The new members, three from Prestonsburg and three from Paintsville, were appointed Tuesday at Combs Field by Mayors Ann Latta and John David Preston. They include Ted Narin, Sam Isbell, Dr. David White, Scott Perry, J.K. Wells and Mike Schmit.

Expo will usher in holidays

by Scott Perry Times Editor

The Christmas season in downtown Prestonsburg will take on a decidedly different look this year if plans for a Main Street Expo come together.

Main Street program manager Henry Mayo told city council members Monday evening that the Expo was "the beginning of a whole new focus" for downtown and that the hoped-for results would be a "revitalization" of the city's central business district.

The Main Street Expo, Mayo explained, was devised to provide a continuous flow of shoppers and visitors to the downtown area through Six new members were appointed members taken their oaths of office than they were served with a lawsuit challenging the appointments. The complaint, filed by Paintsville attorney C.K. Belhasen, alleged that Latta and Preston were involved in "a conspiracy" to close the airstrip and to deprive a group known as the Floyd/ Johnson County Pilots' Association of its due process rights. Belhasen's suit contended that the new board appoitments were "illegal" because they had not been approved by the city councils in was expected to have received late Tuesday a temporary restraining order from Johnson Circuit Court blocking any actions by the new board.

Paintsville Mayor John David Preston countered Belhasen's claim, however, citing a state law which indicates members of joint city airport boards may be appointed jointly Paintsville and Prestonsburg, and he by the mayors of participating cities and without city council approval.

The new board's only official action during the brief meeting Tuesday included the election of officers with Ted Nairn chosen as chairman and J.K. Wells selected as secretary/ treasurer. Unofficially, the board asked that current financial statements and insurance policies be provided for review at the next meeting, set for 4 p.m. November 12 at Combs Field. Mayor Latta was also asked to obtain written commitments from state Transportation Cabinet Secretary Milo Bryant concerning Latta's recent meeting with Bryant. Latta said at Tuesday's meeting that Bryant had agreed to assist Paintsville and Prestonsburg in the pursuit of grants to pay off an estimated airport indebtedness of $250,000 that would become due if the airport was closed.

Latta also indicated Tuesday evening that she had discussed use of the airport site with a potential industrial client, indicating there was "a substantial possibility of creating new jobs" on the site. She offered no specifics on the interested company.

Conflict over the future of Combs Field arose recently when Belhasen addressed the Prestonsburg City Council with a plea that the airstrip not be closed and converted into a joint industrial site. Latta has indicated that state officials have endorsed the closure of the airport.

Two adults and one juvenile were arrested Monday in connection with a four-county theftring, Floyd County Chief Deputy Linzie Hunt said Tuesday.

Alvin "Tiger" Branham, 20, of Auxier was charged with theft by unlawful taking for allegedly taking a dirt bike belonging Lorrie Slone of David. The motorcycle was recovered by the sheriff's department.

Also arrested were Ronnie Spradlin of Prestonsburg and a 17-yearold Wayland juvenile, Hunt said. Other arrests are pending, he added.

The sheriff's department and Kentucky State Police have been investigating the theft of motorcycles, videocassette recorders, televisions and typewriters in Floyd, Johnson, Pike and Magoffin counties, Hunt said

"We've been investigating this ring for about a month," Hunt said Tuesday. "We expect to have several more arrests in the case. The ring has been operating in this area for about two and a half months.'

Forestry crews have been battling three major fires at Stephens Branch, Little Mud Creek and Stone Coal in Floyd County since Saturday. Approximately 350 acres have burned or are burning in the county, said Zondra Woods, a forestry department spokesperson.

National Guardsmen are expected to be involved in fighting the fires in the air by flying helicopters over the areas and dropping water, said Mike Molloy, executive director of the state's Disaster and Emergency Services. Molloy said that National Guardsmen would not be activated until the governor signs an emergency order.

Woods said that 78 fires have been reported in Floyd County since Friday and all are believed to be related to arson. A spotter plane used by the department was unable to fly over the area Monday and Tuesday due to heavy smoke.

Floyd County Commonwealth Attorney Jerry Patton has filed a motion in circuit court asking that a controversial court order be amended.

Patton has asked in his motion that a final court judgment in a case involving confessed drug trafficker James Dale Mosley be changed to correct what Patton called "a typographical error."

Patton said this week the final order indicated that Mosley had been handed a five-year probated sentence on charges of trafficking in cocaine "on the recommendation of the Commonwealth," but he said he made no such recommendation in the case.

"....In fact," Patton's motion said, "the Commonwealth clearly objected to the Defendant being probated in this case, both at the entry of the Defendant's guilty plea and when the Defendant was sentenced in this case.

Floyd community wins in nation's capital :

Harold to get FM radio frequency

by Susan Allen Staff Writer

A new FM radio frequency was approved for the Harold area by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in Washington, D.C. last week, beating out two requests to award it in Pike County.

Harold businessman Paul Gearheart on behalf of Inter-Mountain Broadcasting Company persuaded the FCC to allot the frequency in that community rather than in Belfry in Pike County. Ed Billips, d/b/a/ Belfry Broadcasting and Floyd County Broadcasting Company, licensee of station WMDJ in Martin, were pushing to have the additional frequency allocated for Belfry.

FCC's decision to allocate the frequency in Harold, however, does not give preference to Inter-Mountain for the channel, said Dan J. Alpert, a Washington attorney who specializes in representing and acquiring new broadcast stations.

Alpert said Friday that applications for the frequency will be taken by the FCC from December 10 until January 9, 1992.

"Realistically, nearly all applicants file on the very last day," Alpert said, "At the present time, there are no applicants for the frequency."

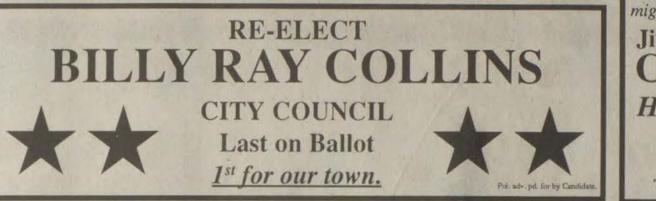

Alpert explained that after the filing deadline has passed, applications will be designated for a comparative hearing before an FCC Administrative Law Judge and only one applicant will be chosen.

Belfry which can be used to serve Belfry without unacceptable shadowing. The statement alleged that a tower of 1,000 feet in height would not be enough to overcome severe diffraction losses at Belfry.

FCC officers decided that Harold showed a population of 600 and that it need not provide every public service, such as police, fire protection, water and electricity services on its own in order to merit community status.

"We believe the public interest would be served by allotting Channel 285A to Harold, Kentucky, as that community's first local service," the report said.

The frequency would be located at 104.9 on the FM dial.

Preference is given to applicants who do not own any other broadcast interests; and whose owners promise to actually work at the proposed station once it is constructed and is operational.

For owners who will work at the station, additional preferences are given to owners who are members of minority groups; are female; who have past broadcasting experience; are local residents; and who are involved in civic activities.

In the FCC report, Belfry Broadcasting and Floyd County Broadcasting Co. argued that Belfry should receive the frequency because of its population; because the county's largest high school is located there; and that several Pike County government agencies were located in that town. The two companies contended that Harold was not a community; it. doesn'thave a government of its own: and it lacks any governmental services.

Inter-Mountain countered that Harold is growing at a rapid rate; it lists 50 businesses in the community; and it has its own post office, elementary school, and four churches.

Inter-Mountain's proposal also said that no transmitter site exists in

Over the past few weeks we have discussed the issues in the race for Circuit Judge. We have talked about the importance of the office and how it touches each of our lives in different ways. I have urged each of you to seriously consider the qualifications of each candidate, before casting your vote. Don't be led by political machines, by hollow promises or threats from influential people. Do The Right Thing! Make your vote an independent choice based on what you believe best for our county.

I promise to treat all the people of Floyd County with compassion. I promise that when I am elected, I will serve the full 8 year term of office, then if the people are satisfied, I will seek another term, since this has been my life-long ambition. This is not something I'm seeking as just another feather in my crown, because I've held a lot of other political offices.

There are 2 things left for the good people of Floyd County to do. The first is please go vote. In May, only 1 out of 3 registered voters cast their vote in Floyd County. We are letting a minority of our friends control our government.

The second request is to do the right thing when you are in the voting booth with the curtain closed. Elect the person who is qualified and best able to handle the difficult and important job of Circuit Judge.

McConnell's Comments by Sen. Mitch McConnell

Confirmation of Judge Clarence Thomas

word this last week as Americans viewed the spectacle that was the confirmation of Judge Clarence Thomas as an Associate Justice to the Supreme Court of the United States. An already scandalous confirmation process became a circus after confidential FBI documents concerning sexual harassment were leaked to the media.

Despite the tortuous, marathon Judiciary Committee hearings to hear testimony over the sexual charge, the Senate voted on Tuesday to confirm Clarence Thomas. I voted in favor of Judge Thomas. The 52-48 vote, though not resounding, was a clear victory for those who value the fundamental right of all Americans to due process.

In America, people - even Supreme Court nominees - are innocent until proven guilty. Denying Judge Thomas's confirmation based on an unproven allegation would be a dangerous precedent and contrary to established American principles of justice. Keeping this in mind, I carefully followed the latest hearings.

I believe Clarence Thomas. The charges leveled against him were not consistent with the Clarence Thomas the Senate had voted to confirm to high office on four previous occasions.

