

Turnout May Hang On Council Races

Few Tight Contests In 'Mild' Election Predicted Tuesday

Next Tuesday's general election has for its voter attraction, in addition to the usual jousting between Democratic and Republican candidates, two issues that are marked non-partisan.

One of them is the non-partisan race for Judge of the District Court between Ned B. Pillersdorf and the incumbent, Harold James Stumbo. The other poses the question, "Are you for or against having a Fiscal Court composed of three commissioners and the County Judge/Executive?"

Republicans are centering their opposition to the usual Democratic dominance at the polls in only two of the eight countywide races to be decided. In these two Larry Milford Leslie opposes the Democratic incumbent, John M. Stumbo, for County Judge/Executive, and Ronald Frasure seeks a win over his Democratic opponent, Carla "Robin-son" Boyd, incumbent, for County Clerk.

Democratic candidates in all other countywide races are without opposition. They are: Lovel Hall for Property Valuation Administrator, David A Barber for County Attorney, Henry C. Hale for Sheriff, Lawrence Hale for Jailer, Roger Nelson for Coroner and James Lafferty for County Surveyor.

Both parties are represented in all four district races for Magistrate. The lineup in these follows (Republican candidates are listed first as they will appear on the ballot):

District 1—Gorman Collins, Jr. (R) vs. Gerald DeRossett (D), incumbent; District 2—William E. Flannery (R) vs. Jackie Edford Owens (D) and Birchell Duff, Independent; District 3—Curtis Hall (R) vs. Edward Caudill (D), incumbent; District 4—Rofolo Newsom (R) vs. Eral Tackett (D).

Democratic nominees for Constable in all four magisterial districts are without opposition. They are: Morgan Joseph in Dist. 1; Roger Dale Conley, Dist. 2; Buddy Bryant, Dist. 3; Paul Stilton, Dist. 4.

Generally speaking, the election campaign has been on the mild side and some candidates have been concerned that a slim voter turnout could result. But five city races—in Prestonsburg, Allen, Martin, Wheelwright and Wayland—could afford some of the local interest needed. Candidates in these races are listed here in the order in which they will appear on the ballot:

PRESTONSBURG: For Mayor—Harry W. Short, Ann Latta; for City Council (vote for 8)—Bobby Ranier, Robert G. Carpenter, Harry Ray Porter, Harold A. Baldridge, Ashland Joseph, Gary D. Brown, Burl C. Shepherd, Frank A. Adams, Chuck B. Akers, (See Story No. 8, Page 4)

Knott Girl, 15, and Sweetheart Plead Guilt in Mother's Death

Plea-bargaining ended the trial in Knott Circuit Court Tuesday morning of 15-year-old Cassandra Slone and her boy-friend, Gerald Scott Ritchie, 20, charged with the murder of the girl's mother, Phyllis Slone, 38, whose body was found in the Big Sandy River, near here, last Sept. 28.

The two had been indicted on capital murder charges which could have carried the death sentence, if convicted. Both reportedly had made statements confessing guilt.

They were accused of strangling the girl's mother at her Hindman home after a quarrel relating to their plans to marry. The body of the mother, who was pregnant at the time of death, was then transported by auto to this county and thrown into the river in the vicinity of the Highlands Medical Center, near here.

IF YOU'RE LOOKING FOR A PUPPY, consider these. They are awaiting adoption at the East Kentucky Animal Shelter, near here, and there are several more from which to choose.

Prisoner Named After Jail Fire

A Wayland man being held in the county jail on theft and forgery charges faces an array of additional charges as a result of warrants sworn out this week in Floyd district court.

Most of the new charges stem from an incident in the jail Saturday afternoon, when Edward Collins, 24, allegedly set fire to bedding in the cell where he was being held alone.

The fire, which investigators said produced a large volume of toxic smoke, was extinguished by deputy jailer Don Hall, who is also a volunteer with the Prestonsburg fire department.

Other inmates were said to have been moved to another section of the jail until the fire could be put out. Collins was taken to Highlands Regional Medical Center for examination but was found to be uninjured.

Pike Judge Dismisses Case Against Samons

A theft charge against District 4 Magistrate Lowell Samons was thrown out Tuesday by Special Judge Will T. Scott in Pike Circuit Court.

But Samons' attorney said the dismissal cannot undo the damage to his client's reputation or alter the fact that the charge almost certainly cost him his seat on the Floyd fiscal court.

The Prater Creek magistrate was one of 16 persons indicted last December following a state police investigation into the county's financial practices in 1982. While he insisted from the outset that he was innocent of the theft count for which he was indicted, and offered to take a lie detector test to establish his credibility, the indictment was still pending at the time of the May primary, which Samons lost to Eral Tackett, of Mud Creek.

"I don't have any problem with the state police investigating public officials," Rep. Gregory Stumbo, Samons' attorney, said from his Frankfort office Tuesday, "but I thought it very unusual that no investigator ever questioned Lowell before seeking this indictment. If anyone had questioned him, there would have been no indictment."

Official Talks Tax Needs...

Full-Value Assessment Needs State-Level Help

While there are reforms needed in the way property taxes are collected here, most of them depend on action in Frankfort, Floyd Property Valuation Administrator Lovel Hall said last week.

Hall was responding to criticism that surfaced again last week at a hearing on a proposed increase in the school tax rate. Some who said they favored the increase in principle added that they were unwilling to pay higher taxes as long as wide variations exist in the assessments of properties of equal market value.

Questions have also focused on the range of properties exempt from taxes and on the record of county officials in collecting delinquent taxes.

"I'm for the schools having more money," Charles Collins, of Middle Creek, said at a hearing on the school tax last Wednesday, "but, until everyone is paying taxes on the real value of their property, I'm not for the tax increase. Otherwise, the only ones who pay are the 20 percent who pay on their real value."

In an interview Thursday, Hall agreed that many properties are under-assessed but said that remedies must come from action at the state level. One proposal, which the state PVA Association is trying to persuade the Kentucky Bar Association to adopt, would require attorneys handling property transfers to list the actual market value of the properties when they file deeds with the county clerk.

School Tax Boost Chances Uncertain

This Town...That World

I was maybe a bit too ecstatic about the color of the leaves. But I got over that when it fell my lot to do a bit of raking.

JEREMIAH

Things have come to a very sorry pass, indeed. Time was when I talked one of the best games around when it came to fishing, and the usual greeting from acquaintances was not to inquire after the state of my health but to ask how the fishing was, and any angler who had had a bit of luck rushed, breathless, into this office to show me his catch. But now they bring me fish, all cleaned and ready for the skillet. Time marches on, and I'm somewhere back there. Picking at a backlash.

SILENT CAL

Haven't changed my political affiliations but have decided that I may have a closer affinity with Silent Cal Coolidge than any President of my time.

Not that his record was that brilliant or that his personality had the charm of an Eisenhower or a Kennedy or Reagan. But this New Englander was smart enough not to rock the boat and also had the unusual ability of keeping his mouth shut.

Even when he faced the camera, Coolidge kept the mouth tight. And that, I maintain, is no mean accomplishment. By modern standards it amounts to super-human self-control. Maybe supreme self-denial. I refer to what the camera records, these days, any time a (See Story No. 2, Page 4)

Public Response At Martin Meet Hints Opposition

The fate of a proposed school tax increase seems uncertain following a public hearing on the proposal last Wednesday, at which even sympathetic observers charge that school authorities were making the little effort to "sell" the tax hike.

In a sparsely-attended meeting in the Martin grade school gymnasium, most of the eight persons who commented on the planned 28-cent rate said they opposed it, for reasons that ranged from alleged waste in current school operations to inequities in the tax system.

But some who said they were inclined to support the increase chided the school board and Acting Superintendent Ray Brackett for not spelling out in detail what citizens could expect for the additional revenue that could be collected—reckoned at about $340,000—by the board's adopting the highest lawful tax rate.

Brackett, who praised board members for their "courage" in voting earlier this month for the top rate and who pledged to tell voters what they would be getting for their money, acknowledged in an interview Thursday that he had delivered on his promise.

"That is a valid criticism," said the superintendent, who suggested that he would make a more persuasive case for the tax hike if, as seems likely, the question is put to the voters in the form of a referendum.

Despite the new administration's effort to put the past behind them, memories of the administration of E.P. "Pete" Grigsby, Jr. and of the embarrassing state investigations that finally forced Grigsby from the top office were still vivid among speakers at Wednesday's hearing.

John Sparr, of Prestonsburg, told board members that allegations made over the last several years had so soured public opinion that "I cannot see how you can function effectively as a board." And Everett Akers, of Martin, pointed out that, even though he is no longer superintendent, Grigsby is still drawing the same $44,973 salary he received while in office.

"You get $17 million in Floyd county to run the schools. You've got to cut the waste," said Akers, who, even before the meeting had dispersed, was passing out petitions to get the tax on the ballot.

For Charles Collins, of Middle Creek, the proposed tax hike might be acceptable if all property owners carried their fair share of the load. "What sticks in my mind when there is talk of a property tax increase," he said, "are those who are not paying taxes or who are paying on only a twentieth of the value of their property."

Rebecca Abner, of Prater Creek, spoke in favor of the tax increase, saying she had recently seen changes for the better in the administration of Floyd (See Story No. 7, Page 4) administered by state police in Frankfort, Samons "passed with flying colors," his lawyer said.

Commenting on the injury he said had been inflicted on his client, Stumbo said "prosecutors should be aware that it is the indictment, not the trial, that does the damage."

Broadform Law Validity Argued

The interpretation of broadform deeds was at issue before the state Supreme Court last Wednesday, when two cases—one of them brought by a Floyd resident—were argued by lawyers for landowners on the one side and coal companies on the other.

At stake in the argument is a law passed by the General Assembly in 1984, which greatly limited the prerogatives of mineral owners under the notorious turn-of-the-century deeds.

That bill held that coal operators could not presume a right to stripmine by virtue of broadform deeds, since that method of mining was not what the parties had in mind when the deeds were signed. It ran counter to Supreme Court decisions which have held since 1956 that the deeds give mineral owners the right to remove coal by any means without paying damages to the landowners.

Retired Supreme Court Justice John Palmore, representing six coal companies involved in one of the cases, relied on the earlier decisions, noting that, on the strength of them, millions of dollars have been invested by the coal industry in eastern Kentucky.

But Supreme Court Justice James B. Stephenson has previously argued that the landmark 1956 ruling was "an aberration in the law of minerals" and should be overruled.

Wednesday's hearing involved two cases that have been consolidated. Plaintiffs in one of the cases are five eastern Kentucky landowners, including Everett Akers, of Martin.

They won a temporary injunction from U.S. District Judge William O. (See Story No. 9, Page 4)

Firms May Use Bond Issue To Dodge Property Taxes

It promised to improve the life of the community. It cost a million to build and was financed by a long-term loan. It pays no local property taxes. Your local church, right?

Wrong. It's the Brandeis Machinery Company plant on Mare Creek.

What's more, there are five Floyd properties like it, all financed within the last three years, that will bring to more than $18 million the value of new properties that could apparently slip through the tax collector's fingers.

They are not churches. They are a private law office, a bank, a motel, and two coal tipples.

What they have in common is that they were all financed, at least in part, with industrial revenue bonds. Those are bonds that are floated on behalf of a developer by a unit of local government—a county or city—and that have a built-in tax break for the investors who buy them.

The idea behind them is that local government can induce a big employer to build a plant in the county or city by offering the developer a chance to get cheaper financing. The investor gets a break; the developer cuts costs; the county gets an industry and needed jobs.

Typically, one of the big selling points for local government is that floating an industrial bond issue won't cost them anything. It is the developer, not the local government, who bears the risk of default on the bonds.

What is not usually spelled out—and what some county officials were surprised to learn this week—is that properties so financed may not be liable to pay local property taxes at least for the life of the bonds—typically, 25 years—and maybe longer.

That was an issue that surfaced (See Story No. 1, Page 4)

★ ★ ★ NED PILLERSDORF ★ ★ ★ DISTRICT JUDGE

Ned Pillersdorf

Dear Friends:

Over the past months, Janet and I have traveled the roads of Floyd County and listened to many of our fellow citizens.

You have told us, what Floyd County needs, is a District Judge who will treat all the people fairly, and that there should be no such thing as a "Double Standard" in deciding cases.

You have also made it clear, that the citizens of Floyd County want all the laws enforced, including the drunk driving laws.

As your District Judge, there will be no double standard; and all the laws, including the drunk driving laws, will be enforced.

Thank you for your support.

The Court Question

When The Floyd County Times endorsed the idea of changing the makeup of the Floyd Fiscal Court from four magistrates and the judge-executive to three commissioners and the judge, it did so with no thought of either helping or hurting any individual but in the hope that many would be helped.

If the voters endorse—as we hope they will—the change to commissioners, that change will not become effective until the end of the four-year terms of those who will be elected next Tuesday. Nobody will be robbed of his or her office.

The commission form of government will not be perfect, of course, but we believe it will be an improvement over the magisterial system on at least two important points:

1. There will be one less court member to pay, and that alone could mean a saving of more than $100,000 in a four-year period. The salaries of magistrates in this county are plainly exorbitant ($25,704 each, including the $3600-a-year expense account, or a total of $102,816 a year for the four magistrates). It would be hoped that salaries will be reduced with the change to commissioners, but, even if no such pay cut is made, there'll be only three—not four—to pay, and that would mean a saving of $25,704 per year.

2. Commissioners, elected by countywide vote, would be answerable to the entire county for their official acts and policies and may reasonably be expected to consider the "common welfare," not merely the welfare of their own limited districts.

At any rate, the decision to change or not to change is that of the voters to make next Tuesday. Don't neglect this question when you go the polls—and please go.

politician—or just about any plain Joe—faces the camera. The result is not a mere smile or a controlled grin but a jaw-dislocating facial contortion that exposes every tooth back to the second molar. On both sides.

Cal Coolidge apparently "froze" when they pointed a camera at him. I recall a published photo showing him with a trout which he presumably had caught. It was a dead heat between the President and the fish in registering their enjoyment of the occasion.

And when his party wanted him for a candidate again his reply included none of the usual hemming and hawing—for example, "at this time I am not a candidate, but..." or "I prefer to return to private life; however..." and so on. He simply said, "I do not choose to run." And didn't smile when he said it.

Warrants sworn out Monday by city arson investigator Larry Adams charge Collins with 39 counts of arson, Adams explaining that 39 persons—31 inmates, three staff members, and five visitors—were in the jail area when the fire broke out.

Charges of wanton endangerment and criminal mischief were pressed by Deputy Jailer Hall, who said Collins had risked injuring and even killing inmates and staff.

Herman Bright, who is serving a four-year term for uttering forged prescriptions, also filed a wanton endangerment charge against Collins.

Bright was not the only inmate to bring a charge this week against his fellow prisoner. In an incident unrelated to Saturday's fire, John Wayne Chambers, 19, of Teaberry, accused Collins of two counts of sodomy. Chambers, who is awaiting trial on a burglary charge, said Collins "forced him to engage in deviant sexual intercourse" in the jail on October 24 and 25.

Collins reportedly tried to hang himself in his cell by using a shoe lace, about two months ago, but was rescued by jail officials after another inmate alerted them.

Mrs. Slone was strangled with a belt. Police claimed her 13-year-old son was struck with a stick wielded by Ritchie and that the girl continued strangling her mother while her boy-friend was striking her brother.

Jerry Patton, Prestonsburg attorney, represented Miss Slone. Ritchie's counsel was Ned Pillersdorf, also of Prestonsburg.

here as early as 1974, when Brandeis, a Louisville firm, wanted to build a plant here to capitalize on the booming coal industry. The company asked Floyd fiscal court to float a $1 million bond issue to finance the project and was turned down. Instead, the tiny city of Allen was persuaded to sponsor the bonds.

Allen Mayor Obie Crisp said Tuesday that the city agreed to sponsor the bond issue—and a later $225,000 issue—on the understanding that Brandeis would give Allen residents preference in hiring. "But that's a lot of bull—," he said.

Brandeis pays no property tax on its Mare Creek plant, according to Floyd Property Valuation Administrator Lovel Hall, because it is not listed as taxable property. Taking the worth of the property as $1.25 million, the exemption represents a savings to Brandeis—and a revenue loss to the county—of $7775 a year at the current tax rate.

Moreover, the other five firms financed by industrial revenue bonds may not be liable for local property taxes either, Hall said, in which case the potential revenue loss to the county is $114,137 a year.

The five projects recently financed through revenue bonds floated by Floyd fiscal court are the Combs and Combs law office on North Lake Drive, which was approved in 1982 for a $400,000 bond issue; the First Commonwealth Bank building now under construction on Arnold Avenue, approved last year for $6.5 million in bonds; the Diamond Coal Company, which financed its Transcontinental Coal Processing Plant at Ivel with a $4 million issue approved in 1984; the Blackhawk Mining Company, which is building a $2.2 million coal-loading facility at Lancer, and the $4 million Holiday Inn now under construction on Katy Friend, both bond issues approved this year.

The three projects still under construction are not yet listed on the tax rolls here. The Transcontinental processing plant, which has reportedly changed ownership at least once since the bond issue was floated, is listed as a fully taxable property, according to the property valuation administrator. The Combs law building is also listed but owner Paul Combs has indicated his intention of applying for an exemption under the law governing revenue-bond financing, the tax assessor said.

There is apparently no legal reason that Combs and the other developers should not be granted a property tax exemption, Hall said.

"Your PVA is correct," said Scott Akers, a spokesman for the state Revenue Cabinet when asked for an opinion Monday. The reason, he explained, is that, in floating a bond issue on behalf of a developer, the unit of local government frequently acts as a holding agent, retaining title to the property at least through the life of the bonds.

As a means of avoiding property taxes, in other words, a developer may set up a long-term lease arrangement with the city or county. As nominal owner of the property, the local government unit is then liable to pay only a modest state use tax on it—currently 1.5 cents per $100, or $150 annually on a $1 million property.

That is what Brandeis is paying on its Mare Creek property, although the reason remains unclear. Mayor Crisp said that the city of Allen holds no title to the property and has entered into no leasehold agreement with the company. Brandeis manager David Baker was out of town Tuesday and efforts to get an explanation from the company's Louisville office were unavailing.

County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. confirmed that, under state law, properties owned and financed by local government are not subject to real property tax but only to the lesser "tax for state purposes."

But even if a unit of government finances a building by floating a revenue bond issue, he said, it does not automatically assume even a nominal ownership interest in the property, although it may do so if it so desires.

In none of the five recent bond issues does the county hold title to the properties, which therefore are not exempt from local real estate taxes, Turner said. For that reason, he would oppose any attempt by the developers to receive tax-exempt status, he said.

County Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo confirmed that the county does not hold title to any of the five properties.

In some instances, the fiscal court both finances and takes temporary title to a building, Stumbo said, the new Betsy Layne High School building being a case in point. On behalf of the Board of Education, the fiscal court floated a bond issue for the new school and will retain title to it until the bonds are retired, he said.

