Judge orders Grigsby reinstated with pay

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A judgment was entered last week in Floyd Circuit Court granting former Floyd County school assistant superintendent Pete Grigsby Jr. back pay and reinstatement to his position.

Circuit Judge John David Caudill ruled that Grigsby was not properly notified of his demotion in 1993 by former superintendent Steve Towler and that he was denied a due process hearing.

Caudill's ruling said the amount of monetary damages owed to Grigsby would be addressed in a future hearing.

Grigsby has a history of surviving attempts to oust him from the school system, winning at least two prior civil suits against the board.

Current school superintendent Gene Davis said Tuesday he was sure the ruling would be discussed at last night's (Tuesday's) school board meeting. Davis said he was not sure how the ruling would affect the district's finances or if the ruling would be appealed.

Grigsby's attorney, Mickey McGuire of Prestonsburg, said Fri-

McGuire also represents former central office administrators Tommy Thompson and Wayne

tary judgment would be "the lowest of the three" because Grigsby has remained employed in the school system.

The three filed suit against the board, claiming their jobs were improperly eliminated under a central office reorganization in 1993. The suit also claimed that the board violated the state's Open Meeting Laws by discussing the reorganization plan in a closed session.

A Kentucky Court of Appeals ruling said the plan was improperly discussed by the board during a closed session, which was called when McGuire passed around a proposed lawsuit regarding the reorganization prior to the board's discussion on the issue in 1993.

The Court of Appeals ruling has been appealed by the board to the state Supreme Court. The Supreme Court has not ruled on that matter.

In Caudill's ruling, the judge found that Grigsby was not notified by May 15 of a reduction in his salary, as required by state teacher

Witness says suspects seen prior to heist

by Chris McDavid
Staff Writer

Two witnesses identified Nora Lee Mastin and her brother, Charles Ray Moore, as the Bank Josephine bank robbers, but their accounts of what happened and what they saw differed.

Tammy Hollifield testified that she saw the two subjects around 10:45 a.m. on the day of the robbery pulling onto Route 80 from the emergency lane and they almost hit her husband's vehicle.

The Garrett branch of the Bank Josephine was robbed on July 23, 1996 at 11 a.m., and the robbers were in the bank for less than one minute.

"I focused in on the first person," Hollifield said Monday. "I noticed something strange about her face — a puckered scar on her right cheek."

Hollifield said she knew the first subject was a woman because the genitalia area on the rider was "different than a man's."

Hollifield also testified that the first subject was wearing a white and black coat and a pair of tennis shoes, and the second subject was wearing a hood over part of his head.

However, when Hollifield looked at pictures taken from the bank's surveillance camera, she identified Mastin as the robber wearing a solid black coat and black shoes.

"This is the woman," she said Monday, "but not the jacket she had on."

Hollifield's husband, Chester Hollifield, followed her to the stand and gave conflicting and, oftentimes, confusing testimony of what he observed.

Chester Hollifield said Tuesday that when he saw the two subjects, they were stopped on the median and were about 20 feet from his vehicle at the closest point.

His wife said they were only about five feet from their car when she saw them.

Chester Hollifield also noted that the second subject, who he identified as Moore, was not wearing a hood, but had his coat collar turned up.

When identifying the subjects from the bank's surveillance camera, Chester Hollifield at first said the robbers had changed coats and identified one of the robbers, who is believed to be Mastin, as Moore.

Several other aspects of the witnesses' testimonies conflicted Monday and Tuesday.

The Hollifields have been the only witnesses who have directly identified Mastin and Moore as the robbers since the trial began last

Homicide or suicide? Shooting is probed by police

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Kentucky State Police are investigating the shooting death of a Floyd County man Friday morning at Martin.

Jason Allen, 20, of Rough and Tough, died after being shot one time in the head, according to a state police media release.

Floyd County Coroner Roger Nelson said Monday that it has not been determined if the shooting is a homicide. Allen's body was sent to Frankfort for an autopsy.

State police detective Dave Maynard, who is investigating the case along with the coroner's office, could not be reached for further details.

Allen was the son of Jewell and Beverly Stubli Allen of Prestonsburg. Funeral services for Allen were conducted Monday at the Nelson Frazier Funeral Home. Burial was at Allen Cemetery at Pyramid.

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

With little discussion, Prestonsburg City Council held second reading of its 1997-98 budget, which included a $10,000 pay raise for the city's tourism director, Fred James.

In a meeting lasting less than 10 minutes, council approved the $9.3 million budget, with minor changes in the tourism budget that added $5,000 to the department's contingency fund.

Last week, councilman Gorman Collins Jr. sent a letter to the tourism commission opposing a pay raise for James, saying the increase is for "work that is no longer performed by Fred James."

Tourism commission members held a special meeting Saturday, May 31, to discuss the pay increase because commissioners were not aware it had been included in the budget.

At that meeting, commissioners said they had agreed to take over part of James' salary because a Main Street Program grant had expired. James also served as the city's Main Street director.

Tourism Commission chairman Mark Miller said James was not receiving an increase in salary or benefits because he had been making a total of $39,000 a year from the Main Street Program and other sources.

At Monday's meeting, council held no discussion on James' salary. Collins was out of town and did not attend Monday's meeting. Councilman Ralph Davis abstained from voting on the budget.

The city budget includes $2 million earmarked for development of a mountaintop golf course.

In other business, council postponed actions on a zone change request from Larry Adams and a request from the Goble Roberts Church.

Councilmen Hansel Cooley and Billy Ray Collins were also absent from Monday's meeting.

River racers head downstream Saturday

by Janice Shepherd
Managing Editor

The river's up, and the race is on as the Levisa Cup Canoe Race gets underway Saturday, June 14 on the Big Sandy River.

Entrants will put their boats in the water around 10 a.m. Saturday at the starting gate at River Park in Prestonsburg and finish up in Paintsville.

The boat crew with the best travel time down the river wins $300; second place prize is $150; and third place gets $75. Boat entries for the race are restricted to "pleasure canoes," Prestonsburg Tourism Director Fred James said Monday.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and a $10 entry fee will be charged. Boat capacity is limited to two people per boat. Entrants must wear safety jackets.

Saturday's river event also features a Jonathan Swift Lost Treasure Hunt and a fun float down the Big Sandy River. Participants will be given a form as they prepare to head down the river. Eight clues will be posted along the riverbank, and participants are to record those clues in the order they find them. At the end of the journey, forms with the correct markings will be put into "the hat" and a drawing will be held to determine the winner, according to James. The winning entry will be awarded a $50 prize.

A fun float down the river is a peaceful way to enjoy a day of recreation on a body of water not particularly known for pleasure boating, James said.

James said the event is held to promote tourism by bringing attention to the river for water recreation and to raise awareness of water quality and protecting the environment.

"Along the route there are some very beautiful scenes of foliage and wildlife to enjoy. Spotted along the way last year were ducks, fox, squirrel, deer, and a variety of song birds," James said. "On the other hand, there were some ugly trash sites ... these are

Man accused of threatening judges wants attorney fired

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A McDowell man pleaded not guilty Friday to threatening Floyd Circuit Court Judge John David Caudill. He also asked to fire his legal counsel, public advocate Kristi Gray.

Price Hall, 54, is also charged with threatening Floyd Circuit Judge Danny Caudill. Hall has been indicted on two charges of intimidating a judicial officer.

Special Judge Stephen "Nick" Frazier arraigned Hall Friday on the charge of threatening John David Caudill. Prior to the beginning of Friday's arraignment, Hall gave sheriff's detective Jim Roderick a sealed envelope and asked him to give it to Frazier.

Roderick held the envelope until after Hall's arraignment and told Frazier of Hall's request. Frazier indicated he was not going to open what appeared to be a letter, but he accepted it from Roderick.

Roderick and deputy Homer Neeley brought Hall to the hearing from the Floyd County Jail.

During the arraignment, Frazier asked Hall his plea on the charge

Stuck youths are rescued from pond

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Four Left Beaver youths escaped serious harm Sunday evening after being stuck in a sludge pond at Spurlock.

Rayne Crum, Trista McKinney, Jamie Collins and Kim Meade, ages unavailable, were rescued from the pond by members of the Martin Fire Department and Left Beaver Fire Department and Rescue Squad about an hour after getting stuck. The incident was reported to authorities at 7:35 p.m.

The four had been playing in the area and wandered near the edge of the pond and became stuck in the mud, which some rescue personnel described as being like quicksand. The youths sunk up to their armpits, according to a press release from the Floyd County Sheriff's Department.

Glen Turner, owner of the pond, was cited by MSHA for failing to properly barricade the site.

Members of the Martin fire and police departments, the Left Beaver squad, the sheriff's office, state police and Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad responded to the scene.

The Mud Creek Family Resource/Youth Service Center's P.A.C.E. Program, sponsored by the David Adult Education School, recently had three students receive their G.E.D. Students were Michelle Newsome, Elsie Tucker, and Michelle M. Bryant. The instructor for the class is Vivian Whitehead.

Unemployment rates up in Floyd

Annual unemployment rates went up in 68 counties, including Floyd, from 1995 to 1996, fell in 46 and remained the same in six. The annual jobless rate in the Big Sandy area increased from 10 percent in 1995 to 10.7 percent in 1996. Floyd County's rate also went up. Floyd had a jobless rate of 10.5 percent in 1995. Those figures increased to 10.7 percent in 1996. Johnson County's 9.4 percent was the area's lowest rate, while Magoffin County's 15 percent was the highest.

In 1996, 19 counties reported double-digit annual jobless rates, compared to 16 counties in 1995. Woodford County had the state's lowest yearly unemployment rate—2.3 percent. Cumberland County's 15.8 percent was the state's highest annual jobless rate.

night, and has scheduled to resume the meeting in two weeks to discuss the budget.

The council decided to leave the meeting open to give council members time to review the budget before it is approved.

City attorney Brett Davis also informed the council the schedule for the bidding process of the city's sewer project.

The project will be advertised for bid in area papers on June 25 and June 27, and the bids will be opened at 10 a.m. July 22 at Allen City Hall, the city attorney said.

"We may take up additional contract budgets from Elrod-Dunson," Davis said.

The city decided to go ahead and bid the project after it received a less than encouraging letter from the Department for Local Government last month.

