A TEACHER'S CAR backs out gingerly as children cross the playground at Martin Elementary School last Thursday. Principal William Hughes said this week that no solution has yet been found to the problem of teachers' parking on the school grounds, a situation criticized repeatedly at Board of Education meetings by Everett Akers, who says it could easily end in tragedy. While spaces are available at the nearby municipal parking lot, city officials and merchants have indicated they want the spaces there left for shoppers, Hughes said. Another complaint may have been resolved last (Tuesday) night, however, when a meeting was scheduled to form a parent-teacher organization. The last PTO disbanded four years agoa victim, the principal said, of internal dissension.

Set for Hearing

Missing lab reports figured in two drunk driving cases here Monday, including one in which the prosecuting officer accused the defendant of stealing the evidence

East Point construction worker Ellis McCoy, 45, was ordered to pay a $200 fine and another $240 in fees and costs after a Floyd district court jury convicted him of drunk driving on May 26

Prestonsburg Police Sgt. Gerald Clark said he came upon McCoy in his truck late at night at the entrance to the Briarwood Addition at Lancer. McCoy, who said he was helping James Howell refuel Howell's disabled car, failed sobriety tests, the police officer said.

The officer also testified that, on a breath analysis, McCoy registered .14 percent (10 percent is taken as a presumption of intoxication under Kentucky law) although the printed readout of the test result was missing from the Jerry Patton, McCoy's attorney, pressed the Commonwealth to prove that his client was actually driving his truck at the time of his arrest. Assistant County Attorney Dan Rowland told jurors they could infer as much from the fact that McCoy admitted picking up Howell, who had gone to purchase gasoline for the stalled car.

Prelim Planning For Road Begun; Target Date Set

Preliminary surveys and plans for construction of a four-lane US 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville are currently under way, and the route the new highway will follow is taking shape.

Although no confirmation was available from Frankfort, it was learned here that the Department of Transportation timetable has a contract letting date marked for 1988

Hearings on the proposed route will be scheduled later. For design of the highway the state already has $2 million budgeted. Construction will involve an estimated $70 million—about $55 million less than four-laning of the present cliffbordered US 23 would cost

The route, as currently proposed is, roughly, this:

Starting from the Prestonsburg end in the vicinity of the existing intersection of the Mountain Parkway and US 23. near the mouth of Katy Friend, crossing the mountain into Short Branch of Abbott Creek, then to Abbott mountain, topping the mountain at approximately the point now occupied by the present road, then down the left side of Little Paint Creek to a point some two miles up Jenny's Creek. From that point the road would continue to the intersection of Routes 460 and 40, then bearing north to connect with new US 23 at the or near the site of the old Pride motel, near

The extension of KY 3 (the Martin county road) is not considered a project for early beginning, but preliminary plans call for a bridge across the Big Sandy at Auxier Heights, with route proposed for the road to follow, generally, that of the present road skirting the railroad, and connecting with US 23 on the Floyd side of the county line at East Point. Earlier plans for the road are said to have envisioned crossing the mountain at Auxier into Crider Branch for a

When, and if, completed the US 23 link will make of the highway a four-lane thoroughfare all the way to Pikeville and when Pike county work on the road is completed it will be of four lanes to the Kentucky-Virginia line.

Caudill Under Sentence Avers He'll "Be Around"

"Old Caudill will be around," Magistrate Ed Caudill assured his colleagues on the Floyd fiscal court Friday, amid banter that belied the fact that he was sentenced the day before to a year in the state penitentiary. Forsaking his usual place at the meeting table, however, the veteran Left Beaver magistrate sat with his back to a local television station's camera

Pike Circuit Judge Will T. Scott handed down the sentence, which followed the Third District magistrate's conviction on July 25 of criminal possession of a forged instrument. He will remain free under $20,000 bond pending an appeal.

Caudill, 61, a magistrate for testified that he endorsed a $2000 county check in October, 1982 at the request of the late Judge-Executive Jerry Lafferty, Jr. Caudill said Lafferty handed him the check, which was made out to Hamilton Service, at Price, and told him to endorse it with the same of the service station, the station's proprietor (Russell Hamilton) and his name.

He said he gave it back to Lafferty as a payment on a truck he bought from Lafferty's dealership.

The county owed him the $2000 for furniture he bought in July, 1982 for a watchman's trailer in a county park at Minnie, Caudill said, adding that Lafferty had promised to reimburse him for the expense. Defense attorney Ned Pillersdorf asked for probation for his client but Scott denied it. "Ed, you've made quite an impression on me," the judge said. But granting probation "would unduly depreciate the seriousness of the offense," he added.

"It's important to me that the eople-accepting the jury's determination of what happened-believe that this system works," the judge said. "For it to work, if the law is violated, that has to be punished." While Kentucky law forbids a convicted felon from holding public office, Scott said Caudill could probably stay on until all appeals have been exhausted. The five-term magistrate won renomination in the Democratic primary in May. In November, he faces opposition from Republican Curtis Hall, of McDowell.

Council Studies Streets and TV Street improvements and continued

dissatisfaction with television cable service were discussed at Monday's meeting of the City Council.

Council voted to advertise for bids on blacktopping several sections of city streets, including a 600x20-ft. section on Porter Lane toward U.S. 23; 150 ft. from S. Lake Drive toward Riverside Drive, next to Giovanni's Pizza; 50 ft. on Branham's Street, next to Shepherd's Home Improvement: 200 ft. on Scott Court; 30 ft. on Central Avenue from Music Street toward the Courthouse; 60x10 ft. at Mays Branch, and 40 ft. on Deep Street, near the home of Charles

At the Council's last meeting, September 9, it had been voted to install yellow lines and implement 15-minute unloading zones on sections of Ford Street, after residents had complained of parking problems and blocked driveways. At Monday's meeting, however, it was said that the man who had requested the action, Richie Schoolcraft, had stopped city workers from painting a white line, designating an unloading zone, because he felt it would block his grandmother's driveway. Schoolcraft later said he had not stopped the painting, but had instead told workers he didn't think they were putting the lines where Council had intended. He said the men told him they would check with City Manager Dave Evans and come back to finish the job, but never returned.

Councilman William O. Goebel, III said he didn't feel the yellow lines would be very helpful in controlling parking, saying that on street parking was already illegal there, as Ford is a two way street. Goebel said he felt that the best solution would involve the neighbors working the problem out between them. He further noted that the city police would be available to enforce existing traffic laws.

But the Council's order still must be carried out, interjected Councilman Paul Hunt Thompson. "It doesn't make any difference if the whole neighborhood was out there with machetes, if they were ordered to do it (paint the street), they should have done it." He said.

School Traffic Jam, Court Topic

annual rate of 21.6 percent.

Rather than a new bridge, the problem of traffic congestion at the approach to Clark Elementary School might be better resolved by rerouting the traffic, a delegation of citizens was told at Friday's meeting of Floyd fiscal court.

Rosalie Shepherd, president of the school PTA, asked the court to widen the one-lane bridge across Middle Creek, which is the only means of access to the school. About 630 students are enrolled at the school.

The bottleneck at the bridge causes a long line of traffic to back up on the busy Mountain Parkway during peak periods and, especially on foggy mornings, could easily result in a serious accident, she

'For about 45 minutes there is just a pileup," Mrs. Shepherd told the court. 'Something bad is going to happen unless something is done.

A cheaper and better solution to the problem would be to open up an existing but unused road running behind the main school building out to KY 404, the David road, said Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo.

With that deft stroke, Stumbo returned to the Board of Education the ball that the board earlier lobbed into the county court. At its Sept. 4 meeting, former Superintendent E.P. Grigsby, Jr. told the Clark delegation that widening the bridge was the county's responsibility. In proposing the opening of a second access road Friday, Stumbo noted that it would be the school board's responsibility

According to Stumbo's plan, the opening of the old road would enable traffic to be routed in a circular pattern, with traffic entering the school from KY 404 and leaving by the parkway. Mrs. Shepherd cautioned that classroom trailers located behind the main school building would probably block access by the old road, however

The Prestonsburg system approaches from the west, by way of Caney Fork of Middle Creek. But an unwilling property owner is said to be blocking further extension of the line up Caney. And, in any event, bringing the water over the hill would necessitate installing a $200,000 pump and storage tank, it was GREATER PARTICIPATION by Democrats at the precinct level is the goal of the Grassroots Club, whose chairman, Ed Coleman, is seen here placing a club pin on Gov. Martha Layne Collins' lapel. The new organization for Kentucky Democrats is hosting a potluck picnic at Dewey Dam tomorrow (Thursday) at 5:30 p.m.

"I have always been a believer that the strength of our party is at the local level, the precinct level, what we call the grassroots," the governor said.

Club Leaders Attend Fall Board Meeting

Miss Ruby Akers, president of the Drift Woman's Club, and Mrs. Marie Mullins, president of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club attended the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Club fall board meeting and conference held at Drawbridge Inn, Ft. Mitchell, Ky., Sept. 15-17.

Mrs. Betty Reilly, of Lexington, state president, headed the workshops that detailed the work of the Federation for the year. Speakers included Mrs. Steve Beshear who explained the state's literacy program; Robert Fitzpatrick, speaking on Free Enterprise, and harles Byers, chairman of Vocational Education at the University of Kentucky

Monday night they took a Federation "Fun(d)Liner" Trip on the Ohio River for a buffet supper and style show.

YOU ARE WHAT YOU EAT

Q. Since I was a small child, I've heard, "You are what you eat." But I wonder, how much credence does this statement carry?

A. It's true; you are what you eat! Junk food, quickstop restaurants and hectic lifestyles combine to create a nation of obese individuals.

For the many millions of busy people, prepackaged foods seem to be an easy solution. However, many of these foods are highly refined and quickly digested, leaving one feeling hungry shortly after a meal.

Preparing nutritious foods ahead of time will help combat this problem, and will also help ensure the family of good nutrition.

Clean vegetables and prepare salads ahead of time. At serving time, broil lean meat, toss salad and heat vegetables in a microwave oven. Serve fresh fruit for dessert. Your family will have a nutritious meal that will contribute to good health and high energy.

Says Door Detached In Buddies' Tiff

He tore the door off a friend's house because the man stole his liquor, Elmer Avery Newsome, 54, of Martin, said in district court this week.

"We got drunk together. He stole my whiskey and ran into the house with it. I tore the door off," Newsome said, in pleading guilty to a charge of trespassing on the Arkansas Creek property of Link Samons. "Me and him's the best of friends in the world," said Newsome, who offered to pay $50 for the door.

District Judge Harold Stumbo sentenced Newsome to 30 days in jail, the sentence probated on condition he makes restitution for the door and pays court costs.

Junior Woman's Club Meets

The Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club met Thursday, September 19, at 7 p.m., at the Paul Burchett law office. Topics discussed were the K.F.W.C. activity reports, new membership drive, and upcoming events.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, October 17.

Petite Miss Sapphire

Kimberly Raye Robinson, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Robinson, of Martin, was crowned Petite Miss Sapphire, Sept. 14, at the Salyersville Community Center. She received a crown, large trophy and banner. She also won the sportswear, costume, photogenic, prettiest dress and prettiest eyes categories and was awarded trophies and banners for these.

She is the granddaughter of Sam Robinson and the late Ella Robinson, of Martin, and Josephine Scarberry and the late Junior Scarberry, of Langley. She expressed her appreciation to her

Course To Teach Firearm Safety

A free hunter education course will be held Oct. 3, 4, and 5 at the Coal Building located in Martin. The program will last from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 3 and 4, and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Oct. 5.

The course, sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, will include classroom instruction in firearm safety, sportsmanship, hunter ethics, first aid and outdoor survival.

The last session will feature actual range firing and practice with both firearms and archery equipment.

Those successfully completing the course will receive safe hunter certificates valid in any of the 29 states where such certification is required. Completion of this or a similar hunter education course is also a requirement for those youngsters participating in the youth deer hunt at Land-Between-the-Lakes and hunters under 16 years of age at Ft. Knox and Ft. Campbell. Attendance at all three sessions is required for certification.

Any person, ten years of age or older, who is interested in the shooting sports or wants to become a safe hunter is welcome to attend.

the defense attorney's claim that "the public is so outraged by drunk driving, we have gone from the extreme of being too easy on people to the (other) extreme of being too hard.'

In the case that followed McCoy's, Max Bunnell, 45, of Abbott Creek, comptroller at Highlands Regional Medical Center, was accused of drunk driving on

In the course of a hearing in the chambers of District Judge Harold Stumbo, the entire contents of the case file-including a Breathalyser printout that allegedly showed a reading of .17 percent-suddenly disappeared, and Deputy Sheriff Paul Auxier, the arresting officer in the case, accused Bunnell of stealing it. Bunnell denied the Auxier testified in court that Bunnell was driving "all over the road," that he smelled strongly of alcohol, and that he failed three sobriety tests when he was arrested near the Cliff bridge.

Questioned by defense attorney Patton, Auxier said Bunnell asked for a blood test to supplement the breath analysis and that he agreed to take the defendant to be tested at Highlands Regional Medical Center. But he refused to take Bunnell to Our Lady of the Way Hospital in Martin, where the defendant asked to be taken to avoid embarrassment in front of his Highlands co-workers, the officer said.

