Stumbo Receives Ashland Oil Teacher Achievement Award

A Floyd County teacher is among the five outstanding teachers and two teaching teams sharing $35,000 as recipients of Ashland Oil's Teacher Achievement Awards in Kentucky. Carol Stumbo, who teaches English, journalism, speech, and drama at Wheelwright High School, was selected from among 4,400 teachers nominated for the awards. "Students need to be involved in their own learning, and teachers should create opportunities for students to be active participants rather than passive spectators" is the teaching philosophy which may have contributed to Stumbo's winning. "When I enter the classroom," she says, "I do not think of what I do as a job. I cannot make myself conceive of it in that manner. In my life, there have been times when I have been offered administrative jobs, and I simply cannot take them or leave the classroom. I find too much joy and pleasure in teaching. "I teach not just because I love learning and children, but because now more than ever, there is a need for good teachers," she stated.

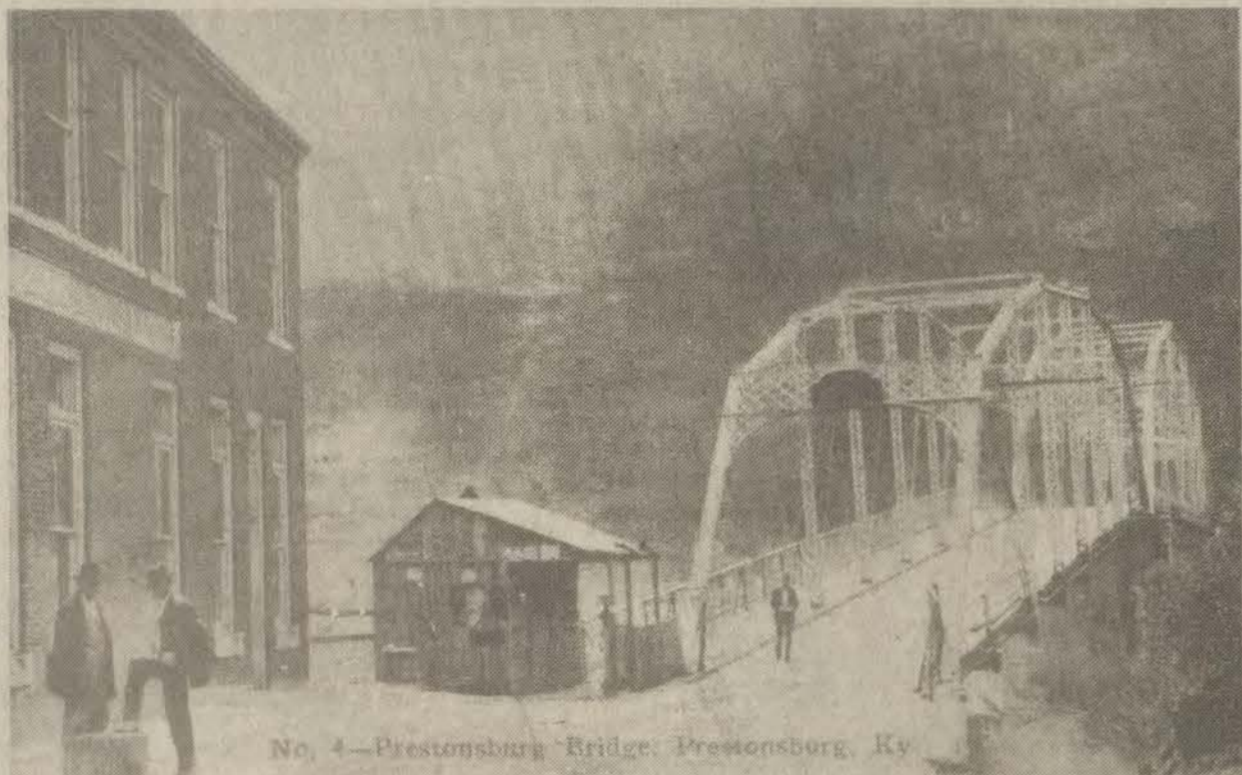

"People have tried to convince me that these students are so handicapped by their backgrounds that it is useless and wrong to demand very much of them. I teach because I know that these individuals are wrong." Stumbo said that as a child, she would watch her father, a coal miner, practice writing his name. Despite this, he and her mother "told me how important it is to have a good education." As an Ashland Oil award recipient, Stumbo receives a $2,000 cash award, which she plans to use for her classroom "to help our students, who need a word processor and desktop publishing system," and up to $3,000 for professional development. Stumbo says she plans to use the $3,000 to attend Oxford University in England to study how to work with students with different cultural backgrounds. Stumbo also plans to continue the work she began last summer with the Bread Loaf School, which focuses on writing and literature. She attended the Bread Loaf School of English in Middlebury, Vt.

She received her bachelor's degree from Berea College and a master's degree from Morehead State University. She is a member of the KEA and is active in the Education Forum, in the School Community Partnership Committee, and in the Wheelwright Academic Booster Club. Stumbo believes the Ashland program is "great because it provides recognition to the teaching profession, which usually receives little recognition. We need more support like this program offers."

The Teacher Achievement Awards program began last November when nomination forms became available in Ashland's SuperAmerica stores, Valvoline Instant Oil Change locations, Ashland brand service stations, and other participating retailers selling Valvoline Motor Oil. Every Kentucky citizen was eligible to nominate a teacher. "The Teacher Achievement Awards program is an extension of Ashland Oil's community emphasis. Teachers play a vital role in America. need for a new dump truck which the council plans to get from Frankfort. On Thursday, May 4, Mayor Raymond Griffith had scheduled an open bidding for the construction of the new City Hall. Due to lack of bidders and the date not being properly advertised, the bidding has been rescheduled, tentatively, for Monday, May 22, at 3 p.m. The next regular meeting of the council is June 7 at 7 p.m. at city hall.

Old Photographs Reprinted

In conjunction with the Festival of FACES, Wednesday, May 10, through Sunday, May 14, The Floyd County Times includes in this issue a special section reprinting 30 old photographs of people and places throughout Floyd County. The pictures date from the late 1800s to the mid-1900s. The Festival of FACES schedule of events is also featured in the special section. The Prestonsburg toll bridge, shown above, was erected in 1907 to connect Prestonsburg and the railway station on the west side of the river. The bridge was located directly across from the Bank Josephine. The toll house is on the left, and the large building is the old First National Bank. The toll collector, Andy Stephens, stands near the toll house. The two men at left front are Beverly C. May and Clabe Stephens.

Martin Council Donates To League

Martin City Council at its May 3 meeting unanimously agreed to donate $500 to the Pee Wee league, which has 160 members this year, an increase of 30 from last year. Dan Caudill, city attorney, reiterated the terms put into the contract for the new city police officer. Caudill said he must serve a six-month probationary period; commit to two years of service in Martin or reimburse the city for training costs and pass the training or terminate employment.

Council also decided that city firefighters will be paid $5 each for each fire they attend. The Big Sandy Region Coordinator for the Blue Grass State Games, Sam Campbell, attended the meeting and requested that the council help him to promote the games. He left pamphlets and posters at city hall. Also discussed was the need for a part-time maintenance man for the ball park. Caudill said he would check into the matter.

Council also discussed the city's need for a new dump truck which the council plans to get from Frankfort. On Thursday, May 4, Mayor Raymond Griffith had scheduled an open bidding for the construction of the new City Hall. Due to lack of bidders and the date not being properly advertised, the bidding has been rescheduled, tentatively, for Monday, May 22, at 3 p.m. The next regular meeting of the council is June 7 at 7 p.m. at city hall.

Wayland Passes Animal Bill, Checks Speed, Sets Clean Up Day

After several meetings in which the Wayland town board heard citizen complaints about stray dogs, other local residents attended Saturday's meeting to protest a proposed animal control ordinance. At issue to many residents in attendance was a proposal to license and chain dogs in the city limits. In response to a citizen's statement that dogs are needed for protection, board member Hobert Webb contended that dogs could be chained and still protect. "If you have it chained up, it can bark and make you get up to check (if there's a prowler)," Webb said.

Mayor Pat Murphy explained that board members "have had complaint after complaint about stray dogs. We're trying to find a solution to that problem." "As the old saying goes, everybody wants to go to heaven, but nobody wants to die," added board member Gene DeCoursey, in response to the dilemma. After much discussion, the board finally agreed on a watered down version of the original proposal that included city licensing of dogs, cats and other animals kept within the city limits. The ordinance, passed with a motion by Webb and seconded by DeCoursey, requires that animal owners show proof of rabies vaccinations and purchase a license tag from the town. The cost of the licensing will be minimal to cover the city's costs for the tags. Police chief Mack Stewart estimated the cost to be less than $2 per tag. The ordinance also requires that the tags be renewed every year and that the licensing apply to all animals over six months of age. Animals without tags will be considered strays and will be picked up and taken to the county animal shelter. "Maybe then we'll find out how many stray dogs we have," said board member Gene Mullins. Stewart added that the town has had similar ordinances before. On the suggestion of board mem-

Council Introduces Ordinances

By Pam Shingler, Assistant Editor

Two ordinances, one on the 1989-90 budget and the other on regulations on burning, were introduced and had their first reading at Monday night's Prestonsburg City Council meeting.

The budget proposal, formally introduced by Councilman William R. Callihan, projects estimated revenues in excess of $2 million for the first time ever.

In a budget message to council, Mayor Ann Latta said that "the major impact on this budget results from $200,000 in revenue projected from the tourism tax on gross sales of restaurants, hotels and motels."

Latta said the projected tax revenue amounts to about $65,000 more than last year. She added that "all of these funds, with the exception of a small amount reserved by the city for administrative costs, are designated for the promotion and improvement of tourism and recreation."

The budget, which represents an increase over last year of more than 12 percent, also includes projected revenue increases in occupational license fees, insurance license premiums, alcohol beverage taxes, sanitation fees and fire runs and subscriptions.

"Increases in these categories indicate a healthy, growing business economy in the city," Latta said. New funds in the budget, she added, are spread across all departments, with the primary need for new equipment and higher costs for state-mandated retirement policies for city employees.

The ordinance on new burning regulations was also introduced by Callihan. It covers the burning of trash, buildings, vacant property, scrap materials or refuse of any kind which "can create dangerous and uncontrollable situations which could cause loss of life or property."

The ordinance, essentially, forbids burning without the consent of the Prestonsburg Fire Department. It calls for the obtaining of burning permits from the fire chief.

Council also agreed to pay $600 to have the city's personnel policy and procedures updated, on a motion by Mike Vance, seconded by Callihan.

Also passed was a motion by Callihan. See ORDINANCES, Page 12

State Tourism Group To Meet At Jenny Wiley

Members of the state legislature's Interim Task Force On Economic Development and Tourism will meet in at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, on Friday, May 26, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

According to Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta, a reception for the group will be held Thursday evening, May 25, at the lodge.

Latta said the meeting is being held to discuss tourism and economic development in Eastern Kentucky.

Mary Ray Oaken, secretary of the tourism cabinet, will open Friday's program, followed by Latta, who will discuss restaurant taxes for parks and tourism.

Also on the program are Jim Deaton, general manager of Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre; Roger Recktenwald, executive director of the Big Sandy Area Development District, who will discuss the welcome center at Slade; and Raymond Bradbury of the Big Sandy Airport Board, who will discuss the airport. In addition, Jarrett Woods of Prestonsburg Community College will address Project 2000.

The Friday meeting is open to the public.

Slide Prompts Store Closures

Efforts may begin Wednesday (today) to remove a potential hazard from the mountainside above Big Lots store in Prestonsburg Village.

Recent rains caused a boulder above the store to move, causing Prestonsburg officials to become concerned about the danger of the large rock hitting the businesses below.

Kentucky Power Co. crews were called in Tuesday night to cut off power from Big Lots, B&L Furniture and a video store, as several transformers are located in the general area, and would create an emergency should a slide occur.

Officials said a blasting expert is scheduled to study the boulder some time Wednesday to determine how to remove the stone.

One rock has already broken loose from the mountain, but no damage was reported.

According to officials at the scene, the three stores will remain closed until power is restored.

'Kentucky Must Be The Heart,' Japanese Say

Six Japanese business executives and university instructors were in Prestonsburg this week as part of Rotary International's group study exchange program. Arriving Sunday from Ashland, the visitors were guests of Prestonsburg Rotary Club until Wednesday when they joined Rotarians in Pikeville for a district conference. While here, they golfed at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, visited Martin County Coal and a coal processing laboratory in Salyersville, and toured other local sites. Beginning April 20 in Erlanger, the Japanese visitors will wind up their tour of Central and Eastern Kentucky in Lexington later this month. While here, one of the visitors in giving his impression of the region quoted Jesse Stuart by telling his hosts, "If the United States has a body, Kentucky must be its heart."

State Education Officials Warn Board To Comply

by Anne Chaney, Editor

Citing the academic bankruptcy law, which includes a provision for removing board members and the superintendent from office as a last resort, state Superintendent of Public Instruction John Brock warned Floyd County Board of Education members recently that state officials expect the local district to present a balanced budget for the coming fiscal year. "It is our intent to see these problems resolved, whether we work jointly and in harmony with the Floyd County Board of Education, or whether the Department of Education works unilaterally," Brock wrote to the board and superintendent.

The letter, which Superintendent Ronald Hager received last week, addressed the local board's failure to demote three central office employees following due process hearings held earlier this month.

A total of five demotions were recommended by Hager. If approved, he estimates the cutbacks would save the district $79,400 annually. Recommended for demotion are Russell

Mont Frazier, assistant superintendent in charge of finance; Sharon Newsome, co-director of food service; Ned Bush, health coordinator; Wayne Combs, principal of Auxier Elementary School; and Bobby Hall, principal of McDowell High School.

Combs and Hall, who have been administrators less than three years, are not required to be given due process hearings.

At a joint hearing for Frazier, Newsome and Bush in late April, the local board chose — by a 3-2 vote — not to approve the demotions.

State officials are recommending that the local board conduct the hearings again, on an individual basis.

Although the local district appears to be at odds with state officials, the Floyd board took action at its Wednesday, May 3 meeting that will please a number of the system's employees.

Provided funding is available during the 1989-90 school year, the board voted to:

— Conduct a training program for educators teaching the seventh through 12th grades to allow them to become certified to teach the sixth grade as well. The training will enable educators completing the program to teach at any of the three grade levels — sixth through eighth — in a middle school. The district will pay teachers who complete certification $50 per day to attend the training.

— To pay high school boy's and girl's varsity cheerleading sponsors (certified personnel only) $500 annually for their work.

— To match the percent of salary increase given by the state to certified personnel with a like increase in the pay for non-certified personnel.

— To extend high school head band director's contracts and salary for one month, as the directors normally take students to band camp during the summer, for which they previously have received no compensation.

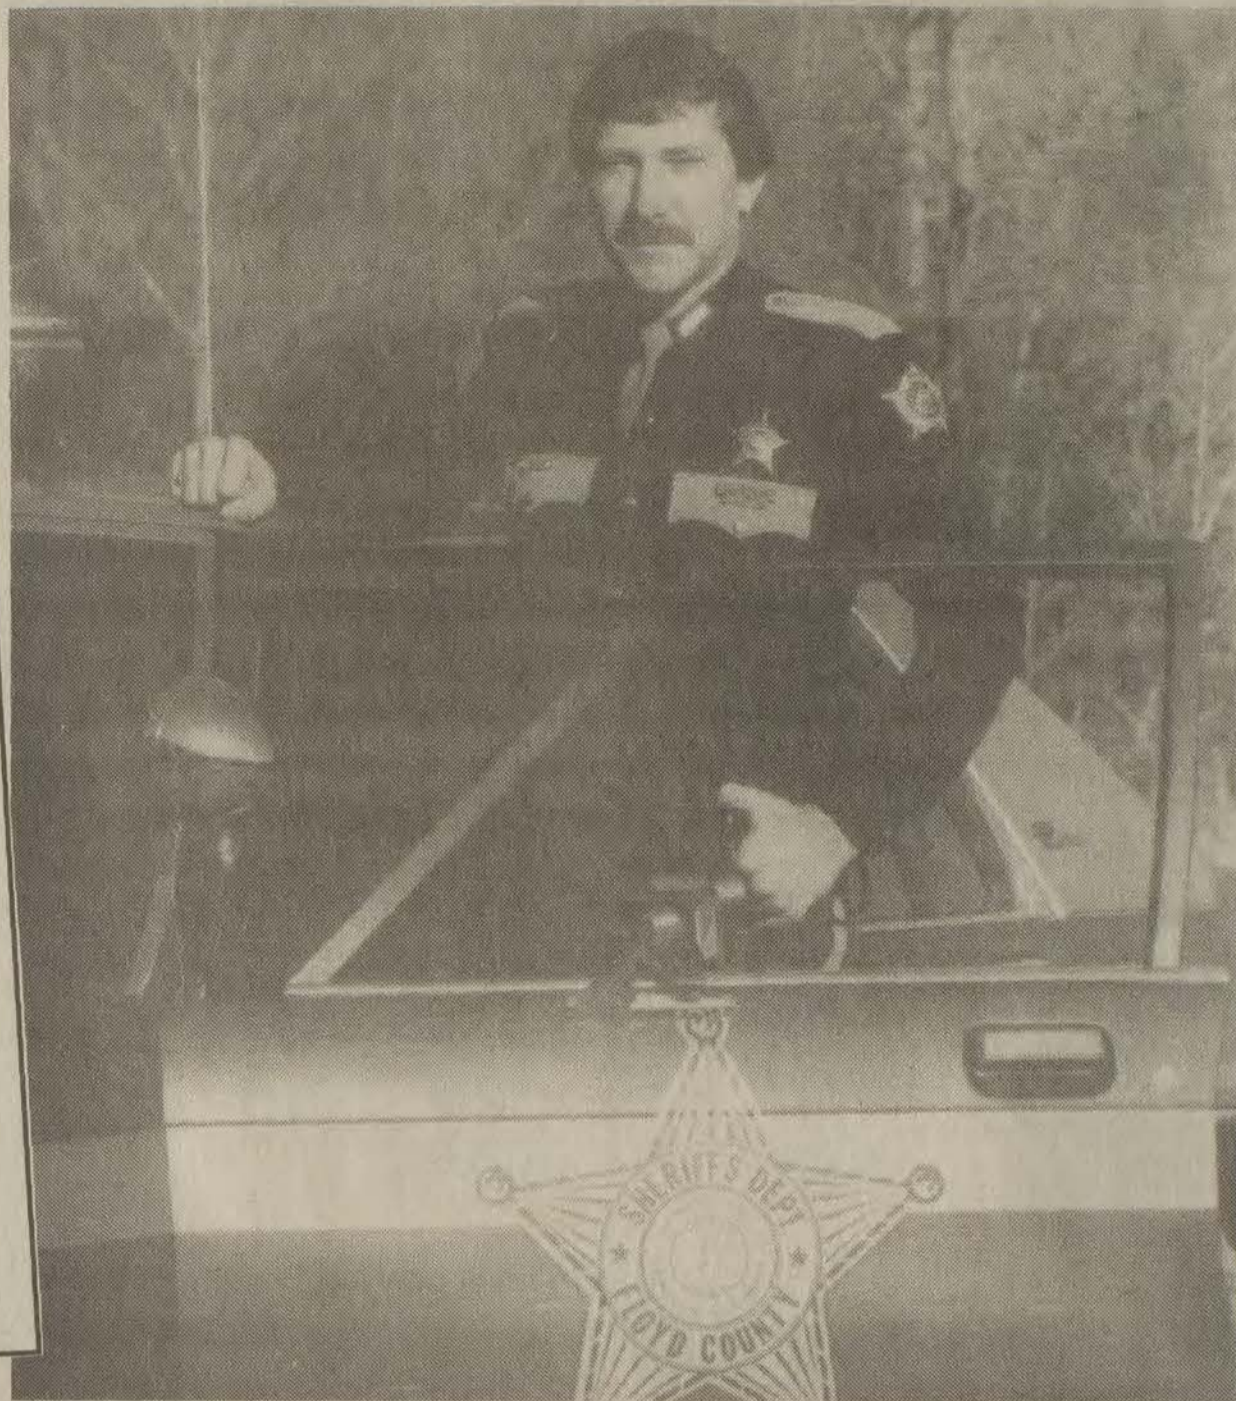

— To approve release time for library media specialists to complete required certification.

— Amended the present school calendar, at the teachers' request, to See SCHOOL BOARD, Page 12

ELECT JOHN K. BLACKBURN SHERIFF

I was born, raised, and educated in Floyd County. I seldom heard of drugs in the 60's in Floyd County, but the things we used to see on T.V. from places like Detroit, New York and other large cities are here at home today. Things such as drugs in our schools and in our communities. I have felt a burden for the future of our youth in Floyd County for 7 1/2 years. We, the people of Floyd County, have to unite in one major common cause. This cause is to fight the use and sale of drugs. These drugs are our number one threat to our youth and future of our county today. With my experience in law enforcement, I am confident that I can wage a real war on drugs, and win. In a few short weeks the people of this county will pick a man for sheriff. Before you choose your next sheriff, please think of our children and their future. Put politics last and experience first. Our children, and our children's children are at stake.

I STAND ON MY RECORD

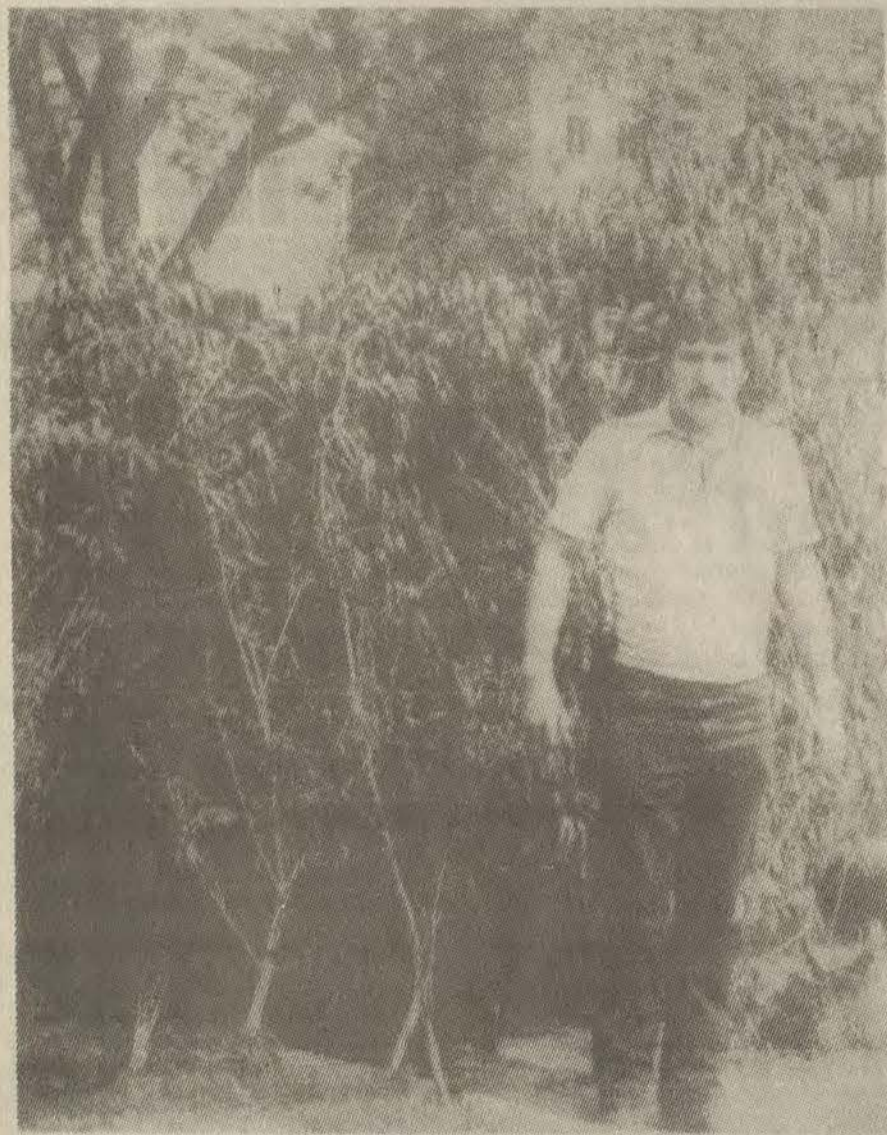

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

MY GOALS AS YOUR SHERIFF:

1. 24 Hour Dispatching
2. 24 Hour Patrol
3. FREE Law Enforcement for all school functions.
4. Start a Drug Education Program for ALL Floyd schools.
5. Declare a REAL War on Drugs in Floyd County.
6. Enforce D.U.I. charges.
7. Install a Toll-Free number for people from Ivel to head of Mud Creek (Dist. #4). These people are in Floyd County too, and deserve access to the Sheriff's Office in emergencies.
8. All full time deputies to be trained and certified. (Police Academy).
9. Have full time deputies in all 4 districts.
10. All deputies while on duty will be in full uniform, including MYSELF.

As Sheriff and a concerned parent I will declare a real war on drugs. Every school in Floyd County will have a drug educational program. I will provide free law enforcement for all school functions. Our children need our help. I need your help. TOGETHER we will win this war on drugs.

During this campaign I have discussed with you my goals as sheriff. I promise to serve you to the utmost of my ability. Law enforcement runs in my veins, and dreams and goals to improve our county occupy my mind. I have the EXPERIENCE, the KNOWLEDGE and the ABILITY to serve Floyd County with the kind of law enforcement it deserves.

Marijuana Crop Put To Torch

John K. Blackburn has always had an interest in the youth (our future) of Floyd County. Shown here assisting with the Ky. Sheriff's Ranch for boys and girls.

Results of MOCK ELECTION

SHERIFF'S RACE:

- John K. Blackburn—228 (Winner)
- Henry C. Hale—61
- Bertee Hall—2
- Paul Hunt Thompson—131

These results show somewhat of a cross section vote of the people of Floyd County.

IT SHOWS FLOYD COUNTIANS WANT A CHANGE.

I want to thank everyone for their support. And ask each of you to go out May 23rd and Vote John K. Blackburn Sheriff of Floyd County. #4 on the ballot.

VOTE #4 ON THE BALLOT

YOUR SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED!!

Mud Slide At Betsy Layne Slows Traffic

A mud slide at Betsy Layne last Saturday slowed traffic to a near halt in the northbound lane of US23 toward Prestonsburg. Clearing the road took two days and 500 truck loads. With the heavy rains of late, the mud slide is expected to continue. The Department of Transportation continues to work on controlling it and clearing the trees and debris from the side of the road.

Mock Election Results Listed

Letters to the Editor

Sen. Ford Not Endorsing Hammond For Office

Dear Editor,
It has come to my attention that advertisements appearing in several recent editions of the Floyd County Times from Jim Hammond, a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the post of Floyd County Attorney, have included a photograph of me and the candidate that was taken several years ago.

A number of people have contacted me to ask if I have endorsed Hammond for this race. As a matter of principle, I have generally refrained from taking positions in local contests. Such is the case here. Hammond's use of this photograph in no way constitutes an endorsement of his candidacy, and it should not be taken as one.

I hope that this letter serves to clear up any confusion that may have resulted from this situation.

Thank you for your time and attention.

Sincerely,
Wendell H. Ford

Helpful Programs Available To Teens

Dear Editor,
In last week's paper, there were two articles from men of God stating their positions on everything from women who wear pants to the lottery. Ironically, the day after, one of our children decided that death was better than life. I wonder if Jesus was walking our streets today, would He be judging others or helping our children and adults to have a meaningful life - one that is worth living? Would Jesus be in church seeing that no drunkards entered His doors; would He be telling his followers to buy no lottery tickets; or would He be in our streets touching and loving the ones who are hurting, no matter what mistakes they have made or what kind of pain they were in?

Jesus is walking the streets today. He is in the hearts and souls of those who care; those who are trying to help our children; to help our parents know how to love their children; and, those who are helping the widows, orphans, divorcees, drug addicts and alcoholics.

Floyd County is in a crisis situation - our children do not want to live in the world that we have created. Who do we blame; who do we vent our anger toward? I pray that we take our anger, our hurt, and improve our world. If not for ourselves, then for our children. There are no easy answers; no instruction booklet to read telling us how to fix things.

Floyd County is growing by leaps and bounds. Restaurants, shopping malls, adequate roads, gathering places for adults who are lonely are everywhere. We offer our children nothing. There is no meeting place for the teenagers; no place for a teenager to talk out his feelings. Schools cannot even sponsor dances for the young because of the liquor and drug problems our teens are in. Parents do not want to volunteer their services; their time; their love. Everyone is busy with their own lives, but, our lives are our children. We are responsible.

Placing the blame for our youngsters' problems on the schools is not reasonable. Sure the Floyd County Board of Education could participate with the parents to give our children a higher quality of education; but, ultimately, the responsibility lies with us, the parents, alone. Our children will not learn unless we, as parents, offer our children a loving, stable, secure environment.

An active parenting class is being taught at Prestonsburg Community College. There are some concerned parents trying to open a Prestonsburg Youth Center. Mountain Comprehensive Care Center offers counseling for adults and children. Christian Appalachian Project offers two youth centers in Floyd County. Churches in our area offer a place for the teens to go after ball games and proms. Crisis call lines are in existence all over Floyd County. And, David School offers help for our teens with parental involvement. The community seems to be trying to help.

Are we ashamed to ask for help? Embarrassed that we can't do it alone? Remember all we have in this crazy world is each other. We are human, and that guarantees imperfection. There is nothing automatically built inside us that teaches us to be a parent; that teaches us how to show love to our young. But we can learn. When we tell our children that we love them, give them a big hug and kiss, then leave them alone to their own devices, they become lost. We say we love them; but do we show it day after day helping them deal with their personal crises? Do we spend time with them? Do we guide them with loving discipline? Do we instill in our children a sense of personal pride, of self-love, of right and wrong. Do we praise our children for their accomplishments? Do we acknowledge their failures and let them take the responsibility of their mistakes, loving them throughout? Or, do we put blinders on and smugly say "My child would never do that!"?

I am as guilty as any other parent, but, I hope to see you at the Active Parenting Class on Thursday night at PCC.

Do Area Officials Care About Litter?

Dear Editor,
We, the concerned citizens of Mud Creek, who care about the litter problem, have cleaned more than three miles of the roadside, and we hope there are still enough concerned citizens to clean up the remaining litter. We are Dot and James Meade, Carl Fostella Mitchell, Walter Hall, Shirley Reynolds, Crit Mitchell Jr., David Mitchell, Vivian Newsome, Mabel Newsome, Terry Daniels, Sherry Hall, Lorretta Tackett, Cathern Tackett, Lacy Henson, Cecil Newsome, James and Irene Little and Opal Henson.

Help us make Mud Creek a place to be proud of.

Our elected officials tell us, when they are running for office, what great things they will do for us; then they get elected and they say "there's nothing we can do."

Why do we need them!

Governor Shows Little Interest In Environment

Dear Editor,
The governor's record so far in environmental matters has been atrocious. He has shown little interest in sitting down with citizen's groups and environmental organizations to discuss and share his views. He sits by and allows the Natural Resources Cabinet to process a permit for the state's largest landfill (proposed by Addingtons in Greenup County) at the very same time that state officials are in the process of coming up with new and better regulations to protect the environment and manage landfills.

The governor was asked to impose a moratorium on landfill permits until the new regulations go in God has forever been, shall forever be, and that is a long time.

It is certain that God rules from eternity to eternity. That means there was an eternity before man and woman in the Garden of Eden. God knows no measure of time!

God sent Lucifer, His favorite angel, and one third of the angels to beautify Earth. They rebelled against God, and Lucifer became known as Satan, and an enemy of the Kingdom.

In seven days, God created the heavens, the universe, the earth, and everything within.

It was not seven days as we know them. Any one of those days could have been a million years. God knows no measure of time!

In the creation are contained millions of miracles.

We humans measure time as a seven-day week.

God commands that we set aside the Sabbath (one day a week) and keep it holy. Not many of us do this.

Coming soon, for your reading pleasures, is the story of the Garden, Adam and Eve, Satan (in the serpent), and history's first family; it is simple reading in the Book of Genesis.

God will save our land; see 2 Chronicles 7:14.

Kentuckians Should Be Aware Of Child Abuse

Dear Editor,
April was Child Abuse Awareness Month, and the Citizens of Ken-

Slick Rock Clean Up Noted

Dear Editor,
On April 22, the Cow Creek Community Club held its annual Spring Clean-up. This included the community of Slick Rock. I ran off fliers and asked everyone on Slick Rock to help pick the trash up and clean up around their homes. Most people did. We have a lot of really terrific people on Slick Rock.

Lucy Woods, Jeffrey Gayheart, Brandon Jarrell, Larry Jarrell and myself worked on the part of the road between the mouth of Slick Rock and Woods Branch and had all the trash picked up. It looked so much better and we were really proud of it. Imagine how we felt when we came out of the hollow on Sunday and saw that someone had dumped three large bags of garbage for the dogs to scatter (which they did) on the part of the road that we had worked so hard on.

Physically, I wasn't able to go back and pick it up. But I did, for two reasons. The first being that I wanted to find out who was sorry enough to do a dirty trick like that and the second reason was that I have enough pride in my community that I won't drive by a mess like that every day and not do something about it.

I found two bills in the garbage, so I know who the person was that dumped it. What hurts the most is that he doesn't even live on Slick Rock, but in Johnson County. His parents and grandparents live on Slick Rock. If he couldn't afford to pay a place. Instead, he has opted to help Addingtons and repay a political debt. Addingtons contributed more than $200,000 in campaign contributions to Wilkinson interests. Once again, citizens must spend their time, energy and resources fighting a state decision to grant a landfill permit - a permit that never should have been granted.

Kentuckians for the Commonwealth will be pushing legislation to encourage waste reduction, recycling and stiffer regulations on landfills. Let your state representative and senator know you support cleaning up Kentucky. For more information, write Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, Box 864, Prestonsburg, KY 41653.

To The Voters of Floyd County

As election day is just a few weeks away, it's time for the people of Floyd County to ask themselves a very important question. That question is, *If my child or family member were to fall victim to a homicidal death, who would be best qualified to investigate their deaths.

As Floyd county Coroner, I have stood by the people, now I am asking you to stand by me.

QUALIFIED, HONEST, PROVEN

Certified by the Justice Cabinet Bureau of Training.
Why We Should Re-Select

Roger Nelson

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY.

Since I was elected your coroner 7 years ago, I've upheld all my promises that I made to the people of this county.

I have never given in to political pressure in my operation of coroner's office.

I have never given in to big corporation over the rights of the people.

I promised you that politics would start and end on election day, and have held steadfast to this promise.

I promised you honesty and I have been honest to the utmost.

I promised you creditable Deputy Coroners with certification to do the job. I have 3.

I promised you 24 hours, 7 days a week dedication to the job. I have worked over 1,250 cases since elected. (Some of which ran some 600 man hours for one case.)

I promised you a coroner's office that you would be proud of. I have, and with State and Federal recognition, taking a back seat to no other coroner's office in the state.

I promised you speedy response. We have average response of 24 minutes from time notified to time of arrival.

Sincerely, Your Coroner
Roger Nelson

FOR
MAGISTRATE DISTRICT 2

Many miles have been traveled throughout Dist. #2 since this campaign began. I have seen and talked to the citizens of Dist. #2 who are still waiting for the "Effort" to be put forth on their behalf.

Somehow it is bewildering to me how "Election Gravel" and "Election Services" that are supposed to be supplied to the taxpayers and residents of their respective districts each day, each week, each month, each year, are seen only, once every 3 1/2 years."

Let the residents of Bucks Branch tell you about stopped up culverts; let the residents of West Garrett tell you about drainage problems.

Let the residents of Johns Branch tell you about all of the above. I was always under the impression that when roads are paved or graveled, that they will last as long as the water runs away from them and not over (across) them. Drainage on most of the recently paved roads is not running away!

Let's get serious about all of the services that we keep talking about, and other counties achieve. Don't allow Floyd Co. to live in the past. Don't sell Floyd County short. Elect a man that wants only the best for our county and for our people.

I love Floyd County and I for one want to desperately make it a better place in which to live.

Say "yes" on Election day and cast your vote for a man that is "pulling" for each and every citizen in Dist. #2.

Say "no" to the past 3 1/2 years and get on with the business at hand, and that being improving your quality of life.

What's In A Name?

David and Banner, last week's place name puzzlers, generated several calls from area historians.

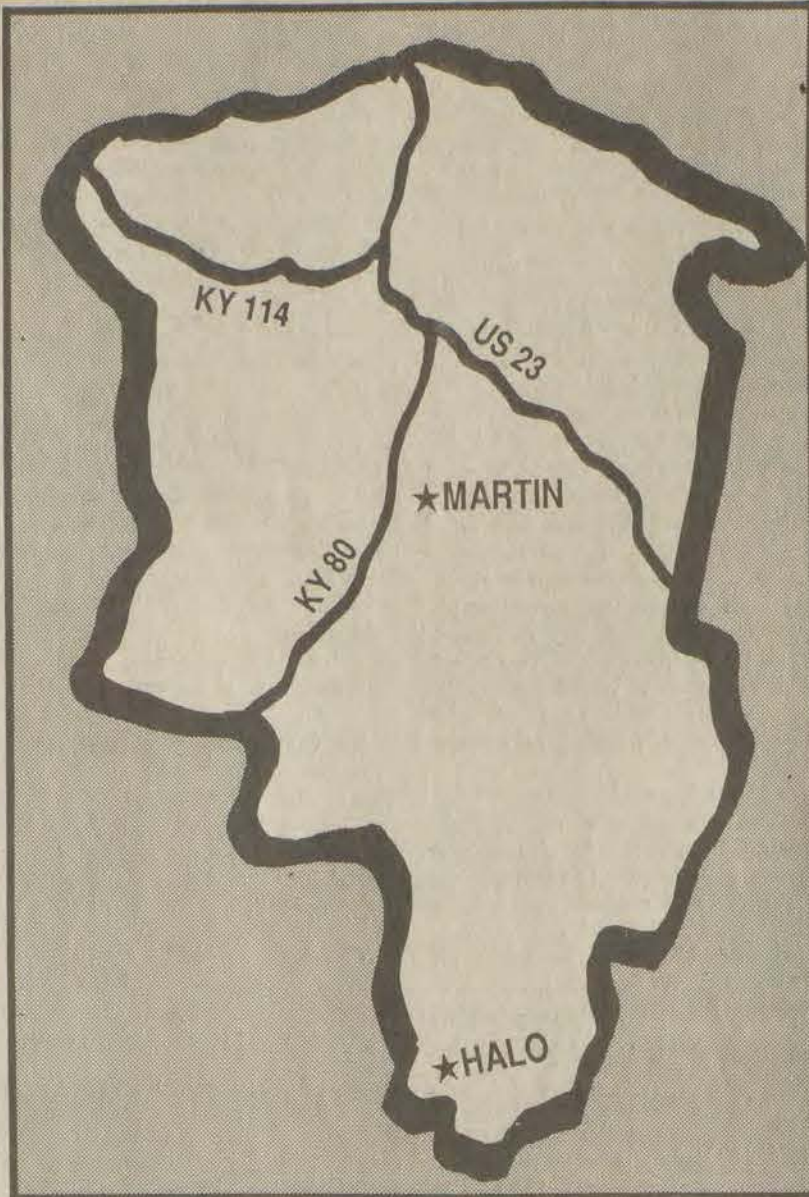

Barbara Griffith and Patty Mollette, both of David, Roxie Manuel of Prestonsburg and John Scalf of Betsy Layne called with responses on the origin of David. All agreed the town was named after David L. Francis, former president of Princess Elkhorn Coal Co.

Griffith said the area was previously referred to as Lick Fork and that Daniel Boone reportedly traveled through in his exploration days. The David post office was established during the 1940s when, according to Griffith, David was one of the prime mining communities in the state.

Some divergence arose regarding the origin of the name of Banner. Scalf said the community was named for David Banner, who "came from Virginia to buy cattle and married" a local woman. He said the settler was postmaster of the local post office, which opened in 1897.

Bill Meade, a former Banner resident who now lives in Lexington, contends the founder's name was David Banner Leslie, a teacher in the area. Meade believes the post office was started between 1900 and 1902. He said his grandmother was the first postmistress.

This week, two different Floyd County place names are spotlighted: Martin in the central part of the county and Halo at the southernmost tip. Persons familiar with the origins of these names may call The Floyd County Times at 886-8506, bring the information to the newspaper office or mail it.

THE WAR ON DRUGS IS EVERYONE'S BUSINESS

Sheriff Henry C. Hale after a major cocaine and marijuana bust.

The war on drugs began seven years ago when I took office as your sheriff. The Floyd County sheriff's office, under my direction and supervision, has completed more drug raids and arrested more drug dealers than anytime in the history of our county. A twenty year reign of terror was ended due to the efforts of the sheriff's department when the most notorious drug dealers in the county fled the county and state trying to avoid prosecution. They will be found and brought to trial for their crimes.

I have, and will continue to see the full force of the sheriff's department to insure a drug free environment in our schools, places of work, and in all of Floyd County. The youth of our county face more problems today than you and I did when we were growing up. As your sheriff, I will continue to work with our youth, visit our schools to provide drug educational programs, and work with our school administrators, principals, teachers, and parents to provide a drug free school environment. How can our youth make proper decisions about life and their future while being influenced by the use of drugs?

Anyone found to be dealing in drugs and destroying the dreams and hopes of our youth will be arrested and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Our youth must learn to JUST SAY NO.

Volunteers Sought For Archaeological Dig

Between five and 10 volunteers are needed to assist with an archaeological survey on the Salisbury property in Prestonsburg Saturday, June 3, according to Mayor Ann Latta.

The city recently entered into an option agreement for the property, but must complete an archaeological survey before beginning improvements.

Volunteers are needed to help a team from the University of Kentucky search the site for artifacts. If artifacts are found, said Latta, they will belong to UK, but will be available for display locally through the university's loan program.

Conducting the survey will be Nancy O'Malley, research associate in anthropology from UK, assisted by Bill Sharp, a graduate student in archaeology.

Latta said the survey would not involve strenuous labor, noting, "it's similar to what one would do in a garden."

In addition, members of the public are invited to observe the survey; period explanations of the work will be given by the UK team.

Latta said the survey will begin at 9:30 a.m. on the property (located next to Mountain Comprehensive Care in Prestonsburg), and will last much of the day.

To volunteer, contact Latta at 886-2335.

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT NO. 2:

We want to take this opportunity to ask you to vote for James Slone for magistrate.

We believe that the office should have a full-time magistrate in order to address the needs of all of the people. James will be a full-time magistrate.

We know that the public will be better served by a candidate who is obligated only to the people of this district. James has only had the help of those who believe that he will make a good magistrate for all of the people and that he deserves the chance to try.

We have known James since he was born. You will be proud of him and his wife, Kim.

Please give him your vote and help to give this office back to the people of District No. 2.

