Federal Judge Sentences Five In Ray-Mac Case

The climax of a three-months-long court battle came last Friday when five Floyd countians were sentenced to three years each in federal prison by U.S. District Judge Wix Unthank at Pikeville. The five, including Edgar Jones, of Prestonsburg, coal company president, were convicted in U.S. District Court last month of conspiring to force Coal-Mac, a Pikeville-based mining firm, out of the McDowell area. Others sentenced included Mose Mead, 26, of Wayland, and German Stumbo, 40, Kenneth Rolland, 47, and Teddy Kinney, 49, all of McDowell. Jones filed notice of appeal, shortly after sentence was pronounced. The other defendants have 10 days in which to decide if they will appeal. If they do not, all except Mead will report to prison within 30 days. Mead was given 45 days because his wife is expecting a baby. The five remain free under bond, pending their appeals or the date when they are to begin serving their terms. In pronouncing sentence Judge Unthank remarked that the defendants "erred in not recognizing a change in their fellowman," and defined their convictions as "a message of the jury that economic warfare and use of violence is no longer natural, it's a used-to-be." ## Disaster Team Ends Inspection Tour of County

After an on-site inspection of a week, a federal disaster team last Friday estimated that Floyd county schools had suffered flood damage totalling $1,662,000. The inspection and assessment of damages was a part of the federal effort after President Reagan had declared Floyd county a disaster area as a consequence of flooding earlier this month. Supt. of Schools Pete Grigsby, Jr. said the repair of schools will be paid, in part, by federal grants but that he has no way of knowing at this time how much the grants will be. Any flood insurance collected by the schools will be deducted from the federal aid check. The superintendent said no final estimate has been made by board personnel. He said the determination of damage is difficult, since much of it may be hidden and this may include the possible weakening of foundations and brick walls that have been flooded. Without flood insurance, federal aid for schools of the county after the 1970 flood amounted to less than $800,000. But for the removal of Betsy Layne High School from the flood plain and the removal of the school bus garage from off-flooded Allen to Hite, the damage would have been much greater this year, Grigsby said. Listed as most heavily damaged by the recent flooding were Martin Elementary with seven buildings, Allen Elementary with one main structure and some relocatables, McDowell Elementary and High School, six buildings, and Garrett Elementary with two buildings and a gymnasium. All school properties affected by the flood are in use. The period between their closing, June 11-12, and reopening for a new term next August 13 will afford some time for their repair.

14 File for 2 Spots Open for Rum Sales

Although some retail liquor dealers in this county haven't found in the business the financial bonanza that was expected, the competition for licenses is about as keen as ever. Because of an increase in the population estimate that was made by the Urban Studies Center of the University of Louisville, Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) regulations have allowed Floyd county two more package-liquor licenses. The regulations permit one package store for each 2300 residents. The new licenses were advertised, earlier this year, and for the two extra package stores Floyd county may have there are 14 applicants, or 7 applicants per store. In 1982, the figures were more imposing and the competition hotter, but the 137 applications for 21 stores set the demand at about 6.5 applicants for each store allowed. Applicants for the two retail outlets in this county are:

5 High Schools Will Graduate More Than 500

More than 500 students will be graduated from the county's five high schools at commencement exercises to be held during the next 10 days. Allen Central High School will graduate 119 students when combined baccalaureate and commencement exercises are held there, beginning at 8 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday). Roger Madden, former pastor of the Church of Christ at Martin, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. Betsy Layne High School will hold its graduation exercises for 132 seniors at 8 p.m., Wednesday, June 6. McDowell High School, with 56 graduating seniors, and Prestonsburg High School, with 143, will hold their commencement exercises at their respective schools, Friday, June 8. McDowell has scheduled its commencement at 7 p.m., and exercises here will begin at 8 p.m. The baccalaureate service will be held at Prestonsburg at 8 p.m., Sunday, June 3. Wheelwright High School will hold baccalaureate services at 2 p.m., Sunday, June 3, with the Rev. Garfield Potter, pastor of the Wheelwright United Methodist Church, delivering the sermon. Commencement at Wheelwright will be held at 8 p.m., Friday, June 8, when 63 seniors will be graduated. Names of valedictorians and salutatorians of each school and their pictures appear on another page of this edition.

Floyd county's two licenses and 47 allocated to 12 other counties should be awarded by the end of next month, Michael W. Davidson, ABC's distilled spirits administrator, said. The state's method of choosing the 21 successful applicants in this county after the county voted wet in 1982 was attacked by unsuccessful applicants. A suit was filed, but the ABC was upheld in the lower courts. The case is pending before the Kentucky Supreme Court. ABC Commissioner Edward A. Faris and Davidson said that "a better way" to award licenses was proposed earlier this year by Melvin Wilson, Public Protection and Regulation secretary who has the role of ABC board overseer. (See Story No. 7, Page 4)

ELECTION OFFICERS Lynn Garrett (nearest camera) and Jean Hickman sat idly in front of an empty voting machine much of the day at the Cliff precinct polls, usually one of the busiest in the county. The situation was repeated all over the county in an election that stirred little voter interest.

Johnson Killed In Cycle Crash

Jimmy Johnson, 21, of Weeksbury was almost instantly killed early Thursday morning on the Caleb Fork road, near Weeksbury, when the motorcycle he was riding collided, head on, with another vehicle. It was reported that Johnson, riding an off-the-road motorcycle, was heading up Caleb Fork when he collided with a dune buggy, another off-road-type vehicle, traveling in the opposite direction. Neither vehicle had headlights, it was said. The accident occurred at about 1 a.m. Deputy Coroner Glenn Frazier pronounced Johnson dead at the scene as a result of massive head injuries. (See Story No. 5, Page 4)

Martin Held Guilty In Slayings of Two

Charles Martin may serve two pen terms totalling 30 years for the slaying last August at Estill of two men, William S. and Walter G. Lazar, brothers. A jury so closely guarded that it was sequestered in a Salyersville motel last Wednesday night while its verdict was yet awaited, held Martin guilty the following morning and set his prison terms at 10 years for the death of William Lazar and 20 years for that of Reginald during a gunfight inside the William Lazar home. Circuit Judge Hollie Conley had not pronounced sentence on the defendant as of Monday morning. The time Martin will serve will depend on Judge Conley's decision if the sentences are to run consecutively or concurrently. In any event, said defense attorney Gary E. Johnson, the jury verdict will be appealed. Trial of the case was marked by testimony indicating that the deaths of the two men and the serious wounding of Martin were consequences of marital infidelity involving William Lazar and Linda Gay Martin, wife of Charles. According to this story, while Mr. and Mrs. Lazar and Mr. and Mrs. Martin were at the Highlands House in Paintsville, in November, 1982, Lazar, who was said to have been drinking, told Martin that he and Mrs. Martin had been having an affair. The infuriated husband threatened to kill Mr. and Mrs. Lazar and also his own wife, it was claimed. In December, 1982 Mrs. Martin, who was a teacher in the Clark Elementary School, near here, died at her home in Knott county of a gunshot wound that later was ruled accidental. When Martin went to the Lazar home last August 15 it was for the purpose of killing Walter Lazar, the Commonwealth argued in last week's trial. But the defense produced testimony claiming he went there on Lazar's invitation. In this testimony was a deposition made by Tom Martin, an uncle of the defendant, shortly before deponent's death of "Lou Gehrig's disease," stating that Walter Lazar had talked to him about a meeting he desired with Charles Martin at the Lazar home to effect a reconciliation. At the home when Martin arrived were the Lazar brothers and Reginald Lazar's wife and young daughter. Martin, it was testified, asked Mrs. Lazar to leave the house while he and William Lazar had a talk. Inside the home, the defendant claimed, he was seized from behind by Reginald Lazar and was threatened by Walter who had a gun. The Commonwealth claimed both brothers were "pistol-whipped" and that Martin was unmarked except for a bullet wound in his body. In the ensuing fight Walter Lazar was (See Story No. 4, Page 4)

This Town...That World

There was a time when it was called Decoration Day. I am at the age when almost any change doesn't strike me as being for the better, but when it was designated Memorial Day that was probably the best change of them all. Memories Day wouldn't be a bad choice for a name. Garlands and wreaths mean little without the cherished recollections.

With Mother's Day past, the old man's day just ahead and the children and grandchildren graduating in droves from grade school, high school and college, the whole family has got into the act.

ADMIRING FROM AFAR
I have a feeling that I, more than most, should admire these young people who are completing high school, mainly because I myself never finished the course. I'm not a high school dropout, however. There wasn't any high school around in those days to drop out of or to be dropped from. Yet I must confess that I didn't make it all the way with the (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

Groundbreaking Set Saturday at Warco

Groundbreaking ceremonies to mark initiation of construction on the $2 million Warco Housing Project, near Maytown, are scheduled for Saturday, June 2, at 2 p.m. A joint project of the Prestonsburg Housing Authority and Floyd County Authority, the two-story structure will include 68 units in the form of townhouses and walk-up apartments. Contractor on the project, which is expected to be completed within the year, is the W. B. Browning Construction Co., of Pikeville.

Cable System Seeks To Placate Council

Telling council members, "I'm sorry our relationship is where it is," and blaming the situation on a "difficulty in communication," Stanley Block, chief counsel for Cablertainment of West Virginia, and two other top officials for the cable television system which serves the Prestonsburg area, tried to smooth things over Friday in the face of a lawsuit filed by the Prestonsburg City Council in mid-April which seeks to dissolve the company's franchise in the city. The legal action came after a long history of complaints against Cablertainment which took over cable television operations in the Prestonsburg vicinity after buying out Flannery and Dingus T.V., about three years ago. Grievances have included poor reception, late payment of franchise fees, lack of an adequate Lexington, Ky. television signal, and generally poor service. (See Story No. 6, Page 4)

Full Amount of Funds Raised Asked for Land Reclamation

The Interstate Mining Compact Commission has requested the federal Office of Surface Mining to change its current allocation policy to allow Kentucky and all other "coal-producing states and tribes with historic, long-term coal production" 100% of federal abandoned mine land reclamation funds generated by mining operations each year.

