Insurance Bids Effect Savings By Floyd Board

Following a recommendation of state education officials, the Floyd Board of Education this year advertised for bids on insurance for the school bus fleet. The move resulted in substantial savings over previous years. At the same time, the level of coverage was brought up to the minimum recommended by the state.

The Walter P. Walters insurance agency, of Pikeville, submitted the lowest of four bids opened at last week's regular board meeting, offering to insure the Floyd district's 89 buses and other vehicles for an annual premium of $26,775. The school system paid about $35,000 last year for much less coverage, said board treasurer Ray Brackett.

Rather than advertise for bids, a practice not required by law, Floyd has customarily negotiated directly with local agencies for insurance coverage. But, after a survey showed a wide disparity in the premiums paid by different school districts, state Department of Education officials urged local boards to advertise for bids this year.

According to the state survey, the average yearly premium paid last year by school districts which got at least two bids was $160 per vehicle, with an (See Story No. 1, Page 4)

Work on the road, which is being built at a cost of $810,588 by the H. & S. Curci Outlines Plan To Enlist Various Groups

Know a service organization, high school basketball team, church youth group, some Scouts or Little Leaguers who would like to earn some money before the summer is out? Want to see Dewey Lake cleaned up? A program launched here this week will allow you to hit both birds with the one stone.

Two meetings presided over by state Parks Commissioner Fran Curci—who insisted on the second meeting when the first proved inconclusive—worked out details of a plan organizers hope will bring together volunteer workers from a wide variety of organizations for a week-long clean-up of the trash and debris littering the banks of the lake from the dam to the German bridge.

The shoreline will be divided into sections and community groups will draw for a section that they will then be responsible to clean up. County trucks will pick up the bagged garbage. A hired crew will haul off heavy objects like appliances and tree stumps.

Organizers are working out details of a contest to help get the adrenalin flowing and the week will end with a swimming party and picnic for those who participate. But perhaps the biggest draw will be the chance for groups to earn some money.

Depending on the size and state of the tract to which they are assigned, groups will be paid up to $500 for a job well done, organizers said. The money will come from state funds earmarked for the clean-up by the General Assembly earlier this year.

Hearing Here Monday To Air Flood Claims

In response to oft-heard complaints about the slow processing of National Flood Insurance Program claims after the May flood, U.S. Senator Walter D. Huddleston has called for a public hearing to investigate reported problems.

The hearing will be held at Prestonsburg Community College next Monday, from 9:30 a.m. till noon.

Most of those who will testify at the hearing here have already been invited to speak, according to Gary Auxier, spokesman for Senator Huddleston, but others who would voice specific complaints are expected to be heard at another hearing to be held at 1:30 p.m. the same day at the Johnson county courthouse in Paintsville.

A disaster news release says the National Flood Insurance Program has paid more than 2700 claims, including almost 800 advance partial payments, for a total in excess of $19.7 million.

Other information contained in the same news release follows:

Claims money is available to flood insurance policyholders in Kentucky who experienced losses, but, according to administrators of the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), many eligible property owners have not yet settled their claims. Registered NFIP adjusters in Kentucky were instructed to conclude their assignments by July 7 or as soon thereafter as possible.

Policyholders in need of assistance in settling their claims should contact the NFIP Flood Insurance Claims Office (FICO) in Pikeville, Ky., at 606-432-0824, 0825, 0826 or 0827 between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, or between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Saturdays.

Programs providing assistance to individuals, families and businesses reported the following data as of June 30:

Small Business Administration—Nearly 700 applications for loans to homeowners and businesses have been returned and are being processed.

Temporary housing—More than 1,600 eligible applicants have been assisted. Of these, more than 1,100 have received funds for minimal repairs to their homes, more than 300 have been placed in private rentals, and more than 80 have been placed in mobile homes on private or commercial sites. In addition, Temporary Housing has under construction two mobile home group parks in Pike county, and is accepting bids from contractors for pad development at a mobile home group park in Floyd county.

Individual and Family Grants—This program, which is funded 75 percent by the federal government and 25 percent by the state, and is administered by the state, has issued 60 checks. The total paid out is more than $170,000.

"We are making progress," said Paul E. Hall, federal coordinating officer for the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), "but we are not satisfied, and we won't be until the job of helping every eligible (See Story No. 5, Page 4)

Haven't lost any sleep over the fact that the Soviets have decided to sit out the Olympics. But the news that Mexico will skip the games was sorter disturbing till I was reminded that every Mexican who can run, jump or swim is already here.

APOLOGY

If anybody entertains the idea that this small corner of the world ever before enjoyed in the muggy, muggy month of July such weather as we had last weekend, please forward affidavit to that effect, bearing notary's seal and names of witnesses.

A high sky, a cool breeze, no sign, scent or sight of air pollution, the temperature in the 70s—it almost tempted me to try a cross-country hike again.

As a rule, when I drive through town in heavy traffic, it's a chore which finds me crouched over the wheel, the knuckles showing white under the tension, eyes fixed straight ahead; object, to get from here to there with the lowest possible number of casualties.

But, last Saturday afternoon, under the spell of autumn weather in July, I relaxed. At a street intersection sat a man at the wheel of a heavy truck, watching the flow of traffic, up the road, down the road, like watching a tennis match, hoping, I knew, to get onto the (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

Hospital, Workers Agree on Contract For Next 3 Years

Fears of a strike by hospital workers were stilled over the weekend when Highlands Regional Medical Center reached a contract agreement with members of District 1199, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees.

Union members ratified the three-year contract Saturday, hours before their existing contract was due to expire, by a vote of 163 to 23. The pact provides a five percent pay raise each year of the contract and longevity bonuses.

The 250-member union includes licensed practical nurses, technical, service and maintenance employees. In 1981, they agreed on a contract only after a bitter, 105-day strike.

Prestonsburg Firm Finds... It Can Pay To Hire A Vet

Ron Bowling, left, gets some pointers on the workings of a pump from Cort Daniels, III, at the East Equipment Co. shop on U.S. 23 at Katy Friend. Bowling, a Vietnam veteran, was hired by the firm under a federal program which pays employers to hire and train veterans.

If employers want a good deal—a chance to cut their job training costs—they should take a close look at a program authorized by Congress last year and just getting under way in this county, an official in the employment office here said last week.

Under the program, which is designed to help put veterans to work, the federal government will pay half the starting wage for training veterans of the Korean and Vietnam wars, said Claude Ratliff, veterans' employment representative.

An unemployed father of two, with skills nobody seemed to be needing any more, Ron Bowling needed no convincing of the worth of the program. A medic with the U.S. Navy, he was 10 years in the service, including 13 months in Vietnam. After his discharge, he worked seven years as a pulmonary technician with a medical supplies firm. In January, he was laid off.

Perry Summers, operator of East Equipment Co., had a different problem. In just four years on Katy Friend, the business was doing well and could use a new hand—but could hardly afford to pay a competitive salary to someone without experience. He found an answer in the Emergency Veterans' Job Training Program which, simply put, pays employers to hire and train veterans.

As Ratliff explained it, the program will pay employers half the starting salary—for up to 15 months—if they hire and train a Korean or Vietnam vet. The paper work has been cut to a minimum, Ratliff said, and he will handle most of it himself. Approval takes about two weeks.

The program began working here last month, when Ron Bowling began working for East Equipment. After six months "sitting at home watching TV," the 37-year-old former medical technician was clearly elated to be working again and eager to learn the ins and outs of machinery parts.

Summers, too, was pleased with the deal. "It enables us to hire someone who needs experience and wants to work," he said, "and it gets our job done."

Employers who would like more information about the program should call Claude Ratliff at 886-2396.

Board Adopts Plan For Public Relations

Between parents who called for their ouster and retirees who rebuffed their effort to pass a utilities tax, the community was sometimes tough on the Board of Education last year. Perhaps it is understandable, therefore, that a "community relations" program adopted by the board last week is somewhat guarded in tone.

However, while the parents' charges brought to this school district close and continuing attention by the state—two staff members of the state Department of Education monitored last week's meeting as they have done for the past six months—the process which yielded the community relations document was one of the board's own choosing.

It began with a state-designed "self-study"—in which the Floyd board chose to participate in 1982—involving a complex battery of questions intended to measure the school district according to 14 standards.

Community relations was one of the standards. The state posed a number of questions designed to gauge how healthy is the school district's relation with the community and, in June, 1983, reported to the local board on its findings.

The report was gentle enough. It said that community relations were in fairly good shape. But then, it said also that the school bus fleet was in good shape—just weeks before another team of investigators found the school transportation department a shambles and half the bus fleet unfit to carry children.

Critics faulted the self-study for not inviting direct public input, a charge not wanting in irony since—especially under the rubric of community relations—the document quizzed local school officials on precisely that point.

It called the schools the "mutual responsibility" of the board and citizens. It pressed local administrators to say how they went about getting citizens involved in planning curriculum, designing the budget, and evaluating the entire school program.

It said the school district as a whole and individual schools should set up community relations committees.

As part of the accreditation process, the Floyd board was invited to submit a new program of community relations—a program that Asst. Supt., Ron Hager introduced and the board adopted Tuesday, without discussion.

According to the program they adopted, board members are eager to find out what people think of the schools and what they would like to see happening in the schools. They want people to feel "direct responsibility" for the quality of education. They want advice.

In sheer detail, the kind of citizen participation that gets most attention is the use of school facilities by civic organizations, church groups and the like. That runs to five pages—over a quarter of the 19-page document.

Other sections formulate board policy on the posting of notices and advertising (See Story No. 4, Page 4)

Grigsby In Third Term as Schools Chief

E.P. "Pete" Grigsby, Jr., was sworn in last Wednesday as superintendent of Floyd schools, his third term in that office. Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo, a former school board chairman, administered the oath. Grigsby said he hoped to "continue to make the Floyd school district one of the best in Kentucky."

Tough, New Drunk Driver Law In Effect for the Week-End

Although life will be tougher for drunk drivers come Friday, when a new state law takes effect, the penalty for first offenders is not quite as severe as a story in last week's Times suggested.

Although an early version of Senate Bill 20—and a summary of the bill provided last week by District Judge Harold Stumbo—included a mandatory two-day jail term on first conviction, that provision was dropped from the bill's final version.

First offenders will find, nevertheless, that the new law has teeth. It carries an automatic license suspension of 30 days and raises the minimum fine from $100 to $200 for the first offense. Add to that a $150 "service fee"—to cover mandatory treatment for alcohol and substance abuse—and $37.50 in court costs, for a minimum total of $387.50.

Judges can also sentence first offenders to 48-hour to 30-day jail terms. At least 48 hours will be mandatory if a person other than the driver suffered injury as a result of the offense.

The law also provides that a person who scores 15 or more on a breath test remain in jail at least four hours after arrest before he or she can post bond. Under state law, a score of .10 or more is sufficient for conviction.

For a second offense, a driver will be fined between $350 and $500 and sentenced to jail for seven days to six months, with 10 days to six months of community service work. The driver's license could be suspended for 12 months.

Fines for a third drunken driving conviction range from a minimum $500 to $1000. Jail time is 30 days to 12 months, and 30 days of it cannot be suspended.