TO MY FRIENDS IN FLOYD COUNTY:

Johnny Hall

Since in the middle 1940's I've had the priviledge and honor to serve many families in Floyd County. I have not made it a practice to involve myself in local politics. I feel I can no longer stay silent. I feel that it is important as a businessman and a friend to endorse my associate and employee DERWIN DALE MERION as your next FLOYD COUNTY CORONER. The reasons why I am going to vote for and support DERWIN DALE MERION are his honesty, his dedication, and his professionalism.

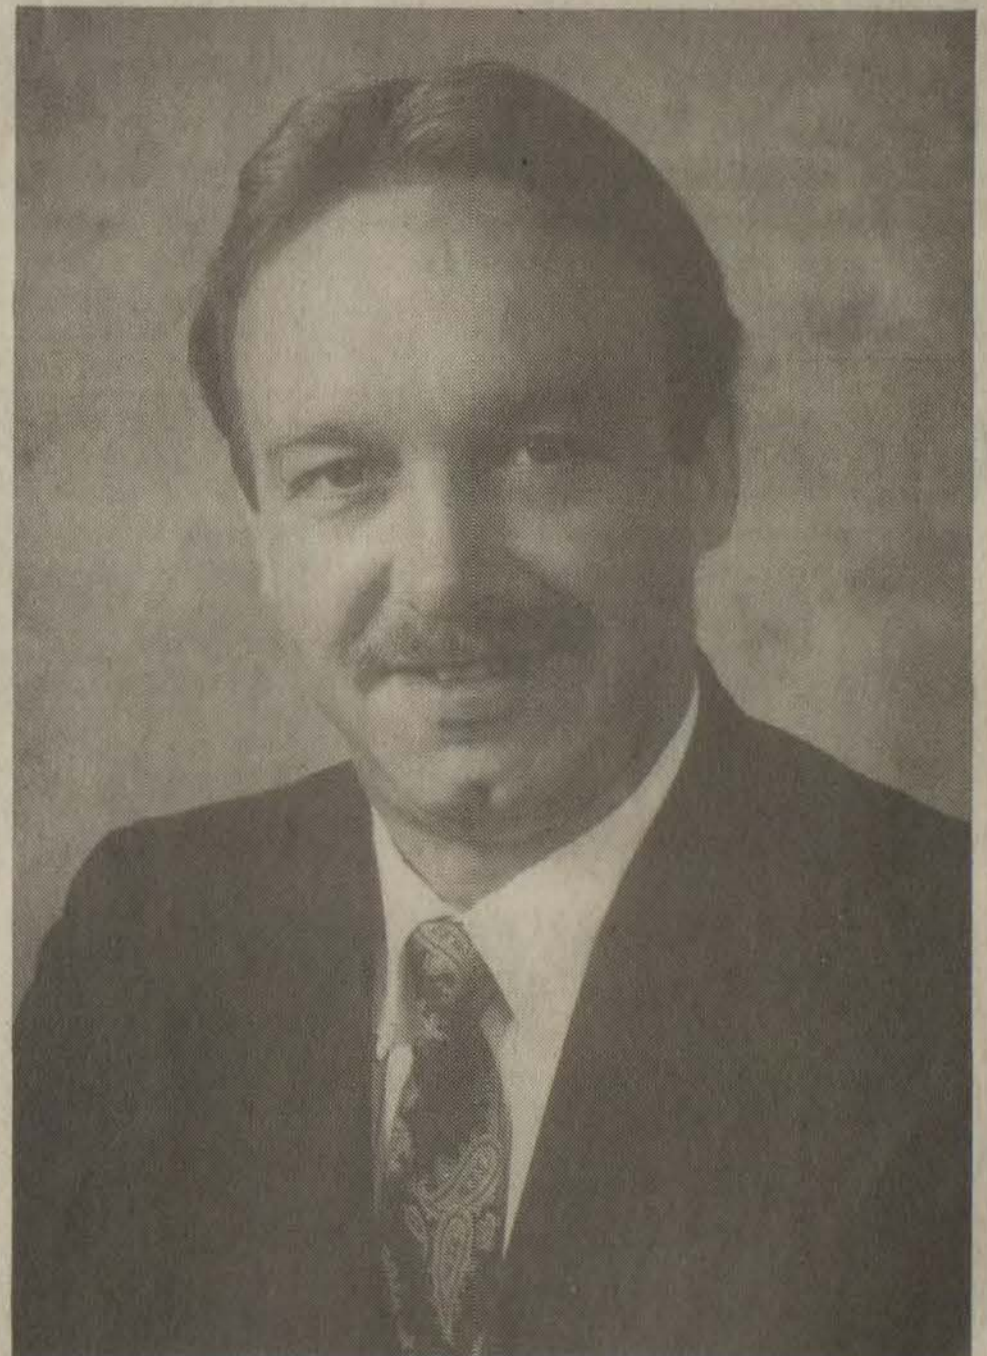

As many of you know he is the son of the late Dale Merion, former Funeral Director and Embalmer in the Wheelwright and Martin communities, and Dale Merion was my friend. I certainly feel that the Coroners Office should be held with the highest of ethical standards, with compassion to the families in which the office encounters - DERWIN DALE MERION has made this promise. I urge all my friends to consider this fine young gentleman as our next Floyd County Coroner.

AIDS Symposium Scheduled May 16

The Kimberly-Clark Corporation, in conjunction with Our Lady of the Way Hospital, will offer a program entitled, "AIDS: Focus on Prevention."

Michael Comin, research scientist and symposium director for Kimberly-Clark Professional Health Care of Roswell, Ga., will present the topic at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Tuesday, May 16.

Health care professionals such as nurses, lab personnel, risk management, quality assurance, infection control and product evaluation and sterilization are especially invited.

This program is approved by the Kentucky Board of Nursing for six contact hours. For further information, contact Naewana Nickles at 285-5181.

State Instruction Officials In District

Officials with the state Department of Education arrived in the Floyd County School District this week with a 16-member team, and will work with teachers, principals and administrators concerning the system's instructional program.

are working with district representatives concerning how long-range planning is done.

According to Gordon Nichols, spokesman for Dr. John Brock, superintendent of public instruction in Kentucky, not all of the team members are Frankfort-based officials; several are from field offices in the area.

Participants will be given fictitious school district programs and budgets, and will learn how to set goals, plan strategy and finances and achieve the goals within five to six years. The last day of the training session, participants will utilize the same method to formulate long-term goals for the specific programs they administer in Floyd County.

In addition, four employees of the local district are currently attending strategic planning training in Frankfort, said Nichols.

Those attending from Floyd County are Gary Frazier, assistant superintendent, instruction; John Pitts, superintendent of instruction; Ogie Slone, coordinator of the exceptional children's program; and Roberta Davidson, coordinator of the early childhood development program.

Nichols said the four join two persons each from Whitley and Pike counties.

Allen Officially Hires Police Officer

Members of Allen city council agreed last week officially to hire Eddie Robinson as the city's policeman. Robinson, of Arkansas Creek, had been employed on probationary status in April.

City clerk Bill Parsons said Robinson was given 30 days to "find proper housing" in Allen.

Robinson, 38, has previously worked as a security guard and holds a diploma in law enforcement from Excel College in Paintsville.

TO THE PEOPLE OF DISTRICT #2:

I want to thank all the people that has come by and talked to me about the roads. No, they haven't fixed my road. Yes, I paid fifty dollars to get the brush they cut, out of the creek where it washed the road out. I was going to fill the road in, but Mr. John M. Stumbo didn't okay it for me to fill it in with slate from the tippie. Yes, they put gravel on two driveways and one of the families moved to Florida. Yes, I called the Attorney General and he said it was against the law to do driveways. People, let's vote for one that will work on all roads, not just some roads. Vote for R.D. Birth Defects Awareness Week Observed By Health Department

The Floyd County Health Department will join with numerous national, state and local organizations to intensify efforts to alert women about the dangers of drinking alcoholic beverages during pregnancy, according to Jane Bond, health educator.

The annual campaign, in celebration of Mother's Day and continuing throughout May 14-23, is "National Alcohol-Related Birth Defects Awareness Week."

Fetal Alcohol Syndrome (FAS) is a combination of physical and mental birth defects that result from drinking alcoholic beverages during pregnancy. FAS is the number one cause of preventable birth defects with accompanying mental retardation, said Bond.

"Since there is no way of predicting how much alcohol is safe, women planning a pregnancy are strongly advised to stop consuming alcohol before attempting to conceive, and throughout pregnancy and nursing," said Bond. "It is estimated that at least 5,000 babies each year suffer the effects of FAS, including growth deficiencies, facial abnormalities, malformed organs and mental retardation. As many as 10 times that number may suffer a milder form of alcohol-related birth defects known as FAS."

According to Christie Webster, spokesperson for the National Council on Alcoholism in Washington, D.C., many people do not know that FAS is the leading cause of mental retardation caused by an environmental agent.

"Most importantly," says Webster, "it is completely avoidable if women abstain from alcohol during pregnancy, or when they are planning a pregnancy."

In 1981, the Surgeon General of the United States first issued a health advisory recommending that women who are pregnant or are considering pregnancy stop using alcoholic beverages and medications. The 1988 Surgeon General's Report on Nutrition and Health again warned women of child bearing age to avoid alcohol while pregnant.

In 1988, the 100th Congress passed legislation that will require warning labels on all alcoholic beverages and state the surgeon general's advisory. The label reads: "Government Warning: 1) According to the Surgeon General, women should not drink alcoholic beverages during pregnancy because of the risk of birth defects. 2) Consumption of alcoholic beverages impairs your ability to drive a car or operate machinery, and may cause other health problems."

Youth Employment Program Available

The Big Sandy Area Community Action Program, Inc. will be operating a summer youth employment program in Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties, according to Christian Appalachian Project Director Bill May.

The program will serve economically disadvantaged youths, ages 16-21, who are high school graduates, college students, vocational school students and high school dropouts who are planning to return to school in the fall.

The program is funded by the Eastern Kentucky Concentrated Employment Program of Hazard, and will run for five weeks, June 26 through July 28. Workers will earn $3.35 per hour for 40 hours per week, May said.

Applicants must meet the eligibility criteria and be certified as eligible by the Kentucky Department for Employment Services. Documentation of proof of age, family size, and family income will be required prior to certification.

In addition, all applicants must have a valid social security card, and all male applicants 18 and older must provide proof of military registration. Dropouts must provide proof of preregistration for the fall school term.

Interested persons may apply Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Floyd County CAP office at Allen, or the Department for Employment Services at Prestonsburg.

I believe a public servant must be available and accommodating to the people he serves. Having served as Prestonsburg Police Judge for four years and Floyd County Trial Commissioner for three years, I know the importance of being available and accommodating. During those seven years I had to be available at all hours of the day and night to serve the people and the police when warrants, bail bonds or other legal matters were needed. Public service cannot be scheduled into a few hours each day, but must be available when needed. If elected your magistrate, I will be available to do the everyday work, and also when any emergency may arise. Services will be performed in a friendly and courteous manner as the job was meant to be. Government can work for you.

DECLARATION OF WAR ON DOPE DEALERS

The sale for PROFIT of ILLEGAL DRUGS is destroying our children, our families and our government. As your Floyd County Attorney, I will prosecute illegal dope dealers to the fullest extent of the law. Together, we will have a safe and drug free Floyd County. As your Floyd County Attorney, I will work all the time, not just at election time, with all the people in our partnership to provide the quality leadership to achieve the following objectives in our war on dope dealers:

1. Prosecute illegal dope dealers to the fullest extent of the law.
2. Provide a mandatory drug and alcohol rehabilitation program for drug users and alcohol abusers with a support and follow-up service. These people and their families will be treated with compassion and understanding, because they and their families are the VICTIMS of the DOPE DEALERS.
3. Provide an alcohol and drug abuse educational program for the public and especially for our school children. This is a necessary preventive program to teach our children to "SAY NO" to drugs and dope dealers.
4. Provide, through the Sheriff's Department, 24-hour a day police protection and patrol for every area of Floyd County - we shall have a safe county, neighborhoods and homes.
5. As required by Floyd County Fiscal Court of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, said requirement being duly voted upon and enacted on Friday, April 21, 1989, requiring all county employees to certify that they are drug free. I hereby state and swear as follows:

"I swear that I am drug and alcohol free --- that I have never used, sold, shared or given dope to anyone and that I will prosecute dope dealers to the fullest extent of the law and will treat the victims of the dope dealers with understanding and compassion."

Two To Testify In Washington

Two Floyd County officials have been asked by US Congressman Chris Perkins to testify before the subcommittee on mines and minerals of the House of Representatives Committee on the Interior.

Floyd County Judge Executive John M. Stumbo and County Attorney David A. Barber are to testify May 16 in Washington, DC, in support of HR 1315, a bill introduced by Perkins.

The bill would provide greater opportunities for communities to use abandoned mine funds for water line extension, Perkins said.

According to Perkins, he was asked by Rep. Nick Joe Rahall, subcommittee chairman, to invite officials to testify "who knew first hand the problems with the (abandoned mines) program."

Perkins said he hopes to move the legislation in the next several months.

hold an in-service day Tuesday, May 23 (election day), rather than on a Saturday, as previously planned.

— Voted to allow individual employees to choose pay plans — receiving checks 10, 12 or 26 times during a year. Hager noted that the board may amend the order to 24 times yearly, so that twice-monthly pay schedules can be implemented. The board also approved a school calendar for 1989-90 that schedules regular instruction days during the boy's state basketball tournament. Of three options presented to teachers in the district, educators voted for the approved schedule, which was reluctantly approved by the board.

Brent Allen, director of pupil personnel, disagreed with the teachers' calendar choice, noting that school attendance is traditionally low during the tournament.

Chairman Dr. James Adams suggested the board return the proposed calendars to the teachers and ask them to vote again, drawing comment from more than one educator present.

"If we couldn't choose option two, then why was it an option?" asked Ernie Johnson, a classroom educator.

The board later approved the calendar chosen by the teachers, with the stipulation that an individual campus would be closed during the state tournaments if either the men's or women's team from the school was participating.

Ordinances

Callihan, seconded by Paul Joseph, for the council to meet only once a month during June, July and August. The meeting date was set as the fourth Monday in each of the three months.

Callihan and Joseph also introduced a motion to advertise for bids for two three-quarter ton, heavy duty pick up trucks and one two-ton dump truck.

Latta announced that the archaeological survey of the Salisbury lot is set for Saturday, June 3. She asked for volunteers to assist the University of Kentucky personnel with the dig, which begins at 9:30 a.m. She said "watchers" are also welcome.

Council also approved a request from Eddie Akers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for permission for his group to set up fund raising road-blocks on July 8 and Nov. 4. Vance made the motion with a second by Danny Hamilton.

Also at the meeting, Ralph Little of the city's parks department commended fire department personnel for helping park staff during high waters last week.

Latta also noted that fire marshal Larry Adams has been certified as a fire and explosion investigator. She said she believes he is the first person to be certified as such in Eastern Kentucky.

All council members attended the meeting, except Jim Yates. The next meeting, during which the two ordinances will receive second readings, is set for Monday, May 22, at 7 p.m. at the municipal building.

The traveler along KY 122, between Martin and McDowell, can notice a drastic change from one month ago - the litter is gone.

It doesn't take much deductive reasoning to figure out that some hardworking individuals have put much time and effort into accomplishing the task. These individuals are the members of the Left Beaver Creek Community Service Club, Inc., an organization formed by citizens of Drift.

At their first meeting the members said they wanted to clean up the area, and they have made a big step toward that goal. Tuesday, May 2, at their second meeting, they invited several state and county officials to attend.

State Rep. Greg Stumbo reminded members that there are two statutes in Kentucky pertaining to litter. One refers to a class A misdemeanor, with up to one year imprisonment or up to a $500 fine or both.

The second pertains, Stumbo said, to criminal littering on public highways and allows for the granting of rewards for people turning in litterers.

"Unless the citizens want the trash cleaned up in any one particular area, it won't get picked up. Only citizen participation will get the job done," Stumbo said. "Word needs to get out that, if you are going to litter on Left Beaver Creek, someone will be watching you and you're likely to get caught. It's just as easy to leave the trash in your car till you get home, or use the litter barrels."

Also in attendance was State Sen. Benny Ray Bailey who related a story about how, when he was younger, his family "used to save their garbage in an old wash basin, burn it, and throw it in the creek. When the rain came it would wash it all away."

"We didn't think we were doing anything wrong, and the trash was different then, diapers hung on the line not in the trees," Bailey said.

He believes that "it is people's attitudes, created in that era, that needs to change. The young people need to learn from their parents that littering is unacceptable."

Ecology officer Cleveland Tackett said he would, "do all I can to help prosecute litterers. I'll even visit suspected violators' homes, warn them and get them to sign up for garbage pick up."

The club also had Kentucky State Police Capt. Gary Rose, who said he is willing to serve citations to violators from other counties that are beyond the ecology officer's jurisdiction.

Rose attended McDowell High School's honor banquet recently and said he was "impressed with the attitudes of the students. All five students who spoke addressed the issue of pollution and their concerns about its effect on the environment."

He said, "You'd be surprised how the attitude of the adult affects that of the child. We must set an example for the younger generation."

Census Bureau To Gather Data

The Census Bureau will collect data on employment and unemployment from Floyd County residents Sunday, May 14 through Saturday, May 20, according to William F. Hill, director of the bureau's Charlotte regional office.

Interviewers also will collect data on unemployment compensation, multiple jobholders, flextime, and volunteer work.

Information collected in the county will contribute to May's national labor force picture to be released June 2 by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The January through March data (seasonally adjusted) showed a national civilian unemployment rate of 5.2 percent for the first quarter of 1989.

According to Hill, information supplied by individuals to the Census Bureau is kept confidential by law. Only statistical totals are published, Hill said.

PSC Approves Utility Actions

The Public Service Commission recently granted B&H Gas Company a purchased gas adjustment to reflect a $9,633 increase in costs, and the average annual increase per residential customer is $40.80, retroactive to April 21.

In a separate case, the commission granted Equitable Gas Company a purchased gas adjustment to reflect a $229,126 decrease in wholesale costs from its supplier. The average annual decrease will be $64.45 per residential customer, retroactive to April 1.

In a third case, East Kentucky Utilities was granted a purchased gas adjustment to reflect $38,669 decrease; the average annual decrease per residential customer is $36.49, retroactive to March 1.

The final case granted an adjustment to East Kentucky Utilities to reflect a $61,269 decrease in costs from its supplier, resulting in an average annual savings of $57.81 per residential customer, retroactive to April 1.

PSC Decides Local Issues

The Kentucky Public Service Commission recently acted on requests by three Floyd County utilities.

The PSC granted Francis Water Co. rates to produce increased revenues of $8,004 annually. The average monthly bill will go from $16 to $20, effective April 26, according to State Government News.

Mike Little Gas Co. was granted a purchased gas adjustment to reflect a $28,212 decrease in wholesale costs from its supplier. The average annual decrease per residential customer is $60.02, effective April 1.

The PSC also granted Auxier Road Gas a purchased gas adjustment to reflect a $1,588 decrease in wholesale supplier costs. The average annual decrease per residential customer of Auxier Gas is $3.73. The change was effective April 1.

ADD Funds To Benefit Area Fire Departments

Area fire protection is expected to be improved as the result of a state grant announced recently by Gov. Wallace Wilkinson.

A $20,000 grant from the Area Development Fund has been awarded to the Mud Creek, Middle Creek and Toler Creek volunteer fire departments for the purchase of equipment.

The Big Sandy Area Development District board of directors recommended the project for funding.

The ADF is a capital projects program administered by the State Department of Local Government in the Office of the Governor. The state's 15 area development districts make recommendations to the department for project funding.

Auxier Firefighters Host Stumbo Visit

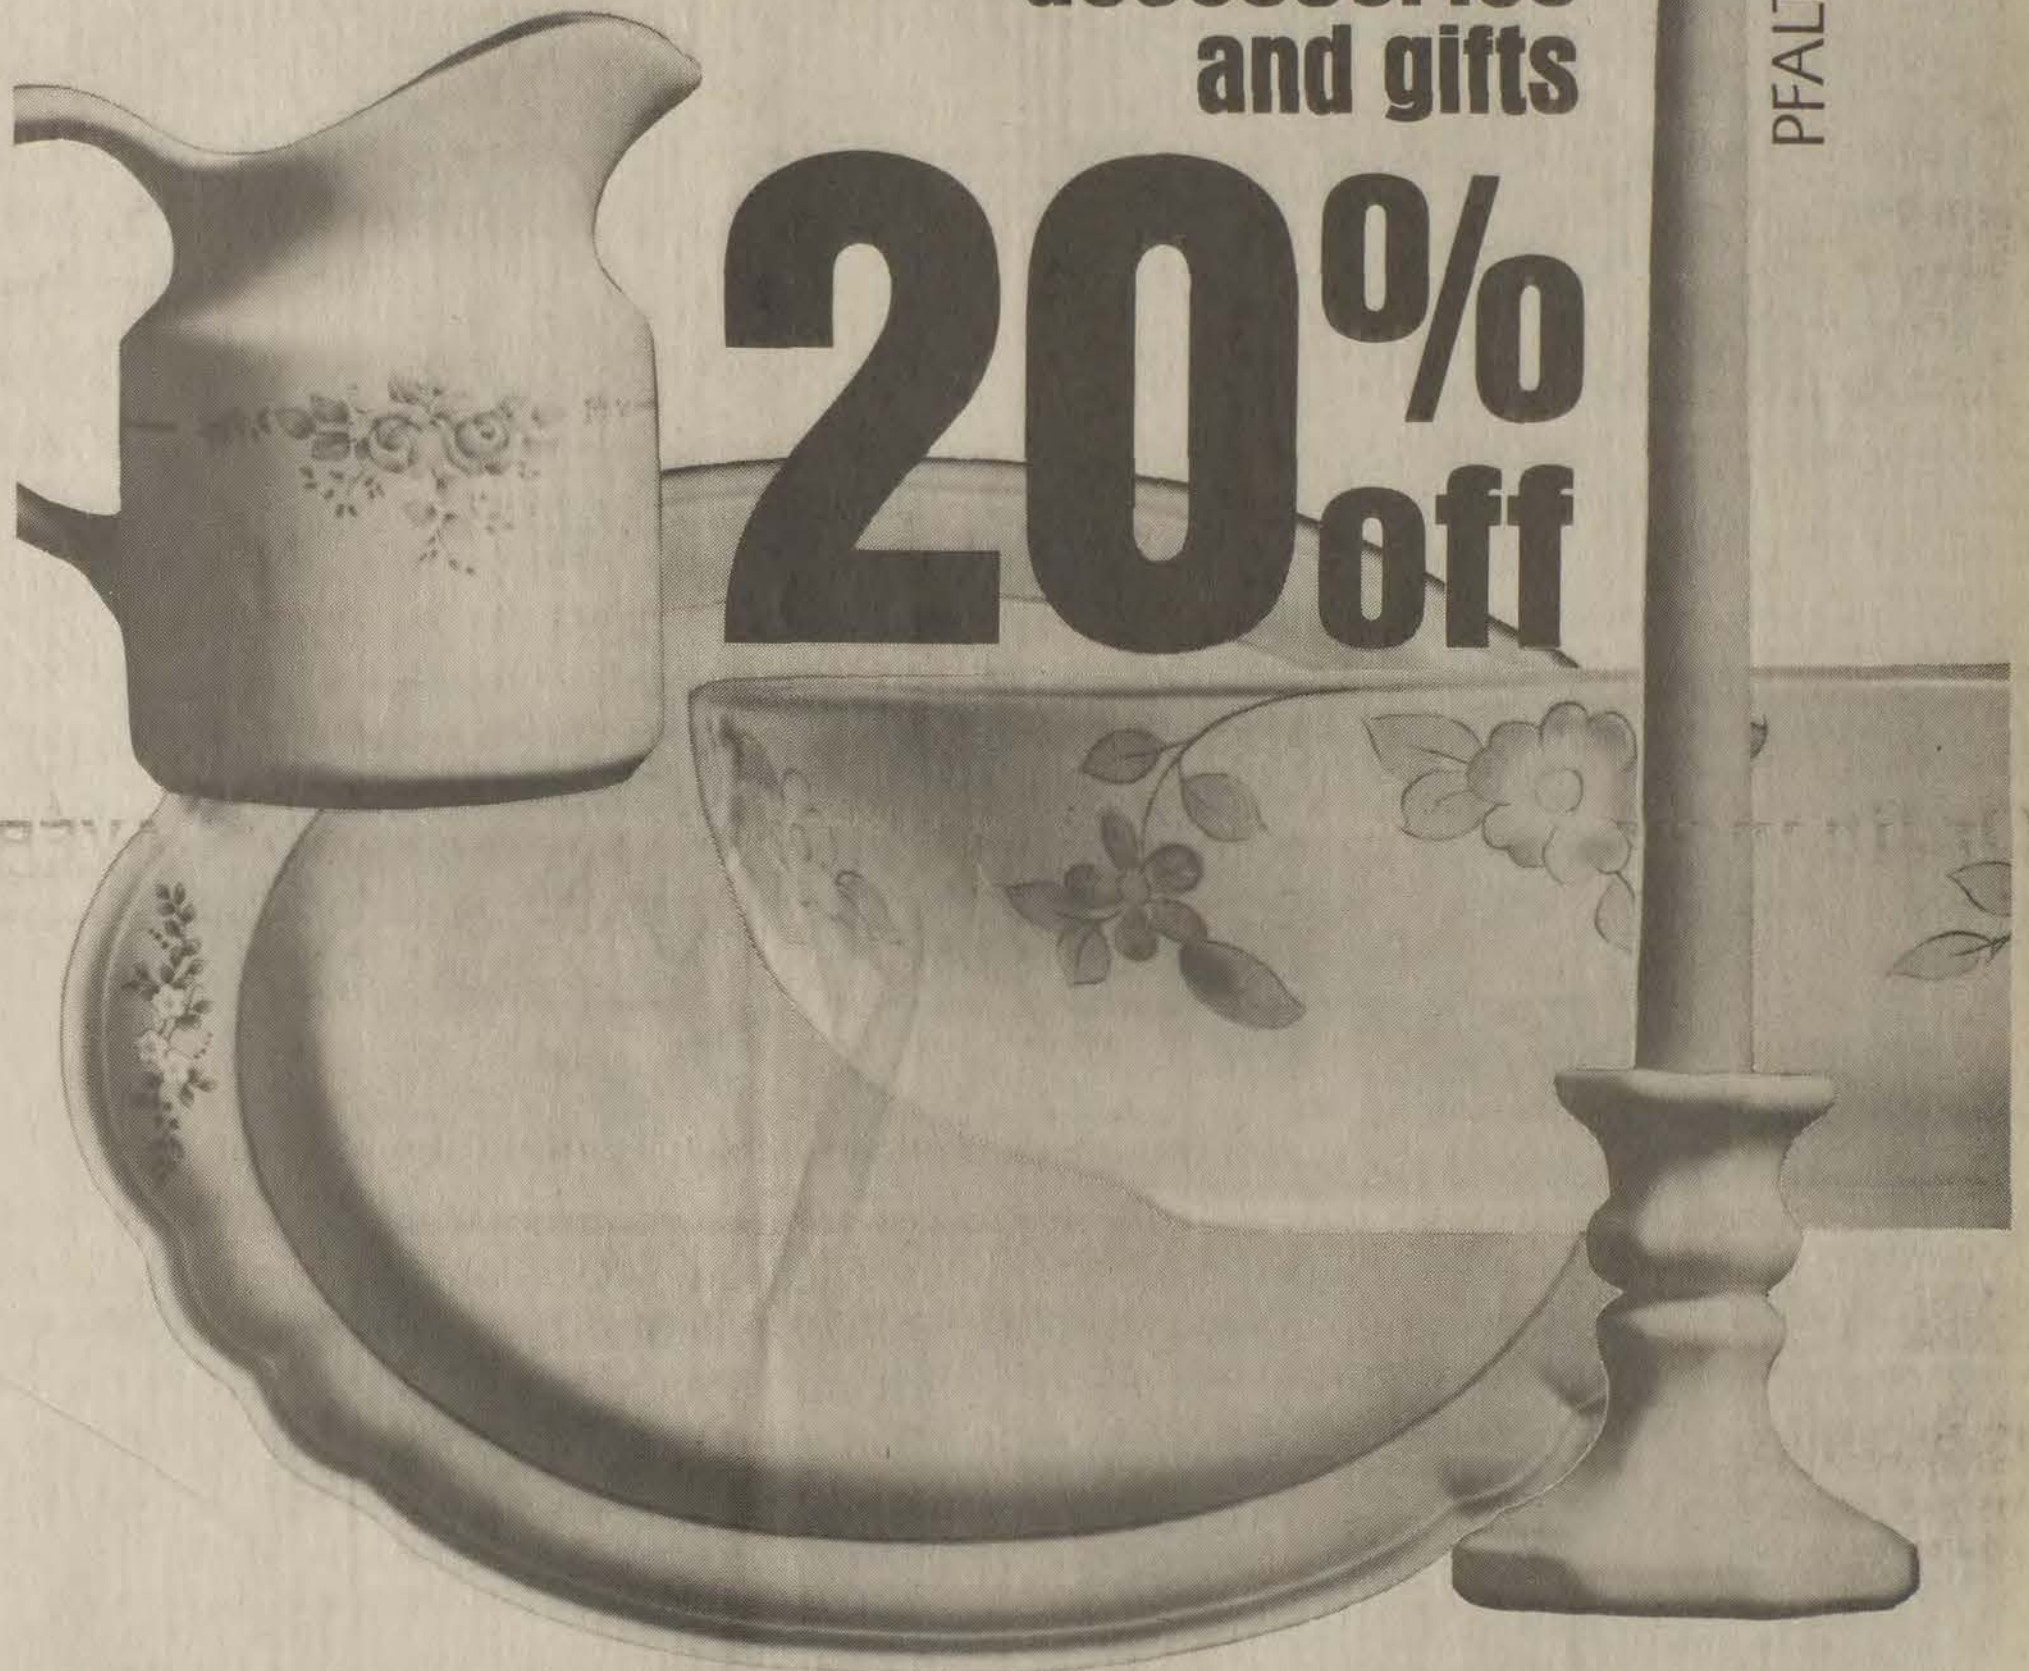

Floyd County Judge Executive John M. Stumbo met recently with members of the Auxier volunteer fire department to discuss efforts to upgrade the community's insurance rating to lower the cost of insurance to residents.

According to chief Howard Ferguson, Stumbo offered his support during the department's second town meeting May 1.

Ferguson also reported that an auxiliary group is being formed to assist in fund raising and public relations.

In Memory Of My Husband
Bill Epling
On Our Anniversary, May 12, 1922
God brought you into my life
And gave us time for our love to grow.
You were my friend and my strength,
But then he said it was time to go.
With God's love; in time, the pain will ease,
And with our children by my side,
We'll share loving memories.

Your Loving Wife,
Nell

In Memory of My Husband
David (Rod) Mullins
Born August 1951 Died May 1988

This month makes a year that you left us. But it seems like only yesterday. Although you had to go and I don't understand why. You left a big part of you behind. Two beautiful children Jason and Lesley. And for that I am thankful because without them I don't know what I would have done. We will always love you and the memories and love that we have of you. Will keep you alive forever. I'm no so good with words but it doesn't matter you know how I feel and that's what matters. I miss you so and I will always love you. One day we will be together again.

All My Love
Carol

A QUESTION OF PUBLIC TRUST

DAVID ALLEN BARBER

Both of these men have been elected to public office, hence, both have public records that need to be examined. What does the record show?

MY

This man was appointed by the Chief Justice to serve on a committee to draft ethical standards for prosecutors

.....
This man was DISBARRED from the practice of law for unethical standards, changing medical documents and falsifying records!

.....
This man has gained state-wide recognition for his aggressiveness in prosecuting drunk drivers, and his tough stance against crime

.....
This man has been arrested several times for DUI!

.....
This man can be found in his office every day, working at the job the people elected him to do.

This man had the 3rd WORST ATTENDANCE record of all Kentucky state senators when he was in office!

.....
This man has never been arrested.

.....
This man has been arrested many times; worse he was arrested while he was serving in public office.

.....
This man has never been indicted.

This man was indicted by the FLOYD COUNTY GRAND JURY for MANSLAUGHTER.

.....
This man has never used his public office for his own personal financial gain.

This man used his position as state senator to buy and lease up right of way for new roads receiving hundreds of thousands of taxpayers dollars!

The FLOYD COUNTY ATTORNEY is the CHIEF LAW OFFICER for the County. HE DOESN'T BUILD roads, airports, factories, or zoos. When a person runs for the office of Floyd County Attorney, he should know that his major job is to see that laws are enforced and that those who break the law are dealt with. If he can't face up to these issues and talk about this job, he shouldn't seek the office.

Both of these men are WELL KNOWN IN KENTUCKY. However, as you can see, they are KNOWN FOR FAR DIFFERENT REASONS. Floyd Countians are INTELLIGENT, GOD FEARING, FAMILY ORIENTED AND HARD WORKING. They want and deserve a County Attorney as GOOD as they are. Never in the history of our County has the choice between two candidates been SO CLEAR—One of the above two men will be elected our CHIEF LAW OFFICER on MAY 23. The person we choose WILL SAY A LOT about the kind of people we are.

PHS Blackcats To Be Honored; Cawood Ledford To Be Speaker

The Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club will hold an "appreciation dinner" for the Prestonsburg High School Blackcats "Sweet Sixteen" team on Tuesday, May 23 at the Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg at 6:30 p.m.

Guest speaker for the dinner will be the Kentucky Wildcats longtime play-by-play announcer Cawood Ledford, who has been appropriately named "Mr. Wildcat".

Tickets for the dinner will be $20, which includes a buffet dinner and the banquet, Kiwanis Vice-President Leo Music said. The $20 will go to offset the expenses of the dinner. Tickets may be purchased at the First Commonwealth Bank or the Holiday Inn.

"We wanted to show our appreciation for Coach Gordon Parido and the Blackcat basketball team," Music said. "The coaching staff did such a great job and the kids really played hard to bring us a championship season. Coach Parido brought something out of the kids that hasn't been done before. We appreciate that."

The Kiwanis Club will also sell tickets on a basketball autographed by the players and coaching staff on the Blackcats basketball team. Tickets will go on sale at various locations in the Prestonsburg area soon.

The basketball is compliments of the First Commonwealth Bank in Prestonsburg.

Traditional Bowhunters To Hold Meet

The Kentucky Traditional Bowhunters Association, East District, will hold a "Weekend Rendezvous" May 13-14 at the Melody Mountain Camp Ground near Louisa.

The small game hunt is set for 1 p.m. Saturday and the entry fee is $4. Trophies will be awarded.

Saturday evening the club will have its novelty shoot with a charging boar, disc throw, running deer, long distance shot, short distance shot, and flying goose. This will be a blanket shoot, where everyone is asked to bring something worth $3 or more to put on the blanket. A prize will be awarded to each participant.

After the novelty shoot, a social gathering is scheduled. An "at dark dinner" and country and bluegrass music are planned until midnight.

Registration for the "Big Game Shoot" and "Super Shot" is set for 10 a.m. Sunday and the entry fee is $6. Door prizes will be given away before trophies are awarded.

Frasure signs with Union

Karen Frasure, Floyd County's girls "Player of the Year," signs a letter-of-intent with Union College while her mother Monique Frasure watches. Also at the signing were Robert May, PHS principal; Susan Ore, assistant basketball coach at Union, and Bridget Clay, girls coach at Prestonsburg. Frasure averaged 26.0 points per game in her senior season.

McDowell Falls To Bobcats In District Competition, 5-3

The rainy days have been frequent in the past few days, but Monday evening the weather was perfect as the 58th District High School Baseball Tournament got started on time. A large crowd of spectators was on hand to take in the first game of the tournament between Betsy Layne and McDowell.

Senior Duran Newsome, who struggled in the first three innings by walking eight batters, went the distance for the Bobcats in leading his squad to a 5-3 victory over a good McDowell baseball team. Newsome fanned 11 batters and scattered four hits, yielding a home run to Mike McQuate in the fifth inning.

Tommy Hall and Chad Hamilton each had home runs for the Bobcats. Hall's being a three-run blast in the first inning.

Newsome threw 119 pitches in the game, 66 in the first three innings and 43 in the last three. Newsome had control problems in the first three by being consistently high with his pitches. The righthander seemed to find his control after the third and did not walk a batter after that inning.

"Duran hasn't pitched in a week," Bobcat mentor Junior Newsome said of his righthander. "We were lucky we didn't get more runs scored against us in the third inning." He was speaking of the time McDowell loaded the bases and had no outs and only managed one run.

Assistant coach Keith Henry summed the walks situation. "I can't stand those walks."

Tommy Hall put the Bobcats on the score board in the first with a line shot over the left field fence with two aboard. Barry Hamilton singled and Newsome drew a base on balls and both scored ahead of Hall on the homer.

McDowell tallied a run in the second on a walk to Rady Martin. Martin stole second and advanced to third on an overthrow by Bobcat catcher Hall. Martin scored on a ground out to second by Brent Rose.

The Daredevils made it 3-2 with a run in the top of the third. Jamie Martin led off with a double. McQuate hit a towering drive that hit the base of the fence for a double. Martin was held up and not able to score on McQuate's double. Rady Martin drew his second walk of the game and Rose walked, forcing in Martin with a run and leaving the bases loaded with no outs. After a conference on the mound, Newsome seemed to find that something extra and struck out Mike Nalle and Keith Shelton. With Jamie Lawson at the plate, McQuate attempted to steal home and was out at the plate to end the inning.

Barry Hamilton singled, leading off the Bobcats' third and came around to score on a base on balls and a fielders choice to make it 4-2.

Chad Hamilton's long home run in the fourth made it 5-2 Betsy Layne.

With one out in the McDowell fifth, McQuate hit a home run over the right center field fence that cleared even the river bank to bring the Daredevils to within the final score of 5-3.

McDowell put their lead off man on in the top of the seventh when John Stumbo got a base hit. Kidd hit a fly ball out to right, Stumbo was caught stealing and Martin struck out taking away the chance for McQuate to come to the plate again.

Rady Martin took the loss for the Daredevils, who close out their season under first year coach Cassandra Keathley with an 8-11 record.

Coach Newsome praised the throw of his catcher Tommy Hall in shooting down Stumbo in the seventh inning in a steal attempt.

"Tommy made a good throw," Newsome said. "It was the key play in the game."

Was he surprised that they attempted to steal?

"No, they had been running all through the game and were successful. It's something you take a chance on," he said.

Betsy Layne goes to 18-5 and will advance to the semi-finals scheduled for today against Prestonsburg.

Prestonsburg High School is the host school for the district tournament, with Russell Shepherd the tournament director.

Frasure To Play For Union College

Floyd County Player Of The Year in women's basketball, Karen Frasure of Prestonsburg's Lady Blackcats signed a letter-of-intent to play basketball at Union College in Barbourville this fall. Frasure signed the letter in the office of Principal Robert May Friday morning in the presence of assistant basketball coach Susan Ore, Lady Blackcat mentor Bridget Clay, and the athlete's mother Monique Frasure.

Frasure's mother is pleased with her decision to attend Union College.

"She went down to try out for the team. She liked it and decided that's where she wanted to go," Mrs. Frasure explained. "It's a nice college, a nice place."

Mrs. Frasure didn't realize the potential a good basketball player has in getting a scholarship.

"I didn't want Karen to play basketball," says Mrs. Frasure. "I just wanted her to go to a regular school. I didn't realize that she could play ball and that she could get a scholarship. She decided she wanted to play so I let her."

Coach Ore has great expectations for Frasure and is excited about her decision to sign with Union.

"Karen will play on both the junior varsity and varsity," explained Ore. "We didn't lose any of our varsity from last year, so she will be playing on the J.V.'s so she can get some playing time."

Frasure will be utilized in the off guard position and small forward spot. Ore cited not only Frasure's shooting ability and quickness as a key in her recruiting, but also was quick to point out another valuable asset.

"Karen is quick and has good shooting ability," Ore related. "But Karen has a very good attitude which is very important. She is a good student. She has a lot going for her."

"Our junior varsity struggled last year, but we expect to do much better with players like Karen coming in," Ore said. "Karen will contribute to our program next year."

"I'm glad to have the opportunity to get to play in some college games," Frasure says. "To get to play on the college level is exciting to me. I want to contribute what I can, and hopefully I can help them out."

"I like the student-teacher ratio at Union College. There's more of a classroom atmosphere there."

Frasure realizes that playing at the college level will be different from high school play.

"It will be a big change for me. I realize that. My playing time will be cut down," the Player Of The Year stated.

"I hope that next year Prestonsburg will have a good season. I've enjoyed playing for Coach Clay for the last four years," she says.

The Union College signee gives credit to her high school coach for more than developing her as a basketball player.

"Coach Clay has taught me a lot," she says. "She has taught me how to be a better basketball player. She has helped me to develop into a better basketball player. She has helped me to have a better attitude."

Frasure averaged 26.5 points per game as a senior. She averaged 10 rebounds, two steals, and four steals per game also and finished as the eighth leading scorer in Kentucky women's basketball this past season. She has been named Floyd County Player Of The Year the past two seasons by the coaches in the 58th District. She was All-District and All-Conference the last three years at Prestonsburg. She was named to the Ashland Daily News All-Area team for the 15th and 16th Regions and made the Morehead State All-Star team.

BLHS Upsets Paintsville Despite 20th Ranking In Ky.

The 20th ranking in the state by the Paintsville Tigers baseball team seemed to have no effect on the Betsy Layne Bobcats of Coach Junior Newsome recently.

If anything it just made them to want to play that much harder, as sophomore Keith Hall struck out eight batters, and Barry Hamilton's fourth inning home run helped the Bobcats to upset the highly regarded Tigers 7-3 last week at Allen Ball Park.

Two of the Tigers' three runs were unearned in both the first and seventh innings. Jerry Pelphrey took the loss for the Tigers.

Paintsville picked up an unearned run in the first. Brian Williams singled and stole second and scored on an error at third.

Betsy Layne scored twice in the bottom of the third. Keith Hall doubled and came home on a base hit. Barry Hamilton led off with a base hit, and Duran Newsome singled him to third and then stole second. Both runners scored on an RBI single by senior Keith Hall.

The Bobcats scored again in the bottom of the fourth. Keith Hall doubled and came home on a base hit by Chad Hamilton to take a 3-1 lead.

The Tigers put one on the score board in the fourth. Hall walked both Porter and Pelphrey in leading off the fourth. Williams lined a single to right center to score Porter. Then in the bottom of the fourth the Bobcats' Hamilton homered over the fence to lead 4-2.

