

Fiscal Court Budget Demonstrates Caution

Losses Expected To Offset Gains In Coming Year

At least as far as the county budget is concerned, the bottom line can be deceptive.

To look at the "grand total of all funds"—the bottom line—on the budget presented last Friday to members of the Floyd fiscal court, is to see a 1986-87 budget more than twice the size of the current budget. Where there was $2.2 million to be spent here this year, the new budget anticipates receipts of $4.7 million.

But more than $1 million of the new funds is already in the bank and county officials hope to leave it there. That is the windfall natural gas tax that came to the county as the result of a rate ruling by the Public Service Commission in January. It's collecting $80,000 a year in interest and Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo has said he wants to keep it as a hedge against an almost certain loss of federal revenue-sharing money this fall.

The new budget is also swollen by federal grants totalling $445,000, but they, too, are one-time infusions and they are strictly for use on renovating the Mud Creek water system.

On the basis of this year's experience, which was a good year for coal sales, drafters of the budget are planning for increased coal severance tax receipts next year: for the same reason, taxes on other minerals are expected to be down, however.

In the 1985-86 budget, $333,000 was anticipated in coal severance and an identical amount in taxes on oil and natural gas. In fact, $514,000 has been received this year in coal taxes and the new budget anticipates $520,000 in coal receipts next year. This year's oil and

Child Support Trial Poses A Conundrum

A judge, in appointing a public defender, must determine the defendant is a pauper. But the courts cannot require a pauper to pay child support. Therefore, any defendant represented by a public defender has an automatic defense against a charge of non-support.

The apparent logic of that syllogism was put to the test last week in Floyd District Court, temporarily—but only temporarily—persuading the judge to let a defendant go free.

The case began in March last year, when Verdis Ousley, of Hueysville, was indicted by a grand jury on a felony charge of flagrant non-support brought by his ex-wife, Bernice Filsback, on behalf of their two teenage children.

Circuit Judge Hollie Conley, determining that Ousley had no job, income or property, appointed him a public defender but, last August, the case was remanded to district court for trial as a misdemeanor.

After a series of false starts and postponements—requiring fruitless trips to Prestonsburg on the part of Mrs. Filsback, who has since remarried and lives in Louisville—the case was set for trial here Thursday and attorneys were in the process of screening jurors when District Judge Harold Stumbo summoned them to a conference in his chambers.

David School Hailed As Model For Meeting Dropout Problem

Education luminaries from around the county joined state school Superintendent Alice McDonald, Monday, in commending the David School as a model dropout-prevention program.

During a "Partnership in Education" open house at the school, McDonald praised the program, founded in 1974 by Director Danny Greene and Principal Jean Ford, for keeping children in school and working to accommodate their individual needs. She said the facility is "showing the department of education we need David Schools all over the state."

McDonald, once a teacher in her home state of Louisiana, said during her classroom days she always wanted to deal with children according to their individual needs but was rarely able to do so. "I was too busy staying alive," she said.

The David School meets those needs where other, more traditional schools sometimes fail. She praised the school's penchant for bringing students back to

Litterbugs Get Benefit Of System, Some Charge

As surely as winter brings complaints about the roads, spring focuses attention on the problem of trash, a problem that some claimed this week is basically one of enforcement.

County governments and civic groups launched their annual assault on the problem last week. The fiscal court heard a plea that the cleanup be extended. A delegation from Cliff asked that the old access road there be closed before it, too, is transformed into an illegal dump. And some enforcement officials wondered aloud whether the district court is as helpful as it might be in resolving the problem of criminal littering.

A long-term solution to the littering blight will be found only when offenders are punished by the courts, said several enforcement officers, who charged that District Judge Harold Stumbo is reluctant to convict in criminal littering cases or to impose more than a token penalty.

County Ecology Officer Cleveland Tackett said that, of five cases he has taken to court in the past 18 months, three were dismissed, one defendant was ordered to pay a $10 fine and court costs, while another was required to pay costs only. "I get pretty disgusted with it," he said.

Captain Rodney Holbrook, supervisor of the Jenny Wiley State Park police, also claimed that the conviction rate is low for littering as for other citations, and that some cases have been dismissed "for lack of prosecution" when park officers have not even been notified when the cases are scheduled for trial.

"Seven different law agencies can write citations for littering, but they can't get any convictions," complained Bob McAninch, director of Floyd County Solid Waste, Inc. "But somebody's dumping it. It doesn't make sense."

The reluctance of some residents to use the county solid waste agency is directly related to the difficulty enforcement officers experience in securing a court conviction, he said. "If you can pitch your garbage for free and

Fatal Trailer Fire Under Investigation

An investigation is continuing this week of a suspicious trailer fire in which a Branham's Creek man died Thursday afternoon.

Parris Deal, 62, died about 1:30 p.m., possibly from inhaling smoke created by a fire that broke out in the trailer in which he lived with his wife, Octavia, and son, Joseph, said Floyd Coroner Roger Nelson.

According to Barry McKenzie, state police arson investigator, the fire appears to have started when a flammable liquid was poured on the linoleum floor in a hallway and ignited. "It wasn't an accidental fire, in my opinion," he said.

Joe Deal told him he had briefly left the trailer, having gone down the hollow to borrow tools, and saw smoke coming from a window of the trailer as he returned, Nelson said. He searched for his father in the smoke-filled trailer, came upon him on his bed, and helped him outside, where the older man collapsed in the driveway and died, the son is reported to have said.

The victim's wife was reported to have also been away from home.

W'wright-McDowell School Possible Within Two Years

If the $3.9 million estimated by state school authorities as the cost of building a new high school there turns out to be anywhere near the mark, the consolidated Wheelwright-McDowell school, which now ranks fourth on the district's building agenda, could be constructed with state funds anticipated during the next two years. Superintendent Ray Brackett told members of the Floyd Board of Education last week.

But Brackett, who earlier estimated the cost of a new high school as nearer to $6 million, said he thought the state estimate too low and suggested that only a first phase—perhaps a classroom and library block—could be built immediately, with a gymnasium to follow later.

A middle school at Lancer, a grade school at Allen, and a consolidated Wayland-Garrett school are also scheduled for construction with the new round of funding.

Brackett was named by the board to a panel, to which two others will be elected by Floyd teachers, which will hear any appeals by teachers against their official evaluation. Stricter, periodic teacher evaluation was mandated by state law two years ago. Teachers with satisfactory evaluations this year are due to receive a one-time $300 bonus.

Yielding to pressure by some fans who think his recent record has been unsatisfactory, the board voted not to rehire Wheelwright basketball coach Danny Johnson next year. Coach for about seven years, Johnson is also a tenured teacher.

The flood-ravaged sewage treatment plant at McDowell, which drew a notice of violation last year from the federal Environmental Protection Agency, will be replaced this summer at a cost of $99,565, to be paid out of federal disaster funds. The successful bid was offered by Polley and Trent, Inc. of Bardstown, one of six firms bidding on the project. Second-lowest bid—for $104,774—was submitted by Elliott Contracting, of Pikeville.

A Middlesboro engineering firm was hired to continue monitoring the Allen Central High School gymnasium, which was closed recently after cracks appeared in some of the walls. Vaughn and Melton, Inc. will report to the board on the safety of the building, it was said.

Hired were: Phyllis L. Wilson, certified substitute teacher; Michael Andre Rodriguez; Pamela P. Frasure; Carol Sue Daniels; Annette Harris; Rosanna Renee Ferguson; Tommy Adkins; Gwendolyn Hamilton; Pearl Watts; Clare Day; and Melinda Gay Hopkins, emergency substitute teachers; Faye Caudill, substitute cook at Garrett and Allen Central; Zetti Bentley; Bobby Bartley; and John Jarrell, substitute custodians; and Roma Lou Hamilton and Adrienne Shepherd, custodians.

Holbrook Is Mayor

Commissioner Dennis Holbrook was named mayor of Wheelwright at a meeting of the city commission Thursday. He will serve out the two-year term of Tommy Engle, who resigned as mayor on May 1 in order to return to his former post as the city's police chief. An opening now exists on the commission.

Bolton, Howell At Odds Over Clerk's Office

"It looked like Carla purchased just about anything she wanted from me," an angry Joe Bolton, husband of County Clerk Carla Bolton, told members of Floyd Fiscal Court last Friday. Anxious to tell "the rest of the story," Bolton offered "examples of how the clerk saved money" by doing business over the past two years with firms that he owns or represented.

Bolton was responding to an April report by state Department of Local Government officials, who recommended that the clerk's books be inspected by the state auditor or attorney-general. The Local Government officials cited a sharp drop in the fees the clerk is expected to turn over to the county this year and an equally steep increase in the amount spent by the clerk in equipping her office.

Heavy spending by Mrs. Bolton in 1984 and 1985 was done without fiscal court approval and without seeking competitive bids—a violation of state law—the Local Government report said. Moreover, some of the more costly items—including $40,000 worth of microfilming—were purchased from the clerk's husband, the state officials noted.

Bolton told the fiscal court that profit from his business with the Floyd clerk's office amounted only to $5446 over a two-year period. An order for 500 marriage licenses for which a competitor, Harp Enterprises, of Lexington, charged $135, he sold to the Floyd clerk for only $76; and binders available from Keith Jessie and Associates, of Campbellsville, for $210, he was able to sell for $160, Bolton said.

The microfilming of county records—done at a cost of $20,114 in 1984 and $19,954 in 1985 by Southern Rebinding Co., of Morgantown, N.C., a firm Bolton represented—was an urgent need, he said. Without it, a new building would have been necessary to store county records and the records would be irreplaceable in the event of a fire, he said.

In response to the argument that expenditures over $7500 must be advertised for bids, Bolton later produced sales records that showed he had contracted with the Greenup county clerk's office for $17,775 worth of microfilming last year, with the Jackson county clerk for $9790 in microfilming sales, and with the Lawrence county clerk for $22,000.

All the work was done without bidding, said Bolton, who added, "If it is supposed to be the law, the state hasn't made too many clerks aware of it."

Al Howell, a supervisor in the Local Government office, found Bolton's defense implausible, however. "All of these county clerks know what the law is. It is something any knowledgeable auditor checks on and, if they are not bidding properly, it will be brought out," he said.

Moreover, apart from the fact that her spending was done without authorization, the Floyd clerk has yet to give a satisfactory explanation of the sudden reduction in her excess fees, Howell said. "I've never seen a county where there was such a discrepancy from one year to another. I've never

Bridge Closing, Law Enforcement Affect Traffic

Coal truck traffic in Prestonsburg has dropped dramatically in recent days, though some truckers are now travelling across the 12-ton-limit Cliff Bridge—and inviting disaster—police report.

According to Police Chief Stan Fletcher, the change in traffic flow has resulted both from the closing of the Hager Hill bridge along U.S. 23 in Johnson county and from stricter enforcement of traffic laws here.

With the Hager Hill bridge closed, traffic is forced to take an alternate route between Prestonsburg and Paintsville. Two of the major routes have become KY 1428 across Abbott Mountain; and the Mountain Parkway to Salyersville and over new U.S. 460.

A number of heavy trucks, ranging from coal and cement trucks to tractor trailers, have been travelling 1428, necessitating crossing of the Cliff Bridge. The bridge's weight limit, set at 12 tons, falls below even the unloaded weight of most coal trucks, and a number of them have been cited for crossing the bridge fully loaded. A loaded coal truck can weigh upwards of 35-40 tons, said Fletcher.

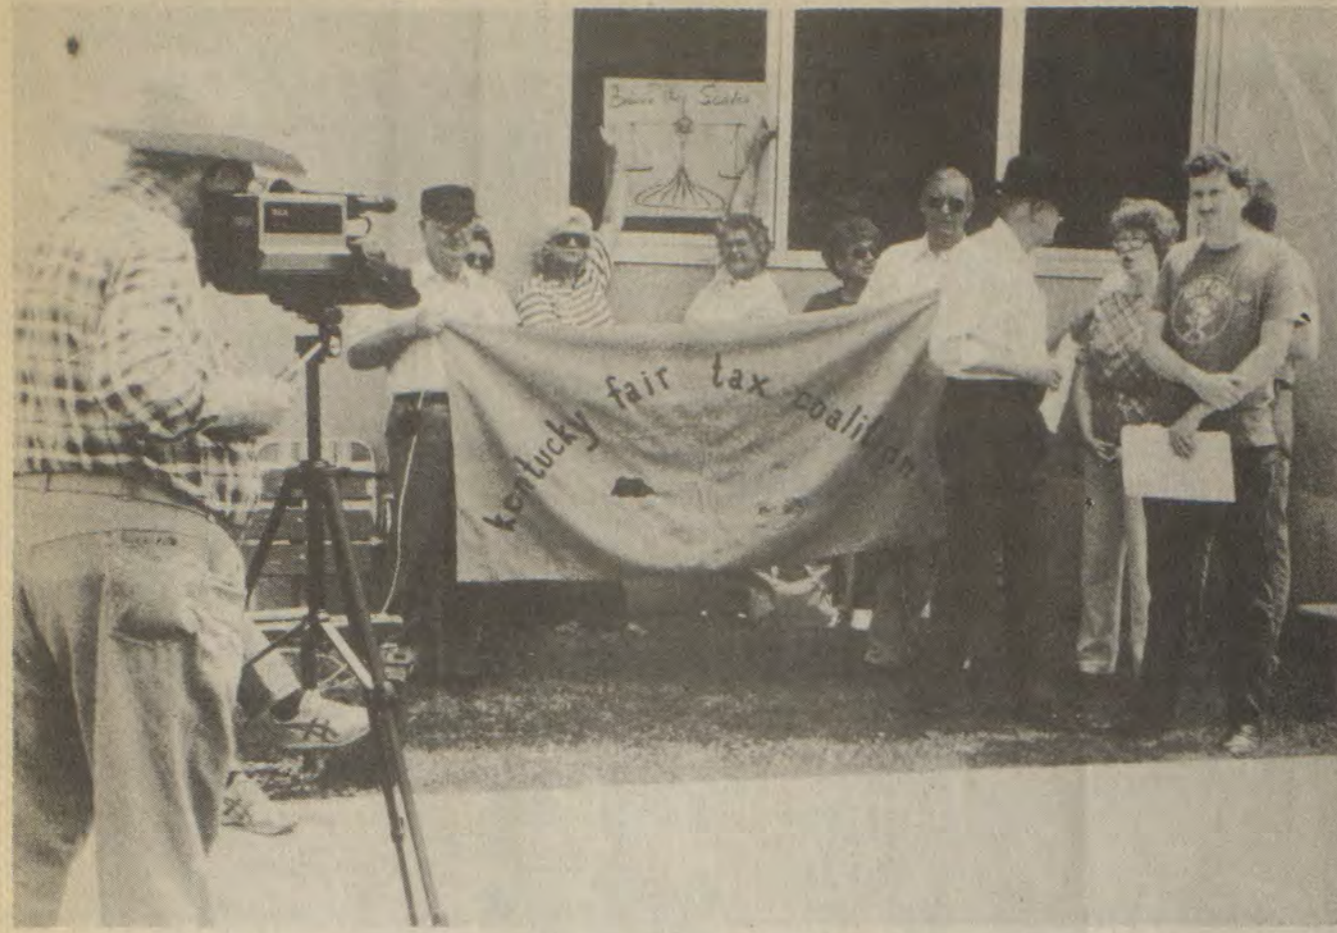

Police say the citations have stopped most loaded trucks from crossing the bridge, though a few unloaded trucks still cross daily. In an effort to keep all overweight vehicles off the bridge, Fletcher has requested enforcement help from the state police vehicle enforcement section. The state police promised to "take care of the problem," he said.

