Lots of Aches, Chills, Little Flu Is Consensus of Medical Opinion

The statewide outbreak of flu that led to school closings in three counties last week and two more counties this week apparently has been kind to Floyd county so far.

Only about 50 people, countywide, have been diagnosed as suffering from the Taiwan flu, according to health department figures. That's the strain of influenza that is making the rounds in Kentucky this year, bringing headaches and body aches, runny noses, congestion, fever, chills and nausea.

Many others have been suffering from "flu-like" symptoms without actually having the Taiwan virus, explained health department administrator Earl Compton.

"Most of the cases that we're seeing are just a bad cold, or a 24-hour bug," he said.

The Taiwan flu usually lasts from three to five days, according to local physicians. The people most susceptible to it are those under 35, since a similar virus reached epidemic proportions in 1958 and those who caught it then tend to be immune now.

Absenteeism in the Floyd county schools apparently peaked on Monday, when about 1,260 of the district's 9,255 students stayed at home. By Tuesday the number had dropped to about 980, which is "not much above normal," according to Supt. Ray Brackett.

Some teachers have been sick as well, Brackett said, but the district has no plans to close down, as have the school districts in Magoffin, Johnson, Clinton, Cumberland and Jackson counties.

Although the number of actual Taiwan-flu victims is not high, local medical clinics have been deluged with people complaining of flu-like symptoms. At Wheelwright Medical Clinic, about three-quarters of the patients during the first week of January reported flu-like ailments, numbering about 30 people per day. During the same period, Beaver Valley Clinic in Martin treated more than 100 people with flu-like illnesses, more than half of the clinic's patients.

At the emergency room of Highlands Regional Medical Center in Prestonsburg, about 70 people with flu-like symptoms were treated in the first two weeks of this year. Flu has been the most common complaint in the emergency room, according to a hospital spokesman.

In addition, about 30 people have been hospitalized since Jan. 1 with acute respiratory infections, a common complication although not all 30 cases were necessarily linked to flu.

However, the number of flu sufferers seems to be easing off, according to Dr. Arthur Richards, a family practice physician who has been staffing the emergency room at Highlands.

Not a great deal can be done to ease the symptoms of flu, other than patiently waiting for the virus to run its course. Richards' advice to flu victims is to get plenty of bed rest and to drink "lots and lots" of clear liquids such as water or broth. Drinking liquids is important, he emphasized, because patients need to replace the fluids that are lost due to fever.

To ease the headaches and body aches, Richards advised sufferers to take Tylenol or some other non-aspirin medication. An aspirin substitute is recommended because aspirin has been linked to Reye's Syndrome, a rare but serious illness that strikes children and adolescents.

If the virus persists for longer than five or six days, Richards advised victims to consult a doctor. People who have diabetes, chronic lung disease, or other chronic problems should see a doctor if they believe they have the flu, he said.

Ministers Seek To Center Aid For Area Needy

Hard times brought on by high unemployment, especially in the coal industry, federal cutbacks in social programs, and the continuing high cost of living all are seen as contributing reasons for an increasing need for private and church aid to help people through difficult periods.

To this end, the Floyd County Ministerial Association last week sponsored a meeting, here, of area church leaders with representatives from cooperative ministries in other parts of the state to discuss the formation, locally, of a coordinating agency to more effectively meet these needs.

The Rev. Jack Morris, director of church relations of the Christian Appalachian Project in Lancaster, spoke to the group about other similar organizations that are springing up all over Eastern Kentucky, and representatives of two such organizations told of their work. Virginia Blankenship and Zelma Aichel spoke of the work of the Hazard-Perry County Community Ministries which operates a food pantry and a youth center, and meets emergency needs. The Rev. Richard Harrison, of Jackson, related the beginnings of Interfaith of Breathitt County, which is composed of Jackson area churches and seeks to meet local needs as well as those of transients.

Attending the meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, here, were representatives of local groups, Eileen Burchett, Dot Marshall, and Eva Col-

Business, Civic Leader R. V. May, Dies Friday

Robert V. May, well-known Prestonsburg business and civic leader, died Friday at Highlands Regional Medical Center following a short illness. He was 80 years old.

A strong advocate of education, May was appointed in 1960 to the Governor's Commission for the Study of Higher Education, which recommended the establishment of the Community College System, implemented in 1964. He is one of those who fought for and were largely responsible for the location of Prestonsburg Community College, of which he had been chairman of the board of advisors from its beginning. He also served on the Board of Trustees of Alice Lloyd College from 1969 to 1974.

Mr. May was founder of the R. V. May Company, here, and Kentucky Welding Supply Co., Inc., Lexington, with offices in London, Hazard, and Pikeville. These businesses were sold upon his retirement in 1982.

Former Governor Bert T. Combs, said, "I have known him for a quarter of a century. He was a fine citizen who never sought the spotlight."

Combs went on to say that May was among a group who convinced him that the Mountain Parkway would be good for the state. May was active in civic causes and gave unselfishly to his community, Combs said.

He was a graduate of Columbia Military Academy in Columbia, Tenn. and attended Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia.

He was a member of Floyd County's Hall of Fame, and in 1980, was named citizen of the year by the Floyd County

Chamber of Commerce. He was the first chairman of the Prestonsburg Housing Authority, a member of the Prestonsburg Community Development Commission, and past president of both the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs.

He served as a lieutenant in the Navy during World War II and was a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Forty and Eight.

An active member of the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church for 70 years, he was a deacon, past chairman of the Finance Committee and several pulpit committees, and a Sunday School teacher. He had also served as a member of the Executive Board of the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

Three From County Take Clerk's Exam

Three Floyd county residents were in Frankfort Saturday to take the new state examination that, if passed, will make them eligible to run for the office of circuit court clerk later this year.

David Hereford, Linda DeRossett, and Frank DeRossett, Jr., showed up at the gymnasium of Kentucky State University to take the all-day exam, according to Charles Wehrley, of the state Administrative Office of the Courts.

Under a new state law effective January 1, anyone who wishes to run for the office of circuit court clerk, excepting those currently holding the office, must pass the exam. The five-part test covers reading comprehension, general mathematics, the accounting manual and general procedures manual of the circuit clerk, and the personnel rules of the Court of Justice.

The exam will not be given again until 1993, when the next elections for circuit court clerk will be held.

Court Seeks Funding To Better Gas System

Prestonsburg's Police Chief Elmo Allen asked the Floyd County Fiscal Court at its meeting, Friday, for $15,000 to pay the salary of one full-time and one part-time dispatcher to serve the county's law enforcement and fire agencies. Because of budget considerations and a lack of projected revenue figures, Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo deferred giving Allen an answer until March or April.

In a mood of cooperation, the proposal was discussed and questioned by the court, with Allen explaining the benefits to the county. The city dispatchers are currently taking after-hours calls and running police checks for the county.

Magistrate Jackie Edford Owens, while not against the request, reminded the other magistrates that the court had last year denied a similar request by Sheriff Henry Hale because of budget restraints. When asked by County Attorney David A. Barber if the county would have a say in who was hired, Allen made the condition that the person, "live within five minutes of the police station in the event of an emergency." The full-time dispatcher will have a base salary of $9,500.

"Swimming with a chain around your leg," is how County Attorney David A.

Barber described the county's effort to financially support its natural gas system that is badly in need of pipeline improvements. "Sooner or later it's going to pull you under."

Barber reported to the court that he had received a letter from the Farmers Home Administration, answering his inquiry into the possibility of borrowing money from the federal agency to help the county make pipeline improvements and refinance existing debts of the gas system. According to Judge Stumbo, 41% of the system's pipeline still has to be replaced. He believes once this is done the system will be able to pay for itself.

The gas system is currently being leased and operated by East Kentucky Utilities, Inc. It serves 13,000 customers in Dwale, Right Beaver Creek, and parts of Middle Creek.

In separate resolutions the court voted to hire two secretaries to work in the county attorney's office, take over a road located on top of Abbott Mountain in the L. & F. subdivision and make it part of its road system, and send the county road foreman out to Hoover Hollow to identify a road in hope of settling a dispute between citizens living there.

End Seen for Surplus Food If Shipping Funds Are Cut

A recent decision by the Reagan administration means that more than 21,000 low-income families in this area may no longer receive surplus food, according to local and state officials.

The food itself is still available, but earlier this month the President said he intends to cut off money that pays for shipping it to areas where the families live. Congress appropriated $50 million for that purpose this year, but Reagan plans to defer more than half of that amount to be used for other purposes.

"If you don't have these funds, there is no way to move the food," explained Roger Recktenwald, director of the Big Sandy Area Development District. His agency helps coordinate food distribution in Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin, and Pike counties.

Unless Congress overrides Reagan's action, food distribution will end in February, Recktenwald said. That will present a serious problem for many families that have been receiving it.

"There's a lot of people out there that depend on this food as a supplement," he said. If the food is cut off, he added, "They will do without. They don't have any alternative."

Since 1982, low-income families in this area have been receiving supplies of surplus federal cheese, flour, meal, rice and powdered milk on a more-or-less monthly basis, according to Bill May, director of the Community Action Program that subcontracts with Recktenwald's agency to distribute the food. Last year an average of 21,250 families, or about 85,000 people, took home the free food.

The main distribution point in Floyd county is the Allen Park Community Action office, May said. Other sites are the Mud Creek Medical Center and the Wheelwright Senior Citizens Center. For some elderly people who have trouble getting around, the food is taken directly to their homes.

The amount of money needed to get that food to the local families is not large—less than $32,000 for all of last year, according to Recktenwald. The figure is low, he said, because state and local governments provide as much free assistance as possible for the program. Most of the money is spent on transportation, although some is needed for storing and distributing the food.

U.S. Rep. Chris Perkins, D-Hindman, called the Reagan move "heartless." "Hearing after hearing has documented the extent of hunger in our nation," wrote Perkins in a press release. "There is surplus food in the warehouses in the Department of Agriculture sufficient to provide an adequate diet to every American in need."

Petition Asks Action On Allen Intersection

Floyd county citizens alarmed by the dangerous intersection on U.S. 23 and Ky. 1428 at Allen have presented a petition to C. Leslie Dawson, secretary of the Department of Transportation. The petition, signed by 536 people, calls on the secretary and law enforcement authorities to police the area and alleviate "the hazardous conditions which have existed there caused by drivers ignoring the speed limits and red light."

Ralph H. Elkins, of Allen, who is leading the petition drive, said the signatures were taken in churches, at the bus station in Martin, at the Korner Drug Store in Prestonsburg, and various other places in the county. He said people were aware of the dangerous intersection, were more than willing to sign it, and many more signatures could have been taken if they had gone on collecting them.

The petition stems from a traffic fatality that occurred at the Allen intersection, December 5. Brenda Sue Bentley, of Maytown, was killed and her three-year-old daughter seriously injured when a truck driver allegedly ran a red light. The driver has been charged with murder and first degree assault. But there have also been other deaths and serious accidents at the intersection, according to Elkins.

In his letter to Dawson accompanying the petition, Elkins wrote, "Most of the serious accidents have been caused by drivers of trucks approaching the intersection too fast and not being able to stop on the red signal. This has been going on for several years, and if it continues, more people will be killed. What if one of these trucks would run the red signal just as one of the many school buses start through on the green signal?"

"The intersection is there and probably cannot be changed, but there is one solution and it would not cost very much to put into effect. There could be a speed limit of thirty-five miles per hour one-half mile south and one-half mile north of the intersection and end."

Money Given 3 Years In Local Bank Heist

Three days before he was scheduled to stand trial in Lexington for the June 3, 1986 robbery of a Prestonsburg bank, Darrell Lee Money of Paintsville pleaded guilty. He was sentenced last week by U.S. District Judge Eugene Siler to eight years in prison and ordered to pay $1,182 in restitution and court costs.

Money, 24, was accused of using a toy gun to hold up the North Lake Drive branch of the Bank Josephine. Wearing a woman's wig, a white bandana and dark glasses, he handed a note demanding money to teller Cathy Baldrige. After Baldrige gave him about $5,300 in cash from her drawer, he fled on foot to the nearby SuperAmerica gas station where he shed the disguise.

He was apprehended the next day at his Paintsville apartment, and about $3,600 of the money was recovered. The rest had already been spent on back rent, groceries, old court fines and toys for his child, according to police.

RECENT RAINS have brought with them streams of water such as this one cascading over an outcrop of rock.

1985 'Safe' Year With Two Deaths Listed in District

Last year was a relatively safe one for coal miners both locally and nationwide, with only two deaths reported in this district and fewer than 90 nationwide. The local district includes 13 counties and parts of counties.

One death occurred in Floyd county last March, when the co-owner of a Weeksbury mine made contact with live wires at an electrical substation. Phillip R. Hamilton, of the H and C Coal Company, died instantly and was pulled from the wires by a co-worker.

That death would not have occurred if standard procedures had been followed and power to the substation had been cut off, according to state mine safety analyst Kenneth Meade. An electrician was working at the mine site, Meade said, but had not been called to assist Hamilton before the accident occurred.

Electrocution was the most common cause of mining deaths in Kentucky during 1986, accounting for five of the state's 14 fatalities. Three fatal accidents resulted from roof falls, according to State Mines and Minerals Commissioner Willard Stanley.

Since 1978, Kentucky miners have been required to take 40 hours of training and a three-month apprenticeship, as well as passing a test, before they can become certified and receive a Miner ID card. That requirement has contributed to the improving safety record, according to Meade.

Nationally, the total of 87 mining deaths during 1986 is higher than the total for 1985, when only 67 miners died. But 1985 was the best year for mine safety ever recorded in this country, and the 1986 record is still good, according to Katharine Snyder, an official with the federal Mine Safety and Health Administration.

Only one other year brought fewer mining deaths than were recorded last year. That was 1983, when 70 miners died nationwide.

Snyder said that last year's good record was due more to safety awareness on the part of miners than to any specific improvement in safety techniques. "There's more conscientiousness about safety by operators and miners alike," she said.

FmHA Disaster Loans Tied To Insurance

Farmers seeking disaster emergency loans from the Farms Home Administration (FmHA) for 1987 losses will need to have crop insurance, if it is available, before they will be eligible, according to state FmHA director Kendall Seaton.

A new provision of the Farm Bill prohibits the FmHA from making emergency loans for crop losses that could have been covered under multiple-peril crop insurance programs sponsored by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

"I strongly urge every family farmer to take this new relationship between insurance coverage and emergency loan eligibility into account in terms of farm management," said state Agriculture Commissioner David E. Boswell.

Federally subsidized multiple-peril crop insurance is now available for all wheat, corn, barley, grain sorghum, oats, upland cotton and rice, plus an additional 35 specialty crops in most growing areas.

"Since the government subsidy reduces the program costs by about 50 percent, crop insurance is a worthwhile option even without the emergency loan tie-in," Boswell said.

Under the new law, if a farmer has the required insurance, and if the value of his crop loss is still 30 percent or more after the insurance payment, the operation will be eligible for consideration for an emergency loan.

The new requirement, effective in January, will affect crops planted in 1987. It will not affect winter wheat or other winter-seeded crops planted in 1986 and harvested in 1987.

The insurance must be multiple-peril, covering most forms of disaster, not just hail insurance only.

The closing date in Kentucky for insurance on crops planted in the spring is April 15. The date for fall-planted crops is Sept. 30. A prevented-planning endorsement for eligible crops must be chosen 45 days prior to sales closings.

"Because of the time restrictions, I urge any interested farmers to see their insurance agents promptly," Boswell said.

Information is also available at FCIC field offices and through most county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Clark Nelson extend their appreciation to all those friends, neighbors and loved ones who helped comfort them during their time of sorrow. Thanks to all who sent food, and flowers, prayers or spoke comforting words.

A special thanks to the Highland Avenue Free Will Baptist Church singers, Clifford Austin, pastor, and to the Floyd Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

The regular meeting of John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Tuesday, January 13, at the Floyd County Library, here, with the regent, Mrs. Carl R. Horn, presiding, and the secretary, Mrs. Ray Brackett, presenting a report of the last meeting.

Following routine business, the regent presented Mrs. Dorothy Osborne as a new member. Mrs. Osborne's application papers, under Revolutionary Soldier, Mark Whitaker, had been accepted by NSDAR, Washington, D.C., December 12. She was sworn in as a member during Tuesday's meeting.

Members answering the roll-call were Mesdames Eleanor Horn, Norma S. Stepp, Olga A. Preston, Virginia S. Goble, Mae S. Kendrick, Dorothy Osborne, Opal S. May, Margaret S. Spradin, and Ray Brackett. Charles Wells, of Paintsville, was a guest.

The time of the regular monthly meeting will be changed from 3:30 to 4 p.m., and the Chapter will participate in a Sixth District NSDAR magazine advertisement. Money for this purpose was donated.

Mrs. Horn read Christmas card greetings from Mrs. Edith James, who has been ill and confined to her home, and Mrs. Cordell Martin, KSDAR Sixth District Director, of Hindman.

The guest-speaker, Charles C. Wells, of Paintsville, spoke on "Lineage of the D.A.R. in the United States."

Serving as hostesses were Mesdames J. G. Stepp and Opal S. May.

The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, February 17, at 4 p.m., with Mrs. Margaret S. Spradin presenting the program entitled, "NSDAR of the USA Centennial—Kentucky was First!" The hostess for this meeting will be Miss Maurine Mayo.

CHRIST U. METHODIST WOMEN MEET AT ALLEN

Christ United Methodist Women of Allen held their first meeting for the new year Tuesday, January 13 at 7 p.m. at the church.

New president, Cathy Campbell, opened the meeting by having everyone read The Purpose of Methodist Women. New officers are Cathy Campbell, president; Missy Allen, vice-president; Linda Rice, secretary and Glenna Marcum, treasurer. Cathy Campbell gave the program entitled Unknown Journey of 1987.