The letter warned that if the project went to bid and the bids were higher than the budget, the funding would be pulled.

Davis advised the council to proceed with the project as scheduled and not just give the money back.

"We've gone and fought this thing so long — if they're going to take the money, let them take it," Davis said in May, "but don't give it to them."

Monday's meeting will resume at 7 p.m., June 23.

Post office broken into

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Federal authorities are investigating the burglary of the Blue River Post Office sometime on June 3 or June 4.

Postal inspector Al Chapa said Tuesday that someone broke into the post office after 5 p.m. June 3 and before 8 a.m. June 4, when postmaster Mary Crider discovered the theft.

"Entry was gained by forcing one of the doors open, breaking the door-jamb," Chapa said. "Items taken include a small amount of currency and a few stamps. We have no suspects at this time."

Chapa said fingerprints and shoe prints were taken at the scene, but it is not known if those prints belong to the burglar. He said some of the stolen property had been recovered within 100 yards of the post office.

Chapa said a reward is being offered to anyone providing information leading to the arrest of the perpetrator. He added any information will be kept strictly confidential.

Anyone with information about the crime is asked to contact Chapa at 1-800-264-3111.

week. Both witnesses admitted to Mastin's and Moore's attorneys — Steve Owens and Ned Pillersdorf — that they told FBI agent Steve Stacy they didn't get a good look at Moore, who was allegedly on the second ATV, but added that they got a good enough look at him to identify him.

The Hollifields have repeatedly said in their testimonies that they did not go to the police with information about the robbers and that they didn't want to get involved.

Mastin's husband, David Mastin, testified Tuesday that Mastin had his .380 caliber handgun in her possession at the time of the robbery, but noted that she had never used a gun.

According to U.S. District Attorney Tom Self, Mastin lied to FBI agents when questioned about having a firearm.

Self pointed out to the jury last week that the robber, who is believed to be Mastin, was holding the gun in an unfamiliar way.

Testimony from Ted Amburgy, who was a neighbor of Mastin at the time of the robbery, also indicates that his twin brother, Morris, was romantically involved with Mastin.

Mastin and Moore were indicted by a federal grand jury in March 1997 of the bank robbery.

The trial continues today (Wednesday).

Police are still looking for assailant

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Police are continuing their search for a Mount Sterling man who allegedly slashed a Pikeville police officer and took his gun Friday near Lowe's. The gun was recovered Monday night in a vehicle, owned by a Prestonsburg radio station, in which the suspect fled from police.

Daniel Ray Cundiff, 42, whose driver's license lists a Mount Sterling address, allegedly cut police officer Paul Maynard with a knife when Maynard tried to take him into custody.

Cundiff is described by police as being 5'9", 155 pounds with brown hair and eyes. He has tattoos of a fire dragon and praying hands on his right hand; tattoos of an eagle, penguin, naked woman and the initials M.F. on his left arm; tattoos of a cross, the name "Banny," picture of a woman and a torch on his right arm. The index finger on his left hand is deformed.

Cundiff

Cundiff was at Lowe's in Pikeville Friday picking up materials for WDOC/WQHY radio, where he was doing remodeling work for the station.

Cundiff, driving the radio station's maroon 1994 GMC pickup truck, was involved in a traffic accident at Lowe's and when responding to the scene in the pickup truck traveling toward U.S. 23, according to police.

A Kentucky/West Virginia gas employee found the truck Monday afternoon on a gas well road off KY 194 at Lower Johns Creek. Maynard's weapon was in the front seat of the vehicle.

vehicle and Cundiff allegedly pulled a knife, cut Maynard on the arm, knocked the officer to the ground and took his 9mm pistol.

Cundiff then fled the scene in the pickup truck traveling toward U.S. 23, according to police.

Radio station spokesman Norm Marcum said, "It's a regrettable situation that occurred, but we are relieved the truck and the officer's gun have been recovered."

Police are pursuing strong leads on Cundiff's whereabouts. Anyone with information is asked to contact the Pikeville Police Department at (606) 437-6236; Kentucky State Police at 1-800-222-555; or local law enforcement agencies. Cundiff is considered to be dangerous and could be armed, according to police.

LEGALS

INVITATION FOR BID

The Allen Volunteer Fire Department will receive sealed bids for the construction and renovation of the existing fire department, Allen, Kentucky. Bids will be received at the Fire Department Conference Room, located at Allen, Kentucky. The bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. Bids must be received on or before 2:00 p.m. local time, on June 12, 1997 at the Conference Room of the Allen Fire Department.

Copies of Plans, Specifications, Contract Documents, Form of Proposal and Proposal Envelope must be ordered from and deposit checks sent to the office of the Architect, Randall Burchett, 416 North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653, 606-886-3929. Plans will be distributed from the office of the Architect. Deposit must be received by Architect before Contract Documents can be obtained. A complete set of plans and specifications require a deposit of $75.00. The amount of $50.00 of the deposit will be returned only to the bidder who submits a bonafide bid and returns the plans and specifications in good condition within ten days after the bids are opened, otherwise no refund will be due. All checks shall be made to the order of the Architect.

The Form of Proposal shall be requested from the Architect. Any bonafide bidder requesting a Proposal Form and Proposal Envelope, who has not previously obtained a copy of the Project Manual from the Architect shall be required to purchase the Manual. General Contractors shall be required to purchase complete Contract Documents which include Project Manual, Technical Specifications and Drawings. All bids shall be submitted only on the Form prepared by the Architect. The proposal Envelope will have the Project and respective bidder.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the Architect and Engineers, office of the owner: 1. F.W. Dodge Corp., 2525 Harrodsburg Road, Lexington, KY; 2. Dodge Plan Room, 405 Capital St., Suite 509, Charleston, WV 25301.

Proposals shall be accompanied by a certified check or cash or bidder bond, executed by the Bidder and Surety Company. IN THE SUM OF NOT LESS THAN TEN PERCENT (10%) OF THE AMOUNT OF THE BASE PROPOSAL. The bid security is required as a guarantee that if the Proposal is accepted Contract will be immediately entered into and the performance of it properly secured. A cashier's check is not considered proper bid security.

Proposal Forms must be filled out and submitted in duplicate. No qualifying letters or statements will be considered. No bidder may withdraw a bid submitted for a period of sixty (60) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

In the event the Bidder to whom the Contract is awarded fails to execute a satisfactory Contract and Bond, he shall be eliminated and shall forfeit his certified check, cash of his Bid Bond and shall be liable for the loss occasioned by the Owner by such failure.

Any bid which is not received on a timely basis or in the proper form shall be returned unopened.

There are major material items which will be bid through the General Contractor, but purchased direct by the Owner.

Our Lady of the Way Hospital knows new ways to reduce surgery pain.

Ask doctors and nurses to name the biggest change in medicine over the past 10 years and they'll probably tell you about the rise in outpatient surgery.

Outpatient surgery is often less invasive, with less pain and faster recovery in the comfort of your home. Patients resume normal activity more quickly, and they've helped hold down the cost of health care.

The physicians of our Same Day Surgery Unit are well versed in many outpatient techniques, including laparoscopy, the use of fiber-optics to help a surgeon get a patient's "inside story" on a mini-camera inserted through a small incision.

Keeping up with outpatient surgery advances is another part of the compassionate Christian health care you can count on at Our Lady of the Way Hospital.

You can trust Our Lady. Folks around here have for almost 50 years.

Dejá vu all over again...

by Scott Perry

When welfare reform proponents suggested that new guidelines, commonly referred to as "workfare," might force people to move where the jobs are, they weren't establishing any historical precedents.

At least none in our area, where "readin', 'ritin' and Route 23" was the rallying cry for thousands of folks who migrated north in the late 40's and 50's in search of gainful employment.

It appears that history may be on the verge of repeating itself.

The Wall Street Journal reports this week that Michigan and Ohio, two states which drew many Eastern Kentuckians to their factories and auto plants nearly a half century ago, are once again seeking skilled workers to stave off a growing labor shortage.

The "Rust Belt," as it was called during the economic downturn of the 1980's, may be boasting a new coat of paint.

Columbus, Ohio, a primary destination for transplanted hillbillies in the 50's has an unemployment rate of 2.7 percent, about half the national average and nearly a fourth of the average jobless rate in the Big Sandy region.

High wages and low costs of living are certain to attract a good many Eastern Kentucky job seekers.

That's not the solution we would prefer for our economic difficulties.

We'd rather our skilled workers had the chance to find jobs here but, while the outlook for that is improving, it isn't a viable option right now.

Meanwhile, those who do decide to move away in search of opportunity may find the transition a little less unsettling than their predecessors.

They are likely to find friends and family anywhere they go in Michigan and Ohio, where many Eastern Kentucky transplants still reside.

The difference, we hope, between now and then is that the relocation won't be permanent.

Route 23 does run two ways, after all, and there are two lanes pointing south for those who wish to make a round trip of it.

Letters to the editor

Letters to the editor policy

Letters to the Editor are welcomed by The Floyd County Times. In accordance with our editorial page policy, all letters must include the signature, address and telephone number of the author.

Letters must be received no later than 10 a.m. Tuesday for publication in Wednesday's issue and 10 a.m. Thursday for Friday's issue.

Letters may be sent to Editor, The Floyd County Times, P.O. Box 391, Prestonsburg, KY 41653.

Letters may be edited for clarity and length.

My father

Editor:

When I was:

4 years old: My daddy can do anything.

5 years old: My daddy knows a whole lot.

6 years old: My dad is smarter than your dad.

8 years old: My dad doesn't know exactly everything.

10 years old: In the olden days when my dad grew up, things were sure different.

12 years old: Oh, well, naturally, Dad doesn't know anything about that. He is too old to remember his childhood.

14 years old: Don't pay any attention to my dad. He is so old-fashioned!

21 years old: Him? My Lord, he's hopelessly out of date.

25 years old: Dad knows a little bit about it, but then he should because he has been around so long.

30 years old: Maybe we should ask Dad what he thinks. After all, he's had a lot of experience.

35 years old: I'm not doing a single thing until I talk to Dad.

40 years old: I wonder how Dad would have handled it. He was so wise and had a world of experience.

50 years old: I'd give anything if Dad were here now so I could talk this over with him. Too bad I didn't appreciate how smart he was. I could have learned a lot from him.

