State To Ask: 'Who Buys Votes In Floyd County?'

by Frank Clark
Staff Writer

A team from the special prosecutions branch of the state Attorney General's Office will conduct an investigation into allegations of election fraud and vote buying in Floyd County in the coming months, according to Assistant Attorney General Jeff Mackin.

At the request of the 1989 Floyd County Grand Jury, the team or teams from the state will examine evidence that may link county officials with the alleged misuse of county funds in past vote buying and other illegal election activities.

According to Jury Foreman Gorman Collins Jr., former magistrate candidate for District 1, county residents have notified him of road paving and graveling activities being performed by the county on private property, for the alleged purpose of obtaining votes. Collins claims to have witnessed such activities personally, allegedly taking photos of county workers operating on private property. The state investigative team will address these and other claims of public malfeasance.

"These allegations have been made and will be looked into," said Mackin, the person in charge of special prosecution for the state. "From the past elections in November, we have pending or ongoing investigations in about 50 counties. We'll begin investigations in Floyd County as soon as we are able."

Action which could be taken by the special prosecutor, regarding charges of vote fraud and illegal election activity, varies depending on the circumstances of the case.

"Kentucky has statutes which deal with vote buying and malfeasance," said Mackin. "If it's determined that votes were purchased by using county gravel, the Kentucky statute involving bribery may come into play. This is considered a Class D felony, which could result in one to five years in prison for persons found guilty of the crime."

Related to the Grand Jury request for a special prosecutor is the claim by Collins that Commonwealth Attorney Jerry Patton misled the Jury in its attempts to hear witnesses' claims of illegal election activity. A Jury report contended that Patton misled the Jury on its power to subpoena witnesses and attempted to avoid examining the issue of illegal election activities.

Patton responded to the report by saying that Collins' action on the Jury was politically motivated and that the report's allegations were untrue.

"I never made recommendations to influence the Jury," said Patton. "I also didn't try to prevent subpoenas from being issued. I told the Jury that they should have probable cause before bringing a person in on a subpoena, which is normal procedure."

Patton noted that Collins should have removed himself from the jury, because of his personal interest in the election investigation.

"It's not proper for Gorman to sit on a Jury in a case involving himself. The public is entitled to a fairer process," said Patton.

Collins, however, has stated that most of the claims of election fraud which the Jury sought to investigate did not involve the election campaign in which he was a candidate.

"I'm doing this because so many people in the county know this is going on, and it isn't right," said Collins. "Tax money shouldn't be used to buy votes and favor the friends of elected officials."

Assistant Attorney General Mackin believes that an investigation into the matter will begin shortly.

"I'm hopeful that it won't be much longer. Right now we have our irons in a lot of fires."

As of Tuesday afternoon, two calls had been received by the Floyd County Times from county residents claiming knowledge of illegal election activity and vote buying by county officials.

Icy Accident On 23

At about 10:35 a.m. Tuesday on US 23 at the Floyd-Johnson County line, coal truck driver Ezra Wireman, traveling south into Floyd, attempted to slow as a vehicle in front of him turned off the highway. He lost control of his truck on the slippery bridge crossing into the county, according to state police, and began jackknifing. A Ford Pickup containing Chester Coleman, 61, and his wife Marcella Coleman, 56, both of Prestonsburg, struck the sliding truck head on. Auxier and West Van Lear fire departments responded to clear diesel fuel from the highway. Firefighter Jim Nyberge said the fuel had to be removed since it created a slick road surface. The Colemans were transported to Highlands Regional Medical Center, where Chester Coleman was treated and released. Marcella Coleman was admitted for multiple cuts and bruises.

$8 Million Bond Sale To Combine Allen And Left Beaver Projects

by Frank Clark
Staff Writer

In a move designed to save money for Floyd County school construction projects, the school board at a special meeting Monday canceled the selling of bonds for the Allen Elementary school project and immediately reauthorized the sale of $8,065,000 in bonds, combining the Allen sale with the Left Beaver High School project's bond sale.

The stated purpose of combining the two projects into a single bond sale, said Terrell Ross, chairman for the county's investment banking board and president of Ross, Sinclair and Associates, is to utilize an "economies of scale approach" to save money during the bond sale process.

He estimated that, by combining the projects into a single bond sale, set for Dec. 20 in Frankfort, about $15,000 can be saved by the Floyd board. This money, said school superintendent Ron Hager, can then be used in furthering school construction projects around the county.

The decision to combine required that the bond sale authorization of the Allen project for $3.5 million, passed at the Dec. 5 board meeting, be canceled before the new resolution to join the two projects' bond sales could be made. Five percent add-ons for the Prestonsburg Middle School and for the Garrett-Wayland Elementary School are also included in the new $8 million plus figure.

"It's really a matter of saving additional funds," said Hager. "By doing this, we get a better interest bid from corporations that purchase the bonds. These monies can then be turned back into the fund for school construction in Floyd County."

After the resolution for the new bond sale was passed, board member Ray "Shag" Campbell asked if any further action was required to insure that construction begins on the school projects.

"As far as the Board is concerned," replied Ross, "everything has been completed."

Following the meeting, Campbell expressed satisfaction with the proceedings. "I'm more than pleased with the action here, today," said Campbell. "Construction at Allen should begin in January. It's long been needed, as everyone knows, but there was so much red tape to get through."

Hager confirmed that construction on both the Allen and Left Beaver projects should begin next month.

An estimated $7 million will be available for the next construction phase in Floyd County, according to Ross and Hager.

Flood Ordinance Draws P'burg Council Review

Prestonsburg City Council conducted a first reading Monday of an ordinance designed to prevent flood damages within the city, and Mayor Ann Latta summarized the State of the City for 1989.

At the Monday night meeting, council examined an ordinance, based on the recommendations of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, to reduce flood damage in the city of Prestonsburg. The primary purpose of the ordinance is to "protect human life and health" and "to minimize the expenditure of public money for costly flood control projects."

The ordinance places the blame for city flood damage on the cumulative effect of obstructions in the flood plain and by the existence within flood hazard areas of structures inadequately protected from flooding.

The ordinance proposes to restrict and regulate construction within the flood zone, as well as control any construction of barriers which could hazardously divert flood waters.

The detailed, 17-page ordinance also requires that separate files be kept by the city for buildings constructed in the flood plane, said Larry Adams, city fire marshal. Adams also noted that the ordinance requires that the current flood plane be raised three to six feet higher than current levels. This, Adams said, could affect insurance rates in many buildings throughout the city.

The ordinance will be considered further at the next council meeting.

Mayor Latta presented a brief State of the City address to council, noting that 1989 was the first year a $2 million budget was adopted by the city. For the fiscal year, ending on June 30, 1989, the city received $2,013,533 in revenue, finishing the year with a fund balance of $108,770.

A more detailed report will be presented to council at a meeting in January.

In other action, discussion centered on what to do with traffic problems on Jackson Street. An ordinance had been proposed to make the street one way, in order to lessen the danger of accidents.

However, Carlos Neely and his son Charles Neely, both residents in the Jackson Street area, addressed council, saying that the primary cause of accidents in the area involved the parking of cars on state property, in front of the WDOC radio building. The view of drivers pulling out onto KY 1428, said the Neelys, is blocked by parked vehicles, creating the hazard.

After lengthy discussion, council agreed, at the suggestion of councilman William Goebel, to bring up the problem with Gorman Collins, the owner of the building, in order to develop a solution. A motion was passed to send City Administrator Fred James and a city policeman to discuss the situation with Collins.

Mayor Latta summarized the Sunday meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Job Creation Authority, noting that she had been elected treasurer of the organizational committee (see related story p. 1). Latta also noted that a swearing-in for the newly elected city council would be held at 6 p.m. on Jan. 1.

In final action, the council recognized the contribution of council member Adrian Blackburn, who is leaving office at the end of the year. Blackburn was cited by the council for his years of service and leadership within the city.

Present at Monday night's meeting were Mayor Latta, and councilmembers Blackburn, Goebel, Callihan, Hale, Hamilton, and Vance.

Morning Fire Destroys Lackey Antique Mall

A Saturday morning fire destroyed the Lackey Antique Mall, scrambling 16 firefighters and three trucks to fight the out of control blaze.

Firefighters were called at 2:05 a.m. Saturday. Cans of paint and paint thinner exploded as attempts were made to contain the fire, hindering efforts, according to Garrett firefighter Terry Triplett. Cans of the flammable liquid exploded and shot out across the road, and the fire quickly encompassed the entire building, he added.

"The fire was visible for several miles," said Triplett. "Firefighters remained on the scene for three hours. It really was a pretty big fire."

Cause of the fire is unknown, though the building did contain an open heater which was located close to the flammable paint thinner and paint, said Triplett.

Assistant Chief Rodney Robinson suffered pulled shoulder muscles when moving a fire hose.

EKJCA Holds Meeting; Latta Elected Treasurer

Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta was selected Sunday as treasurer of the organizing committee for the new East Kentucky Job Creation Authority (EKJCA), as the authority met for the first time to consider organizational issues.

At the committee's initial meeting at the Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg, 49 counties in Eastern Kentucky were invited to participate in the authority, created to diversify the region's economy and stimulate area job creation. The organization was originally proposed by Knott County lawyer Bill Weinberg and Pike County Judge-Executive Paul Patton and has expanded to include most of the 23 counties in the 7th Congressional District.

Discussion at the meeting centered on issues of participation within the EKJCA, methods of funding the operation and the establishment of an executive committee for the group.

Some committee members suggested that participation be limited to the 31 coal producing counties of Eastern Kentucky or to counties falling in the 7th Congressional District. It was finally decided that participation would be open to all counties defined as Appalachian by the federal Appalachian Regional Commission, though organizers believe that full participation from all the county is not probable.

Questions of funding the authority were also raised by Floyd County Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo. The committee agreed to require counties to provide 50 cents per person to fund authority activities, as well as solicit Mollette was shot five times with a .38-caliber handgun. The case is under investigation by state police, the Johnson County Sheriffs Department, and Paintsville police. Bowens is being held in the Johnson County Jail.

School For Dyslexics In Eastern Kentucky

HINDMAN—The Hindman Settlement School plans to break ground Saturday on a 14 classroom school for dyslexic children. The Settlement School will convert an old library for the new school, at an expected cost of $300,000, accommodating between 20 to 25 students. First through eighth grade students will be served in the new facility, and an annual tuition of $2,500 to $3,000 will be charged. This cost may be defrayed by school tax dollars, according to Settlement School Director Michael Mullins. Dyslexia, a learning disability which effects an individual's perception, is believed to impact about 15 percent of the US population, to some degree. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

HEAP Checks Are Coming

FRANKFORT—The Home Energy Assistance Program's heating checks for low income Kentucky households will be mailed within two weeks, according to state officials. The federal program will serve approximately 53,000 families in the state, paying utility companies and other energy suppliers for outstanding home heating bills. Payments are made through two-party checks, and cannot be cashed by individuals, according to the Cabinet for Human Resources' report.

Coal Operator Sues OSM

ASHLAND—Coal operator Thomas Belville of Ashland has filed suit against the US Office of Surface Mining, alleging that the agency is not performing its job. Belville claims that OSM has left his company, Belville Mining, in limbo for seven years, by refusing to determine if mineral rights the company holds will allow for the mining of 5,440 acres within the Wayne National Forest, outside of Ironton, Ohio. Said a representative of Belville: "If you're going to be a government, you have to let people know what the rules are." Belville stated that failure to get permission to mine the land could mean the layoff of 150 workers next year. (Louisville Courier-Journal)

Pike Resident Robbed

PIKE COUNTY—A Ferrells Creek man was robbed early Monday morning, when two men forced their way into his house and stole an undetermined amount of money. George Ratliff, 68, of Ferrells Creek, had two men forcefully enter his house at about 1:15 a.m. on Monday. No description of the men was reported by the state police and the incident is under investigation by state police Det. Donny Jack Phipp.

KSP Urges 'Tie One On,' Not For Drunk Drivers

The holiday period from Thanksgiving through New Year's is seeing major emphasis on drinking and driving enforcement and encouragement of safety belt use, according to Kentucky State Police.

The campaign against drinking and driving began on Dec. 6 when "Tie One On—Against Drunk Driving" was kicked off by Gov. Wallace Wilkinson and Justice Secretary W. Michael Troop. Red ribbons are to be distributed in communities statewide and people encouraged to tie them on their automobile side view mirrors to remind everyone to drive sober.

The program coincides with "Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week" Dec. 10-16. As part of the observance, "D" Day on Trafficways, a DUI enforcement effort, was held Dec. 8 nationally.

KSP Post 9, which covers five counties, including Floyd, made 18 DUI arrests during the "D" Day period, 6 p.m., Dec. 8 to 7 a.m., Dec. 9, according to a spokesperson for the Pikeville-based post.

