The Floyd County Times

Report is finished on school probe

Legislative subcommittee to review findings and recommendations

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

A long-awaited report on a state review of school construction projects in Eastern Kentucky apparently will be released today, May 1, in Frankfort to a legislative subcommittee.

Officials in the office of State Auditor Bob Babbage declined Tuesday to discuss specific details of the report.

Nine members of Babbage's Public Integrity department visited schools in Floyd and Pike counties in February and March after school construction projects in those counties were questioned. The auditing team reviewed construction procedures and policies concerning projects built or under construction using funding provided by the state School Facility Construction Commission.

Findings and conclusions of the state review have not yet been made public, but they are expected to include recommendations for changing the procedures used for managing and tracking school construction projects. The report apparently includes no findings of criminal wrongdoing in relation to construction projects in Floyd and Pike counties and suggests regulatory and statutory changes that will apply statewide.

In a brief news release issued Tuesday evening, Babbage said the report will be presented at 1 p.m. May 1 to the legislature's Education Accountability Subcommittee. Members include Senators Walter Baker, David Karem, Ed Ford and Joe Wright and Representatives Roger Noe, Kenny Rapier, Ann Northrup and Jody Richards.

Babbage also said in the Tuesday news release that "everyone in Pike and Floyd counties, without exception, was very cooperative during the research for and the development of the report."

The state review of school construction projects was the result of a request by Pikeville architect James Ellis, who asked the state's Office of Education Accountability to investigate school construction management contracts, specifically contracts held by Martin Engineering, of Martin.

Ellis alleged in his request for a state investigation that Martin Engineering had received "abnormal compensation" under "open-ended" contracts for construction projects, including the development of Floyd County's Left Beaver High School.

Martin Engineering spokeswoman Elizabeth Rowe said in March that her company had operated "by the book" on school construction projects and that she thought the state review would "benefit all."

State auditors spent a week last February reviewing school construction projects in Floyd and Pike counties.

Auditors examined records concerning property acquisition, site development, bidding procedures and construction contracts.

Babbage said in February that questions resulting from the probe would be directed to the appropriate local and state officials.

Jim Curtis, media spokesman for Bob Babbage, did not indicate this week when details of the finished report would be made public.

A Friend In Deed . . .

An unlikely hero

Charles Reed (right) never expected that he would have to rely on his friend to save his life, but that's exactly what happened Sunday. For thinking and acting quickly Alexander Smith (left) is a hero in Reed's eyes and many others who study and work at the Job Corps center since he performed the Heimlich Maneuver on Reed when he was choking during meal time. Childhood training helps student save friend's life

With all the soldiers returning from Saudi Arabia, the word "hero" has become commonplace in the American vocabulary. But, the word "hero" does not only apply to those who fight wars. It can also say something about those everyday people who perform brave and rare acts.

Prestonsburg, and more specifically, the Job Corps Center, has their own local hero in Alexander Smith. The 17-year-old Job Corps student said he knew at some time he would be required to use the life saving skills his mother had taught him a year ago, and on Sunday, April 28 he proved his knowledge with flying colors.

On that day Smith's good friend Charles Reed discovered what a true friend was when Smith saved his life. Reed, 18, was the last student to eat lunch on Sunday and, feeling rushed, began to gulp his food.

"I had volunteered to do KP (kitchen work) Sunday and I saw Charles trying to finish eating," Smith said. "He was acting a little funny, but I didn't pay much attention. Then, all of a sudden, he got up and started running around. He bounced off a wall and headed in my direction and fell over near me."

Smith said that there were others around but they were all panicking and not doing anything to help Reed. "My friends who were around me thought I was joking," said Reed. "I didn't know what to do, but I knew I needed help and needed it bad."

Reed was unconscious when he fell at Smith's feet. Smith reached down and picked up the 135 pound, 5'8" Reed and performed the Heimlich maneuver on him, dislodging the obstruction blocking the young man's airway.

"He was heavy. I don't know how I was able to pick him up so fast, I just did it," said Smith. "I feel real proud of myself, like I accomplished some-

Former cheerleader sues over injuries and dismissal

A former Prestonsburg High School cheerleader has filed a lawsuit against the school's cheerleading sponsor, principal and the Floyd County Board of Education alleging negligence which resulted in physical injury.

Alrita Shepherd filed suit April 17 in Floyd County Circuit Court on behalf of her daughter, Karla Darice Phipps. The suit alleges Phipps was required to perform certain cheerleading routines which caused severe injuries to her knees.

The lawsuit also alleges that cheerleading sponsor Lois Marshall gave Shepherd seven demerits after Phipps complained about routines and those demerits resulted in her being dismissed from the squad. The civil action called Phipps' dismissal "arbitrary, unreasonable, capricious and illegal."

A civil suit only represents the plaintiff's cause of action.

Certification rift settled by board

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A dispute between the construction manager and architect over work certification on the Left Beaver High School project was settled Saturday after both parties agreed to sign a joint certification form.

Superintendent Ron Hager said at Thursday's special board meeting that contractors working on the Left Beaver High School site have not been paid since February because of a work certification problem between construction manager Sam Martin and the project's architect James Ellis. Ellis would not approve payment to contractors until the work has been certified to him by Martin.

After attorneys representing Ellis and Martin agreed to sign the pending vendor contracts Thursday, a "misunderstanding" occurred Friday concerning what documents Martin needed to sign, said board chairman Ray "Shag" Campbell.

Campbell said Tuesday the issue was resolved Saturday and payment requests for contractors were approved in Frankfort Monday. Campbell said contractors were paid by Tuesday.

Debate between board attorney Cliff Latta and Superintendent Ron Hager Thursday centered on the certification process.

Latta advised the board that Martin's contract called for certification to the architect and he said Martin was not performing his contractual obligations. An amendment to Martin's contract by the board in February "bypassed" certification to the architect, Latta said, and it was not a valid amendment.

"According to Mike Luscher with the state Department of Buildings and Grounds, the amendment is void because he, Luscher, did not approve it," Latta said. "I recommend that this board rescind that action."

Superintendent Hager said the procedures currently in place, which have the construction manager certifying work to the board, have been used by the board on all construction projects.

KSP is invited to join investigation

Prestonsburg High School principal Robert May said last Wednesday that the Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association (PAAA) was formed to raise funds to reimburse the Floyd County Board of Education for the cost of installing air conditioning at the high school, but board records indicate the costs have not been repaid.

In Friday's edition of the Times, May, also on the board of directors for the PAAA, said the club started conducting the bingo games on an agreement with the board to pay for air conditioners at the high school.

A $20,000 expense for air conditioning the high school has not been repaid to the Floyd County Board of Education by the PAAA. Board of education records show that the association made one $5,000 payment on the debt several years ago. Financial records show the remaining debt as an account receivable.

Meanwhile, a probe into the operation of bingo games at several Floyd County high schools will begin within the next 10 days, Floyd County Commonwealth Attorney Jerry Patton said Monday.

Patton said he received a letter this week from Floyd Superintendent Ron Hager that listed the names of individuals to question about the bingo operations.

A Kentucky State Police investigator will be asked to start a criminal investigation into the issue and individuals named in Hager's letter will be questioned for information about the bingo operations.

"Depending on the investigator's schedule, I hope to get the investigation started this week," Patton said. "It should be complete in 30 days."

Patton said he did not receive financial records of the Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association in Hager's custody. That association has been operating a bingo game at the high school for the past several years. Games were also conducted at Betsy Layne and Allen Central high schools, and none were registered with the county court clerk, a violation of the state's charitable gaming laws.

The Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association also did not have

Two killed, two injured in collision

A Floyd County husband and wife were killed and two teenagers were injured in a head-on collision with another car on Ky 122 at Salisbury on Thursday, April 25.

According to Trooper Ghomer Prater, Pamela Webb, 17, of Martin was traveling west on Ky 122 when she lost control of her 1981 Pontiac in a curve, crossing into the east bound lane and striking a 1983 Toyota Celica. Driving the Toyota was Harold Conn, 45, with his wife, Shelby Conn, 43, as a passenger. The Conns, of Hunter, were pronounced dead on the scene by Floyd County deputy coroner Glenn Frazier.

Webb and her passenger, Jennifer Yates, 17, of Martin, were both transported to Our Lady of the Way Hospital in Martin where Webb was treated and released on Friday. Yates was transferred to Cabell-Huntington Hospital in critical condition, on Monday she was listed in good condition.

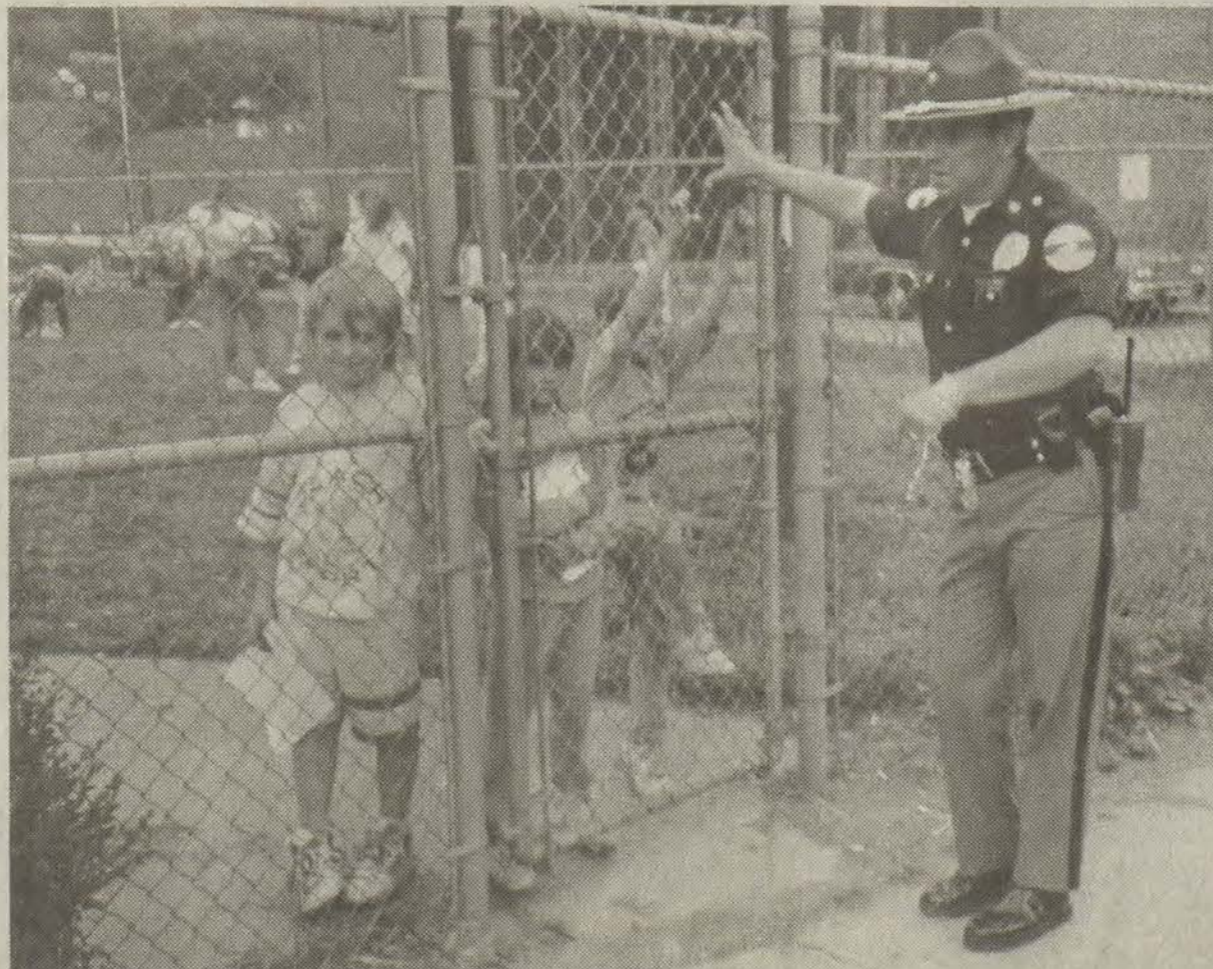

No seat belts were used in either vehicle and the accident is under investigation by Trooper Leslie Massey.

Floyd woman is killed in mishap

A head on collision between a coal truck and a passenger vehicle resulted in a Floyd County woman's death on Thursday, April 25.

Bonna Patrick, 27, of Hunter was pronounced dead on the scene by Coroner Jay Hinkle after the vehicle in which she was a passenger crossed the center line and struck a coal truck, according to Trooper Gomer Prater of the Kentucky State Police.

The accident occurred on KY 292 at Lovely in Martin County at 12:10 p.m. Jack Patrick, who was driving the car, was sent to Cabell-Huntington Hospital where he was listed in critical condition and the driver of the coal truck, Jay Hinkle, was unhurt, according to Prater. No seat belts were used and the accident is under investigation by Trooper Johnny Adkins.

A sure sign of Spring

Ah, school's out for the day and the kids have warm weather and grass to roll around in, now you know why they come home from school all dirty. Assistant Chief Roy Roberts of the Prestonsburg Police Department seems to be trying to keep these children on the safe side of the fence here as he does crossing guard detail outside of Prestonsburg Elementary School. Prom night magic for TMH students

Adams School TMH prom

Prom night for students at Adams Middle School's handicapped unit is the beginning of what organizers hope will be an annual county-wide event by next year. Pictured, beginning at top, left to right, are: Vickie Flannery and Ray Manns; Vickie Flannery, Misty Hughes, Marguerite Fannin, Lora Dingus, and Linda Campbell. At bottom, Vickie Flannery, Linda Campbell, Betty Leedy, Jackie Leedy, Mitzy Hughes and Mary Franklin; and Missy Powers and Lisa Powers.

It was a night of magic for the students of the multi-handicapped unit at Adams Middle School as they attended their first prom at May Lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park.

This was the first event of its kind to be held in the county and organizers plan to make next year's event county-wide and to have the prom annually.

Live music was donated for the prom by The Simple Six and The Woodsters. Members of the bands were Tim Johnson, Bob Johnson, Marcia Johnson, Greg Coleman, Steve Johnson, David Gibson, Tom Blackburn, Jeff Patrick and Ted Stephens.

Parents, teachers and teacher aides put together together the program and were encouraged by the support they received from businesses and volunteers in Floyd and surrounding counties.

Those participating were: Betty Leedy, Harmon Leedy, Sadie Dotson, Avnie Manns, Margurite Fannin, Mitzy Hughes, Mary Franklin, Vickie Flannery and Linda Campbell. Students attending were Ray Manns, Missy Powers, Lora Dingus and Jackie Leedy.

"If we've expended $16 million using the wrong forms we could be liable," Hager said.

Latta said if the construction manager would operate under the contract he, Martin, signed with the board the issue could be resolved.

"Enforce both of their contracts," Latta said. "Put both their feet to the fire."

Damron and Ellis said there would be no problem signing the requisitions for funds if Martin would also certify the work.

Ellis explained that he would not assume the responsibility for work done at the site without Martin's certification.

"The board pays the construction manager for continuous on-site inspection," Ellis said. "The architect is required to make periodic on-site inspections. I can't approve payment for work on the site that the construction manager is supposed to certify has been done. That's not a good way to operate."

Bobby Rowe, representing Martin, said the situation has been blown out of proportion and that the construction manager certifies every step of the program to the board.

"The construction manager is under contract to the board," Rowe said. "The construction manager shouldn't certify to someone who he doesn't have a contract with."

Hager told Damron that it reflected badly on the board that some contractors haven't been paid in over three months.

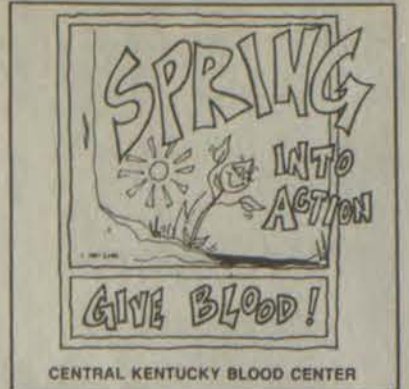

Damron said he would not advise his client to approve the payments unless the construction manager certified the work.

"If the board directs us to sign, and you don't want us to inspect the work, we will not be liable for any deficiencies," Damron said. "If we are made to sign under your direction, we will not be responsible."

Superintendent Hager read a resolution directing Ellis to sign the documents.

Latta told the board he would not advise them to approve the resolution because he said he found no evidence that the architect failed to comply with his contract. He said if the board did not require the joint certification it would result in less accountability on the construction project.

Latta said the issue could be resolved if the two parties agreed to sign the payment documents and negotiate a new certification form that would require both signatures. Damron and Rowe agreed Thursday to the arrangement.

thing. I don't expect nothing (in return). If you are put in that type of a situation you have to do it. I don't deserve nothing."

Mike Gibon, who works at the center, said he was called by a kitchen worker who told him that a student was choking and she needed help. When Gibon arrived on the scene he said he saw "all the students and staff in the kitchen panicking until Alexander Smith took control of the situation and applied the Heimlich maneuver on Charles."

"I'm very thankful that Alex was there," said Reed. "If he wasn't I probably wouldn't be alive today because nobody else there could have done it."

Smith said his mother had taught him CPR while she was taking medical courses in Nashville, Tennessee. He said she stressed that it was possible he would need those skills some day.

"I've always been anxious to help people in trouble in the past," said Smith. "I didn't even think, I just did it. I think it's a good thing."

Smith said he had seen a video on CPR in his GED class and thought it was a valuable lesson. He noted that he wanted to learn more about it now that he knows how important it is.

The center is planning a reception in Smith's honor and will present him an award. A letter of recommendation signed by nine staff members and Reed was presented to the center director. It reads, in part, "We (Perkins Job Corps) have, in the past, recognized and rewarded students with monetary rewards, i.e. savings bonds, for outstanding academic achievement, and now that we have an honest to goodness hero, we think we should do as much."

Smith has just completed his course in electronics at the Job Corps and, after he receives his GED scores, he hopes to go to Mayo State Vocational and Technical School to continue his studies.

an Internal Revenue Service tax exemption required to operate as a charitable gaming activity.

"I understand that the records have been sent back to the schools because there is a tremendous volume of them," Patton said. "We'll determine if we need to get a special independent investigative accountant in here to go through them."

The board of education directed Hager to ask the Commonwealth Attorney for the probe after an investigation into the Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association by the Floyd County Times revealed the game was not being operated in accordance with the state law.

Tinker joins Wells law firm

Wells Law Offices of Hager Hill announces that William W. Tinker, III, has joined the law firm as an associate attorney.

Tinker is a 1990 graduate of the Salmon P. Chase College of Law and was admitted to the Kentucky Bar on October 12, 1990. He received a B.S. degree in Business Administration in 1987 from the W. Fielding Rubel School of Business, Bellarmine College.

While in law school Tinker was a member of the Kentucky Academy of Trial Attorneys, president of Delta of the Wells Law Offices firm, said that Tinker would have primary responsibility for Worker's Compensation and Social Security benefit claims. He will also assist Wells and Associate Attorney Sandra Spurgeon in trial work.

William Tinker

Theta Phi fraternity, class representative on the Student Bar Association and a national finalist at the Drake University National Mock Trial Tournament. He is a member of the American Bar Association and the Kentucky Bar Association.

For the past six months Tinker has been an associate attorney in the firm of Ferreri and Fogle where his practice concentrated on Worker's Compensation cases.

During Operation Desert Storm: Frasure on first gator to hit the beach

Moses Frasure Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Frasure of McDowell, was stationed aboard the USS LaMoure County, the first amphibious ship to "hit the beach" during Operation Desert Shield. During amphibious exercise Sea Soldier III, LaMoure County was the first and only landing ship tank to complete a causeway compression marriage and simulated offload.

On the second day of the exercise, the ship literally took its Marine soldiers to the beach. The ship has the ability to operate in shallow water and was able to drive to within 600 feet of the beach and marry up to eight causeways provided by the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek home-based Amphibious Construction Battalion Two. Remaining joined for 20 minutes, LaMoure County simulated an offload of Marine vehicles and then retracted safely back to sea.

