All Bridges Under 50 Feet To Be Replaced In 5 Years

Gov. Wallace Wilkinson flew into Combs Airport yesterday to announce a statewide program to replace all bridges in Kentucky less than 50 feet long that cannot be crossed by a loaded school bus.

Four bridges in Floyd County are among the 1,031 across the state.

Under the program, which begins immediately, according to the governor, bridges to be replaced locally are on Clear Water Road over Right Beaver Creek, Little Abbott Creek Road over Abbott Creek, George Branch Road over Little Paint Creek and Clarke Branch Road over Buffalo Creek.

The program, announced at an airport press conference at about 11:30 a.m., will cost a projected $50 million statewide, with the state supplying 80 percent of construction costs and the counties 20 percent. Total cost of the Floyd County projects is estimated at $200,000.

The governor said that one of the primary reasons for the program is to assure "safety of our kids." He said many of the bridges in question are located on bus routes wherechildren have to get off the bus, cross the bridge on foot and get back on the bus before they can go on.

Wilkinson told the crowd of elected and government officials, highway personnel and reporters, "Seeing children get out of a school bus and reloading after it crosses one of these bridges makes me angry that we've allowed bridges to get in this disrepair." He said some of the bridges on the replacement list are "unsafe even for the

"I want the children of Kentucky to know that they're not going to be inconvenienced any more by having to load and unload buses at these bridge sites," Wilkinson said. "When our children arrive at school, I want them to arrive safe, alert and ready to learn."

Wilkinson termed the program "a major victory for Kentucky, especially rural Kentucky," He added he expects the replacement process to take about five years and that replacement will start with one bridge in each of the 115 counties

Other area counties affected by the program are Magoffin, which is slated for 15 bridge replacements; Pike, seven; Johnson and Knott, six each, and Martin,

Kentucky Transportation Secretary Milo Bryant, who introduced Wilkinson, said he also wanted to assure the audience that "US 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville is on schedule" and that the access road to the regional airport is "still scheduled."

Mike McGee, head of the County Judges Association, credited the county judges across the state, and particularly those present at the press conference, with pushing for House Bill 665 which authorized funding for the bridge program.

Big Lottery Wins Still Available, Officials Say

by Anne Chaney, Editor

Kentuckians interested in winning a share of the state lottery still have plenty of opportunity to do so.

And if it's the big bucks they're going for, they may be happy to know that as of Tuesday, only eight of 28 possible $12,000 wins had been claimed in the newest game, "3 for the Show." For Anna Adkins of Mansfield, Ohio, her lottery ticket purchase at the Marketplace in Prestonsburg made her $12,000 richer. "My husband is retired so we're going to travel a bit, pay some bills and save the rest," said Adkins.

Forskeptics who think the $12,000 tag is out of reach, consider this: In the "3 for the Show" lottery game, only 15 of 84 possible $6,000 wins have been claimed, 62 of 252 possible $3,000 wins, 283 of 1,260 $600 wins and 566 of 2,520 possible $300 wins.

> "3 for the Show," which began June 30, is going well, according to local and state lottery officials.

> "People are having a good time, and we're making a lot of people happy," said William Goebel III, section manager for the southeastern Kentucky lottery area.

According to Vicki Dennis, director of corporate communications for the Kentucky Lottery, receipts statewide totaled more than $137 million as of the close of the game's 15th

"Beginner's Luck," to date, has saped $51.5 million, followed by

"Dreamstakes" which closed at $33.9 million. "Two for the Money" has brought in $30.2 million, and sales are continuing to Kentuckians interested in instant wins, as the million dollar winners in that contest have been chosen

"Cash in a Flash," another recent lottery game, has generated $12.7 million to date, while "3 for the Show" has brought in about $8.8 million as of its second week.

Dennis said popularity of the various tickets varies from game to game, and while $1 and $2 ticket sales are "neck and neck," $1 ticket sales appear to be slightly in the lead.

"Of our first two games, Beginner's Luck' was very popular we had to have additional tickets printed," Dennis said. With an original print run of 40 million, the lottery corporation authorized a second run of 25 million.

'We're learning what players like and what they don't," Dennis notes. We're doing our research, and we'll incorporate that into our future

Dennis said that on the average, lottery players have a one in five chance of scratching off a winning match. With "3 for the Show," chances are slightly better — one in 4.75.

"3 for the Show" has yet another aim, the communications director added: officials hope to return nearly half of all receipts to players in the form of winning tickets

Dennis said if all tickets are dis-

Cool And Damp

Today's weather forecast calls for cloudy skies, 70 percent chance of thundershowers and temperature in the mid-80s, says lackson Weather Service. Tonight, turn off the air conditioner for mid-60s temperatures and 60 percent chance of rain. Thursday's weather is much the same, but with day time temperatures just a little cooler-mid-70s.

The extended weekend forecast is for showers Friday and Saturday, with Sunday bringing a fair spell. Day time temperatures are expected to be between 80 and 85, with night time lows in the 60s.

For anyone who hasn't noticed, temperatures now are about 10 degrees cooler than this time last year, according to the weather service.

No Locals Hurt

No members of the Prestonsburg unit of the Kentucky National Guard were injured in a windstorm that swept Pueblo, Colo., where the local men and others from across the state were on maneuvers earlier this week.

Injuries were reported to other members of the Kentucky National Guard.

Councils To Meet

Wheelwright Town Commission will have its regular monthly meeting Thursday at p.m. at the City Hall, and Prestonsburg City Council, on its summer schedule, will meet Monday at 7 p.m. at the Municipal Building.

More Funds Sought For US 23 Work

If approved by the full US House of Representatives and then the Senate, an additional $5 million in federal funds will be set aside for fourlane construction on new US 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville.

According to Congressman Chris Perkins, the House Committee on Appropriations' Subcommittee on Transportation has approved the funds for the 13-mile section of road, often called the "missing link" be-cause it is the only part of US 23 that is not four-laned.

According to Dave Whalin in Perkins' office, the bill must clear the complete House and the Senate and the latter may present a problem.

"In the past two years, the Senate has struck the money Chris has gotten approved by the House," Whalin said. "Before, it was approved by the House, and not the Senate, and Chris had to get it restored by the committee in conference."

Three years ago, Congress setaside $2.8 million, and last year budgeted an additional $4.1 million. If the latest round of funding is approved, it would bring the federal government's

Bruce Manuel of Lake Charles, La., took a breather Monday while walking up a hill on US 23, near Prestonsburg. Manuel and Bruce Tate, also of Lake Charles, are on a cross-shaped pilgrimage that will eventually take them through 17 states and over 8,000 miles. On the journey, they carry a 50pound cross to "raise consciousness" about world peace. The two say they are also trying to make a statement for the anti-abortion movement. "We want to make people more aware of the need for prayer," said Tate, who described the two as Pentecostal Catholics and part of the Crusillo movement, or "laymen in action."

Reed, Known Throughout. Sandy Valley, Passes Away

Boyd F. Reed, well-known coal Penn., began working at age 17 as operator and civic leader in Floyd and surrounding counties, died Thursday, July 13, at his home in Lexington at the age of 91.

A retired coal operator, Reed had a number of business and community interests throughout the Big Sandy Valley. He was a member of the Morehead State University Board of Regents from 1954 to 1978. University officials recognized his contributions by awarding him an honorary degree and by naming one of the campus buildings, Boyd F. Reed Hall, in his honor. He also served as a trustee of Pikeville College for 22 years. In 1974, following his resignation, he received an honorary doctorate from the college. Proceeds from sales of a book he authored, "My Life in Coal," are donated to Pikeville College.

Additionally, Reed was the only person to serve as chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Planning Commission, which served the area from 1957 until 1962. The commission was the stepping-stone to what today is known as the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Reed, born Sept. 3, 1897 in the anthracite coal fields at Shamokin, chief clerk at a coal company there. In 1921, he moved to the company's corporate office in Cleveland, Ohio, and became treasurer of the firm. In February 1927, Reed and his brother, the late C.D. Reed, came to Floyd County and purchased Jacks Creek Coal Co. In 1931 the two organized the present-day Turner Elkhorn Mining Co. at Drift. For years, Turner Elkhorn was the largest independent coal company in the Big Sandy Vallev. He served as treasurer of Turner Elkhorn from 1931 until 1974, and as president from 1974 until 1979. Reed was an organizer of the Big Sandy Elkhorn Coal Operators Association in June 1933, and served as its president in 1947. He also served as president of the Kentucky Coal Association in 1954 and, when it was reorganized in 1959, became its first

He was chosen by the Kentucky Coal Association as "Coal Man of the Year" in 1977. For 13 years, from 1964 until 1977, he served as a member of the board of directors of the National Coal Association, and was a member of the of the Bituminous Coal Research board for five years.

Option By Belgian Businessman Puts Wayland Slate Dump Clean Up On Hold

by Pam Shingler, Assistant Editor

Folks in the Wayland area can forget about having the slate dumps that surround them dispersed and reclaimed this year.

According to John Smiley, acting director of the state's Office of Abandoned Mine Lands, the clean up project is "quasi on hold." More than $3 million had been appropriated through the federal government to reclaim the area where thousands of tons of slate refuse were dumped by Elkhorn Coal Co. and its lessees during the days of underground mining

Smiley said that Elkhorn, owner of the land on which the slate is piled into small hills, has given an option on the land to Francois Bryer, a Belgian businessman. Bryer has "indicated he would pursue a permit application" to mine the slate heaps in 28 Hollow, Smiley said. "We have to allow six to nine months for the permit process," the official said, in explaining the "hold" position, "I hate to see (the project)

Skeleton May Lead To Solution Of 1978 Death Of Walter G. Hall

The remains of a man who was killed 11 years ago in Floyd County were dug up yesterday in a Letcher County cemetery at the request of Kentucky State Police, according to Coroner Roger Nelson.