Kentucky, along with other coal-producing states, currently receives less in abandoned mine land funds than it raises each year. In 1983, Kentucky coal operators paid $90 million, while the state received only $46 million for abandoned mine land reclamation, Natural Resources Secretary Charlotte Baldwin explained. "This is an important issue for Kentucky. We have abandoned sites which need to be reclaimed and will take much more than 59 cents we currently receive for each dollar we pay to the federal fund," Baldwin said.

In a resolution passed by the Interstate Mining Compact Commission on April 25 and sent to William P. Clark, Secretary of the Interior, representatives from 17 coal-producing states asked Clark also to allocate to "western coal-producing states and tribes" seventy percent of the abandoned mine land funds generated by their current operations.

The resolution further asked that all coal-producing states and tribes be allocated "sufficient abandoned mine land funds to guarantee $1 million each year for the remaining life of the abandoned mine land program."

Currently, apportion of the abandoned mine land fund includes a discretionary share disbursed by the Secretary of the Interior. The resolution would set percentages of this share for each state.

Passage of the resolution, drafted by the Kentucky Natural Resources Cabinet and introduced by Natural Resources Deputy Secretary Charles W. Martin, was not unanimous. Nine states voted for the resolution, five against it, with two states abstaining and one state absent.

In 1977, the federal Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act designated that coal-production fees be paid by coal operators on each ton mined. The fees are 35 cents on each ton surface-mined and 15 cents on each ton deep mined. Fees are to be used for the reclamation of abandoned mine lands left from pre-1977 mining.

Family Doctors Endorse Freeze On Fees 1 Year

Family physicians in Kentucky have unanimously endorsed a voluntary freeze on physicians' fees for one year, while calling upon others involved in the health care delivery system to use constraint in the cost of their goods and services. The resolution was passed by the Congress of Delegates of the Kentucky Academy of Family Physicians (KAFF), during its 33rd annual Scientific Assembly held May 8-12 at the Executive West in Louisville.

Dr. Larry M. Leslie, of Prestonsburg, is director of the Academy; Eastern Kentucky district.

"Family doctors are more than willing to do their part in containing health care cost," said Dr. Marion A. Douglass, Jr., of Magnolia, newly installed president of the association. "Cost effectiveness is a most desirable goal, but cost containment can be dangerous if it infringes unnecessarily on the quality of health care." Dr. Douglass noted that a policy statement adopted by the KAFF mandates that the best interest of the patient shall take precedence over any other interests.

Endorsement of the voluntary fee freeze supports previous action by the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association representing some 56,000 family doctors. The KAFF is a constituent chapter of that group. Dr. Peter O. Hansen of Kenai, Alaska, Vice President of the national group, applauded the Kentucky chapter's efforts.

The Women's Bureau of the U.S. Labor Department is the only federal agency devoted exclusively to the concerns of women in the labor force, according to a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Area Public Water Supplies Are Tested

All public water supplies in the 13 southeastern Kentucky counties designated as a disaster area due to the recent floods are being tested for bacteriological contaminants under a special monitoring program set up by the state Division of Water.

Due to the flooding, public water suppliers "have had numerous operational problems which increase the potential of a public health threat to their users," explained John T. Smither, manager of the drinking water branch of the division.

Testing of public water supplies will be done in Bell, Breathitt, Clay, Floyd, Knott, Knox, Laurel, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Perry, Pike and Whitley counties, Division of Water officials said. Selected water supplies in Johnson, Lee and Harlan counties will also be tested.

Smither said that difficulties experienced by water suppliers included flooded treatment plants, water line breaks and flooded distribution systems. "All of these problems might increase the potential for waterborne disease due to contamination of treated water by flood water," he said.

The special water samples are being collected and analyzed by the division's laboratory contractor, Division of Water officials or laboratory representatives are contacting the management of each water supplier to conduct the sampling.

"This is an effort to assure the citizens in that area that the water being supplied to the customers of these systems is free from bacteriological contamination," Smither said.

"There are no uninteresting things, there are only uninterested people." G.K. Chesterton

14 Mining Permits Issued for Floyd

The Division of Permits of the state Department of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement issued 175 permits during the month of April.

Permits issued included 30 original permits, 32 revision permits, 7 amendment permits, 18 succession permits and 88 transition permits. Of the 175 permits issued, 101 were for surface-mining operations, 75 for underground mining, two for haul road construction and 7 for preparation plants and refuse areas.

Permitting activities in April authorized the disturbance of 24,557.19 new acres of land and resulted in the collection of $231,227 in fees.

Four surface mining permits and 10 for underground mining were issued for Floyd county operations. Surface mines permit included Coal Mac, Inc., 136.4 acres; Enoxy Coal, Inc., 89.8 acres; Renegade Mining, Inc., 83.32; Rock Ridge Resources, Inc., 26.39.

Permits for deep mining included Bailey Mining Co. (three permits) for 263, 293.66 and 104.78 acres; Bebe Coal Corp., 50.3; J. & J. Coal Co., 142.74; Buck Coal Co., 91.73; JRM Coal Co. (four permits), 153.48, 39.53, 440.41 and 202.91 acres each.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

Emetics remove potentially toxic agents from the stomach. It is often difficult to decide whether a patient should be referred directly to an emergency treatment facility or should be given a non-prescription emetic and treated at home. Obtaining a reliable history, identifying the agent and accurately accessing the patient's condition are critical in making this decision. Knowledge of the telephone number of the nearest poison center is also extremely important. All ingestions where moderate to severe toxicity is likely must be referred to an emergency treatment facility. If minimal toxicity is anticipated, the administration of a non-prescription emetic at home by a competent adult may be all that is necessary.

COOLEY APOTHECARY can provide you and your family with your total prescription needs as well as any over the counter remedies you require. Our entire staff at COOLEY APOTHECARY keep up to date on the latest developments in our industry. We are located at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. ### Housing Assistance Available

Temporary housing assistance is provided to eligible homeowners or renters whose residences are not liveable because of the recent flood disaster in this and other counties, according to the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

When making application, it is helpful if the applicant brings proof of residence (driver's license, utility bills, mail), proof of ownership (deeds, tax receipts, etc. if appropriate), insurance information (type of policy, coverage), and a current address and phone number where they can be reached.

Once an inspector verifies the damage, eligible applicants will be contacted by telephone regarding which type of assistance they will receive:

1. Renters may be eligible for temporary housing, but not to repair leased or rented housing.
2. Homeowner-occupant may be eligible for grant money to be used for minimum essential repairs so the applicant can stay at the residence while permanent repairs are being done through other means such as insurance, SBA or other types of loans.
3. Hotels-motels are sometimes used for a short period of time when an applicant is either waiting for other temporary housing, or when repairs can be made quickly and housing with friends or relatives is not available.
4. Apartment-houses may be provided at no cost. The length of time the housing will be used will vary for each household, depending on circumstances. Applicants pay the utility bills.
5. Essential household furniture may be loaned to applicants.
6. Essential minimum household items such as pots and pans, dishes, towels, sheets and blankets, may be given to applicants.

INDIVIDUAL AND FAMILY GRANTS

Individuals or families who suffer loss, damage or injury as a result of a disaster may qualify for a state and federal grant if other sources such as insurance settlements, disaster loans or assistance from volunteer agencies have not been able to meet all their serious needs.

Approved grants of up to $5,000 are 25% funded by the state and 75% federally funded. These funds may be used by disaster victims for a variety of disaster needs including the repair or replacement of a primary residence, and repair or replacement of personal property such as furniture and automobiles. Certain funeral and medical expenses resulting from the disaster may also be covered.

Applicants for the grants must first apply for a disaster loan from the Small Business Administration. If the applicant cannot meet SBA's requirements (ability to repay) for a loan, they may then apply for a grant. In some cases, even if the SBA approves a loan, the amount approved (again based on ability to repay) may fall short of that needed for serious needs, and the applicant may then apply for a grant to make up the difference.

Congratulations!

On another page of this edition of The Times will be found the photos of some 30 Floyd county youngsters who have distinguished themselves for scholastic excellence or by outstanding qualities of leadership.

We congratulate them and are happy to have a part in giving them the recognition that they deserve.

But this year's achievement record is not the end of the race. What they do as they move on into college and into the humdrum of every-day life will complete the record. Indeed, there may be some who are now without any such distinction who will move ahead of them.

School, at home or away, is for learning. Without sermonizing, we would suggest that this matter of learning, which includes textbooks and study and persistent effort, also involves much more and is a continuing process: learning how to live with self and others, how to be a good citizen, to respect others and deserve the respect of others, and never permit what amounts to intellectual snobbery to override good commonsense.

This will not amaze anybody by its originality, but we add: All good qualities do not earn an "A" on the present semester's grade card.

In addition to the plot conviction, Jones was convicted of aiding and abetting the bombing of Ray-Mac's coal auger, and Stumbo, Kinney, Rolland and Mead were convicted in the auger bombing. Mead also was convicted in the burning of a coal tippie leased by Ray-Mac, and Stumbo of aiding and abetting the tippie burning.

But Judge Unthank suspended the sentences on these convictions, leaving each defendant under three-year sentence and two years' probation.

The violence that allegedly drove Ray-Mac out of the county took place in 1972. In all, 18 men were indicted by a federal grand jury but all except the five sentenced Friday were acquitted.

school that was available—the old (hip!) American School of Correspondence.

I made it through Medieval History, Algebra, Grammar, English Composition and perhaps one or two parts of the stiff curriculum those moonlighting University of Chicago professors prescribed, but negotiating Geometry and its mess of theorems and Latin and its cases at home, with nobody to help, became rather sticky going. Latin I wasn't too tough, but when I tackled Caesar I got, as I recall, only as far as the sentence which reads, "All Gaul is divided into three parts."

And yet, despite that slightly tarnished scholastic record, I can pontificate to a fare-thee-well about what's wrong with education today, the schools, pupils, teachers, parents and so on, ad absurdum.

