

Roadhouse Fear Grows . . .

Activities Curb, New Tax Cited

As the county adjusts to legal alcohol sales, plans are being revived here to impose a county tax on them, an ordinance is being prepared that would restrict the kind of activities permissible at retail beer outlets, and a group of applicants who were not granted liquor licenses is preparing to argue its case before a Franklin circuit judge.

District 4 Magistrate Lowell Samons, a prime mover among those seeking a county tax on beer sales, said he would ask the fiscal court at its next meeting to levy a 10 percent tax on wholesale sales, with the proceeds to be split evenly between the fiscal court and the Board of Education.

The fiscal court meets next on Jan. 21 at 10 a.m. in the courthouse annex.

County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. said this week he supports efforts to enact a tax, even though he feels its legality would be "highly questionable." While state law authorizes a city to collect a tax to pay for additional police protection, the law is silent with regard to counties, he said.

Under the "home rule" statute, counties are prohibited from making laws in areas already covered by state law. Since the state already taxes sales of alcoholic beverages, a local tax would seem to be vulnerable to a court challenge, the attorney explained.

Samons says beer retailers he has spoken to say they favor a tax. And Turner—citing the case of Magoffin county, which levied a tax apparently with the tacit consent of dealers—acknowledges that retailers might not oppose a tax in view of the goodwill it could generate in the community.

In any event, it is worth seeking a clarification of the issue by the courts, Turner argues. Even if the local tax were held illegal, the court decision would provide a focus for efforts to pass a law in the next legislature that would permit rural counties to derive tax revenues from alcohol sales, he points out.

Should retail beer outlets be allowed to operate as roadhouses? That issue also appears likely to come up at the next meeting of the fiscal court, when an ordinance may be considered that would prohibit music, dancing and games—but not drinking—where beer is served.

Clarification

A report last week on the audit of Floyd schools erroneously implied that deficits in general funds at the D. W. Osborne and J. M. Stumbo grade schools were in violation of state law. While the report did note that "concession" funds at both schools showed a surplus, it was not made clear that the surpluses more than balanced the deficits and that the schools' overall activity funds, therefore, were in the black. An auditor's comment on the Osborne school report, noting that "it is contrary to public law for the general fund to have a deficit balance," is inappropriate in this instance, said Board of Education Treasurer Ray Brackett.

THE SHEER MASS of the new Tram Bridge, now in the final construction stages, is all the more impressive when compared with the spindly wooden span a short distance upstream which continues to serve Tram residents. Completion of the $888,000 project is expected within the next few weeks.

ADD Names Officers

At their annual meeting in Lexington, Jan. 5, directors of the Big Sandy Area Development District elected officers for 1983. Re-elected for second terms were Prestonsburg Mayor Harold Cooley, chairman, Magoffin County Judge-Executive Paul Salyer, vice-chairman, and Dr. Charles Sword, Inez dentist, secretary. Johnson County Judge-Executive Frank Johnson was elected treasurer. He replaces James R. Allen, who served two terms in the position, the maximum permitted by ADD by-laws.

Board Resolved To Clamp Down On Collections

The file the County Attorney pulled in response to a reporter's question this week was marked "Floyd County Solid Waste II."

The significance of the label was obvious. The county's ailing garbage system is entering a new phase. Under the management of a new board of directors, determined to pursue a "get tough" policy with delinquents, and with the help of a further infusion of funds, the system is going to recover.

That, at any rate, is how County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. sees it. And Robert McAninch, newly reinstated as chairman of the solid waste agency's board of directors, agrees.

"I was promised the politicians would keep their hands off, otherwise I wouldn't become involved," McAninch said Monday in his office at Prestonsburg Community College, where he is a government professor.

"I'm in it for a limited time, just until we can get the system back in shape," he said. "I hope we can straighten it out in six months."

Already, the five new commissioners named by the fiscal court to oversee the agency have moved to trim expenses, dismissing a private attorney retained by the former board, laying off 12 employees, and curtailing benefits for the remaining workers.

And plans are under way to tighten up the agency's haphazard collection of fees. These include the hiring of a bill collector and an arrangement with the County Attorney to prosecute those who, beginning this month, are either not using the garbage system or not paying for the service.

An early benefit of the house-cleaning at Floyd County Solid Waste, Inc. is that the securities expert who first drew attention to the agency's slide toward bankruptcy and who threatened foreclosure unless the county replaced within a month some $90,000 drawn from the agency's

Landowners Ask $50,000 Damage

Bernard and Pearl Adams claim that a county road crew has trespassed on their Mare Creek property and they have gone to court seeking $50,000 in damages.

According to the suit filed in Circuit Court here, against the Floyd fiscal court, a road crew "under the apparent direction of Magistrate Lowell Samons, moved the creek over onto their property" last September. The property had not been condemned and the road crew acted without authority the Adamses claim.

Apart from taking a piece of their land, the action of the county crew also made inaccessible a cornfield they rent and the new creek channel will cause continual erosion of their property, plaintiffs argue.

The couple is represented by Pikeville attorney Lawrence R. Webster.

(Suits filed in court represent only one side of the issue in dispute.)

FmHA Rule Change Too Restrictive, Perkins Charges

Action taken last week by the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) "grossly discriminates against poorer areas of the nation such as eastern Kentucky," Congressman Carl D. Perkins charged in a press statement issued later.

A change in the rules governing FmHA grants means it will be much harder for communities to obtain them, he said.

At least two Floyd communities are known to have applied recently for FmHA funding—Town Branch, which needs the money to extend sewer lines there, and Prater Creek, which has hopes of building a water system.

What concerns him, Perkins wrote in a Jan. 14 letter to FmHA Administrator Charles W. Shuman, is that, under the new rules, some areas that Congress intended to be eligible for FmHA grants will not qualify for them.

According to the formula adopted by the agency, an area could have a 50 percent unemployment rate and still not be eligible for FmHA funds, Perkins said.

Filing Deadline Here, March 30

If you're planning to run for city council, you will need to file with the County Clerk for the May primary election, Prestonsburg City Manager David Evans reminded potential candidates this week.

While the council election remains non-partisan, a change in state law now requires that candidates file at least 45 days before the primary, he said. Previously, council aspirants needed to file only for the general election in November.

With the primaries scheduled this year for May 24, the filing deadline will be March 30, Evans said.

If fewer than 16 candidates file for the primary, all will go on to the general election. If more than that number toss their hats into the ring, the top 16 vote-getters in the primary will appear on the November ballot.

The eight council positions, which are for two-year terms, will be contested. The four-year term of Mayor Harold Cooley, elected unopposed in 1981, is not due to expire until 1985.

Murder Is Suspected In Death of Woman

The death of 53-year-old Zelma Anderson, whose skeletal remains were found near McDowell Dec. 23, almost five months after she had disappeared, may have been murder, a preliminary report made by Dr. David Wolfe, forensic anthropologist for the State Department of Justice, indicates.

Preliminary findings were reported last week by Dr. Wolfe to State Police Detective Danny Stumbo and Coroner Roger Nelson, who have led in the investigation.

Besides broken left ribs, the hyoid bone at the base of the tongue was crushed, indicating possible strangulation, Dr. Wolfe reported.

Miss Anderson's body was found at a deserted strip-mine site which was on a pathway leading from the home of one of her sisters to that of another sister. Her disappearance had been promptly reported and a continuing search followed.

Coroner Nelson said a complete report is expected soon. The investiga-

OLD HORSE SHOES seen hanging along a fence at Martin seem a wistful relic of a bygone day.

Official Says Martin Grant Loss Possible

If the city of Martin doesn't begin work soon on rebuilding its water system, federal funds committed for the project 18 months ago may be withdrawn, an Economic Development Administration (EDA) official confirmed this week.

Charlie Mason, EDA economic development representative for eastern Kentucky, termed the situation "fairly serious." Pressure is being applied on the agency from Washington to gather in grant monies that have not been put to use, he explained.

The EDA, one of three agencies participating in the $1.4 million project, committed a $500,000 grant in July, 1981 toward rebuilding Martin's dilapidated water system. The money was thought to be in jeopardy because of federal budget cuts earlier that year and is still reckoned to be vulnerable to pressure from the Reagan administration.

A grant and loan package amounting to $830,000 from the Farmers' Home Administration and a $100,000 grant from the Kentucky Flood Damage Abatement Program have also been earmarked for the project, which is designed to replace Martin's ancient and leaky water pipes and insure a reliable water source for the city.

So far nobody has argued about replacing the distribution lines, but where the city's water is to come from has long been the subject of acrimonious conflict between Mayor Larry B. Hall and members of the Martin city council, a dispute still pending before the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

According to an appeals court clerk, the court agreed last month to advance the case on the docket and consented last week to waive oral arguments, both moves designed to expedite a hearing of the case. Nevertheless, a hearing might still be "a couple of months" away, the clerk said.

To be heard by the court is an appeal filed by Mayor Hall against a writ of

Expected Rate Cut Fails To Materialize

When the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company announced last month that it would reduce the natural gas rates charged distributors, in compliance with an order to do so issued by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), but would appeal the order, some distribution systems—Paintsville's and Hazard's, for example—cut back the rates they charged their customers.

Prestonsburg did not.

Now, with Kentucky West Virginia's statements for gas used during December by these systems at hand, Paintsville and Hazard find themselves in trouble—for the expected rate cutback was not made.

These two distribution systems now must pay their bills at the higher rate and must go back to the consumer for more money to cover that outlay.

The Prestonsburg Utilities Commission was happy about its prudent decision not to cut back on its charges till the gas company's appeal had been decided and the rate stabilized. It reasoned that it would be easier to make refunds to customers if there was an overcharge than to collect from customers later if the cutback did not withstand the appeal.

As it is, the rates are not back to what they were before Oct. 1—about $1.75 per MCF—as ordered. They're at $3.46 per dekatherm, or $4.23 per 1000 cubic feet.

