Convention Center To Boost Local Economy

What will a new 500 seat convention center at Jenny Wiley State Park do economically for the City of Prestonsburg and Floyd County? For most business leaders and development specialists in the area, the center, where construction begins following this Friday's ground breaking ceremonies, spells good news for the entire region.

"There is no way we would spend $1.8 million without having a strong belief that this is really going to work," said Leon Russell, Jenny Wiley Park Manager.

"We have had to turn down many conventions and meetings because we were all booked up or just weren't big enough to host the gathering. Right now I have bookings well into 1990 and 1991. It's clear that there's a need for more space."

While costs for the planned convention center have been estimated at $1.8 million, Russell is confident that the benefits to both the park and surrounding community will be sizable. The facility will include a banquet room for 500, a kitchen, portable dance floor, administrative offices, and 14,000 square feet of space.

"Of course we're looking at having many people who come to use the center also staying in our lodge, but there should be plenty of overflow to hotels and restaurants in the area. We estimate that on average, each person who spends a night in the county spends roughly $40 for things such as food, gas and liquor, besides what is spent for lodging. Much of this is spent outside of the park, which is good for the local economy. We're not building a monument here. We're building something that is really going to work."

Tim Hites, president of the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce, and Bill Francis, chair of the Prestonsburg Tourism, Recreation and Convention Commission, both agree with Russell's positive assessment.

"Floyd County really needs a convention center with a larger capacity," says Hites. "In the past, we've relied on Prestonsburg Community College for meeting space, but there's been a growing need for something larger to handle both local needs and outside groups. The center will draw people into the area who will circulate money into our local economy. This type of tourism spending is very valuable for our area."

"It could be a real key to both Prestonsburg and Floyd County's economic future," said Francis. "The center will be the largest such facility east of Interstate 75, and a primary convention center for all of Eastern Kentucky. We have excellent access with our roads and a beautiful natural setting. I think it's possible that this could draw in as much as $15 to $20 million in new revenues to the area each year."

The concept of bringing in tourists and business groups to stimulate development in the region is the way of the future, according to Bob Meyer, programs director for the Big Sandy Area Development District. Meyer believes that this emphasis on tourism has been underemphasized in the region.

A Deadly Place

On Sunday evening, as Principal Daniel Branson attempted to light this furnace in Allen Elementary School for Monday morning classes, a gas explosion roared through the school building, badly injuring Branson and causing approximately $25,000 damage to the school. Branson was listed in fair condition Tuesday evening at the Cabell Huntington Hospital's burn unit. State fire inspectors are investigating the incident.

Furnace Blast At Allen Injures School Principal

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

A furnace explosion rocked Allen Elementary School Sunday evening, seriously injuring Principal Daniel Branson and causing approximately $25,000 in damages.

According to Fire Chief Roy Compton, the Allen Fire Station received a call from an unidentified woman at approximately 6:48 p.m. reporting an explosion at the school. Other witnesses living in the area also reported hearing a loud explosion from several hundred yards away.

"We knew right away that something serious had happened," said Compton. "The woman caller was very upset."

Firefighters rushed to the school, where they found Branson lying in the entry way of the school. His clothing had been burned off except for his belt and part of his necktie and he was semi-conscious.

From reports by Branson's wife, it was learned that Branson, as was his usual practice during cold weather months, had gone to the school Sunday evening to light the furnace so that the school would be warm for Monday morning classes. He entered the basement where the furnace was located and lit a piece of paper to reach the pilot light mechanism in the old furnace. At some point while he was attempting to light the pilot, gas which had leaked from the furnace after the pilot had been extinguished ignited, causing a powerful explosion which threw Branson back eight feet into a steel door, and burning him badly. The force of the explosion, according to Compton, knocked a steel brace out from the basement ceiling, and then followed the path of least resistance — through the ventilation shafts — knocking plaster from ceilings. The ceilings apparently lifted up from their supports and then settled back down, bending some electrical conduits. A vending machine that was pushed up against a door leading to the basement was knocked away from the door and the door was blown out of its casing. Luckily, the fire of ignited gas blew itself out in the explosion.

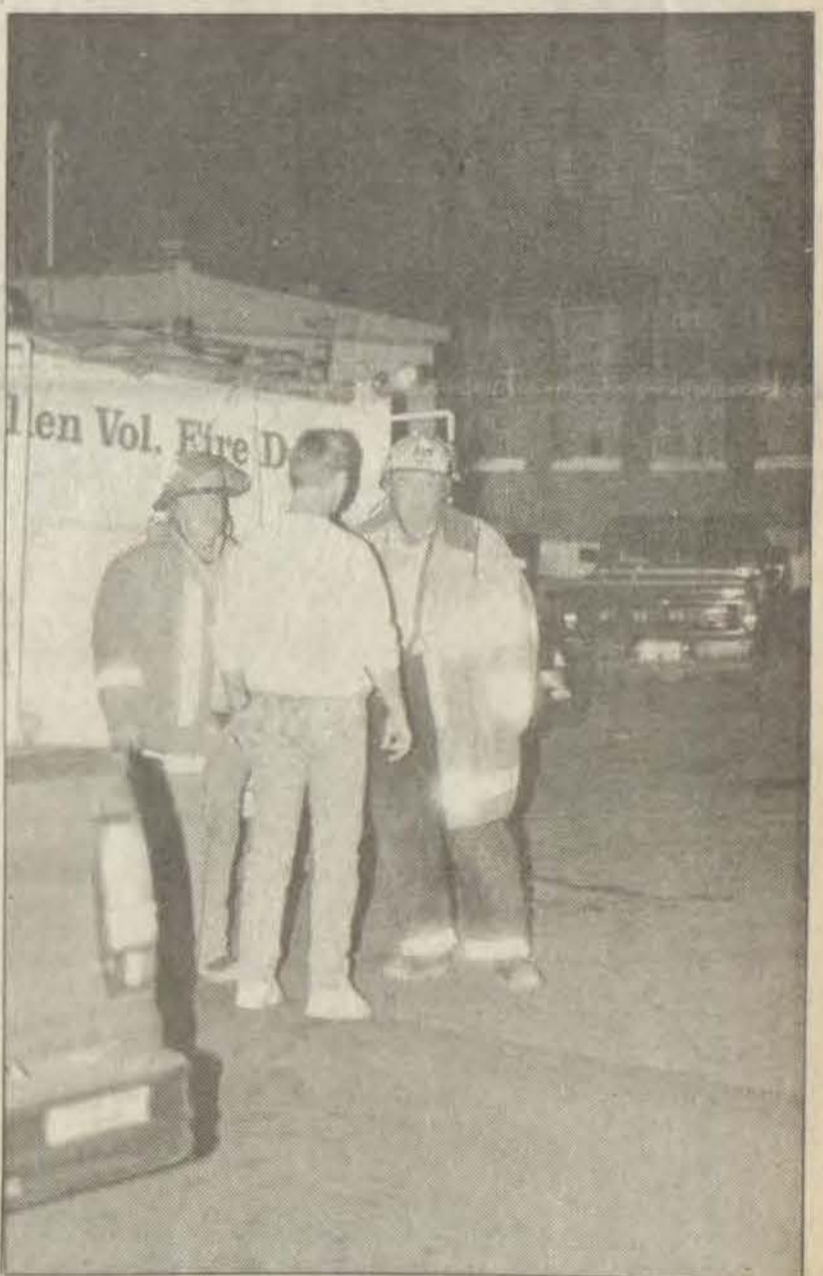

After the explosion, Branson apparently managed to walk up the two flights of stairs to the main floor of the school and then fell in the school's entryway. When firefighters arrived, Branson was conscious and with his wife, who had been upstairs in the school, but was in pain and beginning to swell from his burns. After calling P and B Ambulance Service of Prestonsburg, firefighters quickly checked the building to determine if a fire was present. They also moved to shut off any gas flow to the building.

Branson was transported to Highlands Regional Hospital and was then helicoptered to the burn unit at Cabell

Allen firefighters conducted a rapid inspection of Allen Elementary School immediately after the Sunday explosion. While blast damage was significant, Chief Roy Compton concluded that the explosion blew out the door. No fire or smoke damage was reported.

Federal Flood Relief Effort Begins In Eastern Kentucky

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

Federal flood relief is coming to Floyd County and nine surrounding counties in Eastern Kentucky following Monday's flood disaster declaration by President George Bush.

Coordination of all relief operations will be based in Prestonsburg, according to federal officials.

Responding to the Oct. 16-18 flooding which damaged an estimated 235 homes in the county and caused approximately $11.3 million in damage to the region, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has begun operations to provide a broad range of assistance to individuals, businesses and communities. While the official declaration by President Bush was not made until noon Monday, FEMA, in coordination with local and state Disaster Emergency Service (DES) personnel, has been involved in damage evaluations in the region since immediately after the disaster. FEMA and DES workers traveled with Governor Wallace Wilkinson on the weekend following the flooding to begin assessing regional recovery needs, and contingency plans for establishing relief centers were made.

"We were ready to go once the President made a declaration," said Jack Schuback, FEMA deputy federal coordinating officer for relief efforts. Standing in the large open space of the old Heck's building in Prestonsburg, Schuback described the startup operations which would begin funneling federal aid to flood torn Eastern Kentucky.

"As soon as the magnitude of the flooding was realized, FEMA began looking for locations to establish the field office. Prestonsburg was chosen because of its proximity to flooded areas and because of its good accessibility."

It is this office which will act as the nerve center for area relief operations. According to Don Armstrong, public relations coordinator for FEMA operations in Kentucky, applicants for flood relief should go to one of four Disaster Application Centers, located at Whitesburg in Letcher County, Hyden in Leslie County, Robinson Creek in Pike County, or here in Floyd County at the Allen Park Recreation Center. At these centers, applicants will be assigned a date and time to meet with FEMA personnel to apply for relief, if it is not possible to do it immediately. FEMA will take information about damages and insurance coverage and forward it to the center in Prestonsburg, where it will be processed. If some applicants can't come to the centers, such as elderly or handicapped persons, applications can be made over the phone. Approximately one week after placing a relief application, FEMA verifiers will go out to inspect and confirm damage claims. If all goes smoothly, according to Armstrong, qualified applicants may begin receiving assistance within 10 days of placing their applications.

Types of assistance may vary greatly from case to case.

"Depending upon the applicant, the damage they've experienced, the insurance they carry, and their financial status, there are a number of different types of assistance available," says Schuback. "Grants or loans may be possible. We may provide money

Governor Addresses Martin Sewage Treatment, Weeksbury's Water Needs

Governor Wallace Wilkinson has agreed to commit $1.5 million to upgrade the City of Martin's sewage treatment facilities, according to State Rep. Greg Stumbo.

The governor's commitment follows discussion Tuesday in Frankfort with Stumbo, Martin Mayor Raymond Griffith, Judge Executive John Stumbo, Roger Recktenwald of the Big Sandy Area Development District and State Sen. Bennie Ray Bailey. The governor reviewed the project requested the Department of Local Government, which administers monies for such projects, to release funds and approve the request.

According to Stumbo, revenues will come from three funding sources, including EPA grant monies and low interest loans from the Farmer's Home Association.

Currently, Martin is under a no new hookup order and a federal mandate to upgrade the current sewage treatment system.

In further activities, Stumbo discussed with Wilkinson the current water situation in Weeksbury and Abner Fork areas of the county, where there has been a long term lack of access to safe supplies of potable water. Some residents have been reduced to the collection of rain water to meet daily needs.

According to Stumbo, the governor was "very, very concerned about the situation," and discussed the possibility of using Abandoned Mine Land (AML) funds to deal with part of the problem. Stumbo said that he was impressed with the apparent commitment of the governor to address

Red Cross Flood Relief Continues

In the first week of operations, six American Red Cross disaster service centers in Eastern Kentucky report that 394 families have applied for financial assistance following the Oct. 16-18 floods.

As of Thursday, Oct. 26, the Red Cross has spent over $91,000 in direct financial assistance to families and individuals. The money has been spent in the form of disbursing orders, or "vouchers," for food, clothing, rent, minor home repairs, household furnishings, medical items and occupational supplies and equipment, according to Bill Learn, assistant director for the Kentucky Floods relief operation.

Learn encourages any families who have not applied for Red Cross assistance to go to centers as soon as possible. He noted that Red Cross workers will remain in the area for the next several weeks.

"So far, we have 69 volunteers and paid staff on this operation. Many of these people are from Kentucky, but we have people from other states such as New York, Michigan, Missouri, Texas, Florida and Oklahoma. The real 'heroes' are the local volunteers who have been helping the flood victims since we began operations."

As federal relief operations begin in the region, John Rostowski, Red Cross director of operations, anticipates Red Cross activities being put on a back burner, at least temporarily.

"We'll monitor federal awards to clients. If they don't meet all of the needs which we see as necessary, we'll fill in. We'll help FEMA people (Federal Emergency Management Agency) by providing information on potential relief clients and try to avoid duplicating assistance."

The Red Cross Service Center in Floyd County is located in the Wayland Fire Station and is open between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Monday through Saturday, and between 1 and 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Those who would like to contribute to the flood relief effort should send a check earmarked for Flood Relief to their local Red Cross chapter. Learn says that this will not only help the flood-stricken families, but also the local economy, since the disbursing orders are redeemed by local merchants.

Wheelwright City Council OK's Flood Damage Ordinance

In a special session last Thursday night, Wheelwright City Council passed, on second reading, an ordinance designed to reduce flood damages to public and private property within city limits.

Inspired by past and recent flood damage in the area, the ordinance requires that any construction in flood zones within city limits must be registered with the city. New structures must meet stringent requirements, so as to avoid damages by floods in the future. These requirements include specifications on flood resistant materials used in construction and the requirement that structures have foundations which hold floors above known flood level elevations. Penalties for not following the ordinance allow for fines of $500 or imprisonment for up to 30 days for each day the ordinance is violated.

The ordinance was passed unanimously by Mayor Larry Mullins and present councilmembers. Councilman Joe Stewart was not present at the Thursday meeting.

Winter's A'Coming

Prepare yourselves for cold, says the National Weather Service in Jackson. Wednesday will be mostly sunny with a high of 60. The changes will begin Wednesday night, with increasing cloudiness and lows in the upper 30's.

Thursday will be mostly cloudy with a 40 percent chance of showers and highs in the lower 50s. Thursday night will be partly cloudy and cold with temperatures in the upper 20s. Get ready to bundle up!

Tax Time?

County and school taxes are now payable at the sheriff's office in Prestonsburg. If paid before Nov. 30, a 2 percent discount will be given. Taxes will then be assessed at face value until Dec. 31. After that date, penalties will be added to your tax. A word to the wise: save yourself some money and do it early.

Freak Fire Kills Night Watchman

PIKE COUNTY — The night watchman for Camp Fork Fuel Company on Little Robinson Creek, Arthur Thomas Hampton, 42, was trapped and killed in his pickup truck early Saturday morning when a fire broke out in the vehicle. According to Pike County Coroner Charles Morris, Hampton had driven to the gate to open it for the morning shift, when it swung against the door of the truck, trapping him. The cause of the fire is unknown. However, investigating officers traced a gas leak from the truck back up the hill to the mine and thought a fuel line leak could have caused fumes to gather under the truck once Hampton stopped at the gate, and causing an explosion. Morris said Hampton's brother-in-law and other neighbors reported hearing gunshots and then Hampton calling for help. Hampton's revolver was found approximately 40 feet from the truck, and he was pronounced dead at the scene. (Appalachian News-Express)

Guilty of LSD Distribution

EASTERN KENTUCKY — Louis DeFalaise, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky, announced that three defendants have entered guilty pleas to charges of conspiracy to distribute LSD, near Morehead State University campus. Christopher Towson of Daltown, Penn., and formerly of Elliot County, entered his plea on Oct. 6 and faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment and a $2,000,000 in fines. Bryan Bowers of Louisville and Carey Charles of Campton entered guilty pleas on Tuesday, Oct. 24 and both face a maximum sentence of 40 years imprisonment and $2,000,000 in fines. Guilty Of Milk-Contract Rigging

LONDON — The US Department of Justice has filed charges against G. Maurice Binder, a former district sales manager of the London division of Flav-O-Rich Inc., alleging that he violated the Sherman Antitrust Act. Binder pleaded guilty Friday, Oct. 20 to a charge of bid rigging, to supply milk to south-central Kentucky schools. Prosecutors said the conspiracy began during the late 1970s and continued through July. Binder acted with other co-conspirators, who were unnamed because the investigation is continuing. Gas Build Up Causes Explosion

BURKESVILLE — A buildup of natural gas erupted in a creek bed last Wednesday creating a 100-foot-long, 40-foot-wide mound and send as much as 1,100 gallons of crude oil into the Cumberland River tributary. Black-green crude oil continued to trickle out of a 20-foot-deep hole in Vaughn Creek Thursday. Major environmental damage was not reported, according to Environmental Protection Agency officials. The blast was attributed to pent-up natural gas, which eventually blasted through rock layers to escape. University of Kentucky geologist Brandon Nuttall said a well in the area was sealed with concrete plugs in the early 1960s and part of the concrete plug could have deteriorated, allowing the oil and gas to rise near the surface. dress the water situation, and believes that the project has gained a great deal of ground towards being accepted.

Rep. Carl Perkins' office has recommended that the Beaver Elkhorn water plant officials submit another request to upgrade facilities there, according to Stumbo. He added that AML monies can only be used to lay water line and not to upgrade existing facilities, as suggested by Wilkinson. Stumbo said recommends that grants or loans from the Farmer's Home Association be requested, as these may be used for upgrading existing systems. They could then be coupled with Abandoned Mine Land funds to run the needed new lines to required areas.

tary or housing assistance. We also have legal services available, disaster unemployment assistance, and crises counseling. Public assistance for communities who qualify, to repair roads, bridges, municipal buildings, and sewage treatment facilities, is also available."

Schuback hastened to add that FEMA is working closely with other state, federal, and private agencies in relief efforts.

"The federal government provides help in instances when disaster damage goes beyond the capacity of state and local governments to handle. We work to supplement these government organizations. State and local DES workers are heavily involved in our operations. The Small Business Bureau, the Army Corp of Engineers, and the Red Cross are all working with us. In many ways, it's a team effort."

Schuback also assured Eastern Kentuckians that, regardless of other recent disasters in South Carolina and California, area residents would receive necessary assistance if they qualify under FEMA regulations.

"The funding for relief in Kentucky comes from the President's Disaster Relief Fund," said Schuback. "The flooding assistance involved here is separate from other disasters. Kentucky will receive separate and equal assistance."

Approximately 100 federal workers will be based out of the Prestonsburg center, and Armstrong expects that the center will be in operation for at least 60 days, as is required by regulation. Local electricians have helped to get the center's electrical and computer systems operational and Schuback expressed thanks for the help and cooperation.

The Floyd County Disaster Application Center at Allen Park's Recreation Center off of Ky. 550 and all other area centers will open today, Nov. 1, and will operate through Saturday, Nov. 4. Hours of operation will be from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.. A Disaster Hotline number has been established at 1-800-338-0140 for information and questions. FEMA officials request that no applicants go to the Prestonsburg Disaster Center, as it is not organized to accept individual applications.

Salt Lick Road To Get 1.5 Miles Of Patching

Governor Wallace Wilkinson has announced that the state will place asphalt patching on 1.5 miles of Kentucky 2029, Salt Lick Road in Floyd County.

"Consistent repair is the key to providing our rural communities with a safe, efficient system of roads," said Wilkinson.

According to State Transportation Secretary and Commissioner of Highways Milo D. Bryant, the project is estimated to cost a total of $30,000 and is being financed with Rural Secondary funds. Bryant also noted that the project will be accomplished by state forces and will be worked into the schedule as soon as possible.

industry as much any longer," says Meyer. "We're looking more at tourism, attracting people to the area where they can help the economy with their spending. Jenny Wiley Park, with the construction of the convention center, will get increasing recognition, both locally and around the state. This helps to combat the bad press which is often attached to the economy of the area and gives us a more positive outlook."

The ground breaking ceremony for the new center will be held on Friday, Nov. 3, at 11 a.m. at the meeting room site. A reception will follow at May Lodge. Attending the ceremony will be Parks Commissioner Raper Smith, deputy commissioners Jim Goodman and Bob Bender, and local dignitaries. The ground breaking is open to the public.

Explosive Damage

Allen Fire Chief Roy Compton examines damage to Allen Elementary on Monday morning, following Sunday night's gas furnace explosion which injured school principal Daniel Branson. According to Compton, the vending machine pictured here was blown away from the door which led to the basement which contained the furnace. The door casing was also blown out by the force of the blast.

Huntington Hospital in Huntington, W.Va. It was reported that he had received second and third degree burns over 45 percent of his body. As of Tuesday evening, he was reported to be in fair condition at Huntington.

The school was closed Monday and Tuesday, as Chief Compton, state fire inspectors, local Disaster Emergency Service personnel, school board members, and private furnace experts examined the school and the source of the explosion. According to Frank Francis, Floyd County Director of School Buildings and Grounds, the cause of the explosion is difficult to pinpoint.

"To say that a malfunction in the furnace occurred would be pure speculation at this point," said Francis. "All we can really say is that there has been an accident and thank God he's still alive."

Others are more outspoken. According to one parent whose child attends Allen Elementary, and who wishes to remain unidentified, she considered the furnace in the school to be a potential danger.

"You can see that the old thing was a piece of junk. It was flooded before, and it's not been updated by the School Board. I think it should have been inspected more often."

School workers were also aware of problems with the pilot light on the furnace.

"We've always had trouble keeping the pilot going," said Margaret Porter, custodian at the school for the past five years. "It was normal for him (Branson) to come in and light the pilot on Sunday nights. But we've never had trouble with explosions before."

