Weather Weirdness

Following the warm temperatures of Monday and Tuesday, a cold front is pushing through the area today.

Wednesday will be mostly sunny and cold, with a high of only 35 to 40.

Wednesday night will remain clear and cold, with temperatures dipping to near 20.

Thursday looks to be continued sunny and milder, with a high rising into the upper 40s.

It seems that autumn and winter are still battling it out to see who'll dominate our weather. We'll keep you posted on who wins.

JW Open House . . .

Jenny Wiley State Park will host an Christmas open house Sunday, Dec. 3, from noon to 2 p.m.

Children 12 and under can get their picture taken with Santa. Those attending may register for a free dinner for two at May Lodge.

Bowled Over . . .

Senior citizens from Allen to Eastern and Left Beaver through McDowell are invited to go bowling each Wednesday. The Martin senior citizens offer the invitation, a safe van and driver.

Area seniors may also share lunch with the Martin folks, go shopping, visit the drug store, bank or doctor.

For more information, call the Martin Area Senior Citizens, 285-9573.

Forum Board

To Meet Dec. 4

The Floyd County Education Forum's Board of Directors meeting will be held on Monday, Dec. 4, at 6:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church (next to Jerry's Restaurant) in Prestonsburg. It is open to the public.

The agenda will include discussion of community response to an education survey conducted by the Forum and The Floyd County Times; reports on local and state board of education contacts; school finance and proposals to equalize the existing property tax situation in Floyd County.

Course Material

Can Be Reviewed

The materials and curriculum to be used in the Floyd County schools for the state-mandated Parenting and Family Life Skills program will be available for the public to view Thursday, Nov. 30, from 4 to 7 p.m. in the board room of the Floyd County Board of Education Administration Building.

The training team responsible for conducting the in-service training for Floyd County teachers will be there to answer any questions.

Santa's Coming

Santa will be coming from the North Pole to pick up area children's Christmas lists. He will visit the home of Wilburn Akers on Toler's Creek on Saturday, Dec. 2, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Parents are invited to bring their cameras to get pictures of their children with Mr. Claus.

Akers lives about 10 minutes from Route 23 at Harold on Route 1426. Look for house with the American flag and VFW flag flying in the front yard.

Emergency Measures Taken For Allen School

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

Emergency measures were authorized Monday night by State Superintendent of Schools John Brock, allowing the Floyd County School Board to keep trying to get construction bids for the new Allen Elementary School under budget and off the ground.

The meeting was called by the Allen PTO and held in the old Allen school gym. Officials attending included Brock, State Sen. Benny Ray Bailey, State Rep. Greg Stumbo and Floyd County School Superintendent Ron Hager.

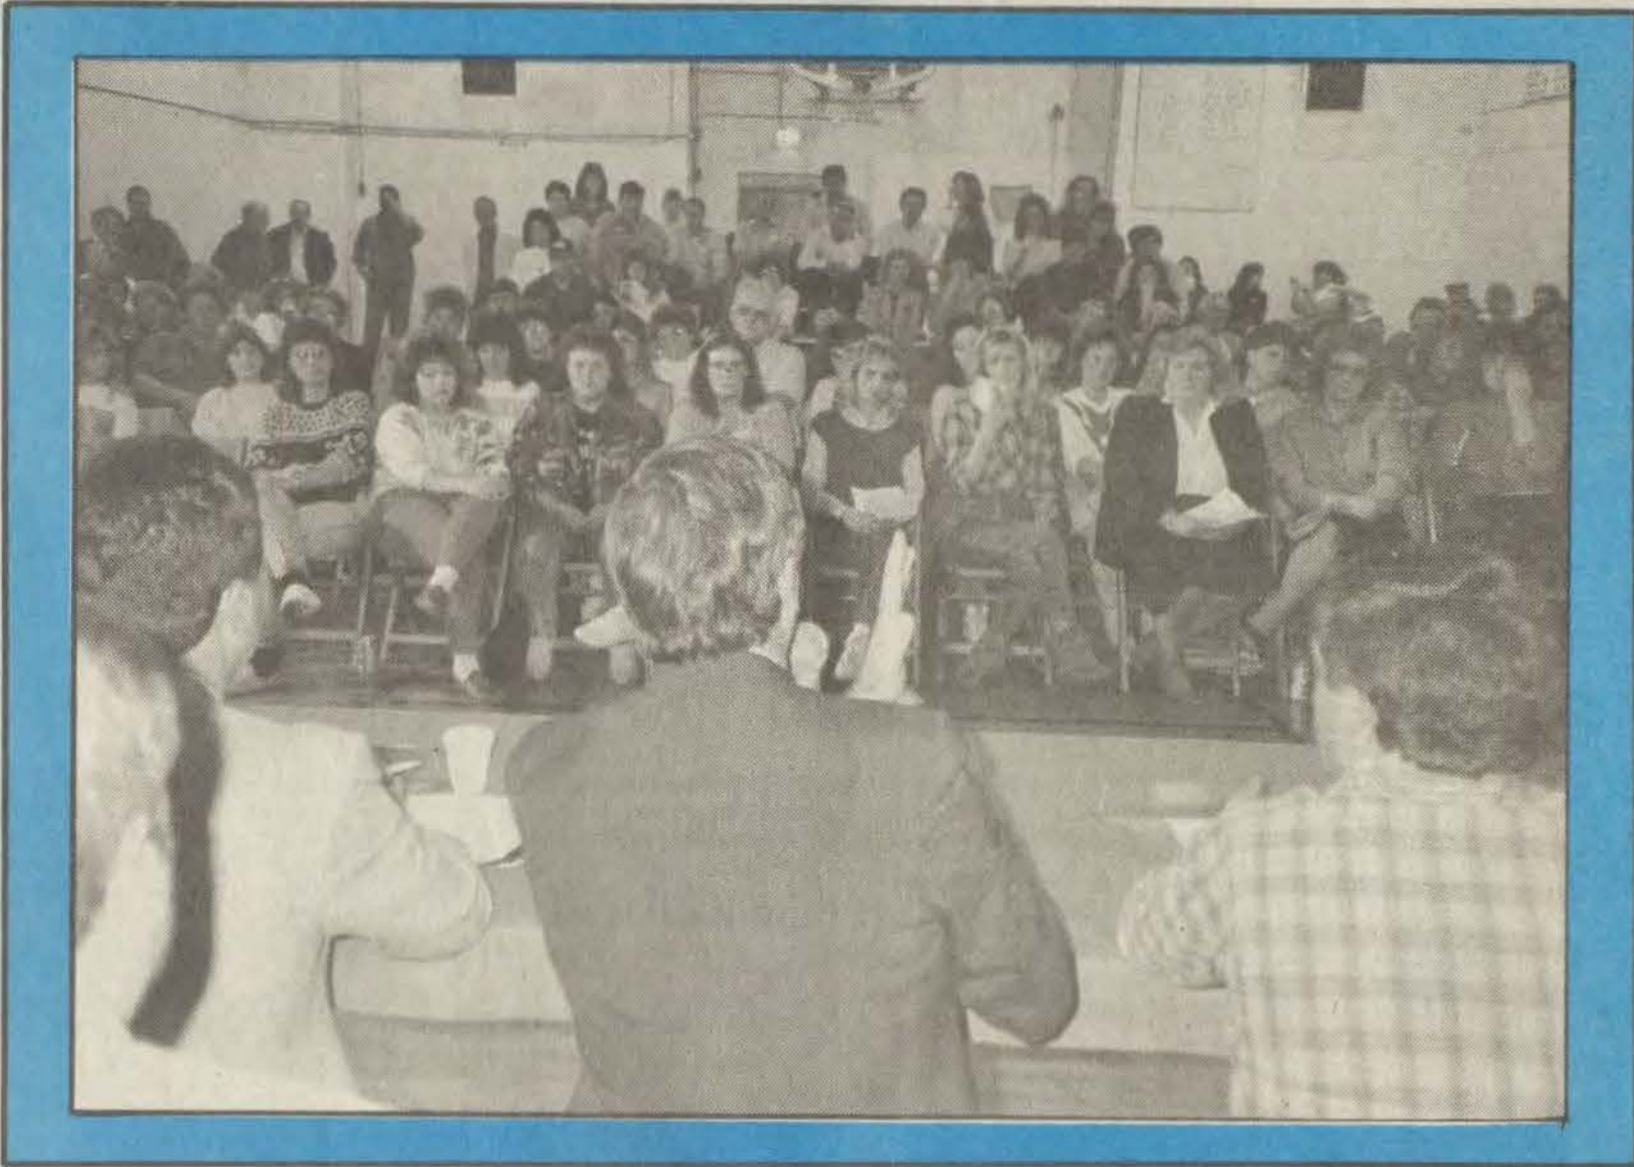

Parents were assured that all efforts would be directed at beginning construction as quickly as possible on the long-delayed project. Two weeks ago, at a third and final bid opening, estimated construction costs were approximately $200,000 over the set $2.25 million budget.

Joe Hinchman, president of the Allen PTO, opened the meeting by citing an inspection report performed by an independent engineer hired by the PTO. The report listed poor conditions at the existing school. Hinchman asked why parents were originally told that the new structure would be complete by the beginning of the 1989 school year, when construction has not yet begun as the end of the year approaches.

State and local speakers each addressed this and other questions relating to the delayed facility construction.

Rep. Stumbo, who chaired the meeting, noted that he attended Allen as a first grader and remembered the school as "being old" even then.

"We're here to breathe new life in the Allen school project," said Stumbo. "Right now, we're looking for about $200,000 to get the project going. This isn't an insurmountable See ALLEN SCHOOL, Page 8

Looking For Straight Answers

Allen parents direct hard questions at a special Allen School panel formed at the request of the Allen PTO. The panel included State Superintendent of Schools John Brock, State Sen. Benny Ray Bailey, State Rep. Greg Stumbo, and Floyd County School Superintendent Ron Hager. Parents wanted to know if and when the new school facility for Allen would be built. According to Brock, bonds for the facility should be sold in December, and construction on the long awaited school will begin in January.

Group Hopes To Build Nursing Home At McDowell

by Anne Chaney,
Editor

When area nursing homes are filled to capacity, Floyd County residents must make a painful choice: placing a family member in a facility in Hindman, Pikeville and elsewhere, or bringing them home to wait until space is available.

Often, bringing them home may mean adding to an already stressful situation. And in a county where double-digit unemployment is the norm, providing the necessary level of care can put additional strain on a family's economic resources. Others choose to place relatives in facilities in surrounding counties, hoping that eventually the patient can be moved closer to home.

If a group of McDowell community leaders has its way, a solution to the problem may be in sight: A new skilled and intermediate care facility located across the street from McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital.

While Floyd County currently has two privately owned nursing homes, it is common for each to have a waiting list, says Betty Tackett, RN day supervisor and member of McDowell ARH's patient discharge planning committee. Mountain Manor in Prestonsburg is an intermediate care facility with 56 beds; Riverview, also in Prestonsburg, has 58 skilled and 64 intermediate care beds. Other facilities are located in Hindman, at Robinson Creek in Pike County and in Pikeville.

For residents in central and southern Floyd County, visiting a relative in an out-of-county nursing home often means driving an hour or more each way. "We used to get patients in a lot (at Hindman), but the last year there's been a waiting list," explains Tackett. "Families are unhappy because of the distance."

Dr. Mary Hall, McDowell physician and former chief of staff at Appalachian Regional there, says many doctors are caught in a double See NURSING HOME, Page 10

Martin Receives Funding For Sewage Treatment Plant

by Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

Martin residents will soon be provided environmentally safe wastewater treatment facilities as the result of a $690,420 grant.

A Community Development Block Grant has been awarded to the City of Martin to assist in the construction of a new wastewater treatment plant and to make other system improvements which will allow the wastewater treatment system to comply with Environmental Protection Agency operational requirements.

According to Roger Recktenwald, director of Big Sandy Area Development District, the current plant is operating under an Environmental Protection Agency Administrative Order and is subject to a court ordered tap-on ban. The existing plant was constructed in 1964 as one of the first public wastewater grants in the country, Recktenwald explained, and since then has been under four floods and has required multiple repairs.

This CDBG grant, in conjunction with the EPA grant of $586,824 which was dependent upon the approval of the first grant, and a Farmers Home Administration loan for the remaining $271,756 will allow the city to comply with the EPA dictates, thereby enabling it to provide service to 26 new customers that currently do not have sewer facilities.

"This system will completely replace the old plant and four pump stations, as well as some lines," Recktenwald noted. "Customers should expect a minimal rate increase six months before the completion of the plant construction." He estimated the increase to be about $2 per month for a minimum bill.

Recktenwald was unable to cite an exact figure since the CDBG grant was $30,580 less than expected and the EPA grant is $119,824 more than originally requested.

"We've been in the application process for these grants for three years and received one of the last EPA grants available," he said. "We are very happy about this announcement since the EPA grant could have been lost if the CDBG was not approved at this time, and the city would have had to finance a considerably greater sum than they do."

Two things still remain to be completed before the city can let bids for construction of the plant: The approval of a site and the final design of the collector lines going into the city. The engineers have stalled in looking at alternative sites contingent upon the approval of funding, Reck-

Economic Diversification, Jobs Sought By Authority

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

Can Eastern Kentucky and Floyd County move from current economic dependence on "King Coal" for economic livelihood into new areas of economic growth and expansion?

Local leaders involved in a 25-county project to promote the region to outside business, provide capital for local entrepreneurs, and support area economic diversification and growth, believe it is possible.

Tentatively entitled the East Kentucky Job Creation Authority, and chaired by Knott County Attorney William Weinberg and Pike County Judge-Executive Paul Patton, the idea for the project was conceived at an economic summit held in Hazard last spring, attended by leaders from 22 counties in the region.

Funding for the authority will be sought from governmental agencies, as well as energy corporations which control much of the region's natural resources. The current funding plan also calls for each county involved in the program to pay 50 cents per resident annually for five years. Cities would pay 10 cents per person. Matching funds from the state will be requested.

It is hoped that a fund of $5 million can be established to be used for the encouragement and recruitment of business both within and outside the region. Projects under consideration include the development of a regional economic development plan, the creation of industrial parks, and the es-

Man Crawls Under Train, Foot Injured When Cars Move

Johnny Boyd, 30, of Tram, was injured early Sunday morning when his foot was run over by a train in Ivel.

According to reports from the Kentucky State Police, at approximately 12:10 a.m. Sunday, a west bound train stopped in Ivel to allow an east bound train to pass. While the train was stopped, Boyd apparently crawled under it. When the train resumed travel, Boyd's foot was struck at the heel, and cut to the bone.

Boyd was taken to Highlands Regional Hospital by Respond Ambulance Service, and was then transported to University of Kentucky's Medical Center, where he is listed in satisfactory condition.

No citations were issued by state police in the incident. Trooper Lynn Cross was the investigating officer.

Receiving The Funds

Governor Wallace Wilkinson, Representative Greg Stumbo and Commissioner Lee Troutwine, for the Department of Local Government, presented Martin City Mayor Raymond Griffith with a check for $690,420, representing a Community Development Block Grant. This is part of the funding for a new wastewater treatment system to be constructed in Martin by June 1991.

New Plant At Tri-County Site to Employ 185

EASTERN KENTUCKY — A bedding products manufacturing facility, operated by Whiting Manufacturing Company of Ohio, will begin construction in December at the Tri-County Industrial Park in Helechawa.

The industrial site, developed by Morgan, Wolfe, and Magoffin counties, located in Wolfe County and bordering the other two counties, was created two and a half years ago in a cooperative effort between the three counties. Whiting will be the first company to utilize the 100 acre site, located just off the Mountain Parkway.

The 100,000 sq. ft. manufacturing facility is expected to begin production in May, reaching full capacity and employment within two years. (Licking Valley Courier)

Big Sandy Jail Question Resolved

JOHNSON COUNTY — In a ruling by Judge James Knight last week in Paintsville, Johnson County Jailer Thurman Tackett was confirmed as chief administrator for the Big Sandy Regional Jail Authority. Claims to the position by Lorna Cassady were declared unfounded.

The 22-month dispute revolved around competing claims to the administrative position based upon two meetings held in January 1988, which allegedly removed Tackett from the detention center position and replaced him with Cassady. Because a quorum wasn't present at these meetings, Knight ruled them illegal and invalid. (Paintsville Herald)

University Students Indicted For Rape

MOREHEAD — Three Morehead men were indicted on rape-related charges last week by a Rowan County grand jury because of an alleged attack on another person considered "incapable of consent because she was physically helpless."

The attack occurred on Nov. 9 and involved three Morehead University men, Derrick Brown, 19, Brett Lane, 20, and J.D. Carey, 20. (Morehead News)

Group Formed To Start Coal Museum

HARLAN COUNTY — A non-profit organization is being organized in Benham to spearhead efforts at developing a coal mining museum and an exhibition mine in the area.

The purpose of the project is to promote economic development and tourism in the area. According to members of the local Chamber of Commerce, there has been no single organization which has control over the project, and this has slowed progress.

A non-profit organization, it is hoped, will provide focus and direction for the project, particularly for current efforts at site selection, which have been delayed by conflicts with mining interests. (Louisville Courier-Journal)

'Tis The Season To Decorate

Employees at May Lodge at the Jenny Wiley State Park have erected a 12-foot Christmas tree in preparing for the holiday season. Workers put up the tree on Monday and the Homemakers clubs from Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Pike and Magoffin counties decorated it with homemade ornaments on Tuesday. This is the fifth year the Homemakers have decorated the lodge, this year's theme being "Lacy Visions of Christmas." The ladies enlisted the help of golf-pro Kevin Altman (right) to put the crowning touch on the evergreen. Those from Floyd County who "decked the halls" at the lodge were Mary Sue Moore, Dorothy Stover, Eleanor Horn, Shirley Callihan, Helen Boyd, Mildred Branham, Margie Yates, Dorothy Harris, Phyllis Stanley, Lois Ball, Delphia Hicks and Francis Pitts.

Free Downtown Christmas Parking Approved By Council

The Prestonsburg City Council voted Monday night to allow free parking in the downtown area, to include the municipal parking lot, throughout the month of December.

Also discussed at the meeting were a two-part payment for fire truck refurbishment, a partial road closing and limiting traffic on Jackson Street to one-way.

Due to an illness in her family, Mayor Ann Latta was not present at the meeting; council member Adrian Blackburn presided. Other members present were William Callihan, William O. Goebel III, Charles Hale, Danny Hamilton and Michael Vance.

A motion on free parking for Christmas shoppers was made by Vance and seconded by Hamilton, and passed unanimously. The council members discussed the downtown parking situation, labeling it a continuing problem. All agreed that it needed to be reevaluated.

Fred James, city manager, presented the council with a proposal to pay the cost of refurbishing a fire truck in two payments. The first, $12,103, to be paid to World Wide Equipment of Huntington for the recently completed repair of the cab; and the second for $46,647 to be paid after the repair of the fire fighting equipment, pump and the remainder of the body by American Eagle of Florida, sub-contracted by World Wide. Two of Prestonsburg's firefighters have already driven the truck to Florida, at World Wide's expense, to expedite the repairs. James expects the vehicle to be ready in five to six weeks. The council passed the motion to pay World Wide the first payment and agreed to pay the second only after inspection of the refurbishment has been made.

The closing of a portion of Jackson Street to two-way traffic, brought up at the last council meeting, was discussed further. Vance noted that he had spoken to several residents and they favored the proposal because it would reduce traffic and the number of accidents at the intersection. The first reading was made and the vote was tabled until the next meeting.

In another road matter carried over from the previous meeting, it was approved that City Attorney Larry Brown should draw up a new ordinance to close four feet of Margaret Street and give that land to Charles Wright, neighboring land owner.

Council members authorized Brown to consult with Wright's attorney, John Mann, on the matter.

The last motion put to vote at the half hour meeting was by Goebel to have only one council meeting in December, eliminating the Monday, Dec. 27 meeting.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, Dec. 13.

Rear End Accidents Abound

Five accidents were reported this week by the Prestonsburg Police Department, four of which were caused by one vehicle striking another in the rear.

The largest accident resulted in four cars being pushed into one another as a vehicle driven by Rita Cruch, 20, of Prestonsburg struck the back car in the line. Involved were autos driven by Paul Fraley, 18, of Eastern, Robert Shepherd, 23, of David, and Markie Dwayne Ferrel, 22, of Antioch, Tenn. According to Sgt. Sue Blackburn, Ferrel, Shepherd and Fraley were all stopped at a traffic light on KY 1428 on Friday, Nov. 24, when Cruch struck the last car in the line. Cruch stated she did not even realize she had hit Fraley until he advised her.