Hostesses Debbie Adkins and Cathy Campbell served refreshments to members, Linda Rice, Karen Marcum, Jewel Allen, Dolores Bradley, Missy Allen and Kay Lemaster.

Jewel Allen will present the program in February and the hostesses will be Karen Marcum and Ruth Francis.

Headwaters' Details A.T. Massey Strike

"Mine War on Blackberry Creek" documents the strike of union coal miners against the A.T. Massey Coal Company in the final episode of the 1986-87 season of "Headwaters," Tuesday, January 27, at 7 p.m. on KET.

The strike began in 1984 on the Kentucky-West Virginia border. By late 1986, the dispute still was being settled in court. This modern scenario is similar to the 1920s mine wars that occurred in the same area.

A.T. Massey is a subsidiary of Royal Dutch Shell and the Fluor Corporation which operate mines and export coal from South Africa. Union members maintained the company was trying to treat them like their South African counterparts.

Don Blankenship, president of the Rawl Sales Division for A.T. Massey Coal counters that A.T. Massey's dealings in South Africa have been good for the country.

People living near the Blackberry Creek mine said that during the strike it was "more like a concentration camp than a coal mine." The coal company had mounted cameras to film strike violence; trained dogs and armed guards. Miners protested by blocking roads, using deadly high-powered slingshots and by trying to slow coal trains.

During the strike, one man was killed and 10 were seriously injured. Several miners sustained bullet wounds and other minor injuries. Four hundred coal truck windows were destroyed, 15 vehicles were demolished and 75 homes were shot into.

At the request of Richard Trumka, president of the United Mine Workers of America, the union coal workers returned to work unconditionally. The miners maintain they will win.

"Headwaters" is a production of Appalshop, a non-profit media arts center located in Whitesburg, Ky. It is funded in part by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Seek Host Families For Foreign Students

Host families are being sought for 25 high school students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Ecuador, Australia and Japan for the school year 1987-88 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in August, 1987, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June, 1988. The students, all fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries and have spending money and medical insurance.

Host Families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes.

AISE is also seeking American high school students age 15 through 17, who would like to spend a high school year in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, France, Spain or Australia or participate in a five week summer host family stay throughout Western Europe.

Families interested in this program should contact the person named above or telephone toll free: 1-800-SIBLING.

Born November 27, 1906, he was a son of the late Congressman Andrew J. May and Julia Mayo May. His wife, Emma Wells May, preceded him in death.

He is survived by two daughters, Julia Mayo May, of Prestonsburg, and Elizabeth M. Atinay, of Lexington; two sons, Robert V. May, Jr., and Walter W. May, both also of Lexington, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m., Sunday, at the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church by the Rev. Stephen Hopkins. Burial was made in the Mayo family cemetery under direction of the Carter Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to Prestonsburg Community College.

Active pallbearers were Robert V. May, Jr., Walter W. May, Charles W. Atinay, Andrew A. May, William S. May, John A. Spurlock, Clifford B. Latta, III.

force the speed limit." Elkins also suggested that warning signs be put up.

State Representative Greg Stumbo's office helped draft the petition and copies of it were sent to Governor Martha Layne Collins, Congressman Carl C. Perkins, and State Police Commissioner Morgan Elkins.

Ralph Elkins believes all the intersections from Prestonsburg to Pikeville are dangerous, but he considers the one at Allen the most dangerous. He said he is hoping state authorities take action immediately.

ed in Bowling Green. It charges that the defendant caused the illness and the plaintiff, "was made to suffer both physically and mentally because of the defendant's negligence."

While it's against the law to sell to a minor, it also is against the law for a minor to buy or be in possession of an alcoholic beverage, according to Catherine Staib, an attorney with the state Alcohol Beverage Control Department. "It's illegal for any person under 21 to enter a liquor store for the purpose of purchasing or receiving an alcoholic beverage," she said.

A complaint in a civil suit presents only one side of the case. The defense has 20 days to answer the complaint once it has been served notice. Attorney John Griffith will be representing Jenny Wiley Village Liquors.

First Baptist Slates Men's Day, Jan. 25

The Rev. Steve Hopkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial), reminds the men of the church of Baptist Men's Day, which will be Sunday, January 25, starting with breakfast, at the church. The morning worship will feature testimonies from some of these men, and an all-men's choir. The pastor extends a cordial welcome to attend.

Community Action Program Offers Energy Assistance

The Community Action Program will operate the Crisis Component of the Low-Income Energy Assistance program, beginning January 5 and continuing through April 30. Certain guidelines must be met by the applicant.

Applications will be taken from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Swimming Pool building, Convention Center, at Allen Park. For more information, call 874-2965 or 874-9444.

Parkway Water System To Merge with P'burg

The Prestonsburg City Utilities Commission is ready to take over the Parkway Water Association system, a transfer that has been in the works for several years.

The association, which serves about 160 customers along Middle Creek, has been buying its water from the city already, so those customers won't notice any change in their water. But they will find changes in both the service they receive and the rates that they pay. "They'll have better water service," said Bill Howard, city water superintendent. The city utility company has a full-time maintenance crew, unlike the Parkway Association. In addition, utility employees will begin reading the water meters instead of having the customers do it themselves.

But for a few customers the water will be more costly than before. The city utility company raised its rates in 1981, but this increase was never passed along to association customers, so the association was actually losing money on water sold to its largest customers.

Others present were Charles Wilson, of Wheelwright, and Phil Price, of Prestonsburg.

The ministerial association, seeking more effective ways to coordinate food distribution, particularly, as well as other methods of helping those in need, has applied for funds from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and Hands Across America.

The group will hold its next meeting at 10 a.m., January 27, at the First Presbyterian Church, here. All who are interested in helping with its work are welcome and may call the Rev. Timothy Jessen for additional information.

Bits and Pieces

WE ARE DIMINISHED

An old and good friend, Bob May, died Friday, and we will miss him. He enjoyed life, and we enjoyed it more, knowing him.

Wonder if there is any significance in the fact that Monday was not only Martin Luther King, Jr.'s birthday, but, lest we forget, also that of Robert E. Lee. According to the Old Farmer's Almanac, this is observed only in Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Tennessee.

Surely there is room for two great men to be so honored.

DISTINGUISHED COMPANY

My dad used to tell the story of a professor of his who was one of the great general's most fervent admirers. This professor was fond of stating in unequivocal terms, "The three greatest men who ever lived were Jesus Christ, the Apostle Paul, and Robert E. Lee—and not necessarily in that order."

Each of us, of course, has our own idea of those who are greatest. Some would add, some would take away from the above list. Personally, I would add my dad, Norman Allen, my granddad, D. M. Allen, and Dr. Lon C. Hall.

WELCOME BACK, RON!

For the past three weeks, Ron Marstin has been visiting his family in Australia, lolling on the beach (it's summer there) and generally leading a slothful and enviable existence. We trust that he, Ellen, and children will be back home this week.

Though there's no beach in view, I might just consider a few days away from this controlled chaos, myself.

To Chair Bike-a-Thon

Mrs. Cheryl Hall will chair the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-Thon in Ligon.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-secretarian, non-discriminatory, and provides total medical care to over 4,200 patients.

All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude Hospital, children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle cell anemia, and other child-killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-a-Thon program is dedicated to "Jaime". Jaime is from Ohio and was diagnosed with leukemia in May of 1983, and began treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Today, her cancer is in remission and she is doing quite well. Jaime is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary Shepherd was surprised with a birthday party at her home, January 6.

Attending were Vinson Shepherd, Mrs. Perry Greene, Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson and children, Camile and Kyle, all of Prestonsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Philpot and daughters, Heather and Holly Beth, of Paintsville. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Philpot made the decorated birthday cake, and Mrs. Greene furnished the refreshments. The honored guest received gifts, telephone calls, and greetings from relatives and friends.

Coal Operators Support 2-Acre Exemption Repeal

Coal industry officials in Kentucky have begun to show some support for repeal of the two-acre exemption in the 1977 federal strip-mine law, though it's still questionable whether that support will result in changes to the law.

Last week, spokespersons for two groups, the Coal Operators and Associates of Pikeville and the Western Kentucky Coal Association, indicated that they had no objection to repealing the exemption.

The board of directors of the Kentucky Coal Association voted two weeks ago to support repeal, according to sources reported in the Louisville Courier-Journal. However, Tom Duncan, president of the association, would neither confirm nor deny the report.

The Kentucky Small Coal Operators Advisory Council endorsed repeal last summer, on the condition that other requirements of the federal law be relaxed. This is also the reason the Kentucky Coal Association has become more

LETTERS To the Editor

The views expressed here are those of the writer, and not necessarily those of this newspaper. No unsigned contributions will be published.

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle

Individuals who align themselves with the women's movement would be wise to study its history. For example, said V.I. Lenin who murdered 20 million people before his death in 1924: "The chief task of the working women's movement is to fight for economic and social equality, and not only formal equality, for women. The chief thing is to get women to take part in socially productive labour, to liberate them from 'domestic slavery', to free them from their stupefying and humiliating subjugation to the eternal drudgery of the kitchen and the nursery. This struggle will be a long one, and it demands a radical reconstruction both of social technique and of morals. But it will end in the complete triumph of communism."

Said Joseph Stalin who murdered 46 million people before his death in 1953: "It is five years since the Central Committee of our party convened in Moscow the All-Russian women workers' and peasants' congress. Over a thousand delegates, representing one million working women, gathered at the congress. Working class and peasant women are mothers who bring up our youth—the future of our country. They can cripple the spirit of a child or give us youth with a healthy spirit, capable of taking our country forward. All this depends on whether the woman and mother has sympathy for the Soviet system or whether she trails in the wake of the priest, the kulak, or the bourgeoisie."

Wrote Frederick Engels (co-author with Karl Marx of the Communist Manifesto) in The Origin of The Family, Private Property, and The State: "The modern individual family is based on the open or disguised domestic enslavement of the woman...establishing real social equality between the two, will be brought out into full belief only when both are completely equal before the law. It will then become evident that the first premise for the emancipation of women is the reintroduction of the entire female sex into public industry; and that this again demands that the quality possessed by the individual family of being the economic unit of society be abolished."

Are we liberated when we leave our kitchens, nurseries, and convents and become slaves of the industrial revolution? Rather, so powerful, so protective, so strategic, is the Divinely created role of the woman, that before nations can be conquered, the woman must be conquered, and it all began in the garden of Eden.

Seeks Information

I am trying to trace my great-grandmother, Maxy Short, who was born May 18, 1830 and died April 29, 1911 at Deary, Idaho. I have heard that she was born in Kentucky and also that she was born in Virginia. I know nothing more about her or who her parents were. I know she married Henry Baker who died and is buried in Luddington, Wisconsin. If there are any Short families in or around Prestonsburg, with any one that might be able to help me with this I would appreciate hearing from them.

USDA Seeks Comments On Tobacco Program

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that it is seeking public comment on the level of price support and national marketing quota for the 1987 crop of burley tobacco.
 Milton Hertz, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said the 1987 price support level will be computed for a statutory formula based on changes in the 5-year moving averages of market prices and cost-of-production indexes. The 1987 level of support is estimated to be about 148.8 cents per pound, the same as the 1986 level.
 The 1987 national marketing quota will also be computed based upon a statutory formula. The quota is computed based upon three components: the intended purchases by domestic cigarette manufacturers which are submitted to USDA by January 15; the average of exports for the three preceding marketing years and an adjustment to maintain loan stocks at a prescribed reserve stock level.
 The three-component level may be adjusted up or down by not more than 3 percent, but the quota which is determined cannot be less than 94 percent of the previous year's quota.
 Under the formula the minimum quota for 1987 burley tobacco would be 464 million pounds, Hertz said.
 This quota must be announced no later than February 1.
 Additional information for computing the marketing quota and price support level for the 1987 crop of burley tobacco appeared in the Federal Register of January 8.
 Comments may be sent to: Director, Commodity Analysis Division, USDA-ASCS, Room 3741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.
 Comments will be open for public inspection during business hours in Room 3741-S of USDA's South Building, 14th and Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. The deadline for receiving comments is January 23.

PREDICTIONS FOR 1987

By WOODROW W. BURCHETT

Woodrow Burchett has for several years been prognosticator without peer in the Commonwealth. This year, he again sallied forth fearlessly, pulling no punches in his annual predictions presented at the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club's Ladies' Night dinner meeting, January 1. Mr. Burchett's predictions, with a review of those of 1986, and comments, follow.

Since the days of Adam people have had an inquiring and suspicious mind and wanted to be told what is around the corner. The world is full of prognosticators and I am one of them. If all the predictions made for 1986 had come true, this world would be in shambles, and not fit to live in. Some we guessed right and many we missed.

QUICK LOOK AT '86
Dow Jones sharp decline early in '86. Will stage a comeback to over 1800. If it goes over 2000 will be a repeat of '29.

Decline in value of dollar will have favorable impact on balance of trade.

There will be an effort to change constitution and make State Superintendent of Public Instruction an appointive office. Since 1891 there has been only 26 successful attempts to amend constitution. Prince Andrew will marry. There will be no lottery in Ky.

The gubernatorial candidates will be off and running. John Y. Brown and Julian Carroll, ex-governors—Then there is Breshar, Wilkinson and Stumbo. If it is true that the candidate that spends the most money wins, it would be Brown or Wilkinson.

In recent history, we have had a Republican governor every 20 years. Did you know Louie Nunn was governor in 1966? Did you ever hear of Larry Forgy?

In the '88 presidential race you will begin to hear about Robb of Virginia.

Imelda Marcos will have the most shoes.

Spendthrift farm will have the most suits.

Governor Martha Layne Collins will have the best indoor tan.

Donald and Dudley Webb will win the humanitarian award. Tom Gentry won't be able to buy a ham sandwich. Fun family of the year—The Bingham's of Louisville C.J. Quarterback sneak of the year—Man posing as Joe Montana married a Lexington girl.

Greatest accomplishment of legislature—Named the brachiopod (extinct for 200 million years) the state fossil.

Best Citizen Award—Toyota for asking Scott County to exempt it from property taxes for 30 years.

Most progress in education—when the U.K. Trustees declared that the next U.K. president did not need to have a P.H.D. degree.

There will be no tax on houses or unmined minerals.

There will not be a sweepstakes or a lottery winner in Floyd county.

NOW FOR '87

UK will have a new president and Kentucky will have a new governor. Neither will be female.

We will be spared the anxiety of a legislative session in '87. It has been said that no man's liberty or property is safe while the legislature is in session. They will meet and organize to get some time on the meter.

The debate between Lexington and Louisville as to who has the best basketball team will be intense. The controversy over which has the most crime and which has the most class, and which is the best place to live will be greater. Lexington should come in to its own since you can now buy beer on Sunday afternoon.

Lexington will average a bank robbery every 30 days. It has too many branch banks. There will be no bank robbery in Floyd county.

The big politics in Kentucky will be the gubernatorial. The issues will not be the customary, roads, schools, taxes and services. It will be who took the 5th and who flunked the urine test.

Harvey Sloane won't be a candidate with Mohammed Ali as his manager. John Y. Brown will file his papers late, but before the new 4 o'clock deadline on February 25.

Joe Prather ran his race a year too soon and John Brown may run his too late.

All the candidates will make big promises and focus in on drugs, highway safety and the need for better schools. These make good campaign issues.

The next governor will live within 150 miles of Lexington and have an O in his name.

There will be an unusually large amount of money spent in the race for Lieutenant Governor. The reason is that historically Kentucky has had a Republican governor every 20 years and that Louie Nunn was governor in '66. If that be so the Democratic Lieutenant Governor would be the head of the Democratic Party and almost a certainty for governor is '91.

The next Lt. Governor will not live within 50 miles of Lexington, but will have an O in his name.

You may expect a 75% increase in the pay of members of Congress, the Vice President, the President and Court Justices. It will be arranged to be automatic and accomplished without a vote. Who is left to question its legality? During the last 20 years, salaries of Congress has increased 350%. Prices have climbed 237% and the rate of pay of the average worker has increased 70%.

There will be a baby boom in '87, the greatest in 20 years.

1987 will be the beginning of the end of people living beyond their means.

Japanese women will be having their noses lengthened and American women having their noses flattened.

T.V. and motion pictures will move away from Star Wars and King Kong and go to comedy, drama and musicals.

Historically, the stock market has followed the hemline of ladies skirts. When the skirts are ace high the market hits rock bottom. Computerized trading may have had a greater impact on Wall Street than the insider trading of Ivan Boesky. Something has sent the market into a dizzy spin. It may rise or fall as much as a hundred points in a single day. Women's hemlines go all the way up and all the way down. The market will do the same—from 1500 to 2500 or more.

Computerized trading and insider manipulations will be of great concern to Wall Street and will create distrust in the market. If you ever played the bookies you are familiar with past posting.

The 100th Congress will convene. The Democrats will be in power. They will have a new trade bill designed to reduce the trade deficit. They will push for a tax increase to balance the budget.

The speed limit will be increased to 65 m.p.h.

Be a lot of talk, but nothing done about the death penalty. There will still be more than 1800 people on death row.

Health care will be a growing crisis. A growing number of Americans don't have health insurance and can't afford health care. Where do we go from here?

More large corporations will be looking to colleges to specially train the graduates for a particular job.

One state will pass a law making English the legal language.

The problem with street people will not be solved.

The Goble-Roberts bridge will still be under construction and KY 3 will be well under way. U.S. 23 will still be discussed. Prestonsburg City limits won't get any bigger.

Chrysler-GM and Ford will all make a large luxury car selling in the 25 to 30 thousand dollar range.

We will be plagued with the 17-year locust.

There will be an eclipse of the sun, April 13.

You can buy whiskey with a credit card, and there will be talk about using the plastic to pay your taxes.

The president will submit the first trillion dollar budget to Congress and accuse the Democrats of being big spenders. The Democrats will do more cutting on that budget than the doctors did on Reagan and most likely in different places.

