Grand Jury next:

Recount offers no change

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A canvass of votes Wednesday morning in the Prestonsburg City Council race produced no changes in the vote totals.

Floyd County Court Clerk Carla Boyd said Thursday that vote totals for all candidates remained the same and she would present her findings to a Floyd County Grand Jury next week.

A canvass of the Prestonsburg City Council was requested by councilman Gary Brown, who was defeated by 17 votes in the November 5 election. Reports that some residents in the Cliff precinct were denied the opportunity to vote in the city council race was the reason for Brown's petition.

Election officers working the Cliff precinct said voters were not denied the opportunity to vote. Officers said voters wanted to vote a second time after they failed to tell election officers they were eligible to vote in the city race.

Boyd said that the grand jury will decide what action should be taken on the Cliff situation. Boyd said if the grand jury feels a change would occur if another vote was taken, it would be taken to the circuit court judge for a decision on whether or not to hold another election in that district.

No votes were cast in the city council race in the Cliff precinct.

Local News Briefs

Blood challenge set

The Central Kentucky Blood Center's monthly blood drive and annual University of Kentucky vs. University of Tennessee Blood Challenge will be held Tuesday, November 19, through Thursday, November 21 at the Prestonsburg Donor Center on the second floor of the city municipal building.

The drive will be held daily, from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

The Central Kentucky Blood Center is the only provider of blood and blood components to Floyd County hospitals. For more information, call Georgia Sanders at 886-1557 or 1-800-432-9528.

Help is on the way

Admissions and financial aid representatives from Morehead State University will be available at the MSU-Big Sandy Extended Campus Center in Prestonsburg on the first Tuesday of each month through March, 1992.

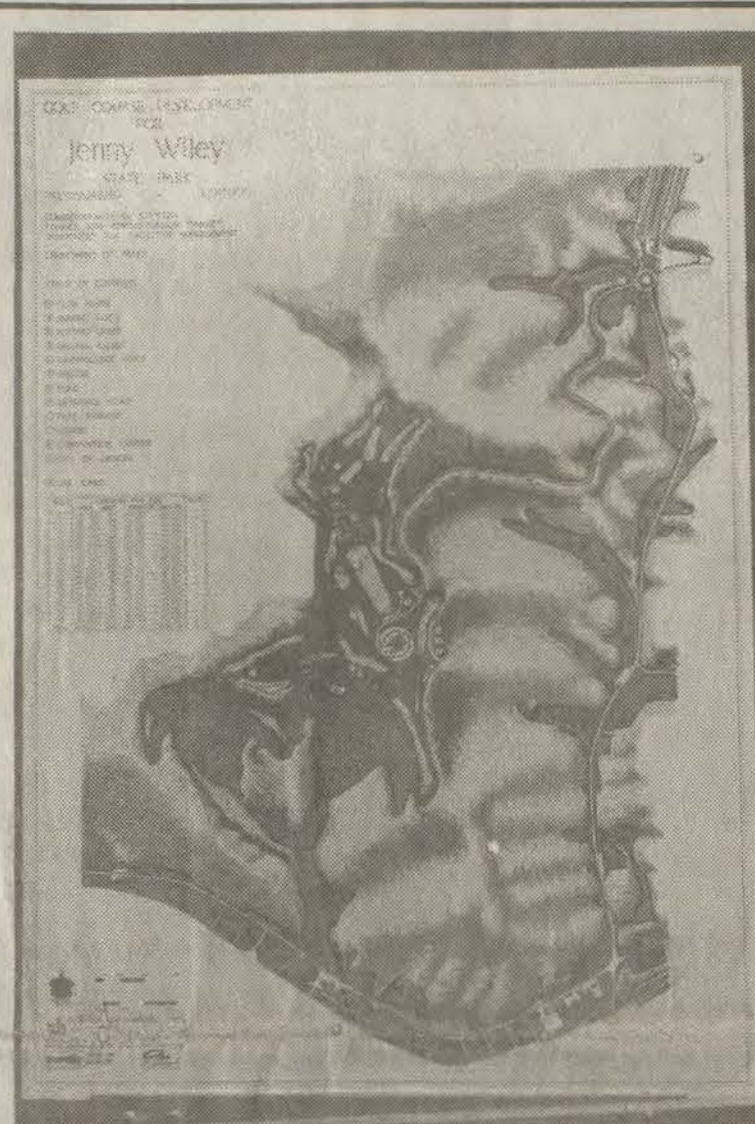

The representatives will be in Prestonsburg to answer questions from prospective students from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m. on December 3, January 7, February 4 and March 3.

Grant aids program

After flying solo for most of a year, the Prestonsburg Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) program has earned federal funding assistance.

A federal grant of $14,148 was awarded to the program November 12, according to Governor Wallace Wilkinson and Justice Secretary Ray Combs. The grant will be matched locally with $6,788.

The Prestonsburg Police Department began its D.A.R.E. program in January, 1990 with no federal or state assistance.

Park links plan may score in '94

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

Good things may come in threes, but promoters of a mountaintop golf course in Floyd County think the magic number is four, uh, four.

That's as in nineteen ninety-four, the year targeted for the opening of a new, 18-hole golf course near Jenny Wiley State Park.

But another four comes into play, too, and it's the real magic number.

State Parks Department officials say $4 million is needed to take the proposed golf course from the drawing board to the fairway.

If a meeting Tuesday evening at May Lodge is any indication, though, all the numbers are expected to add up to success. No fewer than a dozen representatives of the state Parks Department were on hand to tout the project, noting that needed funds had already been included as a priority request in the department's budget for the next biennium.

Plans for the golf course originated in the 1990 session of Kentucky's General Assembly when State Representative Greg Stumbo, D-Prestonsburg, successfully secured $2.5 million to expand Jenny Wiley State Park's existing nine-hole course to an 18-hole layout.

From that point a more ambitious idea developed.

On a mountaintop adjacent to park property about 500 acres of rolling land was created by surface mining and the property drew the eyes of Parks officials. Expansion plans were scrapped in favor of the development of a new, $6.5 million 18-hole course.

Using some of the funds allocated in 1990, a feasibility study on the project was commissioned and the results were unveiled by at May Lodge.

A scale model of the course's tentative design and accompanying drawings were viewed by a roomful of supporters and the replica will be left at May Lodge for public viewing until the project is completed.

Designed by Scruggs and Hammond, a Lexington consulting firm, the proposed layout calls for a 6,673 yard (pro length) course, a clubhouse, parking lot and driving range.

Humzey Yessin, director of golf courses for the state Parks Department, said Tuesday that development of the mountaintop course could make Jenny Wiley State Park the Eastern Kentucky rival to Kentucky's top resort parks—Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley resorts—located in Western Kentucky.

"The impact on this area would be unbelievable," Yessin said. "It would become a major, major tourism draw for an area within a 100-mile radius."

Yessin said the proposed course, which would cover approximately 270 acres, offered versatility that would appeal to a wide range of golfers.

"It's actually four courses in one," he said, noting that design included differing yardages for a "pro course, a mens' course, a seniors' course and a women's course."

"It's an extraordinary good layout for golfing in the clouds," Yessin said.

Parks Commissioner Rapier Smith said that his department was "excited" about the potential for the new course, noting it would "pay out in eight or ten years."

State Representative Greg Stumbo, who has spearheaded the effort to have the course built, said that the course would benefit the

Board adopts construction resolutions:

Caution is urged on building plans

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

State school officials declined Thursday to discuss specifics of an apparent probe into school construction projects in Floyd County.

School board member Eddie Billips said at Tuesday's board of education meeting he had been questioned by the Office of Education Accountability (OEA) about the board's hiring practices concerning construction managers, architects and engineers for school construction projects. The issue came up when discussions at Tuesday's meeting turned to the new Prestonsburg High School project.

Dr. Penney Sanders, director of OEA, said Thursday that she had met with Billips, but declined to answer questions about that discussion.

Billips repeatedly told board members Tuesday to "be very cautious" when making decisions concerning school construction projects.

"I must caution the members of this board that I have been questioned by OEA concerning practices, ongoing and past, of this board concerning awarding contracts to construction managers, architects and engineers," Billips said. "I feel obligated to tell you this because I'm sure other members will be asked questions, also. It wasn't very pleasant."

