

Clerk's Staff Walks Out

Claiming the fiscal court unfairly denied them a raise last week, the staff of the county court clerk's office walked off the job Monday.

Despite warnings by a state official that their strike was illegal, eight women clerks walked the picket line in sweltering heat, carrying placards with slogans like "Fiscal Court Unfair," "Deputy Clerks Underpaid, Overworked," and "On Strike Against Boss 'Hog'."

While pickets declined to identify "Boss 'Hog,'" they urged those with business at the clerk's office to go, instead, and lodge a complaint with Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo. They would not return to work, they said, until Stumbo called a special meeting of the fiscal court to reconsider their request for a salary hike.

That request was put to the court on their behalf last Friday by County Court Clerk Thomas D. Lafferty, Jr., who said the clerks had had no salary increase for 2½ years. Moreover, some of those now employed in the clerk's office could expect to lose their jobs when a new clerk takes office after the November 8 election and a pay raise at this time would enhance their unemployment compensation, he argued.

The fiscal court—Judge Stumbo and Magistrates Gerald DeRossett and Lowell Samons were the only members present—postponed a decision on the request until the court's next regular meeting, scheduled for Sept. 16.

Told of the clerks' walkout Monday morning, state Local Government Adviser Al Howell, who has been monitoring fiscal court affairs for the past 18 months, said he urged the employees to return to work and warned County Clerk Lafferty that he (Lafferty) was responsible for seeing that the clerk's office was properly staffed and open for business.

He consulted with the state attorney-general, who advised him "there is no such thing as a strike in government," Howell said.

"I called Lafferty around 9:30 a.m. and told him it was up to him as clerk to provide services," the state official said. "I said, 'If you can't get them back in a reasonable time, you should dismiss them.'" He considered about one hour to be a "reasonable time," Howell said.

The state adviser, who is field representative for state Local Finance Officer Robert L. Purdom, said he also spoke by telephone Monday morning to Evelyn Goble and Peggy Kidd, two of the striking clerks, and recommended that they return to work.

Whatever the motive behind the request, no salary increase could have taken effect before January, Howell said Monday. The size of the clerk's staff and their salaries, which are fixed by the fiscal court every four years, are next due for review in 1985. While annual adjustments can be made by the court, they can be made only in January, Howell explained.

When the clerk's staff was last reviewed, in May, 1981, the fiscal court authorized a chief deputy at $1000 a month, two assistant deputies at $800, three deputies at $700, three at $550, and one at $500. In addition, four part-time deputies were approved at an hourly rate of $3.35.

In his request Friday, Lafferty asked the court to authorize three assistant deputies at $1150, two deputies at $950, three at $850, and two at $750. In addition, he asked for four part-time workers at $3.65 an hour.

Even without authorization of the salary increase, some clerks already earn substantially more than the amount fixed in 1981 and even more than the amount for which court approval was sought Friday.

Carla Boyd, who worked for 11 years in the clerk's office, denied the striking clerks' claim that they had not had a raise in 2½ years. They had pay increases last December, she said. But Deputy Clerk Peggy Kidd said the higher salaries are the result of overtime work.

PICKETING THE COURTHOUSE here Monday were employees of the county court clerk's office, who walked off the job to protest the failure of the fiscal court to award them pay increases last week. The clerks' strike, which is believed to be unprecedented here, was declared illegal by state and county officials.

Howell Loses Cool As Squires Absent

People in the county should know that two magistrates were not doing their job, grumbled state Local Government Adviser Al Howell at a meeting of the Floyd fiscal court Friday.

Magistrates Kenneth Roberts and Ed Caudill "should be publicly chastised for not being here to do their duty," Howell said angrily, noting that he had seen the two magistrates in the courthouse shortly before the 10 a.m. meeting.

While they took no action on the state official's proposal, Magistrates Lowell Samons and Gerald DeRossett made it clear that they too were angry that their absent colleagues had left them to bear alone the burden of several unpalatable decisions.

"Some magistrates are not here because they're not willing to do their job," complained Samons, when the question was raised of levying a property tax to support the Floyd Soil Conservation District. Samons and DeRossett bit the bullet anyway, voting to impose a tax of one cent per $100 assessed valuation.

The tax is expected to raise about $16,000 for the conservation district, which the county is bound by law to support.

The absence of Magistrate Roberts was again noted when Stephens Branch residents petitioned for the extension to that section of Beaver Elkhorn Water District lines. "Their magistrate ought to be here to represent them," said DeRossett, who voted, nevertheless, to accept the request and pass it on to water district officials.

One issue that Samons and DeRossett chose to postpone until their colleagues were present was a request by County Court Clerk Thomas D. Lafferty, Jr. for salary raises for his office staff. His eight fulltime deputies and three part-time workers had had no salary increase for 2½ years, Lafferty explained.

Moreover, many of them could expect to be laid off with the change in county court clerk this fall and, without a raise, their unemployment benefits would be "not that great," he said.

Earlas Hall, of Wayland, complained to the court that, though he was third in seniority among District 2 road workers laid off earlier this year, he was not among the five rehired in July. Magistrate Kenneth Roberts "put his daughter on in my place," the former truck driver alleged.

Judge-Executive John Stumbo said he followed the recommendations of the four magistrates in deciding which road workers should be rehired.

"I'm too old to get a job and too young to retire," said Hall, who is 59. "I don't think it's fair."

"You may not have been treated fairly," County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. told Hall, "but it may well have been legal."

Among road matters coming before the court: Riverside Street, a county road within the Martin city limits, will be decided to the city, which will maintain the road; a coal haul road at Betsy Layne will be taken into the county roads system, but will be maintained by the state, while repairs are being made to the Justel bridge; the county attorney will attempt to resolve a dispute over the setting of fence posts by Mitchell Kalos on the Copperas Lick branch of Abbott Creek; the Blankenship road on Tinker Fork will be taken into the county roads system; the judge-executive will check the Ben Shepherd Hollow of Salt Lick to see if it should be listed among the county roads; and a section of the Left Fork of Big Branch was recognized by virtue of a 1972 resolution as part of the county roads system.

54 Buses Ready As Schools Open

Floyd county's schools opened Monday, a few days late, but all are going and almost 9,000 pupils are back.

Classes were scheduled to begin last Wednesday, but a complete check of school buses was ordered, and school bus garage workers were set the task of getting them ready.

Fifty-four of the full complement of 60 buses were in operation Monday.

School attendance was down by 32 from last year's opening day enrollment, not counting kindergarten pupils. The number of kindergartners was up Monday to 613 from last year's opening day 539.

Other enrollment totaled 8918. Supt. E.P. Grigsby, Jr. said the full enrollment picture will not be seen till after Labor Day, since a trickle of students will be coming in until that time. He expects the total enrollment to be about 10,000.

One of the problems of the August opening is scorching heat. But most of the schools have air-conditioning. Prestonsburg High School is one that doesn't.

CLYDE DOUGLAS MARSHALL, left, listened as his attorney, Public Defender Ned Pillersdorf, argued unsuccessfully last Wednesday for a reduction in the million-dollar bond under which he was being held in jail here. Circuit Judge Hollie Conley instead granted a request by Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen that Marshall be denied bond altogether.

Judge Refuses Bond For Accused Husband

Clyde Douglas Marshall, 31, accused of complicity in the June 20 slaying of his wife, Glenda Sharon Marshall, 35, was ordered held in jail here without bond, following a circuit court hearing last Wednesday.

The defendant's attorney, Public Defender Ned Pillersdorf, had sought a reduction in the million-dollar bond originally set on his client. Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen countered with a request that bond be denied.

After about four hours of testimony, much of it from state police witnesses, Circuit Judge Hollie Conley granted the Commonwealth's request. A pre-trial hearing was set for Sept. 23 and trial was scheduled for Dec. 27.

The judge turned down a defense request that Marshall be transferred to another jail while awaiting trial. Two news reporters were barred from Wednesday's bond hearing after they refused to accept restrictions imposed by the judge on their reporting of the proceedings.

Following a request by Pillersdorf that news media be excluded from the hearing lest publicity jeopardize his client's right to a fair trial, Judge Conley conferred in chambers with reporters from the Floyd County Times, the Lexington Herald-Leader and Prestonsburg radio station WPRT.

He would be inclined to overrule the defense motion and allow reporters to stay, he said, if they would report only the court's decision concerning Marshall's bond and none of the evidence presented by witnesses.

The two newspaper representatives rejected the conditions as too restrictive and asked for a formal hearing on the defense attorney's motion to exclude

Police Seek Gunmen In Ex-Mayor Holdup

Masked gunmen bound and gagged Former Prestonsburg Mayor William O. Goebel at his home here, early Tuesday morning, and departed with the cash contents of the family safe.

The robbery echoed the holdup a week earlier of Paintsville Mayor James Trimble and three family members. The haul there was placed at $100,000, and again two men were the robbers.

In neither case has an arrest been made. Prestonsburg police began a probe into the Goebel robbery, immediately after it was reported, but clues are few.

Goebel said he was asleep in his second-floor bedroom, the door unlocked, when two men masked by nylon stockings, appeared. "One stuck a .38 right in my mouth and told me, 'You make a sound and you're a dead—,'" the former mayor said.

He said they jerked him out of bed, forced him to take them to the safe, and after taking the cash it contained bound his hands and feet with telephone cord. They left as quietly as they arrived. He placed the time of the break at around 1:15 a.m.

Neither of the other family members who were at home at time—his mother-in-law, Maude S. Mayo, and his daughter, Mary—was awakened by the intruders, although they occupied rooms on the same floor.

Goebel, who underwent triple bypass heart surgery 15 months ago, said he almost choked to death after the two men stuffed a pair of his own shorts into his mouth. He said they bound his feet, then ran the cord to take two or three turns around his neck and back to his ankles for a final tying. His hands were bound around a bed-leg, but he said he contrived to wriggle beneath the bed and lift it with his shoulder. Then, he said, he inched his way to the door, which the robbers had locked behind them, and began trying to alert other family members by banging the door with his head.

"I thought he was having a nightmare and called to him (Goebel), and when we could still hear a noise in the room we broke in the door," the 91-year-old Mrs. Mayo said.

Police are interested in the apparent familiarity of the intruders with the premises. They entered the one door that was unlocked—a sliding door at the rear of the house—made their way through the living room, climbed a stairway to the second floor and went directly to the room occupied by Goebel and also containing the safe. Two dogs—one, a German police dog that was feared so much by garbage collectors that they discontinued visits to the house—were, somehow, so placated that they barked only briefly, then remained quiet.

Goebel said he had little opportunity to look the intruders over, but he thinks one was wearing blue jeans. He said one was about six feet tall and other was perhaps three inches shorter and slighter of build.

This Town...That World

August can't be all bad. The crape myrtles are in bloom.

The thermometer was at 98 and rising, and the heat rose in stifling waves from the pavement. The air was free but you felt like you had to reach out and get it. And in all that mess this man strolled down the street, singing lustily. Now I may have a clue to the mystery about why that rebird of ours whistles longest in the foulest weather.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

This preacher's wife had died, and he was very lonely. Busy daylight hours, friends, members of his church helped, but the loneliness of the house was soul-shattering.

Finally, he decided on a pet. He went to the pet shop where only a parrot was left in stock and the proprietor told him that this bird was pretty talkative. "That's fine. Let him talk. I'll listen." "But if he gets hungry, he'll talk more than usual and he'll not be very careful about his choice of words," the store-owner explained.

The preacher bought the parrot, anyhow, took him home, and they did

Recovery Near, Martin Charged

State Police said this week that Charles Martin, 39, is recovering at the Appalachian Regional Hospital, McDowell, from a gunshot wound sustained at the time two men were killed at Estill, and that warrants accusing him of murder in the deaths of the two have been issued.

This information said Martin is expected to be able to leave the hospital soon and that the warrants may be served on him, "any day now."

He is not being guarded while in the hospital. The warrants accuse him of the slayings of Estill brothers, Walter S. Lazar, 37, and Reginald G. Lazar, 34. The shooting took place at the Walter Lazar home, Aug. 15, soon after Martin's arrival there. Martin himself was shot in the abdomen.

EFFECTS OF THE HOT, DRY SUMMER are evident on Right Beaver Creek, which has been reduced to a trickle. Residents report that they have rarely seen the creek, pictured here at Maytown, so dry.

WHAT DEATH BENEFITS AM I ENTITLED TO?

Survivors of a deceased veteran or a person covered by Social Security are entitled to substantial cash benefits, such as:

1. Lump Sum Death Payment from Social Security of about $255, but only to spouse and dependent children of the worker.
2. To veterans getting V.A. compensation or pension a $300 death allowance.
3. To all honorably discharged veterans a $150 plot allowance if not to be buried in a national cemetery plus about $59 for a grave marker plus an American flag. There is also an allowance of up to $1100 when a veteran dies of a service-connected disability.
4. Monthly income benefits from Social Security, depending on eligibilities (length of time covered, number of dependent children, etc.)

If the deceased was covered by Civil Service, there may be other benefits forthcoming. If you have questions, call on us. We may be able to direct you to the correct offices and give you basic literature on the subject.

Social Security

By JIM KELLY

People who employ household workers should be aware of their responsibility to deduct Social Security taxes and to report the wages paid.

An individual who pays a household worker—whether a maid, cook, gardener, or even a baby sitter—at least $50 a month in cash during a calendar quarter must deduct Social Security taxes. Failure to do so may mean having to pay a penalty in addition to the overdue taxes.

A calendar quarter is a three-month period that ends on March 31, June 30, September 30, or December 31. Therefore, the payment of wages that average as little as $4 a week would amount to more than $50 for a calendar quarter and would have to be reported.

Additional information about Social Security and household employees may be obtained from any Social Security office or from the Internal Revenue Service Center for the State. The Big Sandy Area Social Security Office is located on U.S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville.

According to courthouse records, Miss Kidd—who said her base salary is $800 a month—was paid $1580 in June, $1220 in July. Another clerk, Cheryl Hughes, earned $1270 in June, $1284 in July. And Regina Lafferty, the county clerk's wife, was paid $1000 in June, $1375 in July.

The clerks' strike continued Tuesday. Fiscal court officials said there was no plan to call a special meeting to discuss the strikers' grievance.

Howell recommended that the court immediately borrow $52,000, equal to the revenue-sharing check expected in October, for the solid waste system. At the same time, the court should open up a credit line of up to $150,000 for general operating expenses, to be paid back when the first property tax check, expected to be around $200,000, is paid by the sheriff in January, he said.

Declining coal severance tax receipts, coupled with the county's heavy financial commitment to the solid waste system, are held responsible for much of the county's current fiscal woes. The fiscal court's willingness to borrow money this month will avert a threatened default on garbage agency bonds in November, said Bob McAninch, chairman of the agency board.