A driver convicted of a third offense gives up his or her license for at least two years, pays the $150 education fee and may be ordered to perform community service work on a project lasting from 10 days to 12 months.

Son of Prestonsburg Man Named Sailor of the Year

By J.D. McNally
Special to The Times

NORFOLK, Va.—Timothy B. Miller starts each day thinking about what he can do—not what he has to do. The 24-year-old sailor doesn't deal in mediocrity; excellence and extra effort are standards by which he lives, and works.

The commander of the Navy's Atlantic Fleet Training Command recently recognized Miller's determination and named him Sailor of the Year.

Miller, the son of Luther E. Miller of Prestonsburg, and his wife, the former Amy L. Amstutz, of Fort Wayne, Ind., were in Norfolk, Va., during the second week of May, so he could compete for the overall title of Atlantic Fleet Shore Sailor of the Year.

Although another sailor was selected for the overall title, Miller was honored to have reached their level of the competition.

"I was probably more surprised than anything else," he said. "I never really expected to get this far. I do my job, and work as hard as I can at everything I do."

All of the candidates and their spouses were offered complimentary hotel rooms in the resort city of Virginia Beach, Va., and attended many receptions, luncheons and dinners throughout their stay. The wives toured historic Williamsburg, Va., and other area sites. These were all community-sponsored events and of no expense to the Navy.

"We had a fantastic time in Norfolk," he said. "We came up from the naval base in Cuba where the grass is brown, and there's one stop light and two stores."

"My wife is happy for me, because when I made sailor of the year it was as if she made it too. She helps me with everything I do. Family support is very important in a Navy career."

Miller, a gunner's mate, is assigned to the Fleet Training Group in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba—the only U.S. Navy base in a communist country. He instructs shipboard personnel, giving refresher training in all facets of gunnery including various shooting exercises, misfire drills and gun-mount casualty repair.

"The most challenging part of my job is getting the people to realize we're trying to help, not make life miserable for them," the petty officer said. "Sometimes, that's hard to get across to some of the younger men."

He's also the small arms instructor and a customs inspector.

He joined the Navy in June, 1977, and after boot camp and specialty training reported to the Naval Air Station in Norfolk. He has also been assigned to the nuclear-powered cruiser USS Arkansas.

"I knew I was going to be in the Navy when I was five years old," he said. "In the last 30 years my family has about 120 years of experience in the Navy. I have three cousins in the Navy now, and I had two uncles who were at Pearl Harbor; we're a Navy family."

"I joined when I was 17 and hadn't graduated from high school. I grew up fast, learned my job and how to take on responsibility. I've obtained my diploma since then, completed several Navy courses and I'm going to start working on college courses."

Miller has also earned the right to wear the coveted breast insignia of an enlisted surface warfare specialist.

Yet he's not all work. The Kentucky Navyman plays bluegrass music on his banjo during off-duty time.

"There is a club down on the base in Cuba for square dancing which I enjoy, too," he said. "I also referee children's soccer. We try to make the best out of every command that we go to."

EKU Auditorium, Scholarship Honor Allen, Late Librarian

Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, has established a scholarship in honor of the late Dick Mayo Allen, Prestonsburg native, and will name an auditorium in the John Grant Crabbe Library there in his honor.

Allen, a son of Mrs. Anna Mayo Allen, now of Lexington, and the late Edward L. Allen, Prestonsburg attorney, went to EKV in 1957 as librarian and was instrumental in organizing a program in library science and in building a comprehensive book collection at the library. He died in 1981 at the age of 61. He was an alumnus of Eastern Kentucky State College and George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tennessee.

The auditorium, Room 108, will be designated the Dick Mayo Allen Room and appropriate bronze plaques will be placed at the two entrances to the room. The resolution for the memorial to Allen was endorsed by 56 members of the Crabbe Library staff and was approved by the Board of Regents at their meeting in April.

The scholarship was established to "honor Dick Mayo Allen by identifying and recognizing those student assistants who have displayed characteristics of great dependability and outstanding work performance in the John Grant Crabbe Library and its branches" and will be presented annually to a deserving student library assistant.

After a decade of services as director of the Crabbe Library, Allen was named University Bibliographer, a position which fully utilized his considerable knowledge of the book trade and bibliographic sources. Because of the rapport he enjoyed with students, Allen also interviewed and selected those students who would work as assistants in the library. Eventually, this ability to fully understand the relationship between the library and its employees led to his being placed in charge of personnel matters for the library, a post in

P-burg Man's Idea May Help Drunk Driving Problem

A drunk driver chaffeur service may sound like a rather strange undertaking, but Donald L. "Dootney" Horn, who came up with the whole idea, presents a rather convincing argument.

"Say you're at a party or dance or something and you realize you've had too much to drink—instead of trying to drive home, risk hurting yourself or others on the road, and also risking the stiff penalties the law now provides for in drunk driving cases, you simply call a local dispatcher who in turn calls a couple, say a man and wife team, who will, for a fee, come and pick you up, take you and your vehicle home, safe and sound."

That, in a nutshell, is how it works, according to the Prestonsburg man's plan.

Horn figures a $20 charge is reasonable to get the inebriated driver and his family or friends home safely. The driver team would get $15, the dispatcher $2.50 and Horn would collect $2.50 per call resulting in service rendered. Drivers would be strictly non-drinkers with a good driving record.

Horn would like to see the plan catch on statewide and he plans to hire dispatchers for every three-digit prefix number in the area such as 886, 285, 874, etc.

"It would be a great way for people to make a little extra cash by working from home as drivers or dispatchers," Horn commented, "and it would be providing what in many cases might be a life-saving service."

"Everybody would have to benefit," Horn said.

According to his plan, phone numbers would be posted at all area bars or clubs. It would be an advantage to the establishment serving drinks as well, Horn believes, since patrons who are picked up and arrested after leaving a club, for example, are left with a "bad taste" for the place and often do not return. "I think these places would be glad to post numbers and help promote better safety on the highways," Horn said.

He said a number, 886-3900, has already been set up for the Prestonsburg area and he urges anyone interested in becoming involved to write him at Briarwood Addition, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653.

ASSEMBLIES OF GOD CONTINUES RAPID GROWTH

Latest statistics show the Assemblies of God continued its rapid growth rate in 1983, increasing its worldwide constituency to more than 12.5 million and adding nearly 1,500 new churches and outstations around the world.

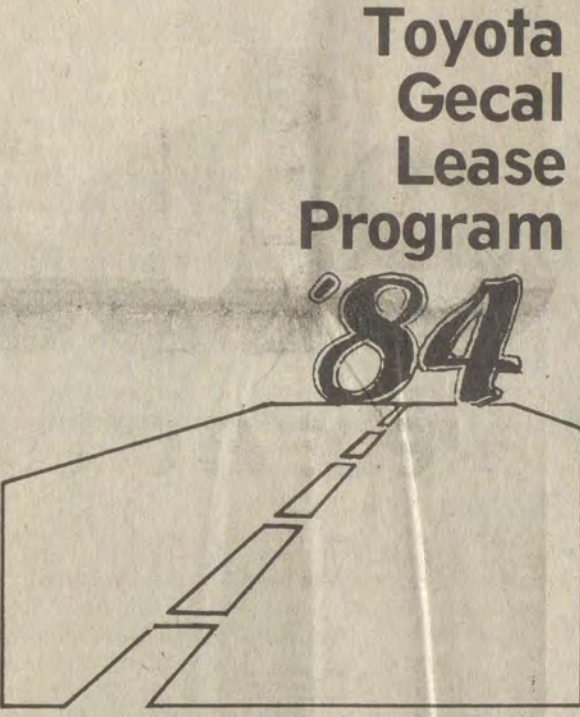

Growth was greatest overseas in the world's largest Pentecostal denomination with increases in all foreign ministries. Foreign members and adherents climbed to 10,559,391 from 10,250,571 in 1982, and 1,261 missionaries now serve in 113 countries in the previously recorded year. Foreign churches and outstations grew to 99,574 in 1983, from 98,318 in 1982. An additional 15 foreign Bible schools were opened.

In the United States, members and adherents numbered 1,992,754 in 10,386 churches in 1983 up from 1,879,182 persons in 10,173 churches in 1982.

The total number of ministers here and abroad also increased during 1983. Nationwide the Assemblies of God reported 24,959 ordained and licensed ministers, an increase of 830. The fellowship added more than 5,000 new national ministers for 86,620, in 1983.

The Assemblies of God has often been noted as one of the fastest-growing denominations in the world. In January 1983, Christianity Today named the church the fastest-growing American denomination based on a 70 percent growth rate reported between 1970 and 1980 in the Yearbook of American and Canadian Churches. The editor of the Yearbook has noted that the persistent annual growth of the denomination far exceeds that of the population of the United States.

Dewey Lake and Cleanup

A lot of work and a not-inconsiderable amount of money will go into the cleanup of the Dewey Lake shoreline next month.

This involves more than beautification work in a given part of Floyd county. It recommends itself to any individual who has a sense of pride in the natural beauty that we have, a desire to present our best front to visitors from other areas of Kentucky and other sections of the country, and a hope that we all can and will do better in the future than we have in the past in this matter of respecting the environment.

After the cleanup job is done for 1984, this question remains: What is to be done to make unnecessary a cleanup next year and the next and every succeeding year?

The lake itself, which lies almost entirely in Floyd county, could be patrolled so closely that littering by boaters, campers, picnickers and others could be held to a minimum. But there are many miles of Johns Creek, in Pike county, into which a sizeable population has for generations been dumping its refuse. Add to this coal mining and allied businesses, and the stream which farther down becomes Dewey Lake is a receptacle for almost every type of man-made waste. So it is that with every spring flood the lake is jammed with debris of every type.

"Education" is the answer most often heard to the question. And it may be the right one.

But (to ask another question) how to educate?

Children can be taught an actual abhorrence for this crime against the environment. They can be educated, en masse, at school and elsewhere the principles of cleanliness, community pride, love of beauty and also to shun those slovenly practices which clutter and pollute.

Adults can be educated, too, but not in the same way. The individual who has been ridding home or business of unwanted things by tossing them into the creek, year after year, is not an apt student. As in the case of the proverbial dog, it's hard to teach such an individual new tricks.

Public opinion can help, but strict enforcement of tough laws against such wilful or unthinking crimes against nature, the environment and other humans can do more.

Such a man or woman his or her day in court, and let the law be an unhappy one. That is the only way some "education"—by the experience that keeps a dear overall state average of $166. Floyd paid $285 per vehicle.

Of the two local companies which jointly insured the Floyd fleet last year, Big Sandy Insurance, of Martin, did not submit a bid for this year's contract, while Hall and Clark, of Prestonsburg, submitted the highest bid, of $49,853.

Under the new contract, coverage for bodily injury is raised from $200,000 to $250,000 per person; property damage is insured up to $100,000 per accident, up from $50,000.

A $73,000 contract for school furniture was let to two firms, Southern School Co. and the Haddon Co., to replace desks and other items destroyed by the May flood. Former food service director Blanche Dingus and her successor, James F. Francis, were authorized to negotiate with two other companies for the replacement of flood-damaged kitchen equipment.