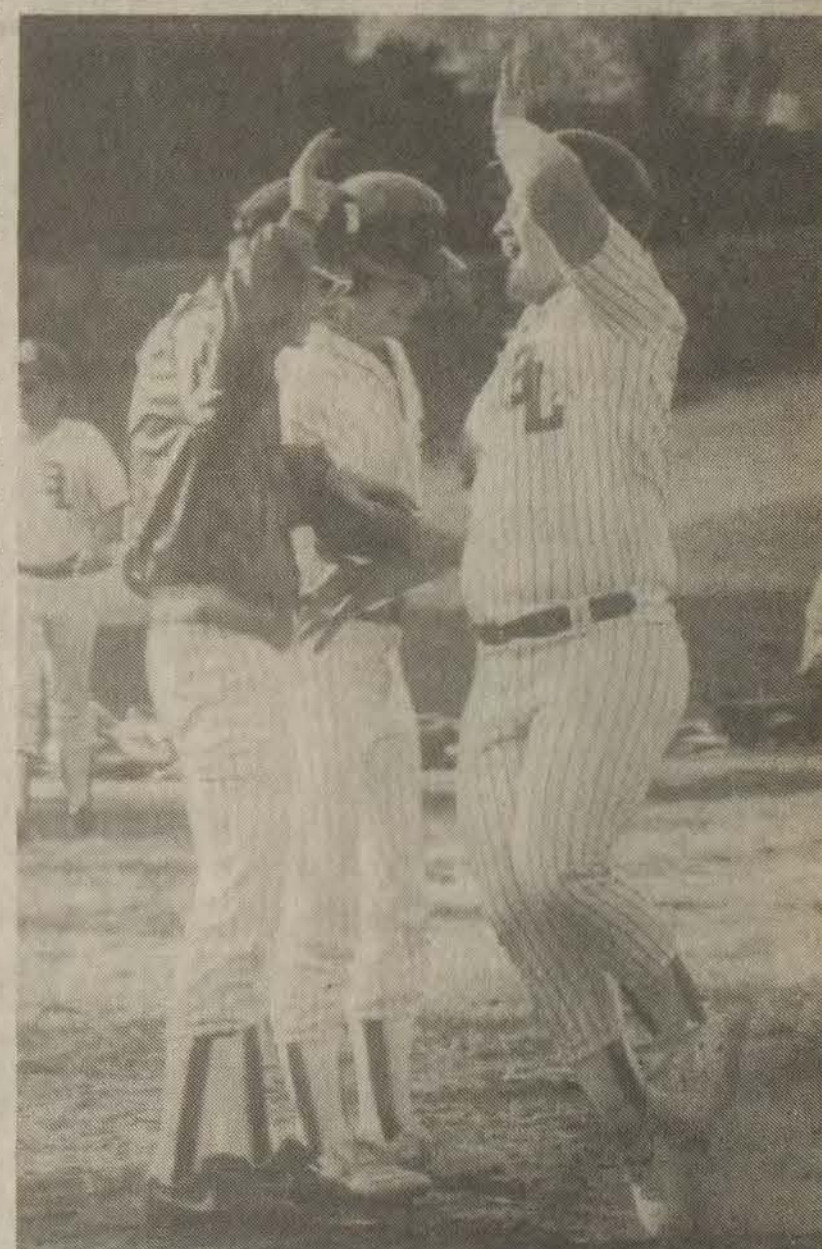

Hall set Paintsville down in the top of the fifth. Betsy Layne loaded the bases in the bottom of the inning on an error and two walks and with no one out, but was unable to push a run across.

Betsy Layne went up 7-2 with three in the bottom of the sixth. Newsome singled to left. Tommy Hall reached Pelphrey for a base hit. Keith Hall forced Hall at second with a grounder to short that Newsome was able to score on. Adam Gearheart was hit by a pitch to put runners at first and third. Chad Hamilton singled to bring in Hall, and after a Chris Newsome sacrifice sophomore Keith Hall singled to score Gearheart.

The Tigers added a final unearned run in the top of the seventh. After

Sutherland Walk-a-Thon Saturday

DR. J.W. SUTHERLAND

The second consecutive Dr. J.W. Sutherland Memorial Walk-a-thon, to benefit Eastern Kentuckians with kidney disorders, is set for Saturday, May 13, during the Festival of FACES.

The five-mile walk will take place at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park's Lake Shore Trail. Registration begins at 9 a.m. at the May Lodge breezeway, with the walk set to begin at 10 a.m.

Participants are to get sponsors to pledge money for each mile they walk. Pledge sheets can be obtained at the Highlands Dialysis Facility on US 23, near Auxier, or by calling 886-3894 or 886-8511.

The walk-a-thon is in memory of the late Dr. Sutherland, who pioneered kidney dialysis in Eastern Kentucky by establishing the first kidney dialysis center in the area in Prestonsburg in 1976.

Prior to the opening of the center, persons in the area with kidney disorders had to go to Lexington for kidney dialysis. Sutherland and Dr. James Cox, both nephrologists, started with four dialysis machines at Highlands Regional Medical Center.

By 1979, the need for the service was great enough to warrant opening of a separate center, according to Donna Newsome, chairperson of the Floyd County chapter of the National Kidney Foundation.

Newsome said that at the time of Sutherland's death last year, there were 45 dialysis patients. A satellite clinic was recently opened in Hazard to handle the growing need.

Participants in the walk-a-thon will receive t-shirts and refreshments.

Sportsmanship

The Betsy Layne Bobcats defeated the McDowell Daredevils 5-3 in the District tournament Monday evening. The two teams showed good sportsmanship after the game.

ACHS Places Fourth In Meet

The Allen Central Rebels Track and Field team finished fourth overall in the EKMAC Conference Track Meet last week at Jenkins. The Rebels Track and Field squad is coach by Dewey Jamerson.

Sophomore Brian Wallen placed first in the Discus Throw with a toss of 116'7". Teammate Tim Slone placed sixth with a distance of 95' 11".

In the Long Jump division, Randy Shepherd had a jump of 13'.

 100 Meters: B.J. Aldrich, 13.7; Derrick Ousley, 14.38; Gary Carpenter, 14.78.

200 Meters: B.J. Aldrich, 28.31; Rondal Stewart, 35.99; Gary Carpenter, 32.64.

400 Meters: Tim Slone, 1:04.34, good for 5th; Jason Johnson, 1:10.00, good for 6th.

800 Meters: Chris Yates 2:29.73 for 5th place; Jason Johnson, 3:36.46.

1600 Meters: Shane Stumbo, 7:03 for 7th place; Rondal Stewart, 6:56 for 6th place.

3200 Meters: Mike Slone, 14:09.51, a school record.

The Rebels mile relay team finished fourth with a time of 5:04.98. The team consists of Teddy Bates, Mike Slone, Jimmy Cox, Chris Yates.

The two mile relay team placed fourth and set a school record with a time of 11:41.12. The two mile relay team is Rondal Stewart, Teddy Bates, Randy Stephens, Jimmy Cox.

Allen Central also set a school record in the 400 Meters relay with a time of 55:24 that placed them fourth in the meet. Derrick Ousley, B.J. Aldrich, Ray Carpenter, and Chris Yates combine to make up the relay team.

The Rebels will participate in the regional at Pikeville, Saturday, May 13.

Runners Ready To Jump Into Saturday's 5K Race

As of Monday, 32 runners had preregistered for the Festival of FACES 5K race, according to race director Rick Roberts.

"The top seed who has not verbally committed yet is Doug Bonk," Roberts says. "Bonk is from Flint, Mich., and ran for Eastern Kentucky University in the late 70's. He has won the Pikeville Citizens Bank 10k (6.2 miles) run for the last three years and has the current course record. He has run a 14:30 or better time in the 5k."

three weeks ago.

Debbie Coleman of Elkhorn City is considered another favorite. Coleman took first overall in the Elkhorn City Appleblossom 5k run last Saturday with a time of 24:16 for the women's division. Jeff Collier of Whitesburg won first place in the men's run with a time of 16:18. Defending champion Roberts took second with a time of 17:12. Roberts says his leg is around 85 percent better.

Roberts has high praise for the officials of the City of Prestonsburg in the support and help they have given in preparation for the race.

Martin Braves Stun McDowell

A good crowd was out Monday night to take in some Little League baseball action at the Allen Little League park on a nice (which has been rare) evening for baseball.

The Martin Braves broke a 7-7 tie with eight runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to defeat the McDowell Stars 15-9 in the Beaver Creek Little League division.

Chris Cornett, 1-0, went all the way for the Martin Braves in picking up eight strike outs. Brandon Kinzer led the offense for the Braves with two hits, a double and a single, and had two RBI's.

Mark Walters, 0-1, suffered the setback for the Stars. Michael Stephens tripled for the Stars and Brian Adams had a double to drive in three runs.

McDowell had seven hits in the game while the Braves stroked out five hits.

Martin held a 7-4 lead going into the top of the fifth inning. McDowell pushed across three runs to tie the score at 7-7.

The Braves are 1-2 on the season, and McDowell falls to 0-2. McDowell will host the Drift Giants on Thursday at the Minnie Ball Park.

Fishing: A Way Of Life During Retirement Years

You work hard and steady for 29, 27, 44 years. Retirement days come around, you close the store, put up the brooms, lay aside the mail bags. You pick up the rod and reels and head to your favorite fishing hole with two ol' buddies you grew up with.

The sun is shining but it's not too hot. The wind is blowing, but it's not too cool. Ahhh, it's just right to sit on the bank, throw a line in the water and just wait for the fish to bite.

But what if you get no bites, catch no fish? That's all right. You spend the day with your two best friends anyway.

Such is the case with Kendrick Caskey, Arnold McKenzie and Graham Burton, all of West Liberty.

Caskey, 74, worked for 27 years as custodian at Morgan County High School before he finally "laid his brooms and mops down" in favor of the excitement of fishing for trout, bass, and pike.

McKenzie, 75, a retired store owner, figures "44 years is enough," so he closed the old store down, and went fishing.

Burton, 75, is a retired postal clerk. He worked 29 years in the West Liberty post office. When "the government put the food stamps on us, retirement was easy," he says.

The three fishermen have been fishing together for "many years". They've tested the waters of Laurel River, Carr Fork, Fishtrap, Dewey Lake, Paintsville Lake, Dale Hollow, Red River Gorge, Green River and Cave Run.

Last week the three were at the spillway at Dewey Lake, watching staff of the Fish and Wildlife Department deliver 1,000 rainbow trout to restock the lake.

At the age when many give up, these three enjoy not only fishing, but also fellowship with each other.

"We grew up together in West Liberty," said McKenzie, who answers to the nickname "Buck". "We fish a lot together now that we are all retired." McKenzie, who has relatives in Martin and Floyd County, was making only his second fishing trip to Dewey Lake.

"Last time I was here I fished at the edge of the wall and caught my limit in a short time. I thought I would try it here again, but so far we've had no luck." McKenzie decided he wanted to move down stream some. With his arthritis, he managed to get up the bank about the time Caskey came to join him.

"Don't take his picture, he can't even cast," said McKenzie jokingly to a nearby photographer.

"No, but I can imitate those that can," Caskey replied.

Caskey likes to talk about his years as a custodian working around high school students.

"I used to tell them that their high school days would be the best years of their life, and they ought to enjoy them," he says. "They would remark 'Well, if these are the best years of my life I would hate to see the worst.' I would tell them to just wait."

He explained then how many would come back years later and remind him of the advice he gave and how good his advice was.

Caskey enjoys fishing with his friends. "I used to go to Tennessee and fish, but my fishing buddy that went with me died, and I haven't been since."

While at the spillway, Caskey caught three crappie and turned them loose. "I don't fool with them," he explained. "They're not too good to eat." Caskey's wife used to fish with him a lot until she became unable. "Boy, she loves fish to eat. Now I don't like fish that much, but she does."

Burton, who retired from the postal service 12 years ago and remembers when stamps were three cents and post cards were one cent, says he doesn't miss the mail room.

"I prepared myself before retirement not to miss it after I did retire," he says, laughing. "They put so much on us at the post office, such as taking care and issuing food stamps. That's something they shouldn't have done. They made so many changes I could never keep up with them. The postmaster and I retired the same day. We walked out together."

Three old "childhood fishing buddies" spend time together again, doing what they enjoy most - fishing.

Fishing Friends

Arnold McKenzie, 75, left, Kendrick Caskey, 74, center, and Graham Burton, 75, have been "good ol' fishing buddies" since their boyhood days in West Liberty. McKenzie is a retired store owner, Caskey, a retired custodian, and Burton, a retired postal clerk. They have fished together all over Kentucky.

Floyd Jury Finds State Senator Not Guilty
By Bryan Wilkins
East Kentucky Times

Prestonsburg, Ky. — State Sen. Jim Hammond was found not guilty Wednesday on a charge of reckless homicide arising from a motorcycle accident that left one man dead last fall.

After two hours of deliberation the 12 Floyd Circuit Court jurors returned the unanimous not guilty verdict.

The charge against Hammond grew out of a wreck which occurred September 13, 1977 on Ky. 114 near the town of Derosssett, 2 1/2 miles west of the town of Derosssett.

Hammond was fatally injured in a collision with a car which was being driven by a man who was not identified.

The two-day trial heard two different versions of the accident.

Senator Kirby Island, Hammonds' attorney, called Dr. John Haskins, a University of Kentucky civil engineer, as an expert witness. Dr. Haskins testified that the truck was already out of control after hitting a guardrail when it brushed the Hammond car and hit the Derosssett car.

The prosecution which was headed by Fayette County Commonwealth Attorney Larry Roberts, based its case on the testimony of the driver of the first car Hammond passed. Roberts attempted to show that Hammond had enough time and space to pull in behind the Derosssett vehicle, rather than pass it.

Hammond testified Wednesday that he did not see the oncoming truck until he had completed passing the Derosssett car.

Hammond also testified Wednesday that as soon as he saw the truck, he swerved to the left, indicating that he had hit the guardrail.

Haskins testified Wednesday that paint samples he found on the guardrail came from the truck. The guardrail was 180 feet from the site of the collision, he said.

A crowd of Hammond supporters and family left a show when the verdict was read by Special Judge Montgomery Crowell Judge Caswell P. Lane.

In all, seven witnesses took the stand during the trial. A Kentucky State Police trooper testified Tuesday that an accident investigation indicated Hammond's passing did not precipitate the accident.

Roberts had no comment other than the outcome of the trial or whether he would try to appeal the verdict.

John C. Scott
Clerk

Case No. 1002 164-4720

CERTIFICATION

I, John C. Scott, Clerk of the Supreme Court of Kentucky, do hereby certify the records in this office show Jimmy Martin Hammond having met the necessary requirements for admission to the Bar, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution of this Commonwealth on April 6, 1972, and thereupon was admitted to practice as an attorney before this and all other courts of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and certify that Jimmy Martin Hammond is an attorney at law in good standing, as such, in all the courts of the Commonwealth.

I further certify that the Supreme Court is the Court of highest jurisdiction for the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Done at the Capitol at Frankfort, Kentucky this 16th day of November, 1988.

JOHN C. SCOTT
CLERK

BY Betty Whittier
Chief Deputy Clerk

Done at the Capitol at Frankfort, Kentucky this 16th day of November, 1988.

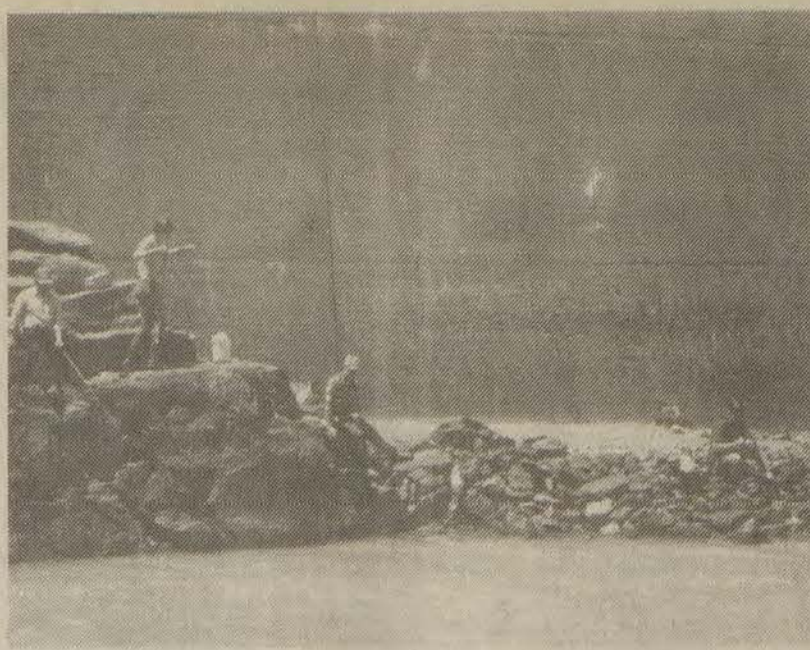

1. That the car accident was not Jim Hammond's fault nor caused by him and no alcohol was involved, that he did not collide with or hit the Derosssett car but in fact was hit on his side of the road by the Powerline Construction truck and was knocked over an embankment, and that the Power Line Construction truck hit the Derosssett's vehicle on their side of the road.
2. That Jim Hammond was completely restored to the practice of law and is an attorney in good standing in the Courts of the Commonwealth of Kentucky and the Federal Judicial System, being a practicing attorney since April 6, 1972.
3. That State Sen. Jim Hammond was absent only two days from the legislative session in 1976 - February 12-13 - because of the death of his father Martin Hammond of Martin Kentucky.
4. That Jim Hammond never used his position to buy or lease up right of way for new roads - when his home was taken from him, he sold it to the state for the purchase price plus the interest he had paid on his home mortgage plus the cost of improvements he had made and his moving expenses; and he had represented his clients, people of Floyd County, in jury trials for payment from the state for their homes and property taken and/or damaged by highway construction only.
5. That the real issues in this campaign are:
 - A. A drug free county and government that provides safe neighborhoods in which all the people of Floyd County can take a deserved and earned pride.
 - B. Good Paying Jobs for all the people.

Stocking Trout at Dewey Lake

Waiting For The Trout

Fishermen lined the banks at the Spillway at Dewey Lake last Thursday in anticipation of the release of 1000 rainbow trout by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife. The trout were released around 1 p.m.

Frog Season, Warts & All, Just Around The Corner

Hungry for frog legs sizzling in the pan? Beginning at noon on Friday, May 19, bullfrog season opens and continues through the last day of October. The daily (noon to noon) creel limit is 15; possession limit is 30. "Lots of folks aren't sure whether taking frogs requires a fishing or hunting license," says Carolyn Lynn of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "Let's clear up the confusion. The kind of license needed depends on the method used to take frogs."

Lynn says that for froggers who use a gun or a bow and arrow, a hunting license is required. Taking frogs with a pole and line requires a fishing license.

"If you use a gig or just your hands, either a fishing or hunting license is valid," she says.

The last day to legally gig or snag rough fish this year is May 10.

The first ship to pass through the Panama Canal was the Alex Lavalley on January 7, 1914.

Allen Park: It's Now A Showplace

Sports Editor

What used to be a piece of barren, empty land has become a showplace for parks in our area. — the Allen Park offers the family a place to go for recreation time together.

The park has a place for high school, Babe Ruth, and Little League baseball. There are outdoor basketball courts, as well as tennis courts. A pavilion is available for shows, singing, and family gatherings. The convention center is available for family reunions and conventions, and the swimming pool offers everyone a chance to cool off on those hot summer days.

However, something new has been added (or reopened) at the park. The golf course that has been closed for many years will be reopened this Saturday, May 13 at 1 p.m., according to County Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo.

"We will open at 1 p.m. sharp," Stumbo says. "We're going to have some golfers to tee off as part of our ceremonies Saturday. We will have some special guests here for the opening of the course."

This Thursday, May 11, 15 golf carts will be arriving to be housed in the new "cart building" that is being constructed now. A new pro shop is being furnished, and will offer equipment sales and rental, as well as a concession stand. The golf carts are purchased on a lease-purchase basis.

"It is no cost to the county," Stumbo said. "The carts will pay for themselves in rentals."

The course will be a nine holes without sand traps. The rates for the course will be kept the same as those at Jenny Wiley State Park's golf course, according to Stumbo.

"This course will enhance the other two courses," Stumbo says. "We want to have some tournament play, perhaps using both courses."

"The Department of Parks has promised me that if we get the course opened that they would schedule the ladies state tournament here. That way, we would use both courses."

The course has been funded by grants from various government agencies.

The golf course has been named the John M. Stumbo Beaver Valley Golf Course.

"Gene Ball has really done the job here. He has really worked hard to get this together," Stumbo stated. "He's run soil samples, seeding, chemical testing, and just overseen the whole project."

"We're going to put some shrubs and bushes in on the course to add some color to it," Ball says. "We've got a lot to do yet. We want to be careful that the course is taken care of, especially by those who use it."

Stumbo is elated over the development of the golf course, but he takes a lot of pride in the other parts of the park as well.

"We want people to use the facilities here," the Judge says. "It's here for their use. They can use anything here for family reunions, group gatherings, and class outings. It's all here for them."

County Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo looks at the new golf course at Allen Park.

"My wife and I brought our two grandchildren down here and found there was really nothing here for our youngsters," he explained. "So I wanted to do something about it. I think Little League is great. It brings people here. The high schools use the field, and Alice Lloyd College uses the park. It's just a great place to bring the family."

"I wholeheartedly support this park," Stumbo exclaimed. "I believe idle time makes trouble. Here, our young people can come and have fun and enjoy themselves."

What about future projects at the Allen Park?

"We are putting in a walking track. We have it gravelled now, but we hope to be able to have the paths paved," the county judge executive says. "Our next project is to build a picnic shelter. We're asking for a grant now to build it with. We want to build concession stands with rest rooms for the Little League, Babe Ruth and high school teams to use to sell refreshments in."

"If any group wants to have a gospel sing they are welcome to use the pavilion. The ladies teach swimming lessons during the summer from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m., at which time the pool opens to the public," Stumbo continues.

"Mike Auxier has been in charge of the grounds and is doing a tremendous job," he adds.

Let all those who are in sorrow be consoled...

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT ONE

On Tuesday, May 23rd, you will make an important decision. That decision will be to change your magistrate or keep your tax money in the hands of a competent leader.

During my time in office I have turned creekbeds into roads, paved highways, scattered gravel, upgraded recreational facilities, built parks, pulled ditches, removed snow, graded roads, installed drain pipe, upgraded school facilities, and aided volunteer fire depts. and the senior citizens. I have worked in cooperation with city, state, and other county officials to create a Floyd Co. we can all be proud of.

I have done all of this while managing your money with honesty and efficiency. Audit after audit the state has praised Floyd County for the financial management of your funds. All these things have happened during a time of cut-off in revenue sharing for county governments.

I approach the job full time and with the utmost sincerity for the people of District One. So when you go inside the voting booth, let honesty and service to the people be known. Pull lever #6 and keep District One moving forward.

Your Vote Will Be Deeply Appreciated

Sincerely,
Gerald DeRossett

Kentucky Fishing Report

Ball Four

Jamie Lawson, McDowell, takes a pitch from Duran Newsome in the third inning for ball four to load the bases for the Daredevils. Newsome experienced some wildness, but recovered to win the game 5-3.

Fishing activity over the May 6-7 Derby weekend was reported light to heavy in different areas of the state. Cold and rainy weather kept anglers in some areas off the water.

Crappie and largemouth bass continued to be reported most active during this period. The lake-by-lake report:

Dewey Lake: Largemouth bass were taking spinnerbaits, crankbaits and plastic worms 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline and over submerged trees; crappie were hitting minnows 5-10 feet deep in brush piles and around stick-ups; muddy, rising, four feet above summer pool and 62 degrees.

Paintsville Lake: Kentucky bass were hitting spinnerbaits and crankbaits 15-20 feet deep off rocky points and along shoreline cover; largemouth bass were hitting jig-and-pig combinations 15-20 feet deep off rocky points and along drop-offs; murky, rising, one half foot above summer pool and 58 degrees.

Fishtrap: Crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 5-10 feet deep over brush piles; largemouth bass were striking crankbaits 1-5 feet deep off rocky points; clear to murky, falling, seven feet below summer pool and 58 degrees.

Kentucky: Largemouth bass were active on plastic worms and buzzbaits from the surface to five feet deep over grass beds; crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 15-20 feet over creek channels; clear, stable at summer pool and 65 degrees.

Barkley: Crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 5-10 feet deep over drop-offs and brush piles; largemouth bass were hitting plastic worms and crankbaits 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline and off rocky points; clear, stable at summer pool and 66 degrees.

Barren River: Largemouth bass were hitting top water lures and spinnerbaits from the surface to five feet deep along shoreline cover; bluegill were taking crickets 5-10 feet deep in the backs of coves; clear, falling, 16 feet above summer pool and 60 degrees.

Nolin: Largemouth bass were hitting crankbaits and spinnerbaits 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline and off rocky points; crappie were taking minnows and jigs 1-5 feet deep over submerged trees and brush piles; clear, rising, one half foot above summer pool and 57 degrees.

Rough River: Crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 10-15 feet deep along stump rows; largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits and plastic worms 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline; clear, stable at one half foot above summer pool and 57 degrees.

Taylorsville: Crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 1-5 feet deep over brush piles and submerged trees; largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits and jigs 1-5 feet deep off shallow banks; murky, stable at summer pool and 61 degrees.

Herrington: White bass were hitting jugs trolled 5-10 feet deep along creek channels; largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits and jig-and-pig combinations 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline; clear, stable at one foot above summer pool and 60 degrees.

Green River: Largemouth, smallmouth and Kentucky bass were hitting crankbaits, plastic worms and jig-and-pig combinations 1-10 feet deep off rocky points, along stump rows and the shoreline; crappie were hitting minnows 1-10 feet deep over brush piles and submerged trees; clear, stable at summer pool and 62 degrees.

Upper Cumberland: Striped bass were hitting minnows and crankbaits 1-25 feet deep in open water; largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits 1-5 feet deep around shoreline bushes; clear, stable at summer pool and 61 degrees.

Lower Cumberland: Striped bass were hitting live bait 10-25 feet deep in open water; largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits and crankbaits 1-5 feet deep off rocky points and along the shoreline; clear, rising, one foot above summer pool and 60 degrees.

Dale Hollow: Largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits and plastic worms 1-5 feet deep over submerged trees and along stump rows; bluegill were hitting nightcrawlers 5-10 feet deep over brush piles and submerged trees; clear, rising, at summer pool and 66 degrees.

Cave Run: Crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 5-10 feet deep over brush piles and submerged trees; largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits and plastic worms 1-5 feet deep over brush piles and along the shoreline; clear, falling, one foot above summer pool and 63 degrees.

Try Again

The Martin Pee Wees baseball teams got in some games this past week despite the rainy weather. This player for the Rangers looks for another swing after missing on this one. The Rangers won over the Colonels 21-5.

Vote #10 On The Ballot

Fellow voters of District #3, I have been out talking to the people about the office of Magistrate.

We have discussed the problems of good clean water, waste disposal, roads, streams and the people's input into our county government.

My job when elected Magistrate is to see that these issues are brought before the Fiscal Court, from a good water system on Arkansas Creek to decent roads at the head of Skull.

Voters take the time to think about each candidate's qualifications, character and personality before you cast your vote. Bring back honesty and integrity to the office of Magistrate. Our party must unite behind one candidate, make me that candidate.

"Anything that Karen went at she gave 110 percent," Coach Clay said. "Union is getting a fine player. Karen hasn't reached her full potential yet, she's going to get better."
 "I hope she has a good college career. She is satisfied about it, she feels comfortable about her decision and that's a big part of it," the Lady Blackcats mentor says. "She's been with me four years, she and Michelle Clemmons. It's going to be different next year without her."
 Clay cites the enthusiasm "she has left for the other kids to follow."
 "Karen was looked up to by our younger players. That will help them next year in coming back. She left her excitement and enthusiasm for the others to follow."

 "We were close and I felt like a mom to her," Clay said.

Bobcats Win 16th Over Magoffin, 9-4

The Magoffin County Hornets made their second trip to Allen Park in a week's time and for the second time fell to a Floyd County team, this time the Betsy Layne Bobcats.

Senior Barry Hamilton got three hits and drove in three runs, and senior Duran Newsome won his fourth game of the season without a loss in striking out 10 Hornet batters as the Bobcats defeated Magoffin County 9-4.

Betsy Layne scored three runs in each of the second and fifth innings and scored single runs in the first, third, and fourth.

Magoffin County got all four of its runs in the second when Roger Conley lined a Newsome fast ball over the left field fence, with the bases loaded, for a grand slam home run.

Betsy Layne picked up an unearned run in the first when Chris Bias reached second after the left fielder misplayed his fly ball. Hamilton then singled, bringing in Bias and giving Betsy Layne a 1-0 lead.

Jarrod Howard and Steve Howard opened the Hornets' second with base hits. Scott Conley grounded back to the pitcher for a force out of Jarrod Howard at third base. After Chris Reed struck out, Jeff Heaton walked to load the bases. Roger Conley then lined his home run over the left field fence, 290' away, for a grand slam home run, to give the Hornets a short lived 4-1 lead.

In the Bobcats' second, Chad Hamilton got a one out single. Sophomore Keith Hall walked, and Bias lined a base hit to left to score Hamilton. Both Hall and Bias came home on a base hit by Barry Hamilton, to tie the game at 4-4.

Chad Hamilton's single in the bottom of the third inning, following a base hit by Adam Gearheart who also stole second, gave the Bobcats a 5-4 lead. Betsy Layne got a run in the fourth when Newsome reached on an error by the right fielder and scored on Tommy Hall's double to make it 6-4.

Betsy Layne struck for three in the bottom of the fifth. Gearheart doubled and Chris Newsome walked. Both scored on a double by Bias. Tommy Hall's second double brought in Bias with the Bobcats' ninth run.

Magoffin County drops to 4-12 for the season.

Faye Hunt of Prestonsburg returns a serve against Paintsville Monday at Archer Park. The Prestonsburg Women's team defeated Paintsville 7-2.

Prestonsburg Sweeps Twin Bill From Millard

The rains didn't come early enough for the Millard Mustangs Thursday afternoon at Allen Ball Park as the Mustangs dropped a double-header to the Prestonsburg Blackcats 21-1 and 7-5.

Prestonsburg sent 20 batters to the plate in the first inning in banging out 12 hits while scoring 13 runs enroute to a 21-1 first game victory.

Senior Todd Justice limited the Mustangs to one hit while striking out seven batters. Justice went four-for-four at the plate also including two doubles. Tim Trusty also had a perfect four-for-four day with a double and three RBI's. Designated hitter Stuart Robinson hit a home run in the Blackcat fourth, while going three-for-three.

Prestonsburg picked up six more runs in the fourth inning sending nine batters to bat. The Blackcats collected six hits in the inning. Justice retired 15 of the minimum of 18 batters he faced, yielding a single in the second, a walk in the fifth, and a batter reached on an error in the second.

Chris Stone had a triple in the first inning, driving in three runs. Thomas Nairn also tripled and picked up two RBIs.

The Mustangs scored their lone run in the top of the second on an error on the first baseman. With two out, Keith Coleman lined a single to right to score Steve Damron.

Prestonsburg got two in the bottom of the third on singles by Trusty and Justice and a sacrifice fly by Nairn.

In the Blackcats' fourth, nine batters paraded to the batter's box as Prestonsburg batted around in scoring six runs on five hits. Three straight doubles by Trusty, Justice, Nairn, and a home run by Robinson put the Blackcats up 21-1.

Justice retired Millard in order in the fourth and fifth innings in picking up the win. Terry Little got the loss for Millard.

In the second game, Prestonsburg sent 11 batters to the batter's box in scoring all seven runs in the second inning on four hits enroute to a 7-5 second game victory over the Mustangs.

Tim Watkins was the winning pitcher while Steve Deskins suffered the setback. Each team collected four hits each in the second contest.

Millard took a 3-0 lead over Prestonsburg with three in the top of the second inning as nine batters made appearances at the plate. Kenny Damron opened the inning with a double and was picked off second base by Watkins.

Deskins, Robert Chaney, and Keith Coleman drew walks to load the bases. Deskins scored on a wild pitch. Chaney and Coleman came home on a single by Keith Justice.

Millard added two more in the top of the third on base hit by Deskins and a Coleman double.

Watkins struck out the side in the first innings and fanned eight for the game.

Prestonsburg's Watkins had a double in the second inning driving in two runs in helping his own cause.

The Blackcats, with the double header sweep, finishes the regular season with a 17-9 record.

Martin Reds Down Martin Braves, 10-7

The Little League season is in full swing this spring with all the Little League teams in action. The Martin Reds are in full swing also with their bats.

Kevin Robinson, 1-0, who struggled in the second, went the distance for the Reds in striking out nine Braves batters as the Reds took the Little League game 10-7.

Toby Robinson led the Reds' offense with a two for three evening and drove in four runs. Toby Robinson also stole home in the fourth inning to give the Reds a one-run lead.

The Martin Braves held a 7-4 lead going into the bottom of the fourth inning. The Reds loaded the bases in the inning and Toby Robinson cleared the bases with a double to tie the score at 7-7. Robinson then stole home to give the Reds an 8-7 lead.

The Reds scored two other runs in the bottom of the fifth.

The Braves opened up a good lead with six runs in the second inning. Robbie Merion and Jason Bevins had doubles for the Braves in picking up two RBI's each. Bo Tackett tripled for the Braves, leading off the second.

Charles Twist, 0-1, took the loss for the Braves in recording six strike outs.

The Martin Reds are 1-0 and will play Maytown Thursday at Martin. The Braves go 0-1 and will be in action Thursday against Wayland at Wayland.

Democrat Candidate For Magistrate, Dist. 1

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE

(Pol. adv. paid for by the candidate, 11-pd.)

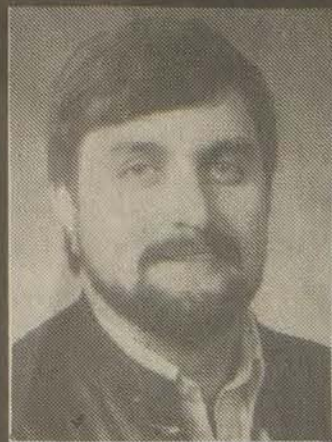

Re-Elect Gerald DeRossett for Magistrate

We are taking this means through the newspaper to ask you our friends and relatives to go vote for my nephew Gerald. Gerald is the youngest son of my late brother Alex DeRossett. I have been around Gerald all of his life, and he is very close to me. I know beyond a shadow of a doubt (and it speaks for itself) that Gerald is the most qualified, honest, and experienced man for the office of magistrate.

We are moving in the right direction in District #1. Let's keep it moving.

Rev. and Mrs. Jack DeRossett

Paid for by Rev. Jack DeRossett 5-10-2p

Re-elect OWENS Magistrate

Number 2 On The Ballot—Number 1 For All The People!

My opponent stated last week that "Improvements are being done as usual to areas that should have been improved 3 1/2 years ago." I've worked real hard for the last 3 1/2 years from Wayland to Allen. Maybe he don't come out of his dentist office long enough to look, but I'm sure these people that live in the head of these hollows could tell you the difference. I noticed in another opponent's, Kenneth Roberts, ad last week that said "Do you people think a dentist is going to give up what he makes for a magistrate's job? There is a lot of difference in pulling teeth or filling one than building a road around the face of a mountain. Do you think he could give you people justice?" I never thought that I would ever agree with him on anything, but I believe that is one time me and him agree. I heard R. D. "Doc" Marshall's ad on the radio. He promised to see that "ALL roads are paved, not graveled." People, LET'S BE REAL! You know and I know that he couldn't blacktop every graveled road in Dist. 2 because there's approx. 500 miles of dirt roads in Floyd County and for him to promise this is just a "political trick" to try to get your votes. With him being a dentist, I doubt very seriously if he could operate a backhoe, grader, dozer, or even a dump truck. I CAN and I DO. I have been a 1st class diesel mechanic and heavy equipment operator for the last 12 years. I DO KNOW HOW to build roads and clear snow from the roadways. I have got the backbone to STAND UP for Dist. 2 for what is right. I'VE PROVEN THIS by fighting to keep out-of-state and out-of-county garbage out of Floyd County.

In the Primary Election in 1985, when I won, there were 11 Democratic candidates seeking the office of Magistrate. This election there are 8 candidates (including myself) running for this office. Out of the 8 there are 3 that I beat the last time that are running again. These are—R. D. "Doc" Marshall who ran second; Kenneth Roberts who ran fourth; and James Slone who ran sixth. James Slone only got 196 votes out of the 10 precincts counting absentees. He got 100 of these out of the Bosco Precinct. People, I think you should vote for someone that CAN WIN, someone you CAN talk to, and someone who HAS PROVEN he CAN get the job done. Out of the 7 people that are running against me right now, I have blacktopped the road by the houses or by the businesses of 5 of these 7 opponents during my 3 1/2 year term as Magistrate. These are: Sammy Bentley—Steels Creek of Wayland; Danny Allen—Northern Camp of Salt Lick; Bosco Hill to old Bosco Bridge when James Slone run his store; Doc Ed Moore—Cracker Bottom Road and Cracker Bottom Block where Doc Ed Moore lived at this time; and street by R. D. Marshall's dentist office at Allen. I've been as fair as I can with EVERYONE in my district—from one end to the other. People, if you vote for someone that you know can't win, you're just cutting votes off me. All the "big wheels", some of the rich people, and some of the "politicians" are behind R. D. Marshall, a dentist from Allen. That's why he ran second the last time 3 1/2 years ago. I had to fight the money, politicians and the same people then that I am having to fight now. I have had 3 1/2 years to blacktop roads, gravel roads, ditch & put drains in roads, build bridges, dig graves and fix roads to cemeteries, plus clear snow in the winter months. I have made a lot of friends that I didn't have before and I believe that IF WE STICK TOGETHER and VOTE TOGETHER (and not split the vote), that we will continue to have a Magistrate from the MIDDLE of the district and not one from the lower end.

Hello, my name is Molly Owens. I live at Langley, Ky. I own and operate Molly's Beauty Shop and Molly's Florist at Langley. I am the widow of the late Ralph Owens. I have been a member of the Freewill Baptist at Estill for over 30 years. I am the mother of 5 kids—Lema Bradley who is married to Bob Bradley; Priscilla Martin who is married to Dennis

Martin; JACKIE EDFORD OWENS, MAGISTRATE—Dist. 2 who is married to Hattie Cooley Owens; Joe Owens who is married to Teresa Conley Owens; Ina Robinson who is married to Tim Robinson. My son—JACKIE EDFORD "Everett" OWENS is running for RE-ELECTION for MAGISTRATE—Dist. 2. I feel that he HAS PROVEN to the people that he is a GOOD MAGISTRATE. By the way he has done these things:

- ★Fought to blacktop roads that had always been dirt before.
- ★Fought for fire hydrants for Dist. 2 so it would save lives and reduce insurance rates.
- ★He has red-dogged and graveled roads that use to be yellow dirt.
- ★He has fought to keep out-of-state and out-of-county garbage out of Floyd County.
- ★He has helped dig many graves and fixed many roads to cemeteries.
- ★He has gotten out in some of the worst weather to clear snow so people could get out to work, to doctors, or to pharmacies to get their medicine the next day.

I would like to ask ALL MY FRIENDS and FAMILY for their VOTE and SUPPORT for my son JACKIE EDFORD OWENS—MAGISTRATE—Dist. 2.

TO THE PEOPLE OF DIST. 2:

Our names are Gorman and Edna Cooley. We live at Prater Fork on Brush Creek. Our parents are the late Oak and Rose (Osborne) Cooley of Hippo and the late John Wess and Hattie (Allen) Prater of Prater Fork. I (Edna) have been a member of the Regular Baptist Church for over 40 years. We are the parents of nine children:

Our son-in-law, JACKIE EDFORD "Everett" OWENS is running for RE-ELECTION as MAGISTRATE in Dist. 2. We would appreciate the VOTE and SUPPORT of our friends and family.

P'burg Holds Off BLHS Bobcats, 5-3

The Prestonsburg Blackcats, behind the three-hit pitching of John Clark and Daniel Sparks' home run, scored three runs in the top of the fourth inning to defeat the Betsy Layne Bobcats 5-3 in a good high school baseball game last week at Allen Park.

Clark recorded four strike outs. Chad Hamilton suffered the loss for the Bobcats.

Clark retired the first six batters he faced in the game while the Blackcats scored a run in the second. Stuart Robinson drew a lead off walk. After Thomas Nairn hit to right, Sparks lined a single to left. Jason Storey forced Robinson at third. Eric Blackburn singled to right to bring in Sparks with the game's first run.

Prestonsburg went on top 2-0 with a run in the top of the third. Tim Trusty drew a one out walk and stole second. Todd Justice lined a base hit to center to pick up an RBI. Robinson then hit into a 1-5-4 double play to end the inning.

The Bobcats tied the game with two in the bottom of the third. Chad Hamilton lined a double to center leading off the inning. Chris Newsome reached on an error, scoring Hamilton. Newsome advanced to third on a pass ball and came to score and tie the game when Chris Bias hit into a 5-4-3 double play. Barry Hamilton grounded to third to end the inning.

Prestonsburg struck for three runs in its half of the fourth inning to take a 5-2 lead, as the Blackcats sent eight batters to the plate. Sparks led off the inning with a home run over the left field fence. After Jason Storey grounded to first, Blackburn drew a walk. Ray Collins singled.

Chris Stone followed him with a base hit, scoring Blackburn. Trusty hit a fly ball to right for the second out, and Justice hit a liner that the center fielder could not handle, scoring Collins.

In the bottom of the six, the Bobcats managed to score a run on a one out double by Chris Bias. Bias went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a ground ball to first. Clark struck out Duran Newsome to end the sixth.

Betsy Layne could not score in the seventh and dropped the contest 5-3 to Prestonsburg.

Support And Re-Elect Henry C. Hale For Sheriff of Floyd County

To The Voters of Floyd County:
 Friends, we will be going to the polls on may 23 to elect our county officials for the next 4 years. These votes we give are important and one of the most important is the vote you will give for the office of sheriff of Floyd County. I would ask you to give this decision careful, thoughtful and consideration. I depend on your good judgement to re-elect me as your sheriff.

Most of you know me. I was born and raised on Middle Creek section of Floyd County, the son of James and Susie Stephens Hale. I have lived here all my life. My wife is Winifred Osborne Hale and we have six children. Jim, the oldest, and United States Air Force Pilot, is stationed in California; Tommy, Gorge, Ben and Kay live and work in Floyd County; Jon is still in school. Like most of you, I have worked hard through the years to raise and educate my children and am proud of my family.

I was elected State Representative for three terms and sheriff of Floyd County three terms. I am also a World War II Veteran. I believe I have upgraded the office of sheriff of Floyd County during my terms, but there are still many goals and programs I would like to continue. With your help and support, let us continue with our progress in law enforcement.

Thank You
Henry C. Hale
 Sheriff of Floyd County

MOUNTAIN CHRONICLE

Investigation Continues

$25,483 MISSING FROM COURT CLERK'S OFFICE

Floyd County's well-known County Court Clerk C. Ollie Robinson passed away on February 22nd and was replaced officially by Tommy Lafferty Junior on February 23rd, after his appointment by Executive registration in each county is routinely placed in an interim bank account, then transferred with a report, to the state every week.

The money from Floyd County for that period is missing, according to state officials. The state says that it has received the forms on how much was collected during the period, but has not received the money.

An official investigation is being conducted to determine the whereabouts of the missing money.

The monies collected during the period from February 7th through February 22nd in Floyd County amounts to $25,483.55.

Floyd County clerk subject of 174 forgery allegations

The state police documents said Boyd admitted typing the false registration receipts for her uncle, sometimes at a rate of seven or eight a day for a period of two years.

