Congratulations In Order

A special section of this week's edition of The Floyd County Times is devoted to the county's high school graduates, making this issue a keeper for proud relatives.

Represented are graduates of Allen Central, McDowell, Prestonsburg and Wheelwright high schools.

Photographs of Betsy Layne High School graduates did not arrive from the yearbook publisher in time to make the newspaper's deadline. However, Betsy Layne graduates, along with those of The David School, are to be in the Academics section of next week's paper.

Some of the graduates have already left for summer college classes or are preparing to enter vocational school. Others are resting up for fall semester classes at colleges and universities across the country. Others are making wedding plans. Still others have started work or are pounding the pavement looking for a job to show off their skills.

Whatever the plans, The Times extends congratulations and best wishes for a happy, fulfilling future.

"Oh Say Can You See"

Today, Wednesday, June 14 is Flag Day. And what better symbol than the giant flag in front of the Kinzer Drilling Company, on Highway 80, which has become a landmark in Floyd County. The flag was dedicated in April of 1987. It measures 30' by 50' and cost $950. According to Jerry Kinzer, the flag has become somewhat of a legend in Floyd County. "When people give directions they will ask if you know where the big flag is. We receive letters from people out of state, who have seen the flag, expressing what it means to them. It just makes everybody feel good."

Special Board Meeting Considers Panel Ideas

The Floyd County School Board voted Tuesday night at a specially-called meeting to accept recommendations made by the Blue Ribbon Panel, with some qualifications.

The resolution unanimously passed by the board noted that the panel's recommendations, together with those made in a July 1988 Accreditation Report by state officials and the December 1988 Curriculum Audit, would "become the basis for developing a long-range educational plan for the school district."

The board agreed to provide an annual progress report to members of the panel, citizens in the county, and board members.

In a separate school-related matter, the state Board of Education is expected to meet Thursday, June 29, at 10 a.m. to discuss the general status and activities in Floyd and Whitley counties under Phase III of the academic bankruptcy law.

The state board is also expected to hear an update from department staff concerning alleged political activities in Floyd County.

Gordon Nichols, state department spokesman, refused to elaborate further on the agenda items, but did say that state board chairman Henry Pogue spent most of Monday in the department, and decided to call the meeting.

At Tuesday night's meeting, the local board's discussion of the 20-page Blue Ribbon Panel report, which includes recommendations for increased teacher salaries, more instructional spending and redesign of the district's management structure, took more than three hours.

In the area of finance, board members agreed in principle to increased salaries for educators, but expressed reservations that a portion of any additional revenue was not specifically targeted for expanded, innovative instruction programs.

Additionally, the board questioned the legality of allowing the creation of an ad hoc committee comprised of members of the business and educational community to help review and formulate an evaluation process for district employees.

Members of the panel and the board agreed to seek an attorney general's opinion as to whether such a committee could be legally formed.

According to Superintendent Ron Hager, state law requires that the district's evaluation committee be made up of equal numbers of teachers and administrators. Apparently, the statute leaves no room for representation of a district's citizenry or (See BOARD MEETING, Page 3)

Welcome To 'Wet-ucky'

Before long, if the weather continues its recent course, most Eastern Kentuckians will be waterlogged. The Weather Service at Jackson predicts little let up.

Today's forecast calls for 80 percent chance of showers and thundershowers, with a high in the mid-70s. Cloudy skies are expected into the night, with lows of 6-65.

Thursday, the chance of showers may lessen to 70 percent! High is to be in the mid-70s again.

The extended weekend forecast calls for partly cloudy weather with temperatures in the high 70s. Sunday's thermometer is expected to register around 80. Nighttime lows for the weekend are to range between 55 and 65.

Agencies To Meet

Social service agencies in the area are asked to send a representative to the quarterly meeting on June 23 sponsored by Big Sandy Area Community Action Program. The meeting is set for 2 p.m. at the Floyd County Public Library.

Get Your Tickets

The second show of the season, "Funny Girl," is set to open next Wednesday at Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre. The award-winning "Camelot" is now playing each evening, except Mondays. For tickets, call 886-9274.

Wheelwright Board To Meet

The Wheelwright Town Commission is to meet tomorrow (Thursday) at 7 p.m. at the town hall. Among items on the agenda is the second reading of the budget ordinance for 1989-90.

Spurlock Slide Means Big Mess For Motorists

Having to travel KY 122 from Martin to the Spurlock Creek side has become an adventure and that's putting it mildly, according to many area residents.

A mud slide that has remained for about five months near the top of the hillside road seems to have found a permanent spot, creating a one lane road for local travelers.

The slide reportedly began in early January with the season's heavy rains on property belonging to Mac Jacobs. State highway department officials allegedly contend that clean up of the slide is Jacobs' responsibility.

"I feel it's the highway department's responsibility," said Jacobs. "They claimed that I pushed the dirt down on the road. Why, I didn't do anything like that! In fact, I spent a lot of money on reclaiming that spot long before it ever slipped."

However, Jacobs said he does plan to move the accumulated dirt himself. "I'm going to try to move it, but the rains have hindered me from doing so," he said Tuesday.

Local residents are confused as to why the slide has been permitted to remain as long as it has. Mrs. J.E. Miller, who lives on the Spurlock side of KY 122, said the reason her family does not travel the road to Martin is because of the danger of being "knocked off the road."

"We need it fixed," she said. "It's too dangerous to travel. A person might get right in the middle of the road and get knocked over the hill. Why the school bus doesn't even have much room to get by. People who need to go to the doctors and grocery stores can't go unless they go around the Prestonsburg side.

"If anyone gets a petition going on it we'll certainly sign it," she said. "Our magistrates should do something about it."

Jackie Edford Owens, whose magisterial district encompasses some of the area, contended the responsibility of clearing the road lies with the state highway department.

"From Martin to the fork of Middle Creek, KY 122 is a state road," he said, "and it is their responsibility to clear their roads." Owens added he plans to find out what it would take to have it cleared.

"I'll look at it and see what I can do," he said. "It may take me a couple of days, but if people have been waiting several months, two more days won't matter."

Slippin' And Slidin'

Grass is beginning to take hold on a mudslide on KY 122 on Spurlock Road. There for several months, the slide has created a one-lane road on a former two-lane byway. Many residents take a longer route to work and to shop to avoid the problem. Visibility is said to be hazardous for motorists at the top of the hill.

Grigsby Gets A Reprimand From County School Board

by Anne Chaney, Editor

The big news from the Floyd County Board of Education's June meeting wasn't what happened -- it was what didn't happen.

Contrary to the expectations of many, Pete Grigsby Jr., administrative assistant to Superintendent Ronald Hager, was not disciplined for alleged politicking during school time.

Park Stabbing Investigated

A fight Sunday among seven persons along KY 3 at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park resulted in the hospitalization of a 17-year-old, according to John Hunt, Kentucky State Police dispatcher.

"During the fight a 17-year-old male from Dana was stabbed twice in the back with a screwdriver," Hunt said. "The victim was admitted to Highlands Regional Medical Center and is listed in guarded condition due to a punctured lung."

The incident reportedly occurred around 4 p.m. Hunt said that this was First Degree Assault but no arrests had been made. The case is still under investigation by Det. James Stephens, and no other information was available.

No formal action was taken following a two-hour executive session attended by the local board, Grigsby and his attorneys, and State Superintendent of Public Instruction John Brock.

Brock, who refused to comment on the issue, left the meeting immediately after executive session.

House Majority Leader Greg Stumbo, one of two attorneys representing Grigsby, said after the session that his client had received a written reprimand prior to the meeting, and that the local board unanimously agreed to take no further action.

"Mr. Grigsby has been thoroughly reprimanded, and the board has done its own formal investigation," said Stumbo. "He is sorry that the whole matter occurred; he did not mean to offend or place any one in a position where they felt like political pressure was being put on them."

Grigsby declined to comment on the issue.

Stumbo said Grigsby broke no laws and did not violate local board policy in discussing politics with district employees during school time. Stumbo and Bobby Rowe, additional counsel for Grigsby, noted that the conversation was "casual in context" and that no coercion took place. Stumbo also said the credibility of allegations by at least one witness against Grigsby was questionable.

McDowell Citizens Discuss Development

The Rev. Don Fraley, spokesman for the McDowell Community Development group, hopes the organization will help create jobs and improve the quality of life in the Left Beaver area.

At the group's Thursday meeting, members heard a detailed report on roads and planned road improvements around Left Beaver from Charles Reichenbach, transportation engineer branch manager for pre-construction with the Pikeville District of the state highway department.

Much discussion centered on the proposed McDowell/Garrett road which would cross Sizemore Mountain, connecting the Left Beaver area directly with Rt. 80.

According to Reichenbach, the department is in the process of purchasing right-of-way and currently has deeds to five pieces of property.

However, he said, the only purchases yet authorized are for the right-of-way at the Minnie end of the job.

Reichenbach said strip mining done on the Turkey Creek end since plans began will require redesign work, but "won't slow the project down any."

"There is a full push in Frankfort for this project to be built," he added.

Interestingly, 5.5 miles of Rt. 1086 (Sizemore Road) are slated for resurfacing. However, explained Reichenbach, "If we started construction (on the new road) today, it would take two years to build it."

Design for the proposed McDowell/Garrett road call for two 12 lanes and passing lanes on the hills, he said.

Other highway department projects planned in the Left Beaver area include:

- Removal of brush along the right-of-way on Hwy. 122 sometime this summer, probably within the next six weeks to two months.

- Resurfacing 2.7 miles of Rt. 850 from Old 80 south to Rt. 550.

- One mile of resurfacing on Simpson's Branch.

- Resurfacing 1.4 miles of Rt. 122 between Wheelwright and Melvin.

- Resurfacing seven-tenths of a mile of roadway on Rt. 306, upper end, at Wheelwright.

In addition to transportation problems, members of the group also discussed opportunities in day care, small manufacturing firms and the wood products industry at Thursday's meeting.

The next meeting is planned Thursday, July 20, at 6:30 p.m. in the offices of Dr. Mary Hall, at Dr. Mary Hall and Associates, McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital.

Special Board Meeting

business segment, and does not address whether a subcommittee including the two can be formed.

Board Chairman Dr. James D. Adams, discussing a separate recommendation, expressed reservations about seeking a 3 percent utility tax with revenues going to the district.

The panel had asked the board to seek the tax, spending 60 percent of the receipts for teachers' salary increases, 15 percent to purchase instructional materials and supplies, 15 percent for renovation projects for schools not scheduled to be replaced by new facilities within five years, and 10 percent to be used to establish a contingency fund.

Adams recounted problems the district had several years ago in soliciting support for a utility tax.

However, members of the panel said they felt the district's current fiscal problems, coupled with state intervention, would probably result in broad-based support for such a tax. Members noted that an above-board, open approach to the tax would be necessary, and require an extensive public education and awareness campaign.

In the area of management and personnel, the board agreed with the panel's recommendations to create instructional leaders at the campus level. The instructional leaders would be responsible for working with fellow teachers to see that basic subject matter is adequately taught. According to the recommendation, they would also be responsible for sharing information, effective teaching methods and creative approaches with fellow teachers.

The panel also recommended employing instructional specialists at the central office level; the specialists would be responsible for basic content areas and the district's curriculum from kindergarten through 12th grade.

The board made little comment on the panel's proposed reorganization at the central office level.

A lengthy discussion revolved around the panel's suggestion that the board have a written policy that eliminates political patronage and insures performance-based employment.

Adams noted that in small counties such as Floyd, board members are directly and indirectly related to large segments of the population in their respective districts. He also noted that it is his personal policy not to take part in the selection of employees for a particular position.

He added that when he is approached by someone wanting a job in the district, he tells them to fill out an application at the central office, and that the superintendent makes the final determination.

The other board members also denied becoming directly involved in the hiring process.

However, members of the panel urged the board to place such policies in writing.

In the area of curriculum, the panel recommended that the district ensure that course content is the same within each school and other schools in the district, and that a process be designed to allow subject knowledge to be added from grade to grade in a consistent manner.

The board, which agreed, likewise concurred with the panel's recommendations to place emphasis on teaching students basic skills and making sure that they are acquired before moving to other skills.

The panel also recommended that the board establish a standing curriculum committee to review and adjust curriculum at least twice annually, and that new approaches -- such as the "middle school" concept -- be introduced throughout the district in a consistent manner.

The panel also recommended that the district provide adequate funding for teaching materials, supplies and books at all schools.

Lastly, the panel recommended that the board convene an advisory committee to help find ways to improve student attendance.

Legislative Perspective

By Greg Stumbo

I would like to take this opportunity to commend the citizens of Floyd County for the red carpet treatment they extended to visiting state legislators serving on the Economic Development and Tourism Task Force.

Economic development and tourism are two important factors in Floyd County's future growth.

Streamlined technology and intense competition from foreign coal markets have forced us to look beyond coal production for our total job market. Coal cannot be expected to produce the number of jobs needed to support the population of East Kentucky in the 21st century. This means several factors must become a reality for the transition to occur.

Critical to developing new job markets is the creating of desirable sites for business and industry to locate. This is sometimes a slow process, but East Kentucky must act quickly.

Businesses looking to locate in a community evaluate the quality of the local educational system. Kentucky has been working hard to improve this, but there is still a long way to go before we can compare with other educational systems nationwide.

Other considerations are community infrastructure conditions (sewer, water, roads, etc.). State government has set aside revenue for small communities to repair or replace existing infrastructure.

Accessibility to major distribution points in large cities is also a factor for business prosperity. This is a serious weakness in Eastern Kentucky that state government must address. Poor road conditions not only affect the decision of businesses to locate here, but also adversely affect the already developing tourist trade. It is imperative to our future that Routes 23 and 80 be made four lanes through Eastern Kentucky. Major improvements must also be made on Route 119.

In East Highlands North, the state's tourism region that includes Floyd County, $112,550,126 was generated from the tourist trade. Tourism also provided 4149 jobs in the area.

Hopefully, legislators of the Economic Development and Tourism Task Force will look at the possibility of creating free enterprise zones here, and offer major tax breaks to businesses that locate in high unemployment and low salary areas.

The task force that visited here is the major entity responsible for sponsoring such legislation to spur economic development. Their visit to Floyd County, and the discussion they had with our community leaders, I hope, will more clearly emphasize our need for their support and immediate action during the 1990 General Assembly session.

I welcome any comments the readers may have on this issue or any other concerning the welfare of Eastern Kentucky and its citizens.

Report to Kentucky

SENATOR WENDELL FORD

U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510

If small businesses represent our economic future—and I am convinced that they do—Kentucky's future is looking brighter all the time.

That message was made very clear to me at our recent observance of Small Business Week in Washington, where I had the privilege of helping to recognize the accomplishments of some very impressive small-business leaders from our state.

One of those leaders was Dana K. Sargent, owner of Daniel's Home Bakery in Ashland. Sargent was honored by the Small Business Administration as "Kentucky Small Business Person of the Year" for an innovative spirit that has allowed his business to keep growing in spite of serious economic problems over the past several years.

I was also very proud of the Louisville Chapter of the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), which was selected as the national "SCORE Chapter of the Year for 1989." As the recipient of this singular honor, the Louisville group gained recognition as a role model for volunteer business counseling groups across the nation.

Kentucky is fortunate to have impressive SCORE programs not only in Louisville but also in Lexington, Ashland and Paducah, with satellite programs in Bowling Green, Glasgow, Maysville and Danville. These SBA programs make excellent use of the experience and skills of retired Americans who can help countless businesses reach their full potential in a time of national economic need.

SCORE programs work side by side with SBA's network of Small Business Development Centers, often associated with colleges and universities across the nation. Kentucky has centers in Louisville, Lexington, Owensboro, Bowling Green, Ashland, Elizabethtown, Hopkinsville, Murray, Morehead, Pikeville, Somerset, Cumberland and Highland Heights.

Kentucky SCORES work with more than 2,800 potential and existing businesses annually, but the number should be even higher. Our SCORE chapters and other small-business programs lack funds to make their services known to many small businesses, including struggling new enterprises that might make particularly good use of the expertise these programs have to offer. This is one of the reasons why I want to do everything possible to make more Kentuckians aware of these very worthwhile programs.

Our nation's 19 million small businesses employ six out of every 10 working Americans and create most of our new jobs. The vast majority of Kentucky employers are small businesses, with 84 percent of our commercial establishments having fewer than 100 employees and 72 percent employing fewer than 20.

Small businesses are a wellspring of economic strength, self-reliance, innovation and flexibility, yet they need all the support we can give them in a highly competitive world. We need to deliver that message across Kentucky, and the well-earned recognition received by some of our state's most outstanding small-business leaders should contribute greatly to that effort.

Washington Report

By Congressman Carl C. Perkins

Imagine the following situation: A woman, employed with a company for 10 years has her first child. While on her five-week, approved, unpaid leave, her job is terminated. Consider another instance: A man whose son is dying of cancer takes five days in six months to care for his seriously ill child. Because of this, he is fired.