State police have received "some vital new evidence," said Nelson, concerning the alleged murder of Walter G. Hall on July 14, 1978, near Halo in the Jack's Creek area. Hall, who was 23 at the time of his death, was from Letcher County and was visiting in Floyd County when he

'Safety First' On State Bridges

"Safety first means the safety of our kids," Gov. Wallace Wilkinson said yesterday as he announced a $50 million program to replace all bridges in the state that are less than 50 feet in length and over which school buses have to travel. Four Floyd County bridges, including this one on Little Abbott Creek Road, figure into the five-year project, which was unveiled at a press conference at Combs Airport. The state will fund the replacement cost at 80 percent, with the county paying the remainder.

Animal Park Features The Familiar And The Odd

By Pam Shingler Assistant Editor

Prince had a dilemma. Behind him was a pack of wild dogs, fierce, snarling and spitting. In front of him was the blacktopped pavement with speeding cars and giant coal trucks.

Prince chose the highway, and miraculously the choice saved his life. He did run into the path of a car, but the animal-loving driver called officers from the Fish and Wildlife Department, who took the tiny fawn to Bridget and Doug Fleming.

Touched by the little animal's plight, the Flemings took him to Dr. oel Salver, a Paints ville veterinarian. Prince's right front leg and shoulder were damaged by the car, and he was scratched up from his run-in with the dogs. Salyer, with the couple's assurances, setabout to save the deer's life. Doing so meant removing the mangled leg and shoulder.

Today the three-month-old fawn is safe, secure and learning to adjust to walking on three legs. And he's an obvious star at the Flemings' Animal Park, which opened a month ago on KY 302 on John's Creek in Johnson County, a short distance from Dewey Lake and new KY 3.

T've been an animal enthusiastall my life," says Mrs. Fleming. "I've always had almost a zoo at home." She likens the situation to "having 70 babies that have to be fed every day and watered several times a day."

Strong believers in letting wild animals remain in their native habitat, the Flemings emphasize that all the animals at the facility were born or raised in captivity or were brought to them by wildlife personnel after having been injured, abandoned or illegally poached.

Patch, one of four raccoons at the Animal Park, sports a damaged nose and feet, "probably resulting from a fight with a dog." Blondie, an albino raccoon, is nearly blind and is missing a couple of toes

The Flemings speculate that Charlie, a Maluccan cockatoo, probably experienced psychological problems a couple of owners back which caused him to pick his own breast feathers out. Now, the talking bird, who Fleming says can "pick up a cup and drink from it," has new down feathers

Charlie's cage companions are Lefty, a Patagonian parrot, who lost a leg somewhere in his history, and Karma, an Amazon parrot that's been "in the family" since 1984. Since being around Charlie and Karma, Lefty has begun to talk. Fleming has become a self-described "mother" to a baby buzzard, named Big Guy, who was robbed from his nest in Martin County and retrieved by fish and wildlife officers.

The young bird, estimated to be about five weeks old and covered with white down, is just beginning to get some of his adult dark-colored feathers and will grow to have a wing span of from four to six feet.

Feisty and demanding, Big Guy cats food from his rescuer's hands.

"The wildlife people bring us injured animals and animals that have been illegally seized," says Mrs. Fleming. "We will turn them back to the wild if we can, but some can't be." Prince, for instance, would not be able to fend for himself in the woods. But Big Guy is likely to fly free when he becomes an adult.

Also among the fowl menagerie is Gus Goose, whom Mrs. Fleming refers to as "the Golden Goose" because of the vet bills the couple has amassed. A longtime family pet, the gray goose was badly mutilated when a flock of hawks attacked her and the Flemings' chickens before the enclosed park was opened.

"She was ripped up so badly that her guts were literally hanging out when we found her," Fleming graphically describes. "We took her to Dr. Salver and he wasn't sure he could save her, but he performed surgery and she came out fine." Today, she waddles around proudly among a group of white geese.

The Flemings are also nursing back to health a rhea, or South American ostrich, that was brought to them with leg problems. When grown, Big Foot, as she is known, will be five feet tall and weigh about 45 pounds.

Also in the compound area pair of Japanese Silky chickens whose lush plumage looks and feels more like fur than feathers. The pair is about to produce a flock of baby chicks.

Another exotic fowl is Punky Rooster, a Polish buff chicken whose head and neck feathers splay outlike punkrocker's wild hair. Punky and his mate are also expected to be parents soon.

Rounding out the members of the fowl family on display are Tom and Alice Horton, two strutting turkeys; a peacock and his hen; a dove family; a pair of fantail pigeons, and several

A young red fox, named Mickey, was adopted by the Flemings after having been in training at a retarded children's petting zoo. Mickey, who "thinks he's human," likes to play ball and plays with the family's dogs, Fleming explains.

The Flemings are keeping a pair of monkeys, Sue and Jake, for a private owner who hopes the monkeys will

A rambunctious argali goat was donated to the park by Otto Collins. The goat, who is visited regularly by Collins and his family, is named Otto

Rounding out the menagerie are Myrtle, a domestic goat, and her twins Benjamin and Prissy; two Barbedo sheep; a mama ferret and baby; a three-year-old red fox, Frisky, who was being illegally kept by a Magoffin County poacher; raccoons Felicia and Bandit; a llama named Bama; a sheep, Big Ewe, and several rabbits, including an Angora.

The Flemings have stories to tell about every animal. The one-yearold llama, for instance, has become quite attached to the female Barbedo sheep since the two began pasturing together. "When we moved the ewe out in hopes of mating her with the ram, Bama stopped eating and be-came depressed," Mrs. Fleming says. Then we put the sheep back in and the llama perked up and started eat-

The facility is licensed by the US Department of Agriculture to exhibit animals. "It's the same license zoos in Cincinnati and Louisville have to have," Fleming emphasizes. The couple is also applying for Kentucky permits on selected animals, such as a bobcat.

"As cute and cuddly as they are, we have to remember that these are wild animals," Mrs. Fleming adds. In fact, some of the cages have warnings such as the one on the llama's pen: "I spit and bite."

others," Fleming says.

With two acres now developed, the Flemings hope to expand to 15 acres as soon as possible. "We're going to grow," says Fleming, a Pike County native, "even if it takes a long time."

They hope to develop separate areas for fowl, hoofed animals and exotic animals. Near the top of their acquisition list are an African lion, full-sized deer and an antelope.

To help with the expense of feeding and caring for the animals, the couple is starting a program they refer to as Sponsor An Animal. With the program, individuals can donate the money for feed and bedding for an animal, which amounts to about $2 a month for many of the animals, they say. The patron's name will then be identified on the animal's cage.

Currently, Dick's Sign Co. in Prestonsburg sponsors the monkeys, Angora rabbit and the cockatoo. MedCon in Paintsville sponsors Mickey, the young fox, and a couple of area individuals sponsor other animals.

The Flemings say they are also open to young people who like ani-mals and would like to conduct study projects for 4-H or other clubs. "This would be a good education for young people," Fleming says.

The couple also welcomes groups to tour the facility. Even before they officially opened, the Flemings hosted a kindergarten class from Porter Elementary School.

The couple's shared love of animals is apparent as they lead tours through the small facility. They feed, nuzzle and call each animal by name. 'If we never had a person to walk through the gate, we'd still have the animals," proclaims Mrs. Fleming, who is originally from northern Kentucky. The animal park is open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. A fee is charged to tour the facility, and special group rates are available.

A white oak tree on an Abbott Road farm is believed to be the third largest oak tree in Kentucky, according to its owner, Marlene VanHoose. But its days are numbered since the tree sits directly in the path of new US 23 North. ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

DEPENDS ON TRADE The sale of coal and agriculture products make up the keystone of Kentucky's economy. Recent statistics show just how crucial these products are: Last year farmers earned $2.5 billion from the sale of agricultural commodities, and the export of both hard and soft coal is responsible for generating over $120 million in sales each year. With the domestic market for tobacco and coal leveling, the need to open and expand overseas markets is critical to ensure Kentucky's economic security. In order to examine how we can become more competitive in the international marketplace, I have introduced two amendments - one will study how the integration of the European community will affect US agricultural exports, and the second will assess how federal clean-coal technology (CCT) programs can be streamlined and better coordinated.

An increase of CCT sales overseas is good news for Kentucky. When countries invest in this technology, it means that they are not only making an up-front, long-term commitment to burn coal, they are also protecting their environment from hazardous

On the agricultural front, many people don't realize that in 1992 the European countries will merge their economies to form one massive market. The effect of this transformation on US-European trade will be profound. Because Europe buys, the majority of our agricultural exports, it is critically important that we begin to look into the future and see how these changes could affect the sale of our agricultural products to these

Letters To The Editor

Superintendent, School Board Not Doing Job Right

Dear Editor,

There are many undeniable truths of life. The one I choose to focus on today is as follows:

Superintendent Ronald Hager is a complete incompetent and will cause the children of Floyd County Schools irreparable harm if he is allowed to continue in any capacity as an employee of Floyd County reached the above-mentioned undeniable truth after reading your article of Wednesday, July 5. Your reporting is, as always, clear and concise, and should reveal to one and all beyond any reasonable doubt that Mr. Hager and his fellow conspirators created this crisis. Whether it was done deliberately or from sheer stupidity is, at this time, unclear.

