County must now decide how much it will contribute :

AOC okays $6.4 million for new courthouse

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

State officials approved a proposed $14.4 million courthouse facility Thursday for Floyd County and now fiscal court members must decide if the county can meet its financial obligation for the project.

In November, fiscal court members agreed to proceed with the most expensive of three proposals for a new facility—Plan A—which will include new courtroom facilities; new county offices; and an additional floor of office space to be leased by the county.

Members of the Courts Facility Standards Committee met in Frankfort Thursday and approved the project, to which the state's Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) will contribute $6.4 million for construction costs. The county would have to contribute just over $5 million.

The difference in the sum of those two amounts and the projected costs apparently includes the cost of issuing bonds and the interest on those bonds.

There was no indication Thursday from the AOC or Floyd County Judge-

Executive John M. Stumbo how those costs would be shared.

AOC facilities director Harry Hoffman said Thursday that the next step for county officials is to determine if they want to proceed with Plan A. If the county opts for the $14.4 million project, Hoffman said county officials would most likely start acquiring signed leases to determine how much revenue can be generated toward the project cost.

Judge Stumbo said Thursday that the court would most likely proceed at today's fiscal court meeting to purchase the site, Prestonsburg's municipal parking lot.

The fiscal court has an option to purchase the parking lot from the city for $375,000. Stumbo said that city officials are waiting for the purchase to go through so that additional property for parking can be obtained.

Stumbo said the project was estimated to cost $13.6 million and it would require the county to pay approximately $222,000 per year in bond payments.

County Attorney Jim Hammond said at the November court meeting that $1 million had been added to the

Sex, drug cases are waived to grand jury

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A Floyd County Grand Jury will hear the case against a Hueysville man charged with four counts of first degree sexual abuse for allegedly fondling a 10-year-old.

In a preliminary hearing Wednesday, state police trooper Larry Woods testified that a juvenile said that Buford Thomas, 44, of Salt Lick, touched her in a sexual way on four occasions at Thomas' home last summer.

Woods testified that Thomas and his wife were present when the alleged acts took place, but both denied that the incidents happened.

Thomas was arrested in November after Woods interviewed the alleged victim.

Trial commissioner Jack Hyden bound the case over to the grand jury.

Also Wednesday in district court, Hyden waived a case against Arnold Mosley Jr. to the grand jury.

Mosley is charged with trafficking in a controlled substance within 1,000 yards of school.

Frank Fryman, director of the Mountain Area Drug Task Force, testified Wednesday that Mosley sold an undercover task force agent five Loratabs on three different occasions October 20 near Auxier Elementary.

A charge of second degree assault against Mosley will also be heard by a grand jury.

Deputy sheriff Lloyd Powers testified Wednesday that Joey Lowe

Two injured in mishap near Maytown

A coal truck overturned Thursday morning on KY Rt. 80 near Maytown and two people were injured in the accident. The driver of the coal truck had to be extricated from his vehicle by the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad. No details of the accident were available from state police on Thursday. Members of the Floyd County Sheriff's Department and the Maytown Volunteer Fire Department assisted at the scene. The accident is under investigation by trooper Larry Woods. (photo by Mike Burke)

Water tank cleanup costs less than expected at Martin :

Council wants park issue settled

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Martin Mayor Raymond Griffith has until the first of January to decide whether he will lease property to the city which is being used for a park.

At Wednesday's Martin City Council meeting, councilman Everette Akers Jr. said if Griffith does not decide by the turn of the new year to lease the park property, council will begin removing city property from the lot.

The mayor acquired the land earlier this year. Griffith said Wednesday that he is negotiating with someone else concerning the property and he would let council know as soon as possible if the deal goes through.

Councilman Alan Whicker commented that if an agreement could not be reached with the mayor, council should try to purchase other property in the city to relocate the park.

Council asked city attorney Tim Parker if city property could be removed from the park.

Parker, who briefly reviewed the lease between the city and the mayor, said the document was silent on that issue and it appeared to be an open question.

Mayor Griffith said the issue could be decided in court.

Parker said that he did not think he could take either side on the issue because he was the city attorney.

Parker is expected to give council a report on the issue at the December 27 meeting.

Also Wednesday, council got some good news concerning the cost to clean and repair the city's water tank after it was vandalized last month.

Bob Lewandowski, with the Big Sandy Area Development District, told council that costs to repair and clean the tank have added up to nearly $5,000. Lewandowski, who council hired on a 60-day contract to prepare a financial report on the city utility department, said invoices for the

Merry Christmas on Mud Creek :

Lecture pays off in truckloads

by Janice Shepherd
Managing Editor

Santa's bag of goodies was too full for a sleigh Wednesday. Instead, the Christmas treats came to Floyd County in two tractor trailers.

Darrell Smith and Charlie Hammond, with Taylor Medical Inc. and H & S (Hammond-Smith) Medical Associates, brought two semis loaded with food, clothing, furniture and toys from Louisville and Bowling Green to the Mud Creek Clinic's Prestonsburg office where the gifts filled up two rooms.

Smith and Hammond have been bringing presents to the clinic for the past 10 years. Each year, the amount of gifts increases, and this year, it took two trucks to haul it all.

"Coming down we saw seven shooting stars," Smith said. "We followed the North Star. It was the brightest I have ever seen. We called it the Star of Bethlehem."

The partners, who live in Louisville, are returning something to the area that helps them provide for their own families. "The Big Sandy (region) is one of our best accounts," Hammond said. "This is the best month we've had in sales since I can't remember when. All of a sudden things were falling into place."

"It (what is given) comes back in different ways," Smith said.

Hammond began collecting Christmas gifts for the children in the Mud Creek area ten years ago after he received a lecture from Mud Creek Clinic administrative assistant Karen Stephens.

"I was sitting in Karen's office talking about my kids and Christmas. I told her I had told them that if they were not good, Santa Claus wouldn't come.

"She said I shouldn't say that. She was one of ten applicants that received the Community Rivers and Streams Program grant. According to a press release from Department of Local Government, the funding was authorized by the General Assembly to provide local governments with start-up funds that would stimulate local river and stream stewardship programs. An appropriation of $50,000 was made available for each year of the current biennium, and grants up to $5,000 are awarded on a competitive basis.

The Community Rivers and Streams Coordinating Committee devised rating criteria for the program and assisted in the selection of the projects. The projects are scheduled to begin in January 1995 and be completed by June 30, 1995.

Grant will help park plans

A project that will spotlight the history, preservation and enhancement of the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River at Prestonsburg and a stream at Middle Creek was recently selected by the Department of Local Government to receive a $5,000 state grant.

tion group overmatched its $5,000 grant request with cash contributions and in-kind services for a total of $12,500, according to Fred James, Prestonsburg Tourism Director who wrote the grant. James said he has written hundreds of grants, "but this has been one of the most interesting...of any grant I've ever worked on. It concerns how the river can be preserved and used for recreation."

According to the government press release, the grant will be used for the assessment of Levisa Fork, development of an improvement plan, and promotional activities that will generate interest in the river and a proposed river park.

The park site, which already has a boat launching ramp in place, is located behind Billy Ray's Restaurant at the end of Court Street. "It's going to give our downtown a theme of the river with riverboats and Civil War battles that relate to the river," James said.

According to James, the river project will focus on three aspects: public recognition of the river and stream flowing through Prestonsburg known as Levisa Fork and Middle Creek; determination of water usage and water quality; and conservation and cleanup.

Robert Perry, associate professor of English at Prestonsburg Community College, will help coordinate three seminars that will give recognition to the importance of the river, James said.

The first seminar will be an historical overview of the settlement of Prestonsburg; the second seminar will concentrate on the importance of the river in Floyd County during the Civil War, centering on the battles of Wireman Shoals at Auxier and Middle Creek and the occupation of the Garfield House and the May House in Prestonsburg.

