

Observe 64th Anniversary

Friends and family members met April 24th, to share in honoring Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spurlock at their home at Ivel. They have been married for 64 years. There was lots of food and everyone enjoyed renewing old acquaintances. Present in their home were Berchie and Andy Case, Shelby Conn, Milford Case, Harold Case, Janice Case, Wesley Case, Lynn Huges, Charlene Case, Selena Case, Dwayne Case, Terry Spurlock, Pam Hansford, Sam Conn, Stanley Conn, Lesley Conn, Brandon Hansford, Myrtle Goble, Jennifer Hunt, Mark Hunt, Barbara Jean Frazier, Earsel Lee Frazier, Lester Parsons, Emma Parsons, Larry and Barry Parsons, Ken Case, Jeff Case, Randle Spurlock, Bill Spurlock, Joan and Stacey Spurlock, Jim Meade, Katherine Meade, Joe and Mouse Yates, Madge and Anderson Hutchinson, Lemuel Meade, Merica Bayes, Bob and Sylvia Marshall, Stacy Marshall, Neal, Jennifer, Samantha and Kevin Martin, Barbara, Creed, and Renee Martin.

The cake was baked by Bonnie Crisp.

'Biggest' Flea Market Planned

Construction is already under way on a giant flea market and associated operations, on the Floyd-Johnson county line, which may make of the development the largest of its type in the country.

Located on a 35-acre tract about 1 1/2 miles from the mouth of Johns Creek off of U.S. 23 North, the $1 million undertaking is the first major construction project in the country geared specifically toward flea market development, according to Donald "Dootney" Horn, of Prestonsburg. Horn, a local developer, who is involved in the project as an associate of Clifton & McDonald Company, area coal and property investors, also said the flea market may be the largest in the United States. An admitted flea market fan, Horn pointed to the widely-known Washington Courthouse, O. flea-market/antique mall and another similar market in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. as being recognized as among the largest in the eastern U.S.—"and ours is going to be a lot bigger," he said.

Whether the largest or not, the development on John's Creek is certainly impressive in size and design. With six acres of level, blacktopped parking area, the project, when completed, will feature a complex of 15-18 structures which will provide six acres of space under roof for shoppers, swappers and traders. Three hundred stalls for display of merchandise will be included in this space and 50 additional, separate, roofed stalls will be built for individuals or families with yard sale items. In addition, large areas will be allotted for sales of such specialized merchandise as cars or other vehicles, guns, knives and the like, Horn said. A covered "mini-mall" will provide weather-proof space for sale of new merchandise.

"We're trying to lay this project out with the convenience of shoppers and merchandisers in mind," Horn commented, but he stressed that at this stage of development, suggestions and ideas from flea market veterans are welcome.

Associated with the flea market operation will be a restaurant, rustic in style, according to Horn, which will serve "homecooking-type food," as well as several hot dog-hamburger stands. An amusement park, complete with carnival rides, will provide another attraction at the flea market and should offer a means of keeping bored children occupied, Horn said.

The market site was purchased from Rebel Coal Company and a large quonset-type structure will be used as an outlet for discount canned goods, according to Horn. "Each week we'll buy a whole trailer load of a certain item and offer it at a tremendous discount," he explained.

Horn, who said the flea market would be in operation by the July 4 holiday, estimated that more than 300 jobs would be created by the market complex when completed. "It's hard to believe the number of people something like this can attract to an area," he commented.

What Should A Child Be Told About Death?

Do you explain Grandpa's death with a fairy tale? Do you say, that God "called him away?" Or do you answer truthfully, and simply, so that the child may relate his grandfather's death to familiar things; flowers, for example, which live, grow, wither and finally die?

We believe the flower example can be understood by the child because it relates to things he's seen and can grasp. "Flowers," you may explain, "don't live a long time but we like them while we have them. Grandpa lived a long time and you and he had many good times together. But, like the flowers, he too, died. We will remember him with love, won't we?"

The child needs to understand that what has happened is a natural course of events—like the seasons and the rising and setting of the sun. He comes closer to his family through such honest involvement, maturing as he finds his own sadness is shared and understood. Your questions and comments on this and other subjects are welcome—in private or publicly through this column.

Transportation Toll Lowest in 20 Years

Led by a dramatic drop in highway fatalities, the death toll in all types of transportation fell to the lowest level in two decades last year with 48,040 people killed, federal officials said recently.

The National Transportation Safety Board said the number of highway traffic deaths fell by 11 percent to 43,900 during the year. It was the lowest level since 1963 when 41,723 people were killed on the nation's highways.
 But NTSB chairman Jim Burnett and other highway safety experts said the reduced number of fatalities may be more a result of reduced driving during the economic recession than safer driving or the design of cars.
 Well-publicized campaigns against drunken driving and attempts by the federal government to get more people to wear seat belts were not thought to be major factors in 1982, a number of safety experts have said.

"With (economic) recovery under way, continuing this two-year downward trend will be possible only with significant progress in all of our highway safety efforts," Burnett said.

Historically, about 90 percent of the transportation-related fatalities involve highway traffic accidents. The department cited no figure for total transportation deaths in 1982.
 While highway, rail and marine accidents fell, the number of aviation fatalities jumped in 1982.
 The airline toll soared from four deaths in 1981 to 235 last year. The two major accidents were the crash of an Air Florida jetliner in Washington that killed 78 and a Pan American World Airways jet in New Orleans that killed 153.

But the safety board said aviation-related fatalities involving aircraft other than major airlines dropped sharply last year. Deaths from general aviation accidents fell from 1,288 to 1,164 and those from commuter or air taxi services dropped from 128 to 88.
 Rail accident deaths fell from 663 in 1981 to 596 last year, while accidents involving rail-highway crossings dropped for the fourth straight year from 728 in 1981 to 607.

Marine accident deaths fell from 1,372 in 1981 to 1,329 last year with most of those involving recreational boating.
 The other 31 deaths involved pipeline accidents, which the board also investigates. They had accounted for 18 deaths in 1981.

UNITED METHODIST PLANS BIBLE SCHOOL
 The First United Methodist Church, Prestonsburg, will conduct Vacation Bible School, June 13 through June 17, from 6:30 to 8:30 each evening. Classes will be held for children ages three through teens (eighth grade).
 The schedule includes lessons, crafts, outdoor activities, music and refreshments. A special feature will be a daily visit from Lollipop, the dragon, and Queen Gwenolyn, the Bible School puppets, and the VBS clown. On Saturday evening at 6 p.m. there will be a weenie roast for all students and their families following a program by the students.
 Those students needing transportation on the church bus may be picked up at these locations: Goble-Roberts Addition at Well's Grocery, Indian Hills and Green Acres. The time of pick-ups will be announced later.

The Floyd-Johnson County Residential Bond Program is great...for the homeowner and the community. But unfortunately, the clock started to run down on the very day it became available. All funds must be committed by early 1984. There's no guarantee that there will be future bond issues, and even if there are, rates may never be this low again.

Even if you've been told by another institution that you don't qualify, come in and discuss your plans with one of our experienced professional mortgage loan officers. They'll work together with your plans to try and help you qualify. Experience counts...and during the last bond issue we helped make home ownerships a reality for more applicants than all other Floyd County lenders combined.

Is Pageant Finalist

Miss Kelly Elizabeth Langford, 10-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norris M. Langford, Jr., of Louisville, has been selected as a finalist in the 1983 Miss Kentucky National Pre-Teen Pageant to be held at the Best Western Continental Inn, Lexington, July 9.

The winner of the state pageant will receive a cash scholarship, crown, banner and round-trip flight to the national pageant to compete with other state winners. Contestants are judged on interview, poise-personality, appearance and talent.

Kelly, whose hobbies are tennis, cross-stitch, horseback riding, needlepoint and cooking, is being sponsored by her parents.

Mrs. Langford is the former Jan Collins, daughter of Winifred "Peachie" Collins, of Prestonsburg, and the late Elmer Collins.

Task Force Recommends Stiff Penalties for Drunk Drivers

Drunken drivers should receive stiffer penalties, says the Governor's Task Force on Drunken Driving.

The task force, appointed in January by Gov. John Y. Brown Jr., completed its work last week and will send its recommendations to Brown on June 1.

Highlighting the recommendations are mandatory jail terms for some first offenders and the revocation of licenses for all drunken drivers. Also listed are longer mandatory sentences for drunken drivers, stiffer fines and an emphasis on treatment for drivers with alcohol-abuse problems.

The task force was headed by state Justice Secretary Billy G. Wellman. The General Assembly could consider adoption of the stiffer penalties when it meets next year.

Brown was represented on the task force by his deputy general counsel, James L. Dickinson, who sees the recommendations as "very fair, passable legislation (that) should be viewed with a certain degree of favor by the legislature."

Some of the recommendations follow: —First offenders could receive jail sentences ranging from 48 hours to 10 days, if they scored .20 or higher on Breathalyzer tests, or if they are involved in traffic accidents in which another person is injured or another driver's vehicle is damaged.

Statistics studied by the task force indicate that 25 percent of all drunken drivers score .20 or more on the breath tests, with 75 percent scoring less, Dickinson said.

(Under existing laws, first offenders cannot be sentenced to jail terms.)

First offenders also would face fines of $200 to $500, and would be required to pay $150 for professional evaluation for alcohol abuse.

And a first offender would have his driver's license revoked for 60 days, with no provisions for leniency—as in allowing the driver to use his car for trips to and from work.

(Under current law, first offenders rarely lose their licenses. Most judges allow them to keep their licenses if they agree to enroll and complete a driver's education class.)

—A driver convicted of a second offense faces a jail term of 10 to 90 days, with a judge unable to probate the first eight days of any sentence. The driver also loses his license for a year and faces a mandatory alcohol treatment and education program at his expense. He also faces a fine of at least $350, but not more than $500, and 10 days of work on a community service project.

—Third time offenders face minimum fines of $500 and 30 days to 12 months in jail. The first 20 days are mandatory and a judge cannot probate them. Also, the third-time offender loses his license for two years.

In addition, the offender faces 15 days of work on a community service project.

The task force also discussed the possibility of equipping police with portable Breathalyzer machines, which measure alcohol content in the blood, Dickinson said.

Currently, officers make arrests, then take drivers to jail to give them Breathalyzer tests. With portable machines, officers could test drivers before placing them under arrest, Dickinson said.

Under Kentucky law, a Breathalyzer reading of .10 or more indicates a driver is presumed to be intoxicated. But the task force believes a reading of .10 or more indicates absolutely that a driver is drunk.

$500 Community Service Grants Awarded to Two Floyd County Students

Two Floyd county high school seniors have been awarded $500 Community Service scholarships, it is announced by the Rev. Ralph Beitzig, president of the Christian Appalachian Project.

The awards have been presented at the students' respective schools to Connie S. Bryant, daughter of Mrs. John B. Neeley, Prestonsburg, at Prestonsburg High School, and Rosetta Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie B. Hamilton, of Teaberry, at Betsy Layne High School.

The awards were based primarily on the students' involvement and contribution in community activities. Students' applications were reviewed by a committee of Floyd county residents and the Christian Appalachian Project.

Graduating seniors from high schools in Floyd, Clay, Garrard, Jackson, Jessamine, Knott, Letcher, Lincoln, Madison, Magoffin, Martin, Pulaski, Rockcastle and Whitley counties were eligible to apply. Scholarships totaling $1,000 in each county are awarded to the student or students who have displayed an outstanding ability to work toward improving their community.