The jury acquitted Bunnell after a relatively lengthy deliberation.

According to district court records, Bunnell has been arrested for alleged traffic violations seven times in this county in the past four years, including five times for allegedly driving while

In December, 1981, he was charged with DUI and reckless driving after allegedly registering .20 percent on the Breathalyser. The case was dismissed after police officer Randy Ferrell-then on the Prestonsburg but now on the Pikeville police force—failed to appear

In October and again in November, 1983, he was charged with drunk driving, pleading guilty to the former charge and paying $137.50 in fine and court costs. At the same time, related charges of speeding, running a stop sign, and having expired tags were dismissed.

The latter DUI charge was amended to disorderly conduct on the Comfine of $147.50

A July, 1984 citation, accusing Bunnell of leaving the scene of an accident, was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting witness, State Trooper Barbara Thomas. A charge of speeding, in November last year, was also dismissed.

Still pending is a DUI charge, filed last month, when Bunnell allegedly recorded a Breathalyser reading of .19 percent. He is scheduled to be arraigned on that count next Tuesday.

Turning their attention to what has become a sore point for some council members, the next topic on the agenda was continued problems with Consolidated Communications Group, the company which oversees the city's cable television system.

Councilman Bill Ray Collins, chairing the meeting in Mayor Harold Cooley's absence, said, "I'd like to find out if it's legal to allow another cable system into the town. I think that would solve our City Attorney Larry Brown was directed to check the legality of such a solution at his earliest convenience.

Collins added that he receives two to three calls daily from constituents complaining of poor reception.

Brown said the cable franchise extends only to the city limits, indicating those not living in the city are free to receive service from another cable

In other business, Evans was given permission to file for a state matching funds grant, with city and state each supplying $5,000. The money would be used to fund a study of downtown traffic flow and revitalization.

THE BROAD HINT

At the moment I am in much the same fix the fellow was in after he had worn his welcome thin by extending an overnight visit with his in-laws to a stay of two months. Ate, slept, occupied the best chair in the house, turned not a hand to any helpful chore.

Then, one morning, his bag turned up on the front porch, obviously fully packed and ready for travel. The visitor eyed it for some minutes, then heaved a sigh and remarked, "Don't exactly know what that means but I've got my suspicions.

I'm not sure why such items as the following regularly turn up on my desk, but I have my suspicions, and they're on the dark side. This one reads:

of KY 80. $18,000 would see a conduit bored under the highway, but it's $18,000 the water district says it doesn't have and can't afford to borrow.

The purchase of pipe for the project is proof of the county's concern for the Stephens Branch water line, said Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo, who promised the county "will keep working on it." He admitted he did not know where Stephens Branch residents would find the funds to bring the water on, however, and cautioned that county government 'is not in the water business.

Second reading was given to an ordinance which would require power companies to insist that new homeowners have an approved sewage disposal system before hooking up their electricity. "We are not asking you to pass a law requiring sewage systemsthat is already the law-but to pass an ordinance that will help enforce it," Health Department Director Earl Compton told the court.

Magistrates Gerald DeRossett and Lowell Samons voted for the ordinance and were joined by Judge-Executive Stumbo after Magistrates Ed Caudill and Kenneth Roberts voted no.

The contract for medical insurance of about 60 county employees was again awarded to Blue Cross-Blue Shield. although Denzil Allen, who also submitted a bid, hinted that negotiations for the contract were not entirely above-board. While both firms originally submitted similar bids, Blue Cross later offered a reduced rate in a maneuver that Allen termed "a mystery." Magistrates Roberts and DeRossett abstained from voting on the pact. The court voted to accept the annual settlement by the sheriff's department, which turned over to the county $4180 in excess fees-the difference between monies collected and office expenditures. The accompanying report by accountants Allen, England & Hensley noted that the sheriff failed to publish an annual financial statement as required by law.

Merchants Set Goals To Boost Downtown

Declaring "we're our own worst enemy!" Prestonsburg Business Association vice-president Hansel Cooley helped outline strategy to bring customers to downtown merchants, at a meeting held yesterday (Tuesday) at the Floyd County Library.

Cooley and others agreed that unless the business leaders cooperated they were cutting their own throats, driving potential customers away from downtown stores.

One area of cooperation, it was decided, which might result in more business for everyone, would be expanded operating hours. Association president James O. Vanhoose suggested stores should remain open from 10 a.m. till 7 p.m., as opposed to the common practice now of opening at 9 a.m. and closing at 5 p.m. He said all downtown merchants would have to be willing to use this schedule to make the plan workable. Furthermore, businesses should abide by the new hours "six days a week," he

April Adams, proprietor of "April's on the Ave.," on Arnold Avenue, said she was presently remaining open from 10 a.m. till 6 p.m., and did a significant amount of trade between 5 p.m. and 6

The shop-owners also agreed it was in their best interest to know what other stores in town offered. Vanhoose suggested that if each knew what the others sold, they could refer customers to each other, rather than maybe causing people to take their business out of town.

Another strategy discussed was having training sessions for employees. Vanhoose said it was far too common for employees to be unfamiliar with merchandise at their own stores, which, he felt, alienated customers.

Perhaps ironically, the merchants said they felt the new shopping centers on U.S. 23 at the outskirts of town could be a boon to downtown business. William O. Goebel, III, of the Ben Franklin store, said "the new shopping centers have drawn a lot of people in from other counties, keeping them from shopping in Paintsville or Pikeville." He said the downtown merchants should capitalize on the additional shoppers already being in the area.

It was decided to include all businesses between the four-way intersection at Lancer and the area below the city, near the old location of Jerry and Gerry's Shoes, for potential membership.

Yearly dues were fixed at $25, in an effort to attract as many businesses as possible into the organization.

Maxine Bierman of Maxine's Beauty Shop, gave the merchants a common goal to rally around—the annual Jenny Wiley Festival, to be held here in October. Mrs. Bierman said a successful Festival would mean greater cash-flow for everyone.

Atomics And Star Wars

Perhaps only a few people understand what President Reagan is attempting to do by insisting upon a "Star Wars" defense. He is determined to prevent an awesome, terrible aftermath of an unexpected, surprise moment of attack which would put us in an earthly conflagration. The American people should at best know of one personal experience.

Prostrate and entrenched at a depth of four feet, eyes closed, 2,400 yards distance from ground-zero, a 20-KT minimal yield nuclear device is exploded on a 300-foot tower. The suddenness of the power-impact actually lifts the earth, followed by the rushing, instantaneous forward blast. Before the ground has settled, the suction (back blast) returns just above our heads, with a swishing acceleration toward the center of detonation. The extreme violence of both blasts burns or pulverizes all that stands. The shock wave through the earth (not on the surface) then shatters the windows of buildings in Las Vegas, 60 miles away. Through closed eyelids the brightness we know far exceeds pure white or the vs of the sun. We feel the ground being lifted, for our shoulders press hard against the forward walls of the trench. In less than 20 seconds the fireball cloud is 30,000 feet skyward, with its ice crystals forming to flatten the top. We enter the "hot" area 45 minutes later, with no knowledge of the dangers of fallout radiation, as we wear no docimeter badges to gauge or measure any degree of our exposure. We see animals, all singed and burned, yet alive and blinded, showing their jerking, twisting motions of agony and their cringe of dying pain. Scorched odors are about with the horrible stench that surrounds us. The metal tower has melted and disappeared; not a trace to touch or see. A single long-eared jack rabbit escapes the scene at some distance, still burning and wildly hopping. After less than 20 years facial cancer appears on the soldier. Then some governmental bureaucratic "stupo" has the gall to aver the origin to be unknown... "perhaps some slight connection with Army service." All this, in part, the results of an atomic maneuver in a western desert, Army Operation, "Up-Shot Knothole," Desert Rock V, Frenchman's Flat, Nevada, April 1953.

Most grievous of all is these atomic devices are now much more powerfulmore devastating to humanity as a whole; for they have the capability of combining within them paralyzing nerve gases. I can imagine what our future might hold for us should we not have perfected our defenses to counter such an attack. President Reagan is trying to preclude the entry of such missiles by destroying them at off-shore, longdistant advantage. Without hesitation, I firmly believe in this strong, strategic "Star Wars" Plan which President Reagan is proposing. If the reader is not favorable to it, he might well become a true believer-when the future proves

Something New

As humans, we always want something new.

There is something new, and it is available. We can all be a part of it. Study 2 Chronicles 7:14, and Chapter Book of Nehemiah. Pray for it, and ask others to pray.

World and national revival are within our reach. Our world is in sore affliction! We have not, because we ask not! It's never too late for God, and no job is too big for Him.

Explanation

Just a note here for those of you who were looking for the East Point Area Development Club to make applebutter at the Amphitheatre parking lot, during the Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival. The Club just didn't get prepared enough in time to do this.

It takes quite a bit of preparation to move the applebutter-making to another location other than the Community Center. This year, they didn't get that done. We apologize for that, will try to get things "more at the ready" for next year. In the meantime, the Club is looking for a trailer, not unlike the type they haul horses in, not the small type, but those a bit longer, about the length of a house-trailer but not equipped. Anyone knowing of such a trailer might contact any member of the E.P.A.D. Club and it could be looked into, to see if maybe it could be used. The purpose for the trailer is to make the making of applebutter more mobile; in other words, they might honor more of the requests to make the applebutter at other locations more easily.

We understand there are those who did wish to watch the making of the applebutter, so maybe next year we will be able to do so.

MRS. ESTA MAE TACKETT, Publicity Chairman East Point Development Club

Offers Famous Trees

I would like to offer as many as a half dozen famous trees to be planted on public property (park, school, library, etc.) which would serve as a "Tree Museum" to honor Red, White and Blue day and its founder, Marcella Bailey.

There would be no charge for the trees. If we could find a friend travelling in a van or truck, then there would be no shipping costs.

Presently we have available for planting (Nov. or Dec.)

White Oak (Lincoln), Sugar Maple (Ann Rutledge, Lincoln's girl friend), Ginko (Henry Clay), Elm (Lafayette), Elm (tree under which all governors were inaugurated for 109 years), Apple (Johnny Appleseed), Apple (Sir Isaac Newton), London Plane (from Buckingham Palace, England).

We should be able to put a good collection together and add more later. If there is sufficient interest, please do not delay because we dispense them sort of on a first-come, first-serve basis.

The Kentucky Academy of Family Physicians at their quarterly meeting at Lake Barkley in Cadiz, Kentucky on August 30-31... noted the recent decision by the Commonwealth of Kentucky to reduce funds for the care of elderly medicaid patients in nursing homes. The physicians determined this action will result in hardship for families, and less than satisfactory medical care for these elderly patients. The family physicians sympathize with the patients' plight and vow to exert pressure at Frankfort on their patients' behalf to restore these funds.

throughout the state.

McDonald said.

Would you believe that the safest way for your children to get to school each morning is on the school bus? People are often surprised at this statement, but statistics prove it to be true.

'We tend to take the school bus system for granted," Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald said. "That in itself is a measure of the confidence we place in our school buses.

"As we observe National School Bus Safety Week, however, I would like to call attention to the continuing efforts to ensure that Kentucky's children are safe as they travel to and from school on the familiar yellow buses.

To draw attention to the importance of school buses and their reliability, National School Bus Safety Week is being observed Sept. 22 through 28.

Statistics compiled by the Kentucky Department of Education show that Kentucky school buses transport 462,000 students each school day and travel more than 71 million miles each year. "With all those children and all those miles, school buses in Kentucky have maintained an outstanding safety record," McDonald said. "There has not been a pupil fatality inside a conventional school bus in 27 years.'

School buses are the safest form of transportation to and from school, staff members of the department's Division of Pupil Transportation say. Strictly enforced construction standards and regulatory procedures provide a greater margin of safety for passengers of school buses than is afforded those riding in the family vehicle.

The specifications for school buses in Kentucky are among the toughest in the nation, staff member Bill Ramsey said.

"Our specifications meet or exceed the national standards," he added. "Many other states request information about our specifications in attempts to upgrade their own."

The Division of Pupil Transportation administers the department's program to ensure bus safety and the competence of school bus drivers in Kentucky.

"Our efforts focus primarily on the areas of bus driver training, pupil safety training, inspection and maintenance of school buses and enforcement of the law requiring motorists to stop for school buses loading and unloading passengers," Ramsey said.

Beginning in the 1986-87 school year, all school bus drivers must be certified by the state. This certification requires successful completion of an eight-hour, two-day training program. Beginning this year, newly hired drivers must be certified before beginning their duties. In addition, new regulations require eight hours of classroom and behind-thewheel training for all drivers each year. This will help to keep drivers up to date on procedures and aware of any new

STORES

UNITED STATES ARMY RAPPELLERS from Charlie Company, 2/502nd Infantry Unit, Fort Campell, will present an unusual demonstration to the Allen Central High School student body at 2 p.m., September 27, at the school. These talented infantry soldiers, led by Second Lieutenant Jim Cassidy, will rappel from a UH-1 helicopter piloted by Chief Warrant Officer Thomas Twombly from the Second Infantry Brigade at Fort Campbell.

