A Child Is Born

To many youngsters Christmas means presents and Santa Claus, but Dr. Quentin Scholtz, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Prestonsburg made sure these children would know the true meaning of Christmas. During the 10th Annual Hanging of the Greens celebration on Sunday, each child brought a piece of the nativity scene to the altar and Dr. Scholtz explained the significance and the story behind the manger scene. The entire program lasted about an hour, including Christmas singing by several different groups, a performance by the Bell Choir and Rhythmic Choir, decorating and other activities. The first Hanging of the Greens was started by Dr. Ted Nicholas, who came on Monday night, for the second day of the celebration, to speak.

Board Sells Bonds And Accepts Bids For Local Schools

by Anne Chaney,
Editor

The Floyd County School Board authorized sale of bonds for the Allen Elementary School project at a special meeting Tuesday night, and accepted bids for the first phase of construction at McDowell-Wheelwright Consolidated High School on Left Beaver.

The board members and Assistant Superintendent of Finance Russell M. Frazier also comprise the district's finance corporation. Meeting in that capacity after the board meeting, they also voted to sell the bonds.

The Allen project, which had been let for bids on three previous occasions, got a boost earlier this month when State Superintendent of Schools John Brock allowed the local district to negotiate with bidders rather than bid the school for a fourth time.

Tuesday, the local board rejected all bids previously received (except those concerning excavation) and, by mutual agreement, canceled Ervin Akers' contract as construction manager. The board then hired Akers as a general contractor to oversee school construction.

On a motion by Ray "Shag" Campbell and a second by Dr. Mary Hall, the board voted to approve issuing $3.5 million in school building revenue bonds to finance the Allen project, 5 percent add-on for Prestonsburg Middle School and 5 percent for the Garrett-Wayland Elementary School. Bonds are expected to be sold Dec. 20, according to Superintendent Ronald Hager.

"The people in Allen are going to be tickled," said Joe Hinchman, president of the Allen Parent-Teacher Organization. "We're a lot closer than we were a month ago. It's great."

Four additional classrooms were cut from the first phase of construction to get the project in line with budget allocations, bringing the total delayed until the next phase to 16 classrooms and the gym.

The board also approved bids for the first phase of construction for the McDowell/Wheelwright Consolidated High School.

"I'm proud to say that the numbers are exactly where they need to be," said architect Jim Ellis, who submitted recommended bids to the board. Bids came to within $26,000 of the approximate $2.6 million available for the actual building and construction. Omitted from the first phase of construction are the school's gym,

Transportation Chief Takes Bond Proposal On The Road

by Pam Shingler,
News Correspondent
Kentucky Transportation Cabinet Secretary Milo Bryant was in town Tuesday evening to woo area legislators into endorsing a $600 million bond proposal that, he says, will result in better roads for the state's rural regions.

At a dinner for legislators and road industry leaders at that the Holiday Inn, Bryant pleaded his case for support for the bond package which would include improvement to US 23 and US 119 in southern Pike County. The issue is expected to come before the state legislative assembly in early 1990.

"We want the money to be dedicated — that is, locked into specific projects and not taken somewhere else and spent," Bryant said. "We want to start all projects immediately. Realistically, we're looking at five or six years to completion."

"The bond issue is rural Kentucky," he added, noting the tie between improved roads and economic development. "We are looking at cities of 3,000 to 5,000 (population) and getting roads from there out to a major highway. This is important to business."

State Sen. Kelsey Friend of Pike County questioned whether legislators from the state's metropolitan areas would support the bond proposal. Bryant responded that those areas have transportation needs, as well, and "they know that if the road plan fails, other projects will have to slide," including those in more populated areas such as Fayette and Jefferson counties.

Friend suggested that the bond issue may have to be tacked on to another bill as an amendment, a process Bryant said he preferred not to have happen.

Rep. Clayton Little of Pike County brought up lawmakers' discontent with administration's usurping of some $35 million in road funds to pay other state bills. Terming his source "bathroom talk," Little said, "you can't expect to keep robbing the road funds and have the bond issue passed."

Bryant countered that Gov. Wallace Wilkinson "did not want to have to take money from road funds" and that he did not expect it to happen again.

State Sen. David LeMaster, who represents Johnson County and parts of Floyd County, raised his concern that funds for construction of US 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville are not included in the bond package. LeMaster termed the 13-mile stretch of highway the "number one" road need in Eastern Kentucky.

Bryant and members of his staff tried to assure LeMaster that the US 23 project is in the Department of Transportation's Six-Year Plan, despite the fact that it has not been completely funded. "We aren't going to build two-thirds and leave the rest unfinished," the secretary said, referring to the current mix of federal and state monies for construction from Prestonsburg to Hager Hill.

Bryant added that construction on the first phase of the highway is set to begin in May. (Earlier in the year, Wilkinson has announced that construction would begin in January.)

"If the legislature passes a $600 million bond issue, it's going to be hard to get $30 million more for the rest of the Paintsville-Prestonsburg stretch," LeMaster countered.

Rep. Russell Bentley, whose district includes Knott County and parts of Floyd and Letcher, told the audience, "There's no question that the bond issue benefits Eastern Kentucky." He added that four-laning of the Mountain Parkway from Prestonsburg to Campton should be included in the proposal.

Commonwealth Attorney, Jury Foreman Lock Horns

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

A courthouse battle boiled over Thursday between Commonwealth's Attorney Jerry Patton, and 1989 Grand Jury Foreman and former District 1 magistrate candidate Gorman Collins Jr.

Patton released a letter yesterday morning in response to a Wednesday Grand Jury report signed by Collins which alleged that several problems were encountered during jury activity in November.

Specifically, the jury report said that Patton "... may have tried to influence the jury towards taking cases based upon his opinion of what was winnable, as opposed to what should be prosecuted."

The report also stated that "some cases that we (the jury) had returned indictments on were never typed up to be signed and returned to Judge Conley, of these some had the charges dropped, but some were apparently left out."

The report further alleged that, during the jury's investigation of vote fraud, the misuse of county tax money, and election law infractions in Floyd County, "we were misled in our authority to obtain legal subpoenas for witnesses by the Commonwealth's Attorney, Jerry Patton." These subpoenas were received by the jury later, without the involvement of Patton, according to the report.

In Patton's response to the jury report, he noted that it was Collins who prepared and signed the report, saying, "His accusations against me are false and they too are politically motivated," and that "Mr. Collins is seeking to retaliate politically as a result of his recent defeat in the Magistrate's race."

Patton also stated in the letter that, "Every effort is being made to justly and fairly investigate his (Collins) claims of election law infractions. If Mr. Collins is truly interested in justice he should have considered turning his alleged information over to the Attorney General's Office and excused himself from participating in this matter."

In an interview following the release of Patton's letter, Collins elaborated on the allegations contained in the Grand Jury report.

"Regarding the election investigation, the jury asked to have some witnesses subpoenaed," said Collins. "Patton said we couldn't have them subpoenaed because of lack of evidence. We were misled because I was able to get them subpoenaed myself later."

According to Collins, two former county employees and one employee currently working for the county wished to present evidence that county funds have been diverted to private use in return for political favors. Collins says these witnesses know of county gravel being placed on private property.

"I've seen it myself and took a photo of it," said Collins.

Collins stated that Patton, however, refused to issue subpoenas to these witnesses, misleading the jury by saying that enough evidence wasn't present to warrant it, and stalling the investigation. It was at this point that Collins approached Judge Hollie Conley to contact the state Attorney General's office so that a special prosecutor could be appointed to examine the alleged election fraud and misuse of public funds.

"It's important to know that most of this investigation deals with last May's election, and even some questions that go back three years," says Collins. "This isn't about the election that I was a part of. These are problems that people have known about for a long time."

A further problem developed between the jury and Patton this week after Collins requested that the scheduled meeting of the Grand Jury for Wednesday, Dec. 6, be changed due to the inability of one juror to attend on that day.

"I contacted the Commonwealth Attorney's office last Friday about the problem, and they said the date couldn't be changed. I told them the same thing early this week, and they still wouldn't change the date," said Collins. "We came to court Wednesday morning with the 11 jurors who could attend, but because we were missing the one person we were unable to meet. The jury was discharged permanently. We had two witnesses waiting to testify about the misuse of funds but there was no jury to hear them."

According to Collins, the subpoenas he issued will stand until a special prosecutor from the Attorney General's office is assigned to examine the matter. The investigation could begin this month, according to Judge Conley's letter to the Attorney General's office.

Patton was out of town Thursday and could not be reached for further comment.

Council Sets Reward, Examines Fire Rating

In an active Martin council meeting Wednesday night, council members decided on action against local vandals and discussed possible improvements on fire insurance ratings for the city.

A resolution to post a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons who have been vandalizing city vehicles was passed unanimously, on the request of Councilman Joe Sampson. In recent weeks tires on city police cars have been punctured, and a city truck was also damaged, with punctured tires, a broken mirror and broken lights. In the past week, $45 dollars was spent on repairs to city vehicles, and it was noted that a reward should encourage persons to turn in the guilty parties. This reward does not apply to police officers.

Councilman Pete Grigsby expressed concern over the fire rating given to the city, and suggested that council direct efforts at upgrading its rating to a class six.

"We've been spending too much money on this problem to be still rated as a ninth class city," said Grigsby. "It's our own fault that we haven't improved in this area."

It was noted that a reinspection, by the insurance agency which provides coverage to the city, should be conducted in order to seek an upgraded rating. Mayor Griffith stated, "The fire rates are pathetic in this town. People living outside the city get lower fire rates than those in town." City Attorney Dan Caudill agreed to send a letter to the insurance evaluator, requesting that a reevaluation take place. Grigsby also suggested the hiring of a full time fire chief, while noting that this suggestion did not reflect on the work of current police and fire chief Herschel Lester. Lester also supported the idea.

Mayor Raymond Griffith displayed the $690,220 check to the council, which was granted to the city to improve its wastewater system. The large display check was framed and will be signed by all council members involved and placed in the new city building. Griffith and Councilman Denzil Halbert were designated as signatories for the accounts, which will be established to hold the grant monies.

A resolution was passed to pay for equipment required by a Martin police officer who will begin Criminal Justice Training on Tuesday, Dec. 19. City Clerk Johnnie Stephens will join the officer in selecting the required supplies.

The issue of placing a licensing fee on all trucks which do business within city limits was brought up by Griffith. It was suggested by council that a flat rate be set at $50 and that a sticker be required on all such trucks. The council will consider the resolution at the next meeting.