Even so, the solid waste system will need to drain its reserve fund to make the bond payment, McAninch said. Of the $195,000 originally deposited in the emergency reserve, all but $61,000 has been drawn out to make the semi-annual bond payments.

In borrowing more money, the court should press bankers for a more favorable interest rate than the 10 1/2, 12 1/2 and 16 1/2 percent levied on the current notes, Howell said, adding that the county should approach Lexington or Louisville banks if local bankers are not cooperative. The banks are required to pay no taxes on the interest the county pays, the state official noted.

Subcommittee Sets Health Cost Study, Plans Visit to Clinic

A crucial issue to Kentuckians—health care financing and cost containment—will be studied by a state legislative subcommittee at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, next Monday at 1 p.m.

Health care providers, consumers and interested groups are encouraged to testify before members of the panel on access to—and funding of—health-care services for medically indigent persons in Eastern Kentucky.

Also scheduled to speak at the hearing is Bill Crouch, executive secretary for West Virginia's recently created Health Care Cost Review Authority.

Until the West Virginia authority establishes an initial rate schedule for hospitals, all rates for that state's hospitals are frozen at their Feb. 1, 1983 levels.

Representatives from Kentucky's Human Resources Cabinet will also be on hand to testify.

Prior to the hearing, the legislators will tour the Mud Creek Clinic at Craynor. The clinic, which opened in 1973, was created specifically to provide medical services to those who could not afford to pay.

A new building for the clinic is now being built to replace one destroyed by fire last year.

Competition for tennis' prestigious Davis Cup was limited to the U.S., England, Australia and New Zealand until 1927 when players from throughout the world were permitted to enter.

(August 22, 1973)

Largely because at least four of the slayings that have occurred within the last two years remain in the classification of "unsolved mystery," the Floyd circuit court will not have a murder case on the docket when it follows up the Labor Day holiday with its criminal term. With the Sept. 24 deadline for voter-registration only a month away, County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson said Monday that this county may be ahead of all other Kentucky counties in preparing for voter re-registration compliance with the new state law. Town Newsome, of Clear Creek, will supervise the Floyd county solid waste collection program, once it gets into operation, the fiscal court decided at its Aug. 15 meeting. The Committee of 500, a group whose purpose is "to abate the menace of organized bootlegging in this county," made demand of the Prestonsburg City Council and all city officials to take necessary measures to eliminate bootlegging in Prestonsburg. Congressman Carl D. Perkins announced in Washington Monday that the Floyd County Library Board will receive from the Community Facilities Administration a grant of $69,600 to cover the federal government's part of the cost of construction of a library building here. Victor E. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Mitchell, of Allen, is in critical condition as the result of injuries suffered Saturday when he was struck by a crane in the shipping department of the Inland Steel Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Congressman Carl D. Perkins wired The Times, Wednesday, that an accelerated public works grant in the amount of $91,640 has been approved for sewage treatment and an interceptor system for the town of Martin. Lafferty, 85, Saturday at her home at Emma.

Thirty Years Ago

(August 27, 1953)

Sgt. Raymond Shepherd, Kentucky's first, and possibly America's first prisoner of the Korean War to be released, returned home here Tuesday afternoon. The fifth Floyd county prisoner of war to be released in Korea is Pfc. Taggett Allen, 22, of Abbott Creek. Formal pledge of Floyd county support of the state Bookmobile Project and application for Bookmobile service for the county was filed this week. Joe S. Shannon, 33, of Drift, was instantly killed last Thursday night when slate fell on him in the mines of the Beaver Valley Coal and Mining Company. Two former Floyd countians met death this week in Michigan auto tragedies: Keith Allen Maynard, 18, of Dearborn, Mich., formerly of Allen, was killed Sunday when an auto in which he was a passenger skidded from the highway into a tree; Rupert Hunter, 29, of Jackson, Mich., formerly of Martin, was killed at Jackson, when the car he was driving was hit by a train and dragged 600 feet. The drought that began for most sections of this county in May is causing serious damage to farm crops. ## Forty Years Ago

(August 26, 1943)

Theft from the Floyd Circuit Clerk's office of three election contest suits and a sheet from the Public Fund book on which the date of their filing was annotated was reported Monday morning by Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley in asking the State Bureau of Investigation and Identification to attempt a solution of the case. If the 15 per cent increase in the state's October quota of selectees for the armed forces applies as expected to Floyd county, this county will send 520 for examination during the month. Even though he received 42 wounds when the small sub-chaser on which he served was literally blown out of the water by an pack of enemy submarines during recent action in the Atlantic, Gunner's Mate Third Class Nelson Holt, 19, of Weeksbury, is recovering at the U. S. Naval Hospital, St. Albans, New York. Pvt. Charles Clevenger, Jr., 32, of Allen, was killed August 4, in action against the Japanese in the southwest Pacific. When told by physicians that he would not recover from complications of pneumonia, 64-year-old Melvin Endicott expressed the wish that he be taken to his home on Buffalo Creek, this county, to die; he was taken back to Buffalo, Sunday, and just as the ambulance came within sight of the Endicott home, he died. Buford Morgan, 14, of Prestonsburg suffered a brain concussion, Wednesday morning when he was struck by an auto while riding a bicycle on the Mayo Trail. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Allen, a son, William Edward; to Mr. and Mrs. Tandy Bartley, of David, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Manford Davis, of Dwale, a son, Clarence Isaac, August 19; to Mr. and Mrs. Andy Goodman, of Dwale, a son, Jimmy Green; to Pvt. and Mrs. Shirley Ousley, of Lancer, a daughter, August 15; to Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Burchett, of Lancer, a daughter. There died: Otto Stanley, 20, of Prestonsburg, Sunday in Prestonsburg; Mrs. Mary Rice, 79, of Banner, Thursday at Martin; Adrian B. Clark, 49, formerly of Floyd county, August 15 at Detroit, Michigan.

Fifty Years Ago

(August 25, 1933)

General violation of the Corrupt Practices Act and distribution of a huge slush fund or "jack pot" by winning candidates in the bribing of voters are the chief allegations charged against 22 Floyd county men nominated for office at the recent primary. A 13-year-old Clear Creek boy has been held a prisoner by his parents for the last three years, forced by them to live in a corn crib in a decrepit barn where he slept on a bed of weeds, Miss Martha Troll, public health nurse, discovered Tuesday. When questioned, the mother said they had to shut Johnny up in the crib because "he is crazy," and the father said he tried to whip the "quair spells" out of his boy but finally gave it up about three months ago. The four semi-finalists in the golf tournament now being held at the Beaver Valley Golf and Country Club at Allen are: Lon Hall and Dr. Paul B. Hall, both of Paintsville; C. H. Corbin, Prestonsburg, and T. M. Hoffman, Pikeville. Born: to Prof. and Mrs. Wiley Jones, of Maytown, a son, Thomas Lee, August 19; to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spradlin, a son, August 15 at the Paintsville Hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes, of Prestonsburg, a daughter, Bobbie Ann. There died: Miss Andra Sturgill, 17, of Jones Fork, August 17 at Paintsville; Darwin Oppenheimer, 27, of West Prestonsburg, Monday, at the C. & O. Hospital, Huntington; Mrs. Sarah Rose, 70, August 13 at the home of her son at West Prestonsburg.

In Praise of Eula Hall

Dear Eula,
With all the adverse news that has been happening here in our county, such as robberies, murder, theft, drugs, "loss of confidence" in our elected and appointed officials, Kentucky listed last in education in the 50 states, and unemployment at almost the bottom list of the states, it is nice to know we do have one of our own who has received national recognition as being one of 17 who was chosen as "Wonder Woman of the Year". It is none other than Mrs. Eula Hall, Grethel, Ky.

The driving force, along with the staff of the Mud Creek Clinic, Grethel, Ky., she has been recognized by the staff of the ABC Program, "Good Morning America." The letter received by Mrs. Hall follows:

"How big can a thank you be? Big enough to be from all of GOOD MORNING AMERICA? Big enough from all of FLOYD COUNTY? All of Kentucky? The United States? Thank you" thank you" thank you for having a dream that brings the sparkle back in people's eyes. A dream that soothes their aching spirits and gives them someone to turn to, something to look forward to, somewhere to go.

"You are quite exceptional. I wish so much I had been able to come with Tom to meet you and all your friends and neighbors who were so willing to spend time talking with me on the phone and telling me their version of your story. Tom and Jennifer were so moved by meeting you, seeing what you do for people and how they appreciate and need you, and how you always come through for them. You live the true American dream...to care for your neighbors, fight for the rights of friends and strangers because some things "just ain't right..." Thank you, Eula, for your unbelievable generosity.

"We wish we could have done a whole show on your story...we only hope the message of your dream reached the American people and struck a chord in their hearts—perhaps a few of them will reach out and do something in their own communities. We are honored to have been able to tell your story and I thank you, Eula, for being a diamond in the coal."

MELLEN O'KEEFE

Mrs. Hall has for the past 15 years, even before the publicity, worked unselfishly, giving generously of her time and energy, using her own car to bring patients to the clinic and then taking them back home, sometimes a great distance to the end of the roads and the head of the hollows, not receiving and not expecting any reimbursement, going home at night, after not being able to get done at the office all that needed to be done, and making sometimes 20 calls to finish up that had to be done. The staff also works just as diligently; their work also continues after "working hours".

Now at least when we are confronted with the bad news that is prevalent in Floyd County we can counter with the GOOD news about Mrs. Hall.

I am sure there are others who have also done unselfish deeds and have done them without recognition, so lets hear about them.

Community Spirit Lives

The t.v. and newspapers continuously tell us about people who will not help others, because they do not want to be involved. I am proud to say this is not true in Floyd county. Community spirit is alive and well in the Highlands of Eastern Kentucky.

I've had the pleasure of working with many professionals this summer who have volunteered their time and talents to the children of our area.

The Prestonsburg Community College Summer Camp Program is able to provide a fun-learning experience for the children with the help of agencies like Big Sandy Health Care, Inc. and Mountain Comprehensive Care who have provided nurses and counselors to teach first aid and help the children learn more about themselves.

Carol Johnson, DVM, Wayland, Mahendra Varia, DVM at Martin Animal Clinic, and Beecher Scutchfield, DVM at Martin, have conducted a pet care class to enable the children to be caring and educated pet owners.

My thanks go out to all; you have helped many children increase their horizons this summer.

Governor Brown Writes

A little over a month and a half ago I checked into the hospital to have what I thought would be some mid-age cosmetic plumbing. As I found out, the operation and aftermath were far more serious.

I want to thank you, the people of Kentucky, for your overwhelming support and response; for your cards, letters, prayers, telegrams, calls, church groups and prayer groups.

Believe me, it was one of the most meaningful experiences of my life. While in the hospital, I felt I had so many people with me, along with the strong and loving support from my wife, Phyllis, and my entire family, that it made my stay one of inspiration.

It is good to be home now. I feel I am on the fast road to recovery, and I'm anxious to get back to the office.

Events such as this give us all an opportunity to reevaluate our priorities and I am sure that I will live a healthier and more productive life from this experience. More importantly, it is an opportunity to thank you, the people of Kentucky, for your thoughtful prayers and your warm concern expressed during my stay in the hospital. It was a great source of strength during my recovery.

Also, I would like to give recognition and thanks to the outstanding professional job performed by Dr. Edward Todd, his operating team and the professional nursing staff at the University of Kentucky Medical Center.

Since the surgery I have been informed that Dr. Todd was faced with some very serious and somewhat new methods of medical decisions when they discovered I had ARDS, a very rare lung ailment, which is considered a high risk danger. The national experts lauded his handling of a most complex situation on a timely and health-effective basis.

A lot of people expected me to search out the biggest name among heart doctors and all I can tell you is that I think I got the best medical care and treatment right here at University of Kentucky Medical Center that I could have received anywhere in the world.

Protests Garbage-Handling

Since the Floyd County Sanitation Department has been taking care of waste, their scheduling has been great! Just like clockwork, every Monday morning about 8:30, the garbage is picked up and then "squashed," leaving glass, other litter and a stinking mess right in front of our house.

Several phone calls have been made by me and my husband to the sanitation department, asking them to not squash the garbage and make this mess in front of our house. All of these calls have been in vain.

Today, (Aug. 15) my husband told one of the garbage collectors we would appreciate the garbage not being squashed in front of the house. As soon as he left for work just guess what happened? That's right. The garbage was squashed right in front of the house. Right now it stinks like a pig sty from the pool of garbage juice in the road and on the lawn, and the portion of glass is more than usual. They also let some garbage fall around the cans this morning to really get us going.

They did! We called again to the Martin landfill office. We took pictures and told them we are going to get legal about the situation.

We are not the only ones upset by the situation. Our neighbors don't like the mess either. They also don't like their garbage cans being thrown around to the point of being destroyed. Another neighbor has also called several times, and her calls like ours have been in vain.

We have noticed suits being published in the paper against people for not paying their garbage bills. Don't you think better service rendered would bring better payment?

VICKIE BOYD, Allen, Ky.

Job Corps Big Help To Jenny Wiley

The 1983 season at the Jenny Wiley Theatre has been the most successful in its 19-year history, and theatre management says an instrumental part of that success has been the assistance given the theatre by the members of the Prestonsburg Job Corps Center.

Members of the Job Corps have worked in virtually all areas except performing at the theatre. They have worked as ushers, maintenance men, set carpenters, furniture movers and repairmen. They also assisted in the preparation of housing for the theatre company and in box office and attendance audits.

"I've really enjoyed working at the theatre," said Ron Roth, Job Corps member. "I've met a lot of people, and made a lot of friends." Roth was assistant house manager, responsible for the seating and safety of the audience. He also "did anything and everything else that needed to be done, and did it well," said theatre Business and House Manager Polly King.

"I found all the Job Corps members that worked here to be conscientious, hard-working, and reliable," said King. "Their contribution to the theatre has been invaluable."

High Blood Pressure and You

If you are over 21, chances are 1 in 7 that you now have hypertension. Possible symptoms of high blood pressure include breathlessness, nosebleeds, dizziness (rarely) and headaches. But—often no symptoms show up, especially at first. That's why a yearly physical is vital for everyone.

What do high blood pressure, 'high blood', and hypertension all mean? First, everyone has some blood pressure. Blood pressure means the force necessary to push the blood through your blood vessels. The narrower the arteries, the higher the blood pressure, because more force is needed to push the blood through. High blood pressure simply means that your heart has to work harder to move the same amount of blood to all parts of your body. If your blood pressure is 130/70, (we say 130 over 70), the 130 is the systolic pressure—the full force of the blood as the heart beats—and the 70 is the diastolic pressure—the force of the blood as the heart rests.