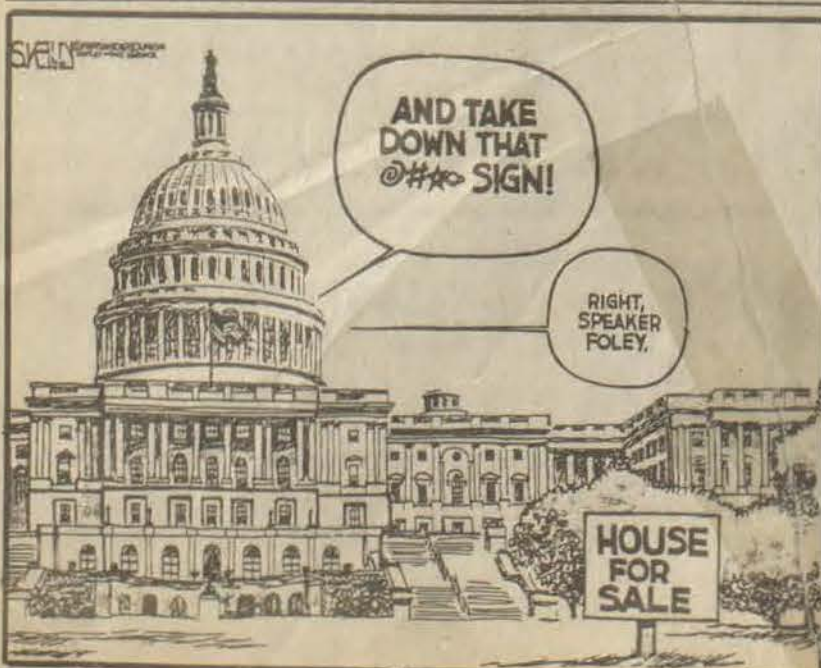

Unfortunately, I can describe many other similar incidents relating to family and medical leave. In fact, millions of Americans every year are forced to choose between keeping their job and taking leave to deal with a family emergency or crisis. This is an unfair labor practice and a new minimum leave standard must be set in order to protect these workers.

In addition, as many of you know, most women work out of economic necessity. In today's economy, most couples need two incomes to maintain the standard of living their parents enjoyed with only one income; single parents are struggling to survive. In addition to child care responsibilities, many families also provide care to elderly patients and relatives who are seriously ill.

It is time for labor standards to reflect the changing nature of American families.

For these reasons, I am an original cosponsor of H.R. 770, the Family and Medical Leave Act, which establishes a minimum labor standard for unpaid family and medical leave, while recognizing the concerns of business, in particular small businesses. The bill was introduced on February 2, and has since passed both subcommittee and committee. It is scheduled for floor action very shortly.

In this practical, bipartisan proposal, employers are required to provide 10 weeks of family leave for the birth or adoption of a child or to care for a seriously ill child or parent, and 15 weeks of medical leave to employees for their own serious illness or injury. Upon return from leave, the employee must be reinstated to the same or equivalent position, with a requirement that pre-existing insurance benefits be continued during leave. Employers with under 50 employees would be exempt for the first three years and employers with under 35 employees would be exempt after this period. However, though employers must provide unpaid leave, there is no prohibition against providing paid leave with the same job security provision.

Floyd County To The Capital

Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta accepted a certificate from Gov. Wallace Wilkinson on behalf of the city's Main Street Program, during the governor's appearance Monday in Hazard. Also present at the governor's "Capital to the Counties" meeting were Chalmer Frazier, left, executive director of the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce, and Tim Hites, chamber president. During the meeting, Gov. Wilkinson said the section of US 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville "will be completed somehow." He also said the section of KY 3 between Auxier and Inez will be completed soon.

They've Mended Hearts

Helping to organize a local chapter of Mended Hearts here recently were Mr. and Mrs. George Cannon and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Taylor of Lexington and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Adams of Paintsville. The organization gives support to persons who face or have faced heart surgery. Started in 1951, the organization now has thousands of members nationwide. Cannon is president of the Lexington chapter. The new local chapter meets at Highlands Regional Medical Center. Meetings will be announced.

Commission To Review Local Hospital Request

The Commission for Health Economics Control in Kentucky at its June 14 meeting (today) will review 16 certificate of need applications, including one from Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin.

The hospital proposes to establish a swing bed program using six acute care beds to provide both acute and skilled nursing care, according to Janet Hoover, Cabinet for Human Resources official.

The 16 applications represent about $9 million in capital expenditures, but OLTW's request does not require any capital expenditure, she said.

The three-member panel met at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 13 to consider requests for determinations. Meetings take place in the first floor auditorium, Department for Health Service building, Frankfort.

Special Services Set At Zebulon

The Zebulon Baptist Church will have special services this coming week. Henry Mahan of Ashland and Scott Richardson of Fairmont present services on Sunday, June 18 at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. and on Monday and Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., according to Gary Shepard, pastor.

Landscaping with Laurel Farms

THINGS TO DO IN JUNE

- Spot spray broadleaf weeds in your lawn if necessary with a broadleaf herbicide containing 2,4-D.
- Inspect trees and shrubs closely for the presence of bagworms and spray if needed.
- Begin sidedressing certain vegetable plants with fertilizer as soon as they begin flowering and fruiting.
- Watch for Japanese beetles as they begin feeding on roses, grapes, lindens and a wide variety of other trees and shrubs.
- Plant succession crops of beans and sweet corn so you will have an extended period of harvest.
- Be on the lookout for iris borers. Look for tattered foliage and a soft rot at the base of the iris plants.
- Renovate June-bearing strawberries after the last harvest.
- Apply mulch to your vegetable garden if you haven't already.
- Also, be sure to mulch all newly planted trees and shrubs.
- Apply slug baits for control of slugs around hosta plants, as needed.
- Watch for mite development now.

Roadside Marijuana

The marijuana plant shown above was recently found growing on the shoulder of David Road by inmates of the county jail, out and about on litter pickup detail. Two plants, under two feet high, were found growing less than a yard from the pavement, according to Officer Quentin Scott.

Parents Register Concern About Alcohol And Youth

About 25 parents and concerned citizens met Thursday, June 8, at the Fitzpatrick Church to learn about drugs in today's society.

They are members of a group sponsored by Champions Against Drugs which meets twice a month to discuss the problems of drugs and alcohol in the schools and with the children. The next countywide open meeting will be on June 19 at 6 p.m. at the May Lodge.

The group is designed to be educational and supportive. At Thursday's meeting, Mike Omerod, Prestonsburg City police officer, gave a slide presentation that showed the effects of drugs on driving.

"Fifty percent of all traffic accidents are alcohol and drug related," Omerod said. "That means, in a 12-month period 708,000 people are killed or injured. That's more than the population of New Jersey."

He said that one in every two Americans will be affected by alcohol impaired drivers in their lifetime. "An alcohol impaired driver is anyone who has consumed three beers, three glasses of wine or two shots of whiskey. These people are 25 percent more likely to cause an accident.

"Marijuana is a drug which effects the user's sense of time, short term memory, concentration, reactions and coordinations," Omerod said. "This drug impairs driving also, and combined with alcohol can be doubly dangerous."

Omerod displayed other drugs and described their effects. He gave the current legal standing for offenders and answered questions from the audience.

"Doctors go to school 12 years to learn how to prescribe drugs to put into people's bodies. Pharmacists go to school for six years to learn how to mix and dispense these drugs," he observed. "We put our trust in these people because of their education, and yet people will go down to the street corner and let a guy, who probably didn't even finish high school, tell them what to put in their body."

A member of the group, Belle Short, said, "You'd be surprised if you go home and look through your medicine cabinet just what you do have that your children see every-day."

"Today's society is one of instant gratification. If it hurts, take a pill. The children have grown up around this attitude and it's not surprising they turn to drugs to provide their entertainment," she added.

Other members wanted to know about the availability of drugs in Floyd County. Omerod said they were out there. "The police know who the dealers are and places where they sell, but the dealers also know who we are and, with the size of the product, it is difficult to catch them."

He did say that searches were getting easier since the police can now obtain a search warrant on an anonymous phone call.

He also said that police are making periodic checks of vehicles parked in the vacant lots on US23. If a minor is caught with illegal substances they will be brought into the police station and their parents notified, he added.

Jamie Ball and some other young people in the audience suggested activities they'd like to see in Floyd County, such as dances for teens, block parties with live bands and no alcohol, more carnivals, and outside lighted basketball courts.

They also felt that a parent-child day with contests and a picnic could provide a common activity that families could do together, which would strengthen that relationship.

Lola Brashear, Champions Against Drugs coordinator, said that the Board of Education is providing a free Parent Education Course on "talking with your kids about alcohol."

This course will be on Tuesdays, June 20 and 27; Thursday, July 6, and Tuesday, July 11, from 6-8:30 p.m. at the Floyd County Public Library. Anyone planning to take the 10-hour course should be prepared to attend all four meetings, after which a certificate of completion will be given. Interested persons can preregister with Brashear at Mountain Comprehensive Care, 886-8572.

Hospice Gets Grant From KY Colonels

Hospice of Big Sandy has been awarded a grant for $2,865 from the Kentucky Colonels association for the purchase of office equipment.

Hospice, which has offices in Paintsville and Prestonsburg, works with terminally ill patients and counsels the patients' families.

Chris Conley, executive director of Hospice, said the money will allow the organization to add another phone line "to make contact for patient families much easier." The organization also plans to purchase office furniture with the funds.

"The Colonels have been very kind to our Hospice program and we are deeply grateful for their support," Conley said. "We have received assistance from them for two years and their help has allowed our program to have equipment we could not have afforded."

She said the Kentucky Colonels gives grants to agencies with needs for building or remodeling projects or for equipment and supplies. The organization meets each year around the time of the Kentucky Derby to present the awards.

Rabies Shots Offered

The Floyd County Health Department and Martin Animal Hospital will cosponsor anti-rabies clinics in several areas of the county Thursday and Friday.

Rabies vaccinations for dogs and cats will be offered at reduced rates at the various locations. For specific times at each location, call the health department or the animal hospital.

On Thursday, beginning at 8:45 a.m., the schedule includes: Highlands Plaza parking lot, Prestonsburg; Auxier Grade School; Lily's Grocery, East Point; Muz-X-Mart, Little Point; West Prestonsburg post office; Compton's Market, Mountain Parkway; Price's Market, State Fork Road;

Wal-Mart, Prestonsburg; Scutchfield's Grocery, Bull Creek; Gordie's Gulf, Lancer; Brandy Keg One Stop, Lake Road; Goble's Grocery, Cow Creek, and the Health Department office, Prestonsburg.

Friday's schedule covers: Allen Bus Stop; Dwale post office; Emma post office; Bill Wood's Grocery, Allen; Banner post office; Hammond's Grocery, Ivel; Stanville post office; Velocity Market, Betsy Layne; Piggly Wiggly, Harold; Stop-A-Lot Market, Toler Creek; Aker's Grocery, Amba; Newman's Grocery, Branham Creek; John M. Stumbo School, Grethel; Spruce Pine School, Honaker; Dana post office, and Voting House, Arkansas Creek.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Claudette Brown would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their help in the loss of our loved one: those who sent food and flowers, cleaned the cemetery and prepared the grave or just spoke comforting words. We deeply appreciate you all. A special thanks to the Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church, the Regular Baptist ministers and the Hall Funeral Home for being so kind.

THE JACK AND CLAUDETTE BROWN FAMILY

THANK YOU NOTE:

The family of Mike Little wishes to gratefully acknowledge the thoughtfulness and kindness that was expressed to our family by the many relatives, friends, and neighbors. We would like to thank all who sent food, flowers, or words of comfort and prayers. Your acts of kindness will never be forgotten. We would also like to thank the Rev'd. John W.T. Weise, the men who served as pallbearers, and the Hall Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

Abandoned House Burns

Early Tuesday morning Clarence Johnson, worker at Chapperal Coal Corp. of Pikeville, spotted smoke coming from a house at Weeksbury, Branch #1, on his way to work.

He reported the fire to Bob Johnson, Chief of the Southeast volunteer fire department, who headed out to the site while Johnson's wife phoned the other firefighters.

The house, owned by Randy Burke, was abandoned and no one was injured, according to Mrs. Johnson. She said the house was a total loss and the department concentrated on protecting the neighboring residences, one of which had some shutters melted. Another was scorched on one side, she said.

No other area fire departments reported any activity for the week.

CORRECTION
In last week's Floyd County Times, the "In Memory of John W. Goble" incorrectly stated the date of death. It should have read June 12, 1988. The Times regrets any inconvenience to the family.

In Loving Memory of Our Father, John W. Goble, Allen, Ky.

Our father and grandfather, who God called to his eternal home, June 12, 1988. He is sadly missed by his family and friends. We wanted, so much to keep you. We watched you day by day, until at last with breaking hearts, we watched you slip away. God knew you were suffering, he knew that you had had your share so gently he closed your weary eyes and took you in his care. Your memory is our keepsake with that we will never part. God has you in his keeping, we have you still within our heart. To the cemetery we go so often, pretty flowers we place with care, its only a silent grave that needs our care because our loved one is buried there. God only knows our heartaches, when we turn and leave your grave.

Sadly Missed by Family

A proud tradition

Our funeral home has been responding to the needs of the community for many years. To continue this proud tradition of helping families in their time of need, we now offer the Sunset SecuritySM Plan.

Sunset SecuritySM, offered by us as a member of the Kentucky Funeral Directors Burial Association, is a plan that lets you reduce the stress your loved ones will experience at the time of a funeral.

Through Sunset SecuritySM, you can pre-arrange a funeral now. The plan offers an inflation-proof feature that lets you save money by freezing the cost of a funeral at today's prices. And it provides special tax-saving advantages.

We'd like to give you a "Personal Record Guide" and tell you about the Sunset SecuritySM Plan. Just complete the coupon below and send it to us.

In Loving Memory Of William Epling

Another Father's Day is here since you were called away
 But I'll always remember you on this special day.
 I miss your voice
 I miss your smile
 It seems as tho we had you for such a little while.
 You were so freely with your love
 You were a gift from God above.
 May he grant you peace and eternal rest,
 Until we're all called home to be with the best.
 Written by your daughter, Elsie Happy Father's Day. We love you.
 Your Wife Nell and Family

IT'S A FACT... that you are either saved or lost. Lost or saved, there is no in between. "He that hath the Son hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life."
 I John 5:12
IT'S A FACT...
 that Christ came to this sin cursed world to seek and to save that which was lost.
 Luke 19:10
IT'S A FACT... that you CAN be saved. "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved."
 Romans 10:9
IT'S A FACT...
 "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth on Him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life."

One of the goals Alice Lloyd baseball coach John Mills had set for himself in recruiting this spring was to sign his top five prospects.

"I didn't want to settle with just signing second and third choices," the college mentor explained. "I wanted to go hard after those on my top five list."

Mills got two of his top five last week, as Thomas Nairn and Todd Justice of the Prestonsburg Blackcats both inked letters-of-intent to play baseball with Alice Lloyd College next spring.

The Eagles coach is hoping to sign another Blackcat, Tim Trusty who also is on his top five list. "Third base is wide open this coming season," Mills related. "Tim sure could fill that void for us at third base."

"Thomas and Todd both will be in our five-man pitching rotation. We play between 40-45 games a season and many of those are doubleheaders (four a week), so I go with a five man rotation, Mills said. "Both Nairn and Justice will be in that rotation. We are fortunate to have them sign with us and they are going to help our program next spring."

The Eagles baseball team is in the 32nd District and is a member of the KIAC conference. Alice Lloyd finished 15-10 this past season, but with the signing of some top players from the area, Mills expects to improve on that. The Eagles tied for fourth place with Campbellsville and had to play a one game playoff to see who would advance in the playoffs. The Eagles dropped the game 3-2.

Alice Lloyd is permitted to play a six-game fall schedule. This year the team will play Morehead in September on the fall schedule.

Returning to the Eagles' diamond next season will be top pitcher Eric Ratliff from Elkhorn City. "Eric's an excellent hitter and pitcher," Mills said. Another returning premium player is David Tackett. "David played out of position at third base this past season. We will move him back to center field," Mills explained.

"We will be playing on our new field next season," he said. "It's really going to be a nice field. We're excited about it."

Coach Mills has had his eye on the two Prestonsburg stars for the last two years.

"We have been watching Todd and Thomas. Both will help our pitching tremendously, and I strongly feel they will contribute immediately," Mills stated. Even though Justice also played the outfield, Coach Mills said he will use Justice in the outfield only if he is needed. "Todd will be used mainly to pitch. That's where we need him."

"Nairn played first base in high school, and again he will be used in the pitching rotation. Thomas, is an excellent ball player, plus he has an excellent educational background. He could also be used in fill-in roles the four years he is here."

One of the highlights of the Eagle's schedule is a trip to Florida during spring break for a 6-9 game stint. "Then we will open our season by getting into the heart of the district with games against Georgetown and Cumberland," Mills said.

A highlight of last season was a 1-0 victory over powerhouse Clinch Valley. "We were one of only three teams that beat Clinch Valley," Mills said. "Ratliff threw a two-hit shutout in that game."

"I'm looking forward to going to Alice Lloyd, and getting to play baseball for them," Nairn said. "I'm looking to get some experience, contribute to the team and win a district title."

Justice has high hopes also. "I like the college," he says. "I'm looking forward to going to Alice Lloyd and getting some experience and I want to win the college world series." Justice also plans to try out for the basketball team.

Prestonsburg baseball mentor Russell Shepherd gave his assessment of the two players. "Nairn is an extremely coachable player. He played an excellent first base for us as well as pitcher. He's been a starter since he was a freshman. He has a good change-up and his fastball is in the low 80's."

Nairn was 5-1 on the mound for the Blackcats and batted .330 with two home runs.

"Todd has a very powerful swing. He makes good contact and is an excellent outfielder and pitcher. He also has a good change-up and has been clocked at about 85-88 miles per hour. Both pitchers have excellent location with their pitches," Shepherd said. Justice was 4-2 on the mound for Prestonsburg and hit a .440 clip and had three home runs.

"Alice Lloyd has certainly gotten themselves two outstanding ball players," Shepherd said. "Both players will be an asset to the Alice Lloyd program, not just athletically but academically also. They are excellent students. You couldn't ask for two any better."