High-school principals will be asked to review a plan proposed by guidance counselors for ranking students' academic performance. The question of ranking became an issue at Wheelwright High School recently, where one of two seniors who were named valedictorians claimed that she alone deserved the honor. If the plan is approved, all Floyd students beginning with the incoming freshman class will be ranked by the same system, a system adopted by Prestonsburg High School in 1962 and by Betsy Layne High School last year.

Rob Schissler, representing the Floyd task force of the Kentucky War on Drugs, urged the board to take advantage of a day-long workshop sponsored by that organization for school administrators and teachers the week before school resumes. Supt. E.P. Grigsby, Jr. said he would discuss the proposal at the task force's July 16 meeting.

Remedial reading teacher Elmer Miller was transferred from Allen to McDowell and Pat Branson from Auxier to Allen. No replacement was named for Mrs. Branson at Auxier.

Glenda Howard was named teacher at Betsy Layne Elementary and Gwen Hammonds moved from Betsy Layne to Prestonsburg Elementary. Wanda Whicker was appointed to Wayland, Connie Stumbo to McDowell and Wanda Johnson to Betsy Layne as LBD teachers.

Ernie Croot was appointed itinerant LBD teacher at Prater, Bonanza and Spruce Pine schools. Deborah Paige was named LBD teacher at McDowell, to replace Kenny Ratcliff, who resigned.

Charles Williams was appointed football coach at Prestonsburg High School. Also hired were:

Robin Hall and Frank McGuire, supervisors for the NYC summer program; Lisa Dingus, monitor for the summer feeding program; Bruce Gillespie, Ada Gillespie and JoAnna Innis, janitors at Betsy Layne; Linda Akers, janitor at Harold; Lafayette Gayheart, summer janitor at Allen Central; Judith Walters, substitute cook at McDowell; Vicki Harris, teacher aide at Dwale.

Groups wishing to participate will be invited to fill out an application to be published July 18 in Floyd and Pike county newspapers. Representatives from the organizations will draw for a section of the foreshore on July 28. Plastic bags and colored markers will be provided and groups will have until August 11 to take care of their area.

According to an estimate prepared by Gene Ball, of the county extension service, a week-long clean-up by hired and volunteer crews would cost $18,602—of which $5600 would go to the voluntary organizations. Ball's proposal also calls for a videotape to be made of the clean-up for environmental education in the schools.

The August clean-up is part of a two-year program, for which the legislature appropriated $120,000.

After the initial removal of trash, clean-up organizers will need to address the problem at its source in the headwaters of John's Creek, Curci said. "It's not only important to clean this lake but to get people to stop throwing things in the streams. If we don't, this will be a year-by-year situation. It's going to take a monumental effort," he said.

Tuesday's meeting at May Lodge named state Rep. Greg Stumbo as chairman of the clean-up campaign. Stumbo was responsible for having the program funded. Prestonsburg attorney John Earl Hunt was named to coordinate the efforts of the civic groups participating in the project.

Hunt said he hopes the project will not only clean up the lake but also heighten public awareness about environmental problems.

The proposal to build a $189 million dam on the Licking River at Falmouth passed in the U.S. House of Representatives recently only after bitter debate but no significant opposition has been raised to the Haysi project, said Don Herndon, chief of the Corps' planning division. Cost-benefit studies of the project, which was first authorized in 1938, have found it only "marginally feasible" in the past but under a 1981 Act, which exempted some projects from traditional cost-benefit criteria, the dam stands a better chance of being funded, Herndon said. A cost estimate is not yet available, he said.

While Devens stressed the benefits of a Haysi impoundment to mainstream communities from Harold to Auxier, he acknowledged that a new dam on the headwaters of the Levisa Fork would have no direct bearing on Beaver Creek towns which were among those hardest hit in May.

"It's time something was done for Martin and the two Beaver Creeks," said Hubert Halbert, of Maytown, who represented U.S. Senator Walter "Dee" Huddleston at the meeting. "It seems like every time we talk to the Corps we get put off, but more people and industries were affected on Right Beaver and Left Beaver than anywhere on the Big Sandy."

Orris Little, of Mouseie, said streams at the head of the Beaver Creeks need to be cleaned out and garbage and strip-mining laws should be enforced to ensure the streams are not soon filled up again.

But Devens said main streams have priority under the law. "We will study the tributaries, but that's down the road," he said. "They don't have a high enough priority right now."

In any event, added Herndon, channeling and snagging streams requires the cooperation of local authorities—who must secure right-of-way for such projects and maintain them once they are completed—and such cooperation is often lacking.

Both Herndon and Congressman Carl D. Perkins noted pointedly that funds for rechanneling a section of Beaver Creek at Martin have been authorized since 1964 but successive county administrations have been unable or unwilling to secure the necessary easements from creekfront landowners.

Enforcement of solid waste disposal laws is a local responsibility, Devens pointed out, and he noted that controlling the runoff from stripmines is a delicate problem. "We know that stripmining is part of the cause (of stream siltation), but it is also the life of this community," he said. "We have to find some middle ground. It's not an easy line to walk."

Congressman Perkins affirmed the need to build the Haysi dam, urged the Corps to work on a plan to clean the tributaries as well, and called for more cooperation from local authorities. "It hurts you when you come into a town like Martin and see them under water," he said.

Some Hamilton Equipment Sold

Surface property, coal tracts and mining equipment belonging to Sterling Hamilton were sold at a courthouse auction Thursday to satisfy a $610,000 debt to the Bank Josephine.

The Teaberry coal operator is serving terms of five years, 18 months and 30 months in a federal penitentiary on charges of dealing in stolen explosives, threatening a trial witness and transporting a stolen truck.

Among those bidding on 14 pieces of mining machinery was Sterling Tackett, whose truck and roof-bolting machine Hamilton was accused of spiriting to Virginia in July, 1982. Tackett picked up an end-loader at the auction for $3000.

Ben Whitt bought a bulldozer for $7000 and George Hereford, owner of a Madison, Indiana equipment firm, was the successful bidder on an auger ($5000). Two pieces reverted to the Bank Josephine, bank representative Tom Stewart bidding $2000 for a drill and $500 for a wheel loader.

Of the remaining nine pieces of equipment, which drew no bids, many were said to be no longer in existence. A drill and conveyor advertised for sale were said to be "under a hillside in Virginia."

Hershel Hamilton, a brother to Sterling, bid against the bank for Sterling Hamilton's home and store at Teaberry, but the bank prevailed with a bid of $65,000. Little interest was shown in any of the other six tracts offered for sale, all of which reverted to the bank.

highway before his gas tank ran dry. Ordinarily, I would have tootled on ahead, but I was in such a benign mood that I slowed my pace and came to a complete halt in time to give the man a shot at getting into the line of traffic, and he did so with an appreciative wave of the hand.

Had no more done this when a blast from the car at my rear bumper gave me to understand that I was holding back somebody who was in a rush and didn't appreciate being delayed by an old codger who wasn't going anywhere and had all day to do it in.

I apologize. It's not often that I practice any sort of highway courtesy. Don't blow your horn, my friend, or a gasket—likely as not I'll never find a day so fine again that I am constrained to be a nice guy.

Kentuckian to get back on his feet is complete. Although applications for assistance continue to come in, the flow has slowed considerably in recent days. We believe this indicates that we have reached the vast majority of affected people in the 28 counties declared a major disaster area by President Reagan."

"However," Hall added, "if, somehow, we have missed anyone, we urged them to contact us by calling the toll-free Disaster Hotline (1-800-422-1044). We have operators on duty from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday."

Kentuckians who have applied for disaster assistance are urged to complete and return their application forms to the appropriate agencies, Hall said. "The sooner the paperwork comes back in, the sooner it can be processed, and the sooner the agencies can deliver assistance to those who are eligible and need it," he noted.

Most disaster assistance programs will continue to take applications through July 16.

...isements. The schools should not be used to promote any political candidate, it says; nor should board employees accept gifts or kickbacks from people looking to do business with the school district.

Fund-raising during school hours—a practice decried by a citizens' group last year—will not be required of students and, where it is done voluntarily, will be supervised by the school principal.

Representatives of the news media are encouraged to attend board meetings, except when the board is in closed session. The plan extends no invitation to teachers or parents. Nor does it address the criticism of those who charge that closed sessions are sometimes used to discuss sensitive issues of school policy such as where to make staffing cuts.

Those parent organizations are encouraged "which support the school programs"—an assurance which may be small comfort to parents who accuse school administrators of discouraging or even sabotaging parent groups which prove too independent.

Nor does the board promise to set up any of the community relations committees envisaged by the self-study. Instead, the board says simply that it will appoint "such advisory committees of citizens as it deems necessary or as may be required by law."

Where last year's state report found it useful to remind Floyd school principals that they should "actually schedule parent-teacher conferences some time during each school year," the board's community relations plan leaves it up to the individual parent. Parents are encouraged to visit the schools but should make arrangements in advance, the board counsels.

Some $22,524 is budgeted to finance the board's community relations effort, the bulk of it—$18,685—in salary and expenses for public relations director Jennifer Martin.

In reaching out to the community, they seek an "active partnership" with citizens, board members say in a preamble to the plan.

Q. A friend of ours just found out he has lung cancer. It had already spread so far when they found it that they can't operate and take it out. This man has had regular check-ups over the years. Why didn't the doctors find it sooner? Wouldn't it have showed up on his chest x-rays?

A. Early detection of lung cancer by x-rays is very difficult. Even the most modern x-ray equipment can find only about 25% of lung cancers while they are still small enough to remove surgically. Very small tumors do not show up on x-rays.

The National Cancer Institute is supporting a large research project to try to find ways to catch lung cancers early. Volunteers who are heavy smokers, and therefore at high risk for developing this kind of cancer, are checked periodically. They receive chest x-rays and a sputum test. The sputum test checks for any normal cells in the sputum (the material a person brings up from their lungs when they cough).

The research has shown that some lung cancer can be found at an earlier stage using this screening method. It has not yet shown, however, whether routine screening of people who are not at high risk or who do not have symptoms of lung cancer is effective. Unfortunately many lung cancers are difficult to cure even in the earliest stages. These facts explain why so many health authorities are trying to reduce or eliminate cigarette smoking.

For more information on lung cancer you can call toll free 1-800-4-CANCER or write to Cancer Information Service, McDowell Cancer Network, 915 South Limestone, Lexington, Ky. 40536.

Little Miss Ky.

Kimberly Raye Robinson, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Robinson, of Martin, was crowned Little Miss Kentucky, June 30, at Millard High School. She received a crown, large trophy and banner. She also won best costume, two pro-am modeling trophies and was named most photogenic. She also received a trophy and banner for this.

She expressed her appreciation to her sponsors.

To the Friends of Red Cross:
Thank you for helping us meet the needs of Kentucky families who suffered losses in the May floods and tornadoes.

This operation demanded a high degree of commitment, dedication and job performance. The rugged terrain and long distance between service areas increased the ordinary hardship of disaster, making the operation an exacting one.

Statistics show that Red Cross sheltered 3,947 people in 50 shelters, and more than 221,000 meals were served. Almost 6,000 clean-up kits were distributed to the victims.

Estimated final registration for the operation is 4,650. To date 4,500 families have registered for assistance in 21 disaster service centers located throughout the affected area.

