State Medical Examiner says :

Missing head is not a "mystery"

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County Coroner Roger Nelson said Tuesday, after conducting his own investigation, that the body of a 1978 murder victim was not exhumed over the weekend as reported, and he called those reports "flat out lies."

Nelson said he personally inspected the gravesite of Walter Hall Tuesday and found the grave hasn't been disturbed since a 1989 exhumation when Hall's head was removed by the state's medical examiner during an autopsy.

Three Floyd County men were charged with conspiracy to commit murder after Hall was shot in the head July 15, 1978 at a home in Jacks Creek.

Floyd Circuit Judge Hollie Conley informed prospective jurors Monday that the case could not be tried because evidence was "missing." The case was continued until October 7.

Newman's attorney, Daniel Taylor of Louisville, was quoted in Tuesday's Lexington Herald-Leader as saying that the body was exhumed Sunday and was found to be missing the head.

Nelson refuted those claims Tuesday, saying the body had not been exhumed since 1989.

Taylor said he petitioned the court for the request so he could have his own pathologist examine Hall's skull.

"If Taylor was quoted accurately, I question his ethics," Nelson said. "And, I'm sure he will be hearing from the ethics board about this."

Dr. David Wolf, forensic pathologist with the state Medical Examiner's office, said Tuesday that special prosecutor J.D. Johnson of Paintsville and the coroner knew he had the victim's skull in his possession.

"It's never been missing," Wolf said. "The reports that it was are incorrect. The prosecuting attorney and the coroner knew it was in my possession."

Wolf said he hadn't received any requests by Taylor "or anyone else" to examine Hall's skull.

"The discovery process usually ends 10 days before a case is to go to trial," Wolf said. "It's a mystery why the defense would wait until the weekend before the trial starts to ask to examine the evidence."

Wolf said prosecutor J.D. Johnson of Paintsville called him Saturday and instructed him to bring the evidence to the courthouse on Monday. Wolf said he arrived at the courthouse around 11:30 a.m. but found "the courtroom dark and locked."

"I waited until 1 p.m. because I assumed the court was in recess, but no one ever showed up. I finally went to the Prestonsburg Police Department to find out if they knew what was going on."

Police officials informed Wolf that it was reported Hall's skull was missing.

Nursing proposals get conditional approval

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

A Floyd County company which faces a threat of court-ordered dissolution has gained tentative state approval to expand its nursing care facility in Prestonsburg and to develop a new facility in Paintsville.

Brad Hughes, spokesman for the state Cabinet for Human Resources, said Monday that subsidiaries of Prestonsburg-based FADA Service Company had received favorable recommendations from the state's Certificate of Need Commission for the company's nursing care proposals. Final approval could come as early as today, Wednesday.

The state's Certificate of Need Commission, which oversees development of health care projects in Kentucky, reportedly has given tentative approval to a scaled-down proposal for additional nursing care beds at Riverview Manor in Prestonsburg. The state board reportedly has cut in half the 60 beds requested by Riverview Manor, tentatively authorizing the local facility to add 30 beds to its existing facility.

Hughes said Monday the company has 30 days to object to the scaled-down project. The state Certificate of Need Commission has also given conditional approval to the company's proposal to build a new nursing care facility in Paintsville, and Hughes said there was a 90 percent chance both proposals would get final okays Wednesday. Objections to the Paintsville development are expected to be filed by other companies seeking state approval for nursing facilities there.

State approval for the nursing home developments comes on the heels of a court-issued injunction handed down last Wednesday by Floyd Circuit Judge Hollie Conley which punctuated an apparent rift between corporate officials associated with FADA.

FADA is the parent company for subsidiaries which operate nursing care facilities in Prestonsburg and Pikeville and which owns the Prestonsburg Holiday Inn.

Two of four FADA shareholders,

Dr. James D. Adams and Tom Dingus, have petitioned the court to order the dissolution of the company, citing irreconcilable differences with partners H.D. "Buddy" Fitzpatrick Jr. and Jack Absher.

Last week, Judge Conley issued an injunction prohibiting Fitzpatrick and Absher from expending corporate funds except those required to conduct ordinary business unless those expenditures are authorized by corporate resolution. The company may petition the court for payment of "any extraordinary item."

Human Resources spokesman Brad Hughes said Monday the injunction would likely have no effect on the issuance of certificates of need for the Prestonsburg and Paintsville nursing projects. Should the local company be unable to proceed with the projects, he said, other companies could apply for the certificates.

Blind man shoots wife, self, kills attacker

by Susan Allen

A 39-year old Martin man was shot and killed Saturday night by a blind man after an altercation at a Mount Sterling stockyard.

Burlin Conn, of Arkansas Creek near Martin, was shot four times in the chest by Dale Staton, 33, of Owingsville in Bath County, after Conn allegedly attacked him at the Gateway Stockyard, said Trooper Lon Fields of the Morehead State Police Post. The incident happened at 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

Staton's wife, Sharron, was shot twice in the scuffle and Staton received a gunshot wound in the foot, Fields said.

The two men reportedly argued earlier that day over a horse. Conn reportedly wanted to ride a horse Staton was wanting to sell, Fields said. It was reported that Conn later attacked Staton and Staton shot him, Fields said.

Robbery is not being considered as a leading motive for the shooting, Fields said. The department is investigating other information concerning a motive for the attack.

Conn was taken to the Mary Child's Hospital in Mount Sterling where he was pronounced dead.

Mrs. Staton was admitted to Mary Child's Hospital and Mr. Staton was treated and released.

The incident is being investigated by Kentucky State Police detective Matt Sparks.

Five charged after three-county chase :

Crimebusters nab vandals

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Five Floyd County juveniles were arrested early Monday morning after leading police officials on a three-county chase through Floyd, Magoffin and Johnson counties.

A patrol by the new Middle Creek Neighborhood Watch group spotted a black Chevy pickup truck stop on Abbot Road and saw the juveniles jump from the truck and begin beating mailboxes with a baseball bat, said deputy sheriff Lloyd Powers.

Edgar Stephens, co-founder of the watch group, radioed the sheriff's office about the incident and then pursued the vehicle through the State Road Fork of Abbott on to Route 114 on the Mountain Parkway. Stephens maintained radio contact with the sheriff's office and advised of the suspects' location, Powers said.

The sheriff's department radioed the Magoffin County Sheriff's department who joined in the chase. The vehicle turned on Route 460 into Johnson County where it was stopped by Kentucky State Police trooper Scott Hazelette and Johnson County deputy Chester Newsome.

The juveniles, ages 10-16, were charged with third degree criminal mischief and the driver of the vehicle was also charged with five counts of second degree wanton endangerment.

Powers said the suspects were traveling at a high rate of speed, reaching 75-80 miles per hour.

Powers said the juveniles were involved in an auto accident on the Lancer WaterGap Road about two hours prior to the chase. The truck had slid into a vehicle driven by a woman from Ohio. Powers said the youths advised him they were going camping.

Residents at Abbott have reported numerous instances of destruction of mailboxes over a six-month period, said Sheriff Paul Hunt Thompson.

The incident is still under investigation by deputy Powers.

Team bus is assaulted after Rebels beat Neon

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Celebrating their 10-1 win over the Fleming-Neon Pirates Friday, the Allen Central Rebels loaded their team bus and headed home with their second win of the young baseball season. What followed quickly caused the players to forget their victory.

According to Allen Central head baseball coach Anthony Moore, several Fleming-Neon players followed the bus after the game.

"We stopped at a service station so the players could get something to drink and snack on," explained Moore, "and I noticed that some of their players stopped also and were (harassing) our players. We got back

Woman charged :

Death of newborn probed

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A 19-year old Floyd County woman was charged Friday with second degree manslaughter in connection with the death of a newborn baby found in a dumpster Thursday at Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond.

Pamela Michelle Harris, formerly of Melvin, was charged by the school's Division of Public Safety after the body of a newborn baby girl was found by a custodian outside of Burnam Hall, a residential hall on campus, said Ron Harrell, director of public information at ECU.

The baby was born at "full or near" term and it was born alive, Harrell said. The body was found at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, April 11, in a garbage bag and placed in a first floor restroom of Burnam Hall. The body was discovered outside the residence hall.

Madison County deputy coroner Charles Stiles said no cause of death has been given and the office is awaiting the results of an autopsy performed Friday in Louisville.

Stiles said Harris initially reported she was from Floyd County. Harrell said Harris gave campus police a Lenoir, North Carolina address.

Harrell said after the body was found security conducted a search of the residence hall to see if there was a student in need of medical attention. That search did not turn up anyone in need of assistance, he said.

Harris approached university officials Thursday asking for medical assistance and she was taken to Pattie A. Clay Medical Center in Richmond, where she was treated and released Friday morning, Harrell said.

She was arrested Friday and taken to the Madison County Detention Center and released later that day on a $5,000 bond, Harrell said.

Harrell said the death is still under investigation by the Madison County Coroner's office and the division of Public Safety. Autopsy results are expected in the next 10 days, Stiles said.

on the bus and they began to follow us.

"When we reached the top of Rock House mountain, a pickup truck drove along side of our bus and threw two bottles at the bus," the Allen Central coach went on to explain. "One bottle just hit the side of the bus but the other broke the window and struck me in the head and the glass cut two of our players." The two injured players were Robbie Sexton and David Gilliam. Moore said that his players saw them throw the bottles and identified the player as the one that played centerfield for Fleming-Neon.

Moore said that the two players were not cut badly and he received no major injury from the incident, but the bottle that penetrated the window just missed the driver. Moore was sitting in the seat just behind the bus driver.

"I hate to think what might have happened if the bottle had struck the bus driver," said Moore. "We were on the mountain and it was scary."

Moore said there was an eyewitness to the incident. "A man that lives on top of Rock House mountain had heard the players outside of his house hollering and cussing. He came out to see what was going on. He then saw the players throw the bottles from the back of a truck into our bus," said Moore.

"I reported the incident to the state police and they came out and investigated the situation," stated Moore. "Our principal called the Fleming-Neon school but he only got to talk to an acting principal."

According to the state police report filed with the Hazard post, Trooper Barry Engles investigated the complaint.

Prosecutor asked to investigate

Floyd County Commonwealth Attorney Jerry Patton is expected to begin an investigation into bingo games at several area high schools after being asked to do so by the school system's superintendent.

Patton said Tuesday that he received a letter from Superintendent Ron Hager on Saturday asking that he investigate allegations of illegal activity in connection with the bingo games.

Patton sent a request to Hager asking for any information the school board had about the games.

"Once I receive that information, I will begin the investigation," Patton said. "From there, I will begin interviewing any persons the board names in connection with the allegations."

"The (Floyd County) clerk's office knew I was on my way to court with the evidence," Wolf said. "I don't know why it was reported that the evidence was missing."

Wolf said state law permits evidence to be retained by his office. He said family members knew he had retained the skull.

"There was no need to exhume the body because I had the evidence always available," Wolf said. "I was at the courthouse ready to comply with any request by the defense for their expert to examine the evidence."

David Slone, 32, of Weeksbury, Danny Meade, 35, of Hi Hat and Wendell Ray Newman were indicted for conspiracy to commit murder. Charges against Slone and Meade were dismissed Monday and Newman was charged with murder.

Newman was ordered to remain in the Floyd County Jail without bond. He was arrested Friday on a bench warrant for an unrelated driving under the influence charge.

The order to hold Newman without bond said Newman allegedly had threatened two witnesses in the case and also his co-defendants. The order stated that Newman had said Slone and Meade would not live to walk in the courthouse.

It was unclear to officials Tuesday why an exhumation order was granted.

After the case is closed, the remains will either be reburied with the body or disposed of, Nelson said.

"It's not unusual to keep a vital piece of evidence, such as this," Nelson said. "Once the case is over, it can be returned for burial or disposed of, however the family wishes."

Security was tight before Monday's scheduled trial with sheriff's deputies checking persons coming into the courtroom with a metal detector.

Courtroom doors were locked after each person entered the crowded courtroom. Approximately 50 prospective witnesses and family members left the courtroom after the judge told them they were free to leave.

for the board to reduce the number of extended employment days for administrators.

FCAA hired attorney Bill McCann of Lexington to prepare a proposal to the board, which in part asked that the board not to negotiate on behalf of the administrators with any other organization.

Approval of the August 30 agreement ended the 10-day old teachers' strike in Floyd County.

FCEA representative Bud Reynolds said Monday that if the board started to chip away at that agreement, his organization felt other items in the agreement could be stricken, also.

Board attorney Cliff Latta said Monday that the issue was "complex" and he didn't think it could be resolved in one afternoon. He suggested the meeting between the groups and asked them to bring their results back to the board.

FCAA representatives Frankie Francis and Gene Davis were to meet with FCEA members Bud Reynolds and Carol Stumbo at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the May Lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park. Board members Eddie Billips and Tommy Boyd will attend the meeting only to hear the discussions. Billips said he felt the board members should make no comments nor be asked for any opinions.

Other action taken at Monday's meeting included awarding a contract for auditing the school system to Helton, Linton and Cranfill of Pikeville. The motion passed on a 3-1 vote. Board member James Duff voted against the issue because he made a motion to hire Burchett and Bottoms because they had submitted the lowest proposal.

Duff's motion to hire Burchett and Bottoms was seconded by Billips after Billips informed the board that Burchett and Bottoms was the firm that handled his personal finances.

After a 2-1 vote on Duff's motion, Billips abstaining, a second vote was called for because it was not a majority vote. Billips voted no the second time.