Saw it all on T.V. except operation—but he is going to show his scar.

We will have a lower number of mine accidents—the usual train wrecks, volcanic eruptions, fires, floods and bombings but there will be a needed focus on big truck accidents.

There will be more robots used. Some will be security guards.

Life span of American made automobiles will be extended to 12 to 15 years.

Had Syzygy (Syuhgee)—won't have another for 18 years.

Have a perigee next year—1988—moon closest to earth.

Have a perihelion—1988—earth closest to sun.

The new tax law will be a disaster, the accountants, the lawyers, the courts and I.R.S. will be swamped and bewildered. The instructions on this simplified form are 3 times as longer the others.

Congress will be trying to plug loopholes and lobbyists will have a field day trying to make loopholes. The result will be a "smoke and mirrors" adjustment. They will argue over punctuation, grammar and syntax. You won't hear about "tax increases". You will hear about adjustments, simplifications and revenue enhancements.

The big news of 1987 will be the investigation of the secret dealings between the United States, Iran and the Nicaraguan rebels—along with assorted Middle men and financiers. Where did the money come from, where did it go, how much was it and who got it. Presently we have more than a dozen investigations going on and some are investigating each other. The F.B.I. is investigating the Attorney General.

Everybody, including the President is trying to prove how much they do not know and when they found it out. But there are some things that we do know. The American policy in dealing with terrorism has been crippled and halting the spread of communism in Central America has been brought to a standstill. More than 30 million dollars will be spent in the investigation and an attempt to find out what went wrong with the Reagan policy, or maybe what was right about it. It is not pleasant to see a presidency unravel but it is kind of fun to see Don Regan squirm.

You can be sure that the foreign policy of the United States will be derailed for a time and the attention of the world directed to the dirty linen of our government. Politics will raise its ugly head and the 1988 elections will keep it alive until we have a new administration in Washington.

The teflon has been burned off of President Reagan. A half dozen subordinates will serve a hitch in jail, then write a book and get rich. This day and time you can't have a best seller unless you have been in the penitentiary.

Way in the distance you can see blurred images of presidential candidates for 1988. Bush and Dole have been tarnished by Nicaragua Gate. In addition, Bush flunked his grammar test. He can't spell grammar. If Pat Robertson could get a manager registered to vote in the U.S.A. he might be the G.O.P. nominee. But don't overlook Ex-Governor Du Pont of Delaware.

At this point the Democrats have two viable hopefuls, Ex. Gov. Robb of Virginia and Senator Sam Nunn of Georgia. The Democrats must be more conservative and be able to carry the solid south. It has been 40 years since a president has been elected without the southern states.

Do you know what is the largest and fastest growing business in this country. It is government. Is it getting too big and too restrictive and regulatory?

In 1986 the Challenger exploded and failed. No effort will be made in '87 for another space shuttle.

Late in the year Gov. Martha Layne Collins will become Martha Lame Duck and will be seeking a franchise to market her product in Japan. "Chicken by George" will be her chief competition. She will have Alice McDonald as solar agent. She can sell a 25¢ ink pen for $100.

Less than a half dozen generations ago we took this country from the Indians and established a new and more sophisticated government. The Indians had it good. The women did all the work and they paid no taxes. We tried to improve on that arrangement. There was no corruption in the Councils. Stealing and lying were punishable by death. We put them on reservations, took away their right to vote and forbade them to drink whiskey.

In 1986 the Statue of Liberty was refurbished and restored. Lee Iococca raised the money privately and paid for it. It has stood in New York harbor for 100 years as a beacon of welcome to the U.S.A. It has inscribed on its base the last lines of an Ode to Miss Liberty by Emma Lazarus as an invitation to all the peoples in the world.

"Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free

The wretched refuse of your teeming shore,

Send these, the homeless, tempest tossed to me.

I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

What it does not say may be more significant than what it does say. It invites the poor, the tired, the huddled masses. We have cared for them. It has been a heavy burden but it hasn't broken our backs. The invitation does not say, "Give us your rich, aggressive, affluent and greedy." We have not asked for them. We may not be prepared to handle them. They may come without being asked. We hope it is not time for a takeover like we did the Indians. Maybe if we are push on reservations it would be a push Country Club—We probably would not miss our right to vote—only about 1/2 the people ever use it anyway. I don't think we would ever stand still for them to take away our liquor.

Often, the windows of the world are covered with rain. But sunny days will come, and we must be ready and willing to take advantage of them. It is a sad circumstance when people are denied the opportunity to grow and develop to their fullest potential, but it is an even greater tragedy when they have the opportunities to grow and develop and refuse to take advantage of them.

Generations before us, who carved so much from so little, would shake their heads in disbelief and disgust that our generation could have so much and be willing to settle for so little. Never in history has any people had spread before them such a feast of intellectual, physical, social, industrial and technical riches as we have today. No where on earth exists the fertile land, favorable climate, natural resources or bountiful blessings of nature as are available to the American people.

Because we have been given so much, much is expected. But, beyond the expectation is the opportunity. While life does not hold the same promise for everyone, we all have the same amount of time to take advantage of what opportunity does come our way. The success in life is not measured by how much we are given, but by what we do with what we have. We need not take second place in any situation.

Today's heartbreaks will not dampen tomorrow's hopes.

Arts Council Seeks Artists For Program

The Kentucky Arts Council is seeking applications from artists interested in participating in its Artists in Residence Program during the 1987-88 school year.

The council anticipates needing artists for both short-term (five-10 days) and long-term (from 12 weeks to nine months) residencies in various parts of the state, including rural areas. Disciplines include architecture/design, dance, film/media, folk arts, jazz, poetry/creative writing, theater, and visual arts/crafts.

During a residency, the artist serves as a resource to the school and community and may be expected to conduct such activities as workshops, classes, lectures and demonstrations, reading or performances, teachers' inservice sessions and other activities. A portion of the residency is set aside as the artist's time to devote to personal work. The artist's stipend ranges from $650 for five days to $12,000 for nine months.

Artists interested in serving a residency should contact the Kentucky Arts Council for an artist's application package. Deadline for applications is March 15, 1987. Contact the Kentucky Arts Council at Berry Hill, Frankfort, 40601, telephone (502) 564-3757.

State May Have Salt Water Port

Kentucky Commissioner of Agriculture David Boswell is in Nederland, Texas, for a tour of the site of a planned new agricultural commodities shipping terminal which has potential for the increased export of Kentucky grain.
 The project is the property of a Kentucky-based company, Pass Petroleum Industries Inc., and will occupy a 1,200-acre industrial site in Nederland, dedicated to the development of a facility for the receipt and shipment of Kentucky coal and agricultural products.
 Also traveling to Nederland, located on the East Texas Gulf Coast, will be George Russell, executive assistant to Gov. Martha Layne Collins; Sen. William Brinkley, Madisonville, vice-chairman of the Kentucky Senate's Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee and a member of the Committee on Energy; Pass Industries officials, and engineering and technical representatives for the project. They will tour the site and meet with Nederland city officials from whom the company will lease the export center property.
 Pass Industries has offered the Commonwealth of Kentucky a plan which, through the state's acquisition of a limited partnership, Kentucky will have first priority to the export services in the planned new port. "The plan, if it is successfully concluded, will make Kentucky the first land-locked state in the nation to have its own salt-water shipping terminal that will allow the loading of fully drafted ships," Commissioner Boswell commented.

Illinois-Based RR Sued For Damages

The Kentucky Railroad Commission has filed a lawsuit against Illinois Central Gulf Railroad of Chicago, Illinois seeking to recover over $750,000 in damages on behalf of the citizens in Hickman county for failure of Illinois Central Gulf to comply with an order issued by the Commission, November 13, 1986.
 Raymond Kirk, spokesman and attorney for the Commission, stated that "the suit was necessary and proper in view of the actions of Illinois Central Gulf in ignoring the safety of the citizens of the Jackson Purchase area and in failing to uphold their duties as a responsible corporate citizens operating within the State of Kentucky."
 The suit is believed to be the first action of this kind by Kentucky officials against a railroad carrier and further requests that an injunction be issued against Illinois Central to restrain any attempt on their behalf to transfer real estate or liquidate holdings in an effort to avoid payment of a judgment rendered against their interest.
 "Our concern is that Illinois Central which has already streamlined their holdings in Kentucky might attempt to transfer the remainder of their holdings in order to avoid liability. To insure against that measure, the suit request the court to compel Illinois Central Gulf to execute a corporate survey bond for an amount which would be calculated to cover the damages and cost of repairs" Kirk added.
 According to Kirk, "the Commission intends to protect the interest of the traveling public from inadequate rail facilities throughout the state and this lawsuit should send a clear and convincing signal to rail carriers that orders issued by the Commission will be enforced."
 Kirk says a second suit will be filed in the Franklin Circuit Court seeking to revoke the "Certificate of Authority to do business" issued to Illinois Central for their operations in Kentucky.

Project Second Chance Is Said Early Success

Halfway through its second week, Project Second Chance '87 had already generated at least 250 calls from Kentucky adults wanting to earn their high school equivalency diploma (GED certificate).

Of the 323 callers to a toll-free line operated by the Kentucky Department of Education's Division of Adult Education, by January 14, 250 said they had learned about the free GED testing in March and April through Project Second Chance.

Project Second Chance is a massive, statewide campaign, with utility companies throughout the state mailing GED sample tests and information with utility bills to their customers, and members of the Kentucky League of Savings Institutions donating funds to cover the $10 per person testing fee.

So many calls have been received on the line (1-800-372-7179) that a second line will be installed by the end of January, Adult Education Director Sharon Darling said.

Project Second Chance was launched at a Jan. 6 luncheon, and is believed to be a new way of reaching large numbers of adults who never finished high school—through utility bills. In the privacy of their homes, adults can take the sample test and call the number. They are directed to the Adult Learning Center near them for free help in preparing for the GED tests. Testing is offered continuously on weekdays at various community colleges and vocational schools around the state, but special Saturday sessions will be offered for Project Second Chance '87 participants in early spring.

The campaign is one of the best examples of business-education partnerships flourishing in Kentucky, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald said. "Partnerships that leverage scarce public resources to attack Kentucky's many educational needs."

The vehicle for business and civic group participation in the effort to provide a better-educated workforce and foster personal educational development is the GED Foundation. It will pool contributions and efforts for ongoing projects in cooperation with the state education department.

Businesses and organizations wanting to help can contact Sharon Darling or Foundation Director Libby Walthall at the Kentucky Department of Education, (502) 564-3921.

100% Recovery Gas, Oil, Coal Said Possible

A breakthrough in mining technology now enables 100 percent recovery of all mineral resources. This breakthrough is especially beneficial to Kentucky's coal, oil and natural gas industries. Department of Mines and Mineral officials announced this week that a project allowing the cutting through of a formerly active gas well by a continuous miner has been successfully completed. The well, located in Pike county, was severed Sunday afternoon, Jan. 11.

The well, which was an active producing well, was owned and operated by PECO Resources, of Kingsport, Tenn. Scotts Branch Company approached PECO Resources regarding the possible purchase of the well to accommodate their nearby longwall mining operation. Following an agreement, both companies worked to design a method of plugging the well to allow it to become the first Kentucky well to be purposely mined through.

The plugging plan was submitted to the Department of Mines and Minerals, which by law approves all plans to mine within 500 feet of an oil or gas well. Department officials worked with PECO Resources and Scotts Branch on the operation. The result was a wellbore that is competently plugged and left in a condition to allow for a safe mining operation.

Plugging of the well was completed, April 30. Since then, departmental inspectors and company officials have monitored the well for gas emission. Frequent vacuum tests of the well did not show a presence of gas.

Mining procedures had advanced to within 30 feet of the well earlier in the week. It was then determined that the well would be cut on Sunday, when there would only be essential personnel in the mine. This was done as an added safety precaution.

Mines and Minerals Commissioner Willard Stanley said that he was tremendously pleased with the success of the program. "I was confident that the well was plugged and what they were doing was 100 percent safe. If not, I would not have allowed them to mine through," said Stanley.

This was quite a development for Kentucky's mineral industries, and Stanley went on to say that he was excited about the program's implications. "This means that we are now able to recover all of our mineral resources. This is the first case that I know of in Kentucky, where 100 percent of the mineral deposits can and will be recovered. The gas is still there, waiting for a well to be re-drilled once the mining cycle is completed."

New Year's Baby

Paul Jordan Hampton, shown above with mother, Sandra Hampton, is the Johnson county New Year's baby born at Highlands Regional Medical Center, January 12. He is the son of Paul and Sandra Hampton, and grandson of Shafter and Leona Salyer, all of Staffordsville.

Each year Highlands Regional Medical Center welcomes the first baby of the New Year from Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, and Martin counties.

Merchants from Floyd, Magoffin, Johnson, Martin, and Pike counties donated gifts to be equally distributed among each of the New Year's babies. Each received gifts valued at approximately $420.

Mrs. Campbell Honored On Retirement, Jan. 1

At the invitation of current postmaster, Mrs. Rexine Campbell, well-wishers gathered at the Wayland Post Office at 5 p.m., New Year's Day, to honor Mrs. Elmer H. (Florence) Morrison on her retirement from the U.S. Postal Service.

Mrs. Morrison had served as part-time flexible clerk for almost 22 years, beginning in May, 1965, under her husband's term as postmaster. When he retired after thirty-one years, she did not wish the responsibility of running the post office, and declined to seek an appointment. During the next nine months after her husband's retirement, her title changed to officer-in-charge while a new postmaster was selected and trained. When the present postmaster, Mrs. Campbell, took over in 1980, Mrs. Morrison continued to serve as part-time clerk.

She received numerous gifts and good wishes. Refreshments were provided buffet style by the hostess, including a decorated cake indicating Mrs. Morrison's years of service. Mrs. Campbell presented to Mrs. Morrison an engraved silver fruit and nut bowl, thanking her for the training she had given her and expressing her appreciation for the cooperation, consideration, and thoughtfulness Mrs. Morrison had shown her.

Due to the limitation of space, Mrs. Campbell invited, besides Mrs. Morrison's immediate family and employment associates, only the laides of the Wayland United Methodist Church, where Mrs. Morrison is a member. Those present were June Webb, Beatrice Combs, Kay McGuire, Libby Martin, Maxine Martin, Sandra Turner, Barbara Moore, Martha Lee, (Mrs. Morrison's replacement), Phyllis B. Honshell, Sybol Bentley, Patsy Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tackett (Mrs. Morrison's daughter and son-in-law), Mae Cox, Betty King (part-time clerk at Topmost in Knott county), Mr. and Mrs. Mont Campbell, Loretta Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Morrison, Anna Marie Martin, Paul McGuire, Ruth McGuire, Elizabeth McGuire, and Jaime Webb.

Mrs. Morrison and her husband live at Wayland, where she plans to continue to be active in church and community.

Floyd Students Named To ECU Dean's List

Nine Floyd county residents have been named to the Dean's List at Eastern Kentucky University for the 1986 fall semester. They are James G. Allen, of Martin; Melissa A. Adams, John B. Derossset, Rona M. Lawson, Michael K. Robinson, Lauren M. Slone, Linda M. Whitten, all of Prestonsburg, and Lavonda Jo Tackett, all of Teaberry.

To be eligible for Dean's List recognition at ECU, a student must achieve a 3.5 grade point average out of a possible 4.0 and be enrolled for 14 or more credit hours. Of the 865 students named to the Dean's List for the semester, 258 or nearly 30 percent achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average, according to Dr. John Rowlett, vice president for academic affairs and research and dean of the faculties.

Pikeville IRS Has New Address

The Internal Revenue Service office in Pikeville is now located at the Federal Courthouse, Basement, Room 2, Main Street.

The office hours for taxpayer assistance at the new office are January 5-January 16, Monday through Wednesday, 8-4:45; January 19-April 15, Monday through Thursday, 8-4:45; Fridays, 8-3:45. After April 15, Mondays only, 8-4:45.

Taxpayers who come to the office in the Federal Courthouse, can receive answers to their tax questions and receive guidance in the preparation of their own returns. Tax forms and IRS publications on individual tax topics may also be obtained at the local office.

Raymond L. Rizzo, District Director for Kentucky, suggested that taxpayers who come to the local IRS office for assistance should bring the tax package they received in the mail, W-2 forms, interest and dividend statements, and any other information supporting claims for tax credits or adjustments to income.

Rizzo also suggested that taxpayers may want to use the IRS toll-free telephone service to get answers to their tax questions. The number for toll free service in the Pikeville area is 1-800-424-1040, and assistance is available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Taxpayers who want to order forms or publications only may call the IRS toll free number 1-800-424-3676. This service is available from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. CST. Those individuals who want to use the IRS recorded tax service called TELE-TAX may call the toll free number 1-800-554-4477. Instructions on using TELE-TAX are contained in the IRS tax package which taxpayers received in the mail.

Homestead Exemption, Tax Break For Some

Revenue Secretary Gary Gillis has announced that qualified persons who are over 65 years of age or are totally disabled can claim the Homestead Exemption up to $17,100 on real estate for tax periods 1987 and 1988.

The amount of the Homestead Exemption is adjusted every two years to account for changes in the purchasing power of the dollar. Gillis said it has increased from $6,500 in 1972 to the current $17,100 as a result of changes in the consumer price index. The exemption was $16,100 in 1985 and 1986.

Taxpayers who are qualified for this exemption must file a state application with the Property Valuation Administrator in their county. Taxpayers who qualify for the total and permanent disability exemption under a program authorized or administered by an agency of the U.S. government or by the Railroad Retirement System must file annually with the PVA by Dec. 31 and report any changes in their disability classification exemption.

Only one exemption will be allowed per residence. Therefore, regardless of the number of qualified owners of a home, totally disabled or over 65 years of age, $17,100 is the maximum value which can be exempted from property tax, Gillis added.

