THREE MONTHS TO THE DAY after it began, repair work on the bridge carrying U.S. 23 traffic over the Big Sandy and the C&O railroad at Hager Hill is scheduled to be completed tomorrow (Thursday) and the bridge to be open to traffic again Friday. The main Prestonsburg-Paintsville highway has been closed at that point since May 14, when a repair crew began to replace the bridge deck according to a new design. Highway engineers hope the new design will result in reduced vibration, which was formerly so intense it shook the concrete from the bridge's steel skeleton.

Schools Finish Year $403,278 In The Red

Textbooks Are Free For Needy Students

Because of a change in a state law adopted by the 1986 General Assembly, textbooks must be made available free of charge to high school students who cannot afford to rent them.

The amendment was made to a law which relieves the state of responsibility for providing textbooks in the high school grades. That duty now falls on local school districts, which are permitted to recover the cost of the books by renting them out to students.

The Floyd school district rents out high school texts each year for $4 per text, on the understanding that the cost will be recouped over the theoretical seven-year life of the book. The cost of providing free textbooks will be borne by the local district.

Under the new state law, free textbooks will be available for all students meeting the guidelines for free or reduced-price lunches. The law also instructs local districts to inform students of the availability of free books and the guidelines and procedures for obtaining them.

Supt. Ray Brackett said that, although it is the responsibility of eligible students or their parents to ask for free textbooks, he saw no danger that needy families would remain unaware of their rights. "It has never been a problem in the past," he said.

Assistant Supt. Ron Hager said that the availability of free books is spelled out in the handbook distributed to all students at the beginning of the year and that, in any event, families on file as eligible for free and reduced price meals will not be charged rental fees for the books. "It is automatic," he said.

Repairs, Texts, Added Teachers, Cited As Cause

For the first time in seven years, the Floyd school system has ended the fiscal year in the hole. Supt. Ray Brackett disclosed last Wednesday that, when all the bills are paid for the year, expenditures will outstrip receipts by $403,278.

Not since 1978, when the deficit plunged to $668,000, has the red ink flowed in such abundance. It took two years for the system to recover from that shortfall and Brackett did not disguise the fact that recovery may be as difficult now.

In response to board member James A. Duff, who asked whether the deficit might be made up this year, Brackett replied, "I have no choice. You have no choice. We have to submit a balanced budget. I only hope the money coming in exceeds the money going out. It will be an extremely difficult task."

Emergency building repairs, removal of asbestos from half a dozen schools, and upgrading fire-protection systems at the insistence of fire marshals, were unanticipated, costly expenditures last year, Brackett said.

Other factors contributing to the deficit, he said, were the need to hire more counselors to meet accreditation requirements and more teachers to meet statutory limits on class size. Textbooks proved unexpectedly costly and electricity use rose sharply, he added.

Largely because of emergency repairs at Prestonsburg and Garrett schools, maintenance expenditures ran to $817,240—$239,240 over budget. Cleaning the schools also proved more expensive than anticipated, with custodial supplies costing $77,122—$29,122 over budget—and (See Story No. 1, Page 4)

Gas Supplier Seeks To Abandon System Serving 1334 Families

It could be a cold winter for the four schools, the nursing home, and the 1334 residential customers of the gas distribution system operated for Floyd Fiscal Court by East Kentucky Utilities, Inc. The company that has been supplying wholesale gas to the Floyd firm announced last week that the supply is about to be shut off.

The reason, said Ernest B. Jenkins, vice-president and general manager of Kentucky West Virginia Gas Co., is that East Kentucky Utilities owes the Ashland-based firm $345,238.70 for gas and appears to have no hope of paying the bill.

In an August 4 letter to East Kentucky Utilities president David Allen, Jenkins said that, in view of the Floyd firm's recent failure to win approval for a rate increase from the Kentucky Public Service Commission, "Kentucky West is of the opinion that your delinquency can only continue to increase in the future."

"For this reason, Kentucky West is compelled to terminate deliveries of gas to East Kentucky Utilities prior to the 1986-1987 heating season," Jenkins wrote. The wholesaler's decision is final, said Jenkins, who suggested that the Floyd firm "seek an alternate source of gas supply immediately."

Anyone who doubts whether Kentucky West will make good on its threat need only recall the decision of the Cities Service Company to pull out of Toler Creek last December, warned County Attorney David Barber last week. That decision, which affected 26 families, would be just "a fly on the elephant's back" compared to a Kentucky West pullout, which could affect as many as 10,000 people on Right Beaver Creek, he said.

But Barber does not blame the wholesale firm, which has waited in vain for two years to get its money. The real stumbling block to a solution, the county attorney charges, is a Public Service Commission that is too self-righteous and inflexible to approve the rate increases which would permit East Kentucky Utilities to resolve its own problems.

"They see themselves protecting the consumer," the county attorney said, "but they're about to protect eight- to ten-thousand people in Floyd county right out of the gas business."

If East Kentucky Utilities (EKU) goes under, he noted, the victims will include four grade schools—those at Allen, Dwale, Garrett and Wayland—and the Golden Years Rest Home at Lackey—all of which are customers of the threatened utility. A county-owned system—it is leased to EKU as manager—it is a non-profit operation that is not lining anyone's pockets, he insists.

But if no one is making a fast dollar from the system, neither is it being run efficiently, according to Public Service Commission spokeswoman Constance Parrish. Nor should consumers be punished with higher rates for the sins of management, which spends money imprudently and drags its feet on needed improvements in the system, she said.

Whether Kentucky West will be permitted to abandon EKU is a decision for the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. But the decisions that have already crippled the Floyd utility, its defenders say, are those of the PSC, which has turned down recent requests for rate increases and which refused in July to allow a 95-cent surcharge which EKU said was necessary to retire its debt to Kentucky West.

On Thursday last, EKU representatives were again in Frankfort, requesting a 16.7 percent rate hike which the utility said would lift the average household's monthly bill from $44.47 to $51.90 and would yield an additional $116,774 in annual revenues. No decision on the request is expected before September.

In the meantime, county and utility officials have been instructed to appear before the PSC on August 26 to explain (See Story No. 2, Page 4)

Say Faulty Wiring Damaged Two Homes

Because of a bungled wiring job, their home burned, an Endicott couple charge in a lawsuit filed this week in Floyd Circuit Court. The same wiring errors destroyed electrical appliances in their home, another couple charged.

Maryland and Ollie May Jervis say their home caught fire after faulty repairs were done on the Big Sandy RECC line serving them by workers with the Richardson Construction Company, of Louisville. They are suing the utility and the construction firm for the value of the home, put at $40,000, and its contents, reckoned at an additional $40,000.

Randell and Joyce Jervis, who own a trailer on the same lot, seek $3000 for their damaged appliances.

(Suits filed in court give only the plaintiff's version of the issues in dispute.)

Schools Reopen

Teachers are already back—reporting Monday for three in-service days before classes resume—and students in Floyd county's primary and secondary schools are scheduled to return to class tomorrow (Thursday) after the summer vacation.

Councilman Stands Firm on Ticketing

Shouted accusations of harassment, directed at councilman Bill Callihan, opened Monday's Prestonsburg City Council meeting.

The opening minutes of council meetings are routinely given to citizens who have business to bring before the council. Local contractor Bob Carpenter took the opportunity to allege that Callihan, in his role as city parking enforcement officer, had harassed him with an undeserved ticket after he parked his vehicle in a designated five-minute parking zone in front of the Playhouse restaurant.

Carpenter said he parked there only when working inside the restaurant. Callihan countered that the one time he had been ticketed, Carpenter had told him he had not been working, but eating, at the Playhouse.

Playhouse owner and former councilman Bill Ray Collins attended the meeting and repeated Carpenter's allegations but said he had not been present when the ticketing took place.

The question of city vehicles being allowed to park in no-parking zones, or parking longer than the legal limit in some places came up when Callihan was said to have ticketed a police cruiser for parking in the five-minute space in front of the Playhouse.

Callihan said Cpt. Woodrow Lafferty was not on official business while parked illegally, but was rather in Rose's restaurant "having a cup of coffee." Collins said Lafferty had parked in the space at his request, to discourage an individual who had caused trouble at the restaurant from coming back.

Councilman William O. Goebel, III, said he felt that city vehicles should be allowed to park anywhere and not be ticketed. He said he would rather have police officers eat in town and "because they wear that badge," they should not be ticketed for parking illegally.

Callihan said that city employees were considered off-duty while they were eating, and should have to abide by city parking laws.

City administrator Fred James argued that city employees were on duty even while eating and as such should be able to park where they need. He said that Callihan as parking officer fell under the jurisdiction of the city administrator, and the two should develop lines of communication regarding when city employees need to use certain parking spots in the line of duty.

Off-duty city employees should be required to obey parking laws but, when on the job, they should not be ticketed, whether parked on a yellow line or at an expired meter, James said.

Callihan agreed on the need for better communication but asserted that he meted tickets out according to the law, and that if he ticketed a vehicle which he later found out was on official business, or belonged to a contractor doing work in town, it was already his policy to void it.

Saying he believed there was a law against Callihan serving in both positions, Carpenter asked to see a copy of an opinion from the state attorney-general's office that Callihan could serve as both councilman and traffic officer. City Attorney Larry Brown said he would provide Carpenter with a copy.

In other business, council heard complaints from a group of Lancer (See Story No. 5, Page 4)

Youth Center, Small Industry Among Service Group's Plans

A specialty clothing operation and a youth center are among the projects planned for this county by a Lancaster-based charitable organization.

As elements of a $776,000 investment planned for the new fiscal year, the Christian Appalachian Project (CAP) intends to remodel a West Prestonsburg warehouse, train workers for a cut-and-sew operation, begin a wreath factory, and construct a youth center in Martin, said Michael McLaughlin, president of the organization.

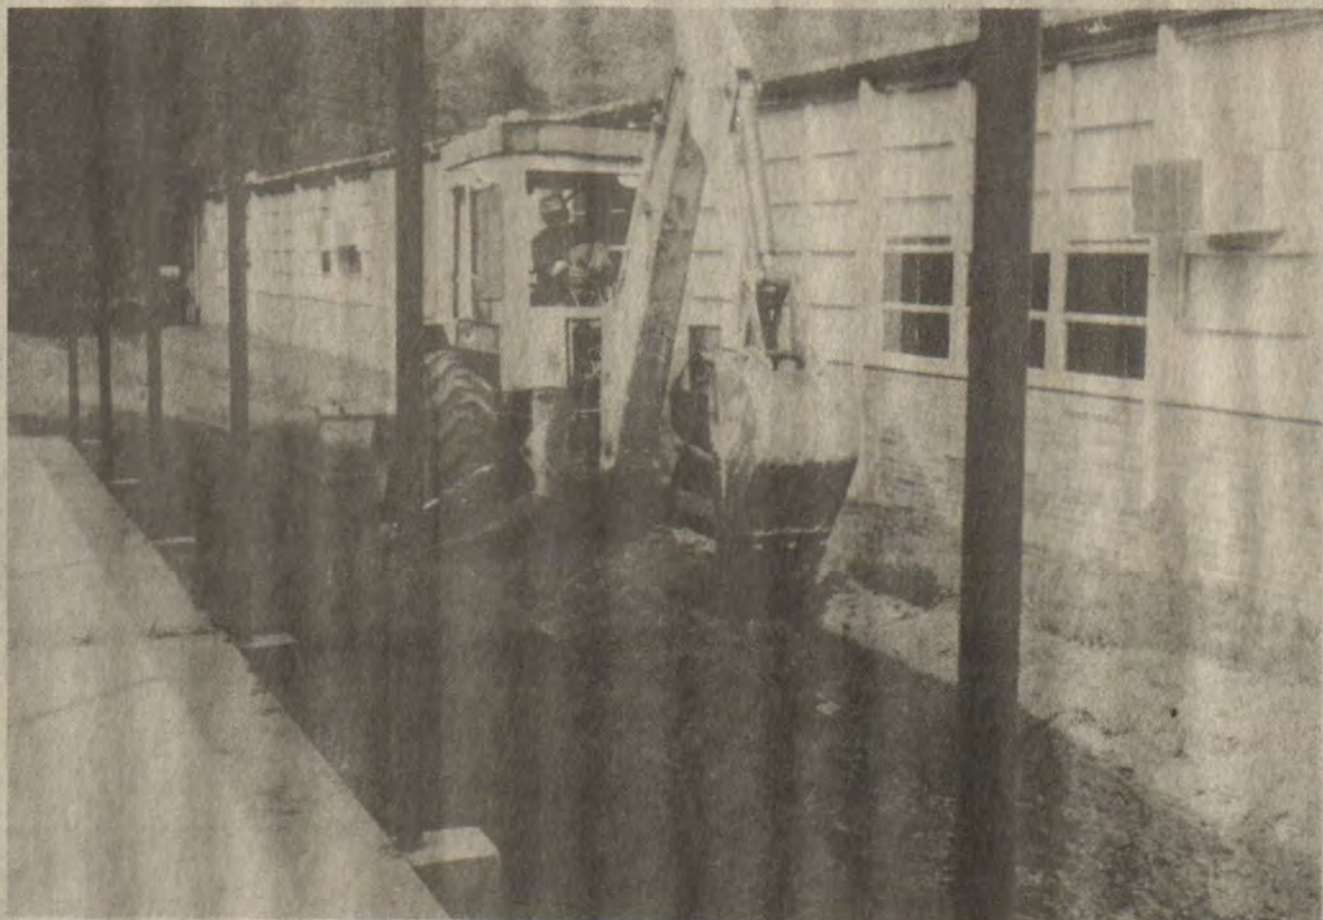

After remodeling, space in a former parachute factory on the old Middle Creek road will be leased free of charge to Mountain Laurel, a mail-order specialty clothing business owned by Lynn Weddington Tucker, and the firm will be given $20,000 to train four or five new workers. McLaughlin said.

In addition, the refurbished building will house a wreath factory, which is also expected to employ four or five.

The wreath-making plant is scheduled to open in November as a satellite of one already operating in Jackson county. The Jackson operation, which provided about 80 seasonal jobs last year, is considered one of CAP's most successful job-creation ventures, according to a press release.

A two-story building to be erected on the site of the old Hall Funeral Home will accommodate the Martin Youth Center and will provide housing for CAP volunteers. Some 8000 square feet of floor space will be raised on stilts as a protection against flooding.

The West Prestonsburg warehouse will also house CAP's maintenance crew, an expanded home repair program, and a used-clothing store. The organization also intends to construct a mechanics' shop behind the Mountain Christian Academy complex at Martin, to hire an additional fulltime worker for emergency services, and to develop a year-round program at Camp Shawnee.

