

Incident Stresses Wild Dog Problem

Dr. Rudolph Ousley and Eastern Kentucky Wildlife Federation committeeman Bob Bailey attend to young doe which was mauled by dogs. Tuesday morning.

A call from a concerned Daniels Creek resident, Tuesday morning, may have saved the life of a young whitetail deer. At the very least it has called attention to a major problem facing wildlife in this area.

When dogs chased a half-starved yearling doe through her yard at about 9 a.m., drove it into the shallow creek nearby and attacked it, Mrs. Dallas Justice phoned the Eastern Kentucky Wildlife Federation number at Martin while her husband kept the dogs, described as "a pack of mutts," away from the injured deer.

Mrs. Curtis Hughes, wife of the federation president, referred the call to federation committeeman Bob Bailey since her husband was not at home, and Bailey drove immediately to Ivel to recover the animal while it still might be saved.

The deer, suffering numerous wounds, was loaded into Bailey's pickup and later into the four-wheel-drive vehicle of state Conservation Officer Jimmy Goble, who arrived on the scene, and was rushed to the office of veterinarian Dr. Rudolph Ousley on the Middle Creek Road near here for treatment.

Federation President Hughes said the incident stressed the problem of feral and half-wild dogs which roam Floyd county hills in large numbers, hunting in packs and devastating wildlife, particularly deer. "The problem is of epidemic proportions," said Hughes who commented that Tuesday's incident is only one of many such incidents. "There were 27 reported deer kills by dogs in the Seventh Conservation District," he pointed out, "and there were certainly others not documented."

The recent reopening of the animal shelter on the old Middle Creek Road by the federation, which is made up of area sportsmen and conservationists, is designed in large part to help alleviate the problem of the unwanted puppy that is cast out to live off the land and hunt down wild game, Hughes said.

Hughes encouraged anyone who might be witness to incidents similar to that on Daniels Creek to call the federation at the organization's 24-hour number, 285-3804.

Dr. Ousley said the young doe might well recover from its wounds to be released later.

Permits Banned On Disputed Land

In cases where landowners and coal operators are in dispute over broadform deeds, the state must stop issuing stripmine permits, a federal judge ruled last week.

The ruling came in response to a complaint by five eastern Kentucky residents, including Everett Akers, of Finance Hollow, near Martin. The surface owners argued that federal law requires the states to hold up permits until courts resolve property disputes between landowners and mining firms.

The issue arose in the wake of a revised state law which took effect last July 13. The law bars stripmining under broadform deeds unless landowners give their consent—on the argument that those who sold their coal under the turn-of-the-century deeds did not foresee its being extracted by modern methods like stripmining, auger mining or mountaintop removal.

The state Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet held that it was not required, before it issued a permit, to determine whether the applicant was in conformity with state law. But U.S. District Judge William O. Bertelsman said Congress intended that the state regulatory agency "ascertain that a prima facie showing of the right to surface mine under state law has been properly documented by the applicant."

Bertelsman issued a preliminary injunction against the Natural Resources

Cabinet in Frankfort last Thursday. He also ordered the state to revoke, at the request of affected landowners, any stripmine permits issued since July 13 on the basis of the old broadform deeds.

A ruling on the constitutionality of the new law, which has been challenged by the coal industry, may be made after Bertelsman hears oral arguments in that dispute on April 19. But, in the meantime, the state law must be presumed to be constitutional, he said.

Meanwhile, 11 coal companies failed this week in an attempt to get Franklin Circuit Judge Ray Corns to address the constitutionality issue. Former state

Floyd Youngster, Mother Join March To Prove Birth Defects

A Floyd youngster and his mother were among a group that marched on a Cincinnati courthouse last week in an unsuccessful attempt to bring before a jury what they considered the best evidence that Bendectin, a drug that used to be prescribed for morning sickness in pregnant women, caused birth defects.

Among about 20 members of the Association of Birth Defect Children who Reflecting on the list of candidates in this county, I would say the office of magistrate is the most popular or most desirable of the lot. No fewer than 41 citizens of the county are off and running for the office.

Carnival Worker Fined $500 On Each of Two Drug Counts

A carnival worker convicted of selling marijuana last October on the grounds of Prestonsburg Elementary School was fined $500 on each of two counts in Floyd District Court yesterday (Tuesday).

The case, which saw two Ohio men charged after Prestonsburg police officers raided a van on the school grounds during last year's Jenny Wiley Festival, ended in a complicated deal worked out by their attorney and agreed to by judge and prosecutor.

Tery R. Warner, 28, of Reedsville, Ohio, pleaded guilty to two misdemeanor counts of trafficking in marijuana. Warner was found in a van parked near the Snyder Amusements carnival last Oct. 11. Police said he was splitting a quantity of marijuana and bagging it. Eight bags, containing about seven ounces of the drug in all, were confiscated. Sale of eight ounces constitutes a felony.

Two felony counts against Benny L. Branham, 33, of Pomeroy, O., were dismissed. The owner of the van, he was charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon and possessing a defaced firearm after police discovered in the van a 9 mm. pistol from which the serial number had been erased by filing.

Under the deal contrived by defense attorney Gary Johnson, the two men forfeited the bonds they posted on their arrest. $1000 of Warner's $1500 bond was designated as "proceeds of criminal activity" and was ordered confiscated under a new state law and turned over to the city police department. The rest of the bond went to pay one of his fines. Branham also signed over $500 of his $600 bond to pay Warner's other fine.

The plea bargain was approved by Asst. County Attorney Eric Hall and Det. Sgt. Mike Ormerod, of the city police.

Garrett 8th Grader Wins Spelling Bee

Gina Prater, 13-year-old eighth grade honor student at Garrett Elementary is the winner of this year's county-wide championship in the Herald Dispatch Spelling Bee held February 28 at Allen.

A daughter of Danny and Cathy Allen, of Hueysville, Miss Prater excels in basketball as well as academic pursuits and lists reading and music among her special interests.

Her instructors at Garrett are Wanda McCown, Danny O'Quinn and Neil Watson.

Highways Head Sees New Work At Record Pace

"Build us a road and we will prosper. Build us a four-lane and you will be the one to set in motion economic activity unprecedented in the Big Sandy area."

That was the point state Sen. David Lemaster wanted to make last Thursday to Transportation Secretary Dr. Floyd G. Poore. It was a point made repeatedly during a dinner sponsored by area Chambers of Commerce at May Lodge at which Poore was guest speaker.

Nor did the Secretary seem slow to get the message. While road maintenance funds are scarce—the money currently set aside would see Kentucky roads resurfaced only once every 78 years—new highways will be built at an unprecedented rate over the next five years, Poore said.

And much of the roadbuilding, he pointed out, will be in eastern Kentucky. Look for a $78 million upgrading of KY 3 between Auxier and Inez, engineering studies on a four-lane corridor between Prestonsburg and Paintsville, and construction of a spur to link Right and Left Beaver creeks via Sizemore, he said.

The latter project appeared in doubt after construction estimates came in at $10 million or more when only $4.5 million had been earmarked for the spur in bond money. But Poore noted that the project is in the Transportation Cabinet's six-year plan and said he was committed to seeing it implemented.

The Mountain Parkway will also get

154 Beat Deadline Here For Place on May Ballot

Last Wednesday's filing deadline found no lack of candidates for the 25 offices for which elections will be held this year. Some 154 candidates put down $20 each at the county court clerk's office to enter their names for offices ranging from mayor to magistrate, while two filed in Frankfort as candidates for district judge.

In countywide races, incumbent John M. Stumbo, of Harold, will meet Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen, of Prestonsburg, in the May 28 primary election of a Democratic nominee for judge-executive. Prestonsburg physician Dr. Larry Leslie has filed as a Republican, although his candidacy faces a possible legal challenge.

Challenging Carla Boyd, of Eastern, in the Democratic race for county court clerk, are Hershel Hamilton, of Beaver, Sally Stephens Osborne, of Prestonsburg, and Ray Turner, of Drift. Ray Dempsey, of Weeksbury, will be the Republican nominee.

Three attorneys, all Democrats, will vie for the chance to represent the county in place of County Attorney Arnold

Turner, Jr., who is not seeking reelection. They are Danny P. Caudill, of Martin, David A. Barber, of Prestonsburg, and Cassie J. Allen, of East Point.

Sheriff Henry C. Hale, of Blue River, will face five opponents in the Democratic primary—Harold Joseph, Jr., of Prestonsburg, Roger Webb, of West Prestonsburg, Paul H. Thompson, of Prestonsburg, Billy Lee Craft, of Auxier, and Linzie Hale, of Prestonsburg. This year is the first time in the state's history that an incumbent sheriff has been eligible to run for a successive term.

Jailer Lawrence Hale will have opposition from Democrats Sid Triplett, of Bevensville, Avery "Jackie" Hamilton, of Melvin, and Ernest Burchett, of Emma. The Democratic nominee will face Republican Astor Hunter, Jr., of Emma, in November.

Coroner Roger Nelson, of Dwale, is being challenged by Jimmy G. Layne, of Prestonsburg, in the primary. Property Valuation Administrator Lovel Hall, Democrat, is unopposed. Three Prestonsburg men—Paul D. Greene, Damon Newsome and James Lafferty—have filed for county surveyor, a position which has been vacant since 1983 and which carried no real responsibilities for several years before that.

Filing in Frankfort for judge in the 31st district were incumbent Harold J. Stumbo and former Public Defender Ned B. Pillersdorf, both of Prestonsburg. Because only two candidates filed in the non-partisan race, they will not appear on the ballot until November.

In a Feb. 19 letter to County Clerk Carla Boyd, Asst. Deputy Attorney-General Walter C. Herdman said Larry Leslie, candidate for judge-executive, is disqualified from either voting or being a candidate in the May primary since he switched party affiliation from Democrat to Republican since last November's general election. No one has yet challenged Leslie's candidacy, however.

Among the county's most-sought positions are the four seats on the fiscal court, which drew the following contenders:

District No. 1: Jerry A. DeRossett, of Prestonsburg, Burlin Jay Bradford, Blue River, Irvin Shepherd, David, Robert D. McAninch, Middle Creek, Arvel "Mush" Nelson, West Prestonsburg, Gerald DeRossett (incumbent), Prestonsburg, Bill Woods, Jr., Emma, E. Shag Branham, Prestonsburg, Paul Slone, Prestonsburg, Roger Rowe, Prestonsburg, Bill Ray Collins, Prestonsburg, all Democrats, and Gorman Collins, Jr., Republican.

IT WAS GREAT KITE-FLYING weather Monday with temperatures near 80 and a brisk wind blowing steadily, but young Dennis Lafferty, of Dwale found it a bit tricky to handle eating an orange push-up and keep his kite airborne at the same time.

USAA Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Kimberly Akers has been named a 1985 United States National Award winner in science.

Miss Akers, who attends McDowell High School, was nominated for this national award by Mrs. Joan Caudwell, biology and chemistry teacher at the school. Her biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Miss Akers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Akers, of McDowell, and her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jones, of Prestonsburg.

Mrs. Salisbury went home with them, Sunday evening. While here, they called on Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Webb and family and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Goins and Delbert Milton at the Webb home.

KEA Spelling Contest Nears District Finals

District association competitions for the Kentucky Education Association (KEA) President's Spelling Bee will be held in March, state coordinator Bruce Otto of Louisville has announced.

The 12 winners of the district contests will compete in the state finals at 10 a.m. Thursday, April 11 during KEA's annual convention at Louisville's Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Public-school students in grades four through eight are competing for the top honors, said Otto, a Shelby County teacher.

The Eastern Kentucky district contest will be held at 2 p.m. March 16 at Boyd county's Summit Junior High School.

The word university was first applied to collegiate studies in the 1200's.

Warming Weather Brings Out Pests of Different Sorts

The recently warming weather has stirred insect and insect-related pests into activity throughout Kentucky. The insects seem to be distributed generally throughout the state. The insect-related pests concentrate around the state borders.