IGNORANCE CAN BE BLISS

The request wasn't what you would call urgent or demanding, but I've been asked for something more about the birds.

I thought I had already given our feathered friends pretty fair coverage, although I must admit my references to them are rather general. You see, I am not an ornithologist, not even a bird-watcher of the sort who spies on them with field glasses and makes copious notes.

I merely enjoy them. You don't have to be an artist to appreciate beauty—thank goodness!

The fact is, I have trouble identifying many birds by either sight or sound. For example, the other afternoon I listened for several minutes to what I thought was a mockingbird running through his magic repertoire when the singer took flight and an observant bystander floored me with the announcement that I had been taken in by a catbird.

The same technical ignorance extends to flowers and trees (though it's not necessarily limited thereto). Leaf and bark tell me little. I was quite a disappointment to my father who knew every tree, including all the oaks—white, red, black, chestnut, basket and so on—at a glance, with or without their foliage. Maybe it's because I could never see the trees for the forest; anyway, his efforts to teach me earned for me only a dunce cap.

Today, I can identify, when in good form, the buckeyes, beeches, walnuts, sycamores and also the sugar maple if there's a gash in its trunk where somebody has tapped it for its "sugar water." And that's about it. The only way I could possibly identify a hickory would be to look, first, to see if it bore hickory nuts. So with the haws, wild cherries and the like.

There was a time when I was reminded that my two-fingered assault on the typewriter was not the touch method but the Biblical system—"Seek and ye shall find."

And now it strikes me that my recognition of trees is by the same system: "By their fruits shall ye know them."

shot five times—three times in the back. Reginald Lazar, who reportedly was unarmed, was shot one time in the back at a range so short, the Commonwealth claimed, that he was powder-burned.

Martin contended that Lazar first shot him and that after he had been hit his vision was impaired and the succession of events became hazy.

Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen contended that there was no plan to kill Martin, pointing out that Walter Lazar had worked in a coal mine on the day of his death and had been home from work only a short time before Martin arrived.

Martin will first ask a new trial, his attorney said. If that request is denied, the appeal will be filed. Johnson said the appeal will be based, mainly, on two points:

1. That the trial jury's request to be taken to Estill for its own inspection of the home where the shooting took place was denied. Denial was based on the fact that there was no testimony to the effect that the building was in the same condition as at the time of the shooting.

2. That during his closing argument the commonwealth attorney referred to Martin's alleged threats against his wife and pointed out that 30 days later she was a gunshot victim. Johnson says the implication was damaging.

Johnson was not wearing a helmet. Driver of the dune buggy, Douglas E. Hurt, of Weeksbury, and a passenger, escaped injury, and Hurt was arrested and booked at the county jail here by State Troopers Scott and Zoellers on a charge of reckless homicide. His bond was set at $50,000 property or 10 percent cash.

Wilson asked the General Assembly to approve legislation allowing the ABC board to award licenses by a drawing.

The proposal failed of approval, but Davidson said, "I think you will see it back again in the 1986 session. You can readily see how fairer and more impartial that would be than the present system."

Vote Light In Primary

Two thousand nine hundred seventy-four Floyd countians exercised their privilege of voting in the primary election, yesterday (Tuesday). With only two Democrats running for office in a heavily Democratic county, the general feeling has been one of apathy.

Greg Stumbo, incumbent, was opposed by Gary E. Lilly for the office of State Representative. The unofficial return shows a total of 2,395 votes for Stumbo and 402 for Lilly. Since Stumbo is unopposed in the final election, this is tantamount to election.

No votes were counted in the Democratic race for U.S. Senate because of the withdrawal from it by John Y. Brown, Jr. Incumbent Walter (Dee) Huddleston will be on the ballot in November when it is expected he will be opposed by Republican Mitch McConnell, who received 125 votes in this county. Other Republicans received the following totals:

Tommy Klein, 29; Thurman Jerome Hamlin, 16; C. Roger Harker, 7.

Thus, the campaign that wasn't came to an end in this county.

The tabulated vote can be seen elsewhere in the paper.

One recent estimate is that there are 2,314,013 farms in the United States.

signal reception. He confirmed rumors that the system "probably will be sold," and said signing of a contract may come within two or three weeks. "It is our intent to sell the system," he said, citing as a major reason the fact "that we think our service has been poor." Since plans are to sell, the company does not plan the addition of any new signal although Block said "we do want to make the quality of what we now have up to par."

When asked by Councilman Robert Ranier why reception had remained generally poor since Cablentertainment took over the system, Executive Vice-President Randall explained that "after Dave Flannery (formerly of Flannery & Dingus) left, we had problems in trying to recruit new technicians." He also pointed out that "technical problems" arose as Cablentertainment absorbed other local cable systems and attempted to "tie in" the new lines. It was also pointed out that as part of Cablentertainment of West Virginia, said to be the 36th largest cable operator in the nation, the Prestonsburg operation represented the farthest removed component of the firm's systems and thus presented accessibility problems.

Despite Cablentertainment's vows to make technical and service improvements until the expected sale of the system, council members remained skeptical. City Manager Evans said similar promises had been made in previous meetings with other representatives of the firm. Councilman Bill Ray Collins commented, "They pay as they darn well please, they give service as they darn well please, and now, they sell as they darn well please... and we don't have any input."

Another major complaint was voiced by Councilman Paul Hunt Thompson who said the city was refused the right to audit Cablentertainment. Randall replied that since the firm's record-keeping system included all cable operations, it was impossible at the time to come up with specific figures for Cablentertainment's Prestonsburg system. Block assured the council that "what is entitled the city by law will be given."

"The worst thing we could do is create a bad image because we are still expanding," Block added.

When Evans asked the cable representatives why a new owner would consider it worth upgrading the system if Cablentertainment had apparently never considered it worthwhile, Randall replied that the philosophy of many new operators is that it is an advantage to take over a poorly-run system since improvements made subsequently can only help assure success of the acquisition. "The interested company thinks the system has been poorly run, and I agree," said Randall, "but they often feel they can make more money by improving a shoddy system. It may be an advantage."

Again, most council members were unimpressed since, as it was pointed out, Prestonsburg cable subscribers have no alternative except complete dependence on the local cable system, whoever owns it. "Whether the system is good or bad, people are going to pay for it since it's either that or forget watching television altogether," one councilman pointed out.

In a closed council session which followed the meeting, it was decided that talks with the firm would continue although no plans were made to discontinue legal action against the cable operation.

Revocation of the franchise might ultimately prove of greatest advantage to the city since, as Evans pointed out, the present franchise is quite liberal toward the cable operator with almost total exclusion of the city in terms of monitoring and control. He explained that the situation had originally come about during the time before the sale of Flannery & Dingus to Cablentertainment when the cable system was still "local."

"Now, with the present situation, and likely in the future, it's like having absentee landlords," Evans said.

Wheelwright Senior Sues School Board For Class Position

Seventeen-year-old Dena Curry filed a circuit court action here Tuesday, seeking a temporary injunction which would require the Floyd County Board of Education and her school principal to declare her valedictorian of the 1984 graduating class at Wheelwright High School.

Suit seeking the injunction was filed by her father, Ellis Curry, of Bypro, as next friend. Her attorney, Gary E. Johnson, asked that a decision in the case be reached not later than June 1. The school will have its graduation exercises, June 8.

The suit alleges that in April the school principal, Ervin Pack, informed Mrs. Curry and her father that he had determined that she must share valedictorian honors with another student. She said he gave as the reason for his decision either the closeness of the grade point averages of the two students or because he had used a new system of computing standings.

Failure of the board to establish a written policy for selection of students for the scholastic honor results in denial of due process of law, the suit maintains. It also claims that adoption by the principal of a new rating system violates board policy.

State Approves School System Calamity Days

Lacking a single day in each case, Supt. of Schools Pete Grigsby got the "calamity days" he sought from the state Board of Education after this month's disastrous flooding. As a result, the term will end almost on schedule.

Grigsby asked for six calamity days for the entire school system and was granted five. For Garrett, McDowell, and Drift he asked seven days, got six; and for Allen and Martin 10 days were sought but the state board cut the allowance to nine.

That means that closing day for McDowell, Maytown, Wayland and Spruce Pine schools will be June 12, with June 11 the last day for students; and all other schools will close June 11, with June 8 the last day for pupils to attend.

"I asked for exactly the number of days the schools were out," Grigsby commented. He did not know why the number of days granted was reduced in each case by one.

Schools were closed Tuesday (Election Day) because many of the voting places are located in school buildings. But they didn't close for Memorial Day, a national holiday, in order not to lose more time.

The closing of schools comes in time for teachers to do summer college work, if they choose to do so.

The summer vacation for students will be a bit shorter than usual. They will return to school Aug. 13 for the new term.

PHS Loses In State Tourney Sectionals

By OSCAR RICE

Prestonsburg High School's baseball team wound up its season, Tuesday, May 22, with an 11 to 3 loss to East Carter High School in the State Tournament sectionals at Somerset.

Pitcher Jamie Swanagah scattered seven hits and amazingly didn't strike out a batter as he bested senior Kelly Cecil, of Prestonsburg. The Blackcat defense left a lot to be desired as the team made five errors behind Cecil and sophomore Greg Shepherd, who pitched the last two innings.

Speedy senior center fielder, Tony Whitaker, was the only bright spot for Prestonsburg, as he went two for three with a lightening fast double in the fifth inning which left all the college scouts in the stands buzzing. Tony will play his college basketball and baseball at Clinch Valley College in Wise, Va.

Senior Kelly Cecil will play at Transylvania University in Lexington for basketball coach Don Lane, and Todd Nairn capped a 13-letter career at Prestonsburg High School with an academic and football scholarship at Prestigious Emory and Henry in Virginia.

All three of these seniors lettered all four years in basketball and baseball at Prestonsburg.

Coach Russell Shepherd was heard to remark that pitcher-first baseman Kelly Cecil is the only person in Prestonsburg High School history to make the All-District tournament team four straight years in baseball.