ONE OF THE GROUP'S more vocal members, Everett Akers, left, let others do the talking Saturday as he filmed Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition colleagues, who held a news conference outside the courthouse here. The group was sharply critical of House Majority Leader Greg Stumbo, whom it accused of bottling up good legislation in the House rules committee.

Joint Ventures Urged Between Firms, Schools

Linking public school systems with support groups in the community and private sector was the theme of a May Lodge meeting last week that was attended by about 30 school, civic and business leaders.

Sponsored by the Floyd County Education Forum, the meeting heard Vivian Kidd, a staff member with the Public Education Fund, explain that agency's five-year program for supporting local initiatives aimed at establishing partnerships between the schools and the community.

Projects sponsored by the Fund in West Virginia—most of them involving small grants to develop innovative classroom ideas—have resulted in an upsurge of creativity among teachers, Mrs. Kidd said. A board could be appointed here to sponsor similar initiatives, she said.

The Public Education Fund was founded in 1983 with Ford Foundation backing as the result of successful school-community partnerships in Pittsburgh and San Francisco. After focusing in its first two years on poor urban neighborhoods, the Fund is now turning its attention to the rural South. The agency provides both technical assistance and matching grant monies to community agencies, termed local education funds, which are designed to "broker" relationships between the schools and community groups.

Noting that school administrators and board members are sometimes nervous about a new group's emerging on their turf, Fund officials counsel their local education fund counterparts to establish an "independent but friendly" relationship with the school district.

Floyd Schools Superintendent Ray Brackett and Asst. Supt. Ron Hager attended last week's meeting, along with Prestonsburg Community College, banking and business leaders. This county already has examples of the kind of initiative that can be developed with small-grant support, the meeting was told.

Betty Collins, a Wheelwright High School senior, introduced a literary magazine that grew from an oral history project funded this year with a $5000 state grant to English teacher Carol Stumbo, a project that has now been funded for a second year. A similar grant is funding development of a student literary magazine under sponsorship of the School-Community Partnership Program.

Circuit Court Sentences Two

A man who was indicted on assault charges for allegedly cutting his wife's neck with a machete pleaded guilty to a lesser charge in Floyd Circuit Court this week.

Dale Christian Conn, of Tram, who could have received up to 20 years if convicted on the first-degree assault charge, was sentenced to one year in jail, with the understanding that he will serve six months and then be on probation for two years.

His former wife, Bonnie Blair, alleged that he struck her on the head and cut her on the neck in their Spurlock Fork home on January 12 last year.

In another plea bargain this week, Aaron Tackett, of Beaver, accused of growing 40 marijuana plants in a field near his home, pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge and was given a 10-day sentence, with instructions to the jailer that he was to be released for three hours every other day to receive treatment in Pikeville for a back problem.

For Floyd Residents, Horse Park Free, Sun.

Residents of Floyd and Franklin counties will be the guests for a "County Day" celebration at the Kentucky Horse Park. The event is scheduled for Sunday, May 25.

For residents of the counties involved, admission is free to the Horse Park. Among attractions covered in the park's general admission are the two horse movies, the horse museum, the motorized park tour, the Parade of Breeds, the walking farm tour, and the new Hall of Champions, home of champion Thoroughbreds Forego and Rossi Gold and Standardbred Rambling Willie. A valid driver's license from one of the counties involved admits the driver and other family members.

Officials of the counties will be invited to serve as grand marshals for the parade of breeds performances, and the park is booking entertainment from those counties. Interested high-school bands, craftspeople, and entertainers should contact Chuck Jones of the Horse Park at (606) 233-4303.

Other County Days are scheduled to be conducted throughout most of 1986, said Lee Cholak, the park's executive director. By the end of the year, all 120 counties will have been honored with a County Day.

Tourism Secretary G. Wendell Combs said the program was designed to make more Kentuckians aware of the Horse Park's attractions.

"We want more Kentuckians to know the Horse Park 'belongs' to them," he said.

A diesel powered vehicle has been devised that is said to be capable of achieving 1.585 miles per gallon at 25 miles per hour.

District Court Docket Crowded

Of all the luck. When Tom Crum, 24, of Arkansas Creek, came up for trial on a drunk driving charge Monday, who should be on the jury—armed and in uniform—but State Trooper James Stephens.

As far as the verdict went, Crum need not have worried. The jury acquitted him of DUI, finding him guilty instead of the lesser offense of public intoxication. However, for that offense, which usually draws a $10 fine in district court here, the jury handed down a $10 fine and a 30-day jail sentence.

The DUI charge followed Crum's arrest by Trooper Jerry Critchlow at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, where he went for treatment after the jeep in which he was riding ran off the Arkansas Creek road and into a tree last December. Crum registered a blood alcohol level of .13 percent but his half-brother, Steve Conn, testified that it was he and not Crum who was at the wheel of the jeep when it crashed.

A bench warrant was issued by District Judge Harold Stumbo for Charlie B. Henson, 50, of Minnie, who was sentenced to 30 days' jail and fined $1007 Monday for drunk driving, having no insurance, and leaving the scene of an accident. Henson did not appear for trial.

Failure to have their vehicles insured also added $500 to the penalties meted out to David C. Gilliam, 39, of Wheelwright, who was convicted of drunk driving, sentenced to 30 days, and ordered to pay $907; and to James Mullins, 25, of Hi Hat, who was sentenced to 30 days and fined $707 for riding a motorcycle without a license, insurance, helmet or goggles and for trying to elude police.

Convicted of a second offense under the new DUI law was Harold D. Ousley, 39, of Drift, who received a seven-day sentence and was ordered to pay $557 in fine and costs. Max Bunnell, 46, of Abbott Creek, avoided a mandatory jail sentence when his attorney successfully petitioned to have a prior DUI conviction overlooked. He was fined $407 for drunk driving and disregarding a stop sign, as if it were a first offense.

Also convicted of DUI were Joseph B. Isaacs, 21, of Stanville (15 days, $407); Roy R. McMurray, 40, of West Prestonsburg (two days' public service, $157); John F. Collins, 38, of Lackey, also convicted of driving on a suspended license (30 days, $427); Belvard Collins, 29, of Endicott ($357); James R. Burton, 28, of Ivel ($357); Barbara Chaffins, 37, of Garrett (two days' public service, $207); Billy E. Kimbler, of Sitka ($207); Neil Gibson, of Salyersville (30 days, $407); Sonny Carroll, 21, of Melvin ($407); Steven Bryant Rector, 34, of Martin ($407); Winfield Moore, Jr., 42, of Hi Hat (30 days, $417); Ranson Mullins, 30, of Hi Hat (two days, $157).

A drunk driving charge against David Williams, 20, of Grethel, was dismissed at the direction of the judge because the arresting officer was not able to confirm that the defendant was driving. A jury acquitted Billie J. Blackburn, 36, of Endicott, of a similar charge. A DUI charge against John Adams, 29, of Beaver, was dismissed because the arresting officer failed to read the defendant his rights and was unable to place him behind the wheel of the vehicle.

Other convictions: Vanroy Osborne, 28, of Prestonsburg, drunk, disorderly, harassment, resisting arrest, 30 days, probated, $167; Jimmy D. Hall, 24, of Harold, no insurance, driving on a suspended license, 10 days, $567; Georgene Waugh, Dema, theft by deception, five days, $57 and restitution to Food City; Anita Hylton, Burning Fork, theft by deception, five days, $157; restitution to Heck's; Kenny Hinton, Auxier, wanton endangerment, 20 days, $157; Richie Bentjey, terroristic threatening, 30 days, $157; Gertrude Music, Prestonsburg, theft, five days, probated, not to go around Big Lots; James Bradley, Martin, receiving stolen property, theft, 30 days, probated.

Kentucky was part of Virginia until it became a state in 1792.

Leftover Salt Puts Pickle Makers In A Pickle

A centuries-old, and still popular, pickle making process may change as a result of U.S. Department of Agriculture research.

The method by which millions of jars of pickles are made in the U.S. each year involves soaking cucumbers in huge outdoor tanks of brine. The tanks are left open so sunlight can prevent the formation of molds, yeasts and bacteria that can spoil pickles.

Henry P. Fleming, a food technologist at the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Science Research Laboratory in Raleigh, N.C., said outdoor pickling involves the use of more salt than necessary for pickling as extra protection from rainwater contamination and to prevent freezing.

"But before pickles from the outdoor tanks can be sold, the extra salt must be removed," said Sue Burrier, Extension food and nutrition specialist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The excess salt is removed in the form of waste brine which is often too salty to dispose of easily within federal regulations.

USDA researchers have developed a closed tank system that overcomes the need for sunlight by removing all the oxygen from the tanks, thus preventing the growth of microorganisms that cause spoilage. That eliminates the need for extra salt. And by using less salt to begin with, producers will have less salt to wash out of the pickles before packaging them.

"Indirectly I think that could result in less salt that reaches the consumer," Fleming said.

Ten pickle companies are each testing at least two 8,300 gallon tanks using the new process this year. Following test marketing of the new-process pickles, the pickle industry may shift to this new method of production which promises less salt, lower costs and better products.

"Traditionally produced pickles contain relatively large amounts of salt. Anything that leads to a reduction in the amount of salt in pickles would be a welcome and beneficial change for consumers, not to mention the benefits to the industry and the environment through reduced amounts of waste brine," Burrier said.

visiting a daughter, at the time the fire broke out.

A medical team from the Mud Creek Clinic at Grethel tried unsuccessfully to revive Deal. Joe Deal reportedly extinguished the fire and was uninjured.

Nelson said a preliminary examination revealed soot in Deal's upper airway but added that the precise cause of death would not be known until the state medical examiner had completed an investigation and toxicology reports are in. Deal suffered from chronic heart and breathing problems and could not have tolerated much smoke, the coroner said.

Besides the coroner and arson investigator, the incident is being probed by state Det. James Rederick.

Deal was born January 25, 1924 in Grethel, a son of the late Pharoah and Martha McKinney Deal. He was for 30 years a member of the New Salem Regular Baptist Church.

Besides his wife, Octavia Blevins Deal, he is survived by four sons, Joseph Deal, Davis Deal and Donnie Deal, all of Grethel, and Dawson Deal, of Honaker; three daughters, Virginia Hamilton and Lois Rose, both of Grethel, and Martha Deal, of Warren, Michigan; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 10 a.m. at the Pilgrim Home Regular Baptist Church at Grethel, with Regular Baptist ministers officiating. Burial was in the Deal family cemetery at Grethel under direction of Hall Funeral Home.

seen such a big drop. I've never known a clerk to go out and spend so much without fiscal court approval," he said.

Excess fees—the money the clerk turns over to the county at the end of the year—amounted to $78,039 for 1984 but only $13,113 for 1985. Even that amount, which was supposed to be transferred to the fiscal court by March 15, has yet to be turned in, county officials said this week.

From defense attorney Gary Johnson's questioning of potential jurors, it had become evident to the judge that the defense would argue that Ousley was broke, that his inability to pay was a reason for acquittal, and that—given Judge Conley's earlier determination that the defendant was a pauper—the argument must prevail. Over the objection of prosecutor Dan Rowland, he ordered the non-support charge dismissed.

After a night to think it over, however, the judge said he had made a mistake and, on Friday, he ordered the case reinstated. It still appears "inconsistent," he said, to try a man who has already been declared a pauper on the issue of his ability to make support payments for his children. But it is an issue that he will now let a jury decide.

While testimony in the case is expected to center on whether or not Ousley is working or could be working, defense attorney Johnson insisted that, even if his client is shown to be able-bodied, he should not be liable to pay support if he is not working in fact. "The statute does not impose on the defendant a duty to work," he explained.

Alternatively, the case may never come before a Floyd jury. Mrs. Filsback filed an identical charge against Ousley in Jefferson District Court, trial of which is scheduled for today (Wednesday).

Ten Years Ago

(May 19, 1976)

The appointment of veteran state highway engineer Evans V. Hilton "to expedite" planning for the relocation of KY 80 between US 23 at Water Gap and Hazard was announced in Frankfort last Wednesday. The Appalachian Regional Commission has invested $43,500 in the future of the town of David, with the funds earmarked for landscape planning, housing and economic development and architectural design of the community, it was announced last week. Community Cleanup Day set for Saturday, May 22, will affect a sizeable portion of the county because development clubs of five communities will be involved. Richard Stai, executive director of Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, announced today (Wednesday) the layoff of 35 of the agency's 150 employees, effective June 30. Mrs. Martha Harmon Baldrige, great-great-niece of Mathias Harmon, frontiersman and founder of Harmon's Station at what is now known as Blockhouse Bottom, observed her 90th birthday at her home in Waverly, O., April 29. Mrs. Baldrige is formerly of Bonanza. At both the Prestonsburg and Almar Drive-In theatres tonight through Friday: "House of 1000 Pleasures" and "Models." The Prestonsburg Blackcat baseball team won the 58th District tournament last Friday at the Drift Ball Park, by defeating Wheelwright High School, 9-4. Kentucky voters will for the first time in the history of the state have an opportunity at next Tuesday's primary election to register their preference for the Democratic and Republican nominees for President, though leaders of both parties and supporters of the candidates are concerned about the apparent apathy of voters. Rita Gay Wallen, of Dwale, a student for the last two years at Prestonsburg Community College, has been awarded a scholarship by Eastern Kentucky University, where she will attend this fall. Gene Divine has resigned the post of administrator of the Highlands Regional Medical Center to become administrator of a hospital in Kingsville, Texas, it was announced last week. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stephens, of Allen, a son, Kevin Michael, April 27; to Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeRossett, of Water Gap, a daughter, Lamiki Rae, May 5. There died: Mrs. Glenda Gail Hamilton, 18, of South Homer, Mich., formerly of Floyd county, Monday at Albion Convent; Bradley Walters, 81, formerly of Prestonsburg, Monday at Flint, Mich.; Humbert B. Lawson, 72, of Garrett, last Wednesday at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital.