Taxpayers should contact the Department of Property Taxation, 592 E. Main Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, (502) 564-6730 for details regarding qualification and filing.

Dorothy Hall found there's no place like home after Same Day Surgery...

"There would be no point in going to Lexington... why travel that many miles when we've got just as good or better here."

Dorothy Hall faced eye surgery for a detached retina, a cause for real concern. And when it was suggested that Dorothy go to Lexington for surgery she and her husband stood firm, and stayed home.

"There would be no point in going to Lexington when we know the Hospital and the staff here... and we've got a lot of confidence in the doctors, so why travel that many miles when we've got just as good or better here."

Same Day Surgery was an ideal alternative for Dorothy. Expenses were minimized because she recovered in the comfort of her own home. Many surgical procedures, like retina surgery, can be accomplished on an outpatient or Same Day Surgery basis.

Highlands now has 15 full-time surgeons on staff, covering specialties from internal to cosmetic and reconstructive surgery. And our performance has earned accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals* based on strict national standards.

Experienced, skilled surgeons are only part of the story. Highly trained medical support teams in anesthesiology, nursing, diagnostic services and post-operative care, combined with state-of-the-art equipment and facilities, make Highlands one of the safest most professional surgical centers for inpatient and outpatient surgery around.

Maybe that's why some people would rather stay home at Highlands for something as important as surgery. So if you're already here, why go anywhere else?

For more information on inpatient and outpatient surgery, ask your family physician, or call Highlands at 886-8511.

DEAN OF THE FLOYD COUNTY LEGAL PROFESSION and seer extraordinaire, Woodrow Burchett, and Mrs. Burchett are pictured above as Kiwanis president, Dr. Robert Herrick, made introductory remarks prior to Mr. Burchett's annual predictions, highlight of the recent Kiwanis Ladies' Night dinner meeting, or for that matter, any meeting.

More in Knott County Participate in ASCS

The Floyd county office of the U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) no longer exists, but local landowners can still meet with a representative of the federal agency. The agency's local office was combined with the Knott county headquarters office in Hindman last June because there wasn't enough work to justify having two separate offices, according to Sharon Conley, director of the agency in Hindman. Conley comes to Prestonsburg every Wednesday from 8:30 to 4:30, and farmers can meet with her at the Soil Conservation Service office, 105 Court Street. The decision to close the Prestonsburg office, rather than the Hindman office, was based on both economics and convenience, Conley said. The office in Prestonsburg was rented for $750 per month, while the Hindman office costs one-third of that amount. In addition, two ASCS employees live in Hindman, while none lives in Prestonsburg. Conley also said that, while Floyd county may have more landowners, there is "more participation" with the ASCS office in Knott county. Last summer's move was part of a nationwide budget-cutting effort that resulted in the closing of 200 ASCS offices, according to Conley.

New Homemaker Club Members Are Listed

Rural Fire Depts. Eligible For $40,000 in Grant Money

Forty-thousand dollars in grants to assist rural fire departments in upgrading their equipment will be available this year, according to Charlotte Baldwin, secretary, Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet.

The grants, administered by the Division of Forestry, are available to fire departments in communities of 10,000 population or less and require the local departments to match the grant on at least a 50-50 basis.

In 1986, 202 rural fire departments received grants totaling over $79,000 and matched the grants for a total expenditure of nearly $132,000.

The grants can be used for the purchase of firefighting equipment or training with a maximum award of $400 and a minimum of $250. Applications must be received by February 20.

For additional information or grant applications, interested fire departments should contact the Division of Forestry, 627 Comanche Trail, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, or phone (502) 564-4496.

Market Burglarized

Price's Midnight Market on Ky. 114 was burglarized sometime around 1:00 a.m. Monday morning.

The burglar entered the market by knocking a hole through the back wall with a sledge hammer. The store safe was then broken open and an undetermined amount of cash, checks, and food stamps stolen. A store employee reporting to work at 5:00 a.m. discovered the crime.

Detective Keith Scott of the Kentucky State Police Post 9 Pikeville is investigating the case.

KSP Gives Security Tips To Lessen Home Break-ins

The holiday season brought with it new stereos, televisions and other valuable items for many people. So, if you haven't secured your home against break-ins, now is the time to do so.

The Kentucky State Police says one burglary occurs every 18 minutes in the state. Unfortunately, it is difficult to ever recover the merchandise stolen. Thus, the KSP stresses the importance of prevention: make your home as "burglar-proof" as possible. Your best protection includes good locks, good security habits and Operation Identification.

If you only have a spring-bolt lock on your doors, you should replace such locks or add a more secure auxiliary lock. Dead-bolt locks offer good protection. The bolt should extend at least one inch beyond the door edge. Locks which use an interlocking principle (i.e. jimmy-resistant rim locks) also offer good security.

If there is glass within 40 inches of the lock, glazing should be applied over the glass to prevent breakage, and a double cylinder bolt (keys for both sides) should be installed. In case of fire, a key should be kept in an accessible place to allow easy exit from your home. Please check your community fire code to see if this type of lock can be used.

No matter how effective a lock is, it cannot prevent a break-in if your doors are hollow core. Doors should be solid core, panel or metal. On double doors, it is very important to secure the inactive leaf. Use lever extension flush bolts, security surface bolts or security surface bolt-key locks. A good dead-bolt lock should also be installed on the active leaf.

Sliding patio doors present special security problems. Sticks or bars offer inexpensive protection. They must, however, be cut to fill the exact distance between the frame and the sliding door when in closed position. A more secure system is a key-operated lock. Check with your locksmith or local hardware store to determine the type most suitable to your needs.

Secure overhead track garage doors by installing a case-hardened hasp and padlock on the outside. Secure track to the door with heavier screws in hinges and pin the track above the bar by drilling two holes and inserting a heavy nail or bolt. For an overhead counterbalanced door install two case-hardened hasps and padlocks; and for double outswing doors install a case-hardened hasp and padlock on the outside or inside and install heavy duty surface bolts on the top and bottom of the inactive leaf.

Double-hung windows should be secured with keyed locks. In casement windows, the operator handle should always be checked to see if it needs adjustment or needs to be replaced. For a sliding glass window, key-operated locks are recommended.

Good security habits include the use of a wide angle viewer in your door. A 180-degree viewer should be installed—never open the door before you see who is there. House numbers should be visible day and night from the street. In rural areas, name or number should be displayed on the mail box. Re-key locks when moving into an apartment or with second ownership of a home.

Use your locks—an unlocked lock is not a lock! Do not hide keys in a "secret" location. Turning interior lamps on with a timer is inexpensive and recommended, especially when on vacation. Also, while away on a trip, stop having newspapers delivered, arrange to have your lawn mowed and leave a key with your neighbor.

Operation Identification is a program that involves all citizens and is designed to discourage burglary and theft by permanently identifying valuables in homes and businesses. Contact your local police or your area Kentucky State Police Post for information on this program.

FULL DISCLOSURE

A new type of dental product now available is called a "disclosing agent." It is available in either liquid or tablet form. These products are very useful in teaching children, as well as adults, to brush their teeth properly. Disclosing agents contain a red dye. Chewing one of the tablets or swishing a few drops of the liquid in the mouth just before brushing colors the plaque and debris on the teeth. A person thus has an indication as to where brushing has previously missed. All that remains is to brush away the red color and underlying dental plaque.

COOLEY APOTHECARY carries what you would expect to find in a well-inventoried drug store including various dental care products. We are very proud to be able to provide families in this area with all their prescription needs as well. Complete patient profiles are maintained so we can check for allergic reactions and drug interactions. We also make information available to you at income tax time and for insurance purposes. You'll find us located in No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106 and open Mon.-Fri., 9-5:30, Sat. 9-4. MasterCard and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments.

HANDY HINT:
Use dental floss to reach into areas where the toothbrush cannot reach.

Business Workshops Set For Craftsmen

Two sessions of "Making It Sellable," another in a series of business workshops for professional craftspeople, will be held at two different locations in early February.

The workshop is scheduled in Bowling Green at Downing University Student Center on the campus at Western Kentucky University, Feb. 6, and at Morehead in Reed Hall Auditorium on the Morehead State University campus, Feb. 7.

Sponsored by the Kentucky Department of the Arts and the Kentucky Art and Craft Foundation, the workshop will feature speaker Bruce Baker of American Craft Enterprises, Inc. It is directed toward professional craftspeople who want to expand their knowledge of effective booth design and learn more about marketing techniques for arenas such as nationally juried craft shows. Baker is a partner in the jewelry design and manufacturing company of Baker and Baker of Middlebury, Vt., whose work is sold in over 250 stores and galleries nationwide, as well as at some 15 craft and trade fairs across the country.

The workshop will begin with registration at 9 a.m. each day and continue through 3 p.m., with a catered lunch included in the registration fee. The deadline for registration is Feb. 4, and registration can be made by writing "Workshop," the Art and Craft Foundation, 609 W. Main St., Louisville, Ky. 40202.

Miss Prince, Mr. Shepherd Wed

(Photo by Sam Nelson)

Miss Kimberly Gayle Prince and Mr. Jimmy Dean Shepherd were united in marriage December 6 at the Highland Avenue Free Will Baptist Church, Prestonsburg. The double-ring ceremony was solemnized by the pastor, the Reverend Clifford Austin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prince, of Dwale, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Mable Clay, of Dwale, and Mr. Willie "Green" Shepherd, of Prestonsburg.

Traditional wedding selections were presented by the organist, Mrs. Eileen Campbell, and vocalist, Mrs. Debbie Dixon.

Mrs. Sandra Nelson, aunt of the bride, presided at the guest register.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a traditional floor-length gown of satin, chiffon, and lace. The full skirt of satin and chiffon was trimmed at the hemline with lace and extended into a cathedral train. The bride carried a silk cascade bouquet of miniature red and white rosebuds accented with greenery and baby's breath.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Melissa Nelson, aunt of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ella Mae Goble, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Maria Shepherd, Miss Jessica Prince, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and carried an open Bible with two long-stemmed red roses which were presented to each mother by the bride. All wore tea-length red satin dresses and carried white long-stemmed roses decorated with ribbons and baby's breath.

The best man was Willie Shepherd, brother of the groom. Ushers were Ronnie Shepherd, and Donald Shepherd, brothers of the groom, and Roger Nelson, II, cousin of the bride.

Miss Christina Leigh Nelson, cousin of the bride, was flowergirl. She wore a matching dress of red satin and chiffon and carried a white lace basket filled with red rose petals. The ring bearer was Sammy Nelson, cousin of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement, which was decorated in the bride's colors of red and white. The three-tiered cake with double stairways coming down to matching side cakes and a fountain beneath, was done by Emogene Crisp and was served with a variety of relish, fruit, and sandwich trays prepared by Sherry Burchell and Mrs. Emma Sword.

Photographer for the wedding was Sam Nelson, uncle of the bride.

Following a trip to Gatlinburg and the Smokies, the couple is residing in Lancer.

Kiwanis Club Hears 1987 Predictions

The annual Ladies' night dinner meeting of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club was held Thursday evening, January 6, at the Holiday Inn, here, with Dr. Robert Herrick, president, presiding.

As has been the custom for many years, Atty. Woodrow Burchett delighted the audience with his "Predictions for the Coming Year."

It should be noted that Mr. Burchett's predictions for the past year were carefully examined by the Kiwanis Club and their guests, and found to be largely accurate.

An overflow crowd of Kiwanis Club members and their wives were present.

The insured unemployment decreased 16.7 percent in April, as declines occurred in all the major industrial divisions.

Local Teams Enjoy Success In Non-Conference Action

Just ask any Floyd county basketball fan who is the number one district in the 15th region, and they will quickly tell you, the 58th.

Prejudice might be one reason why they prefer the 58th district. You see, Floyd county is the 58th district, but their most effective reasoning comes from this season's results.

In a season expected to be balanced but not dominating, the 58th district has surprised most basketball people with their, uh, balanced domination.

Not including last night's action, Floyd county teams had compiled a composite record of 28-14 against non-conference competition, including top honors in no less than four area invitational tournaments.

Both Prestonsburg and Wheelwright own victories over the 14th region's top pre-season choice, the Wolfe County Wolves. Betsy Layne also recently turned back regional power, Virgie, while winning the Pikeville Invitational Tournament.

This past week local teams did nothing but increase their standings within the 15th region. Prestonsburg, boasting the county's top non-conference record at 7-2, strutted their basketball stuff in Pike county defeating Johns Creek and Mullins.

Prestonsburg, 10-4 overall, received 19 points from senior forward David Martin Tuesday en route to a 55-52 victory over Johns Creek in the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse.

Brent Music added to the Blackcat winning cause, tossing in 13 points while fellow guard, Brian Wallace, scored eight.

Martin and Prestonsburg roared back Friday night by taking their second straight home win, 59-49 over Mullins. Martin led the Blackcats with 17 and got offensive assistance from forward Cory Vicars, who accounted for 12 points.

With the two wins, Prestonsburg improved to 7-2 outside the Floyd County Conference but against teams outside their home county Jeff Riley's club is unbeaten. Their two losses came at the hands of county teams, once in the Pre-Season Tournament and again in the Jenny Wiley Tourney, Betsy Layne and Allen Central respectively and respectfully.

McDowell Coach Ricky Hall is racking his basketball brain, searching for an answer to the question, why doesn't McDowell win inside Floyd county?

McDowell added a first place trophy to their case this year while proving their hardwood worth. The Daredevils sport a 5-2 non-conference record with one of those losses coming to Allen Central in the pre-season tournament.

The Daredevils locked up their fifth victory, Tuesday, when Lenny Hall and Reggie Hall combined to score 41 points as McDowell defeated Fleming-Neon, 74-72.

McDowell's only loss outside this tough basketball county came earlier this month at Magoffin County, by six points.

Floyd county co-conference leader, Allen Central, continued their impressive play Tuesday by upending

Cordia, 50-41.

Stanton Bentley scored 18 points to lead Allen Central but the Rebels benefited from balanced scoring as Roger Horne and Ronnie Ousley added 10 points each.

With this win the Rebels improved their non-conference record to 7-3 and also own a tournament title from this year's play.

Wheelwright, the only 58th district team not sporting a winning non-conference record, lost Friday at Harlan. The Trojans struggled early in the season but did prove that they are capable of good basketball.

Wheelwright, earlier this season, defeated Wolfe County and their losing record doesn't tell much, because first year coach, Monroe Jones, has done battle with many of the best teams the mountains have to offer.

Although the regional tournament is a good deal of time off, Floyd county teams have already proven they can compete and win against the 15th region's best.

But here in the land of the 58th district, fans aren't looking forward to a regional tournament. They figure the best teams won't be there. That's why the 58th district tourney is their favorite tournament to watch.

Special note: Friday night's Prestonsburg-Allen Central basketball game will be aired, via taped delay, in our television viewing area Saturday.

Come out to the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse and you might just see yourself on TV Saturday.

If not, you will certainly see two exciting basketball games. Plus, it will be in support of a worthy cause, our young people.

TO THE HOOP: Allen Central's Ronnie Ousley goes up for two while drawing the foul from Jamie Little. Ousley was the game high scorer, tossing in 24 Friday night.

Betsy Layne Closes Gap With Conference Win Over Rebels

They may soon be calling Craynor Slone the miracle worker at Betsy Layne, but Bud Newsome isn't exactly chopped liver among Bobcat fans.

In their past three games, Betsy Layne has won two conference contests plus one over regional power Virgie, and all of these victories have come by the least of possible margins, one point.

Their latest conquest may have been their biggest of this 1986-87 season, and point guard Bud Newsome became the latest star in Bobcat land.

After battling toe to toe and jersey to jersey for 31 minutes and 58 seconds, Friday's game at Allen Central turned out to be a two-second game, and Newsome led all scorers with two points.

Trailing by the score of 49-48, Betsy Layne patiently controlled the basketball until just a few seconds remained. Bud Newsome, with four seconds left, launched a baseline jumper that connected with nothing but net as the Bobcats pulled out yet another last second victory.

The patience Betsy Layne displayed in setting up their final shot was merely an example of their game-long style of discipline basketball.

The style Craynor Slone teaches is good shot selection and strong defense. Slone brought his system of play to Betsy Layne this season. The system has worked for the Bobcats and more so against Allen Central.

The Rebels are known as an uptempo basketball team, but against Betsy Layne no team can play a fast style. This, plus strong defense, was one reason why Allen Central never fell into their usually successful style of offense.

In each of the final three quarters, Betsy Layne ran valuable time off the clock before going for a final shot. In each of the last three quarters, Betsy Layne was successful in shooting their final shot also.

Betsy Layne started early Friday night, jumping out to a quick four-point first quarter lead, but saw that advantage quickly disappear when Allen Central's Ronnie Ousley took control in the second frame.

Ousley scored 13 of his game-high 24 points in the second quarter to help Allen Central keep pace. Ousley, along with Roger Horne, continued a solid offensive performance in the third stanza as the Rebels took a two-point advantage entering the final frame.

Then, however, was when Jimmy Stumbo caught fire. Stumbo had been held in check prior to the 4:58 mark of the fourth quarter but personally ran off eight consecutive points, enabling Betsy Layne to remain in a winning position.

Stumbo cashed in on three jumpshots and a trip to the charity stripe, the only Bobcat try of the night, until the Allen Central defense began showing concentrated attention to his side.

Unfortunately for Johnny Martin's Rebels, Betsy Layne has more than one shooter on their team, and enter point guard Bud Newsome.

With the score tied, Ousley cashed in on the front end of a bonus opportunity to give Allen Central a one-point lead, but with 2:36 remaining, Betsy Layne obtained control. The Bobcats killed the clock until the :27 mark when Slone signaled for a timeout.

Betsy Layne continued to work the clock down until Newsome set up shop on the baseline, where he dealt the killer blow.