Cost of the disaster relief operation for the Red Cross is expected to exceed $4 million.

Thank you for helping make a formidable task into a job well done!

Sincerely,
HARRY NOFTSKER, Director
Southeast Kentucky Floods and Tornadoes DR 538

By HAROLD COOLEY

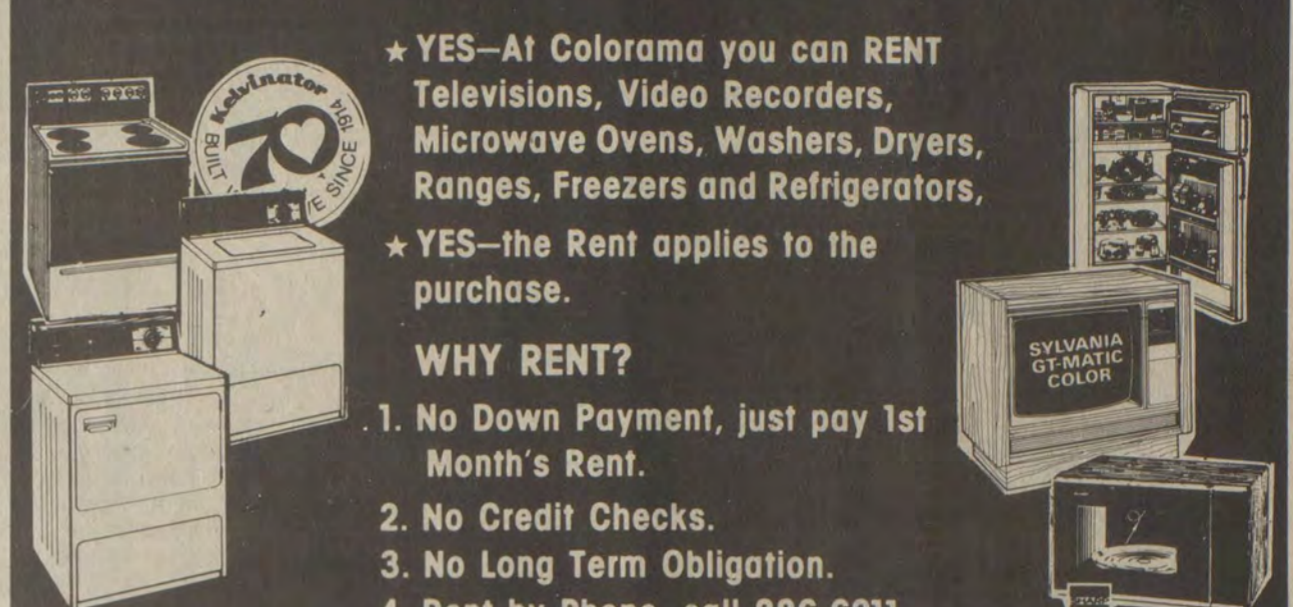

Hexachlorophene is a phenol derivative that is not inactivated by soap. It is an antiseptic that is effective in killing many different types of germs. If used continuously it can also reduce body odor. It has also proven to be very effective in the reduction of staphylococcal germ infections in infants in hospitals. There are, however, some problems associated with its use. It is quite quickly absorbed into the blood stream through mucous membranes. It is absorbed to some degree by intact skin and will enter the body in large quantities if the skin is broken with a wound or burn. For these and other reasons, the FDA has banned its use except by prescription.

The Drug Store with a Difference COOLEY APOTHECARY offers professional, concerned and personalized service so the next time your physician gives you a prescription for some medication let us fill it. We will gladly answer any questions you may have about the medication, when to take it, with what to take it etc. You'll find us located at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106 and open Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat., 9-4. Master Charge and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments.

HANDY HINT: Hexachlorophene was frequently found in deodorant soaps.

Ted Nugent

OLYMPIC FRETS — Rock singer Ted Nugent, whose music video "Tied Up in Love," is a hit on MTV, is determined to give the non-Olympic-bound Soviets a run for their rubles.

"I challenge the Russkies to outdo me on a rock and roll stage," Nugent says. "I've got a set intertwined with mile after mile of ramps, towers and runways. I run more miles in one show than their entire track team. They think they're pretty good because they can hop over a few hurdles. I jump over a 6-foot drummer every night. Let some Russian try to do THAT while he's playing a guitar!"

SUMMER CAMP — Michael J. Fox ("Family Ties"), Nancy McKeon, Robert Klein and Caren Kaye will star in "Poison Ivy," a television movie now being produced in Georgia for NBC.

The film is the story of Camp Pinewood for Boys, where Fox is a counselor and Miss McKeon plays a nurse who turns everything

By J.T. YURKO

When a young teenager and his mom (don't ask what happened to Dad) leave the cluttered streets of Newark, N.J., for the sunny skies of Southern California, their new home doesn't quite turn out to be the promised land. Especially after the kid is beat up by the blond beach bullies from school when he makes the fatal mistake of falling for the head bully's former girlfriend.

And these are no ordinary bullies. These macho adolescents are karate champions — products of a school run by a former Green Beret who believes in killing first and asking questions later. Give this guy the wrong change at the supermarket and look out for your relatives.

The kid meets the local handyman, a native of Okinawa, and one could not find a better father figure. He's peaceful, kind, spouts the wisdom of the ages and knows karate like American kids know baseball.

The stage is set for an adolescent "Rocky," a chance for the little guy to triumph over evil, using might for right, and to defend a woman's honor.

There's nothing wrong with that, provided you are young enough not to recognize the cliches, the one-dimensional characters or an outcome that is as predictable as it is pleasant.

All the motives, morals and messages here are eminently worthwhile and perhaps not seen enough in modern movies. As the substitute father, Pat Morita is just great, proving he can do more than a regular spot on "Happy Days." His character, the movie discloses, is a Medal-of-Honor winner in World War II whose wife died in a Japanese internment camp. This addition is very moving, but it will go right over the heads of most of the audience for whom the film is intended.

In fact, some kids might be turned off because they're expecting a young Bruce Lee film. This movie is hardly that, but for its message and some fine performances, "Karate Kid" deserves to be seen. It might have made a better afterschool special for television rather than a feature film.

Brucellosis Vaccine Regulation Is Cited

Federal rules governing the shipment of dairy cattle into and out of Kentucky have been revised to require all female dairy animals born after Jan. 1, 1984, to be vaccinated against brucellosis.

"Under the previous federal rules, any individual who chose not to vaccinate his animals against brucellosis was not penalized," said Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner David E. Boswell. "The impact of the new rules means that unvaccinated cattle in a Class B state, which is Kentucky's designation, cannot be moved off the farm or sold. They must remain on the farm or be taken directly to slaughter."

The revised rules also require all dairy and beef heifers born after Jan. 1, 1984, to have the brucellosis vaccination before they can be moved into or out of Class C areas. Class C states, which have the highest incidence of brucellosis, are mainly the Southeastern states where Kentucky farmers sell both dairy and beef cattle.

"While the new rules may not be popular with those Kentucky farmers who have avoided vaccinating their animals, there should be no reason for not complying," the commissioner said. "The Kentucky Department of Agriculture will provide vaccinations for all animals at no charge to the farmer."

Federal funds for brucellosis vaccination were taken away this year from all programs for the disease, but the 1984 Kentucky General Assembly provided $450,000 a year for the next two years to fund the free vaccination program.

"All a dairy farmer needs to do is call his local veterinarian and set up an appointment to have his heifers vaccinated," Boswell said. "The vaccinations and any stop fee will be paid by the Department of Agriculture."

Vows Said, June 16

Miss Diana Kaye Blankenship, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Jimmy Dale Fish, of Inez, were united in marriage, June 16, at 2:30 p.m. in a candlelight ceremony at the Prestonsburg Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Blankenship, of Prestonsburg, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Robert Fish, of Inez.

The doubling ceremony was performed by Evangelist Bennie Blankenship, father of the bride, with Evangelist John Daniels, of Paintsville, assisting, before an altar with candelabra entwined in greenery. Arrangements of tiger lilies and white daisies accented the setting.

The bride escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, wore a white bridal gown of satin and lace. It featured a Queen Ann neckline, bishop sleeves, baby ruffled hem with chapel-length train. Her bouquet was made of silk white rosebuds, with lavender daisies and baby's breath.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Tina DeBoard, of Chillicothe, Ohio. The bridesmaid was Faye Ealey, of Salyersville, Ky. They wore orchid taffeta gowns with a chiffon overlay trimmed in lavender ribbon. They carried bouquets of lavender and white silk flowers with lavender and white streamers.

Raquel Cain and Jill Horn, nieces of the groom, were flower girls. They also wore orchid taffeta gowns with a chiffon overlay, trimmed in lavender ribbon.

Ring bearers were Robby Cain and Justin Horn, nephews of the groom.

Serving as best man was Billy C. Fish, brother of the groom. Ushers were Phillip Blankenship, Timmy Blankenship, brothers of the bride, James Michael Frazier, nephew of the groom, and Clem Wells Stambaugh, friend of the bride.

Guestbook attendant was Diane Lykins.

The bride's mother was attired in a mauve street-length dress and wore a corsage of orchids.

The groom's mother wore a lavender street-length dress and wore a corsage of orchids also.

The reception was held in the church annex. Those serving at the reception were Glenna Adkins, Madalene Fish, Donna Blackburn, Ella Jane Castle, Susan Chafin, Nola McNicol, and Jeanne Wells.

The bride's table, covered with a white lace table cloth, held a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

After spending their honeymoon at Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, the couple is now residing in Prestonsburg.

In Memory Of Bryon Douglas Hall

Who passed away, March 11, 1982.

"I'll lend you for a little time, a child of mine," He said.
"For you to love while he lives, and mourn when he is dead.
It may be six or seven years, or twenty-two or three.
But will you, till I call him back, take care of him, for me?
He'll bring his charms to gladden you, and shall his stay be brief.
You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief.
I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth return.
But there are lessons taught down there, I want this child to learn.
I've looked the wide world over in my search for teachers true,
And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes, I have selected you.
Now will you give him all your love. Nor think the labor vain,
Nor hate me when I come to call, to take him back again.
I fancied that I heard them say, "Dear Lord, Thy will be done.
For all the joy, Thy child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter him with tenderness, we'll love him while we may;
And for the happiness we've known, will ever grateful stay.
But shall the angels call for him much sooner than we planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes, and try to understand."
(Sadly missed by grandmother, Virginia Hall).

Two years have come and gone since you went away. Our hearts are still broken. We think of you night and day, our home is so lonely. We miss you so, but we have to carry on until the day he calls us home.
Sadly missed by WIFE, DAUGHTERS, SON AND GRANDCHILDREN

Q. My 59-year-old son has cancer. He had surgery to remove the tumor. Then his doctors recommended chemotherapy. His doctors say he has responded very well and he is now in remission. Would you please explain what remission means. Can he be cured with chemotherapy?