A sitdown by women and school pupils stopped operation of coal trucks and three buses at Auxier Tuesday morning, and less than 24 hours later the coal ramp of the Mahan Coal Company there was severely damaged by a fire of unknown origin. Razing of a Third street building was begun this week to make way for the construction by the Ray Howard Furniture Store of a two-story structure fronting 105 feet on Third. What may be Kentucky's duldest election will be held next Tuesday when the voters of the two major political parties will nominate candidates to compete in the November finals for the offices of U.S. Senator and U.S. Representative in Congress. Acting on the report that rabid dogs may be at large in the vicinity of Langley, County Judge Henry Stumbo issued a quarantine order Wednesday. Strawberry growers, who had hopes until recently of harvesting their best crop this year, apparently have lost, as a result of frost and freezing weather, from a third to half of their crops. There died: Elijah Green, 81, Friday at his home at Wayland; Calvin C. Centers, 64, of Prestonsburg, last Wednesday at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin; Reuben McCoy, 62, Friday at his home at Thomas; Kermit B. Smith, 54, formerly of Martin, last Tuesday at Louisville; John Reynolds, 69, of Water Gap, Friday at Veterans' Hospital, Huntington, West Virginia.

Although Floyd county's assessment totals have advanced, so have real estate prices, and the result is that the ratio of assessment values to that of prices the property in this county brings is only 29.7 percent, figures released this week by the state Commissioner of Revenue, show. Five hundred Floyd county seniors are being graduated from the ten high schools in the county now and over the next two weeks. The annual Floyd County Music Festival, now firmly established as an institution in the school life of the county, will be held here Saturday for the 11th time since its post-war revival. Residents of the Auxier road section were getting out of the dust this week as the Department of Rural Highways was applying a chip-and-oil surface to the Prestonsburg-Auxier road. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Bryant DeRossett, a daughter, Caroline Jane, May 6 at the Prestonsburg General Hospital. There died: Mrs. Eda Lillie Harless, 83, of Auxier, Tuesday at the Prestonsburg General Hospital; Mrs. Clara Castle, 55, of Wayland, Monday en route to McDowell Memorial Hospital; William Lewis Lowe, 86, Tuesday at his home at Dema; Millard Akers, 84, formerly of Floyd county, last week at a Paintsville hospital; William Hughes, 56, formerly of Floyd county, last Thursday at Munith, Michigan.

Forty Years Ago

After it had heard arguments, pro and con, on merits of the proposed canalization of the Big Sandy river and its two tributaries, the House Rivers and Harbors Committee Friday approved improvement of the waterway. Robie Joseph, 10-year-old Prestonsburg schoolboy, was instantly killed early last Friday night when struck by an auto on the highway at the upper limits of Prestonsburg. General Stone, 55 years old, of Lackey, was killed Tuesday when the automobile in which he was riding left the Lackey-Hindman road on Jones Fork and plunged over an embankment. President Truman Tuesday night signed a stop-gap bill extending the draft until July 1 and banning the induction of fathers and youths 18 and 19 years old. Floyd county's 10th countywide graduation exercise, its first peacetime occasion of the kind in five years, will see 233 seniors of nine high schools receive their diplomas. Miss Minerva Hackworth, 36, died at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin, of burns sustained last Thursday when she fell into a fire at the home of a relative at Garrett. Married: Miss Bernice Burchett, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. William Paris Conley, of Abbot road, Thursday at the Methodist Church; Miss Alpha Jean May, of Alphoretta, and Mr. David D. Watson, of Lackey, May 11; Miss Molly Stone, of Langley, and Mr. Billy Murray, of Garrett, May 9. There died: Samuel DeRossett, 74, May 7 in a Lexington hospital; Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Stephens, 64, of Lancer, Thursday, at the home of a daughter at Dwale; Delma Glee Arms, 6, of Estill, Monday at the Stumbo Memorial Hospital, Lackey.

Fifty Years Ago

Third of the oil wells to be drilled on the Clarinda Boyd farm, Prater Creek, by the Virginia Gasoline and Oil Company, came in Tuesday with an estimated oil flow of 50 barrels a day. Hiram Mullins, 12 years old, was shot and killed Friday afternoon. The drive underway to procure the signing of Floyd county farmers to the Soil Conservation program will end June 1, County Agent S. L. Isbell said this week. The graduating class of Prestonsburg high school will number 55 this year. Miss Alice Mae Daniels, a junior in the Auxier high school, placed first in the 5th annual Floyd county oratorical contest held Friday at the Prestonsburg grade school. A May Day celebration was held today (Thursday) by the city schools. Prevalence of influenza and attendant pneumonia is unusually widespread at this time in Floyd county. There died: Mrs. Elizabeth Patton Crager, 85, at her home at Wayland, May 4; Sanford Collins, 76, at the home of his daughter at Garrett, Tuesday; Rhodes Prater, 60, at his home on Brush Creek, Monday; Mrs. Will Harris, of Tram, May 5, at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin; Emma Zell Gumbell, 6, of Banner, Wednesday at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin.

Bits and Pieces

TOO MANY

The Romans, it is said, got to the point that they had more holidays than just plain, common, ordinary days. While this was probably not the reason for the fall of the Roman Empire, still it is something of a start to realize that the merry month of May has more weeks designated for observances than there are weeks available. We have had National Nursing Home Week, National Pet Week, state and county Clean-Up Week, Retired Teachers Week, Community Action Awareness Week—and whoops, my dear!—Mailbox Improvement Week. That's six weeks to observe—count 'em—in a four calendar-week month.

ONCE MORE INTO THE FRAY

By, as they say, popular demand, we bring you another batch of No I.Q. Test puzzlers. At least three people asked for more. These must have been among the few who can solve more than half the questions on the first try. Many reported getting answers long after the test had been set aside, while others reported solving it entirely over a period of several days. Then there are those who had absolutely no problem. They're the ones who threw it into the waste basket in the first place.

This time there will be no subscriptions given. It's just for fun and/or mental frustration. At any rate, in case you missed the first round, each line below contains the initials of words that will complete it correctly.

gas taxes came in short, however—$259,500 has been collected to date—and the new budget calls for $300,000 in that category.

One area where the budget reflects a real boost in income is in the road fund, the result of recent legislative action raising the gasoline tax from 10 to 15 cents a gallon.

Some $905,307 has been set aside for road materials, and much of that will come from Floyd's county road aid allotment, which is expected to jump from $376,793 this year to $664,617 in 1987. (This does not include money to be spent on state-maintained roads here—expected to rise from $487,944 to $805,235.)

The new revenue sources, Judge-Executive Stumbo labored to explain last week, will be largely offset by the loss in revenue-sharing, which is expected to total $352,000 this year, which would have meant $400,000 in 1987, but which is expected to dry up this fall as a result of Reagan Administration economies.

Various groups were on hand at Friday's fiscal court meeting to press their claims for a share, or a greater share, of the county budget. Terry Triplett, representing the county's volunteer fire departments, wanted the county to pay the insurance on the rural fire districts' trucks; Magistrate Gerald DeRossett wants money to be budgeted for more two-way radios for magistrates; Morgan Joseph, first district constable, asked the court to pay constables' medical insurance and to raise their monthly stipend from $120 to $300.

The magistrates may get their radios, Stumbo indicated; however, the fire departments, which now receive $2000 each from the fiscal court, are not likely to get any more; and the new budget sets aside only enough to pay the constables $127.50 a month.

No salary raises are anticipated for the judge, for whom $33,015 is appropriated, or the magistrates, each of whom will receive $22,104 in salary and $3600 in expense allowance. The salary of County Attorney David Barber will jump by nearly 63 percent, however—from $14,760 to $24,000.

A $19,080 salary has been set aside for a deputy judge-executive, although no one has been named to that post since Morris Isaac was fired a year ago. For the position of flood plain administrator, to which the judge last year named his son, John M. Stumbo III, a $7200 stipend has been budgeted. The county's contribution to the animal shelter, which has been a center of controversy this year and is expected to have a new—as yet unnamed—manager in July, remains unchanged at $10,000. However, no funds have been set aside this year for a dog warden.

The budget provides for an increase in the daily stipend for election officers, from $20 to $30.

A vote on adopting the new budget is scheduled for the June 20 fiscal court meeting.

KFTC Attacks Rules Committee, Majority Leader

"As long as House leaders and committee chairmen have dictatorial powers, we have a problem with government," a spokesman for a citizen's lobby told a group of reporters at a press conference on the courthouse steps here Saturday.

However, House Majority Leader Greg Stumbo said it is not dictatorship that has provoked the group's ire, but the legislative process itself.

John Burgess, a member of the Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition, said several bills supported by the group in the just-completed legislative session—including one that would have levied a tax on unmined coal—were unfairly bottled up in committee and not permitted to come to the House floor for a vote.

Jay Conley, of Garrett, another member of the group, read a prepared statement holding Majority Leader Stumbo and the House rules committee responsible for killing more than 70 bills.

"The rules committee should not be used as a hatchet forum for killing legislation behind closed doors... (It) abuses its power when it attempts to singlehandedly determine the fate of legislation by making it impossible for bills to reach the floor where they can pass or die on their own merit by democratic vote," Conley said. "The 1986 General Assembly saw a repeated abuse of this power by Rep. Stumbo and the House rules committee."

Stumbo replied this week that many of the bills that finally died in committee—including the "bottle bill" and one affecting the proposed PyroChem plant in Lawrence county, both of interest to the Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition—had in fact come to the House floor for a vote. And some—like the unmined minerals tax bill, which lacked two committee-members' signatures—did not formally reach the rules committee.

What the KFTC was attacking, Stumbo said, was "the whole legislative system," including the committee system, which is designed, he said, to see that proposed legislation does not come before the General Assembly ill-prepared or not properly thought out.

"It is a complicated process, with a lot of checks built in," said the legislative leader, who added that he did not know anyone who was in favor of abolishing it.

The KFTC statement also accused Stumbo of "setting a bad example" for other legislators by taking a free golfing and basketball trip to North Carolina from lobbyists registered to push special interests in the General Assembly. Noting that Stumbo denied he would be influenced by "something as insignificant as that," the Coalition statement said, "We disagree. We feel that gifts from lobbyists do influence votes. And we believe this practice should be avoided by all legislators."

Stumbo and several other legislators took a three-day trip in a chartered jet to Pinehurst, N.C. in March as guests of lobbyists for Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

The citizens' group said it did not want to dwell on past problems but urged Stumbo to "take two important steps" which would "greatly enhance his performance as a legislator." They asked for public commitments that he would "not use the rules committee to kill any bills in the future" and that he would "not accept any more gifts, gratuities, favors or other special privileges from any lobbyists, corporations or other special interest groups."

Stumbo replied this week that KFTC "will get no commitments from me until I get a public apology from them for criticism they have unjustly levelled at me."

Although he will not risk another public outcry by taking a similar trip again, he did nothing improper in taking the North Carolina trip, said Stumbo, who said his friendship with attorneys who are also lobbyists is not influenced by the relationship between those lobbyists and their clients.

The House leader said he is confident his colleagues will hold him blameless of any wrongdoing when his leadership position again comes up for a vote next January.

law" to help David. He recounted an early meeting with Greene. The New Yorker had recently moved here and had approached then Supt. Charles Clark with the idea of starting the school. "'Danny, you can't do that,' Clark said. 'Yes I can,' said Danny. A couple of years later, Superintendent Clark said to me, 'I think he's going to make it.'"

Monday's gathering seemed to affirm that the school has "made it." Greene said he felt McDonald's endorsement of the school was very strong. "I am absolutely ecstatic at the strong support of Superintendent McDonald," he said. "I feel her endorsement of our program has truly made us a recognized part of public education."

Jean Ford said the strongest praise should go to David's teachers. "They're the ones who know the students' needs. They're in there every day to help them."

McDonald's visit was part of a two-week statewide tour of schools and dropout-prevention programs. At many stops, such as one earlier Monday in Pike county, she is being accompanied by University of Louisville football coach Howard Snellenberger.

Wins Sociology Honors At MSU

Glenna Sue Lykins, Langley senior, left, received the Sociology Award during Morehead State University's College of Professional Studies Honors Breakfast held recently. Commending Lykins for achievement and excellence, Dr. Robert Bylund, MSU associate professor of sociology, made the presentation. The event was part of MSU's Academic Awards Week, which allowed each college to honor its students for academic achievement. Other Floyd students honored were Randall McCoy, Turkey Creek, National Business Education Association Award, and Steve Sauber, Martin, outstanding undergraduate in health, physical education, and recreation.

Hamilton-Tackett

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hamilton announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Betty Rose Hamilton to John David Tackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tackett.

Miss Hamilton is a graduate of McDowell High School and of Prestonsburg Community College. She will attend Pikeville College this fall.

Mr. Tackett is a graduate of McDowell High School and is employed at Johnson Engineering, of Pikeville.

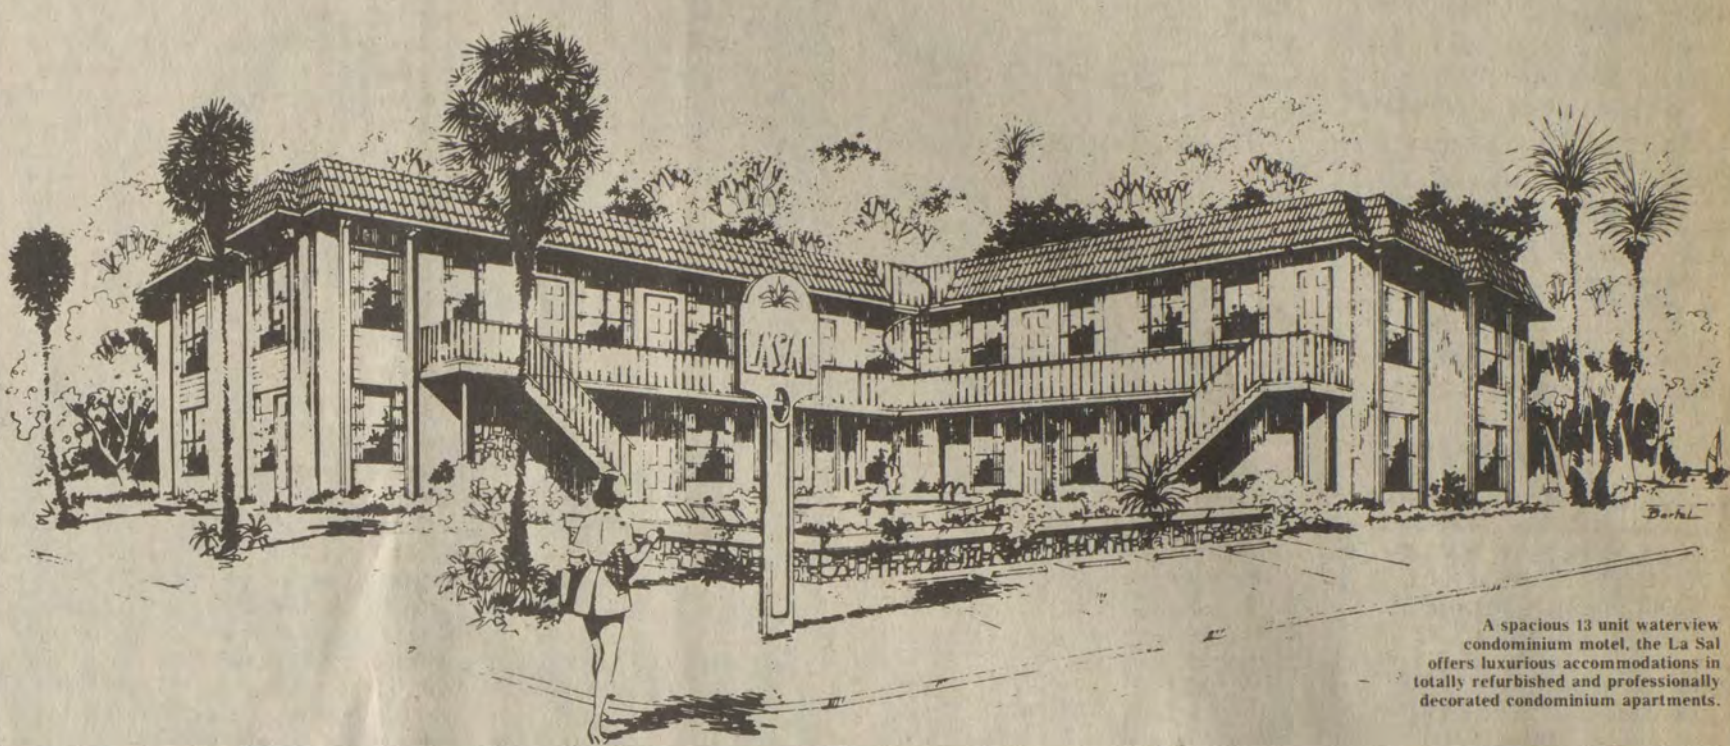

The marriage will be solemnized May 24 at 4 p.m. at the Left Beaver Regular Baptist Church at Garth. The gracious custom of an open ceremony will be observed and a reception will follow.