On the strength of Newsome's final efforts, Stumbo's 20 points, and Craynor Slone's winning style, the Betsy Layne Bobcats put themselves right in the midst of a conference race.

With the 50-49 victory over Allen Central, the Bobcats improve to 3-1 in the conference while dropping the leader Allen Central to an identical record.

For these two teams, the conference portion of their schedule is half complete. Both teams are deadlocked at the top with another head-to-head contest awaiting them.

Local fans will have to wait some time for this one, however. The return match at Betsy Layne isn't scheduled until February 13, and don't look for a home court advantage.

Allen Central coach Johnny Martin says his team plays better at Betsy Layne than they do at home, so the Rebel head man isn't exactly giving up the ship, let alone the conference title.

On the other bench, Craynor Slone is making a strong bid for coach of the year, not only for the district but possibly the state.

Many people thought Slone had accepted an impossible challenge, continuing the tradition developed at Betsy Layne, but the veteran coach has surpassed all expectations.

Take a peek at where the Bobcats are—11-4 and tied for first in the Floyd County Conference. Slone has made many believers in this area and in his own words, "We just have to take care of the basketball, take good shots, and play good defense."

INDIVIDUAL SCORING: BETSY LAYNE: Jimmy Stumbo, 20; Bud Newsome, 10; Todd Sturgill, 8; Duran Newsome, 6; Mike Vance, 4; Jamie Little, 2.

ALLEN CENTRAL: Ronnie Ousley, 24; Roger Horne, 14; Stanton Bentley, 8; Robbie Click, 2; Darrin Conn, 1.

THE SPORTING TIMES

When they are bad they are certainly bad, and Sunday LSU proved just how bad the University of Kentucky can really be.

In a matchup of the Southeastern Conference's cellar dweller, Louisiana State, and an even UK, the game didn't promise ABC what they had hoped for when the network originally scheduled this contest.

But boy, ABC didn't know exactly how boring their game would be. On paper most people figured the game to be, at least entertaining, if not important, but Kentucky played like a grade school C team and LSU didn't provide many thrills either.

Not much positive talk can be derived from a 76-41 loss but to add insult to injury for ABC, Joe B. Hall forgot he was supposed to be an unbiased commentator.

While the Wildcats fell apart in front of 23, Rupp Arena fans and countless others on national TV, Hall found reason to direct his conversation in the direction of Kentucky. Luckily ABC sent their best man, Al Michaels, to counter yet another former coach turned analyst.

Oh well, it's fitting for Joe Hall to take an ineffective part when the Wildcats decided to show their poorest side of basketball ability.

We can excuse the 'Cats because we love them, but ABC isn't anyone's friend, and oddly enough, they, along with college fans, suffered more than Kentucky players.

For their second performance of the day, the network selected Dick Vitale and Keith Jackson to supply action and thought to a much better contest.

Louisville and Purdue can provide enough thrills to hold an audience, but Dick Vitale is more than enough to turn a crowd, and a TV set, off.

For some reason Vitale thinks he's a coach. Telling what should be done and when, but the truth of the matter is that Vitale couldn't coach, ever. This is why he is in the broadcaster's booth.

Kentucky smelled up the court; LSU isn't a flamboyant team, and "No Hold" Vitale spoiled a good basketball game, but these people shouldn't feel bad, they certainly weren't the only losers this weekend.

Jerry Tarkanian ate three towels and a player's jersey during his team's loss to Oklahoma, Saturday night. No. Not really. But not from a lack of wanting to.

Tark's Runnin' Rebels came up on the short end of an 89-88 score to lose their first game of the season. UNLV's loss also opened the number one door for Iowa and North Carolina to move up.

However, Tarkanian lost with class. He didn't make excuses, and he gave credit to Oklahoma. No criticism of his players, just a defeat to a good team.

Now, Mr. Tarkanian, we here in Kentucky would like for you to take some time out of your busy schedule and come to our state for a while. While you are here, just mention to Eddie Sutton and Denny Crum that they are dealing with young, fragile men who are excusable for occasional mistakes.

Remind them, Mr. Tarkanian, that college basketball wasn't intended to be big business and even though a few may be lost, their jobs aren't in jeopardy.

For some odd reason the pressure of not winning has affected these two class men of college athletics. Sutton has tried everything short of witchcraft in order

Lady Bobcats Capture Foul Plaqued Contest

What happens to a team when three of their starters and their sixth player foul out, the opposition shoots 31 free throws, and your high scorer has only 11 points?

On most occasions this team goes home a loser, especially when they are playing on the road, but this wasn't the case for Diane Robinson and her Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats.

Coach Robinson spent most of Friday night searching her bench, looking for someone to replace yet another victim of physical play or quick whistles.

A grand total of 28 fouls were called on Betsy Layne, taking away Robinson's top offensive threats.

The first to exit was forward Youlanda Keathley, followed in order by Ladonna Parsons, Sandy Flannery, and Tammy Hall. Luckily for the Lady Bobcats, each of these players didn't foul out until the fourth quarter when Betsy Layne had mounted a 10-point advantage.

What also didn't prove to be a negative factor was that at the same time Coach Robinson was experiencing foul trouble so was Bonita Compton and the Allen Central Lady Rebels.

A grand total of 29 fouls were called on Allen Central, sending Betsy Layne to the charity stripe 30 times. The Lady Bobcats connected on 50 percent of their opportunities which is where the advantage came. Allen Central could manage only 12 of their 31 chances. Many of those misses came on bonus opportunities which added to the 'lack of free throw shooting' sting.

Coach Compton also lost players to the sudden surge of fouls. Starting forward Becky Rice left late in the third quarter, and Joann Conn made her exit much later in the contest.

Conn, however, stayed around to lead all scorers with 25 points in one of the better offensive showings of the season.

With the original first five dropping rapidly, both coaches were put to the test in trying to insert another capable cast of characters, but at least on Friday night, Robinson's supporting cast was much more impressive than what Compton had to offer.

Betsy Layne's Piper Presnell, on the comeback trail after a pre-season injury, came off the Lady Bobcat bench to aid the winning cause with eight points.

All told, Robinson's bench accounted for a total of 14 points. Not exactly a record but certainly good enough for another Betsy Layne win.

In comparison, the Lady Rebels didn't receive any assistance from their backup troops and thus a 54-44 conference loss.

Betsy Layne had only two players to score in double figures, Ladonna Parsons with 11 and Sandy Flannery with 10, but their balanced attack was more than enough to counter Conn's 25-point performance.

With the win, Betsy Layne improves to 3-1 in the Floyd County Conference while Allen Central dips to 2-2.

The Lady Bobcats continue to chase Prestonsburg in the run for the district tournament's top seed and the conference championship which may be settled this Tuesday night.

Sporting a 5-0 conference record, Prestonsburg holds the upper hand as of now but with a victory at home the Lady Bobcats could all but even things up.

The Lady Bobcats fell one point short at Prestonsburg, and with the conference schedule winding down, this may be the biggest matchup remaining. Playing at home could give Betsy Layne an added advantage, but regardless of where this one is played, one fact is for sure, the contest should be one of the better ones this season.

Not that the conference title is more than likely on the line has anything to do with it. These two teams play exciting basketball.

INDIVIDUAL SCORING: BETSY LAYNE: Ladonna Parsons, 11; Sandy Flannery, 10; Sherry Parsons, 9; Sandy Hamilton, 9; Piper Presnell, 8; Tammy Hall, 5; Youlanda Keathley, 2; Tracy Hall, 1.

ALLEN CENTRAL: Joann Conn, 25; Becky Rice, 8; Tonya Kester, 7; Jennifer Stephens, 6; Stephanie Wallen, 2.

SHORT SPORTS

With every tick of the clock the time nears when we can sit down in our most comfortable surroundings and enjoy the Big Daddy of them all, the Super Bowl.

After all the hype, boosting, and pregame matchup, the New York Giants and Denver Broncos will kick off at sometime between six o'clock and 6:30 Sunday evening.

CBS will be the spot on your television for the crowning of this year's champion, but if Denver can handle a tough New York defense, or at least survive, we should be in for a special treat before the crown is brought out.

The Giants pride themselves on aggressive and talented defensive play but have some offensive threats to go with it. New York defenders have disabled four opposing quarterbacks this season while effectively protecting their own, Morehead grad Phil Simms.

New York, however, has their defensive chore coming in the form of a tough, talented, and effective quarterback, John Elway. Elway proved no less than a magic man in leading Denver to the Super Bowl but with defensive help in the form of Carl Mecklenberg, Rulon Jones, and some others who can play defense.

Although Giants linebacker Lawrence Taylor has curtailed his activity in practice, all is said to be fine in both camps, maybe not emotionally but at least physically.

The Giants have never been to a Super Bowl, and the last time Denver found themselves here most of their present players were still in school. Experience favors no one, but the oddsmakers have favored New York, by as many as eight and a half points.

The Kentucky Wildcats may still be licking their wounds after suffering their worst lickin' ever in Rupp Arena, Sunday, 76-41, to Louisiana State.

But they can't dwell too long in the past, because tonight Kentucky returns to the hardwood to take on the Commodores of Vanderbilt.

The 'Cats, currently 3-4 in the SEC and

Hutton Impressive But Free Throws Propel Betsy Layne Past Trojans

Tony Hutton, 5' 10" Wheelwright guard, had probably his best game of a four-year Wheelwright career Tuesday night, but on the strength of an 88 percent free throw shooting effort, the Betsy Layne Bobcats defeated Wheelwright, 69-68.

Hutton, never recognized as an offensive threat, turned the large crowd at Wheelwright on with a total of 26 points while bringing his Trojans back from a huge third quarter deficit.

When Betsy Layne's Jimmy Stumbo hit on a jumpshot from the corner with 54 seconds left in the third quarter, Wheelwright found themselves down by 16 points.

After cutting into that huge Bobcat lead, Hutton and Wheelwright shifted their offense into high gear, getting as close as one point in the final frame.

At the 3:09 mark of the fourth quarter, Craig Martin checked in with a layup to cut the Betsy Layne lead to six points and later got even closer but could never take the lead.

Hutton scored 13 of his game high 26 in the fourth quarter, but solid Betsy Layne free throw shooting in the final 10 seconds enabled the Bobcats to claim their second conference win against only one loss.

With nine seconds remaining in the contest and the Bobcats up by one, Wheelwright fouled guard Duran Newsome. With the balance of the game apparently hinging on these free throws, the Betsy Layne sophomore calmly sank both ends of a bonus opportunity.

Hutton, five seconds later countered with an uncontested layup on the other end, but Wheelwright continued to trail when they fouled Bud Newsome with only two seconds left. Newsome copied his back court mates feat, and who would have thought it, Betsy Layne needed both of Bud Newsome's free throws to pull out a win.

With the final second disappearing from the scoreboard clock, Tony Hutton capped off an incredible night by sinking a heaveho shot from half court. Unfortunately for Wheelwright and Hutton, there is no three-point line in high school basketball.

In that critical fourth quarter, Betsy Layne went to the charity stripe seven times and cashed in on six of those important opportunities. For the game, the Bobcats hit on 17 of 21 trips to the foul line while Wheelwright shot barely 50 percent with 13 of 24.

Free throw shooting has never been a problem for Betsy Layne this season, and neither has shooting been a problem for Jimmy Stumbo. The 6' 1" Bobcat forward hit on seven of seven foul shots, Tuesday night, while leading Betsy Layne with 23 points.

Stumbo has firmly planted himself as one of the best shooters in the 58th district as has Betsy Layne guard Duran Newsome, who checked in with 16 points against Wheelwright.

For Wheelwright, the loss was their second conference defeat of the season, both of which have been by one point, to Allen Central and Betsy Layne at home.

The Trojans, after playing their first four conference games in Wheelwright, now take their much-improved show on the road for conference games at Betsy Layne, the 23rd, Allen Central, the 27th, and McDowell, the 30th.

Monroe Jones, as a first-year coach, has taken remarkable steps with the Wheelwright basketball program while another rookie to Floyd county, Craynor Slone, continues to add class and success to an already classy and successful basketball county.

Both Wheelwright and Betsy Layne were picked to bring up the rear in the Floyd County Conference and may yet do it, but thus far these two coaches have made the race for that top district tournament seed more exciting and close than anyone expected.

INDIVIDUAL SCORING: BETSY LAYNE: Jimmy Stumbo, 23; Duran Newsome, 16; Bud Newsome, 7; Jamie Little, 7; Todd Sturgill, 6; Matt Conn, 6.

WHEELWRIGHT: Tony Hutton, 26; Craig Martin, 12; Jason Cook, 10; Steve Cole, 10; Johnny Isaac, 7; Tommy Jones, 3.

THE FATAL BLOW: Bud Newsome hits this jumpshot to give Betsy Layne a big conference win. It didn't hurt that the Bobcats committed only one turnover, either.

SHORT SPORTS

9-5 overall, are trying desperately to remain alive in the conference.

Wednesday's contest, set to tip off at 8:05, will be aired on all stations carrying the regular slate of Southeastern Conference games.

Kentucky will return to the court and a national network Sunday when they jump out of conference play to take on Navy on ABC at 2:05.

The Wildcats and the network are hoping for a better performance than Kentucky showed this Sunday.

Cumberland College put a few new feathers in their KIAC championship hat this weekend with two victories over Pikeville and Clinch Valley.

Nationally ranked and undefeated in the conference, Cumberland was sitting pretty with a 7-0 record and did nothing but polish off a solid title position.

Cumberland, 16-1 overall and ranked third in the nation, put some valuable distance between themselves and second placed Georgetown, who is now two games off the pace.

If rumor is your thing then pay close attention to this. According to various reports the Chicago Bears have apparently shown interest in making a deal for Tampa Bay's number one draft choice.

Nothing has been confirmed but if Chicago is interested in the first choice, the next step is thinking they would draft Miami quarterback Vinny Testaverde.

Oh yea, now it gets interesting. If Chicago is interested in a quarterback then the logical thing would be to expect Jim McMahon to go on the trading block.

There certainly isn't enough room in Chicago for both, but remember, this is only an unproven and unconfirmed piece of information.

Cincinnati Bengal quarterback Boomer Esiason will be a member of the AFC squad in this year's Pro Bowl. Esiason was a late addition when doctors reminded Ken O'Brian that he shouldn't take part.

Esiason will serve as John Elway's backup and joins fellow Bengals James Brooks, Anthony Munos, and Max Montgomery on the Pro Bowl squad.

The National Football League appears to be getting some additional revenue, particularly from its players.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle has levied fines against New York's Mark Gastineau, $2,500 dollars, and the Giants Safety Kenny Hill, $5,000 dollars.

Gastineau was penalized for a late hit on Bernie Kosar during the AFC playoffs, while Hill apparently took a cheap shot at San Francisco's Jerry Rice.

for his club to win, even word-whipping his opponent. And when that opponent just happens to be another state school, the verbal insults become more than merely pre-game mumbo jumbo.

Crum, on the other unfortunate hand, has searched Central Kentucky over, hoping for a good excuse to satisfy the question, why isn't Louisville winning?

This fine gentleman suddenly forgot his classy act by saying, "We just don't have the talent that we did last year." Oh, poor Denny.

He doesn't have anyone who can shoot the three-pointer so he blames the players he recruited to slam dunk and rebound.

Denny also blames the NCAA. How could they insert the three-point rule when Louisville is thin in the backcourt? Hey, Denny, why didn't you recruit some guards?

Win or lose, Kentucky and Louisville are both great college programs, but why all the grumbling and complaining? Crum and Sutton should know that after last season their jobs aren't up for grabs, at least not for now.

Relax fellows. Don't mess up a good thing. Just give the fans what they want, a chance to watch good basketball players in action but without all the negatives recently in full bloom.

We all know the NCAA has been bitten by the big business bug, but don't aid to the monster college athletics is turning into. Let's have some fun, respect, and success that has made basketball on the college level, the most enjoyable of any sport.

Eddie and Denny, take a good look at what you have accomplished thus far with your not-so-classy style. You didn't do this last season. Hey, shake it off. You can handle pressure, so don't let some bad times take away from Bluegrass basketball.

For you Joe B., keep working and remember, you don't have to argue UK's case anymore. You relieved yourself of that two years ago.

Oh, but Dick Vitale. Please sir, don't try to pattern yourself after Al McGuire. You're just not in his league. Better yet, go under and wait for the next America's Cup. Something you might know a little bit about.

Innovation Fights Litter

It's always refreshing when a major manufacturer develops or implements the usage of materials which are beneficial to our environment. In fact, with headlines boasting of chemical spills in the Rhine River and oil spills in our oceans, any innovation reducing pollution is a news maker.

OMC Parts & Accessories has begun packaging six-packs of its Evinrude® and Johnson® outboard lubricant with photodegradable plastic loop carriers. The new carriers, which replace regular plastic loop retainers, gradually break down when exposed to sunlight.

"Our new six-pack carriers virtually dissolve into dust after three to six months of exposure to sunlight," said Jim Kedley, marketing director of OMC Parts & Accessories.

Ultra-violet energy from sunlight breaks down the plastic material's complex long-chain molecules into shorter chains. As the material's molecular chains are broken, the action of wind and rain causes the carrier to crumble into polyethelene dust. This breakdown process does not result in any toxic or harmful by-products or inhibit normal degradation in a landfill, states a spokesman for the manufacturer, Hi-Cone of Itasca, Ill.

The amount of time required for the plastic carrier to degrade varies from one end of the country to the other and also one season to another, depending upon the amount and intensity of exposure to sunlight. The plastic used in the carriers becomes brittle and weak after as little as 30 days of average exposure.

"The use of these carriers in packaging Johnson and Evinrude lubricant does not mean that boaters should simply throw the empty piece of plastic on the ground or into the water," said Kedley. "We still encourage everyone to dispose of these rings in refuse containers. But, we do realize that some carriers will always end up loose in the environment, blown off boat decks or carelessly discarded. With our new photodegradable material, these loose carriers won't be littering the environment for years."