Generally, for younger people the blood pressure should not be higher than 140/90. And any diastolic reading over 95 almost always means trouble. But it all depends on who you are, the condition of your arteries, and your medical history. So get it checked; don't be one of the 29 percent of the Americans who have it, but don't know it. Because high blood pressure can be treated effectively, although it can't be cured.

Theatre Rings Down Curtain On Its Greatest Season Ever

The performers, musicians and technicians have all gone. The sets have all been struck. The theatre, which was filled with season attendance of more than 22,000, is now quiet. Now the preparation for the 1984 season is under way.

And Jenny Wiley Summer Theatre Managing Director John McCann looks back on the season now past and to the work that lies ahead.

"The goal of any theatre should be to fill every performance. This year, we have filled more seats than ever before," said McCann. "As a public trust, supported as we are by tax dollars, individual contributions, and the coal industry, we have a commitment to the people of this region. In order to fulfill that commitment, we need and want to get people in the area involved with us as audience members. Therefore, we have aggressively gone out to get our audience in whatever way we can. We are beginning to fulfill this commitment."

The attendance growth of the theatre is a result of a consistently improving artistic product and better marketing of that product. "Jenny Wiley is a solid theatre that does good work. What we must do now is make as many people aware of this as possible," said McCann.

With full houses comes the necessity of making reservations. "For many years—too many years—the shows were performed for 100-300 people a night, and there were always empty seats. Now that we are playing to capacity crowds, people need to make reservations as soon as they can," McCann added.

Although the theatre is aided in capital improvements by the Department of Parks, and receives support from the Kentucky Arts Council and the Kentucky Department of the Arts, the cornerstone of the theatre's history, success, and very bright future is the continuous support of the local coal industry and all ancillary businesses, McCann said. Box office revenues pay for less than half the $200,000 annual production expenses of the theatre.

"Having a benefactor like Raymond Bradbury and the Martin County Coal Corporation and all our contributors on all levels assures that the quality of production at Jenny Wiley will always be high and that the ticket price will remain affordable and in line with the local standard of living," McCann said. "Without these contributors, either the ticket price would be doubled or the shows would be of mediocre quality," McCann added. "Tickets for ANNIE were costing around $50 in New York, and up to $30 for touring productions in Louisville and Lexington. People here saw the show for $3.50-$8.00. That's why regional theatre exists."

"It is good for us to have the support of the Jenny Wiley State Park and Superintendent, Danny Brown, since tourism is important to us," McCann continued. "However, our first commitment is to the people who live in the region. We can take the $5-$8 that the tourist pays for a ticket and then use that money to serve the region better as a professional arts organization."

Another area of growth for the theatre is in the number of area people employed. "We realize that there is a wealth of talent within the region and our hope is to employ more and more regional people every year," the director said. If someone has the ability, drive, desire, and the commitment to work in the professional theatre, we have a commitment to hire them. This year, 23 members of the company, including actors, musicians, technicians, costumers, and administrators, came from within 150 miles of the theatre."

Sabrina West who played the title role in ANNIE is a resident of Floyd county. "As we finalize plans for the 1984 our commitment to the region is to again provide professionally produced performing arts at a price that is affordable," McCann added. All we ask is that the region support us as they have in the past. Dog trainers, performers, local retail merchants, and the contributors...they are all necessary for us to succeed in fulfilling our commitment."

With this partnership between the people of the region and the Jenny Wiley Theatre the performing arts will continue to be a vital part of day-to-day life, he confidently predicts.

FLOYD COUNTY HEALTH NEWS

By JANE BOND
 Health Educator

Glaucoma is the second leading cause of blindness in adults in the United States. The disease usually works painlessly and slowly, so that it sneaks up on people. Glaucoma is not curable, but there are treatments for the disease. It is for this reason that the disease needs to be detected in the earliest stages. Persons over age 40 are urged to have regular screenings for glaucoma since this is the high risk age for the disease.

The Floyd County Health Department is having a glaucoma screening clinic Friday, August 26, and Monday, August 29. These clinics are free services of the Health Department and are open to persons of all ages. Persons age 40 and over are especially urged to take advantage of this free service.

There will be a Pap clinic at the Health Department on Friday September 2, 1983, from 8:30 until 11:30 and from 1:00 until 2:00. This clinic is a free service of the Health Department and women of all ages are welcome. Women age 45 and over are especially urged to take advantage of this free service, since this is the high risk age for cervical cancer.

Miss Hicks, Mr. Culver
 Wed in Wabash, Ind.

The marriage of Miss Cheri Michele Hicks and Mr. Michael Lynn Culver was solemnized in a double-ring ceremony, Saturday, July 23, at the Bachelor Creek Church of Christ in Wabash, Indiana. David Stoke was the officiating minister, and music was provided by Pam Hicks, flutist; Teresa Meyer, pianist; Doug Wiseman, vocalist, and Brenda Elrod, pianist and organist.

The bride's traditional long white wedding gown was styled with a Queen Victoria sheer neckline accented with re-embroidered lace. An off-the-shoulder lace ruffle was edged with embroidered miniature white flowers. The princess styled gown had a skirt of sheer accordion pleated organza over taffeta, and the chapel-length train was edged with a lace ruffle. The bride's fingertip veil was secured to a close-fitting cap. She carried a silk bouquet of blue carnations, blue and yellow sweetheart roses and tiny blue and white rosebuds accented with sprays of blue, babies' breath and secured by blue, yellow and white streamers.

Miss Pamela Kaye Hicks, sister of the bride, who served as maid of honor, also made the bridal bouquets. Bridesmaids were Lisa Biehl, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Lori Jo Sampson, of Danville, Indiana. They were similarly attired in floor-length blue cotton gowns with taffeta underskirts and carried bouquets of long-stemmed yellow roses with tiny white and blue rosebuds, babies' breath and blue and yellow ribbons.

The groom's niece, Bethany Culver, was flower girl, and Jeremy Culver, nephew of the groom, was ringbearer. Mr. Jeff Culver, of Urbana, Ind., served his brother as best man, and groomsmen were Phil Bickhart, of Fort Wayne, Ind., Chris Sampson, of Danville, Indiana. Ushers were Richard Jacobs, of LaFontaine, Ind., Greg Bickhart, of Fort Wayne, and Jay Biehl, also of Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Following the ceremony, a reception was attended by 150 guests.

The couple will reside in Muncie, Indiana after a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hicks, of R.R. 2, Wabash, Ind., and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.F. Hughes, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Norman Hicks, formerly of David, now of Wabash, and the late Sadie Hicks. She is a graduate of Ball State University and is currently working on her master's degree in school psychology. Mr. Culver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Culver, of R.R. 1, Wabash, Indiana and is also a graduate of Ball State University. He is employed by Bussard Construction. Both he and his bride are members of the Bachelor Creek Church of Christ.

The classes are designed to teach soccer fundamentals and initiate league play. The coach will be Greg Sloane, a former soccer player for Berea College. A soccer field is being lined at the rear of the Prestonsburg Community College campus.

The Big Sandy Family and Childbirth Education Association is sponsoring a free discussion group to help families with new babies. Those interested should call Continuing Education at Prestonsburg Community College (886-3863) and register for the next meeting on August 31 at 7 p.m. The group meets at the St. Theodore Catholic Church in Prestonsburg.

Community Services at Prestonsburg Community College has added a new class to its craft offerings. Starting Monday, August 29, will be a class in Christmas crafts, teaching how to make Christmas decorations and small gift items. Helen Wells has included the popular craft of candlewicking in this course.

Call Continuing Education at 886-3863 for more information on any of these classes.

Miss Johnson, Mr. Price Wed

Miss Deirdre Lynne Johnson, of Royal Oak, Michigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel B. Johnson, of Peekskill, New York, was united in marriage to Mr. Phillip R. Price, also of Royal Oak, on June 25, 1983.

The 3 p.m. candlelight ceremony was performed by the Reverend William A. Ritter in the Martha-Mary Chapel, at historic Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Michigan. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian style white chapel-length gown with high lace collar and yoke of lace and ribbon. She carried a bouquet of cream and dusty rose silk apple blossoms, roses, lilies and orchids.

Miss Gayle Stubbs, of Peekskill, New York, was maid of honor. She wore a scoop neck peach gown with an overlay of cream flowers and carried three long-stemmed cream silk roses.

Mr. James L. Brown, of Louisville, Kentucky, was best man. Ushers were Mr. Adam R. Price, the bridegroom's son, and Mr. Kurt Evans Gibbs, the bridegroom's son-in-law, of Reston, Virginia. The groom's daughter, Lori Lynn Price Gibbs, and Miss Elaine Floyd, of Sussex, New Brunswick, Canada attended the guest register.

The bride and groom departed the chapel in a horse drawn carriage, which made a brief circuit of the historic village. A reception immediately followed the ceremony at the new home of the bride in Royal Oak.

The bride is employed by the Internal Revenue Service Data Center in Detroit, Michigan. The groom, the son of Mrs. Lillia Mae Price, of Prestonsburg, is the Assistant Special Agent in Charge of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Detroit.

The couple honeymooned in California, Oregon and Washington states.

Growing Child

PREPARING A CHILD FOR A HOSPITAL STAY

How can you prepare a child for a stay in the hospital?

First of all, try to handle your own natural anxiety, suggests Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter. If you are very nervous or upset yourself, you may very well spread your fear to your child.

Tell the child about the hospitalization as soon as you know about it. Don't try to sugar-coat it by saying it won't hurt at all or that the hospital is a lot of fun. Be matter-of-fact about it. Present a realistic and honest description of what will happen in terms the child can understand. Encourage him to ask questions, to express his fears and feelings.

Do not try to eliminate all fear and anxiety in trying to eliminate fear of the unknown. Recent studies have shown that it is really better for a child to feel a reasonable fear of a different experience, than to be encouraged to suppress all anxiety.

Some advance worry prepares a person—whether a child or adult—for what lies ahead. It helps one build inner strength. Accurate information about what to expect, communicated to the child at his own level of understanding, and without parental anxiety, is the best preparation.

Explore, also, the policies of the hospital with regard to child patients. Can parents stay overnight? Can siblings visit?

Many hospitals provide tours for prospective child patients and their families. These tours usually include the pediatric ward playroom, a demonstration of what kind of bed the child will have, the call button and what it is for, and even the hospital gowns the children wear.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information about the social and physical development of children from birth to six years old, write Growing Child, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate for a free sample copy of the newsletter.

Oklahoma Hollow Road Is Finally OK

Kenneth Justice (left), Darrell Stephens, Lut Bentley and Stephens' young son stand on the new road that leads up the head of Oklahoma Hollow while Stephens points to the old "road"—the creek bed—which residents of the hollow, located near the county park, have used for years. County workmen and equipment, along with several volunteers from the hollow, finished this week, a three-week project to form the new road surface. County Judge-Executive Stumbo and magistrates were honored for their help in the road construction with a dinner given by residents.

AFTERMATH OF A DAY'S OUTING for the Ivan Blackburn family, of Pikeville, was the sad spectacle of the wreckage of their high-powered runabout being towed away by an Army Corps of Engineers boat. When the family docked the boat in the Goble Branch section to enjoy a supper on the bank, an unidentified person or persons jumped in the boat and sped away. After a search of more than an hour, Corps of Engineers rangers found the boat, upside down, crashed into the bank near the Stratton Branch section. Easily removable items had been detached from the boat and those responsible apparently escaped unhurt. The Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad responded as well as Prestonsburg's Squad Six which employed divers to check for possible victims.

In-Service Day for Floyd Teachers

Supt. Grigsby with Sabrina West, schoolgirl star of "Annie"

Sabrina West, age 10, a sixth grader from Harold Elementary, was the guest performer for the teachers' In-Service, August 16, held in the Prestonsburg Elementary School Auditorium. She sang "I Am A Promise" and the popular theme song from "Annie," entitled "Tomorrow." Sabrina enacted the role of Annie in the Broadway musical, "Annie," at the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theater. Also from the Floyd county school system, performing in "Annie," is Melissa Collins, who attends McDowell Elementary. Superintendent Grigsby said he is "very pleased and proud" that Sabrina and Melissa are students in the Floyd county school system.

Ronald L. Hager, assistant superintendent of instruction, introduced Gene Wright, fellow-administrator and Floyd countian who is presently with the Division of Psychometric Services from the Department of Education. He discussed how teachers could utilize last year's test scores to help their students in the future. Hager pointed out that Floyd students consistently scored higher than the state projected they would score. This year, all categories except one, grade five, exceeded what the tests projected they would do. Mr. Hager said, "This means there is a lot of good teaching going on."

Ray Brackett, assistant superintendent of finance, was introduced as probably the best finance officer in any school system. He discussed salary and retirement changes. Brackett said he likes to think of people in three different categories—people who watch things happen, those who wonder what happens, and then the people who make things happen. "You are the people that make things happen in a school district; you are the people that will cause us to show improved progress in student and teacher achievements," he said.

Pete Grigsby, Jr., superintendent of county schools, addressed the teachers and expressed how glad he was to see everyone rested and ready to begin school. He welcomed new teachers to the staff and wished them a successful new school year.

Grigsby mentioned that "we are starting for the first time in 31 years the Floyd county schools without our former board chairman, now, Judge John M. Stumbo, who has served many dedicated years for the Floyd County Board of Education and been a credit to the system. As judge, he has taken on a great responsibility. He has performed a great service to all of us and we will surely miss him." However, he added, the board has chosen to appoint a fine successor to him, Fred Newsome, from Educational Division 3.

Supt. Grigsby continued in his talk: "To give you some idea of the summer we've spent at the central office, it's the worst I've ever spent. Our adversaries; a handful of people who do not educate their children in the Floyd county schools, have said to the media that we are totally unacceptable as educators, as a school system and as a people. They send their children to other systems in defiance and stick their nose up in the air and claim many false charges against me, my staff and against you. The attack was made on the total school system. That's hard to take sometimes. To me, an expose, those are fighting words. I want to tell you right now, I'm like Captain John Paul Jones, I have not yet begun to fight. We are going to keep fighting and fight together."

The teachers applauded in agreement. "Constructive criticism, yes, I'll go along with that," Grigsby added. "I'm just as hillbilly and mountaineer as you are and when someone comes in and says you have to do this in the name of improvement because we do it in Massachusetts, Michigan, or Virginia, I'm just mountaineer enough to say, hold it, lady, we don't do it that way. Let's answer our critics by working in unity and harmony to make this school year the most successful one of all."

Shelton-Estep

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shelton, Jr., of Martin, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Regina Renee, to Mr. Troy Estep, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Estep, of Dorton. Miss Shelton is a 1982 graduate of Allen Central High School and Mr. Estep is a 1981 graduate of Dorton High School. Both are attending Mayo Vocational and Technical School. A fall wedding is planned.