But the court entered no such arrangement with developers of the private bond-financed projects, he said.

Tax Commissioner Hall said Tuesday that the tax status of the five recent projects would be reviewed on a case-by-case basis, with special attention to the precise wording of the bond agreement in each case.

Moreover, if the tax-exempt status given Brandeis proves unwarranted, he will move to recover back taxes from the firm, he said.

for much less than its actual value, the law requires the filing of an affidavit listing the property's true value, the PVA said.

"Not 30 percent of the deeds on file with the clerk have the true consideration listed," Hall estimated. "It's one of the many laws that are not enforced."

Another problem requiring state action is the inadequate funding of PVA offices, according to Hall, who said that the size of his staff—four fulltime and one parttime worker beside himself—has not changed in nine years, even though their workload has tripled in that time. Funding for the PVA's office—the Floyd office is budgeted $102,000 for salaries, $16,900 for office expenses—is determined by a statutory formula which can be altered only by the legislature.

As a result of the understaffing, it is more than he can do to keep track of new building, let alone revise existing assessments, Hall said. "If we had money for one additional field person, we'd get back $10 for every dollar spent," the PVA estimated. "but the issue of property taxes is always on a back burner in Frankfort."

The traditionally dismal rate of collection of taxes on tangible property like autos and boats has been transformed by a 1982 law requiring the payment of taxes before a vehicle is relicensed, the PVA noted. Moreover, state pressure has resulted in a marked improvement in the sheriff's collection of real property taxes, he said.

Beginning this year, the state is not ordinarily accepting sheriffs' settlements unless at least 95 percent of property taxes are collected. (Floyd came close to the mark with a 94.7 percent collection rate, the best in memory, a sheriff's staffer reported.)

Another reform being pressed by the state Revenue Cabinet would require county attorneys to make an effort to collect delinquent taxes as a condition of receiving their 20 percent commission on delinquent taxes collected.

At present, county attorneys automatically receive their commissions when delinquent taxes are paid—typically, when properties are sold and back taxes must be paid in order to clear the titles—even if the county attorneys make no effort, as is the case in this county, to collect unpaid taxes.

County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. acknowledged that his office received $7644 in automatic commissions in the fiscal year just ended. The payments, which he put toward staff salaries and other office expenses, are justified as part of the county's obligation to support the county attorney's office, he said. The size of his staff would not permit his actively pursuing delinquent taxpayers—a task which, in any case, is being handled here by a private collection agency, which gets to keep the commission, he added.

Not all state initiatives have improved the prospects for raising local revenue, said Hall, who argued that two classes of tax exemption have significantly diminished the tax base here. One is the 1982 extension to the disabled of the homestead exemption traditionally granted to those 65 and older. For those who qualify, the first $16,100 in assessed property value is exempt from taxation. Because of coal industry-related injuries, especially the incidence of black lung, "there are more disabled persons in Floyd county than there are in Fayette county," the tax assessor said.

A sharp rise in the number of buildings financed with industrial revenue bonds has also cut deeply into the tax base, Hall said, although it remains unclear whether that is necessarily the case. (See accompanying story).

In general, Hall contended, the tide is turning toward greater state assistance for local PVAs in raising tax revenues, thanks in large measure to "younger and more energetic people" brought into the Revenue Cabinet by former Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr.

The PVA's looking to state legislators and bureaucrats for needed reforms is not without its irony, however. Asked whether PVAs might assess properties more realistically if they were appointed rather than elected to their posts, Hall acknowledged that the idea had been suggested. But people "do not like Frankfort to have total control," he cautioned.

School's Miss Red, White & Blue

Amy Michelle Bates, five-year-old kindergarten student, was chosen by popular vote as the W.D. Osborne school's Little Miss Red, White and Blue for 1985-1986. She is the daughter of Danny and Alma Bates and the granddaughter of Zenith and Nora Hall and Arlis and Vonda Bates, all of Bevinville. Her escort was Jeremy Michael Caudill, a first-grader at Osborne Elementary. He is the son of Michael and Rita Caudill and the grandson of Arlis and Vonda Bates and Elmer and Alma Rene Caudill, all of Bevinville. Amy holds several beauty titles and has been awarded five high point awards over the past 18 months. She is the reigning Tiny Miss winner in Wheelwright's Snow Queen pageant and will participate in crowning ceremonies in that annual pageant Nov. 16 at the Wheelwright High School auditorium.

Coal Mine Roof Support Rules Changes Proposed

Proposed changes in the rules for roof, face and rib support in underground coal mines were announced today by the Labor Department's Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA).

One provision of the proposed regulation would require the use of automated temporary roof support (ATRS) systems to protect persons when they work or travel under unsupported roof in "face" areas where the coal is extracted. ATRS systems are steel arms, rings, bars or other devices that can be raised against the mine roof to brace it temporarily until permanent supports are installed.

The proposal would require the use of ATRS systems "to the extent practicable and as technology is available" to protect persons on the working section. Typically, this safeguard would be used to protect miners as they install permanent roof support, such as bolts, posts, props or braces.

"Roof falls are the leading cause of death in underground coal mines, with most of those accidents happening when miners are under unsupported roof," said David A. Zegeer, assistant secretary of labor for mine safety and health.

"Using ATRS systems can greatly reduce the chances of a deadly roof fall."

In the six-year period from 1979 to 1984, falls of roof, face or rib accounted for 247, or about 46 percent, of all fatalities at U.S. underground coal mines during those years.

MSHA estimates that some 1,950 ATRS systems are already in use in this country. Currently, the states of Virginia, Kentucky and West Virginia already have requirements for such systems.

Also covered in the MSHA proposal, scheduled for publication in the Federal Register October 15, are requirements for roof bolting, testing and scaling the mine roof, warning devices, and other aspects of coal mine roof control.

Public hearings will be scheduled on the proposal if requested by the mining public. MSHA expects to issue a final rule on roof, face and rib support some time next year.

SAFETY TIPS FOR HALLOWEEN

OCTOBER 31
6:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Halloween is a time for Trick or Treating and it is a time to be safe. When it comes to safety, here are the basic rules:

1. Make sure all costumes are flame-resistant and that they do not dangle or trail behind the child.
2. Use only flashlights in out-door Jack o'Lanterns.
3. Make sure that young children are adequately supervised by an adult.
4. Go only to houses or apartments of people you know.
5. Make your child understand that he is to eat no treats until you have gone over the loot together. (A box of raisins or a bag of candy provided by you for the journey will make the child feel less tempted.)
6. Discard any unwrapped candy, or any goodies in torn packaging.

REMEMBER—TRICK OR TREAT NIGHT IN THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG IS THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31 FROM 6:00 P.M. TO 8:30 P.M. ONLY CHILDREN 12 AND UNDER CAN WEAR MASKS.

THESE SAFETY TIPS ARE GIVEN TO YOU AS A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG.

HAVE A HAPPY (AND ABOVE ALL)
SAFE HALLOWEEN!

Downtown Stores Begin New Hours

Shoppers will be able to browse a little longer in downtown Prestonsburg, as merchants extend business hours to 6 p.m., beginning this Friday. Stores will be open even later from Nov. 29 through Christmas, as proprietors have decided to do business till 8 p.m., Monday through Saturday, with some staying open Sundays as well.

A celebration of the Christmas season will be sponsored by the downtown businesses Nov. 29, with a parade, Santa Claus, free candy, singing groups and specials on merchandise at most stores.

Three Floyd Schools Prepare For Junior Ky. Youth Assembly

PRESTONSBURG ELEMENTARY STUDENTS will get a chance to see how state government works this week as they and teacher Janice Allen take part in the Junior Kentucky Youth Assembly in Frankfort.

Students from Clark, McDowell and Prestonsburg elementary schools will get a first-hand look at how the legislative process works as they participate in the Junior Kentucky Youth Assembly this week in Frankfort.

The assembly will be held this Thursday through Saturday, and, according to Mrs. Janice Allen, the teacher in charge of Prestonsburg's delegation, between 900 and 1000 students from across the state will be on hand to debate bills, run for office and meet real Kentucky lawmakers such as House Majority Leader Greg Stumbo, of this county.

Mrs. Allen said Stumbo had met with her and students going and had told them a little about what to expect during the session. She said Stumbo told the class that it was involvement in the program when he was in school that sparked his interest in politics.

The assembly was sponsored then, as it is now, by the Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA), but in those days it was called Co-Ed-Y.

Mrs. Allen, who has taught at the elementary school for the past 22 years, all but the past term in the fifth grade, said that when she moved to her present post in the seventh and eighth grades she saw a real need for an activity students could participate in other than just attending classes or playing sports.

"I realized all the things available were not being taken advantage of," she said. It was a complicated process to get the ball rolling, but Mrs. Allen said it was worth all the trouble. "There was a lot of red tape," she said. "First I had to get a field trip application, then get the approval of (school principal) Mr. (Thomas) Tackett, then Assistant Superintendent Ron Hager and Ed Patton, in transportation. It was a monumental job, but I haven't regretted any of it. Mr. Tackett has been very supportive of the whole thing. He just said, 'Don't leave me hanging,' meaning that he wanted me to do it again next year."

The group will leave here between 8-8:30 a.m. Thursday, and check in at the Bluegrass Convention Center in Frankfort between 1-2 p.m. to begin a full day of orientation, including party caucuses. But there will be no Democratic or Republican rhetoric bandied about. Rather, the students will be divided into "Red Tag" and "Blue Tag" parties.

They will also be designated either senators or representatives, with each group meeting to debate, lobby for, and pass a number of bills. The Prestonsburg delegation will be lobbying for two bills, one an unmined minerals tax with revenue earmarked for schools, and the other a measure to establish emergency telephones on all state highways.

Mrs. Allen said a YMCA representative told her it wasn't unusual for bills passed during these mock sessions to be picked up by the legitimate General Assembly and, many times, passed.

Elections will be held Friday for student Governor, Lt. Governor, Secretary of State and Speaker of the House. Prestonsburg's Craig Collins will be running for Speaker of the House, while Brian Stuart hopes to be elected Secretary of State. The session will adjourn Saturday morning.

After deciding to participate in the program, Mrs. Allen said she held a meeting with all seventh and eighth graders in the school auditorium. And, though she had no displays, handouts or other paraphernalia to sway the students or their parents, the response was very good.

Prestonsburg's contingent includes 32 students, each paying $80 for the trip, as well as springing for their own meals. Mrs. Allen said she had one student who wanted to make the trip, though her parents could not afford to send her. The girl went on her own and found sponsors to pay her expenses.

"That just goes to show you what you can accomplish if you want something badly enough," said Mrs. Allen.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

We would like to thank you all once again for the support you have given our daughter, Carla "Robinson" Boyd to be your County Court Clerk.

Carla has won three elections with your support within the last two years. No other candidate has ever had to run for office in such a short period of time.

This November 5th will be the fourth time in little over two years we have asked you for your support for Carla to be your County Clerk.

Carla is doing a good job as your County Clerk and is running your clerk's office according to the laws that are set by the state.

We are sorry that we did not get around to visit as many of you as we would have liked to during this campaign, but due to a health problem we couldn't.

SO, we are asking that YOU GO OUT AND VOTE on November 5th for CARLA "ROBINSON" BOYD for FLOYD COUNTY CLERK.

Thank you,

ASKS SUPPORT FOR GERALD DEROSSETT

Mr. and Mrs. Orville B. Ousley want to ask all our friends to support Gerald DeRossett for re-election for Magistrate in District one. We have found him to be honest, and will help all people as far as he can. You don't have to be a rich man to call Gerald on the telephone. He will talk with the poor and do for them the same as for the rich. Gerald and his family are wonderful people.

LET'S GO TO THE POLLS NOV. 5 AND VOTE FOR MAGISTRATE GERALD DEROSSETT, DEMOCRAT FOR RE-ELECTION.

Your Friends,
Orville and Alvie Ousley

(Pol. adv. paid for by Mr. & Mrs. Orville Ousley, 11-pd.)

ROY ROBERTS FOR CITY COUNCIL

I am a candidate for City Council of YOUR CITY and YOUR VOTE will be deeply appreciated. I can't and won't promise miracles. I DO promise to do my best for the citizens of OUR CITY. I have lived in Goble-Roberts all my life. I own and operate the Highlands Vending Service. I have been a Member of the Prestonsburg Police Auxiliary for the past ten (10) years. I served two terms on the Archer Park Board.

REMEMBER, VOTE FOR ROY ROBERTS FOR CITY COUNCIL NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

(Pol. adv. paid for by the candidate, 11pd.)

Insurance Bid Made

Prestonsburg again has a permanent insurance company, the result of a unanimous vote at Monday's City Council meeting.

The nod went to the Hatton-Allen Insurance Agency, the firm which had covered the city in the interim after Kentucky Insurance pulled out of the area in late August. At that time the city advertised for bids, but when City Manager David Evans opened sealed envelopes at Monday's council meeting, only Hatton-Allen had made the city an offer. Another agency, Nationwide Insurance, had been expected to bid on the coverage, but instead sent a letter informing the council they had decided not to do so.

The Nationwide bid would have been approximately $38,675, said the letter. Hatton-Allen's bid was $38,725.52.

The city has had its share of troubles with inadequate insurance in the past. Prestonsburg and four city police officers are being sued for a total of over $5 million stemming from the March 27 arrest of Albert O. Gibson, in which it was alleged excessive force was used by the officers.

The former insurance policy did not cover the city in such a professional liability case, but Evans said that sort of policy was being sought, and Hatton-Allen should have premiums set within the next two or three months.

ATTENTION---VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5 IS ELECTION DAY!!!

I ask that you go to the polls on Tuesday and vote for the County Clerk who has proven her ability---ONE, while only in office as clerk for 2 years, has made more improvements in "your" County Clerk's office than any other clerk in Floyd County or any other clerk in surrounding counties in such a period of time. Carla has the determination and the ability to put "your" County Clerk's office first.

I am asking for your support and your vote for CARLA "ROBINSON" BOYD for Floyd County Clerk to keep your Clerk's office moving forward.

The following is an article taken from the Appalachian Express dated 10/25/85.

Floyd County Clerk's Race Hot Contest

While many of Eastern Kentucky's fall elections have been predictable following partisan lines and routine campaigning, the Floyd County Clerk's contest between incumbent Carla Robinson Boyd and Ron Frasure has become a bitter contest. Boyd was appointed clerk after the death of her uncle Ollie Robinson, the former clerk, two years ago. She had served under her uncle as deputy clerk for 10 years.

She is the Democratic candidate. Frasure, Floyd County's Republican Chairman, was appointed to replace Ray Dempsey on the ticket. Affidavits signed in the clerk's office show that Dempsey resigned as candidate due to failing health.

Frasure's campaign against Boyd has largely been charges that she was responsible for criminal activities in the clerk's office during her uncle's term. He has been using copies of stories printed in the Floyd County Times in his political ads. The stories quote Floyd County Attorney Arnold Turner as saying that allegations of forgery against Boyd were never taken before the grand jury that returned 16 indictments against other Floyd County officials.

The stories quote Turner as saying Attorney General David Armstrong owes the voters "an explanation."

In an interview at the News-Express office last month, Armstrong said that the special investigators found nothing to prosecute Boyd for during the investigation. "After the stories ran in the Lexington papers, quoting Turner's allegations that there is additional evidence that should have been brought before the grand jury, a letter was written to his office," Armstrong said.

According to Armstrong's explanation, the letter invited Turner to appear before the grand jury if indeed he had additional evidence.

"He never responded to the invitation," Armstrong said. "And in addition, subsequent stories about the investigation and the Floyd county situation were toned down considerably," he said.

Despite the fact that no charges have ever been filed or no action taken against Boyd, Frasure's political ads continue to run.

Boyd says that it is political harassment, pure and simple.

She points proudly to the accomplishments in her office in her two-years and outlines plans for additional improvements.

Micro-filming documents and deeds, a map-reader printout and increased services with no increase in employees are some of the accomplishments she talked about.

Old records have been restored and for the very first time old documents have been put on file in the state archives in Frankfort. "If there had been a fire or other damage to the offices, a history of the county would have been lost to the taxpayers," she explained. "Now they are better protected and preserved."

Boyd's personal life has come under fire as well, she said. The firm that has conducted the county's elections—printing ballots and materials for the election machines—for many years has withdrawn from the county election due to the attacks. The News-Express received a copy of a letter mailed to the Floyd County Fiscal Court that said Harp Enterprises would no longer service the election due to a "personal involvement" of one of their employees and Boyd.

The personal relationship is her engagement to one of the company's vice-presidents, Joe Bolton. Bolton said the move was made out of a wish to cease the personal attacks on Boyd and stop the adverse publicity the opposition was trying to generate. "The firm has handled the elections for years," he said. "As a matter of fact, we print Pike County's ballots, just the same. There is no way for us to have used our business to affect the race, but they were making innuendos."

What the publicity has done, Boyd says, has backfired. "It really hasn't caused us any trouble, at least not what they wanted. People are too smart to listen," she said smiling.

"The thing that grieves me is that my opponent's tactics have caused the county to hire an outside firm to do routine election business and it is costing an additional $1,700. What service have they really done to the voters by raising a moot issue? That money that could have gone for services. All I want to do is run the best race I can. Positively no mudslinging. I want to be the best clerk Floyd County ever had and I want to bring the office to the standards I know we can achieve. I believe we're going to do it."

New Brett Johnson Print

Brett Johnson, who has been described as "Appalachia's Poet With A Brush," has released his latest print, "Amazing Grace," a traditional creek baptizing scene in which the artist has captured the emotional feeling and religious conviction surrounding the baptizing.

The artist was born and raised in the small community of Mouse in Knott county. He studied privately at Alice Lloyd College while still in high school. After graduate school at the University of Kentucky and a year of teaching in Florida, Johnson worked as an illustrator for two years. In 1974 he decided to devote all of his energies to painting. He currently divides his time between his studio in Lexington and the Mountains which provide his inspiration.

RE-ELECT HAROLD STUMBO DISTRICT JUDGE

To vote for me, pull the Non-Partisan lever on the extreme right side of the voting machine.
I hope I have the qualifications, as attested to by the following letter, to serve you as your District Judge:

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AND LABOR
2181 RAYBURN HOUSE OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20515

26 June 1980

Mr. Paul A. Willis
Executive Secretary
Judicial Retirement and Removal Commission
Frankfort, Kentucky 40601

Dear Mr. Willis:

I have learned recently that the Commission has authorized a preliminary investigation into the conduct of District Judge Harold Stumbo of the 31st Judicial District, Prestonsburg. If I am correctly advised, the matter under study is the Judge's record of dismissals and reduction of citations in his court.

At the outset, let me acknowledge that this is not a matter in which a Member of Congress has any official standing. But as a citizen of Eastern Kentucky who has long been familiar with Floyd County and its people, I would like to submit this letter for the record and for the consideration of the Commission in this matter.