OEA, the legislature's investigative arm for education reform, is conducting investigations in Harlan County, Boyd County and Letcher County school systems for alleged improprieties.

The issue of an investigation into Floyd County's construction projects was raised when a two-part resolution to provide water for the new Left Beaver High School was presented to the board. That resolution also called for action to be taken to proceed, in any direction, on the new Prestonsburg High School project.

The resolution calls for a $500,000 "tap-on" fee to be paid to Beaver Elkhorn Water District in order to provide water for the Left Beaver school and to include other proposed and existing schools. The water district is seeking a grant to extend water lines into the Wheelwright and Right Beaver sections of the county.

Bob Kaiser, representing Kaiser,

Taulbee and Associates, the engineering firm for Left Beaver, told the board that the Prestonsburg school project must proceed in order to provide water for Left Beaver.

State shortfall may cause local cuts

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A shortfall in state education funds will put a budget crunch on the Floyd County School System.

Superintendent Ron Hager told board members Tuesday night that he was informed by state education department finance officers that projected revenue cuts will force local budget cuts.

"If what I'm told by Ron Moubrey and Bob Coakley is so, it looks like this school district will receive about half a million dollars less this year," Hager said. "We are estimating it will range from $411,000 to $500,000 that we will not receive this school year that's already been budgeted. It's belt tightening time."

Hager said that new finance officer Tommy Thompson will be recommending changes to be made in this year's budget to offset the shortfall. New programs and curriculum planned for this school year could be on the losing end when the budget is amended, Hager added.

Moubrey said Thursday that the exact figures on how much the district will lose in SEEK funds are not available and added that all school districts in the state will be affected.

SEEK funds, Moubrey explained, are the single largest source of revenue for the Department of Education and provide funding for all school districts. Moubrey said the amount of funding is based on a complex formula, but it is designed to provide equity in funding for local districts. He said the funds are slated for all areas of education. Moubrey said the funding allocated by the legislature for the second biennium did not match the funds received.

Hager said an amendment to this year's budget was a necessity because, if it is not amended, the district would finish the year in a deficit. Under state law, school districts cannot end the school year in a deficit.

Hager said the revised budget could affect an agreement between

Advisory board to study funding

The Prestonsburg Community College Advisory Board will review state-imposed budget cuts affecting the college in a meeting set for Tuesday, November 19.

Dr. Deborah L. Floyd will also report on school enrollment and PCC's partnerships with local institutions and agencies. Other items set for discussion include a public relations campaign to update the college's image and a campaign to build a new library on the University of Kentucky campus at Lexington.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in room 102 of the Johnson building.

More charges are lodged in investigation

by Susan Allen

Floyd County Sheriff's deputies recovered over $1,000 worth of stolen goods Tuesday afternoon and placed additional charges against two suspects in a four-county theft ring.

Chief deputy Linzie Hunt said Thursday deputies recovered a commercial mixer, food processor, Bunn coffee maker, an exercise machine, curling iron and a sweater stolen from Lloyd Knuckles of Prestonsburg.

The stolen items were found at an Abbott residence and Hunt said the occupants of that residence were unaware the items had been stolen.

Third degree burglary charges were filed against Billy Hall, 19, and Donald Tilley, 22, both of Prestonsburg. Both men were previously charged with theft by unlawful taking after an investigation by the sheriff's department. Hunt said a warrant had been issued for an 18-the board and the Floyd County Education Association, reached early in the school year to head off a strike by the county's teachers.

In other action Tuesday, the board heard from nine people during the meeting's public comment session.

Tim Jessen, speaking for Joe Jacobs on behalf of Betsy Layne, wanted to know about an earlier request to post individual's schools monthly financial statements at the school.

Hager said that each school should post its monthly report.

Other speakers were Scott Harkins, Donna Boyd, Sheriff Paul Hunt Thompson, Danny Greene, Carol Stumbo and Harvey Long.

Long, Washington, D.C. representative for IBM, made a donation of an IBM computer and software to Carol Stumbo for Wheelwright High School. IBM made the donation because of Stumbo's selection for a Christa McAuliffe award for outstanding teacher performance. Stumbo received the award in January.

Sheriff Thompson spoke of the board concerning the state's denial of a $15,000 grant for the D.A.R.E. program, sought to fund a course for third grade students. Thompson asked Pete Grigsby, who heads the county's alcohol and drug abuse prevention curriculum, why the grant had been turned down.

Grigsby told Thompson it was his understanding that the denial was due to "statewide politics." Grigsby said the D.A.R.E. grant left the Department of Education as a top priority, but the grant was killed in the governor's office.

Danny Greene, director of the David School, asked the board's permission to proceed with a plan to use the David School as the county's alternative school. Kentucky's Education Reform Act requires all school districts to develop an alternative school.

The board granted Greene's request.

Donna Boyd, a concerned parent, asked the board why "Sam Martin, construction manager for Left Beaver High School, had received his full fee for the project when only one-third of the building has been completed." Boyd also asked why the board had hired Martin as construction manager for the Betsy Layne addition "when the other two projects" Martin has been hired for "are such as mess."

The board did not respond to Boyd's questions.

Scott Harkins, representing Harkins Mineral and Associates, asked the board for a quit claim deed for the Daniels Creek one-room school. Harkins said the deed was necessary so the building can be donated to Floyd County's Bicentennial Committee.

Harkins also asked for the return of a desk the Harkins family loaned to the school board in the 1950s. Harkins said the desk, located in the superintendent's office, was a family heirloom and the family wanted it returned.

The board granted both requests.

In other business, the board:

- granted approval to Betsy Layne addition architect Paul Hoffman to begin preliminary design for that project;

- approved a lease with Kentucky Interlocal to purchase 40 new school buses;

- voted to require all persons living in or on school property to pay their individual utility bills;

- received and awarded bids for ice cream, electronic security and a Head Start van;

- established Prestonsburg High School as the site of the December board meeting; and

- approved the expulsion of two Allen Central and two Betsy Layne Elementary students.

The board closed Tuesday's meeting with a moment of silent prayer for former Betsy Layne principal Enoch Mitchell who died last week.

Board member James Duff was absent for Tuesday's meeting.

Dissension splits workers

by Susan Allen

Classified employees of the Floyd County School System are still without a spokesperson recognized by the board of education since the workers have split into three groups.

Floyd County Board of Education members have refused to recognize any one group to speak for the cooks, clerks, janitors, bus driver and maintenance personnel.

Board chairman Ray "Shag" Campbell told Larry Shortridge and Ron Abshire at Tuesday's meeting that the board will not recognize the Floyd County Classified Employee Association (FCCEA) until it is determined if that group represents all classified workers.

Classified personnel, the majority bus drivers, staged a five-day strike against the board in September. The workers demanding that the board recognize the Teamsters' Union as their bargaining agent. The board refused to recognize the Teamsters' Union, but agreed that the classified employees could form their own group.

Abshire, a Teamster organizer, told the board Tuesday that he had been contacted by the FCCEA to help them "take care of some problems", improve public relations and offer legal assistance. Abshire wanted clarification on procedures to be placed on the board's agenda and asked the board to develop a process to determine what classified employee group to recognize.

Some classified workers have also formed an independent association and others belong to Kentucky Education Support Personnel Association, an affiliate of the Kentucky Education Association.

Shortridge asked for a poll of board members to recognize FCCEA as the classified employees bargaining agent. Shortridge said the group has drafted and approved bylaws, elected a board of directors and named officers. He presented the board a contract to approve FCCEA as the employees' representation.

Campbell told Shortridge the board's attorney, Cliff Latta, and the board would take approximately two weeks to study the proposal.

Board member Eddie Billips told Shortridge the difficulty for the board was trying to determine which of the three groups represented classified employees.

"We don't want to have four or five groups claiming to represent classified employees," Billips said.

Campbell advised all parties to come together as group and then come back before the board.

entire region, non-golfers alike, by helping Jenny Wiley develop into a major resort area. Other businesses would reap the rewards of expanded tourism development, Stumbo said, and industrial developers will see that Eastern Kentucky mountaintops can be effectively utilized.

