WHOM SHOULD I CALL AT THE TIME OF DEATH?

Many phone calls will have to be considered after the death of a member of the family. Here are the calls you should plan to make immediately.

IMMEDIATE FAMILY MEMBERS—perhaps one or two could be placed and they in turn could call others.

YOUR CLERGY PERSON—he can provide spiritual support and sustenance to help you with the emotionally difficult tasks ahead. He will also work directly with the funeral director to assure that the funeral service meets all your needs.

YOUR FUNERAL DIRECTOR—he will provide the necessary professional services required for proper disposition of the body. His services also include suggestions as a helpful guide to further calls that may have to be made.

Our services provide co-operative planning with clergy, fraternal and family members to make possible a funeral service that is personally planned for you.

Sierra Coal Backs Life-Saving Program

Sierra Coal Company and Affiliates held a blood drive at the Miller Brothers Warehouse in Evanston on Monday, April 4. A most gratifying "first" to take place in this community for which 63 registered and 55 pints were donated. This type of involvement exemplifies Sierra's commitment to establish a responsible community relationship.

"This is one of the newer companies which has opened mining operations at a number of locations in our area and we are very pleased to have their support," said Pat Phillips, CKBC Donor Service Representative to seven eastern Kentucky counties. "We hope others will be encouraged to take part in this vital program enabling Central Kentucky Blood Center to keep an adequate supply of blood available for all residents in our area. This is the only coal company presently participating as an active donor group in Breathitt, Elliott, Floyd, Knott, Magoffin, Morgan, and Wolfe counties."

General Superintendent Tom Mattox commented, "We are dedicated to the interests of this area and to the welfare of our employees. We see no better way of getting involved than to provide Group Protection for all blood needs to all employees, their families and to every member in the community."

Thanks are extended to the following: Kathy Magruder, blood program coordinator from Lexington; Bob Miller and Sam Snyder for the use of the Warehouse; O.V. Watts and James Deaton from the Jackson Kiwanis for providing chair, tables and refreshments; and the company representatives' assistance.

Each donor's one pint may be used to help two or three patients. Thanks to the following who registered: Raleigh Jenkins, Ronnie Adams, Randall Watts, Landon Shepherd, Deborah Miller, James Mullins, Wiley Joseph, Denzil Turner, John Tate, John McHale, Julian Deaton, Meredith Howard, Gene David, Donnie Burton, Raymond Rudy, Larry Hammons, David Smith, Ronnie Jewell, Paul Smith, Edmond Sargent, Ricky Smith, Tim Harris, David Handshoe, Kathy Magruder, Benjamin Bentley, Richard King, Larry Hughes, Elton Snyder, John J. Nursing Home Residents Day Is Named April 29

Gov. John Y. Brown Jr. has proclaimed April 29, 1983 as Nursing Home Residents' Day in Kentucky.

"Nursing homes are a part of the community," the governor noted in designating the special day. "The Cabinet for Human Resources has increased the public's awareness of nursing homes and the care they provide," he said.

Gov. Brown mentioned the publication of A PLACE TO LIVE, the state's first consumer guide to Kentucky nursing homes, as an example of educating the public. He said the nursing home ombudsman's program of local community involvement is successfully bridging the gap between communities and their nursing homes in some areas of the state.

In his proclamation, Gov. Brown called for communities to make nursing homes a part of community life. "Don't forget your neighbors when they move to a nursing home," he said. "They need your friendship more than ever."

OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY

During recent weeks there have been many allegations and rumors concerning the management of Floyd county by the fiscal court. I want to take this opportunity to let you know what your county government is doing. At present myself, along with County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. are seeking an investigation by the Kentucky State Police, including an audit, to show that there has been no wrong doing in my office, to put a stop to the rumors and allegations. It has been a tough job trying to conduct the business of Floyd county with the extreme cuts in coal severance tax experienced by all the coal producing counties. But as Al Howell said at last week's fiscal court meeting Floyd county will finish in the black at the end of the fiscal year. We have taken the necessary action to assure this. I am also taking steps right now to be sure Floyd county is financially sound during the next fiscal year. I have requested a complete personnel study from Frankfort to be done before the new fiscal year. I will use the results of this study to ensure that county employees are used efficiently, and that we do not have anymore county employees in the payroll than we need. I have let the press have it's day without making any comment myself. But I feel it's time to come to you, the citizens of Floyd county, and let you know that the problems of the past are no worse than any other county in the state. The economy is making things hard all around. I intend to make sure this county gets what it is entitled to, and to see that what we have is used wisely for the benefit of everyone. With your help, I know we can grow and prosper here in Floyd county. Let's see if the Lexington and Louisville newspapers will report the kind of progress we here in Floyd county will enjoy by working together....

SINCERELY

20,000 Gallons May Get Amoco Refund

Significant progress has been made in the program to refund $72 million plus interest obtained in a consent order settlement from the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), commonly known as Amoco. More than 5,700 refund applications have been received to date from businesses, governmental entities, and individual consumers from across the country, according to George B. Breznay, Director, Office of Hearings and Appeals, U.S. Department of Energy. More than half of these applications have been processed by the Office of Hearings and Appeals so far, and refunds totaling more than $4.5 million have already been approved. Under this program, the Office of Hearings and Appeals, U.S. Department of Energy is distributing the consent order funds to eligible purchasers of Amoco petroleum products, such as motor gasoline and heating oil, during the period 1973 through 1979. The funds were obtained from Amoco in settlement of allegations of violations of federal pricing regulations during that period. The eligibility requirements for the Amoco refund program were published in the Federal Register on January 3, 1983. In general, anyone who purchased petroleum products from Amoco during the period from 1973 through 1979 is eligible to apply for a refund. Breznay cautions, however, that an individual consumer would have had to purchase 20,000 gallons of Amoco products from 1973 through 1979 in order to receive a refund of $15, the minimum refund that the Office of Hearings and Appeals will authorize. Refund applications may be obtained from Mrs. Margaret A. Slattery, Public Docket Room, Office of Hearings and Appeals, U.S. Department of Energy, Room 1111, 1200 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20461.

Perkins Supports Nuclear 'Freeze'

Representative Carl D. Perkins, D. Ky., has urged Congress to put the brakes on the nuclear arms race. The Eastern Kentucky Congressman issued this call as he voted for the House resolution calling for an immediate, mutual, and verifiable freeze on the testing, production, and deployment of nuclear weapons. He told his colleagues that the resolution was not the frightened cry of cowards, but the strong call of the brave. "It is the voice of a nation that wants not only to save itself from destruction, but to spare its enemies as well," he said. He said the resolution strengthened America's hand in the arms reduction talks now going on at Geneva. "It assures our allies as well as our enemies that we are very serious indeed in our desire to negotiate agreements that can eventually reduce the number of nuclear weapons that threaten the planet," Perkins said. He said the freeze resolution does not strip a single weapon from the nation's arsenal, and does not lessen its military strength. "It simply tells our competitors in the nuclear arms race that we must both stop now before it is too late for any of us," he said. Perkins, a World War II Army veteran who saw action in France and Belgium, said there could be no winners in a nuclear war—only losers. "Nobody walks away, and nothing is left to rebuild," he said. The Kentuckian rejected the argument of some that a freeze would be to the advantage of the Soviet Union because it is in a stronger military position. "I am sure that not one member of our Joint Chiefs of Staff would swap our defense capability for that of the Russians," he said. Consideration of this Resolution will continue today (Wednesday).

TIRES! TIRES! WHO'S GOT THE TIRES?

Ripley's Believe It or Not and the Lexington Herald both state that $40,000 worth of tires have been purchased by our county fathers. As I canvass District 1 in my quest for High Constable, I have established the following facts: 1. Approximately $22,000 worth of these tires may possibly fit a 1952 VW Beetle; 2. Roughly $18,000 worth of these tires (with slight modification) may fit a 1957 Edsel Station Wagon. If you see either of these vehicles traveling in District 1 please call Mr. Howell in Frankfort or me at BR5-749. The Lexington Herald leaked to me that one of the aforementioned vehicles was stuck in a pot hole on Left Beaver, but managed to escape just prior to their arrival. New Gas Rate Effective Here After May 1st

Another gas rate increase lies ahead for customers of distribution systems supplied by the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, but the more optimistic find comfort in the fact that the effective date is May 1 and that by that time winter may be over.

Kentucky West Virginia's rate of $4.58 per 1000 cubic feet (MCF) is a jump of 49 cents from the temporary $4.09 rate approved for the company on March 1.

"We (the Prestonsburg Utility Commission) are passing on to our customers exactly the amount of the raise by our supplier," Bill H. Howard, utilities superintendent, said. The new rates for consumers within the Prestonsburg corporate limits will be $6.02 for the first MCF (minimum) and $5.72 per MCF for all gas above that minimum.

Rates for consumers served by the Prestonsburg system but located outside the city limits will be $7.72 minimum and $6.22 per MCF for all over 1000.

Howard pointed out that since Sept. 1, 1979 there have been 13 different gas rates in effect.

The rate effective May 1 will represent a 161 per cent increase over the $1.75 rate in effect Nov. 1, 1981. From that low 1981 rate, the per MCF charge rose to $3.78 on May 1, 1982; to $4.31 on Nov. 1, 1982; back, temporarily, to $4.09 on March 1 of this year—and now the new May 1 increase.

Seek Citizen Aid On Road Repairs

Transportation Secretary James Runke is asking Kentucky motorists to assist state maintenance crews in the battle against road problems.

The Transportation Cabinet has mounted a "spring offensive" campaign to tackle the damage to state-maintained roads caused by a combination of winter weather and heavy traffic. State crews have already started filling potholes, patching roadways and clearing ditches and right of way.

"The people who drive the roads every day are the first to know when a problem develops," Runke said. "If the public alerts the state maintenance garages to potential problems, we can prevent minor problems from becoming more costly reconstruction."

Motorists are asked to first notify the person most familiar with their area—the foreman of the state maintenance garage for their county. If the problem is not solved, then the district highway manager should be called, Runke said.

Citizens in Floyd county should contact Dennis Huss at the maintenance garage in Allen at 874-2316. If the problem persists, general manager Ed Patton at the cabinet's Pikeville district office can be reached at 437-9691.

In reporting a pothole or drainage problem, citizens are asked to provide the exact location by highway number and how far it is from a local landmark, such as an intersection or bridge.

Way To Recover Truckers' Fines Sought in Suit

Walter Bartrum, Martin trucker, last week joined the Mountain Truckers Association in a suit seeking a way to collect refunds from the state for truckers who were improperly fined under the "tarp" law enacted last year.

Refunds are sought for a two-and-a-half-month period during which enforcement of the statute was banned by a restraining order granted last October by Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs.

The suit filed last week names as defendants State Treasurer Drexel Davis and Finance Secretary Robert Warren. It alleges that Bartrum was issued two citations last December and that he was fined $100 on both charges.

William Kirkland, of Frankfort, one of the lawyers who filed the action in Franklin circuit court, said there is no estimate of the amount of money that might be involved.

He said many truckers had been routinely fined for violations by district judges while others had their fines suspended.

The statute requiring tarpaulins on trucks to prevent spillage has been difficult to interpret, according to state police and Transportation Department officials.

A legislative subcommittee Monday called for a simple statute replacing all others. It would require that vehicles be built so that no contents can be spilled.

Judge Meigs reinstated enforcement of the law in January.

The truckers association said district judges during that period between October and January, were generally unaware the statute was not in effect.

Some truckers have asked for refunds of fines, but the association said they have been unable to obtain them without going through an expensive legal process.

Marriage Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kinzer, of Allen, announced the engagement and recent marriage of their daughter, Sherry Kaye, to Mr. Charles Hilton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hilton, of Prestonsburg.