A third seminar will focus on the river today and its potential for recreation and tourism. The project coordinators will also combine segments of each seminar to produce an educational film about the river.

Another arm of the project will be the establishment of a team of experts who will devise a plan for use of the river in terms of water quality, water usage and conservation. In the area of conservation, a cleanup drive of the river from Town Branch to the old West Prestonsburg bridge has been tentatively scheduled for April or May. The drive will include the joint cooperation of state and local agencies.

Also on tap is a musical gala at the proposed River Park. "The Kentucky Opry and others will provide a day of entertainment to provide recognition of the River Park facility," James said. The date for the gala has not been set.

The City of Prestonsburg has also applied for a $20,000 competitive state grant from the Land and Water Conservation Fund. The grant could provide funding for the establishment of recreation facilities, such as basketball and volleyball courts, and a pavilion, at the riverbank park site.

James said the grant will be awarded in January. "The grant is really competitive," he added. "If we don't get the grant, we will try to finance the park some other way."

Prestonsburg Mayor Jerry Fannin thinks the proposed river project will help revitalize downtown. "Anything that will add to the town is a direction upward," he said. "These smaller grants we are applying for will fund projects that will bring people back into the city."

State's provider tax is tax on sick people, Forgy says

by Janice Shepherd
Managing Editor

"I used to be a doctor. Now, I'm a provider. My patients are now a consumer's unit. I'm not sure what they consume — me sometimes," Dr. Ira Potter told area physicians gathered Monday night at the Wilkinson/Stumbo Convention Center.

At the meeting, Potter, and several area doctors, voiced complaints about House Bill 250, the provider tax and Medicaid reimbursement cuts to gubernatorial candidate Larry Forgy, guest speaker. With the passage of House Bill 250, the General Assembly levied a 2 percent tax on physician's gross patient revenues, which it said would be used to fill Medicaid's depleted coffers. The state also plans to reduce Medicaid reimbursements to physicians.

In response to the physician's complaints, Forgy said he was concerned about what was going to happen "to the finest health care system in the world," but he did not see an immediate repeal of the bill.

"I'm not going to promise you I can take that provider tax off immediately," Forgy said.

He called the provider tax a tax on sick people, and said he had met a physician whose income tax statement showed the physician had lost money in his business, yet owed $12,000 to the government through the tax.

"People sat by and saw people create a Medicare system run with the efficiency of the United States Post Office," he said, and the audience laughed.

He explained that the changes should have been implemented in a "softened form over a period of time."

He compared state government to a bloated whale with "a layer of blubber put on by each administration."

"Government has one sole purpose," he said. "If it walks, tax it. If it works, regulate it. We've had our necks wrung as chickens both in Washington and here."

He encouraged the doctors and politicians to pursue universal access to health care.

Appeal

plained. "The patient's case was mishandled by another hospital."

After the medical board made its decision in October, Dr. Ikramuddin filed an appeal with the medical panel and asked that the suspension be delayed until the girl, who is now 15, could be examined. His attorney also presented an affidavit from the girl's parents stating that the girl was developing normally.

"I should have had a chance to present my evidence before the board even considered suspending my license," Ikramuddin said.

At Wednesday's hearing, Dr. Ikramuddin's attorney presented a picture of the girl and a report from a recent examination by a physician.

The licensure board and Ikramuddin's attorney worked out an agreement on the case. Although the chairman of the licensure panel, Dr. Olney Patrick, expressed his concern about Ikramuddin's failure to take a small biopsy before removing the tissue mass or to get a second opinion before performing the surgery, the board returned Ikramuddin's license.

A Louisville newspaper reported that the physician had been put on probation for two years, but Ikramuddin said that no mention of probation is noted on the papers he received from the medical board.

His cases will be monitored, though. A consultant for the board will review medical charts from all of his surgeries for a year and for random surgeries the next year. He is also required to take a short course in breast surgery.

claimed that Mosley beat him severely on December 2 during an altercation near the home of Ray Johnson in Auxier. Powers testified that Lowe said Mosley assaulted him on a graveyard in Auxier and left him for dead.

One other case waived to the grand jury was Raymond Hall of Lackey, charged with cultivating marijuana more than five plants.

A hearing for Mike Napier of London, charged with trafficking in marijuana and cocaine, was postponed until December 21. Napier allegedly tried to sell drugs last week in front of the Floyd County Courthouse to an unidentified female.

said that kids are as good as gold and that Santa was not going to come to some good kids."

"I was in tears when she was through lecturing me," Hammond said.

As soon as he went back home to Louisville, he began collecting gifts for the children.

The donations come from churches, Little Leagues, and from dry cleaners. In Bowling Green, the donation effort was organized by Irene Meisel, whose Baptist church donated many of the items.

The partners are beginning a "Bundle Up Eastern Kentucky" drive which will be spearheaded by Plainview Cleaners in Louisville, and promise that next year, they will bring even more goodies to the area.

"We don't know where it will end up. It just keeps going," Hammond said.

The goodies will be distributed Saturday, December 17, during Eula Hall's annual Christmas celebration. Hall, who founded the clinic, couldn't keep her hands out of the boxes Wednesday. She kept picking up toys, wrapped packages and various items, smiling and saying, "Isn't this wonderful?"

"I just love to see the smiles on the children's faces," she said. "This will be the best Christmas we ever had."

She gazed at the many dolls grinning from their boxes and sighed, saying, "I never had a doll in my life. Now I have beautiful dolls."

"As a kid I never got toys for Christmas. It was sad. We couldn't afford toys," she said. "I want to make other children happy. There's so many unemployed people who just can't afford what they'd like to get for their children."

Administrative assistant Stephens remembered the times in her youth when her family was unable to buy her presents.

"When I was a little girl, we lived in a little teeny tiny trailer. My dad was sick and in the hospital. If it hadn't been for the Lion's Club, we wouldn't have had any Christmas," Stephens said.

She also remembered a birthday and her one present. "My uncle bought me a lemon meringue pie. I carried it and carried it. I carried it until it rotted," she said, as she helped carry toys into the storage area.

Eula Hall and her friends are seeing that area children and their parents will have a merry Christmas. On Saturday, Santa will distribute about 500 fruit baskets, candy and toys around 9:30 or 10 a.m. After that, project have totaled about $4,500 so far.

It was first estimated that it would cost over $100,000 to make repairs to the water tank after it was vandalized by several adults and juveniles. Water supply was cut off to the city for over a week when the offenders reportedly urinated in the tank and damaged a water meter on the site.

Lewandowski also reported that the utility department appeared to be in good financial condition and all known bills had been paid. He reported the department had a bank balance of $11,257.

Council also approved purchasing $2,495 in computer software so utility employees can do billing for the department.

Emma Lou Click was hired as a part-time clerk in the utility department.

Also Wednesday:

- Sherry Ratliff took her seat on the council, replacing Steve Jenkins who resigned in October;

- Council approved cost of living adjustments for full-time and part-time employees and authorized a turkey or ham to be given to active members of the fire department;

- Council briefly discussed hiring a class II operator for the new sewer plant after the mayor said council had until the first of the year to have one on board;

- Council agreed to notify two landowners that buildings on their property were in such disrepair that parents can choose clothing for their families.

Around 11:30, Christmas dinner, courtesy of Dr. Ortiz and Dr. Moore, will be served to those attending the event. Last year, approximately 900 people were at the Christmas festivities, Hall said.

Hall is expecting another truckload of Christmas presents today, Friday.

new jail project to be used to buy the courthouse site. Hammond said that the remaining amount of the additional funds in the jail project—$625,000—was obligated, but he did not specify where those funds would be spent.

Stumbo said that he felt comfortable that the county could afford the $222,000 annual payment. He added that if the county can lease the additional office space it would generate $813,000 a year.

The other two options considered by the county were:

- Plan B, which eliminated an underground parking garage and the additional floor of office space; and

- Plan C, which consisted of building only the AOC's part of the project, including two floors for circuit and district court offices.