This was thought to be Prestonsburg's first trip to the state tournament since 1948. All you oldtimers out there, please respond if we are wrong.

Incidentally, East-Carter won the tournament sectional the day after Prestonsburg's defeat, as they beat Middleboro High, 8 to 3. So, Eastern Kentucky is still alive in the state tournament to be held this week at Johnson Central High School, Paintsville.

We salute our neighbors in Johnson county for being chosen to host the Kentucky High School Athletic Association's baseball state tournament. Tournament manager is former Prestonsburg man, William "Bill" Crothers, athletic director of Johnson Central, who will be assisted by Johnson Central coach, Mike Collins.

Thanks are due Bill and Tucker Daniel for their help on the field at Paintsville High as the Floyd County district baseball tournament was again held in Johnson county, as once again the weather and the lack of a decent playing field caused the tournament to be moved for the second straight year from Floyd county to Johnson county.

Tim Lawson To Play At Virginia College

Clinch Valley College, Wise, Va., has its list of signees for the 1984-'85 season. Tim Lawson, 5-11 guard from Allen Central High School.

Lawson, who was named to the All-Floyd County Conference, the All-District and All-Regional teams, was also selected as honorable mention all-state. He averaged 18.7 p.p.g. for Allen Central and was the team's leading scorer and captain for the past season. An excellent student, with a grade point average of 3.9, he plans to attend medical school.

Weekend Sees Floyd Winners

Paul Harris waves the checkered flag after his first win ever at the Perry County Speedway, Saturday night.

In a weekend packed with racing action, Floyd county drivers again found success at area dirt tracks.

At the Perry County Speedway near Hazard, Saturday night, McDowell's Terry Hall chalked up a successful night winning both the five-lap trophy dash and the 20-lap feature. For Paul Harris, well-known Floyd racer, the night was a personal triumph as he picked up his first win at the Perry county track in the Super Modified event, beating David Dixon in an all-out, wheel-to-wheel contest from beginning to end. Harris beat out area pro's such as Walter Combs, Benny Feltner, Charlie Noble, young Steve Francis and others.

Sunday's action at Paintsville's Highlands' Raceway saw another McDowell driver, Dale Stumbo win the Hobby Stock event, and in Super Modified competition Harris again walked away with first place after recording the fast time of 14:82. Paul Davis and Steve Francis came in second and third, respectively in the event. In the 10-lap heat race it was Harris second, having given up first place to Paul Davis.

In the 20-lap feature race, Ashland's Steve Francis led until losing control in turn No. 2 and crashing, leaving the victory to Paul Harris. (Francis was admitted to a local hospital but was later released.)

Friday at Isom's Mountain Motor Speedway, Brad Martin won in street stock, Danny Salisbury in hobby stock and Terry Hall, in modified. All drivers are from McDowell.

Rice Named Pitcher For Morehead Team

Danny Ray Rice, member of the Magoffin county Hornets baseball team, has been chosen to pitch for the American Legion Team at Morehead. Coach Tim Bostic, who made the announcement, said Rice made the team at tryouts held Saturday, May 19, at Hardin Field in Morehead. Coach Don Hardin was impressed with Rice's speed as well as the fact that he possesses a high 80-mile-per-hour fast ball.

Rice is the son of Howard and Kaye Rice, of Burning Ford Road, Salyersville, and the grandson of Nelle Rice, of Green Acres Prestonsburg.

He started playing baseball as a six-year-old in the old Jenny Wiley State Park T-ball League and also played on the Athletics Babe Ruth team as a 13-year-old at the Allen Park.

All the people on the planet, lumped together, would weigh between 200 and 250 million tons.

State Record Largemouth

By BOB DELPH

(Laurel County Conservation Officer)

On April 14 Dale Wilson, a 22-year-old Swiss Colony (Ky.) resident, and Eddie Wilkerson put their boat on Laurel county's Woods Creek Lake, near London, shortly after midnight. After five hours of fishing they had a fair catch of four good fish, and then it happened: In the pre-dawn darkness, Dale tied into and landed the largemouth bass that fishermen's dreams are made of.

To be exact, Dale's monstrous largemouth bass weighed 13 pounds, 10.4 ounces. It measured 25¼ inches long and 21½ inches in girth, nearly as big around as it was long.

Dale's record largemouth beat the state record by more than two ounces. That record of 13 pounds, 8 ounces had stood for 18 years so the odds Dale beat in catching his fish becomes astronomical when you consider the time and effort spent by all bass fishermen for the past 18 years in Kentucky.

Dale's equipment consisted of a Daiwa Millionaire reel on a Lew's Speed Stick rod using 12 pound Stren line. The lunker fell for a black Bumble Bee spinnerbait equipped with a four inch split-tail pork eel.

While working the lure with a lift and drop retrieve, he felt a good strike just as it dropped to the base of a boulder in about five feet of water. Dale set the hook and the fish took off down the bank stripping off plenty of line as it went. Dale knew he had a big fish on.

His partner realized Dale's fish was unusually strong and fast so he made ready to help land the fish and reached for the net.

After the bass made its first long run, it turned and ran straight back at the boat so fast that Dale barely could keep the slack out of his line. The fish went under the boat and made another run then turned and again ran back under the boat, then ran out and shot to the surface and shook its head in a desperate attempt to throw the hook. The two anglers couldn't believe their eyes when they saw the size of the fish.

Right after the fish surfaced, Dale brought it to the boat, but with a lot of strength left the fish hit the side of the dip net and ran under the boat again. When Dale brought the fish to the boat again, it came to the surface exhausted and turned on its side as Eddie put it in the net. Dale said it took about five minutes or so to get it in.

Mountain Parkway Among Roads Fund Diversion To Hurt, Claim

Kentucky motorists will have a major financial burden lifted with the implementation of the recent opinion of the Attorney General that parts of the Kentucky State budget are unconstitutional.

One of the laws that the General Assembly attempted to override with the budget bill is KRS 143.090. The statute provides that some $47 million annually must be transferred from the General Fund to the Road Fund to pay off the resource recovery road bonds.

Through Senate Bill 294, the General Assembly attempted to use the severance tax due the Road Fund to temporarily bail out the General Fund. Last week, the Attorney General issued an opinion that the bill, along with parts of the budget are unconstitutional.

"Without the $47 million in severance tax, or an amount equivalent to it, Kentucky's Road Fund will be unable to meet essential services during the next biennium," according to Jack Fish, president of Kentuckians for Better Transportation.

Fish said a continuing concern of KBT has been the impact diversion of revenues from the Road Fund is having on Kentucky's highway program. "Critically underfunded" areas Fish cited are:

1. Resurfacing. The budget provides 40 percent of the revenue needed for an adequate resurfacing program. A 15-year repaving cycle would require $70 million for the biennium. Only $28 million is budgeted.

2. Toll Roads. There are no funds for major maintenance of the toll roads. There are sections of these roads—including much of the Mountain Parkway—that are rapidly disintegrating, Fish noted. State officials have testified that $50 million is needed over the biennium for maintenance of the state's nine toll roads. Federal funds cannot be used on toll roads.

3. Construction. The budget provides only $10 million annually for non-federal-aid work, including funds needed for emergencies and for possible industrial access roads to attract new industry. The 211 Account was funded at $28 million in FY '82 and $30 million in FY '83.

Fish said KBT's board has contemplated a lawsuit with regard to diversion, but "win or lose, it would jeopardize future Kentucky bond ratings—not just transportation bonds, but all revenue bonds."

"The diversion is wrong and has a serious impact on Kentucky's future transportation system. During the next biennium, more than 80 percent of the state's motor fuels tax revenue will go for debt service, a large chunk of which is for resource recovery roads."

"The motoring public has no special ability to pay for these roads. Government 'promised' the public and bond buyers the roads would be paid for with severance tax revenue."

Road Fund debt service for FY '85 is $144.4 million and for FY '86 is $152 million. The motor fuels user fee projected for each year of the biennium is $181 million.

Fish said, "Any lawsuit with regard to the severance tax diversion would, of course, call attention to the large amount of Kentucky's bonded road debt in comparison to revenues and the tenuous nature in which bond payments are authorized on a biennial basis by the Kentucky General Assembly."

"The suit would be big news in the nation's financial capitals. It would be damaging to Kentucky's reputation in the bond markets if it were pointed up nationally that Kentucky is altering income streams for bond issues. For this reason our board has been somewhat hesitant to initiate a lawsuit."

On a per capita basis Kentucky's road bond debt is higher than any other state. Only Illinois, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania have higher total debt.

If there were a special session to deal with the problem, Fish said, KBT would continue to urge the members of the Kentucky General Assembly to enact legislation that would provide sufficient revenues to meet education and other General Fund needs without using Road Fund revenues.

When the Resource Recovery Road Program was created to make major improvements in highways in coal producing areas of the state, the bonds that were sold were to be amortized with coal severance tax revenue. One of the reasons the severance tax was raised from 4 to 4.5 percent was to fund the Resource Recovery Road Program. The bonds were sold, and the improvements have largely been made. Now, the bonds must be paid off—nearly $47 million annually over a 25-year period.

Just to replace the revenue lost from the Road Fund by not transferring the severance tax would require a 26 percent increase in the gasoline user fee.

Another area of the budget, Fish said, which is not in compliance with the Kentucky Constitution is the funding of AVIS out of the Road Fund. The use of $5 million annually of highway user revenues for AVIS is in conflict with Section 230 of the constitution which provides that user revenues may not be used for non-highway or non-traffic enforcement purposes.

"Aside from the illegality," Fish continued, "it seems only reasonable that AVIS should be funded from general revenues rather than highway user revenues since it tightens the collection of personal property taxes on motor vehicles, resulting in increased revenue for local school districts and the state's General Fund."

Holiday Inn Here Wins $3 Million Bond Approval

The state Industrial Revenue Bond Oversight Committee has approved a $3 million issue to finance construction of a 100-room Holiday Inn near here.

After announcement was received of the bond issue approval, a representative of the developer, Prestonsburg Inn, Inc., said construction will begin August 1, with completion "hoped for" next spring.