The audience will see the Army helicopter do a fly-by initially, followed by four soldiers rappelling from ropes from an altitude of 90 feet and bringing with them the American flag. The helicopter will then make a quick landing, pick up the soliders, take off, and then return to do one of their most thrilling rappelling demonstrations, the Austrialian.

Following the demonstration, the UH-1 helicopter and crew members will set up at the football field for anyone interested in getting autographs, taking pictures, or having questions about the rappelling demonstration.

This demonstration is being brought to Allen Central High School courtesy of the U.S. Army Recruiters located at 38 North Lake Drive in Prestonsburg. For more information call Sergeant First Class Jim Thomas at 789-5893.

Plans Program for Pastors Serving Hospital Patients

and assistance to pastors who minister to the spiritual needs of those who are sick, the Appalachian Regional Hospitals are sponsoring an afternoon and evening program. The purpose is to share information and experiences that will be helpful to pastors who visit their church members while in the hospital. Interested pastors are invited to attend the program to be held at the McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital on Tuesday, Oct. 8, starting at 3 p.m.

Participants are invited for the evening meal to be served at 6 p.m. and to share in an additional session following the meal. Those who are unable to attend the afternoon session are welcome to come for the meal and evening session or just the evening session. No fee

In an effort to provide some support will be charged for attending the sessions, or for the meal, but it is requested that those planning to attend, notify Reva Harris by telephone at 377-2411,

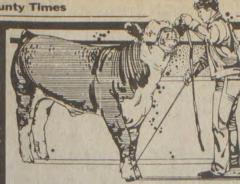

> Appalachian Regional Hospitals is a system of ten hospitals and support services that has, as its objective, to improve the health of the people who live within the service area of those hospitals. Recognizing that the spiritual wellbeing of a person plays an important role in the physical health of that person, the hospital system provides for a hospital chaplaincy program. Pastors of churches in the communities served by the hospitals volunteer to take turns being available to minister to the spiritual needs of those who are sick.

Mud Creek Aged FLOYD COUNTY Get Housing Aid

Twenty houses in the Mud Creek area of this county that are occupied by very low-income, elderly residents will receive plumbing installation or rehabilitation of existing plumbing through a grant from the Kentucky Elderly-Rural Housing Repair and Rehabilitation Demonstration Program, Kentucky Housing Corporation (KHC) executive director F. Lynn Luallen announced last week.

The $110,000 grant for the work was awarded Mountain Housing and Community Action through KHC and the Office of Community Services (OCS), a division of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The funding awarded the Purchase Area Housing Corporation is part of a $302,500 grant titled "Kentucky Elderly-Rural Housing Repair and Rehabilitation Demonstration Program" which KHC recently received from the Office of Community Services. KHC will match the OCS grant with an additional $562,000.

According to Luallen, KHC is extremely interested in seeing the program become much more than a demonstration. "There is a definite demand for funding that would help upgrade existing housing for the elderly," he said. "We are looking at the possibilities that the demand for such a program will be so great that it will be integrated into KHC's overall services through our Senior and Special Needs Program.

Armstrong Says Justice System Fails The Victim

Kentuckians are fed up with a criminal justice system that appears more concerned for the rights of criminals than for the rights of their victims, Attorney-General David L. Armstrong said in an interview here last

Armstrong was in Prestonsburg, en route to a hearing Thursday at Pikeville High School. The hearing was the second in a series of eight being conducted across the state in an effort to elicit public comments on the needs of crime

"What we are hearing is the staggering feeling people have, feelings of disappointment, anger and frustration." when, already victimized by crime, they are then pushed aside by a system that "rallies around the defendant," Armstrong said.

Victims and witnesses complain that they are often given no information about the status of their cases-which may be postponed without notice or just as abruptly settled by plea bargaining, he added. In the meantime, victims "are left with emotional scars, costly medical expenses, loss of time from work and a myriad of other problems," he said.

The fact that only a handful of people turned out for Thursday's hearing underscored the attorney general's remarks with an irony noted by Janie Hall, a nurse with the Mountain Comprehensive Care Center. The experience of being shunted aside by the courts teaches victims not to press for their rights, she said, adding, "It's a learned helplessness. It's the reason no one is here tonight. They have learned that no one cares.

Armstrong is pushing for a law that would embody a Victims' Bill of Rights. While he introduced similar bills unsuccessfully in the last two legislative sessions, the version he intends to press in the 1986 General Assembly will have a better chance of passage because it is designed more specifically for Kentucky's needs, he said.

One of the reasons crime victims are overlooked, said the attorney-general, is that the criminal justice system views crime as an act against the state rather than an act against an individual. "It's almost as if the victim is cast aside by the system once he or she has been victimized. Victims are frequently kept in the dark about the progress of the defendant's case and everyone except the victim tends to quickly forget the emotional trauma they frequently suffer," he said.

One in five Kentucky households experienced a crime during a recent 12-month period and about five percent of them were violent crimes, Armstrong said. Moreover, there is increasing evidence that many victims of violent crime suffer from emotional problems, including depression, he said.

His Victims' Bill of Rights would include the right to be informed about a case: to be given prior notice of hearings and postponements; to participate in the criminal justice process; to be told about victims' compensation; to have a case resolved speedily; to be free from intimidation; to be treated with dignity, respect and courtesy.

'We don't want to take away the rights of the accused," Armstrong said. "What we are trying to say is, 'Let's legislate some rights for victims.'

Natural Resources Week Proclaimed in Floyd Co.

Natural Resources Week in this county has been set from September 22 through September 29 by proclamation issued by County Judge Executive John M. Stumbo. Throughout the Commonwealth Gov. Martha Layne Collins has proclaimed September 22-29 as Natural Resources Week.

Judge Stumbo said, "...all local communities, business and industry, voluntary organizations, labor groups, and educational institutions are urged to observe this week with activities designed to help cherish and protect our natural resources.

He drew attenton to the work done by the conservation district at the Allen Park to curb erosion which he said not only constituted a monetary savings to the county but also greatly improved the appearance of the park, itself.

Information concerning seeding may be obtained by calling 886-3128.

MAYTOWN HOMEMAKERS

The Maytown Homemakers held their first fall meeting at the home of Webble Blevins. The meeting was called to order by the president, Helen Boyd, and the devotional was given by Alda Gibson. Some upcoming events that were discussed were the county annual meeting and luncheon Sept. 25, and the area meeting, Oct. 11. After the business meeting a lesson on, "Table Toppings" was caught by Frances Pitts. Frances also showed the candlewick quilt which will be given away at the area meeting. The lesson for October will be 'Accessories.

A supper was served by the hostess to Alda Gibson, Ada Martin, Betty May, Helen Boyd and Frances Pitts.

Absentee Conviction Slated for Appeal

A Prestonsburg man convicted in his absence on a drunk driving charge the day before will appeal the conviction, his attorney said Tuesday

District Judge Harold Stumbo convicted Donald E. Leckrone, 26, on the testimony of Prestonsburg police officer Jeff Stumbo. It was the defendant's second conviction under a stricter drunk driving law enacted last year. He was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and ordered to pay $707.50 in fine, fees Ned Pillersdorf, who was retained by Leckrone Tuesday, said a doctor's appointment prevented his client from appearing for trial the day before.

Also convicted of DUI this week were Charles R. Hensley, 29, of Prestonsburg, sentenced to 30 days and ordered to pay $505.50; Charles Clifton, 59, of Dwale (30 days, $707.50); and Grady Goble (two days' public service, $157.50).

By agreement between prosecuting and defense attorneys, a charge accusing Ricky A. Spradlin, of East Point, of carrying a concealed deadly weapon was reduced to disorderly conduct. Public Defender Sandra Simmons noting that the two guns found in the defendant's car were in plain view. He was fined $10. Under the agreement, a charge of possessing marijuana was Astor Collins, Jr., of McDowell, was convicted by a jury of reckless driving and of attempting to elude Wayland police officer Normes Thornsberry last Dec. 14. He was fined $20 on the one charge, $35 on the other, and court costs were waived on account of his poverty.

Jerry N. Edmonds pleaded guilty to driving on a suspended license and possession of marijuana. He was given 30 days' probation and ordered to pay $107.50 in fine and costs.

CARLA "ROBINSON" BOYD FLOYD COUNTY CLERK

117.045 Precinct Election Officers

(1) The county board of elections shall, not later than September 20 each year, appoint for each precinct in the county two (2) judges, one (1) clerk, and one (1) sheriff of election, who shall hold their offices for one (1) year and until their successors are appointed. They shall serve in all elections held in the county during the year. The County Executive committees of the two (2) political parties having representation on the state board of elections may, on or before September 15 each year, designate in writing to the county board of elections a list of not less than four (4) names for each precinct except that in any precinct where there are not as many as four (4) persons possessing the qualifications of an election officer belonging to the political party filing the list, a less number may be designated. If there are two (2) or more contending executive committees of the same party in any county, the one (1) recognized by the written certificate of the chairman of the state central committee of the party shall be the one (1) authorized to submit the lists. If lists are submitted, one (1) judge at each voting place shall be selected from each list, and the sheriff shall be chosen from one list and the clerk from the other. If no lists are submitted, the officers of the election shall be so selected and appointed that one (1) of the judges at each voting place is of one (1) political party and the other judge of a different political party, and there shall be a like difference at each voting place between the sheriff and the clerk of election. The county board of elections shall, within ten (10) days before the next ensuing election, give each election officer written notice of his appointment. The board may direct the sheriff of the county to serve the notice of appointment, if it deems such action is necessary. (2) An election officer shall be a qualified voter of the precinct, except that where no qualified voter of the required political party is available within the precinct, the election officer shall be a qualified voter of the county. An election officer shall not be a candidate or the spouse, parent or child of a candidate who is to be voted for at the election.

WHY MAKE FUNERAL PLANS NOW?

With the fast pace of today's world it is hard for some people to deal seriously with funeral pre-arrangement. We set aside the question of death by saying "all

There is a kind of panic that pushes people from one day into the next. The busy round of activities, trying to pay bills, trying to raise kids, worrying about job security, all are features of an environment that resists planning. There's almost no time

But, death, being certain, demands a time for planning. We know it is coming. To think about death is to think about certainties. Some of the "uncertainty of life" can be relieved by making funeral arrangements in advance. For instance:

2. You can achieve peace of mind through pre-planning by knowing that your family won't have to worry about it later. Because we understand the importance of pre-planning, we are glad to answer any

1. Pre-planning allows you the freedom to have your wishes carried out.

Going-Out-Of-Business Sales

of retail establishments. Whatever the cause of this increase, such sales are of interest to the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, as this Division enforces the provisions of Kentucky's law regulating going-out-ofbusiness sales.

The Kentucky Going-Out-Of-Business Sale Act, KRS 365.410-.480 and 365.992, requires any person proposing to conduct a "going-out-of-business sale," "fire sale," "moving sale," etc. to obtain a license from the county clerk in the county where the sale is to be conducted. The applicant must also post a $1,000 bond with a surety approved by the court, and submit a detailed inventory of the goods to be sold.

In enacting this law, the legislature recognized that the public has a certain perception of such sales. A consumer is

The past few years seem to have produced a larger than usual number of has indicated bargain prices on the 'going-out-of-business sales" on the part regular stock of the company becaus the company, for one reason or another, is liquidating its regular inventory and ceasing to do business.

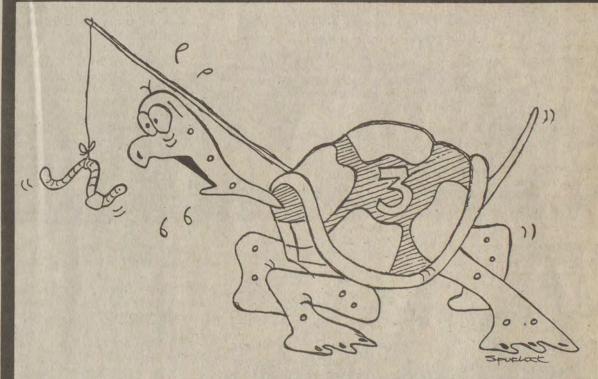

> For that reason, the Act forbids a person conducting a going-out-of-business sale from ordering any goods for the purpose of selling those goods at the sale. Any abnormal purchase and addition to the stock of goods within 60 days prior to the filing of an application for a going-out-of-business sale license is deemed presumptive evidence that the goods were purchased in contemplation of a going-out-of-business sale. Similarly, the Act prohibits any addition of goods during the sale to the stock of goods included in the inventory filed with the county clerk.

The primary concern is with sellers who bring in "distress" type merchandise or merchandise which is inferior in quality to that normally sold by the store. The unsuspecting shopper believes that he or she is getting a true sale price on what he assumes is the store's regular inventory, when such is not the case.

Once the license for the sale is obtained, the license number must be prominently posted in the store itself and on the front door of the premises. All advertising relating to the sale must state the license number and the final date of the sale. Sales by farmers of equipment or produce are exempted from the requirements of the Act, as are judicial sales carried out by public officers in the course of their official duties.

In addition to going out-of-business sales conducted by established merchants, certain "temporary" sales may be subject to the provisions of the Act if they fall within the definition of a goingout-of-business sale as "any sale whether described by such name or any other name... held in such a manner as to induce a belief that upon disposal of the stock of goods on hand, the business will cease and discontinue at the premises where the sale is conducted." If a temporary sale creates an image that a limited stock of goods will be sold, with the duration of the sale dependent upon the depletion of the stock, the seller may be required to obtain a license under this chapter.