Dr. Chris Christensen, Extension entomologist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, said many types of insects will be stirred from their dormancy by the warmer temperatures. Termites and winged ants will be seen swarming.

The insect-related pests are the unscrupulous, often unlicensed, salespeople who have begun making their rounds in the state selling pest control services of disputable need and of questionable value.

Christensen said it is easy to tell the difference between termites and flying ants.

"Lots of people get mighty concerned when they see anything other than a housefly buzzing around in their house, especially when they see dozens or even hundreds of them. They immediately think, Oh no, termites! But termites don't look like ants. Here's how to tell. A termite has two sets of wings, both the same length. Flying ants have two sets of wings, but the rear wings are shorter. Flying ants have eyes and termites don't. Flying ants have narrow waists and termites have fat waists.

"Don't let anybody sell you an expensive termite treatment just to get rid of a bunch of flying ants. The ants aren't hurting anything and they'll leave in a few days, anyway," Christensen said.

Donnie Tipton, of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture Division of Pesticides, said the borders of Kentucky are a favorite area for individuals peddling questionable pest control services.

We get calls from all over the state, but the edges of the state seem to be especially popular among the illegal pest control people. They come into the state, make a little money and retreat back across the state line before we can catch them, Tipton said.

In Kentucky any individual who uses pesticides for hire, regardless of the type of pesticide, is licensed by the state. An individual who represents himself or herself as being certified in Kentucky will have an identification card to prove it.

"The card will say, 'Kentucky Department of Agriculture, Division of Pesticides Identification Card,' and will have the name of the pesticide applicator and the company he or she works for. It will be signed by Mike Stivers and will have an expiration date of June 30, 1985," Tipton said.

Even if an individual is properly licensed, that doesn't mean you necessarily need the service that is suggested, Christensen said homeowners should ask a few questions before agreeing to any pest control services.

"Ask them what chemical they're using and at what strength. There aren't any secrets in this business, and if the pesticide applicator can't or won't tell you what chemical he's using I'd watch out," Christensen said.

Kathy Dorman, assistant attorney general for the Commonwealth of Kentucky, said there are a few general guidelines that can help prevent being ripped off by high-pressure door-to-door salesman.

"First of all, remember that any kind of sale for more than $25 solicited at your home can be cancelled within 72 hours," Dorman said. That means that even if a contract is signed, it is not valid until 72 hours have elapsed.

Dorman, Tipton and Christensen all suggest not agreeing to anything the first time a sales person calls. Get quotes, estimates and references, and get a look at a state pesticide ap-plicator's license. If you are suspicious try to get a description of the vehicle the person is driving and a license number. Call the Department of Agriculture to report any suspicious pest control sales people.

"If somebody insists that you need service immediately, or says they can't come back tomorrow or the next day because they're too busy, I'd be suspicious. Make them give you a written estimate. The estimate should include a sketch of the house showing the areas where termite damage exists, how extensive the damage is, and how much it's going to cost to take care of the problem," Christensen said. Then go get a few more estimates. Many companies offer free estimates.

Dorman suggested checking with the Better Business Bureau about a particular company's reputation. She also said it's a good idea to ask for references and actually call a few of the company's previous customers to ask how they liked the service.

"There's a lot of good people out there providing pest control service. Christensen said. "You just have to be a little careful to be sure you get one of them, and not one of the unscrupulous ones."

Council Resignation Withdrawn by Watson

Prestonsburg City Councilman Bobby L. Watson, who submitted a letter of resignation to Prestonsburg City Manager David Evans following the February 18 meeting of the city council, announced this week that he had decided to withdraw his resignation.

"I will serve the remainder of my term as councilman and will seek the office of Mayor of Prestonsburg on a write-in ballot," Watson said.

His decision to run for mayor on an independent ticket brings to four the number of candidates seeking the office in Prestonsburg.

On All-KIAC Team

At the close of each basketball season, the six coaches in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference vote for the 10 players who have been most outstanding during the previous season. These 10 players make up the Women's All-KIAC Basketball Team.

Mia Jones, 6'2" freshman from Wheelwright, has been named to this group of KIAC elite. She received the third highest number of votes, behind Regina Hubbard, of Union College, and Colette Jarrell, of Pikeville College.

In looking at her 1984-85 cumulative statistics, it is not surprising that she received this KIAC honor. Her personal statistics have been impressive throughout the season. In 25 games, she has scored a total of 417 points with an average 16 points per game. She was 170 of 361 from the field and 77 of 116 from the free throw line. Jones is ranked third overall in KIAC top scorers. Off the boards, she has a season total of 216 rebounds, for 8.6 per game.

Defensively, she managed to block 50 shots being attempted by her opponents and picked up 49 unclaimed balls. She also forced 32 additional turnovers by intercepting opponent passes.

Jones credits her success to her coach and her teammates, "Coach Oakes is a good coach and has been instrumental in my success at ALC this season. Although the ALL-KIAC award is an individual one, my success this year has been a team effort. I could not have done so well without the support and encouragement of the other girls on the team."

Lady Eagles' Head Coach Tammy Oakes says, "Mia has earned a reputation among the KIAC coaches as being one of the best centers in the conference. I think her selection to the All-KIAC Team is definitely an indication of this reputation."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jones, of Bypro, and her father coached Mia during her four years at Wheelwright High School.

Population Boom Has Ended for Kentucky But Floyd Shows Gain

The first population figures collected since the 1980 census show that Kentucky's population, which was in an upward surge five years ago, has not only skidded to a halt but has actually lost ground.

Floyd and most counties of the so-called Mountain region showed gains, however, but not at the fast pace reflected in the 1980 head count. Estimates for a period of two years (April 1, 1980 to July 1, 1982) show that Floyd county had a population gain of 2.4%, up from a population of 48,764 in 1980 to 49,900 in '82.

Martin county had the heaviest percentage gain, 3.6, in the area. Magoffin's gain, percentage-wise, was the same as Floyd's, and others were lower—Pike 1.2, Knott 1.5, Johnson 1.6, Lawrence, Perry, Letcher and Leslie also showed gains.

Area counties recording losses include Boyd, Rowan, Owsley, Menifee, Lee, Elliott and Breathitt.

Fulton and Todd counties in western Kentucky suffered the heaviest losses, each dropping by 4% plus. Bourbon county in the Blue Grass area was a loser. Fayette county showed a gain but Jefferson county lost.

Dr. Thomas Ilvento, a sociologist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, said that in the years since the last census 28,000 more people have left Kentucky than have moved into the state. The rate of exodus from the cities has been four times greater than the migration from Kentucky's rural areas.

The difference between the birth rate and the death rate has more than made up for the number of people who left, which means the state has more people than it did two years ago, but the new citizens are babies. Those who left were the ones Kentucky can least afford to lose—economically productive adults, Ilvento said.

"During the 70s the state posted net migration gains of around 6 percent following decades of net migration losses when more people left the state than moved to it. The first part of the 80s suggests a return to the substantially slower rates of population growth of earlier decades," Ilvento said.

The rapid growth of the 70s caught many state and local officials off guard. Following years of population loss, there was a sudden, often overwhelming, increase in demand for local services such as schools, water systems, roads, and police and fire protection.

Ilvento said plans that have been developed to provide services based on the needs projected by the growth patterns of the 70s may not be appropriate for the 80s.

"These figures are compiled on a statewide basis, and suggest that trends noted in the 70s are no longer appropriate for planning. Some counties in the state are not experiencing the same trends, and local planning should be based on local figures," Ilvento said.

Just looking at the numbers doesn't tell the whole story. When the numbers are connected to the types of individuals they represent, the picture becomes more serious. The state's tax base is disappearing faster than the need for new services.

"Net out-migration during the early 80s hints of a return to the years when Kentucky was an exporter of its most valuable resource—economically productive adults.

"Studies of those leaving Kentucky indicate that by and large they are more educated, have higher status occupations and have higher incomes than those who remain in the state," Ilvento said.

USAA Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Charles Centers, Jr., has been named a 1985 United States National Award winner in English.

Charles Centers, Jr., who attends J.H. Allen Central High School was nominated for this national award by Mrs. Leona Fouts, English teacher at the school. His biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Centers is the son of Charles and Brenda Centers. His grandparents are Burnie and Effie Centers, of Hueysville, and the late Edgel and Nannie Davis.

In 1982, at least nine states had laws requiring some or all employers to let employees examine their own personnel files—but usually not letters of reference or records on criminal investigations, according to "A Working Woman's Guide to Her Job Rights," issued by the U.S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau.

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT 2—

Well, watch out, people, it's time for the White Wash Season. This season only lasts 3 months prior to each Magisterial Election. This is when you see the red dog, gravel, culverts, and wood for bridges showing up that has been needed for the last 3 years and 9 months. It is funny how they couldn't afford to do this work before and yet just before the election they can manage to work crews on Sundays for these purposes. I urge EVERY voter in District 2 to call and get every lump of red dog, loads of gravel, and needed repairs to bridges and culverts that they can get for the next 3 months while the getting is good.

The "Quest" for Drug-free Youth

While there have been some encouraging signs recently—marijuana use is down slightly—drug and alcohol abuse among our young people is still of epidemic proportions.

The average age of initial drug and alcohol experimentation in the United States is twelve-and-a-half. Formerly, sneaking a cigarette or a swig of beer might have been a way of testing the limits in early teenage years, but today's teens use a wide variety of drugs, including marijuana and cocaine.

On the one hand, young people hear pro-drug messages in popular songs and see advertisements that associate good looks and success with tobacco and alcohol.

On the other hand, parents, teachers and health authorities tell them about the dangers of these chemicals. But because many of them are members of two-worker or single-parent families, they all-too-often must make important decisions entirely on their own.

Many aren't prepared to make them. They respond by running away, dropping out, attempting suicide, and getting involved with drugs.

Help is on the way, though, as a result of a cooperative program of Lions Clubs International and the Quest National Center. Designed for 10-14 year-olds from grades 6-8, and called "Skills for Adolescence," it's a comprehensive curriculum meant to give young people the confidence and skills they must have to resist the lure of drugs and alcohol.

Developed by a team of 57 nationally known educators, writers and experts on adolescence that included Bill Cosby, among other notables, the program offers all the materials needed for successful involvement of teachers, parents and students.

These include a 500-page teacher's manual, a book of stories and essays for students, a student workbook-journal, and a newsletter and other materials for parents.

Launched in selected schools in five states in January, 1984 with the help of the W. Clement and Jessie V. Stone Foundation, "Skills for Adolescence" is now being made available in the United States and Canada through local Lions Clubs.

Parents, teachers and others interested in taking a positive approach to helping our young people resist the lure of drugs and alcohol should contact their local Lions Club. Or they can call Lions-Quest toll free at 1-800-446-2700 (except Alaska, Hawaii and Ohio). In Ohio, call 1-800-223-7900; in Canada, 1-800-247-0500; and in Alaska and Hawaii, 1-614-882-6400 (this is a toll call).

Greenwood To Appear In Performance Here

Lee Greenwood, one of country music's most popular performers will appear in concert at the Prestonsburg High School fieldhouse, Thursday, March 21 at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Prestonsburg Park Commission, proceeds from the concert will be used in much-needed renovation work for the Archer Park swimming pool.

His popularity and acclaim as a singer and songwriter have brought him such prestigious honors as winner of Male Vocalist of the Year by The Country Music Association, NARAS (The Grammy), The Academy of Country Music, and Music City Cover Awards, all in 1982. Since then he has appeared on such television programs as Solid Gold and The Tonight Show and in 1984 he again won the Country Music Association's Male Vocalist of the Year. Cash Box Magazine, Music City News and the Academy of Country Music also voted him Male Vocalist of the Year for 1984.

Holders of reserved tickets will be able to meet the performer close up in a reception in the high school cafeteria at 7 p.m.