According to reports given to state fire inspectors, however, the furnace, which had once been coal burning and was converted to gas about 20 years ago, had been inspected less than four weeks ago by state fire inspectors. East Kentucky Gas Company also conducted an inspection of gas lines which lead into the school in August of this year. There were no reports of any malfunctions with the furnace or gas system at that time.

the school had been assessed at $25,000, according to Francis.

"We've had the state fire marshal and engineers examine the building. We also brought down representatives from the company in Indiana who converted the furnace from coal to gas to look at it. They estimate that there's been about $18,000 damage done to the heating unit controls and pilot light mechanism. It's going to require complete replacement."

Francis noted that there was no significant structural damage to the school, and if work to replace the furnace units could be completed on schedule, he anticipates reopening the school early next week.

Directory Cover Emphasizes State-Of-The-Art Technology

Just as railroads and superhighways have spanned vast distances to sustain commerce in the 20th Century, telecommunications offers the same promise for the future, according to South Central Bell Manager Art Willett.

That is why the 1989 Big Sandy telephone directory, which is being delivered to area homes and businesses, features and illustration by Kentucky artist Cynthia Torp of a little girl holding a section of fiber optic cable — one of the new technologies built into South Central Bell's state-of-the-art telecommunications network.

"Fiber optics is just a part of the technology that will play an increasingly important role in providing jobs and in improving the quality of life in the cities, towns and rural areas that South Central Bell serves throughout Kentucky," Willett said.

"Just inside the directory cover there's a lot more than just listings," he added. "The emergency page is a quick reference to fire, police and medical emergency numbers. And the customer guide offers all kinds of helpful information — from area codes to how to do business with the telephone company."

Home customers who don't receive a directory by Saturday, Nov. 11, should call South Central Bell at 1-557-6500; business customers call 1-557-6300. There is no charge for the call.

Editorial

Halloween night can be scary in more than one way if parents and trick-or-treaters are not careful, but the Holiday Inn of Prestonsburg and the Rotary Club offered a solution: "Safe Trick-or-Treat."

This was the second year the two have combined their efforts to make a very successful and fun evening for thousands of people who participated.

The merchants, candidates, churches and individuals who sponsored rooms seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves, as most dressed up and decorated to get into the spirit of things.

The Floyd County Times sponsored a room and all staff members who participated — even our poor dark room technician who wore a hot, stuffy gorilla suit — couldn't have come up with a better way to spend a Sunday evening. We're sure most other business folks feel the same way.

We'd like to take this opportunity to thank the Holiday Inn and Rotarians for the chance to make Halloween events safe and fun for all the area youngsters and to give the children who live in secluded areas a place to come and receive treats from people they know. It was most encouraging to see the amount of love the citizens of Floyd County put into this event and how everyone pulled together, donating candy, time, space and abilities to this event.

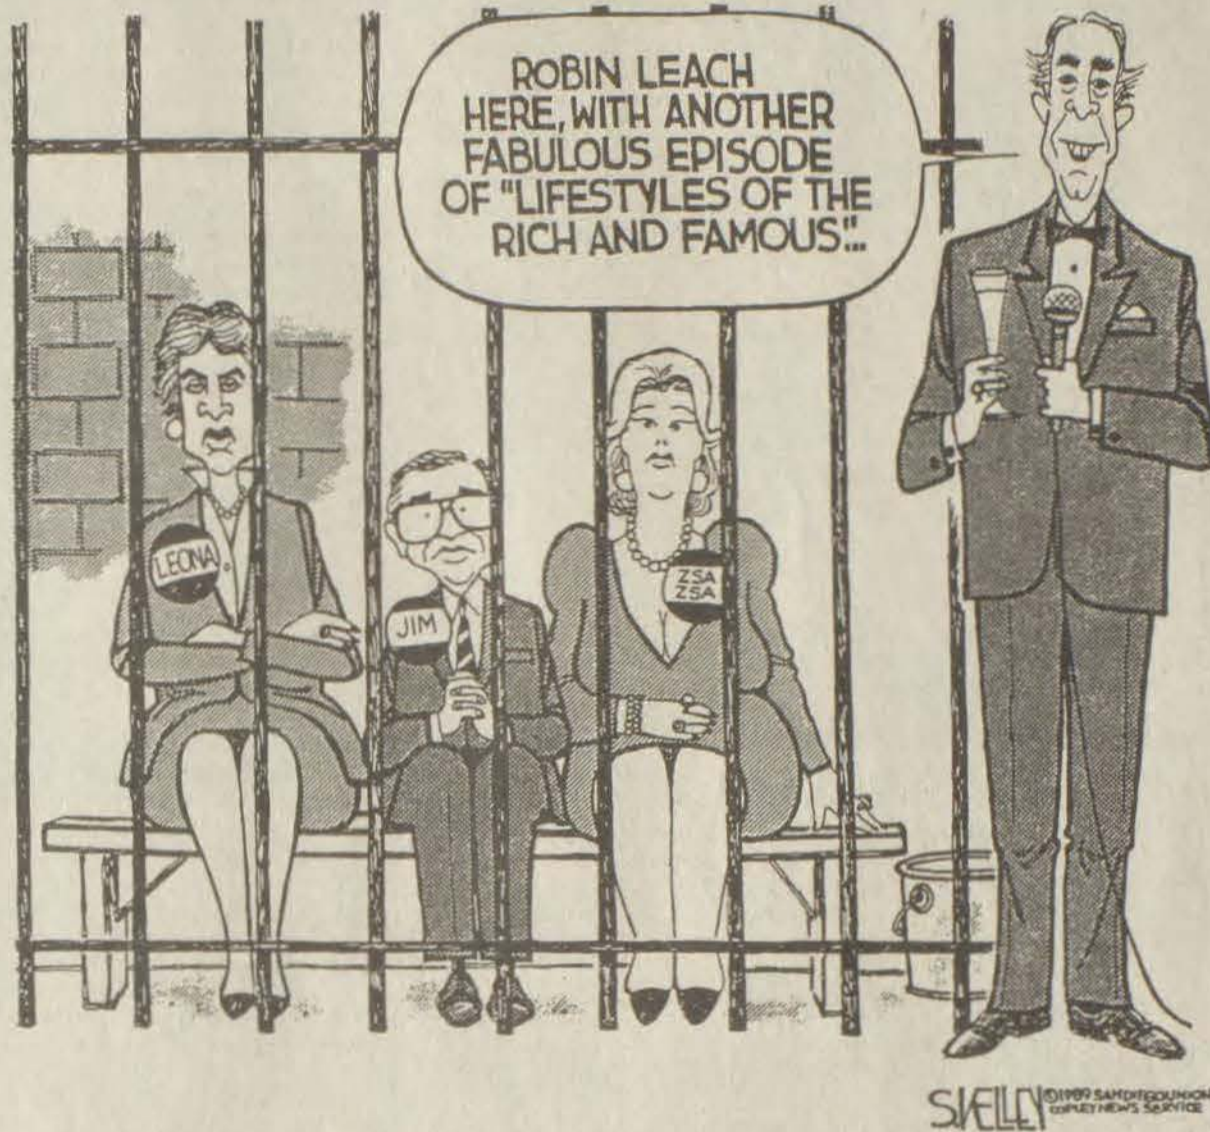

The police and firefighters (who also volunteered much of their time and did an extraordinary job directing traffic and offering an ever-present front to deter any possible hazards) deserve to be commended for their efforts.

Also, a big thank you should go out to the Prestonsburg firefighters who guarded the cross walks last night so the costumed figures who went on the door-to-door venture were safe from harm. This was an event begun by Mayor Ann Latta when she took office four years ago and Fire Chief Tom Blackburn saw fit to continue. These two folks also deserve a hand for their foresight into the safety of Prestonsburg's children.

We hope the tradition of "Safe Trick-or-Treat" at the Holiday Inn will be a long lasting one and that more and more people become involved with this worthwhile activity. The number of children attending this year was less than last year, and we hope that the long lines of the previous year did not discourage too many, because this year a lot of the "bugs" were ironed out and things flowed much smoother.

Congratulations, Floyd County, for pulling together and showing the younger generation just how much you care, and that adults can still have fun too.

Letters To The Editor

Enjoys Visit

Dear Editor,
Just recently I had the pleasure of visiting the Jenny Wiley Festival in Prestonsburg and admiring those beautiful autumn hills of Eastern Kentucky.

Also, I had the pleasure of meeting a great lady, the founder of said festival, Maxine Bierman.

I was struck by the book, "The Legend of Jenny Wiley," and what the poor girl had to endure. On the way home I stopped to visit her grave site.

So many good Kentuckians that have been forced to leave their homes to seek employment in other states will never know what they have missed.

In the future, may the festival get bigger and never end.

Thank you,

Says Thanks For Sports Coverage

Dear Sports Editor,
I appreciate the attention and coverage you (Ed Taylor) have given grade school basketball. Thank you for making these young boys and girls feel special.

We post all the articles and photos about Betsy Layne on our school bulletin board for all to see. School spirit has increased and we owe part of this to your coverage of our games in your newspaper.

I also understand how difficult it must be to correctly identify each player and spell their names correctly. I hope this will make your job easier.

Again, thank you for giving time to grade school sports.

Begging For Treats?

Dear Editor,
I've been a life-long resident in Floyd County, and never before in my life have I ever read in the Floyd County Times that the children were begging for treats on Halloween night.

I'm sure there's not one person in Floyd County that can't afford to buy their children a piece of candy if they want it.

Just think of how that sounded to everyone who reads the Floyd County Times each week.

Mary Spradlin,
Prestonsburg

(Editor's Note: The item Spradlin is referring to appeared in an article on the front page of last Wednesday's paper and read "... go from door to door begging for treats..." "Trick or Treat" is also known as "Beggars' Night" and it was in that manner the phrase was intended. The writer in no way meant to imply that Floyd County children needed to "beg" for treats due to low family income.)

Jr. Woman's Club Drops Miss FC Pageant Sponsorship

Dear Editor,

The Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club would like to extend its deepest appreciation and thanks to all the merchants, businesses people and individuals who supported our community activities this year. As a result of their generosity, we were able to present the 1989 Miss Floyd County Scholarship Pageant as part of the Festival of FACES, and awarded $2,000 in scholarships to three area young women. In September, their assistance enabled us to present our 25th annual horseshow at Archer Park, with the proceeds going to the Floyd County Animal Shelter. Even in these trying economic times, these businesses and individuals have enabled us to raise money for worthy causes and provide entertainment for the community.

It is with a great deal of regret that we must tell the community that the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club will no longer be sponsoring the Miss Floyd County Scholarship Pageant. Although both the pageant and the horseshow, our two yearly projects, have been successful these past few years, we feel that neither one has received all the energy and enthusiasm which it deserves. We found it necessary to choose one or the other of these projects to present on a yearly basis, and that project shall be the annual horseshow to benefit the animal shelter.

Although we can no longer sponsor the pageant, the members of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club feel that the scholarships it offers to area women are important, and do not wish this opportunity to disappear. If any individual, club or organization is interested in taking over this project, please feel free to contact the undersigned or any member of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club.

Very Truly Yours,
Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club,
Robin S. Smith,
First vice-president

Urges Attendance At Nov. Conference

Dear Editor,
We would like to invite all interested persons in Floyd County to attend a conference titled "The Future of Black Americans in Agriculture in the 21st Century." This meeting will be Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17-18 at the Executive Inn in Owensboro.

Historically, blacks have had a long tradition in American agriculture. From the early days of slavery, American blacks have been directly involved in the production of food and fiber. Indeed, important technological advances in farming can be attributed to the innovations of black farmers. Even when slavery was abolished, many blacks still relied heavily on farming for their livelihoods.

As the 21st century approaches, the status of blacks in agriculture is looking increasingly dismal. The number of blacks in farming and the amount of land they farm is steadily and rapidly decreasing.

The purpose of this conference is a discussion of the following problems:

1. Lack of utilization of resources that presently exist;
2. Ineffective dissemination of information;
3. Need for education to upgrade skills;
4. Need for resource people to become more sensitive to black farmers;
5. Need for an appreciation for land ownership;
6. Need for a professional approach to agriculture.

We hope to see many Floyd Countians in Owensboro. For more information, call the Community Farm Alliance at (606) 986-7400.

Sincerely,
Mattie & William W. Mack,

Thanks Groups For Working Towards Minnie Walking Track

Dear Editor,
The citizens of McDowell must give a great big "Thank You!" to the Drift Woman's Club, for it is through the efforts of this woman's club that many benefits come to us.

Earlier this school year, the club provided monies to buy art and physical education supplies for the elementary school children, but just wait until you hear about their latest project.

Ruby Akers (one of our most valued members) got the idea when she took a ride in the hot air balloon the summer it came to Minnie. She said that she noticed the area around the outer edges of the parks was not being utilized. She realized it would make a wonderful walking track. Ruby brought this idea back to the woman's club for discussion. We club members were thrilled with her idea, and we gave her the go-ahead to get the wheels in motion.

Ms. Akers has spent many of these beautiful autumn days visiting other parks with walking tracks. She asked questions and found out the good and bad points about their tracks. After doing her homework, Ruby went to the right people with her proposal. Now Minnie Park will have a walking track by the middle of November if the weather remains mild enough to allow the installation.

The track will be 2,000 feet long and eight feet wide. This track will provide a safe form of physical and psychological recreation for both young and old citizens of our area.

The sponsors of the Minnie walking track are Rural Conservation Division, Floyd County Conservation District, Floyd County Fiscal Court and the Drift Woman's Club. We salute the sponsors of the proposed Minnie walking track. We thank you, and we love you from the bottom of our feet (hearts).

Apply For Vets Bonus Before Feb.

Dear Editor,
If you have not applied for your Vietnam Era Veterans Bonus, time is running out! More than seven months of the one year application period have elapsed.

Applications forms for the bonus are available at County Clerk's offices, Department of Employment Services Field Offices statewide and at each National Guard Armory in Kentucky. The veteran or his/her beneficiary will have until midnight Feb. 28, 1990 to submit the application. Applications not postmarked before the deadline will not be processed.

If you are a veterans or a beneficiary of a veteran, I urge you to quickly get an application, fill it out and send it in. If you know someone who may be eligible, call them. Ask that person if they have submitted their application for the Bonus. My worst fear for the bonus is that when all is said and done an eligible veteran will come forward and say, "If I had only known."

Please call 1-800-223-0713 if you have any questions.

Thanks, Rotary!

Dear Editor,
I would like to express thanks to Mark Thornburg and the members of the Prestonsburg Rotary Club for taking several of our Floyd County high school students to Louisville to attend the Student Programs on Kentucky Enterprise (SPOKE) which is sponsored by the Kentucky Rotary Club.

Being a club sponsor, I have found it is often difficult to find community members who have the time to devote to school organizations like the Future Business Leaders of America. The Rotary Club, however, provided an excellent opportunity for our students by taking them to a conference where they were able to meet with other individuals from across the state and learn more about themselves in the process.

I appreciate the interest the Rotary Club has taken in our high school students. It is refreshing to see such interest in the future leaders of our communities.

Supports Decision By Superintendent

Dear Editor,
(While) recently traveling through Eastern Kentucky, I stopped to spend the night. I picked up your town newspaper and also tuned in to the mountain news. I got the shock of my life: Parents carrying their children through high water. How dangerous and crazy this was! If a log or anything could have cause them to lose their balance and drop their child they would have drowned. These parents are putting the blame on the superintendent. He is not God. The children were safe in the gym.

We had the same thing to happen in Falls Church (Virginia) only it was snow. The superintendent called the parents to tell them to stay home, that the children had food and were warm and we all did as we were told for the safety of our children.

You have a very intelligent superintendent. Why are you fighting with him?

Thanks!

Several Area Fires Attributed To Pranks

Halloween pranks topped the agenda for local fire departments this past week in Floyd County.

Major Mike Wells of the Prestonsburg Fire Department reports a vehicle fire at 1:55 a.m. Monday, Oct. 30, at Wilson Equipment Company. The owner of the truck was listed as Mar-Con South, Inc., and since it was incendiary fire it is under investigation by Arson Investigator Larry Adams.

Terry Triplett of the Garrett Fire Department reports another vehicle fire on Saturday, Oct. 28, at 3:57 p.m. Apparently a truck owned by Dearing Motors at Wayland was set on fire by two youths who were spotted in the vicinity of the truck a half an hour earlier. Triplett said the truck had no battery and this was "evidently a Halloween prank." He turned the matter over to the State Police. Triplett also reported a brush fire on Friday at Stone Coal Creek when a blaze set by Amos Gibson to burn trash got out of control and got the hill side on fire. The forestry department was called and they and the Garrett firefighters put the fire out before it reached a residence on the other side of the hill.

Also, Howard Ferguson of the Auxier Fire Department reported a road block fire at 10:50 p.m. Saturday. He said the firefighters responded quickly enough to the fire that there was no hazard presented.

Accidents Fill Police Docket

The Prestonsburg Police Department had several accidents to report as of press time yesterday, none of which resulted in any injuries.

Melinda B. Borders, 20, of Prestonsburg was the victim of a hit and run accident last Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. According to Sgt. Sue Blackburn of the Prestonsburg City Police, Border was traveling east on KY 1428 slowing to make a right turn onto Goble Roberts Bridge, when she saw a vehicle west bound on KY 1428 go into the ditch. When the vehicle pulled out of ditch line it came across center line and hit her vehicle. She wrote down the license number and description of the car which left the scene of the accident.

Blackburn found Ishimael Caudill of Prestonsburg at his residence within 40 minutes of the accident. Blackburn state that Caudill was or appeared to have been drinking an alcoholic beverage when found, but it was unknown whether he was drinking at the time of the accident. She cited him for leaving the scene of an accident, no operator license and no insurance.

In another accident on Tuesday, Oct. 24, Don C. Ward, 37, of Staffordsville was driving across the southbound lanes of US 23 from Plaza Road when he struck a vehicle owned by Pat Webb, 39, of Dwale. Ward failed to yield the right of way and stated he did not see Webb, according to police report by Sue Blackburn. Webb's vehicle had to be towed away.

An accident also near Plaza Road on Saturday, Oct. 28, at 7 p.m. involved a juvenile Paintsville male and Bradis J. Goble, 32, of Prestonsburg. According to a police report by Sgt. Mike Omerod, Goble was stopped in traffic when his vehicle was struck in the rear by the juvenile's car. The juvenile stated he was not paying attention and was cited for failure to use child restraint and no insurance.

Another similar incident occurred at 11:15 a.m. that same day when Jeanette D. Skeans, 29, of Hunter was stopped in traffic on US 23 and was struck in the rear by Michael Neace, 32, of Jackson. Sgt. Gerald Clark reported that Neace stated when he looked up it was too late to stop and he was cited for no proof of insurance.

Three other fender benders rounded up the week for Prestonsburg Police. David Cornett, 20, of May King, sideswiped a park unoccupied car owned by Craig Dowling of Prestonsburg on Thursday, Oct. 26, at 9:30 a.m., according to Sgt. Tim Mullins. Blanche Cox, 56, of Prestonsburg, was driving a car owned by the Floyd County Board of Education, north on Westminster Street and did not have room, consequently hitting a parked car owned by Johnny McCoy of Inez on Wednesday, Oct. 25, at 2 p.m., according to Officer R. Frasure. And on Sunday, Oct. 29, at 12:12 p.m. Mildred Whitacker, 65, of Prestonsburg was backing out of a parking space between Ford Street and West Court Street when she struck a vehicle owned by Danette Gay Hazelett, 35, of Prestonsburg, in the right rear fender, according to a report by Officer Roy Roberts.

Dr. Raymond Hornback, president of United Way of Kentucky, said this week that the Knight Foundation, a state association, the United Way of Kentucky and local civic leaders in Eastern Kentucky have become partners working to assist human service agencies in the five-county Area Development District.

nate volunteer efforts in order to begin to meet the region's needs. This development grant provides funds for such staff support.

In addition to obtaining and administering the funds, United Way of Kentucky is assisting the local group with consultation, training and

Residents May Be Eligible For SSI

Area residents who have limited income and resources, Supplemental Security Income (SSI) may be able to help, Jim Kelly, Social Security District Director for the Big Sandy Area, said this week.

SSI is a federal program administered by the Social Security Administration, but financed from general revenues, not from Social Security taxes, Kelly said.

It makes monthly payments to eligible aged, blind, and disabled people. People who receive SSI may qualify for other benefits too, such as Medicare, food stamps, and other social services that are provided by their State Bureau for Social Insurance office.

Residents may qualify if they are 65 or older, or blind or disabled, and a lawful resident of the U.S., and meet certain income and resource limits, Kelly said. Some income and some resources are not counted in determining eligibility for SSI. A home and car, for example, are usually not counted in the resource limit.

In Loving Memory of Goldie Newsome

Passed Away Nov. 1, 1988

Holidays and your birthday have all come and gone, without you this year. But, in the busiest of days and quietest of nights, I often feel that you're near. You told me the time would come, when we'd have to part, You told me not to get upset, but, Granny that day broke my heart.

Sadness fills my heart, and oh, the tears I've shed. When I think into the past, about the sickness and hard life you led.

I know that now you're at rest, with the saviour in the sky, and you've found eternal peace, where you'll never have to die.

Our lives were so lonesome in this year, since you went away. Just wait for us, Granny, we want to meet you again, someday.

I'm so very thankful that if it was meant to be, I'd only have one grandma, you'd only have one granddaughter, that the Lord let it be me.

"Sadly missed by family and friends"

CENTRAL KENTUCKY BLOOD CENTER

South Central Bell Employees Aid Victims Of Hurricane Hugo

South Central Bell employees in Kentucky recently provided assistance to the victims of Hurricane Hugo.

Forty-three SCB technicians and managers, including four employees from Pikeville and Prestonsburg, went to North and South Carolina to help restore telephone service, according to Art Willett, manager. They were William Burke and Chester Hogston of Pike County, and Arnold Collins and Larry Pruitt of Floyd County.