Mr. Hilton is a graduate of Prestonsburg High School and is employed by Martin County Coal Corporation. Mrs. Hilton is also a graduate of Prestonsburg High School and is presently attending Prestonsburg Community College where she is majoring in elementary education.

The couple resides at Allen.

The first collective bargaining agreement in the building trades was gained in 1885 by bricklayers in New York City, according to a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

High School Student Speaks

I went fishing last Spring and all I could catch was cat fish and carp. I wondered why I couldn't catch any game fish, so I started asking questions about our polluted streams. I found out that they are polluted with sewer lines, garbage, trash, and mining acid. I can't understand why a nation like ours that has the technology to send a man to the moon still neglects our environmental standards.

I am 13 years old now. I still want to be able to catch a catfish when I am 30. The only solution to solving our environmental problems is to take the pictures of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln out of our big corporations' pockets and not so much away from our environment. And our environment is our present surroundings.

As to the job markets that we will be able to face, once that I am a senior in high school, as I am a freshman now: As a senior when I graduate take the Senator's race, for instance. We have a freshman Senator, as I am a freshman in high school. I make standard grades and he makes A and A-plus as he has served us in correcting the above conditions. As I graduate from McDowell High School as a Senior, I want to be able to look to him as a Sophomore Senator, the same way that I graduate as a Senior in High School. Then eight years later I want to look at him as a Senior graduate in the Kentucky State Senate and then maybe we can live without a seniority problem in Kentucky state government.

TIMOTHY HALL
McDowell High School

P.S. I urge all students in Floyd, Knott and Perry county to have a talk with their parents about problems that confront us today and yesterday. I am a strong believer in Dr. Grady Stumbo for the job that he has done in the past for the State of Kentucky as a whole, and Senator Benny Ray Bailey for the job that he has done.

Grayson Bankers Are Convicted

The trial of two Carter county bankers, Leo Raymond McGuire and David E. Lee ended last Thursday when they were found guilty of conspiracy, mail fraud and falsifying bank records in an attempt to defraud the Kentucky Housing Corporation.

McGuire, 56, president of the First National Bank of Grayson, and Lee, 33, the bank's assistant vice president and loan officer, were convicted on all 28 counts after a five-week trial involving some 80 witnesses.

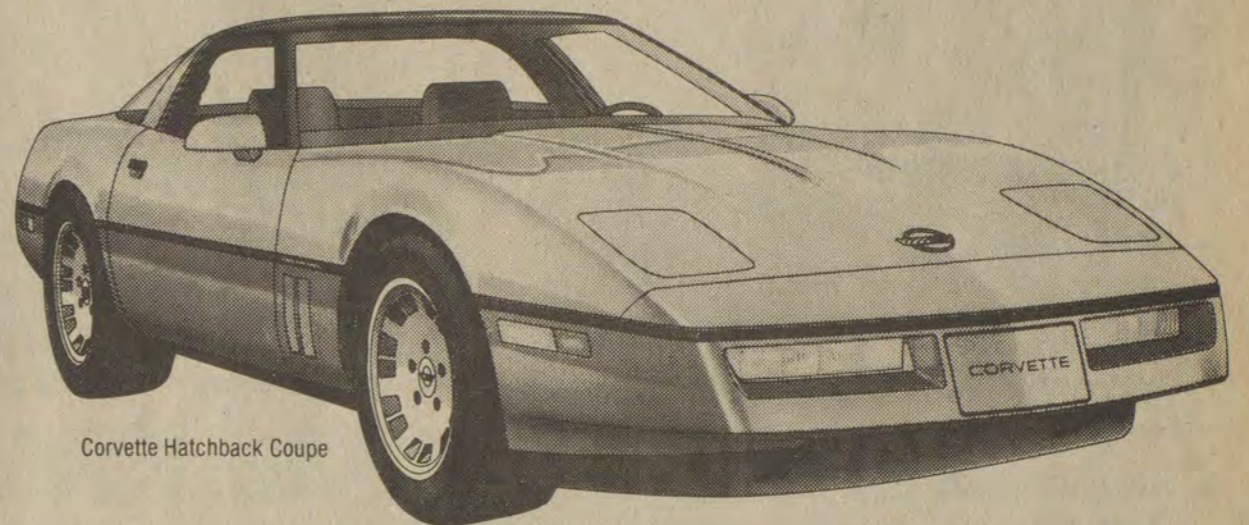

The trial was of considerable interest in this area where the McGuire family owns controlling interest in banks in Prestonsburg, Olive Hill and Vanceburg, as well as the Grayson bank.

Robert F. Houlihan, Jr., defense attorney, predicted an appeal would be filed.

Another defense attorney, Frank Haddad, Jr., said an appeal or a motion for a new trial might be filed after Reed rules on a pending motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

"RIGHT TO WORK: THE ISSUE IS MISNAMED"

"Our Nation must be a nation of laws—not of men."
—Thomas Jefferson.

This statement from the drafter of the Constitution of the United States has guided our governmental decisions and allowed us to build the greatest Nation the world has ever known. Today, the guiding principal of rule by the majority that has shaped our great country is being threatened by a mis-named concept called "right to work."

Simply put, right to work legislation provides for a complete disregard of rule by the majority. Right to work legislation says that if a group of workers vote, in an honest election, to have union representation, those who vote against union representation do not have to join the union. However, those who do not join a union get the same benefits as union workers and, should the non union person have a grievance, the union must pay the expenses to represent this person. What would such "right to work" legislation mean to Kentucky? Let's look at a few facts:

1. Statistical studies show that workers in states with right to work legislation make substantially lower wages than workers in states that do not have this type of legislation;
2. When workers make less money, they spend less on housing, automobiles, appliances and personal items. Small businesses suffer;
3. Senior citizens on fixed income depend on small monthly social security pensions. Since social security taxes are paid on a percentage of income, the amount of money paid into social security is less when working people earn less making less money available for our elderly and our disabled;
4. Retired union workers receive a small pension for their many years of work. Without a union, there would be no union pensions, resulting in even harsher economic times on our retired people;

5. A study by a Jefferson County business group found that schools, health care and other quality of life issues were much more important in attracting new industry to an area than so-called right to work legislation. These quality of life issues are paid for by taxes paid by working people.

One of the fundamental rights Americans have always had is the right to organize themselves into groups to promote their common interest. This right must be protected. When governments change in other countries, many times we see a riot, a coup, blood in the streets and a general disruption of the country. In America, we have always chosen sides, worked hard for what we believe in, and accepted the will of the majority of the people. This is the cornerstone of American Democracy. We must never allow our Nation to retreat from this Democratic principal.

Of the major candidates for Governor of Kentucky, only Floyd County's own Grady Stumbo has promised to work against this "right to work" legislation and to veto it if the legislature passes it. That's why the United Mine Workers, AFL-CIO, United Automobile Workers and every major working people's union in Kentucky have endorsed Grady Stumbo and are working for his election.

Working people of Kentucky also know of Senator Benny Ray Bailey's work for them in the Kentucky State Senate. That's why the United Mine Workers, the AFL-CIO, The Kentucky Transportation Union, the Steelworkers Union, the Oil and Atomic Workers Union have endorsed Senator Bailey and asked their members and friends to work for his re-election. Benny Ray Bailey is a proven friend to Kentucky's working people. That's why we need to keep him in the state senate.

Foods from Nature's Wilds

Now that our good earth is clothed in green again, there's no excuse for anyone to go hungry. In woods and fields all over this land, there is an abundance of herbs, leaves, bark and roots that may be eaten, and they supply the body with fresh vitamins and minerals and are free for the taking. I shall list and describe here the best of these:

1. Poke. Eat when shoots are about four inches high. May be canned for winter use. This is the best and most popular of all greens.
2. Plantain. Common about the premises. A good green to mix with poke. It has great health-giving qualities.
3. "Wild beet," "speckled John," rosettes of the evening primrose. A good green to mix with poke or plantain.
4. "Yellow Dock. Has long, curly leaves and yellow roots. Very rich in iron and minerals.
5. Dandelion. Most healthful of all, wild greens. The yellow blooms are delicious when fried in butter. Blooms also used to make dandelion wine.
6. Blackberry leaves when young. Good to mix with other greens.
7. Birch leaves. Add these to your mess of greens for good flavor.

8. Wild mustard. Look in old fields for these plants with yellow blossoms. All the wild mustards are good greens to eat.

9. Wild lettuce. Excellent for greens. Grows in rich woods. Break off a leaf and a drop of white milk with ooze out.

10. Crow's foot. Book name, Crinkle root. The long, crinkled roots are good eating.

11. Shepherd's Purse. Makes good eating. It is a member of the cress family.

12. Watercress. One of the best greens. Look for it along stream beds.

13. Winter cress. Makes delicious greens. Look for it in cultivated ground. It has yellow blossoms.

14. Young raspberry leaves. Add good flavor to greens.

15. Groundhog. Book name, self-heal. This member of the mint family has many healing virtues. Good to mix with other greens.

16. Chickweed. Instead of blaming chickweed for invading your garden, pick it to eat. It is good when cooked for greens.

17. Yellow-flowered lettuce. Compass plant. Good to mix with other greens.

18. Artichokes. These are edible tubers growing on roots of a large sunflower plant. Good food.

19. Lamb's quarter. A plant often found around gardens. A good substitute for spinach.

20. Teas. You may want tea to go with your greens. Use roots of red sassafras for the best tea. Spireword bush also makes a spicy tea; was used by soldiers in Civil War times. Peppermint, catnip and horsemint make good tea for the table.

MSU Commencement Scheduled May 14

Morehead State University's annual commencement will be Saturday, May 14, at 10 a.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center.

Originally set for May 13, the date was changed for two reasons, according to Gene Ranvier, registrar.

"We first wanted to accommodate students who work during the weekdays and are not able to participate on a weekday, primarily December graduates who now are working fulltime," he said.

"We also wanted to make it more convenient for parents and other relatives to be able to attend," he added. "The Saturday schedule will be easier for most families."

Ranvier stressed that the May ceremony is MSU's only commencement and that it also is open to graduates who expect to finish degree requirements during the summer.

"Mom, could electricity hurt you?"

When your children ask about electricity, read them these safety reminders. Let your son or daughter know electricity is one of the most convenient and dependable forms of energy we have. But care must be taken when you're around it, or it can injure or kill. Make sure your children know and follow these safety rules:

- 1. Never fly a kite or model airplane in the rain and never fly one near utility poles. Don't use wire or any metal parts in your kite. If the kite should get caught in a power line, don't try to get it down.
- 2. Never touch any power line. It could kill you.
- 3. Don't climb trees near power lines.
- 4. Don't build treehouses near electrical wires.
- 5. Don't climb utility poles, towers or other electrical structures.
- 6. Never stick fingers or any objects into electrical outlets or appliances.

Cross Is Dedicated As Memorial

Above is the Martha Leake Memorial Cross, which was dedicated at the First Presbyterian Church here on Easter. The Celtic cross, with the circle representing eternity surrounding the cross bars, hangs above the chancel area at the front of the church. It was presented by Mrs. Leake's husband, John, on behalf of family members and friends, who contributed to the Memorial Fund in her honor. His niece, Donna Carol DeRossett, sang a solo, "Because He Lives," as part of the dedication ceremony. Mrs. Leake, who passed away in July of 1982, was a deacon in the church at the time and was active in many community activities as well.

RIVERVIEW MANOR NURSING HOME RECOGNIZES VOLUNTEER WEEK!

This week, April 17 through 23 is AHCA Volunteer Recognition Week and we at Riverview Manor wish to express our appreciation to all those special folks who make up our volunteer staff. The duties assigned to our volunteers may be social, entertaining or routine in nature, but they are important and necessary for a balanced program of care. To be a volunteer requires commitment and concern. Volunteers at Riverview Manor display both of these qualities beautifully, and to residents they say, "Your community is interested and aware of your needs and concerns". Because our volunteers work hard to convey this message, we are setting aside a day during National Nursing Week May 8-14 for Volunteer Recognition Day.