I have known Harold Stumbo all of his life. I knew his father; I knew his grandfather; and I know his son who presently serves in the General Assembly of Kentucky. My close acquaintance with this family is of more than fifty years duration. During all of that time, I have never known of any action or suspicion of action that would compromise the integrity that is their heritage and their pride. And I am confident that a fair and thorough investigation will prove any suggestion of misconduct on the part of Judge Stumbo to be without foundation.

While I have not been a judge, I have been a County attorney and a Commonwealth's attorney, and I know well the strong passions and emotions that are aroused in the administration of justice. I doubt any plaintiff is ever really satisfied when a defendant is released by a judge, and the fact that the Commonwealth itself is a plaintiff does not alter that basic human reaction.

More than forty years ago I was severely criticized by the local press of that very area because, as Commonwealth's attorney, I successfully moved the then-circuit court for dismissal of dozens of felony cases, many of which had been on the docket for more than a decade. I took that step because it was my judgment after investigation that those cases could not be successfully prosecuted -- for want of witnesses, for want of provable facts, for want of substance, and for any of a dozen other legitimate reasons.

That action of mine back in the late 1930s subsequently was viewed by the community as a proper one. It was my belief then, and I cling to it now, that if a prosecutor has a weak or questionable case, he can better spend his time and the Commonwealth's money in concentrating on the strong cases.

I believe Judge Stumbo to be an upright and honorable man, a belief backed up by his 18-year record of public service among his people. He is a decent man and a compassionate one. And if he is accused of dispensing justice tempered with mercy, he is following the precepts of a higher authority than those frequently cited in the judicial process.

If there is any further information I can add about the high character of the Judge and his forebears in Eastern Kentucky, I will certainly be pleased to supply it. I know that a fair investigation of this matter will result in his vindication.

Very truly yours,
Harold Stumbo
Harold D. Perkins, M.C.

Your Vote Will Be Appreciated.

WE'RE ALL GOOD DEMOCRATS BUT WE'VE HAD ENOUGH!

Last week's issue of the Times stated that the residents of Mine Branch (Water-Gap) had received 300 tons of gravel and a firm promise to black-top our road. We were promised black-top by election day, not election day four years from now. In the meantime-where's the gravel and when was it put there? As loyal Democrats, it saddens us to conclude that our County Officials have built a government ran solely on promises. If you took away all our promises, we sink into China. We urge all our neighbors and fellow Democrats to vote Republican. Ask your self, "Just what have we got to lose?"

U.S. Jury Indicts Two On Charge of Vandalism

Two Prestonsburg men were indicted in U.S. District Court in Pikeville last Wednesday on a charge of "willful injury to government property."

The indictment charges that Danny Blair and Forrest E. Porter caused damage amounting to $150 to a post and guardrail at the Andylick Branch of Paintsville Lake on August 10. The pair tore out the post and guardrail in order to go camping, according to one report.

The case was investigated by the U.S. Corps of Engineers, which manages Paintsville Lake. Blair and Porter are scheduled for arraignment before U.S. District Judge G. Wix Unthank on November 7.

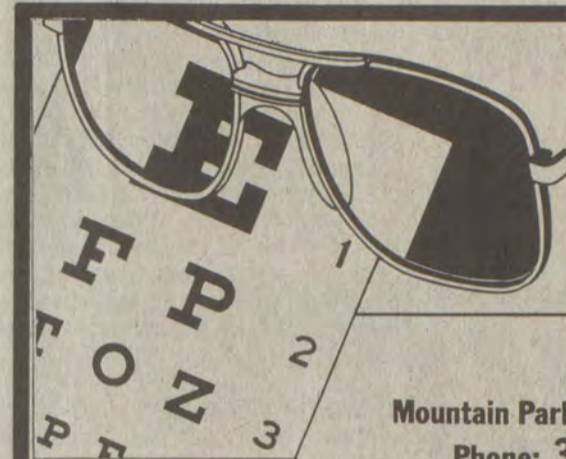

Agricultural employers, including farm labor contractors, must pay workers their wages when due and give them itemized, written statements of earnings for each pay period which include information on amounts deducted and reasons for the deductions, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.

 VOTE FOR  SUPPORT  VOTE FOR  SUPPORT  VOTE FOR  SUPPORT  SUPPORT  VOTE FOR ***

Recently, throughout my campaign for re-election as your Floyd County Clerk, I have had people comment and question certain aspects in the clerk's office. I would like to take a few minutes of your time now to tell you a few things about me—"YOUR" County Clerk—CARLA "ROBINSON" BOYD.

I have been "your" County Clerk for the past two years.

I have worked in the clerk's office as both a full-time and a part-time employee for 10 years while my uncle, C. "Ollie" Robinson was clerk.

I was also employed as secretary for the Floyd County Cooperative Extension Service and I worked in new accounts at the First Commonwealth Bank. Throughout my working career, I have been involved with people.

Concerning the 174 allegations news article that somehow keeps repeating itself weekly, I have had to spend time and money getting to the bottom of this issue. Somewhere, somehow there were a few receipts that had been found that had some differences but, in those receipts there were only five that had my initials typed on them. Anyone who can use a typewriter can type anyone's initials—My Initials—do not indicate that I did that transaction.

During the period of 1980-1982 in question, I worked full-time as a secretary for the Floyd County Cooperative Extension Service and I worked only on Friday evenings and when they needed extra help after 4:00 p.m. in the County Clerk's office. I have all the records from 1980-1985 in the County Clerk's office and you will not find my written initials (which is what I did when I licensed a vehicle) on many registration forms because I was only working part-time during that period of time.

The reason there were no indictments made was because there was no evidence against me. I don't care who you are or what you may do—if the Attorney General's office has the evidence—they will prosecute.

Now, Let's Get Back To Business:

During the past 2 years that I have been "YOUR" Floyd County Clerk—I have accomplished the following:

- Have Microfilmed
 - Maps & Plats • Deeds • Mortgages • Wills • Old Survey Records
- Restored 86 old deed books
- Purchased a Map-Reader-Printer
- Purchased a computerized indexing system to give you up-to-date indexing of deeds/mortgages/releases, etc.
- Am now in the process of microfilming your old marriage bonds and licenses. After they are microfilmed, they will be restored in a new binder.
- Have given back to the County in excess fees for a period of 14 months work—Over $88,000.00

I am asking to let my working record stand for itself—I want to make the Floyd County Clerk's office one of the best in the state and with "YOUR" help, "YOUR" vote and "YOUR" support—WE CAN DO THAT!! REMEMBER—Tuesday, November 5th—Go To The Polls and Vote for "YOUR" Clerk.

VOTE FOR CARLA "ROBINSON" BOYD FLOYD COUNTY CLERK

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Randy Burchett was honored last Wednesday evening when Mrs. Burchett and their sons, Mark and John, entertained with a dinner at their home on Trimble Branch in commemoration of his birthday. Other guests were the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burchett. Following the dinner, birthday cake and other refreshments were served, and Mr. Burchett was presented gifts by members of his family.

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Carlos Haywood observed her birthday, Oct. 24. On that day her sister, Mrs. Phyllis Ranier, entertained with a luncheon at May Lodge in her honor. Other guests were Mr. Arthur Haywood, and Mrs. Ruth Worland. On Friday, while at the beauty shop of Mrs. Dorothy Wells, Mrs. Haywood was surprised when David B. Leslie came to present a decorated birthday cake to her. Enjoying the cake, other than Mrs. Haywood and Mr. Leslie, were Mesdames Dorothy Wells, Phyllis Ranier, Kathryn Frazier and Olna Burchett, and Miss Elsie Stephens.

QUARTERLY MEET HELD

The quarterly meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union, Enterprise Association, was held at the First Baptist Church in Paintsville, Tuesday evening, Oct. 15, with Mrs. Connie Kinzel, of McDowell, W.M.U. director, presiding. The title of the program was "Multiply the Vision." Robin Childers, Campus Minister at Prestonsburg Community College and Director of the Baptist Student Union, of the Eastern Area of Kentucky, showed slides of his work, and spoke briefly. Members of the Girls in Action of the First Baptist Church of Allen, with Ann DeRossett as leader, had samples of their Mission Action projects on display.

While the W.M.U. meeting was in session, ministers of the various churches of the area held their regular business meeting.

Prior to these meetings, dinner was served by women of the host church. Representing the Irene Cole Memorial (First) Baptist Church were the Rev. Steve Hopkins, Robin Childers and Mesdames Patty Minns, Lucy Regan, Myrtle Allen, Goldia Williams, and Malinda Conley.

IN LEXINGTON

Mrs. Zella Archer spent Monday and Tuesday in Lexington, where she was joined for a visit by her granddaughter, Miss Lori Ellen Trosper, a student at Georgetown College.

SUNDAY GUESTS

Mrs. Dorothy Sturgill had as her guests on Sunday members of her family, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Sturgill, Mrs. Paul Sturgill and children, Miss Mary Martha Williams, and the children of Mrs. Cooper Hartley, all of Lexington. The group was entertained to lunch at May Lodge by Mr. and Mrs. William B. Sturgill.

CHIMES PRESENTED

Hand chimes, dedicated to "the glory of God and in loving memory of Mrs. Ellen Messer," were donated to the First United Methodist Church here recently by her husband, Paul Messer, and members of their family and accepted during services there last Sunday morning.

Mishaps Result In Transfer of Driver

County school bus driver Mike Fraley was suspended by school transportation director Ed Patton last week, the result of two driving mishaps within three days.

The first incident occurred Monday, Oct. 21, after Fraley unloaded students at the Indian Hills housing complex, near the mouth of May's Branch, and the second during his Wednesday morning run at the Cliffside apartments. It was raining at the time of both accidents, though Patton said it was undetermined what role the weather played in them.

Monday's accident happened as Fraley was making a reportedly illegal turn-about after having unloaded students at Indian Hills. According to witnesses, Fraley drove into a narrow lane and attempted to back onto the roadway, a maneuver he was said to have done successfully at other times during his three weeks of driving the route. (It is against state law to back a vehicle onto a travelled road.)

As he attempted the turn, the right rear tire of the bus dropped over a drain pipe and into a ditch, the chassis of the vehicle becoming flush with the muddy ground. Fraley reportedly tried unsuccessfully to rock the bus free of the ditch with the children on board. Indian Hills resident Don Lewis reportedly told Fraley this was unsafe and took the children into his home and contacted their parents.

Patton said it took about an hour and a half to free the bus, with initial attempts made using a four wheel drive vehicle before a wrecker was called to finish the job.

The second accident occurred Wednesday at about 7:15 a.m., during Fraley's morning run to the Cliffside apartments. Patton said Fraley had come out of a turn and traveled about 60 feet down the road when the bus drifted across the road and into a ditch. Again, a wrecker had to be called to free the bus which was stuck for about 45 minutes.

Following Monday's accident, a meeting was held between concerned parents, Patton and Fraley. It was decided to give the driver another chance. The accident, it was decided, happened because of Fraley's inexperience, and he was instructed not to make the improper turn again.

A second meeting was held Thursday, when Patton announced that Fraley had been suspended. He said Fraley would be offered another position within the school system, though not one having anything to do with operating or maintaining the buses.

Jesse Morton, head mechanic for the school system, said he had inspected the bus after Wednesday's accident, but could find nothing to account for the wreck. Morton said that Fraley had indicated a problem either with the steering or the brakes—the driver wasn't sure which—had caused him to lose control of the vehicle.

Both Morton and state Assistant Director of Pupil Transportation Sam Jackson gave the bus a thorough once over, with the conclusion that Wednesday's accident stemmed from driver error.

Though the incidents had forced him to suspend Fraley, Patton still spoke well of the driver. "It's a shame this had to happen," he said. "It's like he's snake bit, having two things like this happen in three days. He's a fine boy..."

When asked if he could foresee a time when Fraley might return to driving, he said, "Not this school year, and certainly not that route."

The first manned balloon flight was made by Pilatre de Rozier and the Marquis d'Arlandes over Paris in 1783, in a balloon made by the Montgolfier brothers.

OWENS FOR MAGISTRATE

JACKIE EDFORD OWENS had an independent survey run by the same people that ran his survey in May and they predicted he would win the May primary as he did. They stated in their survey that I would beat the Independent candidate by MORE THAN 2 to 1.

People, as I've campaigned in some towns and hollows of District 2, you know I didn't pass anyone's house up because of their political party. I knocked on Republican doors (even in May), as well as Democrats and asked for your support in November. I have got friends that are Republicans and I can assure you that you will receive the same treatment as my Democrat friends.

ONCE AGAIN, let me take this time to ask you for your vote.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY:

Since this is the last newspaper ad in this campaign, I thank all my friends and supporters for a job well done in making this campaign a clean campaign, free of "mud-slinging," as some would call it. My ads have not meant in any way to be a personal attack on my opponent. In any political campaign issues important to the voters should be presented to them in a professional manner so the voters can make a wise decision on election day. My campaign is designed to help you, the voter, on Nov. 5th to decide if my opponent is guilty of wrongdoing and that I, Ron Frasure, would return honesty and integrity to the clerk's office. Please support me in my efforts to make Floyd County a better place to live and work. Thank you.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES

$25,483 MISSING FROM COURT CLERK'S OFFICE

Floyd County's well-known County Court Clerk C. Ollie Robinson passed away on February 22nd and was replaced officially by Tommy Lafferty Junior on February 28th, after his appointment by County Judge Executive Jerry Lafferty.

The monies collected during the period from February 7th through February 22nd in Floyd County amounts to $25,483.55, collected during Robinson's hospital stay that preceded his death.

Money collected for vehicle registration in each county is routinely placed in an interim bank account, then transferred with a report, to the state every week.

The money from Floyd County for that period is missing, according to state officials. The state says that it has received the forms on how much was collected during the period...but has not received the money!

An official investigation is being conducted to determine the whereabouts of the missing money.

According to Cheryl Lane of the Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, Carla Boyd Robinson, niece of the late Clerk, took charge of the affairs of her uncle's office during the period from February 7th through February 22nd. No statement has been released by state officials regarding the status of the investigation or their beliefs as to the whereabouts of the missing money. At this time, nobody has been officially accused in any wrongdoing regarding the missing funds.

to the voters in District 2:
At this time we would like to talk to you about the upcoming election on November 5.

In this election we will be choosing a person that will be serving the people for the next four years. That should be a person that is non-partisan and will hold no malice toward anyone.

We think that person is William E. Flannery.
He is a hard-working, honest man whose integrity no one can question. He is well-known for his ability for getting a job done and to him that means getting it done right.

He is a graduate of Martin High School, Mayo State Vocational School, and he is an Army Veteran. He has been employed by the Chessie System for 15 years.

William is married to Trill Cook Flannery of Melvin and is the father of four daughters.

Thanking you in advance for your vote and support for our son and brother.

Remember on November 5 to vote William E. Flannery.

Hang On To This List!

Fad diets come and go, and some of them can be truly harmful to the body's system. Yet there are some key foods which can genuinely improve your well-being.

This list, prepared by nutritionist Joan
Friedrich, appears in the November Reader's Digest. It tells you what to include in your diet and why.

—Bananas. High in minerals, they add potassium, one of the body's most important elements. A shortage of potassium can lead to weakness, insomnia, even an irregular heart rate.

—Bran Muffins. Bran adds fiber to your diet and has been found to help reduce serum cholesterol.

—Broccoli. High in vitamins A and C.
—Chicken. One of the best protein sources, easily digested and low in fat.

—Flounder. High in protein and a good source of polyunsaturated fat, which lowers blood cholesterol levels. It is low in saturated fats.

—99-percent fat-free milk. Provides the calcium and phosphorus you need without the excess fat found in whole-milk products.

—Mushrooms. Low calorie, low fat, well supplied with potassium and phosphorus.

—Oranges. High in fiber and Vitamin C, with bonus nutrients.

—Pasta. It's not the pasta that's fattening, it's the sauce! Pasta provides necessary carbohydrates for energy and muscle function.

—Potatoes. Carbohydrates, plus many minerals. For maximum nutrition, eat their skins, too.

ASKS SUPPORT FOR PORTER

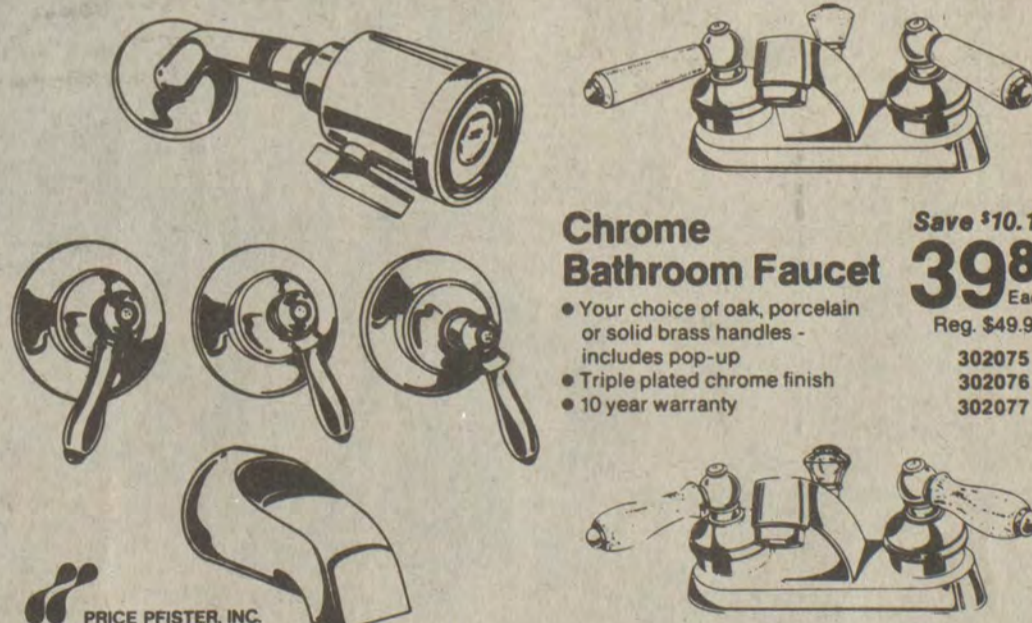

I suppose most of the people in the city of Prestonsburg know me. I have been employed at the Market Place approximately 20 years. I am asking the people of Prestonsburg to help me elect my foster son, Harry Ray Porter, whom I raised from birth. Help me elect him for City Council of Prestonsburg, No. 3 on the ballot. Your votes will be deeply appreciated.

5 CREWS TO INSTALL

WATCH FOR THE GRAND OPENING OF TILE CITY

LOCATED BESIDE KENTUCKY CARPET, DUE TO OPEN WITHIN TWO WEEKS.

Astrological Forecast..

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 21)—Deal with your understanding of life, you can't select an ultimate goal without it. If you're serious about a partnership, change your social habits—how are you going to meet anyone decent at the places you go? A Halloween party would be a good idea for the weekend—make it for a cause and it will be even better.