A resolution passed unanimously to give city employees a $100 bonus for Christmas. The most recently hired police officer was given a $25 bonus due to his short time in service to the city.

Present at Wednesday night's meeting were Mayor Griffith and council members Grigsby, Sampson, Halbert, and Hayes.

Eastern Family Indicted By Grand Jury

A single indictment was returned by the Floyd County Grand Jury on Tuesday against an Eastern family.

Ballard and Maudie Crum, Jackie Crum, Tony Crum, and Kathy Jacobs, all of Eastern and members of the same family, were accused of theft by extortion, for allegedly intentionally obtaining the property of Ronald Reid of Martin, on Feb. 5, 1989, by threatening to inflict bodily injury. The property taken was valued at over $100.

Ballard Crum was also accused of first degree wanton endangerment for pointing a firearm at Reid. The other defendants were further charged with complicity to theft by extortion and complicity to first degree wanton endangerment.

Kentucky Utilities Wins $80 Million

FAYETTE COUNTY—Fayette Judge Charles Tackett has ruled that South East Coal Co., which employs 800 people from Letcher, Perry, Knott, and Estill counties, owes $80 million to Kentucky Utilities Company (KU).

The ruling, which was made on Dec. 1, is based on a contract made between the two companies in 1978. The judgment states that the coal company overcharged KU due to changes in the coal market since the time the contract was made. (Louisville Courier-Journal)

Martin Coal Cuts 75 Jobs

MARTIN COUNTY—In a "cost containment move," 75 hourly and salaried employees were permanently laid off Monday from Martin County Coal Corp.

Citing the need to remain competitive and economically healthy into the 1990s, company president Raymond Bradbury made the announcement for the Martin company, which is one of the largest non-union mining operations in the state. This cut is the third of its kind that has occurred at the company over the past two years. (Paintsville Herald)

Letcher Judge Wants Waste Incinerator

WHITESBURG—The medical waste incinerator rejected by Wolfe County and Paintsville could come to Letcher County if Circuit Judge F. Byrd Hogg has his way.

The judge wrote a letter to Waste Energy Inc. of North Carolina following the company's rejection by protesting residents of Wolfe County, requesting that the incinerator be located in Letcher. The facility to be built would burn 240 tons of garbage and hospital waste a day, received from the entire northeast section of the country.

Three other Kentucky communities have contacted Waste Energy concerning the location of the incinerator. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Murder Suspect Pleads Not Guilty

HAZARD—Donald H. Johnson, 22, of Busy, pleaded not guilty Monday to charges of murder and burglary in the slaying death of laundry worker Helen Madden.

Madden was discovered on Thursday of last week in the Bright 'n Clean laundromat in downtown Hazard. She died of multiple stab wounds.

Johnson will be held in the Perry County Jail, awaiting a Dec. 13 preliminary hearing. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Eastern Kentucky Prison Dedicated

WEST LIBERTY—The new Eastern Kentucky Correctional Complex was dedicated yesterday in Morgan County by Gov. Wallace Wilkinson.

The $45 million prison contains 512 medium security cells and a 50-bed solitary confinement section. An expansion currently underway should double the prison's capacity. The prison is expected to begin receiving prisoners in January. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Gas Plant Fire Causes Damage In Millions

MOREHEAD—A fire inside the main building of Tennessee Gas Pipeline's compressor station nine miles north of Morehead caused an estimated $2 to $3 million in damages.

The fire, which began about 12:05 p.m. Nov. 30, was caused by a mechanical failure in a turbine gas compressor, which caused an explosion and fire. Emergency shutdown systems were activated, and the fire was controlled within 20 minutes after the arrival of firefighters.

Forty firefighters responded from eight area departments. (Morehead News)

Describing himself as a graduate of Maytown High School "in the dust," Sen. Nelson Allen, now from Greenup County, threw in an eloquent plea for support of education reform before expressing his support of the bond proposal. Allen told the secretary that "coalition (of legislators) from Western and Eastern Kentucky would get the bond issue passed."

Before making his pitch for support of the bond issue, Bryant reminded the audience of the successes for the Transportation Cabinet under his leadership. He said the new weight-distance tax has brought in 30 percent more revenue than was expected and that 80 percent of the revenue has come from out-of-state trucks that use state highways. He also cited the success of the County Bridge Program and the anti-litter campaign along the highways.

Bryant also used the opportunity to urge support of a succession law that would allow Kentucky governors to serve more than one successive term. "We need to get it on the ballot and let the people vote on it," he said. "I think the people of Kentucky should have the choice." He stressed that he was speaking for himself and not for Gov. Wilkinson.

The dinner, which was sponsored by Kentuckians for Better Transportation, was the third of 10 such meetings scheduled across the state.

A Trucker's Tree

While it might not be right for the family living room, this tree does brighten the drive between Paintsville and Prestonsburg. Signs of the season can be seen all around Floyd County, though not all are as original as this. The question that must be asked is, "What do you do if your tree goes a flat?"

WinterCare Launches Statewide Campaign

A campaign to educate the public on energy issues facing Kentucky's low-income, elderly and disabled residents was launched on Friday, Dec. 1.

WinterCare, a statewide fund designed to help low-income families and individuals with their heating bills, will lead the effort which will focus on three areas—educating the general public on issues facing people in poverty, educating the low-income population on how they can lower their heating bills and educating the public on how WinterCare works and how donor's dollars are spent.

According to Jack Burch, WinterCare president, the major problem results from people's lack of funds when their winter utility bills escalate.

"Most people living in poverty are the most creative and best money managers I have ever seen," says Burch. "They can take a few dollars and stretch them further than anyone. But when their heating bills skyrocket during the winter, their backs are to the wall."

However, Burch doesn't see money as the single solution to the problem.

"One aspect of this campaign is to educate the public about why there are people living in poverty and what they face while in this situation," he says. "There are many stereotypes about low-income people floating around out there. We've all heard the story of the lady who bought steak with food stamps to feed to her dog. I'm not saying this doesn't happen, but I can guarantee that this is the exception and not the rule."

Another aspect of the campaign will involve Kentucky's utility companies and focus on educating the low-income population.

"Low-income people need to know what they can do to keep their bills as low as possible," says Lynwood Schrader, senior vice president of Kentucky Utilities. "There are minor things that people can do such as caulking around doors and windows and installing plastic storm windows, but we need to educate them."

The final aspect of the campaign will provide a better understanding of how a fuel fund works and the benefits it provides to Kentucky residents.

"This state is very fortunate to have utility companies that are willing to help us tackle issues of this magnitude," Burch says. "There is a perception that utility companies are bad if they stop someone's service because they can't afford to pay. What they don't understand is that if utilities continue to provide service to non-paying customers, then they must request an increase in the rates of the paying customers to recover the loss.

"Could you imagine what would happen if a utility allowed itself to get into financial difficulty and had to shut down?" he added. "This would cause businesses to close and everyone would be without heat."

According to Burch, WinterCare helps keep utility rates low for everyone and at the same time provides a needed community service.

Now in its fifth year, WinterCare was the first statewide energy fund established in the United States and has served nearly 13,000 Kentuckians.

WinterCare is staffed by all volunteers and allows 100 percent of the donations to go toward serving people.

The organization estimates that nearly 10,000 Kentuckians will need its help in the coming winter. However, according to Burch, they will only be able to help about 20 percent of these people because of limited funds.

"The past two winters have been hard on WinterCare," Burch says. "They have been relatively mild, which seems to make people think that the need to give isn't as great. The truth of the matter is, people need heat just as much when it's 35 degrees versus five-below-zero."

WinterCare was developed through a partnership between Kentucky's utility companies and community action agencies. Utilities agreed to set up a system that allows their customers to add a donation to their utility payments. The utilities then send all donations to WinterCare which distributes them to the community action agencies across the state to provide assistance to Kentucky's low-income, elderly and handicapped residents.

Anyone needing assistance or more information should contact their local community action agency or WinterCare, P.O. box 11610, Lexington, KY 40576, or call (606) 233-4600.

Other forms of utility payment assistance can be gained through contacting Columbia Gas of Kentucky.

"Our trained representatives can easily provide information and advice on how to get assistance through both federal and local programs, and they can also offer suggestions on budgeting gas payments," noted Jimmy C. Curmutte, Columbia's manager at Prestonsburg.

Curmutte explained that customers with payment troubles can work out individually tailored payment options with Columbia's representatives.

"We are committed to doing all we can to help customers with payment difficulties," Curmutte said. "We can help when customers let us know they are in need of assistance."

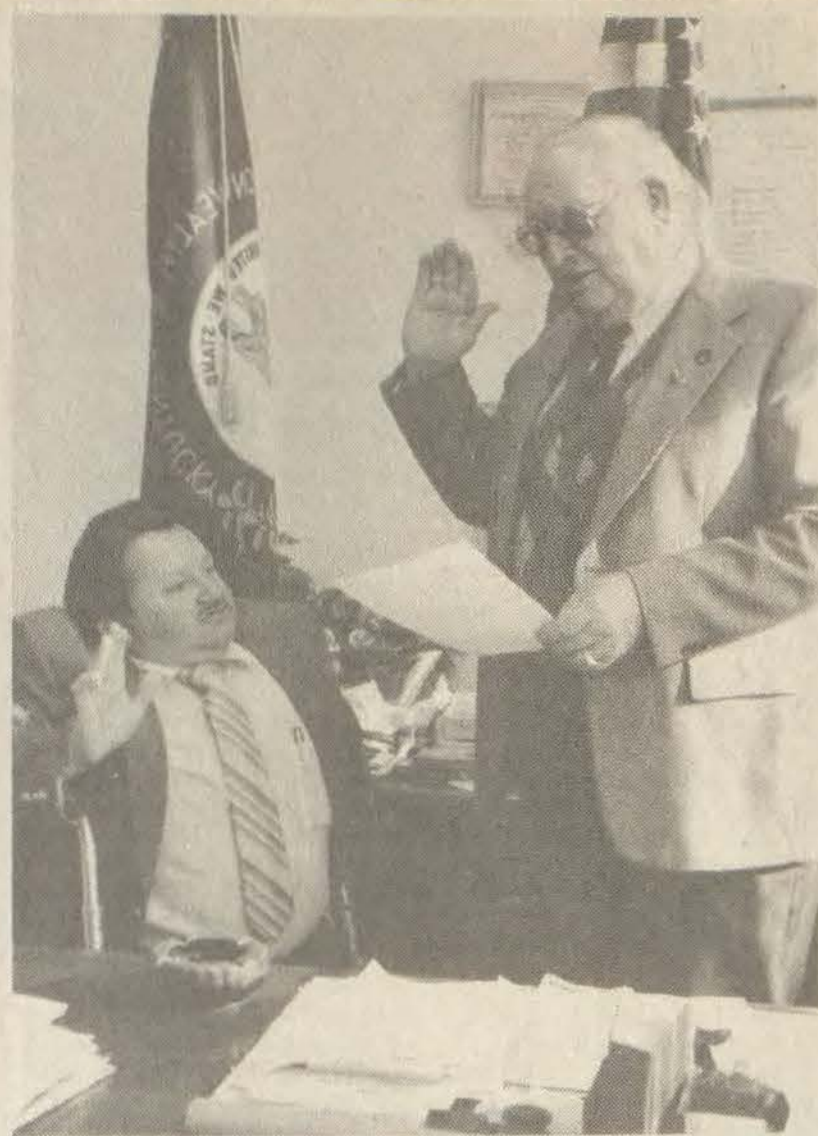

Columbia representatives can supply customers with information on how and where to apply for various assistance programs. In addition to WinterCare some of the plans available include:

Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP): A federally funded program which pays a portion of eligible customers' heating bills. The income requirement for HEAP is up to 110 percent of the federal poverty level.