If you would like to meet some of these very special people, or if you would like to become one yourself, visit us at Riverview Manor and ask about our volunteer program. Sherry Hall, Social Services Director, is anxious to meet you and let you know how you can become that special person someone needs.

STATE TREASURER

Frances Jones Mills: Biographical Sketch

Frances Jones Mills, Kentucky's Secretary of State, is a native of Southeastern Kentucky. The daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. W.H. Jones of Gray and Williamsburg, she graduated from Cumberland College and attended Eastern Kentucky University and Union College. She is married to Gene Mills of Gray.

Mrs. Mills brings a wealth of experience in public service to her current office. She has been a public school teacher, a medical assistant, and the Director of Women's Activities and Community Relations Officer for the Kentucky Division of Civil Defense.

She is the only state official who has been elected to all three branches of state government—Legislative, Judicial, and Executive. She was the first woman from Southeastern Kentucky to serve in the Kentucky General Assembly (1962), and subsequently was elected Clerk of the Court of Appeals State Treasurer, and most recently, Secretary of State.

In her public career, Frances Mills has done much to advance the authority and prestige of Kentucky beyond the state boundaries. As Civil Defense Director, she authored a booklet entitled "What Would You Do?" which received national recognition for excellence. She served as President of the National Conference of Appellate Court Clerks, and as Vice-President and Southern Region Chairperson of the National Association of State Treasurers.

Largely through her efforts, both organizations held their annual conventions in Kentucky. She is currently an active member of the National Association of Secretaries of State.

The many achievements of Frances Jones Mills have been recognized by her associates both in and out of the state.

She is listed in Who's Who in Kentucky, Who's Who in American Women, Personalities of the South, and Who's Who in American Politics.

In addition, she has been selected Southeastern Kentucky's "Outstanding Woman of the Year in Kentucky," the Business and Professional Women's Club "Woman of Achievement," and Cumberland College's "Outstanding Alumna of the Year."

EXPLAINS CHLORDANE CLEAN-UP PROCEDURE

Recent reports about chlordane contamination across the country have prompted concern in Kentuckians who have used that chemical around their homes.

The number of calls to the Kentucky Department of Agriculture has prompted a report on clean-up procedures, according to Commissioner Alben W. Barkley, II.

Barkley said that chlordane is widely used by the pesticide industry and is an acceptable chemical when used correctly. He said most of the calls were from homeowners who had applied the chemical themselves and wanted to be sure they had done it correctly.

Pesticides Division personnel have reported two basic problems, Barkley said. "Some people do not read the label, which states that chlordane must be put in the ground. They spray their homes, and this causes problems."

"Others read the label but decide that if one ounce per gallon is good, then several ounces per gallon is even better. That creates a problem too."

Barkley said that his department had talked to Leo Trademan of Velsical Chemical, the only company which produces chlordane. Trademan offered the following advice for chlordane clean-up:

* Wood surfaces—wash or scrub with detergent and water. Where possible, apply an oil-based paint.

* Drywall, plaster board or sheet rock—wash or scrub with detergent or water. Where possible, paint with an oil paint.

* Baseboards—replace the baseboards if possible, first scrubbing the area underneath the baseboards with detergent and water.

* Basement walls and floors—scrub with detergent and water and then apply a sealer which prevents water from entering.

* According to Mr. Trademan, these procedures will usually reduce the chlordane residue to a negligible level, Barkley said.

Dear Retired Teachers:

During my years as a statewide official, I have kept in close contact with your staff at the Kentucky Teachers' Retirement System and with individual retired teachers. As Presiding Officer of the Senate, I have supported legislation and benefit increases endorsed by your Association. The cost-of-living increases passed by the 1982 General Assembly were among the highest ever. But there is still much to be done to reward our retired teachers for their years of dedicated service to Kentucky.

So that you will know exactly where I stand on the issues that are vitally important to you, I want to communicate some specific goals I have for my administration:

—Funding of retirement benefits for teachers will be one of my budget priorities. I know of the problems you encounter with a retirement check that never makes ends meet, and promise to support the largest cost-of-living increase that is financially possible.

—I pledge to keep your retirement fund on a sound financial basis. Some have promised active teachers retirement with full benefits after 25 years. I am forced by fundamental honesty and concern for the future of your fund from making such promises that would lead your retirement system down the same path as the Social Security System.

—The Kentucky Teachers' Retirement System will continue as an independent agency. The make-up of your Board of Trustees will not be changed. Your retirement fund will not be merged with any other state retirement fund.

—The state income tax exemption for retired teacher annuities must be maintained. In recent years, attempts have been made to end this forty year-old provision. It would be unfair to take it away. I will oppose any change in the state tax exemption for retired teacher pensions.

—I am committed to maintaining our level of medical benefits for retired teachers.

—The existing federal income tax on retirement income for teachers is unfair. I will work with Kentucky's Senators and Congressmen to repeal this unfair tax on retired teachers.

—Kentucky's present exemptions for state inheritance tax needs revision. I would like for our state exemptions to at least equal the level of federal exemptions.

As a former teacher, I know of the personal sacrifices and financial sacrifices you made to remain in the teaching profession—and your contributions are immeasurable. As Governor, I will be accessible to hear your concerns, and my door will be open to you, as it has throughout my career in public service.

I need your help to make sure that my program becomes a reality. Please telephone, write, or speak to your neighbors and friends and encourage them to go to the polls and vote for Martha Layne Collins.

I need your support so we can work together to improve the state's retirement program and benefits for retired teachers.

Sincerely,

Martha Layne Collins

KEPAC Endorses Bailey Senator

The Kentucky Education Association's political action arm has announced five endorsements for state senatorial races in the May 24 primary election.

KEA President Jon Henrikson, who chairs the Kentucky Educators Public Affairs Council (KEPAC), said other endorsements will be made before the primary. Elections are scheduled in 19 senatorial districts.

Henrikson said the five candidates endorsed thus far, all incumbents, should be supported because of their record of support for Kentucky public schools.

HONOR SON

James Kenneth Allen was honored by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Allen, and his grandmother, Mrs. Theckley Short, at their home here recently when they entertained a group of boys with a slumber party, in commemoration of his birthday. Refreshments and games were enjoyed, and James Kenneth received many birthday gifts.

★ CANCER HOPELINE ★

This question and answer column is provided as a public service by the McDowell Cancer Network. Questions are answered by appropriate specialists associated with the Network and represent some of the inquiries made by callers who use our Hopeline.

The Cancer Hopeline is a toll-free consultative telephone service available to any Kentuckian who has a cancer-related problem. Qualified counselors take calls Monday-Friday from 9-5 and return recorded messages the next working day. They do not diagnose cancer, recommend treatment for individual cases, nor dispense money. Counselors do provide consultations with specialists as well as support and understanding. Because of its designation by the National Cancer Institute as Kentucky's Cancer Information Service, the Hopeline has rapid access to the latest cancer information. All matters are treated confidentially. Call the Cancer Hopeline toll free at 1-800-4-CANCER, or write us at 915 South Limestone Street, Lexington, Kentucky 40536.

Q. Next week I am having a biopsy done to find out if I have cancer. I'm upset and afraid I won't ask the right questions. Can you help me focus better?

A. There is no denying that the waiting game is very difficult. Assuming you get a cancer diagnosis, it would be a good idea to keep the following questions in mind:

—Do I want to know exactly what treatment my doctor plans and what other alternatives are available? Knowledge of the treatment plan is necessary if you want to take part in deciding how and where you will receive treatment.

—Do I want to have a second pathologist check my tests? The pathology report is the base on which all future treatment is built. You should discuss with your doctor how the pathology report was done, whether he has talked with the pathologist, and whether or not there is any question about your diagnosis. If there is, ask to have your tests submitted to the laboratory of a large hospital or medical center for a second opinion.

—Do I want to know exactly what kind of cancer I have and what stage it is in (how far advanced)? Many people do. Others do not. If you should have a rare form of cancer, you should know about it so that you can decide whether you want to go to one of the cancer centers or medical schools specializing in your disease. At least, you should ask your doctor to confer by phone with a physician doing research in your cancer.

—Do I want my doctor to consult with the nearest cancer center or cooperative group about my case? Do I want to make some phone calls myself? There are clinical cooperative groups specializing in the treatment of particular cancers in many parts of the country. Your doctor can get the latest information from them.

—Do I want to go to a cancer center or medical school for treatment? This is a big decision. Doctors at such centers probably treat more patients with your particular cancer in a week than many local doctors see in a year. On the other hand, you also have to consider time and money for travel and your ability to withstand it. Your physical need for the best treatment as opposed to your emotional need to be in familiar surroundings with loved ones is also important.

Much information for this Column came from Choices by Morra and Potts, Avon, 1980.

For information or to discuss the options you have as a cancer patient, call the Cancer Hopeline toll free at 1-800-4-CANCER from 9-5 weekdays. All calls are confidential. You may write the Hopeline at 915 South Limestone Street, Lexington, Kentucky 40536.

7 State Deferments Cited As Violations

Officials of the state Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet last Tuesday notified W. Hord Tipton, head of the Kentucky office of the federal Office of Surface Mining, that two of four conditions set by OSM for approval of proposed amendments to the state's surface-mining program cannot be met without legislative action.

The amendments, which include deferral of contemporaneous reclamation, were stated in an April 5 letter to Secretary Jackie Swigart from Tipton.

The two amendments are based on legislation passed by the 1982 Kentucky General Assembly and will have to be clarified by the General Assembly during its 1984 session, Swigart said.

Under the 1982 law, KRS 350.093, the state was authorized to grant reclamation deferments to coal companies when "coal-marketing problems" arose.

Seven deferments granted by the state under this provision were recently cited by OSM as reclamation violations. The deferments were among more than 70 granted by the state since the assumption of coal-mining primacy. "These deferrals were granted on the basis of that 1982 legislation, to change the guidelines for such deferrals we would have to go back to the legislature in 1984 for clarification or changes," Swigart said.

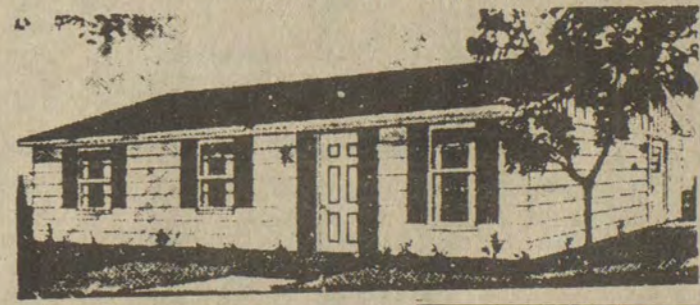

Coal companies cited by OSM were: Banner Fork Coal Co., L.T. Ruth Coal Co., Falcon Coal Co., Kenerco Corp. and Shamrock Coal Company.

In this drama of lost hopes and dreams, the action takes place in a sprawling, rundown farmhouse in Missouri that has been owned by the Talley family for generations. A group of family members and old college friends have gathered one Fourth of July weekend for the first time in many years. Among those present are: Kenneth Talley, Jr. (Richard Thomas), an embittered veteran of the Vietnam War who has come home emotionally and physically scarred (he is a paraplegic); Jed Jenkins (Jeff Daniels), Kenneth's male lover who wants to live on the farm where he can raise flowers and garden professionally; and June Talley (Joyce Christopher), Kan's sister.