Blackcat Sparks Also Signs

Darrell Sparks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Sparks of Emma and a member of the District Champion Prestonsburg Blackcats recently signed a letter-of-intent also with the Alice Lloyd Eagles to play baseball next season. Sparks, although a catcher, was used by Coach Shepherd as a utility player.

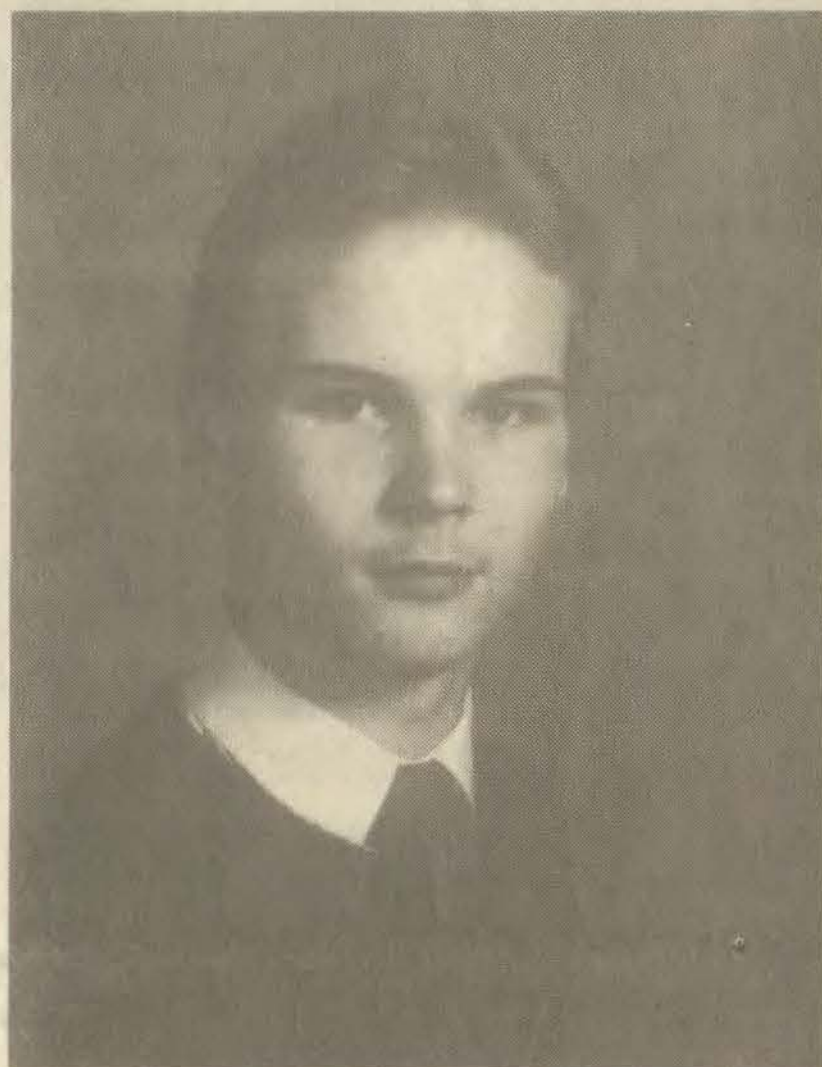

"Darrell was an all-around player. He would play anywhere he was needed," Shepherd said. "He has an extremely strong arm, and he will be an asset to the Eagles program." Sparks has been a starter for Coach Shepherd the last two years. He batted .360 for the championship team and had one home run.

"I chose Alice Lloyd because it is closer to home and for the financial aspect," Sparks said. "I believe I will like it there. It's kind of out of the way, but nice."

"We plan on using Darrell primarily as a catcher," Alice Lloyd baseball mentor Mills said. "He will need some work, but he is the type of kid who will make us a good catcher. He hits well, and he will be used in a designated hitters role and do some pinch hitting. Darrell hits with power and he is a consistent hitter. I'll take time, but he has a hard-nose attitude. He won't quit and that is what impressed me."

Sparks, for now, plans to major in X-Ray technology.

Sparks signs with ALC

Darrell Sparks of the Prestonsburg Blackcats signed a letter-of-intent recently to attend Alice Lloyd College on a baseball scholarship. Sparks was utilized as a utility player with the Blackcats where he batted .360.

Betsy Layne A's Win 2, Routing Johnson Central

The Betsy Layne A's Babe Ruth team went outside Floyd County for some hardball action, traveling to Johnson Central for a doubleheader with Paintsville Babe Ruth. The A's, who are undefeated and atop the league's standings, swept the two games 27-1 and 7-1.

"Our boys are really hitting the ball this year," assistant coach Charles Lafferty says. "We have good pitching and our defense is solid."

The A's swept the Johnson County team in a doubleheader earlier in the year at Allen Park.

In the first game the A's scored in every inning to rout the host team 27-1. Betsy Layne collected 15 hits in the contest while limiting the opponents to two hits.

Chuck Lafferty was the winning pitcher, as the big righthander fired a two hitter while striking out seven. He yielded four walks. Blanton was the losing hurler for Paintsville.

Keith Hall was three-for-three at the plate for the winners, and Lafferty was two-for-two with a bases loaded single that plated two runs. Lafferty also had a double in the game. Barry Hall was three-for-five for the A's. Keith Hall, Barry Hall and Brent Meadows each had triples.

In game two, Paintsville combined players from four different teams to play the Floyd County team. Betsy Layne pounded out 11 hits in a 7-1 second game victory over Paintsville.

Steve Robinson teamed with Keith Hall in limiting the Paintsville squad to three hits. Hall relieved Robinson in the fifth inning with no outs and runners on second and third. He struck out the next three batters and struck out the side in the sixth and seventh innings, giving him nine straight strike outs. Six were called third strikes.

Shawn Newsome and Todd Akers each doubled for the A's. Robinson got the win while Rowland was the loser.

Thompson's Sweeps ARA Hospital Team

Thompson's Supermarket took a doubleheader from the ARA Hospital, 12-10 and 16-6, in the Minnie Softball league last Sunday at Minnie. The double win helps Thompson's to a 7-3 record, good for second place in the league standings.

In game one, Thompson's scored four runs in the second and three in the seventh to claim a 12-10 victory over the hospital team. Ricky Stegall was the winning pitcher for Thompson's while Frank Goins suffered the setback.

Brad Hall had a triple for the winners.

The score was tied at 7-7 after five innings. Thompson's scored two in the sixth to lead 9-7 and plated three in the seventh. ARA Hospital picked up three in the bottom of the seventh but fell short by two runs.

In game two, Thompson's scored seven times in the third and sixth innings enroute to a 16-6, 20-hit win over ARA and a sweep of the twin bill. Ike Combs and Dennis Goble tripled for the winners and Lenny Hall had a double.

Ricky Stegall was the winning pitcher and once again Frank Goins took the loss.

Stan Stegall, Brad Hall, and Lenny Hall each three hits in the game.

Martin Cards Win Third Straight

Coach Jeff Sammons' Martin Cardinals are on a roll, winning their third straight game with a 12-1 win over the Drift Giants last week in the Beaver Creek Little League.

"We're playing better baseball now," Coach Sammons says. "We are playing like we should have at the beginning of the year, like we were capable of playing. We won our third straight."

The Cards were at one time holding up the rest of the league in the Northern division, but with three wins their record has improved to 4-5.

John Patrick Sammons (2-1) was the winning pitcher, striking out six batters. He has recorded 17 strike outs in his last two outings. He allowed the Giants just one hit in the game. Jason Sammons was the hitting star with a three-run homer and a two-run triple in collecting five RBIs in the win. Jamie Kilburn also had a double for the winners.

P. Bryant was the losing pitcher for the Giants, and Brent Osborne had a double for the Drift team.

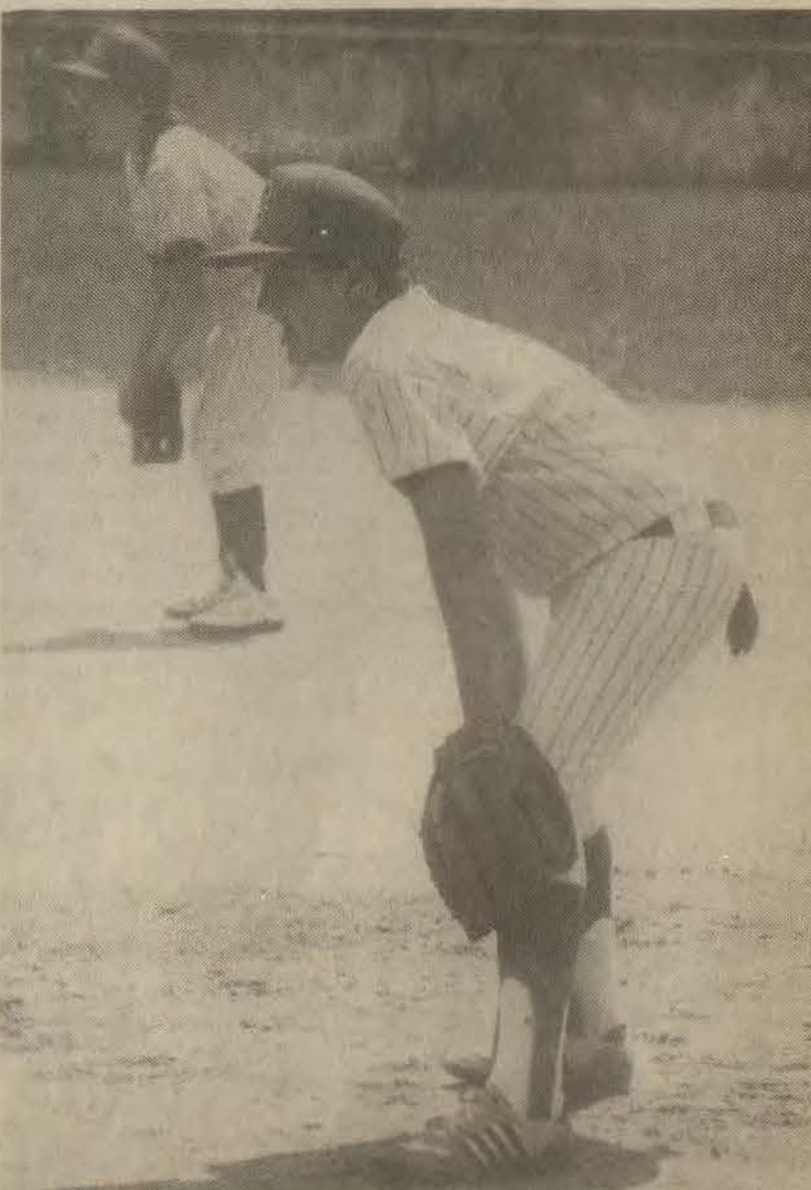

Keepers!

By Chris Aitman

Crankbaits are one of those lures which are very popular with beginning anglers. After all, you can catch fish with them by just casting and reeling. Those anglers soon graduate to lures like plastic worms and jigs which are more difficult to fish effectively than crankbaits. But invariably, once an angler has become serious about the sport, he or she will return to the crankbait. Crankbaits are extraordinarily versatile lures. By experimenting with plugs which run at different depths, anglers can pinpoint the exact depth at which the fish are feeding. What is more, crankbaits allow you to cover a lot of water in a short time. And best of all, crankbaits really catch fish!

Meade Hits 'Cycle' In Win At Minnie

It was the Thomas Meade Show Sunday afternoon at Minnie Park as Martin Liquor's Softball team defeated Vance's Furniture twice, 27-2 and 24-3, to sweep a twin bill and improve the league leading record to 17-1.

In the doubleheader, Meade was 10-for-11 at the plate and scored 10 runs.

In the first game, Meade hit for the 'cycle' with a single, double, triple, and home run, in collecting five hits in six plate appearances to lead Martin to a 27-2 first game victory.

The Martin team had three straight back-to-back home runs in the game.

Brian Turner homered, Stevie Ward followed with a drive over the fence, and Terry Boyd, who had two home runs, hit one over the wall. Craig Tackett had a two-run shot also.

Robbie Fraley had four triples for the winners. Meade had two doubles and recorded three strike outs. Charles Twiss and Jason Bevins went three-for-four for the victorious Braves.

Bevins had a seventh-inning double that produced two runs. Twiss had four RBIs for the game. Robbie Merion and Beau Tackett had fourth-inning doubles.

Pete Dawson took the loss in relief for the Stars. Dawson came on in the seventh and allowed the winning runs to score. Terance Mullins was the starter for the losers, and he fanned 11 batters.

and two singles (no home run), as his squad took the second game of the doubleheader 24-3. Terry Boyd homered for the winners with Caudill the winning pitcher in the second game. Levi Hamilton was the loser.

Lee Smith had four hits in the contest, and Stevie Ward, Brian Turner, and Robbie Fraley each had a double and triple for the victors.

Martin collected 30 hits in the game.

Braves' 9-Run Inning Sinks McDowell 16-8

Coach Steve Jenkins' Martin Braves (5-5) recently improved their record to the .500 mark with a 16-8 extra-inning win over Terry Mullins' McDowell Stars.

Martin, which led 7-1 going into the bottom of the fourth, saw the Stars score four times in the bottom of the inning and get single runs in the fifth and sixth to tie the game at 7-7. Martin had picked up five in the top of the fourth to build the lead.

The Braves pounded McDowell pitchers for nine runs in the seventh to record their fifth win of the season, 16-8.

Chris Cornette was the victor for the Braves, striking out six. Thomas Jenkins came on in relief in the fourth and recorded three strike outs. Charles Twiss and Jason Bevins went three-for-four for the victorious Braves. Bevins had a seventh-inning double that produced two runs. Twiss had four RBIs for the game. Robbie Merion and Beau Tackett had fourth-inning doubles.

Pete Dawson took the loss in relief for the Stars. Dawson came on in the seventh and allowed the winning runs to score. Terance Mullins was the starter for the losers, and he fanned 11 batters.

Martin collected 13 hits while McDowell was limited to four.

Walks Haunt Maytown In Loss To McDowell

The old saying that "walks will come back to haunt you" held true for the Maytown Mets in a game against the East McDowell A's last Saturday as the A's took a 19-13 victory over the Mets.

"In our last four games walks have really hurt us," Maytown mentor Jim Moore says. "You cannot beat teams by walking so many batters."

East McDowell scored 10 times in the first, mostly on walks. The Mets came back with eight in the bottom of the first. But wildness showed again in the A's half of the third as they touch home for eight more runs. East McDowell had 19 runs on only four hits. Maytown scored 13 times on 20 hits. Walks will definitely come back and haunt a team.

S. Hall was the winning pitcher with 11 strike outs. James Osborne was the losing pitcher.

John Moore doubled and tripled for Maytown and C. Rackey had a two-bagger for the A's. Moore also had four hits in the game.

Martin No-Hits Minnie Yankees

Chad Martin tossed a no-hitter in an abbreviated game called because of the mercy rule, as the Maytown Mets recently picked up their sixth win of the season with a 32-0 rout of the Minnie Yankees.

John Moore led the hit parade for the Mets with four hits, including a triple and double in driving in four runs. Chris Martin had three hits for the winners and Mike Goodman was two-for-two. Steve Goodman had five RBIs and hit two triples. James Osborne had four RBIs. James Osborne and Mike Goodman also had doubles for the Mets.

Maytown collected 15 hits in going 6-4 on the year.

Ivel Reds Are 'Red Hot' Now

Not only is the weather red hot these days but so are the Ivel Reds in the Harold-Allen-Prater Little League. Coach Adam Hill is satisfied with the way his team is performing as the Reds have won four out of their last five games and eight of their last nine.

The Reds won two games from the Harold Mets 31-6 and 15-3, with both games called because of the 10-run mercy rule. In the first game Adam Hill was the winner as Ryan Ortega and Bradley Bailey had home runs for the Reds. In the second encounter, Ryan Ortega fired a no-hitter in striking out 11 of the 15 batters he faced. Ortega and Craig Hamilton homered for the winning Reds.

Ivel swept two from the Allen Astros. Ortega pitched one hit shut-out baseball for the Ivel team in fanning nine of the 15 he faced. In another game with the Astros, Ortega pitched perfect baseball until the third inning when the Astros plated five runs on three hits and three errors.

The Reds came back in their half of the inning with two runs on a two-run homer by Hill. The Astros struck for a run in the top of the fourth on two Reds errors. Hill came on in relief and recorded the 7-6 win for the Reds as the Astros went scoreless in the fifth and sixth innings.

The Reds loss to the Mudcreek Cubs 12-6 is their only loss in two weeks. Marcus Hamilton was the winning pitcher for the Cubs as he had to pitch his way out of bases-loaded trouble in the first two innings. Toby Newsome had a two-run homer for the Cubs in the game. Adam Hill had his 14-game hitting streak halted when he grounded out in the sixth inning.

Harold Falls To Maytown

Maytown scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to overcome Harold 11-8 in the Floyd County Babe Ruth league.

Harold had a 6-0 lead going into the bottom of the third inning. Maytown scored twice to make it 6-2. Maytown picked up a single run in the fourth and four in the sixth to take a 7-6 lead. Harold scored two in the top of the seventh to claim an 8-6 margin. Maytown sent four runners home to win in the contest 11-8.

Brad Scott (1-2) was the winner, getting his first win of the season. Scott fanned six batters. Charles Ratliff got the save for Maytown. Brian White, (1-3) was the loser.

Brad Scott and Ray Osborne each had doubles for Maytown. Jeff Mitchell had a triple and a double for the Harold team and Brad Gayheart had a double. Philip Ritchie had a big day at the plate, going four-for-five. Kevin Martin was three-for-four, as was Larry Patton for Maytown. Martin, Osborne and Ritchie had two RBIs each.