Tickets are on sale at the following locations: Francis Stores, Abacus Computer Store, City Hall, Thomas Hereford Company and Station Alpha in Prestonsburg; The Arrival, Station Alpha and the Video Library in Paintsville; Station Alpha and the Stereo Warehouse in Pikeville, the Video Library in Louisa, and Village Video in Martin.

In Lexington Fair

David Appalachian Crafts will be exhibiting its crafts at the prestigious 1985 Kentucky Crafts Market sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Arts. Among several new items the center will be showing are wall hangings, pillow tops and a baby quilt using original color design. An original design patchwork jacket and vest designed by Sue Yates, a David Crafts member, will highlight a fashion show of wearables. The three-day market includes one wholesale trade day and two retail days open to the public. It will be held at the Lexington Center on March 8, 9, 10.

New Troopers Are Assigned

Thirty-four new Kentucky state troopers were sworn in Saturday by State Supreme Court Justice J. Calvin Aker.

Forty-seven cadets originally began the 20-week training program which started last October 15. The 34 who will graduate, including one woman, will raise the number of troopers employed, statewide, to 943, or 25 short of the KSP's total authorized strength.

Among the cadets beginning State Police service is Larry Woods, of Prestonsburg, who has been assigned to the Hazard post.

Kentucky State Police Commissioner Morgan T. Elkins awarded diplomas in a separate ceremony at Kentucky State University's Bradford Hall auditorium. Kentucky's Adjutant General Billy G. Wellman was the principal speaker at the Bradford Hall ceremonies.

Saturday's events began at 8 a.m. with an open house for friends and relatives of Cadet Class 62.

Eleven of the new troopers will be assigned to the state police post at Pikeville, seven to the Harlan post, six to the Hazard post, four to Morehead, two to the Columbia post and one each to the Henderson, London, Richmond and Madisonville posts.

New officers to report to the Pikeville post are:

James Critchlow, 28, from Leitchfield; Cary Cross, 24, of Richmond; David Friedly, 23, of Frankfort; David Jackson, 29, of Salyersville; Mark Mayes, 26, Hopkinsville; Phillip McFaddin, 29, Paintsville; Larry Owens, 25, Henderson; Susan Rothman, 27, Louisville; Lowell Ward, 30, Paintsville; Bobby Woods, 29, Ashland; and Blair Wrigley, 26, Greenville.

Most Photogenic

Geneva Boyd, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Boyd, of Dana, received first place in the Most Photogenic and third place in the Beauty category in her age group at the Miss Sweetheart Pageant sponsored by the Betsy Layne Band Boosters Feb. 16. A seventh-grader at Prater Elementary, she is a member of the Prater Dollets twirling squad.

DID YOU KNOW "light burning" can cause loss equal to or greater than a severe fire which burns up most all the trees? (Over the years, timber decay resulting from "light fires" will eventually cause a loss in value greater than if severe fires completely killed the timber and the stand was started over again. Also, for as long as they stand, these large, damaged trees inhibit and often prevent the growth of a new, healthy stand of trees.)

Festival Director Wins Trip to Nassau As 38 Audition for Roles

Besides auditioning 38 would-be actors for the coming season at the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre, the Jenny Wiley Drama Association held a raffle Feb. 24 as a fund-raising venture, and a Prestonsburg woman won a trip for two to Nassau.

Winner of the Nassau trip is Mrs. Kathryn S. Frazier, wife of Chalmer H. Frazier, and director of the Jenny Wiley Folk Festival which is held annually at the amphitheatre of Jenny Wiley State Park.

People came to audition from all over the Big Sandy area. They were all interested in acting at Jenny Wiley Theatre this summer. Everyone participating in the auditions were required to act, sing and dance. Casting will be completed after the Southeastern Theatre Conference in March.

Tony Distler, producing director for Jenny Wiley Theatre, said he was very pleased with the turn-out for the auditions. He will be directing A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum and will be hiring directors for The Second Of Music and Pippin.

Nicholas Cline Hunter celebrated his second birthday at his home, Feb. 10, with friends and relatives. He is the son of Bo and Cindy Hunter, of Printer.

$66,000 Loan Made To 8-County Co-Op

A new fresh vegetable processing plant in Lee County, near Beattyville which will serve 200 farmers in an eight-county area, has been made possible through a $66,000 Community Development block grant approved by the Kentucky Commerce Cabinet.

The grant was made to Lee county fiscal court, which in turn is loaning the funds for the project to Mountain Farms Co-op at low interest rates. Money from repayment of the loan will remain in Lee county to finance other community projects, Commerce Secretary Carroll Knically said.

Farmers in Lee, Powell, Estill, Wolfe, Breathitt, Leslie, Clay and Owsley counties formed the co-op last fall with technical assistance from the Department of Agriculture and the University of Kentucky Extension Service. Morehead State University, through its Appalachian Development Center, also assisted with the project.

Co-op members will be growing 100 acres of cucumbers and 200 acres of bell peppers for fresh produce markets across the Southeast. The co-op will charge members a fee to receive, wash, grade, box and cool the produce. The vegetables then will be shipped to a produce broker in Georgia for distribution to the markets. The Agriculture Department assisted in negotiations with the brokerage company.

5 at Job Corps Get Jail Terms

Five students at the Carl D. Perkins Job Corps Center here have received six-month jail terms after each pleaded guilty in district court to five counts of theft.

State police said Tony Randal Pate, 21, of Ages, Jeffery Taylor Fitch, 22, of Rochester, New York, Eric Eugene Allen, 18, of Royalton, and Covey B. Sweeney, 19, of Inez, broke into five cars at Lancer on Feb. 19 and stole various items from them.

The cars belonged to Cathy Tackett, Paul Skeens, Raymond Ratcliff, Bill Goble and Kenneth Stumbo.

According to a report, the students explained they had committed the thefts in hopes of being sent home from the job training center.

Also in district court, Donald Taylor, foreman of the Blackhawk Mining Co., near Lancer, pleaded guilty last week to a charge that he allowed a stream to be polluted.

Jim McCown, an officer with the state Dept. of Fish and Wildlife, cited Blackhawk Feb. 19 for allowing black water to enter a stream near the company's plant on KY 3.

No fine was levied, the coal company paying $47.50 in court costs only.

Berea Begins Enrollment In Rising Seniors Program

Berea College is accepting applications for its 1985 summer Rising Seniors Program for high school students who have completed the junior year with a B average.

The four-week program, which begins June 9 and continues through July 3, allows students to do intensive study in one subject. Each course offers one college credit, the equivalent of four semester hours.

The cost is $220 per student which covers room, meals, accident insurance and some activity fees. Some full or partial scholarships are available and each student will receive pay for participation in Berea's on-campus labor program. The college library, health services, tennis courts, pool and gymnasium, as well as planned activities, are available.

Applications and additional information may be obtained from Charles E. Morgan, RSP Admissions, CPO 2344, Berea College, Berea, Ky. 40404. Students with limited financial resources will receive preference in admission to the program.

Program courses include:

—Wildlife Biology, with prerequisites of one year of high school biology, a grade of B plus in the sciences and recommendation of a science instructor.

—Spoken Spanish, for students with no previous knowledge of Spanish or those with no more than one year of high school Spanish.

—English: College Writing, prerequisite of three years of high school English with a B plus average and recommendation of an English teacher.

—The Geometry of Bending and Twisting: Point-Set Topology, designed for students with three years of mathematics including Algebra I and II and an overall average in math of a B plus.

—History: Critical Issues for Black Americans.

The Statue of Liberty known as "the famous lady with a lamp" stands in New York Harbor and is a beacon to all ships sailing in and out of the harbor. Total height of the statue and pedestal is 305' 6". The statue alone is 151' 1". Length of the right arm, 42'; hand, 16' 5"; index finger, 8'; fingernail, 13" x 10"; head, 17' 3" by 10"; weight 225 tons.

101st Birthday

Mrs. Amanda Adams, of Bakers Branch in Johnson county, celebrated her 101st birthday, Sunday, with a family dinner. After a dessert of cake and ice cream, she opened her gifts presented to her by Marcella Mills, and daughters, Brenda and Frances, of Ecorse, Mich.; Charles Whitten and Buddy Whitten, both of Trenton, Mich.; Jay Whitten and Hazel Meade, both of Williamsport; Howard Meade and family, Granville Meade and family and Robert Whitten, all of Paintsville; Denzil, Hope, Janet, Phillip, Denny and Mary Whitten, all of Prestonsburg.

Mrs. Adams has 26 grandchildren, 72 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

FLOYD COUNTY HEALTH NEWS

By JANE BOND
Health Educator

Cervical cancer can be one of the most curable of all cancers, yet it kills thousands of women each year. These deaths could be avoided if the disease is detected in its earliest stages. There is a simple painless test to determine if cervical cancer is present. The Pap test takes only a few moments of a woman's time. Women over age 45 are especially urged to have regular pap tests.

The Floyd County Health Department is having pap clinics March 4, and March 13, 8:30-11:30 and 1-2. These clinics are free services of the Health Department and are open to women of all ages.

There will be a glaucoma screening clinic at the Health Department Friday, March 8. This clinic is a free service of the Health Department and is open to persons of all ages, but those age 40 and over are especially urged to take advantage of this screening, since this is the high risk age for the disease.

A nurse from the Health Department will be in Wayland at the Methodist Church, March 11, 10-2. She will offer T.B. skin tests, urinalyses, anemia screening, blood pressures and immunizations. This clinic is a free service of the Health Department and is open to the public.

DR. ROBERT D. MARSHALL FOR MAGISTRATE DISTRICT NO. 2

TO ALL FLOYD COUNTIANS IN MAGISTERIAL DIST. NO. 2:

Although I have never been a candidate for public office, I feel the time has come for someone to seek this office with a commitment for equality with quality of service. I humbly feel I am that person.

Although family relations should not dictate to anyone the manner in which you cast your vote, every voter desires to know each candidate personally, and if that is impossible, to associate them with family or relations.

I am the son of the late Charles R. Marshall (killed in action, W.W. II), and Dixie Ratliff Hyden, of Martin, and stepson of the late Dr. Joe T. Hyden. My paternal grandparents were the late Charles R. and Florence L. Marshall (formerly of Weeksbury, Martin and Allen). My maternal grandparents are the late Vernon Ratliff (Hite) and Sadie Osborne Ratliff who now resides at Allen, Kentucky. I am married to Sylvia Lois Flannery Marshall. We have two children, Renee and Stacy, both reared here in Floyd County.

As a young man I was taught that I could have a certain quality of life for myself and my family through hard work, and if God permits, a good education. I graduated from Martin High School and was able to go to college and eventually to be licensed to practice dentistry and have pursued that profession diligently for seventeen years. Unfortunately, I have learned like most of you that no matter how hard you work or how hard you try to provide for your family, this in itself will not assure those you love a certain quality of life. Outside my home, my children need decent roads to travel and the other fundamental government services that individuals in other areas are privileged to take for granted. This is the reason I want to serve as your magistrate on the Floyd Fiscal Court. As your magistrate I promise to put all my energies and concerns toward getting the best services for you that are possible from every dollar available. I will not allow my decisions to be influenced by relations, politics, or any other improper consideration.

A DEFINED PLAN FOR COUNTY ROAD MAINTENANCE ELECT

JAMES R. ALLEN COUNTY JUDGE-EXECUTIVE

One of the most important responsibilities of County government is the maintenance of our county roads and bridges. Every single citizen needs and deserves adequate access to their residence. This is the largest item in the County budget, some $500,000 for 1984-1985. Yet, most residents feel that their roads are being neglected by county government and are frequently given the excuse "we don't have any money" when the conditions of their roads are brought to the attention of our elected officials.

Some of our elected officials always use the excuse "we don't have enough money" as the answer to any problem they are presented with. All of us could certainly use more money, however we must learn to live within our means and to effectively use the money we have. That's the way we handle our personal finances; that's the way we must handle our public funds.