Emphasis on driving drunk increases this time of year because of parties and get-togethers, said Secretary Troop. "Last year, between Thanksgiving and New Year's there were 96 fatalities on Kentucky's roads. Thirty-two, or one-third, were alcohol related."

A breakdown of the holiday period for 1988 shows that of eight persons who died during the Christmas period, four were involved in alcohol related crashes and five were not wear safety belts. Three of these were thrown out of their vehicles.

During the New Year's period, five people were killed, one was alcohol related and none was restrained.

Secretary Troop urges Kentuckians to designate drivers during the party season. "If alcohol is served at parties, have one person responsible for driving his or her group home safely," he said.

Troop added that everyone should wear safety belts and reminded parents that children 40 inches tall and under are required to be in federally approved child safety seats.

He also advised persons who see a suspected drunk driver to report the sighting by calling the Action Rap-ID hotline, 1-800-222-5555. The caller, who can remain anonymous, should give a description of the vehicle, the direction last headed and a license number if possible.

I don't know whether there're that many things out and about that bother you that much. I guess it depends on the individual and his or her interests and what things bug them.

As for me, here's a subject or two that start my blood pressure going up.

Pay raises for Congress. I see no justification in awarding the people we vote in a big fat pay raise, when they're not doing the job we put them in for.

Right now, this country is in the deepest debt it's ever been in, and most of this is due to our lawmakers in Washington. Now, to get us out of the hole, drastic cuts will have to be made in a lot of programs. The very same folks who had the guts to get us in debt don't have the guts to tighten the belt and get us out.

Now, they're saying we need more money. From what I understand some of the extra cash would be used to cover expenses of having to keep a residence in Washington while still keeping one at home.

I'd like to suggest Congress pass a special bill to build a number of apartment complexes to house them. Let the taxpayer foot the bill.

And let each elected Senator or House member have one medium-sized car for use during their term. That takes care of the limos. Give them a budget for postage, a budget for traveling around the districts they serve, and each quarter let their constituents see how closely to the budget they've stayed.

If your blood begins to gurgle a little when you hear a Congressman ask for more money, let him or her know about it. All you have to say is 'no raise today!'

Incidentally, if you look at our representatives in the Senate, Ford voted for the pay raise, McConnell voted no.

Weeks back, I wrote something about the lack of public offices being open Saturdays for the general public. Floyd County's Circuit Clerk Frank DeRossett has corrected me, at least as far as his office is concerned. Frank says he opens his office the first Saturday of each month, and by March he hopes to have the Circuit Clerk's office open every Saturday.

May be a good subject for part of his campaign platform????

If my tax dollars and your tax dollars are used to operate something, then that something needs to be available for us at our convenience and not operated of the officeholders' leisure.

In other words, why make the taxpayer take time off work to take care of taxes, etc. Let's open the offices on Saturday, and this goes for municipal operations too.

Just recently, I took my lunch hour to pay city utilities to Prestonsburg. When I got there, guess what? Offices were closed for lunch. I took my check and dropped it in the delivery slot, but what if I had to put down a deposit or had a question? I would have had to wait for lunch hour to be over before I could talk to the proper folks.

If the public wants government offices on Saturday, at least half a day, then they should demand it.

Enough said about that subject, except, what about the banks?

And finally this thought. If defeated Republican Magistrate candidate Gorman Collins Jr. had not served as foreman on the latest dismissed Floyd County Grand Jury, would there have been a planned investigation by the state attorney general's office?

Courtside Comment

Ever notice how things and ideas change when something positive happens. Case in point. The Kentucky basketball situation. This time last year, the program was being buried. It was worthy of the "death penalty" some say. "You just don't know how close the school's basketball program came to being shut down" said others. And on and on. Sports Illustrated even ran a front cover story with a Richie Farmer look alike on the cover. Remember? Don't tell me you forgot!

On the scene comes a 37-year-old by the name of Rick Pitino. From the time he was announced as the new head coach at the University of Kentucky things began to change. Attitudes were different according to Reggie Hanson. It was soon realized that the young man from New York was serious about rebuilding this program back to prominence. Derrick Miller found this out when he was asked not to take part in the first nine practices the Wildcats would hold. One for each class he missed. I like that. Not that Miller had to miss practice, but that Pitino came in and showed how serious he was. Education is important to this coach and so should it be with all coaches. I believe Miller is a more complete ball player this season because of immediate discipline from the coach. Lack of action would have "spoiled the child".

Now, here comes the same people who last winter were calling for the death penalty, saying 'hey, things are not all that bad now.' Here comes the skeptic that says that the program is 10 years away from a comeback, saying 'hey, two at the most.' Even Sports Illustrated has begun to sing a different tune. It used to be "singing the blues in Bluegrass land." Now it is "the Bluegrass isn't so Blue."

Why the change of heart? Sports Illustrated makes their money from the advertisement they sell for their national magazine. In order to sell, you have to have a sizable circulation. That makes sense. Kentucky basketball, and some will not admit it, is big business for the sports magazines around the country. And I am sure that so in Indiana (where a Bobby Knight says there is no "dirty laundry"), Notre Dame, North Carolina, Georgetown, etc. By Sports Illustrated carrying the "dirty laundry" story last winter, can you imagine the number of copies of their magazine they sold. That was a negative story. In the December issue, the same Curry Kirkpatrick that investigated the initial mess, wrote a very positive story on the Bluegrass boys and the Pitino regime. I liked the article. I really did. It will sell more copies. Every publisher likes to boast of their circulation, now the higher ups at Sports Illustrated can do that because of the Kentucky story.

I like the new Kentucky look. I like the run and gun style of basketball that Pitino has brought to Kentucky. I admit, I thought Kentucky was making a mistake in allowing Eddie Sutton to leave. But now I believe it was for the best of the program. I did not like the "pass the ball seven times before you shoot" philosophy of Sutton's. Now after watching Kentucky play under the new system, I dislike it that much more. My brother-in-law Walter Lee, from St. Mary's, Ohio, who is an avid Kentucky fan, is always asking me "what happened to the 100 point games Kentucky used to score?" Now Mr. Lee you know!

Some of the great prophets of our time are predicting a 10 win season for the Wildcats. Others are saying around eight at the most. One caller on the Wildcat call-in show, really went out on the line and predicted a .500 season for the peach fuzz Wildcats. Who knows? Just enjoy the new style and, after all, two more years is not all that long.

A SOBERING THOUGHT FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON

Amid the joy this Christmas season brings there is a horrible story being told that holds a lesson for each and every one of us. In a courthouse outside of Carrollton, survivors of the terrible bus crash that killed twenty-seven people have gathered for the trial of the man accused of hitting their bus while driving under the influence of alcohol. This tragic wreck has thrust drunk and drugged driving to the forefront of domestic issues. This is reflected in the announcement by the Department of Transportation designating December 10-16 as National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week.

In the last decade we have made progress in reducing the number of deaths from drugs and alcohol. For example, the number of intoxicated drivers killed in traffic crashes decreased 22 percent between 1980 and 1988. In spite of this good news the statistics still tell a gruesome story:

* The leading cause of death among children is wrecks caused by drivers who are under the influence of drugs or alcohol;

* Each year more than 25,000 people lose their lives in alcohol-related crashes. This works out to more than 500 deaths each week;

* About 40 percent of all fatal crashes involve an intoxicated driver or pedestrian. In 1988 about 38 percent of all fatally-injured drivers were considered legally intoxicated as defined in most states; and

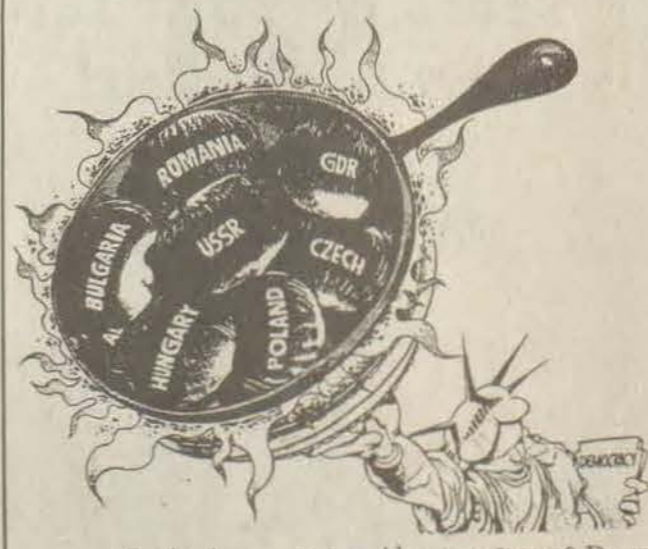

* Between 7 p.m. and 3 a.m. on weekends, 10 percent of all drivers on the road are legally impaired or drunk.

The theme of this year's awareness week is "The Designated Driver, Someone You Can Really Look Up To". The purpose is to stress the importance of choosing a non-drinking driver before a group goes out for the evening. After the event the non-drinking driver is responsible for taking members of the group home.

Over the holiday season as we visit family, friends and relatives, remember that it is just not worth the risk—to you and others—to drink and drive. Police will be especially vigilant so if you are arrested, count on hundreds of dollars in attorney's fees, huge fines and court costs, even jail time.

We can make our roads safe only if each and every one of us will do our part in making sure that drunk or drugged drivers never get behind the wheel of a car. So play it smart, not only through the New Year but all year 'round. If you're going out and plan on having a few drinks, make sure you travel with a designated driver.

Chestnuts roasting on the open fire of Democracy.

Information On Suttons

Dear Editor,
I am researching the genealogy of the SUTTON family and hope someone out there can help me. If anyone has any information on this family, please write to me. I will be happy to share my research with anyone with interest.

John C. Sutton was born in Tennessee circa 1808. He was one of the original settlers in Floyd County on the Right Fork of Beaver Creek where he obtained land through Ky. Land Grant. He married Seatta Hayes (dau. of John Hayes) in 1832 (Seatta born about 1820). John disappeared from public records about 1847. John C. and Seatta had seven children:

- Nancy Jane Sutton m. Nelson Chaffins
- Elizabeth (Bettie) Sutton m. Paul Wright
- Maritta Sutton m. Hamilton Wallen
- William Jefferson Sutton m. Polly Coburn
- Katherine Sutton m. Apperson Hayes
- Preston Sutton m. Margaret Johnson
- Eliza Sutton?

I am a descendant of William Jefferson Sutton but have details on all the other children. My problem is as follows:

I need to learn John C. Sutton's official birthplace and date of birth and who his parents were in order to further trace the Sutton family. If anyone can help me or put me in touch with this information, please write to me.

I also would like to correspond with anyone having information on the Coburn family of the same location and period of time.

Way To Go, Prestonsburg!

Dear Editor,
Prestonsburg was recently recognized as a certified city, a prestigious statewide distinction. This means Prestonsburg leaders are working together to maintain and enhance local quality of life. Further, this means Prestonsburg leaders are taking steps to prepare for the challenges we face as a state — challenges in education, health care, public safety, environmental concerns and more.

The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce sponsors the certified cities program and commends Prestonsburg on its commitment to community and economic development.

We hope Prestonsburg residents will take great pride in this certification and work together to ensure continuous recertification. Congratulations Prestonsburg!

Reader Upset With Governor's Tactics

Dear Editor,
We the people of Community Farm Alliance are very upset with the termination of Don Harker in Frankfort and outraged with the reason for his termination.

New solid waste management regulations have been promised for a year by the Wilkinson Administration. Mr. Harker was fulfilling his responsibility as Division of Waste Management Director in pushing for the implementation of these new regulations. Mr. Harker also supported local solid waste management, and he did not want to issue new permits under the very lax regulations we now have. All of Kentucky should be very concerned about the influence the pollution industry has in Governor Wilkinson's administration.

On October 4 of this year we met with Governor Wilkinson's cabinet secretary and were told that the Governor was putting together an environmental package. Governor, if this is your package, we want no part of it. When Don Harker was fired, PURE KENTUCKY WENT TO THE DUMP!!!

We urge everyone to call Governor Wilkinson (ext. 2611) and Secretary Bradley (ext. 3358) to voice your opinion. 1-800-882-1240.

Sincerely,
Mary B. Welch

Retiring Soon? See Social Security Office

Floyd Countians who plan to retire at the end of the year should contact the Social Security office now about filing a retirement benefit application, according to Jim Kelly, Social Security Director for the Big Sandy area.

Many applications can be processed very quickly, but sometimes there are delays in locating necessary documents such as birth certificates, Kelly said. Persons who do not have a birth certificate should seek help from the local health department, he said.

"By contacting your Social Security office early we can give you an estimate of what you will draw, as well as counsel you as to what specific papers you will need and where you can get them," Kelly said.

