"Kentucky has a long and colorful history of election fraud - a history which will soon be coming to an end.'

This was a statement made by Kentucky Attorney General Fred Cowan during a press conference yesterday. The conference, was initiated by the U.S.A. Attorney's Office. Included on the panel along with Cowan were Louis DeFalaise, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky; Terry O'Connor, special agent in charge of the Louisville Field Division of the FBI; Craig Donsanto, director of election crimes branch, public integrity section of the U.S. Department of Justice; and Pike County Commonwealth Attorney John Paul Runyon who was selected to represent area commonwealth attorneys. Cowan called this year's cooperative efforts by local, state and federal agencies a first. He said by bringing all levels of government into play will mean a greater chance of convictions for several reasons. He said that cases could be taken to federal court if there was a conflict in state courts and a much wider jury pool would be available and that there would be more election monitors and investigators. "We will soon stamp out election fraud in Kentucky," the attorney general continued, "No longer will there be a wink and a nod when it comes to election fraud. We have not defeated the problem yet, but we are and supporters gathered at the Floyd County Courthouse Thursday to welcome and show support for Democratic Senatorial candidate Harvey Sloane.

Sloane, who is running against Republican incumbent Mitch McConnell, made the stop in Floyd County as part of tour of Eastern Kentucky which included visits in Pikeville and Hazard.

Incumbent Congressional candidate Chris Perkins addressed the group before Sloane, emphasizing that voter turnout and party loyalty would be the key to a victory for the Floyd County Democratic leaders party's success in Tuesday's election. Perkins faces GOP challenger Will T. Scott in next Tuesday's vote.

> In his address, Sloane also emphasized that voter turnout would be the decisive factor in the election. The former physician outlined his philosophy of working for the working people of Kentucky, noting that his opponent has been working for the rich during his term in office. Before closing, the candidate emphasized that he would also work toward a national energy policy/based on coal and domestic fuels instead of a petroleum based plan.

The Floyd Board of Education is awaiting the results of the new assessments before it can set next year's property tax rate. The board has proposed a 58 cents per $100 assessment as the tax rate for next year.

Superintendent Ron Hager has said the board proposed the high rate because the new tax figures were not available and that the rate could be lower if more revenue is generated by the new assessment.

DeFalaise said the citizens of the commonwealth have a commitment from federal and state government to end vote fraud in Kentucky. He called this year's campaign against vote fraud "leading" and "aggressive."

He said he will have investigators in the field throughout the Eastern District and that a federal grand jury has already been notified to convene on Wednesday, November 7, to begin processing any complaints.

Both he and Cowan said every allegation of vote fraud would be investigated. O'Connor added the FBI would "vigorously" pursue any allegations as well.

DeFalaise said that election problems were by no means limited to Eastern Kentucky, but the area is on the "higher end of the scale."

Both Cowan's office and the FBI have set up toll free numbers for people wishing to report any type of election law violations.

been made. "Crimes against the ballot box is a crime of the first order and magnitude," Donsanto said. "The most important thing I can say is that we cannot do any type of rectification without the help. We need citizens to come forth and tell us about vote fraud."

O'Connor said that people need to be aware of what constitutes vote fraud.

He said they include but are not timited to:

Promising something of value in exchange for votes (buying votes); threats or coercion; voting more than once; and tampering with voting machines or stuffing ballot boxes.

He said people could be imprisoned for up to five years or fined up to $250,000.

Cowan also added that under Kentucky election laws selling votes is also now a crime. He said a person who sells his vote could face one to five years in prison.

DeFalaise's final statement summed the entire mood of the press conference; board apparently obtained an option several months ago to purchase the property from May for $400,000 and the board voted unanimously in July to exercise that option. A second vote, during the October 10 board meeting, confirmed the purchase, but this time with board members Tommy Boyd and Ray Campbell voting against the measure.

"Don't let people steal your vote (with any type of fraud), do something about it.'

Both Boyd and Campbell indicated in the October meeting that they preferred to have the city high school remain in Prestonsburg.

Board chairman James D. Adams has led the drive to relocate the new high school at Middle Creek, defending the move as necessary. Adams, in a campaign advertisement published October 17, chastised Boyd and Campbell for voting against the new high school site, indicating both board had "neglected your duties by voting no for a program which will enhance the educational opportunities of the youth living in your educational division.'

In response to questions from the Times, published October 24, Adams said a Floyd County School District Facility Survey "indicated a tremendous need for new schools to replace and below the 100-year flood plain." Adams added that "prior to the selection of a school site, the local board must ensure the site is of sufficient acreage, above the 100-year flood plain, accessible to public utilities and in compliance with the school facilities construction criteria."

Billips has countered that a state facilities survey had recommended renovation and expansion of the existing Prestonsburg High School, adding that renovation of the current high school could be completed at a cost much lower than the expense of building a new school. He has also contended that renovation of the existing school could free up funds for work on other school system facilities

Billips said Thursday that nearly 15 percent of the $6.6 million to be spent on the new high school would go toward land purchase and site preparation, and he added that another $1 million could be needed to pay for extension of utility services to the site.