NOT SO MUCH TO PAY

A recent study reveals that today, helpless children in developing countries can be aided at the amazingly low cost of only 73 cents a day for clean water, healthy food, clothing and education—about the cost of an average ice cream cone in America.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 836-5018

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Bailey Mining, Bypro, Kentucky 41612, has filed an application for a permit for an underground mining operations. The proposed operation will affect a surface disturbance of 3 acres and will underlie an additional 263 acres located 1/4 miles north of Weeksbury in Floyd county.

The proposed operation is approximately 2 miles south from Hwy 122 junction with Hwy 466 and located 1/2 miles east of Left Beaver Creek. The latitude is 37° 20' 04". The longitude is 82° 40' 55".

The proposed operation is located on the Wheelwright USGS 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be disturbed is owned by Elizabeth Tackett. The operation will underlie land owned by Everett Tackett, Myra McCoy, Leonard Hall, Jack Mullins, John Hall, Floyd Johnson, Dave Roop, Verdantise Meade, Haskel Hall.

The operation will affect an area within 100 feet, of a public road of Mill Br. The operation will not involve relocation of the public road.

The existing postmining land is forest land; we proposed it to be revegetated for pasture use within the surface operations area.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 431 S. Lake Dr., Prestonsburg. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 8-24-83.

Banks-Murton Exchange Vows

The marriage of Miss Esta Mae Banks to Mr. John Murton was solemnized by the Rev. Ted Nichols at the First United Methodist Church, here, on Saturday, July 2.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. June Banks Burke, of Miami, Fla., and the late Harry Alex Banks. Mr. Murton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Murton, also of Miami, Florida.

Mrs. Susie Hicks, of Prestonsburg, was matron of honor, and Miss Barbara Wayne Hignite, of Lexington, was bridesmaid. Miss Heather Floyd, of Prestonsburg, was flower girl.

Best man was Mr. Edward Kuss, of Prestonsburg, and ushers were Joe Burke, of Miami, Fla., and James B. Burchett, of Prestonsburg. Joey Burke, of Miami, Fla., was ringbearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Murton reside in Miami, Florida, where he is self-employed.

Mine Permits Are Reported

The Division of Permits of the state Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement reported that 135 mining permits were issued during the month of July.

The types of permits issued were 54 original permits, 76 revision permits, four succession permits and one amendment permits.

Of the 135 permits, 115 were for surface-mining operations, 15 for underground mining operations, one for a haul road and four for preparation plant and refuse areas.

Permitting activities for the month of July authorized the disturbance of 2,345.15 new acres of land and resulted in the collection of $142,800 in fees.

Two surface mining permits were issued in Floyd county—to Transcontinental Coal on 198.9 acres and Hall Construction Co., 2 acres—, five in Johnson, seven in Knott, six in Lawrence, seven in Letcher, four in Magoffin and six in Pike. Three underground mine permits were issued in Floyd—to Re-Mine Coal Co., two permits on a total of 25.25 acres, and to C. & H. Coal, 28.49 acres. Five underground permits were issued in Pike, one in Martin, one each in Letcher and Breathitt.

The first recorded victory in the Olympics was that of Ceroebus of Elis, a cook, who won the only event—a foot race—in Greece in 776 B.C.

Allen Central Students, Faculty Cooperate in Landscape Projects

By JOYCE WATSON

Students entering Allen Central High School for the 1983-84 school year are being treated to natural beauty resulting from the combined efforts of students and faculty members.

In April last year, Principal J.O. Dings, Assistant Principal Adrian Bentley, faculty and students participated in an evergreen shrub planting around the school. These evergreens enhance the beauty of pink flowering crabapple and white dogwood trees planted by 1980. The shrubs, fertilizer, and mulch were paid for by donations from students, faculty, and administrators. The Beta Club also purchased an evergreen shrub.

An ongoing project nearing completion is a memorial to Dwayne Fraley a Beta club member who died in 1982 in an automobile accident. This memorial is located behind the main building. It is financed by Mrs. Harmon and Miss Murphy, former Beta Club sponsors, and Mrs. Osborne, current sponsor. An inscribed plaque is surrounded by red crabapple trees, Japanese holly evergreen shrubs, silver maple trees and marigolds.

A second memorial has been developed in honor of Scottie Hall, another A.C.H.S. student who died in June, 1982. An inscribed plaque, white crabapple tree, evergreen shrubs and marigold flowers have been used.

An alumni garden has been developed. The garden incorporates dwarf Alberta spruce, dwarf junipers, green and gold euonymus, dwarf dahlias and a special rustic sign thanking alumni for their support. The entire garden was especially dedicated to two enthusiastic beautification supporters, Gloria and Randy Martin, of Langley.

Much landscaping has been done behind the school by Randy Martin in preparing an access road to the gym and preparing areas for the sowing of grass. The following were instrumental to this project: Mr. Dings, Mr. Bentley, Board member James A. Duff and Supt. Pete Grigsby, Jr.

Interested parents of A.C.H.S. students have contributed funds to purchase evergreen shrubs, azaleas etc. for the A.C.H.S. sign box near highway 80. It is near completion.

The Beta Club donated money for the purchase of landscaping timbers with which flower beds were constructed in front of the main building. These beds filled with rose moss are brightening August days as students return to school.

Another special circular flower bed has been developed in front of the school. Each year bedded plants are added. To maintain the bed, Mrs. Mullins and Miss Dings of the home economics department have contributed to the purchase of marigolds and ageratums. Concrete work surrounding the flower bed was paid for by the Beta Club.

During August dwarf Alberta spruce, mugho pine, and green and white euonymus have been planted. These plants were purchased with money given by Ben Spradlin of The First Guaranty Bank, Hall's Funeral Home, Blossom Basket, Jan's Florist, Martin Floral, Messer's Dept. Store, all of Martin; Sophies' Florist and Dr. Tandy Moore, of Garrett.

Under the direction of the art department (Mrs. O'Quinn teacher) and the home economics dept. (Mrs. Mullins and Miss Dings, teachers), money was collected from the faculty to purchase special artificial plants, which were placed in the newly-decorated lunchroom. The rejuvenation of the lunchroom was led by the Beta Club, the Floyd County Board of Education, and Mr. Mack Martin (L.D. teacher). Mr. Mack Martin and Mr. Kenny Ratcliff aided by their students painted beautiful scenes on the walls.

Seek Contestants For Miss U.S. Teen

The search is now on for Miss Kentucky U.S. Teen for 1984. Applications are being accepted from over the state for the annual Miss U.S. teen pageant to be staged at the Holiday Inn Holidome in Bowling Green, April 28, 1984.

The Miss Kentucky U.S. Teen Pageant is the official state preliminary to the Miss U.S. Teen Pageant to be held in Alabama, August 1984. There is no swimsuit or talent requirements, and all judging is on the basis of poise, personality, appearance and evening gown competition. Contestants must be 13-19 years of age, never have been married, and a resident of the state of Kentucky.

The 1984 winner will be awarded prizes, including a round trip flight to the national pageant with all expenses paid during the national competition, color portrait, jewelry, $150 cash and other gifts including crown, banner and trophy.

All girls interested must apply to Mr. and Mrs. Tony McLarty, 4933 Salem Drive, Nashville, Tennessee 37211. Telephone (615-333-2845).

Gas Co. Elects Hager, Daniel To Vice-Presidential Posts

Mr. Hager

Mr. Daniel

B.D. Hager, of Hager Hill, and R.T. Daniel, of Paintsville, have been elected to vice-presidential positions by the board of directors of Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company. The announcement was made by R.J. Stewart, member of the board of directors and vice-president and general manager of the company.

Mr. Hager, as vice-president—Exploration and Production, will be responsible for all of the company's field operations related to its production program as well as the operations of the company's land, compressor stations and geology departments. Hager, who began his career with the company as a geologist in 1960, has held various geological positions with the company prior to being named chief geologist in 1978. He was promoted to Operating Manager in 1981. A four-year veteran of the U.S. Air Force, he is a member of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers, Kentucky Geological Society, Kentucky Oil and Gas Association, National Management Association, and Masonic Lodge No. 676. He and his wife, Bonnie, have two daughters and live at Oak Lawn Estates.

Daniel, who formerly was personnel director at Kentucky West, was elected to the position of vice president—personnel. He will continue to direct all of the activities of the Personnel department, including the labor relations function, and will also assume responsibility for the company's Field Accounting Division and consumer affairs.

Daniel will maintain offices at both of the company's Prestonsburg and Ashland locations. Daniel began working with the company as a production clerk in 1963. He held various supervisory positions prior to being appointed supervisor of labor relations in 1970. He was named personnel director in 1974. Daniel is a member of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers, the National Management Association, the Tri-State Personnel Association, and the American Society of Personnel Administrators. Active in civic affairs, he is chairman of the Paintsville Recreation Commission, player agent of the Paintsville Little League, and director of District IX, Kentucky Babe Ruth Baseball. He and his wife, Page, reside at Preston Estates in Paintsville and are the parents of two sons.

Travel Agents To Get Commissions from Parks

The Kentucky state parks system will soon begin paying commissions to travel agents who book park rooms and cottages, Commerce Secretary Bruce Lunsford announced last week.

Kentucky will be the first state in the country to offer commissions in a state parks system, according to a trade association, the American Society of Travel Agents. The move is expected to make Kentucky parks more attractive to the nation's 30,000 travel agents.

Sept. 1 is the target date for the new program. The Department of Parks is now working out administrative details to implement the policy.

The commission has been set at 10 per cent, a typical rate for hotel bookings, Lunsford said. All 1,100 of the system's lodge rooms and cottages will be commissionable, he added.

Lunsford said, "This is another example of our commitment to operating consistent with the practices of the private sector. As another example, state resort parks now accept major credit cards for payment. Steps like these make our services more convenient for a general public that increasingly demands efficiency from travel-related businesses such as hotels."

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Ross (Bud) Cooley wishes to thank everyone for being so kind and considerate during our time of pain and grief. We deeply appreciate all the food, flowers, cards and loving concern of all. Our heartfelt thanks to the P & B Ambulance for their prompt service, Our Lady of the Way Hospital staff, the ministers of the Regular Baptist Church, to Johnny and staff of the Hall Funeral Home for all their kindness and service through our sad time.

If you're getting down to business after a summer vacation you need the all business calculator, Sharp's CS-2187. Sharp's CS-2187 calculator could be the hardest worker you have.

Figuring payrolls, totaling expenses, balancing books...your calculator gets quite a workout. That's why Sharp developed the new 12-digit CS-2187 print/display calculator.

The CS-2187 can stand up to the pressure of the daily grind, and its special design not only speeds up operations, but makes them easier on the operator. Sharp has even included many special features—like red negative indicators—to help improve accuracy.

If you need a dependable worker to help with your company's books come to Electronic Business Machines, Inc. and ask for Sharp's new CS-2187.

Forest Fire Alert Issued Eastern Ky.

The Kentucky Division of Forestry has issued a forest fire danger alert for Eastern Kentucky.

"Due to an extremely low amount of rainfall experienced the last two months statewide, we feel that a serious forest fire situation could develop if rainfall is not received soon," advised Stephen Brackett, district forester for the Eastern District. "We are cautioning that no outdoor burning should be attempted until sufficient rainfall has occurred".

Brackett also warned that anyone allowing a fire to escape is in violation of KRS 149.375, and failure to take proper care and caution to prevent the escape of a fire would be cited into district court and subject to a fine of up to $500 in addition to payment of fire suppression cost.

For more information about burning laws or to report a forest fire, call the Division of Forestry, 886-8562.

Suit on Note Explained

The circuit court suit reported by The Times last week in which the Bank Josephine sued Robert DeRossett, et al, was, in fact, a suit also naming as defendants Shalous Hall, Dallas Sammons and Bill Jarrell.

Mr. DeRossett explained: "We signed a note at the Bank Josephine for the purchase of land from Joe Weddington by the Water Gap Free Will Baptist Church. This is the site of the present church building there. The church was supposed to pay off the note but has not, and so we have been sued."

It's later than you think!

The Floyd-Johnson County Residential Bond Program is great...for the homeowner and the community. But unfortunately, the clock started to run down on the very day it became available. All funds must be committed by early 1984. There's no guarantee that there will be future bond issues, and even if there are, rates may never be this low again.

Even if you've been told by another institution that you don't qualify, come in and discuss your plans with one of our experienced professional mortgage loan officers. They'll work together with your plans to try and help you qualify. Experience counts...and during the last bond issue we helped make home ownerships a reality for more applicants than all other Floyd County lenders combined.

Return To "Good Old Days"

Prestonsburg businesses will return to the days back during the 1940's and '50's when considerable cash giveaways attracted large crowds to the downtown area with the first giveaway scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 17 at 3 p.m. in the municipal parking lot in front of the courthouse. The first giveaway will be for $500, $200, $100 and four $50 cash prizes. The public is invited to stop by any Prestonsburg business for details.

Gov. Brown Approves Plan To Control Health Costs

Governor John Y. Brown, Jr. has accepted and signed Kentucky's first multi-year comprehensive state health plan, placing into effect a series of cost containment policies and establishing controls on the development and expansion of health care services in the Commonwealth through mid-1986.

Governor Brown said "We've been talking about this for some time and the time has come to stop talking and to start doing something. This administration has accepted the challenge to do its part against skyrocketing health costs. We're going to lead the way through this plan and with the cost-saving health care options selected by our employees. We've received responses from Kentucky's business and industry leaders to our challenge that they establish their own health care cost containment measures and we have those ideas under analysis now."

Human Resources Cabinet Secretary Buddy Adams called the state health plan "a vital part of an integrated approach to bring about a long-term impact towards cost containment, health promotion, increased competition and additional regulatory reform." Adams cited several examples in support of the new controls: In 1982 the cost of health care construction per capita in Kentucky was $104.62 while the national average was only $44.47. Since 1977 hospital construction costs in Kentucky alone have risen from $33 million dollars per year to $362 million last year. At the start of this decade the average Kentuckian was spending just over $700 each year on personal health care. With no change in the system that annual expense will triple by the end of the decade. "The people of this state are having a tough enough time making ends meet now and the prospects for income to jump at the same rate as uncontrolled health care costs are slim," Adams said.

Governor Brown concluded "This may be the single most important step taken during the past four years to ease the financial squeeze on Kentucky's tax-paying public. We beat the challenge of the recession. We've controlled and, in fact, reduced the size of state government, without raising any major tax revenue sources. And now, through this state health plan, we have established a foundation for a system to hold down the cost of health care to the citizens of the Commonwealth."

