Jones plugs prison project

At least 85 jobs to be created at new facility

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Wheelwright citizens received the news they have been anxiously waiting for Tuesday when Kentucky Governor Brereton Jones announced that a 300-bed minimum security prison will be built in their community.

"I'm here today to announce that we're going to build the prison right here in Wheelwright," Governor Jones told the several hundred that lined the streets Tuesday. "We've entered into a contract with a highly reputable firm, the U.S. Corrections Corporation. I will commit to you that we will have 100 jobs during construction and when construction is over, we'll start with 85 full-time jobs at that prison."

Governor Jones and state and local officials lauded Floyd County Sheriff Paul Hunt Thompson for his efforts to get the facility built in Wheelwright and indicated there is more in store, economically, for Floyd County.

"Sheriff Thompson has been a good friend for a long time and it is my desire to repay that friendship," Jones said Tuesday. "We're just getting started. I was told something on the way up here that meant a lot to me. Sheriff Thompson told me that I'm first governor to be in Wheelwright since Happy Chandler. That means a lot to me because Happy Chandler was a great governor."

"Unless you get tired of seeing me, this is not going to be the only time that I come to Wheelwright," Jones added. "This is the way it's supposed to be, this is real America right here. Many areas don't have the need that exists right here. We're not going to let East Kentucky be left out."

A $4.5 million contract was awarded to U.S. Corrections Corporation Monday which will operate the 300-bed minimum security facility which is scheduled to be operational in eight months.

Floyd man killed in mishap

by Geoff Belcher
Staff Writer

A Floyd County man died early Saturday morning from injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

James Keith Hall, 21, of Grethel, was driving south on Route 979 at approximately 3:45 a.m. Saturday when his car left the roadway and struck a tree.

He was not wearing a seatbelt. Floyd County Coroner Roger Nelson pronounced Hall dead on the scene.

Hall, a veteran of the United States Navy who served in the Persian Gulf, was a graduate of Betsy Layne High School and was working as a night-watchman for Buckhorn Coal at Beaver.

He is survived by his parents, James Kermit Hall, Jr. and Bertha Vance Hall; one brother, Barry Dale Hall; paternal grandparents James Kermit Hall, Senior and Geneva Hall; maternal grandparents Noah Vance, Sr. and Creasie Vance; paternal great grandparent Maudie Hall; and maternal great grandparent Lillie Mae Hamilton.

Hall was buried Monday in the James K. Hall Family Cemetery at Grethel following services at the Samaria Regular Baptist Church at Teaberry. Arrangements were provided by the Hall Funeral Home.

The accident is under investigation by the Pikeville Post of the Kentucky State Police.

Sample Ballots

This edition of The Floyd County Times includes a special supplement (for Floyd County subscribers only) detailing voting information and including official sample ballots for the upcoming November 3, 1992 General Election in Floyd County.

The supplement fails to include the polling places for two Floyd County precincts which were unavailable at press time.

- Those polling places are:
- Precinct # 16-Garrett/Rockfork-Campbell's Clothing Store.
- Precinct # 44-Allen/Dwale-Allen Fire Department.

Hal Rogers

Rogers promotes record of success, deeds

by Geoff Belcher
Staff Writer

Despite political gerrymandering which has left Republican Fifth District incumbent candidate Harold "Hal" Rogers with a brand new, primarily Democratic constituency, Rogers is confident that he will be reelected to a sixth term.

Rogers, 55, of Somerset, began his public life in 1969 when he was elected as the Pulaski/Rockcastle Commonwealth's Attorney, a capacity in which he served for more than 11 years.

He was elected to the 97th Congress in 1980 following an unsuccessful bid for the office of Kentucky's lieutenant governor. In his 11 years in the House of Representatives, Rogers has served on the House Energy and Commerce Committee; the House Appropriations Committee; the Congressional Sunbelt Caucus Task Force on Workforce Literacy; the House Task Force on Coal Exports, which he founded; the House Committee on Committees; and the Commerce, Justice, State and Judiciary Subcommittee, of which he is currently the vice chairman.

In addition, Rogers served more than eight years in the National Guard; was founder and president of the Pulaski County Industrial Foundation; was the head of the Somerset-Pulaski County Chamber of Commerce; was a Jaycee; and is active in Somerset as a member of the First Baptist Church and the Somerset Rotary Club.

Rogers has been instrumental in congress in procuring funds for projects in his home district, projects which his critics deem "pork barrel" legislation. Some

John Doug Hays

Hays offers new face, new ideas for new district

by Geoff Belcher
Staff Writer

"Change" is the watchword for Fifth Congressional District Democratic candidate John Doug Hays, who, like others in his party, is fed up with the current sluggish economy and rising unemployment rate.

Born and raised in Pikeville, Hays, 48, graduated from Pikeville College in 1967 with a Bachelor of Science degree and from the University of Kentucky in 1971 as a Doctor of Jurisprudence. He also served in the United States Air Force from 1962-1968 before earning an honorable discharge.

In 1972, Hays joined the legal partnership of Stratton, May and Hays in Pikeville. He is a practicing member of the Pike County Bar Association, the Kentucky Bar Association and has been admitted to practice in the Commonwealth of Kentucky; the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky; the United States Court of Appeals Sixth Circuit Bar; and the United States Supreme Court Bar.

Hays has been active in public service practically since graduation, serving as the president of the Pike County Public Defender's Association from 1975-1979; Pike County Judge Pro-Tem from 1976-1977; Pike County Judge Executive Pro-Tem from 1978-1979; and has been active in such organizations as the Masonic Order, Thomas Cecil Lodge, York and Scottish Rites; the First Baptist Church of Pikeville; and the National Rifle Association. He has also served as district administrator for Little League Baseball; a high school football booster; and as an area horse

Sheriff, state police net pot in raid at Harold

A Friday evening raid at Harold by Floyd County Sheriff Paul Hunt Thompson and Kentucky State Police netted 10 pounds of processed marijuana.

Also confiscated in the raid was equipment that apparently was used to grow marijuana indoors. Arrests are pending in connection with the raid, KSP said.

Trick or Treat hours are set by city, county

Trick or Treat will be observed in Floyd County on Saturday, October 31 from the hours of 5-8 p.m.

Children over 12 years of age will not be permitted to wear a mask.

The City of Prestonsburg will observe Halloween on Friday, October 30 from 6-8 p.m.

Racing panel ruling expected soon

by Geoff Belcher
Staff Writer

Eastern Kentucky Racing Incorporated officials, Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta and Floyd County Development Authority Director Darrell Gilliam saddled up Tuesday for yet another lap in the race to bring a live harness track to Eastern Kentucky.

Ched Jennings, director for Eastern Kentucky Racing, said Tuesday evening that he was very encouraged by the nature of the discussion between his group and the Kentucky Racing Commission at their meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Still, Jennings said, the commission did raise a few questions.

"I think what the bottom line is..." Jennings said, "some are of the belief that if the live track fails, Prestonsburg and Floyd County will embrace the facility as an off-track betting facility."

Latta and Gilliam assured the commission that would not happen, Jennings said.

Jennings said that part of the problem is that if Kentucky Downs were an off-track betting parlor, 94 percent of the funds generated at the facility would be channelled directly back to the breeder's fund, the state and the track where the telecast originated and Kentucky Downs would keep only six percent. If Kentucky

Downs were to remain an intertrack wagering facility, the split would be 50-50.

Jennings was unclear as to what the outcome of today's meeting would be, but said the commission would either: issue both live racing and inter-track wagering dates to Kentucky Downs with some reservations; would table the issue for further discussion; or would vote not to award live dates for 1993, thus ending Eastern Kentucky Racing's efforts for this year.

OEA investigators agree to review school charges

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

The state's Office of Education Accountability is reviewing a complaint alleging that a Floyd County School Board member, who has not been identified, threatened and intimidated school administrators.

OEA investigator Steve Yater said Tuesday that the complaint had been received and that a review of that complaint by OEA is underway.

"We are reviewing the complaint and it is under consideration," Yater said Tuesday. "We hope to make a determination (on the complaint) by sometime this week."

Prestonsburg attorney John David Caudill said last week that he had forwarded the complaint to OEA on behalf of the Floyd County Administrators Association.

Caudill said Tuesday that although the board member was not named in the letter to OEA, Frankie Francis, president of the administrator's association, had been named as the contact person for investigators to find out the identity of the board member.

Keep Halloween fun for kids of all ages, use some commonsense precautions

Halloween ghouls and boys usually seek hair-raising frights on their shadowy treks through the night.

To make sure these horrors are all in fun, trick-or-treaters should be reminded of a few simple precautions.

Terry Wescott, manager of the Department for Health Services' product safety branch, says that Halloween safety is as simple as common sense and a dose of caution.

"Generally Halloween is a young children's festivity," he said. "And they need adult supervision and guidance while out in the neighborhood and afterwards when they begin going through their candy."

"Older children who go trick-or-treating without parents should definitely go in groups for safety," Wescott said.

He offers the following tips to keep Halloween more treat than trick.

* Before leaving home, children of all ages should be reminded of common safety precautions—don't run between parked cars, don't talk to strangers or accept rides for them, stay out of high-traffic areas and strange neighborhoods, do not walk through lawns but use sidewalks instead.

* Young children need adult help in crossing streets and knowing which houses to visit. Parents should try to notice the treats given at each home in case there's a question later about the safety of a particular item.

* Children should not eat candy before parents have checked each piece for signs of tampering, such as puncture holes in wrappers or candy that has been unwrapped and repackaged.

At the October 13 meeting of the board of education, Francis told the board that administrators had been threatened by a member of the board.

"The Floyd County Administrators Association has a formal complaint that will be followed up with written documentation to the appropriate parties within the educational and legal systems," Francis read from a prepared statement at the October meeting.

"The complaints are against a member of the Floyd County Board of Education," Francis said. "These complaints are as follows, threatening bodily harm to administrators. . .threatening the elimination of administrative positions. . .threatening reprisals for administrators filing lawsuits against the board. . . superseding the superintendent in giving work performance assignments to administrators. . .creating an environment that is not conducive to efficient job performance. . .and jeopardizing the implementation of KERA in Floyd County."

Francis and Caudill have repeatedly declined to name the board member against whom the complaint was filed.

Our children deserve a quality education

KERA has provided the framework within which our teachers, parents, students, administrators, and Board can improve the quality of education in Floyd County. Teachers must improve as educators, parents must become more involved, and students must become better educated. Even though our district is among the largest in the state, a large administration is not necessarily an effective administration. Our administrators must earn their salaries by being knowledgeable, efficient and innovative. Board members must provide true leadership by setting clearly defined policies which significantly improve the educational and fiscal operation of the district.

In 1980, Hays was elected to the Kentucky State Senate, where he served Pike, Letcher and Martin counties until 1984. While a state senator, Hays served on several senate committees, including the Senate Program Review committee, as chairman; the Senate Appropriations and Revenue committee, as vice-chairman; the Senate Labor and Industry committee; and the Senate Natural Resources committee.

In 1982, Hays was named "Outstanding Democratic Senator" and "Senator With Best Floor Presentation" by his senate colleagues and "Outstanding Democratic Senator" by the working press.

Hays has consistently represented the needs of his constituents and has refused campaign contributions from political action committees and special interest groups, to the severe detriment of his campaign war chest.

Hays summed up his platform in three words in a telephone interview Monday: "Jobs, jobs, jobs."

Specifically, Hays said, his plan has three major components: job retention, job expansion and job creation. Eastern Kentucky needs to shore up its dwindling coal-based economy, Hays said, while at the same time recruiting new industry and offering incentives for industrial and economic development.

Hays unveiled a 13-point plan to revitalize Eastern Kentucky's lagging economy and to make it competitive with the rest of the nation and the rest of the world. Those 13 points include: legislation to create an agency in the Economic Development Administration for existing businesses that would provide assistance similar to that offered farmers by the U.S. Department of Agriculture; legislation to expand the role of the Small Business Administration in assisting local businesses; support for continued funding of the Appalachian Regional Commission and expand the ARC budget to its level of twenty years ago; legislation to resume and complete construction of the Appalachian Corridor Highway System; legislation to fully fund the coast-to-coast construction of I-66; tax laws which will retain the investment tax credits allowed for Devonian shale and Berean tight sands natural gas development and production; restoration of investment tax credits for those businesses which wish to expand, purchase new equipment, or increase their number of employees; legislation conducive to the development of the unlimited potential of the information processing and telecommunications industries; and legislation to increase funding of adult training/retraining facilities to prepare the workforce for job opportunities provided by the information processing and telecommunications industries.

Hays urged the people of the Fifth District to elect him, "so that we have a voice in Washington which is strongly focused on the things that will make a permanent, positive difference in our lives."

Prison

sioner Jack Lewis said he thought the bulk of the 85 jobs to be created at Wheelwright would go to local residents.

"This is a godsend (to this community)," Lewis said. "The prison is to be fully operational with 300 inmates in eight months. I hope a groundbreaking (ceremony) could be held next week."

Lewis said that the prison will house minimum security inmates that have 48 months remaining in their sentences.

The Wheelwright facility is scheduled to open in late June of 1993 and will be the third private prison operating in Kentucky.

The two other private facilities also operated by U.S. Corrections Corp. are the Marion Adjustment Center in Lebanon and the Lee Adjustment Center in Beattyville.

Corrections officials said that inmates assigned to the new Wheelwright facility will be minimum security and community custody inmates only. The state will pay U.S. Corrections $23.39 per day to house the prisoners.

Jones also touted an Eastern Kentucky Economic Development Office that has been located in Floyd County and announced that Floyd County will see a two percent increase in coal severance taxes returned to the county.

of those projects include the in-progress branch of Route 66 which when completed will pass through southeastern Kentucky; a newly-built federal prison near Somerset; and the planned Southern Kentucky Rural Economic Development Center in Pulaski County.

Rogers denies the "pork" criticisms, however, rationalizing that his district is owed the increased federal monies because it has been neglected for so long.

In his years as a congressional representative, Rogers has somewhat consistently followed the Republican Reagan-Bush party line, voting against bills that would: increase funding for Head Start and other social programs; provide some measure of gun control; allow abortion rights; increase taxes on the wealthy and cut them for the middle class; increase the minimum wage to $4.55 an hour (he voted for the increase to $4.25 an hour); and require businesses to allow workers unpaid emergency family leave.

Rogers has in the past voted against congressional pay raises, the 1990 tax increase and stayed clear of involvement in the congressional check bouncing scandal.

However, in 1991, Rogers and his wife traveled to Denver, Colorado as guests of the Colorado Broadcasters Association; spent four days at a charity golf tournament sponsored by businesses and labor unions in Sun Valley Idaho; and a two-week congressional junket to the Far East.

Many of Rogers' campaign contributions, totalling well over $400,000 at last count, have come from political action committees and special interest groups, including the National Rifle Association and tobacco lobbyists.

According to an article in the congressional newspaper "Roll Call," Rogers "fits the profile of the prototypical Obscure (congressman): His politics aren't too far to the left or right; he works hardest on those issues affecting his district; he is not well-known; and he has little trouble getting re-elected."

Rogers said Monday that his number one concern for his district at this point in time is jobs: both keeping them and creating them.

One very important way this can be accomplished, Rogers said, is by improving the infrastructure, that is improving road, water and sewer systems in the region in order to entice new industries.

Rogers has also in the past worked diligently to bring new industries to his district, and is currently involved in several new projects, including the private mail-sorting facility currently proposed by South Central Bell and Imagemark that may be built in Prestonsburg.

Despite often voting along party lines, Rogers does not identify himself with the Bush presidency.

"I'm not running for president," Rogers says, "I'm running for congressman."

Senator Bill Bradley to hold Democratic Rally for Bill Clinton

New Jersey Senator Bill Bradley will be at Prestonsburg Community College Wednesday to hold a rally for Democratic presidential candidate Bill Clinton.

Bradley, a former NBA basketball star, will appear at the college on the request of PCC's Young Democrats organization.

Also to speak at the rally will be Fifth District Congressional candidate John Doug Hays.

The rally is scheduled to begin at 12:40 p.m.

A little blacktop

Editor:
I have lived on Town Branch Road for the past 12 years. During this time I have seen the road steadily become the most travelled to Prestonsburg. I see the workforce of the city, the county officials, the law enforcement of the county and state, and the ambulance all use the road as a short cut to and from town.

Last week, October 16, the heavy blacktopping equipment rolled into the area. Enough equipment to easily resurface the entire city of Prestonsburg. But instead of surfacing the short, two-miles of Town Branch Road, the equipment was used to only patch approximately eight spots on the road.

We wonder where does our tax money go? It is a joke to us all. What is the reason for a patched road?

Some of the people who live on this road are thinking of taking up a collection, so the rest of the blacktop could be bought and put down.

In my opinion if the state is going to use it they should take care of the road and repair it properly and quit skimping on a make-do solution. Tax dollars should not be wasted on half-finished projects.

Elections and Inspiration

Editor:
Each year the citizens of the United States of America are given the privilege of electing leadership for its civil government. Furthermore, they are also given the opportunity to pass laws and modify legislation. Such a responsibility should not be taken lightly.

There is a great deal of controversy concerning the relationship of religion and politics. At least, we can find some common ground in this area by praying for the electorate and those nominated for public office to be filled with wisdom and justice.

For this reason the Floyd County Ministerial Association is calling each voter and candidate to a time of prayer the day preceding the election.

The format of this prayer service will be the reading of Scripture, the singing of hymns and prayers of intercession for our local, state and national governments. There will be no sermon or campaigning for candidates or issues. Simply we are gathering together to seek the inspiration of the Holy Spirit so that when we vote on November the 3rd, we can enjoy the assistance of God's inspiration as we seek in this as in all things the Will of God. May the Lord of Nations bless our country and its people with true justice and peace from on High!

Fr. Joseph N. Muench
President, Floyd County
Ministerial Association

voring the past three Republican administrations and its trickle down economic theories, which included votes against Head Start, WIC, family and medical leave, school-based child care for latchkey kids, and raising the minimum wage to $4.55. Rogers voted to cut $25 billion from Medicare. While ignoring this region's needs, he voted to spend billions of dollars aiding foreign nations.

One of the most important reasons to vote for Hays is that he will be able to work closer with Congress and the new president to bring worthwhile projects to the 5th District than will Rogers. Bush and Rogers' failed policies appear to be giving Democrat Bill Clinton a landslide win over President Bush and a strong Democratic majority in Congress. A Republican representing Eastern Kentucky during the next four years would be a disaster. A Democrat would be in the best position to build and reinforce the infrastructure in the region to create jobs and improve the quality of life.

I urge you to elect a neighbor to Congress. Elect Democrat John Doug Hays.

Troublesome Creek Times

Editorial

Hays for Congress

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following editorial endorsement reflects the consensus of the staff at The Floyd County Times and is the result of a vote taken Tuesday, October 27 among the newspaper's 27 fulltime employees.

Democracy at work.

It's election time again and we here at the Floyd County Times have done something a little different this year.

In order to determine who we would endorse for the office of Fifth Congressional District representative, we held our own mini-election.

And the winner is... John Doug Hays.

Status Quo has been in charge for far too long.

While Hays' opponent Harold Rogers has, over the years, done fairly well for himself and his constituents, we feel it is time for a change.

Hays, in his capacity as state senator, attorney, judge and civic leader, has consistently represented the people of Eastern Kentucky and their needs.

During his tenure as a state senator, Hays was voted "Outstanding Senator" by both his colleagues and the political watchdogs of the press.

Hays has delivered an elaborate 13-point program with specific, detailed plans for stabilizing and drastically improving Eastern Kentucky's ailing economy by bringing new jobs to the area while at the same time shoring up the sluggish coal market.

In other words, Hays has a plan, whereas others offer only vague generalities.

And he has firmly established that he is a man of quick action to complement his eloquent words.

Hays has also established a good working relationship with Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton who, the polls lead us to believe, will be the next president of the United States.

And Hays is a local boy, which don't hurt a bit.

Hays is fond of the old adage, "If you give a man a fish, he can feed his family for a day. If you teach a man how to fish, he can feed his family for a lifetime."

So head for the fishin' polls on November 3 and reel Hays in, rather than voting for Status Quo again and end up moaning about the big one that got away.

Trust

Editor:
The democrat's say trust and character isn't a issue. Well I disagree.

1. If you hire someone to work for you, you want to know if they are of good character and honest.

2. If you marry, you want someone you can trust, and will tell the truth. So I think this is one of the most important issues in the campaign. Now look at the Clinton/Gore issues.

3. They are for "Gun Control Law" this means getting rid of our guns and let the criminals take over.

4. They are for the "right to work law"—but yet they waffled around the unions and got the unions to support them—"Look Out Unions."

5. What will be their relations with Iraq? President Bush knows how to keep pressure on Hussein. Why is Hussein wanting Bill Clinton to be elected so bad? Doesn't this tell the American people to beware. We better keep a man in office that is of good character, and is honest enough to tell the American people the truth, and if he makes a mistake, he admits it. Let Bill Clinton play his "Taxaphone" while the people of Kentucky sing "Elect George Bush" for four more years.

Ann George
Prestonsburg

Every vote counts

Editor:
This is for all of the people who think their vote does not count in a national presidential election. When George Bush signed the Fair Trade Bill in August, Martin, Floyd County, Kentucky, lost a United States Shoe Company with a potential of 300 jobs. The front work had been worked out with this shoe company to locate in Martin, Floyd County, Kentucky.

One million dollars in incentives were in place to lure the company to Eastern Kentucky. The pay would have been $4.25 per hour plus fringe benefits. When President Bush signed that trade bill, the shoe company moved its new plant to Mexico because the pay was only 60 cents per hour and no benefits.

After eight years under a movie star president, and these last four under a "Read my lips, no more taxes" man, we don't need a comedian (Perot). Eastern Kentucky needs a Democrat, Bill Clinton/Al Gore ticket.

Just remember when you vote on November 3, this Republican president cost the little town of Martin, Floyd County, Kentucky, 300 jobs. We can't stand another four years of this kind of "help"! Vote the straight Democrat ticket, for our children and grandchildren. Their future is literally "in our hands!"

