

Nature Trails...

By RUFUS REED

Nature's most important crop—not corn and wheat, now oats and rye. Nature's most important crop is the leaves. We now see our trees all clothed in new gowns of green and it makes our hearts rejoice. The new green heals our winter-weary hearts; it soon puts a fresh supply of oxygen in the air and we feel renewed and invigorated. The leaves enrich our depleted oxygen supply. One large, leafy tree puts enough oxygen in the air to supply 18 people. Without the trees to add fresh oxygen, the supply would become dangerously low in the course of time.

The leaf is an expert scientist. It knew how to split the atom long before our learned scientists. Through its pipeline system in the stem, the leaf takes in water. Then it proceeds to split the molecules of water into two gases—hydrogen and oxygen. It uses the hydrogen to make carbohydrates and pipes the oxygen back into the air. That's why it always feels fresh and invigorating in the green summer woods. A leaf is nature's greatest living miracle. It is a chemist that can make green chlorophyll, a feat the scientist cannot perform in his laboratory. Green chlorophyll is the magic stuff of nature. It is the source of all life on the planet Earth. It makes food for man and beast. It is green-nature's choice color. If our springtime earth should suddenly burst out with brilliant red, it would soon make all of us restless, neurotic, or nervous. But green is a restful color. It heals the heart and renews the spirit of man. It makes him feel born again.

The leaf is a food factory. It uses the energy of the sun to operate its factory, and it makes the food that grows the tree. So we owe our homes to the work of the leaf which makes the trees grow to lumber size. The leaf has over a million tiny doors on its surface, and through these doors, it takes carbon dioxide from the air. It uses the carbon dioxide to make sugar and expels the oxygen. The leaf can only work in sunlight. At night, it closes up shop and goes to sleep until sunrise next morning.

The leaf is also a musician; it sings a soft solo when the wind blows mild. It is also a dancer, and dances a graceful waltz in a soft wind.

The leaf is also the mother of soil. At the end of summer, it falls and gives back to earth the elements it took out in the past summer. It helps to form the leaf mold which adds rich humus to the soil. The leaf is a protector of the soil. It breaks the bullet drops of rain into droplets which fall easily and do not disturb the soil.

The leaf is a friend of man and bird and beast. It provides cool shade in summer and forms leafy bowers in the tree as a hiding place for the nesting bird and gray squirrel.

The leaf has only one brief summer to do its work, and when this is done, it transforms itself into a color painting of great beauty. When it falls at last, it dies in the glory of its colors.

Wins Math Award

Miss Tina Hall, daughter of Harlos "Baldy" Hall, of Drift, recently was named winner of the United States Achievement Award in Algebra II. Miss Hall has been an honor student for 11 years.

We want to thank her teachers and the Board of Education for giving her this opportunity.

SENATOR BENNY RAY BAILEY NAMED OUTSTANDING FRESHMAN SENATOR

In his first session, Senator Benny Ray Bailey was named the Outstanding Freshman Senator by the members of the Kentucky press who covered the session for the media in Kentucky. In announcing the selection, the Lexington Herald-Leader stated in an editorial, "Thanks to the people of 'his' district for electing outstanding men." Benny Ray Bailey is a Senator we can all be proud of. That's why we need to keep him in the State Senate. Vote for Benny Ray Bailey for State Senator—it's a vote for continuing outstanding leadership for our area.

Are Flowers Appropriate For A Funeral?

A remembrance of flowers express the spirit of the heart often so hard to put into words.

Flowers convey a respect to the departed and an expression of caring to the bereaved. During the time of deep sorrow, flowers become visible expression of sympathy and love, adding a background of warmth and beauty to the funeral setting.

Flowers, like the divine words of scripture, speak of life and love which are eternal. They soften the sad picture of death and add their fragrance and beauty to cheer the bereaved.

Though fleeting in physical life, the beauty of flowers live on in memory and are often considered a symbol of eternity.

When ordering flowers, BE SPECIFIC about the type you want and the expense. It is an added courtesy to request that your full name and address be written on the back of the presentation card to help the bereaved when the acknowledgment cards are sent to you.

U. of L. To Hold Acid Rain Seminar

Acid rain—what is it and why is its name so alarming? How does it affect us and what has one local industry done to control it? In an effort to answer these and other questions the public may have, the University of Louisville's Speed Scientific School and the Center for Continuing Studies are sponsoring "Acid Rain—An Update" on Thursday, June 2.

"Acid Rain—An Update" will feature "Acid Rain: Requiem or Recovery" and "Acid from Heaven," films produced and distributed by the National Film Board of Canada. Four knowledgeable panel members will augment and explain the information in the films and give their perspectives on the social, economic and environmental impact of acid disposition and the legislation proposed to control it.

Among the panel members are Dr. Hugh T. Spencer, professor of chemical engineering, and Dr. W. Geoffrey Cobourn, assistant professor of mechanical engineering, both of U of L's Speed School. Other panel members are Dr. Lyle Sendlein, director of the Institute for Mining and Mineral Research and professor of geology at the University of Kentucky, and Robert P. Van Ness, manager of environmental affairs at the Louisville Gas and Electric Company. Dr. Marvin Fleischman of the Speed School's Department of Chemical and Environmental Engineering will moderate.

This seminar will be held from 7 to 9:30 on Thursday evening, June 2, in the Middleton Theatre in Strickler Hall on Belknap Campus. "Acid Rain—An Update" is free and open to the public.

AUXIER DEVELOPMENT CLUB TO MEET

The Auxier Community Development Club, which meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, will hold its next meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, May 23, in the Auxier Grade School cafeteria.

The subject of proposed gas rate increase will be discussed with a view to selecting a lawyer to represent the Auxier community before the Public Service Commission.

Babcock Elected

Deputy Economic Development Commissioner Whitney Babcock has unanimously been voted chairman of the board of directors of Travel South USA.

Babcock, who heads state tourism programs, was elected recently during a board meeting held in Lexington. He previously served as vice chairman and headed the group's marketing committee. He will serve a one-year term as chairman.

Travel South USA is a non-profit organization that seeks to increase the region's $37.4 billion share of the national travel and tourism market. The group represents 11 states, including Kentucky.

"I'm honored by the board's election of me to serve as chairman," Babcock said. "It will give Kentucky an even stronger role in regional effort to attract the tourism dollar."

To Wed June 4

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Justice, of Hi Hat, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Jamie Renee Justice, to Mr. Michael Leon May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon May, of Virgie.

The marriage will be solemnized at 2 p.m., Saturday, June 4, at the First Baptist Church in Wheelwright by the Rev. Harve Johnson. The gracious custom of open church will be observed.

Miss Justice is a graduate of Wheelwright High School and is in the LPN program of Mayo Vocational/Technical School at Pikeville College. Mr. May was graduated this spring from Pikeville College with a degree in business. He is associated with his father in the management of Leon's Auto Parts Store in Virgie.

A reception will be held at the church immediately following the wedding ceremony.

Recognition In Rome

ROME, Italy.—Janie Bray, of Pikeville, a district sales manager for Avon Products, Inc., was honored recently at the Excelsior Hotel on Rome's famous Via Veneto for "outstanding sales leadership." She was among 260 U.S. district sales managers named to the company's prestigious Circle of Excellence for record-breaking sales in 1982. The group, which represents the top ten percent in sales increase, was in the Eternal City for a six-day conference and the Circle's 14th annual banquet. Additional activities included a Papal Audience, a trip to Florence and tours to ancient Roman ruins.

This is the second year she has achieved membership in the Circle. A district sales manager for four years in the Pikeville area, she credits the representatives in her district with her success.

TIME FOR A CHANGE... GOODBYE, BROWN-BAILEY

For the last three and half years Eastern Kentucky has not only been forgotten by Gov. Brown and Benny Ray Bailey but has been sacrificed for the development of Louisville, Lexington, and Northern Kentucky.

Bailey traded Eastern Kentucky for personal gain, power, and ambition, while the people of the mountains have paid the price.

Bailey served on the powerful Senate Appropriations and Revenue Committee and the Rules Committee, and aided and supported Gov. Brown in:

RAY TURNER

1. Taking away the coal severance tax from the coal producing counties for two years and decreasing and stopping other program funding to the counties. As a result, Eastern Kentucky counties were put into financial crisis with state government taking over Perry and Floyd Counties' financial affairs, along with other Eastern Kentucky Counties.
2. What coal severance tax that now is being returned is much, much less than before; we have to share it with over 100 other counties, most of which produce no coal; and we are told that we will have to refund back to Frankfort a large part of this. As a result, almost all our coal county governments do not have money with which to provide needed human services and economic development.
3. Our coal counties have had less money spent on our education than the average spent in the seven surrounding states over the past three years.
4. There has been little to no road funds from Frankfort spent on our highways, putting them in the worst condition in our history. In fact, for the state budget of 1982-1983 fiscal years, over 46 million dollars was taken from the road fund for our counties and spent on other projects which primarily benefits Louisville, Lexington, and Northern Kentucky

5. While over 46 million dollars of road and highway funds was taken from us, Bailey voted for and vigorously supported Brown's increase of almost double our state gasoline tax that was supposed to be used on our roads.
6. The stopping of the reconstruction and four-laning of Kentucky Route 3 from U.S. 23 in Floyd County through Martin County, and the curtailment and cutting back of the construction of the four lane highway from U.S. 23 near Ulysses to Inez in Martin County, was done by Bailey and Brown. Had not reconstructed and four-laned Ky. Route 80 between Prestonsburg and Hazard through Knott County, and the Hazard By-Pass been funded, constructed, opened for traffic, and dedicated before December 7, 1979, — one month before Brown and Bailey took office — these two vital severance tax resource recovery road projects would have been stopped also!
7. Our utility bills have gotten so high that we cannot afford to pay them and have money to pay for food.

AREN'T YOU WORSE OFF NOW than you were when Brown and Bailey took office? CAN YOU AFFORD five more years of Bailey? DO YOU WANT someone who will work for you and not themselves?

ISN'T IT TIME FOR A CHANGE?
YES!! YES!! YES!!

RAY TURNER AS YOUR DEMOCRAT STATE SENATOR, CAN AND WILL WORK WITH ANY GOVERNOR ELECTED, AND:

1. Will work to get back our fair share of the coal severance tax that Bailey gave away.
2. Will work to get back money for our county roads and highways that Bailey gave away.
3. Will work to reduce your utility bills and see that they will not increase, unlike Bailey who allowed them to increase.
4. Will work to fund our school systems above the average of the seven surrounding states, with our teachers and educators receiving an increase in pay befitting the dignity and benefit of their profession.
5. Will protect, keep, and upgrade our county health boards and programs and not try to eliminate them the way Bailey did.
6. Will work for better and improved employment opportunities with new safe jobs through a diversified economy by helping to get new and improved water systems, sewage and garbage removal systems; to get improved and better housing for all our people; to get improved and new recreation facilities; and to help improve the quality of life for our retired and disabled citizens.

7. Will work for and give maximum support to our coal industry to help find and keep profitable coal markets with consistent production in a healthy, safe natural and work environment.
8. Will work for workman's compensation for lifetime benefits, not 425 weeks, for injured workers and coal miners — the loss of a leg, arm, hand, or a back injury is for life, not 425 weeks.
9. Will fight and work against a "Right-to-Work Law."
10. Will work for improved and better health care delivery facilities with the best trained personnel available for all our people.

Tom Thumb Wedding at Martin Elementary

The primary grade school students at Martin Elementary School presented the "Tom Thumb Wedding", March 29 and 30th.

A reception in the lunchroom followed the first showing and featured a three-tiered wedding cake made by Diane Adams, of Price. The play was presented to the students the following morning. Directors, Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Patton, expressed their appreciation to teachers, parents, and others who helped to make the play a success.

Pictured above are the primary students who took part in the play. Members of the wedding party are Kokie Lynn Dingus, bride; John Samons, groom; Veronica McKinney, mother of bride; Austin Shelton, father of bride; Cita Miller, mother of groom; Bobby Dingus, father of groom; Andy Frazier, minister; Timothy Crum, best man, and Frankie Blackburn, ring bearer. Music was presented by Gina Marshall.

Troy Samons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Green Samons, of Martin, who is a sophomore at Allen Central High School, will attend the Kentucky Youth Leadership Foundation seminar at Transylvania University in June.

The Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation, in cooperation with local civic clubs, conducts youth seminars for high school sophomores in all 50 states and the District of Columbia each spring.

The objective of the Foundation is to seek out, recognize and reward leadership potential of high school sophomores, encourage and assist members of this age group in their quest for self-identification and self-development and to explore opportunities to demonstrate leadership when they return home for betterment of community and country.

Samons was selected to attend this seminar by the Martin Kiwanis Club upon the recommendation of his biology teacher, Lowell Martin.

April Slates Permits Over State Total 104

The Division of Permits of the state Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement issued 104 mining permits during the month of April.

The number and types of permits issued included 49 original mining permits, 46 revision permits and 9 succession permits. Of the 104 permits issued, 92 were for surface-mining operations, seven for underground mining operations, one for a haul road and four for preparation plants.

Permitting activities in April authorized the disturbance of 1,148.68 new acres of land and resulted in the collection of $64,800 in fees.

Permits granted in Floyd county included a preparation plant permit to the Beverly Mining Corp.; surface mining permits of 119.5 acres to Delta Energy Corp. and 1.93 acres to Glenn Roberts.

Knott county had eleven surface permits covering 13.22 acres; Johnson, five, permits, 214.8 acres; Martin, four, 175.5 acres; Pike, three, 310 acres.

Congressman Carl Perkins talks about Grady Stumbo:

"As a young man here in East Kentucky, I watched as we were last on the list for education, for health care, for jobs, for government help.

I vowed that we'd been ignored for too long.

I decided then to run for Congress so I could personally see that East Kentucky got its fair share from the Federal government. And I've been your voice in Washington, D.C. for 35 years.

Now my good friend and neighbor, Grady Stumbo, is running for Governor of Kentucky, so he can personally see that East Kentucky gets its fair share from state government. In my view, Grady and I are an unbeatable combination - two Native Sons working to bring the benefits back home to our own people.

East Kentucky hasn't elected a Governor since Eisenhower was President. Our time has come. That's why I strongly endorse Grady, and urge East Kentuckians to unite behind Grady at the polls on May 24."

A POSITIVE CAMPAIGN ON THE ISSUES

In any campaign, candidates will tell the people of all the things they hope to accomplish. However, in evaluating the candidates, the people want to know the stand of the different candidates on the issues that affect them. It isn't enough to simply talk about the problems, candidates should demonstrate to the people that they know and understand the issues. Throughout the campaign for State Senator, Benny Ray Bailey has presented the people with the issues and proven his ability to get things done for our area.

"Political campaigns should be conducted with respect for the intelligence of the voter. When candidates cannot understand the issues, they will resort to spreading rumors, misleading advertising campaigns and personal attacks on their opponents. The people deserve better." Let's look at some facts.

Since Benny Ray has been our State Senator, our counties and local governments have received more direct return of severance tax monies than ever before in our history; our cities have received severance tax monies for the very first time; the state now pays $18,000+ to the school system for an average teacher salary—$5,300 more than when Senator Bailey took office; Benny Ray's amendment to the budget bill will mean hundreds of thousands more dollars for our local school systems by allowing a change in calculation of average daily attendance; every school system in Kentucky will now have special programs for gifted and talented students; our physicians in East Kentucky now receive the same rate of payment as physicians in Louisville and Lexington because of Benny Ray's legislation; every single budget category for education of our children has been increased each year since Benny Ray has been our Senator; retired teachers have received a cost of living increase each year.

"My record in the State Senate is one of solid accomplishments for our area. Many statements about my voting record are misleading and false. In 1980, I worked hard against limiting partial disability payments to 425 weeks and voted against the legislation. Anyone who tells you differently is simply not telling you the truth. I do support a fellow East Kentuckian, Grady Stumbo, for Governor and I sincerely believe this is in the best interest of my area. My opponents should know that the job of assisting our area to grow and prosper will be so much easier with a Governor who knows and understands the particular problems of East Kentucky." Benny Ray's work in the State Senate earned him the honor of being named the Outstanding first term legislator by the Capital Press Corps; Alumnus of the Year at both Ohio University and Indiana State university in 1980 and 1981 and has earned the respect of people throughout Kentucky for our area.

"As in our campaign in 1979, my family and I have been received by the people in a most positive manner. We have tried to contact each voter, tell them of the positions we have taken, be honest and open with you, and ask for your vote. One of the most enjoyable things about politics is the campaign, because of the people we meet and the friends we make. I thank you for your past support and ask for your vote and support in Tuesday's election so that we can continue to work to make East Kentucky an even better place to live and raise our families." Vote for Benny Ray Bailey for State Senator. It's a vote for you.

A MESSAGE TO THE VOTERS OF THE 25TH SENATE DISTRICT FROM VIRGINIA COMBS LEMASTER:

Dear Voters,

I believe my husband, David LeMaster, is well-qualified to be our next State Senator.

I know he has the interests of the people of Eastern Kentucky at heart.

Next Tuesday, primary election day, is important for all of us. The legislature which convenes in January will consider many proposed new laws, and changes in existing laws.

David wants, especially, to help:

- (1) lower and limit our already too-high utility bills;
- (2) create new jobs and better educational opportunities for our young people; and
- (3) bring back a greater portion of coal severance tax revenues where the coal is mined and hauled.

My family has been involved in Kentucky politics and public service for many years. My uncle, Bert Combs, worked hard for the people of Floyd County, and I know that my husband, David LeMaster, will do the same, if given the opportunity.

I have worked with David in his law office for the past 8 years, and I have observed personally his compassion for and sensitivity to people of all walks of life.

Won't you please give him your vote and your support on May 24.

Sincerely,

Virginia Combs LeMaster

MY NAME IS LARRY SHORTRIDGE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONSTABLE NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

I am 33 years old, a son of Julia Hatfield Shortridge, of Prestonsburg, and the late Ezra Shortridge, of Endicott. I'm married to Bonnie Shepherd Shortridge, a daughter of the late Babe and Rebecca Shepherd, of David. We have one son, Gary. My brothers and sisters are Darvin Shortridge, Mrs. Peggy Clevenger, Mrs. Ruby Tussy, Mrs. Geneva Compton, Lafay Shortridge, Barbara Shortridge and Carl "Chico" Shortridge.

IF ELECTED, I PROMISE TO SERVE ALL THE PEOPLE TO THE BEST OF MY ABILITY.

Please Come Out, May 24, Vote For and Elect

LARRY H. SHORTRIDGE DEMOCRAT FOR CONSTABLE DISTRICT NO. 1

(Pol. Adv. Pd. For By Candidate, 5-11-2tpd.)

- ★ HONEST
I have made my living as a heavy equipment operator on strip mines.
- ★ ABLE AND WILLING
To do the job!
- ★ EXPERIENCED
Approximately two years as a uniformed deputy Sheriff, not only as a deputized card holder.

ATTENTION!
LARRY H. SHORTRIDGE
For CONSTABLE
District 1
 No. 8 on the Ballot

The definition for constable IS A POLICEMAN, and I think a policeman's job is serious. For approximately 14 years the job of constable has been taken too lightly.
If elected I promise not to just sit at home and collect my pay. In the April 20th edition of the Floyd County Times, Sheriff Hale said he has only two salaried deputies, and he is running a legal risk in using honorary deputies to serve papers.
If elected I promise to serve all the papers I can to the best of my ability in District 1. This will take a load off the Sheriff's office and leave his salaried deputies more time to devote to fighting crime.
It is time for the voters to get something in return for their support. If elected I will serve summons and subpoenas for half the price it costs you now.
My phone number will be listed so you can reach me at any time.

VOTE FOR AND ELECT
LARRY SHORTRIDGE FOR CONSTABLE
 NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

(Pol. Adv. Pd. For By Candidate, 5-11-2tpd.)

A LAST LOOK AT LARRY H. SHORTRIDGE

During my campaign I have been door to door asking you for your vote and I apologize for the intrusion. I know I missed a lot of you because you were not at home. I hope I have put enough in the paper about myself to get you, the people of District No. 1, to vote for and elect me as your next Constable.

I know my opponents have not been door to door asking you for your vote and if they don't care enough to come door to door and ask you for your vote then how can they care enough to get out and do the job?

You must file 55 days before the election to become a candidate for office—that gives everyone time to go door to door in one district and ask for your vote.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR A CHANGE. SO PLEASE DON'T FORGET THE CONSTABLE'S OFFICE AND ELECT LARRY SHORTRIDGE—A MAN WHO'S RUNNING FOR HIS FIRST TIME IN POLITICS

PLEASE COME OUT MAY 24TH AND VOTE FOR AND ELECT

LARRY H. SHORTRIDGE DEMOCRAT FOR CONSTABLE. NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

I Quote...

"It's the natural thing for voters to be more interested in the race for governor at the coming election than in the competition for lesser offices, but they are all important.
For that reason, I would encourage voters to take time in the voting booth to go down the entire list of candidates and to vote a complete ballot.
We should remind ourselves that each of these other officials will have definite duties that could affect most of us. The governor will not, cannot, attend to all the detail of every branch and twig of government. These other officials will have specified responsibilities, and how they discharge these responsibilities can mean much in the lives of individual voters and in the future of their state and county.
That, in short, is an argument for voting the full ballot. It should not be necessary for anybody to have to urge every qualified voter to take time to go to the polls and there do his or her level best to decide who—from governor to constable—will best serve in the office they seek."

Miss Wallace Wins $500 Church Award

A $500 Granville Presbyterian Church Award was presented by Jewell Chne, associate professor of education at Pikeville College, to the most outstanding and creative senior student teacher at the college during commencement exercises May 1. The award was presented for the second time and is sponsored by the First United Presbyterian Church in Granville, Ohio. It will be awarded to students through 1986.

Jane Wallace, of Prestonsburg, a 1983 graduate of the college, was the recipient of this prestigious award. She graduated summa cum laude with a B.S. degree in elementary education.

"I was truly surprised and honored upon receiving this coveted award," Miss Wallace said. "I have worked hard throughout the semester (while student teaching) in preparation for my classes and I feel a great deal of satisfaction in having something to show for my work. I love working with children and am looking forward to my career in the teaching profession."

Miss Wallace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wallace.

KENTUCKY EDUCATION ASSOCIATION (KEA)

ENDORSES BENNY RAY BAILEY

The Kentucky Education Association (KEA) has endorsed Senator Benny Ray Bailey for re-election. In making the endorsement, the KEA stated, "You have demonstrated a remarkable ability to understand the complex issue of educational programs and have used this ability to increase the quality of educational programs and the educational opportunity available for Kentucky's children." School teachers know that they have a friend in the State Senate. That's why they are asking their members and friends to support Benny Ray Bailey.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS D. LAFFERTY, JR., AND CHILDREN

Since being appointed as your County Court Clerk in February, I have strived to provide you the public with the service you are accustomed to, and to improve on that service. It is my honest and sincere belief that the County Court Clerk's Office, is strictly an office of "SERVICE" to the People.

As the "PEOPLE'S CLERK" I have provided honest, efficient service, keeping the office staff intact. I have totally complied with all the laws regarding the operation of the Clerk's Office.

In the short time I have been the "PEOPLE'S CLERK", I have made the following improvements:

1. Establishment of an Express Lane for working people who are not able to wait in line for License Tags.

2. Provided Free Delivery of License tags to disables, handicapped and elderly persons.

3. I am on 24-hour call, 7 days a week.

4. My telephone number is listed on the office door and in the telephone directory so I can be reached anytime you need me.