The issue is expected to be discussed today (Friday) at the December fiscal court meeting which begins at 10 a.m. The meeting will be held in the conference room at the courthouse annex.

Liberty of thought is the life of the soul—Voltaire

A 'turn' for the better

by Scott Perry

In just two weeks and two days, we will be embarking upon the final five years of the 20th century.

It's amazing how far we've come since the last turn of a century.

Had we not been along for the ride for most of the second half of it, we might imagine the 1900s to be more science fiction than living fact.

Despite all the progress we've made over the years, we are likely to enter the 21st century in half a decade with too many of the same problems our ancestors faced coming into this one.

We have too many families without reliable, safe sources of drinking water.

We have too many adults who suffer from functional illiteracy.

We have too many children with children.

We have too many students falling through the cracks in our educational system.

We have too many people without jobs, without hope, and without the chance to fulfill their American dreams.

We haven't been able to adequately address these shortcomings in the past 95 years, so it's improbable we'll fix them in the next five.

Improbable, yes.

Impossible, no.

If we get our ducks in a row, and set our minds to it, we could wipe the slate clean of these problems by the year 2000.

We can deliver water to those who don't have it; we can teach our people to read and write; we can bring teen-age pregnancies under control; and we can help at-risk students.

Sure it will take time and money to set things straight.

But we can find both if we agree, as a total community, that these are our most pressing needs.

It's time for an old-fashioned barn raisin'.

We shouldn't wait for our government to lay the foundations, either.

Too much red tape and red ink there. And by the time we got past all the politics, we'd probably all be dead and buried.

Nope, forget the bureaucrats, and let's build an Eastern Kentucky, neighbor by neighbor, that we don't have to defend or be ashamed of.

We can do it if we try.

A tribute to Wilburn Jamerson

Editor:

The community of Wheelwright and surrounding areas have lost a beloved friend, Mr. Wilburn Jamerson.

Mr. J. was one of the finest men to walk the halls of Wheelwright High School. Just his presence alone commanded respect and he earned that respect by being fair and just to everyone.

I, as many of his students, trembled in my shoes when he walked by. He ran a tight ship because he cared about us. He touched my heart and I feel fortunate to have known him.

I send my condolences to Mrs. Jamerson, Dewey and his family. My thoughts and prayers have been with you through these difficult months. A wonderful light no longer shines here on earth, but shines much brighter in heaven.

Welfare has become more than a means of government assistance nowadays. It has become a way of life.

Time after time, people abuse the welfare system by not even attempting to get a job—but when you look at it from their angle, why should they?

Why go out and struggle on some minimum wage job when you can make more sitting at home drawing a welfare check?

It's terrible that this country's welfare system is set up that way, but one governor has introduced a plan to try and put a stop to it.

Virginia Governor George Allen has devised a welfare plan that doesn't allow it to become a way of life.

By his plan, a person would have 30 days after their first welfare check to find a job.

If no job is found within this period, the person receiving welfare must go to work doing community service for non-profit organizations.

This can continue for up to two years, and if no employment is found yet, the welfare is taken away.

Also, Allen's plan would not give more money for additional children.

Allen's plan is something that should have been implemented a long time ago. It's not fair to the people who try to go out and make a living with a low-paying job, and most of all, it's not fair to the people who pay for the welfare system through taxes.

This plan may sound a little radical and insensitive to the poor, but it would strengthen the system by preventing people from abusing it.

Although the plan has only been introduced, and not implemented, it is something that the U.S. government should take a long, hard look at and think about implementing nationwide.—Big Sandy News, Louisa

When bigger is better

Bigger isn't always better, Kentucky's public school districts need to recognize this truth. Sometimes, though bigger can be better. Kentucky's 172 rural water districts need to recognize this truth.

As a story in Monday's installment of the "Shadow Government" series showed, smaller water districts tend to charge their customers higher rates. They encounter more problems with their systems. They are cited more often for violations of state water quality rules. They are less likely to have adequately trained workers. They too often make decisions based on the whims of their board members.

Perhaps most important, many of them don't have the financial wherewithal to expand service into new areas without huge rate increases. That could be one reason 720,000 rural Kentuckians still don't have "city water."

Sixteen years ago, state legislators passed a law encouraging these small water district to merge. It hasn't done any good. The Public Service Commission has tried during those 16 years to force some mergers—with only minimal success.

Bob Davis, vice chairman of the PSC, says it's "a power thing" for members of water district boards. "They can tell Joe Smith whether he'll get water or not...If districts merge, some of them will lose their jobs; and that's the main thing holding it up."

Defenders of the small districts argue that their customers' needs would be ignored by larger systems. "We're afraid that if another water system operated this system, as rural as it is, we would be the last ones to get service," says Eula Hall, a commissioner of the Mud Creek Water District in Floyd County.

It's a legitimate concern, and any merger must guard against the small districts becoming the poor stepchildren in a larger system.

But this debate finally comes down to two basic issues: Too many small districts don't adequately serve the customers they have now; and 720,000 Kentuckians aren't served by any water district at all.

Sixteen years of encouraging mergers hasn't produced adequate solutions to these concerns. Maybe state lawmakers ought to think about a more forceful law on mergers—one that demonstrates a stronger commitment to providing clean, affordable drinking water to all Kentuckians.—Lexington Herald-Leader

Our Yesterdays

Ten Years Ago (December 19, 1984)

Four county officials—including three magistrates on the fiscal court—and a former deputy judge-executive were among 16 persons named in indictments handed down by a Floyd County Circuit Court jury. County officials indicted were Magistrate Kenneth Roberts, Magistrate Ed Caudill, Magistrate Lowell Samons, and former deputy judge-executive Thomas Lafferty Sr. Ricky Lee Perry, 22, and Clyde Perry Jr., 19, both of Middle Creek, were jailed on arson charges, following an early morning blaze last Monday that destroyed a Middle Creek furniture store. Distinguished speakers attended the re-dedication and re-naming of the Prestonsburg Job Corps Center in honor of the late Congressman Carl D. Perkins. Perkins was a supporter of the Job Corps since its inception in 1965 and was a frequent visitor to the center. There died: James Wesley Jarrell, 41, of Sugar Loaf, December 12; John H. Case, 86, of Honaker, Saturday at his home; Hent Newman, 70, of Hi Hat, Sunday at his residence; Connie Hal Meade, 90, of Bevinville, Saturday, December 15, at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital; Mildred Scarberry Sexton, 51, of Martin, last Thursday at Highlands Regional Medical Center; Willa Mae Rice, 79, of East Point, Thursday at Highlands Regional Medical Center; Lula Hayes Martin, 94, of Garrett, Saturday at Riverview Manor Nursing Home;

Those short, four-letter words formerly found mainly on outbuilding walls and the "frank" illustrations of the human anatomy are not in the textbooks used by Floyd County school children, and they will not be, county school officials said here last week. With the signing of a contract between Meals On Wheels and the Department of Human Resources last week, the Meals On Wheels program received funding under Title VI for a fully operational program in Floyd and Johnson counties. Coal production has not returned since the end of the UMW strike to its former frenetic activity, but rumors of a pronounced slump are unfounded, according to B. F. Reed, of the Turner Elkhorn Mining Company. A Japanese-made toy—Santa on a Seesaw—which was left running during the night, caused a fire at Abby's Gift Shop here early Sunday morning which caused an estimated $30,000 damage. The David Community Development Corporation expressed confidence this week that it will be able to buy the town of David from David Properties Inc. There died: Mrs. Leona Brewer, 90, of Wayland, Nov. 29 at Mountain Manor Nursing Home here; Christopher "Buck" Goble, 90, of Prestonsburg, Friday at Mountain Manor; Hiram "Buddy" Johnson, 85, last Tuesday at his home at Melvin; Mrs. Avenelle Hubbard Johnson, 71, formerly of this county, last Thursday in Springfield, O.; Tom Salisbury, 84, of Drift, Dec. 9 at Martin; Mrs. Jeri F. Brank, 23, former Wheelwright resident, Friday at Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Leona Tuttle, 66, of Bevinville, Dec. 7 at McDowell; Joney King, 63, of Bevinville, Dec. 8 at Mountain Manor; Lizzie Hurd DeRossett, 70, formerly of this county, Saturday in Warsaw, Ind.; Manuel A. Enos, 67, of McDowell, last Thursday at home; Mrs. Laura Hall, 78, of Weeksbury, Dec. 6 at Martin.