What can county government do to improve our transportation system? We can institute management techniques that enable us to better spend our resources and assure that every county road is treated fairly in the expenditures of the public's money. The county road department is not staffed nor does it have the equipment to do major road construction. What it can do and do well is normal, routine road maintenance.

Pulling the ditchlines adequately and often to assure that water does not damage the roads or make them unsafe is a simple, quick and cost effective expenditure of your money. Look at your road. Is there water on the road? Are the drain pipes adequate and cleaned periodically to see that they carry the water? How long has it been since your road was graded and the ditchlines pulled? Are roads in other sections being kept immaculate while your road is being ignored?

Patching potholes is another responsibility of county government. Gravel, "red dog", asphalt or "blacktop" are relatively cheap items when compared to the blown tires, front end maintenance and personal injuries caused by not fixing the pot holes. Are the roads in your area maintained on a regular basis? How long has it been since the roads in your area were cleaned, graveled and all the pot holes fixed?

James R. Allen knows that road maintenance is important to our people and this will be a major priority in his administration. "I will institute a maintenance program for our roads using up to the minute, state of the art, computer assisted road maintenance scheduling. All roads will be maintained on an equal basis and I'll tell you in an instant what work has been done on your road, what work is planned, and how much money has been spent on your road in any given time period. This is 1985 and we simply cannot rely on a "crisis response" system of road maintenance. Our road maintenance program must be well thought out, scheduled, and fair to all sections. We must institute a road management system that assures all our people of an adequate county road system."

Are you satisfied with the present system of county road maintenance? If you are, we can continue the present system. However, if you think we can do better, that there is a way to effectively manage our money so that every single road in the county is adequately maintained and that all county roads, regardless of the section of the county they are located in, can be maintained on a regular and fair basis, then you have an alternative this May. Vote for James R. Allen. He has the knowledge, the training and the proven abilities to apply state of the art management to our road maintenance system. He'll make a difference in the maintenance of Floyd County roads. JAMES R. ALLEN—A LEADER FOR A CHANGE.

Meningitis Threat At School Fading

The case of meningitis that developed last Thursday in the Betsy Layne Elementary School and created concern among parents of other children attending the school is not contagious, the Floyd County Health Department said Tuesday after receiving a report on a laboratory test.

Six-year-old Anthony Kidd, of Honaker, became ill at the school and was taken to the Pikeville Methodist Hospital. Later, he was taken to the University of Kentucky Medical Center, where the laboratory tests were made. Parents became panicky as the fear of a possible epidemic mounted.

But the laboratory reported that the meningitis is Type H, which is neither contagious nor infectious, Earl Compton, health department and administrator, said.

The health department reacted to the meningitis threat by placing members of the child's family under medication and recommending sanitation measures and other precautionary action at the school.

With the threat of an epidemic past, the health department is no longer worried about children attending the school, Compton said. But it is suggested that if a child develops an earache or headache or has a high temperature, it should be taken to its family doctor. Type H meningitis in its early stages is not unlike the onset of influenza, Compton said.

Betsy Layne News

Attendance was up in all the local churches, Sunday, after the snow had finally left us.

Some of our local citizens are in the Mt. Manor Nursing Home at Pikeville. Those known at this time are Georgia Lewis, Madge Syphers, Hettie Johnston and D.W. Howard.

Born Jan. 11, at the Pikeville Methodist Hospital a son named William Chase to Mr. and Mrs. Jan Harvey Johnston. Mrs. Johnston is the former Betty Stamper.

Congratulations to the Betsy Layne Bobcats basketball team, for their winning the tournament Saturday night. Thanks to the Betsy Layne football team for helping direct traffic.

Brian Stratton has returned home and is teaching religion at Pikeville College. He is the son of Phyllis and Stanley Stratton, of Betsy Layne.

Mr. and Mrs. E.P. Davis are able to attend church again. They have been confined to their home due to illness.

Lorraine Martin, of Florida, was here recently to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, Kermit Martin, and spent a few days with her sister Mrs. Mildred Davis, and family.

Beth Jones Mahan is leaving for Spain, April 8, and will return April 20. She is now living in Kennesaw, Ga., and is the director of La Petite Academy of Marietta, Ga. Her husband, Carl Mahan, is with I.B.M. at Kennesaw.

Mae and Lee Cecil are ill at their home. Mrs. Cecil has recently suffered a stroke. Mr. Cecil celebrated his 90th birthday on Jan. 28, and they also celebrated a wedding anniversary on Jan. 29.

Margrett McKenny is doing nicely at her home after recent surgery at the Pikeville Methodist Hospital.

Prayers and get-well wishes go out to those who are known to be ill at this time: Mae and Lee Cecil, Georgia Lewis, D.W. Howard, Madge Syphers, Hettie Johnston, Kelsie Elliott, Margret McKenny, Lula Thompson, Virgil Hamilton, Liza Blackburn, Pauline Stumbo, Cora Lynch, Arvil and Margie Lynch.

CIRCLE MEETS

The Wesleyan Circle of the First United Methodist Church met Tuesday evening at the church, the president, Mrs. Rose Glenn, presiding. Mrs. Carlos Haywood was in charge of the program based on "The 23rd Psalm." Following the business session, the hostesses, Mrs. Virginia Jeffries and Miss Maurine Mayo, served refreshments to Mesdames Rose Glenn, Carlos Haywood, Douglas Perry, Dorothy Wells, Virginia Shivel, Shirley Callihan, Anna May Mellon, Margaret Alley, Josephine Fields, Edna Carol Greenwade, May K. ### Van Lear Brothers Accused of Killing Deer out of Season

Two Van Lear men face charges in district court of killing a deer out of season.

According to a conservation officer's report, Larry David Delong, 37, of Music Branch, admitted shooting a button buck on Long Branch, just below Dewey Dam, around 7 p.m. on Feb. 13.

Heavy snow had recently fallen in the area and Delong said he saw the white-tail on the hillside as he was driving by with his brother, Michael. He shot the deer with a .22-caliber rifle, skinned the carcass at home, and threw the skin and head into John's Creek, Delong reportedly told Johnson County Conservation Officer Jeff Preston the next day.

A summons for the two brothers was issued this week on a complaint of Floyd Conservation Officer Tommy Cantrell. Trial has been set for March 21 on the charges, which carry penalties of up to six months in jail, a $1000 fine, loss of hunting privileges for three years, and cost of replacing the lost deer.

Fear of Losing Beds Removed For Nursing Home Residents

Nursing home residents whose care is paid for by Medicaid may now leave the facility for certain hospital stays and overnight visits with relatives without fear of losing their beds, Cabinet for Human Resources Secretary Al Austin said today.

Before Dec. 1, when the Department for Social Insurance issued an emergency regulation allowing Medicaid to pay for beds while residents were away overnight, the beds were not reserved, even when the resident was in the hospital.

According to Austin, this policy placed a severe hardship on some residents. "The practice of not paying for nights away from the nursing home was started in 1981 as a cost containment measure, but the stress on residents, most of whom are older persons, proved to be very costly indeed," Austin stated. "We also discovered that the turnover in occupancy of these long-term care beds resulted in additional administrative costs to the Medicaid program and to the facility involved."

Department for Social Insurance Commissioner Jack Waddell, whose department administers Medicaid, said older persons contacted the cabinet to protest the policy and that Governor Martha Layne Collins also heard from many people on this issue.

"We had reports that older persons were actually refusing to go to the hospital against the advice of their doctor, because they were afraid they'd lose their bed and have to find another nursing home," Waddell explained.

Under the regulation, which received legislative review on Feb. 12, beds are reserved for up to 14 days per hospital stay for treatment of an acute condition. Total days away from the nursing home can't exceed 45 in one year and be paid by Medicaid.

In addition to retaining the bed during certain hospital stays, the nursing home resident may keep the bed for up to 15 days a year while they are away for other reasons.

"They may leave to stay overnight with relatives on a holiday or for a trial home visit to see if they are physically ready to leave the facility to live at home," Waddell said. "You can't put a price on being with a relative at Christmas, or attending such special events as the wedding or graduation of a grandchild. I'm sure we gain far more than it costs. Going home for even one night can be the best medicine available."

Social Security

Review of Mental Impairments
 By JIM KELLY
 Social Security District Director

A recent change in the Social Security law is important for many people with mental impairments. The Social Security Administration must establish new rules by early 1985 for evaluating mental impairments in the Social Security and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) programs. Here are ways people may be affected by the change:

1. New applicants. Until the new rules are in use, mentally impaired people who file disability applications will have their claims decided under current rules. If a claim is allowed, benefits can begin. If it cannot be allowed, the claim will be reviewed automatically for a possible allowance when the new rules are established.

2. Prior denials and terminations. Mentally impaired people who had an appeal of a termination decision pending on or after June 7, 1983 will have their cases automatically reviewed when the new rules are in effect. However, most mentally impaired people whose disability benefits were denied or stopped for medical reasons between March 1, 1981 and October 9, 1984 need to reapply to get a decision under the new rules. If they do so by October 9, 1985, the application may be considered to have been filed at the time of the latest denial or termination. Should the claim be allowed, Social Security benefits could be retroactive up to 12 months from the date of the new application. Anyone wishing to reapply should contact any Social Security office for more information and to avoid the possible loss of benefits.

If you wish more information about the new rules for evaluating mental impairments or about other changes in the Social Security law for disabled people, contact your Social Security office.

Program Offers Free Help With Drug Information Service

Somewhere in Kentucky, a worried father's concern for his teenage son keeps growing. The bright-eyed, tousle-headed young fisherman of last summer has become a belligerent rebel in just six months, and the problem seems to be getting worse.
The father suspects drugs may be to blame, but how can he approach the problem and where can he turn for advice on how to help, rather than alienate, his troubled son?
A good starting point is to dial 1-800-432-9337. That's the toll free number for the Cabinet for Human Resources' Drug Information Service for Kentucky (DISK). Callers may obtain free information on drug abuse education programs and information on where help for abusers is available.
Parents who suspect their child may be a drug abuser are often sent a copy of the book "When It's Your Child," according to Dianne McAvoy, who has been director of DISK since it began in June 1983. The book contains suggestions on what course of action a parent can take to help a child who is involved with drugs. DISK also has a referral list of local drug and alcohol abuse counselors for those who desire counseling.
"I get a lot of calls from teachers and community action groups who want to set up drug education programs for young people," said McAvoy. "Our 'Prevention Resources' manual offers them a wide selection of educational materials to choose from."
She emphasized that DISK plays an important part in the efforts of the Department for Mental Health/Mental Retardation Services' Division of Substance Abuse to publicize the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.
"When I get a request for information, I try to determine exactly what the individual's needs are," McAvoy explained. "There are dangers in giving out too much or too little information."
Giving out too much information to a client could result in his ignoring most of what he receives, she added. A deluge of facts might also confuse the person about which direction to take.
"On the other hand, if you don't give out enough information or give out inaccurate information, you're going to wind up with people making poor decisions on the basis of that information," McAvoy said.
While drug abuse is still a problem in Kentucky, she noted that teenagers' attitudes towards drugs are changing.

Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Larry Randel Miller, seventh grade student at the McDowell Grade School, has been named a 1985 U.S. National Award winner. He was nominated for the award by his Science teacher, Joan Caldwell. His biography will appear in the Achievement Academy's official yearbook.

Young Miller is a son of Marie and Gary Miller, of Ligon. His grandparents are Myrtle and Edd Tackett, of Melvin, and the late Betty and Odis Miller.

Gibson Wins Promotion To Rank of Captain

Gerald E. Gibson, son of Deanna Martin and stepson of Charles Martin, of Rural Route 18, Hueysville, has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of captain.

Capt. Gibson is a company commander at Fort Bragg, N.C., with the 82nd Airborne Division.

His wife, Kathy, is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Dan Heintzelman, of Martin. He is a 1981 graduate of Morehead State University.