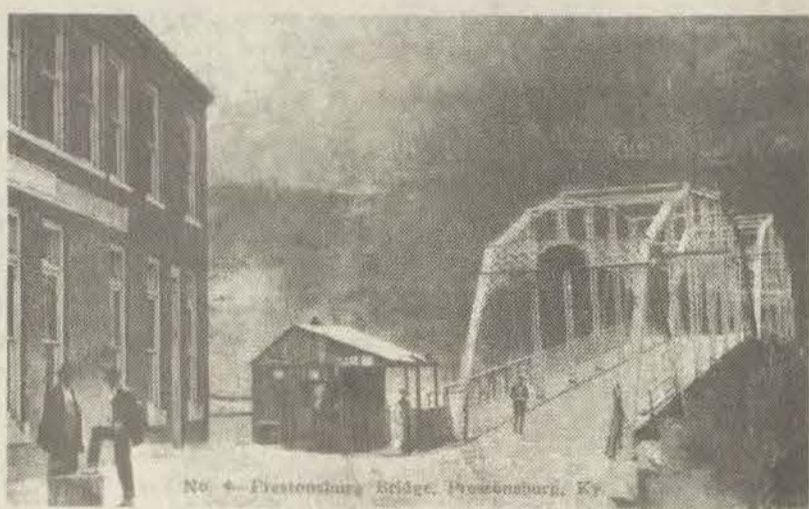

"Our employees have always been there when needed to help in times of trouble. In fact, we had many more volunteers than we asked for," said

Willett. South Central Bell sent an additional 182 volunteers; 225 vehicles, including four trailers with coin phones; and 75 generators from the five-state area served by the company.

The Telephone Pioneers of America, a service organization made up primarily of SCB employees, also pitched in to help in the crisis. The Pioneers arranged for tractor-trailer trucks to carry much-needed items of food and clothing to people in the areas hardest hit by Hurricane Hugo. The Pioneers have also sent $50,000 from their disaster fund to buy food.

A rare tornado touched down in Auxier in the 1920s, doing considerable damage to the coal tipple, shown here with one end cracked.

Legal Notice

NOTICE TO THE GAS CONSUMERS OF THE PRESTONSBURG CITY'S UTILITIES COMMISSION:

In the October 17 issue of the Floyd County Journal and again in the October 25 issue of the Floyd County Times, Candidate Paul Joseph stated erroneously that Mayor Ann Latta wanted to require the citizens of Prestonsburg to pay $30.00 a month surcharge that Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company says the City of Prestonsburg owes for gas used over a period of 10 years dating back to 1979. The Prestonsburg City's Utilities Commission denies they owe Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company anything and has paid them in full and for all gas that has been invoiced through this date, and has no intentions of paying any additional money and will resort to the courts if necessary. The decision of the Utilities Commission not to pay the full support of Mayor Latta and the members of the City Council.

P'Burg Wins 'Must' Game, Defeats M.C. Napier, 21-6

See The Whites Of Their Eyes

Aaron Tucker (16) of Prestonsburg looks to dodge an oncoming M.C. Napier defender in football action Friday night. The Blackcats halted a five-game skid with a 21-6 victory over the Navahos to set up a District 2 showdown with Morgan County this Friday night.

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

When the chips were on the line, Coach Bill Letton's Prestonsburg Blackcats rose to the occasion and defeated a spunky M.C. Napier team 21-6 to set up a district showdown with the Morgan County Pirates this Friday evening in an 8 p.m. start.

Morgan County and Prestonsburg have identical district records at 3-1. The winner will receive a playoff berth and will go up against a tough Somerset team.

The Blackcats lit up the scoreboard in the first quarter on a run by halfback Aaron Flannery from 8 yards out. Jason "Golden Toe" Storey kicked the extra point to give Prestonsburg a 7-0 lead. Penalties begin to plague the Blackcat in the first period of play.

After the Navahos scored on a good drive to trail 7-6, the extra point attempt failed. Neither team could mount any offense in the remainder of the first half. M.C. Napier was knocking on the Blackcat's door in the second, but then fumbled the ball on the Prestonsburg 5 yard line. The ball was recovered by Prestonsburg to stall the drive. By halftime Prestonsburg had been assessed over 50 yards in penalties.

In the third period of play it seemed that the Blackcats just didn't realize the importance of this game, as their offense was sluggish and unable to move the football. Mental mistakes continued to cost the Blackcats yardage in penalties.

The Navahos received the football at the start of the third period and put together a good drive that took them deep into Blackcat territory. The drive started on the Navahos own 44 yard line. During the drive, Napier picked up four first downs that took them to inside the Blackcats 10 yard line. With 6:32 remaining in the third period, on a fourth and goal situation, the Navahos elected to go for the field goal from the Blackcat 14. The attempt was wide to the left and Prestonsburg took control of the ball.

In the fourth stanza, the Navahos put together another drive that carried them deep into Prestonsburg's territory. Napier's outstanding running back, Andera Hill, carried the ball on four successive carries for 34 yards to the 48 yard line. Steve Dixon carried the ball across midfield to the Blackcat 48. Prestonsburg's coverage on the pass play went to sleep and Dixon caught a pass on the Prestonsburg 33. An illegal procedure call against M.C. Napier moved the ball back to the PHS 43, bringing up a first and 15 for Napier. The Navahos went to the air, only to have the ball intercepted by Tommy Poe for the Blackcats on their own 30 yard line.

Prestonsburg was forced to punt on its next possession. M.C. Napier took control of the ball on its own 38 yard line with 8:14 remaining in the third. Dixon moved the ball to the 45 with a seven yard gainer. On second and three, Dixon fumbled the ball and Kevin Adams picked up the fumble and ran it back to the Navajo 16 yard line.

On a third and inches play, quarterback Aaron Tucker called for the quarterback sneak and picked up the first down for Prestonsburg, putting the ball on the Navajo 5 yard line. On first play from the line of scrimmage, Allen James carried the ball into the end zone for a touchdown and Storey added the extra point to give the Blackcats a 14-6 lead.

On M.C. Napier's next possession, the Navahos were faced with a first and 15 following a holding penalty. On a blitz from the Blackcats, the ball was thrown, then intercepted by Mike Crace on the Navajo 39 yard line. Crace carried the ball into the end zone for an apparent touchdown, but because of a clipping call was brought back to the Navajo 35.

On a second and nine situation, Tucker hit Crace with a pass good for 10 yards for a first down on the 24 yard line of Napier. James picked up another first down on an 11-yard carry. On the next play from scrimmage, Mike Hopson scored his first touchdown of the season on a 13-yard run. Storey added his third extra point for a 21-6 lead. Neither team scored in the remainder of the game.

During the fourth quarter, Flannery suffered a mild concussion and was taken to the hospital, but reports are that he is all right and will be able to play in Friday night's game.

The Blackcats are 4-6 on the year, breaking a five game skid that began with their loss to Paintsville. The Navahos fall to 3-8 for the year.

Lawrence County Kicks Way To 19-6 Victory Over Bobcats

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

It was senior night at the Lloyd Hamilton Athletic Complex Friday as each senior football player and cheerleader was recognized as the Bobcats of Betsy Layne entertained the Bulldogs of Lawrence County.

Lawrence County came into Friday night's contest with a dismal 4-5 record—a disappointment from last year's 9-2 squad. However, the outcome was a note of celebration for the visitors as they managed a 19-6 victory over the host Bobcats.

Betsy Layne scored first in the first period. After being unable to move the football the Bobcats were forced to punt. But on the ensuing punt, the Bulldogs fumbled the ball and Betsy Layne recovered on the Lawrence County 11 yard line with 25 seconds remaining in the first stanza.

Facing a third and eight situation with seconds on the clock, Bobcat quarterback Craig Hunter went to the air and found Chad Mitchell in the end zone for a touchdown. The two point conversion was no good but the Bobcats led 6-0.

"I thought our kids played a good game," Bobcat coach Gerald Newsome stated. "Craig (Hunter) played well coming back off an injury.

I didn't play him any on defense in the beginning because we needed the offense out of him."

On the ensuing kick off, Lawrence County began to move the ball on the ground, going from the Betsy Layne 47 to inside the Bobcat 10. Betsy Layne's defense dug into the trenches and pushed the Bulldogs back to the 15. Lawrence County scored on a 34-yard field goal to make it 6-3.

"Our defense looked good," says Newsome. "Our line played good. Chad had plenty of time to pass the football. Their field goal kicking hurt us."

Numerous penalties stalled the Bobcats on their next series of downs and they were forced to punt. Lawrence County had the ball on their own 42 on a second down play when the Bobcat defense sacked Bulldog quarterback Brad Deerfield, bringing up a third and 14. On a counterplay of a sweep left, running back Mike McCleary ran 58 yards for a Bulldog score. After the extra point, it was 10-6 Lawrence County.

Late in the third the Bulldogs intercepted a Hunter pass and ran it in for what was to be a touchdown. However, the ball was brought back on a penalty, and put on the 35 yard line with 1:28 to go. The Bulldogs picked up first down on the Betsy Layne 15. On second down Lawrence County fumbled the ball and the ball bounced into the end zone, where a

Mike Hobson (20) heads for paydirt behind the blocking of Jeff Slone (1) as he scores a touchdown in Prestonsburg's 21-6 victory over M.C. Napier at Prestonsburg Friday night. The victory put the Blackcats in a first place tie with Morgan County for the District 2 title. The two teams will meet this Friday night at Morgan County to decide the district champion.

MMI Cadets March Past ACHS 22-6 In Season Finale

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The Allen Central Rebels closed out their 1989 football season on a disappointing note Sunday at the Don Daniels Athletic Complex in losing to Millersburg Military Institute 22-6.

The Rebels, who have been plagued by injuries, lost halfback Adam Tackett early on, placing the ball carrying responsibilities on the shoulders of Tommy Gibson.

The Rebels were unable to move the football on their first possession and were forced to punt to MMI. The Cadets moved the ball on two carries to their 43 yard line. Randall Sykes, MMI's big fullback, carried to midfield on a third and short yardage for a first down.

MMI's Chad Goldsberry was on the receiving end of a pass on a third and long situation to move the ball inside the 20 yard line of Allen Central. The Cadets went to the air again, but the pass was broken up in the end zone by B.J. Aldrich. On second and 10, Sykes carried the ball to the Rebel 5 yard line and on first and goal, the big fullback hit paydirt. MMI led 8-0 after the conversion.

The Cadets made it 16-0 after the Rebels were unable to score on their possession. With 1:59 remaining in the first quarter, Sykes, on first down, carried the ball to the 40 yard line. On a third and five, Sykes went up the middle to the Rebels 36 yard line as the quarter ended.

MMI picked up the first down near the Rebel's 20 yard line. On two carries, Sykes moved the ball to the Allen Central one yard line, where MMI's quarterback took the ball across the goal line for a TD. The conversion play was good for MMI.

Allen Central got the kick on their own 21 yard line. Tommy Gibson picked up 18 yards on a carry to the

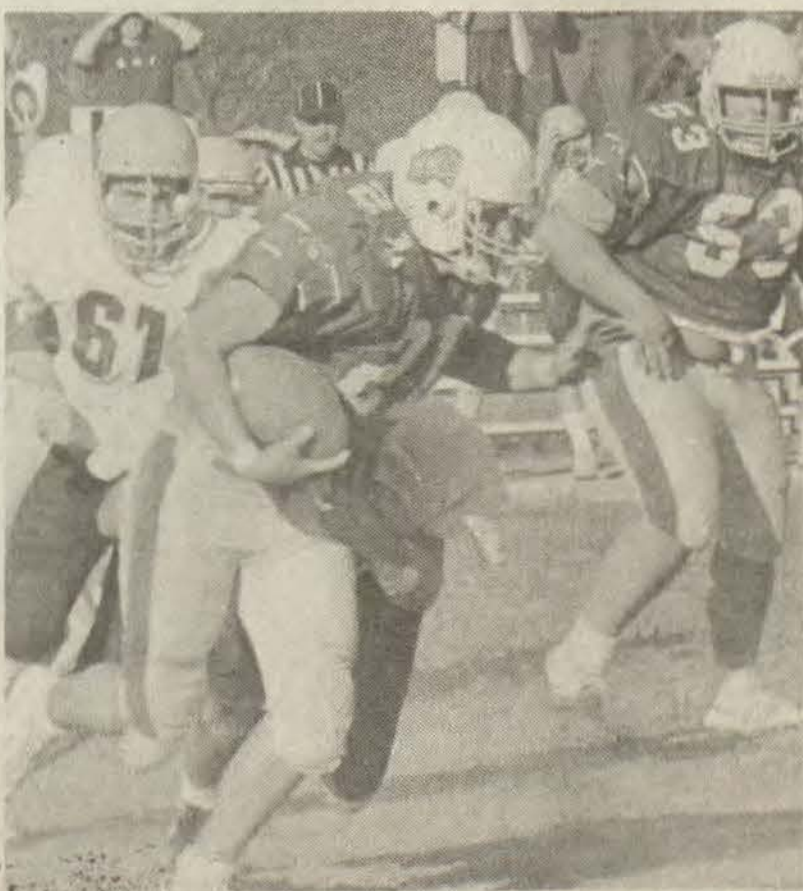

39. After a no gainer, Aldrich was sacked on the Rebels 32 yard line bringing up fourth and long. The Rebels were forced to punt to MMI.

After the Cadets missed an attempted field goal try, Allen Central took over control of the ball and on second down fumbled the ball over to MMI on the Rebel 24 yard line. Sykes carried the ball to the Allen Central 10 where the Cadets scored on a pass play. The conversion failed, but MMI led 22-0.

Neither team scored in the third period, although the Rebels got a break when MMI's Sykes left the game due to a leg injury.

The Rebels got on the board in the final minutes of the game with the ball on their own 31. Aldrich hit Bret Meadows on the 42 with a pass. Gibson then ran the ball to the Cadet 38 yard line. On a pass play, Aldrich hit Terry Spurlock with a pass in the end zone for a touchdown to make the final score 22-6.

The Rebels finished the season at 4-7 and 1-4 in District 2 play. The Rebels will have several returning starters back next year for coach Donnie Daniels.

A Rebel Carry

Allen Central Rebel Tommy Gibson (21) carries the football for the Rebels against Millersburg Military Institute Sunday afternoon at the Don Daniels Athletic Complex. MMI defeated the Rebels in their final game, 22-6.

Clark Scores 16 In Leading Lady Bobcats To 36-23 Win

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Trying to stay ahead of the Halloween carnivals and trying to get all the games in they can because of make up games, the Allen Lady Eagles and Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats met Saturday afternoon at the Betsy Layne gym in grade school basketball.

Poor free throw shooting was the downfall of the Lady Eagles as they missed 19 free tosses in the game.

Misty Clark tossed in 16 points and grabbed several rebounds in leading the Lady Bobcats to a 36-23 victory. The win was the fifth for Betsy Layne against three losses.

Clark opened the game with a lay up underneath and Kristy Osborne followed with a short jumper. Clark's free throw gave Betsy Layne a quick 5-0 lead. April Newsome of Allen scored the next five points in the game to tie the score at 5-5.

Betsy Layne used a full court defense that caused the Lady Eagles some problems as they turned the ball over. The Lady Bobcats ran off the next eight points to take a 13-6 first quarter lead. Newsome scored all six of Allen's points in the stanza.

Allen opened cold in the second as Betsy Layne outscored the visitors 5-0 to take a 15-6 lead. Newsome missed four free throws before she connected on a lay up and was fouled. Free throws by Jamie Ratliff and Erin Baker put the host school up 20-8. Becky Rogers' bucket just before a basket by Newsome ended the half at 22-10.

It was all Allen in the third as the Lady Bobcats didn't score a point, allowing the Lady Eagles to close to within four points. Jana Bates opened the second half with a 10-footer from the corner and Heather Osborne put one in under the basket and was fouled. Osborne missed the free throw. Newsome scored the next four points for Allen as the third period ended at 22-18.

Clark, who was quiet during the third period, bucketed two baskets between a free throw by Newsome to run Betsy Layne out by seven, 26-19. Clark then scored six of the last 10 points for the Lady Bobcats enroute to a 36-23 victory. Newsome scored the last four points for Allen.

Newsome was the leading scorer for the Lady Eagles with 19 points. She had a bad day at the charity stripe, missing 15 free throws, many of them the front ends of one and ones.

Besides Clark's 16, Ratliff added 11 points for Betsy Layne in the win. Betsy Layne improves to 5-3 and Allen falls to 1-3.

Allen 6 4 8 5 (23): Heather Osborne, 10-12; Jana Bates, 10-0-2; April Newsome, 6-7-22 19; Tonda Justice, 0-0-2; Jennifer Hunts, 0-0-10.

at Betsy Layne 13 9 0 14 (36): Amanda Eplin, 10-0-2; Jamie Ratliff, 4-3-4 11; Becky Rogers, 10-0-2; Misty Clark, 7-2-5 16; Erin Baker, 1-1-2 3; Kristy Osborne, 10-0-2; Tara Kidd, 0-0-3-0.

Bobcats

Bulldog fell on the ball for a TD, making it 16-6 at the half.

Lawrence County added three more points to make it 19-6, on another field goal in the fourth quarter from 34 yards out.

Neither team scored in the remainder of the game. However, Lawrence County intercepted another Hunter pass and ran it in for a touchdown, but a clipping call brought the ball back to the Bobcat 35.

"Jackie Jarrell missed a pass that could have resulted in a touchdown," Newsome remarked. "He had the whole side line to take it in, but he dropped the ball. I have no complaints. Our kids played hard and they played well. We should have gotten beat 9-6 instead of what we did."

Newsome wonders why the squad will have to finish its year by playing perennial power Pikeville.

"We are not the quality of a Pikeville team," the Betsy Layne mentor stated. "But our kids are looking forward to playing them and just to say they had a shot at them."

Newsome, who says he would like to see Coach Bill Letton's Prestonsburg Blackcats win the District 2 title, sees Prestonsburg as a two-touchdown better team.

"Prestonsburg will win if they can stop Morgan County's passing game. Morgan County will not be able to contain Prestonsburg's running game. Morgan County is quick and they have their own runners also. If we can't win it I hope Letton does."

Newsome looks to the winter months when he will have his team on the weight program and hopes to have a track team in the spring in preparation for next season.

P'Burg Jr. Basketball League Sign Up Scheduled On Nov. 5

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

According to Prestonsburg Junior Basketball League treasurer Dick Jarvis, the league will have its sign up and try out day on Nov. 5 at 1:30 p.m. at the Prestonsburg gym.

"All players who want to play in the league this year must sign up and try out on this date," the league treasurer stated. "We try to make all the teams balanced, and in order to do that we need to have all players signed up on the first date."

The age limit for the league is 7-13 years old. If a player's birthday is on or before Aug. 31, 1989, they will be eligible to play in the league this year. The league will be divided into three divisions: the training league, ages 7-9; junior varsity, ages 10-11; and varsity, ages 12-13.

The league will play by Junior Pro rules but will not be sanctioned by the organization this year.

"It costs us $1,600 to be in the organization, and we do not get anything out of it except a tournament at the end of the season. We will buy our own insurance and there are tournaments at Morehead and Georgetown that we can participate in without being sanctioned by the Junior Pro program," Jarvis remarked.

The league is expected to start on Dec. 1 and all games will be played on Saturdays at 8:30 a.m. and run until games are played. The league is also planning a Christmas tournament this season as well as a tournament at the end of the regular season.

Jarvis also stated that there will be a $12 sign up fee for each player. The monies will go to purchase insurance and uniforms. This year the league will have cheerleaders and those interested in cheerleading should sign up on Nov. 5 also. The same age groups will apply for cheerleaders.

Dickie Hall is the leagues president.

Lady Indians Win 8th Straight Game Behind Clay's 10-Point Performance

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The Clark Lady Indians, behind the 10 points of Jamie Clay, recently recorded their eighth victory of the season without a defeat with a 33-15 win over the Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats.

Clark built up a big lead at half time, 19-8. However, the Clark Lady Indians had trouble at the foul line.

"Free throws are killing us," Lady Indians Coach Keith Hicks said of his team's inability to score from the charity line.

Balanced scoring was the key for the Clark win. Christy Little scored eight points. Maria Hicks added seven and Andrea Shepherd netted six.

Jenny Morrison led the Lady Blackcats in scoring with six points and Crystal Layne added four.

Clark is now 8-0 on the year and Prestonsburg is 2-1.

Prestonsburg 26 52 (15): Kenni Bradford, 2; Allison Allen, 2; Jenny Morrison, 6; Chrystal Layne, 4; Catrina Thomas, 1.

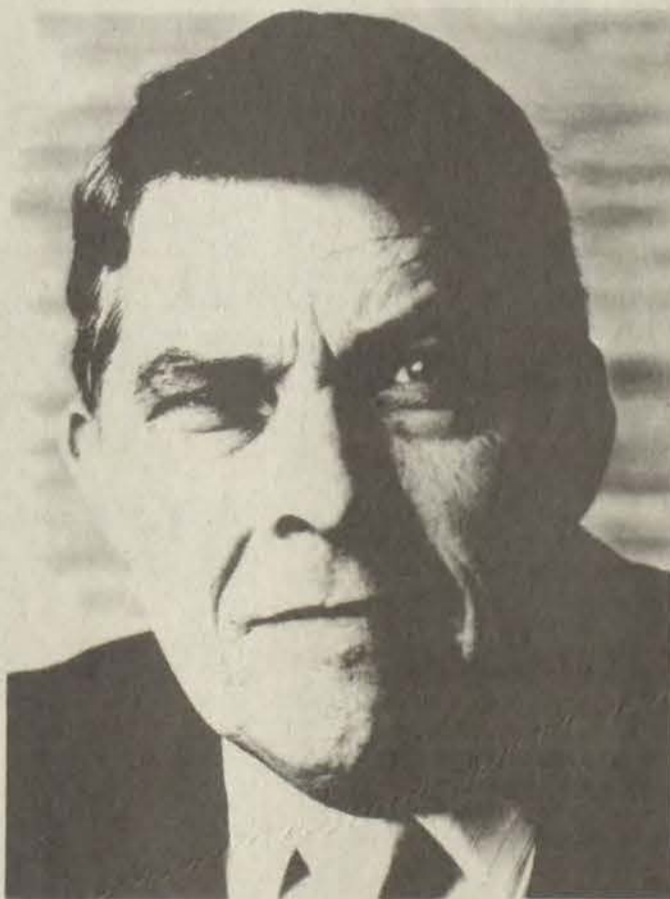

at Clark 12 7 7 (33): Christy Little, 8; Andrea Shepherd, 6; Rebecca Webb, 2; Maria Hicks, 7; Jamie Clay, 10.

