High levels of lead detected in children

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

For the second time in about a year, high lead levels in children living in the West Prestonsburg area have local health officials concerned and state environmental inspectors are trying to determine where the problem is originating.

The Floyd County Health Department conducted an after-school clinic yesterday to perform cluster screening of children residing in the West Prestonsburg area.

Carol Holbrook, director of the health department, said Thursday that she is very concerned about the situation.

"It's very much of a concern," Holbrook said. "We hope everyone takes advantage of (the screening clinic)."

Ann Johnson, state coordinator for the Kentucky Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program, said Thursday that it was reported last week that approximately 25 children in West Prestonsburg area have elevated levels of lead in their blood. Johnson said the local health department was granted permission to conduct the cluster screening of children in the area.

Holbrook said that the health department was notified by a local physician of the high lead levels and that Thursday's screening would be performed on children not covered under the department Well Child program.

Usually, children six months to six years of age are screened under the Well Child program. Children over the age of six will be screened at the after-school clinic.

In a letter to parents living in the that area, health department officials say that the lead levels are "rising again after a previous decline."

Health department field workers made door-to-door visits in the community, distributing the letter and talking with residents about the concern, Holbrook explained. She said that there are approximately 150 families living in the area.

Blood specimens taken during Thursday's clinic will be sent to the Jefferson County Health Department for analysis and the results are expected to be known in about three weeks.

Health officials will do a "fingerstick" to obtain the blood sample needed for test, Holbrook said.

If anyone is unable to attend Thursday's clinic, an appointment with the health department can be made for a later date or parents may take their children to a physician for the test, Holbrook said.

It was discovered some time last summer that children living in the West Prestonsburg area had high lead levels in their blood, Holbrook said. Those children were given medication to lower those levels, and once the medication was stopped, the level began to rise again, Holbrook said.

Environmental officials have not notified the health department if they have determined what is causing the

House okays proposal for road system

The U.S. House of Representatives' Public Works and Transportation Committee gave final approval Tuesday to legislation which could lead to the development of an interstate highway in southeastern Kentucky.

The legislation, which creates a National Highway System (NHS), could also signal the first step in a long-standing effort to four-lane Route 114 from Prestonsburg to Salyersville. The committee authorized $6 million for widening that access to the Mountain Parkway.

Fifth District Congressman Hal Rogers said in a news release issued Tuesday that the NHS "recognizes the needs of road-starved and economically-needy counties in southern and eastern Kentucky."

Corridors identified by the legislation, which sets priorities for future construction, modernization and improvements, include Kentucky Route 80, Route 114 and Route 15 and U. S. Route 23 and Route 119. At Rogers' request, U.S. Route 460 from Paintsville to Salyersville was added to the priority list for federal funding.

The committee-approved legislation also finalizes a southeastern route for a new, cross-country Interstate 66, which will pass within 25 miles of Pikeville and which will run from Washington D.C. to the west coast.

tinued his week-long bus trip to "nowhere."

In his introduction before a capacity crowd in the lobby of the lodge, Jones disagreed with a recent Lexington Herald-Leader editorial that characterized his trip to the state parks as a "road to nowhere." "Floyd County is somewhere," he declared as he wadded a copy of the Herald-Leader's editorial and threw it toward the crowd.

Jones said that about $13 million of the $100 million would be directed toward the Jenny Wiley State Park with $6.6 million of that going to a "world class" golf course.

"I predict to you that will be one of the best investments that we make," Jones said, "because it will be world class."

Government officials from six counties, including Floyd; park employees and area business leaders were on hand for the Governor's visit.

Although most of the crowd was in attendance to show their support for the park-renovation plan, there were also several faculty and students from Prestonsburg Community College, who thought PCC's building projects should also be included in the budget.

Industrial site near Allen is optioned by authority

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County's Development Authority is eyeing a 35-acre tract near Allen valued at just under $1 million for the development of an industrial site.

Board members voted Wednesday to take a six-month option on the site owned by Marshall Davidson and his heirs. The authority's executive director, Darrell Gilliam, said the property has a $900,000 price tag.

After apparently discussing the issue in closed session, Gilliam recommended the board take the option on the property. No details were offered about the site or plans for development.

Gilliam said Thursday that the site is located three miles south of Allen and would only say that it's "looking good for an industrial prospect" to locate at that site.

Also Wednesday, Gilliam reported that Floyd County has almost a half million dollars in coal severance tax revenues. Gilliam said that that figure should double next year when the return of severance tax money paid by counties will jump from six to thirteen percent.

County Attorney Jim Hammond told the board that the county's strategy for using those funds is to exhaust Floyd County's share by buying and developing industrial sites and then "leap frog" into the multi-county account.

Gilliam said that the multi-county fund has $4.5 million in it and the contribution to that account should also double by next year. Surrounding counties can apply for funds from the multi-county account to be used for economic development.

Board member Paul Gearheart was absent from Wednesday's meeting.

New director sought to replace Mayo for downtown Main Street program

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

The city of Prestonsburg has initiated a search for a new director for the city's grant-funded Main Street program, following the dismissal last week of Main Street manager Henry Mayo.

Mayor Jerry Fannin confirmed Tuesday that Mayo had been fired because city officials "weren't happy with the amount of work being accomplished" in the Main Street program.

The Main Street project, funded by a one-time state grant, offers grants and low interest loans to businesses located within specific boundaries in downtown Prestonsburg. Funds can be used for upgrading storefronts or other structural improvements.

Fannin said he and city council members would administer the program until a replacement for Mayo is hired.

Mayo could not be reached.

Long waits likely on birth record requests

Parents who plan to register their children for kindergarten or first grade should obtain children's birth certificates now, said Jennifer Martin, Floyd County School Health Coordinator/School Nurse.

"Parents need to go ahead and get that ordered," Martin said. "They may have to wait a little longer this year."

Martin expressed concern that parents may experience delays in receiving their children's records of birth after the Cabinet for Human Resources announced Friday that the usual four-week wait for obtaining the certificate could be as much as six weeks.

Barbara White, registrar of vital statistics in the Kentucky Department for Health Services, said the office had to shut down for a week in January due to weather conditions and that the shutdown has lengthened the waiting period.

"Birth certificates are needed for various activities," she said, "and there's always a wait if you request a certificate by mail. This time of year always has the longest wait because of the number of requests for certificates for summer activities."

"This year is worse because of the time we lost during the snow week in January," she said.

White also advised anyone who will need a birth certificate for summer to get the request in as soon as possible.

Birth certificates are needed for signing up for some summer athletic leagues and tournaments, for obtaining a passport, and for pre-registering for kindergarten and first grade.

Certificates cost $7 each. To obtain a certified copy of a birth certificate, complete and mail an order form (available at the Floyd County Health Department), or write to the Vital Statistics Office, Cabinet for Human Resources, 275 E. Main St., Frankfort, KY 40621-0001. Include a check or money order for each copy ordered.

Two races on ballot; light vote expected

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Local election watchers aren't expecting a big turnout for Tuesday's Primary Election with only two races on the ballot.

Voters will pick from four Democratic challengers for state representative from the 92nd district. Incumbent Russell Bentley faces candidates Donnie Newsome, Alonzo Combs and Hubert Halbert.

In the other race, two candidates are vying to be the Democratic candidate who will try to unseat United States Representative Harold "Hal" Rogers in the Fifth Congressional District.

Steven Maynard and Walter "Doc" Blevins face off Tuesday to see who will challenge Rogers in the November General Election.

Not all Floyd Counties will cast their votes in the 92nd State Representative race. Only residents voting in the Middle Creek/Jack Allen, Rough & Tough, Maytown, Bosco, Garrett/Rock Fork, Lackey/Wayland and Beech Grove will vote in that race.

State Representative Greg Stumbo represents the other areas of Floyd County and he is unopposed in his reelection bid.

There are no Republican races on next week's primary ballot.

Polls open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

Hot topics to greet court in meet today

Floyd County's Fiscal Court will meet at 10 a.m. Friday (today) in what is expected to be a meeting filled with much debate.

Court members are expected to discuss a proposal from Rumpke of Kentucky for solid waste pickup and disposal.

Representatives from solid waste disposal companies are expected to attend the meeting to ask why they were not approached about submitting a proposal similar to Rumpke's. Also expected to attend today's meeting are local business and school officials whose garbage rates will triple under Rumpke's plan.

Prior to the 10 a.m. meeting, the court will hold a budget hearing at 9 a.m. to discuss how funds in the county's road aid and LGEA will be used.

Dope smuggling case goes to panel

A Floyd County Grand Jury will hear charges against a Floyd County man who is accused of trying to smuggle marijuana into the Floyd County Jail in a fast food dinner.

Terry McCutcheon, 30, of Betsy Layne, is charged with first degree promoting contraband for allegedly putting a bag of marijuana in a container of mashed potatoes that he brought to his jailed brother-in-law.

In a preliminary hearing Wednesday in Floyd District Court, Judge Danny Caudill found that there was probable cause to warrant the charge and the case was waived to the grand jury.

Jones

The group of demonstrators held up signs outside the lodge before Jones' arrival and during his speech.

Some of the signs said, "Don't let our students and community down—please support Prestonsburg Community College," and "Prestonsburg Community College projects belong in Ky's budget."