Blood Drive Scheduled

Central Kentucky Blood Center and the Highlands Regional Medical Center have scheduled the first blood drive of 1985 in Prestonsburg for Thursday, March 14, at Highlands Regional Medical Center from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. At least 50 donors are needed at this drive to maintain a safe and adequate blood supply for patients in area hospitals.

For more information or to make an appointment, contact Billie Goble at 886-6511.

PENICILLINS

Penicillins are antibiotic, anti-infective drugs derived originally from a mold called penicillium. Lately, a variety of penicillins are produced by chemically modifying the basic chemical contained in the mold. All penicillins contain the same basic chemical structure. However, the structure is modified to produce drugs with different bacterial characteristics. As a result, one may be preferable to another in a given situation. Penicillins may either kill the organisms causing infection or merely slow them down, allowing the body's defenses to take over. Some penicillins are active against only a few bacteria, while others are active against a wide variety. Penicillins are not effective against viruses, fungi, rickettsiae or yeasts. Always take all the penicillin prescribed by your doctor.

If your physician prescribes a particular medication have him call COOLEY APOTHECARY directly. Our pharmacists are pledged to further and maintain the highest ethical standards of the pharmaceutical profession. We offer complete patient profiles and plenty of free parking. We are located at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Master Charge and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-4.

HANDY HINT:

It is best to take penicillins on an "empty stomach" either one hour before or two hours after a meal.

FESTIVAL BOARD MEETS

The Jenny Wiley Festival board met Feb. 25 at the Floyd County Library, with Mrs. Maxine Bierman, director, presiding. Mrs. Zelma McDowell gave a report on the last meeting. Atty. Dan Rowland was welcomed as a new member of the board. Mrs. Bierman announced these chairmen of committees; Charlotte Stone, Arts and Crafts, and E.L. Bierman, Concessions, and the following co-chairmen of committees, with the first name on each list denoting the chairman: Karen Bingham and Zelma McDowell, Children's Competition; Ada Sammons and Ethel Burke Costumes and Alice G. Buchanan and Eileen Burchett, Window Displays. It was decided that the Festival group will produce and sell collectors' Festival badges this year. The next board meeting will be at the same location, Monday evening, April 22, at 4 o'clock.

 DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR
MAGISTRATE, DIST. 2

Some of the people I've had a chance to talk to have asked me "who is supporting you and behind you in this campaign and will you be on the ballot on Election Day for sure?"

To answer these questions—These are the people who are behind me:

From left to right in picture:

- ★ My Sister, Priscilla Owens Martin, who is married to Dennis Martin of Eastern
- ★ Myself, Everett Owens. I am married to Hattie Cooley Owens of Prater Fork
- ★ My Mother, Molly Owens of Langley, owner of Molly's Beauty Shop and also owner of Molly's Florist.
- ★ My Brother, Joe Owens, who is married to Teresa Conley Owens of Rock Fork
- ★ My Sister, Ina Owens Robinson, who is married to Timothy Robinson of Langley

★ And, of course, my Friends and Voters of Dist. 2.

This way, if I am elected as your Magistrate, I can vote for the people and what they stand for and not be told how to vote. And I WILL be #3 on the Ballot come Election Day.

PSC To Monitor Audits Of Utilities' Management

A new staff section at the Public Service Commission will monitor management audits of the state's largest utilities, and conduct similar audits of smaller utility companies.

The management audit staff will monitor contracts and work with private consultants hired to audit the state's 10 largest utilities. A law passed by the 1984 General Assembly requires the PSC to "investigate management effectiveness and operating efficiency" of utility companies with assessable in-state revenues exceeding $1 million.

While the new staff section will have limited involvement with the audit of South Central Bell before its completion in late spring, PSC Executive Director Larry Stanley said the section will supervise follow-up activities, including the company's plans to implement recommendations made by Theodore Barry & Associates, the Atlanta-based consulting firm conducting the audit. When the Commission announces the next utility to be audited at the end of March, Stanley said the new staff will serve as the project coordinator and Commission contact for both the utility and consultants hired to perform the audit.

Stanley said that PSC staff in other areas had been taken from assigned duties to work with both the South Central Bell audit and the Kentucky Utilities audit completed last June. "We hope to develop a body of experts in utility operations and efficiency," Stanley said, adding that up to five persons may be added to the four-member staff that begins work March 1 by the end of the current biennium.

The Commission has hired Joseph A. Chrisman to head the management audit unit. A Louisiana native, Chrisman was a financial utility analyst with the Arkansas Public Service Commission before joining the Kentucky PSC.

In addition to supervising the audits mandated by the 1984 legislature, Stanley said the staff will conduct audits of small and mid-sized utilities at the request of the PSC on an "as needed" basis.

Stanley said Kentucky's management audit plan is based on the experiences of some 30 other states where audit programs already exist. "Using management audits as a tool to effectively regulate public utilities is an increasing trend," he said. "Most states have moved toward a systematic method of audits of jurisdictional utilities, which could be possible later in Kentucky," Stanley added.

The 1984 legislature required that management audits of 10 utilities and the PSC be completed by 1990. In addition to Kentucky Utilities and South Central Bell, these utilities will be audited: Big Rivers Electric Corp., Columbia Gas of Kentucky, East Kentucky Power Cooperative, General Telephone of Kentucky, Kentucky Power Co., Louisville Gas and Electric Co., Union Light, Heat and Power Co. and Western Kentucky Gas Co.

Stanley said the state auditor of public accounts will be soliciting proposals from consulting firms to conduct the management audit of the PSC this spring.

It is evident that drugs have weakened our great country. At first the problem was contained to the larger cities, but now it has spread into our rural areas.

As a Kentucky State Trooper, I worked every type of case, from air craft accidents to homicide investigations, but the ones that concern me most are the ones involving drugs and alcohol abuse. I have seen individuals suffer from these dreadful abuses, and it is not pleasant.

There is one pledge I will make to the people of Floyd County: it is to work hard toward controlling these very serious problems, and especially to keep them away from our schools.

TRAINING LESSON HELD

The Homemakers' leader training lesson on Catalog Shopping was held last week with 16 homemakers attending. Mrs. Bettie Jo Dedic, University of Kentucky clothing specialist, presented the lesson.

Those interested in more information about catalog shopping are welcome to attend any Homemakers meeting.

Door prizes were presented, and refreshments served to the following: Marena Hale, Louise Carey, Nancy Roberts, Donna Jefferson, Susan Goins, Ella Jane Hall, Alice Hayes, Mabel Allen, Lee Ann Johnson, Linda Porter, Donna Reitz, Linda Burchett, Dorothy Harris, Leatha Kendrick, Sharon Sparr and Frances Pitts.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The East Point Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Harris, Feb. 26. Mrs. Frances Pitts announced that the lesson on "Catalog Shopping" would be held this month. She reminded those in attendance of the Colonial Williamsburg tour scheduled for this fall. Club members voted on the "Suggested Subject Matter Lessons" for 1985-'86. Mrs. Pitts presented the lesson on "Twilling." The hostess served refreshments to members, Mesdames Gayle Bastin, Priscilla Hager, Lorena Horne, Elsie Leake, Sharon Watkins, Betsy Baldridge, Leatha Kendrick, Arnita Snavey, Nola McNicol, and Frances Pitts. Guests were Lida Carole Kendrick and Adam Scott Bastin.

WHEELWRIGHT CLASS OF 1975

Four Generations

Mrs. Ella Vaughn, of Prestonsburg, who turned 85 on Feb. 13, was given a surprise birthday party on Feb. 9 in Ypsilanti, Mich. by her children and grandchildren. To celebrate the occasion were four generations pictured: Mrs. Vaughn, her daughter, Mrs. Mary George, of Canton, Mich., her granddaughter, Mrs. Sara E. Justice and great-granddaughter, Kimberly D. Justice, of Wyandotte, Mich. Her cake was baked and decorated by her daughter, Mrs. Mary George. In attendance were 35 relatives and friends.

New Leukemia Cases In State This Year Expected To Be 400

Estimated new cases of leukemia, lymphoma and multiple myeloma will total 67,900 in the United States, the Leukemia Society of America reports. There will be an estimated 24,600 new cases of leukemia this year, about half of them acute leukemia and half of them chronic leukemia.

Approximately 400 new cases of leukemia will occur in Kentucky, according to Lawrence A. Hunt, Ph.D., associate professor, Dept. of Microbiology and Immunology, University of Louisville School of Medicine, and vice-president of the Society's Kentucky Chapter.

During the past 30 years, childhood survival rates have soared for those diseases under the aegis of the Leukemia Society. The cure rate for leukemia has climbed from virtually zero to 65 percent and from 16 percent to 83 percent for Hodgkin's disease.

In the past 15 years, more than 12,000 children survived leukemia who would have died if their disease has been diagnosed and treated in the 1950's, according to a report published in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

In 1950, "death equalled incidence," according to Dr. Hunt, but with combination chemotherapy first used in 1965, the outlook for childhood leukemia became a hopeful one.

Due to improved chemotherapy and radiation therapy, Hodgkin's disease is now considered by the Society to be one of the most curable forms of cancer.

There also has been dramatic improvement in survival rates for adults with acute leukemia, reports the Society. Eight times as many adults as children are stricken with leukemia. Survival rates for patients of all ages are expected to keep climbing.

(For more information about the Leukemia Society and its programs, contact the Kentucky Chapter office at 710 West Main St. Suite 100, Louisville, Ky. 40202).

VOTE FOR
RONDELL LAWSON
 DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR
MAGISTRATE, DISTRICT 2

To The Voters of Magisterial District No. 2

As a voter who appreciates that right and privilege, I beseech everyone who cares about their future to exercise your right to vote and express your opinion. Don't leave it to everyone else to decide who's elected. Decide for yourself and make your choice heard. Each and every vote does count. Study the issues involved. Find out what is involved in the office of Magistrate. What does the magistrate do, and how is that going to affect you?

Know who you are voting for; read about the candidates, hear them speak if possible, or call them and hold a private conversation by phone. I would appreciate a call and will be happy to tell you about myself and my plans after elected. Then you can decide who is the best and most qualified person for the office.

All this takes so little time and effort, but it makes you an intelligent, free thinking voter. If our democracy is to truly be run by the people; then you the people must take your privilege and responsibility seriously.

Please vote for and support Rondell Lawson for Magistrate, No. 2 on the ballot.

THE BREAKFAST CLUB. (R-Universal Pictures) Starring Emilio Estevez, Molly Ringwald and Ally Sheedy * * *

By J.T. YURKO

"The Breakfast Club" is a teenage group-therapy session on film. Five kids from a suburban Chicago high school meet during a Saturday detention hall held in the school's library. Over the course of the day they laugh, cry, smoke marijuana and generally bare their souls with gusto.

The five kids represent particular character types. There's the brain, the jock, the criminal, the weirdo and the princess. Each is struggling for an identity, fighting individual stereotypes.

"The Breakfast Club" is unique in that there is very little action and no exploitive sex or violence. The film is talky, and as 90 percent of it takes place on one set, it would almost fare better as a play.

Writer/director John Hughes initially places most of the blame for the teenager's problems squarely on the shoulders of the parents involved. And here is where the clichés come in. There's the "winning-is-everything" father-of-the-jock and the "straight A's is everything" father of the brain. The criminal's father beats him up, the princess's mother is an alcoholic, the weirdo's parents just ignore her, and so on. Not that these problems don't exist, but everything seems a little pat; the armchair analysis is too neatly wrapped up in prepackaged psychological bundles of angst.

On the other hand much of what goes on here is very true, often disturbing, and probably highly recognizable by most high school kids. The sex, the drugs, the peer pressure and the parental inadequacies are all very real concerns. But Hughes gives these kids a sensitivity, vulnerability, openness and depth of awareness that makes the proceedings seem artificial and contrived. Thus, this juvenile version of "The Big Chill" may not meet with popular success, but will probably be used to spark discussion by every high school guidance counselor in America.