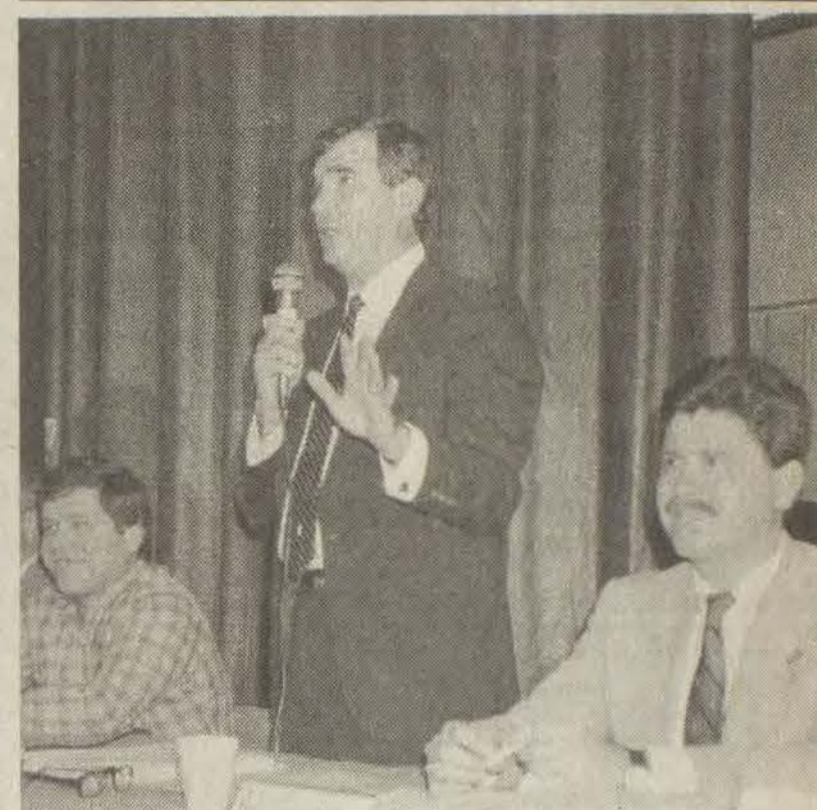

Another similar accident happened on the same day at the intersection of US 23 and North Lake Drive. Deborah Sammons, 19, of Hunter, struck the rear of a vehicle driven by Edward DeRossett, 22, of Prestonsburg, causing him to go forward and strike the back of a car driven by Darrell Jervis, 23, of Garrett. Officer Darrel J. Conley took the report and issued no citations.

On Monday, Nov. 27, Lisa Bentley, 22, of Prestonsburg, and David Davis, 32, of Louisa, were both traveling north on US 23. Davis was stopped for the red light at West Prestonsburg when Bentley, unable to stop in time, struck the rear of Davis's vehicle, according to Sgt. Tim Mullins.

The fourth rear-ender took place on Tuesday, Nov. 21, on US 23. According to Officer Roy Roberts, Johnny Belcher, 21, of Jenkins was stopped in the left hand lane waiting to make a left turn when he was struck by an auto driven by Dessie Setser, 69, of Dwale, who was unable to stop and hit the back of his car.

In an accident at the intersection of Plaza Road and KY Route 114, Sandra Layne Hall, 29, of Freeburn was attempting to pull onto KY Route 114 from Plaza Road when she struck a vehicle driven by Tracey Gilliam, 34, of Allen, who was west bound on Route 114. Hall stated that a vehicle in front of Gilliam's was turning from Route 114 onto Plaza Road and she did not see him behind this vehicle. Gilliam said he had consumed one beer prior to the incident and was drinking another at the time of impact. He passed three field sobriety tests administered by Officer R.J. Conn but was cited for drinking an alcoholic beverage on the highway and having no insurance. His car was towed away.

Taking The Heat

State School Superintendent John Brock fields questions from Allen PTO parents frustrated by the three-year of delays in the Allen school project. The mood of the meeting remained relatively calm throughout the two hour meeting, with occasional roars of approval from the audience when members of the panel requested that construction on the project begin immediately. Brock received a standing ovation, following his promises of an early construction start.

Thoughts From The Road

By Frank Clark

I read today that the Kentucky River Area Development District (KRADD) has hired a new executive director from within its own ranks. Linda Gayheart, who has been with KRADD for 18 years, stepped into the position vacated by Percy Elkins, who has also been a district employee for 18 years.

The KRADD, like our own Big Sandy Area Development District, was organized through the Appalachian Regional Commission, and is designed to serve the development needs of the counties within its district. It is also required to be responsible to local leaders, to whom it provides support and from whom it takes some direction. Unfortunately, when Whitesburg Mayor James Asher and state Rep. Paul Mason, (D-Whitesburg) requested that the application process for selecting the new director be open for competition, their request was ignored by the board of directors.

While I don't know the details of this incident, I can only assume, as anyone who is familiar with job hiring practices in the area might, that internal political considerations have taken precedence over choosing the most qualified person to assume the directorship of the Kentucky River ADD.

This politicalization of development district hiring practices hits close to home for me. I've discussed job opportunities within a number of development districts in the past. Positions open at regular intervals, but individuals without board connections or some such "in" don't seem to get the chance to compete. Qualifications appear to take a back seat to who you know.

The consequence of this practice among ADDs is to restrict access of qualified people to positions in the development field.

ADDs are designed to take a front line position in efforts to improve economic and social conditions within Central Appalachia. It's to the detriment of all Eastern Kentuckians to not have the best qualified persons in those positions which can make such a difference to the region's growth and improvement.

In our own area, with the Big Sandy ADD, we are fortunate to have the direction of an individual who keeps development and the needs of area residents at the forefront of his agenda. This does not appear to be true in the Kentucky River ADD, and in several other ADDs in the region. Our Kentucky neighbors living in those counties, under the jurisdiction of these development districts, suffer the consequences of politicized hiring practices.

Letters to the Editor

Pollution: Time To Stop

Dear Editor,
I wanted to say Ann Latta is so right about people littering. If we don't pick up after ourselves and keep the streets and roadways clean, and I might add the waterways and streams clean, what are we in for? We can't live without water, clean water, and our ground is getting so polluted it is no wonder so many people are dying of cancer and other such disease. With the PBC and oils and gas and sprays and some fertilizers are very toxic and bad for our health. So, I hope everyone does their part to make life better for all.

Thelma Hall,
Pocatello, Idaho

Trash TV?

Dear Editor,
I have spent several evenings watching TV or looking for something to watch.

Being a man over 35 years old, I was looking for something educational or entertaining. Switching from one channel to another, to my amazement there was only nakedness, sexual intercourse or murder on practically all channels except the cartoons and I was afraid to stop for fear that Chicken Little would seduce Goosey Lucy before the sky fell in. It's no wonder that our generation grew up to have no moral values and a third rate education. If this is all there is for the children to watch, as parents we all have (missed the mark).

Gorman Collins Sr.
Prestonsburg

Thanks, Doctors

Dear Editor,
I recently spent some scary "down time" in Highlands Regional Medical Center.

I just can't thank Doctors Jurich, Handshoe, Shah and Mini enough. They were so professional and kind. The staff in CCU was just marvelous.

When I was moved to the fourth floor, I found the same kind of care. The nurses and staff on that floor were the best.

How fortunate we are to have such a fine facility here in Eastern Kentucky!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Lucille May,
Former PHS teacher

Giving Thanks

Dear Editor,
We, the people of Highland Terrace, give our thanks for all the food they contributed to us for Thanksgiving, and we also thank God, the provider of this food.

We want to thank the Baptist Church, Methodist Church and Presbyterian Church, and everyone involved; they certainly made a good and happy Thanksgiving. Thank God for our community.

I didn't have the money to provide this dinner. I am on fixed income, and so are a lot of others.

Bertha Stone,

Prestonsburg

McConnell's Comments

Sen. Mitch McConnell

CLEAN-COAL TECHNOLOGY PROTECTS ENVIRONMENT, BOOSTS COAL EXPORTS

Coal is one of the world's great fuel sources. It was coal that provided the energy for our country's growth as we made the transition from an agricultural to an industrial-based society. Today, the environmental concerns associated with the burning of coal and the cost of installing pollution-control devices has battered the coal industry and thrown hard-working Kentucky coal miners out of work. How, with some aggressive marketing, we stand a good chance of recouping these losses and putting people back to work by selling coal and clean-coal technology overseas.

By the end of this year, the federal government will have obligated to commit over $1.5 billion to clean-coal technologies. This will be matched by as much as $2.5 billion from the private sector. This technology, which includes advanced procedures for mixing coal with other substances to make it burn cleaner, will allow developing countries to use coal in providing the energy their economies need to grow and prosper. It will also allow US utilities and industries to continue burning coal and meet the tough standards that will be imposed by any clean air legislation.

The clean coal program enjoys strong, bipartisan support in Congress. An amendment I sponsored which will streamline and increase the coordination between the various federal export programs related to clean coal was passed unanimously by the Senate. In addition, 25 of my colleagues have signed a letter I wrote to various Bush administration officials encouraging them to more effectively promote the export of coal and clean-coal technologies.

There is a direct connection between this technology, coal sales and a clean environment. When a country purchases clean-coal technology, it is making a long-term investment not only in using coal as a primary fuel source, but also in protecting the environment. As we become increasingly more informed about the dangers the global environment faces, we have a responsibility to do everything possible to protect the earth. The development, demonstration and export of clean-coal technology is a giant step along that path.

With 365 percent of the world's coal reserves located in the US, we have a stable, secure energy supply to offer developing countries.

A TWO-YEAR FEDERAL BUDGET COULD HELP TO END FRAUD

It has become absolutely clear that reducing our staggering federal budget deficit will require toughness, innovation and common sense — qualities clearly associated with the two-year budget proposal that I have been pushing since 1981.

I am pleased to report that this proposal has been approved by the Governmental Affairs Committee and should reach the Senate floor early next year — the second year of the 101st Congress.

We have good reason to believe that this much needed proposal now has a good chance of reaching the front burner of the legislative process and being enacted into law within the next year.

With a two-year budget, we could use the first session of each Congress to set spending priorities and adopt a budget for the next two fiscal years. Then we would have a lot more time in the second year for tougher congressional oversight of federal agencies spending our taxpayers' money.

As a result, we would have a much better chance of catching federal fraud and waste before it mushrooms into the kind of multi-billion dollar losses currently plaguing so many parts of our government.

We would have more time to uncover and stop intolerable situations of the kind now unfolding in our Department of Defense. We see people going to prison for fraud related to our indispensable defense efforts. Yet our government has done far too little to clamp down on huge defense contractors who benefit from these illegal activities.

We also would have more time to prevent scandals such as the one still being disclosed at HUD, which stands for Department of Housing and Urban Development, but which is also becoming known as "Help Yourself to the Dough."

A trail of federal losses stretches from our savings and loan insurance program, plagued by tens of billions of dollars worth of fraud, waste and mismanagement by S&Ls in some parts of our nation, to the Federal Housing Administration and the Indian Trust Fund.

We have to wonder what will be next if we don't start finding ways, such as applying stricter oversight

Report To Kentucky

Sen. Wendell Ford

under a two-year budget, to get a jump ahead of those who would defraud our government of additional billions of dollars.

As a former governor, I know that a two-year budget offers many other opportunities to get more bang for the federal buck. For one thing, we could do a much better job of coordinating federal-state programs in Kentucky and others states already using a two-year budget.

We got promising results from a two-year budget-cutting plan negotiated with the Reagan Administration in 1987. We have the Bush Administration's support of a two-year budget to replace our current unworkable one-year budget.

Murder, Election Investigation Considered By Floyd Grand Jury

A capital murder indictment against a Prestonsburg man and questions concerning recent county elections topped the agenda of the Grand Jury hearings recently.

Lonnie Doug Neeley, 34, of Prestonsburg, with a current address listed at Zolfo Springs, Fla., was accused of murdering Tina Kestner in December 1988 by intentionally burning a trailer occupied by Kestner. Neeley is also accused of first degree arson as a result of the incident.

Indictments handed down by the Grand Jury state only that sufficient evidence exists for a case to be pursued. No decision of guilt or innocence is made by the Grand Jury at this time.

The Grand Jury also recommended that a special prosecutor be asked to carry out an investigation into voting irregularities from the last county election. The jury asked the investigator to examine the handling or misuse of county property during the election, which may have occurred in order to promote specific candidates.

In separate action, John Jarrell allegedly committed five counts of first degree assault when he drove his vehicle while under the influence of alcohol into a car containing five persons, causing serious injury and threat to life.

The Grand Jury indicted two local men on charges of sodomy involving a juvenile.

Curtis Howell, Jr. of Daniels Creek, was accused of sodomizing a juvenile girl on Sept. 7.

Daryll R. Collins, 39, of Price was accused of two counts of sodomy involving a minor. Collins is also accused of infecting the juvenile with gonorrhea.

Several other violent crimes came before the Grand Jury last week. Other indictments returned are:

Billy Ray Johnson was accused of first degree wanton endangerment, terroristic threatening, and criminal mischief when he allegedly ran his wife, Judy Johnson, off the road with his automobile, threatened her with a knife, and then cut her four tires.

Kenoy Ray Stone and Goman Thornsberry are both accused of first degree rape.

Jackie Taylor, 27, of Hunter, accused of second degree assault for allegedly striking Jeffery Bays with a vehicle, causing him serious injury. Taylor was also charged with first degree wanton endangerment when he nearly struck pedestrian Alisha Goodwill.

William Terry, 25, and Thomas Skeens, 20, both of Prestonsburg, accused of second degree assault, for hitting James T. Mullins Jr. in the head with a baseball bat.

A number of burglaries were also brought before the Grand Jury. Indicted were:

Chester Adkins, 20, of Prestonsburg, first degree burglary for entering the house of Bill Evans and taking a firearm.

James Bradley, 27, of Catlettsburg, first degree burglary for entering the house of William Meek and taking a number of firearms.

Tommy "Butch" Perry, 28, of Tifton, GA, two counts of first degree burglary for entering the houses of Danny Caudill and Clyde Porter and exiting with a firearm.

Alvin Branham, Jr., 18, of David, two counts of third degree burglary when he entered the David School, allegedly with the intention of committing a crime.

Drug charges were also brought before the Grand Jury. Indictments issued were against:

Delmas May, 35, and Michael Cline, both of West Virginia, charged with the possession with intent to sell more than five pounds of marijuana.

Douglas Sexton, 34, of Ft. Myers, Fla., charged with possession of a schedule I, controlled substance, when he was found by Kentucky State Police to have LSD in his possession.

Jody Williams, of Prestonsburg, accused of trafficking in marijuana when he was found to possess approximately one pound of the drug.

Numerous theft cases filled out the Grand Jury schedule. Indicted were issued against:

Ian C. Beattie was charged with theft by deception, after he allegedly wrote a bad check for $700.

James Hunter, 40, of Wheelwright, charged with theft by deception, for writing a bad check to Save-A-Lot for $106.

Garrell Compton, 36, of Harold, accused of two counts of theft of a motor vehicle registration plate, when he was allegedly found to be in possession of plates owned by Turner Smith and Bert Allen.

Peggy Hall Conn, 34, of Martin, charged with theft by unlawful taking, when she allegedly took a VCR valued at over $100, belonging to Bernard Martin.

Jackie Crum of Eastern, accused of theft by failure to make required disposition of property, when he allegedly took $10,000 from James Whited for business purposes and converted the money to his own use.

Jimmy Crum was accused of theft by deception for writing a bad check to Beaver Truck Parts for $7,276.

Lucinda Dunaway, 19, of Sandy

Hook, was charged with theft by deception for allegedly writing a bad check to Wal-Mart, valued at $190.

Bob Fortner of Prestonsburg was accused of theft by deception for allegedly issuing a bad check to Wright's Lumber Co. in the amount of $224.

Gregory Hall, 38, of Galveston, and Johnny Keathley, 23, of Galveston, were accused of theft by unlawful taking, for allegedly taking two coal truck tires valued at more than $100 from Dana Spurlock.

Olga Hamilton of Teaberry was accused of theft by deception, for allegedly writing a bad check to Nicky Shepherd for $3,000.

Greg Martin, 23, of Lexington, Michael Hoover, 19, of Eastern, and Michael Cline, 20, of North Springs, W.Va., were charged with theft by unlawful taking, for allegedly taking a 1947 jeep valued at more than $100, owned by Bernard Martin.

Christopher Meeks, 24, of Lexington, was charged with theft by unlawful taking for allegedly taking waterbeds and other property from California Waterbeds, valued at over $100.

Clyde Phillips was accused of theft by deception for allegedly falsely obtaining 379 tons of coal from Buck Coal Inc., valued at $9,668, and failing to pay the company for the coal.

Taylor Price of Prestonsburg was accused of 10 counts of theft by deception. Price allegedly wrote two bad checks to Institutional Dist., for a total value of $1,551, four bad checks to Virginia Foods, for a total of $74,443, and four bad checks to T&H Service Merchandising, for a total of $1,833.

Glenna Thacker, 41, of Ivel and Michelle Wilson of Ivel, were charged with two counts of theft by deception, for allegedly writing two checks to Loveland Pet Warehouse, for a total value of $9458.

Donald and Della Thorpe of Prestonsburg were charged with four counts of theft by deception, for allegedly issuing bad checks to the Division of Unemployment Insurance valued at $600.

David R. Vainwright of Decatur, AL, was charged with theft by deception for allegedly writing a bad check to James Burchett, valued at $800.

Shirley Wilcox of Algar, Ohio, was accused of theft by deception, for allegedly writing a bad check to Allen Dental Center, valued at $730.

In other Grand Jury action, Tony Akers and David Lee Allen, 31, of Garrett, were indicted separately for flagrant non-support, allegedly failing to meet child support obligations.

Granville Couch of Vest, and Marion Kilburn were separately indicted for operating motor vehicles while their licenses were suspended or revoke for DUI (third offense or more).

Johnny Green of Adrian, MI, was indicted for receiving stolen property when he was discovered to be in possession of a Jeep owned by James Wright Jr., which allegedly he knew to be stolen.

Gary Lynn Hall was indicted for second degree arson when he allegedly set fire to an automobile in order to collect insurance on it.

Joey Arthur Hobson of Van Lear was indicted for fraudulent use of a credit card when he allegedly took a card belonging to Jim Pelphrey and charged about $1,048 in goods at C&H Rauch.

Agen Mullins, 47, of Blue River, was indicted for unemployment insurance fraud for allegedly receiving unlawful benefits in the amount of $3,652.

In final action, Harry Poe, 21, of Martin was indicted for possession of a handgun by a convicted felon.

'It's My Marijuana; I'll Eat It If I Want To'

A Langley man pleaded guilty to 11 criminal counts in District Court this week and was also found guilty of one felony from the same arrest which was brought before the grand jury in April.

Garner Ray Halbert, 27, was arrested in January 1988 after passing State Trooper Stacey Trees on KY 80 and then leading the officer on a chase through Maytown before wrecking his 1980 Honda motorcycle. Trees arrested Halbert on 12 charges: Fifth offense DUI, attempting to elude a police officer, reckless driving, operating on a suspended license, possession of marijuana, drug possession, possession of drug paraphernalia, no insurance, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and destroying physical evidence.

by the Grand Jury and Halbert was sentenced to 60 days in jail. On other 11 counts, Halbert pleaded guilty on Monday, Nov. 20, and was fined $500 plus $207.50 in court costs.

The charge of destroying physical evidence came when, at the jail, the subject grabbed the marijuana and swallowed it. Trees said that he made statements claiming that it was his marijuana and he could eat it if he wanted to.

Halbert was operating his motor vehicle at speeds in an excess of 100 miles per hour, Trees stated, and was found to have no driver's license, expired plates and no insurance. She also discovered in his possession, besides the marijuana, two small pills (names unknown), a cocaine spoon and a pair of hemostats (drug paraphernalia).

Only the last charge was accepted tenwald noted. The physical design of the plant is complete and is expected to go to bid in the next three months. This is considerably shorter than other projects which have taken anywhere from six to nine months, he added. Recktenwald expects the construction to start this June and be completed within a year to 14 months.

In announcing the grant, Gov. Wallace Wilkinson praised the efforts of city leaders to resolve the environmental problem.

"Mayor Griffith and the city council are to be commended for their efforts to provide adequate wastewater treatment facilities for the city residents. Their actions resolve a possible health problem and will enable the city to grow," Wilkinson said. "I am pleased that the state government could assist with this worthwhile project."

The CDBG program is funded by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development and administered by the Kentucky Department of Local Government.