How To Buy A Clearwater Beach Condominium Retreat

A spacious 13 unit waterview condominium motel, the La Sal offers luxurious accommodations in totally refurbished and professionally decorated condominium apartments.

Live in it or Rent it, full time or part time

Simply, La Sal Motel, a Condominium, is a commercial property that is licensed to operate as a motel with one exciting difference.

Instead of one owner for the entire building, the condominium concept affords the opportunity of ownership of the individual apartments.

This offering is registered with the Internal Revenue Service under Section 611 as a tax shelter. This concept provides the opportunity for an ownership voice in the operation of the motel and a rental program that enhances your ability to receive maximum revenue advantages without the usual problems and worries of revenue producing properties.

Additionally, unlike time-share, you own a luxurious high quality condominium motel unit that offers all the advantages of waterview condominium living. Not only can you enjoy waterview living yourself but when you are not using the condominium it can be rented as a motel unit on a weekend, weekly or longer term basis by the on-site professional management company. You do not have to rent your unit unless you so desire.

Your own Florida Beach retreat with all the revenue benefits of a commercial investment.

On Florida's Suncoast

Situated in the heart of the Suncoast surrounded by the metropolitan Tampa area, the fourth largest fastest growing area in the country, La Sal is located on the north end of famous Clearwater Beach on Mandalay Avenue. This prestigious location offers a stunning waterview of both the Gulf of Mexico and Clearwater Bay.

La Sal is just steps from miles of sparkling white sand beaches, beach pavilion and fishing pier, public tennis courts and basketball courts, children and adult parks, fully staffed and supervised recreational center where you will find classes and organized team sports. Golf courses are in abundance.

La Sal is also within walking distance of restaurants, shops and grocery marts.

This is first-come, first-served limited opportunity

Because of the recent down-zoning on Clearwater Beach another opportunity like this may never again be possible.

Combined with the soundness and substantiality of construction taken for granted when originally built the La Sal could not be duplicated without exorbitant cost today.

Architect Barry P. Ullman has designed a complete renovation that blends the superstructure of the 1940's with the technology of the 1990's.

The general contractor, First Southern Builders, Inc. has directed the work such that every detail has been considered. New plumbing, new electrical wiring, new central air and heating units, telephones, cable television, new double thermal pane windows, new doors and ceiling fans in each condominium unit reflecting the craftsmanship of 13 years experience producing a finished product with which they are glad to have their name associated.

The La Sal offers 7 two bedroom units, and 6 one bedroom units each professionally decorated by Joyce Fuller Interiors. A deluxe package of GE appliances and quality furnishings include a frost-free refrigerator with ice maker, electric self-cleaning glass door range, GE space-saver microwave, RCA remote control color television and care free furnishings.

All condominiums are equipped with dishes and silverware, cookware, coffee maker and toaster. All the amenities you would expect. A roof top patio covering the entire building provides a magnificent view of the Gulf of Mexico, the beaches, the bay and surrounding areas.

This lovely patio-garden also provides a private sunbathing location and a wonderful spot to gather with friends for breakfast, cocktails or to enjoy the spectacular sunsets for which the Florida Suncoast is famous.

A courtyard with a heated swimming pool and shuffleboard completes the on-site recreational facilities for the entire family.

When should you reserve your condominium at La Sal

NOW! Renovation will be complete by the end of May and units are selling fast. Make our island your island, catch a fish, catch a sunrise, catch a sunset. Your own Florida beach retreat that provides a tax shelter and cash revenues.

This is an unbelievable opportunity to reserve your unit at pre-completion prices.

Starting at just $145,900 these condominiums are priced below completed appraised value in an area that is showing above average appreciation rates. NOW is the time to act. These units will not last long. Everyone will want to buy one of these but only a total of 13 are available with low interest rates and good terms, if you act today. That is why you must be on the Reserved Purchase list to select your waterview condominium at La Sal.

U of L Professor Calls Focus On Aging A Quest for Control

By JEFF YOCOM

The public's acceptance of aging and the elderly is not as benevolent as it would seem, according to Robert St. Clair, an English professor at the University of Louisville.

St. Clair says a shifting of attitudes away from the "young is beautiful" mindset of recent decades is a well convinced marketing ploy with social and political implications.

St. Clair specializes in sociolinguistics, the study of how language influences the human view of reality and determines social, political and economic behavior. He says most American ideas of reality have been spoon-fed to the public through advertising and the news media by one percent of the population—a group of power elite who control the country's purse strings.

America's youth-oriented culture dates back to the 1920s and a change in advertising trends. With a Pear soap newspaper advertisement that featured singer Lily Pons, American advertising turned from an informational approach to one of emotion.

"Now we sell with sex and youth," St. Clair said. "You can sell anything you want by association."

To boost sales of their products, advertisers encourage the public to replace rather than fix items. St. Clair says the concept of the small, nuclear family was thought up by Madison Avenue to create more consumer households.

"They created this consciousness, this throw-away culture."

St. Clair says that a group of economically powerful families that own most of American is shaping American society to further its own interests.

After World War II, the "power elite" reshaped American society to profit from the population explosion. They pushed the public into suburbia, and later cashed in on the counterculture movement of the 1960s, according to St. Clair. The generation that protested the establishment has now become the conservative middle class.

"Before, they'd say, 'Kill me before I hit 30,'" St. Clair says. "But once they become 30, they say don't trust anyone under 30."

Because the target group is aging, advertisers are easing up on the youth emphasis. The reversal has gone so far as to allow the creation of sex symbols over 50 like Joan Collins.

At the same time, government funding for gerontology research is rising, and a special federal bureau has been established to study the elderly. St. Clair says that the purpose of the research is more economic and political than humanistic.

"Gerontology studies involve the government giving university professors money to tell everyone it's OK to be old," he says. "The old people now are benefiting, but the purpose is really to see how to control the older generation that is coming into political power in the next two decades."

Handicapped Children Sought for Head Start

The Big Sandy Head Start Program is recruiting handicapped children to take part in the program. The preschool program's approach is well suited to helping children with special needs—children who are seriously emotionally disturbed, mentally retarded, visually handicapped, hearing impaired, speech impaired, crippled, deaf, or have other health impairments requiring special education—according to Nicky Triplett, coordinator of handicapped participants. For further information, call 789-1600.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterlin Turner, of Garrett, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Alysia, to Mr. David Ray Crager, son of Mrs. Linda McIntire, of Prestonsburg and grandson of Mrs. Maggie Dixon, of Wayland.

Miss Turner is a graduate of Allen Central High School and Pikeville College.

Mr. Crager is a graduate of Allen Central High School and Mayo State Vocational-Technical School. He is currently employed by GTE Sylvania Lamp, of Versailles.

The ceremony will be held May 31, 5 p.m., at the Wayland United Methodist Church. The gracious custom of open church will be observed.

To the many people who know her, Kathryn Frazier is a cheerful, soft-spoken retired music teacher—not a high risk heart patient.

But on February 6, 1985, Kathryn suffered from what she thought was simple indigestion. It turned out to be a heart attack.

Kathryn was enrolled in the outpatient cardiac rehabilitation program at Highlands Regional Medical Center, where a comprehensive program of

For "Miss Kathryn" Frazier, cardiac rehabilitation was a heartening experience...

"We all just had a really good time helping ourselves get well. That doesn't sound possible, does it?"

exercise, dieting and instruction helps heart patients like Kathryn return to a normal, productive and enjoyable life-style.

And like most things in her life, Kathryn got more out of the program than just her healthy recovery.

"I made new friends down there and it was good for me. The doctors are very good and they monitor you very carefully so you don't overdo yourself. Yet at the same time, they insist that you do what you can. I tightened up muscles, I rode my bicycle and we just had a really good time helping ourselves to get well. That doesn't sound possible, does it?"

The cardiac rehab program at Highlands isn't just for heart attack victims. It helps patients recover fully and quickly from major heart surgery. Supported by highly sophisticated diagnostic technology, cardiac rehab can also help prevent future heart problems for those in high-risk categories. And it's all right here at home, in the Big Sandy.

Call Patsy Sword for more information about the outpatient cardiac rehabilitation program at Highlands Regional Medical Center.

DAY HOMEMAKERS MEET

Twenty-five members of the Prestonsburg Day Homemakers' Club met at the First United Methodist Church's Fellowship Hall, Tuesday afternoon, May 13. In the absence of Mrs. Judy Kittle, president, Mrs. Barbara Dawson, vice president, presided. Mrs. Mary Jane Brown gave the devotionals. Mrs. Dorothy Osborne, secretary-treasurer, gave her report.

Donations were made to the First United Methodist Church in memory of Mrs. Margaret P. Alley, and to the First Baptist (Irene Cole Memorial) Church in memory of Mrs. Opal Dingus. Sympathy cards will be sent to Mrs. Mae Kendrick, Miss Maurine Mayo, Mrs. Judy Baldrige Allen, and Mrs. Ruth Younce, on the loss of members of their families, and that a get-well card should be sent to Mrs. Pat Necessary, who is a patient at the University of Kentucky Medical Center.

Mrs. Frances Pitts announced that two members, Mesdames Mary Sue Moore and Lucy Regan, attended the recent State Homemakers' meeting in Lexington. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Mesdames Jane Wallace and Ann Alley, and it was decided that $25 should be donated by the club for the use of the church for meetings this past year.

Mrs. Frances Pitts presented the lesson on "Canning and Freezing."

The hostesses, Mesdames Barbara Dawson, Dorothy Burke, and Lucy Regan served a dessert course to Frances Pitts, Dorothy Osborne, Mary Jane Brown, Myrtle Allen, Mabel Donahoe, Jane Wallace, Ann Alley, Beverley Hackworth, Mae K. Roberts, Becky Short, Gypsy Jones, Nancy Webb, Shirley Callihan, Docia Woods, Peg Hewlett, Eleanor Horn, Fannie Rannels, Alice Harris, Dorothy Stover, Mary Sue Moore, Hope Whitten, and Phyllis Herrick.

The next meeting will be September 9.

To Honor War Dead At Memorial Service

Andy J. Blanton Chapter 18, Disabled American Veterans, will hold a memorial service honoring Floyd county's war dead at the Archer Park War Memorial, Sunday, May 25. The ceremony will begin at 2 p.m.

James P. Connors, Commander, extends an invitation to the public to attend.

EAST POINT HOMEMAKERS

The East Point Homemakers' Club met Tuesday, May 13 at the home of Mrs. Elsie Leake. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Sharon Watkins, and devotions were given by Mrs. Nola McNicol.

Mrs. Francis Pitts gave a report on the stained glass quilt workshop. A quilt square was on display, and pillows and shadow quilting from previous projects were displayed by members.

Plans were discussed for fund-raising projects for the Highlands Regional Medical Center Breast Center. A spaghetti dinner to be held in June at the East Point Den Club building will be announced later.

Mrs. Pitts gave an interesting lesson on "Home Preservation of Food," and also gave information on the new smaller appliances.

Mrs. Leake served a salad and dessert course to Frances Pitts, Nola McNicol, Lorena Horn, Wanda Wells, Dorothy Harris, Leatha Kendrick, Kathy Lowe, Friscilla Hager, Sharon Watkins, Betsy Baldrige, and guests Tela Watkins and Lida Kendrick.

The next meeting will be Sept. 9.

Want To Be A Trooper?

If you're at least 21, are five feet six, and have a high school diploma or its equivalent, you may pick up an application for employment as a state trooper between 12 noon and 8 p.m., from June 2 through June 8, at the Pikeville state police post.

Old cars, scrap tires, and construction rubble provide better refuge for marine life than natural reefs, says National Wildlife magazine. Fish need privacy for spawning and protection from strong ocean currents and discarded junk does a better job than nature of providing protection.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR ROAD CLOSING

At the Floyd County Fiscal Court meeting held May 16, 1986, the Court moved to advertise a road on Branhams Creek, for closing and returning to the landowners. The road runs parallel with the property of Donald Laferty and Clois Hamilton and intersects with the new County Road at the Bridge. The new Branhams Creek Road was accepted into the County Road System by Resolution dated July 12, 1984. If there are no objections, the Court will move to close said road and return it to the land owners. The next Court meeting will be held June 20, 1986 at 10:00 a.m.

In Loving Memory

Of my mother, Helen Hart Allen, May 19, 1904-May 19, 1982.

There's a book I'll always treasure and I keep it by my bed. It's brought me joy and pleasure...it's the Bible mother read. This book is all that's left me now, tears well up and start...with hands that are shaking now, I press it to my heart. For many generations past, here is our family tree. My mother's hand, this Bible clasped...now it belongs to me. Ah, well do I remember those names these records bear, and I softly hear my grandfather's voice as he said the evening prayer. He spoke of things the Bible said, in his voice there was a thrill...tho, he has gone beyond this world in my heart he is living still. This Bible I will always keep no matter where I'm led, it's brought me joy unmeasured, this Book my mother read. All the pages are so fingered, many verses underlined, places worn where mother lingered, where she left a tear behind. Yes, this Bible will be treasured; mother read it every day. For its truth will never perish, tho' the world should pass away.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Jason Nathaniel Howard on his birthday May 23, 1979.