A JOINT EFFORT on the part of Floyd Fiscal Court and the Floyd County Conservation District will, it is hoped, resolve a problem of stormwater runoff that has plagued Osborne Elementary School in wet weather. With technical help and $1400 worth of materials furnished by the conservation district, and labor by the county, two diversion ditches are under construction there.

Conservationist Clark Allison said the project will soon pay for itself in reduced property damage and maintenance costs. In addition, seeding the area will greatly improve its appearance, he said.

The Floyd County Conservation District is looking for other projects with potential public benefit. Anyone with suggestions or needing information should call 886-3128.

School Board Considers... Parent-Teacher Meets, Cool Air, New Windows, And A Slew of Substitutes

At the prompting of the Floyd County Education Forum, Assistant School Supt. Ron Hager conceded Wednesday that a committee of parents, teachers and administrators might usefully study new ways of promoting parent-teacher communication in the schools. Hager was responding to a request by FCEF spokesperson Jean Rosenberg, who asked school administrators to give clear, public support to parent-teacher conferences, to continue to designate an "open house" at the schools each year, and to name a committee to work on a better system for involving parents in the operation of the schools.

"We really need your leadership on this," Mrs. Rosenberg told the board. Hager noted that existing policy already calls for parent-teacher conferences and that mechanisms are in place for alerting parents if their children are in trouble. But "a committee could develop a better policy than the one we have," said Hager, adding, "I urge we do this."

Supt. Ray Brackett said he would broach the subject this week at a meeting of the Floyd County Education Association, which has expressed a concern that it might involve teachers in additional uncompensated work. But Brackett said only that he would urge teachers to publicize better the existing policy on parent-teacher conferences.

Declaring an emergency, the board voted to let a contract to replace 191 windows at Prestonsburg grade school. The 36-year-old wood-frame windows are badly deteriorated and were ordered removed last spring by city fire officials. Replacing them could cost between $45,000 and $65,000, said Brackett. The work will not delay this week's school opening and should be accomplished with a minimum of disruption to students, he said.

Work is near finished on an additional classroom at Prater Elementary and the board authorized construction of yet another unit there. For the first time, the Dana school will offer a kindergarten class this year.

Prestonsburg High School faculty members plan to raise about $47,000 this year to equip the school with air-conditioners. For its part, the board committed itself to have the necessary wiring installed, at a cost of about $20,000. While no money will be available for the project this year, the work could be done next summer and debited against the 1987-'88 budget, Brackett said.

Vocational education teacher David Layne, who is coordinating the fund-raising effort, said that Prestonsburg High School is the only school in the county without air-conditioning.

A change order was approved to add distribution lines to the sewage treatment plant now nearing completion at the McDowell school. The change, which follows an engineer's recommendation, will add $6908 to the project, the total cost of which will still fall below the $130,000 authorized in federal disaster funds, Brackett told the board.

ATTENTION:

The members of the Floyd County Fire Fighters Association would like to respectfully request the presence of our County Officials at our next meeting, 7:00 P.M., September 4, 1986, at the Garth Vocational School.

This is the third time that this invitation has been issued but as of this date only Magistrate Jackie E. Owens has shown enough interest to attend. Where are our other members of the fiscal court? We mean them no harm, we only want to discuss how better fire protection (and lower insurance rates) can be made available to the citizens of Floyd County.

As volunteer departments we cannot do this alone, even with the fire tax districts. We need desperately to be able to buy new equipment but with gasoline, maintenance and insurance, no money is left.

We need county help! But it seems our officials don't care enough to talk to us.

janitors' salaries also running high. Electricity, budgetted at $430,000 on the basis of recent experience, in fact cost $485,482. Brackett said he had no immediate explanation for the sharp rise in the power bill.

Textbooks, for which $60,000 was budgetted, cost $103,466. The gap between the cost of textbooks to the local school district and the state textbook subsidy is likely to widen even further this year, school officials warn, because of a new law guaranteeing free books to students on the free lunch program. (See accompanying story).

Textbooks were only one reason for a $478,945 cost overrun in the instruction category. Salaries for teachers in the remedial reading and dropout prevention programs, estimated by the treasurer at $140,541, in fact amounted to $247,271. The fact that those positions were filled more by experienced teachers than by beginners, as school administrators had planned, accounted for the overrun, Brackett said.

And one apparent overrun, he said, was the result of a bookkeeping error. Principals' salaries, a $402,320 item, came in $239,033 over budget—but only because the budget estimate of $163,287 was a clerical miscalculation from the start, Brackett explained.

Mrs. Martin said. The engineer listed a Lackey site as his first choice, the Wayland school site second, and a tract at Eastern third.

But that was not how Paul Hoffman saw it. The architect hired for the school project on the recommendation of board member James A. Duff, Hoffman said he favored the Garrett site because it is the most accessible and because the school district already owns the property.

Problems of access and the need to purchase property at the Lackey and Wayland sites would siphon off monies that could more usefully be put into classroom space, the architect said.

Citing a Corps of Engineers map, Hoffman denied that the Garrett site stood in the floodway and said it could be satisfactorily filled to raise it above the 100-year flood plain.

Mrs. Martin insisted that the board vote on her group's request that a hearing officer be sent from Frankfort to listen to all sides in the dispute. Dr. Mary Hall made a motion to that effect but it died for lack of a second—a failure that brought cries of "Shame" from the audience and a determination on the part of some Wayland partisans to hire an attorney.

Supt. Ray Brackett noted later that the choice of Garrett as the site for a consolidated school was initially made by state education officials. The superintendent acknowledged that construction of the new grade school—like that of the high school at Eastern—might be held up by protracted litigation.

In the meantime, the board named Randall C. Burchett as architect for the proposed Allen school, on the recommendation of board member Ray "Shag" Campbell, and James A. Ellis, of Pikeville, as architect for the consolidated McDowell-Wheelwright high school, on a recommendation of Dr. Hall.

The board voted to accept a state allocation of $1.1 million in debt service on bonds to be sold this year for construction of four Floyd schools—a $4 million middle school at Lancer, a $2.9 million grade school at Allen, a $3.4 million grade school at Garrett, and a $4.4 million high school at a site yet to be named on Left Beaver Creek.

Nurse Says Activism Results In Demotion

Her efforts to organize a union to represent registered nurses at Highlands Regional Medical Center brought retribution from the hospital management, a nurse claims in a suit filed last week in Floyd Circuit Court.

After eight years on the hospital staff, she was demoted last year to a position with lower pay, worse working conditions, and diminished career opportunities. Furnell Arnett says in her suit. The demotion came as a result of her union organizing and her testifying against the hospital management at a National Labor Relations Board hearing, she charged.

The nurse seeks compensation for the loss of $250 a month in wages since January 2 this year and for her "impaired professional reputation" and "mental anguish."

The suit was filed on her behalf by Pikeville attorney Lawrence R. Webster. Like all lawsuits, it gives only the plaintiff's side of the story.

Bits and Pieces

LIGHTER MOMENTS

Do you know who mows the grass on Walton Mountain? Lawn Boy, of course.

Not long after Jimmy Goble laid that one on us, Sam Isbell sauntered in with the following.

Seems the crew, down to the lowliest cabin boy, had long been mystified by their captain and a secret document he kept locked away from prying eyes. He had brought them safely to harbor for many years. But, whether he rushed to the bridge to snatch the ship and crew from towering seas, from the awesome force of the hurricane, or the path of torpedoes, first the captain went to his cabin, unlocked the safe, and carefully scanned a single sheet of paper. Nodding, he would re-lock the safe, then shout the orders his men awaited.

Finally the day came when he called his first mate in and said, "I'm not going to make it this time, but before I go I want to give you the combination to the safe. You may need what's in it."

When the old captain died, the first mate, as soon as was seemly and with pounding heart, opened the safe. His hands trembled as he held the sheet of paper. At last, the secret was his.

residents, led by Mrs. Willie May, that neighborhood was overrun with dogs. She asked that police enforce an ordinance requiring dog owners to keep their pets on their own property.

Council members agreed that the law should be enforced but, in the absence of Police Chief Stan Fletcher, who is completing summer training with the National Guard, there was some confusion as to what the police department had already done regarding the problem.

Other business included a discussion of the Mainstreet Program, membership in which the city will apply for soon. The program could supply as much as $10,000 in matching funds to pay the salary of a downtown manager, responsible for coordinating downtown revitalization efforts.

The city has re-applied for an ARC-320 grant. Such a grant was awarded here last year, funding a study of downtown traffic patterns. If the grant is awarded this year, the money will be used for such purposes as the printing of brochures about the city and producing a city logo.

One Dead, One Charged, After Weekend Fight

What began as an argument between friends early Sunday morning has left one Wheelwright man dead and another lodged in the Floyd county jail charged with murder.

Larry D. Ray, Jr., 21, was pronounced dead at the scene at 1:30 a.m. by Coroner Roger Nelson. Authorities say he had been shot once in the abdomen with a .16 gauge shotgun.

Suspected in the shooting is Donald F. Titlow, 26, also of Wheelwright. Nelson said Titlow claimed he and the victim had been friends for a number of years. The cause of the argument which apparently led to the shooting was not disclosed.

Titlow was taken into custody by state police Detective James Raderick, who is investigating the incident.

Nelson said the shooting occurred in front of the residence of Duran Reynolds, on what is known as the Big Hill of Branham Hollow, near Wheelwright. The suspect reportedly had been staying at the Reynolds residence. According to testimony from witnesses, the victim went to the Reynolds house and knocked on the door. Titlow answered the door and the two proceeded to argue.

Ray was said to have turned from the house, walked a short distance away, and then walked back toward the house. The blast allegedly came as he returned to the door.

Ray was born May 26, 1966 in McDowell, a son of Larry Donald and Wanda Lee Flanery Ray, of Wheelwright. He was a coal miner.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by his paternal grandparents, Victor and Mary Alice Ray, Beaver; his maternal grandmother, Victoria Flanery; two sons, Douglas Codell Moore and Joseph Norman Moore; two brothers, Johnny Walker Ray and James Scott Ray; and one sister, Samantha Marie Ray, all of Wheelwright.

Funeral services will be conducted today (Wednesday) at 11 a.m. at the victim's home, with burial following in the Vance cemetery at Beaver.

Hall Funeral Home in Martin is in charge of arrangements.

Planners Again Tackle City's Traffic Tangle

The new U.S. 23 bypass now being designed will help alleviate traffic problems here but, unless improvements are made at several major intersections, rapid population growth will negate these effects by the year 2010.

That is one of the findings of a study of traffic patterns in downtown Prestonsburg, submitted to city officials recently by Haworth, Meyer and Boleyn, Inc., a Frankfort-based firm of consulting engineers.

The study is only preliminary. A more detailed examination is expected later, but the present study shows that traffic patterns here should change soon.

In addition to the new road, which will eliminate the stream of traffic U.S. 23 now routes through Prestonsburg, a major impact is predicted to come from the First Commonwealth Bank's move to Arnold Avenue. While traffic flow will decrease at the intersection of Lake Drive and Court Street, the bank's present location, problems will increase at the Arnold Avenue-U.S. 23 and Friend Street-North Lake Drive intersections, which will provide major access points to the new bank.

The study recommends a traffic light be installed at the Arnold Avenue-U.S. 23 intersection. The light would be synchronized with the North Lake and U.S. 23 light so that drivers can turn left from Arnold Avenue while northbound U.S. 23 traffic is stopped at the North Lake Drive light. To avoid compounding existing problems, this light would have to be timed so that southbound U.S. 23 traffic doesn't back up into the North Lake intersections.

Though traffic flow on Friend Street will be greatly increased, resulting relatively long delays for drivers, especially those turning left onto North Lake Drive, the engineers did not recommend installing a traffic signal at that intersection. The flow of traffic on Friend Street is so light in comparison to that of North Lake Drive it was considered unwise to delay North Lake Drive traffic to allow easier exit from Friend Street.

It is estimated that Arnold Avenue will carry an additional 195 vehicles during the morning rush hour, and 200 during the afternoon rush hour after the new bank opens and all office spaces in the building are leased. While major problems are not foreseen during the morning rush, evening traffic can expect fairly long delays when turning left from Arnold onto U.S. 23, or in attempting to use the U.S. 23-N. Lake Drive intersection.

Other recommendations include shortening the cycle length of the traffic signal at U.S. 23 and North Lake Drive from 138 seconds to 90 seconds. With the traffic using that intersection after new U.S. 23 is opened, the average stopped delay per vehicle should then only be about nine seconds. It was also suggested that two left-turn lanes be provided for northbound traffic on U.S. 23 and a lane be added for traffic turning right. The four-lane portion of N. Lake Drive also should be extended southward to Friend Street, the planners said.

Court Street and North Lake Drive, which was observed to operate poorly (the traffic signal was not operational and traffic was directed by hand at the time of the study), will run more smoothly, it was said, after the bank moves to its new location. The study recommends that a sensor be installed in the Court Street approach to the intersection, which would allow Lake Drive traffic continuous movement through the intersection, until traffic appears at Court Street. The green light would then be given to Court Street traffic until traffic there had cleared.

It was recommended that four parking spaces be reserved along Court Street from 9 a.m. till 4 p.m. for delivery vehicles, to eliminate delays for vehicles entering Court from Arnold Avenue. Similar advice, that spaces along First Street be reserved for deliveries, was made to improve the efficiency of the Court and First street intersection.

The study recommends that a new area for the loading and unloading of Prestonsburg Elementary School students be established behind the school. This would keep the children away from the heavy traffic on North Lake Drive, and would free the present unloading area, on that street, for parking.

Petition Seeks Access Revision

Abbott Creek and Cliff residents fail to be comforted by state highway department assurances that things will get better as far as access to 1428 near the new Cliff bridge is concerned.

Today (Tuesday), 523 signatures had been placed on a petition asking that plans for access to the bridge be revised. Delmas Saunders, one of those active in the move, said 150 to 200 more signatures are expected.

A citizens' meeting will be held at 7 p.m., Friday, at the Bonanza Free Will Baptist Church annex. Among those asked to attend are Chief District Highway Engineer Kirby Ison, Jr., Senators Benny Ray Bailey, David LeMaster, and Representative Greg Stumbo.

AIDS Information On Toll-Free Line

A toll-free recorded telephone message to provide facts about AIDS to the general public went on line last week, according to the Kentucky Department for Health Services.
"This message is designed to give the general public the basic facts about Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome," said Reginald Finger, M.D., of the department's Communicable Diseases Branch. "It will provide information about the symptoms, the cause, and methods of transmitting AIDS."
"We hope that this information line will help separate facts from fiction and help the public to understand what AIDS is," he said. "Another aim of the message is to refer members of high-risk groups to other sources for more detailed information about AIDS and testing for the HTLV-III antibody."
As the message is intended to provide general education, it is not necessary that the line be personally staffed, he said. People with specific questions can contact counselors at HTLV-III alternate screening sites.
The seven-minute message, which can be reached by dialing 1-800-654-AIDS, will operate 24 hours a day. It is funded by a grant from the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta. The $112,000 grant will fund other education efforts, such as workshops for health professionals, radio and newspaper advertisements, and AIDS counseling and testing.