Friendly persuasion.

What would it take to persuade you to join the Payroll Savings Plan and buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

We could appeal to your patriotism. Or we could point out the dangers of not preparing for the future.

Instead, we'll just point out in a very friendly way that Bonds are one of the easiest ways to save. Even if saving has always been difficult for you, the Payroll Savings Plan sets aside a little from each paycheck toward Savings Bonds. And that's a nice way of saving, because you'll hardly miss it. But if you need it, it'll be there. Just like a friend.

Take stock in America.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.

Modest Improvement In Ag Economy Seen

"There will be some modest improvement in the agriculture economy in 1985 although the pace of recovery will not be as strong as we would like," said Terry Ragsdale, Richmond, Va., of Southern States Cooperative at a regional Southern States board meeting here, Feb. 25.

"The biggest improvement will be in livestock incomes while improvement in crop income will be slow until exports increase," said Ragsdale.

Jere Cannon, of Flemingsburg, a member of the co-op's board of directors, presided at the session. Southern States' board and committee members and young farmers attending the session from this area were Bill Hicks, Prestonsburg, Charles Hicks, Blue River, Donald Hicks, Rt. 1, Prestonsburg, and Ernest Prater, Rt. 850, David.

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Julia Kilgore, widow of James Kilgore and native of this county, observed her birthday, Feb. 20, at her home in Albion, Michigan. With her on this occasion were her brother and sister-in-law, Melvin and Annabel Ousley, and son, Timothy, her sister, Amanda Woods, all of Albion. She was also honored with a dinner by the staff where she lives.

Democratic Candidate for

SHERIFF

1. A program to give deputies formal training in arrest, search and seizure, and filling out accident reports.
2. Create a detective position for investigating breaking and entering as well as drug investigations.
3. 24-Hour dispatching in the Sheriff's Department. (So the Department can respond to calls.)
4. Work with Civic Organizations on the drug problem as well as working with the teachers on a program for alcohol and drug abuse in the school system.
5. Apply the money received from serving papers to update the department with better equipment.
6. Turn the Sheriff's percentage of the tax money over to fiscal court so a realistic budget can be worked out.
7. Develop a program to receive federal and state grants.

In the months ahead I hope to discuss these and other issues with all the people of Floyd County.

JOHN M. STUMBO
COUNTY JUDGE-EXECUTIVE

As I am sure you recall, a few short months ago I was elected to fill the unexpired term for the office of Floyd County Judge-Executive. This was the fulfillment of a life-long dream, to be in a position to put to work my energies and abilities to serve you, the people of Floyd County. Having worked over 21 years in building roads throughout Eastern Kentucky, I was eager to demonstrate that knowledge by the planning, construction, and repairing of the Floyd County road system. Unfortunately, when I took office, Floyd County's fiscal situation was such that it was under the control of the State Department of Local Government. County government owed hundreds of thousands of dollars more than monies on hand. As opposed to choosing to ignore the problem, I worked in conjunction with the appropriate State officials to resolve it. I made the hard decisions, and eliminated much of the purchasing that was done locally irrespective of friendship or relation to save you money. For example, such an approach saved $11.60 for each ton of blacktop purchased by the county, as well as $107.00 per tire on each grader. It was because of these changes that Floyd County is now in the black and owes no one, in spite of the fact that the budget for this fiscal year was One-Million ($1,000,000.00) Dollars less than the 1982-1983 budget.

Floyd County is now at a crucial point in terms of its county government. Irrespective of less monies coming in, we are now in the black and should see coal severance tax monies for the first time since I have been in this office. The dollars that come in can be used to provide services and an improved quality of life for the people of our county, or they can fall victim to manipulation that goes beyond simple service to you. I reaffirm a promise I made when I took this office and that is to view every public dollar as an opportunity to serve, and not as an opportunity for my friends or supporters. If I continue in this office, this promise will remain my guiding light. The needs of our people are too acute for us to surrender the control of the Floyd County Judge-Executive's office or allow decisions of the Judge-Executive to be made based upon personal ambitions of himself or others. My desire is to simply serve you and to use this office for the best impact on the quality of your life.

Accordingly, I respectfully request your assistance in my re-election to a full term as County Judge-Executive, and promise to use that opportunity solely for the public good.

KIWANIANNES MEET

The Prestonsburg Kiwanianes held their monthly luncheon-meeting, Feb. 28, with Mrs. Jane Bond, president, presiding. Those in attendance signed a "Get Well" card for Mrs. Jane Wallace. The President announced that the Heart Clinic, which the group helps to sponsor, will be held at the Floyd County Health Department, April 16. The forthcoming Founders' Day program was discussed, and members were asked to make suggestions regarding a program for this event. A gift of $25 was made to the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club, to be used for the Miss Floyd County pageant, scheduled for April. Members were asked to consider $1 donations for the "Walking Bike-a-Thon," to be held Sunday, April 23, for the benefit of St. Jude's Hospital, Memphis, Tennessee. Persons wishing to make donations toward this cause may contact Mrs. Carolyn Ford, local chairman. Members present were Mesdames Jane Bond, Vera Ford, Lucy Regan, Hope Whitten, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Dolly Pettrey, Myrtle Allen, Elizabeth Ramey, Opal Meece, May K. Roberts, Rebecca Rasnick, Zella Archer, Barbara Dawson, Carolyn Ford, Margaret Alley, and Docia Woods.

The next luncheon-meeting will be at May Lodge, Thursday, March 22, at 12:30.

Roses in Miniature

Most gardeners look for easy ways to put color in their home landscapes and flower gardens. Annual flowers provide lots of blossoms and color, but must be planted each year. Perennial flowers don't have to be planted each year, but their period of effective bloom and color is generally short. There are woody flowering shrubs, but they require pruning to prevent overgrowth and often are hard to use as cut flowers.

Is there a solution, even a compromise? There's a group of flowers, relatives of the queen of the garden flowers, the rose, that can fill many of our flower needs. What are they? They're miniature roses, also called fairy, baby, dwarf, and Tom Thumb roses.

Miniature roses are just what the name implies—smaller-sized rose flowers on smaller-sized rose plants. They are more versatile than their shrub-size counterparts because they can be used as border plants in front of taller shrubs, as low hedges, in rock and perennial gardens, in window boxes, patio containers, and hanging baskets. They are also used frequently as houseplants, adapt well to flower arranging, and are often featured in their classes at flower shows.

Miniature rose plants generally vary from four to 18 inches tall, with an average around one foot. Some of the miniature climbers may actually sprawl up to five feet if not supported. And some are grafted to make miniature tree roses.

While their flowers are smaller than standard hybrid tea, grandiflora or floribunda roses, they are generally more numerous and continuously bloom from spring till fall frost. Breeding work has developed several hundred varieties in a full range of colors and petal numbers. Their flowers tend to open fully in full sun with perhaps one drawback—a general lack of the much-loved rose fragrance.

While standard roses are obtained by budding the desired variety onto a wild or seedling rootstock, miniature roses are grown on their own roots (i.e., cuttings are taken and rooted). This feature tends to make them more winter or cold hardy because no loss will occur due to freezing at a bud union.

Miniature roses require less cultural maintenance than standard roses, especially with regard to pruning. With standard roses, each cane needs to be pruned yearly to remove dead or diseased wood and to direct the growth habit. With miniatures, an occasional shearing will suffice.

Miniatures are the same as standards as to most of their requirements. A well-drained, loamy soil in a full sun location is best. Miniatures can be planted out after frost, and should be watered and mulched like standards. They can get the same disease and insect problems—black spot, powdery mildew, aphids and spider mites—as standards, so a good monitoring or preventive spray schedule is desirable.

If miniatures are to be raised indoors, they need full sun from a southern exposure or 14 to 18 hours a day of artificial light. They grow best at temperatures of 60 to 70°F, and prefer a relatively high humidity level.

Miniature roses are easy to propagate from stem cuttings, but be aware that many varieties are patented, making it illegal to root and sell these cuttings yourself. For a wide choice of varieties it may be necessary to order plants from the many excellent mail order nurseries in this country.

Timely Tip: If you enjoy feeding the birds in winter, consider growing some of their food seeds in your garden this year. If you try sunflowers, grow a black seeded variety (such as Hybrid 894 from Burpee Seed Co.) to provide more kernel, protein and fat per seed.

Bobcats, Lady Rebs Win In District

When the finals of the District Basketball Tournament ended Saturday night (and it took a long time ending) it was the Allen Central Lady Rebs and the Betsy Layne Bobcats who walked away with the championship trophies.

Because of a marathon battle between the Lady Rebs and Betsy Layne's girls which involved a record-breaking four overtimes, the net play Saturday night at the D. W. Howard Fieldhouse didn't end till after midnight.

The arch-rival Allen Central and Betsy Layne girls, entered the game tied with conference records of 7-1 and created a showdown for the crown both teams had fought for all season. Each team had lost to the other one time during the season.

With the game tied at the end of regulation play, the two teams battled hard for four three-minute overtimes with the Lady Rebs finally winning, 49-47.

For the victorious Lady Rebs, Robin Roop failed to score but played a fine floor game with three rebounds and three assists. Terri Bailey and Tanya Kestler also helped with one rebound each. Belinda Click took scoring honors for the night with 22 points, 12 rebounds, one assist and one steal. Dawna Shepherd scored 4-6 from the free throw line. Terina Hall had 15 points, 12 rebounds and one assist. Pam Baldrige scored eight points, five rebounds, one assist and two steals. Billie Hackworth also took part in the Lady Rebs' effort.

For the Lady Bobcats, Keathley led in scoring with 14, Rogers 9, D. Tackett 2, Presnell 8, Parsons 5, Dillion 2, M. Tackett 6 and Flannery 1.

To get to the finals, the Lady Rebs won their first round in the tourney, Friday night by defeating the Prestonsburg Lady Cats, 58-20. Scoring for the Lady Rebs was as follows: Belinda Click 18, Terina Hall and Pam Baldrige 12 points each, Dawna Shepherd 8, Robin Roop 6, Terri Bailey 2.

For Prestonsburg, Bates scored 5, Hall and McKinney 4 each, Patrick 3, and Harris and Burchett, 2 each.

Coach Jerry Fultz and the Lady Rebs ended the District play with a record of 12-10 for the season.

The boys' championship game pitted conference leader Betsy Layne against the Prestonsburg Blackcats, one of the few teams to beat the Bobcats all season.

WMDJ Players of the Year

Allen Central's Belinda Click and Jeff Campbell, of Betsy Layne were named WMDJ Radio's Floyd County High School Basketball Players of the Year, Saturday night at the district tournament at Betsy Layne.

Miss Click averaged 18 points, six rebounds and three steals per game during the 1984-'85 season and the 5'9" senior also connected on 74 percent of her free throw attempts.

Campbell, a 6'1" senior, averaged 17 points, five rebounds and five assists a game over the past season and was a 90 percent free throw shooter.

The two were chosen from among ten finalists for the award—five for the girls and five for the boys, all of whom were picked by high school coaches in Floyd county. Other finalists included: Missy Justice, Wheelwright; Karla Stumbo, McDowell; Racquel Keathley, Betsy Layne; Paula Harris, Prestonsburg; Marty Minix, Prestonsburg; Dale Pack, Allen Central; Doug Hall, McDowell, and David Hall, of Wheelwright.

All players received plaques from the Sport Shop, Prestonsburg for being nominated for the award.

ELECT MARROW BENTLEY, JR. OF GRETHEL

FOR CONTABLE, DIST. 4
SON OF MARROW & VERDIE BENTLEY OF TEABERRY
SON-IN-LAW OF CLYDE & ANN HALL OF GRETHEL

(Pol. adv. paid for by the candidate, 3-6-21-pd.)