One of the cheapest insurance policies any boater can buy is a good fuel filter. Fuel contaminated with water or dirt can foul or even ruin an outboard motor and leave you stranded on the water. One of the newest filters on the market is from OMC Parts & Accessories. It features a spin-on cartridge, much like an automobile oil filter, with a treated paper element able to catch particles as small as 25 microns and separate water from fuel, according to OMC. The filter kit is available from Johnson® and Evinrude® outboard dealers and may be adapted for use with almost any brand of outboard motor.

Betsy Layne High School Students Perform at MSU

The Betsy Layne High School Band performed at Morehead State University during the Eagles vs. Youngstown basketball game. Under the direction of Kay Halbert, the group served as the pep band for the evening while MSU students were on semester break.

Super Bowl Sunday Is 'Phil Simms Day'

To the rest of the world Jan. 25 may be Super Bowl Sunday, but for those who remember him at Morehead State University, it will really be "Phil Simms Day."

As quarterback for MSU's Eagles from 1975 to 1978, "Whitey" Simms wore a blue jersey. Now calling plays for the New York Giants he still wears blue.

But, Simms' loyalty to MSU goes further than the color of his football jersey. Maintaining close ties to the school since picked by the Giants in the first round of the 1979 draft, the MSU alumnus always helps out when needed.

"Morehead State University is extremely proud of Phil Simms' accomplishments, but it is even more gratifying to know that he takes such pride in his association with this institution," said MSU President A.D. Albright. "He has many friends here on campus and throughout Eastern Kentucky wishing him well on Super Bowl Sunday," Dr. Albright added.

"He's always been there for us," said MSU Head Football Coach Bill Baldrige. Baldrige was an assistant coach during Simms' days as an MSU Eagle.

"Besides being a role model for the players, he has supported our program, including providing the team with 150 pairs of shoes, and visits here frequently," Baldrige added.

NEW YORK GIANTS QUARTERBACK PHIL SIMMS once wore No. 12 as a Morehead State University Eagle.

This summer Simms, whom sportscasters have dubbed the NFL's most outstanding quarterback, will conduct a summer camp on the campus.

"He's handled success well," said Baldrige. "He's pretty much the same guy, and he hasn't forgotten his friends."

Simms' ability to "mesh with all types of people" even as a student has been one of the Louisville native's biggest assets, according to Dr. Mike Brown, associate professor of health, physical education and recreation. He was Simms' academic adviser during his days as a physical education major at MSU.

"An intelligent young man, polite and gregarious, he was a better than average student," Dr. Brown said. "He had tremendous competitive athletic drive," added Dr. Brown, who noted that watching Simms' as a pro player gives him tremendous satisfaction.

A classmate of the star quarterback and now MSU's development director, Bill Redwine remembers Simms as "somewhat quiet and well-liked. It's really a personal thrill to see somebody you were friends with now on national television, but it's even more satisfying to know you can reach him by phone." Redwine added that Simms serves on an advisory committee for the Eagle Athletic Fund and comes back to help with fund-raising golf outings.

"I wish I could be there, but I'll be watching and there in spirit," said Myron Doan, adviser to MSU's Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity in which Simms was an active member. "He's still supportive of his fraternity brothers and rarely fails to stop to visit the activities when on campus," Doan said.

Bad Weather Blues

By A. G. SPENCER

When I rolled over in bed the other morning and peered out the curtain into the pre-dawn light, I saw the rain pouring down in sheets. Well, there goes any chance of getting some work for the beagles, I reflected gloomily.

Not feeling any more pleased with the day after breakfast, I puttered around the house for a while before remembering an advertisement for fishing lures I had seen the day before. I know what you're thinking—fishing in the middle of January?!

While I'm not one of those brave souls who fishes during cold spells, I had gotten around to missing the warm spell we usually get in January. This break in the dismal weather always gives me a chance to put my cabin fever on hiatus. With no such luck this season, hearing a couple of bass-fishing buddies talk about how they were hitting during the warm spell last week got me worked up enough to replenish my bait supply.

A scant pair of hours later saw me back at the house, wiping down rods, oiling reels, checking line and adding a few new lures to my main tackle box. I was feeling better already! Now if this miserable weather will break, the beagles may just have to bide their time—May is a long time to have to wait for a fish-try!

Early reports hold that the bass fishing over at Paintsville Lake has been very good for this time of year. Good things have also been said of late about the angling below Dewey Dam at the spillway. Evidently somebody is enjoying the lack of competition caused by the rest of us warming our feet beside the fire! Don't look for my size tens there, though. I'm going to check on all this reported action!

I had my dogs out at Doc Ousley's small animal clinic the other day once again to be wormed (the only time they don't have these parasitic nuisances is right after I've given them a dose of medicine). While Doc went about attending to the sad-eyed hounds, the conversation wandered over proposed changes for game seasons, bird hunting and rabbit hunting.

When I mentioned that I had been thinking about getting a setter, Doc commented on how it is difficult getting enough work for different sets of canines. Funny how I had forgotten that lessen from past experience. Puffing furiously on my bowl-full of Captain Black, I ruminated on this dilemma.

I'm through pondering this problem. The bird dog will have to wait. It's so hard anymore, in today's busy society, to get time off for any hunting at all. Never mind keeping two sets of dogs happy. Until the day when they get too old to go with me, I owe the little hounds my free time. Until next week, keep the wind at your back!

DELMONICO FILLETS

INGREDIENTS: 2 lbs. of bass fillets, 1/4 cup melted butter, 2 tbsps. of lemon juice, 1 tsp. grated onion, 1 tsp. salt, 1/8 tsp. hot sauce, a dash of pepper, a touch of chopped parsley, and 1 lb. of whole cranberry sauce

DIRECTIONS: Skin and cut into serving size portions. Place in a well-greased shallow baking dish. Mix butter, lemon juice, onion and seasonings and cover fish with the blend. Bake at 350 degrees for about half an hour. Sprinkle with parsley and add cranberry sauce. Serves six adults.

Lady Bobcats Win In Wheelwright

The famous quote, "It ain't over till it's over," didn't exactly hold true Friday night when the Betsy Layne Bobcats defeated Wheelwright.

As a rule, all high school basketball games are to last through four, eight-minute quarters, but Betsy Layne and Ladonna Parsons ended Friday's contest after the first quarter.

Parsons, a 5' 10" Lady Bobcat forward and team captain, poured in 12 points in the opening frame as Betsy Layne outscored Wheelwright, 23-4, on their way to a 61-35 pounding of the Lady Trojans.

After that critical initial frame, Wheelwright performed on a level with Betsy Layne but could never overcome the 19-point deficit.

Parsons went on to pace Betsy Layne, scoring a total of 22 points and proved to be the only Lady Bobcat to score in double figures.

Senior Wheelwright guard April Reeves did her part in keeping the Lady Trojans within sight, scoring 16 points. Tephania Green added to the cause with 14 points.

With the win, Betsy Layne stayed in the conference race, now sporting a 2-1 record but continues to chase Prestonsburg, 5-0.

INDIVIDUAL SCORING: BETSY LAYNE: Ladonna Parsons, 22; Sandy Hamilton, 9; Brenda Hamilton, 4; Sandy Flannery, 4; Youlanda Keathley, 4; Sherry Parsons, 4; Tammy Hall, 3; Tracy Hall, 3; Jenny Hunt, 2; Tomeca Keathley, 2.

WHEELWRIGHT: April Reeves, 16; Tephania Green, 14; April Bradford, 4; J. Hood, 1.

NEAR MISS: Roger Horne comes up just a bit short of blocking this shot as Betsy Layne's Todd Sturgill moves in for two points. Sturgill and the Bobcats hit on 56 percent of their shots from the floor Friday night.

SPORTS SHORTS

While today a baseball pitcher is considered terrific if he wins 20 games, back in 1884, pitcher Charles (Hoss) Radbourn of Providence of the National League won 60 games.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Now In Progress

Girl Scouts throughout Floyd county are taking orders for Girl Scout cookies, which will be delivered in March.

Seven flavors of cookies are available including chocolate mint, shortbread, carmel delites, peanut butter patties, peanut butter sandwiches, lemon pastry creme and chocolate chip.

Proceeds from the sale finance local troop activities, and support other Girl Scout services, including camp and outdoor programs. The cookie orders will end on February 6. Those people who would like to buy Girl Scout cookies, and who have not had a Girl Scout call on them, should contact Brenda Wilson, Girl Scout Cookie Chairman.

In Loving Memory Of Virginia D. Shivel

Words, mere words, could never express the being that was Virginia. Humble, loving, kind, wonderful, beautiful Virginia. Sister Virginia, mother Virginia, our Virginia—she was all these.

She was happiness. She was steadfast. She was Christian. She is gone. How can we go on without her? This beautiful friend who gave of herself to us in unselfish, untiring, unlimited portions. How? How can we go on? Only in faith in Jesus, the Christ. Only in the faith she so personified.

It matters not where she was born, or when she was born, only that she was born. For us to know, to pattern our life after, and to learn from.

Virginia loved her church and the congregation. She had a real concern for the growth and well-being of the church and her brothers, and sisters in Christ.

Her prayer was that God would grant her the strength to let her live and be able to care for her husband who was ill for a long time. God in his mercy granted her this. She treated and cared for him, until his death, with all the love and care she possessed.

Would we, if we could call her back? Back from the one she had prayed to be able to attend to during his illness, and went ahead of her? Back from the presence of God? From the light that is Jesus? From mother, dad, brother, sisters? No, not even if we could. For now she is loosed from that clay prison, from all trouble, pain, and sorrow that this world offers all of us here, waiting to meet her again. No, we would not call her back not even if we could. Yet how can we let her go? Who can replace her? Yes, Virginia, in our hearts we hear, we know Jesus, only through Jesus. Everywhere we look we see her. Oh Lord how we miss her. But Lord, we thank you that the suffering was brief. Thank you Lord for—the Angel escort home. Thank you for granting the favor of her life before us. Exalted be—the name of the Lord.

What did we give her in return? Was it enough? Was it anything? She asked only that we serve her Master and knowing this she needed nothing else from us.—Virginia, beloved Virginia.

Lord grant the days to pass swiftly that we your friend and family, who loved you so, can meet you again in your new home.

We know where to look for Virginia when it comes time for us to go—not at the gate waiting for us—not in the Angel bond, or even at His right hand, but at His feet, basking in the love of Jesus, beholding His face.

Then why are we weeping? These are far better things ahead than we leave behind. Virginia is not weeping, she would not want us to weep. Rather, be still. Know that He is God—our God—her God.

Amen.

Prospective Students To Visit Transylvania

Officials at Transylvania University will host the fourth annual Midwinter Fair for prospective students and their parents, Saturday, Feb. 7, beginning at 8 a.m.

According to Joanne Sawyer, director of admissions, the midwinter fair provides an opportunity for high school students and their parents to experience life at Transylvania.

"College is more than books and classrooms. It is a time for personal development and career perspective. We ensure that every aspect of college life receives attention during the Midwinter Fair," she said.

Scheduled activities include visits with members of the faculty, administration, and scholarship and financial aid offices. Time is also provided to explore the campus, visit the residence halls, eat in the dining room, and talk with students.

For more information, contact the Admissions Office, Transylvania University, Lexington, Kentucky 40508, (606) 233-8242.

LITTLE PAINT FIRST CHURCH OF GOD
Pastor, Wayne Burch

A young worker who had been loafing for most of the past year approached an older man just before he was to be reviewed for a raise. "Do you think", he asked anxiously, "that if I really work hard for the next two weeks, I'll get a raise?"

"Son," the older worker replied, "you make me think of a thermometer in a cold room. You can make it register higher by holding your hand over it, but you won't be warming the room!"

"Little Paint Church of God" is doing more than warming the thermometer. We are warming the lives of people! Encouragement, faith, hope in God, and yes, WARM FELLOWSHIP, are the products of services which are inspired FROM the Word of God TO the lives of hungry souls! A Kentuckian making his first visit to the Little Paint Church of God, made this remark, "THIS MIGHT WELL BE THE BEST KEPT SECRET IN EASTERN KENTUCKY". We invite you to come and share premium time in God's house, and you will go away also realizing that more than the "thermometer" has been warmed!

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 836-5035 Amend. No. 1

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Brass Ring Mining Company, 429 13th Street, P.O. Box 1360, Ashland, Ky. 41101, has filed an application for an amendment to their existing underground mining operation. The original operation affected a surface disturbance of 2.0 acres underlying and additional 66.5 acres. This amendment will not involve additional surface disturbance but will add 271.75 acres underground. The amended total will be 2.0 acres surface disturbance and will underlie 338.25 acres. The operation is located 1/10 mile south of Blue Moon in Floyd county.

The existing operation is approximately 3/4 mile west from KY 2030's junction with Mud Creek Road and located 1 mile north of Morgan Fork. The latitude is 37° 30' 22". The longitude is 82° 42' 06". The operation is located on the Harold U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be disturbed is owned by John Hunter. The operation will underlie land owned by Willis Lawson, John Hunter, Caner Hunter, Douglas Akers and Elkhorn Coal Corp.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653. Written comments, objections or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. 1-14-3tpd.

ORDINANCE NO. 20-86

ORDINANCE FOR UPDATING CLASSIFICATION PLAN, COMPENSATION PLAN, AND POLICIES AND PROCEDURES.

WHEREAS, the Council and the Administration of the City of Prestonsburg recognize that a personnel system which recruits and retains a quality, motivated work force is indispensable to effective and efficient City government; and

WHEREAS, it is essential to have a current classification plan, compensation plan, and rules and regulations (policies and procedures) in writing delineating all aspects of employment with the City and available to each of the employees affected by said classification plan, compensation plan, and policies and procedures;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Prestonsburg of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

(1) That the classification plan, compensation plan, and procedures attached hereto shall be the system of personnel administration for the City.

(2) That the classification plan, compensation plan and policies and procedures may be waived, altered, or suspended only by a change of ordinance.

Adopted this 10th day of November, 1986.

ANN R. LATTA, Mayor ATTESTED: Sue Webb, City Clerk CERTIFIED BY: Larry D. Brown 1-14-2t.

SUMMARY OF ORDINANCE

ORDINANCE NO. 22-86

CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY RELATING TO FINANCING THE ACQUISITION OF THE WATER DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM OF PARKWAY WATER ASSOCIATION, INC., AND THE MERGING OF SAID SYSTEM INTO THE CITY'S COMBINED AND CONSOLIDATED WATER, SEWER AND NATURAL GAS SYSTEM.

The Ordinance provides for the issuance of $61,000 principal amount of City of Prestonsburg Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Revenue Bond, Series of 1986 (the "Bond") for the purpose of financing the acquisition by the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky (the "City") of the assets of Parkway Water Association, Inc., a non-stock, non-profit corporation (the "Association") presently operating a water distribution system near the city.

The Bond will be exchanged for a Note of the Association now held by the United States Department of Agriculture, Farmers Home Administration ("FmHA") and will bear interest at the rate of 5% per annum, payable as to principal in varying amounts in each of the years 1987 through 2014.

Following the exchange of the Bond for the Note, the City will acquire all of the assets of the Association and will take over the complete operation and ownership of the Association's water distribution system.

The merger of the Association's system into the City's Utilities System is subject to the approval of the Public Service Commission of Kentucky and the Ordinance authorizes the City to participate in the Association's Application to the Public Service Commission for approval.

The Ordinance authorizes the execution of a Contract between the City, the Association, and FmHA setting forth the details of the acquisition and merger.

The Bond will rank on the basis of parity as to security and source of payment with the City's outstanding Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Revenue Bond, Series 1981, presently owned by FmHA; however, the Bond, like the Series 1981 Bond, will be inferior and subordinate to all other bonds of the City now outstanding, payable from the income and revenues of the City's Utilities System.

Following the merger the Association will dissolve and the City will have complete jurisdiction over the Association's water distribution system as owner and same will no longer be subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

Since the Bond will be exchanged with FmHA in order to affect the acquisition, no public sale of the Bond is required. A copy of the complete text of the Ordinance is available in the office of the City Clerk for inspection during business hours.

This summary was prepared by Henry M. Reed III, Bond Counsel, Louisville, Kentucky.

SUMMARY OF ORDINANCE

ORDINANCE NO. 1-87

CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY RELATING TO FINANCING THE ACQUISITION OF THE WATER DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM OF PARKWAY WATER ASSOCIATION, INC., AND THE MERGING OF SAID SYSTEM INTO THE CITY'S COMBINED AND CONSOLIDATED WATER, SEWER AND NATURAL GAS SYSTEM.

The Ordinance passed on January 12, 1987, provides for the issuance of $61,000 principal amount of City of Prestonsburg Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Revenue Bond, Series of 1986 (the "Bond") for the purpose of financing the acquisition by the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky (the "City") of the assets of Parkway Water Association, Inc., a non-stock, non-profit corporation (the "Association") presently operating a water distribution system near the City.

The Bond will be exchanged for a Note of the Association now held by the United States Department of Agriculture, Farmers Home Administration ("FmHA") and will bear interest at the rate of 5% per annum, payable as to principal in varying amounts in each of the years 1987 through 2014.

Following the exchange of the Bond for the Note, the City will acquire all of the assets of the Association and will take over the complete operation and ownership of the Association's water distribution system.

The merger of the Association's system into the City's Utilities System is subject to the approval of the Public Service Commission of Kentucky and the Ordinance authorizes the City to participate in the Association's Application to the Public Service Commission for approval.

The Ordinance authorizes the execution of a Contract between the City, the Association, and FmHA setting forth the details of the acquisition and merger.