Prestonsburg's aggregate bill from Kentucky West Virginia was received

Plan Would Require More Courses Of College-Bound High-Schoolers

The state Board of Education has given its stamp of approval to a plan calling for mandatory courses for Kentucky's college-bound high school students.

The plan, endorsed by Superintendent of Public Instruction Raymond Barber, passed by a measure of 7-3 in a Jan. 11 meeting and will now go to the Council on Higher Education for final approval.

As outlined, the 20-unit pre-college course of study requires high school students to take four units of English and three units of mathematics, including algebra I or II, geometry and one other mathematics elective.

Those students planning to go to college must also take world civilization and U.S. history in addition to two units of science. The science classes must be chosen from biology, chemistry or physics.

Harry Snyder, executive director of the Council on Higher Education, told board members that the pre-college curriculum reflects the council's interest in strengthening the minimum competencies.

"The goal of the council is not deny anyone admission to any institute of higher education," Snyder said.

He also explained that senior colleges will give "waivers" to 20 percent of the students entering the institutions who have not completed the pre-college curriculum.

"I will recommend to the council that community colleges not limit those accepted who have not completed the pre-college curriculum," Snyder said.

Some board members expressed concern that the pre-college studies could create problems for secondary students taking vocational education courses.

"This board has long deliberated over the curriculum—its adequacy, its effectiveness," said board member Henry Pogue. "I see no way this proposed policy would limit educational opportunities of any high school student. In fact, it should provide a stimulus and help in the decision-making process of students."

According to Superintendent Barber, the pre-college courses will improve the quality of education received by youngsters taking vocational education classes.

"I think this body would be taking a step backward if we did not adopt this resolution today," Barber said.

In other board action, Brekinridge County, Barbourville Independent and Erlanger-Elsmere Independent school systems were granted emergency status after ending the 1982 school year with a budget deficit.

State law prohibits local school boards from operating under budget deficits.

PCC Baking Seminar Set At Clark School

Whether you bake for yourself or are involved in the food service industry, anyone interested in learning about, and doing, some actual baking is invited by the Community Service Program of PCC to join a six-week course entitled, "Baking—Both Practical and Technical".

The course is geared toward improving skills in both yeast-raised and cake-type products, with an emphasis placed on new approaches to common products and cake finishing.

Each session will consist of "hands on" training along with ingredient discussion. Basic training as well as advanced will be provided.

The course will be held at the Clark Elementary School on Monday, from 6:30 to 9 p.m., Jan. 31-March 7. Enrollment is limited to 20. For further information contact Linda Compton at 886-3863, ext. 215.

Is There Help For Parents Whose Child Is Terminally Ill?

The imminent death of a child due to a terminal illness is an agonizing situation for parents. It was out of a similar life-experience that an organization called "Carelighters" was founded.

Lore & Paul Prager founded Carelighters after their youngest son, Kevin, suffered for two years with terminal cancer. The purpose of the organization is to help other parents who have heard the sentence of death pronounced for a child.

Carelighters currently operates out of Ingalls Memorial Hospital in Harvey, Illinois. The parents operate a 24-hour hotline (312-798-1020) for parents to call for any kind of help. They also meet monthly to share feelings and offer each other support.

If you have any such concerns, we invite your inquiry in person or by phone.

Will Enforce Permit Rule, DNREP Head Warns

As of today (Wednesday), Kentucky coal operators planning to continue mining operations must file a comprehensive mining application, officials of the state Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet have reiterated.

"Both federal and Kentucky law require that existing mining operations permitted under the interim program be re-permitted under the permanent primary regulations," said Natural Resources Secretary Jackie Swigart.

"It's not the policy of the Brown administration or of this cabinet to work an economic hardship on the coal industry in Kentucky, but this deadline is one which we intend to enforce," she said.

"The coal industry has seen this date coming for a long time. We have tried to help the industry get ready for it by holding numerous meetings, training seminars and mass mailings," Swigart added.

"Originally, federal plans for Kentucky's assumption of primacy did not include any transition period. All completed comprehensive applications were to have been filed by July 18, 1982. We developed, and OSM approved, a transition-process by which operators could meet the federal filing deadlines while making the re-filing and review process as expeditious as possible. This additional step in the state's assumption of primary control of surface mining was added with Kentucky's coal industry in mind," she said.

Officials of the state Department of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement explained the schedule for the review of those applications received on or before Jan. 18.

"Because the cabinet cannot be expected to quickly process all 3,200 comprehensive applications immediately after Jan. 18, we have set up a priority system for this processing. Large operations and operations with significant environmental concerns will be processed first, and those operations which may finish mining before we can complete the processing will be processed last," explained Surface Mining Commissioner Elmore Grim.

"The entire re-permitting process will take a year, from January 1983 to January 1984. Each calendar quarter will focus on applications in one of four priority groups," Grim stated.

"Since the cabinet will process the applications on a staggered priority basis, applicants will be allowed to delay submittal of certain technical information until we are ready for review of the application," he said.

Swigart said that some 3,200 transition-phase applications were filed by the July 19, 1982 cutoff date. "Several operators have already submitted comprehensive applications for permanent program permits. The first of these permits, in fact, was issued Jan. 6.

"In their understandable frustration over the current condition of the coal market, some operators have charged that government regulations have been the main source of their difficulties," said Swigart.

"It is true that permitting costs will be significantly higher under the permanent program, due to the increased complexity of the program. It is also true that small coal operations will feel the cost more sharply than larger operations. However, in 1981—a record-breaking year for the coal industry in Kentucky—156 million tons of coal were produced under the same regulations which are still in force in 1982," she noted.

"As an agency of state government and as individuals, we are concerned about the health of the coal industry in Kentucky. We recognize the importance of the coal industry to the economic health of our state. Our first responsibility, however, is to control the environmental effects of coal-mining operations in a manner consistent with both federal and state law. We have done this and will continue to do so in a forceful manner.

"We recognize the need to balance environmental and economic objectives and have attempted to do so. It's not the intent of federal and state environmental laws to regulate the coal industry 'out-of-business' and we don't believe that this is happening today," Swigart stated.

Meeting To Discuss Food Stamp Issuance

Seven public meetings will be held in the state this month concerning a new system to issue food stamps and certify applicants for the benefits. One is set for Jan. 28 at 2:30 p.m. in the Floyd Circuit Court room.

"Through the meetings, we plan to provide information about the mechanics of the system and solicit ideas concerning issuing and redeeming food stamp coupons from the people who use them," said state Human Resources Secretary Buddy Adams.

The new system, called the Kentucky Automated Certification and Issuance System, is being developed by the Human Resources Cabinet which administers the federal food stamp program in Kentucky. The system will computerize most of the program's eligibility process for applicants and the issuance of food stamp coupons.

Adams said the new system should be in full operation by Dec. 1.

Kentuckians who are interested in commenting on the new food stamp system are invited to the public meetings.

Brown and Combs
 To Speak at Lees

Governor John Y. Brown, Jr., and Bert T. Combs, former governor, will be the special guest speakers at the Lees Junior College Founders' Day Convocation Friday, Jan. 21. The event will begin at 1:15 p.m. in the Lees Van Meter Building and will mark the official beginning of the college's centennial celebration.

The presiding officer for the Founder's Day ceremonies will be Lees College President Troy R. Eslinger. Dr. Eslinger's presidency has spanned 22 years, the longest term of service of any president in the history of the institution.

Three former Lees College Presidents will be honored during the Founder's Day celebration. They are Robert G. Landolt, J. Phil Smith and Laurence H. Holander.

Entertainment during the Founders' Day festivities will be provided by the McLain Family Band. Raymond McLain, Sr. is a former faculty member at Lees and his son, Raymond McLain, Jr. attended the college during that time.

A reception will be held following the ceremonies. The public is invited.

More than 100 extras from Paintsville and nearby towns were used in "Kentucky Woman" in a gala scene at a country club where members of the most productive mining teams are treated to a dinner dance. For nearly all the extras the experience represented their first time in front of a camera and their cooperation despite the long hours and high temperature impressed the "Kentucky Woman" cast and crew.

Old Christmas Sees Best Crowds Ever

This year's observance of "Old" Christmas, held Jan. 9 at May Lodge, not only drew a larger audience than ever before, with spectators lined up around the walls, but was also regarded by many as the "most fun ever."

With most of the "old faithful" musicians, dancers and storytellers on hand, entertainment was constant throughout the afternoon. And, adding to the vitality of this year's observance, was a number of new faces including champion clawhammer banjo picker, Harry Bickel, of Louisville, and a relative newcomer to the scene, Ron Dobler, an accomplished old-time banjo picker and storyteller from Morehead State University.

Joining musicians Eugene Blackburn, Dave Sizemore, Clifford Branham, L. B. Fairchild and Ollie Wallen, who are veterans of the Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival, of which the Old Christmas celebration is a part, was Jim Necessary, of Prestonsburg, who comes from a long line of mountain and country musicians.

L. B. Fairchild provided accompaniment for his wife who sang two lullabies and poetry readings were presented by Mrs. Laura Weddle and Mrs. Virginia Goble. Rev. and Mrs. Tim Jessen performed a lovely a cappella number for the audience.

Several styles of folk dancing were performed by Elizabeth Lynn Frazier's "Highland Kids" who were featured in traditional "play-party" games and they were led in dancing by Mrs. Georgia Muncy.

Mrs. Katherine Frazier, director of the folk festival, and founder Edith F. James (who wore a genuine linsey-woolsey dress), were on hand to provide introductions and greet the crowd as the traditional wassail bowl and old-fashioned cookies were enjoyed.

IN APPRECIATION

The staff and residents of Mountain Manor Nursing Home express their appreciation to all those who helped to make the 1982 holiday season a huge success. Thanks to all those who contributed their time, talents, and donations, it proved to be one of the best holiday seasons ever.

We would also like to thank all those who purchased tickets on the quilt that was given away. The winner was Randall Hyden, of Endicott. All proceeds went to the residents Christmas fund.