How true. This should bring a smile and a tear or two.

Memories

Editor:

In appreciation of who you are—I came to Auxier Memorial Day to clean the cemetery where my grandfather Eliga Brown Auxier and my father Charley Auxier and family buried.

What a great surprise, someone had cleaned it off. I want to thank you so much and this is greatly appreciated. While there I visited the town of Auxier; this was a great memory to see. How clean and nice this was.

I went to school there under Bob Harlow and Claud Farley; to the Methodist Church under Rev. P.O. Adkins.

The town had a soda fountain and silent movie owned by Tom Moran.

Thanks again.

Thanks for help

Editor:

The New Horizons Youth Service Center would like to thank all those who made our "Heritage on the Hill" program such a success this year. A special thanks to our area senior citizens centers, grandparents, and area residents who came to share our mountain heritage with Betsy Layne students. We also want to express our appreciation to the following:

Mountain HomePlace personnel who donated their time and expertise; community members, as well as Betsy Layne High School faculty, students and staff who brought crafts, did demonstrations, or contributed in any way; Paul Thompson and Gone Country Line Dancers; the BETA Club and Home Ec department for providing food; Pepsi Company for donating drinks; area musicians for their fine entertainment; Kenny's Florist, Add-A-Touch Floral, Jan's Florist for donating flowers; Ms. Vanover's freshman English classes for their valuable help in planning and conducting the event, and Rita Brock and Floyd County Times for media coverage.

Again, many thanks to all participants of "Heritage on the Hill" at Betsy Layne High School.

Meredith Campbell, Director
New Horizons Youth Center

Memorial to honor sheriffs, deputies

Editor:

On Friday, July 4, at 10:00 a.m. Central time, at the Kentucky Sheriffs' Association's Boys and Girls Ranch in Gilbertsville, a memorial service will be held to honor two deputies who were killed in the line of duty and a sheriff and a deputy who were wounded in the line of duty.

Deputy Gregory Hans, Jefferson County and Deputy Eric Stafford, Edmonson County were killed in the line of duty this past year, and Sheriff Rex Bunch, Metcalfe County and Deputy Keith Hogan, Edmonson County, were both wounded in the line of duty.

I would like to take this opportunity to let the citizens of Kentucky know we are honoring these fine law enforcement officers and to ask them to let us know if there are others who have served in the Sheriff's Office throughout the state of Kentucky who were killed or wounded in the line of duty. We would like to recognize each individual.

The Sheriffs' and Deputies' Memorial at the Ranch in Gilbertsville, is the only memorial in the state of Kentucky which honors, exclusively, sheriffs and deputies who have been killed or wounded in the line of duty, dating back to the early 1800's.

The Sheriffs and Deputies Museum was dedicated in July 1992 and has honored 35 sheriffs and 76 deputies for paying the ultimate sacrifice for their fellow man.

Please give us a call at 502/362-8660 or write to us—the Kentucky Sheriffs' Ranch, P.O. Box 57, Gilbertsville, Ky. 42044, if you have any information, or if you would like more information regarding the ceremony on July 4.

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

The revised, military-issued Ten Commandments...

I. Thou shalt have no other gods before Me.

II. Thou shalt not make graven images.

III. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord in vain.

IV. Remember the Sabbath to keep it holy.

V. Honor your father and your mother.

VI. Thou shalt not kill.

VII. Thou shalt not commit adultery.

VIII. Thou shalt not steal.

IX. Thou shalt not bear false witness against your neighbor.

X. Thou shalt not covet.

The sun also rises...

That strange object lighting up the Eastern Kentucky skies Tuesday was, in fact, the sun.

'Bout time.

We were beginning to wonder if the toes on our shoes were ever going to dry out.

Guess we shouldn't grumble...sunshine has been something of a rarity this spring...but why Tuesday?

Probably because that's one day in the week when we newspaper types have to work from daylight to dark.

Oh well, it was nice while it lasted.

Come again, soon.
On a weekend maybe?

The sun also sets...

Eastern Kentucky lost a celebrity of sorts this week, but you probably didn't know it.

Louie Kirk was never immortalized in song as the Coal Miner's Daughter did for her dad, but the Paintsville native has a pretty famous kid, too.

Louie's son, Tommy Kirk, starred in two of our all-time favorite family flicks..."Old Yeller" and "Swiss Family Robinson"...as a child star in Disney's heyday.

Louie was a character in his own right, living the last years of his life as the self-proclaimed Mayor of Paintsville's senior citizens' high-rise.

He died Monday at age 87.

His exit from this life should not go unnoticed.

We're neither unsympathetic nor bloodthirsty, but how can there be any question about what penalty Timothy McVeigh should pay for his crime?

The man killed 168 innocent men, women and children; maimed dozens more; and terrorized thousands more with his act of random violence.

What mitigating circumstances are there to defend such an atrocity; to suggest that his life be spared?

He has shown no remorse for his victims, no shame for his act and no grief for the loss of innocent lives.

If any person ever deserved the death penalty it is Timothy McVeigh.

There is an apparent feeling among anti-government groups and individuals in this country that their violent opposition to authority isn't just justified, it's patriotic.

Most share a common notion that the only way to battle their perception of government oppression and intrusion is with bullets and bombs.

To these people, good government is no government at all, and freedom is defined as the right to be responsible to no one but themselves.

The last time we read the U.S. Constitution, it began "We the people..." not me, myself and I.

We have a duty, as a civilization, to each other if we are, as the Constitution proposes, "to secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity..."

Those who promote domestic terrorism against the U.S. government aren't patriots...they are traitors and criminals whose "rebellion" against authority is rarely anything more than self-interest.

Every time we hear someone go on about some government conspiracy or another we wonder...

What country are you from? In this country, we are the government.

No, we aren't so naïve to think that Big Brother can't stand a little watching himself.

Heck, that's what we're here for.

We happen to subscribe to Abe Lincoln's theory on the process for change, though, and he had some practical experience in the matter...

"Ballots are the rightful and peaceful successors to bullets," he said.

Guns and violence change nothing but who or what we fear.

Five eighth grade students from Floyd to get free college education

Five Floyd County eighth-grade students will get free college educations through a new scholarship program that targets elementary students, guides them through high school, and gets them into college.

Bryanna Hamilton of Galveston; John Johnson of Betsy Layne; and Joshua Nelson, Bethany Smith and Penelope Spradlin, all of Prestonsburg, were named Robinson Scholars by University of Kentucky representatives Saturday at the Mountain Arts Center.

The university named 162 eighth graders from 29 Eastern Kentucky counties as Robinson Scholarship recipients. As Robinson Scholars, the students qualify for full-tuition, room and board, books and fee payments at the University of Kentucky.

The students were selected based on academic potential, their family's financial need for assistance with college-related expenses, essays and interviews. The parents of the selected students also have not attained a college degree. At current costs, each scholarship carries a value of up to $8,000 per year.

The program, established in August 1995 by the UK Board of Trustees utilizing the E.O. Robinson Trust, is funded by earnings from mining and logging operations permitted on nearly 5,000 acres of the 14,000-acre Robinson Forest in Breathitt, Perry and Knott counties.

Each year, eighth-grade students from the 29 counties will be named Robinson Scholars.

The scholarship requires each student to maintain an acceptable grade-point average in high school, complete their high-school studies and be admitted to UK or one of the UK community colleges to actually receive the award. The scholarship can be used for expenses incurred by attending UK or any of Kentucky's 14 community colleges.

The program is being administered by Hazard, Prestonsburg, and Southeast community colleges and coordinated by Janet Lowdermilk, coordinator of the Robinson Trust at Lee's College campus of Hazard Community College.

In Floyd County, the students will be monitored, advised, and mentored by Robinson Scholars Program coordinator Connie Estep at Prestonsburg Community College.

and Hall responded, "I not guilty." Hall asked Frazier if he could address the court and Frazier said he could.

"I've told her four times I want her fired because she's a part of it," Hall said in reference to Gray. "I've told her I want rid of her. She said I can't fire her. John David sent word to me I can fire her."

Frazier told Hall he would let him know "10 days from now" his ruling on the request. Frazier said he would set a hearing for any motions in the case.

Hall was originally arrested and indicted in 1995 for cultivating marijuana after over 100 pot plants were found growing on his property at McDowell. Hall has remained jailed since his arrest on the cultivation charge. He was later indicted for threatening Judge Danny Caudill.

A hearing date has not yet been set.

Hall was convicted of first degree manslaughter in 1982 for the death of Ed Moore. He was sentenced on January 28, 1983, to 10 years in prison.

areas we would like to see corrected, (we're) asking for landowners along the river to keep their property clean and free of trash."

A group of local businesses have joined the effort to raise awareness about the river quality and are sponsoring commemorative t-shirts for participants in the event. Those businesses include Prestonsburg Tourism, Paintsville Tourism, Coalition Inc. Gold Slone's Transmission, Appalachian Paging, First Commonwealth Bank, Calhoun's Garage, MTS, Highlands Regional Medical Center, John Burke Sr., John Burke Jr., Wildcat Tires, Prestonsburg Community College, and Pro-Fitness.

Pro-Fitness is also conducting a canoe, bicycle, run triathlon with the canoe race as the first leg of the event. At the canoe finish line at the Paintsville boat dock, triathlon participants will peddle their way to the Jenny Wiley boat dock, where they will travel on foot and walk or run on a hiking trail at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park.

The triathlon is not a competitive event, but is an opportunity for participants to test their endurance, James said.

In case of inclement weather, the event will be rescheduled for June 21. For more information, or to enter, call Prestonsburg Tourism at 886-1341 or 1-800-844-4707; or Paintsville Tourism at 789-1469 or 1800-542-5790.

Grigsby

tenure law.

"The whole intent of the tenure law... requires necessary promptness so that a more experienced administrator would know where he or she stands, at least as soon as his or her less experienced colleagues," the ruling said. "... The legislature chose May 15 as an appropriate cut-off date so that an administrator can finish out six weeks or so left in the school year, while deciding whether to accept an alternative position or look for employment in another school district."

Also, Caudill ruled that Towler failed to give Grigsby "clear and specific grounds" why he was being demoted, as required by law.