A Word From James Still

Noted Eastern Kentucky author, poet and story teller James Still spoke to Elderhostel participants staying at the May Lodge of Jenny Wiley State Park this week. He spoke of his writings and his life, presenting his new book (above) "Rusties and Riddles and Gee-Haw Whimmy-Diddles," autographing copies that were for sale after his presentation. This is the second year the Hindman native has done readings for the Elderhostel.

Allen School

amount."

Stumbo said State Sen. Benny Ray Bailey was a "magician when it comes to the state budget," and promised that the school would go up with the continued effort of all present.

Bailey agreed with Stumbo's remarks.

"If its only $200,000 that's needed for the project, I can find that in the state budget myself. What I want to be assured of is that we have a final product here which meets the needs of the children," said Bailey.

Hager placed a large part of the blame for budgeting problems of the school on high costs of land and land preparation in Eastern Kentucky.

"In Floyd County the cost of good land is as high as $35,000 per acre, while in counties outside the mountains, it costs only $2,000 or $3,000 per acre," said Hager. "It required $600,000 up front to purchase our site and get it above the 100 year flood plane, as is required by law. That leaves us a lot less to construct the actual facility."

Hager also noted that all Kentucky children have the right to equal facilities, regardless if they live in the mountains where land preparation costs are high, and called for state political leaders to consider this issue when allocating funds for school construction.

Roger Recktenwald, director of the Big Sandy Area Development District, expressed frustration with the slow progress of the project, and asked if the facility currently under consideration by the school board would eventually include a gymnasium facility and 12 classrooms. The latter were cut earlier due to budget overruns.

Randy Burchett, architect for the project, explained that the gym and 12 classrooms were not a part of the current bidding process.

"These rooms were taken out with the hope that they can be added at a later time," said Burchett. "For a set of six classrooms, the cost is about $186,000. The gym facility runs about $180,000. These rooms are to be added as new funding becomes available."

Brock was the last to formally address gathered parents prior to a question and answer session.

To solve the current deadlock between bidders and a budget which falls $200,000 short of submitted bids, Brock authorized the Floyd School Board to implement emergency measures and renegotiate with bidders or seek lower bids from new contractors.

"I'm authorizing the school board to start the project right now," said Brock. "The budget problem will be worked out as the project begins."

Brock, who said that he sensed early in his term in office that Eastern Kentucky school projects would pose special cost and construction problems, gave his approval for Allen project bond sales to begin December.

When asked by parents when he anticipated completion of the school, Brock predicted work to be finished in 10 to 12 months, and classes to start in the facility by the beginning of the 1991 school year. He also expressed hope that by the time ground breaking occurred in January 1990, that funding for all portions of the original school plan — including the 12 classrooms and gym currently cut from the project — will be funded by new state legislation.

"We want a complete facility here and I'm committed to getting it built," said Brock.

Brock received a standing ovation from the approximately 75 persons attending the meeting. Both Brock and Hager expressed satisfaction with the PTO meeting.

"People in Allen want a school that's as safe and modern as any other school in the state," stated Brock. "Unfortunately, with the number of agencies involved in the project, it's a slow process. The higher costs in Eastern Kentucky also cause frustration. Now, with what has been done tonight, the board can reevaluate bids and work through this delay. I'm also hopeful of getting some additional funding through Sen.

Bailey and Rep. Stumbo's efforts."

"I sense the frustration of Allen parents and I know the school board shares these frustrations," said Hager. "I think this was a positive meeting and, once we get underway with this project, I don't expect any further delays."

Some parents who attended the meeting were not as confident of a quick resolution to the project, which received funding by the state in 1986.

"I'm pleased that the politicians came and told us what they're going to do," said Dolores Smith, a local education critic who has had two children attend the current Allen school. "I'm still skeptical of what's going to happen and when. They can tell us to forget the past and all the delays, but it's difficult."

A Nov. 30 meeting between the project architect, Hager and state representatives has been scheduled in Frankfort to iron out final details so that bonds can be sold in December. Construction is expected to begin in January.

911 Hearing Dec. 15

A public hearing will be held on Friday, Dec. 15 at 9 a.m. in the Court-house Annex Building at the Floyd County Fiscal Court meeting on installing a 911 telephone system in Floyd County.

The public is invited to express their comments for or against the installation.

The 911 service will add up to 50 cents on current monthly telephone bills and will aid in expediting response times of police, fire and ambulance services. It will be a county wide program with one central dispatcher, and will have instant display of the address, name and local emergency agencies servicing the caller.

The proposal for the service was made at the October Fiscal Court meeting and was well received by the magistrates and Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo. It was explained that the installation process would take two years since agents need to come into the area and create detailed maps, naming streets and number houses in an appropriate sequence, and added benefit to the whole process. Most of the other counties in the state either already have or are in the process of getting the 911 service.

Chevy Donates Blazer To Mayo Vocational School

Mayo State Vocational Technical School in Paintsville has received a 1989 S-10 Blazer from Chevrolet and Music-Carter-Hughes Chevrolet-Buick to further students' automotive mechanical careers.

So far, nearly 7000 brand new Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks damaged by accidents, floods or other mishaps on their way to the dealer showrooms have been donated to schools for in-classroom instructional purposes.

Arthur J. Brock, Chevrolet's sales manager-service, said that in the past 17 years most of the 50 states have received these free vehicles for their vocation/education programs.

"We started this program in 1972 because we found schools could use these cars and trucks that would normally be placed into the scrap crusher," he said. "In addition to these damaged vehicles, engineering test and pilot line vehicles not suitable for sale are included in the program."

The Chevrolet program also includes donations of passenger car and truck engines, transmissions, tools and various major automotive components used for testing or design development. According to Brock, and non-profit educational institution may qualify for the donation of a vehicle component.

The institution must sign a legal affidavit acknowledging that they fully understand that the vehicle may not be driven on any road—public or private. Donation tags are fastened to the vehicles, and Chevrolet advises appropriate agencies that the vehicle has been removed from service and should never again be licensed or titled.

Chevrolet's 22 branch offices coordinate donations whenever an accident causes major damage to shipped units. Branch service staffs maintain current list requests for such vehicles. When a vehicle is available, the branch obtains a donation approval and the school is then asked to pick up the vehicle.

Floyd County Named Labor Surplus Area

Floyd County has been classified by the federal government as a labor surplus area, enabling local businesses to have an "edge" when bidding on federal purchasing contracts.

The labor surplus designation applies to counties that had an average unemployment rate of 7.1 percent or higher during 1987 and 1988.

"The labor surplus designation means employers in these areas will get preference in bidding on federal contracts," said Ed Blackwell, Kentucky's chief labor market analyst. "Companies could win contracts to make such items as tools, office products, clothing, shoes, boots and tents for the military, and tires and small parts for government-owned automobiles."

The purpose in giving this bidding preference is to help channel federal dollars into areas where economic need is greatest, Blackwell explained.

"Although this doesn't replace the jobs an area has lost, it helps cushion the impact of unemployment that is above the national average for a prolonged period," he said.

The US Department of Labor normally designates labor surplus areas in October of each year. The classification is effective through September of the following year. The list can be updated during the year to include areas where unemployment jumped significantly as a result of a major layoff that is not temporary or seasonal.

Moore Completes Basic Banking School

Kevin Moore, an assistant cashier at First Guaranty National Bank in Martin, was among 65 persons who graduated recently from the Kentucky Schools of Banking Basic Banking School.

The school is a one-year basic banking school administered by the Kentucky Bankers Association. Held at the Springs Inn in Lexington in conjunction with the University of Kentucky, this is the first year for the school. It strives to provide students with a basic banking education and an understanding of the business and its environment from a balance sheet perspective. The goal of the school, according to Francis Aicklen, director of public relations, is to broaden the banking students' understanding of the factors affecting the bank profitability and enhance students' value to their institution.

Graduates are eligible for the accredited KSB General Banking School.

Veterans Questions & Answers

Question: Are veterans with a service-connected disability seeking Department of Veterans Affairs medical care exempt from the VA's Means Test?

Answer: All veterans with service-connected illness or disabilities are provided no-cost care regardless of income. Certain other veterans are also exempt from the Means Test, including former prisoners of war, veterans exposed to radiation or herbicides, and veterans of the Spanish-American War, the Mexican border period and World War I.

Question: Are Merchant Marine seamen considered veterans for the purpose of Department of Veterans Affairs benefits?

Answer: The Defense Department has declared that certain Merchant Marine seamen who served in active, ocean-going service from Dec. 7, 1941, to Aug. 15, 1945, are veterans for VA benefits purposes. The decision also affects Civil Service crewmembers aboard US Army Transport Service and Naval Transportation Service vessels in ocean-going service during the same period. Any VA regional office can assist in making application for a discharge certificate.

Question: I received an evaluation of my service-connected condition which was rated zero percent by the VA. What advantage is there to having such a disability status?

Answer: There are several advantages, the most important of which is having a record that your disability is related to your service. Establishing the disability will also allow a quicker decision if your condition worsens and you claim compensation for it. With basic entitlement established, the VA will only need to determine the current extent of your disability.

The Statue of Liberty was originally to be set up at the Suez Canal.

Class Goes On Despite Bomb Scare

Despite a trio of bomb threats recently at Prestonsburg Community College, Professor Leo Weddle found a creative way to allow his class to go uninterrupted through the most recent scare yesterday. PCC has had three threats this semester and searching the buildings takes an hour and a half, causing up to three classes to be canceled. The classes aren't made up, according to instructor Tom Carroll, putting students behind in their studies. Tuesday's call was phoned in at 12:40 p.m., the exact time the class period begins, by a female, according to Major Mike Wells of the Prestonsburg Fire Department. The threats are always taken seriously and such pranks cause a great amount of trouble for the school as well as the firefighters, Wells noted.

dilemma. Medicare guidelines specify the length of hospital stay for most illnesses, she says, and hospitals are not reimbursed for costs incurred by patients who are kept after the predetermined discharge date.

"Medicare is telling us we have so many days to get them in and get them out. Either they get well, we send them home, or they have an ongoing illness. Many are too sick to go home, and there are no nursing home beds for them to go to," Hall explains.

Although Our Lady of the Way Hospital and McDowell ARH have implemented swing bed programs — beds for patients who require skilled nursing services and long-term stays — in many cases, the problem is only postponed. Again, Medicare criteria determines the length of stay.

"We have had one patient now for three months," says Tackett. "Three others were transferred from HRMC to our swing bed program."

Patients who require intermediate care — tasks not necessarily requiring a registered nurse, but those beyond the patient's capability to do for themselves — do not qualify for swing beds.

In Floyd and Pike counties, the four nursing home facilities have 101 skilled and 303 intermediate beds; most are filled, and waiting lists often stretch into weeks of waiting for families and patients.

"With intermediate care, the stay is longer, making the beds harder to get," Tackett explains. "Skilled beds are still hard to get."

McDowell ARH's discharge planning committee helps place patients when physicians feel they are unable to go home.

"We can let them go home with a family member if they can provide adequate service. The county's home health agencies allow a skilled nurse to visit," Tackett says. However, intermediate care patients who do not require skilled nursing services cannot participate in the home health program.

The best option for most families, Hall says, is placing a relative in a nursing home when beds are available.

"I think we're probably getting the families to realize that nursing homes are an extension of the hospital. There has been so much stigma about a 'rest home.' When it comes to mom and dad, children feel like they are neglecting their duties. Now, they're beginning to realize nursing homes provide much the same as a hospital — skilled care," says the physician.

Hall hopes that education will help families learn that nursing homes aren't "old folks homes," and aren't just for the elderly.

When a family is able to place a relative in a nursing home, even if it is one in a surrounding county, problems remain.

"We have one patient whose husband is not medically able to take care of her," Tackett relates. "His biggest worry is trying to find someone to drive him to see her."

"The whole situation is stressful — people don't want to admit that their spouse or family member needs to be in a nursing home. They would prefer to take care of them at home. It's a feeling of despair and frustration: put them in a nursing home or take them home."

When space is not available locally, families are often troubled by the distance they may have to travel to see their relatives.

One patient cried for two days at the prospect of being placed in an out-of-county facility, says Tackett. "Finally, Riverview Manor was able to get a bed for her."

The distance can also stretch a family's economic resources, sometimes making it impossible for relatives to visit family members frequently.

"A chunk of Medicare they get each month is gone — it goes to the nursing home," says Hall. "Some of these families are totally dependent on that Social Security or Medicare check."

Despite the statewide moratorium on new nursing home construction, Hall and other McDowell community leaders hope a skilled and intermediate care facility can become a reality. For Left Beaver families, approval of a new facility could mean immediate care is available — close to home.

Auto Accident Kills Magoffin Man

A one car accident took the life of a Salyersville man last week.

Richard Jenkins, 21, was traveling east on US 460, one and a half miles west of Salyersville, at approximately 4:50 a.m. on the morning of Nov. 21.

According to state police reports, the 1984 Ford pickup truck he was driving ran off the road and struck a tree, fatally injuring Jenkins.

Jenkins was taken to Cabell-Huntington Hospital in Huntington, W.V., where he died on Thanksgiving Day at 6:10 p.m.

Jenkins was the only occupant of the vehicle. He was wearing his seat belt at the time of the accident.

establishment of capital-venture funds for local entrepreneurs.

"Jobs and economic diversification are number one priorities for the area and Floyd County in the 1990s," said State Rep. Greg Stumbo, a member of the organizational committee for the authority. "There's been a dramatic shift in economic development thinking in the last 10 years. In the past, there's been no real focus on diversification because of 'King Coal', and the belief that our reserves would hold for 100 years. Now, people are realizing the need for a broader economic focus."

In the past decade, with the mechanization of the coal industry and rising unemployment in Kentucky's coal counties, local leaders have begun to recognize the need for new industries, businesses, and opportunities for employment.

"The announcement of the two new companies coming into Pike County was a very significant event," said Stumbo. "It shows all of us in the area that diversification is possible, that it can be done in Eastern Kentucky."

According to Stumbo, Gov. Wallace Wilkinson has provided some of the tools and funding mechanisms for encouraging development. In particular, the Infrastructure Bonding Bill, Stumbo noted, has provided a pool of money to bring basic services such as gas and water to new industrial sites. This has encouraged new industries to move into the region. The new development authority under consideration, Stumbo believes, is a further block in the building of a strong, diversified economy in the region.

The governance of the authority would be the responsibility of a 16-member executive committee and a board composed of financial contributors to the organization. A director and job-creation specialists would be hired to fill permanent staff positions.

Stumbo did express concern about the proposal for requiring funding from counties to build up the authority's development fund.

"I don't favor the mandating of a 'head tax' to raise funds for this program," said Stumbo. "If we're talking of this as being a private organizational effort, it shouldn't be funded by public monies. Unless a county wants to hold a referendum to provide public funds for this purpose, I don't think I could support it."

In general, however, Stumbo is greatly encouraged by the focus of the new authority, which is scheduled to begin operations next July.

"I see this emphasis on economic development really emerging here in Floyd County. In Wayland, in Hi Hat, and in McDowell, people are starting to think in terms of economic development," Stumbo added.

Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo and Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta are also members of the new authority's organizational committee. According to Judge Stumbo, a mail vote was recently conducted to determine who would head the five member interim committee. No results from the election have yet been revealed.

A meeting for organizational committee members of the Job Creation and Economic Development Authority will be held in Prestonsburg on Sunday, Dec. 10, at 3:30 p.m. in the Holiday Inn.

ACHS Lady Rebels Fall Hard To Dorton, 75-42

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

"This is not the real Lady Rebel team," explained Allen Central coach Bonita Compton after her Lady Rebels fell to 15th Region power Dorton, 75-42.

The Lady Rebels had a hard time with the Dorton pressure defense as the Lady Wildcats worked hard to shut down Allen Central's Jo Ann Conn. Conn, playing with a knee brace, had to work for possession of the ball as the Dorton defense collapsed around her. Lack of outside shooting failed to open up the middle for the senior.

"We had to bring her out from the basket," assistant coach Bide Click said, "they were rough under there and we were afraid she would get her knee hurt. We just didn't play well. This team is capable of scoring 75 points a game."

Dorton used a balanced attack to subdue the highly regarded Lady

Rebels. Sabrina Cable led the way for the Lady Wildcats with 17 points. Jodi Baker added 13 while Bridgette Poe and Sha Barnett tossed in 11 and 10 points respectively.

Conn led the Lady Rebels in scoring with 15 points and pulled down 16 rebounds. Teresa Gibson added eight points for the host team.

Conn, who underwent surgery this past summer, look good on the floor, able to move laterally and rebound with authority.

"My knee feels good," the senior center said following the game, in which she played all of except for two minutes of the first quarter. "There is no pain, I'm just tired."

Conn had to work hard to get open to get the ball. When she did receive the ball, the Dorton defense closed in. Conn opened the game by scoring the first two points on a quick move toward the basket for a lay up. Dorton then went on a 15-4 run and took a 10 point lead as the first quarter ended.

Dorton's half court trap defense bothered the Lady Rebels, causing several turnovers early in the second stanza. The Lady Wildcats scored 10 unanswered points while holding the Lady Rebs scoreless in the first four minutes of the period. Conn broke the dry spell with a bucket to make the score 28-12. A 12-4 spurt gave Dorton a 24 point half time lead of 40-16.

Conn took a good pass from Rhonda Leedy for a quick basket at the start of the third period. Lady Rebels center Darnella Bradley picked up her fourth personal foul early in the period and a minute later she departed via the foul route, picking up her fifth. Dorton ran off 14 straight points, mostly underneath the basket, to open up a 54-18 lead.

With 5:43 to go in the game, Sonia Allen followed Bradley to the bench by fouling out. Two minutes later, Stacy Moore joined them. With mostly freshmen in the game, the Lady Rebels showed some spark in the final minutes. Stacie "Miniature" Moore came in and played hard for the Lady Rebels. Jessica Wade showed some good moves to the basket as the Lady Rebels picked up the scoring some.

Conn fouled out with 3:30 to go, and Teresa Gibson departed with her as the fifth Allen Central player to leave because of fouls.

Mental mistakes and missed assignments were a problem for the young Lady Rebels.

"Allen Central is a good basketball team," Dorton coach Bobby Spears noted, "and if we get to host the regional tournament this year, I expect to see them there. We could probably play them again next week and the score would be drastically different."

Spears said he was surprised that his team had as easy game as they did. The game was delayed for 30 minutes because of the late arrival of one of the officials. When Allen Central elected to use one of the "B" team referees, Spears objected and the game held up. While waiting, Allen Central principal Don Daniels called assistant commissioner Billy Wise at home to get a ruling on the situation. Wise instructed Spears and his team to play ball.

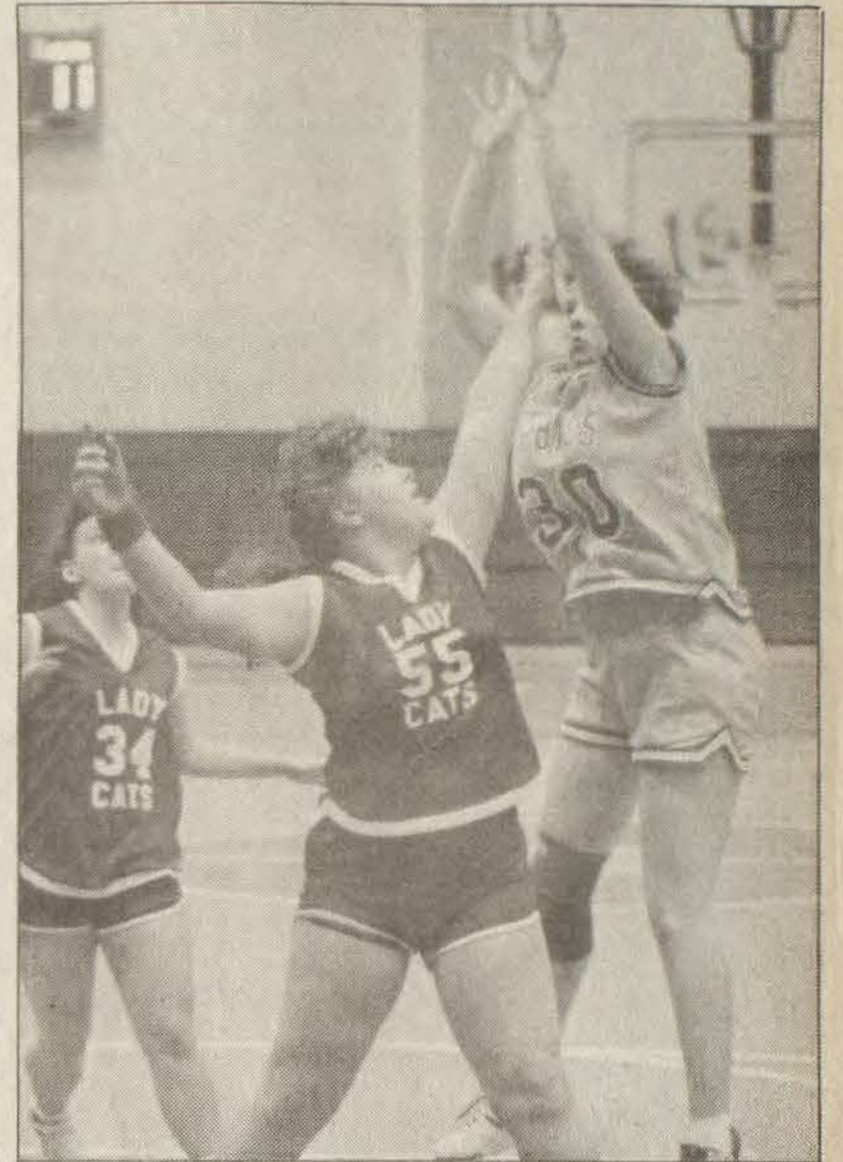

"The delay of the game could have affected the play of our girls," Click stated. "They were up for the game when they first came out and then the delay sort of cooled them down."