Robyn Conley found the friend she needed in the Emergency Room...

"I was in so much shock, I mean I was so far out of it, it helped just to have someone there that I knew."

On May 1, 1985, a head on collision four miles outside of Prestonsburg put an end to 20-year old Robyn Lynn Conley's afternoon plans.

She was brought—barely conscious—to the Emergency Room at Highlands Regional Medical Center where a team of skilled physicians and nurses worked quickly to stabilize her condition and assess her injuries: multiple head contusions, multiple knee fractures, a dislocated ankle, and severe bruises over most of her body. Of course, Robyn doesn't remember much about the impressive new emergency facility or the professional attention she received at Highlands. But she does remember the help of a friend:

"I was close to home. I knew someone, and it really gave me support. I was in so much shock, I mean I was so far out of it, it helped just to have someone there that I knew. I can walk pretty normal now. I go down (to physical therapy) and it's just like one big happy family. I feel so comfortable with the people that are taking care of me now. I don't think I'd trade them for anybody."

The expanded 10-bed Emergency Room at Highlands is staffed 24-hours a day, seven days a week by qualified physicians and nurses who bring their skills to bear on each patient's immediate medical needs. But those needs can be quite different. That's why Highlands has four specialty rooms for treating cardiac, trauma, fracture and prenatal emergencies.

It just makes sense to know where to turn in any emergency—before it happens. And at Highlands, you'll find one of the most sophisticated emergency care facilities in Eastern Kentucky, staffed with competent, caring medical professionals...who know how to be a friend when you need one.

Electronics Program At Mayo Gets Grant

Mayo State Vocational-Technical School has received a grant for $49,037 to implement computer repair as a component of the Electronics Technology Program. This funding is a portion of the Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act that is designated to be used to purchase modern equipment to improve programs.

In addition to computer repair, other important parts of the Electronics Program include fiber optics, microwave technology, digital circuits, VCR repair, analysis and repair of communication equipment and other areas. Modern business and industry require highly competent technicians to service, maintain and repair the electronic equipment that is in service today. It is the goal of Mayo State Vocational-Technical School to prepare students for employment in the technological age.

Student registration for the 1986-87 school year began last Tuesday, August 5.

Persons interested in attending Mayo should call or visit the school. This school year begins the 49th year of service to the area for Mayo with continued modernization.

The average canary has about 2,200 feathers.

Columbia Offers Budget Options

"Warm up to winter now and cool down winter heating bills by participating in Columbia Gas' Budget Payment Plan," says Jimmy C. Curnutte, Columbia gas manager for the Prestonsburg region.

By signing up for the Budget Payment Plan in August, customers can spread out winter gas bills throughout the entire year, Curnutte said.

Under the Budget Payment Plan, customers pay the same amount each month regardless of their monthly gas consumption. Columbia figures each customer's budget amount by estimating the customer's charges for gas usage for the coming year and dividing this figure by 12. The budget amount is shown on the August gas bill as monthly budget.

In addition to the easy-to-use Budget Payment Plan, Curnutte pointed out, Columbia offers the Checkfree payment service. Checkfree is a convenient way for customers to pay their monthly gas bill without writing a personal check and mailing or delivering it to Columbia offices.

Under Checkfree, customers' payments are automatically withdrawn each month from their checking account. Applications for the Checkfree service are available at any Columbia office.

Both the Budget Payment Plan and Checkfree are free-of-charge services. To join the Budget Payment Plan, customers simply pay the budget amount on their August gas bill and continue to pay this amount until next July when the plan ends. At the end of the budget year, customers will be credited any amount paid in excess of actual gas usage, or charged for usage beyond the budget amount.

REBEKAH LODGE MEETS

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 was held Tuesday, August 5, at 7:30 p.m., with the Noble Grand, Mrs. Sue Moore, presiding. Routine business was discussed.

The following were named, with nomination to remain open until the next meeting: Noble Grand, Mrs. Mabel Jean LeMaster; vice Noble Grand, Mrs. Sue Wells; Secretary, Mrs. Beverly Hackworth; and Treasurer, Mrs. Pauline Crisp.

A recess was called by the Noble Grand, and the Lodge Deputy, Mrs. Hope Whitten, conducted an informative and enjoyable quiz, pertaining to the work of the order. Birthday greetings were extended to Mrs. Jean Hickman.

Morgan Co. Prison Groundbreaking Held

The groundbreaking ceremony for the state's new medium security prison in Morgan county, August 5, was a regional celebration.

Emphasizing the economic benefits that will be realized from construction of the $45 million facility, Gov. Martha Layne Collins told the crowd. "We're moving toward a brighter employment picture for Morgan and the surrounding counties."

"This prison will give a much-needed economic boost to the region by providing jobs for almost 250 people when it is completed," the governor said.

"The importance of the prison to the region is underlined by two facts," the governor added: "It is the largest state capital-construction project ever in eastern Kentucky and the largest in the last decade anywhere in the commonwealth."

The new institution will accommodate about 500 inmates and will have an annual operating budget of about $8 million. It is scheduled to open in early 1989.

The prison is being built on a reclaimed strip mine about one-half mile south of West Liberty. More than 53 of the 195 acres required for the prison were donated for the project. Morgan county donated about 42 acres, the C & M Coal Co. gave 10 acres and the city of West Liberty presented the state title to about 1.5 acres. The rest of the land, more than 140 acres, was purchased for about $300,000.

The facility's power plant will use eastern Kentucky coal.

Ky. Coal Quality Reports Available

Comprehensive coal-quality reports covering many of the major coal beds in eastern and western Kentucky are now available from the Kentucky Geological Survey at the University of Kentucky.

"These reports are a ready reference for coal operators, utilities, and anyone interested in coal quality," said UK geologist James Currens. The reports reflect the latest information available as of May 1, 1986, and will be updated periodically as new information is gathered.

The two reports contain coal-quality data from approximately 1,200 analyses, as contained in the KGS computer database. For each sample, information is provided on location, coal thickness, elevation, moisture, volatile matter, fixed carbon, ash, sulfur, Btu content, free swelling index and ash softening temperature.

Information in each report is organized alphabetically by 7.5-minute quadrangle name and by coal bed name. The report for eastern Kentucky is divided into six parts, one for each of the coal resource districts.

To order "Coal-Quality Analyses for the Eastern Kentucky Coal Field" or "Coal-Quality Analyses for the Western Kentucky Coal Field," send orders to: Kentucky Geological Survey Publication Sales, 311 Breckinridge Hall, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. 40506.

The Job Training Partnership Act was enacted into law in October 1982 and became fully operational in October 1983, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's annual report for fiscal year 1985. The law is administered by the Labor Department's Employment and Training Administration.

In District Court

Apparently because of a clerical error, Kenneth R. Allen was not notified that his scheduled trial Tuesday was for a second DUI offense. He was permitted to plead guilty to a first offense.

The 21-year-old Allen man was accused of riding a motorcycle under the influence of drugs, and without a license, insurance, registration, or headgear. He was also charged with attempting to elude a police officer. He was given a probated seven-day jail sentence and ordered to pay $557 in fine and costs.

Convicted in his absence of second-offense DUI and of driving on a suspended license was Sherman Moore, 67, of Drift. He was sentenced to 30 days and ordered to pay $557. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Ordered to contribute two days of public service and to pay $157 following DUI convictions were Jeffery Moore, 19, of Hi Hat, and Donald Newsome, 34, of Banner.

Joyce Jacobs, of Wayland, pleaded guilty to a charge of trafficking in marijuana, was put on two years' probation, and ordered to pay $82. She was accused of selling about three grams of marijuana to an undercover police agent last November. Trial on a similar charge against Ransom Mullins, of Hi Hat, was postponed until September 3 because of the unavailability of the police officer, Det. K. D. Felice.

The Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) awarded $5.6 million in fiscal year 1985 to approximately 100 nonprofit groups providing a variety of job safety and health services. The grants were awarded under OSHA's New Directions grants program to support training and education projects addressing serious problems in construction, manufacturing, and other high hazard occupational and industrial sectors.

Enjoy Cruise to Bahamas

Ron and Janie Smith, of Langley, and Jerry Smith, of Firebrick, recently enjoyed a cruise aboard Eastern Cruise Lines' S.S. Emerald Seas. Sailing from the Port of Miami, the Emerald Seas visited the Bahamas and its own private out island, Little Stirrup Cay.

As one of the main features of the cruise, the out island offers not just a beach, but an island with four beaches; a beach for snorkeling, a beach for swimming, a beach for sailing and a special beach to be alone. Passengers also enjoy a barbecue buffet, three outpost bars, a Calypso Band and a host of family activities.

Entertainment includes live nightly shows and bands and a full casino.

State Food Inspectors To Enforce Sulfite Ban

Effective August 8, any restaurant or grocery store in Kentucky using sulfites on raw fruits or vegetables will be violating state law, according to the state Department for Health Services.

"During routine visits, food inspectors from local health departments will begin looking for sulfite use beginning August 8, the date the ban becomes effective," said Dudley Conner, director of the Division of Food and Sanitation. "Any raw fruits or vegetables to which sulfites have been added after that date will be considered adulterated."

"If inspectors see sulfites on the premises and suspect that they have been used, fruits and vegetables will be quarantined for laboratory analysis," he said.

"In addition, the establishment will be informed that the use of sulfites must be stopped immediately," he said. "Inspectors will then conduct a follow-up visit within 10 days to insure that the use of sulfites has been discontinued."

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has banned the use of sulfites on raw fruits and vegetables, because the chemicals have been linked to severe reactions, including some deaths in allergic persons. Reactions also include hives, nausea, diarrhea, and shortness of breath. Sulfites are used to keep fruit and vegetables fresh-looking.

Health departments have been asked to inform all food establishments that prepare and/or serve raw fruits and vegetables about the ban, Conner said.

Consumers who have questions about the ban or complaints about sulfite use can contact the nearest health department or Conner at (502) 564-3722.

About 7,100 individuals attended courses at the OSHA Training Institute at Des Plaines, Ill. (a Chicago suburb) during the 1985 fiscal year, according to the Labor Department's annual report. Participants included personnel from the Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration, state governments, other federal agencies and the private sector.

NATIVE GEORGIAN "REDISCOVERS" PROVEN ARTHRITIS FORMULA

The pain of arthritis prompted an Omega, Ga., man to try an old home remedy formula. Frank Clark, a painter, suffered from arthritis pain in his left shoulder, making it almost impossible for him to work. When he ran across the formula, he obtained the ingredients and mixed up a batch. "I tried it that night and within fifteen minutes I began to feel the pain ease," stated Clark. He said that in the next six months, he used only 16 ounces of the remedy and has hardly been bothered with arthritis pain since.

He took samples to his family doctor, who asked for more in a couple of days. Clark then began a campaign to make the pain reliever, which he had named "Easy-Rub", available to the consumer.

Clark consulted doctors, pharmaceutical companies, attorneys, and other professionals on how to market "Easy-Rub". Clark said, "It was a long process."

There are so many rules, guidelines, and stipulations to follow for producing and marketing an over-the-counter external drug product.

The ingredients went to an Advisory Panel of the Food and Drug Administration, and was approved as being safe and effective. Clark then proceeded with marketing his rub. It is mixed and packaged in a pharmaceutical company in Atlanta.

Clark is currently in the process of placing "Easy-Rub" in stores all over the southeast including Kentucky.

Firefighters Decry Insurance Burden, Turn To Fiscal Court

Escalating insurance rates could drive them out of business unless they get more help from the county, rural firefighters said Thursday at a meeting of the Floyd County Firefighters Association at Garth Vocational School. And some warned to a suggestion by Second District Magistrate Jackie Edford Owens that part of the $1 million reaped by the county last spring in windfall gas tax receipts could be used to bail them out.

Nothing doing, Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo later made it clear. "A whole lot of people want that million—the schools, senior citizens, everyone," he said. "As many as are wanting it, it could all go out in a day." The fund is drawing $90,000 annually in interest, which is helping the county make up the gap caused by reduced coal severance receipts and a likely end of revenue sharing, he said.

The county's 13 rural fire districts each receive $2000 annually from the county, he said, and noted that five departments have recently gone to the public for tax monies. Betsy Layne was established as a taxing district for fire protection purposes several years ago and four other districts—Garrett, Wayland, Maytown, and Allen—followed suit this year.

"The money's not here," the judge-executive said flatly. "They're going to have to get it from the community." But even with the help of a tax, volunteer fire departments are struggling to stay afloat. Darrell Bradley, a Maytown firefighter, predicted that several departments will not last the year unless they can get help in meeting the insurance on their vehicles.

In a single year premiums tripled in cost for Maytown, Bradley said, and Elmer H. Morrison, of Wayland, said their rates rose in the same period from $3300 to $5200.

On a motion of Allen Fire Chief Roy Compton, the group decided to explore the benefits of buying group insurance rather than individual policies. For a long-term solution, however, many were inclined to turn to the county—some noting bitterly that, while more money could not be spared for fire protection, some $30,000 is about to be spent on improving a golf course at Allen—and the group vowed to present its concerns at this Friday's meeting of Floyd Fiscal Court.

While conditional approval has been given for a $30,000 state grant to upgrade the golf course at the Allen county park, it is not money that could have been allocated to the county fire departments, Stumbo said later.

Attending Thursday's meeting were representatives of fire departments from Allen, Middle Creek, Wheelwright, Martin, Wayland, Southeastern Floyd County, Maytown, Cow Creek, Garrett, and David.

Miss Leese, Mr. Pelphrey Wed

The Burns Avenue Church of God, Lake Wales, Florida was the setting for the candlelight ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Kristina Eileen Leese and Mr. Paul Leslie Pelphrey on June 28 at 6:30 in the evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fields Leese, of Sidney, Ohio, and the groom's parents are Donald R. Pelphrey and Mrs. Janice Pelphrey, of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

The Rev. Howard Bish, of Jacksonville, Florida, officiated at the double-ring ceremony with wedding vows written by the bride and groom. The musical selections were offered by Rev. Ray Moss at the piano and organ, and soloists were Miss Beth Kaufman and Miss Amy Hoak.