In reaching this decision, I took into account the latest hearings, earlier testimony of 100 witnesses, and the 36,000 pages of documents which have been provided during the course of this nomination process. I supported Judge Thomas because of his professional qualifications, his distinguished record, his ethical propriety, and his sound judicial tempera-

Outrage. That was the operative issue. Sexual harassment is deplorable, destructive, and illegal. That is why I adopted for my office a strict policy against sexual harassment, recommended by the Capitol Hill Women's Political Caucus, long before it became fashionable to do

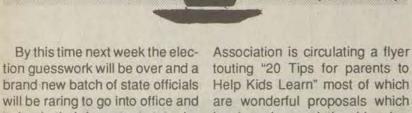

> It is important to note the chaos which surrounded the Thomas nomination from the very beginning, and particularly in the last week. From the outset, certain special interest groups vowed to "Bork" him. They set the adversarial tone of these proceedings and it was appalling. The release by Senate staff of confidential documents to the press describing the sexual harassment charge was the culmination of this concerted effort to discredit and destroy Judge Clarence Thomas - at any cost.

Americans understandably viewed this spectacle with a profound sense of disgust. These highly unethical, and possibly illegal, leaks to the media must not go unpunished. Such scurrilous behavior has forever tarnished the reputation of at least two people. Further, it threatens the integrity of the entire nomination process, and the judiciary system.

Whoever leaked the confidential FBI documents established a dangerous precedent in which anonymous character assassination can be an effective means of short-circuiting the nomination process. As a result, I introduced legislation which will hold the executive and legislative branches to the same standard as the general public, This legislation would make it a criminal offense to unlawfully disclose an FBI background report and could result in a prison term and substantial fines to anyone

On behalf of the Floyd County Education Association, I would like to express our appreciation to the, County Attorney's office and especially to County Attorney Jim Hammond and his assistant Dan Rowland for the manner in which they handled the case of Gwen Hammonds, the teacher from Adams Middle School whose case was heard last week in court. Mr. Hammond and Mr. Rowland took the responsibilities of their office seriously and brought the case to trial in a timely fashion, and our association appreciates both of those facts. Thank you for a job well-done.

We also want to express our appreciation to the other members of the attorney's office who worked with the case. All of the staff members who were involved with Mrs. Hammonds' case treated her charge with the seriousness that we think it deserved. There never seemed to be any question on the part of the attorney's office that the case would be tried or that everyone in the office was committed to the case. Report to Kentucky by Senator Wendell Ford

JOBLESS KENTUCKIANS STILL NEED

UNEMPLOYMENT BILL "It's a recession when your neighbor loses his job, but it's a depression when you lose yours." With the Kentucky unemployment rate having reached 7.7 percent in a continuing recession, approximately 200,000 Kentuckians know exactly what Harry Truman meant when he made that statement many years ago.

They are among more than 10 million Americans, counting discouraged workers not officially listed as unemployed, who are now without jobs in this recession. The ranks of the unemployed continue to grow by more than 200,000 a month.

Many of these struggling Americans recently suffered yet another setback when the President vetoed our latest unemployment bill and the Senate fell two votes short of the twothirds majority needed to override this unfortunate action.

This vote was especially disappointing in view of one simple fact: Our federal government is sitting on an $8 billion surplus in a trust fund created exclusively to assist hardworking Americans who have lost jobs through no fault of their own.

Our bill would have provided this sorely needed assistance. It offered up to 20 weeks of extended benefits for more than three million Americans who have already exhausted regular unemployment benefits in this recession.

The current trust-fund surplus is more than enough to meet this need -a need very similar to those met by Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy, Nixon and Ford in previous recessions

We have created an unemployment safety net, and I believe that we are going back on a promise by pulling this net out from under millions of struggling families when they need it most.

We can't meet any of our domestic obligations by turning away from unemployed Americans while offering billions of dollars worth of emergency assistance to Egypt, Turkey, Kuwait and other nations around the world.

Determined Americans have always found a way to overcome our problems in a changing world - and we will overcome the problems we face today.

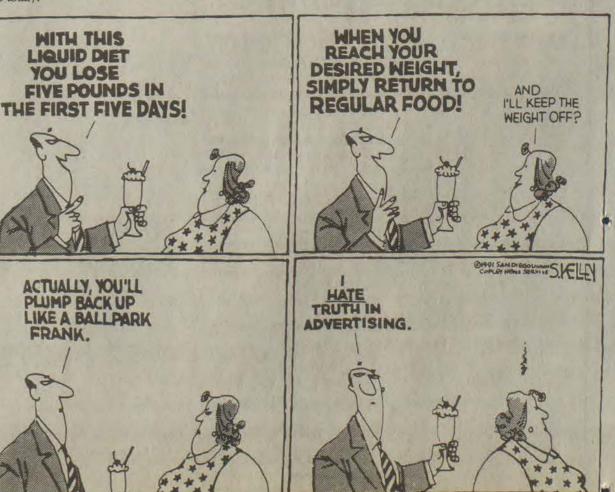

But we won't do it by using our unemployment trust fund to hide the true size of the federal budget deficit. We won't do it by withholding economic remedies when median household income in this nation is actually falling for the first time since 1982.

We won't end this recession with policies virtually ensuring that millions of job-seeking families will be unable to meet mortgage payments or make the most essential purchases during this difficult period in our national life.

We don't need to make economic scapegoats of the unemployed. We need to work together for far-sighted and fair-minded economic policies, including a sound unemployment bill, and we need to do it now.

It is time for a national dialogue on the economic policies of this nation, and I urge all Kentuckians to make their voices heard with regard to unemployment insurance and other issues of vital importance to all Americans.

Bumps in the Night

Allen, Kentucky

The things that go bump in the night are here again. I sit on my bed, my shirt damp from sweat, and listen to their symphony. It begins with the squeaks, faint, barely audible. They grow louder, and fade, only to be renewed. Next, a low rattle that seems to begin below and then moves slowly up the stairs. I keep my gaze fixed on the tiredlooking gray wall. Groans emanate from it, as if it were in pain. I wince and clinch my fists. As the groans continue, the thumps begin behind the other walls. I try to remember the last peaceful night, weeks-months, ago.

The house wasn't much, run down, dirty-but I didn't need much. A place where I could be alone, where there was a roof. where I could brood in solitude-that was enough. The sounds were subtle at first. House sounds, I thought. Then the thumping and groans began. I searched the house, delved into every room, looked in every corner. I told myself it was nerves, no more. But when the sounds started to fill the entire night, I could no longer suppress the panic and desperation welling up within me.

The sounds have reached a crescendo of cacophony. I can bear it no longer. Springing from my bed, I scream, I pound the walls. The sounds are impossibly loud, wailing, screeching. I dash through the door. At the head of the stairs I fall, tumbling into blackness.

When I awake, I am at the foot of the stairs. It is still dark. My head is lightsomething is different. What? Then I realize-the sounds have stopped. As I begin to return up the stairs though, I hear low voices. Sounds! Again!

I dash to my room. In my bed are a man and a woman. No-not my bed, different. I whip my head around. Clean, recently painted, newly furnished. What's happened? How long was I unconscious? I speak to the couple, but they don't hear me. I speak again, louder, and again, until I am screaming. I stomp on the floor and pound the walls with my fists.

"That thumping!" says the woman.

"Probably rats," replies the man. "Damn realtor. The place was supposed to have been cleaned out."

"Yeah, what was it he said-they'd redone everything after they found that man who lived here-"

"Oh, that's some kind of malarkey, some tale. He did say it was pest free, though "

I don't hear the rest. I am screaming.

Here they are, the winners of the Times' Things That Go Bump In The Night contest.

First place goes to Harry Craft, of Allen; second place to Tamara Bolen Shepherd, of David; and third place is a tie between Mary Blankenship Young, of Langley, and Lisa A. Hinkle, of Harold.

Lots of talented folks entered our story writing contest, but only a few could win.

We'll put your talents to the test again, soon. Keep writing!

The things that go bump in the night never bothered John much. It was the voice that he heard in the hallway outside his door that made his blood chill. He knew that tonight would be no different. The voice was there every night, calling

"God, why did you let it rain?" out his name. John asked with a tremble in his voice. "Tonight of all nights!"

John cursed the storm that deepened his fear and caused the electricity to fail. He began to

The Wrong Road Home

The things that go bump in the night aren't always what they seem. Bill and I were driving home late after snacks and drinks at a close friend's house. In order to avoid police check points, we opted for a longer, less traveled route. The last summery days of October had been replaced with crisp northern air and a slow drizzle. Through the fog of the windshield and the beat of the wipers, we both noticed a bundle laying straight ahead. At almost the same time, the tires of Bill's pickup traveled over the bump and not too softly. He braked and wanted to check out the object, but I reminded him of our location, the a patallon of some local vandals, and the next day was Halloween. Since he also knew of past incidents, we again began our journey. "But, Marcie, I thought it moved," Bill said. "Hon, I thought I was the one who had too much to drink. Should I drive?" I questioned. No reply.

Within seconds, we rounded a curve and were startled by two raincoat hooded figures brandishing flashlights. We drove on by and were silently relieved that flashlight beams had been the only things thrown upon us.

Life went on as usual, till the next morning. Bill had finished his cereal and was reaching for his second cup of coffee as he scanned the daily paper "Oh, no, it can't be," he spoke into the air. His face had turned ashen. Before I could ask. "What is it?", he had bolted from the table. I turned my attention to the paper sprawled across his crumpled napkin. I read the headline "Mangled Body of Boy Found on Rural

My head reeled as I heard the sound of Bill's vomit in the nearby bathroom. Forcing myself to read on, I saw "six years old," "no apparent motive," "no suspects, but an unidentified source says that witnesses have given a description of a vehicle." I realized that I had crouched in the floor. "Yes, stillness and watching the candles slowly burn down. His hand held a firm grip on the bat and his heart had faith in his granny's words. At midnight John began to feel strange. Coldness swept through the room and hung onto his skin like the death that sucked all the air out of humans. He knew that he was not alone. There was a presence that filled the air around "JOHNNY, WHERE ARE YOU?" a voice drawled out. him John held his breath. The light

Even though John knew that the baseball bat wouldn't stand a chance against the supernatural, having it close by helped ease the scare of the unknown. "All I can do now is wait and pray," John said to the stillness of the tiny bedroom. He sat in the rocking chair, listening to the

What had his granny said to say when faced with a form of evil? "Father, Son and Holy Ghost!" John should. The form never stopped! What was he supposed to "What in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost are you doing here?" John blurted out, feeling relieved when the creature stopped and hovered in midair. It was like his Granny had said! John began to smile ... a smile that abruptly faded when the hideous creature said...."I CAME TO GET YOU JOHNNY!"