Other matters discussed at Tuesday's meeting were:

- Approval to the cheerleader sponsor's proposal to the selection of school cheerleaders;
- Approval to advertise for construction bids for Phase II at James A. Duff Elementary;
- A discussion on staffing for the 1991-92 school year; and
- Approval to pay teachers for extra duties performed throughout the school year.

Board member Mary Hall was absent from Monday's meeting.

Local student takes part in EKU cooperative education program

Benjamin Alan Jones of Prestonsburg, is among approximately 350 Eastern Kentucky University students participating this spring in EKU's Cooperative Education Program.

EKU's co-op students apply principles and theories learned in the classroom to practical, on-the-job situations.

Participants also receive a salary from the participating employer, which may help to defray college expenses.

They may also earn academic credit for their work.

"Cooperative education provides exceptional opportunities for students to gain experience outside the classroom," said Ken Noah, director of cooperative education at EKU.

He said many people don't realize that the majority of co-op students are paid for their working hours in addition to the academic credit they receive. Since EKU's program began in 1973, more than 9,500 students have been placed with employers in Kentucky and throughout the United States, Noah said.

Eastern Kentucky University serves more than 15,300 students on its 350-acre Richmond campus, throughout its 22-county extended service area, and beyond.

Stop the Hurt, Blue Ribbon days draw attention to pain of child abuse

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month in Kentucky and the local office of the Kentucky Council on Child Abuse has events planned this week to call attention to child abuse.

The third annual "Stop The Hurt Day" will be held Saturday, April 20, in Wayland and will offer information, entertainment and Ninja Turtles, all aimed at calling attention to the issue of child abuse and ways to prevent it.

The event will kick off at 1 p.m. at the Wayland Grade School gym, with local children providing the entertainment and local family service organizations hosting children's games and information booths, said Janie Beverly, director of the region's Kentucky Council on Child Abuse office.

Another event in conjunction with April's activities is Blue Ribbon Day, where citizens, businesses and civic organizations display and wear blue ribbons to bring awareness to the harsh reality of child abuse and neglect.

Blue Ribbon Day will be observed Friday, April 19 in Floyd County and businesses and communities are being asked to participate in the event.

The Blue Ribbon campaign was founded by Bonnie Finney with the Virginia Coalition for Child Abuse Prevention after her grandson died. Finney describes in a letter what events led to the campaign and the details of her grandson's death.

"No! It isn't true! It simply cannot be true! They are telling me that my grandson is dead...they are wrong! There has to be some mistake...Bubba is fine...but deep in my heart, I knew it was true for I have not seen him in...weeks.

"It's been so long since I sat by his side in the hospital. Of course I knew something was wrong as I sat there. I saw fear on his face, the bruises on his body, and the healing cigarette burns on his hands. His doctor did not believe my daughter's story...he fell in slippery water in the bathtub...I felt sick...I didn't understand...Are my granddaughters alright? Where are they?"

"I only had one child. She was a beautiful little girl. She was the light of our eyes. We knew she had entered into a stormy marriage, for we brought her home several times in the five years that the marriage lasted. We suspected heavy use of drugs...but...in those five years three beautiful, healthy children had been born. I loved them dearly, and they loved me. The children were 16 months, three-years and four-years old.

"After the ordeal at the hospital, my grandson was placed into foster care for three weeks. He cried when they came to take him back to his mother. He told his foster mother, 'My mama don't love me' and he begged to stay.

"I ached for his dilemma. I was not physically able to care for him. The courts seemed to believe that home was the best place for him...but I knew better and I told...no, I begged them not to return him to his mother. But, I was overruled. My instinct as a grandmother did not count.

"I never saw Bubba again. My 16-month old granddaughter was hospitalized after being beaten severely...her leg broken in four places, and her hand burned from the tip of her little fingers to her wrist.

"It was only then that the 'search was on' for Bubba. We learned he had been killed, wrapped in a sheet, stuffed in a tool box, and dumped into the Dismal Swamp three months earlier.

"My grandchildren had suffered and battled so much throughout their young lives that it sickened me. My life was turned into physical and mental chaos. My efforts to understand became a plea to stop abusing children.

"I tied a blue ribbon on my van antenna to make people wonder. It caught on locally with restaurants, businesses, police and TV and radio stations supporting me in my efforts to make it a real awareness campaign.

"Why blue? I intend never to forget the battered, bruised bodies of my grandchildren. Blue serves as a constant reminder to me to fight for protection of our children. Every day I pray that our children will be allowed to hear the sounds of a different drummer.

"Join with me...we must protect our most precious gift of all...our children. Please, wear a blue ribbon...put one on your car...give one to your friends...tell them what it means...you may save a child's life!

"If you suspect anything is happening to your children...your grandchildren...the child next door...please act!! If you get no response try again! You may not hear their screams...you may not see their bruises...so check for the pain and the screams in their eyes...Watch...for the screams in their eyes."

Hammond becomes an official in County Attorney Association

Floyd County Attorney Jimmy Martin Hammond was unanimously elected an official of the Kentucky County Attorneys Association by his fellow county attorneys throughout the state at the annual meeting Friday in Lexington.

Hammond will serve successive terms as secretary, vice-president, president-elect and president. He replaces Jefferson County Attorney Mike Conliffe who completed the rotation in offices with his term as president. Serving with Hammond's term as secretary are Franklin County Attorney Jim Boyd as president, Montgomery County Attorney Paul D. Cowden as president-elect and Fayette County Attorney Norie Wake as vice-president. Each will serve successive terms until they have held all offices.

The Kentucky County Attorneys Association is a support organization for all the county attorneys in Kentucky. The association is active in developing and supporting legislation in the administration of the Criminal Justice System, the operation of state and local government, child support enforcement and economic development. The association offers continuing legal education classes and seminars as well as developing policy and procedures for advising fiscal courts and local government agencies in the execution of their duties.

Jimmy Martin Hammond

Upon being elected, Hammond said, "The honor of being one of the four county attorneys charged with the operation of our association over the next several years is not solely a personal honor, but is a honor to all the people of Floyd County.

"With the lines of communication available with other elected state and county officials through this position, I should be better able to serve and meet the needs of all the people of Floyd County and this region. I will not only be representing all the people of Floyd County, but all 120 county attorneys throughout the state who are involved in every facet of local government."

Hammond also served as state senator for Floyd, Knott, Perry and Martin Counties from 1976 to 1980.

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

Beware the Ides of March. Forget March, don't turn your back on April.

The Ides of April to be exact, that damnable occasion when Uncle Sam demands the fruits of your labor in exchange for granting you the privilege of living outside a federal penitentiary.

No day in the 365 revolutions of the planet is more despised by the working class than is April 15. Ante-up day.

The folks who compile interesting statistics at the Federally Funded With Your Tax Dollars Interesting Statistics Agency, say mark your calendars this year for April 29. That's the first day of 1991 when the first cent of your salary actually goes to you. Up to that date, every cent earned goes to pay your taxes.

Mathematically speaking, if anyone does, in fact, speak mathematically, that means a full one-third of the year is spent working to pay taxes. The other two-thirds is spent working to pay the babysitter, the bank, the grocer, the utility company and the video rental store.

Our calculations indicate that December 30 is the only day of the year when you actually get to keep for yourself anything that you make on that day.

Spend it wisely.

On a more serious note, April is Child Abuse Prevention Month.

All parents have, at one time or another, been guilty of child abuse. Sometimes we're too sharp with the tongue, too quick to anger or too involved to just sit and listen. That's abuse, too, you know, and just as damaging over the long run as the physical violence we attribute only to sickos.

Take a few moments to count the blessings that come only to those who can call themselves parents.

We're going to do the same.

High technology is a wonderful thing...until the electricity goes off.

Last week's wrathful wind storm knocked out the power in downtown Prestonsburg for five hours, shutting down our computer system and our presses and leaving us with little to do but watch the sun set after the clouds passed.

All dressed up in thousands of dollars of the highest technology available and no place to go. The only working machine in the place was as old as time itself...a candle.

Of course being without electricity doesn't compare to being without a roof over our heads, as many in the area can attest, but it was a humbling experience just the same.

Our applause to the volunteers who helped put homes damaged in the storm back together, and a special thanks to power company crews for repairing downed lines. They are as responsible as anyone for bringing you last Wednesday's edition of the Times.

"When you least expect it, you're elected. You're the star today. Smile, you're on Candid Camera."

There will likely never be a more poignant example of the popularization of home movie-making than the video taping of Los Angeles police officers beating a man into submission.

There are television shows dedicated to the art, offering thousands of dollars for your "funniest" film, or promising you a national audience for acting goofy.

Won't be long before Hollywood seizes the day....

"Made For TV, The Home-Movie."
Coming soon.

Middle Creek residents are taking a bite out of crime by forming a neighborhood watch, and though the effort may be no picnic it certainly has begun to bear fruit.

This week the neighborhood watch led to the arrests of five juveniles who police believe are partly responsible for vandalism in the Middle Creek area. This first results of the neighbors-helping-neighbors project came just a few days after the neighborhood watch was initiated.

That's fast work.

The folks at Middle Creek are serving notice that they aren't going to take it anymore, and they're putting their words into action.

Crooks beware.

Editor:

I want to offer praise and thanks to the Prestonsburg City Police. On Tuesday, April 9, 1991, after high winds and a severe storm, the electricity went out. For hours, until 11 p.m., it was the darkest dark I have ever seen.

I sat on the sofa with a flashlight in my hand, facing the front window, and yes, I was apprehensive. Then there was light—a police car with every light on was moving slowly on the street. They also had large spotlights which penetrated every yard and alley. The police slowly moved on. But in a short time they were back. I realized the police were patrolling the streets and looking after their citizens and that the light was a deterrent to crime. Then I relaxed and I have heard many others say they did too. So thank you guys—you get an A+ for effort and efficiency.

Garbage, trash, solid waste!

By William Franklin
Garbage, trash, solid waste! No matter what you call it, we Americans discard 180 million tons of it annually. That translates into 360 billion pounds a year, or about 1,500 pounds per year for every man, woman and child in America.

Only since 1988 have we as a nation really looked at the way we manage our trash and started to change for the better and permanently.

Solid waste and recycling have captured our attention in part because every day we see the symbols of our high standard of living tossed in the trash can or carelessly discarded at the park or along the roadside.

We know we can do something about our trash as individuals. That means you and I can make a difference. If we participate in collecting newspapers, aluminum cans, glass bottles, plastic containers or steel cans, for recycling, we are conserving two important resources—natural resources and landfill space.

Five options are widely recognized today as the best ways to manage solid wastes. They are:

Reduce the amount of natural resources used in products; and reuse, repair and extend the life of products.

Recycle materials back into the same product, when possible, or into another useful product.

Compost organic materials, especially yard and garden wastes, into a useful soil amendment.

Burn, in an environmentally safe manner, the nonrecyclable materials and contaminated residues to recover useful energy in the form of steam or electricity.

Landfill, in an environmentally safe manner, only those leftovers of economic activity that cannot be put to useful applications.

Advice for the consumer has come in a confusing array of forms, designed to appeal to people's emotions and guilt feelings. My advice is more general, but has the same objectives as those of serious activists—better use of our resources and a better quality of life.

Here's how I would express it:
• Do a lifestyle checkup. Be sure of the consequences of your behavior, i.e., what you do with your trash and litter.

• Be a careful shopper and buyer. When you can, buy something durable, repairable, reusable or recyclable.

• Participate in "closing the loop" by keeping recyclables out of the trash, and into whatever local programs are available. (You may even have to get your community started on a recycling program.) The other end of that loop is to buy recycled or to West Virginia approximately the middle of April.

The best single personal thing about being over here has been the support shown by the people back in the USA. It has helped to make a very difficult task considerably more bearable. The notes, cards, and letters to say "Hi, how's it going?" or "We're thinking about you" have been most encouraging. Having received your newspaper has helped to keep in touch with things going on back there. The support shown by your newspaper has been tremendous and greatly appreciated.

For the past six months I have been assigned to the largest C-130 transport aircraft base in the whole theater of operations—in fact, in terms of number of assigned aircraft of one type, ours has been the largest C-130 base in the world for the last several months. In addition, our base was chosen to provide the operating facilities for the only five South Korean C-130s in the coalition forces. Our aircraft have carried personnel and their equipment from all U.S. services—vehicles, food, clothing, water, medicine, bombs and ammunition—whatever was required. We are now busy moving people and their equipment out of remote areas back to points of departure to their home stations. My unit hopes to depart here on April 11, and arrive back at Yeager Airport, Charleston, WV on approximately April 13. We are in the process of tearing down the facilities at our base and packing up to leave.

I am from Endicott, Ky. I graduated from Prestonsburg High School in 1966; from Berea College in 1970 and from graduate school at Eastern Kentucky University in 1971. Since then I have basically been in the U.S. Air Force and later in the 130 Tactical Airlift Group, West Virginia Air National Guard, Charleston, WV.

Once again, thanks for your support and the newspapers during the last several weeks.

The David Area Fire Protection District Board of Trustees has recognized the David volunteer firefighters for their efforts during the severe storm of April 9. The storm caused a great deal of damage throughout the district and blocked the main roads with several downed trees. Firefighters worked throughout the storm and afterward to keep the roads clear of trees which had blocked highway 404 in thirteen places. They removed one tree which had fallen onto a telephone wire and was in danger of knocking out the phone service to the community.

Firefighters who braved the storm in service to their community were: Greg Davis, Randy Davis, Tom Greene, Ian Banner, Jackie Howard, William Martin, Randy Seal, Jerry Turner and Rex Cecil.

