Wild Horse Adoption Fee, Less

The fee for getting a wild horse through the national Adopt-a-Horse program has been lowered by $75, according to the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management (BLM). Kentuckians may adopt a wild horse for the reduced fee of $210, or a burro for $130, at the Southeastern Adoption Center located near Cross Plains, Tennessee.

"We are reducing the fee in response to public comments we received on our new adoption regulations," BLM Eastern States Director G. Curtis Jones, Jr. said. "By lowering the fee, we hope to increase the number of wild horses adopted, reduce the cost of the program to the government, and still discourage persons who might adopt merely for purposes of commercial gain."
Some 374 residents of Kentucky have adopted 483 horses and burros since the nation-wide Adopt-a-Horse Program began in 1976. BLM opened the Cross Plains facility—the first of its kind in the East—in July 1979, in order to make it more convenient for Easterners to participate in the adoption program.

Randall Carr, who operates the Cross Plains center under contract to BLM, said there are dozens of horses currently at the center to choose from, but added that he expects demand for the animals to jump with the reduction of the fee. Since opening the center more than 4,000 animals have found new homes through the Carrs' facility, which is located about 28 miles north of Nashville, Tennessee off Route I-65.

The regulations lowering the fee also require potential adopters to submit a nonrefundable $25 advance payment with their applications. The advance payment will be applied toward the adoption fee when the applicant picks up his or her animal. According to Jones, the advance payment is being imposed in order to create a more reliable applicant list. In the past year, he said, less than one applicant in ten actually adopted an animal.

Adopters who paid the $290 fee for a wild horse in Cross Plains will soon receive a $75 refund from BLM. "That money could go a long way toward adopting another animal," said Jones, who hopes many past adopters will reinvest their refund in another horse, or perhaps their first burro.

BLM runs the adoption program as a means of reducing wild horses and burro herds that crowd overgrazed public lands in the West. Since 1976, more than 42,000 horses and burros have been placed with adopters in every state but Delaware and Hawaii. Wild horses can be gentled and trained for riding, farming, and other non-commercial purposes for which domestic horses are used. Burros usually are adopted simply as pets, but also can be used as pack animals.

Adopters, who may pick up as many as four wild horses or burros in a year, must have adequate facilities for their care. For the first year following the adoption, each animal remains the property of the U.S. Government. After that, if the animal has been cared for humanely, the adopter may apply to receive title from BLM.

Information on the adoption program and application forms may be obtained by contacting the Office of Public Affairs, BLM Eastern States Office, 350 South Pickett Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22304; telephone (703) 235-2840, or by contacting Randall or Paula Carr at (615) 654-2180.

Summer Jobs Seen for 6000

Almost 6,000 summer jobs will be available to economically disadvantaged young people in 92 Kentucky counties, Human Resources Secretary Buddy Adams announced last week.

The jobs are part of the federally-funded Summer Youth Employment Program under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

"The Department of Labor has allocated more than $12.6 million to Kentucky for the program," Adams said. Human Resources will administer more than $7.5 million of that total to fund 5,898 jobs slots in the 92-county balance of state CETA prime sponsor area.

The remaining funds have been allocated to the Bluegrass Employment and Training Program, the Louisville-Jefferson County Consortium and the Eastern Kentucky Concentrated Employment Program for summer youth employment programs in those areas.

Kentuckians who are 16 through 21 years old whose family incomes are at or below the federal poverty level are eligible for jobs under the program, Adams said. Participants may work a maximum of 320 hours, or about eight weeks, during the summer. They will be paid the federal minimum hourly wage.

The jobs include repair and maintenance at local public schools, painting and repairing publicly owned parks and recreational facilities, and working at local health departments, libraries and public pools.

Last year about 6,000 youths worked in the summer youth employment program in the balance of state area. "Through turnovers, we expect to serve about 8,000 young people under this program," Adams said.

Youths who are interested in the program should contact their local Department for Manpower Services offices.

ULCERS—BLAND DIET THEORY DISPROVED

Surprising to many Americans is that a bland diet of small, frequent meals and lots of milk and cream aren't the best treatment for ulcers. That theory has been disproved by research showing that patients with normal diets healed as well or faster.

Actually, it's been found that frequent eating stimulates acid secretion leading eventually to an overall increase in gastric acidity. Milk tend to stimulate acid production in the stomach and is no longer recommended in large quantities for ulcer patients.

First Vascular Surgery At Louisa Hospital

Recently Mrs. Alice Haney, 85, made a landmark in the history of Humana Hospital, Louisa, by being the first patient to receive a femoro-popliteal bypass graft. This operation was done to improve circulation in her leg and foot. She had been suffering from severe pain in her foot and gangrene of her toe because of poor circulation. According to her surgeon, Dr. Mahbubul Islam, she would have lost her leg without the operation.

Humana Hospital at Louisa is the first such hospital in this area to have the facilities for various vascular surgical procedures.

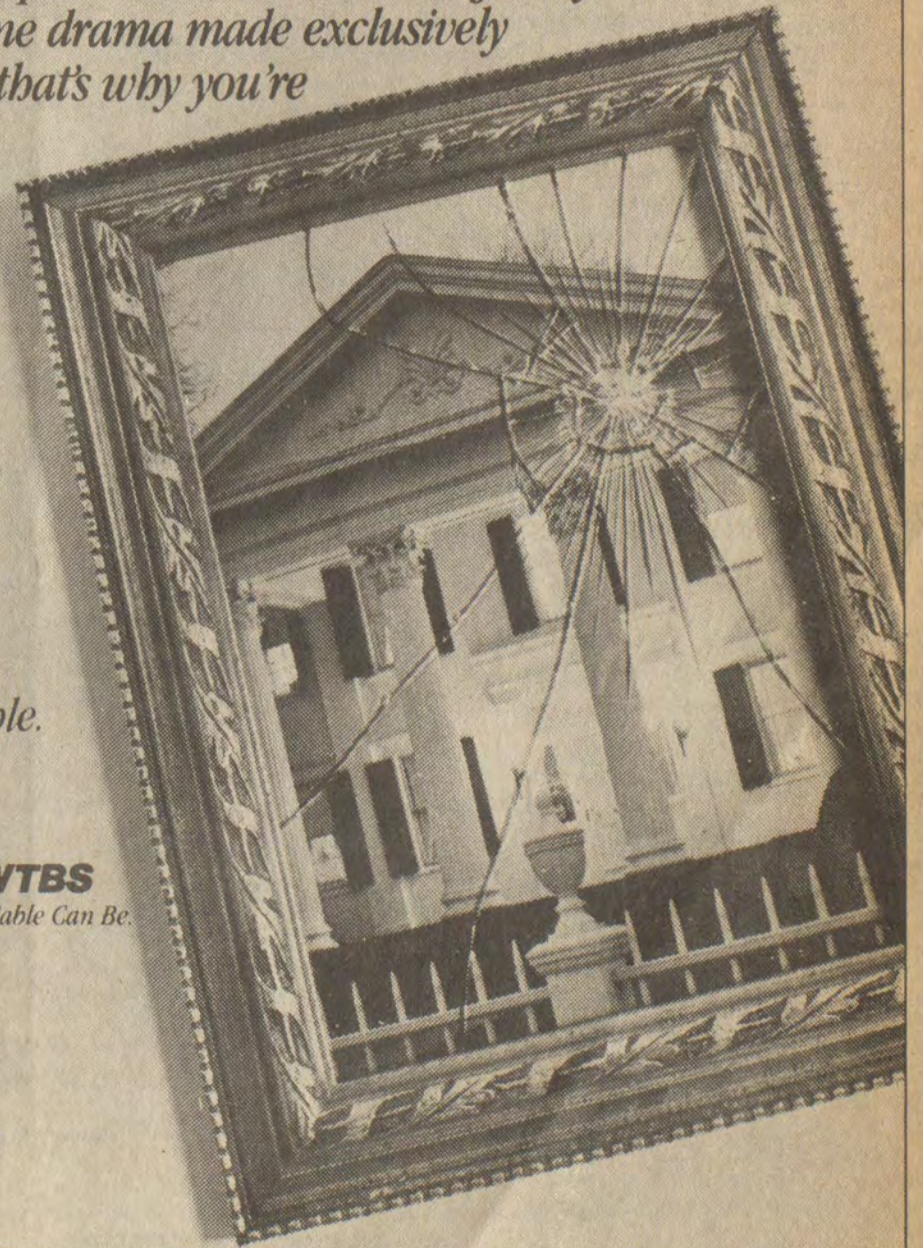

E.L. Crozier, the hospital's executive director, hopes to get Digital Angiographic Equipment for the hospital in the near future. This sophisticated X-ray machine will make various kinds of vascular examinations possible here without the need for sending the patients away to larger medical centers.

"SOLID ACCOMPLISHMENTS FOR OUR AREA"

State government has become increasingly complex. Our State Senator must have the academic training, leadership abilities and proven abilities to understand these complex issues in order to see that our area is adequately represented in all areas of state government. Senator Benny Ray Bailey has proven his ability to make state government work for us. Let's look at a few facts.

EDUCATION. Since Senator Bailey has been in the state senate, average teacher salaries have risen $5300 per year to a state average of $18,000+; transportation, power equalization, operating expense funding, capital outlay funding and programs for talented students have risen each year. Senator Bailey's amendment to the budget bill to provide for the calculation of average daily attendance on the best 7 1/4 months of the school year will mean hundreds of thousands of additional dollars for educational opportunity for our children. Senator Bailey's work for educational opportunity has earned him the endorsement of the educator's professional association, KEA.

SEVERANCE TAX. Since 1980, when Senator Bailey took office, our area has received over $6 million dollars in severance tax returns. By comparison, Floyd County has received over $1.3 million since Senator Bailey took office; in the period 1976-1979, Floyd County received $706,293. In two and one half fiscal years, Floyd County has received over $594,000 more than in the previous 4 (four) fiscal years. Senator Bailey understands that our area needs an adequate tax base to provide educational opportunity, adequate roads, services for our elderly, emergency medical services, vital services and public facilities. That's why he was manager of the severance tax return legislation in the State Senate that is bringing hundreds of thousands of additional severance tax dollars to our area.

HEALTH CARE. One of the major criteria considered by industry wanting to relocate or expand is the health care services available in an area. Senator Benny Ray Bailey understands this and has worked to improve our health care facilities and opportunities for our children to enter the health care field. Senator Bailey sponsored legislation that requires equal payment for physicians in rural areas; worked to gain approval for a medical residency program at Highlands Regional Medical Center; attached an amendment to the budget to provide for scholarships for our children to health professional schools; sponsored the nurse practice act; and chaired the committee that saved dental care services for Medicaid recipients over age 21. Because of his work for us on health care issues, Senator Bailey has been endorsed by the Kentucky Nurses Association, the Kentucky Dental Association and the hospital workers union.

KENTUCKY'S WORKING PEOPLE. The working people of Kentucky only want a decent job at adequate wages so that they can provide for themselves and their children. Senator Benny Ray Bailey has always worked hard in the State Senate for Kentucky's working people and he continues to do so. Recognizing Benny Ray's work for our working people, the United Mine Workers, the U.S. Steelworkers', the Kentucky Education Association, the United Transportation Union, and Kentucky's largest union of working people, the AFL-CIO, have endorsed Benny Ray Bailey. Working people know they have a friend in the State Senate with Senator Bailey. That's why Kentucky's working people are working now to re-elect Benny Ray Bailey.

Benny Ray Bailey has a solid record of accomplishments that all our people can be proud of. Benny Ray worked his way through college and has earned the highest academic degree awarded by the American educational system. Throughout his life, Benny Ray has proven his determination, dedication and willingness to work for his area and his people. "I have always been very proud of my area and my Mountain heritage. It's important to our people that we have the very best representation in the Kentucky legislature and I am willing to work very hard to see that the concerns and needs of our people are addressed on every issue. I don't believe in running a campaign by making promises that cannot be kept or in pointing out negative aspects of others. I sincerely believe that 'Every time you sling a little mud, you lose a little ground.' I do promise to continue to keep in touch with you, to continue to solicit your ideas and input into state government actions, to continue to be available to assist you with any problem that you bring to my attention. Together, we can continue to build on the progress we have made and make Eastern Kentucky an even better place to live and raise our children." Through his hard work and proven leadership abilities, Benny Ray Bailey has earned the respect of colleagues in the Legislature and has worked himself into responsible positions within the Legislature that reaps solid accomplishments for our area. That's why we need to keep Benny Ray Bailey in the State Senate.

LEXINGTON HERALD-LEADER ENDORSES SLOANE

REPRINTED FROM THE LEXINGTON HERALD-LEADER, SUNDAY, MAY 8, 1983

Experience makes Sloane clear choice for Democrats

Democrats trying to decide whom to vote for in their party's gubernatorial primary may not fare well if they consider only what the candidates have said on the issues.

Each of the three major candidates — Lt. Gov. Martha Layne Collins, Louisville Mayor Harvey Sloane, and former Human Resources Secretary Grady Stumbo — has a platform with some appealing ideas. But the three are in such broad agreement on most things that only voters with narrow interests are likely to be able to separate them on that basis.

But if voters consider a more general issue in this race, the choice becomes clear. That issue is the state's need for leadership, a need that is exemplified in the most obvious task awaiting the next governor: improving education so that Kentucky and its citizens can compete successfully in the new technological marketplace.

The next governor must not only improve the schools; he or she must lead the state into a new tradition of education, a tradition that rejects a sad acquiescence in mediocrity in favor of a new demand for excellence.

Leading the state into new traditions in education and other areas will require more than a platform plank, or technical skill, or innovative ideas. It will take seasoned and experienced leadership.

Harvey Sloane is the only one of the Democratic candidates whose record indicates he can provide that leadership.

Sloane is now in his second term as mayor of Louisville. During his first term (1973-77) Sloane gave the state's largest city an administration that was by all accounts clean and efficient.

As mayor, Sloane has dealt with difficult problems. He has faced a crisis over court-ordered busing, a series of tornadoes that left much of the city devastated, and potentially crippling labor problems with city workers.

Those experiences have more than qualified Sloane for the tough job of being governor. And they have broadened his political understanding.

Sloane won his first term running as a liberal who had great support among the city's black voters. That term was marked by a poor working relationship with the Louisville business community. But over the years he developed an understanding of the importance of business to the city's health, and many of Louisville's business leaders worked hard for his election when he won a second term.

Nor is Sloane only a big-city candidate. His work as a public health physician in Eastern Kentucky has given him an understanding of the problems of the mountains. His unsuccessful 1979 campaign for governor also helped give him a perspective on the problems of the entire state.

There are negative aspects to Sloane's campaign. He has not showed the vigorous attack on issues that he exhibited in 1979. His campaign has attracted an entourage of old-line political insiders whom he will have trouble controlling should he win the governorship.

But his experience sets him apart in this race. Both Martha Layne Collins and Grady Stumbo look like novices by comparison.

Martha Layne Collins claims to be experienced because of her two terms in elected statewide office. But one of those offices — clerk of the Court of Appeals — was so unnecessary that no one noticed when it was abolished by the constitutional amendment that revamped the state's court system. Despite her claims to the contrary, she has had little opportunity for meaningful experience while lieutenant governor.

Perhaps the best that can be said of her tenure as lieutenant governor is that she has resisted the temptation to take action on the numerous occasions that she has been acting governor. Besides that commendable inaction, her most notable accomplishment has been to preside over the state Senate, a duty that gave her an opportunity to cast votes against collective bargaining for teachers and statewide banking.

Those two votes are indicative of the lieutenant governor's whole claim to experience: They were symbolic but meaningless. The measures would have been defeated without her casting a tie-breaking vote against them.