Don Mahoney, an assistant Parks Department commissioner, outlined Tuesday the steps ahead for the project, indicating that final design could be completed by late December if necessary funds were made available in July, 1992.

Theoretically, construction on the project could begin by August and it could be ready for play in the spring of 1994.

Stumbo said he was optimistic that funds could be found for the project.

If completed, the course will become a part of the state parks' system and only the second 18-hole golf course within a 50-mile radius of Prestonsburg. The other course is at the Paintsville Country Club.

year-old woman in connection with the case.

The items were taken from a trailer owned by Knuckles located on Route 1428 near Allen, Hunt said. Knuckles had used the trailer for storage.

Hall was arrested by deputies Wednesday night and Tilley turned himself in at the sheriff's office Thursday morning. Both men remained lodged in the Floyd County Jail Thursday under a $5,000 bond.

Deputies earlier recovered a change machine, motorcycle and a Lexington Herald-Leader newspaper machine that had been stolen.

Deputies Hunt, Charles Ousley, Homer Neeley, Ed Rickman and Denver Ousley are continuing the investigation.

For almost 25 years, McAlpin's has assumed a role of leadership in Kentucky's retailing sector, striving continuously to provide only the best for its customers. Located in both the Lexington Mall and Turfland Mall, in Lexington, the two stores bring a combined square footage that cannot be equaled in size in this area for any other full-service department store.

The Turfland Mall McAlpin's began operating on August 9, 1967, as a part of the "Largest one-stop Regional Mall in the state of Kentucky," quoted the Lexington Herald-Leader.

On Sunday, November 17, both McAlpin's will celebrate the Grand Reopening of the Turfland Mall location. The remodeling and expansion has taken approximately 2 years... the Turfland Mall Home Center was opened in September, 1989, and, inside the Mall, the Junior Store was launched in February, 1991. Square footage has been increased from 167,000 square feet to 215,000 square feet.

McAlpin's employs 1500 people locally to staff the stores in the two malls and the Distribution Center on Leestown Road in Lexington. Because the stores are managed locally, the McAlpin's Department of Human Resources recruits candidates from the local universities for the Management Training Program.

Keeping the "best" in Kentucky for the "best" in Kentucky, has always been a good idea, and helps McAlpin's continue to be a stable force of commitment in a thriving community.

Kaiser explained that in order for the tap-on fee to be paid from School Facilities Construction Commission (SFCC) monies, the Prestonsburg school must proceed because the resolution to provide water included other school projects slated to built in the future.

The additional water lines will affect Osborne, Melvin, McDowell and Duff elementaries; a proposed new middle school near Allen Central High School; and a new elementary school to consolidate Maytown and Martin elementaries.

Kaiser told the board to "do something" to get the Prestonsburg High School project moving or risk losing funding for the project or have the project moved down the district's priority list for school construction projects.

Luscher has said previously that the board will not lose the funding allocated for the project and those funds could be used on other projects or placed in an escrow account.

Luscher could not be reached for comment Thursday.

The site of the new Prestonsburg High School has been the center of controversy since October 1990, when the board voted to buy property at Middle Creek at a cost of $400,000. The assessed value of the property, $55,000, and a reservation that the seller of the property retain the rights to any coal uncovered during site preparation have been two key issues in the controversy. The coal rights have since been transferred to the board.

Board chairman Ray "Shag" Campbell asked Billips why he objected to the resolution when it provided for looking at other possible sites for the new high school.

Billips said he had no objections to looking at additional sites and reminded the board that it voted to hire Dixon Nunnery to investigate the feasibility of building the new high school near the existing one. Billips said he had not received any reports from Nunnery and asked Campbell if it would be appropriate to contact Nunnery.

Campbell said it would be appropriate for Billips to do so and suggested a report be made at the December board meeting.

Board secretary Gary Frazier, who is also overseeing the board's construction projects, said that the lack of activity on the new high school project is the major stumbling block in proceeding with new school construction projects.

The board voted 3-1 to pass the resolutions. Campbell said the board's direction on Prestonsburg High School will be to proceed with the process of looking at alternate sites for the new high school.

In an related issue, Bob Walker with C & W Equipment of Manchester, who won the bid for the site preparation contract on the Middle Creek site, asked the board if it wanted to extend C & W's bid prices for an additional 60 days.

C & W was the only bidder on the site preparation contract in December, the first time the project was bid. The state Department of Education recommended the board re-bid the project in February after it decided that the cost per acre for site development was excessively high.

C & W was the lowest of three bidders when the project was re-bid this summer. The board voted not to accept C & W's bid.

Walker told the board that the bid was not rejected and wanted to know if the board wanted another extension on the contract prices.

Campbell said the board rejected C & W's bid in August because alternate sites were being considered.

After some debate, both sides agreed to check the board minutes to determine what action had been taken. The issue is expected to be raised at the December meeting of the board.

The Russians are coming . . .

When the spectre of communism and the spirits of politics are raised in Eastern Kentucky as the forces behind the scenes of controversy, rest assured that someone somewhere has struck a nerve.

We've seen everything from tax hikes to home garbage pick up branded a communist plot in Eastern Kentucky, but nothing is more prevalent in the world of blame buck-passing than these two magical words...

Politically Motivated.

This week, school officials in Harlan County doubled us with old faithful causes for their education curses.

They called the state's Office of Education Accountability the "Kentucky KGB," and they labled all criticism of their performances as being "politically motivated."

Nothing shores up a defense like a good red scare. If that doesn't work, blame everything on the other side.

The only problem here is that the "other side" is the Commonwealth of Kentucky's education police, an agency created to see that the 1990 Kentucky Education Reform Act isn't flushed down the toilet. It's an agency designed to break the chains of political bondage which have left so many moms and dads terrified of bucking their own school systems' staus quo.

Most of all, this new agency gives us all an opportunity to strike back at injustice. You can rest assured that will strike more than a few nerves and will prompt a whole lot more allegations of politically motivated communist plots.

After all, somebody's got to take the blame for our educational woes and we can always find somebody else to accuse.

Letters

Editor:

The broadcast television networks (CBS, NBC and ) are asking Congress to pass a law that could require cable subscribers to pay more just to receive the same broadcast programs they are now receiving. This retransmission consent legislation would allow the broadcasters to impose a "free TV surcharge" on cable operators who provide an antenna service for over-the-air local broadcast signals. The chairman of CBS told Congress that these payments could reach $1 billion.

During the past 20 years broadcasters, recognizing the value of cable carriage of their signals, repeatedly have sought regulations to compel cable operators to carry local TV stations. Cable operators have complied by carrying local stations, even though no law requires it, and have extended the broadcasters' signal to reach more viewers.

However, during the past 10 years the networks have steadily lost audiences as more viewers tuned into cable programming. As a result, they have also lost advertising revenue which is based on the number of viewers watching network programming.

At the same time, cable operators have invested our revenues in new programming and improved technology to better serve our subscribers. Now the networks want cable subscribers to bail them out from their poor business decisions of the past decade.

Why should cable subscribers have to pay more to watch "free TV" just because they choose to receive it over cable rather than by "rabbit ears" or rooftop antennas?

Cable subscribers should take a stand against this anti-consumer surcharge. Write or call your Senators and Congressman, and urge them to oppose the "free TV surcharge." Your voice can make a difference.

Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my belated thanks to the troopers of the Kentucky State Police Pikeville post. They treated me with respect and kindness when I was involved in a harassment case last summer. Their sincere concern was a pleasant change from the treatment I received during the initiation of the case when I was asked if I did not like being "yelled at".

The compassion of the state police troopers that day will not be forgotten.

Report to Kentucky

by Senator Wendell Ford

A Time To Recognize Our Pearl Harbor Survivors

Many Kentuckians might be unaware of one very important aspect of this year's observance of Veterans Day in our state.

Thousands of Americans, including more than 140 Kentuckians, are receiving the Congressional Medal for Veterans of the Attack on Pearl Harbor.

Our Veterans Day plans included the presentation of these recently authorized medals to members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association of Kentucky at a ceremony at VFW Post 3636 in Louisville.