"The failure to state any explanation of the reorganization, the failure to set out clearly why Grigsby's position was eliminated rather than others, the failure to provide such information as date, time, places and circumstances and the reasons that Mr. Grigsby was not to be assigned to one of the new positions being created, would clearly support the speculation of retaliation within the Floyd County School System," the ruling said.

As for denying Grigsby a due process hearing on the demotion, Caudill said the board's actions regarding the issue were suspicious.

"The canceling of the Floyd County Board of Education meeting, only a few hours beforehand, denied the public right to know and... Grigsby the right to an explanation," Caudill's ruling said. "It denied... Grigsby the most simplistic, fundamental rights; the concept of a fair and impartial tribunal. The mysterious decision of the school board to not even call the meeting to order, the manner in which it was canceled and under whose authority, raises reasonable suspicions."

Seeking family

Editor:

I am a descendant of John Fitzpatrick who died in Floyd County in 1828 and is buried in Fitzpatrick Cemetery. It is believed that John had seven children by his first wife (name unknown) and six more by his second wife, Sarah Denny Davis. For several years, I have been researching the Fitzpatricks of Eastern Kentucky and am now preparing to write a book on the subject.

I am very interested in meeting Fitzpatrick descendants or those of allied lines (particularly Haywood, Spradlin, and Hamilton); as it is my goal to cover in this book as many of John's children and their families as possible along with other Fitzpatrick lines which may be descended from brothers or cousins of John. My husband and I will arrive in Prestonsburg on June 11, and will be at the Holiday Inn on June 12, between the hours of 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. We look forward to visiting with anyone who may have information on the above families.

Going to school pays off

Jarrod Johnson, 16, of Wheelwright, was the lucky winner Monday of a pickup truck donated to South Floyd High School by auto dealer Malcom Layne. Johnson was one of several students who were eligible for the drawing due to school attendance records. Layne, who has donated a vehicle for the past two years, said he wanted to motivate students and give something back to the community. (photo by Susan Allen)

Local graduate elected to international honor society

Charlene Lawson Carrell has been elected to membership in Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing. Charlene was inducted as a graduate student through Delta Psi Chapter at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, on April 11.

Sigma Theta Tau International is a prestigious organization of nurse leaders, scholars and researchers. The honor society, founded at Indiana University in 1922, currently has 356 chapters at more than 400 colleges and universities in Australia, Canada, South Korea, Taiwan and the United States. The society has over 230,000 members that live in 73 countries.

Membership in the society is awarded to bachelor's, master's and doctoral nursing candidates who achieve high scholastic averages, and to graduates of nursing programs who have made outstanding contributions to nursing. The undergraduate student must have at least a 3.0 grade point average on a 4.0 scale and be in the upper 35 percent of his/her graduating class to qualify for membership. Sigma Theta Tau International encourages and actively supports further professional development and promotes nursing scholarship, leadership, creativity and commitment to nursing among its members.

The Sigma Theta Tau International Center for Nursing Scholarship and Virginia Henderson International Nursing Library are located in Indianapolis, Indiana. The honor society is committed to improving the health of the public by advancing nursing science. Sigma Theta Tau International sponsors nursing research, produces various publications and hosts scholarly programs on the international, national, regional and local levels. The library, one of the first of its kind, uses state-of-the-art communications technology and is a computerized collection of databases and resources that enhance access to nursing knowledge. The library also serves as a means of informing the public of the latest breakthroughs in nursing research and knowledge.

During the recent Fine Arts Festival held at the Mountain Arts Center, two students from Prestonsburg High School were recognized for their art work. Ashley Derossett, the daughter of Robert and Helen McAninch of Prestonsburg, and Carolyn Shepherd, the daughter of Ruie Shepherd of Auxier, received special recognition for their entries. Each student plans to make art a career choice. They are enrolled in the Specialized Art I class taught by Johnny Stumbo.

Injury control, violence prevention telecourse held in Prestonsburg

Injuries, both violent and unintentional, are the leading cause of death for people between ages one and 45, and the most underrecognized public health problem in the United States.

University of Kentucky Chandler Medical Center's Kentucky Injury Prevention and Research Center and Kentucky Educational Television will host a free videoconference on "Getting Started in Injury Control and Violence Prevention" on Thursday, June 21. This day-long telecourse will be offered on KET and at 10 other UK TeleCare sites across Kentucky beginning at 10:30 ET.

The UK TeleCare site in Prestonsburg is the Highlands Regional Medical Center. To register for this free telecourse, contact Nancy Stone at 886-7746.

This telecourse will introduce a systematic public health approach to injury control and violence prevention by using the same public health principles designed to control diseases. The courses will outline the steps for effective prevention programs on the local level and look at examples of successful programs in different communities.

The course is open to emergency medical services, health department, hospital, trauma center, cooperative extension, corporate health promotion, social services and community-based organization staff; law enforcement; fire fighters and others with an interest in preventing injury and violence in their communities.

Information on injury control and violence prevention can be obtained by calling Linda Golstein, Ph.D., Kentucky Injury Prevention & Research Center at 606-257-6712. For additional information on the viewing sites, contact Judy Flavell at KET Outreach, 1-800-866-4686.

Summertime is time for roadwork

Just in time for the summer months, Governor Paul Patton recently approved the first round of road construction and improvement projects for Kentucky's rural and secondary road program, including work in Floyd County.

Blacktop patching will be done on 2.9 miles of KY 1086, Sizemore Mountain-Steeles Creek Road; 4.5 miles of KY 1929, Frasures Creek Road; four miles of KY 3379, Branhams Creek Road; and 2.4 miles of KY 3386, Brandy Keg Road.

Blacktop resurfacing will be done on 1.5 miles of KY 2029, Salt Lick Road, and seven-tenths of a mile of KY 306, Branham Hollow Road.

Some grading and draining will be performed on the Long Fork Road, which is County Road 1069.

The projects are estimated to cost a total of $807,530 and will be financed by the Rural Secondary Road Program which receives its funds from the gasoline sales tax. These funds are distributed to each Kentucky county based on the county's land size, population and amount of rural and secondary roads.

Patton thinks this program plays a vital part in the efficiency of Kentucky's transportation system.

"Our smaller state and county-owned roadways are critical to Kentucky's overall transportation network. These are the routes we depend on every day."

The projects will be completed by contract and are scheduled for a May 23 bid letting. The Transportation Cabinet estimates a total of $37 million worth of projects will be authorized under this program by the end of this year.

100 SHOPPERS WILL GET A FREE GAS GRILL*

* FREE with any furniture or mattress set purchase of only $299 or more!

Doors open Thursday, June 12, 1997, at 9:00 a.m. sharp! Maggard's Furniture in Paintsville is celebrating their 59th anniversary by giving 100 shoppers a free gas grill with the purchase of any furniture or mattress set of only $299 or more!

PAINTSVILLE - Maggard's Furniture in Paintsville is celebrating their 59th anniversary by giving 100 shoppers a free gas grill with the purchase of any furniture or mattress set of only $299 or more. Here's how it works: the first 100 shoppers will be given a ticket as they enter, good for a free gas grill with any furniture or mattress set purchase of only $299 or more. This is limited to one per household and to the first 100 shoppers to make a purchase.

Asked how they can do this, Belinda Maggard replied, "Our 59th anniversary is a once in a lifetime event. We wanted to celebrate our anniversary with the most exciting and unheard of offer ever!! This is no rinky dink table top model either; it's a full size grill with the tank included!"

Both Maggard's Furniture locations will be closed Wednesday, June 11, to prepare for the celebration. Doors will open Thursday, June 12, at 9:00 a.m. sharp. Every living room, dining room, bedroom, big screen TV, appliance and mattress set will be plainly tagged with 59th anniversary savings!!

"We are proud of the fact that we are a family owned business. As a matter of fact, we are the third generation, with my husband's grandfather starting the business," said Belinda Maggard. "We have a store full of beautiful new home furnishings that have just arrived, and we shop all furniture markets and try to bring our customers here in eastern Kentucky the same selection, price and value you would find in a bigger city."

Maggard's Furniture has two convenient locations in Paintsville, one in the Appletree Plaza on Rt. 321 (old Rt. 23) and the other on Court Street in downtown Paintsville. Both stores will be open 'til 8 p.m. Thursday. Free delivery within 100 miles makes it easy to shop Maggard's Furniture.

New shipments are arriving daily, with beautiful La-Z-Boy sofas starting at only $499. With Father's Day this weekend, now's the time to get that new recliner, and get a free gas grill!! Bassett, Broyhill, La-Z-Boy, England, Hickory Hill, Craftmaster, Restonic . . .

Maggard's Furniture is a leader for selection, quality and price. "Because we are a large volume dealer, we can afford to give a free gas grill with the purchase of any furniture or mattress set of $299 or more," said Maggard. "Our 59th anniversary only comes around once and we wanted to make it special. We are a family owned business, not some big chain store, and this event is our way of saying thank you to our customers!! We appreciate their business!!

This is a first come, first serve event, and on new purchases only. Special credit terms will be available, with no money down with approved credit, and the more you buy, the better the credit terms. Call 1-800-MAGGARD for pre-approved credit.

This special sale will be held Thursday, June 12, from 9:00 a.m. 'til 8:00 p.m. The first 100 shoppers will be given a ticket as they enter, good for a free gas grill with any furniture or mattress set purchase of only $299. This is limited to one per household and on new sales only.

P'burg city council and tourism budget discrepancy explained as clerical error

by Janice Shepherd
Managing Editor

Discrepancies in a proposed Prestonsburg City Council budget and the Prestonsburg Tourism budget were explained as a clerical error during a meeting of the tourism commission Thursday morning.

A first reading of the city council budget listed projected expenditures for tourism at $185,000 and a contingency fund of $6,883, a $5,000 discrepancy with tourism's budget approved by tourism commissioners Saturday that listed expected expenditures to be $180,000 and a contingency of $11,883.

That difference in figures was due to a clerical error, tourism director Fred James told commissioners Thursday. James said that his secretary had delivered the new budget, which he color codes on pink paper in order for city officials to distinguish between working copies and actual budget, to the city treasurer Monday.