The Board in presenting these firefighters with certificates of appreciation for their efforts recognized their dedication to their community in maintaining the highways to ensure the accessibility to the community by fire and other emergency vehicles during this time of hardship. These men risked their welfare to provide a much needed service to their community at a time when others were seeking shelter. The board of trustees is extremely grateful and very proud of these men.

Editor:

During the last two months, I have been contacted personally by over 1,000 people wanting to know about the job situation in Kuwait and what is available for those who are interested in doing work there.

As a result, I held a congressional hearing in Prestonsburg on April 5 to try and get some answers to these questions.

I would like to thank your paper for allowing me this opportunity to share my frustration with the process as well as give your readers some information from the hearing which I think will be of use to them.

The reason why I held this hearing in Prestonsburg is simple. I am frustrated with the slow pace in the awarding of business contracts and jobs for Americans in Kuwait. I am frustrated with all the conflicting information out there that's blocking businesses and people in Kentucky from getting work there. In all my years in Congress, I have never seen so much "red tape" that someone has to cut through to just get a job in Kuwait.

As the new chairman of the Education and Labor's Employment Opportunities Subcommittee, I wanted my first hearing to concentrate on the best ways to get Americans involved in rebuilding Kuwait. I wanted to make sure that our businesses would get the first shot at these contracts. And I wanted to make sure—without a doubt—that all of us here in Eastern Kentucky were getting a fair shake in helping rebuild Kuwait.

I believe this hearing achieved what it set out to do. I would like to include some of the helpful material that we learned from all those who were so kind to come to Prestonsburg and testify.

The U.S. Small Business Administration offers a PASS system, which is a computerized data base for small businesses interested in doing work in Kuwait, by calling 1-800-U-ASK-SBA. Also, the Small Business division of the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development offers free information on how to manage your own business and apply for a license. Its phone number is: (502) 564-4252 or 1-800-626-2250.

We also learned at the hearing that the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce is holding an "International Matchmaker Program" May 15-16 in Lexington. This event is going to bring together over 80 Kentucky manufacturers, foreign trade representatives, and foreign buying missions from all over the world. It will be the largest gathering of international marketing representatives ever in Kentucky. More information on this is available by calling 1-800-233-KWTC or the Chamber at (502) 695-4700.

I thank my colleague Rep. Robert Andrews, and all those who could come to Prestonsburg and testify. And again, I thank your newspaper for its interest in this matter.

But most importantly, I want to thank all the good people in Kentucky who took the time out of their busy schedules to come out and attend.

Carl C. Perkins, M.C.
7th District, Kentucky

New service is being offered to surgery patients, of Meth. hospital

Every year fifteen million Americans undergo surgery. To be aware of and prepared for what will happen to them can make a surgery patient's hospital visit more pleasant and even foster a speedy recovery. Understanding this, the Methodist Hospital has established an educational program for surgery patients which is presented the evening before their scheduled surgery.

The program includes discussion of what the patient can expect during their hospital stay, from preoperative preparations through the recovery period, including instructions for their continued recovery at home.

"For instance, before, when a patient living in Knott, Floyd or another surrounding county was scheduled for surgery at 8 a.m., they may have had to get out of bed by 3 a.m. Just to get here in time for all the procedures to be done before the actual surgery," said fifth floor unit manager Shirley Coleman, RN. "That was just too hectic."

The new surgical patient education program allows for surgery patients, who were previously admitted as morning admissions, to arrive at the hospital between 7 and 9 p.m. the evening before surgery where they go to the admissions department then to the fifth floor where they are welcomed by the staff and taken to their assigned room.

Then the patient proceeds to the patient education room where the nursing staff will see that all preoperative tests are conducted, post-operative exercises are demonstrated and all the patient's questions are answered. The nursing assessment, care plans and vital signs may also be done at this time. The patient will be officially admitted at 12:01 a.m.

The new educational program for surgery patients, which began April 1, is offered free to surgery patients as a courtesy of Methodist Hospital.

In Memory of
ELLA BLACKBURN VAUGHN
2/13/1900 - 4/20/1990

A tribute of love and remembrance to Our Mother, who passed away one year ago today, April 20th.

Mom, I don't need a special day to bring you to my mind. The days and nights I don't think of you are very hard to find. When in my life of memories, you hold a place apart where no one else could ever be more cherished in my heart.

So Lord, please take a beautiful message to my mother in your home above, tell her that I miss her and give her all my love. Time heals all sorrow and helps ease our hearts, but only a year has gone by mom, but it seems like a thousand.

Mom, you suffered so long in this world below. But, where you are at now, we know you are not suffering anymore, because you're with your loved one's that went to be with God before you did. So Mom, don't worry about the ones you had to leave behind. Just keep watching and waiting for us with that beautiful smile, and your arms opened wide, for we will be with you again someday and won't have to part anymore.

Sadly Missed But Not Forgotten by Children & Grand Children

Joseph M. Allen of Pikeville, was recognized at the Spring Awards Banquet sponsored by the Kentucky Society of Certified Public Accountants honoring new CPAs and successful candidates from the November 1990 CPA Examination. One of the most difficult certification tests in the nation, the CPA exam was taken by over 75,000 candidates nationwide last November. loway & Company in Pikeville and is a graduate of Morehead State University. He is the son of James L. and Vera Allen of Garrett.

To rid a drain of odors, about once a week pour in a handful of baking soda, then run very hot tap water through it. Or, pour in 1 cup of vinegar, let it stand for 30 minutes, then rinse with a stream of hot water.

VFW post 5839 shows support for Desert Storm volunteer day

Eddie Akers, Commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5839, recently announced that now that the Persian Gulf War is over, America is gearing up to honor those who worked hard to make this a quick and decisive victory.

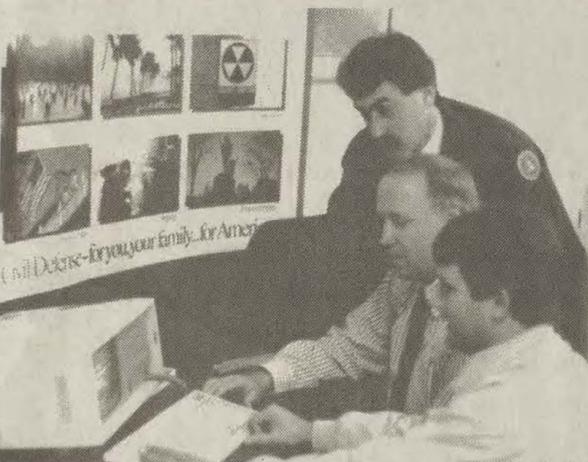

Part of that winning effort came from the community and the Veterans of Foreign Wars is inviting everyone to an open house on the evening of April 16, from 6 to 8 to celebrate their support of area troops and their families and to encourage continued volunteering in Floyd County.

President George Bush is proclaiming April 15-26, 1991 as the Points of Light Celebration of Service, a time when all of America will honor Americans who are meeting today's critical social challenges through volunteering and to call upon the rest of America to join in this cause. The first focus day of this event, April 16, is Desert Storm Volunteer Day and will celebrate and honor the thousands of Americans who volunteered to support our Desert Storm troops and their families.

On April 16 veterans organizations across America will open their meeting halls to community members who supported Desert Storm troops and families. Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5839 is inviting the community to come to its Post Home at 1330 S. Lake Dr.

No reservations are needed. Celebrate your service to Desert Storm troops and families and sign up to continue that service to Floyd County.

Carter Hughes Toyota won the 1990 Toyota Touch Presidential award for overall superior performance in all departments—the first for an Eastern Kentucky dealership.

region's best. Our employees honestly believe that customer satisfaction is everyone's job."

The dealership led all Toyota dealers in customer satisfaction with its 99.5 percent statistics. "That's as close as you can get," said Robert Weldon, regional manager for Toyota Sales USA in Cincinnati. Weldon presented the award to the dealership at a luncheon honoring the employ-

Labor secretary hits fraud in coal mine health sampling program

Secretary of Labor Lynn Martin has announced that the U.S. Department of Labor has cited more than 500 coal mining firms for tampering with dust samples intended to help protect coal miners from black lung disease. According to Secretary Martin, the Labor Department will assess penalties for the violations totaling nearly $5 million, the largest aggregate fine in the history of the Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA).

MSHA has issued a total of 4,710 citations to the operators of 847 coal mines, 301 of which are in Kentucky, that submitted respirable dust samples with evidence of tampering. The agency intends to propose a civil penalty of approximately $1,000 for each violation cited, Secretary Martin said, and is pursuing criminal investigations related to tampering with coal mine dust samples. Standards designed to protect coal miners' health are enforced by MSHA under the direction of William J. Tattersall, assistant secretary of labor for mine safety and health.

Under a federal law designed to protect miners' health, the nation's coal mine operators take approximately 92,000 airborne dust samples per year. The tests are conducted by using a sampling pump to collect respirable dust from the mine air in a sealed, preweighed filter cassette which is then submitted to MSHA. The amount of the dust collected on the cassette's filter is used in determining whether an operator is in compliance with the respirable dust standard established to protect miners from lung disease.

"I am deeply committed to assuring the safety and health of the nation's workforce," Secretary Martin said. "The coal mining industry must understand that sampling fraud will not be tolerated. Individuals personally responsible for tampering with dust samples will be held accountable."

"I am seriously concerned over the potential health consequences of elevated coal mine dust levels going undetected because of sampling fraud. For the sake of miners' health, we must act decisively to end tampering," Secretary Martin said.

"What is even more worrisome is the broad nature of the violations. This did not occur once or twice in two or three mines. Mines in West Virginia, for instance, had 243 mines in violation. Indeed, some of the samples may have been within the allowable limit and yet the samples were still violated. It seems almost an addiction to cheat at some mines," Martin said.

The citations resulted from a 20-month investigation that began after an MSHA employee noticed a cassette with visible filter damage. During this investigation, MSHA checked for signs of tampering in approximately 120,000 respirable dust samples submitted by about 2,000 coal mines that are required to sample on a regular basis.

In addition to the civil enforcement action announced recently, Peabody Coal Co. earlier this year agreed to pay a $500,000 criminal penalty for tampering violations.

"The Department of Labor is committed to strong enforcement action to end tampering with respirable dust samples," Secretary Martin said. "Every coal mine dust sample received by the Mine Safety and Health Administration is now being examined for evidence of tampering. Tampering of the nature revealed by this investigation can be easily detected now that we know what to look for, and will be dealt with severely."

"In addition, we will encourage miners to report sampling violations to MSHA by distributing a poster throughout the coal mining community." Miners can call (703) 557-2020, collect, to report tampering.

"I intend personally to telephone the Chief Executive Officers of several major corporations whose subsidiaries accounted for significant numbers of tampered samples," Secretary Martin said. "In expressing my concern over the tampering, I also intend to call upon these top corporate executives to take responsibility for assuring that activities compromising worker safety and health will not be tolerated in any of their operations."

"Finally, we are exploring possible methods to make it more difficult to accomplish tampering and to provide a more complete picture of respirable dust conditions in each mine," Secretary Martin said.

Through legislation enacted in 1969, Congress established by law the program of dust sampling by coal mine operators to determine compliance with federal respirable coal mine dust standards. Currently, no miner may be exposed to an average concentration of respirable dust greater than 2 milligrams per cubic meter of air, a level intended to prevent the development of coal workers' pneumoconiosis or "black lung."

Stricter requirements apply when the dust is found to contain more than 5 percent quartz, a potential cause of silicosis. MSHA is responsible for enforcing these requirements.

Overall, coal miners' dust exposure has been reduced markedly since the 1960's, when a federal study conducted in 1968 reported mean dust exposures as high as 7.7 milligrams per cubic meter of air.

For Bill Loftus, It Was A Better Way To Get Home Sooner.

Bill was lucky. He walked away from his car wreck last September. His seat belt probably saved his life, but it left him with a nagging pain in his lower abdomen. He toughed it out for two months before seeing his family physician, Dr. Blake Burchett. It was a hernia, needing surgical repair.

Bill did some homework on the hospital, a surgeon and even an anesthesiologist. He checked costs and reputations, looking for the right balance between economy and quality care. He needed to be in and out of surgery fast, and back home as soon as he could. The answer was Same Day Surgery at Highlands.

Bill is one of a growing number of smart healthcare consumers who ask for information and prices these days. With the help of his family doctor, his surgeon, Dr. William Cook, and the surgical and nursing staff at Highlands, he learned what he needed to know.

"We went into all the little details...how long it would take...what we were going to do...what recovery time would be like. I wanted to get in, I wanted to get it done and I wanted to get out. Everything went like a well-oiled machine...the people were wonderful, the care and concern that I experienced was wonderful."

TRACK AND FIELD: REFRESHING

I had the chance to take in the track and field meet at the Bob Amos Park in Pikeville with Allen Central and Betsy Layne participating along with six other schools.

If you have been to a track and field meet, you know what I mean when I speak of it as a refreshing sport. I hear no technical fouls called. No one was ejected from the games. No one threatened the officials. There was no cussing and hollering of favoritism. It was very refreshing to watch the field events and the runners in the various races.

Allen Central and Betsy Layne are really in only their infant stages of a track and field program at the two schools. And, I must say they are doing extremely well. Dewey Jamerson, upon his return to the Right Beaver school, has revitalized the program that involves several athletes. Jim Cecil has taken the reigns at Betsy Layne and "I am just continuing what Dewey started earlier."