Thirty Years Ago (December 24, 1964)

The Merion Funeral Chapel opened this week at Martin in the former Ryan Funeral Home location after having lost its Wheelwright Junction business in a fire two months ago. Jimmy Ray, 28, of Prestonsburg, was severely injured, Wednesday morning of last week, when struck by a steel rail while working on the yard here of the Mountain Metal Company. The Allen Company Inc. of Winchester, is the apparent low bidder on the Prestonsburg-Salyersville arm of the Mountain Parkway. The nation's war on poverty received last Wednesday 162 new projects costing $82.6 million from President Johnson. Kentucky's share is nearly $10.5 million. Lynn, Laura and Kay, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Forrest Brown, underwent tonsillectomies Monday at the Prestonsburg General hospital. There died: Elder Hall, 41, of Printer, last Wednesday at the University Medical Center, Lexington; James Martin, 46, formerly of Wayland, December 16 in Gallipolis, Ohio; Woodrow Tackett, 25, of Price, December 16 at the Appalachian Regional Hospital at McDowell; Robert Lee Ritchie, 64, of Wayland, Saturday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin; Mrs. Lola Trusty, 69, of Lackey, December 11 at Golden Years Rest Home there; Wilson Allen, 50, formerly of Printer, Friday, December 11, at the Ashtabula General Hospital; Emmitt (Embo) Roberts, 60, of Harold, Saturday, December 12, at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville; Mrs. Elizabeth Woods, 73, of Allen, last Wednesday at Kings' Daughter's Hospital.

Forty Years Ago (December 23, 1954)

That Justice Bert T. Combs, of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, will oppose A. B. "Happy" Chandler for the Democratic nomination for Governor was regarded in Frankfort this week as a certainty, The Times learned Wednesday afternoon. Although the largest construction project planned at any Kentucky state park next year is a $125,000 undertaking at Dewey Lake, lack of access roads to the proposed site will delay construction there of a lodge and vacation cottages. School teachers in the Floyd County school district will be paid $879,743.20 in annual salaries during the present school year, or an average salary of $2,193.87, according to a salary schedule approved by the State Board of Education recently. Floyd County is ending the year on an unhappy financial note, it was indicated this week when the fiscal court found two of its funds exhausted and others nearly so. Born: to Pvt. and Mrs. Alex Patton, a daughter, December 21 at the Prestonsburg General Hospital. There died: Mrs. Jane Spurlock, 72, of West Prestonsburg, Monday at the Prestonsburg General Hospital; Evan S. Jones, 80, last Friday at his home at East McDowell; L. V. Goble, 63, of Lancer, Wednesday at the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville; Jack Gray, 89, of Allen, Wednesday at the home of a daughter; Mrs. Fannie A. Jenkins, 49, Wednesday at her home at Allen; Kenneth Wade Tipton, 15, Tuesday at home at Harold.

Hackworth, of Bonanza, in Germany December 2, and James Edward Collins, of Wayland, November 9 in the Pacific war theatre. Second Lt. Bermon Martin, of Allen, pilot with the 306th Bombardment Group, has been awarded his third Air Medal, the Air Force announces from England. Circuit Judge Henry Stephens was this week reported completing details of the purchase of the lot formerly occupied by the Baptist Church at the corner of Broadway and Court. Reported price is $15,000 with Judge Stephens contributing an additional $1,000 toward construction of another church structure on the Mays lot on First avenue. Snow fell this week, plenty of it; schools were closed; more snow expected for Christmas—and at least the children were happy. There died: E. L. Hall, 62, Saturday at McDowell; Mrs. Ruby Honeycutt, 31, at Auxier, December 11; Mrs. Exer Lackey, 39, of Weeksbury, last Thursday at a Martin hospital; Mrs. Dora Shepherd Horn, 78, Wednesday at West Prestonsburg; G. B. Newman Sr., 56, November 23 at Hi Hat.

Sixty Years Ago (December 21, 1934)

Jody Adams, 34, brother of Sam Adams, victim in a celebrated Floyd murder case, was shot to death Sunday at Burton. County Attorney Forrest D. Short, Oscar P. and J. D. Bond are representing three Johnson county men in a $75,000 damage suit in which the plaintiffs claim they were mistreated while prisoners in the Johnson County jail. Tax cuts will happen, but modestly

by Kenneth Eskey
Scripps Howard News Service
So many critics are poking holes in the tax cuts promised by Newt Gingrich and his fellow House Republicans that a casual reader might easily get the wrong impression.

The wrong impression is that the proposed cuts are a pipe dream cooked up by politicians who know they can't be enacted into law.

Believe this: There will be tax cuts next year.

But believe this, too: The cuts will be much smaller and less extensive than the Republican "Contract With America" proclaims.

Even taxpayers with short memories will recall that President Clinton promised a middle-class tax cut during the presidential campaign of 1992. Once elected, Clinton decided that reducing the federal budget deficit took precedence. So taxes went up, not down.

Now that Republicans have taken over both houses of Congress and are hell-bent on slashing taxes, Clinton has no choice but to go along. The administration will accept a middle-class tax cut says Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen, if some way can be found to pay for it.

Aye, there's the rub. How to pay for it.

One way, favored by disciples of Reaganomics, is to assume that tax cuts will generate more, not less, revenue by stimulating the economy. This dynamic approach to revenue estimates is considered "nonsense" by Clinton's budget director, Alice Rivlin, but defenders argue that tax cuts do have an economic impact that can't be ignored.

Republicans insist they will come up with a long list of budget cuts to offset any revenue that might be lost. The specifics should be interesting. Will they, for example, be willing to cut farm subsidies? And what about military spending? Republicans say they want to spend more money, not less money, on defense.

Of all the proposed tax cuts, two are almost certain to have bipartisan support. The first is a tax credit for families with children but not the $500-per-child credit Republicans have been promoting. That's too expensive.

More likely to be passed is a smaller tax credit limited to families earning less than, say, $100,000 a year.

The second sure thing is a reduction in the capital gains tax (currently capped at 28 percent) to encourage investment and make it less costly to sell stock, real estate and other assets.

Much of the benefit would go to wealthy investors, but a lower capital gains tax, perhaps indexed to inflation, also would help farmers, small businesses, retirees who must sell assets to pay for nursing care and entrepreneurs seeking start-up capital.

"A capital gains tax cut that's an absolute," says Richard Grafmeyer, former senior tax counsel to the Senate Finance Committee, now a tax policy expert for Ernst & Young in Washington.

For one thing, a lower capital gains tax, though it might cost the government $50 billion over five years in lost revenues, would generate some revenues of its own by stepping up the sale of assets that might otherwise be locked away and forgotten.

One proposal that makes little sense is the Senior Citizens Fairness Act repealing the tax on 85 percent of Social Security benefits received by single retirees with incomes exceeding $34,000 a year and retired couples with incomes exceeding $44,000.

There simply is no reason why retirees with comfortable incomes should be given tax-free benefits while young workers with homes to buy and children to educate are paying stiff Social Security taxes.

Shots fired into two local businesses

Shots were fired through the windows of two Louisa businesses last Friday night, one of them hitting a wall just above an employee's head.

Police said that at about 9:40 p.m., a shot was fired through a window of Ashland Fast Lube and another into the Dollar General Store.

Louisa Police Department's Sergeant K. T. Adkins said the shots were from a .22 caliber weapon, but they are still not sure where they came from.