Emergency HEAP: A one-time payment of up to $300 to avoid utility shut-off, or to get disconnected service restored.

"We encourage customers who are experiencing payment difficulties to take full advantage of programs designed to help them meet winter heating costs," Curmutte said. "In addition, we're available to sit down and work out the kind of payment arrangements customers can best manage. We want to be sure that every Columbia customer is warm and comfortable this winter. And, with the weather turning colder each day, now is the time to contact us, we can help."

Commentary

by Ed Taylor

Last December while at home reading the Floyd County Times, I ran across an ad seeking to fill the position of sports editor at the Times. I still remember the ad. "Sports-minded but that knows which end of a camera the lens fits on, to fill the position of sports editor."

I became immediately interested in the position and put in a call to the local newspaper. Janie, the receptionist, answered the phone. Upon declaring my reason for calling, she informed me that I would have to call back tomorrow and talk to a Miss Anne Chaney. I returned the call the following day and, sure enough, Miss Chaney came to the phone.

Ever talk to people on the phone and try to envision what they look like? I guess we have all done that.

There was not that upstate accent you might expect from a top-notch editor of a newspaper. It was "down home" and very friendly. "Sure, come in and talk with me and just write out a brief resume and bring it in," she said. Hey, I didn't even have to type it out! When I walked into the Floyd County Times office and met Miss Chaney (just good old Anne now) she wasn't as I had pictured her in my mind. It made you feel tall when you stood next to her.

After two assignments I was offered the position of sports editor of the Times—a position I had doubts at first about whether I could perform or not. That's what this editorial is about—the guiding hand of a great editor, who was patient with me and gave me some great advice, and was understanding about my shortcomings as a sports reporter.

Today is Anne Chaney's last day at the Floyd County Times as she embarks on yet another step in her career—publisher of a newspaper in Hemphill, Texas. Anne will be a credit to any newspaper, and I know that someday again she will show some green horn reporter the ropes, and also the same patience she displayed toward me. Anne will be greatly missed here in the hills as she heads for the open spaces of "Taaaxus."

She may be short in stature but she has a big heart toward her fellow workers. No one who has never been involved or connected with the newspaper business can imagine the day in the life of a newspaper editor. She could handle any situation. When someone would call me with a problem or if they just needed some good advice, I would tell them to "talk to my editor, she knows everything."

The Editorial Staff of the Floyd County Times wishes Ms. Anne Chaney the very best when she is "deep in the heart of Texas." And hopes that someday soon, she will find the time to come back to this area to visit, or better yet, to stay.

PostScript

By Pam Shingler

When she reads this while editing, she'll probably call and say something like, "Pam, I appreciate it, but I can't let you do this." But this column has my name on it, and she's always allowed me to say what I want, even if occasionally she's thought I shouldn't.

She is Anne Chaney, editor of this newspaper for a year and a half. She leaves soon to be publisher of a paper in Texas. A step up, that means she'll be responsible for the whole shebang—advertising, circulation and finances, as well as the news and feature content. We know she'll do well because she has the know-how, the intelligence and the moxie.

But Anne will be sorely missed. She came to The Times at a time of upheaval. The paper had just changed hands after being in the same trusted family for decades. Change is generally scary, and an uneasiness reigned among both readers and employees.

In a few short months, the tiny blonde who looks as if she should still be in high school had made her mark. For instance, she started a new section emphasizing academics, giving attention to schools and students throughout Floyd County and promoting a balance in what often seems a lop-sided subject in these parts.

She oversaw the expansion of the sports section, now quite possibly the best in all of Eastern Kentucky, maybe the state. And she had the good sense to hire a sports editor who believes peewee baseball deserves the same type of coverage as high school basketball.

She launched a concerted effort to cover the entire county, to make the paper reflective of its name, encompassing more than just the county seat.

She stood by a policy that there are no "sacred cows." No one is too important to keep his or her name out of the paper, and no one is too unimportant to be included. She has worn out the telephone and several sets of tires to make sure that all sides of an issue are covered.

Her standards for correctness of grammar and accuracy of facts are unusually high for a paper of this size and type. Sure, mistakes occasionally occur, but their proportion is minuscule.

Her code of ethics is solid, strong and admirable at a time when ethical breaches are considered commonplace.

With editorial employees she is fair and nurturing. She is generous with compliments and encouragement, and is a willing buffer between reporters and critics. She has fought many battles over the need to emphasize news over advertising in a newspaper.

The result is one of the best weekly newspapers in Kentucky (examine the others if you have doubts.)

This is more than anyone can ask of an editor. But Anne Chaney has gone even further in service to the community. With a strong interest in education, she played a primary role on the Blue Ribbon Panel which last spring presented recommendations to the school board.

She has worked tirelessly with the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce, particularly the economic development committee. She's also given time to the Floyd County Literacy Council, has spoken to various groups and has opened the newspaper offices to tours by school students.

While we wish her well, we wish even more that she would stay. Anne Chaney is one of a kind, and for a time the newspaper and Floyd County were lucky to have her with us. Good luck, Anne, and be happy.

Surveying The Site

Chalmer Howard, Regional Director of Adult Day Habitation Programs for Mountain Comprehensive Care, examines the site where an aluminum recycling center will be established. Located across Rt. 23 from Highlands Regional Medical Center and behind the current Mountain Comp greenhouse, the recycling effort will be operated by mentally handicapped clients of the non-profit organization. Howard expects 10 to 15 thousand pounds of aluminum cans to be processed each month, following startup of the center.

Aluminum Recycling Facility Proposed By Mountain Comp

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

What do crushed aluminum cans and the development of mentally handicapped area residents have in common?

A great deal, if an aluminum recycling program that's being organized by Mountain Comprehensive Care goes into effect in Prestonsburg.

Chalmer Howard, a Floyd County native and regional director of Adult Day Habilitation Programs for Mountain Comp, has developed a recycling project with Alcoa Aluminum of Knoxville, Tenn., which will utilize the labor of retarded and developmentally disabled clients to conduct a long term self supported recycling effort in Floyd County. The project will be located near the site of the current Mountain Comp greenhouse operation and across from Highlands Regional Medical Center.

"The retarded are often devalued in society," said Howard. "Our program here at the greenhouse, and with the future recycling effort, allows the community to see the work of our clients and recognize their many positive qualities."

The concept of the recycling program is straightforward. Aluminum cans will be collected at Mountain Comp offices around the five county region served by the organization. The cans will be brought to a facility behind the greenhouse, where they will be fed into the recycling machine, to be crushed, sorted and then blown into a waiting truck. The truck will take the crushed aluminum to Mountain Metal in West Prestonsburg to be sold. Howard expects to receive approximately 40 cents per pound for the metal and anticipates retarded clients will be involved in almost all aspects of the effort.

"Our clients have different levels of retardation, from mild to severe," stated Howard. "Some have multiple handicaps. We will have a supervisor for the work but clients will be directly involved in the recycling work. Our purpose with both the greenhouse and the recycling program is to have our people productively occupied. This is more than an activity. We have a real world work orientation."

The greenhouse project, sponsored by Mountain Comp, has been in operation for 16 years. Clients work together with staff to raise plants and flowers for sale. From both a developmental and economic standpoint, Howard says, the horticultural operation has been a success.

"Working in the soil is therapeutic," says Howard. "We have a special type of program here. Other states have approached us for direction on how to start similar projects."

Recycling is a new focus for Howard and Mountain Comp. Alcoa Aluminum has agreed to provide the equipment and truck trailers necessary to conduct the operation. Howard is currently talking to area companies about sponsoring site preparation activities, which include pouring a concrete slab on which to place the machinery, a shelter to put over the site, and a security fence to surround the area. The county has already donated personnel and machinery to clear and level the site. Howard anticipates preparation costs to run about $5,000.

"We're soliciting contributions from the community in this project," said Howard, "because I feel that this program will benefit the entire community, and they have a role to play here. So far, the response from private business has been good."

Nationally, aluminum recycling is taking on greater importance in aluminum production. In 1988, 56 percent of aluminum beverage cans were recycled and about $700 million was paid for used aluminum. Recycling also saves energy—about 95 percent of the energy that it takes to produce new aluminum from ore. Since 1970, over 40,000 jobs have been created by aluminum recycling activities. Howard sees this new project opening opportunities to capitalize on the growing industry, promote environmental cleanup in the area, as well as help his clients.

"What I'd like to see is clients involved in recycling on a rotating basis, with three or four working at one time, assisting customers who drop off their own cans, weighing them, and preparing them to be moved. While it's true that some who are mentally retarded can't get beyond a certain level of activity, there is also a percentage which can handle high responsibilities. It just takes our clients a little longer to learn."

Howard says that operations could begin as soon as construction work is completed at the site. Alcoa has assured him that the recycling equipment is ready and waiting to be sent. Howard will continue to seek local support for the program in order to expedite the process.

"We're starting with aluminum, but we hope to move to glass and paper in the future," said Howard. "Working with Alcoa and Mountain Metal, I know we'll have a strong operation here."