The difficult and dangerous evolution was hampered by the fact that only two people on board had ever participated in prior causeway marriage, said the commanding officer of the ship, Commander R.A. Duffy.

Practicing for causeway marriages and other amphibious operations is usually done prior to deploying during amphibious refresher training. During the training experts instruct the crew on operations and procedures of amphibious evolutions. LaMoure County had canceled refresher training due to the short notice deployment to the Middle East in support of Operation Desert Shield/storm and pursued a program of self-instruction in amphibious warfare.

Murder and assault in Pike County

Joseph May, 31, of Lexington, was arrested Thursday and charged with murder and assault in the first degree after a fight with two Pike County brothers.

On April 28 at about 8 p.m. the Kentucky State Police received a call and responded to the scene of a crime on Winns Branch in Pike County. According to Trooper Ghomer Prater, May was visiting the home of Elizabeth Justice on Winns Branch when he and Michael Childers, 32, also of Winns Branch, got into a fight outside the home.

Reportedly, Childers went next door to his brother Danny's home and both Childers men returned to the Justice place. Another fight began, this time resulting in the shooting of both brothers.

Michael Childers was pronounced dead at 9 p.m. at the Pikeville Methodist Hospital and Danny Childers, 34, was taken to the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington where he underwent surgery on Monday.

The shooting is under investigation by Detective Kenneth Slone of the KSP.

Liberty of thought is the life of the soul—Voltaire

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

The annual Let's-Talk-About-What-Ails-Us meeting, aka The Eastern Kentucky Leadership Conference, was the main course last weekend in Pikeville and one of the side dishes was a live telecast of KET's Comment on Kentucky from Pikeville College.

Among the panelists for the program was Lexington Herald-Leader columnist Bill Bishop, the Lexington paper's latest expert on Eastern Kentucky, where never is heard an encouraging word.

Bishop caught some well-deserved heat from co-panelists Evelyn Burnitt, from Hazard's WYMT, and Ron Daley, from Hindman's Troublesome Creek Times, for apparently suggesting in a recent column that Eastern Kentuckians were wasting their time trying to diversify their coal-based economy.

We can't confirm that Bishop did, in fact, make such remarks because we discovered early in his column writing career for the Herald-Leader that his views on our part of the state tend to make us nauseous.

Besides, we can't imagine anyone making such an absurd assumption.

No doubt we have a long row to hoe toward a truly diverse economy. Those who suggest we can't get there from here have a lot to learn about our persistence.

Shame on all those who have chastised Martha Wilkinson for failing to address important issues in her campaign to become governor.

Just because her priorities follow the beat of a different drummer, there's no reason to drum her out of the race.

Why just last week Mrs. Guv let it be known that the most pressing concern for herself and other like-thinking Kentuckians is whether or not Brer Jones paid income taxes during his stint as Lt. Governor. Until Jones tesses up, she's just not going to debate penny-ante issues like education, roads, solid waste, campaign contributions and governmental ethics (gosh, those two words look strange together).

We don't blame Martha for clamping up.

Why, a person who wouldn't tell all about their taxes wouldn't fight for their country.

On the elephant's side of the race, Republican contender Larry Hopkins has been noticeably unnoticeable during various and sundry candidate functions around the state.

It appears that the deciding factor in the GOP primary will be whether or not Hopkins served in the armed services during the Korean War, an all-important consideration when determining the qualifications for governor.

We assume Hopkins' opponent, Lexington lawyer Larry Forgy, is attempting to demonstrate that Hopkins can't be counted on to tell the truth, but he might want to back off that campaign tactic.

After all, in Kentucky politics the biggest liar is usually the big winner.

Comments and contradictions.

Comment: Prestonsburg High principal Robert May admitted last week that his Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association had not complied with state laws governing the operation of bingo games.

Contradiction: In the same story, May accused this newspaper of wrongly inferring that association members were involved in criminal activity.

Comment: May also said that reimbursements to association members were legitimate repayments of expenses.

Contradiction: The funds used for those reimbursements were raised from an illegal gaming operation.

Comment: The purchase of a pick-up truck by the association with bingo revenues was not improper, May said, because the truck is used by every department at the school.

Contradiction: The truck was purchased, May said, by the Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association, presumably with funds from an illegal gaming operation.

Comment: Finally, May accused this paper of embarrassing him and the school by reporting on the bingo operation.

That accusation deserves no reply.

Editor:

The recent Florida case of rape alleged against a member of a prominent American family has brought to public attention the issue of whether the names of rape victims should be published or broadcasted by the news media. As the state agency which works most closely with Kentucky's Rape Crisis Centers, the Department for Mental Health and Mental Retardation Services offers the following perspective on the publication of rape victims' names.

Advocates with the field of sexual assault have long argued that rape should not be distinguished from other crimes. The status of sexual assault as a crime of violence has been adamantly supported in an effort to remove the stigma of rape and to decrease society's tendency to focus greater attention on the behavior of the rape victim than on the perpetrator of this crime. Eventually, the efforts of advocates will lead to the redefinition by society at large of rape as a crime of violence, not as simply an unfortunate or shady experience of sex.

There is a disturbing reality, however, to the current perception of rape and its victims within this culture. Myths of victim-blaming and stigma still abound. As a result, there is not a safe environment for victims' names to be published or broadcasted for editorial benefit or on principle. Publishing a victim's name without her or his consent is a further victimization because society alters its view of a woman or a man who has been sexually victimized unlike its view of any other crime victim. The argument cannot be made that rape victims' names should be published because the names of burglary or assault victims are printed by the press because the result is not the same. Society is not titillated by the experience of robbery or burglary, and does not have a fascination with the background or prior burglary experience of the victim. Whether a robbery victim is married, has dated many partners, attends church or R-rated movies, or goes to bars alone—none of these details feed a frenzied "need to know" by this culture, and none are printed with the burglary or robbery victim's name. The experience of the alleged rape victim in Florida who had reporters peering in her bedroom windows to report the book titles on her bookshelves and the color of her wallpaper is an example of society's differential treatment of rape victims, and shows why news agencies should not routinely release names.

The inevitable result of the press release of victims' names will be the decreased reporting of this crime by victims who do not wish the traumatic details of their experience or an analysis of their "innocence" to be the content of radio and television news clips and newspaper articles. Policies in support of publishing or broadcasted names mean victims lose three times—by the rape, by the stigma, and by the loss of their anonymity.

Kentucky advocates against sexual assault and the survivors of this crime are grateful and appreciative of the policy of most of the media in this state which prohibits publication or broadcast of the names of sexual assault victims. The refusal to revictimize Kentucky women and men, the prioritization of human dignity, and the sensitivity to crime victims apparent in this policy should be applauded and nothing less should be accepted.

Editor,

I would like to write this letter to tell you about my recent experience in Washington D.C.

I went to Washington last week to meet with our representatives in Congress about problems that both physicians and Home Medical Equipment Suppliers have with a regulation included in the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act passed last year.

I really didn't know what to expect when I got to Washington. I didn't know how many of our Congressmen and Senators would be able to meet with me and other citizens concerned with this problem. I also didn't know if we would have any success finding a member of Congress to take the lead for us.

Now that I've returned, I am pleased to let you know we were able to meet with just about all of our representatives or their staffs. I want to thank the entire Kentucky delegation for saying that they would back changes in the law to help us.

One congressman did more than just meet with us and nod his head in agreement. Representative Chris Perkins, our congressman from Eastern Kentucky, really took a leadership role in working with us and championing our cause. Rep. Perkins took his time to listen and find out how we felt about the regulation and how it would hurt our businesses and patient care in Kentucky. At the same time, his staff was taking notes on what we were saying. Rep. Perkins then arranged a meeting for us with the House Ways & Means subcommittee on Health, so that we could meet directly with those persons in a position to make the changes that we need.

Chris Perkins went out of his way to help us. He deserves a special thanks for that. I think all of us really appreciate it when our elected representatives take the time to meet with us and listen to what we have to say. It's even better, though, when you have someone who goes the extra mile to help us get the changes that are so important to so many persons in Eastern Kentucky.

Sincerely,
Johni Jakobson

We would like to thank Carolyn Traum of The Bookworm for her hard-working efforts in sponsoring a workshop for teachers throughout this area. The Carson-Dellosa "make and take" workshop held at Jenny Wiley Convention Center was informative, beneficial, and fun.

It's nice to know someone listens to the needs of educators. This workshop was vital in helping us prepare for such concepts as non-graded primary, whole language approach, and cooperative learning. Thanks, Carolyn.

As a health educator and sponsor of SADD at Prestonsburg High School, I would like to share some exciting news given to me by Thomas Foy, minister of music and youth at the First Baptist Church.

There are two bills currently being introduced in the US Senate and House of Representatives that would require rotating warnings be placed on alcohol and promotional materials. This legislation, if passed, would help counteract the glamour often associated with drinking alcoholic beverages.

Senator Strom Thurman (R-S.C.) is heading the Alcohol Beverage Advertisement Act (5.664) and Representative Joseph Kennedy (D-Mass) is promoting The Sensible Advertising and Family Education Act (HR 1443)

These bills would require the following statements:

— Drinking during pregnancy can cause birth defects, including mental retardation

— Alcohol impairs a person's ability to drive

— Alcohol combined with other drugs, even over-the-counter medicine, can be hazardous — Alcohol can be addictive — Purchasing alcohol for people under the age of 21 is illegal

This legislation is supported by the American Medical Association, The Academy of Pediatrics, The National PTA, The Southern Baptist Christian Life Commission, and The National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence.

If you believe this is a worthwhile endeavor, as I do, you need to let the following people know how you feel:

Senators Wendell Ford and Mitch McConnell, US Senate, Washington D.C. 20510 and Representative Carl Chris Perkins, House of Representatives, Washington DC 20515.

This is a beginning that may someday lead to warnings on every can of beer!

Poor pay more of income for taxes than do rich

by Ed Meyers,
Citizens for Tax Justice

Low- and middle-income families in Kentucky are paying a higher share of their incomes in state and local taxes than are wealthy Kentuckians, according to a study by Citizens For Tax Justice. The study was released in Kentucky by Kentuckians For The Commonwealth (KFTC).

State residents in the lowest fifth of the income range ($9,200 or less for a family of four) will pay 12.5 percent of their income for state sales, property, income and excises taxes, according to the study. By contrast, the wealthiest 5 percent of Kentuckians will pay only 8.9 percent of their income for taxes.

Middle-income Kentuckians making an average of $31,500 will pay 10 percent of their earnings and state and local taxes.

"The problem (in Kentucky) is over-reliance on regressive sales and excise taxes," said Robert McIntyre, director of Citizens for Tax Justice. "Kentucky still places too much of the tax burden on those who can least afford to pay."

Recent reforms in Kentucky's income tax structure, including repeal of the capital gains exclusion and of federal income tax deductibility, significantly increased the level of taxation for middle- and upper-income Kentuckians. But increases in the state sales and the gasoline taxes take a larger percentage of the earnings of lower-income households, keeping the greater tax burden on these families.

Kentucky sales and excise taxes take 5.6 times as great a share of income from the poorest fifth of Kentucky families as from the richest 1 percent (those with incomes of $645,000 or more), and more than three times as great a share from middle-income families as from the rich, the study found.

Over the past six years, the tax burden has increased for all Kentuckians. In 1985, Kentuckians in the lowest fifth of the income range paid 10.9 percent of the incomes in state and local taxes compared to 12.5 percent in 1991. For the top 1 percent of the income range, taxes have risen from 5.4 percent of income to 8.0 percent.

"We have always been concerned about fairness and equity in the tax system," said Daymon Morgan, KFTC chairperson.

"KFTC has worked for more than nine years to get a tax on unmined coal because we believe large absentee mineral owners should be paying their fair share of property taxes," Morgan said. "Everyone else has been paying property taxes for a long time."

"The unmined minerals tax means millions of dollars for our schools, libraries and other county services," Morgan added. "The poor have paid more than their fair share of taxes for long enough."

"I hope they revamp the U.S. education system. I want to be able to operate all the neat products the Japanese will be selling us in 20 years!"

Abuse workshop offered in Prestonsburg

A free workshop on abuse (child abuse, domestic violence and rape) will be held Wednesday, May 15 from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. at St. Martha Church, Prestonsburg on Route 3 near Jenny Wiley State Park. The workshop is being sponsored by the outreach offices of the Catholic Social Service Bureau with the assistance of Mountain Comprehensive Care Rape Victim Services, the Kentucky Council on Child Abuse Center, The Appalachian Research and Defense Fund, the Kentucky Department for Social Services and Parents Anonymous.

"We want to give an overview of the realities of abuse in our community and nation to those who are unaware," said Gwen Hall, the Catholic Social Service Bureau's Prestonsburg counselor. "For those who are aware, we want to provide an opportunity to connect with the resources that are available to families and individuals right here at home. We also hope to make every adult aware of their legal liability and moral responsibility to report suspected abuse."

The workshop format includes presentations by Sandy Brookover, Caseworker for the Big Sandy Family Abuse Center; Eileen Recktenwald, director of Rape Victim Services at Mountain Comprehensive Care; Janie Beverly, Kentucky Council on Child Abuse and Karen Alfano, an attorney for the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund.

Question and answer periods are scheduled. A 26-minute video called "Angels Among Us" will be shown. After lunch, 10-minute presentations on the Department of Social Services, Rape Victims Services, Kentucky Council on Child Abuse, CASA, the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund, the Big Sandy Family Abuse Center, Parents Anonymous, the Nurturing Program and the Catholic Social Service Bureau will be made and followed by an additional question/answer period.

There is no need to pre-register for the workshop. However, participants are asked to bring a brown bag lunch. Coffee and soft drinks will be provided.

For additional information, contact Gwen Hall at 874-9170.

Cablevision promotion to provide education funds to Floyd Schools

A special promotion sponsored by CableVision will provide funding to Floyd County Schools, said CableVision General Manager Lester Errett.

Customers who respond to the May promotion will have the opportunity to write a check-equivalent to the first month's service fees—directly to Floyd County Schools. CableVision will waive the normal $39.95 fee to connect new customers, as well as forego the first month's service fees for those customers who elect to participate in the promotion.

"We are committed to strengthening our educational resources in the community," stated Lester Errett. "We already provide free cable service for all schools in our service area through our "Cable in the Classroom" program, and this is just an additional way we can help support education."

LARRY HONEYCUT, Master

Pending Bill seen as burden

by Tess Whitmer
Assistant Editor

A small portion of a bill that looks good as a whole can cause serious repercussions for some, as Johni Jakobson of Home Medical Equipment has learned recently.

The bill is the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 (OBRA 1990) which is designed to cut costs and prevent fraud in the medical field, especially with issues dealing with Medicare. Part of that law, which has been enacted, provides that a home medical equipment (HME) supplier may not distribute to physicians or beneficiaries any completed or partially completed certificates of medical necessity (CMN) forms.

According to Jakobson, the CMN forms that are required for Medicare to pay for such supplies as canes, wheelchairs, oxygen and hospital beds for home use are quite complicated.

"The codes that are required on these forms are very specific," Jakobson said. "There are 10 codes just for wheelchairs alone."

Physicians and their staff will be required under this new bill to research and become familiar with minute details on the type and nature of equipment provided to their Medicare patients. They will need to compile this data and transmit it on a CMN using precise phrases and industry-specific terminology, Jakobson said.

"If these forms have any mistakes on them Medicare will send them back with a statement only that more information is necessary," Jakobson said. "It doesn't tell you exactly what was filled out incorrectly or what is missing, causing a very burdensome task for the physicians."

Since Medicare can legally hold these CMN forms at their office for up to 30 days after they receive them, the timeliness of application is very important to the supplier. "The patients already have their equipment and we carry the debt until we receive our money from Medicare," said Jakobson.

The Home Medical Equipment Co., with stores in Martin and Inez, has about 600 clients and about 75 percent of those are Medicare recipients. According to Jakobson, her business and other small businesses like her's will not have the cash flow to survive having to carry the debts this bill could create. She noted that there are almost 300 home medical equipment suppliers in Kentucky and the majority of those are small businesses.

"This could conceivably put the small businesses out of business, causing patients to have to go as far as Lexington to acquire equipment," she said. "The doctors are already gorged with paperwork and for them to have to worry about paperwork for a cane or a walker is ridiculous. I still have to assist them in filling the forms out, so why not let my staff do it."

Debbie Robinson who works for Dr. Roger N. Jurich's office in Prestonsburg concurred with Jakobson that the change was not necessary and very burdensome to the physician's office.

"It does increase our workload," she said. "Previously all we needed to do was fill out the date last seen by the physician and get his signature and any necessary comments. This took five minutes per CMN...Now it takes 15-30 minutes each and there are more chances for us to fill out something incorrectly."

Robinson also agreed that the HME suppliers did an excellent job filling out the forms and they never had any problems. "We do a substantial amount of CMNs on a daily basis and refer to HME suppliers quite a bit. It requires information we just don't know, such as specific reports and time periods, so we need to call them to find it out."

The bill was to take affect May 1, but Jakobson and others from the Kentucky Medical Equipment Suppliers Association (KMESA) recently traveled to Washington D.C. seeking to have the law amended. They succeeded in having the implementation date delayed to September in order for doctors to have a few months to learn the data needed for the forms. The KMESA is still pushing to have the portion of the bill pertaining to CMNs deleted and is urging people to write their congressman.

"This is not about money, it's about customer service and keeping small businesses operating," Jakobson said. "In a misguided attempt to effect policy changes in the Medicare program, Congress has placed an onerous and administratively unworkable burden on physicians and the HME suppliers."

Jakobson noted that, to the best of her knowledge, there is no abuse associated with the usual practice of suppliers partially completing CMNs and forwarding them to physicians for their verification and signature.

"They (HME suppliers) were doing an excellent job," Robinson said, concurring that she has seen no abuse of the system. "I can't see any positive points (in having the law changed). This change just takes time the patient doesn't have and the patient should be our first concern."

Man alleges vehicle attacked by pit bulls

Floyd County Circuit Court will go to the dogs, literally, when a civil action filed April 19 comes up for trial.

Sheridan Ray Martin, of Garrett, alleges in his complaint that his vehicle was attacked on April 22, 1990 by two pit bull dogs and the result of the attack was damage to his car and "fear for his safety."

The suit names Paul Edward Varney and a person identified only as "John Doe" as defendants.

Martin also accuses Varney and the unnamed co-defendant of negligence and of "malicious prosecution," the latter charge apparently in reference to a separate dispute in April 1990.

The suit seeks an unspecified amount of monetary damages and a trial by jury.

A civil suit complaint list only the plaintiff's cause of action.

"The Bond"

Soon one year will have gone by so fast,
And yet his memory in their minds will always last.

For their love was a special one which is hard to conceive,
But with the faith of God above it's plane to see.

A mother's love for her son is stronger than steel itself,
It's a bond which can't be put on a shelf.

And though the physical body is around no more,
The mental presence is from shore to shore.

Because a special love is there that will never go away,
And deep down inside you know you will be together soon some day.

Passed away: May 2, 1990

You're the evening star that shines so bright. You never done wrong, you always done right. You were taken away so young in life. God always knows what's right. You always wore a smile never a frown. You were just a happy clown. And always there when someone was down to do what you could and lend a helping hand. It's been a year since you were called home and now you're an Angel around God's great throne. And though you're gone to a home faraway, in our hearts is where you will stay.

We love you so much Walt and we miss you.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Gloria June Pitts would like to extend their appreciation and thanks to the many friends, neighbors and loved ones that gave us comfort during our time of sorrow.

Thanks to all who sent flowers, food, and the many prayers that were spoken.

A special thanks to Pastor Doug Burkett and Rev. Clifford Austin, and the Auxier Freewill Baptist Church for their comforting words and beautiful songs.

We would also like to extend our thanks to the Jones & Preston Funeral Home and the Floyd Co. Sheriff's Department, for their kind and professional services.

Also a special thanks to the South Central Bell Company and its employees, their kindness will always be dear to us.

Daddy,
Days have come and gone, since you left our presence. These days have turned into a year. But your memory lives on.