"Regardless of who they say will pay for all of this work," Billips said Thursday, "ultimately it will be the taxpayers who pick up the tab."

earthquake on August 17 at 5:04 p.m. that measured 4,0 on the Richter Scale.

The greatest hazard to residents in Eastern Kentucky, Chaffins said, is being unprepared. "If this happens in the Eastern part, it would be worse, because we haven't been prepared." Chaffins said, explaining that the western part of the state is taking precautionary measures. Several schools which are close to the fault zone have scheduled closing dates, Nov. 29 to Dec. 9, and are stockpiling a week's worth of food.

According to Chaffins, preplanning is the key to preventing injuries. He advises residents to look in every room of their homes for potential hazards. "Locate utility shutoffs. Fasten water heaters and shelves to the wall," Chaffins said. Tall cabinets and appliances which may fall over during a quake should also be secured.

Heavy objects should be placed on lower shelves. Bottled goods, glass, china, and other breakables should also be stored on lower shelves.

Chaffins also advises residents to keep an emergency kit on hand. The kit should contain first aid supplies, a flashlight, a portable radio with fresh batteries, nonperishable foods and bottled water and tools.

If an earthquake does occur, stay calm, Chaffins suggests. Take cover under a heavy table or under a strong interior doorway, Chaffins said. Stay away from glass and utility wires, and be prepared for aftershocks.

Chaffins said that Area Nine D.E.S. office is preparing for the quake. "The state D.E.S. and the National Guard are taking this seriously," Chaffins said, "we're making sure shelves and radio towers are secure.'

Chaffins also explained D.E.S has a preplanning earthquake program which can be presented to area school children. The presentation includes a short video by Yogi Bear, who explains precautions children should

The third annual Safe Trick-or-Treat Night co-sponsored by the Prestonsburg Rotary Club and the Holiday Inn was once again a major success. Approximately 2,000 people traversed the "Trail of Terror" between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Sunday evening. As with any successful event of this magnitude, the credit for a job well done belongs to many individuals, groups and businesses. I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank all of those involved.

I extend my gratitude to the Holiday Inn. Without the generous donation of their facility and the co-operation of the owners, management and staff, this event would not have been possible.

I extend my gratitude to the Prestonsburg City Police and Fire Departments, the Floyd County Sheriff's Department and the Pikeville Post of the Kentucky State Police. Without the participation of these officials, we could not have had a safe and controlled event.

I extend my gratitude to WMDJ Radio in Martin for their live broadcast from the event.

I extend my gratitude to all of the individuals, businesses and organizations (at least 40 of them) who participated by treating the participants along the "Trail of Terror,"

And, most importantly, I extend

I read the Chairman of the Board's ad of October 3, 1990, with great interest. I was surprised to learn that the ACT scores of PHS Seniors, as well as the $800,000 worth of scholarships, were due to his work. I know that the teachers at PHS appreciate the help; but, when asked, many can't remember seeing him in the building except at graduation last year.

If he is so inaccurate about these, what else has he stated inaccurately when he says, "we will have it?" Let's let him have it, and vote for our teachers who are doing the job.

As a former Floyd County School superintendent and long-tenured school administrator, I have always felt the Floyd Countians are intelligent and capable of sorting facts from political rhetoric.

When Governor Julian Carroll signed the deed for 80 acres of land at Stanville, Ky., at the bargain rate of about $54,000, sit of the new Betsy Layne High School and football field, present were school board chairman John M. Stumbo, board member Ray "Shag" Campbell, Asst. Supt. Ray Brackett, State Representative James "Jitter" Allen, Supt. Pete Grigsby, and Lowell Sammons, businessman and former magistrate. State Board of Education regulations required a site of 13 acres out of the flood plain, and this amount of arreage was not available and affordable out of the flood plain at Betsy Layne.

When I was a member of the Regional Advisory council for Vocational Education, the Floyd County Board of Education deeded eight acres of the new site to the Commonwealth of Kentucky and to the Department of Vocational Education for the presentmock-mining program. This move saved the vocational educational be prevented, people who risk serious complications from influenza can prevent catching it by having a flu shot.

Department for Health Services officials recommends that anyone with chronic heart or lung disease should have a flu shot. Those with chronic kidney disease or diabetes or nursing home residents should be immunized.

Anyone older than 65-regardless of their health status-and physicians, nurses and other health care professionals who have contact with high-risk patients should also have a flu shot, said Andrew Pelletier, M.D., a state epidemiologist.

"It's important for people in these groups to have the shot because of potential complications from the flu," Pelletier said, "While most of us suffer a three- to five-day sickness from the flu, it can be life-threatening for older people or those with existing health problems.

"However, less than 30 percent of those people in the targeted groups receive an influenza vaccination each year."

Pelletier says that the reasons for not getting the shots are varied. People older than 65 many times wrongly think that if they are healthy that they do not need an influenza vaccination.