So, what if they don't place first in every event! So, what if they don't place in the top three positions! The kids love it. They get to compete. They learn about competition. You don't hear them complain about not being first. They are just glad to be able to compete. Folks, you've got to love that.

Another refreshing note—the two coaches were there rooting their athletes on. Cecil stood on a chair or something, just so he could see the track better. Afterwards, I caught him with his hand on a young man's shoulder talking to him. He wasn't yelling, but was encouraging. That was refreshing to see and hear.

Jamerson, walking around the track with a younger Jamerson by the hand, also encouraged his runners.

Brian Wallen of Allen Central has an excellent shot at a state title this year in discus. Wouldn't it be great if the Rebel senior brought home a state title? So, what if it's not a basketball, baseball or football title! That's what so great about track and field, the individual accomplishments for each participant. A person may not be able to shoot hoops, hit home runs or run the football, but they can still participate in track and field.

The sport involves the lower grades as well taking part in a high school sport and competing against high school athletes. Many fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders are on the two teams. What better training can you give a youngster than the opportunity to actually participate in the events of the sport?

Now, just think how much better our track and field teams could be if we only had the facilities here in Floyd County for them to practice and participate on. Why doesn't our county have such facilities? Can anything be done about it? Will our school board do anything to help out?

I would like to see the folks at Allen Central pour a pad for Wallen, and others after he graduates, to practice on. I have seen Wallen throw for the past two years, and I honestly believe he can be a state champion. Wallen has worked hard the past five years at the art of throwing the discus. Let's all support him in his one last effort to win the state title come May.

WELCOME HOME TESS!

Just before quitting, I want to say that I am very, very glad to see Tess Whitmer back from the big war. Tess is our assistant editor here at the Floyd County Times and has been on vacation in Saudi Arabia. I understand, after a brief rest, she will be starting on her new book, "How To Build A Better Scud." Welcome home, Tess!

Until Friday, Good Sports Everyone!

Wallen Places First In Discus Throw In Pikeville T&F Meet

The sun was out and it was a perfect day for a regional track and field meet at the Bob Amos Park in Pikeville Thursday afternoon, as eight schools competed against each other on top of the mountain.

Allen Central's Brian Wallen captured first place in the discus throw with a toss of 111-feet and 10-inches. Wallen was tossing very well in his warm up throws, throwing over the 140-foot mark. However, when the competition began, Wallen struggled on his first two throws. The second throw of 111-feet and 10 inches was the winning throw. However, the veteran of the discus' longest throw was on his third toss but he scratched when his foot touched the circled ring. Tim Slone, a senior at Allen Central, longest toss was 98-feet and nine-inches. James Howard threw for 85-feet and five-inches.

Robert Jervis, senior, placed second in the 400 Meter event with a time of 56:99. Others competing in the 400 Meters were: Randy Conn, 1:00.24; Dan Stumbo, 1:01.53; Kenny Bradley, 1:12.24; Shannon Adkins, 1:17.45.

Phillip Anderson took fourth place in the 1600 Meters race. Anderson finished with a 5:44.03. Todd Howard ran a 6:59.37, Scott Bellamy finished in 7:03.38 and Brandon Hicks came in at 8:45.77.

Jervis placed fourth in the 110 High Hurdles with a 19.98 which is a new school record. Randy Conn ran a 21:74 and Gary Webb finished in 23:00 flat.

The relay team of Jervis, Jason Sammons, Jamie Slone and Dan Stumbo placed third in the 1600 relays with a time of 4:20.

In other events, Jason Sammons had time of 13:10 in the 100 Meter run. Mike Cox finished at 14:09 and Shawn Robinson came in at 15:19. Kenny Brown finished with a 17:23.

In the 200 Meter run, Kenny Brown had a time of 37:41 and Jason Sammons came in at 27:43.

Joey Williams ran a 2:45.02 in the 800 Meters event. James Howard finished in 2:59.10. Kenny Bradley recorded a 2:59.80 while Rondell Stewart was timed at 2:51.77.

Todd Howard was clocked at 6:59.37 in the 1600 Meters race. Scott Bellamy placed in at 7:03.38. Brandon Hicks had a time of 8:45.27.

In the 3200 Meter event, Dan Stumbo placed sixth overall with a 13:39.53. Todd Howard recorded a 14:01.00 and Ray Lyon finished at 14:35.10. Josh Flannery came in at 16:33.92 and Chad Compton finished with a 17:32.47. Eric Moore had a time of 20:58.00.

In the 300 Hurdles, Randy Conn's time of 53:54 placed sixth in the event. Mike Cox finished at 58:01 and Jamie Slone clocked in at 58:78. Gary Webb finished at 1:01.54.

The relay team of Robert Jervis, Jason Sammons, Tim Slone and Rodney Rose placed fifth in the 400 Relay's with a time of 50.90.

Jervis, Sammons, Jamie Slone and Dan Stumbo was third in the 1600 relay at 4:20.

In Long Jump, Jervis had landed at 17-feet and Phillip Anderson jumped 15-feet and two-inches. Gary Webb came in with a jump of 14-feet and four-inches.

Jamie Slone placed third in the high jump with 5-feet and two-inches.

Kenny Crum finished sixth for the Rebels with a toss of 39-feet and eight-inches in Shot Put. Shawn Bailey tossed the shot put, 32-feet and eight-inches. Tim Slone finished with a toss of 32-feet and four-inches.

For the girl's, Jessica Wade took first place in the 3200 Meters with a time of 14:55.57. Wade also placed third in the 1600 Meters with a finish time of 7:03.64. Glema Yates came in fifth with a 7:36.24.

April Newsome, eighth grader at Allen, finished second in the 400 Meters with a time of 1:23.10. Newsome scored a time of 36:46 in the 200 Meters.

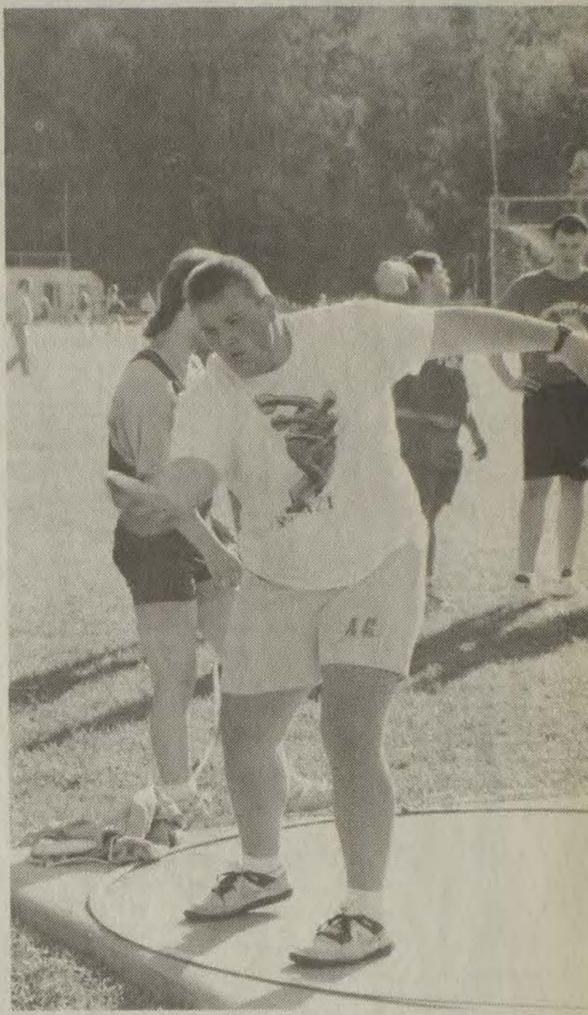

Nine schools took part in the meet. Pikeville, Paintsville, Belfry, Mullins, Betsy Layne, Allen Central, Elkhorn City and Cordia.

According to Coach Jamerson the Allen Central team needs more girl sprinters.

"We need more girls to take part in the field events," said the Rebel coach. "We're just giving events away because we don't have that many girls." Allen Central has a great turnout for the events and really represents the school well—all this despite not having facilities to practice on.

"Could you imagine what we could do if we had our own facilities here in Floyd County," said Jamerson. "We could have our own county meets as well as a conference with other county schools. We could host invitationals. We could put a regulation track (400 meters) out back of Allen Central."

Floyd County is the only one of surrounding counties that does not have track and field facilities.

Allen Central places third in FCA Meet Of Champions

Thirty-two track and field teams gathered at Danville for the FCA Meet of Champions Saturday morning in an all day outing of Class A schools. Coach Dewey Jamerson's Harrier's placed third in the meet, edging out Somerset by one point to take third place. Allen Central finished with 75 points to Somerset's 74. Harrisburg (145) placed first and Danville (111) second.

Some school records were broken for the Rebels' track and field team. Robert Jervis set a new school record in the 400 Meters with a 55:41 time that placed in third in the run. Delbert Goins' 2:37.44 in the 800 Meters was also a school record for the second year track and field team.

Jamie Slone set an Allen Central school record with a 5:16.13 time in the 1600 Meters.

Jessica Wade, a sophomore at the Right Beaver School, set three new girl's records at the Danville meet. Wade ran a 3:01.27 in the girl's 800

Meters to placed fourth and 27th overall in 52 runners. She was fourth in the One mile (1600 meters) with a 6:27.71 placing her 27th overall out of 48 runners. In the Two Mile (3200 meters) Wade placed third and 12th overall out of 36 runners with a time of 14:20.00. In all, five boy's school records fell and three girl's school records were broken.

Chris Burke To Play For Kentucky JR All-Stars

When the mail arrived at the Prestonsburg High School Monday morning, no one expected to find a letter from the Kentucky Junior High School Selection Committee. At least Chris Burke, 6' 7" center on the Blackcat's basketball team this past season, didn't expect to receive one.

"I was looking at the mail boxes at the office and saw a letter from the Kentucky Junior High School Committee in the one of the boxes, said Prestonsburg coach Gordon Parido. "I had been waiting to hear from the them after talking to Eddie Ford, the organizer of the All-Star team. So, I took the letter to Chris and had him open it to see what they had to say. It was a letter of notification that he had been selected."

According to Parido, Burke was elated over the letter he had received. "He just walked up and down the hallway and was really pleased."

"I was tickled to death," said Burke, who was unaware of even being considered until Coach Parido returned from the state tournament. "Being considered for the Kentucky All-Star team was the farthest thing from my mind."

Burke said that he was going to take advantage of the opportunity and start getting ready for the event.

"I feel it will help me next season here by being able to play against bigger players. It will help strengthen me and help me with my moves," explained Burke.

Burke said that he has been lifting weights since the basketball season ended and has been playing basketball against some of the college boys.

"I have been going up against Danny Hamilton in games," said Burke. "He is always roughing me up and making it hard on me."

According to Coach Parido, he approached Eddie Ford at the state tournament and had an earlier talk with Randy McCoy of Elkhorn City who will coach the Junior All-Star team. "I came back and talked to Chris about it," explained the Blackcats' mentor. "I told him that it was an honor to just be considered for the team and to have his name mentioned with the other great players in the state. I also told him he shouldn't get his hopes up about being selected."

According to the letter of notification received from Eddie Ford, the group of Kentucky Junior All-Stars will be viewed by over 200 college coaches. The letter went on to emphasize the great opportunity it affords the one being chosen for the All-Star team.

Burke is a junior-to-be at Prestonsburg next season and will play on the All-Star team that will play all their games in the United States. The other Junior All-Star team that is made up of players that are juniors this year. This affords Burke the opportunity to play on two junior All-Star teams.

Players for the teams are chosen by a committee of 10. Names are submitted, reviewed and voted on by the committee.

"Randy (McCoy) asked me if I thought that Chris would want a chance to be on the team," explained Parido. "I said yes he would want a chance to be on it, without me even asking Chris.

"This is going to be a great opportunity for Chris," continued Parido, "in that he will get some exposure before all the college coaches that will be there. Even if he doesn't play all that much or perform well, he will get something out of my being exposed.

"I just hope he doesn't get intimidated by it all. I would say that out in Los Angeles he will be playing against players that will one day play in the NBA. This opportunity will help build him up. Hopefully, each day he will try to improve. He will be on his own out there.

"Unless they want to let me go to Las Vegas with him," Parido said laughingly.

The All-Star activities will get underway June 30 through July 5 at the "Hoops Stars Camp" held at Eastern Kentucky University by Eddie Ford. The team will scrimmage against each other and attend daily practices.

The Kentucky Prep All-Star games will be held from July 12 through July 14. Then it's off to Los Angeles for a National tournament July 16 through July 20. The National High School Invitational will be played in Las Vegas, Nevada on July 21 through July 27 with 64 teams participating.

Burke averaged 10 points per game as a sophomore for Prestonsburg and hauled down nine rebounds per contest. Burke came on strong late in the season. Burke says that he doesn't know how it will affect him playing before a large crowd.

"I don't pay any attention to the crowds around here," he said, "but I don't know how it will be there."

Coach Parido, who was a graduate assistant under Coach Joe B. Hall at Kentucky, recalled the large Rupp Arena crowds, saying he didn't see how players could perform with such a crowd.

"The crowds at Rupp were awesome," said Parido. "You get a big game coming up like LSU coming to town and it was awesome, unbelievable.

"Chris just needs to realize that he has a job to do and block the crowd out of his mind. If he performs well before the crowds at Los Angeles and Las Vegas then, when he goes to McDowell next season, he won't be intimidated there."