A heart of gold stopped beating
Two shining blue eyes at rest
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.
A million times we've needed you.
A million times we've cried
If love alone could have saved you
You never would have died
It broke our hearts to lose him
But he didn't go alone.
For a part of us went with him
The day God called him home.
Sadly missed by Dad, Mom and Brother.

Camp Jobs Available

Heide Miller, Director of Camping and Recreation for the Kentucky Easter Seal Society, has announced that summer employment opportunities are still available for the upcoming camping season, May 25 through August 10.

"At the present time, we especially need four lifeguards for our swimming programs, and one business manager to be responsible for camp bookkeeping and trading post," said Mrs. Miller. "The camp staff will be working at both of the Easter Seal Society's summer residential facilities, Camp Kysoc and Camp Green Shores." Camp Kysoc is located near Carrollton and Camp Green Shores is on Rough River Lake near McDaniels, Kentucky.

In addition to the salary, camp employees are provided with room and board throughout the summer employment period. "This is a wonderful opportunity, particularly for college students to save some money for school next fall and who might otherwise have to spend all their summer earnings for an apartment," Mrs. Miller continued. "Persons interested in the lifeguard jobs must have a current Red Cross Advanced Lifesaving certification."

Interested job applicants should contact the Camping Department of the Kentucky Easter Seal Society, 233 East Broadway, Louisville, Kentucky 40202 or call (502) 584-9781.

WHAT IS THE VALUE OF A FULL-SERVICE FUNERAL!

Since the beginning of time, man has publicly viewed and buried his dead with dignity and ceremony. Although rituals differ, the funeral service meets the needs of the survivors, the living, as well as providing for the deceased. What are some of these needs and how does a full-service funeral fulfill them?

Realization: First, it declares that death has occurred and it offers testimonial to a life well-lived. Denial of a death is common. The very fact of a funeral and the viewing of the body (or casket) facilitates the realization of that death.

Emotional expression: The full-service funeral is of deep psychological significance to the living. Sorrow-shared is sorrow-diminished. The full-service and the facing-of-facts is the first step toward emotional adjustment after bereavement.

For more information about the full-service funeral, stop by or phone us.

To Monitor Those Exposed To Fallout

Eight Kentucky hospitals will soon begin examinations of selected individuals who may have been exposed to low-level radioactive fallout while traveling in Europe following the Chernobyl nuclear reactor accident in the Soviet Union. The hospitals are complying at the request of state and federal agencies.

Cabinet for Human Resources Secretary Al Austin announced today that the testing will be exclusively for Kentucians who have traveled in east European countries or areas of the Soviet Union following the April 26 radiation leak.

"These examinations are purely of a precautionary nature and will be made available to persons who verify their foreign travel with a passport and proper identification," Austin said. "We know that some Kentuckians either were or are still in eastern Europe because of contacts made to this agency. We don't know how many people will request these checkups. We've simply taken steps to make the physical examinations possible."

Hospitals having agreed to participate in the examination program are: King's Daughters, Ashland; the Medical Center, Bowling Green; St. Luke's, Ft. Thomas; University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington; Humana Hospital-University, Louisville; Owensboro-Daiess County Hospital, Owensboro; Western Baptist, Paducah; and Humana Hospital-Lake Cumberland, Somerset.

Donald R. Hughes, Sr. manager of the cabinet's Radiation Control branch, said the travelers' tests are being set up after consultation with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

"We have assembled a network of regional medical facilities which could provide such procedures as thyroid counts, body scans and other tests to determine the levels of radioactivity, if any, in the individual," Hughes said. "The hospitals have volunteered their services with no charges to the citizens receiving the tests."

After initial review at the individual hospital, the test results will be forwarded to analysts with the federal Food and Drug Administration for further study.

The state Radiation Control branch is forwarding FDA recommendations on the test procedures to each of the eight participating hospitals. Hughes said the tests will begin as soon as people begin making requests at the hospitals and will continue for several weeks.

The cabinet is continuing daily tests of air and rain water samples, as well as twice-weekly tests of milk samples, for any signs of increased levels of radioactivity. To date, no significant changes in radioactivity levels have been measured in Kentucky.

OLW Workers Honored With Luncheon, May 12

A luncheon honoring 26 employees of Our Lady of the Way Hospital, including one who has worked there 35 years, was held May 12 at Baldrige's Restaurant in Glyn View Plaza.

Has A Graduation Gift For You!!

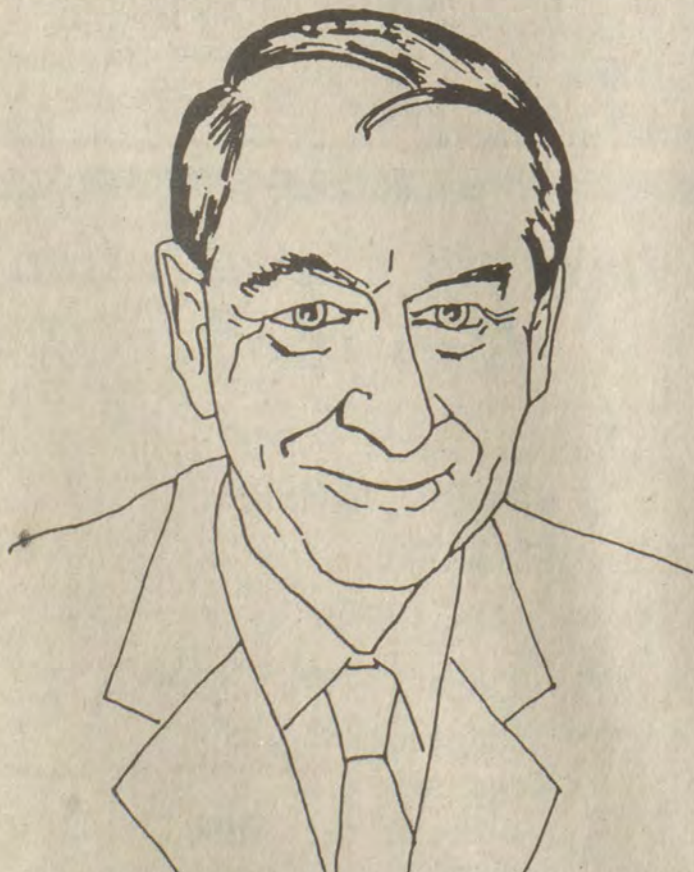

Dear Mom and Dad,
It's been a long four years but I made it! Thanks to your help and support. In speculating on my future, I have heard that John Gray Pontiac Buick GMC Trucks, Inc. in conjunction with GMAC is offering, between now and April 30, 1987, pre-approved GMAC credit (provided that eligibility requirements are met). But that's not all! This plan guarantees financing even for those graduates with no established credit or those who have short term or no job experience. In addition, it offers not only competitive rates but the benefit of either a $250.00 coupon, which can be used as part of the down payment on the vehicle you are purchasing, or the opportunity to postpone your payments for 90 days! My first decision for my future is to see John Gray Pontiac Buick GMC Trucks, Inc. and take advantage of this great offer.
Thanks Again,
Your College Graduate.

Martin Hospital Hosts Blood Drive

Despite the tremendous need for blood, about five percent of those eligible to donate give blood. Donating is quick, easy, and safe. Volunteer donors undergo a thorough medical screening including a medical history, blood pressure, and other checks. Sterile needles and materials are used then the needle is discarded. Donating only takes 5-10 minutes.

The hospital will sponsor a blood drive on Wednesday, May 28 from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. at Our Lady of The Way Hospital in Martin. The need for blood is great this time of year. Please call Tobi Bingham at 285-5187 today for more information about donating. Druther's Restaurant of Martin will give all blood donors a free dinner.

Ministry Graduate

Doug Lewis, of Prestonsburg, was among 70 graduates from 14 states participating in the 40th annual commencement exercises of Clear Creek Baptist School on May 16. Lewis was awarded the diploma of ministry (doctrine). He and his wife, Lamarr have two daughters, Christina and Heather. Clear Creek is a Kentucky Baptist Bible College founded in 1926 to train adults called into the Christian ministry.

Moore Is Recipient Of E. Holeman Award

Prestonsburg native, E. Edsel Moore, Director of the Department of Health Services' Division of Radiation and Product Safety, is the 1986 recipient of the Association of Food and Drug Officials of the Southern States (AFDOSS) Eugene Holeman Award. The award was presented to Mr. Moore at the association's annual conference in Charleston, South Carolina, April 13-16.

The meritorious award is named in honor of Mr. Holeman who served for 27 years as the director of the Tennessee Food and Drug Division. Mr. Holeman is recognized throughout the 10 southern states comprising AFDOSS and nationwide for his dedication and untiring efforts in resolving food, drug, and product safety problems.

Recipients of this prestigious award are recognized for outstanding service to the Association of Food and Drug Officials of the Southern States in the areas of food, drugs, cosmetics, devices and product safety.

Mr. Moore who resides at Dove Creek Road, Frankfort, was president of AFDOSS in 1982-83, has chaired numerous committees and is a 15-year member of the association.

Mr. Moore is the son of Mrs. Earl Moore, of Prestonsburg.

Meadows Reunion Slated in West Va.

Meadows Heritage National Biennial Reunion will be held October 3-5, for descendants of all Meader-Meador-Meadows (et al spellings) families at Pipestem State Park, Pipestem, W. Va. 25979. Reservations should be made immediately with Pipestem State Park. Meadows Heritage has no fees nor dues, and funding is solely by voluntary contributions. All descendants are urged to attend and bring copies of their family records (Bible, birth-death-obituary and marriage records, family legends, pictures, etc.)

Meadows Heritage was founded in 1975 and is dedicated to collect and preserve, in the archives and public libraries all available family historical and genealogical records on this colonial pioneer family of America. All records are available to the public. The families of Meader-Meador-Meadows were among the earliest colonists and residents of Virginia, New England, the Carolinas, Georgia, and the western frontiers of the United States.

For further information send a large self-addressed stamped envelope to one of the following:

Urologist Now At Highlands

Edgar McKinney, M.D., the newest occupant of the Physicians Office Suite at HRMC.

Edgar McKinney, M.D., is the newest occupant of the Physicians Office Suite located on the lower level of Highlands Regional Medical Center. Dr. McKinney did his medical training at the West Virginia School of Medicine, and his specialty training in urology at the Naval Regional Medical Center in Portsmouth, Virginia.

Dr. McKinney is certified by the American Board of Urology and is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He is President of the Boyd County Medical Society and was elected to that position last year. He also serves as President of Kings Daughter Medical Center Staff.

After 10 years of military service, Dr. McKinney retired from the U.S. Navy with the rank of Commander. During his military service, he practiced at military hospitals in South Carolina and Virginia and served one year as a General Medical Officer in the Submarine Service.

Dr. McKinney will have office hours in the Physician Office Suite every Wednesday. Appointments during office hours in this area can be made by calling the Physicians Office Suite at Highlands Regional, 886-8511, ext. 580 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Self referrals as well as physician referrals are accepted.

HRMC Offers Diabetes Class

A "Living Well With Diabetes" class is being offered at Highlands Regional Medical Center. The class is scheduled for Thursday, May 7, at 6:00 in the Learning Center at the Medical Center. The class is free.

The session will feature diabetic meal planning, exercise, urine testing, and home blood glucose testing. During the class you will have the opportunity to ask any questions related to diabetes. Experts will discuss diabetic skin, foot and mouth care, medications, complications and how to stay in good control.

To learn more about the program, call Sue Wilkerson, Director of Food Services at Highlands Regional Medical Center, 886-8511 or 789-6548 (ext. 546).

The U.S. Treasury makes about half a billion dollars a year on the difference between what it costs to coin money and the value of the coins it creates.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Existing Application Number 880-5025 And New Application No. 880-5040 In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350, notice is hereby given that Enoxy Coal Inc., 1200 Columbia Plaza, 250 E. Mrs. Joyce Rowe, Ronda Rowe, Mrs. Marcella Bailey and Terry Rowe visited Mrs. Bernice Arnett at Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington last Wednesday. Miss Ann Rowe is with her.

Ronda Rowe and Terry Rowe were supper guests of Sid and Marcella Bailey Thursday evening.

Our sympathy to the family of Sally May who passed away Sunday morning at a Salyersville Rest Home. She was 98 years old and had been a life-long resident of Maytown.

Kent Webb and son, Roscoe Claud, of Beaver, Ohio were the Sunday guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Webb. They also visited his grandmothers, Mrs. Rebecca Salisbury and Mrs. Lula Webb.

Mrs. Lula Webb received a severe cut on the forehead Saturday morning when she fell. She was rushed to Highlands Regional Medical Center for medical attention. She is recuperating at home.

Mrs. Earl Webb and Keith spent the weekend in Flemmingsburg visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer Hicks and daughters. They also attended the graduation exercises at Flemming County High School where Miss Mary Beth Hicks was a member of the graduating class.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Kentucky Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet, Division of Water, hereby gives notice that the Weeksbury Water Supply exceeded the maximum contaminant level for coliform bacteria for the reporting period of February 1986.

The test results for coliform bacteria (normally found in the intestinal tract of humans and other warm-blooded animals) indicate that some contamination occurred. Coliform bacteria is not considered harmful, however, its presence is a reliable indicator that harmful bacteria may have been present in the water at that time.

The Weeksbury Water Supply was formally notified of this violation and the regulatory requirement to inform their consumers of this violation. As of May 12, 1986, the Division of Water has not received verification of the Public Notification. Therefore, the Division of Water is acting on behalf of the water supply in issuing this statement in accordance with the Kentucky Public and Semipublic Water Supplies Regulations (401 KAR 6:015).

Other violations accumulated since July 1985 are:

February 1986—Failed to submit an adequate number of check water samples for bacteriological analysis.

Questions of comments concerning this Public Notice may be directed to Drinking Water Branch, Division of Water, 18 Reilly Road, Frankfort, Kentucky 41601.

Mr. James J. Carter
Post Office Box 32
Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653

Dear Mr. Carter:

Thank you for contacting me regarding Veterans issues. I know there have been areas of concern relating to Veterans benefits recently, due to the effect of the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings legislation on virtually all federally funded programs.

I wanted to let you know that the budget passed by the Senate maintained the current level of funding for all Veterans programs. With regard to health care it also assumes a full adjustment for inflation in FY87. The Senate budget included COLAs for Veterans and military retirees.

I do not believe we should put aside the needs of our servicemen and women who risked their lives to preserve our freedom and way of life. I will remain committed to make certain that your concerns are given highest priority in the Congress. I certainly appreciate hearing from you. Please continue to let me know your thoughts on Veterans issues as well as other matters of interest to you.