Evil of Darkness

Lisa A. Hinkle Harold, Kentucky

Things that go bump in the night and cast shadows on the walls are real. Howling and screeching creatures come out in the ebony darkness and search for souls to torture. Their power increases on the first night of the full moon.

As the moon slowly creeps its way into the starless sky, tormented creatures rattle and clang their way across the earth.

Allison had just turned out the bedroom light and she walked to the bed and took off her robe before folding back the blanket. She laid down on the soft bed just as a huge burst of wind rattled the window. Suddenly the wind began to howl and torrid rain slashed the darkness. Allison groaned, she hated storms at night. As she lay in bed shivering, the window shattered and flying glass seemed to attack her. She screamed as razor sharp glass pierced her skin. Allison didn't see the dark shadows that entered through the jagged glass in the window. She frantically dug at the glass in her face when a shrieking cold hand touched her. Allison looked up and found herself staring into yellow glowing eyes. The inhuman face with long fangs grinned until its stretched leathery skin looked about to tear.

"Have you ever wondered how evil enters the world?" the beast asked.

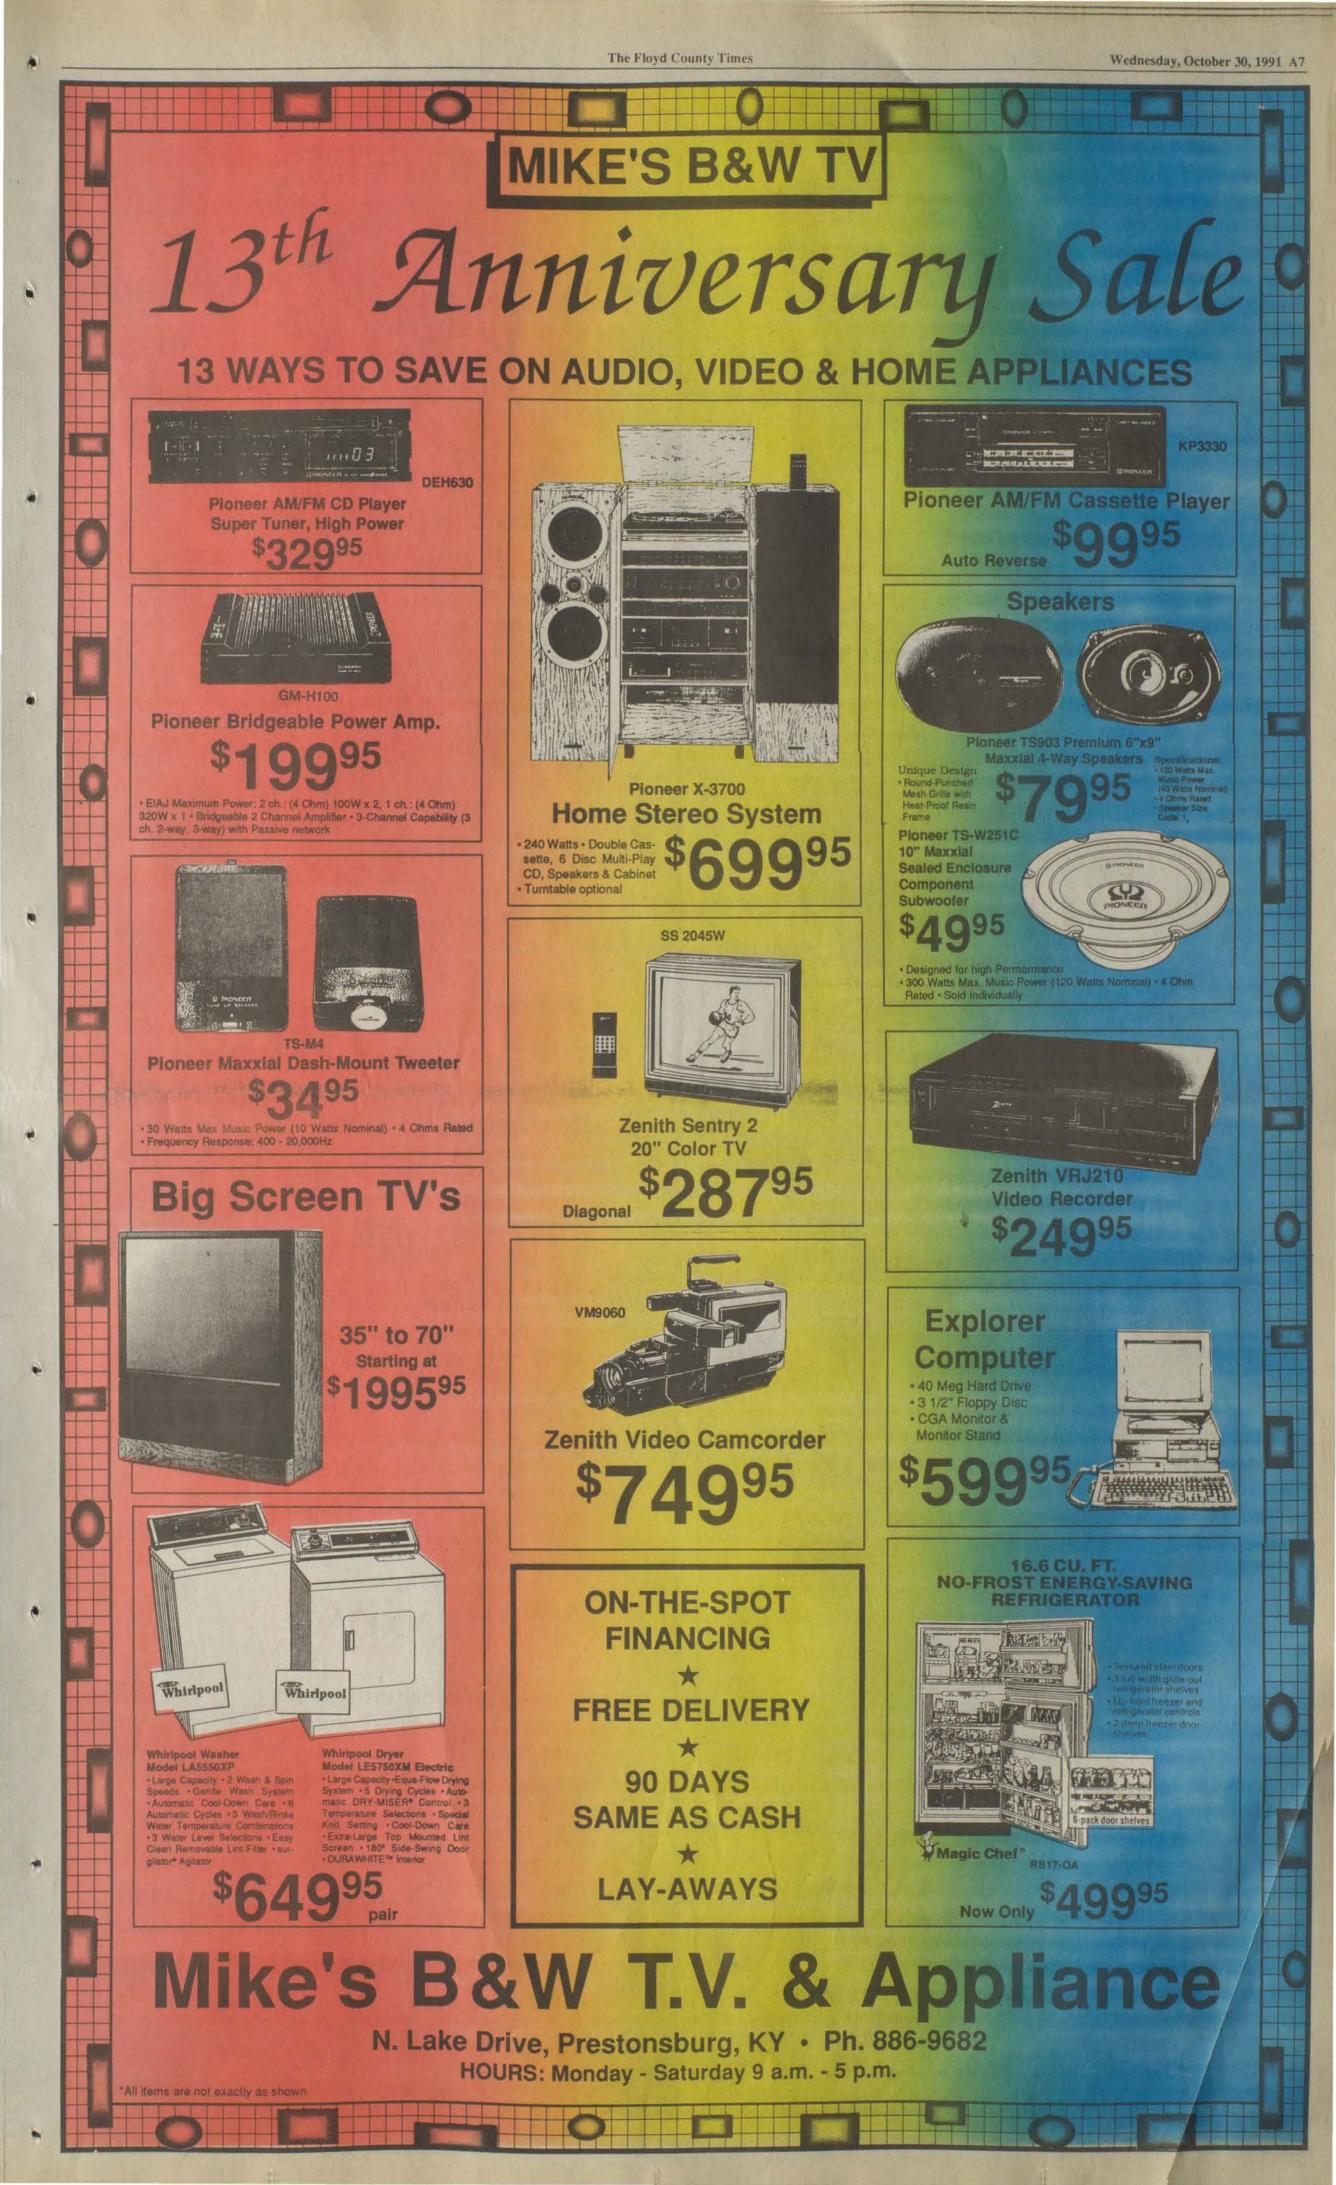

Allison closed her eyes and repeatedly shook her head. In her mindless confusion and fear, a collective thought surfaced, "This is just a nightmare! It isn't real!!"