5. I have upgraded the office facilities and repaired older books and various other irreplaceable records.

6. The First Clerk to publish reports on a monthly basis.

These are only a few of the things I have accomplished in a short time as a working "PEOPLE'S CLERK". I have many other improvements in services to make when you elect me as your County Court Clerk on May 24th.

THE MAN WHO CAN BEAT BENNY RAY BAILEY

AS ELECTION DAY GETS CLOSER, I WOULD LIKE TO REVIEW THE POINTS OF MY CAMPAIGN WHICH I FEEL ARE MOST IMPORTANT...

- * I am a lawyer and I have the education and the training necessary to make laws for all the people, not just a chosen few. After all, that is what your senator does. I am qualified!
- * I have no ties to any other political candidates—I can and will work with any governor.
- * I know the problems of our district and I will work with the voters of Eastern Kentucky to find the right ANSWERS.
- * I will represent all of the people in my district — not split the counties and precincts to take away their power!

- * I will work with the medical review board in Frankfort to protect your rightful social security benefits.
- * I will work to protect your full workmen's compensation rights.
- * I have and will continue to have a full-time office where you can contact me at any time!
- * I have no outside commitments and I will have the time to work for you.
- * I promise NOT to vote for any pay increases for Senators.

REMEMBER, BEATING BENNY RAY BAILEY IS ONLY THE FIRST STEP. I AM THE ONLY CANDIDATE WHO IS QUALIFIED TO DO THE JOB WHEN ELECTED.

VOTE BURCHETT, ELECTION DAY...

SPORTS PROBE

John Madden

VIDEO VIEW — What do U.S. viewers think of TV sports?

Three-fourths of the American population over the age of 14 watches sports on TV at least once a week. Most are satisfied with the amount of TV coverage.

Those are findings of the recently published Miller Lite Report on American Attitudes Toward Sports. The beer firm is known for its TV commercials featuring sports figures such as John Madden, Boog Powell and Tom Heinsohn.

The 200-page survey indicates that 28 percent of Americans believe there is too much sports coverage on television; and 10 percent believe there is too little. But 59 percent feel there is just the right amount.

It's no surprise to many husbands that women are more likely than men to say the networks devote too much time to sports. Thirty-five percent of women, compared with only 24 percent of men, feel this way.

Of course, actual U.S. sports fans — as well as those who participate — often say there is too little TV coverage. Only rarely do they say television places too much emphasis on sports.

Half (52 percent) of the American public feels that some sports get too much TV coverage and others not enough. Football is the sport most often mentioned as receiving too much coverage, and baseball is second.

Most Americans rate the quality of TV sports commentators as either excellent (12 percent), very good (34 percent) or good (32 percent).

About half (51 percent) of all Americans say sports commentators add to their enjoyment of the game, but 36 percent say they have no effect on their enjoyment. Despite any jokes or grumbling to the contrary, only 13 percent say sports commentators actually detract from their enjoyment.

The findings show that only about half (47 percent) of viewers usually pay close attention to the sports commentators on television, and 21 percent say they rarely or never pay attention.

But two out of every three ardent fans (64 percent) say they usually pay close attention, compared with only 21 percent of non-fans.

Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers hosted the sixth Annual Metro PGA Assistants Celebrity Golf Tournament and Good Time Gala, held last week in Dallas. The event benefited the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Performers appearing at the Good Time Gala concert included Johnny Lee, Leon McAuliffe and the Original Texas Playboys, the Bellamy Brothers, Jimmy Dean, Janie Fricke, Doug Kershaw, Johnny Gimble, the Sons of the Pioneers, David Frizzell and Shelly West, George Lindsey and B.J. Thomas.

More than $300,000 has been donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association during the past five years of the event through sponsorships, gallery admissions and concert ticket sales.

Jim Ed Brown and Richard Reid will co-host a new half-hour program, "You Can Be a Star," as part of The Nashville Network's fall lineup.

Bill Anderson, Opry star and host of The Nashville Network's "Fandango," is executive producer for the new program. His band, the Po Folks, will serve as staff band on "You Can Be a Star." Prizes will be awarded daily and the ultimate winner will receive a recording contract and personal appearances with Brown and Anderson.

Tompall Glaser says that if he's learned anything at all from the past, it's what isn't good for himself and his brothers Jim and Chuck.

In a recent interview, Glaser stated, "We don't make as many mistakes as we did in the beginning. We're more selective today. I've recently gone over more than a thousand new songs, looking for just one to record."

Woman's Club Names Officers

Mrs. Elizabeth Ramey was installed as president of the FWC/Prestonsburg's Woman's Club by Mrs. James D. Adams at the club's annual Federation meeting May 5. The Woman's Club arts and crafts house was the scene of the installation which also included officers Miss Betty Rowland, first vice-president; Mrs. Walter Snavelly, second vice-president; Mrs. Randy Burchett, third vice-president; Mrs. James Allen, secretary; and Mrs. Fred Harris, treasurer.

Mrs. Clarence Traum, outgoing president, presided at the 6:30 p.m. covered-dinner meeting which was coordinated by hostesses Mrs. Rex Ankrom, Mrs. Greg Stumbo, Mrs. D.L. Brown, Mrs. Garland Godsey and Mrs. Herschell Tackett.

Following the dinner Mrs. Traum thanked the hostess for planning the dinner. Mrs. Traum gave a summary report of the club's accomplishments during the past year, which included a balanced budget and the club's having met all its obligations.

Mrs. James Allen, secretary, read a letter of appreciation from the president of the Pikeville's Woman's Club for the $25 contribution which the Prestonsburg club had made to the Special Olympics.

Mrs. Traum expressed her gratitude to the officers and committee chairmen who had served with her during the past year. As a visible token of her appreciation she presented carnations to Miss Betty Rowland, Mrs. Rex Ankrom, Mrs. Randy Burchett, Mrs. Elizabeth Ramey, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Pete Jarvis, Mrs. Zella Archer, Mrs. L.B. Fairchild and Miss Christine Spradlin.

Mrs. Traum then presented the President's gavel to Mrs. Ramey who in turn gave to Mrs. Traum, on behalf of the club, the Past President's Bar and then assumed the duties of the presidency. Mrs. Ramey expressed her gratitude for the honor which had been bestowed upon her and asked for the help and cooperation of all officers and members toward making the ensuing club year a successful one.

Those who attended the meeting were Mrs. Clarence Traum, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Brabara Dawson, Mrs. Dorothy Burke, Mrs. Ora Bussey, Mrs. Beatrice Collins, Mrs. James D. Adams, Mrs. Fannie Runnels, Mrs. Maman Leslie, Mrs. Walter Snavelly, Mrs. Fred Harris, Mrs. Judy Kittle, Mrs. L.B. Fairchild, Mrs. Elizabeth Ramey, Mrs. Paul C. Combs, Mrs. Herschell Tackett, Mrs. Garland Godsey, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Zella Archer, Mrs. Greg Stumbo, Mrs. Clyde Burchett, Mrs. Bill Pettrey, Mrs. Rebecca Rasnick, Mrs. Jess Stover, Mrs. Randy Burchett, Mrs. Calvin Herrick, Mrs. Carl Woods, Mrs. Robert Regan, and Mrs. D.L. Brown.

THANK YOU

The Senior Class of Allen Central High School would like to take this opportunity to thank the Martin Amvets Post No. 27 for letting them use the Club for their after prom party, Friday night, April 29, 1983. This was the first time the Club has ever been used after hours by anyone and the Seniors really appreciate the effort that was made by the Post and Club members. A special thanks to Oliver Williamson, Ernest Burchett, Kenny Webb and J. J. Johnson for staying with them and decorating the Club so nicely. Again, thank you so very much for making our last prom such a memorable one.

Benny Ray Bailey's Accomplishments for the Last Four Years:

- *Lost most of OUR coal severance tax.
- *Increased the tax on OUR coal trucks.
- *Stopped the reconstruction and four-laning of Ky. Route 3 from Floyd County to Inez in Martin County.

- *Increased the tax on the gasoline we use in OUR cars.
- *Taken away OUR money and funding for OUR state and county roads.
- *Let OUR utility bills go sky high.

- *Increased the tax on the natural gas we use in OUR homes.
- *Cut-back the construction of the U.S. 23 to Inez road through Martin County.
- *Reduced OUR injured coal miner's workmen's compensation benefits.

Now he wants Five More Years of the same for us... It's time for a change!

UK Hikes Board And Room Rates

The University of Kentucky's Board of Trustees recently approved room and board rate increases at UK averaging 5 percent for 1983-84.

"The modest increases in the university's room and board rates reflect a moderation in inflation nationwide and UK's continuing attention to budget tightening efforts," said Jack Blanton, vice chancellor for administration.

The room and board rates were approved at a meeting of the UK board held on the campus of the Paducah Community College.

"UK housing and dining is totally self-supported by student payments with no tax dollars whatsoever going into it," Blanton said.

Room and board rates at UK vary according to the number of meals for which students sign up. The most popular plan is two meals a day, five days a week.

The new rates for this plan will increase by $100 a year, from $1,930 this school year to $2,030 next year—a 5.18 percent increase.

Conservation Meet

The Floyd County Soil Conservation District invites all interested persons to their next meeting on Tuesday, May 24, at 2:15 p.m. The meeting will be held at the district office at 105 Court Street.

Run for Blood Set, Saturday, June 4

Central Kentucky Blood Center, in conjunction with Second National Bank is sponsoring the "Run For Blood" on Saturday, June 4 at 9:00 a.m. at Master-son Station Park in Fayette county. "The entry fee for the 10,000 meter run makes the run unique," said Suzanne H. Wilson, spokesperson for the Blood Center. To enter the "Run For Blood" the entrant signs a pledge to donate blood during June or July. Runners are prohibited from donating during the week before the run and substitute donors are welcome.

"Summer is a period when CKBC's blood supply has historically been low, the run is an effort to increase donations this summer," said Wilson. The run will incorporate two healthy, positive activities—running and donating blood.

All runners will receive T-Shirts and trophies will be awarded to the male and female winners.

QUESTION

The record shows that the Floyd Circuit Court paid Bob Hackworth, constable in District No. 2, $4046.94 in 1982. The same record shows that I, as constable in District 4, was paid only $1350 for the same year.

Why the difference?

THREE PROMISES I MADE TO DICKIE HALL

When I entered the race for Clerk, I made myself three main promises.

First, I would try to meet as many people and go to as many places as I could. This I have done. By doing this I have met many nice and friendly people, but I have missed some of my friends, and I don't want to take anyone for granted! I am making a personal appeal to you that I have missed, for your vote!

Second, I promised to finish my classes at P.C.C., which I started in January. I did this by carrying six classes (18 hours) and finished with a "B" average.

Third, I promised that I would run a good, clean campaign. This I have done! When the votes are counted May 24th, I will be friends with the other candidates then as I am now.

I have worked for a living ever since I was old enough to wash a car or push a lawnmower. I have 9½ years mining experience—2½ years of this I was owner and operator of a contract mine for Island Creek Coal Company.

I also have 2½ years of college, majoring in business management.

One question I would like to ask—How important is the Clerk's office to you? Anybody can fix you a car tag or hunting and fishing license, but please remember who takes care of all deeds recorded in Floyd County—THE CLERK.

I have always tried to be friendly to everyone long before I became a candidate.

PLEASE VOTE FOR ME ON MAY 24th
NUMBER 10 ON THE BALLOT!

Dickie Hall

Paid for by Committee To Elect Dickie Hall, Gary Wright, Treasurer, 11-pd.

Graham

Superintendent of Public Instruction

Dear Teachers and Friends,

Do you remember the years from 1976-80 when I was Superintendent of Public Instruction? Together we made great gains in education. Some of the highlights I would like to stress are:

- Teachers' salaries increased 49.4%.
- Kentucky ranked 29th among the 50 states in teachers' salaries in 1979 - the highest ever
- Hospitalization insurance provided.
- Teachers may retire after 30 years regardless of age.
- Retirement benefits raised from 2% to 2.5% for each year of service.
- Tenure rights transferrable from one district to another.
- Three personal leave days permissible.
- In-service days increased from two to four.
- Two pupil-free days for opening and closing schools.
- Publication of individual teachers' salaries optional.
- Schools allotted $20. per child for instructional fees.
- Kindergarten made available to all pupils.
- Free textbooks provided for high school students.
- Gifted and talented programs begun.
- ED NEWS distributed to each teacher.

I have a proven record of leadership.

- I pledge to work with the governor, the general assembly, educators and all interested groups to bring teachers' salaries and per pupil expenditures to the average of the seven surrounding states.
- I pledge to work to get a greater percentage of the general fund dollar for education.
- I pledge to involve teachers on all Department of Education Committees and advisory councils so you will have a voice in program decisions.

I know teachers feel curriculum, class size, basic skills, dropouts, adequate salaries and operating money are important. These are areas where I have, I can, and I will provide the leadership education needs.

The education of our children is so important it must be entrusted to a Superintendent of Public Instruction who has had vast experience in dealing with curriculum and budgets. My 32 years' professional experience on all levels in the public schools eminently qualifies me for the position.

I hope you will choose to join other Kentuckians interested in improving educational opportunities for our children and vote for me for Superintendent of Public Instruction on May 24.

Sincerely,

James B. Graham

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

As "THE PEOPLE'S CLERK," Tommy Lafferty, Jr. has followed a tradition. The tradition of service his uncle, Frank DeRossett, has provided the last 19 years as Circuit Court Clerk. When elected on May 24, Tommy Lafferty, Jr. will do everything possible to be as good a County Court Clerk as his uncle, Frank DeRossett, has been as Circuit Court Clerk. Tommy is proud of the reputation his uncle Frank has built over the years. When you vote No. 5 on the ballot, May 24th, you're voting for service to the people of Floyd County.

LAFFERTY FOR FLOYD COUNTY COURT CLERK

NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT  "THE PEOPLE'S CLERK"

POL. ADV. PD. FOR BY THE COMMITTEE TO ELECT THOMAS D. LAFFERTY, JR., FLOYD COUNTY COURT CLERK; GARY A. MAY, TREASURER, 11-pd.

College Alumni Honor Patton

"Paul Patton is an extraordinary figure—not just because of his success as an engineer, businessman, coal operator, public officer, and a member of the Pikeville College board of trustees, but because of his exceptional love, dedication, and concern for the welfare of Pikeville College," said Charles Spears, president of the college Alumni Association during the annual alumni banquet held recently.

Patton, named Honorary Alumnus of Pikeville College, was praised for the manner in which he has adopted the college. "We have seen him work tirelessly to help raise funds for the restoration of the gymnasium. We have seen him work tirelessly on projects to develop the coal and property assets of the college farm, we have seen him work tirelessly on what seems like innumerable committees and sub-committees of the Board. His stewardship is exceptional and we are thankful for that," continued Spears.

Patton, a former Floyd county resident, now Pike county judge-executive, was graduated from Louisa High School in May, 1955 and from the University of Kentucky in May, 1959 with a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering. He was involved with Sizemore Mining Corporation from 1959 to 1963; president of Kentucky Elkhorn Coal, Inc., from 1962 to 1979, and Chapperal Coal from 1972 to 1979.

He is a member of the Virgie Baptist Church, chairman of the Kentucky Democratic Party, former deputy Secretary of Transportation chairman of Lonesome Pine District, Boy Scouts of America, second vice-president of the Kentucky County Judge Executive Association, a member of the Pikeville College board of trustees, board of directors of the Kentucky Association of Counties, board of directors of the Kentucky Coal County Coalition, board of directors of the Kentuckians for Better Transportation, and of the Executive committee of the Big Sandy Area Development District, Inc.

Patton is married to the former Judy Conway and they have four children, Nicki Lynn, Chris, Jan Johnson and Bambi Johnson.

"We have been so impressed by his service and dedication that it just does not seem possible that Paul Patton is not an alumnus. Tonight we want to recognize and thank him for his service," concluded Spears.

To Address Managers

Bob McNabb will speak to the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company Chapter of the National Management Association May 20 at the Carriage House in Paintsville. His speech, entitled "Back Scratching and Shin Kicking", is a talk about human beings. Mr. McNabb is a professional speaker and seminar leader from Westerville, Ohio.

SENATOR BAILEY WORKS AGAINST UTILITY RATE INCREASES

Senator Benny Ray Bailey has been an outspoken critic of utility rate increases since 1979. Senator Bailey has worked with the Kentucky Congressional Delegation at the Federal level and has brought the Public Service Commission to East Kentucky to learn firsthand of the hardships that these enormous rate increases have caused our people. Senator Bailey continues to work for us in the Kentucky State Senate to help curb utility rate increases so that our people can have sufficient energy at reasonable prices.

Gas Firm Owner Leads Protest Of Gas Prices

By LEE MUELLER
(In the Lexington Herald-Leader)
WEST LIBERTY—A gas company owner who says his customers are paying high bills sent Kentucky congressmen and President Reagan a petition yesterday protesting the continued deregulation of natural gas prices.

The petition, which bears 624 signatures, protests the 1978 Natural Gas Policy Act, which decontrolled gas prices nationwide.

B.C. Phillips, president of Elam Utilities, conceded that his 441 customers in Morgan county pay one of the highest average prices for natural gas in Kentucky, but he blamed the situation on deregulation.

"What that act has done in West Liberty," Phillips said, "is force me to get about $4 per thousand cubic feet from each of my customers and send it to gas producers as excessive profits. I'd call it a ripoff...nobody's for taking money out of their pockets and sending it to someone who's better-heeled than they are, and that's what's happening."

At $8.25 per thousand cubic feet, West Liberty residents pay almost twice as much for natural gas as Louisville consumers and about $2 more than Lexington residents, according to Public Service Commission statistics.

And nobody in West Liberty, Phillips said, is more concerned about the problem than B.C. Phillips.

Phillips and another resident, Claudine Lynn, began circulating the petition after Ms. Lynn complained about gas rates while paying her grandmother's bill.

Unlike many gas consumers "who have been conditioned to grunt and take it," Ms. Lynn was infuriated, Phillips said.

"This town's mostly senior citizens," Ms. Lynn said, "and it (rate increases) has been awfully hard on them."

Phillips said 99 percent of Americans are against deregulation, but Congress has chosen to listen to the "big voice" of the one percent.

The petition, mailed to both Kentucky senators, U.S. Rep Carl D. Perkins, D-Hindman, and President Reagan, pledges, in effect, that unless something is done to halt soaring gas prices, "this many people are going to vote against you," Phillips said.

Phillips hopes the "grass-roots" consumer protest will spread. "Washington has allowed this ripoff to happen," he said. "They're the ones who can stop it, and they won't until the people tell them to."

A decade ago, Phillips said, he paid Columbia Gas 58 cents per unit. He is now paying $5.43 per unit.

While that was happening, Phillips said, the 10-year inflation rate was about 11.5 percent.

"If you apply that inflation rate to gas increases, you come up with $1.25 per mcf, which is exactly what gas ought to be selling for," he said.

Phillips said gas producers, not distributors, are profiting from the increases.

His own sales are dropping 5 to 15 percent every year, he said, as high prices cause customers to cut back on usage or seek alternative fuels.

Elam Utilities has had to pass producers' rate increases along to customers, he said, which has resulted in what one PSC spokesman called "awfully high" rates.

Phillips said Elam's rates are high because large gas-distributing companies can be operated more efficiently than small companies. He also said his rates include a $1 charge per unit to repay a loan used to install a new system last year.

Mayo Students Compete

Mayo State Vocational-Technical School students recently competed in the Kentucky VICA Skill Olympics and Leadership Conference held in Louisville April 20-23.

Twenty four students vied for state honors with other students throughout the state.

Terry Fields won first place honors in the Mining Mechanics Competition. The VICA officers also won first place in the Leadership division for their opening and closing ceremonies. Lacey Davis won second place in the Radio TV competition.

Marshall Tucker To Appear On KET

For more than a decade, the Marshall Tucker Band had dominated country-rock music with its fresh, spirited energy. On "Soundstage," airing on KET Wednesday, April 6, at 10 p.m., the Marshall Tucker Band displays the enthusiasm the group has had for the music they play and for their concert performances.

With the release of their first album in 1974, "A New Life," the Marshall Tucker Band launched a new era in rock music. Their style of music was definitely rock, but it possessed a down-home quality that lacked the popular heavy metal sound. American record consumers were ready for a change in listening habits, and within a year, the Marshall Tucker Band had leaped to the top of the album record charts.

In their "Soundstage" performance, the group sings "Heard It in a Love Song," "Can't You See," "Fire on the Mountain" and "Take the Highway," among other hits. Also featured is the music of Michael Smotherman, a singer/songwriter who specializes in music reflecting the bittersweet ironies encountered in living and loving.

Ban Chiang . . .
Discovery of a Lost Bronze Age

The featured exhibit at Louisville's Museum of History and Science from July 1 through September 30 will be Ban Chiang: Discovery of A Lost Bronze Age. The exhibit tells of the discovery of a prehistoric civilization that, by most previous theories about the beginnings of civilization, should never have existed!

Before the discovery of Ban Chiang, prehistoric southeast asia was thought to have been a cultural backwater where the stone age lingered until it was replaced with borrowed Chinese technology. Bronze age cultures were thought to occur only in complex city-states, which had vast trading networks and often used forced labor for mining and other labor-intensive aspects of metal making. The discovery of Ban Chiang overturned all of these theories!

Excavation of the site proved that Thailand had been the home of a bronze age culture contemporary to, if not earlier than, China's. It was an independent bronze age culture which developed without the benefit of imported technology. Equally important, these changes took place on a village level, where bronze was used for everyday tools and ornamentation rather than for weapons and ritual objects as was common in other bronze age cultures.

The excavation at Ban Chiang unearthed more than just evidence of the use of bronze within the framework of a peaceful agricultural society. The prehistoric inhabitants of the site had also mastered the cultivation of rice, domesticated animals and developed a rich artistic tradition expressed through pottery. The site had provided insights into a culture which flourished for four thousand years, and then vanished...not to be rediscovered until the 1970's.

Ban Chiang, the exhibit, is a collection of beautiful and scientifically important objects from an archeological site which has revolutionized our thinking about the origins of world civilization. Its national tour will visit only eight museums in the United States including the National Museum of Natural History in Washington and the American Museum of Natural History in New York. Full color poster and exhibit catalog will be on sale in the Museum of History and Science Gift Shop during the run of the exhibit.

The national tour of Ban Chiang is jointly sponsored by the University Museum, University of Pennsylvania, The Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibit Service, and the National Museums Division, Fine Arts Department of Thailand. Exhibition benefactors for the national tour were: The Pew Memorial Trust, The Union Oil Company of California Foundation, Sukum Navapan Foundation, Thai Farmers Bank, The Ford Foundation, Siam Commercial Bank, Asian Cultural Council, Pan American World Airways. Ban Chiang is sponsored in Louisville by the Museum of History and Science Foundation.

The Museum is located at 727 West Main Street in Louisville, Kentucky. From I-65, I-64 and I-71 take downtown Third Street exit, follow River Road west to Museum parking. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 1:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Sunday. The Museum is closed on Monday. Effective June 1, 1983, admission will be $2.00 for adults, $1.25 for students and senior citizens and $1.00 for children.