"We want him to put our programs, which include two buildings, back in Kentucky's budget," Betty Hunt, a student at PCC who also works as an office assistant in the Business Affairs office, said in an interview outside the lodge.

The buildings that the demonstrators want in the budget are a wellness center for the main campus and a classroom building for the Pikeville campus.

They don't, however, think that Governor Jones should ignore the parks either.

"We're saying in addition to,"

Hunt said. Jones responded to the group by saying, "We're going to continue to (bring money to PCC)."

Jones also made it clear that taxpayers would not face an increase to pay for the park-renovation plan.

"We will not raise taxes," Jones said. "We are not proposing any tax increase on anybody."

Jones plans to use an unbudgeted surplus of at least $35 million in the current fiscal year to begin renovation of the parks in 1994-95. If the extra revenue proves to be recurring next year, Jones plans to issue bonds to finance the remainder of his projects.

The governor will call a special session of the General Assembly in June to pass a new, two-year state budget.

The remainder of the $13 million allocated for Jenny Wiley Park will be for a $675,000 thousand pool area expansion and renovation and a $1.3 million boat dock replacement.

State Representative Greg Stumbo, who also made a brief speech after Jones, supporting the Governor's park proposal, said in an interview afterwards, "I don't think there's any question that Governor Jones has the support of the people (in improving the state's parks)."

"We'll be a golfer's destination," Jim Kennedy, Jenny Wiley Park Manager, said after the Governor's speech.

The hope is that the golf course will bring in more tourists to the area which will mean added revenue and, according to Kennedy, that will prompt more private sectors to build hotels and motels in the area.

Jenny Wiley Park employees 115 people and brings in $10 million annually.

Mining industry under fire on Frontline

The General Mining Law of 1872 allows mining companies virtually free access to billions of dollars in public minerals. While Interior Secretary Bruce Babbitt has vowed to overhaul this exploitative industry, the Clinton administration's recent compromises have sent a different message.

Frontline takes a hard look at the current state of the mining industry in the American West in "Public Lands, Private Profits," airing on KET at 10 p.m. Saturday, May 28. The battle between Western mining interests and federal policy makers is really a fight over who will rule the West in the 21st century, says producer Stephen Talbot. Meanwhile such disasters as the one at Summitville, Colo., the "Exxon Valdez" of the mining industry, cost taxpayers millions.

Pre-teen finalist

Kari Michelle Ross, daughter of Christine and Johnnie Ross of Prestonsburg, has been selected as a finalist in the 1994 Pre-Teen Kentucky Scholarship and Recognition Program to be held June 3-5 at the Galt House Hotel in Louisville.

Pre-Teen Kentucky is a by-invitation only Scholarship and Recognition event involving young ladies 7 to 12 years of age ranking in the top 10% of the state academically. Additionally, young ladies are invited who have been recognized publicly for their outstanding personal achievements, leadership abilities or creative talents.

The National Headquarters for the Pre-Teen America Scholarship and Recognition Program is located in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Patricia Daniel is the Founder and National Director.

elevated lead levels. State officials could not be reached Thursday for comment.

According to the World Book Encyclopedia, lead poisoning can be caused by eating dried paint chips or it can be absorbed by the body from inhaling lead dust or fumes. Some forms of lead can be absorbed through the skin.

Lead interferes with the body's ability to produce red blood cells and can damage the brain, liver and other body organs.

Holbrook said that elevated lead levels in children can cause mental retardation.

Symptoms of lead poisoning include anemia, headaches, irritability, weakness, abdominal pain, vomiting and constipation. In severe cases, symptoms may include convulsions, coma and paralysis. Such cases may cause death.

Vaccinate your children to protect them from disease

Advances in the way children are vaccinated have made it easier than ever to protect your child from common, but potentially lethal, childhood diseases.

New, combination vaccines allow physicians to protect children from several diseases with one inoculation, which should make every one who has tried to reassure a child that "the shot won't hurt for very long" feel better about the ordeal, according to Janet Kurzynske, extension nutrition specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The development of vaccines to protect against childhood diseases has been the hallmark of the second half of the 20th century. Before vaccines, thousands of children died each year from common diseases, such as measles, mumps, whooping cough and polio. And many more thousands suffered permanent damage as a result of the diseases.

Today, vaccines have nearly eradicated several diseases, such as smallpox, polio, whooping cough and Haemophilus influenza B, she said.

"The near eradication of these diseases has come from two factors. First, children vaccinated were protected against the disease. Second, because so many children were vaccinated—and did not develop the diseases—there were dramatically fewer sources of infection for exposure for children who did not receive the vaccinations," Kurzynske said.

As a result of fewer outbreaks of these diseases, many parents have not worried about getting their child vaccinated. The outcome is that several of the diseases that previously were on the decline have sprung up with new infections among those children not protected, she said.

Measles, for example, dropped to fewer than 1,500 cases in the U.S. in 1983, only to surge to more than 55,000 cases between 1989 and 1991, leading to 132 deaths.

Estimates on the number of unvaccinated children range from 37 to 56 percent of American children under two years of age. In certain areas where poverty is pervasive, the Center for Disease Control estimates that fewer than 10 percent of children have been vaccinated.

"If you have not had your child vaccinated against the common childhood diseases, you need to schedule your child for them at once. Your health care provider will be able to start your child on the schedule or bring your child up to date on overdue vaccinations," Kurzynske said.

In Kentucky, families can have their children immunized at the county health department. The cost of the immunizations varies according to the family's income, she said.

Court of Justice Regional Legislative update

Stephanie DeRossett, Barb Lykens, Lerena Wallace, Angela Spurlock, Linda DeRossett, Jean Compton, Vickie Howell, Johnnie Calhoun, Priscella Sammons, Linda Yates, Denise Ousley, Dovie Damron, Davis Anderson, and Sandra Johnson, Court of Justice official(s) from Floyd County, participated in a regional legislative update meeting at Jenny Wiley State Park on May 11.

The Regional Legislative Update is designed to provide all employees of the Court of Justice with an opportunity to ask questions and discuss recent legislation passed by the Kentucky General Assembly.

Don Cetrulo, Director of the Administrative Office of the Courts, opened the one-day session with a report on the 1994-96 Court of Justice budget. Specifically, Cetrulo addressed the Judicial Branch budget for the next two years, including salaries and health care reform for elected and appointed officials.

Following Cetrulo's remarks, attendees separated into groups, determined by profession. Judges met to discuss the recently-passed legislation and its impact on the court system. The discussion leaders for the judges' group included one circuit and one district judge, both of whom were experienced instructors and had received specific training for the regional meetings.

Circuit clerks, deputy clerks, and judicial secretaries met with Cicely Lambert, General Counsel to the Administrative Office of the Courts, who reviewed the Court of Justice Sexual Harassment Policies. The employees identified the types of behavior which may constitute sexual harassment and what procedures should be followed if sexual harassment occurs. Circuit and deputy clerks also met with D. J. Simpson, AOC Field Services Representative, and discussed new legislation and its effect on circuit clerks office procedures.

Court Designated Workers and Pretrial Officers also met to discuss the effects of implementation of recent legislation. The CDW meeting was conducted by AOC's Juvenile Services staff, while pretrial officers met with AOC's Pretrial staff.

The regional legislative updates were sponsored and conducted by the Administrative Office of the Courts' Education Services Department, with special support from the departments of Legal Services and Field Services.

Kentucky advocates seek Acorn award nominations

Kentuckians have until May 31 to submit nominations for the third annual Acorn Award, which will be presented this fall to a teaching professor exhibiting excellence in service and commitment to students.

Students, faculty, parents and the general public are invited to submit nominations. Nominees must be full-time faculty members of any accredited four-year Kentucky college or university. This year the advocates also have opened up the competition to any full-time faculty member of Kentucky's junior or community colleges.

"This award is designed to recognize inspired college teaching," said Dan Lacy, vice president of Corporate Communications for Ashland Oil. Lacy is chairman of the advocates, a non-profit, all-volunteer organization dedicated to promoting the value of higher education in the Commonwealth.

"Kentucky colleges and universities are filled with outstanding teachers who embody the highest characteristics of scholarship, teaching and service," Lacy said. "This award gives much-deserved attention to those college professors who continually stimulate fertile young minds to search and to stretch."

The advocates chose the name "Acorn Award" to continue the theme established by the Advocates' prestigious OAK Awards, which are presented to outstanding alumni of Kentucky colleges and universities. The Acorn Award symbolizes the process of individual growth signified by the phrase, "Mighty oaks from little acorns grow."

Acorn Award recipients receive a hand-carved plaque with an acorn and leaves in high relief and a $5,000 honorarium. An endowment fund has been established to provide funding for the award. To nominate a teacher, write to the Kentucky Advocates for Higher Education, P.O. Box 391, Ashland, KY 4114. Please include the teacher's full name, the name of the college or university where the teacher works and the city where the school is located.

To each his own . . .

by Scott Perry

You can't fit a square peg into a round hole, and Floyd County school officials would do well to recall that simple lesson when they continue the debate over the future of Floyd County Technical High School.

It's easy to suggest that every child ought to fit in to "traditional" molds where our educational system is concerned.

But, fundamentally, that's an absurd notion.

Traditional schools cannot be all things to all students for obvious reasons.