In addition, the Christian Appalachian Project will provide an educational grant of $1,000 each to Buckhorn Children's Center-Perry county; Hazel Green Academy-Wolfe county; Oneida Baptist Institute, Clay county; Red Bird Mission, Bell county, and to students from the Appalachian counties attending Kentucky School for the Deaf in Boyle county.

Undergraduate students in the listed counties and institutions should seek further information from their guidance counselors or Lew Phillips at C.A.P., 322 Crab Orchard St., Lancaster, Kentucky 40446.

In 1915 the first federal government monthly unemployment figures were issued from payroll data collected from a few industries, according to "Labor Firsts in America."

Christian Academy Activities...A trip to the stables at Jenny Wiley State Park highlighted a study of farm animals by the kindergarten class of Prestonsburg Christian Academy, recently. The children were given a talk on the care of horses and a demonstration of combing, cleaning hoofs, and saddling. They were then treated to a ride. As part of the study, children made butter from raw milk, shaken in glass jars. They ate their homemade butter on crackers though there were mixed reactions to the "funny taste" compared with margarine.

In another special activity, National Pet Week was celebrated with a "pet day" as part of the kindergarten study of animals. The children brought pets from home or showed pictures of pets they would like. Dogs and cats were naturally most popular along with a rabbit and an aquarium full of hermit crabs.

Graduation at P.C.A. will be held Sunday, May 29 at 11 a.m. at the Water Gap Free Will Baptist Church. The public is invited.

Pop(top) Artist

While a lot of folks are recycling aluminum cans, Gregory Gibson has been occupied with his own unusual recycling project. Carefully collecting all the can pull tabs he could get his hands on (2,000 to be exact), the Dana resident fashioned a long metallic chain-necklace from the ubiquitous pop-tops which he displays in the above photo.

Man Shot in Break Sues For Damages

A man who was shot in the course of a burglary last year has sued the man he says shot him, claiming $500,000 in damages.

Sam Williams, 25, of Harold, pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking into a Honaker grocery owned by Terry Lykens last May. He claims Lykens fired two shots from a .38 caliber pistol, one of which injured him in the back.

Williams' attorney, Gary E. Johnson, went before a grand jury in February to ask that citizens be protected from crime victims bent on "vigilante justice." Instead, the grand jury issued a strong defense of owners' rights to protect their property.

Williams filed his damages suit Friday in circuit court here.

"Terry Twins" Bless a Church

By GLENN MOLLETTE, (In The Western Recorder)

You may remember the early 70's jingle, "Double your pleasure, double your fun with double good Doublemint chewing gum."

You don't remember? Well, a few of the folks at Highland Hills Baptist Church in Ft. Thomas don't remember it either. But, the same experience of a double good time that Wrigley's wanted its television audience a few years back to enjoy is being experienced by this northern state congregation. This doubly good blessing is in the form of two young ladies, Pamela and Patricia Terry.

"The Terry Twins" is how some folks refer to them. They are twins indeed. And as they are equally alike in appearance and height (5' 11½" without shoes), they are alike in musical ability and Christian service.

Charles Gray, minister of music at Highland Hills reports, "When they first came to the church it only took us a moment to realize God had blessed us with two superior musicians. They make a beautiful difference in the life of our worship services when they play instruments."

Some of the ways they help is by playing piano-flute duets; organ-violin duets; organ-piano arrangements and sometimes solos on various instruments.

"They are excellent accompanists to our choir and general worship life with their different instrumental talents," declared Gray.

The Terry sisters have been using their musical abilities for the Lord for some time. Before moving to Ft. Thomas to assume teaching positions, they extensively used their talents for the Lord in eastern Kentucky. Growing up in Prestonsburg they regularly accompanied the choirs and ensembles at First Baptist Church.

While thinking of their past opportunities, Patricia Terry shared, "One of the real joys we have experienced has been the mission work opportunities we've had. Each Sunday we would go to Lancer mission in the morning and then to Benedict Chapel in the afternoon."

After putting in a full day of working in the missions and giving instrumental assistance to the congregations Pamela Terry remembers always being back at First Baptist Church Sunday evenings to help in the worship services there.

Both ladies recall their joy in being able to use their talents for vacation Bible schools, mission Bible schools and revival meetings.

Some churches and missions do exist where musicians are hard to come by. Some give thanks every Sunday for the one or two accompanists who faithfully play the piano and organ. But Highland Hills not only has two superb Christian musicians who play several instruments, they have two who are twin sisters and who are equally gifted in their Christian service for the Lord and this church.

And, even though some of the folks don't remember the double good chewing gum jingle, they are very much aware that they are doubly blessed.

(Editor's Note: Pam and Pat Terry are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Terry, of Van Lear, formerly of Prestonsburg.)

DAY CARE GRADUATION

Graduation exercises, were held at the Day Care Center of the Irene Cole Memorial (First) Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. On the stage were eight kindergarteners, and on either side of them were the three-and four-year-olds, who, in the language of Girl and Boy Scouts, "flew up" to higher grades. Two decorated baskets held diplomas for the "graduates."

The program began with the Processional and "Onward Christian Soldiers." The welcome was delivered by Sherri May. The Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag was led by Carolyn Jones, with Kyle Bellamy as the flagbearer.

Traditional nursery rhymes were said by Carrie Francis, Heather Stumbo, Jeremy Hall, Amy Snodgrass, Joseph Risner, Robbie Freels, Sherri May, and Vanessa Lominac.

The children's part of the program ended with the singing of "God Is So Good," and receiving their diplomas from three of the teachers there, Mrs. LaDonna Patton, Mrs. Mary Jo Waugh and Mrs. Judy Allen, assisted by teachers, Mrs. Destaphine Boyd, Mrs. Julia Curtis and Mrs. Nan Robinson. Cloyd Johnson, director of the Day Care Center, spoke briefly, and Ronnie Chaffins gave the benediction.

HONOR FORMER PASTOR, WIFE

The Rhythmic Choir of the First United Methodist Church, was organized by Mrs. Kathryn Bogue, and later directed by Mrs. Harold Dorsey during the tenure of Dr. Dorsey as pastor of that church. As part of the Centennial celebration, the Rev. and Mrs. Dorsey attended the services there Sunday, when Dr. Dorsey brought the message. During Sunday morning's services, in honor of the Dorseys, Mrs. Kathryn Frazier, the choir's present director, presented the members in the interpretation of "The Lord's Prayer," which was sung by Dr. Randall Wells, of Morehead, and "The New Twenty-Third Psalm" sung by Miss Elizabeth Frazier.

Church To Celebrate Homecoming, June 5

The First Presbyterian Church in Prestonsburg will be celebrating "Homecoming Sunday" June 5, with morning worship at 11:15 a.m. Dr. Richard Comfort will occupy the pulpit. A dinner for the congregation will follow the service.

Dr. Comfort will also be preaching at the 9:30 a.m. service at the Drift Presbyterian Church. He served both the Prestonsburg and Drift churches while he was a teacher at Pikeville College. Dr. Comfort has been teaching at Marshall University in recent years and is retiring to Texas this year.

Dr. and Mrs. Comfort will be the guests of honor at a dinner at Drift, Saturday night, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. James Reed.

Mrs. Thomas Chisholm, the widow of former pastor Dr. Thomas Chisholm, will also be a special guest for the service in Prestonsburg. Mrs. Chisholm and her daughter and son-in-law, Ruth and Paul Nandico will be present for the dedication of a memorial honoring Dr. Chisholm.

Services at both churches are open to anyone. The phone numbers are: Prestonsburg-886-2214, and Drift-377-2342.

HOST TO BAPTIST CHURCHES

The annual fellowship dinner and program for the 21 Southern Baptist churches in the Enterprise Association was held at the Maytown First Baptist Church, Tuesday evening, last week, with the pastor, the Rev. Robert Varney, presiding as moderator of the Association, which is comprised of Floyd, Martin, Magoffin and Johnson county churches.

Dinner was served at 6 p.m., and was followed by an hour of fellowship. Among the highlights of the evening's program, was the presentation of a musical, in which nine-year-old Danette Flanery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Flanery, of Boldman, accompanied by Mrs. Rodney Hicks, of Maytown, at the piano, sang a number of solos.

Attending from the Prestonsburg First Baptist Church were Mesdames Ora Bussey, Vivian Fraley, Rebecca Rasnick, Eva Collins, Lucy Regan, Melinda Conley, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pettrey.

Herald Family Reunion

The Herald family reunion will be held Sunday, May 29, beginning at 10 a.m. at the shelter at Archer Park. All their West Prestonsburg former neighbors and friends are invited to attend, and are asked to bring a picnic lunch and flowers so that they can go as a group to the West Prestonsburg cemetery to decorate the graves of relatives and friends.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Edgar Herald, of the Spurlock Fork of Middle Creek, who was a recent patient at Central Baptist Hospital, Lexington, is now recuperating at his home.

COLORADO VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Shular Hurd, of Ivel recently had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fowler, of Aurora, Colorado.

VISITS SISTER

Mrs. M. Robert Regan was the guest recently of her sister, Mrs. Jenny Williamson, and other relatives at Falcon. While there, she participated in a workshop sponsored by the Magoffin Historical Society, and with other family members, attended high school graduation exercises for her grand-nephew, Harlan Hatter, who was the recipient of a scholarship from Morehead State University, the Woodmen of the World award and one of the athletic awards.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL SCHEDULED

The Junior High Youth of the First Presbyterian Church of Prestonsburg will host an old-fashioned ice cream social on the church grounds, Saturday, May 28 from 1 to 3 p.m. Featured will be homemade ice cream and down home entertainment. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the group, or at the social. In the event of rain, the activity will be held in the Meals on Wheels facility, next to the church. The event is open to the public.

Proceeds will go to fund the group's spring trip. Group sponsors are Rose Price and Scott Barlow.

VISIT FROM INDIANA

Mrs. Verda Nice, of Frankfort, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. C. Keith Thatcher and granddaughter Megan, of Indianapolis, spent a few days last week with Mrs. Helen Gable at her home on the Mountain Parkway.

Social Events

DOCIA B. WOODS, SOCIETY EDITOR

SERVE AS HOSTS

Men of the First United Methodist Church here hosted an ice cream social Saturday evening, following the presentation of the musical, "Cool in the Furnace," under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Frazier. The activities were a part of the church's Centennial, which will be celebrated throughout the month of May.

FESTIVAL GROUP TO MEET

Mrs. E.L. Bierman, director of the Jenny Wiley Festival, reminds officers, board members and others interested in this organization, that there will be a meeting of this group, Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at the Prestonsburg Municipal Building.

CORRECTION

The name, John Y. Burchett, should be changed to John N. Burchett in the article from last week's paper regarding the recent marriage of Mr. Burchett to Mrs. Olna Sturgill Hamilton.

FLOWERS PLACED

Flowers were on the altar of the First United Methodist Church during Sunday morning services in memory of the Rev. William J. Keith, an early Methodist minister, from Mrs. Anna Harmon Stumbo, and in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Dorsey, from Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Webb. The Pastor's Awards were presented by the Rev. Ted Nicholas to Misses Elsie and Linda Stephens.