Low-Cost Mammograms Are Concern To Area Hospitals, State Legislators

by Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

The word mammography has crept into the general vocabulary recently with the public's increasing awareness of the dangers of cancer.

Of great concern in the medical field is the mounting number of breast cancer cases in women. The good news is that, with early detection, breast cancer is a very treatable disease.

Highland Regional Medical Center in Prestonsburg and other area hospitals offer low-cost breast cancer screenings. HRMC's most recent attempt to offer the service to a larger segment of the public by creating screening centers in Prestonsburg, Martin and Paintsville has been defeated by the Commission for Health Economics Control in Kentucky.

The commission disapproved HRMC's request for a free-standing center in Floyd County, to be called Breast Images, on the basis that a need was not established, according to Brad Hughes of the Office of Communication for the Cabinet for Human Resources.

"We didn't feel we needed to spend a lot of time and money explaining what we thought was patently obvious," said Clarence Traum, HRMC administrator, following the ruling.

Traum explained that anyone associated with the medical field is aware of the need for inexpensive breast cancer screening services. The application process for a certificate of need requires significant paperwork and legal representation to present the case before the commission, he said, all of which would cost the hospital a sizable sum. Traum said he felt that it was unnecessary.

State legislators are being asked to consider either abandoning the certificate of need application process, or streamline it to allow simple projects to by-pass this process, Traum noted. He added that the streamlining option is favored by hospitals, since total abandonment of the control would result in more competition and higher costs to the consumer.

He stressed that Highlands would decide how best to approach getting the three area clinics after the legislature has decided on the certificate of need issue.

Medical experts recommend that any woman over 40 years of age get an initial screening, and those over 60 have a mammography test performed yearly. The process is painless and is similar to getting an x-ray.

Due to the importance of all women being able to afford a screening, Sen. Benny Ray Bailey has proposed legislation to establish a panel of experts, funding them with $250,000 a year, and asking that they develop programs to assure all women in Kentucky have access to affordable mammogram screenings.

"There are 700,000 people in Kentucky, with 350,000 of those working without hospitalization. I feel this bill is a very important one," Sen. Bailey expressed. "The screening has proven to be such a good preventative measure that it is a shame that some cannot afford to have this simple procedure, that could possibly save their life, done."

Bailey added that Rep. Ernesto Scorsone has proposed a bill to require all insurers providing coverage for surgical services for a mastectomy to also cover low-dose mammography screening.

Nearly 80 bids were received for the 38 contracts included in the first phase of construction.

Clarification

In an article concerning a panel discussion of AIDS in Wednesday's issue of the Floyd County Times, Dr. John Boswell was quoted as saying there were two cases of AIDS diagnosed at Highlands Regional Medical Center.

Two people have been tested positive for the HIV antibody, not the AIDS virus. There is a marked difference between the two and, according to Dr. Boswell, to his knowledge no cases of AIDS have been found in Floyd County.

We apologize for the error.

P'Burg Tops McDowell Behind Slone's 27 Points

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The last time McDowell and Prestonsburg fans sat across from one another was during the finals of the 15th Region tournament on March 18 of this year.

Tuesday night the scene was repeated, but without all the fanfare that goes with a tournament atmosphere.

The result was the same as the championship game of last March. Prestonsburg rode home a 74-55 victory over the Daredevils behind the 27-point performance of senior Chris Slone. Slone also had seven rebounds in the game.

This contest may not have been for a tournament championship, but to Prestonsburg coach Gordon Parido it was an important conference outing. He showed how serious it was to him: when he thought his starters were not hustling in the third quarter, he didn't hesitate to pull his them and play the bench.

"I didn't feel they were rebounding like they should have been," the Blackcat mentor stated. "They were letting the ball bounce past them instead of coming to meet it. Anytime you play a district game it is serious. Most of these players are seniors and they knew better. You can't take anything for granted in the 58th District. Our bench did a super job for us when they came in. They just need to be more aggressive."

The lead change hands six times in the first quarter as both teams played a foul-free first period. Jeff Sloan gave the Blackcats the first lead at 2-0 on a basket underneath. Marc Hall tied the game with a lay up. After Chris Slone's bucket, Hall gave the Daredevils their first lead at 6-4 on two baskets. Slone's basket tied the at 8-8 after Keith Sheldon hit from five out. After the score was tied at 12-12, Prestonsburg scored six unanswered points to take a 16-12 first quarter lead.

A Slone free throw and a bucket by John Clark put the Cats up by seven at 19-12. Baskets by Stacy Hall and David Bentley made it 19-16. Prestonsburg then ran off 10 unanswered points and went to the dressing room at half time leading by 13 points, 29-16.

"Anytime you hold a team to 16 first half points you can't fault your defense," Parido said. "Our defense was good tonight against McDowell."

After Prestonsburg went on top by 16 points, 40-26, on a three-pointer by Chris Slone, the Daredevils went on a 11-5 run to cut the lead to eight, 45-37, at the end of the third period. A 12-3 spurt by the Blackcats midway through the fourth period opened the game up to a 19 point advantage at 64-45. Prestonsburg held on to win the conference match up, 74-55.

Parido was pleased with the showing of some of his players in the win over the Daredevils.

"This is the best game Joe (Burchett) has played for us," he said. "He needs to be more aggressive on offense. Stuart (Robinson) played a good game. He is being aggressive and helps on the boards."

Burchett had seven points in the game and pulled down eight rebounds for Prestonsburg while teammate Robinson had 10 points and six rebounds.

Kevin Adams added nine points in the contest and Jeff Sloan tossed in eight. Ray Collins, who had the hot hand against Johns Creek, had an off night and scored six points.

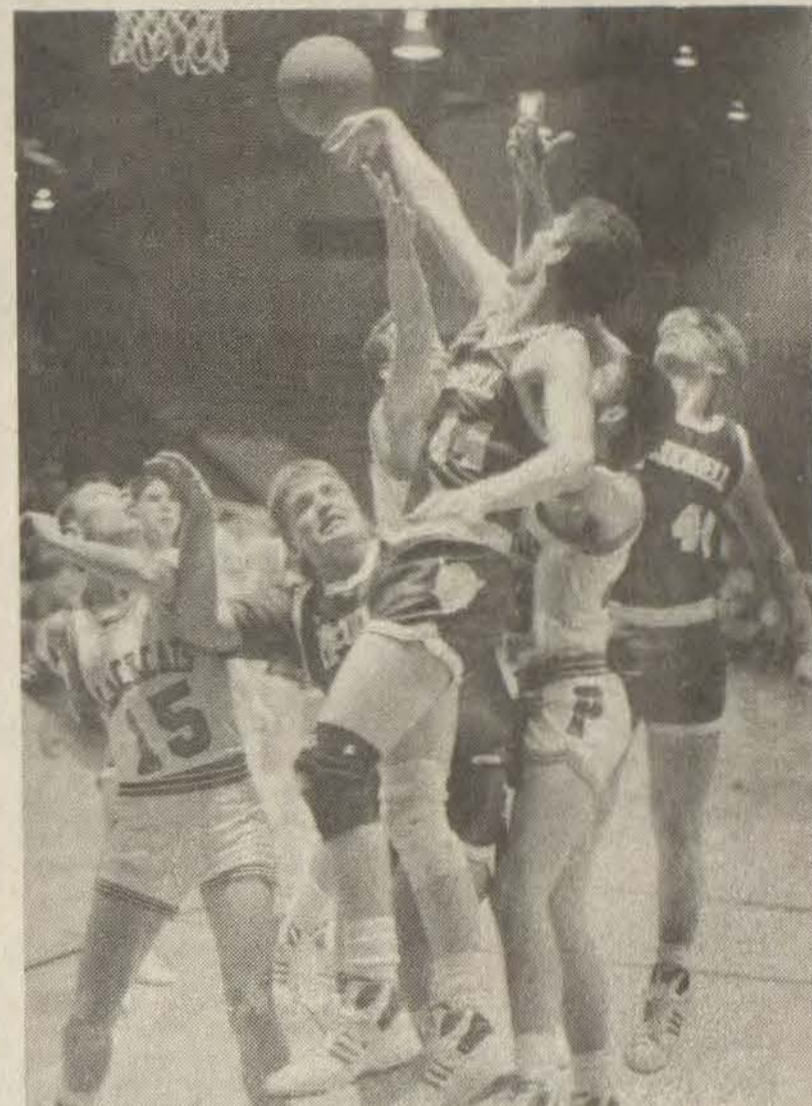

Junior Stacey Hall led the Daredevils in scoring with 17 points. Marc Hall added 12 and Keith Sheldon tossed in 11. Prestonsburg improves to 2-0 and 1-0 in the conference race while Coach Johnny Ray Turner's Daredevils falls to 0-3 and 0-1 in the conference.

Parido's Blackcats will play at Betsy Layne in another tough conference match up Tuesday night. McDowell will face Dorton in a home game Tuesday evening.

Basket At Buzzer Lifts Bobcats Over Feds Creek

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The Feds Creek Vikings, the consensus of many basketball fans in the region to take the regional crown this time around, rolled into Bobcat territory to help Betsy Layne coach Junior Newsome and his Bobcats to open their 1989-90 basketball season.

Why schedule a team like Feds Creek for an opening game?

"It used to be that Feds Creek was an easy opener for your season," Coach Newsome explained. "Not anymore. They are an excellent basketball team."

Feds Creek, of course, is headed by the much-recruited Jody Thompson. Thompson is being courted by the Louisville Cardinals and other major colleges that want his services next season.

But this was to be the Bobcats' night.

Junior Phillip King, 6'2", filled the nets for 26 points and junior Adam Gearheart added 18 as the Bobcats pulled off a big 69-67 upset of the number one regional ranked Vikings.

However, it was Gearheart's last-second basket that pulled off the win for Betsy Layne.

Feds Creek took a four point lead, 56-52, going into the final quarter. The Bobcats caught the Vikings and the lead changed hands several times during the final stanza. Betsy Layne held a 67-66 lead when Thompson was fouled with :09 showing on the clock. Thompson hit the first of a one and one, but the second shot came off to the right of the goal. Gearheart took the ball the length of the court, pulled up and hit a basket from 18 feet as the buzzer sounded to give the Bobcats the cherished win.

"We are real pleased with the win," Bobcat mentor Junior Newsome said. "Our team performed real well and it was big game for us."