I am pleased to have the opportunity to forward additional medals to any eligible Kentuckians — Pearl Harbor veterans or their survivors — who could not be present for this ceremony.

Our purpose in offering these congressional medals is a simple one. We know that those who are being honored will never forget Pearl Harbor. We want them to know that we have not forgotten — and I hope we will never forget — where they were and what they did on December 7, 1941.

We want these veterans and their families to know that we are proud of their courageous service. We are proud of those who made the ultimate sacrifice for their country during the massive and unexpected air attack on Pearl Harbor almost 50 years ago. We are proud of all the men and women who sacrificed so much in the great conflict that began for them and for this nation on that momentous day of history.

I am among those who clearly remember the achievement of those who fought against the odds at Pearl Harbor — volunteers serving in the U.S. Armed Forces under the ever-widening cloud of World War II.

Many of us will always remember how they and other Americans galvanized the will of this nation in a response that has helped to ensure that we will never experience another Pearl Harbor.

They helped to set an example reflected in the courageous efforts of Americans in many parts of the world, including the Persian Gulf, in the years since that tragic experience. Through these efforts, our nation has helped to create a new world in which we have an opportunity to promote and defend the spread of freedom without the threat of global conflict.

Our nation has helped to create a better world — a world in which military confrontation has been replaced by economic competition and a growing potential for humanitarian cooperation with Japan and other adversaries of past conflicts.

The current recognition of our Pearl Harbor survivors is long overdue. It cannot fully express our pride in the role they have played in our history. It is offered, instead, as a small acknowledgement of a debt that can never be repaid.

Education Reform

Six regional coordinators have joined The Prichard Committee for Academic Excellence staff to help launch long-term statewide grass root support for education reform.

The coordinators work statewide with education advocates in school district to establish Community Committees for Education: Prichard Committee Affiliates.

The Prichard Committee's ultimate goal is to have an active community committee in all 176 school districts. Each local committee's mission is to encourage education reform implementation and to promote participation in school-based decision making.

The regional coordinator for Floyd County is Ann Marie Short, of Boyd County (Ashland). The regional covers northeast Kentucky. Short, a former regional librarian for 10 east Kentucky counties with experience in health care communications, has helped with a variety of academic activities in her sons' schools. Short works with committees in Bath, Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Floyd, Greenup, Johnson, Lawrence, Lewis, Magoffin, Martin, Mason, Menifee, Montgomery, Morgan, Nicholas, Pike, Powell, Rowan, and Wolfe counties. Call her at (606) 324-8660.

Robert F. Sexton, executive director, said that local responsibility and involvement are the heart of making Kentucky education reform work. "Kentucky needs a new wave of parent, citizen and business support to make reform a reality—to see that local school really change," Sexton added. "We know that thousands of people want to make a real difference and the committees are one way to do that."

For more information on setting up a community committee for Education in your school district, call Beverly N. Raimondo, director of community support, with the Prichard Committee in Lexington at (800) 928-2111.

KSBA publishes guide for school-based decision making

KSBA has compiled a monograph of legal and policy guidelines in response to a continuing need for answers to fundamental questions about the implementation of school-based decision making in local public schools.

The book entitled REACHING NEW HEIGHTS: A Guide to the Implementation of School-Based Decision Making Under the Kentucky Education Reform Act is the result of a study of the law, a wide search of practices which contribute to successful school-based decision making and discussions across the state with educators, board and council members, leaders of educational interest groups and others. The guide is designed to promote the effective functioning of councils and to provide councils, boards and administrators a framework of law and practice.

The Kentucky Education Reform Act embodies many educational initiatives designed to improve student achievement and to address the total development of all children. School-based decision making is one of these initiatives. Under the new state law, the faculty of a school can elect school-based decision making anytime after July 13, 1990. By June 30, 1991, each district in the state is to have at least one school operating under school-based decision making, with the exception of those districts having only one school. School-based decision making is the component of education reform that offers parents the opportunity to join with teachers in policy decisions for the school.

Copies of this guide are being provided to principals, superintendents, legislators, board chairmen and other educators. Additional copies may be obtained for $10 each by contacting KSBA, 260 Democrat Drive, Frankfort, KY 40601 or 1 (800) 372-2962 or (502) 695-4630.

Be Sure To Change Social Security Benefit Address

Social Security and Supplemental Security Income beneficiaries must report any change in mailing address or risk having their checks suspended, Jim Kelly, Social Security District Director for the Big Sandy Area, said recently.

This is especially true of those who use direct deposit, Kelly said, because they are not using a mailing address to receive monthly checks. However, notices of changes and reminders of reporting requirements cannot be sent to a bank, so having a correct mailing address on file is extremely important.

In addition, in January of each year, Social Security sends each beneficiary a Form SSA-1099, the Social Security Benefit Statement. If the U.S. Postal Service returns a Form 1099 as undeliverable, that person's benefit may be suspended for lack of a good address, even if the beneficiary is using direct deposit.

First, however, Social Security will double check for a recent change of address. If none is found, and the benefit is paid by direct deposit, Social Security will ask the financial institution for a correct address. The Post Office is asked to check its change of address records, and local telephone directory assistance is contacted.

Using the best available address, Social Security sends a first-class notice that benefits will be suspended unless the beneficiary contacts Social Security. If no response is made, benefits are suspended until the agency hears from the person.

Avoiding this procedure is very simple, Kelly pointed out. A person should be sure to let Social Security know whenever his or her mailing address changes. A simple phone call will get it done.

For more information about Social Security, contact the Big Sandy Area Social Security office located on U. S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville. The telephone number is 886-8525.

Patient Self-Determination Act: How Hospitals Can Prepare

Our Lady of the Way Hospital will be sponsoring a workshop on the Patient Self Determination Act (PSDA) at Holiday Inn on Tuesday, November 19, 1991, in the Wayland/Wheelwright meeting room. The workshop is designed for hospital personnel involved in implementing PSDA: social workers, nurses, administrators, risk managers and other interested healthcare personnel.

Six (6) contact hours will be available for participation in the workshop through Southeast AHEC.

The purpose of the workshop is to educate health care providers concerning Kentucky legislation on advance directives. Health care providers should know who the legal decision makers are in the absence of advance directives, should know how to recognize and use advance directives, and should know alternative choices for decision making for patient counseling. The PSDA legislation becomes effective December 1, 1991.

Presenters for the workshop will be Stuart McCloy, Ginny M. Hamm, and Our Lady of the Way Hospital Ethics Committee.

Stuart McCloy, is a Private Attorney, who previously was the Assistant Attorney General and Director of Medicaid Fraud and Abuse Control Division.

Ginny M. Hamm was in private law practice in Elizabethtown, Kentucky until 1987 when she became staff attorney for the Department of Veterans Affairs. She was one of the first such attorneys assigned to an individual VA medical center in a full-time capacity.

After completion of the workshop, participants will be able to:

- * Discuss the implications of the PSDA legislation.
- * Describe how hospitals will be affected.

- * Be able to prepare policies and procedures to implement PSDA program.

- * Identify what patients and the public need to know about PSDA.

Pre-registration and pre-payment is required. Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. and the program will begin promptly at 9:00 a.m. and end at 3:30 p.m.

For further information or to register for the workshop, please call Carol Prater, 285-5181, Ext. 388.

VISIT WITH ALLEN "YOUNG AUTHORS"...

Wednesday morning, Kim Frasure (of Kim's Korner fame) informed me that she and I were to be at the new Allen Elementary to speak to Mrs. Glenda Blackburn's eighth grade class. It's young authors week at the Allen School and other places in the county. I enjoyed being there and just listening to Kim. I just want to say that I am a constant reader of her column. She writes about her growing-up days in the good old town of Wheelwright. What has that got to do with sports? Nothing!

BASKETBALL TAB COMES OUT NEXT FRIDAY..

I have been asked when our paper will be printing our basketball preview this year. The tab is scheduled to be in the November 22 edition of the paper. In it, you will find all the team's schedules, rosters and a preview of each team's returning players. We hope you enjoy it and find it informative.

It seems that this has been one hectic week here in my office with tons of phone calls and visits from people. I really enjoy talking to people on the phone and really enjoy the visits I get. I know that people feel like they are taking up my time, but I don't want anyone to think that. I have always got time for those who love sports and for anyone else, also.

