Unanimous vote opens door to competitive proposals :

Court dumps Rumpke offer in favor of bids

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County magistrates rejected a contract Friday with Rumpke of Kentucky for solid waste disposal, despite intense lobbying by the county attorney, and voted instead to put the services out for competitive bids.

The solid waste debate began when Dolores Smith, representing the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce, asked the court for more details about the financial aspects of the Rumpke proposal and expressed concern about the increased costs for commercial customers.

Smith also asked for more financial information concerning the Rumpke proposal, such as how much money the county would receive and what costs the county might incur.

"We would like to be aware of everything (in the agreement)," Smith told the court. "We (taxpayers) are stockholders in the system. We would like for you to address our concerns before you obligate us with the company."

Magistrate Jackie Edford Owens agreed with Smith and said that he would like answers to the same questions before he voted on the contract.

Those comments prompted County Attorney Jim Hammond to read the 10-page proposal aloud to Smith and the audience. Hammond said that the information contained in Rumpke's proposal has been available since January 1993, when the court declared an emergency concerning solid waste disposal.

"This contract has not been published since 1993," Magistrate Owens remarked.

Hammond told Smith that she may have had the answers to her questions if she had read the proposal and had attended the fiscal court meetings.

Floyd County would receive seven and a half percent of the fees collected by Rumpke, Hammond explained, adding that the current financial situation facing the county's solid waste department is "an attack on the treasury of Floyd County."

Under Rumpke's proposal, there is no set rate for commercial garbage disposal beyond the first month, Hammond said. The county's new solid waste commission could vote to reduce that rate, he added.

Hammond did not say what financial impact reducing commercial garbage rates would have on the county's revenues to be received from Rumpke.

Jim Osborne, chief of operations for the school system, tried to lobby the court for lower fees on behalf of the school district, which would see the annual cost for garbage disposal jump from about $35,000 to over $100,000.

Hammond chastised Osborne for seeking a reduced fee for the school system.

"(The school system) has a budget of $40 million and our budget is $7 million," Hammond said. "You want us to take the money out of the gen-

Building costs come in under estimates

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Bids for a 21-classroom addition at Betsy Layne Elementary came in under budget Tuesday and included a new fully-equipped kitchen in the project.

Jim Osborne, chief of operations for the Floyd County school district, was pleased to report Tuesday that the construction bids came in under the architect's estimates.

"(The prices) looked good," Osborne said Tuesday. "It's a little bit less than we expected. It came in under $3 million with the kitchen included."

Osborne explained that the bids were for the straight construction costs and did not include site preparation, on which the majority of work has been done. He added that two of the construction packages—concrete and hoisting—will have to be rebid because only one proposal was received for each division.

The classroom addition project has had many cost estimates since it was first approved in October 1991. The original estimate set the price tag at $1.3 million and that figure escalated to $3.8 million last year. Last year's price included renovation of the D.W. Fieldhouse, which has since been deleted from the project.

Last fall, school board members capped the classroom addition project at $3.2 million. A new kitchen/catereria was included in the bid documents as an alternate because school officials did not feel there were enough funds available to equip it.

A special school board meeting has been set for Thursday, May 26 at 6 p.m. at the Floyd County Library to award the bids on the Betsy Layne project and to approve a revised BG-1, Osborne said.

Osborne said Tuesday that work could begin on the classroom addition this summer. A bond sale is scheduled for June 15 to obtain funding for the Betsy Layne addition; an addition at Adams Middle School; and renovation of Prestonsburg High School.

Court relocates to accommodate crowd; plods through marathon

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Friday's Floyd County Fiscal Court meeting was full of surprises with the biggest being that the meeting was moved from the tiny meeting room in the courthouse annex to the spacious circuit courtroom.

Over 60 people attended Friday's court meeting, and county officials, apparently anticipating a large crowd, made arrangements to move the meeting prior to Friday.

For months citizens have been complaining about the tiny meeting room in the courthouse annex and recently magistrates have been entertaining a notion to find a larger meeting room. Moving the meeting seemed to lead to longer discussions of public issues and the court didn't conclude its business until 2:30 p.m., four and a half hours after it began.

Solid waste discussions took up much of the court's time, but a band of golfers renewed their criticism of the management of the Allen Park golf course.

Nello Francis and Tommy Gibson addressed the court and complained that the golf course manager was rude to players and that the course was not being maintained.

Gibson said that the county was losing a lot of money because golfers were going to other courses to play.

Francis asked the court to meet with golfers at the park on a Saturday because everyone concerned about the course could not attend fiscal court meetings.

Wheelwright looking for police chief, again

by Matt McCarty
Staff Writer

The search is on for a new police chief in Wheelwright after the city commission accepted the resignation of former police chief Howard Dotson Monday night at its monthly meeting.

Wheelwright Mayor David Sammons said Dotson resigned because "he got a better job in Elkhorn City."

Dotson's resignation prompted the commissioners to decide not to pay for anyone else's police officer training at the police academy at Eastern Kentucky University because, "that takes money from you guys," Sammons told those in attendance.

The commission, however, then voted 3-2 to pay for the last two weeks of Mark May's training, with Sammons and councilman Allan Taylor dissenting. May is the interim police chief and is a strong candidate to fill the vacancy.

The commission plans to name

A ho-hum vote with a heave-ho for incumbent

Blevins wins chance to face Rogers in November

Incumbent Russell Bentley saw his bid for a fourth consecutive term as representative for Kentucky's 92nd district fall victim Tuesday to a dismal voter turnout and to a fellow Knott Countian, Donnie Newsome, who won the district's Democratic primary by 79 votes.

Unofficial totals from Tuesday's election gave Newsome a 1,980 to 1,901 edge over Bentley, with Floyd Countian Hubert Halbert, of Langley finishing third with 1,143 votes.

Alonzo Combs rounded out the four-way race with 494 votes.

The 92nd district vote in Floyd County, which included just seven county precincts, went to Halbert, who picked up 622 votes to Bentley's 368; Newsome's 307 and Combs' 19.

With no GOP candidates in the race for the 92nd district seat, Newsome is virtually assured of claiming the seat. But, write-in and independent candidates may still appear on the November ballot if they file prior to an August deadline.

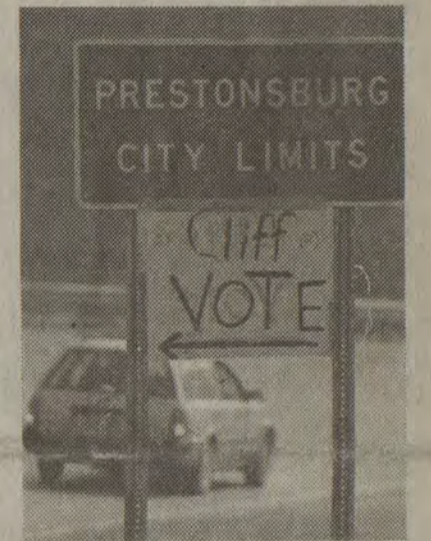

In the only race Tuesday with county-wide interest, Walter "Doc" Blevins, of West Liberty, appeared to be beating Martin County challenger Steven Maynard for the Democratic nomination in the 5th district congressional primary.

Blevins, a former state senator, will face incumbent Congressman Harold "Hal" Rogers, R-Somerset, on the November ballot. Rogers was unopposed in the primary.

In Floyd County, Blevins picked up a total of 1,284 votes, while Maynard drew just 695.

Tuesday's turnout by Floyd voters was one of the lowest in recent elections, with just 8.7 percent of the county's 23,444 registered Democrats making it to the polls.

There were no Republican races on Tuesday's ballot in Floyd County.

THE SIGNS were everywhere, but the voters weren't for Tuesday's primary election. At the Cliff precinct, just 27 of 514 registered Democrats cast ballots Tuesday.

New panel's first job is to decide what its first job is

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Three members of Floyd County's new solid waste board met Monday for the first time and decided that the first order of business is to determine what it is they should be doing.

Board members Mike Vance, David Layne and Sheridan Martin were virtually on their own Monday because only one county official, Magistrate Tommy Neil Adams, attended the session.

With only a sparse agenda, which was prepared last week, board members elected Vance chairman; Layne vice chairman; and Martin temporary secretary.

The three determined that they need to have the board's articles of incorporation, by-laws and the minutes from the previous board's meetings since July 1993.

Other than those three items, the board agreed that court-appointed solid waste custodian Bob Meyer and County Attorney Jim Hammond should meet with them to discuss the goals and objectives the board should be working toward.

"We need them to bring us up to snuff on what's happened in the last 18 months," Martin said.

Adams offered limited information to the board about the condition of the county's solid waste department, but said that since he was a newcomer to the court, he could not offer specific details of the situation.

Vance said the board would work with Meyer and would not interfere with any tasks he is undertaking as court-appointed custodian.

Board member Darrell Patton could not attend Monday's meeting because of a doctor's appointment, Vance said.

Board nominee Bill Harvey Howard declined to serve and the fiscal court has to approve Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo's replacement candidate for the board seat.

Plenty of room

Floyd County citizens packed the circuit courtroom Friday for the monthly meeting of the fiscal court. The court moved its meeting from the tiny meeting room in the courthouse annex to the roomy courtroom. Citizens have been asking for months that the meetings be moved to a larger facility. School tries to cope with loss of classmate

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Counselors were at Maytown Elementary Tuesday morning to help students deal with the death of a 12-year-old classmate who was killed in a four-wheeler accident Monday evening.

Michael Todd Halbert died when the four-wheeler he was operating collided with a pickup truck driven by a juvenile, whose name was not released. The accident happened at approximately 6 p.m. Monday on Plum Street in Maytown.

According to the Floyd County Sheriff's Department, the driver of the pickup truck was taken to Our Lady of the Way Hospital in Martin and admitted. The juvenile is a student at Allen Central High School.

Halbert was also taken to Our Lady of Way and later pronounced dead. He was a sixth grade student at Maytown Elementary.

Maytown Principal Lorena Hall said Tuesday that three school counselors and some parents were at the school early Tuesday morning to help classmates deal with Halbert's death. Hall said that several students had to be sent home.

"It's been a pretty hectic morning," Hall said. "This is such a small

There are a lot of troubled people. About 12 million children under age 18 suffer from mental disorders such as autism, depression and hyperactivity. Some 8 to 14 million Americans suffer from depression each year. As many as two out of 10 Americans will suffer at least one episode of major depression during their illnesses. Twenty of the ailments for which Americans seek a doctor's care are related to anxiety disorders, such as panic attacks, that interfere with their ability to live normal lives. If you or someone you know suffers from an emotional disorder or mental illness, get more information on available treatment from Mountain Comprehensive Care Center at 886-8572.

The Cabinet for Human Resources' Division of Aging Services suggests these ways of dealing with sleeplessness, loneliness, boredom and related unease:

GARDENING

In some areas, plots of ground, some tools and advice are provided so seniors can enjoy fresh produce, companionship and exercise. Those on financial assistance can use food stamps to buy seeds and plants for gardening on plots or porches. (Local Department for Social Insurance offices have details.)

WALKING

Walkers 55 and older can join Kentucky Pacesetters, logging meals for awards, discounts from local businesses and the right to participate in the Governor's Pacesetters Festival in Frankfort in July through miles logged over 12 months (by May 31). Those who are physically challenged or have visual or other difficulties are urged to participate, also.

GAMES, PROGRAMS, DANCING, THEATER, GROUP DINING AND DAY TRIPS

Some 260 senior centers across Kentucky offer such activities and can help arrange transportation, also.

Activities for seniors with some mental or physical impairment who require some supervision are offered at 52 state-assisted adult day care centers, and for those needing ongoing medical attention, there are 28 medical day centers.

VOLUNTEERING

Some 2,500 volunteers help others less mobile as Senior Companions, senior center assistants, and aides for home-delivered meals and Homecare services.

To find out more about these programs, contact the Area Agency on Aging in your Area Development District office or a senior citizens center.

Two steps in the right direction

by Scott Perry

Let's do something different this week and give the Floyd County Fiscal Court a rousing ovation.

Or two.

First, we applaud the court for relocating last Friday's meeting from the tiny meeting room at the annex to the circuit courtroom, where there was ample room for the public to observe and participate in their county government at work.

Some county officials obviously need a refresher course on common courtesy when dealing with the general public during public meetings, but we'll save our lecture on manners for another time.

We don't want to waste this rare occasion on criticism.

Moving Friday's meeting to a more accommodating setting was the first hint we've seen from the court that they are willing to obey open meeting laws, and for that we salute them.

Hopefully, it's a sign of more good things to come.

We are also impressed with the court for its decision to open the bidding on countywide garbage services to other companies which may be interested in providing those services.

Competitive bidding is almost always the best way to go when taxpayer dollars are at stake and, where garbage rates and services are concerned, Floyd Countians have shown great interest in being kept abreast of the goings-on.

The fiscal court has responded appropriately to those concerns by casting aside a single, privately negotiated proposal for garbage services in favor of multiple bids for those services.

By doing so, we get to shop and compare for the best deal.

We hope the court has learned by its recent acquiescence that it really doesn't hurt a bit to be accountable to the public and to the law and, in fact, that's the smoothest way to go.

Most of their headaches over garbage and government could have been avoided had they chosen that path at the start.

But, for now, we'll congratulate the court for taking two significant steps forward.

It's the only way to travel.

Development authority supports Partners in Progress

Editor:

Whereas, the Floyd County Development Authority is an organization concerned with the economic improvement of Floyd County, Kentucky; and

Whereas, the Floyd County Development Authority recognizes that improvements in secondary and post-secondary education are key ingredients to the future economic growth of our area; and

Whereas, the Floyd County Development Authority has voiced its wholehearted support of the proposed expansions of facilities and programs at Prestonsburg community College and has directed its staff to assist in those efforts; and

Whereas, Representative Gregory D. Stumbo has distinguished himself in supporting legislation and budgets for the improvements to Kentucky's educational system; and

Whereas, Representative Stumbo has dutifully fought for continued state funding for education programs and projects of benefit to Floyd County and the Big Sandy region.

Now, therefore, be it resolved that:

The Floyd County Development Authority endorses and supports the expansion of facilities and programs offered by the "Partners in Progress" campaign of Prestonsburg Community College and Dr. Deborah Floyd.

The Floyd County Development Authority hereby expresses its sincere appreciation for efforts by Representative Stumbo on behalf of education improvement in general, and more specifically, his efforts to provide state funding for Prestonsburg Community College's "Partners in Progress" campaign.

The Floyd County Development Authority, its Board, and its ex-officio members encourage Representative Stumbo to continue to use his position in the House of Representatives to gain support for said projects.

Representative Gregory D. Stumbo is hereby complimented and recognized for his efforts on behalf of educational improvements for Floyd County.

Passed this the 20th day of April, 1994.

Former student says diagnosis is needed for nursing program

Editor:

Many articles have been printed lately dealing with the school board's decision to have the kids make up the school days missed during the bad weather we experienced. While reading these articles, I was amused by the thought that so many people have expressed their concern over a problem involving the elementary and high schools in Floyd County, yet continue to ignore one that has existed for quite awhile at the college level, in particular, Prestonsburg Community College.

P.C.C. offers a two-year Associate Degree Nursing Program that is very difficult to get into, and even more difficult to complete. It has the reputation of being one of the toughest programs in the state. It also has one of the highest failure rates of any school in the state. Of the thirty-three to thirty-five students accepted each semester, approximately two-thirds of those students fail, usually in the third and fourth semesters. Only fifteen students were graduated this semester; four of those students are repeats from last semester. One student who failed, was among those recently noted as being on the Dean's List this semester. Hazard Community College, on the other hand, graduated fifty-six students out of approximately sixty that began together. Both of these schools are in the same U.K. College system and have the same basic educational guidelines and requirements, so why the drastic difference in the number of graduates from each program?

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

In just under two weeks we'll be commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Normandy Invasion, better known as D-Day, which marked the beginning of the end for Nazi Germany.

Or did it?

A half century later, news accounts should be frighteningly familiar to those who survived Adolph Hitler's rise to power on a platform of racial and religious intolerance, which ultimately accounted for the murders of more than six million people.

To a certain disgusting degree, incidents of intolerance are on the rise again in Germany, where bands of right wing fanatics are brutally victimizing the weak and the helpless.

If history does, indeed, repeat itself, perhaps the scheduled reenactment of the D-Day invasion next month should be real instead of symbolic.

Better safe than sorry.

for upgrading state parks was a pre-destined success, from a political perspective, anyway.

Didn't hear one single account from the tour of public opposition to the build-now-pay-later plan.

Nor did we expect any.

Who in their right minds would tell the Governor not to build new facilities in Eastern Kentucky?

Of course the most interesting aspect of the issue is the feud that appears imminent between the Governor and his allies in the state House of Representatives and Senate leaders, who have lobbied for fiscal restraint.

There has even been a not-so-subtle threat to close down state government if a budget is proposed that does not include parks projects.

Now there's a tough one.

We'd love to have our parks built up and spruced up, but it sure would be intriguing to see what would happen if we pulled the plug on Frankfort for an indefinite time.

Choices, choices.

Mark us down as a staunch supporter of the ongoing project known as the U.S. 23-Community Safety Improvement Program, which aims to reduce fatalities and injuries along that oft-traveled path.

In the past few years there have been two particular danger zones on Route 23 that no doubt have accounted for a majority of the recorded fatalities.

New intersections on the Louisa bypass and on new Route 23 near East Point in Floyd County were nothing short of death traps when they first opened for public use and they continue to serve as the sites of numerous automotive mishaps.