The structure, to be located on property owned by the developer, adjacent to new US 23 at the head of Katy Friend Branch of Middle Creek, will be of two or three stories, its architecture in the Holiday Inn tradition. Plans for the building are not yet complete.

The motel, which will include a 100-seat restaurant, will also have facilities for banquets and public meetings, it was said. The developing firm, composed of local business men, H.D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Tom G. Dingus, Jack Absher and Dr. J.D. Adams, pointed to a lack of motel and restaurant facilities in the Prestonsburg area as reasons for the committee to grant approval of the bond issue.

The site of the inn is about three miles from downtown Prestonsburg and will be served by city utilities.

Banquet To Recognize Top-Ranked Students Of Floyd Hi Schools

Floyd county's academically top ranked students will for the first time be honored at a banquet here tonight (Wednesday) at 6:30 at the Prestonsburg High School cafeteria with an All-Academic Team Banquet similar to those at which outstanding athletes have long been recognized.

Valedictorians and salutatorians of the county's five high schools will be honored as first team members, while one member of each freshman, sophomore, and junior class of these schools will be recognized as second team members. Superintendent Pete Grigsby, Jr., who hopes to develop the banquet into an annual event giving students the acclaim he feels they deserve for the academic achievements, will present team trophies donated by the First Commonwealth Bank.

The Rev. Lorie Vannucci will give the invocation, followed by brief remarks by Assistant Superintendents Ray Brackett and Ron Hager. Speakers will be Dr. Bernard Minnis, Deputy Associate State Superintendent of Instruction, and Floyd County Judge Executive, John M. Stumbo.

Rehabilitation of Young Subject of KET Program

"Kids In Trouble," airing on KET Friday, June 15, at 10:00 p.m., states that more than half of the crimes committed in the U.S. are by youths under the age of 23. The dependency of these young people on drugs and alcohol aggravates the inherent problems of growing up. Host Ken Anderson, quarterback for the Cincinnati Bengals, narrates the program with case studies presented by young Kentucky ex-offenders.

What should society do with its youthful offenders? Prof. Paul Hahn, of Xavier University, is interviewed and asserts the distinctions between the adult corrections and juvenile justice systems are blurring. Furthermore, Hahn contends, juvenile justice supports the traditional reform school/camp approach for juvenile delinquents. But reform schools have inherent problems of their own.

A non-traditional approach presented on "Kids In Trouble" is community-based corrections. Professional counselors are combined with youthful offenders and their parents in a last-resort effort to face the future more successfully. Currently in Kentucky there are 12 juvenile community-based corrections groups, and the Cabinet for Human Resources' reform school-camp facilities. Formed in Kentucky, "Kids Helping Kids" is one such group, which boasts a moderate success rate.

"Kids In Trouble" is produced by John Morgan from Covington, Ky.

Most people by the age of 60 have lost 50 percent of their taste buds and 40 percent of their sense of smell.

Cancer Hopeline

Q. Will sunlight cause skin cancer? A. Repeated exposure to sunlight over a long period of time has been linked to skin cancer. The sun's ultraviolet (UV) rays harm the skin. These rays are strongest from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. during the summer, so that is when risk is greatest. Fair-skinned people are at greater risk than dark-skinned people. They have less of a pigment called melanin in their skin to block some of the sun's damaging rays. The harm done is never fully repaired, even though the suntan or burn fades away.

You can protect yourself from the sun's rays and still spend a lot of time outdoors. Wear lightweight clothing but choose long-sleeved shirts and long pants. Wear a broad-brimmed hat or a bandana. Use sunscreens. A number 15 on the label means most of the sun's UV rays will be blocked out.

(For more information on how you can help protect yourself from cancer call 1-800-4-CANCER or write to McDowell Cancer Network, 915 South Limestone, Lexington, Ky. 40526 and ask for your free copy of Good News: Better News: Best News: Cancer Prevention.)

RETURN AFTER VACATION Mr. and Mrs. Hardin C. Short have returned from a vacation at North Myrtle Beach, S.C. They were joined by their daughter, Mrs. Karl Steinichen, Dr. Steinichen and children, Nicholas and Emily.

Jenny Wiley Theatre Staff Starts Subscription Campaign

Despite recent floods, the Jenny Wiley Theatre staff is working to get the 1984 subscription campaign under way. In this 20th anniversary season subscription options have been improved to extend ticket-buying convenience to customers of the theatre.

This summer's season opens with "Fiddler on the Roof" Saturday, June 23. This Broadway hit musical, set in Tsarist Russia, is about Tevye, who dreams of what he could do "if I were a rich man," while his daughters dream of love and marriage in "Matchmaker."

The second show of the summer is "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," opening Wednesday, June 27. Based on the book of Genesis, "Joseph" is an upbeat, modern retelling of the religious hero's story. As Joseph travels through Canaan and Egypt, he sings a haunting ballad, "Close Every Door." An Elvis-style Pharaoh sings "Song of The King" backed by shanna crooners.

On Saturday, June 7, the 1983 smash hit, "Annie" returns for a repeat production.

"The success of 'Annie' was phenomenal! We had to turn people away last year," said Polly King, business manager. Last year's Annie, Sabrina West, will be returning in the

Alice Lloyd Offers Economic Workshops

Morehead State University, in cooperation with the Office of Economic Education, will be offering two summer courses on the Alice Lloyd College campus. Both courses will begin June 18 and end June 27.

Economics 590 will be taught by Green R. Miller, economics professor at Morehead State University, and will meet Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 12 noon. Consumer Economics Education for Teachers (Econ. 599) will be directed by Dr. Jack Morgan, professor of secondary education at the University of Louisville, and will meet from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m.

These courses will help classroom teachers gain an understanding of current economic problems and policies designed to ameliorate them. Teachers will learn how to integrate economic education into subjects which are now being taught at a level that is appropriate for individual students.

Participants will earn three or six semester hours graduate credit that may be applied as an elective toward a Master's degree in Education or Business Education, or toward Rank I.

Half tuition scholarships will be awarded to all qualified applicants, to the extent funds are available. These scholarships will be paid by the ALC Center for Economic Education through funding by the Kentucky Banking Association and the Kentucky Council on Economic Education.

In order to participate in the workshops and to be eligible for the tuition scholarship, application must be submitted to: Mr. Ron Nichols, Director of the Alice Lloyd College Economic Education Center, Alice Lloyd College, Pippa Passes, Ky. 41844. # Disaster Centers Close; Assistance Yet Available

Twenty-one federal and state Disaster Assistance Centers closed their doors last Thursday after seven days of interviewing Kentucky county residents who suffered losses and damage from recent storms, floods and tornadoes which struck the eastern part of the state.

Nearly 6000 registrations were received at the one-stop centers which served 23 counties, including Floyd, Bell, Breathitt, Clay, Knott, Knox, Perry, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Pike, Laurel, Whitley, Casey, Estill, Harlan, Johnson, Lee, Owsley, Wayne, Pulaski and Adair.

The majority of applications were for temporary housing (more than 3400), individual and family grants (more than 4300) and SBA loans (more than 2300).

In addition, the Internal Revenue Service interviewed nearly 2900 potential recipients for income tax adjustments and more than 700 residents applied for Disaster Unemployment Assistance.

Despite the center closings, Paul E. Hall, federal coordinating officer, emphasized that residents can continue to apply for assistance until July 16.

"Most assistance programs may be applied for over a period of 60 days from the date of the President's declaration," he said. "The federal and state agencies called in to spearhead the recovery program will remain on the scene until work is done and we will advise late applicants who to contact."

A Disaster Referral List has been compiled to help direct residents who have not already registered at the centers to appropriate federal and state agencies.

Residents who filed applications for assistance at the centers are now being visited by representatives of the appropriate agencies to help determine losses and review program procedures.

Loss verifiers have been provided with color-coded identification cards which residents are asked to check before permitting entry into their homes. Card colors for temporary housing verifiers are green; individual and family grants are white, and the Small Business Administration are blue.

Temporary Housing officials also continue to seek rental properties which may be used as temporary homes for stricken families whose residences are uninhabitable. Anyone with available rental units is urged to call the Temporary Housing Office in Paintsville at 606-789-7039. Collect calls will be accepted.

HEALTHY GUM TISSUE

Q. Just how vital to dental health is the condition of gum tissue.

A. It is absolutely essential for gum tissue to be healthy because that tissue forms the supporting structure for all your teeth and holds them in place. If cared for properly, your gums should keep your teeth firmly rooted for a lifetime of chewing. Sad to relate, more adults lose teeth because of diseased tissue than through decay or other tooth problems.

Unfortunately, problem tissue gives no warning; it doesn't hurt until it reaches an advanced stage of disease.

Many factors effect the health of these important gum tissues. Plaque and tartar caused by improper and poor oral hygiene are the primary causes of gum disease. Improper bite is another cause. Allergies, infectious diseases, poor nutrition, worn fillings or inlays, and tar-tar deposit also play negative roles.

ATTEND HOMEMAKERS CAMP

The 13th annual Homemakers' Cultural Arts Camp was held May 22-24 at the Diederich 4-H Club Camp, at Rush, Kentucky. Some of the highlights of the meeting were: the making of a quilt, the decoration of food, and the making of cross-stitch badges for the National Homemakers' meeting to be held in Louisville in August. Mrs. Mary Sue Moore, a member of the Prestonsburg Day Homemakers' Club, taught a class in "Cutwork Embroidery," and Patty Rai Smith, Extension specialist from the University of Kentucky, presented a program on "Crafts Marketing." The Pike County Cloggers helped to furnish the entertainment, and a Western barbeque and a "show-and-tell" session were also enjoyed. Mrs. Frances Pitts, Floyd county home economist, and these Floyd county homemakers attended: Mesdames Phyllis Herrick, Mary Sue Moore, Margie Sammons, Helen Boyd, Alda Gibson, Susan Goins, Judy Kittle, Ora Bussey, Dorothy Stover, Dorothy Harris and Arnita Snavelly.