The myth that flu shots actually cause a person to develop the flu also persists and prevents some people from getting the shot, Pelletier said.

"Today's vaccines use an inactivated virus, and it is not possible for a person to get the flu from the vaccine," he said. "The only commonside effect from getting the shot is a possible sore arm for a couple of days-this occurs in about onethird of the people who receive the shots."

Influenza shots in Kentucky should be administered through November, Pelletier said. Flu activity in the state usually does not begin before December.

"If people in the high-risk groups are going to be visiting their doctor anytime soon, they should go ahead and request a flu shot at that time," he said. "We find that if shots become a

they are more likely to get the shots than if they have to make a special trip to the doctor or health department

Flu vaccinations are available at local health departments and from private physicians.

The shots can be given to most people, except those with a severe allergy to eggs. Those people who have a short-term illness with fever should put off getting the shot until they have recovered.

Pregnant women should consult with a doctor before receiving the immunization.

Pelletier warns that people younger than age 18 who have a flulike illness should not take aspirin while sick because of the risk of Reye's Syndrome, which is a disease

While Kentucky's flu season can't routine part of people's health care, that affects the central nervous system and liver and is associated with the combination of flu and aspirin use in children and teenagers. It is fatal in 10 to 40 percent of the cases.

Parents should contact their child's doctor for alternatives to aspirin use during flu-like illnesses.

program $165,000 (tax monies), and kept this program within Floyd County rather than going to the competing counties of Pike and Martin.

Allen Elementary School site was purchased because of price, size, and due to the fact it is out of the flood plain. Another site in New Allen was not purchased because price per acre was higher than determined by stateappointed appraisers. The school district could not go above the stateappraised price without the district bearing the excess cost above the appraisal. The Floyd County School District did not have available local funds because these funds had been used to purchase the Prestonsburg Middle School site and capital outlay funds were exhausted.

In 1988 the Kentucky Department of Education conducted a school facility survey, and recommended a $1.5 million dollar addition and renovation of the current Prestonsburg High to include adequate library facilities, science labs, and agriculture shops which could be provided without taking this high school from its present location. The late George Lee Shannon, architect and structural engineer, had stated numerous times that the present high school was built to accommodate additions.

With new schools built or being built in Prestonsburg, Allen, Right and Left Beaver, what is the delay in building the needed facility for Betsy Layne Elementary? When will Maytown, Harold, Martin, and McDowell quit using their oft-flooded schools and get new schools. Where are the renovations and additions for Prestonsburg Elementary and Melvin? Why wasn't Auxier Elementary renovation started during summer months rather than this past month, paying maintenance men time and a half for weekend work? What are the most needed priorities?

Why does the board chairman make such a fanfare about voting for a new facility in other educational districts? Other board members voted unanimously for the Prestonsburg Middle School site at Lancer. Aren't Board members elected to provide adequate facilities for ALL CHIL-DREN in all educational districts. No single board member should be allowed to select a site or set priorities for the entire Floyd County School District

It is a distinct pleasure to see the Prestonsburg Middle School, the Garrett-Wayland Duff Elementary, Allen, and Left Beaver Creek High School complete or in finishing stages as all their contracts were signed in 1986 when I was superintendent. I have questioned why the Allen Elementary construction was so long delayed. The site was purchased and mineral right obtained in 1988 and due to the combined efforts of Allen PTA, board member Shag Campbell, and concerned citizens, State Superintendent John Brock finally authorized an emergency order in November 1989 to proceed with negotiated contracts. Why was this even necessary? Allen students should have been in their new school this year.

Floyd Countians, study the political advertisements and sort fact from fiction. Talk to teachers, some of the most influential people in your children's lives. When you vote in the next election for board members, vote with the children in mind.

Its been a while since I have written about the pesky little things called "boogers" when I was growing up. mostly called head lice now. I have been hearing of them being in the schools in this area, so felt it a good time to let the folks know of the fine

VINEGAR treatment again, for killing the "boogers" also the nits or eggs of the lice. Vinegar kills both! I know this by my own experience, because I used to use the vinegar after shampooing my hair and rinsing it, for a conditioner, since the vinegar is a very good conditioner for the scalp!

Using the vinegar sure beats putting the smelly ointment my mother used to put on our heads, when we went home from school, with "boogers" on our heads. And vinegar is so easy to use, after rinsing the hair, just pour it on the hair, making sure to get it on ALL the hair. If the child is small wetting a washcloth in the vinegar and putting it on the hair is a real good way so as not to get it in the eyes of the child. It will sting a bit if one does this.

This might sound too good to be true, but that's what I thought when I heard that the fine spice ginger was good for motion sickness. So, one day I tried it, it worked perfect, with no drowsiness or other alle gic reactions. I'm glad I tried it!