Strengthen our Mountain voice

Editor:
Central Kentucky legislators did their best to reduce the mountains' voice in Washington, D.C. by combining the mountain portion of the old 7th District with some of the old 5th. The people in this region still have the opportunity to elect a person who lives here and understands our special problems and needs. That person is Pike Countian John Doug Hays.

John Doug Hays obviously cares more about this region than does Republican Hal Rogers of far-away Somerset. Hays lives among us and he knows our needs. If Rogers were to win re-election, Rogers will not receive more money for staff. He will use his existing staff, presently based in the old 5th District. Will this staff want to leave their homes in the old 5th and will they be as committed to this region as where they presently live?

Democrat John Doug Hays is the best choice to help lead the 5th District into the 21st Century.

Rep. Rogers would like us to forget or forgive his voting record fa-

Committed to education

Editor:
I should like to add briefly to what was so well expressed last week in THE TIMES by Delores Smith in favor of Phyllis Honshell's candidacy for Floyd County School member from the 5th District.

I have known Phyllis since she was a teenager and know her deep convictions about education. I also know how well versed she is in the new education law (KERA), for she recently spoke to our Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club on that subject and made it much more understandable than it had been to those of us who are club members but not teachers. As pointed out by Delores, Phyllis has the background in education and the teaching experience to be a good board member and is not obligated to nor controlled by anyone. She would serve only the educational interest of the students.

Furthermore, Phyllis Honshell is an active member of her church, teaches a Sunday School class and serves on several committees there. She is a fine Christian lady, a dedicated teacher, a wife, a mother, and would make an excellent board member.

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

Well, here we go, off to the polls, down the Yellow Brick Road, through the enchanted forest filled with lions and tigers and bears and onward to the Emerald City, where life is wonderful and dreamy.

Unfortunately, we can't click the heels of our ruby slippers together and make everything better, we have to make some tough decisions at the ballot box.

For what they're worth, here are ours which, we'll add as a disclaimer, are our choices alone and they do not necessarily reflect the editorial positions of this or any other newspaper:

FOR CONGRESS

If it ain't broke, don't fix it.

It ain't.

The "new" 5th Congressional District gives those of us in the "old" 7th District a guaranteed new face in Congress for the first time in nearly half a century.

Our choice is Hal Rogers, who has had an impressive record of representing the "old" 5th District for the last 12 years.

Rogers' seat on the powerful House Appropriations Committee, which decides where the dough will be doled, is an important asset for Rogers in this race and a positive asset for this district, which needs all the help it can get.

Rogers has a history of putting his district above partisan politics, giving him the ability to transcend party lines for the betterment of his constituency. Rogers has been an effective advocate of economie development in the depressed southeast region of Kentucky, helping create the Southern Kentucky Economic Development Corporation; and a positive force in improving education by virtue of his leadership in the creation of the "Forward in the Fifth" project.

We're convinced that Rogers will deliver in the "old" 7th District the same concern and attention he has demonstrated time and again in the "old" 5th District.

The "new" 5th District will do well with Hal at the helm.

FOR SENATE

If it ain't broke, don't fix it.

It ain't.

Wendell Ford is Kentucky's most powerful ally in Washington and the most popular politician ever at home.

While we tend to relate the Senate's actions more to national and international issues, Ford's high-ranking stature is an asset we should protect.

Have you driven a Ford lately?

Take this one for a spin November 3.

FOR PRESIDENT

If it ain't broke, don't fix it.

It is.

We're going to pull a Star Trek in this race and boldly go where we've never gone before.

In the six presidential races we've voted in, we've never ventured outside the Republican frontier.

This time, though, the country has a flat that needs fixing and the GOP can't find the bumper jack.

Bill Clinton may very well put the wrong sized tire back on the truck, but we're inclined to choose anything that rolls over another four years of sitting on the side of the road.

We don't think the country will stand for a retreat of the Carter years, which eases our mind a bit on the politics of fear Clinton's opponents are employing.

We'll give Clinton a chance to get the show back on the road. If the wheels fall off, we'll beam back aboard the GOP Enterprise in four years.

THE AMENDMENTS

If it ain't broke, don't fix it.

It is.

As we've noted in the past, Kentucky's constitution is woefully inadequate, applying 19th century restrictions on 20th century problems.

Three proposed amendments to our constitution will be on the November ballot which will, if approved, dramatically alter our governmental system.

We plan to vote "yes" on each.

Criticism of Boysen misrepresented

Editor:
I am contacting you in regards to the recent furor over comments made in a legislative education technology meeting. My remarks were not made in any attempt to defend the actions of the Floyd County Board of Education but rather to express my frustration with the lack of initiative Dr. Thomas Boysen has shown in implementing the education technology portion of KERA.

For your information, I have personally disagreed with the Floyd County Board of Education members more often than many of my elected counterparts. No political entities ever agree or disagree consistently.

As a member of the Education Reform Commission that formulated KERA, concluded after many hours of testimonies that computer technology used in an elementary level plays a key role in encouraging children's ambition to learn. For example, I visited a classroom where the IBM program, "Writing to Read" was an overwhelming proven success. And, I observed a KET teacher at Western Kentucky University teach an accelerated language class to students in Glasgow and Jackson, Kentucky simultaneously, allowing small school systems the ability to offer a variety of advanced classes that would otherwise not be financially available.

But, the state school system is two years into KERA and a basic administrative linkup is not even available. My recent exasperation regarding the slow implementation of education technology has only intensified as of late because Dr. Boysen continues to press forward at an intense rate in his criticisms of school boards for their slow implementation of KERA while he apparently cannot get his own act together.

Floyd County's problems are not the only unfortunate situations surfacing in the state; yet, we are the one chosen for the spotlight. Anyone who is following KERA's progress has to understand that most local boards are experiencing their own specific problems in implementing KERA. There have been news articles regarding troubles in which the Jefferson and Fayette counties' systems have been grappling. I believe the audit that has been going on in Floyd County should occur randomly in some other school districts across the state. And, as a result of the facts gathered from these audits, comprehensive training programs should be developed to assist districts in their self management.

In addition, I was also offended with the manner in which Dr. Boysen handled the recent selection of the Floyd County Education superintendent. He took the position that no one from Floyd County was qualified to make an intelligent choice. I find that extremely offensive in that it feeds the old images of East Kentuckians that we are so desperately trying to overcome. I was raised believing that this country does not discriminate against individuals or groups because of race, sex age ... or the area of the state from which they come. But, Dr. Boysen has indicated through his hiring practices in Floyd County that Floyd Countians just aren't intelligent enough to make those decisions for themselves.

The effect of such thinking is that if Bert Combs were alive today he could not serve as superintendent of schools in his home county.

Aside from that, it is apparent to me as one who has children in the Floyd County school system and a wife who teaches there, that the continuous disruption to our school system is psychologically damaging to both entities. This continuing public controversy is totally demoralizing and embarrassing. One student confided to me that during the last state tournament he was embarrassed to tell people he met that he attended school in Floyd County. For the students and teachers, wrong does need to be prosecuted and we need to move forward.

And, Floyd County students are progressing in spite of the difficulties. Our most recent assessment test scores were average compared to the rest of the state. Of course, we don't want to be average and will strive to raise those test scores. But, my point is that our students are achieving the norm according to the state's own testing mechanism, so the local system must be working to a certain degree and not in total ruin as the media would have readers believe.

I feel that my criticisms of Dr. Boysen are totally misinterpreted. I was and am still totally committed to KERA. But, because of my recent frustrations over the lack of progressive movement in computer technology, I felt compelled to publicly question Dr. Boysen's motives. As a primary sponsor of education reform, I and other General Assembly members promised the taxpayers, the children and parents that education would be much improved as a result of KERA. By getting the computer technology portion of reform moving forward, we will be giving the public a visual reality to our promise and I am frustrated because it is still only a promise. And, until I see the realization of this important facet of KERA, I will continue to publicly voice my concerns.

Farmers urged to vote for Amendment No. 3

Editor:
On November 3rd the voters of our Commonwealth can take a significant step towards better government by approving Amendment #3 to the state constitution. Amendment #3 would change the Commissioner of Agriculture, Secretary of State, and State Treasurer from elective posts to appointed ones and the appointees could also serve successive terms. The Amendment would also do away with the Railroad Commission, Register of Land Office, and Superintendent of Public Instruction. Enabling legislation for the amendment will make these appointive offices subject to confirmation by the state senate.

This change will bring the Commissioner of Agriculture into the Governor's inner circle of decision makers—much like the Human Resources Cabinet, Transportation Cabinet, and Economic Development Cabinet. This will allow agriculture representation during the meetings when important decisions are being made, not only affecting the state's farmers but all aspects of state government. This is the system by which the Federal Government operates, with a President-appointed Secretary of Agriculture subject to approval by the U.S. Senate.

We all know that the farmers and rural people do not have the votes anymore to elect a Commissioner of Agriculture—just look at the amount of registered voters from Louisville, Lexington, and Northern Kentucky. Providing for the Commissioner to be appointed will allow direct input from the state's agriculture community as to who will serve in that important position.

Join with Farm Bureau, Commissioner Ed Logsdon, the producer groups, and many other interested citizens to improve state government, and VOTE YES FOR AMENDMENT # 3!

No puppet on a string

Editor:
In response to Delores Smith's letter to the editor:

I wasn't aware that the "Letter to the Editor" column was to be used for "political campaigning."

Being a candidate myself, I could have saved myself a lot of money on advertisements.

As far as for Delores Smith, I could care less who she endorses—That's her right. I feel like the people are looking for someone who will not be a "puppet on a string."

Remember the draft at the polls

Editor:
Imagine it's 1993 and a Middle East crisis is brewing with Saddam Hussein or another tyrant threatening to take over control of over 50 percent of the world's oil supply. Besides this, most of the Arabs are united for an invasion to wipe Israel off the map.

President Clinton is suddenly forced to reinstate the draft to bring our armed forces up to decent numbers so we can save Israel and protect our oil interests.

What happens when thousands of our 18-24 year olds take to the streets in mass protests and declare they won't die for Israel and oil. Again draft cards and our flags are burned in the streets. Once again we hear "Hell no we won't go!" The main reason most will refuse the draft is because they know President Clinton also refused to serve. If Clinton wouldn't help the South Vietnamese preserve their freedom then why should they fight for oil and Israel?

As a Vietnam veteran I have no problem with conscientious objectors or those who fled to Canada for ideological reasons. However, I have a real problem with Bill Clinton in that he set out to beat the draft and got away with it. He lied, broke promises to take an ROTC commission and continues to cover up the truth on how he got out of two induction notices in one year. Clinton's roommate at Oxford, attorney Cliff Jackson, calls him a "draft dodger" and writes "More precisely, the draft issue is about how you maneuvered to void a draft notice already issued to you and to avoid reporting on your scheduled induction." For the rest of the story on Clinton and the draft, see the October 19 issue of the US News and World Report.

If the economy was better Clinton would be at the bottom of the polls. As a Democrat it saddens me to think that we might elect a man who doesn't remember Jennifer Flowers but remembers he didn't inhale his marijuana and has forgotten about his draft problems!! Clinton is either reckless with truth or has a very poor memory; either way we don't need him leading our country.

Vote November 3rd

Editor:
As you think about the November 3rd presidential and local elections, you need to consider several issues.

First, make sure you vote. You have a God-given responsibility to participate in the role of government in this nation, the privilege of choosing those rulers who will make laws and decisions that affect much of your life. Failure to vote may not be a sin, but it is neglect of duty.

Second, pray about your decision. The Scriptures tell us to pray vigorously, consistently, and intelligently for our civic leaders so we "may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and dignity." (1 Timothy 2:2)

Vote November 3rd you will have discharged your responsibility and the rest is in the hands of the Lord who rules over nations and men.

Defense wants Johnson sheriff exhumed

An attorney has asked a judge to order the exhumation of slain Johnson County Sheriff Cecil Eugene Cyrus's body for an autopsy that was never performed, although one was required by law.

Ronald Rigg, an attorney for defendant Flem Burchett, said Monday that there is evidence another person's gun might have killed Cyrus. His motion, filed Friday in Pike Circuit Court, said Cyrus, 56, might have been shot "from an angle from which the defendant could not have fired."

Burchett, 63, of Oil Springs, was charged with capital murder in the shooting of Cyrus on March 18, when the sheriff went to Burchett's house to return him to a rape trial.

Kentucky State Police allege Burchett shot Cyrus in the head with a shotgun as the sheriff stood on Burchett's front porch. Burchett then allegedly shot himself with the same gun.

Burchett is in the Pike County Detention center awaiting an April 5 trial. The case was moved to Pike County because of possible prejudice against Burchett in Johnson County. — Lexington Herald-Leader

Ky. Power settles case on contamination

Kentucky Power Inc. has settled a 1985 chemical contamination case with 44 ex-salvage workers and will offer testimony against the two other corporate defendants, an attorney said Monday.

The confidential settlement, reached Friday, was the third in about a month. It came after out-of-court deals with General Electric Corp. and Allis-Chalmers Corp. With the case scheduled for trial November 9, Westinghouse Corp. and Monsanto Company are the only remaining defendants.

Larry Webster, an attorney for the former Libby Iron & Metal Company workers, indicated he thought Kentucky Power settled because the larger companies appeared to be directing the blame at the utility during an October 12 hearing in Pike Circuit Court.

The workers allege they were exposed to the PCBs — or polychlorinated biphenyls — when they dismantled transformers and capacitors to get at the copper inside. The suit claims the companies — all manufacturers and distributors of the components — knew about the dangers but failed to warn the workers.

Attorneys for Monsanto — which manufactured the PCBs — and Westinghouse argued during this month's hearing that they provided warnings to Kentucky Power. They said that Libby was not an intended user of the products and that there was no duty to warn the scrap yard. — Lexington Herald-Leader

Ex-official, wife plead not guilty

Gregory Nelson Holmes, former assistant attorney general, and his wife, Kathryn Harmon, were arraigned Monday before Jefferson Circuit Judge Steve Ryan.

Dr. Diane Elaine Shafer, who has claimed that she is married to Holmes and was also scheduled to be arraigned, did not appear.

By agreement of the court and the prosecuting attorney's office, Shafer, a Paintsville orthopedic surgeon, will be arraigned in Jefferson Circuit Court Monday. She has been charged with bribing a public official.

Holmes and Harmon, who live in Jefferson-town, entered not guilty pleas to 13 counts of theft by deception and one county of bribery of a public official. Holmes pleaded not guilty to a charge of bigamy.

Holmes was fired July 24 from his job with the attorney general's office for allegedly having an affair with Shafer while he was investigating a complaint against her for the state medical licensing board.

Shafer later claimed that she and Holmes were married December 30, 1989, just ten days before Holmes recommended dismissing the complaint against her. Holmes denies he was ever married to Shafer, or that he ever had an affair with her. — Lexington Herald-Leader

Mays Ribbon cutting

Among the many activities during Morehead State University's recent Homecoming Weekend was the ribbon cutting ceremony for Mays Hall Apartments which re-opened this fall. Originally opened in 1937 as a men's residence hall, it was later named for the late J. T. Mays, an MSU faculty member who served as hall director. Now an apartment-style facility, the hall underwent a $3.4 million renovation. On hand for the ribbon cutting were, from left, Ernie Conyers of Owingsville, student manager of Mays; Ruth Ann Harney, MSU housing area coordinator; Kenny White, MSU director of housing; Joe Planck, MSU director of physical plant; Tim Morris, representing CMTA Engineers of Lexington; Jim Davis and Richard Gwinn of Woodford Builders, Inc., of Lexington; Martha Tarrant of Ross-Feldman Architecture, Inc., of Lexington; Mike Mincey, MSU vice president for student life; Chando Mapoma, Student Government Association president and representing Mays residents; John Rosenberg of Prestonsburg, MSU Board of Regents member; Sonny Jones of Frankfort, MSU Alumni Association president; Bob McCray of North Middletown, brother of Mrs. J. T. Mays, widow of the building's namesake; Dr. C. Nelson Grote, MSU president emeritus and MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin. (MSU photo by Eric Shindelbower)

Wear red ribbon in support of drug-free Floyd County

School children all across the Commonwealth, including Floyd County, will be wearing red to show their support for a healthy-drug-free lifestyle.

Governor Brereton Jones has proclaimed October 26-November 2 "Red Ribbon Week" in Kentucky. This celebration is co-sponsored by the Cabinet for Human Resources' Division of Substance Abuse, the Governor's Champions Office, and the National Federation of Parents for a drug-free youth.

"Our administration wants every child and young adult in Kentucky to have the best possible advantages as they grow up. We all too often see the destruction of young lives through involvement with drugs," Jones said. "A drug-free environment is our goal, and drug awareness is our best way of helping the youth of Kentucky to steer clear of this pitfall. Red Ribbon Week is an important part of spreading this message."

"The main purpose for Red Ribbon Week and the Red Ribbon Rally, (to be held on October 28) is to raise awareness. The Red Ribbon Week and rally will help communities focus attention on what they can do to prevent drug and alcohol abuse through programs such as Champions and school-based prevention," said Mike Townsend, director of the Substance Abuse Division.

The Red Ribbon Week movement began after the 1985 slaying of federal drug agent Enrique Camarena by drug traffickers in Mexico. Wearing a red ribbon during Red Ribbon Week symbolizes opposition to the illegal use of drugs.

"The national campaign began six years ago, and Champions had watched the statewide rally go from a modest celebration of under 50 people gathered in the Capitol Rotunda, to an expansive crowd of over 3500 at the Civic Center," said Doug Flynn, executive director of the Governor's Champions Office.

"This year's theme, Drug-Free and Proud, reminds us of our commitment to establishing drug-free communities for all of Kentucky, especially our children," said Flynn.

The Red Ribbon Rally will be held on October 28 at the Frankfort Civic Center and will begin at 11 a.m.

Scheduled to appear will be this year's honorary co-chair Governor Brereton Jones, former UK basketball standouts Richie Farmer and Kyle Macy, 1992 Olympic swimmer Megan Kleine, former Miss Kentucky Basketball Brigette Combs, and Champions executive director Doug Flynn.

For further information about the rally, or how your community can participate in Red Ribbon Week, please contact the Drug Information Service for Kentucky (DISK) at 800-432-9337.

Bradley, Riley to participate in Morehead theatre production

Two Floyd County residents will participate in the production when Morehead State University Theatre students present "Anything Goes," one of the most popular Broadway musicals.

Scott Bradley of Prestonsburg, son of Butch Bradley and Lana Hensley, will be a member of the orchestra. A freshman music education major, he is a member of the Marching Band.

Donetta Riley, daughter of Don and Naomi Riley of Harold, will portray Mrs. Harcourt. A junior theatre and public relations major, she is a member of the MSU Players and Theta Alpha Phi national honor theatre fraternity.

Show time, set for the stage of Kibbey Theatre, is 8 p.m. October 29-31 and November 3-7. A 2 p.m. matinee is scheduled for Sunday, November 8. Tickets are $6 for adults, $2 for senior citizens and students, and free to MSU students with valid I.D. cards. Because of limited seating, reservations are required.

ASCS announces disaster program and county committee election

Farmers whose crops may have been adversely affected by weather or related conditions in crop years 1990, 1991 and 1992, should contact their local ASCS Offices to find out if they may be eligible for disaster claims on these losses.

Producers who bought Federal Crop Insurance for their crops must have losses greater than 35 percent to qualify; those who do not have FCIC must have 40 percent losses. The program provides cash payments for production losses on participating or nonparticipating corn, tobacco and all commercial nonprogram crops. Signup began October 13 and will extend thru February 12, 1993.

Petitions for the 1992 County Committee election were mailed to all known eligible producers on September 30. Anyone who may be interested in running for the Community Committee in Knott County or the County Committee in Floyd County must have his petition complete and returned to the County office no later than close of business November 2.

Any person of legal voting age who is eligible to take part in any ASCS program is eligible to run for the county committee. Ballots will be mailed to all eligible voters by November 27, and must be returned by December 7. Anyone who feels he/she is eligible to vote and does not receive a ballot may obtain one by contacting the ASCS Office.

KNOW YOUR FARM PLAN

If farmers want to retain eligibility for 1993 USDA benefits, it is important that they know before planting whether the land has had a highly erodible (HEL) or wetland determination by the Soil Conservation Service. Once a crop is planted in violation of HEL or wetland requirements, they will not be eligible for 1993 benefits, therefore any farmer who is planning to participate in 1993 farm programs should contact the ASCS or SCS office immediately to determine if land they are intending to plant has had a HEL or wetland determination and whether he/she is in compliance with the conservation plan for the farm.

For further information, contact your ASCS Office by calling 785-5402 in Hindman or 886-8738 in Prestonsburg.

Vote for JEFFREY PRATER School Board Member District 5

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE AREAS I WOULD LIKE TO SEE IMPROVED:

- (1) More parent-teacher involvement
- (2) Increased student motivation
- (3) Increased funding for classroom supplies
- (4) More communication between administrators and school employees

I would always welcome the suggestions of all those interested in improving Floyd County schools.

I NEED THE SUPPORT OF ALL INTERESTED PERSONS IN DISTRICT 5.

Number 2 on the Ballot

Day of pleasure

October 18, 1992, was the 10th Annual Day in the Park. The event, sponsored by WMDJ and the First Guaranty Bank, has attracted droves of country music fans over the years. This year was no exception. Thousands came out to enjoy the food and fun at Day in the Park.

The event is a huge money-maker for various organizations throughout the county. The folks could buy balloons for the kids from the Allen Volunteer Fire Department and funnel cakes from the McDowell High School Majorettes, just to name a few. Most any kind of food was available, except for alcoholic beverages (which are prohibited because Day in the Park is truly a family event.)

Day in the Park also gives local talent the opportunity to gain exposure in their own area. This year's crowd was entertained by Middle Age Crazy. A favorite for years, Prime Country, was also on hand at the park. Westwind played a great set, especially with the help of a young boy who could give Billy Ray Cyrus a run for his money in the dancing department. The always consistent Marlow Tackett and Music Company was the highlight of the day for many folks at the park. There was entertainment for everyone.

