

Brenda Hicks

Virgil Turner

Two Pikeville College faculty members, both native Floyd countians, were recognized during the 1981 Commencement ceremonies when they were given the William Wade and Helen Record Walker Award for Teaching Excellence. Created in 1976, board of trustees member Geroge Walker established the endowment fund in honor of his parents, lifelong supporters of Pikeville College.

Brenda Hicks, assistant professor of business administration, was awarded the first place award of $1,500. She began teaching at Pikeville College in 1978 after receiving her M. A. in Business Education from Eastern Kentucky University. Before going to Pikeville, she taught at Prestonsburg Community College. A campus leader, Miss Hicks was instrumental in creating a Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda (national business organization) on campus. This year, five members of the club received state honors at the Kentucky PBL Leadership Conference, competing against 20 other colleges in the state. She is the daughter of Mrs. Eula Opal Hicks, of David road, and the late Gren L. Hicks.

The second place award of $1,000 was presented to Virgil Turner, associate professor of political science, and former superintendent of Floyd county schools. Turner received a B.A. from Berea College in 1931 and the M.S. from the University of Kentucky in 1932. He attended the University of Kentucky and Duke University Law School and is a member of the American and Kentucky Bar Associations. Since he went to Pikeville College in 1964, one of his greatest contributions to the institution has been advising pre-law students. More than 70 Pikeville college students were accepted into law schools during this time. Turner retired at the end of the spring term.

Young Democrats Name McCauley Treasurer

Kentucky's Young Democrats elected John McCauley, of Prestonsburg, treasurer at their state convention held in Owensboro, May 22-24.

McCauley, who announced his candidacy for the state post last April 6, ran on the winning slate of candidates headed by Mark Brown, of Brandenburg, who was elected president. Brown is a former national labor coordinator for the Young Democrats of America. Others elected are: Robert A. Rowe, Jr., an assistant to House Speaker William Kenton, vice-president; Wendy Walker, of Madisonville, an assistant to the Hopkins county circuit court clerk, secretary, and Lexington attorney Shirley Cunningham, national committeeman.

Prior to McCauley's acceptance speech, Senator Barry Peake (N.C.), convention chairman, praised him for his activities as a Young Democrat, adding, "When I'm drawing Social Security John McCauley will still be around."

Special guests at the convention included present and past state officials, county and state party leaders.

McCauley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. McCauley, of Prestonsburg.

neighbor came in with a dead crane, and he was as welcome and applauded as the cat that insists on bringing into the house his catch of a lizard, still alive, for all to behold.

Nobody in our coterie of intellectuals had at that time heard of the whooping crane that later was to become near-extinct, but this could have been one of that species. The display of the dead bird did evoke one scientific question, however:

"What are you going to do with it—eat it?"

STRONG COMPETITION

I am not, as a rule, an early riser except on Tuesday mornings. That's "Press Day," and some alarm starts me early. This Tuesday it was 5:45, in time to hear the first birdcall.

I expected my old friend, the tanager, to go into his unmusical routine, but it was a cardinal that began pouring out liquid melody. Not a peep from the tanager, and I wondered why.

Then, recalling an experience I had in church, I decided I knew why the tanager was so strangely silent. The congregation was singing a familiar hymn, and I was bumble-beeing along when at my side came a man's rich baritone. This man could sing and he sang as if he meant it and enjoyed it.

I decided he could sing enough for both of us and that I would do well just to close up shop and listen. So I expect the tanager to get going again—if the Cardinal doesn't get started first.

said he thought "roads and bridges should come first" among the budget priorities. Wilcox declined to explain his opposition to the fire department monies.

The future of the Humane Society animal shelter, closed nine months ago when its funds were exhausted, remains in doubt, despite the court's budgeting $6000 toward its operation and $3372 toward a dog warden's salary.

Even with the addition of $6000 budgeted for the shelter by the city of Prestonsburg this year, the available monies amount to barely half what Humane Society officials reckon as the shelter's operating cost.

Mini-parks in three sections of the county will receive funds—$32,250 on Right Beaver, $7887 on Mud Creek, and $3109 on Left Beaver. For a ramp to give the handicapped easier access to the county courthouse, $3500 has been budgeted.

The budget reflects the 12.4 percent cost-of-living raise in county officials' salaries voted by the court in March, with a modest raise for the coroner in addition. The judge-executive's salary stands at $26,058, with an additional $3600 budgeted for expenses. Magistrates are paid $19,140, with $1200 for expenses. The coroner's salary, which stood at $9216 following the cost-of-living adjustment, has been raised to $10,000.

Though considerably less than an earlier estimate by Finance Secretary George Atkins, Floyd county's share of coal severance taxes will be a welcome relief from the lean year just passing, Judge Wells said. "It looks a lot better than it did this time last year," he said of the county's financial situation.

Supt. Grigsby Receives State KSC-IRA Award

For the second consecutive year, a Floyd county educator is the recipient of the KSC-IRA Administrator's Award. Pete Grigsby, Jr., superintendent of Floyd county schools, received this year's award from the state chapter of the International Reading Association for his outstanding contribution as an administrator to the field of reading and the achievement of the Kentucky State Council's goals. A member of the Jenny Wiley Reading Council for the past 10 years, Mr. Grigsby has supported the local reading organization in his administrative capacity as principal and superintendent. The council's recommendation for the award included the following:

—Through his efforts, the local reading council has been represented for several years at all state meetings as well as national conferences held in Nashville, Atlanta, St. Louis, Norfolk, and New Orleans.

—Mr. Grigsby encouraged members of his staff to assist other council members with the preparation of the KSC Fall Reading Conference held at Prestonsburg Community College and Jenny Wiley State Park last year. Through these collective efforts, the 1980 fall conference was deemed one of the most successful and outstanding KSC reading endeavors.

—The Floyd county educator has supported the reading organization in all its council projects during the past ten years. Cooperation and assistance were provided whenever possible in such accomplishments as exhibits at county fairs, KSC meetings, and annual conferences; speed-reading classes taught by members at Prestonsburg Community College; and mini-workshops conducted in Johnson, Martin and Floyd counties.

—Because of his support and cooperation, several Jenny Wiley Council members were encouraged and enabled to fulfill their obligations as officers in the state reading organization.

The first Administrator's Award was given in 1980 for the purpose of recognizing the outstanding contributions of KSC-IRA members who are administrators to the achievement of the goals of the Kentucky State Council of the International Reading Association. At that time, Mrs. Anna Lee Rice, a Floyd county Title I reading consultant, was recognized for her service to the Jenny Wiley Reading Council in preparation for the KSC Fall Reading Conference.

The other three educators who received the 1981 KSC Administrator's Award are Principal Robert Boyd, of the Barren River Council; Beverly Jones, director of Personnel Evaluation in Jefferson county schools and a member of the Greater Louisville Council; and Stanley Steidel, a Title I coordinator and member of the Greater Northern Council.

After a Hospital Stay..

After spending two weeks in Our Lady of the Way Hospital at Martin, recuperating from several ailments and surgery it was a great thrill to come back home again. As the old saying goes, "There's no place like home." I can't ever forget my good Lord. He is so good; and the entire staff, nurses, doctors, patients and all were super and helped make my days a little brighter also.

I'm back now and on the road to recovery. I have a big front porch, which is old-fashioned, I guess, but I'm old fashioned, too. I always love to sit out on my front porch and swing and enjoy all the things Mother Nature provides for us—the flowers, chipmunks, trees, birds singing and the weeds that are just growing and having a ball. Wait till we get back on foot again, maybe, and start sharpening the hoes and we'll have a "big workin' party" on Wilson Creek. I wonder how many would accept an invitation.

My nephew, Mike Dempsey, of Columbus, Ohio, was visiting me and he is a jolly person, having just spent 18 days in hospital flat on his back, suffering from flebitis. He said to me, "I started out with nothing and still have most of it." He is still unable to return to work due to his illness, but he can still laugh.

It's wonderful to get up in the morning, whatever hour we choose, and cook our breakfast or whatever and our foods aren't rationed yet. I always felt for the people in Poland. We live in a great country but yet we're abusing it. Our country doesn't deserve this kind of treatment, it's so good to all. God gives her all the beauty, rain, wind, sunshine, so many blessed essentials to keep us going—yet we as people don't stop and count our blessings and be more thankful for what we have. We're all living way too fast—we'd better slow down and take more time and live while we may; give our friends a lift along the way. So many ways it can be done—a smile and a word of encouragement to someone who may feel low. I know I can't help the world, but I've talked and discussed with blacks, and others in high positions about the possibility of the leaders of the world sitting down and being able to talk over and settle their differences—like you and I.