Sincerely, Mrs. Esta Mae Tackett East Point, KY

WHAT YOU DO IN THIS VOTING BOOT ON NOVEMBER 6th

MAY WELL BE THE SINGLE MOST IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTION YOU'VE EVER MADE TO YOUR CHURCH. Vote November 6th

You the people of this county should be aware that while many students within this system achieve many great heights of rewards, there are many who do not. Facilities alone do not create these achievements. It takes parents, teachers, and the child himself to do these things. We must however, give each child every opportunity to have the surroundings necessary to attain these goals. Building one school serves one group of these children. We must meet the needs of all children with the limited money that is available to us. Having already spent $400,000 for property, we will need to spend another $750,000 for development of the land and another $1,000,000 for water and sewage. $2,200,000 would then have been spent before the first block has been laid. With hidden costs this project could easily become $2,500,000 of your tax dollars. Don't be fooled, the costs for water lines, site preparations, and others would be paid by you the taxpayer. Already we have heard the board chairman state that he wants to double your property taxes. The plan in 1988 was to renovate and add an addition to the existing Prestonsburg High School, what happened?

There is a better Way!

I propose that this money be spent in the following manner.

1 - To renovate and expand the existing high school so that our children have one on par with any school in this area. Build additional classrooms and renovate what is now the biggest gymnasium in this region. This would provide the classroom facilities so needed to offer a curriculum second to none!

2 - To renovate and expand the facilities of the sixty-three year old building at Auxier. This structure seems to have been forgotten by the board! Except of course during the election years, such as this year, when general maintenance and improvements are being done on weekends.

3 - While the Clark school is the newest of the three grade schools, it is by no means without needs. Update and improve facilities to prepare these students for their future.

4-We will be able to renovate the Prestonsburg facility and finally close the "dungeon" in the basement that fills with water when it rains.

Let's use our money wisely and make this a system for all our children.

Geraniums are one of my favorite flowers. They bloom continuously, and are beautiful in pots, hanging baskets, boxes, in a vegetable garden, in a flower garden, or even in a coffee can

Each year geraniums are bigger, stronger and prettier (if possible) than the year before. Plants used to be selected on the basis of color-white, pink, or red. Now the choice not only includes a rainbow colors, but a variety of blooms and plant size.

The ivy geranium is new to me. About four or five years ago, I saw my first ivy geranium, and since then I have bought several in pink, white, and purple colors. Today, I was given a deep red plant.

I lost all my other ivy geraniums by placing them in full sun. I didn't know until today that Ivy geraniums had to be grown in the shade. Before, I would hang mine in the sun - the more sun the better, I thought. They would begin to show signs of dying, and I would take them out of the old pots thinking they needed new dirt.

After repotting, I kept them in the shade to overcome the shock of transplanting and they would start growing and blooming. Bingo! Back in the sun they would go. As a result, about two months is the longest I ever had one to survive. Common sense should have told me they needed shade.

The one I was given today is a deep, deep red with dark glossy leaves and long vines - in other words, it is healthy.

Ivy geraniums must have cooler conditions than our local summers provide. The only thing I can do to cool them off is try to find a heavy leafed tree to hang them in during the hot summer days. They don't like air conditioning and I don't have it.

Most Ivy geraniums are grown in hanging baskets but they do well, so I read, in shady ground beds. If the ground does not have good drainage, build a raised bed for them. Flowers, like vegetables, do better in raised and mulched beds.

Garden soil with added organic matter is adequate for raised beds. watered well each time. The plants will thrive and offer a beautiful display if different colors of geraniums are used.

Plants to be used in window boxes, hanging baskets and patio containers will not tolerate garden soil. Use growing media like greenhouse Metro mix, or choice mix can be obtained locally. The containers have less drainage than a raised bed, and these geraniums must have exceptionally good drainage. The plants will need water about every three days.; more often in hot weather. They require about one inch of water and should be

About twice a year, geraniums should be watered with a complete water-soluble fertilizer (20-20-20).

Most geraniums are insect free. The ivy geraniums are quite often damaged by spider mites. Sometimes cutworms and caterpillars work on the leaves. The best control is to remove the culprits by hand and destroy them.

Sounds like a lot more work than geraniums really require. I'm going to do everything I have learned today to try to keep my Ivy geranium alive. To me, they are worth it.

Asbestos alert

Most public and private schools in Kentucky began implementing asbestos management plans months ago in compliance with state and federal laws aimed at protecting students from asbestos-related risks.

However, some private schools may still be unaware of the requirements under the federal Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act, said Parker H. Moore, Coordinator of the state Division of Air Quality's Program. Notice was given to all schools with students in kindergarten through twelfth grade. But there is a possibility some private schools may be "hidden" from the official view since there is no legal requirement that private schools register with the state Department of Education, said Moore. Penalties for non-compliance could be as much as $25,000 per violation per day. The Asbestos Program Coordinator said his office prefers voluntary compliance by schools and, even at this late date, there are provisions in the law that allow leniency.

increased in the 1960s when research found that breathing the fibrous mineral increases the risk of lung cancer and asbestos, a debilitating lung disorder.

Damaged or deteriorating asbestos must be removed under controlled conditions. Asbestos is hazardous when its fibers are released into the air. It may not be necessary to remove stable undamaged asbestos material, but the asbestos must be monitored or maintained.