BISHOP DUFFEY TO SPEAK

Sunday, May 29 will culminate the 100th Anniversary Celebration of the church, with Bishop Paul A. Duffey bringing the morning message. Guest-soloist will be Beverly Terrell, of Houston, Texas. The dedication of new property will be made. Dinner on the grounds will be served to members and their guests at 1 p.m. There will be a release of balloons by the children, and the young people will bury the "time capsule." At 3 a.m. there will be an informal concert, with Beverly Terrell as soloist.

IS BUSINESS VISITOR

Russell N. Pelfry, of Radcliff, Ky., was here on business last week.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Deane announce the birth on Monday, May 23, at the Highlands Regional Medical Center of their first child, a daughter-Amanda Katherine. Mrs. Deane is the former Debra Ravenscroft, of Flemingsburg. Mr. Deane is administrator at Highlands Regional.

Good Choice For Judge

(An editorial in The Ashland Daily Independent)

The choice of Barkley Sturgill as judge-executive of Floyd County to fill the seat vacated by the death of Jerry Lafferty appears from this perspective to be a good one for the county.

Barkley Sturgill, with nearly three full terms as county attorney, plus added governmental experience at the state level, brings a background to county office which is seldom available at that level.

Beyond his governmental experience is a lifetime of politics, which began the day he was born and named for a man who would 20 years later become vice president of the United States. His father was sheriff of Floyd County and his brother, Bill, is probably one of the most influential men in Kentucky today, based on a background in mining and development.

Relationships such as those developed by the Sturgill family are valuable in politics, and Sturgill can use his political ties to get things done for Floyd County. Many of the opportunities and situations which confront a county deal directly with Frankfort or Washington, and Barkley Sturgill has the contacts there. The very fact that he was named by a governor with a close relationship with his brother bears out that kind of influence.

Sturgill's experience and influence is sorely needed in a time when Floyd County's fiscal management has been taken over by the state because of red ink.

Sturgill, in taking the office through December, has indicated he will be a candidate for the remaining two years, if invited by the Democratic committee which is charged with making selection of a nominee. It would seem he has intent to ride out the economic storm as captain, and certainly he is not the kind of captain who intends to go down, with or without ship.

City Street Drama Unfolds June 15

The story of a family involved with drug addiction is told on "East 103rd Street," airing Wednesday, June 15 at 10 p.m.

A central character of the film is Candy, who is desperately trying to get her mother and brother to kick their heroin habit. One stark scene depicts mother and son squatting in the corner of a dark room. As the heroin odyssey is about to begin, the mother advises her son on methods of inducing the drug substance into the bloodstream for a maximum effect.

Shooting of the story, "East 103rd Street," was done discreetly from a van parked outside of Candy's home in an effort to capture the natural movement of the street culture.

"East 103rd Street" is produced by WNET/N.Y.

 Week of May 29-June 4

ARIES
 (March 21-April 20) You will be surprised by a friend's financial condition. Make yourself available for assistance and helpful suggestions.

TAURUS
 (April 21-May 21) The person you have been yearning to meet will be introduced to you in a round about way. You may be tempted to risk your heart on an impulse. Be careful.

GEMINI
 (May 22-June 21) Patience pays off, especially in real estate deals. Compromise on an issue easy to resolve in your own mind and life.

CANCER
 (June 22-July 23) Someone may be using you and your talents to their advantage. Smarten up and don't allow others to push you around.

LEO
 (July 24-Aug. 23) The caution signal is up for those furthering their business goals. Don't sign anything unless you are sure your transaction is genuine.

VIRGO
 (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Unstable situations at home could cause problems with a loved one. Resolve any differences for peace of mind.

LIBRA
 (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) A far off romance is better than none. Keep your promise to someone who holds you in high esteem.

SCORPIO
 (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Refresh your mind by taking a vacation. Bring some happiness into your dull existence.

SAGITTARIUS
 (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A hobby could take over all your free time. Get away from an environment that is detrimental to your total growth as a person.

CAPRICORN
 (Dec. 22-Jan. 20) A creative moneymaking scheme could keep you busy but then fizzle out by week's end. Don't daydream about something that can't be yours.

AQUARIUS
 (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Attend social affairs with friends who can introduce you to people of importance. You will want to push ahead with ideas of grandeur.

PISCES
 (Feb. 20-March 20) Use common sense when people approach you for help with their financial affairs. Don't put yourself in a hole because they can't handle their own hard times.

Bell's Code Designed For Postage Savings

If you could save a penny for every envelope you mailed, it might not make that much of a dent in your monthly postage bill. Unless, of course, you were South Central Bell.

In that case, the savings of a penny per envelope amounts to some $5,000 per month in the bills mailed to Bell customers across the state.

For that reason, Kentucky is now the first Bell company in the region participating in the Carrier Route Sorting System, a U.S. Postal Service system that gives the phone bills a four-character code that will direct them to a specific mail carrier route from the time they leave the company's mail room.

A special four-character code appears near the address in addition to the traditional ZIP code.

With the program in its first couple of months of operation, the codes are being used on about 68 percent of the company's bills with great success, according to Art Willett, Bell's local manager for Prestonsburg.

South Central Bell is the largest company to use Carrier Route Sorting in the state, according to Louisville postal officials.

If your bill is one of the 68 percent being coded, you might easily overlook the four-character code. But look again, the code is saving the post office time and effort and trimming about $60,000 per year from Bell's mailing costs.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Callie Marcum wishes to express our appreciation to those who sent flowers, food, or helped in other ways during the death of our dearly beloved mother. We especially thank Dr. Arnett and the staff of Highlands Regional Medical Center for going beyond the call of duty to assist our mother. A very special thanks to Ken Lemaster for his consoling words that were so deeply appreciated, and to Hall Funeral Home for being so kind and efficient in our time of need.

Suspect Arson In Lancer Blaze

A state police arson investigation continued this week following a fire, early last Wednesday morning, which caused considerable damage to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Tackett at Lancer.

Prestonsburg firemen, alerted by a neighbor's call at about 2 a.m., arrived to find the single-story brick structure, which is located on South Lake Drive across from Greer Meat Company, aflame in the kitchen area, according to Prestonsburg Fire Chief Tom Blackburn. After extinguishing the blaze, which had extensively damaged the kitchen, firemen suspected that gasoline had been doused in the house and Blackburn called in State Police Arson Investigator Barry McKenzie.

The following day, McKenzie determined that gasoline had been doused on a chair in a bedroom, trailed through the house to the kitchen, around the kitchen table and out to a doorway.

Heavy smoke and heat damage were also reported through much of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Tackett were in Sturgis, Ky. at the time of the fire.

In District Court

Sentenced in district court, following guilty pleas or verdicts, were:

Curtis Newsome, Prestonsburg, extreme reckless driving, $67.50 in fine and court costs; Tony L. Tackett, Galveston, drunk driving, amended to public drunk, 30 days' probation, $67.50; Joe Collins, Prestonsburg, drunk, 5 days, $67.50; Charles Harris, Prestonsburg, drunk, $57.50; Charles Hensley, Prestonsburg, drunk, $57.50; Billy Johnson, Risner, drunk, $57.50; James A. Tackett, Galveston, drunk driving, $247.50; Billy R. Crum, Martin, drunk driving, $150; Lonnie Blair, Martin, drunk driving, 10 days, $247.50; Olive Tufts, Wayland, disorderly conduct, 30 days, $37.50.

IN MEMORIAM

Two hearts of gold stopped beating Their shining eyes at rest God broke our hearts to prove to us That He only takes the best God knows they had to leave us But they didn't go alone For a part of us went with them The day He took them home To some they are forgotten To others they are part of the past But to us who loved and lost them Their memory will always last It's a lonesome home without them And sad has been the way For life and home are not the same Since they both were called away So if you have a Mom or Dad Cherish them in a loving way You'll never know real heartache Until God has called them away John (Oscar) Tackett - died 1/6/79 Rosie Tackett - died 12/14/81 SADLY MISSED BY CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Charles (Dwayne) Samons, born March 22, 1964, died Dec. 17, 1982. March 22 was your birthday, son. You would have been nineteen, but they need Angels in heaven, I'm told. So you were taken from us five months ago. We have cried thousands of tears and our heartaches will go on forever. You left two brothers and a sister, a mom and a dad, who miss and love you so very much. We thank God for as long as we did have you. SADLY MISSED BY YOUR FAMILY MR. AND MRS. CONNIE SAMMONS

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Jason Nathaniel Howard, on his birthday, May 23, 1979.

"And He Called a Little Child"

Beyond the planets and the far-off stars our little son's ear heard God's clear call; life's sunny noon, its reddening sunset bars, and pleasant evening shades—he left them all. So now "he never would know pain and sin"—such halting comfort we each other gave when like a dove his soul had fluttered in high heaven's opening gate; yet standing by his waxen body in the grave endeavoring to quiet sorrow's din we wept—so desolate! Lord, when the eternal summons comes for me to take the last lone stretch that ends life's day ere I the King in all His beauty see, with a rejoicing heart may I forget the way so full of things I could not understand—the griefs and dark crimes of a cruel world—and may I firmly hold with faithful hand, if black the night and wild the banner of thy love aloft—unfurled, that angels may when I before Thee stand say, "He called a little child."

Nothing Grows, They Say, On Spot Where Innocent Man Was Hanged

(From The Wolfe County News)
Its "greenup" time at Campton. Dogwoods and redbuds flaunt their colors from the hillsides. Magnolia, apple blossom and wild plum decorate the lawn and roadside and add fragrance to the balmy air. The valleys are verdant with lush grass and field pansies and violets are blooming everywhere—except a lone spot in a valley where vegetation does not grow, and has refused to grow since the year 1889.

This spot, located a short distance from the courthouse at Campton, is circular in shape, about 10 feet in diameter, and is the ground on which a gallows was erected.

The valley, surrounded by gently sloping hills, is not without beauty, but it has never been attractive to homeowners. In a community where small homes seem to spring up most anywhere, none has ever been built within sight of this scene. There are no trees to cast shadows, but it seems as if a pall hangs over Gallows Hollow—a pall as ominous as the hangman's noose that snuffed out the life of James Buchanan.

Oldtimers who were eyewitnesses to his hanging, still tell of the thunderstorm that stared raging within minutes after he was cut down, and except for the lightning, they say the valley became as dark as the ignoble deed that marked the darkest day in the history of Wolfe county—the day a man died for a crime he didn't commit.

Several persons who remember the story agree that Buchanan made no claim to being a perfect young man, but say he had a likeable, brash friendliness that endeared him to people, and that he had fallen in love with a beautiful girl, Ellen Ross. Another man, Jim O'Hair, also was in love with Miss Ross. Her father was opposed to both suitors, but preferred Buchanan to O'Hair.

It had been a "public" day at the county seat, and as the afternoon waned, young Buchanan had a yearning to see his girl. He realized that he had drunk too much, but he had with him trusted friends, his horse and gun. That was all he remembered as he started in the direction of the Ross residence. Exactly what happened within the next few hours remained a mystery for the rest of his short life.

His sweetheart's father was found dead of a bullet wound and Buchanan was suspected of the murder. He didn't deny having been in the vicinity. He admitted he had been drinking. Examination of his pistol disclosed that one shot had been fired.

The public was incensed and demanded action. Buchanan was given a trial by jury and sentenced to be hanged. The sentiment of the people mounted to the extent that the sheriff of Wolfe County deemed it wise to transfer Buchanan to the Mt. Sterling jail to await the day of execution.