For The Record

Hello,

I'm Lightning Joseph, past City Street Superintendent.

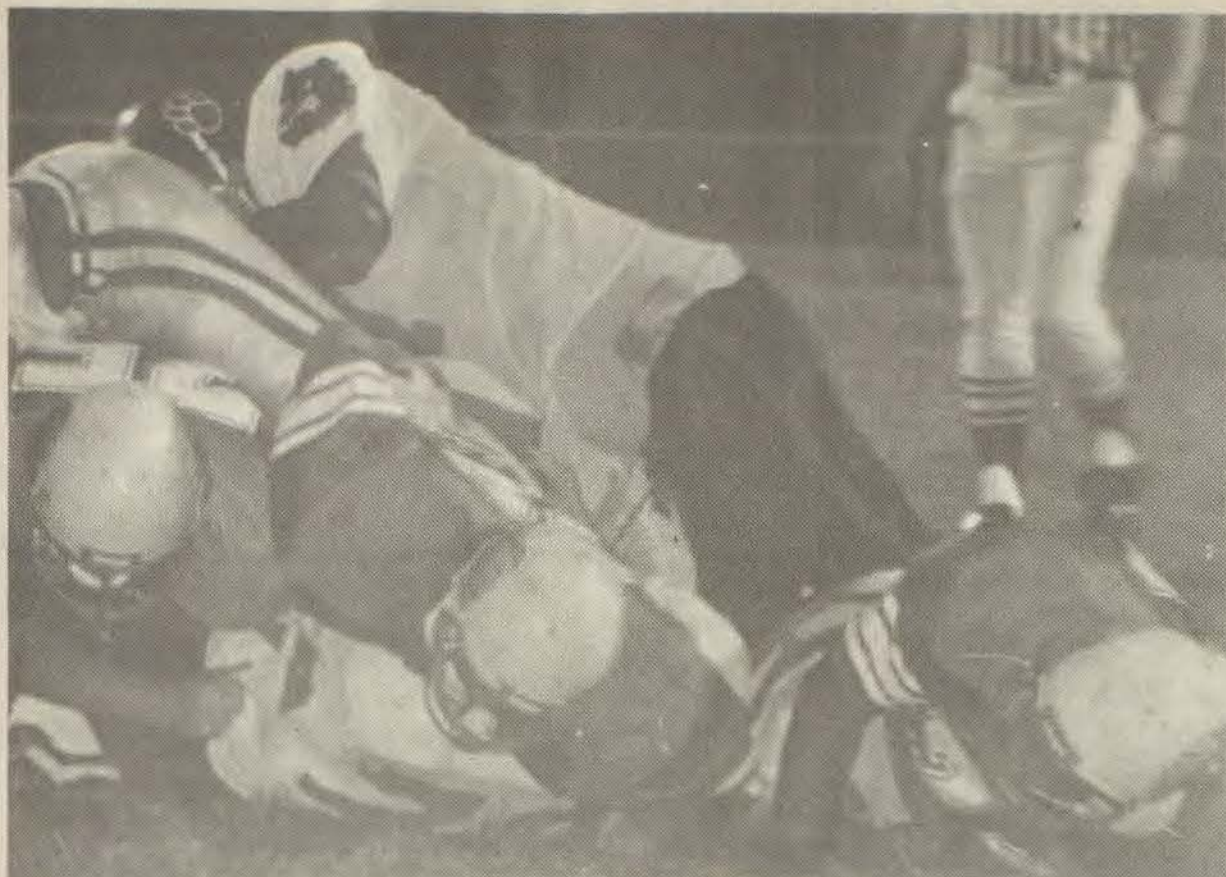

I would like to ask the voters of Prestonsburg to go out Nov. 7, and cast a vote for, Paul Joseph, for Mayor of Prestonsburg.

For the record, I would like to let the citizens of Prestonsburg know why I was forced to resign my duty as City Street Superintendent Feb. 22, 1988. I suffered shame and lost my home and had to leave the state to find employment.

- (1.) For doing the work for the people of our town and all the time I was doing the work, it was for you too, Mayor.
- (2.) For loaning the ton dump truck to the local business. (Which is not in the city). This was ordered by Freddy James, City Manager.
- (3.) For loaning cutting torches to a local garage for exchange of labor on some of our city street vehicles. This was okayed by City Manager, Freddy James.
- (4.) Was it right when you personally ordered me and several city employees to go and meet the Governor of your choice, which was not (Grady Stumbo) or our present Governor (Wallace Wilkinson)? While doing this it was out of city limits and at our city taxpayers' time.
- (5.) For taking the city truck out of town, Mayor, you know I lived at the top of Abbott Mountain. I left my residence due to marital problems and stayed a few nights at a local motel at my expense until I could work out my problems.
- (6.) Voters of Prestonsburg, I worked hard for our city—cleaning our streets, removing snow off the side street at Lancer, Goble Roberts, Cliffside and at all the stop signs in Prestonsburg.
- (7.) Mayor, you shamed me when you forced me to resign. You know I had no choice, because I know you had the power. I was replaced by your relative (Mike Meade), who resigned as a city police officer in 1987.

Voters, Go Out and Vote For
PAUL JOSEPH for MAYOR
On Nov. 7, 1989

Thank You,
Lightning Joseph

McKinney's 13 Points Leads Martin

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Using full court pressure and getting a lot of open lay ups off from it, the Martin Lady Purple Flash rolled past the Lady Blackcats of Prestonsburg Elementary School, 62-19.

Roni McKinney scored 13 points in leading the Lady Flashes in scoring. McKinney hit several long outside shots. Kenni Bradford led Prestonsburg with eight points.

The Lady Flash opened with eight quick points to take an 8-0 lead in the opening minutes of the game. Full court pressure caused the Lady Black-cats problems as they were guilty of several turnovers. After a basket by Bradford, McKinney tossed in two baskets to put Martin up 12-2. Bradford scored again and McKinney added two more for a 14-4 first quarter lead.

With 4:16 remaining in the second stanza, Martin went up by 12 points 24-12 and two baskets by Maggie Hancock and one by McKinney gave Martin a halftime lead of 16, 28-12.

Tracy Dingsu opened the third quarter by stealing a pass and driving the length of the court for a lay up that brought a standing applause from her coach Doug Derossett. Ask why her coach applauded her, Dingsu said,

"because I usually don't make lay ups." Dingsu was fouled on the play but missed the free throw. Martin then ran off 13 unanswered points to take a 29-point lead, 41-12. A free throw by Allison Allen was the only point the Lady Blackcats scored in the third period.

It was all Martin in the fourth quarter as the subs came in and the Lady Flashes went on to a easy 62-19 victory. The win was the seventh for the Lady Flash, five times county champions, against four setbacks. The loss for Prestonsburg was their second with three wins.

Jenny Robinson added 11 points for Martin while Dingsu tossed in eight as did Maggie Hancock. Rebecca Leslie netted six points for Prestonsburg.

Problems (Talk) and Solutions (Action)

During this campaign many candidates have talked about numerous problems which face Prestonsburg. Economic issues, law enforcement issues, safety issues and many, many more. Folks, it is easy to talk about problems—we can all do that! It's not so easy to work toward solutions—but we can all do that too!!! Problems won't magically disappear just because we elect a particular candidate to city council. Our problems are real and they require real solutions. Being a councilman must be more than talk—it should be work. You should vote for candidates who will give of their time and effort, who will offer creative thinking and who will strive for cooperation between government, business and community.

In my first term on the council I have regularly attended all council meetings. I have chaired working council committees. I have aided in the development of organized activities for our youth. As a council member I have met with state and local officials, business leaders and community leaders to work toward solutions to our problems. Along with this I have continued my active work in CHAMPIONS AGAINST DRUGS, Literacy and Church.

I will continue to work hard for you and for Prestonsburg.

Where's Your Tax Money Going To?

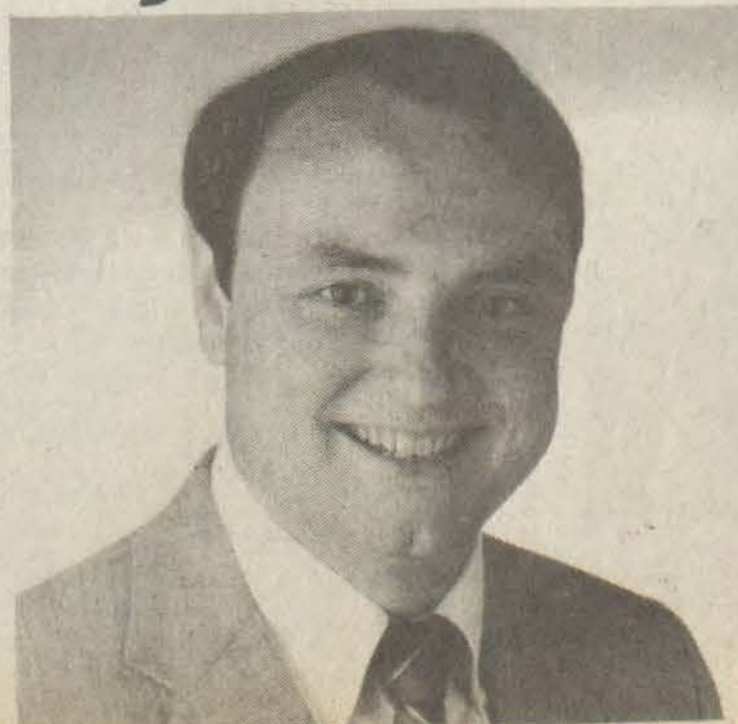

This is private property in Campbell Branch, that has been graded and graveled by county Equipment, and paid for with your tax money!

Why should your tax money be used to pave and gravel private driveways, when there are many county roads that are barely passable?

Your current magistrate is not taking your tax money by paving and graveling private driveways, he's breaking the law. It's no excuse to say everyone does it or it's always been done in the past.

It has to stop NOW!

McDowell Jr. High Cheerleaders To Compete In Regional Competition

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

It seems that all the practicing, camps and physical strain has paid off for the McDowell Junior High boys basketball cheerleaders.

The local cheerleaders recently attended a National Cheerleaders Association summer workshop where they received top recognition as the Best Junior High School Cheerleading Squad.

The cheerleaders were selected above all other cheerleaders at the camp on the basis of their cheerleading technique, unity, friendliness, cooperation, leadership and sportsmanship. The cheerleaders were presented a plaque and earned superior ribbons in cheer and chant competition. They also brought home the "Spirit Stick."

During the competition, the NCA staff members nominated 12 individual girls to compete for the All American Cheerleader award. Stephanie Hall and Valerie Vance were chosen from the McDowell squad to compete for this individual award. The winner, Angela Reynolds of Betsy Layne High School, will be eligible to perform in Hawaii at the Aloha Bowl. Hall and Vance were the only junior high cheerleaders to compete with the other high school nominees.

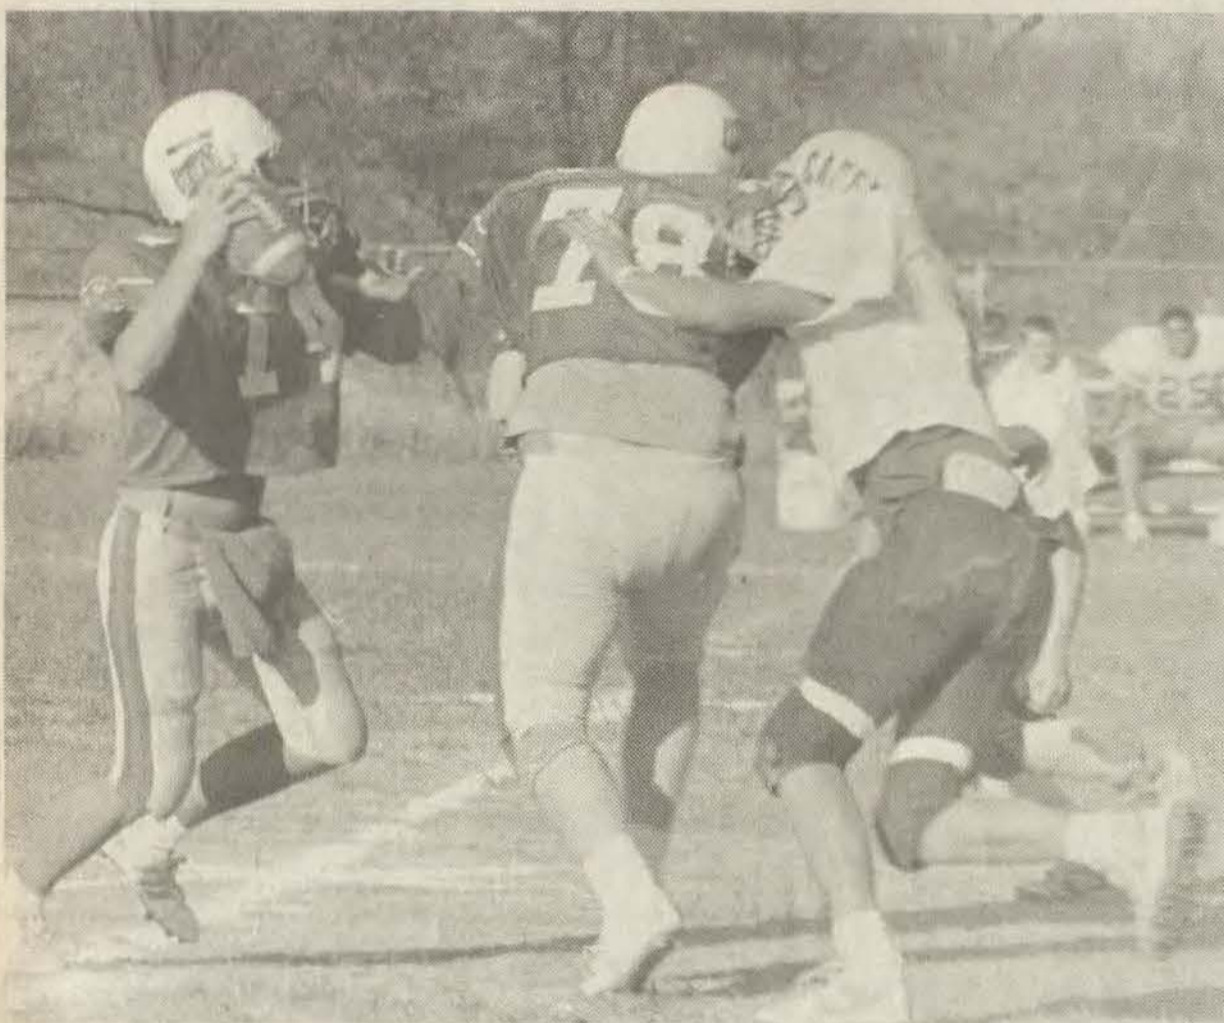

The big award at a NCA camp is the "Award Of Excellence" award. Four squads are chosen from all the high schools and elementary squads attending The top four squads—three high schools and McDowell Junior High — then competed for the coveted title, which was won by the Mullins High School cheerleading squad. However, because McDowell was chosen as one of the four finalists, the squad will advance to regional competition held at the University of Kentucky on Nov. 4. The regional winner will be eligible to compete in the NCA National Championship held at Dallas, Texas.

Since the summer workshop, the McDowell cheerleaders continue to work hard. The squad recently won first place in the Maytown Invitational basketball tournament. The McDowell cheerleaders are sponsored by Jerri Turner.

To Compete in Regional Meet

The McDowell Junior High boys basketball cheerleaders recently was chosen as one of four finalists in the National Cheerleaders Association workshop during the summer. The local junior high squad competed against three other high school squads for the title. The varsity squad will be traveling to the University of Kentucky Nov. 4 to compete for the regional title. The McDowell girls would like to thank all the businesses whose donations made their trip possible. Maytown Tops Garrett

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

According to Maytown Coach Forrest Hughes, his Wildcats are getting better and better. That was evident as Maytown defeated a good Garrett team, 58-25, in recent grade school basketball at Wayland.

Jeremy Clark scored 17 points, pulled down nine rebounds and had five assists in leading the Wildcats to victory.

"We haven't really had any tough games yet except for the Martin game we lost," Hughes stated. "That sort of worries me. The district seems to be different this year. No medium teams that you beat six points. You either beat somebody bad or you have the real close ones."

Chris Halbert, another outstanding player for the Maytown team, scored 16 points and had four rebounds and two assists. Maytown is 8-1 on the season. Garrett was led in scoring by Jason Baker with six points. Byron Ring added five and Steve Turner had four.

Re-Elect Gerald DeRossett Vote Straight Democratic Ticket

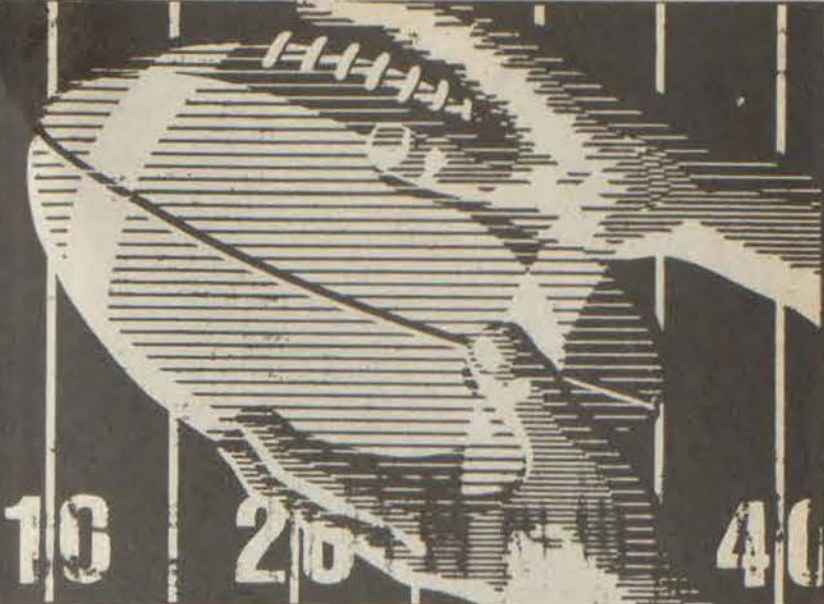

We would like to take this means to ask everyone living in District #1 to vote for and re-elect Gerald DeRossett for magistrate (No. 6 on the ballot). He is in our opinion, the best qualified, most experienced, most humble and above all the most honest person for the job. He does not boast or brag about all of the good things he has accomplished. Gerald, has black-topped and graveled more roads, worked on most school projects, and cleaned-up more parks of our area than any person we know of. He also has done a great deal for the Senior Citizens and continues to do so. He is there to serve you the people 24 hours, day or night. We can verify this by the hard work which he does every day, and by the roads on which you drive.

Prestonsburg Gets Past Martin In Close One, 59-55

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

It had the resemblance of a championship game. Who knows? It might have been a sneak preview of the county championship game in grade school basketball. It had good defensive plays, offensive plays and noisy fans.

The game: Prestonsburg against Martin at Martin. That was the way things went as the gym was packed and the crowd was treated to one of the best grade school basketball games to be played as of late.

Chad Caldwell, 6'2", scored 20 points and pulled down 13 rebounds

(four resulting in lay ups) to lead the Blackcats to a 59-55 victory over previously undefeated Martin. The game was even closer than the four point final margin. Caldwell had 10 field goals to account for his 20 points. He also had three blocked shots.

Prestonsburg opened with five quick points on baskets by Caldwell, David Gearheart and a free throw by Mike Goble. Martin pulled to within one on baskets by Glen Floyd and Hubert Likens. Gearheart's basket made it 7-4 Blackcats, and a basket by Ronnie Sammons from the corner took it to 7-6. Likens took a nice dish off pass from Toby Robinson for a lay up to make it 9-8. Caldwell, on a turnaround jumper, made it 11-8. Baskets by Floyd and Kelly Stephens but the Flash in the lead at 12-11. Caldwell, from underneath, made it 13-12 and Robinson's basket pushed Martin up by one, 14-13. Gearheart's 12-footer gave Prestonsburg a first quarter lead of 15-14.

Floyd's bucket at the start of the second period made it 16-15 Martin. After Caldwell took a super pass from Gearheart for a bucket, Martin ran off six straight points on two baskets at the top of the key by Floyd and a bucket by Sammons from the corner off a steal to go up by five, 22-17.

Prestonsburg called time out to regroup. Dammon Stepp hit a basket from the three point area (there are no three pointers in grade school basketball) to make it 22-19. After Byron Gearheart put a shot in off an offensive rebound, and Sammons hit again from the corner, Stepp hit three straight from 20 feet out to bring Prestonsburg to within one, 26-25. A bucket by Sammons gave Martin a halftime lead of 28-25.