A putrid odor emitted from the nightmare beast as it spoke again, "People invite us in through their thoughts. Dark ugly thoughts." It laughed.

Allison tolled her eyes, looking for an escape. Then she saw the others standing around her bed waiting.

Her body suffered then jerked convulsively as the beast sank its fangs into her neck and punctured the artery.

Allison's last lucid thought was revenge. The beasts of evil laughed and feasted.

R.I.F

Reading Is Fundamental, a government funded reading program, held its first distribution of the 1991-92 school year recently at Prestonsburg Elementary School. On Wednesday and Thursday, October 15th and 16th, R.I.F volunteers reported to the Elementary School library to assist in helping students make their selections. Each student is given the opportunity to view books covering many different subjects and select one book each that they can keep. The government provides the majority of funding for the purchase of these books with the PTA and local civic groups donating money to complete the cost. This year marks Prestonsburg Elementary's 8th consecutive year to be involved with the R.I.F. program.

The Floyd County Times

Look At Sports by Ed Taylor Sports Editor

IT'S GOING TO BE A TOUGH CONFERENCE...

When you sit down and analyze the upcoming basketball season and see those who are returning and the players that have departed you see some teams having to reload and others to expect good seasons.

Floyd County basketball should move up a notch this year as far as competing in the 15th Region something they did not do too well last year.

How will the conference race go? I have had a time with this, and I can't remember how many times I have changed my mind. I have been asked this countless times since I first mentioned that I would print my predictions in today's column. I thought at first that I might just declare a five way tie for first place, but that will not happen. Again, it may not happen the way I pick them either. Last year I had four out of five correct - but this year will be more difficult. PRESTONSBURG BLACKCATS

Have to be considered the number one pick in the Floyd County Conference this year. A strong inside and much improved player in Chris Burke will make the Blackcats hard to handle in the middle. John Clark, Aaron Tucker and Jason Crisp can fill it up from outside. Dependable sophomore Corey Reitz will see a lot of playing time for Coach Gordon Parido's team as well as the inside play of James Derossett. A good bench will be a plus for the Blackcats.

MCDOWELL DAREDEVILS Coach Johnny Ray Turner returns some very promising juniors as well as a couple of seniors. Transfer senior guard Chuck

The Na-Combs missed the Elkhorn City game Betsy Layne was penalized 90 yards vajos were intercepted three times time as they controlled the football as the Bobcats played their second game this week. The result: a 56-0 shutout at the hands of the Navajos of M. C. Napier Friday night at Hazard. Betsy Layne (1-8) has had a disappointing season as they have tried to go with young and untested players. While there were not many bright spots for the Bobcats, backup quarterback Adam Roberts looked impressive in some areas. Roberts passed for 111 yards against the Navajos' defense, completing 11 of 24 passes. Roberts was intercepted three times. Roberts, just a sophomore, has been filling in for the injured Combs. "Adam did a great job for us," explained Bobcat coach Gerald Newsome. "He got nailed a few times out there, but he's a tough kid and he did alright." On the ground, Betsy Layne managed just 72 yards on 39 carries for a total offense of 183 yards. James yards. The Navajos had a total ground passing, Napier managed just 20 yards on two of eight pass attempts to a the Cardinals.

Tucker passed for 207 yards, unofficially, as Prestonsburg collected 407 total yardage. The Blackcats rushed for 200 yards on 38 carries in the game,

It was a 35-yard completion pass to tight end James Derossett, with 1:52 left in the game, on an option play that saved the game for Prestonsburg. Tucker had been going to John Thomas Clark all night and for good yardage. Clark had five receptions in the game for 133 yards and the Pirates were trying to cover the split end. On the option, trailing 22-21, Tucker found Derossett all alone up the middle and threw a perfect strike to the big end as he lumbered his way into the end zone. Dwayne Garza ran the two point conversion to put the Prestonsburg squad in front 29-22.

"We had been going to John (Clark) most of the night and we figured that Morgan County would have him covered," explained Derossett of his catch. "So, it was an option play where Aaron could have gone either to John or myself. They had coverage on John and that left me open." Derossett was quick to point out it was the blocking of the offensive line that created the play. "David Thacker and others did a great job for us.'

Hung heads were noticeable among the Prestonsburg faithful who traveled to West Liberty for the top district match up. Morgan County trailed Prestonsburg 21-16 entering the final quarter and Prestonsburg with the football. The Cats had just picked up a first down on a 5 yard run by Tucker moving the football to the Morgan County 19 yard line. On first play from scrimmage, Garza fumbled the football and Morgan County recovered on their own 25 yard line with 11:25 left in the all important game to both clubs.

Morgan County used up a lot of for seven minutes and forly-three seconds scoring with 3:42 left in the game. Morgan County quarterback Chalmer Adams scored on a keeper from 1 yard out to put the host team up by one point, 22-21 Morgan County tried to kick the ball to the sidelines on the ensuing kick off to the Blackcats. However, the ball did not travel the required yardage and a 5 yard penalty was tacked on the second try. The second kick wasn't any better as the ball went out of bounds on the 50 yard line. Prestonsburg, figuring they couldn't get any better field position. elected to decline the penalty and take over the football at midfield. Fullback John Goble carried for a 5 yard pickup moving the ball to the 45. Tucker connected with Josh Hyden for a 10 yard gainer placing the football on the Morgan County 35 yard line. Garza moved to the 30 with a 5 yard pick up but an offside call against the Blackcats moved the ball back to the 35 yard line for a second-and-ten play. On the option play Tucker hit Derossett with the game winning pass.

Morgan County had amble time to move the football upfield as they took over on their own 42 yard with 1:55 left in the game. But it was the Blackcats' defense that rose to the occasion in the final 1:55 as Morgan County, who did manage to get into Prestonsburg territory, had to turn the ball over to Prestonsburg on downs.

"We kept our poise," said Blackcat mentor Coach Letton. "We came fighting back and never quit. We had run the play (game winning play) three times in the game with Clark. We had an option of whom to throw the pass to and James was open."

Letton said that his ball club was still giving up the big plays to the opposition, something they need to improve on. Coach Letton in comparing his team's improved play in the second half of the season as compared to the first half when they struggled early, was a "matter of coming together as a ball club, getting some experience and maturing."

"We have several sophomores on this club that has matured for us. Dwayne (Garza), Brian (Elliot) and Hyden (Seth) all have improved. James Derossett certainly has improved at the end position after having been a lineman most of the time. I feel that we are getting better each week ,and we have been fortunate. We just hope that we continue to do that.

Prestonsburg took a 7-0 first quarter lead on a 4 yard run by Tucker in a drive from the Morgan County 48

Lafferty will definitely help the Daredevils this season if he can adjust. Reports have it that he has made a good adjustment. Inside man Dale Hinkle has always been one of my favorite player with his hustle and attitude. Dougie Hopkins will run the team at point guard, but Hopkins will have to score more for them this year than last. Barry Hall and returning Mike Duddleson, Duddleson can be one of the regions top players if he just puts his talent on the floor each night out. Matt Johnson, 6-2, will also be back for his senior year. A very good bench in players of the caliber of Earl Cook and Scotty Stanley.

ALLEN CENTRAL REBELS

Very definitely a conference contender and perhaps number three is too low. Only time will tell. The Rebels will be one of the toughest opponents that any team will face this year. But the Rebels have already experienced the loss of a player before the season gets underway. Chuck Lafferty opted to play his senior year at McDowell. Stewart Hall is out with a broken wrist and will be lost for the next five weeks thus hampering his getting in shape. Coach Martin will have to look to Tony Soler, who was last season's pleasant surprises for the Rebels. The 6-2 Soler can just about leap out of the gym. Also, Todd Lucas will really have to put the treys this year.

Newcomer, Jason "The Snake" Patton will see a lot of playing time for the Rebels as will last year's eighth grade sensation, Jeremy Hall. Larry Patton, Carl Watkins and super soph Jeremy Clark will see a lot of time on the court for Coach Martin's team. Bench strength for Allen Central will be a question mark. BETSY LAYNE BOBCATS

I know that they were hit hard by graduation last year, losing their first six players. Any team would have a hard time replacing the likes of Adam Gearheart, Phillip King, and Chris Newsome, but if anyone can, Betsy Lavne Coach Junior Newsome can. As long as the Bobcats have a Junior Newsome coaching, we can rest assured that the Bobcats will be a

The Bobcats' defense was good in the first quarter holding the Navajos to a touchdown and conversion in the first period. Steve Dixon, who had three TD's in the game, ran the first one from six yards out, and Dixon also added the two-point conversion for a 8-0 Napier lead. Dixon also had runs of 39 and 87 yards for scores for Napier. The fleet-footed Dixon rushed passed the 1000-yard rushing mark for this season.