Early Retirement Reduces Social Security Pay

A person who has worked long enough in Social Security-covered employment may choose to retire as early as age 62. Jim Kelly, Social Security district director for the Big Sandy Area, said recently. However, early retirement means that the amount of the monthly checks will be permanently reduced.

"Payment amounts are also reduced if a wife, husband, widow, or widower begins to get payments before 65," Kelly said.

"The amount of the reduction depends on the number of months before his or her 65th birthday that the individual starts receiving the checks. A person who chooses to retire early will get about the same amount of total benefits over the course of the years as he or she would receive if retirement were delayed; however, the amount of each check will be smaller since they will be received over a longer period of time."

Additional information about retirement benefits may be obtained from the Big Sandy Area Social Security Office, located on U.S. 23, between Prestonsburg and Paintsville.

Tax Refunds Help Wildlife

If you're like most folks who are entitled to a tax refund, you hurry up and get your returns filed as soon as possible, then just sit back and wait for the check to arrive.

But in your haste to get that refund, don't overlook line 20A of your Kentucky tax form. This is the line that asks if you want to donate a portion of your refund to wildlife.

This program is now in its third year and some patterns are beginning to emerge. The total contributions, which are divided equally between the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and the Nature Preserves Commission, have averaged around $80,000 annually, with just over one percent of those eligible to contribute actually doing so.

Of the 12 states which have had similar programs long enough to make a comparison, Kentucky ranks dead last in the percentage of contributors. However, our average contribution, at $7.20 last year, was second from the top.

So it looks like those who do care about non-game wildlife care enough to give generously, while the remaining Kentuckians either don't know about the program or don't care.

But it looks like everyone should care enough about the fellow creatures who share Kentucky with us humans to give at least $1. Since there are between 800,000 and 900,000 citizens who get a tax refund each year, these single dollars would soon add up to a quite sizeable sum.

The money from these tax refund contributions is used to conduct scientific research or management programs which benefit non-game wildlife and to acquire critical pieces of wildlife habitat.

Last summer, these funds financed the beginnings of an osprey restoration project. Ospreys, large birds of prey which feed exclusively on fish, were wiped out in Kentucky by pesticide poisoning—the last reported nesting was in 1949 at Kentucky Lake.

To restore breeding populations of these birds, it is necessary to take young birds from the wild, put them in artificial nest boxes and feed them fish for several weeks until they are able to fly and feed themselves. The birds then migrate to South America, but around three years later, when they make the journey back north to breed, they remember where they were raised and return to the same spot to produce their own families.

Six birds were transported from Florida to Kentucky last year, and plans call for an additional 20 to make the trip this spring. After a few more years, we should be seeing results from this first use of tax refund contributions to restore a once-native species to Kentucky.

Tax contributions are also being used to finance the implementation of the Fish and Wildlife Information System (FWIS) in Kentucky. FWIS is a computer based service which will collect, organize and disseminate information on around 1,000 different species of wildlife, including the rare, threatened or endangered areas in the state.

Once the system is in place, biologists will have instant access to facts which it now sometimes takes months to find. This readily available information will aid greatly in assessing the environmental impact of alterations of the landscape, either by governmental or private concerns, and could allow biologists to recommend steps to save a species which otherwise might disappear because of habitat destruction.

These are just a couple of facets of Kentucky's non-game program. It's continued existence and expansion depends upon you. So if you are getting a refund this year, please don't overlook wildlife. You won't miss the dollar or two that you give, but that small amount, if everybody gives, will add up to a whole lot of help for wildlife.

Paintsville (pop. 5,300) opened its hearts as well as its homes, stores, schools, etc. for the cast and crew of "Kentucky Woman." The two hour movie for CBS was shot entirely on location in and around the north-eastern Kentucky community, using several private homes, the high school, elementary school, school system administration building, a local Methodist Church and the Paintsville Country Club.

Police Report Rash Of Purse Thefts

Prestonsburg Police have reported a rash of pocketbook and purse thefts and warned residents, especially women, to take certain precautions.

About 10 such incidents have been reported in the past two months, according to Prestonsburg Policeman David Caudill who said many of the thefts have occurred when women working in offices carelessly set their pocketbooks on the floor by the desk or some other fairly accessible place.

Caudill advised against this common practice and also urged citizens to alert police if "suspicious" persons are noticed loitering around a business place or home.

Our driest state is Nevada. Its annual rainfall averages 8.8 inches.

Building Contractor Is Cleared by Jury

In a case that the defense attorney argued should never have been subject to criminal proceedings, a Floyd circuit jury Monday night acquitted a Pike county builder of two felony charges.

Darrell Preston, of Robinson Creek, faced a charge of theft by failure to make required disposition of property following allegations by Charles Lafferty, a Martin milk distributor, and his wife, Rita, that Preston diverted to other purposes money they paid him to build their house.

Another charge, of theft by deception, stemmed from Lafferty's claim that Preston once gave him a cold check.

The Laffertys claimed that, on July 3, 1981, they entered a contract according to which Preston would build them a house for $75,000. The contract called for a downpayment of $15,000 with the balance to be paid when the house was completed, it was said.

He paid Preston $51,000 before he fired the contractor and subsequently paid others $34,000 to continue the job, which is still incomplete, Lafferty said.

Moreover, three creditors have filed liens against the house, including a lumber company, which claims that building materials worth $16,000 have not been paid for; a bricklayer, who says he is owed $4000; and the builder himself, who claims he is owed $35,000.

Preston, a co-owner of Preston-Built, Inc., claimed he built 90 percent of the house though he was paid only two-thirds of the contract price.

Public Defender Ned Pillersdorf said there was no evidence his client had any criminal intent and argued that criminal charges should not have been brought against him.

While his bookkeeping was sloppy, Preston was essentially a businessman caught with a cash-flow problem in difficult economic times, Pillersdorf argued. If the Laffertys felt they had a claim against the contractor, they should have filed a civil suit, the defense attorney said.

The verdict in this case, which came after the jury was out 2 1/2 hours, may demonstrate that the criminal court should not be used for "bill collector" cases, Pillersdorf said.

FLOYD COUNTY HEALTH NEWS

By JANE BOND
Health Educator

Glaucoma is a leading cause of blindness among adults in the United States. Approximately one out of seven blind people is a victim of glaucoma. This disease which strikes slowly and painlessly, most frequently occurs after age 40. There may be no symptoms and for this reason, persons over age 40 are urged to be checked regularly for glaucoma.

When the disease is found early enough, treatment can stop the progress of the disease. However, sight once lost to glaucoma can never be restored, so it is extremely important to be screened regularly for the disease.

The Floyd County Health Department is having a glaucoma screening clinic on Monday January 24. This clinic is a free service of the health department and is open to persons of all ages but those age 40 and over are especially urged to be checked for glaucoma since this is the high risk age.

The Health Department will be closed the afternoon of January 26, due to a special clinic being held at the health department.

How Close To Space the Children

By PAT HITES
Big Sandy Family And Childbirth Education Assn.

How close together should our children be spaced is a question every patient who wants more than one child has to consider at some time in their marriage relationship. With conception so easily controlled by various contraception methods available today, spacing of children will be one of the major decisions a couple will make. As we consider this question we have fantasies that if we hit on the right age to space our children we may produce happier, more well-adjusted children. Ellen Galinsky, author of Between Generations: The Six Stages of Parenthood, says, "people have expectations that grow out of their own childhood. They weigh what they liked and disliked about their own upbringing and try to duplicate what was positive and change what was negative."

Parents who choose to space their children close in age do so for various reasons. Some women eager to get back into the work world decide that spacing their children close together is a good solution. Experts are beginning to look critically at tight spacing, feeling two years to be too close where three years apart may be more advisable.

Dr. John Munder Ross, clinical associate professor of psychiatry at Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, says, "Until two-and-a-half to three, toddlers experience a classic struggle of trying to separate from mommy." Beside the fact that most parents find it hard to deal with a clingy, negative toddler as well as a newborn, an older child may feel short-changed if a parent is too busy to tend to his emotional needs at this critical time.

Even though most specialists may agree with Dr. White's viewpoint, they're also quick to add that most crises can be overcome. "The major issue is the parents' capacity to empathize as well as the mother's feeling of well being," Dr. Ross explains. "If it's important for her to space her children close together, she often develops into an especially skillful, sensitive parent."

If a child is at least three when her younger sibling arrives, she's older, smarter, and is probably starting to separate from mommy. An infant makes less of a dent in the life of a busy three-year-old whose daily schedule probably includes nursery school. According to Dr. Ross, the closer two children are in age, the more intimate they may become. But there's no guarantee they'll become great pals. "The possibilities are there for closeness as well as for enormous rivalry and hostility," he says. "A lot depends on a parent's ability to love two youngsters equally," as well as how harmoniously the children's personalities mesh.

Four to seven years apart, according to psychologists, appears to be gaining in popularity. It generally makes for easier but extended parenting. The older children may relate to younger siblings almost like parents. For the younger child, an older sibling may serve as an authority figure who can help explain the world or serve as an intermediary with parents.

"If children are at least five or six years older than siblings, they're part of a different generation," says Dr. Harvey White. "They may have experienced very different times in both the family and society in general."

"Seven is a landmark year in child development," says Dr. Ross. A seven-year-old understands a great deal about how the world works, and lives less with fantasy, more with reality. When a child this age or older gets a new brother or sister, his world may be less disrupted than in any other case, because by now he has an elaborate, independent life. Spacing children seven or more years apart is probably harder for parents to adapt to than siblings.

"Even when children are ten years apart they can still provide a backup for each other," says Dr. White, "and even when children are spaced closely there can be a great distance. Families vary tremendously."

Our area's Big Sandy Family and Childbirth Association offers support for nursing mothers by holding monthly meetings in both Johnson and Floyd counties. The January meeting will be held at the First Presbyterian Church in Prestonsburg at 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, January 25. Prospective members are welcome.

For more information on the Big Sandy Family activities, call Pat Hites, 886-8786.