Students are as different as snowflakes and their interests as varied as blades of grass.

Why should we assume...or demand...that all children can fit together like sardines in a can when it comes to preparing them for their futures?

Vocational education has gotten a bad rap for too long now as a dumping ground for kids who can't make it in the traditional classroom.

That's a bunch of baloney.

Some kids are just better suited to working with their hands than they are at deciphering quantum theories or interpreting the motives of Macbeth.

If Shakespeare were alive today, you can bet he wouldn't be capable of changing the oil in his own car.

Vocational education is a viable alternative to dropping out for many students, and we're darned if we can find any fault with that.

If there is any criticism of the state's program, it should be with the state itself for failing to understand and promote vo-ed for what it is worth.

The Floyd County School System would do itself and its students a great disservice by curtailing the system's vo-ed program at Garth.

Instead, they should be exploring ways to make it more effective.

It takes all kinds of people to make this world go 'round. Square pegs, round pegs, physicists and auto mechanics.

Why force everyone into the same mold?

"Kentucky Sheriffs' Association and Ranch needs your help"

Editor:

The Kentucky Sheriffs' Association and the Kentucky Sheriffs' Boys and Girls Ranch will honor their own on Saturday, September 10, 1994.

We need your help!! Maybe your father, husband, brother, uncle, grandfather, great-grandfather or an acquaintance, who was a Kentucky sheriff or deputy sheriff killed or wounded in the line of duty. Ask your friends and neighbors if they know of any Kentucky sheriff or deputy sheriff who was killed or wounded in the line of duty, dating back to when Kentucky became a state in 1792.

You may have to do some "digging" genealogically speaking, but it might give us a name we do not already have on our Memorial Wall. If possible, a newspaper clipping or other such documentation detailing the circumstances of the death or injury of a sheriff or deputy sheriff would be most helpful and appreciated by us.

Sheriff Jim Murphy, President of the National Sheriffs' Association and other distinguished individuals from Kentucky will help us to memorialize these individuals who gave their lives or were wounded in service to others.

The sheriff's office has multiple duties including law enforcement; collecting taxes; serving the courts; transporting prisoners; and performing election duties. Most of us don't realize what they accomplish and the risks involved in carrying out their duties. The Memorial Ceremony is our way of expressing our appreciation for their service to others.

Our office number is (502) 362-8660 and our mailing address is The KY. Sheriffs' Ranch—P.O. Box 57, Gilbertsville, KY. 42044. Our Fax number is (502) 362-7534. Please, send us any information you might have on Kentucky sheriffs and deputy sheriffs who have been killed or wounded in the line of duty so that we may give them the recognition they deserve.

Black Lung group express thanks for help at festival

Editor:

Kentucky Black Lung Association would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who so graciously gave of either merchandise from their business, baked or volunteered their time during Hillbilly Days. It would not have been possible without your support. There is no way we can thank all of you personally, but most of all God knows each of you and you will be blessed for helping your fellow man.

The new bill that we have fought so hard for, is just a few weeks away from becoming a reality. Susie Davis as president of Kentucky Black Lung Association, has made numerous trips to Washington, D.C. along with other volunteers, to lobby, talk to the senators personally and to testify before the senate.

We cannot quit now. The outcome looks very favorable, but we must continue to fight to make this dream come true for all you miners, coal truck drivers, tippie workers, railroad workers, or any of you who have worked in any coal related job.

Again, we cannot do this alone, we need you to support us and what you believe in to see this bill go through. You can do this by: joining our organization, coming to our monthly meetings the third Friday of each month at 7 p.m., held at the K.B.L.A. office. Have a voice in this: help us to fight for your livelihood for you and your family.

Mrs. Davis, along with some other volunteers will be traveling to Frankfort the 12th of this month (May) to meet with our governor. She will again be asking for help for you and your families. The need is great for a Black Lung clinic in our area for our coal workers and their families. Mrs. Davis and our volunteers will be asking our governor for his support to help us get this clinic which would enable us to be of greater help to our people who have this dreadful disease.

Mrs. Davis has also scheduled a T.V. program with WPRG May 16, at 7 p.m. At this time, she will have several guest speakers: a pulmonary specialist, a specialist in cardiology, and two lawyers. They will have a "call-in" portion on this program. Phone 478-4200 and show your support by giving them a call.

For more information, you may contact: Susie Davis, K.B.L.A. 3402 South Mayo Trail, Pikeville, Ky. 41502. Or, telephone us Tuesdays or Wednesdays at (606) 437-0391.

May 23, 1984

A dynamiting incident early Sunday morning, the second in the Prestonsburg area this year, almost demolished a coal tippie at West Prestonsburg and as of Tuesday, state and federal investigators were "in the dark" as to the identity of the person or persons responsible. Work began Friday on the construction for the First Guaranty Bank of Martin of a half-million-dollar bank building at the junction of KY 80 and KY 122 (the Right and Left Beaver Creek highways) at the western limits of Martin. Eleven-year-old Anthony Howell was killed and a brother injured Sunday in the collapse of a log barn near their home on Mink Branch, near Craynor. The Prestonsburg Blackcats baseball team last week won their second straight district baseball championship under Coach Fred Setser and his assistant, Russell Shepherd. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sword, of Ivel, a son, Tony Edward, May 11; to Mr. and Mrs. Milt Hunt, of Betsy Layne, a son, Tony Edward, May 11; to Mr. and Mrs. Milt Hunt, of Betsy Layne, a son, Bradford Chester, May 13. Perkins won the Democratic nomination for the Seventh district Congressional post with the greatest of ease Tuesday, and at the same time former Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill, of Prestonsburg, was emerging a decisive winner in a six-candidate race for the Democratic nomination for Appellate Judge from the Seventh district. The Prestonsburg strawberry processing plant, which began operation here three years ago, had received 2,700 crates by Tuesday evening, it was said by plant owner Carl Abbott. 602 high school seniors received diplomas this week during graduation exercises at each of Floyd county's high schools. Harkins, Jr., of Prestonsburg, will, because of an outstanding scholastic record, be a member of the Court of Honor at next month's commencement at the University of Michigan. The J. W. Western Shows and Bud Hawkins will return to Prestonsburg next month. Three Floyd County Board of Education members and a number of county teachers joined in the demonstration at Frankfort Monday in support of the sales tax. Plot of Garrett High School's senior play dealing with the theft of proceeds derived from the presentation of a college play obviously appealed to somebody. The night after the play, "The College Hobo," was presented, the "gate" amounting to $55.75 was stolen from the school office. There died: G. C. Fitzpatrick, 49, Saturday, at Garrett; Mrs. W. E. Perry, 70, mother of Mrs. Valentine P. Hopkins, of Prestonsburg, May 14 at Danville.

Disposal plan for Magoffin is approved

The state Tuesday approved a solid-waste plan for Magoffin County that does not include a large private landfill that local opponents have been fighting for nearly three years.

"We finally did it," said Judge-Executive Charles Hardin. "We will have no out-of-state, or in-state, garbage in Magoffin County."

The plans calls for Magoffin County's garbage to be transported to Rowan County or, as a backup site, Greenup County. It also places emphasis on public education, recycling, waste reduction and cleanups open dumps, Hardin said Tuesday during a news conference on the court-house steps.

The waste plan, which is more than two years overdue, has been in limbo since 1991 when residents discovered that a former judge-executive had quietly included the prospected landfill as part of the county's mandatory solid-waste program.

A citizens group — Magoffin Countians for a Better Environment — sued in late 1991 to stop the landfill, saying the then-fiscal court members grants Eastern Kentucky Resources an illegal franchise. A judge ruled in the group's favor, but the case is still pending in the Kentucky Court of Appeals. — Lexington Herald-Leader

The John M. Stumbo Speech and Drama Club recently returned from Bowling Green, and the Forensics State Tournament, in which they gained valuable experience in representing their school.

The students participated in the categories of broadcasting, poetry, extemporaneous speaking, improvisational, and interpretation of literature.

The hard work paid off. The forensics students spent four days and three nights in Bowling Green, and attending Western Kentucky University. They learned a great deal of history of the area by talking to professors they met on campus.

The students treated themselves to a tour of Mammoth Cave and Crystal Onyx Cave in Cave City.

Returning clippings to lawns apparently has no effects on diseases

With public concerns about filling up landfills with grass clippings, more and more homeowners are opting to leave the clippings on the lawn. But does that practice increase diseases?

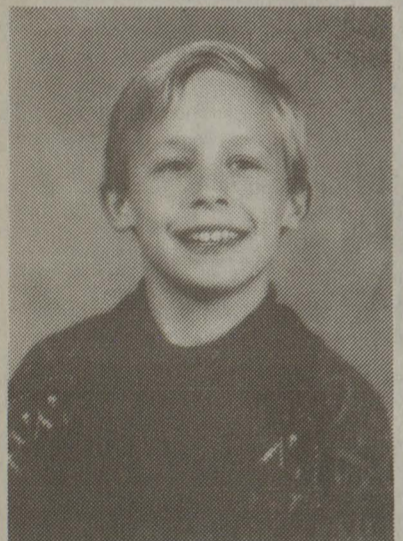

"Leaving grass cuttings on the lawn generally is not related to disease development in the lawn," according to Paul Vincelli, Extension plant pathologist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"Based on our experience and research in Kentucky, there may be a slight advantage to bagging clippings during an active outbreak of brown patch in tall fescue," he said.