I have often told them I'd love to be a worldwide goodwill ambassador. There's no reason the world leaders couldn't do this. My sister-in-law, Mrs. Joyce Rowe, accompanied me to Louisville recently to attend a conference held at the Galt House. I attended several seminars of the Governor's Advisory Council on Volunteerism. I enjoyed listening to all, but there was one Black speaker, Dr. Singer Buchanan, who also taught at one of the colleges. He and I got to be good friends. He agreed with me all the way about how people all could be like us—just be friends and work out our problems. I will never forget people like him. We could apply this same rule in all walks of life. We need more peo-penitentiary, Neeley was paroled last October.

While the time he served on the felony conviction counts toward time to be served on the misdemeanor conviction, Neeley still had six months to serve on that count. Judge Stumbo's May 1 order returned him to the Floyd county jail for that purpose.

In the meantime, Neeley's brother, Ronnie, had also been arrested on a drug sales charge, his trial set for June 10. The alleged intervention by state police in Doug Neeley's case may have been an attempt by them to influence the conduct of his brother's trial next week, Johnson said.

Johnson accused the police of circumventing judicial procedures in pressing to have Neeley jailed again. No sentencing hearing was conducted, his client had no opportunity to confront his accusers, nor were the merits of jailing him or granting bail considered, Johnson said.

The attorney accused Judge Stumbo of abusing his discretion by denying him an opportunity to argue his client's case and charged the state police with using "SS tactics" in having Neeley jailed.

In working outside normal judicial procedures, the police "showed themselves to be no better than the people they arrest," he said. The incident has far-reaching civil rights implications, he added.

On May 22 this year, Johnson successfully petitioned the court to release Neeley for eight hours each weekday to enable him to work for a Betsy Layne glass installer and, a week later, sought his release from jail on condition that he move to Stambaugh, in Johnson county.

The attorney withdrew the latter petition Tuesday, again charging that pressure on the court from law enforcement officers played a part in the decision.

Shortly thereafter, County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. filed a motion in court seeking to have the May 22 work-release order quashed. State police investigations suggest that Neeley did not have the job he claimed to have and "is not in good faith seeking employment," Turner argues in the motion. A hearing on the motion has been set for Thursday.

ple like my dear friends, Tommy Moore, of Turkey Creek (Maytown), also another old soul, Mrs. Susie Adkins, of Hueysville. They're both up in years—salt of the earth.

My little grandson Shawn has already started talking to me about our Red, White and Blue Day Coming up Saturday, October 17. He's just getting over an appendectomy, doing fine. He is a very intelligent little fellow. He has mentioned twice to me, about a beautiful plaque hanging on my wall. It has a large golden key attached to it. Shawn said, "Grandma, did you win that?" I told him, yes, I was presented this at last year's Red, White and Blue parade by the Mayor of Prestonsburg. My only regret is that I don't have a picture or clipping when I received it for my scrapbook. It is so pretty, and I've often wondered how many others and who are they that have received this beautiful Key to the City.

Everyone get busy, America needs us. See you.

Please, friends, if you can help out in this situation, let your heart be your guide. We may need help, too.

I want to thank God for sparing me once more; thank the doctors, nurses, ministers who made visitations, everyone for the beautiful flowers, cards, and, most of all, for their prayers. Stop and count your blessings while you have time and always be good to one another—both rich and poor alike. Don't ever forget we're all people, regardless what we may own in this world. We're only passing through once, and we're sure not going to take one thing with us.

Post-Election Predictions

Based on the outcome of last week's primary election, I predict that the following conditions will exist in Floyd county for the next four years:

1. Floyd county will be one of the "wettest" dry counties in the state of Kentucky.
2. The selling and usage of illegal drugs will increase.
3. Private clubs will flourish.
4. Certain people will return to Floyd county and open up places of business and entertainment.
5. Law and order will be found in other counties, not here.
6. There will be even less respect for laws in general.

Since I live in Floyd county, I pray to God that these predictions are wrong. My belief is that they are correct.

Cemetery Vandalism

A substantial reward is offered for information regarding the damage done to grave markers in the B. B. Salisbury and J. D. Salisbury cemetery at Hunter. It is a very detestable act when persons (whether children or adults) chisel or pry out cherished pictures from a tombstone, then tear them to pieces and leave them on the ground. What would prompt anyone to be so low down and mean? This must be the height of ignorance.

It is known that youngsters have been camping out on the cemetery hill, so regardless who did this criminal damage, they must pay for this one way or another (parents are held responsible for what children do.) If you have any information regarding this please contact any of the Salisbury heirs at Hunter.

Discrimination—call it what you will. This letter is to express this one's feelings of being left out.

We of this part of Mr. Gearheart's television cable have been left out of everything. For example, the people of Prater, Betsy Layne and Harold are on this line and the people of Harold and Betsy Layne received Home Box Office for some time. The people of Prater think its high time that something be done to equal not some but all.

This person has called the company to inquire about H.B.O.'s availability to Prater's customers. And the secretaries say that it isn't available for either of the above-mentioned places. But from reliable sources of Betsy Layne and Harold they say they've had H.B.O. for a long time. But Dana residents have had only one weekend, and that was the introductory offer.

C. D. CONN

P.S. It was a good fight, or so they say it was.

Folksong Festival Set At Grayson Lake

The sounds of Appalachian folk music will echo through the valleys of Grayson Lake as the 6th Annual Kentucky Folksong Festival takes place on June 13th and 14th.

The festival is co-sponsored by the Northeast Kentucky Foothills Folk Heritage Inc. and the Huntington District of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers as part of its interpretive program.

Theme of the festival not only focuses on authentic folk music, but features the cultural heritage of the rugged Appalachian mountain people. Craft exhibitors from Kentucky and neighboring states will demonstrate their skills—skills passed down from their ancestors that have preserved their mountain heritage throughout the years.

Grayson Lake, a Corps of Engineers project, provides a relaxing woodland setting and offers a variety of recreational activities to complete a full weekend of fun for the entire family. Facilities are available for boating, fishing, camping and picnics. Playgrounds and walking trails are also among the facilities offered at the project.

Camping sites are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Motel facilities are available in the town of Grayson and surrounding communities. Carter Caves and Greenbo Lake State Parks, both located within 20 miles of Grayson Lake, also provide accommodations.

Grayson Lake, site of the festival, is located approximately 25 miles of Ashland, Kentucky. It is easily accessible by taking Kentucky Route 7 south from the Grayson exit of Interstate 64.

'Private Efforts' Group To Meet At Berea

The second Conference on Private Efforts in Appalachia will meet at Berea College on June 18-19, bringing together representatives of privately-financed health, education, welfare and religious organizations that provide service to Appalachian people.

It is sponsored by the Appalachian Fund, a private foundation, and Berea College. All interested persons are invited to attend.

W. Grady Stumbo, M.D., secretary of the Kentucky Department of Human Resources, will deliver the keynote address. Dr. Stumbo was the founder and medical director of East Kentucky Health Services Center at Mallie, Kentucky. Jack Hall, editor of the Berea Citizen and minister of the Berea Church of Christ, will also speak.

The major part of the conference will involve discussion groups on health, education, welfare and religion and also on special problems such as troubled children, using volunteers, funding sources, employment, housing and mental health.

Betty Smith, folk singer from Marietta, Georgia, will entertain. Dr. Bill Best of Berea College will lead square dancing on Thursday evening to music provided by Vernon Payne and band.

The conference will examine the effect of federal and state cut-backs of funds and ways in which private groups can fill the gaps in serving critical needs. Private agencies have been displaced in recent years by the better-financed federal and state agencies, according to conference director Loyal Jones. "Many of these private agencies have been the most imaginative and effective efforts in the region, but they have had difficulties in maintaining programs and in finding sufficient funds in an era of expanding public programs," Jones said. "Yet we feel that private agencies will be extremely important in the next several years, and we must find ways to strengthen their efforts."

The conference will open with a luncheon meeting on June 18 and close with a lunch on June 19. Settlement Institutions of Appalachia, a consortium of settlement schools, will hold its annual meeting immediately following the Conference on Private Efforts. The meeting will address the energy-related problems of private institutions.

For further information, write to Conference on Private Efforts, the Berea College Appalachian Center, CPO 2336, Berea, Kentucky 40404 or call (606) 986-3187, Extension 513. Meals and dormitory rooms are available to registrants.