The provisions of the Going-Out-Of-Business Sale Act may be enforced by the Attorney General through civil action to obtain an injunction against any practices in violation of the Act. In such a proceeding, the court may also assess civil penalties against the violator. The Act also provides for criminal sanctions in lieu of civil action by the Attorney ou can cut your heating bills by adding a heat pump to the gas or oil furnace you already have.

"If your gas or oil bills are high, add on a heat pump."

An add-on heat pump saves you money because it shares the job of heating your home. You just add it on to your existing furnace. It goes on only when electricity is the most efficient, economical source of heat.

And all summer long, you get the comfort of air conditioning. Because in the summer, the heat pump reverses itself and pumps the heat out of your house while keeping the cool air circulating.

Because an add-on heat pump uses your existing furnace, most installations don't involve any changes to your ductwork. If you think about the savings, the air conditioning, and the low cost of installation, adding on a heat pump is a pretty smart move. Call us and find out more.

Eye-Level Stop Light Now Standard

You're going to see more and more cars on the highway this fall sporting an additional safety feature—an eye-level rear brake light that will reduce the danger of rear-end collisions

Said Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Hanford Dole, "We expect to cut the number of rear-end collisions significantly, eliminate some 40,000 injuries and save annually an estimated $434 million in property damages once all vehicles on the road are equipped with the third lamp.

Cars manufactured after Sept. 1, 1985, will be required to have the new rear stop lamp, which will supplement the two lower brake lights. The regulation requires the third stop lamp to be mounted on the centerline of a vehicle, between the trunk and the top of the roof, either inside or outside the rear window.

The additional lamp is the result of a new passenger car equipment regulation issued by the U.S. Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The new rule follows federal research on vehicle rear lighting systems in an effort to reduce one of the most costly and common types of traffic accident. In 1984 alone, there were an estimated 3.8 million collisions in which a passenger car was struck from behind.

DOT sponsored on-the-road field studies using taxi cab fleets and nation-wide telephone company cars in the research. Vehicles in the study equipped with the additional, eye-level stop lamp had 53 percent fewer braking-related rear-end accidents than vehicles without the added light.

Owners of older vehicles may equip their cars with this additional safety equipment by purchasing it from an auto supply store or from auto dealerships. DOT cautions "do-it-yourself" installers to follow carefully the manufacturer's instructions. Proper installation will ensure that no technical complications arise when the new lamp is used.

'The sooner all vehicles are equipped with the eye-level stop lamp, the sooner all of us will benefit from this additional safety protection," Secretary

Nurses from the health department will be at the Wheelwright Library, the Health Department Outpost Office, in Beaver, and the Hi-Rise in Prestonsburg, Thursday, September 26, from 10-2. They will offer flu shots, blood pressures, checks, anemia screenings and immunizations.

There will be a Pap clinic at the health department in Prestonsburg, Friday, September 27, from 8:30-11:30, and from 1-2. This clinic is open to women of all ages, but those women 45 and over are especially urged to take advantage of this free service, since this is the high-

The health department recently received the Hib vaccine. This vaccine is for prevention of Hemphilus Influenza Type B, a leading cause of bacterial disease. It is the most common cause of bacterial meningitis, primarily among children under 5 years of age. Those children attending day care centers are at particularly high risk. This vaccine is now available at the Health Department on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, or Friday. If you have questions concerning this vaccine, please call the Public Health Nurses at 886-2788.

There will be limited services at the health department October 1, 2, 3, and 4 due to the Helen B. Fraser Conference in Louisville.

Highlands Regional Hospital To Offer Home Medical Alert

A group of Highlands Regional Medical Center employees spent most of a recent day "learning the ropes" of a new home emergency response system from Robin O. Forde of AT&T. The Medical Center has become the first Big Sandy health care facility to purchase such a system, which allows users to summon medical attention at the touch of a button.

She is healthy enough to live at home, and she wants to continue doing so. But she lives alone, and her family is concerned about that. What if she suffers a stroke, heart attack, or other disabling illness or injury? Can the stricken woman dial the seven or 11 digits necessary to reach medical help in time? What if she misdials? What if she doesn't get through the first time? What if she's outside and can't get to the Highlands Regional Medical Center and AT&T are joining forces to provide an answer that will give her and her family peace of mind while allowing her to maintain her independence.

HRMC has purchased the AT&T Emergency Medical Alert System and plans to have it in place and operating in October. The system is designed to allow the person at home to push one button one time to signal a medical emergency and get the quickest possi-

"The possibilities for this system are many," said HRMC Associate Administrator Russell W. Briggs. "All elderly people who spend time alone are good candidates. So are chronic care patients such as those recovering from or identified as high-risk to suffer heart attacks. Diabetics should consider this system, as should parents of babies identified as potential sudden infant death syndrome victims. In other words, anyone who might need prompt medical attention-too prompt to count on being able to telephone-is a candidate.'

The Emergency Medical Alert System ties into the user's existing rotary or touch-tone home telephone line. It consists of a small portable transmitter designed to be carried in the hand, clipped to a belt or pocket, or hung on a cord around the user's neck, and a console that hooks into any modular telephone jack and standard electrical outlet. It also has battery power to allow continued operation during an electrical power failure.

If an emergency occurs, the user simply pushes a button on the transmitter or, if he or she is near the console, on the console itself. An electronic voice responds by repeating the word "emergency" for 30 seconds, notifying the user that the system has been activated and allowing him or her to cancel the call in the event the activation was accidental. If the call is not cancelled, the console dials one of two telephone numbers that have been programmed into it. Highlands Regional has already installed two new telephone lines solely to receive Medical Alert calls, one in its Emergency Department and the other next to the main switchboard. Both positions are staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

When one of these numbers is reached, the console's electronic voice indicates the name and address of the user. The person taking the call indicates to the console that the message has been received and understood, and the console in the user's home then announces "message received," informing the user that help is on the way. One of the system's many fail-safe features is that, should the first number be unavailable, the console will automatically call the second, and it will keep dialing indefinitely, alternatingbetween the two, until one of the calls is Obtaining a system such as this has been on our minds for some time,' Briggs said. "There are a number of them on the market, and we did an exhaustive study to make sure we are purchasing the very best of those that are affordably available.

'Unlike some other systems we looked at, the AT&T system is handled locally. It has safeguards against false alarms, which of course would disrupt our continuing efforts to care for patients already in-house, yet it will be Medical Center people answering the calls-people who are trained to react quickly to emergency.

"The AT&T system has just become available in Kentucky-we are the first hospital in the state to purchase it-and we are glad it became available here when it did. Because it is both the most technologically advanced and the most economical, it fits in with our overall policy of offering the best health care possible at the best possible price.'

Highlands Regional is not only the first Kentucky hospital to purchase the AT&T system, it is the first hospital in the Big Sandy to purchase a home emergency response system of any kind.

(For more information on the new system, call Diana Crum at HRMC, 886-8511 or 789-6548, extension 106.)

In last week's paper I saw my opponent's ad, who is running on the INDEPENDENT ticket. MR. DUFF stated that he was coming back to bat in the November election and with me pitching, he was going to hit a grand slam. I have seen Mr. Duff at the plate TOO MANY TIMES. I don't believe he can get off first base. The people of District 2 want somebody who is qualified in building roads, somebody with the ability to operate and maintain heavy equipment, as well as somebody who knows the NEEDS OF THE PEOPLE. Since I WAS CHOSEN by the Democratic Party in May to represent them out of 11 Democratic candidates, I will do my utmost to win in November.

SUMMARY OF ORDINANCE NO. 1

CITY OF MARTIN, KENTUCKY There follows a summary of an Ordinance of the City of Martin, Kentucky, identified by its title or caption as

ORDINANCE NO. 1 AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF MARTIN, KENTUCKY, AUTHORIZ-ING THE BORROWING OF MONEY FOR INTERIM FINANCING IN AN-TICIPATION OF THE CITY'S IS-SUANCE OF ITS "WATER SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS, SERIES OF 1985": PROVIDING FOR THE CREATION OF A CONSTRUCTION FUND WHEREIN THERE SHALL BE DEPOSITED FROM TIME TO TIME MONEYS RECEIVED FROM ALL SOURCES FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE PROJECT INTENDED TO BE FINANCED THROUGH THE IS-SUANCE OF SUCH BONDS; AUTHO-RIZING THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF PROMISSORY NOTES FROM TIME TO TIME IN EVIDENCE OF SUCH INTERIM BORROWING; PLEDGING REPAYMENT OF SAID INTERIM LOAN AND INTEREST THEREON FROM THE PROCEEDS OF SUCH BONDS; AND PRESCRIB-ING CONDITIONS RELATING TO DISBURSEMENTS FROM THE CON-STRUCTION FUND.

The full text of this Ordinance is available for public inspection during the normal City of Martin business hours in the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Martin, Kentucky. Section 1. A separate fund and bank account of the City of Martin is established designated "City of Martin Water System Construction Fund of 1985" (the "Construction Fund"). There shall be deposited in the Construction Fund all moneys received from time to time for purposes of paying the costs of constructing and installing major additions and improvements to the City's municipal water system facilities (the 'Project"

Section 2. There is authorized the borrowing of up to the aggregate sum of $279,000 from any one or more of the following Lenders: (a) any bank situated in the Commonwealth of Kentucky (which may participate in such loans with another bank or other banks); and (b) the United States of America, Farmers Home Administration of the Department of Agriculture "FmHA"). (Each of the foregoing Lenders is hereinafter individually referred to as a "Lender.") The Mayor and City Treasurer are authorized to execute promissory notes to evidence such interim borrowing for the Project. Proceeds of such borrowing shall be deposited in the Construction Fund. Authority is given to the Mayor and City Treasurer to execute renewal notes if necessary. The interest rate on such interim borrowing shall not exceed 9% per annum.

Section 3. The City will apply the proceeds (to the extent necessary) of its $279,000 "City of Martin Water System Revenue Bonds, Series of 1985 (the "Bonds"), authorized by a separate Ordinance of the City adopted concurrently herewith, in payment of such interim construction loans.

Section 4. As the City requests an advance from a Lender, the City shall tender to the Lender a promissory note, duly executed, accompanied by appropriate vouchers from the City's consulting engineers. Also, checks drawn on the Construction Fund shall be submitted for the purpose of making the authorized disbursements therefrom.

Section 5. The genuine signatures of the Mayor and Treasurer of the City are provided, and the Lenders may rely on such signatures.

Section 6. Moneys in the Construction Fund, to the extent not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, shall be secured by a pledge of collateral by the Bank or shall otherwise be invested in certain obligations as set out in this Ordinance.

Section 7. Counsel for the City is authorized to proceed with implementing the Project and the financing thereof.

Section 8. When the Bonds are issued and delivered by the City, the provisions of the separate Bond-authorizing Ordinance adopted concurrently with this Ordinance relating to the Construction Fund, disbursement therefrom and investment of moneys therein shall prevail over the provisions of this Ordinance to the extent there may be any conflict in such respective provisions. Section 9. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect after its final adoption, approval and publication in summary form as provided by law. The foregoing provisions are intended to be a summary of the Ordinance, and reference is hereby made to the full text of the Ordinance for a full and complete statement of its contents.

CITY OF MARTIN, KENTUCKY

There follows a summary of an Ordinance of the City of Martin, Kentucky, identified by its title or caption as

ORDINANCE NO. 2 AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF

MARTIN, KENTUCKY, PROVIDING

FOR THE CONSTRUCTION AND IN-

STALLATION OF MAJOR IM-PROVEMENTS AND ADDITIONS TO THE CITY'S MUNICIPAL WATER SYSTEM: AUTHORIZING THE IS-SUANCE OF THE CITY'S $279,000 'WATER SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS, SERIES OF 1985," TO PAY THE COSTS THEREOF (TO THE EX-TENT NOT OTHERWISE PROVIDED TO BE PAID): MAKING PROVISIONS FOR THE COLLECTION, SEGREGA-DISTRIBUTION DISBURSEMENT REVENUES OF SAID WATER SYSTEM, AND FOR THE ALLOCA-TION THEREOF TO VARIOUS FUNDS SPECIAL HEREIN CREATED, IN ORDER TO PROVIDE FOR THE ORDERLY PAYMENT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF AND INTEREST ON THE BONDS HEREIN AUTHORIZ-ED: SETTING FORTH CONDITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS UNDER WHICH ADDITIONAL BONDS MAY BE ISSUED IN THE FUTURE, PAYABLE FROM SAID REVENUES AND RANK-ING ON A BASIS OF PARITY WITH THE BONDS HEREIN AUTHORIZED; PROVIDING FOR THE RIGHTS OF THE HOLDERS OF THE BONDS HEREIN AUTHORIZED AND THE ENFORCEMENT THEREOF; AND PROVIDING FOR AN ADVERTISED, PUBLIC, COMPETITIVE SALE OF THE BONDS HEREIN AUTHORIZED.

The full text of this Ordinance is available for public inspection during the normal City of Martin business hours in the office of the City Clerk, City Hall,

Martin, Kentucky.