The Lady Rebels will travel to Dilce Combs tomorrow night with a 0-1 record. Dorton goes to 1-0.

Slone's 39 Points Lead Lady Blackcats Over Millard, 78-20

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Five juniors and five freshmen compose Coach Bridgett Clay's entire Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats basketball. It is a young team. But on the basketball floor, the Lady Blackcats play like veterans of the hardwood wars.

Kathy Slone tossed in 39 points to lead the Lady Blackcats to an easy 78-20 victory over the Lady Mustangs of Millard. Freshman Carrie Merion came off the bench and scored eight for the victorious Lady Cats.

"We missed some easy shots early in the game," Clay explained, "and we struggled early. We did a lot of things right, but we just didn't execute and made some mistakes."

Prestonsburg raced out to a 13-6 first quarter lead behind the scoring of Slone. Clay said she was not satisfied with the way her team played in the first half.

"I'm never satisfied," she said. "At half time we made some adjustments and did a lot better as we got in the flow of things."

Slone scored 25 of her 39 points in the second half. The junior forward scored 10 points in three minutes of play in the final stanza on three consecutive three-point plays.

At half time the Lady Cats owned a commanding 28-14 lead. The Prestonsburg defense picked up in the second half and held the helpless Lady Mustangs to only six second half points. Millard scored four points in the third quarter and just managed two in the final stanza. Prestonsburg scored 30 points in the final quarter.

"We pressed some," Clay said, "then we dropped back. I don't want people to think I ran the score up on Millard, but you can't tell your players to go out there and not play well."

Clay had high praise for her freshmen and the contribution they made to the win.

"They are a very unselfish group of players," she stated. "They play together well and it is a total team effort on their part."

Lady Mustang center Jody Lane

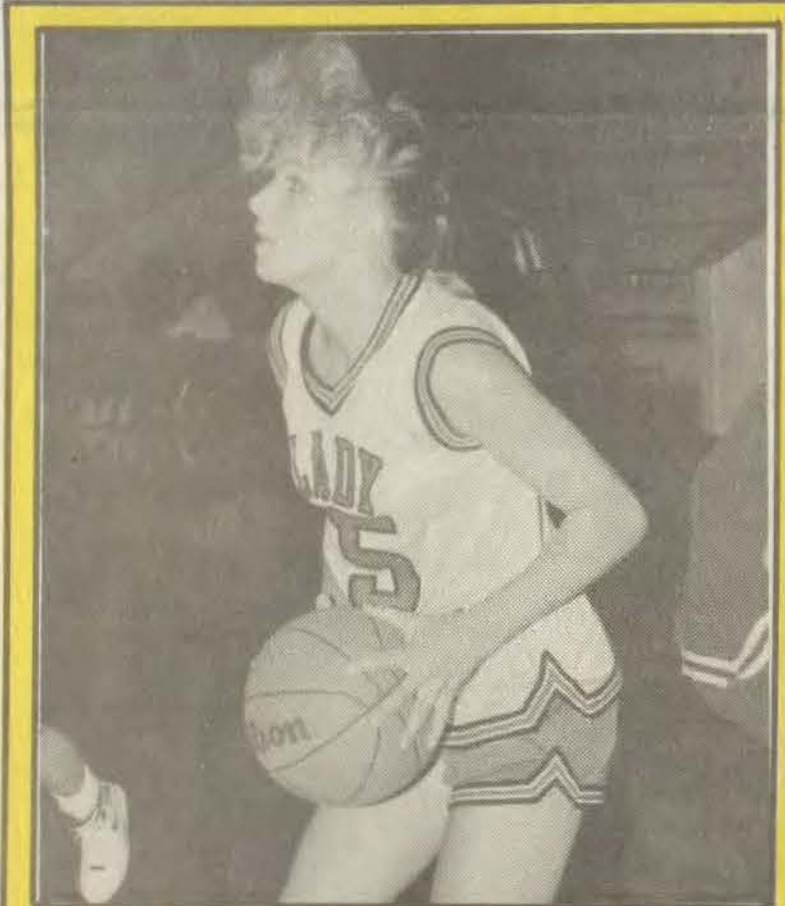

led the Millard team in scoring with 12 points. Stephanie Allen, Carolyn Refitt, Angela Seters and Raquel Cain each added six points in the Lady Blackcats win. Refitt and Cain are freshmen.

Prestonsburg will travel to Johns Creek on Monday to play the Lady Bearcats.

In the "B" team game for the Lady Blackcats, Amy Reed scored 19 points, Raquel Cain 15 and Stephanie Music 13 in leading Prestonsburg to a 67-4 win over the Millard "B" team. Carolyn Refitt and Kerry Merion each had eight points. Merion had several assists in the game for Prestonsburg.

ACHS Defeats Belfry In Panorama, 89-82

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The final scrimmage game just before the start of the regular season for the Allen Central Rebels took place Saturday night at the J.H. Allen Fieldhouse.

Rebel coach Johnny Martin used the game to take a look at the team that many think is one which could go a long way this basketball season. Saturday, the squad went a long way on the scoreboard, defeating Belfry 89-82 in a close contest.

Rick Smith, 6'5", scored 34 points and pulled down 11 rebounds in leading the Rebels to the victory over the Pirates. The Rebels placed three players in double figures, and two others just missed the double digit mark. Joey Conn scored 17 points and had seven rebounds for the winners, while Kevin Spurlock tossed in 12 points and 17 assists.

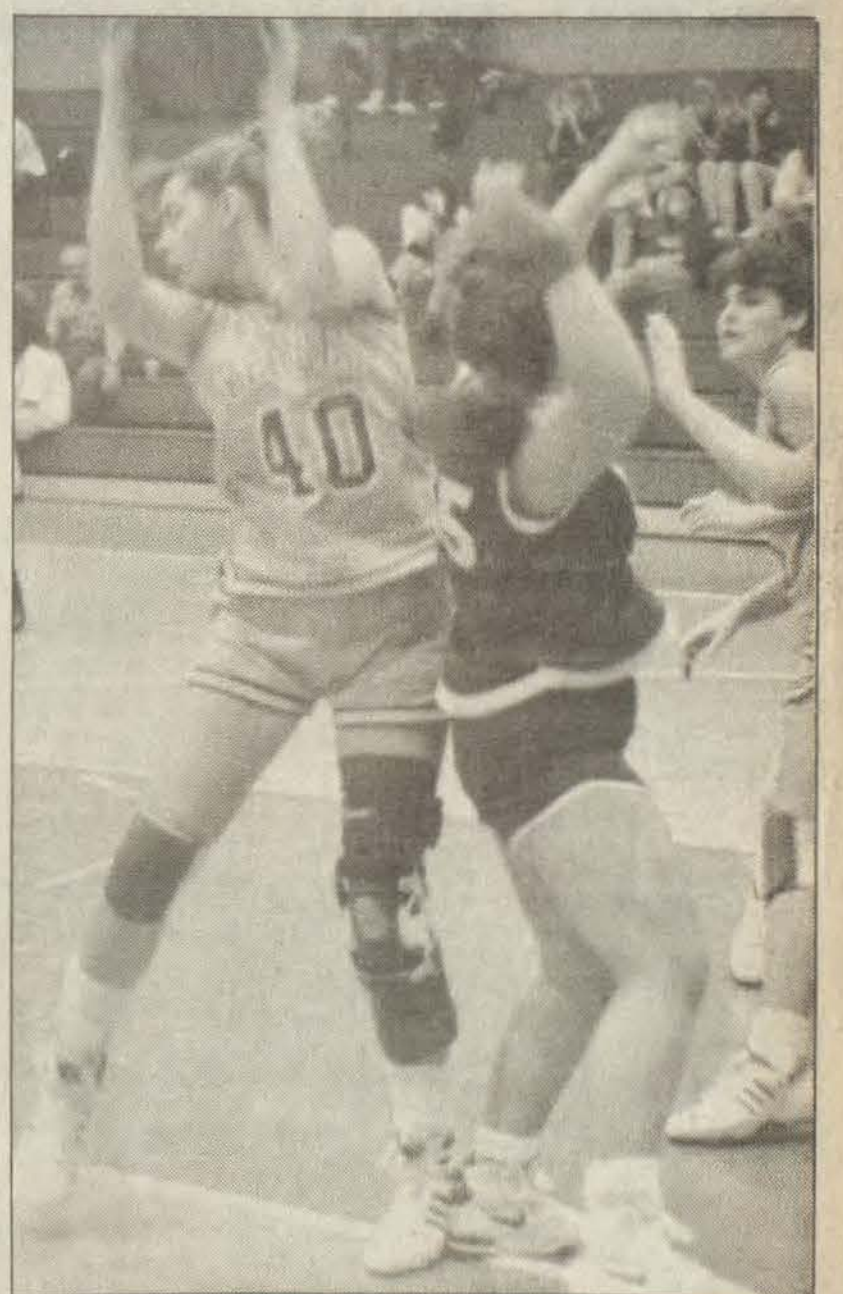

The Rebels were quick and their defense tenacious as they closed off the Pirates' passing lanes and intercepted several passes.

Belfry lead by five, 15-10, with 3:14 to go in the first period. The Rebels outscored the Pirates 10-2 to take a 20-19 end of the first period; Smith scored 12 points in opening eight minutes.

Allen Central's defense stymied the Pirates at the start of the second quarter. Belfry did not score during the initial four minutes. While the Pirates were experiencing a drought, the Rebels ran off 10 unanswered points to take a 30-19 lead. Pirate Matt Estep broke his team's dry spell with a 12 footer off the key.

Lady Bobcats Win Three Of Four Games; Go 11-6

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Shelia Ortega's Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats played four games this past week, winning three of the four and improving their record to 11-6 on the season.

In a game against the Prater Lady Cougars, the Lady Bobcats got a scare as they narrowly slipped by Prater, 25-23.

Jamie Ratcliff led the Lady Bobcats in scoring with 15 points. Dana Akers led the Lady Cougars with eight points. Rhonda Conn tossed in six for Prater. After holding a 15-6 half time lead, Prater outscored the Lady Bobcats, 7-3, to pull to within four, 15-11, at the third stop. Betsy Layne held on to take the contest, 25-23.

Against the Lady Eagles of Allen, Betsy Layne put three players in double figures, led by Ratcliff's 15 points enroute to a 49-33 victory over Allen. Erin Baker and Misty Clark each netted 12 points. Kristy Osborne had eight.

Allen was led by April Newsome with 23 points. Jana Bates and Jennifer Hunt had six and five points respectively.

Kenni Bradford tossed in 15 points and Allison Allen added eight to lead the Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats over the Betsy Layne team, 30-25. Misty Clark was the leading scorer for the Lady Bobcats with 15 points. The game was close throughout, with the score tied 21-21 at the end of the third quarter.

In a game played Monday night, Betsy Layne squeezed by a good Harold Lady Red Devils team, 41-39. Misty Clark led the way with 24 points for the Lady Bobcats. Becky Kidd had nine points. Coach Ortega played everyone on her bench and cited some contributions the bench made in the win.

"Kristy Osborne, Jessica Hamilton, Tara Kidd and my fourth grader, Jessica Hill, did not score in the game, but they made a great contribution to our win tonight," Ortega stated. "Misty (Clark) had four three point plays for us also."

Jessica Hamilton led the Lady Red Devils with 16 points. Melinda Gearheart added 12 and Della Flannery tossed in eight.

Blackcats Get Revenge, Defeat Mustangs 55-43

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Ashland Gearheart's Prestonsburg Blackcats avenged an earlier loss to the John M. Stumbo Mustangs by defeating the host school 55-43 in recent basketball action.

The Mustangs had beaten the Blackcats two weeks ago on Prestonsburg's own floor.

Damion Stepp led the Blackcats in scoring with 20 points. David Gearheart tossed in 15 points and Chad Caldwell added 10 points.

"We lead throughout the game," Gearheart said. "It was good to get the win after they beat us here at home earlier."

Prestonsburg held a slim two point advantage, 13-11, at the end of the first quarter. An 18-8 run in the second stanza gave the Blackcats a 31-19 half time lead.

The win improved Prestonsburg's record to 16-3 on the year.

Transy Women's

Tennis Team Ranked 20th

Transylvania University's women's tennis team is ranked 20th in the nation by the Volvo Tennis pre-season NAIA Collegiate Rankings.

The rankings are administered by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association. Colleges are ranked based on strength of the team's schedule, the previous year's record, performance in nationals and the strength of the returning players. The Transylvania women finished the 1989 fall season with an impressive 17-1 record, the District 32 Championship, the KWIC Championship, and a berth in the National tournament in May.

Former Wayland Wasp Now Patriots Coach

St. Catherine College Patriots astounded Eric Manuel fans from across the state when they cast off their underdog billing and scored a 90-87 victory over Hiwassee Junior College where the former UK Wildcat is now enrolled.

Former Wayland Wasp player Jack Pack, 38, is the new head coach of the Patriots. Pack called the win over Hiwassee "a super effort by our kids and one of the 10 most exciting games I have coached in my 15-year career."

Pack's former coach, Lake Kelly, athletic director of Austin Peay State University, had predicted success for Pack at the onset of the season. The Wayland native had logged a 66 percent victory record when he became the SCC coach last August.

Pack was an All-American and lettered in basketball and baseball at Wayland High School where he said he found athletics to be "a disciplining measure for life."

Howard's Statement Has A Lot Of Merit

Jason Howard, Pikeville's outstanding quarterback, said his weekend statement that he doesn't believe the Panthers can be stopped has a lot of merit to it. Howard said that he believes that "the Panthers can score every time we touch the ball."

He has so much confidence in his offensive line, the backs, ends and coaches, he said, that he doesn't think the team can be stopped.

The Panthers are a scoring football machine. The statements by Howard may be taken by some as bragging, but he was probably just stating a fact. Pikeville is a very good football team. Trigg County is next and the remaining obstacle to a third consecutive state crown.

LeMaster Signs With Fort Myers

Johnny "Peanut" Lemaster is where he needs to be: playing somewhere in the infield for a baseball team.

The slick fielding shortstop who played 10 years in the major leagues signed on with the Fort Myers edition in the Senior Association Baseball League. Lemaster, who was recently elected to the Paintsville City Council, left town and headed out for Fort Myers to once again play baseball. Lemaster had not been sworn in as of yet to the city council.

A Little Dipsy-Do

Kevin Spurlock of the Allen Central Rebels does a little fancy foot work and scores two points against the Belfry Pirates in Saturday's Panorama. The Rebels defeated the Pirates 85-80.

Allen Central

The Rebel defense caused the Pirates a lot of problems as evidenced by numerous turnovers. Smith continued the hot hand for the host team as the Rebels led at the half, 45-31.

In the third period, Spurlock showed why he is considered one of the best point guards in the 15th region, dishing off some timely passes to Smith and Conn under the basket. Smith picked up 10 third stanza points to propel the Rebels to 67-50 at the third stop.

Allen Central opened up a 23 point advantage early in the fourth quarter, allowing Coach Martin to bring in some of his younger players. With the score 83-63, Belfry started hitting the three-pointer. Paul Stafford hit three and J.J. Hylton bucketed two. A three point play by Hylton made it 83-74. The Pirates went to 85-80 on another three pointer by Stafford, who canned eight in the game, and Martin inserted his starters to hold and win 89-82.

Stafford led the Pirates in scoring with 34 points and Hylton tossed in 28. The Rebels shot 54 percent in the first half and hit for 53 percent in the second half. They were guilty of 14 turnovers in the game.

"That's not many turnovers when you consider the kind of game we play," Rebel mentor Martin said. "When you run the ball, you will have a lot of turnovers."

"I've been disappointed in our defensive play lately," Martin said. "Tonight, in spurts, we didn't hustle. They had a tendency to leave early off of defense to get the run out."

Martin had high praise for Smith's play. "They couldn't stop him," he said. "Rick has come a long way. Four years ago he didn't get to play much. It will help his confidence. We are an unselfish team. I thought our free throw shooting would be better. We need to cut our turnovers in half."

Area Lifters Raise Weights, $2,000 For Dialysis Patients

Twelve men and six women recently took part in the first Endurance Bench Press Contest at Don's Pro Fitness Center in Pikeville.

The event was held to raise needed money to benefit the Highlands Dialysis Patient Assistance Fund to help dialysis patients who cannot afford some things necessary to their well being.

The contest required each male participant to bench press their body weight as many times as they could. The women participants were required to press only half their body weight. Each weight lifter recruited sponsors who pledged so much per repetition.

Don Fields won the men's class, lifting 195 pounds, with 31 repetitions. Other results are as follows: Eddie Crum, 225 pounds, 25 repetitions; Doug Branham, 205 pounds, 22 repetitions; Jesse Anthony, 160 pounds, 22 repetitions; Steve Rowe, 185 pounds, 17 repetitions.

Rita Blackburn captured the women's meet by lifting 50 pounds, and had 53 repetitions. Other women's results are as follows: Denise Branham, 55 pounds, 48 repetitions; Debbie Stanley, 55 pounds, 40 repetitions; Kathy Burchett, 60 pounds, 38 repetitions; Jennifer Woods, 55 pounds, 29 repetitions. There were five trophies awarded in each class.

Tournament organizer David

Willett, also a contestant and dialysis patient, was pleased with the turnout and said he figured that around $2000 would be raised. Willett said that this was a special contest because the people in it did something that no one else could do — bench pressing your body weight.

"That is quite an accomplishment, especially doing it a number of repetitions," said Willett.

Willett also expressed his appreciation to Don Fields, the owner of the Pro Fitness center and all the participants in the meet for their help. The Highlands Dialysis Center was quick to offer, also, their appreciation.

Helps Raise Money For Dialysis Center

Six women took part in the Pro Fitness Endurance Bench Press meet in Pikeville recently to help raise money for the Highlands Dialysis Center. The proceeds from the contest went to help dialysis patients who otherwise could not afford things necessary to their health. Shown in the front row are Jennifer Woods, Kathy Burchett, Debbie Stanley, Denise Branham and Lisa Robertson. Standing is Rita Blackburn.

Hobson's 58 Points Lead Napier Past Prestonsburg In Panorama

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Prestonsburg head coach Gordon Parido had a chance to showcase the 1989-90 Prestonsburg Blackcats Saturday night at the J. H. Allen Fieldhouse in the Allen Central Panorama.

The Blackcats were matched up against the Navahos of M.C. Napier in the first game.

Shannon Hobson poured in 58 points in leading the Navahos to an 86-81 victory over Prestonsburg. Hobson had four three-pointers in the game and drove the lane frequently to get several three point plays.

The score was tied five times in the first quarter as each team exchanged baskets. Willie Allen open the scoring for the Navahos with a lay in underneath. A turnaround by Kevin Adams tied it at 2-2. The score was tied again at 8-8 until the Navahos went on top 12-10 with 4:52 remaining in the first period.

Chris Slone, who led the Blackcats in scoring with 34 points, found the range from outside, and also cut the middle for lay ups to keep the Blackcats close to the hot shooting Navahos. Slone had nine first quarter points. The first period ended in a tie at 21-21.

After a Slone basket to open the second stanza, Napier ran off seven unanswered points to go up 28-23. Slone cut it back to two with a three-pointer. With the score 35-33 Napier went on a 6-0 run to lead at the half, 41-33.

Hoskins scored 18 points in the third quarter to help the Navahos to a 12 point lead of 58-36, and a third quarter lead of 69-57.