In addition to the birth certificate, applicants will also need W-2 forms, marriage records, military service, DD-214 records and divorce papers, if applicable.

To speak with a retirement advisor, call 886-8525 or stop by the office, located on US 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville, between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

HRMC Hosts Safety Tour

Highlands Regional Medical Center's safety and security department hosted employees of the Prestonsburg Fire Department on Nov. 21 as part of the hospital's program on community protection under the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration's emergency planning and community right to know act.

The purpose of the tour was to familiarize firefighters with all aspects of the hospital's fire and chemical safety program to minimize any harmful effects of a chemical emergency such as a spill or fire.

Robert Ford, director of safety and security and hazard determination coordinator at the hospital, conducted the tour, which included the pharmacy, laboratory, chemical storage area and patient safety locations.

Highlands' ability to access vital information quickly was demonstrated by pharmacy and security personnel, according to a hospital spokesperson. Computerized tracking of all chemicals and medications allows life saving information to be retrieved in a matter of seconds for use by the fire department. Response time is then reduced and more accurate treatment is possible.

"We are impressed with the hospital's degree of compliance to safety guidelines and with the instant availability of computer data," said fire marshal Larry Adams.

Some ancient people believed that their spirits would be reborn as flowers.

Meeting To Address Future Availability Of East KY Coal

Eastern Kentucky's coalfields can support only 20 to 30 more years of mining, a fact that could spell hard economic times for the region unless industrial alternatives are discovered and utilized, the Kentucky Geological Survey warns.

The dwindling years of coal issue is a primary topic for the KGS annual meeting set for Friday, Dec. 15 at the University of Kentucky's Mining and Mineral Resources Building.

Coal industry assertions that claim there are 200 years worth of coal left in Eastern Kentucky are "totally false," says James C. Cobb, head of the KGS coal and minerals section.

Much of the coal, Cobb explains, is inaccessible because it lies beneath towns and cities. Other deposits are in seams that are too thin or too difficult to reach. One coal company is involved in a long-range reclamation project that could provide an alternative.

By leveling hillsides and filling valleys after mining is completed, the Cypress Coal Company is leaving several thousands acres of flat land that could be converted to a large industrial development, Cobb says.

The company already has planted orchards and constructed a pond for migrating geese on reclaimed mining land, Cobb adds.

That project, in parts of Breathitt, Knott and Perry counties, is also on the Survey's Dec. 15 agenda.

"It ties in very well with the coal running out, and it's the kind of thing Eastern Kentucky is going to have to consider," Hutcheson says.

Columbia Gas Concludes Another Long-Term Supply Transaction

Columbia Gas of Kentucky has negotiated a major gas supply contract with a BP affiliate, bringing to nearly 1.24 billion cubic feet the volume of gas to be acquired annually over the next several years in two recent long-term contracts.

Richard J. Gordon, Columbia of Kentucky president, said the new transaction with BP Gas Inc., Houston, will provide some 500 million cubic feet of gas a year over a period covering the next six winters.

The contract calls for BP Gas to provide a firm supply of gas for Columbia's more than 119,500 customers starting in December and continuing through March 1995. The 500 million is enough gas to meet the annual needs of some 5,230 homes of Columbia customers.

Columbia previously this year signed a long-term supply agreement for some 700 million cubic feet annually with Shell. "The contract with BP is a continuing part of our strategy to secure diverse, firm gas supplies directly from Southwest producers at market prices," said Gordon.

"As the gas bubble decreases, the availability of reliable spot market gas will obviously decrease, and these new contracts enable Columbia to convert more of our interruptible spot market purchases to reliable, firm supplies."

Gordon pointed out that long-term transactions also are important to producers and to gas customers generally.

"Contracts like these give producers assurance of a market for their gas, and they can therefore expand exploration and development of gas reserves to assure future reliable supplies for consumers," he said.

"MOMMY"
The most precious thing in life we've known was our wonderful dear Mommy at home. She was there for us both day and night, waiting for her children to see if they were alright. She worried so much when we were away; to know we were back just made her day.
Even as a child I have always known I was so fortunate to have a Christian home.
When this world seemed so cold, in our home Mommy's Love always glowed.
That beautiful smile that Mommy would wear; made our troubles so much easier to bear.
In this world while Mommy was alive; for her children she worked and strived. Those precious hands for us did so much, now here on earth we can never touch.
Mommy grieved so much about dear Dad to think of his physical condition would make her so sad.
So often to the doctor with Mommy I would go; and she would say, "Honey there's no use, I know."
To us children she would often say, "Don't grieve for Mommy when I am gone; I've got my ticket ready and I'm going home."
Mommy would tell us "My Life I'd be willing to give, if I could hear my children repent of their sin."
Mommy at Christmas we know we will be so sad, we will try to go on for our families; Lizzie & Dad.
As I held Mommy's hand in that final hour, while my tears fell onto her hair; the pain I felt I could hardly bear. Though her words she could hardly speak, I knew she was saying, "please don't weep." Then in Jesus's arms she went to sleep.
Mommy talked so much of those pearly gates, I know there she will wait; with open arms she will stand; to hug her children and to shake their hand.
To my brothers and sisters I will say, To see Mommy again will be the happiest day! Let's get ready and don't delay. Let us call on God he will lead the way.

As Boulders Come Tumbling Down...

The stretch of US 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville has always been a treacherous thoroughway due to the sheer rock walls along the east side, but any passing motorist might say a little prayer of thanks that they were not the ones driving by when this chunk fell. Last week this section of the wall came loose and slide down to its final resting place in the berm, hopefully it is not awaiting the company of piece from which it was previously attached.

matching funds from the state and contributions from private industry in the region.

Stumbo said he believes that difficulties will arise within Floyd County for funding the authority, because of the recent creation of a county economic development organization.

"This new authority is going to be an expensive proposition and it's going to require other funds than what the counties can provide," said Stumbo. "I don't know if the Fiscal Court is going to be willing to put out funds for this, considering we just set up our own development organization in the county."

Stumbo, however, was generally positive about efforts at the meeting. "We heard a lot of good ideas at the meeting, and there's a lot of good people involved. We have a fine labor force here in Floyd County, and I'm hoping this will give them more opportunities to find good work."

The committee also selected executive officers during the meeting. Judge-Executive Patton was elected chairman of the organizing committee, receiving 20 votes from the committee. Latta received 18 votes, assuming the position of Treasurer for EKJCA.

"The key to this effort is that we're working together as a region, presenting a united face to Frankfort," said Latta. "We have a strength in numbers, and by acting together, we can bring new industry and new jobs in the area. What's good for the region will also be good for Floyd County."

According to Latta, a second meeting will be held Jan. 21, again in Prestonsburg, once the executive committee has had the opportunity to present the proposal for the authority to Gov. Wallace Wilkinson.

The current organizational committee is composed of 20 regional leaders. Six judge-executives, six legislators, five mayors and three citizen members are included in this committee.

New Kentucky Power Study Targets Industries For Growth

Kentucky Power Company has recently completed an economic development study in which 10 fast-growing new and existing types of industries have been identified as candidates to locate in its 20-county eastern Kentucky service area.

The year-long study was undertaken by the utility as a tool to help focus efforts on broadening the economic base of the area, according to Robert E. Matthews, president of Kentucky Power.

Starting from a list of 451 types of industries, the field was narrowed to the 10 industrial categories. The finalists were selected on the basis of historical and projected growth in employment, output and number of establishments; changing energy and electricity usage; and regional compatibility with Kentucky Power's service area.

A.V. Rash, Kentucky Power's economic development manager, identified the 10 most promising categories as industries which manufacture miscellaneous plastic products; plastic materials and resins; corrugated and solid fiber boxes; electric motors and generators; hardwood for furniture and floorings; valves and pipe fittings; bolts, nuts, screws, rivets and washers; hand and edge tools; ball and roller bearings; and household furniture.

Rash said that Kentucky Power plans to recruit prospects from a list of more than 600 companies which fit into the 10 industrial categories selected. "We will also be providing copies of the study to the Kentucky Economic Development Cabinet, Area Economic Development Districts, economic development organizations, judge executives, mayors, chambers of commerce, and others who are directly and intimately involved in economic development," he added. "We will be working with them in a cooperative and concerted effort in their use of this new economic development tool, as well as developing other industrial recruiting plans."

Rash continued: "Kentucky Power has historically worked with both industries and communities to increase and solidify the economic base of this service area. We know that we have in this area a large and dependable labor force with a strong work ethic; favorable taxes; modern transportation and communication; and attractive and competitive electric rates. These, combined with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's emphasis on rural economic development, create the environment for a productive and profitable business climate."

In explaining why the 618 candidate companies were chosen, Rash defined regional compatibility, mentioned earlier, as an industry's compatibility with the service area in terms of raw materials, energy, transportation, labor supply and other needs. Future growth potential in the service area is also very important.

"We believe these 618 companies have the best chance of being successful in our area. And we also feel that these are the ones we have the best chance of attracting," he said.

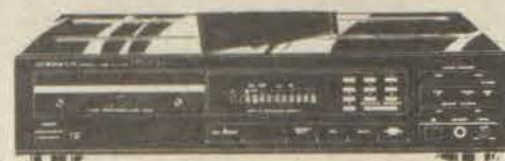

Rash went on: "It is a real credit to this area that none of the 10 types of industries was eliminated on the basis of lack of labor quantity or skill requirements. This confirms what we have been telling prospective industry all along about our people of Eastern Kentucky."

Matthews concluded: "What we must continue to do in this area is to work together — communities, counties, chambers, industry, economic development groups, political leaders, the state and others — to use the tools we have, like this targeting study, to broaden our employment base and bring balance and stability to the economy of our area."

Two Trailer Fires Blaze In P'burg, Left Beaver

Two separate fires severely damaged the trailers of Floyd County residents.

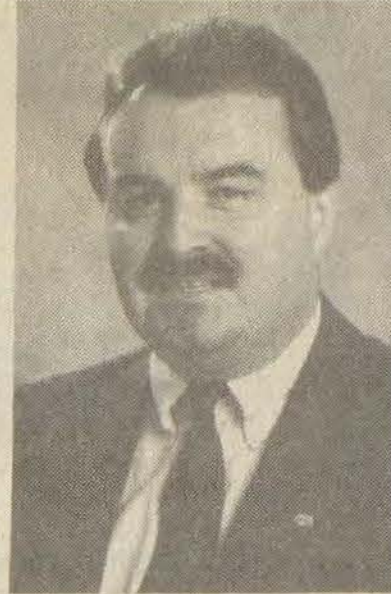

On Sunday, an unoccupied trailer in Town Branch caught fire at approximately 11:16 a.m., destroying the structure and its contents. The trailer was rented by Ted Nelson Sr., who was returning from Sunday School with his wife, Helen, when the fire was discovered.

20 firefighters from the Prestonsburg Fire Department responded to the blaze, which took about one hour to extinguish. According to Major Mike Wells, smoke damage combined with the fire damage, destroyed the trailer. The fire is currently under investigation by the Kentucky State Police.

A second fire at Ned's Fork of Frasure Creek Friday seared the living room of a trailer owned by Bobby Page. The occupants were not at home at the time of the fire, which was reported at 9:40 p.m. They had apparently gone to the store, coming back to find their living room on fire.

Eight firefighters from the Left Beaver Fire Department responded to the fire, which took approximately one hour to control. 50 percent of the trailer was damaged, according to Fire Chief Derrick Thacker.

Hornets Take Big Lead, Then Hold Off Charging Bobcats

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Forget Rick Pitino's break neck style of basketball, infiltrated by the art of shooting three pointers. Danny Adams, Magoffin County coach, has his style that resembles that of Pitino.

The Hornets used both - fast action basketball with a lot of three point attempts - to defeat the Betsy Layne Bobcats in an early top 15th Regional match up, 72-64.

Jeff Castle led the scoring parade for the Salyersville based school, with 26 points. Castle hit four three-pointers in the win. Don Helton added 16 points for Magoffin County.

Both coaches worked the officials hard in this one, as calls were questioned by both mentors.

Magoffin County built a 14 point advantage with 5:05 remaining in the fourth quarter at 60-46. After a Betsy Layne time out, senior Craig Hunter was inserted at the point guard position and seemed to move the basketball well. Keith Hall hit a basket from 12 feet out. Adam Gearheart scored from the corner on a short jumper and Sam Stewart, who was shut down by the sticky defense of the Hornets, found the basket for a nice turn around.

Two more baskets by Gearheart and one by Stewart, and the Bobcats made a 10-2 run to cut the lead to 62-56. Stewart made what appeared to be a clean block on a shot by Robbie Kennard, but was whistled for the foul, drawing the displeasure of Bobcat coach Junior Newsome. Kennard made one of the two charity tosses, and on the Betsy Layne possession, Stewart hit an eight foot turn around to cut it to four, 63-59 with 2:12 to go.