The similarities are eerie and point to the need for a considerable effort to educate or otherwise update the driving public to new traffic patterns created by new intersections.

There will be a few more of those as reconstruction of Route 23 continues between Paintsville and Prestonsburg.

Safety should be our first concern as they come on line.

Eight isn't enough?

We're a bit bewildered by the news this week decrying the low turnout of candidates for school superintendent vacancies in Eastern Kentucky.

The article suggested area school systems were having "a tough time" filling top school posts because only eight or so hopefuls had applied for each of a number of openings.

Hmm.

We suspect some school systems might have attracted more interest, but let's not become so removed from that past that we forget the way we were.

Used to be there were no candidates for superintendent jobs...or at least none the general public had any say about.

Top school jobs were routinely passed from one powerbroker to the next.

We agree that the more the merrier when it comes to filling school leadership slots, but having a choice at all is an improvement.

And, we'll add, quality is much more important than quantity.

P.C.C. school officials would have the public believe that their high failure rate is due to its high standards. If this is the case, are we to believe that all of the other schools in the college system have lesser standards? They would also have the public believe that those students failing just couldn't "cut it." Does this mean that P.C.C.'s students aren't as smart as Hazard's? Students from both schools must take the same state boards before being licensed.

So where does the problem lie? I think it's about time someone found out. Some of these students pay for their own education, however, many others depend entirely on financial aid in the form of Pell and Cap grants, student loans, and government programs such as J.T.P.A. Much of this money is provided through the hard earned dollars of taxpayers. Who absorbs the losses of all the money spent on those students who can't "cut it," and fail the program? Who foots the bill for those students to repeat the semester? Why, when there are other schools with very successful nursing programs, should money be wasted on one that has statistically proven to be unsuccessful?

P.C.C. provides a much needed means of attaining a higher education for those who might otherwise be denied the opportunity. On the other hand, I think the taxpayers and the government should give considerable thought to the continued support of its nursing program as it presently exists. What good are their high standards without the students to back it up?

A slice of the pie

Editor:

Our U.S. senators and representatives are now considering a new federal excise tax on tobacco. This is an historic opportunity to save lives.

Simply said, the American Cancer Society supports a $2-per-pack tobacco tax increase.

Our children are the most important reasons for a major tobacco tax increase. Cigarettes kill 419,000 Americans, including 7,900 Kentuckians, each year and addict an average of 3,000 new smokers each day. An overwhelming majority of these new tobacco addicts are in their adolescent years. Parents should know that raising tobacco taxes in Canada has been largely responsible for reducing the number of Canadian teens who smoke by two-thirds.

Adjusting the level of taxation to $2-per-pack would prevent the premature death of at least 2 million Americans alive today. It will deter millions of children from starting to smoke and encourage many smokers to quit.

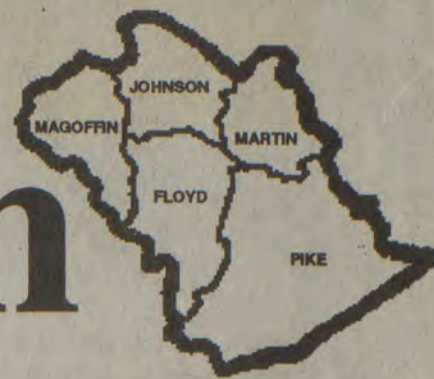

The American Cancer Society also supports reinvesting a portion of this tax in Kentucky and other tobacco-growing states to be used to help tobacco farmers maintain their quality of life while getting out of the business of raising a crop that produces disease, disability and death.

We implore our Kentucky congressmen to fight for our share of the tobacco tax pie to help our farm communities make the transition to the smoke-free society and smoke-free economy that we know are in our future.

Winning lottery ticket sold

A winning ticket for Saturday night's $1.8 million Lotto Kentucky drawing was sold at the Boot Place near Franklin in Simpson County.

The winner didn't come forward to claim the prize; lottery officials speculated that the winner was from Tennessee, from which the store gets most of its business.

Also Saturday, a winning ticket was sold in Kansas for the $22.2 million Powerball drawing. —The Courier-Journal

Recognized for acts of courage and bravery

Thirty-two individuals were recognized for acts of courage, great achievement and for life-saving efforts recently during the 1994 Kentucky State Police Awards Ceremony held at the Holiday Inn Capital Plaza.

Kentucky State Police Commissioner Jerry Lovitt presented awards to 20 KSP officers and 11 civilians and officers from local law enforcement agencies.

Recognized locally was Trooper Larry Preston of Post 9, Pikeville. Preston was given a citation for bravery. —staff report

Company to launch operation in Martin County; creates new jobs

Rocket Man Inc., a manufacturer of mobile vending equipment for the concession industry, will launch a new assembly and distribution operation in Inez this month that will create new jobs in Martin County.

The company plans to make backpack drink dispensers which enable walking vendors to sell hot or cold beverages wherever people walk by or congregate. The Rocket Man backpack drink dispenser has been used by Walt Disney World, the Kentucky Derby Festival, Madison Square Garden in NYC, and countless other venues.

James "Jimmy" Muncy Jr. of Inez has been hired to oversee the first phase of the operation, scheduled to begin May 27. The business will be located in the first floor of the old post office building in downtown.

The business operation is being financed in part by loans from East Kentucky Corporation and the Big Sandy Area Development Revolving Loan Fund. —staff report

Charges dismissed against Johnson County schools chief

Theft charges against Johnson County Schools Superintendent Frank Hamilton were dismissed Tuesday, a week before his scheduled exit from office.

Johnson Circuit Judge James A. Knight ruled improper a 22-count indictment accusing Hamilton of stealing more than $8,000 in school funds to help pay college expenses for eight teachers.

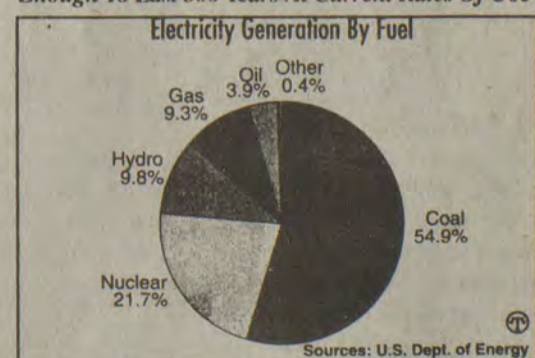

"The weight of the evidence reveals that (Hamilton) did not exercise control over the funds in question, and therefore the indictments against him fail to charge an offense," Knight said.

Hamilton, who steps down as superintendent May 31, said Tuesday that he was "happy" the charges had been dropped.

The indictment charged Hamilton with 22 counts of theft by unlawful taking for using $8,169 in school money to assist the eight teachers with their college expenses. Hamilton had said the local board paid for books and tuition so the teachers could receive certification in specialized fields, particularly special education. —Paintsville Herald

America's Coal Resources Total 268 Billion Tons—Enough To Last 300 Years At Current Rates Of Use

Coal provides nearly 55 percent of the total amount of electricity used in the U.S. each day.

If you thought coal was a fuel of the past here's a few things you should know:

- As it was long ago, the mining of coal remains one of the nation's great basic industries, whose total yearly impact on the economy includes $81 billion in goods and services, $4.6 million in coal exports and one million jobs.

- America's coal reserves total 268 billion tons—enough coal to last nearly 300 years at current rates of use, far more - than oil and gas combined.

- Coal provides nearly 55 percent of the total amount of electricity used in the U.S. each day.
- Coal is the largest source of domestically produced energy, more than oil or natural gas.

eral fund and give it to the school board. Rumpke has to be paid regardless. If it were up to me, I wouldn't give you any reduction."

Osborne explained that the school system's $40 million budget was a tight budget and the extra costs for solid waste disposal are "going to hurt."

"It's going to hit us hard at one whack," Osborne said. "Is there any way we can negotiate a special rate? We'd like to have special consideration because we are a government agency, too."

Floyd Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo asked Osborne if he had asked the City of Prestonsburg for a reduced rate for the school system.

"I have not, personally," Osborne remarked. "I don't know if anyone before has, but it's something to consider."

Hammond suggested that the school district might invest in a compactor to bind light waste from the schools.

Osborne said the district would have to pay the same price per cubic yard for disposal.

Osborne, apparently disgusted with the discussion, told the court that he "didn't think all that was called for" in reference to comparing budgets and the curt responses to his concerns. Osborne returned to his seat in the audience.

Magistrate Owens supported Osborne's comments saying he knew how tight the district's budget is because his wife was a former board member.

"There was a lot of things (my wife) wanted to do, but it would bust the budget," Owens said. "I think the schools should be given a special rate."

Steve Hodges, representing Local Sanitation, asked the court for an opportunity to bid on a contract which included services covered under Rumpke's proposal.

Floyd County's court-appointed solid waste custodian Bob Meyer told the court that proposals received from other companies in response to a nine-county request from the Big Sandy Area Development District couldn't be compared to Rumpke's because the bid criteria was not the same.

Meyer said he was not opposed to bidding the same services or opposed to Rumpke's offer.

"I'm not suggesting that you go ahead with Rumpke and I'm not opposed to you doing that," Meyer said. "I have a question if (Rumpke's proposal) was properly procured. There is a concern in my mind if the county could have gotten a better rate."

Meyer added that Rumpke offered a fair proposal to the county and the company has a good reputation.

Owens asked Meyer if it were up to him, would he bid the package again and include door-to-door collections and other services in the Rumpke proposal.

Meyer said that he would.

After much debate, Owens moved that Big Sandy ADD rebid the trash collection and disposal services. Magistrate Tommy Neil Adams seconded the motion and it was unanimously approved by the court.

Magistrates are expected to address the issue again at the June 17 fiscal court meeting.

Professional development teacher training program

An innovative summer professional development teacher training program is being offered by the Eastern Kentucky Teachers Network at the Hindman Settlement School June 19-July 1, 1994. The workshop will concentrate on the internationally recognized Foxfire Approach to Education.

Foxfire enables interested teachers to transform their practice from the teacher centered model to one that draws the very best work from students by giving them a voice in, and responsibility for, their learning. The Foxfire Approach is an active, learner-centered classroom instructional model which is academically sound and promotes continuous interaction between students and their communities. The goal is for students to find fulfillment as creative, productive, critical citizens.

More than four thousand teachers in urban, suburban, rural, and inner-city settings have been trained in this approach. Over two hundred have attended the Level One Courses in eastern Kentucky alone.

Follow up is provided by a network of veteran Foxfire trained teachers. Recent educational research supports the notion of teacher networks as essential to effecting real change in what teachers do in their classrooms.

All costs for this training program are covered by a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission and by support from the Hindman Settlement School. A $200 stipend is being offered to help with childcare, travel, and other inconveniences incurred by being away from home.

Enrollment is limited to 20 participants, so please contact the Settlement School for an application immediately.

Forty-two hours of Kentucky Department of Education Professional Development credit is available on request, for participating in the program.

Student honored

Dustin C. Haley, an entering student in the University of Kentucky College of Law, was honored April 21 at the annual College of Law Awards Night ceremony.

Haley, a resident of Prestonsburg, received the Andrews & Williams Scholarship, given for academic achievement by an entering law student. The award was established by the Lexington law firm of Andrews & Williams.

The law firm of Greenbaum Doll & McDonald sponsored the Awards Night ceremony, as well as a reception for donors and recipients of awards. Over $100,000 in scholarships and awards for incoming and current law students were presented during the event.

Pikeville area students complete requirements

Local students are among candidates for degrees and citations at June graduation ceremonies for the Pikeville Campus of Kentucky College of Business. The group completed requirements during the college's September and January Terms.

Receiving Associate of Arts degrees will be Letha Damron, Professional Secretarial-Legal; Malissa Ann McCown Roberts, Management Information Systems, and Margaret A. Sawyers, highest honors, Medical Assisting. All are of Pikeville.

Also, Jessica Hopkins of Hellier, Medical Assisting; Susan Lynn Jarvis of Raccoon, honors, Medical Assisting, and Brenda Spears of Virgie, Business Administration-Accounting.

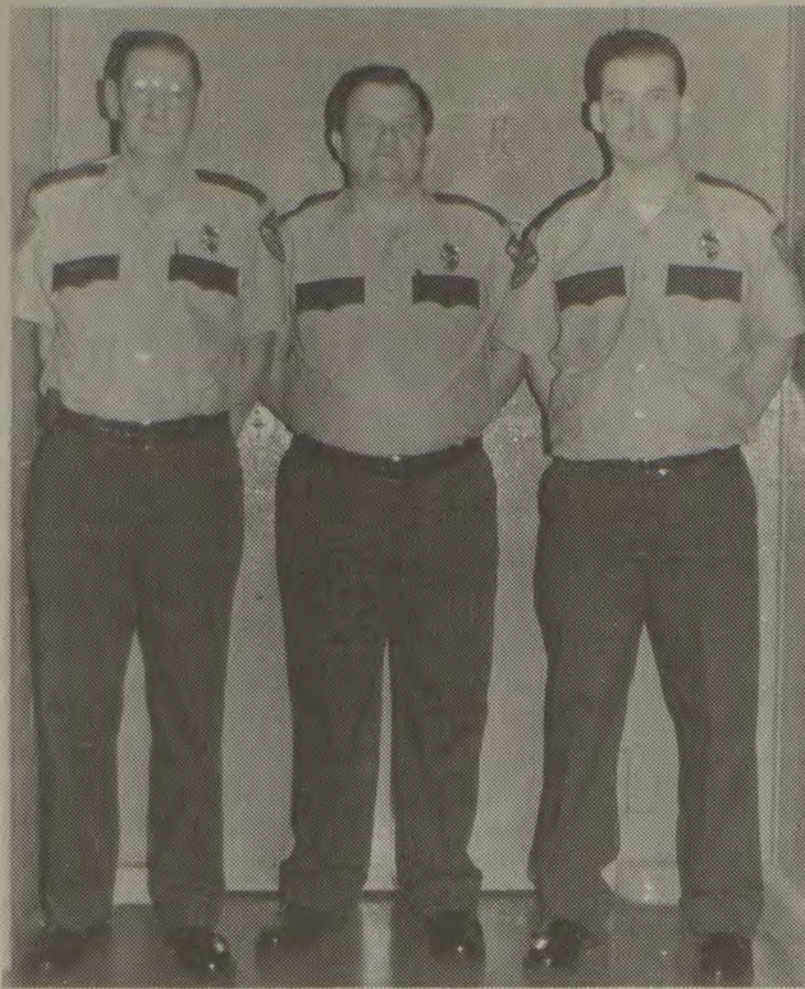

Diploma candidates include Barbara Bartley of Elkhorn City, highest honors, Medical Secretarial; Barbara Daniel of Hatfield, highest honors, Medical Secretarial; Joueta Marie Griffith of Steele, honors, Data Processing, and Rhonda Gail Halsey of Elkhorn City, Medical Secretarial.

Also, Timika Lynn Jackson of Wheelwright, Data Processing; Mollie McHone of Steele, Data Processing; Marilyn Slone Robinette of Canada, highest honors, Medical Secretarial, and Fernie Lynn Slone of Mouthcard, Medical Secretarial.

Kathy Isaac suggested that the court appoint a committee to hear golfers' complaints and try to address the issues.

The court took no action on Isaac's suggestion, but agreed to meet the golfers at the park at 1 p.m. on May 28.

Francis also commended the court for moving the meeting to the larger courtroom and said, "We don't have to file in here like sardines anymore." Also Friday, the court declined to vote on establishing a fire taxing district for certain portions of David.

Arnold Prater told the court that the issue had been properly advertised to create a taxing district for areas of Hollybush, Caney, Pyramid and Blue River. Prater asked the court to approve the taxing district because no opposition to the issue had been filed in the county court clerk's office.

Magistrate Jackie Owens and County Attorney Jim Hammond told Prater that the advertisement did not indicate when the issue would be discussed by the court and they didn't feel citizens were aware of it.

The issue was tabled and Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo said it would be discussed at the June 17 court meeting.

In other action Friday, Magistrate Tommy Neil Adams took issue with a list of summer workers hired by Stumbo, saying he wanted the public to know that the magistrates had no input into the hirings.

Adams said he had submitted about 20 names of people from the Left Beaver area and that none of the people he suggested had been hired.

The county hires mostly teen-age students to work at county parks for the summer. Magistrates usually recommend applicants for the job to the judge-executive.

Stumbo told Adams that he was "just trying to get out of it" because he didn't submit his list of applicants in time for Friday's meeting.

"I just want the people to know that you recommend all (the people) for the jobs," Adams told Stumbo. "We have no part in it."

Also Friday:

- the court authorized attorney

Russell Davis to settle a claim with the county's insurance carrier on behalf of Fred Mynhier;

- the court denied a request from Brent Allen to close a road a Goslin Branch;

- the court approved various budget amendments for the D.A.R.E. program, the Mountain Area Drug Task Force and on unmined coal tax revenues; and

- the court held first reading on the proposed 1994-95 budget.

All members attended Friday's meeting.

Out of town for awhile? Garbage fees must be paid

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Residents of the City of Prestonsburg will no longer be granted a break on their garbage bills if they take up residence outside the city limits for an extended period of time.

Prestonsburg City Council discontinued the tradition Monday of temporarily waiving monthly garbage fees for residents who live in second homes for several months out of the year.

Councilman Billy Ray Collins moved that the city reaffirm its eight-dollar monthly garbage fee with no exceptions.