Brown patch is only a problem during warm, muggy conditions during the summer and not during springtime, when most growth of turf occurs, Vincelli said.

Research conducted at Texas A and M University found that clippings returned from mulching mowers, a new type of mower that shreds the clippings to a fine texture, did not increase disease; instead the researchers found that the finely shredded clippings were an excellent home for bacteria that kill disease-causing fungi, he said.

"The added bonus to returning clippings to the lawn is that they return nutrients to the soil that otherwise would be lost," Vincelli said.

Pennies for flood victims

In October, Mrs. Anna Thornsby's sixth grade class at Melvin Grade School organized a fund raiser for the victims of the severe flooding in the Midwest. The class distributed cups to each classroom for five straight days and collected pennies from those who wished to contribute. At the end of the week, the money was counted. The total amount of money was $55. The sixth grade class walked to the Melvin post office and purchased a money order to send to the Red Cross. They were assisted by Mrs. Jimmi Lou Johnson, the postmaster. The children were pleased to receive a letter from the Red Cross thanking their school for the donation. They also sent pins for the children to wear displaying the symbol for the organization.

News about faculty, staff and students at Prestonsburg Community College

Thomas Carroll, associate professor of history, will spend June 13-July 22 at the University of Kentucky participating in a seminar on Ethnohistory of Southeastern Indians. His study is sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Participating in the Eastern Kentucky Intercollegiate Computer Seminar, hosted by PCC in April, were associate professor Arif Azeem and associate professor James Fuller, both of computer science. Azeem made a presentation on "Computer Memory: Installation and Writing Configuration file for different memory types." Fuller, who teaches at PCC's Pike County Campus, spoke on "Robotics: Robots, Robots, Robots."

Newly appointed to the policy committee for Floyd County Head Start is Mazola Salmons, associate professor of business.

Hassan Saffari, professor of math, was invited to participate in the special opening ceremony of the 76th annual international convention of Phi Theta Kappa honor society, in April in Anaheim, Calif. Saffari, faculty advisor for PCC's chapter of the society, also won a Mosal Scholarship, given by the organization to a small group of advisors and coordinators. The scholarship carries a $2,000 stipend for "a cause commensurate with the concept of the two-year college faculty scholar." Student Glenda France also attended the Anaheim meeting.

Thomas Orf, assistant professor of geography, attended the annual conference of the Association of American Geographers March 30-April 2 in San Francisco. He was on a panel on "Geography's Role in Community Colleges" and attended the first meeting of the Committee on Community College Geography, of which he is a member.

Gay Herrin's battle with cancer, the triumph of her faith and the love of her friends and family formed the subject of an article in the March 29 edition of the Western Recorder, the newspaper of Kentucky's Southern Baptists. Herrin is associate professor of writing.

Steve Newsome, part-time instructor of business at the Pike County Campus, was recently elected to the board of trustees of the Kentucky School of Banking.

Attending the spring conference of the Kentucky Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators, April 13-15 in Lexington, were Brenda Music, acting dean of students affairs, and financial aid staff members Leslie M. Bays, Gail Cooley and Cindy Hall.

The abstract of the paper "Success as perceived by community college students," by Dr. John G. Shiber, associate professor of biology, was published in the March issue of Transactions of the Kentucky Academy of Sciences. He presented the paper in the Science Education Section of the annual KAS conference last fall. Also in the same publication is the abstract of a paper sponsored by Shiber and presented at the conference by two former students, Timothy Lavender and Steve Berger. Their paper, "Water Quality of the Big Sandy River," was the partial result of a mini-grant research project by Shiber and the students.

Dr. Doug Herman, associate professor of history, played a Union soldier in a Civil War drama presented by a community theater group to fifth graders at Prestonsburg Elementary School recently. After the play, Herman made a presentation on the Civil War and the Battle of Middle Creek. The theater group also performed the play twice for audiences at the First United Methodist Church in Prestonsburg.

John D. Sammons, professor of math, served on a panel in an intensive session discussing the Kentucky Education Reform Act during the Eastern Kentucky Leadership Conference April 29-30 in Pikeville. He is a parent representative and vice chair of the Adams Middle School-Based Decision-Making Council and co-chair of the Floyd County Site-Based Decision Making Advisory

Melvin Primary News

The Melvin Elementary Primary is publishing a primary newspaper twice a month. Each two weeks, a group of three students are appointed as reporters from each of the primary classes. These students collect the class news during their two weeks. On Friday the students type their articles on the computers. Then, with the help of "Miss Mary," publish a newspaper. Newspaper publishing meets several of the learner outcomes as mandated by KERA.

Council. PCC President Dr. Deborah L. Floyd also served on a panel on economic development and higher education during the leadership conference.

Pam Shingler, instructor of English and public relations director, was a guest columnist for the April/May edition of Kentucky Journal. In the issue which focused on Eastern Kentucky, she wrote, "A World of Difference: Mountain culture's different—what's wrong with that?"

Stacie Gail Patrick of Salyersville is the new Office Assistant 1 for the Single Parent and Homemaker Program replacing Judy Tackett who transferred to the business office.

Also new to the college staff is Carol Meadows, who has joined the president's office as an Office Assistant 2. She lives at Staffordsville and recently graduated from Kentucky Tech/Mayo.

Easter Parade

On Friday, April 1, the students in Mrs. Hope Tackett's Kindergarten class at Melvin Elementary had an Easter parade for the school. The students dressed as Easter symbols to show their holiday spirit.

Yes, we understand, physically you are not here, But spiritually, our son, you are with us everywhere.

For it is true, a brighter day shall come. As we say good-bye for now, we want you to know, That we love you, Dwayne, as much as we did years ago.

Big Sandy children's home celebration a big success

More than 500 people, including Kentucky First Lady Libby Jones, turned out for the Big Sandy area's celebration of Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children's 125th birthday.

The event, held on the grounds of the First Baptist Church of Pikeville, featured live entertainment, a midway of carnival games for children, and a special program commemorating the founding of the children's ministry in 1869.

Mrs. Jones attended the program and spoke on behalf of Kentucky's children.

"We must do everything we can to protect our children and be sure we are providing the type of environment in which they grow up healthy and safely," Jones said. "Certainly, Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children has a wonderful and long tradition of caring for children who need help."

Event organizers said they were extremely pleased by the turnout.

"We were hoping for 400 and got well over 500," said Bob Norman, pastor of Grace Baptist Church in Pikeville, who co-chaired the celebration. "I think this really says a lot for people in the Big Sandy area and their desire to help children."

In addition to turning out for the celebration, many in the crowd brought "birthday gifts" to be delivered to children in the care of Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children.

"The gifts were really just the finishing touches on a great day," Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children President Curtis Mooney said. "The people of the Big Sandy area and especially those from the Baptist churches of Pike and Enterprise Baptist associations really did a fantastic job of making this celebration event a special one."

The Big Sandy event was the second of nine celebration events scheduled around the state as part of the children's ministry 125th celebration. An event was held at the Baptist Youth Ranch in Elizabethtown on April 16.

The next event is scheduled for June 4 at the First Baptist Church of London. Events in Middletown, Dixon, Morehead, Erlanger and Mayfield will follow.

Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children is affiliated with the Kentucky Baptist Convention and provides care for children who have been abused, neglected, or whose families are in crisis. The agency assists more than 700 children and adults each year.

Residential programs include Spring Meadows Children's Home in Middletown, Glen Dale Children's Home in Glendale, the Baptist Youth Ranch in Elizabethtown, the Dixon Temporary Shelter in Dixon, the Baptist Youth Shelter in Morehead, Operation Hope in Somerset, and Genesis Home in Mayfield.

KBHC also operates the First Step Pregnancy Counseling and Adoption service, manages private foster homes, and provides independent living, college, and career services to help older youth get established in life. KBHC's Cornerstone Counseling ministry provides professional Christian counseling to individuals and families through offices in Ashland, Bowling Green, Erlanger, Frankfort, Hopkinsville, and Madisonville.

Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children is the oldest Southern Baptist child care ministry and the largest private child care program in Kentucky.

Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children is accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Services for Families and Children, Inc.

A mover or a shaker?
My job required that I attend a retreat in Shakertown at Pleasant Hill. The brochure stated that it is located outside of Lexington on US 68 near Harrodsburg. That is basically correct except that it is outside Lexington on a stretch of 24 miles of desolate, curvy pavement.

Upon my arrival, I was amazed at the peaceful, serene surroundings of the quaint Shaker environment. I hadn't seen that much grass since Bonanza went off TV. There were rows of neatly maintained houses and the guides wore period dress. The only thing that would interrupt this tranquil setting that I have described would be that there was television, telephones, and the guides wore Reebok tennis shoes.

It was a perfect location for a meeting. Forty-five of my peers and I were lodged in yesteryear rooms where Shaker men and women once hung their clothes on pegs (slightly better than on an arm of a chair) and climbed into separate beds (and rooms) via foot stools. I was obliged to do the same. The only modern conveniences were electricity and bathrooms. This was good because I have grown fondly accustomed to both during my life.

It has been stated that one learns a lot about oneself when one is placed in unusual circumstances, and these were unusual circumstances as far as I was concerned. I learned that I don't like living without cable TV. The three network channels are all right if you don't get used to the Sports Channel or are not addicted to Nickelodeon.