In past years, Jerry Clower, Earl Thomas Conley, Trisha Yearwood, and others played to a crowd of people. This year's Day in the Park featured veteran performer, Steve Wariner. Wariner, a native Kentuckian, wowed the crowd by playing hit after hit. The audience (well, mostly women) responded to him with loud screams and thunderous applause.

After his performance, Wariner spent a long while greeting fans and signing autographs. He is a true gentleman; he was friendly and courteous with each and every one of his fans.

Day in the Park is a fall highlight for the folks in this area. Each year, Dale McKinney and his crew put together a wonderful day of entertainment. Young and old alike come out to see friends, eat good food, and hear great country music. Best of all, Day in the Park has always been free-of-charge. Anyone who wants to come just needs an old blanket or a lawn chair to sit on and WMDJ provides the rest. It is a wonderful Floyd County tradition.

Marvin Boswell's family is sure his loss to prostate cancer could now be prevented.

Marvin's widow and son watched prostate cancer rob him of his freedom, his dignity and finally, his life.

"It was a wicked tumor. But he'd had a lot better chance if we had gotten it early...a lot better chance of living 15 to 20 more years." His son, John, is an M.D., a Pathologist familiar with cancer. "Unfortunately for my dad the P-SA (prostate-specific antigen test) was not shown to be an effective screening test until January, 1990." Too late to help. At the same time, Marvin knew something was wrong. His wife noticed his frequent need to urinate, his discomfort. But his constant response was "I'm doing fine. I'm doing better now." He refused, until too late, to see a doctor. He hid his fear and his pain from his own physician-son.

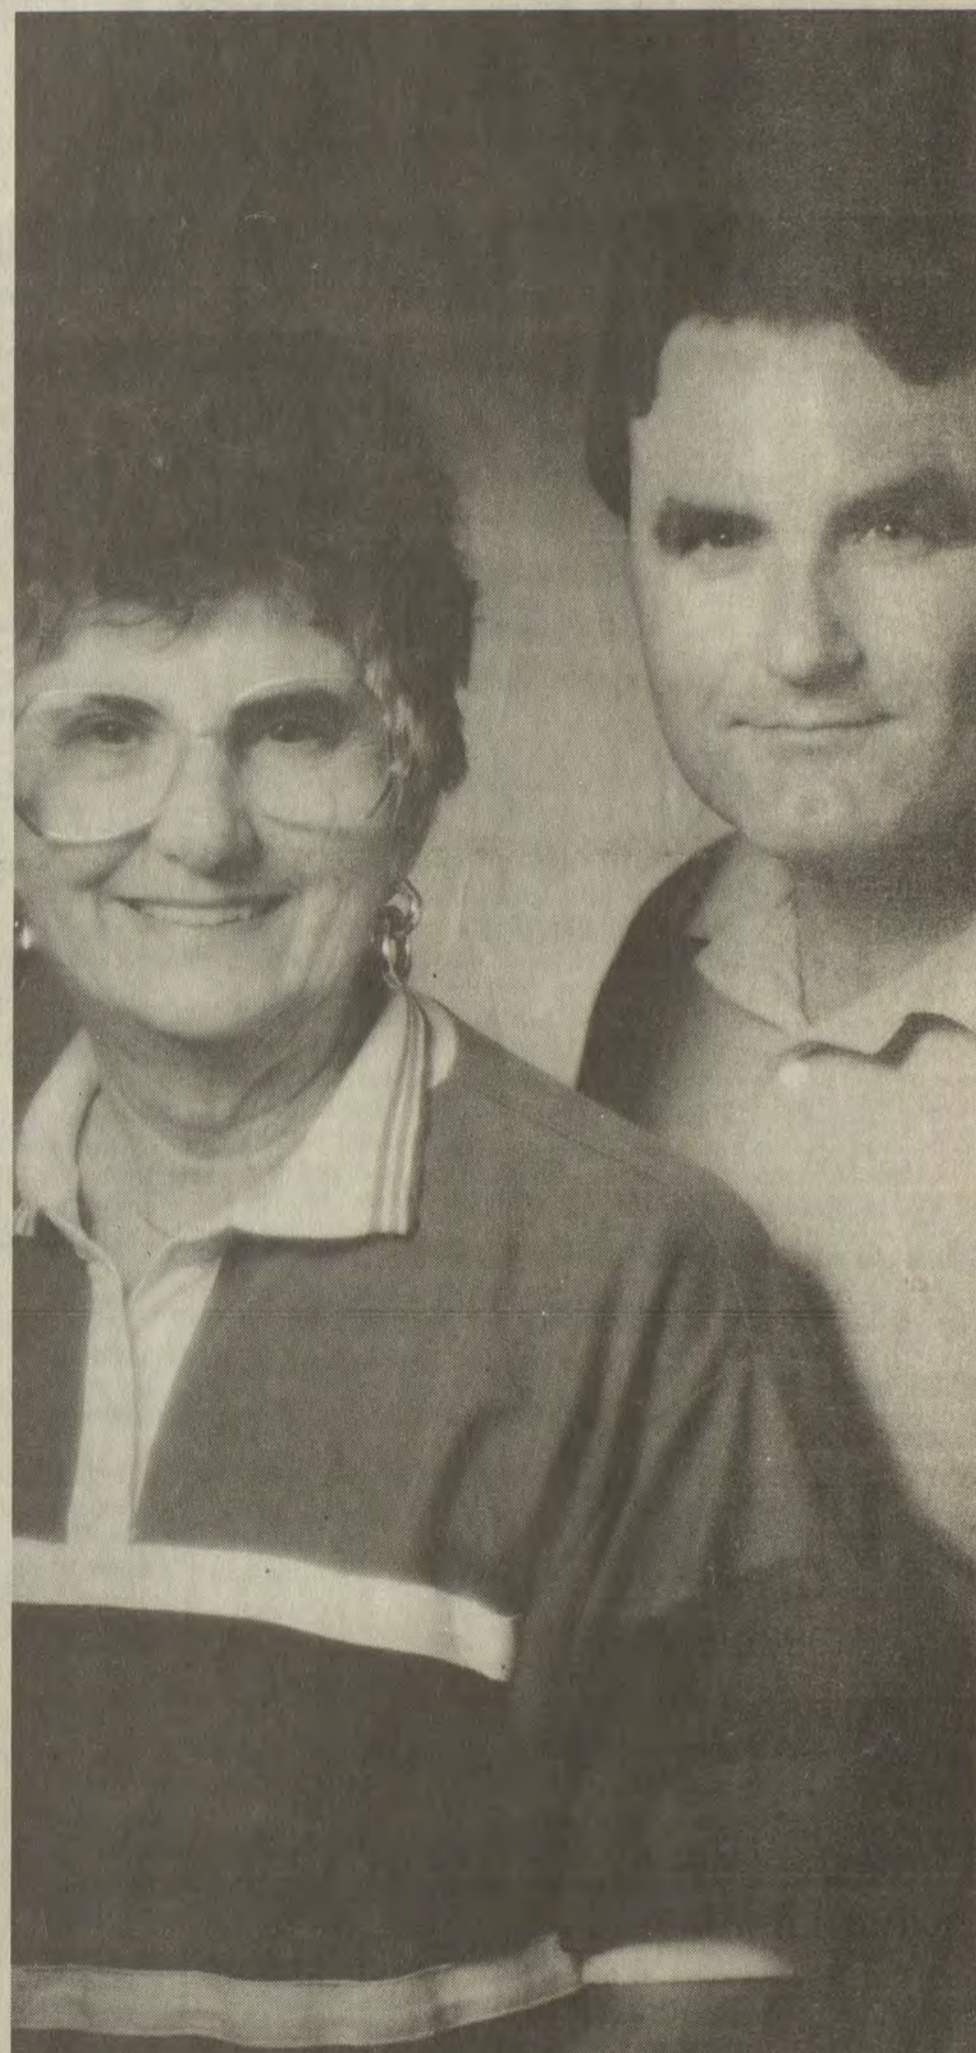

Every man should take the free Cancer Test risk assessment. This would have revealed Marvin's family history and perhaps prompted him to take action.

"Every man over 55 should have a P-SA screening. This could save your life. Think about dying at 60 to 65 as opposed to 80, 85 and all the things you want to do — teach the grandchildren to play baseball... to go fishing..."

James Keith Hall

James Keith Hall, 21, of Grethel, died Saturday, October 24, in Harold, from injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

Born July 14, 1971 in Grethel, he was the son of Bertha Vance and James Kermit Hall Jr. of Grethel. He was a night watchman for Buckhorn Coal at Beaver. He was a graduate of Betsy Layne High School and has served in the U.S. Navy, Persian Gulf.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by one brother, Barry Dale Hall of Grethel; paternal grandparents, James Kermit Sr. and Geneva Hall of Beaver; maternal grandparents, Noah Vance Sr. and Creasia Vance of Beaver; paternal great-grandparent, Maudie Hall of Grethel; maternal great-grandparent, Lillie Mae Hamilton of Beaver.

Board okays tax increase

Mary Hall casts the deciding vote.

Two years after the largest school tax increase in history, Mary Hall cast the deciding vote to raise taxes AGAIN in the school board meeting on Tuesday, October 13.

School Board Spending

Taxpayer's money

The current School Board budget is over $30,000,000.

How is it being spent?

Ed Patton will account for every dime of your tax money spent.

Ed Patton would never pay $400,000 for a $56,000 piece of property.

Ed Patton will make sure that the school system's administrators are doing the job they're paid to do.

Ed Patton will not raise taxes; he will trim the fat.

Louisville hosts Kentucky Baptists' 155th annual meeting

Southern Baptists from throughout Kentucky will convene in Louisville November 9-11 for the 155th annual meeting of Kentucky Baptist Convention. St. Matthews Baptist Church, 3515 Grandview Avenue, will host the three-day event.

Meetings have been scheduled by several ministerial groups and professional associations. Colleges, seminaries and auxiliary groups will hold reunions at various locations throughout the week. The 1992 KBC Program will list names, locations and times for these gatherings.

Convention sessions will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, November 10 and 11. The theme for 1992 is "Jesus Christ: Our foundation, our focus, our future." Glenn Mollette, pastor, First Baptist Church, Pikeville, will preside as president. He will deliver his president's message on Tuesday, 11:00 a.m.

Program personalities include Larnelle Harris, Tuesday evening, Dellanna O'Brien, Wednesday afternoon, and Paul Powell, Wednesday evening, Harris, Louisville, is a contemporary gospel music artist, composer and five-time Grammy winner. O'Brien is executive director, Woman's Missionary Union, Southern Baptist Convention, Birmingham. Powell is president, Annuity Board, Southern Baptist Convention, Dallas.

Numerous Cooperative Program and commercial exhibits will be on display throughout the convention. Cooperative Program exhibits include those from the various programs and institutions funded with Cooperative Program monies, such as Kentucky Baptist Convention departments, schools and colleges, assemblies; Foreign Mission Board; and Southern Baptist Sunday School Board. Baptist Hospital East, Louisville, will offer messengers a wide variety of health screenings. Commercial exhibits include Baptist Book Store and other companies offering programs and materials for use in churches and various ministries.

Church members, visitors and elected messengers will begin registering at 10 a.m. Monday, November 9, at St. Matthews Baptist Church.

Persons wishing additional information about the Kentucky Baptist Convention schedule, commercial exhibit space, services or special arrangements may contact the executive office of the Kentucky Baptist Convention, 10701 Shelbyville Road, Louisville, Kentucky 40243-0433; (502) 245-4101; or St. Matthews Baptist Church, Louisville.

Kentucky Opry Junior Pros receive grant

The Kentucky Opry Junior Pros received a $20,000 grant from Martin County Coal Corp. (MCCC) recently to be used for continuing music education and promotion, according to Larry Jones, president of MCCC.

Currently, the group is comprised of students from third grade through 12th grade from Pike, Floyd, and Magoffin counties. Recruitment efforts are ongoing and the next talent search is scheduled for Martin County.

"The most important aspect of this program is the increased self-esteem that develops in the children who become a part of the Kentucky Opry Junior Pros," said Jones. "Because staying in school is a requirement for participation, grade point averages are rising and potential drop outs are being reached."

After auditioning to be in the group, students receive private instrument and voice lessons in place of their regular music class at school. They rehearse as a group three times a week and perform weekly at the Jenny Wiley Summer Outdoor Theater. The group also is scheduled to perform for groups all over the country, has made television appearances and is preparing to record an album.

One year old

Cody Wayne Ray, son of Johnny and Shawntel Ray of Wheelwright, celebrated his first birthday at the Wheelwright Community Park on July 10.

The theme for his party was Sesame Street. He received many gifts. A Sesame Street cake and refreshments were served to all friends and relatives attending.

Those attending were Shell, Jamie and Heather Newsome of Wheelwright; Samantha Trammell and daughter of Wheelwright, Justin and Stephanie Slone of Ohio, Kathleen, Justin and Kourtney Hall of Wheelwright, Mike, Patricia, Mike Jr. and Keisha Blocker of Melvin, Scottie and Samantha Ray of Wheelwright, Kyle Walker Ray of Melvin, Virgil Jr. and Robin Lynn Slone of Hi Hat, Rosetta Collins and son Erik of McDowell.

Paternal grandparents are Larry and Wanda Ray of Wheelwright. His paternal great-grandparents are Victor and Alice Ray of Beaver, Victoria Flannery of Wheelwright, and the late Charlie Flannery. Maternal grandparents are Jerry W. Robinette of Holbrook, California, and Rosetta Collins of McDowell. Maternal great-grandparents are Nancy Leedy of Hi Hat and the late Tolva Leedy, and Pauline Robinette of Banner and the late Glenn Dalton Robinette.

Seth turns one

It was just one year ago on October 26, 1991 that Eric Sethaniel Jones came into the world to make Rick and Janie (Webb) Jones proud and happy parents.

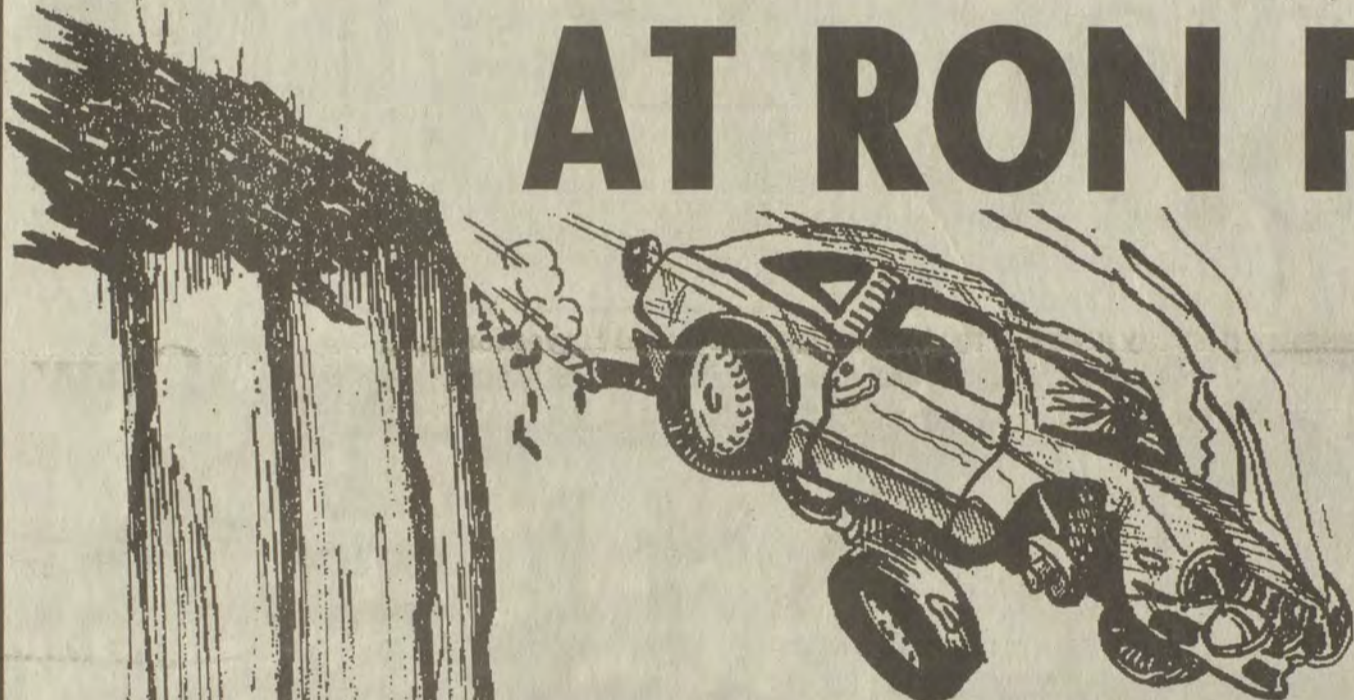

Seth was born in Louisville, Ky., weighing 7 lbs. and 6 3/4 ozs. and was 21 inches long. He has thrived during his first year and is a healthy 22 lbs., 31 inches tall and has added 7 teeth to his smile.

In addition to his parents, Seth has brightened the lives of his parental grandparents, Roland and Ellarie Jones and his maternal grandmother, Mary Frances Webb all of Printer.

To celebrate his first eventful year Seth, along with his parents, hosted a small party at their home in Printer. Seth and his guests were served cake, ice cream and milk. They enjoyed decorations of balloons, streamers, and a special "Happy Birthday" banner. Seth and his parents wish to thank family and friends for their good wishes and gifts.

Seth is also the grandson of the late Walter Webb. He is the great-grandson of Mrs. Della King of Plymouth, Ohio, the late Henry King, the late Charlie and Lottie Jones, the late John and Hattie Bradley Barney, and the late Albert and Allie Webb.

Patton, Floyd lead Rebels to second win over Magoffin

Sheldon Compton
Contributing Writer

Coach Dewey Jamerson's Allen Central Rebels continue to look sharp in the second half of the season.

Allen Central traveled to Magoffin County this past Friday to play a struggling Magoffin County Hornets team who has failed to post a victory all season long.

When the smoke cleared, it was the same old song for the Hornets as Allen Central held on for their second win of the year, giving Magoffin County their ninth straight loss, 21-8. It was the Rebels' second win in their past four games.

The action started on the Hornets second possession after both teams had been forced to punt earlier when Greg Dyer scored from one yard out on third-and-goal. The score boosted the team's spirit and on the conversion attempt, Dyer busted through the Rebels' defense for an 8-0.

The Hornets scoring drive covered 55 yards, but Magoffin County only gained 11 yards on offense as the Rebels were hit hard by penalties that sustained the Hornets drive.

"Our defense tightened up," said Jamerson. "But we played well against Magoffin County. We had to. We had two goal line stances."

The Hornets score must have also jiggled Allen Central's nerve and it was obvious after a 74-yard kickoff return by Dan Stumbo who was stopped at the one-yard line. Patton followed with the TD run. The Rebels gave the ball again to Patton on the conversion and he found the end zone to tie the game 8-8.

Magoffin County then received the ball with 2:57 left in the first quarter but could not come up with a score to give a secure lead due to an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty that left the Hornets facing a third-and-18 situation. The Hornets had to settle with a punt.

What followed was as well as an engineered scoring drive as I've ever seen. The Rebels took four first downs, eleven plays and two costly penalties against Magoffin Co. and turned it into eight points with a 23-yard touchdown run by Glenn Floyd. The two-point conversion failed but the Rebels had the lead for good, 14-8.

Again it seemed that one team fueled the other as the Hornets bounced back with a 12 play drive that ended in frustration as the Rebels took over on downs.

On their next possession Allen Central threatened again but found themselves in a fourth-and-nine desperate ordeal. The Rebels surprised everyone with a sneak punting play as a pass from Brad Blackburn fell incomplete.

Magoffin County let penalties hamper their next possession and again gave the ball over to the Rebels.

The Hornets survived Allen Central's possession and forced the Rebels to punt, getting the ball with 6:38, only to drive 41 yards and fumble the ball away.

The Rebels could not take advantage of the fumble recovery and gave possession to the Hornets, giving them another chance to tie the game in the fourth. Magoffin went ten plays and lasted four first downs, and just when it looked as if they were going to score, Greg Dyer fumbled on a third (See Rebels, B 2)

Blackcats shut out Morgan County 48-0

Chuck Rowe
Sports Writer

As the Prestonsburg Blackcats entertained the Morgan County Cougars this past Friday night, the Blackcats were coming off an emotional win over Sheldon Clark to take sole possession of first place in the district, having a perfect 4-0 record in the district and 7-1 overall going into Friday night's game. Morgan Co. was 2-6 overall and 1-4 in the district.

"We believe that our passing game is coming along as the season progresses and we feel our running game is very strong," Blackcat head coach Bill Letton said. "We hope the team is building to a peak as the playoffs get closer."

Before the game was played, the Blackcats introduced the senior football players, cheerleaders, and band members as they walked onto the field with their parents, who received flowers and baseball caps.

Morgan County received the opening kickoff and started their first series of downs on their own 30-yard line. The Blackcat defense looked tough early as the Cougar offense moved the ball only one yard on three plays and was put in a punting situation.

The Blackcat offense took over on their own 27-yard line looked as good as the Prestonsburg defense when they gained 12 yards on an encroachment call against the Cougars and a 7-yard run by Dewayne Garza.

On the next play, on first and ten from the Blackcat 39-yard line, Aaron Tucker hit Thomas Ratliff for a 61-yard touchdown pass with 9:31 left in the first quarter. Marcus Araujo's kick was good to make the score 7-0 at the end of the first quarter.

At the end of the first quarter, the Cougar offense seemed to be moving the ball until the Blackcat defense toughened up and held the Cougars to a fourth and two. The Cougars punted the ball, setting up a touchdown drive by the Blackcats from their own 36-yard line.

As the Blackcats picked up a first down, on a run of four yards by Seth Hyden and a run of 19 yards by Garza, the Blackcats faced a second down and 10 from the Cougar 39-yard line. On the next play, Jody Cornette received the ball on a reverse and sprinted 33 yards to the six-yard line that set up a first down and goal. The Blackcats' second touchdown came on a six-yard run by Hyden with 7:56 left in the first half. Araujo's kick was good to make the score 14-0.