Isn't there one member of the school board who would step forward and say, "Hold on here, Mr. Hager, remember the problems you caused us last fall when you were harassing Ed Patton?" Surely there's at least one member of the board who doesn't suffer brain lock. Ron Hager's behavior could be construed as comical. However, since his actions continue to cause considerable pain and suffering to countless numbers of children, teachers, parents (i.e., all the good tax-paying citizens of Floyd County), it really isn't funny

From all that I have been able to discern, Ed Patton did an excellent job as transportation director. I gathered this from reading the comments of the board; I believe Dr. (Mary) Hall said she thought he did a good job. Anyway, I see the action taken by the board, upon the recommendation of Ronald Hager, as pure, unadulterated political retaliation. Therefore, Ed Patton has no alternative, at this time, but to take action. He must do this, not just for himself, but on behalf of the children of Floyd County. After all, they are our most precious resource.

Sincerely, Helen Storie Nicola Tucson, Arizona

Playgoer Upset With Theatre's Raincheck Policy

Dear Editor,

Jenny Wiley Theatre is ripping people off when it rains. On July 2, my family attended the theatre. Before intermission, it started raining. The play was delayed due to the rain, #### and finally they started Act II even Coach Commended ery effort to be fair with all the playthough it was still raining. The play continued for about five minutes, then

was canceled due to the rain.

We were told that their raincheck policy was that if the play continued after intermission, no rainchecks would be issued. It appeared to us and the other people there that they had only continued for the five minutes after intermission in order to not give rainchecks. I feel that this policy is very unfair; we paid $23 to see this play and only saw half of the per-

The following is a quotation from a brochure put out by Jenny Wiley Theatre: "Raining? Come to the Theatre anyway! Chances are the show will go on. If the show is canceled, rainchecks will be made available and will be honored on a seat-available basis. No refunds will be issued." This is false advertisement because they will not issue rainchecks.

We have always enjoyed attending the Jenny Wiley Theatre and feel that this is something that Eastern Kentucky can be proud of, but the people who attend should be treated fairly or they will not continue to patronize the theatre.

Be sure that there is no rain in the forecast if you plan on attending the Jenny Wiley Theatre because they will not give rainchecks even though they advertise that rainchecks will be issued if the show has been canceled. Disappointed at Jenny Wiley

Bill and Veronica Hall,

(Editor's Note: According to JWSMT Manager sim Deaton, rainchecks are issued only for shows called prior to intermission. Deaton notes that this particular show was held an extra 20 minutes due to the rain, was begun again, and had to be called. Deaton explained that shows are called for safety and health reasons: for this play, actors use real knives in a knife fight, and a wet stage floor creates hazardous conditions. Also, he said, actors in the musical productions must protect their voices.)

CENTRAL KENTUCKY BLOOD CENTER

Dear Editor, On July 15, the North Beaver Creek Little League completed play in the

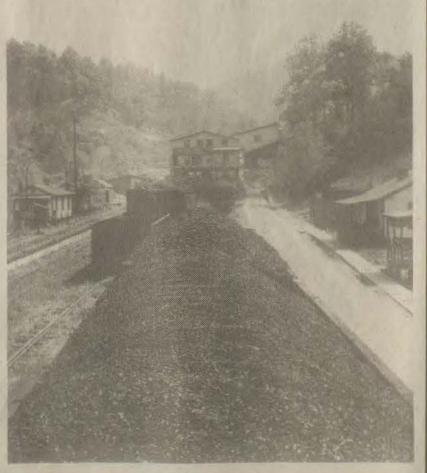

All-Star tournament held at Paintsville. Even though our team was defeated by the Paintsville All-Stars, we would like to commend our team and manager, Jad Deaton, for a game well-played - a class act in-

In our opinion, Deaton made ev-

We are proud our child was a participant in the tournament and would especially like to thank Jad Deaton for his hard work in making the All-Star games a positive experience for all the kids involved.

Ten Years Ago

(July 18, 1979)

At the direction of the Non-Hazardous Management section of the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, Floyd County this week took the first steps toward closing three of its four solid waste landfills . . . Floyd County American Red Cross has won a reprieve from the "death sentence" which hung over it because of a lack of operating funds, thanks to the four-day radiothon staged last week by radio station WPRT . . . Suspicions on the part of some Floyd Countians that the county may have been shortchanged in the distribution of state funds for gifted and talented school children are groundless . The trial of Tony Greg Baril began in Circuit Court here Monday. The 18-year-old has been charged with the armed robbery and murder of Earl Chester Porter at the TCT truck stop on US 23 ... A detailed study of flood areas in Prestonsburg has been completed as part of the community's involvement in the National Flood Insurance Program... There died: Rose Gilliam, 61, of Wheelwright; Arlie Amburgey, 65, of Omaha, KY; Earnest (Buck) Keaton, 53, of Softshell; Lisa Wicker, 82, of Mousie; Gertrude Warrix Crum, 63, formerly of Floyd County; Byron Howard, 3-year-old son of Gay Kidd Tenny of Martin; Billie Jean Rowe, 35, of Prestonsburg; Steven Brooks Ford, 18, of Leburn; Evan Isaacs, 83, of Teaberry; James Taylor Briggs, 17-month-old son of Taylor and Linda Crum Briggs of Warsaw, Ind.; Haulie Sparkman, 61, of Elmrock.

Twenty Years Ago

(July 17, 1969)

Consigned by many a few years ago to the role of ghost town with its coal mining industry gone, the town of Weeksbury is not only alive and kicking, but it won last Saturday first place award in the rural nonfarm category at an awards banquet held in Ashland by the Northeast Kentucky Rural Community Development Association . . . Floyd County's local option election will be held Saturday, August 23 . . . Although investigation of the slaying of James M. Chaffins, 37, on Arkansas Creek admittedly is slow and often frustrating, the probe continues .... Sp-4 Dennis Osborne has been awarded the Bronze Star with "V" device for heroism during a recent enemy rocket and mortar attack in Tay Nimh, Vietnam . . . Tenny Turner, country and western singer and song writer, will appear at the Almar Drive-In Theatre, July 19... There died: Coet Moore, 61, of Garrett; Ruth Ratcliff, 48, of Banner; Denvil Joseph, 48, of Prestonsburg; Mattie Scott, 84, of Garrett; Freeman Hamilton, 58, formerly of Virgie; Roberta McDowell, 46, formerly of Floyd County; Alex Clark, 87, of Prestonsburg.

Thirty Years Ago

A severe electrical storm, accompanied by rainfall, moved over the Martin area early Wednesday afternoon and by the time the storm was over lightning had cut electric transmission lines on both sides of town . Kentucky's Department of conservation announced last Thursday the federal government has agreed to turn over 600 acres on a 50-year lease for development of a state park at Buckhorn Reservoir in Perry County ... Arbie Daniels, 43-year-old World War II veteran, was almost killed near here Monday afternoon when a tree felled by a fellowworkman on a timber job swerved onto him ... There died: Thirsia M. Hobbs, 43, formerly of Drift: Goldie B. Petrey, 63, of Wheelwright: Leff Williamson, 57, of Estill; Charles M. Wells, 71, formerly of Floyd County; Josephine Martin, 79, of Martin.

Forty Years Ago

(July 28, 1949)

Three automobile wrecks in Floyd and Knott counties left two dead and seven injured in a 24-hour period over the weekend . . . A second hearing on proposed discontinuance of passenger train service between Allen and Martin and on both Beaver Creeks will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday, August 10, at Frankfort by the Kentucky Railroad Commission . . . Pvt. Glen Gilliam, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Gilliam, of Betsy Layne, was one of the 17 passengers injured in the crash of a C-46 immediately following take off from Boeing Air Field, Seattle, Wash., July 19 . . . Disposing of two Floyd Countians, Ray Fraley of Wayland and John Hampton of Glo, in earlier competition, John Y. Brown Jr. of Lexington, won the championship of the eighth annual Paintsville Country Club invitational golf tournament Sunday afternoon... There died: Gordon Salisbury, 34, of Hunter; David Hall Jr., 18, of Topmost; Mollie Ruth, 12-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlon E. Belcher, of Prestonsburg; Lizzie Shook, 53, of Big Stone Gap, Va.; Lula King, 45, of Kite; Vivian Baldridge, 36, of Little Paint; Susie Moore, 64, of Price; John F. Stephens, 84, of Garrett.

Fifty Years Ago

(July 20, 1939)

Trained instructors from Red Cross national headquarters, Washington, D.C. will conduct classes in a disaster institute and first-aid training to be held here soon ... In addition to those recently examined, 15 crippled children from this county alone may receive for the first time attention at the district crippled children's clinic to be held here Wednesday, July 26 . . . Ernest Judd, 20, mine worker, is in the Gearheart Hospital, recovering from injuries sustained when his leg was caught between two coal cars, his thigh being crushed . . . There died: William Hampt, 43, of Wheelwright; Orie Akers, 46, of Dana; Pollie Ann Mulkey, 65, of Dana; Joe Ann Gibson, 16-days, of Emma; Mary Payne Osborne, 31, Pearlie Prater, 31, both of Alphoretta; Thomas Graham Moore, 5months, of Emma; Julie Collins, 48, of Water Gap; Henry Rudolph Armour, infant, of Wayland; Jessie Allen, 32, of Langley; Jane Harris, 89, of Prestonsburg; Isaac Wicker, 35, of Harold; James Pitts, 84, of Risner; Susie Terry, 62, of Mousie.