Aside from the lodging accommodations, the eating facility was superb. That is if you don't mind eating with strangers. The food is served family style and passed around the table. When I told my son the food was served family style he said, "You mean like at Shoney's?"

We were informed that all the food we ate was grown on the property. The pickled beets, pickled watermelon rind, and new potatoes were delicious. The only staple that probably wasn't produced directly on the grounds was the Sweet 'n' Low. And if they had ever heard about fat free diets, they weren't passing any of it around unless fried chicken and baked country ham have been added to Susan Powter's diet tape.

One extremely positive thing I would have to say about staying at Shakertown is that there were absolutely no outside distractions. None. Nada. I didn't even hear an airplane. And being a scant 24 miles from Bluegrass Field, one would think an airplane motor could be heard in the dark of night in a place where any other bodily function could be detected from a distance of approximately two miles.

The Shaker religion is no longer in existence. The last Shaker died many years ago because their theology did not adhere to procreation of the species. This ideology tends to deplete a following in quick fashion. If the Shakers had given it more thought, they might have come to a different conclusion. However, since there are backsliders in every religion, the Shakers might have a few of their ancestral genes in existence today.

Personally, I'm glad the lifestyle they led has been preserved. For my sake, I just wish it had been preserved a beach with condos.

25th ANNIVERSARY

Seedtime on the Cumberland

Appalshop, a media arts and education center located in Whitesburg, will kick off its 25th anniversary year with a special Seedtime on the Cumberland festival of traditional mountain arts June 1-5.

The annual festival will be expanded to five days of traditional music and storytelling, crafts, theater, video and film presentations and other activities observing Appalshop's 25th year.

Appalshop will host a year-long series of events, starting with the Seedtime on the Cumberland festival.

The festival will begin Wednesday, June 1, with a 7 p.m. forum reflecting on Appalachia in the 1960s featuring a screening of "Appalachia: Rich Land, Poor People," a 1967 film that focused national attention to the Appalachian region.

On Thursday, June 2, at 6 p.m., Appalshop filmmaker Herb E. Smith will screen his new film history of the Appalachian economy. At 7:30 p.m., bluegrass artists Troublesome Hollow with local favorites Larry Webster and the Mule Band will kick off the Seedtime concert series as part of Bluegrass Express Live, a monthly performance radio program broadcast by WMMT-FM, Appalshop's community radio station.

Activities on Friday, June 3, will include a forum on art in education, featuring education leaders from across the region. Appalshop will also host a reunion of students who have participated in the Appalachian Media Institute, a media and leadership training program for high school students in eastern Kentucky. Mountain crafts will be on display during the afternoon.

A 7:30 p.m. concert in the festival tent will feature North Carolina storyteller Ray Hicks and his nephew, Orville Hicks. Hicks tells traditional mountain Jack tales and family stories. Also performing will be Etta Baker, who learned her Piedmont blues guitar style from her North Carolina family; Nat Reese, a West Virginia guitarist who sings African American coalfield blues; Odus Maggard, a banjo player whose three-finger style predates modern bluegrass; and the Lee Sexton Band, an old-time string band from Letcher County.

On Saturday, June 4, craftspeople from the mountains of Kentucky will demonstrate their work throughout the day. At noon and 4 p.m., Appalshop will present premiers of other video documentaries focusing on the culture and social issues of the Appalachian region. Roadside Theater, Appalshop's ensemble theater company, will perform its original production "Cumberland Mountain Memories" at 2 p.m. Local musicians will be invited to perform during an open stage and square dance from 4-6 p.m.

The 7:30 p.m. concert will feature West Virginia singer and storyteller Phyllis Marks; Joe and Odell Thompson; O'Quinn Brothers and the Bluegrass Travelers, a traditional string band from southwest Virginia; the Eversole Brothers, who are regulars at the Renfro Valley Barn Dance; and Jean Ritchie and Edna Baker, sisters whose traditional mountain singing and dulcimer repertoire comes from a rich Eastern Kentucky family heritage.

Seedtime on the Cumberland will conclude Sunday, June 5, with a 1 p.m. mountain gospel music concert with Ethel Caffie-Austin, an African American song leader and educator from West Virginia; the Macedonia Baptist Church Youth Choir, an African American ensemble from Cumberland; the Singing Revelations; and the Hallelujah Singers. The concert is free; donations will be accepted.

Tickets for the evening concerts are $6 for adults, $4 for seniors and students. Admission to the Roadside Theater performance is $5 for adults, $3 for seniors and students. The cost of the bean supper is $5. All other events are free.

Reservations may be made by calling (606) 633-0108.

About Appalshop

Appalshop is a media arts and education center whose purpose is to celebrate Appalachian culture and voice the region's social concerns. Appalshop was founded in 1969 as a War on Poverty initiative to train young people in film and television production. Rather than leave their homes for work outside the Appalachian region, the students incorporated their own not-for-profit organization and created their own jobs.

Seedtime on the Cumberland, which began in 1987, is an annual celebration of traditional mountain arts and the work of Appalshop.

Clinton supporter George W. Smith told the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette in February of his plan to relieve one of the president's Whitewater problems. To reduce potential taxpayer liability for the failure of the Madison Guaranty Savings and Loan, Smith would encourage private contributions toward the bailout — by rebating baseball trading cards to each contributor, from Smith's four-room collection, at $2 in card value for each $1 contributed. Smith thinks $2 million could be raised toward the projected bailout cost of $47 million.

— In an August raffle to raise money to send Australian surfer Trudy Todd, 18, on the world pro surfing tour, the winner of the $1-a-ticket lottery got a fling with a Sydney prostitute of his choice, and second prize was a sex-shop voucher worth about $27.

— In November, Brazil's heaviest woman, Joselina da Silva, who weighs 900 pounds, was admitted to a posh health spa in Sao Paulo. A specially adapted ambulance was required to transport her to the facility, and when she arrived, firefighters had to remove a window and part of a wall so that she could be taken to her room.

— In court papers submitted in July, federal prosecutors moved to revoke the parole of convicted Irvine, Calif., bank swindler Charles J. Bazarian, who was then on the lam. In those papers, the prosecutors accused Bazarian of a second swindle: In 1992, he had convinced the man who prosecuted him three years earlier in the Irvine swindle to personally invest $6,000 in an Oklahoma company that turned out to be worthless.

Yo, Adolph. Is that your nose or are you eating a banana?

Ha, ha, ha.

Uh, better not laugh too loud.

You just might get sued.

If you thought Florida's vegetable anti-defamation law was something, get a load of this.

In Germany, there's the "Beleidigungsgesetz." The insult law.

Yep. Call your neighbor a Kartoffelbauch—a potato belly—and you just might find yourself in court.

In Germany, an insult is defined as "the illegal attack on the honor of another person through the intentional expression of disrespect."

That's an extension, no doubt, of the great American Momism...If you can't say something nice about someone, don't say anything at all.

Of course, a violation of that rule in America might get your mouth washed out with soap. In Germany you might have to shell out some big bucks.

We could never enact a ban on insults in the States. They're as much a part of our daily lives as are inhaling and exhaling.

Insults are scientifically proven deterrents to crime, too.

Rush-hour drivers use them most frequently as alternatives to physical violence.

Everywhere except Los Angeles, that is, where freeway drivers prefer to just open fire on anyone who doesn't give a turn signal before changing lanes.

In Germany, 2,262 people were convicted in 1992 of violating insult laws.

The most notable case involved a rock band, which was fined $35,000 for a song which insulted pro tennis player Steffi Graf.

Boy howdy, wouldn't we like to be able to use that insult law for just a few days.

We could wipe out rap music in a matter of minutes.

Nah. Wouldn't be feasible.

Guess we ought to just count our blessings in America, where even insults are protected by our constitutional right to freedom of speech.

Besides, sticks and stones may break our bones, but words, when creatively expressed, can really do a number.

Rebels 58th District Champions

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Good things continue to come the way of Allen Central High School. The school's Rebels baseball team captured the 58th District Tournament title with an 11-5 win over the Betsy Layne Bobcats.

It was just another piece of hardware for the trophy case at the Right Beaver school to go with a district and regional basketball championship, as well as the Lady Rebels capturing the Class A regional this season.

The Rebels won in a big way. They have been playing excellent baseball the last three weeks of the regular season. Coach Jackie Pack says the improvement is related to the competition they have faced this year.

"I know our record is not as good as some of the other teams," he said, "but we have been on a roll and that is because of the quality of competition we have played this year. We haven't played any patsies on our schedule and it has made us a better ballclub."

Austin Shelton, who has been a pleasant surprise to the Rebels' pitching staff this year, picked up the win in going the distance. He allowed the Bobcats five runs while scattering nine hits. He fanned three and walked four, while hitting one batter.

"Austin is a bulldog when he goes out there," said Coach Pack. "Every pitch, every hitter, he's focused. Nothing seems to bother him. He has been pitching some excellent baseball for us."

Barry Clark, the ace of the Betsy Layne staff, suffered the setback, working the first four-and-a-third innings. Clark gave up nine runs on eight hits and walked five. He struck out two.