In the fourth quarter with 4:28 showing on the scoreboard, Napier led by 12 points, 79-67. Adams scored six unanswered points to pull within six, 79-73. After two free throws by Hobson, Slone hit four free throws as he was fouled driving the lanes for the Blackcats. The Navahos missed three straight front ends of one and ones, and a basket by Adams closed the lead to two points, 81-79. With 53 seconds remaining, Hobson hit the front end of a bonus situation on the Navahos next two possessions to put Napier up 83-81.

Prestonsburg had a shot at tying the game with two men open under their basket, but the ball sailed out of bounds for a crucial turnover. Two free throws by Johnson and one by Hobson sandwiched around a basket by Slone gave the final margin of 86-81.

While it was just an exhibition game, the Blackcats looked sharp in spots, but were not so sharp in others.

"We have the making of a good team," Coach Parido told his squad after the game. "We need to make the free throws."

"This is only our second scrimmage and we used different lineups," he said, displaying a piece of paper with 10 different lineups on it. "I wanted to see how they work together under different situations. It was a good time for the kids. Our inside game was better; Kevin is getting stronger. Our free throw shooting is not as good as last year."

Thomas Nairn of last year's Blackcat team was one of the top free throw shooters in the state. "We need to improve," added Parido.

"We stayed with them even with our young players in the game," he continued. "I could have pulled out the younger players and tried to pull the game out, but I needed to look at the younger players."

"When Napier went to the delay game early we figured they were tired, so we went to full court pressure and it confused them."

With the season opener on Friday, Parido said everything is there. "We just have to fine tune it in practice this week. Our cuts, our timing and free throw shooting. We will work on special game situations this week."

Patton Captures Title In Louisville Tourney

Wins Wrestling Championship

Kevin Patton, former student at McDowell, won the 135 pound class in the 10th Annual Kentucky School For The Blind invitational wrestling meet. Patton is a student at the Kentucky School for The Blind.

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

After excelling in track and field, Kevin Patton has another field he is excelling in—high school wrestling. Patton recently captured the title of the 10th Annual Kentucky School For The Blind Invitational in Louisville on Nov. 18.

Patton won the 135-pound class in the invitational meet for his school. In the first match it took Patton only 25 seconds to pin his opponent. In the championship match, Patton won over his opponent in 3:24. Patton received a gold medal for winning the championship in his weight class and also a gold buckle for the least amount of time for pinning an opponent. Teams from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri, as well as Kentucky, took part in the invitational meet.

Patton is a former student at McDowell and is currently a student at the Kentucky School for the Blind in Louisville. He is the son of Keith and Sharon Patton of McDowell.

Prestonsburg Wins 15th Game In 61-48 Win Over Betsy Layne

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

With the grade school sectional tournament just around the corner, the Prestonsburg Blackcats, one of the favorites to capture the covenant crown this year, tuned up for the event with a 61-48 victory over the Betsy Layne Bobcats.

Damon Stepp and David Gearheart combined for 37 points in leading the Blackcats to their win. Stepp netted 20 points while Gearheart tossed in 17.

Betsy Layne played the Blackcats tough until the third quarter when the Blackcats outscored them 14-4 to take a 46-37 lead going into the final period.

Betsy Layne placed three players in double figures with Keith Hamilton leading the way for the Bobcats with 19 points. Ryan Ortega tossed in 12 while teammate C. Hunt added 10 points.

Team Leader

Kathy Slone of the Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats is being looked to as a team leader this season for the Lady Cats. Slone responded with 39 points against Millard Monday night. The Lady Blackcats defeated Millard, 78-20.

Kentucky Afield

By Carolyn Lynn

Kentucky waterfowl hunters will have the opportunity to harvest ducks during the second phase of duck season, which runs Dec. 13 through Jan. 7.

Hunting for all goose species opens Nov. 23 in the Eastern Zone and continues through Jan. 31.

The majority of Canada goose hunting in Kentucky occurs in far Western Kentucky. Most of the state's remaining wetlands that provide habitat for geese is located in this region, including a state-owned waterfowl refuge in Ballard County.

Hunters in the Western Zone may begin hunting Canada geese Dec. 2. The Canada goose season in the Western Zone will close Jan. 31, unless 31,000 geese are harvested in that area before that date.

The boundary between the Eastern and Western zones is a line beginning at the Kentucky-Tennessee border at Fulton and extending north along the Purchase Parkway to I-24, east on I-24 to US 641, north on US 641 to US 60, northeast on US 60 to US 41 and then north on US 41 to the Kentucky-Indiana border near Henderson.

Waterfowl hunters must use steel shot in the Western Zone. The steel shot restriction also applies to waterfowl hunting in Lyon, Caldwell and Hopkins counties. Within the next few years, non-toxic steel shot will be required for all waterfowl hunting in Kentucky.

Within the Western Zone, there are two separate sections where all waterfowl hunters must report the results of each day's hunting to the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. The information supplied by hunters in the Ballard and Henderson-Union reporting areas is used to keep a handle on how many birds have been harvested and helps department officials determine when quotas will be filled.

Both reporting areas have been assigned a maximum number of Canada geese that can be taken in one season. If the harvest is expected to reach the maximum number before the closing date of the season, goose hunting will cease in that reporting area after a 24-hour notice has been announced.

For the 1989-90 season, Fulton County will remain open for Canada goose hunting through Feb. 9, unless the quota set for counties in the Ballard Reporting Area is reached before that date.

Complete Kentucky waterfowl hunting information, including reporting area boundaries, limits and license requirements, is available by writing the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY 40601, or by calling (502) 564-4336 between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4:30 p. m., Monday through Friday.

WATERFOWL FALL FORECAST

Kentucky waterfowl hunters can expect geese populations to remain high this season, but fewer ducks than last year.

Large numbers of giant Canada geese are expected to travel southward along the Mississippi Flyway this season, providing hunters ample opportunities to be successful.

Duck numbers, however, continue to suffer from loss of habitat in their northern breeding grounds where several successive years of drought were experienced in the '80s. Although some areas produced more ducks last spring, overall, duck numbers are down from last year. In light of the fact that the nation's duck populations are struggling to make a comeback, hunters are reminded to respect and obey all waterfowl regulations.

HELP FOR DUCKS: NORTH AMERICAN WATERFOWL MANAGEMENT PLAN

Ducks are in trouble as a direct result of wetland destruction. Wetlands are essential, not only for breeding birds, but also in providing homes for a wide variety of other wildlife and plants. Wetlands further play a vital role in flood control and serve as a natural filtering system, making both air and water cleaner.

In less than 200 years, the nation's wetland areas have been reduced from 215 million acres to less than 95 million acres. Approximately 450,000 acres of waterfowl habitat are lost each year in spite of increased federal, state and local efforts to stop or at least slow down the decline.

Long range efforts are needed to conserve and enhance waterfowl habitat, and that's why the North American Waterfowl Plan was developed.

The North American Waterfowl Plan is a joint effort between the United States and Canada to preserve and restore key waterfowl habitats. The goal is to raise $1.5 billion from private and public sources to save or improve six million acres of wetlands by the year 2000.

The situation has reached a critical stage, primarily due to prolonged, widespread drought which accelerated the loss of waterfowl breeding grounds. It will take several successive years of normal weather conditions before these areas can recover, produce plant growth, and eventually, ducks. Unfortunately, many areas important to breeding ducks have been rendered permanently worthless as nesting sites.

To learn more about the North American Waterfowl Management Plan, write the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, Washington, DC 20240.

In Kentucky, several projects have been developed to aid waterfowl. One is a joint effort by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Tennessee Valley Authority on Land Between the Lakes (LBL) at Lake Barkley.

The three agencies are developing a 30-acre waterfowl refuge on the Long Creek portion of LBL. The refuge, which will supply both water and food for migrating ducks and geese, will be closed to hunting. In addition, access to this area will be limited so that visiting waterfowl will not be disturbed anymore than absolutely necessary.

There is much work that must be done in Kentucky to help save our waterfowl resources. However, the cost is too great for any single federal or state agency or conservation group to bear alone.

Waterfowl resources benefit all people interested in wildlife, thus all should be concerned with its watchcare and conservation.

To find out how you can help waterfowl in Kentucky, write Kentucky's representative for Ducks Unlimited, Keith Williams, P.O. Box 253, Harrods Creek, KY 40027.

Lady Rebels' JV Team Falls To Dorton, 48-41

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The Allen Central Lady Rebels junior varsity team fell to the Dorton Lady Wildcats junior varsity, 48-41, Monday night at the J.H. Allen Fieldhouse.

Selena Bentley scored 11 points to help the JV Lady Wildcats to their victory.

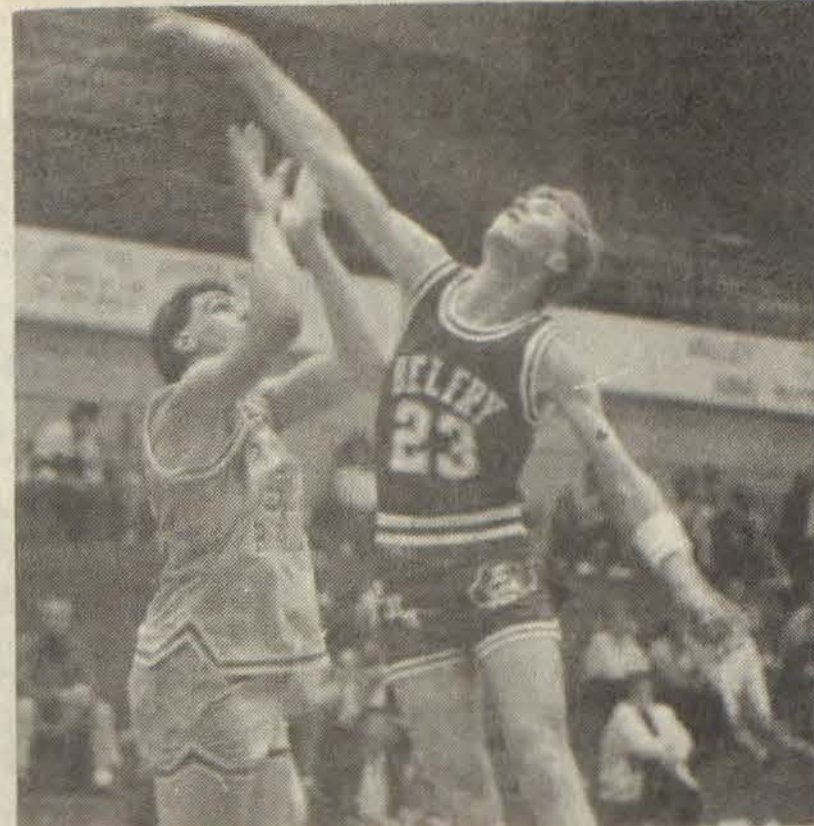

The game was close throughout with the younger Lady Rebs holding a 20-18 lead at the half. Dorton took a 23-20 lead with a three point play and a field goal by Bentley. Pam Webb's turn around jumper from the baseline made it 25-24 with 1:49 to go in the second stanza. Webb hit again from the right side from eight feet to put the JV team on top 26-25. The lead didn't last long as Misty Anderson drove the lane for a lay up to give Dorton a 27-26 margin. A three point play by Amy Tackett and a bucket by Melissa Collier gave Dorton a 31-26 lead at the end of the third period.

Dorton took top by nine, 35-26, at the start of the fourth stanza, on baskets by Anderson and Betty Thornsby.

Baskets by Jenny Wiley and Stacie Moore cut it to five, 36-31. With time running out, the Lady Rebs had to put the Lady Wildcats on the foul line in hopes of missing their charity tosses. However, Dorton sank eight straight free throws to capture the game, 48-41.

Jessica Wade led the JV Lady Rebels with 13 points. Stacie Moore and Jenny Wiley added 10 points a piece. Webb tossed in six.

Dorton 10 8 13 17 (48); Melissa Collier, 3 0 3-5 9; Selena Bentley, 4 0 3-4 11; Christie Stewart, 1 0 2-5 4; Betty Thornsby, 1 0 4-4 6; Priscilla Peppi, 1 0 0-0 2; Misty Anderson, 3 0 4-6 10; Amy Tackett, 2 0 1-3 5

Soar Like A Bird

John Stafford (23) of Belfry soars in the air to try and block the shot of Rick Smith of Allen Central. The attempt was in vain as Smith canned the shot enroute to a 34 point performance against the Pirates. The Rebels won the panorama contest, 85-80.

Clark Lady Indians Continue Winning Ways, Win Two Games

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Keith Hicks' Clark Lady Indians continue their winning ways with two victories this past week to run their season record to 15-2.

Angela Shepherd scored 15 points to help the Lady Indians defeat the Melvin Lady Cougars, 41-12. Clark built up a 16-2 first quarter lead and extended it to 15-8 at the half.

Tiffany Compton and Melissa Tackett led the Lady Cougars with four points each.

For Clark, Maria Hicks tossed seven points and Rebecca Webb added six points.

In a game against the Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats, Jamie Clay scored 11 points to led the Lady Indians to a 29-20 win. The victory was the 15th of the season for the Clark team. Kristy Little scored seven in the victory.

Kenni Bradford led the Lady Blackcats with 10 points and Rebecca Leslie had six points.

Clark 16 9 9 7 (41); Christy Little, 7; Andrea Shepherd, 15; Rebecca Webb, 6; Maria Hicks, 7; Jamie Clay, 4; Kathy Webb, 2; Allen, 4

Osborne Posts Perfect Record, Goes To 8-0 With Win Over Virgie

The Osborne Eagles ran their record to a perfect 8-0 on the season with a 44-43 victory over Virgie Monday night.

The game was close throughout and came down to the final second when a Virgie player stepped to the line for a one and one free throw to put the team ahead by one point. The shot fell short and Osborne rebounded the ball.

"The officiating was not the best,"

Osborne coach Meredith Slone said. "I usually don't complain, but it was bad. Near the last of the game, John Hall, who had no fouls, just about fouled out of the game. Of course we didn't play well in the first half."

Osborne was led in scoring by John Hall with 20 points. Chad Slone added 14 points and Charles Johnson tallied eight. Joe Cole led Virgie with 12 points. The Eagles have two games remaining before tournament time.

Basketball Bloodlines At Transy University

For eight members of the 1989-90 Transylvania basketball team, talking basketball at home meant talking business.

Their fathers are or were basketball coaches.

"It's a plus," said Transylvania coach Don Lane, whose son Brian is among the Transy players who grew up in basketball families.

"Coaches' sons tend to have good court awareness. They also know exactly what a coach goes through during a season—they've lived with it."

Recruiting visits are a little different when the prospect's father is a coach.

"They know all the questions to ask," said Lane. "Most of them hit hard on academics. They want to know about academic support and counseling for players."

"They also ask about where their son will fit in with our plans for the team," he added.

That's usually just a general question. Lane says parents with coaching backgrounds are very unlikely to interfere.

"There's been absolutely no interference," said Lane. "That doesn't enter my mind."

An Honorable Soldier

His wakeup call is early at the start of every day.
He works from dusk till dawn just waiting for his pay.
All his friends are gone now
some lost in Vietnam,
Those Honorable Soldiers that worked for Uncle Sam.

His medals are all rusting, no one cleans them anymore.
In his mind they're trinkets for all the little girls.
His mind has almost left him and when the wine he drinks is gone
This Honorable Soldier
Is ready to go home.

He fought the battle but he lost the war, this Honorable Soldier could fight no more.
When they laid his poor body down to rest, this Honorable Soldier, he tried his best.

No one there to greet him in his stripes and his stars all draped across his casket not even any flowers
A few people gathered there with sadness in their eyes, for no one knew this soldier, so no one there could cry
A little girl stood by with a smile upon her face, for in her hand were trinkets for this soldier's unmarked grave.
— Jackie Hall

Judgment Day

The sky is full of darkness
it's hazy and it's gray
The sunlight shines no more
Our freedom has gone away.

We all sit in silence
Too scared to even breathe,
We pray for our lives
And wait patiently.

We hear the soldier's gear,
We feel the earth quake,
We prepare for the fight,
But we wonder if it's too late.

They came without a warning
They came too fast to see
They destroyed our homes and pride,
They killed our families

The day has finally come
We all stand before Him
He looks with disgrace and shame
For what we have done

We are now all the same
In His eyes that see us all
The war is finally over but look what it cost.

— Tami Bradley
Prestonsburg

To My Son

(To my son in Michigan)
The day you came into my life
I wanted all to see.

This beautiful little baby,
That is a part of me.

You brought such joy into my life,
As you grew to be a man.

And all these years I've loved you
As any mother can.

Many miles may separate us,
As the years go passing by.

But the memories that I treasure
Will never, never die.

Someday I'll have to leave you
And I just want to let you know.

How much your mother loves you,
And proud to tell you so.

— Margaret Harris
Prestonsburg

Thanksgiving

I'm thankful for this Thanksgiving day
For Christ who maketh clear a way
That from this world where sorrow lies
Leads to a heavenly paradise.

I'm thankful Pilgrim Fathers found
A land where flocks and herds abound
A cornucopia that showers
With berries, fruits and nuts and flowers.

I'm thankful for the friends so fine
That one meets all along life's lines
And for our own Red, White and Blue
And all it stands for old and new.

I'm thankful I can always stand
And unmolested new a land
So picturesque with fertile loam
This God bless country, my new home.
— Joyce Shroat

My Grandchildren ... And Chotzie

Chotzie and I were sitting all alone,
Me with my sewing,
And my dog Chotzie with her bone.

We were enjoying our peaceful little chore,
When to our great surprise, came a knock on the door.

Chotzie sprang up in fright,
As if it were a bear,
But to our great dismay,
When I opened the door,
No one was there.

With a puzzled look on my face,
We slowly returned to our same old place,
I began to hum a song,
But Chotzie, very contented,
Just gnawed on her bone.

Then came another knock,
With giggles very loud,
Sounds like we have a very big crowd.

Slowly I opened the door,
Not really in much fear,
There stood my five little grandchildren smiling,
From ear to ear,
Saying "Hello MaMa, we just come by for awhile,
To listen to some of your old stories when you were a child."

I looked at them, each more precious than gold,
And I invited them in out of the cold.
I went to my favorite chair, like a queen on her throne,
And Chotzie, very happily, just chewed on her bone.

There was Allison, so sweet, but not very tall,
Then Kris, the most mischievous one of all,
Patrick just like a little man,
And here is Jared, blond hair, blue eyes,
Catch him if you can!
This one the smallest, but a darling I'll say,
A sweet little girl, Samantha Rene.

So they set by my fire hearth made of stone,
And listened to my stories,
While Chotzie chewed on her bone.

Heavens no! This is not all, I have seven more,
But not that small, For God did not intend for me to be alone,
So he gave me all of them . . .

And Chotzie with that old bone,

My One Wish

If I had a wish
I would wish that my stuffed animals would come alive.
If they did, I would feed them every day and night.
I would let them play for hours.
I would read them a book every night.
I would take them to school to learn ABCs.

Poetry Contest Deadline Dec. 31

Dec. 31 is the deadline for entering the American Poetry Association's contest. Entry is free and the public is invited to enter.

The grand prize is $1,000 and the first prize is $500. In all, 152 poets will win cash and publication prizes.

Poets may enter the contest by sending up to six poems, each no more than 20 lines, name and address on each page, to American Poetry Association, Dept. CT-88, 250-A Potrero St., P.O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061. Entries should be mailed by Dec. 31. A new contest starts Jan. 1.

Each poem is also considered for publication in the American Poetry Anthology, a collection of poetry.

My Friend

(In memory of Ananell Frasure, who died Dec. 19, 1987)

Although you have gone away,
You are missed night and day.

Your talents were few, but you had flare,
The best was the time you had to share.

Your laughter always filled a room,
Taking away any feelings of gloom.

I think of the pity parties we had,
Silly fun, and talks that were rarely sad.

Through the years we talked of many things,
But never of dying and having wings.

In my dream you were so near,
Yet your voice I could not hear.

I felt the Lord taking you home was so vain,
But you looked so at peace, and had no pain.

On your lap lay flowers bound in lace,
While you held them gently in place.

I ran, trying to hear what you had to say,
But unseen forces held me back that day.

You let me know with a smile and a wave,
You had found happiness beyond the grave.

I can look ahead now and dry my tears,
And remember my friend of many years.

— Clara Stiles
Ashtabula, Ohio

I Hope You Still Have Yours

Read this carefully, children
For a story it does tell
About the warmest, most precious gift in the home where within you dwell.

It's about the one who cooks your meals,
Then washes all those pants and socks.
One who will love you always
Today, tomorrow and a lot.

She occasionally glances at the bathroom scales
Then jogs maybe, once in a while.
Fixes you hot cereal in the morning,
Awakens you gently with a kiss and smile.

When all frustrated at the umpires,
She'll wash out those cuts and bruises
Because they make a questionable call
And your team loses!