TAURUS (Apr. 22-May 22)—Sudden promotions are possible so be your most charming. Unfortunately if you get a $10 raise, you'll probably buy something requiring a $20 payment. If you're working for a political candidate, you have the ideas to win the election. Expect a battle with the loved one over a donation to charity or the church.

GEMINI (May 23-Jun. 21)—Watch your health carefully for the next few days, and take care of any problems immediately. You turned down the chance for a new life once before—are you going to do it again? Your ruler, Mercury, has moved into Sagittarius and this is the time to restore the excitement to your marriage. It's also positive for money matters, ask the boss for a raise.

CANCER (Jun. 22-Jul. 20)—Look after the children while Trick or Treating and make sure they don't have Tricking in mind. A dream will give you the plan for your dream home. Watch out when a new adventure comes along, you may wind up in deep water. Get involved with some altruistic organization this weekend—you both will benefit.

LEO (Jul. 21-Aug. 20)—Get together with brothers or sisters, it's time you became good friends. You are placing money above all else in career matters—are you sure? A glamorous flirtation could quickly become a meaningful relationship. This would be an excellent weekend to devote entirely to service for others—particularly those who can't help themselves.

VIRGO (Aug. 21-Sep. 22)—Don't break any laws while driving, you are certain to get caught. Take a long hard look before you become involved in any new schemes, especially if you have to invest your money. Exciting activities at home may become public knowledge. Mercury will be turning retrograde soon and you should be making peace with your beliefs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 25)—Expect an unusual encounter with your father-in-law or other authority figure. Exciting events everywhere, at home and abroad; but beware of an exciting creature that comes on strong and then wants to get hold of your money. You are in an optimistic period but should watch over—indulging, you will put on weight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 26-Nov. 23)—First a love affair, second home improvements, and third career progress—those will be your priorities this week. Proceed full-speed-ahead with all personal plans, you'll overcome any obstacle. A former teacher or relative could cause you some discomfort—you'll get over it. Concentrate on career matters, things look bright.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24-Dec. 21)—You are the ultimate social animal and will seldom be seen in the same place twice. Don't be surprised if you come home and find your belongings on the doorstep. If you want to keep your job, don't make waves, don't even make a ripple. Attend something special at your club, you could meet someone interesting.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 17)—Someone at work can take your genius and turn it into dollars—look around. You will have to do-your-duty at some function and it won't be easy. Plan something you've always wanted to do (but haven't!) this weekend. (You may have to do it alone when differences of opinion arise between you and the loved one.)

AQUARIUS (Jan. 18-Feb. 16)—A brainstorm you gave up on can be revived—alive and kicking! Parental trouble can be expected, this could signal the beginning of persistent difficulties. Your conscience will be bothering you, and for good reason—shame on you! Your genius will be needed at work and you should perform admirably.

PISCES (Feb. 17-Mar. 20)—Make your travel plans for next year—look for an opportunity that fell through before. Mercury is preparing to turn retrograde and you should be reevaluating career goals. This is a good time to make a major purchase for the home—something that will increase its value. This would be a good weekend for the party you've been planning.

CARD OF THANKS
The family of Rev. Charlie Rowe would like to express its gratitude to all those who were so kind to us upon his recent passing. We would especially thank the visiting ministers for their words of comfort, those who came from a distance to be with us, members of the graduating class of 1937 for the thoughtful card, the staff of the River-view Nursing Home for their care, and all who sent flowers and food, or who extended help in any way. We also thank the Floyd Funeral Home for its considerate and sympathetic services.
Again, thank you.
MRS. CLEO ROWE AND FAMILY

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE
Pursuant To Application Number 836-5102
In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Wheelwright Mining, Inc., HC 72, Box 195, Price, Kentucky 41636, has filed an application for a permit for an underground mining operation. The proposed operation will affect a surface disturbance of 15.61 acres and will underlie an additional 96.39 acres located 3.22 miles south of Bevinville in Floyd and Knott Counties, Kentucky.

The proposed operation is approximately 3.22 miles south from State Hwy. 1498's junction with State Hwy. 122 and located 1 mile west of Jacks Creek. The latitude is 37° 19' 06". The longitude is 82° 44' 50".
The proposed operation is located on the Wheelwright/Kite U.S.G.S. 7.5 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be disturbed is owned by Wheelwright Mining, Inc. The operation will underlie land owned by Kermit Boleyn, Burl Johnson, Able Johnson, Walter Burke, Wheelwright Mining, Inc., Forrester Hall, Fess Hall and Henry Hall Heirs. The application also includes a proposed land use change from the Forestland pre-mining land use to a Hayland or Pasture post-mining land use and the retention of the silt structure as a permanent impoundment. The operation will affect an area within 100' of public road Jacks Creek Road. The operation will not involve relocation of the public road.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 10-30-85.

PUBLIC NOTICE
The Garrett Volunteer Fire Department will hold nominations for the Board of Directors of the Fire Protection District at 7 p.m. Nov. 6, 1985. The Fire Department will hold the election for Board of Trustees of the Fire Protection District at 7 p.m. Nov. 13, 1985. Both nominations and election will be held at the Garrett fire station.

Cleanup Week
The City of Wayland will have a Cleanup Week in the city limits from Oct. 21-Oct. 31. All residents and businesses will be required to cut weeds on property and remove anything large can be picked up by the City on November 2, 1985.
PATRICIA MURPHY, Mayor

Scholars today have some doubts as to whether Americus Vespuicius, for whom the Americas are named, ever traveled here at all.

"I want something different. What do I need?"

When Leslie came to my shop she said, "Holly, I want something different. What do I need? Her busy days (school, ballet, baton, piano and choir) don't leave time to spare for a lot of fuss, so an easy-care style was a must.

Leslie agreed that a shorter, sleeker cut would accent her features (especially her eyes). Replacing fullness with height was slimming and made a pretty girl even prettier.

When I turned Leslie around to face the mirror, she said, "All right!" She's happy with her new look.

Miss Burieta Gearhart, 1985 Floyd county Arthritis chairwoman, has announced that the student government of the Prestonsburg Carl D. Perkins Job Corps Center recently sponsored the most successful road block ever held for the Arthritis Foundation.

The 1985 goal for the Prestonsburg was $700. The Job Corps Center worked hard and collected a grand total of $1,283.27, an all-time high for Prestonsburg. The goal for Floyd county is $1,400. Miss Gearheart reported that campaigns are now in the process of taking place in all towns in the county to help reach or exceed the goal.

Mrs. Blanche Finney, the Prestonsburg Carl D. Perkins Job Corps Center orientation specialist, served as the arthritis road block chairperson.

Proceeds from the road block will go toward the overall arthritis program of education, treatment and research.

After Prestonsburg's brilliant success, Miss Gearheart urges all cities and towns in Floyd County for their support in bringing about or exceeding the County's $1,400 goal.

URGES VOTERS TO SUPPORT DEROSSETT FOR MAGISTRATE

Rev. Jack DeRossett asks his friends to support and help re-elect Magistrate Gerald DeRossett, his nephew.

We would like to take this moment to again ask all our friends and kin to please vote for my nephew.

Gerald is a fine man. I have been around Gerald all his life.

I have known beyond a shadow of a doubt that Gerald is honest and capable of doing whatever may be his task. He has stood the test and kept the faith under difficult circumstances. With Gerald's experience our roads, churches, old people and schools will continue to be better for us here in District 1.

Let's keep this county moving with a fine honest man for four more years.

'Water of Life,' Schools Project

The Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet is "charting" a new course in promoting environmental awareness in Kentucky's youth.

On October 28 the "Water of Life" project will be introduced in 1000 public schools across the state. A premiere concert at George Rogers Clark High School, Winchester, will keynote the day.

Governor Martha Layne Collins first announced the "Water of Life" project at the 1985 Kentucky State Fair and recognized 50 Kentucky school children who helped "Appalachian Troubadour" Michael Johnathon record the chorus to "Water of Life". The record underscores the need for Kentucky school children to understand the importance of our environment, particularly our water resources.

"The goal of this project is to foster awareness and a caring attitude about water, especially among Kentucky's youth... an attitude that will carry into the future," stated Natural Resources Secretary Charlotte E. Baldwin. "My Cabinet feels strongly that we can make the greatest gains by instituting quality programs in Kentucky schools. This project is part of a good beginning."

Students will have the opportunity to purchase copies of the record, and any proceeds from the sale of "Water of Life" will be returned to further environmental awareness programs in Kentucky's schools.

KET's Study-At-Home Tops Enrollment Goal

KET's new GED Study-at-Home project began airing in October, with an original enrollment goal of 1,000. As of the October 15 start date, 1,423 adults representing 98 percent of Kentucky's counties, were enrolled for the math session.

Since promotion began in early September, 4,599 inquiries were made, with 3,499 of these callers passing their telephone pre-screening. They did not send back their pre-test in time to participate in the October session, but are still eligible for the January start date. Others were too young to participate or were referred to other services more suited to their needs.

According to Brenda Griffin, adult learning services coordinator at KET, "We really exceeded our goal, but that has only encouraged us to increase the goal in order to serve more Kentuckians."

KET's GED Study-at-Home project was developed to provide an alternative means for adults who have been unable to obtain their high school diplomas through traditional adult education services. This allows students the chance to prepare at home for the General Educational Development test by receiving instruction on television.

KET is broadcasting the GED series as part of its regular schedule, with repeats provided for reviews of the programs. In addition, all of Kentucky's Adult Learning Centers and some public libraries have videotapes of the GED series so the student can watch or review the program as needed.

The Reading/Science section of the GED series begins airing on KET on January 7, 1986. To register, call 1-800-KET-4-GED.

TO THE VOTERS OF MAGISTERIAL DIST. 3:
DO YOU STILL WANT A CHANGE?

In last May's primary you proved without a doubt that you were ready for a change. With a total of 4,651* votes cast in Dist. 3 for Magistrate, you gave the incumbent 1,770 votes, or a total of 38.1%. You gave the other candidates 2,881 votes for a total of 61.9%. Clearly, the majority of the voters were disappointed. This is why we must have November elections. Now you have the opportunity to be heard loud and clear; if you really want that change, go to the polls and prove it. Don't stay home and tell the world you couldn't care less about the deplorable conditions that now exist in our great county. Is this what we want to pass on to our children and grandchildren?

I will also honor Kentucky Election Law KRS 117.235, paragraph 3, which prohibits "the displaying of signs, distribution of campaign literature, cards, or handbills on election day," so you may go to the polls and vote without the usual embarrassment and harrassment of people who only look at election day as a chance to pick up a few dollars without real concern for who represents us for the next four years.

Many people have asked, "How do I CROSS OVER?" I feel I should try to explain. The words CROSS OVER are misleading. It sounds as if you must short-circuit something in the machine to get it to function. The truth is that in Kentucky primaries the machine is locked on either Democrat or Republican to insure each party that they will be represented in November by their strongest candidate. Then, in November, the machine cannot be locked on either. It must be left in a "neutral" position so you may choose from the two strongest candidates and get a majority rule, but in no way can a person be elected with less than 50% of the vote. This is the American way. Please, help preserve it. When you go in the booth, look at each name or issue and then mark your ballot, but remember if you move the straight ticket lever, you lock out all other options. Vote for the candidates of your choice, but PLEASE VOTE!

PLAN BAKE SALE

The Harold Homemakers will hold a bake sale Saturday, Nov. 2, in front of the Sherwin Williams Store in the Wedding Plaza. This sale is to raise money for the Leukemia Society.

My name is Ber Stumbo. My grandson-in-law, Ned Pillersdorf, is a candidate for Floyd County District Judge. Our family is very proud of Ned and we support his candidacy.

I am the former Ber Dingus, daughter of David and Bathsheba Webb Dingus, and the widow of Charles Stumbo, son of Bill and Artie Salisbury Stumbo.

I have three living children: Bea Combs, Charles E. Stumbo and Sharon Stumbo. Charles Ed is married to the former Doris Stanley, daughter of Joe and Effie Jones Stanley. Ned is married to Charles and Doris' daughter, Janet Lynn and they have a child, Sarah Ruth Pillersdorf.

We urge all of our relatives and friends to vote for Ned Pillersdorf on November 5 for District Judge on the Non-Partisan Judicial Ballot.

Thank you,
Ber Stumbo

HAROLD HOMEMAKERS MEET

Harold Homemakers met Oct. 16 at the church. Lillian Sturgill, president, called the meeting to order by introducing the guests present. Sylvia Allen collected dues, also donations for the Ovarian Cancer Fund.

Report on the area meeting was given by Carma Sturgill with Sylvia Allen reporting on the Floyd County annual meeting.

An interesting lesson, "The Finishing Touch," was given by Lillian Sturgill. Members of the Harold Club will be selling pecans for the Ovarian Cancer Fund. Members and guests present were:

Linda Bartley, Ruby Conn, Sylvia Allen, Carma Sturgill, Frances Pitts, Penny Pusey, Ruby M. Staten, Elizabeth Little, Lillian Sturgill, Doris Leedy, Brenda Cockerham, Bernice Mason, Regina Daniels, Cecelia Bryant, Debbie Hayes, Jennifer Saylor.

Next meeting will be Nov. 20 at 10 a.m. at the Boldman Church.

TO MY DEAR NEIGHBORS, FRIENDS AND RELATIONS:

I would like to thank all of you for the cards, telephone calls, all of you that have visited with me during my illness for the past month. I have so many things to be thankful for; you have been so kind to our family.

I have missed visiting with you this fall. I shall always cherish the friendships my daughter and I have enjoyed so much. When I am better, we plan to come back and sit on Mrs. Click's porch. Our family is smaller now. My first son, John Alex, died in 1958. My son Bryant DeRossett died March 12, and eighteen days later my husband Alex DeRossett died after a short illness. I have two children left: my son, Gerald DeRossett, (his wife) Katie Burton, my daughter, Lucille, (her husband) Douglas Garrett, my late son Bryant's wife was Cleo Montgomery.

You have voted for and elected my son Gerald DeRossett for magistrate once.

Now you have voted for and nominated Gerald for a second time. I would like to ask you to again go to the polls November 5, and vote for Gerald, a Democrat.

Gerald has an honest record that speaks for itself.

God Bless you all,
Loma DeRossett

The Kentucky Garden Journal

By Bonnie Lee Appleton
State Urban Garden & Home Horticulture Specialist
COOPERATIVE EXTENSION PROGRAM
KENTUCKY STATE UNIVERSITY

A Sneak Preview for 1986

All-American Selections, the organization that has been holding national evaluation trials of flowers and vegetables grown from seed since 1933, has just released information about its three winners for 1986. Two are possible additions for your vegetable garden next summer, and one can brighten your flower garden and landscape.

The most tempting winner to me is the first white sweet corn to win an All-American Selections Award. Having been described as sensationally sweet, its name, 'How Sweet It Is (White)', seems very appropriate.

In addition to its natural elevated sugar flavor and its low sodium content that makes it good for low salt diets, 'How Sweet It Is (White)' has good holding quality both on the stalk and while stored. Even two weeks after harvesting its taste is still sweet and fresh.

This new corn variety requires warmer soil temperatures for germination than many other corn varieties, so for early production it should be sown indoors in peat pots. It should be grown isolated from other sweet corn varieties so that cross pollination will not reduce its sweetness. Normally production will be two ears per stalk.

The other vegetable winner is an okra with creamy lime-green colored pods named 'Blondy.' Though a relatively low growing okra plant (only three feet in height), it is an early and heavy producer.

Low in calories and high in fiber, more okra should be used raw in salads and relish dishes, especially because 'Blondy's' pods are spineless. They also contain more potassium and vitamins B1, B2 and C than a ripe tomato, making them good additions for any healthy diet.

The 1986 All-American Selections flower award winner is a bright red cosmos named 'Sunny Red.' With the hot, dry summers that Kentucky often experiences, this is definitely a flower to consider because it thrives during hot summers regardless of whether the humidity is high or low.

'Sunny Red' can be used as a bedding plant, having a dwarf habit with a height and width of about two feet. It blooms freely, making it a good cut flower as well. It requires no pinching, pruning or staking, making it a very low maintenance plant.

The development of these three new plants, and other new plants that continue to be introduced, is not accidental. Masayuki Hashimoto of Japan spent 16 years and screened 18 generations of cosmos before entering 'Sunny Red' in competition. The flower then had to be successful in flower trials across the United States, including the trial garden at the Landscape Garden Center at the University of Kentucky campus.

Before a designated award winner can be announced to the public, adequate seed must be available for sale. If any of these plants interest you, you will find their seed available at garden centers and through mail order catalogs very shortly.

Timely Tip: If you grow asparagus, you'll see red berries on some of the plants. Berries indicate female plants, and the seed in those berries can be used to grow new crowns.

Tax Refund Checks Await Claimants

Raymond L. Rizzo, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, has released the names of those Kentucky taxpayers to whom federal tax refund checks were issued in 1985 and the checks were returned to IRS as "undeliverable".

The list includes 767 individual tax refund checks totaling $277,014.86. The tax refund checks range from $14,619.00 to $1.00 with an average check of $361.17.

Rizzo stated that the taxpayers may have moved or changed their last names during the year and failed to notify the Postal Service or the IRS.

Rizzo stated that partly as a result of publicity given the undelivered list of last year's refund checks, the original number of 977 undelivered checks was reduced to 131 by August 1985. We hope to have similar success this year in returning the refund checks.

If you think you may be due a refund and have moved or changed your name during the year, you should call the IRS toll-free at 1-800-424-1040.

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT 3:

I would like to urge everyone to be sure and vote on Tuesday, November 5, 1985.

I'm sure some of you are aware of the numerous rumors that have been purposely circulated concerning my political future. Some of the rumors, I'm sure, are wishful thinking on my Republican opponent's part, especially the one that states that I will not be running for magistrate.

Please let me assure Mr. Hall and everyone else in District Three that Edward Caudill's name will be on the Democratic ballot for Magistrate in District Three.

Again, I urge everyone to vote straight Democrat and help re-elect me, Edward Caudill, for Magistrate in District Three.

Your past and future support has and will always continue to be appreciated and respected.

RE-ELECT

EDWARD CAUDILL MAGISTRATE, DISTRICT 3

Julius Moore has been in Waverly, Ohio with his son, Glenford Moore, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident while returning from a fishing trip.

Mrs. Milford Blanton underwent open-heart surgery in a Lexington hospital last week. Mrs. Darlene Blanton has been there with her.

Mrs. Gertrude Webb has returned from a trip to Atlantic, N.J. with the Floyd County Senior Citizens.

The Bethel Regular Baptist Church wishes to thank Ronald Frasure, his aunts and other family members for their contributions to the church at a dinner in honor of his grandmother, Mrs. Emma Frasure Reffett, who has been a member of the Bethel Church since July, 1927 but is now unable to attend services due to a long illness.

Mrs. Mary Lou Hicks and Mrs. Sandy Telford, of Louisville, flew to Phoenix, Ariz. for the funeral of their uncle, Okie Hicks. While there, they visited their aunt and uncle, Opal and Virgil Ratliff.