Summary Section 1. The City authorizes the immediate construction and installation of major additions and improvements to its municipal water system facilities (the 'Project"), and constituting the City's municipal water system (the System"), all substantially according to plans and designs prepared by Haworth, Meyer & Boleyn, Inc., Frankfort, Kentucky.

Section 2. The System shall be municipally owned and operated by the City for the security of the Bonds hereinafter identified, subject, however, to the provisions of Section 3 hereinafter. The System and the Project are to be constructed and operated pursuant to KRS 96.350 to 96.510, inclusive.

Section 3. To pay the costs of the Project (to the extent not otherwise provided to be paid), there are authorized to be issued the City's "Water System Revenue Bonds, Series of 1985" (the "Bonds"), in the aggregate principal amount of $279,000. The Bonds shall be offered for public sale. The Bonds shall mature as to principal in varying amounts on January 1 in each of the years 1987 through 2024, as set forth in the maturity schedule, and shall bear interest semiannually at a rate established by competitive bidding. The Bonds may be redeemed on and after January 1, 1996, in advance of maturity according to certain prescribed terms. Section 4. The form of fully registered

Bonds is set out.

Section 5. The Bonds shall be publicly advertised for sale in accordance with KRS Chapter 424 and according to certain bidding terms set out in this Ordinance, including a requirement for a bid at par value at a single interest rate. Forms of an official Notice of Bond Sale, Notice of Sale of Bonds and Official Bid Form are approved.

Section 6. Proceeds of the Bonds shall be deposited with a Depository Bank in an account designated the City's "Water System Construction Fund of 1985" (the Construction Fund") created by a separate interim financing Ordinance of the City adopted concurrently with this Ordinance, and shall be used in paying the costs of the Project, including reimbursing the City for any advances and paving interim financing obligations incurred in connection with the Project as authorized by said separate interim financing Ordinance of the City. Also, certain grant proceeds for the Project shall be deposited in the Construction Fund. Specifications are included for disbursements from the Construction Fund and the security for and investment of moneys in the Construction Fund. Provision is made for distribution of any surplus in the Construction Fund.

Section 7. Provision is made for the operation of the System, for the segregation, allocation and custody of revenues of the System and for the enforcement of payment of the outstanding Bonds so long as they are outstanding. The

System shall be operated on a fiscal year

The "City of Martin Water Revenue Fund" (the Revenue Fund") shall be maintained, and the City will deposit therein all cash income and revenues of the System. There shall be deposited on a monthly basis from the Revenue Fund to the City's "Water System Revenue Bonds, Series of 1985 Bond and Interest Sinking Fund" (the "Bond Fund") amounts sufficient to accumulate the semiannual interest and annual principal due on the Bonds; and in the event bonds on a parity with the Bonds are issued, such monthly deposits shall increase appropriately. Moneys in the Bond Fund may be invested according to prescribed terms. The City shall maintain a Depreciation Fund and an Operation and Maintenance Fund for the System. Monthly payments into the Depreciation Fund from the Revenue Fund shall be at least $140 per month and the minimum level to be accumulated in the Depreciation Fund (which fund may be used essentially for capital improvements to the System and, if necessary, to make up deficiencies in bond payments) shall be at least $16,800. Monthly payments into the Operation and Maintenance Fund from the Revenue Fund shall be made to meet current operating and operating reserve requirements.

Section 8. Covenants are made to the holders of the Bonds, including covenants to own and operate the System on a revenue-producing basis, to establish and collect sufficient rates, to make an annual budget, not to reduce rates under certain circumstances without approval of a consulting engineer, to segregate revenues according to the applicable bond ordinances. to segregate revenues according to the applicable bond ordinances, to keep proper books of record and account and to provide audited financial statements each fiscal year, to maintain certain kinds and levels of insurance, to enforce delinquent payments according to law and said ordinances, and not to defease the security of bonds of the City held by FmHA without prepaying such bonds.

Section 9. The issuance of subordinate obligation is authorized (subordinate to the Bonds as to security and source of payment). Additionally, the City may issue bonds on a parity with the Bonds to complete the Project, if necessary, with the consent of the holders of at least 75% in principal amount of the Bonds. Also the City may issue bonds on a parity with the Bonds in the future upon meeting certain terms and conditions, including an earnings test of 1.2 times net revenues over average annual debt service, provided that this requirement may be waived by the holders of at least 75% in principal amount of the then outstanding Bonds and any parity bonds. Other requirements regarding the issuance of bonds on a parity with the Bonds are stipulated.

Section 10. The provisions of this Ordinance constitute a contract with the holders of the Bonds.

Section 11. The City covenants to comply with federal tax laws regarding the exemption of interest on the Bonds from income taxation and the "arbitrage bond" rules encompassed within Section 103(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Section 12. A statutory mortgage lien on the System is acknowledged pursuant to KRS 96.400. Section 13. The management of the Systems by the Board of Water Commissioners is acknowledged.

Section 14. The provisions of this Ordinance are severable.

Section 15. Any ordinances or resolutions of the City in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of any such conflict, repealed.

Section 16. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect following its final adoption, approval and publication in summary form as provided by law. The foregoing provisions are intended to be a summary of the Ordinance, and reference is hereby made to the full text of the Ordinance for a full and complete statement of its contents.

Road Fund in 'Bad Shape'

By GREGORY D. STUMBO House Majority Floor Leader

With winter approaching, state officials, including myself, must concern ourselves with the condition of state roads.

In summary, information I received from Legislative Research Commission staff indicates the road fund is in bad shape when compared to the road needs of the state.

The problem in the road fund has been caused by more than a single circumstance.

First, the nine percent motor fuels tax constitutes about forty-four percent of annual road fund dollars. Yet, that tax generated $202.1 million in 1982, which is six percent greater than the $188.7 million anticipated to be generated in this fiscal year. Falling gas prices, cars which get better gas mileage, and the 3.5 cents per gallon credit for motor fuels which use gasohol have all contributed to this decline in motor fuel tax revenue.

Secondly, while revenues in the road fund have been stagnate and the cost for blacktop and other materials have been rising, debt service has also increased due to the issuance of additional bonds. In fiscal year 1975, debt service totaled $72,567,424. The debt service cost this fiscal year is $151,927,300.

What has occurred is that the annual growth in the road fund has not been as great as the increase in debt service cost and so revenue that should be spent for resurfacing and reconstruction activity are now being spent to pay debt service, and the monies remaining after debt payments don't stretch as far due to inflation.

Third, as has been discussed, the road fund is not receiving the $46.9 million in coal severance tax revenues that was originally earmarked for debt service on resource recovery roads. That debt service is now being funded with road fund dollars that could have been used for state resurfacing and reconstruction projects. The result of the elimination of the coal severance tax and the stagnate growth in the motor fuel tax, which I mentioned earlier, is that the road fund has grown only twelve percent over the previous three year period. In fiscal year 1983, road fund receipts totaled $427,184,582; and, in fiscal year 1986, the road fund is anticipated to generate $481,050,000. In comparison to the twelve percent growth in the road fund from 1983 from 1986, the general fund grew 7.7 percent between fiscal year 1984 and fiscal year 1985.

Because the road fund is suffering, road fund maintenance, resurfacing and state construction is suffering. Certain road systems such as the toll roads, state secondary, and state primary systems, whose maintenance and reconstruction is funded largely by road fund dollars as opposed to federal dollars. And now they are seriously under-funded compared to the needs of the systems. This is especially true of the state toll road system which has reached, for the most part, its 20-year

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Warning Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

The following nine symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations are often the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these may spell back trouble.

(1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals may indicate your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will likely become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these warning signals . . . call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

Famed Folk Singer Jean Ritchie To Appear in Concert Here, Oct. 11

Internationally famed Jean Ritchie She was one of the seven original direcwill appear in concert here next month under auspices of Hospice of Big Sandy, it was announced this week.

The concert, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 11 in the auditorium of Prestonsburg Community College, will be representative of the wide repertoire of folk songs and mountain ballads that have made Miss Ritchie famous.

Jean Ritchie was born and raised a Viper, the youngest of 14 children born to Balis and Abigail Ritchie. According to local history, James Ritchie with five brothers came from Scotland in 1768 and, a few years later, James pioneered into the Appalachian wilderness and died near what is now the Carrs Fork of Troublesome Creek. His family settled there, one of the first in that region. In the succeeding generations, they and their neighbors continued to farm the hillsides, and to entertain themselves with play-parties, ballads and love plaints handed down from their Scottish Irish and English ancestors.

Changing times are catching up with the mountains, but folks still love the old songs. When Jean was growing up, it wasn't the new "hillbilly" music or the catchy tin-pan alley songs that were the favorites. It was "Barbry Ellen," "Over The River Charlie," "Sourwood Mountain," or "Lord Randal." People made up songs too, news accounts of local events-hangings, elections, ground-hog hunts, elopements, feuds-all meaningful, each a living part of the growth of a region.

Miss Ritchie was graduated from Viper High School, from Cumberland Junior College, and the University of Kentucky, with highest honors and a Phi Beta Kappa Key, taking her bachelor's degree in social work. Her first job in this field was with the Henry Street Settlement in New York City, where, with her mountain dulcimer which she had learned to play from her father, she taught her family songs and games to the children. Friends and Settlement visitors soon began inviting her to sing at parties and schools, then Alan Lomax recorded her songs for the Library of Congress Folksong Archives, and introduced her at Oxford Press. Her first book, Singing Family of the Cumberlands, published in 1955, was widely reviewed as an American classic, and is in print today. Many books have followed, and concerts, festival appearances, television, recording contracts and radio broadcasts have been natural outgrowths of her family music, and have taken her to many countries around the world. She is frequently consulted as a folklorist, and has often represented her country at international folklore conferences, at Expo in Canada, at the Cultural Olympics in Mexico, at the Folklife Festival in Washington, D.C.

tors of the Newport Folk Festival, and has recently served a three-year term on the first folklore panel of the National Endowment for the Arts. In the spring semester of 1979, she was a visiting professor of folklore at California State University at Fresno.

Honors and awards include the University of Kentucky Founders Day Award and a place in their Hall of Distinguished Alumni, the Burl Ives Award, the National 4-H Club Certificate of Honor. Her book, Celebration of Life, won a national prize upon publication. Her album, "None But One," received the Rolling Stone Critics Award as best folk album of the year, and a similar Melody Maker Award in England in

Miss Ritchie's performance here is presented by Hospice of Big Sandy and is endorsed by the McDowell Cancer

Floyd To Get $1000 For Juvenile Shelter

The Kentucky Justice Cabinet and the Kentucky Juvenile Justice Commission have announced the awarding of nearly $68,000 in federal grant funds to local Kentucky communities and non-profit agencies.

Floyd and eight other counties will receive $1000 each from the funds.

Justice Cabinet Secretary Norma C. Miller said of the grants, "The local communities will use these funds for emergency shelter care for juveniles who for one reason or another have run afoul of the law. Essentially, the money will be used to remove juveniles from jail and from association with hardened criminals.'

The largest single grant, $43,000, was awarded to Kentucky Youth Advocates, a Louisville area non-profit agency which works in the field of juvenile justice. The city of Bowling Green was awarded $4,000. Grants of $2,000 were awarded to Franklin, Clark and Harlan counties. Morgan, Shelby, Crittenden, Rowan, Metcalfe, Caldwell, Fulton Lewis, Carlisle, Boyle, Greenup, and Carroll counties each received grants of less than $1,000.

Floyd County Public Schools UNIFORM CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

(Seventh in a Series)

IN-SCHOOL SUSPENSION

Students who misbehave usually have academic difficulties, and removal from school almost inevitably adds to their academic problems. Sometimes expulsion or suspension is precisely what a delinquent student desires. Also, as the school loses contact with a student it loses its opportunity to work with him/her, and he/she may continue his/her misconduct in a way more dangerous to himself/herself and others.

The removal of a student from his/her class by the principal or principal's designee and assignment to a location in another room on the school premises during school hours for a period not to exceed five (5) days shall be considered in-school suspension. During the in-school suspension, the student shall be provided alternative educational opportunities, guidance services, and at all times be under proper

After due process procedures, a student may be assigned in-school suspension for the following

- Failure to follow school/class rules.
- 2. Unexcused tardiness to school or class.
- 3. Habitual truancy
- Non-attendance of class.
- 5. Failure to sign in-or-out-of-school.
- 6. Leave school premises without permission.
- 7. Deliberate disruptions.
- 8. Failure to follow directives.
- 9. Smoking on school grounds or buses.
- 10. Indecent language, written or spoken. 11. Misrepresentation of truth.
- 12. Fighting—students.
- 13. Impropriety in grooming-poor hygiene. E. PARENT/GUARDIAN CONFERENCE:

When a student's misbehavior continues despite repeated efforts to correct it by school personnel, the administrator shall call a conference to meet with the student, parents/guardians, and appropriate school staff. The administrator will schedule the conference in consultation with parents/guardians. If telephone or personal contact with the parent has not occurred, written notice of the conference shall be sent. A mutually acceptable method of conferring should be agreed upon if a conference at school or during school hours is not possible for the parent/guardian. If multiple violations occur at frequent intervals, a single conference to address these problems will be sufficient.

If the parent/guardian is unable to attend or chooses not to attend the scheduled conference, then the conference will take place in the absence of the parent/guardian, the administrator will report the conference results to him/her.