Sincerely,
Mitch McConnell

Harry N. Walters, the former V.A. Administrator, coined the phrase, "America is No. 1 thanks to our veterans."

We veterans should remain strong, and the way to do this is by each and every one of us veterans belonging to a veterans organization—our voices are heard the loudest thru veterans organizations and their numbers.

I am a life member of the following veterans organizations: Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Disabled American Veterans.

James J. Carter

If you are a veteran, and do not belong, but wish to join a veterans organization, call me at 886-2774 or write me.

Joan Van Ark has a few things in common with Val

By Peter Meade

At home or at work, Joan Van Ark has no problem remembering what her husband does for a living.

Joan Van Ark

That's because both "husbands" are members of the same profession. At home, Van Ark's husband is Los Angeles newsman John Marshall of KNBC. And when she's playing Valene Clements Ewing Gibson on CBS's "Knots Landing," her husband, Ben Gibson (Douglas Sheehan), is general manager of Pacific World Cable.

Valene's life is certainly more exciting than Van Ark's. After all, Val's twins (who were fathered by her ex-husband after the two were divorced) have been kidnapped, her present husband is dallying with a rock singer, and her stepbrother killed himself. But even though her 19 years as Mrs. Marshall seem subdued when they're compared with a mere three months in her life as Mrs. Gibson, Van Ark isn't complaining.

She has drawn a lot of parallels between her two

Ask Toni

Don Johnson, circa 1978

By Toni Reinhold

I remember distinctly that Don Johnson appeared in an episode of "What Really Happened to the Class of '65." Was this one of his first TV roles? When did it air? — L.L.H., York, Pa.

Don Johnson

This was one of Johnson's early roles. "What Really Happened to the Class of '65" was a dramatic anthology, a collection of yarns that focused each week on another '65 graduate of Bret Hart High School. It aired from December 1977 to July 1978 on NBC. In 1979, Johnson turned up as a regular on "From Here to Eternity," a war drama that aired until 1980 on NBC. He finally hit paydirt with his present series, "Miami Vice," and he's now one of the hottest stars on TV.

Back in the '60s, there was a rock group called the Monkees. What are they doing now? — S.J., Howell, N.J.

They're getting ready for their first public appearance in many years. David Jones, Peter York, Micky Dolenz and Mike Nesmith were the rock quartet brought together for the TV series, "The Monkees," which aired from 1966 to 1968 on NBC. With a considerable assist from their popular series, they sold millions of records. Their hits included "Words," "Last Train to Clarksville" and "I'm a Believer," among many, many others. Davy, Peter and Micky will tour the United States as a group and will be joined in California for the concert by Nesmith.

When is Linda Blair's birthday? — T.C., Huntsville, Ala.

Blair, a native of St. Louis, was born on Jan. 22, 1959.

Where can fans write to Robert Lansing? — M.W., Macon, Mo.

Lansing, whose early TV career included a starring role in the series "Twelve O'Clock High," now appears periodically in the popular series "The Equalizer." Send mail to him c/o "The Equalizer," CBS-TV, 51 W. 52nd St., New York, NY 10019.

(Send your letters to Ask Toni, United Feature Syndicate, 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, NY 10166.)

IT'S FLASHBEAGLE, CHARLIE BROWN

Snoopy (with a blow-dried face and head, which scares Sally) gets ready to burn up the dance floor as the "Peanuts" gang boogies its way into summertime, in "It's Flashbeagle, Charlie Brown," airing TUESDAY, MAY 27 on CBS. (Rebroadcast)

Nairn Chairman Of HRMC Trustees

Edward R. (Ted) Nairn, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Highlands Regional Medical Center.

Edward R. (Ted) Nairn was elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Highlands Regional Medical Center on April 26, according to Clarence Traum, HRMC Administrator. The Board of Trustees is composed of residents of HRMC's four county primary service area.

A HRMC board member since the mid-Seventies, Mr. Nairn commented that he is looking forward to meeting the challenge of the changing health-care climate.

In addition to his service on the HRMC Board of Trustees, Mr. Nairn is involved in other community and state organizations. He is a member of the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce, the Board of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, and a board member of the Prestonsburg Industrial Corporation as well as many other activities.

Prior to his election as Chairman of the HRMC Trustees, Mr. Nairn served as Vice-Chairman for several years.

He is the General Manager of Elliot Supply of Pikeville and Prestonsburg.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Julia Meade would like to express their thanks to all who helped during the passing of their loved one. Thanks to all who sent food, flowers, prayers and words of comfort during this time of sorrow. Thanks to the Honaker Church of Christ, the ministers, Frank Kidd, Jr., and J.B. Case, and to the Hall Funeral Home for its courteous and helpful services.

EASTERN NEWS

The boys and girls of the Joy Bible Clubs of Eastern will present their annual Achievement Program Saturday, May 24, at 7 p.m.

The program will include puppet plays, children's choirs, and various exercises. Highlighting the evening will be the children presenting their year's offering to Annette Williams, missionary to the East Coast of Africa. Miss Williams lives at Flat Gap, and was a nurse at Highlands Regional Hospital in Prestonsburg.

The program will be held at the home of Lois and Barbara Wynsma across from Allen Central High School.

The planet Pluto was discovered in 1930 by astronomer Clyde W. Tombaugh, working at the Lowell Observatory in Flagstaff, Arizona.

National Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that William Asbury has been named a United States National Award winner in art.

Asbury, who attends McDowell High School was nominated for this award by Johnny Stumbo, an art teacher at the school.

He is the son of Frazier Asbury and Bonnie Rowland and grandson of Ellen Lawson, of McDowell and the late Leonard Lawson and Nannie Asbury, of Bluefield, Va. and the late Richard Asbury.

Senate Highlights Scheduled on KET

Highlights of the United States Senate's proceedings as well as definitive look at this law-making body will come to public television when "On the Air! The United States Senate" airs Thursday, June 5, at 7:00 p.m. on KET.

For the first time, through the medium of television, Americans will be able to see the deliberative Senate body at work. "On the Air! The United States Senate" also will feature segments of Senate history. Included in this historical perspective of the Senate will be footage from the old Senate Chamber.

In addition, the program also will address the way lawmakers do business, both in this country and abroad. A brief roundtable discussion is included.

Anchor for the "On the Air! The United States Senate" will be Paul Duke, moderator for public television's "Washington Week In Review."

"On the Air! The United States Senate" is a production of WETA/Washington, D.C.

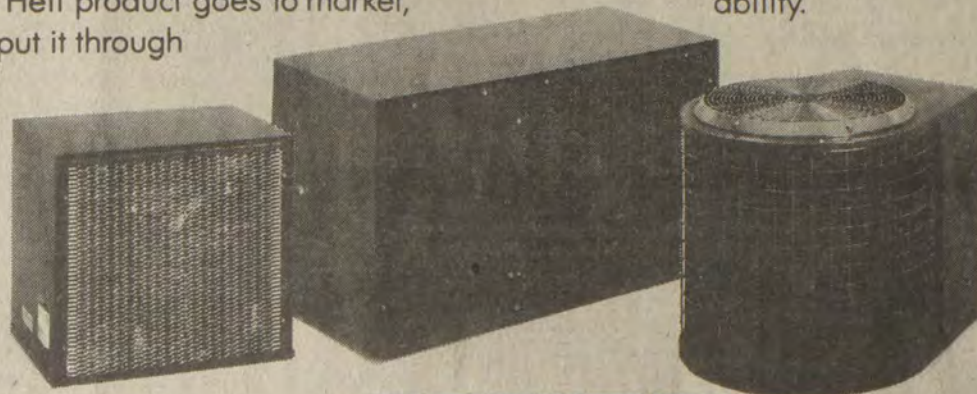

We've engineered dependability into every central air conditioning system we make.

When you buy a central air conditioning system, you want dependability and freedom from worry. You want a system that's tough enough to stand up to anything summer can dish out.

To insure that our systems give you the dependability you're looking for, we engineer it into them. And, before any Heil product goes to market, we put it through one of the toughest product testing labs in the country—our own. If it doesn't measure up, it never leaves the drawing board.

For the most economical system to the super-advanced, energy-efficient Hermitage Elite air conditioning system, Heil is the choice for proven dependability.

Honored for Band Service

Mrs. Gayle Herald was recently honored at the annual Prestonsburg Band Banquet for her outstanding service to the band program. The wife of Bob Herald and mother of two sons, Jim and Mike, she has dedicated nine years of service to the band and Band Boosters Organization. Mrs. Herald is presently executive secretary of P&G Coal Company and is a former school secretary at Prestonsburg High School. Mr. Brackett, Supt. of Floyd County schools, presented Mrs. Herald with a large wooden engraved plaque.

Week Will Foster Buckle-Up Habit

The Memorial Day Holiday is approaching and with it is the beginning of summer travel and the third annual "All American Buckle-Up Week" scheduled for May 22-29.

"All American Buckle-Up Week" is sponsored by Operation C.A.R.E. (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) and is similar to the American Cancer Society's "Great American Smoke-Out". "The Great American Smoke-Out" is set up so those who smoke are given a week designated to quit smoking. The "All American Buckle-Up Week" is also designated to begin a good habit—wearing your safety belt, and it takes about a week or so to really get into the habit," says Kentucky State Police Commissioner Morgan T. Elkins.

Kentucky was the site of the first national kick-off of AABU Week. This year Arkansas will host the national kick-off. Even so, Elkins says there will be plenty of emphasis on the use of safety belts during Memorial Day and all through the summer.

"Last Memorial Day Weekend, three people died on Kentucky highways. None of them were wearing safety belts... one was even thrown out of the vehicle," says Elkins.

In addition to three fatalities last Memorial Day Weekend, 461 people were injured out of more than 1,000 accidents.

Of the three fatal accidents, two were alcohol-related and 56 of the injury accidents were alcohol-involved. Thus, increased enforcement this Memorial Day Holiday will include increased DUI procedures, including stepped-up patrols and use of the mobile breath testing unit, which was introduced last Memorial Day Weekend.

Patrols will also be watching for those who exceed the speed limit. The high-speed pursuit Mustangs will also be out in force over the holiday.

The Memorial Day Weekend will officially be observed from 6 p.m., Friday, May 23 through midnight, Monday, May 26.

Measured Service Under Scrutiny

As part of the Public Service Commission's ongoing study of pricing local telephone service based on usage, South Central Bell is proposing a trial of Measured Service in Bowling Green and in one area of Louisville.

With the commission's approval of South Central Bell's proposal, the trials could begin in July and continue at least through the end of the year.

The trials are part of the research being considered by an Oversight Committee established by the commission in 1984 to study Measured Service in Kentucky. Representatives on the Committee include South Central Bell, General Telephone, government agencies and consumer groups.

"Measured Service would change the way local telephone service is billed for customers," said Art Willett, local manager for South Central Bell.

Measured Service puts billing for local telephone service on a basis similar to electric, water and natural gas utilities.

Customers' monthly charge for local calling will be based primarily on how much they use their telephone to make outgoing local calls—rather than on a flat rate charged everyone regardless of use.

"Since Measured Service charges will be based on actual telephone use, customers will have greater control over the amount of their phone bill, and they can take steps to reduce their bill similar to those they may already take on energy bills," Willett said.

The Louisville trial involves an optional Measured Service offering and the Bowling Green trial involves all customers. In addition, the rate plan in Louisville will be different from that in Bowling Green.

"The two trials of Measured Service under different circumstances will help the Public Service Commission determine the most appropriate rate structure, and whether the rest of the state should have Measured Service," said Willett.

Measured Service was first available in Kentucky in 1980. However, in 1984, the commission placed a moratorium on offering Measured Service to new customers pending the outcome of their study.

Akers Graduates From Police Academy

Officer Charles B. "Chuck" Akers of the Prestonsburg Police Department recently graduated from the Police Basic Training course of the Kentucky Department of Criminal Justice Training.

Officer Akers received his diploma from Edwin E. Miller, Commissioner of the Department and Deputy Secretary of the Justice Cabinet.

Officer Akers was among the 4,008 police officers who have completed the strenuous 400 hours of police instruction during the past ten years.

The Kentucky Department of Criminal Justice Training, an agency of the Kentucky Justice Cabinet, is located on the Campus of Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond. The department has the primary responsibility for police training in Kentucky for municipal and county police agencies.

PTA Delegates Oppose Appointed Superintendent

At the Kentucky P.T.A. State Convention held recently in Somerset, the 317 voting P.T.A. delegates took the following action:

The Kentucky P.T.A. registered voting delegates overwhelmingly rejected a motion on the floor that would have rescinded the Kentucky P.T.A. Legislative Policy, adopted at last year's convention, which is to oppose the appointment of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction by an appointed school board.

The voting delegates represented 118 local P.T.A. units from across the Commonwealth.

The Kentucky P.T.A. legislative chairman, Marlene Helfrich, told the delegates that the Constitutional amendment does not remove politics from education. It only creates a different style of politics—one that removes the voice of the people in the educational decision making.

Betty Wehner, KCPT State President, stated that she believes the voting delegates spoke in one loud voice not to reverse their position, and they clearly said they wanted a choice. She further stated that this action is even a stronger commitment by the Kentucky P.T.A.'s to continue their support for their legislative policy of opposition to the Constitutional amendment and to work for its defeat.

UK Program Aimed At Aiding Businesses

The mission of U.K.'s Management Center is to impact the entire state of Kentucky with continuing educational services. The major thrust of UK's effort is to bring business related education workshops and seminars to this area.

From the University of Kentucky, Cathy Hykle is contacting area employers and businesses about the university's effort to provide useful programs on the local level.

For employer needs, the university's Management Center plans to schedule in the near future sessions in accounting, professional development for secretaries, and management skill for productivity.

The University of Kentucky's Management Center (Lexington Campus) is sponsoring a seminar entitled "Professional Development for Executive Secretaries and Administrative Assistants" and is open to the general public. The seminar will be held at the Carriage House Motor Lodge in Paintsville June 16-17. The two day professional development seminar will help secretaries and administrative assistants capitalize on the most up-to-date methods to improve office efficiency and increase productivity. The program will be led by Dr. Frank Andera, who is presently teaching administrative management and managerial business communication in the College of Business at Montana State University. Applications may be obtained by calling the Management Center collect (606) 257-8746.

Aside from workshops and seminars for area employers and employees, the University of Kentucky is offering a number of career-related services through its Career Planning and Placement Center.

U.K. can help with any job related information. This is not a new program. We are taking the program to the people.

Another purpose of the job placement center is to place U.K. graduates from the surrounding areas back into the community's workforce.

For information about the services offered by the Career Planning and Placement and the Management Center contact Cathy Hykle at (606) 257-2746 or 257-8746.

FINANCIAL PLANNING

$200 BILLION IN TRAVEL

With gas prices down and the danger in traveling to foreign countries up, there will be an increase in U.S. tourism. Not only will more Americans be traveling the U.S. highways, but so will an increased number of foreigners.