Magoffin County held a 70-64 lead with three seconds remaining when Stewart picked up his third foul. Betsy Layne was whistled for a technical for not bringing in another player in the allotted time. Ronald Traylor connected on the two free throws to give the final margin of victory, 72-64.

The victory gave the Hornets a 3-0 record with all three wins being big ones. Betsy Layne evens their record at 1-1. Magoffin County's previous wins were over highly touted Allen Central and upstate power, Tates Creek. Betsy Layne upended the region number one team, Feds Creek. Betsy Layne's press in the fourth period, seemed to rattle the Hornets somewhat. Missed defensive assignments allowed the Hornets to pick up some easy baskets.

Along with Castle's 26 points and Helton's 16, Kennard netted 15 for the Hornets.

Betsy Layne was led in scoring by Adam Gearheart with 17 points. Stewart finished up with 16 points, 12 coming in the second half and eight in the final quarter. Jeff Castle's free throw shooting in the final stanza kept the Hornets out in front. Castle hit six of seven free throw attempts in the fourth period. Magoffin shot only six in the entire first half hitting only one. As a team they shot 17 in the final period.

Newsome Scores 18 Points; Stumbo Captures Sectional III Crown

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The John M. Stumbo Mustangs took on the on-charging Harold Red Devils in the championship game of the Section III playoffs in gradeschool basketball at the Betsy Layne gym.

It was to be a top game, as the Mustangs just squeezed by the Red Devils at home earlier.

Jason Newsome scored a game high 18 points as the Mustangs captured the title 59-45 over the Red Devils. Derrick Newsome added 12 points in the win for the Mustangs.

"We just didn't play well," Harold coach Dwight Newsome stated, "and haven't played well in the last two games. Brian (Hunter) hit only three of 17 shots and he usually makes 13 of 17 and shoots around 65 percent."

Newsome was effective with his moves inside and on the offensive boards.

A 17-9 run in the third opened up a 14 point advantage for the Mustangs as they went on to win 59-45.

Trojans Capture Third Place In Elkhorn City Cougar Classic

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

It was an impressive win for Wheelwright coach Monroe Jones and his Trojans Saturday night in the Elkhorn City Cougar Classic, as the Trojans defense looked good in their 80-58 win over the Wildcats of Dorton. Junior Harold Johnson zipped the nets for 24 points as the Trojans won for the second time this season over the Wildcats. Wheelwright opened their season with a home victory, 71-66, over the same Wildcats less than a week ago.

Freshman Brian Johnson, who had 36 points in the previous meeting against the Trojans, was held to only 12 points by the Trojans defense.

"We just put the 'D' on him in this game," Wheelwright coach Monroe Jones said. "In the first game we didn't know much about him then." Harold Johnson had 19 points for Wheelwright in the first contest between the two schools.

Leading by only five points in a the end of the first period, the Trojans opened up and maintained a 10 point advantage throughout the first three quarters, until the final stanza, when they outscored the Wildcats, 26-13.

Seniors Bobby Hood and Chad Hall tossed in 18 and 13 points respectively in the victory for Wheelwright. Dorton was led by D. Wright with 17 points followed by Johnson's 12.

Although the Trojans showed a lot of hustle in the win, Jones feels his team didn't play well enough.

"We are a small team," Jones explained, "and we have to make adjustment for the height disadvantage by hustling and playing hard, that's a big part in our winning."

"We are going to improve with each game and do what we have to do to win," he promised.

Harold Johnson also pulled down 11 rebounds in the win over Dorton. Brad Compton had six rebounds and six points. Senior Bobby Hood, who is showing some offensive prowess, had 18 points for Wheelwright as well as handing out five assists. Chad Hall tallied 13 points in the win.

"Bobby (Hood) is coming around for us," Coach Jones remarked. "He has to do that and show the leadership we need." According to Coach Jones, Compton was only able to play half of the game because of illness.

Wheelwright dropped an opening round game on Friday night to the Phelps Hornets in a close one, 67-65. Brad Compton scored 20 points for Wheelwright and Hood added 18. Steven Johnson had 10 points in the loss.

Wheelwright will entertain the Navaho's of M.C. Napier tomorrow night in an 8 p.m. scheduled start and will host the Mullins Tigers next Tuesday night.

Lady Eagles Soar Over Clark, 39-33; Capture Section IV Girls Playoffs

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

It has been a long basketball season for the elementary teams in Floyd County. For some, a successful season, others a disappointing one. The lady Eagles of Allen is one team that has its ups and downs. Losing some close games that, perhaps, with a break here or there, the outcome could have been different.

For coach Christina Compton's Lady Eagles, the season continues on a winning note, as Allen won over the Clark Indians, 39-33, Saturday night in the finals of the Section IV girls' basketball championships. Clark, a team that had only lost twice going into the tournament, and one of those losses were at the hands of the Lady Eagles, had to be a tournament favorite. However, someone forgot to tell the Lady Eagles that, as Allen's two-three zone defense seemed to cause some problems for the Lady Indians offense.

Sixth grader, April Newsome scored a game-high 22 points to lead the Lady Eagles in scoring. Newsome seemed to have no trouble in finding openings in the Lady Indians defense, as she cut through the lanes for easy lay ups or short jumpers.

Allen, trailing by one, 26-25, going into the final period of play, outscored the Lady Indians, 14-7 to win the game. Newsome scored nine of the 14 points for Allen in the final period. The only other lead for Allen was 6-4 at the end of the first period. Clark held a one point advantage, 13-12, in the low scoring affair, at half time.

The victory allows Allen to advance as a winner into the Floyd County Championship round. Clark will also advance.

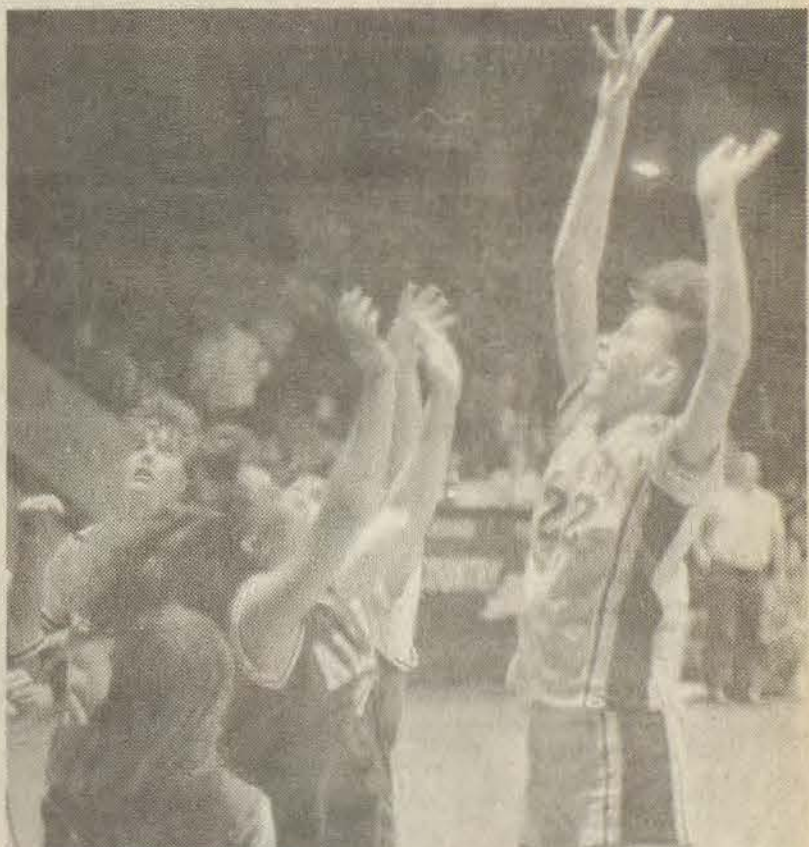

For Allen, Jana "Sunshine" Bates, a fourth grader, tossed in nine points. Jennifer Hunt and Connie Hall each scored three points each.

Andrea Shepherd led the Clark team with nine points. Maria Hicks and Jamie Clay each added eight points, while Rebecca Webb, along with Christy Little, had four.

Clark (33) — Christy Little, 4; Andrea Shepherd, 9; Rebecca Webb, 4; Maria Hicks, 8; Jamie Clay, 8.

Allen (39) — Connie Hall, 3; April Newsome, 22; Jennifer Hunt, 3; Jana Bates, 9; Lester, 1.

Reitz Leads Allen To Section IV Title Over P'burg

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Citing a big, loud and noisy crowd as a huge plus for his teams performance, Allen Eagles coach David Mosley said his team played "a great game" in the finals of the Section IV grade school playoffs Saturday night at the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse. The Eagles defeated a good Prestonsburg team, 46-44, behind the 23 point outpour of Corey Reitz.

"I believe that was the loudest crowd we have had since the days that Kevin Spurlock played for us. Just about all of Allen turned out to watch our team play," Coach Mosley stated.

The Eagles took a 12-4 lead and held it to lead at the half by seven, 26-19. Prestonsburg trailed by 10 points in the third period but the Blackcats clawed their way back into it before the third period came to an end. The Eagles lead was cut to four, 35-31 at the end of the third period.

"We made some bad passes in the third quarter," Mosley said. "Corey (Reitz) got hurt and couldn't hit like he was earlier. We let them back in the game. We were getting great shots."

Prestonsburg had two chances to tie the game in the final 17 seconds. In the last few seconds, Prestonsburg had the ball and Allen had a two point lead. Prestonsburg took two shots at the basket and missed. On the rebound Joe Howell was fouled. Howell missed the one and one with Damion Stepp taking the rebound. Stepp drove the ball the length of the court and on his game tying attempt, Cory Reitz deflected the shot that was pulled down by Phillip Patton as the game ended.

"We made so many mistakes in the game," says Coach Mosley. "Prestonsburg killed us on the offensive boards because we did not block out well. Over half of their points came off offensive rebounds. Put backs by Caldwell and others. They just killed us on the boards."

Mosley credit co-coach Stevie Halbert with coming up with a defensive plan to stop the duo guard combination of Prestonsburg. David Gearheart, the Blackcats point guard, was held to two points. Gearheart is normally a double figure scorer. Although Stepp finished with 11 points he only had two a the half.

"We play Harold in the tournament next week," Mosley explained, "and it untelling what Stevie will come up with on defense then. As long as it works."

Harold and Allen have meet three times already this season with the Red Devils taking two of the three.

"They beat us at Betsy Layne in our second game of the season," stated Mosley. "Then we beat them here at home and lost again, or gave a game to them in the Mountain Christian invitational. We had a seven point lead with less than a minute to go and got beat."

Prestonsburg Blackcats Get Best Of Clark Indians, 63-28, Wed.

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The Prestonsburg Elementary Blackcats eliminated the Clark Indians from tournament play Wednesday night as the Indians fell hard, 63-28.

The Indians opened the game in a stall, choosing not to try and run with the bigger Blackcats. Prestonsburg came out of its zone defense and went man-to-man to forced the tempo of the game.

"It was a smart thing for them to do," Prestonsburg coach Ashland Gearheart stated. "They did it to try and neutralize our size."

The stalling tactic did not pan out for the Indians as they found themselves trailing at the end of the first period of play, 18-2. Clark did manage to stay with the Blackcats in the second quarter as they abandoned their stalling game and went to the basket with the ball. Clark had 16 second quarter points compared to Prestonsburg's 17.

Prestonsburg's size started to take it toll on the smaller and younger Indians as the Blackcats outscored the Indians in the second half, 28-10.

"We lead throughout the game," Gearheart said, "and our team played a good game on defense as well as offensively."

Clark, a team made up of mostly fifth, sixth and seventh graders, had to struggle all season against the bigger teams. Coach Dale Hamilton did a good job with the Indians this season. The question now is, will the new middle school disband the Clark team?

Damion Stepp topped the scoring for the Blackcats with 17 points. Chad Caldwell added 12 points and Charlie Shell tossed in eight.

Jason Osborne led the Indians with 11 points and brother Jeremy Osborne added eight. Both Jason and Jeremy are sixth graders at Clark. Mike Arnett had five points.

Prestonsburg (63) — Chad Caldwell, 12; Charlie Shell, 8; Mike Goble, 4; David Gearheart, 4; Damion Stepp, 17; Martin Newberry, 6; Jerry Wicker, 2; Ronald Mullins, 2; James Joseph, 1; Robbie Risner, 2; Larry Morris, 5.

Clark (28) — Jason Osborne, 11; T-Tom Stone, 1; Jeremy Osborne, 8; Mike Arnett, 5; Carlos Conley, 3.