“Know Your Bible” THE CHURCH THE LORD BUILT. 1. In the first century of the Christian era all people were classified as saved or lost; in the church or out of the church; believers or disbelievers; in Christ or out of Christ. The issue was quite simple and the line of distinction was clear. But today we have the confused picture of some four hundred religious bodies, all claiming to believe the same Bible and to be serving the same Lord. This presents a confused state in the minds of many who wonder how so many confusing doctrines and practices can be right. 2. Is the church the Lord built upon earth today? How can one identify His church amidst all the Babylon of religious confusion? We recognize the problem is great in the minds of many; yet the solution is quite simple. All the identifying features of the Lord's church are found in the Lord's Book, The New Testament. One has but to read the New Testament and find the religious group today that is identical in faith and practice with the church of the first century. Suppose we briefly outline the identifying features of that church: 1. This church was built by Christ. (Matthew 16:18; Ephesians 2:19-22). It began in Jerusalem on Pentecost Day in fulfillment of all prophecies that had been made relative to time and place. (Isaiah 2:2-4; Daniel 2: Acts 2). 2. Individual members wore the name of Christ-Christian. (Acts 11:26, I Peter 4:16). The church wore the name of Christ. (Romans 16:16). 3. The Lord's conditions of pardon were clearly taught and required. These included: faith in Christ as God's Son (John 8:24; Hebrews 11:6); confession of that faith with the mouth (Romans 10:9-10; Acts 8:37); repentance of all past sins (Acts 17:30; Luke 13:3); and baptism into Christ for the remission of sins. (Mark 16:16; Acts 2:38; 22:16; Galatians 3:26-27). This baptism was an immersion in water. (Romans 6:3-4; Colossians 2:12). (To be continued next week.) On a Sleepy Sunday Afternoon... Real, Live Bear Ambles onto Scene

No, it wasn't a wayward Angus calf or an oversized Labrador retriever that caused all the commotion at Lancer last Sunday—it was a bear!

Nobody knows who saw it first, or the exact route it took as it apparently ambled down the hill, across Lake Drive and into Lancer Bottom, around 1 p.m., but the word soon spread and you'd have thought Bigfoot was ravaging the countryside.

The Prestonsburg fire and police departments responded as well as state police units and members of the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad as the bruin made its way to the river bank. Their aim was to corral the beast and contain it until provisions could be made with state conservation officials to remove it to a safer, more remote spot. But law officers soon found themselves occupied primarily with discouraging those who sought to pursue the animal with everything from shotguns to .22-calibre rifles.

Before any sort of effective plan could be mounted by officials to capture the terrified animal, it jumped into the Big Sandy and swam the swollen river, exiting in the Colonial Hollow area, it was reported.

Later that afternoon, the bear, estimated at 2-300 pounds, was seen in the Water Gap-Katy Friend section, near the Floyd Funeral Home, where a large group gathered for a glimpse of the sight rare to this area. Although most onlookers on the scene were armed with nothing more lethal than cameras, Conservation Officer Dalton R. Conley was reported to have warned at least one shotgun-toting local resident of the legal consequences of attempting to harm the animal.

The bear, apparently weary of the flash cubes and ruckus, disappeared into the hills and was not seen again.

Tommy Cantrell, district supervisor for the Department of Fish & Wildlife, said he was not really surprised by the sighting, since black bears do "show up in this country from time to time." Cantrell pointed out that just last year a bear which was knocked unconscious by a car along a country road in Lawrence county and transported by some local men to a barn, was identified by conservation officials as having come from Virginia. The bear, which had been tagged by Virginia authorities, was released in the Yatesville section of the county and was later reported legally killed by a hunter in Virginia, four miles from the Maryland state line.

"Black bears are pretty wide ranging, especially when they have been relocated from their original areas," Cantrell pointed out. "The state of Kentucky hasn't released any bear in this area," he added, "so most of these animals seen around here have wandered in from Virginia or West Virginia, most likely."

Cantrell stressed that anyone who might interpret a bear sighting as a good opportunity to do a little big game hunting could be in for a rude surprise. "If we find anyone deliberately harming one of these animals we'll prosecute to the full extent of the law," he warned.

"Too many times in this part of the country if people see something out of the ordinary, their first instinct is to kill it," Cantrell said. "If people only realized that the bears are probably a lot more scared of them than they are of it, everything would be all right."

Corn Growers Asked To Report Average
Floyd county farmers planning to produce corn for grain in 1981 will be required to certify their acreage with ASCS in order to be eligible for benefits of the 1981 Feed Grain Program.
Benefits of the program include disaster coverage (prevented planting or low yield payments for losses due to natural disaster) or deficiency payments (if the average price for corn should fall below the support price for the first 5 months of the market year).
It is very important that producers participate in the program, as much of the farmland in Floyd county lies in areas prone to flooding and in light of the drought that has plagued much of the country in recent months.
Those interested in participating must accurately report their crop acreages to the ASCS Office (105 Court Street) by July 15. For further information, call 886-2802.

Electrical Class Set
Arthur Moore, instructor with the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, will conduct an electrical initial and retraining class at the Inez Vocational School, every Monday and Wednesday at 6 p.m., starting June 15.

Clark Pupils Treated to Books

Clark Elementary School conducted its last RIF Day of the year May 19 at the school library. On hand to receive books during the activity, were children from every grade in the school. Each was allowed to select two books to keep as his or her own. This was the third such day the school has conducted this year.

Project RIF is a federally funded program which matches school, or local, funds on a basis of 3 to 1, and allows children to select their own books to own and enjoy, free of any charge.

Jobless Rate Dips

Unemployment in Kentucky during April dropped for the third consecutive month reaching a low 7.3 percent of the labor force, Department for Human Resources statistics show.

This is the first substantial decrease since the first quarter of 1980 and bring unemployment below 8 percent for the first time this year, according to Robert MacDonald, chief labor market analyst for the Human Resources Department.

Statewide, some 125,400 persons were out of work during April, down from 147,100 in March.

Most of the decline in unemployment was due to some 18,000 Kentuckians leaving the labor force, while the number of persons working in the state increased by 5,300, MacDonald said.

The coal mining industry has 24,900 less jobs caused mainly by the coal strike. Other job losses came primarily in transportation, communication and utilities (900 less jobs), manufacturing industries (down 800 jobs) and government (down 400 jobs).

To The People of Magisterial Dist. No. 2

I am deeply grateful to all who made possible my renomination at the May primary as Magistrate in our district. My loyal supporters and workers did a tremendous job in the face of heavy odds.

I also want to thank one of my opponents, James "Red" Stevens, for his courtesy. After the election was over he came to my house and as a good sport offered his congratulations.

I expect to serve our district during the next four years as I have in the past—to the very best of my ability.

Again, my thanks.

Timber Stands Improved by SCS

Have you ever thought about those thousands of trees growing on that steep hill. Well, Hubert Puckett did and received $39 per acre to improve those trees.

Puckett contacted Pat Beyler with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service (SCS) in Prestonsburg about the safety of a pond on his farm. While at the farm, Beyler noticed that some trees appeared to need thinning. A timber cruise was done and verified that 20 acres needed timber stand improvement (TSI). All of the poorly formed, diseased, and unwanted trees were marked by the Division of Forestry and cut down. This left all the good healthy trees room to grow. With greater space to grow the trees will grow faster, larger and produce more timber.

Financial assistance was furnished by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). For more information on Timber Stand Improvement (TSI) contact the SCS office in Prestonsburg (886-3128).

In 1936, in the first large "sitdown" strike, the United Rubber Workers (CIO) won recognition at Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

Bradbury-Heslin Vows Solemnized

In a double ring ceremony performed April 11 at 4 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church, Prestonsburg, Miss Barbara Bradbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Bradbury, of Prestonsburg, was united in marriage to Mr. Kevin Patrick Heslin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Heslin, of Atlanta, Georgia.

Dr. Ted Nicholas, the resident minister, performed the candlelight ceremony.

Two tall brass candelabra held the tall white tapers, which framed baskets of lavender cornflowers, white and pink roses and purple violets. The table holding the Eucharist candles, used in the ceremony of the candles, was backed with the same color arrangements of flowers.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Kathryn Frazier, the church organist. Miss Rebecca Haywood, of Falmouth, Kentucky, was soloist. Selections used for the wedding were: "Wedding Song" by Heinrich Schuetz, "The Greatest of These Is Love" by Roberta Bitgood, "Sometimes" by Henry Mancini, "One Hand, One Heart" by Leonard Bernstein and "Wedding Prayer" by Fern Dunlap.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chiffonella combined with imported embroidered Alencon lace. The gown featured a Queen Ann neckline with molded bodice and long lace fitted sleeves. The lace bodice was accented with tiny seed pearls. The pearl accented lace poplin highlighted the bodice back.