The mothers of the couple lit the family candles at the beginning of the ceremony, and the bride's brother, John F. Leese, II, read from the 13th Chapter of Corinthians.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride approached the altar with her father. She wore a formal gown of sheer illusion over taffeta. The bodice was fitted with a high lace collar, and the yoke was trimmed in lace, sequins and simulated pearls and edged with a deep ruffle trimmed in satin ribbon. The long sleeves were of lace and gathered at the wrist. The full skirt had tiers of ruffles of sheer illusion trimmed in satin ribbon and extended into a chapel-length train. Small satin bows accented the ruffles. Her lace cap held the fingertip blusher and veil which was edged with lace. Her only jewelry was a gold necklace, a gift of the groom.

Miss Kathleen Leese, of Atlanta, Georgia, preceded her sister to the altar as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michelle Taylor, of Piqua, Ohio; Beth Keeling, of Ocala Florida; Miss Connie Pelphrey, of Charleston, South Carolina; Rita Polston and Brenda Newberry, of Lake Wales, Florida.

Nichole Mosier, of Miller, Missouri, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a long gown of orchid similar in design to that of the bridesmaids and carried a basket of roses, daisies and violets. She wore a halo in her hair of small orchids, violets and daisies with baby breath.

Best man was Russell Abney, of Winter Haven, Florida, and groomsmen were John F. Leese, II, of Sidney, Ohio; Dr. Kent Gibson, of Liberty, Kentucky; Mike Polston and Reese Portwood, of Lake Wales, Florida. The ring bearer was Adam Gibson, of Liberty, Kentucky.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Leese chose a formal gown in orchid, the bodice was overlaid with chiffon tiers, and the tulip sleeves were also in chiffon. Her corsage was of white roses and purple violets. Mrs. Pelphrey wore a long gown in dusty rose silk, with a long sleeved jacket. Her corsage was of pink roses and white violets. Both mothers were presented with long-stemmed red roses by the couple.

A special attraction during the reception was the arrival of the Lake Wales Fire Department arranged for by one of the groomsmen as a surprise to the couple.

Following a honeymoon to the Orlando area, Mr. and Mrs. Pelphrey are residing at 106 Barcelona, Orchid Springs, Winter Haven, Florida.

Bobcats Appear Ready to Challenge

When the combination of good coaching and talented athletes join forces in one organization the end result, more times than not, is a winning one.

The 1986 edition of the Betsy Layne Bobcats appear to have the best of both, especially coaching. Jack Hall, an ex-state champion coach, is back for his second year after compiling a 3-6 record last season.

Gerald Newsome also returns from last year's staff and joins Ben Pumphrey III and Vince Tucker to form one of the state's better coaching staffs.

Tucker, a three year starting linebacker for Murray State, handles Betsy Layne's line while Pumphrey works with the offensive backs and defense.

Last season the Bobcats were constantly over maned both in roster quantity and physical strength but after an extensive weight program and a growing interest in their program Betsy Layne football may develop into one of this area's top single A teams.

The Bobcats are drawing 28 to 30 players each practice and according to Coach Hall this number should increase after the beginning of school. Coach Hall also says his team is a lot stronger physically than they were last season.

Betsy Layne returns the nucleus of last year's team which includes strong armed quarterback Bud Newsome, starting running back Todd Sturgill and offensive guard/linebacker Joey Cecil.

The highly touted Newsome came on strong in the latter part of last season and is a main reason why Coach Jack Hall's running reputation could take on a totally different look.

"I look for Bud to have a good season," Coach Hall said. "He was in a different formation last year but he has found himself at quarterback." "I have always been known as a running coach but with a quarterback like a Bud Newsome and receivers like Matt Conn and Jamie Smith we might throw the ball a lot, probably more than we ever have."

Todd Sturgill started seven games at the half back position is set as the top Betsy Layne runner. Sturgill appears to have completely recovered from last spring's knee injury, taking repeated hits in practice with no apparent problems.

On the defensive side of the ball Joey Cecil is expected to be a student at linebacker while providing Betsy Layne with leadership. Cecil, who will also hold down one of the offensive guard spots, has put on 30 pounds from last season and Bobcat football people say 5-10 230 pounder doesn't carry much fat.

"Joey should be one of our leaders this season," Coach Hall said of his prize defender. "I don't know how good he will be but he was a good linebacker last season and he is back."

Along with being a talented team the Betsy Layne Bobcats are also a young team, a point Coach Hall is quick to point out in saying his team may be a year away from becoming a bonified district contender.

"We have a lot of young talent and the makings of a good football team," Coach Hall said. "We may be a year away from being a good football team but they have enough talent to surprise me this season."

The Bobcats have only six seniors on their '86 roster including Newsome, Cecil, Chris Bevins, Steve Branham, Benton Nunemaker, and Kenton Nunemaker. Coach Hall is expecting leadership from this talented group but if Betsy Layne is to be competitive, younger players will have to provide considerable support.

Young talent is evident among this squad and Bobcat coaches are high on several prospects. Matt Conn, a junior end, has been described as having excellent hands while sophomore Keith Hall has been impressive at the full back position.

Coach Hall describes freshman Larry Hall as having as much natural talent as anyone in the Bobcat camp. Also backup quarterback Kevin Spurlock is a shining prospect at that position and could be a starting linebacker this year. Coach Hall says Spurlock is currently one of his top four backers.

During his 27 years of coaching Jack Hall has built strong football programs at each of his previous jobs and in his second season has already shown marked improvement in the Betsy Layne program.

No one knows how good the Bobcats will be this season but they will get probably their toughest test in this year's opener when they take on perennial single A power and district foe Paintsville.

Squirrel Season Kicks Off Small Game Hunting Saturday

Dig out the camouflage clothing and take down your favorite gun because a favorite of fall sports, small game hunting, will kick off its season August 16.

What started as a sole means of obtaining food has turned from a necessity of life to an exciting way to challenge nature while testing one's shooting ability.

The squirrel season, which begins Saturday, will begin this year's small game hunting season. This particular season is divided into two separate time periods with the first running from August 16 thru October 31. The squirrel season will come back into effect November 20.

Rabbit season will begin along with the second squirrel hunting period as will quail and grouse seasons.

The second squirrel season ends December 31 while rabbit season will conclude February 15. On the other hand quail and grouse seasons will continue thru February 28.

These dates affect most of eastern Kentucky. However, the designated hunting are a surrounding Dewey Lake will honor dates solely for that area.

Hunters will be allowed to take squirrels from this area during the month of September but other small game can only be hunted from December 8 until December 31. Deer hunters will be welcomed in October but be sure to bring only your bow and arrows and shoot only bucks. December 6 and 7 is the only scheduled gun hunt for deer in the area around Dewey Lake but hunters will be chosen by draw only.

If the Paintsville Lake Area interests you then go between November 20 and December 4. During this time period small game can be taken by shotgun only.

Back in the spring when forest fires were blazing about many felt this year's hunting season had been destroyed but not so says District Wildlife Biologist Larry Short.

"The spring forest fires will not have too much of an impact in the area as a whole," Short revealed.

Not only does Short say the hunting season won't suffer he feels this year may prove to be more profitable than last, especially for squirrel hunters. "A mast crop of squirrel was reported last year and a mast crop is usually followed by an increase," Short said.

According to Short, the gray fox has been removed from the varmit list and instead of being fair game the year 'round can only be taken during a set trapping period.

Short also announced stocking plans for Paintsville Lake plus stocking already completed. "Turkey and deer have been stocked at Paintsville Lake during the past two years and hopefully we will be able to hunt those in the near future," Short said.

disappointing climaxes to otherwise brilliant careers.

These same players are among their respective sports' greatest but fell to sub par performers only to chase personal records while surviving solely on former abilities.

Johnny Bench knew when to retire and Mike Schmidt is already talking about the subject even though he is currently having one of his best offensive seasons.

Knowing when to call it quits and understanding what you have left can be difficult but when the sport becomes bigger than life or when a player or coach encounters winners' obsession the time to quit may be close.

To give up the only thing a person has known all his life is tough indeed but much more unfortunate reasons dictate when an athlete hangs up his livelihood.

Due to the fact that most athletes never achieve a quality education gives them nothing to fall back on when their sporting careers are over.

Also, bad financial investments sometimes finds a sports figure hanging around for an additional paycheck or two.

Regardless of the total reason why athletes continue to play beyond their years, one thing is certain, they destroy an otherwise perfect sports memory of themselves and leave a sour taste in everyone's mouth.

The Most Tragic Day In Baseball

(Reprinted from the Rural Kentuckian)

Sixty-six years ago this month, two Kentuckians figured in one of baseball's saddest moments.

Carl Mays, a pitcher who won 208 games in his major league career, grew up near Liberty, in Casey County. Ray Chapman was a shortstop from McHenry, a coal town in Ohio County, about 100 miles to the west.

Chapman first appeared in a big league lineup at the end of the 1912 season. Mays in the spring of 1915. The number of times they faced each other on the diamond is not recorded, but their meeting on August 16, 1920, was unique: it made baseball history in a way neither man foresaw or intended.

More than 22,000 fans went to New York's Polo Grounds that afternoon. Chapman's Cleveland Indians held a slim lead in the American League standings over the Chicago White Sox and the host New York Yankees. (Yankee Stadium had not been built in 1920, and the Yankees played at the Polo Grounds.)

Cleveland grabbed a 1-0 lead in the second inning and scored two more runs in the fourth. It was an unusually shaky start for Mays, the Yankee pitcher, who had become a highly effective performer, though he was only 26. His underhand delivery when he threw the ball had earned him the nickname, "Sub."

The 5-foot-10, 165-pound Chapman led off for Cleveland in the top of the fifth. Mays' first two pitches had given the hitter an even count (one ball and one strike), when Yankee catcher Muddy Ruel signaled for a fast ball Chapman was batting from a semi-crouch, which Mays later observed "made him very hard to pitch to."

Mays threw the ball, there was a loud THWACK, and the ball rolled back to the mound. Mays scooped it up and threw it to first baseman Wally Pipp.

But there was no runner. Suddenly Mays heard plate umpire Tom Connolly calling for a doctor and realized his pitch had not hit Chapman's bat, it had struck him on the head.

An eyewitness wrote: "The ball hit Chapman on the left side of the head. The crack of the ball could be heard all over the stands and spectators gasped as they turned their heads away. The injured player dropped unconscious and a doctor was summoned to his aid. The player was partially revived after a time and attempted to walk to the clubhouse with the aid of two teammates. But his legs doubled up under him and he was carried to the clubhouse and afterwards taken to nearby St. Lawrence Hospital."

"As the injured ballplayer was being taken to the clubhouse, he tried to speak to Percy Smallwood, trainer...but he could not speak. He pointed to his finger. Smallwood then understood and gave him his wife's gift (a diamond ring). Before the game, Chapman had given it to Smallwood for safekeeping."

An Associated Press reporter quoted a tearful Mays: "I got the signal for a fast ball, which I delivered. It was a little too close and I saw Chapman duck his head in an effort to get out of the path of the ball. He was too late, however, and a second later, he fell to the ground. It was the most regrettable incident of my career and I would give anything if I could undo what has happened. Chapman was a game, splendid fellow."

It was almost six o'clock when Chapman reached the hospital. As the hours moved towards midnight, his condition worsened. In the meantime, Cleveland Manager Tris Speaker had phoned Chapman's bride of 10 months. Then the doctors, Speaker and a Cleveland front office official conferred and decided to proceed with the surgery before she came.

A reporter gave this account: "At 12:30 a.m., Doctors M. J. Horan and T. D. Merrigan wheeled Chapman into the operating room. There they made an incision 3 1/2 inches through the skull on the left side. They found a rupture of the lateral sinus and a quantity of clotted blood. A small piece of skull was removed. Dr. Merrigan added, "the shock of the blow had lacerated the brain not only on the left side of the head where the ball had struck it, but also on the right side where the force of the blow had forced the brain against the skull."

Immediately after the surgery, Chapman breathed easier and his pulse improved. So his teammates went back to their hotel, trusting the dawn would bring encouraging news. They were notified, instead of Chapman's death."

The incident remains the only such fatality in major league history.

The Associated Press reported that Mays had paced the floor all night. When he received news of the outcome that morning, he resolved immediately to turn himself in to the district attorney. There the incident was ruled an accident.

The game in New York that day was postponed and at other ball parks throughout the nation, appropriate tribute was paid to Chapman. A storm of controversy followed. At least four American League teams including the Boston Red Sox, for whom Mays had played previously, favored barring the pitcher. In previous years, he had been accused of deliberate beaming and in 1919, his transfer to the Yankees for $40,000 and two players came after he had bolted the Red Sox in mid-season. For a time, League President B. B. Johnson seemed to agree with the protesting players.

However, other voices were heard. One came from Philadelphia Manager Connie Mack, who said, "Outside of Mrs. Chapman and the Chapman family, I believe no one feels the effects of Chapman's death more than Mays. I am of the opinion that he should be extended sympathy instead of trying to blemish his name."

Chapman's manager, Tris Speaker added, "I do not hold Mays responsible in any way. I have been active in discouraging my players from holding Mays responsible, and in respect to Chapman's memory, as well as for the good of baseball, I hope all this kind of talk will stop."

Yankee Manager Miller Huggins told a reporter he believed Chapman's left foot may have caught in the ground in some manner, which prevented him from stepping out of the ball's way. Batters usually have one foot loose at such moments and Chapman had gotten out of the way of the same kind of pitch before.

The day after Chapman died, the New York Times revealed that baseball officials were considering the use of protective headgear. A few days later, Dr. Robert Coughlin wrote in the New York Medical Journal that his 10-year investigation showed baseball to be "the deadliest of sports." Between 1905 and 1915, it had claimed 284 lives; football had taken 215, auto racing, 128 and boxing, 105 respectively.

At least 20,623 fans donated money to a memorial fund for Chapman. His funeral mass was moved from his home parish to a church that held three times as many people. Even so, hundreds stood outside and traffic was snarled. The esteem in which opponents held Chapman can be gauged by the prompt offer of Detroit shortstop Donnie Bush to play the rest of the season for Cleveland, an offer to which his Tiger teammates agreed.

Chapman left an enviable baseball record which included setting a major league mark for the most sacrifices in a season (67) and the most plays of this kind in a single game (6). In his last four seasons, he hit over .300 three times and thrice led the league in the most put-outs by a shortstop. He had married after the 1919 season ended and planned to retire after that of 1920.

Mays continued to play. He remained in the majors through 1929, and wound up his playing career with Louisville in the American Association in 1931.

Connie Mack's plea for sympathy for Mays found one receptive ear in the Rev. William Scullen, who in his eulogy for Chapman said, "no hostile word should be uttered against the man who was the cause of this unfortunate accident. He feels the outcome of it more deeply than most of us do."