Mrs. Thelma Hicks and granddaughter, Dana Bardley, visited Sandy and Terry Telford in Louisville. While there they attended the Fern Creek Homecoming where they saw Chuck Bradley play in the homecoming football game. His sister, Paige Bradley, was a member of the homecoming court.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Allen visited Mr. and Mrs. Norvel Fetty at their home in Huntington last Thursday and Friday.

Gene Frasure is a patient at a Lexington hospital for observation. Mrs. Frasure is with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Bryant attended the Bryant memorial services at The Little Nancy Church, Sunday, at Melvin, Ky.

Singer, Family Hope Road Leads to Fame

"Going worldwide." It has a heady sound, with intimations of international celebrity status and your name in lights from Baghdad to Borneo. And it might seem a bit ambitious for a Water Gap woman who has only been singing seriously for a year and who has just cut her first single.

But "going worldwide" was just what Mary Lynn Wright was doing yesterday (Tuesday), when her agent—Bernie Faulkner, formerly with Exile, the well-known country music group—was putting her record on the charts across the globe.

A secretary with Branham and Baker Coal Company, Miss Wright, 30, is determined to make it big as a country-pop vocalist. Sister to Gary Michael Wright, she comes from a family with a strong musical tradition and, with the release of her record this week, she plans to do it proud.

The album, on which Miss Wright is backed by Ronny Milsap's band, is titled, "It Hasn't Been Easy Since I Found Love." Finding recognition, she knows, won't be easy either. But she had plenty of family and friends pulling for her this week.

"Just say her loved ones and family congratulate her and are proud of her," one of them said.

"Man's freedom is his inner worth." Michael Beer

The first in a series of panel discussions made possible by a grant from the Kentucky Department of Vocational Education was held last Thursday afternoon at Prestonsburg Community College in an attempt to address the issue of sexual bias in career choices.

The open-forum style panel discussion, the first in a four part series, was moderated by Dr. William Floyd, director of the Department of Home Economics at Western Kentucky University. Accompanying Dr. Floyd were Bryan Vanhooze, a registered nurse and Dr. Demetra Francis, a local dentist.

According to John Herald, the author of the grant, and director of Student Services at P.C.C., "through these panel discussions we hope to make the students as well as the general public aware of the fact that occupations which have been thought to be traditionally open to, or conducive to, only one sex, are now coming open and have a great potential for anyone, regardless of their sex."

Citing statistics released by the Department of Labor in 1984, Dr. Floyd emphasized to the students that there still remains in America occupations which are being dominated by one sex, even though the Affirmative Action Program of 1954 and other federal and state programs have attempted to deal with this problem.

Nursing, he said, is a field which is dominated by females, with only 4% of the nurses in the nation being males, while, on the other hand, 85% of all medical doctors in the nation are males.

Also discussed by Dr. Floyd and the panel were topics ranging from child rearing in a family with two working parents to the problem of sexual discrimination in various occupations. Questions posed by the audience were also varied and interesting.

Dr. Dorothy Carlson, P.C.C.'s grant facilitator, has a second panel discussion scheduled for the latter part of November, featuring students from the college community and students from Mayo State Vocational and Technical School. The students chosen will be those who are preparing to enter occupations in fields usually dominated by the opposite sex.

Future panels will deal with the mining and construction industry and business related fields. All discussions will follow the theme of sex-bias and career choice.

Ward and Vanhose To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry A. Ward, of Hager Hill, announce the engagement and forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Jerri Marlene, to Ronald Allen Vanhose, son of Mrs. Mary L. Vanhose, of Paintsville.

The ceremony will take place Nov. 2 at 2:30 p.m. at Church of Christ, Mealy, Ky. The custom of open church will be observed. Reception immediately following at the Carriage House, Paintsville.

Miss Ward is a 1977 graduate of Johnson Central High School and is presently employed by Highlands Regional Medical Center. Her fiancé is a 1978 graduate of Paintsville High School and is presently employed by Dowell Schlumberger. The couple will reside at Wittensville.

Workshops for Nurses

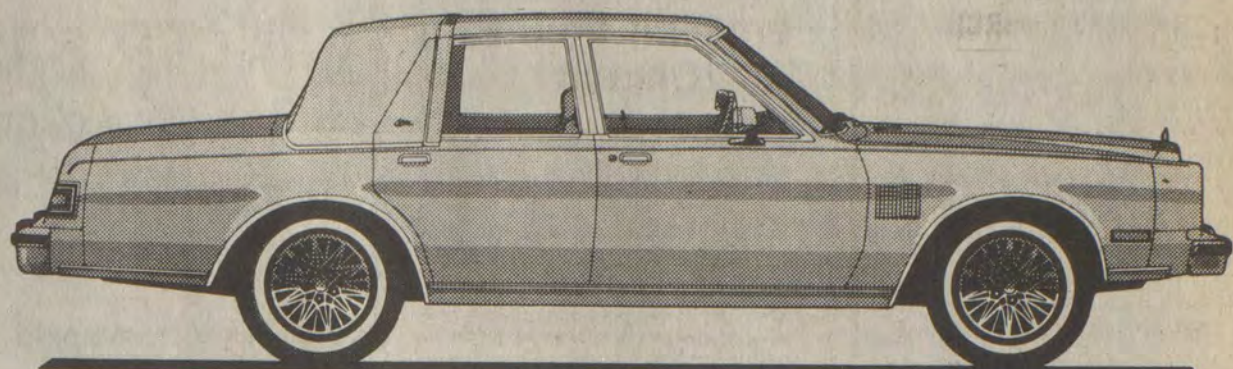

Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, will offer a two-hour workshop for nurses in two separate sessions today (Wednesday).

The course is titled "Understanding Breath Sounds" and will be offered from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and again from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Seton Complex building in Martin. The class is approved by the Kentucky Board of Nursing for two contact hours.

Lucinda Kidd, RN, CNA, BS will teach the course. Mrs. Kidd will instruct participants in describing the location of findings on chest using lines of reference; differentiating between bronchial, bronchovesicular and vesicular breath sounds; and contrasting adventitious breath sounds and normal breath sounds.

Tapes of the breath sounds used in class will be available to participants.

For more information, contact: Naewana Nickles, Education Department, Our Lady of the Way Hospital, P.O. Box 910, Martin, Ky. 41649, 285-5181.

ADULT ACNE

Many adults suffer from lingering acne or once-a-month breakouts through their thirties and, in some cases, until menopause. Even so, most adult skins need moisturizing. As one ages, sebum production decreases, leaving skin drier. Acne medications, especially those containing benzoyl peroxide, formulated for teenagers, may irritate adult skin. They are meant to be applied daily to prevent acne. They are not to be used for the spot treatment needed for occasional adult blemishes. Instead, adults should try a cream that contains sulfur/resorcinol in a non-drying cosmetic base. It is less drying and irritating than benzoyl peroxide. These preparations are available over-the-counter.

COOLEY APOTHECARY takes great pride in our complete selection of over the counter remedies for skin and other conditions. We are truly "The Drug Store with a Difference" as many of your friends and neighbors have already discovered. If you are not yet familiar with us please accept today's column as your personal invitation to come and learn what we can do for you and your family. You'll find us located at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106 and open Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-4. Master Charge and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments.

VOTE AND SUPPORT CHUCK B. AKERS

CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCIL

NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

LEADERSHIP AND PROGRESS

Our city today, as never before, needs strong leaders who are willing to make decisions that move our city forward. From personal observation, in the last two years, I have seen 16 businesses leave the City of Prestonsburg. Our neighboring cities of Pikeville and Paintsville are thriving and growing and have surpassed us. This should not have been the case since Prestonsburg is situated as the hub of the Big Sandy area.

Although we have recently started a good deal of new construction, we must have leaders on our city council who will strive to move forward to see that the construction is completed, to see that these businesses stay, and to look for new business and industry.

I will admit that I have a special interest in the senior citizens of Prestonsburg and intend to be their spokesman in City Hall. Other than that I owe no special interest group and will make decisions not for personal gain, not for the gain of my family and friends, but for the advancement and growth of our City.

Cast your vote for progress and leadership for the advancement and growth of Prestonsburg. Cast your vote for CHUCK B. AKERS, Candidate for City Council of the City of Prestonsburg.

YOUR VOTE APPRECIATED.

By WILMAY

Praise the Lord for a county paper that sticks to the good, old-time values, for its editor who recommends the commission form of government that many counties have found advantageous and economical. A letter to The Times last week, (Oct. 23), called attention to the exorbitant salaries Floyd pays four magistrates, as compared with those of some counties much wealthier than Floyd.

Another Times article (Oct. 23) prompted the subject of this column. It told how County Attorney Arnold Turner stressed knowing Jesus when speaking at Lee's College recently, what knowing Christ means to him, how his values changed upon conversion. Praise the Lord for him and others of similar caliber, men like Dr. Bobby Marshall, Allen dentist, who can fill a pulpit any time, or Dr. Larry Leslie, Prestonsburg physician, who gratefully acknowledges Christ as Lord, living his Christianity daily; Ray Brackett, acting Floyd County School Superintendent, long known as a strong Christian, plus numerous other laymen in all walks of life. Include some educators from our sister county, a trio of prominent "J's", Drs. June Buchanan, Jerry Davis, and Jeems Akers, who have really put the schools of Alice Lloyd on the map. It's wonderful that Miss June is at last being honored as she so richly deserves, for in my opinion she is the greatest "second fiddle" in the U.S. Let us not forget the many fearless ministers who are active in improving the moral and spiritual climate of our county and nation. They and their families need our prayers.

A high percentage of our pastors now are "home grown." Some of us recall when Franklin Conley, a Southern Baptist from Van Lear, Carter Berkeley, a Methodist from Wayland, and Ted Green of the Freewill Baptist, were about the only young ministers of those prominent faiths in this county. The present number is impressive and growing, in many denominations.

No less encouraging are the many other lay men and women increasingly active in God's work today, devoting much leisure time to voluntary work, spreading the gospel.

This calls to mind an aged patient now in a nursing home in Ohio, a former resident of Floyd for long years, a woman who in a Christian meeting decades ago asked a group of women to dedicate themselves to frequent prayer for this county, because at that time it ranked second in murders per capita to Cook County, Illinois where Al Capone and his mob dominated Chicago for years.

Perhaps, as years pass, with more churches praying for our beloved county, a genuine Holy Spirit revival will some day sweep Floyd which is like a magnet to thousands who call it home. Regardless, Floyd can still play an important role in the spiritual awakening engulfing our blessed land, as the end-time days continue to move at cataclysmic speed, for the Mid-East caldron remains at boiling point daily, it seems. And foremost evangelists of many eminent faiths point to the signs which indicated the close of this, the dispensation of grace and gospel. They believe the curtain will soon fall, unless by some miracle America heeds and obeys II Chron. 7:14. If that happens, God-who alone knows the day and hour of Jesus' return-will keep his promise and delay the long-looked-for event. It is fantastic to see huge daily papers and leading secular magazines now printing stories, articles, etc. about Jesus, Christianity, and scripture.

More Christians are forsaking pleasure, success, materialism, etc. for service, taking time to bear one another's burdens, to aid the underprivileged. For all of our shortcomings, America has long been the most generous nation on earth. God has blessed the U.S. as he has no other nation in all history. What a gigantic debt we owe him and his causes, in return!

PIKEVILLE COLLEGE STUDENT REBECCA MAYTON, of Stanville, recently spent some time with pre-school children at the Pikeville Public Library as part of her Children's Literature class and as a participant in a special Pikeville Junior Woman's Club project. Miss Mayton is gaining experience for her future as an elementary teacher by using children's literature to help these youngsters learn about personal safety.

Group Charges Fees For Services Offered By State at No Cost

Revenue Cabinet Secretary Gary W. Gillis announced last Friday that an organization calling itself "The Department of Unclaimed Funds and Benefits" has written letters to many Kentuckians, and residents of other states as well, offering to provide assistance in claiming abandoned property. A fee is charged for services provided free by the Cabinet.

Gillis said the letters have caused confusion, especially among elderly citizens, since the company stationary appears to be from a governmental agency. "There is no connection between this private company and the Kentucky Revenue Cabinet," said Gillis.

For a fee of $19, the company promises to send information necessary for filing a claim. The Revenue Cabinet has received numerous inquiries from citizens who have paid the fee only to receive a plastic notebook with general information about abandoned property and the telephone number and address of the Miscellaneous Excise Tax Section of the Kentucky Revenue Cabinet.

The Miscellaneous Excise Tax Section maintains a listing of owners of unclaimed funds reported to the state. This includes dormant checking and savings accounts, forgotten rent and utilities deposits, uncashed checks and unredeemed gift certificates and money orders. The Revenue Cabinet recently ran ads in Kentucky newspapers listing those persons whose funds are being held. Those interested in learning if the state is holding funds on their behalf can write the Revenue Cabinet, Miscellaneous Tax Section, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, and claim forms will be provided.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Warning Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

The following nine symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations are often the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these may spell back trouble

- (1) Paresthesias (see above)
- (2) Headaches
- (3) Painful joints
- (4) Numbness in the arms or hands
- (5) Loss of sleep
- (6) Stiffness in the neck
- (7) Pain between the shoulders
- (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back
- (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals may indicate your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will likely become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these warning signals...call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

They 'Join Paws in the Cause'

From left, bearer of bears, Marjorie Sammons; Our Lady of the Way Hospital's Infection Control coordinator, Judy Hamm, RN, and founder of Good News Bear Den, Sister Anne Eden, O.S.B., have combined their efforts to provide teddy bears to cheer and teach handwashing techniques to young patients at the Martin hospital.

Teddy bears are the connection between Benedictine Sister Anne Eden's Good News Bear Den, the Floyd County Homemakers and Our Lady of the Way Hospital's newest infection control proposal. As Sister Anne terms it, "we've joined paws in the cause."

The cause is two-fold: to continue distributing teddy bears to young patients and to use the bears to teach handwashing techniques.

Both aspects of the cause have separate but parallel histories.

Prior to joining the Benedictine Sisters of the Mt. Tabor Monastery near Martin in 1984, Sister Anne had distributed "Good Bears" for seven years in Rhode Island hospitals. Once in Floyd county, she established the Good News Bear Den and enlisted the help of the Floyd County Homemakers to make and distribute bears for children hospitalized at Our Lady of the Way.

At about the same time, Louisville's Kosair Hospital used a teddy bear named "T-Bear" to improve handwashing practices of patients and staff in its ward for young cancer patients. The program was very successful and this year was adopted by the National Cancer Institute Pediatrics Branch and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Our Lady of the Way Hospital's Infection Control Committee wanted to bring the "T-Bear" program to Floyd county but at the same time did not want to compete with or discontinue the informal bear-giving project voluntarily begun by the Good News Bear Den.

"So we've compromised," said Nurse Judy Hamm, Infection Control coordinator. "We're creating a program that combines the ideals of Good Bears, Inc. and the "T-Bear" campaign. Our project will continue to involve the community but will be tailored to the needs of this hospital."

"I welcome this expansion of the program," said Sister Anne Eden, "because it gives continuity to what we started. It also gives others a chance to become involved."

Marjorie Sammons, of Martin, said the Homemakers have pledged 25 bears to the cause and volunteered to continue delivering bears to children as she has done in the past.

Letters are being sent to other community groups explaining the program and inviting participation. The hospital estimates that 250 bears will be needed this year to guarantee that each hospitalized youth receives one.

Interested individuals may contact Judy Hamm at 285-5181 for more information.

Hamilton Suit Names Master Commissioner

In a $1 million suit filed on their own behalf in Floyd Circuit Court this week, Teaberry coal operator Sterling Hamilton and his wife, Olga, allege that, for 15 years, Floyd Master Commissioner Marshall Davidson has been receiving gas royalties on property they own and refuses to give them an accounting of the monies.

Plaintiffs said they asked Davidson on October 17 for a full accounting of the royalties paid by Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company on gas produced by two wells on a property on Tackett Fork of Mud Creek. Davidson refused, they said.

By his refusal, the master commissioner is guilty of a breach of duty and has caused them "extreme economic loss," the Hamiltons claim.

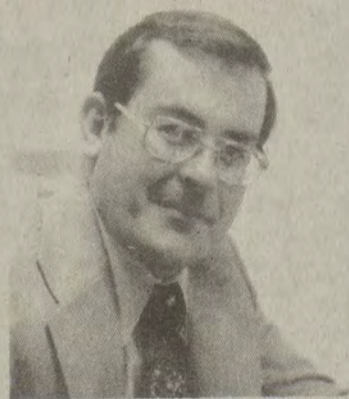

(Suits filed in court outline only one side of the issues in dispute).

Quoth The Raven, "Nevermore"

By JULIE SMITHER

It's that time of year when we think of spooky things like ghosts and witches, creaking doors and strange noises. Edgar Allan Poe wrote many scary tales, none more eerie than this poem, "The Raven," about a large black bird which repeatedly speaks in a croaking voice that one haunting word... "Nevermore."

Since civilization began, the raven has been seen as a supernatural creature, immortalized in carvings, paintings, and literature. A raven was said to have protected St. Benedict from poisoning, and to have fed St. Anthony in the desert. Vikings used them to help pilot their ships, and ravens guided Alexander the Great across the desert. Eskimos in the Yukon perform a Raven dance, and the bird is sacred to the divine ancestor of Japan's imperial family. Here in the Ohio River valley, a stone tobacco pipe was found which had been carved in the form of a raven by a Hopewellian Indian about 2,500 years ago. In recent history, the raven was considered an evil omen, its croaking voice warning of some evil soon to occur.

The truth about ravens is that they are exceedingly intelligent birds, very adaptable and resourceful, and not at all evil. They are about twice the size of the crow and look similar, except that their tails are wedge-shaped instead of square. They have shaggy throat feathers, and the beak is heavier and more curved. They also look different in flight, gliding on flat wings, soaring more like hawks. Their calls are varied, including a croaking "cr-r-ruck" or "pruck" and a metallic "tok."

Ravens mate for life. Their nests, often built in the same site year after year, are usually located high in evergreen trees or on cliff ledges. The nest is two to four feet in diameter and constructed of tree branches, sticks, and grapevine and thickly lined with animal hair, mosses and grasses.

Are there ravens in Kentucky? Before settlement, ravens were seen throughout the state and lived among the high remote cliffs in the Cumberland mountains, but since the 1950's they were thought to be extinct here. Then, a few years ago, the only known nest of ravens

VOTE FOR AND ELECT BIRCHELL DUFF FOR MAGISTRATE DISTRICT 2

This being the last week before the election, I can proudly say that my hands are clean from mud-slinging

In last week's Times, one of my opponents accused me of being in the way of the county road crew at Garrett recently. I was in the vicinity at that time and if elected magistrate on Nov. 5, I plan to be with the road crew 8 hours a day, five days a week. Also, I will be available to ALL the people in District Two 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, as well as in any and all emergencies.