A. The term remission means that the doctors can find no trace of cancer in your son's body. The goal of all cancer treatment is remission of the disease. Chemotherapy is a very effective treatment for many kinds of cancer. About 46,000 patients were cured last year with chemotherapy—either used alone or in combination with surgery or radiation therapy. The National Cancer Institute estimates that soon 50% of all patients with cancer can be cured.
 To learn more about chemotherapy, its side effects and what you can do about them call 1-800-4-CANCER and ask for the free publication Chemotherapy and You or Medicine for the Layman: Cancer Treatments. You can also write Cancer Information Service, McDowell Cancer Network, 915 South Limestone, Lexington, Ky. 40536.

To Deal With Drug User, Seek Professional Help...

By GEORGE R. ROSS, Ph.D.
Parents confronted with an adolescent using drugs usually have four alternatives: (1) They can deny the problem and do nothing about it; (2) They can attempt to solve the problem themselves; (3) They can confront the adolescent and give the choice of seeking professional help or finding another place to live; or (4) They can seek professional help.

The first two options, in most cases, result in both the parents and the adolescent becoming more miserable and the adolescent's drug dependency continuing. The third course is difficult legally if the adolescent is under 18 and seldom results in solving the adolescent's drug problem. It can provide the parents some emotional relief, if they accept the reality that they no longer control the lifestyle their child chooses to pursue. The fourth option, seeking professional help, is usually the best alternative.

But herein lies the difficult dilemma facing most parents. As they attempt to seek professional help they are buried in an avalanche of conflicting information as to the most appropriate course of action to follow.

Psychiatric consultation too often suggests temporarily hospitalizing the adolescent, followed by long-term treatment of a presumed underlying mental disorder. Use of anti-psychotic or antidepressant medication is not uncommon. Little attention is paid to the personality dynamics resulting from prolonged drug usage, often resulting in a premature diagnosis of an underlying mental disorder.

Consultation with a psychologist or mental health professional too often results in advice that underplays the importance of drug usage. It is suggested that the problem can be effectively dealt with on an out-patient basis, resulting in the professional becoming a child advocate in a family therapy setting. Meanwhile, the adolescent continues his drug usage.

Another alternative available in some communities is to hospitalize the adolescent in a short-term treatment program for chemical dependency. This can prove to be an excellent choice if the hospital personnel running the program are well trained in the diagnosis and treatment of adolescent chemical dependency. Unfortunately, these short-term programs are often loosely structured, subject to hospital policy constraints that contradict effective treatment, and provide little if any planned programs for effective follow-up treatment. Often times the adolescent will continue to get high while in the hospital or will resume his drug usage soon after being released from the hospital.

The AA or NA (Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous) are two other resources available in many communities. The

DENTAL X-RAYS

Q. Are there different forms of X-ray used on teeth?

A. Dentists use two major types of X-rays to help diagnose the condition of patients' mouths. One is the panoramic or total X-ray, which captures the jaws and all the teeth in one exposure as an X-ray tube revolves around the patient.

The other X-ray method, preferred for diagnosing periodontal diseases, is called a periapical X-ray. This involves a series of pictures taken with small squares of film set into plastic holding devices. These are pressed against the individual teeth and held there as the patient bites the surface of the plastic holder. Mounted together, these individual X-rays give a clear, detailed picture of each tooth and its surrounding bone.

Cold storage and refrigeration plant installed at Greendale.

Recommendation made two years ago is repeated for appropriation sufficient to build quarters for feeble minded negroes on the grounds of the Feeble-Minded Institute. Hundreds are awaiting the opening of such an institution, it is claimed.

A sprinkler system in the buildings and a large elevated tank, with automatic electric pump, have been installed at the Feeble-Minded Institute. The capacity of the water storage and lines is sufficient for more than double the present plant, looking to the addition of buildings for the negroes.

A modern school building with work room and a large auditorium is under construction on the Feeble-Minded Institute grounds. This will greatly relieve the dormitories and make possible a better classification of patients. Also, room for 140 more white inmates will be available by utilizing the room now in use for school and amusement purposes.

A new nurses home is almost completed at the Eastern State Hospital at Lexington. This will comfortably care for about forty female attendants who have been compelled to sleep in the wards where they work because there were no other quarters available. Many excellent attendants quit the work because they can not live under such conditions. It is imperative that they get away from the depressing surroundings during the hours they are off duty.

This new building will result in more efficient service, and fewer changes in employees. Also about forty rooms or beds on the wards will be made available for additional patients.

A building for the criminal insane is nearing completion at Lakeland. This dangerous type will be taken out of all the other institutions and housed in this building specially designed for them. This will be not only a great relief for the management, but will make possible special treatment for the patients.

During this biennial period the Board put into effect a new rule in connection with the parole of house-breakers, forgers, thieves and robbers. It is a condition of parole that the victim be reimbursed to the extent of the loss. This is usually done in monthly payments that can be met from the man's earnings. Receipts are sent to the Warden showing the payments as made. Failure to pay is a violation of parole and the man is returned to prison. The rule is working very satisfactorily.

Occupational therapy has been extended as much as available funds and working room will permit at the hospitals. The quality of work done by the patients in the various lines, such as weaving, rug making, basketry, caning chairs, embroidery work, etc., is remarkable. The patients show decided improvement as the result of being employed, which is the chief object sought. The sales of the products amount to at least enough to buy the raw materials. More than a year ago this work was started in the Feeble-Minded Institute where it is proving to be a valuable department. In the girls school at Greendale a most excellent grade of work is being done.

Thousands of dollars have been spent to remove the fire hazards reported by the Kentucky Actural Bureau, after a thorough examination of all the seven institutions.

Extensive improvement has been made in replacing bad plumbing and supplanting old leaky and offensive toilets, stopping waste of water, and rendering the buildings more livable. Most of this has been done at Central State Hospital, State Reformatory and Houses of Reform.

The Board calls attention to the fact that there are 600 more epileptics in the Hospitals for the Insane and the Feeble-Minded Institute.

An institution for these cases would make possible special dietary treatment and other care that they should have. The removal of this class of patients from the wards of the institutions would also greatly relieve the congestion.

The Board meets once a month. The institutions under its direction are three State Hospitals for the insane at Lexington, Lakeland and Hopkinsville; one Feeble-Minded Institute at Frankfort; two penitentiaries, at Frankfort and Eddyville, the House of Reform for boys and girls at Greendale, five miles from Lexington. The cost of operating and maintaining them is about two million dollars per year.

Hon. Jos. E. Robinson is chairman of the Board of Charities and Corrections. He ranks as one of the ablest lawyers in Kentucky and his chief diversion is a farm of a thousand acres, which he operates for pleasure and profit along the most modern lines. His home is at Lancaster in Garrard county. As a member of the Board of directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers Association he rendered most distinctive service. He has given much of his valuable time and ability to the work of the Board of Charities and Corrections and the State will lose a most valuable official when he quits.

The Board of Charities and Corrections consists of eight members, of which Mr. E. E. Shannon is one. Another Lawrence county man, Mr. M. F. Conley, is Commissioner for this Board, the duties being that of executive officer and business agent.

WASHINGTON IS NINTH CAPITAL UNITED STATES

York, Pennsylvania, this fall celebrated the 150th year of its nine months' career as capital of the United States.

When General Howe marched his British and Hessians into Philadelphia 150 years ago, Washington wintered in New York. He wintered at Valley Forge and Congress wintered in New York.

York shares the honor of having been capital of the United States, with eight other towns, New York, Philadelphia, and Lancaster, Pa.; Trenton and Princeton, N. J.; Baltimore and Annapolis, Md., and Washington, D. C. During its first 25 years Congress moved as frequently as a New York apartment dweller. Indeed, when it was endeavoring to select a permanent seat, Congress came near achieving perpetual motion by voting for alternate meetings at two capitols, one on the banks of the Potomac and one on the banks of the Delaware.

Lancaster was capitol of the United States for just one day, September 27, 1777. After a single meeting in Lancaster, the congressmen decided it would be safer to put the Susquehanna river between them and Lord Howe's redcoats, so they adjourned to New York. Once before the Continental Congress had fled Philadelphia. While Washington was crossing the Delaware the year before, the legislature moved to Baltimore for two months.

Evacuation of Philadelphia by the British in 1778 permitted congress to remain until an incident five years later which led angry congress to demand an independent federal district. Although the war was over, the legislature found itself short of money to pay soldiers and dismiss them. Eighty men in the Lancaster barracks mutinied and marched on Philadelphia, where they were cordially received by brothers-in-arms. The menaced Independence Hall where congress in session vainly appealed to the Pennsylvania state government for protection. Indignant at the insult, congress adjourned to Princeton, N. J., and resolved that when it established a national capitol it would be independent of any state or city protection.

Nassau Hall and Princeton living accommodations cramped congress so it adjourned to meet the following year at Annapolis. In the graceful spirited Maryland state house, Washington resigned his commission while the dignified law makers received him with their hats on. General Washington completed his brief address, bowed and the legislators lifted their hats but bent not an inch.

Next year congress met in Trenton two months before proceeding to New York. Washington was inaugurated first president of the United States on Wall Street where stands the present sub-treasury of the United States.

Washington, D. C. owes choice to the insistence that the permanent government seat should be in the geographical center of the United States. The capitol, it was argued, should be located neither north of the Delaware River, nor south of the Potomac, on tide water, but far enough inland to be safe from an enemy attack.

Vigorous bidding for the capitol foreshadows present booster methods. Kingston, New York, was first in the field with an invitation. Annapolis urged its central location. Williamson, Va., petitioned. When congress once actually voted to create capitols on the Potomac near Georgetown and on the Delaware near Trenton, it proposed to meet in Annapolis and Trenton alternately until residences were prepared. The federal capitol was a live question. Trenton, Germantown, Carlisle, Lancaster, York and Reading sent forth prospectuses setting forth their advantages.

In 1779 the senate and house voted finally to establish the capitol at Germantown, Pa., and the enactment of this bill into a law failed only because of a minor amendment offered by Madison, which required postponement of the measure until the next session.

The compromise by which the South voted for Hamilton's debt funding bill in exchange for a capitol on the Potomac resulted in congress instructing President Washington to select a site between the Eastern Branch and Conococheague Creek. The Eastern Branch enters the Potomac where Washington now stands, but the Conococheague joins it 75 miles north. Near that Indian place, as congress called it, the Potomac River bends within two miles of the Virginia border. A federal city in this region could have touched three states, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, so this possibly was included for political reason. And George Washington did indeed journey up the Potomac raising false hopes in the hearts of residents in Conococheague now Williamsport, Shepherdstown, near Antietam, and Hagerstown before he announced his choice, the present District of Columbia.

BRIEF TOPICS

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who averted a tragedy when welcoming crowds at Roosevelt field broke thru police lines as he was landing, rushed toward his Fairchild monoplane with its propeller still whirling at high speed.

Seeing the police could not stem the tide of curious people, the flyer reopened the throttle in a menacing roar that cleared a lane through the vanguard of the advancing mob. Veering about as the foremost in the crowds were almost irresistibly pushed into his plane by the crush at their backs, Col. Lindbergh raced back down the field and into the air.

In the smoking ruins of the Graystone Apartments Hotel at Indianapolis firemen recovered eight bodies, after having subdued a fire that routed other tenants of the downtown building shortly after midnight Sunday morning.

Six women, a girl and boy were victims.