The journey to and from Mt. Sterling was made by horseback. On the day of the return trip, the officers and prisoner paused on the courthouse lawn at Campton to have a picture taken. A framed enlargement of this picture was the main feature of a window display at Campton during Wolfe County's Centennial celebration in 1960. It shows Buchanan, riding a white horse that was holding its head to the ground. All the other horses held their heads erect and high. Buchanan was in hand-cuffs and it seemed the white horse sensed the despondent mood of the rider.

Jackson Tutt, a Methodist preacher, and Isaac Horton, who had been Buchanan's school teacher had visited him while he was being held at Mt. Sterling. They described him as being cheerful, and delighted in singing hymns.

With the hills and valleys crowded with the population of Wolfe and adjoining counties, Buchanan went to the gallows with these words, "If I'm guilty I ought to die, but I had no intention of killing anyone, and if I killed Ross I have no knowledge of it."

Soon O'Hair and Miss Ross were married and went West. Nothing was heard of them for several years, but when news came, it shocked the people.

Perhaps the weight of a guilty conscience had taken a heavy toll for O'Hair had become ill. Just before his death, he confessed to the slaying of Ross, he had planned the murder, he admitted, and was waiting in ambush when Buchanan rode by—thus presenting the opportunity for O'Hair to lay the crime to his charge. He further emphasized his confession by telling where he had hidden his gun. He had buried it in a fence corner. Residents of the area went to the scene and dug until they found the death weapon.

Carved into the arduous history of Wolfe county are the annals of many crimes, followed by sensational court trails. Capital punishment probably has always been a debatable issue in the minds of some people, but the memory of an innocent man's death has left a stigma in the minds of future generations, and no jury since the Buchanan trial has meted a criminal the death penalty and no man has been given a long prison sentence on circumstantial evidence.

SPORTS PROBE

Watch the Indy 500 for thrills, speed and drama

FAST FINISH! — The Indianapolis 500 is perhaps the most grueling, competitive sports event in America. It can't really get much closer.

In the closest Indianapolis 500 ever, Gordon Johncock held off Rick Mears a year ago to win by just .16 of a second. Johncock averaged 162.019 miles per hour — the second fastest time in the history of the race.

Exclusive same-day coverage of the 1983 Indianapolis 500 will be shown on Sunday, May 29 (9 p.m. to 12 midnight, EDT) on the ABC Television Network.

A crowd of more than 300,000 fans is expected at storied Indianapolis Motor Speedway for the 67th running of the race, which offers about $2 million in prize money. (The race is not televised in the Indianapolis area.)

Jim McKay will anchor the ABC-TV coverage of the Indy 500. Also reporting from "The Old Brickyard" will be ABC commentators Jackie Stewart, Sam Posey, Jim Lampley, Chris Economaki and Bill Flemming. Stewart, a three-time world driving champion, and Posey have both raced in the Indy 500.

This marks the 13th consecutive year for ABC Sports' same-day, prime time coverage of the race. Last year's dramatic broadcast was acclaimed with four Emmy Awards, including Outstanding Edited Sports Special.

overshadowed a starting line collision that knocked four drivers out of the race, including former champion Mario Andretti and Kevin Cogan, the second fastest qualifier.

There were 93 entrants this year for the Indy 500, but time trials will have cut the field to 33 by race day. A.J. Foyt, Al Unser, Johnny Rutherford and Johncock headed the list of six former Indy champions entered this year.

Foyt, the only four-time Indy 500 winner (1961, 1964, 1967 and 1977), has been a starter for 25 consecutive years.

Rutherford won in 1974, 1976 and 1980. Unser wore the crown in 1970, 1971 and 1978. Johncock, the defending Indy 500 champ, also captured the 1973 race.

Two more former Indy 500 winners were also entered: Andretti, the 1969 champ and Mears, who won in 1979 and was last year's pole-sitter.

ROCK ON

By Ethlie Ann Vare

REVIEWS

Laura Branigan — "Branigan 2" (Atlantic) — You say Juice Newton's too soft for you and Pat Benatar's too hard? Meet Laura Branigan, the most calculated entry into the pop sweepstakes since the Knack. Her Abba imitation LP ("Gloria") did well, so on this outing she takes on all comers. There's yet another rip of Falco's "Der Kommissar" (called "Deep in the Dark"), a sweet ballad or three, a version of "Squeezebox" that sounds like "Olivia Newton-John Sings the Who," and the surefire single "Solitare." Welcome to the top 40.

DNA — "Party Tested" (Boardwalk) — DNA is Rick Derringer and Carmine Appice, former mainstays of Edgar Winter's and Rod Stewart's bands, respectively. Their new group specializes in hard-driving rock 'n' roll, directed to the same audience Boardwalk has successfully mined with Joan Jett and Night Ranger.

Nile Rodgers — "Adventures in the Land of the Good Groove" (Mirage) — Rodgers has been catching a lot of flack for one tiny suggestive line in the song "Yum Yum," but that isn't indicative of the whole LP. The prestigious producer (Chic, Debbie Harry and, now, David Bowie) has turned out a solo album of straight dance-funk, clean and crisp and not revealing... either sexually or musically.

The Tubes — "Outside Inside" (Capitol) — The Tubes made it clear last year they weren't getting rich as the wittiest, most outrageous band on the circuit. They felt if they sounded a bit more like, say, Jefferson Starship, they'd sell more records. It worked. Well, at least their live shows are still witty and outrageous.

Planet P (Geffen) — Planet P, three years in the making, is the brainchild of German producer/promoter Peter Hauke. Its heavy symbolism and dense musical values make it well-suited for Yes and Alan Parsons Project fans, but on top of that it has the hook-laden reggae ditty "Why Me" to liven things up. Vocalist Tony Carey (formerly of Rainbow) is simultaneously enjoying success with his solo album.

Shakin' Stevens — "Give Me Your Heart Tonight" (Epic) — Rockabilly stylists like Shakin' Stevens were the reason the Stray Cats had to go to Europe to find fame and fortune. Now that the Cats have re-imported the 'billy revival, you'd think Stevens would have a chance to see the favor returned. This isn't the record to take advantage of it, though. It's his weakest collection of songs yet. If you're interested, pick up his earlier albums, "This Ole House" or "You Drive Me Crazy."

PBS in the spotlight

Carlo Maria Giulini, music director of the Los Angeles Philharmonic, conducts the works of Brahms.

Giulini conducts Brahms

In a year which celebrates the 150th anniversary of the birth of Johannes Brahms, one of the composer's most popular works will be performed in the third of a special series of four Wednesday evening concerts featuring Maestro Carlo Maria Giulini and the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

Brahms' "Symphony No. 1," videotaped at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion at the Music Center in Los Angeles, will air over PBS on Wednesday, June 1. (Please check local listings for time.)

Brahms was extremely self-critical of his work and his First Symphony took two decades to complete. In 1854, after hearing Beethoven's Ninth Symphony for the first time, he resolved to write one in the same key, that of D Minor.

Dissatisfied with his first attempts, Brahms instead used the materials for a sonata for two pianos. The first two characters of that sonata ultimately became part of his dramatic First Piano Concerto in D Minor.

The Symphony, was not, in fact, written in the D Minor key of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony but in C Minor, although its opening and closing movements owe much to Beethoven's influence.

Two Plead Guilty To Drug Charges

Two of those indicted on drug charges last December as the result of an extensive undercover operation by state police pleaded guilty in circuit court and received prison sentences here last week.

Jack Church, 45, of Mays Branch, and Timmy Patrick, 23, of Martin, each received a five-year sentence under a plea-bargaining arrangement.

Church had been charged with trafficking in a schedule I controlled substance, after State Detective Leroy Buckner said he bought 10 "hits" of LSD from him last October.

Patrick was charged with trafficking in PCP after State Det. K.J. Abbott said he bought a quantity of the drug from him in April last year. Patrick has two previous drunk driving convictions here and is currently awaiting trial on charges of speeding and driving on a suspended license.

Each defendant could have received a 10-year prison sentence.

Quilt Symposium Set At MSU, June 23-24

Quilts are in vogue, and Kentucky quilts and quilters are ranked among the highest during this current national craze for the traditional handmade quilt.

The reason? Kentucky women preserved the quilting tradition despite the national trend during the second quarter of the century to turn to factory-produced coverlets. Many still practice the same quilting traditions that their mothers and grandmothers practiced.

Quilts were a necessity for most Kentucky families during our not-too-distant past. Despite utilitarian motivations for their tasks, Kentucky women frequently expressed, through their quilting craft, another side to their nature—the aesthetic side—the side that appealed to their inherent love for beauty.

That love for beauty and reverence for tradition is what the Kentucky Heritage Quilt Society is all about.

The Society, in cooperation with Morehead State University's Appalachian Development Center and Department of Home Economics, will conduct a Quilt Symposium on Thursday and Friday, June 23-24, in conjunction with other activities of the week-long Appalachian Celebration, June 19-25.

Symposium activities will include hands-on workshop sessions in quilting styles and techniques such as candle-wicking, stained glass applique, simplified eight-pointed star, cloth boxes, trapunto, miniatures, celtic design, borders and bindings and beginning patchwork.

The Quilt Society will conduct its annual meeting from noon until 2 p.m. on Thursday, June 23, as part of the symposium activities.

Friday's activities will include two lectures including one by Joyce Auferheide, "Quilting: A Backward Glance," at 9:30 a.m.

Auferheide is a nationally known quilt expert who owns and operates her own museum in New Ulm, Minnesota. Also scheduled is a luncheon presentation by Shelly Zegart, of Louisville who will show slides and discuss the quilt show "Kentucky Quilts, 1800-1900."

The fee for the two-day symposium is $40 and includes lunch for both Thursday and Friday, dinner Thursday evening, and all lectures and workshops.

For more information, or to make registration arrangements, write or call Dell Osteen, Department of Home Economics, UPO 889, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. The telephone number is (606) 783-2972.

Need A New Roof? Get 5 Extra Years For No Extra Money!

CertainTeed Fiberglass Shingles 20 Year Warranty: $740
5 more than plain asphalt.....
Per Bundle
Delivery and Installation Extra.

Self-sealing strips of adhesive are sun activated.

This action bonds the shingles together into a single, weatherproof shield that is capable of resisting damaging winds of up to 60 miles per hour. These durable shingles are also very resistant to blistering and warping, "cupping" and decay. All of these features combine to produce a very rugged (and economical) roof.

The fiberglass mat is the important difference.

A fiberglass mat repels moisture much more effectively than the mat under regular asphalt shingles. The result is an exceptionally resilient, durable roof that will give years of service.

CertainTeed
And these shingles have a U.L. class A fire rating.

Their fiberglass base offers extra protection against external fire. These CertainTeed shingles are one of the most economical class A roofs you can buy. It's just one more of the safety benefits of fiberglass.

Although they're tough they're also attractive.

These shingles give you rugged dependable service without sacrificing beauty. From basic black to earthtone shades their handsome looks are available in a variety of attractive colors to suit your roofing needs.

Fire Loss Less Than Last Year, Still Too High, Says Forester

During this spring's forest-fire season, approximately 25,689 acres of Kentucky's forests were damaged or destroyed by wildfires, Division of Forestry Director Donald A. Hamm reported today.

Hamm said that 1,296 forest fires caused the forest losses. "While the loss this year is less than that which we experienced last year, it's still too high," he said. "The future loss of income to the state's economy for each acre burned has been estimated at $2,029. Based on this figure, the loss from this spring's fires was more than $2 million," Hamm stated.