Boyd would not admit to any wrongdoing in the matter, the investigation report said. "The only cause for this action was that it was her duty to do as she was instructed," Boyd said.

Boyd told a reporter: "I'd say the reason they didn't prosecute me was that I was just following the boss's orders."

"That's what you do, do you?" she asked a reporter. "Because if you don't, you won't be there very long."

Boyd said she never asked if what she was doing was illegal. "I didn't ask any questions," she said.

Dave Lewis, manager of the special investigations branch of the attorney general's office, presented the results of an 18-month wide scale investigation into financial practices by Floyd County officials in the grand jury. But he bluntly said, "No statement" when asked recently why he withheld two false copies of evidence against Boyd.

Assistant Attorney General Harbore Whitley, who helped Lewis prosecute the case, also declined to comment.

Newsweek attempts in recent weeks to obtain comment from Armstrong, both in Franklin and

In a synopsis of the investigation, Bowers wrote that Boyd typed the fictitious truck registration receipts, knowing that they were illegal and that they would result in the state government's receiving much smaller fees.

Carla turned over $74,000.00 in excess fees in 1985. But in 1986 she only turned in $9,566.00. And in 1989, only $15,500.00. What happened to the rest of the taxpayer's money?

Do you, the taxpayers of Floyd County, think it is right for us to pay hard earned money for someone else's luxuries?

BELOW ARE EXCERPTS FROM A NEWS STORY THAT APPEARED IN THE MAY 7TH, 1986 ISSUE OF THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES

Howell Advises Probe of Bolton's '85 Expenditures

Floyd Fiscal Court should "take much stronger control" of the county clerk's spending and may do well to have the state auditor or attorney-general investigate the clerk's books, an official with the state Department of Local Government wrote in a letter to the county judge-executive last week.

Al Howell, a supervisor in the department, cited as evidence of "questionable" spending a tripling in the cost of supplies for the clerk's office between 1984 and 1985 and a doubling in the cost of office equipment.

Although state law requires that items over $7500 be purchased only after advertising for bids, fiscal court minutes show no evidence of bids being taken last year for new equipment in the clerk's office. Howell noted in the April 28 letter which also bears the signatures of state Local Finance Officer Robert L. Purdom and Local Government field representative Dan Tuttle.

As a result of the increase in spending fees to be turned over to the county, which add up to only $13,113 for 1985, have dropped off sharply by comparison with recent years. "Thomas Lafferty, Jr. turned in $70,357 over 10 months in 1983, and Bolton herself had $78,039 left over in 1984—and have embarrassed county officials, who drew up this year's budget expecting that they would receive at least $60,000 from the clerk's office in excess fees for 1985, Howell said. "The loss of anticipated revenue affects the county as a whole rather than the clerk's office," he added.

Howell, who was the state official who first raised the questions that resulted in a lengthy state police probe of the 1982 county administration, also suggested that the clerk may be paying her employees more than she is entitled to and may be improperly listing part-time employees as full-time workers for the sake of receiving county paid fringe benefits.

In a telephone interview later, Howell elaborated on the charges, claiming that the jump in expenditures on office supplies—from $20,070 in 1984 to $59,545 in 1985 suggest that the clerk, "just went wild." The cost of office equipment purchases rose from $16,716 to $31,935 over the same period.

The auditor or attorney general should be asked to find out who sold the supplies and equipment to the clerk's office, said Howell, who implied that the vendor in many instances would turn out to be Joe Bolton, the clerk's husband.

Although he conceded it was more a matter of concern for Harp Enterprises than for county or state government, Howell raised again allegations initially made by Harp's attorneys several months ago that Joe Bolton was added to the county clerk's payroll while he was still being paid by Harp, a Lexington firm that supplies clerks' offices with ballots and other printed materials.

The clerk acknowledged earlier that she had overlooked state bidding law in making purchases during the past two years, including the purchase of nearly $50,000 worth of microfilming services from a firm represented by her husband. But she said she misunderstood the law until it was explained to her by state auditors last year.

While Joe Bolton, then still a Harp employee, worked earlier this year as a $1300-a-month deputy clerk, he insisted he was working two jobs, not being paid two salaries for the same hours. He has since been dropped from the clerk's payroll.

In the face of Harp's insistence that he work exclusively for them, Bolton split with his old firm, setting up a rival firm of his own, Kentuckiana Election Service Company. The two firms are apparently competing keenly for business in eastern Kentucky counties, including Floyd.

In March, Harp Enterprises submitted an unprecedented $2077 bid to print ballots and set up election machines for the primary election here this May—elections that traditionally cost three or four times that amount, but Harp claims a newly automated printing plant has cut their costs dramatically—but the county clerk said she had already awarded the election contract to her husband's firm. While no contract price had been agreed on, it would not be cheaper than the price offered by Harp, the clerk acknowledged.

"I tried to give an objective report, to tell the county what we recommend," Howell said, adding, "I think the court is probably going to turn it over to the attorney-general. There has been just too much discrepancy over the past two years."

Of the clerk's claim that the probe was motivated by personal animosity, Howell said, "I think she's grasping at straws. I don't know what they're trying to hide."

The state official was especially critical of the clerk's claim that she was ignorant of state bidding laws. "I think that's a pretty lame excuse," he said.

"She's been taking the minutes at fiscal court meetings for 4 1/2 years. They do bidding all the time. She's got to have known you have to bid."

"In any event, ignorance is no excuse for violating state law, Howell said. "It's her responsibility as an elected official to know what the law is."

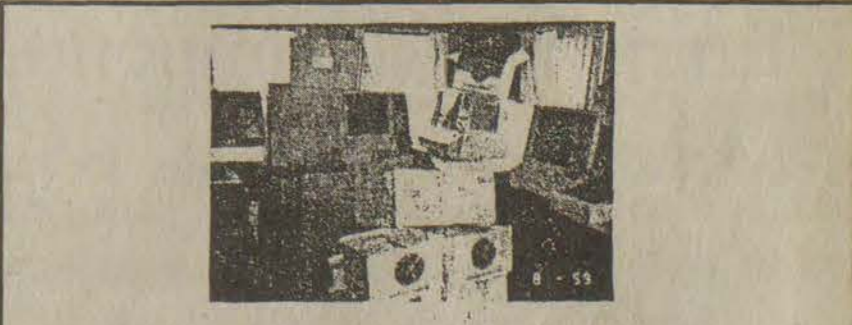

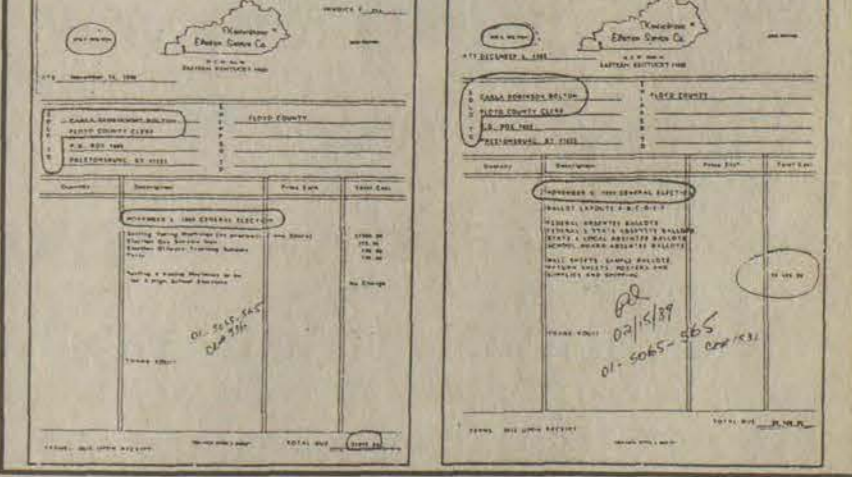

In urging the judge-executive to exercise greater control over the clerk's spending, Howell said, "It's all county money. I want the fiscal court to say how much she can spend. She can't spend it anyway she wants to. The court should put a lid and cap on it."

Joe Bolton stated in the March 29, 1989 issue of the Floyd County Times that the microfilming total cost was only $9,223.52. Is this a true statement?

Carla and Joe Bolton, owners of the Kentuckiana Election Service, charged the taxpayers of Floyd County $8,520.00 to service the 1988 Gen. Election, and according to an article in the Floyd County Times, they charged over $5,000.00 to service only 8 precincts in the special wet and dry election held on April 22nd, 1989.

Harp Enterprises said they could service the whole county for only $2,077.00, in March of 1985, but Carla said she had already awarded the contract for that election to her husband at a much higher price.

Bidding on any service over $7,500.00 must be open to the public, according to state law. As everyone can see, your personal company submitted these two separate bills, totaling $8,520.00 for the same election. Is this a way for a County Clerk to get around the $7,500.00 bidding law? How much of the taxpayer's money has been paid to your company, Kentuckiana Election Service since 1986?

FRONT ROOM—Consists of Micro-Film Reader Printers owned by the county. License Plates to be picked up by Dept. of Transportation.

This is a picture of the front room in a trailer used for storage by the County Clerk's Office, and paid for by the taxpayer's of Floyd County, at a cost of $620.00 a month. Why are all of these micro-film Reader Printers, which cost the taxpayers of Floyd County thousands of dollars, sitting unused? Carla, did you buy these machines from your own company?

As your next clerk, I will see that your tax dollars are managed properly.

155 Receive Degrees

Community College Graduation Exercises Held

Prestonsburg Community College held its graduation ceremony on Friday, May 5, at 7 p.m. at Prestonsburg High School Gymnasium, conferring degrees on 155 students.

The guest speaker was Harry Caudill, author of "Night Comes To The Cumberland" and local lawyer; he spoke to the graduates about the importance of remaining in Eastern Kentucky, and using what they have learned to improve the area.

Due to Dr. Henry Campbell, president, and David Allen, dean of academic affairs, being ill, John Herald, dean of student affairs, presided at the ceremony, and the degrees were conferred by Sandra Robinson, head librarian.

During the ceremony, several students were recognized for their academic excellence and received scholarships to further their education. Brenda C. Music, counselor/financial aid coordinator announced the recipients, who were:

Edith Eileen Roe, the University of Kentucky's most prestigious scholarship, the Otis A. Singletary Scholarship for Academic Excellence. This scholarship covers the cost of tuition, room and board, and books for two years at U.K. Roe resides in Paintsville with her husband, Louis G. Roe and family, and plans to become a physician's assistant.

Michael Duane Maynard, son of Ray and Maynard of Hager Hill, a the College of Engineering Thurston Strunk Scholarship in the amount of $1000; he plans to attend the University of Kentucky to finish his degree in electrical engineering.

Philip Blankenship, a Transportation Scholarship by the Commonwealth of Kentucky Transportation Cabinet. He is the son of Bennie and Wanda Blankenship and plans to complete his degree in civil engineering at U.K.

Christine Ann Float, a $1000 scholarship sponsored by the William and Ocie Downey Endowment Fund to continue her education in civil engineering. She is the daughter of Jack and Charlotte Float of Staffordsville and plans to attend U.K.

Lisa Ann Rice, an Appalachian Honors Scholarship from Pikeville College, where she plans to complete her degree in education. She is the wife of Jeffrey Rice of Hi Hat.

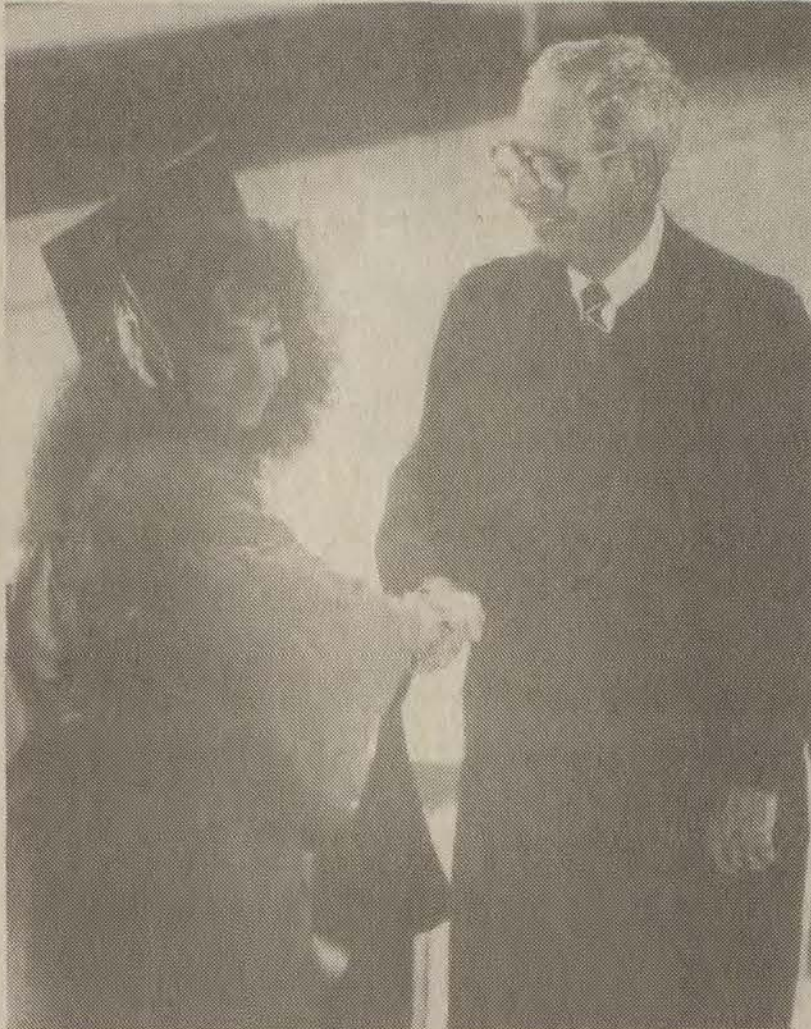

Deborah Pam Blackburn, a scholarship from Morehead University to continue her studies in elementary education. She is the daughter of Lorraine Stiltner of Shelbiana.

Regina Lamore, a presidential scholarship from Eastern Kentucky University, where she will complete her degree in law enforcement. She is the daughter of Goldie Collinsworth of Salyersville.

Sherry Rae Howard, an Appalachian Honors Scholarship from Pikeville College. She is the wife of Graydon Howard of Garrett.

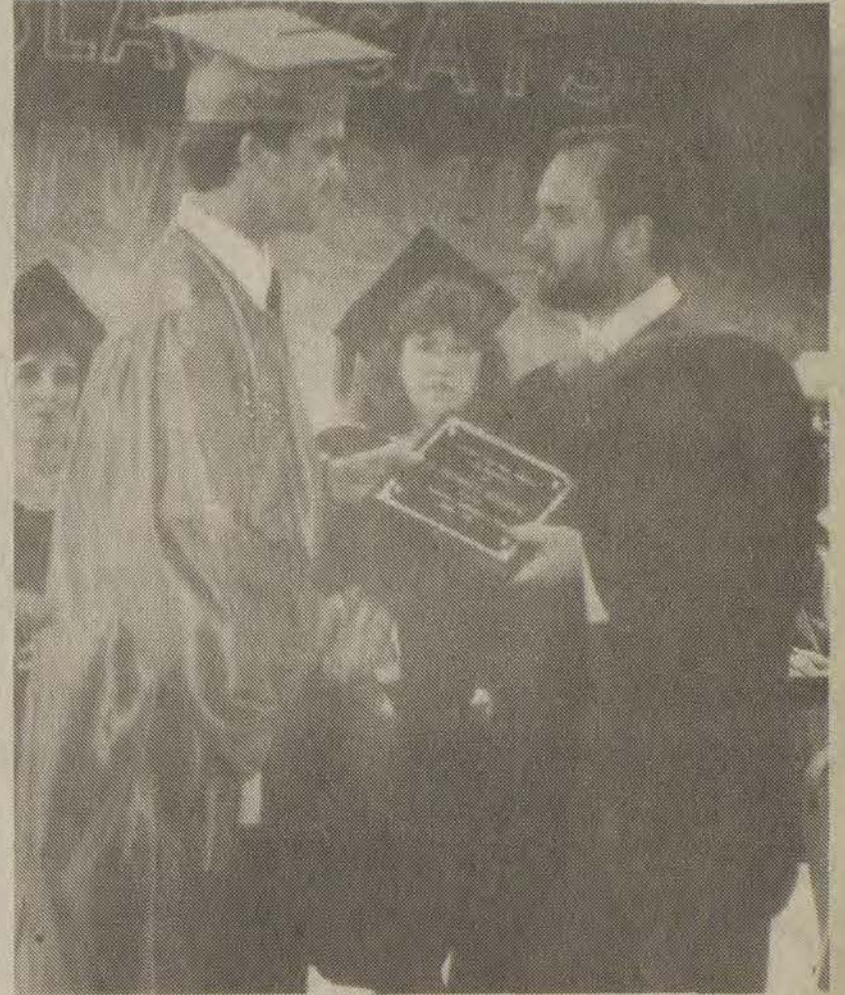

Linda Love, a University of Kentucky Transfer Scholarship to continue her studies in education. She is the daughter of Dorothy Rusmak of Arcadia, Fla.

Christy Lynn Clark, an Appalachian Honors Scholarship from Pikeville College to continue her studies in early childhood education. She is the daughter of John and Anita Clark of Eastern.

PCC Graduates 155

Lisa Jervis was one of 155 students who earned associate degrees from Prestonsburg Community College this spring. Jervis is a pre-nursing major and the daughter of Larry and Norecie Jervis of Prestonsburg.

Great Teacher Award Recipient

David Joe Wallen, president of the student body at Prestonsburg Community College, presented Dr. Thomas D. Matijasic, associate professor of history, with the "Great Teacher Award" at PCC's graduation ceremony on Friday, May 5. The award is voted on and presented to the teacher by the students. This is the third year Matijasic has received the honor.

Allen Central Hosts Annual Math Challenge

by Valerie Mosley

The fifth annual Allen Central Math Day/Math Challenge was held Saturday, April 29.

Students hosting the program were Millie Gibson, Melanie Stokely, Faith Frasure, Cathy Allen, Billy Terry, Stephanie Wallen, William Wohlford, John Wohlford, Darnella Bradley, Ann Marie Hicks, Kevin Wallace, Delbert Goins, Randy Bentley, Chris Ousley, John Dove, Keith Griffith and Juanita Duff.

Ronnie Patton's Wayland team placed first in quick recall and an extremely close second in the written assessment category. Wayland's team members were Scott Hall, Tara Branham, Beth Slone, Cephas Slone, Carl Watkins, Dale Hicks and Patrick Collins.

Stanton Watson's Garrett team won first place in written assessment but was defeated early in quick recall by Wayland. Garrett team members were; Heather Watson, LeAnn Francis, David Baker, Nathan Elliot and Philip Chaffins.

Martin, coached by Vivian Tackett, but accompanied by Audrey Scarberry and Susan Compton, placed second in quick recall. Their team consisted of Chris Hunter, Kenny Scarberry, Jessica Wade and Billy Akers.

Reka Ratliff's Maytown team included Evelyn Howard, Larissa Hicks, Claude Webb, Lisa Stumbo and Patty Baldrige.

Garrett's Watson placed first in the written exam. The second place trophy was earned by Wayland's Cephas Slone, whose sister, Beth, won fourth place. Third place trophy was taken by Wade of Martin.

Because academic competition interest has increased greatly since the program began in 1985, this year's competition was the most sophisticated yet, according to program founder Joyce Watson.

Watson also stated that all teams performed very well. There was a greater equality of performance among the teams than ever before and the results were well worth the effort.

The Floyd County Education Forum supplied the SACT grant to fund the program.

'The Small Street Journal'

Ruth Webb's third grade class at Auxier Grade School studies dinosaurs through the newspaper The Small Street Journal, since none of the intriguing creatures can be seen roaming around these days. The paper's illustrations give students the chance to look for differences and variety in the extinct animals. They also lead to an important lesson, the teacher says: "That things don't have to look exactly like other things to be good." The diversity in museum collections and the diversity of illustrators' styles, says Webb, let children see alternative views of the world.

Wheelwright High Club Invests

by Amy Jo Payne

The Wheelwright High School Investment Club, along with their stock broker, Billy J. Hall, and sponsor Doris Osborne, met recently in the school cafeteria to decide on their investments.

Together, they decided to invest in American Mutual Stock, the type of stock that allows the investor to put forth $250 and draw dividends on over 60 companies.

The April 25 meeting allowed all the members of the group to ask Hall questions about private investing, as well as the steps to invest as a group. At the end of the meeting all of the members were very satisfied with the deal they had invested in and they extended their thanks to Hall, Osborne and all of the businesses that allowed them to form an investment club.

Wheelwright SADD Chapter Attends Conference For Teens

by Amy Jo Payne

The Wheelwright High School SADD chapter recently participated in the Mountain Regional Teen Leadership Conference, April 24-26, at Camp Shawnee, located near Jenny Wiley State Resort Park.

The program was sponsored by Champions Against Drugs, an organization concerned with the problems facing Kentucky's teenagers, especially alcohol and other drugs.

During the three-day conference entitled, "All We Need is a Little Tender Loving Care (TLC)," chapter sponsor, Norma Fairchild, along with four other students, Jarrad Hall, Chris Hamby, Jill Little and Missy Slone, attended several workshops to improve their group skills so that they may conduct lectures for the rest of the school. The group learned a great deal about teenage-pregnancy, AIDS and a drug-free prom and graduation.

The chapter received a TLC of excellence certificate, T-shirts, frisbees and key chains for participating in the event.

VOTE FOR & SUPPORT BIRDIE HICKS FOR MAGISTRATE DIST. #1

As for my campaign, I've enjoyed meeting the people, and I've listened to peoples problems and concerns. Many roads I found need repair. I have run an honest and open race and desire your support and vote. I promise District One to have an honest person if I win. 4 years of service, not just 6 months.

I'll establish an office for the people of District One. I'll support my district in fiscal court meeting. I'll give service that is expected from this office.

ACHS Students To Compete In State Language Festival

Students of German at Allen Central High School took top honors at the regional foreign language festival April 22 at Alice Lloyd College and qualified for state competition in Lexington, May 13.

ACHS students competing in individual events at the state foreign language festival are Robyn Williams and Brad Scott, construction models; Heath Wiley, frame art/oil; Kathi Keene, frame art/water color, and Linda Oliver, extemporaneous prose reading.

Also competing at the state level will be members of the ACHS German Chorus which won second place at the regional meet. The chorus will sing "99 Luftballons" at the University of Kentucky festival.

Also winning honors at the regional festival were Angie Moore, games, and Shannon Griffith, water color art.

About 175 students from Knott, Perry, Letcher, Harlan and Floyd counties participated in the Alice Lloyd competition.

Parents' Rights

by Joyce Everly

Holy Cow, I thought to myself, $51. The bill was from the Floyd County Board of Education. I had requested 255 pages of information as part of a research project on how schools work.

That happened in April of 1983 while I was on a fellowship study program with Southern Appalachian Leadership Training (SALT). The grant I received totaled $1,300. The intense training took place over a six-month period.

One of the things I learned was that I had a right, as a citizen and taxpayer, to see all public agency records and be charged a reasonable fee for copies.

Kentucky has an open records law (KRS 61-870 to 61-884). The Preamble of the law states: "Government is the servant of the people and not the master of them; access to information concerning the conduct of the people's business is a fundamental and necessary right of every citizen in the Commonwealth of Kentucky."

A summary of the law is:
1. Public records (school board records included) shall be opened for inspection by the public (with some limited exceptions).

2. The public has a right to have copies made of public documents and memoranda.

3. The public agency must provide you with opportunity to have access to information when requested.

You will have to pay to get copies of public documents. The public agency has a right to charge but must charge a "reasonable fee."

The charge per copy I paid as a SALT fellow and later as secretary of the Floyd County Citizens Education Council was 20 cents per page.

After writing for an attorney general's opinion on what constitutes "reasonable fee," we received a ruling that cost per page, not including the time the clerk uses to make those copies, must not exceed actual cost.

Since that opinion was given, the Floyd County Board of Education has charged .03 cents per copy.

As I stated in Part 1 of the summary of the law, there are exceptions. One exception is your child's school records. Parents do have a federal right to see their child's record. I'll explain that federal law in my next column.

The first American to enter the Olympic Pentathlon was George Patton, later, General Patton.

TEACHER APPRECIATION WEEK MAY 7-13, 1989

Teachers touch our lives.

Many we remember...some we never forget.

We teach the children, F.C.E.A.

RE-ELECT HENRY C. HALE

AND

THE OFFICE OF THE SHERIFF HAS TWO CONSTITUTIONAL DUTIES:

Law enforcement and collection of taxes. As your sheriff, I have made good on the pledges I have made to you, the citizens of Floyd County.

LAW ENFORCEMENT:

When I took office, I promised to work endlessly to upgrade the sheriff's department. I started out with only (1) patrol car and no working radio system. My sheriff's department now has ten (10) official patrol cars that are all clearly marked, painted official brown and gold, and easily recognized. The cars range from 1988 cruisers to a 4-wheel drive vehicle.

My sheriff's department has five (5) fulltime salaried deputies in uniform who service each district. These officers are well trained and fully experienced in law enforcement. I also have uniformed auxiliary deputies to assist in all law enforcement.

My sheriff's department now has a powerful radio communication system which is operable over the whole of Floyd County. There are two federally funded radio dispatchers on duty after 4 p.m. to contact deputies on evening and night patrol. This way the deputies can respond to problems promptly 24 hrs. a day.

My sheriff's department has assisted the Department of Human Resources on their investigations of child abuse and neglect. This is ongoing 24 hrs. a day. We are always ready to be of help to our youth.

My sheriff's department has been in the forefront in the war on drugs. This has been and always will be a priority of my sheriff's department. The record shows that we have confiscated and destroyed thousands of marijuana plants, arrested and successfully prosecuted drug dealers.

My sheriff's department will continue to provide FREE law enforcement for all school functions when requested. All funerals will continue to have the sheriff's department for escort and the directing of traffic.

COLLECTION OF TAXES:

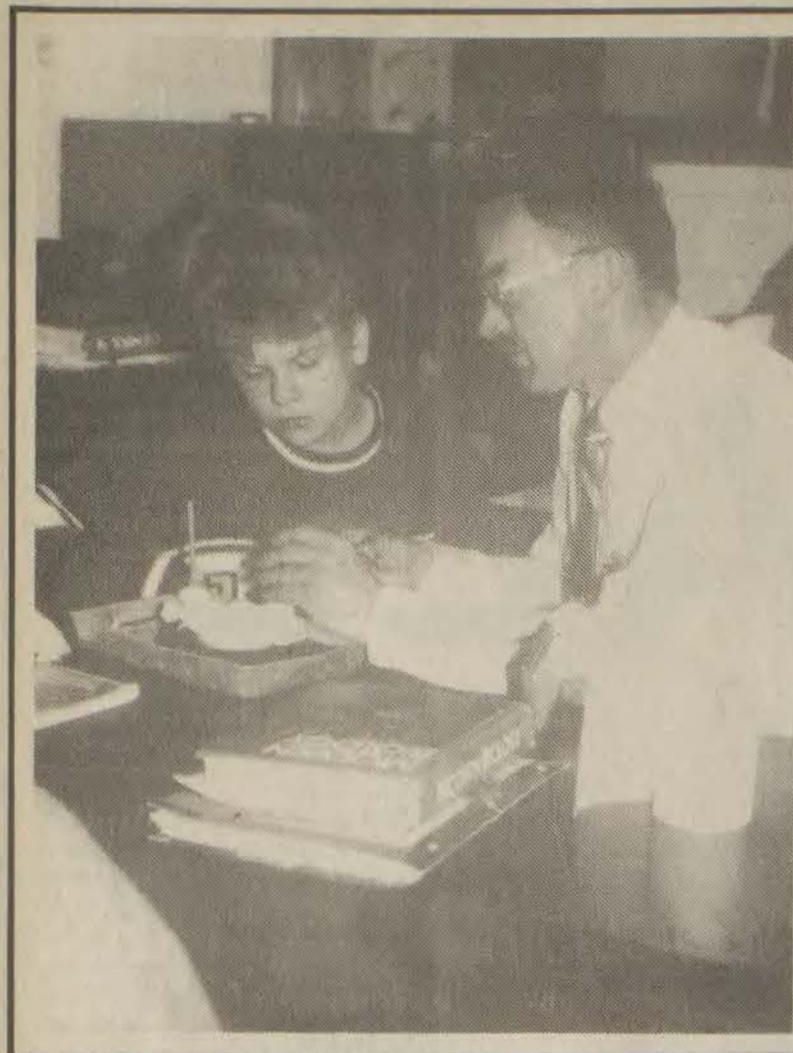

As many of you know, the sheriff's department is strictly a fee office, basically operated on fees by the collection of taxes and service of legal papers. The sheriff's department does not have unlimited funds to perform our essential services; but we've accomplished improvements in all areas.

My office staff is knowledgeable, efficient, and courteous. They stand ready to serve you in person or by phone to help resolve any problem or question you may have in regard to your taxes or legal papers.

Financial management has an excellent record. We are audited each year by both state and county—never has one cent not been properly accounted for. I believe in taking care of YOUR MONEY. Your tax money collected goes toward the operation of our schools and county services. The past year we acquired a computer to better document the paperwork and save workhours for the essential law enforcement duties.

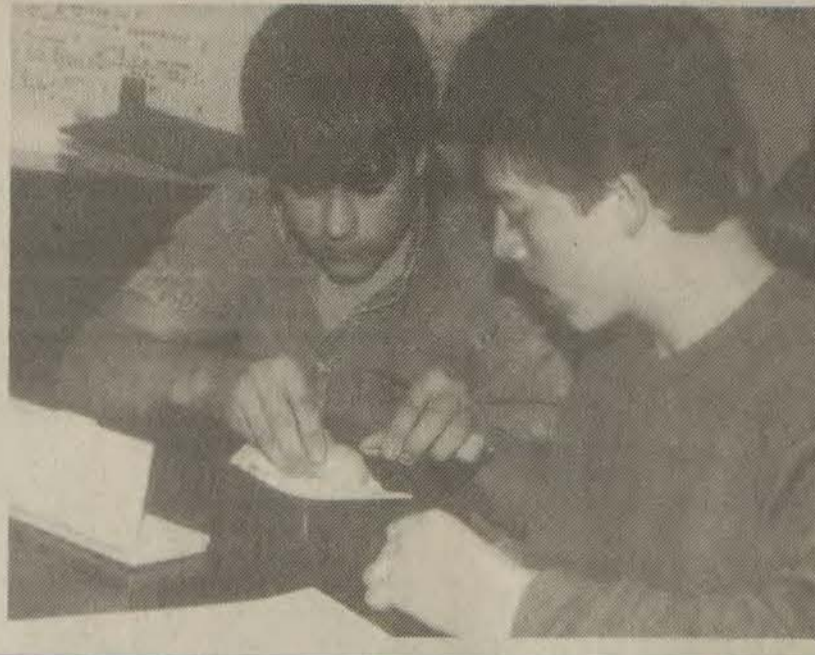

My opponents would have you believe from their ads that they are going to begin programs that I have had in place since I was elected. But our people in Floyd County know better. Through my leadership, Floyd County now has a sheriff's department of which Floyd Countians can be proud. Let's keep up the good work and keep MY sheriff's department YOUR sheriff's department.

EGGING IT ON

Carefully concentrating, students in Lowell Martin's biology class at Allen Central High School have been pecking chicken eggs. Eggs, in the experiment, were opened after incubation periods of three, seven and nine days. At the different stages, a comparison was made of anatomical features, with observations of heartbeat rates and general embryo activity noted. Then students recorded the different developmental rates compared to age. The project was beneficial to student participants, said Martin, because "it enabled a lasting impression through 'hands on' experience which gave a much better presentation of this scientific world." The egg embryo project was funded by a special grant from SACT. With Martin at left is Missy Griffith; below are Darrin Lawson, left, and Steve Robinson.

3 Floyd Countians Earn Alice Lloyd Scholarships

Three Floyd County students have been awarded Memorial Scholarships to Alice Lloyd College for the 1989-90 school year, according to ALC director of admissions Bill Melton.

The local scholarship recipients are William Frederick Conn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Conn of Dana; Marty Kyle Salisbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Salisbury of Harold; and Angela Marie Mullins, daughter of Gloria Sue Mullins of Bypro.

Also receiving scholarships from nearby areas were Barry Renis Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Hamilton of Beaver, and Lydia Newsome, daughter of Paul Newsome of Virgie.

According to ALC officials, the Memorial Scholarship guarantees to pay all the student's expenses for room, board, and tuition for the academic year, which amounts to $8,158. It is renewable each year the student is at Alice Lloyd College and as long as the student maintains a "B" or better average while completing a minimum of 15 credit hours each semester.

Floyd Teacher Aides Win CDA Recognition

Floyd County Head Start Program officials announced recently that three teacher aides have been awarded a Child Development Associates by the Council for Early Childhood Professional Recognition in Washington, DC.

They are Esther Salisbury and Merrial Lynn Slone of the Drift Head Start Center and Judy Newsome of the Melvin Head Start Center. They are the first Teachers Aides to complete the certification process with the Floyd County Head Start program.

Salisbury, of McDowell, has three children, Sondra Gay Mutcner, Carolyn Martin, and Festa Duane Salisbury, and three grandchildren. She is the widow of Festa Salisbury.

Slone, also of McDowell, and her husband Ralph Slone have three children Jenny Lynn, Ralph Shannon and Brent Helton.

Newsome, who is from Weeksbury, has three children, Michael, Joseph and Hollie. She is married to Bill Newsome.

Auxier Students Study Geometry

James Bevins' sixth and seventh grade students at Auxier Grade School have been studying geometry in math class. The students have learned to recognize different geometric objects, such as the rhombus and trapezoid. Also, they have learned how to find the area of squares, rectangles and circles, and those labeled in square units.

The students have also been exposed to solving for the volume of rectangular and square objects, as well as cylindrical objects. In addition, they have learned to label their answers in cubic units.

Corporation Matches Group's Fund Raising

Wal-Mart Corp. has agreed to match scholarship money, up to $2,000, raised in Saturday's car wash by Prestonsburg High School's Biology Club, according to club sponsor Teresa Boatwright.

The car wash, planned for two locations in Prestonsburg, is free to persons wishing to use the service. Students raise the money through pledges from local businesses and individuals, Boatwright said.

She added that the group needs to wash 100 cars to raise the maximum amount to be matched by Wal-Mart. If the goal is met, she said the scholarship fund for 1988-89 will contain $4,000 to be awarded to "academically deserving" PHS seniors.

Re-Elect Gerald DeRossett

We would like to take this means to ask everyone living in District #1 to vote for and re-elect Gerald DeRossett for magistrate (No.6 on the ballot). He is in our opinion, the best qualified, most experienced, most humble and above all the most honest person for the job. He does not boast or brag about all of the good things he has accomplished. Gerald, has black-topped and graveled more roads, worked on more school projects, and cleaned-up more parks of our area than any person we know of. He also has done a great deal for the Senior Citizens and continues to do so. He is there to serve you the people 24 hours, day or night. We can verify this by the hard work which he does every day, and by the roads on which you drive.

PHS Honor Choir Performs Oldies And Goodies

A medley of songs from the early days of rock and roll were featured in the recent annual spring concert of the Prestonsburg High School Honor Choir. The students, costumed and choreographed, also presented country and gospel tunes, as well as classic music. Several students also showcased their talent in solos. The choir, directed by Elizabeth Frazier, gave three packed-house performances at Prestonsburg Community College's Pike auditorium.

Apples For The Teachers

For Teacher Appreciation Week, Floyd County Judge Executive John M. Stumbo recently signed a proclamation designating Tuesday, May 9 as Teacher Appreciation Day in the county. Roberta Luxmore, president of Floyd County Education Association, said that the organization sent an apple to every teacher in the county school system that day "to show teachers they are appreciated." She said that more than 500 teachers are employed by the local system.

Graduation Practice

Donna Stambaugh's eighth grade class at Auxier Elementary School has begun practice for its graduation, set for Saturday, June 3, at Auxier Freewill Baptist Church. For the ceremony, the class has chosen to sing two songs: "Honestly" and "Lean On Me."

Keeping Daily Journals

Fifth and sixth grade students of Ramona Aiken at Auxier Elementary School began the year by keeping daily journals. Made from construction paper and with decorated covers, the journals contained entries on such topics as the new teacher, new principal and changes at the school. But, according to Aiken, after a few months the students grew tired of the journal keeping, and she stored the books. During the last four weeks of school, the teacher has distributed the journals again for students to write comparisons of the beginning of the year with the ending. She said the students have incorporated many skills in using the journals, especially the writing process.

Newsome Scholarship Recipient

Gary Duran Newsome, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Newsome of Grethel, has been awarded a Myrtle Mitchell Scholarship at Georgetown College, according to Dr. David Forman, dean of admissions and financial aid.

Newsome, a 1989 graduate of Betsy Lane High School, has participated in a number of activities, including Beta Club and all-region in baseball and basketball.

Newsome is a member of the Baptist Church.

Pictured with me is my father, Thurston Endicott. Many of you know him because of his job. He has been working for the City of Prestonsburg's Sanitation Department for the past 22 years. He's the big guy that drives one of the City's two Sanitation trucks. You probably also know him for another reason, his personality. He's always friendly and helpful. He's always willing to help you out in any way that he can.

My friends this is exactly the kind of person I am. I think that the Magistrate that we elect should also have this same quality. We in District No. 1 need someone like this to represent us. We need someone who will be there when we need them. Things don't get done by themselves. Bridges don't get built, roads don't get paved, and ditches don't get pulled by just promising it done.

We in District No. 1 need more than just promises. We need a dedicated, full-time, accessible Magistrate. We need someone who is Honest, Dependable, and Qualified for the job. You see, it takes more than just being able to run a piece of equipment to be a good magistrate.

A good magistrate should also be a good manager, economist, and accountant all in one. Before you vote, ask yourself, "Don't the people around me and I deserve the most qualified person for the job?"

A few of my qualifications are listed above.

Allen Central's Watson Wins Award For Service

Joyce O'Quinn Watson, mathematics and German teacher at Allen Central High School, has been chosen to receive the prestigious "Outstanding Young Women of America" recognition. The award recognizes women who give their time, talents and unselfish services to enrich the quality of American life.

Watson has many achievements which led to her selection for the award, including service as first vice president, TAU chapter of Delta Gamma honor society for women educators, and recognition by the Kentucky Council of Teachers of Math and the State Department of Education for her nomination for the Presidential Award for Excellence in Teaching of Mathematics.

Also, she was co-founder and vice president of Eastern Kentucky Council of Teachers of Math; member of the state and national CTM; coordinator of American High School Math Education and state CTM exam contest; founder of the ACHS Math Challenge/Math Day, now in its fifth year; math club sponsor; coach, academic team; member of KCT of Foreign Language; and, a delegate for the NEA, KEA and FCEA.

Rory Patton, a third grade student in Doug DeRossett's class at Martin Elementary School, submitted a book report of the book, "Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Did You See?" to KET's Reading Rainbow Book Club last summer. It was chosen from other students reports throughout Kentucky and aired on KET Wednesday, April 12. Patton is the son of Robert and LaDonna Patton of Manton.

Students Tour Area Restaurant

Our Lady of the Mountains School's kindergarten students got a behind-the-counter look at how McDonald's stores, cooks and serves its food on Friday, April 14, at the company's restaurant at Mayo Plaza in Paintsville.

The tour included walking into the restaurant's freezer, watching how hamburgers are cooked, tasting sausage and biscuit sandwiches and drinking orange juice, according to Sister Alma Marie, staff member of the school.

'Mind Mine' Held At David School

The David School held its "Mind Mine '89" science fair, Friday, May 5. The students chose projects in which they had an interest, researched it and presented a display detailing what they had done. They began on March 6 and worked on the projects during free time.

The subjects ranged from the space shuttle to the digestive system to a fitness program. Each project had a faculty advisor, but all the work and ideas came from the students.

Teacher Carmen Medina said she and the rest of the staff were "very proud of the children and the incredible creativity and effort which they put into their individual projects."

The winning projects of the first category, involving science, social studies, math, engineering and wood shop, and their participants were: first place, also tying for overall winner, "Bury Me Along the Big Sandy," by Lisa Pritchard, Tina Miller and Diane Marsillett; second place, "The Effects of Alcohol and Tobacco on Seed Germination," by David Hamilton and Della Burchett; third place, "American Timber," by Okie Thompson, John Thompson, Eric Ratliff, Leo Endicott, Charles Endicott and Anthony Hale; and fourth place, "Radioworks," by David Collins.

The winners and their projects in the music, health, child development, and French category were: first place, also tying for overall winner, "Little Red Riding Hood," by Jennifer Shepherd, Bessie Owens, Kim Calhoun, Gloria Endicott, Susan Robinson, Miranda Hoffman and Michelle Parsons; second place, "Composition #1," by Jamie Spurlock; third place, "Take it Easy," by Larry Wells; and fourth place, "Le Diamant Noire: A Play of Mystery and Suspense," by Tonya Sparks and Angie Tackett.

In the automotive category: first place, "Changing A Rear End," by Freddie Hicks and Linden Lantz; second place, "Tune Up," by Dale Johnson and Alex Johnson; and third place, "Rebuild a Carburetor," by James Hall.

'Little Red Riding Hood'

"Say no, walk away, and tell a teacher, parent or someone you trust" was the lesson taught to preschoolers at David Mountain Top School by seven students from the David School. The students, from left, Susan Robinson, Gloria Endicott, Michelle Parsons, Jennifer Shepherd, Miranda Hoffman and (not pictured) Bessie Owens and Kimberly Calhoun, wrote "Little Red Riding Hood," a play about saying no to drugs and won first place in their division. They also tied for overall winner at the David School Science Fair, Friday, May 5.

American Lumber

Charles Endicott (left rear), Eric Ratliff (front), John Thompson, Anthony Hale and Okie Thompson won third place in the David School Science Fair with their wood working project "American Lumber." The students, under the supervision of teacher Tom Bormes have been working on their projects and display since March 6.

Most school children can tell you two negatives make a positive, but few can name the man who first said so. It's said to have been John Lowth who first laid down that rule of grammar in 1762.

Shadow Boxes Reveal Secrets Of Solar System

To study the solar system, students in Davida Bickford's fourth grade class at Auxier Elementary School made shadow boxes that contained the nine planets.

The students had to research the planets for the project. The planets had to be sized in comparison to other planets, with color and specific details added. Students also had to suspend the planets from the top of the box in the order of their orbit of the sun.

"The shadow boxes were a beneficial learning experience," said Bickford. "The students worked really hard and the shadow boxes proved it."

KET Presents Highlights Of Regional Fair

Meet Kentucky's future scientists and observe several of their creative and thought provoking projects when KET presents highlights of a recent Kentucky science fair during the 26th Northeast Kentucky Regional Science Fair, airing on KET at 9 p.m., Monday, May 22.

Held on the campus of Morehead State University, this annual, regional science fair attracts several hundred elementary, middle, and senior high school entries from 44 counties in northeastern Kentucky. This KET Special Events Unit program features highlights of the exhibits for which students spent months designing scientific experiments.