Burke, who is an excellent student at Prestonsburg, carries a 3.5 grade point average and will be a junior next season. Burke is very excited about the upcoming All-Star series during the summer months. Burke confessed he needed to build up his body strength and Coach Parido dittoed that.

"He just needs to put some more weight on for next year and get stronger," said Parido. "At 6' 8" he could be looked at by some colleges by the time he is a junior and senior. A lot of colleges are looking for smaller players because they are quicker, and college coaches also know that anyone overweight hasn't been working out much."

Monday started out as an ordinary day for Chris Burke but turned out to be one of excitement and anticipation.

"I am looking forward to going and being part of the All-Star team," said the Blackcat center.

Brian Hall Wins Third Game Of Week For Alice Lloyd To Go 3-0

Former McDowell standout, Brian Hall, scattered five hits and gave up just three runs to lead the Alice Lloyd Eagles to a 11-3 win over Virginia Intermont Sunday afternoon. The win was the third straight for the Eagle's pitcher, who has become the most consistent pitcher of late for the Eagles.

Hall, normally a reliever, got a chance to start for Alice Lloyd against Lee's College last Tuesday evening and recorded a 5-1 win after tossing a nifty three-hitter. The following Sunday, Hall took to the hill for Coach Scott Cornett's Eagles against Sue Bennett College and posted a 15-3 win. Against Lindsey Wilson College, Hall, although he did not figure in the decision, Hall hurled six innings allowing but one run.

Hall went the route for Alice Lloyd against Virginia Intermont striking out just one batter and walking one. In the last four games, Hall has displayed near perfect control in issuing just the one walk.

The Eagles have one remaining regular season game before the District Playoffs begin. Alice Lloyd will travel to Lee's Junior College Sunday, April 21. The playoffs begin April 25-17.

Boy, Has Baseball Changed

Springtime brings many images to mind. For sports enthusiasts the "Great American Pastime" means the opportunity to watch or participate in a game of baseball. Today's game has evolved into a multimillion-dollar sport. High-tech has introduced the use of pitching machines, radar guns, aluminum bats and artificial turf.

In its infancy, baseball was quite different from today's sport. In the mid-nineteenth century it was a gentlemen's game and, as such, all participants were expected to conduct themselves accordingly. There were no heated fast balls or curves to hit, no bunting, stealing, or leading off bases. Yesterday's game was geared to offense, keeping the ball in play, and scoring many runs or "aces," as they were known.

Baseball produced its own vocabulary. "Club Nine" meant a certain team, and "match" referred to a game between two Club Nines. The batter "striker" had the luxury of instructing the "thrower" where he wanted the ball to be pitched. In was the obligation of the thrower to place it there by underhand. Each swing and a miss was a strike, with three strikes being out.

Field position was a little confining. The first, second and third basemen could not move off base until the "striker" had swung at the ball. Only the shortstop could play anywhere on the field. The fans, or "cranks" attended faithfully, just as they do now.

At the Kentucky Historical Society, a group of interested baseball enthusiasts is attempting to recreate that same gentlemen's game of yesterday. The Society's Club Nine, known as the "Kentucky Pioneers" formed in the spring of 1990, when a challenge was issued by the Ohio Village "Muffins," a Club Nine sponsored by the Ohio Historical Society.

On July 22, 1990 the Kentucky Pioneers traveled to Columbus, Ohio, and went up against the Muffins, scored three aces in the first inning due to a throwing error. After that, the Pioneers settled down for what became a very intense struggle. The customary seven-inning match was extended to nine, with the final score of 5-0. A goodly number of "cranks" expressed their appreciation to both Club Nines after the contest.

Upon their return to Frankfort, the Kentucky Historical Society participants decided to sponsor and outfit their own Club Nine and establish their own season for 1991. To date, four games are on the schedule: April 28, Historic Southwest Ohio, Cincinnati; July 14, Ohio Village Muffins in Columbus, Ohio; October 5, Perryville Civil War Restaurant, one each with the Northern and Southern forces.

To learn more about the Kentucky Historical Society's Kentucky Pioneers or to schedule a possible match, contact David Clinkenbeard, KHS, P.O. Box H, Frankfort, KY 40602-2108; (502) 564-3016.

1991 Allen Central Rebels

Rebels Feel They Will Be Solid Ball Club As They Defend District Title

Last year's 58th District tournament champions, the Allen Central Rebels, may be a young baseball team, but Coach Anthony Moore feels that his batsmen can be a pretty good baseball team by district tournament time. The Rebels are a young team, but pack some potent bats. The suspect on this year's team is in the pitching department.

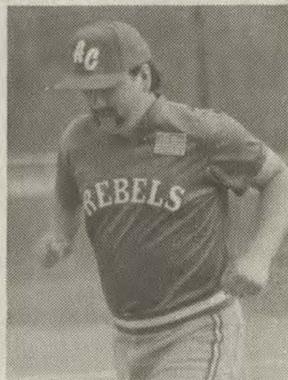

Brett Meadows', a flame thrower for last year's Rebel team, option for the Army after taking an early graduation in January of this year left a spot that can't be filled. Meadows' departure doesn't give the Rebels any returning mound's men with a great deal of experience. Chuck Laferty saw some time on the mound for Allen Central last season, but this year's "kiddie corp" will have to be filled by untested arms from the local Babe Ruth leagues last season.

The Rebels do have a bright prospect in Robbie Sexton, who does throw the ball hard. Sexton is more of a finesse pitcher than he is a fast ball pitcher. Sexton's problem of the past is his inability to go more than three or four innings. He can be throwing good in the early innings and falter in the latter ones.

Also on the mound will be Stevie Robinson. A hard thrower and that's it. Robinson needs to develop a number two and three pitch to keep the opposition honest at the plate. When you have but one money pitch, batters have a tendency to sit back and wait on it.

Jason Martin, a good control pitcher, will be a big addition to the Rebel staff this year. Martin seems to have his pitches in his control and spots the ball very well.

Frank Martin gives Coach Moore another solid starter on the mound. Martin has a variety of pitches, but sometimes he tries to pitch a little too fine.

Allen Central should be able to create a lot of offense this season. The big bats of senior B. J. Aldrich, Chuck Laferty, Stewart Hall and Robinson — back from last season — plus the added talent this year, should provide a lot of runs for the Rebels.

Question mark this season? Defense. Will it get better. The infield has been having it's problems early and from positions that should be solid. Hall plays the shortstop position for Allen Central but has had his problems early in the field. Hall is rated one of the two top fielding shortstops in the county this year. He has good range and a strong throwing arm.

Chuck Laferty anchors down the first base side with Stevie Robinson playing second base. Aldrich shares the duties at third base for the rebels. When Sexton isn't on the mound he plays the hot corner with Aldrich going to the outfield. Brad Scott handles the catching behind home plate.

Frank Martin, Jason Martin also roam the outfield for Allen Central.

The Rebels will play a 27 game schedule that will conclude with a May 4 game with Mullins.

Allen Central will play in the EKMC tournament on May 2. The Rebs are currently 2-3 on the yet young season and if some of the their younger players come around quick, the Rebels will be able to defend their district title.

Kidd homers...

McDowell Slips Past Allen Central With Three Runs In Fifth

The Allen Central Rebels had things pretty much going their way against the McDowell Daredevils, leading 4-2 going into the bottom of the fifth inning. Then things began to fall apart for the Rebels.

"It was good ball game," said Rebel mentor Anthony Moore. "We just fell apart in the fifth inning."

With two out, McDowell scored three times in the bottom of the fifth inning to erase the Rebels 4-2 advantage.

Earl Cook grounded too short to start the inning and Brown flied to left for the second out. After that the Daredevils came to life. Scott Ousley singled and Bud Kidd drew a two out walk from Jason Martin, who came on in relief of Chuck Laferty in the fourth inning. Barry Hall delivered an RBI single scoring Ousley. Kidd and Hall came around to score the tying and winning runs on a third baseman's error off of the bat of Shannon Price. Toby Vance struck out ending the inning.

McDowell took a 1-0 lead in the first frame when Kidd blasted a home run off Laferty for the Daredevils.

Allen Central tied the score in the top half of the second inning when B. J. Aldrich got a one-out base hit, stole second and scored on a two out single by Brad Scott.

McDowell reclaimed the lead at 2-1 with a single run in the bottom of the second after Vance led the inning off with a double, he scored on a throwing error by Scott. Laferty then proceeded to strike out the next three batters to end the inning.

Again, the Rebels came back to tie the score at 2-2 in the fifth after McDowell went out in order in the bottom of the fourth, as six batters went to the plate. Laferty singled to lead off the inning and he immediately stole second base. Aldrich picked him up with his second base hit of the evening.

It was 4-2 in favor of Allen Central as the Rebels dented the plate for two runs. Stewart Hall received a lead off walk and scored on a triple by Frank Martin. Martin came in to score on a fielder's choice play.

Toby Vance got the victory for McDowell, their fourth, striking out four batters and issuing but one walk. Vance gave up all four runs on five hits. McDowell committed two errors in the game.

Laferty started the game for Allen Central and pitched well. Laferty struck out five in his short tenure and walked just one batter. Laferty yielded two runs on two hits and gave up the long ball to Kidd.

Jason Martin came on in relief and suffered the loss. Martin struck out two, walked one and gave up three runs on five hits. Allen Central had three miscues.

Aldrich was the only player in the game to have more than one hit — two.

McDowell will play the Betsy Layne Bobcats in a doubleheader this evening at the Allen Park. The Daredevils are 4-1 on the season and Allen Central falls to 2-3 on the year.

Curry Prepares For Second Season At UK

by Cliff Smith
Spring football practice has begun at the University of Kentucky in preparation for coach Bill Curry's second year at the helm of the Wildcats.

Two questions loom in the spring practices. What are the major objectives of this spring's practices? What are the team's priorities, strengths and weaknesses?

The competition among candidates for quarterback is likely to be keen and interesting and will draw media attention. However, Curry first and foremost hopes to find capable replacements for departed players at both inside linebacker positions, one strong safety, right offensive guard, tight end, the wide receiver positions and tailback.

INSIDE LINEBACKER
Twice All-SEC linebacker Randy Holleran has completed his eligibility and hopes for his chance in the pros. Last season he accounted for 174 tackles. Also gone is Billy Swanson with his second high of 93 tackles. Neither will be easy to replace.

Marty Moore (So., 6-1, 225) and Reggie Smith (Jr., 6-3, 210) are the leading candidates for the positions. Sean Smith (So., 5-11, 220) and redshirt frosh James Simpson (6-1, 270) and Roger Sullivan (6-3, 220) will vie with Moore at the "Mike" inside linebacker spot. Walk-on letterman Steve Berry (So., 6-0, 218) and Shane Ball (6-2, 210), son of former UK All-American Sam Ball, start the spring behind Smith at the "Will" weakside linebacker position.

TIGHT END AND WIDE RECEIVERS

These positions have to be a concern to Curry and his staff. All three positions (tight end, split end and flanker) are question marks at the moment. Neil Page (Jr., 6-4, 250) is an able tight end, but it remains to be seen if he will have SEC caliber backups. Since this is a traditionally injury prone position, depth is very important. Walk-on's Tres Settle (6-3, 220) and Jason Habermel (6-4, 217) are unknown quantities as yet as is redshirt freshman Omri Meek (6-1, 225).

The same is pretty much the case at split end and flanker. Neal Clark (sr., 5-9, 170) is a gritty competitor at split end and Brian Evans (so., 6-0, 175) has adequate speed but as yet unimpressive performance. They accounted for only 13 receptions between them last season for a combined average total of only 21.6 yards per game — hardly a fearsome two-some for opposing defenses on the basis of these stats.

Kurt Johnson (jr., 5-7, 140), when he is not injured, can be a threat out of his flanker position. Back-up Scott Gilley (so., 5-10, 185) has good speed (4.45 in the 40) but still must show if he can compete at the SEC level.

Incoming freshmen Corey Reeves (6-3, 235), Steve Langenkamp (6-4, 225), Dan Hicks (5-8, 175), James Tucker (6-2, 105) and Leon Smith (5-10, 180) may see early action to help the team at these positions. It is probable some help will be needed from some quarter.

Simpson and Sullivan, in particular, bear watching. Either or both could make their presence felt in the competition. Also, new signees Emerson Wells, David Sardon, or Jeff Cipp could even enter the picture, at least as backups, when fall practice begins. All three incoming frosh won at least some mention as prep All-American's.

BANDIT STRONG SAFETY

Duce Williams (so., 6-0, 185) and Darryl Conn (so., 5-11, 180) will compete to replace departed Jeff Brady. It is also possible the position could undergo some later shuffling before the season begins. Brady, fourth in tackles last year with 73, made some big plays in his two years as a starter. Fortunately, however, the available talent to replace him has the ability to perform up to SEC standards.

RIGHT OFFENSIVE GUARD

Until Travis Hahn recovers from his back injury, sophomore Jason Dombroski (6-2, 265) and redshirt freshmen Shane King (6-5, 300) and Chris Sammarone (6-2, 230) will challenge returning letterman Chris Reedy (jr., 6-3, 240) for the right to replace SEC second team Joel Mazzela at right offensive guard. It should be a tough trench struggle. Barring injury, it should have a positive outcome for the team. If he isn't shifted to tackle later, King could end up as the starter. However, Dombroski and Sammarone are likely to make it an interesting competition.