DINNER GUESTS

Mrs. Anna May Mellon entertained to dinner at May Lodge, Thursday of last week, William G. Davidson, of Houston, Texas, Mrs. Josephine Fields and Mrs. Virginia Shivel, of Prestonsburg.

Program To Honor Safe Drivers Here

A special driver safety program jointly sponsored by the Independent Insurance Agents of Kentucky and the Kentucky State Police will recognize 10 safe drivers in each county of the state. State Police troopers will cite the 10 safe drivers from each county during the Memorial Day week-end, and from these 10 one name will be drawn at random to receive a $10 reward for safe driving. All Floyd county drivers cited will receive a certificate signed by the commissioner of State Police and Blaine R. Hall, of Prestonsburg, representative of the insurance group. The $10 award will be made later by Mr. Hall and a state trooper.

Apparently, the driving record of Floyd motorists was unmarred by a highway fatality during the week-end.

WAYS AND WAYS

There are two sides to every question, two extremes to everything. There is a way, which we like to believe the right way, the "happy medium."

Senator Edward I. Edwards, of New Jersey, is no less an offender than are we. In one respect he is a worse. Mr. Edwards is a gifted man.

Senator Edwards is the relentless foe of Prohibition. He cannot give it its due. The whole fabric is woven of rotten thread.

As witness his attack made in a current magazine upon the federal prohibition agents.

"The federal men," Mr. Edwards said, "have slain about 200 men, and I have read the 'depositions' from the treasury department of 152 killings by federal agents, with some 84 other cases when deaths have occurred at the hands of local officers."

Human life is a precious thing; its wanton destruction is a crime which should not only be decried by every right-thinking man and woman but also punished to the utmost by those who are empowered to do so.

While there are officers, just as there are other men in all organizations, who are unscrupulous and would kill deliberately and in cold blood, it must be remembered that many officers are slain also by moonshiners and bootleggers and others of their ilk.

If we would consider the cost in human life of Prohibition, let us inquire not only into the number of violators who have been shot down in cold blood by officers but also into the number of officers who have been murdered by moonshiners and bootleggers.

This question of Prohibition is a great one. It may be an issue in the next presidential campaign. If it is, view the matter with a vision unclouded by the prejudices created by your own tastes.

A GREAT SPIRIT

President Coolidge referred, a few nights ago in a speech, to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh as "The Spirit of America," and it appears that he has thus paid both America and the intrepid young flier honor.

This personification of "The Spirit of America" is young, clean, brave, generous, human. He is more. He is keenly alive and active. And his final great attribute is self-effacement, modesty, unselfishness—call it what you like.

His spirit being that of an idealized American, would well be emulated by all Americans. Lindbergh has merged self with a greater purpose. Little ego remains. Instead of talking of his own epochal exploit, he turns to visions of a future for aviation, instead of losing his head amid all the adulation of millions, as would be the tendency of half of the country's population, were its age twice that of Lindbergh.

Lindbergh has a true greatness about him. His is not a nature of selfishness; it is, rather, one of altruism as the term applies to his profession. He is a blessed relief from the host of those whose tongues eternally linger upon "I."

PARK PROJECT GETS INTEREST

With the state dinner drawing leading citizens of Kentucky from all parts of the state into Louisville on Friday, November 18, and with the organization of volunteer workers proceeding briskly, developments in the Mammoth Cave National Park project are assuming the peak of importance in the minds of Kentuckians.

Under the leadership of Congressman Maurice H. Thatcher, National Chairman, and Tom Wallace, State Chairman, the organization of 8,000 volunteer workers who will conduct the drive is maturing. Sponsors of the effort point out that a National Park in Kentucky will be within a day's ride of 76,000,000 people of the East and Middle West.

Consequently the appeal is to the business judgment of Kentuckians, as well as to their state pride and ideals of achievement.

Congress has authorized the acceptance of the Mammoth Cave area as a National Park, but has specified it must be a gift to the nation. Consequently it can be created as a national park only through public contribution.

James C. Utterback has been named regional chairman for the Paducah region, with C. W. Craig, vice chairman. Cecil T. Williams has been named chairman of Somerset region. Other regions in which chairmen have been named are: Bowling Green, Dr. H. H. Cherry; Covington, Brent Spence; Elizabethtown, William C. Montgomery; Hazard, Jesse Morgan, and Owensboro, Mark Stuart.

LOCAL NET FIVES PLAY SATURDAY

Prestonsburg's representatives in basketball, both boys and girls, will face teams of other schools this week-end for the first time this season.

At Lackey Friday afternoon, the boys' team of Prestonsburg Hi will meet the Lackey school quintet in its first game.

On the following day at Maytown both boys' and girls' teams from Prestonsburg will engage the boys' and girls' teams of the high school there. Maytown has an excellent record this year, the boys' team being defeated only by the Caney Creek Community Center five, and Saturday's game will extend the local team, with its slight experience, to the limit.

Those who will see action in the boys game will be John Hunley, forward; Heber Burke, forward; Malcolm Johnson, center; Wesley Campbell, guard; Frank Friend, guard; Wallace Rose, forward; Donald Mellon, forward.

Girls who may play in the Maytown game are: Mary Coyer, forward; Irene Patton, forward; Opal Hunley, center; Margaret Dingus, guard; Ruth Belcher, guard; Angeline Layne, guard; Fay Alley, forward.

All of those named may be given the opportunity to participate in the games, so that Coach Allison may be enabled to pick the players who may be depended upon for future games.

Miss Edna Nunnery, who is a student at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Nunnery.

MARRIAGES INCREASE, AND SO DO DIVORCES

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 4.—Marriages increased 382 and divorces increased 350 during 1926 in Kentucky, the Department of Commerce at Washington reports.

The report shows that there were 28,585 marriages performed in this state in 1926, and 4,514 divorces were granted. In 1925 the marriages numbered 28,202 and the divorces 4,164.

While both showed increases the divorces led in the percentage column, being 1.79 per 1,000 in 1926, as compared to 1.66 in 1925. The marriages increased from 11.2 to 11.3 during the year, giving the divorces an edge of .03 per cent increase in that year.

The percentage was based on an estimated population in Kentucky in 1925 of 2,508,000, which was placed at 2,524,000 in 1926.

Seven annuities were recorded during 1926, the first year such a record has been kept.

Campbell county led with the marriages of 3,356, while Jefferson headed the divorces with 1,111.

The 1926 marriages and divorces of a number of Kentucky counties follow:

Table with columns: Mar., Div., and county names (Boyd, Campbell, Christian, Daviess, Fayette, Franklin, Graves, Greenup, Harlan, Henderson, Jefferson, Kenyon, Letcher, McCracken, Madison, Muhlenberg, Perry, Pike) with corresponding counts.

CLEAN-UP in the Dewey Lake environs have been in progress since recent flooding and although the state park pool and golf course are now open, removal of litter from roadsides and elsewhere will be a slow, frustrating task, according to Jenny Wiley Manager Leon Russell. "The job is going to require picking up the debris largely by hand," Russell said. Workmen are pictured above cleaning up the miniature golf course.

Bell Reduces Charges For Flood Repairs

As Kentucky's flood victims last week began cleaning up their homes and businesses, South Central Bell lowered its charges for replacing telephone wiring inside homes and offices during flood restoration efforts.

"We already have our crews working in the area, and this work doesn't cost us as much," said Art Willett, manager for South Central Bell. "We want to pass these savings along to our customers."

"We certainly want to ease the burden on these people trying to get their lives back in order," said Willett. "Many of these folks went through this during the 1977 flood, but now there is an important difference in getting their phone service back in working order."

"This is the first disaster since the telephone industry was deregulated," he explained, "and our employees are no longer allowed to routinely repair telephone sets or replace wiring inside homes and businesses."

—Once telephone jacks and wire are under water, they begin to corrode and won't work. They must be replaced.

—Because this area of the telephone business is competitive, customers are responsible for replacing their own jacks, wire and telephone sets inside their home or business.

—Customers have three options: They can replace these themselves, have a contractor do it, or have Bell do it.

—If customers want to do the wiring themselves, materials are available at many hardware and electronics stores. Instructions for installing inside wire and jacks are available from Bell repair employees and at flood centers.

—Telephone sets that need repairing can be returned to wherever a customer bought it. Phones can be purchased from numerous suppliers.

—If customers want Bell to replace their wiring, Bell technicians can do so at reduced rates as they check homes and businesses door-to-door.

—Bell customers may call Bell's business office about extended payments on the wiring changes.

—All flood victims are encouraged to check with their insurance companies on whether phone-repair expenses are covered.

"We have about 250 people working to restore service to flood-stricken areas," said Willett. "It's a big job that will cost around $5.5 million, but it could have been even worse had we not taken preventive measures after the devastating flooding in 1977."

"Then and today, we move poles, cable and other transmission equipment to higher ground out of the flood plain rather than simply replacing them in the same spot," he said. "At river crossings we use a 35-foot pole instead of a 25-foot one."

"It may cost a little more now," Willett said, "but it sure pays off in the long run. It's already meant less damage in areas flooded this week that were also flooded in 1977."

Jenny Wiley Needs Dogs

Is your dog just itching to get out of the house and make it big? If so, the Jenny Wiley Theatre may offer your pet its big break.

Two dogs are needed for the theatre's production of ANNIE. One dog is to play Sandy, the stray which Annie finds on the streets of New York. Another is to play the role of the "small dog" which appears in one scene.

"In all seriousness, the dogs are very important to the success of the show," says Keith Stevens, managing director of the Jenny Wiley Theatre. "You just can't do ANNIE without a Sandy."

Both dogs must be well-behaved and good with children. Sandy "should look similar to the movie Sandy," said Stevens. The dog should be of a sandy color, and be about 2 to 2½ feet tall. The small dog should be a miniature. In addition, the small dog is picked up and carried in the course of its scene, so it needs to be amenable to being handled.

"Both dogs also should be able to be made to look like strays," Stevens added.

There is a fee paid to the owners of the dogs. If you have a dog which you think could play Sandy or the small dog, call the Jenny Wiley Theatre at 886-9274.