(The comments on spacing children are excerpted from the July, 1982 issue of Parents magazine.)

D.A.R. CHAPTER MEETS

Members of John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their regular meeting at the Emma Wells May Cultural Center, Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 11, with the regent Mrs. Virginia S. Goble, presiding. The ritualistic services were conducted by Mrs. Opal S. May.

The regent presented the leader, Mrs. Margaret Spradlin, who introduced the speakers, Delinda Borden, an energy service engineer for the Kentucky Power Company, and Stafford S. Damron, a customer service representative for this company. They discussed with the group "Getting the Most for Your Energy Dollars," giving many ways to conserve energy, including the insulating of houses, old and new, the installing of storm windows and doors, and caulking around these, the proper regulation of thermostats, and adjusting the drapes at night to keep out the cold, and during the day to let in the sunshine.

The National Defense Program, the title of which was "The Ninety-Eighth Congress is Coming," was presented by Mrs. Opal S. May.

The Chapter chose the regent, Mrs. Goble, to represent it at the national Continental Congress, which will convene in Washington, D.C. next April. Mrs. Ray Brackett, hostess, served refreshments to guests, Delinda Borden and Stafford S. Damron, and members, Mesdames Virginia Goble, Margaret Spradlin, Edith James, Norma Stepp, Olga Preston, Mae Kendrick, Eleanor Horn, and Opal May.

The next regular meeting will be on Tuesday, Feb. 8, at 3:30, at the same location.

'Outstanding Young Women'

PAT

Pamela Jan and Patricia Ellen (Pam and Pat) Terry, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Terry, of Van Lear, formerly of Prestonsburg, have been selected as outstanding young women of America—Pam for the year 1981 and Pat for 1982. Both are teachers in the Ft. Thomas city schools and as members of the American Youth Symphony Orchestra have toured Europe on three occasions during recent years. The sisters attended the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and are well-known in music circles.

DAY HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Prestonsburg Day Homemakers met Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 11, at Fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church, with the president, Mrs. Mary Sue Moore, presiding. Items made by Mrs. Frances Pitts and Mrs. Mary Sue Moore were on display. Mrs. Pitts gave the lesson on "Sheets and Fabrics." In the absence of Mrs. Dorothy Stover, secretary, Mrs. Becky Short, president of the Floyd County Homemakers, read letters to the club members, including one from Mrs. Pitts, thanking them and other members throughout the county for the microwave oven presented to her as a Christmas gift.

It was reported that Miss Alice Harris, a member of this club, who had recently been a patient at the Highlands Regional Medical Center, was recovering at her home, and that Mrs. Dorothy Stover had been ill. Three new members were welcomed to the club. They are Mrs. Pat Allen, Mrs. Verlin Nichols and Mrs. Sharon Campbell. The hostesses, Mrs. Peg Hewlett, Mrs. Nancy Webb and Mrs. Gladys Blackburn, served a dessert course to Mesdames Allen, Nichols and Campbell and other members, Mesdames Frances Pitts, Mary Sue Moore, Becky Short, Fannie Runnels, Eleanor Horn, Margaret Alley, May K. Roberts, Hope Whitten, Pat Necessary, Mabel Donahoe, Lucy Regan, Dorothy Burke, Myrtle Allen, Judy Kittle, Dorothy Osborne, Ruth Francis, Phyllis Herrick, Docia Woods, Beatrice Collins, and Betsy Rennick.

The next meeting will be Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 8, at 1 o'clock, at the same church. The hostesses will be Mrs. May K. Roberts, Mrs. Lucy Regan and Mrs. Myrtle Allen.

Widow's Home Looted After Husband's Death

While Mrs. Fay Combs was at the Hall Funeral Home at Martin where her husband, the late Marlin Combs, lay in state, her home at Estill, left temporarily untenanted, was broken into and looted by thieves Monday night. A cash box containing bonds was one of the items reported taken.

The burglary was the second house-breaking incident connected with a death in this county recently. The home of the late Mrs. H.H. Mayo, near Martin, was burglarized while her body lay in state at a funeral home, a few months ago.

Such crimes, rare in this section, have been frequent in larger cities, and there the street address of a decedent's residence is frequently omitted from published obituaries to prevent criminals from knowing that the home may be untenanted at the time.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN MEET

The Presbyterian Men's Fellowship met at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday, January 16, for the monthly dinner and fellowship meeting. Plans were made for the third annual Palm Sunday breakfast to be held March 27 of this year. The annual meeting of the United Presbyterian Men will take place in Knoxville, Tennessee, March 11-13.

A card was signed to be sent to Frank Layne, currently undergoing treatment in Lexington.

The program concerned the work of the Eastern Kentucky Comprehensive Rehabilitation Center at Thelma. Three persons from the church who are associated with the center told of their work and experiences. They are Connie and Craig Kirtley, and Tim Howard. Others present included Wes Howard, Tom Collinsworth, Scott Barlow, Jack Freed, Sonny Goble, Fred James, John Leake, Glenn Anderson, Jim Goble, Phil Price, John Everly and the Pastor, Timothy Jessen.

Revival Scheduled

A revival is scheduled for Jan. 22 through 29 at the New Collins Building on South Mayo Trail, Pikeville. Michael Stanley, of Kendallville, Ind. will be the featured minister and services will begin at 7 each evening. The public is invited.

Tan without burning!
 Common questions about tanning machines:
 "I have never heard of the tanning machine...is this something new?"
 No! Dermatologists for several years have used UV light for therapy. Since its inception, the suntanning unit has become quite common in Europe for safe, efficient tanning year 'round without the harmful side effects often associated with natural sunlight.
 "How does the Hex Tan differ from the other tanning booths?"
 There is a great deal of difference. The majority of older booths utilize the UV lamp that emits a very large and strong dose of "B" light that falls in the 280-315 nanometer range. The treatments are usually very short—just a few minutes (2 to 3 minutes). The reason is that the rays are so strong that you cannot tolerate the heat or the harsh UVB exposure and there is a possibility that you would burn. In summary, the UVB system has been popular, but medical authorities are quite concerned about the long term effects of this type of radiation.
 "Can the Hex SunSystem burn?"
 No! Properly used, you cannot burn with our SunSystem. Our SunSystem artificially duplicates the right amount of UVA light (320-400 nanometers) to stimulate the melanin in the skin to produce a rich, deep tan. At the same time, the carefully controlled temperature of the system helps to promote the tanning process and prevents dry skin. Because the lamps used in the SunSystem duplicate only long wave length energy, the system will not burn the skin.
 "Is UVA as safe and dependable as the various claims have indicated?"
 Our answer is "YES". Medical authorities have indicated some UVA lamps on the market will not result in chronic changes such as aging or skin cancer even with repeated and prolonged usage over a number of years. In addition, several skin types will show a skin tone change after the first or second exposure.
 "How much time is required for a treatment, and how often must I use the SunSystem?"
 10 minute sessions are all that are required and average skin types will show a healthy tan in as little as 1 hour.
 "Will Hex SunSystem cure Psoriasis?"
 We are in the tanning business and not in the medical profession. However, it has been shown that UVA light has been beneficial to people who have Psoriasis, and that it improved considerably. As with most types of treatments, it is best to allow a physician to treat psoriasis where he can better prescribe for the ailment.
 "Should suntan cremes, lotions or oils be used with the SunSystem?"
 Since the long wavelength UVA of the SunSystem will not dry your skin, it is recommended that you Do Not use any cremes, oils, or lotions during tanning sessions. Most of these contain sunscreens and will provide a physical barrier on the skin and prevent the UVA from penetration and inducing a tan. Equally important, many facial makeups have oil bases and should be removed prior to a session.
 "What other health benefits can be derived from using the SunSystem?"
 It has been conclusively shown that the metabolic functions are stimulated and general productivity increased through using the UVA SunSystem.

ALL WORK-OUTS ARE NOT SWEATY!

BREAKTHROUGH—Electro Muscular Stimulation (EMS) out of hospitals and into modern EMS centers! 30 BILLION DOLLARS are spent every year by health conscious Americans in the "Fit and Trim" field. Take advantage of the "Health Club Alternative": Ultimate Image. For people who want to exercise and need to re-educate their muscles, there is now a choice. Either a sweaty and strenuous work-out OR a relaxing EMS treatment on a comfortable couch reading a book or just relaxing. WHAT WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

What is EMS?
When you exercise, like push-ups or sit-ups, your brain sends out a signal along the nerves of the muscle to the motor nerve point of that muscle. This signal, similar to the electro-chemical signal that the brain sends out, is a message for the muscle to contract.

Up to 16 patented pads are placed on the skin, sending the impulses to the various motor points. The result is a controlled series of over 16,000 muscle contractions on different parts of the body during a pleasant 45 minute period.

Is it a comfortable feeling?
Yes, quite a few customers go to sleep during the treatment. You only feel a tingling sensation and then a contraction of your muscles followed by a relaxed non-active period. The duration of the contraction and relaxation of the muscle is controlled by the technician for maximum comfort. The BIOTONE P-8 PROFESSIONAL has a built in computer which gives contraction impulses at irregular intervals so that the customer is not bored during the toning session. During the treatment there is no increase in the functions of the respiratory or cardiovascular system; however the contractions will build up the oxygen level of the muscle, creating a general feeling of well-being from the very first use of the P-8.

What age group should use EMS?
All ages can benefit from this type of exercise. As there is no change in the pulse, temperature or blood pressure, EMS is most beneficial to all age groups.

EMS is for everyone.
Our BIO-TONE P-8 units are specially designed for professional use in the Beauty field. Ann Gallant writes in her book 'Beauty Therapist':

"Muscle toning treatments are perhaps the most popular of all the figure improving routines available in the clinic, closely resembling natural exercise in effect, yet requiring little effort on the part of the client apart from regular attendance for treatment."