Places we go, people we see, things we do, and things we say. All makes us think of you. So you see your memory lives on.

Our homes are so lonely without you. There is not a day that goes by that we don't think of you, something that you said or done. All the things that you taught us help us to live each day. They help us to raise our children and to take care of them. Your memory lives on.

Daddy, things have not been the same since you left and things will never be the same. As with any one (and us) who has lost a loved one there will always be an empty place within them but there is something that no one can take away and that is the memory of you.

You were always there for us any day, any time, or any where, it didn't matter. You were one special Dad and one special kind of person. So you see it helps to have memories especially ones of you.

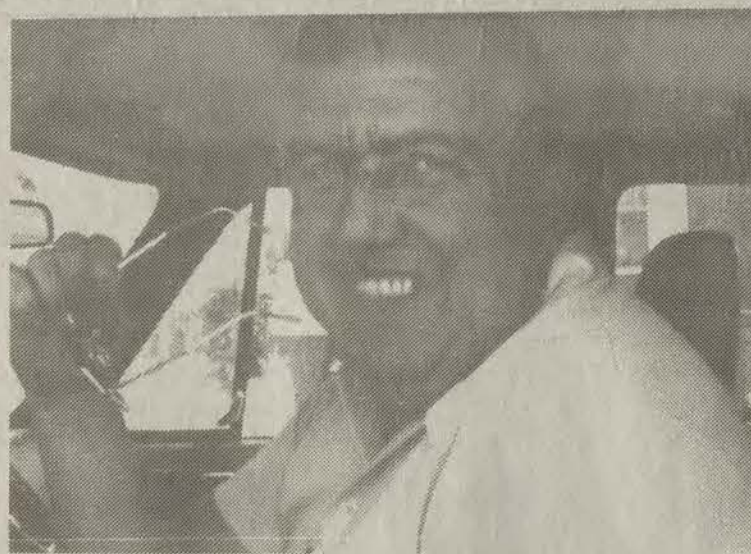

Days have come and gone and days will come and go. They will turn into years but your memory will live on through everyone that you have touched and through your children, grandchildren and their children. But the comfort of knowing that you are in heaven and that with the Grace of God we will be with you one day.

Proudly Adds Another Feature:

A Life Remembered® Tribute Program Videotape

We at Hall Funeral Home are excited about a new optional service we can offer you.

"Tribute Programs" is a tasteful and wonderful way to add new meaning to the funeral or memorial service. The six-minute video tape is a tribute to a LIFE carefully prepared from pictures of the person.

Yes, a tribute program may also be pre-arranged and completed. Selections of pictures, a musical theme from a long list of hymns or other music, and favorite scripture passages are all part of this unique service. All these elements are combined with sophisticated video technology and a sensitive production approach provided by National Music Service.

Eastern Ky. families have expected Hall Funeral Home to provide leadership. This new feature is expanding nationally, and we are proud to be the first in the state to offer it to the people we serve.

Organ donation: the gift of life

Without question, the loss of a close family member is one of life's most stressful and difficult experiences. However, it is a moment that could make the life of someone else much better.

As a healthcare provider, hospitals have the responsibility of improving the quality of life and if possible, saving the life of patients with endstage organ failure.

By law, physicians must ask family members suffering the loss of a loved one if they are interested in organ and/or tissue donation.

By enforcing these laws, hospitals ensure that something good is coming out of something as terrible as death...LIFE.

Organ and tissue donation adds no extra cost to the family, does not interfere with funeral arrangements, and is always confidential.

For more information about organ and/or tissue donation, contact the Kentucky Organ Donor Affiliates at 1-800-525-3456.

THE FAMILY OF OSCAR COLLINS

Card of Thanks

TO OUR FRIENDS and FAMILY:
We wish to thank you for the love, support and prayers during the illness and passing of our beloved husband and father, Terry Jewell. The lovely flowers and those who sent food and cards, to those who came and spoke a word of comfort, these things will long be remembered. To the staff of Highlands Regional 2nd floor, to Dr. J. D. Adams and Dr. Allen Hyden, your care was beyond duty. To my church family (Irene Cole) God bless you always. To Rev. Mike Taylor and Lee Carter for the comforting words and eulogy, to the choir for the beautiful songs, to Thomas Foy and Thomas Lafferty and to the Floyd Funeral Home for the caring service. Few people will ever know how much they are loved before they pass away. Terry knew that love and we know it now. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Viewing life

Paul Hutchison, director of Diagnostic Therapeutic Services at Highlands views the fetal sonogram contract with Earl Compton, administrator of Floyd County Health Department and Jane Bond, health educator for the health department.

Highlands and Floyd County Health Dept. to provide fetal sonograms for patients Highlands Regional Medical Center, as a community service, has signed a contract with the Floyd County Health Department to provide fetal sonograms for patients participating in the Health Department's prenatal program.

A fetal sonogram is a medical diagnostic procedure used during pregnancy. It is a very sophisticated, but painless, process which uses ultrasound (sound waves) to monitor the condition of both baby and mother. The age of the fetus, development of baby's organs, presence of multiple babies, and the detection of complications or abnormalities can be determined by a fetal sonogram.

Highlands has participated with the Floyd County Health Department for several years in providing other prenatal services and believes expectant mothers participating in this program may be those most in need of fetal sonograms and who otherwise would be unable to afford the procedure.

Earl Compton, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department said, "Patients participating in the prenatal program must meet certain criteria. One guideline is that patients have no health insurance and do not qualify for any other type of medical assistance."

Paul Hutchison, director of Diagnostic/Therapeutic Services at Highlands stated, "Highlands is glad to work with the health department in providing this service to the community. Good prenatal care is vital to our area having low infant mortality rates. This has long been a major concern of healthcare providers in Eastern Kentucky."

Highlands recognizes National Doctors Day

On Friday, March 29 medical institutions nationwide paid tribute to their medical staffs as they celebrated National Doctors Day. Highlands Regional Medical Center honored its dedicated physicians with an appreciation breakfast.

Physicians in today's world lead a "hectic pace." In addition to seeing patients in the office, they must keep up with a "mountain of paperwork" required by insurance companies and the federal government. A patient's chart, which can be an inch thick, must be "letter perfect" to meet rigorous quality assurance reviews.

Physicians' hours of practice are long and varied. The Emergency Room physician is on duty for 24 continuous hours. The surgeon sees patients or performs his routine daily surgery schedule, goes home and may be called back to the hospital at 3 a.m. to perform an emergency surgery. Obstetricians' daily lives revolve around babies' birthing schedules.

A glamorous life—guess again. The average physician's wife will say that her husband puts in a minimum 12-hour-work day. Uninterrupted weekends with the family are rare. Weekends seem to be the time when most patients, especially children, get sick and need a doctor. Physicians are truly dedicated men and women.

They serve 2-, 3-, 4- and 5-ways at Dixie Chili. But since 1947, their health insurance decision has gone just 1-way.

Variety is the spice of life at Dixie Chili. Except when you talk to Dixie Chili owners, the Sarakatsannis brothers, about their health insurance. Only one company has been good enough for the last 43 years — Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky.

The family business has grown since the Sarakatsannis' father opened Dixie Chili in an eight-foot-wide storefront. There are four more restaurants. Seventy more employees. A retail and mail order business.

As this Northern Kentucky based business has grown, Blue Cross and Blue Shield has been able to supply the people and the products necessary to adapt to the Sarakatsannis family's changing health insurance needs.

Today, as in 1947, Dixie Chili employees still have the best choice of doctors and hospitals around. And they still have the most recognized health care card in Kentucky.

If you're interested in choosing Blue Cross and Blue Shield for your company, call us. We'll serve up a generous portion of Kentucky's most popular health plan.

Biology club goes to Washington

Prestonsburg High School's Biology Club recently visited Washington, D.C., where they visited the National Archives, the Capitol Building, the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument, the Jefferson Memorial, the Vietnam War Memorial, Arlington National Cemetery, the National Cathedral, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and the Smithsonian. Despite rain and cold weather during the last part of the trip, the outing was a success. Club members who participated were as follows: Krista McIntire, Susanne Dawson, Cindy Tackett, Jennifer Gray, Sonya Compton, Holly Bond, Alicia Spradlin, Angie Perry, Mamata Majmudar, Mark Holbrook, Steven Moore, Jason Crace, Carter Hamilton, Tim Goble, Teresa Ousley, Lisa Dotson, Alan DeRossett, Chris Music, and Kevin Conley. Chaperones on the trip were Mrs. Teresa Boatwright, sponsor, and Ms. Fish, Prestonsburg High School teacher.

Child care workshop planned

Prestonsburg Community College and the Kentucky Department of Education will offer a three-hour workshop on School Age Child Care on Saturday, May 4, beginning at 9 a.m. Norma Meek, director of School Age Child Care, Summit Elementary School, Boyd County, and Tracy Ballas, School Age Child Care consultant with the Kentucky Department of Education will present the workshop.

The Kentucky Education Reform has mandated that each elementary school will have a Family Resource/Youth Services Center. These centers are required to provide School Age Child Care for times when school is not in session, including summer vacation.

General information explaining School Age Child Care will be discussed during the first hour. During the second hour, school administrators will receive information about startup, planning, set-up, licensing, and staff training. At the same time, teachers will participate in a "Make It-Take It" curriculum experience.

The third hour will be a panel discussion with Ms. Meek, Ms. Ballas, Betty Tackett, director of The Electric Youth School Age Child Care at Robinson Creek Elementary School in Pike County, Donald Tackett, principal, Robinson Creek Elementary, and Larry Burke, superintendent, Pike County Schools. The panel discussion will be followed with a question and answer period.

An additional three hours of programming will be offered in the afternoon in order to meet the Department of Social Services requirement for six hours of inservice training yearly for child care providers. The afternoon sessions will feature Carolyn Traum of the Bookworm Bookstore in Prestonsburg presenting techniques of incorporating books for children in activities used by child care providers.

The final session will be about ways to develop positive guidance techniques when working with children, presented by Gordon G. Formsa, Assistant Professor of Early Childhood Education, Prestonsburg Community College.

For more information about the morning and/or afternoon workshops, please call the Office of Continuing Education and Community Services at P.C.C. at 886-3863, ext. 278.

Watts inducted into EKV National Math honor society

A student from Floyd County has been initiated into the national mathematics honor society Kappa Mu Epsilon at Eastern Kentucky University.

Randall Watts of Allen, a graduate mathematics major, was among 27 students accepted as national members of the society during spring semester.

An initiation ceremony for the new members was held in March.

Candidates for Kappa Mu Epsilon must have completed three semesters of college courses in mathematics including at least one semester of calculus and attained an average of B or better in both their math classes and overall.

Every year more than 20 new members are inducted into EKV's chapter.

Eastern's chapter, known as Kentucky Alpha, the only one in Kentucky, was chartered in 1971. Since that time, 391 mathematics students have been honored by the chapter.

O'Quinn-Jackson

Lacey and Mary Lou O'Quinn of Chelsea, Michigan announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Beth O'Quinn, to Robert William Jackson, son of Marvin and Anne Jackson of Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. Ms. O'Quinn earned a bachelor's and master's degree in speech-language pathology from Eastern Michigan University and is currently employed as a speech pathologist at Rehabilitation Network in Birmingham, Michigan. Mr. Jackson is an engineer at General Motors in Warren, Michigan. He earned a bachelor's and master's degree from the University of Michigan in electrical engineering. A June 29, 1991 wedding is planned at Grace Bible Church in Ann Arbor, Michigan. The bride to be is the granddaughter of Margaret O'Quinn of Garrett.

ALC scholarship

Samuel Everett Ratliff, son of Vonda Paul of Beavinsville, has accepted the Memorial Scholarship for the 1991-92 school year as an incoming freshman. The Memorial Scholarship guarantees the student room, board and tuition expenses at Alice Lloyd College for the academic year. The Scholarship is the equivalent of an annual grant of $8,272. The scholarship will remain in effect each succeeding year for four years so long as the student pursues 15 credit hours each semester at Alice Lloyd College and maintains at least a 3.0 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale), "B" average.

Kentucky Opry News

by Billy Jean Osborne

An opportunity that was recently given to me by the Floyd County Board of Education is fast becoming one of my most rewarding adventures. I'm speaking of the chance to go into the Elementary and Junior High class rooms and work with the music director and teachers to put together the "musical friends."

You may think you've witnessed talent in Eastern Kentucky, but as I'm finding out there is a lot of undiscovered talent lying within the walls of our schools. So much so, it was hard for even me to believe at first.

The first school I visited was Allen Elementary. What I found when I entered was classroom teachers, the art teacher and the principal working with the music teacher to stage the musical "Give Thanks America!"

Had I not been familiar with this play, I might have thought I was walking into a history, social studies or even a speech and drama class.

My eyes were immediately drawn to a student that I instantly wanted to know more about. His eyes danced when he started to sing and, oh, the expression on his face told me this kid had a song in his heart and he was singing it to the world.

The production of "Give Thanks America" turned out to be most successful, proving a point I've been trying to make for some time. When we all work together for the good of our students we have a better Floyd County and, consequently, our youth a brighter future.

The Musical Friends group is coming together in most of the schools. Once again, I must say, it is a team effort. I need help in all the schools to make this work.

This week we will be selecting students for an all-county Junior High Chorus which will perform the first night of the Festival of FACES, May 16, at the Prestonsburg Field House. It will be an outstanding show and something the whole family will enjoy. As a matter of fact, the whole weekend will be family oriented with events for everyone.

Tickets are really moving well for the Kentucky Opry's Saturday night concert. The band members are counting the days until the big event. They are anxious to take the stage at the Prestonsburg Field House, a place where many other country music stars have performed in the past. The most recent being Floyd County's own Dwight Yoakom. And, I've heard through the grapevine that Denzil Ray Hall is making the Gum-Branch Heart Breakers practice every night. I know these guys are ready! The Goose Creek guys check with us every week to see how tickets are selling. I think Charlie Gearheart is anxious for this homecoming.

This concert will be what you make it Floyd Countians. We need everyone to come out and support us. Buy your tickets now; they are on sale at all the high schools in the county and at the Tourism office in Prestonsburg.

Another attraction during the weekend will be a parade on Saturday sponsored by the Prestonsburg Jaycees. We hope that all schools and civic groups are getting plans together for a float. The Rotary is also participating by having concessions at the Saturday night concert with the profits going for an academic scholarship at each high school.

Let us each ask this question, what can I do to make this the best FACES festival ever?

UK graduate

Teresa Carmen Whitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry P. Whitt of Mobile, Alabama, will graduate from the University of Kentucky on May 5 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Art History. Ceremonies will be held at 1:30 p.m. in Memorial Coliseum. Miss Whitt is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin B. Whitt of Richlands, Va. and the late Beatrice Greer.

Social Security official addresses Kiwanis club

James Kelly with the local office of the Social Security Administration addressed last week's meeting of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club.

Kelly brought the club up-to-date on the local statistics and discussed the pro's and con's of retirement. He stated that the Social Security Administration can be thought of as an important local industry because of the money that is put back into the local economy every month—that amount being in excess of $15,000,000 for the Big Sandy Region.

Kelly stated that the Social Security Administration is not in trouble and that a problem is not foreseen as far as depletion of funds in the future.

He also stated that Social Security monies are not mixed with General Funds monies by the U.S. Government. The Social Security monies are, however, shown on the nation's budget as an asset in order to keep the amount of the deficit in line, just as on any company's balance sheet.

The Kiwanis Club members fielded questions to Kelly and were given satisfactory and informative answers in return.

In the coming month of May, the club looks forward to a Month of Mayors.

Charles Matthew Amburgey

Second Birthday

Charles Matthew Amburgey celebrated his second birthday with two parties given in his honor. One was held at the home of his grandparents, James, and Ora Potter, and the other was held at the home of his great-grandparents, Thurman and Maxie Hackworth.

He is the son of Charlie and Tammy Amburgey of Garrett. His maternal grandparents are Homer and Elmina Nelson of Mountain Parkway. His paternal grandparents are James and Ora Potter of Garrett and Eugene Amburgey of Lakeview, Ohio. His grandparents are Thurman and Maxie Hackworth and Pearl Nelson, all of Mountain Parkway.

He celebrated with a Mickey Mouse cake and icecream and received many nice gifts.

Those who attended, in addition to his parents and grandparents, were Mike and Karen Nelson, Betty and Hope Risner, Junior and Mabel Hackworth, Pearl Nelson, Sedina Adams, Linda Adams, and Janice Epperson all of the Mountain Parkway; Lisa and Amber Whitaker of Prestonsburg; Walter and Mary Nelson of Auxier; Jarvis Hackworth of Salyersville; Ricky, Linda and Angelica Frazier of Martin; and Linda and Paul Barger of Garrett.

Those who sent gifts but were unable to attend were: Connie and Ted Poe, Rebel and Glenda Hackworth of Mountain Parkway, Perk and Oretta Hodge, and Savannah Holbrook of Garrett.

Pikeville Upends Bobcats As Blair Scatters Five Hits

Call J. P. Blair stingy if you want to. The right hander wasn't about to let the Betsy Layne Bobcats get their bats out of the bag for very long. Blair scattered five hits as the Pikeville Panthers defeated the Bobcats 5-2 in high school baseball last Friday. Blair struck out three and walked three in his complete game performance.

Adam Gearheart suffered the loss for Betsy Layne in going 5 and 1/3 innings. Gearheart allowed all five runs — only three earned — while fanning four and walking six.

The Bobcats drew first blood with a run in the first inning to take a 1-0 lead. Freshman Chris Potter was issued a one out walk and moved to second on a passed ball. With two out, Darren Gearheart drilled a RBI single scoring Potter.

The Panthers scored all the runs they needed in the bottom of the first inning when they pushed home three runs to take a 3-1 lead. With one out, Jess Baird singled and stole second. After Gearheart issued a walk to Matt Adkins, Blair helped his own cause by singling home Baird. Jason Howell then doubled in both Adkins and Blair.

Pikeville added two more runs in their half of the fifth inning. Lee Jones had a one out walk and moved all the way to third on an error. Baird hit a grounder that was miss handled allowing Jones to score. Baird moved to third base on a stolen base and error. Adkins picked up Baird with a single to center.

Betsy Layne added their final run of the game in the top of the sixth when Danny Paige led off the inning with a long home run. Paige and Keith Hall each had two hits to lead the Bobcats offense.

Blair and Jason Howell had two hits each for the Panthers. One of Howell's hits was a double.

Each team committed two errors in the contest. Pikeville collected six hits in the game.

The Bobcats will host the Paintsville Tigers this evening in a 5 p.m. game. Thursday, Betsy Layne will travel to Magoffin County and then on to M.C. Napier on Friday.

Allen Central

Webb set new personal records. Conn ran a 50:27 and Webb posted a 54:64.

The relay team of Robert Jervis, Jason Sammons, Jamie Slone and Tim Slone finished eighth overall with a 49:82, a new school record. "We had a terrible hand off that cost us two to three seconds. The difference could have meant fifth place," said Jamerson.

In the mile relay, Randy Conn, Jervis, Sammons and Mike Cox took seventh place overall with a 4:05.76.

Levi Wells, a sixth grader, James Osborne, Eric Moore and Todd Howard set a new school record in the two mile relays with a 12:52.06, good for eighth overall.

In girls track and field, April Newsome ran a 33:65 for a new school record in the girl's 200 meters. Evelyn Howard finished at 35:45 for a personal record.

Nicole Fiich posted a 1:14.23 in the girl's 400 meters a new school record. Glema Yates recorded a 1:17.00.

Yates had a throw of 23 feet and five inches in the girl's shot put. Anita Marcum competed but no score was charted.

"We finished where we thought we would," said Jamerson. The Rebels track and field team placed ninth out of 19 teams. "The people we thought would score good, did. Robert (Jervis) has been a pleasant surprise for us this season. Our team is coming along on schedule. I see us doing well in the regional meet and we have a very good shot at some wins in the sectionals."

South Point finished first with a total of 95 points. Russell came in second at 52. Allen Central placed ninth with 14 points.