The Cougars' offense could not get rolling as the Blackcats held them again setting up another Cougar punt that the Blackcats took over on the Cougar 28-yard line.

The Blackcat offense took over where the defense left off driving 27 yards on six plays down to the Cougar one-yard line bringing up first down and goal. Tucker kept the ball on a keeper and followed his lineman up the middle for a touchdown with 3:00 left in the first half. Araujo's kick was no good and the halftime score was 20-0.

At halftime, eight lovely young ladies competed for the title of 1992 Blackcat Homecoming Queen as they

"High Flying" Flyers, fly past Wheelwright Trojans 34-19

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Wheelwright Trojans crossed the big waters of the Ohio River and journeyed into the land of the gentle, but not so green and not so big giants.

It was a game the Trojans would just as soon forget — as soon as possible — and get their attention focused on business this weekend at Elkhorn City.

The Trojans waltzed into Tank Memorial Stadium, home of the Ironton City School Eagles. But this game did not involve Ohio's number three-rated team but a small Catholic school of approximately 100 students who had only won one game in nearly two years.

Well, win number two came at the expense of the Trojans as they saw the Ironton St. Joe Flyers fly high in securing their second win with a 34-19 win over Donnie Daniels' Trojans.

The win over Wheelwright puts special emphasis on this weekend's game with the Cougars in a double way.

• Wheelwright must have a win over the Cougars to assure a winning season in their final year of the Trojans.

• Wheelwright also needs a win to finish third in the district rankings although they have a playoff berth already.

A win over the Flyers would have guaranteed Wheelwright their first winning season since the early 1970s. But it was a flat squad that took the gridiron for Wheelwright and failed to play up to their potential.

Three touchdowns had been scored after a combined five plays had been run in the opening minutes of the first quarter. The Flyers broke on top 6-0 on the first play from scrimmage following a face masking against the Trojans. Andy Clay returned the opening kickoff 49 yards, moving the football into Trojan territory as the ball rested on the Trojan 13-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Flyer quarterback Chuck Jones, on a keeper, raced into the end zone for the score and a 6-0 lead with 11:34 left in the period.

But the Trojans had a game plan also. After the Flyers' kickoff to Wheelwright must have a win over the Cougars to assure a winning season in their final year of the Trojans.

Wheelwright, Muntu Oden took a Steven Shelton handoff and on a sweep around right end, he raced 65 yards for the touchdown and a 6-6 game with 11:19 on the clock remaining.

Jason Mollette took the Trojans' kickoff following the touchdown and returned it 68 yards before he was hauled down on the Trojans 2-yard line. Mark Smith gained 1 yard and then he carried the ball to pay dirt from 1-yard out to give the Flyers a 12-6 lead with 9:54 left in the first period.

St. Joe scored again in the first period on a long run by Andy Clay but the score was nullified by a clipping penalty against the Flyers.

Combs tosses for 281 yards in 36-12 loss to Elkhorn City

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It was homecoming night at Betsy Layne High School this past Friday night as a good crowd filed into the Lloyd Hamilton Athletic Complex to take in the festivities at halftime of the Betsy Layne, Elkhorn City football game.

The weather was just right for a night of football and the crowning of a new homecoming queen for 1992. But things didn't go so well for the home-standing Bobcats who lost their 16th consecutive game, 36-12, dating back to last season. The last victory for Betsy Layne came in the second game of the 1991 season when they posted a 8-6 win over Magoffin County.

For Elkhorn City, who is trying to stay a step ahead of the Wheelwright Trojans in the District 2 race, it was their sixth win of the season against three defeats.

It didn't take Betsy Layne head coach John Derossett long to see that if his team was to move the football, it would have to come through the air as he all but abandoned the rushing game.

Derossett elected to let senior quarterback Bryan Combs do his thing as he passed for 281 yards on 14 completions in 44 attempts. The ground game for the Bobcats was not there and that was evident in their first series of plays.

In fact, the ground attack of the Bobcats was so far off that they managed only a net 4-yards on nine carries in the game.

Elkhorn City jumped out to a very quick 6-0 lead on a drive that covered 62 yards on just four plays. The Cougars took the ball on their own 38 yards line and Aaron Blizzard made his presence known as he carried for 26 yards on the first two plays and

WORLD SERIES NOT THAT THRILLING

Well, the close of another World Series has taken place and no longer can a USA team claim to be world champions. The Canadians have taken the flag home with them all because they got mad that we flew theirs upside down. Don't they know that our President apologized for the mistake?

The Atlanta Braves faltered again in winning the series leaving the American League with two back-to-back series. Have you noticed how the National League has become inferior to the American League? I mean, we can't even win an All-Star game anymore.

Still, baseball is without a commissioner and it doesn't look as if there will be one named anytime soon. With the winter meeting coming up soon, you would think the owners would have selected Fay Vincent's successor by now.

The Cincinnati Reds has been shopping for a new manager. Everyone is wanting in on the act. But they will probably change their views after working one season for the worst baseball person there is — Marge Schott.

I really don't care much for the ones they are considering for the position as field boss of the Reds. My choice still remains Tony Perez. I don't think you should hire someone for the job just because they were thrown out of nine minor league games. Managers are suppose to stick around and manage.

Davy Johnson couldn't do it for the Mets. Neither could some of the others being considered. Let's give someone a chance who hasn't had a chance. Perez, I feel, would make a good manager. But, like all teams, he will need some talent to put on the field.

Will the Reds invade the free agency market this year? Will the Reds even attempt to resign Greg Swindell for next season? How much will the expansion draft affect the Reds next month?

Jeff Meek, WXXZ radio fame, sends along to us his list of the 15 players he thinks the Reds will protect in the upcoming draft. The includes:

- Barry Larkin
- Chris Sabo
- Hal Morris
- Paul O'Neal
- Bip Roberts
- Reggie Sanders

- Joe Oliver
- Jose Rijo
- Tim Belcher
- Norm Charlton
- Rob Dibble
- Freddie Benevides
- Tim Pugh
- Tom Browning
- Scott Ruskin

Meek doesn't figure the Reds will try to protect players like Jeff Branson, Willie Greene and some of the other younger players.

Swindell, Glenn Braggs, Scott Bankhead and Jeff Reed are all free agents this season. Cincinnati needs to be looking hard for yet another dependable starter as well as a long ball hitter. Someone that can pop out 30-35 home runs in a season. Who? I don't know. It's certain that Marge cannot afford the likes of Barry Bonds who will be a free agent this season and who is interested in moving on to Atlanta.

FOOTBALL ENTERS FINAL WEEK OF REGULAR SEASON

For two of our high school football teams, the season will end this Friday night in the final week of the year. After this Friday night all games then become playoff games.

Betsy Layne and Allen Central will put away the equipment for the winter, giving the players a couple weeks off before hitting the weight rooms for the next few months.

Both schools have experienced a very disappointing season. Betsy Layne is still looking for that first win while the Rebels have won two. Both programs have been questioned by many people in the district as to whether the programs should continue.

I personally feel it would be tragic to (See A Look At Sports, B 2)

A Look At Sports

cancel the football programs at each school. Of course, some people don't understand why a program "that is a losing program" should be funded.

But football is more than just winning ball games. It is something for the kids to do. Something for the kids to enjoy. Just the sense of competing is fun for them. Playing hard and doing well. That's something to shoot for. I know that they all want to win and they want to win every game. But that's not always possible.

It takes time to build programs. And after you do have a successful year, it is usually because you have some talented seniors returning. But, once those seniors leave, you have to go back out and reload the program.

Coaches Dewey Jamerson of Allen Central, and John Derossett, in his first year at Betsy Layne, are a credit to their respective programs. Right now they don't need to be hearing talk of killing a program, but encouragement and support; to know that someone is behind them all the way and that a strong program is needful at both schools.

I for one can see some talent coming on the horizon. The grade school programs for both schools were strong this year. Give each school two or three years and they will be very competitive. A foundation has to be laid in which to build on. It takes time.

You never hear of anyone wanting to stop a basketball program just because they haven't produced like they were expected to. Support the teams.

Prestonsburg and Wheelwright are playoff bound. Prestonsburg will face West Carter at home, unofficially, on November 6. Wheelwright will have the task of trying to knock off top ranked Hazard on the same date unless the Trojans can post a win over Elkhorn City Friday night and take third place.

Coach Letton and his squad has won their district title for the third consecutive year and the Blackcats look to be even stronger next season. Wheelwright is certainly on the right track for an excellent season next year as the Trojans will return an array of talented players. Coach Daniels is hopeful that out of the merger with McDowell a few more talented players will be added. The numbers certainly should be there for the Trojans next season.

GRADE SCHOOL BOWL GAME

This Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Prestonsburg Stadium, the grade school football bowl will be played. The game will consist of eighth graders from the five grade schools in Floyd County. Folks, come out and see this. You will see some good football and some promising future players.

BASKETBALL SEASON DRAWS EVER CLOSER

The grade school basketball season will kick off next week as the season opens with some pretty good matchups. Right behind the opening of the grade school season, the high school ranks will be looking to a December 1 opening.

I was looking for a break between the football season and the start of basketball. But, no matter how I write about the season, I always like to see basketball start.

It is going to be a busy time for me, but I am geared for it. I just want all the grade school coaches to give a little cooperation this year and report their games to me. Chuck and myself will try to personally cover as many games as possible. But we want to report all games in the sports section. Therefore, we are asking that all coaches call in their games, win or lose, so that the players can get the recognition.

Also, we are still needing schedules here at the Times. If we don't know when you play, we can't be there. Coaches, send in your schedules.

Well, until next week, good sports everyone and be good sports!

-and-goal run. Shawn Robinson recovered the football for the Rebs on the 2-yard line of the Hornets.

The Rebels took advantage of the turnover and ran with it, going 14 plays, covering 98 yards, to score on a Brad Blackburn keeper to put the final nail in the coffin for Magoffin County. Gary Webb added the extra point to give the game's final score, 21-8. The extra point by Webb was the first time this year that Allen Central has attempted an extra point.

"I looked over on the side line and there stood Gary with all three kicking tees in his hand," explained Jamerson. "I said 'If he is that dedicated then go for it.'"

Kevin Patton led the Rebels in rushing with 112 yards on the ground including a touchdown and a two-point conversion. Patton has been on a tear since returning from an injury.

"Well, he hasn't been playing defense and he is getting some rest," said Jamerson. "Also, he is carrying the ball more."

Dave Gilliam rushed for 79 yards on 13 carries.

Allen Central had a total of 275 yards while Magoffin County totaled 253 yards on offense. Blackburn was one-for-five in passing for 12 yards. Floyd was on the receiving end of the pass and according to Jamerson it was big at the time.

"It was a big play for us," said the Allen Central mentor. "It helped us to pick up a needed first down."

The man of defense for the Rebels was Gilliam who came up with 11 first hits and several assists. Robinson finished with seven solo hits with safety Charlie Wade getting six. Patrick Collins and Jason Clark had five each. Scott Bellemey had four solo tackles as did Floyd.

Steve Akers had a fumble recovery along with Robinson. Mike McKinney recovered a fumble also for Allen Central.

Jamerson stated that he was disappointed with his teams defense because they allowed the Hornets to run the football "much too much."

"We had too many missed tackles," said Jamerson. "But we did toughen up when we needed to and got the job done."

Lost, perhaps for the remainder of the season, was Austin Shelton who suffered a torn ligament.

Allen Central had 26 first downs to Magoffin County's 15. The Rebs rushed for 276 yards on 53 carries while Magoffin had 226 on 48 attempts.

Allen Central did not fumble the football but Magoffin County coughed up the ball three times.

The Hornets leading rusher was Greg Dyer with 105 yards. Dyer scored the teams' only touchdown.

Wheelwright

Wheelwright held them on a fourth-and-eight play, taking over the football on their own 2-yard line.

Adams picked up a good 14-yards and the fullback gained six more following Odens' run of 5-yards as the first quarter ended with the ball on the Trojans' 27.

Wheelwright moved the ball into Flyer territory and held the ball on St.

Joe's 35-yard line. Oden then took a pitch out from Shelton and ran into the end zone from 35 yards out for the TD. Shelton added the PAT and the Trojans held their first and only lead at 13-12 with 6:57 left in the second period.

Ironton put together a good drive as they marched from their own 47 to Wheelwright's 1-yard line. An off-side penalty set the Flyers back to the six for a fourth-and-goal. On a screen pass, Jones hit Mollette with a 6-yard pass and an 18-13 Ironton lead. Mollette ran the two-point conversion and St. Joe held the lead at 20-13 at halftime.

Wheelwright received the opening kickoff to start the second half. Kelly Berger, who had a super game, took the kickoff and headed up the field, returning the football 36 yards before he was hit hard at the Flyers' 42 yard where he fumbled the football and St. Joe recovered. Berger was shaken up on the play and retired to the bench. St. Joe moved the football to the Trojans' 19-yard line but the Wheelwright defense held on a fourth-and-five play.

Wheelwright's secondary got burned when Jones hit Billy Barron on a pass up the middle for a 25-yard touchdown and Jeff Bryant kicked the PAT to put the Flyers on top 27-13 as the Trojans seemed confused.

Ironton really opened things up in the fourth quarter as they continued to drive through and around the Trojans' defense. Clay made it a 33-13 game after taking a pitch out from Jones and raced in from the one for the TD. Bryant's PAT made it 34-13 with 7:20 left in the game.

Wheelwright salvaged some respect when they scored with 3:41 remaining in the contest. Adams busted through the Flyers' defensive line from 4 yards out to make it a 34-19 game.

The bleak got brighter when the Trojans' onside kick worked to perfection as the Trojans recovered the football on the Flyers' 49-yard line for good field position. On a second-and-one, Adams fumbled, after picking up enough for the first down, and the Flyers recovered the football. St. Joe just ran out the clock on Wheelwright who went down to their fourth defeat of the season.

Oden lead the ground game for the Trojans piling up 237 yards on 14 carries. Oden had 150 yard rushing at the half. He scored two TD's and had a pass reception for 45 yards. Adams rushed for 117 yards on 18 carries. He scored one TD.

Wheelwright was three of five in passing for 57 yards giving Wheelwright 384 total offensive yards.

Mollette ran for 139 yards on 15 carries for St. Joe's. Clay finished with 48 yards on 12 carries. Jones was six for ten in passing for 85 yards.

Wheelwright was flagged nine times for 75 yards in penalties. They fumbled the football once. St. Joe did not have a turnover in the game. The Flyers were penalized five times for 40 yards.

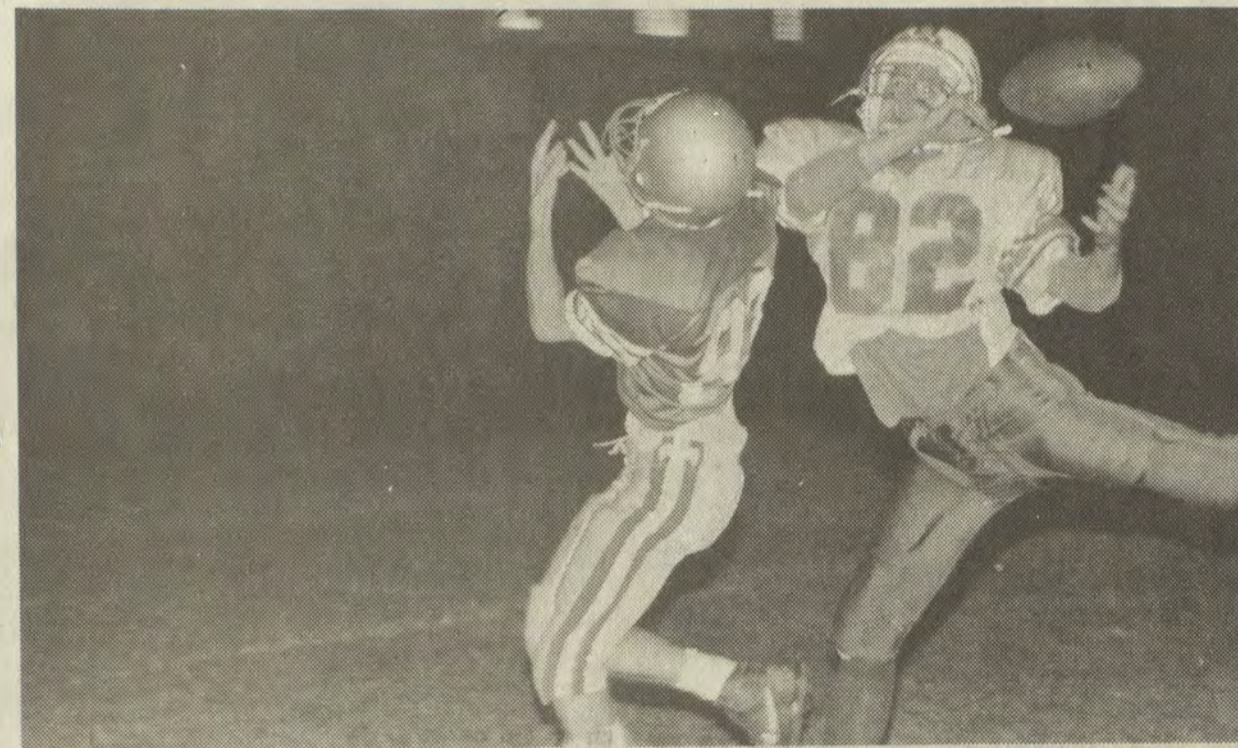

Berger had three kickoff returns for 70 yards and Oden returned the ball twice for 30 yards.

Johnson had two receptions for 13 yards and Oden had one for 45.

Hard to stop!

Muntu Oden (2) of Wheelwright opened up some running room on this carry against Ironton St. Joe's last Saturday evening at Ironton. Oden rushed for 236 yards and scored two touchdowns in the Trojans 34-19 loss. (photo by Ed Taylor)

"Where's the football?"

Betsy Layne's Gary Arnold (83) is looking for the football as a Elkhorn City defender has the right angle. The football fell incomplete from quarterback Bryan Combs. Arnold did have one reception in the game. Betsy Layne fell, 36-12 to the Cougars. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Muscular Myths

by Don Fields
Pro Fitness Trainer

For over twelve years I have been involved with free weight training as a health club owner, personal trainer, competitive powerlifter and body-builder. Working with hundreds of men and women of all ages, I have witnessed nearly every possible combination of results that can be experienced with this type of resistance exercise.

During this time I have heard all of the common misconceptions, usually expressed as consternation or fear, associated with weightlifting in particular. As a fitness trainer, I am constantly confronted with these fallacies and myths about weight training which I must often explain.

The number one concern for women is the idea that weightlifting will cause a woman to develop the physical look of a man. In other words, women who lift weights may lose their look of femininity.

Of all the women I have ever worked with, none looked more like a man after lifting weights that before. I believe this misconception is a result of the recent rise in women's competitive bodybuilding.

Competitive bodybuilding for men and women is a sport involving years of incredibly hard training. Women who commit themselves to this sport have but one goal in mind: to develop the musculature of their body to it's fullest potential. Some women take synthetic testosterone to speed the process.

Most women who are not competitive bodybuilders just want to tone their muscles. Getting too muscular is not an accident that happens overnight and should be of no concern to the ladies interested in weightlifting for fitness.

As I tell all of my clients, the amount of muscle you will build is totally your choice. Simply decrease the amount of weight work for any area of the body if it becomes disproportionate in size, and the muscles will atrophy or shrink to any size you like. Professional bodybuilders use this same technique to sculpt their bodies to aesthetic proportions. The size of a muscle group is determined by the amount of work it is subjected to within genetic limits.

A favorite myth concerning men and weight training says that if you begin weightlifting you will have to keep it up for the rest of your life or the muscle you build will turn to fat. This sounds like a good argument against working out. Who wants to do all that work, building all that muscle only to have it turn to fat?

This popular fallacy is a tale of the armchair athlete. After the high school or college career in sports is over, many athletes totally neglect their body, and put on a lot of weight, giving the appearance of muscle turning to fat. Muscle cannot turn into fat anymore than lead can turn into gold. If you don't use it, you lose it. If an athlete of any sport stops training but continues to eat with the same appetite, he or she will not only lose the muscle that was required for that activity, but will store the additional calories that are no longer being used.

A calorie is a unit of energy. The body stores fat as a result of eating too many calories. Therefore, excess fat on your body can be thought of as stored energy. If you need 2000 calories daily to maintain your current weight and you change your body composition by adding five-pounds of muscle and lose five-pounds of fat, you will need more than 2000 calories a day to maintain the same weight plus a few extra to allow for the exercise needed to build and maintain a more muscular body. If you stop exercising, you must decrease your caloric intake to compensate for the loss of activity and the lower muscle to fat ratio, or you will simply store the excess calories as fat.

Think of your muscle as the engine in a car. The bigger the engine, the more horsepower it can produce and the more gas it requires.

My favorite exercise myth states that weightlifting will cause you to become muscle bound. Although I do not know the actual definition of the term, I believe it suggests that having more than a normal amount of muscle will not allow you to scratch your back, tie your shoes or get out of the way of a slow moving vehicle!

Of all the weight-trained individuals I have known, none were slower, less flexible or in any way physically hindered as a result of increased muscle mass. As a matter of fact, athletes who begin weight training do so to become bigger, stronger and faster - not muscle bound.

Many athletes stretch before practice. Proper weightlifting technique involves just as much stretching of muscle fiber as contraction. Having more flexibility than is necessary to perform a certain movement or activity is not necessarily beneficial as far as that particular group of muscles is concerned. In order to lift progressively heavier weights, your muscles will become more flexible, stronger and faster.

There are many other weightlifting and exercise myths, most of which are more specific and involve different muscle groups. Suffice it to say that there is little, if any, truth to most of them and simple clarification is all that is needed.

The fact is, weightlifting and most other popular forms of exercise, when done properly and regularly, are in no way harmful or detrimental to your present or future health. Most fallacies, myths and misconceptions are actually misunderstandings due to lack of knowledge and experience. Unfortunately, many still use these exercise myths as an excuse to not exercise.