The way the kid ran in that game, he could have gotten 2000 against us," stated Newsome. "He certainly played a good game." Dixon had 160 yards on six carries for Napier. Sam Mullins got over the 100 mark with 135 yards on seven carries, and Larry Begley carried seven times for 60 and had no lost fumbles.

On one series of plays, Dixon took a hand off on his own 7-yard line and raced to the Betsy Layne 1 where he was brought down.

Shannon Reynolds had a 17-yard reception for Betsy Layne that he turned into a 43-yard run. Randy Woods had three receptions against the Navajo's for 21 yards, and Mike Damron caught one pass for 22 yards.

The Bobcats were having to play without the services of Ashley Tackett, who has been injured. Tackett has been one of the main plugs in the Bobcats' defense. Chad Wilson also missed the trip to Napier.

On the defensive side of the football, Newsome said that Brian Bowling had a very good defensive outing. "To show you how much they were penetrating on us, Brian played at the yard line that took five plays. Tucker hit Clark with a 35 yard pass completion to begin the drive.

Morgan County made it an 8-7 game when Derrick Finch carried the ball into the end zone from 8 yards out and Mike Perry added the twopoint conversion. The drive began on the Morgan County 29 yard line and totaled 71 yards on seven plays.

Prestonsburg took a 13-8 halftime lead to the locker room with them on Leslie County claimed a 21-0 lead after the first quarter and held a half time lead of 41-0 as the Rebels defense continued to give up a lot of points.

Rebel quarterback, freshman Brad Blackburn, gathered most of the yard-

Defensively, Scott Bellamy recovered one Leslie County fumble while Gilliam covered two. Bellemy and Howard had three solo hits and Howard had one assist. Sexton, Chris Robinson and Shawn Bailey each had one hit.

For Leslie County, they collected 10 first downs and totaled 511 yards on offense. They rushed for 382 yards on 22 carries and gathered 129 yards passing in a seven-of-nine night. Leslie lost the football on three fumbles and were penalized twice for 25 yards.

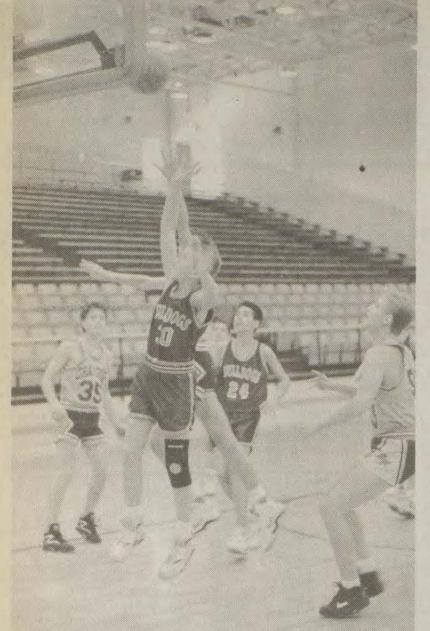

The Rebels will close out their season this Friday when they travel to Phelps. Coach Jamerson stated that he plans to begin his weight lifting program a week after the regular season ends:

The Rebels held Leslie County scoreless in the third quarter, the first time the Rebels have been able to do that this season.

It just wasn't supposed to be. Auxier was not supposed to beat Adams. Well, not according to past history between the two Floyd County grade schools. Auxier has never beaten Adams. Even when they were the Prestonsburg Grade School Blackcats, Auxier had never beaten them - that is until last Thursday night at Auxier. Before a packed house. Final: Auxier 45, Adams 44. The Hornets surprised the defending county champions.

However, the Blackcats had a chance to pull out the win as they had the final shot at the hoop, even if it was a desperation shot. William Marsillett heaved the ball toward the Adams goal with three seconds left. The ball hit the rim and rolled off, much to the joy of the Auxier faithful.

"It was a good basketball game," said Auxier coach Ashland Gearheart, who was the last Prestonsburg coach before Adams school opened. "It is the first time Auxier has beaten Adams or Prestonsburg."

According to Gearheart, Auxier found something to celebrate. "They went wild," he said. "The place was full, and they were even standing outside."

Maytown Survives Foul-Plagued Game With 48-46 Win Over Harold

What a wild one at Maytown Monday night! Over 60 personal fouls were called. Maytown shot 42 free throws and the Harold Red Devils attempted 40. Technical fouls were the order of the day as the crowd at Maytown really got into the game.

"We are a very poor free throw shooting team," said Maytown coach Rick Hancock whose Wildcats connected on only 12 of 42 attempts. "We were pathetic at the free throw line. If we had made our free throws, we would have won by a larger margin.'

Harold did a little better than Maytown by connecting on 25 of 40 attempts thus keeping them from being blown out.

'There was certainly a lot going on in that game," continued the Maytown mentor. "The crowd went wild and got all excited."

Maytown was whistled for 31 personal fouls and Harold was called for 32. "I went over and asked the referee what I could do to keep my kids from fouling so much and what could I say to them," said Hancock, "and he went and called a technical foul on me for that. The Harold bench had two technicals. It was wild."

McDowell Comes From Behind To Defeat Osborne, 45-37

Seventh grader Chris Moore scored 12 points to lead a McDowell comeback and help the Daredevils to post their fifth win of the season with a 45-37 victory over the Eagles of Osborne Elementary.

"We're used to playing from behind," said McDowell coach John Moore. McDowell has found themselves on the short end of the score in most of the games they have played this season, only to mount a comeback in the second half.

This game was no different as the Daredevils trailed 18-16 to the taller Eagles. But it was a late third quarter charge, led by Moore, that put the Daredevils on top by one, 31-30, at the third stop. McDowell outscored Osborne 14-7 in the final quarter.

T.T. Pack had nine points for McDowell and Nick Little tossed in eight points. Bryan Adams scored six. Mike Stevens and Mike Vance rounded out the balanced scoring attack of McDowell with five points each Don Tackett, who is going to be a good one, had 12 points and Aaron Hall added 11. Daniel Hatfield scored seven points for the Eagles. Kyle Akers and Chris Hall had four and three points respectively.

Osborne will play at the Mountain Christian Academy on Thursday, November 7, and McDowell will travel to Betsy Layne Monday, November 4.

A Look At Sports

competitive team in the conference. Betsy Lavne may find it hard to enter the top spot this year after winning it all last season, but the Bobcats will be competitive and have something to say about how the race goes.

A very talented group of sophomores will emerge this year to be groomed for the years ahead. By tournament time they will be one of the best young units around. Barry Clark, Chris Potter, Brian Hunter, Jason Newsome and everyone's favorite, Derrick Newsome, will form a very talented Betsy Layne basketball team.

Shawn Wallen, Jody Coleman, Doug Hammond and Jonathan Tackett will be returning for Betsy Layne. Only Wallen and Coleman saw much playing time last year for the Bobcats. Young, yes, but competitive before season's end.

WHEELWRIGHT TROJANS

With Paul Hall, could have been a much higher ranked team and still may be. I don't really know. I know the talent is there if new coach Jackie Pack can put it all together. The Trojans have one of the top three regional players on their side in Harold Johnson. A boat load of talent in one individual but don't look for Johnson to carry all the load this year. Also returning is a very talented Layne Bailey who can hit the jumper from the 19' 9" line. A good heads up player and I like his attitude. Also returning will be Mike Newsome, who I understand has put on some weight. If so, he will definitely be a help underneath to the Trojans. Dependable Jimmy Helton will also return. Jimmy is always willing to give all he can for the good of the team, and this year he may be called on to do more. Paul Hall, an academic causality, will be a big loss for Wheelwright.

I look for the Trojans to be a more up tempo team than last season. The problems with Wheelwright last year was that they lost so many close games in the fourth quarter.

My predictions are just based on those who are returning this coming year. Things could change with the unexpected play of certain players. Regardless how it all ends up, it should be a great high school basketball year. WORK STARTED AT ALLEN CENTRAL..

The work has already begun at Allen Central as workers are busy getting the Allen Central gym ready for their new wooden floor. It will be a welcome sight for the players at Allen Central. The old type floor they have now causes a lot of shin splints. Completion is schedule in about five

WHAT DO YOU PAY?

Do you enjoy some form of wildlife-related recreation in Kentucky? Are you an angler? Hunter? Birder? Hiker? Outdoor photographer? Wildlife watcher?

If you enjoy one or several of these outdoor pursuits, you belong to the majority. Seventy-five percent of all Kentuckians participate in some form of outdoor recreation related to wildlife.

But do you know who pays for wildlife recreational opportunities in the commonwealth?

Anglers and hunters know.

They pay The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, which is charged with protecting and conserving the commonwealth's wildlife resources for sport, recreation, food and commerce, gets its revenue to carry out this mandate primarily from sportsmen who purchase hunting and fishing licenses. Sportsmen, however, represent only one-third of Kentucky's wildlife-resource users.

This means the minority pays for wildlife recreation the majority enjoys.

What do you pay?

Kentucky's fish and wildlife department, which receives no general fund tax dollars, is concerned with much more than fish and game. It carries out work with endangered and threatened species and other wildlife not hunted or fished, in addition to its more familiar stocking and restoration programs. The department manages 60 public wildlife areas for everyone to enjoy. And the agency routinely offers, at no cost to users, numerous informational publications, technical guidance on pond management and developing wildlife habitat areas as well as provides knowledgeable personnel to speak to conservation clubs and other organizations.

Educating Kentuckians about

Kentucky's wildlife has been an IT COSTS YOU NOTHING important department effort since the late 1940s. Currently. more than 100,00 fifth and sixth graders learn conservation ethics and practices each year through the department's conservation education program in schools across the state. Each summer three conservation camps are filled to capacity with 6,500 youngsters who have opportunities to participate in nature studies and gain skills in fishing, casting, swimming, safe boating, first aid and archery and firearms safety.