The skirt fell from a slightly raised waist into a full cathedral-length train. The skirt and train were edged in Alecon lace and lace motifs adorned the skirt front.

A lace Juliet head piece and cathedral-length veil completed the outfit. The bride carried a bouquet of white and pink roses, lavender corn flowers and babies' breath, surrounding a center of silk purple violets.

Mrs. Lisa Portwood, of Dallas, Texas, was the matron of honor, and Miss Barbara Hammond, of Inez, was the maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Sawyer, Miss Michele Heslin, sister of the groom, and Miss Kris Lundberg, of Atlanta. All the bridesmaids wore the same style gowns, which were lavender with the empire line bodice and pera-pleated skirt. The maid of honor and the matron of honor both carried small replicas of the bride's bouquet. The maids of honor carried violet nosegays.

The junior bridesmaid was Jessica Cline, niece of the bride from Inez. Her gown was of sheer white organza accented in lavender. The bodice had a scoop neckline with lavender ruffle. The skirt featured the Versaille drape.

The flower girl was Stephanie Kirk, of Inez. Her gown featured a batteau neckline with puff sleeve, fitted bodice and Versaille drape in front. Rows of lace showed through the drape that was picked up with lavender self fabric roses.

Steve Heslin, brother of the groom, was the best man and groomsmen were Phillip Bradbury, brother of the bride, of Inez, and Gary Mabry, Bob Borneman and Mike Strain, of Atlanta. The bride's mother wore a street-length dress of mauve silk crepe with a contrasting plum trim and accessories. The mother of the groom wore a two-piece champagne colored street-length dress and matching accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony guests were received in the Fellowship Hall. Assisting at the reception were Mesdames Edna Carol Greenwade, Vera Ford, Dorothy Wells, Mabel Brown, Patsy Brown, Phyllis Herrick, Dorothy Harris, Mary Sue Moore and Elizabeth Ramey.

For their honeymoon, the couple drove cross-country to Portland, Oregon, spending several days in the San Francisco and Carmel area. For going away, the bride chose a pale lavender silk dress with purple accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Heslin will reside at 11769 South West Windmill Dr., Beaverton, Oregon. They will both be associated with the Georgia Pacific Company in Portland.

All family planning offices are located in the Health Departments and there is an extra office on Main Street in Pikeville to help serve our largest county.

Nursing staff is available to counsel with the patients on birth control methods and to set up appointments for the clinic at which a physician gives a complete examination. The birth control methods available through Family Planning are the birth control pills, I.U.D., diaphragms, foam, condoms, natural family planning.

The examination by the physician and the nurse includes: a pap smear, pelvic, breast exam, blood work, urinalysis, blood pressure reading, height and weight. A close watch is kept on each patient for cancer, a high or low blood pressure. Our goal is to keep our patients healthy and we are always available for counseling and a referral is made to a physician when necessary.

Lab pregnancy tests are available upon request. Information on the sterilization program can be obtained through our family planning clinic.

The family planning program in our district is a comprehensive health service, offering the patient private confidential counseling service.

Federal regulations require a small fee for the service. Following guideline can be used as an example: a family of three with an income of between $8,000 and $9,000 per year will pay 20 per cent of total cost of delivering this service (or $10.00 for an annual exam and $1.00 for a supply visit). Some will pay a little more, some nothing. A sliding fee scale is used to calculate the amount paid by each individual.

The Family Planning office is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. For further information or an appointment call 886-8702.

ALLEN METHODIST WOMEN

The Allen United Methodist Women met at the home of Mrs. Jewell Allen, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. The president, Karen Marcum, opened the meeting by reading Psalms 100 and leading the group in singing. The invocation was given by Tincy Crisp.

Regarding the purchase of an awning for the back entrance to the church, Karen Marcum reported that more was involved with the construction of the awning than had been anticipated. She moved that the group not pursue this project. It was agreed by the membership to purchase other items for the church instead of the awning; namely, baptismal robes and taper lighters. It was also suggested that the group work toward the purchase of a steeple.

Kay Lemaster was in charge of the program and, with the help of Brenda and Kay Gray, presented a puppet show through which she related the purpose of the Allen United Methodist Women's organization, its past accomplishments, and future goals.

Following the program, the hostess served refreshments to Brenda Gray, Kay Lemaster, Karen Marcum, Edna Mae Cullison, Donna Hall, Jerry Martin, Dianne Scaff, Janice Stratton, Elsie Lafferty, Elizabeth Bailey, Tincy Crisp, Kay Gray, and E. Lee Kinzer.

VISIT HERE

Mrs. Mae H. Hinchman, of Huntington, W. Va., spent Memorial weekend with her sister, Mrs. Belle H. Ferrell, of Harold, Mrs. Hinchman, Mrs. Ferrell and their brother, Carl P. Hatcher, of Pikeville, were visiting Sunday in Prestonsburg.

13—And a Winner

Jessica Wackerle celebrated her 13th birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Wackerle, in Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, May 25, with her parents, her brother, 11-year-old Reuben Woods Wackerle, and several of their close friends joining in the celebration.

She received many gifts, but the one she appreciated most was the notice from the editor of the "Archie" comic strip, stating that she had won second prize in the contest she recently entered.

The question asked in the contest, (paraphrased), was: "If Archie should run for mayor, what do you think his platform should be?" The theme of Jessica's contribution was, "Grownups always seem to have more rights than children," and she gave as one of her examples that when children go to the grocery stores they almost always have to stand and wait by the cash register until all grown ups are taken care of, before the check-out clerk takes the money for their purchases.

Jessica's mother is the former Miss Susie Woods, daughter of Mrs. Carl Woods, of Prestonsburg, and the late Prof. Woods.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest gratitude to all who helped us in our sorrow over the loss of our dear husband and father, Oliver Hunter. To everyone who brought food, flowers, support and comfort, we are deeply grateful. Also, thanks to the ministers who were there to make it easier to bear. We also want to thank Dr. J. D. Adams and the nurses at Highlands Regional Hospital who were so kind and helpful while he was there. There are too many people to mention, but as you read this, we're sure you each know that we love you all for the support and help you gave to us in our hour of need.

Humane Soc. Meet Discusses Animal Shelter Status

The Floyd County Humane Society met last Tuesday evening at the Floyd County Library here and the group's president, Edith Belcher, commented that the meeting was "encouraging, simply because there were a few new faces present."

Arousal of interest in the Society and its efforts to achieve the reopening of the county animal shelter near here is the major goal of the group and ideas for creating such interest occupied much of the discussion at the meet.

Initiation of a membership drive was talked as a top priority and it was also suggested that a petition be circulated around the county in an attempt to determine public opinion and support regarding the animal shelter and Humane Society objectives.

Commenting on promised county funding of $500 a month to match an equal amount by the City of Prestonsburg, Mrs. Belcher commented, "That'll help, but we're still in a bind." She feels that a strong show of support from concerned county residents would constitute a major boost to the Society's efforts.

Persons who would like to join the Society or simply voice support by way of letter may write: Floyd County Humane Society, Star Rt. 4, Middle Creek Road, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653.

The Society's next meet will be held the last Thursday in June.

Dear Mr. Martin: I want to thank you for your having taken an active part in Mr. Arnold Turner Jr.'s recent re-election campaign for County Attorney. THE REAL FACTS ABOUT THE HOSPITAL STRIKE

The Hospital's wage proposal would leave well over half of the employees at less than $4.00 per hour—less than $8,000 per year.

The Hospital's wage proposal would leave LPN's over $1.00 per hour behind LPN's at Pikeville.

A technical employee with over 8 years at Highlands got a job at Paintsville Hospital making over $1.50 per hour more just starting out.

Highlands employees work long and hard to provide the best service possible to patients. They deserve to be paid fairly.

The Hospital claims to have offered a 25% pension increase. How misleading! They offered to increase pensions from $4.00 per month per year of service to $5.00 per month.

The present Hospital Administrator raised his salary by over 70% in one year—to $65,000 per year. This is still not enough. He is the President of a Pennsylvania consulting corporation which has been paid tens of thousands of dollars in the last year.

The Hospital has wasted more money on this strike than it would have taken to negotiate a fair settlement with employees.

The Union has proposed to settle unresolved issues by impartial arbitration. If the Hospital really thought their proposal was fair, why would they be afraid of impartial arbitration?

The full Union proposal could be paid for with a 7% budget increase in each year of the contract.

Election Results in Other Counties

Johnson County

(From The Paintsville Herald)
Nearly sixty percent of Johnson County's registered voters came out Tuesday for the primary election, on a day that turned out well for most incumbents.