"It has not been determined whether the subject was on the hillside or if it was a drive-by," Adkins said.

No one was injured by the shots, but Dollar General manager Judy Cantrell said the shot came close to her.

"It sounded like a light bulb going off," Cantrell said. "If it had been a little bit lower, it probably would have hit the back of me."

Cantrell was up front running a register at the time the shot was fired.

David Muncy, owner of Ashland Fast Lube, said the shot went through the glass in his building from the side facing Ky. 32.

"I think it might have been a drive-by," Muncy said.

Adkins said the Lawrence County Sheriff's Department and the Louisa Police Department are conducting an investigation.—Big Sandy News, Louisa

Mine inspector pleads not guilty

A federal mine inspector pleaded not guilty Tuesday to charges he took $2,900 in bribes from an Eastern Kentucky coal operator in exchange for not issuing safety citations. U.S. District Judge Joseph Hood in Pikeville scheduled a March 13 trial for T. Richard Oney, 46, of Vincennes, Indiana. A federal grand jury indicted Oney December 1 on two counts of extortion and one count of conspiring with another U.S. Mine Safety and Health Administration inspector. The alleged bribes took place between October 1989 and January 1990, when Oney worked in MSHA's Pikeville district.—Lexington Herald-Leader

'Tis the season to be jolly—and safe, with the gift of a fire-resistant home safe or storage chest.

In Memory

Howard Estill Allen was born on December 31, 1914, and died December 7, 1994. For those doing the arithmetic, Howard was three and half weeks shy of being 80.

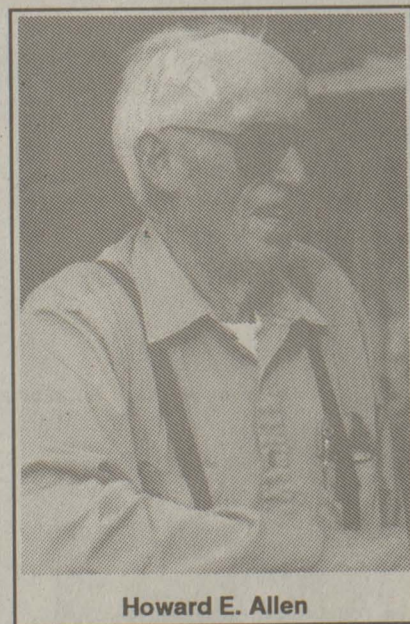

He was born to Melvin V. and Lula Gearhart Allen. He attended Maytown High School. Like many of the Allen sons and daughters, he taught school on a high school certificate—mainly at Garrett—while taking college classes in the summers. He attended Pikeville College and Morehead Teachers College, completing three years in the field of education.

Howard's father bought a 512-acre farm on Lost Creek in Carter County in 1927. Howard assumed management of that farm in 1938.

Howard Estill Allen of Right Beaver Creek near Eastern and Olga Emily Rice of Prater Creek near Banner married July 15, 1940. The preacher who performed the ceremony was Elder Elax Allen, a long-time friend.

Howard and Olga changed the farm operation to dairying in 1954. They milked cows until 1975. The dairy barn and all of the equipment is still there. He continued to farm, putting all the plow land into hay and tobacco.

A farmer has to be many things—soil scientist, horticulturalist, a master of animal husbandry, accountant, financier, mechanic, plumber, electrician, carpenter. The carpenter took a serious interest in woodworking several years after he shut down the dairy business, and he continued to build and finish all manner of things from rough and fine woods until diabetes dimmed his eyesight.

Howard E. Allen

Family meant a great deal to Howard. Among the 11 brothers and sisters, he was known as the peacemaker. He was the one with whom everyone could talk.

He loved politics and for him there was only one party a thinking person voted for—Democratic. He was a lifelong member of the Carter County Farm Bureau, actively participating in the business of the organization for 40 years.

For Howard, there was only one way to do a job—the right way and with the right tools. Honesty was his trademark in dealing with others. Using the latest farming information was central to his farming philosophy, and that meant he was a constant reader of agricultural publications and Extension Service bulletins.

He lived by a small handful of precepts: Life is what you make it; share every day with others; do unto others as they do unto you, only with honesty; and be the same person with everyone you meet, every time you meet them. As a consequence, he could say and did say, "I've enjoyed every day of my life."

He leaves behind his wife, Olga; his daughter, Sallie; a son-in-law, Jerry Peterson; three brothers: Woodrow of Hitchens, James of Maytown and Curtis of Sun City, AZ; and two sisters: Anna Mae Curtis and Elva Kirby, both of Greenfield, IN. His love for you was great.

O' CHRISTMAS TREE

One day last week a friend of mine who is extremely busy, because she is going back to college and trying to juggle a family life, asked if I had put up my Christmas tree. When I replied that I had not I asked her the same question.

"No, not yet," she laughed. "My son says that I put up the tree when we get out for Christmas and take it down at Spring break. And you know, he's almost right. I remember taking it down because family was coming for Easter and I didn't want them to see it. Of course my husband told me I could tell them I was just getting an early start on the season."

I understood perfectly. Putting up a tree is a time-consuming job. And from all accounts, it's supposed to be a family thing. At least that's what all the old movies always depicted. The family gathered around the Christmas tree drinking egg nog and eating home baked desserts while everyone pitched in and helped in trimming the tree. It's an idyllic picture, but I've come to believe that it's as hokey as the Easter bunny. (I would have said the fat guy, but you just never know.)

It has been my experience that (most) men are not handy when it comes to decorating Christmas trees. In fact, their Christmas tree expertise probably falls somewhere between buying an extension cord and telling you how to position the tree. And from what I've been told, a person is lucky if the man even stays in the same room while the tree is being decorated.

"Honey, do we have an extension cord?" I asked, as I held up the tree with one hand.

"Go look in the garage?" he replied without even as much as a glance in my direction.

"Is the tree straight?" I asked again.

Without even turning his head or taking his eyes off the television he replied, "It wasn't a minute ago. It needs to be turned toward the wall."

"Why didn't you tell me?"

"You didn't ask. When you asked, I told you."

My head filled with thoughts of Jimmy Stewart and Donna Reed gathered around the tree with their children singing Christmas carols and laughing. It had to be a farce. Another fantasy for the movie industry, because in my household as I labored over the Christmas tree and the decorations, one third of my family was reclined in a chair watching T.V. while the other third was horizontally positioned in bed sawing logs.

"Jimmie, would it be an imposition to ask if you cared to help me put the lights up outside?"

"Right now?"

"No. Saturday week about 4 o'clock. Yes! Right now. When else would I do it?"

"Preferably when you can get someone else to help you. I'm not good with that stuff, anyway."

"And I'm an expert, right? You might get good at it if you did it enough."

"That's what I'm afraid of. And since you do it so well, there's no need to try to outdo you. Anyway, I like the way you decorate better."

"Better than what? Better than you do?"

"Sara, calm down. What's the big deal about this, anyway?"

"The big woo about this is that I always have to do it and you and J.R. never help. I take that back. You helped drag the tree in last year and once many years ago, J.R. put helmets on the tree."

"Helmets! That was a hoot wasn't it?"

When J.R. was about nine-

THE TIMES' WEEKEND

Past meets present at special Christmas Concert tonight

PRESTONSBURG HONOR CHOIR

Voices from the past

Former members of the Prestonsburg High School Honor Choir will join their voices with the current honor choir to celebrate their 15th year of bringing music to the county. The honor choir is directed by Elizabeth Frazier.

The Prestonsburg High School Honor Choir is celebrating its 15th year of musical excellence in Prestonsburg and the surrounding area by presenting a special Christmas Concert, Friday, December 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Christ United Methodist Church in Allen.

Over 100 voices will unite as many of the past members will join the choir for the conclusion of the concert.