Also present on the ill-fated weekend are Shirley Talley (Cynthia Nixon), June's young daughter; John Landis (Jonathan Hogan), June's former boyfriend from college days; and Gwen Landis (Swoosie Kurtz), John's wife, a young heiress with singing ambitions who wishes to purchase the old farmhouse and convert it to a recording studio. Their various needs and wants from the past and present cause the long weekend to be filled with conflict and confrontation.

Richard Thomas and Swoosie Kurtz are re-creating the roles they played on Broadway in "Fifth of July."

W'wright Club, To Sponsor CF Drive

The Kentucky/West Virginia Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation has announced that the Wheelwright Community Development Club will sponsor the "Makin' Tracks" campaign in Wheelwright.

"On behalf of the thousands of CF young people and their families, we are grateful for this commitment," said Charles Thayer, president of the chapter.

Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children and young adults. A degenerative and ultimately fatal disease, it attacks the respiratory and digestive systems. Every day, an average of five children are born with CF, and every day, three children die of it. Since CF exhibits symptoms much like other chronic ailments, many CF children go either undiagnosed or misdiagnosed.

Thayer also stated, "Ten years ago, a CF child could not expect to live to reach his/her teens. Now, many CF children live to see their 21st birthday. Such advances are made possible through funds raised from events like the one scheduled in this community. Public awareness of CF will be greatly increased through community involvement in the "Makin' Tracks" event."

The mission of the Foundation is to find the means for prevention, control, and effective treatment of Cystic Fibrosis. In addition to providing research grants to study the cases of CF, the Kentucky/West Virginia Chapter also supports three local Centers that specialize in diagnosis and medical care for CF patients.

Avoid August Tomato Glut With Nine-Step Guideline

While tomatoes tend to glut our kitchens by August, producing earlier tomatoes still represents a challenge to most gardeners. To force early fruits, try these suggestions, provided by Dr. Jean English, Extension horticulturist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture who is headquartered at Quicksand, Ky.

(1) Start with fertile soil and healthy transplants. Buy plants that have experienced uninterrupted growth (or grow your own). Transplants in 3" to 4" pots give the greatest production.

(2) Plant early fruiting varieties.

(3) Set a few plants out a couple of weeks before the last expected frost. Take a chance!

(4) Plant in a light, sandy soil that slopes slightly to the south. Heavy soils can be amended with sand and organic matter. In the absence of a slope, soil can be ridged and plants can be set on the south side of the ridge.

(5) Apply a starter fertilizer when setting plants in the garden. These water-soluble nutrients give plants a boost when they are set into cool soils.

(6) Do not put plants too close together. Space them so that each plant soaks up plenty of spring sun.

(7) Place plant protectors or hot caps over the plants for the first couple of weeks. If tomatoes are grown in cages, clear plastic can be wrapped around cages for extra warmth and wind protection.

(8) Use black plastic mulch to increase the soil temperature a few degrees.

(9) If organic mulches are preferred, apply them only after the soil has warmed.

SPRING TURKEYS

Turkey hunting isn't widely popular in Kentucky, yet. But if the hopes of wild-life biologists in the Bluegrass State are realized, increasing turkey populations will cause more and more hunters to take up this challenging sport in the future.

It's no accident that turkey numbers are increasing in Kentucky. Since 1978, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources has been engaged in a major turkey restoration effort, the aim of which is to restore turkeys to all suitable habitat in the state.

The speed at which this can be accomplished depends to a large measure on the availability of turkeys. For successful restoration, birds must be captured from the wild, transported quickly to their new home and released. Numerous experiments have shown that stocking pen-raised turkeys just doesn't work—the birds cannot make their own way in the woods after being cared for by humans.

Only a limited number of wild turkeys are available for restocking, but as populations continue to grow, biologists can trap an ever increasing number of birds from Kentucky's woods, rather than having to depend upon out-of-state sources. This should speed up restoration efforts considerably.

The commonwealth's turkey population now stands at approximately 7,000, more than double the estimated population of 2,380 in the state when the restoration project began five years ago. Newly stocked wildlife populations generally grow slowly at first, then "explode" when the density reaches a certain level—the rapid growth of the state's deer herd in recent years is a good example.

But we very likely will never have as many turkeys as we do deer. Wild turkeys prefer large, undeveloped areas with a minimum of human interference. They will probably never adapt to living in close proximity to man the way deer seem to have done.

Turkey hunting in Kentucky is confined to a relatively few areas at the present, but other counties have been stocked and will be opened to hunting when populations grow sufficiently. The 1983 spring season runs from April 16 through April 29 in Bath, Butler, Crittenden, Harlan, Leslie, Letcher, Menifee, Pike and Rowan counties, as well as on the Redbird, Pioneer Weapons and Pine Mountain Wildlife Areas.

In Ballard, Boyle, Casey, Christian (east of US 41), McCreary, Marion and Pulaski counties, the season is April 16 through April 22. These dates also apply on the Beaver Creek Wildlife Management Area. Ft. Campbell will permit turkey hunting from April 9 through April 24 (with no hunting on Mondays or Tuesdays). The season at Land Between the Lakes is set for April 13 through May 1, and at Ft. Knox, the last two weekends in March and all weekends in April except April 30, as military training schedules permit.

Hunters are limited to one turkey gobbler with visible beard per year. But if you take one turkey from Ft. Knox, Ft. Campbell or Land Between the Lakes you may take a second turkey. Turkey permits ($6.50) are required for each bird, and shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise until noon except at LBL and Ft. Campbell, where you can hunt until one-half hour after sunset.

Also remember that all turkeys must be checked through the nearest open check station or by a conservation officer before 5 p.m. on the day the bird is taken. A list of check stations along with a rundown of complete hunting rules is attached to each turkey permit.

PC Offers Children Computer Workshop

Computer camps for children are growing more popular as microcomputers appear in more homes and schools, and parents and children alike become more aware of the importance and fun of knowing how to operate a computer.

The Pikeville College Center for Continuing Education, in cooperation with the Center for Educational Advancement, organized a Computer Workshop for children ages four through 14 in February and the success has been tremendous. "We originally scheduled the workshop for 28 students, but we ended up with 63," said David Sutherland, coordinator of the Computer Workshop.

The workshop exposes students to the computer by teaching them the functional parts of the computer, loading and running the computer, and programming in LOGO, a computer language for all ages. The workshop also has students working on mathematics, writing, and reading skills at the computer.

Distribute Seedlings To Boy Scout Troops

The Telephone Pioneers have taken on quite a project for themselves. The organization has distributed 1800 tree seedlings to Boy Scout troops in Floyd, Johnson, Pike and Letcher county areas. The seedlings will be planted on stripmines, farms, Scout camps, city parks and other areas where needed. The telephone employee organization hopes the project will grow in the future. The seedlings were made up mostly of black walnut and pine.

The Pioneer organization is known as the Big Sandy Council and consists of employees from all over the Big Sandy area and Letcher county.

Honored at Morehead

A former Floyd county resident, Mrs. Carolyn Hager Howard, has been selected by the Morehead Lions Club as recipient of 1983 Woman of the Year Award. She was honored at its 29th Annual Banquet held in the Red Room of the Adron Doran University Center, March 10. Accepting the award for Mrs. Howard, who was unable to attend due to a prior commitment, was her mother, Mrs. Priscilla Hager, of East Point.

Mrs. Howard is an equipment technician with the C & P Telephone Company in Morehead and has just completed a five-week training course in computer electronics in Chicago.

She is chairperson of the Rowan County Chapter of the American Red Cross, has been a member of the Rowan Co. Rescue Squad since its inception, is a CPR and basic first aid instructor, and a licensed Emergency Medical Technician.

Mrs. Howard lives in Clearfield, with her husband, Jack, and 14-year-old son, Patrick. She is the daughter of Mrs. Priscilla Hager, and the late Henry H. Hager, of East Point.

College at Home Via KET Courses

Sharon Winkler, a secretary for Eastern Kentucky University's Division of Admissions and School Relations, is one of 331 students in Kentucky who has discovered you don't have to sit in a classroom to go to college.

Winkler, of Madison county, is enrolled in Making It Count, a college credit television course, which gives an introduction to computer science. It is one of six courses offered this semester on Kentucky Educational Television (KET). Currently, more than 1,450 students are enrolled in the College on TV courses.

Winkler, who is also a wife and mother, takes one course per semester, but in her busy workday at the admission office, it is hard to find time to leave the office for class. Thus, taking the television course which airs on weekends and early evening is perfect for her schedule.

"Although strong discipline is necessary," she said, "College on TV provides a fantastic opportunity for me to further my education, without leaving my home and child. It would be beneficial for anyone in a similar situation."

Next fall semester, beginning in late August, KET will offer six more courses.

College on TV is a joint project between KET, the Kentucky Council on Higher Education and colleges and universities across the state. To be placed on the mailing list for the fall semester listing of courses, telephone KET toll-free, 1-800-432-0970 or write: College on TV, KET, 600 Cooper Drive, Lexington, Ky. 40502, or the Division of Continuing Education, EKV, Richmond, Ky. 40475.

"Got your garden plowed?" asked the woman buying a packet of red lettuce seed at the local grocery store.

"Oh, yes, we've got lettuce peepin' through the ground in the tobacco bed, answered the storekeeper.

"I like this red lettuce seed, but don't seem like the company puts many packs out with the bunches of seed they send each spring. I like to buy earlier, but seems there's so much to do in the spring," another neighbor remarked.

"Tater onions lookin' good, too," a man remarked.

And so it goes. It's spring again in Kentucky. It's good to be alive.

The most noticeable sound is early morning, just before daylight, when the songbirds begin their melodies. If you are sleeping upstairs the birds sing right by your windows in the trees, which makes life a real joy to awaken down home. It's time to fix your Martin boxes, you know.

The long forsythia limbs are a bright yellow with blossom around the homes while the hills are covered with our native redbud and white-flowered wild plum. Dogwoods are in full bud and the May apple patches are just as glossy as they were 50 years ago.

New litters of kittens can be found in the hay barn or in barrels in the old smoke-house; young, long-legged puppies of odd descriptions carry sticks all over, everywhere. The warm winds seem to sweep the whole countryside.

Most of the women are almost ready to lay aside their quilt piecing—"I finished that Irish Chain quilt"..."That Double Wedding ring looks different from what Aunt Annie Marget pieced."..."I used up my small scraps on a Postage Stamp quilt." Echoes from the past.

"Coal trucks startin' to roll, they tell me," spoke an old man chewing tobacco.

"Reckon things'll get better," answered another.

"Building seems to be goin' on everywhere, and the road construction is goin' fast."

Many are making plans to spend their Saturdays at the stock market in various counties, now that the weather is good.

The newscasters often bring doom and gloom to us here in the hills but we always seem to rise up from winter's low ebb, dust our hands and once again say, "So much for that," and go on.

We no longer sit down and wait for outsiders to drift into our hills to tell us of the good life up North, or relatives to come home to encourage us to do crafts for them to market somewhere away from here.

Believe me, Kentucky is where it's at, and if you don't believe me, ask anyone from down home. Fish are beginning to bite, neighbors are busy with various plans for changes but, best of all, com-

State Jobless Rate Declines

Kentucky's unemployment rate dropped in March by the largest monthly decline in the past three years. Figures compiled by the Cabinet for Human Resources recorded a decline in the unemployment rate from 12.7 percent in February to 11.6 percent in March. The number of Kentuckians who were unemployed decreased by 18,500 in March, falling from a record high of 210,300 in February to 191,800 in March. The unemployment rate of 11.6 percent is the lowest in five months in Kentucky and correlates to the national, nonseasonally adjusted rate for March of 10.8 percent. In March 1982 Kentucky's unemployment rate was 10.8 percent, with 176,000 persons out of work.