The major exceptions were in the race for state representative, where Martin County recaptured the office, and the race for commonwealth attorney. Neither Endicott rode an overwhelming home vote to dislodge Paintsville's W. D. "Doc" Blair for representative. Blair won Johnson and Lawrence counties handily in the representative's race only to come up short on the total.

Also upset was incumbent Paul Deaton, representing the three counties as commonwealth attorney. Deaton lost Johnson and Lawrence counties heavily to challenger John David Preston of Paintsville, and his winning margin in Martin County fell considerably short, giving Preston the Republican nomination for November by 1200 votes.

Judge-executive Wayne Blevins withstood six challengers to win the Republican nomination for re-election, edging out Con Conley by 113 votes and Paul Arrowood by 192. He will face Frank Johnson on the Democrat ballot. Johnson, currently completing a term as sheriff, defeated Don Ross by 155 votes.

Incumbent county court clerk Betty Jo Conley again led the Republican ticket in one of the hottest races of the primary, defeating challenger Ben Tackett 3,087 to 2,282. She will face Democrat nominee Larry Ward in November.

Kenneth Williams, long-term Republican circuit court clerk, also won renomination, overcoming a vigorous campaign by Rebecca Lewis and rolling up a 2,573 total to Mrs. Lewis' 1,855.

Jailer Toy Blair was another incumbent to fare well, winning renomination with a 1,412 total over Eulas Crace, his closest challenger on the Republican ticket, who had 1,047. The Democrat nod went to Marvin Montgomery with 595 votes.

Former sheriff Ray Preston won the Republican nomination to return to that office, defeating four other challengers with a 2,157 vote total. The Democrat nomination went to Cecil "Gene" Cyrus, who had better than a 300-vote margin over the closest of his five opponents.

Two of the closest races came in the Republican bids for county attorney and property valuation administrator. Scott Preston won the nomination for county attorney over Stephen "Nick" Frazier by 242 votes, 2,473 to 2,231, and incumbent Custer Picklesimer held on to that office by an even narrower margin over newcomer Dennis "Popcorn" Adkins. Picklesimer got 2,197 to Adkins' 1,969, a 228 vote edge.

The only complete landslide was in the coroner's contest, where Bryan Fraley, now deputy coroner, swamped Betty Welch, 3,892 to 503 for the Republican nomination.

Pike County

(From The News Express)
Paul Patton emerged victorious in his bid to unseat Pike County Judge/Executive Wayne T. Rutherford as the Democrat party's nominee in Tuesday's primary election.

Patton tallied 13,153 votes to Rutherford's 7,102. Patton will face Republican Jim Polley in November. Polley received 1,570 votes while his challenger, Bobby Jack Collins, got 860.

Defeat came to incumbent Pike County Jailer Sid Phillips, too, as he lost his bid for re-nomination as the Democrat candidate to challenger Morris "Coon" Stratton. Phillips' unofficial tally showed 5,850 votes compared with 7,652 for Stratton.

A number of incumbents were renominated, however. N. Clayton Little, state representative from the 93rd legislative district, won by a margin of 5,932 to 2,086 for his closest challenger, Richard Hopkins.

Herbie Deskins Jr. was renominated as the Democrat candidate for state representative from the 94th District with 6,262 votes. His opponent, Sonny Hall, got 2,145 votes.

Incumbent County Court Clerk John Paul Blair won handily over challenger Charles "Fuzzy" Keesee, currently the county's sheriff. Blair's unofficial returns stand at 9,905 while Keesee's are 6,839.

Blair will face Republican J. D. Compton Jr. in November. Compton was unopposed in the primary.

William M. "Bill" Deskins, who served a previous term as sheriff, was nominated to run in November as the Democrat candidate for that post. Fellow Democrats gave him 6,080 votes compared with 4,702 for Wade C. Justice and 4,071 for Roger Damron, his closest challengers from a field of five.

Republican candidate for sheriff in November will be Marvin Biliter, who was unopposed in the primary.

Reo Johns captured the Democrat nomination for property valuation administrator. He defeated opponent Bryan Lee Compton whose total came in at 6,291.

Knott County

(From The Troublesome Creek Times)

Former two-term county judge, Sid Williams, won the Democrat nomination for Knott county judge executive with an unofficial 652 vote majority over magistrate Homer Sawyer. The count in that race has Williams with 3925 votes, Sawyer 3273, George Clarke 738, and Arthur Everage 195.

Williams will face independent Christopher Slone in November.

Incumbent County Clerk Jim Rose, County Attorney James Bates, Circuit Court Clerk Carlos Jake Huff easily won re-election, while jailer Worley Slone was defeated handily by Timothy Amburgey.

Thomas Adams won the sheriff's race by a 1200 vote margin and Ken Gayheart won the coroner's position by a 2500 vote edge.

County Attorney James Bates gathered 3656 votes to Graham Martin's 3092.

Circuit Court Clerk Jake Huff had the easiest race and received 5179 votes. Ray Pridemore had 1180, Devon Thornsberry 1111 and Levon Slone 220.

County Court Clerk Jim Rose, involved in probably the hottest of county races, won handily with 3152 votes, 551 votes over Clayton Handshoe, and over 1200 votes over his opponent four years ago, Bobbie Sue Jacobs.

Tommy Adams who had run a close second to Conley Anderson for sheriff four years ago, got 3672 votes. Former sheriff, Cuch Hilton Chaffins, came in second with 2473, chief deputy Henry Hall received 744 and Dan Wicker came in with 698 votes.

Three-term jailer, Worley Slone, was defeated by his closest challenger of four years ago, Tim Amburgey. Amburgey won with 2841 to Slone's 2051. Jerry Roberts ran a strong race with 1275.

Ken Gayheart of the Hindman Funeral Home won over Jackie Salyers of the Knott Funeral Home for coroner with the vote 4818 to 2315.

Pharmacy Footnotes

by HAROLD COOLEY

Fingernails, toenails and hair have much in common. Hair grows from its follicle; nails from a funnel-like fold of soft cells. Both are outgrowths of the skin and a diet that nourishes the hair nourishes nails. In pre-historic times, when fingernails were used as weapons for fighting, they were permitted to grow long and assume a clawlike appearance. Today, their natural function is to protect the fingers and toes, and of course, they are important to good grooming. Ask your pharmacist to recommend a vitamin supplement to strengthen nails.

We maintain an up to date supply of thousands of pharmaceutical products, including skin and nail care items, to fill your needs when you need them. We are your one-stop pharmacy. We welcome you to ask about our pricing procedures. It is to both of our advantages to have a full understanding about the prices of our drugs. Magoffin County

(From The Salyersville Independent)

Kaye Martin Doyle probably pulled the biggest upset of the day when she defeated incumbent Marcus Mann for the Democratic nomination for county attorney. The final machine margin was 164. Doyle received 1752 votes to Mann's 1588. She will face Republican Teddy Flint, who was unopposed in the primary.

Another upset saw Republican county judge executive Calloway Montgomery fail in his quest to succeed in another term as he was defeated by present sheriff Thomas Ryan (Skip) Salyer. The machine finals gave Salyer 1187 votes to Montgomery's 795.

Paul H. Salyer captured the Democratic nomination for Magoffin county judge executive. The final machine count showed Salyer with more votes, 2053, than his two opponents combined. Hearl Borders, a former sheriff and county judge, received 1296 while Don Bailey picked up 602. Paul Salyer will be opposed by Thomas Ryan (Skip) Salyer in November.

County clerk Howard Hensley overcame an early lead by Gerald Lloyd Saylor to win the Republican nomination in his bid to maintain office. Hensley gathered 1004 machine votes to Saylor's 778. Bill Prater received 212.

On the Democratic side of the slate, Hayden Bryan Arnett defeated Sam Miller, Jr. by 96 votes on the machines. Arnett received 1522 while Miller, the Democratic nominee four years ago, received 1,426.

In the races for sheriff, Pat Montgomery and Chalmer Wireman won easily over a long list of opponents.

Montgomery captured the Republican nomination with 984 votes. His closest opponent was Ronald Reed Minix with 355 votes. Wireman was awarded the Democratic nomination with 1,033 votes. Donald Watkins, who barely edged out Wireman for the nomination four years ago, was second with 754 votes.

Incumbent Democrat jailer Luther Jordan gained his party's nomination, but not before receiving a scare from Henry Clayton Williams. Jordan received 1139 votes to Williams' 1064 from the machines.

Another incumbent, Jerry Dunn, was given the nomination for coroner by the Democratic votes with 1613 votes. Joan Prater Stephens was second with 779. Dunn will be opposed by Republican Terry Minix in November, who was unopposed in the primary.