Take heed, too, you churches
And picture what a beautiful sight
if we could eat at the table with Jesus
And see Mom sitting on His right!

Hopefully, this little poem of mine
Will capture someone's attention,
Have a lasting effect on their heart
And cause a life-long indention.

You kids take a lot for granted nowadays
When you should be thanking Dad and Mom.
Cause a lot of the things you now have
Are directly from where they come.

Mothers love their Moms, too, kids.
Think about them often and shed tears.
I'd love to see my mom tonight;
I've missed her for 32 years.

Future Of Environment Depends On Us

By Denessa Dailey,
Lisa Johnson & Melissa Tackett
Our environment is being gradually destroyed by many pollutants and toxic substances in our earth's atmosphere. The ecosystem is being threatened each day by pollution and poisonous contaminants such as carbon dioxide and lead. Even though we do not realize it, we are the ones that are causing this to happen.

The ozone layer is gradually disintegrating because of the use of these polluting substances and has begun to produce a small opening of the ozone layer located above Antarctica. More of the earth will soon be exposed if we do not do something about it.

The use of chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) is the leading cause of the destruction of the ozone layer. The use of aerosol cans and styrofoam products lets off CFCs when used. Another big problem is car exhaust systems that create carbon dioxide.

This tends to be an even bigger problem in the city. President Bush says that we cannot do anything about this situation until there is more research done — which means that we cannot begin to make a difference until the year 2000. Why isn't the US moving faster on the emission of carbon dioxide and other toxic pollutants? We can't just eliminate the use of CFCs all together. We use these materials every day. It would be virtually impossible. It makes a person as what choices we are given.

Industry plays an important role in our environment also, but the use of smokestacks and fumes from plants endanger the ozone layer a great deal. Another problem that we are faced with is the burning of fossil fuels such as coal and wood. Some household appliances such as air conditioners and refrigerators also let off a type of toxic pollution. The destruction of the ozone layer will produce a temperature change throughout the entire world, causing the "Greenhouse Effect" to occur.

Wheelwright High School was recently visited by some students from Berea College, an the journalism class discussed the environmental situation with a few of the students. One of these students began a "Project Green" which involved more students from the school and interested community members.

This project started out by orientating the people with what they knew about the problems with the environment. The Berea students are beginning to write letters to state and US officials stating their position and asking for answers. The students at Wheelwright High School are interested in beginning a similar project and starting programs which will help our community, also.

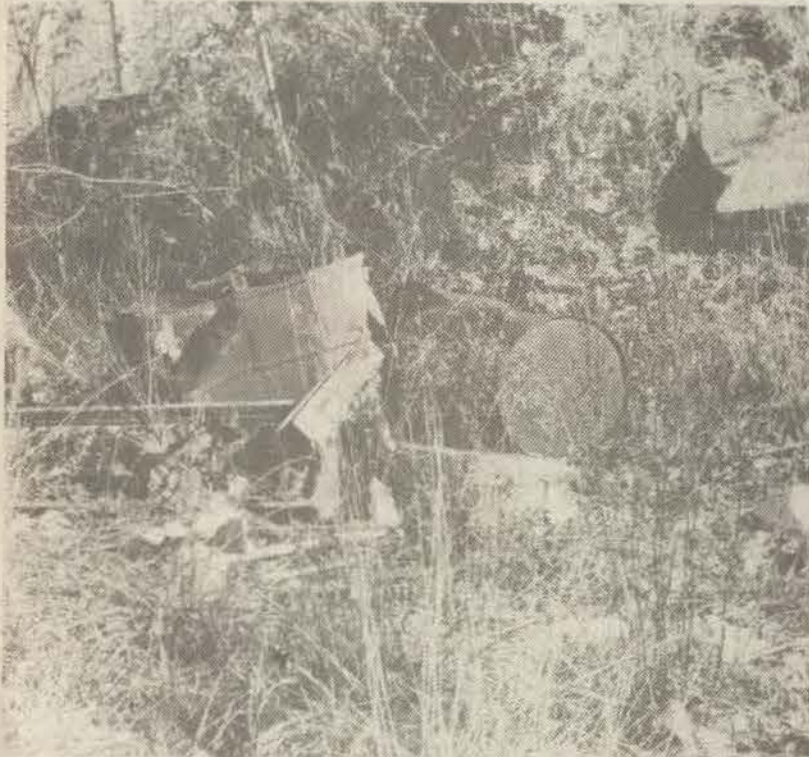

Garbage seems to be one of Eastern Kentucky's biggest problems and we would like to begin recycling cans and paper products. Maybe we can make a difference in, at least, our part of the world. If more people became more aware of this situation they, too, would begin to get involved.

Our earth is filled with so much beauty that we should all take pride in the things around us, but it is hard to imagine what happens when people are so busy consuming so much and then carelessly ridding themselves of their garbage.

Reclaimed Mining Site

Although many strip mining sites have been reclaimed as as the one in this photo, many in Eastern Kentucky have not. The landscape has been altered in many cases and valuable topsoil lost, along with trees which help reduce the amount of carbon dioxide in the earth's atmosphere. (Photo by Brad Compton)

Harmful Chemicals

Parent's Rights

By Joyce Everly

"The rights of parents go beyond legal safeguards and simple acts of friendly participation in the schools their children attend. Parents have fundamental human rights to know, to understand, and to share in the decisions that affect the education of their children."

These words were written by J. Cy Rowell, associate professor of religious education at Texas Christian University, in an article published in February 1981.

Fundamental human rights—the rights that people of Eastern Bloc countries are fighting for and winning on the other side of the Atlantic.

Fundamental human rights mean a lot of things to me: The right to see your child's progress reports without a big hassle; to have a qualified teacher supervising and teaching in a classroom; to have a clean school; to have soap, toilet paper, paper towels, hot running water in the bathroom. The right to one textbook per child in each subject. The right to question your child's teacher about a fight on the playground.

The right to expect, when you go to the principal with a question, that you'll be treated with courtesy and respect. The right to question fund raising in a school or classroom; to ask where the money from that fund raising is being spent.

Parents also have rights that extend to our elected officials. Those include accountability for their votes; to have questions answered when they are asked; to know why each time a board meets it always includes a "secret" or "executive session"; to expect board members to vote for the benefit of the children rather than the politics. The right to know what jobs are available in the school system county-wide.

All of these are fundamental human rights. However, in my opinion, those are not the rights being given to us or our children in Floyd County.

I think the time has finally come in Floyd County when we must follow the example of Lech Walesa and the people of the Eastern Bloc countries. We need to demand, as citizens and parents of this system, that our local school officials either give our children the education they have a right to expect or resign from office. We cannot wait for the state to do it for us. Entire countries, in a short few months, have changed their political system. How? By standing together for what is just, then demanding their fundamental human rights. We in Floyd County must do the same.

I will be writing about the five rights of parents in the next several articles. These are not in any law book, these are rights we as parents and citizens have as members of a democratic society.

Floyd Forum To Meet Dec. 4

The Floyd County Education Forum's Board of Directors meeting will be held on Monday, Dec. 4, at 6:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church (next to Jerry's Restaurant) in Prestonsburg. It is open to the public.

The agenda will include a discussion of the community response to the recent education survey conducted by the Forum and The Floyd County Times; reports on local and state board of education contacts; a discussion of school finance and a proposal to equalize the existing property tax situation in Floyd County.

Anyone interested in these and other education issues is invited to attend.

Our Family . . .

Cares For Your Family

Medical Emergencies can be frightening. They can also be deadly unless treated quickly and skillfully by trained, experienced professionals.

Dr. Willard Arnold, Emergency Room Staff Physician at Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center, is faced with medical emergencies several times each day. Not all are life-threatening but each is a traumatic event in the life of the patient and family. Each requires the same sound judgement, experience and consummate skill - and an ample portion of care, concern and commitment.

Dr. Arnold and each of the professionally trained members of the Paul B. Hall Emergency Room Team are prepared to meet the challenges of medical emergencies twenty-four hours a day.

When faced with emergencies, it's nice to know you can worry a little less, because we care a lot more.

Caroling For Christmas Gifts

The Parents Who Care Advisory Board of the Child Abuse Council went caroling Tuesday, Nov. 21, and continues their route through Prestonsburg until Christmas to raise funds for the children of the groups members. Pictured above are Janie Hall, Alice Adams, Phil Taylor, Cindy Taylor, Deborah Ratliff, Joseph Ratliff, Carlie Ratliff, Lori Holbrook, Dorothy Harris and Janis Porter. The singers meet at the Floyd County Library at 6 p.m. each Tuesday and invites new participants to join them.

EKU Sets Record Enrollment

Eastern Kentucky University has posted an all-time record enrollment of 14,268 students, including 117 from Floyd County, for the 1989 fall semester, representing the third consecutive term where enrollment records have been set.

Unprecedented numbers of students also enrolled for EKU's 1989 intersession (1,100) and summer (4,482) terms, according to EKU President Hanly Funderburk.

Dr. Funderburk said the record number of students this fall did not surprise university officials, who have closely monitored increases for 16 consecutive academic terms over similar terms.

"Recent studies suggest that a college education can increase a person's lifetime earnings by 50 percent, a fact that has not escaped the public's attention," Funderburk said.

"This increased awareness of the value of post-secondary education has generated an increased interest in and demand for educational services, both on the Richmond campus and throughout our 22-county extended campus service region."

Funderburk said that before this year enrollments at the University had peaked in the fall of 1980 at 14,081, declined to 12,229 in 1985, and then began a steady rise which led to this year's record enrollment. Last fall, 13,664 students enrolled at Eastern.

To The Voters of Magisterial Dist. 2:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the 703 voters that voted for me for Magistrate in Dist. No. 2 on Nov. 7. I knew that it was an up-hill battle running as an "Independent," but I didn't think that it was a "mission impossible." I am sure that Floyd County received more road work such as gravel, blacktop and reddog than they ever received in the history of the county. I think by all the magistrates having opposition in the final election kept them working until election day.

I wish my opponent well and congratulate him on his reelection for Magistrate in Dist. No. 2. Now we should work to bring it together and unite behind our entire fiscal court and county government to make Floyd County the most honest and efficient county in the whole state of Ky.

I am grateful for the opportunity to have been a candidate for Magistrate in Dist. No. 2 and I make no apologies for running as an Independent candidate. It gave the voters a choice and they made that choice. I have no regrets for having sought the office of magistrate. The single disappointment I do have, however, is the loss of the opportunity to provide a scholarship fund at Allen Central High School with 50% of the magistrate salary, which would have amounted to $44,000.00 in four years and would have given several high school graduates a chance for their college education. Because of that, the education of our deserving young people and hope for the future are the unfortunate losers. That, alone, saddens me.

I want to thank the voters of Allen and Dwale for giving me a majority in their precinct—it was the only one that I got a majority—and I thank everyone who voted for me.

Yours truly,
James D. Fitzpatrick

Apple Day Winners

These girls were first place winners for their achievement in art during the Apple Day Festival. Telah Kay Watkins, 5, left, was chosen to represent Our Lady of the Mountains Kindergarten class in Paintsville, and Bethany Meade, 5, was selected to represent Porter Elementary's Kindergarten class for the festival art contest. They both were awarded red ribbons and a certificate of achievement.

WHS Students Learn About Future At MSU

by Adam Hall, WHS Student

Eighty-four students from Wheelwright High School traveled to Morehead State University to participate in World Technology Day on Oct. 25.

The students involved are members of Future Business Leaders of America, Future Homemakers of America, and a consumer education class.

The students saw exhibits that will help them find out what their future interests might be. The exhibits included robotics and future developments in technology. They heard lectures that provided information about present classes and future plans. Students also toured Morehead's campus to view the different departments in action.

"It was a wonderful and educational trip and I hope someday to attend MSU," said Charlene Cook, a senior at WHS. She has visited MSU twice and thought it was an excellent university. She is interested in home economics and thinks MSU has a "superb department."

"I have never seen a fashion show and I thought it was the best thing about the trip," Cook said. The fashion show was held in Baird Auditorium and included new styles of clothing for men and women.

"It had all the up-to-date music, clothes, and also lights that were very spectacular and fun to watch," said Randy Boyd, a senior at WHS.

Even though most of the students thought the trip was very educational and fun, some did not.

"It was not very organized, and there were too many students, which caused much chaos," said Bobby Hood, a WHS senior.

"Socially, for the students, the trip was beneficial because of the campus atmosphere," said Terri Heinisch, a teacher at Wheelwright and cosponsor of the FBLA club. "Students replied that robotics was the most educational, but the fashion show was the most enjoyable."

PHS FBLA Tours American Standard

The Future Business Leaders of America from Prestonsburg High School went on a field trip to American Standard in Johnson County on Friday, Nov. 17.

American Standard manufactures many types of sinks and bathroom fittings. About 350 people are employed there in the various departments.

The members toured the facility seeing how parts are assembled into various types of bathroom fittings and also how raw materials are used to manufacture some of the parts used at the plant. The group was able to view plastic pipes being molded from granules and also the gold plating process which is used to finish some of the fixtures.

The tour allowed members to view the operation of an assembly line and gave them insight into how raw materials are made into finished products.

MAMMOGRAM

$49<sup>95</sup>

GIVE A GIFT CERTIFICATE!

Every woman over the age of 35 should have a mammogram. This quick and easy breast x-ray is now recognized as the most effective way to detect breast cancer in its very early stages of formation—early enough in many cases to be treated before it becomes a big problem.

Now, you can get a baseline or screening mammogram at Highlands' Breast Center for only $49.95*. There are no extra charges. Compare this to $88.00 to $295.00 elsewhere. Gift Certificates are now available—a perfect Gift of Life to someone you love, and for yourself.

The Gift Certificate can be redeemed anytime over the coming year and our new $49.95 fee is in effect until July 1, 1990.

The American Cancer Society suggests that all women aged 35 to 39 should have a baseline mammogram. Women aged 40 to 49 should have a mammogram every 1 to 2 years. Women aged 50 years and older should have a mammogram every year.

*Payment is requested at the time of service. Visa and Mastercard accepted.

PCC Exhibitors To Be Featured In Art Display In Quito, Ecuador

Artists who have recently displayed their works at the Prestonsburg Community College Art Gallery were selected from Kentucky artists throughout the state to be featured at the Museum of Art at Casa de la Cultura in Quito, Ecuador. The exhibition, featuring 43 Kentuckians, will be sponsored by the Kentucky Department of the Arts, US Embassy, Quito and the Partners of Americas program.

President John F. Kennedy started the Partners program in the 1960s. States were paired with South American countries and economic and cultural exchanges were encouraged, explains John A. Herald, PCC spokesman. Kentucky was paired with Ecuador.

Kentucky artists exhibiting in a foreign country enhances their careers and provides them exposure to critical reviews, said Arts Commissioner Dr. Lanette Thurman, who will be traveling to Ecuador for the opening of the Kentucky exhibit. The project also fosters inter-American friendship and cooperation, he said.

Dr. Thurman will be joined in Ecuador by Irwin Pickett, visual arts director for the Department of Arts, and Dr. Rankin Skinner, a representative of the Kentucky/Ecuador Partners Program.

Pickett echoed the exhibition's significance. "It is designed to promote Kentucky's talented artists," he said. "It includes innovative, experimental and traditional paintings currently in progress in Kentucky. The show illustrates diversity in tradition, content, technique and concepts."

Artists included in the Ecuador exhibition who have displayed their works at the Prestonsburg Community College art gallery are Jeff Chapman-Crane and Joe Sartor. Another artist chosen to exhibit in Ecuador, Lester Pross, is scheduled to display his works at the PCC gallery in January.

Berea Students Visit Wheelwright

By Brad Compton and Amy Wallen
Wheelwright was visited recently by a group of students and two instructors from Berea College.

The group of future educators came to Wheelwright to learn about Mantrip magazine. During their two-day visit, they took a walking tour of Wheelwright as two Mantrip students explained the stories and the purposes of the buildings. The students stayed at the Hindman Settlement School during their visit. Most of the students were astonished by the changes in the town after being shown photos of the city taken during the 1930s and 1940s.

Robert Murphy, an industrial arts major, noted, "As we walked through the town we saw where things were just abandoned — I mean literally abandoned. Stuff (was) still intact inside of the buildings, books still on the shelves. I guess the youth of the area is strong, and that's what keeps it going."

"The Mantrip is great. Students need to know about their community, like the kids at Wheelwright who know about the coal mines," says Dave Preston, another student from Berea.

The Berea students commented frequently on how important the hands-on training is to students and how most of the students in Mantrip were getting just that.

Wheelwright welcomes anyone who wants to learn about Mantrip or the history of the city. Visitors may come to the school.

Portraying The Local Heroine

Elderhostel participants staying at the Jenny Wiley State Park's May Lodge this week were treated to presentation on the local heroine Jenny Wiley by Trisha Morris, Prestonsburg Community College's assistant library, on Monday. Other local persons will be giving presentations throughout the week on Art and Folklore of Appalachia and Civil War in the Big Sandy.

its own newsletter and "jungle."

Student Marcha Wilson and her teacher, Doris Osborne, went all the way to Frankfort to establish the school's advanced class.

"We've gone against all odds," explained Osborne. "There's not been an advanced biology class here since 1977."

Students determined to continue the projects they had started in the class campaigned for the advanced class through phone calls and letters.

"First we went to the principal, but he didn't think we could fit it into the schedule. Then we went to the Board of Education, and finally to the State Board of Education. Marcha Wilson testified both days. Finally, Chairman Pouge and Judge Ruberg said, 'Little lady, you'll have your class,'" relates Osborne.

Establishing the class took more than scheduling and textbooks. The school had to restore water service to a classroom. The local school board allocated funds which could only be used for non-consumable supplies, so Osborne bought materials that could be duplicated.

Money and supplies to continue and expand class projects begun in Biology 1 came from the community.

"The Masonic Lodge and the pharmacist in town each donated $100," said Osborne. "The Christian Appalachian Project sent up $200."

Pets, aquariums, fish bowls, and other project supplies have also been donated.

One whittler saves his cedar shavings for the hamster, guinea pig and gerbil cages. Alice Lloyd College donated four microscopes. Cafeteria staff save food scraps that supplement project animals' diets. Pikeville's Pet Kingdom provides technical advice.

Writing Across the Curriculum funded last year's projects through a $430 grant. Osborne estimates that the community has provided monetary and in-kind support worth $600 or $700 so far this year. She's hoping to get additional monies later this year. The number of projects has grown to 14, and more are planned.

Meantime, the students split their advanced biology class time half-and-half between textbook studies and projects.

Project progress is recorded daily in each project's journal. Periodic reports are made through the class's newsletter, "Welcome to the Jungle," and a scrapbook called "Lifestyles of the Near Famous, 1989-90."

Diane Burke, Veronica Tackett, Jay Wnek and exchange student Lorena Aguilar are redoing their salt water aquarium. They hope to stock it with sharks.

Sara Hutton raises dust-particle-size brine shrimp in an aquarium to feed her sea horse in another tank.

Samuel Ratliff feeds prepared food to his fancy-tail and his Siamese fighting fish.

Greg Burke, James Branham and Thomas Rainey lost their two red-tailed sharks, but continue to care for a cobalt blue. They also raise guppies to feed Hutton's sea horse and Ratliff's Siamese fighting fish.

Angie Branham's black gerbil, Peter Noir, has a growth in his ear. Vets have assured her it is much like a human wart and the anesthesia necessary for surgery could make the gerbil go into shock. Peter, whose last name means "black" in French, chewed up the plastic of his previous cage, so Angie has redirected his chomping behavior with a gnawing stick.

Branham is involved in a second project with Connie Henderson and Steven Johnson. They have an 18-square-foot solar mobile planned for the biology room's ceiling. Wheelwright High is donating the paint and brushes and they hope to get Osborne's husband, Denver, who is a retired electrician, to help them with wiring.

Ellen Johnson was a bit afraid of birds when she, Kim Mullins and Loletta Ray began their project with a lone parakeet named Sweetie. Now Sweetie has a companion named Tweety and the birds eat from the girl's hands. They hope to teach the birds to talk and do some tricks. They also plan to extend the cage and create a playground area for the birds.

Larry O'Canas, Allen Newman and Stephanie O'Canas say taking care of their land hermit crab named "Billy Bob" and their frog named "George" is easy. They provide fresh water for drinking, salt water for refreshment and "lots of love."

Lisa Johnson and Thomas Rainey had no idea their white mice, Adam and Eve, were in the family way when they acquired them. They now have four new-born mice who are 14 days old and have yet to open their eyes. Johnson and Rainey supplement Adam and Eve's grain diet with cheese from the lunchroom and treats of popcorn. They plan to do a comparative analysis of the learning ability of mice and humans through the use of research, mazes and a reward-discipline system.