Newsome cited the defensive play of 6'5" Sam Stewart on Thompson. "Stewart did a great job on Thompson defensively and held him to only 14 points in the game. Overall, our team defense was good. King did a great job for us on offense in getting 26 points," he added.

Betsy Layne held a first quarter lead of three, 18-15, but trailed at the half, 37-33.

"We're a young team and we are going to improve with each game," says Newsome. "We made some mistakes that we need to correct."

Shannon Keene led the Vikings in scoring with 24 points. Thompson added 14 and Rodney Fuller tossed in 11.

Betsy Layne is 1-0 and will be at McDowell tonight for a conference match up with Johnny Ray Turner's Daredevils.

Feds Creek (67) — Jody Thompson, 14; Max Good, 6; Rodney Fuller, 11; Shannon Keene, 24; Brian Justice, 2; Bryant Justice, 2; Danny Justice, 4; Heath Phillips, 4; Teddy Melton, 2.

Betsy Layne (69) — Sam Stewart, 6; Phillip King, 26; Adam Gearheart, 18; Larry Hall, 7; Keith Hall, 6; Chris Newsome, 4; Chad Mitchell, 2.

Towel Flies As Rebs Down Jenkins, 87-60

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Three-pointers were flying, tempers were flying and a towel was flying at Jenkins Tuesday night as the Allen Central Rebels took to the hardwood for an inter-regional game with Jenkins.

Jenkins scored 31 points in the first quarter as they let the three-pointers fly and had the Rebels down by 21 points, 31-10, before the buzzer sounded. Tempers were flying as well, as Rebel coach Johnny Martin was whistled for two technicals in the first period. Because of flying tempers, Martin threw his towel in the air—all the way to the rafters—and was whistled for one of the technicals.

"I threw the towel and it went all the way to the rafters, opened up and came down like a parachute," Martin explained. "I went onto the floor to get the towel and they called another technical on me. With the Prestonsburg game coming up, I was afraid of getting another one called on me."

In the second stanza, Allen Central put on an offensive show of their own by outscoring Jenkins 32-12 and trailing by only one point at the half, 43-42.

"All five of my starters had two fouls on them in the first quarter," Martin remarked. "Our defense got tougher and we caught up with them by half time."

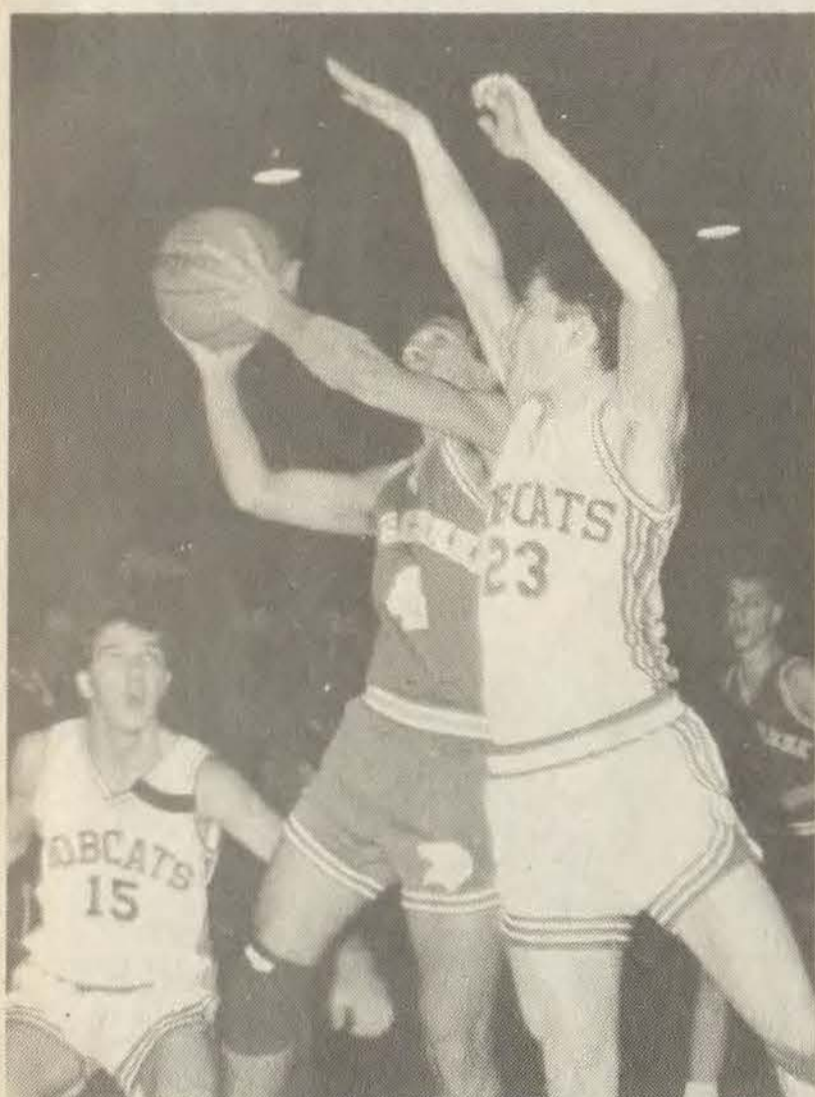

"We went to a trap zone that caused a lot of trouble for Jenkins," he said. "We came back by scoring off their turnovers."

Jenkins shot 18 free throws and hit 16 of them. "They were 12 for 12 in the first quarter and shot only six the rest of the game," the Rebel mentor said. "They hit five three pointers in the first quarter and we got down real quick."

Allen Central blitzed Jenkins in the third period by outscoring them by 16, 27-11, to take a 69-54 lead at the third stop.

"Ronnie Collins played an outstanding game for us," says Martin. "He had an excellent defensive out- See TOWEL FLIES Page 8

Lady Blackcats Slip By McDowell, 50-43, In Foul-Prone Tuesday Game

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

It wasn't a game of beauty for the McDowell Lady Devils or the Prestonsburg Lady Cats Tuesday night in high school basketball. Both teams committed an excessive number of fouls; over 40 violations were whistled in the contest between the two conference rivals.

Kathy Slone, coming off a bout with the flu, tossed in 26 points to lead the Lady Blackcats to a 50-43 victory over the McDowell Lady Daredevils. Junior Lori Bryant had 18 points to lead McDowell in scoring.

Prestonsburg missed some easy early shots to fall behind the Lady Devils, 9-2, with 1:43 to go in the first period. Bridgett Clay's Lady Blackcats then outscored the McDowell team, 8-2, to take a 10-9 first quarter lead.

Priscilla Crawford tied the game at 10-10 with a free throw and McDowell took the lead, 12-10, on a basket by Bryant. The Lady Daredevils committed three turnovers, either on walking calls or bad passing, and 10 unanswered Prestonsburg points put the Lady Cats in front, 20-12, with Slone scoring six of the 10. Slone seemed to be able to drive the left side of the basket at will as McDowell's defense was caught napping.

Crawford's free throw and two buckets by Michelle Hall cut the lead to three. Bryant closed out the second quarter with two free throws and a basket to lead the Lady Devil's comeback and give McDowell a 21-20 lead at half time.

Six quick points by McDowell at the start of the third period put the Lady Devils up 27-21. Prestonsburg took a four point lead after outscoring McDowell 12-2 in the final two minutes of the third period.

Trailing 37-33, Bryant missed an uncontested lay up that seemed to switch the momentum of the final quarter over to the Lady Blackcats, as

Likens Leads Flash Past Wayland In Section One Title Game, 64-34

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

When visitors walk into the hallway of Martin Elementary, they are immediately aware of a tradition that has been going on for the past four years: winning Section One basketball titles. On the wall there is a sign that says, "The Tradition Continues," and on separate posters are teams from the past with results and players' names that helped create the tradition. Students and coaches are seen wearing purple and gold sun glasses. What's all the hoopla about? The Martin Purple Flash won their fourth straight Section One basketball championship Wednesday by defeating the Wayland Wasps, 64-34, behind the double figure scoring of a trio of players. Hubert Likens had 16 points in leading the Flash, and Glen Floyd and Ronnie Sammons scored 12 apiece.

Sammons had six first period points to help the Flash to a 12-10 lead at the first stop. Jason Martin, who had 19 points in the game, scored eight in the first stanza for Wayland.

An 18-2 run by Martin in the second quarter opened the gate for the Purple Flash to take a 30-12 half time advantage. Martin put the game away in the third period when Likens canned 12 points in the quarter to push the lead to 53-24.

Both teams played their benches in the fourth quarter, with Martin's Toby Robinson getting five points in the period.

By winning the tournament, Martin improves its record to 18-1 on the season and will play against the runner-up of Section Two. Wayland will advance also and will go against the winner of Section Two.

The Wayland cheerleaders took the first place trophy in the sectional. Second place went to the Martin cheerleaders. Maytown won the team free throw trophy and Garrett captured the sportsmanship award. Each player on the winners and runner-up teams received individual trophies.