The Rebels will be at the Bob Amos Park for Thursday's track and field meet. The EKMC meet at Jenkins will be held on May 7 and the regional's will take place on May 9 and 10 at Boyd County.

Jamerson sees several of the squad making advancement to the state level. "I believe Jervis, Wallen, Shane Stumbo, Kenny Crum, Tim Slone, Jessica Wade for the girl's all making it to the state. I don't know if they can win or not but they certainly are capable of going."

Mark Bell Signs To Play For Western Ky

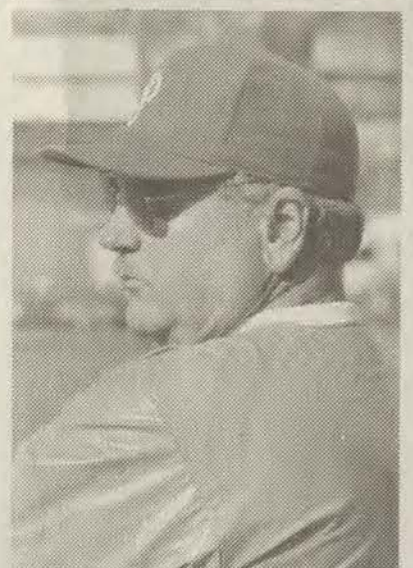

Mark Bell, a former basketball star at Ballard High School in Louisville and an All-Conference performer in the rugged Kansas junior college ranks, has signed to play the remainder of his college basketball at Western Kentucky University.

A 5-8, 160-pound guard, Bell played his junior college basketball at Barton County Community College in Great Bend, Kansas, where he set a school career scoring record with 1,470 points in two seasons.

"We are extremely happy to have Mark, a Kentuckian who is a high caliber athlete," said Hilltopper Head Coach Ralph Willard. Willard is preparing for his second year at the WKU helm. "Not only is Mark a very talented player, but he's an outstanding competitor who's been a proven winner at every level at which he's competed."

"Mark will fit in exceptionally well in our style of play," added Willard.

Bell led Coach Don McGovern's Cougars in scoring both years, averaging 22.4 points as a freshman and 20.9 points last winter for his 33-5 team that scored at a 104.5 points per game clip. Overall, the two BCCC teams on which he played won 56 games while coming out on the short end only 14 times.

Winning tradition!

Charlie Adkins, head baseball coach at Paintsville High School, has seen his teams become consistent winners in the 15th Region. Adkins led his team to the Kentucky State Baseball championships last year. His squad lost a lot of talent from last season, but is still a strong squad. (photo by Ed Taylor)

As a rookie he shot 47.3 percent from the floor (40 percent from three-point distance) and 76.8 percent at the free throw line while dishing out 96 assists and coming up with 109 steals. For his efforts he was named first-team All-Jayhawk Conference and All-Region VI. He posted his career high scoring effort as a freshman, totaling 40 points in a 105-98 Cougar victory over Pratt Community College.

Then, last winter, he shot 46 percent from the field and 77 percent from the charity stripe. Meanwhile, he was handing out 117 assists and recording 102 steals.

As a senior at Ballard High School in 1989, Bell averaged 20 points, five rebounds, eight assists and six steals a game for Coach Scott Davenport's state championship Bruins. Bell shot 55 percent from the floor, 85 percent at the line and 44 percent on treys that year.

As a prep junior he scored at an 18 point rate and contributed an average of three rebounds, seven assists and six steals a game.

He earned Kentucky All-State honors and was a Street and Smiths Honorable Mention All-American pick. And, he was nominated for McDonald's All-America laurels.

A physical education major, he is the son of Mary Durham of Louisville.

Bell is the Hilltopper's first signee of the spring signing period. He joins four outstanding prospects who inked with Western in November. They are: Derek Flowers, Darius Hall, Darrin Horn and Lorenzo Lockett.

Errors Costly As Maytown Falls 20-3 To McDowell

The Maytown Prep team committed 14 errors enroute to a 20-3 blistering by the McDowell Prep team Sunday afternoon at the Allen Park. It was a defensive minded game by any means as the young Maytown team played their second game of the afternoon.

The Prep League is just that. A learning league for those coming out of Little League. Although they committed so many errors, they can learn from them in this type of league.

T.T. Pack was the winning pitcher for McDowell. Pack fanned six batters in walking four. Charles Twiss hurled a good game despite the errors in the field. Twiss struck out six and walk just three.

McDowell's Jason Bevins stroked a second inning triple scoring a run. M. Stephens had three hits for the winners. B. Adams collected three RBIs for McDowell with a two-for-three plate appearance. Terrance Mullins and Kevin Thacker each collected two hits. Mullins had one RBI while Thacker drove in two.

McDowell collected 14 hits in scoring their 20 runs. The Left Beaver team committed four errors. The big inning for McDowell was the seventh when they pushed across nine runs.

McDowell faces Betsy Layne at 1 p.m. this Sunday and Maytown will take on McDowell in the second game at 3:30 p.m.

Bobcats Fall to Pikeville In Finals

The Pikeville Panthers won their Second Annual Hillbilly Classic baseball tournament Sunday with a 3-1 win over the Betsy Layne Bobcats. The win was the second consecutive win in the past week over the Bobcats for the Panthers. Pikeville defeated Betsy Layne Friday in a regular season game 5-2.

Bobby Casto gave the Bobcats only four singles to earn the victory for Pikeville. Todd Akers suffered the loss for Betsy Layne.

Pikeville scored all three of their runs in the bottom of the third inning as the two pitchers hooked up in an old fashion pitchers duel. The Panthers pushed across their three runs when Jess Baird singled and went to third on a base hit by Matt Adkins. Adkins stole second. J. P. Blair hit a grounder and the play was at the plate to try and nail the runner. However, the throw was to late as Baird scored from third. Pikeville loaded the bases against Akers and Ryan Johnson singled home two runs for a 3-0 game.

Betsy Layne scored their only run in the top of the seventh. Danny Paige, who seems to be on a hot streak of late, singled and stole second. Shannon Newsome's one out grounder was thrown away as Paige crossed home plate.

After the championship game, awards were given out as Pikeville was presented the winner's trophy while the Bobcats received the runners-up award. An All-Tournament team was announced also, headed up by three Panther players — Blair, Adkins and Casto. Also named were: Adam Gearheart, Keith Hall and Danny Paige of Betsy Layne; Jason K. Taylor and Jason A. Taylor of Johns Creek; Dave Johnson of Shelby Valley; and Rod Spradlin of Elkhorn City. Jess Baird was the tournaments Most Valuable Player.

Betsy Layne won a spot in the championship game by whitewashing the Shelby Valley Wildcats 5-0 in a surprise outing. The Bobcats became the first county team to defeat the Wildcats. Keith Hall got the win for Betsy Layne in scattering five hits and walking seven — which is uncharacteristic of Hall — and fanning six Wildcat batters. Jeremy Johnson was the losing pitcher for Shelby Valley. Johnson went the distance for the Wildcats allowing three earned runs while striking out four.

Betsy Layne plated two runs in the fourth inning when Adam Gearheart reached second on an error. One out later Danny Paige singled in Gearheart. Paige stole second and moved to third on a wild pitch. The Bobcats put the hit and run play on and Chris Newsome's hit was made to order as Paige scored.

The Bobcats finished the scoring with three in the fifth inning against the Wildcats. Hall and Chris Potter had back-to-back singles for the Bobcats. Both runners moved up on a wild pitch by Johnson. Gearheart hit a ground ball as the infield elected to try and gun down Hall trying to score. The throw was late at home and all runners were safe as Gearheart scored. Darren Gearheart then took care of business with a two-run double to cap off the inning.

Hall had three hits for Betsy Layne including a double. Paige, Potter and Darren Gearheart added one hit each.

The tournament was a week late in concluding as inclement weather forced the postponement of the classic. The Pikeville administrators did an excellent job of putting on the Second Annual Hillbilly Classic. It is an event to be look forward to each year.

Alice Lloyd Eagles Splits Two With Cumberland

The Alice Lloyd Eagles took to the road Tuesday and faced a tough Cumberland College team in a crucial baseball game that will go toward the NAIA District play-offs.

It was a slug-fest in the first game with the Eagles coming out on top 17-13, on the strength of Russell Melton's grand slam home run in the third inning. Todd Stevens chalked up the win for Alice Lloyd.

"It was an outstanding offensive game for both teams," said Eagles coach Scott Cornett. "However, we still need strength on the mound and hopefully, with experience and new ballplayers next year, we'll fill that void."

Cumberland took the night cap game 3-2 in a pitcher's duel. "Their pitching was better, and they won the game," commented Coach Cornett.

With two games left on the schedule with Berea, both at home, the Eagles must win both games and expect a couple of losses from Pikeville to make the play-offs.

The Eagles are 16-23 on the season.

"Less stress.."

Step Aerobics: A Fun Way To Get and Stay Fit

There is a new dance craze in town, it's called Step Aerobics. The new dance step has been introduced at the Physical Fitness Center (formerly Slim-Way) outside of Prestonsburg on old route 23.

Betty Keathley, and her group of instructors, have introduced this new way of shedding the extra pounds and keeping it off at the Physical Fitness Center.

"We just started it here," explained Keathley. "We had our work shop three weeks ago on the new exercise and have found it very effective in taking off the extra weight and firming up the body."

Keathley, who has been at the location and in aerobics for the past 11 years, brings a lot of experience to the field and feels that she has added yet another effective way to help keep people fit.

"With the Step Aerobic exercise there is less stress on the joints such as the knees and hips," explains the fitness center owner. "It is also a good cardiovascular work out. The new exercise is recommended by doctors who have patients with knee problems."

The new exercise is just what it says to be — aerobics using steps of different sizes.

"We have four, six and eight steps," says Barbara Bloomer, one of the instructors at the center. "A work out will last around 30 minutes and we start with the smaller step (four-inch) and work up from there. "Women really like it a lot," she continued to explain, "because it helps the thighs and buttocks."

Bloomer says there is an unlimited number of variations that can be performed in Step Aerobics.

"Men are very interested in it because they can do it without a lot of stress and not feel intimidated by the women," stated Keathley.

The Physical Fitness Center will be holding classes in Step Aerobics five days a week.

One of the instructors at the center is Jeff Hicks who says "now there is no reason for men not to keep the weight off."

"It helps relieve stress and it is much better than a diet," said Hicks. Hicks has been an instructor for about a year.

Joyce Reffett, a trainee at the center, likes the new Step Aerobics because it "is just a better way to lose weight."

"It is not as stressful as jogging or other forms of exercise," she commented. "Step Aerobics help a person lose weight without a lot of stressful activities."

Body builder Randy Burrus says that jogging and running hurts his knees and he prefers Step Aerobics much more than jogging and running.

"I really have just gotten started in it," he said, "and I already like it better than running or jogging. My knees don't hurt and it's just a whole new way of staying in shape."

Bloomer's husband, Tom, says that he used to jog around three times a week, but he finds Step Aerobics a better way to lose weight and stay in shape. "It is a more invigorating work out," he said.

Those who take part in the exercise do so while listening to music and the instructions of the exercise leader. Each participant has his or her own step and moves to the calls of the instructor.

"It's a more dignified style of exercising," says Keathley. "Men feel more comfortable with it. They are not intimidated. Women are more coordinated than men. Most men are not as flexible as women and that's why men love this form of exercising (as opposed to traditional aerobics)." Studies by Drs. Lorna and Peter Francis at San Diego State University have shown step training (Step Aerobics) targets the thighs and buttocks as well as providing the necessary cardiovascular workload needed to attain desired training effects. Studies also show that men love this form of aerobics because it is tough and not dancey, but rather, athletic. A typical workout will give the participant the energy expenditure of running at a seven-minute-per-mile pace with less impact shock to the lower legs, more like walking.

"A child up to a person that is 85 years old can do these exercises," says Keathley. "Step Aerobics is high impact with low intensity and there is not strain on the muscles or joints. It is not like the aerobics with all the wild movements."

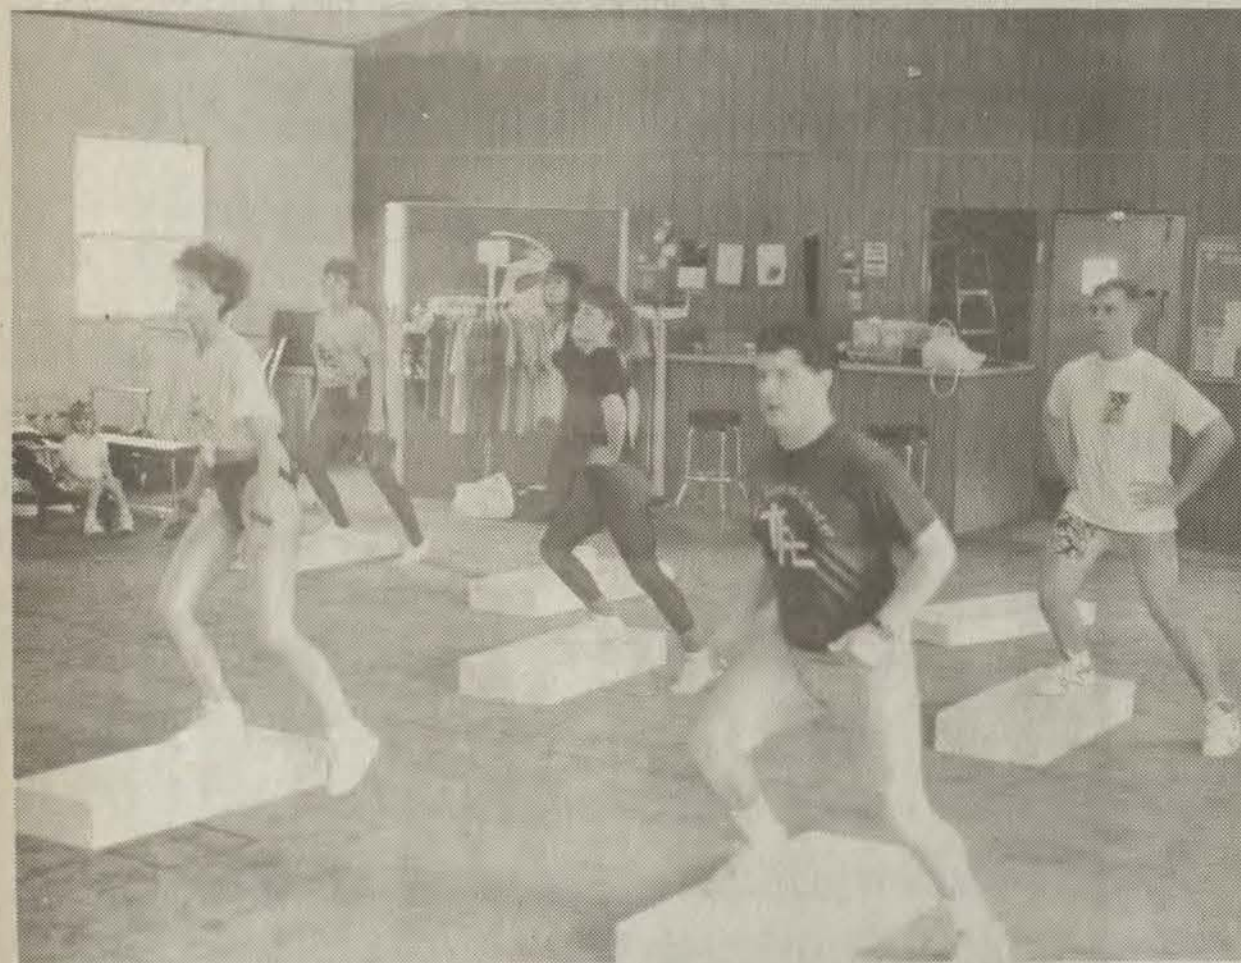

Keathley says that the public is invited to stop by the fitness center for a free work out. "Anyone that wants to stop by will be given a free week's work out to see how they like it."

For more information on this new aerobic craze, contact Betty Keathley at 874-2800. It's a whole new way of losing weight and staying fit.

Ready To Instruct!

To help you stay in shape and drop some unwanted pounds, these instructors at the Physical Fitness Center will be there to lead and encourage you while they help you try the new Step Aerobics. (Photo by Ed Taylor)

NATURAL GAS ... Over forty million homes in the United States utilize this safe, reliable, energy-efficient fuel for heating and cooling including several thousand homes in Eastern Kentucky served by Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company.

You can help us make it even safer and more efficient by promptly notifying Kentucky West Virginia regarding gas leaks or construction activities near any of its facilities.

Always conscious of the safety of the general public, Kentucky West Virginia Gas attempts to clearly mark its underground pipeline locations. Pipeline intersections with public thoroughfares (highways, railroads, etc.) are identified by blue and white colored roadside markers with decals warning of and underground gas pipeline and a telephone number where Company representatives can be reached at all times.

If you observe any type of construction or excavation, or if you plan to do any work requiring digging near a Company pipeline, please call Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company and let us know in order that damage and/or possible personal injury can be avoided.

Although natural gas pipelines have the best safety record in the transportation industry - gas leaks can and do occur. You can help us by reporting any of the following occurrences:

- A strange or unusual odor in the vicinity of a gas pipeline.
- A hissing or roaring sound (caused by the escaping of natural gas from a pipeline).
- Dead or discolored vegetation in the vicinity of a gas pipeline.
- Flames originating from a opening in the ground.

If you encounter a pipeline leak, leave and the area immediately. Avoid crating sparks and sources of heat which would cause the gas to ignite or burn. Do not light a match, operate and electrical switch, or start and engine. Go to a telephone away from the leak area and call the nearest office or Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company or the main office in Prestonsburg at 606-886-2311.

If you do not know who the pipeline operator is, call your local fire, police, or sheriff's department, or the State Police, and advise them of the nature and location of the emergency.

Kentucky Fishing Report

Fishing activity over the April 27-28 weekend was heavy on most of the major lakes. Water temperatures ranged from 61-68 degrees. Crappie and largemouth bass were the most consistently active species. The lake-by-lake report:

DEWEY LAKE

Crappie were hitting minnows and jigs 5-10 feet deep over submerged trees and brush piles; largemouth bass were taking crankbaits and spinnerbaits 5-10 feet deep over shoreline cover; clear, stable, two feet below summer pool and 65 degrees.

PAINTSVILLE LAKE

Largemouth bass were hitting crankbaits 1-10 feet deep along the shoreline; bluegill were active on wax worms and red worms 5-10 feet deep around brush piles; murky, stable, two feet above summer pool and 65 degrees.

To This Special Olympian... A Hug From His Local Banker Means More Than A Million Dollars

Although most people see their local bankers as numbers-oriented individuals sitting behind desks, and pounding away on computers, many Special Olympians see their local bankers in a very different way...

For five years, Kentucky Bankers Association member banks have donated both money and time to the Kentucky Special Olympic Summer Games. As Premier Sponsor of the Games, KBA banks donate $50,000 thereby reducing registration fees and giving Special Olympians, who otherwise could not have afforded to participate, the chance to compete. In addition, member banks send employees to staff and coordinate awards stations at the Summer Games.

Helpful, caring individuals cheering at the sidelines during competition, awarding medals with sincere congratulations, and sharing in the joy of accomplishment... that's how many Special Olympians see their local bankers.

Johnson Central Nips Allen Central Rebels 7-6

Matt Johnson hit a home run and Johnson Central's pitching gave up just three hits as the Golden Eagles nipped the Allen Central Rebels 7-6 in high school baseball last week.

The Rebels left two men on base in the seventh inning as Joey Brown was called out on strikes.

"The pitch was around the shoe top," said Rebel coach Anthony Moore, "and they called him out. We had the tying and go ahead runners on base too."

What proved to be the winning run for the Eagles came in the fourth inning when Johnson Central's outstanding outfielder, Matt Johnson, clubbed his 14th home run of the season. The blast gave the Eagles a 7-2 lead at the time.

Allen Central mounted a come back in the seventh frame when Phillip Ritchie walked leading off the inning. Robbie Sexton followed with a base on balls and both runners moved up on a wild pitch. Ritchie scored on a ground ball hit by Jason Martin to first base. After Brad Scott struck out, Eric Cathers and Stevie Robinson walked to load the bases. B. J. Aldrich singled, driving in two runs and making it a 7-6 game. Brown then struck out ending the game.