Sleepy Time Town

The sign went up last week on US 23, south of Prestonsburg, announcing the coming construction of a 100-bed Sleep Inn. Katy Friend Investors, a division of the FADA Corp. of Prestonsburg, has applied to Quality Inn, parent company of the budget motel chain, to build the facility. FADA partner Buddy Fitzpatrick said that, once construction begins, the motel should be completed in six months. He projects the opening for next summer. The new motel will be located next to the Holiday Inn.

"He has done an electrical resistivity study, similar to use of a seismograph, trying to predict what's beneath the surface," the AML director said. "They (Europeans) assign quite a bit of validity to this approach.

"Our opinion has been that as long as the pile has been burning, whatever is there wouldn't be worth what you'd have to do to fight the fire," Smiley said.

However, headded that the reclamation project cannot go forward without consent of the landowner, Elkhorn, which is apparently waiting for Bryer's decision on buying or leasing the land. Smiley said that Bryer has until Sept. 30 to exercise his

In reapplying for a future allocation of reclamation monies, Smiley said additional problem areas will be included. He mentioned the longburning refuse fire at Glo, across Right Beaver Creek from Wayland; a slate dump across from the mouth of 28 Hollow; a deep mine fire at the mouth of the hollow; and the piles of slate along Steele Branch Road.

The contract for reclamation will be broken down into two parts, he said, adding that the grant application for funding the projects is now being done. "We expect to have the plans in and out for bid this winter and ready for spring construction," Smiley said.

"28 Hollow would be ideal for depositing the refuse from the other areas," he said. "But right now, 28 Hollow is in limbo." Work on that particular site will have to be added to the project proposal, depending on what action Bryer decides to take, he Smiley said his office has worked on the Wayland project for "seven or eight years," but plans have been thwarted. Area residents say they have been asking for the sites to be cleaned up for more than 20 years.

The refuse left from mining has enough coal in it to burn, making the area susceptible to persistent fires over the years and creating environmental and health hazards.

"Many retired miners around here have respiratory problems," said Wayland town board member Gene DeCoursey, a retiree himself.

DeCoursey added that the fires, which sometimes make the area appear to be covered by heavy fog, especially in humid weather, compound the problems for those suffering from respiratory ailments. "They have to have humidifiers and air purifiers," he said.

Runoff from the slate piles also flows into creeks and branches in the area, causing problems with the town's drainage system and contributing to high water conditions during heavy rains.

Pike Airport Receives Loan

State Transportation Secretary Milo D. Bryant announced recently that the state will make a $15,860 loan to the Pike County Airport Board to secure engineering services for a new runway at the Pike County Regional

The airport board is awaiting approval on a grant from the Federal Aviation Administration that will allow a new east/west runway to be built," Bryant said. "This loan will enable them to have the preliminary work out of the way so that when funds become available, the site will be ready for construction."

The engineering work will include locating a centerline and inspecting the placement of strip mining waste in preparation for the new runway. The mountaintop airport currently has a 3,450-foot asphalt runway. A 1,300-foot section was displaced several years ago due to an uncorrectable landslide. The new proposed runway would provide the airport with a longer runway, in addition to the existing one, to accommodate larger

HRMC Offers Local Youths A Dose Of Reality

by Tess Whitmer, Staff Writer

The Summer Apprentice Program offered by Highlands Regional Medical Center is not all fun and games, and is certainly not a "cake" job, as the 43 people enrolled in it have found

These young people are given the opportunity to learn what a real job atmosphere is like after the book work is completed.

According to Russell Briggs, associate administrator of HRMC, the hospital, second only in Floyd County to the school system in number of employees, spends many hours and dollars in recruiting. The turnover rate with over 425 personnel requires HRMC officials to constantly seek trained people to fill available open-

"Most of our doctors have been trained out of the area and have come home to work," Briggs said. "We hope that this program will put a favorable image of the hospital in the students' minds, and they will be more likely to consider us when seeking employ-

"Our union understands that this program in no way takes anything away from the regular staff, and is only aiding them and providing a more economical recruiting tool compared to employment agencies," Briggs explained.

Headded that the hospital, with a very different working atmosphere because of its unpredictability, is trying to help students know what to expect from their career choice before they spend a lot of money in school-

Deitra Shepherd, a nursing student, said she found her apprenticeship a very favorable experience, noting that it enhanced her desire to be in her profession. Although she gets a taste of hospital life from her training at the nursing program at Prestonsburg Community College, she says Highlands' apprenticeship is different — more realistic and not focusing so much on the technical aspects of nursing.

In addition to Shepherd, there are

19 other students in the nursing summer program. However, nursing is just one of the areas for the apprentices - there is also a college program and a microfilm area.

The college program admits students who have completed at least one year of college and are interested in a healthcare career, although the program is not limited only to medical fields, Briggs said. Pharmacy, laboratory, x-ray and surgery are

The program has already paid something back: Dr. Blake Burchett, a physician at the hospital, was once a summer worker, as was Prestonsburg dentist, Dr. Keith Leslie.

Todd Nairn, a student in surgery, has recently been accepted into the University of Kentucky's College of Medicine.

"Nairn has requested to be put in the surgery program for the last two summers, and I would be very surprised if he didn't specialize in that in school," Briggs said. "We hope to see him back here in eight years after he finishes his internship.

The 10 students in the program are assigned to the areas in which they are interested in pursuing a career, according to Briggs.

Microfilm students, primarily high school seniors, juniors and recent graduates, are from Johnson and Floyd counties.

The microfilm area is supervised by a Centre College freshman, Mary Hereford, who was a student worker last summer. Hereford is interested in the pharmaceutical field but she agreed to supervise this year. She said the job involves the preparation of records - removing staples and separating sheets — to prepare them

This service used to be provided by a company in Lexington, but Briggs thought it would be a good community service to offer local youths summer employment. "Children see the importance of continuing their education, because this is the sort of menial labor they don't want to be doing the rest of their lives," he added.

They have also had the chance to learn what a "nine to five" job is like and how important teamwork is. The 3 youths are from Johnson Central, Prestonsburg and Paintsville High School, and are working closely together, doing an excellent job com-pleting the task, Briggs said.

The Summer Apprentice Program was advertised only by word of mouth, and Briggs said he had over 80 applicants for 43 jobs. It was a program that was started several ears ago and then dropped for some reason unbeknownst to Briggs. He reorganized it a couple of years ago, adding the microfilm area since there years a person can apply. The posi-

Ousley Family Reunites In Ohio

The 26th annual Isaac N. and Millie Jane Ousley family reunion was held at the Miamisburg Mound Park, Miamisburg, Ohio, on Saturday, June 17, with 99 members and 11 guests

The Ousleys formerly resided in Estill.

Officers presiding were Cecil Edwards, president, and Mrs. Cecil Edwards, vice president, both of Middletown, Ohio, and Lillie Terry of Huron, Ohio, secretary/treasurer.

Events of the day were a fellowship dinner and games. A decorated cake was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Edwards. Brother Bill Van Hoose led the family in prayer for the meal.

The business meeting was called to order and an Eisenhower silver dollar was awarded to Nannie Pennington, as one of the surviving children of Mr. and Mrs. Ousley, and also for being the eldest member in attendance. The youngest descendant, Teara Reed, also received a silver dollar.

The membership voted and approved next year's reunion to be held at Miamisburg Mound Park on June 23, 1990, and Wonda Sheffield was elected secretary/treasurer.

Ten family members attended from Kentucky, eight from Colorado, 17 from Indiana and 64 from Ohio.

. P'Burg All-Stars Stun Paintsville, 6-4

by Ed Taylor Sports Editor

After all the controversy had ended and the game resumed, Coach Gordy Ratliff's Prestonsburg All-Stars came away a 6-4 winner over tourney favorite Paintsville in the Little League All-Star tournament at Paintsville.

Paintsville coach Doug Butcher had wanted a call against a Prestonsburg batter for backing out on the pitcher. A discussion of rules interpretation began and as usual the umpire won. The game was delayed for 25 minutes.

Prestonsburg scored three first inning runs without the benefit of a base hit. Paintsville starting pitcher Byron Dixon issued five first inning walks, coupled with an error at first, allowed three runs to cross the plate. Prestonsburg plated a single run in the third on a double by Ricky Lemaster and error on a fly ball hit by win over Paintsville. Jerry Lafferty to center field.

Paintsville tied the game in the bottom of the third on a one out single by Mike Jarrell. Byron Dixon tripled to score Jarrell, and Todd Ward walked. Jeremy Melvin hit a fly ball to center for the second out. Don Montgomery scorched a Ratliff fast ballover the right center field fence to drive in three runs and tie the game at Prestonsburg took the lead for good in the fourth with two runs. With one out, Irvin Osborne singled to left. Jason Burke struck out. Robbie Risner singled and Ratliff walked to load the bases. Ricky Lemaster lined a single to center to score Osborne

Ratliff retired the last six batters

Ratliff was the winning pitcher with five strike outs and he issued on base on balls while hitting two batters. Prestonsburg scored six runs on five hits and left eight men on base. They committed only one error.