State Manpower Services labor market analyst Ed Blackwell says the last time Kentucky's jobless rate declined by as much as 1.1 percent was in March 1980. The statewide rate then fell from 8.6 percent in February to 7.5 percent in March. Blackwell attributes the improvement on Kentucky's job scene to major employment increases in the agriculture, construction, manufacturing, service and trade industries. "The higher employment in agriculture and construction is seasonal to some extent, but we are seeing the economic elevator begin to rise. It is still too early to say Kentucky is out of the recession. But the size of the decline in the rate plus the strong employment market in several industries are the best indicators we've had in a long time," Blackwell said.

In March the civilian labor force was 1,653,100, or down 5,900 from February's 1,659,000 and up 10,500 from the 1,642,600 labor force of March 1982. The civilian labor force includes only persons currently employed and those unemployed who are actively seeking jobs. It does not include the military or unemployed persons who have dropped out of the job search market. Total employment in March was estimated at 1,461,300, an increase of 12,600 from the employment of 1,448,700 in February and a decrease of 4,700 from the 1,466,000 estimate for March 1982.

Bass Club Holds Tournament

Bassin' Buddies, an area bass fishing club formed in recent months, held its first bass tournament of the season, Saturday. Following a day of "slugging it out" with reluctant largemouth and enduring steady rain and rising water, winners of the tourney are pictured above. They include Paul Hagans, first place winner with three fish weighing total of 3.7 pounds; Gary Hicks and Tom Martin, second place winners with a single keeper of 1.8 pounds; Paul Horn and Tee Watkins, third place, for their 1.5-pound bass, and Gary Hicks, lunger prize winner for his 1.8-pounder. Although big bass weren't cooperating, the anglers reported lots of encouraging activity from smaller bass. The tournament was sponsored by Highland Chevron of Paintsville and Music-Carter-Hughes Chevrolet-Buick, of Prestonsburg. Club officers include Alan Sublett, president; Gary Hackworth, vice-president, and Glen Copley, secretary-treasurer.

Weinberg Wins UMWA Endorsement

Former state Rep. Bill Weinberg (left), Democratic candidate for attorney general, is pictured with United Mine Workers President Rick Trumpka. The 200,000 member AFL-CIO endorsed Democratic candidate Bill Weinberg for state attorney general during their state convention April 10.
This announcement followed the endorsement made earlier in the week by the United Transportation Union whose members are predominantly railroad and bus workers.
Weinberg, 41, a Hindman attorney and a former two-term state representative, has also been endorsed by the United Mine Workers.
Weinberg said the recent labor endorsements are strengthening his statewide campaign organization and solidifying his support in the Jefferson County area.
His campaign priorities include having the attorney general's office actively intervene during utility rate increase cases on behalf of Kentucky consumers, and to coordinate improvements in the state's criminal justice system.

HOST FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace had as their guest over the weekend their son, Dr. Gabriel R. Wallace, of Huntsville, Ala.
Saturday evening a family dinner was enjoyed by Dr. Wallace, Mrs. Zella Wallace Wells and husband, Frank A. Wells, of Paintsville, Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Wallace, of Lackey, and hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace.

Student Loan Abuse Focus of Crackdown

A crackdown on abuse of the state's guaranteed student loan program has turned up a number of cases of suspected law violations, according to Paul P. Borden, executive director of the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority.

"These cases have been turned over to the Kentucky Attorney General and the Atlanta office of the U.S. Department of Education Inspector General. At least five of the cases are expected to result in arrests or grand jury actions in the near future," Borden added. Any resulting prosecutions would be the first in the history of the loan program that began in Kentucky in 1978. The most serious case uncovered so far appears to involve forgery and falsification of loan forms by a person who received more than $30,000 in guaranteed student loans, Borden noted.
Most of the other cases under investigation range from failure to enroll in school after receiving funds to misuse of loan funds, Borden said.

"Loan funds are intended for expenditures directly related to the cost of postsecondary education. Students should be advised, for example, that it is a serious criminal offense to use loan funds for buying an automobile instead of paying for tuition and books," he said.
Borden suggested that students who believe they may have inadvertently violated the terms of their loans should contact Richard Casey, KHEAA general counsel, who is in charge of the fraud investigation. "It would be better to correct honest mistakes now rather than face criminal charges," Borden said.
Borden said the pending legal actions stem from a beefed-up anti-fraud system KHEAA has developed. He declined to go into detail about the new system.

However, he said, both a computer program of cross-referenced data and "old-fashioned, manual cross-checking of enrollment and loan forms" are involved.
"We intend to intensify our safeguards against this type of crime that might rob deserving students of their chances for loans," Borden said.

"KHEAA is urging lenders and student-aid officials at post-secondary schools to accelerate their efforts to cross-check loan application and enrollment files," he said.
"Kentucky is in a better position than many states to combat student-loan fraud because KHEAA has one of the most sophisticated computer programs of any state loan agency. And we have plans to add more facets to the cross-reference data checking abilities of our software," Borden said.

KHEAA insures loans for post secondary students. Its sister organization, the Kentucky Higher Education Student Loan Corporation, buys outstanding loans from lending institutions in the state, thus making additional loan funds available through those lenders.
At the end of the 1982 fiscal year, KHEAA had guaranteed a total of 83,013 loans totaling $176,903,760 since the program began five years ago.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

You should be aware that many drugs, both prescription and non-prescription, can affect the results of clinical laboratory tests. For this reason it is necessary for you to be forthright with all pertinent medical information before undergoing such tests. For instance, excessive use of laxatives can affect the outcome of tests that determine calcium or bone metabolism. Ingesting penicillin can trigger a false reading of protein in the urine which is a sign of kidney disease. Large doses of vitamin C can lead to false results in a urinary glucose test for diabetes. Inform clinicians of your smoking status as well.

Here at COOLEY APOTHECARY, INC., we would like to remind you that it is important to share information regarding what medications, vitamins, or over the counter drugs you may be taking, before you undergo any laboratory tests. In this way you'll receive more accurate results from such tests. And remember us here for all of your prescription and home health care needs. You can find us at #2 Town Center Bldg., where we're open Mon.-Fri., 9-5:30; Sat.; 9-4. 886-8106.

LET'S SET THE RECORD STRAIGHT!

Carla Boyd has said she was fired from her job in the County Clerk's Office when Tommy Lafferty, Jr., was appointed.

We, the undersigned, want to set the record straight. When Tommy Lafferty took over the Clerk's office, Carla Boyd or no other employee was fired. What actually happened was that Carla Boyd QUIT her job. She was asked to stay on and help with the transition, but refused to. We feel like it's time for the truth to be told.

CARLA BOYD WAS NOT FIRED. SHE QUIT. We are making this statement because we want to end the misrepresentations and rumors.

ALTERNATIVE MORTGAGES

What do you do after you have found that perfect house you always wanted? Simple, you secure a mortgage to pay for it.

"With today's high interest rates, consumers are discovering that the traditional fixed rate, fixed term, level payment mortgage is difficult to secure and can produce payments larger than the family budget will allow," says Attorney General Steven L. Beshear.

There are already alternative mortgages available to meet the needs of the consumer, builder and lender. These alternative methods of home financing are the flexible rate, graduated payment, and shared appreciation. The terms of these mortgages are more complicated than the traditional mortgage and the wise consumer should understand each type thoroughly to determine the mortgage that will best suit his/her needs before signing.

Flexible rate mortgages permit the lender to raise or lower the interest rate during the life of the mortgage. There are two types of flexible rate mortgages—renegotiable rate mortgages and variable rate mortgages.

Renegotiable rate mortgages are issued for a term of three to five years at a specific rate. At the end of the specified period, the mortgage can be renewed for another three to five years at a higher or lower rate. The lender is required to automatically renew the loan and give the borrower 90-days notice of changes in the interest rate. An unhappy homebuyer has the opportunity to seek more favorable interest rates with another lender.

Variable rate mortgages are related to the interest rate that the lender must pay for the money it lends. The interest rate can change as often as every six months. This type mortgage should not be used by anyone whose budget does not have room for a possible increase in housing outlay.

Graduated payment mortgages make it easier for first time homebuyers to acquire a house. Monthly payments are lower initially and rise each year for five years and level off at an amount higher than the borrower would pay for a standard fixed rate loan. For example, a $50,000 loan issued at 14 percent would cost the consumer $461 the first year compared to $592 with a fixed rate loan. The amount rises annually until the monthly payment reaches $616.

Shared appreciation mortgages allow the borrower to lower the interest rate by an agreed upon percentage in exchange for a percentage of the house's appreciation when the house is sold. These mortgages are advantageous to young buyers enabling them to purchase more house than they could afford on the fixed rate mortgage and advantageous to the elderly buyer who cannot afford big payments and who expect to own their house the rest of their life.

Consumers should be aware that a mortgage agreement of this type might state that the lender can collect its share of the appreciation after 10 years even if the house hasn't sold. Also, the shared appreciation mortgage is a poor choice for the do-it-yourselfers. Home improvements done by a contractor can be subtracted from the net profits before the lender collects its share, but the most a do-it-yourselfer can deduct is the cost of the material. The value a homeowner adds through his own labors is shared by the lender.

Attorney General Beshear reminds consumers that to prevent problems when purchasing a house, read the agreement carefully and be sure you understand it thoroughly.

If you would like more information about alternative mortgages or would like to file a consumer complaint, call or write the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601, or call the toll free Consumer Hotline: 1-800-432-9257.

AAA Suggests Guidelines For Driving When Alone

Traveling alone in a car for extended periods can be demanding, particularly when you have no one to talk to or share the chore of driving.

The Blue Grass Automobile Club-AAA suggests these guidelines for a safer, more worry-free trip:

Have a well-mapped route. When traveling to unfamiliar places it is probably better to take the most direct roads. This should result in less confusion and reduce the possibility of getting lost. If you are an AAA member, the Automobile Travel service will prepare a routing for you.

Protect yourself and your belongings. Always keep doors locked.

Do not carry large sums of cash. Travelers checks are better in that they offer the convenience of money, the security of checks, and can be replaced if lost or stolen.

Never leave valuables in the car where they can be seen, and perhaps taken. Such items are safer in the trunk.

Keep a CB radio in your car and tune to the emergency channel (often nine) if you need assistance. The police usually monitor this channel and respond to people in distress.

If your car breaks down, pull as far off the road as possible. Raise your hood, turn on emergency flashers and then remain in your car with the door locked. If someone stops to offer help only lower the window far enough to ask him to call a towing service or the police.

If you ever think you are being followed, look for a police or fire station. If one is not close by, go to a place where there are other people and a phone.

While on the road, if someone honks and points to your tires or another part of your car, do not stop until you have reached an area where you are not alone. Sometimes, people will use this ploy to set up others for a robbery.

Avoid driving at night when visibility is reduced. Also, it may be difficult to find automobile service facilities and restaurants open during late evening hours.

Stopping periodically for coffee or a short rest will refresh you and make the trip more enjoyable.

Do not risk falling asleep behind the wheel. If you get tired, look for a rest area or hotel. It is not advisable to park on the shoulder of the road where the chance of being struck by another vehicle is increased. If you must sleep in the car, keep the windows slightly open for air. It is important to turn off the engine because carbon monoxide fumes can seep into the car and cause poisoning.

Before you begin your trip, have the car checked by a mechanic to make sure there are no major problems.

Carry emergency equipment such as a flashlight, flares, and a first aid kit. Keep the gas tank at least half full, especially when traveling a major highway where there may be long distances between stations.

Keep some form of identification in your car preferably on a card that has the following information clearly written or typed:

1. Your full name.
2. Address (including city and state).

3. Your home phone number (including area code).

4. The name, address, and phone number of an individual to contact in case of emergency.

5. List any medications you are allergic to, and/or medical conditions from which you suffer that may require special attention if you are injured or become ill.