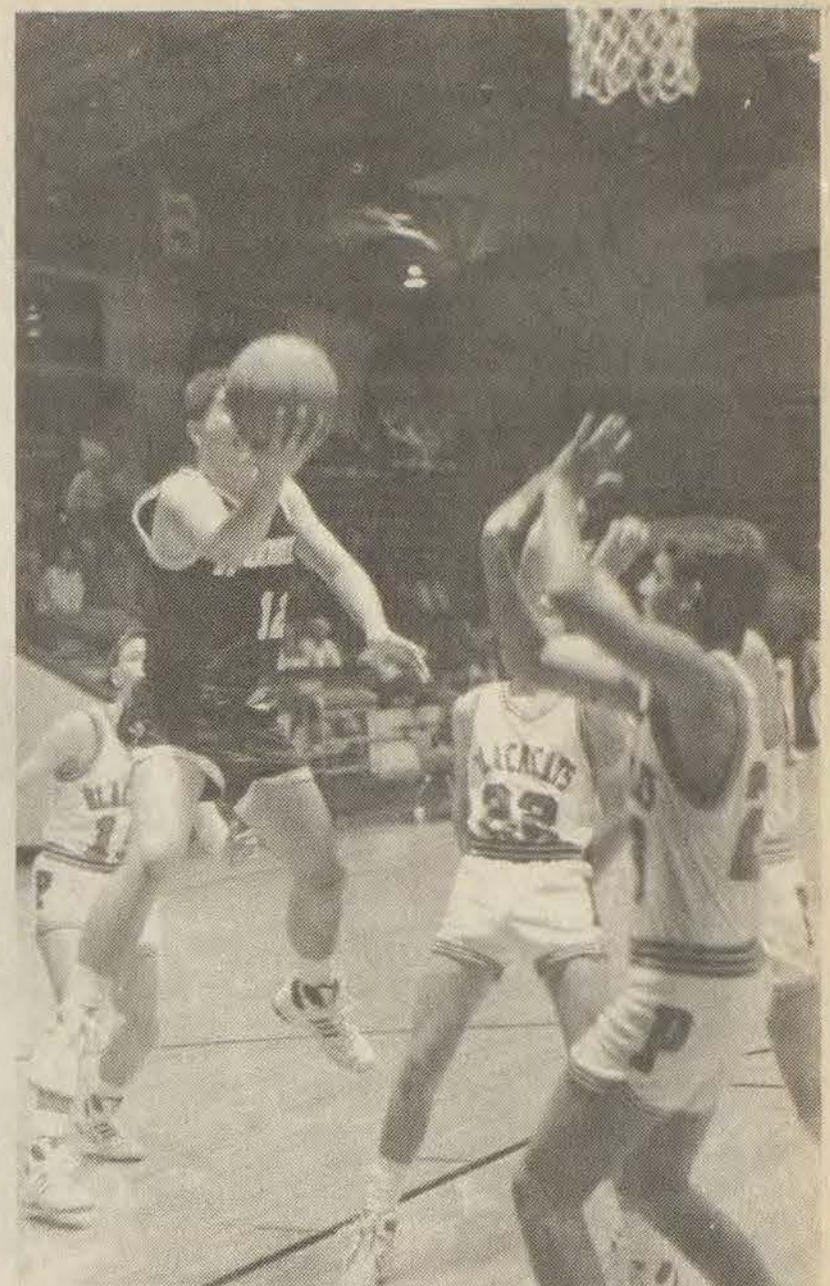

Wayland (34) — Jason Martin, 19; Todd Hansford, 2; Donnie Combs, 3; Patrick Craft, 5; Wesley Collins, 1; Lee, 2.

Martin (64) — Glen Floyd, 12; Byron Gearheart, 6; Hubert Likens, 16; Kelly Stephens, 4; Ronnie Sammons, 12; Charlie Wade, 2; Toby Robinson, 5; Shawn Howard, 2; Kevin Stumbo, 2; Brian Conn, 1.

A. Sparkman and Slone led the Lady Wasps with nine points each. Jamie Fultz and Amy Crisp each scored five points.

Maytown Wildcats v. Wayland Wasps

Trojans Open With Win

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Good things are expected of Coach Monroe Jones' Wheelwright Trojan basketball team this year, and his squad didn't show any reason why that expectation should be any less.

The Trojans withstood a 36-point performance by Wildcat freshman Brian Johnson to defeat Dorton 71-66 in their season opener.

Sophomore Harold Johnson led the Trojans in scoring with 19 points. Senior Brad Compton tossed in 14 points while sophomore Paul Hall added 11.

Wheelwright opened up a 10 point lead at the first stop, 17-7, and went to the locker room with a halftime 33-22 lead.

Johnson, who many say will become a high school standout, put on a show for the Trojan crowd.

"He is a tremendous basketball player," Wheelwright principal Lonnie Slone stated. "By the time he is a senior, he will be a good one."

Johnson wasn't enough as the Trojans kept the rest of the Wildcats in check. Dorton cut off six of Wheelwright's 11-point lead in the third period by outscoring the Trojans 20-14. Both teams scored 24 points in the fourth period, and Wheelwright came away with a 71-66 win. The Trojans are 1-0 on the young season, and will take part in the Elkhorn City Cougar Classic tonight against Phelps.

Floyd Leads Lady Flash To Sixth Straight Crown

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

For the sixth straight year, the Martin Lady Purple Flash are champions of Section One grade school basketball, earned this year with a 65-45 victory over the Lady Wildcats of Maytown.

The Martin team, coached by Doug Derossett, has also won the county title the last five years. The Lady Flash will defend their county crown as tourney action gets underway Monday evening at Betsy Layne.

Kristel Floyd tallied 19 points in leading her team in scoring against Maytown in the sectional tournament. Jenny Robinson added 13 point for the victorious Lady Flash. Marsha Brown led the Lady Wildcats with 27 points.

Brown's free throw shooting in the first quarter kept Maytown close, as the 4'7" eighth grader scored eight first quarter points to trail by one, 11-10.

Martin's defense tightened up on Brown in the second stanza, as she was held scoreless. Martin took an 11-point lead to the dressing room at the half, 28-17, behind the scoring of Floyd, who had six second period points.

For Maytown in the third period, Brown found the range again and tossed in 12 points. However, the scoring of Floyd and Jenny Robinson led the charge for Martin as they kept their lead intact at 42-33.

Robinson and Floyd combined for 13 fourth quarter points as the Lady Flash opened up a big lead by scoring 23 final quarter points against 12 for Maytown. Floyd had six points in the stanza and Robinson added seven.

Allen Central Hosts Blackcats In Rebels' Homecoming Tonight

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Tonight will be a special night for the alumni of Allen Central as the school will host its annual homecoming festivities and welcome former Rebel students to the special events.

Some lucky lady will be crowned homecoming queen for 1989-90 and the former queen will relinquish her crown for another to wear. However, the real action will take place on the hardwood as two of the region's top teams will square off for a good game of round ball at the Allen Central Fieldhouse.

"It will be a tough game for us," Rebel coach Johnny Martin said. "Prestonsburg will be playing well and playing with confidence. That is where experience comes in from last year's state tournament team. Really, they are playing as good as last year's team."

"Kevin is going have to play hard in the middle against Rick Smith and not be leaning on people," coach Gordon Parido said of the Blackcats' upcoming meeting with the Rebels. "Allen Central is an excellent team and we are not mentally ready to play them yet. We're not a great team, but a good, balanced team."

Parido said he is concerned about his team's free throw shooting problems displayed in the first two games of the season.

"I told our players that one day we will get beat because of our free throw shooting. I've seen it coming on for the past three years. It's a mental thing and it will cost us some close games," Parido noted.

Martin, meanwhile, is apprehensive about his team's tendency to play in spurts.

"We're a streak team," the Rebel mentor said. "We'll play good for three or four minutes and then go cold."

The boy's game was scheduled to be played first at 6:30 p.m. but, according to Martin, the girl's game will be played first and is scheduled to start at 6 p.m. Homecoming festivities will be held between the two games, with the boy's game to start following homecoming events. Martin also announced that the scheduled game with Paintsville for Tuesday night has been postponed until sometime in February.

Slone went on a personal mission and scored 12 points in the final four minutes of the game. McDowell could come no closer than three points, 44-41, as Prestonsburg went back on top 49-41 as time ran out.

McDowell attempted 34 free throws and connected on 11. Prestonsburg shot from the free throw line 36 times and made 16. Prestonsburg is 2-1 overall and goes to 1-0 in the conference race. McDowell's record evens at 2-2 and 0-1 in the conference.

Amy Reed added eight points in the game of Prestonsburg. For McDowell, Crawford had 13 points as the only other double figure scorer.

WHS Tangles With Hornets In Tonight's Cougar Classic

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

"This season could be a very interesting," says Phelps basketball coach Clay Campbell, whose team will face the Wheelwright Trojans of coach Monroe Jones tonight in the Elkhorn City Cougar Classic in a 6:30 p.m. start.

team with only one full time starter back, along with four others who split playing time last season," he continued.

Phelps, winner of only two games last year (one by forfeit and the other in double overtime), will play a more up-tempo game and will be trapping on defense.

is expected to lead this year's Hornet team.

"Robbie should provide a big part of the leadership our team needs this year," Campbell said. "He is one of the most dedicated players you'll find."

How much Michael Ray Charles can contribute to this year's Hornet squad will depend how quickly he heals from a shoulder injury. Campbell says that Charles is the best pure shooter on the team.

Campbell said at the Class A tournament meeting that his team has a motto of "more than two" as his team enters this year's schedule.