Two quick third quarter baskets by Caldwell put the Blackcats up by one, 29-28. Stephens scored from eight feet out for Martin to put the Flash up 30-29. The scored was tied at 36-36 with 3:06 remaining in the quarter. After a Martin turnover, Prestonsburg went ahead by four, 40-36 on baskets by Gearheart and Stepp. Prestonsburg missed two free throws on a technical foul called against Martin for holding the net. Stepp missed both free throws and Martin tied the game at 40-40 on buckets by Gearheart and Likens. Thomas Ratliff's basket just before the buzzer gave the younger Blackcats a 42-40 lead at the third stop.

The fourth quarter went as the rest of the game had gone. Likens' two baskets at the start of the period put the Flash up by two, 44-42. Shell made it 44-40 on a basket from four feet out. After a free throw by Gearheart, Stepp's basket made it 46-45.

With 1:33 remaining in the game and Martin up by one, 51-50, Prestonsburg scored six unanswered points to take a 56-51 lead. Martin's defense tightened up and the scored was 56-53 on free throws by Floyd and Gearheart. David Gearheart's free throw gave Prestonsburg a 57-53 lead. Robinson scored on a lay up to pull to within two, 57-55. Sammons intercepted a Blackcat pass. Likens then was fouled and he missed the front of a one and one. On the rebound, Stephens was fouled on the shot and he missed both free throws and a chance to tie the game. A basket by Ratliff before the buzzer gave the final margin of 59-55.

Missed free throws down the stretch hurt the Purple Flash. Martin hit five out of 13 and Prestonsburg connected on three out of nine.

The win improves the Blackcats' record to 5-0 and Martin falls to 5-1. Gearheart had 15 points for Prestonsburg and Stepp added 14. Byron Gearheart led Martin in scoring with 14 points. Likens tossed in 12 points while Floyd netted 11.

Prestonsburg 15 10 17 17 (59): Chad Caldwell, 10 0-0 20; Mike Goble, 0 1-2 1; David Gearheart, 7 1-3 15; Dammon Stepp, 7 0-2 14; Charles Shell, 2 1-2 5; Thomas Ratliff, 2 0-0 4.

Chad Caldwell (41) blocks the path of Toby Robinson of Martin. The two undefeated teams met Monday night at the Martin gym with the Blackcats winning over the Purple Flash, 59-55. Caldwell scored 20 points in the win.

All-American Cheerleader

Angie Reynolds, a senior at Betsy Layne High School, has been named an All-American Cheerleader by the National Cheerleader Association. Reynolds, by being chosen for the honor, will be eligible to go to Hawaii and perform at the Aloha Bowl later in the year. Reynolds was also chosen last year as an All-American Cheerleader and performed in London, England.

Reynolds Named All-American Cheerleader At Recent Workshop

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Angie Reynolds has been a cheerleader since she was in the fifth grade. This year, Reynolds is a senior at Betsy Layne High School and is captain of the Bobcat's varsity cheerleaders squad.

Last year she was named an "All-Star Cheerleader" and had the honor to perform in the New Years parade in London, England, that was reviewed by the Royal Family and Margaret Thatcher, prime minister of Great Britain.

"I was chosen under the Universal Cheerleaders Association last year," Reynolds stated. "I performed with a group of other cheerleaders instead of as an individual."

This past June, Reynolds once again was named an "All-Star Cheerleader" by the National Cheerleader Association. Being named to the prestigious group affords Reynolds the opportunity to be eligible to perform in the Aloha Bowl in Hawaii later in the year.

"The members of the NCA group watched us as we practiced. They never told us what they were doing. Finally they told us, and 10 cheerleaders were chosen from the group in which one was named an all-star cheerleader and that was me," says Reynolds.

"We were judged on our cheers, tumble pass and jump," the All-Star cheerleader went on to explain. "So I am eligible to go to Hawaii and perform in the Aloha Bowl."

She also was selected as a Scholastic All-American, National Leadership and Service Award, recognized as one of America's most outstanding young spirit leaders, the recipient of a National Commemorative Certificate from the United States Achievement Academy conferring upon her the honor of National Award Winner.

Reynolds will be leading her cheerleader squad as they support the Bobcats of Betsy Layne this basketball season.

Reynolds is the daughter of Ronnie and Gail Reynolds of Betsy Layne.

College Outlook

In The East:

Virginia at N.C. State

This game could be the Atlantic Coast Conference title game. Both teams enter the contest with 4-1 records. Both have already lost to Clemson, which was upset by Georgia Tech and Duke. If either North Carolina State or Virginia lose another game, Clemson could tie for the title.

In The Midwest:

Army at Air Force

This will be the final home game for the Falcons this season as the Army is planning an invasion of Falcon country. The Falcons have lost twice but have rolled over six other opponents, scoring a total of 305 points for an average of 38 per game. Army lost its opener to Syracuse and was also beaten by Duke.

Out West:

Nebraska at Colorado

You may not remember it, but Colorado upset Nebraska just three years ago, 20-10. And even though the Cornhuskers hold a big 34-12-1 series lead, the Buffaloes have not been the pushover each year that has characterized some of the teams in the Big Eight Conference. The problem in 1989 is that Colorado is forced to face both Oklahoma and Nebraska on successive Saturdays. No easy task. But in this one, the Buffaloes are at home, and that could make the difference.

Down South:

Western Ky. at Louisville

Western Kentucky is still thinking playoff berth. The Hilltoppers have won three straight games, including a big 41-38 surprise of Youngstown last Saturday afternoon. But the game against the Louisville Cardinals may hold the key to the Hilltoppers hopes.

Closer To Home:

Cincinnati at Kentucky

Kentucky looking to get back on the winning trail after giving one to the Bulldogs of Georgia last Saturday. Cincinnati will be looking for their first win against coach Jerry Claiborne's Wildcats. Quarterback Freddie Maggard is showing steady improvement at the signal calling spot for the 'Cats. Alfred Jones has been suspended from the Wildcat team for curfew violations, but it should not affect the outcome of this one. Kentucky will be too much for the Bearcats.

In The Back Yard:

Eastern Ky. at Middle Tenn.

Watch out! Eastern Kentucky University football coach Roy Kidd's Colonels will have their hands full in this one. Both schools are the last two undefeated teams in league play at 4-0 for Eastern and 3-0 for Middle Tennessee. The two will square off at 1:30 p.m. at Middle Tennessee in Murfreesboro. EKV, ranked number one in the nation after defeating a determined homecoming opponent Murray State, 38-36, last Saturday, is now 8-0 on the year. Middle Tennessee, meanwhile, is 5-3 overall and had an open date last weekend.

Just For Fun:

Cleveland at Tampa Bay, Cincinnati at L.A. Raiders

The Browns have won all three meetings against the Buccaneers. But the Bucs are for real this year. This game could go either way.

Bengal quarterback Boomer Esiason led the Bengals to total destruction of Raiders last season. Esiason passed for 332 yards, including three TDs. However, that was last year. The Raiders are to be reckoned with this time around.

Allen Runs Past Betsy Layne Bobcats, 51-28

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The Allen Eagles evened their season record at 2-2 with a 51-28 victory over the Betsy Layne Bobcats, Saturday afternoon at the Betsy Layne gym behind the 19 point performance of Cory Reitz.

Allen opened with a hot hand, moving out quickly to a 15-2 lead and outscoring the Bobcats 17-4 in the first quarter. Reitz scored seven points in the first quarter and Jamie Blackburn added six. Phillip "Snake" Patton opened the game with a gimmie underneath. Blackburn came back with a basket and a free throw to make it 5-0. After a basket by Dave Kimbler, Allen scored nine unanswered points. Two free throws by Keith Hamilton gave the only other two points to Betsy Layne in the first quarter.

The younger Bobcats scored the first six points in the opening of the second stanza to come with seven, 17-10. A 14-2 run by Allen gave the Eagles a halftime lead of 31-12. Reitz scored eight points in the period.

Patton and Reitz hit two quick baskets at the start of the third period to put the Eagles up by 23, 35-12. Hamilton scored all six of the Bobcat's points in third stanza.

In the final stanza, the Bobcats played the Eagles evenly as both teams substituted in the fourth. Chris Hunt scored six points in the fourth for Betsy Layne as the Eagles posted a 51-28 victory.

Patton added 10 points in the game for the Eagles. Hamilton topped the Bobcats in scoring with 15, followed by Hunt's six. The loss was only Betsy Layne's second of the season against six victories.

Red-White Scrimmages

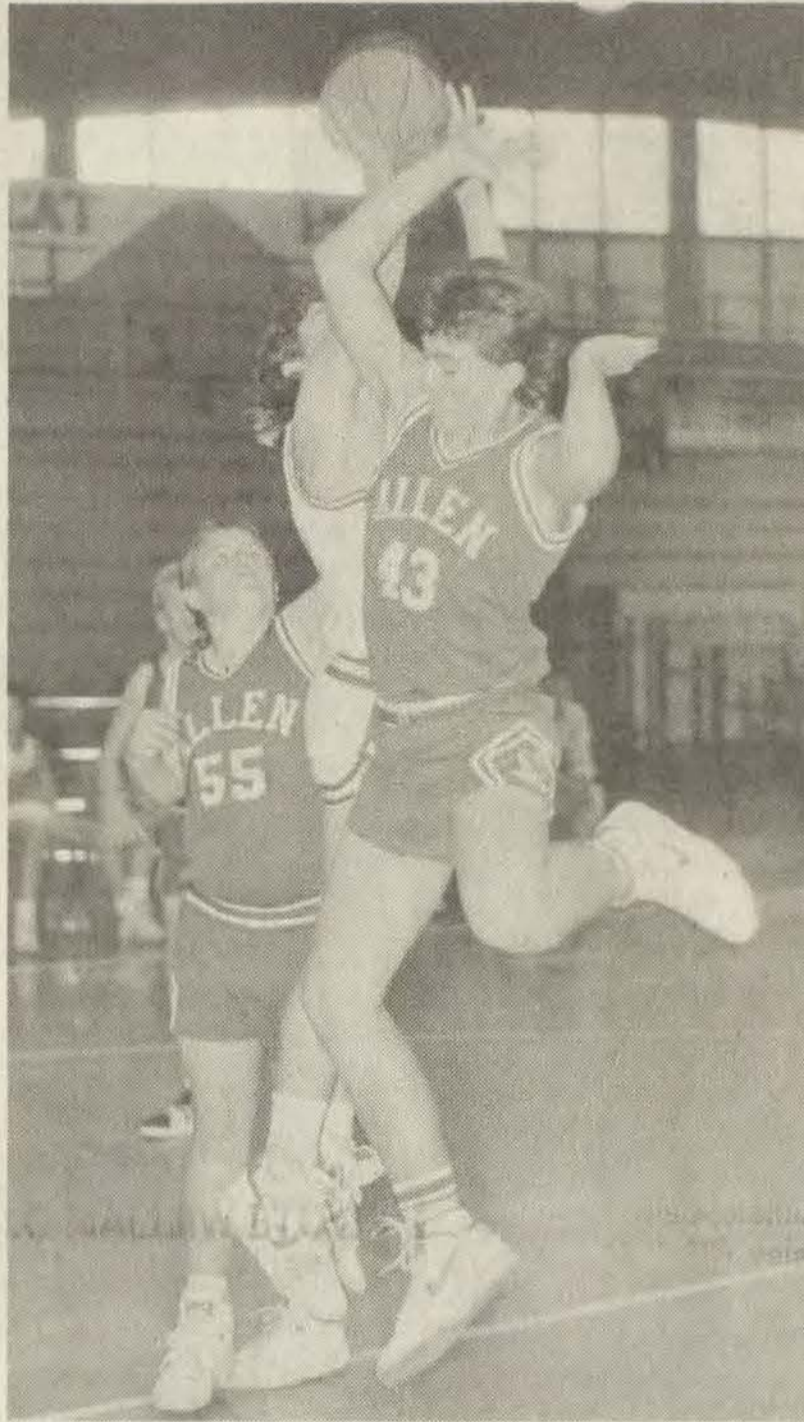

The Western Kentucky Hilltopper basketball team has scheduled two Red-White intrasquad scrimmages as a prelude the upcoming 1989-90 basketball season.

The Toppers will play back-to-back days at Marshall County High School in Benton and at Brescia College in Owensboro.

"This is a great way for Hilltopper fans to get a look at our team before the competitive season begins," said WKU Head Coach Murray Arnold. "I hope lots of fans can make it out for these exciting scrimmages."

The first scrimmage will be Saturday, Nov. 4, at Marshall County. Game time is set for 7:45 p.m. The next day, Sunday, Nov. 5, the Hilltoppers will travel to Owensboro to perform at the Campus Center Gym on the campus of Brescia College.

Williams As Surprised As Others By Success Of Magoffin County Team

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The Magoffin County Hornets weren't supposed to beat anyone. The Hornets had only had a football team one year. A new coach had come to town with a new system. Things were not expected to develop as they did.

Fans were pleasantly surprised, but perhaps the person most taken aback at the success of this year's edition of Hornet football was Chuke Williams, Magoffin County's head football coach.

"Surprised? Yes. A million miles of surprises," the Hornet mentor stated. "We were not a quick football team. We were not a big football team. We had to make up for our lack of size and speed by good execution on offense. We didn't make a lot of mistakes as a team and that won some football games for us."

The Hornets finished 8-2 on the year. Williams recalls one game he would like to replay.

"We lost to Morgan County on a 44-yard field goal in the rain and mud," he recalled. "I sure would like to replay that one. They caught us at the beginning of the season." The Hornets fell to Morgan County 9-8.

The Hornets will be losing 10 seniors off of this year's team, five of those being starters. However, the Hornets will return next year with five starters back — one being the Hornet's outstanding running back Bryan Osborne.

Williams considers himself an offensive minded coach.

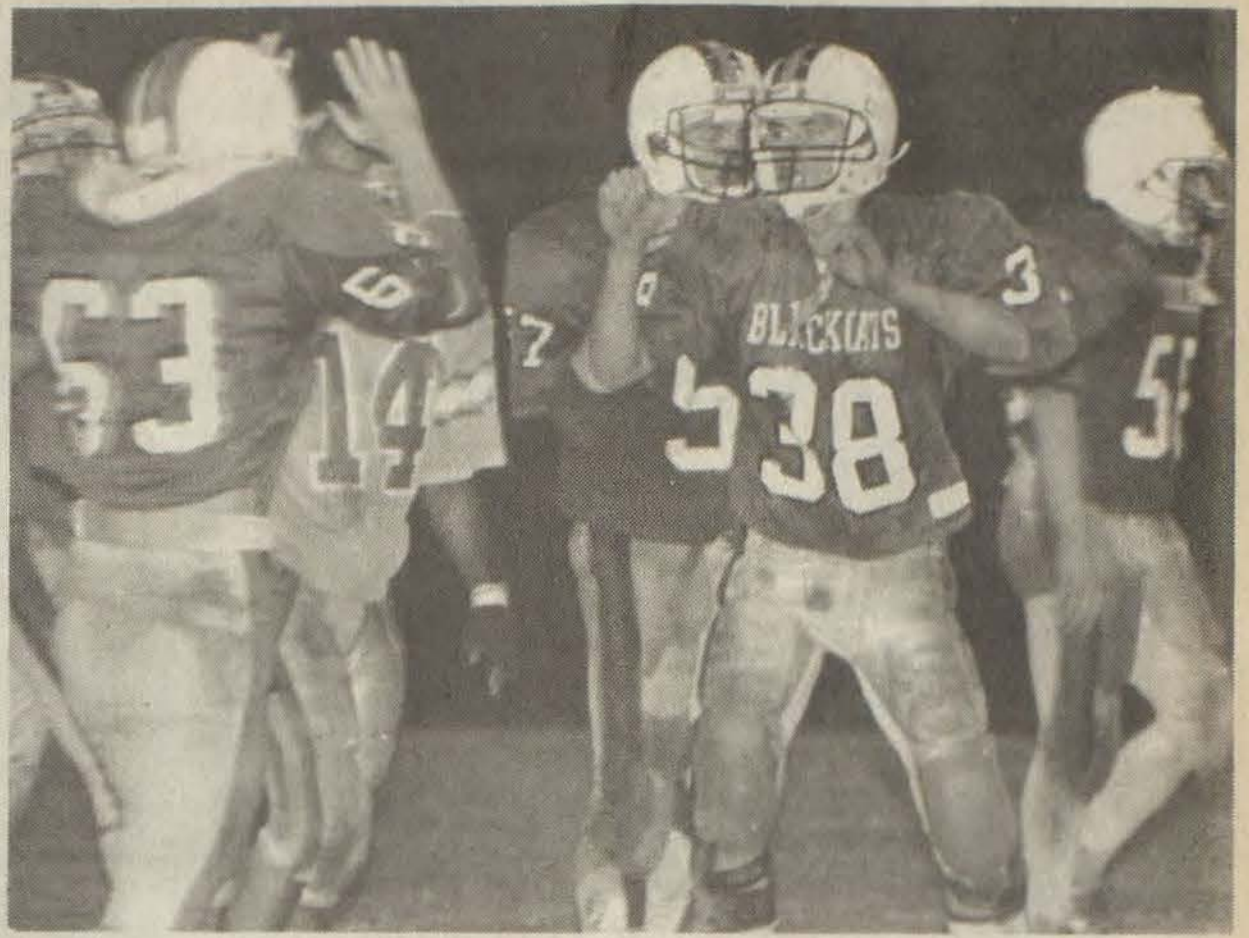

"Yes sir, I love offense," he said. "When I came to Magoffin County I got Johnny Ray Harris, who I coached at Prestonsburg, to come and be my defensive coordinator. He has done a tremendous job for us."

"We are close as group. We have had no discipline problems this year. The kids showed respect. They would say 'yes sir, no sir,'" Williams said. "Our fan support has been good. The people are beginning to talk up the sport now."

Williams was quick to give credit to Athletic Director Danny Adams. "Danny has bent over backwards to help us out this year. Really I look for a good year in sports all around for Magoffin County. The basketball program is going to be solid. (The Hornets are coached by Danny Adams.) We have a new baseball coach in Danny Rice who was here in his first year, last season."

Williams will be getting his team under a weight lifting program this winter, something that wasn't possible last winter. The Hornets have shown an interest in the program. In addition, some young men at the school who can play football but didn't this past year have shown an interest in being on next year's squad, says Williams.

Player Attempts Attack On Official; Mothers Come To Blows

A lineman on the Millersburg Military Institute football had to be restrained by teammates in a game against the Magoffin County Hornets as he attempted to get at an official after a clipping call. The player voiced his disgust over the call and was then ejected from the game. He then turned toward the official and was restrained.

Meanwhile in the stands, a fist fight erupted between a Magoffin County woman and the mother of an MMI Cadet. Robert Hopkins, head coach of the Cadet team, said the institute has removed the lineman from school.

The circulatory system of the human body contains about 60,000 miles of blood vessels and capillaries.

December, deer activity levels increase with the onset of mating season. Bucks especially travel more frequently during this period, often crossing roadways. High traffic times for deer movement are early morning, late afternoon and at night.

Drivers traveling in areas where deer crossing signs are posted or on heavily wooded stretches of road should be particularly alert. If you do encounter deer on the road at night, it is best to attempt to stop before reaching the animal. Vehicle headlights temporarily blind and confuse deer, which may cause them to freeze, or bolt wildly in any direction.

Motorists who are able to stop will less likely have a collision than those who attempt to go around or avoid the animal when passing. Reducing your speed in potential road crossing areas will further aid in reducing the chance of an accident.

LET THE RECORD BE CLEARED

Mayor

First of all, let the record be stated clearly about how many meetings I have missed. One meeting that I had missed was because I was out speaking with our citizens about liquor by the drink, that you, Mayor Latta, broke a 4 to 4 tie vote to legalize booze by the drink.

Well Mayor, about other meetings that I have missed is because my mother, the late Geneva Joseph, was dying of cancer in a Louisville Hospital and I wanted to be with her what little time she had left to live. It was excused by you then and Mayor, you seemed to act concerned and assured me that it was alright to be with my now, deceased mother. I feel that it is only natural to be with our families at times of emergency crisis.