Taking a few precautions can make your trip a pleasant event to remember. For more tips on travel, contact Blue Grass-AAA at 233-1111, or toll-free 1-800-432-0996.

'Cosmos' Returns to KET

"Cosmos," the weekly public television series devoted to astronomy and space exploration, encores on KET, beginning Saturday, May 7, at 8 p.m., with a repeat on Sundays at 7 p.m.

Carl Sagan, Pulitzer Prize-winning author and professor at Cornell University, hosts the 13-part series, taking his viewers on a ten-billion light-year journey from the outer expanses of the universe to the earth. Sagan blends the newest in scientific fact and theory with his own fresh and inspiring perspective on man's niche in the universe.

In addition to Sagan's unique approach, the program has also been applauded for its special visual effects. Sagan invites the viewer to board "the spaceship of the imagination" and see galaxies, pulsars, and planets through the spaceship's huge window. A group of astronomers and space artists collaborated to create these special effects, which are authentic-looking and not previously achieved on television or in feature films.

"Cosmos" was produced by Carl Sagan Productions and KCET, Los Angeles.

What Is Head Start

Project Head Start is a federally funded child development program serving 3 to 6 year old children from low-income families. Ten percent of the children may be from families whose income exceeds federal poverty guidelines. Another ten percent of the children, those with handicapping conditions, are provided with experiences to play and learn with non-handicapped children.

Head Start programs operate under annual grants from the Department for Health and Human Services/Administration for Children, Youth and Families. Program staff plan Head Start activities and services with the assistance of parents and area residents. They also work with other community agencies to insure that children and families receive needed services.

If you are interested in enrolling your child in the Rural Child Care Project Head Start Program, please contact: Floyd County Rural Child Care Project at 886-3548 (between hours 8:00 a.m.-3:30 p.m.)

The Rural Child Care Project is recruiting handicapped children to take part in the program.

The children are being enrolled to use the full range of Head Start education, health and other program services under a Congressional Mandate providing ten percent of Head Start enrollment nationwide for the handicapped.

The mixing of handicapped and non-handicapped children is expected to give all the children a valuable experience in learning to understand and respect differences among people.

For more information or to enroll a child, call (886-3548) 8:00-3:30 p.m. or come by the Rural Child Care Project Floyd County Office at Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Bldg. Prestonsburg, Ky.

Deficit Forces Pike College To Cut Back

Faced with a $300,000 deficit, Pikeville College is taking drastic measures to ward off financial disaster.

In a recent convocation at the College Dr. Jackson O. Hall, president, announced:

- The faculty will be reduced.
- A dormitory will be closed.
- Tuition fees will be raised.
- And the sports program will be curtailed, eliminating both baseball and tennis.

Hall said he had notified the faculty members involved that they would be paid through August under their contracts, though their teaching duties would end with the current semester.

"We are going to solve our problems, but I also want to tell you that it is going to hurt, because it is going to involve people," he told about 300 students at Tuesday's meeting.

The college will drop baseball and tennis, though men's and women's basketball will be retained, Hall told the group.

When the players walked out, Hall said, "I hurt for you."
 "But if I had to have one overriding priority, it is to sustain this institution," he said.

Hall said later he could not predict how long the belt-tightening would last. "We will respond as reality confronts us," he said.

Hall said the faculty of 45 at the 96-year-old college will be cut by 12, reducing the faculty payroll of just over $1 million by about $210,000, or 20 percent.

The non-academic staff of about 70 will be cut by 15, reducing the nonacademic payroll of $985,000 by about $220,000, he said.

"Bridging" among departments will enable the school to continue essential programs, Hall said,—warning employees against "turf-oriented" thinking. "We need to come together and make it work," he said.

The United Presbyterian Church-affiliated college will retain programs in music, fine arts and the humanities that separate it from vocational schools, he said.

Tuition will be raised from $2,825 to $2,900 a year, and one of the five dormitories will be closed to save maintenance and utility costs. All three dormitories have occupancy rates of less than 50 percent, Hall said.

An additional $200,000 will be saved through more efficient use of buildings and utilities.

Hall said losses that led to the cost-cutting measures included $600,000 in federal and state support for college programs last year, and spending of $350,000 on roof repairs needed to prevent weather damage to buildings.

Enrollment declined from 550 in the fall of 1981 to about 500 last fall, mostly because of the loss of 50 federally subsidized students in the school's mining technology program. Enrollment has declined to about 460 in the current semester, Hall told reporters later.

He said the college trustees instructed him to plan for an enrollment of 425 for the coming fall semester and $1.1 million in gifts to the school.

That will mean cutting the general operating budget from this year's $3.3 million to about $2.7 million, he said.

Hall said the trustees were planning conservatively.

Enrollment could be higher than 425, based on applications received so far, and gifts to the college totaled $1.2 million last year, he said.

MAYBE IT WAS ALL THE RAIN, or the unstable nature of the shale and decomposing sandstone which form the cliffs along U.S. 23. Certainly the design of the road cuts which ignore any sort of terracing played a part. But whatever the reason, a recent rockfall from the cliff just north of the college here blocked traffic for a time and occupied road crews for several hours. Such slides are common and make the heavily-travelled route one of the more risky stretches of highway around.

Heartworm in Dogs Is Growing Problem

By Mahendra R. Varia, D.V.M.,
 Martin Animal Hospital

One of the major diseases affecting dogs in this country is on the increase. It is heartworm disease.

A serious and potentially fatal disease, it has spread over the past 20 years from the southeastern states, along the Mississippi and Ohio River valleys, to other parts of the country, eastern Kentucky included.

Unfortunately, the disease does not produce obvious signs until it is well-advanced. The signs then depend on the concentration in the dog of the worms that cause the disease.

The most obvious signs are a persistent soft, dry cough, shortness of breath, weakness, listlessness and nervousness. After exercise, an infected dog may even faint. Hunting dogs tire quickly and refuse to hunt.

In most cases, whether there are signs of the disease or not, a diagnosis of heartworm disease can be made by a fairly simple blood test. While a treatment is available, however, prevention is better.

Because mosquitoes play a role in the heartworm life cycle, preventive medicine is administered to dogs, as a daily dose in liquid or tablet form, from a couple of weeks before to a couple of weeks after the mosquito season.

The worm from which the disease takes its name lives as an adult in the heart and adjoining blood vessels of infected dogs. The female adult is 6 to 14 inches long; the male is smaller.

Heartworm disease is not spread directly from dog to dog, but by medium of mosquitoes. Outdoor dogs in heavily wooded areas are most likely to be become infected. There is no evidence to suggest that breed, sex or length of hair have anything to do with a dog's susceptibility to the disease.

Over the five years or so that they live, female adult worms produce millions of young, called microfilariae, which live in the dog's blood stream. If a mosquito, in drawing blood from an infected animal, swallows some microfilariae, they further develop in the mosquito, entering its saliva, and may pass from there into another dog, where they grow to adulthood.

Heartworm disease is now being diagnosed more frequently in cats also.

The first federal legislation that sought to bring industry into depressed areas and train workers in those areas was the Area Redevelopments Act in 1961, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Howell Cautions Magistrates On Use Of County Equipment

Magistrates shouldn't be working county equipment and certainly not on private property, a state official warned members of the fiscal court here Friday.

"When you leave (this meeting), you're out of business," Al Howell, an advisor with the state Finance and Administration Cabinet told the court. "You can't do a thing."

Howell's remarks were prompted by a complaint he said he had received "from a Floyd county citizen who shall remain nameless" that county equipment had been seen working on a private lot and a church property.

A property owner on Bryant Branch, which runs into Left Beaver Creek between Hi Hat and Price, admitted this week that county equipment was used to prepare house sites on his tract.

Renewing a theme to which he has returned several times since the state began paying closer attention to Floyd county government some 15 months ago, Howell made it clear to the magistrates that they risk criminal indictment if they send county crews or equipment out on private jobs. Officials in another county are currently facing charges of official misconduct, he noted pointedly.

(Some 86 indictments were returned recently against the judge-executive and three magistrates in Wayne county. They are accused of having the county pay for rock put on private property.)

Magistrates Ed Caudill and Kenneth Roberts, who took Howell's comments as a condemnation of the magistrates' practice of grading cemetery roads and digging graves for poor families, defended it as an expected and compassionate custom. The person who complained to Howell was a woman who became disgruntled when she was denied a beer license, Caudill charged.

About a week before Howell's report, an anonymous caller told The Times that county equipment had been used on a private tract and on church grounds at Price. A county bulldozer and truck were used two or three days to prepare house sites on property belonging to a Mullins family on Bryant Branch and a county truck was used on a job at the Little Nancy Regular Baptist Church, the caller said.

Frank Mullins confirmed Monday that county equipment was used to prepare house sites on his Bryant Branch property. The work was done by his son, Ronny Mullins, who is a county bulldozer operator, and by Eugene Collins, he said.

Magistrate Caudill, in whose district the property lies, said he authorized road repairs at the Little Nancy Regular Baptist Church and on the Bryant Branch road and conceded that the younger Mullins "might have done something" on his father's property. Another Bryant Branch property owner, Dave Collins, used a county bulldozer to clear a fire break on his tract, Caudill added.

The matter was being "stirred up" by a family whose application for a beer license was temporarily blocked by the Little Nancy church, he said.

Howell said he informed Raymond M. Larson, director of the state Attorney-General's special prosecutions division, of the complaint he had received. Larson advised him to forward the information to local prosecutors for presentation to a grand jury.

Even where county roads are involved, it is not up to individual magistrates to decide what roadwork will be done and when, Howell told the court. Rather, they should each submit a road plan for their district, the plans should be voted on by the fiscal court, and the work should be done under the supervision of the county roads foreman, he said.

The apparent misuse of county equipment may be only one of a number of matters concerning county officials to be submitted to a grand jury in the wake of a state police investigation of county government which is said to be continuing here this week.

Expenses paid to magistrates is one question that appears likely to come up for review. Each magistrate is entitled to a $300-a-month expense allowance—a total of $7200 for the four magistrates over a six-month period. In the last six months of last year, however, an additional $4141 was paid to the magistrates in expenses and a further $6743 was charged to credit cards to which the magistrates, judge-executive, deputy judge and county personnel officer had access.

State Local Finance Officer Robert L. Purdom advised the court in February that, before they are paid expenses in excess of the $300 allowed each month, magistrates must document all that month's expenses.

(Marshall County Attorney Martin Johnson last week filed suit to find out whether he should collect about $24,000 in undocumented expenses paid to magistrates over a three-year period. In a dispute between Johnson county fiscal court and former Johnson county magistrate Arthur Ray Picklesimer, the Kentucky Court of Appeals ruled in 1978 that the county had to pay the former official his expense allowance "as expenses are documented.")

Pike College Chorale To Perform At Drift

The Pikeville College Chorale, soon to make a trip to Europe, will return to the church where the dream of the European trip originated.

On Sunday, April 24, at 7 p.m., the Chorale will present a concert at the Drift Presbyterian Church. It was there, as part of the church's 25th anniversary celebration in 1981, that the Chorale began seriously to raise the funds necessary for the European undertaking. Now, a year and a half later, they are returning to Drift, shortly before leaving for Europe on June 5.

The Chorale is directed by Jeffrey Sandborg, and their program includes a variety of sacred and secular works. The public is invited to the concert, with an offering taken to be given to the group. Following the musical program, the church will host a reception for choir members and those in attendance. The pastor of the church is the Rev. Timothy Jessen, and Scott Barlow is the seminary intern there.

Celebrates Birthday

Bryan Aaron Bates, son of Geraldine Bates, of Martin, celebrated his sixth birthday, March 31, at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ritchie, of Wayland. Many friends and relatives attended, and he received many gifts.