In checking her records before the tourism commission meeting Thursday, city treasurer Brenda Hayes said she had received the new budget but, in preparing the city budget, had transferred the wrong figures from tourism's budget to the city budget. Hayes said she would resubmit the information for the city council's second reading of the ordinance.

that he had submitted a working budget to the city's Finance and Revenue Committee as a budget that had been approved by the city.

James said he had submitted a working budget to city officials who, in turn, submitted it the city committee with the understanding that the document was a working budget and not a final one. He added that he had spoken to several members of the finance committee and they confirmed to him that they knew the tourism budget was not a final version.

"Sometime after that, Collins got a copy of it and was told or thought it was a final one," James said.

Commissioner Linda Smith added: "I don't know if you want to call it bad communications ... Gormon got a copy of the working budget ... When people make mistakes, see what happened."

James also addressed questions raised about a $2,000 increase in his benefits package included in the tourism budget. The $2,000 is a pro-rated increase, according to James. He explained that the city standard rate of benefits for city employees is 21 percent of the employee's salary and, with the additional $10,000 in James' salary to be paid from tourism's budget, his benefits increased from $7,000 to $9,000, bringing James' tourism salary and benefits to a total earnings of $48,000 per year.

Chairman Mark Miller expressed his support of James' pay rate through tourism.

"I think we're at a turning point," Miller said. "We have a lot of selling to do. Fred's got the background, and he is one of a few (locally) who have master's degrees in government. We think we're directing those funds toward the best."

In other business at the meeting, city commissioners heard reports from John Rosenberg and Duane Sanders about an math/science technology museum planned by the East Kentucky Center for Science, Mathematics and Technology.

"My job is selling dreams," Sanders, who is director of the science center, told commissioners.

He briefly told the group about the results of a survey of area businesses, educators, and parents about science and math needs in the area.

"We see a couple of big trends. People are crying out for family involvement. They're crying out for the understanding of science and math technology," Sanders said.

"In regards to tourism, if we look at ways to form a partnership, an institution like the science center can be part ... of a nucleus of what is being developed."

Sanders said the science center is currently working on projects with the Civil Air Patrol and hopes to bring paraphernalia from NASA that residents can view.

"I would like to be invited back to present a more formal proposal," Sanders said. "Coal is our biggest single potential for the region, but an even bigger one is our people ... people looking through the lens of math and science technology."

Chairman Miller asked Sanders to complete a tourism grant form and return to the commission with the funding request.

Also at the meeting:
• John Rosenberg apologized to commission members on behalf of the Friends of the Samuel May House for the failure of the historical preservation society to send commissioners an invitation to a recent ribbon-cutting at the Samuel May House and scheduled a tour for the group at its next meeting.

• Commissioners approved a motion to authorize James to accept quotes for the designing process of a new brochure and to advertise for bids.

• Chairman Mark Miller told commissioners about the success of the Floyd County Rescue Squad's fishing tournament held recently and said that a representative of the squad will bring in the names and addresses of the participants for a formal report to the commission.

• The commission granted a request for $500 for a horse show organized by Mountain Christian Academy.

• James reported that Prestonsburg Mayor Jerry Fannin had sent letters to restaurant and motel representatives seeking to fill two vacant commission seats.

"We need more than a quorum," Chairman Miller said. "We need full participation. Let's get this commission up to full staff."

Commissioners present at the meeting were Miller, Smith, Donna Wells, and Boyd Thompson. Commissioner Blake Burchett did not attend Thursday's meeting.

In Loving Memory

Of our beloved Husband, Father and Grandfather, Greeley Dotson on his birthday, June 11.

It's hard to lose the ones we love, To see them pass away. The sweetest and kindest gone, While others are left to stay. But if we had a flower garden. With roses fair and bright, We often pick the loveliest And think it to be right. And so it is with Jesus, In his lovely garden here, He often picks the fairest flowers, The one we love so dear. The flowers that are picked by him Will never fade away. We know they'll live forever.

Sadly missed by His wife, Eliza, and family.

Free forest management assistance is available

As a public service to the landowners of Eastern Kentucky, the Kentucky Division of Forestry offers free management assistance.

At no charge or obligation to landowners, a professional forester can examine woodlands and recommend multiple-use forest management techniques applicable to suit personal goals and objectives, whether those objectives include timber production, wildlife habitat improvement, soil and water conservation, forest recreation, or a combination of these.

The forester will then prepare a written management plan for the property to guide landowners in making future management decisions.

The Division of Forestry also administers several incentive programs that reimburse the landowners up to 65 percent of their total costs for any management work completed.

This money is available for forest improvements, wildlife habitat enhancement, tree planting and soil and water protection.

Any landowner who is interested in this program or who would like more information can contact the Kentucky Division of Forestry's Eastern District office in Betsy Layne at 1-800-866-0048, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

The "Word" for the Week

Confessing Christ

To be assured of a place in heaven with God and to be saved from the awful wrath of God against your sins, you must confess Jesus Christ as Lord. "If you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you shall be saved" (Romans 10:9).

To truly confess Jesus as Lord means several things. You must believe the divine Son of God came into the world to die on the cross in payment for sin (Mark 10:45). You must believe God raised Him bodily from the dead (1 Corinthians 15:4). You must believe this same Jesus ascended bodily into heaven (Acts 1:9). You must also believe Jesus Christ now reigns as Lord of heaven and earth (Matthew 28:28, Acts 2:33).

Not only so, you must personally trust in the death of Christ as the only adequate payment for your sins. You must trust in Christ's resurrection as proof that God accepted His death as adequate payment for your sins. You must commit yourself to serve Jesus Christ as your Lord. Finally, you must confess with your mouth before other men and women, preferably in a local Bible believing church body, what you believe in your heart before God (Matthew 10:32).

Do you trust Christ as Lord? Have you confessed Jesus Christ as Lord?

ADA MOSLEY PASTOR

THE CHALLENGE

On the Cross of Calvary our blessed Savior died, gave his life to save the world from loss. There is pardon in His love for everyone that stands for the blood, that stained the Old Rugged Cross. Are you standing for the One who shed that blood on the Cross? When you were praying to get right with God, I know you said, "Lord, I will do anything you want me to do if only you will save me."

Well, now that Jesus saved you, have you done all He wants you to? If you think you have, then read Acts 2:38 and see what Brother Peter told them there. He said, "Repent and be baptized, every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of your sins, and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost, for the promise is to you and your children and as many as the Lord our God shall call." If you are not standing for the name of Jesus Christ, then you are not standing for the blood that stained the Cross. Please don't be ashamed of His name, or He will be ashamed of you. I am not ashamed of His name. Are you?

Card of Thanks

The family of Vennie Thompson (Hunt) Bates wishes to thank all of those who were so kind and considerate during our time of grief. We thank those who sent flowers and food. We especially want to thank the Benedict Baptist Church of Slick Rock for their kind acts of love; Rev. Gordon Fitch for his comforting words; the Church of Christ singers; speaker, Bennie Blankenship of Prestonsburg, for his comforting words; the Floyd Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service; and the Floyd County Sheriff's Department for their professional service in traffic control.

THE FAMILY

Card of Thanks

"Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent a floral piece, if so we saw it there. Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, as any friend could say. Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us all day. Whatever you did to console our hearts, we thank you so much, whatever the part." The family of Rev. James Reed wishes to thank all those who were so kind and considerate during our time of grief. Heartfelt thanks go to all who sent flowers, messages, and came to speak kind words. We will never forget your caring. Special thanks go to the members of the clergy, Louis Ferrari and John Allen. Thanks also to the Wheelwright Freewill Baptist Singers for the beautiful songs. Thank-you to the staff of Our Lady of the Way Hospital for your care of our loved one. Our deepest appreciation to the sheriff's department for their assistance in traffic control; and to those at Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home for their kind and professional service.

THE FAMILY OF THE REV. JAMES REED

Card of Thanks

The family of Pervis E. Robinette would like to extend their appreciation to all those friends, neighbors and loved ones who helped comfort them during their time of sorrow. Thanks to all who sent food, flowers, prayers or spoke comforting words. A special thanks to the clergyman Ivan Byströff for his comforting words, the Sheriff's Department for their assistance in traffic control and the Hall Funeral Home for their kind and professional service.

Jean Ritchie to perform at Music Heritage weekend

The Mountain HomePlace located on Paintsville Lake recently announced its 2nd Annual Music Heritage Weekend Saturday and Sunday, June 14 and 15.

This year, the music program of Irish Folk to Bluegrass begins Saturday at 10 a.m. and will continue until 5 p.m. On Sunday, the music celebration can be heard from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Music will be performed by a variety of entertainers, such as Art Mize and Robert Tincher from Lexington. Robert and Art specialize in Irish Folk music, from which Bluegrass gets its roots. Both performers have made numerous trips overseas to study Irish music and have received many local, national and world awards. Several Irish instruments related to the 1700s and 1800s are used throughout their performance.

Also on the program is Cari Norris, who was born and raised in Kentucky. Norris performs traditional mountain and folk music. She also plays a variety of instruments that she learned from great traditional musicians. Several local musicians will also perform throughout the day throughout the HomePlace.

Saturday night at the Historic Sipp Theatre in Paintsville, the greatest of all-time musicians, Jean Ritchie, will play her dulcimers and sing her own songs. Ritchie, who is world famous, is originally from Knott County and combines personal songs, written herself, to songs that have been sung since the 1800s. Her performances at the Sipp begins at 6:30 p.m.

Also performing at the Sipp is Larry Webster and his Mule Band, Art and Robert, Forest Pelphrey and Friends, and the Bottom of the Barrel Bunch. Tickets are on sale at the Paintsville Tourism office or the Mountain HomePlace. For further information call 1-800-542-5790 or 606-297-1850.

A Look At Sports

What kind of kid do college coaches look for?

Every high school baseball, basketball, or football player dreams of one day playing at the college level whether it be NAIA, Division I or II or III. But according to Alice Lloyd head baseball coach, Scott Cornett, it is more than being able to hit home runs or throw a blazing fast ball.

Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

"When we find a kid that we feel can play at the college level," he said as guest speaker at the Allen Central baseball banquet Monday night at the Holiday Inn, "we want to know, first of all, what kind of student they are. That is something that freshmen and sophomores need to realize. That it is important for them to go to class and study hard and be concerned about academics.

"It doesn't matter if you can throw a 400 mph fast ball and hit the home runs, if you are not academically qualified it will do you no good."