Decorated by three governments and honored for 47 years' service to his country, Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, senior officer of the Navy in point of service, retired Monday at the age of 64 years. Ranking members of the Navy General Board, with 23 years' service at sea, he rounded out his record by serving as a delegate to the Geneva Conference on Limitation of Armament.

Questioned by the Associated Press, Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder said he had not criticized President Coolidge or Secretary Wilbur in his address Saturday at Pottsville, Pa., as indicated by some published reports.

Another attempted trans-Atlantic airplane flight ended in disaster Sunday when the German Heinkel airplane, D-1220, was wrecked when attempting to take off for New York from the Azores Islands.

None of the plane's three occupants, Hertz Merz, pilot; Wilhelm Bock, radio operator; and co-pilot, and Rhode, mechanic, was injured, although they were thrown into the sea when the plane turned over.

Reports of apple and other fruit trees blooming a second time this season, some developing fruit again, coming from various parts of Georgia and Alabama, as a result of the abnormally warm autumn, were topped this week by a report from P. H. Johnson, of Hancock county, that he has harvested two crops of apples from a tree this year and the tree now has an embryo third crop which may mature if not nipped by an early frost. Tom Pinson, of Smyrna, Ga., had previously reported that apple trees in his orchard have a second crop of fruit on them, as large as golf balls, and other fruit trees are in full bloom. Similar reports, all well authenticated, have come from other points in the southeast.

Bass Group Hosts Children's Outing

The Bassin' Buddies held their annual children's outing June 23 at Dewey Lake and it proved to be one of the best events of the season. After a morning of bluegill fishing, the children enjoyed a big on-shore picnic and awards were presented for those catching the most, biggest and smallest fish.

Among those aged 11 and above, Jeremy Blair won trophies for his four-ounce bluegill and for a total catch of seven. In the 10-and-under group, Matthew Hagans won trophies for his 20-fish catch, which included a five-ounce bluegill, while Crystal Martin won the runt award. Others participating were Jeff Bryson, Eddie Arrowood, Jason Blair, Jeremy Bryson, Scottie Isom, John Stout, Leslie Ann Stout and Gary Roe.

The Bassin' Buddies group promotes the sport of fishing and conservation of natural resources. The children's outing was sponsored by Paintsville Clinic Pharmacy and Ward's Service Station of Paintsville and Hall Funeral Home.

N. Floyd Babe Ruthers To Face Hazard Today

At M.C. Napier High School field North Floyd beat Carr Fork 16 to 2 with the winning pitcher, Druan Newsome with 10 strikeouts. North Floyd broke up a close game at 3 to 2 in the bottom of the fifth inning with six runs in the sixth inning and seven more in the seventh to secure the win. North Floyd advances with Hazard which was a 12 to 8 winner over Johnson County in a Saturday game.

Today's game (Wednesday) matches North Floyd and Hazard at 3:30.

Claim North Floyd Title

Just when opposing coaches in the 16th region thought they were through with the Nairn family, along comes Trent and Thomas in the championship game of the North Floyd Babe Ruth League, June 23.

With the score 3 to 2 in favor of the K.C.T.V. Astros of Betsy Layne, Ron Baldrige led off with a single in the top of the seventh for the Goble Lumber Indians and then advanced to third on a single by teammate David Martin. At that point, 15-year-old Trent Nairn hit a sacrifice fly to tie the game at 3-3. Next, his 13-year-old brother Thomas stepped up to the plate doubled down the left field line and pinch runner Todd Justice was able to score the winning run on a single up the middle by Bryan Wallace.

The action led to a win for Greg Shepherd as he joined with Prestonsburg High School teammate John Goble to pitch a seven-hitter for the championship, striking out nine in seven innings.

Pitcher Bud Newsome, of the Astros, son of Coach B. J. Newsome, had a superb game in defeat as he allowed only eight hits and two earned runs as well as going a perfect four for four at the plate. Another Astro bright spot was seen in catcher Todd Sturgill as the 14-year-old hit a double and single, and threw out three base stealers for Coach Newsome.

Coach Rice of the Goble Lumber Indians is trying to line up a game with the winners of the South Division of the league, the Pirates of Garrett, coached by Shawn Thacker, in order to crown a county champion.

Young Thacker, fresh out of Allen Central High School, won the South Division with the Royals team from Big Mud finishing second in a close race. The Royals are coached by Bascom Hall.

The Goble Lumber Indians finished the season at 11 wins and 1 loss, the K.C.T.V. Astros at 12 and 2, the Big Mud Royals, 11 and 3.

Boating Safety Tips For Smooth Sailing

By: EMILY MORSE

It's time for sticking not only your big toe, but your big boat in the water. Since almost 60 percent of all anglers prefer boat fishing, according to the department's angler attitude survey, there should be plenty of boating activity. There are some powerful fishing boats out there, too; many equipped with 200 horsepower motors for a combination of waterskiing and fishing.

With an increasing number of people spending time in the water, safety is important. Before your trip to the lake take a look at the water safety rules.

There were 19 boating-related fatalities last year, according to Joseph Kelly, director of the Kentucky Division of Water Patrol. Only one death occurred from a two-boat collision, but in every case the victims were not wearing life preservers, or personal flotation devices, as they are now called. Some of the accidents were alcohol-related.

The Kentucky Division of Water Patrol has 30 sworn officers to police the waters in the state. But they are greatly outnumbered by the 115,000 registered boats which ply the waterways.

Kelly said the division is making every effort to educate the public in boating safety during the off season. During late November, division members visit high schools and boating clubs to instruct a course on safety. Many insurance companies offer a 10 percent discount upon completion of the course.

But in the meantime, there are safety precautions you can take to assure you have an accident-free summer.

Start by stocking your boat with the proper equipment. Make sure you have a valid registration and a registration number on both sides of the bow and the proper lights. Include a fire extinguisher, signaling devices, like a whistle, life jackets for everyone, plus a throwable flotation device, and know where all the equipment is located.

"It is surprising the number of people who have the equipment on board, but don't know where it is," Kelly said. "Often it is piled under the cooler or something."

When it comes to passengers, don't overload your boat. Also don't let passengers ride in dangerous positions. It is illegal to ride in the high rise or "bass seat" when traveling greater than idling speed. Also, remember to keep the speed at idle when near a dock.

Always obey the rules of the road. In crossing, the boat on the right has the right of way. Although you may pass on either side, always yield to the boat you are passing.

Following these rules should keep you afloat. Now get the family, load up the tackle and skis, fuel up the tanks, and dive in.

Since 1979, annual growth in world trade has shrunk from six percent to almost zero. But the July Reader's Digest reports that Western Europe's share of world trade still exceeds the U.S. and Japanese shares combined!

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Phenis Potter, of Pikeville, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Conn, of Harold.

Babe Ruth All-Star News

The 15-year-old All-Star District Championship will be played Saturday and Sunday at Johnson Central High School's field as South Floyd takes on Hazard at 1 p.m. and immediately following at about 3:30, North Floyd takes on Carr Fork, from Knott county.

Sunday at 1 p.m., Johnson County, which drew a bye in the first round will play the winner of the South Floyd-Hazard game and following, the winner of this contest will face the winner of the North Floyd-Carr Fork game.

South Floyd is coached by Shawn Thacker, an Allen Central graduate, and North Floyd is coached by Manager Oscar Rice and B. J. Newsome.

The North Floyd team is essentially the same group which finished third in the state in 13-year-old competition and Coach Newsome and Manager Rice are looking for continued good things from this team.

The 14-year-olds who didn't make the 14-15-year-old All-Stars will also play on Saturday and Sunday in a brand new tournament begun this year just for 14-year-olds. They also drew Carr Fork in a first round game.

The 14-year-olds are coached by Harold Case, of Martin and Davie DeRossett, Jr., of Prestonsburg.

The games will be played on adjacent fields at Johnson Central and all baseball fans are urged to come out and support these young athletes.

On the outside, the rockfish's coloring on the back is a purplish-blue, while the white bass has a bleached-out color on the back. The body lines of the white bass are fainter, too. The hybrid's are dark and extend to the tail. The body of the white bass is deeper and the back more arched than the streamlined hybrid.

Michigan Graduate

Adam R. Price, son of Phillip R. Price, formerly of Prestonsburg, and grandson of Lillia Mae Price, Highland Terrace, Prestonsburg, graduated Saturday, June 9, from Michigan State University at East Lansing, Michigan with a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University's College of Criminal Justice.

Price earned an Associate of Applied Science degree at Oakland Community College, Auburn Heights, Michigan, in 1982, graduating with a 3.5 grade point average (GPA). He then enrolled at Michigan State to complete his education, attaining a final GPA of 3.2.

As a supplement to his formal education, and in preparation for a career in law enforcement, Price worked part-time for the West Bloomfield Police Department as a radio dispatcher while attending Oakland Community College. ORDINANCE NO. 5-84
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG ESTABLISHING A PARKING ORDINANCE AND SUCH RULES AS MIGHT APPLY.
WHEREAS: The City of Prestonsburg desires to enforce their parking regulations in a more orderly manner; and,
WHEREAS: The Kentucky State Legislature has passed an act relating to parking enforcement in cities of the first four classes; and,
WHEREAS: The City Council of the City of Prestonsburg wishes to establish and maintain a Parking Ordinance as allowed by law, NOW, THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE City Council of the City of Prestonsburg as follows:
Section 1:
Definitions
1. "Local Government" means the City of Prestonsburg.
2. "Hearing Board" means a body established by this ordinance and empowered to conduct hearings pursuant to this ordinance and also means any hearing officer or officers appointed by the board. Any action of such hearing officer shall be deemed to be the action of the Board.
3. "Parking Ordinance" means an ordinance regulating parking, standing, or stopping upon the public streets or ways within the local government.
Section 2:
The City of Prestonsburg does hereby enact a parking ordinance and does hereby impose penalties shall be deemed civil penalties. The City of Prestonsburg does hereby elect to enforce this Parking Ordinance.
Section 3:
1. If any motor vehicle is found parked, standing or stopped in violation of this parking ordinance, the vehicle may be cited for the appropriate parking violation. The citing officer shall note the vehicle's registration number and any other information concerning the vehicle which will identify it and, if the driver is not present, shall conspicuously affix to the vehicle a notice of the parking violation.
2. The form of the notice of the parking violation shall be a colored ticket that shall contain the following information:
a. A statement that the notice represents a determination that a parking violation has been committed by the owner of the vehicle and that the determination shall be final unless contested as provided for in this act.
b. A statement that a parking violation may result in impoundment of the vehicle for which the owner may be liable for a fine and towing, handling and storage charges or fees.
c. A statement of the specific parking violation for which the citation was issued.
d. A statement of the monetary penalty established for the parking violation.
e. A statement of the options.
Section 4:
1. Any person who receives notice of a parking violation shall respond to such notice as provided in this section within seven (7) days of the date of the notice, by either paying the fine set forth in the notice or requesting a hearing pursuant to this ordinance.
2. If the owner of a vehicle cited for a parking violation has not responded to the notice within seven (7) days, the City of Prestonsburg shall send a second notice by certified mail to the last known address of the registered owner of the vehicle as listed on the certificate of title. Such notice shall state that if the owner of the vehicle does not respond to the notice by either paying the fine or by requesting in writing a hearing before the hearing board, within seven (7) days of the receipt of the notice, the owner shall be deemed to have waived his right to a hearing and the determination that a violation was committed shall be considered final. Any person who fails to request a hearing or pay the fine within the seven (7) days shall be deemed to have refused to pay the fine levied by the citation.
3. The registered owner of a vehicle at the time the violation occurred shall be liable for all fines, fees and penalties which he has refused to pay.
Section 5:
1. Any person cited for a parking violation under Section 3 of this ordinance may contest the determination that a violation occurred by requesting in writing a hearing before the hearing board. Such hearing shall be held no later than fourteen (14) days from the date of receipt of the request, unless prior to the hearing the person requesting such hearing requests an extension of time not to exceed fourteen (14) days. No less than seven (7) days prior to the date set for the hearing, the board shall notify the registered owner of the vehicle of the date, time and place of the hearing. Any person requesting a hearing who fails to appear at the time and place set for the hearing shall be deemed to have refused to pay the fine levied by the citation.
2. At the hearing, after consideration of the evidence, the board shall determine whether a violation was committed. Where it has not been established that the violation was committed, an order dismissing the citation shall be entered. Where it has been established that a violation was committed, the board shall uphold the citation and order the owner to pay the citation within seven (7) days. A copy of such order shall be furnished the owner. Any person ordered to pay the fine who fails to do so within seven (7) days shall be deemed to have refused to pay the fine levied by the citation.
3. The board may consider the parking citation and any other written report made under oath by the officer who issued the citation in lieu of the officers personal appearance at the hearing.
4. An appeal from the hearing board's determination may be made to the district court of Floyd County within seven (7) days of the board's determination. The appeal shall be initiated by the filing of a complaint and a copy of the board's order in the same manner as any civil action under the rules of civil procedure. The action shall be tried de novo and the burden shall be upon the City of Prestonsburg to establish that a violation has occurred. If the court finds that a violation has occurred, the owner shall be ordered to pay to the local government all fines, fees and penalties occurring as of the date of the judgment. If the court finds that a violation did not occur, the local government shall be ordered to dismiss the citation and the plaintiff shall be authorized to recover his cost.