Mayor Jerry Fannin said that council had approved the waiver in the past, but one problem was that residents sometimes failed to notify city officials when they returned.

Council approved the monthly fee plus the senior citizen discount of $6.20 per month.

In another break from tradition, councilmen Collins and Estill Lee Carter said they felt the city should not drop down to one meeting per month during the summer.

Councilman Robert Allen asked fellow council members if they wanted to follow the tradition of only meeting one time a month during the summer.

Collins said it is easy to lose track of city business if they only meet once a month.

"If you don't keep up with your business, your business will run the other way," Collins said. "If you don't want to come to city meetings, then you shouldn't run for council." Councilman Carter concurred and joked it was "at the risk of going on record agreeing with Bill Ray."

"We need to stay on top of things," Carter said.

Also Monday:

- council heard a report from tourism director Fred James about a promotion video being made of tourist attractions in Floyd, Pike and Johnson counties;

- council received a second draft of an employee handbook for consideration; and

- council approved a roadblock for parents of handicapped children to be held on Friday, June 3 from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Councilmen Danny Hamilton and Dick Clark were absent from Monday's meeting.

the new police chief at a special meeting on June 14 at 7:30 p.m.

In other action, the commission:

- Discussed an ordinance that would keep motorcycles and four-wheelers off of the streets and sidewalks.

Sammons urged commissioners that it was their job "to protect this town."

"This is not only for the safety of old people, but for the children who are on them things," Sammons said.

The main opposition came from commissioner Charles Harmon and some citizens in attendance who said, without motorcycles and four-wheelers, the youth in Wheelwright would have nothing to do.

Sammons said that the commission would look at possibly getting a race track for the kids to ride on.

The commission decided to wait until next month's meeting before taking a vote on an ordinance so they can contact their lawyer to find out what they can do.

- Identified some possible projects to use their road aid money toward, such as improving sidewalks and blacktopping roads.

- Decided to have the first reading to amend the 1994-95 budget on June 14.

- Moved the first reading of a utility ordinance to amend and the first reading of an ordinance incorporating a state highway to the next regular meeting.

All commissioners were present at the meeting.

Grim reaper is harbinger

With all the ghostly figures around, parents might think the students at Betsy Layne High School were preparing for Halloween in May. Not so.

Betsy Layne students will be participating in an alcohol awareness demonstration known as "Ghost Out!" Held in conjunction with the US-23 Corridor Safety Improvement Program, the "Ghost Out" will be presented by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet May 26, at 2 p.m. at the school. The program will be presented at Allen Central on June 1.

This dramatic presentation will involve participation by the student body, local police, fire officials and a character, the Grim Reaper who will select students to represent victims of alcohol-related highway accidents. The program serves as a timely reminder to students that drinking and driving make a deadly combination.

"This is a great opportunity for us to combine our 'Ghost Out' program with the efforts of the new US-23 Corridor Safety Improvement Program in Floyd County," Secretary of Transportation Don C. Kelly said.

"Both concentrate on improving highway safety and minimizing drunk driving. This time of year especially, with high school prom nights, Memorial Weekend, and the Fourth of July, we need to pool our resources and work together to keep our highways safe."

Flood control study funded

Funding has been approved by the House Appropriations Energy and Water Development Subcommittee for a flood control study on the Levisa Fork Basin affecting Floyd and Johnson counties.

The subcommittee this week approved a request from Congressman Hal Rogers to fund $880,000 for the work study. The study will be conducted by the Army Corps of Engineers to study future flood protection projects along the Levisa Fork, including the proposed Haysi Dam.

Safety team cites two Floyd mines for violations

After blazing through mines in five states last week, a special enforcement team from the Labor Department's Mine Safety and Health Administrative (MSHA) has left two Floyd County mines putting out the smoke.

Ebenezer Coal Company Inc.'s No. 1 Mine in Drift and Joshco Mining Inc.'s No. 4 Mine in McDowell received citations from the enforcement teams during the one-day sweep.

The teams checked the mines for violations of federal law which prohibits miners from having smoking materials in underground mining operations. The law also requires coal companies to have an effective smoking prevention program. The teams looked for any type of smoking article, including cigarettes, matches or lighters.

At Ebenezer Coal Company Inc., inspectors found smoking materials in the mine or on miners. Joshco Mining Inc. was cited for having an inadequate program for keeping miners from taking smoking articles in the mine.

Civil fines for the smoking violations carry a maximum $50,000 penalty per violation for mine operators and $250 per violation for individual miners.

Members of the Maytown Fire Department, P & B Ambulance and the Floyd County Sheriff's Department responded to the scene of the mishap. The accident is under investigation by sheriff's officers Lieutenant Bill Howell and deputy Rick Newsome.

Highlands hosts 14th annual Employee Recognition Banquet

Highlands Regional Medical Center celebrated its 14th annual Employee Recognition Banquet on Friday, April 15, at the Jenny Wiley State Park Convention Center. Employees with five, ten, fifteen, twenty, and twenty-five consecutive years of service were honored. In addition, Highlands also honored the six physicians and four original members of the board of trustees who have served Highlands since it opened in 1973.

Burl Wells Spurlock, chairman of Consolidated Health Systems, Highlands parent corporation, was master of ceremonies for the evening; and Clarence Traum, president and CEO of Highlands and Consolidated Health Systems, was the speaker.

Traum spoke briefly about the new Medical Office Building (MOB). He compared the steel being used in the construction of the MOB to that of Highlands employees. Comparatively when the building is complete the steel like the employees will not be visible from the outside. However, without the vital infrastructure each provides, the building like the hospital would be nothing. Traum reiterated that Highlands greatest asset is its employees.

Employees were also treated to a "trip down memory lane" via a slide presentation entitled "Remember When" which showed the hospital and various employees in a collection of slides taken over the past twenty years.

Physicians recognized were William Cook, M.D., Roger Jurich, M.D., James Adams, M.D., Ron Leslie, M.D., Ira Potter, M.D., and David White, M.D.

Members of the Board of Trustees recognized were O.J. Arnett, David White M.D., Chalmer Frazier, and Edward Music.

Employees retiring this year from Highlands were Donald Nunnery, Vivian Shannon, Lora Hall, and Charles "Chuck" Lewis.

The only employee to receive a prestigious twenty-five award was Ruth Hall, supervisor of Central Sterile. Ruth stated, "I have really enjoyed my years at Highlands, it's been like a second home, and I'm looking forward to several more."

service awards were Margaret Bays, Lois Burchett, Cathy Epling, Pearl Goble, Don Hicks, Deborah Mayhan, Vina Nuckles, Rebecca Wells, Fannie Wickline, and William Wilkerson.

Employees receiving fifteen year service awards were Lou Allen, Londa Connors, Doris Hackworth, Nancy Hall, Emma Hunt, Rosemary Isaac, Brenda Meade, John Meade, Martha Murphy, Debbie Ousley, and Joyce Ousley.

Employees receiving ten year service awards were Jolita Burchett, Christine Furman, Pauline Hampton, Twana Hickman, Karen Kester, Tim Kretzer, Doris Murphy, Terri Stone, and Donald Willis.

Employees receiving five year service awards were Jennifer Baker, Sandra Combs, Judy Daniel, Mildred Field, Virgil Goble, Carolyn Hill, Sandy Lafferty, Thomas McIntire, Anita Mitchell, Leatha Osborne, Donna Price, Vickie Risner, Scottie Salisbury, Tracy Salyer, Glenna Sexton, Teresa Slone, Alfred Spears, Donna Thornsby, and Denise Whitaker.

Precautions necessary to protect against ticks, dangerous diseases

Warm-weather outdoor activities increase chances of exposure to ticks, which can transmit Rocky Mountain spotted fever and Lyme disease.

State health officials say that precautions can lessen the chances of a tick bite and exposure to the dangerous diseases they carry.

Clarkson Palmer, M.D., of the Kentucky Department for Health Services says that precautions are most important in the summer months when ticks—and people—are most active.

"Rocky Mountain spotted fever and Lyme disease are both serious diseases, and both are potentially deadly," he said. "Taken in that light, these precautions are certainly worth the time and effort involved when you're in tick-infested areas."

Since 1990 in Kentucky, an average of 17 Rocky Mountain spotted fever cases and 27 Lyme disease cases were reported yearly. So far in 1994, five Lyme disease and no Rocky Mountain spotted fever cases have been reported.

Palmer recommends the following precautions to avoid tick exposure.

*Wear a long-sleeved shirt tucked into pants; tuck pant legs into socks or boots; tape area where pants and socks meet to keep ticks out;

*Wear light-colored clothing so ticks can easily be seen;

*Spray insect repellent listing "permethrin" as the active ingredient on pants, socks, and shoes but not on the skin. Repellents listing "DEET" as the active ingredient may be sprayed on the skin.

*Avoid walking in the brush and tall grass;

*Keep pets away from infested areas, and check for ticks on pets and remove them.

After being outside:

*Promptly remove and wash clothing;

*Inspect your body carefully and remove attached ticks with tweezers, grasping as close to the head as possible and gently tugging the tick free without crushing the body. If tweezers are not available, cover the fingers with a tissue;

*Wash hands and the area of the bite immediately with soap and water, and keep the bite area clean; Instead, flush it down a toilet or save it in a tightly closed vial for later identification.

"Anyone who has been bitten by a tick should watch closely for the symptoms of these diseases," he said. "Since early treatment is the key for complete recovery, people who even suspect they might have some of the symptoms should consult a physician at once."

Palmer says that since some of the symptoms of these two tick-transmitted diseases can resemble other problems, people should tell their doctor about any recent tick bites.

Rocky Mountain spotted fever—Symptoms are a fever and possibly chills, headache and muscle aches three to 10 days after a tick bite. In about half of the cases, a rash appears one to three days after the fever. Usually, it starts on the wrists and ankles and then spreads to the rest of the body, thus the term "spotted fever."

The severity ranges from mild to fatal. The disease can be treated effectively with antibiotics, but early diagnosis and treatment are critical. In the absence of appropriate treatment, 15 to 20 percent of people with the disease die.

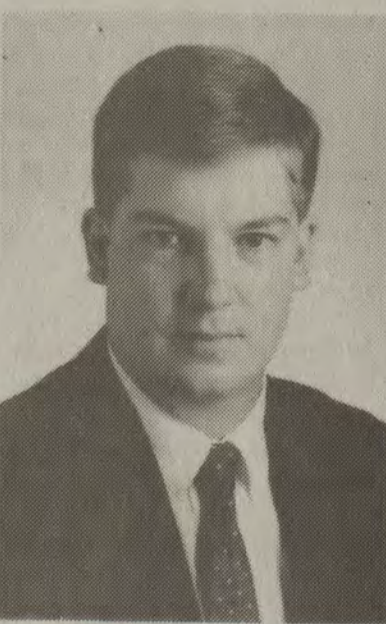

Lyme disease—The first stage begins three to 32 days after a tick bite. Flu-like symptoms are present—fatigue, chills and fever, headache, muscle and joint pain or swollen lymph nodes.

Another sign of Lyme disease is a peculiar circular skin rash that appears where the tick bite occurred and then expands. The patch can vary in shape and appears most often on the thigh, groin, trunk, armpits and, in children, on the face. The center may clear as the patch enlarges, giving a ring-like appearance. It may be warm but usually not painful.

If not treated, Lyme disease can cause arthritis and affect the nervous system, including numbness, pain, stiff neck and severe headache or muscle weakness of the face or limbs. Heart irregularities may occur.

Lyme disease also is treated with antibiotics. Early treatment usually brings about a rapid recovery; delayed treatment can leave patients with recurring symptoms or permanent damage.

Todd Nairn is awarded UK medical degree

Todd Harris Nairn

Todd Harris Nairn was awarded a Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Kentucky College of Medicine at commencement ceremonies held Saturday, May 14, at UK's Singletary Center for the Arts.

Dr. Emery Wilson, dean of the College of Medicine, presented members of the class with their degrees and doctoral hoods. The class received greetings from Dr. Peter P. Bosomworth, retiring chancellor, UK Chandler Medical Center.

Following commencement, a reception for the new doctors and their families was held in the foyer of the Singletary Center.

"The Last Full Measure Of Devotion"

Perhaps Abraham Lincoln said it best: "These honored dead gave the last full measure of devotion."

On this Memorial Day, we pay tribute to the brave men and women who have given their lives in the wars our nation has fought to defend ourselves and others from oppression.

As we pause to remember on this special day, we pray that God's comforting hand will touch those who have died for our country. And we say a special prayer for the families who are still unsure of the fates of their loved ones...those Americans missing in action in Viet Nam.

Tufts bringing message to Floyd Countians

Look out world, here he comes! Armed with a quick wit, lots of energy and a positive message, Tom Tufts Jr. is connecting with America's teens. Addressing such critical topics as self-esteem, substance abuse, sexuality and relationships, Tufts is challenging the thoughts, convictions, attitudes and behaviors of high school students. The fifty minute, fast paced assemblies take young people on a roller coaster of emotions from laughter to tears. His goal: to make them think.

A former PGA Golf Professional, Tufts left the high profile, rat race of county club life to spend his time making a difference in the lives of others. Having tasted the rewards of success as a club professional and respected instructor, Tufts found the life of luxury unsatisfying and leaving him empty.

Since 1987, he has traveled throughout the United States and Canada speaking to literally hundreds of thousands of teens, parents and educators each year.

"I believe in the young people of America and I am convinced that they can make good decisions when they are presented the truth in a straight forward manner. Based on that belief, I am confident of their abilities to change the course of our country in the future. I want to share with them a positive, encouraging message that enables them to find hope, happiness and the keys to a successful future. I love my job! I have the privilege of assisting others in making the world a better place for all of us!"

Tufts brings his lively life changing presentations to Prestonsburg, KY on Thursday, May 26, 1994. He will be representing his acclaimed program, "Building Forever Families" for all parents and children ten years of age and older. Admission is free and the public is invited to attend.

These programs are sponsored by Floyd County Board of Education and Title V-Drug Free Schools and Communities.

Schedule for May 26, Duff Elementary, 8:45 a.m., Allen Central High School, 10:00 a.m.; Adams Middle School, 1:00 p.m. If you have questions please call Lola Brashear at (606) 886-2354.

New treatment offers hope for bee sting allergies

For most people, a bee sting is a minor nuisance, but if you're insect sting-allergic, your next encounter could be deadly. Medical studies show that once a person has had an allergic reaction, there is a 60% chance that their next reaction could be worse.

Symptoms of an allergic reaction:

- Dizziness and/or nausea
- Difficulty in breathing and/or swelling of the throat
- Hives and/or swelling away from the sting site
- Unconsciousness or cardiac arrest

If you've experienced any of these symptoms following an insect sting, there is hope. A new treatment called "immunotherapy-sting allergy vaccine" provides complete protection from future allergic reactions, and is currently available through your local allergist.

For a free brochure on insect sting allergy, and the name of an allergist in your area, call 1-800-23-STING.

Doctor's Note: A non-allergic or local reaction to an insect sting results in swelling, itching, and redness at the sting site. Sometimes the swelling becomes quite large (a sting on the elbow can cause an entire arm to swell to twice its normal size!). This "large local" reaction is often confused with an allergic reaction, but is a non-threatening condition usually treated with ice and antihistamines. Both local and large local reactions rarely require medical treatment by a physician.

Shedd Academy is now accepting applications for students who have dyslexia, learning disabilities and attention deficit disorders for its 1994 Summer School.

The Shedd Academy Summer School, a non-profit program, provides intensive academic, emotional and self-esteem training during its six week summer school beginning June 13, 1994.

All students will be provided 3 reading classes a day taught on an individual, 1-1, basis, plus two math classes will be taught on 1-1 or 2-1 basis.

Other classes include social skills training, listening skills and computer literacy and emphasize a small group instruction of approximately 4 to 7 students.

Academic credit may be available for high school students. Residential boarding arrangements are available for those who live too far to commute daily.

Students, ages 6 to 18, are accepted; although adults and college students are also welcome to attend. If you suspect your child may have a learning problem the Academy offers a screening clinic to provide testing.

For an informational packet, please contact: Miss Debbie Taylor, Admission's Office, Shedd Academy, 346 Central Ave., P.O. Box 493, Mayfield, KY 42066, or call 502-247-8007. Applications accepted on a first-come-first served basis.

In Memory Of Virgil Handshoe

Daddy just a year ago today, since you were called away. It broke our heart to see you go, but you're at rest with God. I know.

Your work down here on earth is through, but daddy it's so hard to go on without you. The family circle has been broken again, but daddy, our love for you we hold deep within.

You left a loving wife and ten children behind, but the memory of you daddy can't be erased with time.

It's so hard to go through life now that you're gone, we're so lonesome without you and feel so alone.

We share our love with each other as we do our part, but it can't fill the emptiness for you daddy, in our hearts.

There's a day soon coming we'll meet again, there we'll be reunited with family and friends.

There we'll live forever where time never ends, what a day of rejoicing when we see you again.

Sadly missed by wife, children, family, and friends.

Project with a message

The McDowell Family Resource Center held a special project for Child Abuse Awareness in April. The McDowell Pic Pac donated 400 paper bags to be designed by the McDowell Elementary Art classes in support of Child Abuse Prevention. These bags were then given back to McDowell Pic Pac to be distributed among their customers when their groceries were packed. Pictured are: (left-right) Clara Johnson, director of McDowell Family Resource Center, and Freddie Tuttle, store manager at McDowell Pic Pac. Art teacher at McDowell Elementary is Khrys Varney.

Seventh-day Adventists Believe...