Prestonsburg leads MSU in regional enrollment

Enrollment at MSU's regional locations has grown nearly 44 percent since 1986, according to figures released by the University's registrar. MSU programs at Prestonsburg reported an enrollment of 381 for the 1990 Fall Semester.

Much of the off-campus growth since 1986 is attributed to the addition of upper division undergraduate courses to the schedule of graduate classes traditionally offered by the University at regional locations, according to Dr. Dan Thomas, interim dean of graduate and extended campus programs. The courses are designed to meet the needs of those who have two years of college, but who cannot leave their home area to take additional work toward a fouryear degree.

Words of wisdom, and encouragement

Recently Eric Malone mailed a letter to Prestonsburg; not to his family, but to his friends at the Carl D. Perkins Job Corps Center, Malone spent nine months at the Perkins Center, graduating in April 1990.

In June, he enlisted in the U.S. Air Force, but he did not report for Basic Training until August. After completing Basic Training in October, Malone began studies at an Air Force Technical School.

But Malone did not write just to tell his friends in Prestonsburg what he was doing. "My reason for writing," said Malone, "is to inform you that I didn't stop after I left you guys (in Prestonsburg). When I graduated from Carl D. Perkins, I went home and worked until I reported for Basic Training."

Malone continued, "When I finish my (technical) training and receive my permanent station assignment, I plan to attend college. I also plan to make the military my career."

Along with salutations to friends and faculty, Malone added "I know I miss that place, it's done a lot for me."

Malone especially thanked members of the faculty and staff who had been so helpful, "especially Mr. Grim,

Allen Central named school of the week

Allen Central High School has been selected as "School of the Week" for the week of November 12 in KET's Star Channels interactive learning course "AP Calculus."

One of the nine Kentucky schools receiving the satellite-delivered, live high school course, Allen Central will be featured all week during its noon broadcasts. The student enrolled in the course is Robyn Williams. The on-site classroom facilitator is Joyce O. Watson.

"School of the Week" and "School of the Day" are special features of all KET's interactive learning classrooms. Since the courses are taught by satellite across the state, spotlighting a school allows students in these classrooms to get to know one another and share in the instruction.

In addition to "AP Calculus" ---which prepares students to take the Advanced Placement exam and can earn them college credit - KET offers high school "Probability and Statistics," "Physics," and "German I" courses by satellite.

He continued, "thanks for everything. You guys did it for me and now I'm doing this for you and for my country.

But his final words were to his fellow students, "don't take today's world for granted," Malone told them, "it's not that easy any more, so keep working. I hope this picture will inspire the students at Carl D. Perkins to press on after they graduate."

or not, you need to have a voice in your community's schools. If you are a business professional, you know the importance of having quality schools to attract businesses to your community. If you are a taxpayer, you are concerned about how your tax dollars are being used to provide public education in your community. You have an interest in strengthening the business climate and quality of life in your community through good schools. In short, all of us have an interest in the public schools.

In making decisions about which candidates to vote for in this fall's election, it would be helpful to consider the primary responsibilities of the school board, which are: policy making, planning and interpreting needs, approving and adopting the district budget, setting local tax rates, and hiring and evaluating the superintendent.

It would also be helpful to consider state requirements for school board members. South all over again. It will be respectability versus school records. Tonight the Allen Central Rebels will invade the Betsy Layne football stadium to face a winless Bobcat football squad in the season finale for both teams. No district title is at stake here, no bowl championship to be settled here. Just a matter of school pride and a school record.

The Bobcats will be battling for respectability in looking for their first victory of the now finished football season. However, the Rebels, winners of four straight, will be looking to complete the season as the only Rebel football team with a winning record. The Rebels (5-5) can finished with a satisfying 6-5 mark with a win.

On the other side, Betsy Layne would like nothing better than to do two things --- win their first game and stop the Rebels from having a winning season. It hasn't been a good season for coach Gerald Newsome's Bobcats (0-10) as a matter of a fact it has been a frustrating year for the Bobcats. Preseason play brought optimism in the Bobcat camp. The Cats look as if this could be their year. Maybe not so much as a district title in the tough district they are in, but a winning season. Not only have the Cats gone winless, but have had problems in putting points on the scoreboard. The Bobcats have been shutout in seven of the ten games they have played this year. Betsy Layne scored against Magoffin County (12-6), M.C. Napier (42-6) and Lawrence County (39-6). Tonight the Bobcats will try and put the points on the scoreboard as they try to end the season on a positive note and look to next season with more optimism.

Bobby Wise has scored two of the Bobcats touchdowns this season with Randy Woods getting the other one. The Bobcats will be all set for this one as the Rebels come to town. Sophomore Brian Combs or Chad Hunter will be the signal caller as the two teams take the field tonight.

It will be the North versus the put the points on the scoreboard. The Rebels have defeated KSD (36-26), Fairview (29-0), Wheelwright (24-14) and MMI (30-12). Allen Central has lost to the likes of Paintsville (District 2 runners-up), Raceland (District 2 champions), Hazard (lost to Paintsville for second place). A loss at Phelps has Coach Jamerson believing that his Rebels would make a better showing if they could replay the Phelps game.