Howard Places First In 5K Run At Russell

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Phil Howard, Picketon, Ohio, took the top position among 300 runners in the 12th running of the Rail City Run By The River 5k run in Russell this past week-end. Howard, a former runner with Rio Grande College, finished with a time of 15:24.

Locally, Rick Roberts of Allen finished seventh overall in the run with a time of 16:35. Roberts, who has been recuperating from an injured knee, said that he experienced no problems in the 5k run.

"I've been running twice a week, averaging about 40 miles per week," Roberts says. "I had no problems in the run. I'm back."

Roberts took the third position for his age group (30-34) which, he said, is the toughest age group.

"I was hoping I could break the 17:00 mark and I did," the Boston Marathon runner said. "At the two mile mark I was in 11th place but picked up some ground on the other runners and was able to finish seventh."

Another local runner, Andrew Reed from Martin, who has just begun to enter various races, finished 60th overall and eighth in his age group of 35-39. Reed had a time of 21:12 which was a personal record for him in the Rail City run.

In the 10k run at Russell, Mark Miller of Allen took third in the 25-29 age group and finished ninth overall with a time of 45:05.

Miller and Reed will participate in the two-and-a-half mile second annual run at Warfield this coming weekend.

Roberts will enter the 5k run in Charleston, Ind., this weekend, a race he finished second last year.

According to Roberts the Food City

Kennel Club Dog Show Scheduled For June 17

The Eastern Kentucky Kennel Club will hold its Second Annual All Breed Dog Show at Prestonsburg Community College on June 17. Registration, at $3 per class, is 9 a.m.-11:30 a.m., and judging begins at noon.

The show will go on rain or shine, according to club representative Nathan Frisby, and will include conformation and obedience classes.

Awards include silver or glass tray and $50 for the Best Adult Dog; silver or glass tray and $50 for Best Puppy in Match; plaque for best of each group; rosette for second, third, and fourth group placements; ribbons for Breed Class; plaque for High Score in Frisbee catch and retrieve.

The Floyd County Animal Shelter will have a concession stand at the show, said Frisby.

Last year's show attracted dog owners from Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and other surrounding states. More than 90 dogs were entered in the show, according to Frisby.

For information, contact Nathan Frisby at 297-6800, LeeAnn Blackburn at 789-7104, Genius Taylor at 297-6654 or the Floyd County Animal Shelter at 886-3189.

Rangers Keep Record

The Martin Rangers kept their perfect record intact with a 33-4 mercy rule win over the Martin Dodgers in the Martin Pee Wee league last Saturday at Martin ball park.

The Rangers scored 21 times in the bottom of the third to put the game out of reach. B.J. Caudill, Mark Stanley and Kyle Robinson each had home runs for the Rangers. Brad Dasner had two homers.

Limikia Robinson had two triples. Stanley, Dasner, and P.J. Holbrook had triples also.

Tigers Whip Pirates, Smurfs Defeat Cubs

The Mud Creek Tigers got an excellent pitching performance from Kevin Tackett as they defeated the Mud Creek Pirates 17-0. The Pirates have not recorded a victory this season. The Tigers are 4-4.

Michael Gross, Jake Terrell, Neal Newsome, and Marion Hamilton each had doubles for the winners.

Shannon Williams was the losing pitcher for the Pirates.

In another game in the Mud Creek Pee Wee league, the Mud Creek Smurfs handed the Mud Creek Cubs their first setback of the season in a close 3-2 game.

Jason Akers got the win while Brent Newsome suffered the loss.

Akers helped his own cause with a home run in the game, and Adam Tackett had a triple, while Chris Newman doubled for the Smurfs.

Brent Newsome had a double for the Cubs.

Local Man Climbs Martial Arts Ladder

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Eastern Kentucky has been hit hard by the growing national interest in the martial arts, an ancient form of self defense that originated in the Orient.

James Porter of Allen, who became interested in martial arts at the age of nine, recently became one of seven persons in the United States to move up to the level of Associate Master in Martial Arts. Interestingly, three of the associate masters are from Eastern Kentucky, and two of them, including Porter, are from Floyd County.

Shane Hamilton from Hindman and Garry Mullins from East Point join Porter in the distinction. They also are the first Americans to be named to this level.

Porter is a senior at the University of Kentucky where he is studying dietetics. He also has a second major in psychology and plans to attend Eastern Kentucky University this fall to get a master's degree.

"When I was nine years old I would go with my brother to the old skating rink at Archer Park and watch as he and others would train in karate," Porter says.

"When I was 11, I entered the program at Allen Central under the tutoring of Anthony Wells. In 1981 after Mr. Wells left, I studied under Bill Leonard at the National Guard Armory in Prestonsburg," Porter recounts. "Also in 1981, I would drive to Lexington every weekend to study under Sin The who is a Grand Master and holds a 10th degree."

Karate has different levels that a person must attain to reach certain degrees. When someone first starts out he is considered a "white belt". The levels from there are yellow belt level, blue belt, green belt and then the brown belt which has three degrees, third, second and first degree. When that plateau is reached, the martial arts enthusiast is a black belt or 5th degree, Porter says.

According to Porter, it takes about three months to reach the next higher level. In the different degrees in the brown level stage there are about six months intervals.

Porter has taught karate for the six years, the last two at UK. "We will be having a program this summer called SOAR (Superintendent Occupational Academic Retreat), a program for junior high kids who are a high risk to drop out of school," he says.

"The program runs for eight weeks, during which the kids go to summer school classes, hold a part-time job, and live in college dorms. There will be free classes in karate at UK. There they will learn study skills in remedial reading and writing," the Black Belt holder says.

"It will be an incentive for them to stay in school, sort of an outlet for their pressure and stress," Porter says. "They will be taught a form of discipline, and there will be classes in dance and weight lifting.

Porter, even though he has attained the level of Black Belt, still has some goals to shoot for.

"I'm going to keep going, and try to reach the Master Level. I love it and I've been in it this long. I've made it through too many years to quit now," he said.

What about karate would attract an 11-year-old boy to such a physical sport?

"They have what is called a "Circle War" and it usually occurs at the end of the evening sessions," Porter explains. "It's like a gang fight where everyone gets in the middle and just fight each other. Sometimes you get knocked clear across the floor. That was what attracted me to the sport after watching it at one of my brother's sessions.

"The circle war teaches a student to move," he says. "You may have to fight more than one person sometimes and this teaches you how to make the moves to do it," he says.

"There's a lot of work to it," he adds. "I have no regrets that I ever started. There were times I dreaded going to class.

"Karate teaches physical and mental discipline. There is a time of meditation, called Tai Chi—slow moving and meditating which actually teaches speed. It's also a health exercise.

"Many people will start and then drop out," says the Associate Master. "After the white belt level, 50 percent are gone, quit."

As the different levels are reached the harder are the physical aspects of the sport. Technically the moves are harder, he admits, "but intellectually they are easier to master. That's because of the repetition of the moves and kicks. It may be harder physically but easier to grasp intellectually.

"Some think that when you reach the Black Belt level you are there, you've arrived, but really you have just begun. In each level the intensity is doubled."

Porter has been able to showcase his sport on local television in Lexington

"It was a program called Sport About and covered different sports in the area," he says. "We teach the Shaolin style, opposed to the Korean style."

Porter has hopes of opening a Karate School in Richmond in August or September.

He is the son of Forrest and Linda Porter of Allen.

Persons interested in the SOAR program may write to Porter at the following address: James R. Porter, 2900 Yellowstone Parkway, K-83, Lexington, KY 40502.

Garrett Cubs Win Two

Coach Jad Deaton's Garrett Cubs improved their record to 7-1 in the Northern Division of the Beaver Creek Little League and tightened their hold on the top spot with a 9-4 win over the Martin Blue Jays and a 7-0 win over the Drift Giants Saturday afternoon.

Roy John Martin (2-0) hurled and batted the Cubs to their victory over the Blue Jays at Martin Park. Martin went the distance for the winners, striking out 12 batters. He also was two-for-three at the plate, including a double.

Kevin Stumbo had a double for the Blue Jays. Aaron Jackson was three-for-three in the game. Jackson also had six RBIs. Brad Allen had two.

Stumbo was the losing pitcher. Morgan Stone had two doubles for the losers.

In the second game played at Garrett Saturday evening against the Drift Giants, Jeremy Hall struck out

Beaver Valley Golf Course Enjoyed By Local Golfers

Dedication services were held recently for the newly reconstructed Beaver Valley Golf Course at Allen Park. The land where the course is located was formerly the Beaver Elkhorn Golf Course - nine holes with sand greens.

A major portion of land on which the golf course is located was secured by county officials through the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans. The lower portion of the area was secured from the C&O Railroad.

Some county funds and a large government grant made possible the development of a swimming pool, caretaker's apartment, six tennis courts, two ball diamonds, a convention center, and parking lot.

The location of the tennis courts and ball diamonds made it impossible to reconstruct the course as it was first developed.

The land area which constitutes the golf course consists of about 17 acres of almost level land which, according to USGA standards, is only about one third the surface area needed for such a course. Therefore, in designing this course utmost consideration was given to safety.

The entire surface, except for the greens area, was disked to a depth of six inches to loosen up the surface to be seeded and to kill the weeds which were predominate in the old fairways. Fairway areas were seeded with Derby Rye after liming and fertilization to soil test specification.

Total green area is 22,000 square feet or about one half acre. Largest green is number eight which contains 3200 square feet, as compared to number one green which is 1700 square feet.

Greens are constructed with internal drainage ditches to an outside drain sump. Gravels were used to fill the drainage ditches, covered with filtering cloth. Five inches of gravel covered with river sand mixed with peat. The surface was leveled and Methyl Bromide was applied to kill any existing weed seed and some molds and fungus. It was then covered with an air tight covering of plastic.

The greens surface was seeded to Pencross Bent Grass seed. These seed are quite small at the rate of one half pound per 1,000 square feet of surface area. Maintenance of greens is highly technical.

Surface area of the greens were fertilized about once each month, fungicides applied each week, insecticide twice each year, mowed twice each week when needed, aired in April and September, sanded and irrigated every morning during summer and whenever needed during fall, winter and spring.

The layout of the course gives primary consideration to safety of those playing, to easy flow and movement and to adaptability. The course, when crowded can be played from number one, number four or number eight to avoid back-up at a single tee.

*First tee, located behind the Little League ball field, is 121 yards to a landing area, sharp dog leg to the left with 61 yards to the top of a bank to number one green located behind the ball field. Out of bounds on the right is Beaver Creek and on the left are the ball fields. Par four with a total of 182 yards.

*Second tee, located behind the number one tee, is a straight away 283 yards, par four hole with 2400 square feet green. Out of bounds on the right is Beaver Creek.

*With a par of three and 150 yards to a 2400 square feet green, the third tee is crowded between number two fairway and railroad track.

*Players must return to the pro shop to tee number four located adjacent to the park shop. This is a 207 yard par three to a 2500 square feet kidney shaped elevated green. Out of bounds is left by Beaver Creek and the right by cart path.

*Out of bounds on fairway number five is right of cart path and left of Beaver Creek. Straight away par four 237 yards.

*Number six tee is located beside the shelter house. A par three, 190 yards to an elevated green containing three thousand square feet. Out of bounds to the left by the railroad tracks.

*The railroad track on the left of fairway seven is out of bounds. Par four, for 240 yards to the smallest green on the course at 1700 square feet.

*Number eight is the only par five in the course. This hole is 475 yards to a raised green containing 3200 square feet.

*Number nine tee, located between greens number eight and number four, is a 390 yard par four which takes the player back to the pro shop.

Dedication Of Beaver Valley Golf Course

The newly renovated John M. Stumbo Beaver Valley Golf Course was recently dedicated at the Allen Park. Taking part in the ribbon cutting ceremonies were, from left, David Barber, County Attorney; Gerald DeRossett, Magistrate, District 1; John M. Stumbo, County Judge Executive; Ermel Tackett, Magistrate, District 4; and Jackie E. Owens, Magistrate, District 2.

Safety Tips For Using Camp Fuel

Camping appliances such as stoves and lanterns add greatly to the convenience and pleasure of camping. The most common fuels burned in these appliances are liquid camp fuel and propane, either in disposable cylinders or bulk tanks.

Coleman Fuel

*Do not handle or store fuel near open flame or spark sources, or where temperatures exceed 120 degrees.

*Keep out of reach of children.

*Never attempt to fill or change fuel while the appliance is hot or burning.

*Do not use camping fuels as fire or charcoal starters.

*Always discard empty fuel containers in a safe and proper container. Do not incinerate.

*Never operate a burning appliance in an enclosed area without providing ample ventilation for all people and appliances within that area.

is that most anglers are not comfortable fishing deep water structure, so they stick with shallow stuff no matter what. And that is a grave mistake."

Although ultra deep diving crankbaits are advertised to hit a depth of at least 20 feet, and they will reach those depths, Gary Klein believes making the bait run that deep is very difficult. "It takes a skilled angler to get a crankbait to run to 20 feet," he says. "One of the biggest factors is the length of the cast. I'm a good caster, and with good equipment I can cast a long ways. But still, when you reach that 20 foot mark with a crankbait, you're not at that depth for any length of time. By the time the bait hits 20 feet, it's nearly on its way back up."

Klein says that the time the crankbait runs at its deepest depth depends on the length of the cast, the diameter of your line, and the speed of retrieve. The longer the cast, the more time the bait has to reach (and run at) its deepest depth. The thinner the diameter of your line, the less water resistance it has and thus will

A new breed of crankbaits has broadened the versatility of crankbaits. Ultra deep-diving plugs like Mann's 20+ and Bomber's Magnum 9A can reach depths in excess of 20 feet, a previously unheard of realm for crankbaits. Now anglers can utilize the versatility of crankbaits when searching for those elusive deepwater bass reached previously only with lures like plastic worms and jigs.

Gary Klein, originally from California and now residing in Irving, Texas, is one of the hottest anglers on several national tournament trails. Winning several major tournaments on the U.S. Bass trail, he has a pair of B.A.S.S. tournament victories to his credit. Finishing in the money in 50 of 64 B.A.S.S. events, including 18 top 10 finishes, he has earned nearly a quarter of million dollars on the B.A.S.S. trail alone. And if those credentials are not enough to impress you, this might: Gary Klein is just 29 years old.

I spoke with Gary at the recent BASS Masters Classic in Richmond, Va., about his deep cranking techniques.

"I'm a big fan of crankbaits," Klein said, "primarily because they allow me to thoroughly cover a lot of water, and specific depth ranges of the water. I use crankbaits for locating bass, and for catching bass which I have pinpointed around specific pieces of structure."

"The new ultra deep-diving baits are a real boost to my style of fishing. I enjoy flipping and fishing shallow structure, but deep water tends to be more productive for me in most tournament situations. The reason for this cut through the water more quickly, allowing the bait to hit its deepest depth much sooner.

And the speed of the retrieve is vital as well, Klein believes. He says that a bait should be retrieved rapidly at first to get it down quick, but then the retrieve should be slowed. "If you try to crank an ultra deep diver too fast, it will never reach that 20 foot mark."

To compensate for the brief period the bait is at the 20 foot mark, Klein says that you have to orient to and position yourself precisely on the fish holding structure. "Once you have pinpointed the structure you want to fish, boat positioning becomes vital to reaching that structure with the crankbait."

"Generally, you can say that a crankbait hits its deepest point about midway between the starting point of the cast and the boat. In other words, you have to cast well beyond the structure you want to fish. Marker buoys are ideal for marking the structure so that you know how far beyond that structure you need to cast."

Klein says that ultra deep diving crankbaits are also great tools to use when fishing long, deep points. "If you position the boat well off of the point, you can make long casts to the shallows on the top of the point and work the bait down it. Because the bait will hit a depth somewhere near the 20 foot mark, you will be covering a tremendous amount of water as well as a wide range of depths.

"The bait will dig the bottom through most of the cast because it's working its way down the slope of the point. I believe crankbaits are most productive when they are digging at the bottom or bumping into objects, so don't let that bother you."

Ultra deep diving crankbaits have greatly expanded the versatility of this family of baits. Learn to use them and you should be well rewarded for your efforts.

Reeling 'Em In

Gary Klein of Irving, Texas, is one of the hottest anglers on several national tournament trails. Klein has won several major tournaments on the U.S. Bass trail — and he's only 29 years old.

Catchers: 'Work Horses'

"Who wants to catch?," "Not me coach!" It's a position that is hot, dusty, and runners seem to take pride in sliding into you. Who wants to catch? No one. But a good catcher is valuable to a baseball team. The equipment is sometimes bulky, it doesn't fit right, and is definitely hot. Here Mike Duddleson, left, of the Martin Expos Babe Ruth team and Ronnie Kidd, right, of the Ivel Reds Farm Team demonstrate their catching ability.

P'Burg Indians Slip Past Yankees By 4-2

The Prestonsburg Indians, looking to hold on to second place in Prestonsburg Little League standings, scored two runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to defeat the third place Yankees 4-2.

The Yankees took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Jason Spencer led off the inning with a triple and scored on a base hit. The Indians tied the score with a run in the bottom of the inning.

Bobby Spencer's Yankees took a 2-1 lead in the top of the second frame and the Indians tied it in the third. With two runs in the fifth, the Indians took a 4-2 advantage and held on to defeat the Yankees.

Irvin Osborne was the winner with eight strike outs. Jason Spencer took the loss. Spencer had 11 Ks in the game.

Three Indian players were perfect at the plate for the game. Jason Burke, James Joseph, and Harry Ruff each had three hits in three plate appearances. Burke had two doubles and a triple. Joseph and Ruff had doubles, and Joseph drove in three runs.

Jason Spencer was three-for-three for the Yankees, including a triple. The Indians improved their record to 9-2.