1983 Hamilton Reunion

Pictured: Seated, Mrs. Virgie Hamilton, of McDowell; standing, from left, Noah Hamilton, Michigan City, Ind.; Draxie Hamilton Newsome, Ligon, Margie Hamilton Parsons, McDowell, Elmer Hamilton, Kettering, Ohio, Foster Hamilton, Alexandria, Ohio. Unable to attend was a daughter, Mrs. Stella Howell, of New Carlisle, Ohio.

The family of Mrs. Virgie Hamilton and the late D. Emit Hamilton held its annual reunion July 16-17 at the home of Denzil and Donna Hall at McDowell.

Among the 71 guests attending were Mrs. Hamilton and five of her children (pictured above), 15 grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, and 13 great-great-grandchildren. Five generations were represented again this year. They were: Mrs. Virgie Hamilton, age 94; her son, Noah Hamilton; his daughter, Ann Frasure; her daughters, Karen Belue and Gerry Nelson, and their children Terry and Benny Belue and Tim and Breanna Nelson.

Family members were asked to bring a quilt square to represent each family in the Hamilton family. The squares will be made into a quilt and displayed at next year's reunion. Diane Begeman, of Michigan, was the winner of the 1983 reunion squares.

Attending this year's reunion were Mrs. Virgie Hamilton, McDowell; Mrs. Gloria Mae Hamilton, Terrie, Dave, Jamie and Erin Fedor, Jonathan Lane, Kathy, Corky, Joshua and Jacob Gearhart, all of Monroe, Mich.; Tim, Diane, Kane, Nicholas and Seth Begeman, of Dundee, Mich.; Mike Begeman of Ida, Mich.; Noah and Gert Hamilton, Ann and Lisa Frasure, of Michigan City, Ind.; Lonny Garris of Buena Vista, Colo.; Karen, Benny and Terry Belue II, of LaPorte, Ind.; Gerry, Tim, and Breanna Nelson, of Beverly Shores, Ind.; Mrs. Dorothy Meade, of Ligon; and her grandson, James Owen Maxie, of Rhode Island; Gorman and Jane Howell, of Salem, Va.; Collis, Mazel and Matt Stumbo of Nancy, Ky.; Maxie (Toogie) and Charles McMillen, of Fabush, Ky.; Margie Parsons, Denzil, Donna, Douglas and Danita Hall and Jack Parsons, all of McDowell; James Larry, Ida, and Jenny Parsons, of Winchester; Gary Parsons, Knoxville, Tenn.; Foster and Laura Hamilton, Alexandria, Ohio; Krista Hamilton, Columbus, Ohio; Lawrence, Claudette and Michael Pelfrey, Campton, Ky.; Town, Draxie and Steven Newsome, of Ligon; Mickey, Sharon and Kelli Newsome, of Grethel; Gloria and John C. Hall, Jr. of Martin; Elmer, Loretta and Jerry Hamilton, of Kettering, Ohio; Kathryn Hall, of Martin; Opal Newsome and Vida Stumbo, of McDowell; Tammy Mitchell, Maudie Hall, Lovel Hall and Diana Hall, all of Grethel.

Danger of Forest Fires Seen in Outdoor Burning

Natural Resources Secretary Jackie Swigart has issued a forest fire advisory, asking all Kentucky citizens to refrain from any outdoor burning during the current dry weather conditions.

The no-burning request was issued in order to help reduce the increasing possibility of fires in the state's forests and grasslands.

"We ask that everyone planning to be outdoors, in the state's parks and woodlands, use extreme caution to ensure that our woodlands do not suffer a repeat of the devastating fires which occurred in 1980," Swigart said.

Forest fires during the 1980 fall fire season burned approximately 380,000 wooded acres. Like 1980, current weather conditions—lack of precipitation, the depth of soil dryness and continued dry outlook—point toward a large potential fire loss, Swigart said.

Should weather conditions continue and the number of fires reported increase, state officials feel that it may become necessary to take additional steps to insure that outdoor burning is prevented.

Eastern Kentucky presents the biggest forest fire threat, but its drought conditions are not as serious as in Central Kentucky.

Areas of the Bluegrass have turned to brown grass and many communities are beginning to monitor their water supplies as the weather continues to be unusually hot and dry.

Officials of the National Weather Service in Lexington estimate that precipitation is down approximately 5.6 inches from the amount normally received during June, July and early August in Central Kentucky.

The recorded precipitation total for these months has been 4.8 inches, much less than the normal 10.4 inches of moisture normally received, weather service officials said.

"In Central Kentucky particularly, we find that the water supply is down at this time," said Leon Smothers, assistant director of the state Division of Water. "Many of the communities in this region draw their water from streams. In places where the stream flow has stopped, they have having to draw their water from water impoundments and reservoirs."

Will Chris Evert Lloyd regain U.S. Open title?

HOT SHOTS — Chris Evert Lloyd, like any great champion, knows how to play her best when it counts the most. For her, now is the time.

Miss Evert Lloyd, the defending champ, is the top female star at the 1983 U.S. Open Tennis Championships, which take place from Tuesday, Aug. 30, through Sunday, Sept. 11, at the USTA National Tennis Center at Flushing Meadow, N.Y.

Coverage of the '83 U.S. Open by CBS-TV Sports will include a variety of taped and live reports (check daily listings). Providing the commentary for CBS will be Pat Summerall, Tony Trabert, John Newcombe, and Virginia Wade.

As the first player in women's tennis to reach $1 million in tournament earnings, Miss Evert Lloyd has more than 100 titles — including multiple victories at the U.S. Open, French Open and Wimbledon.

She is married to British tennis star John Lloyd. She has also been a close friend of Jimmy Connors, the defending U.S. Open men's champion.

Miss Evert Lloyd is one of four past women's Open champs in the tournament this year. The others: Tracy Austin, Billie Jean King and Virginia Wade.

With six Open titles, Miss Evert Lloyd will seek to become the first woman to win successive championships since her 1975-78 victory streak. She and Tracy cy Austin have alternated winning U.S. Open titles since 1979.

Miss King is the winner of four U.S. Open titles, the most recent being 1974. Miss Wade of Britain was the 1968 U.S. Open women's champion.

It's been 10 years since a foreign woman has earned the U.S. Open tennis championship. It last happened when Margaret Smith Court defeated fellow Australian Evonne Goolagong Cawley in 1973.

Miss Goolagong Cawley is one of six U.S. Open runners-up to compete this year for the woman's title. She was runner-up four consecutive years from 1973 to 1976. Hanna Mandlikova, runner-up to Miss Evert Lloyd last year and in 1980, is joined by another two-time finalist, Rosemary Casals.

The other previous finalists who have entered this year are Pam Shriver, (1978), Wendy Turnbull (1977), and Martina Navratilova (1981).

On Aug. 28, MTV's "The Cutting Edge" will feature Joan Armatrading, one of pop music's most versatile performers. Born in the West Indies and raised in Britain, Miss Armatrading combines many different musical styles, including reggae, rock, calypso, folk and jazz in a way that is her own. Her songwriting is first-rate and she has a powerful voice. Miss Armatrading is equally comfortable in belting out a song or in singing a delicate ballad. If she has any fault, sometimes her rock numbers are a bit too slick or a little lacking in melodic interest.

The same show will also include performances by the hardcore band Kraut. Like most of these bands, Kraut specializes in maximum speed, incoherence and suburban anger.

ESPN will televise the CART/Los Angeles Times 500, live from Riverside, Calif., on Aug. 28. Defending champion Rich Mears will race against a field of Indy 500 drivers.

Nickelodeon will launch a new series Sept. 2, when it premieres "Into the Labyrinth." The series describes the adventures of three time-traveling teen-agers in a race against the forces of evil. The outcome of the series will depend on whether one of the teen-agers can master cosmic forces in order to defeat the bad guys.

A couple films on Spotlight: "Love at First Bite" (Aug. 29) — George Hamilton stars in this amusing spoof of flicks. Hamilton plays this Dracula very campy. The problem is, how much more campy can you get than Bela Lugosi in the original "Dracula"? Still, Hamilton is not bad. But vampire movie doyen Christopher Lee made an even funnier movie along this line many years ago. "Smokey and the Bandit" (Aug. 31) — Now this is a really funny movie. Burt Reynolds and Sally Field star as a trucker and his girlfriend fleeing from Sheriff Jackie Gleason. It features lots of smashed, burning, sunken, broken police cars and a lot of good-natured laughs.

Bibi gets her break on 'Hamptons'

By Joan Crosby

Bibi Besch

Bibi Besch is a creamy-skinned, blue-eyed blonde, who, after 20 years as an actress, is now just being recognized.

She had a leading role in "Star Trek II: The Wrath of Khan," and now she can be seen in the ABC summer series, "The Hamptons." That's the steamy soaper created by "General Hospital's" Gloria Monty.

"I don't think I was ready before this," Miss Besch says. "Everyone has a time and this is mine. I'm seasoned. When you've been acting for a long time, should success happen, you are able to remember how lucky you have been. Success can be enjoyed and you can make the most of it, but you can still keep it in perspective."

In "The Hamptons," shot entirely in the wealthy Long Island beach resort, Miss Besch plays a wealthy, vampy woman. Her character has married for the second time — to a younger man who wed her for her money.

Miss Besch is the daughter of Gusti Huber, a former actress who made many films. She says her mother advised her if there was anything else Miss Besch thought she wanted to do other than act, then to do it.

"But, if I only wanted to act, she would then encourage me. I think most actors would prefer their own children to do something else. It is necessary to have a burning desire in order to persevere and survive in the business."

Miss Besch has a 13-year-old daughter who is now expressing her interest in acting. Miss Besch, who continues to go to workshops herself to keep her craft sharp, says "I think I'll take her to classes. If acting is what she really wants, then I will encourage her."

Miss Webb, Mr. Jones Wed

Miss Janie Elizabeth Webb and Mr. Rickie Darryl Jones were united in marriage at 4 p.m., Saturday, May 28, at the Wayland Methodist Church. The doubling candlelight ceremony was solemnized by Mr. Charlie Jones, grandfather of the groom, and the wedding prayer was presented by Mr. Joe Ryan, a friend of the bride's family.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Webb, of Wayland, Ky. She is the granddaughter of the late Hattie and John D. Barney, Jr., and Mrs. Allie Webb, of Harrison, Ohio, and the late Albert Webb. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jones, of Printer, Ky. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jones, of Bevinville, Ky., Mrs. Della King, of Plymouth, Ohio, and the late Henry King.

Nuptial music was provided by pianist, Mrs. Libby Hall, and Mrs. Joan T. Chaffins, vocal soloist. Piano selections included, "You Light Up My Life", "We've Only Just Begun", and "Truly". Vocal selections chosen by the couple were "If", "The Rose", "Annie's Song" and "There Is Love". Following the wedding processional before vows were exchanged, Mrs. Chaffins sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Vows were exchanged before an arch of brass entwined with greenery interspersed with silk open roses of pink and wine with two white wedding bells centered in the arch which was flanked on each side by brass candelabra with matching greenery and flowers each holding seven white lit tapers.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, the bride chose a traditional full-length wedding gown of silk organza and silk floss venise lace. The fitted bodice was enhanced with a sculptured Queen Anne neckline elegantly detailed with silk floss venise lace florettes and pearl. The bishop sleeves were cuffed in organza and lace edged in petite organza ruffles. The princess skirt of organza was designed of softly scattered lace florettes and a petite ruffle forming a heart on the flowing cathedral-length train. Her waltz length veil of illusion was held by a half Juliet cap of lace and pearls with lace florettes scattered throughout.

The bride carried a cascade bridal bouquet of silk pink and white carnations, sweetheart roses and white baby's breath with baby pink and white streamers with a small rosebud attached to the ends. In keeping with tradition, the bride chose to wear as something old a cameo and pearl necklace given to her by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Hattie Barney. Something new and something blue was the traditional blue lace garter and something borrowed was her mother's watch.

Mrs. Mary Evans Bradley, of Wayland, served as matron of honor, and Miss Debbie Johns, of Eastern, Ky., served as maid of honor. Mrs. Brenda King Caudill and Mrs. Linda King Slone, both aunts of the groom, of Plymouth, Ohio, served as bridesmaids. The bride's attendants wore formal floor-length gowns of dusty rose, and each wore combs in their hair decorated with pink and white silk flowers. The matron of honor and maid of honor carried nosegay bouquets of silk white, wine, and dusty rose carnations with pink rosebuds and baby pink streamers. The bridesmaids carried white lace fans decorated with pink and white carnations, white-pink tipped azaleas, pink and white baby's breath with baby pink streamers.

Miss Jaime Lynn Webb, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Webb, Jr., of Wayland, served as flower-girl. She wore a floor-length gown of sea-mist green organza created of multi-tiered layers of organza forming the skirt with the fitted bodice enhanced by muffin sleeves with petite organza ruffles complimenting the old South style. In her hair she wore a halo of green and yellow silk daisies. She carried a small white lace basket decorated with pink sweetheart roses, white baby's breath and white and pink streamers.

From this, she scattered pink and white rose petals. Master Douglas Alan Hopkins, cousin of the bride and son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy D. Hopkins, of Wayland, served as ring-bearer. He carried a white heart-shaped satin pillow on which the couple's wedding bands rested surrounded by white, pink, and wine sweetheart roses.

Mr. Gregory Alan Jones, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Walter Scott Slone, of Wayland, Mr. Keith Smallwood, of Bevinville, Mr. Hillard Newman, Jr., of Grethel, and Mr. Romeo King, of Plymouth, Ohio.

Dr. Carol Combs Johnson, of Estill, presided at the guest register where she greeted guests and gave out wedding programs. Mrs. Anita Martin Nieland, cousin of the bride and owner of Anita's Bridal Shop in Richmond, Ky., was wedding co-ordinator. Mrs. Mary E. Bradley, of Chaffins' Florist, Wayland, provided all flower arrangements and decorations for the wedding and reception.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Webb chose a two-piece floor-length gown in soft-muted grey, her accessories were also of soft grey. She wore a corsage of pink and white rosebuds. Mrs. Jones, mother of the groom, chose a floor-length bishop-sleeved gown of cranberry quiana with cream trim. She wore a corsage of pink and wine rosebuds.

Following the wedding ceremony, an informal reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall. Decorations of pink and white were carried out in the reception room with the three-tier wedding cake, surrounded at the bottom by a cake ring of pink, white, and wine roses and flanked by copper candelabra with pink tapers being the centerpiece of the bridal table. The cake, baked by Mrs. Eugene Crisp, was decorated with pink rosebuds and white wedding bells, and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The bridal table was attended by Mrs. Gloria Webb, Mrs. Sue Martin, Mrs. Rosa Bradley, Mrs. Sylvia Newman and Mrs. Dora Johns. Each guest was presented wedding scrolls and matches from the bride and groom as mementoes of the occasion.