PHS Tennis

By NANCY SPRADLIN

Playing without the help of their four senior players, the Prestonsburg tennis team, depending on its junior varsity boys, defeated Coach Wilma Hall's Knott County Central team handily, Monday at Archer Park. PHS Coach Lois Crum used her four eighth grade varsity boys as the top four players and utilized junior varsity to fill the remaining spots. P-burg won 10 of 11 matches played. Scoring (with PHS players listed first) follows:

SINGLES—A. Crum/D. Bergman, 8-3; D. Spradlin/I. George, 8-3; M. Ousley/G. Perkins, 8-4; B. Music/M. Slone, 8-1; C. Collins/S. Seals, 8-6; C. Miller/R. Short, 4-8; J. Gray/K. Martin, 8-0; J. Spradlin/B. Combs, 8-4.

DOUBLES—Crum - Spradlin/Bergman-George, 8-2; Music-Miller/Perkins-Seals, 8-4; Collins-Gray/Martin-Combs, 8-2.

In the final meet of the regular season, PHS travelled to Bath County hoping to avenge an earlier season loss to Coach Teresa Taylor's team. P-burg met success in a tough match winning four to three in a significant victory against Bath County, last year's regional champion. Scoring follows:

SINGLES—T. George/D. Grimes, 8-5; A. Crum/G. Conyers, 0-8; D. Adams/J. Patrick, 8-2; T. Johnson/D. Thompson, 8-2; D. Spradlin/B. Bailey, 8-3.

DOUBLES—Adams - George/Grimes-Conyers, 1-8; Cook-Johnson/Patrick-Suttles, 5-8.

Looking to the regional tournament, this Friday and Saturday at Morehead State University, Prestonsburg's veteran team goes to the competition with a seasonal record of seven wins and four losses, and is the runner-up team from last year's regional tourney. Playing singles for PHS will be the senior Todd Johnson and seventh grader Aaron Crum. Playing as the No. 1 doubles team will be Doug Adams and Ted George, both seniors.

Senior Jeff Cook and eighth grader David Spradlin will comprise the No. 2 doubles team with eighth graders Mike Ousley and Brent Music serving as alternates for the team.

Since all the team members have played in regional competition before, Coach Crum feels her squad will not fall to tourney pressure.

Team Captain Ted George said players are confident and stated that whatever the results, "We're sure going to give it our best shot."

Akers To Chairman
Ray's Floyd Campaign

Tom Ray, Democratic candidate for auditor of public accounts, said on his visit here last week that he is no stranger to Floyd county—that, in fact, he had lived and worked here.

Mr. Ray has named Everett Akers, of Martin, former state representative, as his Floyd county campaign chairman.

Ray said he formerly lived at Auxier and worked as a telegraph operator at West Prestonsburg and later at Clear Creek and Wheelwright Junction. He is a former state representative from the 35th district.

The United Steel Workers Union has endorsed Senator Benny Ray Bailey for re-election and asks that all its members and friends work for and support Benny Ray Bailey for re-election. In making the endorsement, the Steel Workers Union stated, "You have earned the respect and support of all working people in Kentucky by championing their causes in the General Assembly of Kentucky." Benny Ray knows of the concerns of working people and acts to assist them in the Kentucky State Senate. That's why all Kentucky's working people are supporting Benny Ray.

 A joint luncheon-meeting was held last Thursday at May Lodge by members of the Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association and the Jenny Wiley Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons, with Mrs. Norma S. Stepp, president of the F.C.R.T., and Jack Freed, president of the A.A.R.P. presiding, and welcoming those in attendance.

Mr. Freed said that meetings of his organization would, beginning this coming September, be held on Friday nights at 6 o'clock. He asked that Mrs. Docia B. Woods be added to the Nominating committee to select officers for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Stepp appointed Clem Martin, Mrs. May K. Roberts, and Mrs. Goldia Williams to serve on the F.C.R.T. Nominating committee for next year, and added Carmel Akers to the Telephone committee.

Miss Linda Stephens, chairman of the Program committee, presented Mrs. Goldia Williams, as devotional leader.

Both groups joined in silent prayer, in memory of Mrs. Ann Scutchfield, who for the past few years, was vice-president of the Floyd County Retired Teachers Association. Otis Spurlock, a former Floyd county educator, who died recently in Arizona, was also remembered, and W.H. Martin, husband of a late member, Mrs. Nora Martin, expressed his gratitude for the consideration shown him by the F.C.R.T. members since her death. It was reported that Mrs. Alma Lowe and Mrs. Kelsa Gearheart were ill. Mrs. Stepp discussed with the group the possibility of having a special memorial service for late members.

Kim Daily, an assistant in the office here of Dr. Charles Arnett, gave an informative discussion and showed a slide on "Cancer." Mrs. Margaret Collins read the article, "You are Ready to Join the Senior Parade, When..."

Mrs. Zella Archer presided at the guest register. In attendance were Norma S. Stepp, Jack Freed, Zella Archer, Otelia Smiley, Rhoda Howard, Linda J. Stephens, Elsie M. Stephens, Hager White, Leota B. Weaver, Minnie Grace Sutherland, Hattie Reedy, Ruth Raney, Edith Hopkins, Kim Daily, May K. Roberts, Lucy C. Regan, Pauline A. Burchett, Docia Woods, Mildred S. Salisbury, Opal S. May, Virginia S. # LEXINGTON HERALD-LEADER ENDORSES SLOANE

REPRINTED FROM THE LEXINGTON HERALD-LEADER, SUNDAY, MAY 8, 1983

Experience makes Sloane clear choice for Democrats

Democrats trying to decide whom to vote for in their party's gubernatorial primary may not fare well if they consider only what the candidates have said on the issues.

Each of the three major candidates — Lt. Gov. Martha Layne Collins, Louisville Mayor Harvey Sloane, and former Human Resources Secretary Grady Stumbo — has a platform with some appealing ideas. But the three are in such broad agreement on most things that only voters with narrow interests are likely to be able to separate them on that basis.

But if voters consider a more general issue in this race, the choice becomes clear. That issue is the state's need for leadership, a need that is exemplified in the most obvious task awaiting the next governor: improving education so that Kentucky and its citizens can compete successfully in the new technological marketplace.

The next governor must not only improve the schools; he or she must lead the state into a new tradition of education, a tradition that rejects a sad acquiescence in mediocrity in favor of a new demand for excellence.

Leading the state into new traditions in education and other areas will require more than a platform plank, or technical skill, or innovative ideas. It will take seasoned and experienced leadership.

Harvey Sloane is the only one of the Democratic candidates whose record indicates he can provide that leadership.

Sloane is now in his second term as mayor of Louisville. During his first term (1973-77) Sloane gave the state's largest city an administration that was by all accounts clean and efficient.

As mayor, Sloane has dealt with difficult problems. He has faced a crisis over court-ordered busing, a series of tornadoes that left much of the city devastated, and potentially crippling labor problems with city workers.

Those experiences have more than qualified Sloane for the tough job of being governor. And they have broadened his political understanding.

Sloane won his first term running as a liberal who had great support among the city's black voters. That term was marked by a poor working relationship with the Louisville business community. But over the years he developed an understanding of the importance of business to the city's health, and many of Louisville's business leaders worked hard for his election when he won a second term.

Nor is Sloane only a big-city candidate. His work as a public health physician in Eastern Kentucky has given him an understanding of the problems of the mountains. His unsuccessful 1979 campaign for governor also helped give him a perspective on the problems of the entire state.

There are negative aspects to Sloane's campaign. He has not showed the vigorous attack on issues that he exhibited in 1979. His campaign has attracted an entourage of old-line political insiders whom he will have trouble controlling should he win the governorship.

But his experience sets him apart in this race. Both Martha Layne Collins and Grady Stumbo look like novices by comparison.

Martha Layne Collins claims to be experienced because of her two terms in elected statewide office. But one of those offices — clerk of the Court of Appeals — was so unnecessary that no one noticed when it was abolished by the constitutional amendment that revamped the state's court system. Despite her claims to the contrary, she has had little opportunity for meaningful experience while lieutenant governor.

Perhaps the best that can be said of her tenure as lieutenant governor is that she has resisted the temptation to take action on the numerous occasions that she has been acting governor. Besides that commendable inaction, her most notable accomplishment has been to preside over the state Senate, a duty that gave her an opportunity to cast votes against collective bargaining for teachers and statewide banking.

Those two votes are indicative of the lieutenant governor's whole claim to experience: They were symbolic but meaningless. The measures would have been defeated without her casting a tie-breaking vote against them.

Martha Layne Collins' lack of experience has been evident throughout her campaign. She has not answered questions well or easily. She seems ill at ease in situations in which she must depart from a prepared text or note cards.

Most recently her campaign has unveiled ads attacking Sloane's performance as mayor of Louisville.

One of those ads confuses increased tax receipts with increased taxes. Either that ad is intentionally inaccurate, unfair and misleading, or the lieutenant governor does not understand the difference between taxes and revenues. Neither is a comforting thought about someone who wants to be governor.

As for Grady Stumbo: He is in some ways the most attractive candidate in the race. He is energetic and plain-spoken. He is bright and is not afraid of new ideas. He rightly wants to continue the reforms in state government procedure begun in the administration of Gov. John Y. Brown Jr.

Again, though, experience is the key issue. Stumbo's only experience in public life has been his three years as head of the mammoth state Cabinet for Human Resources. In that job, Stumbo made difficult decisions. He cut the number of employees and pruned programs. He was subject to a lot of political heat and he withstood it well.

Stumbo's abilities are indisputable. But he has never held elected office. Only four years ago he was a physician in Knott County. He clearly has a future in state politics, but he equally clearly does not now have the experience to claim voters' support for the state's top elected position.

Harvey Sloane does have the experience to justify that claim. Democrats who believe their party has a duty not only to win but to lead should vote for him in the primary on May 24.

In any office there's room for change. The same thing applies to the clerk's office. Licenses could be distributed out in the county. The office hours could be extended till later in the evening to provide working people a chance to use it and avoid the long lines. There should be benches for people to sit on while waiting. These are only a few changes—with your help we'll think of more. Honesty is the most important consideration of any political office. A person can be too honest for his own good. But no public official can be too honest for the public's good.

No Easy Solutions in Sight

(By the National Education Association)
In 1957, the launch of Sputnik I into space caused the nation to scrutinize education. In 1983, the faltering economy and new technology once again have blue-ribbon commissions studying the needs of public education.
We've heard from the first of these study groups: The National Commission on Excellence in Education and the Twentieth Century Fund's task force on Federal and Secondary Education Policy. Others will report during the summer: the Carnegie Foundation, the Governors' Task Force on Education and Economic Growth, and the National Science Board Commission on Pre-College Education in Math, Science, and Technology.

One conclusion is inescapable from both of the reports released so far: there will be no easy solutions, no quick panaceas to the problems outlined or recommendations cited.

But if billions of dollars can be found to build highways, money can be found to repair crumbling school buildings; if industry can automate factories, we must be able to afford textbooks and new technology for our schools; if beginning engineers and computer science graduates can earn $21,000-$24,000, we must be able to pay starting teachers more than $12,900 a year.

As National Education Association President Willard McGuire says, "America's economic health and its safety demand a new national commitment to supporting education and the public school system."

The problems cited in the reports didn't happen overnight. During the 60s and 70s, schools responded to public pressure to lower the drop-out rate and become "more relevant" to student needs and wishes. Now the call is for more rigorous courses and higher standards.

Surely, more students should be encouraged to take more math, science, social studies, and English. But we must be careful not to so overemphasize these basic courses that we eliminate others, such as courses in art and music.

A well-educated person needs both the arts and the sciences.

Bid for Primary Chapter Granted Review Status

The Cabinet for Human Resources has granted nonsubstantive review status to an application from Big Sandy Health Care, Inc., Prestonsburg, to construct and operate a primary care center at Grethel. The plan involves a capital expenditure of approximately $400,000.

Nonsubstantive review status permits the applicant to waive the formal review procedures that are normally required for a certificate of need. Such status can be granted in certain cases involving no substantial change in facilities, equipment or services.

Requests for a public hearing on this application must be submitted by May 26 to George Kent, Director, Division of State Health Planning, 275 E. Main St., Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Suits Filed Against Ten To Collect Garbage Fees

In a suit filed yesterday (Tuesday) in circuit court here, the county solid waste agency seeks eviction of seven individuals and three businesses who, it claims, are either failing to have their trash picked up or else have refused to pay for the service.

The action comes at a time when the financially-troubled garbage system is beginning to "turn the corner," said agency chief Robert McAninch.

Collections are up, the operating deficit is down, outstanding bills are being paid, and the solid waste agency was able to contribute $12,000 to its May 1 bond payment, he said.

The present suit is just the first in a series of court actions the agency intends to mount to compel Floyd residents to use the garbage service and to pay for it, he said. In future, delinquent customers will be prosecuted in batches of 200, he said.

Named as defendants in the suit are Bob Hall, of Teaberry, Peggy Tackett, of Drift, Charles Osborne, of Prestonsburg, John Tatterson, of Harold, Ronald Gregory, of Martin, Jonathon Boyd, of Dana, Robert Harris, of Prestonsburg, the McKinney Store, at Harold, Harold Hydraulics, at Harold, and Brandy Keg Marine Sales, Prestonsburg.

Under a county ordinance enacted in July, 1980, residents failing to participate in the mandatory garbage collection program are subject to eviction or to a $100 fine or a 30-day jail term, or both.

County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr., who filed the suit on behalf of Floyd County Solid Waste, Inc., said the defendants' names were supplied to him by the solid waste agency.

"We realize that seeking eviction is a drastic measure," he said. "But if you're going to be serious about enforcing the ordinance you need to be serious about seeking penalties."

In the meantime, recent reports on the garbage system's financial prospects have been unduly gloomy, said McAninch. Predicting "it will take us a year before we're operating the way we should," he said the agency has nevertheless shown remarkable improvement in the few months since he was recalled to take charge of it.

Some $50,000 in outstanding bills has been reduced to $35,000, collections have been increased by $6000 a month, and operating costs have been reduced by $9000 a month, he said.

FELLOW FLOYD COUNTIANS:

When you go to the polls this May 24th, I would appreciate you giving your support to my son, David Hereford. David has always been the type of son to make his family proud and I believe he will make Floyd County proud as well. All his working life David has been honest and faithful. The Hereford family is proud to have him as a candidate for clerk and we know that he will serve Floyd County well. Please give him the opportunity to do this important job for you. I know you will never be sorry.

I suffered two heart attacks and can no longer work in the store. I miss being able to see and visit with my friends but I still remember all the kindness you have shown me.

Thank you for your kindness to my son and to our family. Our family has always enjoyed a good life in Floyd County and we love and appreciate each of you. Perhaps now, through David's service, we can repay you, the public, for your faith and trust. We know that David will do his best for you and yours.

Sincerely,
Thomas Hereford

Sellers' Story in Tie For Statewide Honors

Eric Sellers, a junior at Manual High School, Louisville, recently tied for first in a statewide writing contest sponsored by the Kentucky Council of Teachers of English.

The son of Laura and Charles Sellers, of 1291 Eastern Parkway, he wrote a short story called "Rendezvous at the White Castle," which tells about two men who meet, drink coffee and talk at the restaurant. "At the end, they leave and walk into nothingness," said Eric, who was 17 last Sunday.

"Rendezvous at the White Castle" will appear soon in a special edition of the "Kentucky English Bulletin."

Mr. Sellers' mother is the former Laura Branham, of Prestonsburg.

ENDORSES BENNY RAY BAILEY

The United Mine Workers of America have endorsed Senator Benny Ray Bailey for re-election and urges their members and friends to vote for and support Benny Ray Bailey. In the endorsement, the UMWA wrote "Thank you for supporting bills that assist Kentucky's working people and for voting against bills that would hurt our UMWA." Coal miners know that they have a friend in Senator Benny Ray Bailey. That's why the UMWA is supporting Benny Ray and asking the people of Floyd County to support his candidacy.

Stuart Symposium Scheduled at MSU

A Jesse Stuart Symposium featuring study of Stuart, his works, and the land and people who inspired his works will once again be a featured event at Morehead State University's Appalachian Celebration, June 19-25.

Sponsored by the Appalachian Development Center, the celebration is campus-wide and includes a variety of activities and events to appeal to a broad range of age, educational, and interest levels. It includes exhibits, demonstrations, concerts, dances, films, plays, seminars, tours, hikes, and an arts and crafts market.

The symposium, scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, June 21-22, will feature lectures, readings, discussions, displays and tour to W-Hollow, the Stuart homeplace in Greenup County, with Stuart's brother and sister, James Stuart and Mary Nelson, serving as guides.

Images of Appalachia as portrayed in Stuart's prose and poetry will provide a unifying theme for the lectures, readings and discussions comprising the major portion of Tuesday's agenda.

The Tuesday afternoon sessions will include a performance by Morehead State University's Performing Arts Trio, which includes Doug Adams painting, Joyce Lemaster reading Stuart poetry, and Lucretia Stetler accompanying with a classical piano composition.

The day will culminate with a banquet and keynote address by Ruel Foster, entitled "Jesse Stuart: Elogist of a Lost World."

WORKING FOR KENTUCKY

When you vote for a Lt. Governor, you're selecting the second highest elected official in the state.

You're deciding who you're willing to turn Kentucky over to in the Governor's absence.

You're determining who you trust to administer $5 billion of the state's tax money every year.

You're voting for a person who will represent Kentucky in Washington, and in other official capacities around the country.

As your Lt. Governor, I won't need on the job training. My record of public service speaks for itself. It shows I've earned the trust of the citizens of the Commonwealth. As State Auditor, Secretary of Finance and Secretary of the Cabinet, I've fought for integrity in government. I've worked to keep a balanced budget without raising taxes. And I've never forgotten that government exists to serve people. I ask for your vote on May 24 and the opportunity to keep my experience and training at work for you.

THE DAVID HEREFORD FAMILY

In this last issue before the election I would like to say "Thank you" Floyd Countians for being so kind to me, my family and my friends. This campaign has been a wonderful experience and we have made friends to last a lifetime.

Due to the untimely death of our clerk this campaign has been a short one and we have not had the opportunity to visit with each and every family in Floyd County. I have tried to either see or call as many of you as possible or to have members of my family call for me. I hope you will understand that if I have not talked with you it is only because there are not enough hours in the day. Each one of you is as important to me as the other.

Each candidate for clerk asks you to believe they are the best qualified. I ask you to give me the chance to prove that I CAN SERVE YOU BEST. I have not asked you to believe that I have 11 years experience in the clerk's office. NO CANDIDATE HAS THAT EXPERIENCE and that is a documented fact. I do have a solid business background and I know that my experience will serve the clerk's office best. A mis-filed deed or an improperly indexed mortgage can bring big problems for property owners. Your clerk's office should be properly run. I will promise that hunting and fishing licenses will once again be sold ALL OVER FLOYD COUNTY and you will not be inconvenienced by driving to Prestonsburg. If I do not know the answer to your questions — I'll find someone who does. A wise man does not pretend to have all the answers — he makes it his business to ask advice from experts.

I pledge myself to serve Floyd County HONESTLY. My reputation and that of my family will be ON THE LINE. I will do nothing to damage the reputation of FLOYD COUNTY or of my family. Ask your neighbors about David Hereford and they will have to say "He's honest." ASK and they'll say "He's fair." I will be YOUR FRIEND IN THE CLERK'S OFFICE.

DAVID HEREFORD is the top name on the right hand side at the bottom of the ballot in the clerk's race. DAVID HEREFORD will be No. 1 on election day but I need the backing of all Floyd County to win.

This is a winning campaign and WE ARE AHEAD. But you must help me. YOU MUST STICK WITH HONESTY. You have to want better government and if you do you must join your neighbors and support my effort. TOGETHER WE'LL SET FLOYD COUNTY RIGHT. TOGETHER we will see a new day in Floyd County politics. Only a joint effort by good people like yourself can succeed.

The ballot is a long one but don't forget to look for the top name in the bottom right hand corner..Look for the name DAVID HEREFORD and VOTE FOR YOURSELF...vote for

CAP Schedules Meet To Plan Priorities

A combined community and county-wide meeting has been scheduled by the Community Action Program to be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the Solid Waste Building, 552 South Lake Drive, beside the Kentucky Motel.

Persons qualifying as low income are asked to attend in order to help plan for those programs most needed during the coming year.

Asbestos Rule Hurts Schools, Barber Claims

At a time when President Reagan is seeking more reductions in federal aid to education, Kentucky schools are faced with a possible $26 million bill for asbestos removal this summer, state Superintendent of Public Instruction Raymond Barber said Saturday.

In a hearing at the University of Kentucky before the U.S. House Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary and Vocational Education, Barber said most local school systems would be forced to use money earmarked for educational purposes to pay for the asbestos removal.

The Environment Protection Agency is requiring elementary and secondary schools nationwide to make inspections and to post warnings by June 28 of the possible hazards if asbestos is found.

But, most schools will also pay for the costly removal of asbestos—which is believed to cause cancer—because of possible health hazards and the potential for lawsuits.

Dillard Prater, of the Harlan County Board of Education, said the cost for one school alone—James A. Cawood High School, where preliminary surveys have turned up low levels of asbestos—could run as high as $1.6 million.

He predicted serious attendance problems in the fall and possible strikes if the problem wasn't alleviated.

"It doesn't take a lot to cause a walkout in these Eastern Kentucky schools," he said.

The two-hour public hearing was the committee's second this week in Kentucky. The first was held Friday in Ashland.

U.S. Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Hindman, chairman of the committee, presided over the hearings, which were held to gather public comment on declining resources and other problems in public schools.

School officials also sought increased federal support of the Chapter I Program, which provides money for remedial education of poor children. Reagan's 1984 budget proposal calls for a cut of $133 million in that program.

A number of school districts in Eastern Kentucky and other areas in the state will be losing 15 percent of their Chapter I funds next year because of the change in 1980 census data used to calculate payments, Perkins said.

CHURCHWOMEN TO MEET

The Local Churchwomen will meet at the Community United Methodist Church, Friday, at 10:30 a.m. The president, Mrs. Eleanor Robinson, urges all members and prospective members to attend.

Number, Please!

At the turn of the century a popular song was "My Name is Morgan (But It Ain't J.P.)." The song went on to tell about a young girl who mistakenly thought her boyfriend was one of the world's richest men.

Eighty years later and in the computer age, the Veterans Administration occasionally has problems with names, too.

The Morgans aren't big problems, but others are. VA computers have the names of over 304,000 Smiths, 202,000 Johnsons, 149,000 Williamses and 144,000 Jones. The agency even lists 50 Ronald Reagans and over 100 Harry Walters (he's the new VA Administrator).

These names become a problem when one of these ex-GIs write to the VA and doesn't include the all-important military serial number, social security number or VA claim number.

To Wed Saturday

So you think the grass is greener over the next hill? Well, Don't you believe it! Just look around you and count your blessings!

Sometimes we think we have problems and, try as we will to survive, there always seems to be obstacles in our path. My Cherokee blood seems prevalent when a black cat crosses my path. I always stop to scratch my head and mark it down on the windshield of the car with an imaginary pencil. Just to keep the bad luck away from me. If superstition is ignorance, I'm probably the most ignorant person you'll ever meet.

I've been told that when the cat's away the mice will play. But in this case it was not mice but a neighbors 875-pound registered bull! Try to imagine a co-worker walking up to you and saying, "What's new?" and your having to say, "Oh, not much, just the fact that we have a very unhappy bull in the barn loft."

I hear him, but I can't believe it. Not on a day like this when we all are very busy at work. No time for joking or kidding around. But it is a very strange experience to try to plan just how to handle the situation. Well, there were a lot of pros and cons and all kinds of suggestions—one even of what not, to do. One thought ruled out was to fill the hallway beneath the barn loft where the hay is usually pitched down for the cattle, and then try to coax the high-spirited animal to jump. Now this was ruled out, too, because who knows just how it would land; someone warned that as heavy as the bull was it might go straight to China!