God the eternal Spirit was active with the Father and the Son in Creation, incarnation, and redemption. He inspired the writers of Scripture. He filled Christ's life with power. He draws and transforms into the image of God. Sent by the Father and the Son to be always with His children, He extends spiritual gifts to the church, empowers it to bear witness to Christ, and in harmony with the Scriptures leads it into all truth.—Fundamental Beliefs, 5.

Wins 100, 200 and 400-meter dash...

Winner of three regional events!

Betsy Layne's Nikki Reid just keeps running and running as she won three events at last weekend's regional track meet at Breathitt County. The fleet-footed sprinter won the 100-, 200- and 400-meter dash and will advance to the state meet in Lexington Friday morning for the preliminaries. Reid is considered the region's top female sprinter and is expected to do well in the state meet. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Reid wins three events at Breathitt County; makes third trip to state

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

She's a sprinter!
Not a distance runner, but a sprinter.

Betsy Layne's Nikki Reid is no doubt the top female regional runner and we will find out this weekend if she is one of the state's top sprinters.

Reid runs for Betsy Layne in the 100-, 200- and 400-meter dashes.

The speedster was untouchable at Breathitt County this past weekend as she raced to three first place finishes and three berths in this week's state meet in Lexington.

Reid won the 100-meter dash, captured the 200-meter run and nosed out Allen Central's Kristel Floyd in the 400-meter run.

The hard running sprinter is in her third year of competition and will be making her third consecutive trip to the big show.

Reid will run in the preliminaries on Friday beginning at 9:30 a.m. when the women's 100-meter dash is scheduled. She will not have a lot of time between events with the 400-meter run to start at 10:35. The Betsy Layne runner will then compete in her final event, the 200-meter dash, at 11:15.

She will then move into the final meet on Saturday in whatever event(s) she qualifies for. The finals are scheduled for Saturday morning.

Harvey leads Allen Central Lady Rebels to regional title

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Last year, the Allen Central girls' track and field program placed second in the Class A regional.

This year the school was moved to the 2A level and Allen Central placed first winning the Regional 2A championship at Breathitt County this past weekend.

The preliminaries were held on Thursday and the finals were conducted on Saturday.

The weather was great under clear skies and warm temperatures this past Saturday as Annie Harvey, just a freshman, was the dominating figure for Allen Central.

Harvey took first place in the half-mile, mile and placed second in the two-mile. She qualified in all three events for the state meet this Friday and Saturday in Lexington.

The freshman runner had a time of 2:37.33 in the 800-meter run to set a new school record. In the 1600-meter run, she posted a 6:12.53. After establishing a wide lead over her nearest opponent, Harvey was instructed to back off in her effort to conserve energy for the half-mile run.

"A win is a win and we didn't want her to tire out," said her coach Dewey Jamerson. "We wanted to conserve her energy."

Harvey took the lead out of the blocks and coasted to the win.

In the two-mile race (3200 meters) Harvey had a time of 13:55.15 for second place. The time was the young runner's personal best as she continued to improve with each meet.

Another young runner that is making a mark at the meets is eighth-grader Crystal Martin. Martin placed second in the 1600 meters and will travel to Lexington this weekend. Martin had a time of 6:19.70 for a personal best.

She finished a close third in the 800-meter run with her time of 2:48.89, another personal best.

Krystal Floyd will be in Lexington for the state meet after finishing second in the 400-meter dash. Floyd finished behind Betsy Layne's Nikki Reid. Floyd had a time of 1:05.17, her personal best.

Floyd had finished first in the preliminaries of the 400-meter run on Thursday.

Elisha Ousley placed third in the event and ran her personal best also.

The Allen Central 1600-meter relay team took home first place and earned a berth in the state meet.

The foursome of Floyd, Dreama Isaac, Martin and Ousley posted a time of 4:39.4 for their fastest time ever.

The 800-meter relay team did not take the top spot, but with its second place finish it will be in this week's state meet.

Nicole Clark, Floyd, Isaac and Ousley finished with a time of 2:05.1 for second place.

In the field events, only one participant qualified for the state meet as Nicole Clark placed second in the long jump finals with a leap of 14 feet 4 inches. Ousley did not place with her jump of 12 feet 4 inches.

After taking second place in the preliminary stage of the 100-meter hurdles, Lisa Stumbo placed fifth overall in Saturday's finals and missed a shot at a state berth. Stumbo set a new school record Thursday with a time of 18.59. Pam Goble placed fourth in the preliminaries with a time of 21.17.

Jessica Stone took second place in the 100-meter dash on Thursday but had to settle for a sixth place finish

South Floyd girls capture regional track and field meet

Compton, Tackett go first, second in discus

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

"I feel good," was the way South Floyd girls' track and field coach Keith Smallwood summed up his feelings after his team won the girls' track and field regionals at Russell this past weekend.

South Floyd scored 150 points to out distance second place Raceland, who had 106 points. Pikeville placed third, Ashland Fairview fourth, Paintsville fifth and Riverside Christian sixth.

Tiffany Compton will be making the trip to Lexington for this weekend's state track and field meet at Kentucky's Shively Field. Compton took first place in the women's shot put and discus.

Lori Tackett, who all season has been the top thrower for South Floyd in discus, finished second in the event, but still qualified for the state meet this weekend.

Compton had a throw of 30 feet 2 inches to take the top spot in the shot put. Misty Shepherd placed third with a throw of 24 feet 10 inches.

Compton had the top throw of 88 feet 9 inches in winning the discus. Tackett, who had just finished running the 100-meter dash, had her longest throw of 86 feet.

Some confusion took place when Tackett made her first throw. The discus landed at 92 feet, but a lack of communication between the staff caused the toss to be nullified.

Carrie Miller will represent South Floyd at the state meet in the long jump. Miller placed second in the event with a jump of 14 feet and a quarter inch. Jeneane Fields placed third at 13 feet 8 inches.

Susan Stephens cleared the high jump bar at 4 feet 4 inches for fourth place. Crystal Isaac was measured at 4 feet 2 inches for a fifth place finish.

In the women's mile run (1600-meters), Isaac will travel to the state meet after finishing second. Tonda Floyd took third place.

Margret Morgan qualified for the state meet in the grueling 3200-meter run. Morgan, a sixth grade student, had a time of 22:00. Sarah Boyd finished third.

South Floyd had two relay teams that will be in the state meet. Cassie Hall, Jada Hall, Jane Hall and Fields

Newsome blanks Belfry on five hits

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Betsy Layne starter Shannon Newsome was in complete control of his pitches, and the game as he blanked the Belfry Pirates 10-0 on five hits in the first round of the 15th Region baseball tournament at Pikeville Monday night.

Newsome was in control to the point that he had thrown only 14 pitches through the first three innings. He retired Belfry on five pitches in the first, six in the second and three in the third. He hit a batter in the second inning before getting Jeff Adkins to line hard to Chris Potter at short.

Newsome, while not fanning many batters, walked one and that came in the sixth inning when Peyton Roberts led off with the walk.

Betsy Layne exploded for seven runs in the fourth inning with Brandon Castle's base hit opening the inning. Newsome struck out, but the ball was missed by catcher Brent Lee for an error. After Barry Clark fanned, Greg Hunter walked and Scott Ousley lined a base hit to right field for two runs.

Willie Meade's fly ball to right center dropped for a base hit and Keith Hamilton hit a liner to center field to score two runs. The inning continued for Derrick "Squeeze Box" Newsome as he laid down a perfect suicide squeeze for a RBI. Chris Potter singled home a run when his pop to short right was not playable.

Peyton Roberts came on in relief of starter Jeff Adkins and struck out Castle and Shannon Newsome to end the inning.

Belfry got back-to-back singles from Adkins and Phillip Fitch to open the fifth. But Newsome bowed his neck and retired the next three on a pop to short, a fly ball to left and a fly ball to right.

Betsy Layne added a run in the fifth and two in the seventh. Greg Hunter scored after he walked, moved to second on a passed ball and to third on Meade's sacrifice fly to right. He scored when Peyton tried to pick off Ousley, who walked, at first base. Roberts over threw first base and

Allen Central boys take second in regional meet at Breathitt County

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It has been a good year for Allen Central's boys' track and field team as it placed second in the Class 2A regionals at Breathitt County last Saturday.

Three individuals and one relay team will travel to Lexington this weekend for the Kentucky State Track and Field Meet at UK's Shively Field.

The lack of numbers coming out of Thursday's preliminaries hurt the Rebels in the finals Saturday.

"We just didn't have the numbers in some events. Running short in those events hurt us," said Coach Dewey Jamerson.

But the real damage to the overall scoring for Allen Central came in the men's 300 hurdles when Nick Halbert took a bad spill and caused teammate Estill Stumbo to pull up and lose ground.

Halbert was running in the number one lane when he tripped up on the hurdle in the first turn. Halbert was leading the pack when the accident took place with a solid shot at winning the event.

Stumbo, who has been strong in the hurdles all season, pulled and stopped after seeing what happen to Halbert.

The two Leslie County (winners of the regional) runners finished one and two to score 18 points in the event. Allen Central lost the meet by 30 points.

But still it was an improved finish in a higher class for the Rebels who placed fourth overall last year in the Class A Regionals.

Shawn Robinson took home first place in the men's discus with his throw of 127 feet 1 inch.

Teammate Levi Wells was running in second place with a throw of 118 feet until the final round. Wells finished third overall.

Kevin Stumbo set a school record in the pole vault as he cleared the bar at 10 feet to finish second. Estill Stumbo took fifth place with a clearance of 8 feet.

Josh Patton will run in his second straight state meet after taking second place in the 1600-meter run. Patton set a new school record of 4:55.31. It was the first time ever for Patton under five minutes. Shawn Amburgey ran a 5:15.50 for fourth place.

It was a dramatic moment for Stumbo when he crossed the finish line in the 800-meter run.

will make the foursome for the 400-meter relays as they took second at Russell. The time of 55.31 was a season best for the four runners.

Tara Newman, Isaac, Jenny Meade and Jane Hall won the women's 1600-meter relays with a time of 4:53.85, a season best.

Fields will be a participant in the women's 300 hurdles at the state meet after winning the regional with a time of 50.75. Misty McCray, a seventh-grader, was running close until she took a tumble over a hurdle. She finished fourth in the event.

Fields placed fifth in the 100 hurdles and Jane Hall took sixth place.

In the women's 800 relays, South Floyd placed third with a time of 2:01. The foursome included Holbrook, Tackett, Jada Hall and Meade.

Jada Hall and Tackett finished three and four in the women's 100-meter dash. Hall finished with a time of 13.08 and Tackett was close with 13.09.

Tackett finished fourth in the 200-meter run. Jada Hall placed fifth.

In the women's 400-meter dash, Stephens ran in fourth place and Tara Newman placed sixth.

Isaac had a third place finish in the 800-meter dash. Floyd was running a strong race and had a shot at first place until she passed out after an asthma attack.

"It was scary at first," said Smallwood. "But she is going to be all right."

South Floyd is undefeated in meets this season and Coach Smallwood is pleased with his team's effort.

"Yes, we're going to the state as an undefeated team," he said. "I am extremely proud of what this team has accomplished this season. They have exceeded my expectations of them. I knew they were going to be a strong team but never this."

Coach Smallwood said that with only three seniors on the team, next year's team should make an even better showing.

"Out of the 150 points that we scored, 34 were scored by our three seniors. The juniors scored 23, the sophomores 26. But our freshmen scored 40 and our eighth graders 25."

"When I look at that, I can only see us getting better. I honestly think that next year we will be a more dominating team."

The regional meet brought several South Floyd fans to Russell in support of the team.

"We had the biggest support crowd down there," said Smallwood. "When you are in the backdoor of Raceland and Fairview and you have the most fans there, that is something."

South Floyd held a 18 point lead over the rest of the competition after the first day of preliminary meets (Friday).

"We just pulled away and never let up," said Coach Smallwood.

The South Floyd coach said that his team ran on desire and heart after some suffered injuries and experienced some illness.

"This is a great bunch," he said. "They have a lot of heart."

South Floyd will be in Lexington this Friday for the preliminaries beginning at 12:30 p.m.

King fans 11, Bentley homers in Orioles' win

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Nick King and Willie Bentley combined to lead the Duff Orioles to a 8-4 win over the Martin Cardinals in the Beaver Creek Little League Wednesday night.

King struck out 11 batters while Bentley drilled a two-run home run in the third inning when the Orioles scored four times to take a 5-3 lead.

Duff led 1-0 in the first inning on a one-out walk to James Elkins, who stole second and scored on King's double.

The Cardinals tied the game in the bottom of the inning when Heath Scott, who walked, stole second and third before scoring on an error.

It was 3-2 Cardinals after the second inning as Davis singled and moved all the way to third on two passed balls. He scored on a passed ball with Watkins, who walked, going to third. Watkins scored on Yates base hit.

The Orioles took the lead for good with their four-run third. Wesley Hyden walked, and James Elkins was hit by a pitch.

After Ellis struck out, King doubled and Bentley hit his two-run home run.

The Cardinals added their final run in the bottom of the third.

King had three hits for the Orioles. Josh Shepherd had two hits in the win. King and Bentley had three RBIs.

Saturday behind winner Reid.

The 400-meter relay team took fourth place overall and ran the race finishing under five minutes for the first time ever. Despite the improvement, the squad's fourth place finish did not qualify them for the state meet.

The foursome included Clark, Goble, Isaac and Slone.

Stumbo placed fourth in the 300 hurdles in Thursday's preliminaries with a time of 54.96.

In the 200-meter dash, Clark placed second with a time of 31.16. Jessica Slone took third place at 33.45.

Heather Conley took part in the women's high jump, but did not place. Melissa Mullins took sixth place in the women's shot put. Jenny Wells did not place in the event.

The finish of this year's team was no surprise to Coach Jamerson.

"We knew we had a good chance of winning with this team," he said. "I knew it would be easier for the girls than the boys."

"We had beaten everyone but Leslie County and they beat us in the Clay County meet. We felt that if we could stay close after the first day we would be all right once we got into the distance events."

Allen Central held a two point lead after the preliminary events on Thursday and dominated the events on Saturday.

"I knew that once we got into the distance events that we would do something. From the 400 to the 1600 we started to move, and went one and two, then two and three."

"It was a good day (weather wise) for the sprinters and not so good for the distance runners with it being so hot."

Allen Central will get an early start Friday morning when it is scheduled for its first event at 8:30 a.m. at UK's Shively Field.

52nd District Champions

Lady Cats 52nd District champs

Coach Cassandra Keathley told her team, the Betsy Layne Lady Cats, how proud she was of them and rightfully so. The Lady Cats had just won their first district softball championship and advanced on to regional play after a 10-5 win over a very good Allen Central team.

The Lady Cats captured the 52nd District title to earn a berth in this week's regional tournament at Russell.

Misty Clark and Ashley Tackett led the offense for the Lady Cats and Heather Keathley picked up the win from the mound.

Track and field competition took two Allen Central players out of the lineup for Coach Anthony Moore's team. Melissa Mullins and Lisa Stumbo were missing from action.

Betsy Layne scored three times in the third inning to open what was a close game through the first two innings. The Lady Cats plated two in the seventh to give them a five run cushion.

In the Lady Cats' third, Clark started the rally with a one out base hit. Kristy Osborne reached on an error and Tackett singled home Clark. Osborne, moving to third base on Tackett's hit, scored when Jessica Johnson grounded to first. Dawn Watson scored Tackett with a base hit after Lora Boyd walked. Boyd was caught in a rundown for the final out.

Betsy Layne had taken a 2-0 lead with two runs in its half of the first. Ashley Bentley, who played a very strong defensive game, singled with one out and scored an unearned run on an error at second base.

The error occurred when Shanna Clark grounded to second and the play was made on Bartley at second. The error allowed Bartley to score. Clark scored on a fielder's choice off the bat of Osborne.

Allen Central made it 2-1 with a lone first inning run. Kathy Conn, who walked, scored on Nikki Queen's RBI single. Conn continued her hot hitting with three hits in three appearances at the plate.

A double by Johnson, Lora Boyd's single and a run producing base hit by Melissa Hamilton made it a 4-1 game in favor of the Lady Cats.

Allen Central stayed close with two in the bottom of the second for a 4-3 score. Karen Wallen reached on a one out error and, after Valenda Turner fanned, Letisha Yates was safe on an error at third base. Both runners scored on Jennifer Mullins' two-run double.

Betsy Layne scored two in the seventh on a double by Shanna Clark and Misty Clark's base hit. Misty Clark scored on an error.

Misty Clark had three hits for the Lady Cats. Tackett picked up two hits and also had two runs batted in.

Conn's three hits led Allen Central. Queen collected two hits.

Keathley made a great sliding catch of a pop up to shine defensively for the Lady Cats. Jessica Johnson made a diving catch of a line drive in left field.

very good defensive outing.

Betsy Layne improved to 26-7 on the year. Allen Central dropped to 12-10.

Shanna Clark's bat leads Betsy Layne over Pike Central, 14-8

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Betsy Layne first baseman Shanna Clark may not have had a strong district tournament with the bat, but she is trying to make amends in the girls' regional softball tournament in Russell this week.

Monday night Clark collected three hits — two doubles and a home run while driving in six runs — to lead the Lady Cats over Pike Central 14-8 in a first round game.

Clark drilled a three run home run in the fifth inning while getting a two-run double in the second and a run scoring double in the fourth.

Heather Keathley picked up the win, but also contributed offensively. Keathley was perfect at the plate with three hits and got the Lady Cats scoring under way with a first inning lead off home run.