5. The judgment of the district court may be appealed to the circuit court in accordance with the rules of civil procedure.
Section 6:
1. The City of Prestonsburg may impound a motor vehicle stopped or standing upon a street or public way within its jurisdiction in violation of an ordinance or statute prohibiting parking, stopping or standing in the location manner or at the time the vehicle is cited or for any other lawful reason.
2. In addition to the fines levied for the parking or traffic offense, the owner of the motor vehicle will be required to pay all reasonable towing, handling and storage charges upon such impounded vehicle.
3. The City of Prestonsburg may condition the release of an impounded vehicle upon the payment of the towing, handling and storage charges imposed thereon unless the owner or other person entitled to possession challenges the validity of the impoundment pursuant to Section 6 (4). A vehicle may be released to the owner or other person entitled to possession only upon proof of ownership or right to possession. The City of Prestonsburg may require a $500.00 security bond or other assurances of indemnification from a person who is not the registered owner of the vehicle prior to releasing the vehicle to such person.
4. The owner of a motor vehicle which has been impounded pursuant to this section or other person entitled to possession, may challenge the validity of such impoundment and request in writing a hearing before the hearing board. The hearing shall be conducted within ten (10) business days of the date of the request, unless the owner or other person entitled to possession waives the limitation or the City of Prestonsburg shows good cause for such delay. The local government shall retain possession of the vehicle pending the hearing, unless the owner or other person claiming right of possession posts a bond in an amount equal to the fines and fees accrued as of the date of the hearing request or seventy-five dollars ($75.00) whichever is less. If the owner or person claiming possession of the vehicle is unable to pay the amount of the bond, the hearing shall be held within seventy-two (72) hours of the date the request for hearing is received, unless such person requests or agrees to a continuance.
5. A. No less than five (5) days prior to the date set for the hearing, the City of Prestonsburg shall notify the person requesting the hearing of the date, time and place of the hearing. In the case of a hearing required to be held within seventy-two (72) hours of the date of the request as provided in subsection (4) of this section, the person requesting the hearing shall be informed at the time of his request, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, of the date and time of the hearing.
B. Any person who refuses or, except for good cause, fails to appear at the time and place set for the hearing shall be deemed to have conceded on his and the owners behalf the validity of the impoundment.
C. At the hearing, after consideration of the evidence, the board shall determine whether the impoundment was valid and reasonable. Where it has not been established that the impoundment was justified, an order releasing the vehicle shall be entered. All fines and fees paid on amounts posted as bond because of the impoundment of the vehicle shall be returned where it has been established that the impoundment was justified, the board shall uphold the impoundment and condition the release of the vehicle upon payment of all fines and fees accruing thereto. If bond has been posted as security for release of the vehicle, said bond shall be forfeited to the local government. Any fines or fees in excess of the amount of the bond posted shall be ordered to be paid by the owner of the vehicle to the City of Prestonsburg. The board shall furnish the owner or person appearing on the owner's behalf with a copy of its order.
D. The board may consider a parking citation and any other written report made under oath by the issuing officer in lieu of the officer's personal appearance at the hearing.
E. An appeal from the hearing board's determination may be made to the district court of Floyd County within seven (7) days of the board's determination. Miss Whelan, Mr. Waddell Wed

Joan Marie Whelan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W.E. Whelan, of Louisville, and Randall Kirk Waddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Waddell, of Lexington, were married May 19 at the First Presbyterian Church in Lexington. The Reverend Edward Hopper officiated at the ceremony.

The matron of honor was Janet W. Kleier, of Louisville, sister of the bride. The maid of honor was Karen E. Howell, of Dallas, Texas, and bridesmaids were Patty M. Manning, Judy C. Toole and Liz M. Williams, all of Atlanta, Georgia.

The best man was the father of the groom. Ushers were Gary L. Waddell, brother of the groom, J. Cake Williams, both of Atlanta, Georgia; Dr. Keith Leslie, cousin of the groom, of Prestonsburg; Edward S. Bringardner and Gary T. Huffman, both of Lexington.

Flower girls were Emily D. Kleier and Helen J. Huffman. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Spindletop Hall.

The bride is a graduate of Fern Creek High School and the University of Cincinnati and is a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. She is employed by Anitec Image Corp. in Atlanta.

The groom is a graduate of Lafayette High School and the University of Kentucky. He received his masters degree in Business Administration at Indiana University. Mr. Waddell is head of acquisitions for the Vlass-Fotor Investment Group in Atlanta.

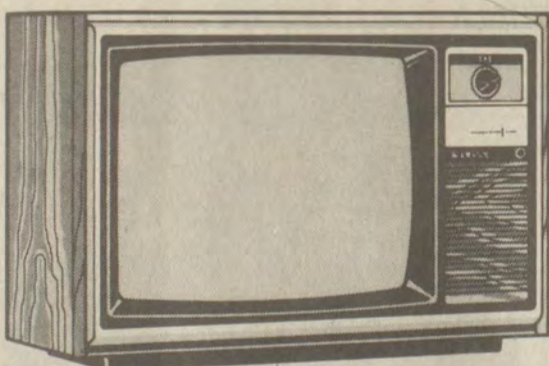

After a wedding trip to Hilton Head, S.C., the couple will live in Atlanta. The groom is the son of the former Opal Hall and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Milford J. Hall, formerly of Weeksbury and McDowell.

DO WIDOWERS NEED HELP?

A respected minister we know quotes scripture appropriately to make his point. Borrowing a page from his text, the following passage of Genesis comes to mind:
"It is not good that the man should be alone."
So, too, after a man loses his life's mate, his dearly-loved companion, he should not be left alone. No, we do not mean that he should hastily re-marry. We mean that his friends should not forsake him because his status has changed; because he is now a widower.

In our couple-oriented society, the widower is disadvantaged by his singularity. Make him welcome as before. Share your hospitality with him as you did before. Go out of your way a little to seek his company, his conversation. Help his grieving easier by sharing with him your presence and caring, as we know you do.

This "reaching out" by you will be important to him immediately after the funeral and for many months to come.

There will be a pap clinic at the Floyd County Health Department in Prestonsburg, Monday, July 16, from 8:30 until 11:30 and from 1 until 2. This clinic is a free service of the health department and is open to women of all ages, but those women age 45 and over are especially urged to take advantage of this free service since this is the high-risk age for the disease.

Kentucky law requires all children entering school to be adequately immunized against the childhood diseases of measles, rubella, polio, diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis (whooping cough). Those entering school in Kentucky for the first time are also required to show proof of having had a T.B. skin test. These immunizations and tests are available at the Floyd County Health Department every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. There is no charge. On Wednesday, July 18, these immunizations and tests will be given only until 11 a.m. due to a special clinic being held that afternoon.

SBA Correction Of Date Noted

Federal officials have corrected information reported previously on the days of operation of the Small Business Administration's Disaster Field Office in Prestonsburg.

SBA representatives will be in the Floyd County Department of Social Insurance Office, North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, on Tuesdays and Thursdays—not on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, as reported previously.

Kentucky disaster victims may apply for SBA loans or return their completed loan application forms to the Prestonsburg location on Tuesdays and Thursdays until further notice. Office hours are 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Disaster victims are reminded to make application for the Small Business Administration's (SBA) disaster loan program, SBA spokesperson Martha Martin said.

"Some people seem to be under the impression they can bypass SBA and apply directly to the Individual and Family Grants Program," she said.

"The correct procedure is to apply first for an SBA disaster loan. If we make a determination that an applicant lacks the ability to repay a loan, he will then be referred to the grants program."

The deadline for making application for SBA disaster loans, and most other programs available to victims of the May floods, storms and tornadoes, is July 16.

Plan Bus Driver Training

If the Kentucky State Board of Education approves, Kentucky's school bus drivers will soon begin taking TRIPS. TRIPS is an acronym for Transportation Requires Individuals Performing Safely. It's the slogan for a new program for training school bus drivers.

The board will be asked to approve the proposed program this week.

Beginning July 10, the Kentucky Department of Education will train one representative from each school district as an instructor. Those instructors will then be responsible for training new drivers and providing annual in-service training for experienced drivers.

"This is a new concept for us," said Glenn M. Sims, training officer for the department. "Most other states have a similar curriculum, and that put the pressure on us."

Sims said that in the past the department had sent trainers to various sections of the state to work with drivers.

Under the new plan, the state will train and certify about 175 instructors, who will then be responsible for training the drivers in their areas.

Sims said the department was "very excited about the potential of this program."

"We've had only two staff members to conduct training for 3,500 to 4,000 bus drivers statewide," he said. "This will give us uniform statewide bus driver training."

The program was made possible by a $64,000 grant from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and $22,000 in matching funds from the Kentucky State Police.

The instructor training courses will be held at Eastern Kentucky University. Each session will last three days and involve about 20 participants.

Training sessions will be held every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for 10 weeks beginning July 10.

No, ragbrai isn't a new whole wheat bread, it's a 500-mile week-long bike marathon in Iowa. It began eleven years ago, when two writers from the Des Moines Register set out to prove their state wasn't flat. Since then, the July Reader's Digest observes, more than 50,000 people have biked the hills of Iowa.