I appreciate all the coaches and players for their help in helping me gather information. I know I have interrupted their practices. Thanks to all of you!

KENTUCKY ON TRACK, OR ARE THEY

The University of Kentucky has survived the probation years. Now they will once again be able to participate in the SEC tournament and if they can make it, the NCAA.

A lot of people are taking it for granted that the Cats will be there come March. However, there is a season to play and the right earned to take part. But at the same time I suppose that because it is Kentucky, they more than likely will find a spot on the tournament tour.

The lack of a true center on the UK team could be a problem for them if newcomer Andre Riddick does not develop quickly enough. Riddick has been given the dubious responsibility to replace one Reggie Hanson. It will not happen this year.

With Travis Ford out for the first couple of months of the season, that too could be a bitter pill to swallow. Ford had to be on the drawing board to be the eventual starting point guard for the Cats — even this year. I know that Rick Pitino was being considerate of Sean Woods but if we face reality, Woods will never make it.

John Pelphrey is one player of whom we here in the mountains can be proud. Every time I read about the positive comments someone makes about Pelphrey, I'm just that much prouder that he is from our area. I appreciate the young man so much and I know that he will be a credit to Eastern Kentucky, even after his college and playing days are over. I look for John to have a great season.

NEW RECRUITS MAKES FUTURE PROMISING..

Tony Delk (6'2"), Walter McCarty (6'9") and Jared Prickett (6'8") have already inked letters-of-intent to play for the Cats next season. Once again the recruiting crop has been rated by some guru's as the nation's best. Rodrick Rhodes was one player who caused next season's class such a high rating. Yet, as of this writing, Rhodes has not inked a letter.

And that has to cause some UK fans concern in that the young man may have experienced a change of heart.

Not so, says Rhodes' sister Gail Adams. According to reports, Rhodes is just waiting to get the family together for the signing. Meanwhile, does the delay cause him to think more of his decision of going to UK and the possibility of becoming a Proposition 48 casualty? Does he have second thoughts?

Until Wednesday, good sports everyone! Be good sports.

Sports Channel To Air Over 140 College Basketball Games; 11 Wildcat Games

Looking for more sports than ESPN or the network stations can provide? Are you a sports nut that just can't get enough sports? Whether it be baseball, football, basketball or any of the many other events in the sports world?

Sports Channel, Ohio offers its viewers all the sports they need. Sports Channel has scheduled 140 college basketball games for the coming season plus a full schedule of Cleveland Cavalier professional basketball.

Tel-Com of Harold is currently carrying over their system a free "preview" of Sports Channel, Ohio.

Sports Channel is Kentucky's front row seat for the Cincinnati Reds, University of Kentucky football and basketball, University of Louisville basketball as well as the Ohio High School Football championships which begin December 1.

Other events carried over Sports Channel will be some of the top coaches' shows in America such as the Bill Curry, Rick Pitino, Denny Crum shows and many others. Professional wrestling is often seen on Sports Channel as are several top outdoors programs such as The Sportsman's Showcase and Outdoor Trails.

Eleven University of Kentucky basketball games and ten University of Louisville games will be aired over Sports Channel. College basketball action starts on November 23 and runs through the middle of March as over 140 games will be shown.

On March 10, Sports Channel will begin their coverage of Cincinnati Reds baseball with three spring training games to be televised plus 30 regular season games.

The Cleveland Indians will also grace the Sports Channel tube with 21 regular season games and two spring training outings.

According to P.D. Gearheart of Tel-Com Inc., a decision hasn't been reached as of yet if the local cable company will add the Sports Channel to its list of services offered to their customers.

"We haven't really set down and made that decision," said Gearheart. "We have been so busy with so many other things around here that we just haven't taken time to discuss it."

Tel-Com, according to Gearheart, would like to be able to offer the services but the cost of obtaining the rights would be expensive. "We just need to take a look at it and see how it will fit into our budget," he said. "I haven't had the time to sit down and watch too much of it, like a full program or something like that. There are things on Sports Channel that I would like to see and then there are some things that don't appeal to me."

Gearheart admits that things that don't appeal to him, may to someone else. Sports Channel is certainly what its name implies — total sports. Sports of all kind.

Prater Creek's Wesley Collins picked up Ervin Osborne (14) of Auxier in basketball action at Auxier Tuesday night. Osborne scored 16 points to help lead the Hornets to their sixth consecutive win. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Adkins' 26 Points Lead Auxier To Sixth Straight Win, 67,37

It was homecoming at Auxier Elementary Tuesday night as a new Little Miss Hornet and Miss Hornet were crowned before a packed house. Brandy Wells was named the new Little Miss Hornet for 1991 and Jennifer Blackburn took home the Miss Hornet crown.

The fan's attention was turned to the basketball court where the high flying Hornets stung visiting Prater Creek 67-37 in a run and gun game. Steve Adkins tossed in 26 points to lead the Hornets to their sixth consecutive win. Auxier has dropped three games. Ervin Osborne added 16 points and Shane Hall had 11.

Auxier used their full court press defense that forced Prater into some early turnovers. It was one fast break after another as Auxier elected to establish the tempo early.

Hall put the Hornets out in front 2-0 with a basket and later completed a three-point play to make it 7-0 game. After a free throw by Jamie Kidd, Auxier scored the next six points for a 13-1 game. Kidd, again, hit a free throw for the Cougars and four unanswered points gave Auxier a 17-2 advantage.

Baskets by Danny Akers and Kidd cut the margin to 11, 17-6, but Osborne and Adkins scored back-to-back baskets to lead 21-6 at the first stop.

Auxier rolled out to a 35-12 lead midways of the second quarter and held a 35-20 lead at the half after Prater scored the last eight points of the period. Akers had four points and Wesley Collins scored the other four.

The Hornets built their lead back to 21 points after three quarters, 47-26.

In the fourth period, the Hornets kept the pressure on the Cougars before finally sending the "B" team to finish the game.

Collins led Prater in scoring with 12 points. Akers finished with 11 and Kidd scored eight. Shawn Caudill had four points while Josh Hamilton tossed in two.

Auxier goes to 6-3 on the season and will be off until they face Osborne in next week's Mountain Christian Academy Invitational Tournament.

PRATER 6 14 6 11 (37); Collins, 6 0-3 12; Akers, 4 3-9 11; Kidd, 3 2-5 8; Caudill, 2 0-1 4; Hamilton, 1 0-1 1

Alice Lloyd Loses Close One On the Road To Bears, 84-82

The Alice Lloyd College basketball Eagles dropped a close one to the rival Pikeville Bears, 84-82, on their first road trip of the season. Pikeville jumped out to an early lead with the hot hand of Bear's guard Bart Williams who hit the first four shots for Pikeville from the 19'9" line to help the Bears build a 12 point lead. However, the Eagles scrapped their way back into the game and tied the score at 48-48 at the intermission.

Both teams had their moments in the second half as the lead went from hand to hand. Pikeville's effective board play moved the Bears out in front by as much as 14 points. With 3:01 on the clock, the Eagles put on a defensive show and pulled to within two points.

The Eagles had a chance to tie the game, but Russell Clark's shot from eight feet out missed the mark and the game became history.

Henry Webb (McDowell) led the Eagles with 17 points. Three other Eagles were in double figures. Pikeville's Bart Williams led all scorers with 24 points.

Although not necessarily pleased with the outcome of the game with Pikeville, Alice Lloyd mentor Jim Stepp was pleased with the effort his young team put forth.

"Most importantly, we played with great intensity. Our defensive game was pretty solid. Our freshmen showed class away from home," coach Stepp stated.

Stepp thinks getting the ball inside to Bobby Pollard and Rick Conley needs some working on.

"We have a simple system, and if we execute properly, we can win. Our players allowed the environment to throw them off balance. I'm expecting a better performance down the road."

The Eagles are 2-1 on the season after opening victories over Clinch Valley and Knoxville College.

The Eagles will host Bluefield this Saturday at 4 p.m.