'Winter Tale'
To Air on KET

William Shakespeare's "The Winter's Tale," airing on KET Monday, June 8 at 9 p.m. is the fifth and final presentation in Season Three of "The Shakespeare Plays."

"The Winter's Tale" is the story of King Leontes who wrongly believes that his queen, Hermione, is deceiving him with his life-long friend, King Polixenes. He imprisons the queen and orders their infant daughter—whom Leontes believes is not his own—exposed and abandoned on the rocky coast of another country. Eventually, this costs him his wife, his son and daughter, as well as the respect of his people. But in the end, Shakespeare works theatrical miracles and Leontes is reunited with those he has lost.

The cast includes Jeremy Kemp as Leontes, Robert Stephens as Polixenes, Ann Calder-Marshall as Queen Hermione and Margaret Tyzack as Paulina, the only member of the court with sufficient courage to defy Leontes.

"The Winter's Tale" is a WNET/New York presentation.

Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond B. Akers, of Lancer, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a reception, May 10, at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. Approximately 200 guests and family members attended.

Honored as special guests at the reception were Mrs. Emma C. Bailey, the couple's only living parent, and Mrs. Jettie Sparks Shrew, who served her sister as maid-of-honor when Mr. and Mrs. Akers married May 13, 1931, at Prestonsburg.

Walter Akers, a minister of the Regular Baptist Church, spoke, briefly, congratulating the couple on their accomplishments through 50 years of married life.

A highlight of the event was a musical tribute presented by their son, Dennis R. Akers, and his wife, Dixie, who was mistress-of-ceremonies. She related facts reminiscent of the celebrating couple's life together and she and her husband sang a medley of songs which included "I Believe," "Memories," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Longer Than," "Home," and "Amazing Grace."

Featured at the serving table was a three-tiered cake made especially for the occasion by Mrs. Charles Melvin. Guests were served cake and punch by Mrs. Keither Endicott, Donna Blackburn, and Mrs. Dennis Warrix.

The event was hosted by the couple's children: Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Moore, of Frankfort; Mrs. Robert Dix, of Lawton, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Raybon Akers, of Westchester, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Brown, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Fermin E. Akers, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kirby, of Loveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis R. Akers, of Florence, and Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon Akers, of Knoxville, Tenn. Guests were registered by the granddaughters.

Get Other Opinions On Pest Control Says Atty.-General

Attorney General Steve Beshear wants Kentucky consumers to be aware of the dos and don'ts concerning pest control companies.

"Every year thousands of Kentuckians contract with pest control companies to rid themselves of insect problems. Many complaints are registered with my office by consumers who have spent hundreds of dollars on pest control and are still plagued by insects," said Beshear. "Still other consumers discover they have paid sizeable amounts of money to pest control companies to treat insect problems which did not exist."

Be extremely wary of the pest control representative who comes to your house uninvited and offers to give a free inspection for pests, Beshear said. If such a person tells you the house has termites, beetles or other insects, don't panic or rush into signing a contract. Warnings that your house may fall down within a week or that every other home in the neighborhood has termites and they are moving your way may be nothing but tactics to scare you into authorizing immediate and costly payments, he added.

An offer of a discount "today only" is another tactic designed to persuade the consumer to contract for services which may be much more expensive than those offered by other competent and available companies, Beshear noted.

Before you do anything, get the opinion of at least two other pest control companies as to whether or not a problem exists. Do not seek a second opinion from other pest control companies recommended by the door-to-door salesperson; contact a company of your own choice, the attorney general advised.

If you determine you have a pest problem which requires professional servicing, check around for a responsible pest control company. Ask friends and neighbors to recommend companies with which they have dealt successfully, and contact the Better Business Bureau for data on the company's reliability and reputation.

"In Kentucky, all pest control companies are required to be licensed by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture," noted Beshear. "The company's name and license number should appear on all service vehicles and each salesperson should carry an identification card issued by the Department of Agriculture."

Obtain price estimates for any needed work. All estimates should be in writing and should describe the exact method of extermination to be used for the specific pests or insects involved.

Find out if periodic inspections are included in the cost, and ask that this information and any guarantees be in writing as well. If a guarantee is given, know what it covers, how long it lasts, what you must do to keep it in force and what kind of continuing prevention and control is necessary. If a sizeable amount of money is involved, don't hesitate to get bids for several pest control companies.

If you have a complaint relating to pest control, write to the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, 209 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

THANK YOU

I want to thank all the voters in District 1 who supported me, and I ask you to support the nominee this fall. I will be back in four years asking your support then.

I want to especially thank Mr. and Mrs. Dan Goble, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Rose and Mr. and Mrs. Burl Shepherd.

Ground Broken on New Facility

To be located on a two-acre site at Branham Village on U. S. 23 two miles from Prestonsburg, the new structure will accommodate a five-car showroom, large parts warehouse with comfortable waiting room, modern offices and seven-stall garage with modern equipment and factory-trained mechanics. Work on erection of the 7,200-square-foot metal building will begin immediately, it was said and a completion date has been set for October of this year.

Triple B Mining is developer on the project.

Jury To Hear Union Pickets' Side of Case

Hospital union pickets indicted by a circuit court grand jury two weeks ago will have an opportunity to present their side of the case before the next regular session of the grand jury in September, according to an agreement reached Tuesday by Circuit Judge Hollie Conley, Commonwealth's Attorney James Allen, and Gary Johnson, representing the union.

The indictments of the five pickets on assault charges stemmed from incidents related to the current strike by members of the National Union of Hospital and Health Care Workers against Highlands Regional Medical Center.

Union officials charged that the indictments were politically motivated, a charge denied by the Commonwealth's attorney, and complained that they had been denied an opportunity to argue their case before the jury. Their trial has been set for September 10, by which time the grand jury will have met for its third-quarter session.

Meanwhile, union officials have charged that a county ordinance requiring the licensing of security guards employed in this county is not being enforced. Nuckols and Associates, a Cincinnati firm, is being employed by Highlands to augment its regular security staff during the strike there.

The same firm is being hired also by Triple Elkhorn Mining Co. to guard convoys of trucks hauling coal out of Prater Creek to the company's preparation plant at Allen.

According to the ordinance, passed by the fiscal court May 13, all private security guards are to be screened by the county sheriff's department.

County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. said this week the ordinance still lacks the signatures of the fiscal court members. As soon as that deficiency is remedied, "the law will be enforced," he said.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that: Glen David May, Allen, Kentucky 41601 intends to file an application for the surface disturbance mining of approximately 2 acres located northeast of Dwale in Floyd county. The proposed operation is approximately 1 mile north of U. S. 23's junction with Ky. 1428, and located east of Levisa Fork, latitude 37° 37' 44", longitude 82° 43' 07". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by: Glen David May. A brief description of the kind of mining activity proposed is: Removal of coal incidental to construction. The application will be filed at the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Prestonsburg Area Office, 431 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Persons wishing to file written objection and/or request a formal administrative hearing in regard to the above described surface mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. A copy of the newspaper clipping must be attached to the written objection. The objection or request for a hearing will reference application number 036-0064. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2), and must be forwarded to the Director of Permits, Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. Notice is hereby provided pursuant to 30 CFR 715.13 (d) (10) and KRS 350 that the proposed post mining land use does not constitute a change from the premining land use. Public comment regarding a proposed change in land use may be submitted to the address listed above.

Large Crowd Hears Church At Pikeville

UMWA President Sam Church, Jr. was at Marlow's Country Palace, near Pikeville, yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon to explain to Eastern Kentucky union members the proposed new contract which he had negotiated with the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

A day earlier, at Welch, W. Va., on the same mission, he was applauded by miners. His reception there was in marked contrast to the jeers which greeted him in March when he appeared to explain terms of an earlier proposal which was rejected by vote of union members.

The feeling over the coal fields was that the new agreement will be approved. The membership vote has been tentatively scheduled for Saturday.

The proposed settlement which the miners rejected eliminated the royalty on non-union coal that is loaded over union. That was one of the issues which the rank-and-file membership found most distasteful. The new agreement not only retains the royalty but raises it from $1.90 to $2.23 a ton. Miners' wages would increase 38 per cent over the 40-month life of the contract. They would also get a new dental plan, and a $150 bonus will be paid miners returning to work on the first day designated for mine operation under the new pact. The new contract also would provide pensions for widows of miners who retired under earlier pension plans.

Church has termed the new contract "a good agreement," but he makes it clear at his discussions of the agreement that "nothing is being rammed down your throats. You have the hammer, you have the final say."