"Chapman played the game of life as he played the game of his profession, cleanly and honestly. He was our friend as a player and as a man. Sterling athlete that he was, he never knew defeat. Courageous, and with an indomitable spirit, he played his part in life honorably and he was a strong type of typical American youth and a great example for others."

SHORT SPORTS

By Alton Huff

UNITED States Football League owners have freed their players from contract obligations, enabling such football greats as Hearshel Walker and Jim Kelly, along with all other USFL players, to negotiate with NFL and CFL teams.

Football experts have said the USFL owned rights to two athletes, running back Hearshel Walker and Jim Kelly, which should prove to be impact players in the NFL.

Walker has set just about every rushing record football in the lesser league could offer while quarterback Jim Kelly once threw for 44 touchdowns in a single season. Both Walker and Kelly played for the New Jersey Generals of the now defunct league.

Walker has been talking with Dallas Cowboy personnel and Jim Kelly's agent is currently talking with Buffalo who owns rights to the talented quarterback.

Many former USFL players are expected to enter the NFL while lesser talented players who performed in the USFL will try to find work in Canadian football.

The long discussed instant replay to clarify controversial officials' rulings will become a reality this season.

THE SPORTING TIMES

By Alton Huff

The everdreaded Father Time has a way of sneaking up on all people but unfortunately some refuse to realize when old Mr. Time has stolen all they had to offer.

One of the greatest lefthanded pitchers of all time, Steve Carlton, came to grips with reality recently and announced his retirement. However, Lefty may have waited some two years too late.

Five years from now Carlton will probably be inducted into baseball's Hall of Fame, joining the game's legends, but for those young fans of today he will be remembered as an old man who couldn't get the job done in San Francisco.

During his illustrious career, Carlton won a total of 319 games, ninth on the all-time list, 55 of those being shutouts while retiring with a career 3.10 earned run average.

Although Lefty, known for putting cotton in his ears to keep out crowd noises, never talking to the press, and a hard biting slider, was unhitable for many years but during the past two seasons Carlton recorded a mere six victories against 19 losses.

Why did he hang around? This is a question only Carlton himself could answer but after being released from Philadelphia earlier in the season Carlton felt he could still pitch effectively and was picked up by the Giants. Another reason could be the 4,000 strikeout plateau.

Only one other pitcher, Nolan Ryan, has recorded that many strikeouts and Lefty made it last Tuesday with a punch out of Red's outfielder Eric Davis. The next day Carlton announced his retirement. Steve, 41 is too old to play games but most will remember him for what he really was, the greatest pitcher of our day.

Steve Carlton's story is a sad example of an athlete struggling to recapture their once magical ability but his experience isn't the only one of its kind.

Pete Rose, baseball's hit leader, stubbornly continues his playing career but the man who holds several batting championships now struggles to maintain a .200 average.

On the same Reds team Tony Perez so badly wants to contribute to his team and the game but Perez doesn't understand that his days of driving in over 100 runs are long past. At 45, "Doggie" plain and simply is past his prime.

Players in other sports have denied the time for retirement while suffering both mentally and physically.

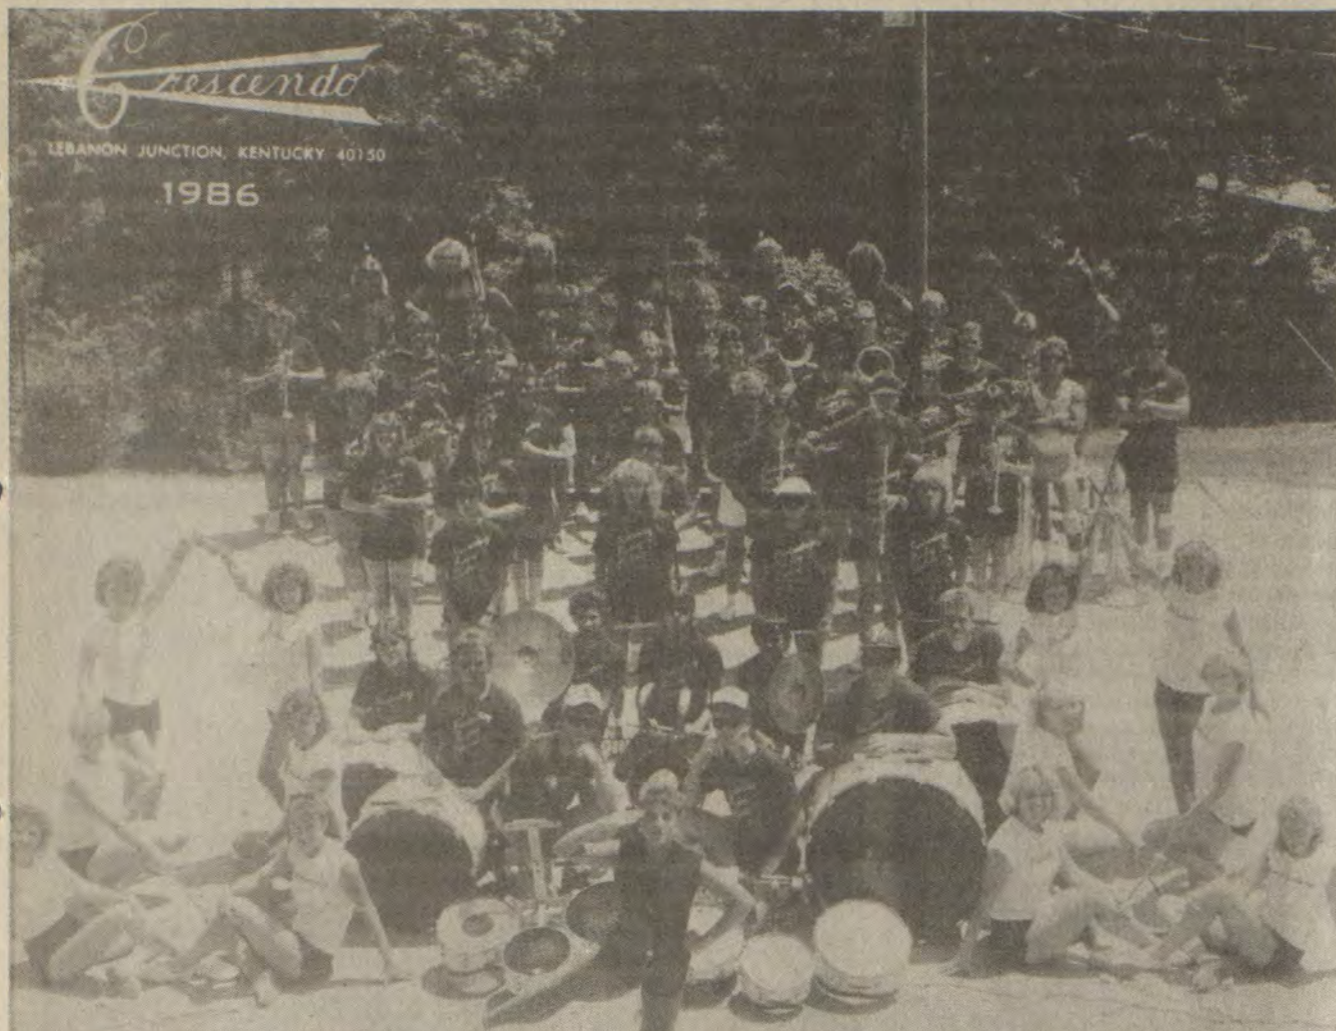

Mohammad Ali sustained repeated beatings from the likes of Leon Spinks and Larry Holmes but always came back from retirement in his attempt to set a title regaining record or earn a few bucks.

Former Pittsburgh Steeler great, Franco Harris wanted to become football's all-time rushing leader but two things kept him from it, Walter Payton and worn out legs.

Harris enjoyed a tremendous career in Pittsburgh, leading the Steelers to four super bowl rings, but Harris stayed around so long his own team had to reluctantly tell him he couldn't play the game any more.

These players are only a selected few who have stayed in the game longer than they were intended and suffered

Marching Blackcats Attend Crescendo Band Camp

The Prestonsburg Marching Blackcats, directed by Susan Compton Newsome, attended Crescendo Band Camp at Lebanon Junction, July 20-25.

Phillip Blankenship was chosen outstanding band camper by the band.

Majorette instructor is Mrs. Boots Adams, and Julie Newberry is drum major. Flag instructor is Valerie Walker, assisted by Margaret Branham.

The Marching Blackcats will perform during the halftime show, August 30, at the Governor's Bowl in Frankfort, where they will wear their new uniforms for their first appearance of the season.

NFL officials, armed with tape machines and monitors, will be positioned in the press box of each game and will have the authority to overrule calls when undisputable visual evidence is available.

The replay officials will deal only with possession, line of scrimmage, and boundary line calls.

This addition to football officiating isn't expected to alter or lengthen a game's time due to the fact that only the replay official or the field official can stop a contest to clarify a judgment call. Neither players nor coaches will be permitted to interrupt play in asking for an appeal.

Waivers were cleared Thursday on former New York Mets' slugger George Foster making the veteran outfielder free to negotiate with another baseball franchise.

The Mets waived Foster last week after he and the club didn't see eye to eye on his riding the bench. Foster signed a huge contract with New York a few years ago but never provided the offensive punch he had displayed as a Cincinnati Red.

The hard hitting outfielder was struggling at the plate this season, the reason why Foster watched most of New York's games instead of playing in them.

According to reports Foster's agents have been in contact with the Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers of the American League. Meanwhile, Foster is looking for a position with his fourth major league team.

Mike Bell, a Kansas City Chiefs defensive lineman, will begin his prison term in a Duluth, Minnesota prison.

Bell, along with twin brother Mark, was sentenced to a one year term but will be freed after serving four months of their drug related sentence.

The brothers Bell also been placed on two years probation and will have to enter a drug rehabilitation center following the completion of their term.

California Angels third baseman Doug DeCinces and New York Mets first baseman Keith Hernandez has been named players of the week in their respective leagues.

DeCinces .421 for the period with seven homeruns and a like number of RBIs while Hernandez banged out a total of 15 hits on his way to a .429 average with two homeruns and 12 RBIs.

Both players are members of a division leading team. The Angels currently top the American League West while the Mets have a comfortable 18 game lead in the NL East.

Kentucky Afield...

The "Bear" Facts

Inquiries about black bears are at an all-time high in Eastern Kentucky, according to Larry Short and Rich Pais, wildlife biologists with the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Awakened interest in bears has come about because sightings of this species have risen dramatically in recent years, the biologists say. Already this year, bears have been reported in mountain counties from Harlan in the south to Lawrence in the north.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is not stocking bears anywhere in Kentucky. Biologists suspect bears currently in the state are native to Virginia or West Virginia, two states with comprehensive bear management programs and expanding bear populations.

Most of the bears sighted in Kentucky prove to be young adult males who are wandering in search of permanent home ranges. However, unconfirmed reports of female bears with cubs have come from Harlan, Letcher, Pike and Martin counties, indicating a resident bear population possibly could be developing in the commonwealth.

If left alone, black bears are not dangerous, say biologists. Unprovoked attacks on humans by wild bears are almost non-existent in the eastern United States.

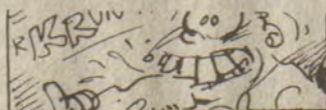

Most bears will flee at the sight of a human, unless they have become accustomed to being fed. Such bears can lose this natural fear of people and may become a threat to life and property. For this reason, bears should not be fed nor encouraged to remain in an area by furnishing them food.

A bear sighted in the wilds should be left alone. It is illegal to kill, capture or otherwise molest bears in Kentucky unless the animal is posing a real and immediate threat to life, safety or property.

The current policy of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is to do nothing about bears occurring naturally in the wild. Yet, should a bear become a nuisance, the department will attempt to capture and relocate the animal into a more remote area.

The bear that made a brief visit to Western Kentucky in June represented an isolated and unusual incident. It had wandered into the state from Arkansas, turned back south and was, at last report, somewhere in northern Alabama.

For more information about black bears in Kentucky, call District Wildlife Biologist Larry Short (606, 886-9608), Assistant District Biologist Rich Pais (606, 886-1869) or the Division of Wildlife in Frankfort (502, 564-4406).

Greene Leaves for Union

'Pete' Greene, a 1986 graduate of Prestonsburg High School has signed a Letter of Intent to play football for Union College at Barbourville, Kentucky this fall. He leaves for football camp August 18th.

Pete was a 'stand out' receiver in the state of Kentucky, receiving All-State and All Area nominations. He made All-State second team and first team All-Area. He received an All-Area nomination his Junior year, receiving an All-Area Honorable mention.

Pete is an outstanding young man with an incredible amount of athletic talent, coupled with an immeasurable amount of desire and drive to be the best he can be. He lettered in football all four years, starting for 2 1/2 years. His Junior year he received the school trophy for Best Defensive Back. His Senior year, he was named the school's Best Receiver. He also received the MVP award for his contributions of 50 receptions for 900 plus yards. He scored 15 touchdowns, breaking the school record. He had 8 interceptions against other teams. He was first in tackles this year with 18 solo tackles and 54 assists for a season total of 72 tackles. He played both Offense and Defense, and played on Special Teams.

Pete also lettered in Baseball for three years and in Track his Freshman year. Pete played Shortstop, Third Base, and pitched for the 'Cats' this past Spring. Union will also use Pete's talents on the baseball diamond when football season ends.

Pete makes his home with his grandparents, Jim and Judie Layne of Town Branch. He is a member of the First United Methodist Church. He attends Sunday School and Church regularly, and has sung in the Adult Choir. Pete received the Lucille Mayo Herndon Scholarship awarded by First United Methodist Church to an outstanding graduating high school Senior who is a member of the church.

Pete is the first member of his family to attend college.

Union College is a small, private, Liberal Arts college, the first college established in Appalachia in 1886 and is located in Barbourville, Kentucky. Union is a Methodist college whose students come primarily from Southeastern Kentucky, Tennessee, and West Virginia. There are also students from all over the United States and from many foreign countries.

Union College stopped playing football during World War II, but picked up the program again two years ago. Their first season was predicable, they won only one game and lost 7. Their second season was a surprise to everyone when they concluded the season with a record of 5 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie. This was the first year that any school had had a winning season their second year. Coach John Ross and Asst. Coach Barnett recruited very hard in Eastern Kentucky and were successful in signing some of the best players from Prestonsburg, Belfrey, Paintsville, Johnson Central to name just a few. Union's games could turn out to be like an Eastern Kentucky All Star team that we would all enjoy watching play. For the first time this season, Union's games will be broadcast on radio that is supposed to serve our area.