"What is the price of beef now?" someone asked. Too high to even think of slaughtering a fine, high-priced bull like that!

"Wonder if we could coax him to walk down, the way he got up there, by the stairway?" Remarkd another anxious employee. Try and try again, and there was very little cooperation to be had from the black beauty.

Many jokes were exchanged, and

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gibson, of Wayland, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Delores Gibson, to Mr. Michael Duckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Duckett, of Waynesville, North Carolina. The wedding will be solemnized Saturday, May 21, at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Two Area Seniors Win Scholarships Awards

Two area high school seniors are the recipients of Humanities Scholarship Awards in art at Pikeville College for the 1983 fall semester.

Lucinda Martin, a senior at Knott County High School, placed first in the art contest. She is president of the National Art Society, president of the Art Club, a member of the National Honor Society, French Club, track team, and the Prom Committee. She is the daughter of Danny and Pauline Martin of Hindman.

Second place winner was Pam Blevins, a senior at Johns Creek High School. She has been a member of the varsity women's basketball team for four years, is a member of the Varsity Club and Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA). Pam is the daughter of John and Betty Blevins, of Pikeville.

All entrants in the art contest were to submit a portfolio of at least ten works. The first place award was $2,500 and the second place award $1,250.

All entries were judged on their quality by members of the art faculties of Pikeville College with awards made only in the form of tuition assistance to the college for one year. After that, awards are renewable from year to year, provided the student maintains a 3.0 grade point average or better, for a total of four years of study. Thus, the $2,500 first place awards can be worth as much as $10,000 over a four year period.

Volunteers Asked For Cemetery Clean-Up

An effort is being made to clean up the Dwale cemetery and volunteers are asked to bring their own tools. Work will start at 8 a.m., Saturday, May 21. Dinner will be prepared and served to all workers.

For more information, those interested may call Elizabeth Howard at 874-2523, or Sharon Howard, 874-2973.

finally—to the relief of everyone concerned—a chute was made and the animal walked calmly down to ground level? I'll agree with the ones concerned—that's a lot of bull! I repeat, after hearing the hilarious tale, the grass is not always greener in the barn loft—Er, I mean the other side of the next hill. I certainly didn't envy any of the concerned workers trying to get the bull down from the barn loft without injury to him or those trying so carefully.

The pretty boss-lady that can move any of the head with a quick snap of her fingers, without even saying a word, will be mighty proud of all of the gang when she returns.

Lord knows, I'm proud of all the good neighbors DOWN HOME—especially the ones with a sense of humor!

COST OF LIVING ADJUSTMENT

Under recent changes in the Social Security law, the cost-of-living increase has been postponed. Instead of an adjustment in your July Social Security or SSI check, the increase will be in the check you receive in January 1984. All future cost-of-living adjustments will be made in your January payments. However, if you get SSI payments, there will be a basic increase of $20 for individuals and $30 for couples starting in July 1983.

SAMPLE BALLOT

Table of a sample ballot for the Primary Election on May 24, 1983, in Floyd County, A. The ballot lists various offices such as Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Auditor of Public Accounts, State Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Commissioner of Agriculture, Railroad Commissioner, State Senator, County Clerk, and Constable. Each office lists candidates from the Republican and Democratic parties with checkboxes for voting.

You can't see a natural gas leak, but you can look for some common signs.

Unfortunately, natural gas is invisible. And by itself, natural gas is odorless. That's why we add a distinctive smell before it enters your home. For your protection. Although natural gas leaks are uncommon, we add that smell so you'll be able to recognize them should one ever occur. There are other recognizable signs, too. And it's important that you know them, and know what to do should you spot one.

Common signs include: A smell of gas inside or outside. A hissing noise. Blowing dirt. Bubbling water over a submerged pipe. Or dying vegetation around service lines.

If you smell gas in or around your home: 1. First check to see if a pilot light or burner may be out. 2. If not, and you still sense a leak, call your gas company. Be aware the source of a gas odor could be external—gas from service lines or street mains that could migrate into your premises through walls or drain lines.

If you are inside and the odor is strong: 1. Open doors and windows. 2. Shut off gas appliance valves or meter valve. 3. Don't use matches, electric switches or appliances. 4. Leave the house and call your gas company from nearby and stay there until a representative arrives.

If you are outside in an open area: 1. Eliminate, if possible, potential sources for ignition and leave the area. 2. Call your gas company from another location.

Columbia Gas is concerned about your safety, and we're proud to say calls reporting leaks are few. If you or someone in your family isn't familiar with the smell of gas, call your Columbia Gas office and ask for a scented folder. Together we can keep your natural gas service safe and efficient.

Retirement Age Going Up

To help ensure the long-range stability of the Social Security system, one provision of the recent Social Security amendments gradually raises the age at which unreduced retirement benefits are payable from the present level of 65 to 67 by the year 2027. Jim Kelly, Social Security district director for the Big Sandy area, said recently.

The retirement age will be increased in steps for people reaching 62 in 2000-2005, reaching 66 for people reaching age 62 in the period 2005 through 2016. Then, starting in 2017, the retirement age will again be increased in steps for people reaching 62 in 2017-2022, reaching 67 for people attaining age 62 in 2022 and after.

When the new law is fully phased in, a person could receive benefits at 62, as now, but the benefit rate will be lower than the rate payable at 62 under present law. Now a person retiring at 62 gets 80 percent of the amount payable at 65. When the increase in the retirement age becomes fully effective, a worker retiring at age 62 will get a benefit equal to 70 percent of the age 67 benefit. The increases will affect workers born after 1937. Medicare will continue to be available to workers at 65 as it is now.

(A free leaflet, "Social Security Strengthened" describes all the changes made in the Social Security program and is available at the Big Sandy Area Social Security office, located on U.S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville.)

LINZIE HALE FOR CONSTABLE

DISTRICT NO. 1

NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

(Pol. Adv. Paid by Candidate, 5-11-21-pd.)

I, Linzie Hale, ask the support of all the good voters in District 1 to help me fill the vacancy created by the death of my brother, Constable Willie Hale.

I am the son of James and the late Mary Marsillett Hale. I am married to Virginia Hatfield Hale, who works at Highlands Regional Medical Center.

After Willie's death, I was appointed Constable and for the past nine months I have served the people of District 1 to the best of my ability. My phone number has always been listed, and I have answered all calls that I have received, day or night.

My main objective is to work with all churches and Funeral Homes to protect your property as services are being held. And to rid our cemeteries of drunks who are looking for places to park, as I have done in the past.

If elected as Constable, I will continue to work with the law enforcement of Floyd County, and to serve one and all.

Be sure to vote May 24th.

Air Series on World Affairs

Lawrence Spurns Waste Dumping

Lawrence fiscal court voted unanimously Saturday its disapproval of PyroChem, Inc.'s proposal to build and operate a hazardous-waste incineration plant in Lawrence county.

The court's vote came immediately after a public discussion in which residents of the Ulysses area of the county voiced strong opposition to the plan to build the plant in that area.

The only person who registered support for the plant was Howard See, a Louisa businessman and leader of Lawrence county's efforts to attract new industry.

See said he first heard of PyroChem's interest in Lawrence county last November, when he began checking informally on the company's history and reputation.

What he learned convinced him that the waste-incineration plant would be operated safely and would not present a danger to residents living nearby, he said.

But See urged the court and the residents not to demand quick action until they had a chance to check on the plant's safety with an expert chemical engineer. He said the Owensboro Chamber of Commerce had obtained the services of such an engineer when the plant was proposed for construction in Daviess county.

The plans to build the PyroChem plant in Daviess county were squelched by the county's zoning ordinance, See said.

Notably absent from the meeting were James Neel, president of PyroChem, and other company officials. But See said he'd asked the officials not to attend the fiscal court meeting so they would not be subjected to the kinds of verbal abuse that he'd experienced in the last week.

See was followed by Angela Steele of Ulysses, who presented petitions with 1,345 signatures in opposition to the plant.

"Mr. See, I'm glad you're trying to get jobs (for Lawrence county) and I sympathize with you," Mrs. Steele said. "But these are our homes."

Richard Wilson, of Louisa, also addressed the audience, saying he was a retired school teacher with no children. "But if I had children, I certainly wouldn't want this sort of thing hanging over their heads," he said.

"We don't need this stuff. We don't need the jobs that bad," he said.

CAP Meet Set Here For Weatherization Week

Must be the head of the household; must meet the low income guidelines and must own home and have a deed to property, or have a notarized statement that you can live on the property during lifetime.

The elderly, disabled and homebound will be given top priority. For further information, contact the CAP office or call 886-3697.

First Birthday

Jessica Dawn Pack, daughter of Karen and Don Pack, Jr., of Martin, celebrated her first birthday, February 16, at Pack's Restaurant. Her guest included Mickey Parsons, Rachel and Vicki Paige, Coleen Hall, B.J. Reed, Jessi Mosley, and Corinna Stumbo. She received many nice gifts, and photographs were taken by Willie E. Elliott, of Price.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Paige, of McDowell, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Pack, Sr., of Martin. Jessica represents the fifth generation. Her great-great-grandmother is Mrs. Mollie Moore, of McDowell.

Stumbo Receives Perkins Support

The dean of Kentucky's Congressional delegation, Carl Perkins, announced his endorsement of Grady Stumbo's candidacy for governor in a morning news conference here today.

"It's a great pleasure for me to endorse Grady Stumbo because I know him and I trust him, and I'll cast my ballot for him on the 24th of May and request that all of my friends throughout the state likewise cast their ballot for Grady Stumbo," Congressman Perkins said.

His endorsement of Stumbo is his first since endorsing the candidacy of former governor Bert Combs.

Predicting Stumbo would carry eastern Kentucky by a "very heavy majority," Perkins called Stumbo a youthful man "with vision for Kentucky."

"I would be derelict in my responsibility if I did not endorse Grady," Congressman Perkins said. "He is a proven administrator and, in my view, a dedicated public servant."

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

Owing to strict new federal regulations, there are many more over-the-counter drugs with tamper-resistant packaging than ever before. Be aware, however, that nothing is completely tamper-proof. The consumer must still be vigilant when buying O-T-C drugs. For instance, inspect the cotton filler for evidence of prior removal. Look for breaks, cracks or holes in the outer wrapping and seal. Check to see if the bottle is over or under filled. Has the shrink band around the bottle's top been stretched? Does the product have its usual color, odor and consistency? Be sure to report anything suspicious to the store manager.

Here at COOLEY APOTHECARY, INC. we'd like to remind you that if you buy any over-the-counter drugs and notice anything suspicious to please let us know right away. We're dedicated to the health of you and your family, and we're here to serve you in any way that we can. And remember that besides our full service pharmacy, we also carry convalescent items. You can find us at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., where we're open Mon.-Fri., 9-5:30; Sat., 9-4. 886-8106.

Commission on Education Issues Scathing Overview

"A Nation at Risk: the Imperative for Educational Reform," a report issued by the National Commission on Education, is a scathing overview of education in America. The 18-member commission unanimously declared that, "If an unfriendly foreign power had attempted to impose on America the mediocre educational performance that exists today, we might well have viewed it as an act of war."

The study cites the drop in Scholastic Aptitude Test scores and surveys indicating that 23 million adults, 13 percent of all 17-year-olds and up to 40 percent of minority youth can be considered functionally illiterate. Recommendations are:

- Seven-hour school days and a 200- to 220-day school year.
- Graduation requirements to include four years of English, three years of math, three years of science, three years of social sciences and a half-year of computer science. The college bound should have two years of foreign languages.

-Teachers should assign more homework.

-Teachers get higher pay and 11-month contracts, with an evaluation system that includes "peer review".

-Citizens provide needed fiscal support to carry out reforms.

-Parents demand more of their children.

Kentucky has already taken steps to upgrade elementary and secondary education. State Superintendent Raymond Barber recently recommended and the State Board of Education passed the following regulations:

- That the minimum length of the school day be six hours of actual organized and supervised instruction, exclusive of lunch periods and recess.
- That students graduating in 1984-87 shall have a minimum of 18 credits.
- That students graduating after 1987 shall have a minimum of 20 credits to include four years of language arts and 3 years of mathematics.

-That new teachers be required to pass a competency test and successfully complete a one-year internship program before being granted a teaching certificate.

Owsley-Furnish Vows

Miss Sherry Dean Owsley, Gas City, Ind., and Mr. Brett Alan Furnish, Jonesboro, Ind., were united in marriage March 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Statler of Marion, Ind., in a small, double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby (Barbara) Owsley, Gas City. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Martha Owsley and the late Jerry Owsley, of Estill, and of Mrs. Dixie Lawson and the late Dewey Lawson, of McDowell. She is also the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Minnie Webb, of Allen. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Furnish, of Jonesboro.

Mr. Gary Hussony served as best man. Miss Susan Shively was maid of honor. She wore a knee-length dress of lavender flowers and carried one long-stemmed, lavender-tipped white rose.

Given in marriage by both her father and her uncle, Jim Lawson, of Huntington, the bride wore a full bouffant wedding gown with a Queen Anne neckline and short puffed sleeves accented by tiny white, wrist-length satin ribbons. The gown had layer after layer of Chantilly lace which swept into a full chapel train. Her veil was a Juliet cap of waltz length accented with seed pearls and sequins.

She carried a small, white leather Bible to which were attached five small pink and lavender-tipped sweetheart roses. Ribbons of pink and lavender dangled from the bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to Indianapolis, the couple will reside at 38 Bob- by Avenue, Marion, Ind.

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Rodney Hall has been named a 1983 United States National Award winner in science.

Hall, who attends Prestonsburg High School, was nominated for this National Award by Mr. Crider, science teacher at the school. Hall's name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Rodney Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hall, of East Point, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hall, of Auxier, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fannin, of Wabash, Indiana.

West and Wells Named To Centre Dean's List

Two students from the Prestonsburg area have been named to the spring term Dean's List at Centre College.

The Dean's List students:

-Kevin West, a senior, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James West, Hueysville.

-Jack Carter Wells, a sophomore, the son of Dorothy Wells, 67 N. Arnold Avenue, Prestonsburg.

The spring term Dean's List is based on a student's academic work of the previous fall and winter terms. The Dean's List recognizes those students who rank in the top 15 percent of the student body academically, with the group divided equally among the four classes.

Kentucky's Next Attorney General

A Record Of Leadership

- Former two-term State Representative in the Kentucky General Assembly (1978-81). Named Outstanding First-Term Legislator in 1978.
- Assistant Commonwealth Attorney for Knott and Magoffin counties.
- City Attorney for Hindman.
- Chairman of the Kentucky Coal County Coalition, Inc., 1981-82.
- Eagle Scout and Order of the Arrow.
- Tulane University nominee for Rhodes Scholarship.
- Past instructor, assistant academic dean, and director of the Appalachian Learning Laboratory at Alice Lloyd College.
- Co-Edited Our Appalachia: An Oral History.
- Practicing attorney and managing partner of Pratt, Weinberg, Perkins and Campbell Law Firm.

Dear Fellow Kentuckian,

Kentucky's next Attorney General will change your daily life in a real and significant way. In fighting unfair utility rate increases, working to improve the criminal justice system, protecting Kentucky citizens from the hazards of nuclear waste, combating child abuse and welfare fraud, or assuring equal pay for equal work, the Attorney General's office serves as a law firm for the people.

The Attorney General is not just a prosecutor. He's not just a utility intervenor. He's not just a consumer protection advocate. He is all of these and more. He is a watchdog against the abuse of power, sworn to uphold the Kentucky and the United States Constitutions against any who attempt to violate them, even members of the Executive Branch itself.

Since January, I have campaigned full time throughout Kentucky seeking your support. If I have missed seeing you personally, please examine my previous record of service, the caliber of people supporting me and my stand on issues affecting your daily life. Then join in supporting me for Kentucky's next Attorney General. You'll be able to find me after the election is over.

Your friend,

Bill Weinberg

Pets— Best Friends, Good Medicine, Too!

Recent scientific studies reveal that dogs can have a positive effect on the behaviour and sense of contentment of elderly patients in nursing homes. In addition, pets serve as a "social lubricant," increasing the interactions between patients and other people.

By JULIANNE CHAPPELL
Smithsonian News Service

Man's best friend has been a friend for thousands of years. In fact, one theory holds that the first animals to be domesticated—the ancestors of Canis familiaris, the dog of today—were initially tamed by children as pets, not as adjuncts to hunting or warfare as one might suspect.

Archaeology supports the case for a close primal relationship between humans and canines. When fossil skeletons of a man and a young dog were unearthed in Israel in 1978, the man's hand was resting on the dog—a sign, some say, of the bond between them. The remains date from 12,000 B.C.

As far as we know, the companionship between man and his second-best friend developed later. Ancestors of the small furry animal which responds occasionally to "here, kitty" were consorting with the Egyptians nearly 35,000 years ago.

However ancient the relationship between man and beast, it flourishes today. In the United States, more than half of all households include at least one dog or cat. Our human population of 230 million is supplemented by more than 40 million dogs, over 23 million cats, between 8 and 9 million horses and numerous but unnumbered other creatures, from birds to fish and reptiles to rodents.

The sheer numbers compel attention, but what does it mean, this passion afflicting more than half of us? Desmond Morris, author and animal-behavior expert, portrays it as a perversion of human relationships—a misdirection of human sympathy toward animals rather than people. Morris is not unique. Geoffrey Chaucer, writing in the 14th century, indicts one of the religious pilgrims in The Canterbury Tales on this account: "She used to weep if she but saw a mouse/Caught in a trap...And she had little dogs she would be feeding/With roasted flesh, or milk, or fine white bread...She was all sentiment and tender heart."

The lady was extreme, of course, living in an "extreme" age: The trip to Canterbury occurred at a time when English peasants resorted to cannibalism to ward off starvation. But today, are we—Americans whose parents rebuked us in the names of all the starving peoples of the Earth for squandering a few peas on our dinner plates—are we also guilty of squandering wealth, not to mention compassion, on "useless" animals?

Not in Judith White's view. White, education officer at the National Zoological Park in Washington, D.C., points out that "all forms of life have value." If we need further justification, science is beginning to demonstrate that the bond between man and beast is good for us, mentally and physically. Pets, scientists say, may even help their people live longer.

The good news is coming from researchers in this country and elsewhere in the western world who began in earnest about 10 years ago to study what they call the human-animal bond. In the last five years, their work has gained significant support—that is, money—from the Pet Food Institute, a trade association representing the manufacturers of dog and cat food. Other supporters include the Latham Foundation, a non-profit organization "committed to advocate humane treatment of both people and animals." Some major universities have created centers or committees concerned with this area of research, and new interdisciplinary graduate programs are developing, such as the one at Ohio State University involving psychology, psychiatry and veterinary medicine.

It was at Ohio State in the mid-1970s that Drs. Samuel and Elizabeth Corson, both psychologists, launched some of the first rigorous scientific studies of the effects of pets, in these cases, dogs in the treatment of the mentally ill and on the well-being of the elderly in nursing homes. The studies showed that the animals had direct, positive effects on patients' behavior and sense of contentment; pets also served as a "social lubricant," increasing interactions between patients and other people.

These findings tally with the results of another scientific study conducted in England, also in the mid-'70s, in which retired individuals living independently were provided with parakeets or plants—or nothing. The three groups were monitored over a period of five months. Parakeet owners alone showed positive improvements in social attitudes, including self-esteem, mental health and general happiness. The feathered friends also helped keep their companions warm. How? Several people had let their homes get dangerously cold during the winter, thus risking hypothermia, a potentially fatal condition involving a drop in body temperature. These individuals readjusted the heat once they learned their pets could not tolerate temperatures below 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

Pets—Best Friends, Good Medicine, Too!

Back in this country, Aaron Katcher, a University of Pennsylvania psychiatrist, and his colleagues have been coming up with data suggesting that pets are, in general, good for people. For instance, petting and talking to animals, the researchers found, can lower pulse rate and blood pressure. Watching fish can have similar effects.

Katcher also discovered this: In a study of social factors related to survival of patients for one year following hospitalization for heart disease, pet ownership proved to be the single most important predictor of survival independent of all other factors tested, such as whether an individual was married or single, socially active or isolated and so on.

Katcher writes, "This research finding suggests that pets may have important effects on the lives of adults that are independent of and supplementary to human contact." In other words, the bond between pet and person is authentic and has its own merit, quite apart from the relationships between people.

In another study, Katcher found that men, contrary to popular opinion, get as mushy over their dogs as women do. The researcher says men are as quick as women to pet their animals—in public. Men do, however, restrict this show of affection mainly to the canine kingdom. A Canadian study showed that men prefer dogs to cats by an overwhelming 10 to 1 margin, which suggests a cultural bias against men owning cats.

Unfortunately, research results like these, from carefully designed and executed scientific experiments, are still sparse. Conclusions based on case studies and untested hypotheses are far more common, and they constitute what one researcher has called a well of "pop psychiatry" on the subject of the human-animal bond. The many claimed salutary effects of pets on child development, for instance, remain virtually untested.

Some of the claims about pets and children are misleading. Phyllis Wright, vice president for companion animals of the Humane Society of the United States, points out. Often parents are encouraged to get pets to help their children learn responsibility. "Pets can't teach responsibility," Wright says. "Parents do that." She maintains that animals suffer when entrusted to the care of youngsters who are not carefully guided by adults.

The theme of responsible pet ownership is echoed by other humane organizations and by the American Veterinary Medical Association and the Pet Food Institute. These organizations are well aware that the human-animal bond often fails the animal. An estimated 25 million pets are abandoned each year. Wright claims that some 10 million animals end up in shelters or pounds. Twenty percent of these are returned to their owners or adopted; 80 percent are euthanized—put to death. "For many animals, the gift of a humane death is the only kind act they ever know," Wright remarks.

Judy White of the National Zoo says that people concerned about such dismal statistics can encourage responsible attitudes toward pet ownership, especially in children. "The National Zoo, and many local zoos, try to foster responsible attitudes through pet-care classes and other educational activities. We hope children will learn to look upon all creatures with respect."

White reminds people that they can unintentionally communicate the wrong attitudes. Teachers, for instance, will sometimes bring a pet, like a guinea pig, into the classroom for the students to study, enjoy and care for. "With the right supervision, children can learn a great deal that is positive," White says. "But if the teacher gives the animal away at the end of the year, the last lesson is that it's okay to abandon a pet."

Of course, no one knows what tales science may tell in the next few years about the relationship between pets and people, young or old. But with the good news so far, and more to come, it's enough to make a pet lover purr.

Wheelwright Lodge To Honor Ira Frazier

Wheelwright Lodge No. 889 F. & A. M., will hold its annual Past Masters' Night Saturday, May 28, beginning at 6 p.m. All Master Masons and their ladies are invited. There will be a pot-luck supper immediately after the tiled meeting. The supper will be held in honor of Ira E. Frazier and his wife, Edna B. Frazier. Mr. Frazier has been secretary of Wheelwright Lodge and O.E.S. Chapter 477 together for more than 40 years and is now retiring as secretary.

All members of the O.E.S. are also invited.

Precinct Officers Named For Tuesday's Primary

Election officers who will serve at the county's 44 voting precincts at next Tuesday's primary election are, except for a few changes made in cases of officers who have moved or died, the same as the list of officers named for last November's general election.