Martha Layne Collins' lack of experience has been evident throughout her campaign. She has not answered questions well or easily. She seems ill at ease in situations in which she must depart from a prepared text or note cards.

Most recently her campaign has unveiled ads attacking Sloane's performance as mayor of Louisville.

One of those ads confuses increased tax receipts with increased taxes. Either that ad is intentionally inaccurate, unfair and misleading, or the lieutenant governor does not understand the difference between taxes and revenues. Neither is a comforting thought about someone who wants to be governor.

As for Grady Stumbo: He is in some ways the most attractive candidate in the race. He is energetic and plain-spoken. He is bright and is not afraid of new ideas. He rightly wants to continue the reforms in state government procedure begun in the administration of Gov. John Y. Brown Jr.

Again, though, experience is the key issue. Stumbo's only experience in public life has been his three years as head of the mammoth state Cabinet for Human Resources. In that job, Stumbo made difficult decisions. He cut the number of employees and pruned programs. He was subject to a lot of political heat and he withstood it well.

Stumbo's abilities are indisputable. But he has never held elected office. Only four years ago he was a physician in Knott County. He clearly has a future in state politics, but he equally clearly does not now have the experience to claim voters' support for the state's top elected position.

Harvey Sloane does have the experience to justify that claim. Democrats who believe their party has a duty not only to win but to lead should vote for him in the primary on May 24.

Hiring Disadvantage May Win Tax Break

Employers who hire economically disadvantaged youth this summer may be eligible for tax breaks. The federal Targeted Jobs Tax Credit program provides an employer a tax credit of 85 percent of the first $3,000 in wages for work done in any 90-day period ending on or before September 15.

The program is administered by the Cabinet for Human Resources through its Department for Manpower Services. "This is the first time employers can claim tax credits for hiring economically disadvantaged youth for summer employment," Human Resources Secretary Buddy Adams said.

An employer must have a federal tax number or have applied for one to be eligible for the program. Employees must be 16 or 17 years old upon employment, members of families that meet federal income guidelines, and meet other criteria.

The Department for Manpower Services must determine an employee's eligibility for the program. Any employer or job seeker interested in the program should contact one of the department's local offices for further information.

surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly & clearly; and listen to others, even the dull & ignorant; they too have their story. ☛ Avoid loud & aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain & bitter; for always there will be greater & lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. ☛ Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity & disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. ☛ Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue & loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. ☛ You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees & the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. ☛ Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors & aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. ☛ With all its sham, drudgery & broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Miss Ward, Mr. Turner Exchange Vows

The Community United Methodist Church in Prestonsburg was the setting for the April 2nd wedding of Miss Jerri Lynn Ward and Mr. Roger Brian Turner.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ward, of McDowell, Ky. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Turner, also of McDowell.

Mabry Holbrook, pastor of the Salisbury United Methodist Church solemnized the candlelight ceremony which took place at 6 in the evening.

Mr. Steve Johnson, Mr. Jimmy Goble, and Miss Carolyn Click, from Pikeville College, provided the nuptial music which included "Truly" and "You Gave Me Love". "You Are So Beautiful" was sung as the couple lit the wedding candle. Mrs. Kathryn Frazier served as the organist.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. The floor-length bridal gown of white chiffon and bridal satin featured a Queen Anne neckline heavily encrusted in tiny seed pearls, opalescents and alencon lace and pearl buttons. The full chiffon skirt was fashioned of satin venise lace and pearl trim as was the satin cathedral train. The alencon lace tiara headpiece was adorned with seed pearls and attached fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of large white orchids.

Mrs. Cheryl Hall, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, and Miss Jane Wallace served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Brenda Hamilton, Miss Regina Anderson, Mrs. Carolyn Martin, Miss Toby Spradlin and Miss Rose Smith. The bridesmaids wore floor-length, peach taffeta gowns featuring sweetheart necklines and Lady Di sleeves. The matron and maid of honor wore matching pearl floral taffeta gowns. Each carried long-stemmed sonia roses.

Miss Leigh Ann Hall and Miss Stacy Shepherd, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls. They wore matching floor-length gowns of peach and white ruffled lace.

Barry Hall served as the groom's best man. Groomsman were Neil Turner and Glenn Turner, brothers of the groom, Robert Newsome, Mickey Martin, Steve Newsome, and Gary Pack. Brian Lawson, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length knit chiffon gown of mauve. She wore a lavender orchid corsage.

The mother of the groom wore a floor-length gown of silver chiffon. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Beth Ward, sister-in-law of the bride, attended the guest register, and Miss Tracie Estep, of Whitesburg, and Miss Mary Ann Stanley, of Belfry, served at the cake and punch table.

The reception and dance was held at May Lodge immediately following the ceremony. A champagne toast was offered to the bride and groom by Barry Hall.

Miss Gail Collins of Formal Affairs, Ltd., directed the wedding and reception, assisted by Mrs. Sharon Campbell, of Jenny Wiley Florist.

Following a honeymoon trip, the couple is now residing in McDowell.

Cervical cancer is one of the most curable of all cancers, yet it kills 11,000 women in the United States each year.
Most of these women could have been saved if the cancer had been detected in its earliest and most treatable stages.
There is a simple test for cervical cancer, the pap test, which is a simple and painless test which takes only a few moments of a woman's time, and it could save her life.

The Floyd County Health Department is having a free pap clinic Wednesday,
May 11. This clinic is open to women of all ages, but those women age 45 and over are especially urged to take advantage of this free service since this is the high risk age for the disease.

Loss of Severance Tax Money Cited Among Road Fund Woes

(From the Legislative Record)

Whether the state can legally withhold severance-tax revenue intended for its Road Fund is a question the transportation subcommittee on highways and highway enforcement wants the attorney general to look into.

The panel voted to seek the attorney general's opinion after a representative of Kentuckians for Better Transportation—a private lobbying group—said losing the coal-tax receipts could seriously hurt the Road Fund.

"It (getting the severance-tax revenues into the Road Fund) is critical for meeting minimal needs," said Jack Fish, president of the group.

When the resource-recovery program was approved several years ago, bonds for coal-haul roads were to be paid off with severance-tax receipts transferred from the General Fund. However, with the economy still sluggish and a possible $120-million state budget shortfall looming, those funds—approximately $22 million—are not being switched over.

"It looks like we bargained in good faith and got the ax," said Sen. Gene Huff, R-London.

Fish said meeting minimal highway needs would require an additional $250 million annually.

"To maintain the fiscal integrity of the highway program, we believe the severance-tax must continue to pay off the coal-road bonds," he said.

He said the budget shuffling could mean essentially that a portion of the state motor-fuels tax would be used to pay off coal-road bonds.

"It is an unfair burden on motorists to expect them to pay for roads built to haul coal," he said.

HERE FOR WEEK-END

Mrs. Theresa Stark and daughter, Rebecca, of Ft. Mill, S.C., and Marc Bolling, of Lexington, were here during the weekend to spend Mother's Day with Mrs. Stark's and Mr. Bolling's mother, Mrs. Leonard Grant, and Mr. Grant, and their grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle B. Allen. They attended services as a family group at the First United Methodist Church, Sunday morning.

The Slones have visited Floyd county several times before, including a walk through this area in 1979. Everyone who would like to meet Mrs. Sloane is welcome to attend the coffee.

TIME FOR A CHANGE... GOODBYE, BROWN-BAILEY

RAY TURNER

For the last three and half years Eastern Kentucky has not only been forgotten by Gov. Brown and Benny Ray Bailey but has been sacrificed for the development of Louisville, Lexington, and Northern Kentucky.

Bailey traded Eastern Kentucky for personal gain, power, and ambition, while the people of the mountains have paid the price.

Bailey served on the powerful Senate Appropriations and Revenue Committee and the Rules Committee, and aided and supported Gov. Brown in:

1. Taking away the coal severance tax from the coal producing counties for two years and decreasing and stopping other program funding to the counties. As a result, Eastern Kentucky counties were put into financial crisis with state government taking over Perry and Floyd Counties' financial affairs, along with other Eastern Kentucky Counties.
2. What coal severance tax that now is being returned is much, much less than before; we have to share it with over 100 other counties, most of which produce no coal; and we are told that we will have to refund back to Frankfort a large part of this. As a result, almost all our coal county governments do not have money with which to provide needed human services and economic development.
3. Our coal counties have had less money spent on our education than the average spent in the seven surrounding states over the past three years.
4. There has been little to no road funds from Frankfort spent on our highways, putting them in the worst condition in our history. In fact, for the state budget of 1982-1983 fiscal years, over 46 million dollars was taken from the road fund for our counties and spent on other projects which primarily benefits Louisville, and Northern Kentucky.

5. While over 46 million dollars of road and highway funds was taken from us, Bailey voted for and vigorously supported Brown's increase of almost double our state gasoline tax that was supposed to be used on our roads.
6. The stopping of the reconstruction and four-laning of Kentucky Route 3 from U.S. 23 in Floyd County through Martin County, and the curtailment and cutting back of the construction of the four lane highway from U.S. 23 near Ulysses to Inez in Martin County, was done by Bailey and Brown. Had not reconstructed and four-laned Ky. Route 80 between Prestonsburg and Hazard through Knott County, and the Hazard By-Pass been funded, constructed, opened for traffic, and dedicated before December 7, 1979, — one month before Brown and Bailey took office — these two vital severance tax resource recovery road projects would have been stopped also!
7. Our utility bills have gotten so high that we cannot afford to pay them and have money to pay for food.

AREN'T YOU WORSE OFF NOW than you were when Brown and Bailey took office? CAN YOU AFFORD five more years of Bailey? DO YOU WANT someone who will work for you and not themselves?

ISN'T IT TIME FOR A CHANGE?
YES!! YES!! YES!!

RAY TURNER AS YOUR DEMOCRAT STATE SENATOR, CAN AND WILL WORK WITH ANY GOVERNOR ELECTED, AND:

1. Will work to get back our fair share of the coal severance tax that Bailey gave away.
2. Will work to get back money for our county roads and highways that Bailey gave away.
3. Will work to reduce your utility bills and see that they will not increase, unlike Bailey who allowed them to increase.
4. Will work to fund our school systems above the average of the seven surrounding states, with our teachers and educators receiving an increase in pay befitting the dignity and benefit of their profession.
5. Will protect, keep, and upgrade our county health boards and programs and not try to eliminate them the way Bailey did.
6. Will work for better and improved employment opportunities with new safe jobs through a diversified economy by helping to get new and improved water systems, sewage and garbage removal systems; to get improved and better housing for all our people; to get improved and new recreation facilities; and to help improve the quality of life for our retired and disabled citizens.
7. Will work for and give maximum support to our coal industry to help find and keep profitable coal markets with consistent production in a healthy, safe natural and work environment.
8. Will work for workman's compensation for lifetime benefits, not 425 weeks, for injured workers and coal miners — the loss of a leg, arm, hand, or a back injury is for life, not 425 weeks.
9. Will fight and work against a "Right-to-Work Law."
10. Will work for improved and better health care delivery facilities with the best trained personnel available for all our people.

VOTE RAY TURNER YOUR DEMOCRATIC STATE SENATOR

TO MEET AT LODGE
 May Lodge will be the setting for a joint luncheon-meeting for the Floyd County Retired Teachers (F.C.R.T.), and the American Association of Retired Persons (A.A.R.P.) next Thursday, beginning at 10 a.m. A program by the Floyd County Health Department will be presented. All members of both organizations, and those who may be interested in becoming members, are urged to attend.

Coal Co. Gift Boosts Summer Theatre

John McCann, managing director of the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre, accepts $5,800 check from Raymond Bradbury, president of Martin County Coal Corporation.

"The partnership between the coal industry and the Jenny Wiley Theatre is an example, for the nation, of what can be accomplished," said Managing Director John McCann after receiving a check for $5,800 from Raymond Bradbury, president of Martin County Coal Corporation. Martin County Coal is the chief corporate underwriter for the theatre's 1983 season.

In addition to the extensive renovations being made by the Department of Parks, the coal company's gift will enable the theatre to secure much needed lighting equipment, new office equipment, and renovations to the existing housing.

"More important than all these benefits is that contributions like this one mean that the Jenny Wiley Drama Association can continue to produce professional quality musicals for the people of the region, while keeping ticket prices affordable," said McCann. "A year ago people were paying $50 to see ANNIE on Broadway. The touring productions were costing about $35 per seat. This summer, a seat to see the same play will cost only $5 at Jenny Wiley. That's why we need the coal industry involved with us."

Attendance at the theatre has seen a steady increase during the past three years. In 1980 the attendance was 9,600, 1981 saw a rise to 11,400; then in 1982 a new record was set when 13,700 attended the summer productions. Projections released by the theatre call for an attendance of 16,300 in 1983.

During the past two years, JWDA has also added a creative dramatics/children's theatre day camp and a children's play tour.

"We at Martin County Coal recognize the professionalism that has been responsible for the success of the summer theatre in recent years," said Bradbury. "We feel that our contribution will further encourage that (professionalism) and wish continued success for this and future seasons."

Season tickets are now available by calling 606-886-9274 or by writing: P.O. Box 22, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653. The 1983 season opens with ANNIE on June 25. THE ROBBER BRIDEGROOM will open on June 29 and GREASE opens on July 6.

LINZIE HALE FOR CONSTABLE

DISTRICT NO. 1

NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

(Pol. Adv. Paid by Candidate, 5-11-21-pd.)

I, Linzie Hale, ask the support of all the good voters in District 1 to help me fill the vacancy created by the death of my brother, Constable Willie Hale. I am the son of James and the late Mary Marsillett Hale. I am married to Virginia Hatfield Hale, who works at Highlands Regional Medical Center. After Willie's death, I was appointed Constable and for the past nine months I have served the people of District 1 to the best of my ability. My phone number has always been listed, and I have answered all calls that I have received, day or night. My main objective is to work with all churches and Funeral Homes to protect your property as services are being held. And to rid our cemeteries of drunks who are looking for places to park, as I have done in the past. If elected as Constable, I will continue to work with the law enforcement of Floyd County, and to serve one and all. Be sure to vote May 24th.

WITH FLOOD REPORTS coming in from all over the state a week ago and a fair quantity of rain affecting this area as well, residents were understandably anxious. In flood prone Martin at least one household made a little preparation, here, in view of the rising waters of Beaver Creek, by anchoring the family picnic table with concrete blocks. Surprisingly, the county was spared any appreciable damage from high water.