These represent only a few of the programs and services provided year after year by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources-programs and services which benefit all Kentuckians but are financed solely by anglers and hunt-

Evert Windland Jr. At the previous week's competition, the Showmen took second place in Class A-1 at Boyle County. Did you know deer check station operators are volunteers?

Each year, thousands of harvested Kentucky whitetails are checked by volunteers who aren't paid a penny for their services. During this November alone, hunters will bring about 60,000 deer to official deer check stations where volunteers fill out game check cards, one for each animal.

These volunteers obviously play a vital role in helping the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources keep track of what's happening with the state's deer herd -at no cost to the department or sportsmen.

Many volunteers run deer check stations from small businesses they own such as mini-marts, filling stations, rural grocery stores, "mom & pop" shops and sporting goods outlets. And good business calls for putting customers first. So, if you have to wait your turn to have your daylight. deer checked because the owner is waiting on customers, be patient. All you're out is a little time.

Remember, a hearty "thank you" is always welcome and purchasing items from the business helps the owner to continue offering that location as a deer check station.

SCOUTING FOR DEER Experienced deer hunters know preseason scouting pays off.

Being in the right place at the right time rarely happens by chance. It takes planning and effort to successfully (and legally) harvest a whitetail, even though Kentucky has plenty of the animals.

One of the first things a deer hunter needs to do, besides boning up on hunting regulations, is contact landowners and get permission not only for hunting but for scouting that land several times before the hunting season opens. If the locations are near your home, so much the better, because you'll be able to go more often and spend more time on them.

Since deer are most active early and late in the day, you're probably planning to hunt during those times. And logically, that's when you'll do most of your preseason scouting. (Let's make sure we know what 'preseason" means. Deer tend to change feeding and traveling patterns seasonally, so it's a good idea to begin your scouting activities about four weeks before the season opens or no more than a month before you plan to hunt.)

By Russ Kennedy

If you visit your hunting territory often and keep a record of findings, you'll be able to come up with a pattern of daily routes the deer are using.

Making a map of the area and including the observation information you've collected will help you select the best spots for deer stands. Yes, that's plural. Stands suitable for early morning hunting may not be worth climbing into late in the day if the deer aren't there. Also, choosing several stand locations provides a selection of hunting sites if the wind changes in an unfavorable direction. Deer have extremely sensitive noses capable of picking up alarming human scents from great distances. Hunting from stands where the wind blows in the opposite direction deer are expected to approach is an important key to success.

Mapping your route to your stands, noting landmarks along the way, will aid you in finding those spots before

If you're new to the sport and haven't gotten around to scouting activities, you'd better get going.

If the air conditioning were turned off in the Houston Astrodome, the entrance of warm humid air could cause it to rain in the stadium.

to six weeks. WHY NOT THE THREE-POINTER IN GRADE SCHOOL ...

If a high school coach wants his players to be able to hit the threepoint shot, then why not let them shoot it in grade school. Here, in Floyd County, the three-point shot is not allowed. That is silly! Hey, let them cut loose with a trey attempt if they can make it. It would add a lot more excitement to the grade school game.

Surrounding counties allow the three-point attempt. And you can tell it when they move to high school basketball.

DO AWAY WITH IT ...

Have you gone to the ball games and purchased a good old popcorn only to have them give it to you in a pointed cup that would make a nice party hat after you are finished with it. I don't like them because if you have a drink in one hand and the popcorn in the other, you cannot set the cup of popcorn down. You have to continually hold it. Bert Layne, get some bags for your popcorn this year at Allen Central, even if you have to use Avon bags.

Well, I've said a lot this week. Until Friday, when I will have more to say, good sports everyone and go out and support your grade school team.

from Saint Xavier High School. The Auxiliary or Flag Corps, is a young group, consisting of seventh graders, BreAnna Patton and Devin Ferguson, and ninth grader Sabrina VanHoose. Their instructor is Tammy Sammons.

On their return to Paintsville at 2 a.m. Sunday morning, the band was met outside of town by a convoy of parents and students. The band bus and following cars took a victory drive through downtown Paintsville. The Marching Showmen would like to thank everyone who has supported them so generously this season. BAITFISH MIGRATE BEFORE BASS DO

Have you ever wondered why the most reliable autumn bass pattern is fishing the backs of tributary creeks?

"It's because that's where the baitfish are," explains Johnson Outboards to temperature and oxygen changes than bass are and thus migrate sooner.

"In late summer," he explains, " the oxygen levels improve in the tributaries because of the flowing water, and also because this water is cooler, the shad begin to migrate up from deeper main lake points and channels and into the creeks.

"Because this is the main food supply of the largemouth bass, they follow with a migration of their own within a few days." An opposite migration occurs later in the early part of winter, continues the Johnson pro, when colder temperatures in the creeks push the baitfish - and the bass - back toward deeper water.

"Sometimes baitfish also migrate during the day from place to place," adds Fite, "going from the mouth of a creek out to the edge of a treeline a quarter mile away, or from a deep channel up onto a shallow flat. "The things that make them move are changing water conditions, so when they begin to move, the entire school of bait moves, and you can see them on a depthfinder. Largemouth bass often follow underneath the baitfish, or close behind them." This autumn when you begin fishing the backs of creeks, Fite suggests looking for baitfish before you even begin fishing. Because the water will be relatively shallow, you'll usually see the shad pushed ahead of your boat.

"One of the things professional bass anglers always pay attention to, no matter where or how they're fishing," Fite notes, "is the activity of baitfish. If we see a single shad flip out of the water, or start skipping across the surface, we know bass are nearby, and we'll often toss a plastic worm right out to that spot. "We don't always have to see the baitfish, either," he continues. "If we see herons feeding along the shorelines or on shallow flats, we also know baitfish are present.

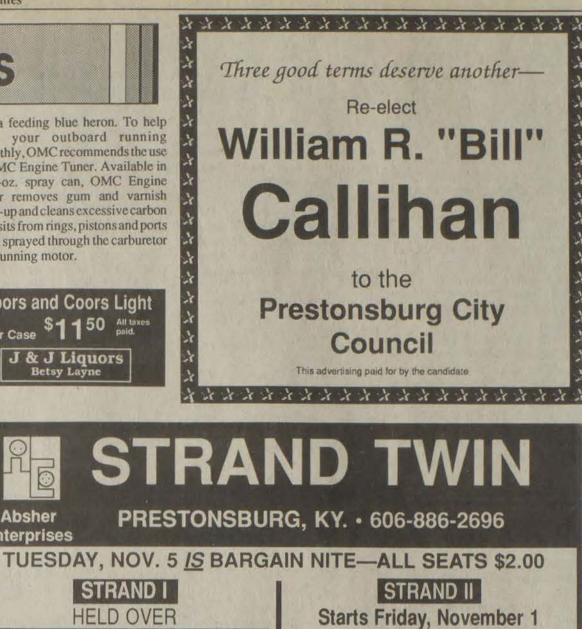

"Some tournaments have even been won by anglers who ran down a lake and began fishing wherever they saw a feeding blue heron. To help keep your outboard running smoothly, OMC recommends the use of OMC Engine Tuner. Available in a 13-oz. spray can, OMC Engine Tuner removes gum and varnish build-up and cleans excessive carbon deposits from rings, pistons and ports when sprayed through the carburetor of a running motor.

Are your Black Lung Benefits A "GRAVY TRAIN"?

PAUL PATTON, the Democrat for Lt. Governor, called them that in his testimony before Congress on March 23, 1976 when he testified against Black Lung legislation. (A copy of his testimony given in behalf of the NATIONAL INDEPENDENT COAL OPERA-TORS' ASSOCIATION has been forwarded to this newspaper along with this ad).

Sports In Our Shorts

DOESN'T THIS SOUND FAMILIAR?

by Dave Baker and Julian Tackett Once again there is a major college coach blaming the messenger for the bad news. Auburn coach Pat Dye last week urging Tiger fans to boycott the Montgomery Advertiser. That paper first published the story of possible illegal cash payments to players.

"I'm going to do everything I can do to let them dry up on the vine," said Dye on his weekly radio call-in show. "It's a cold blooded attack on Auburn," Dye added.

"If we support them, we support our own destruction." If anyone supported any destruction that might take place, it was Dye - the coach AND athletic director.

KINGS OF THE COMMONWEALTH

No surprises when the basketball coaches of the KIAC and the NAIA's District 32 got together in Lexington last week. Georgetown is the solid choice to win it all. The Tigers return four starters from a team that was 23-8 last season and coach Jim Reid may have the district's best backcourt in former Henry Clay standout Alan McCowan, and Richie Farmer's old running mate at Clay County, Russ Chadwell. Cumberland is picked to finished second, Transylvania third, but watch out for Union, especially if Jon Castleberry and Doug Wilkens have big years.

SAY WHAT?

biggest unknowns for the bulldogs will be a couple of true "foreigners." First, there's 6'7," 255 pound Ramon Mol of the Netherlands. As an exchange student, he played high school basketball in Rancho Palos Verdes, California, where he averaged eight points and 12 rebounds a game. Another newcomer is 22-year-old Georgi Merchev. He just finished a two year stint in the Bulgarian Army. And who says college basketball is tough?

MID SOUTH UPDATE

small college football conference, the Mid South, may be in a position to receive two post season berths in the ranked Campbellsville Tigers are facing a November 16 showdown with Georgetown in a game that will likely determine the conference champion. If both teams can maintain their current course, both teams likely will make the post season playoffs.