State Forestry officials credited three factors with helping hold down the number of fires and burned acreage this spring. "The first thing which helped us was a spring with very favorable weather conditions," Hamm explained. "The frequent periods of rain we had this spring kept the fuels on the forest floor from drying out completely. This made it easier for us to control the fires which did start."

The second factor helping keep fire totals down was an increased fire-prevention effort in areas of the state with historically high fire occurrence. "Personal contact with local residents was emphasized by the Division of Forestry. We feel that this effort had a positive effect on the number of fires starting in many areas," Hamm said. "Forestry officials plan to continue the increased prevention efforts during the summer and fall in preparation for the fall forest-fire season."

The third factor credited by Hamm for the decreased damage was increased law-enforcement efforts by Division of Forestry personnel. "During this last forest fire season we issued 482 citations for violations of various forest fire laws," he said. "This figure exceeds that of any other fire season, and we feel that it has paid off. The increased enforcement has also increased awareness on the part of the public of the need and desirability of preventing forest fires." Kentucky's Spring forest fire season begins March 1 and lasts until May 15. Special outdoor burning laws are in force during this period.

MAY—National Hearing & Speech Month

May is National Hearing & Speech Month. It is a time when children, adolescents, and senior citizens with speech and hearing problems receive extra recognition.

There are millions of people with speech and hearing problems across all age groups in America. Speech problems can result from several events: problems during pregnancy, accidents, delays in maturity and many more reasons. Generally, speech therapy can help persons with speech, language, and learning problems, especially with early care and treatment. Also, speech pathologists work with those who have swallowing disorders and children whose poor swallowing patterns have contributed towards poor dental alignment.

Knowing what you want to say—but just can't say it, and difficulties with hearing people but not understanding them are miserable problems which may be helped. Children and people who have had strokes, or people having difficulties talking can be helped. Visit or call the Eastern Kentucky Speech & Hearing Clinic, Prestonsburg, Ky., and see what can be done. There will be free Speech-Language and Hearing Screenings throughout May, call 886-3773. Remember May is National Hearing & Speech Month. If your group or organization would like free information or inservice training in the care and detection of speech-language-hearing problems please call or stop by.

Fitzpatrick Baptists Begin Another Addition

Fitzpatrick First Baptist Church on the Middle Creek road is building again—this time, mainly to meet the needs of its growing Sunday School department.

Concrete footers were being poured Monday for an addition which will house seven classrooms, two restrooms and the pastor's study. Some of the work is being let to contract, but members of the congregation will do much of the construction.

The Rev. John H. Woods is pastor of the church which formerly was a mission of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

Antacids have been promoted for many years as remedies for simple heartburn, mild indigestion, bloating, cramps, gas pains and morning sickness. While these products are generally quite effective in alleviating these symptoms, prolonged usage is not advisable. Sodium bicarbonate (baking soda) is the major ingredient in many antacids. If taken daily for more than a few weeks, by people with diminished kidney function, a bicarbonate-containing antacid may disturb the body's acid/base balance and cause body fluids to become more alkaline than normal. Prolonged use can also lead to the formation of calcium stones in the kidney. As a result, antacids should be taken in moderation.

If you've been taking any over-the-counter medication for a prolonged period of time, you might want to consult with a physician. Quite often you can build up a tolerance to a particular drug, so that it loses its effectiveness or causes side effects. And, of course, if you have any questions, feel free to ask us here at COOLEY APOTHECARY. Located at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., where we're open Mon.-Fri., 9-5:30; Sat., 9-4. 886-8106.

HANDY HINT:

People with hypertension should be wary of taking antacids containing bicarbonates.

Physician Fair Slated, Aug. 27

The Kentucky Medical Association will be sponsoring the 5th Annual Physicians Recruitment Fair on the University of Louisville School of Medicine campus on August 27.

This popular event continues to draw over 70 communities from across the state who are seeking physicians for their communities. These community leaders will have the opportunity to discuss practice opportunities with over 150 resident physicians and senior medical students.

Kentucky's physician/population ratio is still 50% below the national average. Although there are indications nationally that there will be a surplus of physicians by the end of this decade, there are even stronger indications that Kentucky's population will continue to grow at an accelerated rate thus maintaining an acute shortage of physicians for the state through 1990. All parties involved with this project continue to find it a beneficial and productive project. Both large metropolitan hospitals and small rural communities participate in this event each year. Communities or physicians interested in participating in this project are encouraged to contact Joseph A. Witherington, Jr., Kentucky Medical Association Office, 3532 Ephraim McDowell Drive, Louisville, Kentucky 40205.

To the People of Floyd County:

We, the family of the late Judge-Executive Jerry Lafferty, Jr., are very thankful to the citizens of Floyd County. In life you honored him by electing him to the county's highest office, and in the face of controversy, lies, and innuendos spread by self-serving politicians and those in the county who were trying to damage his reputation, as well as the reputation of the members of the Fiscal Court. You, the people of Floyd County, recognized the power play for what it was, and once again you stood by him and with him, and we, his family are very thankful.

Just as you honored him in life, you honored him in death. We will never forget all those who sent flowers, food, and cards. All those who came to say a kind word, share a story about the Judge, or give us a hug or a reassuring smile—to each of you we are very thankful indeed.

To those of the Zebulon Lodge who participated in the Masonic Rites, we thank you and we were very touched by the ceremony.

To the Rev. William Jagers and the Rev. Kenneth Lemaster, we thank you for your comforting words which were even more meaningful because you knew the Judge personally, and your words showed your warmth and your love for him, as well as for each of us. To Mr. Gus Kalos, Mrs. Alice Gray Buchanan, and each member of the choir, your music was thrilling, exciting, and created the atmosphere of celebration as the family of God comes together to send one of its own home to be with the Lord, crying victoriously to the world, "Oh, death where is thy sting? Oh, grave, where is thy victory?" (1 Cor. 15:55KJV) I am certain neither the family, nor those present will ever forget the beauty and dignity the music added to the service, and for that we thank each of you.

The "Judge" loved Floyd County and her people. Some say his biggest fault was that he could not say "no" to people, especially those who were in need. If that be a fault, may God bless each of us with it. The only regret we have is that we were unable to honor his wish that his wife would be able to succeed as County Judge-Executive at his death in order to carry out what he and the Fiscal Court had nobly begun.

So many people have asked for pictures, that we have taken this means to print his picture with our best regards and warmest wishes.

Our tanks look better this spring.
(We never said they were beautiful.)

Right now new customers are finding our tanks more attractive than ever before. It could be they're tired of paying high electric bills for heating, cooking and water heating, when Doxol Propane can do the job for a lot less. Maybe it's the first fill discount they find irresistible. Or the low cost. Or the first year FREE tank rental. Whatever the reason our tanks are looking good during our Spring Fling. You may think the savings make them... beautiful!

One Year Old

Michael Patrick Conley celebrated his first birthday, April 9, with a Sesame Street birthday party at the home of his parents, Mike and Sharon Conley, of Hindman. Patrick received many gifts from his family and friends. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Will Boggs, of Garrett, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Conley, of Martin.

"World of James Joyce" Profiles Irish Writer

The life and career of the literary genius James Joyce are profiled on "The World of James Joyce," to be seen on KET Wednesday, June 15, at 8 p.m. Conversations with family members, the now-grown children of Joyce's contemporaries and his biographer, Richard Ellmann, provide insight into what drove the Irish writer to defy literary convention in the face of monumental odds. In a special introduction and closing to the program, actor Peter O'Toole offers his own thoughts and ideas about his countryman and his work, which is still causing controversy today.

James Joyce was educated in the best Jesuit schools in Dublin. As he matured, he began to rebel against the Catholic Church and what he saw as its repressive restrictions. As he became known as a free thinker and a rebel, he soon found himself not only at odds with the Church in Dublin, but also with the city's intellectual leaders. In 1904 he decided to leave Dublin, and wrote about his home in exile, free from the oppressive authorities of the city.

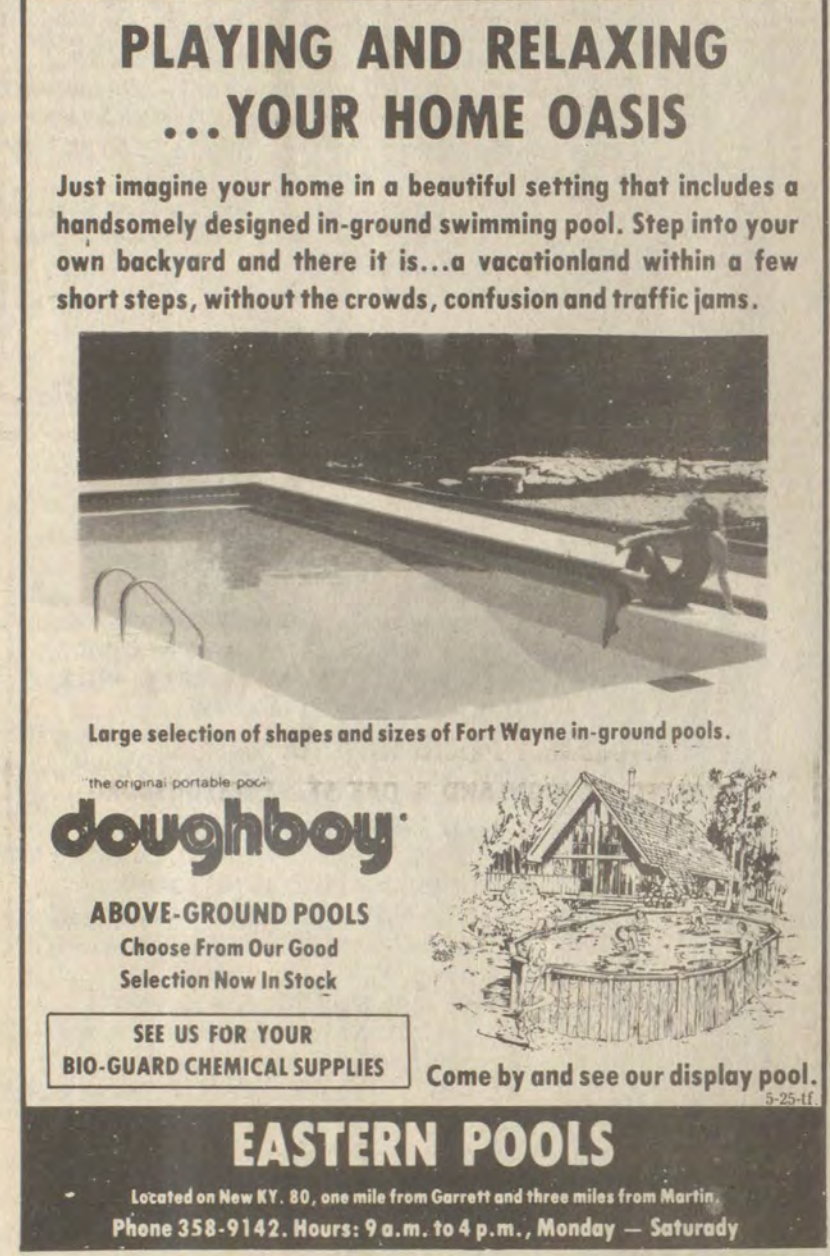

In his books "Ulysses" and "Finnegan's Wake," Joyce celebrated the richness of human life and immortalized the city he loved best—Dublin. In 1941 at the age of 58, Joyce died in Zurich where he had sought refuge from the Nazis after being forced to flee Paris. "The World of James Joyce" was produced by Radio Telefis Eireann (RTE).