The Bond will rank on the basis of parity as to security and source of payment with the City's outstanding Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Revenue Bond, Series 1981, presently owned by FmHA; however, the Bond, like the Series 1981 Bond, will be inferior and subordinate to all other bonds of the City now outstanding, payable from the income and revenues of the City's Utilities System.

Following the merger the Association will dissolve and the City will have complete jurisdiction over the Association's water distribution system as owner and same will no longer be subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

Since the bond will be exchanged with FmHA in order to affect the acquisition, no public sale of the Bond is required.

A copy of the complete text of the Ordinance is available in the office of the City Clerk for inspection during business hours.

Listing all of Brian Keith's TV series takes some time

By Toni Reinhold

I'm a big Brian Keith fan. Where was he born? What series has he appeared in? — W.R., Billings, Mont.

Brian Keith

Brian Keith is a native of the Garden State. He was born Nov. 14, 1921, in Bayonne, N.J. His early career on television was dotted with appearances in the then-popular anthologies, including "Campbell Soundstage" (1952-54), "Studio 57" (1954-55), "The Best in Mystery" (1954-56), "Undercurrent" (1955-58) and "Alcoa Premiere" (1961-63). He was a series regular in "The Westerner" (1960), "Family Affair" (1966-71), "The Brian Keith Show" (1972-74), "Archer" (1975) and most recently in "Hardcastle and McCormick" (1983-86). He also appeared in the successful limited series "Centennial," which first appeared in 1978-79 and was repeated in 1980.

Singer Amy Grant has been an inspiration in my life. I would like to write to her and tell her. Where can I write? — L.S., Lynchburg, Va.

Grant, 25, has already been awarded three Grammy Awards (in the Gospel category), and five Dove Awards. She was born in Augusta, Ga., grew up in Nashville, Tenn., and is married to singer/songwriter Gary Chapman. Send mail to her c/o Blanton/Harrell Productions, 120 30th Ave. North, Nashville, TN 37203.

Do you have an address for the cast members of NBC's "ALF"? — G.G., Rouses Point, N.Y.

Letters for the lovable alien star of the series should be directed to the ALF Fan Club, P.O. Box 85056, Hollywood, CA 90072. Mail for the other players should be sent to the individual actors c/o Alien Productions, 8660 Hayden Pl., Culver City, CA 90230.

Where can I obtain a print of the portrait of Jock Ewing that hangs in J.R.'s office on "Dallas"? — R.S., Whitby, Ontario, Canada.

CBS suggests that you write to Lorimar Productions, 3970 Overland Ave., Culver City, CA 90230.

(Send your letters to Ask Toni, United Feature Syndicate, 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, NY 10166.)

David Rasche appreciates 'Sledge Hammer!' 's lunacy

By Constance Pace

"My agent called me and said it was a script called 'Sledge Hammer!' And I thought, 'My God, what could that be?'"

David Rasche

Actor David Rasche later found out that "Sledge Hammer!" is an offbeat sitcom about the adventures of a police detective of the same name, who, among other lunacies, talks to his gun. "I read (the pilot's script) and I said, 'Is it good, or is it bad, or is it funny?'" says Rasche. "And later I was surprised that it got on the air at all."

Not only did the show, with Rasche in the lead, make it to network television on ABC, it even managed to survive a hazardous half-hour Friday-night time slot opposite "Dallas." (The show now airs Saturday nights at 8:30 ET.) "The kind of people who like it are the kind of people I like to talk to," says Rasche. "Eggheads seem to like it and kids, too. I don't mind at all if it's a cult show."

Rasche, who has an extremely diverse acting background, enjoys comedy. His interest in it dates back to the early '70s when he was a member of the Chicago-based Second City troupe. (Among his cast mates were John Belushi, John Candy and Bill Murray.) "Actually, doing 'Sledge Hammer!' is just like Second City," he says. "You just start laughing and laugh all day until you go home. Generally, when the scripts are good and we understand them, we have a good time. My preference is that the show stay away from being too silly — you know, like the Police Academy films when guys slip on banana peels. I like comedy that comes from characterization."

Rasche, an Illinois native, spent two years in divinity school before it was suggested that he'd be happier elsewhere. "And they were right," he says. Following his years with Second City, he became interested in dramatic acting and appeared in several shows, including the original production of "Sexual Perversity in Chicago." Moving to New York, he appeared on Broadway in "The Shadow Box," appeared in numerous off-Broadway productions, and had a running role as wise-guy newspaperman Wes Leonard on "Ryan's Hope." He also plays a lawyer in the current film "Native Son."

As for "Sledge Hammer!" Rasche says, "I'm not worried about everyone in the country liking it. That's the promise of television — there's something for everyone. And this certainly is something!"

THE WIZARD

Simon (David Rappaport) takes a liking to an adolescent who daydreams almost to the point of hallucination, on CBS's "The Wizard," airing TUESDAY, JAN. 27.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of Harry E. Hager
Died Jan. 19, 1986

When the thought of the last hour
We sometime feel as tho our heart will break.

And soon along the lonely nights we often lie awake.

It's a lonesome house without you And sad has been the way.

Our life and home are not the same Since you were called away

In the quiet of the night My tears would often flow

To think how suddenly you were taken from us

On this day one year ago.

Sadly missed by

Employers Get UI Tax Cut; Benefits To Rise in July

Kentucky employers and workers will get a major bonus because the state ended 1986 with a balance in excess of $150 million in its Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund.

"For the first time since 1978 Kentucky's employers will see a reduction in their unemployment insurance tax rates," Gov. Collins said. "We estimate this tax cut, which became effective Jan. 1, will save the state's 69,000 businesses and industries $20.3 million this year as a result of the trust fund surplus."

"And, for the first time in six years, unemployed Kentuckians receiving benefits will get a raise beginning July 1, when the maximum amount they can collect each week will increase to $151." Since 1981 the maximum has been frozen by state law at $140 a week.

Employers' annual tax rates are governed by the trust fund balance at the end of the previous year. A 1982 state law provides for tax rates to drop and weekly benefits to increase when the end-of-year trust fund balance reaches $150 million and all trust fund loans to Kentucky from the federal government have been paid.

"This is the first time since the law was passed that the trust fund met both of the criteria needed to bring about these changes," Collins said.

The trust fund, which is managed by the Cabinet for Human Resources Department for Employment Services, ended 1986 with a balance of $153.0 million. The last of the federal loans to Kentucky were repaid in 1985.

Kentucky's unemployment compensation program faced a crisis in 1981 when the state trust fund was depleted. Employers' tax rates went up and the state was forced to borrow money from the federal government to pay unemployment insurance claims.

Human Resources Secretary Al Austin said, "During those lean years, the executive branch worked closely with the legislative branch, labor and employer groups to develop and implement a long-range plan to ensure long-term solvency of the trust fund."

"This, coupled with prudent management of the trust fund and an improved economy, enabled the state to pay off all the loans and accumulate the balance we have today," he added.

While the trust fund balance nearly doubled in 1986, Austin cautioned that another recession could deplete the reserve swiftly.

"At the end of 1979 we had $158.1 million in the trust fund. Over the next four years, the state had to pay out so much in benefits that the trust fund was $150.6 million in debt by the end of 1983," he said. "During all that time employers were paying taxes into the fund, but the state still had to borrow great sums of money."

"These millions of dollars don't stretch very far when thousands of Kentuckians are out of work and receiving benefits."

Austin said that the best estimates available project continued solvency for the trust fund, barring a severe economic downturn.

KET Solicits Input On Educational Shows

"Half the battle of teaching concepts to children is keeping their attention." That was the general consensus of educators invited by the KET instructional television staff this month to view and critique educational programs. These program offerings are being considered for the 1987-88 school year's television schedule on KET.

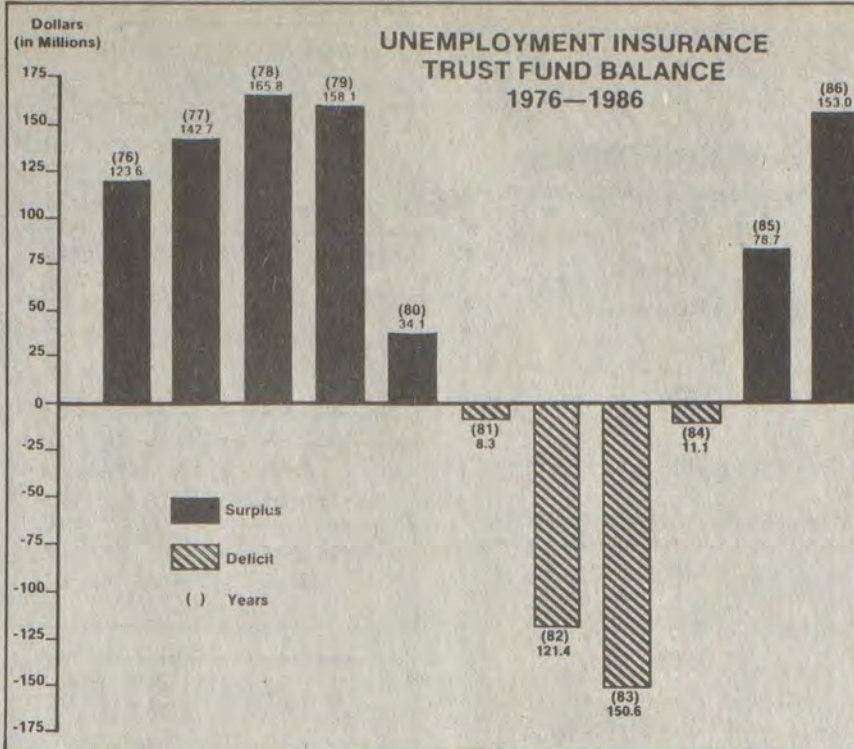

The Preview Days, held in Lexington, Paintsville and Owensboro, invited school teachers, librarians and administrators to view programs and discuss their appropriateness for the classroom.

Comments on the educational television programs focused on appropriate grade levels, treatment of minorities, pacing, comprehension strategies, use of slang words, ability to catch and hold students' attention, and general summaries.

Although the discussion groups were not in agreement on every point, one thing they all supported was the effectiveness of television as a teaching supplement. "By using KET in the classroom, we're teaching children that television can be more than a 'zombie box.' Watching TV doesn't have to be a passive exercise," said Viola Ricker, a teacher at Mt. Sterling Elementary School in Montgomery County.

Diana Foreman, a teacher at Junction City Elementary in Boyle County, added, "KET is like having a living library in our school."

"We rely on those in the schools to tell us what programs they think are appropriate," said KET Director of School/Youth Services Liz Hobson. "They're the experts; they're in the classrooms every day."

Interviewing Skills Workshop Scheduled

Johnson County Schools have requested that the University of Kentucky put together a workshop on interviewing skills, and a workshop is scheduled January 27, 9:30-4, at Highland House Restaurant in Paintsville.

This workshop will also be of benefit to personnel officers from business and industry, EEOC laws and how they are applied have become very involved. People who complete this workshop will be able to distinguish between legal and illegal questions to ask in a job interview; develop their own interviewing strategy; identify the five most important areas to cover in an interview; develop a check list to use when orienting a newly hired employee.

Each major portion of the training includes an activity where the participants can practice their skills and be coached by the rest of the group. The workshop is being led by personnel from the University's Department for Human Resources.

The fee for participants not employed by Johnson County Schools is $35.00 for the day. Lunch is on your own. For more information call Neil Westbrook at (606) 257-1528.

Well-Fest Being Planned

The Big Sandy Area Development District's Health Council would like to invite all health care providers in the region to participate in the upcoming Second Annual Well-Fest Celebration slated for May 16, 1987. There will be a Steering Committee meeting held in the City Council Room of the Municipal Building in Prestonsburg on Monday, January 26, 1987 beginning at 10:00 a.m. All health care providers wishing to participate in Well-Fest '87 should have a representative present at this meeting. For more information please contact Taunya Shelton at the Big Sandy Area Development District Office at 886-9402 or 886-2374.

Single Parent Program At PCC Has Many Facets

BUSINESS PROFESSOR MAZOLA SALMONS quizzes students on interviewing skills during the orientation session for participants in PCC's Single Parent Program.

By the time the half-dozen students filed out of Mazola Salmons' class on interviewing for jobs, they were ready to take the job market by the tail and give it a good hard shake.

"This is wonderful," beamed Wanda Howes. "I've enjoyed it so much."

The best part, chimed in Sharon Chaffins, has been getting to know other women in the same predicament. "You learn that everyone feels just as awkward as you do," she said.

Howes, 35, and Chaffins, 20, have just finished two weeks of orientation in the Single Parent Program offered by Prestonsburg Community College (PCC). Along with about a dozen other women, they spent that time learning how to set career goals for themselves, how to write a resume and interview for a job, how to dress and do their hair in order to make a good impression, and how to handle their finances as the single head of a household.

How to handle stress is also a part of the orientation program, according to Dr. Dorothy Carlson, an education professor and coordinator of the program.

"Many of them have never had to earn a living before," Carlson explained. "Most have not been in school before. We're talking about a major life change. A lot of stress is involved in that."

Although money has been available for several years from the vocational education section of the state Department of Education, this is the first year that PCC has offered the program. The college was awarded $27,000 last fall to pay for a coordinator and a secretary and to cover special services that the single parents might need.

Currently, all of the participants are women, Carlson said, but the program is open to men as well. Most of them are divorced, although a few are widowed, and many are receiving income from the federal Aid For Dependent Children (AFDC) program.

Most have only one child, who may be anywhere from a few months to 18 years old, though one woman is struggling to support four children. The participants range in age from 20 to 40 years. Most live in Floyd county, but a few come from Pike, Magoffin, and Johnson counties.

Carlson said that she was surprised—but pleased—to find that all of those in orientation have also decided to enroll in classes at PCC. Business courses have been the most popular among these students, but they have also signed up for teaching, law enforcement, pre-nursing and interior design programs. Career counseling is an important part of the Single Parent Program, according to Carlson.

Howes, for example, originally came to PCC last month because she was interested in the college's dental assisting program. While at the school, she heard about the Single Parent Program.

Now, after attending the orientation sessions and doing some more thinking about her career, she has decided to go into business management. That will prepare her for a wider variety of jobs and give her more career options, she thinks.

"I felt I needed something more long-term," she said.

Some of the new ideas the women say they have learned have more to do with feelings than with facts that can be tested with multiple-choice questions. Howes volunteered one insight that she has had since enrolling in the program: "You can't depend on a man," she observed.

The group burst out laughing in agreement. Chaffins added another observation on the program: "If you can make it through this, you've really got something."

Describing the Single Parent Program is difficult, according to Carlson, because the services provided are tailored to the needs of each single parent. Not all the participants in the program have chosen to attend the orientation sessions. Some will come to PCC only for career or financial counseling, while others will attend only the support-group meetings, at which they can meet and become friends with other single parents like themselves.

A second orientation session will be held in late April, Carlson said.

A total of about 150 people have already been served in some way by the program although the state grant was awarded only late last year, said PCC assistant director for student services, John Herald, who wrote the grant. He expects that about 250 will have been helped by the time the grant expires at the end of June, and he plans to apply for a larger grant next year.

"We hope to at least double the amount," he said.

According to figures contained in Herald's grant application, Floyd county has almost 2,500 residents who are potentially eligible for the Single Parent Program, since they have been identified as single heads of households by a 1980 census. More than 6,000 other single parents live in Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties.

Herald said he is pleased with the success of the program so far. About three-quarters of the participants would probably not be in college today were it not for the program, he believes.

Although the number participating in orientation is not large, the program has obviously affected these women. "I guess I would gauge success," Herald said, "by the impact it's had on the participants."

Water District To Meet

The Mud Creek Water District will meet on Thursday, January 22, 1987 at the Mud Creek Clinic. The meeting will begin at 5:00 p.m.

Scientists To Outline Coal Research Efforts

Scientists from Kentucky's energy laboratory will outline coal research efforts and invite comments from the coal industry at a conference here, Jan. 16. The Kentucky Energy Cabinet is sponsoring the daylong session, which is expected to attract about 70 coal producers, users and transporters, as well as several Kentucky legislators.

The conference is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the University of Louisville's School of Business.

U of L President Donald Swain and Kentucky Energy Secretary George Evans will deliver opening remarks at about 9:30 a.m. Research presentations on combustion technology, coal preparation, materials and coal geoscience are scheduled between 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. At 2 p.m., participants will form small groups to discuss applied research needs.

U of L began managing the state's energy research lab in Lexington in July 1985. A total of 150 scientific and support services employees at the 51,700-square-foot facility conduct research on the properties of coal, oil shale and tar sands.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of William Kenneth Allen wishes to thank friends and neighbors who helped upon the passing of our loved one. We would like to thank those who brought food and sent flowers; special thanks for the words of comfort expressed by Rev. Ron Masters, of the Methodist Church of Prestonsburg.

WOMEN IN MANAGEMENT

A significant change for women has been the increased movement into executive, administrative, and managerial occupations. In 1975 women constituted only 22 percent of this group, and by 1984 that share had risen to 34 percent.

★ Cancer Hopeline

QUESTION: My friend was recently diagnosed with carcinoma in situ of the colon. The doctor said that this condition is very curable because it was discovered early. I have only heard "carcinoma in situ" used to refer to early cancer of the cervix. I'm confused. What does the term "carcinoma in situ" refer to?

ANSWER: Carcinoma in situ means "cancer in its original site." It is a term used to describe a cancer which is very early in its development, that has not spread, and is located on the surface of the tissue.

Carcinomas are cancerous growths which arise in epithelial tissue (the tissue which covers the external and internal surfaces of the body). This type of cancer occurs on external surfaces of the skin and cervix; the linings of organs such as the bladder, uterus (endometrium), and colon; and glandular tissue such as the glands within the breast.

All carcinomas are made up of cancer cells which have the potential to invade the surrounding health tissue. However, there appears to be a period before that invasion begins. These growths are termed "in situ", and are often highly curable.