Hospitals use EMS!
EMS is well-known in the medical field, especially in physiotherapy. The treatments are invaluable to re-educate paralyzed muscles, after major surgery, to treat bed sores, or wherever treatments to improve muscle tone and increased circulation is indicated. In cases where voluntary exercise is not possible there is obviously no substitute for EMS.

Athletes use EMS!
Soccer players, Track and Field Competitors, Professional Boxers and teams of the National Football League are all using EMS for two reasons:
1) for the treatment of injuries (to speed up the healing process)
2) to improve performance

Localized increase in blood circulation, and the ability to gently exercise the muscles without straining the damaged ligaments are of special importance. The practical advantages of reducing the time a player spends on the "Injury List" can be imagined.

Honored on Retirement
Mrs. Harmison Hale, the former Eva Allen, is shown with one of the gifts she received from her co-workers during a recent retirement dinner which they gave in her honor at the Plantation Motel.

Mrs. Hale, who taught for 10 years in the Floyd county schools, retired on January 1 after serving in the Kentucky Welfare Department office here for 30 years.

During the retirement dinner given for her she received an engraved silver tray and other gifts. Letters of recognition from friends, former workers, and state officials were read and presented to her.

Over these 40 years, she said, many changes had taken place in both the school system and the state program. Having worked in various capacities as a state employee, she said she had seen programs come and go, with changes in state government in Frankfort, and in the needs of the people. Mrs. Hale says that she has no plans for retiring from many of her past activities in giving services on a personal basis to her friends, neighbors and former associates, and adds that volunteer work, family activities, and hobbies will occupy much of her time.

Freed Heads AARP Chapter Formed Here

Arthur F. Bouton, national president of the American Association of Retired Persons, recently announced the formation of the Jenny Wiley Chapter #3528 in Kentucky. Mr. Bouton offered congratulations on behalf of the 13.5-million-member organization to the new chapter and its president, Jack R. Freed of 57 Highland Heights, Prestonsburg.

Local AARP chapters sponsor community public service programs; work to influence the enactment of local, state and national legislation of benefit to older Americans; and acquaint members and other older citizens with the programs and services offered by the national organizations.

Founded in 1958, AARP is the nation's largest organization dedicated to helping older citizens achieve retirement lives of purpose, dignity and independence. The Association encourages older Americans to remain active in community and public affairs, provides legislative representation at all levels of government, and sponsors services to help them stretch retirement incomes. It also publishes magazines and other materials of special interest to older readers.

School Officials Meeting Slated

School board members and superintendents from across the state will be gathering in Louisville for the annual convention of the Kentucky School Boards Association to be held in the Executive Inn West, will run from noon Friday, January 21, to mid-afternoon Sunday, January 23. Newly-elected board members will come one day early to attend an orientation conference addressing such topics as the instructional program, school finance, school law, and others.

The annual convention offers school board members a unique educational experience, with nationally renowned featured speakers and dozens of clinic and workshop sessions. Featured speakers will include Douglas Edwards, Dr. Richard Berendzen, Raymond Barber, Dorothy DeBolt and Dr. Dean Berkeley.

Among the topics addressed in the clinics will be personnel relations, use of standardized tests, evaluation, use of computers, staff development, state accreditation and various others. Martha Layne Collins, Harvey Sloane and Grady Stumbo will address the convention at the Saturday luncheon.

The Sunday luncheon will feature recognition of the Teacher of the Year and outstanding educational reporters in the state. The convention will conclude with the Sunday luncheon.

Veteran actor John Randolph who played Rev. Palkstater in "Kentucky Woman" arrived at the Paintsville location for the two-hour movie, with a major case of jet lag. Randolph had just returned from a cultural exchange visit to East Germany with James Whitmore and Audra Lindley when he got a call from his agent and two hours later left New York for Kentucky.

The Deerslayer

Johnnie Henson, 64, of Powell, O., formerly of Ligon, has killed eight deer in the last eight years, 1974-1982. This year, he got his annual deer with a muzzle loader gun. He is accompanied on the annual week-long hunting trips by several other hunters, but his records stands unchallenged.

Mr. Henson, above left, is shown with his son, Johnnie Henson, Jr., who this year killed his first deer on his first hunting trip.

Social Security Wage Base Up

The 1983 Social Security wage base—the maximum amount of annual earnings on which Social Security taxes are paid—has increased to $35,700, Jim Kelly, Social Security District Director for the Big Sandy Area, said recently. The 1982 base was $32,400.

Since the Social Security tax rate remains unchanged at 6.7 percent for 1983, most people will not pay more in Social Security taxes this year unless they have higher earnings than in 1982, Kelly said. People who earn more than $32,400 in 1983 will pay more in total Social Security taxes.

Also increasing in 1983 is the amount of annual earnings required to earn a "quarter of coverage," the measure used to determine eligibility for benefits. In 1983 a person will earn one quarter of coverage for each $370 in annual earnings up to a total of four quarters of coverage if annual earnings are $1,480 or more.

The number of quarters a person needs to be eligible for benefits depends on his or her date of birth. No one can become eligible with fewer than six quarters of coverage and no one will ever need more than 40 quarters.

More information about Social Security taxes, quarters of coverage, and benefits can be obtained at the Big Sandy Area Social Security Office, located on U.S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville. The telephone number is listed in your local telephone directory.

ROCK ON

By Ethlie Ann Vare

WHO'S WHO

The man who fell to earth returns: David Bowie is planning his first major tour in a long time. It starts this spring, circumnavigates the globe, and is rumored to be a (scary) monster... Warren Zevon had dedicated the title cut of his LP "The Envoy" to U.S. shuttle diplomat Philip Habib. Unfortunately, Habib doesn't listen to rock 'n' roll, so Warren sent him a copy.

Warren Zevon

Stiv Bator, former Dead Boy and now a Lord of the New Church, has been performing onstage from a wheelchair since breaking his foot during a concert in France... Tina Weymouth and Chris Frantz had a baby talking head — a boy, Robert.

Also in the family way: Dweezil Zappa — son of Frank and brother of Moon — has released a single, too. It's called "Mother's a Space Cadet" and is said to be in the heavy-metal vein. Dweezil is 13... Ringo Starr has been signed by the ABC-FM Network to do a series of 26 hour-long broadcasts, reminiscing on the career of the Beatles.

Aerosmith is releasing a videocassette of a concert performance, which is becoming a common practice. So to stand apart, they have filmed theirs in 3-D. Every purchaser will receive a pair of those funny glasses. Linda McCartney is reportedly trying her hand at a solo album. Lene Lovich is rumored to be singing back-up.

Celebrating birthdays this last week of January are: Richie Havens (42), Neil Diamond (42), Marty Balin (40), Steve Marriott (36), Phil Collins (32) and Johnny "Rotten" Lydon (27).

UPDATE

Starting this year, you should be able to see the new Compact Disc, or CD, system available in the United States. These laser-read metal records will provide, they say, perfect audio reproduction without ever being marred by dust, static, fingerprints or scratches. The needle-less turntables will be compatible with existing amps and speakers.

NBC is preparing a new late-night rock concert show called "In the Midnight Hour." Word is that it will only be shown in a few cities, though.

Olivia Records, the "women's music" specialist, celebrated its 10th anniversary with a sold-out show at the Metropolitan Opera in New York. Meg Christian and Chris Williamson starred. The show was recorded and will be released by Olivia soon.

"Soul Train" creator/host Don Cornelius is recovering nicely from brain surgery, but is still smarting at having his show moved to a 2 a.m. time slot... Currently in the studio at work on fresh releases are: Van Morrison, Ry Cooder, former Doors' keyboardist Ray Manzarek, the Ramones, Robert Palmer and Rita Coolidge.

Winter and Your Car

Winter is hard on people and on the vehicles they rely upon to transport them from one place to another. "Our cars are probably in the worst shape ever because money has been so tight," Wilbur R. Buntin Jr., executive director of Disaster and Emergency Services, said. "This is dangerous in several ways, but mainly because it could mean more than the usual number of stranded motorists," he said.

Winter conditions—wet, cold and icy weather—present the greatest difficulty to an engine's operating efficiency. Cold weather also weakens batteries, making starting cars much more difficult as the thermometer drops. A battery check-up and tune-up are very important in assuring that cars are in top operating condition for winter, Buntin said.

If your vehicle is not already winterized, these are the points to check:

- The braking system should be mechanically sound and all brakes adjusted to ensure equal braking on all wheels.
- Check the condition of ignition wires and the distributor cap.
- Be sure tires have good tread. Or better yet, use snow tires. Keep tires at the full, recommended pressure.
- Be sure there is sufficient antifreeze in the radiator and that the heater and defroster are operating efficiently.
- Be sure wiper blades are working properly and replace worn blades.
- Have battery tested and maintain water or solution at the full, recommended level. Be sure battery terminals are free of corrosion and replace worn cables.

Special precautions will help in winter driving:

- Take another person with you, if possible.
- Maintain a full tank of gas.
- Keep emergency supplies in the car, such as an ice scraper, a container of sand, booster cables, a tow chain or rope, flashlight and blankets or sleeping bags. Extra clothing and a food supply are also good items to pack in an emergency supply kit, particularly when planning a long trip.
- Travel by daylight and use major highways as much as possible. Keep the car radio turned on for weather information and advice.
- Allow for plenty of extra time during winter driving. Take the time, too, to clear snow and ice off all windows before starting.

Following are some tips for winter driving safety:

- Starting—Warm up the engine to prevent its stalling, especially when driving in heavy traffic areas. Accelerate cautiously and steadily to avoid wheel spin.
- Driving—Do everything gradually on slippery roads, whether it is applying brakes, feeding gas or turning. Keep speed down and be alert to other drivers.
- Following Distances—On slippery pavement, keep a clear distance. Allow more room than you normally would for stopping or for going around stalled vehicles.
- Skids—Remove your foot from the accelerator and turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid; e.g., if the rear end of the vehicle is skidding toward the right, gently turn the steering wheel to the right. Do not oversteer and do not apply brakes.
- Stopping—Pump the brakes to keep the wheels from locking.