"We made a couple of costly errors," said Betsy Layne coach Junior Newsome. "Allen Central played hard and the Shelton kid pitched a very good game against us. Barry just didn't pitch well."

"Allen Central just wanted it more and they played a nice game," he said.

The Rebels scored five times in the fifth inning to add to their already 6-2 lead. Jeremy Hall, dropped from second to sixth in the batting order, singled, stole second and scored on designated hitter Roy John Martin's base hit.

Josh Hansford reached on an error and catcher Todd Bingham walked. Clark then departed the game and Brandon Castle came on in relief.

Brian Reed then greeted Castle with a double that scored Martin. Hansford and Bingham came on to score when Kevin Allen lined a two-run single that made it an 11-2 game.

Betsy Layne got three runs back in their half of the sixth for an 11-5 score.

Betsy Layne took a 1-0 lead after holding the Rebels in the first. Derrick Newsome singled and scored on a ground out.

Allen Central tied the game at 1-1 with a run in the second. Jason Martin scored, after walking, on Bingham's fielder's choice play. Bingham picked up the RBI.

The Rebels plated two more in the third to lead 3-1. Floyd tripled with one out and scored on Jeremy Hall's run-scoring single. Martin walked and came in to score on Roy John Martin's second hit of the game.

In the third, Newsome walked and scored on Chris Potter's triple to make it a 3-2 affair. Allen Central struck for three in the fourth and led 6-2. Floyd had a two-run double in the inning.

Glen Floyd was perfect at the plate with three hits and two RBIs. Roy John Martin finished with a strong game as he continued to sting the baseball. Martin had three hits in the game and one RBI.

"I'm proud of this group of players," said Coach Pack. (See District champs, B 2)

BELATED BIRTHDAY AND MUCH MORE...

Well, I have to first wish a very good buddy of mine a happy birthday.

Rick Bentley, Sports Editor of the News-Express in Pikeville, celebrated his 27th birthday this past Tuesday and we want him to know that we appreciate him very much and hope that he will have many, many more.

Rick is one of those guys that is easy to know. An excellent sports editor. Does just a great job at Pikeville.

The boys' 58th District Baseball Tournament is history and it was a good one.

Betsy Layne High School, host school, did an excellent job of putting on the event. A good crowd was on hand Tuesday night as both diamonds (big field and Little League field) were being used.

Admission was charged for the tournament, but not too many complained. It takes a lot of expense to put on a tournament and admission helps offset some of the cost.

Mr. Alan Osborne and his staff were wonderful hosts for the boys' and girls' tournaments. A nice concession stand was pulled in from the Pepsi people. They didn't have to use a picnic table.

It really is a shame that folks from the other regions have to come into our park and there are no rest room facilities or even a comfortable place to sit.

I have always said that if the county officials would build a grandstand, concession stand and rest rooms, more people would come out to the games.

The way it is, the fans have been complaining about the rest room facilities available. They are very dirty.

But who can change all that!

Russell will be the site for the girls' regional softball tournament and Betsy Layne and Allen Central will advance from this district. (The district championship game was last night.)

The boys will begin regional play this coming week at Pikeville. There is a fine facility. That's the only place to play the regional. Dave Thomas and his group do an excellent job of hosting the regional.

Still a lot of talk around the county about some coaches not coming back next year. That is all talk. Or is it?

What is the top sport subject that everyone is talking about right about now?

Seems to be the Prestonsburg Blackcats football team. The Blackcats are expected to field another outstanding team. The schedule will begin with a bowl appearance at Pikeville and then a trip to Lexington.

Can they repeat as regional champions? I think so! Is that putting too much pressure on this year's corp. I think not. They can handle it.

The Allen Central Rebels basketball team will get a lot of exposure state wide this fall when they play in the King of the Bluegrass and in a Lexington tournament.

South Floyd's new gym is several weeks ahead of time, according to reports. The facility is to be a nice one and will seat around 1500. The new facility should be ready shortly after the season begins this fall.

What do you think of the Kentucky Rifles signing a woman to play baseball for them this summer?

They did just that (separate story). Kendra Hanes. She will never last the season.

Congratulations to Paul David Tackett and his 13-year-old AAU basketball team at South Floyd. The team made a good showing in the recent state tournament winning two games while dropping one.

The folks at Food City and WMDJ radio are to be applauded

Hornets of Magoffin County. This past Tuesday night, the two teams met in the first round of the women's district tournament at Stumbo Park in Allen.

The result was a bit different this time around with Allen Central posting a 13-5 win to eliminate the Lady Hornets and advanced to the semifinals.

Veronica McKinney and Kathy Conn supplied the power and Lisa Stumbo gathered in three hits to lead the Allen Central hit parade.

McKinney clubbed a grand slam home run in the first inning and Conn blasted a three-run shot in the second. Stumbo had three consecutive hits until she was retired in the seventh inning.

Misty Scott picked up the win for the Lady Rebels with Tina Shepherd suffering the setback for Magoffin County.

Magoffin County committed nine errors in the game while Allen Central had two.

Allen Central took a 4-0 lead in the top of the first on McKinney's slam. Melissa Mullins reached on an error at short, Jennifer Mullins collected a one out hit and Conn singled to fill the bases for McKinney's drive over the left center field fence. Nikki Queen also had a base hit in the inning.

Five runs scored in the Lady Rebels second to give them a 9-0 lead. Three runs came in on Conn's shot over the fence. Valinda Turner reached on an error to begin the inning. Stumbo then doubled her home. Stumbo scored when Melissa Mullins' grounder to short went through for an error. With two out, Jennifer Mullins doubled and Conn blasted her home run.

Betsy Layne survives Johnson Central scare

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Betsy Layne Lady Cats entered Wednesday night's semifinal game against Johnson Central as one of the top three teams in district women's softball, sporting a sparkling 25-7 record.

Johnson Central, on the other hand, had won once and that came over South Floyd. The Lady Eagles were just enjoying their first season and played loose.

Too loose, as far as the Lady Cats go. The Lady Eagles would have pulled off the upset of the tournament had it not been for the late-inning heroics of Ashley Tackett and Jessica Johnson.

Betsy Layne scored five runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to pull out a 12-9 win over the determined Lady Eagles. For three innings, Betsy Layne just could not dent the plate as they saw Johnson Central roll out to an 8-4 lead.

In the sixth, trailing 9-7, Ashley Bartley started the rally with a base hit. After Shanna Clark, who was held hitless, lined to center, Misty Clark singled. Christy Osborne roped a base hit to left, scoring Bartley, and Tackett drilled a two-run double that gave the Lady Cats the lead at 10-9.

Betsy Layne got two insurance runs when Johnson collected her third hit of the game, a double, scoring Tackett. Johnson scored on a ground out by Dawn Watson.

Johnson Central put two runners on base in the top of the seventh, but both runners were left stranded as Crystal Cantrell bounced back to Heather Keathley on the mound for the final out.

Betsy Layne led 4-2 after the first inning. Johnson Central scored two unearned runs in the top of the first for a 2-0 game. Joy McKenzie singled leading off and scored on an error off the bat of Cantrell. Cynthia Ousley doubled in Cantrell. The error made the runs unearned.

Betsy Layne plated four in the first on a two-run single by Misty Clark, who was back from a one-game suspension. Johnson drove in a run with an RBI single.

Two runs scored in the Lady Eagles' half of the second for a 4-4 game. Beth Kestner singled and scored while the Lady Cats committed three errors. Michelle Robinson scored the second run.

South Floyd closes season with loss to Lady Eagles

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The South Floyd Lady Raiders closed out a disappointing first season with a 16-7 loss to the Johnson Central Lady Eagles this past Tuesday night in the first round of the women's district softball tournament at Stumbo Park in Allen.

It was the first win of the season for the Lady Eagles, who is in their first year of play.

Misty Shannon led the Lady Raiders at the plate with three hits. She picked up four RBIs in the game. Crystal Newsome had two hits.

Johnson Central scored seven times in the fifth inning to break open an otherwise close game. The Lady Eagles was holding a slim 6-5 lead when they went on top 11-5. Crystal Cantrell had a three-run triple in the inning and Sarah Castle picked up two RBIs with a base hit. Crystal Hayden had a run scoring double.

South Floyd scored first and took a 3-0 lead in the second inning. Crystal Newsome singled and scored on an error by the Lady Eagles pitcher off the bat of Kathy Jo Stumbo. Candida Hamilton was safe when her ground ball to second was misplayed. Both runners scored on Shannon's two-run double.

Johnson Central struck for five runs in the bottom of the second to take a 5-3 lead. All the runs scored with two outs in the inning. A lead off single by Amy Borders and a walk to Michelle Robinson set the stage for Castle's first hit of the game. Alice Stapleton followed with a single and Joy McKenzie walked to load the bases. Cantrell then cleared the bags with a double.

South Floyd scored single runs in the third and fourth to tie the game at 5. Susan Stephens reached on an er-

Frustrated, but respected!

Allen Central second baseman Veronica McKinney trotted to first base after being intentionally passed against Prestonsburg Wednesday night. Prestonsburg intentionally walked McKinney five times and once intentionally with the bases loaded. McKinney hit a grand slam home run against Magoffin County the night before and has been a power hitter all season for Allen Central. Allen Central mounted a comeback and posted a 19-18 win over Prestonsburg. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Never-give-up Lady Rebels defeat Lady Blackcats, 19-18

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Allen Central girls' softball coach Anthony Moore was ready to throw in the towel after the first inning of his team's game with the Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats. The two teams met in the semifinals of the women's district softball tournament at Allen Park Wednesday night.