Dr. Ronald L. Fiel, a physical science professor at Morehead and director of the Northeast Kentucky Regional Science Fair, says he finds it exciting to have a "chance to watch a young mind operate."

Students are challenged not only by the competition, he said, but also by a chance to enter the International Science and Engineering Fair to be held this year in Pittsburgh, Pa.

"Each project entered in the Fair is a demonstration of a student's interest in science as well as a demonstration of well-invested time and energy on the part of some student, teacher, and parent," Fiel explained.

Sister Parrott of Notre Dame Academy in Covington, one of the high schools participating in the event, agrees with Fiel's assessments. Additionally, the science fair is designed "for kids to feel good about themselves," Sister Parrott said. "The fairs are simply wonderful for the opportunity they give the students to form relationships with the University and other (students)."

ATTENTION DIST. 4 VOTERS:

It's election time again, and time to decide who will best represent our area as Magistrate of Dist. 4. Our decision must reflect careful consideration and forethought as to whom is the most qualified and capable to represent us in our local government. That person is Ermel Tackett. Ermel Tackett has been dedicated to fulfilling the needs and solving the problems of the people in our area for the past four years. Ermel believes that the people of Dist. 4 deserve a full-time, not a part-time magistrate. Ermel has been a full time magistrate, and he continues to dedicate his time daily to fulfilling the needs to the people of our district. Ermel knows the true concerns of the people such as, improved public roads, better education, and employment opportunities. He knows these concerns because he shares them with us, and is dedicated to providing a better standard of living for the people of our area. Ermel is an honest, and sincere man that cares about the needs of the individual. He is concerned with the problems and hardships that face the people of our district. Ermel has proven his ability during his term as magistrate, and now it is time for us to lend our support to him again, to ensure that the progress he has made during his term will continue.

Women On Way To Becoming Self-Supporting, Independent

by Pam Shingler
Assistant Editor

Scarcely more than two years ago, Deborah K. Kilburn of Martin was having a hard time seeing a silver lining among all the clouds.

The mother of two had dropped out of school at 15 to marry. Now divorced, she had never worked outside the home and was dependent on family, friends and the state to make ends meet.

While waiting in the employment office for what could be more bad news, she saw a sign on the wall about a program at Prestonsburg Community College for people in her situation.

She took down the information from the sign and decided to check it out. Soon she was among the first participants in the Single Parent/Homemaker Program at PCC.

Last Friday, she received an Associate of Arts degree in business from the college, and the silver lining was as clear as the hard-to-control smile on her face.

"I was scared to death," Kilburn, 30, admits. "I'd been out of school for 13 years. I didn't know what to expect."

On her own, Kilburn had earned a GED through classes offered by Sr. Mary Gervase at Christian Appalachian Project. She went on to become a literacy tutor for CAP. At PCC, she has worked as a student clerk for Mazola Sammons, director of student activities.

Kilburn, who was selected to Who's Who Among Students at American Colleges, is one of four women in the program who were graduated last week. The others are Pam Blackburn of Pikeville, Debra Howell Hamilton of Teaberry and Regina Lamore of Paintsville.

The program, headed by Jean Rosenberg, primarily furnishes support to persons who are parents, have been out of school for a while and need added assistance, both educational and financial, in reaching their goals.

Of the 41 students now in the program, all are women, most are divorced and many receive public financial assistance. Some are working on their high school equivalency diplomas (GED), some are taking remedial classes at the college, some are enrolled in regular college classes, and others are in training programs at Mayo State Vocational Technical School or other schools.

After enrolling in the program, the students go through an intensive orientation period in which they are tested for educational level, aptitude and interest. They also receive career counseling, financial counseling and assertiveness training, along with other information that will help them reach their goals.

Perhaps most important, Rosenberg says, is being able to meet and share with other people with similar problems and dreams. "They do more for each other in terms of support than any of us at the college can do for them," says the program coordinator.

Rosenberg also serves as a troubleshooter in helping many of the program participants deal with state assistance agencies and as a fundraiser in garnering emergency assistance and scholarships from community groups.

Although some who enroll drop out for various reasons, Rosenberg is particularly proud of those who stick it out.

Blackburn, for instance, drove to Prestonsburg from her home in Pikeville to attend PCC classes for more than two years. The divorced mother of two had been out of school for 15 years when she entered the program. Last week she received the associate degree with high honors.

With scholarships and grants, the Pikeville woman plans to enroll at Morehead State University this fall to pursue a bachelor's degree in elementary education. Going with her to MSU will be her daughter who graduates from high school this spring.

Blackburn, who got a GED in 1977, inquired about the program after seeing a newspaper ad. "The first day I came to college, I said I'd never come back," she laughs. "Then I went back the next day and I told myself I'd try maybe a week. Then it got easier."

Hamilton, who is married and the mother of three, received the GED through classes at Mud Creek Clinic and had already enrolled in college classes when she heard about the program.

Undecided about where she will continue her education, Hamilton, 30, wants to get a bachelor's degree in psychiatric nursing or clinical psychology.

She came back to school because of her children. "Education was always important to me even though I quit school in the eighth grade," says the Teaberry resident. "I found I couldn't tell my children it was important, if I didn't go."

Lamore, also the mother of three, says she fulfilled a lifelong dream by going back to school. She was also graduated with high honors, was selected for Who's Who and inducted into Phi Theta Kappa honor society.

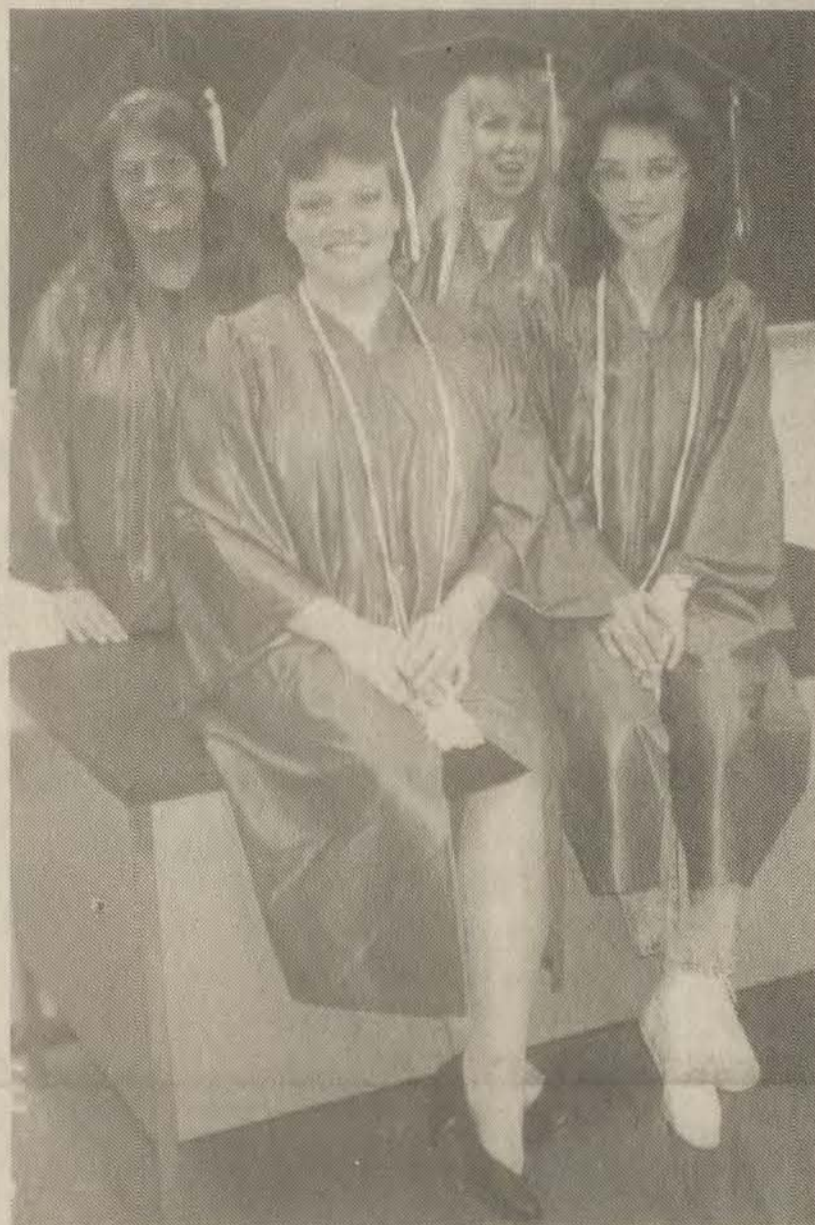

A law enforcement major at PCC, the Paintsville woman has received a Presidential Scholarship to Eastern Kentucky University. "Three years ago, I never thought I'd be here," she says.

"I was scared because I had been out of school for such a long time, and I was full of doubts," Lamore says. "The support group has been important. There are so many women in similar situations. You can draw strength from them."

The students face a myriad of problems, Rosenberg says. "Those on Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) or food stamps often find their aid cut when the enter school," she explains. "So it takes a lot of courage to continue."

The program, which operates on a small state grant, helps the students with money for child care and provides a small transportation allowance. But even that support is iffy, since state and federal funds are being cut, Rosenberg says. The college will know next month if the program is funded for another year.

"The need is definitely there," says Rosenberg. "We had 68 applications or inquiries from January to March which indicates that many women who qualify are interested in continuing their education."

They've Found The Silver Lining

Gregory 'Hoofs' Way To Victory In Regional Dance Contest

CHRISTOPHER GREGORY

Christopher Robin Gregory, son of Charles Gregory and Jane Ann Wells of Pearisburg, Va., won several events at the East Coast Regional Dance Competition on April 30, held in Durham, N.C.

Gregory won first place trophy in Song and Dance and was the highest scoring dancer in the 12 and under age category. He won a trophy and a cash prize.

He also danced in the winning group dance. Gregory will represent his school, the Giles Dance Academy, at the National Dance Championship in Washington D.C. in July.

He is the grandson of Woody Wells of Auxier, Douglas and Cleda Lawson of Oil Springs and Dr. and Mrs. Worth B. Gregory of Ashville, N.C. His great-grandparents are Opal Goble of Auxier, Gertrude Lawson of Hi Hat, Mary Dozier Gregory of Elizabeth City, N.C., and Eva Wells of Van Lear.

ROSES

Roses have been known throughout the Northern Hemisphere as far back as literature records. Dried roses have been found in Egyptian tombs. Early Greek, Chinese and Persian poets sang praises to the rose. Its name is the same in almost every European language.

Planting: Require full sun, free circulation of air, and porous, well drained soil with a pH of 5 to 6. Full sun eight hours a day is best, but six hours of morning sun may be sufficient.

Consider purchase of #1 or #1 1/2 grade bare root or budded rose bushes. Bare root roses have been kept dormant until shipment, are usually a good financial investment, and will begin growth soon after being established in your garden. Budded roses are in containers, leafed and with bud.

Soil should be trenched and prepared to a depth of 24 inches for best results. Mix two parts existing top soil, with two parts humus, peat or compost, and one part sand. Soil mixture should be mounded in a cone shape to allow spread of roots over the soil; the hole filled half way; watered thoroughly and the filled tamping the dirt as you go.

Water deeply once a week, perhaps more often in dry weather. Early morning watering is preferred using a slow drip of slightly running method until the deepest roots are saturated. Cut roses after 4:30 p.m. for longer lasting blooms.

'Bury Me Along the Big Sandy'

Diane Marsillett, Lisa Pritchard and Tina Miller researched the cost and facts surrounding dying for their project "Bury Me Along The Big Sandy." They say it "Costs more to die than it does to live." The girls were tied for overall winner at the David School Science Fair on Friday, May 5. They got their facts by interviewing people and personnel of Nelson-Frazier and the Hall Brothers funeral homes, and by using the public and community college library.

Hospital Health Fair Recently Held At ACHS

In observance of the World Health Day, Our Lady of the Way Hospital coordinated a Health Fair at Allen Central High School on April 11.

By means of classroom presentations, exhibits, demonstrations and literature, students were exposed to such topics as CPR; nutrition and dieting; smoking and smokeless tobacco use; AIDS and sexually transmitted diseases; and substance abuse, according to Joan Shalpin, hospital representative.

Presenters included personnel from Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Floyd County Health Department; Mountain Comprehensive Care and the American Cancer Society.

Legislative Perspective

By Rep. Gregory D. Stumbo
Kentucky House Majority Floor Leader

A national study recently released on education in the United States portrays a nation "standing still" in education performance.

Looking specifically at Kentucky, the study infers, it is still slipping further behind. In two key factors in which the study focused, Kentucky stopped gaining on other states.

Reversing what had been an upward trend in education since 1982, Kentucky students received lower scores on college entrance exams and graduated from high school at a lower rate in the most recent year for which nationwide statistics are available.

Last year, college bound students in the commonwealth scored an average of 18.2 out of a possible 36 on the American College Test. That was down from 18.3 in 1987. The national average last year was 18.8.

Also slipping in the rating arena was the percentage of Kentucky high school students who graduate, from 68.6 percent to 67.4 percent from 1986 to 1987. The national graduation rate was 71.1 percent in 1987.

Bad news came in the face of the 1985 school reforms, which reduced class sizes and increased per pupil spending and teacher salaries.

Kentucky did, however, increase significantly the share of students who take advanced placement tests which can confer college credits for work done in high school. In 1982, only 1.6 percent of students took the tests. Last year, 7.5 percent did so, causing Kentucky's rating to increase from 37th place to 30th among the 50 states.

The report has showed that in 1987 Kentucky continued to rank low (43rd among the states) in its reliance on locally generated tax revenues (only 23.8 percent of its money from that source). The commonwealth relies heavily on state funds—64.5 percent of the total or tenth place in the nation.

This report only magnifies the urgency to reemphasize the importance of continuing education improvements. This is not the time to ease off the push for more reforms or sit back on our laurels because they are too few and cannot bring the desired results without a consistent move forward.

The plan that was presented to the governor recently by legislative leaders provides that continuity. While it is not full of grandiose ideas and shiny tinsel quick fixes, it certainly continues the consistent momentum of reform. With revenue shortages playing a major role in the type of proposal actually presented to the governor, it appears modest but to the point. In addition, there are other critical problems facing Kentucky state government, such as human service needs, the justice and correction systems problems and benefits of state employees. These situations are all vital to a healthy commonwealth and require more revenue.

The education plan, along with the $350 million cost, was presented to the governor with the knowledge that these programs and additional monies are not a sufficient remedy to now, or ever, give the children of the commonwealth a first class education. But the plan stabilizes our program and hopefully will keep the state from sliding further into jeopardy.

In the future we can seize every opportunity to continue to improve our education system as we work to meet the goals and objectives set out in the legislative "working paper on education."

The plan submitted for the governor's consideration includes continued classroom size reduction and additional funding for the School Facilities Construction Commission.

Early childhood education is addressed through a recommendation that additional funding be provided to the Head Start Program and PACE.

Full funding is recommended for the power equalization program as well as salary increases for teachers.

Elementary school counselors are included in the proposal because legislators feel that at-risk students need to be identified as early as possible to insure immediate guidance.

Expansion of the adult education program is advocated as well as an increased appropriation to vocational education, special education and the gifted and talented program.

The governor's restructuring concept with full funding is included in the education proposal. The funds may be used to initiate school based management, benchmark schools or to establish professional development centers. Performance standards for each area shall be developed.

Finally, the proposal supports increasing the funding for the current higher education formula to 89 percent of full funding.

Hopefully the governor will understand where the General Assembly stands on these proposals. The plan is not a panacea but because we cannot fund the whole ball of wax, we can't ignore the problem. It is an open sore and sores cannot improve by being ignored.

Please feel free to comment on this issue or provide me with your opinion on the subject. Kentuckians cannot remain neutral because this is the future of our children and our state at risk.

Mountain Christian Academy Receives New Flag From DAV

Raising the flag at a ceremony in honor of the new flag and pole at the Mountain Christian Academy last week were members of the Disabled American Vets Chapter #128 (left) Sterling Wright, John Spurlock, Cecil Hicks, 7th district commander, and Alexander Kidd. The DAV also provided a rifle squad to give a 21-gun salute. The ceremony also included reading of the "Dedication of Colors" by Garrett Hayes, chapter commander, and "Vets Prayer" by Ezra Mitchel, assistant chaplain. Steve Richmond, member of Taylor Made of Pikeville, sang "God Bless America," and Fr. Ralph Beiting of Christian Appalachian Project offered a prayer and blessing. Dr. James V. Bolen, dean of the school, gave the history of Taps. The ceremony was organized by Linda Salisbury, PTO president, who, along with a group of helpers, installed the flag pole that the school "has had laying in a ditch for six years." The school was given two flags, which they will fly alternately, one from the Woodsmen of America and another which had flown over the nation's Capitol on April 6 from Congressman Chris Perkins.

FLOYD COUNTY Festival of Faces

Wednesday, May 10, to Sunday, May 14 highlighted by a Mother's Day performance by the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra at Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre.

WEDNESDAY

-- 15 pieces of artwork from each of Floyd County's five high schools will be placed on display at Prestonsburg Community College Art Gallery. Works will be judged by area art teachers, who will choose the two best works from each school to create a team of "All-County Artists."

THURSDAY

-- The top 10 art students' work will be moved to the music festival, which will be held at Prestonsburg High School's gymnasium at 7 p.m. Band and choral music students from several schools in the county will participate. In addition, five young women from the county's high schools will compete for the Miss Music Festival Queen's title.

FRIDAY

-- High school and middle school scholastic bowl competition will begin. A winner and runner-up for both divisions will be named.

-- Approximately 100 arts and crafts exhibitors will display their works in downtown Prestonsburg — many inside a large tent at the Richmond Plaza parking area.

-- At 7 p.m., a square dance (free and open to the public) will be held in front of the Bank Josephine, followed by a free-of-charge teen dance on upper Court Street at 8 p.m., with music provided by WOXY.

SATURDAY

-- Registration for the Festival of FACES 5K run be held at the Bank Josephine on First Avenue, Prestonsburg from 8 to 8:50 a.m., followed by the 9 a.m. race. The entry fee is $6. For more information, contact T. Mark Miller, 874-8101, or Rick Roberts, Box 1179, Main Street, Paintsville, KY 41240. The race is sponsored by the Prestonsburg Rotary Club and Cawood's Catfish and Hoagie House.

-- Grand opening ceremonies for the festival will be held at 11 a.m. in front of the Playhouse Restaurant, featuring several area dignitaries.

-- Concession sales and arts and crafts displays will continue throughout the day and, at 3 p.m., the Festival of FACES parade will wind its way through the downtown Prestonsburg area. The parade will showcase the All-County Band; the parade is sponsored by the Prestonsburg Jaycees.

-- The "Street Machine Classic '89" will be held in downtown Prestonsburg, across from the Municipal Parking Lot. Registration will be open until noon; the entry fee is $12. For more information, contact Kenny Boyd, 789-4303 or 789-8625 (after 6 p.m.). The car show is sponsored by Pizza Hut of Prestonsburg and Music-Carter-Hughes and Carter-Hughes Toyota.

-- At 7 p.m. at Prestonsburg High School, the Miss Floyd County Scholarship Pageant will get underway, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club. General admission will be $5 for adults and $2 for children. Advance tickets are available at Ritchie's Hallmark and April's on the Avenue in Prestonsburg, or from club members.

SUNDAY

-- A primary feature of the first-year festival will be the Sunday afternoon performance by the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra. The program will begin at 2:30 p.m. at the Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre. Those attending are urged to dress casually and, if they like, bring a picnic lunch. In case of rain, the program will be moved to Prestonsburg High School's gymnasium.

Admission will be $5 for adults, and $3 for children. Tickets are available from Ritchie's Hallmark, Country on Court, The Bookworm and Owens Music Center in Prestonsburg; the Art and Gift Shoppe in Pikeville; and from Cathy Castle of Citizen's National Bank in Paintsville. For more information, call 886-9824, or the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre, 886-9274.

Conducting the orchestra will be George Zack. Following the performance, winners' wards for the FACES Scholastic Bowl and the Jenny Wiley Academic Conference will be presented, closing the festival.

First UMC Women Meet May 8

The monthly meeting of the First United Methodist Church Women was held Monday, May 8, in the church parlor, with Phyllis Stanley, chairperson, presiding. The meeting was opened with prayer by Fannie Runnels.

Members decided to donate money to the Food Pantry and designate it for Cooperative Christian Missions' food.

The group decided to have a Flea Market on the parking lot of the Methodist Church on Thursday, June 1, and Friday, June 2, and members were asked to donate appropriate items, all proceeds to go to purchase tables for the new multi-purpose room.

They also discussed raising money for kitchen equipment for the Family Life Center. One suggestion was to have a "Silly Tax" project, such as that recently completed by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club. Members of the church will receive these tax sheets in the mail and be asked to participate to raise funds.

A trip to Weddington Plaza for shopping and lunch was planned for Wednesday, May 10. The church bus will depart at 10:30 a.m.

Also, a hiking trip is planned for members of the UMW for Saturday, June 10, beginning at 10:30, at the Wahoo Trail near May Lodge. Anyone wishing to attend may contact Phyllis Stanley. Participants are asked to bring a bag lunch.

Donations are still being accepted to fray the cost of carpeting two rooms of the parsonage. The cost of the project will be $537, $240 of which has already been raised. Persons wishing to donate may contact either Maureen Mayo or Dorothy Wells.

The "Gathering of Kentucky Conference People" will be held at the Kentucky Horse Park in Lexington on Monday, June 17, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free and each person is asked to take a lunch. There will be different performing groups each hour, ponies for the children to ride, Kentucky arts and crafts and games. The meeting will conclude with a Rainbow Worship Service at 4 p.m.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Dorothy Stover and Mary Sue Moore, to Elizabeth Ramey, Maurine Mayo, Lee Boswell, Roslyn Burchett, Ruth Bevens, Fannie Runnels, Rose Glenn, Josephine Fields, Virginia Jeffries, Victoria Spradlin, Geneva Carter, Clara Bradbury, Gladys Blackburn, Dorothy Wells, Phyllis Stanley, Kathy Fitzpatrick, Patty Beatty, Rebecca Hereford, Becky and Jenny Scholtz, and Olivia Fitzpatrick. Hostesses for Wednesday, June 5, will be Clara Bradbury and Dorothy Wells.

Mayo Cosmetology Training

Practice makes perfect! Cosmetology student Vanessa Forrest of Stambaugh learns the intricacy of hair cutting as she practices on model Lisa Hall of Melvin.

Mayo Cosmetology Students Preparing For Licensing Exam

The cosmetology program at Mayo State Vocational Technical School provides educational opportunities which enable students to prepare for entrance into the work world as licensed cosmetologists, according to Lillian A. Wheeler, public relations officer at Mayo.

Cosmetology, the art and science of beauty care, involves scientific care of the skin, scalp, hair, and nails, Wheeler said, and students in the program are required to wear white uniforms and shoes. Clinical supplies are furnished to each student during the first 500 hours of training, after which a small fee is charged for services received, Wheeler stated.

According to Wheeler, a wide range of challenging opportunities are available to cosmetology graduates. Among the positions available are state board member or administrator, school instructor, salon owner or manager, competition stylist, platform stylist, research or field technician, manager or operator, and cosmetic or make-up technician.

Salary guidelines differ, Wheeler said. "Because there are differences in personal skills and salon prices in various parts of Kentucky and the United States, the base salary for a licensed cosmetologist entering the field will vary," she explained.

Graduates must complete 1885 hours, or approximately 17 months of training, and pass written and practical examinations given by the State Board of Cosmetology, Wheeler said. The examination and licensing of cosmetology graduates are governed by the Kentucky State Board of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists.

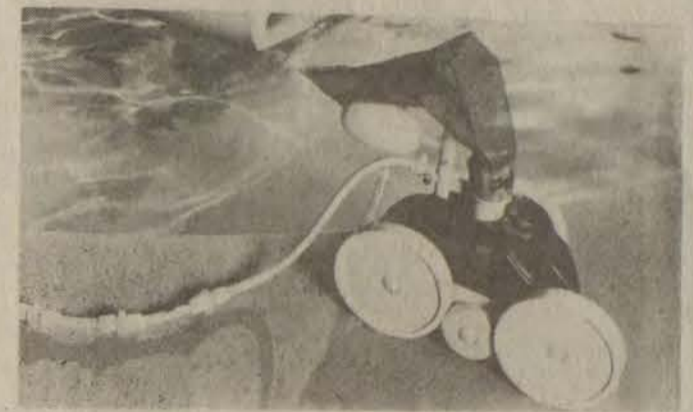

Cosmetology teachers at Mayo are Dorothy Bradley, Leona Rice, and Leah Litteral.

For further information about the Cosmetology Department or other programs at Mayo State Vocational Technical School, write the school at 513 Third, Paintsville, Ky. 41240 or call 789-5321 from 7:50 a.m. until 3:50 p.m.

MAGISTRATE
District #1

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce you to my family and to explain my political platform.

First of all, I was born, reared, and currently live on the Right Fork of Bull Creek. I am the son of the late Alex DeRossett and Loma Warrix DeRossett. I am the grandson of the late Jeff DeRossett and Julia Sizemore DeRossett as well as the grandson of the late Sol Warrix and Caroline McGuire Warrix. I have one sister, Mrs. Lucille DeRossett Garrett who is married to Mr. Douglas Garrett. I have two brothers, the late Bryant DeRossett who was married to Cleo Montgomery DeRossett and the late John Alex DeRossett. I am married to Katie Burton DeRossett. We have four children, Gerald Douglas, John Bryant, James Alex, and Leslie DeRossett Ousley who is married to Rodney Ousley. I have one grandson, Zachary Gerard Ousley.

If re-elected as Magistrate, District #1, I will continue to work to maintain and improve roads, continue an adequate garbage service, provide aide to schools as well as public parks, promote local businesses, and provide efficient fire protection for you, the people.

Election Day is less than two week's away. I strongly urge you to consider the candidates running and their qualifications for the job. Running for the office is sometimes a challenge but once elected for that office there is a constant demand on doing your job the best that you can possible do.

I feel that as "YOUR" COUNTY CLERK for the past 5 1/2 years that your clerk's office has only improved in every aspect each and every day. We are constantly improving your clerk's office to meet your demands.

Almost everything that is done in your county clerk's office is controlled by some authority or some cabinet in Frankfort. The County Clerk's office is regulated by several different departments of our state government. Each and every transaction done in the County Clerk's office is audited and accounted for to make sure that each local agency gets their monies each month.

I feel that I have proven that the County Clerk's office can be run smoothly and effectively and efficiently while being "YOUR" County Clerk.

I realize that I am unable to speak to each of you in person, due to the fact that I am in the office most of the time, but I would like to ask EACH AND EVERY VOTER to cast your vote me, CARLA "ROBINSON" BOLTON for "YOUR" FLOYD COUNTY CLERK on May 23rd.

'A Nightmare Just Come True: Malady Opens Eyes To Problems

by Carolyn J. Kennedy
Daily Commercial Correspondent
Frustrated. Angry. A nightmare just came true. Those are a few of the words local architect Marvin Crider uses to describe his recent experience as a wheelchair patient.

Although his confinement was temporary - Crider has slowly regained his mobility - his change of perspective toward the handicapped, both personally and architecturally, has been permanent.

Crider awoke in early December with aching feet and ankles. By late morning they were swollen. A visit to his doctor yielded no diagnosis and Crider's medical history offered no clues. He was able to walk, slowly and painfully, only by taking cortisone.

By Christmas, Crider's lower extremities were so swollen he was confined to his bed. Crider says it was "a nightmare just come true."

Specialists could not agree on a diagnosis. Some called it osteomyelitis, a crippling and eventually, fatal disease; others suggested rheumatoid arthritis.

Admitted to Leesburg Regional Center, Crider's white blood count skyrocketed from the normal 9,000 to 20,000. Prescribed antibiotics interfered with the healing process and ultimately voided all diagnostic tests.

Tentatively diagnosed as having Reider's Syndrome, Crider resorted to using a wheelchair. Without it, he would have been confined to his bed and unable to work.

The syndrome, which is precipitated by an infection of the urinary or intestinal tract, causes inflammation of the lower extremities or lower back. It appears suddenly, varying in intensity from day to day.

Crider realized his confinement was only temporary. Nonetheless, he viewed it as a real eye opener.

"You have to plan every move," Crider soon discovered.

Born in Yorktown, Va., to a Naval warrant officer and housewife, 42-year-old Crider grew up in Prestonsburg, Ky., the eldest of three children. He views his early years as "rather idyllic. I was into art and did a lot of projects. I'm a picture person."

Following his 1971 graduation from the University of Kentucky, Crider worked for various architects, obtaining his real estate brokerage in 1977.

Due to the high gasoline prices, Kentucky was enjoying an economic boom in the mid 70's, although the rest of the country was not doing as well. Caught in the construction upsurge, Crider bought a lumber company in 1978 but ended up losing the business. By 1981 the price of oil had stabilized, leaving eastern Kentucky in a state of depression.

Crider's 1984 move to Florida reunited him with parents who had relocated here and strengthened his idea of establishing his own business. After working for several Lake County architects, Crider contacted Ron Gibson, an established designer and Baptist minister, inviting him to be his partner.

Operational since last February, Central Design Group now has three full-time and three part-time employees and has recently moved to larger offices. An interior designer will soon join the staff.

Because Crider himself is responsible for designing some of the commercial buildings in the Central Florida area, he is adamant his future designs incorporate three-foot doorways, as opposed to the conventional 2-foot-8-inch or less. The extra inches would guarantee accessibility by wheelchair users. But Crider's thoughts on designing for the handicapped don't stop there.

"We need to eliminate as many barriers as we can - things the building codes don't even cover. Deep counters and high storage shelves should be eliminated. There may be space (for a wheelchair) in a toilet stall, but if there's no room to get around the opened door, it doesn't matter," Crider explained.

Crider says the coding laws don't cover private dwellings, including apartment complexes. He said in order to hold down cost, space for the handicapped is often minimized.

"There should be no rises, projections or steps," said Crider. "The ramps should have only slight slopes, with no step more than one-inch high. Most buildings are mazes which are set up as barriers for the handicapped."

Crider said although an apartment dweller may not be handicapped, the building's design would probably prohibit visits by an impaired friend or relative.

Crider said he's heard many gripes about accommodating the handicapped and now realizes "we're all ambivalent to their plight, due to ignorance and misunderstanding."

Crider is particular vocal about the designated parking spaces seen at malls and other public facilities. He said, "Lax county and government agencies are passing handicapped spaces that don't begin to meet standards. They need limitations on the area around the actual spaces."

"If a car is parked right next to you, there's no way you can get a wheelchair maneuvered between the cars," Crider said. "Areas bordered by grass leave a handicapped person immobile. Have you ever tried to manipulate a wheelchair on grass?"

And as for the able-bodied who dare to park in those designated spaces, Crider has only words of contempt. "Those people are lower than low," he said. "Impolite is too good a word to use."

CAN FLOYD COUNTY STAND 4 MORE YEARS OF CONTINUED SERVICE?

Small communities over this county have a problem that has made it impossible for them to enjoy their homes, harms their children, made people feel unsafe in their homes, and lowered their property values.

The name of that problem is Drug Abuse and Pushers. Can Floyd County stand 4 more years of continued service? I think not!!

Goal Is Home For Child, Not Child For A Home

by Pam Shingler
Assistant Editor

Wanda and Matt have been on the state's waiting list to adopt an infant for more than eight years.

They're the lucky ones, since the Kentucky Department of Social Services has not accepted inquiries about infant adoption, other than infants with special needs, in several years.

The increase in the number of unwed mothers who opt to keep their babies and the legality of abortions have sharply cut back the availability of infants for adoption, according to Kathy Bohr, family services worker for the DSS in Floyd County.

Lisa and Wade have agreed to adopt an older, harder to place child, but close to two years have elapsed since they first applied.

They want a white child, a reasonable request since they live in an all-white community. Since both work, they realize they could not care for a severely handicapped child. They also prefer a child who is reasonably well behaved, without serious emotional problems.

Each of their realistic and practical criteria further limits their chances of providing a home for a child.

"The state adoption process has become more complicated," says Joan Tackett, adoption and foster care representative for the DSS region that stretches from Ashland to Pikeville.

Seldom are physically and emotionally healthy children left as orphans these days, she said. Nor do many parents willingly give up their children for adoption because of financial or emotional reasons which may have once been the case.

Rather, many children today reach the adoptive stage because their birth parents cannot cope with a severe disability or because the circumstances of their birth home were so dire the courts had to intervene. In the latter case, the experience sometimes affects the child emotionally, physically or psychologically.

Many of the children are victims of neglect or physical or sexual abuse. In all but the most traumatic cases, every attempt is made to keep a child in its birth home, with social services and court supervision and with family counseling, says Marty Hicks, Floyd County's child protection representative.

The other alternative is to place the child with an appropriate relative, she says. Finding the child an adoptive home is a final recourse.

The adoption process is long and complex, Tackett said, because the state wants to make sure that the match of child and family is a good one. "We need adoptive parents who can make a lifelong commitment," she said. "Our goal is not to find a child for a home, but to find a home for a child."

Many of the children available for adoption have suffered considerable emotional damage just by being taken from their birth parent, regardless of the situation, she said. "We don't want to place a child with a family and six months later have that family decide that they don't want the child after all."

The adoptive parents must meet some state requirements. According to Tackett, they must have a steady income, although they do not have to be well off. More important, she said, they must demonstrate "the ability to live within their means." For parents of children in the Special Needs Adoption Program (SNAP), the state provides subsidies for medical and counseling needs.

Adoptive parents must also have adequate space in their home for the child, be in "reasonably good health," and be at an age "where they could have parented naturally a child of that age," Tackett said.

"They also must be able to love and accept a child not born to them," she said, "and that includes being able to accept that child's history."

The adoption process starts with a series of information meetings for persons who want to adopt or become foster parents.

"We emphasize flexibility and a sense of humor," said Bohr. "Sometimes kids will do a lot of testing. If the parents are not flexible, it won't work."

During the seven weeks of meetings, prospective parents can assess themselves, Bohr said, to see if they're really prepared to accept an adoptive child. In addition, the meetings give the social workers a chance to assess the parents-to-be.

The sessions include instruction on rights and responsibilities of adoptive and foster parents, problem solving, discipline and values. Participants also go through several exercises designed to help them understand the children better.

"We try to show them how the children might feel when they are taken from their birth home," Bohr said. "The children actually go through the stages of grief just as we do when someone close to us dies."

After the prospective parents complete the series of meetings, they must fill out "lots of forms," Bohr explains. This includes providing personal and financial references.

Among the forms is a complex "acceptance form," which allows the couple to check off what they can accept in an adopted child. The physical range goes from healthy to having a slight limp to requiring open heart surgery.

"It's like a roller coaster," Tackett admits. "You're on a high when you think you're getting the child. Then you go down when you find out it wasn't approved."

Emotionally, the children might range from well behaved to destructive.

The couple must also indicate "acceptable" factors on legal issues, such as the case of a father not having terminated his rights to the child.

What the couple will accept in the background of a child's birth family is also considered. For instance, one of the child's birth parents may be a drug addict or may be mentally ill. Adoptive parents must decide whether they can accept those implied risks in a child.

From the file on each couple, authorities in Frankfort give the final approval on whether a couple will make suitable candidates for adoption.

Once approved, the couple can look at photos and brief histories of children on the state's waiting list for adoption and choose a few whom they would like to pursue.

The possible match of child and couple is made in Frankfort, and then the process begins in which child and couple meet.

The first step involves a meeting of social workers, prospective parents and the child's foster parents. Here, the couple interested in adoption get to learn as much as possible about the child from adults who know the child.

Then, the prospective parents get to meet the child in his or her foster home for a brief period. The meeting times then become progressively longer leading to an extended (perhaps 30-day) visit of the child in the couple's home. Social workers talk with parents and child during this time to monitor the developing relationship.

Once the state okays the match, more paper work ensues. An average of about six months passes before the adoption becomes legal, Tackett said.

"We want to make sure the child settles into a daily routine and that the honeymoon period is over," she

'Just Call Me Sandy'

Editor's note: A woman who wishes not to have her name used recently submitted the following article giving another perspective on the issue of adoption.

A few weeks ago in Letters to the Editor, there were a couple of letters from people who wanted to adopt children. This has stirred up great emotions in me. You see, I was one child who wasn't adopted. And I want the people who are responsible for adopting children to families to hear my story.

First, let me say that I agree that prospective families have to be checked out carefully. But does it have to take years? In the meantime, these children are growing up alone. Tell me, by your standards, what is the perfect mom and dad? I do not know of one who is perfect.

As for me, I would just love to have (a mom and dad). The mom and dad whom I refer to in this story are really my grandparents. I was their daughter's child.

In 1955 my mother, in a moment of passion, made a mistake and disgraced the family. She either left or was sent away. In 1956 my mother brought me and left me with her parents. This was the start of my being alone.

I was very young when I started feeling I didn't belong there. When my mom (grandmother) took me to church, I would hear her talking to people about how I was just abandoned and that they had to raise me. I used to look at these people and see pity in their eyes and I hated that.

One day when I was seven, I had another crisis. A child at school called me a "bastard." I came home from school and I asked my mom what that meant. Her words burn in my heart to this day.

She said, "That is what you are. You are a bastard. You have no mother

Some of the legal problems I've had are mind boggling. My name is not Sandy, but that was all I knew for years. Every year that I went to school I had to try to explain who I was. Once I got an F in English for not writing an autobiography.

or father."

It seems, as the years passed, I couldn't do anything to please them. If I did anything wrong, I was accused of being just like my biological mother. They never did adopt me or accept me as part of their family. Everything I loved they hated. I think their sons, except for one, were jealous because they took me in.

I turned to the only friends I had, my animals. They were the ones who truly loved me and it didn't matter to them what I was. But then they started disappearing or were killed. I have a scar on my back today because I covered my dog's body with mine.

I was never physically abused. If I had been, I could have those scars removed, but the mental scars can never be removed.

I ran away at the age of 16, and at the age of 18 I had a child of my own. The same people who took me in, either out of pity or revenge, tried to make me give my son away.

I fought with every ounce of life in me and I went hungry so my son could eat. I walked back and forth to work three miles a day and worked for a wonderful lady who let me keep my son at work with me.

When he was eight, I married for the second time, a wonderful man who takes care of us. My son is 14 now and will graduate from eighth grade in a few weeks. That will be one of the proudest days of my life because when I look back I can see that I have accomplished what they said I could not do.

My son has a little six-year-old sister and a dad who loves him. I have been accused of getting above my raising. Well, I have. I have a home and my children have everything I could only dream of having, so I hold my head high instead of lowering it in shame.

Some of the legal problems I've had are mind boggling. My name is not Sandy, but that was all I knew for years. Every year that I went to school I had to try to explain who I was. Once I got an F in English for not writing an autobiography.

Even today I'm still explaining. By not being adopted, I really had no last name. My birth certificate turns out to be a lie. So I have very few legal rights. But, you know, I'm like my little dog; I still love mom and dad.

People who want to adopt children have to be the greatest, for they would be proud for a child to carry their name. I'm a lot like these people. They want to be called mom and dad and give their love.

I always wondered what it would be like to have a mom and dad and their love. So why don't you people who dictate these children's lives ask them what they want? I'll bet you wouldn't find one who says they don't want to be loved by a mom and dad.

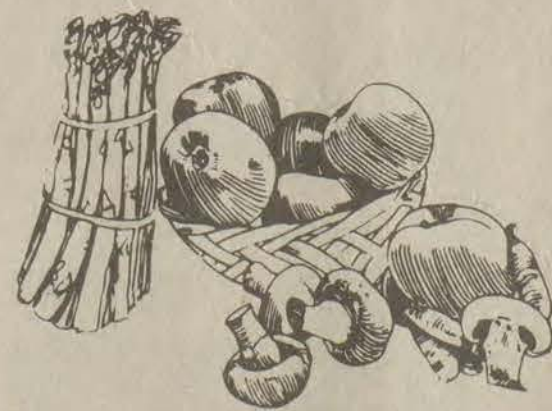

We might be a minority, but we have rights, too. We are strong and we are survivors.

Seeks Adoptive Family

Chris, 12, is one of several special needs children the Department for Social Services sought an adoptive family for earlier this year. He has had a very problematic life and required a consistent and stable home with long-term counseling to overcome his past traumas and become part of a family.

With Mother's Day fast approaching, some may still be at a loss for what to get that special mom in their life. Well, instead of falling back on the old staples, a box of chocolates or a kitchen appliance, try some creativity and make something near and dear to everyone's heart — desert.

Mothers love anything they don't have to prepare, but don't forget to add that special touch and clean up the mess after any endeavor.

Following are some recipes for mousse — a very rich, whipped mixture that is popular for desert.

The recipe for Pots de Creme au Chocolat is taken from The Good Housekeeping Illustrated Cookbook. This all-time favorite, served in individual cups, is literally "pots of cream".

Honey Mousse, "Mousse au Miel" in French, is a recipe taken from Martha Rose Shulman's cookbook, Supper Club Chez Martha Rose. It is a light mousse using mild-flavored honey and can be served with marinated fruit or topped with creme de cassis liqueur.

POTS DE CREME AU CHOCOLAT

(Begin five hours or a day ahead)
2 cups "half-and-half" (1 pint)
4 squares semisweet chocolate
6 egg yolks
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 tsp salt
Vanilla extract
1/4 cup heavy or whipping cream
2 Tbsp confectioner's sugar

In one-quart saucepan over medium heat, heat half-and-half until tiny bubbles form around edge of saucepan (do not allow half-and-half to boil) set saucepan aside. In double-boiler over hot — not boiling — water, melt semisweet chocolate squares, stirring occasionally with rubber spatula.

Remove double boiler top to work surface and, with rubber spatula, beat egg yolks into the melted chocolate until smooth, then stir in sugar and salt.

Gradually stir half-and-half into the chocolate mixture until thoroughly blended. Replace double-boiler top over simmering (not boiling) water.

Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture coats back of spoon, about 15 minutes. Stir in 2 teaspoons vanilla extract.

Pour mixture into six 6-ounce pots de creme cups or stemmed glasses. Refrigerate for about 4 hours or just until the mixture sets.

In small bowl with mixer at low speed beat cream, confectioner's sugar and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla until stiff; use to top pots de creme.

HONEY MOUSSE "Mousse au Miel"

1 tsp unflavored gelatin
1 Tbsp water

2/3 cup (140 ml) heavy cream
1/2 tsp vanilla
3 large egg whites

1/4 cup (60 ml) mild-flavored honey
2 to 3 teaspoons Grand Marnier, to taste

Sprinkle the gelatin into the water in a heavy-bottomed saucepan. Let stand to soften.

Beat the cream until it forms a soft shape when dropped from the beaters. Beat in vanilla.

Beat egg whites to soft peaks with clean beaters in a separate bowl.

Stir in gelatin mixture over very low heat. Stir constantly, and when the gelatin is thoroughly dissolved, stir in the honey. Continue to stir over low heat until you have a smooth, uniform mixture.