Misty Clark and Jessica Johnson each had two hits for coach Cassandra Keathley's ballclub.

Pike Central looked serious in the first inning as they plated five runs to jump out to a 5-0 lead. Varney and Misty Haynes had consecutive singles and Claudette Gillespie scored both runners with a long triple. Three straight errors by Betsy Layne allowed three unearned runs to come home.

Keathley's home run made it 5-1 after one inning. Betsy Layne went in front 6-5 with five in the second as it sent nine batters to the plate. Johnson and Tara Boyd singled and Keathley singled with one out to score Johnson. Boyd and Keathley scored on Clark's first double. Misty Clark scored Clark with a base hit to give Betsy Layne the lead.

Pike Central went back in front 8-7 with three runs in the top of the fourth inning. Miller, who singled, and Justice scored on Powers' two run double. Powers scored on a ground out to give the Lady Hawks the lead.

Betsy Layne took the lead for good with four in its half of the fourth on a double by Shanna Clark and Christy Osborne's RBI single.

Clark then blasted the three-run home run in the fifth to put the game away.

Meade had two hits for Pike Central, who collected seven for the game.

Shanna Clark is batting .505 for the season and leads the Lady Cats in hitting. Misty Clark is hitting .452.

The Lady Cats improved to 28-7 on the season.

Betsy Layne will face East Carter in a second round game this afternoon at 4:30 p.m.

Robertson takes two first places; Collins advances to state meet

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Randall Hager's Prestonsburg track and field team got a shot in the arm as two members of its squad will advance on to the Kentucky State Track and Field meet in Lexington this weekend.

Christy Collins will be the lone female competitor while Stewart Robertson will participate in three state events.

Collins cleared the high jump bar at 4 feet 8 inches to take second place in the women's high jump.

The second place finish allows her to advance on to Lexington. Collins placed fifth overall in the women's 300-meter hurdles with a time of 56.8.

Robertson took first and second in the distance races. He placed first in the 3200-meter run with a time of 10:55. It was another first place finish in the mile at 4:49 and he ran a 2:09 to finish second in the 800 meters.

Robertson has been consistently one of, if not the top, distance runners in the region as well as the state.

Robertson was part of the Prestonsburg 3200-meter relay team that took third place. The four-some of Nathan Hardee, Jon Morris, Robertson and Josh Setser finished with a time of 9:24.

Hardee placed sixth overall in the men's 1600-meter run. Waylon Bevins ran fifth in the 300 hurdles and also placed sixth in the 110 hurdles.

Shively Field at the University of Kentucky will be the site of the state meet. Collins and Robertson will each compete in the preliminaries on Friday. The Class 2A events start at 8:30 a.m. on Friday. Finals are Saturday.

Hunter trotted home.

Barry Clark collected his second double of the game leading off the seventh. After Ousley singled with one out, Clark moved to third base. Peyton tried to throw to first to get Ousley and alert base running and excellent coaching by coach Junior Newsome got Clark home on the attempt. Ousley scored on Derrick Newsome's sacrifice fly to center.

Clark doubled in the second inning for the first Betsy Layne hit. The ball landed at the base of the left center field fence. He was left stranded.

Adkins suffered the loss for Bel-fry, working the first three and a third innings. He allowed seven runs on seven hits, striking out five and walking two.

Roberts went the final three and two-thirds, giving up three runs on two hits. Roberts fanned four and walked four.

Betsy Layne (22-12) will face Sheldon Clark (9-16) tonight in the semifinals. Game time is 5:30 p.m.

A repeat for Robinson!

Wes Howard blanks HAP on six hits, 6-0

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Wes Howard of the Garrett Babe Ruth 13-year-olds hooked up with Daniel Lafferty in a pitchers duel that was closer than the final score would indicate.

Howard shutout the Harold-Allen-Prater 13-year olds on six hits in getting the shutout. But Lafferty was impressive himself as he allowed Garrett only four hits.

Garrett scored twice in the first inning, getting just one hit. A walk to Nick Samons and Brian Crawford set up Howard's two out base hit. Lafferty struck out the side in the inning but not before two runs scored.

HAP mounted an attack in the second when it got three hits, but it couldn't turn them into runs. Dusty Stevens singled, but was cut down at second base trying to stretch it to a double. Ryan Manns gunned him down from the outfield.

John Patton roped a base hit and moved to third on Adam Tackett's base hit. But the runners were left stranded when Howard got Kenneth Johnson to pop to second and struck out Jessie Hall.

Garrett made it 3-0 with a lone run in the second. Shawn Henson singled and scored on Mann's RBI single.

Two runs scored in the Garrett fourth as Samons led off with a walk, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. He scored on an error at third base off the bat of Crawford. Crawford scored the second run on a wild pitch.

Samons scored his third run of the game in the Garrett sixth when he walked, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball.

HAP threatened in the seventh with Patton and Tackett getting back-to-back base hits. Patton was cut down at the plate on a throw from first. Tackett was left stranded when Johnson popped out and Hall grounded to third to end the game.

Howard, in picking up the win, had five strike outs. He walked one batter. Lafferty, working the first four innings, fanned 10 in suffering the loss. He walked four in allowing four hits and his team committed one error behind him.

Johnson pitched two innings, allowing one run on no hits. He fanned five and walked one.

Ryan Owens, Howard, Henson and Manns had the only hits off Lafferty. Patton and Johnson each had two hits for HAP.

Martin Pee Wee Tigers win three

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Martin Pee Wee Tigers got the 1994 season off on a successful note as they won their first three games in a fashionable way.

The Tigers posted a 14-6 win over the Martin Colonels in their opening game and beat the Martin Padres 25-11 in game two. In game three, the Tigers posted a 12-7 win over the Martin Angels.

Joseph Ratliff and Alex Patton tripled in the first inning of the game versus the Colonels when the Tigers scored four times to take a 4-0 lead. Terri Mullins had a leadoff double with Shannon Sizemore, David Kilburn and Heather Castle getting base hits.

The Colonels got their first run in the second inning for a 4-1 score. A one out base hit by Ryan Collins started the inning and he scored on Tiffany Owens RBI double. Eric Collins also had a hit in the inning.

Seven runs crossed the plate for the Tigers in the second with Mullins, Ratliff, Sizemore and Castle getting doubles. Two runs scored on Mullins two-bagger.

The Colonels plated four in their half of the fourth on six base hits. Justin Newsome doubled to start the fourth and scored on Ryan Collins' base hit. Lindsey Anderson, Owens, Justin Ward and Anthony Price had singles.

The Tigers scored their final runs in the same inning when they pushed across three. Jordan Camp and Eric Sturgill had RBI singles.

Jeremy Snepnerd doubled home a run in the fifth for the Colonels. Newsome, Nick Music and Collins had hits in the frame.

In game two, the Tigers scored in every inning in taking the 25-11 game. Patton had two home runs in a four hit game. He homered in the third and again in the fifth. Mullins collected five hits with a first inning triple and three doubles.

Dee Mullins had a triple, double and two singles while Sizemore doubled twice and tripled in the third for a four hit night.

Brittany Napier collected two hits for the Martin Padres. Nikki Hackworth had two hits.

Andrew Greer had two doubles and two singles for the winning Tigers. Heather Castle had three hits.

Daniel Martin had two hits for the Padres.

Against the Angels, the Tigers scored seven times in the second inning to open the game up.

Mullins, Sizemore and Kilburn collected three for the Tigers.

The Tigers will face the Martin Rangers this Saturday at 1 p.m.

Slone, Rogers advance to state meet

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

South Floyd's boys' track and field coach Donnie Daniels was pleased with the performance of his team at last weekend's regional meet at Russell.

"I told Coach (Keith) Smallwood that if we scored 50 points, I would be happy," said Coach Daniels.

Well, his team totaled 58 points with two heading to the state meet this weekend in Lexington.

Kevin Slone, in one of his stronger events, placed first and will take part in the triple jump at UK's Shively Field, the site of the Kentucky State Meet.

Slone was measured at 37 feet 10 inches for first place in the triple jump.

Bo Rogers will be the second South Floyd field contestant to move on to Lexington. Rogers placed second in the shot put with a toss of 41 feet 10 inches. Billy Little had a toss of 27 feet 6 inches, but did not place.

He missed going to the state in discus by three inches as he had a throw of 109 feet 1 inch. The winning throw was 109 feet 3 inches.

It was the only throw of Rogers that was recorded as he scratched on the previous ones. Shannon Hall also threw in the shot, but did not place.

Slone took third place in the high jump clearing the bar at 5 feet 6 inches.

Bear Stephens placed sixth overall in the long jump with a jump of 17 feet 4 inches.

In the track events, Marty Johnson came in third in the 3200-meter run. Johnson had a time of 12:41.21. Johnson placed third overall in the 1600 meters with a time of 5:31.99. Brandon Stumbo took sixth at 6:23.79.

Justin Ray placed fourth in the men's 200-meter run. Ray had to miss some of the past meets and felt that he was out of shape. He had a time of 25.23.

Ray finished fifth overall in the 400-meter dash with a time of 59.16.

ran the 800-meter run.

South Floyd's 1600-meter relay team finished fourth when Russo, Johnson, Chris Isaac and Bear Stephens ran a 4:20.88.

The 400-meter relay team ran in fifth place at 59:28. The foursome consisted of Landon Frazier, Clinton Cook, Steve Hamilton and Shannon Stumbo.

The same four made up the 3200-meter relay team and they took home fourth place at 12:19.81, cutting a minute off their previous time.

"I'll be working with Kevin and Bo this week getting ready for the state meet," said Coach Daniels. "I'm happy with the way we did."

Phillies edge Braves with three in the fifth inning

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Harold-Allen-Prater Phillies scored three times in the fifth inning to post a 4-3 come-from-behind win over the Betsy Layne Braves in the Floyd County Babe Ruth League this past weekend.

The Phillies trailed 3-1 entering the fifth when Chad Case singled with one out. Craig Johnson, who started for the Braves, hit Brad Kidd with a pitch before walking Shannon Potter to load the bases.

Case came on to score on Craig Hamilton's ground ball to first. Kidd scored on a passed ball and Potter came home on a wild pitch.

The Phillies took a 1-0 first inning lead when Case tripled and scored on a wild pitch. The Braves came back in their half of the first to tie the game at one with Johnson scoring.

Betsy Layne led 2-1 after three with a run in the third. Johnson scored after he doubled to left. The Braves made it 3-1 with a lone fourth inning run.

Johnson suffered the loss for Betsy Layne while Case picked up the win.

Case had five strike outs in the game and he fanned the side in the second inning. He allowed the Braves three runs while scattering four hits. He had two hits in the game for the Phillies.

Johnson worked a complete game, allowing four runs on four hits. He struck out nine and did not walk a batter.

DON'T ADOPT WILDLIFE

Spring is a wonderful time to be outdoors. Nature once again comes alive with buds and blooms, and all kinds of wildlife begin producing young to sustain their existence.

During the months of May and June especially, when people begin engaging in more outdoor activities, they often encounter young wildlife. Sometimes these encounters lead to capturing wildlife for pets. And in a vast majority of cases, taking in, adopting, or capturing young wildlife eventually spells trouble. Why? Because you can't take the wild out of wildlife. Wild animals are exactly that. Wild. Their instincts and behaviors aren't adapted to a domesticated environment.

At first, providing food, water and shelter for a newborn raccoon, for example, is fun. It's a new experience and entertaining. Soon, however, the newness wears off and caring for the animal becomes a big burden. Continually having to feed the raccoon, clean up after the animal and watch the kids around the animal gets old quick. In a few weeks, the newborn raccoon isn't a newborn anymore. As it gets bigger it becomes more active and sometimes destructive. And that's about when the new wildlife pet owner starts looking for a way to unload that pet. Usually by then, though, the animal has become dependent on its owner, and, if released, would have a hard time surviving because it hasn't been taught how to fend for itself. All of the sudden, a seemingly harmless thing has resulted in an animal which would have likely been fine if left alone, but now is going to have a very tough time. So we need to think ahead first instead of acting on impulse.

Some of the most common situations involving humans attempting to adopt a wild animal or bird are when people observe a young animal by itself, assume it needs help, and then take it home to care for it. Most of the time, the parent(s) are nearby and the newborn is in no danger. The parent may be out collecting food, resting, or simply hiding. Almost all wildlife have an instinctive fear of humans, and will avoid getting too close if at all possible.

The best thing to do when finding what appears to be abandoned or orphaned wildlife is to leave it alone. It's hard to do, but it's the best thing to do, especially when the animal looks alert and healthy, has a shiny coat and/or tries to defend itself. These are signs that the parents are still around, and there is no reason to remove that animal from the wild. Humans simply can't care for young wildlife as well as its parents can.

Before taking any wild animal or bird from the wild, you should make sure the young animal's parents have indeed perished. You should also be aware that caring for young wildlife takes a tremendous amount of work and time. Wild animals are not like dogs and cats. They must have constant attention. Keeping wildlife as a pet also requires a permit from the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Maybe you've noticed an adult robin feeding its young. Feeding goes on nonstop for days and days. Wild animals also learn how to survive from their parents, how to find food, what to be afraid of and how to interact with others of their kind. Taking the young from their natural environment interrupts the learning and developing process, and it leaves the animal less than adequately equipped to make it on its own later.

Wildlife is beautiful and entertaining to watch, learn from and interact with, but if we really care about wildlife itself, we should follow sound wildlife practices. Making pets of wildlife is rarely a sound practice.

If you do happen to find truly orphaned, injured or abandoned wildlife, you may want to contact an experienced wildlife rehabilitator who can handle the animal properly so it has the best possible chance to be returned to the wild. Trying to take the animal in yourself usually turns out a disaster for both you and the animal. Remember, though, when in doubt, leave it alone.

Advances to state meet!

Prestonsburg's Stewart Robertson legged it around the track as he won the men's 1600- and 3200-meter dash this past Saturday at Breathitt County. Robertson was second in the men's 800-meter run. He will represent his school in the Kentucky State Track and Field meet Friday and Saturday. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Prestonsburg Braves finally solve Cubs; win over Mets

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It has been sometime coming but the Prestonsburg Little League Braves finally got a win over the Prestonsburg Cubs. In fact, there hasn't been too many teams that own a win over the Cubs over the past four seasons.

But the Braves handled the Cubs 12-5 this week in the Prestonsburg Little League.

Hank Mullins went the distance for the Braves in picking up the win. Mullins struck out 12 batters in securing the victory. The game was called because of the time limits placed on games this year.

The Braves led 4-3 after the first inning and scored four in the second for an 8-4 game.

Neil Fannin hit a second-inning solo home run for the Cubs. Fannin had three hits in the game. Fannin suffered the setback.

The Braves defeated the Mets 8-4 as Matt Tackett put together a solid outing. He had 13 strikeouts in going all the way.

Rodney Stone and Mike Stone had key hits for the Braves in the sixth inning when the Braves scored four times.

The Braves are 2-1 on the season.

Garrett surprises Allen Sox, 11-6

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Garrett Rangers scored four times in the fifth inning to snap a 6-6 tie and went on to surprise the Allen Sox 11-6 Monday night at the Allen Park.

The Sox and Rangers battled throughout the first four innings to stay close until the fifth when the Rangers went on top for good.

Jerry Combs started the rally with a leadoff single, but was out trying to stretch it to a double. Byron Patton followed with a base hit and Kaleb Yates walked Johnny Case.

Patton scored on a wild pitch to give the Rangers a 7-6 lead. Corbit Howell scored Case with a single and Shawn Henson walked before Crawford lined hard to short.

With two out, Yates issued back-to-back walks to Mike Pack and Derrick Conley, forcing home the fourth run of the inning.

The Rangers added their final run in the bottom of the sixth on a lead off walk to Combs, a ground out and fielder's choice.

Allen left two runners stranded in each of the fifth and sixth innings, but went out in order in the seventh.

Conley picked up the win in going the distance. He had five strike outs and he issued one walk.

Yates took the loss allowing six runs on just four hits. He struck out seven and walked 16.

Wesley Collins had two hits, both doubles, for the Sox. Eric Cook had a third inning triple. Chris Moore collected two hits as did Hamilton.

Combs had half of the Sox hits with singles in the third and fifth innings. Pack and Patton had the other two.

Sets new school record!

The South Floyd 400-meter girls' relay team set a new school record in placing second in the regionals at Russell this past Friday night. The team posted a time of 55.31 for its best yet. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Stumbo had the name of Brandon Holbrook written across the back of his track shoes as he ran the race for his best friend.

"I just wanted to dedicate this race to Brandon," said Stumbo. "He was my best friend and I wanted to do it for him."

Stumbo knew he had the race as he held up one finger crossing the finish line. He ran the race in 2:05.48 for first place. Josh Patton finished fourth at 2:16.31.

The Allen Central two-mile relay team will track its way to Lexington for the state meet. The foursome of Mike Elzokari, Todd Howard, Josh Patton and Kevin Stumbo ran a 9:02.1 for first place in the 3200-meter relays. The time was a new school record.

"The boys seem to have won everything this year except the Clay County, FCA and this meet," said Coach Jamerson. "We ran well. We were just two points out after the first day."

Jamerson feels that his two-mile relay team has a chance of placing in the state meet.

"They will have to go under nine (minutes) if they do," he said. "They can do it. If each one could improve a second and a half, that's six seconds."

Jamerson said that he expects Robinson to be a strong contender in the state this year.