The Rebels scored twice in the third inning on only one hit. Scott walked, and with one out Frank Martin drew a walk. Robinson singled, scoring Scott and Martin. Robinson was picked off first and Aldrich grounded out, ending the inning.

The Golden Eagles took a 2-0 lead with two runs in the first inning after two men were out. Stambaugh walked and was erased on a fielder's choice play off the bat of Williams. After Matt Johnson struck out, Jennings doubled, scoring Williams. Jennings then scored an unearned run on an error at second base.

Johnson Central made it 4-0 with two in the bottom half of the second inning. Williams had a two run single in the inning.

In the Eagles third, Sublett and Stambaugh had run producing doubles as the Eagles scored twice.

Chuck Laferty suffered the loss for Allen Central, pitching five innings and giving up eight hits. Laferty walked five batters and hit two.

He recorded three strike outs.

Joey Brown came on in relief in the sixth and allowed no runs on no hits. He fanned three and walked none.

Hilltopper Basketball Camp Dates Set

Western Kentucky University will host three basketball camps for boys in June.

"Ralph Willard's Hilltopper Basketball Camps" are scheduled for three sessions — June 2-6 and June 16-20 individual camps; and a June 9-13 team camp.

Hilltopper head coach Ralph Willard and his staff will direct the camps, providing youngsters with an opportunity to develop basketball knowledge and skills in an enthusiastic and fun environment.

Instruction will be provided by a number of outstanding college and high school coaches. The instruction, drills and competition are designed to provide a positive experience, improve skills, increase confidence and heighten the player's enthusiasm for the game.

All campers will receive a Hilltopper Basketball camp T-shirt. A variety of entertainment and activities will be available, including films on basketball fundamentals and motivation. In addition, there will be special guest lectures at each camp.

Campers will be housed in a modern residence hall on the WKU campus (there are also provisions for day campers) and meals will be provided in the Downing University Center Cafeteria across from E.A. Diddle Arena. Medical facilities are available and a physician will be on call on a 24 hour basis. In addition, an athletic trainer will staff all sessions and be on call on a 24 hour basis.

The cost of the individual camp sessions (June 2-6 and June 16-20) is $210 per camper. However, five or more boys from the same school may take advantage of a discount and pay just $195 each if their applications are mailed together.

The team camp (June 9-13) fee is $170 per camper for teams with coaches bringing seven or more players.

The cost for day campers taking part in any of the three sessions is $170 each.

For more detailed information and application forms, contact the Hilltopper Basketball Office, 141 E.A. Diddle Arena, Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, KY 42101. Telephone 502-745-2131.

OUTDOOR NOTEBOOK™

Be Prepared For Boating Emergencies

By Mark E. Thomas

Most outdoor sports enthusiasts realize that emergency health situations can occur suddenly, and prepare for the unexpected. Hunters, runners and those of us who participate in strenuous team sports are especially cognizant of the hazards involved.

Yet few boaters take into consideration that they, too, should be equally prepared. Heart attacks, diabetic comas and life-threatening injuries can incapacitate boaters as well as those who keep their feet planted firmly on the ground. Every boater should anticipate the worst possible scenario and be ready to deal with it. Otherwise a long-anticipated pleasure trip may result in a personal disaster that could have been avoided.

The boating experts at Fisher Boats offer this guidance for safer boating.

First and foremost the boat's skipper should make all passengers and crew aware of any personal health conditions that might be disabling. Make sure others in your party are versed in basic boat operations and navigation. If there's a radio on board, teach guests and crew how to operate it. After all, sharing these fundamental skills could save your life.

Also, the skipper should have any required medication on board and easy to locate. Next, inform passengers and crew of every detail concerning this medication's application and dosage.

Unfortunately we can't always tell when a first heart attack or other critical illness will strike. If the unexpected arises aboard your boat, don't panic and be prepared to immediately take charge.

Move the victim to a comfortable position. Sitting up is usually best, if at all possible.

Next, make sure the victim is breathing. If not, begin artificial respiration. If you're not sure of the technique, give it a try anyway. Emergency situations often times bring out the best in many of us. Any effort, no matter how awkward, just might save a life.

And finally, get the victim to the nearest place he or she can receive medical attention. Go as fast as you safely can—but no faster. Don't cause an additional accident or emergency situation during your mad rush to respond to the one at hand. Use your radio to alert authorities like the Coast Guard or law enforcement officials on shore. And if a radio isn't available, head for the nearest marina, boat landing or waterfront home and a telephone.

Here's another thought from the experts at Fisher. If you're not comfortable with medical emergencies, consider attending first aid training sessions. They're available through the Red Cross and possibly your local hospital.

Boating is meant to be fun. That's why it is one of the fastest growing outdoor recreational pursuits in the nation. You can keep your boating fun by being prepared. It's not often that a medical emergency arises. Yet when one does, you should be ready to respond.

FISHIN' TIPS FROM THE TRACKER PROS

Charles Campbell

Most drivers of motor vehicles would never start out on a trip without a spare tire. But most boaters will venture forth without the luxury of a spare propeller.

Although seldom needed, a spare prop can certainly save a fishing trip in the event the primary prop is damaged. Damage can occur if the prop strikes an underwater object resulting in a blade being bent or totally severed. On rare occasion a hub will "blow out", rendering the prop useless. An inexpensive back-up prop is worth the investment.

Back-up props are usually aluminum or even the less expensive composite material. Composite props are constructed of molded, hi-tech engineering plastic and cost under $70.00.

Fishin' Tips are presented by America's #1 Fishing Boats.

It's A Dirty Sale But Somebody's Got To Have It.

Save Up To $100

If you're a serious gardener or in love with fine machinery, here's a real clod buster. A BCS tiller. It's the fastest selling tiller in America. And no matter which of our models you choose, you'll find features that set it apart from all others.

Like electronic ignition. And rear mounted tines that turn almost 300 times a minute. And all-gear transmissions, not belts and chains. And with attachments our tiller can become a chipper/shredder, a cutter bar mower for weeds and brush, a snow blower, and much more.

Right now you can save up to $100 depending on which model tiller you choose. Plus a free tiller/furrower with the purchase of a BCS tractor and tiller. But the sale ends June 30th. So hurry. Because once people get the dirt on this sale, they're going to clean us out.

Bassin' with the Pros

WEEDLESS SPOONS CAN PRODUCE HEAVY BASS STRINGERS

If there's a lake with heavy vegetation in your future, arm yourself with a tacklebox full of seedless spoons. They could be your ticket to a stringer of big bass.

That's the advice of Denny Brauer, a top tournament pro and member of the Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff who has enjoyed great success fishing the lure.

"The weedless spoon, with its single hook design, is an excellent lure for heavy vegetation," explains Brauer, "and it seems to attract big bass too. I always fish these spoons with 25 or 30-pound test line and a long, still fishing rod."

Brauer's spoon fishing techniques vary with the weather. If the weather has been stable without wind or temperature changing cold fronts, he works it on the surface, swimming it through the cover.

When the weather has been unstable and the bass are less active, Brauer fishes the lure slower and several inches below the surface. He also lets the spoon flutter down into deeper open pockets around the vegetation.

"If you're fishing lily pads, weeds, grass or other aquatic vegetation, the spoon is definitely worth trying," says the Evinrude pro. "A lot of big tournaments have been won with this lure."

The most common problem Brauer sees when using the spoon is setting the hook too soon. Many anglers try to set the hook the instant a bass hits, and when they do they usually pull the lure away from the fish.

"The way to use the spoon is to keep your eyes on it throughout the retrieve," Brauer explains. "when you see a bass come up and take the lure, wait until you feel the fish on your line and see it turn its head. Then you can set the hook and catch it."

Brauer prefers to fish either gold or silver spoons, and he uses a twin-tail plastic trailer, which he believes adds stability to the lure, especially when fished on the surface.

"Weedless spoons have a fast, wobbling action," he says, "and when you add a trailer you can actually increase the lure's action and make it appear larger."

"I think the reason weedless spoons attract larger bass is because of where you fish them. Because they are weedless, you can throw them into extremely heavy vegetation, which is where big bass like to hide." "It's an ideal lure for vegetation because you can fish it fast and cover a lot of water without getting snagged."

Hartell unseated in 5k...

Ratcliff Wins Women's Title In Mile Run at Pikeville; Roberts Defends Title

Jamie Ratcliff, eighth grader at Betsy Layne Elementary, placed first in the women's division of the Hill-billy Day's Mile Run at Pikeville last weekend. Ratcliff, a member of the Betsy Layne High School track and field team, ran the course in 7:12.00, 12 seconds faster than last year.

In the men's Mile Run, local runner Rick Roberts defended his title with a 5:18, 20 seconds faster than last year.

Jim Estes of Louisville ended the reign of "Swag" Hartell by setting a new course record in the 5K run at Pikeville. Estes ran a 30:30.00. Phil Roberts placed second with a 30:50 and Hartell came in third.

In the women's 10K run, Camille Forester Estes took first place with a 36:30 which also was a new course record.

Roberts plans to run in the Elkhorn City 5K run on May 4 and then run in the Dogwood 5K race in West Virginia on Sunday, May 5. Roberts will be defending his title in the Elkhorn 5K run.

Maytown Falls Hard To Betsy Layne As FC Babe Ruth Opens

It was a mercy game. That's the way it was called in the sixth inning as the Betsy Layne Babe Ruth Prep team defeated Maytown Prep 17-7 as the two teams opened the 1991 Floyd County Babe Ruth Prep League season at the Allen Park Sunday afternoon.

Shana Clark, the only girl playing in the league, was the starting pitcher for the Betsy Layne team and picked up the win in her first outing. Clark fanned eight batters while walking four. J. Ratliff suffered the setback for Lowell Martin's batsmen. Ratliff struck out one and walked three.

B. Akers had a home in the fourth inning for the winning Betsy Layne team. Wesley Frazier tripled in the sixth. Willie Meade had three hits for Betsy Layne including a sixth inning double. Meade had two runs batted in. Mark Tackett had two doubles for the winning team — one in the first and again in the sixth. With his two doubles, Tackett drove in three runs. M. Hamilton went two for two at the plate, picking up an RBI with a first inning double. D. Hall collected two runs batted in with a two for three afternoon at the plate.

Betsy Layne scored four runs in the bottom of the second inning to take a 4-0 lead. Maytown came back in the top of the second to pull to within one run, 4-3 after a three run frame. Betsy Layne scored twice in the second, four times in the fourth and six times in the sixth to put the game away.

D. Hunter had three hits for Maytown, driving in four of their seven runs. Ethan Stumbo had a three-for-four outing with one RBI.

Betsy Layne collected 16 hits in the game while Maytown had seven. Both teams committed four errors.

Betsy Layne will play McDowell this coming Sunday at 1 p.m. Maytown will play McDowell in a scheduled 3:30 p.m. game on Sunday.

Prestonsburg Scores Four In 7th Holds Off Pikeville 5-4

Junior John Clark had things going pretty much his way against the Pikeville Panthers Thursday afternoon at the W.C. Hambley Complex. The visiting Blackcats scored four times in the top of the seventh inning and then held off an on charging Panther team to defeat the regional foe 5-4.

Clark was sharp in the complete game outing until the bottom of the seventh inning when Pikeville scored four times, breaking up his four hit shutout.

Clark, in picking up the win for Prestonsburg, struck out six batters and walked four. Todd James suffered the loss for the Pikeville squad allowing only one earned run while fanning five and walking one.

It was a complete pitchers battle between Clark and James. Neither team scored until Prestonsburg pushed across a single run in the top of the fifth inning to take a 1-0 lead. Ronnie Goodman had a two-out double and Jason Storey followed with a run producing single, driving in Goodman.

In the top of the seventh, things looked good for the Blackcats as they plated four runs. Anthony Howell led off with a single and stole second. Clark's sharp single pushed Howell to third base. The Pikeville defense became a little shaky when grounders by Sean Damron and Aaron Tucker were misplayed allowing Howell to score. Worthie McGuire hit a sacrifice fly to the outfield scoring Damron. After Neil Slone reached on the third Panther error of the inning, Goodman capped off the Blackcat rally with a RBI single that drove in Tucker and Slone.

Pikeville mounted their comeback by reaching Clark for four runs that was highlighted by Lee Jones' two-run double. Jones was left stranded as Clark shut the door on the Panthers rally.

Goodman and Damron had two hits each for the winning Blackcats. For Pikeville, Jones had three hits and Jason McCoy contributed two base hits as did Jess Baird. Each team had nine hits in the game.

Prestonsburg's win over a very good Panther ball club snapped a four game losing streak for Russell Shepherd's squad. Pikeville figures to be one of the teams in the region to beat for the regional championship. The Panthers are a very talented team.

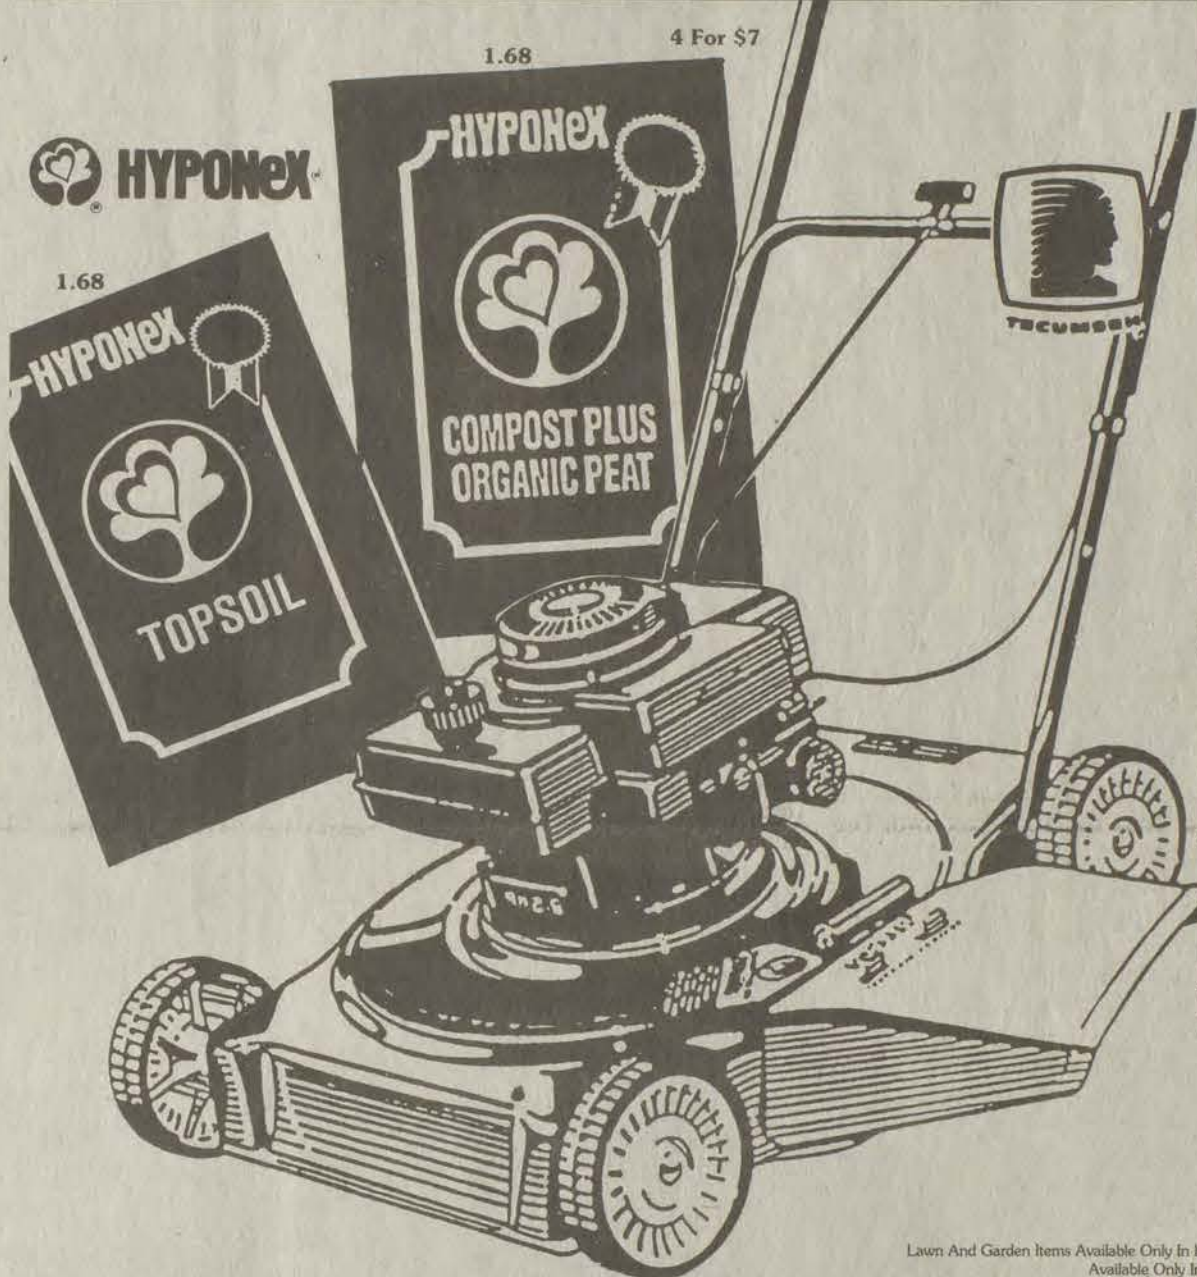

Prestonsburg will return to the diamond today at 5 p.m. when they will host the Sheldon Clark Cardinals at Archer Park. The Blackcats will travel to Wheelwright Thursday afternoon to face the Trojans. Millard is at Archer Park on Friday for the Blackcats.

Prestonsburg Senior League Opens With Three Games

The Prestonsburg Senior League got their 1991 baseball season underway at Archer Park last week with three game being played. The league began play April 19 and the season will run through June 18. Games during the week will begin at 5:30 p.m. and on Saturday games will begin at 11 a.m.

On Saturday, April 20, the Expos and Reds got things going, with the Expos coming out on top 11-5. Thomas Ratliff was the winning pitcher for the Expos while Jeff Hicks took the loss.

Seth Hyden had a good day at the plate for the winning Expos with a triple and double. Winning pitcher Ratliff also had a triple.

Matt Trusty had two hits for the Reds while Shawn Poe singled in the game.

Thursday, the Brewers and Cubs hooked up for an offensive showing. The Brewers went 1-0 on the season with a 8-5 win over the Cubs. Lefthander Corey Reitz recorded the win for Ashland Gearheart's Brewers team. David Gearheart led the Brewers at the plate with three hits. Bryan Allen had two hits and two RBIs in the game. Bennett Allen also had a good game with a base hit and two RBIs. Ricky Lemaster, Tony Bays, Matthew Goble and Robbie Risner all collected hits for the Brewers.

Despite striking out six batters, Jason Burke suffered the loss for the Cubs. Jason Keathley collected two doubles for the Cubs in the loss. Michael Roberts and Jerry Lafferty each had two hits in the contest. Burke had a triple, while Aaron Bond and Jamo Jarrel each had a base hit. The Cubs are 0-1 on the young season.

This past Saturday it wasn't a good day for the Cubs as they dropped their second game in a 32-8 Expos victory. Thomas Ratliff scattered five hits in the lopsided game.

Matt Crum, Ervin Osborne and Seth Hyden collected five hits for the Expos. Crum had a home run for the Expos. Merlin Osborne had three hits and Tony Craft collected two. Thomas Ratliff had a single.

Michael Roberts led the way at the plate for the Cubs with two base hits. William Lester, Jason Burke and David Chaffins each had one hit. In another game played Saturday (no stats were available) the Tigers posted a 16-13 win over the Reds.

Senior League play resumes this Saturday with two games. At 11 a.m. the Expos will face the Tigers and, following that game, the Cubs will try to record their first victory as they face the Reds.