TAILBACK

Although Al Baker came on strong in his last year to earn second team All-SEC honors at tailback, look for UK to be talent rich at this key position next fall. Redshirt freshmen Donnie Redd (5-7, 165) and Clyde Rudolph (5-7, 150) both have blazing speed (under 4.4 in the 40), elusive running ability and adequate pass catching talent. Add lettermen Mike Thomas (sr., 5-11, 205), Craig Walker (jr., 5-10, 205), Matt Riazzi (5-7, 181) and heralded incoming freshmen Damon Hood (6-2, 215) and Carlos Collins (6-2, 205) and one has to say the Wildcats look really blessed at this position this fall.

DEFENSIVE TACKLE

Another interesting intrasquad competition is likely at defensive tackle. There Jerry Bell (sr., 6-3, 275), Barry Rich (so., 6-1, 265), who had the position won in '90 until he sustained a foot injury, Brad Shuford (jr., 6-3, 270), who ended the season as the starter, and redshirt freshmen Damon Betz (6-4, 285) and Robert Stinson (6-4, 260) will battle for their respective places on the depth chart. It should be a humdinger of a battle and rightly so as improved performance is definitely needed there next fall. It left a lot to be desired last year when neither Bell nor Rich were healthy.

DEFENSIVE SECONDARY

Another aspect that will have much attention during spring practice is defense against the pass. UK was repeatedly burned in this regard last year. Also, Kentucky had a meager four interceptions, only two by the defensive secondary, low in the SEC for the second year in a row. The talent is going to be there this year. It remains for assistant coach Rick Smith to put it together.

These are some of the challenges Coach Curry and his staff will be working on this spring. And don't be surprised if during spring practice, or even after it, some players are shifted to new positions to fill in starting roles this fall, especially those who are most talented. In some instances, the best are now coupled for competition in the same position, a situation likely to change before UK's opener against Miami of Ohio on September 7.

The Blue-White intrasquad game, ending spring practice, will be Saturday, April 20 at Commonwealth Stadium.

Cliff Smith is a freelance journalist who resides in Lexington.

Sports Commentary For Sheldon Clark's Bowen, Named Number One Is "Dream Come True"

This past Saturday will always be remembered by Sheldon Clark's Ida Bowen as a very, very special day in her high school basketball career. Saturday, Bowen was named "Miss Basketball" in the state of Kentucky, making her the number one female player in the state and assuring her of a spot on the Kentucky All-Star team which will face Indiana this summer.

Bowen is the first girl's player from the 15th Region to be named to the top female player in the state since Geri Grigsby did it after playing for McDowell in 1977.

Bowen averaged 22 points a game for Sheldon Clark this season, leading them to their first state tournament since 1983. The 6' 1" Bowen averaged 11 rebounds per contest also. Bowen said that being named "Miss Basketball" in Kentucky has been a goal of her's since fifth grade after the idea was planted in her head by her brother-in-law.

Bowen has already signed a letter-of-intent to play for one of the top women's programs in the country next season — Western Kentucky. The Lady Toppers are getting not only a quality basketball player, but a quality person. Bowen has shown a lot of class during her high school career and is deserving of the honor that was bestowed on her this past weekend.

A team leader, but sometimes a little to unselfish, she is a great passer for a player her size, and one quality that goes unnoticed so much is her defensive ability. Bowen averaged around four block shots per game and was a very intimidating force under the basket for the Lady Cardinals this past season.

She is the kind of player that made her teammates better, not just as a team, but as individual players. If she had been a selfish player, she could have averaged over 30 points a game, but she chose not to play that way. She is an outstanding basketball player.

The people in Martin County are proud of Bowen, and they should be. She has exemplified not only the qualities of a good basketball player but a solid young person that has a great future ahead of her. Ida Bowen has given Martin County, 15th Region and the state of Kentucky fans many moments of great basketball.

Bowen will wear the number one jersey when she take the floor against the Indiana All-Stars on June 15 and 22. Bowen won easily over Stacy Reed, who led Laurel County to the state title this year. Reed has signed to play for the University of Kentucky next season. Sheldon Clark lost to Laurel County in the first round of the state tournament last month. The early exit of the Lady Cardinals in the state classic allowed Reed to go on to display her talents. Reed's performance in the Sweet Sixteen had many thinking that she would be Kentucky's next "Miss Basketball."

The performance by Reed and what advantage she might have gained by her play in the state tournament was off-set after Bowen was voted the number one female player in Kentucky by the Associated Press and again by the Courier-Journal and Lexington Herald papers. Bowen scored over 2,000 points for the Lady Cardinals in her stay at the Inez-based school.

State recognition comes to the mountains of Eastern Kentucky once again — thanks to Ida Bowen. To Ida, we wish her all the best and hope she has as great a college career as she did high school.

Shelby Valley Hands McDowell Daredevils First Loss In 18-11 Slugfest

Coach Greg Johnson's McDowell Daredevils hooked in a wild and woolly hardball game at Shelby Valley Thursday evening with the Wildcats coming away with a 18-11 win over the previously undefeated Daredevils. McDowell had won their first three games of the season and hadn't played for two weeks. The win was the first for Shelby Valley at home this season.

Mike Tackett got the win over the Daredevils going all the way for the Wildcats. Tackett struck out 17 batters while issuing three base on balls. Seven of the 11 runs scored against Tackett were earned runs.

Bud Kidd suffered the loss for McDowell allowing 14 runs in the first three innings he worked. Kidd walked eight batters and fanned two.

McDowell hit four home runs in the game with Scott Ousley cranking out two. Kidd had a round tripper as did Toby Vance. Kevin Bowling had the only home run for the Wildcats but it was big one — of the grand slam variety.

Shelby Valley broke open a close 5-4 game with six runs in the third inning. Bowling's grand slam home run accounted for four of the Wildcats' runs.

The Daredevils had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a one out single by Kidd, who stole second. Barry Hall sent Kidd home with the game's first run with a ground-rule double.

Shelby Valley came back in their half of the first inning and tied the score at 1-1. The Wildcats took advantage of Kidd's wildness and loaded the bases against the Daredevils. Kidd then issued a bases-loaded walk to Kevin Caudill, scoring Blaine Tackett with the tying run.

McDowell came back in the top of the second inning to take a 4-1 lead with three runs in the frame. Britt Stumbo got the inning underway for McDowell with a walk and then later stole second base. Stumbo scored when Shannon Price reached on an error. Earl Cook reached on a fielder's choice as Price was erased at second base. One out later, Ousley lined a drive over the fence for a home run to give McDowell their last lead at 4-1.

Shelby Valley took the lead for good in the bottom of the second inning when Mike Tackett reached on a ground rule double. Shannon Wright drew a walk from Kidd and David Johnson doubled home Tackett. Blaine Adkins reached on an error allowing two runs to cross home plate to tie the game at 4-4. After a walk to Jeremy Johnson, Shelby Valley took the lead for good as Kevin Robinson booped a base hit to centerfield.

The Wildcats put three more runs on the scoreboard in the fourth inning and two in each of the fifth and sixth innings.

McDowell went scoreless in the third, fourth and fifth innings. They added a single run in the fifth and exploded for six big runs in the top of the sixth. However, the rally fell short in taking an 18-11 loss.

Kidd had three hits for McDowell to lead the Daredevils' hit parade. Kidd had a single, triple and home run just missing hitting for the cycle. Ousley had two hits — two home runs — and Vance finished with a home run and double.

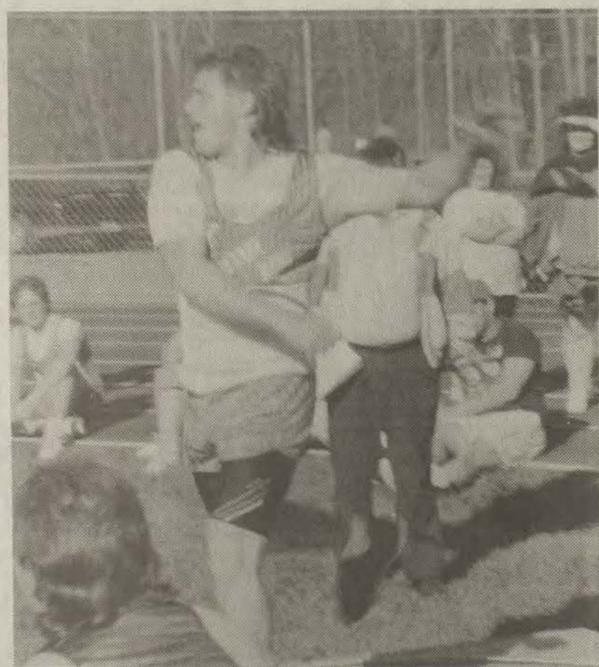

Blaine Tackett led the Wildcats from the plate with three hits, including a double and a home run. Tackett had six RBIs in the game for Shelby Valley. Mike Tackett and David Johnson each collected two hits. Kevin Bowling had four RBIs with his grand slam.

McDowell out hit the host Wildcats 10 to nine. McDowell committed four errors and Shelby Valley was guilty of five miscues.

McDowell (3-1) will entertain Betsy Layne tonight in a big conference match up. The game is scheduled for 5 p.m. Thursday, the Daredevils face Allen Central in a 4:40 p.m. double header at Allen Central. Friday, at the Allen Park, McDowell will host Cordia in a twin bill beginning at 5 p.m.

Rebels Score Six Times In 6th To Post 10-1 Win Over Neon

The Allen Central Rebels explode for six runs in the top of the sixth inning and defeated host school Fleming-Neon 10-1 in high school baseball last week.

John Martin recorded the win for Allen Central as the Rebels won their second game of the season to even their record at 2-2. Martin fanned 10 batters while walking just three. The right hander scattered five hits allowing just the one run.

Mark Wright took the loss for Fleming-Neon, striking out 10 Rebel batters. Wright yielded seven hits and walked two men. Wright gave all 10 runs in the contest.

Allen Central committed three errors while Fleming-Neon was guilty of four mistakes.

The Rebels held a 4-1 lead going into the top of the sixth inning when, with one out, Phillip Ritchie reached on an error on second baseman John Hogg. Ritchie stole second base and scored on an left fielder's error off the bat of Robbie Sexton. Sexton went all the way to third on a poor throw by the pitcher. Glenn Floyd walked and promptly stole second and Rebel catcher Brad Scott drew a walk to load the bases. Martin picked up an RBI when he drew a bases loaded walk to force home Sexton. Stewart Hall then cleared the bases with a long double and picking up three runs batted in. The double was Hall's second hit of the game. Hall later scored on a wild pitch.

Allen Central took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a single by Hall leading off the game. Joey Brown followed that with a double to center-field putting runners on second and third. Both runners crossed home plate on a base hit by Chuck Laferty.

Fleming-Neon came back with an unearned run in the home half of the third inning. Wright got a one-out double and rescored when the ball eluded the Rebel third baseman on the throw to third.

Allen Central pushed across two more runs in the fourth frame as Laferty got his second hit of the evening, leading off the inning. Sexton drew a one out walk and after Glenn Floyd grounded out to first, Brad Scott doubled home Laferty and Scott.

Hall and Laferty each had two hits for the Rebel attack. Hall collected three RBIs and Scott gathered two.

Martin retired the last nine batters he faced in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. After Fleming lead off the second with a single, Martin proceeded to strike out the side.

Allen Central will host McDowell tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at the Don Daniels Athletic Complex on the campus of Allen Central High School.

NIGHT FISHING RIPRAP CAN PRODUCE BIG BASS

If you're looking for a way and a place to catch a big bass, consider fishing riprap rocks at night with a noisy crankbait.

It's paid off many times for Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff angler Cliff Craft, a former Lake Lanier, Georgia, bass guide and now a highly respected tournament pro. Craft has caught jumbo sized largemouths, smallmouths and spotted bass with the technique, including a 9-pound, 10-ounce lake Lanier largemouth.

"Riprap rocks around bridges, railroad trestles and dams usually holds a lot of crayfish and small minnows that attract bass," Craft explains. "All you have to do is start at one end of a long wall of rocks and cast your way down it."

The key, says Craft, is using a deep diving crankbait with a lot of rattles. He believes the noise helps attract the bass.

"Make your casts at about a 45-degree angle so the lure gradually works down to eight or 10 feet," he explains, "and use a steady, slow to medium retrieve. You don't have to do anything special, just cast and crank. The fish will do the rest."

Although corners, indentions and other changes in the rocks often attract and hold bass on riprap during the day, the fish may be anywhere along the rocks at night. They're usually roving, feeding fish that have moved up from deeper water. Craft has caught them in water as shallow as a foot.

Riprap fishing is usually a late-night technique, too, the Evinrude pro notes, but the pattern can be used from spring through the summer and into the early autumn.

Craft's big bass came during an otherwise slow night of fishing, and provided him with one of his greatest fishing thrills.

"I'd made a long cast and started reeling back when the fish struck," Craft remembers, "and it seemed like it took forever to land the bass. I heard it jump and splash out in the darkness and I knew it was a big fish from the way it pulled, but I didn't know just how big until I boated it and weighed it."

Craft released the bass then, and continued fishing, because, he says, he thought there just might be a 12-pounder on the next rock. It's a technique that can certainly produce fish that big.

"It works well for spotted bass and smallmouths, too," says the Georgia pro. "On Lake Lanier, which is one of the best spotted bass lakes in the nation, I've caught a lot of fish in the four to five-pound class, and in some Tennessee lakes I've fished the riprap and caught smallmouth just as large."

WHERE THE BOTTOM LINE IS LESS!

They serve 2-, 3-, 4- and 5-ways at Dixie Chili. But since 1947, their health insurance decision has gone just 1-way.