SOME OLD SCENTS

The Egyptians soaked fragrant woods and resins in water and oil, then rubbed their bodies with the liquid. For hundreds of years, perfume making was chiefly an Oriental art. In the early 1200's, the Crusaders brought perfume from Palestine to England and France, and by the 1500's perfumes had become popular throughout Europe. It was the French who discovered the secret of layering a fragrance in various forms for magnificent sensory effect.

Rains Spell Trouble for Crops

Torrential rains that have victimized the state in recent weeks are making it impossible for Kentucky farmers to adhere to normal planting schedules.

Small grain crops already in the ground are facing problems, and most of the state's corn fields stand idle. The corn crop, expected to be about 900,000 acres, is in particular danger, says Dr. Morris Bitzer, Extension specialist at the University of Kentucky.

"The next 10 days to two weeks will be crucial," said the specialist. Statewide, less than 10 percent of the corn crop has been planted. Normally at this time of year, the figure is above 50 percent, said Bitzer.

For every day past May 15, a corn crop suffers a one percent yield loss per day, according to the specialist. "After the 20th of May, you really take a loss," he added. Grain planted past June 10 may not mature before frost.

Bitzer suggests that farmers with no-till capability plant no-till corn since that method allows them to get into fields sooner than the conventional method. "Later planted corn does better-no-till," he added.

Bitzer expects farmers will plant corn as late as they can because corn prices promise to be stronger than soybean prices. Farmers aren't hurrying on soybeans yet, although soybean planting normally is in full force in the Purchase area by now, he said.

Fortunately, noted Bitzer, corn acreage would not be as great this year as in the past because of the government's PIK program which has encouraged reduction by about 600,000 acres.

Although some growers managed to plant corn in early April, replanting may be necessary because of low soil temperatures. "Even if the weather gets dry, temperatures are supposed to remain cool," Bitzer said, adding that the lower temperatures mean slower growth for grains.

Tom Priddy, Extension meteorologist at UK, says the 30-day outlook extending to mid-June doesn't offer a lot of hope for the needed warmth in soil temperatures. The outlook is not that positive for a dry spell, according to Priddy.

The 30-day forecast calls for near normal precipitation. And, Priddy says, "Even if we get normal, well-distributed rainfall, it still will be hard for farmers to catch up."

He explains that anytime soils are saturated, soil temperatures remain stable as the warmth burns off the moisture in the soil before being able to heat up the soil. Soil temperatures in the mid-60s are best for planting and growth.

Priddy said all locations reporting in the state have had 2-3 inch, 24-hour rainfalls. Between May 1-15, Paducah recorded over seven inches in rainfall. Five inches is normal for that city. Lexington recorded about six inches during the same period—four inches above normal. And Covington also received around six inches of rain in that two-week period, an amount well over normal for the time of year.

The soggy weather doesn't just cause problems with planting. Plant disease specialists at UK note that prolonged heavy rainfall influences the plant disease situation for the growing season.

Roots of plants not tolerant to low soil oxygen levels will not function normally in flooded soils, according to the specialists. They say this stress may weaken plants so that they become susceptible to diseases that might not normally be a problem.

In some cases, root rot diseases caused by wet soils now will not visibly damage a plant until a dry period occurs in mid summer.

Dr. Joe Smiley, tobacco Extension specialist, expects some problems with black shank this summer since the organism is spread by water washing into plant beds. Angular leaf spot, a bacterial disease, is expected to increase rapidly due to extensive water soaking of leaf tissue.

Smiley said many beds probably need nitrogen fertilizer applied to replace that lost through leaching. He also suggests that farmers apply three teaspoons of Ridomil per bed to protect against blue mold since most probably has been lost because of wetness.

Thus far, wet conditions haven't been a factor in transplanting tobacco, according to Smiley who said most plants are not large enough to transplant.

Heavy rains also mean more disease problems with vegetable and fruit crops. And growers face the same problem as corn producers—getting into the fields to plant. Dr. John Strang, Extension horticulturist, notes that early crops, such as corn, are the biggest money-makers for vegetable growers.

However, the heavy rainfall will not influence the state's fruit and vegetable crops as much as the late spring frost did. Strang notes that damage varied by crop, cultivar and location.

Generally, peaches vary from complete loss to full crops. Early blooming apples, such as Red Delicious, were severely thinned. Strawberries were injured slightly. A lot of early broccoli and cauliflower was lost.

82nd Birthday

Mrs. Laura Gibson, of Price, observed her 82nd birthday, May 18. She was presented gifts and two birthday cakes, one from her daughters and another from Mr. and Mrs. Langley, members of her church. Family members present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Truman and daughter, Cheryl Ann, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Zane Rice, and daughter Donetta, all of Mousie; Mr. and Mrs. Ollie J. King and daughter, Robin, Mrs. Velma Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Mith Blair and daughter, Shana, all of Topmost; Mrs. Pat Duff, Sandy, Shelia and Todd, of Hueysville, and Bill Gibson, Jr., of Price.

FmHA Loans Available For Home Improvement

Home improvement loans through FmHA can be made to low income families who may not need or cannot afford a new house but need some work done on their present house.

Loans may be made for $7,500 or less, at a 1% interest rate. The maximum repayment period is 15 years.

To be eligible for such a home improvement loan, the families income must be less than $6,000 annually, and be owner-occupant of a dwelling in need of repairs to make it safe and sanitary, or to remove health hazards.

Those who would like to apply for a home improvement loan should come to the Farmers Home Administration office in Prestonsburg on any Monday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Applications may also be placed at the ASCS office at Pikeville on the second and fourth Fridays of each month from 10:00 a.m. to noon. Any questions may be answered by calling our Prestonsburg office at 886-9545.

An Add-On Electric Heat Pump can really make a difference here.

What an Add-On Electric Heat Pump saves out of your energy bills goes right into your pocket.

An Add-On Heat Pump pulls heat from outside air and works with your existing furnace, no matter what fuel it uses. So you heat your home more efficiently all winter long.

Your Add-On Heat Pump is also a central air conditioner, which pulls heat from indoor air, cooling and dehumidifying your home all summer.

And you'll be pleased to know that in most cases an Add-On Heat Pump uses the existing ductwork of your furnace. You don't have to make any major structural changes to your furnace or your home, which helps keep installation costs down.

To learn more about how an Add-On Electric Heat Pump can make a difference, send us this coupon. Our free booklet explains why an Add-On Heat Pump may be the best way for you to save on your energy bills.

Tiny Miss Floyd Co.

—Photo by Steve Porter, Kelly Lee Bates, six-year-old daughter of Bud and Dona Bates, of Bevinville, was crowned Tiny Miss Floyd County, Saturday night, May 7, at the Betsy Layne Fieldhouse in the pageant sponsored annually by the Allen Woman's Club.

A recent kindergarten graduate of Janet Hughes class at the W.D. Osborne School at Bypro, she is the granddaughter of Dixie Bates, of Bevinville, and Clyde Shumate, of Flatwoods.

Fisheries Symposium Planned

A group of fisheries specialists from throughout the Southeast will hold a symposium in Lexington June 13-16 that could determine how many fish you'll catch ten years from now.

Titled "Reservoir Fisheries Management: Strategies for the 80's," this symposium will focus on the problems facing our man-made lakes and steps biologists can take to maintain or improve fishing opportunities on these bodies of water.

The meeting is sponsored by the Reservoir Committee, Southern Division, of the American Fisheries Society and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, with the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources serving as host.

Reservoirs have changed just about everything about fishing, from the species we catch to the boats and tackle we use. They represent without a doubt our most important inland fishing waters.

But the future of reservoir angling is not bright. Very few new lakes are being built, so the existing ones will have to accommodate an ever-increasing number of fishermen. This constantly increasing pressure, combined with the fact that reservoirs generally suffer declines in sport and pan fish productivity as they age, will necessitate more research and management in the near future to maintain any kind of quality fishing.

So while the technical papers presented at this symposium (papers with titles such as "Interactions between Introduced Pelagic Fishes and Endemic Littoral Residents") won't mean much to the average angler, their implications will have an impact on your fishing throughout the 1980s—and beyond.

What the organizers hope will come out of this meeting is a review of past management techniques, a re-assessment of present knowledge and a unified sense of direction for future research and management. Another important feature of the symposium will be an attempt to open and improve lines of communications between fisheries managers and the users of reservoirs—organized fishing groups, tackle and boat manufacturers and conservation groups.

The symposium will attract some known people to Lexington, including Robert Jantzen, the director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Dick Kotis, president of the Arbogast Bait Company, and Grits Gresham, a nationally-published outdoor writer.

AN EQUINE MYSTERY

The origin of the Arabian horse remains a zoological mystery. Experts can't agree on its origins. Some historians argue that its ancestry traces to the wild horses in northern Syria, southern Turkey or the southwestern area of Arabia. It is known that by 1500 B.C., people of the East had developed mastery over the hot blooded horses that were the forerunners of the breed that has come to known as Arabian.

Reorganization Ordered For Two State Agencies

Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr. has signed an executive order reorganizing two divisions of the state Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and enforcement of the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet.

Deputy Secretary Kenny Imes said, "The reorganization, which became effective on May 16, is designed to provide more efficient and economical government services to the public and the coal industry."

Under the reorganization plan, the Division of Reclamation Services will be merged with the Division of Permits into one division to be known as the Division of Permits.

The new division will be made up of six branches—Technical Services, Management Support, Permit Review, Mining Data-522 Petition Review and the Small Operators Assistance Branch.

All funds and personnel, records and equipment will be transferred from Reclamation Services to the new Permits Division.

Functions of the former division will be continued under the Division of Permits.

The Surface Mining Department is now composed of the Division of Field Services and the Division of Permits.

Betsy Layne Students In Nat'l Honor Group

Russell M. Frazier, principal, announced today that 12 students from Betsy Layne High School have been accepted for membership in the Society of Distinguished American High School Students. Founded in 1968, the Society has honored some of the most outstanding high school students in the nation.

To qualify for Society membership, a nominee must excel in academics, extracurricular, or civic activities and be nominated by a local sponsor. Once accepted for this select honor, members become eligible to compete for college scholarships through The Society's National Awards Program. This year 118 colleges and universities have earmarked scholarship funds for Society members.

Students from Betsy Layne High School awarded membership are Craig Davis, Mary Hall, Angela Tackett, Angela Stevens, Glenna Hamilton, Rosetta Hamilton, Connie Hall, Pauletta Lafferty, June Mitchell, Karen Akers, Carolyn Hamilton, and Lisa Lynch.

To preserve the honor, these members' names and their biographical accomplishments will be listed in the Society's 1983 Membership Registry.

To Observe 50th Anniversary, June 5

Elder Bert E. and Margaret Hall, of Topmost, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at their home at noon, Sunday, June 5. Friends and relatives are invited to join them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall will have been married 50 years on June 1.

Title Role in "Annie"

Pilot Program Proposes Educational Improvement

By Sharon M. Reynolds
(In The Lexington Herald-Leader)

With more instructional leadership from principals and improved teaching techniques, 10 selected school districts in Kentucky may be able to improve the quality of their schools.

These are the major conclusions of State Department of Education officials, who recently completed the first phase of a new state pilot program. The voluntary project is aimed at boosting academic achievement in districts where students' test scores in basic skills have consistently been below the national average.