Meanwhile, the composition of the county's Election Commission has changed. Thomas D. Lafferty, county clerk, was an ex-officio member and chairman of the commission. Because he is a candidate at the primary, C.J. McNally was named in his stead. Dr. Larry B. Leslie was a Democratic member of the commission, but he also is a candidate and has been replaced by Ernest Graham Burchett. The other two members are Sheriff Henry C. Hale, Democrat, and Bill Jack Darby, Republican.

The election officers notified to serve next Tuesday follows:

Courthouse No. 1—Mike Meade, judge; Julia May, clerk; Brad Boyd, judge; Gorman Collins, Jr., sheriff.

Trimble Branch No. 2—Bill Petry, judge; Onda Hunt Sr. clerk; Clyde George, judge; Charles McCoy, sheriff.

★ Cancer Hopeline

Q. My doctor has told me I have polyps in my colon. Are polyps a sign of cancer?

A. The discovery of a polyp in the large bowel (large bowel consists of colon and rectum) is a signal for careful medical evaluation. Polyps are growths that arise from the mucous membranes of the large bowel. When a polyp is found with a colonoscope, it can be safely and easily removed with a snare through the colonoscope in the majority of cases. The colonoscope, a long flexible instrument, is used by the physician to view the entire colon. Generally, no further treatment is necessary, but regular check-ups are advisable to see that new polyps have not developed. If polyps contain cancer, as small numbers of them do, or if the polyps are large and do not have stalks, a surgical operation may be necessary. If the polyps are within reach of a sigmoidoscope or a proctoscope, the polyps may also be removed through this short instrument.

For more cancer information, call or write the Cancer Hopeline, 915 South Limestone Street, Lexington, Ky. 40536 or phone toll free, 1-800-4-CANCER.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

As "THE PEOPLE'S CLERK," Tommy Lafferty, Jr. has followed a tradition. The tradition of service his uncle, Frank DeRossett, has provided the last 19 years as Circuit Court Clerk. When elected on May 24, Tommy Lafferty, Jr. will do everything possible to be as good a County Court Clerk as his uncle, Frank DeRossett, has been as Circuit Court Clerk. Tommy is proud of the reputation his uncle Frank has built over the years. When you vote No. 5 on the ballot, May 24th, you're voting for service to the people of Floyd County.

LAFFERTY FOR FLOYD COUNTY COURT CLERK

NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT  "THE PEOPLE'S CLERK"

POL. ADV. PD. FOR BY THE COMMITTEE TO ELECT THOMAS D. LAFFERTY, JR., FLOYD COUNTY COURT CLERK; GARY A. MAY, TREASURER, 11-pd.

The first state wide relief program was established in 1931 in New York, according to a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 836-8000

(1) In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055 notice is hereby given that Triple Elkhorn Mining Company, P.O. Box 140, Ivel, Ky., 41262, has filed an application for a permit for a loader, crusher washer, refuse disposal coal processing facility affecting 48.62 acres located 0.4 miles southeast of Allen in Floyd county.

(2) The proposed facility is approximately 2.5 miles southeast from US 23 junction with KY 80 and located 0.1 miles south of the Levisa Fork. The latitude is 37° 36' 41". The longitude is 82° 42' 49". The surface area is owned by Adams Real Estate Limited Partnership, Cecil Webb, and James Webb.

(3) The proposed facility is located on the Harold U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map.

(4) The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 431 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objection or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 5-18-81.

NOTICE

Mike Little Gas Company, Melvin, Kentucky, has filed with the Public Service Commission its application and notice to increase its retail and natural rates to:

First 1 MCF per month, $7.00 Minimum Bill
All over 1 MCF per month, $5.52 per MCF

The rates proposed amount to approximately an increase of 13% or $6.48 to the average customer per month, and would increase the utilities income by 13%.

The Public Service Commission has scheduled a hearing on June 9, 1983, at 10:00 A.M. EDT in the Commissions offices at Frankfort, Kentucky to consider the request.

The rates contained in this notice are rates proposed by Mike Little Gas Company. However, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from these rates. Such action may result in rates for consumers other than the rates included in this notice.

Any corporation, association, body politic or person may request leave to intervene by motion within thirty (30) days after the date of this notice. Said motion to intervene shall be submitted to the Public Service Commission, 730 Schenkel Lane, Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky, setting forth the grounds for the request and the status and interest of the party.

A copy of the application is available for inspection and that copies of the application may be obtained by each intervenor in this proceeding by contacting Mike Little Gas Company, Inc., Box 69, Melvin, Kentucky 41650. 5-18-81.

1982 Little Miss

Jeri Lynn Kinzer, daughter of Jerry and Debbie Kinzer, of Prestonsburg, ended her reign as Little Miss Floyd County on Saturday evening, May 7. At this time a new Little Miss Floyd County was chosen at the Little Miss Floyd County Pageant held at Betsy Layne. The pageant is sponsored annually by the Allen Woman's Club.

ABBOTT HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Abbott Homemakers met Tuesday evening, at the church annex. The president, Mrs. Sharon Sparr, presided. The following officers and committees were announced for the coming year: President, Mrs. Sharon Sparr; vice-president, Mrs. Christine Ross; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Eukie Merritt; Devotional chairman, Mrs. Ruby Frasure, Telephone committee, Mrs. Mary Creed and Mrs. Ethel Ratliff; reporter, Mrs. Cynthia Frasure; recreational leaders, Mrs. Helen Neeley and Mrs. Nancy Howard.

A folded-star workshop was held along with the lesson on "The Matting and Framing of Pictures." The next meeting will be at the same location, September 3, at 7 p.m., with Mrs. Sharon Sparr and Mrs. Muriel Hill as co-hostesses. Mrs. Eukie Merritt and Mrs. Mary Adkins, co-hostesses for Tuesday's meeting, served a salad course to Mesdames Muriel Hill, Grace Conley, Ethel Ratliff, Mary Creed, Christine Ross, Sharon Sparr, Oma Spradlin, Frances Pitts, and Ruby Frasure, and little Miss Denise Creed.

Barkley Names Four To Floyd Committee

Alben W. Barkley, II, Democratic candidate for Lt. Governor, has named John M. "Lightning" Stumbo, James Duff, Ray "Shag" Campbell and Dr. James D. Adams as his Floyd county committee. Barkley, now state Agriculture Commissioner, said this committee's appointment should boost his Floyd county campaign efforts considerably.

7th Dist. Sportsmen To Name Candidates Next Tuesday Night

Sportsmen in Kentucky's seventh wildlife district will select candidates for one of nine commissioner's seats on the state Fish and Wildlife Commission at a meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the National Guard Armory, one mile north of Prestonsburg.

Five candidates will be elected by the sportsmen in attendance, one of whom will be appointed by the Governor to serve a four-year term on the Fish and Wildlife Commission.

Only sportsmen residing in counties comprising the seventh wildlife district are eligible to vote. Those counties are: Breathitt, Elliott, Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Lawrence, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Perry and Pike.

Kentucky law defines "sportsman" as a resident hunter or fisherman who has been licensed in Kentucky for each of the past two consecutive years.

The commission meets quarterly in Frankfort, where it adopts season dates, limits and other fish or game regulations, approves the fish and wildlife department's annual budget and generally represents the individual sportsmen of the state in fish and wildlife matters.

The current seventh district commission member is Tim Dash, of Jenkins.

For the Sake of Our Children

By MITCH MCCONNELL
 Chm., Kentucky Task Force on Exploited and Missing Children
 "Child molesters should be put in jail and kept there." This is the message we keep hearing as the Kentucky Task Force on Exploited and Missing Children holds public hearings around the state.

I sympathize with this growing public demand. And in its recent final report,
 President Reagan's Task Force on Victims on Crime stated in eloquent words a very similar sentiment. "Those who engage in sex with children do so by choice, not as the uncontrollable by-product of some disease...They will continue to make that choice as long as they are free to do so with impunity. Those who prey on children must be sequestered from them. They may be incarcerated in hospitals, in treatment centers, or prisons: but wherever they are held, they must not be released until they have served a sentence that is commensurate with the harm they have inflicted."

An increasing number of experts and a growing body of medical evidence have concluded that most adults who prefer children as sexual objects (pedophiles, they are called) have no hope of rehabilitation. Since they are not treatable, they should be separated from society because a molester's perverted conduct in all likelihood will continue throughout his life and escalate as he ages.

The President's Task Force further reported that although child molesters represent a continuing threat to children, they have a better chance than most criminals of escaping detection and successful prosecution. "Children often fail to report these occurrences to their parents because of the attacker's threats, because they are embarrassed, or because they fear their parents will be angry. If their parents are told, they may elect not to inform authorities because they are embarrassed, confused, wish to deny the problem, or think they should protect their children from the effects of involvement in the criminal justice system."

Children should be made to feel that they can tell their parents about strange behavior by other adults or older children. What they tell you should be taken seriously. Similarly, parents should be made to feel that what they have to tell the police or prosecutor is important. Information one parent may be able to give the police about a child molester may help save another child from a similar or worse fate.

Additionally, prosecutors and judges who are inclined to treat such a sick behavior lightly (and I hope there are few such prosecutors and judges out there) should be educated by the public (at the ballot box if necessary) that we parents want our children kept safe from sexual perverts. One way to accomplish that is to insure that child molesters are sequestered (permanently, if necessary) from the public. If treatment is tried, it should never be the sole remedy.

Kentucky Handcrafts Directory Available

The directory of Kentucky craftspeople, a comprehensive listing of hundreds of the state's artisans, which was instigated by First Lady Phyllis George Brown, is now available.

HANDCRAFTED IN KENTUCKY, the 130-page directory compiled by the Kentucky Department of the Arts during the past two years, contains an organized list (by county) of names, addresses, phone numbers and work created by the various craftspeople throughout the state.

The book is divided by categories:
 Ceramics, Fiber, Metal, Natural Materials and Wood. The directory also contains a listing of the nonprofit crafts organizations in the state.

Mrs. Brown, who has been a leader in promoting Kentucky handcrafts, wanted the directory published as a guide to retail outlets, as well as private individuals, who want to purchase Kentucky's quality handcrafts.

 Residents and staff of Mountain Manor Nursing Home would like to express their appreciation to all those who helped to make National Nursing Home Week such a huge success. Special thanks goes out to the local flower shops who donated flowers and corsages for the residents on Mother's Day, to the many businesses who donated various items throughout the week, to the many ministers and singers from our area churches who contributed their time, to all those who made donations to the Residents Aid Fund, and to the many families who offered their time and abilities throughout the weeks.

Kentucky Extension Agents Honored For Tobacco Work

Five county Extension agents for agriculture have been recognized for their tobacco efforts in a program sponsored by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. Michael Carter, Garrard county, Roy Catlett, Shelby county, Robert Huffman, Woodford county, Jack Snyder, Hardin county, and Albert Stamper, Owsley county, received the 1983 R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company Awards for Excellence in Tobacco Extension. The five were honored May 17 at a banquet in Lexington. Dr. Charles E. Barnhart, dean of the UK College of Agriculture, and Gerard R. Gunzenhauser, vice president of finance for R.J. Reynolds, presented the awards.

Barnhart said the county agents represent a most important final step in the land grant university delivery system. “It is their responsibility to work with and to educate our farmers in the use of new technology,” he said. “Our common goal is a most efficient production system. Some advances have been made, yet I feel we are in just the early stages of mechanizing burley tobacco production.”

“To achieve this goal will require the combined efforts of all tobacco interests,” Barnhart added. “We sincerely appreciate the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company sharing in our recognition of a most important contributor—the agent.”

SOFTBALL TOURNAY SLATED AT PIKEVILLE, MAY 27-28
 A double-elimination men's softball tournament will be held at the Pikeville Airport Field, Friday and Saturday, May 27-28. Trophies will be awarded for first place with individual trophies, and for second and third places, most home runs, and Golden Gloves. For further information, those interested may call John Tackett at 437-7962 or 437-9808.

Less Water Regulation Is Demanded of Mines

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has recently changed its interpretation of a federal water regulation setting numerical limits on how much sediment can be contained in waters discharged from coal-mining operations, officials of the state Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet announced today. The new interpretation is less straight than an earlier interpretation, said Elmore Grim, Commissioner of the state Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement. “Our engineers are checking to see how much difference this change will make out in the field,” Grim said. “It seems almost certain that this change will allow mine operators to build smaller sediment ponds than the previous interpretation required. We're now trying to determine just how much smaller the ponds can be and still comply with the new EPA effluent limitations.”

WE WANT TO TELL YOU THE REST OF THE STORY

When Tommy was six years old and lived at Drift, Ky. on Left Beaver, his dad moved his family of five children to Middle Creek. Kent went north to work as a furnace salesman and left Maxine and five children to rear themselves. Tommy started working in the lunchroom for his lunch when he was in the sixth grade. He finished graded school, went three years to high school here and graduated from Berea Foundation High School in 1964. At Berea Foundation each student has to work two hours a day plus his studies. His job was in the food service morning shift. His day began at 5:15 a.m. He had to be at work by 6 a.m. and work as a counter boy until 8 a.m. for which he received 14¢ per hour. His second semester, he worked in woodcraft and made 16¢ per hour. This is how you learn discipline and hard work. He attended Prestonsburg Community College from fall 1964 to spring 1966 and paid for his tuition by working for Ky.-W.Va. Gas Co. in the summers and in the college work study program.

Tommy got married in the fall of 1966 and now has two children. He bought Rose Rexall Drug Store in 1972 and sold it in 1980.

Some of Tommy's accomplishments:

- a. Owned and operated Rose Drug Store where he set all selling records.
- b. Member of the Downtown Businessmen's Assn. in which he worked to promote every downtown promotion.
- c. Elected to Prestonsburg City Council in 1980 where he set a record with 944 votes received.
- d. Past president of Floyd Co. Jaycees where he set a record and won an award for having the most improved chapter in the state.
- e. Chairman of finance and one of the honorary foursome for the Paul B. Hall Memorial Golf Tournament, the largest and most successful golf tournament Morehead University ever had.
- f. Played on tournament-winning basketball teams for Industrial League ball.
- g. Member Irene Cole First Baptist Church
  - 1. Director of Brotherhood
  - 2. Director of Royal Ambassadors.

You know, sometimes the long and hard road is the best road to take if you can produce this quality of a man. Nobody gave him anything, and he doesn't owe anyone anything.

The real reason for an election is for you to pick the best man who will do the best job for the county. The Clerk's office performs a service. Tommy Rose has been serving the people of this area for a long time.

So vote for the man you will be proud to call your County Court Clerk. Vote for Tommy Rose and let's put a new breed of politics in our county.

TOMMY ROSE

FOR

COUNTY COURT CLERK

NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Hello, Floyd County voters. I've talked with families from the Mink Branch of Mud Creek to Ford's Gap in Auxier and there's an echo in every living room I visit—"WE WANT A NEW BREED OF POLITICS IN OUR COUNTY!" Well, you can have that NEW BREED if you will just invest your vote in me. You have seen my qualifications in this ad before. I have achieved a lot of goals both personal and civic. You don't do that without hard work and honesty.

The Clerk's office mainly performs a service to the people. I trained the women who worked for me at the drug store that the customer is always No. 1. I will manage the Clerk's Office the same way.

If you truly want a NEW BREED of politics in your courthouse then let's start right now by saying to yourself I will commit my vote to Tommy Rose. I WANT A NEW BREED of politics in my courthouse.

Don't Make Pets of Wildlife

This is the time of year when a camper, hiker or fisherman is most likely to encounter young wild animals in the woods. The first impulse, in many instances, is a desire to "adopt" the baby skunk, raccoon, fawn or whatever.

But the best course of action, according to wildlife experts, is to leave baby animals, even those seemingly "orphaned," where they are.

Although this advice may at first glance seem hard hearted, it is actually kinder in the long run for the animal and the humans involved.

In the first place, the baby animal may not be orphaned at all. A fawn, for example, that seems alone in the big woods probably has an anxious mother waiting nearby, but she will not show herself while a human is in the vicinity.

The care and feeding of a young animal is demanding and complicated, and most of those taken from the wild will die unless they are given the expert care that only a knowledgeable person can provide.

And if the animal does survive past infancy, other problems arise. Unlike dogs or cats, which have been domesticated for centuries, wild animals seldom lose their "wild" nature. An adult deer, particularly a buck, can be extremely dangerous, and a raccoon, even one raised in the house, starts thinking he can whip anybody in the family when he gets to weigh about 25 pounds—and he's right.

Wild animals raised in captivity can seldom be successfully returned to the wilds, presenting their owners with the problem of what to do with an unmanageable adult fox, raccoon, skunk or deer. Often the animal must be destroyed, since it is almost impossible to get zoos to accept wild pets.

Then there's the problem of disease. Wild animals can carry and transmit to man several diseases, the most serious of which is rabies. Often, an animal which allows itself to be captured is diseased. Any animal which does not show a normal fear of man or displays signs of distress should be left strictly alone.

Air Award-Winning Environmental Film

"The Old Quabbin Valley," to be shown on KET Tuesday, May 31, at 10:30 p.m., looks at the history of the Quabbin Reservoir, its effect on displaced residents and the present controversy surrounding the proposed diversion of the Connecticut River.

The Quabbin Reservoir was built in the 1930's to satisfy metropolitan Boston's water needs. At that time, it was the largest man-made pure water reservoir in the world, requiring the inundation of four towns and six villages, and the disinterment of over 7,500 graves. Rare film footage and photographs of the dismantling of the Quabbin towns and flooding of valley are shown, while former residents describe how and why the reservoir was built. Bun Doubleday, whose former home lies at the bottom of the reservoir, says, "We had no environmental societies or anything like that to help us protest the reservoir. So while there was just as much feeling against the project in those days, there was not the action against it that you would probably find today."

"The Old Quabbin Valley" won the top environmental film award at the 1982 American Film Festival. The program was produced by Lawrence Hott.

Stephens Inducted

Grady Stephens, a senior at Transylvania University in Lexington, Kentucky was recently inducted into the Holleian Society.

The Holleian Society was established for the encouragement and recognition of superior achievement in liberal arts studies. Students are selected by the faculty on the basis of academic achievement. The society is named for Horace Holley, president of Transylvania from 1818-1827.

Stephens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Stephens, of Hippo. He is a pre-med major and a graduate of Prestonsburg High School.

Growing Child

Only a very few people are completely color blind—that is, seeing everything in just black and white.

The most common color deficiency is red-color blindness, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter. It affects about one out of every 20 boys but only about one out of every 200 girls.

In red-green color blindness, a person has difficulty telling the difference between green and red. Red and orange may appear as only slightly different shades from green. Sometimes a difference in brightness will be seen, or green and yellow will look very similar to red. But blues are usually easy to distinguish from each other and from reds and greens.

If a child, especially a boy, tends to confuse reds and green with each other but not blues and yellows, he may very well have a red-green color deficiency, particularly if there are cases of color blindness on his mother's side of the family.

To test a child's color discrimination, gather a number of small objects having the colors red, green, and blue. Then ask the child to put objects together in the same pile if they have the same color.

You may have to give the child two things to begin with and ask him if they are the same color. Place them together or separately according to his answer, then ask if a third object is the same color or as one of the piles. Continue this way until all the objects have been stored.

If the child clearly makes three different piles, his color vision is probably normal, even if he has difficulty remembering the names of colors or using them correctly. If he makes only two piles or has three or more piles of mixed colors, he may have some degree of color blindness. An optometrist or ophthalmologist can make a more complete diagnosis.

If a child is color blind, what then? Unfortunately, there is no treatment or cure for color blindness. It is just something that has to be lived with.

Simply being aware of the fact of color-blindness can save some frustration when a child shows confusion of colors he would normally be expected to know.

If his teacher knows of the color difficulty she will be able to make allowance for him during color activities. In adulthood, it will be best for a color-blind person to avoid occupations involving electricity or electronics, where color-coded wires could be confused. Fortunately, occupations that require good color discrimination are fairly few.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information and a free sample of the newsletter, write to Growing Child, P. O. Box 620, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing.

Good News Report

By: THOMAS W. PAUKEN
Director of ACTION

It used to be that when one retired from the workplace, the connection between the employee and the company was retired also. That's not so any more, for a growing number of corporations and businesses have found ways to continue the relationship with their former employees.

One of these is the Honeywell Corporation of Minnesota which was one of 20 1983 recipients of the President's Voluntary Action Award. Several years ago Honeywell began to look at volunteerism in a new light, as a possible ongoing connecting link between itself and its retirees. The upshot was that Honeywell's personnel management department conducted a survey of 2,200 former employees living in the Minneapolis, St. Paul area. The company was interested in finding out how many wanted to be involved in volunteer activities for non-profit agencies. The response was immediate and enthusiastic, and out of it grew the Honeywell Retiree Volunteer Project, HRVP.

Today HRVP is managed entirely by the retirees themselves with volunteers in endeavors where their skills can be best used.

Milt Edgren, former Honeywell Branch Manager, was asked by HRVP to analyze a local hospital's energy uses with the aim of finding a way to reduce costs. He spent a month making a study, then offered his recommendations which were instrumental in saving the hospital more than $140,000.

Before Mary Huttner retired from Honeywell, she worked in plant engineering. Now she works at making children laugh, giving puppet shows on closed circuit TV at Children's Health Center. She also teaches arts and crafts and offers programs on far-away travel for seniors. Her husband, Warren, handles the sound, the light, the props, and if the occasion demands, lends his acting talent to the proceedings.

Marv and Marion Borell are a husband and wife team whose HRVP contributions cover a wide range of nature studies. Marion is president of the Minneapolis Audubon Society. Marv gives nature slide shows and conducts field trips for a host of organizations, including public schools and colleges.

Jim Bailey, who was an engineer at Honeywell before retiring ten years ago, now teaches fourth and fifth graders in catch-up math. He sits down to it with one or two students at a time, and in time, they do catch up. He also helps the poor readers, partly because he knows how to generate confidence in those who lack it.

In all, there are 535 volunteers in the Honeywell Retiree Volunteer Program. Each is closely involved in an area where he or she is helping someone. It is the kind of help that makes the community a better place in which to live and grow.

Prostate Surgery Fear May Prove Groundless

There's probably no other ailment that causes more anxiety among middle-age males than prostate trouble.

Men with enlarged prostates typically worry that surgery to correct the problem will affect their ability to have sex or that their condition will be diagnosed as cancerous. Because such fears may prove groundless, there's no reason to delay a visit to the doctor at the first signs of trouble, writes Nathan Dreskin, in the May Reader's Digest.

Neglecting the problem only makes matters worse and can lead to such serious complications as bladder and kidney trouble, he adds.

Prostate enlargement is one of the more common afflictions of middle-age men. The prostate, the gland which produces the cloudy fluid that energizes the sperm and neutralizes the acidic vaginal canal of the female during sexual intercourse, performs well between puberty and the 40s.

"Then, for reasons not fully understood but believed due to hormonal changes, the prostate tends to enlarge with age," writes Dreskin. As it swells, it squeezes the bladder neck and the urethra—the urinary tube leading from the bladder to the penis.

Symptoms of prostate trouble—the need to urinate more often, nighttime trips to the bathroom, and a weak stream and a dribbly finish—creep up slowly and get progressively worse until treated.

The most common operation remedy the problem is known as transurethral resection. Using a resectoscope, an instrument which is inserted through the penis under general anesthesia or spinal block, the surgeon cuts away the soft, enlarged tissue of the prostate and then flushes out the excised tissue with irrigating fluid.

The procedure takes 45 to 90 minutes, and a catheter is left in to facilitate bladder drainage for about a day.