Variety is the spice of life at Dixie Chili. Except when you talk to Dixie Chili owners, the Sarakatsannis brothers, about their health insurance. Only one company has been good enough for the last 43 years — Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky.

The family business has grown since the Sarakatsannis' father opened Dixie Chili in an eight-foot-wide storefront. There are four more restaurants. Seventy more employees. A retail and mail order business.

As this Northern Kentucky based business has grown, Blue Cross and Blue Shield has been able to supply the people and the products necessary to adapt to the Sarakatsannis family's changing health insurance needs.

Today, as in 1947, Dixie Chili employees still have the best choice of doctors and hospitals around. And they still have the most recognized health care card in Kentucky.

If you're interested in choosing Blue Cross and Blue Shield for your company, call us. We'll serve up a generous portion of Kentucky's most popular health plan.

Equestrian Events, Inc. announces improvements for 1991 Rolex Kentucky three-day event.

Equestrian Events, Inc., organizer of the Rolex Kentucky Three-Day Event, has announced several improvements for the 1991 event, scheduled for April 26-28 at the Kentucky Horse Park.

Dressage for the CCI division will be moved to the Horse Park's Frederick L. Van Lennep Covered Arena, site of the Lexington and Kentucky Grand Prix jumping events. Although a departure from the traditional outdoor setting of the Three-Day Event, the arena is not an indoor arena. The ends and sides are open giving an outdoor flavor. Box and reserved seating areas will be assigned to sponsors, patrons and members, while general admission spectators will be able to see well from the bleacher seating surrounding the arena. The surface of the arena is a combination of sand, clay and chopped cedar wood and is one of the best surfaces in the nation for horse activities.

Using the Van Lennep Arena also will put spectators closer to the Lexington Trade Fair and the patrons' and members' club tents than in the previous location in the center of the Horse Park's race track.

The open Intermediate Horse Trials division's dressage will take place in the Stonelea Arena, a sand arena adjacent to the stables that has been used for other horse trials. The cross-country course of 20 obstacles will have seven new obstacles with one obstacle modified and one moved to a different location.

President of the Ground Jury for the CCI division will be Captain and Honorable Patrick Connolly-Carew of Ireland who is chairman of the Three-Day Event Committee of the Federation Equestre Internationale.

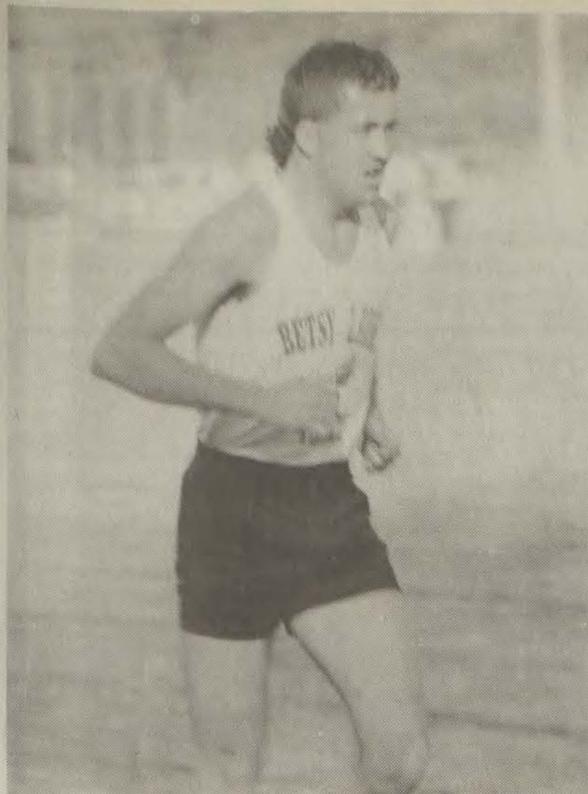

the governing body for international three-day events. Other CCI Ground Jury members are Major General Jonathan R. Burton of Fort Belvoir, VA., and Captain John H. Fritz of Gladstone, N.J. Judges for the Open Intermediate Horse Trials division are Mrs. Sally Eastman Graburn of Galisteo, N.M. and Ms. Karin M. Bjorgen of Enumclaw, WA.

The patrons' and members' club tents, which have been located at the head of the Trade Fair area, will be moved to behind the Stadium Arena bleachers. One advantage to this relocation will be realized Sunday, April 28, when the Jumping Test for the Open Intermediate Horse Trials and CCI divisions is run. Patrons and members who take advantage of the Sunday morning breakfast will not have to worry about missing any of the jumping activity as they will be right next to the action with the reserved seating sections immediately adjacent to the tents. With the sponsor tent located at ringside, sponsors will actually be able to eat breakfast while they view the performance. Moving the patrons' and members' club tents will also allow EEI to enlarge its popular Lexington Trade Fair.

For ticket information call Equestrian Events, Inc. (606) 233-2362. The Kentucky Horse Park is located on Iron Works Pike, exit 120 off Interstate 75.

Small World

by Aileen Hall

National Jackpot

The baseball season has opened again and, from the largest city to the smallest community, the crack of a bat can be heard wherever boys of any age get together.

What was referred to as the national pastime has become the national cash time for a number of players. Several of them have just signed contracts for more than a million dollars a year. Roger Clemens of the Boston Red Sox even has a contract for five million.

Oh well, if you're going to receive the first million, what's another three or four?

Turnaround

I had thought the main reason people played baseball was to have a good time; and because they helped the rest of us have a good time, they ought to be paid an attractive salary.

Maybe the game is tougher than it looks, or maybe the average spectator is having more fun watching than I am. At any rate, these new contract scales seem a little out of balance to me.

If the trend continues, it could turn around the whole process of growing up. Mothers may become so impressed with baseball success that it would alter their discipline standards.

Can you imagine a boy asking, "Is it all right if I work in the garden for a while?"... and her reply, "No, no, not until you practice your baseball game."

The Umpire

Enormous salaries are not likely to become standard fare for athletes, and many will continue to get a million dollars worth of enjoyment from sports without all the bother of book-keeping and banking.

Success in a game will continue to be its own reward and even the frustrations of participation will provide some interesting things to talk about.

Dean Conn of Harold is a former athlete who never gave up on his love of sports. Even before he had seven grandchildren to work with, he was coaching and encouraging young people in their athletic skills.

A few years ago Dean served as coach for a church baseball team.

There weren't always enough qualified people available to officiate the games so parents and fans would sometimes volunteer to fill the needed positions.

They were having a game at Layne Bottom in Harold one day and an old man, 65 or 70 years old, brought his grandson to play. When it was discovered they didn't have an umpire, he volunteered for the job.

He didn't have the safety equipment that umpires wear behind the plate so he stood behind the pitcher and called each throw, whether it was a strike or a ball.

The game was well under way and Coach Conn kept wondering whether the old man could see well enough to make the calls—at least some judgments looked questionable. He walked out on the field and asked, "Mr. Smith, can you see that ball all the way to the catcher?"

"I sure can," he answered, and Dean went back to his seat.

The next pitch was low—so low it hit the ground and bounced three times before it reached the batter. But when it got there it did go directly over the plate—and the ump called out, "STRIKE!!!"

Dean decided there really was nothing wrong with his vision—but he might do well to brush up on the "ground rules."

Kim's Korner

For those of you who may not have seen our last two editions of the Times, or the Welcome Home Tess Whitmer displayed from Floyd to Johnson County on various business marquee, Tess is home!

by Kim Frasure

My family and I have had the opportunity to spend the last few days with Tess. And I can tell you first hand, they've been memorable. She's been bombarded with questions about the war, her experiences, living quarters, etc.

What I felt had to be shared with you guys are her rediscoveries. Simple things we take for granted, and don't think of as luxuries, she now does.

For instance — blow dryers. While getting ready to hit the town Saturday night, Tess hit the shower. First of all, being used to a time limit and rushing to shower, she realized she was at our house and could relax and enjoy it. And she did!

Then came the task of her hair. We heard her drying her hair in the bathroom and the dryer shutting off. "Wow, this is WILD!" we heard echo off the walls of the bathroom.

Then she began to laugh, and burst through the door. She came like a flash into the living room.

"Kim," she shrieked, "Look at my hair. It looks great, Tess," I said.

"But look," she kept pointing to her hair, "Look what blow dryers can do to your hair." She was so thrilled and so excited that I had to hold back my laughter.

Tess continued to finish getting ready. As I sat and thought, I came to realize how she'd spent the last six months in the desert.

I recalled our trip home on Wednesday from the airport. We stopped to get a Pepsi and snack and Tess tried to pay for her's with Saudi money.

She was so tickled once we were home to get to sleep in a real bed. Her weird names for everyday happenings were hilarious, such as "What's wake up time, again?" or "You're out of toilet paper in the latrine."

She's readjusting to little things that we don't give a second thought. And, I can tell you, it sure makes one appreciate them, too.

I've felt like a mother to her, besides her friend these last few days. It's been one of her experiences.

Ronnie and I sat down at our kitchen table Friday evening to eat supper. The girls had gone for the weekend, and Tess was due back from her base anytime. As we were about to sink our teeth into our sandwiches, we both noticed a hunk of Scud missile Tess had brought and set at the end of the table.

We both looked at one another, and I said, this is really weird, sitting down to a meal and having a piece of Scud missile stare you in the face. I lost my appetite.

Tess left our house on Sunday to visit other friends and relatives. It's been pretty quiet, and we miss her. But, I suppose what's best of all is knowing she's definitely coming back and she's only as far as Ohio.

Welcome home, friend.

Don't you love the smell of spring? The beautiful flowers, ah, and the aroma of grass after it's just been mowed is my favorite.

I don't think there's anywhere in the world that is as pretty as Kentucky at this time of the year. Maybe, Hawaii could be an exception.

Spring seems to not only bring the mountains alive, but people in general, also.

The one think that has me baffled is Leonardo.

Leonardo was a turtle that my sister-in-law, Deanna, picked up about this time last year.

My youngest daughter became attached to Leonardo and insisted on keeping him inside his box.

Not having much luck with pets, her dad and I said, "okay, keep him in."

For three days, we looked for this turtle, which was somewhere in our house while our daughter was swearing Leonardo was outside.

Finally, we found Leo in the bathroom and Dad and I put Leo outside. Keep in mind, this was spring of last year.

A couple of weeks ago, my brother-in-law, Barry, was mowing the grass at my mother-in-law's as the rest of us sat on the porch enjoying the aroma and beautiful spring weather.

All of a sudden, Barry shuts the mower off, yells for Tiff to come quick, bends down, and comes up with, LEONARDO!

Oh no, I said, come on Barry, have some sympathy here.

Tiff is running from side to side of the yard with this turtle in both hands, screaming.

It's Leonardo, Mommie. He came back! He came back!

Are you sure this is Leonardo, Tiff? I asked.

Yes, Mommie, Yes!

Now what on earth are you gonna' do with Leonardo, Tiffany? You have Thumper the rabbit. Remember? I said!

They can stay together, Mom, she persuaded. They can keep each other company.

Well, it's been two weeks and Leonardo and Thumper seem to be excellent roommates. Who would've thought?

Till next week, enjoy spring.

Special note: I'd like to tell Tiffany her Dad and I are very proud of her on receiving her first place ribbon for her short story "The Big Orange Thing" in the Young Authors Program. Way to go, baby.

Recently, I have been gaining weight! I don't really know why. Maybe I wasn't thinking or didn't want to admit that I am overeating since I started this column. I will admit I love to eat and there have been some great recipes coming in — all desserts. Sweetness is my, no it's one of my failings.

This time I hid all the candies and cookies, but as I am writing this I do have a large pizza in the oven, and covered with extra cheese and hot peppers.

Does anyone have a recipe for poparts. I don't want one that will keep for months. I would like to make them fresh. My blind son loves them and sweets do not cause him to gain. I kind'a like 'em, too. It is the tart recipe I need since I have plenty of homemade preserves and jellies for the fillings.

Run for governor and get gas!

Right off the top, I'll admit I'm not a politician. As a matter of fact, I'm still undecided for whom I'll vote in the primary. I have, however, been accused of having a sense of humor, so perhaps that's why I can't help but enjoy what's happening with some of those individuals who have decided to run for governor.

I especially enjoy the TV ad of the candidate who — in what certainly appears to me to be a grammatically incorrect statement — proposes to administer tests in order to rid Kentucky's classrooms of incompetent teachers. Personally, as a teacher with 30 years of experience, I'm rather looking forward to finding out whether or not I'm up to snuff. I mean, to tell the honest truth, there are days when I really doubt that I am, and even more when I'm thoroughly convinced that I'm not.

Fair's fair, though, so perhaps — especially in view of the current crop of Frankfort seekers — there should also be some sort of prerequisite testing for those folks too. So, why not have them take the Gubernatorial Aptitude Survey, or GAS?

Here's why. Two of the Democratic candidates were, at one time, Republicans. Now, I know that there's nothing wrong with party switching. I've even thought about it myself a few times. It's just that I think it's funny how supporters of one jumped all over the other because he had once been a Republican, and come to find out, their candidate had been one too.

Then, there's another candidate whose primary means of sweetening the ol' political pot is by promising that if he's elected, he'll work to legalize marijuana. And, if that's not enough, there's the other poor fellow who's been accused of being a wife beater.

This is all starting to sound like something from Saturday Night Live. Furthermore, on the other side, reminiscent of the old Bob Newhart Show, are Larry and his other brother Larry who appear to be so much alike that they're beating up on each other in the attempt to show their differences. If they're not careful, they'll end up with nothing left to throw at the Democrats in November. (That is, of course, unless one of them decides to withdraw ... again.)