McDowell Girls Beat Osborne In Double OT

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The McDowell Elementary Lady Daredevils defeated the Osborne Lady Eagles 28-26 in double overtime to win the Section II basketball championship Thursday night at Wheelwright.

Both teams scored only four points each in the first period as the baskets came hard. McDowell did manage a 12-8 lead at the half in the low scoring affair. Osborne outscored the Lady Daredevils, 10-6, to tie the score going into the final quarter. At the end of regulation play the score was 23-23. Both teams scored three points each in the first overtime. McDowell managed two points in the second O.T. as Osborne went scoreless.

Susan Shepherd led McDowell in scoring with 11 points. Stacy Shepherd, Chrystal Newsome and Jamie Little each tossed in five points.

Candance Holbrook scored 11 points to lead the Lady Eagles in scoring. Tina K. Hall scored six.

Barnett And Warrix Place First, Second In Membership Tourney

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Ralph Barnett had the winning low score in the John M. Stumbo Beaver Valley Golf Course Membership tournament held recently at the local course at the Allen Park according to Mike Auxier, Stumbo Park Superintendent.

Second place went to Brad Warrix. Barnett also had the longest hit in the tournament. Nello Francis took third place and the closest to the hole award. A trio of golfers, Walter Frasure, Don Taylor and Gene Ball won a dozen golf balls.

According to Auxier, the unexpected weather played havoc with the membership participation on Saturday, the first day of the activities. Milder weather on Sunday did however permit the members to complete the eighteen hole activity.

"Those members who had the opportunity to play both days, even with inclement weather, experienced excellent play on this new golf course," said Auxier.

Auxier also announced that the sale of 1990 memberships will begin on Jan. 1. Information on membership, playing fees, etc. is available by phoning the pro shop at 874-2837, or by stopping by the pro shop.

Jimmy Hopkins: Coach, Father, Educator, Husband

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

A good strong basketball program is vital to any school. It creates fan interest as well as pay some of the bills from gate receipts. A successful program can do that for a school.

When we look at some of the successful programs that are consistent on the high school level, you look at the Betsy Layne Bobcats of coach Junior Newsome. We're talking about consistency. Year in, year out stuff.

"Consistent." Holding always to the same principles and practices. That's the way Daniel Webster sums the word up. To be consistent is to always hold to the same principles and practices in life.

The adjective consistent, is a good word to use in describing the basketball program at Martin Elementary where the Purple Flashes have just won their fourth Section I title. That is being consistent. What makes the Martin program so consistent? In the case of the Martin program it is not "what," but "who" makes the program so consistent. Ask any coach in the county, fans and parents. They will tell you that the Martin coach makes the difference — Jimmy Hopkins.

Hopkins is a disciplinarian when it comes to coaching basketball. On a Hopkins team you will not find a 30 per game performer. You will not find one player dominating the offense. But a balanced attack that when one is off on a given night, someone else is there to take up the slack.

"I consider myself a demanding coach," Hopkins says of his self. "I demand that a player give all that he can. Some coaches demand 100 percent, I demand a 150 percent."

While that may sound somewhat harsh, you've only to look at the re-

High School Players Who Played for Coach Hopkins

Rick Conn, Craig Hall, John McKinney, Robbie Click, Ronnie Dean Ousley, Joey Conn, Mike McKinney, Darren Conn, Ron Hunter, Brian Hall and Ronnie Sammons played for Allen Central. John McKinney also played one year for Prestonsburg.

Doug Hopkins, Mark Perkins, Reggie Hall and Henry Webb all went on to play for McDowell.

Stuart Robinson, John Wright played for Prestonsburg. Sam Stewart started at Allen Central but has played his high school career at Betsy Layne.

Henry Webb is currently playing for the Alice Lloyd Eagles and having a good year.

ord books to see how successful this program has been under these consistent principles and practices that take place each season. The Purple Flash, under the leadership of Coach Hopkins, have won six of the last Sectional I titles. They have won the last four in a row. Sound consistent? Martin, under Coach Hopkins, has won the Floyd County championship twice, the last time being last year..

His teams have been runners-up in the county three times.

Hopkins says that he stresses hard team work and team sacrifice. "I try to build a unit at the beginning of each year," he said. "We don't have great one-on-one players. No 30 points a game players. Just hard working, sacrificing players that give their best. I believe a coach has to adapt a team to the material he has coming out. I teach the fundamentals of the game and build on those fundamentals. I want my players to be aggressive. When they say to me 'I'll try' I tell them 'don't try, you do it.'"

"We will practice from two and a half hours to three hours a day. Our players are required to be at all the practices," he explained.

Hopkins began his coaching career in Flat Gap where he coached for three years before moving on to Maytown. The Martin coach was at the Right Beaver school for two years before coming to Martin.

"We didn't have the good teams at Maytown as we have here at Martin," he explained.

The Martin mentor was quick to point out the support he has received from the parents and staff.

"I would take the parents and fans of Martin and put them up against anybody's," he remarked. "The staff here at the school has been very supportive of our teams down through the years."

Hopkins says that he feels like a proud father when he sees one of his players go on and play high school ball.

"When I see them on the high school level and playing basketball, I know I had something to with them making it. There is a sense of pride in knowing that," he commented.

When asked to name his favorite Martin team, the coach had a difficult time in doing so. However, he would name his top three which are: the 1981-82 team first; second was the team of 1983-84 and his 1984-85 team. Hopkins players have been a feeder not only for the Allen Central high school but some of his players have gone to other county schools and excelled in varsity basketball.

Has Coach Hopkins had any desire to move up and coach on the high school level?

"I did once," he said, "but not so much now. I have a boy playing basketball (Doug Hopkins, McDowell) and when he is through playing I will probably give up coaching. Maybe two more years more."

Hopkins is currently coaching the McDowell freshman and junior varsity teams in addition to assisting coach Johnny Ray Turner with his varsity team.

Although most people only see the serious side of Hopkins, the man still maintains a sense of humor that makes him a pleasure to be associated with. He cares for his players, not as just players, but as human beings. He tries to instill in them respect for self and for others.

"I try to teach all my players that if they work hard, good things will come to them, that there is nothing free."

In a previous interview with Martin's former coach Denzil Halbert, Halbert expressed that Jimmy Hopkins deserves a chance to coach in the high school ranks.

"Jimmy does a great job coaching," the former mentor stated. "He deserves a shot at the high school level."

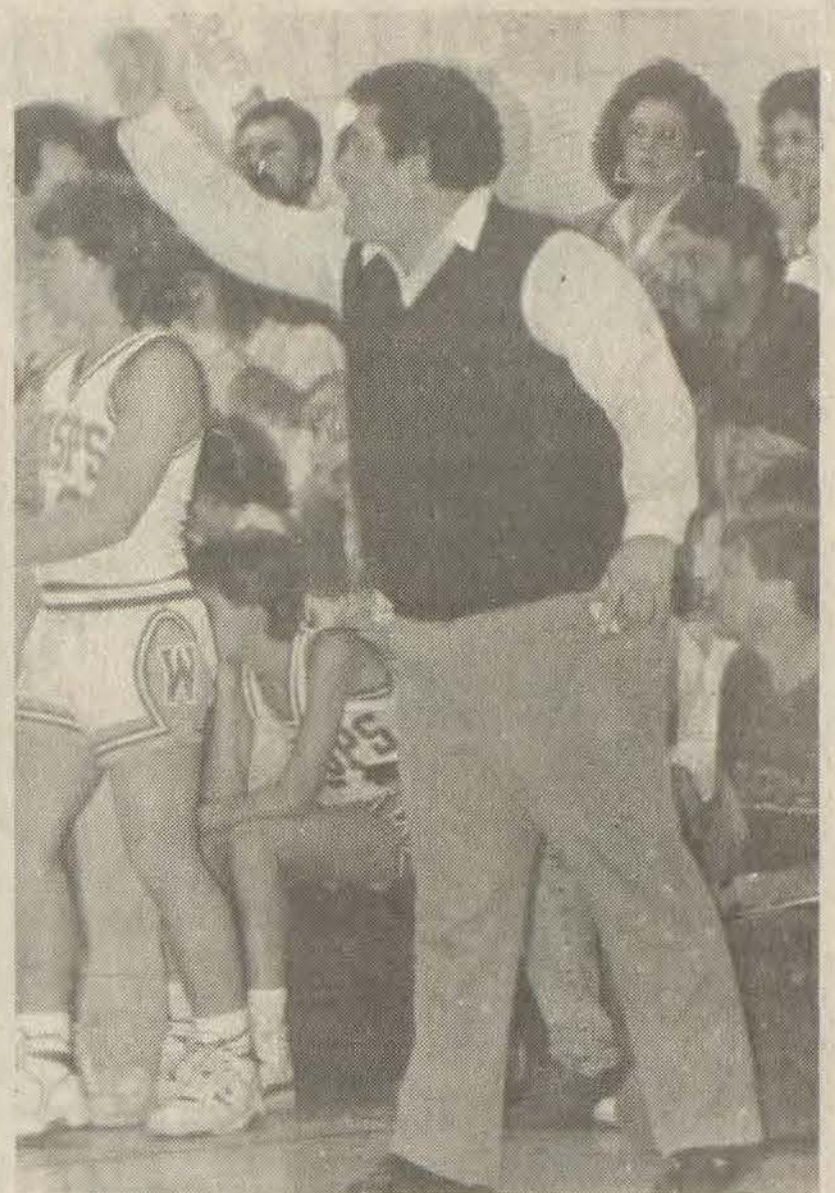

"Some coaches demand 100 percent from their players. I demand 150 percent... good things come to them that work hard."

--Coach Jimmy Hopkins

Consistent. Coach Hopkins has shown that with hard work good things will come to you. Six sectional titles, two county championships. Hopkins deserves a chance to coach at the high school level.

Hopkins was hesitant in allowing this interview to be put in print. Why? "Because of the way some people will receive it," he said. "There is jealousy among people over something like this."

Jealously or not, Hopkins has been a winner. A consistent winner. He has earned the respect of all other coaches.

Martin Mentor

Jimmy Hopkins has been coaching at Martin for the past 11 years. This season Hopkins guided the Purple Flash to an impressive 18-1 record. The Martin coach says he feels like a proud father when he sees his players go on and play high school basketball.

Leads Flash-O-Mania

Hubert Likens will be leading the team of Coach Jimmy Hopkins and the Martin Purple Flash as they set to defend their title as Floyd County Grade School champions. The Martin team has a 18-1 record going into the tournament.

White-Tailed Deer Make Comeback In Eastern Ky.

White-tailed deer are making a significant comeback in Eastern Kentucky with help from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources' deer restoration program.

Clay and Knott counties in southeastern Kentucky are notable examples that the department's efforts are working.

Restoration success is based on harvest figures from counties receiving deer. These counties are opened to hunting one full reproductive year after releases are made so biologists can check the progress of the population. Depending on biologists' findings, recently stocked counties may be closed to hunting until the herd reaches huntable numbers.

In 1988, following three successive closed seasons, Clay County produced its highest deer harvest ever, with 104 animals taken.

Knott County's first deer hunting season in 1982 produced only 15 animals. But following a two-year shutdown to allow more deer to be released, Knott posted between 55 and 78 deer per hunting season over the next four years.

Clay, Knott, Letcher and Perry counties, in addition to Fishtrap and Paintsville Lake wildlife management areas, have already received their deer allotments under the program. However, John Phillips, deer program coordinator for the fish and wildlife department, estimates another four or five years will be needed to complete deer restoration in other areas of Eastern Kentucky.

Knox County is slated to receive another 100 deer, with more releases scheduled in Estill, Magoffin, Pike and Floyd counties. Fortunately, because deer multiply quickly when no hunting is allowed, it doesn't take very long before there are enough whitetails for hunters to pursue.

The estimated cost for the 10-year deer restoration project is close to $500,000.

Poaching And Dogs Detrimental To Deer

Protecting the investment in Kentucky's deer program is very important to its success.

Illegal hunting and free-ranging dogs continue to pose the biggest threats to the deer herd, statewide.

The situation is cause for great concern, especially in Eastern Kentucky where deer populations are generally much lower than in other areas of the state.

Much of the responsibility of protecting any wildlife species in Kentucky lies in the hands of its people. Fortunately, the majority of Eastern Kentuckians are willing to do their part in protecting their growing deer populations.

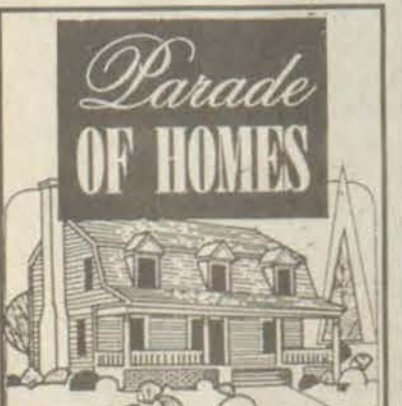

According to Knott County conservation Officer Cordell Gayheart, "When Eastern Kentucky residents witnessed the first deer release a few years ago, they realized deer restoration wasn't a dream and they climbed on the band wagon to aid the fish and wildlife department's efforts."