As a form of physical conditioning, resistance training has no equal. What other type of exercise can lower body fat, blood pressure, resting heart rate, and cholesterol while increasing muscle mass, bone density, strength, speed and mental alertness, not to mention retarding the aging process while improving overall health and appearance?

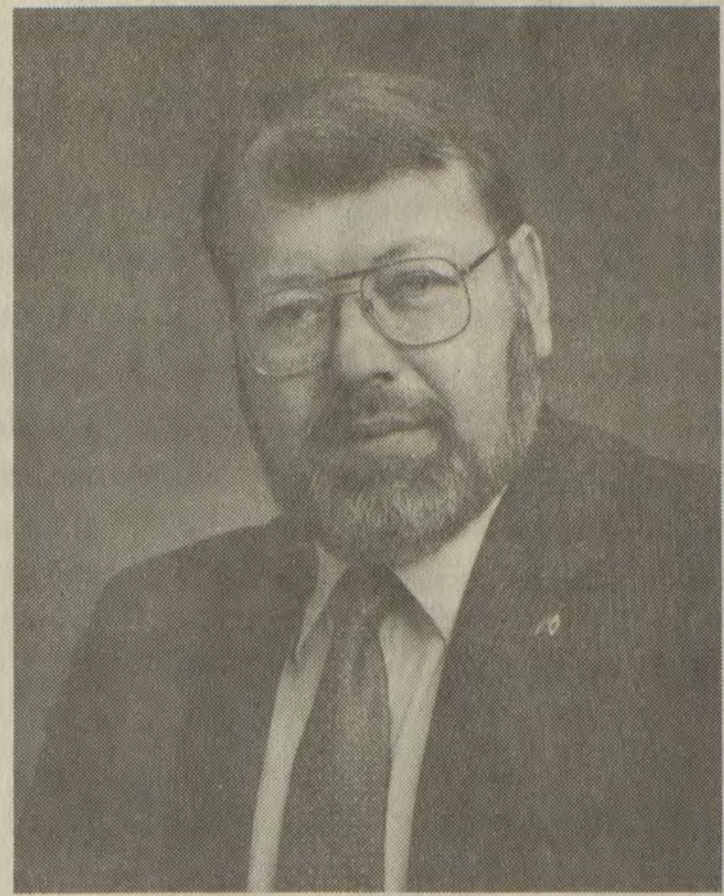

Keep in mind that all forms of resistance exercise are not as beneficial as free weight training and may not be suitable for you. If you decide to try weightlifting or any form of resistance training, see your doctor to determine any physical limitations. Then seek the advice of a qualified professional trainer to set up a program that is best for you.

Saying goodbye!

Twelve Prestonburg seniors were all team captains in the Blackcats' final home game of the regular season against Morgan County last Friday night. The Blackcats defeated the Pirates 48-0 and will close out the regular season this Friday night at M C Napier. (photo by Chuck Rowe) walked across the field with their fathers. Elizabeth McCoy was crowned the 1992 Prestonburg Homecoming Queen.

Blackcats

As the second half started, it did not take the Blackcat offense long to put more points on the scoreboard. Starting on the Cougar 46-yard line, the Blackcat offense needed only two plays as Tucker hit Jason Crisp with a 40-yard touchdown pass with 11:13 left in the third quarter. Araujo's kick was good to make the score 27-0.

The Cougars' offense took the kickoff on the Blackcat 32-yard line only to turn it over when Raymond Wright's pass intended for Bobby Smith was intercepted by Hyden on the Cougar 38-yard line.

Prestonsburg picked up a first down on two runs of nine yards and five yards by Comette that took the ball down to the Cougar 24-yard line. On first down and 10, Garza scrambled 24 yards for a touchdown with 8:45 left in the third quarter. Araujo's kick was good to make the score 34-0.

The Blackcats held the Cougars to another punting situation on a fourth down and eight from the Cougar 34-yard line. On the punt, the snap traveled over punter Vaughn Hunley's head and he fell on it on the 13-yard line, setting up another Blackcat scoring drive.

After a Tucker pass to Crisp was incomplete and a one-yard run by Comette, Tucker found Crisp in the end zone for a 12-yard touchdown pass with 6:08 left in the third quarter. Araujo's kick was good to make the score at the end of the third quarter 41-0.

Prestonsburg punted for the first time in the fourth quarter as the Cougar defense held the Blackcats on fourth down and 25. The Cougars gained two yards on three plays and were forced to punt. The Cougars again had trouble getting the snap to the punter as the snap traveled into the end zone and Hunley picked it up, barely escaping a safety. He brought it out to the seven-yard line, setting up the Blackcats' last score of the game.

It took the Blackcats only two plays to score as Todd Clark ran both plays and on the second play found the end zone for his first touchdown of the year and the Blackcats last touchdown of the game with 5:39 left in the game. Araujo's kick was good and the final score was 48-0.

The leading rusher of the game was Prestonsburg's Dewayne Garza who ran for 104 yards on just nine carries and scored a touchdown. Jody Comette ran five times for 45 yards. Seth Hyden tossed in 24 yards on only six carries and a touchdown.

The leading rusher for the Cougars was Vaughn Hunley running eight times for 22 yards. Jody Castle ran for 18 yards on four carries.

Pikeville College Hall of Fame committee requests nominees for '93

The Pikeville College Athletic Hall of Fame committee is now accepting nominations for inductees to the Hall of Fame in 1993. Charles Francis, chairman of the committee since its inception in 1989, has requested that nominations be received by the committee no later than November 2.

Current members of the Hall of Fame are Alex Harmon, Grady Wallace, John Lee Butcher, Donnis Butcher, Paul Setser, Terry Epling, Fred Walker, Teresa Ray, Wayne Martin, Paul Butcher, Steve Benedict, Garrett Mullins, Vern Woods, Raymond Ricketts, Dan Moses, Lynn Perry Cutright, David Rowe, Ralph Good, Wallace Dillion, and Mike May.

Members of the Hall of Fame are selected on the basis of achievement in athletic excellence, and/or their contribution to the sports program at the college. Nominees may be male or female coaches or players who have been out of Pikeville College for more than five years. They may have been affiliated with any sport at any time during the college's history. Individuals inducted into the Hall of Fame will be honored during the 1993 Pikeville College Homecoming Festivities. Each inductee will also be honored with a special certificate of recognition and a picture plaque with their statistics. The plaque will be hung in the Hall of Fame at the Pikeville College Gym.

Please send your nominations to Charles Francis, Pikeville College, 214 Sycamore Street, Pikeville, KY 41501.

Betsy Layne

quarterback Jason Dales gained 16 before Eddie Morton carried the ball into the end zone from 15 yards out for the 6-0 lead.

Betsy Layne was very impressive on their first possession as they marched 54-yards upfield on the strength of the passing arm of Combs. The Bobcats were hit with a holding penalty on their first play from scrimmage, but Combs then connected with Clyde Bush for a 16-yard pickup and a first down.

While the ground game was not in gear, the Bobcats were faced with a third-and-twelve situation. On an option play, Combs handed off to Doug Hammonds, who hit Mark Hamilton with an 18-yard pass for another first down, keeping the drive alive.

Again, the Bobcats faced a fourth-and-long play with Combs rising to the occasion. Combs hooked up with Gary Arnold for a 28-yard completion before Hammonds ran the ball across the goal line to tie the score at 6-6 with 7:37 remaining in the first quarter.

It took the Cougars exactly 2:15 to untie the game as fullback Eddie Morton scored from 5 yards out and Joe Williams added the two-point conversion to make it a 14-6 game with 5:22 showing on the clock.

The drive covered 46 yards.

Betsy Layne did not run a ground play on their next possession and did not have any yardage at all but did pick up a first down on a third and ten play when Elkhorn City was flagged for a pass interference call giving Betsy Layne the first down. But, the Bobcats could not stand prosperity and a bad snap from center caused Combs to fumble the ball. The Cougars recovered on their own 44-yard line.

Betsy Layne returned the favor to the Cougars as they were called for a penalty because of having 12 players on the field. The 15-yard penalty moved the ball to the Betsy Layne 44-yard line where Blizzard picked up 18-yards and Morton gained 23 yards before being hauled down on the Bobcats 3-yard line. Williams carried the ball into the end zone and the Cougars led 20-6.

Before the first quarter ended, Betsy Layne put together a good drive that saw it stall out on the Cougars' 18-yard line. Combs directed his team deep into Elkhorn City territory on four completions and a pass interference penalty against the Cougars. On a fourth-and-five, another bad snap from center caused Combs to fumble the football as the horn sounded.

Elkhorn took over the ball on downs to begin the second period and wasted little time in scoring. On a second-and-four play from the Cougars own 28-yard line, Williams broke tackle and on a sweep galloped 65 yards to the Bobcats' 2-yard line where Morton scored and Jason Smith added the two-point conversion to race to a 28-6 lead.

The Cougars scored again on their next possession on a 1-yard plunge by Williams and another two-point conversion from Smith for a 36-6 game.

Betsy Layne added their final score in the fourth quarter on a pass play from Combs to Bryan Bowling that covered 69 yards for the final margin of 36-12.

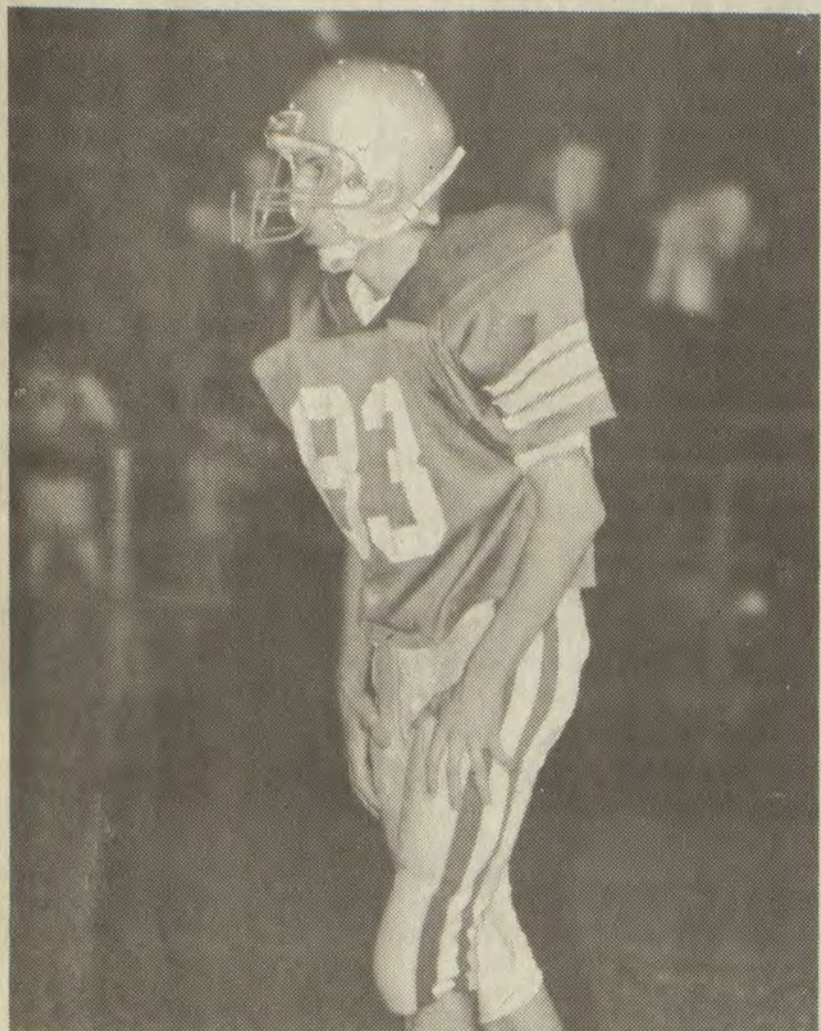

Betsy Layne totaled 285 yards on offense to Elkhorn City's 401. Williams was the leading rusher for the Cougars with 168 yards on eight carries. Blizzard ran the football 23 times for 111 yards rushing for the Cougars. Morton finished strong with 79 yards on nine carries.

Dales attempted only two passes with one completion for only 4 yards.

Hammonds rushed for only 2 yards net on seven carries for Betsy Layne. The Bobcats had only 4 yards on nine carries for the game.

Bryan Bowling was the leading receiver for the Bobcats with two receptions for 112 yards. Hamilton caught five Combs passes for 85 yards before having to leave the game with an injured ankle. Arnold caught two passes for 39 yards and Hammonds had three receptions for 29 yards.

Arnold had four kick off returns for 28 yards and Hamilton returned the ball for 17 yards.

A pleasant addition!

Gary Arnold of Betsy Layne has been a good addition to the Bobcats football team this year. Arnold is the leading receiver for the Bobcats and has scored four touchdowns this season. He did not start the year with Betsy Layne having just moved into the area. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Old-timer's golf outing!

The first Old Age CPM Golf Tournament was held at the Beaver Valley Golf Course at Stumbo Park in Allen recently. Several of the senior citizens enjoyed some good weather. It was a good time for a golf outing. Winners in the event include Walle, Adkins and Bellemy, overall winners; Aubrey Dickerson, Not-Yet-Over-The-Hill winner; Ron "Longjohn" Johnson for the longest drive; retired George Stephens was the Closest-to-the-hole winner; Curt Wallen had the lowest total score; winner of the Too-many-O.B.'s was Nello Francis.

Morehead Eagles basketball season ticket drive shifts into high gear

With continuing the dramatic attendance increase begun last season as a goal, the Morehead State University basketball season ticket drive is underway and features an exciting "Starting 10" program.

Attendance at Eagle games was up 54 percent last season, and MSU athletic officials hope to capitalize on the excitement generated by last season's high scoring squad. The 1991-92 Eagles ranked 10th nationally in team scoring, and Brett Roberts became the first MSU player ever to earn a national scoring title.

The "Starting 10" contest will allow current and new season ticket holders to earn several exciting opportunities. Individuals can earn points for selling or buying new lower level priority season tickets. The ten individuals earning the most points will receive the following:

- Two tickets to the Morehead State - Kentucky basketball game December 19 in Rupp Arena.
- Hotel accommodations for two on the night prior to the MSU-UK game (December 18).
- Involvement in all team pregame activities prior to the MSU-UK game, including pregame meals and practices.

It was bound to happen. Geri Grigsby finally got her photograph in the National High School record book. After all, the former McDowell Lady Daredevil holds several national scoring records — the most prestigious being the national scoring record for boys and girls in the United States.

What many people don't realize is that Grigsby played only three years of varsity basketball in establishing many of the records that she did.

Take a look at these accomplishments:

- Most points scored in one game (girl's), 81. Fifth in nation.
- Per game career average, 46.1. Lead nation.
- Per game average per game in a season, 49.6. Second in nation. Grigsby also had the third best average at 45.8.
- Most points scored in career, 4,385. Leads the nation in both boys and girls' basketball.
- Most points scored in a season, 1,885. Leads the nation. Grigsby also had the third most points scored in a season, 1,421.

Women's basketball was not around when Grigsby was a freshman at McDowell. She played under the coaching of Johnny Ray Turner who now coaches the boys' program at McDowell.

Grigsby performed from 1975 until 1977 and ranks with some pretty good company with the likes of Cheryl Miller, Christy Cooper and Daphne Johnson. Miller holds the all-time record for most points in one game with 105 in 1982. Lisa Leslie is second with 101 points, but all her points came in the first half against South Torrance, California, and South Torrance refused to play the second half. The game was played in 1990.

Grigsby scored her 81 points on December 11, 1975 against Feds Creek.

Grigsby later went on to play for the University of Kentucky.

• Two courtside seats, at midcourt, for all MSU home games.

"We need to make Johnson Arena a place that opposing teams dread to visit," said MSU Head Coach Dick Fick. "The only way to do this is to pack the arena each and every night, and the best way to do that is by selling season tickets."

MSU's season ticket plans also provide discounts for active alumni and faculty and staff, and the Family Pass instituted during the football season ticket drive will be available for basketball. And, season ticket holders will have the first opportunity to purchase tickets from the MSU allotment for the MSU-UK game at Rupp Arena.

"We're encouraging all Eagle fans to get involved in the "Starting 10" contest," said MSU Assistant Athletic Director Peter Pilling. "The contest winners will get the chance to be with the team throughout its preparation for the Kentucky game and will be right in the middle of the action at all home games with their courtside seats."

Information on tickets can be obtained by calling Pilling at 606-783-2088 or EAF Administrator Jim Caudill at 606-783-2388

Morehead State basketball coach in town!

In recruits...

Morehead's Fick demands hard work, conditioning and toughness

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Charismatic, intense and first-class are words used to describe Morehead State University's head basketball coach Dick Fick who will enter his second year at the helm of the Eagles basketball program.

Fick is a 19-year veteran of the college and high school coaching ranks and certainly has brought excitement and enthusiasm back to the Morehead program with his run-and-gun, shoot-the-three-pointer offense, pressure defense and his "Dreams Come True" attitude.

Fick, along with Morehead State Athletic Director Steve Hamilton and Sports Information Director Randy Stacy were in Prestonsburg recently on a run through the state promoting the Eagles program.

Coach Fick has not lost any of his zeal from last season and if anything, he is more zealous than ever. He is a positive thinker and more so about the Morehead State basketball program. Just to listen to him talk about his young players coming into the program this year and the recruiting potential the Eagles have and you can see his eyes light up as he talks about his club and the next two to three years.

"We've got a lot of young people," said Fick from the office of Jeff Riley. "We've got what a lot of people would consider a rebuilding year. But I don't look at it that way. I'm not going to put any limitations on them (players)."

"We have four new freshmen coming into our program this season," explained Fick. "We will have three kids who transferred in, two of whom will be sophomores. The other, who will be a sophomore next year, is a transfer in from the Naval Academy and will be sitting it out."

The Eagles return only two starters from last year's 14-15 club that took the University of Kentucky to the wire before falling. The two lone returning starters are Doug Bentz (6-9, senior) and Martez Ballard (6-2, junior). Bentz earned second-team All-Ohio Valley Conference honors while leading the Eagles in rebounding and ranking second on the team in scoring with a 16 ppg average behind Roberts.

"I think the freshmen kids and transfer students, they're so young — and their enthusiasm — I'm going to ride that as long as I can," said Fick. "I don't want to put any limits on them."

Fick stated that the nice thing about having a young ballclub this year is "they're going to very good over the next two to three years."

"I don't know when we will be good — this year — but we'll be good eventually."

The Morehead coach said that how good this club becomes and how quickly they become a good ballclub will depend on them staying healthy.

"As long as we stay healthy," Fick continued, "I don't know when that will be. I wish I knew in the beginning, I can't tell you that we're coming back with a lot of experience. But I can tell you that we are coming up with a lot of talent and young talent can surprise you on many nights."

Once again this year, the Eagles will face a highly regarded Kentucky Wildcat team in Rupp Arena but the Cats are not the only high-ranked team the Eagles will face.

"You know what we did," said Fick. "We have scheduled Michigan State and they are ranked in the top 10 or 15 schools. Kentucky is one, two or three in the country. We've scheduled Western Michigan. They won 20 games last year and they are picked to win the Mid-American Conference.

"We have Wright State twice and they are picked to win the Mid-Continent Conference. Also we have Missouri-Kansas City the number two independent in the country with Notre Dame being number one. They won 20 games last year."

The Eagles mentor said that every game for his ballclub this year was going to be tough. "You see, with the young kids that's the way you get to test them. We're playing Michigan State first because I want them to see how far we have to go to be at that level. Hopefully, it's not that far but we'll find out."

Coach Fick is quick to point out what playing Kentucky did for his program.

"It did a lot," he said. "It did. It did a tremendous amount. The exposure you get playing the University of Kentucky is tremendous. They have scheduled us for the next few years. It is big time class on their part. C.M. Newton and Coach (Rick) Pitino are really helping us out with that and I think that bigger than that was Coach Pitino's remarks after the game."

"A lot of time a big name coach, after a game like that, will say that their team was tired; they were looking forward to the next game. Instead he took all the time to give credit to our players. That's very, very big of him. I thought that was very helpful." Morehead was in the game all the way until the latter eight minutes but Coach Fick believes his team could have taken it to the final minute had it not been for a three-pointer.

"Richie Farmer hit that big three-pointer or else we would taken that one down to the wire," said Fick.

Fick views a battle in the Ohio Valley Conference (OVC) this season and it will be Murray as a clear favorite to repeat.

"Murray State is the team to beat," commented Fick. "No doubt about it. I think the big surprise can be Tennessee State. They had a great recruiting year and they had a lot of young players last year. They also had a lot of tough losses. But they are going to be very, very talented."

The Morehead coach looks at Middle Tennessee as being a strong contender again this season. "At least in their starting five," he said. "I don't know much about their bench yet, that was the difference last year." Fick remembered that Eastern Kentucky suffered some tough losses last season but should help themselves by having brought in some junior college players "that might be able to help them right away."

The backcourt of Austin Peay will give them a boost this season and Southeast Missouri had some big wins last season, according to Fick.

"Murray and Tennessee State are the teams you have to watch out for."

Just where does Morehead fit into the OVC picture?

"Well, we're going to try to win the OVC championship," explained Fick. "That's what we're there for. And we're going to try to do that every year. The way the schedule is set up, we've got a lot of tough early games. But those tough early games, if we can stay healthy, those freshmen are to be a lot older by the time OVC comes around."

"And if we can get hot, the way the schedule is set, then we can contend for the title by the end of the year."

As usual, Morehead will be a up-tempo team this year even though they are going to be a young ballclub.

"Without a doubt," said the Eagles coach. Again, just how up-tempo will depend on the Eagles staying healthy.

"If we stay healthy we'll be deeper on the bench than last year," he explained. "What we ran into last year was we were averaging almost 105 points a game, but we couldn't go very deep into our bench."

"I had to find out early which players could play at our level and which kids couldn't. There were some players who couldn't get to that level. So we ended up playing six players by the end of the year and it's tough to keep running even though we did. But you wear down a little bit."