Divers Attain Master's Rank

The Pikeville Dive Shop, in conjunction with the Professional Association of Diving Instructors (P.A.D.I.), announced recently that two Floyd county student divers, Wilford Adams, of Prestonsburg, and Ronald Keith Stumbo, of Harold had received the Master Scuba Diver's rating.

The rating is the highest non-instructor's rank in the P.A.D.I. organization, an international group which has certified more than one million divers, worldwide. Less than 500 have achieved the Master's level of certification.

After completing his first open water course in April, 1981, Adams progressed through the advanced open water course in May and began work on his Divemaster's rating and became involved in the diving specialty program. He received his first specialty, search and recovery, in October and shortly afterward attained the deep diving specialty certification. Later, Adams received a cavern diving specialty, night diving specialty, and the diver rescue course to attain the Master rank. He also has completed courses in current diving and equipment repair.

Stumbo completed his first open water class in July of 1982 and soon completed the night diver specialty. Adding an advanced open water course in August, he began work on the Divemaster training in October and later completed work on the cavern diving, deep diving and rescue diving. He earned the Master rating in December and has since finished an equipment repair course.

Nerve Disease Aired On KET

Tourette Syndrome is a neurological disorder characterized by involuntary muscular movements, uncontrollable vocal sounds and inappropriate word usage. A program about this disease, "Tourette Syndrome: The Sudden Intruder," airs on KET Monday, January 17, at 10:30 p.m.

Tourette Syndrome afflicts males three times more often than females; the onset of symptoms ranges from two to 16 years. Patients with the disease can expect to live a normal life span, but the condition is generally life-long and chronic. A chemical abnormality in the brain causes the disease, which is treated with the drug Haldol. Unfortunately, the disease is often misdiagnosed.

"Tourette Syndrome: The Sudden Intruder" is produced by Dr. Barnett Addis, Behavioral Science Media Lab, UCLA, Los Angeles.

The tallest known tree in the world lies in northern California. A redwood, it's about 368 feet high.

BUYING A PARKA

With the arrival of cold weather, many people are in the market for a new winter coat. "If you know what to look for, you will be a satisfied customer," says Attorney General Steven L. Beshear.

Probably the warmest and most popular type of coat on the market is the "parka". Before buying one, there are four things you should take into consideration: the insulating material, outer fabrics, how well it is designed as a heat container, and how well it is equipped with zippers, pockets, snaps, etc.

First, look at the materials used for insulation. There are some materials that trap air better than others. Down is probably the best insulation for parkas. Goose down is better than duck, but is often more expensive. Care should be taken when buying a garment labeled "down." The Federal Trade Commission requires only 80 percent down in a garment labeled "down". If you want a parka that is all down, be sure it says so on the label. Synthetics are often used for insulation and cost much less than down. However, the same amount of synthetic fill is not as warm as down. Manufacturers have come up with thinner, more expensive synthetics. The thinner ones are best for stylish trim jackets worn in active sports.

The material for the "shell" of the parka should be rugged and relatively windproof. It should be water-resistant, but at the same time let perspiration escape. The materials used most often are nylon, cotton/synthetic blends, cotton, and breathable waterproof fabrics. Cotton is not as durable and it absorbs water. The breathable water-proof fabrics are preferable, but are usually the most expensive.

It is important that the parka keep heat in and cold out. Fit is essential. The parka should be snug and fit tightly at the neck, wrists and waist or hips. Collars that stand up and have their own fastener are best; knitted wristbands are good and comfortable, and drawstrings are good for the waist. Insulation is important because sewn-through seams can leave cold spots. A hood is especially important because one-fourth to one-half of the body's heat can be lost through the head. Detachable hoods are the most versatile and should be insulated. Metal zippers are cold and can freeze up, so a nylon one is a better choice. The zipper should have an insulated "storm flap" to cover it to keep air out. Piggyback pockets, with side slits and a patch pocket on top, are best for keeping the hands and body warm.

Finally, look for "extras". Zippers that have large pulls are the easiest to grab with gloved hands. Snaps at the closures are better than buttons, because they are easier to handle with gloved hands. Extra pockets, especially breast pockets, are nice for keeping valuables in. And a hanging loop does nothing for warmth, but makes it much easier to hang the parka up.

Attorney General Beshear offers the following suggestions when one is considering the purchase of a parka:

Consider what the coat will be used for; for some activities, a big bulky coat is not the best alternative.

To insure a proper fit, try the parka on with the type of clothing that will usually be worn underneath.

Try the zippers, snaps and drawstrings while wearing the parka.

Remember that care in the "finishing details" is an indication of the quality of the construction.

A down jacket should be free of lumps and little or no down should slip through the seams.

If you have a consumer question or complaint, call or write the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601, or call the toll-free Consumer Hotline: 1-800-432-9257.

HUEYSVILLE

FALLS' SUDDENLY ILL

"Uncle" Elbert (Cap) Layne, of Smackey Bottom, near here, who has been employed with the Standard Elkhorn Coal Company, Rock Fork, started to his work last Wednesday morning, September 7, and, becoming very ill on the way, fell upon the railroad, where he was found by M. M. Pratt, an acquaintance. The train happening along within a short time, Mr. Layne was placed on it and taken to Beaver Valley hospital, where he underwent an operation and is reported doing fine. The old gentleman has suffered from hernia for years, and this is said to have been the cause of his recent illness.

Mr. Layne is very adept at mechanical work, and does much work of this nature for people of Bosco, Salt Lick, and other parts of this county, besides his regular employment.

SCHOOLBOY HURT

Bert Bailey, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bailey, Salt Lick, was running around the schoolhouse here, where he is attending school, when he stepped on a piece of broken glass and cut his foot badly. The teachers, Mr. Damron and Mr. Bailey, gave him first aid, and he is going ahead in spite of the wound.

BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whitaker, this place, a fine baby boy, Friday, September 2, named Roosevelt, in honor of the illustrious president, also a fine baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Bee Hayes, of Bosco.

ESCAPES DEATH

Chester Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Howard, this place, barely escaped being seriously injured or probably killed, a few days ago when his car plunged over a high embankment near Lackey. The car was caught by a wire, fence, which probably saved the young man's life. The driver clung to the steering wheel, and came through uninjured. Chester had owned the car only a day or two, buying it from his brother, Morton Howard, of Ashland, who recently visited his parents here. The car needs considerable repairs, it is reported.

DRILL GOOD WELL

The New Domain Oil and Gas Company, having field headquarters here, Wm. Sexton, superintendent, have just drilled in a good gas well on Rock Fork, Esther Horton farm, well No. 3. The drilling site is situated near the top of a high, rough hill. The Louisville Gas and Electric Company own three fairly good wells near the same place. It is thought by Mr. Sexton that the New Domain will drill another well a short distance from the present gasser, whose volume is approximately 350,000 cubic feet.

WIENER ROAST

The following persons engaged in a wiener roast, held near the tippie of Wells-Elkhorn mine No. 6, last Friday night: Tolby Bailey, teacher in the school here this year, Misses Cara Hayes and Golda Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Damron, also teaching here, Mrs. Bud Turner, Commodore Reed, Chester Howard, and Bee Hayes.

Cars belonging to Tolby Bailey, Commodore Reed and Bee Hayes were used.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Sallie Ratliff, of Elkhorn City, is visiting her father, J. W. Huff, of this place.

Miss Blanche Allen, who went to Mayo College, Paintsville, last Monday, returned here Saturday to spend the week-end.

Cara Hayes, Golda Huff, Minta Baldridge and Sam Wright left for Maytown High School Monday morning, where they will attend this year, with the exception of Miss Hayes, who went to get them started in. Miss Hayes is acquainted with some of the faculty.

Mr. Damron, principal of the school

Mrs. Lottie Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Patton, this place, who was recently married at Pikeville, is now visiting her parents here.

Mrs. Robert Huff, this place, was visiting at Maytown Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Oak Osborne and family were out motoring Sunday.

GLO

TURNER-JENKINS

The marriage of Mr. James Jenkins to Miss Margaret Turner, of Wayland, Thursday of last week, was a great surprise to their many friends. The groom is the popular and worthy meat market man for the Glogora Coal Company, and the bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Squire Turner, native of this county. These young folks have the best wishes of the entire community for a long, prosperous and happy life.

SCHOOLS OPEN

The Glo school opened last Tuesday with Mrs. Stephens, of Prestonsburg, in charge. She is being ably assisted by Prof. Otis Cooley, of Maytown. They have a fine enrollment and are moving along quite nicely. The school at Wayland opened September 5, with a full corps of teachers and what is reported to have been the largest enrollment in the history of the Wayland school. Much is expected in the way of accomplished work as all the teachers are well qualified and prepared to do efficient work.

The P. T. A. organization, in connection with the two schools, will continue from its last year's organization and will be a helpful factor.

CENTENARIAN

We have had the pleasure of an introduction to William Triplett, a native of this county but late a resident of Knott county, only a short distance from here, having been born in 1827, late in the year, and will reach his 100th milestone in a few days. He is quite "spry" for his years, talks freely of his experiences in the pioneer days of Beaver Creek, and is especially fond of talking of the wars of 1848 and 1861, and the Spanish-American War. While too old to enter service in that war many of his relatives went to the front and served with honor, returning safely, except for the "perils" usually attendant to the life of the loyal soldier.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Only a few days ago the alarm spread through town that a case of infantile paralysis had developed, but the alarm proved false, much to the satisfaction of the people, and up to this time this disease has not developed, although many are fearful that it may reach us yet. Proper precaution is being taken to prevent it.

SUNDAY'S GAME

The Louisa ball team came up last Sunday and crossed bats with the Wayland Regulars, which was a very hard-fought game from start to finish. Each team well knew the ability and determination of the other, and, during the entire struggle the result was in doubt until the last lap of the game when the Wayland boys put one over the Louisa fellows and this won the victory. A large crowd witnessed the game.