Prestonsburg scored 10 times in the first inning, and it wasn't because they were stinging the softball. Allen Central just couldn't field the ball.

The Lady Rebels committed seven first-inning errors and all but one Prestonsburg run was earned.

"We should have been out of the first inning without any runs being scored," said Moore.

While confusion reigned defensively, Allen Central did manage one of the biggest comebacks of the season when they edged a very good Prestonsburg team 19-18 to advance to the championship game (yesterday) against the Betsy Layne Lady Cats.

When the third inning had ended, Allen Central found themselves in a very deep hole. Prestonsburg owned a 16-0 lead and it didn't look too promising for the Lady Rebels.

Prestonsburg coach Bridget Clay refused to allow the softball to be tossed to hard-hitting Veronica McKinney, who had been busting the fences lately. McKinney's bat was taken out of her hand on every appearance at the plate. She walked five times. Clay ordered her walked, even with the bases loaded in the fifth.

"I didn't want her to do a lot of damage with her bat," said Clay, who said that she wouldn't have changed anything in the game.

Allen Central trailed 18-17 entering the top of the seventh inning after tying the game at 17-17 with four ers," said Coach Pack. "It is amazing what they have accomplished this season with no baseball facilities and having to practice in the gym. They are a great bunch."

Pack said that he saw his team turn things around after their 3-2 loss to top-ranked Johnson Central two weeks ago.

"I know that we beat Boyd County, but after we played Johnson Central the way we did, I realized that they could play with anyone," he said. "We just started to settle down and got better as a team."

Pack said that he is pleased with his present pitching staff and thinks they can throw against anyone in the regional tournament.

run. We're the type of team that has to score any way we can," he said. "I like the suicide squeeze. We used it at certain times and against certain teams. We have certain players that do it. Not everyone can."

The Allen Central coach thinks his team has a shot at a regional championship and it will not be something foreign to him as a coach.

"I had two regional winners at other schools I was at," he said.

The Rebels improved to 10-15 on the year. Betsy Layne dropped to 23-12.

Both will advance to the 15th Regional Tournament next week at Pikeville. A meeting is scheduled for Sunday to determine the pairings.

"Austin is a good kid," said Pack. "He has a great attitude. He quit the team last year and came back. He was out for 10 days with an injury."

"Jason Martin is a tough competitor and a good pitcher. We have Glenn Floyd, who is a good three pitcher," he said.

Pack said that his team hasn't been scoring a lot of runs lately (they scored 25 in the two game of the tournament) and getting runs any way he can is beneficial, even if it means squeezing a run home at times.

"I always like to play for the first

The Lady Cats had runners on in the second, third and fourth innings, but could not push a run home.

Johnson Central made it a 8-4 game with four runs in the top of the third. Two errors at second base opened the door for the scores. In fact, Johnson Central did not have a hit in the inning and the Lady Cats committed four errors and let the four runs cross the plate.

A three-run fifth pulled the Lady Cats to within one, 8-7. Misty Clark doubled and scored on Tackett's sacrifice fly to right field. Johnson then doubled home Osborne, who had reached on an error and moved to third on the sacrifice. Johnson came on to score on two consecutive errors on the Lady Eagles.

Johnson Central struck for one run in the top of the sixth for a 9-7 game. Ousley tripled to begin the inning and scored on a double play ball off the bat of Crystal Hayden.

Both teams committed nine errors in the game.

The win improved the Lady Cats to 26-7 on the year and a berth in next week's regional tournament at Russell. The Lady Cats faced Allen Central in last night's championship game.

Kentucky Rifles break gender barrier; sign up first woman

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Kentucky Rifles just had to be the first in our area to do it. It was bound to happen and now it has.

The Rifles announced that they have signed Kendra Hanes to a professional baseball contract and she — that's right, she — will be on the Rifles' roster this summer.

Hanes, 23, comes to the Rifles, from Union City, California and will become the only woman playing on a men's team in the minor leagues. The Rifles are a member of the Frontier League, a Class A/Short Season independent minor league.

Hanes drew the attention of the Pikeville based Rifles when she was cut from the now famous Colorado Silver Bullets, an all-female baseball team.

The Bullets brought Hanes to spring training and cut her as one of the last six women dropped from the 24-person squad. As a speedy outfielder with good defensive skills, she drew notice from the Rifles front office.

Rifles' General Manager Whitebeard thinks the first female player will be an immediate contributor.

"We feel that with her speed and fielding ability," he said, "Hanes can contribute right away. Although her hitting needs some work, we are confident that a season of competition and workouts will bring all her abilities up to this level."

Whitebeard said that his organization purposely went looking for a woman baseball player and his reasons were fourfold.

"First, we wanted to give a woman a shot to play at this level," he said, "and perhaps move on to an affiliated team, or a higher level of independent baseball. No woman will make it to the majors until some are given the opportunity in the minors."

"Second, we wanted to promote the idea of women in baseball. The Silver Bullets have already made a big impact in this area. I was at a game the Silver Bullets played several weeks ago, and I was amazed at the number of girls and young women that both came to the game and stood in line to meet the ballplayers."

"That kind of interest at the ground level is necessary if women are going to play in the majors.

"Third, we want to counter the attitude that women don't belong in baseball. It is one thing to suggest that women don't have the athletic ability to play baseball — I disagree with that statement, but I understand it. Others, however, think that women of any ability don't belong on the field, front offices or in the media covering baseball. These attitudes need to be erased, and we believe that signing a woman, and giving her this chance will help to eradicate some of those ancient ideas."

"Fourth, we're doing it for the publicity. I know it sounds strange for a team to admit that, but we'd be lying if we said it didn't matter to us. It does. We are an independent team in an independent league in perhaps the smallest market in professional baseball. We want crowds and sponsorships and merchandise sales as much as anyone else, and this will help a lot of people hear about us — people who ordinarily would not. So the publicity is certainly a factor."

Whitebeard said that Hanes had the potential to advance and that was important.

Prestonsburg A's open season on successful note

The Prestonsburg A's struck for 11 runs in the third inning and coasted to a 15-2 win over the Prestonsburg Giants.

The two teams hooked up in a pitchers battle through the first two innings until the A's scored big in the third.

Joey Willis led the A's with four hits. Robbie Holbrook and Phillip Elliot had three hits for the A's.

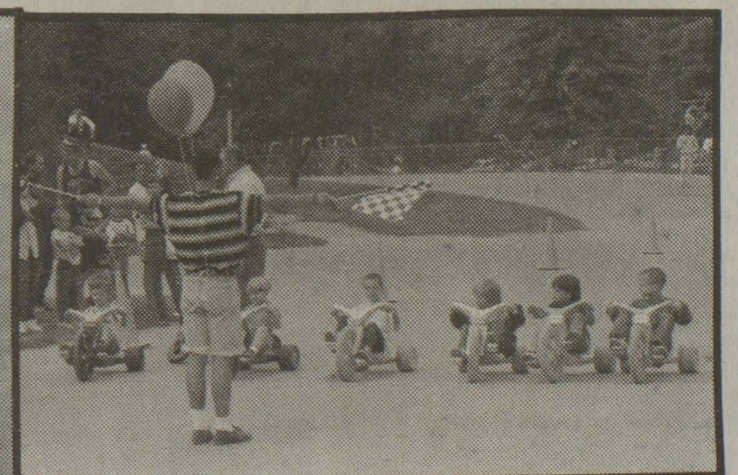

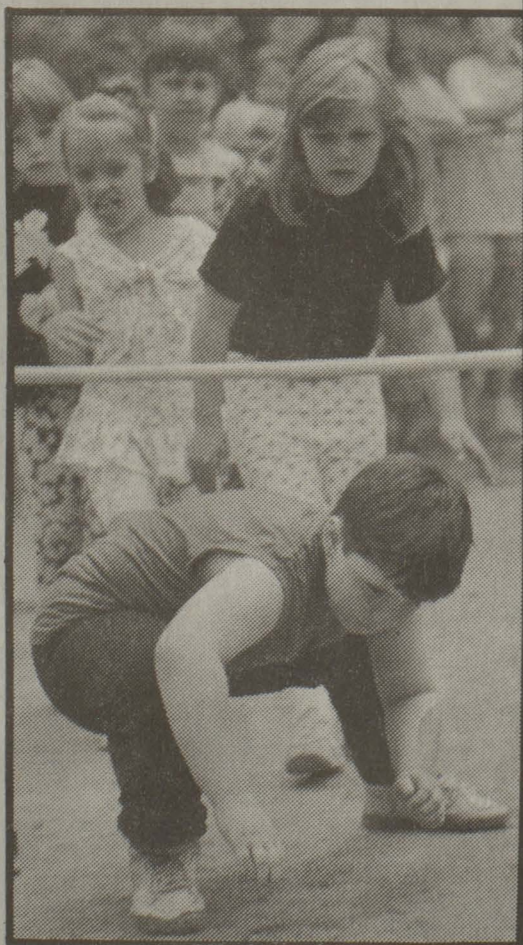

Ray Bays drove in both of the Giants runs in the bottom of the third inning to make it a 11-2 game.