Diabetes Classes Available at HRMC

Hospitalization costs for individuals with diabetes is 27% greater than that of non-diabetics. A key to keeping a lid on these costs is prevention of complications, and a new program at HRMC will teach diabetics these methods they can use.

"Living Well With Diabetes" classes will be conducted in the HRMC cafeteria in two sessions. Today (Wednesday) from 2:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m., experts will discuss skin, foot, and mouth care, medications, complications and how to stay in good control. The following Wednesday, June 6, from 2:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m., the program will feature the topics of diabetic meal planning, exercise, urine testing, and home blood glucose monitoring. Since diabetics share common problems, problem-solving discussions will be an important part of these classes. Recipes and information on diabetic concerns will be available to participants.

Newly diagnosed diabetics, the families who care for diabetics and those who have coped with the disease for years are encouraged to attend these programs. "Prevention is the preferred medicine," said Linda Campbell, a program instructor, "and our classes are geared to provide motivation and information for diabetics."

Instructors will be Carol Hollon, registered dietician with the Paintsville Health Department; Sue Wilkerson, director of food services at HRMC; Pat Willis, R.N., nursing education coordinator; Linda Campbell, registered dietician at HRMC, and Gary Knight, registered physical therapist and chief of the HRMC Physical Therapy Department.

Highlands Regional's "Living Well With Diabetes" is a cooperative effort with the Kentucky Diabetes Control Program. The four-hour classes will be repeated on a monthly basis. For further information, call Sue Wilkerson at 886-8511, extension 556.

IN MEMORIAM

Two hearts of gold stopped beating Their shining eyes at rest God broke our hearts to prove to us That He only takes the best God knows they had to leave us But they didn't go alone For a part of us went with them The day He took them home.

To some they are forgotten To others they are part of the past But to us who loved and lost them Their memory will always last

It's a lonesome home without them And sad has been the way For life and home are not the same Since they both were called away So if you have a Mom or Dad Cherish them in a loving way You'll never know real heartache Until God has called them away.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Nellie Martin Shelton, who passed away May 30, 1983.

"WHY NOT?" A year has nearly passed now, Since Mom has left our home, and again I sit and wonder Most often when I'm alone. God must have had a reason for taking one so dear. His purpose, though, once seemed doubtful and very selfishly unclear.

For Mom was such a woman that words cannot explain. She was LOVE and a smiling face in sunshine and in rain.

A witty type was Mother, and her stories we remember well and listening to loud music well. Mom would always tell—"That Great High Mountain or Old Ship of Zion, Boys you've just got to play".... Perhaps, God in his wisdom, was preparing Mom that day.

The questions we've had earlier Now seem to disappear, For the questions of "Why Mom?"—I've asked suddenly are crystal clear.

The "Whys" I asked not long ago have now become "Why Nots" For Jesus in his Master Plan prepared for Mom a spot.

Mom, I hope, is now happy and no longer feels the pain. She now walks and sees our loneliness and her death was not in vain.

For through her life, though simple, We honestly felt love, and someday through the time and tears We'll be with her above.

She'll call me "Bud" and pat my hand and she'll take me on a tour of our new home with its flowers so colorful and grandeur.

And I'll hug you as I use to, Mom and we'll talk the whole night through, but I'm sure you'll have new stories now so we'll have "catching up"—to do.

But through the years we'll miss you, Mom, as we still daily do, But we'll be thinking, "Why not, Lord" 'Cause He gave us time with you.

Written by Pat Shelton
Sadly missed by Dad and all my brothers and sisters.

Family ties are precious things Woven through the years Of memories of togetherness... Of laughter, love and tears. Family ties are cherished things Forged in childhood days By love of parents, deep and true, And sweet familiar ways. Family ties are treasured things, And far though we may roam, The tender bonds with those we love Still pull our hearts toward home. BETTY ALLEN FRANCES

By J.T. YURKO

George Carlin once commented that baseball was a much "nicer" game than football, maybe even a bit corny. In football men wear helmets, but in baseball men wear cute little caps. In football the object is to drive over your opponents to score, yet in baseball all the players really want is to run home.

Baseball is all-American, conjuring up images of Sunday afternoons, trading cards, childhood heroes and hot dogs. At least it did before the time of free agents, multi-million-dollar contracts, strikes and George Steinbrenner.

"The Natural" is set in those simpler times which may now seem just a bit old-fashioned or even corny, just like this film.

Robert Redford plays the title role of a down-home kid from Anytown USA who is obviously destined to be a superstar. He gets side-tracked, however, by a rather bizarre meeting with a baseball groupie in a hotel room. Dissolve to a sub title that reads

Bank Employees Give During Donor Day

By PAT PHILLIPS
Thursday, April 19, was Donor Day for employees of the Bank Josephine. There were sixteen donors from that group at the Prestonsburg Donor Center. Thanks is extended to Priscilla Merritt, chairwoman, and to the following who registered to donate: Mizi Hughes, Janie King, Marlene Moore, Claudia Frady, Janie Lemaster, Cathy Goble, Connie Slone, Earlene Lawson, Larry Daniels, Dexter Reiffett, Elissa Bailey, Sharon Tackett, Thomas Stewart, Tommie Branham, Virginia McGuire, Kathy Castle and Shular Hurd.

Sierra Coal and Matewan Minerals, Inc. Donor Day will be Thursday, May 10, at the Donor Center from noon to 8 p.m. Contact Gene Davis at 886-3000 for more information. Employees of the Victoria Coal Company in Evanston will donate at a blood drive, Friday, May 11, from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m. The mobile crew will move to Lambrix to welcome donors from the Wiley Coal Co. offices from 1 to 5 p.m. For more details, contact Jody Sword at 884-2114.

In an average day 170 pints of blood and blood components are transfused to patients in 44 Kentucky hospitals supplied by the Central Kentucky Blood Center. The demand for blood increases daily as medical research leads to development of new therapy and better surgical techniques. There is just one source for the blood which patients need: volunteer blood donors.

Each pint of donated blood is used for three patients. The amount of blood available is directly related to the amount recently donated. You may be able to help save lives. Call the Prestonsburg Donor Center at 886-1557 or come in on Tuesdays from 10 a.m.-6 p.m.; Thursdays, noon-8 p.m., or Saturdays, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. The staff welcomes anyone who wishes to support the Floyd County blood program.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL
Mrs. Alta Fields, of Allen was a patient a few days last week at the Paul B. Hall Medical Center, Paintsville. She is now showing some improvement at her home.

The fear that he might conceal a joke was said to be one reason that Benjamin Franklin was not entrusted to write the Declaration of Independence.

The Rev. Jennings Irvin West is being welcomed to the community as the new pastor of the Lancer Baptist Church where he will conduct services Sunday, June 3.

A native of Pikeville, Rev. West comes to the Lancer church from the Feds Creek Baptist Church where he has been pastor since 1973. He has also been pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Gilbert W. Va., and the Jeff Baptist Church at Jeff, Ky.

He is married to the former Arlene Ball, of Alex, and they are the parents of three children.

The Maytown & Wayland United Methodist Churches present the film seminar "THE FAMILY: God's Pattern for Living" a six-part 16mm film seminar with John MacArthur, Jr. Produced by the Moody Institute of Science, a ministry of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, these films present the Biblical mandate for the Christian family. Dr. John MacArthur, Jr., well-known pastor, author, radio and conference speaker, offers Biblical solutions to the issues that are breaking today's homes apart. Each 50-minute film is introduced by Assistant Chief of Police of Los Angeles, Robert L. Vernon, who prepares the audience for Dr. MacArthur's message. Each film addresses a different topic. "God's Pattern For Relationships" presents an overview of the specific roles of individual family members, and the necessity for submission to God's authority. "God's Pattern For Wives," and "God's Pattern For Husbands," focus on the Biblical roles of the man and woman in the marriage relationship. "God's Pattern For Children," and "God's Pattern For Parents," examines the inter-relationships between children and parents in the Christian home. The final title, "God's Pattern Broken—Divorce and Remarriage," faces a difficult subject with sensitivity and Biblical perspective. Encourage your friends to come with you to see each film. • May 27—"God's Pattern For Children" "God's Pattern For Parents"—6:00 p.m. at Wayland • June 3—"God's Pattern Broken—Divorce & Remarriage"—7:00 p.m. at Maytown

The Old Swimmin' Hole

The old swimming hole's not what it used to be. Nowadays, silt ponds are sometimes put to such use, and, according to a spokesman at the Bureau of Surface Mines here, this was among the things that caused damage to at least one of the silt ponds located on Rough and Tough, on the right fork of Middle Creek.

Residents there became alarmed recently by deep gullies running from the ponds, especially in view of the continuing rainfall and rising water levels. Members of the Middle Creek Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad made an emergency, after-dark inspection of the silt ponds Monday, May 7. When they found them, in their words, "to be in deteriorated condition," squad members returned with Bill Callihan, area Civil Defense director, and together they monitored the situation until 1 a.m., Tuesday. Later that day, they and a member of a mining engineering firm met at the site with state surface mine inspectors.

It was found that a board had been placed across one end of the larger pond, apparently to deepen the water level for swimming purposes. This engineering feat had proved too successful in that it had caused the water to overflow the pond cutting deep gullies such as the one shown in the accompanying photo.

Although there was said to be no danger from the ponds—one holding 500,000 gallons of water and the other 350,000 gallons—repair has already been made by the Wolverine Coal Company.

HOW MUCH ABOUT DEATH CAN A CHILD UNDERSTAND
The young child of three to five usually understands little of death and seems to be disturbed about it for only a short time or for short intervals.
The child from five to nine may express guilt remembering past feelings and quarrels with the deceased. They will be very much influenced by the way in which adults in the family behave during the death and funeral.
Of utmost importance to children of any age is that they receive the support of a loving adult to help sort out their feelings, assure them that they are in no way responsible for the death, and encourage them to share their feelings with you.
If you have a question feel free to contact us. Sometimes we can be of help in lightening your load in these intensely personal situations.