Of the 200 billion tourist dollars, some of it will end up in our community. Obviously, those businesses that serve tourists directly will feel the greatest impact. Tourism is expected to be up approximately 5% over last year. If a tourist-oriented business is a little more aggressive than usual, perhaps it can increase the summer trade by another 10 or 15%.

Gas stations, restaurants, motels, gift shops, and tourist attractions all serve as informal information centers for tourists. Spend a few dollars contacting these referral sources to let them know what you have to offer the tourist. Perhaps you can print a flyer which is distributed to these sources at least once a month and even more often during the height of tourist season. Consider preparing a flyer to be distributed to the individual tourist. Or you may choose to prepare a letter or bulletin to inform other businesses in your community about what you have to offer the tourist, stating that you would appreciate having business directed your way.

A 10% increase in sales would make a nice addition to net profit. If you can handle an increase in business without increasing the number of employees, the size of your building, or the amount of your other "fixed" business expenses, then the gross profit all shows up at the bottom line (net profit). If your existing business has a 40% gross profit percentage, a $10,000 increase in sales will add $4,000 to the bottom line.

It is worth a few hundred dollars in advertising to help ensure that your current operation runs at capacity.

Long Wait Pays Off For Burrowing Bees

By PHILLIP R. BREEZE
University of Kentucky
Cooperative Extension Service

To weary travelers, late night revelers and all night studiers, an extra hour between them and their beds may seem like an eternity, but they'll get no sympathy from Xylocopa virginica.

Xylo, for short, is better known by the common name carpenter bee. And Xylo has been patiently waiting almost 60 million years for a good night's sleep. It has been that long since the Rocky Mountains began to form and the redwood forests that provide the insect's favorite nesting site began to disappear from the eastern two-thirds of North America.

Chris Christensen, entomologist in the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service, said carpenter bees are common to Kentucky and that they are a common pest to owners of homes sided, shingled or fenced with soft wood.

Carpenter bees burrow a half-inch-wide opening an inch or so into, and then four to six inches along a branch or board of suitable wood. Cypress, cedar, white pine and poplar are among the species in which Kentucky carpenter bees frequently make their homes.

The damage done by one or two carpenter bees is usually slight. But subsequent generations will enlarge existing burrows. Over a period of years, as the population of bees increases, the damage they do can become quite serious.

The key to controlling carpenter bees is knowing when to plug their nests. There is no point in plugging nests during the summer. Females may very well have already laid six to eight eggs in each nest and provided enough "bee-bread" for the eggs to hatch and develop from egg to larva to adult within the nest, at which time they burrow their way out of the nest, even sealed nests.

The proper time to plug nests is during the late fall, after all the new adults have emerged and before they mate and begin making more nests and laying more eggs.

Chemical control can be accomplished with malathion residual spray, carbaryl dust or sprays, or pyrethrin aerosols. After treatment, nests should be left open for 12 to 24 hours, and then plugged.

Carpenter bees look like bumblebees but lack the bumblebee's characteristic fuzzy abdomen with yellow markings. Homeowners whose home is sided, shingled or fenced with any type of soft wood should be on the lookout for carpenter bees.

"They'll build nests in several types of soft wood, but they prefer redwood above all others. Carpenter bees in the eastern two-thirds of North America have been waiting millions of years for us to come along and start dragging it over the Rockies for them. And the long wait paid off," Christensen said.

David Dilcher, a paleobotanist at Indiana University, said the bees have probably been waiting at least 40 to 45 million years.

"At one point sequoia (redwood) and metasequoia forests existed throughout the northern hemisphere. There was uninterrupted forest all the way around the globe," Dilcher said.

When the Rockies formed, however, the redwoods this side of the Great Divide perished. And while the bees managed to hang on, the change had its effect on them too.

"At one time there was only one species of carpenter bee, a European species. When the Rockies formed and the Great Plains developed, there became two distinct groups of bees, those on this side of the Rockies and those on the California side," said Leland Chandler, an entomologist at Texas Tech who has studied carpenter bees extensively.

"Over the years the bees have evolved into two distinct species," Chandler said.

"They are cousins where they used to be brothers and sisters, but generations of bees that haven't seen a redwood tree for millions and millions of years still prefer it to all other woods.

Christensen is typical of many entomologists in that he frequently attribute human characteristics to insects.

"I can just see a bee looking up one day back in the '50s as some poor suburbanite sticks his brand new redwood picnic table out on his patio, and this bee says, Hey guys, look what's back," Christensen said.

Gray Promoted

David A. Gray, son of Betty J. and Jimmy J. Gray, of Wayland, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of senior airman.

Gray is a security specialist at Malmstrom Air Force Base, Mont., with the 431st Security Police Squadron.

He is a 1983 graduate of Allen Central High School, Eastern, Ky.

The average American, the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture reports, consumes some 95 pounds of refined sugar a year.

U.S.A.A. Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that David Joe Wallen has been named a United States National Award winner in art.

Wallen, who attends Prestonsburg High School was nominated for this National Award by Carlos Neeley, an art teacher at the school. Wallen's biography and picture will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy K. Wallen, of Little Paint. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wallen, of Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Compton, of Little Paint.

High Blood Pressure Can Be Controlled

Mike is a prime candidate for heart disease or a stroke. He weighs 200 pounds more than he should. He eats food high in salt and cholesterol. His exercise consists of some bike riding and hiking in the summer. The clincher is his high blood pressure, which he does not control.

Mike represents thousands of hypertensives who know they have high blood pressure but do little or nothing to control it. May is National High Blood Pressure Month.

"About 90 percent of the people who have high blood pressure could control it," said Ward Hinds, M.D., Department for Health Services epidemiologist. "Hypertension can be controlled with medication, behavior modification, or a combination of both. But we see why too many people who don't take care of their high blood pressure."

Will Spend Summer In College Prep Program

Two Floyd seniors will be among 78 Kentucky graduates who will be participating this summer in a state program designed to assist students from areas with too few doctors or dentists in their pursuit of a career in medicine or dentistry.

April Donetta Ratliff, of Martin, and Rodney Alan Stevens, of Garrett, will be attending the 6-week Professional Education Preparation (PEP) program workshop at Kentucky State University. PEP program workshops are also being conducted this summer at the University of Kentucky and at the University of Louisville.

Ratliff, 18-year-old daughter of Lula and Gary Ratliff, and Stevens, 18-year-old son of Joyce and Jack Stevens, will be getting college-prep instruction in reading, writing, study-skills improvement, and problem solving. They will also be attending classes in mathematics and science.

According to Larry Fowler of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education, the state agent that coordinates the PEP program, all of the instruction is designed to improve the participating students' chances of doing well in their premedical or pre-dental college studies.

Ratliff, a 1986 Betsy Layne High School graduate, and Stevens, a 1986 Allen Central High School graduate, plan to attend Prestonsburg Community College next year.

Blood pressure is the force of blood pushing against the walls of the blood vessels. High blood pressure results when blood vessels become narrow, forcing the heart to pump harder to push blood through the body.

High blood pressure has been cited as a major cause of strokes, heart attacks and kidney failure. Hypertension combined with little exercise, stress, being overweight, smoking, eating the wrong foods, and drinking alcohol can be fatal. But people who control their high blood pressure can live normal, healthy lives.

"Lifestyle plays a part in everybody's health. In the case of hypertensives, lifestyle can play a part in death," said David Goodloe, manager of the department's High Blood Pressure program.

"Because behavior is so important in controlling hypertension," said Goodloe, "health departments across the state offer monitoring services to high blood pressure patients."

In the monitoring program, a patient and a nurse draw up a plan for control. Things considered in the plan are a patient's medication, weight, exercise, stress, diet, and alcohol and cigarette use. The patient and nurse agree on goals for the patient—losing 10 pounds, exercising, eating a proper diet.

"Our goal is to reduce death and disability caused by high blood pressure," said Goodloe. "In addition to being the number one cause of death in Kentucky and the nation, heart disease is the greatest cause of disability among workers under age 65. It's responsible for more days of hospitalization than any other single disorder."

"Strokes, the number three cause of death in Kentucky, account for 10 percent of all nursing home admissions in people under age 65 and cause paralysis, speech difficulty and memory loss," said Goodloe.

"These numbers are terribly saddening in light of the fact that hypertension can be controlled," he said.

For more information about high blood pressure monitoring, contact the nearest health department or David Goodloe at (502) 564-7996. His address is Department for Health Services, Division of Epidemiology, 275 E. Main St., Frankfort, Ky. 40621.

Academic All-American

The National Secondary Education Council announces that Carolee Hobson has been named an Academic All-American.

Miss Hobson, who attends McDowell, was nominated for this award by Joan Caldwell, a science teacher at the school. She will appear in the Academic All-American Scholar Directory, published nationally.

She is the daughter of Bobby and Jewel Hobson and granddaughter of Ruby and Leonard Hobson, of McDowell and Moses Frasure, of McDowell, and the late Ruth Frasure.

Free Film, Gospel Sing At Maytown Baptist, May 30

Rev. Bob Varney, pastor of Maytown First Baptist Church, invites the public to see "The Angel of Sardis," a Fred Holmes Production of Evangelical Films, to be presented in the church Friday, May 30, at 7 p.m. Free admission. The movie provides a dramatic story about the dangers in the loss of religious freedom anywhere, something Christians in many places are feeling for the first time. It deals with some problems that Christians in any land may face as time passes.

An old-fashioned Gospel Sing will follow the film and brief intermission. Persons of all faiths are welcome to come and/or participate if they desire. Those wishing to take part in the special music should call Rev. Varney from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Tuesdays through Fridays, at 285-5131.

Summer Jobs Program Available to Youths

The Big Sandy Community Action Program, will operate a Summer Youth Employment Program in Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties.

The program will serve economically disadvantaged youths, ages 16 through 21, who are high school graduates, college students, vocational school students and high school dropouts who are planning to return to school in the fall.

The program is being funded by the Eastern KY Concentrated Employment Program of Hazard, and will run for five weeks, beginning June 23 and ending July 25.

To be considered for this program, an applicant must meet all eligibility criteria and be certified as eligible by the KY Dept. for Employment Services. Documentation of proof of age, family size, and family income will be required prior to certification. In addition all applicants must have a valid social security card and all male applicants 18 and older must provide proof of military registration.

Applications are now being taken, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the local Community Action Program office. In Floyd county, the office is located at Allen park. Applications are also being taken at the KY Dept. for Employment Services Office on North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Mental Illness Is "Frontline" Subject

"A Matter of the Mind," a "Frontline" documentary with Judy Woodruff, airing Thursday, May 29, at 9:00 p.m. on KET, is a healthy look at mental illness, which affects 30 million Americans and is the number one cause of hospital admissions in the U.S., according to the National Institute of Mental Health.

"Frontline" examines mental illness from the point of view of those who struggle with it, in a sensitive group portrait at Central Manor, a halfway house in St. Paul.

Janet is mentally ill. "I always wanted to become a dancer," she says. "Imagine. Dancing on TV. Whenever there's a party I dance with a broom, because I never find a partner."

The film shifts from Central Manor to Town Square, a shopping and office complex in downtown St. Paul, where Janet walks around on her free time. She is asked to leave a restaurant for creating a disturbance.

"Sometimes I scream and swear," says Janet, who has Tourette's Syndrome, a nervous disorder that causes her to make uncontrollable movements and sounds. "Kids laugh at me...that hurts. I want strangers to know I can't help what I do."

This "Frontline" documentary, co-produced with WCCO in Minneapolis, undercuts the stereotype that mental patients are dangerous. "We wanted to humanize mental illness. We wanted to put a face on it," says Producer Robert Thurber, whose message is people are people. "And even if people are different, all human beings need to feel that someone cares if they live or die."

"Frontline" is presented by KCTS/Seattle, WGBH/Boston, WNET/New York, WPBT/Miami, and WTVS/Detroit.

Ode to "Miss Liberty"

In 1883, Emma Lazarus wrote a poem which first appeared in Joseph Pulitzer's newspaper The World. Its last lines—now famous—are inscribed on the Statue of Liberty.

"...Give me your tired, your poor, Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.

Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me.

I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

A SPECIAL THANKS to the REA Power Company and Claude Kendrick and his crew, Otto Holbrook, Dave Robinson, Robert Webb, and Ralph Leslie, and all others involved in getting a large dangerous hollow tree cut close to our daughter's house and REA's power line. This good deed they have done for us is very much appreciated. It has saved our daughter's house and possibly her life and the lives of our grandchildren.

Thanks to Mrs. Coy, the landowner, our prayers were answered once again. Thanks again for a job well done.

Nursing Students Compete In HOSA

The Mayo State Vocational Technical School, Pikeville Practical Nursing students recently competed in the Ky. Health Occupational Students of America (HOSA) conference held in Louisville on March 13-15.

Placegetters were Betty King—medical spelling, 2nd place; Angie Conn—prepared speaking, 2nd place. Freda Ritchie and Treva Parsons—1st place in CPR and First Aid. The Talent Group consisting of Jennifer Blackburn, Connie Bentley and Nancy Jude, won 1st place with their combined harmony. From the Paintsville practical nursing class, Melissa "Missy" Joseph was 2nd place winner in extemporaneous speaking.

Also attending the conference were Bobbie Adams, Tamma Adkins, Carolyn Bentley, Tammy Ratliff, Carolyn Runyon, Shirley Davidson and Barbara Meredith. The advisors who attended were Marie Conn, R.N. and Teresa Bowling, vocational counselor, Region II.

These students were in competition with other Vocational students in the post-secondary programs. The winners will go to Philadelphia July 1-4 for the National Hosa Convention.

A fund-drive was held to sponsor the participants who will compete in Philadelphia. The sincere effort on the part of the community to support these students is greatly appreciated. By helping to sponsor these students, the opportunity to compete and excel at the National level has been provided to those who otherwise would never have had the experience.

The Pikeville HOSA organization would like to thank these organizations.

It's A Girl!

The Kentucky Horse Park in Lexington has a new resident, the first foal born to a park-owned mare. First Release gave birth in early April while another Thoroughbred mare, Double Deck, is expected to deliver in early June. Park hours are from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. through May 22 and 9 a.m.-7 p.m. May 23 through Labor Day.

Stuart Symposium
Slated June 24

The Jesse Stuart Symposium, traditionally part of Morehead State University's Appalachian Celebration, will be conducted Tuesday, June 24, at the Adron Doran University Center.

This year's symposium also is part of the statewide 80th anniversary observance of the late Kentucky author's birth, according to Joyce LeMaster, MSU associate professor of English and 1986 Symposium coordinator.

Launching the symposium events will be a luncheon at 12:15 p.m. in the Red Room ADUC, featuring Dr. Stuart Sprague, professor of history and noted Appalachian scholar, discussing "Jesse Stuart's Kentucky."