The UMW bargaining council, which approved the proposed contract in March, gave the new agreement unanimous approval, but District 30 UMW President Robert Carter, who recently lost his bid for reelection, expressed some dissatisfaction with its terms.

If the vote is held Saturday and the new pact is approved, miners could return to work as early as Monday, it was said. The strike was in its 67th day, Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the violence that has occasionally marked the strike—gunshots, rock-throwing, damage to rail facilities—was apparently on holiday this week.

Guard 'Copters Fly 10 Years Without Mishap

There may not be any Bo Derek look-alikes flying Kentucky National Guard helicopters, but the pilots deserve a "10" anyway.

On April 4, the Kentucky National Guard Army Aviation Support Facility in Frankfort achieved 10 years of accident-free flying.

According to Army National Guard Aviation Manager Timothy Flynn, Kentucky is one of only three states presently holding a 10-year, accident-free record. The other two states are Vermont and North Dakota.

"I want to commend all Kentucky National Guard aviators and maintenance people for their conscientious awareness of the importance of safety," Maj. Gen. Billy G. Wellman, the state's adjutant general, said. "The record they have accomplished is something they and all Kentucky National Guard members can take pride in."

Col. David F. Fleming, director of aviation, attributes the record to the "professionalism of the pilots and maintenance crews." Fleming said during the 10-year period 39,759 hours of flying time were logged. He said 859 of those hours posed the greatest obstacle to reaching that goal.

"The most difficult period we experienced in the last 10 years was during the April 1977 floods in Eastern Kentucky," Fleming said.

In a 10-day period, 35 aviators logged 859 hours while transporting 95 tons of general supplies, 8,500 pounds of medical supplies and more than 109,000 pounds of food and water. They also transported 34 people needing medical attention and rescued at least 50 others trapped by the rising water.

Guard aviators were on 24-hour call, and many of them put in 18-hour days under adverse conditions. Missions were flown at night, sometimes in ice and snow. Pilots were also hampered by the lack of navigational aids and little or no weather reporting.

Flying conditions were "very, very hazardous," Sgt. 1st Class Harmon D. Cross said. Cross was among the first guardsmen to arrive in Eastern Kentucky to aid flood victims.

Cross remembers helping rescue an old man trapped on a rooftop in Pineville. "The man was standing on the roof wrapped in plastic garbage bags with 14-15 feet of water all around him," he said.

Earlier that day, Cross helped rescue three old women from a church rooftop. Each one had to be hoisted individually into the waiting helicopter. Due to an already heavy load and a low fuel supply, Cross had to remain stranded on the roof while the helicopter took the women to the hospital and went for refueling.

Another life-saving program the Guard is involved in is the neo-natal missions flown in cooperation with the University of Kentucky Medical Center and the Kentucky Department for Human Resources. On Sept. 2, 1980, the aviators transported their 100th premature infant from Eastern to Central Kentucky.

But most of the hours are logged in such training activities as nap-of-the-earth, low-level, instrument and emergency procedures flying.

Kentucky Army Guard aviators perform their missions in 38 helicopters. Thirty-one of the copters are UH1H utility helicopters used for troop transport, medical evacuations, equipment transfer and other similar activities.

There are six OH58A observation helicopters used primarily for nap-of-the-earth and military observation and one U3B fixed-wing helicopter used for training and other transport activities.

Guns and Explosives Are Seized by Bureau

A series of major criminal cases, resulting in the recovery of more than 1,700 weapons and multiple arrests, mark one of the most productive periods in the history of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

In April and early May, ATF special agents have seized enough illegal firearms and explosives to launch an invasion. Ten men arrested by bureau during this time were, in fact, charged with plotting to overthrow a Caribbean island republic.

More than 1,450 silencers, favored by gangland assassins and strongarm drug dealers, have been seized by ATF in a period of less than four weeks. This is the largest cache of illegal silencers ever recovered by the Treasury Department bureau.

Instruments of violence hauled in by ATF special agents in eight states also include 44 machine guns, more than 350 other firearms, 4,700 pounds of explosives, 70 bombs and explosive devices and more than 100,000 rounds of ammunition.

"This demonstrates clearly the vulnerability of criminal groups to laws enforced by ATF," said bureau Director G. R. Dickerson. "These often are well planned conspiracies and they are occurring in all sections of the country, especially coastal and border states."

Dickerson said criminals make a mistake when they think ATF's force of 1,500 special agents is too small to make a significant impact on violent crime. "Our strategy is to work closely with other law enforcement agencies and I think recent events show it is successful," he said.

When ATF undercover agents penetrated an alleged conspiracy to invade the Caribbean island nation of Dominica, other agencies were called in. They combined forces to arrest 10 men near New Orleans, April 27. Agents seized a boat they said was loaded with invasion gear, firearms and ammunition.

Unrelated seizures by ATF in Texas on May 6 and in Georgia and Florida early in April, netted 1,460 silencers—the most ever recovered by the bureau in such a brief period.

Agents worked undercover to infiltrate the alleged silencer-selling ring in Houston. Three men who waited at a Houston airport, May 6, expected to swap 800 silencers for $100,000 cash. Agents extended handcuffs instead of cash and seized the weapons.

ATF said another undercover operation broke up a Florida-Georgia gang that wanted to trade guns for drugs. "Operation Flying Circus" resulted in 13 indictments, the seizure of an airplane, 29 machine guns, 620 silencers and 2,700 pounds of explosives.

Narcotics also figured in an April shootout in Miami between Drug Enforcement agents and suspected dealers. One suspect was killed, another wounded. ATF and DEA investigators then searched a Miami home, where they found a quantity of cocaine plus six machine guns and 32 other weapons.

In Ft. Lauderdale, on May 6, ATF agents served another search warrant. They found nine machine guns, three silencers, 100 conventional firearms and 70 destructive devices including grenades and mines.

The target of "Operation Bluegrass" was firearms smuggled from Kentucky and sold illegally on the streets of New York City. ATF traced firearms confiscated by New York police. In a joint operation on April 21, the two agencies made 10 arrests and recovered 129 firearms that included 20 silencers.

That same day in Chicago, ATF arrested two men who wanted to sell 2,000 pounds of explosives. Twelve days earlier in Union, N.J. agents seized 100 firearms and 100,000 rounds of ammunition.

A Statement Under Oath

Under penalty of perjury, I do solemnly swear, that, early Monday morning of May 18th, David Allen of the Floyd County Times called me up at home to talk to me about the rhubarb over my April 29th. advertisement.

He told me that shortly after I had placed my ad. with the Times that Arnold Turner called him up wanting to know, in effect, if I had put or was putting anything in the paper about him being involved or mixed up in the County Judge-Executive's race. He said he told him that he had not seen anything but that he had not seen all the advertisements.

I submit to the other 91 candidates, not the editor, if Mr. Turner's calling up and making inquiry about the nature of his opponent's confidential paid-for advertisement, and the Times' candid and cooperative response, met the standards of confidentiality between an advertiser and a newspaper.

I want to thank the nearly 3,000 people who have just supported me, and I remind them of the words of the poet, "Its not whether you win or loose. But, how you play the game."

Executive of Year Award Goes To Anderson, Native of County

The Defense Electronics Supply Center's annual Executive of the Year award, sponsored by the Center's Executive Development Association, has been presented to John F. Anderson, Floyd county native, for his exceptional efforts in maintaining an account of DESC's electronic parts inventory during the recent relocation of assets from Dayton to new depot sites in Utah and Virginia.

Anderson, a resident of 1311 Maple Grove Drive, Fairborn, Ohio, is chief of the inventory accounting branch in DESC's directorate of supply operations. In addition to being named DESC's executive of the year, he earlier received the Meritorious Civilian Service award from DESC's parent command, the Defense Logistics Agency, for his excellent accounting efforts during the relocation project.

Anderson began his federal career on active duty with the Air force in 1951 and served until 1955. The following year, he joined DESC as a warehouseman and during 1962 transferred to Warner Robbins Air Force Base in Georgia. Four years later he returned to DESC as material processor. During his employment with DESC, Anderson has received 11 awards for outstanding efforts on the job.

Born September 16, 1932 at

McDowell, Anderson is a 1951 graduate of McDowell High School and is married to the former Florence Biliter, daughter of Mrs. Cea Williams, of Winchester, Kentucky. Anderson and his wife have two daughters, Teresa and Johnna.

Anderson is the brother of Mary J. Anderson, Sarah R. King, Rose Floyd, Zelma Anderson, Zella Anderson, Elymas Olson, Leonard Anderson, Richard Anderson and Milford Anderson, all residents of McDowell.