Out-of-town guests present for the occasion were Mrs. Allie F. Webb, of Harrison, Ohio; Mrs. Anita Nieland, of Richmond; Mrs. Ann Francis, Sherry Francis, Mrs. Lisa Warren, Ginna and Kelly, of Bluffton, Ohio; Mrs. Geneva Spradlin, of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Conn and Jonathon, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Caudill and Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Cletis Slone and Kim, and Mr. Romeo King, all of Plymouth, Ohio.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple resided in Morehead for the summer where both attended school. In August, Mr. Jones will teach at McDowell Elementary, and Mrs. Jones will do student teaching at Johnson Central High School beginning in October.

SNOW JOKE!

Here's some frigid facts for hardcore trivia buffs:

-Because it is 90 percent air, snow is excellent insulation, providing warmth for croplands and a comfortable burrow for small animals.

-Of the earth's 196,949,970 square miles of area, 48 million square miles of its surface are always snow-covered.

-It takes more than 1,000,000 ice crystals to cover two square feet with 10 inches of snow.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Steve Lewis on his 17th birthday. Born Aug. 8, 1966 - Died July 8, 1982.

No length of time can heal our grief, Our love for you lies much too deep. No one knows the heartache We try so hard to hide; No one knows how many times We've broken down and cried. There's a time right from the start When loved ones have to part To us, left broken hearts to gloom, Because we were parted much too soon. You're still very much loved, very much missed, and still very dear to us.

Love MOM, DAD, AND SISTERS

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Frank Crisp The month of August holds many good memories and sad ones for my mom. Besides being the month (August 28) he passed away, it is also the month of their anniversary and his birthday. On my way to work Wednesday morning I found myself thinking of him as I often do and before long there was big tears in my eyes. I remember how he enjoyed the family get togethers. He didn't say much but he would smile when they would cut up. He was my stepfather but no one had a more patient or warm and loving father. We miss you Granddaddy. Sadly missed by his wife and family.

In some occupations, women's wages are closer to men's than in others. For example, in elementary school teaching, women earn roughly 85 percent as much as men; but in other areas, such as sales, women average only a little more than half of men's earnings, a U.S. Department of Labor publication reports.

Evert Howell

Evert Howell, 72, of New Carlisle, Ohio, formerly of McDowell, passed away August 3 in New Carlisle following an extended illness.

A son of the late John D. Howell and Martha Orsborn Howell, of Frasure's Creek, Floyd county, Ky., he was born October 11, 1910. He was a member of the Bethel Baptist Church, New Carlisle, Ohio.

He is survived by his wife, Stella Hamilton Howell; two sons, Gorman Ray Howell, of Salem, Virginia, and Jerry Foster Howell, of North Hampton, Ohio; two daughters, Bobbie Ann Adiklis, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Doty Lynn Sanders, who now resides in England; two brothers, Granville Howell, of McDowell, and Erman Howell, of Ashtabula, Ohio; three sisters, Louisa Bartley, of McDowell, Mellie Orsborn, of Ashtabula, Ohio, and Sylvia Akers, of Mansfield, Ohio. Also surviving are six grandchildren, Rebecca Ann and Aaron Adiklis, of Parkersburg, W. Va., Shannan and Stephanie Howell, of North Hampton, Ohio, and Heather and Tara Sanders, of England.

Mr. Howell worked as a miner in Floyd county for 30 years prior to moving to New Carlisle, Ohio in the early 1950's. He retired as a millwright for G.H. & R. Foundry in the early 1950's. He retired as a millwright for G.H. & R. Foundry in Dayton, Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted August 6 at the Trostle-Chapman Funeral Home Chapel with the Reverend Richard Lane officiating. Burial was made in the Glen Haven Cemetery in New Carlisle.

Pallbearers were Charlie Howell, Sam Howell, Ronnie Hall, Birchel Hamilton, Town Newsome, James Larry Parsons, and William Gary Parsons.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Michael Newsome, son of Kermit and Barbara Newsome. September 10, 1957-August 28, 1982.

In the cemetery safely sleeping, where the flowers so gently wave, lies the one we loved so dearly.

This day brings sad memories of our beloved son who is gone to rest in peace and those who think of him each day are the ones who loved him best.

No one knows the silent heartache. Only those who have lost can tell of the grief we bear in silence for the one we loved so well.

What we would give to see his face, to touch him, to hear his sweet voice, and to see his sweet smile that meant so much to us.

Our hearts still ache with sadness—secret tears will always flow.

What it meant to lose you no one will ever know. Memories are all we have left now. Oh, we dearly loved you so, and these happy memories will always be with us until we meet you on that beautiful shore with Jesus.

Loved and missed by Mom and Dad, Chet, Glenda and Crystal

If you can't stand the heat, go underground! That's what residents of the opal mining town of Coober Pedy, Australia, have done to beat the sizzling summer temperatures of 113 degrees. Insulated by the thick stone walls, the August Reader's Digest reports that the dugouts, once working mines, maintain a year-round temperature of 72 degrees. Opal seams in living rooms or kitchens are still used by residents as ready cash or mad money allocations.

Task Force on Drunk Driving Adopts Tough Recommendations

The final report filed last week by the Governor's Task Force on Drunk Driving was tougher in some of its recommendations than the suggestions earlier developed by a legislative committee.

The Task Force opposes issuance of a restrictive license for a person convicted of driving under the influence. The restrictive license plan has gained favor with the interim Judiciary-Criminal Committee.

"The restricted driver license, sometimes called occupational license, is based on compassion for the drunk driver's family," the task force report said.

"The philosophy is to allow the drunk driver to use his automobile to continue his ability to make a living. What we tend to forget is that driving is a privilege and that those who abuse the privilege should lose their license."

Furthermore, the report said, testimony before the task force indicated that the program would be difficult to administer. "The General Assembly should resist any efforts to enact legislation to permit the use of restricted licenses," the task force said.

The legislative panel has recommended a restricted license, at a judge's option, for hardship cases.

The rationale is that a convicted driver will continue to use his car for commuting and emergencies, but since that motorist usually will not be insured, the victim of any accident would be unprotected.

The task force called for at least 48 hours in jail, a minimum non-suspendable fine of $200 and a $150 "service fee" for first offenders who cause an accident or have a blood alcohol concentration that is twice the .10 percent at which drunkenness is presumed.

If the reading is under .20, the judge would have the option of jail or a fine, although for second offenders, jail would be mandatory.

Among other laws proposed by the task force:

—Requiring a court to specify in the record why a drunken driving charge was amended or dismissed.

—Assessing the $150 service fee on all convicted motorists "to reflect the philosophy that the offender will pay for the program costs."

—Permitting use of a preliminary breath testing device by police to help determine probable cause for a drunken driving arrest.

—Letting officers ask for more than one intoxication test, which the report said would be useful in pinpointing whether drugs, alcohol or both are causing the intoxication.

—Requiring all repeat offenders to complete alcohol or drug treatment programs.

COMPLETES AIR FORCE BASIC

Airman Bradley F. Crum, son of Daniel F. and Lyda F. Crum, of Allen, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training. #### SELECTING A NURSING HOME

One of the most difficult decisions that a person may have to make concerns how to care for relatives who are unable to provide for themselves, either due to illness or age. "One must consider that a nursing home becomes a person's home and community for as long as he/she remains there. Finding a home to provide the services and atmosphere a person needs and prefers takes time, effort and information," says Attorney General Steve Beshear.

There are many types of nursing home services available. Some specialize in personal care while others specialize in health or nursing care. Names of nursing homes can be obtained by contacting your local health department, medical society, hospital or nursing home association, senior citizen groups, social service groups, physicians, clergymen, and the yellow pages of the telephone book.

The first step is to make telephone calls to the homes to determine which ones provide the kind of care that is necessary and whether it participates in Medicare or Medicaid if you are depending on that kind of financial help.

Always visit the nursing home, preferably during late morning or mid-day so you can observe the noon meal being served. Ask to see and examine licenses and certificates. Look for the Nursing Home License and the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals Certificate in particular. Make an appointment to talk with the home administrator. Does he/she have a Nursing Home Administrator License?

The administrator may use phrases such as skilled nursing facility (SNF) or intermediate care facility (ICF). These terms have come into use as a result of Medicaid and Medicare which pay bills for a majority of nursing home residents. The homes are classified according to the kinds of services offered.

A SNF is staffed to make round-the-clock nursing services available to residents ill enough to require them. Medicaid programs in all states pay for care in a SNF if a physician recommends such care and his/her decision is approved.

An ICF is for those who need health services and some nursing supervision in addition to help with eating, dressing, walking or other personal needs. Medicaid programs pay for this type of care, but Medicare never does.

Talk to the administrator about the basic monthly charge and exactly what the patient receives. The more services you require, the more you will probably have to pay. Compare costs and services of several different homes before making a decision.

Find out if the patient is entitled to Medicaid or Medicare by calling the welfare department or your local Social Security office. If a patient is eligible for Medicaid, the home should bill the State directly for all charges. If the patient is not eligible for one of the governmental programs, check into private health insurance to see if it covers nursing home costs.

"People who enter a nursing home do not leave their individual personalities or basic human rights behind. They do not lose their need for friendliness, encouragement and respect," says Attorney General Beshear.

If you have a problem concerning nursing homes or any consumer issue contact the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601 or call the Consumer Hotline toll-free at 1-800-432-9257. Consumers may contact the Consumer Protection Division to receive a checklist to help them evaluate nursing home facilities.

President Reagan Names Farm Safety Week

President Ronald Reagan has proclaimed the week of September 18 through 24 as the 40th Annual National Farm Safety Week, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In his proclamation, the President said many of the world's people depend on American agriculture to fill their food and fiber needs. "Yet, the efficiency of American agriculture and the quality of life for those who work on the land are impaired by a high accident rate. Many farm and ranch families, both owners, and workers, suffer great personal sorrow and economic loss each year because of serious injuries or fatal accidents. It is particularly unfortunate that farm children and teenagers often are the victims of these accidents."

Although great progress has been made in improving safety on farms, President Reagan said much work remains to be done. He said it is important that community leaders and public officials continue to contribute their time and effort to promoting accident prevention programs. But real progress in safety must start with the individual. Most farm accidents can be prevented if safe work methods are followed and appropriate protection equipment used.

Farm Safety Week was founded in 1944 to fight accidents impairing wartime food and fiber production. It is supported by many organizations that serve agriculture.

Club's Apple Butter Project Starts Saturday

The East Point Area Development Club, widely known for their yearly production of large quantities of high quality apple butter, will begin their annual project this Saturday and all volunteers are welcome to help with the work.

Mrs. Esta Mae Tackett, publicity chairman for the club which depends almost entirely on the sale of apple butter at the Johnson County Apple Festival for its scholarship fund and other community projects, said there will be several fans to help cool the area where the apple butter is cooked in huge copper pots, and stressed that the community building at East Point where the apple preparation is done is well air-conditioned.

The work will begin this Saturday at 7 a.m. and will continue each Saturday until the festival.

74 Pounds of Dewey Lake Catfish

Sunday, Aug. 14, wasn't as hot at Dewey Lake as it was later, and the big catfish stirred, as witness this catch totalling 75 pounds. The fish were caught on a trotline "run" by Tom Kendrick, left in photo, Linda Pennington (center) and Dallas (Duke) Pennington (right). The largest fish of the three, at left, measured 40 inches and weighed 32 pounds; the fish at right, 30 pounds, and the "little one" (center) was a 13-pounder.

PHS Football Overview

Under the tutelage of Coach Phillip Haywood, who was voted by his peers as the area's Class A-AA Coach of the Year for 1982, the Prestonsburg football Blackcats have risen, over the years, from chronic also-rans to a team respected as consistent winners. District champions for the past two years and losing last year only in the Class 2-A quarterfinals to Corbin, the Blackcats have established an enviable reputation. Of course, the question now is, can they continue the high caliber of play which has characterized the team in recent years.

It appears likely. The ever cautious Haywood is quick to point out that some key personnel were lost to graduation last year including John Gilliam and B. J. Sturgill, both now in the college football ranks. "We graduated 12 to 14 seniors and some of them were good football players," he said. But he also stresses that "we're real positive about the people we have coming back."

Among those returning is three-year starter Todd Nairn, who will lead the Blackcat offensive attack as quarterback. Nairn, who threw for 10 touchdowns each of the past two seasons and scored 30 points on his own last year, will be backed up by Gordie Ratliff, a junior, who will play other positions as well, and John Goble, a sophomore.

Among a number of capable runners, backfield veteran John DeRossett will play a key role for the 'Cats. A hard-running, 185-pound halfback, DeRossett may play fullback, alternating there with Bryan Pace, a starting linebacker and Prestonsburg's leading tackler last year, along with sophomore Phillip Lewis and junior James Little.

Halfback candidates include John Anderson, Chris Hooker, and Randall Slone. "All our backs give us a good combination of power and speed," according to Haywood. "Some are pretty fast and some are quick with good balance. I'm looking forward to working with them to see what we can come up with."

Tight end is up for grabs between Irvin Spears and Gordie Ratliff with Pete Greene and Doug Hyden, two sophomores also "pushing." Brad Hughes returns at split end where he gives the Blackcats good speed with Michael Gunter and Stacy Marshall as back up.

Although Haywood describes line positions as "very much open," he has a good selection of candidates to fill them. Richie Schoolcraft will serve at center as during last season though he can look forward to a bit of relief at the tough position from Derrick Calhoun. Bill Tom Moore is back at guard, and along with Calhoun, Sean Dotson, Eddie DeRossett and Keith Slone, will share the playing time there.

The team lost both tackles from last year but can call on big men Randall Hager and Donny Ray, a 230-pounder and 220-pounder, along with Bryan Griffith and Clyde Johnson to fill the gap.

Although there are a couple of positions open on the defensive front, Sean Dotson and Randall Hager, with experience last year are available. Ratliff and Spears will be at defensive end with Pete Greene, Mike Lyons and Hyden vying for playing time. Clyde Johnson and Mike Blackburn, a senior out for the first year, are leading candidates for nose guard as well as A. O. Onkst.

Senior Bryan Pace will be the lone returnee at linebacker where he "does a good job," according to his coach, Lewis, Jeff Patrick, Keith Slone, Goble and Kenny Doerr will also get a chance to play at the position.

Haywood sees no problem with the secondary with DeRossett at one corner and Little, Randall Slone and Hooker at the other. John Anderson has been a two-year starter at one safety while Hughes and Nairn split playing time at the other safety position.

Michael Gunter, Berry rice, Wendell Burke and B. D. Nunnery will also get a chance to play during the season.