Included in the project are the counties of Jackson, Lawrence, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, M... and Whitley, along with the independent school districts of Covington, Richmond and Providence.

Plans for improving education in these school systems will now be implemented with up to $20,000 for each district from the state.

Ten teams of specialists from the state education department spent several weeks in each district, sitting in on classes and talking to teachers, administrators, students and parents.

"Each district had its own distinct personality," said Angela Wilkins, a member of the team that evaluated Jackson county and the Richmond schools.

But state officials were able to find some common factors shared by most of the 10:

—Principals in many districts were not the instructional leaders of the school. Research shows that the most academically effective schools have principals who take this role, Ms. Wilkins said.

"An administrator's job has become so complex," she said. "They're expected to manage transportation, the cafeteria, the grounds. But they have to know what is being taught."

—Teachers tended to stick too closely to textbooks, without regard to the level or ability of students. And in some districts, there were not enough textbooks to go around.

—Daily instructional time in most schools was less than six hours, with numerous interruptions for visitors, announcements or assemblies.

—Generally, there was an absence of policies stressing regular class attendance.

—Homework often was not returned to students.

—There were few rewards for academic achievement; many schools did not have honor roles or academic competitions.

—Several districts had no written, formalized system of teacher evaluation. And with the exception of a "teacher of the year" award, good teachers in most districts were not singled out for rewards.

Don Burchett, who spent several weeks as the team leader in Letcher and Martin counties, said people there were a little apprehensive about being in the program.

"They got the feeling that they were the 10 lowest school systems in the state. I doubt this is true. I'm sure others could benefit from similar observations. We found a lot of excellent teaching, and we found some poor teaching."

Test scores weren't the only factor used in selecting the schools. The socioeconomic conditions of the area, local tax support, teacher-pupil ratio, money spent per pupil and the educational level of the faculty were also considered.

Adult Students Earn Diplomas

Thirteen of the 30 who enrolled for the 1982-'83 adult basic education class conducted by the Mountain Comprehensive Care Center have earned their GED, the equivalent of a high school diploma, and five of them have enrolled in higher institutions. Among the graduates are Betty Boyd, Wilma Hamilton, Willard Moore, Rhoda Moore, Helen Reynolds, Janice Gayheart, Robin Hall, Janice Hall, Freida Meade, Marlene Kidd, Zina Kidd, Barbara S. Kidd, and Dwayne L. Hall.

The program is supported by state funds.

ROTC Award Winner

Eric C. Conn, Stanville senior, received a ROTC Distinguished Service Certificate at the recent Morehead State University ROTC awards ceremony.

"We Got Annie" may well become much more popular in Floyd county this summer because we do have Annie, for Sabrina West, 10-year-old from Harold will be playing the title role of the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre's presentation of "Annie." This will be the first theater to present the popular musical in a resident production off-Broadway.

Miss West, daughter of Patty and Danny West, of Harold, played the role of Winthrop in Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre's production of "Music Man" last summer.

Miss West, who in addition to tap dancing, plays the piano, saxophone, fiddle, and sings, says, "It is my dream come true!"

Reservations for "Annie" may be made by calling 886-9274.

On All-Star Team

Frank Lykins, a senior at Northwest High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, was one of the local baseball players who made the first team of the Hamilton County Suburban League, American Division All-Star Baseball team. He led his team in triples and had an outstanding season of batting with an average of .524 all season, and came in second in triples in the city.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Sarah Hammonds, of Water Gap, and the son of Hoy and Nadine Hammonds Lykins, of Cincinnati. He will graduate May 26 in the top third of his class and attend the University of Cincinnati in the fall.

MSU Wins OVC Baseball Tournament

It took 17 days of waiting through foul weather and final exams, but Morehead State University finally captured the 1983 Ohio Valley Conference Baseball Tournament title.

The Eagles, who earlier claimed the OVC Northern Division title, captured their first conference championship since 1977 and earned the OVC's automatic berth in the NCAA Regionals the final weekend in May. Sites and pairings for the NCAA tournament have not been decided.

"It meant a lot for us to win this one," said Hamilton of his second OVC championship since returning to his alma mater a coach seven years ago. "All year long I felt good about our team and they developed a strong closeness over the season. Our seniors have done a great job."

Hamilton pointed to the leadership of his four seniors—center fielder Alan Steele, shortstop Frank Spaniol, first baseman/designated hitter Scott Haynes and pitcher Kevin Sturgill—as reasons for the Eagles' success in 1983.

"Our defense won it (OVC tournament) for us," added Hamilton, named the OVC Northern Division Coach of the Year. "Everyone in the tournament hit well and the difference in our team was sharp fielding and turning key double plays."

Despite Morehead State's .948 team field percentage, the Eagles sparked defensively in the tournament. Morehead State turned 11 double plays and committed only two errors in 34 innings.

"Drew (Hall) didn't have the control he's had, but he threw a good game," said Hamilton of his ace lefthander's performance in the championship contest. "Anytime you strike out 10 against Murray State, you've pitched well. They're a good hitting team."

MSU's Allen Field has been described as a hitter's park, and that description held true in the lengthy tournament. In seven games, four teams combined to produce 118 runs and 179 hits. Pitchers were also tagged for 33 home runs and 18 doubles in the tournament, 10 each by host Morehead State.

Morehead State has won 13 of its last 17 games in improving to 26-15-1 overall. The Eagles need only two victories to equal the most wins in the school's history. MSU's OVC divisional championship team of 1976 posted a 28-11 record.

"I think we'll go into the NCAA tournament in a good frame of mind," said Hamilton. "We're mature enough to not be awed by everyone else we might play."

Morehead State's last and only appearance in the NCAA Baseball Tournament ended quickly. The Eagles lost to host Miami (Fla.) 6-1 before being eliminated by Mississippi 5-2 in Hamilton's second season as head coach for the Eagles.

Second baseman Steve Heatherly, the OVC Northern Division Player of the Year, leads the squad and conference in hitting with a .414 average. He also leads the squad in home runs (11), doubles (12), runs scored (45), hits (58) and slugging (.750).

Four Morehead State performers earned all-conference honors. Heatherly, catcher Daniel Smith (.359, 11 doubles, 5 home runs), right fielder Norm Brock (.340, 7 home runs, 18 stolen bases) and pitcher Drew Hall (6-0, 3.86 ERA, 66 strike outs in 50 innings) attained All-OVC honors.

Morehead State features 11 batters hitting over .300. The Eagles lead the OVC in hitting with a .340 mark, an identical team batting average as MSU's 1977 NCAA participant team.

Plan Family Reunion

The children of the late Linzie B. and Lola Smedley are planning a family reunion, and invite other descendants and friends of the late Benjamin and Orlena Frazier Baldrige and William and Elizabeth Morris Smedley at the City Recreation Park, Morehead, Ky., July 17. The festivities will start at 8 a.m., with a Sunday morning worship service to be followed by a breakfast as prepared. There will be a pot-luck family picnic at 2 p.m., and a variety of games will be enjoyed.

Nature Trails... By RUFUS REED

Man and This Good Earth

John Burroughs, the great naturalist, once said, "This earth is a paradise and it is our good fortune to be a part of it." (He meant the earth, not people.)

Our earth is filled with beauty and song, goodness and glory. The earth is gowned in bright new green, a delight to the eye, a tonic to the soul. There's beauty and music everywhere.

The birds are singing for joy; everything has a song. The insects sing, the brook sings and there's wild-song in the leaves.

This good earth is our mother. We came from it, and its elements give life to our bodies. From the earth we have our potassium, calcium, sodium, magnesium and iron. There's enough iron in each of us to make a finger ring.

We are a part of all and kin to all. We are brother, to the trees and close kin to the insensible clod. Like us, the clod yearns for green beauty. The more we know about this good planet earth, the more we love and respect it. It is wonderfully made, unique among all the planets. It is the only one with humans living on it.

Our good earth is a great space ship shooting through Vacuum of space with the speed of a bullet! It goes 1000 miles per minute, so as to complete its yearly orbit of ninety-five million miles around the sun in a year's time. It has been orbiting around the sun for countless ages and never misses more than a second or two. Isn't this wonderful to contemplate.

The great mind of God designed our earth with its axis tilted 23 1/2 degrees so as to give up the four seasons. In winter our good earth is tilted away from the sun; in summer, the tilt is toward the sun.

The Creator of our earth endowed it with good resources—but man has wasted these too much. Earth's resources will some day be exhausted. What then can we do? The best resources are not being replaced. The Coal Age is past, and no more coal is being made. This is true for oil and gas. We're wasteful with timber, too. Nature tries to replace the trees, but it takes centuries to grow a fine oak. Other resources we should guard well and conserve are water, salt, a clean atmosphere and wildlife. It takes nature 400 years to make one inch of good topsoil. So we should—and we must—conserve our soil by sowing cover crops and planting trees. We need to build dams to catch and hold water for a future supply. We need more game laws to protect our wildlife, especially our birds.

What is the future destiny of our planet earth? Peter said: "The elements will melt with fervent heat." But he didn't say the earth would do so.

May I offer a suggestion to all my readers! I urge all of you to join in the movement to "ban the bomb". Here's the danger I see: If they bombard this earth with horrible bombs and knock out great holes ten miles wide, this could throw our earth out of orbit, and it would float away into outer space and become a "lost planet."

Husband and Wife, Dental Graduates

The "togetherness" of Billy Ray Francis and his wife, Demetra Slone Francis, extends beyond the connubial state.

They attended and graduated from Prestonsburg High School together in 1974, and from the University of Kentucky earned degrees in micro-biology.

Then, on Sunday, May 15, they received their Doctor of Dental Medicine degrees during commencement ceremonies at the University of Louisville.

And later, after they pass their State Board exams, they will practice dentistry together at Price, in this county.

Mrs. Francis is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Slone, of the David road, Middle Creek.

Dr. Lester Graduates

Dr. James D. Lester graduated May 8 from the University of Kentucky College of Dentistry.

Out-of-town guests attending the graduation were Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Sammons, of the Auxier road, Miss Dallas Fay Sammons, of Morehead, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Lester, of Blaine, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lester and daughter, of Morehead, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry King and family, of Lexington.

Dr. Lester will be practicing family dentistry in Louisa. He is married to the former Rose Sammons, of the Auxier road, and they now reside in Louisa.

Dedication services were held at the First Church of God on University Drive, here, Sunday, April 3, for Master David William Harris, son of Paul David and Terri Hall Harris, of Prestonsburg. The pastor, Garland Lacy, officiated at the services during which David was presented with a red rose bud.

His maternal grandparents are William Alex and Betty Hall, of Prestonsburg, and the paternal grandparents are Paul and Jeanette Harris, of Martin.

Mayo Has a Winner

More than 850 students competed in the Kentucky VICA Skills Olympics in Louisville, April 20-23, and Mayo State Vocational Technical School won first place in the post high school opening and closing ceremonies event. Their team consisted of Danny Howard, Linda Adams, Gary Spears, Eddie Clay, Kerry Roberts, Jayma Fletcher and Karen Mims. They will be competing in the National VICA Skills Olympics to be held June 30 at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center.

Deadline Is Extended For Fund Applications

The deadline has been extended for community groups to file an application for funds from the $878,000 federal grant Kentucky has received to provide emergency food and shelter. The Cabinet for Human Resources previously set May 20 as the deadline but, applications will be accepted through May 27.