Floyd Store May Not Accept Food Stamps

Newsome's Super Saver, of Hi Hat, has been barred from accepting food stamps for a year because of violations, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service reports.

The store, which is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Stony Newsome, was disqualified from the food stamp program for a year, starting May 7, after being charged with selling cigarettes, health and beauty aids and other ineligible items for food coupons.

Robert L. Cunningham, who is in charge of the Prestonsburg field office of the Food and Nutrition Service, explained that the store will not be allowed to accept food coupons during the year's disqualification period.

Cunningham added that food stamps, by law, can be used only to buy food. The only exceptions, he said, are garden seed and plants to be used to produce food.

Appalachian Celebration To Feature Things of Past

MOREHEAD, Ky.—That old spinning wheel in your attic that belonged to your great grandmother—old Aunt Hattie's churn that you proudly display in your living room by the fireplace—the wooden butter molds you exhibit on your buffet—the twin flatirons you use as bookends. They're all relics of a day gone by but held fast in your memory.

They're the stuff nostalgia is made of and they're the stuff Morehead State University's Appalachian Development Center wants to display during its Fifth Annual Appalachian Celebration, June 21-27.

Authentic Appalachian arts, crafts, artifacts, relics and general memorabilia will be on exhibit in the Button Auditorium Drill Room throughout the week. In addition, the Council of the Southern Mountains Mobile Bookstore will conduct an exhibit of books by, for and about Appalachians.

John Rice Irwin, owner and operator of the Museum of Appalachia at Norris, Tenn., and the world's recognized authority on authentic Appalachian artifacts and relics will be on hand Monday and Tuesday, June 22-23, to consult with celebration visitors.

Irwin is an authority on pioneer farm and household implements of the hand-made variety, log-house reconstruction, white-oat basket weaving, and memorabilia of the coal-mining industry. Author of "Guns and Gunmaking Tools of Southern Appalachia" and "Musical Instruments of the Southern Appalachian Mountains," he'll have autographed copies available during his stay.

Items brought to the celebration for Irwin's comment and analysis will be photographed and documented for inclusion in a future archival publication. They may be left on display throughout the week or brought in solely for Irwin's examination and comment.

Shirley Hamilton, exhibits and displays coordinator, remarked, "we'd like to have people from all over the region bring in their relics and artifacts from Appalachia's pioneer days."

If you have collections or single items you would like to display or if you practice an Appalachian art or craft you would like to demonstrate, contact Shirley Hamilton at MSU's Appalachian Development Center, 783-4731.

The public is invited to come to the celebration and view the exhibits and displays.

Three TV Series Return in June

The month of June brings three highly acclaimed series to KET. Taking second bows on The Kentucky Network are "The Forsyte Saga," the first "Masterpiece Theatre" presentation which premiered in 1969; "The Scarlet Letter" the television adaptation of Nathaniel Hawthorne's great American classic; and, "Up And Coming," an award-winning series which explores the problems and challenges of adolescent life.

"The Forsyte Saga," airing on KET every Friday night beginning June 5 at 10 is the 26-part chronicle of a British family between the turn-of-the-century and the 1920's. The drama is based on the novels of John Galsworthy and features British Academy Award-winner Kenneth More, Royal Shakespearean star Eric Porter, and two actresses who made their names famous in the series, Susan Hampshire and Nyree Dawn Porter.

The debut episode begins as Winifred marries Montague Dartie. Then, on Sundays, beginning June 7 at 7:30 p.m., KET encores "Up And Coming." In 15 half-hour segments, the series follows the life of the Wilson which moves from a working class, black neighborhood to a more affluent, integrated area of the city.

The move challenges the Wilson teens as they are faced with the kinds of problems that come with adjusting to a different social environment, new peer group pressures, the demands of handling personal relationships and other issues. Veteran television and film actor Robert DoQui plays the father, Frank Wilson, and Gamy L. Taylor plays his wife, Joyce Wilson. Former Stanford University basketball star L. Wolfe Perry is the oldest son, Kevin, Cindy Herron portrays Valerie and Yule Caise plays Marcus.

"Up And Coming" recently received an award for excellence from ACT, Action for Children's Television. Another outstanding encore presentation, "The Scarlet Letter," comes to KET on Sunday nights at 8. The four-part series begins Sunday, June 7.

Meg Foster stars as Hawthorne's heroine, Hester Prynne, in this story about the passion and courage of a "fallen" woman.

Set in 17th century Boston, the adulterous Hester Prynne is forever condemned to wear the scarlet letter "A" upon her breast. Although she is ostracized by the community, she decides to stay in Boston and support herself and her infant daughter, Pearl. As years pass, Hester devotes her time and talent to caring for the sick and helping the poor.

The remainder of the action revolves about Hester's husband and her secret lover, Rev. Arthur Dimmesdale.

"The Scarlet Letter" is a production of WGBH, Boston. "Up And Coming" is produced by KQED, San Francisco and "The Forsyte Saga" is produced by BBC-TV.

DETOUR TO TERROR

O.J. Simpson stars as the driver of a tour bus en route to Las Vegas and Anne Francis portrays one of his passengers, as they stand with others after the bus is hijacked in "Detour to Terror" on NBC-TV's "The Sunday Big Event," SUNDAY, JUNE 7.

The tour bus is packed with weekend revelers whose gaiety turns to stark terror when their vehicle is commandeered by a homicidal trio intent on kidnapping one of the passengers. Simpson and a tour guide (Arte Johnson) become the only link to survival for the terrified passengers when they are stranded in the desert in their mechanically sabotaged bus and left to the mercy of the elements and their desperate captors. Energy Costs Moderate

By THOMAS H. MAXEDON
Executive Director
Kentucky Petroleum Council

Recently, energy markets have been changing for the better. A look at the 1970's as compared with 1980 and 81 shows a drop in both energy use and oil imports and as a result, some recent moderation in price.

In 1978 Americans used a record amount of gasoline. In March 1981, however, they used less gasoline than in any March in 10 years.

In the 1970's oil imports mushroomed, rising from 3.42 million barrels per day (mbd) in 1970 to 8.39 mbd in 1979. But in 1980 oil imports fell by 20 percent to 6.75 percent less than for the first three months of 1980.

Prices for foreign oil in 1970 were about $2.60 a barrel. By the end of 1979 OPEC oil had soared to nearly $30 a barrel. But in 1980 OPEC price increases slowed greatly, and by 1981 a few OPEC members were making price concessions, according to some news accounts.

In a sense, Americans have been fighting for their energy security by using less, producing more and finding alternatives.

As price controls ended—allowing a greater role for market incentives—millions of Americans have responded by searching out cheaper substitutes for expensive foreign oil.

Americans have substituted more ingenuity for less energy and, at the same time, sustained living standards surprisingly well. Of course, Americans have conserved energy by simply scaling back their use of energy-intensive products and services. But, they have also searched out new, innovative ways to improve energy-use efficiency.

Several experts, looking at the historical record before the Arab oil embargo feared that a decline in energy consumption would also mean a similar cutback in economic growth. But in the years after the Arab oil embargo through 1979, economic growth averaged 2.5 percent per year while energy consumption increased at an average annual rate of slightly less than 1 percent. In 1980 the "real" (adjusted for inflation) gross national product was virtually the same as in 1979, but energy consumption was some 3 percent less.

Because Americans have been so successful in improving energy efficiency, forecasters are revising downward their projections of our future energy needs. For example, the Department of Energy (DOE) in its 1977 Annual Report forecast 1990 energy consumption at between 106.6 and 108.9 quadrillion Btu's ("quads") per year. But DOE's 1980 Report forecasts U. S. energy consumption at between only 85.6 and 89.3 quads.

Domestic energy production has been another weapon in the U.S. arsenal of substitutes for foreign oil. In 1980 and 1981 the domestic production

The Union Claims That Highlands Regional Medical Center Does Not Pay Fair Wages & Benefits

THE FACTS ARE THAT IN OUR OFFER

- Top salaries and benefits of $30,000 per year will be paid to some union members by the third year of the contract.
- Many union members will receive between $14,000 and $22,000 per year.
- Starting salaries and benefits for the LOWEST paid employees, those in unskilled positions we must train, will be over $11,000 per year.
- Another paid holiday, better hospitalization and a 25% increase in pension benefits were also offered.

AND THEY TURNED THIS DOWN.

What they want would cost you $65.00 more per patient, per day on your hospital bill. Other demands they have made would turn control of the hospital over to a New York based union.

It is our responsibility to manage Highlands Regional Medical Center in the best interests of our patients, our medical staff and our employees. We take that seriously. To agree to the union's demands would be to ignore that responsibility.