"He will have to throw in around 130 feet. He has a good chance," he said.

Allen Central will start the 2A state meet Friday morning at 8:30 a.m.

Thursday's preliminaries

Chris Halbert took third place in high jump with a leap of 5 feet 8 inches. Gary Webb competed, but did not place.

In the shot put, Robinson placed fourth overall at 39 feet 9 inches. Wells had a throw of 37 feet 7 inches for sixth place.

Nick Halbert and Estill Stumbo placed two and three in the 110 hurdles. Halbert finished second with a time of 18.46. Stumbo ran in third.

Trevor Fitch and Jason Samons finished third in the men's 100-meter dash.

Fitch, Nick Halbert, Chris Halbert and Samons placed second in the 400-meter relays. Elzokari took second place in the 400-meter dash. Curtis Webb placed third.

In the 300-meter hurdles, Estill Stumbo placed first and Nick Halbert finished second.

Fitch placed third in the 200-meter dash. Sammons finished fourth.

The 1600-meter relay team had a time of 3:52.8 for second place in Thursday's preliminaries. The foursome included Elzokari, Chris Halbert, Todd Howard and Estill Stumbo.

Betsy Layne collects 13 hits in 11-4 win over Garrett

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Betsy Layne Braves collected 13 hits en route to a 11-4 win over Garrett in the Floyd County Babe Ruth League this past Saturday at Allen Park.

Kevin Robinson collected three of the 13 hits while picking up two RBIs. Derrick Stanley had a fifth inning double. Lance Jones doubled in the sixth for Betsy Layne.

Jones picked up the win in going the first five and a third innings. He allowed three runs on just five hits. Jones struck out 12 batters.

Kevin Robinson came on in the sixth when Jones ran into some trouble. Garrett had rallied for three runs in the sixth as it batted around.

Robinson got Byron Patton and Corbett Howell on strikes to end the inning. He worked the seventh and allowed one run on three hits.

Brian Crawford was the losing pitcher for Garrett.

Jones had a shutout until the sixth when Garrett scored three times. He struck out the side in order in the first and fanned the side in the second after allowing a one out walk to Mike Pack.

Donnie Owens picked up two of the five hits for Garrett.

Craig Johnson and Stanley had two hits apiece for the Braves. Jones and Stanley had the only extra base hits for Betsy Layne. Wade Damron and Owens had doubles for Garrett.

The Braves led 3-0 after the third inning and added four in the fourth for a 7-0 score. Two runs scored in the Betsy Layne fifth for a 9-0 count and the Braves scored their final runs in the seventh when two runners came in.

Best sports town(s) in Kentucky includes Liar's corner in coffee shop

Best sports town in Kentucky? If you think yours is, Sports In Ky. would like to know which town and why? Write P.O. Box 124, Glendale, Ky. 42740, or telephone 502-369-6126 weekdays.

I'm betting the best sports towns include:

- Local coffee shop with a Liar's Corner.
- In man-on-street interviews, eight of 10 fans can name UK's starting lineup against Arkansas last winter. (Two who can't won't know Louisville's).
- Same interview: Nine of 10 will pick Kentucky to beat Louisville by 10 points Sept. 3.
- Best high school student-athletes play three sports, don't wear earrings, and go to class every day.
- Band members hold a car wash, second and third Saturdays in July, (flute players scrub hub caps).
- High school boosters will have bake sales in front of Wal-Mart.
- Cheerleaders still paint Go! —! on Main St. storefront windows on Friday in the fall.
- UK games are on live teevee or delayed no more than two hours.
- Can't walk down Maple Street, (every Ky. town has one, right?) for an entire day any season without hearing the words Rick Pitino.
- At least one employee at the local McDonalds remembers Rex Chapman with hair and without whiskers.
- You can stroll into the local eatery for lunch five days in a row and not hear, "Gee, wonder how Michael Jordan's doing?"
- High school basketball team still fills the gym on Tuesdays and Fridays.
- Saturday morning radio includes football coach's show.
- Local auto dealership sponsors player of the week.
- Parents behave at LL games. Sort of.
- Other.

Share other (serious and non) reasons why yours is the Best Sports Town in Kentucky.

Send your town and list of reasons to Sports In Ky., P.O. Box 124, Glendale, Ky. 42740.

Responses will be included in a column this summer.

UK RUNNING BACKS BEST IN AMERICA?

The University of Kentucky will have the two best running backs in college football next season, Coach Bill Curry told a civic gathering in Princeton last week.

When JUCO Daymon Carter, an all-stater at Henderson County, joins All-SEC freshman Mo Williams and fullback Damon Hood, UK's biggest dilemma becomes 'enough RAs.' Rushing attempts, to go around.

When asked about JUCO quarterback Eric Gray, who will apparently migrate to Houston U., UK's coach assured attendees the Wildcats will have a quarterback "who wants to be at Kentucky."

Pookie Jones' status? It's still wait for baseball's free agent draft next month. But UK's right fielder had a fair season, including 16 home runs this spring. Hunch here is Jones won't be back in a football uniform.

Only 102 days ... until UK and UofL tee it up at Commonwealth Stadium.

SO, PITINO WANTS AN NBA JOB, HUH?

After last week's NBA playoff fireworks, gee, I can see why Rick Pitino would want a job like Phil Jackson's.

Money and whatever else drives an NBA coach, obvious isn't it, the personal satisfaction a coach would get motivating such nice guys who think getting respect is about punching, choking, wrestling and woofing?

Dan Issel, for whom many of us have much respect as a basketball analyst, said the other day, "I just try to get 'em ready, then stay out of the way."

Anybody who can see Rick Pitino 'staying out of the way,' raise your hand, please.

Yo, Glenn Robinson, hope you get your $100mill, but isn't giving up a year on campus, another chance to beat Bob Knight, and the NCAA Tournament for the NBA, kind of like burning down the Christmas tree to collect the insurance?

READERS (WRITE) WRITE

P.J. of Bowling Green: "How does the 1994-95 high school senior basketball crop look?"

COMMENT: Rather thin. According to High Potential/Blue Chip talent scout Rick Bolus, only two of the top dozen are Div. I major talents — 6-3 Charles Thomas of Harlan and 6-5 Vondale Morton of Lexington Catholic.

Thomas "is a lefty swingman who won't have any problems converting to the backcourt," Bolus reports. "(Morton) is an athletic combo-forward who would attend Ky. if offered (a scholarship)."

COMMENT II: The junior class has at least two and as many as four prospects who will attract a parade of college scouts.

They are: 6-9 Lamont Barnes of University Heights; 6-10 Michael Lockhart, PRP; 6-4 Tim Couch, Leslie Co.; and 6-2 Bart Miller, Meade Co.

J.C. Crowe, Lewisport is a devoted UK basketball fan. "I have never been in Rupp Arena (but) I can see on television what is happening is not Kentucky basketball, but more a social event attended by about 5,000 fans and 18,000 coal barons, horse traders and people with only a passing interest in the game.

"The 1958 (Fiddlin' Five) would never have won the (NCAA) championship with that white tie bunch of zombies for two hours, who get up and leave before the games are over.

"We would go to Memorial Coliseum and stand in line for 3-4 hours. But it was worth it because that was Ky. basketball. Now we have the Pitino Production theater all the way from Midnight Madness to that carnival barker who does pregame introductions."

COMMENT: More of Crowe's letter in another column. Thanks for writing.

David Turner, Draft, Ky. writes to ask if "you intend to publish the 2,000 Points Club lists again?"

COMMENT: That's a decision for the editor of this newspaper. Additions to the boys' and girls' lists continue to come in. The boys total for the 2,000 Points Club now stands at 103. Girls who scored 1,000 or more points in high school, now numbers 108.

Stay tuned. COMMENT II: David Turner, who had his No. 52 retired after an illustrious career at McDowell High School, is 81st on the list.

Larry Carter, Florence, writes to offer some names to check out for the 2,000 Points list. Kenny Myers, Montgomery Co., 1956; Kenny Cornelius and Keith Kincer, Mt. Vernon, 1956; Dan Swartz, Owingsville 1950, Arthur Cole, Camargo 1956.

COMMENT: Swartz is tied at 84th with Mike Casey (Shelby Co.) and Maurice Morris (Fairdale), 2,088

SCORING LIST UPDATES

The high school scoring lists—Boys 2,000 Points Club and Girls 1,000 Points Club—increased again last week.

Jeff Gumm scored 2,380 points at Green County High in the 1980s to earn 50th place on a list that now stands at 103.

On the girls side, four Green Counties join the club—Andrea Deaton 73rd, Tammy Cox 88th, Tammy Akin 91th and Baeda Hodges 96th—to push the total to 108.

STATE'S WINNINGEST BASEBALL COACH

Who is Kentucky's winningest high school baseball coach? Could be Larry Gumm at Green County.

Heading into District Tournament play last week, Gumm's teams had won 765 of 1,090 games since 1963. An impressive 70 win percent.

In baseball parlance, that's hitting safely seven of every 10 at bats. Even Joe DiMaggio would be impressed.

Anybody top Gumm's 765?

It was a good outing for Floyd County track and field teams this past Saturday at Breathitt County. Pictured are the first place winners in the county that took part in the Class 2A regional track and field meet. Allen Central, Betsy Layne and Prestonsburg represented the county in the meet. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Regional champions!

The South Floyd girls' track and field team was the best at Russell as it won the regional meet by scoring 150 points. Coach Keith Smallwood's team is undefeated in all its meets this season. Several will track their way to Lexington for the state meet Friday and Saturday. (photo by Ed Taylor)

A little shoe repair!

Nicole Clark of Allen Central was giving her track shoes a new set of spikes as she qualified for the state track and field meet this weekend in Lexington. Clark placed second in the women's long jump. Clark was measured at 14 feet 4 inches. (photo by Ed Taylor)

A high jumper!

Goes one and two!

It has been a good year for South Floyd girls' track and field teams. Lori Tackett (left) and Tiffany Compton are two of the reasons why. Tackett and Compton placed first and second in the women's discus event and will represent South Floyd at the state meet Friday and Saturday. Compton took first place with Tackett finishing second. Compton also took first place in the women's shot put. (photo by Ed Taylor)

At The Cardiopulmonary Institute, Arteries Aren't All We've Been Opening

It's been a successful operation, to say the least.

In just a little more than two years, the Cardiopulmonary Institute at King's Daughters' Medical Center has emerged as a major regional cardiology center. And as our reputation has grown, so has the demand for our services. So we've expanded our staff and facilities to bring high quality cardiopulmonary care to even more people who need it.

We've added a second cardiac catheterization lab, along with its own team of highly trained specialists, to meet the increased demand for diagnostic and interventional procedures.

We've also recruited a second open-heart surgery team, led by a surgeon from the prestigious Deborah Heart and Lung Center in New Jersey.

Finally, we've opened an angioplasty observation area, to provide highly specialized nursing care and continuous monitoring of patients recovering from angioplasty.

To find out more about our services, just call (606) 327-4652. You'll find the expansion of the Cardiopulmonary Institute at King's Daughters' opens up even more opportunities to get the care you need, close to home.

We've opened a second cardiac catheterization lab and added a second open-heart surgery team to provide quality care, close to home.

ON BLACKTOP AND PUTTING GREENS
According to an article in the Lexington-Herald Leader, Gov. Jones was in Eastern Kentucky a week or so ago conjuring up support for a proposed budget that includes $100 million to refurbish state parks. The article stated that one of his proposals was for spending more than $6.5 million on a golf course for Jenny Wiley State Park, saying that a "world class golf course" would help lure tourists to our area. Well, I'm certainly for that. Tourism, now that coal has petered out, in my opinion, just may be the best remaining option for new dollars.

But why build just one golf course? Why not build a bunch? Why, with a little imagination, some paint and 18 sticks with numbered flags on them, I know where there are several stretches of Eastern Kentucky highway that could easily be converted into golf courses that would not only challenge the world's finest golfers, but also the best stockcar drivers on the circuit. (Of course, this might interrupt travel for those of us with cars who'd no longer have roads upon which to drive, but hey, one doesn't miss what one's never had, does one?)

Anyway, all we'd have to do is paint the already existing high-ways green and drop a flag in every other pothole or so. It'd be a natural. We'd already have sand traps and what with the way water pools after a little rain, we'd also have our hazards. Stock car drivers, when the Daytona and such races were over, could keep their skills sharpened by driving those little golf carts around.

Why, for $6.5 million we could have a plethora of such courses and all the tourists that could get here could play anytime they wanted. No waiting.

An added bonus would be that unemployment would drop in the area because all those job-seekers who've previously had to go to Wabash or Georgetown, as well as some bored senior citizens, could become caddies.

Now that I think about it, golf courses just might be the perfect way to spend $6.5 million in Eastern Kentucky.

And speaking of golf, the other evening while I was watching the PGA tour on TV from my recliner, Wilma was reading Barbara Johnson's Splashes of Joy in the Cesspools of Life. Everytime I'd slip into complete slumber, I'd hear "Listen to this," and she'd proceed to read one of Johnson's little witticisms.

Since I'll have to admit they were pretty good, I thought I'd share a few of them with you.

I liked this one: "A smile is a light in the window of your face that shows that your heart is at home."

Paintsville's Mainstreet is stepping out in style during the Main street Memorial Day weekend celebration.

The celebration, which costs $3 per person, will be held at the new Paint Creekside Stage near the downtown Paint Creek Bridge.

The event begins Friday night with a bluegrass/country music session. Entertainment includes performances by Mark Jennings and the Hard Living, Clyde Marshall and the Licking Valley Boys and Wanda Hall.

Also on the agenda is clogging and line dancing entertainment. The Cross Country Band will perform Saturday night.

Performances begin at 6 p.m., nightly, rain or shine. Refreshments will be available.

WSAZ comes to Betsy Layne senior citizens

The seniors were interviewed about their roles in different projects during "Heritage on the Hill Day" at Betsy Layne High School, held April 20.

The first senior interviewed was George "Red" Howell, who played the guitar and sang for the camera. He also told his life experiences and how he now has a home with his sister and is doing fine.

Stella Stumbo was interviewed about how to make homemade soap. She said that a soapmaker combines lye and old grease and cooks it in an iron kettle under a low fire. The mixture is then poured out to dry. When dry, the soap is cut into bars.

Stumbo told the reporter that students at Betsy Layne High School were "shocked" about how soap was made because they had never seen it done before. She said she also showed the students how to make sulphur apples, which is a wonderful dish to eat. Stumbo is a real pro at making quilts and she sews many of them.

Next on camera was Gracie Wilburn. In the background was a friendship quilt, made up of blocks that each senior citizen at the center made for the quilt. Wilburn told how "Heritage on the Hill" helped students and senior citizens get better acquainted. The result was that students became more interested in the old ways of living, such as families making their own soap and sewing their own quilts, before shopping at supermarkets and variety stores became the norm. Wilburn also commented on how nice it was that schools have lunchrooms. When she was young, Wilburn said, students carried their lunch to school in a four pound lard bucket.

During "Heritage on the Hill," the high school students "really took care of the seniors," Teresa Campbell, director of the center, said. "They showed them around the building and helped them on and off the bus."

WSAZ will air the program on Saturday, June 4, at 7 p.m. and Saturday, June 25 at 10:30 a.m.

Mary Reffitt

Mary Reffitt didn't expect to win beauty pageant titles when she first walked down a runway two years ago: but did and she has, repeatedly.

Reffitt, 16, of Caney Fork of Middle Creek, has won about 50 trophies during the past two years, including a trophy with a state title. On May 8, she was crowned 1994 American Miss Teen-Kentucky.

The American Miss Teen-Kentucky pageant was held May 7 and 8 in Huntington, West Virginia. To become eligible to compete in the event, Reffitt had to first win a preliminary in January.

The preliminary and state competition featured a talent category. Reffitt sang the country-western song "The Wrong Mr. Right, Again," and took first place honors. She also won the categories of super model, sportswear-runway model, photogenic, and swimwear.

Competing in pageants isn't easy, according to the Prestonsburg High School sophomore.

"Every one thinks you just get up there, but its hard work. After taking pictures for three or four hours and changing clothes so many times, it gets hectic," she said. Reffitt thinks the photography session isn't as bad as the runway modeling because runway models are on a time schedule and have to pace themselves as they

Mrs. Kentucky USA International 1994-95

Robin Rose Decker of Louisville was recently crowned the new 1994-95 Mrs. Kentucky USA International. Robin is the daughter of Jim Rose and Patti Rose of Hindman.

She is the granddaughter of Tommy and Maggie Hall of Price, and the late Myrtle Rose.

Mrs. Decker's husband, David, has been a Kentucky State Police trooper for the past eight years at the Frankfort Post.

Mrs. Decker is a R.N. Critical Care Nurse in the Cardiac unit at Jewish Hospital in Louisville.

She has just recently been named the spokesperson for the Kentucky Heart Association.

She will be competing in the Mrs. USA International Pageant on August 20, in Tyler, Texas.

THERE'S MORE TO WINNING THAN THE SCORE

The new Jurassic Park electronic game his aunt sent delighted my son.

"I've wanted this game for years and years," he told me.

Considering he's only 4 years old, and that the movie came out last summer, I was especially glad he didn't have to wait any longer.

Within a day the kid's nasal whining over the outcome of the game was driving me nuts.

"Dad, those dinosaurs just keep eating me and wiping me out and I can't get to the next level," he told me in disgust. "They just keeping doing it and doing it."

"That's part of the game, pal. You'll get by them better as you practice," I told him.

"But I have practiced and I can't do it," he said.