Applications were mailed to more than 800 groups throughout the state and distributed at a statewide nutrition conference early this month. Interested volunteer organizations who have not received an application may request one by calling the Department for Social Insurance's Operation Support Branch, 502-564-7514.

Has Third Birthday

Seth Alan Hall celebrated his third birthday, April 10, at the home of his parents, Don Carlos and Sherlene Hall, in Wise, Va. Celebrating with him were his parents, brother and sister, Scott and Jennifer. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carlos L. Hall, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Odis Ousley, of Martin.

School Board Fires Branham

By LEE MUELLER (In The Lexington Herald-Leader) In a three-minute meeting before nearly 200 people, the Martin County Board of Education voted 4-1 last Friday to fire Superintendent Dan Branham.

By the same margin, the board members hired school-system truant officer Sheldon Hardin as acting superintendent and quickly adjourned—leaving a high school gymnasium floor amid a mixed chorus of catcalls and applause from the stands. Branham's attorney, David LeMaster, of Paintsville, promptly filed a lawsuit challenging the action.

Martin Circuit Judge James Knight later issued a temporary restraining order prohibiting the removal of Branham. No hearing date was scheduled on the order.

The ouster vote is the climax of a stormy school board controversy that has been brewing here since last November.

That was when two new board members—backed by a coalition that included former school system employees and disgruntled teachers—defeated pro-Branham incumbents, touching off an effort in February to oust Branham before his contract expires in July 1984.

Branham initially told board chairwoman Ilene Smith that he would resign, but he changed his mind after hundreds of supporters began attending board meetings, which were moved to the local high school gymnasium.

Supporters claim that Branham is an outstanding administrator who brought progress and professionalism to a system long dominated by political finaglers.

Branham, 42, a Bowling Green native who married the daughter of a former Martin county school board official, came to the county in 1977 to replace longtime superintendent Sheldon Clark.

Opponents say Branham practiced his own brand of politics.

Earlier this month, the board brought a dozen charges against him. Those charges were cited yesterday as a basis for firing him without a due-process hearing.

The charges claimed, among other things, that Branham was remiss in trying to collect from two coal companies the 3 percent utility tax he initiated four years ago.

One company, Mapco Inc. of Tulsa, Okla., then paid almost a quarter-million dollars in back taxes but last week filed suit to reclaim its money, claiming that state law exempts energy-producing companies from the levy.

Additional charges involved letting a contract without receiving bids, accepting group-insurance payments from people not employed by the board, allowing employees to make personal purchases under board contracts, misspending federal funds and violating school policy on disposal of surplus property.

He also was charged with making improper payments to a substitute aide, failing to properly notify a teacher of reduction in pay and duties, transferring funds without board action and falsifying retirement records.

"Branham labeled the charges as 'very general and very vague' and in (his) lawsuit described the board's action as arbitrary and 'motivated by political considerations adverse to Martin county schools.'"

Betsy Layne Church To Hold Revival

Revival services will be held at the Betsy Layne Church of beginning at 7 each evening, May 29 through June 5. Evangelists James Justice will conduct the services, and the pastor, Rev. Darrell Jones extends a welcome to everyone to attend.

Second Birthday

Lonzo Stephens, Jr., celebrated his second birthday at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Green Stephens, on May 15. He is the son of Lonzo and Rose Stephens, of Bull Creek. Attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Green Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Goble, Sally and Benjamin Maynard, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Prater, Michelle and Stephen Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Stephens, Denny Green, James Monroe, Kathy Stephens, Charles Hammonds, Ron and John Goble, and his parents. He was presented many nice gifts.

Seven From Floyd Among EKU Grads

Eastern Kentucky University will confer degrees upon about 1,300 students at its 76th spring commencement on Saturday, May 14, at 1:30 p.m. Also recognized will be 559 graduates who completed degree requirements in December.

The list of degree candidates includes seven students from Floyd County. They are: Elizabeth Hammonds, of Wheelwright, bachelor of arts; Rondal E. Goble, of Prestonsburg, Walter Howard, of Wheelwright, Gregory A. Isaac, of Wheelwright, and Rebecca A. Watts, of Allen, bachelors of science; and Mark A. Chaffin, of Prestonsburg, and Randall K. Halbert, of Printer, bachelors of business administration.

Abbott Creek Boy Scouts Attends See'n Do Camp

Abbott Creek Boy Scout Troop No. 877 attended its first See'n Do Camporee held at Camp Shawnee, Dewey Lake, last week-end.

Beginning at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, the boys were instructed by the camp staff on how to perform specific tasks in five major areas—Knots and hitches, ax and sawmanship, outdoor cooking, first aid, and compass use and tree identification. After lunch, the same day, the troops were brought back from their respective campsites and asked to perform the skills they had observed earlier.

"We did very well for a troop less than one year old" said Scoutmaster Johnnie Ross "We scored three perfects, one good" and needed further instruction in only one area. Scores like that really makes a leader proud. I've got a great bunch of boys" he added.

This year's See'n Do was staffed by the Woodbage Eagle Patrol headed by Jimmy England and, despite the bad weather, was very well attended. Those in attendance from Troop 877 were Don Adkins, Robert Boggs, Billy Grimm, Tommy Grimm, Jimmy Naylor, Johnny Naylor, Richard Naylor, Jackie York, Jr. Assistant Scoutmaster William Ward and Scoutmaster Ross.

The troop's next outing will be June 26-July 2 when it will attend Camp McKee, near Mt. Sterling.

Happy Birthday, Mother

I love you, THELMA

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Layne, of Banner, are announcing the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Sherry Lynn Layne, to Mr. Jeffery Alan Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seaman Collins, of Hagar Hill.

The gracious custom of open church will be observed when the vows are exchanged at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 28, at the Allen First Baptist Church. A reception will be held at the church immediately following the ceremony.

Miss Layne, a graduate of Betsy Layne High School and Mayo State Vocational School is presently employed as an engineer technician at Mason, Barrows, and Feamster, engineers and land surveyors.

Mr. Collins is presently employed at Triple A Auger Coal Company.

Home Canning Norms Revised

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has revised home canning procedures for some foods to prevent food-borne illness and spoilage of valuable home canning products.

"Recommended processing times for canning tomatoes, tomato juice, pumpkin, winter squash, applesauce and fruit puree have been increased," said Dr. Fudeko Maruyama, Extension foods and nutrition specialist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"The longer processing times result in better heat penetration, destroying spoilage organisms that can decrease acidity," she said. Decreased acidity can allow botulism organisms to grow, producing harmful toxins.

"The USDA also no longer recommends raw packing tomatoes. Instead, use the hot pack method," added Maruyama.

Other new USDA recommendations for home canning these foods are:

- Increase the hot pack processing time for canning tomatoes to 35 minutes for pints and 45 minutes for quarts. This more than triples the previously recommended times.

- Hot pack processing time for tomato juice in pints and quarts is now 35 minutes.

- Do not can strained pumpkin or winter squash. In this form, they are too dense for proper heat penetration. Instead, cube pumpkin and squash and process pints for 55 minutes and quarts for 90 minutes.

- Increase processing time for applesauce and fruit puree to 20 minutes for pints and quarts.

"Applesauce and fruit puree processing times were increased to destroy a heat-resistant mold that causes these foods to spoil," Maruyama said.

After consulting with Dennis Fox, a UK foods biochemist, and with two UK food microbiologists, Joe O'Leary and Bruce Langlois, Maruyama still recommends adding lemon juice or citric acid to increase the acidity of canned tomatoes and tomato juice.

The USDA based its changes on research reported by universities in Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts and by the Eastern Regional Research Center of the USDA, which indicated that new procedures for home canning were called for to prevent food-borne illness. Dr. Milton Baldauf, head of the USDA food science program in Washington, called these changes interim steps and said that further research may indicate more changes are needed in home canning procedures.

An update with the new USDA recommendations will be distributed with the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service publication Home Canning of Fruits & Vegetables, available from your county Extension home economics agent.

Quarter Million View Candidates

The KET "Campaign '83: The Primary" program which aired May 12 and featured Democratic gubernatorial hopefuls Martha Layne Collins, Harvey Sloane and Grady Stumbo attracted up to 263,636 viewers, according to a survey done for KET by the Survey Research Center of the University of Kentucky in Lexington.

"We are pleased with the results," said KET Programming Director Kirk Lehtomaa. "This is one of the largest audiences to watch a single program on KET. I consider more than 260,000 to be a significant percentage of voters."

Volunteer Help Sought As Theatre Opening Nears

The Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre opens its 1983 season on Saturday, June 25, with ANNIE, the award-winning musical that charmed Broadway audiences for six years. ANNIE is followed on June 29 by THE ROBBER BRIDEGROOM, a romantic bluegrass fantasy set in the pioneer days of the Old Natchez Trace. GREASE, the third show of the season, opens on July 6 and explores the world of Rydell High in 1959, when rock 'n' roll, bobby sox, and hot-rod were on everyone's minds. Renovations are under way at the Jenny Wiley State Resort Park Amphitheatre, and many improvements will be evident by the time ANNIE opens. The generosity of many Eastern Kentucky individuals, organizations, and corporations, along with the support of Kentucky Parks Commissioner Lou Karibo, has made these improvements possible. Among the changes are new restroom facilities, additional office space, renovated dressing rooms, expanded concession facilities, and the addition of permanent seating. "The installation of new permanent seats is the most important renovation," said Managing Director John McCann. "We would not have been able to get the seats without the help of our local supporters and the Parks Commission." Jenny Wiley is looking for volunteers to help in the costume shop, the box office and to serve as ushers. "This is a great way to show your support and commitment to Eastern Kentucky's professional theatre," said McCann. An organizational meeting will be held Thursday, May 26, at 7 p.m. in the theatre lobby. Refreshments will be served at the meeting. All who are interested in working at the theatre are encouraged to attend. If you would like to help but cannot attend the meeting, call Polly King at 886-9274.

Nine Summer Camps Available at MSU

Nine weeks of camps for seven different sports, plus a sports training camp, are available for varying age groups this summer at Morehead State University. MSU's Baseball Camp will be in operation June 5-10 under the direction of OVC Northern Division Coach of the Year Steve Hamilton. Campers 13-18 years of age are eligible. Coach Wayne Martin will direct two sessions of the MSU Basketball Camp. The first session, June 26-July 1, is for ages 13 and over, while the July 24-29 session is for boys ages 6-12. The Girl's Basketball Camp, directed by Lady Eagle coach Mickey Wells, will be held June 19-24, for girls ages 10-18. The Football Camp, conducted by Head Football Coach Steve Loney, will be held June 12-15, for the 13-18 age group. The MSU Golf Camp is scheduled for June 12-17, and will be directed by MSU Golf Coach Rex Chaney. MSU's Soccer Camp, held by Soccer Coach Mohammed Sabie, will be in session July 17-22. MSU Volleyball Coach Jim McClellan will conduct the MSU Volleyball Camp, to be held July 17-20. Morehead State will also sponsor an Athletic Training Camp, conducted by Eagle Trainer Keith Webster. Each camp fee covers three meals per day, lodging air-conditioned residence halls, use of university recreational facilities and professional coaching and instruction. All deposits are non-refundable. Special day camp rates are available for those participants who prefer not to stay in the residence halls. Campers will receive individual and group instruction through lectures, fundamental drills and sports competition. High school seniors are not eligible for camp participation. Medical facilities are available within six blocks of the MSU campus. Applications and more detailed information may be obtained by writing the camp of your choice in care of the camp director, Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky. 40351.