With a huge squad of 70, Haywood has lots of choices, but he is making no sweeping predictions. He says only that "We try to get the players thinking that they want to do a little better than the day before."

(Jamie Adkins, junior halfback and a key player at that position, remains in serious condition at Cabell-Huntington (W. Va.) Hospital suffering from head injuries sustained in a weekend mishap at Paintsville.)

'83 Seen as Year of Rebuilding For Young Wheelwright Team

Although his team fell to a strong Elkhorn City squad in its season opener, Friday night at the Wheelwright athletic field, Roger Johnson, head coach of the football Trojans, is too busy looking at the game as a good learning experience to be discouraged.

Wheelwright's new coach is realistic about the strengths and weaknesses of the team and he views the squad's potential as sufficient cause for optimism. A powerful team in recent years in the tough Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference, the Trojans find themselves this year minus nine experienced players from last year's squad. With only five seniors, lack of experience is the team's major woe, according to Johnson.

"We're relying on a young backfield," he pointed out, with sophomore Jackie Hall and freshman John Justice alternating at quarterback, and sophomores David Hall and Jeff Boyd filling the halfback spots. Junior Scottie Johnson, at 5'9" and 190 pounds occupies the starting fullback position for the Trojans.

Johnson points to the line as having the greatest depth of the team's units. Certainly the strength is there with senior tackle James Sweeney at 270 pounds, junior center Robbie Matthews at 225, junior guard Jerry Little at 210, and sophomore Chris Moore at

220. He also praised the play of lightweight freshman guard William Slone who, at only 130 pounds, is capable, according to Johnson, of intimidating much larger foes.

At least one Trojan gridded, 6'2," 185-pound senior Timmy Cole, is described as an All-State candidate. At tight end, Cole shows "good speed and strength," and in Friday night's 30-6 loss against Elkhorn City he caught three passes for about 90 yards.

Predicting steady improvement through the season as relatively inexperienced personnel collect playing time, Johnson feels that his team is "a year away" from demonstrating its full potential.

In another home game this Friday night, the Trojans will face Fleming-Neon, a "small but quick" team, according to Coach Johnson, who defeated the Betsy Layne Bobcats, 14-0, Friday night.

Prestonsburg Youth Remains in Coma

Sixteen-year-old James L. Adkins, Prestonsburg High School sophomore, remains in a coma at Cabell-Huntington Hospital where his condition was said, yesterday (Tuesday) to be stable. He underwent surgery there early Sunday morning after suffering skull fractures in an accident at Paintsville a few hours earlier.

According to a report received here, young Adkins is a member of a band which had been playing at the Highland House in Paintsville. After the group had finished, he and another band member had gone to the nearby Hylander, where he either fell into or moved too near a large exhaust fan. Two skull fractures were reported, as a result.

Young Adkins, son of William and Lucille Adkins, of the Auxier Road, and a member of the high school football team, was regarded as one of its brightest prospects as a ball carrier.

Harry Ranier's Desire To Win Pays Off In String Of NASCAR Racing Successes

(The following is reprinted from the Lexington Herald-Leader.)

By JOHN CLAY

Before Harry H. Ranier became a coal-tycoon-turned-owner of a magnificent mansion, beautiful horse farm and the world's fastest stock car, he would race the dirt tracks with his father, Harry B.

He did not drive the cars; he tried it but did not take to it much. Instead, Ranier liked to work on them, to prepare them for the small tracks within driving distance of Prestonsburg. At about age 13, Ranier began lending a hand after school and on weekends.

Eventually, the Raniers took a shot at the big leagues, building their own grand national stock car, a Mercury, and entering it in the Southern 500 at Darlington, S.C. The year was 1954, the driver was Johnny Patterson.

They led that race for awhile, had a shot at winning, actually, only to be beaten by inexperience. Fearful that their car was losing oil, they decided to stop and check. It was a costly choice. They finished fourth.

But it was a start, and Harry H. Ranier was hooked. Oh, the family got out of the hobby of racing cars for awhile in the late 1950s when they entered the coal mining business and the workload got heavy. But the fever of competition still boiled in the blood, and when enough money had been saved the Raniers ran the ARCA (Automobile Racing Club of America) circuit up North. After that, they tried a limited schedule on the more prestigious NASCAR (National Association for Stock Car Racing) circuit, its starting point and Super Bowl being the Daytona 500. It was there, in 1969, that Harry H. Ranier learned how far he had traveled from the dirt tracks.

"At the time, I thought that my father, H.B. and I had a lot of experience in racing," he wrote in his 1982 racing brochure. "While watching a practice session prior to the 125-mile qualifying race, a casual acquaintance who worked for Nichols Engineering asked me what my expectations were for the Daytona 500. My reply was that naturally we expected to win the race. Laughingly, he told me that our car had as much chance of winning the Daytona 500 as my high school football team had in beating the Miami Dolphins!"

"The next day when our car, driven by Andy Hampton, wrecked in the 125-mile qualifying race, the comment by my acquaintance of the prior day occurred to me. At that moment, I made a resolution to myself that one day I would stand in the winner's circle at the Daytona 500."

"Eleven years later, in 1980, our car driven by Buddy Baker had not only won the Daytona 500, but set two NASCAR records in the process...My only regret was that my father had not lived to share the victory with me."

Few episodes could reveal more about Harry H. Ranier. Indeed, that day long ago at Daytona serves as a watershed from which Ranier has built a racing team that has won close to $2 million in five racing seasons. And this year—what with the legendary Cale Yarborough driving the incredibly swift machine of ace mechanic Waddell Wilson—Ranier unequivocally believes his team is the best, his car the fastest in the sport.

This, however, is not say that the Ranier team wins every race. The best cars often do not, racing luck being what it is, even the most well-prepared car is liable to break down at the worst possible moment. Instead, compared, "It is a team capable of winning any race," says Ranier. "That's all you can ask for."

Born February 25, 1937, in Prestonsburg, Harry H. Ranier is a man of many desires; a wealthy businessman, an intense competitor, a fighter, a man of purpose. Even his appearance exhibits such traits; a stout, bald 46-year-old with a serious disposition. Ranier presents the aura of the serious businessman, a bit secretive, his words few, his smiles fewer. Not that he is unkind, hardly; it is just that his countenance seems to always reflect a churning mind. Without the pun, you could say he is driven.

The whys of that are unclear, save for the competitive desire he finds difficult to define. But the tangibles are as clear as crystal. Once Harry Ranier sets his mind to something it is usually accomplished.

In 1975, for instance, Ranier bought a horse farm near Midway and named it Shadowlawn. Two years later he had sold his prosperous Triple Elkhorn Mining Company and interest in three other coal companies to set up Ranier and Associates, a management company whose offices are located in the United Bank building outside Versailles. He then moved his family—wife Juda, sons Alan (25), Rick (23) and Lorin (19), daughters Toni (27), (since married) and Lea (16)—to Midway, allowing him more time to oversee the farm and finish building thier massive estate, a structure so elaborate, so Southern in appearance it could take Scarlet O'Hara's breath.

Often the thoroughbred industry can be a stone wall for outsiders, those who have not entered the sport from within, those without connections. But Ranier is in the middle of his third thoroughbred racing season. And just last month, acting as an agent, he experienced the thrill and white knuckles of selling a yearling for $4.1 million at the Keeneland Summer Sales. "We were on pins and needles taking care of that horse," he says.

Yet, the following day, the final day of the Keeneland Sales, Ranier was in Talladega, Ala., to attend a promotional press conference for the Talladega 500 auto race. And often, Ranier has professed that his ultimate dream would be to win the Kentucky Derby on a Saturday and the Winston 500 the next day. The point being that no matter how far Ranier gets immersed in the other aspects of his busy life, his commitment to racing grows stronger.

Even after a disastrous '82 season, when Ranier Racing suffered through its first winless campaign, the failures—much like '69—only caused Ranier to dig deeper into both his pocketbook and fortitude.

"You never really know why you have the desire to do it," Ranier says. "Why individuals are competitive and all. And my father was certainly that. I guess it's the desire to get a creative team together, picking out the components and making it successful. It just gives you a violent desire."

Ranier became a full-time face on the Winston circuit in 1975 when he co-owned a car with Ron Elder. But in December of 1977, after his coal sales, Ranier went solo, buying out Elder, hiring the renowned Wilson as engine builder and Lennie Pond as driver for the 1978 season.

In its 17th start that year, on Aug. 6, Ranier Racing got its first trip to victory lane when Pond won the Talladega 500. "I remember that day every well," says Ranier. "I was just totally thrilled."

Over the years, the competitive flame within Ranier has earned him a controversial reputation. Since '78, he has gone through four different drivers. Baker drove in 1979 and '80, winning three races and $287,52 the first year, two races and $264,220 the second. Bobby Allison drove for Ranier in 1981, winning five races and $644,311, but the two parted company.

"Bobby is a great driver and a highly intelligent person," says Ranier. "But he was kind of set in his ways and I'm set in mine."

By any description, 1982 was a catastrophe. J.D. Stacy, a local businessman who also owned a race team, signed a five-year contract to sponsor Ranier—Ranier's fourth sponsor in four years—and Benny Parsons was contracted as driver. But into the season, the contract was invalidated. Sponsorship was uncertain. Baker was brought back to drive some races, Joe Ruttman handled the chores in others. Ranier Racing entered 30 races. It won zero, finishing second just once.

When the season came to a merciful end, Ranier was disappointed but more determined. He contracted Hardee's as a sponsor—"The finest people we've ever worked with," says Ranier—and Yarborough, a three-time Winston Cup points champion (a bonus pool awarded at the end of the season by cumulative placements), who will soon become only the third stock car driver to win $4 million in prize money, as his driver.

"Cale didn't want to run the whole circuit, and Hardee's felt like to get the maximum exposure they just wanted to enter the televised races," says Ranier. "Cale is one of the greats. Yes, this is the kind of team I wanted when I first got into racing."

The first race of the current season, Yarborough sped to a win in the Daytona 500. Heading into the Talladega 500 two weeks ago, the Hardee's Chevrolet had won two other races in 10 starts, earning $208,255 for the highest money-winning average per race on the circuit. "With a little bit of luck," Yarborough, "we could be having a fantastic season."

(The Hardee's team of Ranier and Yarborough won yet another NASCAR race over the weekend at the Champion Sparkplug 400 at Brooklyn, Mich. Second place went to Owensboro native Darrell Waltrip.)

China's Leading Writers Profiled

"Return from Silence: China's Revolutionary Writers," will air on KET Monday, September 12, at 10:00 p.m. The program profiles five writers who have dedicated their lives to building an independent China, and takes a look at recent Chinese history, giving an enlightening introduction to a significant literary tradition which is virtually unknown in the West.

The five writers interviewed are Mao Dun and Ba Jin, two of the country's most influential novelists; Ding Ling, China's leading feminist and woman writer; the revolutionary poet Ai Qing, and the dramatist Cao Yu.

Each of these immensely popular writers has played a major role in rebelling against the strictures of traditional Chinese society, in gaining the country's independence and in trying to achieve modernization. They were China's leading intellectuals and held high positions in the cultural hierarchy during the early years of the Communist regime. During the Cultural Revolution, they were stripped of offices and severely persecuted. After Mao's death in 1976, they were released from prison or returned from years of exile. The program captures the suffering they have endured as well as their vision of the enormous changes China has undergone in the 20th century.

"Return from Silence: China's Revolutionary Writers" was produced by Joan C.W. Shih.

Floyd county senior 4-H members won the top four places in the state 4-H Poultry Judging Contest held at the Kentucky State Fair.

Rondell Martin was the senior individual champion with a score of 1003 of the 1100 possible. He is the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer (Ike) Martin, of Langley, and a member of the Allen Central Teen 4-H Club. Second place was won by Terry Boyd with a 992 score. Terry, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyd, of Langley, and is also a member of the Allen Central Teen 4-H Club.

Scott Tackett was third with 988 points. Scott, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tackett, of Banner, and is a member of the Betsy Layne Teen 4-H Club. Fourth place winner was Shawn Johnson with 968 points. He is the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Johnson, of Stanville, and also a member of the Betsy Layne Teen Club.

Other Floyd county senior poultry judges, their ranking and scores were: Darwin Prater, Hippo, 9th, 952 points; Randy Hunter, Banner, 14th, 942 points; and Chris Hall, Betsy Layne, 15th, 939 points. Floyd county junior poultry judges were: Shane Maggard, Hippo, 5th, John Bush, Harold, 7th, Michael Hale, Harold, 13th and Jamie Hall, 16th.

The top four senior judges will make up the team that represents Kentucky in the National 4-H Poultry Judging Contest in November.

Figures Don't Lie, But . . .

Fewer Idle as Fewer Working

Both unemployment and employment in Kentucky fell from June to July according to figures released last week by the state Cabinet for Human Resources.

The number of unemployed declined by 1,500, while the number of employed dropped by 37,200.

State labor market analyst Ed Blackwell said the figures reflect decreases in agriculture and school employment. "About 20,600 school personnel, not including teachers, were dropped from payrolls during July," he said. This is a normal seasonal occurrence. These people are not counted as employed if they are not paid while school is not in session."

The state's unemployment rate for July was 11.4 percent, up from 11.2 percent in June. Preliminary June figures reflected an unemployment rate of 10.8 percent, but information received after those figures were released showed 5,000 more jobless Kentuckians had filed unemployment insurance claims. The national non-seasonally adjusted rate for July was 9.4 percent, a drop from 10.2 percent in June.

"The bright spot in our employment picture," Blackwell said, "is that July was the first month since September 1981 that nonagricultural wage and salary jobs have increased over the same month a year ago. The estimated 1,149,800 who were employed in July was 9,900 higher than the 1,139,900 employed in July 1982." Employment rose by 11,500 in government, 7,500 in services and 2,900 in transportation equipment, he said.

The number of unemployed Kentuckians decreased from 187,800 in June to 186,300 in July. Total unemployment in July 1982 was 176,600, when the unemployment rate was 10.6 percent. Total employment in July was estimated at 1,449,700, a decrease of 32,600 from a year ago. The state's civilian labor force fell 38,700 to 1,636,000 in July. The civilian labor force includes only non-military persons who currently are employed and unemployed persons actively seeking jobs.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Everett Tackett, would like to express our sincere thanks to those who helped us during the funeral of our father. Thanks to the Joppa Church and the preachers who offered their comforting words. Thanks to those who sent flowers and food and thanks to those who sat up with our family. Thanks to the R.S. Jones Funeral Home for their help from the beginning to the end. Thanks to the community for coming to show their respects. May God bless you all.

In X-ray, Less Is Better

The Highlands Regional Medical Center X-ray Department has installed a new system that improves x-ray images and lessens the radiation exposure of the patient.