Tourism spending is topic of Pike news conference

Kentucky Tourism Deputy Secretary Arnold Marshall will conduct a news conference at Pikeville City Hall Tuesday, May 7, at 9 a.m. to announce the newly compiled 1990 tourism spending and employment data at the state, regional and local levels.

The news conferences, which will be made throughout Kentucky, coincide with National Tourism Week, May 5-11, a celebration designed to spotlight the economic impact of the nation's third-largest industry. Local public officials and tourism leaders are expected to be on hand for the press conference.

Western Ky Announces 1991 Football Schedule

Western Kentucky University football coach Jack Harbaugh and his Hilltoppers are looking for better things in 1991!

Better, that is, than last year's disappointing 2-8-0 record. But, that will be another challenge against a rugged schedule.

Western's '91 slate will run 11 games, including matchups with three schools — Middle Tennessee and Northern Iowa at home and Eastern Kentucky on the road — that earned berths in last fall's NCAA playoffs.

The Hilltoppers will play six games at home for the first time since 1986 — five of those in the first seven outings of the campaign.

The Toppers kickoff the '91 season on the road at Austin Peay September 7 (6:30 p.m.). Then, its back to the friendly confines of L.T. Smith Stadium the following weekend (September 14, 7 p.m.) where Western hosts Murray State in the home opener — the first contest in a three game homestand for WKU.

The remainder of the Hilltopper home slate features cross state rival Morehead State (Sept. 21), Middle Tennessee (Oct. 5), Troy State (Homecoming, Oct. 19), Northern Iowa (Oct. 26) and Eastern Illinois (Nov. 9). The Morehead and MTSU games will kickoff at 7 p.m. and the Homecoming date with Troy State is set for 5:30 p.m. The November matchup with Eastern Illinois will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Western's other 1991 trips take the Toppers to Eastern Kentucky (Oct. 12), UT-Chattanooga (Nov. 2), Indiana State (Nov. 16) and Illinois State (Nov. 23).

Traditional rivals Austin Peay and Murray State return to the Hilltopper schedule this fall after a year's absence. And, Troy State as well as Northern Iowa are new names on the slate. However, WKU and Troy have met once previously (a 10-10 tie in 1976) and the Toppers squared off against Northern Iowa twice in the 1970's, winning both contests.

Last year, Western posted victories over Morehead State (24-0) and Illinois State (19-9), but dropped decisions to Middle Tennessee (20-7), Eastern Kentucky (35-12), Eastern Illinois (28-6), Indiana State (29-27) and UT-Chattanooga (22-21). Four of the toppers 1991 opponents posted winning records in the '90 campaign (three of those en route to I-AA playoff action) and a fifth reported in at .500. Austin Peay suffered through an 0-11-0 year. But, the rest of WKU's '91 opposition went a collective 61-52-0 (54 percent).

Through the years, Western has met the 11 teams on the '91 schedule a total of 287 times, winning 167 games, losing 104 and tying 16, an impressive .610 success ratio!

The Hilltoppers hold series advantages over six of those teams — Austin Peay (28-4-1), Morehead State (37-7-2), Eastern Kentucky (37-28-3), Murray State (28-22-7), Illinois State (5-0-0) and Northern Iowa (2-0-0). ON the other hand, Eastern Illinois (7-1-0), UT-Chattanooga (7-3-0 and Middle Tennessee (by the narrowest 28-27-1) hold an edge in action with WKU gridiron teams. And, Topper teams are .500 versus Indiana State (1-1-1) and Troy State (0-0-1).

FISHIN' TIPS FROM THE TRACKER PROS

Larry Colombe

Taxidermists, like any other artists can do a much better job of creating a masterpiece if they have something good to start with. Reasonable care should be taken with your trophy from the time it's caught until it is delivered to the taxidermist.

Make every effort to freeze your trophy as quickly as possible. Lay it flat, with fins against the body. Protect the tail from damage and avoid removing any scales. Wrap in a large plastic bag and freeze solid for 3 or 4 days.

If you are shipping to a taxidermist, tightly wrap the frozen fish in 2 or 3 inches of newspaper and pack securely in a box. Ship via next day air to the destination. Ship on Monday or Tuesday to guarantee delivery, and to avoid a weekend layover. Trout, crappie or salmon have thin, tender skin and require extra care.

Fishin' Tips are presented by America's #1 Fishing Boats.

Lum and Ida Click live at Banner, on Akers Branch. You don't see a lot about them in the paper for they're just good honest people who have quietly gone about working and raising a family.

When Lum was growing up, he and Estill Sellards were good friends. They didn't have the things many young people have today for entertainment—such as sports cars and stereos.

But Lum owned a banjo, Estill had a guitar, and some of their friends—like Chalmer Williams—had other instruments. They often got together to combine their talents.

Their voices weren't bad, and so they enjoyed making their own music.

Time has a way of separating friends, but genuine bonds are not diminished by the distance.

Chalmer now lives in Maryland. Estill moved to California where he has lived for some forty years; but when he comes back on infrequent visits, he always goes to see his old friend Lum. They talk about things they did—hunting, fishing and making music.

The last time he was here, Estill told Lum he had some recordings he wanted to send him. When he returned home, he gathered up a selection of cassette tapes and, since he does some woodworking as a hobby, he made a small wooden box to mail them in.

Lum and Ida have a mailbox by the road in front of their house, but when the little wooden package came, the carrier brought it to their door.

"Oh, is it something I need to sign for?" Ida asked.

"No," the carrier answered. "It isn't insured, but I got the feeling it might be somebody's ashes. It looks like rain and I didn't want to leave a box like this out by the road."

The explanation

Fred and Lora Conn live at Dana on Prater Creek. I look forward to any visit with them for Fred has an unending supply of stories.

He told me once about another mail carrier named Bruce Clark who, several years ago, carried the mail by horseback between Dana and Banner. Mail came by train to Banner and was distributed from there.

One of Bruce's postal customers who lived at Dana had ordered a pair of shoes to be sent parcel post. After what she thought was ample time, she would meet him at her mailbox and ask, "Did my package come?"

"No," he would answer, "I don't have a package for you."

This went on for several days. The carrier had no control over his deliveries, but he felt he had to apologize when she would again be disappointed.

After a number of days, as he traveled along on his horse, he could see her waiting and knew there would be the inevitable question. He decided to beat her to the draw.

"Ma'am," he asked, "where did you order a package from?"

"Sears Roebuck in Atlanta," she answered.

"Well, no wonder I don't have it!" he exclaimed. "You know, my run just goes to Banner."

This past weekend proved to be extremely educational.

First, Friday evening my brother came home from UK.

by Kim Frasure

Being the bookworm that he is and with finals approaching this week, his nose was plastered to his studies.

"Sis," he said, "do you think you could help me out here a minute?"

Sure, I replied. (Never, never, answer so quickly.)

He handed me a notebook as thick as a Webster's Dictionary and asked if I could give him a word, and he'd define the subject.

No problem, little brother. Let's open this baby up and see what's inside," I said.

Being the oldest, I hated like the dickens to start off having to ask him what on earth the very first word was.

His handwriting is neat, but small— I'm talking very small.

"Bub, you write so tiny, I'm gonna need a magnifying glass here."

Being the intelligent one, he replied with the first word and continued with the definition.

All the while, I'm sitting in amazement.

Heck, I thought biology under Harold Newman was bad. You ought to see some of these words and definitions my brother has conquered.

I vaguely remember finals week, and reliving it through my brother makes me even happier those days are behind me. It's the one time of year when college students, both male and female, act as though they're suffering from a terminal case of PMS.

It's true, my brother is one of the sweetest, kindest 21-year-olds I've ever known. But, during finals' week, he turns into the grouchiest, don't-mess-with-me person I know.

Normally, if mom yelled downstairs to ask if he'd like something to eat, he'd reply: "Sure mom, what are we having?"

This weekend, though, he yelled back: "EAT? How can you expect me to eat? I've got ump-teen notes to study, fifteen chapters to read, and you want me to EAT?"

Poor mom looked at me as though she'd done something horrible. Don't worry, mom, I consoled her, he'll be back to normal next weekend.

Best of luck, little brother. You'll burn 'em up, I'm sure. Till next week...

Healthy baby's cry brings memories to former midwife

by Janice Shepherd
Staff Writer

During a bitter winter storm in 1934, Ida Burchett, pregnant with her first child, was forced into a role that would become her lifetime career. When she began experiencing strong labor pains, Burchett, who was 34, sent her husband out into a blinding snow storm to "fetch" the doctor.

While the wind howled outside her door and the snow drifts became deeper around her home, Ida Burchett, a long figure in a battle for life, singlehandedly gave birth to her daughter, Garnett. Burchett, with a common-sense approach, cut the once life-sustaining cord, which now was a link with death for both mother and child, and tied the end. She calmly awaited the return of her husband and the doctor.

When the doctor finally arrived, he examined both his patients and could not believe the skill of the new mother. Ida Burchett didn't know it at the time, but she had just embarked on her career as a midwife. It was a career that reaped no monetary benefits but produced an abundance of healthy babies.

"I delivered all kinds of babies, and I never had a bit of bad luck," Burchett said as she remembered the numerous babies she had delivered over the years.

"At that time, women didn't go to doctors when they were expecting babies. They went when they thought they were pregnant. They had a blood test and that was it. They didn't have the money to go back to the doctor," she said. So, instead, the women called on the licensed midwife to deliver their babies.

In the early years, men, sometimes on horseback, would come for her in the middle of the night, and Burchett would trudge the hills to deliver a baby. Many times she waded through snow across two hills. The bitter cold would freeze her stockings to her legs, but she never became ill from these excursions. She attributed this to the protection of the "Old Man" (God).

When she arrived, the first thing she did was to clean all the dirt from her fingernails and get out the disinfectant. "You can't have a speck of dirt anywhere," said Burchett.

In addition to the disinfectant, she carried soap, newspapers, scissors, and rubber sheets in her black bag. She also brought a set of baby clothes because, in many instances, the parents did not have any for their newborn babe. Her black bag also contained plenty of twine, which she used to tie the baby's cord.

"I used twine instead of thread because thread would cut into the cord and it wouldn't hold," said Burchett, who explained that the baby could bleed to death within 2 1/2 hours if the cord wasn't tied right.

The midwife was not allowed to use anesthesia on the mothers. Instead, she tied sheets to the foot of the bed, and when the contractions became hard, Burchett told the mothers to pull at the sheets.

Often, Burchett would spend the night at the home of the couple while waiting for the delivery. She remembered that most of the time, she would not receive any food during her stay. She would return home, across the hills, hungry and exhausted.

Burchett also had to clean up after the delivery. Her fee for complete services rendered — $10 — often was not paid. In later years, she had to raise it to $20. Then, it was no longer men on horseback, but emergency departments with their sirens blaring, who retrieved the midwife.

Burchett told about delivering twins. "One of the babies was born in a black bag (a sac-like covering of skin). The other women who gathered around the baby thought it was dead," she remembered. She ripped the covering from the child and gave it mouth to mouth resuscitation. Now that baby has babies of her own, said

Burchett. "Most all women can have babies, if given time. Now, doctors give shots to get rid of it (get the labor over with fast) so they can go play golf," she said.

The largest baby she delivered was twelve pounds. The baby, a daughter of Cal Clay, was born on Christmas Day. Her last delivery, about 20 years ago, was Richard Lewis, whose mother returned to Michigan the day after he was born, she said.

Burchett calls all the infants she delivered "her babies." She remembers them all and some of them remember her with kindness.

"One man always gives me pop because he knows I delivered him," she said. "Since his parents didn't pay me, he says he's paying me in pop."

Another young woman, on the day of her wedding, showed up on Burchett's doorstep. She handed the midwife some money, and explained that she was paying Burchett for delivering her.

Though it has had its rewards in the sounds of a healthy baby's cry, life has been tough for Burchett. To raise her growing family, she had to cross the hills with her daughter on her hip, so that she could work for other people at any odd job she could find. Her daughter, Garnett Ward, remembered the times her mother took in laundry. Her mother scrubbed clothes on a washboard, and her skin became blistered and cracked until the blood from her hands mingled with the scrub water, Ward said.

"Hard work won't kill you, or I'd be dead," said the former midwife, who until two years ago tilled her hillside garden with a mattock. A few years ago, she suffered a series of light strokes, and she now takes medication for her heart. She also has won a bout with cancer.

Tragedy struck in 1982, however, that almost caused her to lose her sanity. In one day she lost her husband, her son, and her home. Her husband, Ermin Burchett, lost his life while trying to rescue their mentally handicapped son from a fire that also consumed her home. Her faith in God and the love of her surviving children helped her through the ordeal.

Burchett also has the support of her neighbors who recently honored her on her birthday, April 11, with a birthday party and dinner.

Today at 91, Ida Burchett lives on Cow Creek with her pets for company: a German Shepherd and three cats — one of whom is expecting.

Dairy association sponsoring recipe contest

The American Dairy Association of Kentucky is sponsoring its 6th annual "Dairylicious Recipe Contest", with first prize receiving $500 and a chance to participate in the regional finals. The state winner will receive a trip to Charlotte, N.C. to compete for the $5,000 regional grand prize. The Kentucky state contest will be held June 12, 1991 at Erikson Hall on the University of Kentucky campus.

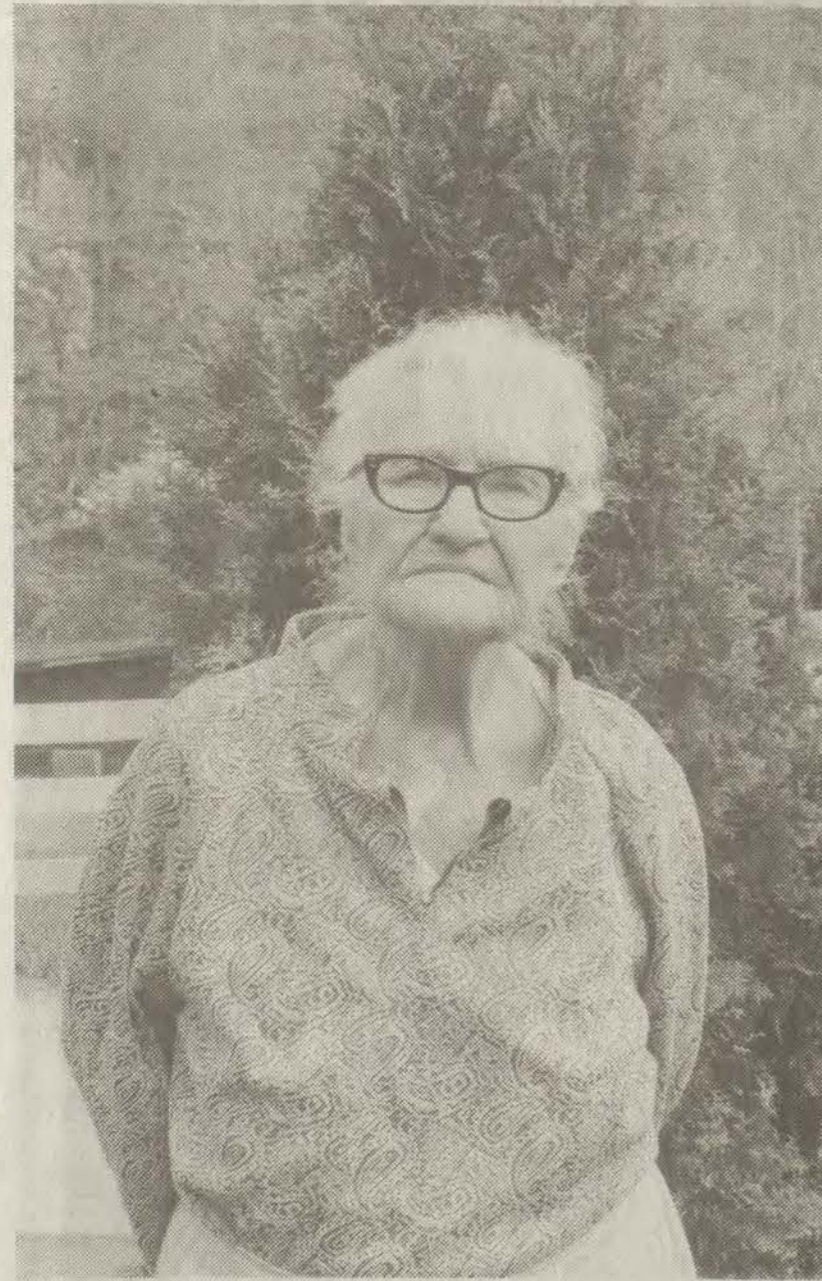

Lighter casseroles will be the category for this year's competition. All recipes submitted must be for a casserole which can be prepared and ready to serve within a 2-hour time frame. At least three Real dairy products, such as milk, cream, buttermilk, sour cream, cottage cheese, cheese, butter, etc., must be used in the recipe and at least two of them must be of the lowfat variety. Recipes containing imitation or dairy product substitutes will be eliminated.

Entries must be sent to the Floyd County extension office from individuals who live in Floyd County. Interested individuals may call 886-2668, Floyd County Extension Office for details on the contest. Each entry should be printed or typed on a single sheet of paper with your name, address and telephone number in the lower left-hand corner. Standard measurements and complete directions for preparation are required.

Judging in all contests, county, area, state and regional, will be uniform using the same rules and regulations for each. Points will be awarded in four categories: originality, taste, appearance and ease of preparation.

You may enter as many times as you like, but each entry must be submitted separately.

From father to son

I saw Mickey Mantle being interviewed on The Larry King Show the other night. I was impressed at how much like a little boy he still looked (maybe it was the freckles), and at how modest he seemed when King would ask him about his baseball achievements.

The thing that impressed me most, though, was how — even after all these years — he still gave his father credit for his success. He spoke softly about his dad, and I think I noted a light tear forming as he told how it was his father that had worked with him and encouraged him to greatness.

That started me to thinking. That's just natural, isn't it? I mean, that's just the way fathers (and mothers, too, for that matter) are. They always want their kids to accomplish more in life than they did.

For instance, while we both encouraged our son to go to college, I think that, personally, I'd have been disappointed had he wanted to become a school teacher.

My own dad was that way, too. All he talked about was mining coal, and I really think he loved it. But, I've heard him say many times, as he'd look down at his calloused hands

(one of which had a missing finger), "I don't want any of my boys working in the mines."

There's no doubt that this trait of a parent wanting more for their children than they had themselves is universal.

I can just imagine Mickey Mantle's dad calling him over one day and saying, "Mick, this here's a baseball glove. Now, when I was a boy, I dreamed of being a professional ball player. I fell short, son, but with hard work and dedication, maybe someday..."

Or, imagine Mr. Armstrong calling young Neil into his study: "Son, this here's a map of the universe. See this little circle? It represents the moon. Here's the earth. Now, I know that it'll take one giant step for mankind, but someday, son..."

How do you suppose it might have been at the Cosby house? "Bill," Dad Cosby would say, "you're just too serious-minded. Loosen up, boy. You can't go through life frowning all the time. Why, what would you do if your face froze like that?" Smile! Learn to tell a good joke and who knows? Maybe someday..."

how it might have been for the Kennedys of Massachusetts? With a little imagination, you can almost see (and hear) Dad...ch, fathah...calling to his sons: "Stop that touch football game a second, lads and gathah 'round heah. I want...pay attention heah, Teddy...I want my sons to have more than I had."

You can almost see their innocent young faces as their father reaches into the pocket of his silk dinner jacket, and brings forth a tattered, worn photograph.

"Now, lads, this heah's a woman..."

GFWC/KFWC to hold installation dinner

Mrs. Linda McGuire, president of the GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club reminds members of the annual installation dinner to be held Thursday evening, May 4, at 6:30 at the club's Arts and Crafts House at Archer Park.

The entree, rolls, and drinks will be furnished by the club. Each member is asked to bring a covered dish, a salad, or dessert of her choice.

The devotional leader will be Mrs. Linda McGuire, and the hostesses will be Betty Porter, chairman, Lillian Baldrige, Phyllis Stanley, Lida Howard, Burieta Gearhart, and Martha Johnson.