To Hold Open House For Alice McDonald

Alice McDonald, Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be the guest of honor at a reception in Prestonsburg Sunday, April 24. Parents, teachers, administrators, elected officials, and community leaders of Floyd county are invited to meet Mrs. McDonald at the home of Chalmer and Kathryn Frazier, 102 E. Court Street in Prestonsburg, from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

"To meet Alice is to support her" said Kathryn Frazier, chairperson and hostess of the event. "Alice is a serious candidate who is concerned about quality education for our children. The office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction exerts a continuous impact on the schools, students, and teachers of our state. That's why it's important that Mrs. McDonald's candidacy be given serious consideration by everyone who cares about the present and future of Kentucky's children."

"Mrs. McDonald believes that Kentucky's school children should be given what they deserve—a quality education," Mrs. Frazier added. "In order to provide the best possible educational opportunities, everyone must work together in shaping our public schools."

PHS Wins One, Loses One In Baseball Play

Faced with unpredictable weather, high school baseball has proceeded, nonetheless.

For the Prestonsburg Blackcats, play over the past week brought a win and a loss. PHS fell to the Betsy Layne Bobcats, 9-8, in a close one Thursday at Allen with John Hale pitching the first four innings of the game for P'burg and Todd Naim taking the loss.

Russell Shepherd's baseball Blackcats' luck changed Saturday in a game at the Wayland field as his team won over Allen Central High School, 9-2. Winning pitcher for the 'Cats was Rodney Hall who hurled all seven innings. A homerun was turned in by Greg Shepherd.

PHS Places Fourth In Weight Event

Prestonsburg Blackcats, competing in the Rowan County Invitational Weight Lifting meet last Saturday at Morehead, came in fourth with Rowan county, Western Hills, Knox Central, Lynn Camp, Lexington's Henry Clay, Bryan Station, Belfry, Franklin County, Breathitt, County, Virgie, and Harrison County also participating.

Individual awards won by Prestonsburg were the following:

James Little, second place overall, 165 lb. division; John DeRossett, third place overall, 195 lb. division; Randall Hager, third place overall, heavyweight division; Clyde Johnson, fourth place overall, 210 lb. division; Butch Carr, fourth place overall, 155 lb. division.

Others attending the meet from here were Michael Blackburn, John Anderson, Randall Stone, Chris Snodgrass, Ricky Thacker and Ronnie Slone. All are members of the Blackcat football team who are taking part in the football team's off-season power weight training program.

Gilliam To Play For Eagles

Linebacker John Gilliam, a standout at Prestonsburg High School, will be playing football for coach Steve Loney's Morehead State University Eagles next season.

Gilliam, a 6-2, 190-pound resident of Rt. 3, Pikeville, was an outstanding linebacker for the Black Cats, earning third team All-State and Ashland Daily Independent All-Area honors, as well as being named the 1982 Prestonsburg High football MVP.

Gilliam has earned the praise of both Eagle defensive line coach Mike Kolakowski and Loney.

"He will probably play inside linebacker for us. That's where we have our sights set for him," Kolakowski said.

"I wanted to play sports in college," said Gilliam. "Sports have been a big part of my life. I visited Morehead's campus, and the program looked real nice. Coach Loney seems to know what he's doing. He's got a good program going," he added.

Phillip Haywood, who coached Gilliam at Prestonsburg, praised him as a consistent player with an eye for reading plays.

"He was our leading tackler, the last three years," Haywood said. "He was very consistent, and I think he played better in our more important games. He consistently led our team in tackles from week to week. He has that sixth sense of knowing where the ball is going, and one of his exceptional talents is the ability to get to the football."

Ranier-Yarborough Team Places Sixth At Darlington

When Times photographer Ken Peters travelled to Darlington, S. C. earlier this month along with a couple of friends and fellow racing enthusiasts, he was able to grab a few shots from the pit area of the Ranier racing team. In the above photo, Ranier's driver, long-time N.A.S.C.A.R. ace Cale Yarborough, waits as crew chief Waddell Wilson finishes some last minute tune-up work on the Chevrolet sponsored by Hardee's Restaurants. At right, Prestonsburg native Harry H. Ranier, owner, watches during the prestigious Trans-South 500 (formerly Rebel 500) as Yarborough moves from 14th starting position to finish sixth.

Winner of the race was the Skool Bandit Buick owned by actor Burt Reynolds and producer-stuntman Hal Needham, and driven by Harry Gant. Second place was captured by Owensboro, Ky. native Darrell Waltrip, who was a visitor at Music-Carter-Hughes Chevrolet-Buick here in recent months.

Of the four N.A.S.C.A.R. races which the Ranier team has entered thus far in the young season, two—the Daytona 500 and Atlanta Journal 500—have been victories.

Ranier now resides near Lexington.

PHS Tennis Team Off To Good Start

Prestonsburg High School's tennis team may be a regional powerhouse this year if the quality of play displayed over the past week is any indication.

Overwhelming wins over Hazard and Lawrence County schools and a narrow loss to Bath County in the first games of the new season give Coach Lois Crum a lot to be happy about.

The team is led this year by four veteran senior players which includes Doug Adams, Ted George, Todd Johnson and Jeff Cook. Four good grade school players add to the team's overall strength. They include Aaron Crum, David Spradlin and Mike Ousley, who were starters last year, and Brent Music, new member on the squad. The team is backed up by a strong junior varsity team as well.

The first team meet of the year took the Blackcats to Perry county where Coach Jean Shackelford's Hazard High School team was stunned as PHS walked away with eight match wins to only one for Hazard.

Next game for PHS found the squad playing host to last year's regional winning team, Bath County. A very close contest throughout, Coach Teresa Taylor's team was declared the winner only after the last match of the day in which seniors Doug Adams and Ted George suffered a heartbreaking loss, 10 games to 12, to regional singles champ, Glen Conyers and his partner, Daryl Grimes. The loss was an "official" defeat for the Prestonsburg squad although two "practice matches" for Bath County saw PHS's David Spradlin win over Matt Richardson, 8-0, and Spradlin-Cook defeating Richardson-Bailey, 8-1, victories, which, had they been official, would have meant an overall win for PHS.

Hosting the Lawrence County team, Prestonsburg easily defeated Coach

Ed Frye's squad, winning all six singles matches. In doubles competition Coach Crum gave some junior varsity players match experience with Ousley and Music winning their doubles match easily over junior varsity team members and fifth graders Jon Spradlin and Craig Collins losing by only a slim margin to two Lawrence County seniors. Then, eighth graders John Gray and Cliff Miller won easily over the number three Lawrence County team. Prestonsburg won by a score of eight matches to one.

In Monday afternoon's contest with Paintsville, Prestonsburg scored a shot-out victory with the PHS varsity boys dominating in singles play with the same result in doubles, even though P'burg played their seventh and eighth players against Paintsville's top squad members. Final score in the meet was P'burg 9, Paintsville 0.

Allen May Ask Judge To Call Special Probe

Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen announced this week that he will ask Circuit Judge Hollie Conley to call a special grand jury session if the investigation now being made by the Kentucky State Police uncovers evidence of criminal violations in the conduct of the county's fiscal affairs.

"This is something I have not gone out looking for, and it will bring strong pressures on me personally, but I feel it is my duty to lead such an investigation if the State Police indicate it needs to be done," Allen said.

The next regular grand jury will convene May 2, but it is doubtful that the State Police probe, now just getting under full steam, will be completed before it adjourns. In that case, Allen said, he will ask for the special panel.

"Whether the police report comes in time for the regular grand jury or not, I believe a special panel should be convened, with this matter its sole or main interest," he added.

DAY HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Prestonsburg Day Homemakers' Club met at Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church, Tuesday afternoon of last week, with president, Mrs. Mary Sue Moore, presiding. The devotionals were led by Mrs. Lucy Regan, who based her discussion on the Song of Solomon. The president suggested that members who had not contributed to the Ovarian Cancer Fund, do so during that meeting. Mrs. Frances Pitts, home economist for this county, asked that persons who plan to attend the forthcoming Cultural Arts Camp send their registration forms to her soon. Mrs. Moore announced the Nominating committee for the purpose of selecting officers and committee chairmen for 1982-'83. They are Mrs. Mabel Donahoe, Mrs. Phyllis Herrick, and Mrs. Judy Kittle.

Mrs. Beckye Short gave a brief skit on the topic for the day, "Appearance Makes the Difference," and a discussion on this subject was given by Mrs. Mary Sue Moore, as Mrs. Frances Pitts presented slides.

Mrs. Pitts said that the lesson on "The Hanging and Matting of Pictures" would be given at the Floyd County Library, April 29, by a representative of the University of Kentucky.

The hostesses, Mesdames Mary Jane Brown, Gladys Howard and Rebecca Vaughan, served a dessert course to guests, Mesdames Grace Boyd, Sue Calhoun and Stella Hall, a new member, Mrs. Ellen M. Messer, and other members, Mesdames Frances Pitts, Mary Sue Moore, Dorothy Stover, Becky Short, Stella Spurlock, Phyllis Herrick, Docia Woods, May K. PBS in the spotlight

Dr. Carl Sagan explores the origin and diversity of life on Earth in the second episode of PBS' "Cosmos," airing Sunday, April 24.

Sagan's cosmic fugue

How did life on Earth begin? Do other planets have life? In "One Voice in the Cosmic Fugue," the second episode of "Cosmos," airing Sunday, April 24 on PBS, Dr. Carl Sagan, the distinguished Pulitzer Prize-winning author, explores the origin, evolution and diversity of life on Earth, showing the underlying similarity hidden within the variety of living creatures. (Please check local listings for time.)
The "Cosmic Calendar" pinpoints the beginnings of life on Earth and shows the evolution of plants, dinosaurs and mammals. With stunning computer animation, the heart of the living cell is entered to examine DNA, the master molecule of life.
To understand how evolution occurs, Dr. Sagan follows the story of the Japanese Heike crab, which humans have changed in form by selecting which crabs should live and which should die.
Spectacular animation sequences trace the evolution of human beings from one-celled organisms in the primitive ocean. The creatures of other planets, if any, also will have evolved to fit their particular alien environments.

The Charlie Daniels Band's "Windows" album is catching a lot of attention from the design world. "Windows" has been selected for cover art inclusion in the 25th annual exhibition at New York's Society Museum of American Illustration Galleries. The LP, released in March 1982, was the CDB's 14th LP and has been certified gold.

Ronnie McDowell has just finished a three-week tour promoting his newest Epic LP, "Personally." The tour was coordinated with Epic Records, in an effort for Ronnie to personally meet with radio personnel and retail outlet accounts in markets including Dallas, Shreveport, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Amarillo, Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Jose, Seattle, El Paso, Denver, Houston and Fresno.

Dobro picker Jerry Douglas has been in the studio for sessions on an upcoming Rounder Records album. Banjo player Bela Fleck is also working with Douglas on the sessions.

Louise Mandrell's records aren't the only thing she's selling these days. In a recent promotion, a Nashville radio station netted $400 for a coconut cake the RCA artist had donated to the charity bake sale for the Easter Seals.

The Mandrell dessert was purchased by the staff of Nashville's Cumberland Music Publishing after an hour of on-the-air bidding. Of 27 cakes sold during the charity event, Louise's sold for the highest price.

At the "cook's" request, the cake was delivered to the Vanderbilt Children's Hospital, along with a box full of Louise Mandrell albums and autographed photos.

Jeanne Pruitt, the Four Guys, Stonewall Jackson, Rayburn Anthony and Tommy Overstreet have completed sessions at Nashville's Sound Emporium for Audiograph Records. Each artist has also completed live tracks and video tapings at the Cannery and the Four Guys Harmony House.

Roy Clark has been spending time at Sound Emporium taping commercials for The Nashville Network.