A healthy Eagle ballclub this year will allow the Morehead team to go at least nine deep, according to their second year coach. Eagle fans can expect Fick's club to press even more this year.

"We are going to press more this year of defense," he said. "We'll press on made baskets and we'll press on missed baskets," commented the Eagle coach. "Made baskets, missed baskets, everything will totally be up-tempo and that means that we've got to be able to handle the basketball. We've got some good guards coming into our program."

Coach Fick pointed out those guards will be found in J.J. Hylton (Belfry), Marty Cline (University Heights) and Joel Frakes (Stevensville, Michigan).

"We're going to have an outstanding wing player in John Branham from Newport Central Catholic. Branham was also on the Kentucky All-Star team."

Coach Fick looks for Helton, who led the Belfry Pirates to three consecutive trips to the Sweet Sixteen, to step in and contribute right away.

"That's the best thing about kids being freshmen on this ballclub. Freshmen will play a lot. He doesn't have time to come in here and develop. The developing will be on the floor against the Michigan State and Kentucky's, said Fick. "I'm expecting big things from J.J. Two things have happened early. He was well coached and knows what he is doing on the court — we'll see that on November 1 (official opening day for practice in college)."

"J. J. has had to go up-tempo with his work ethic in regard to the weight room and conditioning," said Fick. "He has made strides in those two areas. It was slow in the beginning but he has made strides with that. He is a very good athlete. Much more athletic than people think."

Fick stated that in the up-tempo style of play the Eagles will run this year that the former Belfry all-star could flourish.

"As long as he gets himself in shape and does better with the weights and he has done better," the Eagle coach explained.

Another 15th Region player that

If a kid wants to become an outstanding college basketball player, the weight work and what he does with conditioning and strength is just as important as shooting a basketball.

Dick Fick
MSU coach

Fick is expecting to add to the Eagles program is former Johnson Central standout, Robbie O'Bryan who came to the Morehead program as a walk-on.

"When we say 'walk-on,' people have to understand, hey, with 13 scholarships instead of 15, there's a kid who might have been given a scholarship. But when you lose two scholarships, as the whole NCAA has done, being a walk-on is not a bad deal."

"Robbie is on a full academic scholarship," said Fick. "He did so well in that regard. Robbie will be on our basketball team. He's earned a spot on the team. He working, again, with the weights. He is also working hard in conditioning but he just needs to get that body bulk up a little more. He certainly can shoot the basketball."

According to the Morehead coach, two things happen to kids when they come into the college level.

"Number one, they don't understand how it is on the college level," he explained. "No matter how well coached they are, the physical demands are harder on them. On just about every high school team you have at least one kid who is big and strong. There you have 16 and 17-year old kids dealing with 13 and 14-year olds."

"Now, in college, you're the 18-year old who's dealing with 21, 22, and 23-year old players who have worked on the weights for four to five years. Physical strength and working with the weights on the high school level is a big deal," said Fick.

"Number two: high school kids are not in shape for the college level. Everyone is pretty quick at that level," continued the Morehead coach. "I saw the 15th Region last year. Kids here need to know how to compete. If a kid wants to become an outstanding college basketball player, the weight work and what he does with conditioning and strength is just as important as shooting a basketball. You can't get open to shoot the basketball if you're not quicker, stronger and in condition and you won't be in the game very long because you'll get tired. On the college level, it's 40 minutes and it's up-tempo."

I'd rather recruit a kid who will play hard with a little less ability than a kid with ability but won't play hard.

Dick Fick
MSU coach

Coach Fick sees the inability of some players to move without the ball as a lack of conditioning. "That's exactly what it is," he stated. "It's easier to come off a pick and be standing there. Whereas you have to be in better condition to get open and that's not necessarily the coaches fault. That comes with off season

Alice Lloyd to open season November 10

Alice Lloyd's head basketball coach Jim Stepp will guide his team on to the floor for the opening game of the 1992-93 college basketball season on November 10 when his Eagles will host Clinch Valley in an 8 p.m. start.

The Eagles will be taking part in the Birmingham-Southern Tournament on January 2 and 3. Absent from the Eagles schedule is rival Pikeville. The Bears and Eagles always hooked up in one of the interstate rivalries that always produced good basketball between the two schools.

Alice Lloyd will play to exhibition games on October 24 and again on October 29 when they will host Kentucky Baptist. The annual alumni game will be played on the 24th.

Fourteen home games will highlight the schedule as the Eagles look to make the playoffs again this year. The Eagles plays in District 32 which includes teams such as Clinch Valley, Bluefield, Montreat Anderson, King College, Bryan College and Virginia Intermount.

The Eagles will conclude their regular season on February 23 against Milligan.

work. That's doing the extra things that it takes in the off season."

"If you want 15th Region players to be better college prospects," said Fick, "you need to come down and watch us practice and then go back home. The coaches out there are trying to tell them what we are doing. The high school coaches know what we are doing."

"Then when the players come down to one of our practices, they see that their coach was right and they say 'I got to work harder, run faster and lift more.'"

Fick stated that his practices are open to the public and players who want to watch one of their practices are welcome to do so.

"The lack of exposure to major college basketball would be the major reason why kids don't understand what is needed on the college level," said Fick. "Coaches are telling them. Some learn by telling while others learn by seeing."

Coach Fick says that he and his staff are targeting this year's juniors in their recruiting efforts. "We're going to be out there all over the state looking at this year's juniors," he explained. "We've tabbed ourselves as 'Kentucky's other team.'" We've got a lot of Kentucky kids and we're going to go after the juniors in Kentucky."

Coach Fick said that Morehead has already gotten two verbal commitments for next season and that the coaching staff is excited about that.

"We're working the junior classes first of all in the mountain areas and then we want to spread out to the Lexington area and then into Louisville," said Fick.

What does Fick and his staff look for in a player during their recruiting efforts?

"That's a fair question and I appreciate it," he said. "First of all is competitiveness. Can a kid compete. I don't care how tall they are. I don't want to hear how good of a shooter they are; that's not important. That's all secondary. I want to know can they compete."

"If you're a good shooter and not a competitive kid, I don't want you," he said. "I don't want you. You can't play for us."

"On the other hand if you are a competitive player and you have those other things that makes you attractive to us.

"Secondly, toughness. Will he compete? Will he work? Will he move without the basketball? Will he rebound? Will he dive for a loose ball? If they shoot well, rebound well some of the time but don't compete, I don't recruit those kids."

"I'd rather recruit a kid who will play hard with a little less ability than a kid with ability but won't play hard."

The Morehead coach said that with the loss of the nation's leading scorer, Bret Roberts, that the Eagles will be more of a balanced team this season.

"Our scoring should blossom this year," said Fick. "It may be Kelly Wells one night and J. J. Hylton the next night or Marty Cline the other night. It will be very difficult to defend us if we have all of those people doing it for us."

Fick also said that his squad last season should be given credit for winning 14 games last season. "I wanted to go 29-0 but it was credit to those kids to win 14 games last year."

RABON D. FLANERY
School Board Member District 5 #1 on the ballot

I have been out in District #5, knocking on doors and introducing myself. If I have missed you, I am sorry. I ask for your vote and support on Nov. 3rd. I will be a school board member who will support our children and the school reform. I hope everyone will exercise their right to vote. Let us together, keep Floyd County Schools out of the headlines by doing what is right for our children and grandchildren—not for career politicians and special interest groups. I owe no politician or business person any favor or vote. No political machine or private firm backs me, I will be the people's tool. You tell me what you want me to do and together we will change this system. Do not let anyone buy your most important right—the right to vote. "Our children are our future leaders." The future of these children is literally "in your hands!" Don't let them down! Vote for the #1 choice, Rabon Flanery, on Nov. 3rd and we will all be winners! I thank you in advance for your support. JACKIE EDFORD OWENS

MAGISTRATE DISTRICT 2

I would like to take this time to ask ALL my friends and voters to come out on November 3rd and VOTE for my wife — HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS for School Board member.

People, the coal business is producing fewer jobs in this area. The "KIDS OF THE FUTURE" are going to have to work at something besides coal. It's going to become more important, that our kids get the best education possible, because they're going to have to compete for jobs.

I feel that my wife WILL STAND UP FOR THE KIDS AND PARENTS of her district and not be shy of saying what SHE feels is RIGHT or WRONG.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE! We can't go on like we have in the past.

VOTE FOR— HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS —

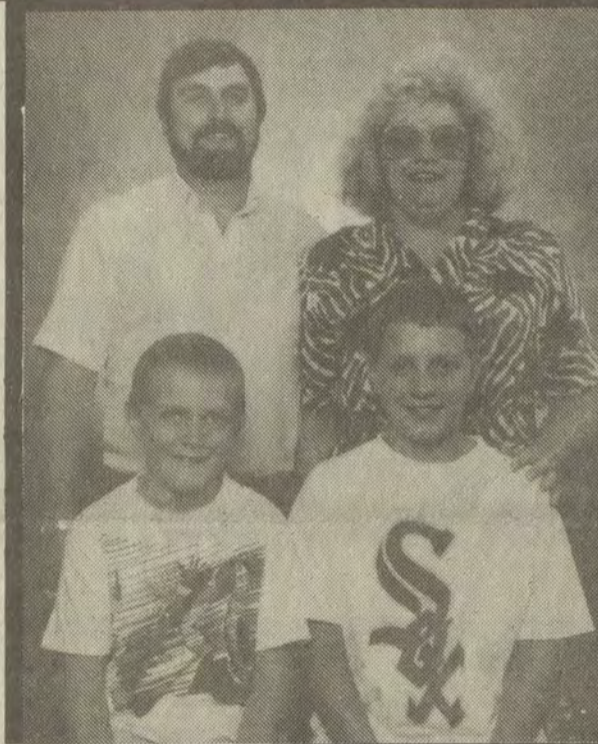

School Board Member
 Number 3 on the Ballot

★ YOUR VOTE DOES COUNT! ★

With Election just a few days away, I want to take this time to ask EACH and EVERYONE OF YOU in Dist. 5 to go out on NOVEMBER 3rd and ELECT ME—HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS—YOUR SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER.

Dist. 5 Includes Precincts:

"OUR CHILDREN'S EDUCATION IS MY FIRST PRIORITY"

- ★ Attended Maytown Grade School, Maytown High School, and graduated from Allen Central High School in 1974.
- ★ Attended and graduated from Mayo State Vocational School with a DEGREE IN BUSINESS.
- ★ Worked as secretary for the Brown Produce Co. (now Brown Food Service) for approximately 5 years; then moved on to Inventory Control Clerk for EIMCO Elkhorn for approximately 1 year; then became housewife and mother.

Hello, my name is Molly Owens. I live at Langley, Kentucky. I own and operate Molly's Beauty Shop and Molly's Florist at Langley. I am the widow of the late Ralph Owens. I have been a member of the Free Will Baptist Church at Estill for over 30 years. I am the mother of 5 kids—Lema Bradley, who is married to Bob Bradley; Priscilla Martin, who is married to Dennis Martin; JACKIE EDFORD OWENS, MAGISTRATE, DIST. 2, who is married to HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS; Joe Owens, who is married to Teresa Conley Owens; Ina Robinson, who is married to Tim Robinson.

My daughter-in-law, HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS is running for SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER. I want to take this time to ask ALL my friends and family to come out on NOVEMBER 3rd and Vote for — HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS—SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER

TO THE PEOPLE OF DIST. 5:

My name is Edna Cooley. I am the widow of the late Gorman Cooley. I live at Prater Fork on Brush Creek. I am the daughter of the late John Wess Prater and Hattie (Allen) Prater of Prater Fork. Gorman was the son of the late Oak Cooley and Rose (Osborne) Cooley of Hippo. We are the parents of 9 children.

- Cletts Howard, who is married to Eugene Howard

- Glema Hicks, who is married to Keith Hicks
- HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS, who is married to JACKIE EDFORD OWENS, MAGISTRATE—DIST. 2.
- Carl Cooley, who is married to Ginger (Martin) Cooley

Being a mother of 9 kids and a member of the Regular Baptist Church for over 40 years, I can see it is time that Floyd County went FORWARD IN EDUCATION—NOT BACKWARD. My family and I want to ask ALL our family and friends to come out on NOVEMBER 3rd and VOTE FOR—

HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS—SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER
 Number 3 on the BALLOT DISTRICT 5

ELECT
HATTIE "COOLEY" OWENS

School Board Member
 District 5
 Number 3 on the Ballot

TO THE VOTERS OF SCHOOL BOARD—DIST. 5

As you all probably read in last week's Floyd County Times, the School Board has just voted to INCREASE OUR TAXES again to 61.6. People, It's only been a couple of years ago that THEY INCREASED OUR TAXES from 28.5 to 58.6 which DOUBLED our school taxes on our property. I was under the impression that THIS MONEY would be spent on SUPPLIES FOR OUR KIDS and UPGRADING OUR SCHOOLS. The first thing I saw was my boys walking through the door with a "sell paper" to help raise money to buy items for their school.

People, THEY CAN TAX US TO DEATH, but IF THE MONEY IS NOT HANDLED PROPERLY, our kids are not going to benefit one bit from the increases. The ONLY THING it's going to do is to make it TOUGHER on the people who pay taxes in this county. YOU KNOW AS WELL AS I DO that once that tax rate is passed, it will NEVER COME DOWN and YOU'LL PAY IT for the rest of your life and the rest of your kid's life.

THE LAST TIME THEY INCREASED it from 28.5 to 58.6. THIS TIME it went from 58.6 to 61.6. This has only been in a period of approximately 2 years and it has MORE THAN DOUBLED.

WHEN I'm elected your Board Member, I'LL BE SOMEONE YOU CAN TALK TO about problems that you are having with your school and the school system. I WILL ALSO BE THAT SOMEONE who WILL go to the BOARD MEETING and STAND UP for the people of my District.

Politics

A few columns past, I made a comment about people voting for the person who's best qualified for the position being sought.

I stated, "It should not matter whether he or she is a Democrat or a Republican, but who is most qualified, regardless of their party affiliation."

Well, election day is around the corner, and I, unlike Perot, have not changed my mind (about feeling this way). No pun intended.

However, my nerves tie in knots, and my blood pressure boils when I hear a Republican or a Democrat scream vote a straight ticket. If every person running a Democratic ticket is the most qualified for the position they're running for then I say go for it. But people wake up! That's not the case and if we'd get the guts to cross those tickets we'd see that.

No one can convince me that one certain party has the most qualified individuals on that certain ticket.

We have to make our own decisions on the individuals we feel are most qualified. And the best known process we have are the commercial advertising, newspaper articles, and those, oh so popular, "Heated Debates."

Mud slinging is inevitable in any campaign and without it we wouldn't be abreast of—oh, let's take Clinton for example.

We've all heard the man smoked pot, but did not inhale; we've heard of his extra-marital affairs; we've heard of his decision making process. One day—yeah, one day—neah.

After all those, there are still Clinton supporters. It's their right, it's their choice.

Now let's take Bush.

Bush has gotten heat over more things than I have space to write. And certain things I think people ought to realize fall in the laps of congress rather than Bush. But hey, that's my opinion. As for Quayle and Gore, I was scared to death of Quayle one day possibly sitting in the most important seat in this country, until I got to see the vice-presidential debates.

And you know what; I don't think Quayle is the pompous (you know what) the media's made him out to be.

Perot, what a man. If any of you got the chance to see his political advertisements Saturday night, you heard some heart-wrenching testimonies.

The integrity, compassion, and loyalty this man put forth was so admirable.

Talk about integrity, this man's picture would probably appear beside the word if you were to look it up.

However, I doubt the American people are going to be willing to forgive the fact that Perot had the audacity to "change" (there's that word) his mind, back out of the presidential race, and "oops!" "change" his mind once more and reenter.

None of us have ever done such a thing, have we? Maybe not in a situation that's as important as the presidential race anyway.

Oh well, all we can hope for is that all of us think long and hard before we pull that lever on November 3. And the most important part is that we do pull that lever.

So, until next week....
VOTE.

MEMENTO

A few years ago my brother Graham sent me a bulletin from his church, First Baptist in Barboursville. I kept it because of a message he had written on it and have treasured it even more since he left us eight years ago.

The bulletin also contained an essay written by an anonymous little girl. Children have a slant all their own and I hope our readers will enjoy this special perspective:

WHAT A GRANDMOTHER IS

A grandmother is a lady who has no children of her own. She likes other people's little girls.

A grandfather is a man grandmother. He goes for walks with the boys and they talk about fishing and tractors and things like that.

Grandmothers don't have anything to do but be there. They are old so they shouldn't play hard or run. It is enough if they take us to the store where the pretend horse is and have lots of dimes ready. If they take us for walks they should slow down passing things like pretty leaves or caterpillars. They should never say, "Hurry up."

Usually they are fat, but not too fat to tie your shoes. They wear glasses and funny underwear, and they can take their teeth and gums off.

It is better if they don't typewrite or play cards except with us. They don't have to be smart—only answer questions like why dogs hate cats and things like that.

They don't talk baby talk like visitors do because it is hard to understand. When they read to us they don't skip words or mind if it is the same story again and again.

Everybody should try to have one, especially if you don't have a television, because grandmothers are the only grown-ups who have got time.

AN IDEAL

Speaking of grandmother, my mother-in-law, Era Ratliff, is the queen of our family, even to the great-grandchildren. They think she's "real cool," and Lorraine Layne of Harold once said she wished I would pass on more of her comments.

We don't think of her as being old and fat or slow. In fact, a few days ago we were discussing physical exercise and the particular routines we try to do as a means for keeping fit.

She said, "The Senior Citizens' group has a regular exercise program and I decided to participate in that. But by the time I could figure out what they were going to do, they'd already done it."

WELCOME GREETING

My own grandsons, David and Jon, once sent me a Mother's Day greeting with the following message:

"We were telling the clerk in the card shop what a wonderful grandmother you are—and seven grandfathers wanted your address."

They knew I'd like that better than roses.

Disability Awareness Day held at PCC

by Polly Ward
Times Feature Writer

"Success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which he has overcome."

—Booker T. Washington

The second annual Disability Awareness Day program held October 21 at Prestonsburg Community College was in the words of one participant "a real eye-opener."

Several area school officials, counselors, and students gathered in the meeting room of the Johnson building for the four-hour program which included presentations and hands-on learning experiences.

The program was put together by D. Lee Beard, special needs counselor at PCC who works with students who have disabilities.

"I setup the program basically to help make people more aware of the different types of disabilities people have and what accommodations we can make to help them be more productive and happier in our society," said Beard who presided over the workshop.

A major component of the workshop was the presentation of an Adult Awareness Program (AAP) conducted by officials of the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, Louisville. The AAP presentations consisted of discussions of motor impairments, learning disabilities, and visual impairments. Hearing impairment was presented by Tina McFarland of United Way who has experience with deaf ministries.

Don Beckhart, rehabilitation program administrator for the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation spoke about the purpose of the AAP during a break in the workshop.

"Our purpose is to acquaint individuals regarding services for vocational rehabilitation and having them aware of the challenges involving people with disabilities. Hopefully, they will understand there are challenges, but these are challenges that can be overcome."

The vocational rehabilitation department has presented the AAP to 60 organizations - approximately 1,500 adults - since January. A variation of the program has been presented to schools in the Louisville area. According to Beckhart, the program reaches at least 3,500 students annually.

Beckhart himself is living proof a disability can be overcome. Stricken with polio at age 13, Beckhart had to resign himself to a life with crutches. This turn-of-events was especially difficult for a youngster who was active in sports.

"Initially I was very depressed. But I'm very fortunate," he said.

Making the best of a bad situation, he became team manager for his high school and college sports teams. For ten years he ran the scoreboard for the now defunct Louisville Colonels minor league baseball team. For several years now he has been a scout for the Philadelphia Phillies major league baseball team.

Beckhart, 62, said being physically challenged "hasn't affected me professionally at all. I don't mean to boast, but I hope I'm an example of what a person can do (who has a disability)."

Beckhart was a former client of the rehabilitation program and he has been an employee of the department for 30 years.

Steve Deeley, 37, has worked with the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation for the last six years. During the break Beckhart beamed as he introduced Deeley as "a true star of the program. He is an example of what a person (with a disability) can accomplish."

Although blind, Deeley leads an active life. He runs in marathons, water skis, and "wants to jump out of an airplane," said Beckhart, marveling at his co-worker's adventurous spirit.

A modest man who had to be prodded to talk about himself, Deeley said, "I have a fear of airplanes in general. I don't know if I will try it (parachuting out of an airplane). I would be tethered to an instructor."

Deeley said his blindness has not hindered him in pursuing goals.

"I went to law school, but I didn't graduate. But that was my fault. I had personal problems. Blindness hasn't hindered me. There are a lot of things I'd like to read. But with computer technology, I can now."

A disability that defeats one person can provide the catalyst for great achievement in another. Attitude is the key, both on the part of the handicapped and society in general.

"You can pass all the legislature and laws you want. But if people don't have the right attitude (about disabilities) it won't matter."

The morning sessions centered on motor impairments and learning disabilities. Volunteers had popsicle sticks taped to their fingers to simulate the stiff joints of arthritic victims and the physical limitations they face as a result, while others took turns maneuvering in a wheelchair in the hallways outside the meeting room.

One wheelchair volunteer was Darrell Clark, counselor at Sheldon Clark High School, Inez. He commented on how ill-equipped most school facilities are to accommodate the wheelchair bound.

Of his own school he said, "We are making headway, but there is lots we can do to help someone (a student with a disability). Funding has to be increased." He added, "The handicapped can be as productive as anyone else. If they have a good mind they can do anything. These people are discriminated against if they don't get an education."

Edgar Craft, counselor at Prestonsburg High School, participated in the learning disabilities session, which included deciphering paragraphs as a learning disabled person might see them. He said of the program, "I think it's fantastic. It introduces people to how a person with disabilities (sees the world)...This should be an in-service program (at schools)."

The afternoon agenda included a session on visual impairment presented by Connie Latiff and Keith Creasy of the Kentucky Department of the Blind, in which participants wore goggles to simulate different vision impairments, witnessed demonstrations of computer technology, and listened to a short presentation on braille.