Dixon was the losing pitcher. He had 10 strike outs and walked eight. Paintsville had four runs on four hits and they left three men on base. Paintsville was guilty of only two miscues.

Floyd County 13-Year-Olds Split Four Games In Playoffs

By Ed Taylor Sports Editor

Coach Jimmy Goins of the Floyd County Babe Ruth 13-year-olds had set his sights on a District championship and trip to Lexington with his All-Star squad.

Goins, who led his team to a perfect 8-0 regular season record, took the first two games of the tournament over Carr Fork and Hazard. Hazard met the Floyd County team in the finals and swept the Coins-led team in a doubleheader to claim the title and trip to Lexington.

In the first game, Barry Clark fired a three hitter in leading the Floyd County team to a 19-3 victory over Carr Fork. Floyd County scored six runs in the first inning to claim a 6-0 lead. Matt Rose led off the game with a single and scored on triple by Glenn Floyd. Floyd scored on a base hit by Chad Frasure.

Clark reached on an left fielder's error, and Ryan Brown, Barry Collins and Barry Gayhart drew walks to load the bases. Steve K. Newsome's grounder brought in two more runs.

Floyd County struck for eight more runs in the third inning and five in the fifth. The Floyd County team collected inning. Hazard then scored seven 15 hits. Clark held Carr Fork to three first inning runs and scattered three hits for the game.

In the second game, Toby Vance tossed a one hitter enroute to a 18-1 rout of Hazard. Hazard committed 12 errors in the game. Floyd County scored in every inning with a big eight-run third. The local team collected 11 hits in the game.

Chad Frasure and Shannon D. Newsome had triples for the winners. Barry Collins had a double for the Floyd County team. Glenn Floyd had two doubles. Toby Vance was the winning pitcher while Marty Goins suffered the setback.

In game three, the Floyd County All-Stars fell behind 6-0 and never caught up as they fell to the same Hazard team 11-5. Kevin Campbell was the winning pitcher and Barry Clark took the loss. Floyd pitchers issued 14 walks in the game. Shan-non K. Newsome had the only extra base hit, a double in the fifth, for the

Combs Hurls, Bats Beaver South To Win

By Ed Taylor Sports Editor

"It's just great to be in the tournament". That's the way players and coaches of the Beaver Creek South All-Stars summed up their appearance in the Little League All-Star double elimination tournament last Donnie Combs of the Beaver Creek South All-Star team batted his team to a 27-6 victory over the Wheelwright All-Stars last week, in a game played at Paintsville's Paul B. Hall field.

Combs struck out nine batters and gave up only two hits in the routegoing performance. He had four hits in six plate appearances for the Beaver South team and also collected five

"I sort of got wild in the game," Combs said. "I walked a lot of batters and that's how they scored their runs." Combs issued eight walks in the game. Beaver Creek South collected 18 hits in the contest.

fielder Kevin Allen led his team to a 19-1 win over the Wheelwright All-Stars at Paintsville's Paul B. Hall field last week. The loss eliminated the Wheelwright team from further competition in the All-Star event.

Allen was three for three in the game. He scored three runs and picked up three RBIs. His base hit with the bases loaded highlighted a seven-run fourth for the North team, when 11 batters were sent to the plate. Aaron Jackson had two hits in two plate appearances. Jeremy Hall had two hits in three tries.

Brad Allen was the winning pitcher with eight strike outs in the contest, scattering four hits. Hestruck out the side in the second inning. Allen issued five walks in the game. He experienced some wildness in the fourth inning when he issued baseon balls to the first two hitters in the inning. He then struck out Compton and Holbrook and got Ray to line out to second to end the inning.

Jackson had a bases loaded single in the first inning, driving in two runs. He also added another RBI in the second inning on a base hit to

Martin Rangers Topple Colonels

The Martin Rangers, looking to recover after an upset loss to the Padres, rebounded recently with a 1-6 victory over the Martin Colonels in the Martin Pee Wee league tournament at Martin.

The Rangers got a home run from B.J. Caudill in the win. The Rangers, leading 3-2 going into the bottom of the fourth inning, scored eight runs to open up a 11-2 lead. The Colonels weren't about to give up as they pushed across four runs in the top of the fifth inning. But the rally fell short and the Rangers took the game.

Brad Dasner, Mark Stanley, B.J. Caudill and Rory Patton had doubles for the winning Rangers.

Tracy Wireman, 12, plays first base for the Morgan County All-Stars and does a great job in playing her position. Wireman is the only girl in the All-Star tournament. She had proven herself a bona fide Little league player.

"I'm just happy I made the All-Star team," Wireman says. "This is my fourth year playing Little League baseball." She was also an All-Star player last year for Morgan County.

"I played in the 'T' ball league and also the minor leagues," she says. "I used to go and watch my two brothers play and I liked the game."

Did the boys accept her as a player when she first started playing?

"Not at first they didn't," she recalls. "I wasn't out to prove anything

Rangers Squeeze By Martin Royals

Mike Robinson's Martin Rangers had a close call in keeping their unblemished record in tact, in a recent game with the Martin Royals. The Rangers needed a five-run second inning to avoid an upset. The Rangers improve to 13-0 on the season.

Brad Dasner and Kyle Robinson each had doubles to lead the offense

Morgan County Gets Past HAP, 6-5

By Ed Taylor Sports Editor

The Harold-Allen-Prater (HAP) All-Stars slipped to the Morgan County All-Stars in a close 6-5 game last week. Once again, the second inning was HAP's downfall.

Three walks, coupled with three base hits, produced three runs in the second for Morgan County. Mike Day opened the second with a single to left. Bryan Wells followed with a solid HAP starting pitcher Derrick Newsome, after striking out Tracy Wireman, walked the next three batters to force in two runs. Dee Ison brought home another run with a base hit to left to give Morgan County a 3-0 lead.

Morgan County added single runs in the third, fifth and sixth inning. The runs in the third and fifthinnings were unearned when the center fielder dropped a fly ball. Coach Wilburn Sammons' All-Stars scored single runs in each inning, except the first. Trailing 6-4 in the bottom of the six, Greg Hunter reached on a shortstop error. He was wild-pitched to second and third.

Michael Roberts walked and was caught off base and tagged out in a run down, allowing Hunter to score. Rocky Newsome struck out. Brandon Barnette singled. But Steve Johnson hit deep to center for the final out.

Toby Newsome accounted for a second inning run with a towering home run over the fence in left center field. Newsome also drove in a run with a single in the fifth inning.

Morgan County stranded 11 runners in the contest. HAP left five on base. Morgan committed only one error while HAP mishandled three. Two of Morgan County's runs were uncarned.

This is the best game of the tournament," a tournament official said. It has been a well played game on both sides."

The loss eliminated HAP from further play in the tournament.

Wireman also plays basketball and plans on playing in the Senior League next season.

"We have supported her in playing baseball," say her mother and father, Donna and Tony Wireman of West Liberty. "There has been no opposition to her wanting to play. She grew up with baseball, having two brothers who played."

Wireman's Little League coach, Burt Holbrooks, is given the credit for making her the ballplayer she is, according to her father.

Wireman made some good plays in the field at first base. She also has a positive attitude about the game of baseball, capturing the attention of many fans who came out to watch the Little League games.

"We played Little League growing up," Williams says. "We know the rules, but the coaches still like to intimidate you. We really feel the coaches do that on purpose, but you can't listen to them, or to the fans.

They will get to you if you do."
Williams' umpiring crew also holds clinics for the coaches in the Paintsville league. "We also screen coaches who want to coach in our league," he explained. "We have a president and a board of directors who give each would be coach careful consideration. Most coaches come into the league and stay four or five years. After their kids get out of it, then they will move on to Senior League play."

Williams, who also calls games outside the Paintsville area, says that while umpires have to take their responsibility seriously, they also "have to have a sense of humor.

Martin Hands P'Burg First Tourney Loss, 11-5

by Ed Taylor Sports Editor

The Martin County Little League All-Stars stayed unbeaten in the Little League All-Star tournament in Paintsville, with a 11-5 victory over previously undefeated Prestonsburg Saturday evening. The loss dropped Prestonsburg into the losers bracket.

Martin County scored four times in the second inning on five hits. Travis Maynard had a big two run double in the inning. Martin County pushed across three runs in each of the fourth and fifth innings, Jason Jennings led off the Martin County fifth with a home run over the left Prestonsburg sixth with a double and doubled and Jason Pinson brought him in with a triple to center field.

Prestonsburg got two runs in the third on one hit. After Jason Burke drew a two out walk, Robbie Risner lined a hard single to left center to score Burke all the way from first base. Risner then came home on a wild pitch. In Prestonsburg's fifth, Burke tripled and scored on Risner's grounder to short. Thomas then hit a long home run over the center field fence that even cleared the green background.

Tony Craft opened the center field fence. John Crum then scored on Jason Spencer's RBI single. Spencer was three for three in the game including a second inning

> Jason Pinson was the winning pitcher, while Burke took the loss. Pinson recorded 10 strike outs. Burke, who only pitched one and a third innings, had one strike out. Burke was relieved by Craft in the second. Jerry Lafferty relieved Craft in the fourth. Risner had two RBIs in the Crum went three for three for the winners, including a double. Danny Harris was two for three including a double. Martin County had 12 hits and Prestonsburg collected eight.