Fashionable Linda Dano has flair for design

By Connie Passalacqua

Linda Dano

Joan Collins as Alexis Carrington Colby on "Dynasty" may well be the best-dressed actress on television, but she's got serious competition from "Another World's" Linda Dano, who plays flamboyant romance novelist Felicia Gallant.

Felicia's passion for outrageous outfits and high-fashion clothing reflects Miss Dano's longtime real-life interest. A year ago, she turned her fashion flair into a successful sideline business.

"I've always loved coordinating outfits and wardrobes for friends," she says. "A few years back while I was playing Gretel Cummings on 'One Life to Live,' I helped Robin (Strasser, who plays Dorian Callison) and Jacquie (Courtney, who plays Pat Ashley Lord) create their own personal wardrobes. I've always loved fashion and dabbled in it. So I decided to turn it into a business and it has just skyrocketed."

Miss Dano has created wardrobes for such personalities as tennis star Billie Jean King and daytime actresses Kathleen Noone (Ellen Dalton, "All My Children") and Mary Murray (Becky Abbott, "OLTL"). She also sells clothing to costume designers of five daytime dramas.

"I'm another store for them," she explains. "Since I'm in the soap business, I know all the characters they have to buy for and it helps. My calling card is that I'm very good at finding things no one else can — from designers no one has heard of yet, to samples, or custom-made items."

Miss Dano does not sell to "AW" costume designer Lewis Brown, but she does assist him in dressing Felicia. "She's the kind of woman who would never be seen in anything twice. Lewis designs a specific outfit and together we jazz it up with all kinds of jewelry and other accessories. Felicia is much more flamboyant than Linda Dano. I love to wear the latest styles — but Felicia is always three steps ahead of me!"

Police Chief's Suit Dismissed By Judge

A charge brought by Prestonsburg Police Chief James Curtis against City Council Member Eunice Shepherd has been dismissed in district court here. Curtis had accused Shepherd of disseminating information contained in a private letter that had been stolen, by an unknown person, from his office desk.

While the statute under which she was charged protects the privacy of sealed letters, what she had in her possession pertaining to the police officer was a copy of an unsealed letter, Shepherd said in an affidavit filed with the court. She does not know how the letter originally came to be copied but assumes the person who brought a copy to her did so in the belief that, as a member of the city council, she should be made aware of its contents, Shepherd said.

In dismissing the case, District Judge Harold Stumbo said he was of the opinion that the activity of which Shepherd was accused was not a crime.

Sentenced in district court, following guilty pleas or verdicts, were:

David Wyatt, disorderly conduct, $87 in fine and costs, to stay away from complainant for one year; Gary D. Meade, West Prestonsburg, criminal trespass, drunk, 30 days' jail, $200.50 in fine and costs; Pamela Carver, Printer, drunk, $149; Marion Kilburn, Martin, no license, registration plates or insurance sticker, drunk driving, $58; Ballard Brown, Allen, drunk driving, $137.50; Delmer Perry, Topmost, drunk driving, $137.50, alcoholic driver education (ADE); Jimmy McKinney, McDowell, drunk driving, $137.50, ADE; Dennis Bradford, Blue River, overdue load, $20, suspended, $37.50 in costs; Billy Hicks, Prestonsburg, speeding, $37.50, state traffic school (STS).

Teresa J. Whitten, Mays Branch, speeding, $37.50, STS; Roberta K. Holderby, Martin, speeding, $37.50, STS; Charlie Adams, Toler Creek, drunk driving, $147.50, no license, 30 days, probated, $27; Allen Tackett, Melvin, drunk driving, amended to public drunk, 30 days, probated for one year, $97.50; Sandra Bailey, Harold, passing stopped school bus, amended to disorderly conduct, $37.50; Billy Davis, Garrett, drunk and criminal mischief, 30 days, $107.50; Jeffery Caudill, Prestonsburg, drunk, 30 days, $57.50; Charles L. Keathley, Banner, drunk, $57.50.

Former Floyd Man Elected Chairman Of MSU Regents

Jerry F. Howell, Sr., of Jackson, formerly of Floyd county, has been elected chairman of the Morehead State University board of regents.

Howell, a regent since 1968 and the board's vice-chairman since 1976, was chosen by unanimous vote. He succeeds former chairman Lloyd Cassity, of Ashland, who remains on the board.

Robert M. (Mike) Duncan, of Inez, bank president and attorney, was elected vice chairman, also on a unanimous vote. Carol Johnson and John Graham, both of Morehead, were reelected secretary and treasurer, recently.

In other action at the special meeting, the Regents adopted new admissions standards recently approved by the Council on Higher Education.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Jeanetta (June) Mollett wish to thank all those who were so kind to us upon her passing. We thank all who sent flowers or brought food, or expressed sympathy in any way. We also thank Dr. Arnett and his staff, the ministers for their comforting words, and the Jones and Preston Funeral Home.

Election Result In Pike To Slow Floyd Co. Sales

When the city of Pikeville voted wet last week, dries in Pikeville and some wet in Floyd county mourned.

The 97-vote wet majority polled in Pikeville and the certainty that legal sales of liquors and beer there will begin within a few weeks were particularly discouraging to three Floyd liquor dealers located near the Floyd-Pike line. These liquor outlets are:

P & S Liquors, and 23 Liquors, both at Harold, only eight miles from Pikeville and barely a mile outside Pike county; and J & J Liquors at Stanville, a bit farther north on US 23.

P & S Liquors, operated by Paul Porter, was the first liquor outlet to open in Floyd county after the wet victory last year. It opened in time for the Christmas trade, and a good part of the business that poured in was from Pikeville and Pike county. He does not expect such a boom again.

But Gary Cline, manager of J & J Liquors at Stanville, sees some hope in the fact that Pikeville liquor sales will be subject to city taxes, which might drive prices there upward and make more attractive those at his and other Floyd stores, which are not yet paying such a tax.

The first pension was established in 1636 by the Plymouth Colony for disabled soldiers.

Miss DeRossett, a sophomore at Prestonsburg High School, is in the upper ten percent of her class academically. Two hundred applicants were screened for this program, and 40 high school students were accepted.

Hearing Postponed

The hearing scheduled for last Thursday in Martin circuit court on the complaint and motion by Robert L. "Bob" Marsh to have the name of Jimmy "Gabe" Turner removed from the ballot for the Democratic nomination for Third district railroad commissioner was postponed at the request of Mr. Turner's attorney, due to the death and funeral of a close Turner family friend. The hearing has been rescheduled for Friday, this week, immediately following the regular motion hour.

ACHS Star Signs With Marshall

Kim Shepherd is shown signing a letter of intent, last week, with Marshall University where she plans to attend on a basketball scholarship. Also present for the occasion were her parents, Oakie and Cassie Shepherd, at left, and her high school coach, Judy Eversole.

Her signing with Marshall follows an outstanding high school career as a member of the Allen Central High School Lady Rebs. Miss Shepherd, who started playing basketball in fifth grade, averaged 11 points per game as a freshman with Coach Judy Eversole's team at ACHS and captured honors as best rebounder for the squad which won the girls' district title that year. As a sophomore she averaged 13 points and seven rebounds a game and was named to the All-District and All-Regional teams as well as receiving All-State Honorable Mention, an honor which she repeated her last three years at ACHS.

The 6-foot center, who also maintained a 3.1 grade point average in her studies, was named All-Tourney in each tournament competition in which she participated as a junior and senior as well as receiving honors as best rebounder and offensive player. As a senior she compiled an enviable record of 54 percent on field goals, 64.3 percent free throws, nine rebounds and 31 assists per game. During her last year at ACHS she scored a total of 569 points for an average of 18 points a game.

Only Three Floyd Permits Are Issued

Of the 114 mining permits issued during March by the state Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, only three were for mines in this county, all of which were surface operations. These were issued to America Hall for two acres, Merle M. May for 1.79 acres, and the third was a revision adding two acres for a total of 26.8 acres to 3-M Development Company.

Other permits issued in surrounding counties included five in Johnson county—four surface and one underground; Knott county, one underground and three surface; Magoffin, one surface mine; Martin county, three surface. Pike county led in the number of permits issued with five for underground mines and six for surface operations.

Of the total permits issued, 86 were for surface mining activities, 22 for underground mining, four for preparation plants and two for refuse areas. The preceding authorized the disturbance of 1,433.87 new acres of land and resulted in collection of $48,230 in fees.

The first federal legislation setting a 40-hour week standard for workers engaged in interstate commerce was the Fair Labor Standards Act in 1938, according to a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

NOTICE

Due to increased cost of natural gas from our supplier, Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, the Prestonsburg City's Utilities Commission regretfully has to pass this increase on to its customers. Effective May 1, 1983, the Prestonsburg City's Utilities gas rates will be increased $.49 per thousand cubic feet of gas. The new rates are as follows:

Inside Corporation Rates
 First 1,000 cu. ft. - $6.02 minimum
 All over 1,000 cu. ft. - $5.72 per 1,000
Outside Corporation Rates
 First 1,000 cu. ft. - $7.72 minimum
 All over 1,000 cu. ft. - $6.22 per 1,000

Ask Annexation Kept Off Ballot

Although the issue of annexation by Prestonsburg of three outlying areas will not be on the ballot for the coming primary, residents of the Auxier road section, one of the three, last Thursday asked that the city be enjoined from further annexation proceedings and that the annexation issue be kept off the ballot.

The circuit court action was filed by Gary Branham and Dallas Sammons, "on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated."

Plaintiffs claim that the annexation ordinance adopted by the Prestonsburg city council is illegal, because:

—It does not comply with Kentucky statutes.

—It fails to define accurately the boundary of the territory proposed for annexation.

—The city failed to file, as required by law, a map of the area to be annexed, with a metes and bounds description, together with a copy of the ordinance, duly certified, in the county clerk's office and in the office of the secretary of state. It also failed to file a list bearing the names and addresses of property-owners and registered voters in the area.

Plaintiffs say that through their attorney they delivered to the mayor a petition bearing approximately 375 signatures in opposition to the annexation but the city's failure to file a map of the area and a list containing the names of property-owners and registered voters, made it impossible for them to determine if their petition bore the names of 50 per cent of the voters and property-owners in the area in question.

Besides the Auxier road area, annexation has been proposed for portions of Katy Friend, Lancer and West Prestonsburg. All, except West Prestonsburg, have protested annexation.

Investor-owned hospital chains, in contrast to the majority of America's 7000 non-profit hospitals, mix business acumen with creative medical care to produce healthy patients and healthy profits. Here's How

Our Low-E® Package System Takes The Hassle Out Of Home Building!

1 Under our program, you furnish the land, labor and foundation. We supply everything else. The lumber, Roofing, Siding, Doors & Windows, Plumbing, Wiring, Light Fixtures, Carpeting, Paint. All for one low price. So everything "fits" together beautifully into one well-coordinated home package.

2 Our price is guaranteed for 90 days. And in today's fluctuating commodities market, that feature alone could save you money. 90 days is usually plenty of time for materials to be delivered. So once you've picked out your paint, flooring, light fixtures, etc., the price is "locked in."

3 During actual construction, we deliver materials to the site in related shipments — not all at once. This will save construction (and labor) time, and reduces the chance of weather damage or pilferage. Everything is coordinated as much as possible, so worries are as small as possible.

4 Our Low-E homes are designed for maximum energy savings. With thick insulation in ceiling, walls & floor. Extensive caulking. Double-pane insulating windows. Heat pump. Attic venting system. And more. So you'll save money each month on utilities — which can make mortgage payments much easier.

5 We have a trained specialist to guide you through the entire homebuilding process. He'll help you choose the right floor plan for your needs. And he'll be there to skillfully coordinate & oversee the materials portion of your home's construction from start to finish. In other words, he'll be on your side.