Coach Cornett urged student/athletes to hit the books and "study hard" in preparation for the day they do graduate and leave high school.

"Then we want to find out what kind of person you are," continued Cornett. "We want to know how you handle yourself on and off the field. Have you been in trouble? Are you the kind of person that would make our program proud?"

The Alice Lloyd coach encouraged the players not to sell themselves short because they can succeed through hard work.

"Don't any of you settle for second best," said the Eagle coach. "Parents, if your kids play baseball in this program (Allen Central) they deserve the best."

Cornett praised the way the Allen Central program has come along in the past two seasons to be one of the top programs around the region.

"I've seen a lot of programs over a lot of years," he said. "but the Allen Central program has turned around and Kevin (Spurlock) has done a great job here. The program is the best it has ever been."

Coach Cornett has been at Alice Lloyd for the past seven seasons as head coach and has had 14 players go into the coaching ranks on the high school level.

"Seven of those are head coaches," he said. "I get a lot of satisfaction out of seeing former players reaching those goals. We want the kids we put out to have some class and do things right."

Coach Cornett said the recruiting year at Alice Lloyd has been a banner one and the Eagles are expected to be very competitive next season.

CRISP IN...

The Prestonsburg Site-Base Council has recommended to school principal Thomas Tackett the hiring of Jackie Day Crisp as the school's new girls head basketball coach.

"The recommendation will be taken by Mr. Tackett to superintendent Gene Davis," according to athletic director Ron Hampton, "and they will have the final say-so."

Hampton said he doesn't see any problem with the recommendation to the board as

Johnson captures Kentucky Bombers championship

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

One of the hottest drivers on the stock car circuit today is Wheelwright's Jason Johnson and he continued to be hot last Saturday night at the Thunder Ridge Racing and Entertainment Complex.

Johnson, who has the track's fastest time of 22.28 in the Bomber division, edged McDowell's Mikey Hall for first place in the Kentucky Bombers Championship and took home the $1,200 first place prize money. Johnson took the checkered flag a carlength ahead of Hall. "It was a close race all the way," said Johnson of his victory. "Mikey ran a good race right to the end. It was a real good race."

Johnson's number 37 car experienced some mechanical problems when his motor went down and he had to run on six cylinders.

Johnson has won five of the eight bomber feature races run at Thunder Ridge this season, including the last four.

"A couple of weeks ago they made me start tenth," he said.

"That's because a track rule has it that if you win so many in a row you have to start at the back."

Johnson is not only making a mark for himself at Thunder Ridge, where he races every Saturday night, but at the Perry County Speedway as well.

"I have won three of the four Bomber features over there," said Johnson. "But winning the Kentucky Championship was the highest paid race for a bomber race this season."

Perry County's Freddie Brock finished third in the bomber division.

While the Modified's and Late Model's had the weekend off, the AMRA (super bombers) as well as the Road Hogs were part of the racing card at Thunder Ridge.

Jim Ison drove his number I-1 stock car across the finish line taking the checkered flag for first place in the Stock Car Division.

He finished ahead of Tandy Spurlock's number 2X car and Tim Moore in his number 69 racer. Ison received $500 for his win.

The ladies got on the oval track this past Saturday night and Anna Garrett drove her number 33 car to victory lane in winning the Powder Puff division.

Alex Johnson captured the Road Hog division in his number 37 machine. Johnson took home $300 for his victory.

The regular show will return to Thunder Ridge this Saturday night with racing in all four divisions and points race in Late Models only. Gates open in the pit area at 4:30 p.m. with grandstand admittance at 5:30 p.m. Drivers meet at 6 p.m. and hot laps start at 6:30 p.m.

Shamrocks edge Pikeville; Green Wave, Rattlers go scoreless

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Each team had five tries at the goal after regulation had expired and it was Jeff Spears kicking a goal to give the Shamrocks a stunning 5-4 win over the Pikeville Ravens in the Floyd County Youth Soccer League this past Saturday.

The Ravens appeared in control, riding a 4-1 lead, but David Harris kicked the next two goals for the Shamrocks to make it a 4-3 game. With less than five minutes remaining, John Abshire came through and kicked the game tying goal for a 4-4 score.

Each team was allowed five shots at the goal from the penalty box in the shootout. Spears was the only kicker to find the goal.

"Paul Wallen put forth an excellent effort," said Shamrock coach Tim Banks, "on defense as our goal keeper. Our midfield position was covered by Nick Patton and Heath Chaffins. At fullback, Taryn Harris, Elias Thornsbury, Tabitha Nunnemaker, Zack Harmon and Cora Collins played very well.

The winning goal by Spears was his second goal of the game.

RATTLERS VS GREEN WAVE

The Pikeville Rattlers and Green Wave played to a scoreless tie as they played four 12 minute quarters with neither team able to kick a goal.

The Green Wave offense was led by Cody Castle and Brittany Collins but they could not solve the tough Rattlers defense.

Ryan Barber, Mason Haywood, Zachary Hughes, Shawn Hackworth and Austin Gearheart had good defensive outings for the Green Wave.

SAINTS VS WILDCATS

The Hindman Saints posted a 4-1 win over the Wildcats this past Saturday with Brooks Herrick scoring the lone goal for the Wildcats. Charlie Beatty, Chance Bradley and Caitlin Clark had goal attempts.

Molly Burchett and Tiffany Meade put forth superb efforts as goalies. Justin Blanton made some excellent passes with strong defense being played by Taylor Clark, Lauren Preston, Elizabeth Chaffin.

The on field team got strong support from Misty Marsillett, Candice Meade, and Katherine Adams.

"It was a strong combined team effort," said coach Eddy Clark. "The Saints are a tough team, but our kids had a strong defensive game and played their best. Coach Bob Beatty and I are proud of them."

HORDE VS RAVENS

In a high scoring affair, the Pikeville Ravens won over The Horde, 8-5, in a game played at Pikeville.

Matt Francis and Brandon Powers each scored two goals for The Horde. Cory Caudill had the other one.

The game saw excellent play from Horde halfbacks Megan Tackett, Zach Schul and Roger Collins. It was an exciting, high scoring game with a lot of soccer skills shown by both teams.

PURPLE CYCLONES VS PIKEVILLE PURSUIT

The Pikeville Pursuit shut out the Purple Cyclones 8-0 in a game played at Pikeville. Cyclone goalkeeper Cody Harlowe had several good saves. The Cyclones had several attempts at the goal but could not score.

No contact

Prestonsburg Braves hitter Joey Willis did not make contact on this pitch but he has been on previous at bats. Willis went eight games hitting nine home runs in the total number of games. He homered for the 10th time this season against the Devil Rays last Friday. (photo by Ed Taylor)

McKinney, Reffitt complete successful seasons for Pikeville

Carolyn Reffitt and Veronica McKinney each had outstanding seasons for the Pikeville Lady Bears softball team.

Reffitt, a senior from Prestonsburg, just finished her senior softball season for the Lady Bears. Reffitt, who played left field, hit .263 for the Lady Bears this season.

Carolyn Reffitt

She collected 30 hits and drove in 13 runs.

She had four doubles and three triples this season, a slugging percentage of .351 and an on-base percentage of .410. She played in 43 of Pikeville's 44 games and stole 33 bases in 34 attempts.

Reffitt graduated in four years with a double major, completing degrees in sociology and psychology.

McKinney, from Martin, was solid as a sophomore at Pikeville. She finished the season with a .317 batting average, collected 33 hits including five doubles, a triple and a home run. She drove in 25 runs and scored 15 times this season.

McKinney had four sacrifices, which tied her for second on the team, an on-base percentage of .438 and a slugging percentage of .413. She walked 24 times, second highest on the team, and struck out only nine times in 128 plate appearances.

McKinney's statistics went up drastically against KIAC competition. Her average was up more than 100 points to .429. She had an amazing on-base percentage of .538 and her slugging percentage was .667.

The Pikeville College Lady Bears, coached by Bill Baird, finished the season 25-19 overall and 7-5 in the KIAC. They finished the regular season and tournament third place in the league.

Martin plays long ball in 13-1 win

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Steven Goble furnished the finesse, while Jonathan Hall and Chuckie Swope provided the power to send the Martin Cardinals past the Martin Reds in Bambino League play Tuesday at the Martin Park.

The Cards got a stellar pitching performance from Goble as he no-hit the Reds in three innings of the mercy win.

The Reds scored in the first inning to lead 1-0 on consecutive walks to Vanderpool and Terri Mullins to start the game. Vanderpool scored on a wild pitch.

The Cardinals scored three times in the first, highlighted by Hall's two run home run. Goble, who walked, scored in front of Hall. Swope scored the third run on a Paul Francis triple.

Goble set the Reds down in order in the second. A lead off double by Justin Jacob to start the Cardinal second led to a four-run inning for the Cards. Jacob scored on a wild pitch.

Thirteen batters paraded to the plate in the Cardinal third as they scored nine times for a 13-1 lead. Four straight walks and consecutive base hits by Jacobs and Carey Click scored four runs.

Goble then doubled home two runs and Chris Owens just missed hitting one out but legged the liner to the fence out for a double. Swope then drilled his long drive over the center field fence for a three-run shot.

It was the third straight no-hit game for the Cardinals pitching staff.

Allen hurls and bats Wayland past Cards

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Neil Allen did it all as he pitched and batted the Wayland Jags to a 9-8 edging of the Martin Cardinals in what has become a fierce rivalry between the two teams in the Floyd County Bambino League.

Allen had three doubles in the game and went the distance in picking up the win. Wayland scored four times in the top of the fourth inning to erase an 8-5 deficit and lead by one run. Allen walked Jonathan Hall to start the Cardinals half of the sixth inning. He got power-hitting Chris Owens on strikes, retired Chuckie Swope of a fly ball to right field. With Mike Murry at the plate, Hall was tagged out on some bad base running to end the game.

Patton started the four run sixth for Wayland with a double. Jon Bailey walked with one out and Stumbo was safe on a fielders choice play that got no one out.

Allen then ripped a base hit that scored Patton and Francis to make it an 8-7 game. Sturgill walked and Whitaker lined a two run single to right center scoring Stumbo and Allen to give the Jags the lead at 9-8.