Although Betsy Layne trailed Prestonsburg two points at the end of the first quarter, the Bobcats came back to register a sizeable lead of 31-19 at the half. Betsy Layne continued to dominate the game in the third quarter and led P-burg 43-32 going in to the final quarter of the game.

Seeing their hopes for the district crown beginning to dim, the Blackcats shaped up their act and outscored Betsy Layne 20-10 in the final quarter. But it was too little too late as Coach Junior Newsome's squad beat PHS, 55-52.

Scoring was well-balanced among the Bobcats with Brett Meade hitting the high of 12 points. Jimmy Parsons had 10, Jeff Campbell and Dwayne Kidd 9 each, Davy Mitchell 8, and Duran Hall 7.

Gordie Ratliff and Brian Wallace each scored 10 points for the Blackcats while Marty Minix and Doug Greene hit for 8 apiece. Jody Hackworth scored 5, Greg Shepherd 3 and John Hale 2.

Betsy Layne's place in the finals was assured by the 78-54 defeat of the McDowell Daredevils in Thursday night tournament action.

Brett Meade took scoring honors for Betsy Layne with 22 points. Duran Hall hit for 15, Jeff Campbell and Davy Mitchell 10 each, Jimmy Parsons 8, Dwayne Kidd 5, Mike Conn and Patrick McGarey 3 each, and Darrin Daniels 2.

Doug Hall hit for 19 for the Daredevils, Jeff Vance 10, Brad Hall 7, Anthony Mullins 6, Greg Slone 4, and Derek Martin, Reggie Hall and Ken Damron all with 2 each.

The Allen Central's girls hopes were dashed Monday night in regional tournament play at Belfry in a 63-56 loss to the Pikeville Lady Panthers. The Betsy Layne Bobcats will face Phelps in regional competition Saturday night at Sheldon Clark High School. Prestonsburg will play Belfry Friday night.

Grade School Tournery Under Way at McDowell

Play in the 1985 Floyd County Elementary Basketball Tournament began Monday, February 25, after a long delay due to the inclement weather. McDowell Grade School is the host of this year's tournament and it is being played in the Grigsby Fieldhouse on the McDowell campus.

Monday night, February 25, action began as the Garrett girls coached by Stanton Watson won over the McDowell girls coached by Doug DeRossett and June Allen, 28-24. In the nightcap, Jim Hopkins' Martin boys outscored the McDowell boys, coached by Greg Johnson, 37 to 30. The following night's action opened with the John M. Stumbo girls, coached by Gerald Newsome and Thomas Hamilton, defeating the Prestonsburg girls, coached by Gay Hatfield, 55-26. In Tuesday night's second game, Hays Hamilton's John M. Stumbo boys won over Dale McKinney's Clark Elementary boys, 38-31.

Action resumed Monday night when the Martin girls played Osborne and the Wayland boys took on the Osborne boys. Tuesday night, the Clark girls played Prater girls and the Allen boys met the Betsy Layne boys. The semi-finals will be played March 11 and 12 and the finals will be held March 13. Game times for tournament games are 6:30 for the girls and 8 for the boys.

Dist. 11, KHSA Meet Held Here, Feb. 2

District 11 of the Kentucky Human Services Association held their first meeting of the year, Friday, February 22, at Western Sizzlin, here. The Association consists mainly of Social Workers and caseworkers in the five-county Big Sandy ADD District, although it is open to anyone to join who may be interested in the programs administered by and through the Cabinet for Human Resources. District president, Bertha Daniels, said about 40 were present.

Floyd County Judge Executive John M. Stumbo welcomed the membership, visitors and speakers to Floyd County. Speakers for the night were James Randall, assistant director of the Division for Field Services, and Steve Veno, section supervisor in the Division of Child Support Enforcement. Mr. Randall's topic of discussion covered many areas of interest both to caseworkers and clients with emphasis placed on the proposed changes in the Medicaid program, entitled KenPAC, which would effect 225,000 Medicaid recipients statewide. He also gave a brief description of the new KACIS system for which the cabinet made an out-of-court settlement last week. This system is to be only a small part of the $27 million system proposed by the previous administration. Steve Veno, supervisor of Contract Operations for the Division for Child Support Enforcement was also informative in his explanation of the new child support regulations dealing with administrative process whereby the cabinet for Human Resources would not only collect and enforce existing court orders but will be able to set obligation amounts not already covered by the court. Legislative action is being taken in this matter in order for the Commonwealth of Kentucky to comply with already enacted federal laws. This concept has generated much interest as non-AFDC parents will now be able to utilize the services of the child support division to their benefit as well as AFDC parents.

The governor has recently appointed a 20-member Child Support Commission which will be active in getting this legislation enacted. This commission is made up of personnel from the Division of Child Support, circuit court judges, county attorneys and parents. The custodial parent on the commission is Earlene Newsome, a resident of Floyd county who has been active in forming the Organization for Enforcement of Child Support Laws. She was also present at the meeting. An announcement was made at the meeting that the Child Support Commission will be holding an open meeting in this area sometime in July. More publicity will be forthcoming later about this meeting and anyone interested in or with questions about child support should make plans to attend it. Door prizes were given that had been donated by local merchants and the bank. A short business meeting was then held by the members of the association, and Bertha Daniels announced the next planned meeting will be a picnic meeting this summer with the area legislators to be invited.

As the Daughters of the American Revolution observe February as American History Month their focus is upon Benjamin Franklin. Few men in American history compare with Franklin, whose well-rounded, brilliant character so deeply marked the early days of the nation. His patriotic, scientific and literary achievements have made him "patron saint" of many great American industries.

Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Sheri Denise Williamson has been named a 1985 United States National Award winner in business education.

A student at Prestonsburg High School, she was nominated for this award by Frances Brackett, a business teacher at the school. Sheri is the daughter of Dennie and Lois Williamson. The grandparents are Denver and Effie Williamson, of Phyllis, Kentucky and Harold and Kathleen Hall, of Jonancy, Kentucky.

RETURN AFTER CRUISE

Mesdames Maude Sloan, Anna Belle Harris, Jo Vaughn, Orbie Vaughn, Burette Moore, Josephine Hopson and Billie Little have returned from a two-week vacation spent in Miami Beach, Fla., and a cruise to the Bahama Islands. While on the S.S. Emerald Seas cruise, Mrs. Maude Slone participated in the "Gang Show Contest," and won first prize. The group toured Nassau and Paradise Island, Key West, and other places of interest.

Essay, Poster Contest Winners

Malissa Hall

Sandy Slone

The Floyd County Conservation District has announced the winners of the 1984 Conservation Essay and Poster Contests.

Malissa M. Hall, of Bypro, is the winner of the essay contest. Her essay was entitled, "Trees in My Community". Miss Hall is an eighth-grade student at W.D. Osborne Elementary School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hall, of Bypro.

The winning poster was made by Sandy Slone, of Drift. She is in the fifth grade at Drift Elementary School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Slone.

First runner-up in the essay contest is Katina Jean Krull, of Martin, who attends the Martin Elementary School. Runner-up in the poster contest is Christopher Hall, of Bypro. He attends W.D. Osborne Elementary School.

The district winner of the essay contest will receive a $50 savings bond and personalized plaque from the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times. The winner of the poster contest will receive a personalized plaque. Second place winners will receive a certificate. Awards will be presented this spring at an awards banquet held by the Floyd County Conservation District.

The winning poster and essay were sent to the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times to be judged in the state contest where the first place entry will receive a $500 U.S. Savings Bond, plus an all-expense-paid trip to Louisville to attend the 47th annual Awards Luncheon later this month.

More Road Reconstruction Heavily Favored in Dist. 12

A survey of motorists in this state highway district (No. 12) shows that 84 percent think there should be more spending for road reconstruction. Some 88 percent of those surveyed said spending for road maintenance should be increased.

The statewide survey, conducted by the Kentucky Transportation Research Program, UK Center of Engineering, shows that a majority of motorists want more spending for road reconstruction, maintenance and safety improvements.

The survey was conducted last year for the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet. Some 9,600 questionnaires were mailed to Kentucky drivers with a return of 4,731 usable responses.

Responding to a question asking if "you think government spending (for transportation) should increase, stay the same, decrease, or stop completely," 69 percent in the statewide survey said spending for road maintenance should increase, 30 percent said it should stay the same, and one percent said it should decrease.

With regard to road reconstruction, 66 percent said spending should increase, 31 percent said it should stay the same, 2 percent said it should decrease, and one percent said it should stop.

Some 51 percent of those responding said spending for new road construction should stay the same, while 37 percent said it should increase, 8 percent said it should decrease, and 4 percent said it should stop.

February is American History Month for the Daughters of the American Revolution and they invite you to join them in observing our country's rich history. Children in schools throughout the United States are participating in essay contests sponsored by members of local DAR chapters. Pupils in the fifth through the eighth grades in many elementary schools benefit from this nationwide educational program. These young essayists may choose to write on one of these two topics—"The Contribution of Black Soldiers or Patriots during the American Revolution" or "The Statue of Liberty, The Lady with the Lamp" should decrease and 4 percent said it should stop.

Some 51 percent of those responding said spending for new road construction should stay the same, while 37 percent said it should increase, 8 percent said it should decrease and 4 percent said it should stop.

Some 55 percent said spending for safety improvement should increase, while 43 percent said it should stay the same, and two percent said it should decrease.

Another question asked drivers to compare Kentucky highways with those of bordering states. There were a total of 3,017 comparisons, with 59 percent saying highways are better in other states. Only West Virginia highways were rated worse than Kentucky.

YOUR NEW CADILLAC DEALER...
ED WALTERS MOTOR CAR AND TRUCK COMPANY, INC.

We feel both proud and privileged to be the new Cadillac dealer in your community. Because selling and servicing an American standard for the world requires a unique kind of responsibility and commitment.

A responsibility for giving you the extra deferential treatment you deserve as a Cadillac owner. And a commitment to Complete Customer Satisfaction, beginning the moment you walk through our door.

A prime example of our dedication is our Gold Key Delivery System. It begins with a comprehensive inspection of your vehicle before you even see it. That's followed by an orientation drive with your sales representative... a thorough explanation of your new Cadillac... a full tank of fuel... two sets of 23-karat gold-plated keys, with a personalized Gold Key Identification Card... and more.

It's just what you'd expect from a luxury leader. Visit our new dealership and take a demonstration drive in any great new Cadillac. Once you do, we think you'll agree: Best of all... it's a Cadillac.

Aim For Success, Not Perfection

In a recent study on productivity and mental health, a group of salesmen who were perfectionists were measured against those who weren't. Predictably, the perfectionists felt under greater stress than their non-perfectionist peers. But perhaps surprisingly, the perfectionists weren't earning any more money than their counterparts.

The point here, says a leading psychiatrist in the March Reader's Digest, is that the discouragement, depression, anxiety and pressure that so often plague perfectionists can impede their creativity and productivity.

Dr. David D. Burns, director of the Institute for Cognitive and Behavioral Therapies at the Presbyterian University of Pennsylvania Medical Center, suggests a healthier approach to living and working is to strive for success, not perfection. "You may find that you do some of your most outstanding work when you aim for good, solid performances rather than one stress-producing masterpiece," he writes.

Dr. Burns notes that compulsive perfectionists characteristically tend to think in terms of "all-or-nothing" and refuse to believe there's anything to be learned from past failures.

He says such a mind-set can be overcome by doing the following:

—List the things you do right each day. If you focus on the positives in your life you will consequently feel better about yourself.

—Ask yourself if the "all-or-nothing" approach really makes sense. "How many things in the world can be broken down into all-or-nothing categories? Is your favorite movie star perfectly beautiful? Do you know anyone who is totally calm and confident all of the time? Everything can be improved if you look at it critically enough—every person, every idea, every work of art, every experience," he writes. Learn to recognize all-or-nothing thinking as a self-defeating exercise that doesn't fit reality.

—Learn from your mistakes. "Never give up your right to be wrong, because then you will lose the ability to learn new things and move forward with your life."