Remove from the heat and stir until the mixture begins to thicken (placing the bowl or pan in a bowl of ice water will hasten the process). Quickly beat the honey mixture into the whipped cream. Add the Grand Marnier and fold in the egg whites. Place the bowl in a larger bowl of cold water and continue to fold gently for about five minutes. Transfer to a souffle dish, or a serving bowl, cover, and refrigerate several hours. Scoop out with a soup spoon and place rounded side up on plates to serve.

This will keep for a couple of days in the refrigerator.

For the younger children, here is a simpler recipe that will please mom just as much. Though the heart-shaped cookie is made from a basic recipe, interest may be added by dipping half of the heart in a buttery chocolate confection. This not only adds visual interest, but great taste as well.

BUTTER COOKIES

1/2 cup sugar
1 cup butter, softened
1 egg
1 Tbsp vanilla

3 cups sifted Martha White All-Purpose flour
1/2 tsp baking powder

Combine sugar, butter and egg in mixing bowl; beat until smooth. Add vanilla; blend well. Sift in flour and baking powder; blend well. Cover and refrigerate about 1 hour.

Preheat oven to 425 degrees Fahrenheit. Roll out dough on lightly floured board or pastry cloth to 1/8 inch thickness.

Cut out with heart-shaped cookie cutters. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake five to six minutes, or until golden brown. Transfer to wire racks to cool.

Chocolate Dipping Sauce: In double boiler combine one bag (12 ounces) semisweet chocolate morsels, 4 tablespoons (1/2 stick) butter or margarine and 1 1/2 ounces (1/2 block) paraffin. Stir until melted. Keep warm while dipping hearts. Place cookies on waxed paper and chill until chocolate is hardened.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS INSTALLATION DINNER

Members of the KFWC/GFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club held their annual installation dinner, Thursday, May 4, at 6:30 p.m. at the club's Arts and Crafts House, at Archer Park.

The Hawaiian theme was carried out in the decorations. The blessing was said by Helen Wells.

Hostesses were Carolyn Traum, Pauline Sparks, Nan Arnett, Pauline Lambert, Garnett Fairchild, Abigail Grant and Sharon Sparr.

Following the dinner Boots Adams, president, was in charge of the business session. The treasurer's report was given by Elizabeth Ramey.

It was announced that the rummage sale, which was held this past week, would be continued for a few more days.

Further plans for the food booth, which the club is sponsoring in connection with the Festival of FACES, to be held here May 10-14, were made. Club members are reminded that those wishing to help at the booth need to obtain a food handlers permit.

Monetary donations and pies are needed. Those wishing to contribute may contact Elizabeth Ramey. Donations are also needed for food for the lunch boxes to be furnished by the club to members of the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra, who will present a concert on Mother's Day, at the Jenny Wiley Amphitheater. Contributions may be made to Garnett Fairchild.

The president announced that the annual 7th District KFWC convention would be held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, on Oct. 17, and that she and the incoming president, Phyllis Herrick, would serve as co-chairpersons of this event.

She asked the following members to serve in these capacities: meal reservations, Dorothy Harris; hospitality, Linda McGuire; registration, Orella McGuire; decorations, Eileen Burchett, and Garnett Fairchild; exhibits, Eve May, Roberta Sloan and Maxine Bierman; favors and door and timekeeper, Ditty Tackett, Turp Combs and Lucille Nunnery; and entertainment, Kathy Lowe.

Nan Arnett reminded the group of the Dr. J. W. Sutherland Memorial Walk-A-Thon will be held Saturday, May 13, at 10 a.m. in Prestonsburg, to raise funds for the National Kidney Foundation. It was decided that the club would support this endeavor.

Dr. Sutherland's mother, the late Minnie Grace Sutherland, was, for many years, a member of this club and his aunts, Fannie Runnels and Alice Harris, are members.

Orella McGuire, education chairperson, announced that Neda Ramadan had been awarded the club's scholarship to attend Prestonsburg Community College.

The president, who attended the annual KFWC convention held in Louisville April 26-29, reported that the local club won many awards during this event, including the KFWC special award for participation in the literacy program, arts and crafts, literature and drama, cultural exchange, conservation, and public affairs, and that a blue ribbon had been awarded to Helen Wells for her handmade quilt.

Adams recognized past presidents and members in attendance who joined this past fall.

In a candlelight service, Phyllis Herrick, Linda McGuire, Joyce Allen, and Elizabeth Ramey paid tribute to late members Zella Archer, Minnie Grace Sutherland, Regina Mayo Roberts and Edith F. James.

The president presented gifts to committee chairpersons to thank them for their efforts and cooperation during the past year: Eileen Burchett, Garnett Fairchild, Trisha Morris, Nancy Martin, Linda McGuire, Orella McGuire, Wonnell Godsey, Ditty Tackett, Lucy Regan, Roberta Sloan, Barbara Dawson, Mabel Brown, Dorothy Osborne, Carolyn Traum, Burieta Gearhart, Judy Kittle, Nan Arnett, Docia Woods, Shirley Callihan, Phyllis Herrick, Lyda Howard and Sandy Burchett.

She gave ceramic baskets, made by club members at the Arts and Crafts House, to members of the club's executive board: Phyllis Herrick, Linda McGuire, Dorothy Stover, Joyce Allen, Maxine Bierman, Elizabeth Ramey, Nan Arnett and Docia Woods.

Adams presented Debbie Watkins, second vice president of KFWC, who, in a ceremony, installed the following officers for the club year 1989-90: Phyllis Herrick, president; Orella McGuire, first vice president; Linda McGuire, second vice president; Lee Boswell, third vice president; Lyda Howard, recording secretary; Elizabeth Ramey, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Harris, treasurer.

The new president named the following committee chairmen, for the forthcoming year: Garnett Fairchild, arts; Eileen Burchett, arts and crafts; Kathy Lowe, music; Maxine Bierman, literature; Nancy Martin, drama; Sandy Burchette and Boots Adams, education; Shirley Callihan, conservation; Lois George, home life; Lucy Regan and Fannie Runnels, spiritual life; Nan Arnett, public affairs; Betty Porter, international affairs; Mabel Brown, arts and crafts house; Burieta Gearhart, community improvements; Carolyn Traum, cook books and historian; Lee Boswell, finance; Linda McGuire, yearbook; Joyce Allen, membership; Docia Woods, publicity; Orella McGuire, program; Myrtle Allen, telephone; Earlene Daniels, sunshine corner; Sue Martin, dial-a-cab; and Boots Adams, parliamentary.

Officers and the chairmen of the publicity and membership committees constitute the club's executive board.

Mabel Donahoe presided at the guest book. Attending were Debbie Watkins, Neda Ramadan, and Dr. Mina Majamandar, guests, and Boots Adams, Phyllis Herrick, Linda McGuire, Joyce Allen, Maxine Bierman, Elizabeth Ramey, Nan Arnett, Docia Woods, Eileen Burchett, Orella McGuire, Jane Wallace, Martha Johnson, Bonnie Spencer, Lillian Baldrige, Betty Porter, Shirley Callihan, Carolyn Traum, Myrtle Allen, Sandy Burchett, Lee Boswell, Earlene Daniels, Alice Harris, Fannie Runnels, Turp Combs, Barbara Dawson, Garnett Fairchild, Eve May, Lois George, Burieta Gearhart, Pauline Sparks, Lida Howard, Kathy Lowe, Dorothy Harris, Nancy Martin, Mabel Brown, Dorothy Osborne, Homey May, Roberta Sloan and Helen Wells.

The next meeting will be in September.

FLOWERS ON THE ALTAR

Flowers on the altar during services at the First United Methodist Church this past Sunday morning were in memory of Dr. John William Sutherland, from Rita Sutherland.

CHILDERS HAVE HOUSE GUESTS

Robin and Jeanne Childers, of Prestonsburg, were visited by his mother, from Dayton, Ohio, this past weekend. While here she helped Mrs. Childers celebrate her graduation from Prestonsburg Community College's nursing program. Mrs.

Childers will be employed at Dr. Jurich's medical office starting this week.

MAYO RETURNS HOME

Maurine Mayo has returned to her home, Prestonsburg, following a visit of several days with her sister, Anna Allen and other relatives, in Lexington. Allen, who recently underwent eye surgery is recovering now at her home.

COLMENARES ANNOUNCE BIRTH

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Colmenares, at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, on April 9, a daughter, who has been named Victoria Bianca, and weighed 6 pounds and 11 ounces.

Mrs. Colmenares, the former Toni Kay Ranier of Prestonsburg, is the granddaughter Phyllis Ranier.

MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM

The public is reminded of the Mother's Day program to be presented by the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra, at the Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre, Sunday, May 14, at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults, and $3 for children, and may be purchased through the KFWC/GFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club, and other organizations.

Pikeville College Slates Alumni/Senior Weekend

Members of past classes who have not seen each other in years can catch up on their news and get acquainted with the newest Pikeville College class of 1989 at Alumni/Senior Weekend May 12-14.

In its 100 years of service in this community, Pikeville College has touched a lot of lives," said Phillip M. Blake, college alumni director. "This weekend is a chance for those people who have attended school here to see what we are up to now, and to let us know what they are doing."

The weekend festivities begin with a Friday evening banquet sponsored by the Darlington Science Club for all its past members. The dinner, in Wickham Hall Gold Room, will begin at 7 p.m. May 12. On Saturday, the 10 a.m. chapel service in Meditation Chapel will be followed by a brunch around the flagpole between the Administration Building and Derriana at 11 a.m. (The brunch will be held in the Wickham Hall Dining Room in the event of rain.)

At 3:30 p.m. Saturday, alumni and other friends of the college are invited to the pinning ceremony for nurses graduating from the Elizabeth Akers Elliott Nursing Program. The ceremony will take place in Christman Auditorium in the Armington Science-Learning Center.

The Alumni/Senior Banquet begins at 6:30 p.m. in the college gymnasium. Tickets for the banquet are $5 per person in advance, $7.50 at the door.

On Sunday, the Class of 1989, the largest class in many years at Pikeville College, will graduate in commencement exercises in the college gym at 2 p.m.

Throughout the weekend, individual classes have planned reunion activities as well.

For the convenience of its guests, the college will provide a shuttle service between the gym and lower parking lot and the upper campus from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.; the shuttle runs every 10 minutes.

"I hope our alumni will attend as many of these events as they can," Blake said. "We think these are activities everyone will enjoy."

Senior Citizens Celebrate Birthdays

Slone Is Guest Speaker At Woman's Club Meeting

"Conservation of Our Children" was the topic for discussion at the April 24 meeting of the GFWC/KFWC Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club in the home of Libby Martin near Wayland.

"If you know of child abuse, tell somebody and keep telling somebody until somebody hears you," stressed Charles Parker Slone, coordinator for the 22 counties under the Kentucky Council on Child Abuse, who was guest speaker at the meeting.

Slone said that while there were from 37,000 to 39,000 reported cases of child abuse in Kentucky in 1988, it is believed that the number is four or five times that amount. He listed the types of child abuse, such as physical abuse and neglect, verbal abuse and sexual abuse. He called attention to the fact that many parents are guilty of "putting their children down" and criticizing them in such a way as to destroy the child's self-esteem, which he termed verbal abuse.

The speaker distributed several different kinds of pamphlets explaining the various phases of the council's program, all of which he discussed. One such was "Parents Anonymous," which is for parents under stress who are in danger of becoming strained to a point that they abuse their children. Such parents may meet together and discuss their problems with trained professionals free of charge, with child care provided, during the weekly sessions. Another program discussed was "Adults Sexually Abused As Children," another group session with trained counselors to assist. It is also free of charge, and both programs are strictly confidential, said Slone. The number to call, toll-free, is 1-800-432-9251.

Slone urged parents who need help to call the number, and pointed out that, in most cases, adults who were abused as children become child abusers themselves. The programs are for prevention of child abuse before abuse occurs. Cartoon booklets were also distributed, teaching by sketches as well as printed words.

Slone reminded listeners to watch KET May 29 when the recent "Stop the Hurt" program videotaped at Wayland will be shown.

A lively question-and-answer session followed Slone's talk.

Marsella Bradley gave the devotional on the use of time, and Loretta Martin read the Club Collect, followed by the pledge to the flag. The speaker was introduced by Libby Martin. The business session was postponed until the May breakfast, which was Saturday, May 6, at the home of Marsella Bradley.

Dr. Mary Pauline Fox of Pikeville, Pike County health physician, spoke to the group, and Ruby Akers, former 7th District Governor of KFWC, was present to install newly-elected officers.

Refreshments at the April 24 meeting were served by the hostesses, Maxine Martin and Libby Martin, to Louise West, Elizabeth Duff, Loretta said. "We want the child to feel comfortable enough to behave as they normally will."

Martin, Marie Mullins, Betty Mullins, Alma Souleyrette, Lula Coburn, Marsella Bradley, Anna Marie Martin, and Slone, the guest speaker.

Harvard University was first known as Cambridge.

Bohr said that every time she receives material on newly available children, she sends them to the list of waiting adoptive parents.

A glitch in the system occurs, she said, if several couples are being considered for the same child by state officials. During that time, a couple's files are being held up for that potential match and are not being considered for others.

Tackett said the local office attempts to notify each couple who not selected for a particular child and why, as soon as word is received from the main office in the state capital.

"It's like a roller coaster," Tackett admits. "You're on a high when you think you're getting the child. Then you go down when you find out it wasn't approved."

Some families, she said, will be on the waiting list longer because of "what they will accept."

The state social service department placed about 350 children last year, Tackett said. About 100 of those were in the special needs category in which prospective parents receive financial assistance after adoption.

Children in this category meet one or more of the following criteria: black or biracial and three years old or older; white and nine years or older; severely handicapped or disturbed; or brothers and sisters in sibling groups of three or more who need to be placed together.

Tackett said that at any given time about 200 children are on the state's adoption list.

Far more children than that are in foster care but are not available for adoption. For many of these, court decisions are pending on whether the child will be taken permanently from his birth home. For others, the child has been removed temporarily while the birth parent is in counseling or treatment.

Bohr, Tackett and Hicks all agree that taking a child from his birth parents is seldom in the child's best interest, regardless of the home situation. "The worst thing you can do is remove a child from his birth home," Tackett states. "Unless a child is in imminent danger, it's best to leave them in the home."

Despite the home experience, the child naturally loves his birth parent, she explained. "If you take him away, even if he is being abused, he thinks he is being punished doubly."

If a child is removed from his birth home by the court, Hicks said that social services then tries to arrange counseling for the birth parents. If treatment is begun and the court allows the child to return home, social workers monitor the family's progress "for as long as necessary."

If the family counseling appears not to change parental behavior, social workers try first to place the child with relatives, so that the change is not so dramatic. Failing that, termination proceedings, which may take more than a year, are initiated, and once final, the child can be available for adoption.

The operations of the social services department, from child protection to adoption, are "hard to justify to the public because everything is confidential," Tackett said. The work is also tightly regulated by law and by the courts, she added.

Tackett also pointed out that parents interested in adopting children have the alternative of going through a private adoption agency. However, the number of private agencies has decreased in the last few years, she said, because of the drop in availability of adoptive children not in the special needs category.

Private agencies also generally cost a good bit of money. "There's no charge for going through the state process, except for attorney's fees," Bohr said.

Church Plans Dinner May 20

The Bethel Regular Baptist Church at Langley will sponsor a chicken and dumplings dinner Saturday, May 20, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the church. Dinners will be $4 for adults and $2.50 for children; meals may be eaten in or carried out.

For more information, or to reserve dinners, call 285-3489.

When the nation took its first census in 1790, only five percent of the population lived in cities or towns. Most of the 3.9 million people lived in farm areas.

HOROSCOPE

May 14 through May 20

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)

Be careful in matters of health. Follow your doctor's advice regarding diet. A friend needs a shoulder to lean on; offer yours even if it isn't convenient.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)

Follow your instincts when it comes to money matters. Shopping could prove quite fruitful for you this week. A child could brighten your spirits.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)

Watch out for small children this week. Your uneven temper could cause some problems at work. Be careful what you say and where, there are ears everywhere.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)

Your love life is looking good. An interesting person will lead you on for awhile. Even though it won't last, go along for the ride; it could be great fun.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)

A shopping trip this weekend will prove interesting. That money you saved for a rainy day is going to come in useful very soon. Stay away from watching too much television.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)

A wonderful person will change your life soon. Be careful with your money, others are eyeing it madly. Travel is in your future.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)

If you are still job hunting, good news could be around the corner. A friend or family member needs your undivided attention this week.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)

Money troubles will be over soon. A spouse or loved one needs a lifting of spirits. A small token of appreciation just might do the trick.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)

Your attitude seems to be improving. Be aware of those things that make you lose your temper and try to stay away from them. Be careful with your savings this week.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)

Don't let your work environment get you down. A dear friend could be in grave trouble; lend your support. Many great things are about to happen to you.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)

Don't be so pushy in your intimate relationships and they might last a little longer. Co-workers are ready to strangle you because you are so finiky.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)

Remember to laugh even when things seem unbearable. Be wary of the weather, it could wreak havoc with your health. Be kind to the elderly.

'Good Morning America' travels to Holland

Science, arts of Dutch explored

By Mary Ann Townsend

Holland—a quaint country of windmills, tulips and wooden shoes? To the contrary, this vibrant nation is one of the world's major economic powers, and it will be the focus of a week-long series to be presented on ABC's Good Morning America throughout the week of May 15 to 19.

The series will be broadcast live from Holland, with program hosts Charles Gibson and Joan Lunden, as well as other GMA correspondents, taking an in-depth look at a nation second only to Britain and ahead of Japan in investments in the United States.

Reporting from a new location each day, Good Morning America will travel throughout the entire country, featuring segments that range from the nation's scenic beauty to its royal family, and from its innovative approach to crime and punishment to a family facing a decision on euthanasia.

One of the segments will feature Lunden escorting her daughters and the audience through the Anne Frank House (Museum) for a close-up look at the sensitive and brilliant girl who logged for future generations the injustices the Germans dealt the Jews during World War II.

Gibson will put into perspective Dutch culture and history and the close relations the nation has with the United States. He will also recount the country's liberation by American soldiers during World War II.

Legal editor Arthur Miller investigates the country's penal system, in which the emphasis is placed on keeping the prisoner in contact with family and society. The prisons have conjugal suites, allow pets in cells and permit prisoners to eat with the guards. Special correspondent Hattie Kauffman examines the policy of euthanasia. Some 10,000 euthanasia deaths are carried out each year.

Gardening expert Ralph Snodsmith plans to report on the country's amazing production of flowers, especially the tulip, while special correspondent Steve Fox delves into the country's approach to drugs. (The Dutch believe that decriminalizing "soft" drugs such as marijuana can reduce drug use.)

Science editor Michael Guillen will report on the engineering marvel of the dikes and water control systems the Dutch depend on for their survival.

Other assorted reports include special correspondent Ron Reagan looking at the lighter side of Dutch customs and sports; Dr. Timothy Johnson exploring the nation's marvelous advances in medical technology; and Joel Siegel reporting on Holland's art and culture.

TV Q&A

'Lonesome Dove' nearly two years in the making

By Polly Vonetes
Q: My family enjoyed Lonesome Dove so much we hated to see it end. In fact my mother-in-law and I fell in love with the characters played by Robert Duvall and Tommy Lee Jones. My questions are: How long did it take to get the show together? And can you give us some information on the actors? —Nancy Ford, Mead, Okla.

A: Lonesome Dove took about a year to cast and prepare for production, then 16 weeks of actual filming and 6 months in post production. Tommy Lee Jones was born Sept. 15, 1946, in San Saba, Texas, where he still lives on a ranch with his wife and son. He is a graduate from Harvard University. Robert Duvall was born on Jan. 5, 1931 in San Diego, Calif., but grew up in Virginia where his father was stationed. He was expected by his father, an admiral, to enter Annapolis, but Duvall compromised by majoring in history and government at Principia College in Elmhurst, Ill. After a tour of duty with the Army, he attended New York's Neighborhood Playhouse, where his award-winning career was launched. He's married to actress/producer Gail Young; they reside in New York.

Q: I would like to know about the movie McLintock starring John Wayne and Maureen O'Hara. I have never seen a rerun of this movie. What happened to it? Also, I was Ms. O'Hara's chauffeur in 1955 and want to know where I could write her. —Tom Fowler, Dunnville, Ky.

A: In the late '70s and early '80s, McLintock was shown on the CBS network and later on HBO. I have not seen it recently, but I suggest you contact a local channel, they may have it in their film library. In 1968, Ms. O'Hara was married to retired Brig. Gen. Charles Blair, who owned his own airline, Antilles Air Boats, in St. Croix, Virgin Islands. In 1978 Blair was killed in an air crash, however, according to last reports, Ms. O'Hara still maintains her home there. No address is listed.

Q: I am a fan of Cybill Shepherd and I collect all the things I can find about her. Please tell me what movies she was in before Moonlighting and her address. —Marnie Stitzer, Atascadero, Calif.

A: Cybill Shepherd's credits list: Last Picture Show, The Heartbreak Kid, Daisy Miller, At Long Last Love, Taxi Driver, Special Delivery, Silver Bears, A Guide for the Married Woman, The Lady Vanishes, Earthright and Chances Are. You may write to her c/o David Shapira & Assoc., 15301 Ventura Blvd., Sherman Oaks, Calif., 91403.

Men's Fellowship Breakfast

The Presbyterian Men's Fellowship observed its ninth annual Holy Week breakfast recently at the Holiday Inn, with 40 men attending. The speaker was Dr. Frank Jacks of Pikeville College. At the April meeting, Jeff Franklin, the Big Sandy bureau chief for WYMT-TV was the speaker. He was married at the church on April 22 to Vikki Young. The pastor is the Rev. Timothy Jessen; Jack Freed is president of the men's group.

Family Celebrates Reunion, Birthday

Vivian Fraley of Prestonsburg was honored with a birthday celebration and family reunion at the Holiday Inn the last weekend of April.

Her daughter, Joanne Durham of Beavercreek, Ohio, served as hostess and welcomed friends and 50 family members to the celebration. Durham sang "We all came to say we love you." Her husband, Robert Durham, was master of ceremonies.

Also in attendance were Mrs. Fraley's two sons: Bill R. Fraley and wife, Bonnie, of Grayson and James R. Fraley and wife, Rhonda, of Bristol, Va.

The honoree's five grandchildren were also present: Deborah Carle of Panama City, Fla.; Bobby Fraley and wife of Grayson; Harold Fraley of Grayson; Richard Durham and wife of Beavercreek, and Eddie Fraley of Bristol. They performed a barber shop quartet-style number, dressed in red bow ties, red suspenders and straw hats.

Four great-grandchildren performed by spelling out the honoree's name in giant letters. They were Kris and Kari Carle, Caitlyn Fraley and Robert Wallace Durham.

Also present for the weekend celebration were Mrs. Fraley's brothers, Howard Hall and wife of Van Lear and James Hall and wife of Warsaw, Ind., and sisters, Ruth Burke of Frankfort and Eloise Frady and her husband, Dr. Claude Frady, of Bowling Green.

At the Sunday afternoon gathering, the celebrants were entertained by Lisa Collins of McDowell. As "Happy Birthday" was being sung, 400 balloons were released to conclude the festivities.

Reading Screening To Be Held May 18

A screening, sponsored by the East Kentucky Tutorial Program, will be held Thursday, May 18 in Hindman for children and adults to detect dyslexic characteristics.

Dyslexic children — normal and often bright — may have trouble reading, spelling, writing, and with language arts, and may have low or unsatisfactory report card grades in reading.

According to a spokesperson for the program, students may also have trouble with phonics, sounds, and are often placed in remedial reading, special reading and other reading programs.

There are presently programs in seven counties, including Floyd, Knott, Perry, Letcher, Pike, Pulaski and Madison.

For more information, contact the Hindman Settlement School, 785-5475.

Alzheimer's Expert To Visit

Nancy Mace, internationally-recognized expert on Alzheimer's Disease and author of "The 36-Hour Day," will be in Eastern Kentucky on Friday, May 12, to visit with area families and meet with local community groups.

According to Glenda Hughes, local spokeswoman for the Lexington/Bluegrass Alzheimer's Association, Mace will also make a major announcement about a new program being started by the association, which will benefit persons with Alzheimer's Disease and caregivers who live in Eastern Kentucky.

Mace will be in Prestonsburg from 3 to 4 p.m. at Highlands Regional Medical Center, and will be available to meet with families or others interested in Alzheimer's. Refreshments will be served, and the public is invited to attend.

Alzheimer's Disease is an incurable, progressive disease of the brain which gradually causes memory loss and intellectual confusion. Persons with Alzheimer's Disease gradually need constant supervision, thus families face an emotional, physical and financial "36-Hour Day" of care, noted Hughes.

The Alzheimer's Association supports research, education and patient and family services to benefit persons with Alzheimer's Disease and their caregivers. The disease affects an estimated 5 to 10 percent of all persons over 65, and some younger victims as well.

GFWC/KFWC District Woman's Club Members Attend Conference

Members of the 7th District Woman's Club were among the nearly 500 women from across the state attending the 94th annual convention of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs at Executive West in Louisville April 26-29, according to Lorene Salyer, member from Elkhorn City.

Kentucky Teacher in Space and NASA Space and Education Ambassador Sue Darnell, Paducah, was among the speakers at the convention. Darnell told of her experiences during her stay at the Space Center in Florida in 1985 and of the many activities currently pursued in classrooms throughout Kentucky, according to Salyer.

A pre-convention seminar, sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, focused on new information concerning the serial sexual offender and revised strategies for prevention.

Statewide awards were presented in many fields: arts, conservation, student talent, club projects, and the Kentucky Human Services Volunteer Awards.

Salyer said that since its founding in 1894, the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs has been a leader in education, conservation, cultural and charitable work. The federation has more than 9000 members and is affiliated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest non-denominational, nonpartisan, international service of women volunteers in the world.

Members of the 7th District Woman's Club who attended the convention were Lorene Salyer Elkhorn City, Ruby Akers and Anna Sue Stumbo, both of Drift, Boots Adams of Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Vernell Mullins and Ann Bradley, both of Whitesburg.

Powers-Bryant

Mr. and Mrs. Issac Powers of Jenny's Creek announce the marriage of their daughter, Sherry Dillion, to Bobby J. Bryant Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby J. Bryant of East Point. The double-ring ceremony was held April 15 at the home of the groom's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilkins, of Lincoln Park, Mich., with the groom's uncle, Doris Ray Delong, officiating.

Angie, 38. Found houseware parties the ideal excuse to mix a blender of margaritas. But in a few years, it went from women friends to lowlifes and losers hanging around her home late into the night. Sometimes, her husband had to load up the kids and go midnight bar-hopping to find her.

Finally, he nailed up doors and windows to keep her out. In desperation, feeling she'd be dead within a year unless she got control of herself, Angie turned to CareUnit.

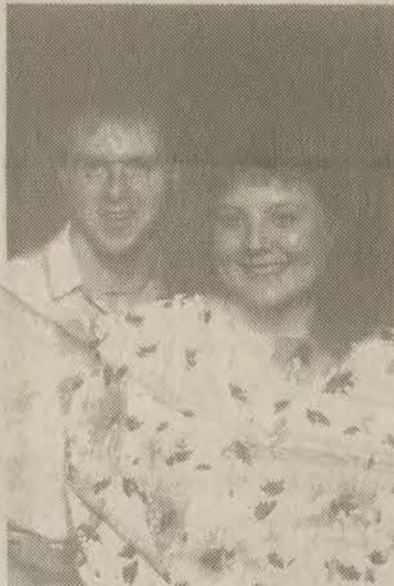

"I learned more about myself than I'd learned in a lifetime. For the first time, I feel good about myself."

Angie is now sober, and is rebuilding her relationship with her husband and two daughters.

THANK YOU

To: JIM HAMMOND
April 13, 1989

Dear Jim,

I've been thinking about you a lot lately. Remember when you gave me a card down at Allen, Ky. stating that you, Jim Hammond, are a candidate for Floyd County Attorney. I gave you my support then and I still intend to keep my word. I have been campaigning for you, and Jim. I always try to maintain a positive and a healthy attitude about anything I try to do.

I admire you so much, especially the way you are campaigning—you're doing a great job of running a clean race. You're a perfect gentleman in every way. I've known you since you were a little toddler in diapers living in Maytown across the road from my family. We all loved you and your family so much.

You have a lot of potential and a great future lies ahead of you. You've got a lot of supporters working for you. I want to encourage all of my friends, neighbors—relatives, the Ousleys, Praters, Bentleys (and you name 'em) to go to work also and help elect this fine young fellow, Jim Hammond, as our next Floyd County Attorney.

Jim, stand tall, shake all the hands you can. "You're a Winner!"

May God Bless and Keep You Always,
I Remain

(Pol. adv. paid for by Marcella R. Bailey, 4-19-11pd)

TO: JIM HAMMOND

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for handling the Law Suit that was brought against us. We feel you did an exceedingly fine job.

We feel proud and very fortunate to have had you as our attorney. Since the time we made acquaintance, we have found you to be one of the most unselfish, accommodating and a reliable person.

Even though you must have been exhausted from the combination of campaigning and your regular work schedule, you took the time for us, and above all, declined any pay; and at your own expense provided transportation to Martin County Court. We remember you as saying, "You people did the work for charity and I don't have the heart to take any attorney fee."

We are so very grateful to you. This world could use more good people like you.

We wish you the best!

Shirley Morgan, Gary Slone, Rita Slone and Sheila Jackson

P.S. A special thanks also to your secretaries. We found them to be extremely nice and courteous.
Pol. adv. paid for by Shirley Morgan, Gary Slone, Rita Slone and Sheila Jackson

Thank you Marcella Bailey, Sheila Jackson, Shirley Morgan, Rita Slone, and Gary Slone. I deeply and humbly appreciate the confidence that you have shown in me, and I promise that I will work hard to continue to deserve your confidence and support. Through our partnership as your Floyd County Attorney we will have honest, effective service with dignity and integrity.

My family and I give thanks to all of the supporters who have called, have continued with and joined in our partnership, and shown the courage to stand up for a Floyd County that will have good paying jobs and will be drug free; a Floyd County in which we can take deserved and earned pride in a safe and clean county, neighborhoods, and homes for our children and families.

Ceremony Unites Dobson, Branham

Rhonda Gail Dobson and Curtis Dee Branham were united in marriage in Saturday, Jan. 28, at the First Baptist Church in Prestonsburg during a candlelight double-ring ceremony.

The Rev. Steve Hopkins officiated. Music was provided by Jeanne Caudill and Tim Sammons on the piano, with Jeanne Watts and Jackie Dobson providing vocals.

The bride is the daughter of Maxine Dobson of Prestonsburg and Calloway Dobson Jr. of Anco. The groom is the son of Ray and Emogene Branham of Bull Creek.

The bride wore a gown featuring a sweetheart neckline, which fell to a bodice of heavily beaded motifs of iridescent chips and seed pearls. The off-the-shoulder sleeves fell into a seafoam of ruffles. The skirt was of light chiffon decorated with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The back of the dress led into a chapel-length train of ruffles. The veil was a spray of pearls with satin rosette set into a row of pearls. Her bouquet was of nose-gay design with French satin roses and baby gardenias, with a pearl overlay matching her veil.

Serving as the bride's honor attendant was Margie Spurlock. Bridesmaids were Jeanne Watts and Sandy Combs, sisters of the bride, and Christel Combs, niece of the bride.

Serving as best man was Bradis Childers. Ushers were Roy Branham, brother of the groom; Brian Branham, nephew of the groom; and Tim Collins.

Autumn Gail Dobson and Tia Marie Dobson, daughters of the bride, were flower girls. The register was attended by Tina Robinson and Diane Collins.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the reception hall of the church.

Cassaday Addresses JW Reading Council

The Jenny Wiley Reading Council, an affiliate of the International Reading Association, met April 29 at Clark Elementary School, with Nadine H. Hicks, temporary president, presiding.

Phillip Cassaday, state organization chairman, address members, discussing the requirements and needs of the council in general. He noted that many persons in the area belong to the national organization. Council leaders were invited to participate in leadership sessions scheduled in June in Bowling Green.

Bertha Ratliff, in her summary of the council's activities, emphasized that the group is service-oriented, and that it is open to all interested in reading affairs and reading achievement. She noted that members have taught classes, made presentations at local, state and national levels, has organized displays, conducted workshops, and members have served on the boards of the different levels of the association.

Among those registering and participating in the meeting were Phillip Cassaday, Pamela Wohlford, Kathleen Keithman, Myrtle Ratliff, Bertha Ratliff, Theima Jewel Delong, Eileen Ramey, Delphia J. Hicks and Nadine Hicks.

The next meeting of the council will be at Porter School in Johnson County Thursday, May 18, at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Floyd Extension Homemakers Seek To Improve Communities

"The Extension Homemakers Association Members in Floyd County are seeking ways to improve their homes and communities," said Frances Pitts, county Cooperative Extension Service agent. "Members have recently had lessons in home lighting, nutritional needs of women and selection and preparation of seafood."

"All of the Extension home economics activities are planned around helping people improve their lives, both as individuals and members of their communities," Pitts added. "Homemaker clubs are one of the ways that Extension hopes to promote these changes."

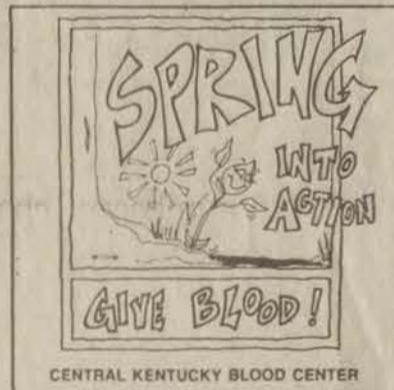

The Homemaker Association is organized into community clubs which usually meet once a month. A lesson is presented on topics selected to answer particular needs and interests of the members, she said.

People who cannot attend club meetings can still belong to homemakers by becoming a member-at-large.

Gov. Wallace Wilkinson has proclaimed May 7-13 Homemaker Week in Kentucky.

"A MAGISTRATE FOR THE PEOPLE"

I am a candidate for Magistrate and like all candidates, I would appreciate your support. However, and unlike the others, I have a plan for progress in our district that was developed by my many long hours of visiting with you in your home to find out what you think the problems are and what priorities you think should be set by our Fiscal Court. I will represent District 3 in an aggressive manner. I understand that the needs of District 3 may be different than the needs of District 1, 2, or 4, and that we need a forceful, aggressive Representative to assure us that our needs are considered and that our area is treated equally in "all" matters of county government. I have outlined another part of my program for you.

ROADS.....Simply because of the rugged landscape of our area, we must place a high priority on maintenance of our roads, not just those of friends and political supporters.

GARBAGE.....Our area is beautiful. However, this natural beauty is sometimes marred by unsightly garbage that pollutes our land and causes real health hazards for our people. I think that this is unacceptable. I will lead the fight to have our area cleaned up, to make garbage disposal and pick up available and affordable, and institute community clean ups each spring with county road crews pitching in to help.

Bub Reynolds is one of us, he's concerned about our county and our district. He will see to it that the resources of Floyd County are directed toward the needs of our district and he will be available to the people at all times to listen to their concerns and translate these concerns into action by the county government. We don't need someone who just goes "along." We need to be sure that our needs are coincided equal with those of other areas, that's what a magistrate can do for you and that's what Bub Reynolds will do. Vote for Bub Reynolds on May 23.

'I Am A Promise'

Vogel-Day Methodist Church's youth choir, called "God's Promises," recently participated in the Upper Big Sandy United Methodist Ministry talent showcase at the Pikeville Methodist Church. They sang a medley of songs, including "I Am A Promise," in the non-competitive event. Three of the youngest members, J.W. Clevinger, Lori Feltner and Michelle Blackburn, performed a skit called "Judge Not" in the non-competitive group skit category. In the competitive solo vocal and instrumental division, Carrie Feltner sang "He Grew the Tree," and played the piano. She earned first place awards. In the front row is Brandi Boyd; in the second row are J.W. Clevinger, Wesley Boyd, Justin Shofner, Christy Crum, Lori Feltner, Elizabeth Clevinger, Michelle Blackburn and Dusty Branham. In the third row are Dusti Crum and Melissa Iricks. In the back row are Brad Branham, Samantha Branham, Ashley Branham, Shondale McKinney, Carrie Feltner, Sabrina West (choir leader, holding Michael Frederick, son of pastor Dan Frederick), Amanda Wright, Randall Iricks and Joshua Shofner. The children attend school at Pikeville, Mullins, Betsy Layne and Harold.

Lead Role

Elizabeth Clevinger of Harold Elementary School performed the lead role in the musical drama, "The Little Alien Who Preached Salvation," during Vogel-Day Methodist Church's Easter services. She portrayed a little alien who came to Earth to learn about the true meaning of Easter. She is the daughter of Larry and Sharon Clevinger of Harold.

Musical Drama

Portraying the symbols of Easter in a musical drama at Vogel-Day Methodist Church were J.W. Clevinger (Peter Cottontail), Lori Feltner (Easter basket), Chelsea Hogg (Easter egg) and Wesley Boyd (Easter lily).

Happy Mother's Day!

Mother's Day, according to Encyclopedia Britannica, "is a festival derived from the custom of mother-worship in ancient Greece. Formal mother-worship, with ceremonies to Cybele, or Rhea, 'the Great Mother of the Gods', were performed on the Ides of March throughout Asia Minor. With the coming of Christianity, this developed into worship of 'Mother Church,' the celebration occurring on mid-Lent Sunday, when children returned home with gifts for parents, especially the mother. In the USA, Mother's Day was given official recognition by Congress May 8, 1914, the second Sunday in May being the national day.

"The white carnation, signifying sweetness, purity and endurance, was adopted as the floral emblem."

Pikeville's Lost in the Shuffle Bridge Club met at Meyers Towers last week and the previous week. The winners were Guialene Smith, first; JoNell Robinson, second; and Betty Grudin, third. On May 2, winners were Smith, first; Vicki Pinson, second; and Mrs. Jerry Barnard, third. Smith will probably be the player of the month, as she has 8,740 points with three games to go.

A farewell bridge party has been scheduled at the home of Lorraine Beach for Betty and Arnold Grudin and John Rupley, who plan to spend the summer in Ohio.

Club member Cynthia Mulliken recently passed the state bar examination and is a full-fledged attorney working with Lawrence Webster in Pikeville. She is also teaching a par-law course at Prestonsburg Community College.

The senior citizens formed a pinocle club, and winners were Belle Bolden, Rebecca Layne, Estelle Hawpe and Roberta Sandefur.

A QUESTION OF PUBLIC TRUST

MY OPPONENT'S RECORD:

Former State Senator Is Disbarred For Role in False Black-Lung Claims

By Michael York
Of The Herald Staff

The Kentucky Supreme Court permanently disbarred former state Sen. Jim Hammond, a Prestonsburg lawyer, yesterday for falsifying two black-lung claims in 1976 and 1977.

The court said Hammond's actions constituted "unethical and unprofessional conduct" that "was nothing less than fraud."

The decision, which means Hammond cannot practice law in Kentucky for at least five years, is the most severe penalty a lawyer can receive for unprofessional conduct.

"The court said Hammond's actions constituted 'unethical and unprofessional conduct' that 'was nothing less than fraud.'"

Did attorney general intervene?

A not-so-simple speeding case

By DARLENE BOWDEN

Leader staff writer
1977, The Lexington Leader
The Commonwealth of Kentucky versus state Sen. Jim Hammond is now closed as far as Fayette Quarterly Court is concerned.

But at least one question remains: How and to what extent did state Atty. Gen. Robert F. Stephens—a former Fayette County judge—come to the aid of the wealthy lawyer from the coal-rich fields of Floyd County.

The case started out as a simple speeding citation and harassment charge—both non-criminal violations—against Hammond as he passed through Fayette County April 26.

According to the police records, Hammond, 32, was stopped at 4:40 p.m. by metro police Lt. Frank Patton on I-64 about three miles east of I-75. Hammond's car was clocked at about 10 miles per hour over the speed limit after Hammond passed Patton's police cruiser.

This is what happened, according to the police report:
When Hammond stopped his car, he threw open the door and said, "You got a gun and I've got a little girl." Hammond's three-year-old daughter was with him.

Patton noticed Hammond's eyes were bloodshot and he had the smell of alcohol on his breath.

As Patton tried to talk to him about the speed limit, Hammond kept interrupting with comments like:

"Now look here, you are harassing me with that gun. I know I was going 64 miles per hour. Write your damned ticket and I'll pay it. You put your name and badge number on that ticket. I'm going to cause you more trouble than you can imagine."

About this time Hammond gave Patton a card identifying himself as a state senator.
The verbal abuse continued and Patton called another unit for assistance.

Patton asked Hammond for his home address. The senator said, "I don't have to give you a damned thing except what's written on the license. I know. I helped write the law."

About this time officer Stella Plunkett arrived and Hammond told Patton, "If you ever harass a motorist again like you have me, I'll beat the hell out of you."

"You're under arrest," Patton replied.

After Plunkett removed a pocket knife from Hammond's pocket, Hammond started pleading with them not to arrest and handcuff him, reminding them that his daughter was with him and said he was sorry about what he had said.

He was cited for speeding and harassment.

A search of Hammond's car turned up one empty beer bottle, one beer can stuffed under a seat and an 8-pack on the floor. Patton later said Hammond had been drinking but not enough to cite him for drunken driving.

Hammond was taken to jail: His daughter was turned over to police juvenile authorities until Hammond was released that night on his own recognizance by County Judge Paul Gudge.

The case dragged on for months. Gudge granted two continuances. Finally Hammond asked for a jury trial. The day the trial was scheduled, Hammond failed to show for court.

Warrant, never issued

A warrant was to be issued for him but it was never executed because it was never signed by Patton. About this time Patton was off work with a broken leg and did not know Hammond had asked for a jury trial.

The next documented sequence of events was when Gudge received a letter early this month from Hammond with carbon copies to Attorney General Stephens and Fayette County Attorney E. Lawson King. The letter was under Hammond's law office letterhead.

"Per telephone conversation with the Attorney General's office yesterday, I have been informed that you did not receive my check No. 2537 dated July 21, 1977, in the amount of $113.50 for the payment of the fine for speeding.

As you know, County Attorney E. Lawson King, the Attorney General, and myself worked out a resolution of this problem which called for my paying the aforementioned citation for speeding and court costs and that the charge of harassment would be dismissed.

I sent my check dated July 21, 1977, pursuant to this agreement, to the Attorney General in finalization of this on July 25, 1977. I was surprised to learn yesterday that some possible clerical error had resulted in this matter not being finalized at this time. I am sure this, with my enclosed check in the amount of $113.50, will finalize same."

This week, King said it was late in July when Stephens called him and told him Hammond had been arrested for speeding. He asked King to look into it.

"I determined the facts as I saw them and told him what we would take," King said.

King, 41, said he didn't think Hammond's heated words with the police amounted to harassment and that Patton was agreeable to the $100 fine and court costs on the speeding ticket and dropping the harassment.

King called up Stephens' office and left a message: "Tell Bob we'll take $100 and costs and file away the harassment on that fellow from Prestonsburg."

Stephens never suggested what should be done with the charges and King never talked to Hammond personally about the case, King said.

During King's 16 years with the county attorney's office, other attorneys general, including Stephens, have called about cases two or three times a month.