This is a very important election for the voters of District 2. I am asking the voters to look closely at each candidate and vote for the Best Man on the ticket. THIS MAN IS BIRCHELL DUFF.

NOTICE OF
INTENTION TO MINE
Pursuant to Application
Number 836-0167

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that
Kenerco Corporation, 5480 Swanton Drive, Lexington, Kentucky, 40511, has filed an application for a permit for a surface coal mining and reclamation operation of approximately 53.6 acres located 2.7 miles east of Drift in Floyd county.

The proposed operation is approximately 0.5 miles northwest from Little Mud Creek Road junction with Lower Wolfpen Branch Road and located 0.5 miles west of Little Mud Creek. The latitude is 37° 29' 10". The longitude is 82° 41' 50". The surface area is owned by Carlie Wells and G.W. Akers heirs.

The proposed operation is located on the McDowell U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle. The operation will use the contour and auger methods of mining. The operation will not affect an area within 100 feet of any public road. The operation will not involve relocation of any public road.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 431 South Lake Drive, Prestons-burg, Ky. 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director

NOTICE OF
INTENTION TO MINE
Pursuant To Application No. 836-0171

In accordance with the provisions of
KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Wheelwright Mining Inc., Price, Ky., intends to apply for a bond release on permit No. 836-0079 which was last issued on August 30, 1984. The application covers an area of approximately 28.82 acres located 1/2 mile west of Price, in Floyd County.

The permit area is approximately 1.5
miles north of the junction of Highway 979 with Highway 122, and is located 1/4 mile west of Beaver Creek. The latitude is 37° 27' 04" and the longitude is 82° 44' 51".

The total bond now in effect for this permit is $44,100 dollars, for which $26,460 dollars is to be included in this application for release.

Reclamation work performed to date includes:
Removal of steel rails, ties, and junk left by a previous deep mine. 6.06 acres of the mine bench has been covered with soil, and the highwall has been eliminated to the extent possible with the amount of overburden available. Drainage has been established to minimize erosion, and all re-disturbed areas have been seeded with grasses and legumes. Deep mine openings have been closed, and no material has been placed beyond the original bench. Approximately 22.76 acres of this permit were not redisturbed.

Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza
Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on the 17th day of October, 1985, "Petition for Fire Protection District" has been filed with the County Court Clerk, said proposed
"Fire Protection District" to include the following communities: Maytown,
Eastern, Hippo, Warco, and Manton.

Said petition containing a specific metes and bounds description of the proposed "Fire Protection District" is available for examination at the Floyd County Clerk's Office between the hours of 8:30 am and 12:00 pm and 1:15 pm and 4:00 pm.

The purpose of said proposed "Fire Protection District" is to provide protection for the property and citizens of the area described, which area lies outside of any municipality wherein a fire department is maintained.

Any resident of the area enclosed by the proposed "Fire Protection District" may file written objections to establishing said "Fire Protection District" within thirty (30) days of the filing of said petition. Within ten (10) days of the filing of such objections, the Floyd County Fiscal Court shall set a hearing for said objections.

Vows Said October 5

Mr. Johnny McKinney and Miss Barbara Lynn Prater were united in marriage, October 5, at the home of the Rev. L.P. Tussey in Prestonsburg.

The groom is the son of Phyllis McKinney, of Martin, Ky., and the late Eugene McKinney, and the bride is the daughter of Arnold and Novie Bradley, of Martin, Ky.

Students Give Blood

On Wednesday, October 9, 12 people donated blood at the Allen Central High School. They are: Paul E. Yeary, Mecca E. Skeans, Wesley F. Halbert, Marie Martin, Pam F. Bradley, Carter B. Bradshar, Jr., Rita A. Osborne, Sandra D. Ferrell, Dawn Shepherd, Ronald L. Lester, Dale W. Slone, Ronnie Hall, Elizabeth L. Twiss, Bobby Terry, Valerie Morris, Peggy Shepherd, and Jennifer L. Ousley.

Blood donors are extraordinary people who give a vital human resource to help patients on their way to recovery. Central Kentucky Blood Center recognizes this effort and gives awards of appreciation based on the number of times a person has donated.

Upon completing their eighth donation (one gallon), donors are eligible to receive a special key chain which is imprinted with the donors' blood type and number of gallons given. New key chains are given after completing each additional gallon. The key chain is numbered and postage guaranteed if the keys are lost and dropped in a mailbox.

When a donor reaches 10 gallons, a special plaque is presented to recognize outstanding contributions to their community's blood supply. Central Kentucky Blood Center depends on the generosity and support of Floyd County blood donors to help meet the increasing need for blood and blood components.

ASC Committee Cites Needs For Sound 1985 Farm Bill

"We need sound farm policy that helps Kentucky farmers, but also has fiscal restraint," John E. Kalmey, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said at the close of the committee meeting in Lexington recently.

New legislation is needed to replace the four-year law which expires at the end of this month, he added.

Mr. Kalmey's comments on behalf of the state ASC Committee closely followed the resumption of the farm bill debate by the Congress in Washington and the committee's 'conference' with Secretary of Agriculture John Block. "We just 'met' with Secretary Block by telephone, and as his representatives on federal farm policy here in the state the committee wanted to pass on some of what was discussed," Kalmey said.

"Our major objectives are the same as when the legislative process began earlier this year," Kalmey said. "Three objectives are central to the Administration philosophy."

"First, we must become more competitive in world markets. Reducing price and income support levels is essential, so that we send a clear signal to our competitors that we are serious about regaining lost export markets. We must no longer hold the price umbrella for the world."

"Second, we are committed to a policy of compassion for farmers. That means we want to spend enough money to carry our producers through a transition period as we work toward a reduction in farmer dependence on government."

"And, third, we recognize the need to reduce the Federal deficit. So, we believe the new farm bill should adhere to the Congress' spending limitation. That will mean less and less annual Federal outlays for farm programs."

He also itemized some things being proposed as part of the new farm bill that the State Committee agreed were unacceptable.

"Mandatory controls are unacceptable. Most farmers want less government control, not more," Mr. Kalmey said.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Greg and Janie Ousley, of Martin, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Greta Lynn, at the Pikeville Methodist Hospital, September 24.

She is the granddaughter of Dennis and Juanita Ousley, of Martin, and also of Fred and Ruth Ousley, of Prestonsburg. She is the great-granddaughter of Willie and Lillie Salisbury, of Martin.

Our Lady of the Way Sponsors Blood Drive

Our Lady of the Way Hospital and Central Kentucky Blood Center ask you to do your part for the Floyd County community by donating blood on Wednesday, October 30, from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. at the hospital.

Regularly scheduled blood drives are essential for effective management of blood and specialized components in CKBC's 46-county service area. Red cells, the component most frequently needed, can be stored for only 21 days. Platelets, another component regularly needed, must be transfused within seven days after donating. Blood drives like the ones sponsored by Our Lady of the Way Hospital help provide a steady blood supply to the patients in local hospitals. With the group's support, CKBC strives to maintain an inventory of 1,400 units of blood and blood components.

Do your part at the blood drive on Wednesday, October 30. Call Toby Bingham at 285-5181 for more information.

SUPPORT AND RE-ELECT GERALD DEROSSETT MAGISTRATE, DIST. 1

Democratic Nominee

We would like to take this means to ask everybody to please be sure to go to the polls and vote for Gerald. He is a friend to the people all the time. It means a lot to us people up these hollows to be able to call anytime day or night. Do not be misled by people who own and use their own radio station.

Let's not turn back to 1952 I remember well. Gerald is a full-time, honest, and a proven strong leader. Why turn back when we have the very best?

Asks Volunteer To Help Others

Volunteers are needed to help others with their tax returns as part of VITA, the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service.

The VITA program uses volunteers to provide free assistance to taxpayers who cannot afford professional tax help. These volunteers, receive a special training course in basic income tax return preparation. VITA instructors and training materials are provided free by the IRS, and training generally is conducted in December through January each year at locations convenient for volunteers and instructors.

Persons or organizations interested in the VITA program, should contact the IRS VITA Coordinator for Kentucky at 582-6259 in Louisville, or toll free 1-800-424-1040 if calling from outside Louisville.

Osteoporosis: Hidden Killer

Osteoporosis, a "thinning" of the body's bone structure, is the 12th leading cause of death in the United States, yet many of its victims have no idea they are vulnerable until it is too late.

"Osteoporosis is a silent disease with no early-warning signs," says Dr. William Peck, chairman of the 1984 National Institute of Health Consensus Panel on Osteoporosis. "The first symptom is almost always a bone fracture, usually in the spine, hip or wrist. The bones become so fragile that a vertebra can break just from getting out of bed in the morning."

Bone loss is particularly severe in post-menopausal women. While there is no proven method to add new bone and reverse the decline, good preventive measures can better your chances of avoiding the disease.

John Pekkanen, writing in the November Reader's Digest, declares that adequate calcium is the cornerstone of any diet to prevent osteoporosis. "The NIH panel recommends that premenopausal women get 1000 mg. of calcium daily, the equivalent of three eight-ounce glasses of low-fat milk alone," he writes. "Post-menopausal women not on estrogen-replacement therapy should consume 1500 mg. a day."

The sad fact is their calcium intake is far short of that goal. "American women from their mid-40s on average only about 450 mg. of calcium in their diet, and studies show a disturbing trend toward even lower amounts," he continues. Moreover, alcohol, caffeine and nicotine speed the body's excretion of calcium and other minerals.

Along with diet two other factors are seen to be helpful in avoiding osteoporosis. One is exercise, which increases bone mass and reduces bone loss. How much exercise and what kind have not been determined, but anything that puts mechanical stress on the bones is helpful.

Finally, estrogen-replacement therapy is recommended. The hormone estrogen decreases sharply at the onset of menopause and so does a woman's ability to absorb calcium. "Estrogen replacement poses a risk-benefit question," Pekkanen notes, "because it does increase slightly the risk of endometrial cancer. By including another hormone, progesterone, the risk of endometrial cancer appears to diminish, and bone loss may be slowed even further."

Swimming pools were common throughout the Roman Empire. Indoor pools, then were heated by wood-burning furnaces under the floor.

NWF Publishes Christmas Book

National Wildlife's "December Treasury," a new Christmas book, is now available exclusively through the National Wildlife Federation. The book, a collection of short essays, poems, recipes and photographs, is a guide for enjoying the coming winter months whether the reader chooses to be indoors or out in the woods and fields.

The pages of "December Treasury" are filled with facts about how animals, plants and people adapt to the cold and snow of winter. For example, only one bird—the common poorwill—hibernates; glycol—the chemical in auto antifreeze—also keeps insects from freezing, and the Eskimos of Alaska's Kobuk Valley had 12 names for snow.

Since winter is a difficult time for wildlife, the editors of "December Treasury" have included instructions on bird feeding and a "gourmet menu" for different bird species.

The book is also a "how-to" book with tips on choosing firewood, selecting and cutting a Christmas tree, using evergreens for holiday decorations and recipes for breads, cookies and hearty main dishes.

Many people enjoy spending some of December and the other winter months outdoors. For these readers, there are tips on doing outdoor photography in cold weather and identifying animal tracks in the snow. There is also a schedule of special astronomical events.

For the reader who prefers staying indoors, there are short stories and poems by Emily Dickinson and Henry David Thoreau.

The National Wildlife Federation's "December Treasury" is available by mail from the NWF, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, DC 20036 (specify order number 19723) for $20.95 including postage and handling ($22.95 after January 1, 1986). It is also for sale at the Wildlife Shops at 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, DC, and the Laurel Ridge Conservation Education Center, 8925 Leesburg Pike, Vienna, Va. (Monday thru Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.).

The National Wildlife Federation, which will be 50 years old next year, is the nation's largest conservation organization with 4.5 million members and supporters and 51 affiliates. It is a major publisher of wildlife information including its magazines for adults, "National Wildlife" and "International Wildlife," and for children, "Ranger Rick" and "Your Big Backyard."

Few people realize that the asparagus is a member of the lily family. If allowed to grow, the asparagus tips would throw out tall stalks and crown them with six-petaled flowers, the trademark of the lily.

MARGIE N. OSBORNE CANDIDATE FOR
PRESTONSBURG CITY COUNCIL
 NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

(Pol. adv. paid for by candidate, 10-16-31-pd.)

National Award Winner

The National Secondary Education Council has announced that Delilah Rice has been named an Academic All-American.

The NSEC has established the Academic All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The Academic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average.

Miss Rice, who attends Betsy Layne High School, was nominated for this national award by Janet Akers, anatomy teacher. Delilah will appear in the Academic All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

She is presently serving her fourth year on the majorette squad, two of those years she has been drum major. She is also a member of the Beta Club and annual staff. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Rice, of Banner. Her grandparents are Nicy Rice and the late Elmer Rice, of Banner, and Mr. and Mrs. Dock Hall, of Betsy Layne.

Beshear To Speak At Lodge Luncheon

Lieutenant Governor Steve Beshear will be the guest speaker at the Kentucky Human Services luncheon Friday noon, Nov. 1 at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Several area legislators and members of the organization from Districts 9, 10, 11 and 12 will be attending.

The Kentucky Human Services Association consists of caseworkers and social workers employed by the Cabinet for Human Resources, but the luncheon is open to any interested in human services.

Early Reports on Pupil Help Program Held Encouraging

State and local school officials are beginning an evaluation of one of Kentucky's newest educational reforms, and what they are hearing so far is music to their ears.

The program that began just this fall in 180 Kentucky School districts brings 900 specially trained teachers and instructional assistants to the aid of first- and second-graders who may be having trouble keeping up with their classes.

Twelve thousand children are receiving extra help in reading and mathematics this year under the program.

The remedial program is part of a new law, Senate Bill 169, enacted by the 1984 General Assembly. The law required Kentucky educators to define the skills that are essential for learning success in each grade in reading, writing, spelling, math and library reference.

The legislation also required that all students be tested each year for mastery of those skills. Students who failed to demonstrate mastery would become eligible for remedial assistance.

Implementation of the program was staggered. Skills were defined in reading and math and were introduced for the first time in the 1984-85 school year. Students were tested for mastery of those skills for the first time last spring. Those not mastering them began to receive the remedial help this fall.

"We believe it was critical to identify the skills that are necessary for learning, to teach those skills and then to test for their mastery," said Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald, who proposed the plan to the legislature.

"At the same time, we believe that it was not fair to test students for mastery without providing ample opportunity for them to receive remedial assistance should that mastery not come readily."

The General Assembly appropriated $16 million for remedial assistance for students in grades one and two.

"This is one of the best things to come down the pike," Wolfe County School Superintendent Tony Collins said. "Small classes and individual instruction provide a way to bring students up to par."

Fayette County Superintendent Ron Walton likes the program because "it provides for several different models to give local schools and the state department flexibility in improving the performance of low-achieving student," he said.

Flexibility is the key element of the program, and participation is based on several levels of criteria.

Children who scored up to 10 percent below the set mastery levels in reading or math on the Kentucky Essential Skills test are receiving remedial help from their regular classroom teachers.

Pupils who scored between 10 percent and 25 percent below mastery levels are benefiting from the services of specially trained instructional assistants. Each assistant works with no more than 22 students under the supervision of the regular classroom teacher.

Many of the children who scored 26 percent or more below mastery are being served in separate, self-contained "transition" classrooms where no more than 15 pupils work with a specially trained teacher.

Other eligible pupils are served in their regular classrooms by "collaborating teachers" who work with up to 15 students, coaching them in reading and math.

The state Department of Education conducted a nationwide search for exemplary remedial programs, said Joanne Brookes, who heads the department's Division of Compensatory Education.

The best practices from several of these model programs were incorporated in Kentucky's program. The work was completed and the program distributed in time for the opening of school this fall.

They did "two years' work in one year's time," state Rep. Louie Mack, D-Lexington, told the Subcommittee on Elementary and Secondary Education on Sept. 27.

Brooks and her staff credit the speedy implementation to the assistance of an ad hoc task force of parents, teachers and administrators that helped review proposals and make recommendations for operating the program.

"Everyone knows by instinct that the most crucial factor in a child's learning is the teacher," said Diane Teasley, remediation unit director.

"We went one step further, found the research that actually proved it, and then concentrated on identifying effective teaching techniques and training teachers to use them."

The training was conducted in eight regional sessions in September. It emphasized such techniques as identification of student learning styles, strategies for lesson presentation, evaluation of student learning and parent-teacher communications.

As a further aid to teachers, a guidebook was prepared and distributed to all teachers working with the program. It contains learning activities for each essential skill geared toward students' three learning channels: visual, auditory and tactile.

Post-test scores at the end of the current school year will be used to judge the effectiveness of the program. However, those results will not be available in time for consideration by the General Assembly when it convenes in January.

"This is too important to wait," McDonald said. "If the program is as good as we've already been told, we want to recommend to the General Assembly that it be expanded to grades three and four."

Written data will be collected and reviewed through Dec. 15. It will include analysis of the skills the pupils were deficient in when they began the program and the skills that have been mastered with the program's help.

"We believe that early intervention and individualized instruction will make a significant difference for low-achieving youngsters," McDonald said.

If students achieve academic success early, they will want to finish their high school educations later on, McDonald said. That can mean improvements in future dropout rates, she predicted.

"If that happens as we hope it will, Kentucky will have solved two problems with one program. I call that a good investment," she said.

HRMC To X-Ray Treats Again

Highlands Regional Medical Center will again x-ray candy on trick or treat night in the Big Sandy, free of charge. Parents may bring candy to HRMC's emergency room between 6 and 9 p.m. Thursday, October 31.
"As far as we know, all the communities in our service area that observe trick or treat have set Thursday, Oct. 31, as trick or treat night this year," said HRMC Public Information Officer Kurt Pickering. "Not everyone has set the same hours, but no one starts earlier than 6 and no one stops later than 9, as far as we know, so we will use those hours as our time frame. We will have additional staff on hand to handle the additional work."

The Medical Center can't guarantee that candy that has been x-rayed is absolutely safe, because there are ways of tampering that x-rays won't show. But having candy x-rayed is a good idea because it does pick up metal, and pins inserted into candy are a favorite trick of people who tamper with treats.

"It's a shame that the need exists to do this sort of thing," Pickering said, "but on the other hand, we've never turned up any dangerous objects in the candy we've x-rayed since we started doing this in 1983. We're happy to say this kind of thing doesn't appear to have spread into eastern Kentucky, but we think people should make the effort to have this done. Hardly a Halloween goes by anymore without stories about candy tampering somewhere."

In addition to having candy x-rayed, HRMC recommends that parents discard any homemade treats. Wrappings of pre-packaged candy should be closely inspected for signs of tampering, especially needle holes. Above all, children should call only on people they know when trick-or-treating.

Parents Anonymous To Meet At PCC

The first Parents Anonymous group in Eastern Kentucky is being formed under the Continuing Education Department at Prestonsburg Community College. The sponsor of the group is Dr. Alice Adams, teacher at the college who has experience in group work, who will be assisted by her husband, Hugh, a retired minister.