Urologists say if a patient was potent before such surgery, in all probability, he'll be potent afterwards. However, in the majority of cases, the operation results in sterility. "Since most patients are well into their 50s and over, this is not a major handicap," writes Dreskin.

As to worries about cancer, Dreskin notes that cancer of the prostate is the third most-common of all types of cancer in men. "However, it is a very slow-growing lesion, and twice-yearly rectal examinations may help detect it."

Lighting Reduces Home Burglaries

With nearly half of the nation afraid to walk alone at night and two-thirds of the nation's women, elderly and big-city residents living in fear, more and more communities are developing ways to combat crime.

San Diego is one of the safest cities in America. Police attribute this success to a program called "Community Alert" where citizens work together in neighborhood groups with local police to prevent crime.

"Any city in the country can achieve the secure feeling our citizens attest to," agree San Diego Crime Prevention Specialists John Slough and Richard Carlson. "Our first rule of crime prevention is that citizens should reduce the opportunity for burglars in their neighborhood," says Carlson.

Increased use of lighting is one way the San Diego Community Alert groups have helped remove the opportunity and thus, reduce crime, say Slough and Carlson. "The importance of lighting to neighborhood security is critical," Slough says. "Look at Detroit, Chicago and Miami. These cities all have had traditionally high crime areas, but where increased street lighting has been installed, burglaries have dropped off."

The same is true of lighting in and around homes. "We tell people to make their residences look like someone is home. We feel one of the best and most cost-effective ways to do this is with lighting," says Carlson.

"Lights that illuminate both the exterior and interior of the house at night can discourage attempts at burglarizing. Many burglars prefer working in darkness. Take the darkness away and many burglars go away," Carlson adds, noting only three of 100 burglars are "brash enough" to enter an occupied home.

William Rogers, General Electric home security lighting specialist, suggests one of the best locations for outside light is under the eaves. This makes ground-level activity visible to residents inside the home.

In addition, Rogers suggests a light at the front and back doors, lights inside and outside the garage, a post light or other lamps to light along the driveway, and floodlights for the backyard.

Lighting should also be placed along paths and walks, and recreational areas such as outdoor patios. "Lighting installed here for convenience and accident prevention also discourages unwanted visitors," Rogers explained. "The use of a timer or photo-electric cell on these lights can automatically turn them on at dusk and off at dawn."

The appropriate source for many outdoor lighting applications are floodlights and spotlights, says Rogers. The new GE Miser™ line of products provide the same useable light as ordinary flood and spot lights, however, use 13 to 20 percent less energy. Based on the average kilowatt-hour rate, these bulbs will save from $1.60 to $4.80 in electricity costs over the 2,000 average life of the bulb.

GE Miser incandescent bulbs are appropriate for post and porch lighting as well as for lighting inside the garage. They provide the light of ordinary light bulbs and save five to eight percent on electricity operating costs, depending on bulb wattage and varying regional electricity rates, says Rogers.

Outdoor lighting should always be supplemented with leaving lights on indoors, Carlson says. "It's a dead give-away no one is home when the outside lights are on but the house is dark inside," he says. Community Alert neighborhoods are advised to use timers inside their homes, especially when occupants will be gone for extended periods of time.

San Diego has proven that communities can work together to combat crime. Carlson says, "Better lighting and an active, informed citizenry have helped our communities feel safer and more secure."

Health Care . . .

Why Are the Bills So High?

Just like everything else, health care has its price. But for many, that price is getting much too high.

Between 1950 and 1980, personal health care costs per Kentuckian rose nearly 18-fold, from $41 per year to $714. Cabinet for Human Resources officials project that if costs continue to rise at their present rate, the average Kentucky resident's medical bills during 1990 will be $2,100. Unfortunately, incomes won't triple to keep up with the burgeoning costs. Low-income elderly people, already paying as much as 15 percent of their disposable dollars on health care, could need to set aside 20 percent for that purpose by the mid-1990s.

State health commissioner David Allen puts cost at the top of the list of today's health care problems.

"There's no question about it," he said. "Our expectations of health care have expanded along with technological development, but our expectations have not been reconciled against cost. We are fast approaching a point at which we can't afford what we can deliver."

Why have health care costs escalated at three times the rate of inflation? The answer may be as complex as the health care system itself. George Kent, director of state health planning, attributes the problem in part to a long chain of events and decisions going back as far as the turn of the century. Links in the chain include the changes in hospitals from charitable institutions to for-profit businesses; government involvement through funding for hospital construction and Medicare/Medicaid fee-for-service underwriting of health care costs for aged and needy people; and tremendous growth in the supply of health care personnel, facilities and technological advances.

"The phenomenal changes and growth in the health care systems have occurred with almost no concern whether or not they have a positive impact on the health status of individuals," said Kent. "All have taken place under the delusion of unlimited funds." Fiscal crises in Medicare and Medicaid are forcing an end to that delusion, he said.

High costs also are blamed on what a Cabinet for Human Resources report calls "market failure." Two-thirds of all health costs in the state are paid by insurance companies or government. The report cites a study showing that people who had all care paid by someone else had 50 percent higher health costs than those who paid for their own care. The conclusion is that people in the "covered" group buy more medical services than they really need. Everyone pays for overutilization through higher insurance premiums and tax increases or through cutbacks in non-medical government services. The report points to health maintenance organizations as one solution to this problem. HMOs are paid a flat rate rather than on a fee-for-service basis. Cabinet officials say HMOs have been able to provide quality health services while reducing unnecessary hospital stays by 10 to 50 percent.

The report also says that unhealthy lifestyles account for rising health care costs. Health Commissioner Allen estimates that 40 percent of those costs could be prevented if people were more conscientious about diet, exercise, stress, smoking, drugs, drinking, use of seatbelts in cars, and other so-called lifestyle factors.

Whatever the causes for escalating costs, Cabinet for Human Resources officials say it is time to halt the rate of increase and put available health care dollars to better use. Without action, they say, medical care will continue to take larger portions of every household's income and demand more and more tax dollars.

"Even now, some people are delaying or doing without medical care because of the price tag," said one cabinet representative. "What will it be like in just a few years?"

Portrait Of Poet And His Politics

The many facets of the writer and political activist formerly known as LeRoi Jones are explored by "In Motion: Amiri Baraka," airing Wednesday, June 1, at 10 p.m. on KET.

The film portrait traces Baraka's life from his early days as a "bohemian poet" in Greenwich Village to his present literary and political activities.

"In Motion: Amiri Baraka" includes readings from Baraka's poems, clips from his powerful film "Dutchman" and scenes from his play "Boyz n the Zoo" and "A Clearing."

Ted Wilson and Askin M. Toure, who worked with Baraka in Harlem, talk about his inevitable alienation from the Greenwich Village group and his commitment to political activism in Harlem. Baraka is also observed during the taping of "Notes," his radio show in New York, conducting a class at Stoney Brook University and participating in a joint I.P.A./Black United Front demonstration against racism in South Africa.

"In Motion: Amiri Baraka" also reveals the personal man. Baraka's parents reminisce about their surprise in finding out about their son's interest in writing while he was in the military and his wife, Amini Baraka, speaks of their life together and how Baraka's political beliefs attracted her to him.

"In Motion: Amiri Baraka" is a production of The Chamba Organization.

A State Record . . .

Lake Trout Is Biggest Catch

The first addition to the state record fish list for 1983 is an unusual one—a lake trout.

The fish was caught in the Cumberland tailwaters April 4 by John E. McDonogh, Jeffersonton. It weighed five pounds, five ounces—not large by lake trout standards, but the weight actually didn't matter. Kentucky has never had a lake trout record before and very few, if any, of these fish have ever been caught here.

What was a lake trout, a species generally associated with cold, deep Canadian waters or the Great Lakes, doing swimming around below the dam at Lake Cumberland? Apparently it was heading north. Pete Pfeiffer, the director of fisheries for the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and the man who identified the fish, speculates that the trout came originally from Dale Hollow Lake, where Tennessee has stocked this species on an experimental basis.

The trout had to get through the dam at Dale Hollow, swim down the Ohio River to the Cumberland, then travel upstream for well over 100 miles. So maybe it was trying to make it back to Lake Michigan.

Kentucky's fisheries biologists have stocked brown trout below the dam at Cumberland. There's no existing state record for this species, so check out any unusual trout you catch there and you might find your name in the record books.

In fact, with the fishing season about to get into high gear, now is a good time to remind all anglers not to be anxious with that filleting knife when a large fish is involved. It's hard to tell how many state or even world line class records are cleaned and eaten each year.

If you suspect you have a potential record, keep the fish whole until you can check the record lists. Have your catch weighed as soon as possible on a scale certified legal for trade. Just about any grocery store will have such a scale—look for the Department of Agriculture inspection sticker on the scale to be sure.

In most cases, a fisheries biologist will have to examine your fish before it can be certified as a record. Sometimes the examination of certain internal organs is necessary to make a positive identification, particularly with as many hybrids (both naturally occurring and hatchery produced) as there are swimming around in Kentucky waters these days.

Take a few good clear pictures of the fish and get the signatures of three people who witnessed the weighing and you should be all set. Then get in touch with the Division of Public Relations, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 or call (502) 564-4336 for additional instructions.

If you'd like a current list of state record fish, along with a state record application blank (just in case) just drop a note to the address given above.

Easter Seal Camps Set To Open Soon

The Kentucky Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults which operates Camp Kysoc and Camp Green Shores, will begin its first summer session for handicapped children May 22. The camping season will continue through July 21. For over thirty years, the Easter Seal Society has provided summer camping experiences for physically handicapped children in Kentucky. The Society's first residential camp, Camp Kysoc, is located in Carrollton, Kentucky, near Grethel Butler State Park. Camp Green Shores, the other facility, is located near McDaniels, Kentucky, on Rough River Lake.

Each camp is specially designed to accommodate individuals with limited mobility. Cabins are wheelchair accessible, nature trails are level and smooth surfaced for ease in ambulation. Camp staff is composed of persons with special training in special education, physical and occupational therapy, and related health fields. Available activities include boating, fishing, swimming, nature studies and other camp crafts.

The first session of the camping season will be for multiply handicapped children and young adults. It will be followed by three sessions for all disabilities groups by age: 7-13 years old; 14 years and older; and 14-23 years old.

Campers come from all parts of Kentucky. For children who cannot afford the camping fee, the Society's camper-ship fund helps defray expenses. The Easter Seal Society also participates in the federally funded Food Service Program for Children. This program which is similar to the public school food service programs, helps the Society further hold down costs so that families with a disabled child can better afford to send their children to camp. The food program is available to all children 18 years of age and younger. All children will be served the same meal at no separate charge regardless of race, color, sex, age, handicap, or national origin and there will be no discrimination in the meal service.

For more information on the summer camping program, the food service program, or eligibility requirements, contact the Camping and Recreation Department, Kentucky Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 233 East Broadway, Louisville, Kentucky 40202 or telephone (502) 584-9781.

Protectionist Binge Ahead?

By PHILIP JAFFA
(Mr. Jaffa is a Washington-based journalist specializing in economic issues.)

Economists generally oppose protectionist measures. Liberal economists are especially vigorous in their opposition. Indeed, they are largely responsible for the post-World War II economic system based on free trade. However, in one of the most interesting current political shifts, liberal congressmen are abandoning their traditional advisers and attacking the free trade system itself.

Why? These words from liberal senator Howard Metzenbaum (D., Ohio) are about as clear as any on the subject. Upon introducing a bill (last year) to discourage the use of foreign equipment in U.S. industry, he said, "Today unemployment is [at] a post-World War II high... Unfair foreign competition, and this country's dismal record in responding to it, are in no small part to blame... Hundreds of American workers lose their jobs every time cars, steel, or manufactured goods are purchased abroad."

Liberal economists disagree. Said one international trade specialist, on his way to the Brookings Institute, "Most of those who are out of work today are out of work because of the recession and high interest rates. Even in the area of trade, our biggest problem isn't unfair competition. It's the strong dollar. And why did Metzenbaum mention cars and steel? I can't think of any two industries that more clearly caused their own problems."

Metzenbaum's bill, and his introductory remarks, clearly show a sense of frustration. But, just as clearly, the idea that imports necessarily cause unemployment contradicts textbook economics.

According to economics as it is generally understood, when the U.S. imports foreign goods, it sends dollars overseas. Foreigners can paste them on their walls and admire the design of the currency. They can burn them in stoves to stay warm. But, if they wish to use dollars as money, they must send them back to the U.S. to buy goods and services, or trade them to another foreigner who will.

The connection is not remote. Economists frequently point out that, while the U.S. runs a whopping merchandise trade deficit, it runs a healthy surplus on services, agricultural products, and high technology goods.

And even when foreign countries do conduct trade policies that harm us—as they frequently do—it is not clear that protectionist policies on our part help.

If the U.S., for instance, works to keep out less expensive foreign capital goods, business will see the price of modernizing plant and equipment go up. As the price rises, business will modernize more slowly, productivity growth will slow, and our standard of living will be affected adversely.

At the same time, while the U.S. keeps jobs in its capital goods sector, foreigners will have fewer dollars to spend here in export related industries. Jobs gained in one area will be lost in another.

Will Congress embark on a protectionist binge, enacting measures like Metzenbaum's bill discouraging the use of foreign equipment in U.S. industry?

If the economy continues in the doldrums, perhaps. It is always easy to blame someone else for your troubles.

But according to virtually all economists, liberal and conservative, the current economic mess we are in has a little stamp on it that reads: Made in the U.S.A.

Taming Tension In Public Speaking

John Wolfe is a communications pro. He thinks a certain degree of tension is helpful in public speaking. He often tells his clients, "We won't remove your butterflies entirely. We'll just get them to fly in formation!" He shares some of his techniques in the May issue of Reader's Digest.

Pick a subject you know something about and direct it to an audience that will be interested. If you're talking about office efficiency to your board of directors, you'd emphasize the savings factor. In addressing office workers you would stress the ways in which it would make their jobs easier.

Keep notes to a minimum. It's almost impossible to sound spontaneous if you're reading from a prepared text. If you need guidelines, file cards with key word should do the trick—and they will if you've rehearsed your remarks a couple of times.

Public speaking is a two-way street—an interaction between you and the audience. Make friends with them; use eye contact with friendly faces; ignore any that are not. Never apologize. If you have a cold, don't mention it. If you've forgotten a point, don't mention that, either. Remember, your listeners won't know unless you tell them.

Throughout your talk, aim at its purpose. Then close with a call to action. In cautioning you to stop talking before the audience stops listening, Wolfe concludes with George M. Cohan's advice: "Always leave them wanting more."

Cancer Hopeline

This question and answer column is provided as a public service by the McDowell Cancer Network. Questions are answered by appropriate specialists associated with the Network and represent some of the Network and by callers who use our Hopeline.

The Cancer Hopeline is a toll free consultative telephone service available to any Kentuckian who has a cancer-related problem. Qualified counselors take calls Monday-Friday from 9-5 and return recorded messages the next working day. They do not diagnose cancer, recommend treatment for individual cases, nor dispense money. Counselors do provide consultations with specialists as well as support and understanding. Because of its designation by the National Cancer Institute as Kentucky's Cancer Information Service, the Hopeline has rapid access to the latest cancer information. All matters are treated confidentially. Call the Cancer Hopeline toll free at 1-800-4-CANCER, or write us at 915 South Limestone Street, Lexington, Kentucky 40536.

Q. My brother age 60 had a benign bladder tumor that has become cancerous recently. Isn't that unusual? As a male, age 64, am I apt to get it too?

A. It is very common for benign bladder tumors to reappear later in the same location or in some other part of the bladder. They can also recur in a cancerous form.

Bladder cancer accounts for about three percent of all cancers in the United States. It is not inherited, nor is it contagious. Four out of five bladder cancer patients are men between the ages of 50 and 70.

Studies have shown a definite link between cigarette smoking and bladder cancer. Long-term exposure to various chemicals used in the chemical industry, oil refineries, the manufacture of dyes, heavy machinery, automobiles, textiles, and leather goods also may be a factor in bladder cancer.

Some bladder tumors resemble tiny mushrooms with their stems attached to the inner wall of the bladder. Soft and crumbly in appearance, they are known as papillary tumors and may be either benign or malignant (cancerous). Less frequently bladder tumors are non-papillary but elevated above the adjacent bladder lining. This type more often invades the muscular wall of the bladder.

The first warning of bladder cancer is usually bloody urine, which often appears suddenly with little or no pain involved. Urine color may range from smoky or rusty to a deep red, depending on the amount of blood. Blood in the urine may occur one day and disappear the next, but with bladder cancer, it always reappears sooner or later. The amount of blood present is not related to the stage of the cancer.

It is important to know that blood in the urine is not a sure sign of bladder cancer. It can also indicate a urinary tract infection, a benign tumor, or bladder stones.

Whenever bladder cancer is diagnosed, it is important that the patient be seen by a urologist specializing in cancer treatment. As with other cancers, decisions about treatment made at the beginning are vital to survival let alone cure. That treatment is highly individualized, depending on the patient's medical history, health, and the type and location of his/her cancer.

For help with your questions about cancer, call the Cancer Hopeline toll free at 1-800-4-CANCER from 9-5 weekdays, or write us at 915 South Limestone Street, Lexington, Ky. 40536.

Friends of KET Elect New Officers and Directors

Margaret G. Pope, of Paducah was elected president of the Friends of KET at the organization's April board of directors' meeting. Pope, a member of the Friends' Board for the past three years, succeeds Hugh M. Wittich, Ashland.

Other officers for the coming year include: Jane Winkler Dyche, London, vice president, and Ruth Wesley, Berea, secretary. The board also elected new directors: Judy Agee, Hazard; Pauline Johnson, Adairville; Colleen Mendel, Bowling Green; Russ Powell, Ashland; Mike Ramsey, Owen-ton; Paul Sartori, Fort Mitchell; Genevieve Shonert, Falmouth; Jeannine Warren, Springfield, and Betty Woodard, Morehead.

Asks For Tougher Enforcement Of Child Abuse Law

Child abusers in the state will be looking down the barrel of stricter enforcement of existing child abuse laws and regulations if he is elected state Attorney General, Bill Weinberg said in a press release this week.

Weinberg, a Hindman attorney and former member of the state House of Representatives said he is appalled at the statistics on child abuse victims in Kentucky and around the nation.

Weinberg said he will push for a closer liaison between the Attorney General's office and the Bureau of Social Services in the Human Resources Cabinet.

According to current law, social services is mandated to investigate alleged cases of child abuse to determine if the situation warrants removing the victim from the home or if counseling can alleviate the problem.

A toll-free line, 1-800-372-2973, is now in operation so that anyone in the state suspecting a case of child abuse can anonymously call social services.

Grief Ministry Grows

By Gwen Hall
(In The Messenger)

MARTIN—Grief ministry at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, has added another dimension.

Sister Marie Gangwish, C.D.P., chaplain, is meeting with the obstetrical staff to listen to and discuss tapes by Teach'em, Inc. of Chicago. A tape on "Obstetrical/Neonatal Deaths" offered several suggestions which would enable staff to respond compassionately and helpfully to parents who lose their child through miscarriage, stillbirth, or failure to thrive.

"The tape was effective," said Sister Marie, "because after listening to it the (nursing) staff wanted to talk about their own cases."

The tape recommended that footprints and pictures of the miscarried, stillborn or seriously ill child be taken and birth and death certificates be issued. These mementos authenticate and concretize the brief, but important, experience of the child's life for the grieving family.

The recommendations affirmed some practices the obstetrical department had already adopted.

For instance, one baby born with an open spine had to be transferred by helicopter to a Lexington medical center. The distraught mother, too sick to accompany her child, clung to the baby's picture as she lay helpless in her hospital bed. The child lived, but faces several future surgeries.

One nurse participating in the group instruction said the discussion afforded an opportunity to share her grief over her own child's death.

The nursing staff is considering buying an instant camera for the obstetrical ward.

Sister Marie is encouraging The Big Sandy Family and Childbirth Education Association to buy rights to copy and rewrite a brochure for expectant parents that makes them face the possibility that their child could be born dead. The association has already requested that Sister Marie repeat her program for obstetrical nurses in another county hospital.

Within the walls of Our Lady of the Way, other aspects of grief ministry continue. Despite what Sister Marie calls "small beginnings," the hospital's Disappointed Parents' Group is active.

Eastern Kentucky Hospital librarian, Patty Powell of Morehead, has made several articles on death and grieving available to the hospital. Staff and grieving families are benefiting from them.

(The next meeting of the Disappointed Parents will be held at 1 p.m. May 27, in the hospital conference room.)

TOOTH DECAY

Q. What actually causes tooth decay?

A. For teeth to decay, three elements must be present in the mouth: certain types of food bacteria; a tooth or teeth vulnerable to decay; and refined sugars and starches. When the sugar and starch mix with plaque, the thin layer of bacteria constantly forming in the mouth, acids form that attack the teeth. Within 20 minutes after those fermentable carbohydrates are eaten, the major damaged is done. After enough such acid attacks, tooth enamel simply breaks down.

Other factors are also involved: how often a person eats, types of foods eaten, and how long those stay in the mouth. The more sugars and starches are eaten (starch breaks down into sugar), the more acid is formed on the teeth. And the longer these foods stay in the mouth, the heavier the acid attacks.

Brushing after eating—even rinsing—and avoiding refined sugar are two simple steps to protect against decay.

Dear Concerned Parent!!

Are you concerned about your child's inability to learn how to spell, read, write or do math, even though he/she is obviously a normal, healthy child?

If so, then you should have your child screened by the Charles Shedd Kentucky Association to see if he/she has the learning disability dyslexia. The next screening will be held May 25 so please call immediately.

Information on the screening and the Hindman Settlement School's summer and academic year program to provide remediation for this learning disability is available.

WHAT'S A SLOT?

"What's a slot?" is a question more and more bass fishermen will be asking in the future. It's not a hot lure or a new angling technique, but rather a fairly new—and certainly different—way of determining what is and isn't a keeper bass.

Under the provisions of a slot limit, fishermen may keep bass up to a certain size and those which measure over another specified length, but they must release all fish which fall into the protected "slot."

The actual size of the slot may vary from lake to lake, but it is generally in the range of 12 to 15 or 16 inches. With a 12- to 16-inch slot limit, for example, anglers could keep bass up to 12 inches long and those over 16 inches in length but would be required by law to throw back all bass from 12 through 16 inches.

Right now, the only lake in Kentucky that has a slot limit is Lake Elmer Davis, a small state-owned lake in Owen county. But the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is considering a slot limit for Kentucky Lake, and that's bound to get a lot of attention.

The slot size under consideration for Kentucky Lake would be 12 to 15 inches. Biologists believe that going to a slot limit would accomplish several things.

First, it will cause an increase in both the number and the pounds of fish harvested. Much of this increase will be Kentucky and smallmouth bass, which now make up around 40 percent of the total bass population but (because they don't grow as big as largemouth bass) only five to six percent of the total harvest.

Allowing anglers to keep under 12-inch bass would utilize a portion of the total bass population that is now being wasted. Natural mortality eliminates over 60 percent of the nine to 11 inch bass before they make it to 12 inches. Under a slot limit, anglers would get to keep a portion of these fish that would otherwise be wasted.

The bass that aren't caught, because there will be less competition for food, will grow faster than they do under a conventional limit. Once they enter the protected slot, they form a pool of decent-sized fish which anglers may have the fun of catching, even if they can't keep them.