SUICIDE

The suicide of Henry Davis at Lackey was the most shocking event of the day. Reports vary as to why it occurred. Some say ill health, others financial reverses; others say he was mentally unbalanced.

GARRETT TROUBLES

An altercation took place at Garrett last Sunday. The real facts with which we are not acquainted, only that the difficulty occurred over a young lady, and the result was that a young man by the name of Skaggs was seriously stabbed in several places. While the injuries are serious they are not necessarily fatal. The injured man was taken to the hospital and the aggressor, whose name we do not know, was promptly arrested and will be given a hearing in due time.

PERSONAL MENTION

Sherman Fannin and family are taking a two weeks' vacation among relatives and friends in Lawrence county and will remain for the Home Coming and Fair at Louisa next week.

Wm. Sexton, our genial payroll clerk, returned last Friday from his vacation which was spent at the "Breaks" of Sandy. His fishing exploits do not compare very favorably with his hunting experiences for he presented on his return evidence unimpeachable of his success in that line.

Mrs. H. W. Cooke, of Golyon, W. Va., came over last Sunday for a two-weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith.

Mike Gross, who for some time has been the able assistant electrician here, has resigned his position and moved to Weeksbury, to become chief electrician for the Elkhorn Piney Coal Company.

The party given at Wayland hotel Wednesday night of last week was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hughes and Miss Eulah Gambill, Mr. Hughes having charge of the music, which was quite interesting.

John Hampton and family have returned from a visit to the home of his venerable father, who lives in Johnson county.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Harris, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Janie, were week-end guests of friends and relatives at Prestonsburg.

GARRETT

Everyone is very much interested in the new church that is being erected here, and hope it will soon be completed.

A large crowd attended the dance at "Conley's Dance Hall" Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dampier and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Spencer left early Thursday on their vacation and expect to tour several states before returning.

Mrs. Otis Kilburn has returned home after an extended visit in Ashland.

Miss Audrey Sturgill left Monday for Paintsville, where she will attend school.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bailey was seriously burned Sunday afternoon.

Dr. L. F. Taylor, who has been with us for several months, has accepted a position at Stone, Ky.

J. A. Tracy and son Henry have returned from the hospital and are getting along fine.

Mr. Grover Lowe and S. F. Bradley have taken charge of the Lone Star Hotel, and report a good business.

Ed Moore, who was hurt in an auto accident, has returned from the hospital.

Dr. J. S. Sandlin has opened an office here, and is having good business.

TWO AMENDMENTS ON BALLOT IN NOVEMBER

Besides nine state and five district offices, voters will be called upon in the November election to vote on two constitutional amendments, and now that the primaries are over it is well to give some consideration to the provisions of these two measures.

The first amendment submitted is an act to amend and reenact section 147 of the constitution dealing with the election qualifications. The amendment provides that all persons entitled to vote in cities and towns having a population of 5,000 or more shall register under provisions drafted by the legislature and that the legislature "may provide by general laws for the registration of other voters in the state." Where registration is required only registered persons shall have the right to vote. The general assembly will provide the mode of registration.

The amendment includes the proviso that the general assembly may enact laws to permit electors and voters who are unavoidably absent from their voting precinct to vote, and if such an enactment is passed, the general assembly is authorized to provide all the necessary means for having such votes of absentees cast and counted.

The second amendment would remove what is known as the $5,000 a year limit for salaries and give to the general assembly the power and duty of fixing reasonable compensation for all public officers. The $5,000 a year limit was written into the constitution at a time when a dollar was worth far less than it is today and this limit has been a handicap to the state in obtaining men of the highest caliber as candidates for public office or as appointees.—Big Sandy News.

MRS. EUNICE VANCE SUCCUMBS TO TYPHOID

Mrs. Eunice Vance, 23 years old, wife of Burns Vance, died at her home at Wayland Thursday, September 8, after an illness of about two weeks of typhoid.

The body was prepared for burial by G. D. Ryan, local undertaker, and was shipped to Mrs. Vance's former home near West Liberty, Morgan county.

Surviving her are her husband and three children; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Oney; three brothers and two sisters.

COUNCIL IN HAZARD CASE

O. C. Hall left Tuesday morning for Hazard, where he is defending in circuit court there Edgar Eggers, who is charged with assaulting a 12-year-old child.

Isolate Infantile Paralysis Patients

This bulletin is issued in collaboration with State Board of Health of Kentucky, in response to the large number of inquiries about infantile paralysis. The questions answered below have been selected as those pertinent to a better understanding of the nature, method of spread and means of prevention of this disease.

- 1. WHAT IS INFANTILE PARALYSIS? A "catching" disease caused by an infecting agent, or virus, which gains entrance into the substance of the brain or spinal cord.
2. HOW IS THE ENTRANCE GAINED? Through the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, thence by lymph channels to the nerve tissues.
3. IN WHAT WAYS DO EXPOSURES OCCUR? (1) By contact with discharges from nose, throat or bowels of an affected person either directly—person to person—or indirectly by way of some article or food (especially milk) polluted with these discharges.
(2) By contact with a healthy individual harboring the virus in the nose or throat—known as carrier.
4. IS THE DISEASE AS PREVALENT AS USUALLY REPORTED? In all probability much more so. A part of those affected do not develop paralysis while in others paralysis is so slight that it is not recognized. It is therefore probable that many mild cases are not recognized.
5. ARE THESE MILD CASES CONTAGIOUS? Yes.
6. IS THERE ANY PREVENTATIVE TREATMENT AGAINST INFANTILE PARALYSIS? No.
7. IS THERE ANY VACCINE OR SERUM TREATMENT FOR THE DISEASE BETWEEN EXPOSURE AND ONSET OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS? From 7 to 14 days.
9. WHEN SHOULD PRECAUTIONS BE TAKEN AGAINST EXPOSURE? Upon the report of one case in the community.
10. WHAT MEASURES CAN BE TAKEN? Any possible avenues by which the virus of this disease can get to children should be cut off (see 3 above). The most important measure of precaution is isolation of the child. By so doing the chances of exposure are minimized. This does not imply that the child should be confined to a room, but rather that its movements should be restricted to the dooryard and association with other children avoided. Milk should be boiled before being consumed by the child.

11. HOW LONG SHOULD THESE PRECAUTIONS BE CARRIED OUT? This period will be governed by the local board of health or until three weeks after the last case develops in the community.

12. WHAT ARE THE EARLY SYMPTOMS OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS? If one or more cases have occurred in the community, a child with fever, vomiting, constipation, (or diarrhea), drowsiness, and irritability, especially when combined with headache, a transient flushing of the face, unusual sweating, or retention of the urine, should be regarded with suspicion.

13. WHAT SHOULD BE DONE WITH SUSPECTED CHILD? Immediately isolate the suspected child in bed, keeping other children in the household from the room and all other children and adults from entering the house. SAYS SPEEDING MUST STOP IN PRESTONSBURG

"Speeding in Prestonsburg must stop!" was the edict delivered this week by Police Judge E. P. Arnold.

A number of motorists were haled into police court this week and fined, and Judge Arnold says that there will be more fines to come if speeding is not stopped.

The younger set produces the chief offenders, it is said.

John May, of Langley, was a visitor here Tuesday.

C. L. HUTSINPILLER HONORED WITH TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hutsinpiller, of Ashland, but formerly of this place, left last week-end for Chattanooga, Tenn., to attend a convention of agents of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company.

The trip to the convention was awarded Mr. Hutsinpiller in recognition for his work with the company, which has been quite successful. ## Sunday, Jan. 23 At 7 p.m.

TEACHING AND PRAYING FOR THE GIFT OF THE BAPTISM OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

The New Testament gives between 15 and 20 reasons why we need this gift. Acts 2:39 teaches the promise is unto you and to all that are afar off. Acts Chapter 8 plainly shows that this is a separate experience than being born again, for in Chapter 8, the word teaches that the people in verse 12 were saved and baptised in water, but had not received the gift of the Holy Ghost until verse 17 when Peter and John laid hands on them.

1. This gift is beneficial for every believer. I Cor. 14:4 (He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifyeth himself.)
  2. This gift is beneficial to the church. I Cor. 14:5 (That the church may receive edifying.)
  3. This gift is pleasing to God. I Cor. 14:2 (He speaketh unto God.)
  4. This gift is a sign to the sinner. I Cor. 14:22 (A sign to them that believe not.)
- Come to this meeting and hear plain teaching from the New Testament on this subject. Hear why millions of Christian lives are being transformed by the baptism in the Holy Spirit. Come with an open heart to receive this miracle gift from God.

—Pastor Lorie Vannucci

A chimney fire can be a frightening and dangerous experience. These fires can spread rapidly, causing serious injury to your family and severe damage to your home. Be safe. Have your chimney checked before the heating season gets underway and again at the first signs of trouble.

Put your name on Kentucky's favorite get-well card.

It's no wonder over 1 1/2 million Kentuckians carry the Blue Cross and Blue Shield membership card. It's the card that assures quick admittance to hospitals across the United States.

It's the card that means quality pre-paid health care including physicians' fees, hospital care, and major medical coverage to guard against the cost of catastrophic illness or injury.

It's the card that can do so much; it has made Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky the standard by which other health care plans are measured—whether for employer groups, for families, or for individuals.

If you'd like to be considered for the card so many Kentuckians depend on, fill out the coupon and mail it today.

Jobless Down In Ky., Rise In Big Sandy

Half of Kentucky's 120 counties reported lower unemployment rates for November, leading to a slightly lower statewide jobless figure. The state's preliminary November unemployment rate was 10.7 percent, down from the 10.8 percent revised October rate.

The jobless rate for the Big Sandy district, however, increased from 13.2 percent in October to 15.6 percent in November.

According to labor market statistics released Jan. 10 by the Cabinet for Human Resources, 60 counties' rates decreased from October to November, 58 increased, and two remained unchanged. Seventy-three of Kentucky's 120 counties reported rates of 10.0 percent or higher during November.