The group will meet once a week beginning in early November. Membership is kept anonymous, and all information is confidential. The purpose of the group is to help parents under stress. The stress may cause anger and frustration to be taken out on the children. Membership is open to anyone in the community who wants to learn how to react differently. For more information, call Alice Adams, or her husband Hugh, at 874-9874. Parents anonymous also has a 24-hour hotline for parents with an immediate crisis; 1-800-432-9251.

Parents need not pay for childcare during these meetings, because free care will be provided. Transportation is also available. Thomas Sims, counselor at PCC comments, "We find that most parents who abuse children really care about their child. They are not bad; they simply are confused and frustrated and do not know what else to do. Many of the parents are in a lot of pain over their behavior, but they do not know what to do differently, or where to turn for help. This is why Parents Anonymous was formed, to give those hurting parents a place to find understanding and to help them learn new ways to deal with their children. They find other parents who share their concerns, pain, and confusion. It is the first time many of them feel acceptance, and this helps them find the strength to change."

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that Beaver Elkhorn Water District has filed with the Public Service Commission, at Frankfort, Kentucky, an application for revised schedule of rates to become effective upon approval by said Commission. Hearing is to be held November 14, 1985, at 9:00 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, in Hearing Room No. 2 of the Commission's Annex Building, 667 Commanche Trail Frankfort, Kentucky.

Said revised rates are as follows: Class of Service-Residential and Commercial. Rates—for each thousand gallons water purchased.

First 1000 gallons, $9.50 (minimum bill); next 19,000 gallons 1.73 per 1,000 gallons; next 30,000 gallons 1.50 per 1,000 gallons; next 50,000 gallons 1.30 per 1,000 gallons; over 100,000 gallons 1.15 per 1,000 gallons; Unmetered customers 12.96 per 1,000 gallons and resale customers—all consumption—$1.15 per 1,000 gallons.

The rates contained in the notice are the rates proposed by the Beaver Elkhorn Water District. However, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from these proposed rates. Such action may result in rates for customers other than the rates included in this notice.

Hunter Man Victim Of Traffic Accident

A traffic accident claimed the life of a Floyd county man, Thursday night, when the pickup truck he was driving left the roadway and collided with a tree.

According to Floyd county Coroner Roger Nelson, Woodrow Shepherd, 42, of Hunter, was northbound on Ky. 122 near the Price tiple, when the accident occurred at 11 p.m.

The accident is still under investigation by Troopers Critchlow and Cross of the Pikeville KSP Post.

Shepherd was born December 9, 1943 at Garth, the son of Woots and the late Anna Mae Shepherd. He was the husband of Glendean Case Shepherd, and was a farm worker.

In addition to his wife and father he is survived by three sons, Matthew Shepherd, McDowell, Woody Paul Shepherd, Banner, Earl Dean Shepherd, Hunter; one daughter, Mrs. Linda Dye, Hunter, Acie Gene and Roger Shepherd, both of Martin, Jack and Mike Shepherd, both of Drift, Earn and Hershel Shepherd, both of Warsaw, Indiana, and Larry Shepherd, of McDowell; two sisters, Mrs. Barbara Wright and Mrs. Susan Ratliff, both of Prestonsburg.

Funeral services were conducted Monday, October 28, at 11 a.m. at the home of Chris and Helene Spears, at Hunter, with Rev. Abe Vanderpool officiating. Burial was made in the Shepherd cemetery at Hite, under the direction of the Hall Funeral Home, Martin.

Mrs. Mayo Subject Of Turner Lecture

Carolyn Turner, Professor of Humanities at Prestonsburg Community College, will be the next speaker in the lecture series currently under way at the Kentucky Highlands Museum in Ashland. On Sunday, November 3, at 2 p.m., Professor Turner will discuss the life and times of the former owner of the museum property in a lecture entitled "Alka Mayo: Mountain Matriarch."

Mrs. Turner's knowledge of Mrs. John C.C. Mayo (Alka or Alice) stems from research done for a biography of Mrs. Mayo's husband, John C.C. Mayo, along with information derived from the dissertation she is currently completing for the University of Kentucky.

Although most people in the area recognize the name John C.C. Mayo, many probably do not realize the contributions Alice made to his work and to the area. Besides being a resourceful businessperson, capable of handling her husband's companies after his death, she was also a fascinating woman who became infatuated with her teacher (John C.C. or Calhoun), worked to overcome considerable competition for his attention, financed their "honeymoon" and early life together, carried his gold in leather strips hidden in her skirt, held the companies together after his death in spite of many money mongrels and eventually became the toast of Palm Beach society.

Health Service Urges Flu Shots

The flu, a temporary ailment for most of us, can cause serious health complications for persons in certain "high-risk groups." With the flu season getting under way, state health officials are urging those in high-risk groups to be vaccinated against influenza.

"Any person, including a child, with a history of chronic heart or lung disease is in the top priority group for influenza vaccinations," said Dr. Ward Hinds, an epidemiologist in the Kentucky Department for Health Services. "Others in the high risk group are those with chronic kidney disease or diabetes and residents of nursing homes and other chronic care facilities."

Everyone older than 65 should be vaccinated as well, Hinds said. Other individuals who should be vaccinated are physicians, nurses and other health care professionals who have extensive contact with high-risk patients.

All of these groups should be vaccinated every fall, he said, since the flu season usually begins in November. Outbreaks are unpredictable, so those who need vaccines should get them as soon as possible, Hinds said.

Influenza vaccines may be administered to almost everyone, except persons with severe hypersensitivity to eggs and persons who have an acute short-term illness with fever. To minimize concern over possible side effects, pregnant women should wait until the second or third trimester of pregnancy before taking the vaccine, he said.

Persons who should be vaccinated against influenza should contact their personal physician or their local health department.

As you can see from the above Board Order No. 5379, the Floyd County Board of Education approved a tax increase at their 10-2-85 board meeting. At the 10-23-85 public hearing that is required for the above tax increase, Dr. Adams stated that the hearing was not a 'question and answer' session. Wouldn't you think that if they wanted the support of the people that they would tell them exactly what they intended to use this money for? If they don't have to give us any answers, we don't have to give them any more money. Do you think that they have used the $17,920,446.88 that they already have to spend in the best interest of the children? If you think that the tax should be voted on, please sign the attached petition and return to one of the following:

We, the undersigned, as registered and qualified voters in Floyd County, Kentucky, hereby petition the Floyd County Board of Elections to place the general fund tax rate of 28.0 cents, passed by the Floyd County Board of Education on Oct. 2, 1985 on the ballot for voter approval or disapproval at the next general election. This is a protest against the above tax.

WE'RE ALL GOOD DEMOCRATS BUT WE'VE HAD ENOUGH!

Last week's issue of the Times stated that the residents of Mine Branch (Water-Gap) had received 300 tons of gravel and a firm promise to black-top our road. We were promised black-top by election day, not election day four years from now. In the meantime-where's the gravel and when was it put there? As loyal Democrats, it saddens us to conclude that our County Officials have built a government ran solely on promises. If you took away all our promises, we sink into China. We urge all our neighbors and fellow Democrats to vote Republican. Ask your self, "Just what have we got to lose?"

Says Pageant Unfair

The recent Jenny Wiley Pageant had a lot of contestants' mothers upset. After paying $25 for their children to enter the pageant—not to mention the time and cost of having a costume made—the winners only received a trophy and banner. No crowns were given to the winners. There were no runner-up trophies or participation trophies. The contestants did not receive score sheets. Nor was there a master score sheet—all of which are normally given and done in pageants.

Although mothers paid an additional $3 admission, most were not allowed back inside to view the rest of the pageant after their child had participated.

The outcome of the pageant was most upsetting, when later it was learned that the winner in a certain age group was the director's niece and the granddaughter of another pageant organizer.

This isn't meant to give all pageants a bad reputation, because most are done fairly. It's just a warning to those who enter pageants to check out pageant directors, know directors who have a reputation of having good fair pageants, and beware of the ones who allow their relatives to enter.

We urge all other contestants' mothers of this pageant to speak out and let their feelings be known, so that something will be done and next year we might have a fair pageant to enter our children in.

FRANCES HALL
Prestonsburg

(Editor's note: Invited to respond, Mrs. E.L. Bierman, founder of the Jenny Wiley Festival, said three impartial and experienced judges were brought from Lexington to adjudicate the pageant. In view of the fact that the judges "didn't know a person in the county," Mrs. Bierman said, "I didn't feel that my grandchild should be punished just because I founded the festival."

Every pageant committee has the right to set its own rules regarding the awarding of trophies, and the large number of participants in this year's pageant—about 60—precluded the awarding of participation certificates, Mrs. Bierman said. None who paid admission was intentionally excluded from viewing the whole pageant, she said.)

Revenue "Poorly Managed"

After attending the 10-2-85 Floyd County Board of Education meeting, I was impressed with the way the meeting was conducted. However, at the 10-23-85 tax hearing held by the board, it was "business as usual" with our school board members. The monitor from the Ky. Dept. of Education was not present at the tax hearing.

I realize that we need more money in our school system, but I feel that the board should be more accountable with the money they have before they ask the taxpayers to dig deeper into their pockets.

From the amount of money raised by PTA's, PTO's, and Booster Clubs throughout the county, it's obvious people are willing to spend money for the children. They know what that money is to be used for.

At the 10-23-85 tax hearing, Dr. Adams (the board chairman), told us that it was not a "question and answer" session. In other words, they don't have to tell us what they're going to do with our tax dollars... even though they're a public body and are accountable to the people for the tax dollars given them.

For example, we're paying our former superintendent $44,973 (this figure does not reflect the 4 to 8% increase for the 85-86 school year which will be given to certified personnel). Yet as of 10-21-85, he had no job description nor does he have any designated duties. We're also paying a consultant $200 per day plus expenses to aid a Special Education teacher, because she does not have the qualifications to teach that class. The board is also incurring additional legal expenses to fight a lawsuit filed by the fully certified teacher who had been teaching that Spec. Ed. class. She was not re-hired for the 84-85 school year even though the board had exempted Spec. Ed. teachers from receiving termination letters that year.

These are just a few examples of poorly managed taxpayers' dollars. Citizens have a right to demand accountability for their tax dollars. Public board meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month. Hope to see you there.

Class Helps Cleanup

Mrs. Diane Hunsucker's reading class is trying to help clean up the school and community so we can have a cleaner country to live in. We are making posters and speeches and going around to each class, talking about cleaning up America. We hope you will clean up, too, by using garbage service. Please don't throw litter out car windows onto the street or into the creek. If the garbage truck does not run in your neighborhood, please call Floyd County Department of Sanitation. If you see any garbage in the street or anywhere else, please pick it up.

The Commission's Side

As superintendent of the Wheelwright Utilities, I am insulted and disappointed at the statements that our Mayor and the City Council made last week. I would like to take this time and opportunity to ask Mayor Ferguson to stop playing politics with our drinking water and the safety of our property.

Not only did the State Police not ask Mr. Ferguson to turn off the electricity, but I was present when they asked him to turn it back on before the whole town burned. Also he stated that there were no operable fire hydrants at the fire site. I challenge him to prove this, as there were three operable fire hydrants within one hundred feet of the fire.

He also stated we have a hundred thousand gallon water tank, when in fact it is a two hundred thousand gallon water tank and was built by Anna Jean Tackett and the Floyd County Urban Renewal, not by the City.

He stated the power was off twenty-five minutes, when in fact it took us over an hour to convince the Ky. Power Company to turn it back on and when they did, it single-phased the water plant, burning out two pumps which are now causing a severe water shortage for our customers.

His actions caused me to remove the fence at the clarifier tank at the sewage treatment plant so some of the fire trucks could pump raw sewage to fight the fire with.

Last but not least, after helping us, the Wayland Fire Department was refused fuel to get home by one of the city commissioners until Don Daniels, Tommy Engle and myself agreed to pay for it.

Slim & Sally Thompson

Robinson, Illinois

Slim and Sally Thompson sing for the Lord in a unique testimony and preaching ministry in which they give all the glory to the Lord Jesus Christ.

They were country and western singers whose careers from the early part of 1970 to 1974 seemed to be well on the road to success. Their stage appearances had placed them with such stars as Bill Anderson, Loretta Lynn, Kenny Price, Ernest Tubbs, Red Sovine and many others. Shows such as these, nite club engagements and the recording of several records, gave all appearances of a happily contented couple on their way to bigger and better things.

But hidden behind the glittering lights lay the bondage of drugs, alcohol and a crumbling marriage. In January 1975, everything fell apart. They separated, with Slim near death due to a duodenal ulcer for which surgery had been unsuccessful. At the bottom of his rope, Slim received the Lord Jesus Christ as his Savior on April 10, 1975. He was saved, healed and delivered and was able to lead Sally to the Lord a few weeks later. Sally also was saved, healed and delivered and their marriage was restored.

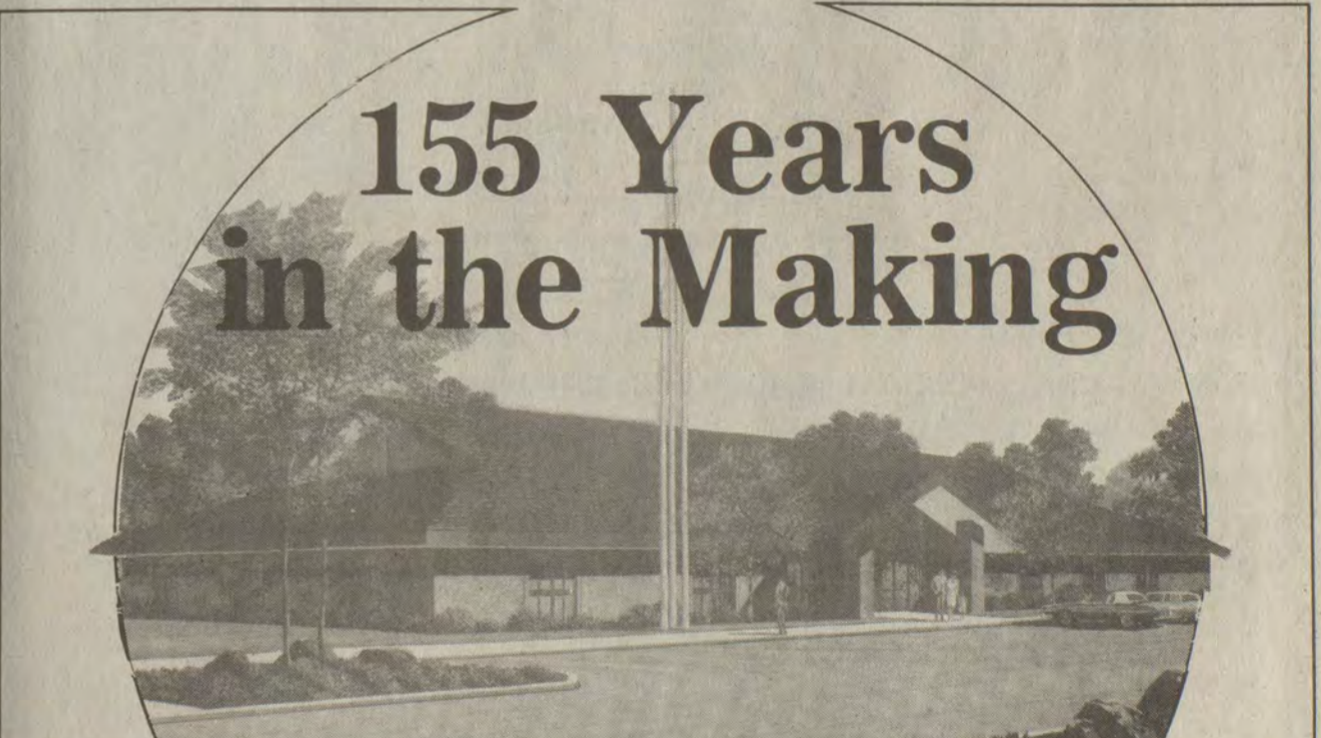

Slim and Sally, along with their two children Jason and Summer, now reside at the Joshua House Ministries, Inc. in Trimble, IL. There they direct a teaching center through which hundreds have come to both a new and deeper understanding knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Their ministry also travels and they have sung, given testimony and preached the Word, in parks, churches of all denominations, and various fellowships. God has opened doors for Revivals and Seminars in which many have been saved, healed, delivered and filled with the Holy Spirit. This has all been done by and to the Glory of the Lord Jesus Christ.

in the Making

The newest chapel of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (the Mormons) in the Martin, Ky. area is now finished. No, the building itself wasn't begun 155 years ago—but the Church was, in 1830. Since then membership has grown so rapidly that two new Mormon chapels, (much like this one) are completed, somewhere in the world, every single day, and is where Sunday worship services are held for the entire family.

Come to our OPEN HOUSE and see some unique features of the building:

- A stage for plays and other cultural events
- A carpeted gymnasium
- A satellite receiver dish

At the OPEN HOUSE you will also learn about:

- The oldest organization for women in the world

- The largest sponsorship of scouting in the United States
 - The world's most extensive genealogy program
 - Our programs for the youth—basketball, softball, dances, public speaking, leadership
- In 45 minutes—

Power Outage Set For Next Sunday

A main transmission line carrying electricity between Evanston in Breathitt county and Lackey in this county will be out of service for eight hours on Sunday, a Kentucky Power Company spokesman said Tuesday. But the outage may affect few if any Floyd residents, he said.

The outage is scheduled to run from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., while poles and crossarms are being replaced on some sections of the 69KV line, said power company spokesman Leon Huffman. Affected will be customers served from Kentucky Power's Spring Fork station at Evanston and from Big Sandy RECC's station on Salt Lick in this county.

The RECC is expected to be able to continue serving its Salt Lick customers by bringing in power by a different route, however. "I doubt whether the outage will affect anyone in Floyd county," Huffman said.

A DYNAMIC DUO...Wendell Burke (No. 29) leads the way for backfield partner B.D. Nunnery (No. 23) in a 21-point victory over Pikeville. Both runners are senior stand-outs on the playoff-bound Blackcat squad.

Blackcats Claw Out Ninth Victory Of '85

New, would be a good word to describe the Prestonsburg Blackcats in their 37-16 win over the Pikeville Panthers on Friday night. New jerseys, new plays, and new enthusiasm marked their ninth victory of the season, as they bounced back from last week's heartbreaking loss to Harrison county.

"Our attitude, our enjoyment of the game and our determination came back to the surface in tonight's game," commented 'Cats headcoach Chuke Williams after the game in which his offensive unit amassed 461 yards of total offense against a good, well-disciplined Panther defense.

Prestonsburg drew first blood at the 9:20 mark of the first quarter when quarterback, John Goble, hit Pete Green in the corner of the Panther endzone capping a 64 yard, seven play drive. Brent Hackworth's extra point attempt failed leaving the 'Cats with a 6-0 lead.