Drema Tackett and Melissa Tackett grow seeds and plants in greenhouses for their project. Because their four o'clocks did not survive transplanting, they're starting over again.

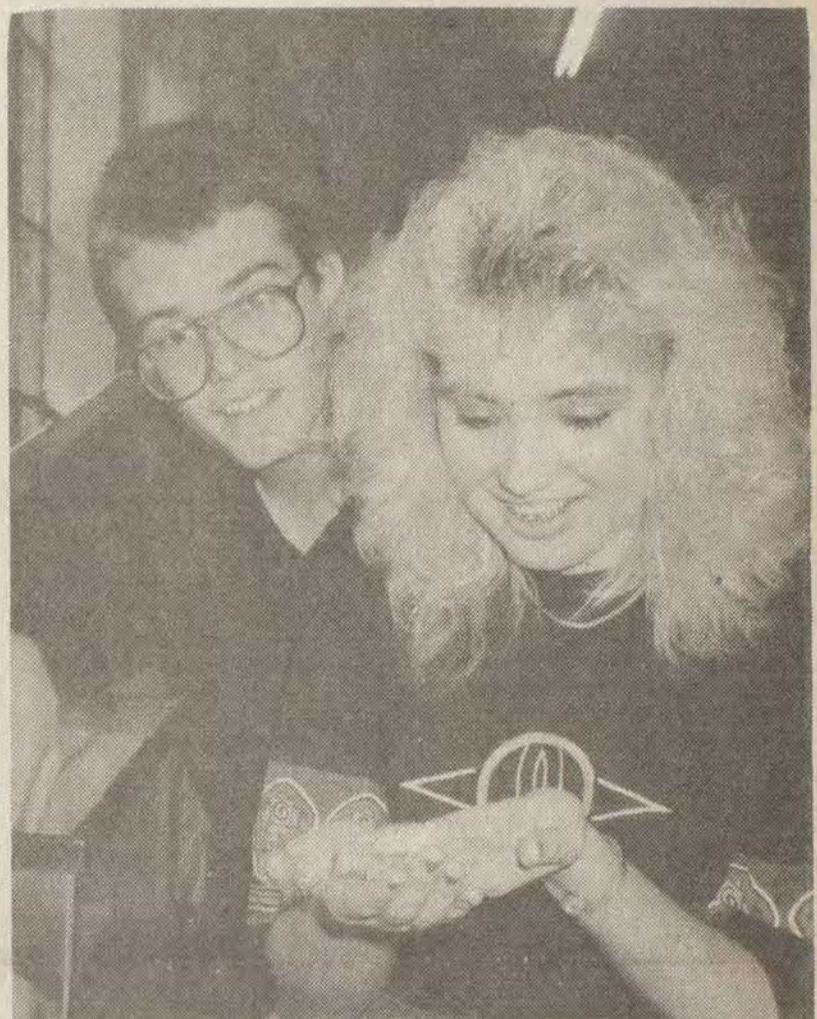

Samuel Ratliff, Steven Johnson and Marcha Wilson have prepared a salt-water invertebrate tank for an octopus with a commercial chemical mixture called "instant ocean." Their tank leaked when it was donated but Ratliff and Johnson used a clear sealant to repair it. They keep a constant check on the water's chemicals and test for ammonia, pH and nitrates.

Watering The Ants

Veronica Tackett and Steven Johnson supply water to their ant farm, a project she started as part of the Wheelwright High School advanced biology class's projects. Their first ant farm suffered severely after the school was sprayed for bugs, but the students started over and now have a thriving farm of ants.

Pet Project

Biology students at Wheelwright High School have had quite a year with their varied projects consisting of gerbils, hamsters, mice, sea horses, ants and other such creatures. Here Lisa Johnson and Thomas Rainey study one of their projects, mice named Adam and Eve, and offspring.

County Kettle

County Kettle

Is a feature offered by the Floyd County Times. Send all recipes, kitchen tips and suggestions to "County Kettle," The Floyd County Times, P.O. Box 391, Prestonsburg, KY 41653

This week County Kettle features a unique item it hopes will be valuable to its readers: A book review on the popular Kentucky cookbook "Out of Kentucky Kitchens," by Marion Flexner.

We also include, at the end of column, more recipes on what to do with all that leftover turkey.

"Out of Kentucky Kitchens," considered the most complete compilation of Kentucky recipes when first published in 1949, has been reprinted by the University Press of Kentucky.

The cookbook retains its place at the top of books on Kentucky cuisine. Director of the University Press, Kenneth Cherry, said the Press decided to reprint the book because of its popularity and because it is considered "the most representative collection of Kentucky cookery." The recipes were given to her by friends and acquaintances.

Although well known for her cookbooks, Flexner said she actually did not begin cooking until World War II, when her cook quit to find a better job in a factory. "So I thought I might as well learn how to do it," Flexner said.

With the exception of the preface, the book has been reprinted exactly as the original was published over 40 years ago.

The Kentucky flavor is what sets the book apart from other cookbooks. Classic dishes of the Commonwealth, like burgoo, Kentucky country ham and Kentucky pecan bourbon cake, are featured. Some recipes even date back over 100 years. They are described as "heirloom items" given to Flexner by her friends and acquaintances.

In many cases, Flexner goes beyond the basic recipes. She talks about the origin of the dish and gives some insight into the person who shared the recipe. The book is also peppered with anecdotes about well known Kentuckians and Kentucky cooks.

Flexner writes that Kentucky food is said to be divided into three classes: grub, vittles and repasts. Grub is the common fare. Vittles are a cut higher. Repasts are the top menu served for formal occasions. Flexner says "Out of Kentucky Kitchens" provides recipes for all three classes.

"Out of Kentucky Kitchens," by Marion Flexner, is published by the University Press of Kentucky and is 320 pages selling for $19.50.

For many of us, Thanksgiving dinner is a pleasurable and indulgent excuse to cook enough food to last for weeks. The thought of three days of turkey sandwiches and leftover stuffing sets as many mouths watering as the thought of Thanksgiving itself. Delicious ideas for Thanksgiving leftovers don't tend with sandwiches and reheated side dishes, however. Leftovers these days are often "planned overs" — creative and tasty ways of making more than one meal out of the Thanksgiving bird.

SWEET AND SAVORY TURKEY SALAD

This salad is so sumptuous, one may find oneself roasting an entire turkey solely for the leftovers. Turkey, cheddar cheese and toasty pecans are bathed in a sweet and savory poppy seed dressing laced with slivered apricots and figs.

1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup white wine vinegar
2 to 4 Tbsps. Dijon-style mustard, or to taste

2 Tbsps. vegetable oil
3 Tbsps. finely minced red onion
3 Tbsps. poppy seeds
Grated peel of one small orange
1/2 cup dried apricots, cut into slivers
1/2 cup dried Mission figs, cut into slivers
5 cups chopped or shredded cooked turkey
4 ribs celery, coarsely chopped
(about 1 1/2 cups)
1/3 lb. sharp cheddar cheese, cut into 1 1/2-inch matchsticks (about 1 cup) 3/4 cup coarsely chopped pecans, lightly toasted
Salt, to taste
Green cabbage leaves
1 red cabbage or 6 to 8 individual red cabbage leaves

In a small mixing bowl, combine the lemon juice, vinegar, Dijon-style mustard and honey until well blended. Gradually add the oil. Stir in onion, poppy seeds and orange peel. Add apricot and fig slivers. Allow dressing to stand at room temperature for one hour.

In a large mixing bowl, toss together the turkey, celery, cheddar cheese and pecans. Pour poppy seed dressing on top. Toss well to coat. Season with salt. Chill several hours or overnight. To serve, arrange green cabbage leaves on serving platter. Use a knife to hollow the center of the red cabbage to form a 1/2 inch thick shell. Spoon salad in the center of hollowed cabbage. Or, spoon salad onto individual red leaves. Arrange filled red cabbage or individual filled red cabbage leaves atop green cabbage leaves. Makes six to eight servings.

CONFETTI CORNBREAD STUFFING

1 pound kale, center ribs removed, torn into 1-inch pieces

8 Tbsps. unsalted butter
2 medium red peppers, seeded and diced
1 large yellow onion, chopped
1 medium bulb fennel, coarsely chopped
4 cloves garlic, minced
1 1/2 lbs. corn bread stuffing crumbs
2 pounds hot-and-spicy smoked Polish sausage, cut diagonally into 1/4-inch slices
1 14-oz. can cream-style corn
1 1/2 cups shredded sharp cheddar cheese (6 ounces)
1/2 cup pine nuts, lightly toasted
2 1/2 cups chicken stock
1 Tbsp. dried oregano, crushed
Salt, to taste

Freshly ground pepper, to taste
Bring a large kettle of water to boiling. Add the kale. Cook for five minutes until kale is just tender. Drain in a colander. Using hands, thoroughly squeeze out excess water. Set aside.

In a large skillet, melt 4 Tbsps. of the butter over medium-high. Stir in the red pepper, onion, fennel and garlic. Cook, stirring frequently, for 10 minutes or until vegetables are softened. Transfer mixture to a large mixing bowl and toss with the stuffing crumbs.

In same skillet, cook sausage in small batches, stirring frequently, until browned all over. Add sausage to stuffing along with any accumulated pan drippings. Stir in creamed corn, cheddar cheese and pine nuts until well combined. In a medium saucepan, combine the chicken stock and the remaining 4 Tbsps butter. Cook and stir over medium-high heat until butter is melted. Pour over stuffing mixture to moisten; toss gently to mix.

Stir in the oregano, salt and pepper. Turn into a greased 3-quart shallow casserole. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes. (Or if you prefer, use recipe to stuff a 20- to 24-pound turkey.) Makes 10 to 12 servings.

CRANBERRY OATMEAL COOKIES

These cookies are quite generous in size; in fact, nibbling on one throughout the day can make the very notion of breakfast and lunch disappear.

1 1/2 cups unsalted margarine, softened
1 3/4 cups packed brown sugar
2 large eggs
1 1/2 Tbsps. honey
2 tsps vanilla
1/2 tsp. salt
2 cups unbleached all-purpose flour
1 18-ounce package rolled oats
(about 5 1/2 cups)
3 cups fresh cranberries, coarsely hopped (12 ounces)
1 1/4 cups coarsely chopped walnuts
1 Tbsps. finely shredded orange peel (1 medium orange)

Line baking sheets with parchment paper. In a large mixing bowl, beat margarine until smooth. Add the sugar. Beat until mixture is smooth and fluffy. Add eggs, honey, vanilla and salt. Beat until well mixed. Add the flour. Beat until well mixed. Using a large wooden spoon or your hands, work in the oats until well combined. Add the cranberries, walnuts and orange peel. Stir until evenly distributed.

Shape dough into balls the size of a small egg. Place balls 3 inches apart on prepared baking sheets. Press each ball into a 3-inch round. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until desired doneness. Remove. Cool on wire racks. Makes 30 cookies.

TURKEY PINEAPPLE PIQUANT

This colorful turkey dish has a Polynesian flavor, highlighted by crispy fruit and vegetables in a sweet tomato sauce. Serve with an additional vegetable, raw or cooked, and your meal is set!

1 large onion, sliced and separated into rings
1 Tbsp. vegetable oil
2 1/2 cups boned, cooked turkey
(leave in large pieces)
1/4 tsp. ground black pepper
1 cup catsup*
1 20-oz. can pineapple chunks, packed in juice
2 Tbsps. cornstarch
2 Tbsps. mild soy sauce
1 large green pepper, cut in 3/4 inch slices
4 1/2 cups hot cooked brown rice

In a skillet, cook the onion in oil until it is tender-crisp. Add the turkey and the black pepper. Drain the pineapple; reserve the juice. Blend the catsup and pineapple juice with enough water to make 2 1/2 cups of liquid. Pour the liquid over the turkey. Simmer for 5 minutes. Then dissolve the cornstarch in the soy sauce; stir into the turkey mixture. Add the green pepper and the pineapple chunks. Cook for 5 minutes more, then serve over beds of fluffy rice.

*Tomato puree seasoned to taste with pepper and garlic powder may be substituted for catsup if desired.

This recipe will yield 6 servings (about 2 cups each), and each serving contains 10 grams of fat and 470 calories.

SOUTH P'BURG HOMEMAKERS MEET

Members of the South Prestonsburg Homemakers' Club met at the home of Ora Bussey, Monday evening, Nov. 20, at 7 o'clock. Karen Colvin, president, was in charge of the meeting. The devotions were given by Joyce Allen, who chose as her topic, "Giving Thanks." Carlos Haywood, secretary, gave her report, and the roll-call, and members responded by telling time-saving devices used by them.

It was decided that the club's annual Christmas contribution would be made this year to the Floyd County Rescue Squad.

Frances Pitts, home economist for this county, presented the program on "Recycling Paper for Christmas Wrappings and Decorations."

The hostess served refreshments, in keeping with the holiday season, to Carlos Haywood, Joyce Allen, Vivian Fraley, Judy Burchett, Karen Colvin, Lois Ball, and Frances Pitts.

RANIER HAS HOLIDAY GUESTS

Phyllis Ranier had as her guests for dinner on Thanksgiving Day, and during the holiday weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Haywood, Alan Ranier, Betty Hale, Mr. and Mrs. David Leslie, and Ruth Worland, all of Prestonsburg; Rebecca Haywood, of Falmouth; and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Haywood, and daughters, Melissa and Jacquelyn, of Belfry.

THANKSGIVING GUESTS VISIT HERE

Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, at their home here, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells Jr., of Paintsville; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wallace of Wayland, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Derickson of Orange, Texas.

'HANGING OF GREENS' SLATED DEC. 3-4

The annual "Hanging of the Greens" at the First United Methodist Church will be Sunday, December 3, at 3 p.m., and Monday, December 4, at 7 p.m. Those interested in tickets may contact the church office.

GRANTS ENTERTAIN FOR HOLIDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Grant entertained to Thanksgiving dinner, her daughter, Julie Henry and children, Jennifer, and Zachary Henry, and a family friend, Douglas Van Shelton, all of Nashville, who were here to spend the holidays with Julie's family. Other dinner guests of the Grants were her mother, Myrtle Allen, and her son, Allen Bolling.

PRESENTATIONS MADE AT CHURCH

Danese Hopkins, superintendent of Sunday School at the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial) here, made these presentations of attendance banners to the following classes and teachers during services at this church this past Sunday morning:

Adult men, Chester Patton; grades 11 and 12, Ramona Horne and Betty Hyden; 5- and 6-year-olds, Tommy and Regina Lafferty; and preschool, Libby Carty. The Fidelis class, with Faye Patton as teacher, received a banner for making the most contacts to invite persons to attend Sunday School.

GODSEYS HAVE FAMILY AS HOLIDAY GUESTS

Dr. and Mrs. Garland Godsey had as their Thanksgiving dinner guests, members of their family:

Her mother, Ora Bussey, and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Leslie and sons, Jonathan and Blake, all of Prestonsburg, and their daughter, Linda Godsey, who teaches in the Georgetown (Kentucky) public schools.

WEBBS VISIT DURING HOLIDAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Webb of Greenfield, Ind., their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Pettrey, and children, Gabriel, Alexander, and Elliott, of New Port News, Va., were here during the Thanksgiving holidays for a visit with his mother, Mrs. J.O. Webb, Sr., and other relatives and friends.

On Thanksgiving Day, they dined at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, and on the following day, they were entertained to dinner there by their cousin, Burieta Gearhart.

P'BURG WOMAN'S CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY AT NUNNERY HOME

One of the highlights of the G.F.W.C./K.F.W.C. Prestonsburg Woman's Club is the annual Christmas party. This year's party will be held at the home of Lucille Nunnery, on Arnold Avenue, here.

The devotional leader for this event will be Alice Harris; the program leader will be Kathy Lowe, and Elizabeth Frazier and her Prestonsburg High School Honor Choir will present a Christmas musical program. The hostesses will be members of the club's executive board (Phyllis Herrick, Orella McGuire, Linda McGuire, Lee Boswell, Lida M. Howard, Elizabeth Ramey, Dorothy Harris, Joyce Allen, and Docia B. Woods).

THANKSGIVING DINNER GUESTS

Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Burchett at their home were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burchett, and Dr. and Mrs. Blake Burchett, and children, Andrew and Molly all of Prestonsburg; Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Burchett, and children, Carlye, Adam, Chase, and Mary, of Winchester, and Wade Burchett, and daughter, Laura, of Paintsville.

Father Joseph Muensch of St. Martha Catholic Church was the guest for a dessert at the Burchett home.

ALTAR FLOWERS HONOR SNAVELYS

Flowers, "In love and honor" of Walter and Arnita Snavely, from members of their family, were on the altar of the First United Methodist Church, during services there this past Sunday morning.

VISIT DURING HOLIDAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hart, their daughter, Heather, and son, Charles III, of Anchorage, Ky., were here during the Thanksgiving holidays for a visit with her parents, Atty. and Mrs. Woodrow Burchett, and other relatives.

At the top of the menu for the family's Thanksgiving dinner was a wild turkey, killed by Atty. Burchett on a recent hunting trip to South Carolina.

CHURCH SPONSORING 'HOME GATHERINGS'

A "home-gathering" program is being sponsored by the Rev. Quentin Scholtz, pastor, and members of the First United Methodist Church.

The meetings for Wednesday night, Nov. 29 (tonight), will be held as follows: For Abbott, Auxier, Little Point, Porter Addition and vicinity, at the home of Bud and Rose Glenn, with Mrs. Glenn as leader; for Arnold Avenue, at the home of David and Barbara Allen, with Phyllis Ranier, as leader; for Central Prestonsburg, (from Riverside to Central Avenue, and in between), at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer H. Frazier, and "Baby Annie" Stumbo, with Geneva Carter as leader;

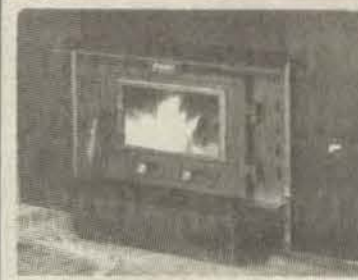

For persons with young children, the meeting will be held in the church parlor, with Nancy Holler, as leader; for May's Branch, Middle Creek, Trimble Branch, at the home of Marv and Lee Boswell, with Clara Bradbury as leader, and for South Prestonsburg and vicinity, at the home of Arthur and Carlos Haywood, with Mrs. Haywood as leader.

In 1926, Gertrude Ederle became the first woman to swim the English Channel.

LAMPLIGHTERS MEET TUESDAY

Members of the Lamplighters' group, of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial) met Tuesday evening, Nov. 19, at 3:45, in Fellowship Hall there with Patsy Evans, director, presiding, and opening the meeting with prayer.

Led by Tom Foy and accompanied at the piano by Gay Herrin, songs for Sunday's and the Christmas programs were practiced. Several members responded to Evans' request to list those things for which they were thankful. These included:

Sarah Laven, for the church's recent revival services; Delmas Saunders, for the Spectators (the serving of food to athletes following sports activities), for music director of the church, Thomas Foy, and for the church; Lucy Regan, for the Baptist Children's Homes (for which she serves as a board member), for Danese Hopkins (the pastor's wife) for Steve Hopkins, the pastor, and for those of the church who recently attended funeral services for her brother;

Dolly Pettrey, for the pastor (especially because he humbly kneels beside the church's altar during prayer), and for the improvement in the health of her husband Bill Pettrey; Goldia S. Williams, for our minister; Patsy Evans, for her family (especially her young adopted grandson), and for the Lamplighters' group, and Thomas Foy, for the Spectators, and other causes for which the church serves.

Prayer was asked by Goldia Williams for the Allen Baptist Church, in its search for a new pastor, and by Roberta Sloan, for Anna May Mellon, who has been ill.

Patsy Evans was assisted by Vivian Fraley in serving soup beans, cornbread, relishes, ice cream sandwiches, and iced tea to the Rev. Steve Hopkins, Thomas and Susan Foy, Gay Herrin, Lucy Regan, Roberta Sloan, Patsy and John Evans, Dolly and Bill Pettrey, Edna and Delmas Saunders, Goldia Williams, Ruby Lamping, Ora Bussey, Vivian Fraley, Rebecca Rasmick, Dacia Woods, Maman Leslie, and Dixie Webb.

Following this event, plans made earlier by the Annie Allen Circle W.M.U. of this church were carried out. Since many of those in attendance at this meeting belong to both the Lamplighters and W.M.U., members participated in the annual delivery of baked goods for the church's shut-ins. Receiving these remembrances were: Mrs. Norman (Alka) Allen, Beatrice Collins, Nell Howard, Mrs. Bryan Miller, Mabel Sloan, Anna Lowe, Carrie Hubbard, Mrs. Troy B. (Dorothy) Sturgill, Theckley Short, and Ethel Hall.