Anyway, perhaps answers to even this little three-part quiz just might be enlightening.

1. Have you ever been a member of the other party?

2. (A) Yes. (B) No. (C) Don't be silly. (D) Not to my knowledge.

What the answer might reveal: (A) and (B) are simple, direct answers. Therefore, they are not conducive to politics and would never be expected to be marked. (C) Popular answer. Avoids the issue. (D) How could anyone smart enough to be governor not know if they've ever been registered with the other party? Am I the only one in the world to think that's funny?

2. What makes you think you're qualified to be governor?

(A) I've been active in politics for years and think I know the needs of the people — especially eastern Kentuckians. (B) I can afford to run, so I ran. (C) Don't be silly. (D) I sleep with the present governor.

What the answer might reveal:

(A) Don't you wish? (B) Probably most likely to be true but least likely to be marked. (C) Refer to question number one. (D) Get real! Why, if this were a genuine criteria, some folks would have wanted to elect Marilyn Monroe president.

3. Do you think Kentucky's voters are stupid, or what?

(A) Yes! (B) Of course. (C) Don't be silly. (D) We'll see.

What the answer might reveal: (A) and (B) are too direct and will likely be avoided. (C) Refer to questions one and two. (D) Marking this one simply means that "If I should win, then I should have marked (A) or (B)."

Thus far, the campaign has been a hoot. We're really lucky though. After all, only one of these folks will win in November.

Mr. Boyd thanked the BSRT members for their loyal support, and said that last September's KRTA workshop at May Lodge had the highest attendance of any in this state.

The president, Mrs. Muncy, appointed this nominating committee from these counties: June Elswick, Pike; Alma Lowe, Floyd; Lutie Williams, Martin; Erma Ward, Johnson;

Cabbage Patch

by: Marie Harmon

Most of the chrysanthemums that went dormant this past fall did not live through this winter. Mums are supposed to be hardy perennials. Inadequate snow cover, extreme cold, heaved roots and the absence of chopped leaves or straw after the ground became frozen all contributed to their death. Dormant mums that have been mulched heavily will, most likely, live through even hard winters.

First birthday

Derika Danielle Mulkey celebrated her first birthday at her home on March 24. The theme of her birthday party was clowns. Relatives, friends, and a clown (Chris Hopkins) helped her celebrate. She is the daughter of Renee Mulkey of Grethel and Keith Mulkey of Harold. She is the granddaughter of Glen and Willa Tackett of Teaberry, and Julius and Joyce Mulkey of Harold. Her great-grandparents are Martha Newsome of Grethel, Walker and Mearl Tackett of Teaberry and Burt and Frankie Case of Harold. She and her parents expressed their appreciation to all those who attended her party.

Those mums that do survive and come to life again in the spring will have many new stems coming up from the old plant. Some will grow vigorously; others near the center of the clump won't be doing so well. Unlike hosta and peonies that get bigger and better when left undisturbed from year to year, the quality of chrysanthemums diminishes if they aren't divided yearly.

Mums are easy to divide. Dig up the entire clump and wash the dirt from the roots. On the outer rim of the root ball, you'll notice lots of new shoots with small, young hair roots. Snip these rooted stems from the mother plant and place them in water. Because of the large number of young rooted stems that can be taken from a year-old plant, you can and should throw away the old center portion.

Rooted stems can be planted directly to the garden. Be sure your soil is rich and humus. To get even more new plants take four to five inch cuttings from the rooted stems or from the undivided clumps still in the garden. Remove the two lower leaves and cut with a sharp knife, or razor blade a 45 degree cut, on the bottom of the stem, and place in wet sand until rooted. The cuttings should have enough roots within two weeks to set in the garden. Fifteen to twenty cuttings can be placed in a 10 inch pot. Keep sand damp, not wet, and place cuttings in a shady area.

After your new mums start growing pinch out the tips, to force the plants to be compact and bushy. Unpinched plants will bush out on their own later, but have a tendency to be tall and leggy, falling over in windy times. Pinched ones always stand up.

Mums have very attractive foliage from May to Fall and bloom from September to frost. If you have one or more in pots, bring them into the house, and extend the gardener's last hurrah!

Mama always said, "You can't be in two places at the same time."

But with Call Forwarding, I can. Because it lets me forward my phone to wherever I'm headed, so I don't miss important calls. Plus, it's a great way to fool your mother into thinking you're always home.

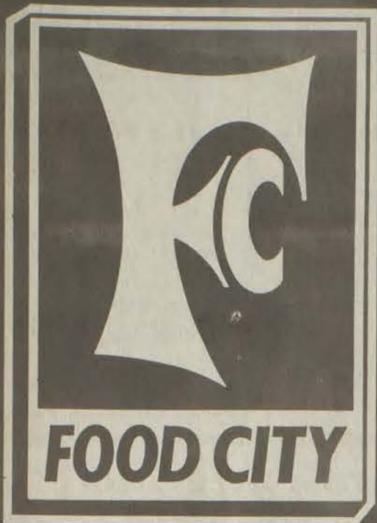

CALL FORWARDING keeps you from missing important calls, because you can send your phone calls to the place you're going, for $2.75 a month. Order by May 31 and save the $15.50 connection charge. Call 557-6400.

All tie breaking bids must be submitted within 15 minutes following the authorized officers' announcement at the sale that identical high bids have been received.

(B) The City may provide a roll cart container to office, commercial and industrial units, apartment complexes, or other buildings within the city limits or area where the city provides for waste collection and which property does not generate enough waste to warrant container service, or has special circumstances which do not allow use of dumpster containers.

SECTION 4: DUMPSTER CONTAINER SERVICE:

If so, the resident may be required to purchase replacement containers.

(B) The roll cart container may be filled to capacity as long as the lid can be closed and latched. No hazardous, medical special handling waste, bricks, dirt, engine blocks, or other excessively heavy material, hot ashes, paints, solvents or flammable liquids shall be placed in the container.

(C) Any residences or establishments that do not use the City Government Roll Cart Container or establishments that use containers for excess garbage and trash in addition to the one provided by the City of Prestonsburg will comply with the following regulations. All containers and Tied plastic bags may be used for excess trash placement at the curb.

SECTION 7: MAINTENANCE AND PLACEMENT OF ROLL CART CONTAINER:

(A) Refuse containers shall be maintained in good condition. Any container that is not provided by the City of Prestonsburg and does not conform to the provisions of this Chapter or that may have ragged or sharp edges or any other defect liable to hamper or injure the person collecting the contents thereof must be promptly replaced by a proper receptacle. All bulk trash accumulated in residential, commercial or manufacturing buildings, other than those items which can be placed in the roll cart or container, shall be flattened and tied in bundles or packed in suitable containers of a size that can be readily handled by one collector, and in no case shall such bundle or container be larger than 3 feet by 4 feet. Brush shall be cut into length not exceeding four feet and tied into bundles which can be readily handled by an individual collector. All non-residential establishments which do not use dumpsters will comply with the regulations listed above. When any container is found to be in bad condition or when the refuse is not properly prepared in accordance with this section, a notice shall be attached to such container or refuse by the Director of the Department of Public Works, or his representative, listing the defect to be cured before collection is continued.

(B) Garbage containers shall be kept or placed at the most accessible place at the rear of the house or building or in unlocked areas or passage ways thereof at ground level. Trash that will not fit in the roll cart container and that is properly prepared pursuant to this ordinance will be collected once per week. When a scheduled refuse collection day falls on a city holiday, refuse will be collected on the next regularly scheduled collection day. The Director of the Department of Public Works will retain the right to adjust schedules in response to emergencies or severe weather.

(B) Roll cart containers and receptacles for trash and ashes shall be placed at the curb line for collection but shall not remain at the curb line longer than a reasonable time necessary for collection. City containers and other receptacles for trash and ashes shall be placed at the curb no sooner than 7:00 p.m. on the evening prior to collection and no later than 5:00 a.m. on the day of collection. City containers and other receptacles shall be removed from the curb no later than 7:00 p.m. in the evening on the day of collection. Roll carts and other receptacles shall be kept in the rear yard when not at the curb for collection. Properties which do not have rear yard access may be exempt from this provision upon approval of an alternative storage location by the Director of Public Works.

SECTION 9: PROCEDURE FOR USING DUMPSTERS AND COLLECTION SCHEDULES:

(A) No dumpster shall be located closer than six (6) feet to any abutting residential property line. Whenever in the opinion of the Director of Public Works a dumpster cannot be located upon a particular site so as to conform with these requirements, or there are special circumstances that make the requirements wholly impractical, the Director may designate a location for the dumpster which in his discretion is the most accessible and aesthetically appropriate or make exemptions from the requirements as necessary. Any property owner aggrieved by the determination of the Director of Public Works may address the concern to the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg.

(B) All dumpsters and containers, regardless of whether collection service will be provided by the city or by private hauler, shall be maintained in a safe and sanitary condition and shall be cleaned by the owner/occupant of the dumpster site as often as necessary to prevent the dumpster from becoming malodorous. Litter and debris shall not be allowed to accumulate around the dumpster, and all refuse shall be deposited in such manner so as to prevent it from blowing out of the dumpster.

(C) The Department of Public Works and the City Administrator is hereby authorized to promulgate further regulations regarding dumpsters in order to provide standards for the location and maintenance of the dumpsters not in conflict with these sections.

(D) The City shall make a minimum of one collection per week from each establishment having dumpster containers. If a dumpster is blocked by a vehicle or is obstructed in any other way which prohibits access to a dumpster, the Department of Public Works will return for this collection only if the collection schedules allow. No dumpster containers will be collected or emptied by the City if its collection equipment is required to pass over a curb. Such containers shall be placed and located as directed by the Director of Public Works.

(E) A dumpster container will not be collected when in the opinion of the Director of Public Works it is filled with special handling wastes or when the combined weight of the container and its contents is of such an excessive weight as to pose a threat to the proper functioning of the packer truck lifting equipment.

(F) Establishments using dumpster containers shall ensure that the container is placed at a point that is reasonably accessible for the purpose of collection. Such point shall not be in any public street, alley or sidewalk, or upon any public property of any nature. Dumpsters in extremely difficult locations may not be serviced if in the opinion of the Director of Public Works a better, safer and more accessible location exists upon the property. February home sales rally in wake of low rates, war success

The market for previously owned homes rallied in February, as home buyers, buoyed by an imminent allied victory in the Persian Gulf, took advantage of low mortgage rates, according to the National Association of Realtors.

The association recorded a seasonally adjusted annual sales rate of 3.13 million existing single-family homes last month, 7.9 percent above the January rate of 2.90 million units. The month-to-month increase was the first recorded since last November, and it was the largest recorded in nearly five years.

"The clear, decisive outcome of the war turned around sagging consumer confidence and brought buyers back into the market," said NAR President Harley E. Rouda. "After months of sputtering, it looks as though many markets across the nation have passed their low point and are regaining strength. People are ready to buy." Although a wide-scale surge in home sales is not anticipated in the months ahead, in general, activity appears to have stabilized and is now resuming a sustainable growth rate, he noted.

The Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. (Freddie Mac) reported that the national average commitment rate for 30-year, conventional, fixed-rate mortgages ranged between 9.25 percent and 9.56 percent during February, about one percentage point below rates offered during February 1990.

Favorable mortgage rates have opened up the home buying market to more people with modest incomes, Rouda said. "Homeownership is becoming more affordable to the entry-level buyer," he said.

A decline in the national median price from one year ago and between January and February reflects a greater quantity of home sales in the lower-price range. The median is a midpoint—half the homes sell for more, half for less. February's median of $94,800 was 0.8 percent below January's price of $95,600 and 0.3 percent below the February 1990 price of $95,100.

For interest-rate watchers in all income categories, the decline in rates from the 10 percent level to the single-digits was the drop in many waited for before making a decision to buy, Rouda noted. "The difference between 10 and 9 percent eliminates both real and psychological barriers," he said.

For instance, the principal and interest payment on a fixed-rate, 30-year loan for $75,800 (80 percent of February's median price) with a 9.25 percent interest rate (Freddie Mac's lowest rate for February) would be about $624. Payments on the same loan at 10.25 percent would be $680.

Activity was up notably in the Northeast, a region which has been dominated by sluggish sales in high-cost markets. There, the resale pace was 500,000 units in February 8.7 percent above the January rate. The February median price in the Northeast was $137,700, up 0.6 percent from January, but 4.0 percent below the price for February 1990. Realistic pricing by sellers has started attracting buyers looking for bargains, Tuccillo noted.

However, despite the resale pace increase, the Northeast is not likely to experience a sudden rebound, due largely to credit tightening that will continue to hamper sales in the residential as well as commercial real estate sectors, he said. "Northeast markets still could face some rough sailing," Tuccillo said.

The South posted a resale of 1.22 million units, up 3.4 percent from January. The South's median price was $84,000 in February, down 0.7 percent from January and 1.5 percent from February 1990.

There were 246 million homes available for sale nationwide in February, representing a 9.4-month supply at last month's resale rate.

Currently, NAR is expecting sales of existing single family homes to total 3.19 million units in 1991. Interest rates for fixed-rate, 30-year mortgages are expected to decline gradually during the second, third and fourth quarters, averaging about 9.1 percent for the year.

* The annual rate for a particular month represents what the total number of actual sales for a year would be if the relative resale pace for that month were maintained for 12 consecutive months.