"I'm going to put this game away forever and never play with it again."

"You'll never learn it that way, buddy," I said.

"Why don't you stop worrying about how many levels you reach and just enjoy the game? It's supposed to be fun to play."

"I want to win."

My son's remark made me chuckle.

Imagine a kid his age being that bent on winning.

Then my smile faded as it dawned on me: The kid's a lot like his dad when it comes to this winning business.

WIN OR ELSE

The first thing I can remember about winning is that I always had to be the one who did it.

Losing at anything—from sports to video games—irritated me. Not only did I try to win, but I played for blood.

The bigger the wipeout of my granny when we played checkers, or my father when we played cards, the better.

My father and I played rummy often when I was growing up and even into my early 20s. The games would get so intense that we usually couldn't sleep after they ended. And sometimes the loser was grumpy for days.

He was grouzier than I was most of the time, though.

I made him keep playing until I won.

When no one was available to compete with, I took on myself.

Years ago I carried a stop watch in my car and timed myself getting to and from work. Before I knew it I was setting records and trying to break them, until I realized that game was probably more than a little dangerous and likely to become very expensive.

Over the years I learned to temper my competitive fires.

I still play to win, but I'm not nearly as intense as I used to be.

You don't have to pound the other person to enjoy the game. Maybe the exercise or camaraderie will make it worthwhile, or just the understanding you gain of yourself through making the effort to try.

Do I want my son to try to win at whatever he does?

Absolutely.

But I also want to make sure I don't give him the wrong impression about winning. Trying to win is not so much about topping someone else as it is about being the best he can be at whatever he does.

That effort, that desire to get better and to grow as a person, to courageously face challenges and to overcome obstacles, is what I really want him to cultivate.

That's what really makes a person a winner, even when the score doesn't show it.

There was a time in my life I might have had a different point of view. But growing up and getting older helps you develop a more refined view of competition.

At least it has in my case.

LEADING BY EXAMPLE

Despite all my personal growth, my wife says I still have plenty of room for development in this area.

Just the other day she nabbed me after my son and I raced to a bedroom.

She became suspicious after he asked me if he had beaten me to the spot.

"Did you not let him win?" she said.

"Well," I countered, "it was close."

Wrong answer.

"Your legs are twice as long as his and you know how he feels when he doesn't win," she said.

"But I let him win all the time," I said. "I guess I just got carried away on this one."

Baseball, hot dogs, rainwater run-off, and yes—sexual harassment once more!

Well, well, well, it looks as though new studios are out and any radio, T.V. or newspaper you turn to is talking about baseball, hot dogs and rainwater run-off.

by Kim Frasure

Just this morning, I heard Rush telling listeners how major companies were spending megabucks to stop their buildings from dangerous rainwater run-off!

No more getting out the ol' shampoo and washing your hair in rainwater. Especially rainwater that runs off buildings or houses. And forget doing that anyway. Rainwater is dangerous. How about hot dogs? Well, studies are now showing hot dogs cause cancer, too.

Just like that good ol' smothered in butter popcorn. And baseball—what on Earth could baseball have to do with any of this, you ask?

Well, those studies, once again, are showing baseballs are simply too hard, therefore dangerous and something must be done!

These days it seems, food-wise especially, everything that's good is bad for our health anyway.

I can't help but wonder how long it's gonna be before we turn on the tube or radio and hear Rush Limbaugh say "Soup beans, soup beans, once good for the heart, but now studies show they blow your insides apart."

Oh, come on. You know it's gonna happen.

Maybe the only reason it hasn't so far is that there aren't any Appalachian scientists studying the effects of pinto beans. You reckon? Sure wouldn't surprise me, I'll tell ya.

But, let's move on to the sexual harassment part of this column.

I find it extremely amusing that more and more of today's generation scream "sexual harassment." Sometimes they wait three years before doing so. And get this, they also have no intentions of "cashing in" on their "charges." Yeah, right, and I was born yesterday.

Three years after, then governor, now President Bill Clinton, supposedly inflicted, emotional distress toward Paula Jones, she files suit and only asks for $700,000 in damages.

Why on this Earth would anybody agree to meet their boss in a hotel room?

Well, the article in People magazine said "Jones agreed to meet Clinton, 'because she thought it might lead to an enhanced employment opportunity with the state.'"

The story said "Jones, 27, makes shocking charges of sexual advances by Bill Clinton."

Now maybe, because Paula was a young thing in '91, and really just did not know any better, or maybe she actually was looking to move up the proverbial "job ladder" when she went to this hotel, but it's time to WAKE UP AND SMELL THE COFFEE would you, please?

It does not take a total dumb butt to know if your boss is gonna offer a promotion, or a step-up, or a raise, that he has to do so in a hotel room. Get real!

Why did Paula Jones wait three years?

Have nightmares of Bill Clinton dropping his drawers invaded her dreams?

I am so sick of these accusations, it's unreal.

- Folks didn't give a fig when the newspapers, televisions, and radios reported Clinton dodged the draft to serve our country.

- Folks didn't give a fig he smoked pot but certainly didn't inhale. Nope, no dope here!

- Folks didn't give a fig when Jennifer Flowers told of their romps between the sheets.

- But, boy you let Dan Quayle spell potato wrong and folks gave a fig.

You want to tell me what is wrong with this picture? I'll tell you what I think. Morals are going to hell in a hand basket and folks better be choosing role models and presidents a heck of a lot more carefully.

Till next week, watch what you eat and where you are with your pants down!

Alice Lloyd Alumni Banquet

The annual meeting and banquet of the Floyd County Alumni Association of Alice Lloyd College was held Friday evening, May 6, at 6 p.m. at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Joy Wells, the president, welcomed all alumni and guests. Adrian Hall, associate director of admissions and trustee of Alice Lloyd College, gave the invocation.

Richard L. Kennedy conductor and director of the college chorus, Voices of Appalachia present the chorus as they entertained the group with several musical selections. Mrs. Bergam accompanied the group on the piano.

Following this, everyone was treated to a buffet meal and had a time of fellowship.

Arthur Haywood introduced the speaker of the evening, David Tackett, an Alice Lloyd graduate from the class of 1984. Tackett is assistant vice president of Pikeville National Bank, and is in charge of the Prestonsburg branch.

Tackett gave a talk about modern day banking. He said there was much competition in banking now which was good for the consumer. Because of this competitive market, many small banks are now merging with larger banks, Tackett said.

After his talk on banking, he reminisced about Alice Lloyd College and what it had meant to him. He applauded the college for the opportunities it had afforded the people of Eastern Kentucky.

Fred Mullinax, president of Alice Lloyd College, told about his time recently in Germany. He recognized the trustees of the college: Jim Reed, Adrian Hall and Oliver Caudill, who were present.

He said 20 students had been interviewed to further their education in Lexington. Some students even go to other colleges for further study at the expense of Alice Lloyd College.

Six hundred seventeen students had enrolled at Alice Lloyd College which was the largest number that had ever enrolled there. He stated that the college was proud of the students sent out in the job market. Mullinax said Alice Lloyd College is pleased with all their new and modern buildings, but is most pleased with the character building of mountain boys and girls.

Dr. Wallace Campbell, dean of Alice Lloyd College, lauded Floyd County Alumni Chapter for their work and concern for the college. Floyd County is the most active of all chapters. He said 82 percent of the students live on campus and 45 percent are full-time students.

Research schools that the college has affordable quality education, he said education was more than a selection of courses but must have quality affects with a purpose.

Mrs. Joy Wells closed the meeting with a short business session by electing officers for the coming years. These officers elected were Joy Wells, president; David Tackett, vice president; Willis Hall, treasurer; and Sarah Lavern, secretary.

The benediction was pronounced by Adrian Hall.

Those attending were Arnevan, Teresa and Aspen Greider, Roberta Sloan, Wayne Johnson, Arthur Haywood, Chuck Stamper, Susan Ritchie, Rebecca Haywood, Phyllis Ranier, Russell and Sarah Laven, Phyllis Branham, Ada Meade, Chester and Faye Patton, Louise Howard, Mildred Whitaker, Bessie R. Conley and Wanda Avon.

Also attending were Joy Wells, Brent Reed, Anna Sue Stumbo, Edith M. Hopkins, Virginia Goble, James B. Goble, Wallace and Joanne Campbell, Phyllis Reed, Norma Stepp, Ruby Akers, Christine Stumbo, Tom O. and Orella McGuire, Adrian and Olive Hall, Jim and Betty Bergman, Richard and Dot Kennedy, Willis and Judy Hall, David and Rhonda Tackett, Wanda Stevens, Jerry Kibb, Alice O. Martin, Roy and Betty Campbell, Kermit Terry, Stella Perry, Jim Reed, Oliver Caudill and Gary Melvin.

KFWC Drift Woman's Club

The KFWC Drift Woman's Club played hostess to an Inter-Club meeting at Jenny Wiley Lodge on April 18. The KFWC Garrett-Lackey-Wayland Woman's Club members were guests.

Doris Lawson, president, Drift Woman's Club, welcomed guests and members.

The Lords' Prayer was prayed by all, followed by the pledge to the flag and the blessing was given by Mildred Salisbury.

Dinner was served to Dr. Mary Pauline Fox of Pikeville; Lafaye Hughes, Blanch Bammer, Maxine Martin, Vera Allen, Marcella Bradley, Loretta Martin, Kimberly Hughes, Anna Martin and Marie Mullins, of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Women's Club.

A get well card was signed by all and mailed to Libby Martin.

Drift Woman's Club members—Ruby Akers, Celia Little, Rhoney Clark, Violet (Chick) Hall, Geraldine Ward, Mildred Salisbury, Jerri Turner, Cheryl Hall, Roberta Luxmore, Karen Slone and Rance Slone.

Ruby Akers, vice president, read a "Recipe for Success" and introduced Dr. Mary Pauline Fox, keynote speaker, who spoke on "Stress." Dr. Fox said to enjoy life while you can and laugh a lot.

Two Floyd Countians judge college pageant

Two Floyd countians served as judges of the Miss Alice Lloyd College pageant held at the college on April 21.

The pageant was judged by Alicia Cox Davidson of McDowell, Kathy Saylor Stumbo of Prestonsburg, as well as Donald Smith of Hazard.

Heather Hays of Hindman, was crowned Miss Alice Lloyd College, winning the pageant overall as well as Miss Congeniality.

Jenny Wiley State Park and its administration cordially invite you and your family to attend a memorial dedication ceremony as a flagpole and a bronze plaque will be erected in honor of all veterans of the United States Military Forces. The flagpole and plaque will be located at the Wilkinson/Stubbs Conference Center Parking Lot near the entrance to Jenny Wiley State Resort Park. The event is scheduled for Sunday, May 29, 1994, at 2:00 p.m. Governor Brereton Jones and other dignitaries are being invited to attend this ceremony.

Every married man needs to commit this one to memory: "Never try to guess your wife's size. Just buy her anything marked 'petite' and hold on to the receipt."

And speaking of wives, next week, June 1 to be exact, Wilma and I will have been married for 31 years. As I've said so many times, that's the best thing that ever happened to me.

As a matter of fact, I'm giving some serious thought to having my birthday changed to June 1. After all, I have never lived...until then.

One of the exciting aspects of pageant competitions for Reffitt is modeling, something she always wanted to do but never dreamed was possible. Reffitt was spotted by a representative of a modeling agency in Washington, D.C. during one of her many competitions. He signed her up and she became a freelance model in the International Freelance Model Organization. She recently compiled a portfolio that will be submitted to such major businesses as J.C. Penneys. She will model for a local department store in July.

Reffitt, who plays softball for the Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats, is now preparing for a trip to Hollywood, California where she will compete for the national 1994 American Miss Teen title. If she goes to the competition, she will have to have sponsors because of the expense involved. She also hopes her mom, Phyllis, and dad, Kenneth, will be able to make the trip with her.

Though she hopes modeling will play a big role in her future, Reffitt isn't counting on it to put money in the bank. She plans to attend college and become a psychiatrist.

In her spare time, she rides one of her two horses. She also shares responsibility for them with her sister, Carolyn. The sisters must brush, groom, feed and exercise the horses. The glamorous teen doesn't mind because it's just another task that she loves.

Sunshine Lines

Beverly Carroll

Today, in Sunshine Lines, we are going to continue our series on how we, as senior citizens, can prepare for our own future.

Last week we discussed choosing a nursing home or long term care facility in the event that we were to reach that point in life when we are no longer able to care for ourselves.

This week I want to discuss with you the "living will."

A living will is a formal document stating that you do not want artificial life support should you become terminally ill.

A living will enables you to make your wishes known regarding life-prolonging treatment in advance of the time when you might no longer be able to participate in decisions concerning your future medical care.

We are all aware of the marvels of modern medical technology. Technology is so advanced today, that a person can be kept "alive" on machines for years. A living will is one way the law allows for us to have a voice in our own future.

The living will must be signed in front of two witnesses and a notary public. You must be careful of whom you choose as witnesses. In Kentucky it cannot be a blood relative, neither can it be an employee of a health care facility in which you are a patient, nor can it be your attending physician(s), nor any person(s) financially responsible for your health care.

Under current Kentucky law an attorney's intervention is not necessary in preparing your living will. However, the forms currently provided, do not guarantee that you will not be kept in a persistent vegetative state. For greater assurance that your wishes will be honored, this writer strongly encourages that one work with an attorney in drafting a document that could provide you more protection, in the event the living will form(s) presently available, were to be challenged. If your living will were to be challenged, this could happen at a time when you could no longer provide input, or at a time when your decisional capacity could be challenged.

In future articles in this series, we will discuss the ordinary will; the health care surrogate; and, the durable power of attorney. If, at any time, you chose to combine one or more of these documents along with your living will, beware! It is not advisable. Should you choose to combine one or more of these, work with an attorney.

Once you have a living will it should be kept in a safe place but someone must be aware of your wishes. Inform a trusted family member, or two, and your doctor(s) of your wishes. Let them know one exists and where it is located. It can be kept in a safety deposit box, but copies of it should be easily accessible to those responsible for your care and welfare. Oftentimes safe deposit boxes cannot be opened until after one's death. What good would a living will do you if there was only one copy and it was in your safe deposit or lock box?

Also, do not be misled in believing that if you prepared a living will in one state that it will be honored in another. Check with state officials to determine a particular state's requirements. If you choose to be an organ or tissue donor, that should be stipulated in your living will.

Encourage senior citizens to give serious consideration to formulating your living will. It's one way we have of preparing for our future today.

If you care for more information in regard to the "living will" or if you want a brochure that gives an overview of benefits available to senior citizens, contact me at Legal Services in Prestonsburg, toll-free, 1-800-556-3876. The Benefits Counseling Program for Senior Citizens is sponsored by Appalachian Research and Defense Fund of Kentucky, Inc.

About Rabies: A serious disease that can be prevented

Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association

All too often the warnings don't mean much until someone dies of rabies. The latest reported such death was last August, when an 11-year-old girl died of rabies, apparently contracted from a rabid bat.

Since 1980, a total of 16 deaths from rabies have been reported nation wide (the last one in Kentucky was a 45-year-old Franklin County man in 1979) and of these it seems that six were transmitted human-to-human during cornea transplants.

You can see that the disease is serious. One of its tragedies is that prevention is so simple.

Rabies is an acute viral infection of the central nervous system. It is a natural disease of dogs, cats, bats and wild carnivores, and all warm-blooded animals, including man, are susceptible.

It is usually spread from infected to non-infected animals through bites. The virus is carried in the saliva of the infected animal, and once deposited in the muscle or mucous membrane, the virus then replicates and makes its way up the peripheral nerves to the spinal cord and then to the brain. The virus can be present in the saliva of an infected animal—and be effectively transmitted—several days before signs appear, therefore if you are bitten by an animal it is important to keep that animal under observation.

Once signs appear, there is no known cure and it is usually fatal.

As a general rule, beware of animals that behave in an uncharacteristic manner. Dogs may show either "furious rabies," in which they are agitated continually and usually vicious, or "dumb rabies," in which they may appear to have something stuck in their throat or be paralyzed or comatose. These will also bite, however.

Wild animals may show "furious" behavior, but it is more likely they will show more subtle changes—things such as bats, skunks or foxes, which are normally nocturnal animals, being active in daytime, or losing their fear of man.

The main preventive barrier between wild animals and man is vaccination of domestic animals, mostly dogs and cats.

If you should be bitten by an animal you think might be rabid, prompt treatment is essential and the animal should be captured for observation.

Kentucky Health Department regulations specify that there is no accepted quarantine period for any animal species except dogs and cats. They need only be captured and observed.

All other mammals should be sacrificed and tested immediately. Be careful not to destroy the brain, as it is needed for the test. If you cannot kill the animal yourself without damaging the head, cage it if you can and call an animal control officer.

Dogs and cats can be protected by vaccination, however it should be given by a veterinarian because the wrong vaccine can kill your animal. And remember that only vaccinations given by a licensed veterinarian confer legal protection.

There is only one licensed vaccine for a wild animal. It is for ferrets. No others can be effectively vaccinated.

If you are bitten, wash the wound with soap and water thoroughly and get to a physician immediately.

Your veterinarian can tell you about rabies, how it affects animals and humans, how to prevent it and what first aid measures to use. Protection of the public against rabies is one of the more common public health issues handled primarily by veterinary medicine.

Growing the perfect rose

For centuries, the beauty and fragrance of roses have captured the imagination of people the world over. They are a part of history, as evidenced by their presence in the Garden of Eden, ancient Persia and the Hanging Gardens of Babylon.