PETTREYS VISITED BY DAUGHTER, FAMILY

Rebecca Rasmick and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pettrey had with them during the holidays Rasmick's daughter, Joy R. Harris and her grandson, Frank Harris, and Mrs. Harris, all of Lexington.

SNAVELEYS HAVE HOLIDAY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snavely had as their Thanksgiving guests at their home on the Little Paint Road, Jack Snavely of Choctaw, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snavely and children, Christopher, and Katie, of Forest Hills, and Nena Snavely and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Messer of Little Paint.

To Wed Dec. 2

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Smith of Prestonsburg announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Shelia Marie Smith, to Babe Roger "Rocky" Rowe II, the son of B. Roger and Carolyne Rowe I of Prestonsburg. The open wedding will be Saturday, Dec. 2, at 1 p.m. at the Highland Avenue Freewill Baptist Church of Prestonsburg.

Clarification

In the article about the Bud and Carrie Wiley family reunion which was published Friday, Nov. 24, Clarence Wiley was incorrectly listed as the only surviving son.

Lanceford Wiley of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., also survives, but was not present at the reunion.

RETIRED TEACHERS' MEETING DEC. 5

Norma S. Stepp, liaison person for the Big Sandy Retired Teachers' Association, consisting of Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin, and Lawrence Counties, reminds all retired teachers throughout this area of the luncheon-meeting to be held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Tuesday, Dec. 5, beginning at 10 a.m.

Stepp, Emogene Salyer, president, Georgia Muncy, president-elect, and Delphia Hicks, secretary-treasurer, extend a cordial invitation to attend this event.

On Thursday, Dec. 7, beginning at 10 a.m., at the Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association will hold a luncheon-meeting at May Lodge. Special music will be furnished by the Prestonsburg High School's Honor Choir, under the direction of Elizabeth Frazier. The speaker for this occasion will be Frank Hatfield, director of K.R.T.A., who will "update" the group on forthcoming events for retired teachers.

State Rep. Greg Stumbo has also been invited to attend this event. The executive committee of the F.C.R.T., including Ruby Akers, Virginia S. Goble, Alice Martin, Imogene Caldwell, Sarah Laven, Alma Lowe, and Nadine Hicks, extend a cordial invitation to members and prospective members to attend this important meeting.

HAYWOOD VISITS

Rebecca Haywood, of Falmouth, spent Thanksgiving here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Haywood and other relatives. Rebecca teaches music in the Falmouth schools.

300 SERVED DURING COMMUNITY DINNER

Jean Burke, who has worked closely with the project of serving Thanksgiving dinner, begun three years ago by members of the Community United Methodist Women with Debbie Burke as chairman, announces that at least 300 meals were served this past Thursday from this church, which was assisted in this endeavor by the First Baptist (Irene Cole Memorial), the First United Methodist, and the First Presbyterian Churches, here.

She reports that meals were delivered to persons in need at Garrett, Hueysville, Dwale, Cow Creek, Endicott, West Prestonsburg, and Prestonsburg from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thanksgiving Day. Persons in charge of this worthy cause would like to sincerely thank all those who helped in any way to make this day a brighter one for so many.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH HONORS SENIOR MEMBERS

On Sunday, Nov. 26, the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial) honored all its members who are 55 or more years of age during morning services, there. Those present in this group received carnations, and, with "thirty members strong," the Lamplighters' Choir presented the call to worship with special music.

Tom Foy, director of music at this church, says, "For sometime, now, we have had people involved in music — from children through adults. However, I feel that the Lamplighters allow our church the opportunity to offer a complete music ministry to all ages."

Members of this church sincerely thank Foy, music director and Gay Herrin, pianist. Their dedicated endeavors in making this program there such a successful one.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR, LUNCHEON DEC. 1

Please remember the Christmas bazaar sponsored by the Sewing Circle, to be held at the First United Methodist Church from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., on Friday, Dec. 1. The luncheon, sponsored by the Friendship Circle there, to be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., on that same day, (with a menu of soup beans, cornbread, kraut, weiners, desert and drink for $3.50, and with deliveries available). Something new has been added: There will be bake sale by the United Methodist Women, there, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on that same day. A special welcome is extended to the public to attend these events.

SNAVELEY VISITS
Jack Snavely, of Choctaw, Okla., spent the holidays with his family, including Mr. and Mrs. Paul Messer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snavely, of the Little Paint Road. He also spent some time with his father, Joe Snavely, who is a patient at the Riverview Nursing Home, here.

TUSSEYS TO MARK 50TH ANNIVERSARY
Harmon and Rhoda (Fitzpatrick) Tussey will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Dec. 3, from 2 to 5 p.m., with a reception at the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial), where they are members. They are extending a cordial welcome to all their friends and relatives to attend.

BIERMAN HAS MH OFFICIAL VISIT

Maxine Bierman, president of the Big Sandy Area, Chapter 220 of Mended Hearts, Inc., entertained to dinner at Jerry's Restaurant recently, Beth Van Bibber, Northeast Division Director of the American Heart Association, of Ashland.

Kiwanis Club Tours Cath Lab

Members of the Floyd County Kiwanis Club toured the Cardiac Catheterization Lab at Highlands Regional Medical Center recently. David Stalcup, technical director of the lab, explained how a cardiac catheterization procedure was performed on a patient. He also pointed out the function of various monitors and x-ray equipment in the lab. Cardiac catheterization is a procedure used in the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease, particularly hardening of the arteries.

'Quality Of Life' Program Presented To Woman's Club

The GFWC/KFWC Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club met Monday evening, Nov. 20, in the home of Mrs. Paul (JoAnn) Hall at Lackey.

A program on "Quality of life" was presented by Sister Joan Shalpin, the new health education coordinator for Our Lady of the Way Hospital in Martin.

Sister Joan advised that she is starting a health education program geared to the needs of women of all ages. It will concern general health issues for women, such as nutrition, weight management, quitting smoking, self-esteem, coping with loss, and many other subjects. She reported that prenatal and postnatal classes will be starting Dec. 1, as well as education on early childhood diseases. In January she hopes to have a class for pregnant teens, and later one on weight management.

The speaker showed slides with voices of women speaking to one another, women both in mid-life and in their older years. By way of the slides, women were urged to keep a healthy weight, eat a healthy diet, know their risk factors, and be aware of the things they can and cannot change.

Judy Hamm, head of nursing at Our Lady of the Way, accompanied the speaker.

Marsella Bradley gave a Thanksgiving devotional, with the Club Collect read by Maxine Martin, followed by the Pledge to the Flag.

During a brief business session the club treasurer, LaFaye Hughes, distributed a balance sheet and urged all members to get their outstanding funds turned in from the recent sale of pecans, and also to get all orders in for the sale of metal cutlery.

Refreshments were served by hostesses JoAnn Hall and Marie Mullins to Sister Joan Shalpin, Judy Hamm, Betty Mullins, Louise West, Marsella Bradley, Maxine Martin, LaFaye Hughes, Elizabeth Duff, Alma Souleyrette, Lula Coburn, Libby Martin and a guest, Becky Hall.

The next club meet will be a dinner meeting at the home of Libby Martin, south of Wayland, on Dec. 18, with Dr. Mary Pauline Fox speaking and showing slides of her trip to the Holy Land.

PROMISE.

There is a fuel with which America can live and work comfortably that won't darken our waters or spoil our earth.

That's always been the promise of natural gas.

There are thousands of people finding new ways to meet your energy needs, and keep our air purer and our forests greener.

That's always been the promise of Columbia Gas.

This fuel and these people will become more important day by day.

Because the time has come for all of us to work together to reclaim our environment.

To ensure its future so that we can pass on to the next generation the most valuable things we have.

The trees. And the earth. And the waters. And the air.

Biology Project

Although the tank is now holding fish for other projects, it is intended to be an environment for starfish, sand dollars, live coral, plants and a dwarf octopus.

Connie Henderson and Marcha Wilson learned that guinea pig is actually a kind of misnomer for their project animal, so the call him by his proper name, "Cavy." Cavy prefers celery, other fresh vegetables and oatmeal to commercially prepared food.

Routine bug-spraying at Wheelwright High School brought Veronica Tackett and Steven Johnson's first ant farm to a slow but sure end. Even when the worker ants had been reduced to two in number, they kept building tunnels and burying the dead. Tackett and Johnson have just begun a new ant farm. They say two seeds and water will keep their ants working all week.

Amy Allen, Haley Caudill and Tanya Johnson have three cages of hamsters. (Most of the hamsters are offspring of the originals.)

Osborne says the projects require the students to take on a lot of responsibility. Students take turns coming in on weekends to feed and care for the animals. Last summer the hermit crabs, hamsters and aquariums involved in the four projects went home with students. This year everything but the aquariums will have to go home over Christmas break.

The students exercise responsibility in other ways too. They have to order supplies to maintain the animals' diets and environments. Limited funds mean they have had to learn to prioritize and budget. They record their expenditures and are learning bookkeeping and accountability.

The dedication of the biology students has fascinated their peers.

"What have you done to those kids that you have football players volunteering to mop floors?" non-biology students ask Osborne. Others donate or repair cages; some just come to the classroom during free periods to watch, listen and learn.

Maytown Homemakers News

The Maytown Homemakers held their monthly meeting Thursday, Nov. 16, at the home of Marge Sammons.

Helen Boyd, president, called the meeting to order. Alda Gibson read the scripture and also led the club in prayer. Peggy Gibson read the minutes from the last meeting. Sammons gave the treasurer's report. Flowers were sent to Alice Hayes, who has been ill.

The club was reminded that the Christmas ornaments are finished and the tree at the May Lodge is ready to be decorated. Francis Pitts told the club members that there are still pecans available.

The club's Christmas bazaar will be held Thursday, Nov. 30, through Saturday, Dec. 2, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the old Martin Village Video building.

The business meeting was adjourned and the lesson was given by Boyd on things made from paper. The club members made Christmas items from paper and were shown different items made by other area clubs.

After the lesson dinner was served by hostess Sammons to Francis Pitts, Mary Fraley, Sharon Caudill, Ada Martin, Betty May, Helen Boyd, Margie Yates, Cynthia Dove, Kelly Hairston, Alda Gibson, Ann Crum and Peggy Gibson.

The next meeting will be Feb. 15, 1990, at 7 p.m. at the home of Alda Gibson.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

OBSERVING A STANDARD OF CARE

According to a study published in the American Journal of Medicine, a common component found in many non-prescription diet pills and cold remedies should not be taken lightly. Phenylpropanolamine (PPA) has the potential to cause stroke in people who take the drug in higher-than-normal amounts. When sixteen healthy young people were given 150 mg. of PPA, twice the amount found in many over-the-counter diet pills, their blood pressure rose markedly. Even a 75 mg. dose of PPA, when followed with caffeine, caused an elevation in blood pressure. Consumers, therefore, should be warned that taking extra non-prescription medication is not necessarily safer than increasing the dosage of prescription drugs. With any medication, follow the directions.

COOLEY APOTHECARY meets the highest level of professionalism in our business and would be honored to become your family's pharmacy. Our records are fully maintained for all drug warnings, drug interactions and personal drug allergies here at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. # Over-Indulge During Holidays? Choose Among These Diets

by Trisha Morris,
PCC Librarian

Thanksgiving was instituted to reenact our forefather's feast that celebrated the fruits of their bountiful new land. Whether our bountiful table was gathered from the field or the grocery store, the spirit of the day compelled the average American to gather friends and family around a table of wonderful, calorie laden foods. Just in case the spirit was unleashed to excess, the following diet and exercise books from the Prestonsburg Community College Library can help trim off the calories that settled into extra inches of waistline before the holiday is upon us.

Creative Walking, by Harry Johnson. The book explains how plain, old-fashioned walking, on a regular basis, can do more to help one attain good health and physical fitness with less risk than any other known exercise. Dr. Johnson outlines how this simplest, sanest and most risk-free method of attaining physical fitness can reduce the possibility of heart attacks, improve ones overall health and enhance appearance. "Physically fit peoples simply look and feel better."

Walking needs no equipment, no special dress or location. It is man's oldest form of exercise and its side benefits are wonderful: You might see scenery that was only a blur from a car's window or enjoy a companion's conversation that isn't overridden by a radio or a noisy engine. So, for health's sake — take a walk.

The Only Diet That Works, by Herbert Brea. Besides having a catchy title, that almost compels one to snatch it from the shelf, and leave its competitors, this book has a novel approach to the holiday enhanced problem of weight control. It explains how to retrain your appetite so that your eyes won't rule what you put into your stomach and subsequently onto your hips.

Combining sound psychological advice with some interesting thoughts on "food" in our society, the book, very practically, provides some recommended menus for those interested in better health and a better body contour.

Overcoming Overeating, by Jane Hirschmann. Here's a statement that's sure to send shock waves throughout our dieting nation — "diets don't work." Not only that, but the author, psychotherapist and former compulsive eater, tells us that they cause overeating.

In this intriguing and enlightening book, Hirschmann shows how food — yes food — is the solution to overeating. "Diets," she says, "are like prisons... they're a punishment for not looking like the cultural ideal." Based on innovating concepts of "legalizing" all foods and eating "on demand" this book explains how to: Give up dieting forever, learn to eat from true hunger, stop overeating, move beyond any negative preoccupation with eating and live a fuller, healthier life.

Diet and Live, by Joseph Goodman. The cover proclaims that this is "a book for people who want to lose weight... in a sensible and safe manner." Dr. Goodman, chief of the diabetic clinic at Mt. Sinai Hospital, brings dieting into medically safe parameters. There's no quackery here, no food fads or any quick and miraculous solution to weight loss.

Dr. Goodman assumes the reader is prepared to lose weight by making a reasonable effort to accomplish his goal. He tells what the reader needs to know about food and just how to regulate its intake to bring about a change in weight. The program, designed to assure good health, will result in the loss of no more than two pounds a week. Specific menus are provided along with a weight control chart.

Nothing seems to be left to chance here — if one is serious then following Dr. Goodman's well laid-out advise would result in a reward at the scales.

Chinese Wand Exercise, by Bruce Johnson. Designed thousands of years before Christ to slow down the aging process of Chinese royalty, this "perfect exercise program" has been handed down from ruler to ruler. Like many things oriental, these exercises are not concerned with the outside appearance of the body, but with its inner well-being. Chinese Wand (CW) is a cardiovascular, cardiorespiratory form of exercise circulating the blood volume more efficiently throughout the entire body. This safe way to exercise puts the body into action without all the normal huffing and puffing associated with the dreaded "E" word.

With nothing but a 48 to 50 inch bamboo (or anything comparable) stick, comfortable clothing, a sustainable determination, and this book, readers can be on their way to a new, vitalized body and invigorating lifestyle. According to the author, practicing CW will help ward off physical afflictions, ailments, aches and just general depression. Sounds like a wonderful way to prepare for the next holiday and the beginning of the new year.

Eat Yourself Slim, by Shirley Boddy. "Nobody wants to be fat and yet there are 50 million fat Americans." Boddy gives the statistics — asks the question, why? — and proceeds to answer her question with her self-proclaimed "sensible and logical" weight reduction program. Her plan allows the dieter to eat six times a day — consequently eating him or herself slim.

Notice of New Rates to Customers of Equitable Gas Company

This notice is to advise customers that Equitable Gas Company, a division of Equitable Resources, Inc., is filing an application with the Public Service Commission of Kentucky to increase its rates for gas service to all customers effective December 29, 1989. Under the rates proposed by the Company, which are set forth in Case No. 89-286, the total bill for a typical residential customer using 126,000 cubic feet per year would increase from approximately $37.92 to $46.77 per month, or 23%. The Public Service Commission may order changes that differ from Equitable's proposal. Such action may result in a different outcome for consumers.

Any corporation, association, body politic, or person may, within thirty (30) days of the issuance of this notice, submit a motion to intervene in this case to the Public Service Commission, 730 Schenke Lane, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, KY 40602. The motion shall set forth the grounds for the request, including the status and interest of the party.

Intervenor may obtain copies of the application and any testimony by contacting Lawrence B. Nydes, Esq., Equitable Gas Company, 420 Boulevard of the Allies, Pittsburgh, PA 15219. Copies of the application and any testimony are available for public inspection at Equitable's offices in Ashland, Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Maytown, and Hazard, Kentucky.

The bids will be publicly opened and read aloud December 5, 1989, at 10:30 A.M. EST. at the Floyd County Board of Education Office.

Bidding and Contract Documents can be obtained upon the deposit of a $300.00 check made payable to James A. Ellis & Associates, and forwarded to the office of the Architect. The Architect upon receipt of the plan deposit fee shall authorize the publication of a complete set of documents for the requesting party. The bidding and Contract Documents are to be printed by Lynn Blue Print Co., Inc., 328 E. Vine St., Lexington, Ky. 40507. The requesting party shall indicate their preference whether they are going to pick up the documents at Lynn Blue Print or if they are to be shipped to the requesting party. Upon receipt of a request for documents, the Construction Manager will send an official Form of Proposal with envelope for each bid division requested to be used in submitting the proposal(s). The plan deposit will be returned to all bidders who submit a bonafide bid and return to the Architect the plans and specifications (postage prepaid) in good condition postmarked within 20 calendar days after the bids are opened. Planholders who do not submit a bonafide bid will receive fifty percent (50%) of their deposit, provided they return their plans and specifications (postage prepaid) in good condition postmarked within 20 calendar days. Planholders who do not return their plans and specifications (postage prepaid) in good condition postmarked within 20 calendar days after the bids are opened will receive fifty percent (50%) of their deposit, provided they submit a bonafide bid. Otherwise no refund will be due.

The Form of Proposal and Proposal Envelopes shall be requested from the Construction Manager, Martin Engineering and Construction Inc., Rt. 122, P.O. Box 823, Martin, Ky. 41649, (606) 285-9232. All bids shall be submitted only on the Form and in the Envelope prepared by the Construction Manager. Submit the Form of Proposal in Duplicate on the form supplied. Do not use the forms in the project manual. The Proposal Envelope will have the Project and respective Bid Division number affixed.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of James A. NAR Outlook Anticipates Lower Mortgage Rates, Steady Home Sales

Mortgage interest rates have leveled off at a point low enough to keep home sales steady through 1990, according to the latest monthly "Outlook for the Economy and Real Estate" from the National Association of Realtors. The November outlook says slow economic growth during the fourth quarter likely will trigger further loosening of the Federal Reserve Board's monetary policy. As a result, mortgage interest rates probably will remain at about 9.75 percent through the end of the year, before falling lower in early 1990, it says. "The most likely scenario is one of even slower real GNP (gross national product) growth beginning in the fourth quarter of 1989 and continuing through 1990, and characterized by small increases in unemployment, falling interest rates and no recession," the outlook says. Lower rates are not expected to substantially boost home sales, however. The sales rate of existing single-family homes is expected to average 3.36 million units for the final quarter of 1989, then slow to a rate of 3.24 million units in the first quarter of 1990, generally the slowest sales period. New homes are expected to be sold at a rate of 628,000 units in the final quarter of this year, before slowing to a rate of 546,000 units in the first quarter. —Sales of existing single-family homes are expected to total 3.41 million units, dropping 5.2 percent below sales for 1988. —Sales of new single-family homes are expected to total 646,000 units, dropping 4.6 percent from 1988. —Housing starts are expected to total 1.41 million units, dropping 6.1 percent from a year ago. A total of 1.02 million starts for single-family units is expected, dropping 5.9 percent from 1988. Starts for buildings with two-to-four units are expected to total 56,000 units, dropping 5.1 percent from 1988; and starts for buildings with five or more units are expected to total 324,000 units, falling 6.9 percent from 1988. —The national median existing-home price is expected to reach $93,400, rising 5.1 percent from last year. The national median new-home price is expected to reach $120,300, rising 5.6 percent from 1988. —Interest rates for fixed-rate, 30-year mortgages are expected to average 10.3 percent, falling from an average of 10.5 percent for 1988. Interest rates for one-year, adjustable-rate mortgages are expected to average 9.7 percent, rising from an average of 8.5 percent last year. —The gross national product (the total value of the nation's goods and services) is expected to total $5.233 trillion in current dollar terms, representing an inflation-adjusted increase of 3.0 percent from 1988. —Consumer price inflation is expected to reach a rate of 4.8 percent, compared to 4.1 percent in 1988. —The civilian unemployment rate is expected to be 5.3 percent, compared to 5.5 percent last year. The National Association of Realtors, the nation's largest trade association, is the voice for real estate, representing nearly 800,000 members involved in all aspects of the real estate industry.