Guests of members will be welcome to attend.

Visit family

Mr. and Mrs. William Ousley Jordan of Fort Gay, West Virginia, were here last week for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Gorman Collins Sr. and Mr. Collins.

Litter Task Force discusses progress

Members of the Prestonsburg Kiwanianes met Thursday, April 25 at 12:30 at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Following the Kiwanian grace, which was said in unison, lunch was enjoyed, after which Mrs. Hope Whitten, president, presided at the business session.

The president presented Mrs. Jane Wallace, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. Charlotte McFall, with the Floyd County Litter Task Force and administrative assistant with the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. McFall is co-chairman of the task force with Floyd County Judge Executive, John M. Stumbo.

Mrs. McFall gave an informative discussion of the work being done, and the improvements being made in the effort to clean up this county. She fielded questions from the audience and distributed literature on subjects such as: "The Three R's of Waste Management," "Doing Your Part to Help Solve the Garbage Crisis," and "Save Our Planet."

The speaker gave this list of numbers to be called for information concerning the Floyd County Litter Task Force:

Illegal dumping or littering — Ecology Officer Cleveland Tackett at 285-5133; dead animals — Kentucky Department of Highways, Leo Roberts, 874-2316; Adopt-a-Highway program, Department of Transportation, Dan Hall, 437-9691; request for garbage trucks for community cleanup — Floyd County Solid Waste, David Cooley, 285-5133.

Publicizing community cleanups — The Floyd County Times, Susan Allen, 886-8506, WMDJ, 874-8005, and WQHY, 886-8409; recycling information — Kentuckians for the Commonwealth (KFTC), 886-0043; information on how to form a community cleanup committee — Charlotte McFall, 886-1341 or 886-3359, Kitty Frasure, 377-6640, Jim Caldwell, 298-3505, and Duna Combs, 285-3374.

Automobile recycling — Mansbach Metal Company, Rick Hughes, 874-9657, and miscellaneous information about the Litter Task Force, or to have someone speak to a group — Charlotte McFall, 886-1341 or 886-3359.

The speakers also distributed coloring booklets to be used by children with the hope of making the public more aware of this program.

Following the program, the president conducted the business session which was opened with devotions by Mrs. Lucy C. Regan, who read from 1st Corinthians, and also discussed "How to Spend Our Time," based on the booklet entitled "Our Daily Bread." She ended her devotions with prayer.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Osborne, and Mrs. Garnett Fairchild, treasurer, gave the financial report.

In other business, it was announced that the annual Heart Clinic would be held May 14-15 at the Floyd County Health Department. The Prestonsburg Kiwanianes and Kiwanis Clubs will again furnish snacks and milk during that time. Mrs. Myrtle Allen and Mrs. Maman Leslie volunteered to serve this food.

Mrs. Goldia Williams also announced that the Rev. French Harmon, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Allen was holding services each Sunday morning at 8:30 for persons who found it impossible to attend the 11 a.m. Sunday services there, and she invited members to attend these early morning services.

The president announced the next luncheon meeting would be held Thursday, May 23, at 12:30.

Attending this event were Mrs. Charlotte McFall, a guest, and members: Mesdames Hope Whitten, Mable Jean LeMaster, Dorothy Osborne, Garnett Fairchild, Lucy Regan, Jane Wallace, Minerva Cooley, Goldia Williams, Myrtle Allen, Thelma Music, Annabelle Maggard, Ada Meade, Maman Leslie, and Docia Woods.

Lexington residents visit Rasnick, Pettreys

Senior Citizens' luncheon will be held on May 8

Mrs. Patsy Evans, director of the Archer Senior Citizens announced that the next meeting of this group will be held at the Holiday Inn on Wednesday, May 8, at 11 p.m. The theme of this even will be Mexican fiesta and those attending are encouraged to wear Mexican attire.

As usual, Tim Collins with the Holiday Inn will serve as the D.J. and a program will be presented following the meal.

Bible drill winners

The Pleasant Home Baptist Church recently announced six associational winners in the recent Children's Bible Drill. Winning were Jennifer Baugus, Rhiannon Hedrick, Angie Boyd, Autumn Dobson, Andrea Porter, and Jessica Frasure.

Day Homemakers plan salad luncheon

The Prestonsburg Day Homemakers will hold their next meeting on Tuesday, May 14, at noon. A salad luncheon will be held during that time.

All homemakers and prospective homemakers are urged to attend — and to bring their favorite salads.

GFWC/KFWC woman's club looks at year in review

As the end of the GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's club draws near, Mrs. Linda McGuire, outgoing president, reflects on some of the many accomplishments made by the club this past year.

During the year, the club added three new members following a membership tea in September; Dorothy Stover won two ribbons for her needlework in the Seventh District Fall Conference; Phyllis Herrick, past president, wrote the "history of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club" which will be published in the forthcoming "Floyd County History Book;" the club co-sponsored, with the Prestonsburg Community College, a breast cancer awareness seminar; the club realized more than $1,000 profit on the sale of Birthday Calendars, by Earlene Nelson, chairman and other members of the club's finance committee; and a white elephant sale, held to raise money for some of the worthy projects sponsored by the club, was successful.

Several improvements which have been made to the Arts and Crafts House at Archer Park were explained. These include the installation by Ralph Little, at the direction of the Park Board, of a new air conditioner; the purchase of a new Christmas tree for this house from profits made by selling ceramics made by members of the club; the purchase of ten new tables from proceeds realized from maintaining a food booth during the Jenny Wiley Festival of which Maxine Bierman, a former club president is director; and the donation and installation of a wall lamp by club member, Eileen Burchett.

The president said she was especially proud of Christmas Open House (called Christmas at the Park), sponsored by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, the Archer Senior Citizens, and the Prestonsburg Tourism Commission, and held at Archer Park. During that time, refreshments of cookies, hot apple cider, and other goodies were served; Christmas carols were sung; door prizes were awarded to adults; and about 75 children took turns sitting on Santa's lap and receiving a gift of either a book, a puzzle, or toy.

During the club's April meeting, Mrs. Kathy Lowe, presently 1st vice president of this club, and several other club members, presented a delightful skit based on the "History of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club," and dramatizing many activities of this organization from 1920-1990.

The president added that the club is now making plans for the Festival of Faces to be held here in mid May.

Mrs. Linda McGuire, president, and other members of the club's executive board, including, Mesdames Kathy Lowe, Sandy Burchett, Earlene Nelson, Sue Martin, Elizabeth Ramey, Dorothy Harris, Nan Arnett, and Docia Woods, extend their appreciation for the cooperation of all the club members in working toward the betterment of this club and this community.

Candidate honored

Mrs. Rose Collins, pictured on right, hosted a reception Sunday afternoon for Steve Collins (center), candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and son of former Kentucky Governor Martha Layne Collins, left in photo. (photo by Stuart Stephens)

Former Gov. and son honored at reception

Mrs. Rose Collins was hostess to a reception at her home on Francis Court, on Sunday afternoon, April 28, honoring former Kentucky Governor Martha Layne Collins and her son Steve Collins, a candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky.

Refreshments of decorated cake, mints, nuts, punch and coffee were served to many friends and relatives who called between the hours of 12:30-2:30 p.m., bringing "best wishes" and enjoying refreshments, fellowship and reminiscing, as well as renewing their friendships with former Governor Collins, and becoming acquainted with her son, Steve.

Asked to tell about her life since leaving office in 1987, Mrs. Collins said she had served as Executive in Residence in the School of Business at the University of Louisville; held a fellowship at the Howard University John F. Kennedy School of Politics; and was now president of the Martha Layne Collins Ad Association and of the Saint Catherine College, in Springfield, Kentucky.

Asked to give a resume of his life, Steve Collins said that he had traveled Kentucky since he was 10 years old, and visited all Kentucky counties by the time he was 15. He added that he graduated from Georgetown College and the University of Kentucky Law School; that he married Diane Spalding, a teacher and that they have a 2 1/2 year old son, named Taylor.

His father, Dr. Bill Collins, is a native of Eastern, Kentucky.

Wedding couple were honored with events

Prior to the recent wedding of Miss Leslie Morgan and Mr. Craig Bays, their friends and relatives honored them with several events:

Other events in their honor include:

A personal shower for the bride-to-be, at the home of Miss Charlotte Wells, at her home at Brandy Keg Estates, on Saturday afternoon, March 23, where she was the recipient of many lovely gifts, for which she expressed her thanks.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Terri Akers and Christi Lynch, to Charlotte Wells, Donna Jewell, Rhoda Franklin, Brandy Lawson, Sissy Morgan, Nelle Hebner, Traci Burke, Billie Murdock, Stephanie Wells, Jewell Bays, Pauline Crisp, and Sue Wells.

A dinner held for Leslie and her attendants was hosted by Sharon Campbell at Sam Antonio's, on April 3. Mrs. Campbell presented a gift to each guest in attendance. Enjoying this dinner were the honoree, Leslie Morgan, and Terri Akers, Christie Lunch, Rhoda Franklin, and Brandy Lawson. Unable to attend, but sending greetings were Donna Jewell and Charlotte Wells.

On this same date, the groom-to-be, Craig Bays, was honored with a dinner at the Holiday Inn, here. Hosts for this event were: Mike Thompson, David Goble, Dwayne Miller and Mike Herald.

(A miscellaneous household shower, given for them in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church, here, on February 22, was previously reported in this newspaper).

William Loftus, East Point, KY
Assistant Professor of Psychology
Prestonsburg Community College

For Bill Loftus, It Was A Better Way To Get Home Sooner.

Bill was lucky. He walked away from his car wreck last September. His seat belt probably saved his life, but it left him with a nagging pain in his lower abdomen. He toughed it out for two months before seeing his family physician, Dr. Blake Burchett. It was a hernia, needing surgical repair.

Bill did some homework on the hospital, a surgeon and even an anesthesiologist. He checked costs and reputations, looking for the right balance between economy and quality care. He needed to be in and out of surgery fast, and back home as soon as he could. The answer was Same Day Surgery at Highlands.

Bill is one of a growing number of smart healthcare consumers who ask for information and prices these days. With the help of his family doctor, his surgeon, Dr. William Cook, and the surgical and nursing staff at Highlands, he learned what he needed to know.

"We went into all the little details...how long it would take...what we were going to do...what recovery time would be like. I wanted to get in, I wanted to get it done and I wanted to get out. Everything went like a well-oiled machine...the people were wonderful, the care and concern that I experienced was wonderful."

To learn more about Same Day Surgery, ask your family doctor or call Ann Martin at Highlands, toll free 1-800-533-HRMC or locally, 886-8511.

We keep getting better at getting you better a whole lot closer to home

Award winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Valerie Latisha Kidd has been named a United States National Award winner in English. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students. Kidd, who attends Betsy Layne High was nominated for this National Award by Reba Blackburn, a English teacher at the school. Valerie She will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally. She is the daughter of Bertee and Dezray Kidd and her grandparents are Matthew and Imo Jean Kidd of Harold and Otis and Jewell Kidd of Hazel Green.

County Kettle

By Marie Harmon

Since I have oodles and oodles of cheese recipes, I will use only the ones using cheese this week, along with some nice tips and suggestions.

Always store cheese in the refrigerator. Before serving, set out and let stand at room temperature for 30 to 60 minutes. Cottage, cream and neufchatel cheeses should always be served chilled.

After removing cheese from the original package, rewrap tightly in plastic wrap to prevent drying out. Store strong cheese, such as blue and limburger in an airtight container so their aroma will not be absorbed by other foods. If mold gets on cheese, do not throw it away. Cut the mold out and discard it. Mold improves the flavor of cheese.

If for some reason you have to freeze cheese, use it only for cooking. Cook cheese dishes slow and on low heat to prevent it from separating and becoming tough and stringy. Always cube or shred cheese before adding to hot foods, such as macaroni. Always add your cheese toppings to casseroles about 10 minutes before the end of cooking.

CARROT-CHEESE BALL

by Marie Davis
2 c. shredded carrots
1 pkg. neufchatel cheese (softened)
1 c. shredded processed cheddar cheese
1 clove garlic (minced)
1/4 c. nutlike cereal nuggets
1 tbsp. chopped fresh parsley
Press carrots between paper towels to remove excess moisture, set aside. Combine both cheeses in a medium bowl; stir well. Add carrots and garlic; stir well. Cover and chill for one hour. Combine nuggets and parsley; stir well. Shape cheese mixture in a ball, roll in the cereal mixture. Wrap in wax paper and chill at least one hour.

CHEESY ARTICHOKE APPETIZERS

2 5 oz. cans crescent dinner rolls
3/4 c. shredded mozzarella cheese
1/2 c. salad dressing
1 1/4 oz. can artichoke hearts, drained, chopped fine

1 4 oz. can green chilis, drained
Unroll dough into rectangles, press onto bottoms and sides of a jellyroll pan to form crust. Bake at 375° for 10 minutes. Combine remaining ingredients, mix well. Spread over crust.

Bake at 350° for 15 minutes, or until cheese is melted. Let stand 5 minutes before serving, garnish with thin red paper strips.

CBS PIZZA

1 (8 oz.) can tomato sauce pizza crust (following)
1/4 tsp. garlic powder
2 tsp. oregano
1 lb. ground beef
1 lb. roll sausage (pork)
1/2 lb. bacon cooked and crumbled
2 cans sliced mushrooms, drained
1 lb. shredded mozzarella cheese
2 c. (8 oz.) shredded provolone cheese

Spread tomato sauce evenly over each partially baked pizza crust, leaving a 1/2 inch border around edges. Sprinkle garlic powder and oregano over each pizza. Cook ground beef and sausage until browned stirring occasionally to crumble; drain well. Sprinkle meat mixture and bacon over each pizza, top with mushrooms. Combine mozzarella and provolone cheese, sprinkle over each pizza. Bake at 375° for 20 to 25 minutes. Yield 2 12-inch pizzas.

PIZZA CRUST

1 pkg. dry yeast
1 1/4 c. warm water
2 tbsp. vegetable oil
dash of salt
4 c. all purpose flour divided
2 tbsp. cornmeal
Dissolve yeast in water in large bowl. Let stand 5 minutes. Stir in oil and salt. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured board and knead 8 to 10 minutes, or until smooth and elastic. Sprinkle cornmeal over 2 lightly greased 12 inch pizza pans. Divide dough in half. Lightly grease hands, and pat dough evenly into pizza pans.

Bake at 450° for 8 minutes or until lightly browned.

PORK TENDERLOIN WITH BLUE CHEESE

by Ruby Dotson
2 tsp. oil
1 1/2 pork tenderloin (cut into 1 in. slices)
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
3 tbsp. margarine, or butter
3 tsp. all purpose flour
2 c. milk
4 oz. blue cheese crumbled hot cooked noodles
chopped fresh parsley
Heat oil in a large skillet. Add pork, and cook over medium heat until browned, add salt and pepper. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Drain well, set aside. Melt butter in a skillet over low heat, add flour, stirring constantly. Gradually add milk, cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture is thickened and bubbly. Stir in pork and blue cheese. Serve over noodles. Garnish with parsley. Yield 4 servings. NOTICE!! Pork should be well done. I don't think 10 minutes is enough!!!

HOMINY WITH CHILES AND CHEESE

by Peg Collins
2 cans (15 oz.) hominy, rinsed and drained and divided
1 (4 oz.) can chopped chiles drained and divided
1/2 c. sour cream, divided
2 tsp. butter, divided salt and pepper to taste
1/2 c. shredded Monterey Jack cheese
1/4 c. milk
Layer half of hominy and chiles in a lightly greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Dot with 1/4 cup sour cream and 1 teaspoon butter. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Repeat with remaining hominy, chiles, sour cream, and butter. Sprinkle with cheese, and pour milk over the casserole. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Yield 5 or 6 servings.

BACON-CHEESE POPCORN

4 quarts freshly popped corn
1/3 c. melted butter
1/2 tsp. seasoned salt
1/3 c. grated cheese (Parmesan)
1/3 c. bacon flavored bits
Pour popped corn into a large mixing bowl. Combine butter and salt pour over corn, stirring well. Add cheese and bacon bits. Stir well. Pour in a jellyroll pan (15x10x1 inch). Bake for 8 minutes at 350 stirring once. Store in an airtight container. Yield 4 qts.

CHEESE AND PEPPER MUFFIN MIX

2 1/3 c. all-purpose flour
1/4 c. yellow cornmeal
1/4 c. sugar
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. red pepper
1/2 c. grated Parmesan cheese
1/3 c. cultured buttermilk powder
2 tsp. red pepper flakes
Combine all ingredients: Store in an airtight container in a cool, dry place. Yield 4 cups.
Place muffin mix in a large bowl, make a well in center of mixture. Combine 2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups of water, and 1/4 cup vegetable oil. Add to dry ingredients, stirring just until moistened. Spoon into greased muffin pans, filling 3/4 full. Bake at 400° for 20 minutes. Remove from pans. Yield 2 dozen.

PEPPER-CHEESE BISCUIT FINGERS

by Mae Lancaster
2 c. all purpose flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. pepper
2/3 c. Parmesan cheese
3 tsp. butter or margarine
1 c. buttermilk
2 tsp. margarine melted
Combine first 5 ingredients; cut in three tablespoons butter with a pastry blender until the mixture resembles course meal. Add buttermilk, stirring just until the dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured board, and knead lightly 4 or 5 times.

Roll dough into a 12x9 inch rectangle, cut into 3x1 1/2 inch rectangles. Place on a lightly greased baking sheet. Brush with melted margarine. Bake at 450° for 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield 2 dozen.

CHILI-AND-CHEESE DIP

1 lb. ground turkey
1 (15 1/2 oz.) can chili with beans
1/2 lb. loaf cheese with peppers
1/3 c. milk
Cook turkey in a medium saucepan until meat is browned, stirring to crumble. Drain well. Add remaining ingredients and cook over medium heat stirring until cheese melts.
To serve, transfer to a chafing dish. Serve warm with tortilla chips. Yield 1 quart.

PECAN LOAF

3 c. all-purpose flour
1 1/4 c. sugar
5 tsp. low-sodium baking powder
1 1/2 c. skim milk
3/4 c. Egg Beaters
1/3 c. unsalted margarine, melted
1/2 c. pecan halves, coarsely chopped
In large bowl stir flour, sugar, baking powder, skim milk, Egg Beaters, and margarine just until blended. Stir in chopped pecans. Pour batter into greased 9x5x3 inch loaf pan. Bake at 350°F for 55 to 60 minutes, or until done. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool on wire rack.

FRUIT SALAD WITH HONEY, ORANGE SAUCE

Salad
1 medium pineapple
2 c. cantaloupe balls
2 medium oranges, sectioned
1 cup seedless green grapes, halved Sauce
1/3 c. creamy unsalted mayonnaise
3 tsp. honey
2 tsp. grated orange peel
To make salad, slice pineapple in half lengthwise. Scoop out fruit leaving a 1/4 inch thick shell. Reserve shells. Cut fruit into 1 inch pieces. In reserved shells, combine pineapple, cantaloupe, oranges and grapes.
To make sauce, in a small bowl, stir together mayonnaise, honey and orange peel until blended. Serve over fruit. Serves 8.

CREAM CHEESE POUND CAKE

1 1/4 c. (3 sticks) margarine
1 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese softened
3 c. sugar
6 eggs
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
3 c. sifted all purpose flour
1/3 c. salt
Confectioners sugar optional
Preheat oven to 325° F. Grease and flour a 10 inch tube pan or a 12 cup bundt pan. Beat margarine and cream cheese together in mixing bowl until well blended. Add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time beating after each addition. Blend in vanilla. Sift flour and salt together, blend into the creamed mixture. Spoon batter into prepared pan. Bake 1 hour and 45 minutes or until toothpick inserted into cake one inch from edge comes out clean. Cool in pan for 5 minutes, turn out onto a wire rack and cool completely. Dust with confectioners' sugar, if desired. The richness of cream cheese makes this moist cake so delectable. It's wonderful served plain. Makes 12 to 15 servings.