The comparable national unemployment rate for November was a nonseasonally adjusted 10.4 percent. Kentucky's unemployment rate for November 1981 was 8.8 percent.

During November, Robertson county reported the state's highest county rate, 28.8 percent, while Fayette county reported the lowest, 5.0 percent.

Unemployed Kentuckians numbered 184,200 in November, according to the cabinet's labor market analysis section. This figure marks a 2,700 decrease from October, but an increase of 35,700 from November 1981.

'AMERICAN PLAYHOUSE' is coming back to KET for its second year Tuesdays at 9 p.m., beginning January 18, with 22 new plays, including "The Skin of Our Teeth" and "Miss Lonelyhearts," plus 17 rebroadcasts of programs aired during the premiere season.

There are several things to remember about taking prescription drugs. For example, do not stop taking the drug just because you are beginning to feel better. Unless your doctor tells you otherwise, take the medicine until it has had a chance to do its work. Do not play doctor by letting another person take a drug that has been prescribed for you. Although your symptoms may seem similar, the causes may not be. Do not keep prescription medicines longer than their intended shelf life. Carefully dispose of them guarding against their accidental exposure to children. Lastly, always check the label to be sure you are taking medication from the correct bottle. At night, turn on a light to be sure.

It is very important to remember to finish taking all of a prescription, even when you begin to feel better. For any medication to work properly, you should follow all the directions. And of course, if you have any questions, don't hesitate to ask us here at COOLEY APOTHECARY. We also carry convalescent items, and offer the best in personal service. Located at #2 Town Center Bldg. Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30; Sat. 9-4. 886-8106

Perkins Says Truck Tax Will 'Devastate' Many

Congressman Carl Perkins has written Secretary-Designate Dole seeking Administration support for reduction in the recently enacted truck and tire tax.

He argues that the tax will put many truck-owners in this area out of business.

Wrote Perkins, in part: "Prior to the first of this year, the truck owners were barely making ends meet and were having difficulty just keeping up with their interest payments. These individuals in many cases, have a second mortgage on their homes to provide security for the loan to purchase the truck. They work long hours and are seeking to participate in the economic life of Eastern Kentucky and this nation. The increase in the truck use tax and the increase in the tire tax is going to put many of these individuals out of business. It will also devastate their families."

"I would appreciate it if would let me know if the administration is willing to make concessions on the truck tax and the tire tax so that these people will not be put out of business."

D.A.V. State Officer To Be at Auxier

Gubernatorial Candidates Air Views on Highways

Speaking recently at the annual Transportation Conference of Kentuckians for Better Transportation (KBT), Kentucky's gubernatorial candidates agreed that new funding is needed to more adequately deal with road and highway maintenance and reconstruction.

"The challenge to the next governor and those concerned with transportation and the road fund," according to Grady Stumbo, "is a financial one. Revenue," he said, "is the issue that must be faced if we wish to make progress."

One of the first things that can be done to improve the financial outlook of the road fund, Stumbo said, is to continue paying resource recovery road bonds with severance tax, as was originally intended by the legislature. So far this fiscal year, some $36 million of the $46.4 million needed to meet the debt service on the bonds has been diverted to help meet the general fund shortfall.

"We cannot talk about more jobs or a better quality of life, about reviving the coal industry, about providing better local services—without a modern transportation system that is properly financed and professionally engineered," said Lt. Governor Martha Layne Collins. "We have invested billions of dollars and that investment must be protected."

Mayor Harvey Sloane said he is running his campaign on basically two areas—jobs and education. Transportation, he noted, is an important part of economic development. He said that Kentucky would have to look to an expanded economy to provide additional revenues for maintenance and improvement of roads.

He went on to say that "we have to look at greater efficiencies." He said he was going to look into whether or not it would be "more efficient to have contracts with private vendors" to provide maintenance of our highways.

The major problems, as you well know, is funding," Collins said. "The best solution, she said, "would be a strong economic recovery soon. Cars would start selling at pre-recession rates, people would start traveling again and buying more gasoline, the state's general fund would become solvent again, making it possible to reinstate the full transfer of funds to the road fund to pay for resource recovery road bonds."

"I believe Kentucky's general fund revenues over the next several years, while down, can be appropriate to finance our non-road programs," said Stumbo.

"While bonding for roads is helping to get current construction going," he said, "it is quietly creating another problem. It now requires slightly over one-fourth of every dollar in the road fund to pay the debt service. Stable and reliable financing is needed in the long-term for the road fund. I say that because I personally know what a poor highway system means in terms of cost to government, in terms of the school buses that are destroyed and have to be repurchased as they drive in the hollers of Eastern Kentucky."

"Potholes and mud do not bring industry nor do they add value to property," Stumbo continued. "Poor drainage of roads adds to the cost. Unfixed potholes cost both you and me. Good roads will help get the economy back on its feet, and a new road into a community breathes life into businesses."

Stumbo pledged to "work to provide continued, stable funding for Kentucky's road program." He also said he would help counties get the advice of professional engineers, either by making state engineers available to them in an advisory capacity or creating a program of "incentive grants" to local governments.

Stumbo also said he would make state laboratory testing facilities available on a shared basis to local government for materials testing.

"The next secretary of transportation," Sloane said, "is someone who is going to have to have background and knowledge and experience in the area of transportation.

"I'm going to have a rural highway commissioner," Sloane continued, "that understands the needs for the farm-to-market roads, for coal haul truck roads, understands the needs the counties are facing now as they take over some of the maintenance problems of the roads in their communities. I'm going to have professional people as engineers in the higher ranks of our transportation department, engineers as good district managers."

Sloane also said he would have a transportation council to plan intermodal transportation and work with the legislature and the governor.

Collins, citing a recent survey which shows a majority of Kentuckians listed roads as their number one priority for the expenditure of tax dollars, said, "Kentuckians realize the need for good transportation."

"In my travels across the state," she said, "in every county someone has approached me about a particular road. They talk of bridges close to collapsing and roads so narrow and dangerous that the school bus can't come by their home to pick up their children."

Areas Collins said she would concentrate on as governor include: 1) Providing access roads to industrial parks, riverports and rail lines; 2) Repairing and replacing substandard bridges in the coal fields; 3) Improving roads to facilitate the movement and attraction of tourists; 4) Providing smaller counties with professional engineering expertise and machinery; 5) A program of financial assistance to counties suffering severe road damage due to unforeseen disasters; and 6) The elimination of unnecessary regulations and costly paper work that add unnecessary burdens for providers of transportation.

Winter Weather Calls For Special Precautions

Each year cold weather claims more lives than all other weather phenomena, Wilbur R. Buntin, executive director of Disaster and Emergency Services, said. "There were 41 percent more deaths from excessive cold over the last three decades than from hurricanes, tornadoes and floods combined," he said.

Kentucky traditionally experiences the most severe winter weather during January and February, though snow is not at all uncommon in March. Winter weather calls for special precautions to maintain health throughout this stressful period.

"Some people may not realize that cold weather itself, without any physical activity, puts an extra strain on your heart," Buntin said. "If you add to this physical exercise, especially exercise that you are not accustomed to—such as shoveling snow, pushing an automobile or even walking fast or far—you are risking a heart attack, stroke or damage to your body," he said. In winter weather, and especially in winter storms, beware of this danger and avoid overexertion, he warned.

If you must go outside during cold weather, wear the proper clothing. "Whether inside or outside, several layers of loose-fitting, light-weight warm clothing is better than one thick layer," Buntin said. With layers, trapped air warmed by the body will circulate between the layers and act as a shield to keep you warm. Layers can be removed as needed to prevent perspiring and subsequent chills. The outer layer should be tightly woven and water repellent, Buntin said.

Headgear is very important since we lose about three-fourths of our body heat through our heads. Wool caps are helpful during the day and also at night, especially when sleeping in a cool environment. Also, mittens are preferable to gloves, since fingers can maintain contact with one another and provide warmth, Buntin said. "With so many people turning down thermostats to cut down on heating bills, these old-fashioned ways to keep warm will probably become more popular," Buntin said.

Two health problems that can develop from cold-weather exposure are frostbite and hypothermia, Buntin said.

"Frostbite usually begins with an uncomfortable aching sensation, tingling or stinging and is most common in fingers, toes, ears and the nose," Buntin said. These symptoms are a warning. If exposure continues, numbness sets in. The skin initially turns red, then becomes pale gray or waxy white. Frostbite occurs in two stages—superficial and deep. If exposure time has been very short, the frostbite is probably superficial. Otherwise, you should assume injury is deep and get medical attention as soon as possible.

In the meantime, protect the frozen area from further injury, but don't try to thaw it by rubbing, bending or massaging. Do not rub the area with ice or snow—this will worsen the condition.

Hypothermia is another condition caused by prolonged exposure to the cold. "Exposure to cold temperatures is particularly hazardous to the elderly," Buntin said. But dressing warmly, eating the proper foods and staying as active as possible are good ways to maintain body heat and help prevent this condition, he said.

Hypothermia is a lowering of internal body temperatures. Signs include severe shivering, slurred speech, disorientation, low blood pressure and slow or irregular heartbeat. Muscular rigidity is a sign of more intense hypothermia. The victim becomes irrational and may drift into a stupor if exposure continues.

To treat frostbite or hypothermia, get the victim into dry clothing and a warm bed, blankets or a sleeping bag immediately. Use warm towels, a heating pad or a hot water bottle—these should be warm to the touch, not hot. Concentrate on the trunk of the body, the shoulders, chest and stomach. Keep the head low and feet raised to improve circulation or blood to the head. If the person is coherent, give him warm drinks, but never give alcohol, sedatives, tranquilizers or pain killers—these will slow body processes even more.

With extreme symptoms, seek professional medical help immediately, Buntin said.

Vegetable, Fruit Growers To Meet

There will be a meeting in the Floyd County Courthouse Annex conference room on Thursday, February 3, at 6:30 p.m. for any person interested in vegetable and fruit production. Everyone is invited to attend.