George Hall was the winning pitcher while Jason Carroll suffered the setback for the Giants.

Magoffin County didn't get on the scoreboard until the fifth inning when it scored twice to make it a 9-2 game. A walk to Janice Bailey and Nikki Gibson's one out single set up Nikki Reed's two-run base hit.

Allen Central got those three back in its half of the sixth to take a 12-2 lead. Stumbo and Melissa Mullins had consecutive singles and both scored on an error at third base off the bat of Jennifer Mullins. Mullins scored on an error at short.

Magoffin County mounted a mild comeback in the bottom of the sixth by pushing home three runs for a 12-5 score. The big blow was Teresa Trusty's three-run triple. Beth Holiday led off the inning with a double. Allen Central had two errors in the inning.

Wallen lined a single to start the Lady Rebels seventh and scored on an error at shortstop for a 13-5 game. Scott retired the side in the bottom of the seventh inning after giving up a one out double to Stephanie Elses.

Conn finished with four runs batted in and McKinney had four RBIs. Jennifer Mullins collected two hits and three runs batted in.

ror to start the third and scored on Kathy Stumbo's base hit. In the fourth, Shannon led off with a single and scored the tying run when Crystal Tackett grounded out.

South Floyd reclaimed the lead for good with a run in the fourth that made it a 6-5 game. Beth Kestner scored an unearned run on two errors.

The Lady Raiders got single runs in the sixth and seventh innings. Rachel Howell singled to start the sixth, but was thrown out at second trying to stretch it to a double. Christy Tackett singled and scored on Shannon's second double of the game.

In the seventh, Jessica Frazier scored when Stephens' fly ball to center field was dropped. Frazier had reached on an error.

Johnson Central scored three times in the sixth with Hayden doubling home two runs.

Kestner was the winning pitcher while Crystal Tackett suffered the loss.

runs in the sixth. Prestonsburg pushed home a run in the bottom of the six to lead by one, 18-17.

Natalie Cooley struck out to start the seventh as Allen Central came to bat for its final time. Amanda Holbrook kept the Lady Rebs hopes alive when she singled. But Yates fanned for the second out, bringing up Lisa Stumbo.

Stumbo lofted a fly ball toward the outfield that hit off the outfielder's glove and rolled for a triple, scoring Holbrook with the tying run. Melissa Mullins then lined a base hit to left, scoring Stumbo with the winning run.

Prestonsburg had the heart of their lineup coming to bat in the bottom of the seventh, but the Lady Blackcats went out in order giving the Lady Rebels the victory.

"You have to give Allen Central credit," said Coach Clay, "They never quit. They played with a lot of heart. In the fourth and fifth inning, they really started hitting the ball."

Allen Central, who trailed 16-2 after four innings, scorched the ball in the fifth. It sent 16 batters to the plate in the inning and scored 11 times to make it a 16-13 game.

The Lady Rebels collected 10 hits in the frame. Melissa Mullins had a two-run triple in the inning. Kathy Conn, who had four hits in the game and four RBIs, doubled home two runs.

McKinney batted twice in the inning and both times was intentionally passed. There were seven walks in the inning for Allen Central to go with the 10 hits. Prestonsburg only committed one error in the fifth inning.

In Allen Central's four-run sixth, Conn doubled home two more runs and Holbrook had a double.

Jamie Clay started the game for the Lady Blackcats with an opposite-field double. She scored on Jamie Ratcliff's RBI single. With one out, Jennifer Miller singled home Ratcliff, but the run scored when two errors were made.

After that it was four consecutive errors for the Lady Rebels as Prestonsburg led 10-0 after one.

The Lady Blackcats added three in the second and Jenna Fannin hit a two-run home run in the third to make it a 16-0 game.

Allen Central scored two in the top of the fourth on a walk and Cooley's triple. Cooley scored on a ground out.

"I don't want to take anything away from my kids," said Coach Clay. "They played well and played hard. But they just didn't hold on."

"It has been a good season for us (14-8). After losing so many players from last year, these kids have worked hard all year," she said.

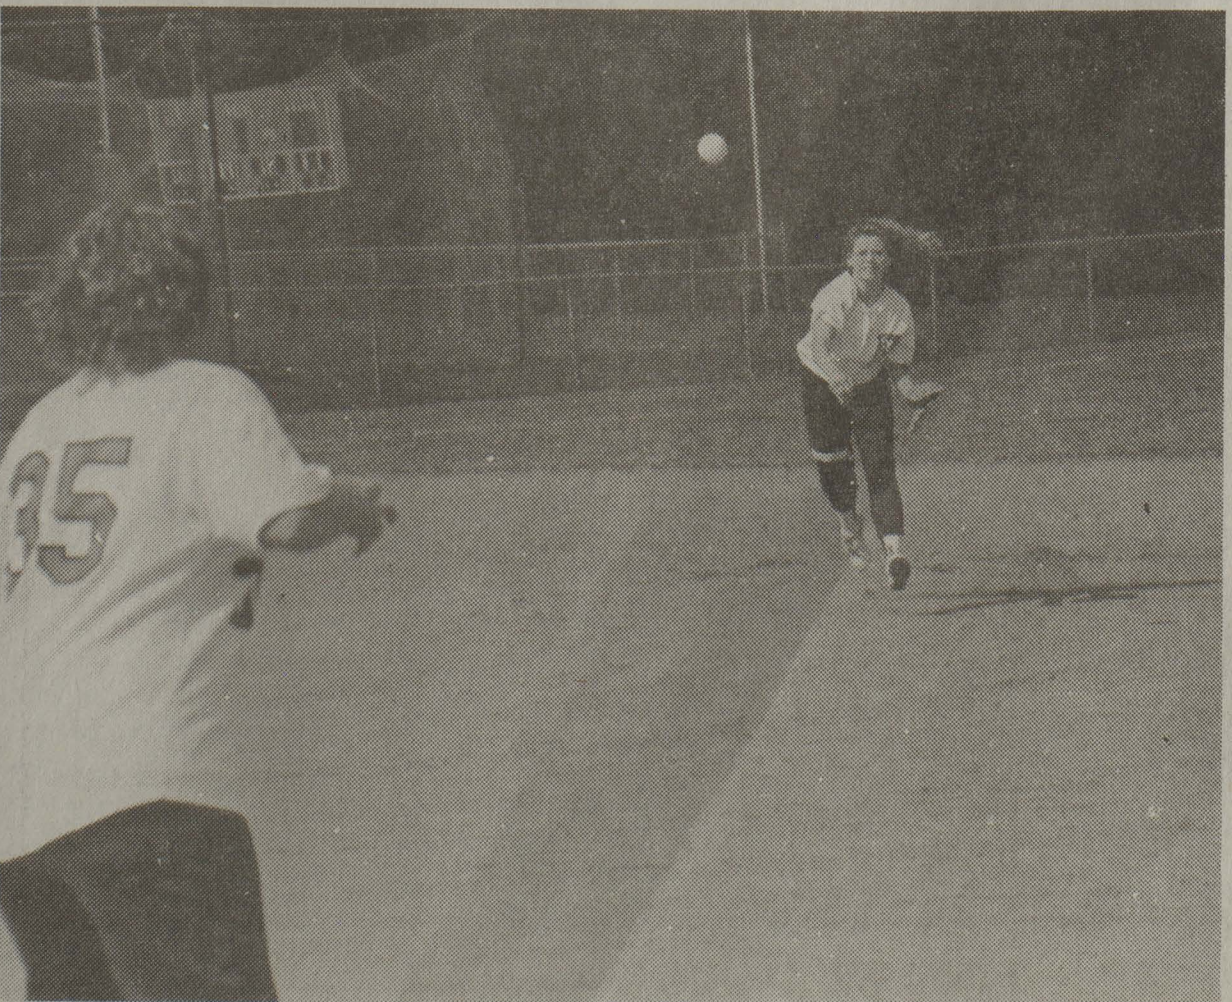

Misty Scott finished with three hits in the game and was the winning pitcher. Holbrook also collected three hits.

Donna Hall, Jennifer Greathouse and Miller each had two hits in the game for Prestonsburg. Misty Price, along with Fannin, had two RBIs.

Allen Central will be one of the eight teams that will play in next week's regional tournament at Russell.

A Look At Sports

for their effort in sponsoring the Kids' Day in the Park. It was tremendous.

I enjoyed being there and watching some of the games. All of them seem to be having the best time.

Good luck to our good buddy Tee Watkins as he takes off to Oklahoma later this month for the Red Man Trail fishing tournament. I received an invitation to make the trip for coverage of the tournament. But, a prior commitment keeps me from going. I would love to go.

Alan Edwards will never play basketball for UK because he will never pass the required test.

Also, mark off Antoine Walker. He has yet to pass it. Where does that leave UK in recruiting. Out in the cold! Should have taken the Lakers job Rick!

Good luck Allen Central, Betsy Layne, Prestonsburg and South Floyd as they take part in this weekend's regional track and field meet.

Each coach is asked to send me, no later than Friday, three names (boys and girls) for male and female track and field performers. Nominations should be sent to me no later than Friday, May 27.

Until Wednesday, good sports everyone and be good sports. Take those kids to church Sunday. You'll be glad you did.