Tina McFarland who works with a deaf ministry in the five-county area, described her experiences working with the deaf culture in eastern Kentucky, and she taught the group a few words in sign language.

To Beard, the Disability Awareness Day agenda met all his objectives.

"I think the program was very helpful for those who attended in that it enlightened them on the different types of disabilities and the services available for people with disabilities."

It's not easy!

Maneuvering a wheelchair through doors is no easy task for Darrell Clark, guidance counselor at Sheldon Clark High School, Inez. Clark recently participated in Disability Awareness Day at PCC.

THE BEST OF TIMES

People in politics aren't the only ones who make outlandish statements. As a matter of fact, I made one the other day that might rank right up there with "Read my lips" and "I am not a crook."

It seems that one of my high school students was sweating out the results of a math test he'd taken under another teacher earlier in the week, and I commented something to the effect that I could identify with his problems in math since it was also one of my many academic weaknesses. Then, I said what (upon reflection) must be the most astinine statement of all time. I said, "After all, it hasn't been all that long ago that I too was in high school."

Wrong!

I mean, who do I think I'm kidding?

Forget the number of years involved. They're really insignificant when the way of life we experienced in the 1950s is compared to how things are now.

Everything was so much simpler then. There's no doubt that we really were teens during the best times ever. For one thing, we lived in a drug-free society. Drugs then were what was left in the bottom of your daddy's coffee cup. The only thing I can recall that even remotely resembled an overdose was when someone accused a boy of dissolving two aspirins in a bottle of RC and drinking it. We thought that was the wildest thing he'd ever heard.

And what about the music that teens listen to today? When I was in high school we had three types. We had what we called popular, we had hillbilly and we had rock and roll. Frank Sinatra and Perry Como sang popular, people like the Singing Ranger Hank Snow sang hillbilly, and someone had just invented something called an Elvis to sing our rock and roll.

Furthermore, our music had no sinister, hidden messages, either. It was just something we listened to on the radio. Some of us had phonographs and we'd pick up used 45's at the Big Sandy Amusement Company for three for a dollar.

And what do today's kids watch on TV? In the fifties, we could watch the three major networks—if we bought a booster and had the right kind of antenna. Nothing then compared to MTV and Madonna.

Girls would miss school sometimes and come back the next day whispering about some of the goings on of a soap opera called "A Secret Storm" or about the poor woman who had been selected yesterday's "Queen for a Day."

And fashions? The girls wore their cardigan sweaters with the buttons in the back with something called a Peter Pan collar. The boys all wore pegged blue jeans, shirts with the collar turned up, and, of course, crew cuts.

We'd all hum the catchy little tune to "Winston tastes good like a (clap, clap) cigarette should," but few smoked. Most of us did, however, brush our teeth to the tune of "You'll wonder where the yellow went."

Eisenhower was president, we'd never heard of Vietnam, and it would be more than ten years before Neil Armstrong would step on the moon.

It would be nice, in a way, if today's kids could experience some of the same thoughts and feelings we had when we'd listen to the Platters expose "The Great Pretender" or Pat Boone write "Love Letters in the Sand." However, I'm kind of glad, too, that those times in the fifties belonged to only us. It's just too bad that it's taken us so long to figure out just how special they really were.

Yep. When you think about it, it's pretty obvious that more than years separate us from then and now.

"School days, school days; Dear old Golden Rule days..."

In keeping with Kentucky's Bicentennial year, the Josie D. Harkins School House, "the last one-room school closed in Kentucky," which had been in operation at Daniel's Creek from 1924-1987, and moved this year to Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, was dedicated on Friday, October 23, beginning at 1 p.m., with Frances Preston Brackett, Floyd County Bicentennial Committee, school coordinator in charge.

With the apparent theme of "School days, school days, Dear old Golden Rule days" the following program was presented to an overflow crowd:

Invocation, Dr. Timothy Jessen, pastor of Prestonsburg's First Presbyterian Church; welcome, James O VanHoose, chairman, Floyd County Bicentennial, Representative Gregory D. Stumbo, Ann Latta, Prestonsburg Mayor, and Leon Russell, superintendent, Jenny Wiley State Park; Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the USA, Nora Traum, students; flagholder, Angela Frances Brackett, student; music, "God Bless American," Alice O. Martin, member of the Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association; proclamation, John M. Stumbo, Floyd County Judge/Executive; History, Ray Brackett, retired superintendent, Floyd County Schools; acknowledgements, Frances Preston Brackett, school project chairman, and benediction, Leo Watts, Daniel's Creek Mission director, 1964-92, from the First Baptist Church, at Allen.

Acknowledgements made by Mrs. Frances Brackett included: David K. Karem, chairperson, and George S. Boone, vice chairman, Kentucky Bicentennial Commission, 1792-1992; Floyd County Bicentennial Committee, including: James O. Vanhooose, chairman, Frances Brackett, vice chairman, Imogene Caldwell, secretary, Judy Curmutte, treasurer, William Francis and Marshall Davidson, attorneys; John M. Stumbo, Judge/Executive, and Ann Latta, Prestonsburg Mayor; board of directors: J. Orville Cooley, Dr. Tim Jessen, Marshall Davidson, and Johnnie B. Martin; other members of the executive board: Maxine Bierman, Pauline Burchett, Eula Ferguson, James B. Goble, Fred James, Doris Osborne, Sandra Robertson, Norma S. Stepp, Joe Bolton, Robert Castle, Chalmers Frazier, Virginia S. Goble, Mary Rose Martin, Frances Pitts, Charles Stamper, Docia B. Woods, Ray Brackett, Patsy Evans, Kathryn Frazier, Phyllis Honshell, Opal S. May, Pam Shingler, and Mike Vance; reception hosts: Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association, John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Big Sandy Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, and the Prestonsburg Senior Citizens' Center; Flowers, "Add-A-Touch," and programs by the Floyd County Extension Department.

Along with the programs, guests were presented copies of a recent letter to the Editor of the Floyd County Times, from Frances Preston Brackett, in which she expressed appreciation for "funding for renovation" of this project.

Community United Methodist Women hold regular meeting

The Community United Methodist Women held their monthly meeting on Monday, October 12. The president, Sharon Snyder, called the meeting to order, and Ernestine Collins gave the opening prayer. The minutes for the September meeting were read and approved.

It was decided that the group will sell knife sets to raise funds, and will purchase Christmas gifts for the Methodist Home at Versailles. Once again, they will buy Christmas gifts for mini homes. Sharon Snyder announced that she had received a request from the general board for hand-made quilts to be given to babies with AIDS. Anyone who can make a quilt should ask Sharon for details.

The night's speaker was Kentucky State Trooper, Phillip Tucker, who shared with the group about his duties as an officer, and talked of the difference being a Christian had made in his work. The group was appreciative for all the hard work police officers do for their community.

Hostesses for this meeting were Sue Hale, Lynn May, and Nancy Tackett. Members present, other than the hostesses, included Jean Burke, Ernestine Collins, Sandy Howell, Paula Collins, Sue Spradlin, Carolyn Stout, Sherry Shepherd, Sharon Burchett, Goldie Collins, Sharon Snyder, and Sharon May.

Next month's meeting date has been changed due to the upcoming revival. The November meeting will be held on Monday evening, Nov. 2, and the Thanksgiving Love Dinner will be planned.

Lynn May gave the closing prayer.

Floyd County Homemakers' News

As usual, many varied activities have taken place at the Floyd County Homemakers' meetings during the month of October. The following is a summary of some of those meetings, including:

Middle Creek

The Middle Creek Homemakers held their October meeting last week at the Fitzpatrick Baptist Church, with Sophia Gibson presiding. Following the devotional, the business meeting was held, and a report on the area meeting, which was attended by 18 Floyd County Homemakers was given. November activities and plans for the next meeting were discussed. Several members paid their dues. Mrs. Frances Pitts, Floyd County Home Economist, gave information concerning the sale of pecans, for the benefit of the Ovarian Cancer Drive.

The lesson on "Decorating with Antiques and Collectibles" was presented. The display of quilts and other items that had family meaning was of special interest to the group.

Hostesses, Peggy Ousley and Dollie Dotson served refreshments to Sophia Gibson, Jewell Tussey, Penny Hale, Delphia Hicks, Grace Moore, Lucy Waddles, and Frances Pitts.

The next meeting will be November 16, with Grace Moore and Jewell Tussey as hostesses. Members extended "speedy recovery" wishes to Joyce Martin, who missed the meeting due to illness.

Maytown

The Maytown Homemakers' Club held its October meeting at the Homemakers' Building, with Helen Boyd, president, presiding. The devotional was given by Alda Gibson. The business meeting included a discussion of the area homemakers' meeting, the annual pecan sales, the forthcoming bazaar, the November meeting, and a show-and-tell display of items the club plans to sell.

During the lesson on "Decorating with Antiques and Collectibles," members displayed and gave the histories of their favorite antique or collectibles.

Enjoying a covered-dish dinner were Helen Boyd, Sharon Caudill, Cynthia Dove, Mary Alice Fraley, Alda Gibson, Ada Martin, Marge Samons, Margie Yates, Betty Bentley, and Frances Pitts.

The next meeting is scheduled for November 19, at 7 p.m., at the homemakers' building. Members are reminded that club dues are to be paid during the November meeting.

Martin

The October meeting of the Martin Homemakers was held with Marena Hale presiding. The devotional reading was given by Judy Allen, accompanied by a song by Marena Hale.

Reports on the area meeting, special workshops, and November reminders were made during the business meeting. Members were reminded that pecan sales will soon begin.

The lesson on "Decorating with Antiques and Collectibles" was given, with members sharing some of their favorite collections.

Attending were Dorothy Tackett, Judy Allen, Beulah Baldridge, Doris Patton, Jean Watson, Geraldine Bartrum, Altonette Bentley, Phyllis Centers, Marena Hale, Jean Meade, Gale Osborne, Otha Thornsby, Weston Reid, and Frances Pitts. Hostesses for this event were, Jean Watson and Marena Hale.

Members were reminded of the November 9 meeting, and that dues should be paid at that time. The club was happy to welcome back Otha Thornsby, who had recently undergone surgery.

F. C. Homemakers' general news

The Floyd County Homemakers are presently making finger puppets for the children patients at a local hospital. Members who have completed several puppets so far include Hester Leslie, Mary Alice Fraley, Dorothy Harris, and Armita Snavely. According to Frances Pitts, Floyd County Home Economist, more are needed to assist in this project. Further information may be obtained by calling 886-2668, (the County Extension Office).

The annual sale of pecans, by the Floyd County Homemakers will begin in late October. Profit from these sales is earmarked for the Ovarian Cancer Research Fund, at the University of Kentucky. Mrs. Pitts says that Floyd County has participated in this project since it began and has donated close to $10,000 to this effort. The county extension office can furnish further information, if needed.

Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 holds regular meeting

The regular meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 was held October 20. Noble grand Loretta Akers presided. Those on the sick list were noted, and cards to be mailed to them were signed.

An invitation regarding a reception for the assembly president, Syble Parson of Owenton, to be held on October 25, from 2-5 p.m. was presented.

Jean Hickman received her commission as lady deputy from the assembly president for the ensuing year, and this was read in open lodge.

A motion was made and seconded that things that are needed for the president's visit next spring be purchased.

Perfect attendance certificates for the past year were presented at the state assembly meeting to Loretta Akers, Paulina Owens, and Mabel Jean LeMaster.

It was announced that Benson fruit cakes are now being sold by members of Miriam Lodge. Anyone wishing to purchase these may call 886-2620 or any other member.

Members present were Loretta Akers, Claudine Johns, Jean Hickman, Susie Clifton, Rebecca Bingham, Myrtle Allen, and Violetta Wright.

The next regular meeting will be November 3, for the purpose of installing officers for the forthcoming year. A reception for the new officers will be held at 6 p.m. on that same date.

GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club to hold regular monthly meeting

Mrs. Garnett Fairchild, president of the GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club, announces that the next meeting of this club will be held on Thursday evening, November 5, at the clubhouse, at Archer Park. Members of the Executive Board are asked to meet at 7 p.m., with the regular meeting to take place at 7:30 on that date.

The program will be given by the arts and crafts department, with Eileen Burchett and Phyllis Herrick as leaders. The devotional leader will be Betty Porter, and the hostesses will be Lucille Nunery, Ethel Burke, Shirley Callihan, Betty Porter, and Ditty Tackett.

All members are urged to attend this event.

Members of the Davidson Family who were here during the weekend conducting family business included Mesdames Mary Jo LaPointe, Anna Lara Boulos, and Barbara Manderly, and Judy Collins, all of Lexington; Laura Virginia Collins, of Boca Raton, Florida; Steve Leming of Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hatcher and children, of Harold; and Billy Graves Davidson, of Houston, Texas. While here, they also spent some time visiting with relatives and friends.

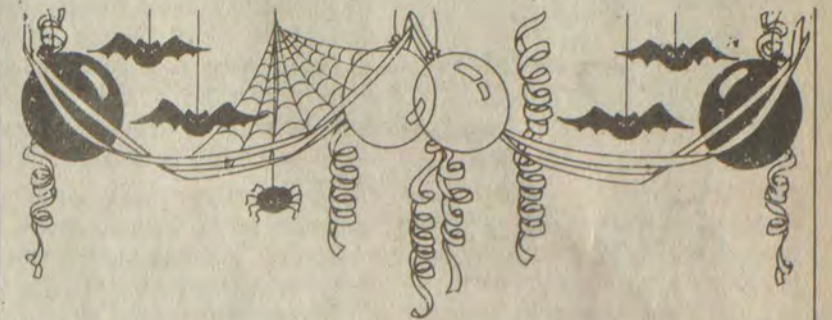

Pecan sales

The Floyd County Homemakers will begin their annual Pecan Sale this week (October 26). The profit from sales will go to the Ovarian Cancer Research Fund at the University of Kentucky. All homemaker clubs will participate. For more information, call 886-2668.

Lancer Homemakers meet

The Lancer Homemakers Club met this week with President Linda Burchett presiding. Following the devotional and business session, members answered roll call with a consumer tip.

Dues were collected and members discussed the lesson. The evening was concluded with a special interest session on making folded star Christmas ornaments.

Kay Akers was hostess. Others attending were Nancy Roberts, Emma Crook, Duna Combs, Rhonda Burchett, Alice Rowe, Freda Hicks and Frances Pitts.

Prestonsburg Kiwanianes hold luncheon-meeting

The Prestonsburg Kiwanianes held their regular monthly luncheon-meeting on Thursday, October 22, at 12:30, at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. Mabel Jean LeMaster, president, was in charge of the meeting. The Kiwanianes grace was said in unison.

Following the luncheon, Dorothy Osborne read the minutes of the September meeting, and Garnett Fairchild gave the financial report.

Lucy Regan presented the devotional, reading from Proverbs. The theme of her discussion was "Control of our lives." She said, "The best place to be is in His hands."

The president reminded members that Jane Bond, of the Floyd County Health Department, who was the speaker last time had stressed the importance of "flu" shots.

She also reminded them of the Heart Clinic to be held at the health department here, for which the Kiwanianes, in cooperation with the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club are responsible for furnishing milk and snacks. She said that registration for this clinic would be held on Monday, December 14; that adults would be at the clinic on Tuesday, December 15, and children on Wednesday, December 16. She said that two local churches would furnish sandwiches, and that the Kiwanis Club is to pay the Kiwanianes for money spent for milk. Lucy C. Regan and Myrtle Allen volunteered to be in charge of serving the food.

It was decided that, due to the Thanksgiving holidays, the next luncheon-meeting would be held on November 19, at 12:30 and that, due to the Christmas holidays, the luncheon-meeting that month would be on December 17.

Officers for the year, 1991-92 were asked to continue in their capacities during the forthcoming year. They are Mabel Jean LeMaster, president; Ada Meade, vice president; Dorothy Osborne, secretary, and Garnett Fairchild, treasurer. The president asked these committee chairpersons to continue in these roles in 1992-93: Garnett Fairchild, decorations; Lucy C. Regan, devotionals; Jane Wallace, programs; Minerva Cooley, telephone, and Docia B. Woods, publicity.

Jane Wallace presented the speaker, Garnett Fairchild, a member and treasurer of the group, who gave a colorful discussion of a recent tour of the Pacific Northwest. She told of devotions conducted on the bus during the trip, and discussed several phases of the tour, including the scenery at Glacier National Park Highway to the Sky, Spirit Island, Mt. Rushmore, and other places of interest. Her discussion was well received, and pamphlets depicting various locations were shared with the group.

Present for Thursday's meeting were Mabel Jean LeMaster, Ada Meade, Dorothy Osborne, Garnett Fairchild, Lucy Regan, Hope Whitten, Myrtle Allen, Goldia Williams, Jane Wallace, Minerva Cooley, and Docia Woods.

Spradlin visits relatives and attends festival

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mayo Spradlin and their daughter Katie, of Clintonville, Kentucky were here recently, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jody Spradlin and other relatives, and attending the Jenny Wiley Festival.

Rinehart donates schoolbell to Harkins school

On the evening prior to the dedication of the Josie D. Harkins one-room school, Venelia Rinehart presented to Ruby Akers, former president of the Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association, a schoolbell to be used at that school. This bell from Rinehart, a former teacher in the Floyd County Schools, was used during the program on the day of the dedication of this building which is located near The Pines, at Jenny Wiley State Park. Sincere appreciation is felt for such a thoughtful gift.

Represent Woman's Club at District Conference

Garnett Fairchild, president, and Burieta Gearhart, chairman of International Affairs, of the GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club, represented the club at the 7th District Fall Conference held at the Landmark in Pikeville, on October 17.

Connie Gilpin of Pikeville is governor of the 7th District.

Attend rally for President Bush at London

Among those from this area who attended the rally for President George Bush at London this past week were Mrs. Gorman Collins Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Collins Jr. of Prestonsburg; Mrs. T. A. Combs of Langley and Miss Carla Hayes of Allen.

First Baptist Church to host World Missions Conference

From November 1-4 the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial) will host the World Missions Conference of the Enterprise Association. Bringing the messages on these days will be these Baptist missionaries: Sunday morning, November 1, Stanley B. Smith; Sunday evening, November 1, Sidney Oxendine; Monday evening, November 2, Charles Blair; Tuesday evening, Nov. 3, Marvin Fitts; and Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, Mrs. Hannah Hanson.

In lieu of the regular monthly meeting, the Annie Allen Circle W.M.U., in keeping with this conference, will host a covered-dish dinner in Fellowship Hall of this church on Monday evening, November 2, at 5:30.

The Rev. Michael Taylor is pastor and Thomas Foy is Music and Youth Director of the host church.

Miriam Rebekah Lodge members attend Paintsville Rebekah Lodge

The following members of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 went to Paintsville on October 20 for the purpose of installing their officers. This was the duty of Beverly Hackworth, newly-elected district deputy president. Mrs. Hackworth was assisted by Mesdames Sue Moore, Lorena Wallen, Hope Whitten, Paulena Owens, and Mabel Jean LeMaster.

Pre-retirement meeting held at Prestonsburg Community College

A pre-retirement meeting for teachers approaching retirement was conducted by the Kentucky Retired Teachers' Association at Prestonsburg Community College on October 17, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Presiding at this meeting was Virginia S. Goble, executive council member for the Big Sandy Retired District.

Past president of KRTA, Russell Boyd, of Paintsville, discussed "The Teachers' Retirement System of the State of Kentucky, and the KRTA." Since his retirement as an educator, Boyd has been very active in KRTA.

Robert Conley, a retired banker and businessman, whose wife Barbara is a retired teacher of Johnson County, brought a message on "Estate and Financial Planning." Conley is an elected member serving on the Board of Trustees for the Kentucky Retirement System.

Michael Auxier of Floyd County, who is a former employee of the Kentucky Teacher Retirement System, discussed with the group the Retirement System benefits, and conducted a question-and-answer session.

C. H. Dutton of Paintsville, who is a retired educator, and is now state and district membership chairman of KRTA, stressed the importance of insurance and membership of this organization, encouraging those present to become members.

Those assisting were members from the FCRT, Alice O. Martin and Danese Amburgey.

The leaders of this group expressed their thanks to Prestonsburg Community College for hospitality and service.

Attending other than those previously mentioned were Verla Sue Jarrell, Jimmy Jarrell, William Minchley, Barbara Mounts, Lillian Phillips, Lorraine Hamilton, Jeanetta Wagner, Glenna Young, and Magdalene Coleman, of Pike County; Edward Hazlett, Sharon Blair, Robert Baldwin, and Cassie Ward, Johnson County; Virginia Salmons and Wilma LeMaster, Lawrence County; Gail King, and Lula Reed, Magoffin

County; and Golda DeRossett, Doris Robinson, Anna Lee Rice, Harry Wallace, Betty Porter, Sarah Allen, and Doris Hyden, Floyd County. Donuts, cookies, and coffee were served.

Flowers at First United Methodist

Flowers on the altar of the First United Methodist Church during services there this past Sunday morning were "in love and honor of George Conley on his birthday, from Dorothy, Jess, and Tommy Stover.

The Rev. Russ Holland is the pastor of this church.

Cow Creek Homemakers hold meeting

The Cow Creek Homemakers met for the October meeting with Hester Leslie presiding over the business session. The devotional and games were led by Virginia Goble.

Reports of September activities were made and members were reminded that pecan sales would begin October 26.

The lesson on "Decorating With Antiques and Collectibles" was given. Several members brought their favorite "old thing" to share with the club.

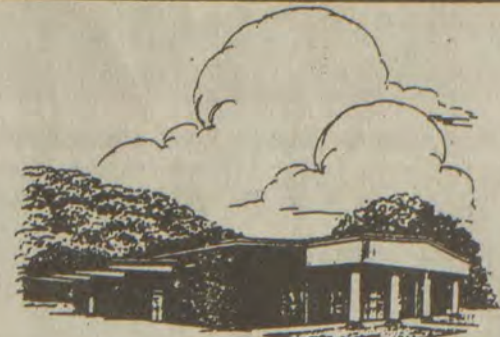

The hostesses were Virginia Goble and Louise Carey. Others attending were Sally Goble, Violetta Wright, Carol Ann Sparks, Mary Zemo, Imogene Caldwell and Frances Pitts.