Selective Admissions Policy Wins Approval of UK Trustees

The University of Kentucky's Board of Trustees has approved a selective admissions policy which will affect students applying for admission to the university in the fall of 1984. The policy—which was developed by the UK faculty and administration over the past two years—was approved at a meeting of the UK board May 3 on the campus of Paducah Community College. UK President Otis A. Singletary called the new policy "a concerted effort to improve the quality and diversity of students entering the university." The selective admissions policy provides for: (1) Automatic acceptance of some applicants; (2) A "rank-order pool" of other applicants; (3) A student-athlete category; (4) Criteria for transfer students, and (5) Criteria for foreign students. Additionally, the new policy recommends courses high school students should take if they intend to apply for admission to the university between 1984 and 1987. In the fall of 1987, these recommended courses will be required for university admission. The recommended curriculum calls for at least 20 units of high school work in two of three science courses—Biology I, Chemistry I and Physics I—and in English I, II, III and IV, Algebra I, Geometry I, Algebra II, U.S. History and World Civilization. To be automatically admitted to the university, a high school student must have a composite ACT score and high school grade point average which—using a mathematical formula—predicts that the student will attain at least a 2.0 grade point standing ("C" average) in the first year of UK studies. Lexington Campus Chancellor Art Gallaher said the mathematical formula for automatic admission is based on historical data of student success at UK. "At least 80 percent of the fall 1984 UK class of freshmen entering under the selective admissions policy will come from this formula," Gallaher said. The remaining 20 percent of the class will come from a "rank-order pool" which considers such factors as ethnic background, geographical distribution, age, personal achievements in nine out-of-class categories, and the predicted first-year grade point average. Applicants who do not have an ACT standard composite score of 11 or who do not have a high school grade point average of 2.0 (on a 4.0 scale) will not be rank-ordered. Gallaher emphasized that the automatic acceptance and rank-order pool procedures "are part of an evolutionary process which will require some fine-tuning over the years." The new selective admissions policy provides that student-athletes will be required to meet the same academic standards as all other athletes in the nation. UK will follow these standards—set by the NCAA and the SEC—in order to remain athletically competitive with all other schools in the country, Gallaher said. UK Register Elbert Ockerman said the university will begin on Oct. 1, 1983, notifying students who have taken their ACT and who qualify for automatic admission. This process will continue after each ACT testing date throughout the year, up to June 1, 1984. Another important date for students seeking admission to UK is Feb. 15, 1984, Ockerman said. That is the deadline for students who have taken the ACT—but who were not automatically admitted to UK—to apply for admission to UK and be placed in the rank-order pool. These students must have taken the ACT no later than the December 1983 testing date. Ockerman explained that all students must take the ACT and that UK will continue to use its simplified admissions system for students who indicate UK on their ACT as one of their preferred schools. The University also is developing brochures and other information devices aimed at giving high school counselors, students and their families additional pertinent information about the new UK admissions policy, Ockerman said.

State Offers Help For Waste Disposal Plans By Counties

(From the Legislative Record)

As the simmering controversy over new solid-waste disposal regulations neared its boiling point recently, Natural Resources Secretary Jackie Swigart offered Kentucky counties some last-minute financial aid to help them develop their waste-management plans.

At a meeting of the subcommittee on waste management, Swigart and Ed Logsdon, executive director of the County-Judge Executives Association, discussed a possible solution to the solid-waste dispute.

The controversy emerged in recent months when it became apparent that legislation passed in the 1982 General Assembly requiring all of the state's counties to establish solid-waste programs would create a fiscal hardship on local governments.

When the regulations written to implement the 1982 law were turned down unanimously by the Administrative Regulation Review Subcommittee, the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet found itself with a law to implement and no regulations to carry out the law's intent.

"The cabinet still has a statutory obligation to meet," Swigart told the legislative panel.

Logsdon assured legislators that county judges are aware of the magnitude of the solid-waste problem. But he added that county officials cannot carry out the legislative mandate because the General Assembly failed to give them financial backing.

He said local-government budgets are stretched so thin—and subject to such limitations as House Bill 44—as to almost preclude creation of new programs.

The solid-waste law—which took effect last July—has no teeth, Logsdon added. Although the law orders counties to create solid-waste programs, no penalties are prescribed for counties not participating.

As a stopgap measure to help county governments wanting to develop a solid-waste plan, Swigart offered her agency's technical assistance.

She also announced that limited financial assistance would be available to local governments willing to come up with a matching or similar financial contribution.

Sen. Ed. Ford, D-Cynthiana, who chairs the panel, applauded the cabinet's offer of financial assistance. He said the funding should enable enough counties to complete their solid-waste plans that officials can see how much money is really involved before the 1984 General Assembly convenes.

David LeMaster has Floyd County roots...

We, some of the members of the family of David LeMaster, think that it is important for the voters of Floyd County to know David's ties to our county. David spent much of his young life in Prestonsburg, living in Black Bottom (Porter Addition). Although David is presently an attorney in Paintsville, his roots go deep into Floyd County.

David LeMaster is the son of Payne and Dosha Hughes LeMaster. He is the grandson of Millard Franklin and Josie Wright Hughes, and Shade and Martha Jane Blanton LeMaster. His ancestry includes such area families as the Bays, Adams, Arrington, Rice, Bently, Roberts, as well as Hughes, Wright, Blanton and LeMaster.

David's wife also has ties to Floyd County. She is the former Virginia Combs, daughter of the late Robert Lee "Slick" Combs and Helen White Combs, and the niece of former Prestonsburg attorney and Kentucky Governor Bert T. Combs.

We would like to urge all of our friends and relatives to support David LeMaster in the Democratic Primary for Kentucky State Senator in the 25th District.

'We Treat You Like Family,' Theme for Hospital Week

A caring "family" attitude distinguishes hospitals from many other enterprises.

"We will continue to add sophisticated equipment and procedures at the Medical Center," said Clarence Traum, administrator.

The HRMC "family" is composed of employees from Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin and Pike counties. They serve more than 32,000 patients every year. While the majority of patients live in the Big Sandy, residents of 50 counties in Kentucky, many states and several foreign countries have been treated at HRMC.

Many in Highlands Regional's "family" have been continuing their education to become even more qualified to provide the highest quality patient care.

Baseball Blackcats Shine In Tourney Play

By WENDE BUCHANAN

The Prestonsburg Blackcats took the district baseball finals by storm, winning 16-3 in the semi-final game with Wheelwright and then displacing Allen Central, 9-4 for the 58th District championship.

Gordie Ratliff pitched a remarkable six-inning, three-hitter with ten strikeouts for a semi-final win over Wheelwright. Ratliff was 4 for 4 with two doubles and two singles to drive in five runs for a game high r.b.i. count of five.

Prestonsburg held off Allen Central with a six-run opener in the first inning for a 9-4 win in the championship game. Kelly Cecil pitched a seven-inning, seven-hitter with eight strikeouts and no earned runs.

RECENT VISITORS

Dr. and Mrs. G.A. Culbertson, of Paris, Ky., and Mrs. Mary Hopson, of Cumberland, Gap, Tenn., were here recently for a visit with Mrs. Hopson's and Mrs. Culbertson's sisters, Mrs. Peg Hewlett, and Mrs. Myrtle Davis.

General George A. Custer ranked last in his West Point graduating class of 1861.

The Luxmore family would like to express their deep appreciation and gratitude to all the many loved ones and friends who expressed their friendship and concern during the loss of our loved one.

The Little Nancy Church and Regular Baptist ministers were so wonderful and kind during the time of Dad's illness and his death. We can never express our deep appreciation for all your wonderful words and love.

To his many friends, students, and fellow workers, both of McDowell and Osborne (teachers and principals) who showed they cared either with their time, flowers, food, or prayers, we send our love and may God bless each and everyone of you.

Although Dad suffered during the last year of his life his burden was made lighter by his friends who gave him their support and love. All of you have helped us realize that Dad was deeply loved and cared for by the whole community.

It is so very hard to put into words exactly how we feel about all of you. To say thank you just doesn't seem to be enough. So instead we will say, "We love each and everyone of you!"

Stumbo Vows To Make Contract With People

In Bowling Green, recently, Dr. Grady Stumbo said that as Governor he will make a contract with the people of Kentucky, not with powerful special interest groups.

"The people of this state need an independent Governor who can truly represent their interests and a Governor who will be accessible to them," he said.

"In my contract as Governor I pledge to bring government to the people and make it easy for the citizens to communicate their needs to me," stated Stumbo.

"I will spend one day each month traveling to West Kentucky, one day each month visiting people in East Kentucky and I will set aside one day for the Central and Northern Kentucky citizens," Stumbo said.

Stumbo also committed himself to hold regularly scheduled news conferences to keep the people of Kentucky informed about state business.

Stumbo said, "The trust of the people in their public officials is vital to good government. That trust is dependent on the information they receive and I am strongly committed to an effective two-way communication system between the governor's office and the people of Kentucky."

REBEKAHS MEET

Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 met Tuesday evening, May 3, with the noble grand, Mrs. Alicia Adkins, presiding. Several members were reported ill and in hospitals, and get-well cards were signed, to be mailed to them.

During the business session, several committees gave reports. The Visual Eye Research Program was discussed, and a monetary gift was allowed for this project.

Due to the vacancy in the chair of inside guardian, the Noble Grand appointed Mrs. Paulena Owens to serve in this office. She was installed by Mrs. Sue Moore, district deputy president of District 4.

Members of the Lodge were invited by a representative of local nursing homes to attend on May 9 the beginning of "Nursing Home Week," and to participate in that day's activities.

The Re-Obligation ceremony was held, with all officers and members taking part.

An initiation, to be held May 31 during a called meeting of the lodge, was discussed.

Birthday wishes were extended to Alicia Adkins and Virginia Goble.

Those in attendance were Mesdames Alicia Adkins, Violetta Wright, Virginia Goble, Venelia Rinehart, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Rebecca Bingham, Jean Hickman, Helen Ormerod, Nola Stepp, Maman Leslie, Paulena Owens, Sue Moore, Nancy Duff, Hope Whitten, and Opal Dingus, and Misses Diana Blankenship and Kelly Sue Moore.

The next meeting will be Tuesday evening, May 17, at 7:30.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

It's time to elect a new County Court Clerk. Now is the time for a new breed and new generation—that new breed will be Tommy Rose, No. 1 on the ballot.

As a young boy he was reared on Middle Creek road, attended school at Berea, Ky., and later attended Prestonsburg Community College. His goal was to get an education and to serve the people of Floyd County.

Tommy served Floyd County for ten years at Rose Drug Store, has been a City Councilman, president of the Jaycees and served on the Board of the Red Cross. This young man accomplished this by toiling hard with no financial help from home and by being sober, honest, and courteous in everything he's done.

So, your vote on May 24th will prove to him he hasn't done all of this in vain.

Tommy is the son of Maxine Stevens Rose, of Prestonsburg, formerly of Middle Creek, and the late Kent Rose.

Thanks To All Floyd Counties, Dallas and Marcelline Freeman

The two one-act plays, "Pickens Picks a Partner" and "Pick of the Pickens," give a satiristic look at hillbilly life. No admission will be charged for the performance. Director Keith Conn encourages everyone to support the children's efforts.

If elected I promise to serve all the papers I can to the best of my ability in District 1. This will take a load off the Sheriff's office and leave his salaried deputies more time to devote to fighting crime.

REVIEWS

Pink Floyd — "The Final Cut" (Columbia) — This massive undertaking should be performed in no hall smaller than St. Patrick's Cathedral. It's an overwhelming synthesis of political commentary and sonic onslaught (complete with holophonic effects), an album that makes the moniker, "tour de force," seem insufficient.

"The Final Cut" is a record that goes way beyond pretension, but never slips into superciliousness. It's sure to top the charts (after all, "Dark Side of the Moon" is still hanging in there after 462 weeks).

Falco — "Einzelhaft" (A&M) — After the Fire is doing well with its English translation of "Der Kommissar" (the commissioner), at the same time as the song's originator, Austrian singer Falco, is trying to break out in this country.

"Kommissar" is more fun in the original German, but the rest of Falco's debut has little to recommend. Good dance music, true, but with a veneer of European ennui that seems too arch and narcissistic to make the trans-Atlantic crossing.

Falco

UPDATE

Quote of the week — Greg Kihn, upon hearing that "Jeopardy" has become a dance club hit: "Me with a dance hit? I can't dance two steps in a row. I have trouble walking across the room without stumbling!"

In the studio — Australia's Mental As Anything has flown to Los Angeles to record its next album... A new country artist has a familiar name: Susie Nelson, currently recording her debut, is the daughter of Willie Nelson... And making a comeback (from long, long ago and far, far away) is Moby Grape, psychedelical masters of the '60s.

TV notes — NBC will broadcast Motown Records' 25th anniversary special on Monday, May 16.

PBS in the spotlight

Astronomer Carl Sagan hosts the May 15 edition of "Cosmos," featuring a look at the planet Mars.

Exploring the planet Mars

The planet Mars has fascinated many people for centuries. On episode five of "Cosmos," "Blues for a Red Planet," airing Sunday, May 15 on PBS, Dr. Carl Sagan takes viewers to the observatory Percival Lowell built in Arizona to study the so-called canals, which Lowell believed to be the constructs of a dying civilization. (Please check local listings for time.)

In our time, two Viking spacecraft has landed on Mars. They were propelled by rockets that grew from the vision of Robert Goddard, who devoted his life to rocketry because of his fascination of reaching Mars. Dr. Sagan also shows the Viking Lander in Death Valley and demonstrates the marvelous machinery that sent tens of thousands of pictures and measurements back to Earth.

In exploring the landscape of Mars, Viking found no canals or artifacts. With the question of microbial life still open, humans someday might introduce to Mars species of plants that could unlock the water frozen in the polar caps. Then water might be carried to the equator — in canals like those Lowell once imagined.

Animated Biblical tales

by Kim Cooper

When a girl, a boy and their whimsical robot "Gizmo" discover a copy of the most remarkable book ever written, history takes form in the colorful CBN Cable Network show "Superbook."

"Superbook," an original, animated show, is seen on CBN Friday from 8 to 8:30 p.m. (ET). It stars the two children and their pint-sized mechanical friend who experience a time-warp and discover themselves on the scene of history's greatest moments.

Based on the Old Testament, "Superbook" discovers the events and people of the past like Cain and Abel, Noah, Abraham and Isaac, Moses and other Biblical figures.

On Friday, May 20, "Superbook" shows the children with the two brothers, Jacob and Esau, sons of Rebecca and Isaac. Following the Old Testament, a starving Esau sells his birthright to his brother Jacob for a bowl of stew. Isaac sends Esau and tells him to hunt for deer to make his favorite venison stew.

The children and Gizmo watch as Rebecca gets Jacob to dress as Esau and take Isaac some stew. Isaac is fooled, but Esau discovers the trick and flies in a rage.

Years later, the family resolves the conflict. The children have learned a lesson about the danger of arguing.

Each weekly episode is a vivid presentation of action, adventure and colorful animation, guaranteed to captivate the entire family.

Kim Cooper is publicity director of the CBN Cable Network.

WILLIAM DINGUS

FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 31st JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY, COMPOSED OF FLOYD AND KNOTT COUNTIES:

In pressing my candidacy for the Office of Commonwealth's Attorney, I want it understood that I am seeking this position not only for my own interest but that I may be able to serve my country better and be better able to help my friends, and to aid other worthy projects that should be maintained and supported for the common good of our Judicial District.

I was born at the forks of Beaver, near Dinwood, and have lived here in Floyd County with you all my life. I was raised a farmer boy; know all the trials and troubles incident to the former boy's life; was a school teacher for ten years and know the school teacher's joys and troubles; was in the goods business for ten years at Goodloe, Ky., then moved to Prestonsburg. I was elected twice as Senator of the 33rd Senatorial District of Kentucky. I took a law course and was examined by Judge Lewis and Hazelrig, Judges of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, and admitted to the bar in 1894, and have been in the study and practice of law from that time to the present, thirty-three years. I am a member of the Baptist Church, having joined with the Philadelphia Regular Baptist in 1890, and am a member of the Baptist Church now at Prestonsburg, Ky. I was elected County Attorney of Floyd County, November, 1917, and took the oath of office on January, 1918 and served four years.

This is perhaps the last time I will call on my friends to vote for me and I now hope and believe you will come enthusiastically to my aid and that I will be elected as your Commonwealth's Attorney.

I have spent all my life to and for my country, trying to make it a better place in which to live. Help me, so that I can help you more.

I need the office and you need my work in the courts of our district. You help me and I can help you more. I have been in politics heretofore and I never have found so many people for me as there are for me at this time.

Good friends, keep the good work going on and I will serve you as Commonwealth's Attorney.