State Archives Research Extends Research Hours

The Department for Libraries and Archives resumed its extended service hours in the Archives Research Room, starting March 2.

Public Records Division staff will be available Tuesday evenings until 8:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. to assist patrons with microfilm research. Prior arrangement for access to original state and local government records during the evening and Saturday hours can be made by calling the Research Room staff during general working hours, 8:00 a.m. to 4:15 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Genealogists, historians and other researchers are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to research more than 80 thousand cubic feet of original state and local government records and 22,000 rolls of microfilm which are made available in the Research Room.

KAPPA DELTA INITIATE

Margarita Borders, of Prestonsburg, a Morehead State University freshman legal secretarial studies student, has recently been initiated into Kappa Delta sorority on MSU's campus. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lore Ann Borders.

Is Pageant Runnerup

Jena Stumbo won second runner-up in the Junior Miss 1985 competition held Feb. 3 at Wheelwright.

A sixth grade honor student at McDowell Grade School, she is the daughter of German and Delores Stumbo and granddaughter of Ray and Elizabeth Hall and Richard and Rhoda Stumbo, all of McDowell.

Paintsville Veteran Kills Ex-Wife, Child

A Paintsville mother and her infant daughter were shot to death Saturday, and police have charged the woman's former husband with the deaths.

The victims were identified by Johnson Coroner Bryan Fraley as Kathy Marie Woody VanHoose, 30, and her 9-month-old daughter, Dawn Michelle.

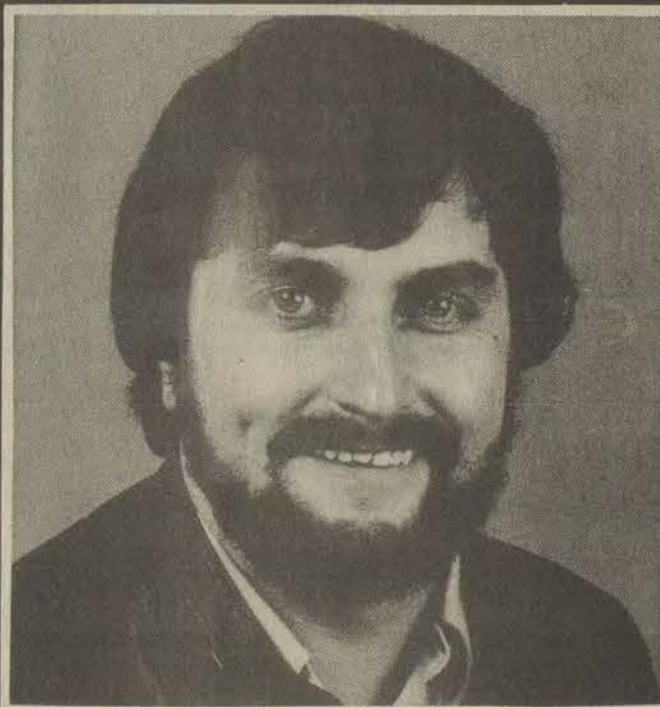

The coroner said Mrs. VanHoose went to the home of her former husband, Carl Thomas VanHoose, 30, on State Street in Paintsville, about 10:30 a.m. to drop off their daughter. Witnesses told police that an argument broke out, and Mrs. VanHoose got out of the car. VanHoose shot Mrs. VanHoose several times, then shot his daughter, who was strapped into a car-seat in the back seat of the car, the coroner said.

VanHoose then fled to nearby Paint Creek and held a .38-caliber revolver to his head, threatening suicide, Fraley said. VanHoose's grandmother, Lucy VanHoose, talked him into throwing down his gun.

VanHoose was arrested by Kentucky State Police and Paintsville City Police detective Mike Horn. He was charged with the slayings and lodged in the Johnson county jail.

Autopsies for Mrs. VanHoose and her daughter were scheduled Sunday in Louisville.

VanHoose, a veteran, was a student of Mayo Technical and Vocational School, Paintsville.

Report to Kentucky

IRS MUST LIFT VEHICLE LOG BURDEN
 An item that was slipped into the Tax Reform Act of 1984 has businesspeople across the nation angry, and justifiably so. A provision in the new law requires taxpayers to keep cumbersome records of business vehicle use.

The provision requires "contemporaneous records"—itemized travel logs—of business use of certain assets, including vehicles. The requirement was added to the bill during a House-Senate conference, without adequate review by Congress.

In recent weeks, my office has received hundreds of letters on this matter from Kentuckians in all types of businesses, including physicians, farmers and salespeople. They complained that the new law causes them senseless paperwork because it requires that a continuous log of trips be maintained. Under previous law, business use of an automobile was deductible as long as the taxpayer maintained adequate records or sufficient evidence to support the claim.

Most everyone agrees that the Internal Revenue Service needs adequate enforcement tools to prevent tax evasion. But this bill goes too far in burdening all people in business just to catch a few who stretch the law.

Because of this problem, I have cosponsored a bill which would result in total repeal of the new provision, returning the former system for business vehicle deductions. In case this bill meets roadblocks, I have introduced another measure which would exempt those who use their vehicle entirely for business from the requirement. This includes an exemption for those who, for certain reasons, use their automobiles in travel to and from work.

If Treasury Department officials oppose these alternatives, they can come up with their own. But it is clear that taxpayers must be relieved of this unnecessary, time-consuming paperwork burden.

Floyd's 'Teacher Day' Slated Here Friday

Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald and 59 top administrators of the Department of Education this week will spend a day in public school classrooms. The purpose of the event is to gain a better understanding of the challenges faced by classroom teachers and a deeper appreciation of teachers and their work.

Most of the administrators will make their visits on March 6. Several will visit schools on March 7 because of scheduling conflicts.

The event is known in the department as "teacher day," a Feb. 7 release.

Teacher Day in Floyd county will be held Friday at Prestonsburg High School. The Department of Education visitor will be Robert Spillman.

Martin School's Best Spellers

Chris Kidd

Ann Castle

Eleven Martin Elementary students, ranging from grades four through eight, vied for the 1985 school spelling championship. Fifty-one rounds were battled before the match settled down to an exciting race between two seventh graders.

When Ann Castle tripped on the word, "suburban," Chris Kidd successfully spelled both "suburban" and "merchants," the next word on the list, to become the Martin Elementary Spelling Bee winner.

Other contestants, their misspelled words, and the order in which they were eliminated were: Chrystal Welch, 7th grade, "coast"; Teresa Yates, 4th grade, "carrying"; Mark Salyer, 5th grade, "beach"; Betty Castle, 4th grade, "meant"; Jeffrey Frazier, 6th grade, "poison"; Anna Sue Samons, 5th grade, "chrome"; Andy Frazier, 4th grade, "butter"; Tonya Sparks, 6th grade, "courtesy"; and Billy Terry, 8th grade, "thoroughly".

Chris Kidd, son of Johnny and Norita Kidd, of Printer, will represent the school in the Floyd County KEA spelling match to be held Thursday, February 28. Miss Castle is the daughter of Roy and Rose Castle, of Hunter.

The spelling match was conducted by the Martin Elementary remedial reading teachers under the supervision of Principal William R. Hughes.

HUTTON GOVERNMENT SECURITIES FUND

12.50%***

Introducing the simplest, most convenient way to enjoy the benefits of a portfolio of U.S. Government Securities—and more. It's the Hutton Investment Series (H.I.S.) Government Securities Fund.

The Fund starts with a portfolio of U.S. Government Securities including Treasury Bonds, Notes and securities backed by federal agencies. Then, the Fund's professional managers use sophisticated financial market techniques to work for additional income, to produce even higher yields for you than the securities would produce themselves.

There is no initial sales charge. And instead of income that is paid only twice a year, the Fund can send income quarterly, or even monthly (if you use the systematic withdrawal plan).

What's more, this Fund is one of the six funds in the H.I.S. family of funds.

For more complete information, including charges and expenses, call or write for a free prospectus. Read it carefully before you invest or send money.

A Government Securities Fund that offers more than just Government Securities. It's an idea to listen to.

New Ranking System Asked For State's School Districts

The Advisory Committee for Educational Improvement recommended a new ranking system for Kentucky's 180 educational districts at its meeting last Wednesday in Frankfort.

The proposed ranking system would use a decile method for interpreting the results of achievement tests administered to students. Under this method, each district would qualify for one of 10 levels on the basis of its test scores.

The decile approach endorsed by the committee would tell those interested what percentile grouping a particular district lies in, said Marcia O'Neill-White, chairwoman of the subcommittee on school district ranking.

"Knowing that your district ranks among the top 20 percent in the state, for example, is a great deal more helpful in interpreting the effectiveness of your schools than knowing that students scored 23rd on their tests," Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald said.

Along with the decile form of ranking, the advisory committee recommended that other indicators about the district also be given. Indicators that have a proven relationship to academic outcome include the pupil-teacher ratio, the dropout rate and the attendance rate, the committee said.

Other indicators related to the economy of the district would also be given, O'Neill-White said. They include such statistics as the local financial index, assessed property value, percentage of local revenue and figures pertaining to instructional costs and per-pupil expenses.

"The new ranking system will help us to identify both problems and successes in our educational system," McDonald said.

"More important, it will give us the information we need to help a district improve, if that's what it needs to do. And we will be able to learn from the districts that score well."

The proposal for the new ranking system is subject to approval by the State Board of Education, McDonald said. The board meets Tuesday (March 5) and is scheduled to consider the recommendation.

In other business the advisory committee heard reports on the public hearing on the proposed code of ethics in testing, the status of the Kentucky Essential Skills Field Test and a workshop held to consider what scores will be designated as mastery level on the tests.

Awards Mowing Contract

The state Transportation Cabinet has awarded a contract for right-of-way mowing in Floyd, Knott, Perry and Pike counties.

Poynter Mowing Service, of Corbin, received a $11,507 contract to mow 83 miles of right-of-way along the four-lane section of U.S. 23 in Floyd and Pike counties, KY 80 and KY 114. The right-of-way will be mowed three times during the growing season.

ACP Signup Extended

Due to the recent bad weather conditions, the Floyd County ASC Committee has extended the final date for signup for Spring practices under the Agricultural Conservation Program until March 8.

ASCS is receiving applications for establishment of permanent vegetative cover or renovation of permanent vegetative cover on pastures and haylands; tree planting; forest tree stand improvement; and permanent vegetative cover on critical areas.

Under the program ASCS may pay up to 75% of the cost of necessary materials and services to perform the available practices.

To be eligible, the land must farmland where the practice is necessary to prevent erosion and stream sedimentation. The practices must not be started before County Committee approval.

(Contact the Floyd County ASCS Office, 886-2802, for further details.)

Earns Engineer Degree

Paul Townsel Combs, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Allen Combs, of Langley, has completed the requirements of the University of Kentucky for the degree in electrical engineering. Paul graduated from Allen Central High School and previously attended Lower and Middle School at Our Lady of The Mountains in Paintsville. He did preliminary studies at Pikeville College as a Presidential scholar for three years prior to transferring to the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Combs is married to the former Debbie Bush, of Martin, who also graduated from the University of Kentucky in business administration. Recently they became parents of a daughter, Jessica Anne. They reside at Martin.

In their honor Mr. and Mrs. T. Allen Combs gave a dinner in Lexington, upon their completion of their undergraduate requirements. Also attending the celebration were Shawn, William, and Andrea Combs, brothers and sister of Paul.

IN PANAMANIAN EXERCISE

Army Pvt. Gordon D. Shepherd, son of Gordon L. and Phyllis Shepherd, of Martin, has participated in Kindle Liberty '85, a U.S. Southern Command sponsored exercise held in the Republic of Panama and involving all services of the Department of Defense and Panamanian Defense Forces.

The exercises is the latest in the continuing series of combined training activities of the two nations' defense of the strategic Panama Canal.

Shepherd is an infantryman with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C.