While all events are open to the public, reservations will be necessary for the luncheon and may be made by calling the coordinator at (606) 783-2738 or 783-2185 or by writing Joyce LeMaster, U.P.O. Box 857, Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky. 40351.

Moving into ADUC's Gold Room, the program continues at 1:45 p.m. with a reading by Dr. Ron Dobler, Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy chair, from Stuart's "Taps for Private Tussie" with Appalachian fiddle accompaniment by Dr. Gene Young, associate professor of English.

Following the film, "Split Cherry Tree," Jim Shope, a Stuart scholar, will lead a discussion and the MSU Performing Arts Trio will present "Spring and Summer: The Seasons of Jesse Stuart" through music, art and poetry. The trio includes LeMaster as narrator, Lucretia Stetler, MSU assistant professor of music, on piano and artist Doug Adams.

Greenup county native and Kentucky poet laureate Lee Pennington will speak on "Jesse Stuart: a Remembrance." The Symposium closes with a social hour which features James Stuart, brother of the author, with "This is Your Life, Jesse Stuart."

A day-long bus tour to W-Hollow, the Stuart Home in Greenup county, is available either on Monday, June 23, or on Wednesday, June 25, leaving the campus at 8 a.m. There is a charge for the bus tour which includes lunch in the Jesse Stuart Room at Greenbo Lodge.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Wayne Salisbury express their thanks to all who helped in any way upon the passing of our loved one. Thanks to those who brought food and sent flowers, to those who spoke words of kindness, and to the Mud Creek singers for their beautiful songs.

A special thanks to Bro. Bennie Blankenship for all his services and to the Hall Funeral Home for its kind and courteous service. Thanks to one and all.

UK Awards Sturgill Honorary Law Degree

William B. Sturgill, member of the executive committee of the Kentucky Coal Association, was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree by the University of Kentucky, May 10.

Sturgill was honored for serving 10 years as chairman of the UK Board of Trustees; for giving $2,000 for several years to a UK faculty member who has made an outstanding contribution to graduate education, and for contributing funds for the UK development office building.

He was also cited for his leadership in government, coal, agriculture, transportation and banking which "have supplied economic strength to communities in Eastern and Central Kentucky."

During the administration of former Gov. John Y. Brown, Sturgill served simultaneously as secretary of the Kentucky Energy and Agriculture Cabinet and as chairman of the Kentucky State Racing Commission. He is now a member of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education.

A native of Prestonsburg, Sturgill is the son of Mrs. Troy B. Sturgill, and the late Mr. Sturgill.

He is president of East Kentucky Investment Co. Inc.; chairman of the Fourth Street Tobacco Warehouse, and a board member of Lexington's First Security National Bank and Trust Co. and the CSX Corp.

Receives Award at EKU

Jackie B. Cecil, of Stanville, has received the Phi Beta Lambda Award from Eastern Kentucky University, as outstanding participant in local PBL Chapter and state Phi Beta Lambda. Cecil was among more than 150 students at EKU who were honored for scholastic achievement, Sunday, April 27, during the University's annual Honors Day luncheon. Presenting the award is Skip Daugherty, Director of Student Activities and Organizations.

Khomeini Revolution Is "Frontline" Topic

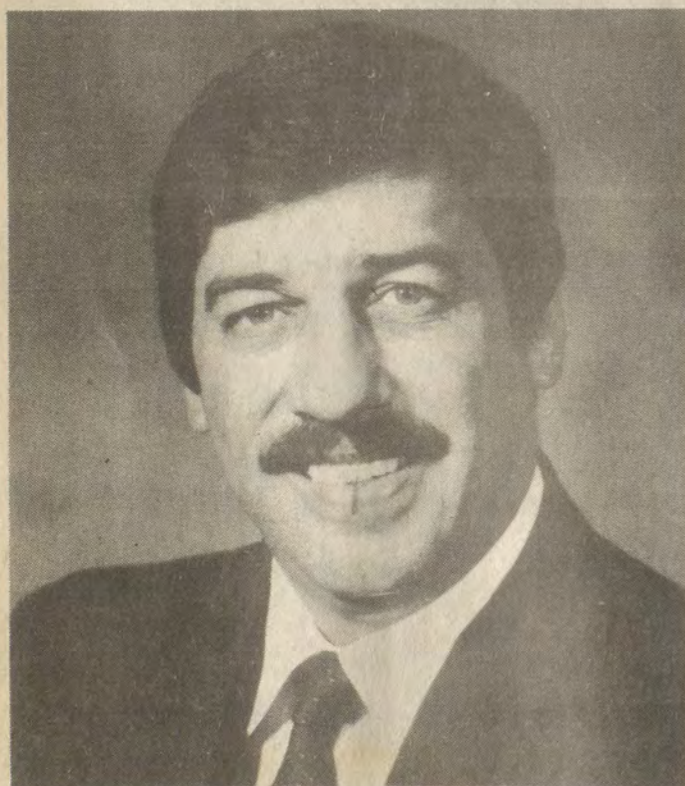

"The more people, especially young ones, who die in our cause, the stronger we shall become," says the Ayatollah Khomeini. "Muslims everywhere must conquer the fear of death so they can conquer the whole world."

"Holy War, Holy Terror," a "Frontline" documentary with Judy Woodruff will air Thursday, June 5, at 9:00 p.m. on KET. It contains vivid documentary material, including specially shot sequences in Iran, interviews with international experts and background on the Islamic Revolution and Iran-Iraq war.

"Frontline" also details Khomeini's efforts to spread his revolution. In the holy city of Qum, students from 45 countries study the theory and practice of the Islamic Revolution. Future terrorists are taught to handle explosives. Facilities are provided inside army camps for those willing to spread Khomeini's ideals through violence.

At a Tehran orphanage 5- to 12-year-old boys are raised to become martyrs. To die in the holy war is to die a martyr and to go to heaven they believe. A young war veteran who lost both legs, lies in a hospital bed. "This is the will of God," he says.

"Frontline" is produced by a consortium of public television stations.

JIM ROSE

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD

Jim Rose is a native of Floyd County who has represented the 92nd Legislative District in Frankfort for the past 18 months. Your state representative is your voice in Frankfort and must represent the needs and concerns we have to assure us that our area is treated fairly in Frankfort. State government touches all of us and we must have competent, well-trained, dedicated legislators if our area is to receive equal treatment in state government matters. Let's look at what Jim Rose has accomplished during his 18 months in Frankfort.

• EDUCATION: Jim Rose voted for legislation that will raise the beginning teacher's salary to $16,200 in 1987; will raise experienced teacher salaries with the state portion topping out at $28,000 in 1987; reduced class size in the first three grades; increased power equalization monies for poorer school districts; increased transportation funds; provided all teachers with a duty free lunch period; provided aides for all kindergarten teachers and provided funding for new school building construction. When the Garrett Elementary School was declared unsafe, Jim Rose went to work and saw to it that an additional $4 million was provided to the Floyd County School System so that the Garrett/Wayland school could be built.

• CONTROLLING UTILITY COSTS: Jim Rose introduced legislation that would have given senior citizens a 20% discount on utility bills; obtained public service commission intervention to prohibit an unreasonable rate increase by East Kentucky Utilities on Right Beaver Creek.

• TRANSPORTATION: Jim has worked for a new A rated highway that will connect Right and Left Beaver; supported a House resolution that asked the Governor to take the tolls off the Mountain Parkway; supported efforts to have a rest stop constructed on the Parkway—Ground was broken for this rest stop last Friday; obtained funding for a turning lane and a new bridge at Clark Elementary School; and obtained approval for a new, first class intersection, to connect Right Beaver to the Alice Lloyd College road on Route 7.

• COAL: In addition, Jim Rose supported legislation that requires a minimum of 10% return of coal severance tax to Floyd County; that prohibits issuance of new, restrictive and unnecessary regulations against the coal industry; requires that all citations issued against the coal industry be tried in the county where the violation occurred.

Jim Rose understands the legislation process and has proven his competency in dealing with the complex issues of state government. He has represented us well in Frankfort and he deserves to be returned.

Scholarship Winner

Jane Edmonds, daughter of George and Nancy Edmonds, of Pikeville, is the winner of a prestigious $1,300 Commonwealth Scholarship at the University of Kentucky where she plans to major in elementary education.

She has maintained a 3.9 average at Prestonsburg Community College and was class salutatorian at Mullins High School where she also won the Anatomy and Physiology award, the Academic Fitness award, and was a clarinetist in the All-County Band. At PCC, she has been named to the Dean's List every semester and was awarded the first Susan Nutter Scholarship.

Miss Edmonds found her field work in education especially helpful in making her career choice. She is especially interested in classroom management skills, particularly motivation and discipline.

Celebrates 94th Birthday

Manerva (Nervy) Johnson, of Wheelwright, was honored on her 94th birthday with a surprise party at the home of her son, Mr. Kenneth Johnson, Wheelwright.

An elaborate buffet dinner prepared by Mrs. Georgine Johnson was served to more than 70 friends and relatives who attended.

Mrs. Johnson was born May 9, 1892 in Breathitt county, the daughter of Silas and Armanda Richie. She moved to Floyd county in 1926 and for the past 30 years resided at Abner Mountain, Melvin. Recently she moved to Wheelwright, where she still maintains her own household.

She is the widow of the late James Albert (Tab) Johnson, who died in 1954, and has been a member of the Joppa Old Regular Baptist Church at Melvin, for 32 years.

She has raised 16 children, has 75 grandchildren and several great-great-grandchildren.

Her advice for a long life is, "Hard work, be good to everybody and keep your nose out of everybody's business!"

Among those attending were her children, Garfield and Grover Johnson, both of Buckingham; Almeda Cook, of Indiana; Kenneth Johnson, of Wheelwright; Jesse Johnson, of Prestonsburg; Rob Noble, of Lewis county, and Alpha Burke, of Jacks Creek.

12 Floyd Students Among PC Graduates

Bernstein On Brahms

Leonard Bernstein's remarkable affinity for the works of 19th-century German composer Johannes Brahms will be in full, magisterial display beginning Monday, May 26 and continuing Mondays June 2 and 9, at 8:00 p.m. on "Bernstein on Brahms/Reflections and Performance," on KET. These are the first three of a nine-part cycle of specials presented by "Great Performances."

"Bernstein on Brahms/Reflections and Performance" offers a rare glimpse of Bernstein, not only on the podium, but doing what he does better than many on television: explaining what great music is all about in extended introductory segments to each program. The first program, airing May 26, features two works: The Academic Festival Overture in C Minor, op. 80, performed at the often-dubbed "Golden Hall" of the Vienna Musikverein and the Serenade No. 2 in A Major, op. 16, performed at the Vienna Concert House.

The second program, airing June 2, is devoted to the Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in D Major, op. 77 (Cadenza by Max Reger). Performed at the Vienna Concert House, Gidon Kremer is soloist.

The last program of this season's series, airing June 9, features the Symphony No. 1 in C Minor, op. 68, performed at the Vienna Musikverein.

Six additional "Bernstein on Brahms" programs are scheduled in upcoming months and include Symphonies No. 2, 3, and 4, "The Tragic Overture," the Concerto for Violin, Cello, and Orchestra, and the two piano concertos.

Recognized at MSU

DOUG SALISBURY, OF WHEELWRIGHT, left, was recognized as the Outstanding Graduate Student in Theatre and Communications during Morehead State's University's College of Arts and Sciences Student Recognition Breakfast held recently. Commending Salisbury for achievement and excellence, Dr. Travis Lockhart, MSU assistant professor of theatre, made the presentation while others looked on. The event was part of MSU's Academic Awards Week, which allowed each college to honor its students for academic achievement.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Warning Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

The following nine symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations are often the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these may spell back trouble:

(1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals may indicate your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will likely become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these warning signals...call for in-depth consultation in Layman's terms.

Spurlock, in Collins Party, Boosts Business in S.E. Asia

Gov. Martha Layne Collins will lead a delegation of state and local officials including a Prestonsburg banker, on a two-week-long economic development trip, May 23-June 11, to Japan, Taiwan and Korea.

The delegation will include Burl Wells Spurlock, president of the First Commonwealth Bank here and chairman of the board of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

"We've brought thousands of jobs to Kentucky as a result of such trips in the past," the Governor said, "and now is a promising time to encourage still further investment in the state and to promote the sale of Kentucky goods, agriculture in particular."

Gov. Collins said this trip will make the first time a Kentucky governor has visited Korea. "There are some important trade opportunities in Korea," she said. "They haven't been explored in the past, and it's time we took a look at how we might expand trade there, especially for our farmers, who need more markets abroad."

The delegation will leave Frankfort for Japan on May 23. Accompanying the Governor to Japan, besides Spurlock, will be Cabinet Secretary Larry Hayes; Commerce Secretary Carroll Knically; Ted Sauer, executive director of the Commerce Cabinet's Office of International Marketing; Jefferson County Judge-Executive Harvey Sloane; Lexington Mayor Scotty Baesler; Covington Mayor Thomas Beehan; state Sen. Greg Higdon, Fancy Farm; Charles Buddeke, director of the Louisville-Jefferson County Economic Development Office; and Ray Moncrief, London, representing the Southern Kentucky Economic Development Council.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

REBOUND INSOMNIA

Sleeping pills actually can cause insomnia. If a sleeping pill is taken night after night, and/or at higher than recommended doses, and then abruptly stopped, a severe withdrawal reaction may set in. This reaction is called "rebound insomnia." It is even possible for sleeping problems to develop when the user has been taking the drug for only a short time and then stops. Rebound insomnia can occur immediately after sleeping pills are stopped or several days later. It depends on which drug is being used and how long it takes to clear out of the body. If you have been taking sleeping pills for a long time, or have been taking too much, talk with your doctor about a gradual reduction of the medication.

At COOLEY APOTHECARY we feel there's more to a pharmacy than just filling prescriptions. That's why concise records are kept about your prescriptions, including vital information on any allergies or drug interactions. A registered pharmacist is always on duty here at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106 to answer any questions about your medication. We have plenty of free parking. Master Charge and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-4. Have a safe and happy Memorial Day weekend. Please don't drink and drive!

HANDY HINT: Rebound insomnia may last for a few days or a few weeks.

GARRETT NEWS

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edgle Hicks, Saturday, were Mr. and Mrs. Edd Phillips, of Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Chaney and Jamie, of Steele.

Mrs. Billy Jean Martin celebrated her birthday May 12 and Mrs. Dora Combs celebrated hers May 11.

Mrs. Betty Bradley, of Estill, is a patient at the U.K. Medical Center.

"I want to take the legislators and local officials because the attitude of community leaders is always an important element in attracting new jobs," she said. "It will improve prospects for the entire state when those people we call on see firsthand our cooperation and eagerness to work with a company to bring in new jobs."

The group will meet with industrial prospects as well as officials of banks and trading companies. In addition to companies Kentucky officials have worked with and visited in the past, they will meet with new industrial prospects.