PITINO PLEASED WITH EARLY WORK

Kentucky held their first major intrasquad scrimmage this past Sunday, and coach Rick Pitino was practically glowing with praise for his current Cats. Pitino cited a dramatic improvement in the play of senior guard Sean Woods, as well as the early progress of true freshmen Andre Riddick and Aminu Timberlake. Though he hasn't made a lot of mention of sophomore forward Jamal Mashburn, word around the UK camp says that the lean, mean, basketball playing machine from New York is ready to have a dramatic impact on the success of this year's Wildcats.

BYE, BYE BLUE WHITE

Speaking of the have nots winning another one, gone are the days when UK can take their traveling road show around the state to showcase the Cats for the entire population. New NCAA regulations prohibit off campus scrimmages at the Division I level. And even with Rupp Arena being the "normal" home court, this is an off campus facility. So fans will have to be content with the one Speaking of Union, two of the Blue - White scrimmage, which was held at the Coliseum on Tuesday night. However, games against Athletes in Action, the USSR National team and the preseason NIT should give fans plenty of opportunities to watch the Cats.

AND THEN ALONG CAME JOHN

And finally, everyone around the Wildcat basketball camp was fired up after receiving verbal commitments from 6'7" Rhoderick Rhodes and 6'8" Jared Prickett. A UK staffer told senior John Pelphrey that Prick-The Kentucky and Tennessee ett described himself as "a John Pelphrey type player." With a big grin on his face, the redhead out of Paintsville replied, "Boy does he have big shoes to fill." Believe me, they are deep too!

"ANNOYING THINGS"

Okay, I'm in a mood to complain. I have complied a list of all my pet peeves (which, by the way, are two words that annoy me). Of course, I know that all of you (my faithful readers) are dying to know what bothers me. Here are a few of my peeves.

One things I truly despise is wide-ruled notebook paper. 1 must have college-rule or I can't write properly. Wide-ruled paper reminds me of those primary tablets first graders use to write sentences like, "See spot. See spot run."

Another thing that bothers me is people that litter. Can't people wait until they get home to throw out a McDonald's bag? We have beautiful scenery, but it's not very pretty covered with disposable diapers, Budweiser bottles and fast food wrappers. So try to keep off my bad side and "put litter in its proper place." Okay?

When I get up in the morning and there is no milk, I know it's going to be a bad day. Better yet, when someone has been "nice" enough to save me a third of a cup, that's really when I get upset. If there is no milk in the morning, I cannot function.

I hate it when a presidential press conference comes on when when I really want to watch a certain show. That is so annoying. Then, when it's over, the show comes on "in progress." By this time, only ten minutes are left in the program. I then spend that time trying to figure out what has been going on. I hate that. Finally, the paragraph you've been waiting for. My greatest peeve is Easter egg trees. I'll write this once and only once, EASTER EGGS DO NOT GROW ON TREES. Can everyone understand that? Oh, they are so tacky. I despise Easter egg trees. I hope I've made myself clear.

A SPECIAL BIRTHDAY

Carlos Hale Haywood of Prestonsburg had a birthday last week, and we hope it was a happy one. She has retired from a remarkable career in education, but no teacher was ever more loved by her students and friends.

Carlos taught Music and Literature at Betsy Layne High School, even before she married Arthur Haywood, and I was one of the fortunate ones who attended her classes.

I always enjoyed being in her glee club and going through the musical practices; but I never understood why she put up with me unless it was because I love music and my sister, Jewel, could sing. (Jewel's musical talent is in her voice, but mine is mostly in my ear.) Maybe she always expected me to do better.

It was in her literature class that Miss Carlos had the greatest influence on me. The varied assignments she gave us and her obvious pleasure when we did them well, gave us a real incentive to try. More than any other teacher, I think, she taught me the importance of the written word.

Small World ---- by Aileen Hall-

As if being involved with us every weekday weren't enough, she sometimes invited a few of use at a time to go home with her for an overnight visit. Her mother was also a warm and wonderful lady who would have meals prepared and who would help us get together in the morning for another day at school.

Arthur Haywood was also a teacher and the basketball coach at Betsy Layne and I'd like to think their mutual interest in us brought them together.

Back to that birthday last Thursday, I think Miss Carlos had her 39th...again.

She has four sisters and a brother who lives in the area. They are Emma Lou, Zella Mae, Vivian, Aileen and Elbert, Jr.

We didn't talk very long before I realized she is still a beautiful person. She has had some experiences that convinced her life is a fragile thing to be appreciated and enjoyed, and if you talk to her very long the idea rubs off on you.

You made my day, Maggie.

I dunno. Maybe some folks who are married aren't as married as I am. Maybe it's because we've been together so long, but sometimes I think Wilma can read my mind. Like the other day, for instance, when we were walking down an aisle at a local variety store and I just glanced-out the corner of one eye-at a new 4-head VCR with on-screen display and remote TV menu and a dual-mode shuttle control for forward and reverse slow motion with digital auto tracking. Without even braking stride, she said, "Don't even think about it."

by Clyde Pack

Or, the time we were at the movies and I though I'd like some popcom. I leaned over and said, "I think ... "

"Me too," she whispered back. "But don't put any butter on mine".

When our son Todd comes home, he's amazed at how we finish each other's sentences.

"Did you watch ... " "Evening Shade last ... " "Night? Boy, it ... " "Sure was... "Funny!"

Can you imagine trying to pull the wool over the eyes of someone like that? Dr. Lewiston must have been something.

Then again, maybe every wife is not like mine. Since I only have one, I guess I'll never know. I'm fairly certain, though, that she is equipped with a sixth sense that enables her to be aware of things that even she isn't aware she's aware of.

I love her, though, and wouldn't take a trillion, zillion dollars for her. I guess I'm just a one-woman man. Besides, if I tried something like Dr. Lewiston did, she'd beat me to death.

Of course, conversations erupt and my opinion flows.

However, as far as our City Council is concerned I cannot understand why a person who spends 40 plus hours in the city limits per week, pays city taxes, cannot have the advantage of running or voting for a seat on the council.

Should I assume some of us are paying city taxes and should thank the city on bended knees for letting us have the opportunity to work here.

Should we say thanks to Uncle Sam also at the dinner table for the city taxes withheld from our paychecks.

And should we in turn keep our mouths shut and opinions to ourselves because we don't live in city limits.

The fact our children attend school in the city limits, we work in city limits, gives us no rights!

No rights, to a possible seat on council that is.

Freedom of speech ain't it wonderful!

Till next week

Fun in the sun?

Not quite, but the students at Auxier Elementary did have a few minutes break for fun on a gloomy September day for celebrating "Kentucky Kid's Day". The day was established by the Kentucky P.T.A. to make kids feel special. The date and time for this event was to coincide with all other schools across Kentucky.

Amidst giggles, laughter and confusion, students formed a circle around the school and joined hands as a symbol of unity to proclaim their "specialness". This was followed by a math activity of estimation in the individual classrooms. Students guessed the number of people who participated. Eva Marx, a 5th grade student in Mrs. Burke's class, guessed the exact number. Eva proudly accepted her prize from the principal, Mrs. Constance Tackett.

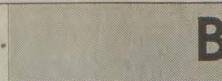

Down on the Farm

The primary grades of Mrs. Ruth H. Webb and Miss Charlene Darrell at Auxier Elementary, have been studying a Thematic Unit on, "The Farm." This has given the students a better understanding of the farm and its significance to the people of the nation. It also has provided information about farm animals and various foods that will serve as a basis for further study. The lesson gave the students an appreciation for life in rural areas and helped to motivate them in observing and enjoying the beauty of nature.

While studying this unit, the students drew, constructed and painted their concepts of farm living and compared them to their own environment. They also participated in the making of real butter, ice cream and a meal consisting of the four food groups.

I sure hate this upcoming event. My grandmother said she had nothing else to do so she gave birth to my dad. Humm-. He would have been 91 this Halloween.

With all the entries in the "Things That Go Bump In The Night" contest, this column will probably not be read by very many, so I think I will give you my poem I wrote and can not enter in the contest, for several reasons. #1. Could anyone call it a poem? #2. Why go into all other reasons and keep you in suspense?

Things that bump in the night; Tend to give a horrible fright. All things that go bump in the day; We gently laugh away.

How to enjoy a safe Halloween their celebration. Dressing as ghosts and goblins should be fun as well as safe.

"Parents need to make sure that all costumes are safe, so that their children can enjoy the festivities to their fullest," said Bette Jo Dedic, an Extension clothing specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Safe Halloween garb starts with safe designs. Avoid costumes that are too big and bulky for easy wearing. And don't forget the shoes; make sure they are not too big or the heels too high for the youngsters to travel in safely

"Design the costume so that some undergarments can be added if the weather is too cold," Dedic said.

Look for costumes, masks, beards and wigs labeled as "flame retardant." Although the label does not mean that the costume won't catch fire, such labeling does indicate that the item will resist burning and should extinguish quickly once removed from the source of fire.

Avoid flimsy fabric and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts to minimize the risk of contact with candles or other sources of ignition, she said.

Hats and scarves should be tied securely to prevent their slipping over

For young children, Halloween is rated with reflective tape, which is available in most hardware stores.

Dedic also said that it's a good idea to use a partial mask or makeup so sight or breathing will not be hindered. Test makeup first on the inside of a child's arm to test for any allergic reaction. Use a cold cream base under makeup to make removal easier.

Small children should always be accompanied by an older, responsible person, she said.

Children should go only to homes where residents have outside lights on as a sign of welcome. They should not enter homes or apartments if they do not know the occupants well.

Better Kentuci

HOW WE'RE MAKING SURE KENTUCKY'S KIDS NO LONGER HAVE TO TAKE A BACK SEAT.

urrently, Kentucky's kids rank well below the national average in math. Our nation's average 13-year-old fares even worse - being surpassed by those in Ireland, the UK, Spain, Canada, Korea and Japan.