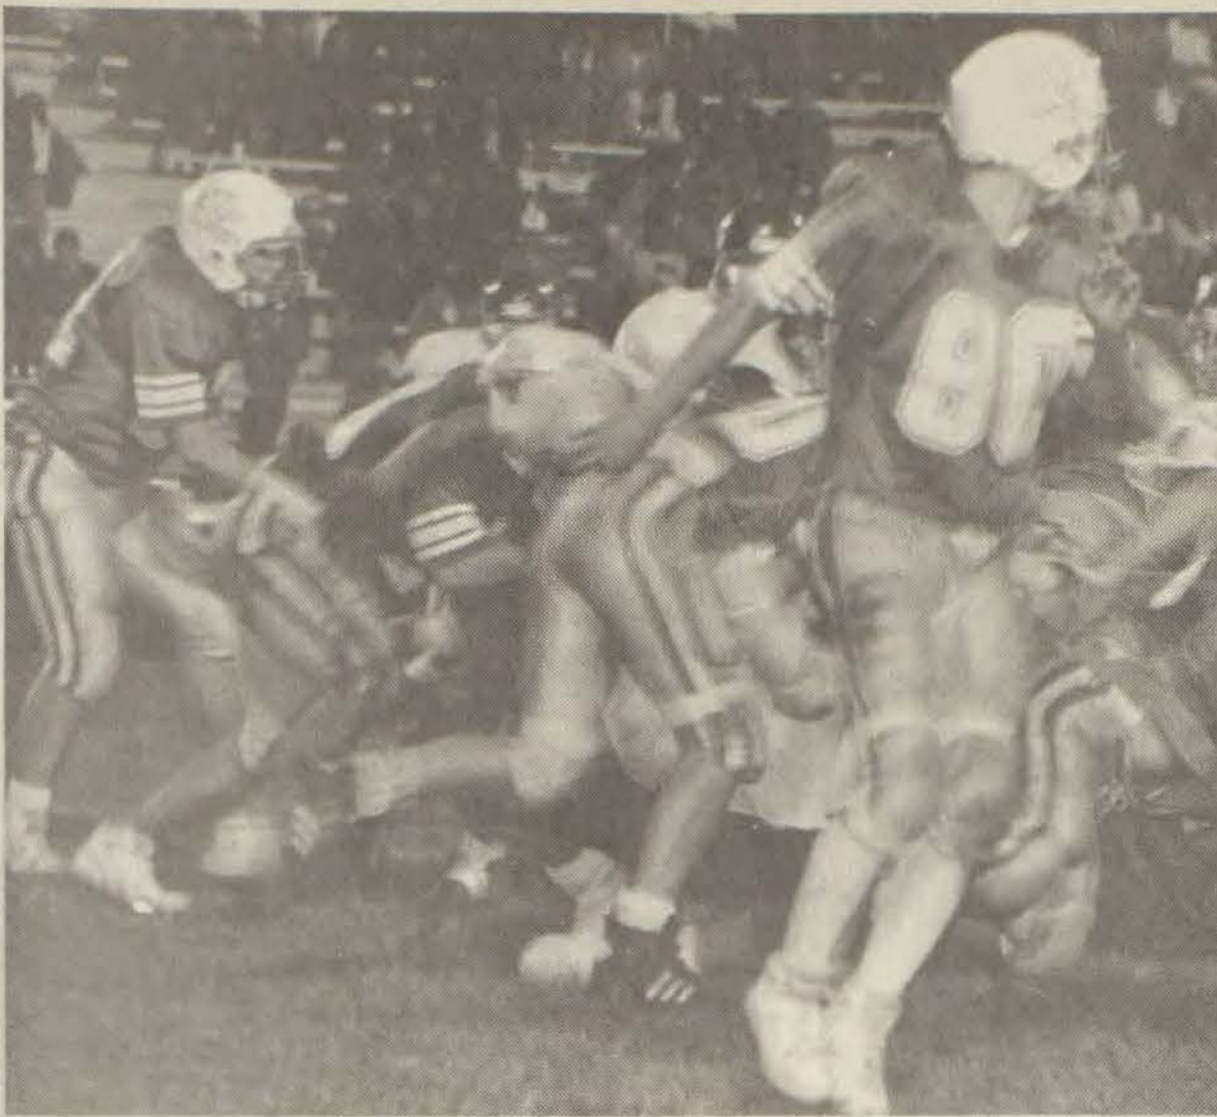

Mayor, you are right that I did not go to Frankfort with you and your guests. For one thing, I did not know about your plans on going and furthermore, I do not recall being asked or invited to go with you.

Mayor, you stated you went back in October of 1988 concerning the red lights being put in for the safety of our children. Mayor, don't be ridiculous. Why are you just now receiving a response? Was it because you did not go at all or just did not follow up on this plan concerning safety; or maybe it was because you were at the Planning Candidates Meeting of Floyd for Governor.

LET THE REAL FACTS BE KNOWN.

P.S. Mayor, it really saddens me that you would hold missing a couple of meetings to be with my dying mother, Geneva Joseph, against Me.

*Thank you
Barl Joseph*

RECORD DEER HARVEST IN 1988 DESPITE DROUGHT
The 1988 deer season marked the 12th consecutive year that Kentucky deer hunters have enjoyed a record harvest.

Although last year's unforeseen drought conditions caused the estimated total deer harvest of 83,500 animals to be lower than preseason predictions, the harvest did reflect an increase of over 3,000 from the 1987 season.

For the 1989 season, deer hunters can expect a similar increase in harvest, although a large harvest in 1987 and the effects of last year's drought has warranted a reduction in either sex hunting days in some counties.

Barring more of nature's surprises and climatic extremes, Kentucky's deer population should make a full recovery by the 1991 season, according to Program Coordinator John Phillips.

"The level of fawn mortality experienced in 1988 was significantly reduced when compared to this summer," said Phillips.

"This year, temperatures were milder and more water was available. Both factors increased fawn survivability, which leads to a higher potential for reproduction. The end result should be more deer for hunters to pursue," added the biologist.

While much of Kentucky will see some increase in harvest this season, deer hunters, especially in the eastern third of the state, can continue to expect their hunting opportunities to get better with each passing season.

Within the next few years, Phillips expects Kentucky's deer harvest to peak near 120,000—over 35,000 more animals than were most recently harvested. Most of the growth will occur in Eastern Kentucky, as many areas in the other two-thirds of the state have reached peak numbers already.

As Kentucky's deer herd keeps expanding, more areas will be opened to doe hunting to help maintain populations at an optimum level of health and number.

"Our goal is to offer ample hunting opportunity, while managing Kentucky's deer resource wisely for the future," Phillips said.

"So far, our efforts have produced superb results, so we intend to stay with this strategy in an attempt to create the best quality deer hunting we can have in Kentucky," Phillips concluded.

WHERE THERE ARE FIREARMS, DEER HUNTERS MUST WEAR HUNTER ORANGE

"All persons hunting deer during any season or hunting where firearms are permitted shall wear a minimum total of 500 square inches of visible solid hunter orange color on the head, back and chest," according to 1989 Kentucky deer hunting regulations.

A cap and vest in hunter orange satisfies the requirement. The cap may have an emblem on it, as long as the orange color can be seen from head on.

Hunters are required to wear the brilliant orange for their own protection. Since the color appears nowhere in nature, other hunters won't mistake you for anything other than a human.

Deer hunters should contact Fort Campbell and Fort Knox for their special requirements.

BAITING DEER

"Is it legal to bait for deer?" hunters frequently ask as deer season approaches.

"Yes," says John Phillips, deer program coordinator with the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, "there's nothing in Kentucky's deer hunting regulations that prohibits baiting deer."

"I'm not sure how effective the practice is for deer hunting purposes," the biologist continued, "but hunters can put out grain, salt or a whole bushel of apples if they want to."

Salt is one of the most popular and successful deer attractants. An effective method is to hang a porous bag filled with rock salt in a tree. Every time it rains, salt particles are carried to the ground below. Numerous deer tracks in the salty area give evidence that the method works.

Making Inactive Bass Strike Lures

If there is anything bass fishermen agree on, it is that there are two distinct types of bass: "active" fish that chase lures and get caught easily, and "inactive" bass that don't seem to chase anything, anytime.

Unfortunately, anglers encounter the inactive fish far more often than the active ones.

"There are some tricks you can try to make the inactive bass bite," notes former fisheries biologist Ken Cook, now a highly successful bass tournament competitor and member of the Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff. "The first thing I do is try to generate a reflex strike. The bass isn't mad, it isn't hungry, and it doesn't feel threatened. It just hits the lure."

To achieve a reflex strike, Cook keys on the element of sound, trying to make his lures produce abnormal vibrations. This means different retrieves; adding noise or rattles to his lures, and using abnormally large lures.

"In warm, clear water, I often retrieve my lures very fast," explains the Evinrude pro. "I will pump a spinnerbait a lot, letting it rise and fall repeatedly instead of bringing it right back to the boat. I'll also buzz it as fast as I can turn the reel handle."

Cook tries for the same effect with crankbaits. He reels them in with rapid but erratic stop-and-go retrieves, and makes certain the lures continually bounce and ricochet off objects on the bottom.

"The idea is not to leave a lure in the same place very long," he says. "This is especially true in tidal waters. I make repeated casts to a target, and each cast is a busy one."

Many anglers try to match the size of their lures to the size of the bait in the areas they're fishing, a rule Cook readily breaks when he finds inactive bass.

"Sometimes in the summer you'll see a lot of small shad in the water," he explains, "but rather than use a small lure, I'll switch to an extremely large one, particularly a spinnerbait with a really big willow leaf blade, and I'll pump this through the bait-fish.

"What happens more often than not is that you catch really large bass that may actually be feeding on smaller bass, which in turn are the fish following those shad."

In cooler weather, Cook does slow his retrieves, but he still tries for different vibrations.

Larry's Heart Is Making A Comeback

In February, Larry Dean Adams, a 41 year old Prestonsburg fire fighter suffered a heart attack. He was rushed to the Emergency Room at Highlands where he learned another massive attack was coming on.

"It was frightening. But I did trust the people there. I'd seen the nurses and doctors work a lot of wonders. The nurses were just constantly checking on me. I could feel the love they were giving me and I just wondered if everyone got treated this way.

I did not have to undergo surgery because of the treatment I was given at Highlands...the TPA dissolved the blood clot that had caused my problem.

"The biggest fear that I had was that I'd never be a fire fighter again. I didn't want to be a burden on anyone."

A week later, Larry entered Cardiac Rehabilitation, a program designed to rebuild strength and stamina, aimed at getting patients back to work and back to a normal life style.

"It was a mental healing as well as a physical healing. The fear left as I started regaining confidence that I wasn't going to fall dead at the next step."

Larry's program included supervised exercise in his fire fighters' breathing apparatus, heavy equipment that put Larry's heart to the test under real working conditions.

More than exercise, the program included counseling for Larry and his family. "The entire family had the heart attack. Everyone suffered when I was suffering, and everyone was pulling for me in rehab."

They all learned about diet and handling stress. "It changed all of our eating habits. It changed our thoughts on exercise programs and it made our family a lot closer."

Larry—and his heart—are making a comeback. "I'm back to work—I'm going to be a fireman again!"

County Kettle

As County Kettle is always delighted to print recipes, tips and ideas submitted by its readers, this week features a guest columnist, Mark Sohn.

Mr. Sohn is a professor of psychology at Pikeville College and has taught a child development class there for several years. He has been an avid cook for some time and decided to try to incorporate child activities into the art of cooking.

Mr. Sohn and his wife, Kathy, have two children, ages 10 and 12, and together they have created several lessons that are simple and fun and will add quality time between parents and children during routine meal preparation. Mr. Sohn's columns will appear periodically in County Kettle and he encourages anyone with questions to write him at Class Cooking, 103 Honeysuckle Dr., Pikeville, KY 41501.

"I hope to adapt your recipes to child learning or answer your questions about food," he said.

CLASS COOKING: GREEK SALAD
 By Mark F. Sohn

In the shadow of Arizona's San Francisco Peaks, while the chicken was being barbecued over hickory chips, we recently enjoyed a wonderful Greek Salad. Laura's sixth grade teacher, Page Ballard, and her husband Don, had invited us for supper at her home in the pines.

Years ago Kathy and I had a similar salad at one of our favorite Baltimore restaurants. Now I wanted to make it. I found Feta cheese at the supermarket, but my choice of olives was limited. I got on the phone and called George at Athens Imported Food in Indianapolis.

GREEK SALAD: A basic and colorful green salad, the essential vegetables are lettuce, tomato, cucumber and onion. To this you add Greek olives, Feta cheese and a dressing made with olive oil and oregano. I suggest making the salad on individual plates and keeping the dressing in a small bowl until it is served.

I searched for the right olives and good Feta cheese. George at Athens came to my aid. He is the owner of Athens Imported Food (City Market, 84-85, Indianapolis, Ind. 46204.) You can call him at (317) 632-0269.

He mailed me some Calamata olives in soya oil and vinegar brine, distributed by Krinos Foods, Inc. of New York. The Calamata olive is a deep red to black olive, highly flavored, crunchy and with seed. It made my Greek Salad. Here, from my experience and Karen Green's book, Classic Cold Cuisine, is the recipe.

DIFFICULTY AND YIELD: Moderate. Even though there is no cooking, the salad and the dressing call for 21 ingredients, special olives and cheese. Putting all this together takes a little effort, but no cooking skill. It makes a large dinner salad for eight. The dressing makes two cups.

INGREDIENTS: For the Salad: 8 cups of washed, dried and mixed lettuce greens (for this salad I like Bibb, Boston, Oak Leaf, red leaf and Endive; use what you have) broken into small pieces; 4 medium tomatoes peeled and cut into wedges; 2 cucumbers peeled, quartered and sliced thick; 2 green bell peppers seeded and cut into 8 rings (discard the seeds and pith); 1 medium red onion, peeled and sliced thin with the rings separated; 8 radishes cleaned and cut in half; 32 Calamata or black Greek olives; 16 green olives with pimento; 8 teaspoons of capers; and 8 ounces of Feta cheese.

For the Dressing: 1/2 cup of vinegar, 1/4 cup of minced fresh mint, 1 tablespoon of dried, ground oregano, 1 cup of olive oil, 1/2 cup of safflower oil, 1 teaspoon of salt, 1/4 teaspoon of pepper, and 1/4 teaspoon of dry mustard.

STEPS: Prepare the Dressing: If possible prepare the dressing 24 hours ahead and let it rest in the refrigerator. Place all the dressing ingredients, in the order given, in a jar. Seal with a tight lid and shake very hard. Refrigerate. Pour into a small bowl and serve with a ladle or use a salad dressing shake-up bottle.

Prepare the Salads: Select eight 9-inch salad plates and divide the lettuce among them. Arrange the other salad ingredients in the order given. For example, each plate should have four tomato wedges, placed evenly on the plate at the 12, 3, 6 and 9 o'clock positions, the top of the wedge up. If the salads are prepared more than 20 minutes ahead they must be covered with plastic wrap and refrigerated.

LESSON/ACTIVITY: Mathematics, Measurement of Time, Grade Three. Greek mythology, Greek architecture and Greek Salad — the Greeks gave us so much and they measured time.

In the third grade children learn about measuring length, weight, time, volume and temperature. This lesson is adapted from Real Math, the Open Court math curriculum published in La Salle, Ill.

1. Telling Time: In Real Math third graders tell time to the nearest minute. Ask your child to look at the clock and tell the time to the nearest minute including a.m. or p.m. Draw pictures of five clocks that show different times and ask your child to tell the time, again to the nearest minute, including a.m. or p.m.

2. Units of Time Duration: In the third grade children solve story problems using seconds, minutes, hours, days, weeks, months and years. Ask your child to explain these measures.

3. Time Problems: Helen Keller was born in 1880. How many years ago was this? There are 60 minutes in an hour; how many minutes are in 1/4 of an hour? If Adam runs one kilometer in 3 minutes, how long will it take him to run 10 kilometers?

Childers Family Reunion Held At Jenny Wiley

The third annual Childers family reunion was held Saturday, Sept. 29, at Jenny Wiley State Park in Prestonsburg.

One hundred and four members from five states attended the event. Activities included horseshoes and other games, as well as special singing by the Goble Family.

Awards were presented to Gussie Childers Preston, 84, the oldest person present; Holly Pennington, 11 months, the youngest person present; Ledford and Eula Powers, who traveled the farthest to attend the event; and the families of Jim Childers and Lawrence Childers for having the most family members present. In addition, Don and Suzanne Childers were presented an award for their work on the Childers genealogy in the past year, and Dan Childers was presented a photo album which contained the Childers family crest for his work in arranging this year's reunion. This year, T-shirts and sweatshirts with the Childers family crest were available through the efforts of Don and Suzanne Childers.

Many of the Childers' ladies made quilt blocks which they exchanged and will now begin making a Childers genealogy quilt containing blocks made by other members of their family. During the all-day event, Tim and Sandy Childers entertained the children with various games and awards.

Those in attendance from Kentucky included: Dan Childers, Faye Childers, Elaine Sykes, Sara Sykes, Becky Sykes, Fred Stapleton, Gloria Childers Stapleton, Alva Childers, Emma Childers Infield, Chuck Anderson, Cindy Childers Anderson, Charles Daniel Anderson, Chandra Anderson, Tim Childers, Sandy Childers, Kimberly Childers, Savanna Childers and Archie Childers, all of Hellier;

Attention: Concerned Citizens Of District 3

During my campaign I have found several factors that will decide who is going to represent YOU for the next four years as your magistrate. The most common, of course, are the PHRASES, "I won't vote for a woman," "I won't vote Republican," "We are related," or "They have done too many favors." As for the latter excuse, when an elected official uses PUBLIC EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES to do You a "FAVOR," he or she is only doing the job We, the taxpayers, pay them to do. Otherwise they are CLEARLY BREAKING THE LAW.

The problems we face today are far too complex for the traditional politics of yesteryear. There should be only two factors when you enter the voting booth next Tuesday, November 7th. Either you are ready for a change or you are thoroughly satisfied with the deplorable conditions that now exist. SHE offers you MORE OF THE SAME POLITICS AS USUAL. I GUARANTEE CHANGE.

My dependence on you will not stop when the votes are counted next Tuesday. If you choose me to represent you, I will need your assistance more than ever. I will ask that in each of the 12 precincts YOU form a committee to evaluate your COMMUNITY and inform me when you meet. I WILL BE THERE! All legitimate work will be scheduled according to the "WORST FIRST" THEORY.

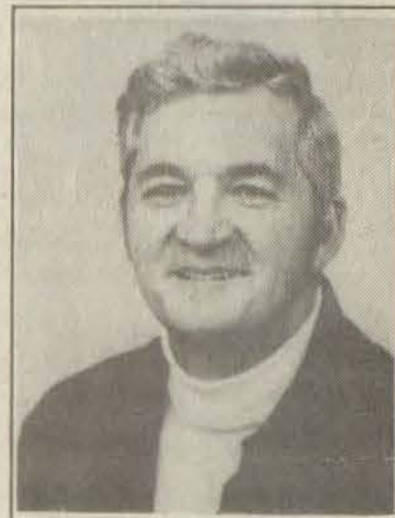

I would like to personally visit each of you, but my present job has been very demanding for the last several months. If I am elected YOUR magistrate, I will give you the same dedicated service as I have been giving my present employer. In closing, let me suggest that if you are READY FOR A CHANGE, don't stay home and HOPE IT HAPPENS. GO TO THE POLLS AND MAKE IT HAPPEN!!!

I HAVE GIVEN YOU CHOICE—I WILL GIVE YOU VOICE!

Next Tuesday, November 7th, it is YOUR decision.

RE-ELECT—OWENS—MAGISTRATE

THE ONLY "DEMOCRAT" ON THE "DEMOCRAT TICKET" FOR MAGISTRATE in Dist. 2

I didn't "accuse" my opponent of sitting behind a desk drawing taxpayer's money—IT'S A FACT! My opponent said he helped train youth that were from "economically disadvantaged homes"—in other words "a poor family." It's no problem finding "poor families" in Floyd County that need assistance in education. YOU NEVER HELPED ME one bit in getting into training school mister. Billy Osborne of Hueysville is the man that got me in at Pikeville—then I transferred to Hazard. Yeah Doug, I did come out of a "poor family".—My daddy, RALPH OWENS, was a coal miner who got paralyzed in the mines from the waist down from a rock fall and he lived 2 years, 3 months, and 4 days after the accident. He died at the age of 36 and left my mother, MOLLY OWENS, to raise 5 kids in 1963 and my mother never remarried. I was the oldest boy and

I had to try to help my mother with her small 19 acre farm. In 1963, if you didn't grow it—you didn't have anything to eat. You canned it, you strung it, and prepared it for the winter OR YOU WENT HUNGRY. The ONLY assistance we had in the 60's were commodities. I can tell you Doug—I HAVE EAT the powdered eggs, I HAVE DRUNK the powdered milk, and ATE the oats. I think that's probably the reason I don't like oats today. The cheese and the rice were the best things they had, but a block of cheese didn't last long with 5 kids whittling on it. Doug, for as long as I have known you, I have never seen you dirty or even break the sweat. You usually have a white shirt on. Now you're shaking hands with your neighbors that you haven't even thrown your hand up at in 30 years. Yes, you WAS a "DEMOCRAT"—But you're NOT a "DEMOCRAT" NOW. REMEMBER—YOU QUIT the "DEMOCRATIC" Party and joined the "Independent" ticket in January only 3 hours before the filing deadlines. ANSWER ME DOUG—DON'T you own the property where THE BANK JOSEPHINE at Garrett is sitting on? DON'T you also own the lot across from the bank that's leased to a car lot? DON'T you have rent houses in Allen? WASN'T you living at Abbott in Prestonsburg before you moved back to your rent house in Stone Coal to run against me? Yeah Doug—there's a whole lot of people in Dist. 2 that weren't born with a silver spoon in their mouths. There's also a whole lot that haven't had a silver spoon stuck in their mouth by "politicians" either. Quit trying to use this heart attack for sympathy trying to get votes.—My own mother also has a heart condition—I know all about it.

You talk about how you're going to help out with a scholarship fund at Allen Central. Whose idea was that—YOUR'S OR JAMES ARVILLE DUFF our present school board member. After going to the clerk's office and picking up a copy of your petition that you had to file with 20 registered voters' names before you could run on the Independent ticket—I saw that James Arville Duff was the 1st one to sign it—I won't name the other 19. It's a funny thing to me that you're 71 years old and ALL OF A SUDDEN 2 months before the election you're interested in trying to help out with scholarships for kids. WHERE have you been for the last 71 years when kids needed scholarships too?—Is this just to try to get votes? I THINK PEOPLE ARE SMARTER THAN THAT. I went to Lackey Grade School, Garrett Grade School, and in 1963 moved to Maytown and went to grade school and high school there and then finished my senior year at Allen Central High School. I then attended Hazard Vocational School where I took and graduated from Heavy Equipment Operation and Road Building and then entered and graduated from Diesel Mechanics. I then went to work as a Diesel Mechanic and Field Serviceman at Whayne Supply Co. at Pikeville. In January 1977, I went to work at Island Creek Coal Co. at Price which is now Wheelwright Mining. I have been a U.M.W.A. miner for almost 13 years. You talk about being a FULL TIME MAGISTRATE—At Wheelwright Mining, we have worked around 2 days a week for the last 2 years and even if I work a full shift that's 7 hrs. and 15 minutes. I get off at 2:15 in the day. IF I'm not with my crew, I CAN BE REACHED WITHIN MINUTES. You talk about "DEPENDABILITY"—I've never missed or been late for a Fiscal Court meeting in the 4 years I've been Magistrate. We've had MORE BLACKTOP, MORE BRIDGES, MORE CREEKS DIPPED, and MORE ROADS GRAVELED in only 4 short years. This was done with old worn-out equipment. We now have a new grader, a new backhoe, a new dump truck and a GOOD CREW that don't mind coming out in case of emergencies (even on Saturdays and Sundays). WE CAN ACCOMPLISH A LOT MORE IN THE NEXT 4 YEARS.