Pikeville Lady Bears Edge ALC Lady Eagles, 92-88; Turnovers Costly

Any coach will tell you that you must take care of the basketball in order to win basketball games. The point was proven as the Alice Lloyd Lady Eagles fell to the Lady Bears of Pikeville College 92-88 in a high scoring affair.

"We made some costly turnovers," reported head coach John Mills. "The kind you would expect a young team to make, but we played hard and all ten players contributed."

The Lady Eagle squad has been hit hard with injuries and four of the victims are starters.

Mills said his team needs confidence. On paper, the matchup rated the Lady Bears the better of the two teams. Mills believes this year's team will improve and become a solid ball club. Reasons for Mills optimism are the team's hustle and a strong bench. "We just need to believe we can win. A young team playing in a hostile environment is always tough, but we shot well and lost by only four points to a seasoned team who could win District 32 this year."

Veteran Katrina Short led the Lady Eagles in scoring with 22 points. Short also grabbed 13 rebounds for the Lady Eagles. Senior Michelle Messer added 19 points playing well inside. Terri Harmon (Sheldon Clark) added 17 points and Denise Stacy scored 12.

The Lady Eagles will be playing in the Union College invitational this weekend and will host Kings College next Thursday night at Alice Lloyd College. The Lady Eagles are 0-1 on the season.

Auxier shakes Off Betsy Layne Elementary In Tough 50-45 Grade School Win

What used to be an automatic win when a team visited Auxier is not so this year. The Hornets are for real and Wednesday night they disposed of Betsy Layne 50-45 in a close encounter of the seventh kind. The seventh of course being the length of the winning streak that the Hornets are on right now. It was the seventh consecutive victory for this talented Auxier team. A team that many opponents are finding tough to handle on the road and at home.

This time the scoring was balanced as Steve Adkins tossed in 14 points to lead Auxier. Ervin Osborne added 12 and Ricky Johnson tossed in nine.

It was an unusual game for Johnson as he scored his season high. "That is something that we have been needing out of Ricky since the season began," explained assistant coach Jerome Greathouse. "He just needs to be more aggressive on offense."

The lead changed hands several times in the fourth period as Auxier couldn't stand prosperity and blew an 11-point lead. Osborne picked up his fourth personal foul and was relegated to the bench and Shawn Hall was moved to the outside to play the guard position.

"Shawn thought he had to do the things that Ervin (Osborne) did and he committed some costly turnovers and Betsy Layne scored three straight baskets," stated Greathouse.

In fact, the Bobcats came back and tied the game at 41-41. Adkins nailed the first of a bonus shot and missed the second for a 42-41 Auxier led with 58 seconds remaining in the game. Betsy Layne rebounded the missed free throw but was guilty of a turnover as Adkins intercepted a pass and hit a jumper for a 44-41 lead.

Anthony Kizer kept the Bobcats in the game with a jumper to make it 44-43. Johnson then scored to put the Hornets back on top by three, 46-43, and Auxier never trailed after that.

Auxier converted 12 of 21 free throws while Betsy Layne hit five of 13. Auxier led at the half 29-21 and at the end of three quarters 36-32.

Rodney Hamilton led Betsy Layne with 12 points and Willie Meade added 11. Wesley Frazier totaled 10 while Kizer finished with eight. Michael Howard scored four points for Betsy Layne.

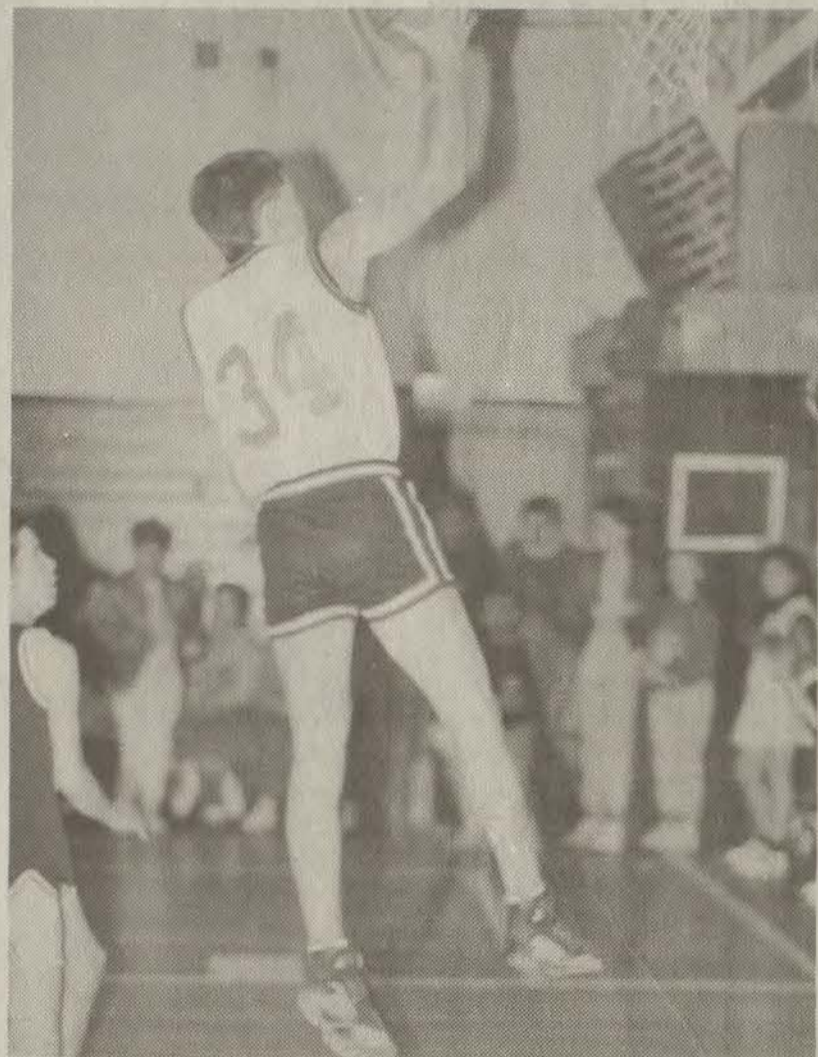

Catrell Farler finished with seven points for Auxier while Shane Hall had six. Billy Ousley, who fouled out, scored two points.

In the "B" team game, Auxier defeated the junior Bobcats 37-27 behind Greg Richmond's 12 points. Tony Honeycutt added eight points as did Clabe Hall. Catrell Farler tossed in six and Billy Hall had three.

Tommy Taulbee scored eight points for Betsy Layne and Brad Kimbler finished with seven. Brent Newson scored six while Jarad Hall and Brock Bryant had three and two points respectively. Nathan Hayes had one point.

BETSY LAYNE GIRLS WIN
Tara Kidd tossed in 17 points to lead the Betsy Layne girls past Auxier 37-27. Crystal Hamilton added six points in the Betsy Layne win while Sabrina Yates scored four.

Betsy Layne Routs Harold, 60-33

Anthony Kiser scored 23 points as the Betsy Layne Elementary Bobcats posted a 60-33 win over the Red Devils of Harold. Betsy Layne grabbed an early 4-0 lead on baskets by Kiser and on Michael Howard's lay up. The Bobcats never looked back from there.

Harold pulled to within one point of the Bobcats on a pair of free throws by J.P. Skeens. However, the Bobcats put the game away by scoring the next 12 points. Betsy Layne held a 10 halftime lead.

Besides Kiser's 23 points, Wesley Newsome added nine points. Three other players scored six points each — Rodney Hamilton, Rodney Meade, Rodney Hamilton and Michael Howard. Edmund Yates scored four points as did Tommy Newsome scored 13 points for Harold. Skeens finished with 11 points and Brian Pugh added six.

In the girls game, Harold got 24 points from Kelli Stanley as the Lady Red Devils posted a 44-34 win over Betsy Layne. The game was close in the first half. With the score tied at 16-16 on Tara Kidd's rebound basket with 1:42 remaining, Harold scored the final five points of the first half to take a 21-16 halftime lead. Crystal Gearheart started the Harold rally with a basket and Jessica Johnson followed with a field goal. Stanley capped off the five point run with a free throw.

In the second half, Betsy Layne could get no closer than six points on three occasions.

For the first 11 minutes the game was tied twice and the lead exchanged hands once before Harold took control.