> "We are a different team this time of the year than we were the first half," said Jamerson. "If we could replay some of the earlier losses the final outcome would be different. We might still lose but not as bad."

One reason for the resurgence of the Rebels has been the torrid scoring of Tommy Gibson, who up top the KSD game had not scored a touchdown for the Rebels. Gibson missed the Hazard game because of an injury and then the Rebels had a open date. Gibson has been on a tear of late scoring three touchdowns against KSD, two against Fairview, one against Wheelwright and last week three against MMI.

Confidence is high in the Rebel camp as the long awaited match finally arrives. What better way for two teams to end the season. The return to the quarterback position by B.J. Aldrich has also helped the Rebels offense as well as help build confidence. Aldrich was out with a shoulder injury and was replaced by Brett Meadows, who tried to help his team by filling in, but welcomed the return of Aldrich. Todd Lucas and Jamie Rister has found that scoring TDs are fun and have also contributed to the scheme of things for Allen Central.

The defense of the Rebels has been improved by the inspired play of the offense. Brian Wallen and Meadows along with Kevin Clatworthy has been hitting harder than they were in the earlier going. All three also play the offensive line and Gibson and company have found the holes they need behind the blocking of the "Forcible Three." As one comedian put it, "whoever heard of a "CIVIL WAR". This war tonight will be UNCIVIL as the two county teams battle each other. One for a record, the other for respectability. Tonight is parent night at Betsy Layne as the parents of football players and cheerleaders will be recognized. Game time is 8 p.m. for this game which promises to be a good one. WPRG-TV will have the game on a delay telecast at 10:30 p.m. tonight.

Double team

John Clark (7) and John Goble (44) must team together if Prestonsburg is to defeat Morgan County for the second playoff berth In District 2.

Blackcats' Playoff Hopes Come Down To Victory Over Morgan County, Again

1989. One year ago, Aaron Flanery Goble, a sophomore running back rushed for 192 yards on 18 carries, scored two touchdowns - one a 60yard romp - in the fourth period of the final regular season game between the Morgan County Pirates night to faithful Big Red fans? It and Prestonsburg Blackcats.

in a total of 454 yards on 42 plays to establish their running game, something they had to do in order to win the game and the District 2 title for a playoff spot against Somerset. The game plan went just as the script was written by coach Bill Letton and his staff. The result: a 21-7 win over the Pirates on their own field.

In that game one freshman was beginning to make a big impact on Blackcat fans. John Goble carried the football 12 times for a 112 yards.

Now, November 2, 1990 and the scene is almost the same. The opponent is Morgan County; the second spot in the playoffs in on the line again. Gone is Aaron Flanery and Mike Crace (who had four receptions and three interceptions in that game).

who has been a workhorse in the Blackcat's backfield. Also returning a year later will be Worthie McGuire.

What does this game mean tomeans a trip to Corbin next Friday The Blackcats as a team gathered night in playoff action. That's right, once again a victory over the Pirates of Morgan County will give the Blackcats a shot at the 7-3 Corbin team. Last year Prestonsburg faced Somerset in a home game and lost 52-0.

For the Pirates, Easterling is gone. So is running great Darlan Finch, who collected 144 yards on 28 carries against Prestonsburg in the final game.

The Pirates are two deep at the quarterback position for coach Bruce Herdman's team this year. Chalmer Adams, a 6-1, 170 pound junior will be at the starting quarterback spot with back up QB Jamie May waiting for his chance. Mark Payne, 5-10, 155 pound senior wide receiver will be one who will be catching the passes of Adams. But catching the football

> The offensive line is young this year for the 3-7 Pirates but the line will be quick.

For the Blackcats 10 seniors, this is a big game. Neither wants it to end here but to go next week and face Corbin. Returning to the Blackcats lineup tonight will be Aaron Tucker who was forced to sit out the M.C. Napier game because of an altercation in the Pikeville game. With Tucker in the lineup, it gives quarterback John Clark two targets to look for down field.

Heading up the defensive line for Letton's Blackcats will be Todd Goodman, Trevor Blackburn, Aaron Stepp, Mike Ramadan and Mike Hopson.

Goodman, along with John Goble and Mike Hopson will do the ball carrying for the Blackcats.

The Blackcats need a win to have a winning season (6-5) record wise.

as the Pirates come to town. Coach Letton and his staff as well as the players know that the winner goes on and the loser goes home. Should the Blackcats falter, then the second playoff berth would go to Leslie County.

It hasn't been the kind of season offs next week. With that in mind the that Coach Roger Johnson had hoped Cougars will want to end their season for for his Wheelwright Trojans foot- on a successful note - and that will take a victory.

Wheelwright, on the other hand season opener against the Betsy Layne will not want to end their season with a loss, but end it as it started - with Tonight the Elkhorn City Cougars a win.