The purpose of the conference is to identify the source of the problem, to arrive at fair effective solutions, and to improve student behavior. During the conference, the student will be afforded the opportunity to describe the problems as he/she sees it, and to suggest actions that would resolve the problems. Parents/guardians and staff will be afforded the same opportunity. The student's academic and disciplinary records will be available for review during the conference. Strict courtesy will be observed at all times by all participants in the conference. A summary of the results of the conference will be recorded on the pupil's disciplinary referral form.

Floyd Man Among Last To See Storied Ship Before Its Sinking

Gordon Lightfoot sings of the watery grave of sailors and ship in The Wreck of the Edmund Fitzgerald, and makes a sad, beautiful tale. To many people that's as far as the story goes. For one Maytown native, however, the tragic story hits much closer to home.

Bob May, wheelsman on various ships on the Great Lakes for 33 years, was among the last people to see the Edmund Fitzgerald afloat that fateful day. November 10, 1975.

According to May, who was aboard the Arthur M. Anderson, an older ship of the same type as the Fitzgerald, the sailing was rough on Lake Superior that day. The gales of November had indeed come early and snow was pouring from the sky. The Anderson has set out Nov. 9 from Two Harbors, heading north. Around noon the next day, he said, they were near the north shore, when the Fitzgerald cut across their path, cruising, about 17 miles ahead of them.

Things seemed to be going on their normal course until, several hours later, the Anderson received a distress call from the Fitzgerald, which had been hit by a large wave. The captain of the Fitzgerald wasn't sure how badly the ship had been damaged, but he suspected the side tank was taking water.

May said the two ships stayed in radio contact throughout the evening, the Fitzgerald never showing great alarm at the situation. "All during the evening," he said, "they were giving position reports, we were having different types of conversation. The last conversation was about ten minutes before she went down.

May said the atmosphere was relatively calm on the bridge of the Anderson when the Captain radioed the Fitzgerald, asking "How're you doing?"

The reply came back, "We're holding our own. In another hour or so we'll be at Whitefish Point and we'll have it made." The Fitzgerald was nine miles from the Anderson. It was 7:10 p.m.

'At about 7:20, she disappeared from radar altogether," said May. He said tension mounted as they tried to raise the Fitzgerald, but still they refused to believe she had gone down.

"It quit snowing. We could see the lights of Whitefish Point, Coppermine Point, Canadian land. We knew there was something wrong, but there was no distress signal," May recalls.

May said the Coast Guard was notified, but they didn't believe the situation was serious at first, asking the Anderson, instead, to keep an eye out for a smaller craft they had been looking for.

Eventually, however, it became obvious something was amiss, and a search was made. The Edmund Fitzgerald, it was determined, had sunk, the victim of "an act of God." The 29 men on board were lost.

The sinking of the Fitzgerald has since been choronicled by Lightfoot, and more recently in book form in The Gales of November by Robert J. Hemming (1981,

May was mentioned several times in Hemming's book.

And the retired sailor has had other adventures as well. One time, he said, he was at the wheel when a Coast Guard cutter stopped dead in ice in front of his ship. With no way of stopping, his ship rammed the cutter, but in such a way that the boat didn't go down. "Any other time she would've sunk," he said. "We hit her in the stern and put a hole in her you could've drove a truck through, but they were able to contain it.

Another time, May said he was at the wheel, talking to the captain. They were the only two in the wheelhouse. The captain said to May, "This old girl's going too fast," and dropped dead, the victim of a heart attack. May said he radioed a distress signal, took the boat to Cleveland and got a new captain.

Before sailing the Great Lakes, May said he worked as a civilian for the U.S. Navy for several years after World War II, in the Military Sea Transport Service, taking sailors all over the world. He served in the Army during the war.

has returned home. Moreover, he doesn't much miss the seafaring life. "I'm just happy to be back in Floyd county, where we've got the best people in the world," he says.

But all that is behind him now, and he

Forum for Employers Scheduled, October 2

How can you keep unemployment insurance costs at a minimum? How can you reduce the cost of training new employees?

These and other employers' questions will be answered October 2, at a seminar sponsored by the Cabinet for Human Resources at the request of Kentucky employers. This informational session will be similar to those held during the past three years.

This year an hour-long legislative forum, sponsored by the Interim Joint Committee on Labor and Industry, has been added. It will provide employers with an opportunity to have personal input into the unemployment insurance legislative process.

Topics on the seminar agenda include employment compensation taxes, employer benefit charges, extended benefits, the hearing process, Job Service offerings, on-the-job training, Targeted Jobs Tax Credit and Job Training Partnership Act programs.

The seminar will begin at 8:30 a.m. EDT, at the Carriage House in Paintsville. The legislative forum is scheduled for 2 to 3 p.m. The remainder of the program will be devoted to a question and answer session.

The seminar is open to all interested employers and is free of charge.

LIBRA-Marriage dreams can come true if you're realistic (and eligible). Making unexpected changes without consulting the loved one won't be well received. Things will be confused tomorrow and you'll need to fight depression. Entertaining business acquaintances may be expensive this weekend, but you'll get your money's worth.

SCORPIO—A dreamy romance could change your whole life today. Something exciting is brewing in the community and you need to get involved. You will be dreaming of the "impossible" as far as your job is concerned-maybe you should look around. You've got the energy and ideas to handle anything.

Training Sessions Scheduled Here

As part of an ongoing effort to increase awareness of occupational safety and health requirements, the Kentucky Labor Cabinet's Division of Education and Training (E & T) will offer a series of training sessions in the Prestonsburg and Ashland areas, Oct. 1 through Oct. 11.

The training sessions, which are free and open to the public, will provide information about safety regulations that apply to a variety of work environments and circumstances, including office safety, fire protection, fork truck safety, manual lifting, excavation, and

'This educational effort is designed to bring members of Kentucky's labor and management communities together for the purpose of creating and maintaining a safe workplace," said Labor Cabinet Secretary John Calhoun Wells. "Both communites fully recognize that Kentucky's working men and women are our most valued natural resource. Their protection is our preservation.

Each training session will last four days with individual sessions lasting from two to four hours. The Prestonsburg session will be held at Jenny Wiley State Park, and the Ashland session at the Quality Inn. The schedule is as follows:

According to Douglas Peek, director of the Division of Education and Training, the focus of each session is geared to the needs of the area's dominant

Because both Prestonsburg and Ashland are manufacturing areas, we have developed training sessions designed to address safety standards for that particular work environment," said Peek

Sensitive Film Essay On Needs of Disabled

Within the past two decades, our society has vocally addressed nearly every aspect of the topic of human sexuality, with one exception: the sexuality of severely disabled people. "The Skin Horse," a sensitive and outspoken consideration of the emotional and sexual needs of the severely disabled, will be aired on KET Wednesday, October 16,

Narrated by Nabil Shaban, a seriously disabled actor who co-authored this one-hour documentary with producer/director Nigel Evans, the British film uses real life segments and film clips to dramatize the deeply-felt needs of such people for normal human warmth, including sex and love. The film takes its title from the classic children's story, The Velveteen Rabbit, about children, love, and commitment

A follow-up discussion of the film will be moderated by "Nightline" correspondent Betty Rollin, author of the bestselling First You Cray, a book about her mastectomy, and of the new book, Last

"The Skin Horse," which premiered in Great Britain in December, 1983, won the Royal Television Society's Original Programme Award in 1984. The film also has been commended by the U.S. President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped for its "powerful" and "frank" portrayal of disabled

'The Good Soldier' To Encore On KET

The two-hour film adaptation of Ford Madox Ford's "The Good Soldier" will encore on "Masterpiece Theatre" on KET. The play stars Robin Ellis and Jeremy Brett as John Dowell and Edward Ashburnham, and Vickery Turner and Susan Fleetwood as their respective spouses. It will be aired on KET Sunday, October 12, at 9:00 p.m.

Ford's novel deals with the shattering effects on two married couples of a man's consuming love for a younger woman. The two couples, one British and one American, meet each year at a German spa. On the surface, they're honorable and civilized but it's soon revealed the British husband, the "good soldier" of the title, is really a womanizer whose frequent phillandering rips apart the couples' lives.

Eventually the pieces of the story fall together, and the apparently pleasant aspects of the couples' nine summers at the spa are replaced by realityadultery, disloyalty, deceit, and

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 898-5003

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Transcontinental Coal Processing Inc., Branham Village, Route No. 2, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653, has filed an amendment to an application for a permit for a surface coal mining and reclamation operation (Haulroad only) of approximately 60.81 acres located one (1) mile north of Ivel, Kentucky in Floyd and Pike counties

The proposed operation is approximately (1) mile north from U.S. 23 junction with Ivy Creek Road and located (1) mile north of Levisa Fork. The latitude is 37° 36' 04", longitude 82° 38' 56". The surface area is owned by James Hatcher Estate, Law Heirs, Pam Wesley Harville, Denver Collins, and Astor Hunter.

The proposed operation is located on the Harold and Broad Bottom U.S.G.S. 712 minute quadrangle maps. The application also includes a proposed land change from the undeveloped forest land pre-mining land use. The operation will affect an area within 100 feet or a public road, Ivy Creek Road. The operation will not involve relocation of the public road.

The application had been filed for public inspection at the Department of Surface Mining Reclamation & Enforcement's Prestonsburg, Regional Office in Prestonsburg, Ky. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Dir. of the Div. of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. 9-18-3t.

PUBLIC NOTIFICATION

Bacteria MCL Exceeded The Mud Creek Water District hereby

gives notice that the maximum contaminant level for coliform bacteria was exceeded during its recent reporting period of July 1985 to the State's Division of Water. The test results for coliform bacteria (normally found in the intestinal tract of man or other warm blooded animals) indicate that some contamination had occurred. Coliform bacteria is not considered harmful, but its presence is a reliable indicator that harmful bacteria may have been present. If the presence of coliform bacteria would continue to occur, a boil water notice would be issued. Frequent testing is done to assure the quality of your drinking water.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF BLASTING SCHEDULE

Application No. 436-5153 Bailey Mining Company, HC 72, Box 195, Price, Ky. 41636, shall conduct blasting operation on its 228.39 acre.

Mining permit, application number 436-5153. Said operation is located approximately 1.5 miles East of Kentucky State Route 466 junction with Caleb Fork Road. Latitude 37° 19' 04", longitude 82° 42' 50". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by Collins Mayo Collieries.

Blasting will be conducted each day, Monday through Saturday from 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Any major alteration from the blasting schedule will be published. Unscheduled blasting may occur in emergency situations where lightening, rain, other atmospheric conditions or the safety of the operator or public requires unscheduled detonation.

Control of the blasting area will be maintained by blocking access roads to the blasting area ten (10) minutes prior to the blast. Post detonation access to the blasting area will be allowed only after an inspection and determination that no hazards exist.

A predetonation warning, consisting of three (3) long blast of air horn/siren will be given. After personnel are cleared from the area, two additional long blasts will be given two minutes before detonation of explosives. Just prior to detonation, one additional long blast of siren will be sounded. Personnel are to remain in clear area until a satisfactory postdetonation inspection of the blasting area has been made. A postdetonation all clear signal, consisting of a series of short blasts on the air horn/siren will be given. These signals will be audible over a minimum distance of one half mile.

The preceeding notice is published pursuant to Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Provisions and the regulations relating there to Kentucky Permit Number 436-5153. 9-18-3tpd.

SWINE

COPYRIGHT 1985 KVMA

Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association Many menus offer a delicacy described as "Baked Kentucky Ham" or "Country Fried Ham and Red Eye Gravy,' making an indirect reference to the traditional involvement of swine in the

Actually, swine are quite important to Kentucky's agricultural economy, forming a large segment of the meat packing industry and making a viable "cottage industry" for many small businessmen and farmers.

The veterinarian is an important link in this economic chain, as he is in many other livestock industries

Kentucky is listed as a state free of hog cholera and has been so designated since 1977. Prior to that the disease was often a nightmare for farmers who raised swine

Caused by Pestivirus, the disease was transmitted directed from animal to animal and resulted in deaths, abortions, stunted growth, stillbirths and death of baby pigs.

It is seriously endemic in most South American, African, Asian and some European countries, but has been eradicated from the United States-an important economic advantage.

This was done by careful control of herds and vaccination, coupled with use of the knowledge that recovered animals are immune and that immune sows pass the immunity to their offspring.

There are still important public health problems faced by the swine producer and his veterinarian, however.

One of them is trichinosis, which is transmitted to humans by eating improperly cooked pork. It also can be transmitted through the meat of the bear.

In swine, the disease causes gastroenteritis, then weight loss and low fever when it invades the muscles. It can result in permanent disabilities or death.

In man, the disease causes fever, cough and wheezing and sometimes lesions in the eyes.

It is usually self-limiting but not often fatal, and can be prevented by simply cooking all pork to a temperature of 170 degrees, which kills the organism which causes it.

In animals, prevention is the recommended treatment and again very simple: Do not feed wild animal carcasses to swine and do not feed raw garbage which may contain contaminated pork scraps. Some control of rodents also may be necessary.

Treatment in animals is mainly symptomatic and supportive, relieving pain while the disease limits itself.