Banning of Lead Shot Affects Waterfowl and Dove Hunters

Non-toxic steel shot will be mandatory in the Western Waterfowl Zone effective Sept. 1, 1986, for all waterfowl hunting and for dove hunting on some wildlife management areas, according to Jeff Lawrence, migratory bird program coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

The regulation banning lead shot was approved by the Fish and Wildlife Commission last August because of evidence of high lead levels in waterfowl populations on some hunting areas in the zone. However, implementation was delayed one year to allow ammunition retailers time to obtain quantities of the steel-shot loads and to reduce inventories of lead shot. Lawrence says that dealers within the zone should now have an adequate supply of the non-toxic loads.

While lead shot is banned for all waterfowl hunting within the zone, dove hunters on the Ballard, Swan Lake, Peal, Sloughs and Kaler Bottoms wildlife management areas are also restricted to non-toxic steel loads because these areas also attract ducks and geese.

Waterfowl hunters in the western zone and dove hunters on these wildlife areas may not have lead shot loads in their possession while hunting.

The boundary for the western zone begins at the Tennessee line at Fulton, runs up the Purchase Parkway to I-24, east to US 641, north to US 60, north to US 41, then north to the Kentucky-Indiana border near Henderson.

High concentrations of lead are found in areas which are heavily hunted. Lead shot accumulates in shallow marshes and fields where it is ingested by the feeding birds. At low lead concentrations the birds are weakened and are less able to ward off disease and predators, while higher lead concentrations can result in death by lead poisoning.

Data provided to the Fish and Wildlife Commission indicated that high concentrations of lead have been found in heavily hunted locales in the Western Waterfowl Zone, which has several important stopover points for waterfowl along the Mississippi Flyway. This information prompted the commission to ban lead shot in the zone.

A five-day duck season will open Sept. 10 and run through Sept. 14. Hunters may take four ducks, only two of which may be wood ducks and only one of which may be a species other than teal or wood duck.

Waterfowl hunters are required to possess both state and federal waterfowl stamps in addition to valid hunting licenses.

DEER HUNT APPLICATION DEADLINE AUGUST 31

The deadline for applying for gun deer hunts on Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources' wildlife management areas is August 31.

The areas for which applications are necessary are West Kentucky (regular and youth hunts), Yellowbank, Kleber, Dewey Lake, Higginson-Henry, Redbird and Beaver Creek.

Over 2,000 applications have been received so far, according to Deer Program Coordinator John Phillips. Although most of the forms have been completed correctly, a change in procedure this year is apparently giving some hunters problems, Phillips says.

The most common problems are failing to put a 22-cent stamp on the card portion of the application or more than four hunters applying as a party, Phillips says.

Application forms are available from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, No. 1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Sorry Donnie

An apology is in order for former Prestonsburg football standout Donnie Ray. Last week we listed David Hall as the only Floyd County player that would take part in the Kentucky/West Virginia All-Star game. However, Ray was also a member of the Ky. squad and displayed his usual tough defensive skills as Kentucky shutout West Virginia 29-0. Ray is a 1986 graduate of Prestonsburg High School and will be a member of this year's Union College football squad.

Kentucky Fishing Report

Frankfort, Ky., August 11—Fishing activity for August 9-10 weekend was a mixed bag, with several lakes reporting little activity, others increased activity and good angler success. Overall, the best fishing for the past weekend seemed to be in the eastern and central regions where rainfall kept water temperatures down and fish activity up. The lake-by-lake rundown, as reported by conservation officers or creel clerks at each lake:

KENTUCKY: White bass were hitting lead spoons and small spinners cast and trolled over mud flats 12-15 feet deep and in the jumps; catfish were taking stink baits and nightcrawlers around the river drop-offs and secondary creek channels 25-35 feet deep; clear to murky, falling, 1 1/2 feet below summer pool and 86 degrees.

BARKLEY: Black bass were taking plastic worms and crank baits over drop-offs in 5-12 feet of water; bluegill were hitting flies around willow fly hatches; clear, falling, 1-1/2 feet below summer pool and 84 degrees.

BARREN: White bass were in the jumps and also taking small spinner baits cast over mud flats; crappie were hitting minnows over submerged tree tops 10-15 feet deep; in the tailwaters, small crappie and trout were being caught; clear, stable at summer pool and 84 degrees.

NOLIN: Black bass were hitting plastic worms at night off steep points and drop-offs; bluegill were located off deep walls and rocky banks; some walleye were being caught by trolling deep running crank baits; clear, stable at summer pool and 85 degrees.

ROUGH RIVER: No report available.

TAYLORSVILLE: Black bass were taking crank baits and plastic worms over drop-offs; bluegill were biting worms or crickets near shallow banks; clear to murky, stable at summer pool and 81 degrees.

HERRINGTON: No report available.

GREEN RIVER: Crappie were hitting minnows around drop-offs and deep submerged cover; white bass were being taken in the jumps early on spinners and some muskie were hitting deep running crank baits; clear, stable at summer pool and 83 degrees.

CUMBERLAND: Catfish were hitting cut bait and nightcrawlers over creek channels and in the mouths of deep rock coves in 10-20 feet of water; black bass were active on crawfish cast along deep, rocky points at 10-18 feet deep; clear, falling, 18 feet below summer pool and 81 degrees.

DALE HOLLOW: No report available.

LAUREL: Trout were taking worms and cheese along steep drop-offs at night in 25-30 feet of water; eight feet below summer pool and 85 degrees.

CAVE RUN: Muskie were hitting deep running crank baits near cove ends; bass were active at night on plastic worms along the banks in 4-6 feet of water; clear, stable at summer pool and 82 degrees.

PAINTSVILLE: Black bass were hitting top water lures against banks; trout were taking nightcrawlers at night over deep banks in 20-25 feet of water; clear, falling, seven feet below summer pool and 82 degrees.

BUCKHORN: Crappie were hitting crank baits being trolled 10-12 feet deep over old river channels; bluegill were being caught on worms and crickets fished 6-10 feet deep over beds; clear, falling, 4-1/2 feet below summer pool and 84 degrees.

GRAYSON: Black bass were hitting spinner baits over submerged cover approximately four feet deep; bluegill were hitting red worms over mud flats three feet deep; clear, stable, 1/2 foot below summer pool and 80 degrees.

DEWEY: Bluegill were biting red worms and wax worms over creek channels 1-4 feet deep, black bass were hitting plastic worms and buzz baits around weed beds in 1-6 feet of water; catfish were taking cut bait in the tailwaters; clear to murky, stable at summer pool and 80 degrees.

FISHTRAP: Bluegill were taking red worms and crickets fished about six feet deep along rocky banks; black bass were hitting plastic worms and topwater lures along banks at night; catfish were hitting nightcrawlers and cut bait in the tailwaters; clear, stable at summer pool and 85 degrees.

DOVE, EARLY DUCK SEASONS SET

Kentucky's dove season will open Sept. 1 and run through Oct. 31, with the second phase of the split season set for Nov. 29 through Dec. 7. As in the past, the daily and possession limits will be 12 and 24. Shooting hours will be from 11 a.m. until sunset during the first part of the season and from sunrise until sunset during the November-December phase of the season.

Dove hunters on the Ballard, Swan Lake, Kaler Bottoms, Peal and Sloughs wildlife management areas must use steel shot this year.

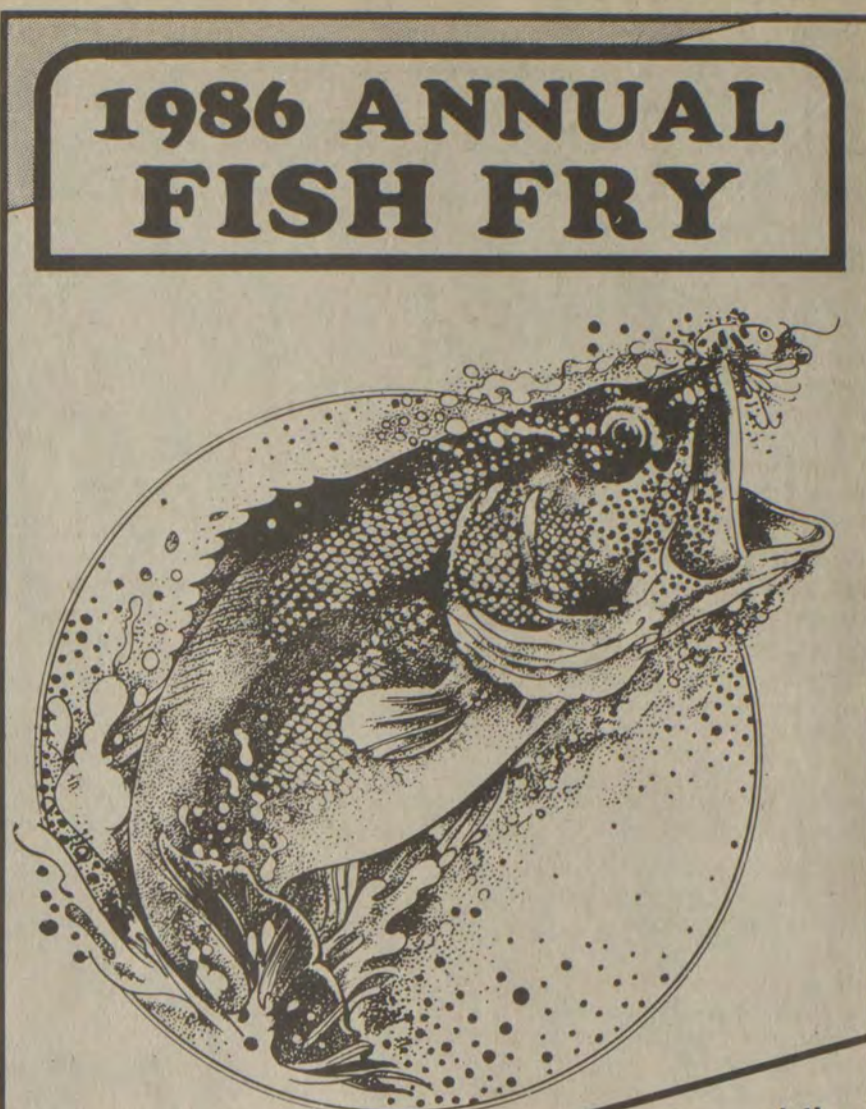

The five-day September duck season will open Sept. 10 and run through Sept. 14. The daily limit will be four ducks, only two of which may be wood ducks and only one of which may be a species other than wood duck or teal. Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

Steel shot is required for all waterfowl hunting in Kentucky's Western Waterfowl Zone effective Sept. 1. Waterfowl hunters must possess both Kentucky and federal waterfowl stamps in addition to a valid Kentucky hunting license.

Woodcock and snipe season dates will be from Oct. 1 through Dec. 4, with bag and possession limits of 5 and 10 on woodcock and 8 and 16 on snipe.

HOW DO I MAKE FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS?

Planning a funeral is among the most individual arrangements you will ever make. No funeral services are exactly the same, or should be; each ceremony reflects the character and life of the person it honors.

One way to be sure those arrangements will be carefully considered is to make them in advance. This practice, called Pre-Planning, spares your family from making difficult decisions under stressful conditions. When you meet with us to Pre-Plan a funeral, all decisions are made in a quiet, unhurried atmosphere. We devote our full attention to your needs.

You, and your family if you wish, merely sit down with us and decide all the details of funeral services—in advance, so these decisions won't have to be made hastily. We record your wishes, and you keep a copy in a safe place. That's all there is to it.

We are here to offer our expertise and advice on these very personal matters. If you would like to talk with us about Pre-Planning, or about any other aspect of funeral service, please stop by.

Henry Polic II calls 'Double Talk' an improvisational gig

By Lynn Hoogenboom

Henry Polic II isn't willing to tell his age, but he is willing to tell his "age range."

Henry Polic II

"I say I'm 27 to 38," he says. "That's what I play on television, and that's how old I am."

He laughs. "I'm probably playing as close to my age now as I ever have," he adds. "But when I first started here, I was so young and I did character stuff, so it was tough for me to get work. I'm kind of growing into my career."

Polic is probably best known for his recurring role as Jerry Silver, the sarcastic male secretary-turned-health-spa manager on ABC's "Webster," but he has also appeared in 40 plays and musicals across the country and has guested on dozens of TV series.

Now, Polic is trying on another hat. Starting Monday, Aug. 18, he will be the host of "Double Talk," a

HEARTBURN (R-Paramount) Starring Meryl Streep, Jack Nicholson, Stockard Channing. ★ ★ ★ ½ ★

By J.T. YURKO

In the opening sequence of "Prizzi's Honor," Jack Nicholson attends a wedding and meets Kathleen Turner. They marry, but she turns out to be a professional killer who is later hired to murder Nicholson.

In the opening sequence of "Heartburn," Nicholson attends a wedding and meets Meryl Streep. They marry. In this case, the relationship turns out ...

Well, let the movie do the telling, because that's one thing that the movie does very well. The moral of this modern tale of marriage is questionable, but the movie boasts a refreshingly adult tone, witty and acutely observant dialogue and some of the finest acting to inhabit a comedy in recent memory.

But "Heartburn," somewhat curiously, ends up being less than the sum of its parts. Scene for scene, this is the best movie of the year, but it somehow still leaves the viewer unsatisfied.

Why? Mike Nichols' direction is nearly flawless. Nichols keeps his talented performers on the right track and buttresses their performances with superb camera work and judicious editing.

Then there are Streep and Nicholson as our contemporary couple. Both are writers. He's a Washington columnist, and she writes a food column in New York. Both have their trepidations about entering wedded life, especially Streep in a hilarious scene showing her wedding-day doubts.

Perhaps Nora Ephron's script was never intended for closed-end themes. Nearly half of all weddings end in divorce, but that's a problem that all the psychologists in the world haven't been able to solve.

Ephron and Nichols have crafted a tragic/comic exploration of contemporary marriage and infidelity. The film also explores children, friends, lovers and almost everything in between.

Supporting Streep and Nicholson are fine performances by Jeff Daniels, Maureen Stapleton and Catherine O'Hara, who is especially good as a slightly dizzy television reporter.

SOPHIE'S CHOICE

Meryl Streep (l.) won the 1982 Oscar for Best Actress for her portrayal of Sophie, an enigmatic Polish woman involved in a romantic triangle with a would-be young writer (Peter MacNicol), and an arrogant artist. "Sophie's Choice" will air WEDNESDAY, AUG. 20 on CBS.

Hurt By Board Action

I came home from the Floyd County Board of Education meeting on Wednesday, August 6, feeling very hurt, disappointed (not just in the outcome of the meeting, but mostly in the people who brought about that outcome), and filled with righteous indignation. I speak specifically about the decision by the school board to build a consolidated elementary school on the old flood-prone site at Garrett when alternate sites are available.