Doug Hensley, fish and wildlife commissioner for the Seventh Wildlife District, adds that, "Attitudes toward poaching have changed drastically in Eastern Kentucky, and I think hunter education classes have had a lot to do with the changed thinking."

Free ranging dogs, however, remain a problem.

Typically, dogs that do the most deer damage are well-fed pets which are allowed to roam at will. Often, owners are unaware of their dogs' actions, but two or three dogs running together can do a great deal of damage in a short time. It seems "mob mentality" takes over, and the pack commits acts that each individual dog wouldn't attempt alone — like chasing deer for the fun of it.

Eastern Kentuckians took a positive step to address the problem last spring with the opening of the Kentucky River Regional Animal Shelter. Director Merrill Collins is working to educate area residents on the dangers dogs pose to deer.

"OUR MASTERS BIRTHDAY"

Christmas time is drawing near,
The greatest holiday of the year.
It was the day our Lord was born
In a far away country in a barn.

He had no place to lay his head,
Just a manger for a bed.
But people came from far and near,
To honor this little one so dear.

Then he grew up to be a man,
Preached and healed through out the land.
And then one day it was to be
That he should die for you and me.

We owe this one so very much,
For all the kindness, he shows us.
And the only way we can repay
Is to love our Jesus everyday.

So at this special time of year,
With fall the ones we love so much.
Let's all give thanks to the one above,
For everything he gives to us.

Merry Christmas
— Margaret Harris
Prestonsburg

"T'WAS THE NIGHT BEFORE JESUS CAME"

T'was the night before Jesus came and all through the house,
Not a creature was praying, not one in the house,
Their Bibles were lain on the shelf without care,
In hopes that Jesus would not come there.

The children were dressed to crawl into bed,
Not once ever kneeling or bowing a head,
And Mom in her rick, with the baby on her lap,
Was watching the late show, while I took a nap.

When out of the East there rose such a clatter,
I sprang to my feet to see what was the matter,
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.

What to my wondering eyes would appear,
But the angels proclaiming that Jesus was here,
With a light like the sun, sending forth a bright ray,
I knew in a moment this must be the day.

The light of his face made me cover my head,
It was Jesus returning just like he said,
And though I possessed worldly wisdom and wealth,
I cried when I saw him in spite of my self.

In the book of life, which he held in his hand,
Was written the name of every saved man,
He spoke not a word as he searched for my name,
When he said, "It's not here," my head hung in shame.

The people whose names had been written with love,
He gathered to take to his father above,
With those who are ready he rose without a sound,
While all the rest were left standing around.

I fell to my knees, but it was too late,
I had waited too long and thus sealed my fate,
I stood and cried as they rose out of sight,
Oh, if only I had been ready tonight.

In the words of this poem, the meaning is clear,
The coming of Christ is drawing near,
There's only one life and when comes the last call,
We'll find that the Bible was true after all.

A CHRISTMAS MEMORY

A little girls' Christmas is full of dreams,
The needing, the wanting, of oh so many things.

I was no different when I was small,
The toys, the dolls, wanting it all.

But under our tree this Christmas would be,
Just three gifts, one each for my sisters and me.

They opened theirs, and oh what joy,
That each felt for their precious toy.

I opened mine to find pots and pans,
Head bowed down the tears slowly ran.

For a little girl needs a stove too, you see,
To heat the food for her pretend family.

And so my Dad with love and care,
Found a black marker, a box and a chair.

And sitting down, he drew on that box,
Two large circles and two smaller marks.

The circles the burners, the marks the knobs you see,
And placing the pots on that stove he made for me,

I felt my Christmas was complete,
As I played with my toys at Daddy's feet.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

County Kettle

County Kettle

Is a feature offered by the Floyd County Times. Send all recipes, kitchen tips and suggestions to "County Kettle," The Floyd County Times, P.O. Box 391, Prestonsburg, KY 41653

Does the spirit of "Christmas Present" leave you feeling like a scrooge? Do you feel like you put in more hours baking than Bob Cratchett spent at his job, while the cost for all the ingredients amounts to more than a trip to Tiny Tim's orthopedist?

Holidays don't have to mean overtime in the kitchen or excessive expense. Fruit and nut cakes are always a hit at holiday get-togethers, but they can be time consuming and really cut into the budget, at a time when purse strings may already be tight.

Raspberry Nut Bread can be whipped together from ingredients that are probably already in the pantry. No raspberries? Try cranberries instead. When you're really strapped for time, an alternative to convenience-store pastries is Pumpkin Wheat Muffins. Whole wheat flour and bran cereal, along with oats, brown sugar and pumpkin pie spice make these muffins a nutritious and tasty treat for children.

RASPBERRY NUT BREAD

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 tps baking powder
1/2 tsp baking soda
1 tsp salt
1/4 cup shortening
3/4 cup orange juice
1 Tbsp orange rind
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup chopped nuts
2 cups whole raspberries,
fresh or frozen

Sift together dry ingredients, cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. Combine orange juice and rind with egg. Pour all at once into dry ingredients, mixing just enough to moisten. Fold in nuts and raspberries.

Pour into 9x5x3-inch greased loaf pan. Spread corners and sides slightly higher than center. Bake at 350 degrees for about one hour until crust is golden brown and a toothpick comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes, remove from pan and finish cooling.

PUMPKIN WHEAT MUFFINS

1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup whole bran cereal
1/2 cup whole wheat flour
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup oats, old-fashioned or quick-cooking
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tps baking powder
1 tsp pumpkin pie spice
1/2 tsp salt
1/4 tsp baking soda
3/4 cup canned pumpkin
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 vegetable oil

Topping

1 Tbsp margarine
1/3 cup brown sugar
1 Tbsp flour

1/4 tsp pumpkin pie spice

Combine milk and bran cereal; let stand 10 minutes. Stir together dry ingredients. Combine pumpkin, egg, oil and milk mixture; mix with dry ingredients and stir just until moistened.

To make topping melt margarine and add other ingredients. Mix until crumbly.

Fill greased muffin pans or muffin papers 3/4 full. Sprinkle with topping. Bake at 425 degrees for 18-20 minutes. Makes 10 large or 12 medium muffins. ****

Of course scratch baking is a special way to share the loving memories of traditional holiday celebrations with the children. And because children love to bake, a basic tasty dough which can be formed into many holiday shapes is a must for Christmas time baking. Try the Candy Cane Cookies and use the imagination to create other festive shapes.

CANDY CANE COOKIES

1 cup sugar
1 cup margarine or butter, softened
1/2 cup milk
1 egg
1 tsp vanilla
1 tsp peppermint extract
3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 tsp baking powder
1/4 tsp salt
1/2 tsp red food color
1/2 cup crushed peppermint candy
1/2 cup sugar

Mix sugar, margarine, milk, egg, vanilla and peppermint extract thoroughly. Stir in flour, baking powder and salt. Divide dough in half. Tint half with food color. Cover both parts dough and refrigerate at least 4 hours. Heat the oven to 375 degrees. For each cookie, roll one teaspoon of dough from each half back and forth on lightly floured surface into 4-inch rope. Place 1 red and 1 white rope side by side; press together lightly and twist. (For a smooth look, roll twisted ropes back and forth on surface several times.) Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bend down top of cookie to form handle of cane.

Bake 9 to 11 minutes or until set. Mix candy and sugar; immediately sprinkle over cookies. Remove from cookie sheet.

Makes about 5 1/2 dozen cookies.

If using self-rising flour, omit baking powder and salt. Note: unbleached flour can be used in this recipe.

For festive cookie wreaths substitute almond extract for peppermint extract. Substitute green food color for the red. Roll ropes on sugared surface. After placing cookies on cookie sheet, shape each into a circle with ends meeting to form a wreath. Omit crushed candy-sugar topping. Press bits of red candied cherries into each wreath for holly berries.

"Drop-in" entertaining is easy on the nerves as well as the budget, especially during the sometimes frenetic days leading up to Christmas and New Year's Day. Keep things simple with a peppery chili dip and a punch bowl or pitcher brimming with a cooling wine-tea punch.

HAPPY HOLIDAY PUNCH

3 rounded Tbps instant tea
4 Tbps sugar
6 cups ice water
1 cup lemonade concentrate, undiluted
3 cups apple juice
3 cups dry white wine

Combine instant tea, sugar and ice water. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Add remaining ingredients. Chill. When ready to serve, pour over ice in punch bowl or pitcher. Makes 3 1/4 quarts or 26 4-oz. servings.

HOT-HOT CHILI CON QUESO

2 medium tomatoes, peeled, seeded and chopped
1 (4-oz.) can chilies, drained and chopped
1 small onion, chopped
3/4 tsp seasoned salt
1/8 tsp garlic powder
Dash white pepper
1 (8 oz.) package cream cheese, cubed and softened

1/4 cup cream or milk
2 Tbps drained, chopped pimentos
Raw vegetables
Tortilla chips

In medium saucepan, simmer tomatoes, chilies, onion, seasoned salt, garlic powder and pepper 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Blend in cream cheese and then cream. Over very low heat, stir an dheat through. Turn into chafing dish or heat-proof casserole and keep warm over candle warmer, and garnish with pimento. Serve warm with carrot sticks, celery, cauliflower florets, green pepper squares and tortilla chips. Thin with a little cream if needed during serving period. Any leftover dip may be chilled and used as cracker spread. For a milder dip, use only 1 chili.

And as promised from last week here is a delicious holiday punch which includes no holiday spirits but a lot of holiday flavors and zing.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE PUNCH

1 quart bottled cranberry juice
1 can (1 pint, 2 ozs.) pineapple juice
1 cup orange juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 bottles (28 ozs. size) ginger-ale, chilled

In a punch bowl combine fruit juices, refrigerate until chilled and just before serving pour in ginger-ale. Makes 20-25 punch cup servings. Note: Make punch ahead of time and use some to freeze in ice cube trays and then float the cubes in the punch bowl.

"Tis the season to enjoy baking delicious desserts! The Kentucky Bourbon Fruit Loaf is a traditional holiday favorite, with a contemporary twist for baking ease and updated appeal.

Take advantage of free time. Bake ahead and freeze or store your goodies for a tasty and care-free celebration this holiday season!

KENTUCKY BOURBON FRUIT LOAF

3 cups flour
1 Tbsp baking powder
1/2 tsp baking soda
1/2 tsp salt
3/4 tsp allspice
4 Tbps butter
1/2 cup dark molasses
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup Kentucky bourbon
1/2 cup strong coffee*
1 1/2 cups glace diced fruit and peel

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and allspice; set aside. In mixing bowl, cream butter, molasses and sugar. Beat in eggs. Stir in bourbon and coffee. Add dry ingredients; stir just until moistened. Fold in glace fruit and peel. Pour into greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in 350 degree oven about one hour until inserted toothpick comes out clean. Let cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove from pan to cool completely on wire rack. Wrap in plastic wrap or aluminum foil and refrigerate or freeze up to two months.

BSRT MEETS AT MAY LODGE

Members of the Big Sandy Retired Teachers' Association (BSRT), held their quarterly luncheon-meeting, Tuesday, Dec. 5, at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Imogene Salyer, president, presided over the meeting, which began at 10 a.m., and welcomed the members and guests. She introduced her husband, Glenn Salyer, who brought the devotions. Opal Preece, vice president, led the group in the salute to the American Flag.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Delphia Hicks.

Reports were heard from county presidents: Ruby Akers, Floyd; Russell Boyd, Johnson; Opal Preece, Martin; Glenn McDowell, Pike; and Anna Ruth Arnett, Magoffin.

Reports were also heard from Virginia S. Goble on membership, Charles Spears and Glenn McDowell on insurance and Russell Boyd on the revising of the BSRT constitution.

Goble reported on the membership meetings held at May Lodge in September, with M.L. Archer, KRTA membership chairperson, and the one held later, at the Allen Park, with Russell Boyd, KRTA president-elect. Goble stressed the need for members.

Spears reported that the KRTA Insurance Program may be "in trouble" a year from now. McDowell said that a committee is studying this program.

Boyd distributed copies of the Revised Constitution. It was decided that the business of revising this constitution be carried over to the next meeting.

Goble reported on the KRTA meeting in Louisville, which she and Russell Boyd attended on Monday, Dec. 4, and at which Archer was the featured speaker. A membership meeting of the BSRT for June, 1990, was suggested.

Salyer, read a letter from Dr. Henry Campbell, president of Prestonsburg Community College, concerning the possible contribution by this group to the Building Program, there.