BIOLOGICALOVERVIEW Ed Carroll is the Kentucky De-partment of Fish and Wildlife's District Fishery Biologist for Eastern Kentucky. Paintsville, Dewey, and Fishtrap Lakes are all under his super-

"Although bass fishing here in Eastern Kentucky is probably not as productive as that found in other parts of the state, it can be good at times. Weare presently studying these lakes in an effort to improve the quality of bass fishing, but it is a slow process," Carroll says

About Fishtrap Lake, Carroll says, "Fishtrap, like Paintsville and Dewey, is an infertile lake. It does produce larger bass than either Paintsville or Dewey, but it does not produce as many fish. I believe that Fishtrap is suffering from a very serious lack of habitat, and man-made structures might help the fishing here."

Carroll believes that Dewey offers the best largemouth fishing of these three lakes. "Dewey is a bit more fertile than the others, and its shallower topography is more suited to the largemouth. This lake is plagued with a serious silt and sedimentation problem stemming from the mines in the John's Creek area. Dewey also has a weed problem in the latter part of summer, and this worsens the silta-tion and decreases anglers' produc-

By Chris Altman

"Basically, the weeds in the shallows trap the silt and hold the muddy water in the area surrounding the weedbeds. This decreases the penetration of sunlight through the water which in turn decreases the levels of dissolved oxygen in the water, and this drives the fish out of these shallow, weedy areas."

Fishtrap and Dewey Lakes are just small reservoirs which make hardly a dent in the world of bass fishing. But to us, these lakes are home.

NBTN Basketball Camp Helpful To Local Players

Sports Editor

Summer time. It's hot and sticky. You think of the pool, a good place to cool off. For someone who is not a basketball player, this may be true, but for 58 fifth to eighth grade girl's basketball players, the pool will have to wait. Right now it's drills, running, conditioning, sweating and yelling.

Said Nothing But The Net basketball camp director Diana Queen, "It has been a very successful week of basketball." Girls from Floyd, Johnson and Martin counties converged on the Betsy Layne High School gym for a week of instruction on the fundamentals of the game, including shooting, dribbling, defense, ball handling, rebounding and conditioning.

"All of our staff has worked hard this week," Queen said. "We'rea little tired, but it has been a great week. The players have also put forth a great effort in developing good work

On the first day of camp, players were assigned to a "university" team and remained on the team during the full week of competition. University teams are named after state colleges.

Kim Shepherd, an instructor at the camp, stresses the importance of a good basketball camp and the developing of a proper attitude.

Boy, this has been a great week of camp," the former Allen Central star said. "We have had a lot of kids anxious to work and learn the fundamentals of the game. They have exerted themselves to improve one phase or another of their game.

"As you can see we (instructors) are tired-mostly mentally, but it has been worth it," she stated.

One of the areas of emphasis is conditioning. "Conditioning is very important to a basketball player," Shepherd said. "They lie around during the summer and they need to get their muscles toned up, so conditioning in the weight room is very important."

Another area that Shepherd feels is important in a good basketball player is desire.

"Desire is the heart and mind of the game. If you have the right desire, you'll work hard at home on your own to improve and condition yourself," she explained. Northern Kentucky University girl's basketball coach Nancy Winstel spent three days in the camp, teaching shooting techniques. Winstel's Lady Norse basketball teams have made four appearances in the Division II level of the NCAA tournaments. She has compiled a remarkable 108-33 win-loss record at Winstel feels one way for the quality of girls' basketball to be upgraded in Floyd County is for parents, teachers and fans to be encouraged to come and watch the girls' basketball teams perform.

"A lot of people think that girls" basketball isn't as exciting as boys' basketball, and they don't get that excited about coming to watch them play," she remarked. "What they don't realize is that girls' basketball is purest in form to the way the game was meant to be played. The boys play above the rim, and I don't beieve the girls will ever be able to play that style, but the game was meant to be a team concept and that is what girls' basketball is-a team concept."

Last Wednesday night the NBTN camp held its all-star game. "We had 28 girls (high school) to take part," Queen said. "We had them from Corbin, Brown County, Elkhorn City and Floyd County to show up. Several college coaches were here to watch the local players showcase their

"We had a great turnout for the all-star game," Shepherd said. "Ida Bowen made a great impression on the coaches, as well as Terry Harmon of Sheldon Clark. Several girls from our county did real well, such as Jedon Hood, April Bradford of Wheelwright, Kathy Slone from Prestonsburg, Brenda Hamilton and Jamie Smith from Betsy Layne."

Shepherd looks for Allen Central and Betsy Layne to battle for the top spot in the 58th District this season. Allen Central will be tough if Jo Ann Conn can come back. The team has the talent age-wise. Betsy Layne, asm. It will be a toss up between those

The camp participants were excited about the week of basketball. Tracy Maynard, an eighth grader, looks to improve her overall game. "I've enjoyed this week in camp, mostly when we play games. I wanted to work on my ball handling and feel they have helped me a lot.

Cara Priest, a sixth grade student, liked the coach of her team, Karen Henry. "Miss Henry has helped me, and I have learned a lot. I came also to improve on my ball handling abil-

Eighth grader Lisa Blackburn just wants to be able to shoot the ball better. "I came to improve my ability to shoot the ball. The camp has really helped me a lot. We have good instructors," she said

Heather Keathley, an eighth grader at Harold, also enjoyed camp. I think they have run the camp well. 've learned a lot."

Stefney Stumbo, a John M. Stumbo fifth grader, came to learn how to dribble the ball better and to improve her shooting ability. "I also learned how to mop the floor," she said with a grin. "We spilled some water on the floor and had to mop it up."

All the girls agreed that the one thing that should be stressed less was conditioning.

Not only were there instructors and participants at the camp, but spectators, as well, in the form of grade school coaches. Debra Melvin, irls' coach at Flat Gap, came with 17 of her girls.

"Coach Queen has done a tremendous job. She has put together an outstanding staff. The staff is very patient with the girls and I have seen an improvement each day. We didn't have a camp this year, so I brought our girls here. We need to improve and this is a good way to do it,"

Melvin's assistant coach, Shawn Daniels, was also present.

One moment of clarity changed his life. Tom, 31, started in junior high, mixing vodka with his fruit punch. But as an adult, mainly drank beer. A case a day. Watched his dad die from cirrhosis. Frightened, switched to cocaine. After a $3,000 "White Christmas", returned to alcohol. Immediately went out of control. Soon needed a pint of bourbon to stop the morning shakes. Finally, on a binge, raised his fist to hit his wife. Suddenly flashed back to his childhood. Realized like father, like son. Broke down, asked for help.

"I went into the CareUnit dead inside, beaten. They gave me unconditional love. They gave me my life." Tom's been sober 2 years, has kept his family together, and says his life has completely turned around. OUR LADY OF BELLEFONTE HOSPITAL Ashland (606) 836-3148

Live And In Person: Jenny Wiley Orchestra Bucks Trend

By Pam Shingler Assistant Editor

Theatregoers today who plunk down a day's pay for a Broadway show or even those who patronize regional theatre can expect that the robust orchestra sounds they hear actually come from a tape player - a sophisticated electronic system certainly, but still a tape player.

Patrons of Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre near Prestonsburg get the real thing. The theatre orchestra, 14 members strong, provides the instrumental support for the cast of singers in each season's four musical productions.

"The trend in theatre production is to go to taped orchestration," said theatre manager Jim Deaton, "We spend more than $20,000 each summer to have a live orchestra, so we could save a lot of money by using tape.

"But the live orchestra just adds something. Not having one would be a big loss," Deaton continued. "Our audiences seem to appreciate and want a live orchestra.

"Besides, a tape can't entertain an audience when the electricity goes off," Deaton laughed, recalling times when the musicians have kept the audience happy while technical problems were being cleared up. The local orchestra is made up of professional and semi-professional musicians, most of them young but with a variety of experience. Most are from Kentucky or neighboring states. Bruce Rous, musical director for all four summer shows, is a 25-year-

New York. Doubling as the orchestra's pianist, Rous is in his third stint with JWSMT.

"I like it here because there's so much more to a music director's job in outdoor theatre," said Rous, whose responsibilities began with choosing the orchestra members in early May. Healso was able to write and arrange some of the music for The Jenny Wiley

His biggest challenge is to direct the 14-member group to sound like the much bigger orchestras that normally play the music of shows such as Camelot and Funny Girl. "In Camelot, for instance, you're supposed to have 40 or 50 in the orchestra," Rous said. "Here, we have to arrange the music for 14 and make it sound like more."

Timothy Byrns, a cellist who will return in the fall to his professional job with a symphony orchestra in Florida, concurs. "A (orchestra) pit usually has 12 violins, and we have one. It's a problem to create the same sounds, but I'm think we do a good job," said Byrns, a Louisville native and music graduate of Eastern Kentucky University.

Also difficult is becoming accustomed to playing outdoors. Rous has to be in constant touch, via headphones, with the theatre's technical staff since the open air tends to dissipate the instrumental sounds and makes it hard for the orchestra members to hear the singers.

"Sometimes when it's hard to hear old Ashland native, now living in the singers, we have to trust Bruce and follow him," said Byrns, "but we often have to use our own intuition,

Besides Byrns on cello and Rous at piano, the theatre orchestra has a violinist, bass player, four musicians on reeds, five brassmen and a drum-

A-One And A-Two ...