Plan For Next Timber Crop

Many landowners cut themselves out of the timber business by thinking only of immediate profit in making their harvesting decisions, says a University of Kentucky forester.

"Many timber owners think nature will replace valuable trees following a harvest, but that's not always the case. A stand of trees tends to decline in quality when left to regenerate naturally," said Douglas J. McLaren, Extension forester in the UK College of Agriculture headquartered at Robinson Substation near Quicksand.

Timber is usually sold while it is still standing, and the buyer harvests only that of the highest quality, leaving the less desirable trees to replace the high quality trees that have been removed.

"This reduces the genetic potential of the stand. Those trees remaining, the culls, are usually of poor quality in present and potential value," McLaren said.

In addition, he said even if the good trees had a chance to leave some seeds, the poor quality trees remaining overshadow the seedlings, preventing them from growing satisfactorily.

While a timber buyer is likely to offer the highest price if there are no restrictions on the harvest, McLaren suggests that timber owners include some provisions for reforestation in the contract.

"The contract between the timber owner and the logger should stipulate what trees will be left and how much damage to the site will be tolerated.

"Careless logging practices can lead to machinery being run into trees, logs and chains being dragged around and against trees, and other types of damage. Small trees left for later harvest can be seriously damaged and their quality 10 to 20 years later will be significantly reduced," McLaren said.

Once the harvester has removed all the high-quality timber and has stacked all the trash resulting from the harvesting operation, the remaining low-quality timber can be sold as firewood or once the harvester has removed all the high-quality timber, this will give the seedlings the space and sunlight they need to provide another high-quality, profitable crop in the years to come.

Ky. National Guard At Camp Grayling

CAMP GRAYLING, Mich.—The first of more than 4,000 members of the Kentucky Army National Guard will begin reporting here Wednesday, May 30, to prepare for their first major visit to this 16,000-acre installation on Michigan's Central Peninsula.

The Prestonsburg based First Battalion, 149th Infantry (Mechanized) is among the guard units in camp. The Kentucky units will return home June 17.

Parental Involvement Sought

In an effort to bridge the gap between schools and parents, the Kentucky Department of Education has formed a Parental Involvement Task Group, which hopes to remove some of the barriers to parental involvement in schools.

The group, which held its first meeting Saturday in Elizabethtown, is composed of parents, teachers, principals, counselors, school social workers, and Department of Education staff.

In stressing the importance of the group's task, state PTA president Iris Irish said, "Parent involvement is a crucial component in our quest for educational excellence in Kentucky. It has been proven that those schools which discourage parent involvement also place low in student achievement scores."

Echoing that sentiment, Robert Anderson, principal of Harrodsburg's Harlow Elementary School, said, "I really believe that parent involvement has a profound effect on how students perform in school."

Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald commended the formation of the task force. "Our schools cannot improve unless everyone gets involved—parents, teachers, administrators, students, and communities. I applaud the efforts of this group and I stand ready to do whatever I can to help achieve its goals."

Two New Postmasters Installed Last Week

Two new Floyd county postmasters took the oath of office last Friday.

Anna Lou Spradlin, who joined the U.S. Postal Service at the Grethel post-office in October 1978, was sworn in as postmaster at Grethel and Rhonda Meade, former distributing clerk at the McDowell postoffice became postmaster at that office.

The appointments were announced by Harry Hall, sectional center manager-postmaster at Ashland, who administered the oaths of office.

Ms. Spradlin succeeds Richard Gore, former postmaster, who was reassigned to another office. The office serves an area population of approximately 1,000, including 50 general delivery families, 143 star route boxes and 78 lock box customers. She has previously served as a distribution clerk in the Pikeville postoffice, and as officer-in-charge at the Grethel office.

Ms. Meade succeeds Anna Rae Hall, former postmaster, who retired last January. The McDowell office serves an area population of approximately 1,200, including 25 general delivery families, serving 444 lock box customers and 140 star route boxes. She previously served as postmaster relief replacement at the McDowell postoffice, beginning in 1980.

State Unemployment Drops

Kentucky's preliminary unemployment rate for April was 9.4 percent, the lowest rate since last December, when it was 9.1 percent, according to figures released today by the Cabinet for Human Resources. The April figure is seven-tenths of a percent below the revised March rate of 10.1 percent. Nationally the rate was 7.6 percent for April, down from 8.1 percent in March. "Employment has been increasing steadily since December," said state labor market analyst Ed Blackwell. "An estimated 1,570,500 people were employed in April, the fourth highest employment figure on record for Kentucky." The April figure is 21,100 higher than March's 1,549,400, and shows 81,600 more people working than in April 1983, when an estimated 1,488,900 Kentuckians had jobs.

"Employment in manufacturing of transportation equipment, mostly automobiles, increased by 200 over March and is 2,700 higher than it was a year ago," Blackwell said. Other manufacturing sectors where employment gains were reported were textiles and apparel, up 400 over March and 600 higher than April 1983; petroleum, rubber and plastic products, up 300 over March and 1,300 higher than a year ago; primary metals, up 200 over the previous month and 800 over the April 1983 figure; lumber and furniture, up 100 over March and 1,500 higher than last April; and stone, clay and glass products, 100 higher than March and 500 higher than April 1983.

In nonmanufacturing jobs, gains were reported in services, up 5,500 over March and 4,600 over last April; trade, up 1,300 over March and 4,400 above the April 1983 figure; construction, up 1,100 over March and 4,900 over last April; bituminous coal mining, up 600 over March and last April; and transportation, communications and utilities, up 400 over March and 1,200 over April 1983.

Meanwhile, the number of unemployed, which has dropped steadily since it surged upward in January, stood at 163,700 in April, compared to 174,000 in March and 218,300 in April 1983, when the rate was 12.8 percent.

The civilian labor force estimate for April was 1,734,700. "This is the second highest figure on record for the state's labor force," Blackwell said, "surpassed only by the 1,747,800 estimate for June 1983." In March the state labor force estimate was 1,723,400. Last April it was 1,707,200. The civilian labor force includes only non-military persons who are employed and unemployed people actively seeking jobs. It does not include those people who are unemployed and have stopped looking for work.

To Wed June 23

Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. (Tony) Arms, of Hager Hill, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Toni Jean, to Mark Anthony Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Murray, of Sitka.

Wedding vows will be exchanged in an open church ceremony at 2:30 p.m., Saturday, June 23, at the Sitka Free Will Baptist Church.

The bride-elect is a 1980 graduate of Johnson Central High School and is employed by Prestonsburg Community College.

Mr. Murray is a 1983 graduate of Morehead State University and is employed by Triple Elkhorn Mining.

Steps Toward Salvaging Flood-Damaged Orchards

Orchards of fruit and nut trees can be more sensitive to flooding than other types of trees, especially if they are leafed out and growing when floods hit.

Dr. John C. Strang, Extension specialist in fruits and vegetables with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, said many Kentucky orchards may have been affected by recent floods.

"Those orchard owners who have not already done so should begin salvaging flood-damaged trees. There are six key steps which can help keep flooded trees in production," Strang said.

Drain orchards as soon as possible by digging new drainage or by pumping. Standing water can cause root suffocation. Apple and pear trees are slightly more resistant to root suffocation than are stone fruit trees, Strang said.

Cover exposed roots with soil or mulch to prevent exposure to the sun.

Set up trees that have been knocked down or washed out. Trees should be straightened while the soil is still wet. Use props, stakes or guy wires to hold the trees in place until the roots have re-established themselves, Strang said.

Remove silt from roots. If a foot or more of silt has been deposited around trees, root systems may suffer from lack of air.

"Hold off on fertilizing. Don't fertilize exposed feeder roots until they have been covered, and then use less than the usual amount of fertilizer to avoid burning the roots. Broadcasting rather than banding the fertilizer will reduce the chance of injury to the roots," Strang said.

Prevent further erosion. Brush, prunings or other material can be used to block gullies. Heavy equipment should be kept out of the orchard as long as the soil remains wet.

Democrats To Hold District, State Meets At Frankfort, Saturday

Saturday is Roundup Day for Kentucky Democrats when they hold their congressional and state conventions.

All congressional district conventions will be held at 10 a.m. at the Civic Center, Frankfort, with the exception of the third district which will be held at the Capital Plaza Tower cafeteria (next to the Civic Center) in Frankfort. The state convention will begin at 2 p.m., at the Frankfort Civic Center.

County delegates elected at the April 28 county conventions will constitute the voting members at both conventions.

Agenda items include the election of the new party chairman and vice-chairman, the new State Central Executive Committee which will serve for the next four years and Presidential electors. They will also vote on the passage of proposed party by-laws revisions.

There's a look to the South, this season, and it's not very pretty. Forests burned out by Wildfire, because someone was careless. Seek advice from your forestry agent before burning trash or debris. You can help make the difference.

Kirby plays a variety of instruments, among them the banjo, fiddle, mandolin, guitar, harmonica and jaw harp. They will also perform in concert one evening of the week.

The McLain Family Band, an internationally known bluegrass band from Berea, will perform on Wednesday evening. Following is the schedule for the Folk Evenings: Monday, June 11, Rich Kirby and Tom Bledsoe; Tuesday, June 12, Open Folk Dancing; Wednesday, June 13, McLain Family Band; Thursday, June 14, staff and local Musicians; Friday, June 15, Jean Ritchie and Edna Ritchie Baker. Each of the Folk Evenings begins at 8 and is free to the public.

Throughout the week there will be sessions on the banjo, fiddle, guitar and the dulcimer. In the crafts area Folk Week offers classes in quiltmaking, cornshuck doll-making, lap dulcimer building and basketmaking.

New to the extended Settlement staff family this year is Rachael Nash Law, a master basketmaker from Magoffin county. Mrs. Law studied a year in West Germany's National School for Basketmaking. Since Folk Week is for the entire family, special activities are planned for the children ages 4-12. In addition to the many scheduled events for adults and children participants, there will be available a large playing field, a swimming pool, and hiking opportunities.