Your obedient servant,

William Dingus

-Political Adv.

BRIEF TOPICS

Every forty-one seconds someone is either killed or injured in highway accidents in the United States. During the five years ending with 1927 the staggering total of approximately 3,446,370 persons were reported injured and 114,879 killed in traffic calamities, most of which were avoidable. The annual casualty toll of highway accidents is more than twice as great as the entire number suffered by the nation's forces in the World War.

More than 3,500 coal miners in sub-district 10 returned to work when the whistles blew again Monday in Marion, Ill., after six months silence. More miners will return to work each day and by the end of the week it is expected that at least 9,000 of the 10,000 miners in Williamson county will be back at work.

That President Coolidge is definitely out of the Presidential race was accepted formally Monday at a conference between Chairman William M. Butler and more than a dozen members of the Republican national committee.

The President's famous "I do not choose to run" statement was accepted as final and irrevocable by the influential G. O. P. leaders after talking with Butler, who spent Sunday night at the White House and early Monday conferred with Mr. Coolidge, his close personal and political friend.

One hundred and eight school ma'ams at Hazel Park, Mich., Monday struck a blow for the freedom of the knees.

They marched into their class-rooms minus the ankle-length smocks ordained by the board of education to protect the morals of scholars, who, they feared, might develop wrong ideas from the instep-to-kneecap exposure of female limbs.

With the short skirted cohorts standing fast, the next move was up to the board of education which will meet tonight. Three members—a majority—declared they stood by their opinion that brief garments were out of place in the classroom.

Women in four counties of Virginia which hold an annual fair will have an opportunity to test their powers of attracting husbands in a husband-calling contest at the fair at Suffolk on October 12.

Any woman between the ages of 18 and 40 is eligible for the contest which will be judged by three "well seasoned" married men.

Each contestant can call "husband" three times, according to the rules of the contest, and the calls can be made in the contestant's own natural manner, endearing, cajoling, entreating or commanding, while with the call smiles, tears, or frowns may be used.

The performance is to be judged on clearness of voice, strength of voice, originality, sincerity of purpose and appearance of contestant.

Mutiny in several army units in Mexico City has brought the Mexican government, under President Plutarco Elias Calles, face to face with a revolutionary movement, mutterings of which have been heard from time to time of late.

From Mexico City came word that three companies of the 20, comprising the Mexico City garrison, had marched out at midnight and taken the field. Their destination was believed to be Puebla.

Cleveland's parkways were laid open to spooning husbands and wives last week by a jury which awarded Mrs. Lillie Mack, 23, $3,000 damages suffered when she and her husband were arrested for petting in their auto.

In her suit for $15,000 damages, Mrs. Mack said she and her husband were arrested by a policeman for petting in public and forced to spend a night in jail. The ignominy of being falsely arrested, she said, was worth the damages.

The jury's verdict reduced the original amount asked in Mrs. Mack's petition to $3,000. The jury held that a husband and wife have the privilege of "spooning" wherever and whenever they please.

Carter Tiffany, vice-president of the Reynolds Airways, Inc., paid a hurried visit to Washington September 27, to inspect the passport records of the state department to determine if Richard J. Reynolds, missing young millionaire, had sailed for Europe. It was not stated whether Tiffany was permitted to see the records, which ordinarily are regarded as confidential. He was later found on an excursion trip.

Girls' Auxiliary On Picnic Party

The Girls' Auxiliary of the Baptist Church gave a picnic Saturday, October 1, on Abbott Mountain. Quite a crowd of girls walked down the Mayo Trail and across the new bridge at Cliff to Abbott. Each carried a well-filled basket of good things to eat. After finding a nice, cool place under some trees, the regular program was carried out. Roll call was answered by the motto, "Arise, Shine; for Thy Light Is Come." The chief topic was the second chapter of the book of Esther, after written examination on same. Games were enjoyed until a late hour after which the group enjoyed supper and started for home. All girls, aged 10 to 16, in the Baptist Sunday school, are invited to meet with us Saturday at 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. S. C. Ferguson.

I'M AN ORPHAN BOY

By MILTON EDWIN HOWARD

My mother is a sinner, My father whiskey has beguiled, Both parents are a-living, Yet I'm an orphan child.

Mother's always quarreling, And taking God's name in vain; I used to pray silently, But prayer saw no gain.

Father drinks and dances, Raves, curses and swears, Throws about the dishes And breaks up the chairs.

Oh, mother, why do you act this way? Father, why do you? Please stop and think a moment, And begin life anew.

I wish my parents were good and kind, Then life would be a joy; It breaks my heart to remember That I'm only an orphan boy.

ORDINANCE No. 2-83

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MARTIN, KENTUCKY ESTABLISHING THE MARTIN AUXILIARY POLICE TO PERFORM SPECIAL DUTIES WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS OF THE CITY OF MARTIN, AND FURTHER PROVIDE FOR THE MANNER OF APPOINTMENTS, RULES AND REGULATIONS OF SAID MARTIN POLICE AUXILIARY.

WHEREAS, KRS 95-445 provides that the Legislative body of a City of the second, third, fourth, fifth or sixth class, except a City of the fourth, fifth or sixth classes in a county containing a first class city, may by ordinance provide for the establishment of an auxiliary force to perform special duties within the city in terms it deems proper, and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of the City Council to so establish an auxiliary police force for the City of Martin, Kentucky.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MARTIN, KENTUCKY.

SECTION 1. There is hereby created and established an auxiliary police force to be known as the Martin Auxiliary Police, the membership of which shall not consist of more than fifteen (15) persons. The Martin Auxiliary Police shall be made up of persons whose residence is in the city limits of Martin and would otherwise qualify them to be a member of the Police Department of the City of Martin, regular full time members of the Police Department of the City of Martin. Regular full time members of the Police Department of the City of Martin shall not, however, be eligible for membership in the Martin Auxiliary Police. Each member of the said Martin Auxiliary Police shall be in good physical condition, be able to read, write and understand the English language, be of good character, and a person of sobriety and integrity and shall be an orderly, law-abiding citizen, each member shall be not less than twenty-one years of age.

SECTION 2. Appointments to the Martin Auxiliary Police shall be initially made by the City Council. Any member may be suspended at any time with cause by the City Council, upon the recommendation of the Chief of Police.

The member so suspended is entitled to a hearing to be conducted by the City Council of which hearing he shall be given reasonable notice. The action taken by the City Council shall be final.

SECTION 3. The Martin Auxiliary Police shall function under the immediate direction of the Chief of Police, or in his absence, the Senior Officer on duty. Before entering upon his duties, each member shall take the subscribed oath of office or affirmation as provided by statutes to be taken and subscribed by all municipal officers. After subscribing his oath of office, each member of the Martin Auxiliary Police shall be issued an official commission card signed by the City Clerk and the Chief of Police. Said card shall be retained in the personal possession of the member at all times.

SECTION 4. Each member of the Martin Auxiliary Police shall promptly after being appointed, furnish bond in the same amount as is furnished by members of the regular Police Department, the City of Martin to pay the premiums on said bond. Each member of the Martin Auxiliary Police shall also prior to taking his oath of office, execute and deliver to the City Clerk an instrument in form to be approved by the Corporation Council releasing the City from all liability for any injury or death of such member in the line of duty as a member of said unit, excepting only such liabilities, if any, as shall be attributed to gross negligence on the part of the City.

SECTION 5. Except during a period of probation, members of the Martin Auxiliary Police shall have all the powers and authorities and shall be subject to all the duties as members of the regular Police Department of the City of Martin, except that the powers of arrest shall be limited to those times when performing police functions, and only when authorized by the Chief of Police or his designated representatives. Even in circumstances where the power of arrest has been authorized, said power shall be subject to all rules and regulations of the Police Department and all statutes and ordinances thereto. It is specifically provided, however, that membership in the Martin Auxiliary Police shall not be construed in any manner as memberships in the regularly constituted Police Force, nor shall any member of the said Martin Auxiliary Police be entitled to any rights or privileges of pension or any other similar rights, privileges, or employment, attaching to membership in said regular constituted Police Department.

SECTION 6. The initial appointees to the Martin Auxiliary Police shall serve no probationary term. Each subsequent member of said auxiliary shall serve on probation a minimum of six months and a maximum of twelve months following the date of this appointment. During said period of probation he shall have only such power, authority and duties as are assigned to him, from time to time, by the Chief of Police. Upon completion of six months, and or any time before expiration of twelve months probation, the Chief of Police may transfer.

SECTION 7. The Chief of Police shall determine the program for training members of the Auxiliary Police in police work. The Martin Auxiliary Police may adopt its own by-laws and rules or regulations and amendments thereto but same shall at all times be subject to approval by the City Council and shall not conflict with any provision of this Ordinance, being subordinate of the Police Department and to the order of Chief of Police.

SECTION 8. No member of the Martin Auxiliary Police shall receive any compensation from the City for his services as a member of the Auxiliary Police, except as may be specifically provided from time to time by official action of the City Council.

SECTION 9. The members of the Martin Auxiliary Police shall furnish their own uniforms and other necessary equipment, without reimbursement from the City, unless said provisions shall be specifically provided for in the budget Ordinance of the City of Martin or amendments thereto. Uniforms shall be worn only when performing the duties as a member of said Auxiliary Police.

SECTION 10. Officers of the Auxiliary Police shall be determined by the Auxiliary Police in the manner provided for in its by-laws, but officers must be members of the Martin Auxiliary Police who are not on probationary status. However, for the purpose of continuity, the initial Chief, or Chief Executive Officer of the Martin Auxiliary Police shall be approved by the City Council, who shall serve initially for a term of not less than 1 year, unless physical or mental incapacity shall prevent his serving in such capacity.

SECTION 11. A public record of the appointment of each member of the Martin Auxiliary Police and the termination of his appointment shall be kept in the records of the Chief of Police of the City of Martin. Said records shall consist of a copy of the written order of appointments, the original, the written oath, properly executed, the bond executed by the appointee, a clear and distinct photograph of the appointee furnished before his appointment, and any written order terminating the appointment or the appointee's resignation.

SECTION 12. The financial accounts of the Auxiliary Police shall be subject to audit at any time the City Council may designate, by the City Clerk of the City or any other accountant or auditor appointed for this purpose.

SECTION 13. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, to the extent of such conflict only, are hereby repealed.

SECTION 14. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, as required by law.

Weight-Distance Tax Receipts Fall Short

(From the Legislative Record) Revenue estimates for the state's new weight-distance tax on larger trucks have come up short a whopping 35 percent. Transportation Cabinet officials told the Interim Joint Committee on Appropriations and Revenue recently. Transportation Secretary Jim Runke said tax collections sagged as the economy soured. He estimated the total mileage traveled by trucks in Kentucky is down as much as 18 percent.

Based on the first six months of this fiscal year, the state expects to collect $16 million from the weight-distance tax. The original estimate was $24.7 million. Runke later said between 7 percent and 12 percent of the miscalculation could be due to missed or uncollected taxes. But added collection hasn't really been a major problem.

In addition to the usual enforcement method—roadside weigh stations—Runke indicated officials are using "ancillary methods," such as having toll-booth operators gather information and increasing the number of auditors keeping track of truck traffic and tax receipts.

But Rep. Marshall Long, D-Shelbyville, said he isn't so sure a lot of trucks aren't slipping by.

"If the number of licenses is any indication," he said, "we ought to be collecting roughly $36 million from Kentucky trucks alone. This indicates to me that a lot of people are still avoiding the weight-distance tax."

Runke said the state is tracking down many of the violators through cab cards, and is still hitting them with a gasoline surcharge.

"You told us this law would be easily enforceable," Rep. Fred Cowan, D-Louisville, said. "Now you say compliance isn't quite that easy."

But Deputy Transportation Secretary Clair Nichols told the committee the legislators weren't "hoodwinked" into thinking early collections would come easy.

"There is no reason to be alarmed about the shortfall in projections. We'll be able to collect in the future," he said.

Runke emphasized that his agency has only been collecting the tax for two quarters. "Two collection periods isn't enough to justify changing the program," he said.

Re: Larry Goble

I would like to make a statement about the services of Mr. Goble, while he was City Police of Wheelwright. I could truthfully say that he was always efficient in carrying out the law. He was courteous and showed no partiality to anyone. He carried out his duties according to City Ordinance. He was available when the citizens of Wheelwright needed police protection.

There has been a question about why Larry is not policeman at the present time. The reason, and no other reason, is that the City Council requested that the Police would live in Wheelwright. Larry's wife preferred not to live in Wheelwright; so therefore, Larry was relieved of his police duties.

I am sure I can speak for the City Council; Larry was a good policeman.

To the voters of Floyd Co. (District 1),

My name is Carl Jr. Collins. I support Larry Bug Goble for Constable of Floyd Co. (District #1). Why? Well, I will tell you a little bit about Larry Bug Goble. I have known him since his first day of school. I have never known anything bad about him. For instance, if you needed help in any way or if you needed money and he had any, you had it also. If you needed help late at night he would always come and do what he could for you. At funerals, he would sit up all night and help in any way he could. Even when he was growing up he always had a nice word to say to our older citizens. In plain words, he has always been a good person to know and just a good friend to have. He's just like his Dad and Mother. They are wonderful people to know and to have as friends and neighbors. As for him being qualified for the job, if anybody is qualified, Larry "Bug" Goble is your man.

1. Experience
2. Intelligence
3. Honesty
4. Sincere
5. Years of experience as a deputy sheriff

So, please vote for the man who will do the job for all the people of Floyd County. Vote for Larry Bug Goble for Constable, District #1.

EKMC Lists Award Winners For Year

The Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference, which includes Wheelwright High School as well as Pikeville, Jenkins, Fleming-Neon, Whitesburg and Elkhorn City, has announced award winners for the past basketball season.

With the best conference win-loss record of 4-1, Pikeville wound up in first place with Jenkins in the second spot with a 3-2 record. Wheelwright shared a 2-3 record with Whitesburg and Fleming-Neon and Elkhorn City placed at the bottom with a record of 1-4.

Named Coach of the Year of the EKMC was Pikeville's Ralph Wilson. Co-Players of the Year included Pikeville's 6'1" senior center Troy Cooper, who averaged 22.3 points per game, and Donald McCall, a 6-ft. forward for Whitesburg, who recorded an average of 19 points each game.

Among the 14 players picked for the All Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference squad, two were members of this year's Wheelwright Trojan team. They include Marty Adams, 6'10" senior center, and David Tackett, 6-ft. guard.

SEAT BELTS—THEY WORK

Safety experts agree that the use of seat belts dramatically reduces the risk of injury or death on the highway. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, about 50 percent of all people who die in passenger cars, light trucks or vans—35,000, could have been saved if they had been wearing safety belts.

Senior Citizens' Candidate

My name is Elmer Ferguson. I am Mayor of Wheelwright, Ky., and have been elected for four terms to that office.

I proceeded to put an article in the Floyd County Times about this, and, to my surprise, the Fiscal Court found the money for the Senior Citizens' bus drivers.

I am a candidate on the Republican ticket. I am asking for your support in the May primary. I will appreciate it.

Touch-Tone Phoning Coming to Martin

Telephone customers in Martin will soon be able to make calls on Touch-Tone telephones, featuring push buttons instead of dials.

Art Willett, local manager for South Central Bell, said the new service will be available by Monday, May 30.

Touch-Tone phones and services can be chosen as an alternative to rotary dial service for a small extra charge per month, Willett said.

Appalachian Celebration On Morehead's Schedule

The period, June 19-25, will be time again for Morehead State University's Appalachian Celebration.

The seventh annual weeklong celebration will pay homage to Appalachia's rich cultural past, its dynamic present and its promising future.