Stephens, 50, said this week he can't remember the case very well but that Hammond called him and complained about mistreatment by the police when he was arrested here.

"I just told him he ought to talk to Lawson King," Stephens said. He also said Hammond "accidentally" mailed the $113.50 check to him in Frankfort and he sent it on to Quarterly Court here.

The Senator said he ran into Stephens at Blue Grass Field the same day that he had tried unsuccessfully to see King about the case. Because of their friendship, Hammond said he told Stephens about the case.

"Bob (Stephens) and Lawson (King) talked it out and settled it," Hammond said. He said he failed to appear in court because he thought the case had been settled.

He also said he doesn't know why his check was mailed to Stephens, and denied complaining to Stephens or anyone about how he was treated by the police here.

The hearing was moved to Frankfort at Hammond's request. It is to be rescheduled after Oct. 15, according to an official with the Driver's License Division in Frankfort.

A case is also still pending on Hammond's involvement in a fatal car wreck Sept. 15 in Floyd County where Hammond lives.

According to State Police, Hammond was attempting to pass a car on Highway 114 when he drove into the path of an oncoming truck.

The truck left the road to avoid a collision. The truck went out of control, hit Hammond's car, and ran head-on into the car Hammond had passed.

One person was killed, another critically injured, and Hammond received shoulder injuries.
Trooper T.D. Hall said this week charges may be filed soon. He would not say what—or against whom—they would be.

"(Metro Police Lt. Frank) Patton noticed Hammond's eyes were bloodshot and he had the smell of alcohol on his breath.

"As Patton tried to talk to him about the speed limit, Hammond kept interrupting with comments like:

"Now look here, you are harassing me with that gun. I know I was going 64 miles per hour. Write your damned ticket and I'll pay it. You put your name and badge number on that ticket. I'm going to cause you more trouble than you can imagine."

"Hammond was taken to Jail..."

"A case is also still pending on Hammond's involvement in a fatal car wreck Sept. 15 in Floyd County where Hammond lives."

Happy Mother's Day

My Marvelous Mom

Mom, there's so much I want, and need, to say, as we approach toward Mother's Day. So maybe the good Lord from above, will help me tell you of my love. Mom raised six kids on her knee so she always had to be busy as a bee. Mom never had the time for relaxing and fun, Because of the housework that had to be done. Even though I can't put the words in so many ways. That is why I think my wonderful mom is the marvelous Mom of the day.

Floyd County

I was born and have been raised here, In Floyd County so far along. And I never want to leave here, Cause this place is truly my home.

Home is where the heart is, That's what I've been told. My heart is in Floyd County, This is where I plan to grow old.

When you need a helping hand, It's never far away. People reach out near or far, To help you all the day.

This is what makes Floyd County my home, Cause everything is dear. This love grows stronger more and more, With the passing of each year.

A Mother's Special Gift

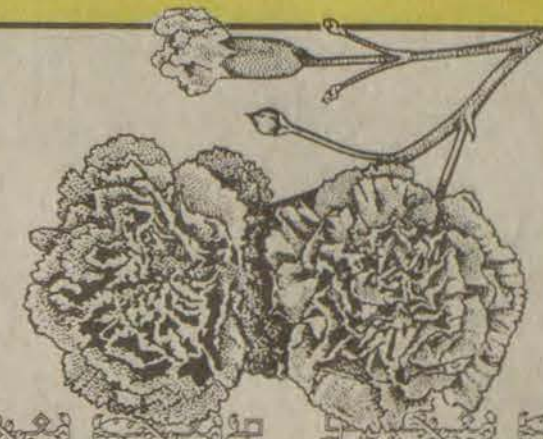

He's got ten little fingers; And is still very small. He doesn't expect perfection from me; In his eyes I stand above them all.

When he wakes each morning; And I see his smiling face. I know he's so special in my heart; That no one could take his place.

In all God's special gifts; There's nothing I would rather be. Not rich nor famous; Just my son's only mommy.

I look into his little face; I see innocence and love. Yes, for my 5-year-old son; I thank the good Lord above.

Remember Mom

Search Your Heart, Young Mother

On the day to honor mothers
Please think on what I say!
Are you rearing for eternity,
Or just the world today?
There's a vast amount of difference
In the destinies you weave.
God gave into your keeping;
Don't cause His heart to grieve.
The world would have your children
Lie and cheat and steal and kill.
We see this deadly, daily fare
Grind from the media's mill.
We hear of drugs and sex and vice Until our hearts cry out,
"Don't let this happen to my child,"
Our very beings shout!
But when those testing times have come,
And you know they will,
Will your child know where to turn
To the One his needs can fill?
Do you teach him how to pray
While kneeling at your side?
And how to live his life each day
So in God's love to abide?
Do you teach him all the truth
From the precious Book of Life,
And all those rules to help him
When he faces worldly strife?
And if you're doing all these things
To guide his childish path,
Did you remember that God said
"Provoke not your child to wrath?"
"but with patience bring him up
In the way that he should go."
And when he's grown and gone from you,
Your teaching then will show.
You'll find your child will understand
And respect you more each day,
If he knows he has his place
But must work as well as play.
For him to be responsible
In tasks he can perform
Will teach him how to overcome
When cares about him storm.
And with all the education
That our schools can afford,
Do you show him how to live
With others in sweet accord?
And do you buy that costly gift,
The best one on the shelf,
When you ought to buy a lesser one
And give more of yourself?
He doesn't need to dress the best,
Or be the smartest in the class,
If he's reared with love and trust
And in God's test can pass.
He needn't be a sports hero,
Nor she a beauty queen,
If all the way they've learned to play
The game on Jesus' team.
So, as we honor mothers
Please search your heart and pray
You are the kind of mother
To be honored on Mother's Day!

—Libby Martin, Wayland

Bless This Hardworking Mother

Whatever happened to the glory
Motherhood should possess?
The baking of cupcakes and cookies
And for the children, a long, loving caress?

Weren't we all taught as youngsters
That Mom was the stability of home?
And that no matter what happened
She would be there to lean on?

Where might be the garden
From which she cans her food?
Or maybe the rows of daffodils
She should plant sometime before June?

Sewing and quilting are hobbies that
She would love to have time to do...
To get the time to sit and crochet?
Ha! Who's kidding who?

The "Supermom" our society has created
Has had to make changes aplenty,
She didn't necessarily want this life
But lives it to earn a few pennies.

Those cupcakes and cookies she used to bake
Took an hour and she made dozens;
But now, out of the freezer, comes brownies
Made especially for the microwave ovens.

The garden she might have
Would be planted alongside the yard
But you'll be surprised what she can grow
Even though elsewhere she works really hard.

Mom is still the backbone of the family
Though you can't always find her home.
She is there to be leaned on Whether at the office or over the phone.

Quilting and crocheting she might pickup
Later on when her life slows down.
She just hopes she'll have time for it all Before they lay her peacefully in the ground.

—Bernadine Isaac Auxier

Grandmother

Listen my children and you shall hear all the groans and grunts of a grandmother dear.
It's winter outside and the air is so cold,
if I stick my head outside - I'll get a frost bit nose.
The water frozen off and the sink piled high,
I get so mad, I just sit down and cry;
If I had any water, I'd wash my face,
but I've searched everywhere - not a drop on the place.
I would like to use the commode - but can't even do that.
So I just go to my rocking chair - and pick up my cat.
I decide to just rest for awhile and watch T.V.
But - I turn the dial round and round not a thing I want to see.
Then I go to my bedroom - turn down my bed, give up on everything - pull the blankets up to my head.
Well, then, I just say my prayers and when everything has been said,
I try to settle down, get some sleep and hope I don't wake up dead.

—Myrtle Berry Martin

My Rocking Chair

Many songs I've heard about an old gray-haired mother—sitting alone in her old rocking chair.
I now understand what all the words mean, because you see I've also been there.
My rocking chair now sets in the back bedroom - so silent and still.
When I am lonely I go into the room, sit in my rocking chair, close my eyes, and all the years gone by, I then relive:
In my mind, I can hold each of my children,
And as I rock to and fro - no one else can understand, the happiness that brings me.
No one, but me, could ever know,
as I cuddle each one close in my arms,
and I tell a story or sing a song,
I can feel them there with me - as my old rocking chair keeps rocking along.
Thru the years - when the children could come home - they would rock their babies one by one, and put them to bed and they would sleep, so sound,
It made me feel so glad,
to still have my old rocking chair around.
I will always cherish my old rocking chair
It gives me a feeling of peace just to know it's still there.
Sometimes when I feel so lonely -and think no one cares -
I go into the bedroom and sit there just remembering,
in my old rocking chair.
And as I rock in my old rocking chair once more
I find contentment
as I rock to and fro.
So I close my eyes and the happy memories come again and everything seems to be —
As it was back then.

Railroad Retiree's History Mirrors History Of Martin

by Pam Shingler
Assistant Editor

With the Festival of FACES gearing up to spotlight the people and culture of Floyd County, a Martin man has chronicled in his long and clear memory the growth and glory days of his adopted hometown.

John Wesley Hall says that when he came to the railroad town in 1920 "there were only five or six families. It was just a dog fennel patch. The only activity was a mill on Beaver Creek.

"The town started building up as soon as the railroad established a yard here," the 88-year-old recalls. "People moved in to work for the railroad."

A Knott County native, Hall joined the B&O Railroad as a coal billing agent after graduating from the now-defunct Kentucky Normal College in Louisa.

Like many an outsider, he met and married a local woman, the late Lida Osborne, and settled in. "Our first date was on July 4, 1920," he remembers. "They ran a special train to Weeksbury for a baseball game, and we went.

"The train stayed there until the game and the fights were all over," he says, with a grin.

The couple was married about a year later and remained together for 66 years until her death. "We didn't have any problems," he says, adding mischievously, "If she wanted to buy a dress and pay $3 or $4 for it, I didn't care."

When C&O bought out Hall's employer in 1925, he stayed on, working in the train master's office until his retirement as regional storekeeper in 1965.

In those early days, he recalls working seven days a week for $5.20 a day. "You could buy three pounds of bacon for 25 cents, so that wasn't as bad as it sounds," he says.

Adding to Martin's early prosperity and growth were a couple of coal companies that sprang up near the railroad base. Hall says that sometimes young coal miners would come to his rail yard office to trade their coal company scrip for money to buy show tickets.

Cars appeared in Martin before roads to run them on, Hall remembers. His wife, he says, owned the third automobile in the town, a 1930 Model A Ford, bought for $375.

"We got stuck in the same mud hole twice in one day," he says. "The same fellow pulled us out with a team of mules. He told us, 'If I had two or three other customers like you, I wouldn't have to work so hard.'"

Hall says that by the mid-1930s, car owners could drive to Prestonsburg.

The former railroad man verifies many of the legends surrounding the "wild west" aura of the area in the 1920s and '30s. "It was rough then," he says. "Everybody carried a pistol. If you didn't, they'd kick your butt." He admits that he, too, packed a gun.

As the city grew, so did Hall's involvement with it. He served as a city council member for many years, as well as police judge. "I helped take (the city) from no place in the road to a fourth class city," he says.

He was also commissioner of the Lonesome Pine district of the Boy Scouts of America for a number of years and helped to develop troops throughout the area. In addition, he says he helped to build the First Baptist Church of Martin.

Masonry has been a big part of the octogenarian's life. In fact, the Martin lodge is named for him. A Mason for 54 years, he served as Kentucky Grand Master during 1956-57 and recently wrote a book on the beginning of freemasonry in the United States. He hopes to have it published soon.

Over the years, Hall has recorded the history of Martin in photographs. He has several albums crammed with pictures of the town and its people, each carefully labeled and dated.

The city's unofficial historian, Hall and Martin have grown up and old together.

City's History Lives in Albums

John Wesley Hall has chronicled the history of his adopted hometown in photographs, neatly filed in numerous albums. Moving to Martin in 1920, Hall became involved in lives and times of the railroad town.

Johnson Earns Pageant Crown

RACHAEL JOHNSON

Rachael Leanne Johnson, 9-year-old daughter of Ray and Leah Johnson of Martin, was crowned 1989 Miss Starlite beauty queen on Sunday, April 2, at the Allen Convention Center.

She also won the sportswear and photogenic titles in her age division and was honored with the titles of high point queen, overall photogenic queen, and Miss Dream model in the 6-years-and-above age division.

She received crowns, trophies, banners, a plaque and a sports watch. Her maternal grandparents are Pauline McKinney of Martin and the late Hillard McKinney. Her paternal grandparents are Raymond and Stella Johnson, also of Martin.

Citizens we ask you to vote for GERALD DEROSSETT

We would like to take this opportunity to ask you to re-elect Gerald DeRossett as magistrate of District #1 (No. 6 on the ballot). We can not say all of the good things this honest man has done for us. Gerald is always there for the people of District #1 regardless of the hour, day, or night. This is proven by the many times Gerald has worked after 1 a.m. Gerald has worked on holidays such as Christmas Eve and Thanksgiving Day. Gerald, along with his two main volunteers Gerald Douglas, Gomer Alen and John Bryan DeRossett have cleared many roads on Saturday night to allow church services to be held the next day. We know that Gerald DeRossett is the most experienced, and the best qualified person to serve in the magistrate's office. Gerald DeRossett gets things done by working for us all of the time. If Gerald should have some spare time, you will find him with his wife Katie watching his as well as your children in various school activities.

Vote For CLINIS HALL
Magistrate, Dist. 3

HI, I'M CLINIS HALL.

I'm not promising you the moon because a Magistrate can't get it down to you, but I am for every man, woman and child in District 3.

My District starts below Arkansas, covers every road and hollow to the top of Abner Mountain.

When Elected, I will work with the water system and for better roads, parks and any other areas possible.

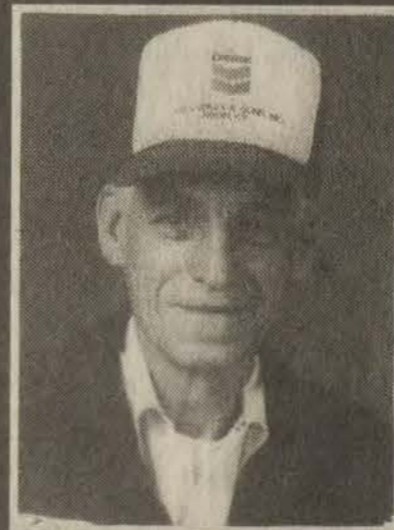

THAT'S NOT PROMISES—THAT'S FACTS!

Vote Clinis Hall
Magistrate—District 3

"Vote Cline in '89"

(Pol. adv. paid for by Jimmy Hall, 5-10-2tpd.)

A Message to the Voters of Magisterial District No. 2.

Please allow me to introduce myself. My name is Frank Martin, and I am a Candidate for Magistrate, District No. 2.

I have been married for over 38 years to Billie Jean Bailey, daughter of Beech and Cornelia Brown Bailey. I am the son of Fred Martin and Ada Hall Martin. My father, Fred Martin, was a school teacher and a businessman. We presently reside at Garrett, Ky. We own and operate Martin's service station and the Garrett Restaurant.

The People of Magisterial District No. 2 need a full time and hard-working magistrate.

1. A magistrate who is honest.
2. A magistrate who is dependable.
3. A magistrate who makes decisions on his own.
4. A magistrate who has the ability to get the job done.
5. A magistrate whose top priority is roads. More gravel and blacktop. Take politics out of the county road programs. More money for road equipment.
6. A magistrate who knows quite a bit about building roads.
7. A magistrate who owns and knows how to operate bulldozers, backhoes, dump trucks, and end loaders.
8. A magistrate who is concerned about little children and senior citizens.
9. A magistrate who will not shirk or dodge.
10. A magistrate who will know you and work for you after he is elected.
11. A magistrate who will treat everyone fairly and equally.

As your magistrate, I feel that I can play a considerable role in the future development of both our district and our county.

Your vote and support in my upcoming campaign will be greatly appreciated. Give me an opportunity to work with you in making a stronger, even better Floyd County.

I will be a magistrate that District 2 can be proud of.

'Peddling' St. Jude's: Bike-A-Thon Nets $1,259

The Drift Woman's Club, sponsor of the recent St. Jude Bike-a-thon in McDowell, was quite successful, according to Jerri Turner, bike-a-thon coordinator.

"We're proud of the 21 riders, volunteers and citizens who donated," said Turner. "Thanks to them, we raised $1,259."

Turner congratulated the riders for their efforts to make the contribution to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital possible.

Danya Leigh Fraley was presented a new bicycle for collecting the most money ($348). She is the daughter of Dana and Janet Fraley of Drift. Kyle Caudill raised $303, and Robert "Tete" Dawson turned in $202.

Other students who together raised over $300 were Ronnie Kinzel, Jo Pack, Jessica Mitchell, Lora Chaffins, Brandon Elswick, Matthew Miller, Brook Hamilton, Chandra Short, Stacy Shepherd, Leigh Ann Hall, Ashley Ward and Terrence Mullins.

Mullins, who rode 26 miles, earned the trophy for riding the most miles. He is the son of Terry and Kathy Mullins of Price.

A first grade student from Porter Elementary School, Byron Hall, was the youngest rider in the school age category, and rode 13 miles.

For the preschool riders, a special area was marked off, and laps counted instead of miles ridden. Leading that group with 140 laps and a winning trophy was Joseph Skeans of Hunter; his sister, Stephanie, rode 100 laps.

Megan Hall rode 67 laps, while 3-year-old Wesley Turner traveled 12 laps in his "Little Tyke's" car. Together, the preschoolers raised $100 for St. Jude Hospital.

"The Woman's Club would like to thank all the parent volunteers who stayed to help us conduct the bike-a-thon," said Turner. Assisting were

"They played an important part in making the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels for Life Bike-a-thon a success," Turner noted. "Though the campaign has ended, our appreciation of their efforts has not gone unnoticed."

Turner also expressed thanks to the individuals and businesses sponsoring riders and making donations. "Knowing the people in our community are concerned enough to take quick action for children who need assistance is heart-warming," said club member Linda Elliott.

Hudson, Hall Vows To Be Said

Hudson-Hall

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hudson of Talcum announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Amanda, to Curtis Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos R. Hall of Dema.

The bride-elect is a 1988 graduate of Knott County Central High School and attends Hazard Community College. She plans to transfer to Marion Technical College in Marion, Ohio.

The prospective groom is a 1987 graduate of Knott County Central High School and Carl D. Perkins Vocational School. He is employed with Steam Turbine Alternative Resources in Marion, Ohio.

The wedding will be held Aug. 5 at 11 a.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Layne of Dema.

Friends and family are invited to attend.

The couple will reside in Galion, Ohio.

Books and Things:

From Florence To Frontiers, Span Of Nursing Examined

by Trisha Morris, PCC Librarian

Nursing is as old as humankind, but nursing as a profession is comparatively new.

Wide Neighborhoods, by Mary Breckinridge. This is an autobiography of a woman of vision and sound practical sense.

With the motto, "...to safeguard the lives and health of mothers and children..." to give skilled care to women in childbirth...

Donations Sought For Trip To China

In spite of threatening weather, the employees of Cooley Medical Equipment and Cooley Apothecary held a successful rummage sale May 3-5 to raise funds to send Sister Margaret Jacobs on a tour of rural and urban medical facilities in the People's Republic of China.

Sister Jacobs will tour China as part of the Citizens Ambassador Program.

However, said a spokesperson for the Cooley businesses, additional funds are needed, and must be received by May 20.

"Education is the task of bringing the young and the great together." John Jay Chapman health, social welfare and economic independence in rural districts, with the help of their own leading citizens," Mary Breckinridge brought health care to the doorsteps of people in rural southeastern Kentucky and began the career which was to be her life.

A Social History of the Frontier Nursing Service, by Nancy Dammann. In 1925, Mary Breckinridge founded the Frontier Nursing Service in Leslie County.

Deprived of a life with the children she wanted so badly, Breckinridge devoted the balance of her life to planning, organizing and administering the Frontier Nursing Service.

Malnutrition, anemia, hookworm, tuberculosis, typhoid, accidents and child birth were the most common health problems the new nursing service found.

Florence Nightingale, by Elspeth Huxley. Known as the "Lady with the Lamp," and the "Heroine of the Crimean," Florence Nightingale is perhaps the most well-known nurse in history.

History of Nursing
Intensive Care

Nightingale's vocation in the 19th Century was not a profession allowed to daughters of the rich.

In her mid-30s she began her career as the superintendent of the "Establishment for Gentlewomen During Illness," and, during the Crimean War, was sent to head a team of 38 other nurses.

Finding a dirty, over-crowded hospital, she began by providing good diet, clean laundry and sanitary service for the sick and wounded.

Generously arrayed with drawings and photographs, this is a book of biographical information, inspiration and beauty.

The Emergence of Modern Nursing, by Bonnie Bullough. The history of nursing is also the history of people's humanity for their fellow humans.

attitude toward its sick, wounded, mentally ill, paupers, lepers, cripples and infants. It must also consider the medical practices of the time, the location of the hospital and the status of women in the society.

This book weaves together the history of western civilization, with the emergence of famous individuals, in its historic accounting of the nursing profession.

Reality Shock, by Marlene Kramer. This book is a culmination of eight years of study and research, delving into the problem of "reality shock" as manifested and dealt with by young graduate nurses.

This is a well-written book that will probably be of interest only to those in the nursing profession.

History of Nursing, by Josephine Dolan. From the care of the sick in primitive cultures, to Mary Breckinridge's Frontier Nursing service, to Aerospace nursing, this book is complimented by numerous pictures of noted figures, and pictorial depictions of ancient treatments. It is important reading for anyone wanting a world view of the subject.

Intensive Care, by Echo Heron. The author, a 10-year veteran of a coronary care unit and the emergency room of a major hospital, eloquently relates her personal account of a nurse's life from training to practice to burnout—and beyond.

It is full of warmth, wit and gritty detail and is an interesting insight into the real world of nursing.

Hello! My name is Betty Caudill and I am running for Magistrate, District Three in the up-coming election.

I am married to Edward Caudill, your former magistrate.

My parents were the late Elder Mack McCloud and Nealie Gibson McCloud.

My husband and I have 3 children, Johnny M. Caudill of Drift, Eddie Cruse Caudill Jr. of Bevinville, and Kathi Jo Caudill Robinson of San Antonio, Texas.

I ask for only three things for the up-coming election in May. First, and foremost I ask everyone to please vote, secondly I ask that you carefully look at each candidate running for magistrate.

We have always and will continue to treat the office of magistrate as our only full time job. We will continue to be available to all the people of District Three as we have in the past.

Please call me at 377-6835 for any problems or needs you may have.

Historical Confederation Of Ky. Regional Meeting Held In P'burg

Representatives of the Historical Confederation of Kentucky spoke recently at a meeting of regional historians at Prestonsburg to discuss local history and increase awareness of the Confederation in the Big Sandy region.

Historical Confederation of Kentucky Regional Chairman Dr. Fon R. Belcher said that the "Historical Confederation of Kentucky is a statewide alliance of history and heritage-related member organizations. Its main office is in Frankfort. An HCK regional chairman covers all the historical organizations within his region of the state."

The Historical Confederation's activities were described by a state official from Frankfort, Jim Wallace of the Kentucky Historical Society and former secretary of the HCK of Kentucky, who gave an informative slide presentation showing the work of HCK members across the state.

Confederation members are groups interested in preserving and sharing our past. Increasing communication and cooperation among the Commonwealth's 300-plus heritage groups is a major goal.

The Confederation provides a network for exchanging ideas and information on Kentucky's history organizations. Its goals and objectives include the following: Provide a clearinghouse for technical information; monitor history and heritage-related legislation; publicize and recognize outstanding achievement in Kentucky history; promote the study of Kentucky heritage in the Commonwealth's schools; and encourage cooperation and communication among local groups.

A delegate to the Historical Confederation, Camilia Belcher, gave a presentation on the historical approach to research. Belcher gave a brief overview of some methods and sources to use in research of a historic person.

The featured guest speaker was Faye Belcher, special library consultant for Morehead State University's Camden-Carroll Library, where she has been acting director and associate director of libraries. A descendant of the pioneers who founded the community of Belcher, she began teaching career in the two-room school that was located in Belcher. She has been Associate Professor of Library Science at two Kentucky universities; one of the first presidents and member of the Board of Directors of the Coal Information Network of Kentucky; and editor for "Coal Finder" and "Coal Bibliography."

Belcher spoke about the Appalachian and Kentuckiana Collections at Morehead State University Library. Her speech included discussions of the separate collections comprising the Appalachian Collection, including studies of Appalachian life and culture; MSU's photographic collection, "Appalachian Faces;" the Cora Wilson Stewart Moonlight School located on the campus of MSU; and collections of Appalachian authors Jesse Stuart and James Still.

Support And Help Elect

A Democrat For Floyd County Jailer
Your Vote and Support Will Not be Forgotten

IT IS CRITICAL THAT WE HAVE A NEW ADMINISTRATION TO CARE FOR OUR FLOYD COUNTY JAIL.

MY PLANS AS JAILER WILL BE TO REVIVE OUR JAIL, SO WE MAY HAVE A BETTER FLOYD COUNTY JAILING SYSTEM.

- 1) BRUTALITY-The Floyd County Jail can do without this & will if I am elected.
- 2) MAKE JAIL HUMANE-By holding staff as well as residents legally responsible for their actions.
- 3) MAKE THE JAIL SAFE-By cracking down on interpersonal violence such as inmates hurting one another or themselves.
- 4) MAKE JAIL SENTENCE TOUGH YET FAIR-BY SEGREGATING ALL VIOLENT AND DANGEROUS inmates from non-violent inmates while providing all inmates the opportunity to earn "GOOD TIME" and work their way into less restrictive environments.
- 5) TREAT INMATES AS INDIVIDUALS WITH INDIVIDUAL PROBLEMS-By offering therapeutic programs & choice of religious confrontation.
- 6) PROVIDE ALL MEDICAL ATTENTION NEEDED-We must consider inmates as human individuals as we are by giving any & all medical attention that is need among them.
- 7) PROVIDE TROUBLED INMATES WITH PROFESSIONAL & CONFIDENTIAL COUNSELING-By counselors employed by agencies outside the jailing administration.
- 8) ENCOURAGE FAMILIES TO STAY TOGETHER-By facilitating private inmates and personal contact visits.
- 9) STOP USING THE JAIL AS A DUMPING GROUND FOR VICTIMLESS CRIMES-Such as gambling or probably drug use by inmates that may be brought to them by relatives or neighboring friends.
- 10) PLACE A RENEWED EMPHASIS ON REFORMING THE FLOYD COUNTY JAIL - By providing the resources necessary to have a truly effective rehabilitative institution for inmates to pay their debts to society.

If elected by the citizens support, I will apply, through the state government as well as the Floyd County Fiscal Court, to establish a security camera system throughout the jail and jailhouse surroundings, to help prevent any further jail escapes and to monitor any & all crimes that may be committed.

Regardless of the crime all inmates will receive medical attention when needed.

Sister files suit in Spriggs death.

Before her brother died of an apparent heart attack in Floyd county jail in December, Jailer Lawrence Hale had "deliberately ignored" his request for medical attention.

On his admission to jail on Dec. 15, Spriggs told jailers he had had previous heart attacks: indeed, he had.

For two days before the fatal seizure, Spriggs complained of severe chest pains, requested immediate medical treatment, and asked to be taken to his doctor, but was ignored by the jailer and his deputies, the suit alleges.

Settlement Is Made in Case Against Floyd Jailer, Deputy

Spriggs's death, State Pathologist John Hunsager, M.D., and Ken Katsaris, a nationally know expert on jail procedures, testified that Spriggs's civil rights had been violated.

Mothers Of Multiples Plans State Convention

The Bluegrass Chapter of the Mothers of Twins and Multiples Club invites area families of twins, triplets or more in Floyd County to attend the Fifth Annual State Mothers of Multiples Convention in Lexington May 19-20.

The convention will be held at the Holiday Inn North Holidome, located at the junction of I-75 and Exit 115, according to Mary Jo Blevins, convention chairwoman.

The club is a support group that joins together, both educationally and socially, mothers of multiple birth children throughout Kentucky. Each year, a different local chapter hosts the state convention in its city.

This year's convention keynote speaker is Dr. Herbert Collier, a clinical psychologist who is a nationally-recognized expert on twins, and author of "The Psychology of Twins." Other speakers will discuss a variety of topics, including helping twins do well in school, family vacations in Kentucky, and coping when twins (or more) are ill at the same time.

For more information, call 278-3922 or 266-5623.

"To the Voters of Dist. #3"

In my campaigning, I have visited all precincts. The people in Dist. #3 want a change. And I will be the man to bring about that change. I will see to it that all of the equipment is used to help all the people. To clean out the creek bed. And I will also keep the roads to all the cemeteries repaired so they can be used when needed. In Dist. #3, I will also vote to have the garbage stopped from coming from other counties. We have enough garbage of our own to take care of.

I will also vote to have the water system extended to all sections of Dist. #3 and have fire hydrants installed in location to cut insurance rates on people's property much lower.

People have told me that they was going to vote for a man that has the ability and know how to get these things done.

The people also wants a magistrate, that will help get small business in Dist. #3. The people also want the Senior Citizens to have the proper health care when needed. The people in Dist. #3 want better roads, cleaner highways. A vote for me is a vote for the people. I am the man that can get these things done. I will carry out all my pledges that I have made. They are not just another bunch of campaign promises.

First Highlands Cath Procedures Performed

The first procedures in Highlands Regional Medical Center's new Cardiac Catheterization Lab, opened officially on April 16, were performed this week on two area patients.

The procedure is used to diagnose the presence and severity of blockages in arteries that supply the heart — blockages which cause heart attacks, according to hospital officials.

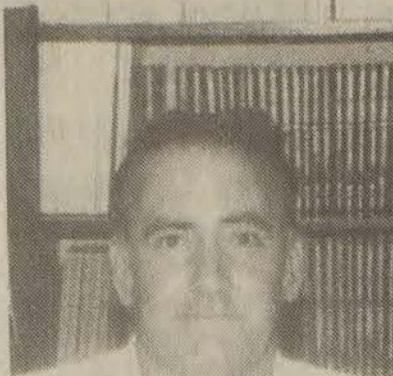

The first two patients to receive catheterization at HRMC were James Griffith, 45, of Paintsville, and William Cruthers, 54, of Van Lear. Griffith had previously undergone cardiac catheterization, angioplasty and coronary by-pass surgery at the University of Kentucky. However, he was again experiencing heart-related chest pains called angina, said hospital officials. Since heart blockage problems can reoccur, another cardiac cath was recommended by Dr. Rodney Handshoe, Highlands' chief of cardiology. The procedure enabled Handshoe to evaluate the present condition of the coronary artery graft.

Cruthers likewise experienced sudden chest pains and an EKG indicated the problem. Because of a family history of heart disease, Handshoe recommended catheterization for Cruthers to further define the problems that showed upon the EKG.

"I was surprised — there was no pain," noted Griffith. Cruthers shared the sentiment, noting, "I was amazed by the whole procedure and just how easy it was."

HRMC began offering cardiac catheterization in mid-April, and officials expect to average four procedures a week.

ENDORSES

FOR Sheriff of Floyd Co.

Dear Friends in Floyd County:

Today I am personally asking you to vote for Paul Hunt Thompson on May 23rd.

You and I have a common goal:

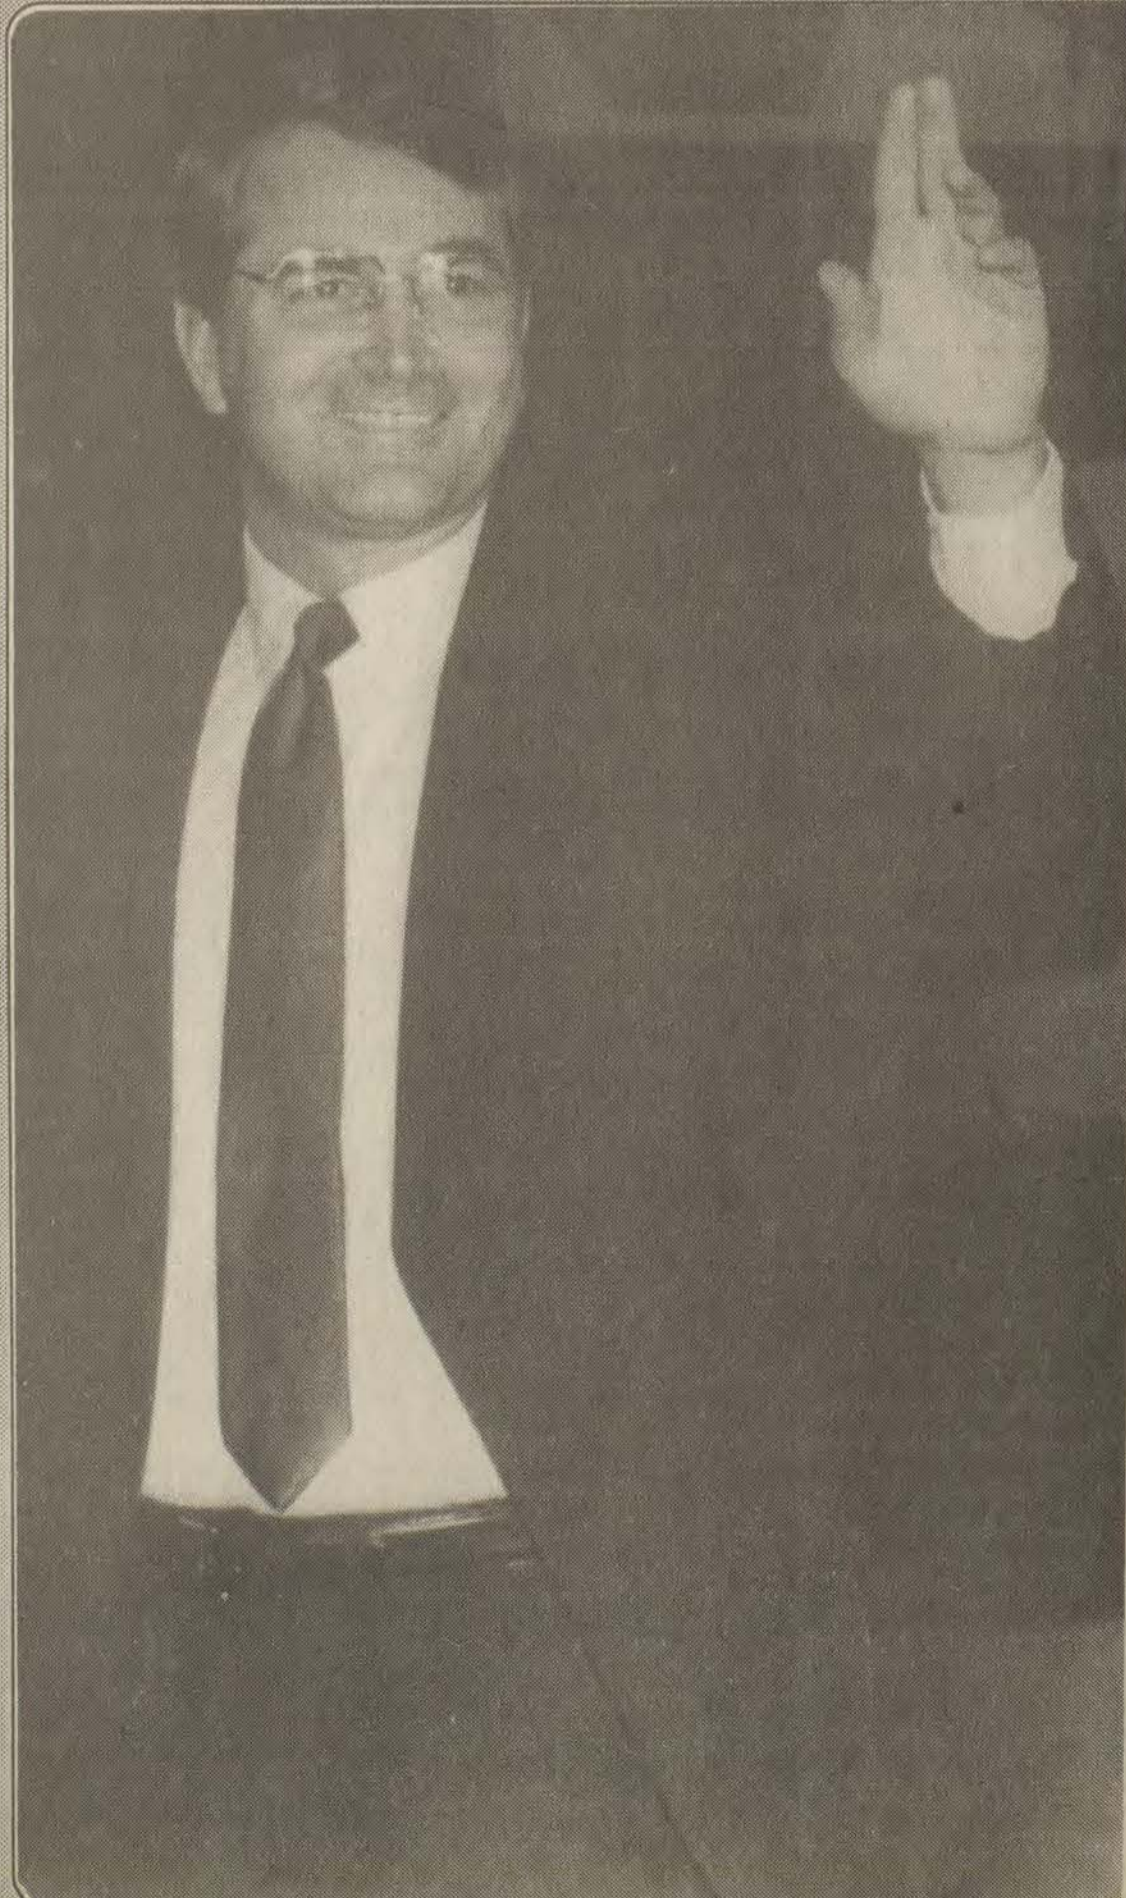

A better Life and a fair shake for ourselves here in Eastern Kentucky. We have some problems to solve; and strong intelligent leadership is needed.

It is my personal belief that Paul will provide this leadership, I know that he is dedicated, and will make every effort to do what he says.

Your friend,

Help For First Time Home Buyers Key In Housing Issue

Affordable housing is returning to the forefront as an issue that "deserves its fair share" among federal budget priorities, U.S. Senator James R. Sasser, D-Tenn., told the National Association of Realtors.

Sasser, who chairs the Senate Budget Committee and is a member of the Senate Banking committee, addressed NAR's Legislative committee during the association's 1989 Midyear Conference and Trade Exposition. Nearly 6000 members attended the April 14-19 conference.

Provisions to help entry level buyers purchase their first homes represent a key part of housing bills now before Congress, Sasser said. The decline in home ownership among first-time buyers, as well as increasing homelessness, are "two disturbing trends" that must be reversed, he said.

Legislation providing assistance to help border-line buyers become homeowners would have the effect of opening up the supply of rental units for people who cannot afford to buy, he said. "The more people who have to continue to rent drives up the price of rents...and pushes them (lower-income people) out to the nation's streets," Sasser said.

NAR President Ira Gribin compares housing opportunity to climbing a ladder, with the very-low-income on the bottom rung and first-time buyers a few rungs above. In previous testimony before Congress, Gribin has pointed out that unless programs can be established to enable renters to become buyers, few people are "going to move up the housing ladder."

Sasser and Senator John Heinz, R-Pa., have introduced The Homeownership Assistance Act 1989, which Sasser said seeks to amend the Federal Housing Administration's mortgage insurance program to help first-time home buyers overcome obstacles preventing homeownership.

The bill raises FHA's maximum mortgage insurance limit and lowers the program's down payment requirements for first-time buyers. It also authorizes FHA, which has more lenient mortgage qualification requirements than those for conventional loans, to insure adjustable-rate mortgages (ARMs) with terms competitive with some conventional ARMs.

A major advantage of the bill is that it addresses first-time home buyer affordability problems in a fiscally responsible manner that does not call for direct government appropriations, Sasser said.

Regarding federal budget concerns, Sasser said he would oppose attempts to include housing program user fees as revenue raisers in fiscal 1990 budget legislation. Such proposals would either increase existing user fees or impose new user fees for secondary mortgage market agencies such as the Federal National Mortgage Association, Government National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation.

Raising housing user fees would effectively "make housing more expensive," Sasser said.

Sasser's FHA legislation has been incorporated into the National Affordable Housing Act, introduced by Senators Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Alphonse M. D'Amato, R-N.Y. The omnibus housing bill is an "all-out attack on the housing crisis," Sasser said.

Specifics of the Cranston-D'Amato bill were discussed in a separate session during the NAR conference by Don Campbell, senate housing subcommittee staff director. Homeownership provisions in the bill are a major part of the legislation, Campbell said, speaking to members of NAR's housing and community development subcommittee.

"This bill recognizes that housing is not just a matter for the very poor," he said. "The housing problems of those trying to buy their first home, and getting backed up in the rental market, are passed on down to those at the bottom of the chain," Campbell said.

In addition to FHA program changes, the homeownership provisions in the National Affordable Housing Act would allow first-time buyers to use Individual Retirement Accounts and 401(k) plans to purchase homes, and extend the mortgage revenue bond and mortgage credit certificate programs.

NAR supports the creation of down payment assistance programs, such as those involving the use of IRA and 401(k) savings. The association also supports raising the FHA mortgage insurance limits to 95 percent of the median price in a local market. The current $101,250 limit for high-cost areas does not help buyers in cities where the median price is far above that amount, according to the association.

Another major segment of the bill will address the preservation of existing low-income housing, Campbell noted. He said the Senate housing subcommittee would be seeking suggestions from the real estate industry on the most effective ways to preserve such units in a manner suitable to property owners and tenants. "We've got to look at what kind of (owner) incentives make sense," Campbell said.

Legislation identical to the National Affordable Housing Act has been introduced in the U.S. House of Representatives by Rep. Marge Roukema, R-N.J.

It is not certain whether Congress will complete action on the legislation during the current session, Campbell said, noting that he doubts the bill will be enacted this year. Prospects for enactment are more likely for the next congressional session, he said.

The National Association of Realtors, the nation's largest trade association, represents nearly 800,000 members involved in all aspects of the real estate industry.

Combs Endorses Sturgill

Former Governor Bert T. Combs and Court of Appeals candidate Barkley Sturgill discuss the upcoming election. Combs is serving as Sturgill's campaign chairman.

BERT T. COMBS — Chairman of the Sturgill for Judge, Court of Appeals, Campaign, former Governor of Kentucky, and former Federal Judge, on why he supports Barkley Sturgill for Judge of the Court of Appeals:

"Barkley Sturgill has been a close personal friend for over 40 years, and at one time an associate in the practice of law. During that time, I have gotten to know him very closely.

He has a wealth of experience in the practice of law throughout Eastern Kentucky. He knows the people of the region and he has the maturity and integrity to represent his people with dignity and decorum as Judge on the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

He has served with distinction on the local level as Floyd County Attorney for three terms. And he has served equally well on the statewide level as a member of and Chairman of the Public Service Commission, as a member of the Kentucky Law Enforcement and Crime Commission, and as a member of the Governor's Economic Development Commission.