Disease control, especially of diseases transmittable to humans, makes your veterinarian an important part of the food chain.

He also contributes greatly to the agricultural economy, because healthy livestock mean a better financial return to the producer than those which are ill or injured.

Today's veterinarians are trained in animal nutrition as well as diseases, adding even more to their value in the food production chain.

FM 88/90, the new broadcasting service from Eastern Kentucky University in the eastern Kentucky region, will offer several special broadcasts this fall.

FM 88/90, which represents the combined names of WEKU-FM at Richmond and WEKH in Hazard, began its joint operation in late August

"Our first few weeks have been relatively trouble-free," said Roger Sarow, station manager for FM 88/90.

We are still doing reliability testing of our equipment and are doing the final paper work to receive our permanent license from the FCC.

In addition to a smooth technical startup, the radio staff has also been pleased with the response from new listeners in Hazard, Hindman, Harlan and the surrounding region.

'We've received many post cards and telephone calls from people in the area who say they are hearing us and are enjoying what they hear. We really appreciate response from these people,' Sarow said.

The radio service plans three special musical events in September and October. Sarow said.

On Sept. 23, the station will broadcast a special "Morning Classics" program in conjunction with EKU's sixth annual Culture Festival featuring Western European music. The program will feature Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 21 in C, the slow movement of which is commonly known as the theme from the film "Elvira Madigan." The Culture Festival will run from Sept. 23 to Oct. 4 on the EKU campus in Richmond.

On Sunday Sept. 15 the station plans pecial music in honor of Rosh Hashana The montage-documentary will include readings and interviews as well as folk songs and poetry from around the world.

"We're confident that by mid-October a number of listeners in eastern Kentucky will be using and enjoying our radio service. We hope that they will consider joining our listener support group, the Friends of WEKH/WEKU-FM. We'll be starting our annual membership drive Oct. 17," Sarow said.

Listeners to FM 88/90 hear many local voices each day as the station runs through its non-commercial programming schedule. Among them are:

Loy Lee, the music coordinator and assistant station manager, hosts "Morning Classics," and "Potpourri of Classics," each day.

If The Horse Is A Slob, Blame It On Blackpatch

Blackpatch, a disease of red clover, has turned some of Kentucky's finest fillies into real slobs lately. To be more precise, they've become slobberers.

Red clover slobbers is believed to be a result of horses eating red clover infested with blackpatch, Rhizoctonia leguminicola. Blackpatch can be a serious concern to pasture managers, but the red clover slobbers are more of a nuisance than anything else to horse

Stephen Jackson, Extension horse nutrition specialist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, says horses with the slobbers need access to adequate water, but that no other special care is necessary.

Ken Evans, UK Extension forage specialist, said the slobbers are a result of farmers waiting too long between cuttings or grazings of their red clover.

"I've been in this business for 20 or 30 years and been asked a thousand times, What's the problem with second cutting red clover?' but I've never been asked, 'What's the problem with third cutting red clover?' You see, the people who're cutting it three times probably aren't having the problem, the blackpatch doesn't have time to develop," Evans

Many farmers have the impression that red clover must be allowed to go to seed before it is cut if the clover stand is to be maintained. Evans said stands cut seven times a year come back the next year as well as those cut only twice.

"Of course the yield is less on a sevencutting schedule. You ought to cut or graze red clover when flowers on it begin to appear, about three or four times a year when moisture permits,"

Even though red clover slobbers don't do any damage to horses it should be avoided, it's not doing them any good.

'Blackpatch infested red clover has lost a good deal of nutritional value. The nutrients have gone down and the fiber content has gone up, making the hay less palatable and digestible." Evans said.

In addition, the slobbering is caused by irritations in the mouth, a result of the blackpatch. The irritations can put horses off their feed, thus hampering their development.

U.S. 23 - North Mayo Trail Pikeville, Kentucky 41501 To Speak at Lodge

Lieutenant Governor Steve Beshear will be guest speaker at the Kentucky Human Services Association luncheon to be held Friday, Nov. 1, at May Lodge. He will address members of the organization from Districts 9, 10, and 11 and 12. Several area legislators have also been asked to attend the meeting.

The Nov. 1 meeting follow-up will be a meeting held in April at Prestonsburg Community College which addressed the need for legislation recommended by the Governor's Protective Services Commission, which was chaired by Beshear. At that time, plans were to introduce this proposed legislation to the 1986 General Assembly. It went, instead, before the special session called by Governor Collins and was approved by both Senate and House, with only two votes against it.

The Kentucky Human Services Association consists mainly of Caseworkers and Social Workers employed by the Cabinet for Human Resources but is open to any persons interested in Human Services. Bertha Daniels, President of District 11, said the luncheon will be open to the public and that tickets will be available by October 1st. Anyone interested in attending should contact her at 886-2792.

Glass Sprays Jail Fugitive On Mud Creek

Six children were sprayed with glass fragments Friday afternoon, when the rear-view mirror of a county school bus was shattered by a passing truck.

The incident occurred on the Mud Creek road shortly after 4 p.m., as the school bus was taking students home from the Betsy Layne and Stumbo schools.

Harry Clay, of Tackett Fork, driver of the bus, reported that he was traveling south, at the mouth of Dry Branch, when a flatbed truck traveling in the opposite direction struck the mirror, sending glass fragments through the open windows of the bus. The truck, suspected of belonging to a building supplies firm, did

The six youngsters were taken by their parents to the Mud Creek Clinic at Grethel. One, sent from there to Pikeville Methodist Hospital with a suspected concussion, was treated and released. Those remaining on the bus were taken home by another bus.

Pupils on Bus Held on Coast

A Prestonsburg man who fled the Floyd county jail August 18 has been apprehended in Santa Monica, Calif., and will soon be returned here, according to Police Chief Stan Fletcher.

William Arthur Burchett, 19, was arrested last week by Santa Monica police on transient charges, which Fletcher described as "just like loitering."

"Upon arrest, that police department screened Burchett through their computer and found our warrant," said Fletcher. "He was turned over to the Los Angeles county sheriff's department on Friday, and taken to Los Angeles county superior court for arraignment on our charges. We feel that he's waived extradition, but we haven't been notified

"We were prepared to extradite Mr. Burchett if he hadn't waived it. Circuit Judge Hollie Conley and Commonwealth's Attorney James Allen had commenced extradition procedures," Fletcher said. Burchett is charged with one count of second degree burglary, a class C felony, which carries a penalty of 5 to 10 years; one count of theft by unlawful taking and one count of knowingly receiving stolen property, each of which are class D felonies, carrying penalties of one to five years. The charges stem from the July 15 burglary of the home of George Masone, of the Porter Addition, according to Fletcher.

Burchett had been arrested here on those charges August 18 by city police officer Jeff Stumbo and auxiliary officer Greg Clark, who took him to the county jail, leaving him in the custody of assistant Jailer Larry Campbell.

Fletcher said Burchett made his escape after the officers left, while Campbell was "finishing up his paper work" on the suspect. A two-hour manhunt throughout the city followed before police gave up the chase.

Claim Housing Built On Shifting Ground

Two couples who bought townhouse apartments four years ago in a subdivision on Pinhook Branch at Harold accuse the developer of fraud in a lawsuit filed this week in Floyd Circuit Court.

Edward and Jane Tipton and Gary and Diana Ousley Stumbo claim in the suit that Morris Hylton, Jr. and High Value Homes, Ltd. told them when they purchased the units in the High View Manor subdivision that they were built on solid ground when the site allegedly is a landfill.

Settling of the earth has caused cracking in their walls, floors and ceilings, has collapsed a septic tank, and has also caused a landslide, complainants allege. They seek compensation, punitive damages and court costs.

(Claims made in filing a lawsuit give only one side of the issue in dispute).

FRASURE COUNTY COURT CLERK

Ron Frasure is qualified to be your County Court Clerk. He graduated from Prestonsburg High School and attended the University of Kentucky and has served the public for over 25 years as an HONEST busnessman.

He will make Floyd County an HONEST clerk.

The INTEGRITY of the office will never be questioned. Your valuable deeds and records will be safe with Ron Frasure as your clerk. There will be no alteration of any state document or transmittals. If any deputy clerk is charged of any wrongdoing, the clerk will be dismissed immediately and will be dealt with to the fullest extent of the law.

Your voting machines are the direct responsibility of your clerk and Ron Frasure will see to it that they are protected in a safe, locked area between each election.

He will have friendly, courteous people to help any person with looking up deeds or other documents—the clerk's office will be your office.

The clerk's office door will not be closed in your face at closing time. If you need the services of the clerk's office, and arrive late, Ron Frasure will be available after hours and on weekends in case of emergencies. Ron Frasure believes that there are two ways to look at excess fees. One is, are our people being unfairly charged? Two, maybe the County Court could be getting thousands more dollars than they have been getting.

Ron Frasure will find ways of speeding up the service so you won't have to stand in long lines wasting your valuable time.

A Vote For Ron Frasure Will Be A Vote For A Better Floyd County Clerk

Tons of Fish Lost in Kill On Johns Creek

Last week's fish-kill on Johns Creek, upstream from Dewey Lake, claimed an estimated two tons of fish and is believed to have killed everything over a 13-mile stretch of the stream.

So said Ed Carroll, fisheries biologist, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Monday morning, more than a week after a spillover of 4000 gallons from a Scott's Branch settling pond poured into the stream.

The biologist and his assistant, Jimmy Goble, said the figures released are preliminary. They must also be considered incomplete, because, they said, the fish count was made only from the mine site downstream to the mouth of Brushy Creek. Below that point the water is muddied by water from Brushy Creek, making a fish count difficult if not impossible. A drop in the water temperature into the 60s also slowed the appearance at the surface of dead fish.

Preliminary figures show that approximately 4000 pounds of fish were killed. In this toal were 1100 pounds of channel catfish, 350 pounds of black bass, plus bluegill, suckers, carp and other species.

Although mine owner, Pickands-Mather & Co., claimed that the chemical was non-toxic, fisheries personnel were not convinced this is true. Bill Crowell, assistant director of the fisheries division, Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, said minnows placed in a container holding the chemical after it had been cut 100 times (reduced to 1% strength) were dead within an hour.

"It may be non-toxic to humans, but to fish it is toxic," said biologist Carroll.

Unless an out-of-court settlement is reached, the Division of Fisheries is expected to go to court for reimbursement for the value of fish lost and other costs and also allege stream pollution, conviction for which could entail a fine of $500. The company also has been cited by the Division of Water. Conviction on that count carries a maximum $10,000

Stressing its claim that the spill was accidental, a coal company spokesman said a supplier placed the chemical in the wrong container.

It is believed that fish in Dewey Lake have not been affected.

Coach Charles "Chuke" Williams Big Red Machine picked apart yet another hapless foe last Friday as Estill County High felt the sting of the 'Cats' claws in as convincing a victory as Prestonsburg (now 5-0) has seen all year.

Forget the narrow escape against Belfry. Disregard the 34-0 wins over Boyd County and Paintsville. Try to overlook the forfeit by Johnson Central. All pale by comparison to the 77-12 mugging of the Estill Engineers.

In fact, the game became so lopsided that the third and forth quarters were each shortened to eight minutes by mutual agreement of Williams and Engineer Coach Kevin Seargent.

Prestonsburg's assault began early in the first quarter, as Shag Branham intercepted a William Hardy pass near the 17-yard line and carried for the touchdown. Brent Hackworth displayed his superb kicking skills, booting the extra point for 7-0 Blackcat lead at 11:31 of the opening stanza.

Less than two and half minutes later, at 9:09 of the first quarter, quarterback John Goble made up for an incomplete pass, running 38 yards for the score. Hackworth's kick was good, making the

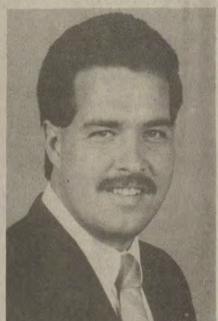

The 'Cats' next scoring drive, consisting of one play, a 57-yard run by B.D. Nunnery, came with 7:50 to go in the quarter. Along with Hackworth's extra point, Prestonsburg led 21-0. The domination continued as, less than three and a half minutes later, Wendell Burke scored on a 13-yard pass from Goble to cap a 33-yard, five-play Blackcat drive that sent the score to 27-0. Hackworth's kick made it 28-0.

Things were looking grim for the Engineers, and they became even grimmer as, with only forty seconds left in the quarter, the 'Cats capitalized on an interception, with Nunnery making his way into the end zone in a two-play, fiveyard run. Probably the only misfortune the Prestonsburg team suffered in the quarter came as Hackworth missed the extra point attempt, leaving the score at 34-0 as the clock ticked into the second

With three quarters left to play, Presonsburg had already matched its previous two performances against Boyd County and Paintsville. But were they content with that? No-o-ooo.

In the second quarter, Nunnery scored with a 53-yard run on a punt return at 10:42, upping the tally to 40-0. Hackworth again found his mark as his kick sailed through the uprights, raising the score to 41-0. Prestonsburg had now scored 109 unanswered points since Hackworth kicked the game-winning field goal in the closing seconds of the opener against

Named General Manager Of Francis Stores, Here

It was announced this week by H.C. "Huck" Francis, general manager of the Francis Stores, that Garry Vickers, of Prestonsburg, has been promoted to the position of assistant manager and men's buyer for the Francis Store in downtown Prestonsburg. He is replacing Hansel Cooley who resigned to go into real estate business.