Stamp Scrapbook Teams Four Baseball Legends

Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jackie Robinson, Roberto Clemente—legendary names linked forever with the great American pastime. Now, these history-making players are teamed up in Legends, a baseball scrapbook and stamp album offered in conjunction with the June 10 issuance of the Lou Gehrig American Sports Series commemorative stamp. The Gehrig stamp will be dedicated during the 50th anniversary celebration for the Baseball Hall of Fame, in Cooperstown, NY. The 24-page Legends chronicles the history-making feats of this quartet of Hall-of-Famers in text and photographs. Also included are four statistics-filled, collectible baseball trading cards. Topping off the tribute is a set of the four United States commemorative stamps issued in honor of the players over the past seven years. The stamps come with clear protective mounts for placement on the appropriate album pages. The Legends scrapbook, priced at $7.95, is available at local post offices.

Tennis Tourney Set For June 28 - July 2

The third annual First Commonwealth Bank tennis tournament will be held June 28 through July 2 at the Archer Park tennis courts. Events will be men's and women's A, B, C singles; men's and women's A, B doubles, and mixed doubles. Entry deadline is June 26 at 6 p.m. The First Commonwealth Bank Tennis Tournament is the premiere tournament in Eastern Kentucky with 100 or more participants from all levels of ability, according to coordinator Kay Willis. First Commonwealth has sponsored the tournament for three years and provides a souvenir T-shirt to each player. For more information on the tournament contact Willis at 886-2552.

Proper Installation Is Vital For Depthfinders

Bass fishermen rely on depthfinders to be their underwater eyes, but improper installation of these sonar units can prevent them from seeing anything at all. "Many bass fishermen today have two depthfinders on their boats, one at the bow and another at the console," explains Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member Randy Fite, acknowledged to be one of the nation's best deep water bass fishermen. "I strongly suggest the transducer for the bow unit be mounted on the trolling motor. That way, it will show the bottom configuration directly under the fisherman. "The transducer should be mounted with automotive hose clamps, and the wire carefully run down the trolling motor shaft and fastened with plastic tie-down clips, which are also available in automotive supply stores." It is important to route the transducer wires carefully, Fite adds, so they don't bind or stretch each time the trolling motor is raised or lowered. "Another consideration for bow-mounted depthfinders," continues the Johnson pro, "is to mount the depthfinder itself on your boat's deck, rather than upon the gunwale. Deck mounting provides a better cushion. When you're riding through rough water, a gunwale-mounted depthfinder really takes a beating." Fite also removes his depthfinder when he's trailering to or from a lake. "The console mounted depthfinder are the most popular," says Fite, "and their transducers should be mounted in the boat's sump area. Use clear epoxy to secure it in place." Transducer installation is the same for all types of depthfinders, Fite notes, including flashers, chart recorders, and the newer liquid crystal display models. Learning to use a depthfinder involves reading the instruction manual and then hours of practice on the water, says Fite. Various objects appear differently, so it's important to learn to recognize how those objects show up on your particular depthfinder. "One of the best ways to learn," says Fite, "is to go fishing with another experienced angler who is familiar with the lake and who is also familiar with your type of depthfinder. As you pass over different types of structure, he can explain them to you." Fite also knows of anglers who are qualified divers. When learning to use their depthfinders, they simply dived over the side and swam down to look at what their sonar was showing.

"The most common mistake I see," says the popular Johnson outboards angler, "is using their depthfinder, particularly a liquid crystal model, on automatic mode. "It is extremely important to control the unit's sensitivity manually so you always get the strongest signal possible for the depth of water you're fishing."

Kentucky Fishing Report

Fishing activity over the June 9-10 free fishing weekend was moderately heavy. Water temperatures fell between 73-79 degrees. Largemouth bass and bluegill were the most consistently active species. The lake-by-lake report:

Dewey: Largemouth bass were taking spinnerbaits and plastic worms 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline; crappie were hitting minnows 5-10 feet deep over brush piles; bluegill were hitting red worms and wax worms 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline; clear, stable at summer pool and 75 degrees.

Paintsville: Rainbow trout were hitting nightcrawlers, wax worms and corn/cheese 20-25 feet deep along creek channels; largemouth bass were hitting crankbaits 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline and rocky points; clear, falling, two feet above summer pool and 74 degrees.

Fishtrap: Bluegill were hitting wax worms and meal worms 1-5 feet deep over submerged trees; largemouth bass were striking crankbaits and plastic worms 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline; clear to murky, stable at summer pool and 72 degrees.

Grayson: Catfish were hitting live bait 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline; crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 1-5 feet deep over brush piles; clear, stable at summer pool and 76 degrees.

Buckhorn: Crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 1-5 feet deep over submerged trees; largemouth bass were hitting nightcrawlers 1-5 feet deep over brush piles; bluegill were hitting wax worms along shoreline; clear, falling, two feet above summer pool and 74 degrees.

Cave Run: Crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 5-10 feet deep over brush piles and submerged trees; bluegill were hitting red worms, nightcrawlers and wax worms 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline; largemouth bass were hitting plastic worms 5-10 feet deep over brush piles and drop-offs; clear, stable at summer pool and 75 degrees.

Laurel: Rainbow trout were hitting nightcrawlers at night 20-25 feet deep in open water; bluegill were hitting red worms and crickets 1-10 feet deep along the shoreline; white bass were taking small spinners 15-20 feet deep in open water; clear to murky, stable at summer pool and 78 degrees.

Dale Hollow: Largemouth bass were hitting plastic worms and spinnerbaits 5-10 feet deep along stump rows and over submerged trees; bluegill were hitting red worms and crickets 10-15 feet deep over stump rows and drop-offs; clear, falling, one foot above summer pool and 74 degrees.

Lower Cumberland: Striped bass were hitting live bait and jigs 1-25 feet deep in open water; smallmouth bass, white bass and walleye were hitting spinnerbaits, buzzbaits and crankbaits 5-10 feet deep off rocky points and along the shoreline; clear, stable at one foot above summer pool and 74 degrees.

Upper Cumberland: Walleye were hitting minnows, nightcrawlers, crankbaits and spoons 5-20 feet deep off rocky points at night; striped bass were hitting shad and top water lures from the surface to 25 feet deep in open water; clear, stable at one foot above summer pool and 76 degrees.

Kentucky: Largemouth bass were active on plastic worms and crankbaits 5-10 feet deep off rocky points; white bass were hitting spoons 15-20 feet over creek channels; clear, stable at summer pool and 77 degrees.

Barkley: Largemouth bass were hitting crankbaits, spinnerbaits, plastic worms and jig-and-pig combinations 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline and drop-offs; white bass were hitting spoons and crankbaits 5-10 feet deep over drop-offs; clear, stable at summer pool and 78 degrees.

Barren River: Largemouth bass were hitting plastic worms 15-20 feet deep along drop-offs; bluegill were hitting red worms and crickets 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline; white bass were being caught by trolling over flats; clear, falling, two feet above summer pool and 79 degrees.

Nolin: Largemouth bass were hitting crankbaits and plastic worms 5-10 feet deep in open water and along creek channels; crappie and catfish were taking minnows 5-10 feet deep over brush piles and along creek channels; clear, rising, at summer pool and 77 degrees.

Rough River: Bluegill were hitting red worms and crickets 1-5 feet deep along the shoreline; Kentucky bass were hitting crankbaits 1-5 feet deep along stump rows and over brush piles; clear, falling, one-half foot above summer pool and 77 degrees.

Taylorsville: Bluegill were hitting red worms, wax worms and crickets 1-5 feet deep off shallow banks; largemouth bass were hitting spinnerbaits and jigs 1-5 feet deep off shallow banks; clear to murky, stable at summer pool and 78 degrees.

Herrington: Largemouth bass were hitting plastic worms 5-10 feet deep along the shoreline; white bass were hitting jigs 1-5 feet deep along creek channels; clear, stable at summer pool and 75 degrees.

Green River: Bluegill were hitting red worms, wax worms and crickets 1-10 feet deep along the shoreline and drop-offs; largemouth bass were hitting crankbaits and plastic worms 5-15 feet deep off rocky points and over drop-offs; clear, stable at summer pool and 77 degrees.

Off and running

Billy Mitchell, Martin Angels, is off for first base in baseball action in the Martin Pee Wee league last week at Martin. Mitchell got a base hit in this turn at bat.

Wrong Grip

John Ortega of the Ivel Reds Farm Team fields a ground ball back to the mound only to throw it past the first baseman for an error. Ortega has an improper grip on the baseball. The Ivel Reds won the contest over the Allen Astros.

Crankbaits: Best Lure In Shallower Waters

Crankbaits—those big billed bass lures that look for bass at depths down to 20 feet—aren't just for deep water. They're effective in shallow water, too, and even in hook grabbing vegetation.

Fredda Lee, Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member, explains, "Of course, you have to be careful how

Proper Skis Promote Safety On The Water

Today's water skiers have available a wide variety of skis. They come in different sizes and designs for a range of applications. Selecting the proper skis and other gear helps keep the skier safe when on the water, says the American Water Ski Association.

All skis should be sturdy and free of sharp points and edges. Ski tips should be rounded rather than pointed. Fins should be blunt edged rather than sharp. Foot binders, adjusting mechanisms, binder plates and other attaching hardware should be simple and free of rough edges or protrusions.

Water skis are made of reinforced plastics, fiberglass, wood and wood laminates. For most recreational skiing, a combination pair is adequate. One ski will have an extra foot binder for single ski action. Other types of skis include single slalom, trick, jumpers, and skis for children.

For purposes of safety, the primary consideration other than physical properties already described is that of size. Skis for youngsters should be about 40 to 50 inches long with appropriately smaller binders. Skis of this size are easier to handle than longer and heavier adult skis and they permit the youngster to get up more quickly, thus avoiding excessive fatigue. Adults require more planing surface and their skis are wider and from 60 to 70 inches long.

you use a crankbait in shallow vegetation, but with a few adjustments in your fishing style you can bring a crankbait right through heavy cover. One of my favorite places to fish crankbaits is in fields of lily pads where fish hide around the stalks."

Crankbaiting lily pads requires a certain style of lure, says Lee, as well as the ability to read the cover.

"By reading the cover," the popular angler explains, "I mean learning to look for smaller patches of lily pads, little avenues or runways through those pads, and points along the edges of the pads. Basically, you read lily pad fields just like you read grasslines or standing timber. Look for something a little different rather than trying to fish the entire field of pads. Pay attention to the bottom too and look for a depth change."

Lee's crankbait choice in a lily pad field is a smaller model, usually one with a short, squared bill. She doesn't want a deep running lure because she believes most lily pad bass are suspended only a foot or two below the surface.

"The key to fishing a crankbait through pads," she says, "is a very slow, deliberate retrieve. Use your rod tip to help guide the plug through the cover, and stop reeling periodically just to make the lure appear more like a baitfish stopping to rest."

"If the lure snags, give some slack line, then jerk your rod sharply upward. The lure's hooks, rather than digging deeper into the lily pad stalk, will split the stalk and pull free."

For this type of fishing, Lee uses 12 to 17 pound test line and a fairly stiff rod. The heavier line also helps her bring big bass out when she hooks them.

"The slow retrieve is really important," she emphasizes. "It not only gives you better control of the lure

In Loving Memory of our Father and Husband
Bertle Bailey
Who departed this life Jan. 30, 1987

Many times we've missed you, many times we've cried, If love alone could have saved you, you never would have died.

If all this world was ours to give, we would gladly give it, and more, To see you coming up the steps, and walking through the door.

To hear your voice and see you smile, to sit and talk with you awhile,

To be with you the same old way, would be a sweet and joyful day.

A heart of gold stopped beating, two smiling eyes closed to rest,

God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best.

You will always live in our hearts, and on our mind, Your loving memory will be with us for all time.

Buttons and Bones: Treasure of Salisbury Lot

by Anne Chaney
Editor

Bits of broken china and rusted nails were the order of the day, although a few more interesting artifacts were found.

Nearly two dozen volunteers gathered recently on the Salisbury property next to Mountain Comprehensive Care in Prestonsburg to assist University of Kentucky staff in a one-day archaeological survey. Most spent the day on their hands and knees, picking bits of broken china, glass and rusted nails from carefully-sifted dirt, but the treasures more than made up for the tedium.

Treasure Seekers

Mark Miller, left, and Tom Matajacic were among nearly two dozen volunteers who helped conduct an archaeological survey of the Salisbury property in Prestonsburg recently. The survey was coordinated by Nancy O'Malley and Bill Sharp of the University of Kentucky.

Students from the Prestonsburg talented and gifted class found a human tooth — not that unusual, as the property was previously owned by a dentist. Volunteers also found bone fragments, buttons, a pestle, a porcelain doll leg and decorative glass.

The survey was directed by Nancy O'Malley, research associate in anthropology at UK, assisted by Bill Sharp, a graduate student in archaeology.

According to Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta, the survey was a prerequisite to the city's plans to build a parking lot and mini-park on the property.

While artifacts the volunteers found now belong to the university, they are available for display locally through the university's loan program. City officials expect to receive a report from O'Malley in the near future about artifacts found at the site and their historical importance.

The day began with O'Malley, Sharp and volunteers marking off the two lots comprising the Salisbury property into 10-meter squares. Volunteers dug shallow holes at each flag, placing dirt in screened boxes. After sifting through the dirt, they placed any artifacts they found in bags in the holes, to be numbered and recorded.

"You will find a lot of trash," predicted O'Malley as the volunteers prepared to dig. "There will be organic matter — chicken bones, etc., and brick and stone from houses."

O'Malley noted that several houses were built on the property at various times and gave a brief history of the lot.

A long-gone log cabin was probably built by Solomon DeRossett, a fur trader, as early as 1823, nearly 25 years after Prestonsburg was established.

"Generally, the earliest buildings in Prestonsburg were shelters, not permanent cabins. What we call cabins, they called houses," explained O'Malley. "The log cabins were actually the second generation of houses that were built — the first were not chinked or mortared. It may have been five or six years before the cabin was actually built."

DeRossett, who died prior to 1836, willed his property to his three daughters. One, who married a Wood, apparently sold the property in the mid-1800s to Hugh Harkins. O'Malley noted that discrepancies in the deed records separately identified the lot as Lot 2 and Lot 3.

At one point, the property held the log cabin and frame house build around it, and three rental houses.

Artifacts Found

A variety of items were found during a recent archaeological survey of the Salisbury property in Prestonsburg, including bits of bone, pottery, glass, china, nails and buttons. In the box here are several animal bones, the porcelain leg from a doll, glass, flint and old-fashioned square nails.

VA Funding Delay Prompts Cutbacks

The Department of Veterans Affairs recently began scaling back medical services and curtailing expenditures because emergency supplemental funding for VA has not been provided by Congress, said J. Denis West, department official.

VA Secretary Edward J. Derwinski said he had to react to the continuing legislative impasse in Congress which has embroiled VA's request for supplemental funding and is affecting operation of the VA health-care system.

"I must take these actions," Derwinski said, "to keep the system functioning within the limits of our resources. They should hold us until June 15, when we are cautiously optimistic that the Congress will resolve its differences and provide VA with urgently needed funds."

Derwinski described the emergency measures as "temporary, but to be closely monitored and reviewed." He cautioned that if supplemental appropriations do not reach VA soon, more drastic cutbacks may be needed.

Among the immediate steps being taken by the VA health care system is a freeze on accepting new patients whose eligibility depends on available VA resources. Except in emergencies, the veterans affected are those with nonservice-connected status whose incomes are above limits set by law, designated as VA categories "B" and "C."

Other actions include decreasing staff levels at VA facilities through attrition. VA will also halt spending used to purchase and maintain certain medical equipment and will delay the start-up of numerous new facility projects.

Derwinski said later steps he might be forced to take in the absence of early Congressional action could include cuts that would close some specialized medical programs and steps affecting staffing within the Veterans Benefits Administration. This could result in slowing down the processing of compensation and pension claims, educational assistance, home-loan guaranties and life insurance claims. Grounds maintenance at 113 national cemeteries may also have to be reduced.

The fiscal year 1989 supplement being considered for VA includes $340 million for medical care and $844 million for various benefits programs.

VA health care services are delivered primarily through 172 medical centers and more than 230 outpatient clinics nationwide. Benefits activities are administered by 58 regional offices.

Floyd County Women Named 'Outstanding'

Four Floyd County women have been selected for inclusion in the 1988 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America, according to the OYWA board advisors.

They are Julie Paxton, Anna Leon and Janie Hall, all of Prestonsburg, and Joyce Watson of Garrett.

Now in its 24th year, the OYWA program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in many fields of endeavor, such as service to community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments and civic and political participation, according to board advisors.

The local women, along with other Outstanding Young Women throughout North America, were selected after 115,000 nominations were received from political leaders, university and college officials, clergymen, business leaders, civic groups and community organizations, said advisors.

Each woman will be represented by her biographical entry in the annual awards publication.

Rebekahs Hold Meeting, Initiation Services Planned

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 was June 6 at the IOOF Hall, with Lorena Wallen, Noble Grand, presiding.

The business session was conducted, and those on the sick list were noted.

Initiation services will take place during the next meeting, with sandwiches, salads, and desserts to be served.

Beverly Hackworth, Mable Jean LeMaster and Paulena Owens participated in a memorial service for all deceased local Rebekah members, with Maman Leslie accompanying on the piano.

Birthday greetings were extended to Debbie Johns.

Those attending were Wallen, Hackworth, Johns, Owens, LeMaster, Leslie, Donna Thomas, Mary Ann Prater, Mollie Hyden, Jewel Bays, Hope Whitten, Dora E. Johns, Claudine Johns and Donna Bentley.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, June 20, at 6:30 p.m. at the IOOF Hall.