Music director Bruce Rous does two jobs at once as he plays the piano and conducts the orchestra for Jenny Wiley day in and day out," said the Univer-Summer Music Theatre. The 14-piece ensemble provides live instrumental accompaniment for theatre produc-

The musicians generally arrive at before the first show opens. Once that Jenny Wlley about a week before the first show is on, they immediately cast of actors comes in. That means begin working on the next, and so on they have just a couple of weeks to until all four shows are running in

> There's no way one person could do the job of pulling it all together if it weren't for the people in the orchestra knowing what to do and doing things on their own," said Rous, who in New York works for an investment firm and as a restaurant pianist.

> The hardest part of the season for the musicians is finding rehearsal space those first couple of weeks when the crunch is on to put together a unified, professional sound.

> "We rehearse every place but the Dairy Queen parking lot," said Rous, "and there have been times when we thought we'd have to try that." This season they have rehearsed in the Pines Building at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, at First Baptist Church and in every building at Prestonsburg Community College.

Many of the orchestra members are returnees to what they refer to as "Camp Jenny Wiley." Byrns, for instance, is in his fourth year. His classmate at Louisville's Youth Performing Arts School, Nelson Knight, is here for his fifth season.

Knight, 23, has studied violin for 14 years but says he isn't interested in a musical career. "I played with the Lexington Philharmonic for a year and knew I wouldn't enjoy doing it

Summer Fun Is Spelled R-E-A-D-I-N-G For Local Youths

All Aboard

Young children love fire engines, except when they make real loud noises. These picture-perfect tots were happy to climb aboard Engine No. 5 even after firefighter Tommy Hereford blasted the horn. They were participating in the Paddington Summer Reading Program at the Floyd County Library recently when this red beauty pulled up.

By Tess A. Whitmer Staff Writer

School may be out, but that doesn't mean children have to miss the fun of reading

The Floyd County Library is sponsoring a program to promote children's reading, called the Pad-dington Summer Reading Program. Children from ages 2 to 14 come for an hour a week and are provided a variety of activities and are given the opportunity to check out a week's worth of reading material. "The purpose of the program is to their reading skills during the summer, as well as have some activities to do," said Pat Dempsey, director of children's program. Dempsey was a children's librarian in Dayton, Ohio, before moving to Prestonsburg six years ago. She started as a volunteer with the library last summer and this summer was hired part-time to coordinate the program and the story hour which runs through the school year.

Every Thursday, since July 6, about 131 children and their parents visit the library. Dempsey said this number is up considerably from last year. The younger ones, ages 2-6, are there from 10-11 a.m., and children ages 7-14 come at 2 p.m. and stay until 3 p.m. During the hour they watch films, have snacks and are introduced to the library.

On July 13 the Prestonsburg Fire Department brought Engine #5 to the parking lot across the street and firefighter Tommy Hereford told the children how the truck worked and explained what firefighters do.

This Thursday, Ronald McDonald will visit with the afternoon program and on Aug. 3 the program will have a farewell picnic at Archer Park.

Program participants are encouraged to read at least 40 books during the five-week program, Dempsey said. Those who do will receive a icate and their names will be entered in a drawing for two stuffed Paddington bears and Paddington T-

"The way things are going the children will have no problem reaching the 40-book goal," the librarian Ceremony Planned

The program helps children, as well as parents, become acquainted with the many materials available at the library, Demosey added. She said ter, Pearl T. Marie Hodson, to Alex that about 500 children's books were checked out the first week. Luckily, the library had ordered new books for the program this summer. She said the shelves in the children's section are "very bare right now, but the children are very enthusiastic," always asking what their weekly limit is because they want to check out as many as possible.

Dempsey added that this service is offered by most libraries to help the children retain their reading skills during the summer months. The parents read to the younger children, thus acquainting the youngsters with the world of books.

In the fall and throughout the school year, Dempsey will coordinate a story hour in the morning for young children and after school for older ones. For details on these and other programs offered by the Floyd County Library, phone 886-2981, or visit the library on Arnold Avenue in Prestonsburg.

Ceremony Planned

The ceremony will be Saturday, Aug. 5, at 1 p.m. at the Pikeville Freewill Baptist Church (close to Pikeville Elementary School). An open wedding will be held, and a reception will immediately follow in the church hall.

HOT! HOT! HOT! As the dog days of summer stretch on before us, it's good to have some ice-cold ideas for dealing with the heat. Forget the high fat of ice cream bars and the empty calories of sugary popsicles and soft drinks; what you really need is chilled or frozen fruit.

Fruit is the perfect answer to today's fast-paced, health-conscious, treat-loving society. It's easy, and no one can say "You don't need that!"

Here's a treat that's doubly good for you - the sound nutrition of wholesome fruit at a temperature that will help take the sizzle out of summer heat waves.

Many fruits, including strawberries and cantaloupes, are good sources of vitamin C, and yellow-orange fruits, including peaches, nectarines and apricots, are high in beta-carotene, a form of vitamin A. Both are nutrients that research sponsored by the American Institute for Cancer Research has linked to lower cancer risk. Fresh fruit is also important source of dietary fiber.

Keeping fruit chilled in the refrigerator when the temperature rises is simple enough. The next step is to make your own "fruitsicles." You can simply freeze fruit juice in a small paper cup with a popsicle stick, or ou may puree small pieces of fresh fruit - grapes, strawberry slices, blueberries or virtually any fruit—in a blender. Add a small amount of water if the puree is too thick, then 3cupscantaloupe, cut into large cubes freeze in a small paper cup with a popsicle stick.

Freshfruitdrinks, such as the ones below, are easy to prepare with a 2 tsp. lime juice blender of food processor. You can also concoct granite (also called fruit ice) with pureed fresh fruit, water blender and whirl on high speed until and a bit of sugar and lemon juice. After the mixture is frozen solid (in an ice cube tray), just process the cubes in your blender or food processor until smooth and serve.

TROPICAL SUNRISE 11/3 cups orange juice

1/3 cups pineapple juice 1 large ripe banana

Place all the ingredients in a blender and blend until the cubes are broken and the mixture is creamy This will provide four one-cup servings, each with 109 calories and negligible amounts of fat.

CANTALOUPE COOLER

1 cup orange juice cup pineapple juice 2 tsp. lemon juice

tsp. sugar (optional) Place all of the ingredients in a smooth. This will yield four one-cup servings, each with 64 calories and no dietary fat.

InJuly, when nectarines reach their peak of perfection, many would argue that they are queen of the crop. Bright and succulent, with a sweet, fruity aroma, the nectarines of July rule the roadside stands, produce markets and supermarket bins.

NECTARINECREME 3 nectarines, unpeeled, sliced 1 cup plain lowfat yogurt A few drops of almond extract 1 Tbsp. honey or sugar l envelope unflavored gelatin 2 Tosp. water

Extra nectarines, or blueberries, or strawberries for garnish (optional) Place the three sliced nectarines, yogurt and almond extract in a blender. Puree until smooth. Combine the gelatin and water in microwave for about five seconds).

Stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Add the dissolved gelatin to the blender mixture and mix at medium speed for about 10 seconds to blend.

Spoon into stemmed glasses or dessert dishes and chill until set. Garnish with additional nectarine slices or fresh berries, if desired.

This will yield four 1/2-cup servings, each with 1 gram of fat and about 100 to 130 calories (depending on the additional fruit used).

For those who are not dieting and still love the taste of fruit, a delicious strawberry shortcake comes to mind. Made with three basic components - shortcake, berries and cream the variations, combinations and possibilities for this desert are endless. What form your strawberry shortcake takes will depend largely upon personal taste and family his-

Let' start with the foundation, the a small saucepan over low heat (or cake itself. Often sponge, pound or yellow cake is used to support a generous helping of strawberries and whipped cream. Though this is not what most consider traditional shortcake, few will turn down a serving.

To some, the ultimate foundation is hot buttered, sweetened biscuit. To others, especially those from the South, only rounds of flaky pastry similar to pie crust will suffice. The sweet rich biscuit, however, is generally considered the classic base for this traditional American dessert.

Now that you've chosen your favorite type of shortcake, let's move on to the star of this dessert, the strawberry. Here again the possibilities are limitless. Always capped and at the peak of ripeness, the berries may be halved or sliced, or even crushed to release all that flavorful juice. Many believe strawberries are at their best when served at room temperature, while others argue that only a cold berry will do. Follow your heart and your taste buds on this issue.

Finally, what crowns this dessert? Well, there's sweetened whip cream, unwhipped sweetened cream, unsweetened whipped cream or unsweetened unwhipped cream. This is definitely a win/win situation.

Now that you've considered all the possibilities, you're prepared to make an educated decision about

 Strawberries will last longer if arranged in a single layer on a paper towel-lined tray.

 To prepare strawberries, wash quickly, hull and cut in half or slice. Sweeten to taste and mash lightly to release juices or crush if desired. Let berries stand for one hour at room temperature or cover and refrigerate.

Cream whips best when very cold. In hot weather, chill mixing bowl and beaters. Add about 1 tablespoon sugar per cup of heavy cream and whip until soft peaks form.

Officers of John Graham NSDAR

Collins Keynotes NSDAR Flag Day Luncheon

Speaking at the annual Flag Day luncheon held at May Lodge, June 17, Margaret Collins emphasized the symbol of freedom - Old Glory, red, white and blue, and stars and stripes a banner that unites Americans.

Norma Stepp, chaplain, read a Flag Day poem written in the 1940s by the late DAR member, Elizabeth Leete Stephens, last resident of Garfield

AARP Outing Friday

Jenny Wiley Chapter #3528 of the American Association of Retired Persons will have its annual Dewey Lake houseboat trip Friday.