Sponsored by MSU's Appalachian Development Center, the celebration will include a variety of activities to appeal to a broad range of age, educational, and interest levels including exhibits, demonstrations, concerts, dances, films, plays, workshops, conferences, seminars, tours, hikes, and even an arts and crafts market.

The celebration is a week of fun and festivity as well as serious study and reflection, and it has something for all whose interests in gaining a deeper understanding and appreciation of Appalachia and her people.

Running through the entire week will be the Heritage Arts Workshop—five days of courses devoted to the development and preservation of skills and traditions that distinctively reflect authentic mountain culture and heritage.

A two-day Watercolor Workshop, June 20-21, will be conducted by nationally known artist Doug Adams whose regional paintings have drawn much acclaim.

Quilting workshops, June 23-24, will be cosponsored by the Kentucky Heritage Quilt Society and MSU's Department of Home Economics.

Hands-on classes and activities, available to both beginning and experienced quilters, will include precision pattern drafting, celtic, shadow trapunto, patchwork, 8-pointed star, stained glass, and candlewicking.

Exhibits, displays, and demonstrations will feature Appalachian memorabilia and regional crafts with special exhibit areas available to collectors of railroad, coal mining, and lumber industry artifacts.

Concerts, dances, films and plays, all free and open to the public, will provide daily entertainment and activity for celebration visitors and participants as well as for the public.

A two-day Jesse Stuart Symposium, June 21-22, will provide study of Jesse Stuart's works in the land that has inspired his literary creations and will include a tour of W-Hollow—the Stuart homeplace in Greenup county.

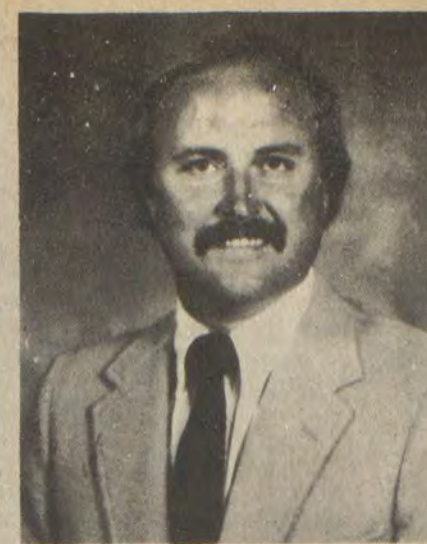

Tours and hikes will be conducted Wednesday through Saturday to provide people with a yen for the great outdoors with pleasure aplenty. A bus tour will leave the MSU campus each day at 9 a.m. and return at approximately 5 p.m.

An economic development seminar will take place June 23-25 and is tentatively planned to concentrate primarily on the potential for development of tourism on a major basis within the region.

Of a more academic nature will be a Conference on Appalachian Children and Families, June 23-25, which will include presentation of refereed papers. The conference will be opened by a keynote address, "Feeling Valuable and Valued: Issues and Opportunities in the Study of Appalachian Children and Families" by Dr. Jim Wayne Miller.

A 1,500-Lb. Yearling, And That's No Bull!

A yearling Angus bull achieved a 365-day adjusted weight of 1,500 pounds on the University of Kentucky's Coldstream Farm. "If it's not a record it has to be one of the best for the breed," said Dr. Neil Bradley, an animal sciences professor in the UK College of Agriculture. "We've never had anything come close."

The bull, U.K. Rito 236, was born on March 6, 1982. His adjusted 205-day weaning weight was 658 pounds which was 17 percent heavier than the average of 60 calves weaned in the UK research farm herd. The bull gained an average of 5.26 pounds per day on a 148-day post weaning fed test to achieve the 1,500 adjusted 365-day weight, according to records from the Angus Herd Improvement Record (AHIR) of the American Angus Association.

Petitioners Seek Better Deal From Natural Gas Co's

In face of the rapid escalation of gas rates, some eastern Kentucky consumers are taking a stand. Dempsey Chaffins, of Garrett, is one of them.

A board member of a recently-formed group called "Families Fighting Utility Raises," Chaffins said members of the group will accept no gas rate hikes—except to allow for inflation—after Jan. 1, 1982.

They will pay at the rate they were billed last year, plus nine percent annually for inflation, he said.

The group, which has been circulating a petition in Knott county in recent weeks, has begun gathering signatures in this county. Addressed to "natural gas companies doing business in eastern Kentucky" as well as elected officials, the petition calls on the companies to abide by their original contracts with landowners whose properties they are crossing or drilling on or else to negotiate new contracts.

The petitioners object to advancing the companies money on the basis of estimated usage or budget plans, insisting that they pay only for gas as it is actually used. They ask for bills that explain exactly how rates are arrived at.

And they ask that candidates for public office not accept contributions from utility companies and divest themselves of any interest in such firms.

The consumer group next meets in the Hindman school gym at 7 p.m. Sunday, May 15.

Census Bureau To Take Employment Survey Here

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of May 16-21, Joseph S. Harris, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Charlotte, announced today.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, the May survey will include others concerning pension and retirement plan coverage.

The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 71,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

For example, in March 1983 the survey indicated that of the 10.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 99.1 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 10.3 percent, 0.1 percent lower than reported in February.

The Law on Hiring Youths

As the school year ends, many young people are looking for or beginning summer work.

The U.S. Department of Labor says that while the variety of work open to youths is wide, federal child labor laws do place certain limitations on the hours they may work and the kinds of jobs they may hold.

According to James E. Patching, regional administrator for employment standards, U.S. Department of Labor, Atlanta, when both federal and state laws apply to a situation, the more stringent law prevails.

Under the federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) enforced by the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, child labor provisions do not apply to anyone age 18 and over.

At 16 and 17 years of age, youth may be employed, without a limit on hours worked, in any nonagricultural occupation other than those that have been declared hazardous by the secretary of labor. Hazardous occupations include:

- Working with explosives and radioactive materials;
-Operating certain power-driven woodworking, metalworking, bakery and paper products machinery;
-Operating various types of power-driven saws and guillotine shears;
-Operating most power-driven hoisting apparatus, such as non-automatic freight elevators, fork lifts and cranes;
-Operating certain power-driven meat processing machines; or most jobs in slaughtering and meat packing establishments;
-Most jobs in mining, roofing, demolition and excavation;
-Operating motor vehicles or working as outside helper on motor vehicles;
-Most jobs in logging and sawmill operations; and
-Most jobs in the manufacture of bricks, tiles and similar products.

Workers 14 and 15 years of age can be employed in a variety of jobs such as clerical and office work; various retail and food service jobs; and errand and delivery work by foot, bicycle or public transportation. They may also work at gas stations dispensing gas and oil and performing courtesy service.

Fourteen and 15-year olds are excluded from working in all hazardous occupations, manufacturing and mining, most processing occupations, operating or tending most power-driven machinery, and public messenger services. In work connected with warehousing, storage, transportation, communications, public utilities, and construction, they may hold office jobs.

From June 1 through Labor Day, when school is not normally in session, those age 14 or 15 may work between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m., but not more than 3 hours a day or more than 40 hours a week.

The child labor provisions do not apply to children who deliver newspapers to consumers; perform in theatrical, motion picture or broadcast productions; or work for their parents, except in manufacturing or hazardous nonagricultural occupations.

Laws pertaining to farm employment are somewhat different. Youth 16 or older have no restriction; 14- and 15-year olds may work outside of school hours in any farm job other than those declared hazardous by the secretary of labor; and 12- and 13-year olds may work nonhazardous jobs outside of school hours with written parental consent or on a farm that also employs the parents. Minors under 12 may work in nonhazardous agricultural jobs outside school hours with written parental consent on farms that have no employees who have to be paid the minimum wage.

Certain hazardous farm work may be done by youth 14 and 15 years old who have received certificates for satisfactory completion of special 4-H or vocational agriculture training courses.

The restrictions do not apply to children of any age working on a farm owned or operated by their parents. Most state child labor laws require employers to obtain employment or age certificates (work permits) for minor employees. The federal Fair Labor Standards Act contains no such requirement. However, employers who make it a practice to obtain permits can protect themselves from unintentionally violating the law.

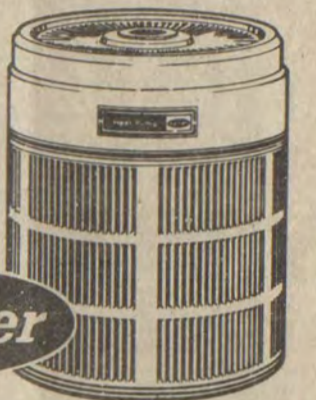

Minors covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act must be paid the same minimum wage, $3.35 per hour, as adults, unless the employer obtains a student certificate from the Wage and Hour Division. Student workers for whom such certificates have been secured may legally be paid 85% of the minimum wage.

(Additional information on child labor restrictions and hazardous occupations is available from local offices of the Wage and Hour Division, listed in most phone directories under U.S. Government, Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration.)

Human Resources Plans Nurse Week Observance

May 6-13 is Kentucky Nurses Week. The Cabinet for Human Resources plans to celebrate by focusing attention on the state's public health nurses.

Viola Brown, the cabinet's director of nursing, prefers the term, "community health nurse," because she thinks it better describes the dimensions of nursing services. "Today's nurses in health departments and state facilities respond to actual and potential health problems of clients—individuals, families and groups in a community," said Brown, who is an advanced registered nurse practitioner. "Community health nurses stress the prevention of illness and injury and the promotion and maintenance of health. The nurse strives to be a role model for the community by leading a healthy lifestyle."

Plans for the cabinet's salute to community health nurses during Kentucky Nurses Week include displays in the Human Resources Building lobby, several showings of a film on modern nursing and a reception for nurses.

Lets Computer Work For $1.04 It Claims

(From The Licking Valley Courier, West Liberty, Ky.)

Elmer Hale, 61, of Johnson Fork in Magoffin county stopped by ARH Hospital in West Liberty Monday to pay some on his bill.

The way he figures it he'll get the bill paid off in about three more month - all $1.04 of it.

After being released from the hospital sometime ago, Hale collected his bill at the desk and paid it in full. Some weeks later, as he was preparing to leave for the VA Hospital in Huntington for further medical treatment, he was surprised to receive a bill from ARH for an additional $1.04.

When he returned home from Huntington, he said, he found another bill. Then as the weeks went by, another and another. Hale stopped by ARH Monday on his way back to Huntington to inquire about the bill. He was told that the additional charge was turned up during the hospital's computerized billing process, and if it was on the computer he still owed it.

Irritated, Hale paid the cashier an installment of 25 cents and asked her to have the computer bill him for the balance.

Wagner-Chafin

Mr. and Mrs. L. Robert Wagner, of Hager Hill, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Susan Kay, to Mr. John Thomas Chafin, the son of Martha O. Chafin, and the late D.E. Chafin, of Martin, Kentucky.

Miss Wagner is a graduate of Johnson Central High School, Prestonsburg Community College, and the University of Kentucky College of Education. She is presently employed as a business instructor at Mayo State Vocational Technical School in Paintsville.

Mr. Chafin is a graduate of Martin High School, Morehead State University, and Northern Kentucky University Salmon P. Chase College of Law. He is an attorney in Prestonsburg.

The marriage will be solemnized on June 18 at Saint Mitchell's Catholic Church in Paintsville. The gracious custom of open church will be observed.

EKU Offers Forensic Science Program

The numbers are not high, but the quality could be termed as excellent regarding Eastern Kentucky University's forensic science program. In just eight years, the program has endured the fledgling stage and is now producing trained forensic scientists who are finding criminalistics laboratory jobs throughout the midwest.

According to Dr. Robert Fraas, director of EKU's program, 30 students have received degrees since 1975. "Many of those grads have found good jobs or are attending graduate school," he said.

Fraas says the popular television show "Quincy" has created considerable interest in the program, but adds that the glamour of the profession as shown on TV fades somewhat when students discover the amount of science courses required in the program. "I would advise that any high school student interested in pursuing a degree in forensic science should have a strong science orientation—especially chemistry."

Eastern offers two degree programs—a two-year Associate of Arts and a four-year Bachelor of Science degree. During a typical year five to eight students are accepted into the program.

For more information about the program, contact Dr. Robert Fraas, Stratton Building, EKU, Richmond, Ky. 40475, or phone 622-1025.

World Timber Demands Continue To Increase

The world is timber hungry. It's an appetite that's likely to keep growing through the turn of the century.

Consumption of industrial timber products has skyrocketed in nearly every country. Recent studies indicate that demands for timber rose nearly 90 percent in the years from 1950 to 1977. They point to further substantial increases in the decades ahead.

The countries of Europe, exclusive of the Soviet Union, are among the world's major consumers of industrial wood. About a quarter of the entire world production went to this area in 1976. Demands by 2000 are projected to roughly double.

Most of the growth will be in pulp and paper products and woodbased panels.

QUESTION

The record shows that the Floyd Circuit Court paid Bob Hackworth, constable in District No. 2, $4046.94 in 1982. The same record shows that I, as constable in District 4, was paid only $1350 for the same year.

Why the difference?

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Matthew Johnson would like to express their thanks to all who helped during their sorrow. Thanks to all who sent food, flowers, prayers, and words of comfort during this trying time. Thanks to the ministers for their kind and comforting words and to the Hall Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

THE MATTHEW JOHNSON FAMILY

Vietnam Vets Monument To Be Dedicated in N.M.

An awe-inspiring national shrine, honoring the sacrifices made by American servicemen and women during the Vietnam War, will be dedicated here on Memorial Day, May 30, as the DAV Vietnam Veterans National Memorial.

Thousands of Vietnam veterans, families of those killed in Vietnam, and veterans of other wars are expected to throng the peaceful Moreno Valley in northern New Mexico where the memorial rises dramatically from a hillside dotted with pinon pines and native grasses.

Significantly, the dedication of the DAV Veterans National Memorial will occur almost 15 years to the day since U.S. Marine Corps Lieutenant David Westphall and twelve of his comrades were killed in an enemy ambush in Vietnam. David's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Victor Westphall, and his brother, Douglas, almost single-handedly built the majestic structure as a tribute to David and all who fought in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam War.

Begun in 1968 and completed in 1971, the memorial and its valley setting are surrounded by towering peaks of the majestic Sangre de Cristo mountain range. Built originally as the Vietnam Veterans Peace and Brotherhood Chapel, this memorial has never been embroiled in any controversy, and the American flag has always flown prominently at the site.

Several years ago, the Disabled American Veterans began providing substantial financial support to help maintain the chapel and add limited improvements. However, it soon became apparent that far greater assistance was needed if the memorial was to be perpetuated for future generations of Americans. In late 1982, with Dr. Westphall's full approval, DAV leaders established a separate nonprofit corporation, the DAV Vietnam Veterans National Memorial, Inc., to assume full ownership and responsibility for all operations, expansion and fund raising to maintain the memorial as a major American landmark. Dr. Westphall will remain as memorial director.

The two-day tribute to Vietnam veterans will climax at 2 p.m., Memorial Day, May 30, with formal dedication of the DAV Vietnam Veterans National Memorial. Participating in the event will be prominent national and New Mexico state officials, including U.S. Senator Pete V. Domenici and Governor Toney Anaya. The dedication ceremonies will be opened and closed with a fly-over by military jets and helicopters from the New Mexico Air National Guard.

"The DAV extends an open invitation to anyone who wishes to join in honoring Vietnam veterans during this exciting two-day event," said Edward G. Galian, national commander of the three-quarter-million-member DAV.