The next meeting will be November 17 with Mary Zemo and Loretta Akers as hostesses. New members and visitors are welcome.

Celebrates birthday

Mrs. Willia Mae Branham celebrated her birthday on October 17 while visiting her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ray Branham in Versailles.

She attended church Saturday night with her daughter-in-law Debbie Branham, who was the special singer.

County Kettle

Kay Kellogg Kaleidoscope™

My neighbor's Rice Krispies Treat® always seem to turn out more moist and chewy than mine.

Kellogg's® Rice Krispies Treats® have been a perennial favorite since Kellogg Kitchens first created them in the 1940s. After years of re-testing and feedback from cooks all over the country, we've found that the secret is in the marshmallows:

- Always use fresh marshmallows. Check the freshness date. If the marshmallows you bought some time ago are old, save them for toasting and buy a new bag.

- Melt marshmallows and margarine on low heat.

- Remove from heat immediately. As soon as the marshmallows are completely melted, take them off the stove. Overheating hardens the marshmallow mixture.

Remembering these tips should improve your Rice Krispies Treats. And if you enjoy adding a personal touch to this classic recipe, there are endless variations of the popular Rice Krispies Treats theme. We suggest adding 1/4 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 cup chocolate chips or raisins, or one teaspoon vanilla or almond flavoring.

Here is the recipe for traditional Rice Krispies Treats. You'll also like our refreshing new variation from Kellogg Kitchens, a fruit-flavored treat with just a bluish of color.

RICE KRISPIES TREATS®

1/4 cup margarine
1 package (10 oz., about 40) regular marshmallows or 4 cups miniature marshmallows

6 cups KELLOGG'S® RICE KRISPIES® cereal

Melt margarine in large saucepan over low heat. Add marshmallows and stir until completely melted. Remove from heat.

Add cereal. Stir until well coated.

Using buttered spatula or waxed paper, press mixture evenly into buttered 13 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Cut into squares when cool.

YIELD: 24 treats, 2 x 2-inch squares

MICROWAVE DIRECTIONS: Microwave margarine and marshmallows at HIGH 2 minutes in microwave-safe mixing bowl. Stir to combine. Microwave at HIGH 1 minute longer. Stir until smooth. Add cereal. Stir until well coated. Press into pan as directed in step 3.

VARIATION: Strawberry Flavored Treats—Melt margarine and marshmallows as directed in step 1. Stir one small packet (.15 oz.) unsweetened strawberry drink mix powder into melted marshmallow mixture. Mix well. Add cereal, stirring until well coated. Press into pan as directed in step 3.

butter and sugar with electric mixer in large mixing bowl until light and fluffy. Add one egg; beat well. Stir in 1 1/2 cups flour and salt until well blended. Reserve 1 cup of mixture by spooning lightly into measuring cup; set aside. Press remaining crust mixture into prepared pan (dust fingers with flour for easier handling). Bake 15 minutes. Blend remaining 2 to 4 tablespoons flour into reserved crust mixture until crumbly; set aside.

In small mixing bowl, blend cream cheese and remaining egg with electric mixer until smooth. Remove crust from oven and spread cream cheese mixture evenly over top. Spoon cherry preserves over cream cheese mixture.

Sprinkle with reserved crumb topping. Bake 35 to 40 minutes or until edges are golden brown. Cool on wire rack before cutting. Store covered in refrigerator up to 1 week. Makes 36 1 x 3-inch bars.

LAZY DAISY

1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened

1/4 cup sugar

1 cup all-purpose flour

1 cup finely chopped pecans

1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened

1 cup sugar

3-1/2 cups (8 oz.) Cool Whip non-dairy whipped topping, thawed

1 package (4-serving size) Jell-O vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling

1 package (4-serving size) Jell-O chocolate flavor instant pudding and pie filling

3 cups milk

1/2 cup crushed chocolate toffee candy

Beat butter and 1/4 cup sugar in medium bowl of electric mixer at medium speed until light and fluffy. Mix in flour until well blended. Stir in pecans. Press mixture into bottom of greased 13 x 9-inch baking pan. Bake at 350° for 15 to 20 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool on rack.

Beat cream cheese with 1 cup sugar in large bowl until smooth. Fold in 1-3/4 cups of the whipped topping. Spread over cooled crust.

Prepare vanilla and chocolate flavor pudding mixes together as directed on package, using 3 cups milk; let stand 5 minutes. Spread over cream cheese layer. Chill several hours or overnight. Spread remaining whipped topping over pudding. Sprinkle with crushed candy. Cut into squares. Makes 12 servings.

DECADENT PECAN PIE

3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar

3/4 cup dark corn syrup

6 tablespoons butter or margarine

4 squares Baker's semi-sweet chocolate

3 eggs

1-1/3 cups (3-1/2 oz.) Baker's Angel Flake coconut

1 cup chopped pecans

1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell

1-3/4 cups (4 oz.) Cool Whip non-dairy whipped topping, thawed

1 tablespoon bourbon (optional)

Cook and stir brown sugar and corn syrup until boiling. Remove saucepan from heat; add butter and chocolate, stirring until melted. Cool slightly.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in coconut and pecans. Pour into pie shell and bake at 350° for 1 hour or until knife inserted 1 inch from center comes out clean. Cool on rack.

Combine whipped topping and bourbon. Serve with pie.

COCONUT MACADAMIA TART

1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened

1/4 cup confectioners' sugar

3/4 cup all-purpose flour

1 egg yolk

1-1/3 cups (about) Baker's Angel Flake coconut

1 jar (7 oz.) macadamia nuts, coarsely chopped

1 cup honey

2 eggs

1/4 cup brandy

2 tablespoons lemon juice

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

1/4 teaspoon Calumet baking powder

Beat butter and confectioners sugar until well blended in large bowl of electric mixer at medium speed. Blend in flour and egg yolk. Press mixture into bottom and on sides of 10-inch tart pan with removable bottom. Bake at 350° for 10 to 12 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Mix coconut and macadamia nuts; sprinkle over bottom of baked tart shell.

Beat remaining ingredients in large bowl of electric mixer at medium speed. Pour over coconut-nut mixture. Bake at 350° for 40 minutes, or until filling is puffy. Cool on wire rack; remove from pan. Garnish with whipped topping, if desired.

Crager visits Morehead

Mrs. Marietta Crager spent the weekend in Morehead visiting Mr. and Mrs. Buford Crager. On Saturday they were joined by Bobby F. Crager and attended the wedding of Kelly Michelle Helton at Southern Hills Methodist Church in Lexington and the reception at the Marriott Hotel. Maudy Helton, granddaughter of Mrs. Crager, was junior bridesmaid. Other members of the family attending were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kniceley of Mansfield, Ohio.

Save Money By Using Your Head.

You don't need to be a genius to save money nowadays. You can save just by being smart. That's SMART—Saving Money And Resources Together—a series of energy management programs and ideas designed to help you conserve energy and manage your electric bills more efficiently.

How To Get SMART.

You can start now by ordering your very own SMART PAC. This do-it-yourself starter kit will help you achieve greater energy efficiency in your home. The items in the SMART PAC can be easily installed in one evening, literally putting you on the SMART track overnight.

Here's What You'll Get.

- An energy-saving showerhead that will save 20 to 40 gallons of water during a 10-minute shower.
- A 15-watt fluorescent bulb producing as much light as a 60-watt conventional bulb while using only one quarter of the energy. • An insulating blanket for your water heater which will save as much as 10% of your water heating energy. • Two three-foot sections of polyethylene wrap for your hot water pipes that will cut the heat loss between your water tank and the point of use.

• Twelve insulators which will help reduce the heat loss around switch plates and outlets in your outside walls.

It'll Cost More Not To Buy It.

The SMART PAC costs just $23, but it could save you about $45 a year on electricity costs. In fact, to buy these items separately would cost you about $40. So you see, saving money and resources is easy. You just have to use your head, and the SMART PAC.

To Order SMART PAC.

You can begin by filling out and mailing the coupon below. Or call 1-800-282-2118 toll-free.

Starting a new business; MSU seminar tells how

For those planning to open a business, Morehead State University's Small Business Development Center will offer two seminars on Monday, November 2, on the campus.

The session will be held at 209 Downing Hall. There is a $10 registration fee for each program.

A "Pre-Business Orientation" offering, which begins at 3 p.m., will include the how to's, do's, and don'ts of going into business along with the pitfalls, legal structures and prerequisites for a successful small business. Questions to ask when buying an already established business and simple bookkeeping systems also will be discussed.

"How to Prepare a Business Loan" is the title of the evening program, scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. Requirements and procedures for preparing a loan package, including steps for completing the appropriate documentation will be covered.

Because of a limited seating, reservations are necessary. Arrangements will be made for the disabled when requested in advance. The training programs, partially funded by the U.S. Small Business Administration, are open to all individuals without regard to race, color, sex, creed, or national origin.

The seminars are co-sponsored by MSU's College of Business, the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development Small Business Division, Buffalo Trace and Gateway Area Development Districts, Morehead-Rowan County and Mt. Sterling-Montgomery County Chambers of Commerce, and the Mt. Sterling-Montgomery County Branch of the Lexington SCORE Chapter.

Additional information and registration is available by call (606) 783-2895.

Are 'work-at-home' ads a rip-off

DEAR BRUCE: We desperately have to increase our family income. We can't meet our bills, and overtime work has dried up for my husband. I am hard-pressed to leave the house since we have four children under the age of 7.

I answered an ad that said for $29.95, I would receive a list of dozens of companies that would allow me to work at home. I sent my check in, and received the book. But every company that I have responded to wants me to put money up before they will allow me to work for them. The work requires stuffing envelopes, assembling products, etc.

My husband says it's nothing but a rip-off. How can they be allowed to do this? I'm not comfortable leaving the home, and, realistically, the cost of day care makes my going to work an impractical proposition. Before I spend any more money, I thought I would ask you what you know of these things.—C.B., Des Moines, Iowa

SMART MONEY

BRUCE WILLIAMS

DEAR C.B.: Companies that place ads such as you've described, prey on people like you. You're desperate for income. The problem is that in almost every instance—there may be an exception somewhere—the only thing that happens is that you become poorer because you've answered their ads.

In most every case—for research, we have answered dozens of these ads—the companies are either nearly illegal, or clearly illegal. Dozens of them have been shut down by various attorneys general around the country. Others stay in business by marginally adhering to the letter of the law, but certainly not the spirit.

The cold hard facts are: These "work-at-home" companies will lead you on, paint a rosy picture, and sell you $2 worth of material for as much as $200. When you've completed the work, they return it to you, saying it doesn't meet company standards.

There may be some type of legiti-mate work available to you, such as typing for a local business, telephone soliciting for sales leads for a local business, and that sort of thing. But the ads that you see in the magazines and classifieds and supermarket publications are to be avoided at all costs.

You mentioned you have four children. Is it possible for you to do some baby sitting or day-care providing, on your own? You're obviously an experienced mother. Maybe a couple of extra kids around the house, while burdensome, might provide the income that you so desperately desire.

DEAR BRUCE: I am an avid cyclist. The problem is that when I ride around the neighborhood, I am constantly chased by dogs. We have a leash law in our community, but that doesn't slow them down in the slightest.

I purchased a can of Mace and have found that to be an effective deterrent. When a dog gets too close, I give him the smallest dose necessary, and that discourages them. I've also found, after one or two shots, those dogs don't chase me anymore.

Can I get in trouble doing this? Does it have any lasting effect on the dog? The dog shouldn't be out in the road to begin with.—G.R., Santa Maria, Calif.

DEAR G.R.: You really have to feel sorry for the dogs because their owners are so lax. Those dogs should not be allowed to run free. Obviously, you have a right to ride down the street on your bicycle and not be harassed by an animal.

You asked if you can get in trouble, and I don't know the answer to that. But it would seem to me that any owner who makes a complaint against you sticks his or her neck out a long way, by acknowledging that their dog is running free. Clearly, if the dog weren't at large, the problem wouldn't exist.

As you point out, the Mace doesn't have any lasting effect on the dogs, and most of them are smart enough to find out that maybe it's not a good idea to chase bicyclists. While it may not be legal, I personally have no problem with what you are doing.

But I do feel sorry for the animals. I really believe that the owners who allow dogs to run free like this should be taken to task and punished.

Understanding real estate terminology
by Dorothy Harris

Purchasing a home can be a complicated and confusing process, especially for first-time buyers. Throughout the process, first-time home buyers will encounter a variety of unfamiliar real estate terms. There are several key terms associated with purchasing real estate that are helpful to learn.

For example, many buyers confuse the terms broker and salesperson. A broker is a properly licensed individual, or corporation, who serves as a special agent in the purchase and sale of real estate. A salesperson is an individual employed, or associated by written agreement, by the broker as an independent contractor. The salesperson facilitates the purchase or sale of real estate.

Once you decide to purchase, a salesperson will prepare a sales contract or present to the seller along with your earnest money deposit. The sales contract is the document through which the seller agrees to give possession and title of property to the buyer upon full payment of the purchase price and performance of agreed-upon conditions. The earnest money is a buyer's partial payment, as a show of good faith, to make the contract binding. Often, the earnest money is held in an escrow account. Escrow is the process by which money is held by a disinterested party until the terms of the escrow instructions are fulfilled.

After the buyer and seller have signed the contract, the buyer must obtain a mortgage note by presenting the contract to a mortgage lender. The note is the buyer's promise to pay the purchase price of the real estate in addition to a stated interest rate over a specified period of time. A mortgage lender places a lien on the property, or mortgage, and this secures the mortgage note.

The buyer pays interest money to the lender in exchange for the use of money borrowed. Interest is usually referred to as APR or annual percentage rate. Interest is paid on the principal, the capital sum the buyer owes. Interest payments may be disguised in the form of points. Points are an up-front cost which may be paid by either the buyer or seller or both in conventional loans.

In general, there are two types of conventional loans that a buyer can obtain. A fixed rate loan has the same rate of interest for the life of the loan, usually 15 to 30 years. An adjustable rate loan or adjustable rate mortgage (ARM) provides a discounted initial rate which changes after a set period of time. The rate can't exceed the interest rate cap or ceiling allowed on such a loan for any one adjustment period. Some ARMs have a lifetime cap on interest. The buyer makes the loan and interest payments to the lender through amortization, the systematic payment and retirement of debt over a set period of time.

Once the contract has been signed and a mortgage note obtained, the buyer and seller must legally close the real estate transaction. The closing is a meeting where the buyer, seller and their attorneys review, sign and exchange the final documents. At the closing, the buyer receives the appraisal report, an estimate of the property's value with the appraiser's signature, certification and supporting document. The buyer also receives the title and the deed. The title shows evidence of the buyer's ownership of the property while the deed legally transfers the title from the seller to the buyer. The final document the buyer receives at closing is a title insurance policy, insurance against the loss of the title if it's found to be imperfect.

Buyers should plan on at least four or twelve weeks for a typical real estate transaction. The process is difficult and, at times, intimidating. A general understanding of real estate terminology and chronology of the transaction, however, will help any real estate novice to confidently buy his or her first home.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number (836-0179), Revision #3

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Branham & Baker Coal Company, Inc., 148 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, 41653, has filed an application for a major revision to an existing surface coal mining and reclamation operation. This revision proposes to add an additional 0 acres of surface disturbance and 0 acres previously permitted for augering for a total proposed permit acreage of 1200.68 acres located 1.6 miles northeast of Hippo, in Floyd County.

The proposed major revision area is approximately .5 miles northeast from St. Rt. 850's junction with Prater Fork Co. Road and located .6 miles west of Turner's Branch. The latitude is 37 degrees 32' 43". The longitude is 82 degrees 50' 30".

The proposed major revision is located on the Martin U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be affected by this revision owned by James "Doc" Ratliff proposes to change 4.4 acres previously permitted for Forestland postmining use to pastureland postmining landuse.

The revision application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 1346 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow Complex, U.S. 127 South, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

This is the final advertisement of this application; all comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be received within thirty (30) days of today's date.

SECTION 00100 INVITATION FOR BID

Sealed proposals will be received at the OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT MR. WILLIAM SLONE MARTIN COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION INEZ, KENTUCKY until 1:00 p.m. local time on November 6, 1992, and opened as soon as practicable thereafter, for performing and executing the contract for

FINISH GRADING & PAVING for

The Inez Middle School in accordance with the Contract Documents prepared by the Architect,

PAUL W. HOFFMAN
133 SHAWNEE PLACE
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY 40503

Bidding and Contract Documents can be obtained upon the deposit of a $100.00 check made payable to The Martin County Board of Education and forwarded to the office of the Construction Manager. The Construction Manager, upon receipt of the plan deposit fee, shall authorize the publication of a complete set of documents for the requesting party.

The bidding and Contract Documents are to be printed by Lynn Blue Print Co., Inc., 328 E. Vine St., Lexington, KY 40507. The requesting party shall indicate their preference whether they are going to pick up the documents at Lynn Blue Print or if they are to be shipped to the requesting party. The plan deposit, less any shipping charges, will be returned to all bidders who submit a bonafide bid and return to the Construction Manager the plans and specifications (postage prepaid) in good condition postmarked within 20 calendar days after the bids are opened.

Upon receipt of a request for documents, the Construction Manager will send an official Form of Proposal with envelope for each bid division requested to be used in submitting the proposal(s). The Form of Proposal and Proposal Envelopes shall be requested from the Construction Manager, Martin Engineering & Construction Co., Inc., P.O. Box 823, Martin, KY 41649 (606) 285-9232. All bids shall be submitted only on the Form and in the Envelope provided by the Construction Manager.

Submit the Form of Proposal in Duplicate. Do not use the forms in the project manual. The Proposal Envelope will have the Project and respective Bid Division number affixed.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of PAUL W. HOFFMAN, ARCHITECT, 133 SHAWNEE PLACE, LEXINGTON, KY; MARTIN ENGINEERING & CONSTRUCTION MANAGER, Rt. 122, Martin, KY; MARTIN COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION, OWNER, Inez, KY; F.W. DODGE CORPORATION, 303 N. Hurstborne Lane, Suite 265, Louisville, KY; F.W. DODGE CORPORATION, 2525 Harrodsburg, Rd., Lexington, KY; AGC, Lexington and BUILDERS EXCHANGE OF LOUISVILLE, 3595 Dutchman's Lane, Louisville, KY 40205, DODGE PLAN ROOM, 405 Capitol St., Suite 509, Charleston, WV 25301.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check, cash or bidders bond, executed by the Bidder and Surety Company, IN THE SUM OF NOT LESS THAN FIVE PERCENT (5%) OF THE AMOUNT OF THE BASE PROPOSAL. The bid security is required as a guarantee that if the Proposal is accepted a Contract will be immediately entered into and the performance of it properly secured.

Proposal Forms must be properly filled out and submitted in Duplicate Form. No omissions, modifications or qualifying statements or conditions will be permitted in the Form of Proposal. The presence of any of these conditions will be grounds for rejection of the Proposal. Any alteration or erasures must be initialed by the signer of the bid. No bidder may withdraw a bid submitted for a period of sixty (60) days after the date set for the opening of Bids.

In the event the Bidder to whom the Contract is awarded fails to execute a satisfactory Contract and Performance Bond, he shall be eliminated and shall forfeit his certified check, cash or his Bid Bond and shall be liable for the loss occasioned by the Owner by such failure.

Any Bid which is not received on a timely basis or in the proper form shall be returned unopened. The Owner reserves the right to accept any or reject any and all Bids and to waive any informalities therein.

A PRE-BID CONFERENCE is scheduled for 10:00 a.m. EST November 2, 1992, at The Inez Middle School site, Inez, Kentucky. The following Bids are requested:

Bid 001—Contract for Finish Grading & Paving

ADVERTISEMENT FOR GEOTECHNICAL ENGINEERING

Sealed proposals for geotechnical engineering of a twelve (12) acre tract of property located adjacent to Kentucky 114, immediately west of the intersection of U.S. 23 and southwest of Prestonsburg in Floyd County will be received on behalf of the Floyd County Development Authority by Mr. Darrell R. Gilliam, Executive Director, 130 North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. The deadline for submission for sealed proposals is 2:00 p.m. (local time) November 9, 1992. The bid opening will be held in the Executive Director's office at 130 North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Immediately following the closing time for the reception of bids, all proposals which have been submitted in accordance with the advertisement will be publicly opened and read. Bids received after the deadline will be returned to the bidder unopened.

The scope of services for the project will include the following: Advance a sufficient number of borings on the site to define existing subsurface geotechnical conditions. Of prime importance would be the required consolidation testing and settlement analysis of the site. It is anticipated approximately eight (8) borings will be required. Continuous standard penetration test (SPT's) should be performed within the fill limits in each boring. The SPT sampling should continue at 5' intervals below the fill until rock or auger refusal is encountered. It is estimated that auger refusal will be encountered at a depth of approximately 60'. Bagged samples of the predominant soil horizons should be obtained for laboratory testing, while undisturbed Shelby tube samples of the alluvial material should be obtained at selected intervals. All samples should be subjected to consolidation test, classification test, and compaction test. When laboratory work is complete, a formal report should be prepared. The report must discuss general site conditions, scope of work performed, results of exploration, and conclusions and recommendations relative to the foundation systems for light industrial development buildings. The report must be submitted within four (4) weeks after receiving your notice to proceed.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mr. Gilliam at the above address or phone number (606) 886-3939. Proposals may not be withdrawn after the schedule time for receipt of bids for a minimum of sixty (60) days. The Authority reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or to let a contract in whole or in part and to waive formalities.

It's a fact. Mineral build-up can wreak havoc on your hair. By interfering with hair protein and coating the shaft, minerals and oxidizers may leave your hair dry and even discolored, or may reduce the life of your perm.

Now you can avoid these problems and have a perm that's pure perfection for your hair.

New H₂OK Water Purifying Perm. And it's only available at your professional salon.