> The Trojans have been a team of hard luck all year. Defensively, the Trojans have provided the opposition with some stiff defense. It seems though that the Trojans just run out of steam late in the game. They are not a deep team - only 25 players - and several of the players have to go both ways. One thing you can say for the Trojans they have played with heart and stuck out the season, as dismissal as it has been. They never quit as they stood by their coach and school.

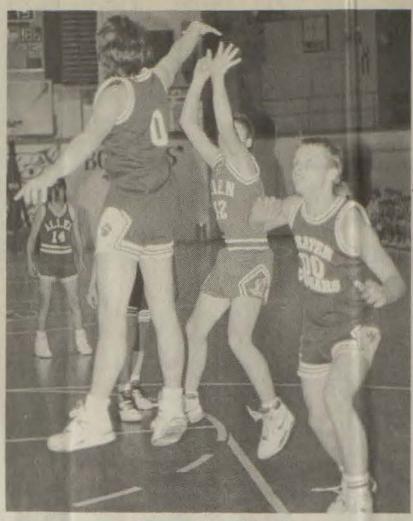

> There have been some bright spots for the Trojans in personnel. Talent is there on this team and the future looks good weather it is at the current school next year or the new Left Beaver High School. Ryan Johnson will return next season with some backfield experience that can only help the Trojans. Add talented freshman Arnold Adams and Steve Shelton and the Trojans will have personnel to build their team off of.

At Elkhorn City a win would give the Trojans a positive outlook toward next year as they take to the weight room this winter. Wheelwright be looking to some senior leadership this Friday night to capture that second win. Steven Johnson, quarterback, will want to close in style as will Mike Justice, who is one of the most underrated backs in the county. On defense who question the will and desire of a James Branham, who came back this year after having to miss last season because of reconstructed knee surgery. Several times Branham was seen limping, but he played on.

Bryan Rhea, along with Branham has been a work horse on defense, but the slender end has caught some important passes for the Trojans.

All in all, it really hasn't been a failure year. The Trojans have grown some maturity wise and that always makes a someone a better person.

The Trojan need a victory. The game time is 8 p.m. at Elkhorn City as the season comes to a close.

One of fishing tackle's greatest innovations over the years has to be the development of monotiliment line. Companies continue to strive to make monofiliment stronger, thinner and less stiff. Ever since monofiliment was developed. anglers have experimented with nearly every conceivable knot, in an attempt to develop the perfect one for their application.

There are a number of acceptable knots which when properly fied will provide excellent service. The most common, and perhaps the easiest to learn to tie is the popular improved clinch knot, often called the fisherman's knot.

If you will look on or inside the package of most premium fishing lines, the manufacturer generally illustrates one or more of the most common knots. These same manufacturers usually offer, free of charge, a small knot tieing booklet by simply writing the company. Fishin' Tips are presented by America's #1 Fishing Boat

THE CONCERNED PARE OF ALLEN SCHOOL DISTRICT:

Do you recall one year ago, in reference to a meeting held at the Allen First Baptist Church? Let's refresh your memory. A very dangerous explosion had occurred. Our principal, Daniel Branson, was seriously injured. We looked to our board member, Ray "Shag" Campbell for answers. His response was, "I don't know".

Parents, where is our new school? Why was the James Duff School completed ahead of ours? Do we want 17 more years of this? Do we want parents to always take the lead when a crisis emerges? Parents, please recall those frightening days when we had to take matters into our own hands.

Martin "Getting Well" As Flashes Roll Past Maytown, 77-36

"Just give us two more weeks and we will be ready," said Martin coach Jimmy Hopkins of his teams return to the basketball wars. The Purple Flash, long one of the county's top programs, rebounded from a loss at Duff with a 77-36 win over the Maytown Wildcats.

Martin's inability to handle the press against Duff lead to the defeat. However, Coach Hopkins says the press is being worked on in practice.

"We worked on it and Maytown tried to press us and we handled it real well," the Martin mentor explained. "Our team is playing better basketball right now. Against Duff we just got beat. They wanted to win we didn'L"

Chad Slone and Byron Gearheart combined for 29 points to lead Martin to their eighth win of the season against two losses. Slone tossed in 18 points in limited playing time and Gearheart tallied 17. Toby Robinson also had double figure numbers with 10 points.

Maytown trailed 14-0 at the onset of the game as the Purple Flash led at the first stop 16-4. "We passed the ball real well," continued Hopkins. "We had unselfish play and we worked in the game. We had a good first quarter, a fair second quarter and an excellent third."

Martin had a chance to empty their bench in the win.

Chris Martin led Maytown in scoring with 14 points and Nick Haganstossed in 11. Both John Moore

With the help of nearly 2,000 Big Blue fans, Central Kentucky Blood Center outscored MEDIC in last years competition with a final score of 1,936 to 1,760 pints of blood.