"It promises to be a deeply moving, emotionally charged experience—an experience appropriate to the dignity of Vietnam veterans, the prayer for peace, and the hopes of America, which are so beautifully reflected in the inspiring architecture of the DAV Vietnam Veterans National Memorial."

Our Lady of Way Notes Nat'l Hospital Week

Our Lady of the Way Hospital invites everyone to join with it and other hospitals across the country in celebrating National Hospital Week, May 8-14. This special observance is built around the theme "We Treat You Like Family." National Hospital Week is sponsored each year by the American Hospital Association and its 6,300 member hospitals to foster better communications and understanding between hospitals and their patients, employees, and the communities they serve.

"The 1983 National Hospital Week theme expresses the sentiment that we think of the community as an extension of our hospital family," said Sr. James Edward, Administrator. "Community residents can count on us for the human touch in the service we provide. Saying we care means nothing unless we show that we do, and we strive to do that everyday."

In celebrating this special week, Our Lady of the Way is sponsoring free blood pressure clinics, distributing brochures with good health tips and hints for staying healthy. Also, professionals from all departments will attend Career Day at local high schools to encourage graduates to pursue health care careers. Several treats are also planned for patients and employees throughout this week.

84 Lumber Sets Grand Opening

84 Lumber Company will open its new Paintsville area store with a variety of contests and games as well as the appearance of a man who bills himself as the "Human Bomb" and promises to blow himself up with dynamite. The Grand Opening activities will be held beginning Thursday, May 12 through Sunday, May 15.

84 Lumber, the nation's largest building supplies retailer, is headquartered in Eighty Four, Pennsylvania with regional offices in Pittsburgh, and has more than 370 stores nationwide. The new area store is located on U.S. 23 North at the Hager Hill turnoff.

The company, which is known for its impressive grand opening activities, has scheduled a daring stuntman to perform one of the most challenging and dangerous stunts—Benny "Boom-Boom" Koske will blow himself up with dynamite! In the stunt the "Human Bomb" builds himself a coffin-like box, loads it with enough explosives to open a one-ton safe, crouches inside, counts down from ten to zero and presses a switch.

The public can catch "Boom Boom's" act on Thursday at 12:30 p.m., Friday at 6 p.m., and Saturday at 11 a.m.

In addition to this special attraction, also featured will be the Paul Bunyan Games, which are contest of skill in nail driving, cross-cut sawing, fish casting, golf-hole-in-one, horse shoes and log rolling. The games are free and open to anyone 18 years old or older who wishes to compete for cash prizes and the title, "Mr. Paul Bunyan." The games will begin Thursday, April 12 at 10:30 a.m.

The complete schedule of events is as follows:

1. Nail driving a 30 penny nail into a log in the shortest time;
2. Cross cut sawing—one man, sawing through log in the shortest time;
3. Log rolling—roll a log 40 feet in the shortest time;
4. Fish-casting—a test of accuracy with rod and reel;
5. Golf, hole-in-one contest—hitting a golf ball closest to the pin;
6. Horse shoe pitching—scoring on accuracy.

The games will start with qualifying rounds in all events on Thursday, May 12 and Friday, May 13 beginning at 10:30 a.m. A special late hour qualifying round has been added from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday evenings. Prizes will be awarded the top four qualifiers each time and hats will be given to all qualifiers.

The finals in all events will be held Saturday, May 14 beginning at 10 a.m.

Each winner in a final event will be awarded $25. The Mr. Paul Bunyan Title will be awarded the individual who qualifies in at least three events and compiles the greatest number of points in the finals. Mr. Paul Bunyan, in addition to awards for qualifying and any money won in the finals, will receive a prize of $84.00 plus the right to wear the Mr. Paul Bunyan loggers hat.

Everyone is invited and if you feel you just weren't cut out to be a Paul Bunyan (who was so quick on his feet that he could blow out the bunkhouse light and be in bed asleep before the room got dark) you can enjoy watching, anyway. Entry blanks are available at the Paintsville Store only.

84 Lumber will feature its complete line of name brand building materials, kitchen and bath products, lawn and garden supplies and home center items, all at special Grand Opening prices.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Slaying of Tucker, Gets 30-Year Term

Sandra Crouch, who pleaded guilty to the Johnson county murder of Hollie Tucker, father of State Trooper Phillip Tucker, has been sentenced to a 30-year prison term.

According to The Paintsville Herald, the woman was originally indicted on a capital murder charge which carried a possible death sentence. That charge was reduced later on motion of defense attorney Mary Lou Chandler, who indicated in her motion for a reduced charge that the slaying of the elderly man did not occur in the commission of another felony, a requirement for a capital murder charge.

After Circuit Judge W.B. Hazelrigg had sustained the motion the accused woman asked for arraignment and pleaded guilty.

Miss Crouch was accused of stabbing Tucker to death in his mobile home last February. She was arrested several days later in North Dakota while driving Tucker's pickup truck. She will be imprisoned at the women's prison at Pee-wee Valley.

- Put out all cigarettes and flames.
 - Make sure cars don't touch. Set both cars' parking brakes and automatic shifts to Park. Turn ignition off.
 - Add battery water, if needed. Replace caps. Cover with damp cloth. Don't jump-start if fluid is frozen.
 - Don't proceed unless batteries are of the same voltage and negatively grounded.

- Attaching the Cables:
- Clamp one jumper cable to positive pole of dead battery. Then clamp cable's other end to positive pole of good battery.
 - At good battery, clamp second cable to negative pole. Then clamp cable's other end to dead car's engine block on side away from battery.
 - Remove cable from engine block and negative pole, then from positive poles.

For maximum safety, the Society suggests you always wear protective goggles when working around batteries.

Dear Fellow Kentuckian,

Kentucky's next Attorney General will change your daily life in a real and significant way. In fighting unfair utility rate increases, working to improve the criminal justice system, protecting Kentucky citizens from the hazards of nuclear waste, combating child abuse and welfare fraud, or assuring equal pay for equal work, the Attorney General's office serves as a law firm for the people.

The Attorney General is not just a prosecutor. He's not just a utility intervenor. He's not just a consumer protection advocate. He is all of these and more. He is a watchdog against the abuse of power, sworn to uphold the Kentucky and the United States Constitutions against any who attempt to violate them, even members of the Executive Branch itself.

Since January, I have campaigned full time throughout Kentucky seeking your support. If I have missed seeing you personally, please examine my previous record of service, the caliber of people supporting me and my stand on issues affecting your daily life. Then join in supporting me for Kentucky's next Attorney General. You'll be able to find me after the election is over.

Your friend,

Bill Weinberg

Carter Promoted to Major

Major Arnold W. Carter of McDowell receives his new rank from his wife Shirley and his commanding officer, Lieutenant Colonel Allyn J. Palmer (right).

Arnold W. Carter, of McDowell, was recently promoted to major by the U.S. Army. The promotion ceremony took place at the Army District Recruiting Command in Jacksonville, Florida where Carter is currently assigned as executive officer. Lieutenant Colonel Allyn J. Palmer, Major Carter's commanding officer, officiated.

Following his graduation from McDowell High School, he entered Presbyterian College in Clinton, South Carolina. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in psychology before joining the Army in 1971.

He was stationed in Stuttgart, Germany as a company commander from 1971 to 1974. From 1974 to 1977, he was a military police company commander at Fort Lee, Virginia. After leaving Fort Lee, he enrolled in graduate school at Jacksonville (AL) State University and received his master's degree in 1979. From 1979 to 1982 he was stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky before being assigned to the recruiting command in February, 1982.

During his military career, Carter has received the meritorious service medal with oak leaf cluster, the Army commendation medal, the overseas medal and the air assault badge.

Major Carter is married to the former Shirley Ann Butler, of Drift. The couple has two children, 12-year-old Cari Ann and 9-year-old James Curtis. Carter's parents, Curtis and Virginia Carter, reside in McDowell.

Although scallops are expensive when you buy them at the fish market, the men who dredge the seas for these succulent morsels seldom get rich as sea scallopers. The May Reader's Digest calculates that after the catch is sold, expenses for fuel and grub are taken out and the boat's owner and captain both get their shares, the crew can make as little as $450 each for a ten-day voyage.

Civil War Story To Air on KET

When a rag-tag group of Southern boys joined the Civil War they were never the same. Their story unfolds in "The Private History of a Campaign That Failed," encoring Monday, May 30, at 9 p.m.

The boys join the Southern cause in a quest for heroism and adventure. However, they quickly realize the unheroic side of war. Winner of the George Foster Peabody Award, this 90-minute dramatization is based on Mark Twain's own brief experience as a member of a Missouri militia in the early days of the Civil War.

Twain's celebrated essay, "The War Prayer," is dramatized as the epilogue for the program.

"The Private History of a Campaign That Failed" is part of the "Great Performances" series. The program is produced by the Nebraska ETV Network and The Great Amwell Company in association with WNET, New York.

Dr. James B.

Graham

democratic candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction

Dear Teachers and Friends,

Do you remember the years from 1976-80 when I was Superintendent of Public Instruction? Together we made great gains in education. Some of the highlights I would like to stress are:

- Teachers' salaries increased 49.4%.
- Kentucky ranked 29th among the 50 states in teachers' salaries in 1979 - the highest ever
- Hospitalization insurance provided.
- Teachers may retire after 30 years regardless of age.
- Retirement benefits raised from 2% to 2.5% for each year of service.
- Tenure rights transferrable from one district to another.
- Three personal leave days permissible.
- In-service days increased from two to four.
- Two pupil-free days for opening and closing schools.
- Publication of individual teachers' salaries optional.
- Schools allotted $20. per child for instructional fees.
- Kindergarten made available to all pupils.
- Free textbooks provided for high school students.
- Gifted and talented programs begun.
- ED NEWS distributed to each teacher.

I have a proven record of leadership.

- I pledge to work with the governor, the general assembly, educators and all interested groups to bring teachers' salaries and per pupil expenditures to the average of the seven surrounding states.
- I pledge to work to get a greater percentage of the general fund dollar for education.
- I pledge to involve teachers on all Department of Education Committees and advisory councils so you will have a voice in program decisions.

I know teachers feel curriculum, class size, basic skills, dropouts, adequate salaries and operating money are important. These are areas where I have, I can, and I will provide the leadership education needs.

The education of our children is so important it must be entrusted to a Superintendent of Public Instruction who has had vast experience in dealing with curriculum and budgets. My 32 years' professional experience on all levels in the public schools eminently qualifies me for the position.

I hope you will choose to join other Kentuckians interested in improving educational opportunities for our children and vote for me for Superintendent of Public Instruction on May 24.

Sincerely,

James B. Graham

NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

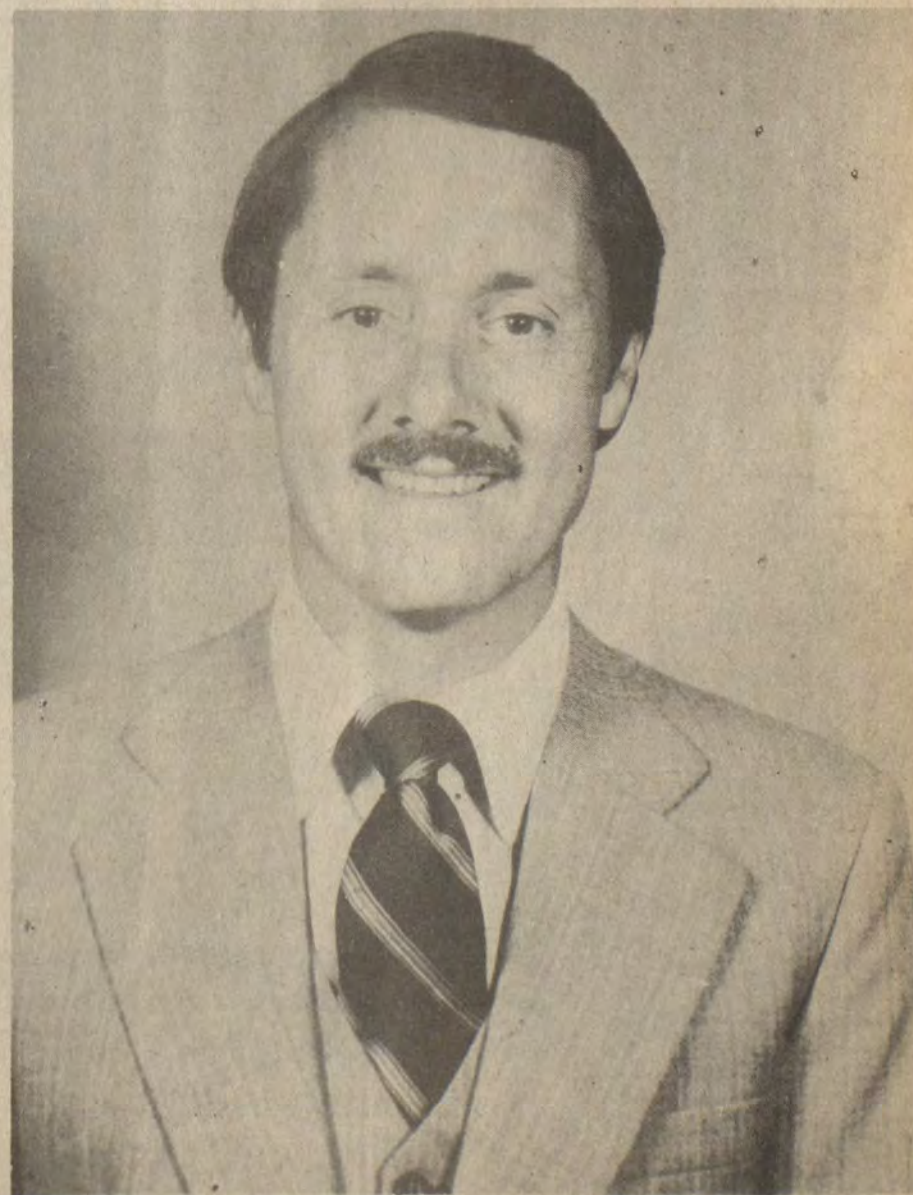

Hello, Floyd County voters. I've talked with families from the Mink Branch of Mud Creek to Ford's Gap in Auxier and there's an echo in every living room I visit—"WE WANT A NEW BREED OF POLITICS IN OUR COUNTY!" Well, you can have that NEW BREED if you will just invest your vote in me. You have seen my qualifications in this ad before. I have achieved a lot of goals both personal and civic. You don't do that without hard work and honesty.

The Clerk's office mainly performs a service to the people. I trained the women who worked for me at the drug store that the customer is always No. 1. I will manage the Clerk's Office the same way.

If you truly want a NEW BREED of politics in your courthouse then let's start right now by saying to yourself I will commit my vote to Tommy Rose. I WANT A NEW BREED of politics in my courthouse.

REA Revolving Fund Shaky, Says Senator

Federally-backed financing is in jeopardy for the rural electric and rural telephone systems on which hundreds of thousands of Kentucky families rely for basic services, U.S. Senator Walter (Dee) Huddleston says.

Senator Walter (Dee) Huddleston has announced that he will introduce legislation in the next week to restructure the financially shaky revolving fund of the Rural Electrification Administration, which has been the sole source of financing for rural electric cooperatives and rural telephone systems since 1935.

In Kentucky alone REA has provided over a billion dollars for rural electric and telephone loans. Some 436,000 Kentucky households rely on rural electric and 134,000 households in Kentucky receive telephone service through rural systems.

REA has provided over $20 billion in financing in 47 states since the agency was established in 1935. Nationwide, more than 34 million people rely on electrical power and/or telephone service through rural utility systems financed by REA.