Bailey and Allen both had RBI singles in the first inning that gave Wayland a 2-0 lead. Martin plated four runs in the bottom of the inning to lead 4-2. Rossi Samons opened the inning with a double and scored on Hall's one-out single. An error and Swope's double scored both Hall and Chris Owens. Mike Murry singled home Swope with the fourth run of the inning.

Swope, who started for the Cardinals, struck out the side in the Wayland second with the Cardinals scoring three times in the second to move in front 7-2. Dustin Hancock singled to start the inning. He scored on Samons' second double

All-Regional

Four Floyd County girl softball players were named to the 15th Region All-Tournament team after the completion of the regional tournament at Pikeville. Named to the team were: Jessica Johnson, Betsy Layne; Jennifer Risner, Allen Central; Shannon Sizemore, Allen Central and, not pictured, Heather Hamilton, Betsy Layne.

Francis' four hits lead Wayland Jags past Martin Reds, 10-0

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Austin Francis collected four hits to lead the Wayland Jags to a 17-6 mercy win over the Martin Reds in the Floyd County Bambino League at Martin last week. Francis had two doubles and a triple in his four times at the plate. He singled in the first inning.

Wayland sent 14 batters to the plate in the second inning, when they scored seven times to lead 10-0. Brandon Whitaker had two hits in the Jags' win, including a second inning triple.

Martin collected only three hits of the game. With one out, Hall lined a base hit to center, scoring Samons, and he came home on Owens' base hit.

Wayland chipped away at the lead and scored once in the third and twice in the fourth for a 7-5 game.

off Wayland pitching. Vanderpool, Moore, and T. Moore had the three hits.

Francis singled home two runs in the first inning, when Wayland scored three times. Whitaker started the Jags second with a triple and scored on Hatfield's base hit.

Patton walked with Neil Allen singling to load the bases. Francis then doubled home two runs with Hatfield and Patton scoring.

Bailey's double brought in Allen and Francis, and he came home on Whitaker's second hit of the inning, a double. After a walk to Hall, Hatfield came to the plate for his second appearance in the inning and doubled to score Whitaker and Hall. Patton singled home Hatfield for the seventh run in the inning.

Wayland struck for another run in their half of the third inning. Francis doubled and scored on an error at second base to make it a 14-0 game.

Martin got on the scoreboard in the third inning when they pushed home four runs for a 14-4 game. Three consecutive walks loaded the bases for the Reds and Moore sent two runners home with a double.

In the top of the fourth inning, Patton reached on a one-out error and an Allen walk. Francis scored both runners with a triple, his fourth hit of the game.

Martin tried to avoid the mercy rule but could only score two runs in the fourth inning. Moore and Slone walked, and Greer was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Moore and Slone ended up scoring on wild pitches.

Allen doubled and scored in the third for Wayland. Chaffins had a two-base hit and scored one of the two runs in the fourth. Patton reached and scored the second run.

Allen, in picking up the win, struck out eight batters. Swope, in a losing cause, fanned 11 batters.

it is just a formality in the hiring of a new coach.

"We had one other application for the position," said Hampton. "We expect the final hiring by the board in the next few days because of summer basketball camps coming up."

Crisp will replace Harold Tackett who resigned after this past season. Tackett was instrumental in making the Prestonsburg girls program one of the top teams in the 15th Region.

Crisp was recommended to the site-base council by a committee consisting of parents of returning players. The council in turn made the recommendation to Mr. Tackett.

Stay tuned, we'll come back with this!

MEANWHILE...

At Betsy Layne school principal Coy Samons began interviewing candidates for the head football position, a position Randal Hager held until last month.

"We have two applicants we want to look at," said Samons. "We have formed a committee that will consist of three parents from the boosters club, three players, Mr. (Shawn) Ousley, our athletic director, the site-base council and myself. We will interview those who have applied."

Applying for the position of head football coach are Ted George, assistant to John Derossett last year at Prestonsburg; Jim "Tom" Allen, physical fitness instructor.

"Joey Cecil pulled out and no longer wanted to be considered for the position," said Samons. "He would have made a good choice."

Betsy Layne also has a resume on George Hatcher of McClain County, but Samons said that he hasn't received a formal application from Hatcher.

"We can't interview him until we have an application," explained Samons.

Samons is hopeful a new head football coach can be named next week.

"We are shooting for next week," he said. "Hopefully, by Friday I can release the name of our new coach."

Samson said the numbers are down in the weight room and the program is looking for someone who will be the right person to "keep the fires burning."

"We need someone that is interested in the program and wants to keep it going," he said.

MEANWHILE II...

At Allen Central, the search continues for a new football coach in a program that is in desperate need of someone that will continue the Rebel rise.

"We're working on the situation," said retiring school principal Lorena Hall. "We're trying to get the situation under control. Right now we can't do anything until we have a position for a new coach."

Hall said the move right now is to keep math teacher Mark Blackburn on staff next year and turn the program over to him, a program that he wants.

"He wants to do it," said Hall, "and that is half the battle, having a desire to do it. The kids love him and he is a very smart person. He may not know a lot about football, but he will learn."

Meanwhile, Doug Derossett continues to work in the weight room with returning players.

"Doug said he would take the program if no one else would," said Mrs. Hall. "He doesn't want to, but to keep it going he would be willing to. Before I let it fold I'll come back and coach them. I don't know anything about the game but I can stand on the side lines, scream and holler."

So the search is over at one school, almost over at another and hopefully a solution is in sight at a third.

Until Friday, good sports everyone and be good sports!

A gift idea for Dad

Father's Day is just around the corner, that one special day when we show our Dads the respect and admiration they deserve every day for their years of frustration and persistence in the struggle for the right to one day sit back and bellow a swollen-chested "That's my boy!"

I imagine that the majority of you will jam the checkouts at local department stores Saturday evening, fighting for the last "#1 Dad" t-shirt or the ugliest necktie in eastern Kentucky. This year, I would like to recommend a change. For once in his life, let's give our fathers what they really deserve. Let's be mean.

When Dad goes to sleep Saturday night, steal his pager, hide his cell phone, and put his briefcase under lock and key. Sunday morning, fill his car with gas, pack his fishing pole, golf clubs and other recreational paraphernalia in the trunk, and then (this is the really good part) throw him out of the house. Order him to leave and dare him to return before dark.

Of course, when he returns, he should be greeted with his favorite meal and total control of the remote control for the remainder of the evening. Oh, and you can give him the ugly ties and cologne after dinner.

This is Dad's special day and he should enjoy it. If he gives you any trouble or refuses to leave, just tell him "because I said so." I'm sure he can relate to that.

Happy Father's Day Dad.

Post 9 Trooper Island Golf Tournament comes to Pikeville, June 20

The Post 9, Trooper Island Golf Tournament will be held at the Mountain Pub-Links Golf Course located at Lower John's Creek, Pike County, Kentucky, on Friday, June 20, 1997. Play will begin with a shotgun start at 9 a.m., playing best ball, scramble.

Each team will be comprised of four players, one player from each handicap range as follows: Player A, 0-7 handicap; Player B, 8-14; Player C, 14-18; and Player D, 18 and up.

Prizes will be awarded for first, second and third place teams, closest to the pin and the longest drive.

Owens hits for the cycle in 8-6 win over Wayland

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Chris Owens, who has been on a tear of late in the Floyd County Bambino League, continued to sting the ball as he singled, doubled, tripled and homered in his last at bat for the cycle in the Martin Cardinals' 8-6 win over rival Wayland. Both teams are battling for first place in the league.

Owens doubled in the second, tripled in the fourth, singled in the fifth and hit his home run in the sixth inning. His last hit was a big one in two ways. It gave him the cycle and was also a game winner. The game was tied at six when the Cards came to bat in the bottom of the sixth. Steven Goble opened the inning with a walk before Jonathan Hall popped out to third base. But Owens delivered the big blow with a drive over the fence in left center field sending Goble home ahead of him.

The two teams played scoreless baseball through the first three innings. Hall picked up the win for Martin in going the distance. He recorded 10 strike outs which gave him 32 K's in his last three games, including two no-hitters and one perfect game.

Hall fanned the side in the Jags half of the first inning. He allowed two walks in the first three innings.

Wayland scored first and that came in the fourth inning. Neil Allen was hit by a pitch and he came on to score on a second baseman's error.

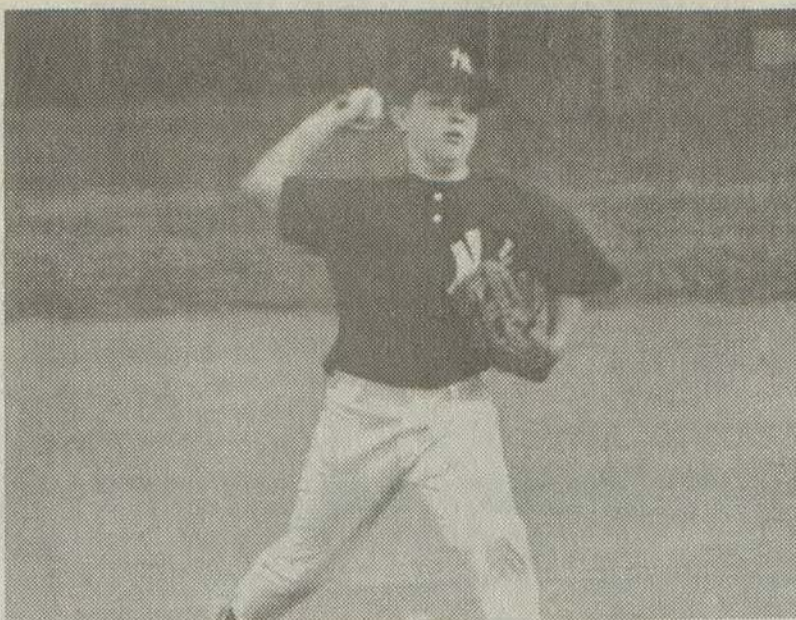

Martin took a 4-1 lead with four runs in the bottom of the fourth inning. Hall started the four run rally with a single and he scored on Owens' triple. Chuckie Swope walked to load the bases for the Cardinals. Two runs came across on bases loaded walks to Paul Francis and Justin Jacobs.