After a Panther series of nine plays, that ended at mid-field, the 'Cats took possession at their own 36 yard line and began a seven play drive that ended with Ronnie Slone going over right tackle for a two yard score. The 'Cats successfully completed a two point conversion and found themselves ahead 14-0, with 3:40 remaining in the first quarter.

After stopping the Panthers on their next series with an interception by Pete Greene, the potent Prestonsburg offense again took the field at their own 44 yard line. B.D. Nunnery, who needed eight rushing yards to top the 1,000 mark for the season picked up five yards on the first play from scrimmage. With the clock showing 22 seconds remaining in the first quarter, the 'Cats lined up in the wishbone formation splitting their receiver Greene out to the left. Goble took the snap from center and rolled to his right, giving the ball to his halfback Wendell Burke. Burke broke two tackles near the line of scrimmage and raced 65 yards for the 'Cats third touchdown. A successful two point conversion gave the overpowering 'Cats a 22-0 lead, a score that remained the same through the second quarter and into intermission.

The Panthers put their first points on the board on their first offensive series

IN A PANTHER'S GRASP is Blackcat quarterback John Goble. Goble and his teammates were impressive in a victory over the Pikeville Panthers last Friday night. The final game of the regular season will be played at Morgan County this Friday night.

in the second half as the 'Cats were caught napping on a 78 yard pass play from Henson to Washington, which cut the Prestonsburg lead to 22-8, with 5:22, remaining in the third quarter. The 'Cats answered back on their next offensive series as Nunnery ended a 72 yard scoring drive with an eight yard run around the right end. Nunnery's touchdown run and successful conversion attempt pushed his season scoring total to 110 points. The 'Cats were now up 30-8.

The final scoring play of the game for the 'Cats came with 1:52 left in the third quarter after the recovery of a Pikeville fumble on the Panthers' 17 yard line.

Taking advantage of the error the 'Cats put the ball in the endzone on a 17 yard run off of a-broken play by John Goble. Brent Hackworth's extra point kick split the uprights making the score 37-8. The Panthers attempted a valiant comeback but were only able to score one more touchdown before the final horn sounded, the final score being 37-16.

Wendell Burke was the lead rusher for Prestonsburg, picking up 156 yards in six carries, and 1 touchdown.

B.D. Nunnery gave Coach Williams his first 1,000 running back, picking up 116 yards on 15 carries, as well as a touchdown. Shag Branham and Ronnie Slone proved their skills as runners gaining 59 and 41 yards respectively.

The 'Cats passing attack was on target again as John Goble found Pete Greene on three occasions for 49 yards and one touchdown, Stacy Marshall for a 25 yards and Branham for 17 yards.

Prestonsburg will travel to West Liberty this Friday to take on the winless Morgan County Cougars. The 'Cats have won their district and will be starting their quest for the Class "AA" championship, in two weeks.

C.E.S. Girls Team Defeats Wayland

Clark Elementary School's girls' basketball team defeated Wayland 39-17 in a contest last Thursday night.

The opening tip-off went to Clark, with fast paced action continuing throughout the game. Clark was led in scoring by Edwina Hale with 12 points and Suprina Crum with 11. Also scoring for Clark were Teresa Wright, 6 points; Amy Hicks and Nellie Sturgill; each with 4, and Carolyn Reffett with 2.

Debbie Fraley led the Wayland team with 8 points, and Nicole Kester, 5. Racheal Martin and Robin Johnson each scored two points.

Ronnie Patton coaches the Wayland team and Blake Meadows and Bridgett Clay are Clark's coaches.

Indians Sting Wasps

The Clark Elementary Indians stung the Wayland Wasps last Friday night, 73-24. Chris Slone set the pace for Clark, scoring 10 of the 18 points earned in the opening stanza.

By half-time, the Wayland Wasps had scored a hard-earned 12 points, but the Indians still led with 36 points at games end, Clark had easily defeated the Wasps 73-24.

Chris Slone was top scorer for Clark with 21 points. Ray Collins followed with 17. Other players scoring were Bill Compton, 12; Kevin Adams, 6; Stevie Robinson, 6; Brian Meadows, 4, and Kevin Calhoun, 2.

Wayland's Brian Combs scored 8 points; Joey Gray, 8; Kevin Hall, 6, and Phillip Ritchie, 2.

According to Clark's coach Dale McKinney, the Indians had only practiced six sessions, and he was extremely pleased with their performance. Said McKinney, "You've got to give Wayland credit. They kept trying."

Clark also defeated Betsy Layne Tuesday, October 22, with a score of 45-34. Chris Slone led with 18 points and Ray Collins with 14.

Bobcats, Trojans Score Large Margins

No one could accuse the Betsy Layne Bobcats of looking to this week's football contest with rival Pikeville and forgetting their immediate task of facing the Sheldon Clark Cardinals last Friday evening.

In what may prove to be one of their best offensive performances of the season, the Bobcats tallied 360 yards of offense, shutting out the Cardinals 46-0.

The Bobcat defensive squad made their presence known also, as they picked off four Sheldon Clark passes.

Betsy Layne will face their inter-area rival, the Pikeville Panthers, in their final home game of the season.

The Wheelwright Trojans won their final home game of the '85 season as they trounced the visitors from Jenkins, 54-20.

David Hall highlighted an outstanding running game with 275 yards on 15 carries, an incredible 18 yards per-carry average. Hall scored five touchdowns for the night.

Also grinding up the gridiron were Trojan runners Tony Hutton and Doug Little. Hutton finished the evening with 152 yards while Little picked up 24 yards on four carries.

The longest run from scrimmage came on a second quarter run by Hutton, who had scored the Trojan's first touchdown, when he sprinted 69 yards for a 24-6 lead.

The game ended with 4:38 seconds left on the clock when both teams' coaches agreed to call the game off.

The Trojans will end their '85 season when they travel to Paintsville this Friday night.

Bassin' Buddies Tourney

The Bassin' Buddies last tourney was held on Cumberland Lake out of Conley Bottom. The fishermen had eight hours of fishing from daylight on. Now, Cumberland is no small lake by any standards and at blast-off boats quickly scattered in all directions far and wide.

Tee Watkins and David Smith decided to stay close and check some points around the dock for about the first hour, and two keeper fish were quickly taken on warms. After the sun came up, the couple decided to make the long run to the lower end of the lake where more familiar water lay. But only three miles into the run they encountered engine trouble. With seven hours of fishing left, the only thing to do was fish back to the dock. It turned out that bad luck was good luck as seven hours of slow, steady fishing produced three more keepers and first place for the two.

Watkins and Smith's five fish came on worms and buzz bait and weighed 5 pounds, 7 ounces. Alan Sublett and Delbert Ison took four fish on buzz baits that weighed 4 pounds, 2 ounces, for second. Father and son combination, J.R. Frisby and Larry Frisby, came in third place with their fish also being caught on buzz baits. Paul Hagans won the luncheon award with a 1 pound 10 ounce largemouth.

The tournament was sponsored by B&L Jewelers and East Kentucky Beverage of Paintsville.

To Play for Transy

Kelly Cecil, a 6'6" sophomore forward on the Transylvania Pioneers, "is one of the strongest and most physical players on the team." Pioneer Coach Don Lane said recently.

Cecil, a native of Prestonsburg and a graduate of Prestonsburg High School, was described by Lane as having "the potential to be an excellent rebounder and shooter. He worked hard on his physical condition during the off-season and will help us considerably on the boards this season."

The Pioneers finished last season with a 15-11 record.

Escort Overlooked

A photo caption in last week's Times inadvertently failed to identify the escort for Jamie Rhea Harris, Prestonsburg High School Homecoming Queen. He was Herbie Lemaster, son of Paul Lemaster and the late Delores Lemaster.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Malta Richardson express their appreciation and thanks to all the relatives, friends, and neighbors who sent flowers, brought food and shared comforting words during the time of our loss.

A special thanks to the ministers, Kenneth Trimble and Lemuel Williams, the Highland Regional Medical Center's second floor nursing staff and doctors; also, Carter Funeral Home for their kindness and consideration.

SON ENDORSES FATHER

When the May flood hit, Gerald DeRossett was up before daylight and going to bed after dark. When the Left Fork of Abbott was blocked by a slide that could have used a D-9 dozer, Gerald moved it with a backhoe and a few volunteers. When the blizzard hit Floyd County, Gerald and his grader-man were out when nobody else was, cleaning city streets and county roads. Gerald, his county workers, and volunteers hauled sawdust 16 hours a day, not only in an emergency, but every day. He is on the job full time, every day, as a county servant.

If the voters of District 1 want to listen to a big bag of wind, go ahead; but if you want an honest, full time, hard-working magistrate, vote on Nov. 5, and re-elect Gerald DeRossett.

I can say all of this for a fact, because I am usually Dad's main volunteer.

On All-State Team

Miss April Reeves was named to the All-State High School Basketball Team. She was chosen for this high athletic honor by a board of coaches, sports writers and state officials.

Miss Reeves, 16-year-old junior at Wheelwright High School, has played basketball for the past 5 years. A member of the WHS Lady Trojan team for the past three years, she also played two years for the Melvin Grade School Cougars.

She is the daughter of Jack and Marge Reeves, of Melvin.

VISITORS HERE

Mrs. Jackie Shahady and daughter, Mrs. Albert Skutan, of Williamsburg, Va., were houseguests during the past weekend of Mrs. Rebecca Rasnick and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pettrey. They were joined Saturday by Mrs. Rasnick's daughter, Mrs. Joyce Harris, and daughter, Becky Lou, of Lexington. All of them spent some time visiting Rudolph Spencer, of Garrett, who has been ill but is showing some improvement.

Soap Beat

'Days of Our Lives' needs a strong dose of originality

By Nancy M. Reichardt

On Nov. 8, NBC's daytime drama "Days of Our Lives" will celebrate its 20th anniversary.

Kristian Alfonso

Long-time viewers fervently hope that their favorite soap will last another 20 years. But the show's current story lines are making some fans wonder what happened to the show they have always loved.

The show's press releases still claim that the story lines revolve around the Horton clan, but only three members of that clan survive, and they are rarely, if ever, seen in front-burner stories.

In past years, "Days of Our Lives" was innovative and exciting. The interracial romance between David Banning and Valerie Grant was a first, for example, and fans cried buckets of tears over the Laura Spencer-Mickey Horton-Bill Horton love triangle. A year ago, fans were hopeful that the Mar-lena and Roman Brady story line would endure, but it didn't, and they've been watching a barrage of teenage plots since.

Today, "Days" all too often resembles reruns of "General Hospital." The Pete Jannings-Melissa Anderson (Michael Leon-Lisa Trusel) on-the-run story, for example, is a carbon copy of Luke and Laura's escapades from "General Hospital" a few years back.

"Days" does have one of daytime's hottest couples in Bo and Hope Brady (Peter Reckell and Kristian Alfonso). But how many times can viewers be asked to swallow the antics of these two nubile sleuthes, who have been tracking down underworld figures, crooked cops and mass murderers. (There have even been two mass murder story lines within an 18-month period.)

The current cops-and-robbers plot has more twists than a pretzel. But it's not nearly as salty. Even daily viewing won't be of much assistance for viewers trying to sort out the plot mess.

Still, "Days" has consistently stayed in the upper half of the Nielsen ratings. And it boasts characters that viewers can care about. A transfusion of imaginative, cohesive story lines could give "Days" the boost it needs to bring it to the top.

Come on "Days," your fans are rooting for you!

STONE PILLOW

Lucille Ball returns in a rare dramatic role as an elderly New York shopping bag lady existing on scraps, spunk and dead dreams, in "Stone Pillow." It airs on "The CBS Tuesday Night Movie," TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5.

STEPHEN KING'S SILVER BULLET (R-Paramount) Starring Gary Busey, Everett McGill, Corey Haim. ★

By J.T. YURKO

When you're hot you're hot, and Stephen King is hot. At this point, he could write a laundry list and someone would option the movie rights.

This time, however, Dino De Laurentiis might have done better if he had produced a laundry list. It would have been at least as exciting as "Silver Bullet."

Perhaps De Laurentiis thought he was getting a sequel to "The Lone Ranger." No such luck. "Silver Bullet" is about a werewolf. (A silver bullet is needed to kill a werewolf, hence the title.)

A fog permeates the movie, both literally and figuratively. King has adapted his own novelette about the small town of Tarker's Mills. It seems that several of the town's inhabitants have been turning up without heads, limbs and other portions of their anatomy. Marty Coslaw (Corey Haim), a local 11-year-old who has obviously seen his share of Lon Chaney films, concludes that the killer is a werewolf.

For some reason, the townsfolk show a certain reluctance to believe this fantastic tale. Marty sets off in a wheelchair (also named Silver Bullet) and he begins his search for the wolfman, accompanied by his sister and "Uncle Red," Gary Busey, a talented actor who deserves a better role.

King tries to pad out his tale by working the handicapped theme to its fullest, but it doesn't add much to the bare-bones script.

Carlo Rambaldi, the special-effects wizard responsible for "E.T." and "Alien," is the real star here. He creates as realistic a transition from man to wolf as has been placed on celluloid, but the effect is one of distanced observation rather than chilly repulsion. What is repulsive is the blood and gore, which make the movie more than deserving of its "R" rating.

Michael J. Fox's success in "Back to the Future" is reported to have hastened the release of that other werewolf movie, "Teen Wolf," which is currently a big winner at the box office.

"Silver Bullet" has very little chance of achieving similar success. The word for it is "dud."

ANSWERS

INVITATION TO LEASE OFFICE SPACE

The Finance & Administration Cabinet of Kentucky desires to lease approximately 616 net square feet of office space to be located in Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Parking to accommodate four (4) vehicles must accompany the space. Space must be available for occupancy on or before December 1, 1985.

Responses may be made by any person in writing on or before 10:00 a.m., Wednesday, November 6, 1985. You need only to designate the type and location of the property, the name, address, and phone number of the property owner, and the date of availability of the property for lease. Lease requisition number PR-3174, should be clearly marked on the outside of the envelope of each proposal submitted to Room 171, New Capital Annex, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

All responses received will be publicly opened and read at the above designated time. You will be notified by a representative of the Leasing Branch so that an appointment can be made to inspect the proposed facility.

Property must be approved by the Office of the State Fire Marshal, meet OSHA and handicapped accessibility specifications, as well as existing applicable building codes. For any additional information, contact Ms. W.H. Lile of the Leasing Branch by phoning (502) 564-2430.

Firemen Injured In Freak Accident

A freak accident at the Prestonsburg Fire Department's annual Halloween haunted house sent three city volunteer firefighters and one Middle Creek firefighter to Highlands Regional Medical Center's emergency room Saturday, October 19.

Three of the victims were treated and released, but one, Rick Lemaster, 30, of Lancer, suffered severe burns on his right hand, prompting transfer to Louisville's Jewish Hospital and over eight hours of surgery.

According to Fire Chief Tom Blackburn, the accident occurred as Lemaster was loading flash powder into a "flash pot," a device used to produce a small explosion and flash of light to highlight a vampire scene at the haunted house. Blackburn said someone bumped into Lemaster, causing not only the flash pot to ignite, but also the powder in the bottle from which he was pouring.

Lemaster was said to have suffered lacerations to the central palm, thumb and forefinger. According to Blackburn, an operation was performed the next day to restore the thumb which, while not severed, was deeply cut. Blackburn said Lemaster was released from the hospital Sunday, and was expected to regain full use of his hand.

Also injured in the blast were Dewey Edward Stephens, 19, of the Middle Creek area, treated for powder burns to his legs; Kevin Lee Slone, 14, of Prestonsburg, treated for flash burns to his eyes and a knee injury; and Wendell Burke, 18, of West Prestonsburg, treated for hearing loss.

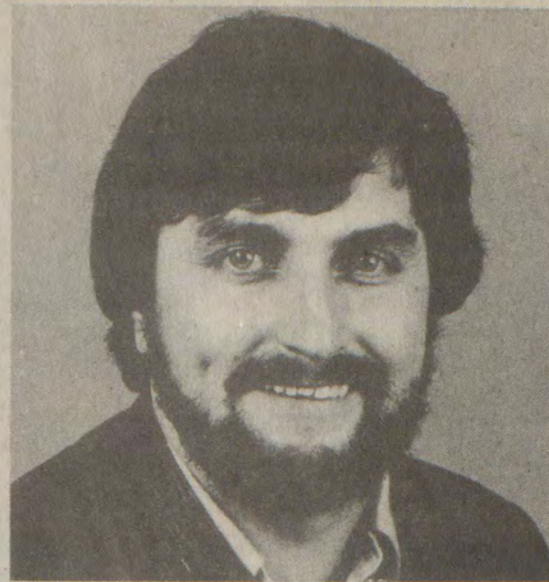

Blackburn said the fire department has been using flash pots every year since they began the haunted house in 1976, though this was the first time they've experienced any problem.

Luckily, said Blackburn, there were no spectators present when the accident occurred, as the firefighters were just setting up for the evening's show. "It's a safety factor," he said. "If anybody had been around, they could have been injured."

Though the haunted house was closed after the incident, it re-opened last Friday night at Archer Park's picnic pavilions, where it will continue through this Saturday. But Blackburn said the fire department was through with flash pots. "We're going to use some sort of electronic flash, maybe a strobe," he said.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children if purchased at the door, though adult tickets may be purchased in advance for $1 at the municipal building.

The first baseball uniforms were worn by the New York Knickerbockers in 1852. Outfits consisted of straw hats, white shirts and blue trousers.

Vote Jackie Edford OWENS Democrat For MAGISTRATE Dist. 2

TO ALL THE PEOPLE AND VOTERS OF DISTRICT 2:

In the last few days someone in our area has been passing out pamphlets in our surrounding communities stating FALSE ACCUSATIONS about ME and MY FAMILY. They are also downing the GRASSROOTS ORGANIZATION to below dirt. We have retrieved these pamphlets out of post offices, and have more than one witness that stated they were reached one of these pamphlets over the counter by an attendant at the Martin Liquor Store to read.

I KNOW that the POSTMASTERS IN DISTRICT 2 had nothing to do with this because they had already thrown them in the trash can and that they can't help what literature that the people come in and lay down; but it's AGAINST THE LAW to have campaign literature in an UNITED STATES POST OFFICE (without postage) and I know it's AGAINST THE LAW to have campaign literature in a liquor store.

I WILL be calling on the U.S. Postal Service to help catch these law breakers and I will be contacting the ABC (alcoholic Beverage Control) Commissioner to help catch the guilty parties who are violating liquor laws and help bring these guilty parties to justice.

If the people responsible for publishing and distributing this pamphlet are caught, I ASSURE YOU, my lawyer WILL PROSECUTE TO THE FULLEST EXTENT OF THE LAW.

P.S.—It's a CHEAP TRICK from a CHEAP BUNCH, but I have found a use for these pamphlets. I have a friend that has an outhouse and I gave them to him.