The legislation is designed to make the multi-billion dollar federally sponsored programs self-sustaining and, Huddleston said, "to avert pressure for a massive federal bailout four or five years down the road to keep the sole source of financing for these systems operating."

Rural electric and telephone systems currently can obtain federally-assisted financing—low-interest loans—through a revolving fund administered by the Rural Electrification Administration (REA), an agency of the Department of Agriculture.

"The solvency of the revolving fund is in jeopardy because of the high interest rates and inflation over the past decade," Huddleston said.

"Without legislation to restructure the programs, there will be only two options—bail out the fund with tax dollars or eliminate the only available source of financing for many rural electric and telephone systems."

Graduates Face Drink, Drive Peril, Health Official Warns

Prom Night

Each year, as high school prom time approaches, my thoughts turn to the carnage that occurs on our highways when young people drink and drive. How many youngsters, I wonder, kids who even now are preparing eagerly for the festivities of the graduation season, will be cut down in smoking tangles of steel and shattered glass in the days and weeks ahead?

The imagery isn't pretty, but it's real. And no one can say, "It won't happen to my child." In fact, it does happen, with depressing regularity. It happens to some 10,000 young people between the ages of 15 and 24 each year. Alcohol-related traffic fatalities are, far and away, the leading cause of death for this, otherwise, extraordinary healthy age group.

As I noted in this column a few months ago, preventing teenage alcohol abuse is a challenge that faces our entire Nation. I applaud state and local governments across the country for the actions that they are taking to deal with the drinking-and-driving problem. States and communities are enforcing their drunk driving laws more strictly; many state legislatures have raised the legal drinking age to 21.

I also applaud the many student and parent groups who, today, are giving meaningful expression to their concern about drinking and driving. In Wayland, Massachusetts, for example, a group called Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) started a program to prevent that kind of destructive behavior by their peers. This program model now has spread across Massachusetts, and into many other areas of the country. Parent groups, such as Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and Remove Intoxicated Drivers (RID), also are spreading.

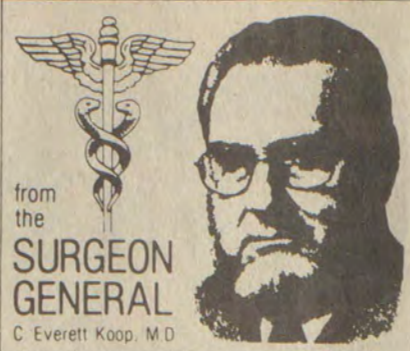

Still, a recent survey of high school seniors found that they do a good deal of their drinking in cars. Fifty percent said they drink in cars at least some of the time, and 24 percent indicated that most of their drinking is done in cars. The opportunities for tragedy in this combination of alcohol and automobiles are great. The risks multiply on special occasions, such as prom night. Meant to be the happiest of evenings, prom nights too often turn into nightmares, for youngsters, their parents and the community.

Last month, at the national Conference for Youth on Drinking and Driving, sponsored by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, we learned about "Project Graduation," a most impressive effort by people in the state of Maine to keep graduation week fatality-free. For years, Maine's school and law-enforcement officials had approached prom time with foreboding. Then, in 1979, just two weeks before graduation, seven alcohol-related fatalities occurred in just one area of the state. Saddened and outraged, state and local leaders decided to put an end to this needless carnage.

The Drug and Alcohol Team of Oxford Hill, Maine, got things started by conducting a number of community awareness activities, culminating in a popular alcohol-and drug-free party for the seniors in 1980. Commenting on the success of that first party, one law-enforcement official observed that "graduation night was quieter than an ordinary night on patrol in the community."

By 1982, the entire state of Maine was involved. School districts across Maine reported successful "chemical-free" graduation parties, some held on cruise boats, some in dance halls with live bands, some at state parks and camp grounds. "Project Graduation" received crucial media support from Maine's four television and 30 radio stations, too, beginning in April and running until after commencement.

The philosophy behind "Project Graduation" is that students can enjoy graduation without alcohol or drugs if from the SURGEON GENERAL C. Everett Koop, M.D. U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Public Health Service they have alternative activities that are stimulating and measurable. More than just a good party, however, this unique success story also required strong citizen motivation, public awareness and firm community supervision.

There may still be time for your community to organize a "Project Graduation" for this spring. I hope there is, if you don't have one already. And while you're at it, look ahead and begin to plan an even better alcohol-and drug-free event for the 1984 graduating class. The grim statistics of alcohol-related traffic fatalities leave no room for complacency. Let's, each of us, take a personal interest in the well-being of our youngsters at prom and graduation time. Let's make every graduation season, from prom night through graduation, a period of joy and celebration, not mourning and regret.

Parrots have been pets since the days of Aristotle and Alexander the Great. In ancient Rome they were displayed in ornate cages of tortoise shell and ivory, and one is enshrined to this day among the royalty at Westminster Abbey. They can cost you dearly, however. The May Reader's Digest has priced them as high as $5000 in pet stores.

DAVID HEREFORD
YOUR CANDIDATE FOR
COUNTY COURT CLERK

I WILL WORK FOR YOU — NOT JUST A FEW!

To run for Public Office is not an easy task and my decision was made only after long and careful consideration. I knew the road to victory would be a long and hard one. As many of you know, I have previously run for countywide office, losing by only three votes.

Now, once again, I am coming to you, the people, asking for your vote and support. I want to serve the people of Floyd County. To me, the office of County Clerk is a very important one. Your County Clerk keeps records that are very important to all the people. I know that with my background in business I am the person to keep this office for you.

It is time for a new approach to politics in Floyd County. We need a change and I am the man to get the job done. We have a winning campaign underway — but to win I need your help, now!

There are many candidates for County Clerk, even one who claims many years of experience when, in truth, this "experience" is very limited. We face the possibility of the vote being split many different ways, but I am confident that the people of Floyd County will realize this and I hope that you will unite behind me as the one candidate who can overcome any obstacle. I need the voice of you, the people, to win on May 24th.

I promise that you will never regret having placed your faith in me. Together, we can make Floyd County proud again.

Vote for yourself!

VOTE DAVID HEREFORD FOR COUNTY CLERK OF FLOYD COUNTY

The Phone Industry Break-Up: What the Changes Will Mean

By ART WILLETT
 Manager, South Central Bell

Since January 1, South Central Bell has operated under new rules set by the Federal Communications Commission. These new rules haven't changed things much, and we're providing just about all the services we did before. However, those folks who come to us for a phone this year might notice a change later in the year—we might not have the telephone set they want.

The new rules say we can't restock our shelves as we use up our inventory. Already, supplies of some phones are running low, but there are ample supplies of others.

It's also a new era of opportunity for South Central Bell. We'll be the nerve center for this communications explosion, maintaining and improving the local phone network, and playing a key role in the future of telecommunications. We think the future looks exciting, and we're ready for it.

Note: The Bell Speaker's Bureau, made up of employees from all areas of our business, is ready to talk to your group or club and explain in more detail what I've covered here. The programs are free. To schedule a speaker, call 1-437-9038.

Good Health Habits Help You Beat the Odds

What do uncontrolled high blood pressure, overweight, smoking, and a high cholesterol diet have in common? They all increase your odds for getting heart disease.

How much? The answer is different for each person, depending on family history, and on how many of these "health risks" you have. Your doctor can tell you how big a chance you may be taking with your health by not controlling risks that can be modified or eliminated.

How much risk is too much? Ask yourself. Then ask your doctor for help in changing everyday habits to help you beat the odds.

NAME CHANGE!

Nelson Insurance Company has changed its name to NEL-MAR Insurance Agency, Inc.

Our office is in the end office in the Maloney Building. Please call us at 886-8549 or stop by for all your insurance needs.

We appreciate your doing business with us.

January 1, 1984, is the target date for the second wave of change—the break-up of the Bell System. This break-up is the result of an agreement between AT&T and the federal government that ended an eight-year old antitrust lawsuit against AT&T. The break-up just about creates a brand new telephone industry. Here are some of its effects.

Telephone equipment: On January 1, 1984, AT&T will take over ownership of all telephones now leased from South Central Bell. But by then, you may not be leasing your Bell phone—you may own it. Here's how:

South Central Bell has asked the Kentucky Public Service Commission for permission to sell you your leased phone. If the PSC okays the plan, we'll begin offering phones at discounted prices. When it's approved, we'll give details in the insert with your phone bill and we'll also work with The Floyd County Times to keep you posted.

South Central Bell may get back in the phone equipment business after the break-up. We haven't decided yet what we'll do; there's a lot to consider.

Long Distance calling: South Central Bell will handle some long-distance calls within Kentucky. But calls to other states, and longer calls within Kentucky, will be handled by your choice of long-distance companies, such as AT&T, MCI, Sprint, and others. They will be competing for your long distance business. It's likely this competition will cause long-distance rates to drop.

Speaking of rates, will the break-up affect the cost of local service?

Rates: It's true that basic telephone rates are rising, and will continue to rise. We've been predicting this for some time—way before the break-up was ever considered.

Inflation and competition have been pushing rates up for many years now: inflation increases the cost of providing service; competition eats away the "extra" dollars from long-distance and phone sales that we use to keep local rates down. The split of the Bell System speeds up the loss of this subsidy by abruptly removing it. Without the large subsidies from equipment and long-distance, local service must pay its own way.

However, there is a way to beat higher rates—money-saving measured service. It lets people pay less if they use the phone less. We're working hard to bring measured service to all our Kentucky customers, and it's already available in Prestonsburg.

It's obvious that the telephone business will soon have a whole new look—new companies, new services, new pricing plans. This requires a new way of looking at your phone service: it is a number of communications services, provided by a number of suppliers. There isn't one company with total responsibility anymore.

For telephone users, it's a new era of opportunity. People will be able to choose from a variety of services and suppliers, at competitive prices.

Low Interest Rate Home Loan Financing

The Kentucky Housing Corporation has announced the availability of $48,000,000 for the origination of residential mortgage loans at a 9 5/8 percent interest rate. Applications will be taken at participating lending institutions. The loans will be made for a period of 25 years.

In order to be eligible for this low interest rate, the purchase price of the house to be financed must be $46,000 or under (not more than $52,000 in certain eastern Kentucky counties), and the total gross household income of the buyer may not exceed $25,000. Federal law states that an eligible borrower may not have owned his or her principal residence at any time during the previous three years. This requirement is waived in the "targeted areas" designated by the U.S. Departments of Housing and Urban Development and Treasury. Floyd county is included among the targeted areas.

KHC expects the available funds to be used very quickly.

No Floyd banks are listed as participating in the program.

BRANHAM TO TRAIN AT LACKLAND AFB

Airman Lowell D. Branham, Jr., son of Lowell D. and Minerva A. Branham, of Prestonsburg, will remain at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized training in the voice processing field.

He is a 1973 graduate of Prestonsburg High School.

Scientists Meet To View Total Eclipse of Sun

By ROBERT MONTGOMERY AND JAMES CORNELL
Smithsonian News Service

For a few minutes on Saturday, June 11, day will turn to night along a narrow path stretching nearly 6,000 miles from the southwestern Indian Ocean to the New Hebrides Islands in the Coral Sea when one of nature's most spectacular and elusive phenomena occurs: a total eclipse of the sun.

Most of this path will be over open water, but as it sweeps across Indonesia, the shadow will fall on several large cities on the islands of Java and Celebes (Sulawesi), where hundreds of professional and amateur scientists gathered from all over the world are expected to witness the event. Because the eclipse will have a duration of little more than five minutes, professional scientific teams—including eight of them from the United States—must work feverishly to gather information almost impossible to obtain at any other time.

Total solar eclipses, which occur when the moon and sun are briefly and perfectly aligned so that the moon's shadow is cast on the Earth, have always held a special fascination for humankind. In ancient times, the sudden and inexplicable disappearance of the sun was seen as a portent of doom, producing fear and panic in observers.

While the intricate celestial ballet that produces eclipses is well understood today, the fascination remains. Indeed, hordes of science buffs, many paying as much as $5,000 apiece for the privilege, will travel halfway around the world simply to stand in the moon's shadow and share the wonder of the eclipse with solar scientists.

"Without doubt, total solar eclipses are among the most beautiful sights in astronomy," notes Dr. Andrea Dupree, associate director for solar and stellar physics at the Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics in Cambridge, Mass. "But they also afford scientists one of the few opportunities to observe from the ground important physical processes occurring in the sun's outer atmosphere, for the surrounding halo of hot gas is normally obscured by the brilliant glow of the sun's visible disk."

A solar eclipse occurs when the moon passes directly between the Earth and the sun. As seen from the Earth, the disks of sun and moon have the same apparent size. Thus, when precisely aligned, the moon completely blocks the sun and its shadow is cast onto the Earth below. This shadow is about 100 miles wide and speeds across the globe, heading east, at hundreds of miles per hour.

For nearly a thousand miles on either side of the path of the moon's shadow, a partial eclipse will be visible. However, the full effects of the eclipse can be seen only within the shadow itself. In contrast, a total eclipse of the moon—produced when the Earth passes between moon and sun—can be seen over almost an entire continent.

As the sky darkens and the air cools, animals will grow quiet as if night approaches, birds will return to their nests and some day-blooming plants will even close up their petals.

Moments before totality, the moon is surrounded by "Baily's Beads," a ring of brilliant points of light created by rays of sunlight shining through valleys on the edge of the moon. This phenomenon was first described in 1836 by Francis Baily, a prosperous English stockbroker and one of the founders of the Royal Astronomical Society who devoted his retirement years to the study of astronomy.

A final, dazzling, "diamond-ring effect" occurs as a last beam of sunlight shines through the deepest lunar valley, and, then, as the moon completely covers the sun, day suddenly turns to night.

Consumer Alert

"If you are one of the many Kentuckians counting calories, you may be interested in this Food and Drug Administration regulation. Products claiming to be low cal or reduced in calories must meet specific limits on calorie content," advises the Attorney General's office.

A food can be labeled "low calorie" only if a serving supplies no more than 40 calories and contains no more than four-tenths of a calories per gram. A food labeled "reduced calorie" must be at least one-third lower in calories than a similar food in which the calories are not reduced. Neither low calorie nor reduced calorie foods can be nutritionally inferior to the higher calorie version.

Labels must include the number of calories per serving and define the serving size in a commonly used unit, such as a cup or slice. Labels are also required to list vitamin and mineral content.

If the label says that calories have been cut, it must back that claim up with the numbers. The label must compare the lower calorie food with a standard version of the product.

Foods that are already naturally low in calories must use the term "low calorie" immediately before the name of the product. The statement "a low calorie food" could, however, follow the name.

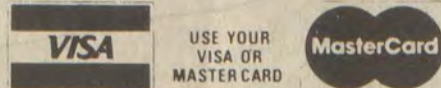

"The next time you are in a grocery store, stop and read the product labels before putting the item in the cart. Information included on the label may help to make you a wiser consumer," added Beshear.

Consumers may contact the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, to file a complaint at 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601 or call the toll-free consumer hotline, 1-800-432-9257.

Cancer Hopeline

Q. As a woman, I'm interested in the treatment for breast cancer. What is the latest information available?

A. Last fall the International Cancer Conference met in Seattle. In summing up current trends in breast cancer treatment, Dr. Bernard Fisher, who heads the National Cancer Institute's long-term international breast cancer studies, said that a woman with a breast lump today "is no longer treated as an emergency. She is apt to have an outpatient biopsy (removal of the lump to determine if it is cancerous), will have a thorough evaluation for metastasis (spread), will engage in lengthy dialogue with her surgeon, may have a second opinion, will not have a radical mastectomy, will... evaluate the worth of a breast-conserving operation, will receive postoperative chemotherapy...if she had positive nodes, will be part of a meticulous follow-up program...and hopefully will experience a greater probability of improved survival."