Since 12- to 15-inch bass are also very efficient predators, they will help keep shad and other rough fish populations in check. Because there is abundant forage for bass in this size range, these fish should grow quickly out of the protected slot and once again be available for fishermen to keep.

A public hearing to further consider this proposed slot limit for Kentucky Lake is scheduled for May 20 at the University Center Auditorium of Murray State University, beginning at 7:30 p.m. (CDT).

David LeMaster has Floyd County roots...

We, some of the members of the family of David LeMaster, think that it is important for the voters of Floyd County to know David's ties to our county. David spent much of his young life in Prestonsburg, living in Black Bottom (Porter Addition). Although David is presently an attorney in Paintsville, his roots go deep into Floyd County.

David LeMaster is the son of Payne and Dosha Hughes LeMaster. He is the grandson of Millard Franklin and Josie Wright Hughes, and Shade and Martha Jane Blanton LeMaster. His ancestry includes such area families as the Bays, Adams, Arrington, Rice, Bently, Roberts, as well as Hughes, Wright, Blanton and LeMaster.

David's wife also has ties to Floyd County. She is the former Virginia Combs, daughter of the late Robert Lee "Slick" Combs and Helen White Combs, and the niece of former Prestonsburg attorney and Kentucky Governor Bert T. Combs.

We would like to urge all of our friends and relatives to support David LeMaster in the Democratic Primary for Kentucky State Senator in the 25th District.

Weinberg Would Be 4th AG From E. Ky.

Although the mountain counties of Eastern Kentucky contain 26 percent of the state's population, they have elected an attorney general only three times in Kentucky's 191-year history. Knott county attorney Bill Weinberg hopes to be the fourth one elected from this area.

The attorney general is the commonwealth's chief legal counsel and law enforcement officer. He advises the state, county and city governments and is prosecutor for all state agencies.

Since Kentucky became a state in 1792 it has had 30 attorneys general. The three from eastern Kentucky were: William J. Hendrick of Flemingsburg in 1891-95; Charles I. Dawson of Pineville, 1919-23, and Bailey P. Wooten of Hazard, 1931-35.

Outside the 40 counties in the mountains, one county alone—Franklin (Frankfort)—has contributed 10 attorneys general. One of them served 20 years, longer than any other attorney general. He was James Blair, 1800-1820. Lexington has provided seven.

Fifty-two years have elapsed since eastern Kentucky last sent an attorney general to the state capital in 1931.

Bill Weinberg, a lawyer in Hindman, is among those who feel the mountain people deserve more recognition in Kentucky's government. That is one reason why he is seeking the Democratic nomination for attorney general in the May 24 primary election.

Weinberg has served as assistant commonwealth attorney for Knott and Magoffin counties, as city attorneys of Hindman, and was elected to two terms in the Kentucky House of Representatives.

His wife, Lois, is the daughter of Bert T. Combs, a mountain man from Clay County, who was governor of Kentucky, 1959-63.

Homemakers' Meet

Grethel Homemakers met recently in the Grethel Baptist Church Annex with Mrs. Arietta Hall presiding. Devotions were led by Mrs. Arietta Hall who had the group to read the "Homemakers' Creed" as a responsive reading, and led the group in prayer. The lesson, "Picture Framing" was taught by Floyd Co. Extension Agent, Mrs. Frances Pitts. The "Folded Star" quiet project was taught by Mrs. Pitts and each homemaker made one sample copy of the pattern at the meeting. Elected officers for 1983-1984 were Arietta Hall, president; Christine Crisp, vice-president; Eileen Martin, secretary; Shirley Hamilton, treasurer; Glenna Evans, devotional chairman; and Brenda Hall, telephone chairman.

The next meeting will be Sept. 6.

UNEMPLOYMENT

"Unemployment hurts. It hurts Kentucky, and it hurts the people of Kentucky. It picks their pockets and steals their pride. As your Lt. Governor, I won't rest until we get Kentucky back to work."

When Todd Hollenbach cares, he does something about it. As President of Commonwealth Development Corporation, Todd Hollenbach helped create more than 2,000 new jobs for Kentuckians during the past four years. He has done more than just talk about unemployment; he has worked hard to do something about it.

EDUCATION

"We need to get back to the basics in education, so our children in Kentucky will be prepared for the future."

As chief executive of Kentucky's largest local government, Todd Hollenbach funded school discipline and security programs; he funded special education and pre-school handicapped programs.

Todd Hollenbach insists on accountability and discipline in our schools.

Whether fighting to save the Red River Gorge, or creating jobs through capital construction, Todd Hollenbach gets things done. He's a proven leader for hard times.

COAL

"We need to get coal working for Kentucky ... and Kentucky working for coal."

Todd Hollenbach served on the Coal Advisory Council of the Federal Energy Commission.

AGRICULTURE

"Kentucky farmers need support from our Legislature—to help keep Kentucky growing."

Todd Hollenbach was reared on his family's working farm. He knows, first hand, that Kentucky farms are crucial to Kentucky's economy.

PEOPLE

Todd Hollenbach pioneered:

- The first public Emergency Medical Ambulance Service in Kentucky.
- The first Consumer Court in Kentucky.
- The first Ecology Court in the Nation.
- The first major Child Abuse program in Kentucky.

EASTERN KENTUCKY
NEEDS ITS OWN GOVERNOR.

AND WE CAN HAVE ONE WITH HARVEY SLOANE.

We all agree that what we need most is a Governor who understands Eastern Kentucky. But that's not someone who finishes third in the race. (Not even someone as nice as Grady Stumbo.)

We need a winner. Because we need a Governor. A Governor who truly cares about Eastern Kentucky.

Someone who has lived here.

Someone who has worked here.

Someone who can win. And that's Harvey Sloane.

Harvey Sloane made Eastern Kentucky his first Kentucky home. He worked in 16 counties when he lived here. So he knows our roads need work, our schools need help and that we must sell more coal.

But he also knows how to get things done.

Here's the proof. Recently one candidate for Governor, Mrs. Collins, made the mistake of attacking Harvey Sloane's record as Mayor of Louisville. Most major newspapers in Kentucky strongly objected to the ads. Here's why.

The unemployment rate is down in Louisville. The crime rate is down in Louisville. And Louisville has the best emergency medical service in the State.

For Eastern Kentucky, Harvey Sloane's experience can help a lot.

He knows how to run a transportation department—because he's done it.

He knows how to bring jobs to Kentucky—because he's done it.

He knows how to start an emergency medical service program—because he's done it.

Next Tuesday, let's elect our own Governor by voting for Harvey Sloane. Because if we can help him. He will help us.

Paid for by Sloane for Governor '83 Committee, P.O. Box 1160, Frankfort, KY 40602. Thomas C. Carroll, Treasurer.

"Honest service to all Floyd Countians."

Let's Meet My Family...

I am the daughter of Ballard G. Robinson and Patty Fraley Robinson of Eastern. My paternal grandparents are the late Clarence "Greaser" Robinson and Martha Richardson Robinson of Maytown. I am the niece of the late C. "Ollie" Robinson. My maternal grandparents are the late George W. Fraley and Cora Newsome Fraley of Printer.

My husband is William E. "Eddie" Boyd. His parents are Charles E. Boyd and Helen Bentley Boyd of Maytown. His paternal grandparents are the late Burl Boyd and Norma VanHoose Boyd of Hueysville. His maternal grandparents are Willie Bentley and the late Nona Bradley Bentley of Maytown.

Eddie and I have two sons, Steven Edward, age 9 and Patrick O'Neil, age 6. We reside on Turners Branch of Eastern.

Dear Floyd Countians,

During the past two months I have been to visit a lot of you. However, there are some that I haven't visited yet and must try to see within the next few days.

There are only six days before you go to the polls and vote for the candidate of your choice. I am so thankful that we live in a country where you do have a right to voice your own opinion. Voting for the person of your choice is your privilege, so I am urging you to use this privilege and go to the polls on the 24th and Vote!

In my request, asking you to go to the polls and vote, I am also asking that you consider the ten candidates running for the position of County Court Clerk and ask yourself which one will do the most for you as your County Court Clerk.

I have worked in the Clerk's office for 11 years (part-time and full-time), I am dependable, loyal and trustworthy. I know how to do the job without someone training me, and I can get the job done efficiently and fast.

I am asking that after you consider these facts you will cast your vote for me — CARLA ROBINSON BOYD as "your" County Court Clerk.

Sincerely,
Carla

Severance Tax Estimates; Good News, Bad News

There is good news or bad news, in recent coal severance tax revenue estimates, depending upon how one views them.

The bad news is that the estimates for this year are not nearly what had been predicted in earlier estimates. The good news is that the most recent estimates are not as bad as once was feared.

The Revenue Cabinet recently revised its estimates downward to $208.5 million for the current fiscal year. Since the Local Government Economic Assistance Fund gets one-half of the excess over $177.6, the fund would be about $15.4 this year.

The fund to date has paid out about $11 million. That would leave about $4 million still to be distributed for the balance of the year. Since Revenue Cabinet officials obviously are still a bit uncertain of the recent figures, it is doubtful that the entire amount of the estimated balance will be distributed.

The bottom line is that counties and cities probably will get a check in April, but it will be considerably less than earlier checks. However, that is better than no check at all; a possibility faced in recent weeks.

MONA BLAIR AND DEBBIE SCHNEIDER;

Dear friends and registered voters of Floyd County. We would like to take this opportunity to ask you to vote for our dad.

He's been Dad to us ever since he married our aunt. Our real mother was killed in an automobile accident when we were 5 and 8 years old. We think he is the best father in the world, he's loved and raised us as his own, without any financial help from anyone else. Later when he and Mom (Peggy Wright) had Beth and Richie, his caring for us never changed, he's never shown any difference between us and his own children.

STOP AND THINK! If he's been that good to us, what kind of Clerk will he be to the people of FLOYD COUNTY? THE BEST!

We know that out of all the candidates for Floyd County Court Clerk OUR DAD, DICKIE HALL, #10 on the ballot, is the man most capable and willing to serve the needs of all the people.

REMEMBER! On a scale of zero to 10 vote for a perfect 10,

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

I am asking all my friends to support and vote for my nephew, Thomas D. Lafferty, Jr. He is a fine young man who, on his own merits, deserves your support.

He will continue to be honest, capable, accomodating as your County Court Clerk. He has always been a friend to all.

Thank you,
Robert (Bob) DeRossett

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Prestonsburg Day Homemakers held their last meeting of the 1982-'83 club year last Tuesday afternoon, at 1 o'clock at Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church. The president, Mrs. Mary Sue Moore, presided.

Mrs. Frances Pitts, home economist for this county, said that the Floyd County Homemakers' membership needs only a few more members to be the largest in the northeastern Kentucky area, and suggested that each club in this county procure three new members in order to reach this goal.

Mrs. Pitts added that the Cultural Arts Camp, sponsored by area Homemakers, will be May 24-25, in Boyd County, and that Mrs. Mary Sue Moore and Mrs. Judy Kittle plan to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Peg Hewlett and Mrs. Hope Whitten thanked the group for the cards sent them while they were ill, and Mrs. Mary Sue Moore expressed her gratitude for the members' help during the two years of her tenure as president. Mrs. Mabel Donahoe, chairman of the nominating committee, announced these officers and committees for the next club year: President, Mrs. Eleanor Horn; vice-president, Mrs. Mabel Donahoe; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Stover; telephone, Mrs. May K. Roberts, Mrs. Myrtle Allen, Mrs. Peg Hewlett, Mrs. Gladys Blackburn and Mrs. Judy Kittle; Devotions, Mrs. Mary Jane Brown, Mrs. Lucy Regan and Mrs. Margaret Alley; Publicity, Mrs. Docia B. Woods.

Mrs. Sharon Campbell, Mrs. Eva Collins and Mrs. Beckye Short volunteered to serve as hostesses for the September meeting, and Mrs. Mary Sue Moore agreed to give the lesson at that time.

Mrs. Pitts said that the June's Homemakers' Newsletter would be the last publication until shortly prior to the beginning of the first fall meeting.

The lesson on "The Matting and Framing of Pictures" was under the direction of Mrs. Pitts, Mrs. Phyllis Herrick, and Mrs. Lucy Regan.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mesdames Judy Kittle, Hope Whitten, and Dorothy Stover, who served a dessert course to Mesdames Frances Pitts, Mary Sue Moore, Dorothy Stover, Beckye Short, Jane Wallace, Eva Collins, Gladys Blackburn, Maman G. Leslie, Fannie Runnels, Stella Spurlock, Ann Alley, Sharon H. Campbell, Opal Dings, Pat Necessary, Mabel Donahoe, Beatrice Collins, Ellen Messer, Mary Jane Brown, Mabel Donahoe, Otelia S. Smiley, Eleanor Horn, Dorothy Osborne, Myrtle Allen, Peg Hewlett, Grace Sutherland, Margaret Alley, May K. Roberts, Lucy C. Regan, Ruth Francis, Barbara Dawson, and Docia Woods.

BRAVER THAN THE BRAVE EAGLES

GRADY STUMBO

SENATOR BENNY RAY BAILEY

Dear Kin and Kindred,

I, Edward Stumbo, am a product of Floyd County, and I never deny it, because the reason is not there. I left my land and my people about 32 years ago, and for a good reason. I needed a better job than coal mining. I had spent five years in the mines and my father spent about fifty years under the mountains. The sole reason we did this was because of the limited opportunity in the hill counties of Eastern Kentucky. Our land is a one industry economy and it is that way for a reason. It was not until 1918 that railroads came up Left Beaver. When I was a young boy, drovers, drove sheep, hogs, and cattle to market at Mt. Sterling or other similar distances, the rest of the state was living in style, and they were paying the hill people, very low prices for the animals. When someone from Floyd County drove a herd into Mt. Sterling the prices were always down.

The drift mines in our counties could put coal in the tipples at a very low price, yet politicians and owners cried, we can't pay more because of the cost of hauling. Today, the same gondolas that are passing my door, are loaded with a much poorer grade of Wyoming coal. So, you see, the cost of hauling has nothing to do with wages, safety, coal sale or seasonal production. It has to do with PROFIT. In a one-product economy, you produce part-time; keep the workers broke; satisfy politicians and you have the poor worker become a slave to everyone. From whom does your industrial, economic and political news come. Why are there no diversified factories in the coal mining counties? That part of our economic conditions will never be resolved as we elect governors from down state. In the history of Kentucky, Bert Combs is the only governor that we ever had. He did well, then we changed horses. I know Bert Combs personally and he knows why I, as well, as many others over the years, left Floyd County. A man just has to go where the industry is.

I came back from World War II with Grady Stumbo's father and we had to go into the coal mines and were lucky to get a job. Baseball got us the jobs. As soon as my family came, I made up my mind that I needed to move where my three children would have a chance to succeed. I did that and it worked. They have good jobs and each one owns his or her home. I am retiring this year after 27 years in education; 25 years here in Illinois; and I and my wife, Marcella Horn Stumbo, are pleased with our move 32 years ago, but deep down we would rather be with our first friends and relatives.

The main thing on the present agenda is to try to get Dr. Grady Stumbo elected governor, and he will try to make the needed changes. I never really was in politics, but I don't believe working for Dr. Grady Stumbo is political. I think it is a move toward survival. You may ask, "Why does Edward Stumbo want me to help Dr. Grady Stumbo become governor of Kentucky, when he lives in northern Illinois." The answer is, "I can't ever live in Kentucky because my children and grandchildren live here in Illinois." I don't want and don't need a job.

I know Grady Stumbo through his father, Isom Stumbo, whom I played ball with and, more important, went to war with. Isom was every inch an American and he proved that on the European battlefield. His son, Grady, has the same kind of metal.

You and I know that pollution, education, transportation, and industrial growth are the things that should get attention in Floyd County.

Industry is managed, it just doesn't happen. We need someone in Frankfort to entice, cajole, encourage by remedial actions a continuous flow of industrial capital into the hills.

You owe it to your children to help them get prepared for life but at the same time have the jobs available when they hit the job market.

You can do this by telling a friend or relative in central or western Kentucky, why they should vote for Dr. Grady Stumbo. Have small meetings of two or three friends and ask them to visit down state and encourage everyone you see to talk to everyone they see. It takes many drops of water to make an ocean.

Respectfully,

Edward Stumbo

Courts Can't Require Haul Data Is Ruling

The Attorney General has ruled recently that fiscal courts cannot enact an ordinance compelling coal haulers to file the form TD 59-100 with the fiscal court or Department of Transportation.

The opinion (OAG 83-77) says the court does not have such authority. The report, titled "Coal Severor and/or Route and Tonnage Report," is used by the department to calculate haul-road ton-mileage in each county. That information is used by the Department of finance to partially determine a county's share of severance tax revenues.

The reports are voluntary. The Department of Transportation has no way to force haulers to file the reports and has recently asked local governments for assistance in identifying haul roads.

Vets, Kin Remembered

Memorial Day is a very special day for us in the Disabled American Veterans and DAV Auxiliary. In all, a million and a quarter Americans have died in this nation's defense, beginning with our Revolutionary War and most recently in such places as the tense Middle East. The men and women who made this supreme sacrifice richly deserve the quiet tribute we pay them in observances across the United States May 30.

We're proud of what the DAV and other veterans' organizations are doing to make life better for those who returned from war disabled or suffering long-term illnesses. But much more needs to be done. We need to draw many more veterans and their families into the process of providing these essential services.

The DAV is working on that program. We want to build our membership to one million strong by 1985, and we're sure we can do it. We hope that not only the DAVS—but the entire veterans' movement—will grow in strength as well.

Call For Eyeglasses

Please, Mr. or Mrs., if you have old, used eyeglasses no longer needed, donate them to the poverty-stricken people in Haiti. Ask members in your church and civic groups to do likewise. When you have a collection on hand call 285-5131 or 285-3190. Someone will tell you where to leave them, so a member of Maytown First Baptist Church will pick them up in early June if not before.

The response has been gratifying but many have not responded. This costs nothing to help the needy, some of whom may go blind or nearly so without glasses. A missions team will carry the eyeglasses later to Haiti, where professionals will fit the proper ones to the correct patient.

Pastor, Maytown First Baptist Church

'Stand Up...Be Counted'

Now is the time for all citizens of the United States to take a stand and be counted as the proud Americans' you are.

Our forefathers did this in the beginning. They saw what was wrong and did something about it.

First of all, are you a proud American citizen. If so, take a stand. Stand up and be counted. Protect our future investment, our greatest asset, our most precious, and the dearest to us. This is our children, the future lawyers, doctors, leaders, teachers, preachers. What is this country coming to when our public schools are so bad every child who attends says, "This is one big joke"?

All things are taught at home on discipline and decent morals are being shot down by our schools.

Don't get me wrong. Most teachers are fine and decent people. But one or two can ruin the name of a teacher. Should these few ruin your children and go against what you have taught your child? There is a time and place for everything. Our public school room is not the place for some things that have gone on. Come to the next McDowell Concerned Parent meeting and find out for yourself.

Approves Appointment

Governor Brown deserves an accolade of praise for his appointment of Barkley Sturgill as Floyd County's Judge-Executive until a new judge can be elected.

Barkley, as Governor Brown stated, is qualified. He served Floyd county as County Attorney, and this experience should serve him in good stead as he copes with the problems the county is presently facing. His experience as Chairman of Kentucky's Public Service Commission will bring to the office administrative ability. That is sometimes lacking in political appointments.

Barkley, I feel, is eminently qualified for the task before him. I wish him well. I hope he will be a candidate in November.

In-Place Mineral Tax Re-introduced By Sponsor

Rep. Bill Donnermeyer has re-introduced his bill for property tax on unmined minerals.

BR 106 would include unmined minerals, oil, natural gas, and gas liquids in the definition of "real property." It would establish tax rates for unmined minerals. It stipulates that the tax on unmined minerals is for state purposes only and requires annual reporting to the PVA of unmined minerals and related information and establishes liability for payment.

Hope for Crops, Fruit Not Lost To Bad Weather

Weeks of weather that most residents describe as the worst they can recall have farmers wondering if any hope remains for corn crops, but a UK Extension Department spokesman said this week that everything isn't frozen out or washed overboard.

Farmers have hybrid corn to thank, said Myron Evans, Johnson county agricultural agent, who thinks that if planting can be done within the next week to 10 days the corn crop should be all right—barring future "complications."

"Some hybrid varieties could work if planted after June 1, though the yield might not be as high as normal," Evans said.

(Because Floyd county's agricultural agent, Dwight Leslie, has resigned to operate a Pike county feed store, The Times in seeking material for this story was obliged to contact the Johnson county agent. Growing conditions of the two counties are considered much the same.)

Despite a mild winter and a period of warm weather at the beginning of spring which set fruit trees budding, only to run into frost and freezing weather later, the Johnson county agent said the fruit crop "looks fairly good." Early apples were wiped out, but prospects for later varieties such as Rome Beauty, Delicious and Winesap are good.

Frost got the early strawberries but later varieties are expected to produce a satisfactory crop.

But for peaches, which had a luxuriant bloom and promised so much, there is no hope, Evans said.

Unmined Coal Tax Promises Windfall for County, Is Claim

If unmined coal were taxed at the same rate as other property, Floyd fiscal court, the county library and the health department would together receive an additional $826,155 in revenue each year and the school system here would reap $705,153.

Those figures—which were provided by the Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition, a citizens' group which has been lobbying for the tax—are based on an estimated 1.6 billion tons in coal reserves here with an assessed value of $417,250,000.

In addition, $41.3 million estimated as the state's share of such a tax would also be used on Kentucky's schools if he has his way, said Democratic gubernatorial candidate Dr. Grady Stumbo, who last week announced his support for an unmined minerals tax.

Some 85 percent of the state's mineral wealth is owned by "large mineral speculators" who live in other states, reap millions in profits, and pay only a fraction of what "regular, working people" pay in property taxes, Stumbo said.

"For example, in Martin county, if you own a $13,000 home or a 1982 four-wheel-drive pickup truck, you pay $74 a year in taxes on that home or that truck. The state's largest mineral owner, owning over 80,000 acres of land, paid the same $74," he said, in an apparent reference to the Pocahontas-Kentucky Corporation.

Mineral reserves are currently taxed at a rate of one-tenth of a cent per $100 valuation, a rate too low to make the tax worth collecting, while other property here is taxed at a rate of 19.8 cents by the county, 16.9 cents by the school district.

Stumbo said the absence of fair taxation on mineral reserves has made many Kentuckians victims of mineral speculation.

"The taxpayers of this state will spend $37.5 million this year just trying to provide the most basic education in those counties which are too poor to support their schools, and it isn't nearly enough," Stumbo said. "Yet some of our poorest counties and some of the most chronically underfunded schools literally sit atop billion dollar coalfields."

In per-pupil expenditure, Floyd county ranked 178th out of the state's 181 school districts when figures were gathered for the 1979-'80 school year. In that year, $722 per pupil was spent here compared to an average of $823 in eastern Kentucky and $904 across the state. The Floyd Board of Education has so far declined to support an unmined minerals tax.

Stumbo said some small, independent coal operators cannot gain access to mineral leases from absentee corporations because there is no incentive for them to lease coal.

"These energy conglomerates, which own interests in coal, oil and uranium, can sit on Kentucky coal until the best price comes along," Stumbo said. "Because their property goes virtually untaxed, they have no incentive to let coal leases that can mean jobs, revenue, and a better quality of life in Kentucky."

Estimates of what the new tax would bring in are based on an anticipated 50 percent recovery rate with coal in the ground valued at 50 cents a ton, a standard Department of Energy valuation. The tax would be based on Kentucky's geological survey, which is now the nation's most complete, on mineral owners' maps, and on the sales prices of similar tracts of minerals, Stumbo said.

A Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition spokesman responded this week to charges that an unmined minerals tax would be too difficult to collect. Other coal states collect such a tax and there is no reason why Kentucky could not, said Joe Szakos, a Coalition staff worker.

West Virginia, which has had an unmined minerals tax in place for six years, now reaps about $12 million annually from the levy. A tax official there, who asked not to be identified, said Monday that the first few years of the tax program were the most difficult. When mapping is completed and the program is explained to property owners "it is not that difficult (to administer)," he said.

Stumbo said the law establishing an unmined minerals tax would protect the small landowner and the farmer who have no intentions of leasing mineral rights. Only those profiting from mineral speculation would pay the tax.

Stumbo also said that rather than increase the price of Kentucky coal, he believed the tax would have the reverse effect.

"This will create an incentive to lease coal reserves, and, as a result, I believe prices could become more competitive," he said.

Food, Shelter Aid Funds at $19,534

Floyd county has been chosen to receive $19,534.21 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area under provision of the new federal Jobs Bill.

The selection was made by a national board composed up of national voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FFMA). The board was charged to distribute $50 million appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of feeding and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country.

Floyd County Chapter, American Red Cross, will act as a local board to determine how the funds awarded to Floyd county are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs operated by private voluntary organizations in the area.

Under terms of the grant from the national board, local organizations chosen to receive funds must be non-profit, have a voluntary board, have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, practice non-discrimination, and demonstrate the capability to deliver emergency food and shelter programs.

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting David Evans, P.O. Box 31, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653 (Phone 886-2335).

Morgan Joseph

for

Constable, Dist. No. 1
No. 3 on the Ballot

My name is Crecie Prater Joseph, (widow of the late Corbin Joseph, former Constable of District 1).
 In all the years Corbin was Constable, he was fair and honest to all the people. I am sure my nephew, Morgan Joseph, will give the same fair treatment to all the people.
 I am asking all my friends and past supporters of Corbin, to help elect my nephew, Morgan Joseph, to the office of Constable.

Thank you,

"Kentucky Soil touches all of us."

Agriculture and coal are Kentucky's two leading industries. They serve as the backbone of the state's economy and provide jobs for thousands of Kentuckians.

In addition to joining to form the state's economic base, agriculture and coal are closely related. When agriculture thrives, the coal industry thrives.

Many of the chemicals used in farm production are coal derivatives. The steel industry, dependant on coal, is essential to the production of farm machinery.

DAVE BOSWELL recognized the link between the industries. As a legislator, serving on the Agriculture and Natural Resources and Energy Committees, he understands the needs of both industries.

Representatives of both coal and agriculture have had the ear of DAVE BOSWELL during his three terms in the Kentucky General Assembly. As Commissioner of Agriculture, DAVE BOSWELL will continue to listen.

Nominate David Boswell; keep Harris down on farm

REPRINT FROM LEXINGTON HERALD-LEADER 4-27-83

Democratic voters have a chance to do the state a favor on May 24. They can make state Rep. David E. Boswell their party's nominee for agriculture commissioner.

And by doing so, they can vote to keep Tom Harris down on the farm, or at least to keep him out of elected office.

Boswell, who lives in Owensboro, may not be well known to voters in Central and Eastern Kentucky, but he is the clear choice in this race.

Boswell hasn't attracted great attention in the legislature. He has worked hard and done a competent job, though. And, more important in the context of this race, he has done nothing that would keep him from being either a viable candidate or an acceptable state official.

That sets him apart from his opponents in this race.

One of his opponents, state Rep. Ward "Butch" Burnette, pleaded guilty last year to a misdemeanor charge of misusing $41 of a federal loan.

Another candidate, Lexington lawyer Gatewood Galbraith, is basing his campaign on a proposal to legalize marijuana.

And the third candidate, former agriculture commissioner Tom Harris, has showed himself in numerous ways to be unacceptable as a public official.

In that crowd, Boswell is clearly the Democrats' best choice. His candidacy is all the more worthy of support because he has the best chance of keeping Tom Harris from returning to elected office.

Make no mistake, Harris is a formidable candidate. Over the years he has had a chance to make a lot of contacts and dispense a lot of patronage among the state's farmers and farm organizations.

While agriculture commissioner, for instance, Harris had the opportunity to approve low-interest student loans to students. The loans came from the Kentucky Rural Rehabilitation Fund, a federally financed program that is supposed to help needy youngsters who would otherwise not be able to afford college.

But not all of the loans Harris approved went to benefit needy farm kids. Two of them helped send his son, David Harris, to veterinary school.

Tom Harris says he approved the loans because his son met the eligibility requirements and because a director or the loan program, Glenn A. Wilson, told him the loans would be proper. But Wilson says he told Harris that the loans were not proper. "Financially, Tom Harris was well capable of providing for his son's education," Wilson said recently.

He certainly was. When he approved the loans, Tom Harris was making more than $30,000 a year in salary paid by taxpayers; he also was chairman of a Carrollton bank and operated a 2,200-acre farm with his family.

Tom Harris obviously could have financed his son's education. But why should he dig into his own pockets when there were publicly subsidized loans at his disposal?

Approving the loans was hardly the first time Harris showed he should not be trusted to watch over public funds. His shenanigans with the student loan program seem penny-ante compared to his performance while chairman of the board that runs the University of Kentucky Tobacco and Health Research Institute.

Tom Harris presided over the tobacco institute's board while the institute wasted more than $35 million in taxpayers' money. After that, the $9,000 in loans he approved for his son must have seemed a niggling sum.

But while a paltry $9,000 might not seem like much money to Tom Harris, it's a fortune to a Kentucky farm family that really needs the money to send its kids to college.

As the loan program's administrator, James Holthaus, recently noted, "There were other students who could have gotten the loans."

Kentucky Democrats should bear those other students in mind when they vote in the May 24 primary. They should keep in mind the $35 million that the tobacco institute wasted while Harris chaired its board.

Boswell has never presided over the waste of $35 million in tax money. He has never approved a low-interest loan to his own son, thus denying loans to the truly needy and deserving.

The same can't be said of Tom Harris. That's why Democrats should cast their votes for David Boswell on May 24. By nomination Boswell, they will bring a fresh viewpoint to statewide politics and will tell Tom Harris to take his act back to the farm for good.

There, at least, Harris will be sticking his nose into his own trough, not into the public's.

DAVE BOSWELL cares about Kentucky and Kentuckians. He was born, raised and educated in Kentucky. His roots run deep.

DAVE BOSWELL has both the experience and the integrity to run the state Department of Agriculture. He has experience in both state and local government. As a third-term state representative, he understands the issues facing the Commonwealth and its citizens. He has earned the respect and trust of both his legislative colleagues and his constituents.

Numerous groups and organizations recognize his ability and have endorsed him in his bid to become our next Commissioner of Agriculture. Some of those endorsing DAVE BOSWELL's candidacy include:

- ** Kentucky Education Association
- ** Lexington Herald-Leader Newspaper
- ** United Mine Workers of America

DAVE BOSWELL offers fresh, vigorous and energetic leadership for the state Department of Agriculture. Kentucky needs DAVE BOSWELL.

IT'S BEEN A WET SPRING, and the rainfall which began Sunday and fell steadily through the night and most of Monday morning was heavy enough to carry the threat of flood. Luckily, however, extensive damage was not reported and high water did little more than to block some secondary roads and cover low water crossings like this one which traverses the Big Sandy near Banner.

Fish & Game Club Sets Bass Tourney

The Dewey Lake Fish & Game Club will offer $500 in prize money to the boat weighing in the largest total weight of bass at the conclusion of the club's first annual fishing tournament, scheduled this Saturday at Dewey Lake.

All fishermen/women who are properly registered will gather in the Stratton Branch area of the lake for the start of the tourney, which will be held from around 9 a.m. till 6 p.m. Only artificial lures will be allowed and, following a catch-and-release philosophy of the club, anglers weighing in a dead fish will be penalized one-half of the fish's weight.

All competitors may pre-register for the tournament and obtain complete rules and regulations at the following locations: Brandy Keg Bait & Grocery Store, Lancer; Jenny Wiley State Park Lodge; Wilderness Outfitters, Pikeville, Ky.; Out Land Marine, U.S. 23 South, Johnson county; Ed's Surplus Store, Paintsville. Anglers may also register at the site of the tournament on Stratton Branch prior to 8 a.m. on the day of the tourney, however, pre-registration is advised and recommended. An entry fee of $20 is required.

How's Your Hearing?

One out of four middle-aged or older Americans is hard of hearing, and probably unaware of some important facts. This is why it pays to see an ear specialist, a doctor known technically as an Audiologist.

A non-profit organization called the Speak-Up Institute is devoted to educating the hard of hearing and the public. The Institute charges no fees or dues for membership and relies upon contributions from the general public.

Suzanne Pathy, founder of the Institute, designed a symbol—an ear surrounded by a question mark—so that hard of hearing people who accept to disclose their condition can wear the pin and encourage people to speak clearly.

The goal of the Institute is to encourage every hard-of-hearing person to display the pin and help the public learn the simple rules compiled by the Institute on how to talk to a hard of hearing person.

If you would like to order this attractive symbol in the form of a pin or charm for yourself or a loved one, send $3 to The Suzanne Pathy Speak-Up Institute, 525 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10021 or call direct (212) 832-8286. The Institute will be happy to hear from you.

Movie Nostalgia

By Marie Landiorio

Sylvester Stallone, of course, is best-known for his starring roles in the 'Rocky' trilogy, which made him a screen superstar in the late 1970s. But before Sly hit the big time, he had bit roles in several films. Talk about typecasting: The brawny actor played a subway thug in Woody Allen's 'Bananas' and a purse-snatcher in Neil Simon's 'Prisoner of Second Avenue.'

The typecasting continued with a 1974 film in which he played a leather-jacketed street gang member. The film also featured another then-obscure actor who would go on to TV stardom. The film is now considered a cult classic.

Question: Can you name the 1974 cult film and Stallone's now-famous co-star?

Answers: 'The Lords of Flatbush,' Henry Winkler.

ROCK ON

By Ethlie Ann Vare

REVIEWS

Patrick Simmons — "Arcade" (Elektra) — Patrick Simmons was the last remaining original Doobie Brother when the band broke up, and now he has to compete with latecomer Michael McDonald for solo success. Not that there is animosity — in fact, McDonald joins in on two cuts here.

Simmons' outing continues the palatable middle-of-the-road path the later Doobies took, but doesn't neglect to show that the biker who wrote "Black Water" and other hits still knows how to rock 'n' roll.

Nick Lowe — "The Abominable Showman" (Columbia) — Hard as it is to resist an album with songs entitled "Time Wounds All Heels" and "(For Every Woman Who Ever Made a Fool of a Man, There's a Woman Made a) Man of a Fool," it must be admitted that this is not Lowe's best work.

The cleverest of British pop-makers incorporates too many styles — western swing, reggae, torch songs, surf music — and comes off the weaker for it. The best tune is the single ("Raging Eyes"), while the next best tune ("Mess Around with Love") is a dead ringer for Rockpile's "Book of Love."

Patrick Simmons

WHO'S WHO

The Hollies have reformed and have a new LP coming up, as well as an appearance June 4 on "American Bandstand." Speaking of the British Invasion, the Animals have regrouped with its original lineup and have a world tour planned for summer.

Jackson Browne is happy about the solo aspirations of his guitarist, Rick Vito. A recent gig in Los Angeles featured both Browne and his buddy Jimmy Buffet joining Vito for the encore.

Canadian singer/songwriter Bruce Cockburn takes his political sensibilities seriously. He recently flew to Guatemala for a fact-finding mission, and is expressing his negative opinions about its government via the media at home.

Court Members In Sour Temper At Brief Session

From the beginning of last Thursday's fiscal court meeting some members were in a surly mood. Before the day's business was done, two of them walked out.

In the absence of a judge-executive—Barkley Sturgill would not be named to replace the late Jerry Lafferty, Jr. until the following day—the influence of the county's state overseers loomed larger than ever. And, for some members of the court, the watchdogs were clearly unwelcome.

Though neither of them was there in person, state Local Finance Officer Robert L. Purdom and his field representative Al Howell were very much present in spirit, their names appearing under a curt instruction attached to the day's agenda. "Please conduct this meeting exactly as stated," it read.

For Magistrate Lowell Samons, who chaired the meeting, that would be easier said than done. A procedural question—whether the court should await the arrival of a deputy clerk to take minutes—set the tone early.

"Howell said the clerk should be here," Samons noted. Gerald DeRossett was for doing what the state official recommended. "He's going to run things, anyway," he reasoned.

But Ed Caudill and Kenneth Roberts dissented. "I say we should go ahead (without the clerk)," said Roberts, when a deputy clerk arrived, making the issue moot.

A routine resolution authorizing payment of Debbie Latta, a juvenile court worker, and likewise presented by the chairman as an instruction from the state, passed without dissent.

The court agreed to borrow $34,670 at 10 percent interest from the First Commonwealth Bank, but not without some grumbling. The short loan was necessary because pay checks were due and, in the absence of a judge-executive, no one was authorized to draw on county funds, it was explained.

If the governor had appointed a new judge promptly the county would have been spared the necessity of borrowing money and making interest payments, Magistrate Roberts noted. "If this county was in any other part of the state and not in the mountains, we wouldn't be treated like this," he theorized. "Him and Phyllis have made us the laughing-stock of the state of Kentucky."

Magistrate Caudill agreed, noting pointedly that Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr. was the only governor in many years on whom he had not called personally.

What broke the magistrates' patience, however, was an instruction by the state overseers that the county workers' health insurance contract be again advertised for bids.

An eagerly-sought prize in the early days of the Lafferty administration, the health insurance contract which was formerly held by Blue Cross/Blue Shield was switched in February, 1982 to Hatton and Allen Insurance. Denzil Allen, a partner in the firm, was later named alcoholic beverage control administrator.

When the insurance company recently raised its rates—from an average of $113 per employee to a $134 average, it was said—the county's state supervisors said the contract would have to be bid anew.

"To hell with it," said Caudill, who moved that the court "forget about" rebidding the insurance contract and soon afterward left the meeting, followed by Roberts.

In the absence of a quorum, Samons and DeRossett were unable to conduct business and the meeting broke up. He was "disappointed" at his colleagues' quitting the session, Samons said later. "We need to pull together," he said.

Sen. Ford Holds Key Vote In Fate of Nat. Parks In Alaska

A bill which would downgrade 10-12 million acres of Alaskan National Parks to the status of "Preserve" has sparked a fight in the U.S. Senate and Kentucky Senator Wendell Ford holds one of two or three decisive "swing" votes.

Altering the national park status to preserve would allow sport hunting of native Alaskan animals such as the Kodiak bear and other relatively rare northern forest species and the Sierra Club this week asked Kentuckians to phone Sen. Ford's office to urge his opposition to the bill.

Kentucky, apparently has assumed added importance in the conflict since the original bill was co-sponsored by Sen. Walter "Dee" Huddleston and the conservation group also recommended that concerned Kentuckians phone Huddleston's office urging that he reconsider his co-sponsorship and express disappointment that he would take sides against the integrity of congressionally-established national parks.

Ford's phone number is 202-224-4343 and Huddleston's, 202-224-2541. Sending of mailgrams to both senators to reinforce concern is also recommended by the Sierra Club organization.

No. 7 on the Ballot

My brother, C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON, loved the people of Floyd County and proved it by 21 years of HONEST AND FAITHFUL SERVICE as County Court Clerk and two years as STATE REPRESENTATIVE. YOU PROVED YOUR LOVE AND TRUST IN HIM BY CONTINUALLY ELECTING HIM.

I am a coal miner and a member of Local 1741. My dad, "Greaser", worked all his life in the mines of Floyd County at Burton, Jack's Creek, Drift and Maytown. I have three brothers that worked in the mines and Ollie also worked outside when a teenager, cleaning track, unloading slate and coal gons of sand.

CARLA ROBINSON BOYD is our niece and is a good Christian woman and all who know her love her. While working for "Ollie" for 11 years she had the privilege of helping many people and they all speak very highly of her friendliness and eagerness to help and her ability to perform the duties of the FLOYD COUNTY COURT CLERK'S OFFICE. THERE WILL NEVER BE ANOTHER C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON BUT I AM SURE CARLA WILL BE AS CLOSE AS WE WILL EVER GET.

VALUES

Who shall place a fixed value upon human life? Ours not the hand which shall hold the balances in placing the weight of a life in this scheme of things...

A woman, gentle, kind and godly, passes away peacefully. And the little world in which she has lived, labored and ministered in all good works pauses to from its heart one last, sad tribute.

Into the Great Beyond pass three others. Or is it a score? In this case of establishing relative values it matters little. For these others have swept through life as if on the wings of a mad storm...

One life against a score, or two score—or a hundred. What does it matter? So long as this one life is marked by the beginning of the soul consecrated to the doing of good unto others...

One life given to unselfish devotion to right completely obscures a myriad lives devoted to the destruction of all save that which satisfies their own sordid ends.

THE ANNUAL MASSACRE

Soon time will come for the annual massacre in Floyd and other counties of Kentucky. "Massacre" and "hunting season" are synonymous here.

For, every year, Floyd county hunters swarm over the countryside in a general debacle. With many of the characteristics of the Indian on the warpath they force the quarry to run a veritable gauntlet.

Every Nimrod is a corduroy-ed Chief Rain-in-the-Face, hell-bent upon taking the largest bag of scalps scalpable. His needs are not considered—two rabbits or four quail would be sufficient to replenish the festal board, but no matter.

No, the hunter is on the warpath. He has waited, lo! these many moons. He must slay—right and left—and eat all he wants. The rest can go to the dogs.

The grace of a hare springing over the lea of a frosty morning; the refreshing call of the Bob White in the fields; the exciting gay flash of the squirrel up the oak—these beauties escape these hunters' eyes.

They do not pause to think, even, of the day when these wild things will be extinct as a result of their ruthlessness. They do not heed the absence of same even now from the fields and hillsides.

This is written from the records of past years. What this year's record will be we cannot say. Unless there is a change of heart with these hunters of ours, the annual massacre will be started again this year.

Yes, unless there be a change of heart.

REPORT CASE OF PARALYSIS

midst, it is best that the people learn some things relative to it.

"Infantile paralysis is an acute, generalized infection, due to a filterable virus, occurring both in epidemics and sporadic forms. The virus attacks the nervous system with a special tendency to localization in the anterior part of the gray matter of the spinal cord.

"There are various modes of transmission.

"First, contact theory—based upon the assumption that the virus is discharged from the mouth and nose and enters through the same channel.

"Second, insect-borne theory—its seasonal prevalence corresponds to the seasonal prevalence of most insects. It has been demonstrated that the virus may be transmitted by the stable fly.

"Third, other theories—it has been suggested that the virus may be air borne.

"The time that elapses between exposure and onset is 7 to 14 days.

"No definite system of prevention can be formulated until we are sure of the mode of transmission. The infection must be fought, however, as one conveyed by man and all known lines of preventive measures applied, such as disinfection, screening and guarding against insects.

"Little can be done in the line of treatment, but, after the acute stage has subsided, gentle massage may be given. Special attention must be given to maintain a normal position of the paralyzed limb, so as to prevent deformities."

Pike Judge Delays Sentence of Smith

Pike Circuit Judge Reed Anderson has delayed sentencing for David "Little Britches" Smith, convicted in the 1980 shooting deaths of three women and a baby in Pike county.

A Pike circuit court jury found Smith guilty May 3 and recommended the death penalty on each count.

Sentencing was scheduled for last Tuesday, but Anderson said he would delay it until the state Supreme Court chief justice rules on a motion filed Monday to disqualify him from the case.

Defense lawyer Keven McNally said Anderson might be prejudiced because of a conversation he had with the Pike county jailer concerning Smith's conduct in prison.

McNally also said Anderson had scheduled the sentencing too soon, before the defense had completed work on its motion for a new trial.

And he cited Anderson's denial of a motion for funds to present a psychiatrist who examined Smith as a witness at Smith's trial.

Artists in Education Program Has Openings

The Kentucky Arts Council has openings in its Artists in Education Program for dancers; video artists (preferably with a proficiency in photography as well); and coordinators of folk arts residencies. For the folk arts residencies, applicants should have an M.A. in folklore or the equivalent in experience. Artists are sought who are temperamentally suited to living and working in small rural communities. Short-term and nine-month positions are available in all areas. The stipend for a nine-month residency is $11,250. To apply, submit a detailed resume; names, addresses and telephone numbers of three references; and a letter expressing interest in and suitability for the position. Deadline for applications is June 15. For more information, contact Nancy Carpenter, Kentucky Arts Council, Berry Hill, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

VOCAL WORKSHOP SET AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

The First Presbyterian Church will be the site of a vocal workshop for choir members and others interested in singing, May 25 and May 26. # EAST KENTUCKY'S OWN GRADY STUMBO FOR GOVERNOR

Next Tuesday, voters here in East Kentucky will make the most important political decision in their life. The person we elect to lead Kentucky during the next four years will have a profound effect on our lives, the lives of our children and the future of our area. Consider the candidates and the facts:

1. GRADY STUMBO was born and reared in East Kentucky. Other than the time he has spent in state government service, Grady has lived in East Kentucky all his life. No other major candidate for Governor can make this claim. Grady understands the needs of our people and our area because he is one of us.
2. GRADY STUMBO has the unequaled support of Kentucky's working people. Working with his hands is something Grady knows because he has done it.
3. GRADY STUMBO is a strong advocate for jobs for our people. Not jobs at poverty level wages, but jobs that allow our people to adequately provide for themselves and their families.
4. GRADY STUMBO is the only major candidate who has firsthand business experience. Grady knows what it's like to meet a payroll, recruit people, and run a business day by day.
5. GRADY STUMBO is the only major candidate who has put together a state budget and worked with the state legislature to pass legislation that benefits our people. Grady is well qualified to be Governor.
6. GRADY STUMBO has demonstrated unique leadership abilities combined with compassion for our unemployed, disabled and elderly. Of the major candidates for Governor, Grady's record is unmatched in this area.
7. GRADY STUMBO has a well founded blueprint for education that will mean equal educational opportunity for all Kentucky's children.
8. GRADY STUMBO has a well defined plan to responsibly develop our coal, timber, agricultural and industrial base to put our people back to work.
9. GRADY STUMBO is East Kentucky's most vocal advocate. From his years as a medical student to founding a model health care clinic to serving as chief of the largest and most complex state agency, Grady Stumbo has exhibited the qualities of honesty, hard work, dedication and commitment that are part of our Mountain heritage.
10. GRADY STUMBO is a rural Kentuckian. Kentucky is a rural state and needs a Governor who has firsthand experience with the special needs of rural areas.

Of all the major candidates for Governor, Grady Stumbo is the only one that doesn't have to search his family picture album or research his family tree to try and establish a Mountain heritage; he was born and reared in East Kentucky and he's proud of it. Next Tuesday, win or lose, all candidates for Governor will return home. One of the major candidates will return to Louisville; one will return to Versailles. GRADY STUMBO will also come home, to East Kentucky. All of us in East Kentucky can be proud of Grady Stumbo and what he has accomplished. Our children can look at Grady Stumbo and know that being born and reared in East Kentucky qualifies them as well as those born and reared in other areas to seek and win Kentucky's highest political office. VOTE FOR GRADY STUMBO FOR GOVERNOR. IT'S A VOTE FOR YOU.