POPPYSEED OAT BRAND MUFFINS (with Orange Glaze)

Muffins that burst with fresh orange flavor are easy to prepare using a muffin mix.
1 egg or 2 egg whites
1/2 c. orange juice
1 (7 oz.) pkg. Oat Brand Muffin mix

2 tsp. poppy seeds
1 tsp. grated orange peel
orange glaze below

Preheat oven to 450°F. Grease muffin cups. Beat eggs in mixing bowl; stir in orange juice. Add muffin mix, poppy seeds and orange peel, stir until just blended. Batter should be lumpy. Spoon batter into prepared muffin tins, filling 2/3 full. Bake 14 to 16 minutes or until golden brown. Remove pan from the oven. Spoon orange glaze carefully over muffins, allowing glaze to drizzle down into muffin cups. Cool in pan 5 minutes. Remove muffins from pan. Best served warm. Makes 6 to 9 muffins.

ORANGE GLAZE

Combine 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 2 tsp. orange juice, 1/2 tsp. grated orange peel and 1/2 tsp. vanilla in small bowl. Blend.

OLD-FASHIONED PEACH COBBLER

Pastry:
4 c. sifted all purpose flour
1 1/4 tsp. salt
1 1/3 c. shortening
2/3 c. water
Preheat oven to 400°F. Stir flour and salt together in a mixing bowl. Cut in half the shortening with pastry blender or two knives until mixture is fine and mealy. Cut in remaining shortening until mixture is consistency of small peas. Sprinkle water over mixture, stir gently with fork until dough leaves side of bowl. Mixture should be moist enough to form a ball, but not sticky. Divide dough into thirds. On a lightly floured board roll out one third as thinly as possible. Cut into 3x1 inch strips with floured knife or pastry wheel. Place strips on ungreased baking sheet. Bake for 8 minutes, until golden brown. Cool on wire rack. Cover remaining dough. Prepare filling as directed:

Filling:
2 c. sugar
3 tsp. all purpose flour
7 cups sliced fresh or frozen peaches
1 cup water
1/2 tsp. almond extract
1/2 c. margarine (1 stick)

Reduce oven temperature to 375°. Grease a 13x9x2 inch baking dish. Stir together sugar and flour. Add peaches, water and extract, stir to blend. Roll out half the remaining dough in shape of the baking dish. Fit pastry into bottom and up sides of dish leaving a 1 inch overhang. Spoon half the filling into pastry shell. Dot with half the margarine. Scatter half the baked strips over the filling. Spoon remaining filling over pastry strips. Dot with the remaining margarine. Roll out the remaining dough in shape of dish. Cut into 3/4 inch wide strips. Weave strips to form a lattice top. Seal and form decorative edge as desired. Bake 50 to 60 minutes or until crust is golden and filling begins to bubble. Cool on a wire rack. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

FROSTY ORANGE MUFFINS

2 c. sifted flour
1/3 c. sugar
1 tsp. grated orange peel
1 egg
3/4 c. orange juice
1/4 c. oil
Preheat oven to 400°. Grease muffin tins. Stir first three ingredients together. Beat eggs in separate bowl, stir in orange juice and oil. Add to dry ingredients, stirring until blended. Batter will be slightly lumpy. Spoon into muffin cups filling 2/3 full. Bake for 18 to 20 minutes. Remove from pan and cool for 5 minutes. Spread with orange icing. Makes 12 muffins.
Orange icing:
1 pkg. cream cheese softened
2 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. grated orange peel
2 tsp. orange juice
Combine cream cheese and orange peel in a small bowl, blend well. Add orange juice and stir until smooth. The zest of orange and rich cream cheese icing make these refreshing muffins good enough for desserts.

MEXICAN BROCCOLI CASSEROLE

By Lou McCray
1 stick margarine
1 medium onion (chopped)
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 package frozen chopped broccoli
1 cup minute rice
1 jar Jalapeno cheese whiz
Microwave Instructions:
Melt margarine and saute onion (2 minutes on high)
Add soup and broccoli and cook for 2 to 4 minutes on high (or until broccoli thaws)
Add rice and cheese whiz and cook for 12 minutes on high (stirring twice)

This recipe can be made in a conventional oven by assembling the ingredients in a casserole dish and baking at 350° degrees for 30 minutes. (NOTE: Onion must be sauteed and broccoli must be slightly cooked to thaw if using this method.)

FRIED RICE

3 tsp. unsalted margarine
1/4 c. Egg Beaters
1/2 c. sliced almonds
4 c. chilled cooked rice
1 clove garlic crushed
1 c. cooked fresh peas
1/2 c. sliced scallions
2 tsp. sesame seeds toasted
2 tsp. grated ginger root
In skillet over medium heat, melt 1 tablespoon unsalted margarine. Add egg beaters, scramble according to package directions: Remove from skillet. Add remaining margarine to skillet. Add sliced almonds and garlic, cook stirring occasionally, for 2 or 3 minutes. Stir in rice, peas, scallions, sesame seed ginger, and scrambled Egg Beaters. Cook, stirring until heated through. 8 servings.

RHUBARB UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

4 cups raw rhubarb stems cut in 1-inch pieces
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup grated orange rind
Butter to cover the bottom of the dish
1/2 cup cinnamon-sugar (1/2 tsp. cinnamon to 1/2 cup sugar)
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, beaten
6 tablespoons butter, melted
1/3 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon orange liqueur (for glaze)
Combine first four ingredients, place in a nine and one-half inch Pyrex deep-dish pie plate, cover with an inverted large Pyrex bowl or 12-inch round Pyrex pizza plate and microwave on HIGH 5 minutes, rotating after two and one-half minutes to soften the rhubarb and extract the juices. You should get about a cup of juice.

Using oven mitts or pot holders, carefully remove the cover far-side-first so the steam escapes away from you. Drain the rhubarb mixture, reserving juice for the glaze. Set the drained rhubarb aside. Hold the still-hot dish with pot holder and wipe it out thoroughly with a dry paper towel—do not use a damp towel for this. Generously butter the bottom of the still-warm dish and sprinkle the cinnamon-sugar over the butter. Arrange the drained rhubarb over the sugar.

Mix together the remaining ingredients, except the liqueur and reserved juices, and spoon this mixture over the rhubarb, press in with a spatula and bake 30 minutes at 350° degrees.

When done, turn the cake out on the Pyrex pizza dish or on a Correlle dinner plate. Make a glaze by mixing one-half cup of the reserved rhubarb juice with the liqueur, spoon it over the warm cake and serve.

VEGETABLES WITH HERB CRUMB TOPPING

1 tsp. salt free seasoning
1/4 lb. fresh green beans trimmed and frenched
1/2 lb. broccoli trimmed and separated
1/2 lb. cauliflower, trimmed and cut in small flowerets
1 small zucchini, sliced
1 stick unsalted margarine
1/4 c. chopped onion
1/2 pkg. salt-free coating mix
2 tsp. crushed tarragon leaves
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
2 c. soft bread crumbs
2 tsp. finely snipped parsley
2 tsp. lemon juice
1 canned pimento drained and cut in small squares

Bring a 3/4 inch depth of water to boil in a large saucepan or deep skillet. Add season. Layer vegetables in a steamer basket, set in saucepan. Cover tightly and steam 7 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Meanwhile heat margarine in skillet, add onions cook until tender, mix in coating mix, tarragon, dry mustard and bread crumbs. Heat and stir until crumbs are lightly browned. Stir in parsley and lemon juice.

Mix pimento squares with vegetables, top with crumb mixture. Makes 8 servings.

APPLESAUCE BRAN SNACK CAKE

2 c. all-purpose flour
1/2 c. 100% bran
4 tsp. low sodium baking powder
1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. all spices (ground)
1/4 c. Egg Beaters
1/2 c. unsalted margarine softened
2/3 c. dark seedless raisins
confectioner's sugar
In large bowl combine flour, bran, baking powder, cinnamon, nutmeg, and allspice. Add Egg Beaters, applesauce, brown sugar and margarine. Beat at medium speed for 2 minutes. Stir in raising. Spread batter in greased 8x8x2 inch baking pan. Bake at 350°F for 35 to 40 minutes or until done. Cool. Dust with confectioner's sugar. Cut and serve. Serves 9.

VEGETABLE LASAGNE

3 cups chunky-style spaghetti sauce
1 medium zucchini, shredded
6 uncooked lasagne noodles
1 cup ricotta or small curd creamed cottage cheese
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon snipped fresh oregano leaves or 1 teaspoon dried oregano leaves
2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese (8 ounces)

Mix spaghetti sauce and zucchini. Spread 1 cup mixture in ungreased rectangular baking dish, 11x7x1 1/2 inches; top with 3 uncooked noodles. Mix ricotta cheese, Parmesan cheese and oregano; spread over noodles in dish. Spread with 1 cup of the sauce mixture.

Top with remaining noodles, sauce mixture and the mozzarella cheese. Bake uncovered in 350° oven until hot and bubbly, about 45 minutes. Let stand 15 minutes before cutting. 8 servings.

BARBECUE SAUCE

2 c. salt-free catsup
1/2 c. chopped onions
1/3 c. packed brown sugar
2 tsp. salt-free steak sauce
1 tsp. apple cider vinegar
1 tsp. salt-free seasoning
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 clove minced garlic
Combine all ingredients in large heavy saucepan. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Reduce heat to low, cover and simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Makes enough sauce for 6 pounds of pork ribs (2 cups).

Carson Dellosa workshop

The Carson Dellosa workshop sponsored by the Bookworm in Prestonsburg was a huge success. Fifteen teachers from Prestonsburg Elementary attended on Saturday, April 20, at the Jenny Willey Convention Center. Pictured from left to right in first row are Callie Carroll, Phyllis Allison, Kelly Duncan, Stephanie Burrows, Jennifer Skeens, and Deborah Walker. In second row are Vicki Pack, Marthan Damron, Anne Howard, Terri Hall, Debbie Derosselt, Betty Schuster, Donna Collins and Marcella Slone. (Not pictured are Paula Collins and Sue Martin.) The teachers expressed their thanks to the Bookworm for a great workshop.

What to say in a tense situation

April has been proclaimed Child Abuse Prevention Month by Governor Wallace Wilkinson, in an effort to bring attention to the issue of child abuse and ways to prevent children being abused.

In conjunction with the proclamation, the Kentucky Council on Child Abuse has compiled a list of what to say or do when parents abuse their children in public.

- Their recommendations are:
- "He seems to be trying your patience."
 - "Is he tired? Does he need a nap?"
 - "She has beautiful (eyes)." (to get the parent in a more positive mood).
 - "My child used to get upset like that."
 - "Children can wear you out, can't they? Is there anything I can do to help?"
 - Strike up a conversation with the adult. See if you can re-direct his/her attention away from the child.
 - Sympathize with the parent, i.e. "Isn't it amazing how children think they can get what they want by kicking and screaming?"
 - "My son behaves like that sometimes, and I..."
 - If you are concerned about the physical safety of the child, alert the store manager.

- Divert the child's attention (if he is misbehaving), by talking to him, engaging him in conversation.

- Praise the child and/or parent at the first opportunity.
- If the child is in danger, offer assistance. For example, if the child was left unattended in a grocery cart, go stand by the child until the parent returns.

- If you have authority over the parent, say, "This is a safe environment for children. We do not spank here."

- Talk emphatically to the child, i.e. "You're tired and really want to go home," or "You have spent a lot of time in that cart and now you want to get out."

- Find something positive to say about the child to the parent, "Your child is beautiful," or "What pretty hair she has."

- "Looks like you're having a rough day. Is there anything I can do to help?"

- "Looks like your little boy is giving you a hard time," hoping to relieve tension and perhaps open up some communication.

- If you know the parent, offer to watch the child while he/she takes a break, gets a drink of water, etc.

- Carry with you, "Tips for Shopping With Children." Give one to the parent.

Cabbage Patch

By Marie Harmon

If April showers bring May flowers we should have some of the most beautiful flowers imaginable this year, because April was just plain WET!!!

This month you should debut your peonies for larger blooms. Since they are heavy feeders, give them a top dressing of bone meal or well rotted manure mixed with compost. Add a handful of lime to the soil around pink hydrangeas. A heavy dose of acid peat moss will provide blue flowers. Water with liquid manure while they are in bud to increase the bloom size. Sweet peas may be planted now. Make chrysanthemum cutting around mid May in 6 inch pots for house plants this fall. This is a good time to sow seeds of biennials and perennials for flowering next year. If you can find the time.

Beans, corn, melons, cucumbers, potatoes and squash seed can be planted the first part of this month, but it is really better to wait until mid-May, as we can and do get frost quite often when blackberries are in bloom.

By mid-month you should harden-off your tender tomato and pepper plants to set out in the garden around the first of June. If you wait until the soil is warm your plants will grow faster with less damage from shock, and they really will be ready for harvest weeks ahead of the ones planted too soon. I prefer a good harvest later on than to be the first in our area to have beans and tomatoes of poorer quality. Earliest isn't always the best.

If you have not gotten all your garden area plowed or tilled, now is a good time to finish that, if the soil is dry. Turn and haul your compost out to the garden and spread it to be worked into the soil.

Weed and hand cultivate onion, beet and carrot beds at this time. Weeds and grass pull up better if the soil is moist with less damage to the tender plants. Be sure to keep your beds as weed free as possible.

Keep a close watch out for early flower and vegetable insect infestation at this time. A good practice is to watch for those pretty, small blue or yellow butterflies around the cabbage family plants. They are fast and the eggs they lay can riddle a large patch of cabbage, and broccoli in a matter of days. After doing all this and a thousand other things not mentioned here, find time to grab the old fishing pole and head for the river, lake or pond.

Miller, Clatworthy

Elmer and Ruby Miller of Estill, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Tami Lynn Miller, to Clinton (Ray Bob) Clatworthy, son of Johnnie and Dora Clatworthy also of Estill. The ceremony will be held May 10 at 6 p.m. at the Topmost Baptist Church at Topmost. Pastor Merle Little will perform the wedding ceremony. A reception will be held at the church. Everyone is invited to attend.

Establishing, maintaining credit important for women

Women should be concerned about establishing credit on their own, instead of using their spouses' account, said Frances H. Pitts, a home economics agent with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. "Establishing a good credit rating is very important," said Pitts. "If a woman is divorced, separated, widowed, or faced with financial emergencies, she can avoid many problems by having established her own credit rating."

Many women do not have a credit record because they are listed with credit bureaus in a joint file with their husbands.

Pitts said that women must assume some responsibility in learning their credit rights and establishing their own identity.

The specialist said obtaining a good credit reputation can be accomplished by:

- * Opening a checking and savings account in your own name.

- * Applying for a single-purpose credit card or charge account from a gas station or a department store.

- * Applying for a multi-purpose credit card, even if you don't use it.

- * Borrowing cash from a bank or credit union.

- * Safeguarding your credit by repaying on time.

"As long as you are employed or have sufficient income, you should be able to establish and maintain credit," said Pitts. "But with the freedom and convenience comes some danger—the temptation to overspend."

Other problems, she said, are credit card loss or theft, and billing errors. Neither problem should be ignored, and the creditor should be notified immediately.

"If you are faced with the loss of a job, heavy medical bills or other emergencies, notify the creditors as soon as possible. Do not just stop paying bills without an explanation," said Pitts.

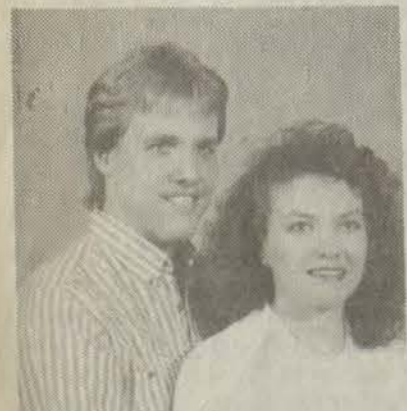

"By talking with the creditors, a realistic payment plan can be worked out. Most creditors are more than willing to adjust payment plans—provided you are still a good credit risk."

Nickles-Elam Reunion to be held June 9

The thirteenth annual Nickles-Elam Reunion will be held on Sunday, June 9, at Twin Springs High School, near Nickelsville, Va. All Nickles/Nichols, Elam, and allied families and friends are cordially invited to attend.

"Bring enough food to feed your family, and let's all spread our food together. Come early and stay late, don't miss out on anything," said a spokesperson for the group.

For additional information about the reunion, call or write: Edwin E. Nickles, 682 Rocky Branch Rd., Blountville, Tn., 37617, phone (615) 323-2009.

Wallen, Click to wed

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Wallen of McDowell announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Jamie Lynn Wallen, to Mr. Tommy Joe Click, son of Melvin Click Jr. of Water Gap and Randal and JoAnn Crum of Prestonsburg. The wedding will be solemnized in an open church service on May 11 at 2 p.m. at Fitzpatrick Freewill Baptist Church. A reception will be held after the wedding. Ms. Wallen is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky University with a degree in Geography. She is currently working on a degree in history and plans to teach. Click is a senior at U.K., working toward a degree in business, and is employed by Software for Professional on Regency Rd. The couple will reside at Lexington.

The Citizens Bank of Pikeville Plaintiff
VS: NOTICE OF SALE
Ronald Wooten and Linda Wooten, his wife, individually and DBA Just-4-Fun, Inc.; Banker's Trust Delaware, as trustee for the rural housing trust 1987-1; Commonwealth of Kentucky; and United States of America, Department of Agriculture, Farmer's Home Administration; Floyd County, Ky. Defendants
By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the April 8 term, 1991, in the above styled cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 3 day of May, 1991, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or 10% of the bid price down in cash at the time of sale, and the balance or upon a credit of thirty (30) days at the rate of 12% per annum, the following described property, to-wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land, lying in Floyd County, Kentucky, on the Big Branch of Abbott Creek, and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at an apple tree 75 feet back from a weeping willow located on the creek bank; thence S 250 feet a straight line to a stake on hill; thence W 80 feet to a stake; thence N a straight line to parallel with first line above to a post; thence E 80 feet x 250 feet.

There is included a 10 foot road leading along front of lot from east side of same, west ca 300 feet, then north ca 50 feet to a bridge.

Being the same property conveyed to Ronald Wooten and Linda Wooten, by deed from Venilia Sammons Allen and Oscar Allen, dated September 18, 1973, recorded in Deed Book 214, page 467, Floyd County Clerk's Office.

The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all real property taxes assessed for the tax year 1991 and all subsequent years.

The amounts of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $10,751.86, plus interest on the principal balance of $10,724.39, at the rate of 8 1/2% per annum from February 26, 1991 until satisfied, and the principal sum of $68,492.18, with interest thereon at 12% per annum from October 3, 1990 until satisfied, and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 15 day of April, 1991.

Real Estate

KHC has available below market rate financing

Kentucky Housing Corporation has $10 million in home loan financing for KHC-eligible homebuyers at interest rates ranging from 8.00% to 8.45% fixed. The home loans will have a term of 25 or 30 years and will be available on a first-come, first-served basis through participating financial institutions across the state.

Home loans are made to finance the purchase of existing properties (single-family dwellings that have been previously occupied) that cost $60,000 or less and new properties (single-family dwellings that have not been previously occupied) that cost $63,000 or less. All loans will carry either Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance or Veterans Administration guarantee and will require down payments of less than 5%.

These funds will allow more than 200 individuals and/or families to achieve homeownership, according to John C. Martinez, KHC executive director. "Homeownership is not only wanted, but needed by most Kentuckians. These funds are yet another example of KHC's sustained commitment to support Governor Wilkinson's desire to assist individuals and families in becoming homeowners."

If accumulating funds for the required down payment and closing costs associated with obtaining the loan are a problem, KHC offers a mortgage assistance program called EPIC - Equity Partners Investing in the Commonwealth. Under the EPIC program, homebuyers can borrow up to 60% of their down payment and closing costs (up to $3,000) at a 6% interest rate for a term of 7 years.

For more information on home loan financing or EPIC, please call KHC's homeownership department at (502) 564-7630, (800) 633-8896 (Kentucky only) or (800) 247-2510 (for hearing impaired only).