This year's Wildcat attack will be led both on and off the field by University of Kentucky football coach, Bill Curry. Coach Curry will prove beyond a doubt that he bleeds blue along with another well know "Blue Blood," former UK coach Jerry Claiborne. Central Kentucky Blood Center is asking all Big Blue fans to roll up their sleeves and help battle the Big Orange by donating blood November 12 through the 16. All donors will receive a free cholesterol test with results sent in the mail.

Donors can give blood at any CKBC mobile site or at the local Donor Center in Prestonsburg. Central Kentucky Blood center needs your help to have a winning Holiday Season. Join our team effort to beat Tennessee at their own game by volunteering.

Auxier Shakes 'Pesky' Falcons 58-52 In Foul Prone Game

The Auxier Hornets placed three men in double figures as they held off a determined Mountain Christian Academy basketball team Monday night at Auxier. Jason Burke, Ervin Osborne and Ty Wright each scored 16 points to lead the Hornets to their second victory of the season.

It wasn't an easy basket for the Hornets as they were in foul trouble most of the night and lost Burke and Osborne via the foul route with 3:24 remaining in the game and holding a 52-43 lead.

Cold free throw shooting by the Falcons down the stretch kept the visitors from really catching the Hornets after the two starters departed the game. However, it was the Falcons accuracy at the charity stripe that help erase an 14 point deficit. Ervin Osborne's basket in the opening seconds of the fourth period gave Auxier a 46-32 lead. The Falcons then tightened up their defense and ran off nine unanswered points to cut the margin to five, 46-41. Burke then grabbed an offensive rebound and stuck it back in and Osborne followed with a lay up to extend the Hornets lead back out to nine, 50-41.

The game began as if a rout was about to take place. Hornet sensation Jason Burke scored eight first quarter points to help the Hornets to a 18-8 first quarter lead. Put the 'perky' Falcons kept flying back and with 2:28 to go in the second period, Joseph Risner hit a basket to cut the lead to three, 24-21 in a 13-6 run, Baskets by Brent Burke and Jason Burke just before Brandon Moore's two free throws gave the Hornets a 28-23 half time lead.

Down 18 points, 44-26, the Falcons did not quit as they rallied back and cut the lead to ten points, setting up their comeback attempt in the fourth period.

The two teams exchanged baskets as David Turner hit a nice jumper for the Falcons and Tony Honeycutt fired in a shot for Auxier to make it 52-43. With 3:24 Osborne picked up his fifth personal foul and 18 seconds later Burke followed suit. MCA began to put on the pressure as the Hornets 02 had trouble handling the basketball and the Falcons had trouble at the foul line.

Matt Goble led the Falcons in scoring with 16 points. David Turner tossed in fourteen points and Brandon Moore had twelve. Joseph Risner added eight.

Coach Jerome Greathouse's Hornets are 2-4 on the year while MCA lost for the fifth time to go 1-5.

'Charles in Charge' actress plans further drama studies

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I have recently become a big fan of Nicole Eggert, and I would like to know more information about her. How old is she? Is she married? Where she lives? Names of some of her movies? -Don Buelteman, Menominee. Mich.

A: Eighteen-year-old Nicole Eggert enjoys a healthy, California Southern lifestyle. She enjoys biking on the beach in the summer and skiing in the winter. She is also an accomplished tap and jazz dancer. She is not married, but plans to further her education at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London. It all began for Nicole when she was 5 years old and was entered in the "Miss Universe Petite Divi-sion Pageant," where she stole the hearts of the judges and the title. She also caught the eye of a well-known casting director who advised her to sign with an agency immediately. She did, and before she knew it, she was appearing in television commercials. Her credits include the TV films Today's FBI-Kiddie Porn; I Dream of Jeannie - 15 Years Later; and Dead Wrong - The John Evans Story. Her theatrical films include Clan of the Cave Bear, Hambone and Hillie, Rich and Famous and Omega 7. Write to her in clo Charles in Charge, MCA-TV, 100 Universal City Plaza, Universal City, CA 91608

It was there Cruise discovered his passion for acting.

'Niagara' makes great use of location to build suspense

By Steven Alan McGaw Niagara (1953)

This is a film that has gained in stature since its release; originally, public and critical reaction was not that favorable. Maybe it was the movie's turgid advertising, with lines like, "A raging torrent of emotion that even can't control!" nature Whew, I'd be tired when I walked into the theater. Anyway, Henry Hathaway directed this black little tale from a script by Charles Brackett, and it's really pretty fascinating. A couple of newlyweds go to Niagara Falls for their honeymoon, husband blithely the unaware that his new spouse is planning his murder! He finds out, however, and there begins an intricate little game of "who's foolin' who?" There's fine, interesting acting all around from Joseph Cotten, Marilyn Monroe (her first big part), Jean Peters, Casey Adams and Don Wilson. The movie really does maintain an unnerving level of suspense and makes great use of the location.

Interestingly, director Hathaway was very open, in later years, about the fact that he'd wanted James Mason for the lead. Although Cotten is very good, it's fun to imagine what Mason would have done with the role. Reportedly, Mason turned it down on the advice of his daughter, who said she was tired of movies in which her father died.