The boat will leave Brandy Keg boat dock at 11 a.m. Each participant is to bring a picnic lunch.

Persons planning to attend should call 874-9334 or 886-9532 to register.

Host Holiday Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace of Prestonsburg had as their guests during the Fourth of July holiday Dr. and Mrs. Gabriel R. Wallace of Huntsville, Ala.

On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wells of Paintsville joined them Place in Prestonsburg.

The newly-elected regent, Mrs. Carl R. Horn, presided at the business session. DAR rituals were led by Stepp, the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Olga Preston, American's Creed by Horn, National Defense Message by Alice Harris, the President General's Message by Margaret Spradlin, and the invocation was given by Fannie Runnells.

Opal May presented the chapter with a gift of $20 on behalf of the Bank Josephine and E.E. McGuire, Virginia Goble announced the application of a prospective member, Angela Merritt Eickerbrenner of Tampa, Fla., lineage granddaughter of Christian Goble, Revolutionary soldier.

Frances Brackett reported that she and Goble had attended Flag Day ceremonies June 14 at the home of regent Nell Vinson Terry, Louisa Chapter, and that she had attended a Flag Day luncheon with the John Marshall Chapter on June 12 in Lou-

The regent announced that Sixth District NSDAR meeting will be held September 69:30 a.m., at the Ashland Plaza Hotel in Ashland. Luncheon reservations must be made by August 23 with a check for $7.50 mailed to Mrs. Paul Reynolds, Route 4, Box 275, Morehead, KY 40351.

Attending the June 17 meeting were Horn, Harris, Brackett, Pauline Burchett, Spradlin, Runnells, Preston, Goble, Stepp, Mae Kendrick, Collins and Maurine Mayo

Sweetheart Contestant

Jason Goble competed in the National America's Sweetheart Pageant in Lexington July 7-8. He won in beauty, photogenic, sportswear, talent, westernwear, prettiest eyes, smile, and suit divisions. He received trophies, crowns, banners, gifts and savings bonds. He is the son of Kenny and Wilma Goble of Middle Creek and the grandson of Chester and Edna Goble of Lancer and Lee and Clara Bailey of Salyersville.

Slaughters Relocate To Johnson City

Lana and Joe Slaughter and son Benjamin, who were living in Louisville, have recently moved to Johnson City, Tenn., where Mr. Slaughter has accepted a position as manager of Eighty-Four Lumber Company Store.

Mrs. Slaughter is a daughter of James E. and Marie Goble of Prestonsburg.

Correction

In the announcement for the Campbell-Kidd wedding, July 12, Campbell was mistakenly reported as a 1988 instead of a 1986 graduate. The Times regrets this error.

Schools Offer Free Or Reduced Price Meals

The Floyd County Board of Education has announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price served in schools under the National School Lunch Program and /or School Breakfast Program.

Local school officials have adopted the following family-size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

One family member, free meals for 0 to $7,774 annual income, reduced meals for $7,775 to $11,063; two members, free up to $10,426, reduced - $10,427 to $14,837; three members, free up to 13,078, reduced -$13,079 to $18,611;

Four members, free up to $15,730, reduced - $15,731 to $22,385; five, free up to $18,382, reduced - $18,383 to $26,159; six, free up to $21,034, reduced -$21,035 to $29,933; seven, free up to $23,686, reduced - $23,687 to $33,707; eight, free up to $26,338, reduced - $26,339 to $37,481.

The reduced price of meals will be 40 cents for lunch and thirty cents for breakfast. Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the application and return it to the school.

The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility and may be verified at any time with each school district required to verify a sample annually. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year and should be updated should the annul income change more than $600 a year or if the size of the family

Under the provisions of the policy, a school official will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the determination, he/she may contact, either orally or in writing, Ronald Hager, Prestonsburg, 886-2354.

STUFFED LITTLE NOSES

Infants and babies lack the ability to clear their noses of mucus. This inability makes it particularly uncomfortable at feeding time when they cannot drink and breathe simultaneously. In order to help the baby clear nasal passages, a parent may purchase a bulb syringe at the pharmacy. By deflating the bulb and gradually releasing pressure, a suction action can be created that draws mucus from the baby's nose. After the mucus is drawn into the bulb, it can be expelled into a tissue. Working one nostril at a time, a small child's nose can be cleared in this fashion. If the mucus is dry and difficult to draw out, saline nosedrops should be administered to loosen the blockage. This, too, should be purchased from the pharmacist. Homemade saline solutions are rarely sterile or of the correct concentration.

A Prestonsburg High School student, Catherine Formsma, daughter of Gordon and Carolyn Formsma, was among 300 youngsters taking part in the Stephen Collins Foster Music Camp recently at Eastern Kentucky University

Formsma plays the viola and participated in the high school instrumental camp, June 18-30, one of four programs offered by the music camp, now in its 54th year.

During the week she was able to participate in concert or orchestra band, and received instrumental instruction in master classes and in small ensembles. She also attended a concert by the Stephen Collins Foster Music Camp faculty and performed in a concert for parents on the final evening of the camp, Friday, June 30.

TV Q&A

Injuries prompted athlete to switch to acting career

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I would like to know who plays McKay on CBS' Tour of Duty. Please tell me all about him. -Sheri Smith, Montrose, Colo.

A: Lt. John McKay is played by Dan Gauthier, who was born on Dec. 3 in the small town of Prineville, Ore. He decided to pursue acting when a series of small injuries kept him, a versatile decathlete, from any hope in the Olympics. His big break came when, on a whim, he decided to enter the "Faces of the '80s" and won as second runner-up. Through a friend he was introduced to his manager, who encouraged him to try acting in Los Angeles. A stage play led to guest roles on 21 Jump Street, Married Punky Children and Brewster. His motion picture credits include The Tower and Teen Ivory Witch. He still is an avid athlete who enjoys water skiing, snow skiing, football, weight-lifting and fast cars. He also writes poetry and plays the guitar. He is single and lives in Los Angeles. He is 6 feet tall and has brown hair and green eyes. Write to him c/o Tour of Duty, CBS Entertainment, Television City, 7800 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90036.

O: I'm asking you for help on this one. I've been trying to find a movie which I saw quite a few years ago. No one seems to have seen this film but me. The title is Cabin in the Sky, featuring an all-black cast. It's a very beautiful movie, and I would like to buy a copy. Can 1? -Jim Gallman, Manteca, Calif.

A: The film you seek, Cabin in the Sky, is an all-black musical which starred Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Ethel Waters, Lena Horne, Cab Calloway and Louis Armstrong. Released in 1943 by MGM, it is now available on video.

O: I would like some information on Aidan Quinn, who starred as Johnny in Reckless. And by any chance is he married? -D. Taber. Eagle Lake, Minn.

A: According to reports I have been getting, as of this date. Aidan is not married. Born in Chicago in 1952 of Irish parents, he never considered acting as a profession until he began taking acting lessons while working at an assortment of jobs in Chicago. In 1984 he won a starring role in the feature Reckless. which launched his career.

O: I would like an address at which I can write to Sylvester Stallone. I have looked everywhere for his fan club, but can't find one anywhere. - Cinnamon Trakle, Leopold, Mo.

A: Write to Sylvester Stallone c/o Herb Nanas Orgn., 280 S. Beverly Dr., Suite 507, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212

Real Estate

Lower Interest Rates Expected To Spur Housing Activity In Near Future, NAR Says

are expected to spur housing activity in the coming months, according to the latest monthly "Outlook for the Economy and Real Estate" from the National Association of Realtors.

The July issue says the lower rates for fixed-rate mortgages started bringing home buyers back to the market in June, and also have triggered an increase in mortgage refinancing. Sales of both existing and new homes, while dropping below last year's level, are expected to be relatively the outlook, published by NAR's forecasting and policy analysis division, says economic growth appears to have reached a rate slow enough to Federal Reserve Board and financial markets. Indications of a looser credit policy from the Fed led to the drop in long-term rates, which NAR is predicting will last into next year.

However, in spite of lower mort-gage rates, NARChief Economist John A. Tuccillo is expecting only a modest rally in home sales. Sales will be curbed due to the continued absence of first-time buyers, many of whom are priced out of the current market and lack the incentive to save for a future purchase, Tuccillo says.

"Rising house prices, combined with a disappearing savings discipline, are persuading young families Declining mortgage interest rates ease inflation concerns of both the that it's more reasonable to spend $250 for a new VCR than to put that money toward a down payment," Tuccillo says.

Other predictions for the real estate industry and economy in general contained in the July NAR forecast

 Sales of existing single-family homes are expected to total 3.43 million units, dropping 4.6 percent below sales for 1988.

- Sales of new single-family homes are expected to total 622,000 units, dropping 8.1 percent from 1988.

-Housing starts are expected to drop 4.1 percent from a year ago. A total of 1.04 million starts for singlefamily units is expected, dropping 4.3 percent from 1988. Starts for buildings with two to four units are expected to total 52,000, dropping 12.2 percent. Starts for buildings with five or more units are expected to fall 2.3 percent from 1988.

- The national median existinghome price is expected to reach $93,900, rising 5.2 percent from last year. The national median new-home price is expected to reach $121,600, rising 8.1 percent from a year ago.

Consumer price inflation is expected to reach a rate of 5.2 percent, compared to 4.1 percent in 1988.

-Thecivilian unemployment rate is expected to be 5.2 percent, com pared to 5.5 percent last year.