These days, roses remain just as popular. From the Rose Bowl to giving roses as a gift on Valentine's or Mother's Day, everyone loves a rose.

Roses are readily available at nurseries and floral shops, but how do you grow the perfect rose at home?

According to the experts at The Scotts Company, there are more than 100 rose species and thousands of varieties. Blooms come in a rainbow of colors ranging from red to lavender to white, or in some cases, two or more colors in a single blossom.

There are miniature roses that are perfect ground covers or easily grown in containers, and disease-resistant, hardy floribundas, commonly used as barriers, borders, and along pathways. Able to grow three to five feet tall and with blossoms up to five inches wide, Hybrid tea roses are arguably the most prized of roses grown today.

Planting Tips
If you are seriously considering growing roses, consult a gardening primer to determine which type you would like to raise and to learn if it will thrive where you live. Still not sure? Consult your landscaper or ask for help at the local nursery.

Roses require at least six hours of sun daily, so pick a planting site with easterly exposure. The site should be slightly sloped to ensure maximum water drainage. Plant roses away from other shrubs and trees so there's no competition for moisture and nutrients.

Rose bushes are sold either in containers or bare-root. Bare-root roses need to be planted immediately after purchase. Prior to planting, soak the bare-root in a bucket of water to protect roots from drying out. Container roses can be planted at your convenience and needn't be pre-soaked.

Well-aerated soil is the best growing environment for a newly planted rose bush. Add peat moss if needed. Then apply a plant food.

Next, dig a planting hole one-and-a-half feet deep and two feet wide to provide enough space for good drainage and root spreading. Begin planting bare-root roses by creating a firm mound at the bottom of your planting hole. Gently spread the roots over the mound and check that enough stem will be above the surface. Then refill the hole with soil, firmly anchoring the plant. Water promptly after planting, and water regularly throughout the growing season.

As you can see, roses are rather easy to grow. And, as you know, the results are simply beautiful.

BAKED PORK CHOPS AND VEGETABLES

2 Tbsp. fat
1 1/2 c. minute rice
dash black pepper
1 medium onion, chopped
1 medium size green pepper, chopped

1 qt. cooked tomatoes
Brown the pork chops in the fat in a skillet. Remove the chops and place in a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole pan. Add the rice to the chops. Sauté the onions and green pepper in the remaining fat in the skillet, about 5 minutes. Add the tomatoes, salt and black pepper to the onion and green pepper mixture and simmer until the mixture is well blended. Pour the tomato mixture over the pork chops and rice. Cook in moderate oven, 350 degrees for about 1 hour until the chops are tender.

Note: You may use regular rice if you prefer. But the amount must be cut in half. The rice should be soaked in cold water to soften for an hour or so in order for it to be done when the pork chops are tender. (This dish is almost a meal within itself.)

BREAKFAST

1 lb. sausage
6 or 7 eggs
2 c. milk
1 tsp. mustard
6 slices bread (cubed) to cover bottom of dish

1 1/2 c. Colby cheese (grated)
Fry sausage and drain. Beat eggs with milk, salt and mustard. Layer bread, sausage and cheese in 9 x 13 inch baking dish. Pour egg mixture over above. Refrigerate overnight. Bake 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Serves 6 to 8 people.

BACON AND EGG BAKE

2 medium onions, sliced
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/4 c. milk
5 hard cooked eggs, sliced
2 c. shredded cheddar cheese
English muffins, split and toasted
Heat oven to 350 degrees. Fry bacon until crisp. Remove bacon and drain, reserving 2 tablespoons. Sauté onions in bacon drippings. Stir in soup, milk, eggs, cheese, salt and pepper. Pour into 10 x 6 inch baking dish. Top with crumbled bacon. Bake 20 minutes. Serve over toasted muffin halves. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SAVORY

GRILLED POTATOES

1/2 c. Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
3 garlic cloves, minced
1/2 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. each: salt, pepper
3 baking potatoes, cut into 1/4-inch slices
1 large onion, sliced

Mix salad dressing and seasonings in large bowl until well blended. Stir in potatoes and onions to coat. Divide potato mixture evenly among six 12-inch square pieces of heavy-duty foil. Seal each to form packet.

Place foil packets on grill over medium-hot coals (coals will have slight glow). Grill, covered, 25 to 30 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Makes 6 servings.

HONEY MUSTARD CHICKEN

1/2 c. Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
2 tbs. Dijon mustard
1 tbs. honey
4 boneless skinless chicken breast halves (about 1 1/4 lbs.)

Mix salad dressing, mustard and honey. Place chicken on greased grill over medium-hot coals (coals will have slight glow) or rack of broiler pan 5 to 7 inches from heat. Brush with 1/2 of the salad dressing mixture. Grill or broil 8 to 10 minutes. Turn; brush with remaining salad dressing mixture. Continue grilling or broiling 8 to 10 minutes or until tender. Makes 8 servings.

VERMICELLI SALAD WITH ASPARAGUS AND LIGHT HAM

1/4 pound asparagus, cut diagonally into 1-inch pieces, cooked until crisp-tender
2 slices light ham, cut into thin strips

Freshly grated Parmesan cheese, if desired

Parmesan Dressing
1/3 cup olive or vegetable oil
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons garlic vinegar or white vinegar
2 teaspoons chopped fresh or 1/2 teaspoon dried thyme leaves
1/8 teaspoon salt
Shake all ingredients in tightly covered container.

SPANISH GREEN BEAN AND RED PEPPER STEW

This quick, vibrantly colored vegetable stew is a perfect summertime partner for grilled chicken or steak, as well as good accompaniment for rice or pasta.

1 pound green beans, ends trimmed, halved

Salt and freshly ground pepper
2 red bell peppers, grilled and peeled
1 to 2 tablespoons olive oil
2 large garlic cloves, chopped
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley

Add beans to a sauté pan of boiling salted water, return to a boil, and boil 4 minutes to partly cook. Drain in a colander or strainer, rinse under cold water and drain thoroughly.

Cut grilled peppers in strips. Heat oil in the same pan over medium heat. Add garlic and sauté, stirring, about 15 seconds. Add beans, salt, and pepper and sauté 2 minutes. Add peppers and the water.

Cover and cook over medium-low heat, stirring often, about 2 to 3 minutes or until beans are crisp-tender. Stir in parsley. Taste and adjust seasoning. Serve hot.

TO GRILL PEPPERS: Cut in half, remove seeds. Place on cookie sheet. Grill till skins turn brown. Remove and peel when cool.

HIDDEN VALLEY RANCH PASTA PRIMAVERA

Cook 6 oz. rotelle pasta. Drain. Stir in 3 Tbsp. olive oil, one package. Hidden Valley Original Ranch® Salad Dressing Mix and 16 oz. thawed vegetable medley. Heat and serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

BEAN CONFETTI SALAD

1 cup cooked brown rice, chilled
1 2/3 cups drained, cooked or canned red, pinto or pink beans
4 hard-cooked eggs, divided
1/3 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup shredded carrot
2 tablespoons diced dill pickle
2 tablespoons chopped green onion

Salt and pepper to taste
Lettuce
Minced Italian parsley
Combine rice and beans in medium bowl. Dice two eggs. Add to bean mixture with mayonnaise, green pepper, celery, carrot, pickle and green onion. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cover, refrigerate until chilled. To serve, spoon mixture onto lettuce-lined platter. Sprinkle with parsley. Slice remaining two eggs. Garnish salad with egg slices. Makes about four servings.

FRUIT KABOBS WITH PINEAPPLE DIP

30 seedless green or red grapes
30 pineapple chunks, each about 3/4 inch wide (1/4 pineapple) or 1 can (8 ounces) sliced pineapple in juice, drained and each slice cut into eighths
30 mandarin orange segments or 1 can (11 ounces) mandarin orange segments, drained
15 strawberries, cut in half
Prepare Pineapple Dip. Place any combination of 4 pieces of fruit on plastic or wooden picks. Serve with dip.
About 30 kabobs.

PINEAPPLE DIP

1 package (8 ounces) Neufchatel cheese, softened
1 cup plain nonfat yogurt
2 tablespoons honey
2 teaspoons crushed gingerroot
1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple in juice, drained
Beat cheese, yogurt, honey and gingerroot until creamy. Fold in pineapple. Cover and refrigerate at least 1 hour.

About 3 cups dip.
This recipe credited to Betty Crocker's Super Snacks supermarket magazine.

SPINACH PIZZA BREAD

6 servings
1 one-pound loaf Italian bread, unliced
6 slices bacon
3/4 cup chopped red sweet pepper
3/4 cup chopped green sweet pepper

1 1/2 cups sliced onion
1 1/2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed and well drained

1 can (8 ounces) pizza sauce
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 1/2 cups shredded Mozzarella cheese

1 1/2 cups shredded Provolone cheese

Preheat oven to 375°. Cut bread horizontally in half; freeze top half for later use. Scoop center out of bottom half, leaving a 1/2-inch shell.

Place shell on baking sheet. Bake for 10 to 12 minutes or until inside is crisp. Remove from oven and place on wire rack to cool completely. Meanwhile, cook bacon in large skillet until crisp. Remove from skillet, drain on paper towel. Reserve 3 tablespoons drippings in a skillet. Add peppers and onions; sauté until tender, about 8 minutes. Stir in mushrooms and sauté 3 minutes longer.

Remove from heat. In large bowl, combine spinach, pizza sauce, Parmesan cheese and about 1 1/4 cups each of Mozzarella and Provolone cheeses. Stir in vegetable mixture. Spoon into bread shell. Crumble cooked bacon slices; sprinkle on top of mixture. Carefully wrap bread shell in foil, covering edge of bread to prevent it becoming hard. Do not cover the filling. Place on baking sheet. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until cheese is melted and filling is hot. Remove from oven. Sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup each of Mozzarella and remaining 1/4 cup each of Mozzarella and Provolone cheeses. Garnish top with red and green pepper strips if desired. Return to oven until cheese is melted, about 3 minutes. Serve immediately.

TUNA CASSEROLE

3-4 slices cubed bread
1 chicken bouillon cube
1 c. boiling water dash pepper
2 Tbsp. flour
1/4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 can tuna dash sage

Dissolve cube in boiling water; add all ingredients and mix well. Put in casserole dish in 350 degree oven and bake 30-40 minutes.

MEDITERRANEAN SANDWICH POCKETS

SANDWICHES
1 (17.3-oz.) can Pillsbury Grands! refrigerated flaky biscuits
3/4 lb. boneless skinless chicken breasts, cut into 2x1/4-inch strips
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon dried oregano leaves, crushed
1/4 teaspoon lemon pepper
2 tablespoons olive oil or oil
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 to 3 tablespoons sesame seed
CUCUMBER SAUCE
1 (8-oz.) container lowfat plain yogurt

1/2 cup chopped unpeeled cucumber
1 to 2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
1/4 teaspoon salt

TOPPINGS
1 large tomato, quartered, thinly sliced
1 cup shredded lettuce
Heat oven to 350°F. Grease large cookie sheet. Separate dough into 8 biscuits. Press or roll each biscuit into 5-inch circle. Place on greased cookie sheet.

Place chicken in large bowl. Sprinkle with garlic salt, oregano and lemon pepper; toss to coat chicken. Heat 1 tablespoon of the oil in large skillet over medium-high heat. Add coated chicken; stir-fry 3 to 5 minutes or until chicken is no longer pink. Remove pan from heat; stir in lemon juice. To make each pocket, spoon about 1/4 cup chicken mixture down the center of each biscuit. Fold dough over filling to make half circle; press edges down firmly, but do not seal. Brush tops with remaining olive oil; sprinkle with sesame seed.

Bake at 350°F. for 12 to 17 minutes or until golden brown. (Sandwiches will open slightly during baking.) Meanwhile, combine all sauce ingredients; mix well. Serve hot sandwiches with sauce and toppings. 8 sandwiches; 1 1/3 cups sauce.

ORANGE-HONEY CHICKEN

1 1/2 cups V8 vegetable juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
4 teaspoons honey
1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1/8 teaspoon black pepper
2 1/2- to 3-pound broiler-fryer, cut up

In 12- by 8-inch baking dish, stir together V-8 juice, lemon juice, honey, peel, garlic powder and pepper.

Place chicken in marinade, turning to coat. Cover; refrigerate at least 2 hours, turning pieces occasionally.

Remove chicken from marinade, reserving marinade. Place chicken on grill; grill 6 inches from heat 35 minutes or until fork-tender, basting chicken with marinade and turning occasionally with tongs.

Makes 6 servings.

Ross resigns as executive director of East Kentucky Corporation

Frank Justice, Chairman of East Kentucky Corporation, announced recently that the Corporation's Executive Director, Ben Ross, had resigned to assume the position of CEO of an Indiana development corporation. East Kentucky Corporation is an economic development organization formed by the Kentucky legislature in 1990 to bring investment and jobs to the Appalachian counties of Kentucky. It began effective operations in December of 1990.

Justice was high in his praise of Ross and the accomplishments of the organization in its three year life under Ross' leadership. In his announcement to the Corporation's staff, Justice said, "During Ben's three year tenure at East Kentucky Corporation, employers have committed to bringing over fifteen-hundred jobs to the region. Those commitments are a tribute to Ben's leadership and to the quality and dedication of the staff." He went on to say, "We are happy for Ben in advancing his career. We are particularly pleased with the quality of the staff he put together and know it will continue its work without hesitation."

Justice announced that Bill Stamper, who joined the Corporation within weeks of Ross and has since held a key management position, became Director of Operations for the organization effective March 1, 1994. Kevin Brown who has held the position of Wood Industries Director and has been the key person in recruiting four of the five top companies to the region was promoted to Marketing Director, a new position. In this position, he and the rest of the staff will report to Stamper. Frank Justice will serve as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. In announcing Stamper's promotion, Justice reminded that staff that Stamper had been one of the contenders for the Executive Director's position prior to Ross assuming the position.

Stamper's background includes over thirty years in high-level management positions in the private sector. Prior to joining East Kentucky Corporation, he held positions of vice president in Pitney Bowes, Mohawk Data Sciences, Control Data Corporation, and Computer Sciences Corporation. He began his career at the IBM Corporation as a salesman and later held management positions in market and product planning for the corporation. At East Kentucky Corporation he has been responsible for management of the Corporation's Economic Development Fund, management of fiscal affairs, marketing and promotional materials production, and entrepreneurship development.

In making the announcement, Justice said that Stamper accepted the position with the understanding that he intended to retire in mid-1995 when he reaches 65 years of age. Justice said, "Until that time we will have the benefit of Bill's strong private sector management skills and the experience he has gained in the three successful years of East Kentucky Corporation's existence. Because of Bill's long time plan to retire at 65, and the need to recruit an executive director replacement before Bill's retirement, I will retain some executive officer functions to assure continuity of office, but Bill will be Chief Operating Officer." He said no decision had been made as to when a national search for an Executive Director will begin, but the search would be started at an appropriate time in the future.

Yeager installed as president of HFMA at annual meeting

Kevin R. Yeager

Kevin R. Yeager, CPA, and Chief Finance Officer at Highlands Regional Medical Center will be installed as the president of the Kentucky Chapter of Healthcare Financial Management Association (HFMA) at the Chapter's annual meeting at Lake Barkley State Resort Park in Cadiz, Kentucky on May 25. Yeager will officially assume the duties of the president on June 1.

HFMA is a national association with local chapter whose purpose is to support healthcare financial managers with information.

Education, and other tools necessary to excel in their careers and provide the highest quality of financial management available to the healthcare industry. Additionally, the National Association is involved in the healthcare reform debate by promoting "administrative simplification" within the healthcare industry. Currently, HFMA has approximately 22,000 members nationally.

The Kentucky Chapter is one of the most active chapters in the Southeast Region of the United States. The chapter currently has approximately 500 members and holds four multi-day educational meetings for its members each year at various locations throughout the state.

Benton 10-048

Associated Designs-Eugene, Oregon

The Benton is too long and narrow to be shoe-horned into a standard city lot. But despite the need for elbow room, you couldn't honestly call this home large. Medium describes the size more aptly.

On the other hand, this plan has so many vaulted ceilings that it has the feel of a much larger home. And a descending staircase is included in the design, in case the owners wish to add more space by building over a basement.

Exterior styling draws inspiration from both ranch and contemporary design. The basic shape is ranch, as are the covered porch and the "z" detailing on shutters and garage doors. A stepped garage, and high arched windows in the living room add a contemporary touch.

All of the large rooms are vaulted — living room, family room and master bedroom — along with the entry, which puts you right at the center of the home. Family living areas dominate the middle segment, with children's bedrooms on one end and the master suite on the other.

Basically rectangular, the kitchen is expanded by a sun-bright eating nook and a garden window. Other features include a built-in dishwasher, range and oven, microwave, desk and pantry. An eating bar marks the boundary between the kitchen and a large family room. Living room and dining room are at the front of the house.

The master suite has a private bathroom with enclosed shower and water closet, and walk-in closet. Sliding doors open onto a deck. The bedrooms at the other end of the house share a dual-compartment bathroom, allowing a modicum of privacy for two people at once.

The utility room is nearby, convenient to the garage as well as to the Benton's bedrooms and kitchen.

For a review plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, section and artist's conception, send $10 to Associated Designs, 1260 Charnelton St., Suite 2, Eugene, Ore. 97401. Please specify the Benton 10-048 and include a return address when ordering. A catalog featuring over 150 home plans is available for $12. For more information call (800) 634-0123.