While mastectomy is the current treatment standard adopted by a National Institute of Health panel of experts in 1979, many women are candidates for lesser surgery, Fisher and some of his colleagues argue.

He continued, "As we get more facility with lumpectomy (removal only of the tumor and a small amount of surrounding tissue) and radiation, eventually almost all breast cancer patients will be treated with less than removal of the breast."

But other well-known doctors disagree. Dr. David W. Kinne, chief of breast service at Memorial-Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York, said, "Lumpectomy has not been proven to be equal to mastectomy." It will probably be several years before enough data are in to satisfy most physicians and surgeons, and that conservative attitude is for the breast cancer patient's protection. Whatever results ultimately show, probably not every breast cancer patient will be a candidate for this procedure for it is believed that only very small localized tumors can be treated this way.

So what should a woman do if she finds a breast lump that requires a biopsy? The consensus of the experts at the Seattle conference was that:

—Diagnostic biopsy should be separated from mastectomy surgery so that a woman doesn't wake up from a biopsy and find that a mastectomy has been performed. This two-step procedure also allows alternative treatments to be discussed with the patient. In addition, women are urged to remind their surgeons to perform an estrogen receptor assay at the time of biopsy to help determine whether hormonal treatment would be helpful if cancer is found.

—Treatment must be individualized for every woman, taking into account her particular medical, physical, and psychological needs. She should not be afraid to question her doctors.

For more information, call the Cancer Hopeline toll free at 1-800-4-CANCER from 9 to 5, weekdays. Ask for the free brochure, "Questions and Answers About Breast Lumps."

Board Members Vote Ouster of Branham

Four members of the Martin County Board of Education have moved to oust Superintendent Dr. Dan Branham.

The board voted 4 to 1 last Wednesday night to charge Branham with a dozen violations and gave him 15 days in which to answer the charges. The board will then vote again on whether to retain the superintendent or terminate his contract, which does not expire until June 1984.

More than 100 people—and as many as 250—have attended Martin county school board meetings in the local high school gymnasium since February when plans to remove Branham were revealed.

Two of the four board members who want Branham ousted were elected last November, defeating incumbents who supported Branham.

Board chairman Ilene Smith had vowed to fire Branham if he did not resign by March 31.

Board member Dewey Ward read the charges against Branham on Wednesday night. Ward said Branham had, among other things, failed to collect a utility tax from coal companies and had allowed non-employees to purchase tires at discount rates through the school board.

May 8-14 Designated Nursing Home Week

President Ronald Reagan and Governor John Y. Brown, Jr. have declared May 8-14, as National Nursing Home Week.

During National Nursing Home Week, nursing homes throughout America will honor their elderly residents as a very special link to our heritage.

As the 1983 theme declares, "Memories Are Made to Be Shared." From our older citizens we learn about the roots of our families and communities. We share valued memories, and through sharing, our elderly refresh their lives and we gain precious new understanding and insights about our lives.

While nursing home staffs provide care with skill and kindness, visits from family, friends and volunteers add immeasurably to the lives of elderly residents.

In observing this week, each person is urged to reach out and share time and compassion with the men and women who live in the nursing homes.

Barnett Accused As Mail Bomber

(From the Lexington Herald)

A Salyersville coal operator has been indicted in the mailing of a pipe bomb that nearly killed Jack Daniel, a Lexington coal broker, last September.

Robert Herald Barnett, an inventor, coal operator and investor, was indicted by a federal grand jury May 4 on two charges, possession of the bomb and the act of mailing it.

If convicted, he could be sentenced to 20 years in jail for mailing the device. The maximum punishment for possession of the bomb is 10 years in jail. Conviction on either charge could result in a maximum fine of $10,000.

When asked about the indictment Barnett said, "That's news to me. I don't know what they're doing. I don't want to get involved...discussing it."

The indictment ended an eight-month investigation by 26 postal investigators from several surrounding states. Dennis Peil, U.S. Postal Inspection Service agent in charge of the investigation, said agents will obtain a warrant for Barnett's arrest in U.S. District Court in London. The agents were expected to arrest him Thursday, Peil said.

Daniel found a 30-inch cardboard tube in his mail when he returned to his southwest Lexington home Sept. 5. As he walked into his house at 1129 Claridge Drive, he told a friend that the package looked suspicious and "could be a bomb."

Daniel was holding the package between his legs in an effort to pry the end off the tube when the dynamite-filled cylinder exploded.

Daniels was taken to the University of Kentucky Albert B. Chandler Medical Center where his legs were amputated. Daniel, now confined to a wheelchair, also lost three fingers on his right hand.

Barnett, who comes from a prominent Salyersville family, drew some notice two years ago for inventing a new type of coal drill. He operates Tony's Machine Shop, which specializes in the repair and maintenance of heavy equipment used in coal mining. He has also worked as a coal miner.

"Because of his background in coal mining he would know how to use explosives," one federal source said.

The postal service offered a $10,000 reward for information on the bombing. But Peil said the service did not award the money to any informant.

Peil would not comment on Barnett's possible motive for mailing a bomb to Daniel. But Barnett had at least one reason for disliking the Lexington coal broker.

In 1974, Barnett was among a group of men who loaned $250,000 to Western Pacific, a company formed by Daniel, former University of Kentucky basketball player Terry Mobley and Danny Featherston. Daniel planned to build a coal barge facility on the Ohio River. Western Pacific put up coal leases as collateral for the money.

However, the project never came off. "They let the leases expire," Barnett said in an interview with The Lexington Leader last October. "And when the bottom fell out of the coal industry a little later, we were left holding the bag."

Barnett filed a lawsuit against Daniel, Mobley, Featherston and Western Pacific. He claimed that the company "diverted the money to other of their projects and to their own private causes."

"They bought two Cadillacs and a Lincoln with our money," Barnett said in the interview.

Barnett will be tried in U.S. District Court in London. No date for arraignment has been set.

Peil said that the September bombing was the only mail bombing incident in Lexington, according to his office's record.

No others will be indicted or arrested in connection with the case, he said.

BRUXISM

Q. My husband gnashes his teeth in his sleep. What makes him do this?
A. Tooth gnashing—called bruxing—is usually caused by a combination of personal factors. It may be a release mechanism for tension, anxiety or depression. Or it can indicate a mouth bite that's off-balance, a tooth out of line, or some other dental defect that's difficult to detect. Teeth-grinding can become habitual and dangerous to oral structures; it can wear down teeth, destroy underlying bone, and loosen teeth. In addition, muscles associated with chewing may go into spasm and create pain in the jaw, temples, neck and surrounding areas—even headaches. Once you're able to determine the cause and remove it, bruxing will most probably stop. Your dentist can provide a therapeutic mouth guard or bite plate to help the problem and prevent further damage. (Presented as a public service by your dentist).

PRATER CREEK HOMEMAKERS

The Prater Creek Homemakers met April 25 at 7 o'clock in the school lunchroom with Willena Campbell, club president, presiding. All dues and fund obligations were brought up to date, and officers for the coming year were elected. They are Willena Campbell, president; Sereda Brown, vice president; Loretta Conn, secretary-treasurer; Wanda Hall, devotional leader; telephone chairman, Jeannie Nelson, lower Prater; Gail Taylor, upper Prater; Ellen Campbell, recreation chairman.

Members voted to start an Ovarian Cancer Fund for the coming year with each member donating all her extra change at each meeting. Mona Boyd is in charge of collecting for this fund.

The club enjoyed a Cathedral Quilt workshop along with their regular lesson on "Salt and Sugar in Your Diet."

Club members also voted to end their May 23 meeting with a dinner at the Western Sizzlin Steak House in Prestonsburg.

The hostesses, Mary Ellen Nelson, Rita Howell, Charlene Nelson, Mary Samons and Jeannie Nelson, served refreshments to Willena Campbell, Pauline Akers, Glenna Childers, Sandra Roberts, Loretta Conn, Sereda Brown, Debbie Tackett, Nell Samons, Mona Boyd, Jo Akers, Gail Taylor, Ellen Campbell, Darlene Walker, Agnes Kidd, Maggie Conn, Wanda Hall and agent Frances Pitts.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

There are two types of asthma which affect approximately 3% of the population. The most common, extrinsic asthma, generally occurs before the age of 5. It is caused by a reaction to pollen, dust, cats, etc. The second type, intrinsic, occurs later in life. It is usually brought about by emphysema, chronic bronchitis or chronic lung ailments. Both types produce constriction in the bronchial passages and an increase of fluid in the lungs. One way to combat asthma is through the use of a body chemical known as cyclic adenosine monophosphate (CAMP). An increase in this ingredient will help to relieve bronchial constriction. In addition, it can stop the body from breaking down existing supplies of CAMP.

If you need a prescription filled to help you with your asthma, come in and see us at COOLEY APOTHECARY, INC. You'll always find friendly, helpful and courteous service. We're dedicated to you and your health, and you'll see that reflected in our personal attention to your needs. We also carry many convalescent items, and we welcome all third party payment plans. VILLAGE CHEVROLET'S Paul Gearheart gets set to drill one during Sunday's session of the Floyd County Softball Association's Pre-season Tournament. Village went on to win the tourney, which was beset by some cold weather and rain on the weekend, and sponsor Morris Isaacs' Switchback Mining team wound up in the second spot. Bruncy Enterprises took third place and Tom's Chips, fourth. Proceeds from the tourney went to the league.

Softball Commissioner Bill Ray Collins reminded that one opening remains for a team in the Association which began its regular play, Tuesday afternoon. A youth softball league, which was formed recently, will play on Tuesday and Thursday nights, he said.

Third Time Proves A Charm For Racers

The Harris Trucking-Twin Bridge Auto Parts racing team members were all smiles following their first place victory Saturday night at Ashland's Checkered Flag Speedway. Pictured, from left, Paul David Harris, driver, Terry Hays, and Tony Halbert, engine builder and mechanic (all are co-owners). The win came after two second-place finishes in previous races of the young season.

Unlike the old days of auto racing when all one needed was a beat up old car with windows removed and a number on the door, today's racers look little like the cars one sees on the highway. The wedge-shaped No. 10 driven by Harris represents many hours of labor to maintain and a price tag of around $15,000, a price that continues to climb as parts break, motors blow, etc.

Races Slated At Pine Mtn.

Running will be the focus for a day of fun at Pine Mountain State Resort Park Saturday, May 14 as the park hosts two races.

The first run, two miles long, starts at 9 a.m. It is followed at 10 a.m. by a 10-kilometer (6.2-mile) race. In both runs, awards will be presented to finalists in each age category. During the races, first aid, refreshments and racing times will be available to runners. Registration is $5 in advance, $7 on race day.

The event is sponsored by Inter Faith of Bell County. More information may be obtained by contacting the park near Pineville at (606) 337-3066.

Prestonsburg and Allen Central In Regional Baseball Tourney

Prestonsburg High School won the district baseball championship last Friday, defeating Allen Central in the finals, 10-3, and now both teams are in the regional tournament being played on the Johnson Central High School field at Paintsville.

In fact, both the Floyd titlist and runnerup are pretty much at home at Johnson Central. They played the district there last week after finding all Floyd playing fields in poor condition after a few days of rain.

The first round of the district between McDowell and Betsy Layne was the tightest pitching duel of the tourney. McDowell won that one, 2 to 1, last Tuesday but lost Thursday to Allen Central, 11 to 6. In the lower bracket Prestonsburg scored heavily in both its games, defeating Wheelwright, 15 to 3 on Wednesday, and in the championship game downing Allen Central, 10 to 3.

The regional tournament began yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon with Johnson Central swamping Virgie, 14 to 2. In the second game of the afternoon Allen Central had taken a 2-0 lead over Elkhorn City in the first inning.

This afternoon (Wednesday) Pikeville will play Phelps at 1 p.m. and in the nightcap at 3:30 Prestonsburg and Sheldon Clark will meet.

Winners of Tuesday's games will meet at 1 p.m. Thursday, and Wednesday's winners will play at 3:30 the same afternoon. The championship game, last on the road to the state tournament, has been scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday.

Floyd county's All-District team follows:

Prestonsburg—Gordy Ratliff, Kelly Cecil, John Gilliam, Tony Whitaker, Jody Hackworth, Jimmy Shepherd.

Allen Central—Tim Lawson, Dan Moore, Shad Stumbo, Fred Ridenor, Dale Pack.

McDowell—Kip Kidd, David Tuttle.

Betsy Layne—Dwight Newsome, Randall Mulkey.

Wheelwright—David Tackett, Robert Little.

One Toss Nets Top Bass Catch

John Devere actually made only one meaningful cast when the Mountain Division of the Red Man Tournament Trail met in competitive bassin' on Barren River Lake May 1.

Fishing one day when the clearish waters of Barren were whipped by blustery winds, Devere, a 28-year-old Berea contractor, caught just one bass—a good one. Devere chunked a black jig and Uncle Josh Craw Frog combination into approximately 12 feet of water in Peters Creek and reeled in a six-pound, two-ounce bass. With bonus ounces for keeping the fish alive, Devere totalled 6-4—enough to win first place and the $1,450 prize that went with it.

Fishing was tough for the 116-man field, but Mark Shearer, Albany, Ky., and Kyle Pankey, Lancaster, Ky., who were boat partners for the day, managed to land a half-dozen bass between them. Shearer boated three keeper weighing 4-6 and won $864 for second place. Partner Pankey slipped right in behind him with a trio of his own weighing 4-2, good for third place and $574. Both caught their fish on chartreuse, willowleaf-bladed spinnerbaits fished in three feet of water at Brown's Ford.

Alex Thompson, of Lexington, also had three fish. His bass, weighing 4-1, took fourth place money of $388. Bill Parsons, of Columbia, Ky., was fifth with a pair of keepers weighing 3-15. He earned $232.

Devere's solo fish was clearly the largest of the day. But he missed out on extra cash by not having entered the big bass pot. That payoff went to Jim Neely who earned $352 with a bass weighing 3-3.

The Barren event, which offered a purse of $4,350, was the third of six on the Mountain Division's six-tournament slate for 1983.

Salysersville To Host Big Softball Tourney

Salysersville will be the site of the first annual Dixie Classic Softball Tournament which is scheduled for May 27-30.

The tourney will involve 24 teams, according to tourney director Tim Bostic, of Salysersville, and teams from outside this area are being encouraged to participate. Teams will be required to pay a $75 entry fee (which is due by May 23) and provide their own restricted flight balls.

Trophies will be awarded to the top four teams and special tourney T-shirts will go to individual players of the winning squad. In addition, trophies will be presented for Most Valuable Player, Homeruns, and Most Hits, Bostic commented.

Interested teams should contact Mr. Bostic at 349-2243, or 349-2915.

LUNCHEON MEET

The Rev. Ross Figart, interim pastor of the First Baptist Church here, and Mrs. Figart, who accompanied him here from their home in Winchester, were entertained to lunch following Sunday morning church by Dr. Hal Midkiff.

SOME LAUNDRY DAY HINTS

The following are some ways to make the laundry process faster and more convenient:

-Mend tears before doing the wash. Tears can become larger in the washing process, making repairs more difficult and time consuming.

-Pretreat stains and spots before laundering. Stains allowed to set become more difficult to remove. Or, batch-treat a full load by using the Soak-Presoak cycle on the washer. This method eliminates pre-treating each item individually.

-Store laundry products overhead to eliminate stooping and to keep them safely out of children's reach.

-Include a counter or table nearby the washing area for sorting, pretreating, folding, etc.

-Put socks and small items in mesh bags for easier and quicker removal from washer.