P.S.—REMEMBER, I'm the "ONLY DEMOCRAT" for MAGISTRATE in DIST. 2.—I am married and I have 2 boys in school. I KNOW what it's like to try to clothe and feed them. I KNOW what I want for the future of my kids. I WANT BETTER for them than I had. When I VOTE in Fiscal Court, I'M VOTING FOR THE FUTURE OF MY KIDS and YOUR KIDS. My "INDEPENDENT" opponent has NEVER been married and has NEVER raised any kids of his own and I WOULDN'T want him to VOTE FOR THE FUTURE of MY KIDS OR YOURS. I heard my "INDEPENDENT" OPPONENT say that he thought it would be a GOOD IDEA for Floyd Co. to bring OUT OF STATE and OUT OF COUNTY GARBAGE into Floyd County to raise a "little extra money." I DON'T think we ought to take garbage into Floyd County at ANY PRICE. People, we have had 4 floods this year and I know there's a lot of problems out there. We're doing everything we can and we'll get to you AS SOON AS WE CAN. There are only 5 MEN in Dist. 2 trying to serve 10,000 PEOPLE.

RE-ELECT OWENS MAGISTRATE

My name is Molly Owens. I am the owner of Molly's Beauty and Florist of Langley. I am the mother of JACKIE

EDFORD OWENS—"DEMOCRAT"—MAGISTRATE—Dist. 2. I saw his "INDEPENDENT" opponent's ad that my son came from a poor family. Back in 1963, it was hard to raise 5 kids on your own, but I am VERY PROUD of how ALL of my 5 kids and their families have done in life. I would like to ask ALL DEMOCRATS and ALL REPUBLICANS to come out on NOV. 7th and VOTE FOR and RE-ELECT my son JACKIE EDFORD OWENS—MAGISTRATE—Dist. 2.

P.S.—It's very important that ALL of Jackie's supporters come out once again and cast your votes on Election Day—Nov. 7. If any of Jackie's supporters need a ride to the poll call 358-9560 or 358-4338. We were "POOR" but we are "PROUD".

RE-ELECT OWENS MAGISTRATE

My name is Dennis Martin. I am the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Martin of Eastern. I have 10 brothers and sisters. I am THE brother-in-law of JACKIE EDFORD OWENS—MAGISTRATE of Dist. 2 that his opponent spoke of in his last week's ad which indicated that I came from an "economically disadvantaged" home. Yes, I was raised on a farm if that's what you call "economically disadvantaged". I knew what HARD WORK was. I am PROUD of the way I was raised. The program was there and I WAS eligible and YOU WERE getting paid to do the job and NO ONE owes you anything. If it wasn't for PEOPLE LIKE US, you wouldn't have had a job. Yes, we have good jobs now, but WE DONE IT ON OUR OWN. Yes, I am a coal miner and I am a STRONG DEMOCRAT. I want to ask ALL DEMOCRATS to come out on NOV. 7 and VOTE FOR and RE-ELECT JACKIE EDFORD OWENS—MAGISTRATE—DIST. 2.

P.S.—Yes, I'm the brother-in-law of JACKIE EDFORD OWENS—MAGISTRATE—Dist. 2 and VERY PROUD OF IT.

RE-ELECT OWENS MAGISTRATE

My name is Joseph Owens. I am the brother of JACKIE EDFORD OWENS — Democrat Magistrate of District 2.

IN RESPONSE TO MY BROTHER'S OPPOSITION'S AD LAST WEEK—His opponent would like to take credit for my enrollment in the E.K.C.E.P. Program. SO LET'S GIVE CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE and THAT'S NONE TO YOU. When I was informed that I was accepted in the E.K.C.E.P. Program, I was working at a minimum wage job while awaiting for classes to start at Hazard Vocational School. About 2 weeks before classes were to start, you informed me that I was ineligible for the E.K.C.E.P. Program because I had a minimum wage job. It took some time to be reinstated and to get started in the class.—THANKS FOR NOTHING!

Yes, I have a good job in the private sector and I pay my taxes. On the other hand, the taxpayers have paid your salary for years and for what?

I am asking the people of Dist. 2 to COME OUT on Nov. 7th and VOTE FOR and RE-ELECT my brother JACKIE EDFORD OWENS—MAGISTRATE, Dist. 2 on the "DEMOCRAT" ticket.

Elect James D. (Doug) FITZPATRICK

Magistrate, District No. 2, Nov. 7, 1989

Before 1978 the office of magistrate possessed important duties, but the judicial amendment to the constitution stripped the magistrates of their duties to hold court, write warrants, issue attachments, summons etc. The only judicial authority left is that the magistrates may perform marriages and accept applications for those who want to serve as a notary public, if the governor or the county judge executive gives them this authorization.

The magistrate has no power when he leaves the fiscal court meeting. When he orders a truck load of gravel or any piece of equipment to any road or construction site he is over stepping his authority and could be liable for suit if that piece of equipment is involved in an accident where someone was killed or injured. According to Nathan Goldman, Assistant Attorney General, the magistrates or fiscal court members are only district legislature members to the fiscal court.

The fiscal court is a very important court in our county government. Our county budget for this year was $5,469,000.00 and all of that money is allocated to each of the county offices by members of the fiscal court. I want to serve on that court and I will be a conservative member and "a watch dog" over the tax payers' tax dollars to stretch it as far as it will go to pay for and maintain our county government.

My opponent and present magistrates have continually "raked" me for running as and independent candidate for magistrate. I make no apologies for running as an independent. I assure you that we would have not had an Independence Day, legal holiday, July 4, celebrating the anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of our Independence in Philadelphia in 1776 if there had not been some independent thinking people. Webster's Dictionary definition of an independent: politically self governing, free from the influence, guidance, or control of another or others.

I want to assure those that are an employee of our county, if the voters and taxpayers choose me as your magistrate, I will not be in favor of any of them losing their jobs, or being transferred from one district to another. I will strive to make you a better job so you maintain your homes and educate your children.

I have talked to some of my friends about my plan for a scholarship fund at Allen Central High School with 50% of the magistrate's salary and I am sure that I can get some donations to add to it for the purpose of educating some kids that are having it rough to attend college.

This is the first time in my life that I have run for public office and if the voters and taxpayers choose me for their magistrate for the next four years I will serve you to the best of my ability. I will be honest, sober and dependable.

The Kentucky Registry of Election Finance allows a magistrate candidate to spend $3,000 in the election. I put $3,000 in a campaign fund for political advertising and so far I have spent $2,336.08 as of this date 10-30-1989.

Some time back I gave you the figures on the three highest paid magistrates in Ky. and this money comes from the county taxes, Leslie Co. $36,000, Pike County $29,000 and Floyd County $25,000. I am going to show you the three lowest paid magistrates in Ky. and they perform the same duties as our magistrates for a lot less money: Robertson County $1,500 per year, Menifee County $2,250 and Washington County $1,800 per year. This information comes from the office of the Governor, Dept. of Local Government, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

This election is coming to a close and all my campaigning has been based on facts. I have refrained from negative campaigning. I want to thank the voters for the support that you have shown me in this campaign. I will make you a full time magistrate and I will be available every day. There will be no other job before me.

James D. Fitzpatrick

P.S. I will take down all of my political advertising after the election. I believe in cleaning up our environment.

I come to you at this time to ask for your support in the November election. I stand on my record and service to the people of my district and Floyd County. Books And Things

Haunting Tales From The Library Shelves

By Trisha Morris, PCC Librarian

Halloween is the time when "things" unexplainably go bump in the night, leaves rustle when no one is about, goblins beg for treats and the lengthening shadows of the shortened day are spooky when you're walking home alone. If you still need some "scaring" or just some material for the next camping trip, the following books from the Prestonsburg Community College's Library should fill that need.

Coffin Hollow, by Ruth Musick. Ever walk through a cemetery alone? After reading Coffin Hollow, you'll consciously avoid cemeteries. This collection of 96 West Virginian tales has hitchhiking ghosts, headless trainmen, murdered pack peddlers, ineradicable blood stains and coffin-riding apparitions. Strikingly illustrated, the collection provides a superb sojourn through West Virginian ghost lore.

Vampires and Other Ghosts, by Thomas Aylesworth. A glance at the contents page of this thin volume is almost enough to stay a timid hand from turning the pages—With sharp white teeth—The Zombie and some of his friends—The home life of the undead. Despite the title, the book is not about ghosts, "a ghost is a dead person who appears to be still alive."—demons and devils were never alive—monsters and witches are not yet dead—but one must turn the page to find out their stories.

Ghost Stories from the American South, edited by W.E. McNeil. Such a gruesome collection of creatures that the thin covers of this book seem hardly able to contain them all. Your author's favorite chapter is "Witches, Banshees, Bloodstoppers, Ghostly Lights and Supernatural Creatures." Other chapters are "Headless and Screaming Ghosts and Revenants" and "Grave Humor."

This is a well documented collection of 80 tales taken from the oral narrative tradition of the southern states. Here is the story of the haunted house in Prestonsburg and the headless ghost tale from the Pikeville area.

Ghosts Along the Cumberland, by William L. Montell. The lore of death and ghosts persists as a great heritage of the past in the foothills of south-central Kentucky near the Tennessee line, a section of the state known as the "Pennyrile." Here is a gathering of well cataloged folk beliefs and ghost narratives.

LGW Woman's Club Holds Dinner

"Focus on the positive; make the most of the things available," advised Lorene Salyer, 7th District Governor of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, speaking to those attending an inter-club dinner Monday evening, Oct. 23, in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church, hosted by the GFWC/KFWC Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club.

Salyer, speaking on "A Good Clubwoman," further advised her listeners that they broaden their perspective by being exposed to many different life styles. She compared club service to being on a journey, and the many pamphlets and other informational pieces received from the Federation as road signs along the way. She urged her listeners to study these pieces of information and put that information to use. She stressed that clubwomen need to make new friends and develop new interests as they travel.

The speaker also mentioned the three groups of club members: The teenagers, the junior club members, and the older women in their club group. She announced the names of the new District officers.

Ruby Akers of Drift, past 7th District Governor and present KFWC Conservation Chairman, spoke briefly on the need for each club's history to be brought up to date and mailed to headquarters. She also advised that the conservationists hope to plant several million trees in the spring.

Marsella Bradley gave a brief devotional before the dinner. LaFaye Hughes read the Club Collect, and Joyce Stevens led the Pledge to the Flag.

Those attending were: The 7th District Governor from Elkhorn City, Lorene Salyer, and from the Drift club: Anna Sue Stumbo, Ruby Akers, Jerri Turner, Doris Lawson, Mildred Salisbury and a guest, Vivian Allen of Minnie.

Those from the host club were Loretta M. Martin, JoAnn Hall, Joyce P. Stevens, Libby Martin, Maxine Martin, Ina Cooley, LaFaye Hughes, Blanche Bamer, Marsella Bradley, Lula Coburn, Vera Allen, Marie C. Mullins, Alma Souleyrette, Betty Mullins, Elizabeth Duff and Louise West.

The next meeting of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland club will be Monday, Nov. 20 at the home of the club president, JoAnn Hall, Lackey. The program topic will be "Public Affairs" with a guest speaker.

Joseph D. Harkins House

National Register of Historic Places

Spanish Styling Lends Exotic Appearance To 'Historic' House

(Tenth in a Series)
By Pam Shingler

In the midst of rather traditional residences, seeing one that sports a Spanish flavor is a pleasant surprise. Obviously, representatives of the Kentucky Heritage Council were also impressed by the Joseph D. Harkins House. They recommended that it be placed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The North Arnold Avenue home is one of 12 sites in Prestonsburg that were recently added to the listing, which is sponsored by the United States Department of the Interior to protect structures with historic and stylistic significance.

Built around 1924 by attorney Harkins, a member of one of the city's wealthiest and most prominent families at that time, the house is constructed in the Spanish Eclectic Revival style, popular in the 1920s.

It sports stucco exterior walls, wrought-iron trimmings, stepped and curved parapets along the top and a Mission tile roof. A garage matches the house in styling.

Typical of the Spanish style, according to the council report, is the one-story horizontal form with wings on the left, right and rear of the house. A portico at the entrance has tapered Tuscan-styled columns. The roof is predominantly red tile, but with a few yellow tiles included at random.

The riverside land on which the house sits was once part of a much larger tract of land jointly owned by the Harkins family, which built other houses on the street. The house remained in the Harkins family until 1965, the council report states.

"The house is the most distinguished and best-preserved of several examples of the style," the report says.

Students Record Public Service Announcements

Public service announcements written and recorded by 21 students of Our Lady of the Mountains School advertised the school's Terrapin Trots, an annual fundraiser held in conjunction with the Apple Day and Jenny Wiley Festivals.

All students, grades five through eight, wrote public service announcement scripts. A school assembly was held to select the four best scripts.

Winning scripts were: "Batman" by Josh Collins of Johnson County and Marty Hall of Floyd County; "Teenage Ninja Turtles" by Mark Rivera, Mimmie Hall and Dustin

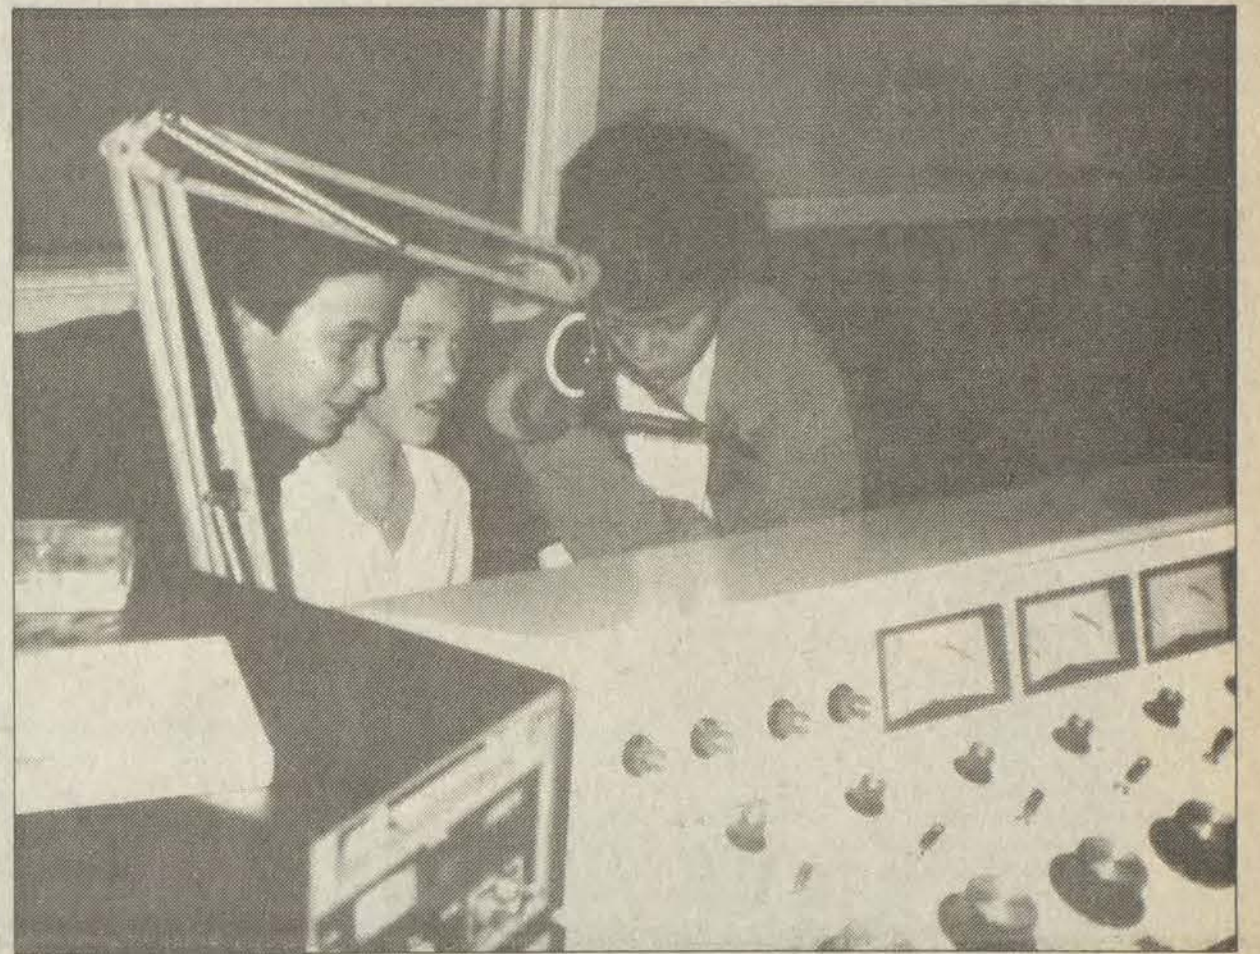

Bailey of Floyd County; "Turtle Knows Best" by Shane Stevens of Floyd County, Katie Mueller of Martin County, Tara Daniel of Lawrence County and Elizabeth Flint and Jamie Tipton of Johnson County; and an unnamed script written by Doug Brown and Shawn Blackburn of Floyd County.

With the help of computer/science/math/religion teacher Joan Hatfield, the winning scripts were edited into one-minute radio spots. Lisa Bevins of WSIP, Paintsville, helped the students recorded their spots at the station on Wednesday, Sept. 20.

"The students were very enthusiastic," said Father Powers, who doubles as the Joker in the Batman script. "It was the first time they recorded Turtle Trot public service announcements. Much thanks to WSIP. The students submitted a wide variety of scripts. I wish all could have been recorded."

Following the recording session, Bevins took the students on a tour of the radio station. She also made copies of the public service announcements for use by other area radio stations.

Students Record PSAs

Dustin Bailey, Mimmie Hall and Mark Rivera, Floyd County students at Our Lady of the Mountains, record their Terrapin Trots radio spot at WSIP.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

AGE-OLD WISDOM

Physicians must take certain physical realities into account when prescribing drugs for the elderly. An older person may experience a loss of up to 30 percent of his cells in muscle and soft tissue. As a result, his metabolic rate slows and blood flow decreases. Whether this slowdown is due to aging or is simply a consequence of vascular disease, the flow of drugs and nutrients is impeded. In addition, lowered cellular mass carries with it the consequence of decreased water content in the body. This means that a particular dosage of prescription medicine will be of a higher concentration in an elderly person's body than in a younger person's system. Physicians, therefore, follow the general rule that drugs have a heightened effect in patients as they grow older.

COOLEY APOTHECARY meets the highest level of professionalism in our business and would be honored to become your pharmacy. Our records are fully maintained for all drug warnings, drug interactions and personal drug allergies here at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. MasterCard and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3. Be sure to read this column in the weeks ahead as we discuss many other topics related to your health.

HINT: People with a high degree of body fat generally retain drugs longer and eliminate them more slowly.

Angie, 38. Found houseware parties the ideal excuse to mix a blender of margaritas. But in a few years, it went from women friends to lowlifes and losers hanging around her home late into the night. Sometimes, her husband had to load up the kids and go midnight bar-hopping to find her.

Finally, he nailed up doors and windows to keep her out. In desperation, feeling she'd be dead within a year unless she got control of herself, Angie turned to CareUnit.

"I learned more about myself than I'd learned in a lifetime. For the first time, I feel good about myself."

Angie is now sober, and is rebuilding her relationship with her husband and two daughters.

ACHS Art Students Win Annual KFWC Competition

The Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs' regional meeting was held this year at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

The organization's annual art show featured categories including painting, watercolor, drawing, print making and photography. Entries were taken from a seven-county area. Each club sponsors young artists from the nearest local school; students must be currently enrolled in classes.

Students from Allen Central High School were sponsored by the Lackey-

Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club. They placed first in two categories and second in another.

In the area of drawing, Steven "Cotton" Parsons placed second with his pastel drawing of a young child. He is the son of Cindy Parsons of Martin.

Steven Wicker of Garrett placed first in painting with an acrylic designed to show the effects of nuclear explosion. He is the son of Martha Wicker and Jimmy Wicker of Tampa, Fla.

Taking top honors in the division of watercolor was Barron Allen of Langley. His composition depicted a house from nearby John's Branch. He is the son of Jimmy Lynn and Gloria Allen.

Both Allen and Wicker will have their work entered in state competition this spring at the KFWC state convention.

The three students are enrolled in special art class at Allen Central, taught by Caralita O'Quinn.

Students Find Solution For Baldness?

It all began in Linda Elliott's first grade class at McDowell Elementary.

Students were studying plants in science class and decided to grow hair on potatoes. Each child brought in one large potato and a paper cup. The class began the experiment by cutting off the top of the potato and carving a large hole in the top of it.

They put potting soil into the hole, then added grass seed in the potting soil. After the seeds were placed on the potato, students added more soil. Finally, water was added and the potatoes were put on the science table for observation.

The young scientists were responsible for watering their potato each morning. Students used a teaspoon to water the potatoes. They watched the plants through Friday, but there was no visible sign of hair (grass growth). Through the long weekend, the students thought about their experiment.

When they returned to school Monday, they found the experiment was a success — many of the potatoes sported a new growth of spiked hair. The students continued to water their potatoes each morning and soon, the class thought it might have to bring in a barber.

The display of hairy potatoes was seen by a large number of teachers and students who were fascinated by the experiment.

Now that the experiment has been completed, the students will take their hairy friends home with them and give them a growing place in the yard.

Science Experiment: Cure For Baldness?