Early detection, through screening methods (such as mammography, Pap smears, rectal exams), offers the best chance of detecting in situ cancer. This is why the term in situ is most commonly associated with certain cancers, such as cancer of the cervix for which routine screening tests have been developed.

For more information on any cancer related subject call the Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER. The CIS is open Monday through Friday 9 a.m.-5 p.m. The CIS is a free service, all calls are confidential. The Cancer Information Service is a program of the Kentucky Community Cancer Program.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) New contacts made now could prove to be rewarding. Pursue the relationship on a professional level.

TAURUS (April 21-May 20) Don't hold your feelings in about a personal problem. Seek comfort from close friends who can help you see things in a different light.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Speculative ventures may seem inviting. You are feeling adventurous. Take some risks wisely.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your hectic schedule leaves you with little time for family. They may feel neglected if you do not explain your other commitments to them.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Do not underestimate your creative talents. This is a good time to pursue new hobbies.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Take time out from a busy social schedule to visit an ailing friend. Don't forget those who have helped you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Social recognition may come your way. Make sure your appearance is neat and professional.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) Plan a vacation or short trip by yourself. The time alone might help clear your mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Do not make any financial commitments right now. Your finances might be subject to sudden ups and downs.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Certain family obligations may put a strain on your social life. It is important to be responsible with family members.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Your strong feelings may be clouding a romantic problem. Look for an easier solution.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Opposition from a loved one may leave you feeling lonely. A little emotional distance may be difficult, but necessary right now.

Patrick Wingate, age eight, a second grader at Our Lady of the Mountain School has won second place in an essay contest sponsored by Best Foods and the J.M. Smucker Company. His prize is a $200 U.S. Savings Bond. Patrick's essay answered two questions: How is the constitution important to life in the United States? What do you think life in the U.S. would be like without the constitution? He is the son of Patsy and Larry Wingate, of Prestonsburg.

DYSLEXIA SCREENINGS

- Do not have primary emotional problems

Specific Language Disability may include any combination or all of the following characteristics:

- Delay in learning to talk/or speak clearly
- Difficulty in learning or remembering printed words
- Reversals of letters, words or numbers (b-d, p-q, was-saw, quiet-quite, 12-21)
- Difficulty in recalling a desired word when speaking or in writing
- Poor handwriting or labored writing
- Poor organizational skills
- Difficulty in learning to tell time
- Difficulty in remembering basic math facts and solution of word problems

Parents interested in having their child (ren) screened to determine if they would benefit from participating in the East Kentucky Tutorial Program of the Hindman Settlement School should call 785-5475 or 5024.

Farmers Aid Wildlife

Farmers across the state have set aside 2,700 acres for wildlife habitat enhancement to support game and non-game animals through the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP).

The fourth sign-up period for farmers to participate in the CRP is expected to be February 9-27, although official word has not been received. Portions or all of over 2,000 Kentucky farms have been placed in the program during the previous three sign-up periods in 1985.

Administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), this program allows farmers to take land out of production for 10 years and receive annual rental payments based on a per acre bid. This land can be covered with a variety of vegetation including several types of grasses and trees.

From the five basic cover types, farmers can also choose an option classified as permanent wildlife enhancement cover. The cost to plant this cover, or any of the other types is split 50/50 between the farmer and the CRP.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources provides technical guidance at no charge for farmers choosing the wildlife cover option. Landowners interested in planting for wildlife should contact Jeff Sole, upland game program coordinator for the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, by writing #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, Ky. 40324, or by calling (502) 564-4406.

Sole will contact a district wildlife biologist who will make recommendations on what types of plantings will most benefit wildlife in a particular area.

Two major criteria for land to be eligible for the program are that the land is highly erodible and has been used to produce an annual crop any two of the five years between 1981 and 1985. The Soil Conservation Service makes the determination of what lands are eligible for the program.

The Conservation Reserve Program was developed to remove 40-45 million acres of highly erodible farmland nationwide from production over a five-year period. However, the 1985 farm bill which established the program only guarantees funding of the CRP through 1987. Farmers who sign a contract with the USDA after 1987 may or may not be guaranteed rental payments for the entire 10-year period, which has prompted many farmers to take advantage of the program now.

After farmers sign a contract, bids are placed according to how much money will be needed by the farmer to take the land out of production. Based on the first two sign-up periods, the average bid per acre being accepted in Kentucky is around $55, which is $10 higher than the national average. The ceiling on bids in Kentucky is $60. Upon approval of a bid, farmers receive annual rental payments from the USDA for the 10-year period.

Of an estimated one million acres of eligible land in Kentucky, farmers across the state have entered over 122,000 total acres in the CRP after three sign-up periods. Approximately 95 percent of this acreage lies in the western third of the state.

Tom Howard, a representative of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) who is helping coordinate the program, estimates as much as 100,000 more acres could be entered in the CRP during the fourth sign-up period.

For more information contact Ky. Dept. of Fish and Wildlife Resources in Frankfort (502) 564-4336.

New Head Named For Mine Safety Agency

Alan C. McMillan has been named acting assistant secretary of labor for mine safety and health, replacing David A. Zegeer who held the post for the last three years.

McMillan, who was regional administrator of the U.S. Dept. of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) in Atlanta, took over his new duties Jan. 7. He has been a federal employee since 1966, serving OSHA and other labor department agencies in Chicago and Atlanta.

He was born in 1942 in Pensacola, Fla., and earned a bachelor of science degree from the University of Florida in Gainesville in 1966, as well as a master's degree from West Georgia College in 1979. Previous to his federal service, he worked as a field market representative for the Colgate-Palmolive Company.

A meteorite explosion large enough to affect the global climate occurs in the earth's atmosphere about once every 100,000 years, reports International Wildlife magazine. Should a meteorite larger than 1/3 of a mile in diameter hit the earth, it would send up a great cloud of debris that would alter the climate, possibly producing effects similar to those of a nuclear winter.

Bangs Infected Herds Slated For Slaughter

Approximately 48 brucellosis-infected herds will be slaughtered under Kentucky's new brucellosis depopulation program, according to Agriculture Commissioner David E. Boswell.

"Nearly 90 percent of the owners of these herds have already signed an agreement to depopulate, and we expect the rest will follow suit," Boswell said.

If all these herds are depopulated, it would bring to 2,082 the number of cattle committed to the program. It would reduce the Commonwealth's number of infected herds from 115 to 67.

Five herds are already through the process, Boswell said. The paperwork is done, and the cattle have been slaughtered.

These animals totaled 110 head, for which the owners received a total of $7,225, or an average of $65.68 per animal.

"An additional 43 herds are at different stages of the program," Boswell said.

The program has committed $131,350 for these remaining 1,972 animals.

Brucellosis, also called Bang's disease, causes reproductive problems and abortions in cattle and undulant fever in humans. It is the target of a nationwide eradication effort.

Boswell explained that it is extremely important to the state's cattle producers that brucellosis be brought under control.

"Other states have indicated they plan to blacklist cattle from states where the disease is still prevalent. If we want to continue to market our cattle, we must control brucellosis," Boswell said.

The herds under the program and headed for slaughter so far are located in the following counties: Carlisle, Crittenden, Garrard, Green, Hopkins, Jessamine, Livingston, Logan, Mercer, Monroe, Montgomery, Muhlenberg, Pulaski and Woodford.

Those farmers will receive depopulation payments upon proof that their cattle have been slaughtered. They must also have signed an agreement with the state Agriculture Department which specifies the manner in which their premises must be dealt with in terms of disinfecting barns and similar health precautions.

Celebrates First Birthday

Joshua Wayne Johnson celebrated his first birthday December 18, with a Pound Puppy party at the home of his maternal grandparents.

He is the son of Mickey and Karen Johnson, of Bevinville. His maternal grandparents are Lee and Marlene Little, also of Bevinville and his paternal grandparents are I.B., and Lucille Johnson, of Weeksbury. Great-grandmothers are Lula Jones, of Bevinville, Louanzy Mullins and Manerva Little, both of Weeksbury, Ky.

Nursing Conference Offered To Students By Pikeville College

The fourth in a series of nursing pre-admission conferences will be held at Pikeville College on Wednesday, January 21, at 3:00 p.m. in the Nursing Skills Laboratory (Room 010) of the Armington Science-Learning Center. The conferences are offered through the Elizabeth Akers Elliott associate degree nursing program for anyone interested in pursuing a nursing career. According to Director Celia Fish the workshops allow individuals to preview nursing as a career and provide information about the Pikeville College nursing program. Attendees see a short slide presentation, meet faculty, tour nursing facilities, and are given time to ask questions. The conference also provides important information about application procedures for the Elizabeth Akers Elliott Program at the College.

The application deadline for this program is April 1.

The January conference is open to high school students as well as mature prospective students, and men are encouraged to consider nursing as a career.

For more information about the conferences or nursing as a career, contact the Nursing Department at Pikeville College by calling (606) 432-9230 or stop by Room 102 of the Armington Science-Learning Center.

Work Will Not Close Natural Bridge Park

An impending major renovation at Natural Bridge State Resort Park will not keep the Department of Parks from operating guest facilities at least part of the winter, Commissioner June Hudson has announced.

All 10 park cottages will be kept open throughout the winter. Also, 11 lodge rooms will be available until mid-January, then reopened in early April. The lodge dining room is tentatively scheduled to remain open until Jan. 25, then reopened around Feb. 15.

The department is having the lodge's heating and air-conditioning system replaced and improvements made to the dining room kitchen. The construction schedule is subject to change, and prospective visitors are encouraged to reconfirm their plans by calling the park's toll-free numbers, (800) 633-2170 in Kentucky or (800) 325-1710 out-of-state.

Mayo To Offer Classes

Beginning January 27, Mayo State Vocational-Technical School will be offering the following evening classes: Automotive Tune-Up, Basic Electricity, Business Education (Accounting, Secretarial, and Word Processing), Computer Assisted Drafting, Computer Operation, Retail Merchandising, Welding, and Woodwork.

The organizational meetings for these evening classes will be held in the Mayo Auditorium at 6 p.m. Tuesday, January 27. The classes are tentatively scheduled from 6-9 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays and will be 60 clock hours (10 weeks) in length. The cost for each of these classes is $15. Twelve or more students are required to offer each class.

For further information call 789-5321 or apply in person to Mayo Admissions Office.

1987 May Be Better Year For Farmers

Good news may be at hand for farmers.

"The worst of the financial decline in agriculture may be past and net farm income may increase 10 percent in the coming year," according to a University of Kentucky Extension agricultural economist.

Lower interest rates, bottoming out of land price declines and increased exports of U.S. farm products are among the signs of hope for farmers, said Larry Jones, chairman of the Agricultural Economics Department at University of Kentucky.

In addition, he said, the debt-to-asset ratio for agriculture—that is, the relationship between how much farmers owe and how much they own—has declined for the past two years, following a steep rise after 1982.

"This decline suggests that the debt situation in agriculture is more in line with the value of land and other assets, making it easier for farmers to show a profit even in the face of low commodity prices," Jones said.

Cash expenses in agriculture have declined for two consecutive years—the first time since the 1930s. Instead of spending more to produce their crops, farmers are spending less, he said.

The 1985 farm bill effectively devalued the price of many U.S. agricultural products, making them cheaper for foreign buyers to purchase. In response, export volume last year improved even though the total value remained relatively constant due to the fact that the commodities were sold at a cheaper price, Jones said.

"We expect that exports of U.S. farm product will continue to pick up throughout the year, but continued lower prices will tend to constrain total export value," Jones said.

Service Contracts

By Attorney General DAVID L. ARMSTRONG

If you are buying a car, you may be offered a service contract. To many consumers, buying a service contract is like buying "peace of mind" from repair problems. An estimated 50 percent of all new car buyers, and many used-car, purchase service contracts. The cost can range from $50 to $500 or more, depending on the length and amount of coverage provided. Some consumers, however, may be paying for more protection than they need.

Before you buy a service contract, as Attorney General, I urge you to consider what a service contract offers. A service contract, like a warranty, provides repair or maintenance for a specific time period. Warranties, however, are included in the price of the product, while service contracts cost extra and are sold separately.

Also consider what is covered by the service contract. A service contract may cover only certain parts of the product or specific repairs. Read the contract carefully and, if it does not list something as specifically covered, assume that it is not. Service contracts do not cover repairs resulting from misuse or failure to maintain the product properly. Also, you may be obligated to take certain action, such as notifying the company of problems, to insure that the service contract is not voided.

Another point to consider when purchasing a service contract is that it will give you what the warranty will not. Make sure you know what warranty coverage is provided by the manufacturer. Carefully compare the coverage of your warranty to the coverage offered by the service contract to decide if the service contract is worth the additional expense.

It is important to discern the cost you will have above and beyond the service contract. There may be other expenses after you buy it. Service contracts, like insurance policies, often have deductible amounts. Or, you may be charged each time the item is serviced. Some expenses are limited or excluded. For example, auto service contracts may not completely cover towing or rental car expenses.

Check with the service contract company for locations that will honor repairs under the agreement you are considering. If the service contract is offered by a local retailer or dealer, you may only be able to get local service. There is the possibility that problems may develop

First Kidney Transplant Done at Kosair Hospital

Doctors at Kosair Children's Hospital performed the hospital's first kidney transplant, Friday, January 2. Chad Phillips, an 11-year-old from Madison, Indiana, received the kidney.

Young Phillips had been treated for kidney disease since 1983 by Dr. Harold L. Harrison, pediatric nephrologist and associate professor of pediatrics, University of Louisville School of Medicine. Dialysis became a part of Chad's treatment in February 1985. He had been on the organ procurement network since October last year, after it was determined a kidney would not be available from within his family.

Surgery was performed by Richard N. Garrison, M.D., vascular and transplant surgeon, and James I. Harty, M.D., urological surgeon, in a four-hour operation. Both are members of the department of surgery, University of Louisville.

The boy is in good condition after being transferred out of the pediatric intensive care unit Sunday. He is the only child of Debbie and Larry Phillips.

Combs Completes Insurance Course

Shawn W. Combs, of Langley, local representative for Mutual of Omaha and United of Omaha, recently completed a comprehensive insurance course at the Career Sales Institute in Miami, FL.

The course is designed to develop professional marketing skills with health and life insurance products as well as the Companies' other multi-line coverages.

Combs is associated with the John R. Benninghoff Division Office, the Mutual and United agency in Russell.

while you are traveling or you may move away from the area.

Determine who is responsible for the contract. The Consumer Protection Division gets letters from consumers who ask what they can do about a service contract company that has gone out of business and cannot repay claims. Before you sign a contract, make inquiries with Consumer Protection and the Department of Insurance to be sure the company is reputable and is underwritten by an insurance company.

In some instances you can purchase a service contract later. You may decide after you have owned the product for some time to purchase a service contract. You may want to wait until your warranty period expires to buy a service contract.

Claims procedures vary. You may have to pay for the repairs and then be reimbursed later, or the contracting company may take care of all bills.

For further information or to file a complaint, contact the Consumer Protection Division at (502) 564-2200, or 800-432-9257.

Am. Heart Association Begins Fund Raising

Floyd-Johnson county volunteers from the American Heart Association will begin their 1987 fund-raising campaign with a 'kick-off dinner at the Holiday Inn, January 23, at 7 p.m. Featured guests include Mary Pauline Fox, MD, with the Pike County Health Department.

"For 1987 the Floyd-Johnson County volunteers plan to raise $5,000, $1,000 over our 1986 goal," stated Joe Bolton, Floyd county campaign chairman.

Mr. Bolton said that the funds raised will be spent on life saving cardiovascular research, community education and service programs. American Heart Association-supported research projects and programs have been beneficial in the overall reduction of heart and blood vessel diseases and stroke over the last ten years.

During this February, volunteers will seek contributions and distribute free educational information on how the AHA works for residents of Floyd-Johnson county.

When To Call The Vet

Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association

Of course, when your pet has just been injured in an accident there's little doubt as to when is the proper time to call your veterinarian.

But what about when your pet shows slight indications of illness or abnormality? Do you phone immediately? Do you wait a day or so? Can you handle it yourself? What is it, anyway?

These aren't silly or simplistic questions. On the one hand, a wrong decision can bring unnecessary expense. On the other, a wrong decision can mean needless pain or suffering, even death for the animal. And there are no hard and fast rules for marginal situations.

Most veterinarians have a set of guidelines. One of them is to treat your pet as you would yourself or your child. Putting yourself into the situation of your pet will often give some guidance.

ment for your pet. In fact, successful treatment usually begins with you—your pet likely doesn't know the way to the veterinarian's office.

Your animal gives you companionship and some joy, otherwise you wouldn't have it. But it is dependant on you for food, shelter and medical care.

You'll find that treatment for your pet will cost less and be more effective if you follow basic rules of observation and common sense.

Your veterinarian can give you an idea of things to check for and keep up with regarding your pet. He'd be glad to have you as a partner in keeping your pet healthy.

A second guideline is to keep aware of your pet's daily habits. Changes in eating or drinking habits, habits of elimination of body waste or changes in attitude may or may not indicate a serious problem, much as they may or not indicate something seriously wrong with a person. But you must be familiar with the normal habits before you can tell when the habits change, and you must be aware every day.

Third, remember that sudden changes in your pet's behavior or health usually require immediate attention, as compared to gradual changes. Sudden collapse or depression, for example, is likely more urgent than when an animal gradually becomes weak or depressed over a period of time.

Though either of these conditions is usually serious, the gradual progression can likely (though not ideally) wait until the next day. Sudden symptoms should always be treated as an emergency.

If you're generally aware of your pet's behavior and habits, you can likely phone your veterinarian and be able to furnish enough information for him to advise you whether to wait a little longer or bring the pet in immediately.

But it begins with your awareness. Your veterinarian depends on you for information which is vital for good treat-