Back in June the first public meeting at Wayland was held, at which time Mr. Ray Brackett and Mr. Arville Duff informed us that "Frankfort had chosen the old Garrett school site for the new school." The next morning I called Mr. Jim Judge, Director of Buildings and Grounds for the State Department of Education in Frankfort. Mr. Judge informed me that "Frankfort does not make the decision of where a new school is to be built, we only approve or disapprove the site; your local school board decides where a new school is to be built." He also informed me that if we wished to have another site considered, all we had to do was ask the local school board at the next meeting to request a hearing authority to come from Frankfort and meet with us and the Board to consider such an alternate site.

Therefore, on July 2, a group of concerned citizens appeared before the Board and expressed that we were not against a school at Garrett, only against the old Garrett site, and that we were not against consolidation. We did voice our concern about building on the old flood-prone Garrett school site, pointing out our reasons and listing favorable and unfavorable features of the three other sites (Eastern, Lackey, and Wayland) and asked that a hearing authority be invited to come before the Board to consider these other sites. At this time we were informed by both Mr. Brackett and Mr. Duff that the Board could not vote on it that night but would have to consider it for a month.

About two weeks before the August 6 Board meeting Mr. Brackett assured me that they were seriously considering the Lackey site, but advised that it could not be changed until a hearing authority from Frankfort was asked to come to a hearing concerning the matter, which could be brought up at the next Board meeting.

On July 28, our group had a professional engineer from the N.R.E.P.C. Division of Water in Frankfort to come and go on the four sites accompanied by Mr. Robert Webb, Sr., and make an evaluation. This engineer said in his written report: "Garrett is the least desirable site for the new school. The Garrett site is not only in the floodplain, but also in the floodway. This means that in order to construct any structure in the Garrett site, you will be required to elevate the buildings above the 100-year elevation on piers, keeping the area below free of any obstruction." The engineer also said "State Regulation KRS 151.250 and the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) floodplain management guidelines for implementing Executive Order 11988, discourages people to construct in the floodplain and more specifically in the floodway, if there are other alternative sites." And of course we know there are other alternative sites. The engineer also stated that a permit would have to be obtained for the Eastern site since it is also in the floodplain, but he advised that "the other two sites (Lackey and Wayland) do not require a floodplain permit since they are completely away from the flood hazard area."

On Saturday, August 2, according to Mr. Robert Webb, Sr., Mr. Arville Duff told Mr. Webb that he would make the motion at the August 6 Board meeting to have the site changed to Lackey.

On August 6, I appeared again before the Board of Education and again made the request for a hearing authority from Frankfort to come before the Board and our group to consider all the facts and to make a "studied and fair recommendation." This request, at my insistence, was brought to a motion, and Dr. Mary Hall made the motion, but no other Board member seconded it and the motion failed.

Also, at the August 6 meeting Mr. Paul Hoffman, the architect hired by the Board for the Wayland-Garrett consolidated school, spoke at length about the plans for the Garrett school and explained that the new school would be put on a fill. The Division of Water says that absolutely no fill can be made on that site.

Surely we were due some sort of explanation rather than the discourteous treatment we received. We tried to go by the rules and we got the "royal brush-off." We shall continue to go by the rules, but we shall certainly pursue what we feel is right and what is legal.

A work-disabled person is defined as one under age 65 who has a physical or mental condition that prevents her or him from working or limits the amount of work that can be done, or who is retired because of ill health, according to a fact sheet on working women published by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Exasperated

Some of the fast food restaurants in this area are so exasperating! When you place an order to go you get exactly what you order and nothing else. Order a chili and fries or mashed potatoes and chicken and that's exactly what you get. No napkins, no condiments, no spoon or fork. What are you supposed to eat it with when you get it back to the office? Paper clips?

I guess from now on I'll say "1 chili, 1 fry, 1 napkin, 1 spoon, 1 fork, 1 pack of crackers, 1 hot sauce, and 1 bag to put it in, please."

Honored On Retirement

Melvina "Tiny" S. Thomson was honored recently with a Professional Advancement to Retirement reception at the First Baptist Church, McDowell.

Her career in nursing and teaching ended June 30. Mrs. Thomson's last employment was with the Big Sandy Voc. Ed. as Health Occupational Teacher at the Floyd County Voc. Center, in Martin for the past 12 years. Many friends, co-workers, post students and relatives attended the occasion.

The guests were served salad, cake and punch. Sarah King, her cousin, made and decorated the horse shoe shaped cake.

Mrs. Thomson received congratulations with several cards and gifts, and a plaque was presented to her in recognition of her 37 years of service.

At present Mrs. Thomson is spending her summer vacation with her brother, Edward Stumbo, and family, and a weekend is planned to visit friends in Fairfield, Iowa.

Mrs. Thomson plans to remain active by doing volunteer work and perhaps a part-time job.

First Birthday

She is the granddaughter of Bill and Ruby Harris and Russell and Elfriede Isaac, all of Wheelwright.

Nat'l Women's Meet Slated in Lexington

Kentucky will host the 18th annual convention of the National Association of Commissions for Women on June 23-27, 1987 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Lexington. The conference theme is "Women in Leadership" and will feature such speakers as noted author Betty Friedan and professional orator Patricia Russell-McCloud, a graduate of Howard University School of Law and Kentucky State University. Gov. Martha Layne Collins and the Kentucky Commission on Women will be hosting the five-day event expected to be attended by 300-350 representatives of governmental women's agencies from the United States and Puerto Rico.

In addition to regular business sessions, the convention will include workshops on such topics as Women and the Federal Budget, Homeless Women and Hunger, and Uniform Child Support Enforcement. Continuing education units will be credited to those interested in utilizing the workshops to further their education. A concert will be given by the Washington, D.C.-based female acappella group "Sweet Honey in the Rock" who were featured at the conference marking the end of the United Nations International Decade for Women in Nairobi, Kenya. In planning this convention, the Kentucky Commission on Women is inviting all of Kentucky's women's organizations, professional women, homemakers, craftspersons, corporations and other interested Kentuckians to participate in the week's activities.

Girl Scout Troops Forming in County

In the next few weeks, Girl Scout troops will be forming in Floyd county. According to Wilma Castle, field executive from Wilderness Road Council, "We'd like to offer the opportunity to join Girl Scouts to every girl, aged five to 18, here."

The Girl Scout program is an informal educational one, incorporating fun in all the various activities. "The purpose of the organization is to provide girls an opportunity to explore the problems, challenges, responsibilities and rewards of today's world" says Castle. She continues, "We help girls learn to be tolerant of others and their ideas, and help them develop their own personal goals, abilities and beliefs." Although the Girl Scouts is not a religious organization, each girl is encouraged to become a stronger member of her own religious group.

Girl Scout troops generally have from six to 20 members, with two or more adults working with them. Troops meet in churches, homes, schools, or community centers, usually once a week.

Among the activities that Girl Scouts do are community service projects, art interest projects, games and sports, international projects, and nature and outdoor projects. Patches and badges are earned for completing certain requirements, imparting a real sense of pride of accomplishment.

Adult leaders are needed for the troops in this county. College students or other adults who are interested in working with a Girl Scout troop will receive training and materials to help them in their role as leader. In addition to Girl Scout training, adults are also offered leadership development techniques. Another aspect for many parents working with Girl Scouts is the opportunity to participate in their children's activities.

For more information about Girl Scouts, call Wilma Castle in Paintsville at 789-7115 or write the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council, 2277 Executive Dr., Lexington, Ky. 40505.

AEROBICS FOR KIDS?... Researchers still don't have the answers to key questions: Should target heart rate levels be set for kids as they are for adults? Which levels will help or harm a growing child's heart, muscles, and skeletal system? Recent research, according to Good Housekeeping's September issue, showed that adapting adult aerobics may be all right for 11 to 18 year olds, but children 10 and under should be kept on more traditional fitness programs: free-form exercises, such as hopping or skipping, and classes that are skill-oriented such as basketball; and dance classes.

Fund Drive Chairman

O. Sam Blankenship has been named seventh congressional district chairman of the Kentucky Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, created by a joint resolution of the General Assembly and signed by the governor.

Funds will be raised from the private sector, and land near Frankfort, given by the state, will be the site of a memorial to honor the 1058 Kentuckians who lost their lives in the Vietnam Conflict and those missing in action. The statewide effort to raise $1,000,000 is now under way, and Mr. Blankenship is available to speak to civic and veterans groups about the fund drive.

Blankenship, who is vice-president of the First Commonwealth Bank, here, is himself a Vietnam veteran who served two tours of duty in Vietnam in the Marine Corps.

Persons interested in this fund-raising effort may contact him at 606-886-2321, Extension 255, or Box 231, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653. Contributions may also be mailed to: Kentucky Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, Department 97348, Louisville, Ky. 40297.

The New Directions grants program of the U.S. Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration is designed to provide an organization with funds needed to develop its staff, skills and services as a competent, self-sufficient center for job safety and health.

Breast Center Goal Of $10,000 Exceeded

Eighty-nine employees of Highlands Regional Medical Center have donated a combined total of over $10,000 to the breast center at HRMC.

"We began an employee giving program in 1983," explained Susan Martin, HRMC director of development, "but this is the first year that employees were asked to give to a specific project like the breast center. The response has exceeded our expectations."

When completed, the walls of the breast center will be covered with ceramic tiles. Each tile will bear the signature or personal message of anyone who donated at least $25 to the Center. There will be a special part of a wall dedicated to all the employees who gave to the Center.

An additional $10,000 from past employee contributions was also put into the breast center fund. The more than $20,000 donated by employees together with the contributions from local women's clubs, the merchants day promotion and the ongoing individualized tile program brings the current fund raising total for the breast center to $30,000.

The HRMC employees who make up the 'Breast Center Honor Roll' are Cheryl Bowles, Ken Addington, John Meade, Mary Hudkins, Mosalette Patton, Rosella Pennington, Alex. Killion, Lisa Parlier, Sheila Burger, Teresa Collins, Nancy Hall, Sandra Roberts, Joanne Arnett, Clarence Traum, Lois Burchett, Carol Blevins, Elaine South, Geneva Cox, Pat Willis, Louise King, Sherry Clay, Doris Flannery, Leatha Osborne, Ilene Stewart, Drema Osborne, Nancy Slone, Susan Martin, Dola (Tootie) VanHoose, Sharon Dingus, Sally Reynolds, Ruth Hackworth, Vickie Daniel, Patricia Lafferty, Phyllis Joseph, Patsy Sword, Don Nunnery, Brenda Felty, Mary Halfhill, Judith Swaneger, Russell Briggs, Elizabeth Coleman, Tim Kretzer, Kathy Warrix, Sharon Patton, Paula Hampton, Lorna Branham, Elizabeth Patton, Lilly Mullins, Teddie Conley, Barbara Dotson, Vina Carol Cornett, Ramona Terry, Juanita Branham, Nell Cartnell, Linda Little, Diana Blackburn, Kizzie Halbert, Betty Davis, Libby Anderson, Larry Daniels, Maxine Wallen, Terri Hall, Paul Hutchison, Diana Crum, Brenda Meade, Teresa Whitten, Fannie Wickline, Margo Bayes, Penny Burchett, Londa Connors, Joyce Taylor, Cathy Johnson, Margie Spurlock, Cassie Justice, Amy Lemaster, Dovie Watts, Cathy Goble, Susan Stratton, Bill Tom Crothers, Chuck Gibson, Sandra Pack, Creed Gilliam, Steve Albert, Eunice Hall, Betty Addington and Donna Harvey.

Logging Show Slated at MSU

Appearances by tall timber topper Dennis Butler will highlight the 1986 Kentucky Logging Show scheduled Sept. 20-21 at Morehead State University's Derrickson Agricultural Complex, three miles north of Morehead on Ky. 377.

A native of Oregon, the 26-year-old Butler has been competing professionally for the past six years and holds the Indoor Speed Climbing World Championship, setting a record for climbing 80 feet in 20:47 seconds.

He also holds the Canadian Record, Labatts World Tree Climbing Championship for 100 feet in 28:99 seconds and set another world record of 31:72 seconds for climbing 100 feet up a bark tree which earned him the Timber Carnival World Championship.

Sponsored by the Kentucky Forest Industries Association (KFIA) and MSU, the show spotlights Kentucky's forest products industry.

Displays of the latest in logging equipment and other forest products industry supplies, lumberjack contests, loader and skidder competitions and other exhibits will be featured both days of the show.

Other highlights include a horse pulling contest on Saturday and the Kentucky lumberjack events and mule pulling competition on Sunday. Butler, who will perform both days of the show, will demonstrate several aspects of tall timber topping in addition to speed climbing.

"We view the Kentucky Logging Show not only as a showcase for the forest products industry, but also as a family event, featuring entertainment for all ages," said Harry Ryan, KFIA executive director.

The show is being held concurrently with the Kentucky Harvest and Hardwood Festival which features an arts and crafts fair, a quilt and afghan display, hot air balloon rides, demonstrations of the Kentucky long rifle and a show by the Olympic Archers. Also contests for liars and fiddlers are scheduled as well as musical entertainment.

The festival will be held in downtown Morehead and at the Trademore Center. Plans are being made for shuttle service between the two locations and the Agricultural Complex, according to Ryan.

Admission covers a full day's activities on the show grounds. Free parking will be available for the show activities.

Additional information on the Kentucky Logging Show is available from Ryan, KFIA, 310 Kings Daughters Drive - Frankfort, Ky. 40601. Telephone: 502-875-3136.

Ky. State Fair Begins Tomorrow

The 1986 Kentucky State Fair begins tomorrow (Thursday) and Gov. Martha Layne Collins will officially open the 10-day summer event at 5:45 p.m. in front of Louisville's Freedom Hall Coliseum.

Collins said the opening festivities have been moved from the usual morning theme so more people can attend.

Joining in the ceremonies will be several fair officials and many state and local officials including Clarence Duggins, president of the Kentucky State Fair Board; Wendell Combs, state secretary of Tourism, and Carol Miller, president of County Fairs Association.

The fair, which runs through August 23, will offer an extensive entertainment schedule, much of it free. Several new features have been added this year, including nightly fireworks and a high-tech center where Kentucky companies will display new advances in science and technology.

Although the opening day ceremonies are in the evening, many of the fair's attractions will open at 10 a.m.

The first wall paper was used by the poor and consisted of painted imitations of tapestry and velvet hangings that decorated walls in Europe during the 1500s.