Whether his culinary tastes tend toward the traditional or the latest innovation, head outdoors to prepare a first-class meal featuring an upscale version of his favorite meat or seafood.

In lieu of hamburgers and hot dogs, opt for top-quality steak or jumbo shrimp.

The food preparations need not be elaborate in order for the outcome to be special — particularly since the charbroiling will add a wonderfully pungent dimension to the final flavor.

If the afternoon is warm enough, serve the meal outside, picnic-style. Or, try a more formal approach. An elegantly laid table, indoors or out, will create a special ambiance for dad's special meal. The recipes below, culled from a variety of sources, offer a wide range of options appropriate for a Father's Day barbecue.

If he's a meat and potatoes guy, serve up a Barbecued Whole Brisket, recipe by Lois Schenck's The Desperate Gourmet. Accompany it with potatoes that have been roasted in the hot coals. The preparation here is a breeze; just remember to allow four to six hours cooking time.

BARBECUED WHOLE BRISKET
1 whole beef brisket (8 to 10 pounds)
Salt and pepper
2 cups ketchup
1 Tbsp Pickapeppa or Worcestershire sauce

1 Tbsp vegetable oil
1 tsp liquid smoke
1 tsp seasoned salt

Rub the meat with salt and pepper, wrap in foil, and cook slowly over charcoal 4 to 6 hours or until done the way you like it.

Cook the remaining ingredients in the microwave oven until well blended or bring to a boil on top of the stove and simmer 5 minutes.

Pass the sauce with the cooked brisket.

The recipe for Grilled Piquant Chickens, below, is reproduced from James Beard's Menus for Entertaining. This is a flavorful and succulent alternative to the usual picnic fare of chicken drenched with barbecue sauce.

GRILLED PIQUANT CHICKENS
1 cup ground walnuts
6 shallots, or 1 medium onion finely chopped

4 Tbsps butter
1 tsp dry mustard
Tabasco
6 chicken halves
2/3 cup melted butter
1 tsp paprika

Blend the nuts, shallots, 4 Tbsps butter, salt, parsley, mustard and 1/2 tsp Tabasco to a smooth paste. Loosen the skin on the chicken breasts and stuff the paste under the skin.

Brush the bone sides of the chicken halves with a mixture of the melted butter, paprika and 3 dashes of Tabasco. Broil, bone side to the fire, for 12 to 14 minutes over medium coals.

Turn and brush the skin sides with the mixture, and continue broiling until the chickens are tender. Season with salt and pepper, and serve piping hot.

If the flavors of ethnic cooking appeal to the guest of honor, Indian Chops are sure to please. Reproduced from Fresh Ways With Pork, by the editors of Time-Life Books, the recipe below can be adapted for broiling indoors or out. (If barbecued on a grill, there is no need to sear the chops with a skewer.) One caution: Hot chilies must be handled with care. Try not to touch face, lips or eyes when working with chilies.

INDIAN CHOPS
Serves 4

Working time: about 25 minutes
Total time: about 1 day (includes marinating)

4 pork chops (about 4 1/2 to 5 oz. each), trimmed of fat
1 fresh chili pepper or 1 dried chili pepper soaked in water for 30 minutes, seeded and chopped
1 small piece turmeric stem, or 1/2 tsp dry mustard
2 garlic cloves
1/2 tsp fenugreek seeds (optional)
1/2 tsp coriander seeds
1/2 tsp cumin seeds
1/2 tsp salt
4 Tbsps plain low-fat yogurt

Using a mortar and pestle, pound the chili pepper and the turmeric or mustard powder, the garlic cloves, the fenugreek seeds, if you are using them, the coriander seeds and the cumin seeds, and the salt into a coarse paste. Stir the yogurt into the paste and mix well.

Coat the pork chops with the yogurt mixture, place them in a nonreactive (glass) dish, cover with plastic wrap, and let them marinate in the refrigerator for 24 hours.

Preheat the broiler. Remove the chops from the marinade, wipe them with paper towels, and brush off any dry ingredients that are sticking to them. Heat one or two metal skewers over high heat on the stove, and print a crisscross pattern on both sides of each chop by pressing the skewer gently onto the surface.

Broil the chops until cooked through — about six minutes on each side. Set the chops aside in a warm place for five minutes before serving.

GRILLED MARINATED LEEKS
8-12 large leeks about 1-1/2 inches in diameter
1 cup olive oil
1/2 cup tarragon vinegar
2 Tbsp finely chopped fresh thyme
Salt and freshly ground pepper

Cut off roots of the leeks, trim and discard all but about 1 inch of green leaves, and cut the leeks in half lengthwise to within 2 inches of the root ends. Rinse the leeks well under cold running water to remove any grit between the leaves and shake dry.

In a bowl, combine the oil, vinegar, thyme and salt and pepper to taste and whisk until well blended. Arrange the leeks in a large, shallow baking dish, pour the dressing over the leeks, cover with plastic wrap, and marinate for 3 hours, turning the leeks from time to time.

Heat a charcoal grill till the coals begin to turn gray.

To grill the leeks, place them on the grill for about 15 minutes, turning and brushing them with the marinade from time to time.

Serves 8 or more.

GRILLED TOMATOES AND ONIONS

1 small or one 1/2 large tomato per serving
1 small red onion per serving
Fruity olive oil
Salt and pepper

Prepare a charcoal grill. Cut tomatoes in half. Cut onions in half across grain.

Brush cut side with olive oil and sprinkle with a generous amount of salt and pepper. Start cooking the onions before the tomatoes, because the onions will take quite a bit longer. Grill over medium-hot coals until onions are soft and tender. Brush periodically with olive oil.

Serve immediately.

Old Glory

Residents of Riverview Manor Nursing Home in Prestonsburg have grown accustomed to the sight of the stars and stripes when they arise each morning. The purchase of the 10'x15' American flag and 50' pole was made possible by donations from the Sam Martin Sr. family, who said the gift was made in "appreciation of the care and love" of the nurses and aides at the facility. The nylon flag replaces a smaller one which "constantly snagged on a nearby tree," according to staff member Theresa Harris. Shortly after the new flag was put up in April, it vanished, she said. But the thief (or thieves) returned it a few days later as mysteriously as it disappeared. The residents "really missed" the flag while it was gone, Harris said.

Tram Reunion:

A Community Remembers

On Saturday, May 27, about 200 former Tram residents attended a reunion to share memories of growing up in the community, according to Mary Dotson Williams.

A garden luncheon on the old Amburgy and Conn property was attended by the families of Scalf, Adkins, Hinchman, Conn, Layne, Dotson, Bayes, Williams, Colegrove, Epling, Patrick, Smith, Steffey, Collins, Conley, Haryl, Perkins, Meeks, Stratton, Lackey and others.

Tram was a community that remained isolated for years without any convenient means to cross the river, said Williams. It had a church, school house, post office and passenger train which stopped four times a day, she said.

The guest-of-honor at the reunion, Irene Burbaugh Carpenter, shared her memories of pre-World War II Tram, where she served as a home missionary from 1937 to 1941.

Activities for the day included a Tram trivia contest, small group singing and general mingling to renew old friendships and meet new family members, said Williams.

Trophies were presented to Joe Hinchman and Everett Adkins, winners of the trivia contest, by master of ceremonies Harold Conn. Clyde Hinchman gave a "Train Coming Around the Tram Bend" rendition from his repertoire of harmonica music, Williams added.

Many of those attending gave donations for restoration of the Tram Community Cemetery to honor the family members and friends buried there, said Williams.

She said the day could be summarized by a quote from a former Tram school teacher, Alonzo Stratton, "This is such a wonderful day; perhaps we should have had our local TV station and newspaper here to capture this grand event."

The reunion was such a success that many asked when the next reunion would be, she said.

Friends Reunite

Juanita Conn had a lot of catching up to do with friend Catherine Colegrove Robertson at the Tram reunion.

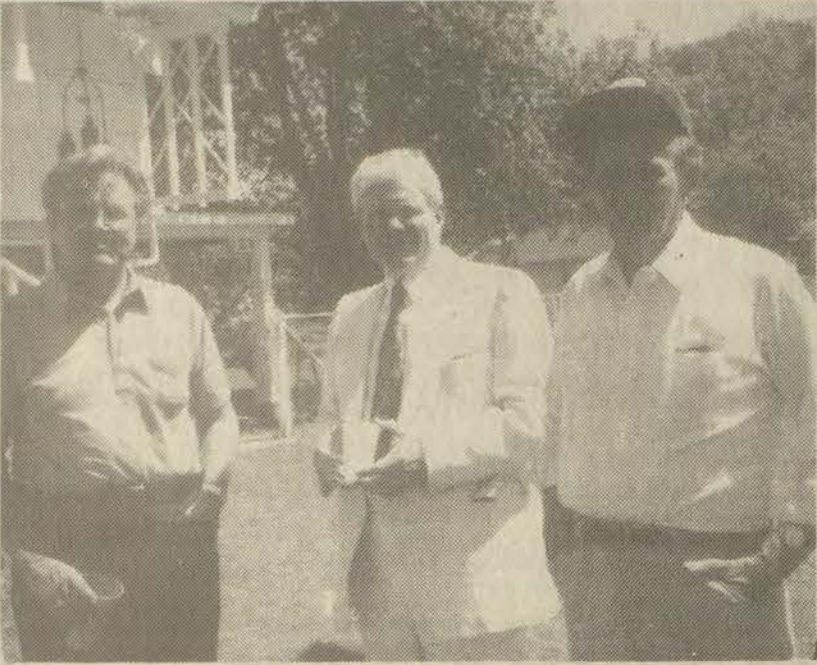

Wallaces Have House Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace had as their guests this past weekend Mr. and Mrs. Mike Nelson and son, Jonathan, of Huntsville, Ala. On Saturday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells of Paintsville.

On Wednesday they had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell of Emma, Teri Lamothe of Prestonsburg and Phyllis J. Campbell and Linda Wilgus, both of San Diego, Calif.

Host House Guests

Dorothy and Robert Harris had as their house guests over the weekend her brother Clayton Burchett and wife Nancy from Atlanta, Ga.

Tram Trivia Winners

Methodist Women Challenge Men

The women of the First United Methodist Church, Prestonsburg, met Monday, May 6, at the church. The meeting was called to order by chairperson Phyllis Stanley, and prayer was led by Rose Glenn.

The group discussed the recent successful flea market and bake sale and challenged the United Methodist Men's group to spearhead a drive for the purchase of dining room equipment for the Family Life Center.

Following other business, program leader Glenda Hughes presented a program on "Women as Care Givers," which included a film on Alzheimer's disease.

After the meeting, hostesses Dorothy Wells and Clara Bradbury served refreshments to Priscilla Hager, Roslyn Burchett, Maurine Mayo, Virginia Jeffries, Victoria Spradlin, Josephine Fields, Fannie Runnels, Gladys Blackburn, Glenda Hughes, Mable H. Brown, Elizabeth Ramey, Lee Boswell, Rose Glenn, Alice Harris, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Edna Carol Greenwade and Phyllis Stanley.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

DRUGS AND THE ELDERLY

As people get older, their bodies change in many ways. These physical changes can affect the way they respond to medications. Caution must be used when prescribing and administering drugs to the elderly. Generally speaking, most medicines are metabolized more slowly as one gets older. This means that drugs tend to remain in the body longer, and a dose that is correct for a younger person may be an overdose for an older one. The risk of side effects may also increase. Older people tend to take more drugs than younger ones, commonly as many as a half dozen different prescription medicines as well as over-the-counter preparations for such common ailments as indigestion, arthritis pain, or constipation. All of these can interact, producing a variety of symptoms from mental confusion, to itching, to diarrhea, or even worse problems.

COOLEY APOTHECARY meets the highest level of professionalism in our business and would be honored to become your family pharmacy. Our records are fully maintained for all drug warnings, drug interactions and personal drug allergies here at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Master Charge and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3. We wish all Dad's a very happy Father's Day!

HINT: Elderly people should keep a list of all medicines they take including OTC items, and should show it to their doctors.

Books And Things

Evil Women, Chicken Laws: Read All About It

by Trisha Morris
PCC Librarian

Browsing the shelves of Prestonsburg Community College's library can enrich one's reading with accidental treasures. My search turned up such subjects as wicked women, songs from the Depression, scientific satires, and books that made a difference.

Books That Changed The World, by Robert Downs. No one realizes better than the despot the explosive forces pent up in books. When tyrants want to suppress opposition, one of their actions has historically been to burn the books of contrary views.

The purpose of this work is to demonstrate the immense power wielded by books and to name those books which have exerted the most profound influence on history, economics, culture, civilizations and scientific thought from the Renaissance to the mid-20th century. This discussion is limited to books in science and the social sciences, such as Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin; Machiavelli's The Prince; Paine's Common Sense; Hitler's Mein Kampf; Darwin's Origin of Species; and Einstein's Relativity.

Excluding the scientists, certain character descriptions are common among the authors: non-conformists, radicals, fanatics, revolutionists and agitators. Downs concludes that the secret of these books' success "was that the times were ready for them."

The World's Wickedest Women, by Andrew Ewart. Anyone who believes that "the gentler sex" encompasses all that is sweet, soft and sighing, luscious and loving, kind to men and to animals, content to be loyal and understanding and a helpmate to her chosen hero is in for a profound shock in these pages.

This book attempts nothing less than a comprehensive examination of evil in the feminine gender throughout the ages. It reaches back into ideology for its characters. The heroines — or villains — of its chapters are as ancient as Lilith, who is believed, by some, to have enticed Adam away from Eve, and as modern as Ilse Koch, who made lamp shades out of human skin.

From Jezebels to Harlot Queens, this book is an intriguing study of Eve and evil through the ages. A Stress Analysis of a Strapless Evening Gown, edited by Robert Baker. This is a collection of scientific humor to prove that scientists are as normal as their blue or white collar counterparts. They eat, sleep, work, marry, vote, pay taxes, take out the garbage and occasionally write something funny.

This then is a collection of funny scientific articles. They were chosen for their entertainment value, for their exposure of some of the inanities and pitfalls of our age and for their masterful use of parody. They were also compiled to show that "Thank God, it is still not unscientific to laugh."

Hard Hitting Songs for Hard Hit People, edited by Allan Lomas. There is the grime of coal, the smell of manure and the taste of blood on these pages. It is a book of songs that coal miners sing when there's no market for their effort, that hungry farmers sing as they bend their backs to harvest food that no one can afford to buy, and songs that people sing when they are promised a brighter tomorrow. "Hard hitting songs" are songs from the 1930s, when the Depression wracked the country from coast to coast.

Along with the lyrics to "Kentucky Miner's Wife Hungry, Ragged Blues," "Route 66 Highway Blues," "We Shall Not Be Moved," and many others, there are photographs taken under the auspices of the Farm Security Administration.

The book was compiled by Allan Lomas, one of America's foremost folklorists; Woody Guthrie, Oklahoma's dust bowl poet and bard, and Pete Seeger, singer, musician, song-writer, filmmaker and folklorist. Its message to following generations is that "songs are the statement of the people" and a wish that the lessons of the hard-hit people of the 1930s never be forgotten.

Hangups From Way Back, edited by Frederick Gentles. A myth is "something which is in fact not true, but in which we believe and act upon as if it were true."

Myths have become canons, and canons have become reality. This book attempts to "blow apart" the myths, canons and hangups that have caused endless controversy and bloodshed throughout history.

Some of the more popular myths are: human beings are naturally peaceful and gentle; violence in sports is an instinct carried over from our primitive, tribal days; and without the mass production of cars and the sex films from Hollywood, a popular form of recreation, which tends to procreation, could not exist.

Authored by such literary greats as Montague, Thoreau, Durant and Levine, the essays are an opportunity to recognize myths at work in our daily lives.

The Columbus Chicken Statute, by Dick Hyman. Hyman is a journalist who has spent much of his life uncovering the thousands of antiquated, useless, and loony laws that are still in the legal journals. Many of these ordinances were enacted during the horse and buggy days to protect the horses from the new, fangled motor car. But many were put on bills as riders to prevent the bills' passage — but sometimes they passed regardless.

Some examples are: It is against the law to sneeze on a train in West Virginia; in Houston, Texas, peanuts must be eaten where sold; in Cincinnati, it is illegal for a cow to stand, lie or feed on a sidewalk; in Detroit, it is against the law to fall asleep in the bathtub. And, if you allow a chicken's head to dangle, you are breaking the law in Columbus, Ga.

Enhanced by the drawings of O. Soglow, this hilarious sampling of legal antiquity will keep one amused.

The Thinking Dog's Man, by Ted Patrick. This book was written as "a piercing indictment of the embarrassing tribe of men who think they own a dog." Wise, human and full of admiration for members of the species he has known, Ted Patrick gives new meaning to the dog-man co-existence.

According to the author, or maybe the author's dog, what a dog looks for in a master are large, confident, strong hands and a soft, controlled, non-shrill voice.

Newsome-Hurley

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Newsome of Grethel announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sheila Ann, to Jeff Hurley, son of Gennelle Mullins of Warsaw, Ind., and Estel Hurley of Rochester, Ind. The wedding will be held Thursday, July 1 at 1:30 p.m. at the bride's parents home. The custom of open wedding will be observed, and a reception will immediately follow the ceremony.

Bush, Hall Set July Marriage

Bush-Hall

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie D. Bush Sr. of Harold announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Claronda Lou, to Brad Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hall of Galveston.

The bride-elect's great-grandparents are Elder Johnnie King and the late Clara King, the late Francis and Joe Reynolds Sr., the late Webb and Annie Bush and the late Floyd and Lucy Roberts, all of Floyd County.