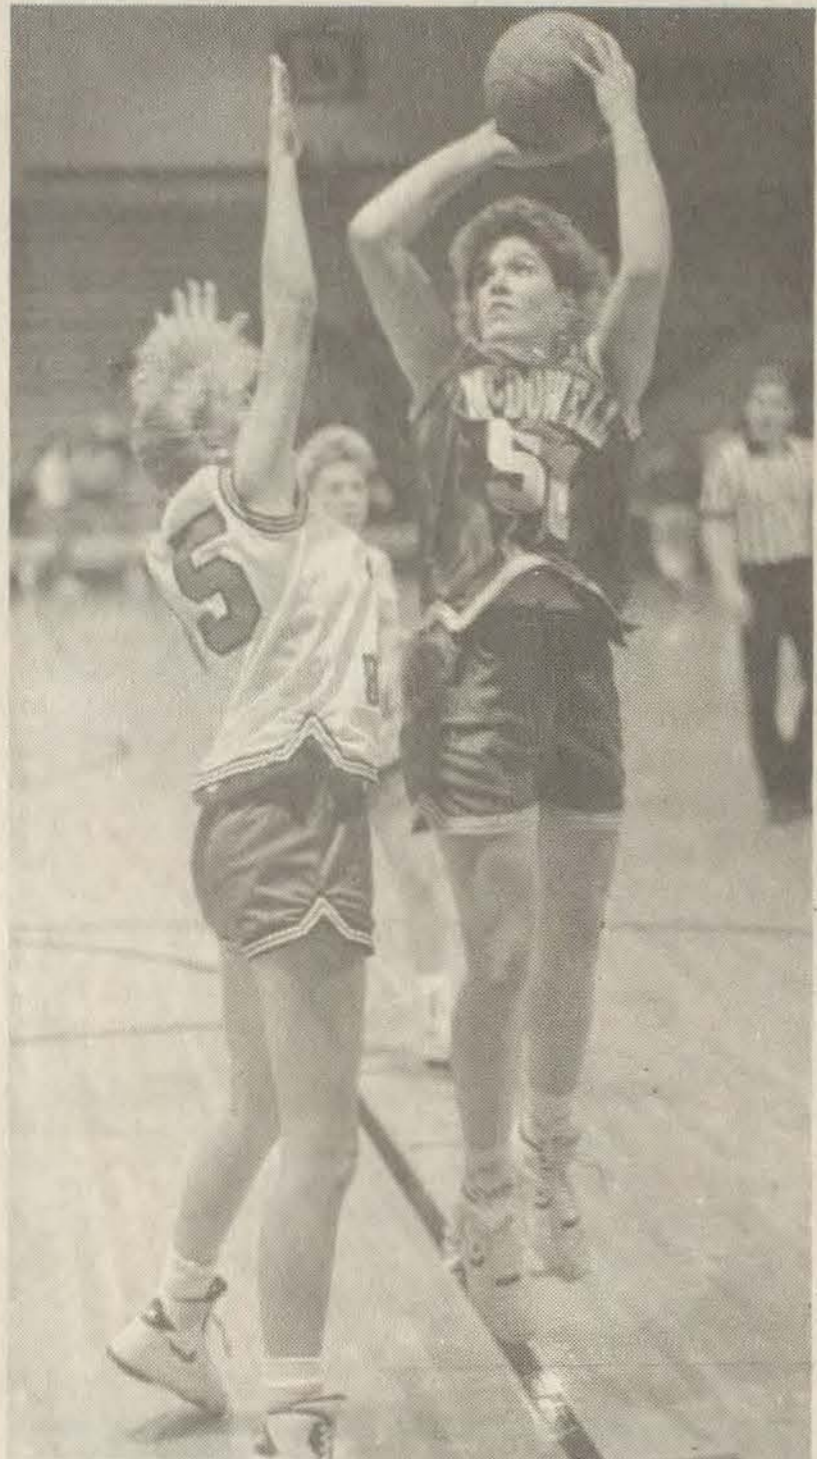

Monroe Jones, Trojan coach, says that his team will not take the Hornets lightly.

said when reminded of the statement Campbell made at the meeting. "He was just saying that Phelps will have a good team."

Jones returns a talented Trojan team led by 6' 5" Brad Compton. Experience will be a big plus. Bobby Hood along with senior Chad Hall and sophomore Harold Johnson add fuel to a potent Trojan squad.

Compton tossed in 14 points against Dorton in the team's opening game Tuesday night. A pleasant surprise for the Trojans was Johnson, who netted 19 points for Wheelwright in its initial win over Dorton.

Dorton will face a good Elkhorn City Cougar team in the second game tonight, with the championship scheduled for Saturday evening at 8 p.m.

Two Stars

Two of the county's top girl's basketball players go against each other during a conference match up Tuesday night at Prestonsburg. Lori Bryant (51) of McDowell shoots over Kathy Slone (15) of Prestonsburg. Prestonsburg won the game, 50-43, behind Slone's 26 points. Bryant had 18 points in the game.

Lady Bobcats In Sectional Title Game

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The Betsy Layne Elementary Lady Bobcats accomplished something that no other Lady Bobcat team has done, and that is win a sectional game.

"No one can remember when the Betsy Layne girls team ever won a sectional game," first year coach Shelia Ortega remarked. Ortega's squad ran its record to 12-6 with a 42-35 win over the Lady Red Devils of Harold.

Jamie Ratcliff tossed in 16 points as the Lady Cats advance to the finals of the Section Three tournament. Misty Clark added 12 points to the win, and Amanda Eplin tossed in 11.

"Amanda played the best she has played all season," Ortega explained. "She must have made every shot she took. It was a season high for her."

With three minutes to go in the game, Harold had a four point lead. Betsy Layne came back to tie the game at 35-35. With 40 seconds to go, Clark stole the ball and laid it in to give the Lady Bobcats the lead. Clark scored two more baskets to give Betsy Layne a 42-35 win over Harold.

"I don't know anything about basketball, but Coach Tackett has helped us so much," Ortega said. "He would practice his team two to three hours a day and then stay and explain things to us."

Jessica Hamilton scored 16 points in the game to lead the Lady Red Devils. Della Flannery, Heather Keathley and Kelly Stanley each added six points.

For Betsy Layne, Becky Kidd unofficially had 15 rebounds in the game.

Betsy Layne (42) — Becky Kidd, 3; Amanda Eplin, 11; Jamie Ratcliff, 16; Erin Baker, 0; Misty Clark, 12.

Glance At Clock Costs Betsy Layne Title Game In 49-47 Loss To Harold

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

"The game lived up to its expectations. It was all that everyone thought it would be," Betsy Layne coach Ernie Tackett said in describing his team's 49-47 setback at the hands of the Harold Red Devils. "It was a top game."

The final outcome was decided when, with 11 seconds to go, the score tied at 47-47 and Betsy Layne with the ball, Keith Hamilton turned to glance at the clock and had the ball stolen. The lay up was missed, but a follow through basket at the buzzer eliminated the Bobcats from the sectional tournament.

"I went home and replayed that game over and over in my mind," Tackett said. "It was really my own fault. I called time out to set up a last second shot and should have had someone else watching the time on the clock."

Brian Hunter scored 17 points in leading the Red Devils to the championship round tonight against the John M. Stumbo Mustangs. Barry Clark tossed in 14 points in the win.

"Hunter hurt us on the offensive boards," Tackett stated. "He had several put backs on us."

After trailing by six at half time, Betsy Layne took a two point, 39-37, lead at the end of the third period.

"I can't fault the effort our players put forth in the game," the Bobcats mentor said of his team. "They played an outstanding game and a good defensive game. Vince Williams only scored two points but he did an absolutely great defensive job on Barry Clark. Dave Kimbler played a good game with five rebounds and the help he gave on Clark.

"I saw our kids improve so much during the season and I told them they have laid a foundation for a good strong program to be built on," said Tackett. "Some of the players have good futures ahead of them."

Keith Hamilton led the Bobcats with 17 points and Ryan Ortega added 13. Kimbler tossed in six to go with his five rebounds.

Betsy Layne (47) — Ryan Ortega, 13; Vince Williams, 2; Keith Hamilton, 18; Dave Kimbler, 6; Chris Hunt, 4; James Robinette, 4.

Harold (49) — Chris Potter, 8; Brian Hunter, 17; Greg Hunter, 6; Barry Clark, 14; Mike Newman, 2; Brandon Hall, 2.

Section One Runner-Up

The Maytown Lady Wildcats placed second in the finals of the Section One basketball tournament Wednesday night at Martin. The Lady Wildcats will advance to the county championship tournament next week at Betsy Layne.

W. P'burg Family Reunited After 17 Years

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

After 17 years, mother, daughter and brother have been reunited in West Prestonsburg.

Teresa Ann Cable, 22, walked up to a house in West Prestonsburg four weeks ago and knocked on the door. A slim, elderly woman answered and Cable said, "I need your help. I'm looking for Myrtle Cable." The older woman replied, "Well, you found her."

"We both broke down crying," said Teresa Cable. "We knew who each other was."

Teresa's discovery of her mother and her brother Junior Tackett marked the end of a long, painful search for her family roots. In 1972, Teresa and her sister Cathy Marie were placed in a foster home in Prestonsburg because of financial troubles and sickness within the Cable family. Teresa was five at the time, her sister seven.

"My sister and I were split in our foster home after about a year," said Teresa. "We were fighting, I guess, so they took us apart. I got adopted not long after and was taken to Lexington."

Teresa always knew her natural family lived in Eastern Kentucky, but her foster parents and social agencies wouldn't give her any information about them.

"As I got older, I wanted more and more to find my real family," said Teresa. "Social services people and others lied to me. They said my father was in prison and my mother was in a home for battered women. They wouldn't release information to me and asked if I knew the Social Security numbers of my family. How could I? I was only five years old when I left."

In autumn of this year, Teresa took matters into her own hands, driving around the area, hoping to jog her memory about where she used to live. Since she now lives at Lambert, in Breathitt County, she was able to reach Floyd County frequently to conduct her search.

Friends told her to check with the Prestonsburg post office. Teresa, from her childhood memories, knew her mother's first name was Myrtle, and from her other searches believed her last name was Caleb. When she asked the post office worker if a person by that name lived in the area, the worker said, "You must mean Myrtle Cable." The address she received led her to her mother.

In the last weeks, the Cables have spent time together, catching up on the past. Junior Tackett, Teresa's brother, also lives in Prestonsburg and shared in the reunion.

"Teresa spent four days with us," said Myrtle Cable. "I was real proud to have her here with us. I hope she can move closer to us sometime soon."

Since the reunion, the Cables have taken up the effort to find Cathy Marie Cable, who is still missing. Spurring the search is Teresa's belief that she once met her lost sister in Lexington.

"In 1985, when I was in Tates Creek High School, I saw a girl that looked just like I remembered Cathy," said Teresa. "I went up to her and asked her what her name was. She said it was Cathy. When I told her I was adopted, she hushed up and didn't want to talk. I think it might have been my sister."

The family has written a letter to Frankfort requesting information about Cathy, but help hasn't been forthcoming. They hope for another miraculous coincidence to bring the last missing member of the family home to them.

"If I could only find Cathy Marie," says Myrtle Cable, "everything would be perfect."

Teresa and her brother agree. "I want her to know we're looking for her, too," said Teresa. "We want to make it easier for her than it was for me."

Together Again!

Junior Tackett, left, Teresa Ann Cable, center, and Myrtle Cable, right, stand reunited in West Prestonsburg, near Tackett's and Myrtle Cable's homes. On November 15, after 17 years of separation, the family was reunited, when Teresa discovered her mother Myrtle's address at the Prestonsburg post office, after a long search. The family is now seeking Cathy Marie Cable, a second daughter, now 24, who was also separated from the Prestonsburg family in 1972.

Floyd County Families: Our Heritage

Subject: Abraham and Nancy Music

I was there in your area at Labor Day, but couldn't find much information. The family I am researching is Abraham Music and his wife Nancy. In the marriage bond book it shows: Abraham Music at age 54, married the 2nd time to Nancy Pruitt, age 27, on July 6, 1871. This was Nancy's second marriage also. I have reason to believe her maiden name was Jones, and Pruitt was the name of her 1st husband. Abraham's first wife was named Delila. The children of Abraham and Nancy were Adaline who married a Robinson, Lin who married a Hall, Ruan who married Linza Goble, William, not sure who he married, Margaret (my Great Grandmother) who married James Elliott Akers.

Abraham was born in Washington Co., Va. Any help on this Music family would be greatly appreciated. Send to: Janice Patrick Lowder, 307 S. Silver, Mustang, Ok. 73064.

the Coldwater Fork of Rockcastle Creek, containing 100 acres, more or less.

It proceeds to describe the boundaries and give details of the property.