Prepare your child for School

1. A law passed by the 1986 legislature requires parents of children entering school for the first time in Fall of 1986 to present a certified copy (full size) of the child's Birth Certificate. A Blue Card from the Health Department will not meet this requirement. Applications for birth certificates are available at the Floyd County Health Department, the principal's office of your school, or at the Board of Education's Central Office. There is a $5.00 charge for Certified Birth Certificates.
2. Each child enrolled in the Floyd County School System this fall (1986) MUST present the principal or head teacher with a Kentucky Immunization Certificate. This certificate must be signed by a physician, clinic or local health department, and it must list the immunizations which the child has completed.
3. Each child entering the Floyd County School System for the first time (Kindergarten, or transfer students) must have a Tuberculin Test Certificate (CH-91A) Immunizations and T.B. skin tests may be obtained at the Floyd County Health Department any Monday, Wednesday, or Friday from 8:00 A.M. until 3:00 P.M. There is no charge for these services.

All School Children Immunization Asked

The Department for Health Services is reminding parents that Kentucky law requires children to have certain immunizations before enrolling in schools. "Children in Kentucky must have immunizations against five diseases—diphtheria, tetanus, polio, measles and rubella," said Gary Higginbotham, immunization program manager in Health Services. Children in grades kindergarten through 12 must present an up-to-date immunization certificate upon entry in schools, he said. Certificates are available from local health departments or from private physicians. "Children need immunizations against these diseases or the illnesses will return," Higginbotham said. "These immunizations are very necessary and protect school children from once-common childhood diseases." In addition, students must present proof of having had a tuberculosis skin test. First-time students in schools that have a one-half of 1 percent tuberculosis incidence rate must have had a TB skin test within 12 months of enrollment. Questions about schools' TB rates can be directed to local school boards or local health departments.

Signup For ASCS Ends August 15

Signup for the 1987 Conservation Reserve Program began August 4 and will end August 15. The CRP encourages farmers to stop growing crops on highly erodible cropland and plant it to grass or trees through a 10 year contract with USDA.

Farmers will have an opportunity during this next signup period to bid on a program contract for the 1987 crop year. Successful bidders will be allowed to harvest their 1986 crops before the contract becomes effective. Land designated may not be grazed after October 1, 1986.

For retiring highly erodible land from agricultural production, farmers will receive conservation payments of up to 50% of the eligible cost of establishing trees or grass on the acres placed in the program. They also will receive rental payments of up to $50,000 per year, based on the bid per acres times the number of acres under the contract. Rental payments will be made in cash or commodity certificates annually as soon as possible after 10/1/87 to producers with approved contracts.

This program should be especially interesting to producers on highly erodible land as the new Food Security Act contains provisions to exclude these producers from participating in any ASCS production related programs unless conservation measures are taken.

Farmers will have until August 15, to apply for cost-sharing under the Agricultural Conservation Program. This signup period will include the following practices: Establishment of permanent vegetative cover—75% of the cost of eligible seeds, necessary fertilizer and lime, and seedbed preparation; improvement of permanent vegetative cover—50% of eligible seeds, necessary fertilizer and lime and seedbed preparation; ponds or wells—50% of eligible costs, if determined practice is needed and practical for livestock production; cropland protective cover—40% of the cost of eligible seeds to provide winter cover for cropland; permanent vegetative cover on critical areas—75% of eligible costs; improving a stand of forest trees—75% of cost not to exceed an amount approved by the COC; permanent wildlife habitat—75% of eligible costs.

Practices started prior to signup will not be eligible for cost-sharing. The Floyd County ASCS office is open Wednesdays at the old Court St. location. Interested persons may call 886-3128.

SWIMMER'S EAR

If one swims for fitness or fun and, afterwards, feels that their ear is blocked, tender, itchy, swollen or painful, "swimmer's ear" may have developed. It is caused when water becomes trapped in the ear canal. It provides an ideal breeding ground for infection by bacteria or fungus particles. If the ear canal swells shut and starts draining a milky fluid, pain will be felt and a doctor should be seen. This sequence of events generally can be prevented by using nonprescription ear drops. Try draining the water from the ear by tilting the head and pulling the ear upwards and backwards. After everything possible has been done, put the recommended dosage of drops in the ears. If an ear infection or a perforated eardrum has already occurred, a doctor should be consulted before swimming.

Operators To Speak On Strip Mine Law

Coal operators will testify at a public hearing established to view federal and state surface coal mining laws, regulations and policies on August 15 at 10 a.m. in the New Science Building at Pikeville College. The meeting is the second of three hearings the Kentucky legislative Subcommittee on Natural Resources will conduct.

"The situation in the industry probably is the most volatile since the passage of the federal law in August 1977," State Rep. Herbie Deskins, D-Pikeville, said. "Surface coal mining in Kentucky is approaching a critical point."

Federal and state authorities currently require through law, and environmental groups request through legal suits, stricter enforcement. Some coal operators and others even suggest that Kentucky relinquish primacy.

"The issue of surface mining and the primacy regulations that control it affect the very lives of all Kentuckians when we realize that coal is the state's number one moneymaker," said Deskins. "We must take this problem to the people of our state and resolve it once and for all so we can get on with the business of mining coal."

The final public hearing on August 19 will feature environmentalists testifying in Frankfort.

Global Money System: Program For Teachers

How are Kentucky banks involved in the international monetary system? What happens when a Third World country defaults on a loan from a United States bank?

How does the United Nations World Bank promote economic and social development in underdeveloped countries?

Does state and national legislation protect domestic industries?

How will the United States react to world trade trends?

These are some of the questions to be addressed at a workshop on international economic interdependency at Georgetown College on Sept. 13. The seminar is scheduled for 1 to 8 p.m. in the Science Center.

The program was organized by the Kentucky Division of the United Nations Association of the U.S.A. William A. Miller of Frankfort is president.

"I encourage teachers to attend this workshop and learn with the financial community about their relationship and impact on the world as a whole," Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald said.

Speakers will include Fredric Harned, vice-president of First National Bank of Louisville; Dr. Al Pinello, chair of the Kentucky Council of International Education; Dr. Julia Love, a professor in the economic department at the University of Louisville; and Curtis Harvey, retired professor of economics at the University of Kentucky.

For registration information call William Miller at (502) 223-0512 in Frankfort or send the $10 registration fee to Charles Holmes, 187 Valley Road, Lexington, Ky. 40503.

The conference is co-sponsored by the Kentucky Council on International Education, Kentucky Education Association, Georgetown College, Kentucky-Ecuador Partners Inc., Kentucky Department of Education, and the Kentucky Division of the United Nations Association of the U.S.A.

Church Speaker

C. Vernon Cole, director of the Office of Resource Development, Kentucky Baptist Convention, will speak for the annual associational meeting of the Enterprise Association at First Baptist Church, McDowell, Aug. 19.

Cole graduated from Marshall University, Huntington, W.V. with a B.A. in history and received his B.D. (M. Div.) degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Texas. He began work with the KBC as an associate in the Training Union department in 1969 and then was elected as director of the Church Training department in May, 1975. In 1984 he assumed responsibilities for director of the newly created Family Ministry and Church Administration department and again was elected as director of a new department in 1985 when he assumed his present position in the Office of Resource Development. Cole has led conferences at Ridgecrest and Glorieta and he has written curriculum material for the Church Training department as well as articles and devotional material for the Church Administration and Family Ministry departments.

The Enterprise Association, consisting of 22 churches, is among the 79 groups of Kentucky Baptist churches participating in the annual associational meetings. These meetings help build rapport between the local churches and the state leaders. Each association is assigned a member of the KBC staff, who usually affirms the churches' contributions to the national convention. In this way, the local churches come to know their state leaders and are able to feel more a part of the state convention.

Service Expanded For Rape Victims

Crisis services to victims of rape in Kentucky are to be expanded with grants totalling $119,000 from the state Department for Mental Health and Mental Retardation Services.

Commissioner Dennis Boyd recently announced that the department is increasing funding for four existing rape crisis centers, allocating funds for two centers currently supported only by private dollars and providing money for the establishment of a new center in eastern Kentucky.

"The number of rape and sexual assault victims seeking help from rape crisis centers is increasing, and we need to be able to meet that demand for more services," Boyd said. "We are combining some of our funds for counseling with a special budget appropriation from this year's General Assembly in order to boost state support for these programs."

Boyd announced the following grants: $20,000 to privately supported rape crisis centers in Bowling Green and Paducah and for the creation of a center to be located in Prestonsburg; $19,500 to expand outreach efforts for rape victims in the Lexington area; $16,000 to support an additional case worker/counselor for the program in Owensboro; $13,000 to assist the center in Newport in the opening of full-time satellite centers in Florence and Maysville; and $10,500 to the center in Louisville to fund counseling for incest victims and others in the center's group therapy program.

"In addition to expanding services, we will also be offering training and workshops for mental health center staff who will be working in counseling, therapy and answering crisis lines," Boyd said.

The problem of rape and sexual assault is far more prevalent than reported rapes indicate, according to director Jim Roberts of the Division of Mental Health, which administers state funding for the rape crisis centers.

"There were 789 reported rapes in Kentucky last year, according to the state Attorney General's office," said Roberts. "Nationally it is estimated that only one out of each ten cases is ever reported. Approximately one-third of all reported rapists are apprehended, five percent are brought to trial and only two percent of those cases result in conviction."

Roberts noted that national FBI statistics indicate one of every five females is a potential victim of a rape attack, making it the fastest growing violent crime in the United States. "If you apply this figure to 1985 state population figures, close to 120,000 Kentucky women are, during their lifetimes, potential victims of rape," he said.

Another group from which rape reports may be increasing is spouses. "This year's General Assembly created legislation under which certain claims of sexual assault between spouses may constitute marital rape," he said.

Women are not the only targets, he added. Men account for approximately 10 percent of all rape victims. Other victims include children and the elderly.

"In recent years, adults who are still traumatized by the experience of child sexual abuse and incest have had therapy groups developed for them," Roberts said.

Victims of rape who seek help will be offered seven basic services at each crisis center: 24-hour crisis line, 24-hour crisis intervention, information and referral services, education and prevention programs, court and medical advocacy services, coordination of volunteers and therapeutic services.

Columbia Offers Help In Arranging Programs

Columbia Gas is offering to help organizations plan new, interesting programs for meetings.

A new Columbia brochure titled "Seeking Interesting Programs?" details all the topics.

Members of local clubs and organizations can learn more about how their energy dollars are spent and how to reduce energy usage. Programs also include tips on what to look for when buying a new gas appliance and how to cook an entire meal on a gas grill.

Older adults may select presentations with information tailored to them.

A variety of films on how natural gas is obtained is also available. "The Hidden Frontier," for example, is a colorful film that shows what working and living on a deepwater drilling vessel is like.

Films, demonstrations and speeches are available free of charge to any club or organization in the Prestonsburg area, said Jimmy C. Curnutte, area manager for Columbia. Contact the local Columbia Gas office for the brochure "Seeking Interesting Programs?" or to schedule a program.

DON'T LET WINTER TAKE YOUR HEATING BILLS FOR A RIDE.

When temperatures take the plunge this winter, your heating bills needn't climb. Not if you're on Columbia's Budget Payment Plan.

The plan averages your bills into 12 equal payments, so there are no peaks and valleys because of the weather. Instead, the monthly amount stays the same... higher than you now pay in the summer, but a lot lower in the winter.

Rather than ups and downs, your gas bills stay on a smooth, even track all year 'round.

It's easy to be a Budget Payment customer, too. All you do is pay the "Budget Amount" on your August bill, and you'll be billed that amount every month. Your meter will continue to be read as usual, and each month's bill will continue to show the amount of gas you used. A review in March determines if your budget amount needs to be adjusted because of weather.

Another good idea: sign on for Checkfree® too. It automatically makes your gas payment from your checking account each month, so you save time, postage and check charges.

Join the Columbia Budget Payment Plan. You'll take the ups and downs out of your heating bills...and leave the high cost of winter behind.

Drought Hits Crops Over Most of State

Soil moisture remains short over the Commonwealth, with only western Kentucky and an area between Louisville and Cincinnati reporting soil in the short to adequate range.

"Unfortunately, the rest of the state is in the short to very short range," said Agriculture Commissioner David E. Boswell.

"We're not suffering from the drought conditions of the states south of us, but our crops are under stress from both the lack of moisture and the heat," Boswell continued.

Farmers are now busy spraying, tilling and cultivating tobacco, spraying other crops for weeds and insects, harvesting hay and clipping pastures.

Sunday, 15 percent of the burley crop had been topped, behind last year's 23 percent topped at the time. The crop was 52 percent blooming or beyond, as compared with 72 percent in 1985 and 27 percent for the five-year average.

The crop condition is uneven across the state because of the widely varied setting dates and the weather stress.

The corn crop is rated as generally fair to good in spite of the poor weather conditions. Forty-four percent of the crop is rated good and 5 percent is rated excellent. As of July 27, 88 percent of the crop was silked or beyond as compared to 85 percent last year and 69 percent for the average.

At this point, 37 percent of the corn is in the dough stage or beyond. This is well beyond last year's 26 percent and the average of 8 percent.

Soybean development continues to keep pace with last year's. The crop is 44 percent blooming or beyond, the same as 1985. Pods were being set on 15 percent of the acreage, as compared with 13 percent last year.

The condition of the crop is 3 percent very poor, 9 percent poor, 32 percent fair, 53 percent good and 3 percent excellent.

The hay harvest has remained active, but the bad weather has reduced the tonnage in most areas. The hay condition has remained relatively good. Pasture conditions continue to be varied according to the amount of rainfall they have received. Some farmers have started to feed hay due to the lack of pasture for grazing.

"We are really thankful for the rainfall we have had, but we are certainly looking forward to receiving more as we move into harvest," Boswell said.

Leukemia Society Slates Fund Drive

During August and September the Kentucky Chapter, Leukemia Society of America, Inc. will be conducting its annual residential fund drive. Campaign volunteers in communities throughout Kentucky and Southern Indiana will be calling upon the public for donations in the drive. Contributions provide funding for patient aid to Kentuckians and residents of Southern Indiana. Additionally, donations fund research aimed at the elimination of Leukemia, Hodgkins Disease, and Lymphomas, and educational programs for both families with Leukemia and the general public.

Research funded by contributions to the Leukemia Society has resulted in dramatic treatment programs which now enable leukemia patients to live as much as 15 years beyond victims of the disease just a decade or so ago. "We are particularly excited with the fact that contributions to the Leukemia Society of America have resulted in research grants to leading scientists and laboratories throughout the world." Currently, grants are funding research in the areas of immune therapy, synthetic production of Interferon, and bone marrow transplantation.

During the past year, the Kentucky Chapter has provided financial aid, family counseling and referral services to more than 500 families. Currently, more than 200 Kentucky and Southern Indiana patients are receiving financial support through dollars contributed to the Kentucky Chapter.