Fortunately, the wheels of reform are beginning to turn. Thanks to the Kentucky Education Reform Act (KERA), money has been allocated, programs put in place. Schools all across the state are gearing up to meet this enormous challenge. There's even a school bus that will travel the state as a mobile exhibit.

But to make any real headway, we need you to get on board. Because this is a bus that needs more than one driver. To bring the mobile exhibit to your area, or to find out how you can get involved in supporting education reforms, please call: 1-800-928-2111.

As If some one could invent a seed splitit is the season for Jack-O-Lanterns. The newest item in seed catalogs now is the Jack-O-Lantern pumpkin. The seeds can be ordered from most seed companies.

Pumpkins flourish in practically every part of the country where enough moisture is available. It is truly a native American plant. Pumpkins should not be planted before the pumpkin vines. Any unused seeds time to plant corn and beans. The not split should be stored in a dry plants will have to be vigorous to place for another year. If they are planted too from the Jack-O-Lantern you raise as early and frost does not kill them the they are infertile. Rare, yes-but cold temperatures will stunt them.

Seeds should be planted an inch deep, with not more than six seeds per-hill. If you are raising this new Jack-O-Lantern pumpkin, one hill should be enough. As one or two Jack-O-Lanterns are about all you would use. As these pumpkins have no seed, nor flesh to scrape out, there is no other need for them. The one nice thing I find about them is they also have very soft, easy cut rinds. The outlines of the face is also outlined to cut out and to top it all there is a natural cup in the bottom of the pumpkin to place the candle in.

When you order and receive your seeds for these special pumpkins there is one very tedious job you must do. Each seed must be carefully sliced, length wise down the middle. Make sure that there is a membrane on both sides after you have sliced them. They must be perfect or the seeds will not sprout, nor come up. If there is too

Baby's Laundry

The Floyd County Times

Many new parents are dismayed remove them from the dryer when to discover that, along with their new bundle of joy, comes a bundle of baby laundry! The mountains of diapers, plastic pads and pants, and soft, cuddly washable toys present new challenges to people who are accustomed to doing a few loads of adult laundry each week.

'Not only is there a massive increase in the amount of dirty laundry," note home economists from Whirlpool Corporation, "there are also challenging new soils and stains to be handled when an infant joins a household."

The laundry experts offer these tips for dealing with stains such as infant formula, baby food, baby oil, and diaper soil:

* Pretreat stains immediately. Pretreat Fresh food stains with a liquid detergent or a paste of powered detergent and a few drops of water. Soak oily items in a solution of heavyduty detergent and water.

Rinse diapers immediately in cold water. Then soak them in a diaper pail in a solution of lukewarm water and a small amount of detergent until you're ready to wash them. You may wish to add a diaper conditioner to the soaking solution to control bacteria and odors.

When it's time to wash diapers, pour out the solution from the diaper pail. Put diapers - no more than three dozen at a time - into the washer on the final spin cycle to remove excess water.

If your washer has a prewash or soak cycle, use detergent and warm or cold water to prewash or soak the diapers. Then wash them 8 to 10 minutes in hot water with plenty of detergent. Add liquid chlorine bleach, if needed, for sanitizing, whitening, and any remaining stain removal; and use a fabic softener if you don't use one in the dryer. (Note: using a fabric softener with every washing decreases diaper absorbency.) Follow with a cold rinse and regular spin.

Dry diapers on regular setting and there's still a hint of dampness in them.

For best results, Whirlpool home economists recommend using a gentle wash cycle for plastic items and washable soft toys. Never dry plastics of items containing foam rubber on a heat setting in an automatic dryer. Use the air (no heat) cycle only - or let them air dry naturally. Heat drying these items can damage them or cause a fire. As always, be sure to check and follow all instructions on the item's care label.

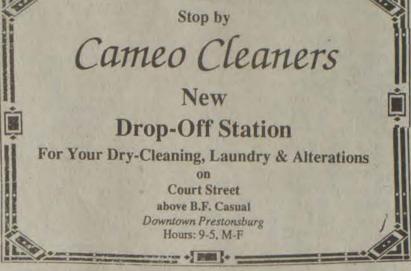

To use the air setting, place items in the dryer as usual. Add three or four dry towels to help absorb moisture. Select the air setting and set the timed cycle for 20 minutes. Remove items when they're still slightly damp.

Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club holds meeting

The GFWC/KFWC Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club met Monday evening, October 21, in the home of Libby Martin, south of Wayland.

Under the subject "Public Affairs" and in the absence of the speaker from God's Pantry East, Libby Martin explained the bind the food pantry is presently in with the cut-off of FEMA Funds, and she stressed the benefit the pantry is to the area. She pointed out that area churches have set up pantries and purchased food from God's Pantry to supply food to the needy. Each church is assigned a certain boundary and records are kept according to government guidelines. She explained that the Wayland Methodist Church feeds on average 65 families per month. At the end of her talk, the club voted unanimously to give $50 to the Wayland Methodist Food Pantry. One box of food, enough to feed a family, costs from $3.50 to $4.00 when purchased from God's Pantry East by an organization giving food to the hungry. "Therefore", she pointed out, a little money can go a very long way to help." In other business, following the treasurer's report, it was voted to include Hospice on the club's contributions through the Federation of Women's Clubs. It was also voted unanimously to join the program "Adopt a Child" to provide needed items of clothing for underprivileged children. Ages and sizes will be given out at the November club meeting. Company is Coming : For Kentucky's Bicentennial Celebration!

More than 200 years ago, Daniel Boone came across the Cumberland Gap to found the state of Kentucky. During 1992, visitors from across the nation will make a similar trek to celebrate Kentucky's 200th year of statehood.

What these visitors will discover is a spirit, a natural beauty, and a heritage that is unmatched anywhere. While Kentucky is always a wonderful place to be, the state will be extraordinary during the year-long festivities.

Communities across the Commonwealth are making plans to spotlight their unique features and heritage. Visitors will live and feel the Kentucky experience. The food, music, arts, crafts, and lifestyles of Kentuckians will be on display for all to enjoy.

Activities and events will abound - parades, fireworks, concerts, arts and crafts, reenactments - there will be something for everyone. The fine tradition of Kentucky quilts will be a major feature of the bicentennial celebration. All of these projects will be available to the public for their enjoyment. Beginning in November of 1991 and ending in March of'92, Louisville Celebrates the American Quilt will feature a combination of exhibits and events that pay tribute to quilts.

Experience the "Romance of the Hills" from April to October in the Southeastern mountain region of the state. A celebration that highlights the area's arts, literature, natural resources, and heritage, this event will feature community fairs and festivals, art displays, and a covered wagon trip from Cumberland Gap to Fort Boonesboro.

In May "birthday parties" will be held around Kentucky, featuring Kentucky foods, music, and products. And on June 1 in the capital, Frankfort, exactly 200 years after Kentucky became a state, fireworks and song will fill the skies.

July 23 through September 12, the Kentucky Art and Craft Foundation and the Owensboro Museum of Fine Art will jointly sponsor this exhibition chronicling the best of Kentucky crafts from the last 200 years. Examples of finely crafted furniture, baskets, quilts, jewelry, and more will provide insight into the heart of Kentucky's bicentennial celebration.

Throughout the summer, characters from Kentucky's history will perform in all 120 counties as part of the Kentucky Chatauqua. Young people will tour the state with plays and orchestration that celebrate Kentucky's unique place as the fifteenth state.

In August the best of Kentucky is enjoyed at the Kentucky State Fair. Here you can view prize livestock; ride the exciting rides at Kentucky Kingdom Amusement Park, which serves as the fair's concourse; or attend concerts put on by artists like the Oak Ridge Boys, Kenny G., Alabama, and The Judds. A great place to keep your cool, the Kentucky State Fair is the country's largest air-conditioned fair.

Kentucky's river heritage is the focus of October's Tall Stacks '92. The nation's most majestic riverboats will line the Ohio River banks at Northern Kentucky for four days of nonstop entertainment.

Each of Kentucky's communities is developing a project that will preserve its culture and historic character. The projects include building restorations, historic walks, photography exhibits, county museums, and the protection of historically significant property.

The Kentucky bicentennial celebration is a celebration of Kentucky's history and culture. Most importantly, however, it is a celebration of Kentuckians' strengths, traditions, and spirit. The celebration will show what Kentuckians have known since the first days of settlement - that Kentucky is the "Land of Tomorrow."

Flu-like symptoms? Your building could need a doctor rather than you by Steve Blickstein excerpted with permission from Philip Morris Magazine

If you work in a modern office building and you've got a sore throat, a running nose, itchy eyes, a skin rash and a headache, it may be that the building needs a doctor, not you. In a mounting number of cases, these flu-like symptoms are being diagnosed as "sick building syndrome" indoor air resulting from a combination of too many impurities and too little ventilation.

How widespread is SBS? After studying 356 office buildings, National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) researchers in 1986 attributed 50 percent of employee complaints about respiratory and sensory discomfort to dirty airhandling systems and inadequate (SBS) and are brought on by polluted ventilation. The World Health Organization (WHO) estimates that 30 percent of the world's modern buildings are plagued by indoor air pollution. Even the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) headquarters building in Washington, D.C., made the sick list. Eight EPA employees have filed a $35 million lawsuit against the owner and the managing agent of the federal agency's headquarters.

The growing awareness of SBS, plus forecasts that 50 million Americans will be working in offices by the year 2000, make indoor air quality a vital environmental issue for the 1990s.

Most of today's sick buildings are the tightly built, energy-efficient and lost productivity. Many building owners, employers structures that have dominated and government agencies intent on America's skylines, office parks and improving air quality tend to round shopping malls since the 1970s. Says Dr. Alan Hedge, associate professor in Cornell University's department of design and environmental analysis, who is well-known for his studies of the effects of building design on worker health, "A modern office building is built to last about 75 years, but air-handling systems are built to last only 25 years."