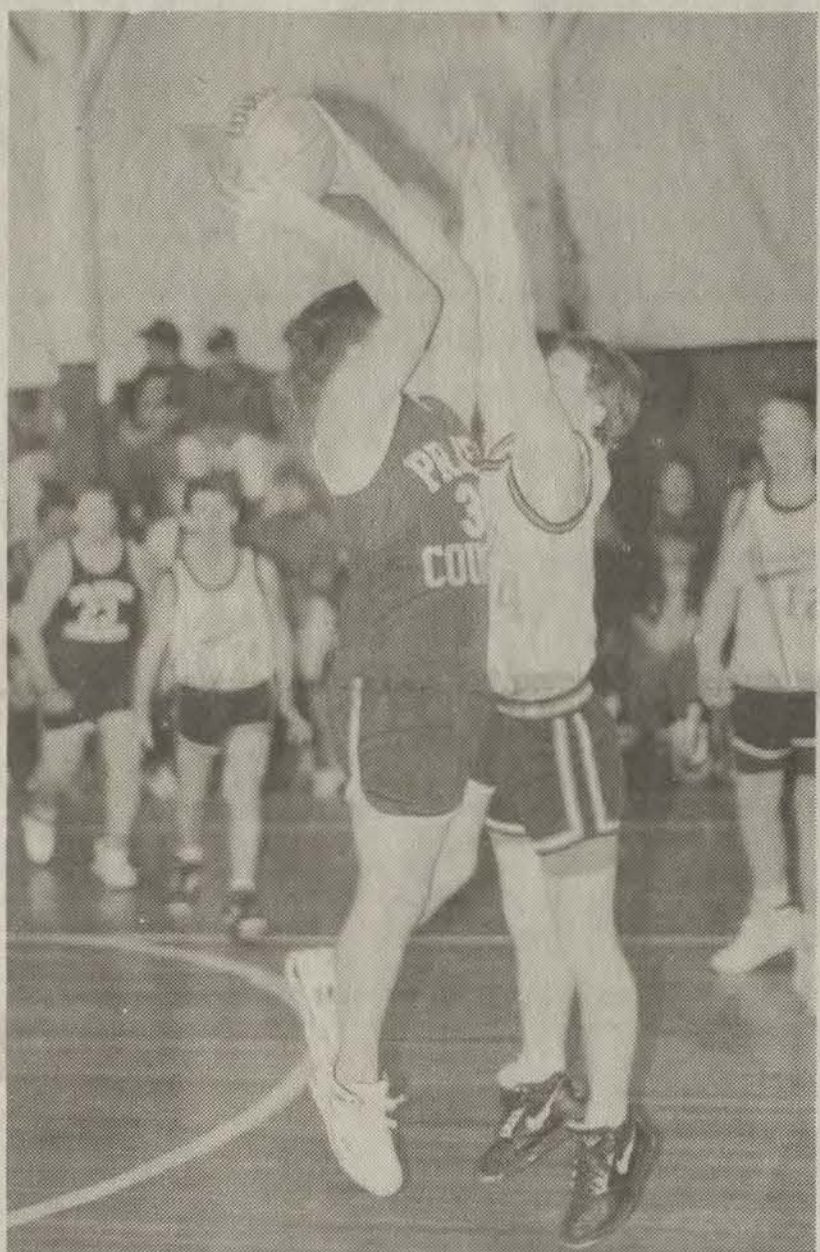

Jessica Johnson added 10 points for Harold. The biggest lead for Betsy Layne was 8-2 in the first quarter.

Tara Kidd scored 14 points to lead Betsy Layne. Sabrina Yates, Rachel Thompson and Crystal Hamilton each scored six points.

Betsy Layne will host Harold on November 25 in their next game. Harold travels to Stumbo this Monday night.

McDowell Daredevils Win Three Games To Improve To 10-3 On Year

Chris Moore scored 20 points and T.T. Pack added 12 as the McDowell Daredevils played, what their coach classified as, "their best game of the year" in posting a 69-34 win over the Wildcats of Maytown.

"We did. We played the best game we have played this year," stated Daredevil coach John Martin. "We played as well as we are capable of playing."

The two teams were deadlocked at the end of the first quarter and McDowell outscored the Wildcats 24-10 in the second period to take a 35-21 advantage to the locker room at the half.

McDowell's defense held Maytown to only six third quarter points en route to a 51-27 third quarter lead.

Terrance Mullins added 10 points for McDowell in the win and Nick Little also tossed in 10 points.

Nick Halbert led Maytown with seven points, and Jason Shannon tossed in six. Estill Stumbo scored six points and Todd Howard tallied five.

MCDOWELL OVER OSBORNE

In an earlier game, McDowell won their ninth game of the season with a 44-36 hard fought win over the much improved Osborne Eagles. The Eagles and Daredevils hooked up in what Coach Martin termed the most physical game he has coached.

"I was a rough, physical outing," he stated. "If it hadn't been for the free throws we hit, we may have been in trouble." McDowell connected on 14 of 20 attempts from the charity stripe.

Osborne held a four point 11-7 lead after the first quarter and the Daredevils came back to take a 22-21 halftime lead. The two teams were tied at the end of the third period 27-all.

Chris Moore continued his hot shooting by leading McDowell with 23 points. Mike Stephens tossed in eight points, and Nick Little added five. Mullins and Pack each scored four each.

Don Tackett led Osborne with 17 points. Aaron Hall tallied six for Osborne. Hatfield scored eight and Younce had three points.

MCDOWELL WINS EASY OVER PRATER

McDowell ran their season record to 10-3 with a 64-28 win over Prater Creek Wednesday night. It was the third straight win for Coach Martin's ball club. The Daredevils were led in scoring by T.T. Pack with 15 points. Chris Moore added 14 and Nick Little scored 13. Terrance Mullins was the fourth Daredevils to hit double figures with 10 points.

Jamie Kidd scored seven points for Prater, while Shawn Caudill added six.

McDowell will travel to Melvin Tuesday night to take on the Melvin Cougars. Prater faces Maytown at Maytown Monday night. Osborne will play Allen at home on Monday evening.

Wells, Blackburn Crowned In Homecoming Ceremonies At Auxier

It was Homecoming at the Auxier Elementary school Tuesday night and it was a typical homecoming crowd that crowded into the Auxier gym to see who would be the 1991 Homecoming winners. Named were the winners of the Little Miss Hornet crown along with Miss Hornet.

It was an exciting time for all those who had to wait through a girl's basketball game as well as a B team contest. But the big moment arrived and Brandy Wells was chosen as the 1991 Little Miss Homecoming Princess. Wells was escorted by Billy Hall. Last year's Little Miss Hornet, Tonya Honeycutt, walked to center court where she placed the princess crown on Wells' head and a cheerleader handed her the winner's trophy.

Other candidates for the Little Miss Candidate crown were Jennifer Cur-nutte, who was escorted by Lee Feltner; Nicole Moore, escorted by Michael Powers; Melissa Gail Powers, escorted by Jeffery Jones; Rachel Powers, escorted by Brandon Powers; Tiffany Rowe, escorted by Justin Hackworth.

After the Little Miss Hornet ceremonies, Jennifer Blackburn was named Miss Hornet 1991 for the Auxier school. Blackburn was escorted to center court by Shane Hall, where last year's reigning queen, Heather Stumbo, relinquished her crown to Blackburn. A cheerleader then handed Blackburn her winning trophy. Stumbo was escorted onto the court by Ricky Johnson.

Other contestants for Miss Hornet were Shelly Greathouse, who was the first runnerup. Greathouse was escorted by Thomas Wright, Melissa Spears by B.J. Ousley, Deanna Wells by Clabe Hall; Lesley Anne Wells by John White.

The staff at Auxier Elementary did an outstanding job of putting on this year's homecoming events.

GOING TO THE MAILBOX

The other day someone asked me where I was going, and I told the person that I was going to the mailbox. He wondered why I said going to the mailbox instead of going to the post office. I have a reason.