The Honor Choir was organized in 1980 by Elizabeth Frazier to give students an opportunity to explore their talents and develop musical skills. It also helps students to achieve excellence in performance, do community service and develop a feeling of self worth and confidence.

The students have performed across the state, as well as Canada, New York, Nashville, Atlanta, Daytona Beach, Orlando, St. Louis and Gatlinburg. The choir consistently receives superior ratings at the K.M.E.A. music festivals and presents three performances of its outstanding spring concert each year.

The alumni will rehearse with the choir at 6 p.m. The concert is free and open to the public.

News of the Weird

According to the prosecutor, a 22-year-old Cincinnati woman who accused a bus driver in June of raping her actually consented to the sex, or, at least, two of her 10 multiple personalities did. The woman told police that all 10 witnessed the attack, including a 4-year-old and a ninja warrior, and the bus driver's lawyer was granted up to three opportunities in pre-trial depositions to meet as many of the personalities as he can. And in Prince William County, Va., Edward B. Kelly, 44, is scheduled for trial in February (in the same court that heard the Bobbitt cases) for binding and raping a woman he met in a therapy group for people with multiple personalities. However, Kelly said the sex was consensual between one of his personalities and one of the woman's.

THE ANIMAL KINGDOM

In June, the Central Park Zoo revealed that it had paid an animal behaviorist $25,000 for psychotherapy for Gus, its 9-year-old polar bear, who was involved in various repetitive behaviors, which the zoo director said could have been a mild neurosis. The behaviorist recommended creating games to make Gus' life less monotonous.

On a sanctuary island off the coast of Mauritius, England's Jersey Wildlife Preservation Trust has run breeding programs for seriously endangered species, including the extremely rare Mauritius kestrel falcon and the equally rare Mauritius pink pigeon. In October, the trust announced that one of the falcons had swooped down and eaten one of the pigeons.

Among the latest animal inheritances: In January, Anna Morgan of Seattle left an estate valued at $500,000 to Tinker, her 11-year-old Turkish Angora cat; Morgan's apartment will be maintained, and a live-in caretaker hired, purely for Tinker's benefit. And in August in Santa Ana, Calif., the executor of LaVerne Wheeler's $2.1 million estate announced that Wheeler's two brothers would receive only $25,000 each, much to their chagrin, but that the Santa Ana Police Department K-9 Corps would receive $612,000.

In June, the Brookfield (Mo.) News Bulletin reported that three cows at the University of Missouri Forage Systems Research Center near Linneus, Mo., have been surgically equipped with removable "portholes" so that researchers can ascertain what the cows have eaten. Twice a week, animal science students reach into the cow's stomach, remove the contents, send the cow out to graze, and then recheck the stomach's contents when the cow returns. According to one student, the cow doesn't seem to mind the procedure. "They just stand there and ignore us."

JUST CAN'T STOP MYSELF

In Belleville, Ill., in September, James Dowdy, 23, was sentenced to three years in prison after being arrested carrying a bag of stolen socks. He was at the time on probation for another sock theft and has never been accused of stealing anything except socks.

To help cleanse himself from a 1993 vandalism episode, Robert D. Pollard Jr. wrote his community an "apology from the heart," published in the Winston-Salem (N.C.) Journal. Writing that he was "really and truly sorry," he went on for several paragraphs about the "great change" in his life because of Jesus, who "has really shown me that he is the only way out." The Journal published the letter on March 7, 1994. Elsewhere in that edition was a news story reporting that police had charged Pollard on March 6 with punching his wife in the face with his fist.

Betty Lou Blair, 48, was arrested in October after holding Knoxville, Tenn., police at bay with a shotgun for more than an hour. Over the last 12 years, Blair has been arrested 425 times, mostly for behaviors induced by alcohol consumption, such as disturbing the peace, indecent exposure, and urinating in public.

With every politician from President Bill to the local dog warden promising a middle class tax cut in 1995, we should remind you that nobody gets any breaks unless the tax reductions are offset with spending cuts or new money-producing programs.

And, since everybody wants to trim the size of government, except for any programs which might personally affect themselves, it stands to reason that we'll have to find new ways to raise money.

It just so happens that we've got a few proposals for new taxes that will help make up the difference, and they're all voluntary, or sort of.

Here goes...

- The Prayer-In-School Collection. Forget the constitutional amendment and just start passing the plate at school prayer meetings. Hey, it works for churches.

- The Baseball Salary Surcharge. Any player with a batting average below .250 has to turn .250 of his salary to the federal government.

- The O.J. Simpson Verdict Line. Save the taxpayers the cost of a trial and make money, too. Dial 1-900-Guilty or 1-900-Innocent ($1.95 per minute). Whichever line gets the most calls over a year's time decides the verdict.

- The Pass the Buck Tax. Blame anyone you want, for anything you want, anytime you want and pass one buck each time to the federal government.

- Get Out of Jail Free Card. Eliminate all probation and parole agencies and the expenses that go with them by issuing one card to every man, woman and child in the U.S. One jail-free crime to a customer. Non-violent offenders only.

- Campaign Promise Tax. Anytime an elected official breaks a campaign promise, he forfeits his or her salary for the rest of his or her term.

- Four Bits for Four Letter Words Fee. Fifty-cents per profanity from movie makers and stand up comedians.

- Elvis Sighting Licenses. Only licensed spotters will be recognized for publicity. Others will be fined.

- Brussels Sprouts Ban. Anyone caught cooking or eating those things has to pay a fine.

- Plumber's Butt Tax. You show it, you owe it. That last one could put an end to our problems all by itself.

R.J. threatened to tell Asa about his "business" dealings with Alex, unless she sold Olanov's to him. Clint warned Joey he'll be disinherited if he continues his relationship with Dorian. A devastated Todd learned his father left him nothing. Wait To See: Sam Vance may have an important clue for David.

YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS: Matt told Amy that Victor paid for the surgery for Sharon's mother, which could mean Nick was still interested in Sharon. Matt suggested she go all out to snare Nick, including getting pregnant. Despite everyone's objection to her presence, Phyllis insisted on staying at Rex's funeral. Chris and Paul tiffed over her seeming interest in Danny's problems. Brad learned that Blade refused to accept Ashley's statement that she had seen him lurching with Mari Jo. Ashley rejected Brad's suggestion that she leave Blade for lying to her. Silva doubted the sincerity of John's offer to make Jill head of a Beverly Hills office. Wait To See: Chris' romantic future suddenly seems darkened.

"I might just keep the tree up until Easter. Then I know he'll at least help me take it down."

IN FOCUS—KATHIE LEE GIFFORD: Among the holiday fare being offered up on television this week is CBS' "Kathie Lee ... Looking for Christmas."

I asked the very busy entertainer, businesswoman, wife and mother, who shares the TV screen with Regis Philbin five days a week on their fabulously successful daytime show, "Live with Regis and Kathie Lee," what prompted her to do this special.

"I've felt for a very long time," she said, "that so many of us have forgotten that what Christmas is really about is family and friends, and the beauty of sharing the wonderful things about this holy season with them. And that's what we're doing on this show. You'll see Frank (her husband) and me, and our children, Cody and Cassidy, and friends such as Regis and Dr. Billy Graham, in our home. And you'll see other friends, such as Vanessa Williams singing some wonderful songs, and Tony Randall—who'll be doing a skit at FAO Schwarz, the world's most fabulous toy store—and Miss America 1995, Heather Whitestone, and others.

"When I was growing up, we had a lot more shows like this at Christmas, where a family could sit down and watch together," Gifford said, "and I would hope we can see more shows for and about family coming on during the holidays."

DIAL TONES: The Learning

Channel airs a new series, "Smithsonian's Great Battles of the Civil War," debuting December 26. With this series, you'll come as close as possible to experiencing virtual reality when you find yourself watching battle scenes that make you feel you're actually there. (NOTE: Set your VCR for TLC on January 2 when the entire 13-part series will air from noon to 3 a.m. in "The Great Civil War Marathon.")