The wedding will be Saturday, July 22, at 5 p.m. at the Boldman Freewill Baptist Church of Harold, with the reception immediately following.

In Memory of Lawrence Tackett
This Father's Day
Dear Daddy

I can't give you a gift and card this year on Father's Day. But I will frame a card and place it on your grave.

It's been a year since God took you home, nothing's the same since you've been gone.

Daddy, I loved you so very much, it seems as if you were my crutch.

I know you are gone to rest, because you were the very best. When I needed help you were always there to lend a hand. That's because you was such a great man.

You worked so hard to raise your three girls, you were the most wonderful daddy in the whole wide world. But now your working days are done, you're at home with the most precious one.

He will keep you safe from harm and take care of you, that is a lot more than I could do.

I tried so hard to help you that day, but there was just no possible way.

When I close my eyes to go to sleep, I can still see you laying at my feet.

I visit your grave every day that I can, even though it's almost more than I can stand.

I know you are at rest and have no more trouble, but it seems as if mine have doubled. You are so badly missed by your family and friends, but with the help of God, I'll see you again.

Mother's heart is so badly broken it will never mend, but she knows you are only "Gone Away With A Friend".

Written by your loving daughter,
Vivani Akers

McDowell High Wins Blood Drive Challenge

McDowell High School has won the fourth Annual Beta Club Challenge Blood Drive. The challenge is between the Beta Clubs of the Floyd County high schools. This year, McDowell High School collected 44 units of blood, which is 63 percent of its senior enrollment.

The Great Mail Race

Students in Karen Pack's third grade class at McDowell Elementary participated in a project called "The Great Mail Race," one of many projects completed by the class this year.

Pack's Third Grade Students Have Busy Year At McDowell

This has been an active year for Karen Pack's third grade class at McDowell Elementary School.

In February the class was invited to participate in the "Great Mail Race" by a third grade student in Menlo, Wash. The "Great Mail Race" is a contest where students from every state write letters to students in other states to gain information about a particular town and state. The students received letters from Mexico, Mo.; McGill, Texas; Wikeup, Ariz.; Big Lake, Texas; Newark, Ill.; and Truth or Consequences, N.M.

The class also published a newspaper, "Third Grade Spotlight," which featured such stories as Student Teacher, Teacher's Aide, Weather Station, Mr. Gooch-Bookkeeper and the class superstars in academics and athletics.

McDowell's High School journalism class recently published "Mr. Gooch - The Hungry Bookkeeper," written by Clabe Hall, Michael Salisbury and David Newsome.

Class members are Jason Tackett,

Tonya Walters, Charles Kendrick, Ricky Ward, Joshua Daniels, Bobbie Newsome, Launa Rose, Lorrie Patton, Jeremy Pennington, David Newsome, Clabe Hall, Eric Tackett, Joey Tackett, Douglas Bryant, Melissa Caudill, Michael Salisbury, Brent

Bentley and Jennifer Kendrick.

Betty Tackett, student teacher from Pikeville College, and Beulah Compton, teacher's aide, contributed in making this year a fun-filled one for the students, said Pack.

Keeping Teen Parents In School Is Purpose of Funded Programs

Two grants for programs aimed at reducing the dropout rate of teen parents and helping them to complete high school have been funded for Floyd County schools by the Kentucky Department of Education's Office of Vocational Education.

The grants total $20,000, according to assistant superintendent of instruction Gary K. Frazier. The funded programs were developed by home economics teacher Patricia Allen Huffman of Betsy Layne High School.

One project will provide in-school day care for children of students attending a Floyd County high school. The students will be required to work in the day care center one hour per day, under the supervision of a day care assistant and a home economics teacher.

Students will learn child care skills and will have their children cared for while they attend classes, said Frazier, who added that the service will be free to student-parents.

The other project is geared toward providing self-esteem, parenting skills and vocational skill development for teen parents, Frazier said. Assistance will be provided in nutritional, financial, legal, medical, vocational and social areas to keep students in school.

The students, he said, will be given opportunities to visit colleges and vocational schools and to investigate career options.

Locations of the projects and eligibility requirements for each are to be announced in July.

Auxier Graduation Held; Greathouse, Wright Lead Class

Auxier Elementary School held its 1989 commencement exercise on June 3 at the Freewill Baptist Church at Auxier. Twenty graduates received diplomas from principal Wayne Combs.

Valedictorian Christopher Greathouse, 14-year-old son of Jerome and Cora Webb Greathouse, received the Woodman of World History Award and special awards in history, science and English.

Lealice Wright, 14-year-old daughter of Randall and Linda Shelton, was selected as Salutatorian. She is the president of the graduating class and Junior Miss Auxier.

The 14-year-old son of Sandra Bishop and Ronald Spears, Ronnie Spears was selected by the faculty as the Most Improved Student Award.

Alex Haley, 13, son of David Haley, received the Perfect Attendance Award for the 1988-89 school year and another award for good attendance during his grade school years.

A special Auxier History Award was presented by Robert Castle, guest speaker and president of Auxier Historical Society, to Stacy Renae Powers, 13-year-old daughter of Robert Shane and Freda Stevens Powers.

Castle also presented certificates of appreciation, on behalf of the historical society, to students who took part in the Auxier history pilot program, introduced into the school social studies curriculum this year. This is to become an annual activity.

Ramona Aikens, fifth and sixth grade teacher and Academic Team coach, presented an award for academic excellence to team members Chris Greathouse, Candice Sturgill, April Johnson and Angela Collins.

The Rev. Rober Music, pastor of the Freewill Baptist Church, closed the ceremony with the benediction. A reception was hosted for the graduates by teachers Donna Stambaugh and Charlene Darrell in the church's fellowship hall.

Graduation entertainment was provided by Angie Collins who sang "Wind Beneath My Wings" and Kathy Hale and Stephanie Blair, performing "The Rose." The graduating class, accompanied by class member LeAnn Fraler on the piano, sang "Lean On Me" and "Honesty." Pianist Sandra Lilly played the processional and recessional.

Linda Wright organized and hosted a prom to follow the reception. Ushering the graduation ceremonies and prom were Jerry Lafferty, Jennifer Lilly, Crystal Powers and Shawn Chaffins.

Activities were videotaped by Lee Collins, a member of the historical society. The tape will be kept in the video library of the society's museum for preservation.

Parents' Rights

by Joyce Everly

At all levels of school administration, school officials stand behind each other so effectively that no one stands in front. — Norton's paradox of Educational Politics.

What is a "chain of command?" How is that information going to help when answers are needed?

Simply put, it means the next person you talk to higher up on the administration ladder, when the last person you talked with didn't give you the answers to the questions you have a right to ask.

Those questions may be about a student problem, a teacher, a coach or a cook. They also may include problems with school board policy concerning cheerleader selection, basketball players or your own child's difficulty in school.

When you want answers, they need to come from school officials who are the ones who are directly involved. Asking your next door neighbor will not get your problem solved. (Unless, of course, he or she is a school board member!)

Most of the time the "chain" works like such: talk with the teacher, then go to the principal. Still no answer? Next step is the assistant superintendent, then if that does not work, the superintendent, then the school board. Finally, if you are not satisfied with what has happened, you move from the "local level" to the state level and begin the "chain" again.

The "chain of command" is simply a step-by-step approach to deal with school administration when you have a problem.

While you are going through the "chain" process, it is best to keep a record of the date, time and place of each meeting. You also need a short summary of what was said. This will help keep the facts straight. Don't get sidetracked into discussions about issues that do not deal with your original subject.

This process of record keeping is called "documentation." It just means that you have a written record of who, when, where and what was said. Each separate meeting should be recorded at the time of the meeting or shortly thereafter. There is no need for anything fancy—I have taken notes on the backs of deposit slips—as long as you have a written record of what happened. It is so easy to forget what was said and when, especially when it concerns your child.

When you can't get to first base and no one is willing to talk to you, keep track of all your attempts to get meetings set up. Be sure you list who told you what and why they would not talk with you.

Eventually you may have to go to the state level. When that happens, the first thing they will ask is "Have you dealt with this problem with your local administrators?" You'll be able to say yes and have the documentation to prove it.

It is not comfortable, nor is it easy, to use the "chain of command" process when working on a school problem. Many times a citizen or parent might decide that it is just too confusing or too much trouble. That's normal, and you are not the first person to feel that way.

However, if you really want to get answers and keep getting put off, the "chain" process is the only way to get through to the next link.

You'll have all the facts before you at each step. You will know exactly what you are talking about. Best of all, the administrators will know that you are well informed and know your rights.

Remember, a "public body," be it school board, fiscal court or state department of education, is answerable to the taxpayer and that taxpayer is you.

An explanation about how the Attorney General's office works for you will be the topic of the next article on Parent's Rights.

Melvin Students In County Band

Three students at Melvin Elementary School were inducted into the All County Band recently. Lori Smallwood, left, an eighth grader, won first clarinet, first chair. Sixth grader Brandon Holbrook, center, took second saxophone, second chair, and Justin Ray, right, also a sixth grader, won second trumpet, third chair. All three participated in a Prestonsburg concert, under the direction of Eugene Schindler, and marched in the Festival of FACES parade. They play with the Melvin Elementary School Band and the Wheelwright High School Band, under the direction of Dennis Bartley.

One additional member has yet to be elected by St. Michael's Mission Center's parish council, said Sister Marie.

OLM Parent-Teacher Group Elects School Board Members

The Parent-Teacher Organization of Our Lady of the Mountains School recently elected new board members, according to Sister Marie.

Kathy Barnett of Salyersville, Debbie Jones of Paintsville and Sheila Mann Mueller of Tomahawk were chosen to replace outgoing members Burl Wells Spurlock of Prestonsburg, Manuel Grino of Paintsville and Rodney Jones of Paintsville. Kenny Brown of Prestonsburg was re-elected, said Sister Marie.

Other members of OLM's school board are Ray Tosti of Paintsville, president; Chris McHale of Paintsville, secretary; Edith Blevins of East Point; Don McCrosky of Salyersville; Pat Flanary of Wintonsville; and Gwen Hall of David.

The school's principal, the PTO president and the pastor of St. Michael's Mission Center are ex-officio members of the board.

Summer Food Service Offered For Children

The Floyd County Board of Education is again sponsoring the Summer Food Service Program for Children. The program will begin Monday, June 26, and continue through Monday, July 31.

Free lunches will be available to all children 19 years of age and younger at 13 centers in the county. The centers are located at the following elementary schools: Allen, Auxier, Drift, Garrett, McDowell, Martin, Maytown, Prater, Prestonsburg, Spruce Pine, Stumbo and Wayland, and at Wheelwright High School.

Meals will be served from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Meals must be eaten at the center.

Osborne Students Start SADD Club

Osborne Elementary School students last month began a Students Against Driving Drunk Club.

At their organizational meeting they watched a film, saw a SADD display starter kit and had a question and answer session with sponsors Russell Hall, Thomas Gibson, Roger Johnson and Kathy Dingus.

Also the club's officers were elected: Candi Holbrook, president; Krystal Isaac, vice president; Gina Johnson, secretary; and Rodney Jackson, treasurer.

The club is comprised of five committee members from each grade, 5-8, who hope to have many activities and encourage others not to drink and drive.

Third, Fourth Graders Tour State's Horse Park

As a culminating activity for a unit on Kentucky studies, third and fourth grade classes at McDowell Elementary toured the Kentucky Horse Park in Lexington on May 24. Activities included a walking tour; observing harness making; a special showing of retired race horses; a visit to the Hall of Champions; watching a film, "Thou Shalt Fly Without Wings," about the history of Kentucky thoroughbreds; riding in a horse drawn carriage; petting the Clydesdales; and a guided museum tour.

Fourth grade students attending were Freddie Gibson, Chris Moore, Kris Branham, Jerica Sizemore, Angela Walters, Liz Howell, Nathaniel Meade, Mikele Osborne, Doug Tackett, Joey Salisbury, Jeff Sexton, Steven Brown, Ricky McGuire, Benny Moore, Leslie Howell, Sam Bentley, Brent Ousley, Eric Cook and Kim Griffie.

Third grade students were Shawn Conn, Michael Tackett, Stevie Miller, Kristi Wright, Carrie Reynolds, Stacia Stumbo, Jamie Newman, Raymond Bryant, Daniel Fraley, Ovida Herrington, Danielle Tackett, Kerri Patton and Monica Reid.

Accompanying the students were teachers Kitty Frazier and Terri Tackett; parents Alberta Brown and Linda Patton and bus driver Jimmy Gaines.

Children Visit Horse Park

Fourth and third grade students from McDowell Elementary School toured the Kentucky Horse Park in Lexington recently as part of their Kentucky studies.

ACHS Students Show They Care

Allen Central High School students know from time can lead to drinking and driving. In a show of concern for the students, Lowell Martin's skeleton, Molly, was dressed in a prom dress as a reminder of what could happen if drinking and driving are mixed.

Miller Records Perfect Attendance

STEPHANIE MILLER

Upon the completion of her sixth grade year at Prestonsburg Elementary School on June 6, Stephanie Renee Miller was presented with the Perfect Attendance Award.

This makes her second consecutive year with perfect attendance. She has only missed two days since she entered third grade.

She is the daughter of Tina Wells Miller of Auxier and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Miller of Van Lear, and the granddaughter of Junior and Rina Mae Wells of Auxier.

Correction

In a recent announcement of the Floyd County graduates of Eastern Kentucky University, Michael Lee Rister, bachelor's in finance/investment, was mistakenly identified as Michelle. The Times apologizes for this error and any inconvenience this may have caused.

See Spotty Allen

Students in Linda Wallen's first grade class at Allen Elementary School line up to take a look inside a fire truck of Allen Volunteer Fire Department. The firefighters visited the class to show some of the equipment used in firefighting, to talk about fires and to introduce the youngsters to the department's pet Dalmatian, Spotty Allen.

FLOYD COUNTY LIBRARY HOSTS PADDING BEAR READING CLUB

Padding Bear is the famous book bear and official mascot for the Floyd County Library Summer Reading Club.

The free reading program runs from July 6, 1989 to August 3, 1989 for children ages 2 thru 14.

There will be an activity, movie or craft each Thursday during the program. Awards will be given to those children who complete the program.

To register for the reading club, visit the library or call 886-2981.

Free VCR at Hecks Store

Susie Sparkman of Martin won a video cassette recorder today as part of a giant 30th Anniversary sale at Hecks. The prize was the first of more than $30,000 in merchandise that will be given away chainwide during the month of June.

A prize will be given away each week in each Hecks store during June. Anyone who visits a local store during the month can register to win.

Hecks will top off its month-long celebration July 1, when grand prizes including a 1989 Chevrolet S-10 pickup truck, two $6,000 shopping sprees, a 1950's classic jukebox and $500 in sporting goods and fishing equipment will be given away to lucky winners who have registered in Hecks stores.

The grand prize winners, to be chosen from semi-finalists from all 55 Hecks stores, will be selected during a carnival-style anniversary celebration from noon to 2 p.m. July 1 at the Maccorkle Avenue store in Charleston, W.VA. The event is open to the public and will feature entertainment and free refreshments.

The public can register for the contest through June 25, 1989, at any Hecks store. You don't have to be present to win.

Allen Central High School Beta Club Takes New York

The Allen Central High School Beta Club recently returned from its annual excursion, this year to Washington, DC, Boston, New York and Philadelphia. They also visited Lancaster County and Hershey in Pennsylvania. Highlights of the trip included seeing the USS Constitution, Old North Church, the Statue of Liberty, the Empire State Building, the Hard Rock Cafe, two Broadway plays, Amish country and the Hershey chocolate factory. The group left on May 7 and returned on May 13. The students were chaperoned by Rita Osborne, Patty Murphy and Bud Reynolds.

Minnie Recreation Park Beneficial For Community

by Keith Shelton
What was once a worthless piece of weedy land has been transformed into an attraction that is enjoyed by all who are familiar with it. The Minnie Park is the site of this transformation.

The park was opened in the early 1980s. Eddie Caudill was instrumental in its opening.

Caudill said the park was created "for the benefit of the people and the kids." He said the idea came from the community and from Judge Henry Stumbo, who had some influence in purchasing the land from Wentz Stumbo. Caudill added that the funds for the land came from federal grants which he applied for.

The people of the community were glad to see this project completed. Now the children need not commute to Allen for Pee Wee and Little League games.

It is a park that is used extensively. The business around the area seems to have picked up as a result of the park. The addition of a service station, auto parts store, restaurant and beauty shop have improved the community.

Caudill said that he hoped to expand on the park by adding lights to the baseball field, his first project, if he can get further funds from the government. He also said that a swimming pool may be added in the future.

These attractions will add to the already busy park used by several organizations, such as the local Little and Pee-Wee Leagues and area softball teams.

The park was a much needed acquisition for the community and has been a benefit to all the people who have used its facilities.

To Attend Program

Arnold Sturgill Jr., son of Bert and Donna Sturgill of Betsy Layne, has been accepted into the Lexington Electronic Institute training program. He will begin July 17 to pursue an associate degree in electronic engineering technology. He is an 1989 graduate of Betsy Layne High School.

All-County Artists Named At Schools

Ten high school art students were recently selected as All-County Artists in Floyd County schools. Two were chosen from each school.

From Allen Central High School are Kathyline Keen and Thomas Gearheart, and from Betsy Layne, Steve Parsons and Denise Watson.

Selected from McDowell are Henry Parsons and Mike Page, with Melissa Hall and Larry Ousley from Prestonsburg. Representing Wheelwright are Liz Collins and Tommy Rowe.