When I was growing up on Frasure's Creek, the mail was delivered to a set of boxes that were below our house. Each day we made a ritual of going to the "mailbox." At one time Irvin Collins, who still lives on Frasure's Creek, delivered the mail in a covered wagon. I often wish that I had had my camera back then so I could have a photo of Irvin and his horse-drawn wagon. It is probably just as well that I didn't have a camera for I'm sure I wouldn't have had the money for film and developing. Yet, it is still a piece of Americana that we should have. If anyone has such a photo, let me know.

During the summer vacation and on Saturdays going to the mailbox was a big diversion for me. I would listen to the debates that the older men (for some reason it was always all males who went to get the mail) engaged in, and I got the inside information on who was going out on whom and who was leaving whom. For a boy just entering his teens this was wonderful stuff. I suppose you could call it the soap opera of, not Twin Peaks, but Frasure Creek. Of course, I took the stories I heard and embellished them to my heart's content. No, I wasn't a gossip—I was a story teller.

And of course there was the mail itself. If my memory serves me right, junk mail had not made its ardent at this time. Most of the mail we got was either letters from family members or bills. Mammy, the name everyone used for my grandmother Laura Caudill, had designated me as the letter writer in the family. I must say I was a fine letter writer. Everyone else said there was simply nothing to write about. I took the things that were happening and figured they were big news and wrote about them. When a hen hatched off a new batch of baby chicks (which I still call dit-ties), I assumed everyone was just as excited about the event as I was. Family members in Ashtabula, Columbus, and other points north got the full story of the baby chicks. If one of us had to take our milk cow for her annual visit to her male companion friend, I figured everyone would want to know about this, too. From time to time we would get the packages from Sears, Aldens, or Montgomery Ward, and what excitement that was! I think I will order something from Sears so I can try to remember how exciting it really was.

When I was a junior in high school at McDowell, I took typing. Mammy said she would buy me a portable typewriter so I could type the letters. By the time I could turn out three pages of single spaced letters with no difficulty. They probably were trash, but Mammy said they were terrific letters and I believed her. I wish every boy and girl in this country could have a Mammy. The world would be a much better place.

I still go to the mailbox almost every day. I can go without the daily newspaper, but I really don't like to miss going to the mailbox. I still get excited about the mail because nearly every day there is something—the latest set of photos, the latest issue of MacWorld, the latest book from Book of the Month Club, or even checks at the end of the month. I even enjoy the sales papers. I guess that is why my room looks like Solid Waste, Inc., instead of a normal room.

Yes, going to the mailbox is a big deal for me, and I hope it continues that way. If I am satisfied with the items that come through the mail, I won't waste too much time worrying about those things that I can't afford. So until next time, see you at the mailbox.

Smile Awhile

by Sarah Hopson

A SERIOUS SITUATION

Last week while my husband and I were involved in a particularly heated discussion, he alluded to the possibility that I didn't take anything seriously.

"Oh, I don't do I," I said, placing my fingers at the corners of my lips and stretching my mouth wide apart as I stuck out my tongue at him.

"See what I mean?" he said.

"Jimmie, if I could do anything about what you're saying, I'd do it. But there aren't any solutions. It would be different if we could do something about it, but there isn't. You might as well laugh because if you cried, you'd drown."

"Thank you, I'll think about that tomorrow, Scarlett", he sneered. "We need to work these things out together."

"Okay, What do you suggest?"

"I'm asking you."

"I say let's eat a daddy-bear size dish of ice cream and think about it while we watch "Cheers."

"You're doing it again!"

Giving credit where it's due, I admit that I sometimes make light of important matters, but in my defense, I do so because there's usually nothing I can do about it. In reality, I'm a born worrier. I worry about dark moles, the ozone, AIDS, termites, herpes, clean water, war, may son's and grandchildren's educations. Believe me, if I'm breathing- I'm worrying. That is the main reason I feel his accusations were unfair and ungrounded.

When I sit down to write this column, the events of the past week cross my mind. This past week I thought about the results of the election and the impact it would have on voters. I thought about all the families in California who had lost loved ones and property due to the devastating fires they have experienced. I thought about our Lotto-crazed society where people spend money on tickets instead of buying needed food. I wondered about the tragedy of our slumping economy and what Americans were going to do about it. I thought about my grandmother in the nursing home, my family and friends who are sick and need support, my immediate family and their needs. If I spent time hunting for solutions to impossible situations, I'd stay depressed.

It's therapeutic for me to "lighten up" and find humor where I can because most problems usually rectify themselves. And if they don't I can be thankful for my faith in God and my health.

The following is a list of the things I think should be important to all Americans:

1. The slumping economy
2. Adequate medical care
3. Taxes
4. Corruption and mismanagement in Washington
5. Education
6. Traffic
7. Crime
8. Foreign policy
9. Government waster
10. Child abuse effect on society

If Jimmie wants something really heavy to think about, there they are. Of course, you'd never be able to smile again if you thought about them for long, or maybe it's me that's "nuts" by trying to find humor in everyday situations.

"Sara, if things don't improve, do you know how we're going to send J.R. to college? Jimmie asked as I set the bowl of ice cream down in front of him.

"Yeah," I laughed, "on a bicycle. But you'd better worry about his grades. If they don't improve, he won't be needing transportation."

Spotlight on Adams Middle School

J. D. Adams Middle School is organized into eight teams. There are two sixth grade teams, two seventh grade teams, two eighth grade teams, one related arts teams, and one team made up of L. D., E.M.H., the handicapped unit, and the Chapter I reading teachers.

The sixth grade teams are the pacesetters and the thoroughbreds. The teachers on the pacesetters team are: Linda Gearheart, team leader, Edith Jones and Alberta Slone. Thoroughbreds teachers are: Jane Spurlock, team leader, Jack Goodman and Brenda Minix.

Seventh grade teams are the High Flyers and the Wavebreakers. The High Flyers team is made up of Desta Price, team leader, Judy Carter, Pat Dye, and Wendell Martin. The Wavebreakers teachers are: Joyce Daniels, team leader, Dale Hamilton, and Clara Parker.

Eighth grade teams are the Shooting Stars and the TNT'S. The teachers on the Shooting Stars are Frank Honeycutt, leader, Kara Huffman and Janie Lyon. The TNT'S are Janice Allen, leader, Ann Welch and Tom Pack.

The related arts team is made up of Onda Hunt, leader, Kim Francis, Debbie Stumbo, Kathi Caudill, Ralph Dingus, and Charles Collins.

Our final team is made up of Kay Halbert in E.M.H., John Derosssett in L.D., Mary Franklin in the Handicapped Unit, and Betty Flannery, team leader, and Patricia Branson who are both Chapter I reading teachers.

Our Students are involved in more than Learning the basic skills. They are involved in music, art, home economics, computers, and physical education.

Mr. Dingus involves the children in painting murals, making pottery, sketching still lifes, etc. The music classes taught by Mrs. Kathi Caudill lead to opportunities for students to be in chorus. Some of our students went on from chorus to work with the Jenny Wiley Theater this past summer.

Debbie Stumbo is inspiring our young people, boys and girls alike, to learn domestic skills. She encourages their creativity in the projects they do.

As we all know, computers are the wave of the future. Onda Hunt, our computer expert, is working with all students to teach them the basics on which to build a greater understanding of today's technology.

Charlie Collins, coach, is teaching the students the importance of being physically fit, being part of a team, and good sportsmanship.

also leads students in publishing a newspaper. Kim is a very active with some students in using Linkway.

Mr. Pack, one of our eighth grade teachers, involved students in the construction of a greenhouse. They also work with planting seeds, growing the plants, and selling the end product.

All classroom teachers have an exploratory class. Students are introduced to various activities. In the sixth grade, Mrs. Jones is teaching the skill and challenge of chess. Mrs. Slone's class is working with appliques. They plan to begin a quilt when this project is finished. Mrs. Gearheart's room has been collecting and identifying leaves.

There will be field trips throughout the year. Every child will be given the opportunity to go. The Pacesetters have gone on a trip to Stearns and Blue Heron, Ky. One of the exciting activities was riding a train.

Our principal is Thomas Tackett. Behind every good man is a good woman. In this case, there are two. They are Brenda Vanderpool and Gaye Hatfield. They always have a smile on their face and make you feel good about yourself.