Christmas should be about love and children, but for some youngsters, the holiday is only a painful reminder of what they don't have. On "My So-Called Life," airing on ABC December 22, Angela (Claire Danes) meets Joy, a homeless girl played by Juliana Hatfield, and discovers that but for one of life's many twists and turns, she could be in Joy's situation.

Auxier Lady Hornets fall from ranks of undefeated

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Adams Middle School Lady Blackcats caught the Auxier Lady Hornets in their own backyard and came home with a 48-47 win to hand Auxier their first loss of the basketball season.

The Lady Hornets fall to 10-1 on the season.

Kimi Nunnery scored a game high 24 points to lead the Lady Blackcats to the victory.

Auxier led 47-46 with Nunnery going to the free throw line with just eight seconds left to play. Nunnery dropped in both tosses to give Adams the one point lead.

"Kimi played a good game against us," said Auxier assistant coach Jerome Greathouse. "She turned it up a notch playing against us."

Adams had little trouble with the Auxier press and quickness that has bothered other teams.

"They did a good job of picking it apart," said Greathouse.

Greathouse is concerned with the way the Lady Hornets have been playing lately.

"Unless we get back to our game plan that we had at the start of the season we could be in trouble," said Greathouse.

Candy Howard led the Lady Hornets scoring with 14 points. Shelly Greathouse tossed in 13 and Tonya Honeycutt netted eight. Mandy Music scored seven.

Crystal Slone tossed in 11 points for the winning Adams team. Kim Slone totaled five.

Greathouse said that his team was guilty of bad shot selection.

"We took shots that we didn't need to take," he said. "We just ran rampant on the floor."

He said that his team seemed more interested in playing offense and no defense.

"We need to be more intense on defense than what we were," he said.

Auxier had the final shot of the game but it fell short as Howard launched the ball toward the basket.

Nunnery won the individual free throw trophy for the shootout.

Hunter scores 25 as Duff edges Maytown 59-55

by Ed Taylor

It was a barn burner as well as a nail-biter at McDowell last Saturday evening when two of the top grade school teams met on the basketball floor.

Duff got 25 points from Gary Hunter and 16 from Rodney Bentley to offset the double figure scoring of four Maytown players en route to a 59-55 win over the Wildcats.

The two teams faced each other in the first round of the McDowell PTA Christmas Tournament.

Hall hits five treys, scores 27 points in Runnin' Rebels 82-66 victory over Pike Central Hawks

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Johnny Martin took his Allen Central Rebels on the road this past Tuesday night. The Runnin' Rebels lived up to their name running their way to an 82-66 win over a very good Pike County Central team. The game was played at the Mullins gym.

Allen Central's quickness and stingy defense spelled trouble for the Hawks in the second half. According to Coach Martin it was the difference in the game.

"We were a little quicker than they were," he said. "We have a tendency to wear a team down toward the end of the ball game."

"The second half we came out real flat offensively I thought. We were doing some things good on defense. We just couldn't convert offensively," he said.

The Hawks tried everything to stop Jeremy Hall who led all scorers with 27 points. Hall busted the nets for 24 points in the first half, but the changing defenses of Pike Central slowed the senior guard down in the second half.

"Pike Central played a lot of junk defenses like a 1-3 chaser, box and chaser," said Coach Martin. "They were double teaming Jeremy, and he got frustrated over it."

"He needs to realize he has to give the ball up because the other kids on the team can play too," Martin said.

Sophomore Thomas Jenkins added 17 points and his base line speed was more than Pike Central could handle. He drove the base line and went strong to the basket for easy lay in's.

Kevin Stumbo scored in double figures with 14 points. Stumbo had one of those night's as he had trouble holding on to the basketball. He had several break-away baskets only to see the ball slip out of his hands.

It was a very physical game and the tempo was high.

"I like an up tempo game like that," said the Allen Central mentor. "Where we can get up and down the floor. If we can do that and score a lot of points, we are going to win some ball games."

The Rebels built a 10 point lead mid way through the first period only to see the Hawks come clawing their way back into the game.

Allen Central led 22-12 on a three-point basket by Hall with 2:03 left in the first period. They led again 24-14 later.

But the Hawks went on an 8-1 run toward the end of the period for a 25-22 Allen Central game. Jeremy Eplin drilled a trey, Evan Charles scored on a lay-up and Jamie Hamilton hit a trey to make it a three-point game. The score was tied only once in the first period and that was at 2.

Hamilton's fourth three-pointer of the game brought the Hawks to within one point, 37-36, with just over two minutes to play.

But Allen Central ran off 11 straight points to open up a 48-36 lead with 51 seconds left in the first half. The Rebels led by 12 points, 50-38, at the half.

A lay-up by Jenkins with six minutes to play in the game gave the Rebels their biggest lead, 73-50.

The Prestonsburg Blackcats snapped a modest four game losing streak by posting a 77-67 win over the Elkhorn City Cougars Tuesday night.

Coach Gordon Parido's Cats are 1-4 for the season.

Senior Toby Robinson continued his torrid shooting as he had a season high 35 points to lead the Blackcats. His previous high came against Belfry last week when he scorched the basket for 34 points.

Robinson, who shoots better from far out, buried seven three-pointers.

He opened the game by drilling two consecutive three-pointers and hit a third after Brett James scored on a lay-up. The 11-0 run gave the Blackcats an early lead.

Their defense took Elkhorn completely out of their game plan as they held the Cougars to eight first period points while building a 25-8 lead. Robinson hit four treys in the first period.

Elkhorn cut into the Prestonsburg lead as the Blackcats led by 11 at the half, 41-30.

The final score was as close as the Cougars could get.

Brett James was the only other Blackcat to score in double figures finishing with 13.

However, the Blackcats had a string of players in the scoring column as Coach Parido played a lot of people.

Kevin Robinson and Thomas Ratliff each scored seven with Clint Shutts finishing with six. Both Robinson and Ratliff had a three-point basket.

Nathan Ratliff led Elkhorn with 22 points. Chad Ahn tossed in 14 with Brian Cantrell and Shawn May scoring 10 each.

Robinson is averaging just over 25 points per game and has hit 25 three-point shots already this season.

His season low came against Sheldon Clark when he sat out most of the second half.

He had seven three-point baskets against Belfry last week.

Bobcats better Phelps Hornets behind quintet

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Keith Henry had five players to score in double figures and saw his ballclub pull out a hard fought 66-64 win over the Phelps Hornets Tuesday night at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse.

Derrick Newsome led the scoring parade for the Bobcats, finishing with 15 points. Point guard Stevie Johnson tossed in 14 with Willie Meade and Mike Howard netting 11 each. Ryan Hamilton added 10 points.

Jason Tackett scored four and Chris Hicks finished with one.

Senior Bud Sanson led the Hornets with 22 points. Matt Mercer totaled 19 points in the game.

Phelps jumped out quickly and led 13-8 after the initial period. Newsome came on in the second period and led a Bobcat charge that tied the game at 27 to end the half.

The Bobcats looked impressive in the third period as they out scored the Hornets 20-11 to assume a 47-38 lead.

But Phelps mounted their own threat in the fourth period and almost pulled the game out.

Meade stood at the free throw line with the Bobcats nursing a one point lead, 65-64 with less than three seconds left to play. Meade missed the first foul shot but hit the second to give the Bobcats a 66-64 advantage. Sanson tried a desperation shot that fell short.

Daniel Lester and Darin Casey had six points each for Phelps. Jason Sanson added five.

The victory was the second straight for Betsy Layne, who evened their record at 2-2. Phelps fell below .500 at 2-3.

Prestonsburg will take part in the Greenup County Invitational Tournament Monday night.

Martin, Howard combine to lead Maytown past Auxier

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It had the atmosphere of a county final as the Auxier Lady Hornets and Maytown Lady Wildcats met for the third time this basketball season.