Hall Earns Scholarship For 1989-'90 From Berea

Jackie Hall of Grethel, a graduating senior at Betsy Layne High School, was recently notified by Berea College that she has been accepted as a member of the college's 1989-90 freshman class.

The acceptance includes $8,500 per year in paid tuition.

Hall, who also attended New London High School in New London, Ohio, has participated in the Future Homemakers of America club at Betsy Layne, and was voted "most courteous" by members of her senior class. She was instrumental in planning a new teen parenting program which will begin next year at Betsy Layne, said school officials.

Hall is the daughter of Phynetta Howell Hall of Grethel and Hershel Hall of Wakeman, Ohio. She is the mother of Adam Scott Hall, who will accompany her to Berea.

At Berea, Hall plans to major in social work, and will work in hospital social services during her freshman year.

Tackett, McDowell Student Teacher Is Honored By 3rd Grade Class

Betty Tackett, a Pikeville College student teacher, recently completed her semester of student teaching in Karen Pack's third grade class at McDowell Elementary School. She took part in many educational activities, as well as helped Pack and the students to publish a newspaper, titled "Third Grade Spotlight."

On the last day of her student teaching experience, she was given a surprise party by her class. She received one dozen red roses, a bottle of perfume, a music box and a bouquet of balloons. Tackett is the daughter of Clyde and Linda Hamilton of McDowell. She and her husband, David, live in Prestonsburg.

WHS Teacher Gets History Funding

by Crissy Mosley

Doris Osborne, teacher at Wheelwright High School, has received a grant from the Kentucky Education Foundation to develop a special unit on women's studies in her history classes.

work showing the female contribution to history will also be made to the school and the community.

Osborne applied for the grant to obtain extra material for her classes.

The $500 grant will be used to supplement student activities in an American history class that Osborne teaches. The focus of the project will be to increase student awareness of the role women have played in American history.

One history class will choose outstanding women from history, do a biography and a detailed study of her accomplishments. Students will then compare these women to successful female Wheelwright High School graduates.

As part of the project, the Wheelwright graduates will be invited to the school. Osborne said she hopes the graduates' visits and the example of their accomplishments will be an incentive for female students at the high school.

THANKS

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY.

My sincere thanks and appreciation to you for your help and support in my race for Sheriff in the May Primary.

It was a hard fought campaign and my Congratulations and best wishes to the new Sheriff-Elect, Paul Hunt Thompson. May the new Sheriff continue the progress and the fight against drugs that I have had in the past 7 1/2 years. Let us all pledge to go forward and continue the progress in law enforcement and the on-going fight against drugs. Thanks again for your support and trust in me. I am proud to have served you in the past and look forward to service in the future.

PCC Students Donate Money To MCC Program

The proceeds of the first Prestonsburg Community College Charity Talent Show were presented to Mountain Comprehensive Care's Mental Retardation program recently. The contribution totaled $328.

The April event was open to anyone who wanted to participate, and the audience saw a variety of music, ranging from gospel to rap to lip sync.

Four-year-old Joshua Perkins won a $100 prize and a standing ovation for his lip sync performance of Roy Orbison's "You Got It." In the spirit of the occasion, he contributed $50 toward the charity fund.

Jeana Harris, a PCC student, planned and coordinated the show with the help of other PCC students: Lisa Cooley, Paul Cantrell, Kathy Hillen, Dwayne Johnson, and Bryan Spears. Deanie Francis of Phelps donated the trophies, prize money and door prizes.

The donation was presented recently to Chris Brown, coordinator of MCC's mental retardation program, for the purchase of equipment and special training supplies for AIR-RS mentally handicapped residents.

Tapes of the performance are available for $10. For more information contact Mazola Salmons at PCC, 886-8572.

Students Who Care

Jeana Harris, PCC student, recently presented Chris Brown, mental health coordinator for Mountain Comprehensive Care, with a $328 check, representing proceeds from the talent show given by area students to raise money for charity.

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations AGENCY: Federal Emergency Management Agency. ACTION: Proposed rule. SUMMARY:

Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed modified base (100-year) flood elevations shown on your community's preliminary Revised Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM). These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the floodplain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program. The proposed base flood elevations modify the base flood elevations shown on your community's presently effective FIRM. DATES:

The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the community. ADDRESSES:

Preliminary Revised FIRMs showing the proposed modified base flood elevations and their delineation are available for review at the City Hall, P.O. Box 510, Main Street, Allen City, Kentucky.

Send comments to The Honorable Vernon Porter, Mayor, Pro-Tem, City of Allen City, City Hall, P.O. Box 510, Main Street, Allen City, Kentucky 41601. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. John L. Matticks Chief, Risk Studies Division Federal Insurance Administration Federal Emergency Management Agency Washington, D.C. 20472 (202) 646-2767

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Emergency Management Agency gives notice of the proposed determinations of modified base (100-year) flood elevations, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR 65.4(a).

These elevations, together with the floodplain management measures required by Section 60.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their floodplain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

Pursuant to the provisions of 5 USC 605(b), the Administrator, to whom authority has been designated by the Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency, hereby certifies that the proposed flood elevation determinations, if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. A flood elevation determination under section 1363 forms the basis for new local ordinances, which, if adopted by a local community, will govern future construction within the floodplain area. The elevation determinations, however, impose no restriction unless and until the local community voluntarily adopts floodplain ordinances in accord with these elevations. Even if ordinances are adopted in compliance with Federal standards, the elevations prescribe how high to build in the floodplain and do not prohibit development. Thus, this action only forms the basis for future local actions. It imposes no new requirement, of itself it has no economic impact.

Proposed base flood elevations along flood sources studied in detail are shown on the Preliminary Revised FIRM. Lessees and owners of real property in the City of Allen City, Floyd County, Kentucky are encouraged to review these maps and related materials at the address cited above. The flood sources studied in detail are:

Source of Flooding	Location	Existing	Modified
Levisa Fork	Just upstream of State Highway 23 About 1200 feet upstream of State Highway 80	*650	*651
Beaver Creek	Within community	*651	*652
		*650	*651

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Floyd County School District has recently prepared applications for the use of federal funds for the education of handicapped children in the Floyd County School District. These applications specify that a free and appropriate public education will be provided to all handicapped children ages three (3) through twenty-one (21) who are residents of the Floyd County School District. P.L. 94-142 provides priorities for the expenditure of funds. First priority is given to those children who are not being given any educational services. P.L. 94-142 also requires that the school district plan for the implementation of identification, location, evaluation and appropriate educational placement of all handicapped children. Guaranteed procedural safeguards for handicapped children and their parents in decisions regarding educational programs and confidentiality of files of those children identified as being handicapped will continue to be instituted. This application will be on file in the Office of the Superintendent of Floyd County Schools for a period of two (2) weeks beginning June 19, 1989 and ending June 29, 1989. Any interested persons may review copies of the applications and make comments concerning the applications to Ogie M. Slone of the Floyd County School District. Consideration will be given to all comments prior to the submission of the final copy of the application to the Department of Education.

Beginning at a marked stone near the creek bed at Effie Tackett's line; thence up the hill to a planted stone near a poplar tree; thence around the hill to the Mill Hollow; thence down the hill to the creek or water; thence down Big Mud Creek and back to the planted stone at the beginning.

Being the same property conveyed to Bonnie Tackett and Tony Tackett by deed of conveyance from Effie Tackett, Winston and Eura Mae Tackett, Emmitt and Maggie Howelle, Elza and Loula Mae Newsome, Georgie and Cassie Tackett, by deed dated January 22, 1972, and recorded in Deed Book 224, page 612.

TRACT NO. 2
Beginning at a ditch at Effie Tackett's line near Big Mud Creek water; thence up the hill to the old fence line; thence 70 ft. around the hill to an iron pipe; thence down the hill to the Big Mud Creek water; thence across the road and back to the ditch of beginning.

Being the same property conveyed to Bonnie Tackett and Tony Tackett from Randall Lee Tackett and Tammy Lynn Tackett by deed dated June 1, 1976 and recorded in Deed Book 225, page 506.

These parcels will be sold together as one tract as they are adjoining parcels.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall include the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 26 day of May, 1989. MARSHALL DAVIDSON, Master Commissioner 5-31-3t.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 836-0184, Amendment
In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Addington, Inc., P.O. Box 2189, Ashland, Kentucky 41105-2189 has filed an application for an amendment to an existing surface coal mining and reclamation operation.

This amendment proposes to add an additional 80.75 acres of surface disturbance for total proposed permit acreage of 887.29 acres located 1.50 miles east of Ivel in Floyd and Pike Counties.

The proposed amendment area is approximately 2.0 miles east from US 23's junction with Ivy Creek Road and located .25 miles south of Ivy Creek. The latitude is 37 35 12. The longitude is 82 37 30.

The proposed amendment is located on the Harold and Broad Bottom U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle maps. The surface area to be disturbed by this amendment is owned by Nancy Watkins, Kevin Goble, and Curtis Blackburn. The operation will use the contour stripping, augering, mountaintop removal and area stripping methods of mining. The operation will also include a washer processing facility. The application also includes a proposed land use change from the unmanaged forestland and mined lands pre-mining land use to a pasture, grazing and impoundments of water post-mining land use.

The amendment application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow Complex, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 3-29-4t.

PUBLIC NOTICE STATE PLAN ON AGING AND FUNDING FORMULA PUBLIC HEARINGS

The Department for Social Services, Division of Aging Services, will conduct a public hearing to undergo evaluation of its' administration of the State Aging Plan for Federal Fiscal Years 1988 and 1989.

In addition, the Intrastate Funding Formula utilized in the development of the proposed State Aging Plan for Federal Fiscal Years 1990, 1991 and 1992, and which also provides the basis for State Fiscal Year 1990 Area Agency on Aging allocations, will be open to public review and comment. Subject to approval of the U.S. Administration on Aging, the three-year plan will utilize the formula in providing for the orderly and systematic expenditure of Federal aging funds for supportive and nutrition services under provisions of the Older Americans Act of 1965 as amended.

The hearings will be held at the following time and location:

June 23, 1989, 10:00 a.m. local time: First floor auditorium, Department for Health Services, Cabinet for Human Resources, 275 East Main Street, Frankfort, Kentucky 40621.

The hearing is a public forum open to all persons interested in the delivery of services and the establishment of programs for older persons. Individuals wishing to address either of the two subject areas are cordially invited to do so.

A copy of both the FY '88-'89 plan and the proposed new funding formula are available for review at each Area Development District office. Summary material relating to each of the two subject areas will be available at the public hearing. Written comments are encouraged; they will be accepted and reviewed until July 31, 1989.

SUCCESS. THE ARMY OFFERS YOU THE BASICS. Your chances of succeeding in life are greatly enhanced if you possess two qualities self-respect and confidence. The Army has a long tradition of developing these two characteristics. How do we do it? First is physical. You'll be in the best shape of your life, because in the Army, physical fitness and exercise are a way of life. Second is mental. You'll learn skills that will last you a lifetime, and also gain the hands-on experience that's hard to duplicate anywhere else. The results will surprise you. You'll have a new feeling of pride. You'll know that you've developed the self-respect and confidence necessary to face the competitive world ahead. If you want to start on the road to success, then take the first step right now. Call your local Army Recruiter today. 38 Lake Drive 886-9455 ARMY BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

HOROSCOPE

June 18 through June 24

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
Your life will calm down soon. It seems every time you make a little headway, you are knocked down again. Don't fret; things will come into focus soon.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)
Health matters should be one of your main priorities this week. Take time out to give a little of yourself to charity. You may have luck by sticking with the number six.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
Take advantage of a great day and have the time of your life. You are always so loyal to your employer, so it is about time to think of yourself and play hooky.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
It is time for you to look for new job opportunities. A friend could lead you on an interesting journey. Keep an open mind and enjoy yourself.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)
Your attitude needs some serious adjusting if you want to make any headway at work. Make sure family members understand your intentions toward certain opportunities.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
You should be very careful around automobiles this week. Even a car door could be your worst enemy. You may have luck by sticking with the number nine.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
Domestic problems will calm down soon. Try to find a way to relieve the stress caused by your work place. Wearing red could increase your chances for a promotion.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
Don't take sides in a conflict that does not directly involve you. Although it is not really your nature, tell others to back off and leave you alone.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
Someone close to you needs your undivided attention. Friends and family will rally around you in the face of adversity.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
The warm weather will make you a little melancholy this week. Family members need a little special attention. Worrying about finances will not make them go away.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Things at work could get pretty tough over the next few weeks. Take time out to do nice things for yourself. Starting a new exercise program could help you handle stress.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
This is a very powerful time for you. Use it wisely. Don't trust anyone at work with deep dark secrets. Pack your bags for the weekend and take a spontaneous trip.

Primetime fathers vary in numerous ways

TV dads noted on Father's Day

By Mary Ann Townsend

Primetime fathers are definitely not cast from the same mold. Some are serious, others fit in at the extreme other end of the emotional spectrum. Some planned on nurturing young minds from the very beginning, while others had never envisioned themselves in the role of Dad.

To commemorate dads everywhere, here is a brief rundown of network papas. There are real-life fathers who involve their real-life families in their work, like Robert Conrad. Conrad stars with his sons Shane and Christian in CBS' Jesse Hawkes. To take family involvement one step further, the program is produced by A. Shane Company and by his daughter Joan. In the show, Conrad stars as a mountain ranger who moves his family to San Francisco, where they use their tracking and survival skills to catch criminals.

Bill Kirchenbauer plays the type of dad who planned on raising a family—a very big family—from the very beginning. Kirchenbauer stars as Graham Lubbock, the coach at a Catholic school who, with his wife by his side, is trying to raise eight children in ABC's Just the Ten of Us.

Of course, there are some TV dads who stumbled into fatherhood. Greg Evigan and Paul Reiser play two such characters in NBC's My Two Dads. Their characters share the responsibilities of raising a teenage girl who could be the daughter of either one of them.

Dave Coulier and John Stamos play another unlikely pair who unexpectedly take on fatherhood, and do a fairly good job of it. They respectively play the friend and brother-in-law of a widower who asks them to help him raise his three young daughters in ABC's Full House.

Lee Horsley, as Ethan Allen Cord, single-handedly takes on fatherhood that was literally left on his doorstep. Horsley stars as a turn-of-the-century gunslinger who suddenly finds himself the caregiver to his deceased sister's four children in CBS' Paradise.

There are serious dads, like thirtysomething's Michael, played by Ken Olin. Michael does his best in the face of adversity to provide for his daughter and wife.

And, there are dads who do not have a serious bone in their body—it seems the only bone, in fact, is the funny bone. One such dad is Dan Conner, played by John Goodman on ABC's Roseanne. Evidently his brand of parental guidance is well received, because, with co-star Roseanne Barr, Goodman has accomplished a difficult task. In this, the show's first year, they nudged the ultimate father one peg down in the Nielsen's. For several weeks Bill Cosby, consistently number one in the ratings, had a taste of number two up against Roseanne.

TV Q&A

Blair Brown started career on the New York stage

By Polly Vonetes

Blair Brown

Q: Please give me some information on Blair Brown and where can I get in touch with her. —Eddie Dulin, Nortonville, Ky.

A: Blair Brown was born on April 23, 1952, in Washington, D.C., where her father worked for the CIA. She was educated at the National Theatre School of Canada. Blair began her career in the theater, performing with the Stratford Shakespeare Festival and in Joseph Papp productions in New York. Her television credits include the miniseries Hands of a Stranger, Captains and Kings, Wheels, Eleanor and Franklin, Kennedy and the TV movie And I Alone Survived. Her feature films are Altered States, Continental Divide, A Flash of Green and Stealing Home. She is currently starring in The Days and Nights of Molly Dodd on the Lifetime channel. She lives in New York City with her 6-year-old son, Robert. Write to her c/o Lifetime, 36-12 35th Ave., Astoria, N.Y. 11106.

Q: I have some questions regarding the show Green Acres. What was Mr. Haney's first name, was there a Mrs. Haney? Am I remembering the Carpenters right as Ralph and Alf? —Dennis Arquilla, Nashville, Mich.

A: A first name is not listed for Pat Buttram's character, Mr. Haney, nor is there a wife mentioned. As for Ralph and Alf, the sister-and-brother carpenter team, you have their first names right but their last name was Monroe.

Q: I am an admirer of Jack Nicholson. Could you tell me all about where he was born, marriages, etc.? I would also like a list of his acting credits as I have been trying to collect his tapes. —Monn Ayers, Petersburg, Penn.

A: Oscar winner Jack Nicholson was born on April 22, 1937, in Neptune, N.J. He came to Hollywood when he was 17. After a series of odd jobs, he made his professional debut in a stage production of Tea and Sympathy. He later made numerous guest appearances on television and made his film debut in 1958 in The Cry Baby Killer. That film began a decade-long relationship with Roger Corman, with whom Nicholson made 20 low-budget pictures. He became an "overnight" star in 1969 when he won an Oscar nomination for his role in Easy Rider. He was married to Sandra Knight for four years, they had a daughter, Jenny, born in 1964. He also has a son by Susan Anspach. His films are too numerous to list here but they include: The Passenger, The Shining, The Postman Always Rings Twice, Little Shop of Horrors, Reds, The Trip, The King of Marvin Gardens and Drive, He Said.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Q&A, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748.

CONGRATULATIONS GRADUATES OF '89

Regardless if your graduating from kindergarten, eighth grade, high school, college, graduate school, or profession school, you are Eastern Kentucky's and particularly Floyd County's number one asset. I share with you the pride of our heritage and the enthusiasm deserved when we look into our future.

With your graduation you have earned responsibility to make your home in Floyd county the best place in which to live that can be realized from its potential. Let God guide and walk with you everyday, and your responsibility will be reached easily.

Congratulations, Good Luck and God's Blessings.