Robert purchased many pieces of property in Johnson County from 1847 thru 1867. Some are recorded as follows:

The 1850 Floyd County census shows Robert and Susan, living at Lot #108 with 10 children.

The next reference found of them is in the 1860 census of Johnson Co. # Justice, Rowe Wed In Ceremony In Pikeville Kelly Michelle Justice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Justice, and David Rowe Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Rowe Sr., were united in marriage at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, July 29, in the Immanuel Baptist Church, Pikeville.

The bride is the granddaughter of Lillis Conn of Harold and the late Martha Justice of Pikeville.

The Rev. E.W. Damron performed the double-ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with brass candelabra accented with mauve silk bows, flowers, greenery, Boston ferns and magnolia blossoms and leaves. The aisle runner was marked by two white wicker baskets with flowers carrying out the bride's colors. Ferns in brass holders were also on each side of the altar. The family pews were marked by mauve silk ribbon and silk magnolia blossoms and leaves. The window sills were decorated with magnolia leaves and candles. The balcony and stairway were decorated with mauve silk bows, magnolia leaves and silk magnolia blossoms. Gwin Daniels of Gwin's Floral Boutique, Mullins Addition, decorated the church and fellowship hall.

Nuptial music was provided by Misty Daniels at a baby grand piano. She sang, "Eternal Flame," "I'll Always Love You" and "Lost in Your Eyes." Daniels, accompanied by Mike Flanary, sang "Always" during the lighting of the unity candle by the bride and groom.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She was dressed in a floor length mermaid sheath bridal gown by Venus. The gown of white satin and crystal organza was accented with a heavily beaded bodice of pearls, sequins and rhinestones, that plunged into a deep V back and cascaded into a brush train. The gown had butterfly cap sleeves and a bateau neckline with matching arm mitts, covered with sparkling sequin trim and pearls. The molded draped bodice was also frosted in jeweled pearls and sequins. Her headpiece was a three tier fingertip Marionette bridal veil with pouf trimmed in pearls and jeweled silk flowers and outlined in pearls and covered with sequins. She carried a lighted bouquet of silk white roses, stephanotis, white orchids and baby's breath accented with tiny white miniature lights, satin and lace ribbons and cascading pearls. Michelle Stratton served as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Sheila Wallen, Michelle Case, Terina Hall, Donna Lambert and Nancy Rowe, sisters of the groom. They wore tea-length gowns of mauve silk, cerise satin accented with large matching bows and a rosette in the center of the bow on the back. Their headpieces consisted of combs with silk mauve ribbons accented with pearls, rhinestones, silver roses and baby's breath. They carried longstem mauve roses, silk ferns and matching mauve and silver ribbons.

Dena Ruth Hamilton, daughter of Diann and Gary Hamilton, served as the flower girl. She wore a matching mauve rose, cerise satin dress with satin trim and lace petticoat. She carried a white wicker basket trimmed with white lace and mauve silk ribbons and silk roses. She wore a headband of silk flowers accented with lace and mauve ribbons.

The father of the bride was dressed in a full dress black Pierre Cardin tuxedo with matching black cummerbund and bow tie. He wore one white and one mauve silk miniature rose with baby's breath as a boutonniere. The groom was attired in a matching tuxedo with a boutonniere consisting of three white silk miniature roses with baby's breath and greenery.

Dave Thomas performed the duties of best man, while Steve Newsome, Robert Newsome, Charlie Bowling, Jeff Newsome and Edgel Rowe, brother of the groom, served as groomsmen. They were all attired in Dynasty silver gray tuxedos with matching cummerbunds and bow ties. Each wore a single mauve silk rose with baby's breath.

Zac Childers, son of Jan and Dave Childers, was the ring bearer. He was dressed in a tuxedo matching the groom's. He also wore a single white silk rose and carried the traditional silk pillow, accented with lace and mauve silk ribbons and roses.

The mother of the bride chose a tea-length dress of rose chillion and satin with matching accessories. Mrs. Conn, the bride's grandmother, chose a silk rose, street-length dress with matching accessories. The mother of the groom wore a tea-length dress of rose satin and matching accessories. All three wore corsages of silk roses accented with baby's breath and lace and silk ribbons.

The wedding was directed by Peggy Parker and Gwin Daniels. Rachel Meade and Rebecca Adams, cousins of the bride, registered the guests. Mike Davis of Olan Mills was the photographer for the wedding and both receptions.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was decorated with white lace table linens, accented with satin iridescent bows and silver candelabra. The three tier wedding cake, baked by Rita Fields, featured the traditional bride and groom cake top with tiny white miniature lights, lace and mauve silk roses. The cake was covered with lace and pearls and mauve silk roses and tiny iridescent doves and bows.

The reception aides were Rita Fields, Irene May, Teddie Hamilton, Scharline Hamilton, Peggy Parker, Marvella Ray, Betty Adams and Flo Adams, aunts of the bride.

The bride and groom were also presented with an informal reception by the pool at the home of the bride's parents. The informal reception consisted of the wedding party, relatives and personal close friends. This reception included the traditional champagne toast, dinner and after dinner music. It was catered by the bride's two aunts, Flo Adams of Pikeville and Betty Adams of Marietta, Miss.

Following a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C., the new Mr. and Mrs. David Rowe Jr. are residing in Pikeville.

State's Role In Acid Rain Debate

by Toby H. Weingarten,
WHS Student Writer

The coal in Eastern Kentucky is causing one of the worst environmental problems facing the U.S.A. and Canada today. It is called acid rain. The coal which forms the life-blood of the area has a high sulfur content and it is the sulfur that makes acid rain. Every time coal is burned to make electricity or to warm a home, a little bit of sulfur enters the air, just waiting to make acid rain.

Acid rain is produced when high sulfur coal is burned. This variety burns better than an average piece of coal. This is why it is used more often. When the coal is burned, the sulfur compounds in it are released into the air. The compounds will eventually find their way to a cloud, where they mix with the water there and change the rain's acidity. Normal rain should have an acidity of about 5.5pH or higher, but the sulfur compounds change it to a level of 2.5pH. That is as acidic as vinegar or lemon juice! When the rain enters the water cycle, plants weaken and die. The fish take in the poisons and either die immediately or pass on deformities to their offspring. Larger animals such as hawks eat the fish and the same problems that occurred in fish happen in them. Soon all the wildlife will be dead.

Special dampers and filters can cut down on the amounts of sulfur compounds that enter the air, but not every power plant or home uses them. Conserving energy will cut down on the amount of coal burned. Alternate forms of energy will also slow down the use of the depleting coal supply. This is the most promising answer because if coal production isn't slowed soon, all of this resource will be depleted within a few decades.

A precarious balance exists between the coal and the environment. Many people depend on the coal to survive. If the coal wasn't mined then the acid rain would no longer fall, but miners and other coal operators would be out of work. If coal production increases as much as predicted, acid rain would fall at an even greater rate and almost all animal and plant life in the area would be dead. Should coal production be slowed down to protect the wildlife or is money more important than everything?

HOROSCOPE

December 10 through December 16

By C.C. Clark

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)

Listen to and be reunited with those whom you respect and love. Be patient about changes, be thorough in your research, and don't act on angry impulses.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)

Stick with your allies, and act wisely around opponents. Recognize the support around you, and keep a sense of humor about upsetting or tense situations.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)

This is a good week for you to let go and drift happily. Practice your art and pay close attention to influential women. Follow your desires.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)

Control moodiness and anxiety-ridden speculation. People think more of you than you may know or realize. Retain your composure and poise.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)

A sudden burst of energy helps you do several tasks that you have been procrastinating about. A man in a powerful position will demand you stay in line.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)

You can overcome money dangers and avoid risky ventures by listening to your instincts. It will be necessary for you to roll with the punches in order to survive.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)

Someone close to you attempts to put you down. Don't let it happen; turn it into something positive. A friend with some important information helps you in business.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)

Use some time alone to restructure your priorities and make amends about certain activities. A book changes your mind about something you have been adamant about.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)

A hard schedule pulls you together. A friend may ask you to go on a special outing. It is important that you go to show them how much you enjoy their company.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)

Discussing your problems with someone close will help relieve some of the tension you have been feeling. You will need extra rest this week to avoid becoming ill.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)

Stay busy to more fully benefit from time off. Be sensible in work and family. Good fortune comes with dedication. Laugh a lot about defeats as well as victories.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)

There is great potential for enjoyment and fortune if you keep to your regular hard schedule. Enjoy talking to someone you like, and rise above misunderstandings.

TV PIPELINE

Ted Danson likes comedy role, but prefers feature films

By Polly Vonetes
Q: I am interested in knowing more about Ted Danson of Cheers. Is comedy his main interest? —Bonnie Fitzmorris, Newport, N.C.
A: The son of an archaeologist, Ted Danson grew up with Hopi and Navajo friends in red rock country outside Flagstaff, Ariz., and never gave a thought to show business. After graduating from Connecticut's Kent School, he attended Stanford University, discovered drama and transferred to Carnegie Tech to focus on that field. He and wife Casey Coates, an environmental designer, are the parents of two daughters. Comedy is not his main interest. His sights are set on a theatrical film career and he sees himself as a leading man. Write to him c/o Cheers, Paramount Pictures, 5555 Melrose Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. 90038.

A: The little blond boy you remember was named Darby Hinton, born on Aug. 19, 1957. There are no other acting credits listed for him since the series ended in 1970. He made his acting debut at the age of six months in a Playhouse 90 production and guest starred in an assortment of juvenile roles during the early 1960s. He appeared in over 30 feature films which include: The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm, Nightmare in the Sun and Teddy Bears. A direct descendant of the real frontier pioneer, Daniel Boone, Darby's godmother is Mrs. Charlton Heston and his godfather is Winthrop Paul Rockefeller. As far as I can determine the series is not currently in re-runs.

Q: My friend and I have a bet on which was the first James Bond movie. I believe it was Dr. No. He says it is Goldfinger. Could you please give us information on the first film? —Roy Asta, Anchorage, Alaska

A: Collect your bet, Roy, you are the winner! Sean Connery's film career was at a standstill when in 1962 he was chosen to portray the screen incarnation of James Bond, the secret-agent hero of Ian Fleming's novels. He leaped to sudden fame in the first of the Bond films, Dr. No, released in 1962. Goldfinger was released two years later.

Q: I was wondering if you could tell me what ever happened to the little blond boy who played Israel on the Daniel Boone series? How old is he now? When I was a little girl I never missed the