Since it was earlier decided that a member from each county should assist Docia B. Woods, publicity chairman, the following from these counties were chosen: Edith B. Hall, Lawrence County, and Mary Pearl McCoy, Martin County. (The other 4 counties already have persons assisting in this capacity). Their duties will be to take copies of the BSRT news coverage back to their counties for publication.

It was reported that of 18,000 retired teachers in Kentucky, 11,716 are members of Retired Teachers' organizations. Georgia Muncy, president-elect, introduced Gwen Daniels who presented a program of Christmas Carols. Edith Roberts demonstrated the making of Christmas sculpture and Goble gave a reading of the well-loved traditional poem, "A Visit From St. Nicholas."

The blessing was said by Georgia Muncy.

Those attending this event, and the counties which they represented, included: Stepp, Hicks, Mike Auxier, Ruby Akers, Virginia Goble, Alice O. Martin, Imogene Caldwell, Alma Lowe, Bessie R. Conley, Danese Amburgey, Opal S. May, Lucy C. Regan, Dixie Webb, Lois Ball and Edna Davis, Floyd; Russell Boyd, H.C. Dutton and Ellen Dutton, Johnson; Imogene Salyer, Ethel Fetterly, Anna R. Arnett, Maxine Arnett, Ruby Patrick, Peggy Arnett and Alma Frazier, Magoffin; Mary Pearl McCoy, Opal Preece and Icle Cornett, Martin County; and Georgia Muncy, Edith Roberts, Quentin Howard, Jane Elswick, Glenn McDowell, Charles Spears, Requea Spears and Lola Doane, Pike County.

Visitors were Glenn Salyer, of Magoffin County, and Gwen Daniels, of Pike County.

Norma S. Stepp, liaison person for KRTA-BSRT, announced that the next luncheon meeting of this group will be held on April 10, 1990, at 10 a.m., at May Lodge, with registration to begin at 9:30 a.m.

REBEKAHS REMINDED OF CHRISTMAS CAROLING

Beverly Hackworth, noble grand of Miriam Rebekah Lodge #31, reminds members that Christmas caroling will take place at Mountain Manor and Riverview Manor Nursing Homes, on Sunday, Dec. 17 beginning at 3 p.m., and she invites all members to participate.

The noble grand adds that lodge members will assist with the Christmas party to be held at Mountain Manor on Friday, Dec. 22.

She asks that members bring gifts for patients there, to the lodge's Tuesday, Dec. 19 regular meeting.

P'BURG WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The annual Christmas party of the GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club was held Thursday evening, Dec. 7, at the home of Lucille Nunnery. Hostesses with Nunnery were members of the club's executive board: Phyllis Herrick, Orella McGuire, Linda McGuire, Lee Boswell, Lida M. Howard, Elizabeth Ramey, Dorothy Harris, Joyce Allen and Docia B. Woods. (Due to the illness of some of the hostesses, Jane Wallace and Mabel Donahoe assisted).

The Nunnery home was beautifully decorated in keeping with the Yuletide Season. Over the yulelogs burning in the living room fireplace, was a large green wreath. Matching greenery and red candles completed the mantelpiece's decorations, and the same decor was used throughout the house.

The serving table was covered with a cut-work cloth, and had as its centerpiece, silver bowls of poinsettias surrounded with a green wreath interspersed with red berries. This arrangement was flanked on either side with silver candelabra (inherited from Nunnery's mother). These held toll red, lighted candles which cast a warm glow over the table.

Linda McGuire, second vice president, welcomed the members and guests. The devotions were brought by Eileen Burchett, who read the Christmas Story and led the group in the Lord's Prayer.

It was announced that this club, assisted by the Prestonsburg Jr. Woman's Club, would hold open-house, at their Arts and Crafts House at Archer Park, on Thursday, Dec. 21 from 6-8 p.m. Special tea and cookies will be served during that time.

Gifts for the Arts and Crafts House were brought to Thursday night's meeting by members of the club.

Elizabeth Frazier, and members of her Prestonsburg High School's Honor Choir, presented a program of Christmas carols, the rendition of which brought an enthusiastic applause from those in attendance.

Refreshments, in keeping with the Christmas season, were served, with Nunnery presiding at the coffee urn, and Elizabeth Ramey pouring punch.

Mabel Donahoe was in charge of the guest register.

Enjoying this event, other than the hostesses were: Rebecca Rasnick, Burieta Gearhart, Barbara Dawson, Maxine S. Bierman, Ruby Lamping, Lucy C. Regan, Roberta Sloan, Jane Wallace, Mabel Donahoe, Garnett Fairchild, Myrtle B. Allen, Dorothy Osborne, Eileen Burchett, Ora Bussey, Lillian Baldrige and Mable Brown.

The next meeting will be January 4, 1990, at 7:30 p.m., at the Floyd County Library. A "white elephant" sale will be held during that time. Phyllis Herrick, the club's president, asks that members of the executive board please meet there at 7 p.m.

HEREFORDS IN TOWN TO VISIT PARENTS

Dr. and Mrs. John Hereford, their baby son, John Robert, and Mrs. Hereford's brother, David Powers of Kingsport, Tenn., were here during the Thanksgiving holidays for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hereford, and other relatives and friends.

KIWANIANNES TO MEET DEC. 14

FCRT HOLDS MEETING
The Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association (FCRT) held its regular luncheon-meeting, Thursday, Dec. 7 at May Lodge, with registration beginning at 10 a.m. Treasurers, Alma Lowe and Nadine Hicks presided at the registration table. Virginia S. Goble, 1st vice president, distributed Christmas cookbooks, compiled by the FCRT and bearing recipes of retired teachers: Alice O. Martin, Nadine Hicks, Alma Lowe, Imogene Caldwell, Alice Harris, Virginia S. Goble, Arthur Haywood, Carlos Haywood, Opal S. May, Vivian Allen, Ruby Akers, Ethel Ratliff and Pollyanna Owens. She also distributed "favors" donated by the First Commonwealth Bank.

The meeting, which began at 10:30 a.m., was under the direction of Ruby Akers, president. The minutes were read by Imogene Caldwell and the financial report was given by Nadine Hicks.

Carlos Haywood presented Elizabeth Frazier and her Prestonsburg High School Honor Chorus accompanied on the piano by Lynon Frazier and on the trumpet by Tim Lester, who, after rendering a program of Christmas carols, were given a standing ovation and presented a monetary gift.

Arthur Haywood gave the devotional, and the salute to the US Flag was led by Anna Sue Stumbo.

Dale Baggett and Rose Price, representing the Christian Appalachian Project, urged retired teachers to participate in this organization's tutoring program, with the need for this program and the qualifications of the FCRT members being stressed. Those who may be interested in the endeavor should call the CAP office at 886-9989.

Mrs. Greg (Debbie) Stumbo brought greetings from her husband, Floyd County's Kentucky Representative. Committee reports were given by Mike Auxier on legislation; Melvina Thompson on membership; and by Virginia S. Goble on the executive council meeting which she attended in Louisville, on Monday, Dec. 4.

Melvina Thompson said that Floyd County presently has fewer than half of its retired teachers as members of the FCRT, and stressed the importance of membership—"since members do count."

The Big Sandy Retired Teachers' meeting, which was held Tuesday, Dec. 5, was discussed.

The speaker for this FCRT meeting was Frank Hatfield, who for the past 2 1/2 years has been director of the KRTA. Hatfield gave an in-depth report on events pertaining to retired teachers. He said that a favorable report had been given the Kentucky Retired Teachers' Association by the Study Commission, with 8 of 10 items copied from the KRTA program. He reviewed recommendations of the KRTA for the legislative program and stressed the need for membership.

A note of appreciation from the family of the late May K. Roberts, a charter member, was read, and silent prayer was offered for her and for another retired teacher, the late Woodrow Allen.

Alma Lowe announced that the Carter Funeral Home had issued a certificate, stating that a live tree had been planted in the Kentucky forests in memory of Grace Harmon Conley.

Door prizes were awarded to Imogene Caldwell and Arnold Lowe. Nadine Hicks and Alma Lowe volunteered to furnish prizes for the next luncheon-meeting, which will be held March 15, 1990, at May Lodge.

The group was dismissed with prayer by Arthur Haywood.

Present for this event were: Akers, Goble, Caldwell, Sarah Laven, Lowe, Hicks, Norma S. Stepp, Auxier, Danise Amburgey, Arnold Lowe, Helen Stumbo, Thompson, Mary Lou Lavender, Eileen Martin, Elmer Martin, Kalamian Franko, Carmel Akers, Edna Davis, June Stephens, Mildred Whitaker, Mildred Hall, Goldia Williams, Stumbo, Carlos Haywood, Arthur Haywood, May, Annis C. Clark, Mildred Salisbury, and Marcus Owens, members and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hatfield of Shepherdsville, Mrs. Greg Stumbo, Rose Price and Dale Baggett of Prestonsburg, guests.

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Couple

Relatives and friends gathered at the First Presbyterian Church in Prestonsburg on Saturday, Aug. 6, to share in the wedding celebration of Johnna Elizabeth Hill to John Coleman Kirk of Lexington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hill of Prestonsburg, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kirk of Lexington.

The double-ring, candlelight ceremony was read at 6:30 p.m. by the Rev. Brian Stratton.

A program of nuptial selections was presented by David B. Leslie, pianist, and Mary Wright, vocalist, including "Time in a Bottle," "Evergreen" and "Wedding Song."

The church altar and aisle were covered in white linen with brass candleabra holding lighted tapers amid cascading greenery and Boston fern. Pews were decorated with flowing grape leaf ivy. Surrounding the altar were two heart-shaped candleabra with greenery and lighted tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Alencon imported lace, embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The Sabrina neckline accented the fitted torso and long point, sheer lace sleeves. A sheath skirt flowed into a satin trumpet ruffle that was caught in back with a bow flowing into an embroidered cathedral train. Detailing included draped seed pearls accented by a beaded medallion in a keyhole back. The bride's headpiece was a heavily beaded and beaded forehead wreath with a pearl studed sparkle illusion pouffe.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids with Freesia, Bovardia Stephanotis, Heather and white roses. Clusters of white pearls encircled the bouquet.

Sherry Goebel was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Jennifer Rozovich, sister of the bride, Debra Hall and Jennifer Tackett. Their matching gowns were of pink taffeta with a trumpet lame skirt. Lindsay Brooke Rozovich, niece of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid in pink taffeta dress with lame skirt. They carried pink Cattleya Orchids and greenery.

Thomas Smith of Lexington served as best man and the groomsmen were Chuck Johnson, Ted George and John T. Hill II, brother of the bride.

The wedding party also included

Christie Ann Goebel, niece of the bride, as flower girl, and Adam Rozovich, nephew of the bride, as ring bearer.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a supper-length dress accented with a lace collar and fitted peplum of ivory texture silk, with pearl accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses with an ivory ribbon.

The ceremony was followed by a garden reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's mother received guests in a two-piece pink moire brocade suite with pearl accessories. Her corsage was also of pink sweetheart roses with ivory ribbon.

The four-tiered cake a grand baroque design centered a lace covered table with Dendrobium orchids, Freesia, Stephanotis, White Rose and Sprenger cascading from a crystal flute to the table covered with California crystals, mirrors and votive candles.

Hope Sword attended the register table.

The bride is a graduate of Prestonsburg High School and attends the University of Kentucky.

The groom is a graduate of Sheldon Clark High School. He attended UK and is now self-employed.

Out of town guests were Edna and Wayne Harner, Randy Harner, Paula Rulison and children, Chinelle and Andy, all of Jackson, Michigan; Ellis and Elsie Hicks of Frankfort; Kaye Miller and Traci of Shelbyville; Richard and Tina Runyon and son, Nathan, of Mt. Vernon, Ohio; Patsy Byrd of Winchester; and Raymond Kirk of Lexington.

Pre-nuptial events honoring the bride and groom included a rehearsal dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kirk at the Carriage House in Paintsville on Saturday, Aug. 5. Those attending with the bride and groom were: Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kirk, Brian Stratton, Jennifer Rozovich, Sherry Goebel, Debbie Hall, Ted George, Tom Smith, Jenny Tackett, and John Hill II.

A celebration brunch was held on Saturday, Aug. 5, for the wedding party and the parents of the bride and groom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hill.

A party was given for the couple by friends at the home of Charles and Martha Johnson on Saturday, July 22.

A miscellaneous shower was held on Friday, July 7 hosted by Jan Chaffin, Rose Collins, Carol Holland, Rene Castle, Barbara Wright, Carol DeRossett, Janell Steffey, Lena J. Sword, Susie Poe, Juanita Shepherd, Hattie R. Branham, Sally Branham, Virginia B. Tackett and Verlin Nichols.