Vickers has been with the Francis Stores for 10 years and has been manager of the Francis Denimland where he will continue as well as at the department store. He attended Eastern Kentucky University and is a graduate of the Small Business Management course of the University of Kentucky. He is married to Helen Ann Francis

Vickers. They have two children, Shad and Sarah, and a dog, Amazing Grace. Vickers is a member and deacon of the First Baptist Church, of Prestons-burg, and past president of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club. E.B. May will continue as manager of the Francis Shoe Store.

STRUTTING THEIR STUFF...all competitors in the Mountain Heritage Bodybuilding Championships pose together before Saturday night's contest. Prestonsburg's Randy Burruss (center stage) displays the form that would later earn him awards in two divisions.

Floyd county muscle men Rob Shepherd and Randy Burruss each brought home trophies from Whitesburg's Mountain Heritage bodybuilding contest Saturday night, as did Virgie's Rick Newsome and Jay Parsons. All were sponsored by the Body Perfection Fitness Center of Prestons-

The contest was divided into a Men's Open Novice division, for competitors who had never won a sanctioned tournament; a Women's Open; a Men's Open, broken into light, middle and light heavyweight divisions; and an overall championship pitting the men's division winners agains one another. A planned heavyweight contest was scrapped, as no one signed up for the division.

Nine athletes of varying weights competed in the Men's Open Novice category, competing in the standard judging elements of pre-judging, compulsory and freestyle posing. Many conestants in this event also competed later, in the weight-divided categories.

took top honors, while Shepherd, of David, placed fourth and Prestonsburg's Burruss, fifth. Second and third went to Everts native Adrian Turner and Larry N. Brown, of Whitesburg, respectively

The Women's Open came next. Competing in the same categories as the men, Kathy Johnson, of Big Stone Gap, Va., was awarded top honors, as Rita Blackburn and Denise Ratliff, both of Pikeville, and Sandra Rhodes, of Corbin, finished second through fourth.

In the Men's Open, the lightweights opened the show with Terry Newsome, of Virgie, taking first place; Shepherd, second, and Tom Kinser, of Lexington, third. The middleweight division was next, with Rick Newsome flexing his way to first. Astor Halcum, of Whitesburg, placed second, while Parsons earned the third spot. Rounding out that section of the program, the light heavyweights took the stage, with Brown, Lee Martin, of Pennington Gap, Va., and Burruss finishing one, two,

SCHOOL BELLS TO PEAL HERE

ed to Enroll in City Schools

FOOTBALL UNCERTAIN

School bells will toll Monday morning for probably more than 600 boys graded schools here this year.

With last year's school work here behind him, which was a real achieves ment, Prof. Currey hopes to make this school year an even more successful one. The attendance in all the Prestonsburg schools last year totaled more than 500. Of this number 121 were enrolled in high school, but only 100 actually belonged to the school. With w possible attendance of 100, the average attendance was 99 7-10-a mark which sets or comes near to setting a record for attendance.

Owing to the belated opening of the school this year, it is not certain that Prestonsburg High School will have 'a football team this season, Prof. Currey said this week. Difficulty in arranging a schedule at this late date leaves football in doubt for the year, he said.

Other athletics will, however, have the opportunity of reaching a high teachers. mark never before set by the Prestonsburg school. For the first time, a baswith a competent coach, Prof. Howard for the first month of their services. B. Allison, a member of the faculty.

John Waite's latest video is nice, but forgettable

By Barton Weiss

John Waite's new clip, "Every Step of the Way, starts with the familiar girlcomes-into-the-rehearsal shot, but it picks up as it illustrates the love story with live shots that have been frozen into a series of still frames (hand painted to bring out the pastels) that move the story along in a step-like fashion. The only thing that manages to move in real time is a cat, who walks across a table as the still frames shift in the background.

John Waite

It's a nice clip, but it's also forgettable. For an encore

"Don't Come Around Here No More" estab-lished Tom Petty as a great video performer, and like all great video performers he has felt the need to prove that he can "do it live."

The good news is that he really can. His new clip, "Rebels," is powerful and exciting.

What's the point?

"So in Love" from OMD
(Orchestral Maneuvers in the Dark) shows the band driving around aimlessly in a car, acting like there's a reason for the journey.
It almost looks like OMD said to its director: "We want to be a big as Tears for Fears. Make us a clip just like their 'Everybody Wants to Rule the World." New talent

RCA records recently gave three New York University students $15,000 each to make RCA videos.

"Home of the Brave" by The Nails, directed by Jason Branderberg, is the best of the trio. It features a series of tracking shots in a sleazy bar and uses the old dotted-white highway shot inventively. Tunes on your TV

Tunes on your TV
The highlight of the week is an original MTV production, "Punks and Poseur," which journeys through the LA underground. It will air Sunday, Sept. 29. The Dickies and CPL will perform but the GBH will perform, but the real focus of this docu-mentary, not rockumen-tary, is the street people. On Saturday, Oct. 5, "Night Flight" will show "Ladies and Gentlemen: The Fabulous Stains," rock 'n' roll fable starring Diane Lane and featuring cameos by members of the Sex Pistols, the Clash, and the Tubes.

MURDER: BY REA-SON OF INSANITY

Ewa Berwid (Candice Bergen) is terrified that her mentally troubled husband, Adam (Jurgen Prochnow), is going to kill her in "Murder: By Reason of Insanity." It airs on the "CBS Tuesday Night Movie," TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1.

By J.T. YURKO

The entire cast and set of the Broadway play-"Agnes of God" consisted of three women, two chairs, a wood backdrop with a sloping ramp, and an ashtray. The women included a young novitiate who has just given birth to a baby in a convent, a chain-smoking psychiatrist sent to interview her and the mother superior who is certainly the well-bred doctor's equal in savvy.

Theatrically, it was the barest of essentials, but it worked magnificently.

Norman Jewison, who helmed the film version, is no stranger to turning Broadway plays into films — witness his highly praised "A Soldier's Story" of last year. As he did with "A Soldier's Story," Jewison went to the play-wright, in this case John Pielmeier, to turn the play into a filmscript. Opening up a piece so concerned with interiors of the convent, of the soul, of the mind — can rob it of its in-

But Jewison and Pielmeier have managed to stick to the core of the tale without mak-ing the additional characters and settings look like extrane ous bits of continuity. The real action still takes place in the minds of each of the three characters, and Jewison's visuals, from the religious symbols of doves to the contrasting scene of another novitiate happily accepting her vows, builds nicely on Pielmeier's foundation.

With performers like Jane Fonda, Anne Bancroft and Meg Tilly on hand, the power of that foundation is considerable. Miss Bancroft plays the mother superior. For her, God is the answer — the only answer. Miss Fonda provides the counterpoint. Hers is a down-to-earth world of see-ing-is-believing. She's an em-piricist actively trying to lose a faith she finds flawed.

Meg Tilly is the third corner of this triangle — an impres-sionable innocent who suffers the ways of the world and es capes them with heavenly hopes. She is the battleground on which Fonda and Bancroft's ideals clash, and she's the one who suffers the effects. But none of the women are unaltered by the

NORMAL AMONG THE ELDERLY

The number 98.6 is indelibly etched in most people's minds as one's "normal" temperature in degrees Fahrenheit. However, there was a recent study at the University of New Mexico's College of Nursing. Its purpose was to determine the normal temperature among a group of healthy adults between the ages of 65 and 90. The study revealed an average temperature of 97.7 degrees, substantially below the old standby norm of 98.6. It is important for elders to realize that they have lower body temperatures than the general population. A temperature elevation to 98.6 or above, particularly in those over 75, should raise suspicion of fever. It should prompt a search for the underlying cause.

Pharmacists at COOLEY APOTHECARY look forward to meeting the complete pharmaceutical needs of every member of your family...from the newborn baby to Grandma and Grandpa. Everyday low prices are available on prescriptions and our pharmacists are pledged to further and maintain the highest ethical standards of the pharmaceutical industry. ### Weather Aids Fall Harvest Milder, drier weather during the second week of September gave farmers across the state good opportunities for outdoor work.

"The temperature cooled off from the 90-plus weather we'd been experiencing, and rain was spotty," said Agriculture Commissioner David E. Boswell. "Farmers were able to spend nearly six working days in their fields. Most were busy cutting and housing tobacco, harvesting corn for silage and grain, and harvesting hay.'

Soil moisture across the Commonwealth was rated 16 percent short, 78 percent adequate and 6 percent surplus, according to reporters for the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Most of the surplus ratings were in the Purchase area where up to eight inches of rain fell on Sept. 5. The short soil moisture readings were reported in Northern Kentucky and portions of the Bluegrass area.

Burley cutting is now 81 percent complete, compared with 70 percent at this time last year and the five-year average of 67 percent. Seventy-seven percent of the dark types of tobacco have been cut, compared to 61 percent at this time last year and 66 percent for the average.

Houseburn was reported by more than half of the reporters, but it was not considered a severe problem in any area.

Corn for grain harvest was speeded up last week as moisture levels dropped. Harvest for the state was 13 percent complete as of Sept. 15, compared with 6 percent at this time last year and 8 percent for the average. Early yields are

With 67 percent of the crop now mature, grain harvest will be going on this week, weather permitting. Corn maturity progress this year compares with 51 percent at this time last year and 55 percent for the average.

The soybean crop is in mostly good to excellent condition. As of Sept. 15, 20 percent of the crop was in the shedding leaves or beyond stage of maturity. This compares with 18 percent last year and the five-year average of 20 percent.

More than half the state's soybean acreage has entirely green leaves. Less than a percentage point of soybean harvesting has been done across the Commonwealth.

Some grain sorghum fields have been

Small grains were being seeded last week as cover crops on tobacco ground. Hay crops have been satisfactory this year, and pastures are rated mostly good to excellent.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of mother, Rissie Shores, who passed away September 14, 1981. Sleep my dear mother

You are now at rest; God called you home And he knew best; Dear mother I think of how Well you are; All troubles are over No more pain to bear; We have memories of your Kindness and your loving way, And our many happy days; Some wonderful day mother I'll see you in the sky, And with outstretched arms There will be no more good byes.

Missed so very much YOUR FAMILY

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ella Robinson, who passed away August 18, 1985. You cannot say, you must not say That she is dead. She is just away! With a cheery smile

And a wave of the hand She has wandered into an unknown land And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be,

Since she lingers there; So think of her faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of here. Think of her still As the same, and say

She is not dead, she is just away.

Sadly missed by her family.

Registered Nurses The family of Curtis Banks would like Seek To Establish to express their appreciation and thanks Education Program to all of those for their kindness and

A meeting was held Sept. 10 at Pikeville to establish in the Big Sandy area a B.S.N. program.

Morehead State University, which has been designated the regional institution for the Big Sandy area, will provide an outreach program of courses for a B.S.N. degree. One of the main issues that arose at the meeting was the fact that the nurses in the Big Sandy area do not want to enter the 1990's without the availability and affordability of a B.S.N. program.

When the program is organized in the area, registered nurses will be able to pursue degrees without having to leave their families or move to another part of the state to do so.

It was also decided that Morehead State University, the State Board of Nursing and the Council on Higher Education be contacted to have a representative meet soon with all interested registered nurses.

Registered nurses interested in pursuing a B.S.N. at a reasonable cost and location should call 478-9155 or 432-3990.

New Faculty Member at PCC

Pictured are Dr. Alice Adams with two of her freshmen English 101 students, Mrs. Teresa Owens, wife of Perry Owens, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Appleton, of Pikeville, and Tim Newsome, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Newsome, of McDowell.

Dr. Adams joined the faculty of Prestonsburg Community College this fall from the University of California at Fresno. Her Ph.D. in English is from Georgia State University, as is her M.A., while her B.A. is from the University of Florida where she was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate. Dr. Adams has not only taught composition, literature and developmental studies, she has also been a newspaper reporter and a social worker. In November Dr. Adams will chair the Teaching of Composition Division meeting for the Rocky Mountain

Dr. Adams, who lives in Prestonsburg with her husband, the Rev. Hugh Adams, a retired Episcopal minister and former vocational rehabilitation counselor, has already become involved in the community. She will be the sponsor of the newly formed Parents Anonymous group affiliated with the PCC Continuing Education Department. She also hopes to work with the local National Council of Teachers of English Society and the International Reading

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Florence Hall, would like to thank the ones who shared their love and kindness toward us in our time of grief upon the passing of our mother. We especially thank those who bought food and flowers for their love and kindness, the Hall Funeral Home for their kind words and support, Brother James H. Harmon, Brother Benny Blankenship and Brother Tommy Spears, the Betsy Layne Church of Christ and Harold Church of Christ and Harold Church of Christ singers, for the kind words and their love and prayers they showed toward us in our time of need.

Thank you God for giving us good

THE HALL FAMILY

IN APPRECIATION Mountain Manor Nursing Home wishes to thank all those who recently helped to make our rummage sale such a big success. Thanks go out to all who donated items for the sale, worked in the sale, and stopped in. Money raised will help to make a Merry Christmas for the residents of Mountain Manor