The Lady Hornets took the first two games but this time it was the Lady Wildcats following the torrid shooting of Dalenda Howard and Jessica Martin that sent Maytown to a thrilling 66-61 double overtime win over the Auxier.

Howard led all scorers with 27 points. Martin added 22 for Maytown.

Shelly Greathouse and Tonya Honeycutt shared scoring honors for Auxier with 19 apiece. Brandy Wells tossed in 11.

It was the second consecutive loss for Auxier, who had won their first ten games.

Technical fouls on the Auxier bench contributed to the setback as assistant coach Jerome Greathouse was whistled for two technicals in the second overtime.

The two teams were tied at 52 after regulation play. The score was knotted at 57 after the first overtime.

Howard scored five points in the second extra period, three of four from the free throw line, to send Maytown to victory.

Auxier squandered a first half lead taking a 30-21 lead to the locker room at the half. But Maytown came in the second half to play basketball and a tight man-to-man defense on Honeycutt and Greathouse allowed the Lady Wildcats to climb back in the game.

Both Honeycutt and Greathouse only scored three points in the third period as Maytown went on a 16-10 spurt.

Maytown held a 52-50 lead toward the end of regulation but Greathouse, on a steal, went in for a lay-up that tied the game at 52.

Barb Prater scored six points for Maytown. Susan Scarberry added four with Jenny Wells and Angie Green scoring two each.

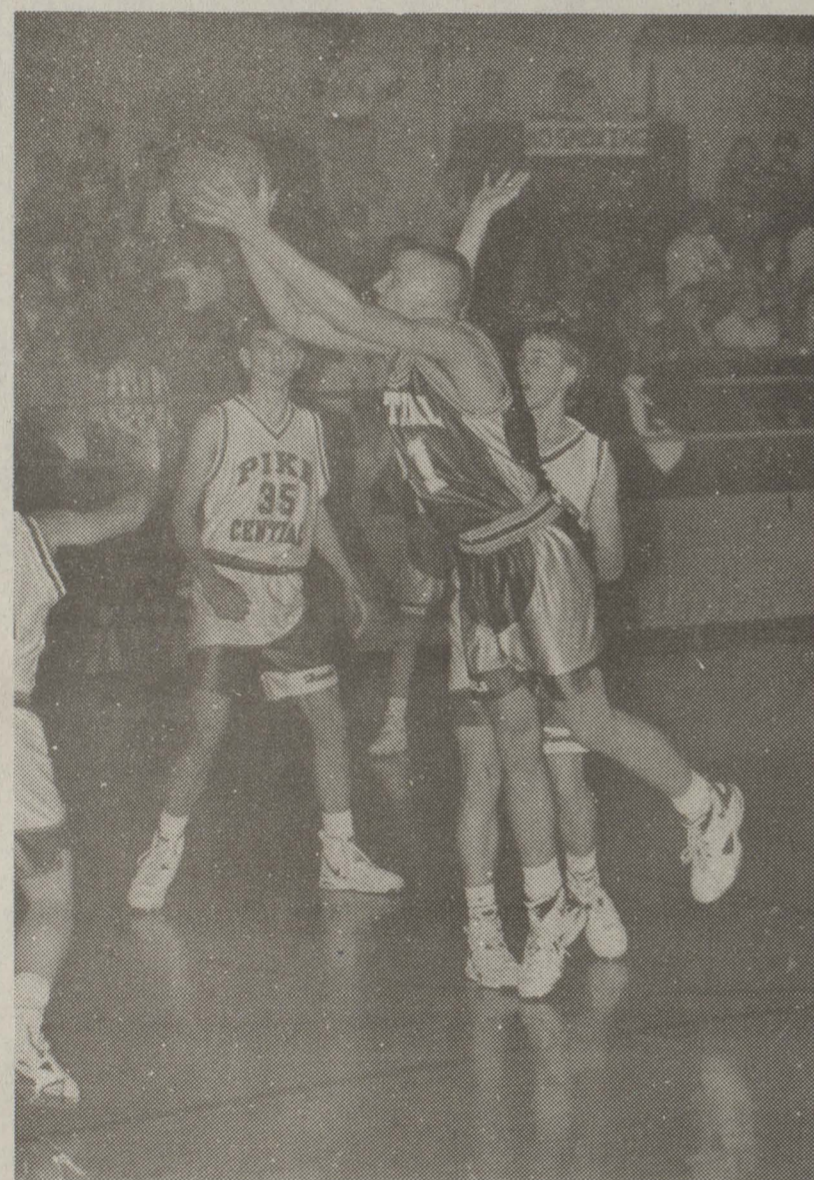

Candy Howard tossed in eight for Auxier. Mandy Music, a fifth grader, scored four.

Both teams struggled from the free throw line. Auxier hit only 13 of 39 attempts. Maytown connected on 14 of 33 tries.

Paige's trey at :02 sends McDowell past Martin

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Martin Purple Flash held Justin Paige scoreless in the first half of their game last Saturday in the McDowell PTA Christmas Tournament, but he came up with a big basket in the final seconds of the game which gave the Daredevils a 55-54 win over Doug Derossett's ballclub.

Paige's team trailed Martin 54-52 when the ball was placed in his hands. Larry Mullins had hit one of two free throws to give Martin a two point advantage.

Paige pulled up at the head of the three-point circle and let the ball sail toward the basket. The ball bounced hard off the backboard and through the net with only two seconds left on the scoreboard to give the Daredevils the victory.

Ryan Shannon led McDowell in scoring with 19 points. Paige finished with 13 points including two three-point baskets. Paige also had two treys.

Martin's James Seward led all scorers with his 23 points. Seward scored 10 of those in the fourth period to bring Martin back from a six point deficit.

The Daredevils held a 43-35 lead entering the fourth period and extended the lead to nine, 46-37 on Paige's first three-pointer. Seward then scored three consecutive baskets to make it a 46-43 game with just under three minutes to play.

A free throw by Ryan Shannon and Paige's old-fashioned three-point play put the lead back to seven, 50-43.

Seward hit a short turnaround jumper and Mullins buried a three-pointer with 2:15 left to play for a 50-48 game. Seward took a nice pass from Brian Jones and slipped underneath for a lay-up to tie the game at 50.

With 1:29 showing on the scoreboard clock, Martin took the lead on a free throw by Jesse Hall. McDowell turned the ball over with 24 seconds to play, and Mullins hit two free throws for a 53-50 Martin lead.

Martin allowed Chad Tuttle to go underneath for an uncontested lay-up with 11 seconds left for a 53-52 game.

It was then that Mullins was sent to the line with 11 second to go and he hit the first and missed the second.

The two teams played to a 9 all tie in the first period but McDowell owned the 29-23 halftime lead.

Landon Frazier scored eight for McDowell in the win. Darren Newsome and Tuttle scored four each. Fred Grey also had four points. Daniel Lafferty netted three.

Mullins finished with 12 points for Martin, who was playing without starter Matthew Mayo. Jones added nine points including two three-pointers. Hall had eight points and Chris Damron scored two.

Rebels

the backboards for Allen Central. Bevins only scored seven points in the game but pulled down 11 rebounds.

Rocky Newsome came off the bench and sparked the Rebels when they needed it.

"Rocky played a great game on defense for us," said Coach Martin. "He had a lot of steals and sparked us there at one time."

Coach Martin said that Newsome is still not in the condition that he needs to be in.

"That's what hurts him right now," said Martin. "He really puts a lot of pressure on the ball though. He does a good job for us."

Unofficially, Newsome had five steals in the game and scored a season high 13 points.

While it was a very physical game, Coach Martin said that was the way his team likes to play.

"It was an unbelievable physical game," he said. "But our kids like that kind of game."

Beau Tackett added two points for the Rebels as did Matt Crawford.

Hamilton led Pike Central with 26 points. Lance Bowman tossed in 11 and Nathan Hinkle scored nine.

Hall hit the first five three-pointers that he shot until the Hawks double teamed him in the second half.