On Saturday, July 15, a personal shower was given by Hope Sword, Sherry Goebel, Donna DeRossett Spears and Jennifer Tackett.

PRESCRIPTION VS. NON-PRESCRIPTION

Contrary to what some people may believe, prescription medications are not necessarily more powerful than their over-the-counter equivalents. Specifically, researchers at the University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine in Philadelphia found that the non-prescription pain reliever ibuprofen out performed a combination of codeine and acetaminophen. Their study involved 200 patients who had just had their impacted wisdom teeth removed. Some of the patients received ibuprofen for their pain, while the others got the codeine compound. When the groups were asked to rate their relief, the ibuprofen group reported higher levels of pain control. Even though this study involved only one type of dental pain, other studies have confirmed that some OTC pain medications work as well as prescription products.

A wide array of quality over-the-counter medications and health care items line the shelves of COOLEY APOTHECARY. When it comes to your health care needs, we have them fully covered. If you are having difficulty selecting the correct item, please ask us for assistance. You can rely upon our knowledge and expertise to help you make the best purchase possible. Learn for yourself why your friends and neighbors already rely on us at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3.

HINT: OTC drugs often carry fewer side effects than prescription medications.

Wax Stains Are No Problem With Right Removal Tactics

Holidays bring happiness and cheer, and lighting candles seems to add to the warm feeling. However, if some of the wax from the candle gets on your clothes, the cheery feeling may soon subside.

Candle wax stains can be removed, but the process takes a little longer than for regular stains, and should be done as soon as possible, said Frances Pitts, Floyd County Home Economics Extension Agent.

"The first thing is to remember is that fresh stains are easier to remove than old ones, and that drying in the dryer could make stains permanent," Pitts said.

towels and iron from the back side of the fabric to remove any left over wax.

The remaining stain can be sponged over with dry cleaning solvent or waterless hand cleaner, she said. After all these steps, regular washing with detergent and color-safe bleach should remove any traces of the stain.

For more information about stain removal, the Floyd County Extension Agent for home economics can help.

Long Awaited Reunion

WWII Veterans Meet Again

With the December 7 passing of the 48th anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor, many veterans reminisce about the war and those they served with. Wesley Leon Hall of Martin had the chance this year to do more than remember. He was visited by his comrade in arms, Harold "Bob" Spears from Randolph, Maine.

Spears and his wife Maxine were on their way to visit their daughter in Texas and decided to visit Hall, and another Naval friend, Russell Edwards, in Bruce, Miss. Hall had not seen Spears since they were stationed in Pearl Harbor together in February of 1946.

Hall and his wife Charlotte are now busy making plans to reciprocate the visit and travel to Maine to see the Spears.

Rated the safest car in America.

ACCORDING to a recent insurance industry study based on millions of injury claims involving more than 200 kinds of cars, Mercedes-Benz S-Class sedans fitted with the Supplemental Restraint System had the best safety record on the American road.*

S-Class owners may not find this so startling. They know that such key safety-related ideas as the driver's-side air bag and ABS electronic anti-lock braking were first offered in America on the cars of the S-Class.

Technology now standard equipment on every new Mercedes-Benz.

We invite you to test-drive an S-Class sedan today. Among its many comforts and reassurances, you will also find an abiding sense of security.

LAMPLIGHTERS HAVE GATHERING AT BESTS

Members of the Lamplighters group, of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial) in met fellowship hall on Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 3:45 p.m.

In preparation for singing in the church choir this past Sunday, Tom Foy, music director, was accompanied by Gay Herrin on the piano in leading the group in the singing of "In the Bleak Mid-Winter."

Then, the group went by church bus to the home of Frankie Best of Cliff.

Best, a talented artist, had used her artistic ability in the planning and preparation of unique decorations for her home.

A friendship electric candle glowed from each window; and antique milk cans, holding large poinsettias, framed the front door.

On the coffee table was a lamp globe, holding a red candle and surrounded by poinsettias, interspersed with white tree branches, on which three Kentucky Cardinals were perched.

At the center of the antique dining room table, which was covered with a red, black and gold cloth, was a bouquet of poinsettias and a cluster of red candles.

Over the mantle was a large, wreath, of white poinsettias and golden trumpets, with overhanging greenery and red candles rounding out this part of the decorations.

(Frankie, a retired school teacher, shares the secret that underneath the mantle's wreath was a 40-year-old miniature schoolhouse).

The main attraction was the live pine Christmas tree, which reached to near the house's ceiling, and was laden with homemade decorations.

Credit for helping her with the decorations and entertainment was given by the hostess to Carol Holland, (who, with Frankie's guidance, made the decorations), Thelma Pruitt, Curt and Marilyn Tackett and Connie Young and son, Rusty Young.

Enjoying this hospitality and "goodies" of popcorn balls, sandwiches, spiced punch and other refreshments were: Thomas Foy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pettrey, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Patton, Myrtle Allen, Vivian Fraley, Sarah Laven, Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, Jerri Midkiff, Pearl Robertson, Clara Harris, Lucy Regan, Alka Burchett, Helen Music and Ada Meade.

Books And Things:

Documenting History To Last Throughout The Ages

by Trisha Morris PCC Librarian

The history of man is divided by events that mark generations. The following books from the Prestonsburg Community College Library chronicle events in architecture, sports, war, technology and social change that marked the 20th century

A Short History of the Korean War, by James L. Stokesbury. The question most asked about the United Nations "peace action" (it was never declared a war) in Korea is: Was it really necessary? Lasting for three years and one month (June 1950 - July 1953) the "action" in Korea cost billions of dollars and hundreds of thousands of lives. Foreshadowing Vietnam, it was seen as "a lapse of good judgment, which should not have happened and which everyone would prefer to forget."

Stokesbury, in a very readable style, explains why US involvement in the UN "peace action" in Korea was probably unavoidable. He writes logically of the first year of maneuvers and battles, before and after the Chinese Communists intervened, and also of the occasionally heavy fighting during the two years of peace negotiations.

The book includes background commentary on things that happened during "Korea." The Truman-MacArthur controversy; the smear campaigns of Senator Joseph McCarthy; and the influence of the war on the election of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Portraits in Silicon, by Robert Slater. The birth of the computer age is a mark in history that has affected everyone.

Presented here, in thumbnail sketches, are 31 people who were of paramount importance in the conception and creation of the computer industry. From the 19th century self-taught mathematician Charles Babbage, who never saw his engines built, to Steven Jobs, who co-founded Apple Computer in his garage, Slater discusses figures from every part of the computer industry and notes the fascinating links between them.

"They all sought to demystify technology and to bring it to the public; they were fascinated with the unknown and loved science and gadgets; and above all else, they were willing to work incredibly hard in pursuit of their visions."

Spotlighted are such figures as Silicon chip inventor, Jack Kilby; mainframe designers, Gene Amdahl and Seymour Cray; software specialists, Grace Hopper (COBOL), John Backus (FORTRAN), John Kemeny and Tom Krutz (BASIC) and Dennis Richie and Ken Thompson (UNIX). Slater gives us an overview of computer history through the people who made it possible.

Woodstock: The Oral History, by Joel Makower. On August 15, 16 and 17, 1969, nearly 500,000 children of the sixties descended on the small rural community of White Lake, N.Y., for a weekend of peace, love and music. The Woodstock Music and Arts Festival was not only the largest counter-culture event ever staged, it came to symbolize a generation of young people who — despite rain, mud, overcrowded conditions and a seemingly unlimited supply of drugs — co-existed in peace, love and harmony.

Twenty years later, those who experienced Woodstock firsthand, as well as those who heard the tales, read the articles and saw the movie, still marvel at the fact that the festival, which by all measures should have been a disaster, took place at all. Legally barred from its planned location just a month before its scheduled date, the festival was relocated to Max Yasgur's farm. And then it rained — and rained. The half-million participants (only 40,000 were expected) had to camp out. What was intended as a money making venture for its promoters became a free concert, leaving the organizers over one million dollars in debt.

So why was Woodstock, ultimately, a resounding success, leaving an indelible mark in the history books? Published to coincide with the festival's 20th anniversary, this book provides fascinating insights into the Woodstock phenomenon. It offers those who want a chance to relive the experience, and those not yet born, a chance to see what the Woodstock Nation was all about.

Featuring scores of interviews with those who made Woodstock happen and over 150 photos, the book captures the spirit of the festival in a colorfully woven tapestry.

Frank Lloyd Wright, by Robert C. Twombly. Ask someone to name a famous architect and the answer will invariably be Frank Lloyd Wright. The master architect triumphed over hostility, indifference, boredom and the ignorance of well-meaning people to herald an individuality and vision that changed the American landscape. His life's goal was, "to bring about a more humane world through architecture."

Frank Lloyd Wright, like his buildings, was different. He lived with such flair and drama that any book written about him has to be fascinating.

Twombly provides his reader with a glimpse into one of the greatest minds of the twentieth century. A master architect, public speaker, writer and social critic, Frank Lloyd Wright's life from childhood to death is chronicled here along with numerous black and white photographs of his architecture.

Sports For Sale, by David A. Klatell. If television has marked the 20th century as the beginning of the "high tech" gadgets that have taken over our homes, televised sports is perhaps how it has changed the American habit the most. No longer must we leave the comfort of home to watch from a hard bleacher seat where only occasionally we see the action of our favorite sporting event.

In this colorful, fact-filled account of televised sports, the author explores numerous connections between sports, television, money and the fans. He lets readers in on the manipulations television executives do to keep their audience glued to the set until the last commercial. In alpine skiing events, for example, film was edited so that the winning skier went down the slope last.

Klatell provides an extensive chapter on the Olympics, describing the bidding wars between the major networks, the behind-the-scenes logistics, and the technical brilliance of the broadcasts.

An eye-opening account of how television capitalizes on the American addiction to sports, in order to sell cars, after shave and soap suds.

FINAL NOTICE

Notification is hereby given to the public of the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) intent to provide assistance for the purpose of restoring bridges and facilities, which were damaged in the recent major disaster declared as a result of severe storms, flooding and mudslides, in eleven counties in Eastern Kentucky, namely: Clay, Floyd, Jackson, Knott, Knox, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Owsley, Perry and Pike. These bridges and facilities are located within the base floodplain, and therefore, are subject to review under the President's Floodplain Executive Order. Public comment about restoration was invited by Public Notice on November 8.

Comments and other information received were fully evaluated by FEMA along with evaluations of social, economic, environmental and safety considerations. FEMA has consulted with State and local officials to insure compliance with applicable floodplain protection standards. FEMA has determined that the only practicable alternative is to locate these bridges and facilities at their original locations within the floodplain. Their restoration will also incorporate certain measures designed to mitigate the effects of future flooding.

Interested parties may obtain further information about these actions and their specific locations by calling the TOLL FREE HOTLINE TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1-800-338-0140. Monday through Friday, between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac Discuss Environmental Hazard Disclosure

Growing consumer awareness of the impact environmental hazards have on residential property necessitates that the real estate industry band together to develop appropriate disclosure standards, according to representatives from the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. (Freddie Mac.)
Bob Englestad, vice president for mortgage standards at Fannie Mae, and Joel Pasternak, vice president for mortgage credit policy at Freddie Mac, discussed environmental hazards disclosure here during the National Association of Realtors 1989 Annual Convention and Trade Exposition. About 15,000 Realtors and guests are attending the Nov. 9-14 convention.

The environmental hazards session was held by NAR's conventional mortgage products subcommittee. Hazards such as the presence of radon, asbestos or contaminated groundwater, which can reduce or, in extreme cases, eliminate, property value, are "real problems that must be addressed" in the transaction process, according to Pasternak, noting that real estate professionals face increasing "potential for long-term liability."

Clean-up costs and risk to property values are widely recognized as substantial risks within the real estate industry, particularly the secondary mortgage market.

Under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act, and related state laws, lenders, including Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae, may be liable for the recover of clean-up costs on properties contaminated with hazardous waste. Under these laws, liability may be attached to all involved in the ownership of contaminated property, regardless of who caused the contamination.

Fannie Mae requires lenders to disclose the presence of a hazard to mortgage applicants, and it requires borrowers to maintain their properties in accordance with any applicable state of federal laws pertaining to hazardous waste storage.

The agency has notified lenders that if they trace a loan delinquency to hazardous waste, they should not begin foreclosure without contacting Fannie Mae first, Englestad said. In addition to lost property value, costs associated with mitigating or eliminating the hazard pose a problem.

As homeowners become more aware of risks associated with the hazards, lenders face having to acquire a property from an owner unwilling to pay the clean-up costs, he noted. Lenders also must consider the possibility of a state or federal regulatory agency attempting to recoup clean-up costs, he added.

The prospects of such long-term liability make it imperative that uniform standards are developed.