First grade students in Linda Elliott's class at McDowell Elementary School may have found a cure for baldness. They grew patches of "hair" on potatoes during science class recently. Pictured above, back row from left, are Stephanie Patrick, Sarah Howell, Dwayne Hamilton, Jason Carroll, Linda Elliott (teacher); second row, Tammy Blevins, Amanda Adkins, Alexis Maldonado, Jessica Moore, Jason Newsome, Joseph Caldill, Jared Elswick and Stevie Hall; first row, Anthony Hall, Matthew Christopher Mosley, Henry Harrington, Michael Colley, Adam Newsome, Trent Moore and Joseph Mullins.

Diving Instructor Visits Auxier Class

Ramona Aikens' fifth grade class at Auxier Elementary recently had a guest speaker, David Hayes, attend class.

Hayes is a qualified scuba diving instructor and he demonstrated the equipment he uses underwater. The class has been studying the ocean, its movements and its usefulness to the environment.

Hayes integrated many skills into his presentation and ended his visit with hands-on activities and autographs for all the students.

'My Me Book' Project At Auxier

Ruth Webb's first grade class at Auxier Elementary School is doing a project called "My Me Book!"

Students discuss themselves with their own "Me" book, said Webb, through identification of pictures, classification as a family member and through verbalization.

Thomas Jefferson was the first president to wear long trousers instead of knee-breeches.

Fire Safety Lessons Include Jump From Roof

Lessons at Our Lady of the Mountains (OLM) School are generally taught under the school's roof. But during Fire Prevention Week, some of the most memorable lessons were taught from the former Mayo mansion's roof.

Three firefighters from the Paintsville Fire Department gave two presentations to OLM students, who were divided into groups by grades, kindergarten through fourth and fifth through eighth.

At first, the firefighters spoke to the students about safety procedures for escaping a fire. They taught them how to extinguish a fire on clothing they are wearing by rolling. They taught them how to roll out of bed and crawl to safety if a fire should start while they are asleep. Students also learned to check doors for heat, smoke and fire before using them as exits to escape a burning building.

First aid measures were also demonstrated. The students enjoyed using a stethoscope to hear heartbeats, getting bandaged and bandaging each other.

The firefighters also showed the students the special clothing and equipment they wear to fight a fire. J.B. Daniel and Laurie Holbrook donned the gear for their respective groups.

The climax of the presentations, however, was the lesson learned outside. The students watched as a firefighter used his special ladder to climb to the roof of the school building and then jumped off using only a rope for support.

Some of the older students — Laurie Holbrook, Mimmie Hill, Rhonda Williams, Tara Pickerel, Katie Mueller and Jamie Tipton — climbed the ladder to the school's roof with the help of the firefighters. All, however, returned to the schoolyard via the ladder, not the rope.

The firefighters presented each student with a "future firefighter" sticker. They also assigned homework — each student was to go home and discuss a fire safety plan with his or her family.

Learning Fire Prevention

Laurie Holbrook, daughter of Ellen and Don Holbrook of Prestonsburg, donned firefighting garb and gear at a fire safety presentation held recently at Our Lady of the Mountains School in Paintsville.

Regional KSBA Meeting Held In Paintsville Oct. 23

School board members and superintendents from the Eastern Kentucky South Region held their annual regional meeting Oct. 23 in Paintsville.

The main topic of discussion was the KSBA position paper on education reform, according to Ann Clayton Brandt, KSBA spokesperson.

The association issued proposals last month to contribute toward the dialogue on restructuring of Kentucky's public education system, Brandt explained. The proposals address curriculum, school governance and accountability issues, she added.

The regional meeting was led by James Carroll, a member of the Paintsville board of Education and chairperson of the EKS region. It was hosted by Paintsville Superintendent Leon Burchett.

School board members and superintendents from Floyd, Johnson,

Magoffin and Pike counties and Paintsville and Pikeville independent districts were represented.

Allen Elementary Forms A 4-H Club

Kenneth Caldwell's fifth and sixth grade classes at Allen Elementary formed a 4-H club on Tuesday, Oct. 10.

The meeting was called to order by Willard Knipp, who introduced himself as the new agent for 4-H in Floyd County.

The group filled out enrollment cards and chose which projects they wanted to pursue for this year. Students were nominated for offices and voted upon. The officers are Rebekah Recktenwald, president; Jennifer O'Neill, vice-president; Kristy Jarrell, secretary; and Tonya Lowe, reporter.

McDowell High School recently began its first year of participation in the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) organization.

With 30 members, the chapter is one of the strongest in the area.

FBLA is designed to improve students' business skills and increase their involvement in the community. The McDowell chapter has planned to participate in a bowl-a-thon to help benefit Muscular Dystrophy, and a Praise of Age project combined with a home-away-from-home Christmas for the hospitalized at McDowell.

Executive members of the chapter are Stephanie Henson, president; Jamie Lawson, vice president; Scott Shannon, secretary; Kelly Vance, treasurer; Jenny Slone, historian; Lisa Henry, parliamentarian; and Mary Slone, reporter.

TO: Parents of Students Enrolled In The Floyd County School System

I, Harold Stumbo, as District Judge of Floyd County, believe that students should attend school punctually and regularly so as to attain the best education possible.

Since I was a member of the committee that developed the new attendance policy, I believe that the Floyd County School System is sincerely attempting to improve student attendance and I support this effort. KRS 159:150 defines truancy as follows:

Any child who has been absent from school without a valid excuse for three (3) or more days, or tardy on three (3) or more days, is a truant. Any child who has been reported as a truant three (3) or more times is a habitual truant.

Any parent or guardian of a truant will suffer penalties of a fine or "be held in contempt of court" for failure to send their child to school punctually and regularly.

With the cooperation of parents, the school system and the court system, student attendance can improve tremendously and the students will have a better opportunity to achieve the best possible education.

Thank you.

Perspective

by Rep. Gregory D. Stumbo
Majority Floor Leader

The legislative Task Force on Education Reform is well on its way to making meaningful recommendations on how to improve educational benefits offered to Kentucky's children.

The task force has chosen its dual coordinators and enlisted the assistance of three highly-qualified consultants. And, with several weeks of meetings under their belts, task force members have embraced certain basic assumptions to use as a foundation to build the final recommendations of the task force that will restructure Kentucky's school system.

The most important assumption that Kentuckians must acknowledge is that all students can learn — our belief in the system must include the perspective that all or nearly all students can learn at high levels. Otherwise, we are doomed to fail with many since expectations translate into self-fulfilling prophecies. If one expects a discernible portion of students to fail, then more than likely, the first student with academic difficulty is identified as a student who cannot learn when measured against rigorous criteria. That student will literally or figuratively be abandoned. Soon, a second will join the initial failed child and then another and another.

Kentuckians must also learn to assume that all teachers can successfully teach all students. This is obviously not true for every teacher in every school currently. What works is a matter of knowledge, not opinion. The challenge is not the challenge of discovery; it is the challenge of equipping all school staff with the knowledge to act successfully.

Curriculum content must reflect high expectations and instructional strategies must be successful ones.

When the system fails with a child, a classroom or with a school, the attitude must be assumed that the proper mix of how, where, and who has not been discovered and another angle attempted.

Kentuckians must learn to look at education as a performance-based system. We must assess our schools by asking, "did it work?" not, "did you do what you were told?"

School-based staff should have a major role in shaping instructional strategies. Who among us is prepared to assume accountability for our actions if we have little control over policy? School accountability and school-based authority are two intertwined parts of the same proposition.

To achieve these goals school staff must be equipped with the capability to make good instructional decisions. The concept of school-based management is empty if at the same time bureaucracy impedes or frustrates those decisions with layers of paperwork.

And finally, any planning process and implementation must include measuring and monitoring the quality of its success. A fair measure of testing must be designed to accurately rate any new structure within the education system.

The last factor in the foundation must include the involvement and support of parents and community, for without this ingredient the other assumptions can never become a reality.

While the task force members have been laying their groundwork for Kentucky's restructured educational system, the toll-free line which the legislature established for citizens to utilize has been paying off. More than 360 calls have been made since its inception.

The message line, 1-800-372-7181, operates between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and will remain in use as long as the task force is working.

As the General Assembly's 1990 session is fast approaching, more operators are scheduled to be hired. Interested citizens are also encouraged to submit written comments and suggestions by mailing them to:

Task Force On Education Reform,

Lovely Weather For Ducks

The ducks and geese at Dewey Lake still had extra swimming room after heavy rains and flooding recently as the lake continued to hold back water. Water was over the driveway that boat owners use to get to the park marina, but not many people appeared eager to launch, anyway.

Stable Interest Rates Spur Existing-Home Sales

Stable mortgage interest rates spurred September sales of previously-owned homes to the highest level so far this year, as buyers continued to take advantage of favorable financing, according to the National Association of Realtors.

The association recorded a seasonally adjusted sales rate of 3.63 million existing single-family homes in September, rising 4.3 percent above the August rate of 3.48 million units.

September's resale rate, the highest since the December 1988, reflects a large volume of sales to rate-conscious buyers, noted NAR president Ira Gribin.

"Many people who were forced to put off trading up or entering the market earlier this year are making their move now," Gribin said. "With mortgage rates lower during the second half of the year than the first, the market is reaching a broader income range of buyers."

The national median price for existing single-family homes in September was $93,400, down $1,400 from the previous month, but up 5.5 percent from September 1988. Half the homes sold for more than the median, half for less.

The median price drop reflects a greater number of purchases in the moderate price range. A price drop from August to September is typical, reflecting a market shift from larger families with school-age children to smaller households and childless couples who don't plan buying decisions around the school year, said NAR's chief economist, John A. Tuccillo.

Although median price declines from August to September were recorded in all four regions, each region posted a median price increase from September 1988.

Cancer Hopeline

QUESTION: My grandmother was recently diagnosed with cancer. She lives in a small town and was referred to a comprehensive center for treatment. What is a comprehensive cancer center and how is it different from a local hospital?

ANSWER: A comprehensive cancer center is a medical facility which meets certain guidelines established by the National Center Institute. The NCI is agency funded by the United States Federal Government and is part of the larger National Institutes of Health. There are currently twenty officially designated comprehensive cancer centers across the U.S.

In order to have been designated as a comprehensive cancer center, a facility must maintain staff and equipment to conduct cancer research, provide state-of-the-art cancer treatment and serve as a focal point for professional education and medical training in its region. Although NCI has not used the official designation "comprehensive" since 1974, there are now an additional 20 centers designated "clinical cancer centers" which provide most of the same resources.

Research activities are a major aspect of a comprehensive cancer center. These activities can include laboratory research, investigational studies of new cancer treatments, animal studies and cancer control studies. With funding from NCI and other resources, researchers investigate causes of cancer, the role of genetics, viruses and ways to train the body's own immune system to destroy cancer without harming the patients.

In clinical research, studies are conducted to assess the safety and effectiveness of new cancer treatments, including applications of newly developed drugs and biologicals. Comprehensive cancer centers are the focal points for large clinical trials sponsored by NCI.

In addition to basic and clinical research, comprehensive cancer centers provide state-of-the-art treatment to cancer patients. Because researchers and clinical staff work closely together, progress in one area can give new direction to the work in others. This speeds up the process of transferring research results to actual patient care.

Education of medical and research personnel is also a primary task of comprehensive cancer centers. Since most are affiliated with a local university, the center serves as a training ground for medical students, graduate student, biologists, geneticists, and immunologists.

QUESTION: My son is being treated for leukemia and is doing so well on his chemotherapy that his doctor says he can return to school. I'm worried though, about a recent outbreak of chicken pox in his school. Couldn't this be harmful to a child on chemotherapy?

ANSWER: Chicken pox can be a very serious illness for a child taking chemotherapy. Because the drugs he is taking reduce his ability to fight infection, chicken pox can pose a special risk for your son. It will be important to make his teacher and the school nurse aware of this risk.

A child who has chicken pox is infectious from 48 hours before the rash appears until all the sores have crusted over. Spending over one hour in the same room with the infected child any time during this period is considered to be significant exposure. If this happens, your exposed child should get an injection of VZIG (varicella zoster immune globulin) within 72 hours of his exposure. This will protect his immune system from being overwhelmed by the disease.

Be sure to contact your son's pediatric oncologist if you learn of his exposure to chicken pox, to find out what he or she advises.

Elect
Janet Stumbo
For Kentucky Court of Appeals

(Reprinted by permission of Courier Journal, Copyright © Oct. 22, 1989)

EDITORIALS

For appeals court: Stumbo

IN HIS attempt to take East Kentucky's seat on the state Court of Appeals, Barkley Sturgill has insulted the intelligence of voters. He has unjustly cast aspersions on his opponent's good name. Meanwhile, Janet Stumbo has kept to the high road. She speaks of her legal experience, which is impressive, and of her extensive community service.

Ms. Stumbo comes across as what she is: intelligent, hard-working, even-tempered. She has the potential to make a major contribution on the Court of Appeals. Mr. Sturgill, on the other hand, is simply unqualified.

Consider his campaign tactics. He and his backers have made the silly argument that Ms. Stumbo is trying to hide something by using her own name. "We believe you ought to use your man's name," Mr. Sturgill's supporters said in an ad. Janet Stumbo uses the name she was born with, just as her opponent does. Surely he must know that keeping one's name is, today, a widespread practice among women like Ms. Stumbo who have worked hard to establish their own careers.

Implicit in this is the suggestion that Ms. Stumbo heading the board of the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund, which has worked so bravely to make real legal help available to the poor.

She has a wide mix of professional experience, a claim her opponent simply cannot make. As an assistant county attorney, she prosecuted criminal cases, appeared in juvenile court and pressed for child support enforcement. She has worked on federal black lung litigation both for plaintiffs and defendants. She practices regularly in the Court of Appeals and clerked there after graduation from the University of Kentucky College of Law.

It's difficult not to see Barkley Sturgill's candidacy, on the other hand, as an effort to salvage an inconsequential career. What's more, it simply is not possible to ignore the presence of his brother, Bill. For all his talents and in spite of significant public service, Bill Sturgill is the embodiment of entrenched interests—the very interests that so often exploit the legal system in order to sustain themselves. Certainly he has come to symbolize the devastation and impoverishment that poorly regulated stripmining has wrought in the mountains.

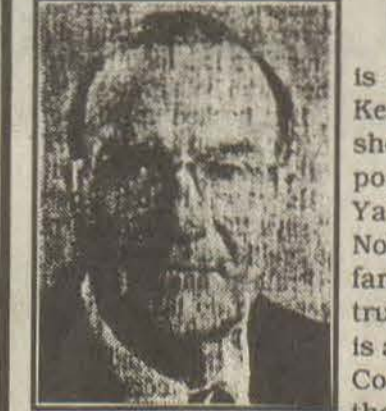

Disdain for environmental concerns is part of Barkley Sturgill's history, too. While serving as chairman of the Public Service Commission, for example, he testified in Washington against a bill that would strengthen the federal Clean Air Act. Even though he was supposed to be representing the people of Kentucky, he traveled on a plane provided by the rural electric cooperatives and accepted other services from them. Someone with so little regard for impartiality—for avoiding even the appearance of a conflict of interest—has no place on the commonwealth's second-highest court.

Janet Stumbo, on the other hand, represents the best in mountain folks who have stayed in East Kentucky and committed themselves to progress for the people. She has the intellect and temperament to serve ably on the Court of Appeals. We urge everyone in the 7th judicial district to vote for her.

Barkley Sturgill, below, and his brother Bill, right, represent entrenched interests.

is not a real East Kentuckian—that she's an outsider, possibly even a Yankee upstart. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Ms. Stumbo is a native of Floyd County, and with the exception of her college years has lived in East Kentucky all her life. Ms. Stumbo is a hard-working professional. She's the mother of two young children and yet somehow finds time for extensive community service, including

Long Month — No Money

Mercy me what will I do?
Middle of the month, not enough money to see me through.
Although the weather is nice and today warm and sunny
Too much month left at the end of the money.

There's water bills, gas bills, telephone too —
Adding everything up, I wonder, what can I do?
For I know — many more bill to come —
There's insurance, medical, grocery and I just don't know — what can be done.
I check the money once more, not very much.

I try to forget and laugh all worries off.
But I'll tell you now, it's sure not funny Too much month left, at the end of my money.

Finally my checks are ready to be sent on their way.
But I wonder how I'll make out in the coming days.

So little money left, to buy food to eat
No canned goods left over, not any meat
It would be a good time to start on a diet.
But it's hard to go to bed hungry
every night.
The weather man gives a few days ahead will be bright and sunny.
Still I'm left again, too much month at the end of my money.

Our government still sending so much money to other nations,
While the old people here are handed out a few rations.
Maybe dry milk, a block of cheese
a few other goods,
If they could figure a way to be rid of us, I think they would.
If we all complain to them, they just think it's funny.
Again, too much month left at the end of my money.

Still, I wonder, what our government will do.
Maybe they'll find a way to get rid of me and you.
Then they could send more money to keep up the fighting and killing.
For that, they always seem anxious and willing.

If only they would check things out they'd find it's sure not funny,
To have so much month left at the end of the money.

I try so hard to be careful, not buy anything I can live without.
Eat warmed over left over scraps
so often, I begin to doubt
If I can make it to get through the remaining days.

I hope and pray I can find a way.
Maybe someday our government will see.
And make things better for you and me.
Until then, it's sure not funny —
Too much month left at the end of our money.

My Thoughts Of You

Inside of me my heart does yearn
It yearns for a cease
To this horrible burn.

The burns in my mind,
The burns in my soul
For these times of torture,
For these times of cold.

For these times are
The Worst I believe
I hope the worst,
We'll ever see.

For if not, and I know for sure,
I'll need your love,
To ever endure.

To endure the hurt,
To endure the pain
To shield me from sorrow,
To shield me from rain.

The rain is cold,
Its color blue
But I have my shield,
My thoughts of you.

Look Up

(Dedicated to my mom and dad, Bud and Juanita Shepherd)

If you're ever sad and lonely
And you feel that no one cares
When life seems like a raging battle
The days ahead seem hard to bear
Just lift your eyes toward Heaven
And say Lord, It's in your hands
He will wrap His arms around you
And say, "My child, I understand."

Look up, look up, He's always looking down
Always watching and waiting
To turn your life around
So trust in Him, He'll never fail you
He will always see you through Just hold His hand and let Him show you what to do.

Well, I've been there so sad and lonely
But He was always by my side
When I thought that no one loved my
He said, "My child, for you I died."
So I thank Jesus for the strength
To carry on my heavy load
And I'll Praise Him, Oh yes, I'll praise Him
Forever and ever more.

My Prince

Ever since I was five years old I dreamed of a prince.
And now you come along,
I finally got my chance.

I look upon your eyes and notice the blending glow.
I captured it in my heart and it's with me where ever I go.

You are my hero, You brighten and make my day.
You make me feel so happy
I forget what words to say.

No matter how cold it gets,
your love warms my heart.
No matter how our future leads we will never be apart.

Together we are unbeatable
we can win it all.
I will always be there to catch you,
whenever you take a fall. (I love you)

A Day in Autumn

A wonderful day is dawning,
The fog is hiding the sun,
Birds are singing, the brook is running,
The day has just begun.

The sun creeps out from behind the fog,
Jack Frost scurries swiftly away,
Leaving his footprints on the flowers
Saying, "I'll be back another day."

The sun is high in the heavens,
Leaves begin to sparkle like gems,
Red, yellow, purple and brown
In tune like a vibrant old hymn.

The evening shadows begin to appear,
The wind's whisper has ceased in the trees;
The crickets chirp, the nightingale cries,
God's watching 'ore all of these.

It's twilight time, the world is hushed
The harvest moon floods the sky,
All settle down for a good night's sleep
As eternity rolls swiftly by.

The day is gone — Night lingers on
The cares of today have flown,
Peaceful rest, all's right with the world
Knowing God is still on his throne.

My Valley

My valley the mountains are high and the valleys narrow.
With the creeks running muddy and the roads narrow.
That's my valley beautiful and wicked too with the Floods and rain down pours.
That's my valley.
That's what makes it so green and the forest is a Blanket of many colors
That's my valley.

Thanks For Caring

Dad for all the times you went out of your way, to help me find mine.
Though you sometimes grumbled when I stumbled along the road. I love you Dad for carrying the load.
Now I am older and much bolder
I would like to take some of the load off your shoulders.
But words will never repay the love caring and respect you gave.

Must Be Halloween Night

No one was in the house but me
A scary show was on the TV
Loud screams came from outside
Lord, sure must be Halloween night.

I took a peak out the door window
There at the gate was a white glow
Couldn't see much in the shallow light
Sure must be Halloween night.

Went to the phone to call next door
That ole phone was dead for sure
On and off went the hallway light
Sure must be Halloween night.

The door bell just rang and rang
Them shutters went bang, slap, bang
Outside October wind blew just a mite
Sure must be Halloween night.

I kept hearing someone say "wake up"
Well if that don't beat all the luck
Dreamed up a pretty good fright
Lord, sure must be Halloween night.

Opa

(for the Patriarch)

Old fighter, how little I truly know of you.
You have suffered long,
And now time threatens to take you away
From us and the world we now know.
Neither the Nazis nor the Neocrats
Could break you.
You continue your steel strength
Through all your pain.
If I could lessen your burden,
I would
But this meager poem is all my young hands
Can carve from the chaos.

I hope someday to be as you are — Strong in Soul and Mind —
May I be blessed someday
With a fraction of your resolve.
Rest easily tonight,
Your children come to your aid.
If the time is later, do not dread it.
If the time is now, face it with your adamant will.
You are the strongest of the strong,
And I am proud to be of your blood stock.

Old fighter, how little I truly know of you.

Soft-N-Tender

The softness and tenderness of the Warmth of your hand
So soft like lying in the sand
I love you more and more with Each and every word I say
And love you more each day.