According to Ken Addington, chief radiologic technologist, the radiation dosage will be reduced by 50 percent in most examinations.

This new technology consists of DuPont's rare-earth intensifying screens and "Cronex" 7 x-ray film. The screen, which is placed between the patient and x-ray film, changes x-rays to light rays more easily and makes the film image brighter.

Increasing public concern with radiation exposure, as well as rising health costs were reasons behind the switch to the new system, according to Addington.

Addington said, "The Highlands radiology department's objective is to use as little radiation as possible, while still producing quality x-ray films. This new system greatly reduces patient dosage and at the same time improves the picture quality. It also increases the life expectancy of x-ray tubes because lower dosages are used. That helps us hold the line on hospital costs."

Big Sandy Area Counties Get Weatherization Grant

The Cabinet for Human Resources has awarded the Big Sandy Area Community Action Agency, Paintsville, a $225,931 grant for weatherization assistance to low-income households in Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties.

Human Resources Secretary Buddy Adams said, "Top priority will be given to elderly and handicapped people, especially when the condition of their homes poses life- or health-threatening situations." The work that may be performed includes caulking, weatherstripping windows and doors, reglazing windows, repairing walls, placing skirting around foundations and insulating ceilings, pipes and ducts, walls and under floors.

"The type and amount of work performed is based on the condition of the home," Adams explained. "There is a $1,500 limit on weatherization assistance to any home. Last year the average cost was $1,064."

While priority is given to the elderly and handicapped, all the people served have low incomes. "Last year the residents of nearly half the homes that were weatherized under this program had annual incomes under $4,000," Adams said.

The U.S. Department of Energy's $4.6 million allocation to Kentucky for this program this year includes about $1.9 million from the Emergency Jobs Bill, which will enable the contracting agencies to hire new employees who meet eligibility criteria under that law.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Jink Johnson would take this opportunity to thank everyone for their help in the loss of our loved one: those who sent food and flowers, money that was given to us, the ministers for their wonderful services and the Hall Funeral Home for being so kind. All your kindnesses were greatly appreciated.

 A revival will begin September 1 at the Goble-Roberts Church of God and services will be held at 7 o'clock each evening thru Sept. 11. The Rev. Kennedy Washington, 18-year-old evangelist, will speak each evening, and everyone is invited to attend. Pastor Arley Hill also extends an invitation to everyone to attend Sunday School at 10 a.m., church services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., Sundays, and prayer meeting at 7 p.m. on Thursdays.

RETURN FROM VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Ronny Burke and daughter, Rhonda, and Mrs. Erma Perry have returned to their homes in West Prestonsburg after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bailey and sons in Pomeroy, Ohio. Their three sons, Boyd, Roy, and Tommy, returned with them for a visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Burke.

Two Years Old

Ryan Hall celebrated his second birthday, August 13, with a party at his home. An E.T. birthday cake and refreshments were served, and he received many nice gifts.

Attending the party were Ginger, Jennifer, and Dino Tackett, Johnny Martin, Jeanene and Jennifer Hall, Davy, Marcia, and Derrick Martin, and Mickey Hall. Maternal grandparents, Leonard and Pearl Hall, of Wellington, Ohio, were also guests. Ryan is the son of James and Lynn Hall, of Beaver, and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Oley Hall, also of Beaver. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John D. Martin, of Teaberry, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Branham, of Craynor, and the late William Hall, and Mrs. Lillie Mae Hall, of Beaver, and the late Milford Hall.

BEAVER NEWS

40th Anniversary

Buster and Mildred Osborne, of Beaver, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary July 16, at their daughter's home where surprise dinner was given in their honor. They are the parents of 10 children and the grandparents of 12.

Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Newsome and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Osborne and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Martin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Osborne and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Osborne and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Newsome and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Newsome and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Osborne and family, Glen Dale Osborne, and Kathy Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne are both members of the Old Regular Baptist Church.

When It Comes to Chiggers, The Best Cure Is Prevention

That nail polish you put over a chigger itch doesn't suffocate the chigger. Those expensive chigger itch formulas don't even make the chigger uncomfortable. In fact, by the time you are able to treat the terrible itch of a chigger bite, it's too late—he's gone.

"A chigger doesn't bite you, and it definitely does not burrow into your skin," said Dr. Chris Christensen, Extension entomologist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

According to Christensen, the uncomfortable itching sensation you feel and the welt on your skin are your body's reaction to the foreign protein enzyme which chigger larvae deposit on your skin. The enzyme dissolves the skin, the chigger eats the dissolved tissue, and returns to the bushes to digest his meal.

"After he has removed the dissolved tissue, he's gone," said Christensen. "All those home and commercial remedies can do for you is to give some temporary relief until the skin heals. They keep the air from hitting the irritated skin and setting off the itching; however, on some people, nail polish might cause a reaction of its own to the sensitive area."

Your best "cure" of a chigger itch is prevention. Whenever you go into areas with tall grass or weeds, such as berry patches, make sure you have used an insect repellent, Christensen said.

Chiggers really like areas where your clothing is tight. Christensen advises you to spray your clothing around the edges and to pay special attention to areas such as waist and leg openings, sleeves, and around the tops of shoes and socks. Don't make the mistake of trying to spot a chigger. The reddish-color larvae are barely visible, Christensen said.

You can control chiggers in infected lawns, gardens or recreational areas with regular mowing or brush removal. Many insecticides labeled for lawn insect control usually are effective against chiggers.

For more information on chiggers, contact your local Extension office.

To Aid Parents Of Handicapped

Eight special resource centers for parents of handicapped children, teachers and other interested persons will be opening around Kentucky in September.

Each will contain books for loan, free pamphlets and brochures, and other information about handicapping conditions and issues facing the family of a child with special needs.

The centers are sponsored by Project ENRICH, the Educational Network of Resources and Information for Classrooms and Homes, a unit within the Kentucky Department of Education to increase effective interaction between parents of handicapped children and schools.

The centers will be located in Ashland, Berea, Campton, Edmonton, Murray, Newport, Owensboro, and Shepherdsville.

Materials available will cover such topics as parenting skills, parent resources, helping the special child at home, adolescent problems, and parent-school interactions.

The opening of the centers parallels the Department of Education's August "Child Find" campaign, an annual effort to inform the public of services available to handicapped children through public schools. The month long drive also seeks to locate handicapped children who are not receiving the special services they need.

For more information on Child Find or the parent resource centers, contact the Bureau of Education for Exceptional Children, Kentucky Department of Education, Capital Plaza Tower, 8th Floor, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Johnson-Bailey

Teresa Lynn Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson, of Price, and Tim Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey, of Bypro, were married June 25 at Wheelwright Methodist Church. The Rev. Garfield Potter officiated.

The maid of honor was Jeanice Johnson, of Price, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Kim Hall, of Bypro, Paula Gail Johnson, of Weeksbury, and Sherri Osborne, of Wheelwright.

Mark Smith, of Bypro was best man. Ushers were Dewey Ray Jamerson, of Bypro, Greg Couch, of Bypro, and Junior Anderson, of Jacks Creek. The reception was held at the groom's parents' home at Bypro.

The bride is a graduate of Wheelwright High School and Morehead State University. She is employed at Highlands Regional Medical Center, as a registered nurse. The groom is a graduate of Wheelwright High School and the University of Kentucky. He is self-employed at Electronics Unlimited, at Pikeville.

The couple spent two weeks in Hawaii and are now residing at Bypro.

A Salesman's Perspective ...

How To Purchase a Vehicle

RULE NO. 1—When you are in the market for an automobile, think of the kind or brand that you prefer. Also consider the room you will need, gas mileage you expect and upkeep.

Shop the lots after hours until you find a vehicle that you like. If you don't find just what you wanted decide, again, model and brand with options you desire on the vehicle. Then have the dealer or your favorite salesperson figure an ordered vehicle for you.

It is not a good idea to go "just looking" when the dealership is open, because most salespeople work on a "strictly commission" basis. What that means is that if you are not going to buy that day, you are wasting the salesperson's time. There have been many instances when a salesperson is with a sincere qualified buyer and someone else comes on the lot just looking and the salesperson leaves the sincere qualified buyer to check the just looking person and loses the sincere qualified buyer. If the "just looking" person would trade places with the salesperson for just one day they would not waste the salesperson's time. (Some salespeople have worked weeks without selling anything, so if they are a little short with you the "just looking" person is probably why. How would you like to work for weeks for nothing?)

RULE NO. 2—If you have gotten to the point where you have discussed trade or buy with a salesperson at a dealership, you should feel an obligation to that salesperson because he has taken his only asset, his time, to help you. If you talk to someone else at the same dealership, you have wasted the salesperson's time. (Here again, trade places with that salesperson. Would you like to be treated that way?)

RULE NO. 3—If you are going to trade a vehicle in on your next purchase you need to have that trade-in with you. (You wouldn't buy a "pig in a poke", so don't expect the salesperson to do so.)

RULE NO. 4—"Book value." It doesn't mean a thing as to what a vehicle is actually worth, be it the dealerships or an individual. "Book value", in most cases, is good for tax purposes only. In most cases, low mileage and clean autos are worth more than book and rough, hi-milers worth less. When you trade a car or truck to a dealership, in most cases, that dealership is actually buying that car or truck.

RULE NO. 5—Junk, whether it be a dealership or an individual, brings junk prices.

RULE NO. 6—(This actually should be Rule No. 1.) Deal with a salesperson who has a good reputation. If you don't personally know one, ask a friend who they would recommend. The salesperson's commitment to a buying customer really begins when the customer leaves that dealership in a new or different vehicle.

RULE NO. 7—If you have not purchased a new car in three years or longer, prepare yourself for a charge of about 440 volts. Car prices are high, but then so is a gallon of milk. The salesperson has nothing to do with prices, so if you are dissatisfied with the price of cars let the manufacturer know. They are the only ones that can control prices. Ask the salesperson for the manufacturer's address where the price complaint can be sent. Most salespeople will be very helpful in this matter and others, in any way possible.

Good News Report

By THOMAS W. PAUKEN
Director of ACTION

If you asked the volunteers at the Medical Center of Garden Grove, California the meaning of true grit, their immediate answer would be Letty Palomino. Big brown eyes, a delightful smile, a wee bit of a lady, Letty, at age 21, is a volunteer quite unlike any other.

Palm Harbor specializes in acute health problems, and that's how Letty came to know about the medical center. At age 15, Letty suffered complete kidney failure. Dialysis treatment did not work, and it became necessary to remove her kidneys. Since then she has undergone nine major operations, any one of which would have left most patients incapable of thinking about helping others who are ill. Not Letty. Throughout her ordeal, which is a continuous one, she has devoted nearly 1500 hours of volunteer service at the hospital. Additionally, three times a week she must come to the hospital for four hours of difficult treatment, but even as an out-patient she is a volunteer, serving those who are bed-ridden.

Her doctor says of her, "Letty gets up from her couch of pain to help others and has become an inspiration to all who attend her." And what's Letty's attitude toward her condition? "Sickness can't stop me," she says. And it can't, because she's a fighter and comes from a fighting family.

Her brother, Carlos, who is seen in the Miller Lite TV commercials, is a former welterweight champion. A second brother, who was on the Olympic boxing team, was tragically killed some years ago in a plane crash. Letty wears the Palomino tee shirt, honoring both her brothers, not to mention a third brother and seven sisters.

This past November Letty became extremely ill due to medical complications. It was the time her fellow volunteers, nearly 50 in number, had chosen to make their annual holiday jaunt to Disneyland. But because of Letty they decided not to go until she was well enough to join them. And when she had recovered sufficiently to tell them, "I think we should go now. I'm ready," off they went.

Like Carlos, Letty has been on television. Together, they were featured in a commercial for the Kidney Foundation, Letty dressed as a candy stripper, telling it like it is. And while her volunteering today focuses on her creative ability, making tray favors for patients, she is also going to school. Thanks to Carlos, who is a source of strength to her, she is enrolled in a beauty school, training to be a manicurist, because, as she says, "I'm going to make something of myself."

She has already done that, many times over. Orange county indicated its awareness of her shining efforts this year by awarding her the Carnation Silver Bowl for Voluntarism. At the hospital, patients and staff alike know Letty. And they, and anyone who knows her, will tell you she has a great smile. It comes from the heart, with a spirit that speaks to everyone.

Sulfa drugs, like antibiotics, are chemical agents that either stop the growth of germs or kill them. However, while antibiotics are derived from living plants or animals, sulfa drugs are synthetically derived from chemicals, not living organisms. To understand how a sulfa drug works, it is necessary to first realize how a germ reproduces. Germs need the presence of a common body chemical called para-aminobenzoic acid (PABA). Sulfa drugs closely resemble PABA and trick the germs into taking on the sulfa drugs in their effort to reproduce. These efforts fail, of course, and the germs eventually die out. However, not all germ cells are similarly affected by sulfa drugs.

If you have any questions concerning the medication that we may be filling for you, please don't hesitate to ask us here at COOLEY APOTHECARY. We're not just here to fill a prescription, but to make sure that you understand their safe and effective use. You'll always receive personal and helpful service. You can find us at #2 Town Center Bldg., where we're open Mon.-Fri., 9-5:30; Sat., 8-4. VISA and Mastercard welcome. 886-8106.

HANDY HINT:

Sulfa drugs produce a higher percentage of allergic reactions than many other drugs.

Your energy-saving options are as easy as:

Electric Thermal Storage.

Electric Thermal Storage, ETS, a very efficient whole-house heating system that works in a unique way. It stores enough heat at night to heat your home for the rest of the day.

Because ETS uses electricity at night, when the cost of electricity is less, ETS customers qualify for special rates. So you'll get lower electric rates for heating. And for all other electricity you use at night. What's more, the same lower rates apply all weekend.

ETS not only heats your home, it also heats your water. Individual room heaters are available, too.

Add-On Electric Heat Pump.

Another very modern option to save energy, and money.

An Add-On Electric Heat Pump works with your existing furnace — no matter what kind of fuel it uses — to heat your home more efficiently all winter long.

In summer, it's a central air conditioner, cooling and dehumidifying your home.

So an Add-On Electric Heat Pump can actually work year round for you and save you money on your winter heating costs.

Add-On Resistance Heating.

Another add-on option. Your third way to save energy and money.

Add-On Resistance Heating is simply an electric element that's slipped into the duct of your furnace. It takes over for your furnace on weeknights and weekends when the cost of electricity is less. And, as an Add-On Resistance Heating customer, you pay special lower rates for nighttime heating — as well as all other electricity you use during those same hours.

For a low initial investment, Add-On Resistance Heating can be a real comfort to your nighttime heating costs.