INTRODUCING The Landing

In the early 1900's, the riverboat would steam into town. At the sound of the whistle and the calliope, all Prestonsburg would gather at the Upper Landing to see what news, goods, or travelers had come up the Big Sandy.

At this same location, the carefree charm of a bygone era is recalled today at "The Landing," the new name for Prestonsburg's foremost address...at an affordable price.

Big Sandy ADD Gets Additional Funding

The Kentucky Department for Social Insurance has announced allocation of an additional $50,000 for the continuation of surplus commodity distribution in four area development districts and Jefferson county.

Commissioner Jack Waddell said the additional funds were approved after the five agencies spent all money set aside for the commodity distribution under their contracts with the state. "We hope the additional funding will get these agencies through the end of the current fiscal year which ends in October. At least this should open the door to additional distribution between now and then," he said.

Funding will be allocated to the Louisville-Jefferson County Community Action Agency ($19,170), the Big Sandy Area Development District ($9,870), the Buffalo Trace Area Development District ($3,720), the Gateway Area Development District ($5,770) and the Kentucky River Area Development District ($11,470).

The $50,000 in grants come from the federal allocation to Kentucky for the storage of the commodities and administration of the distribution program. A total of $650,000 has been provided to agencies in each of Kentucky's 15 area development districts for distribution of surplus commodities such as cheese, non-fat dry milk and rice.

Former Mining Town To Have Homecoming

Former residents of Van Lear will gather Saturday, August 4 at 4 p.m. at the Johnson Central High School gymnasium for a homecoming celebration.

This year's reunion, the third in the town's history, may draw as many as a thousand people according to Russell Rucker, president of the recently-organized Van Lear Historical Society. "We planned for about 200 in 1981 and almost 300 showed up," Rucker said. "The following year, we expected 500 and 800 attended that affair. This year we could set a new record."

Constructed during the 1909-1914 period by Consolidation Coal Company to provide housing and services to support miners' families and coal production from five deep mines, Van Lear had a population of around 5000 at its peak in the 1920's. When the remaining thin coal seams became unprofitable to mine, the town property was sold off in the early 1950's. Although there is no industry there, many homeowners continue to live at Van Lear while working in neighboring communities.

Since the first reunion in 1981, a non-profit historical society has been formed in an effort to preserve the town's heritage. Last year, Citizens National Bank of Paintsville donated the old Van Lear office building to the historical group. This is being renovated and will one day house a model of the town. The Chessie System has donated an old C. & O. caboose and this has been renovated and placed on rails across from the old high school building. It will house pictures and other memorabilia and a videotape documentary which may be viewed by the public. Tax-deductible donations support the work of the historical group.

Herman Kahn, the world-renowned futurist and co-founder of the Hudson Institute, thought at such a machine-gun pace that he had to have two translators when he lectured Japanese businessmen. One converted rapid-fire "Herman English" into standard English, the July Reader's Digest notes, while the other translated that into Japanese.

Zoo keepers at the Bronx Zoo learned the power of positive reinforcement when they had to get a stubborn gorilla out of its cage, the July Reader's Digest reveals. Instead of luring it out with a banana, they rewarded it when it happened to go out by itself. So you can teach an old gorilla a new trick!

Crop Certification Requirements Explained

Now that the signup period is over for all 1984 acreage reduction programs, and farmers have planted crops, the next program requirement is crop certification.

Farmers are asked to report the sizes and intended uses of their crops to determine whether they are eligible to receive the different benefits under the programs offered by the USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The reports are necessary to determine program compliance and to document crop acreages for future programs.

Before farmers can receive price support loans, deficiency payments and other program benefits, they are required to report crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to the acreage conservation reserve. When farmers report to the county ASCS office, they can review aerial photos of their farm and pinpoint the fields in which the crops are grown. This information is then recorded and serves as documentation for program compliance and crop acreage bases. In addition, these reports are also necessary to prove crop yields.

In Floyd county, the final certification dates for program crops is July 15.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hinchman, of Allen, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Cheri Ann Hinchman, to Mr. Jeffrey L. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Patterson, of Nancy, Kentucky.

Miss Hinchman is a 1980 graduate of Prestonsburg High School and attended Prestonsburg Community College for two years. She is a 1984 graduate of Eastern Kentucky University with a minor in chemistry and a major in biology. While at Eastern she was a member of the Baptist Student Union, Wildlife Society, and Phi Sigma, a biology honorary. She received a teaching fellowship at Eastern and will be studying toward a graduate degree in biology.

Mr. Patterson is a 1979 graduate of Nancy High School and attended Somerset Community College, where he was a member of Phi Theta Kappa, a junior college honorary fraternity. He is a 1983 graduate of Eastern Kentucky University where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in Wildlife Management. While attending Eastern, he was a member of the Baptist Student Union, Wildlife Society, Phi Sigma, and Gamma Beta Phi, a service honorary. Mr. Patterson is presently employed by Eastern Kentucky University conducting wildlife research and studying toward a graduate degree in applied ecology.

Easier-to-Understand Phone Bills Expected

South Central Bell customers should find their bills easier to understand this month.

"A new summary page and changes in how the charges are listed should make telephone bills easier to read," said Art Willett, local manager. "I know the bills with so many pages haven't been a hit with customers, but we're working with customers to make improvements."

"Competition and more choices for our customers have complicated the bill," Willett said. "The days of one phone company and one simple phone bill are gone."

Since the break-up of the Bell System on January 1, 1984, phone bills sent out by South Central Bell have included several companies' charges. Charges for leased AT&T telephone equipment and AT&T long-distance calls, for example, are included in the same bill with South Central Bell charges.

According to Willett, the new bill has a summary page that shows the current charges from each company and the amount the customer owes.

Creative Dramatics Day Camp Scheduled

The Jenny Wiley Theatre is still accepting registrations for its Creative Dramatics Day Camp to be held at the Theatre, July 16 through July 27.

The camp is a workshop for children, grades 1 through 8 interested in learning more about the theatre and all of its aspects.

"We will be working with props and costumes, stage make-up, and having fun with theatre games and learning movement activities as well," said Rhonda Ritchie, director of the Creative Dramatics Day Camp.

The sessions will be split to accommodate the age groups. Mornings from 9 a.m. to 12 noon are for first through fourth graders, while the afternoons from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. are for the fifth through eighth graders.

There is no charge for the children attending the workshops. To register, call the Jenny Wiley Theatre Office at (606) 886-3691 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Registrations will not be taken after the workshop has begun.

NAME OMITTED FROM HONOR ROLL

The name of Bobby Coleman Maynard, who was on the 12th grade honor roll at Prestonsburg High School, was through error omitted from the list submitted to The Times for publication.

Named Miss Majorette

Angie Newman, student at John M. Stumbo Elementary school, was chosen Miss Majorette at the 1983-'84 Majorette Banquet held at the school recently. She is the 12-year-old daughter of Kenneth and Mary Ann Newman, of Grethel, and the granddaughter of Robert and Nan Newman and Leonard and Mildred Kidd, all of Grethel. FINAL PUBLIC NOTICE

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) hereby gives final notice to the public of its intent to provide Individual and Family Grant (IFG) program funds to provide bridges or protective structures under Section 408 of the Disaster Relief Act. The public notification of FEMA's intent, which invited the public comment, was previously published in this publication.
 The bridges and protective structures will be located in the areas and counties which were designated as part of the major disaster declaration made by the President on 5-15-84.
 FEMA determined that there was no other practicable alternative to building these private bridges and protective structures because access was needed to the homes and protective structures will mitigate against future damages (by flooding or slides) to private individuals.
 Before choosing this course of action, FEMA evaluated other alternatives according to social, economic, environmental, safety and technological factors. FEMA also requested and considered the views of the State Department of Disaster and Emergency Services, which administers the IFG program, and other State officials.
 Further information about the action may be obtained by writing to: Paul E. Hall, DRM, at P.O. Drawer 1686, Paintsville, KY 41240, or by calling 606-789-4344 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Additional comments should be received within 10 days from publication date of this notice. 7-4-2t.

Easter Seals Launches Bike Safety Campaign

A public education campaign to reduce bicycle accidents this summer has been announced by John L. English, president of the Kentucky Easter Seal Society.

"Bicycling is a sport growing in popularity," he said, "but it can also be one of the most hazardous."

Each year across the country, there are more than 1,000 fatalities and approximately 50,000 disabling injuries resulting from bike accidents, English pointed out. "Many of these deaths and serious injuries could be avoided by observing commonsense safety rules," he added.

In an effort to reduce the accident toll, the Easter Seal Society has produced a brochure containing safety tips and suggestions for making sure riders have the proper bike size and regular servicing to keep bikes running smoothly and safely.

Copies of the brochure may be obtained by contacting the Kentucky Easter Seal Society, 233 East Broadway, Louisville, or by calling (502) 584-9781.

PSC-Approved Plan To Give Low-Income Gas Users a Break

The state Public Service Commission has approved a plan to help low-income Columbia Gas customers pay winter heating bills.

In its order dated June 28, the Commission authorized Columbia Gas to purchase low-cost natural gas at market prices from Citizens Energy Corp., a non-profit Boston-based firm headed by Joseph P. Kennedy II, son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Under the agreement, Citizens Energy will purchase natural gas below market price from various shippers. Columbia Gas will buy the low-cost gas from Citizens Energy at prices charged Columbia Gas by its supplier, Columbia Transmission. The difference will be placed in an emergency assistance fund to help Columbia's residential customers who do not qualify for or have exhausted other assistance sources.

The emergency assistance fund will be administered by Winter Care, a Lexington service agency. Based on current gas prices, Commission staff estimate about $45,000 will be available for the fund to assist between 330 and 350 Columbia customers. A maximum payment of $150 will be made to each household, according to the plan.

Administrative costs for both Citizens Energy and Winter Care will be deducted from the emergency assistance fund, up to 10 percent of the fund's total for each organization.

The program, which will be effective through next July, should not affect the rates or service quality of Columbia Gas customers, said Public Service Commission Chairman Richard D. Heman, Jr. "Columbia stated in the May 25th hearing that it will not incur any additional administrative costs from the program," Heman said.

According to Heman, the plan will not only assist Columbia customers who need financial assistance, it will also help reduce the company's uncollectible expense from unpaid customer bills.

The plan will also provide a potential market for locally-produced natural gas. "The 1984 General Assembly approved a bill mandating the Commission to encourage use of locally-produced natural gas, and Columbia Gas indicated in testimony that it would use locally-produced gas and gas in shut-in wells for this program when possible," Heman said.

In its order, the Commission asked Columbia Gas to certify in writing that natural gas purchased from Citizens Energy is produced in Kentucky, or that the gas that is purchased is less expensive than Kentucky-produced gas.

The order also requires Columbia and Winter Care to submit disbursement guidelines for the emergency assistance fund for review before funds are disbursed. When the program is completed next July, the Commission asks Columbia to provide a full account of the emergency assistance fund, along with the company's assessment of the program.

Similar plans have already been approved by utility regulators in Ohio, Virginia and New York.