Barkley Sturgill has gotten the job done on both the local and state levels. He has earned our support. That's why I support Barkley Sturgill with great enthusiasm. Please join me."

Sorry we couldn't show you the more than 40,000 patients treated at Highlands last year.

So, what would you say to some photos of the nurses who treated them?

Thanks, Nurses

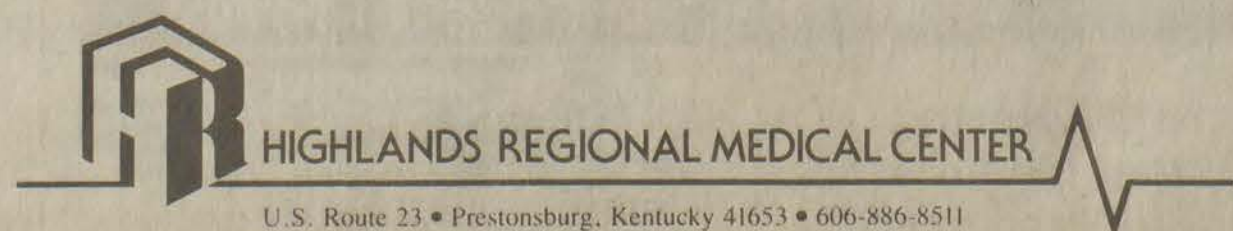

40,000 patients. Figure it out. That's more people than the combined populations of Prestonsburg, Paintsville, Pikeville, Salyersville, Hazard, Inez, Louisa and Williamson.

Without our nurses, there would be no Highlands Regional Medical Center. Without Highlands, where would 40,000 sick and injured people go? And at what cost in terms of dollars and lives?

We owe our nurses a big debt of gratitude, and National Nurses' Day seems like a good time to say it. Nursing is a huge job that takes a special kind of person. Tough, intelligent, alert, well trained and hard working. It's a great career that keeps on getting better.

Local Women Take Prize At Kentucky Banking Meet

The Eastern Kentucky Group of the National Association of Bank Women, which includes women from two local banks, was named outstanding group at the recent NABW state conference in Owensboro.

Helen Neeley of First Commonwealth Bank accepted the award for the regional organization. She is president of the group, which was represented at the conference by bank women from Prestonsburg, Paintsville, Pikeville and Hazard.

The award is given for an organization's programs, workshops, thorough reporting to state officers and work done to eradicate illiteracy.

Other local conference participants were Virginia Watson, group membership chairperson, and Betsy Lambert, both of First Commonwealth. Attending from the Bank Josephine were Carolyn Worrix, publicity chairperson, Judy Currutte, treasurer, and Burieta Gearheart.

Neeley said that each group in the NABW of Kentucky has worked on a campaign to stop illiteracy through tutoring, sponsoring students in area literacy centers and helping with advertising costs. An executive committee made up of women bankers from each of the 11 state groups has worked with the Pritchard Committee in the literacy campaign.

NABW has close to 30,000 members who hold official or managerial positions in financial services institutions in 50 states and Canada. Its services and programs, Neeley said, encourage professional excellence and career growth for women in banking. Special guests at the state conference were US Sen. Wendell Ford and national NABW officers.

State Gets Poor Marks In Environmental Survey

Kentucky ranks in the bottom 10 percent of states in its efforts to protect the environment, according to a report released nationally by the group Renew America and locally by Kentuckians For The Commonwealth.

Only six states had worse records in the study, which ranked states' performance in protecting drinking water, managing forest lands, ensuring food safety, recycling of solid wastes and controlling the effects on the environment of urban growth.

The rankings were based on information gathered from a variety of state, federal, academic and citizen sources, Renew America, a national environmental group, said. The survey included state programs and actions through 1987, or in a few cases through early 1988, and does not reflect any changes or improvements in

Kentucky's worst performance came in the area of drinking water, where the Commonwealth received two of a possible 10 points. According to the report, although the state found 1011 violations of the Safe Drinking Water Act in Kentucky water systems in 1987, six of them serious, no action was taken against any of the systems. Kentucky was one of 19 states nationwide to take no action against drinking water violators in that year.

Kentucky received three points, of a possible 10, for its solid waste recycling efforts, although the report acknowledged that the programs counted in the report were mostly in planning and educational stages, and not implemented. The state has no laws that either encourage or require recycling, as do 25 other states, and has no program for recycling used oil, industrial waste, scrap tires or household hazardous waste, according to officials of KFTC.

In other areas, Kentucky received three points in forest management and controlling the effects of urban growths on the environment, and four points in food safety.

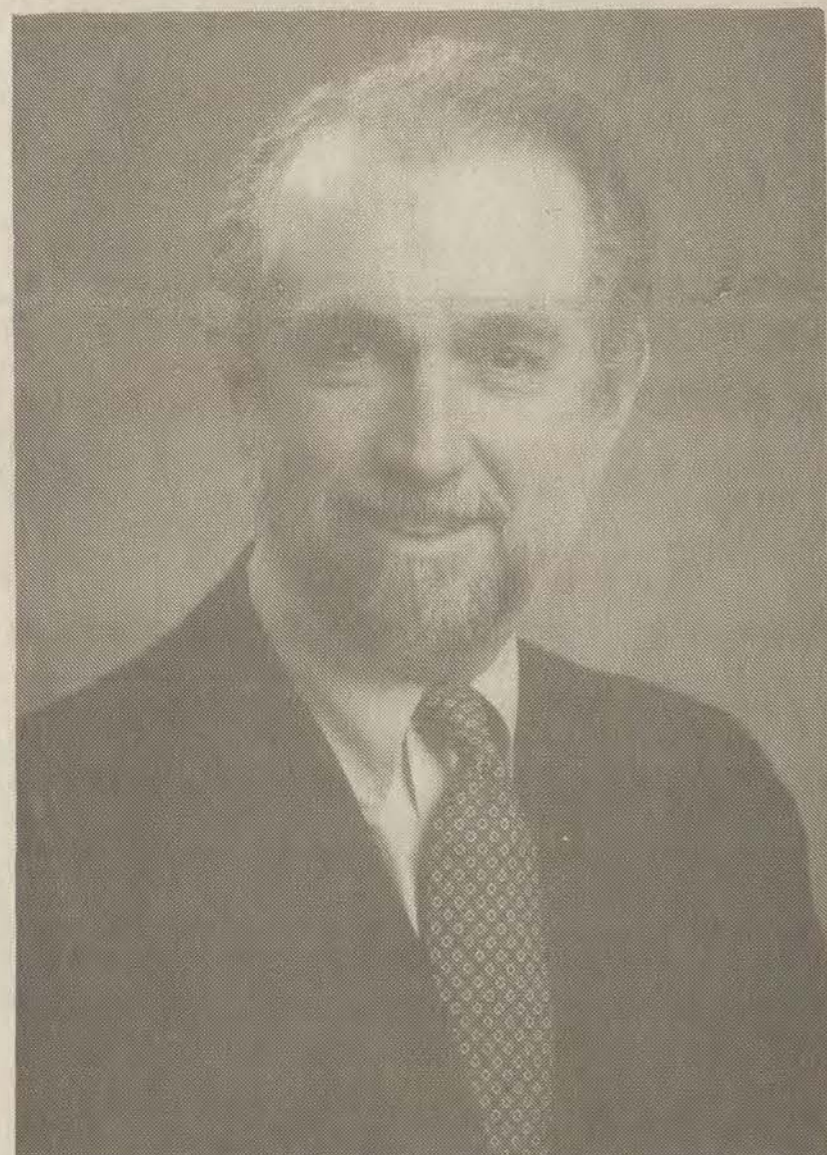

The state received only 15 out of a possible 50 points in the survey, and ranked 41 in the nation, tied with West Virginia, Indiana and Wyoming. The six states ranking worse were, in descending order, Nevada, Arkansas, South Dakota, Utah, Tennessee and Louisiana. California ranked the highest in the survey, with 42 points.

A limited number of copies of the report, "State of the States," are available from KFTC (P.O. Box 864, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653) for $3.

Area Banking Women Win Award

Members of the Eastern Kentucky Group of the National Association of Bank Women pose with US Sen. Wendell Ford at the organization's recent state conference. The local women garnered the Outstanding Group award out of 11 regional groups in the state.

Spurlock Nominated To Board

Burl Wells Spurlock, president and chief executive officer of the First Commonwealth Bank in Prestonsburg, has accepted a nomination to the board of directors of the Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival for a three-year term ending in 1992. The board includes approximately 90 business people from across the state. The annual festival will be held May 25-28 in Pineville, to promote the natural beauty of southeastern Kentucky. Festival activities include a parade, receptions, dances, variety programs, other entertainment, and coronation pageants for a princess and queen. Election to the board takes place during a director's reception May 26 in Pineville.

Confidence In Social Security Is Increasing

Jim Kelly, Social Security district director of the Big Sandy Area District, says many people are asking whether Social Security will be continued until they are ready to retire. "This is a question that was being asked frequently several years ago. I now find that I'm hearing it less and less," he said.

"One reason is probably that more people are hearing about the growing financial health of the system. Since 1983, when a series of bipartisan recommendations were implemented to strengthen the system, the trust fund reserves have registered annual increases. Present estimates say that cumulative reserves will mount rapidly and will be more than sufficient to pay benefits well into the next century without additional financing."

According to Kelly, this means that today's baby boomers, who will start retiring around 2010, can be assured that the system, that is a major source of income for their parents and grandparents, will be there for them, too. This is no small assurance to people who are planning their financial security and hope to use the benefits as a base on which to build.

"With out the reserves generated by the 1983 changes, Social Security taxes would have to go up substantially to pay benefits to the retirees in the 21st century," Kelly added. "That could generate an entirely different perception of the value of the program to society, and public confidence in its future would undoubtedly fall."

More information about Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, and Black Lung can be obtained at the Big Sandy Area Social Security office, located on U.S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville. The telephone number is listed in the local telephone directory under U.S. government.

New Rule Allows Medicaid Patients To Purchase Items From Manufacturers

Kentucky Medicaid patients who use medical equipment such as hospital beds, wheelchairs, walkers and lift chairs in the home will be available to obtain these items directly from suppliers as of May 1.

Currently, Medicaid coverage of this type of equipment — which first must be prescribed by a physician — is restricted to purchases through a home health agency.

Kentucky's Department for Medicaid Services is making the change, in agreement with the federal Health Care Financing Administration, to broaden patients' freedom of choice and access.

"Initially, we relied on home health agencies to provide this equipment in order to assure that patients had access to the items they needed," said Medicaid Services Commissioner Roy Butler.

"However, because of an increase in the number of suppliers in recent years, it will be an added convenience for our patients to be able to order the items directly." Patients can also obtain equipment from home health agencies that are suppliers of these items.

Suppliers must get approval from the Department of Medicaid Services before they may fill a patient's order for any equipment costing more than $150, just as home health agencies do now.

"Most of the items are also covered by the federal Medicare program, which has set a maximum cost in most instances," Butler explained. "These same limits also would apply under the Medicaid program."

Durable medical equipment cost Kentucky's Medicaid program $3.3 million during the fiscal year ending June 30. "We expect this cost to go up about 15 percent during the next year, primarily because of increased use of these items," Butler said.

"However, this will be offset substantially by a decline in administrative charges from home health agencies.

Completes Course

Bill Gibson, of Action Auction & Realty in Pikeville, has completed Course 11 of the educational program offered by the Certified Auctioneers Education Institute at Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind. This is a three-year course of study which leads to the Certified Auctioneers Institute designation, and is designed to educate and train practicing auctioneers in subjects such as finance, legal aspects, appraisal, real estate, personal business development, communications and advertising.

Crager, School Principal, Will Also Serve As Mayor

(Editor's Note: The following article, written by Ashland Independent news writer Jim Malone, is reprinted with permission.)

Directing an elementary school is a full-time job for anybody. Come January, Bobby Crager of Flatwoods will be running a school and a city.

Crager, the oldest of four children, is a Prestonsburg native. He is currently principal of McDowell Elementary School (Greenup County), and is unopposed in his race for mayor of Flatwoods, which bills itself as the second-largest city in Eastern Kentucky.

If that weren't enough, Crager is also active in the Advance United Methodist Church, the Flatwoods Lions Club, which he helped found in 1985, and he's the assigning secretary for a group that selects and monitors basketball and baseball officials for northeast Kentucky high schools.

"I enjoy life," said Crager, relaxing in his office. "I don't think that we are thankful enough for what we have."

Crager, 50, has been the head

'I also want to work to develop harmonious relations with our surrounding cities, instead of everyone pulling their own separate ways.'

-- Bobby Crager

man at McDowell for 19 years, since moving to Greenup County in 1969.

He had worked as graduate assistant at the old Breckinridge Training School at Morehead State University for a year. Before that was a four-year stint coaching and teaching at Prestonsburg High School.

Crager served four years in the Air Force before his younger brothers and sisters talked him into going to college. Now, he holds a Rank I — 30 hours beyond a master's degree.

A Bible is prominently displayed on his desk. A picture of his daughters, Jennifer (Justice) and Lee Ann, with Judy, his wife of nearly 26 years, sits on a nearby filing cabinet.

"I thank the good Lord for her," said Crager of his wife. "She has supported me all the way."

Crager directs the education of 550 students in kindergarten through grade five at McDowell. He likes to be at his desk by 7:15 every morning.

"One of the most important challenges here is keeping up with the curriculum," said Crager. "Organization is a key. Then, you have bus problems and minor discipline problems, but they're nothing like what you have with the older kids."

He says issues facing students have changed dramatically in the past 20 years.

"What kids are learning now in elementary school, they didn't learn until high school when I was a student," he said. "Kids are different because they are exposed to more television, magazines and books. You've got to have change, but some change comes too fast."

Crager said keeping good channels of communication open between the administration, staff and parents is a must.

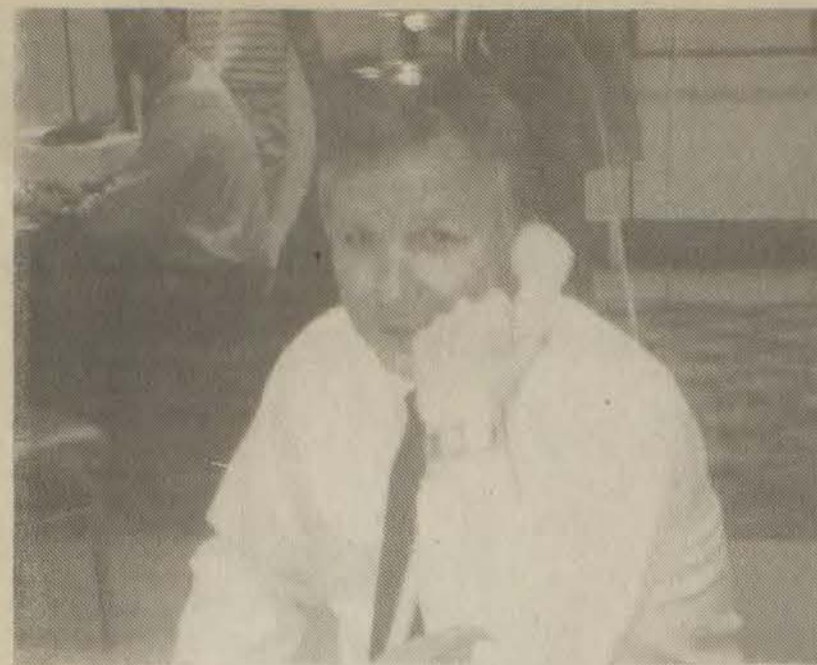

"We try to make it a primary objective to let parents know what their children are doing at school. After all, each parent is most concerned with his or her child's progress."

Russell School Superintendent Fred Madden called Crager a top-notch administrator.

"He's a good elementary principal and he runs an efficient school," Madden said. "He puts the kids first in his priorities."

Although he has been a Flatwoods city councilman since 1980, Crager said he got interested in politics while attending classes at Morehead State University. As a member of the Veterans Club, Crager worked to register student voters.

O. Sam Blankenship, chief executive officers of The Bank Josephine in Prestonsburg, proved to be the top recruiter in the recent Floyd County Chamber of Commerce Teleblitz. Blankenship, a team leader, personally received pledges from 22 new members, and also had the highest dues total. He received two Russell May prints for his work. Chamber president-elect Tim Hites called the membership drive a "tremendous success," noting that 83 new members signed up that day. He expects the Chamber will reach its goal of 100 new members soon. Prior to the drive, the Chamber had 66 members. More than 20 current members of the Chamber volunteered their time to make calls during the drive, added Hites.

When incumbent Mayor T.L. "Lardy" Groves announced earlier this year that he would not seek a second term in office, Crager filed to succeed him.

"He'll be an asset to the city," said Groves.

The main issue facing Flatwoods for the next several years will be how to manage the explosive growth that's facing the city, Crager said.

"I also want to work to develop harmonious relations with our surrounding cities, instead of everyone pulling their own separate ways," he added.

Crager acknowledges he's always had a deep interest in athletics. He played high school football and took up officiating in the Air Force. He worked his way through MSU by officiating high school sports. He continues his involvement with officiating by assigning officials who work baseball and basketball games in northeast Kentucky.

"I'm a jock and have been for most of my life," he said with a grin. "But you have to remember there are things more important in life than sports."

Crager has served as his church's board chairman and has been secretary-treasurer of the United Methodist Men. He is current chairman of the liaison committee between the congregation and the pastor.

"He's an outstanding Christian," said the Rev. Orin Simmerman Jr., Crager's pastor. "Bobby's served the church in so many ways, and he's well respected and honored by his students and staff."

In his leisure time, Crager enjoys gardening, and he likes to fish with friends at Lake Erie.

"I remember he caught so many fish there he was using an electric filleting knife and burned it up," said friend Paul "Buddy" Banks of Flatwoods.

Crager says he sets a personal goal whenever he takes on any project: government, church, education or officiating.

"I try and make a contribution and to leave things better off than when I found them," he said.

Bradbury Honored By Massey Coal

At A.T. Massey Coal Company's annual meeting of subsidiaries and affiliates recently, company president E. Morgan Massey presented Raymond A. Bradbury, president of Martin County Coal Corp. in Inez, with Massey's Community Excellence Award for Ethics, and the company's Community Excellence Man of the Year Award.

"Through Raymond Bradbury's leadership, Martin County Coal is an outstanding example of ethical conduct in its business dealings. Raymond and his employees set the standard for honesty and responsibility that others can follow," Massey said.

"Through ethical business practices, customer and community relationships can be more successful. The character that Raymond Bradbury and the Martin County Coal Corporation workforce demonstrate returns dividends to AT Massey's reputation and future business," praised the executive.

"No one individual contributes as much personally to our Community Excellence program as Raymond... (He) is a well-recognized leader in the Kentucky coal industry, government and the business world. Raymond not only takes his free time to serve the community, but he also achieves results," Massey said of the Community Excellence Man of the Year Award recipient.

Bradbury was recently elected secretary of the Kentucky Coal Association. The association and the Kentucky Energy Cabinet are now planning workshops and campaigns for coal community investment. Bradbury is also active in the Kentucky Mine Institute and the Tri-State Coal Operators Association.

He is a past president of the Big Sandy Elkhorn Mine Institution. "Martin County Coal corporation's reclamation and safety practices have set examples for the Kentucky coal industry," Massey said.

Serving on the Pikeville College Board of Regents and the Education Task Force of the Kentucky Appalachian Foundation, Bradbury works for regional education progress. Martin County Coal Corp. contributes t-shirts as incentives for perfect attendance to Martin County elementary schools to reduce the dropout rate. In addition, Bradbury contributed extensive excavation and site preparation work to build Inez Elementary School.

"Martin County Coal Corp.'s in-house GED program has been widely acclaimed in industry and education circles," added Massey.

To improve the quality of life locally, Martin County Coal initiated a "Pride In Wolf Creek" campaign with signs, stickers, litter bags and volunteer clean-up. With Bradbury's leadership, a quarter mile community running track is now a reality for Martin County.

Gov. Wallace Wilkinson appointed Bradbury to the Kentucky Infrastructure Authority to help plan Kentucky's future facility needs. As well, Bradbury is a member of the board of directors of Highlands Regional Medical Center and First Commonwealth Bank. As an Airport Authority board member and now chairman, Bradbury helped bring the 10-year Big Sandy Regional Airport project to fruition last year.

Bradbury served on the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and as a past president of the Martin County Kiwanis Club. Through his Chamber activities, Martin County Coal Corp. has hosted numerous visits from business leaders all over the state. As well, Bradbury is a patron of the Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre and a corporate contributor to that non-profit organization.

Bradbury also serves on the First United Methodist Church Board of Trustees.

Area Unemployment Stays Same

The early arrival of spring weather to Kentucky this year produced an early return on seasonal employment, pushing the jobless rates down in 76 counties between February and March.

Rates were higher in 40 counties and remained the same in four, according to a monthly labor trends report issued by the Cabinet for Human Resources.

Magoffin County continues to have the second highest unemployment rate in the state, at 20.9 percent; Wolfe County, the highest, has a jobless rate of 23.9 percent.

In the Big Sandy Area Development District (Pike, Floyd, Martin, Magoffin and Johnson counties), unemployment in March remained at the February level of 12.6 percent. Rates ranged from 11.4 percent in Floyd County to Magoffin's 20.9 percent. All of the district's counties recorded double-digit rates.

The monthly sample of claimants of unemployment insurance benefits showed that 36.7 percent had worked in mining, 25.5 percent in construction, 12 percent in trade, and 5.8 percent each in manufacturing and transportation, communications and utilities.

Specifically, area unemployment rates were:

Floyd County, 11.4 percent; Johnson, 12.6 percent; Magoffin, 20.9 percent; Martin, 13.5 percent; and Pike, 12 percent. The district had an average unemployment rate of 12.6 percent, compared with the statewide figure of 7.9 percent. Nationally, unemployment during the same period was 5.2 percent.

The trainer was Marshal Sausley from the Richmond Department of Criminal Justice Training Center. The Floyd County officers in attendance include: Chief Dickie Campbell, Captains Greg Hall and Darrel Conley, Sergeants Jeff Stumbo, Mike Ormerod, Sue Blackburn and Jim Mullins, all of the Prestonsburg City Police Dept.

Columbia Provides Tips To Identify Natural Gas Leaks

Natural gas, by itself, is usually odorless. Because it is odorless, local gas companies — and some pipelines — add a distinctive smell, according to E. Kelly Merritt, communications representative for Columbia Gas Transmission Co. "That smell is added for one purpose," explains Merritt, "to make a gas leak easier to detect." If a leak is detected, Merritt recommends the following steps be taken: — Leave the house or area where gas is smelled.

— Get others out of the area. — Find a telephone away from the area and call the local gas company, fire and police departments. "If you believe there is a gas leak in your home or area, there are a number of things you should not do," Merritt adds.

These include: — Do not use motorized or electrical equipment in the area. — Do not make any calls from the area — a spark ignition could cause an explosion or fire. — Do not attempt to extinguish a gas fire or operate any pipeline valves.

Merritt notes that brown or dying vegetation near a gas line could mean a leak is present, even if gas is not smelled. "If you see a fire coming out of the ground — or burning above the ground — it could mean a gas leak has ignited. If you suspect a gas leak, leave the area immediately," Merritt adds. Water bubbling or being blown into the air at a pond, creek or river can also mean a gas leak, as can a blowing or hissing sound along a gas pipeline right-of-way. In addition, Merritt said dirt or dust being blown into the air can also mean a leak is present.

Combs Receives Award

US Rep. Chris Perkins presents former Kentucky governor and federal judge Bert T. Combs the "Public Citizen Award" at the second East Kentucky Leadership Conference in Hazard April 30. Combs was honored for his service to Eastern Kentucky, and for his successful legal work in the recent state court decision ruling that determined state education funding discriminates against financially-poor school districts. Receiving organization awards at the two-day conference were Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, the Prestonsburg-based grassroots group, and Forward in the Fifth, the 5th Congressional District educational improvement group.

Riverview Manor Slates Commemorative Events

Riverview Manor Nursing Home in Prestonsburg will celebrate National Nursing Home Week with a weeklong schedule of activities, May 14-20.

The celebration begins Sunday with an open house from 1-4 p.m. Church services are set for 2 p.m., with Rev. Jerry Scott officiating. Music will be by The Gospel Lights and Mt. Zion singers.

Monday's activities start at 10:30 a.m. with Mayor Ann Latta signing a proclamation. At 11 a.m., students from David School and a group of clowns will participate in a "balloon lift off." Children from Mountain Christian Academy Preschool will be on hand at 2 p.m. to visit and sing songs.

Residents and staff members will wear old fashioned garb on Tuesday for "Old Fashion Day." A basketball game and homemade ice cream social are also planned for that day.

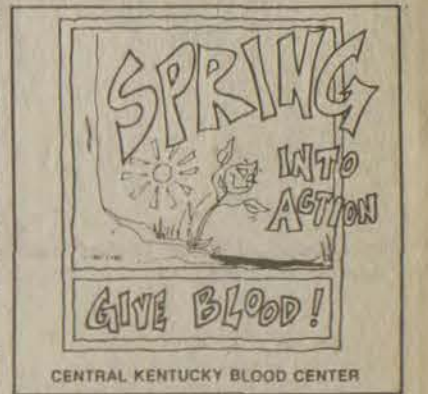

A luncheon for volunteers is set for Wednesday at 11 a.m., followed at 2 p.m. by a horseshoe tournament for residents.

Lunch and a concert with the "Live Longer and Like It Band" are on tap for Thursday.

The nursing home staff will be the focus on Friday with "Employee Appreciation Day." A patio cookout from 12:30-4 p.m. will feature a performance by Boots Adams' Majorettes.

The week's celebration will conclude Saturday with a family and resident picnic at noon. Families of residents are to bring their own lunches, and the nursing home will provide drinks and desserts. Entertainment is also scheduled.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application

Number 836-5083
In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Diamond N Mining, Inc., P.O. Box 55, Bevinville, Ky. 41606, has filed an application for renewal of a permit for an underground mining operation. The operation affects a surface disturbance of 6.30 acres and will underlie an additional 880.00 acres located 3.8 miles north of Dana, in Floyd County.

The proposed operation is approximately 3.2 miles south from the U.S. 23 junction with County Road 1426 and located 0.0 miles west of Prater Creek. The latitude is 37° 33' 51" and the longitude is 82° 41' 40".

The operation is located on the Harold U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be disturbed is owned by Turner Elkhorn Mining Company. The operation will underlie land owned by Sophie & Flongo Crum, Garner Adkins, Donald P. & George Ann Adkins, Norma & Mae Martin, Herman Conn, James Johnson, Bailey Crum, Mexico Spears, Jim & Gertrude Sammons, Mousie Dingus, Allan Conn, Fred Presley, Brice Conn Estate, Kenneth Spears, Emmie & Cynthia Akers, Jr., John D. & Emadel A. Boyd, James & Bertha Williams, George Newsome, Turner Elkhorn Mining Company, Jimmie Akers, Harry & Ruth Conn, Richard Sammons, and Edward & Doris Robinson.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653. Written comments, objections or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

This is the final advertisement of this application; all comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be received within thirty (30) days of today's date. 1t.

NOTICE OF BOND RELEASE

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350, notice is hereby given that FCDC Coal, Inc., P.O. Box 159, Drift, Ky. 41619, intends to apply for bond release on permit number 836-8009 increment number 5, which was last issued on June 16, 1988. Increment number 5 covers an area of approximately 0.33 acres located 0.15 miles east of Hite in Floyd County.

The permit area is approximately 0.67 miles southeast of the junction of KY 122 with KY 80 and located 1.0 miles southeast of Martin. The latitude is 37° 33' 18". The longitude is 82° 44' 50".

The total bond now in effect for increment no. 5 is $500.00 of which approximately 60% is to be included in this Phase II request.

The reclamation work was completed on October 10, 1988 and includes backfilling and grading with seeding efforts completed. Results achieved include initial growth of vegetation.

Legals

Written comments, objections, and requests for a public hearing may be submitted to the cabinet at Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653. Written comments, objections or requests for a public hearing must be received within 30 days of the final advertisement of this application.

A public hearing has been scheduled for June 27, 1989 at 1:00 p.m. at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Prestonsburg Regional office, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653.

The public hearing will be canceled if the cabinet does not receive a request for the public hearing within 30 days of the final advertisement.

Festival of FACES Events Begin This Evening

Floyd County's first-ever Festival of FACES will be held Wednesday, May 10, through Sunday, May 14, highlighted by a Mother's Day performance by the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra at Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre.

The Festival of FACES will follow its acronym (Family, Arts, Culture and Education in the Spring) with educational activities, arts and crafts, a parade, pageant, 5K run and more, according to James Vanhooze, festival director. Although the official grand opening ceremonies will be held Saturday morning, the festival actually begins Wednesday evening. A complete schedule of events follows.

WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday, May 10, 15 pieces of artwork from each of Floyd County's five high schools will be placed on display for public viewing at the Prestonsburg Community College Art Gallery. Works will be judged by area art teachers, who will choose the two best works from each school to create a team of "All-County Artists." The exhibit will span mediums from ceramics to oil painting.

THURSDAY

The top 10 students' work will be moved to the music festival on Thursday, May 11, for exhibit. The music festival, which is the opening event of the Festival of FACES, will be held at Prestonsburg High School's gymnasium beginning at 7 p.m. Band and choral music students from several schools in the county will participate. In addition, five young women from the county's high schools will compete for the Miss Music Festival Queen's title.

In downtown Prestonsburg, concessionaires and arts and crafts exhibitors will begin setting up their booth areas in preparation for Friday and Saturday's events.

FRIDAY

On Friday, May 12, while the All-County Band is practicing at Prestonsburg High School's football field in preparation for Saturday's parade, high school and middle school scholastic bowl competition will begin. An estimated 15 teams will participate. A winner and runner-up for both divisions will be named, earning the title of "Festival of FACES Scholastic Bowl Quick Recall Winner."

Throughout the day Friday, approximately 100 arts and crafts exhibitors will display their works in the downtown Prestonsburg area — many inside a large tent at the Richmond Plaza parking area.

Area craftspersons wishing to have exhibits may contact Julie Johnson at 886-2377. Booth spaces are $30 for two days, and a $5 vendor's fee.

At 7 p.m. Friday, a square dance (open to the public) will be held in front of the Bank Josephine, followed by a free-of-charge teen dance on upper Court Street at 8 p.m., with music provided by WQHY.

SATURDAY

Early Saturday, May 13, registration for the Festival of FACES 5K run will get underway at the Bank Josephine on First Avenue, Prestonsburg. Registration, from 8 to 8:50 a.m., will be followed by the 9 a.m. race. Awards will include commemorative race shirts to all entrants, and trophies to overall male and female winners and age group awards in 20 divisions.

The race entry fee is $6. For more information, contact T. Mark Miller, 874-8101, or Rick Roberts, Box 1179, Main Street, Paintsville, KY 41240.

The race is sponsored by the Prestonsburg Rotary Club and Cawood's Catfish and Hoagie House.

Grand opening ceremonies for the festival will be held at 11 a.m. in front of the Playhouse Restaurant, featuring several area dignitaries.

Concession sales and arts and crafts displays will continue throughout the day and, at 3 p.m., the Festival of FACES parade will wind its way through the down-

AFTER — In 1916, fire destroyed the north end of Front Street. The Bank Josephine was gutted, but was soon restored and doing business in the same location where it is today. The Layne and Spradlin Haberdashery, located next to the bank, was destroyed.

Mary Craft's sixth graders at Auxier Elementary School posed for the camera in this photo from the late 1920s. In addition to students from the town of Auxier, the school also attracted students from John's Creek in Johnson County, where Northeast Coal Co. had extensive holdings.

town Prestonsburg area. More than a dozen entries have preregistered, and the parade will showcase the All-County Band as well. The parade is sponsored by the Prestonsburg Jaycees.

Also Saturday, the "Street Machine Classic '89" will be held in downtown Prestonsburg across from the Municipal Parking Lot. Trophies will be awarded for the best 4x4 truck, best mini-truck, best mini-4x4 truck, best truck, best Chrysler/Mopar, best General Motors, best Ford, best motorcycle and best of show. Trophies will also be given to the next 22 finishers, regardless of class.

Registration will be open until noon; the entry fee is $12. For more information, contact Kenny Boyd, 789-4303 or 789-8625 (after 6 p.m.). The car show is sponsored by Pizza Hut of Prestonsburg and Music-Carter-Hughes and Carter-Hughes Toyota.

Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock at Prestonsburg High School, the Miss Floyd County Scholarship Pageant will get underway; the pageant, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club, is a preliminary to the Miss America Pageant, held annually in Atlantic City.

The first place winner will receive $1,000 in scholarship funds, while second place will receive $600, and third place, $400. Admission will be $6 for reserved seating for adults, $3 for children. General admission will be $5 for adults and $2 for children. Advance tickets are available at Richie's Hallmark and April's on the Avenue in Prestonsburg, or from club members.

SUNDAY

A primary feature of the first-year festival will be the Sunday afternoon performance by the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra. The program will begin at 2:30 p.m. at the Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre. Those attending are urged to dress casually and, if they like, bring a picnic lunch. In case of rain, the program will be moved to Prestonsburg High School's gymnasium.

Admission will be $5 for adults, and $3 for children. Tickets are available from Ritchie's Hallmark, Country on Court, The Bookworm and Owens Music Center in Prestonsburg; the Art and Gift Shoppe in Pikeville; and from Cathy Castle of Citizen's National Bank in Paintsville. For more information, call 886-9824, or the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre, 886-9274.

Conducting the orchestra will be George Zack, who has served as conductor and music director for the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra since 1972. He was previously conductor and music director for the Warren, Ohio chamber orchestra.

Zack was a guest conductor for the Louisville Orchestra in 1978, artist-in-residence at Eastern Kentucky University and James Madison University, also in 1978.

The Lexington Philharmonic had its beginnings at Henry Clay

High School in October 1961, when more than 60 musicians from throughout the Bluegrass assembled under the direction of Robert King to play their first concert as the Central Kentucky Philharmonic.

That season, the newly-formed orchestra performed three concerts, all with high reviews. The second, third and fourth seasons saw the budding orchestra increase its concerts to five each season and, every year, the orchestra's popularity grew.

At the end of the fourth season, King left the orchestra to accept a position at New York State University. Leo Scheer was selected to replace King and at the beginning of its fifth season, the orchestra had a new maestro, a new name (The Lexington Philharmonic) and a sound financial base.

During the 1971/72 season, Zack joined the orchestra, and today, it is the state's foremost musical ambassador as it travels throughout the central, eastern and southern regions of the state.

Following the performance, winners' wards for the FACES Scholastic Bowl and the Jenny Wiley Academic Conference will be presented, closing the festival.

These young scholars were students at Cedar Grove School, near Auxier, in 1908. A grove of cedar trees nearby provided shelter for outdoor classes and church services.

SHADES O' SALEM WITCHCRAFT—IT'S 'AGIN' THE LAW FOR YOU TO DANCE THE TANGO, OR ANY OTHER BLASTED 'BODY-TOUCHIN' DANCE IN P-BURG ACCORDING TO COUNCIL EDICT OF 1915, WHICH HAS NEVER BEEN VOIDED

Shades o' Salem witchcraft! It's "agin" the law in Prestonsburg to dance the tango, according to City Clerk Jim Davidson, who has yellowed city council records to prove his statement.

An ordinance passed in 1915 by the City Fathers states that any person arrested and convicted for "dancing a tango dance" may be fined $5 to $20.

The ordinance has never been repealed, City Clerk Davidson said, and is just as legal today as it was when first passed.

Not only did the City Fathers of that day prohibit the tango alone, but, unknowingly, practically all modern dances when they defined the tango as a dance that allows one person's body to touch another's.

By that definition, even the sedate, yet modern, waltz is barred. Also banned would be the present-day gymnastic Lindy hop, the fox-trot, the shag, the Lambeth walk—why go on?

The City Pappies of that day "just naturally" didn't want no part of such "new-fangled carrying-ons"—they barred all holds, and as for such a catch-as-catch-can as the Big Apple, sakes alive!

A study of the records in the city clerk's possession, which go back as far as 1907 and are the oldest available, tell many a tale—but none as humorous as the "tango story" concerning the town's growth and of the part played by men, many of whom are still taking a leading part in community affairs, others dead and perhaps forgotten by the average person.

The oldest minutes available are of a council meeting held August 7, 1907, in the law office of the late Walter S. Harkins, father of Attorney Joseph D. Harkins, and who was mayor at that time.

Councilmen were the late Isaac Richmond, the late Harmon Harris, Will H. Layne, B. M. Spurlock and O. P. Powers.

In this meeting the council ordered a 25-cent tax upon each $100 worth of property—far less than the 75-cent rate, the highest allowed by law for a town the size of Prestonsburg, now in effect.

The council of that day set September 15 as the time limit for the completion of sidewalk pavement on the lower side of Upper Cross street—and as for paved streets, why, they weren't even dreamed of until more than a decade later.

In 1907 Prestonsburg had no gas lines, no water works, no street lights. The horse and buggy ruled supreme, and the man with a torch was a common sight at night. Even Diogenes with his lantern wouldn't have surprised folks of that day. Also pertaining to sidewalk construction then underway, was the council's extension of time to William Dingus for the completion of sidewalks in front of the lot of J. M. Weddington on Third street and in front of the lot of the late James Goble on Main street.

(It was explained that the council had let contracts for the sidewalk pavement and assessed each property owner his share of the cost).

Minutes of this meeting proclaimed the installation of Councilman Harmon Harris as city attorney and the installation of Jo M. Davidson as councilman to fill his vacancy.

Postponed for future consideration was the late John Hunley's request for permission to build a suspension bridge "across the Big Sandy river within the corporate limits of Prestonsburg" to intersect with a part of Fifth Cross street.

The council declared the office of town marshal vacant because one of the late Marshal James Sizemore's bondsmen had moved from town. (The office was filled in a subsequent meeting, August 14, 1907 by the appointment of John Hunley, records showed).

The minutes, signed by Joseph D. Harkins, revealed that the town's governing group then included a father and son: Walter S. Harkins, the mayor, and Joseph D. Harkins, the clerk, respectively.

Later records reveal that street lights were secured for Prestonsburg in 1911. A water plant was installed in 1917-18 simultaneously with the installation of gas lines.

Prestonsburg was growing up! Why, the population was almost 1,750!

And early in the 1920's street paving was started, and the horse and buggy days began to wane. Already gone was the man with the pine torch—and if Diogenes had appeared, the poor man would have been the subject of derision.

The records available reveal that only one man, Will H. Layne, has held every city office, being councilman, mayor, clerk, city attorney and police judge at various intervals.

According to City Clerk Davidson, only one person, the present police judge, Alex Spradlin, is close to Mr. Layne's record. Police Judge Spradlin, he said, has held every office but that of mayor.

City records prior to 1907 are unavailable, being lost during the tenure of the late police judge, (but better known as teacher) D. O. Harmon, when his office burned near the site of Bailey's restaurant, the clerk said. Also lost by fire, it is claimed, are city records of the present decade.

The late "Uncle" Bill Mellon, father of W. T. Mellon, is the first Prestonsburg mayor the city clerk said he could remember.

Wheelwright -- Model Coal Co. Town

by Pam Harris

In 1916, Elkhorn Coal Corporation purchased the mineral rights to one of the richest veins of coal in Eastern Kentucky, located along Otter Creek in the Left Beaver section of Floyd County. The area was sparsely populated and isolated from the rest of the world. The residents, mostly Halls and Littles, earned their living from farming, timbering, and a little "moonshining."

With the arrival of Elkhorn, hundreds of thousands of tons of coal were dug and stockpiled before the C&O Railroad had finished laying the tracks for the first train. The company quickly built a town not unlike those found out West, with wooden sidewalks and store fronts. At times, the behavior of the people seemed to be as unruly as that of their Western counterparts, with frequent fights and arguments breaking out, but by 1924, Elkhorn had built a considerable town, having constructed 400 homes, a theater, and two company stores and recreational halls for the nearly 2,000 people living in the town.

In 1931, Inland Steel Corporation of Chicago, Ill., purchased the town and began a program to upgrade the living conditions, as well as the mining operations. They replaced the wooden tippie in the center of town with a steel and concrete one, eventually moving the tippie out of the town altogether. For 34 years, primarily under the direction of E.R. "Jack" Price, the town continued to prosper and grow. At its height, 3,000 people lived there, and Wheelwright was promoted as a "model coal town." In 1965, Inland Steel sold its holdings to Island Creek Coal Co. Soon, Island Creek also sold its holdings, and Wheelwright began to change. People moved away to find jobs, and stores closed down. Over a period of 48 years, Wheelwright had developed from an isolated area into a shining example of a coal town, and then it was over.

SEARS CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONING WILL KEEP YOUR HOME COMFORTABLY COOL!

Whatever the style and size of your home or its existing heating system, there's a Kenmore® central air conditioning system, from Sears, to keep you comfortably cool all summer long. Modern systems are more efficient, too, with Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratios (SEER's) from 8 to over 10 versus the SEER's of 5 to 6 on systems installed 10 to 15 years ago.

Kenmore® SINGLE-PACKAGE CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONING SYSTEMS

... specifically designed for mobile homes or for homes that require the total air conditioning system to be installed outdoors.

If your home has radiant electric heat or hot water heat with radiators or baseboard electric heat, a package system could be the way for you to add air conditioning. And the Kenmore system is an ideal replacement for any older single-package air conditioning system.

Single-package systems are completely self-contained, providing everything needed for air conditioning in a single, outdoor cabinet. The system can be installed outside on the ground or on the roof. Flexible or metal ductwork can be run under the home or through the attic. You get a full 1-year warranty on the system and on the installation, plus a 5-year limited warranty on the compressor*—the heart of the system.

If you want to air condition a mobile home or a home that doesn't have forced air heat, a Kenmore single-package system is your answer.

Capacities range from 25,000 Btuh to 46,000 Btuh with SEER's from 8.80 to over 9.

Kenmore® 10 CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONING SYSTEMS

... for those who think it's costing more than it should to cool their home!

A Kenmore 10 system is designed to offer an outstanding combination of performance, dependability, efficiency, in other words, inherent quality.

For example, a 36,000 Btuh capacity system with a Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio (SEER) of over 10 could save as much as 45% on your air conditioning costs. The savings are based on a comparison with a 15-year-old system of the same capacity having an efficiency equivalent of about 6 SEER. All Kenmore High Efficiency systems offer comparable savings. While actual savings will vary from home to home, new Kenmore 10 systems have SEER's of 10 or over. * Ask your salesperson for the details on what you could save.

The Kenmore system includes a dependable, long-lasting, outdoor condensing unit, indoor cooling coil, refrigerant tubing and complete installation. You get a full 1-year warranty on the system and on the installation, plus a 7-year limited warranty on the compressor*—the heart of the system.

If you want excellent air conditioning, a system to keep cooling costs in line, a Kenmore High Efficiency air conditioning system is just what you're looking for.

Capacities adequate for most any residence, range from over 23,000 Btuh to almost 60,000 Btuh with SEER's of 10 or more.

*Ask a salesperson for details.