In the top of the fifth, the Jags got to Hall for five runs to take a 6-4 lead. Patton reached on an error and Austin Francis singled him home. With one out, Stumbo walked and Allen ripped a two-run single scoring Francis and Stumbo. Allen came home on an error.

Martin tied the game at six in the bottom of the fifth inning. Hall started the rally with a lead off double and scored on Owens' base hit. Mike Murray drew a one-out walk with Jacobs and Dustin Hancock walking to force home Owens with the tying run. The Cardinals left the bases loaded when Rossi Samons fanned to end the inning.

Owens finished with four runs batted in for the winners. Samons had one hit, a first inning double. Hall finished with two hits.

Francis had two of Wayland's three hits. Allen picked up the other.

Slone, Dodgers turn back Ivel Reds 15-5

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Harold Dodgers scored 10

runs in the top of the first inning, sending 13 batters plateward en route to a 15-5 mercy win over the Ivel Reds in Harold-Allen-Prater Little League action Monday at the Allen Park.

Jack Slone went the full five innings for the Dodgers in picking up the victory. Slone allowed five runs on just three hits. He struck out four batters and walked six.

Slone, Bret Preston, Casey Brown and Brett Gibson each had two hits for the Dodgers. Brown hit a third inning home run, a two-run shot scoring Preston in front of him. Slone doubled in the second inning and scored twice. Preston tripled home a run in the first inning. Kyle Potter had a first inning RBI single.

Jonathan King, Lance Collins and Derrick Osborne collected hits for the Reds. Collins was the losing pitcher.

The Dodgers added two runs in each of the third and fifth innings. Brown homered in the third. Chase Hamilton singled home two runs in the fifth frame.

The Reds scored twice in the second inning and pushed across three runs in the fourth.

Dodgers mercy Ivel Red

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Casey Brown got the hit Jack Slone needed and didn't get, as the Harold Dodgers mauled the Ivel Reds 13-3 last Thursday in the Harold-Allen-Prater Little League.

Slone had singled, doubled and tripled in the game and needed only a home run to hit for the cycle in the Dodger win. Brown hit the games lone home run and that came in the first inning, a two-run shot.

Brett Gibson picked up the win for the Dodgers, with Jonathan King taking the loss for the Reds.

Bret Preston finished with two Dodger hits and Brown had two safeties in the win. Brown drove in four runs for Harold.

Slone opened the Dodger first with a walk, stole second and third. Preston walked ahead of Brown who then followed with his three-run home run that staked Harold an early 3-0 lead. Kyle Potter kept the rally alive with a walk and he scored on Brett Gibson's base hit. Gibson, who stole second, scored the fifth run of the inning.

The Reds pushed across one run in their half of the second inning. King reached on an error and scored on a ground ball to short-stop for a 5-1 game.

The Dodgers scored three unearned runs in the top of the second inning for an 8-1 game. Brown, Potter and Chase Hamilton scored for Harold.

Harold exploded for five more runs in the third inning and the rout was on. Slone doubled with one out and scored on Preston's base hit. Preston stole second and came on to score when Brown doubled. Potter followed suit and his two-base hit scored Brown with Potter moving to third base on the throw. Gibson walked and stole second before Hamilton's single scored both Potter and Gibson for a 13-1 game.

The Reds fell a run short in the bottom of the fourth inning in trying to keep the game going. They plated three runs but fell short. Ryan Lawson opened the inning with a single, with Shawn Wallen following suit with a base hit. With both runners advancing a base, they scored when King lined a single.

Gibson, in picking up the win, struck out five batters, allowed three runs on three hits and walked two.

King took the loss working four innings. He allowed 13 runs on 11 hits. He walked six batters and fanned three.

Conley rolls with 721 career feature wins

Southern Ohio Speedway will honor one of its original competitors Friday, June 13 with a special Delmas Conley Night for Super Late Models. The event will pay $2,000 to win with $200 to start.

Over the past 30 years, one of the winningest drivers on the dirt Super Late Model circuit has been Delmas Conley of Wheelersburg, Ohio. In fact, the veteran Conley is one of the most successful drivers of all time with an amazing 721 feature wins in 31 years of competition.

Conley began his racing career in 1966 at Atomic Speedway in Chillicothe, Ohio, driving a Super Modified Frame-type car for Vadas Anderson of Lucasville, Ohio.

"He was a friend of mine and he needed a driver," Conley said. "His car was tore up pretty good and I helped him to put it back together."

His first time out in the car, Conley set fast time in qualifications at Atomid, but later in the evening got in a wreck. He ran the car for four weeks.

The following year in 1967, Southern Ohio Speedway opened near Wheelersburg and Conley was there opening night in a new race car.

Over the winter, brothers Delmas and John Conley had built a 1955 Ford for the upcoming racing season. The work paid off as opening night at Southern, Conley won both the feature and his heat race in the Hobby Stock division. It was his first career win.

"The feature at Southern paid $125 then, $10 for the heat race," Conley recalled. "And the fast qualifier always started on the tail."

Conley also raced in 1967 at two tracks in Vanceburg, Kentucky, Mac's Speedway and Big 3 Raceway.

"Our first motor we gave $35 for," said Conley. "We had farm implement tires on the front."

Later, Conley and his brother John built a 1957 Ford Fairlane. For their third car, a 1969 Ford Torino with wings, Russell Conley became a partner with his brothers.

As late model racing began to progress, the Conley's bought a Dennis Frings Chassis in 1975 and started to travel more, making some of the bigger shows.

Conley has had a lot of success at the big shows too. He has won the Southern 100 at Southern Ohio Raceway three times in 1980, '84, and '90, as well as the Souther Classic in 1988. His list of race wins also includes the USA 100 at Beckley, West Virginia Speedway in 1979 and 1982. Another time, he was leading the same race at Beckley, a $20,000 to win event, but unfortunately broke.

"I was leading that thing but I lost an axle," he said. "An axle just came out."

In 1979, Conley won the Johnny Appleseed Classic at Mansfield Raceway. In 1993, he captured the Kenricks Classic at Portsmouth Raceway Park and in 1994, topped the Cornett Clash at Portsmouth. He has also won the Elkins Fall Festival, West Virginia Motor Speedway and twice won the Pepsi Challenge at K-C Raceway in Chillicothe.

Also to his credit are two top qualification runs. At the famous World 100 at Eldora Speedway in 1976, Conley set fast time with a 19.519 clocking. At the East Bay, Florida Winter Nationals, he has held the track record, 14.51, for five years.

Consistency has also been a strong point for Conley, as he has been track champion 10 times at five different tracks and captured the 1981 Moss Series Championship. His track championships include three at Southern Ohio Raceway (1977, 1978 and 1980), one at Portsmouth Raceway Park (1993), one at Atomic Speedway (1972), three at Checker Flag Raceway, in Ashland and two at Beckley.

"My favorite track is K-C Raceway," Conley said. "I've won a lot of races there."

When Conley captured the feature at Southern Ohio Speedway on May 16, it was his 720th all-time career victory. The following night, May 17, at K-C Raceway, he picked up win number 721.

With 31 years of racing behind him, Conley has some opinions about the state of Late Model racing today.

"I think they're (Late Model) getting too expensive," he said. "I think they're keeping a lot of racers out because of the cost."

Conley speaks from experience about the high cost of today's racing because he has always owned his car, since 1985, by himself.

"It used to be a guy that wanted to work hard could race," Conley said. "Now it's the guy who has money. That's the driver who is going to prevail. It used to be a guy's work ethic, now it's all money, money, money."

Conley also remembers the days when the racer built his own car himself. "We built everything, frame, engine, everything," he said. "Now you don't build anything. But Late Model racing's getting better. It's going to move ahead."

Conley has driven a Late Model most of his career, but one time ran a sprint car at Southern Ohio Raceway.

"I like it," he said.

In 1990, Conley took on added responsibilities as a car owner, fielding three Super Late Models. That year, his sons Rod and R.J. began their driving careers at Southern Ohio Raceway.

All three Rocket Cars are owned by Conley and sponsored by his business, Conley Trucking in Wheelersburg, Ohio.

As for the future, Delmas says, "We're going to continue to do what we have been doing, make all the big shows. I'm going to run as long as my health is good, and when I'm done, the boys are going to keep going and keep getting better."

In extra innings,

McDowell subdues Wayland

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It took nine innings before McDowell could post an 8-6 win over the Wayland-Lackey-Garrett Yankees in the Floyd County Babe Ruth League this past Saturday, in a game played at the Allen Park.

With the game tied six after seven innings of regulation play, McDowell scored a run in the eighth and ninth innings to win over WLG.

In the McDowell eighth, Zack Layne drew a one-out walk and eventually scored on a wild pitch to give McDowell a 7-6 lead. Ryan Shannon opened the ninth for McDowell with a walk and scored on Howard's base hit for a two run lead. Wayland was unable to score in the eighth or ninth inning.

McDowell led 2-0 after the second inning and held the lead through the first two frames. The Yankees got on the scoreboard with a single run in the third inning. Josh Yates singled and scored on Bailey's RBI double.

In the McDowell half of the fourth, Kyle Tackett scored after reaching on a one out error. He scored on Bentley's base hit. McDowell led 3-1.

McDowell held a 6-4 lead going into the seventh inning. But Wayland struck for two runs in the bottom of the inning to tie the game and send it to extra innings.

Don Shepherd, who pitched the eighth and ninth innings, suffered the loss for WLG.

Runnin' Rebels basketball camp slated for June 16-20

Allen Central head basketball coach and the Allen Central Rebels will host their annual basketball camp from June 16-20 at the J.E. Allen Arena. The camp will run from 8:45 to noon daily.

Camp features include each camper receiving a camp T-shirt and trophy. A free lunch will be provided for every camper. Individual and team offensive as well as defensive techniques will be stressed at the camp.

One-on-one, hotshot, and other contests of skill will be part of the camp. Each camper will go through unique skill tests to see how they compare to past Rebels. League games will be played daily with a tournament on the final day.

Coach Johnny Martin will put emphasis on dribbling, passing, shooting and rebounding.

The cost for the camp is $50 per camper.

1997 GOLF PASS

$2,000 worth of
Golf for only $35.00

It's time to "Take a Swing Against Cancer" with the American Cancer Society's 1997 Golf Pass. This year you can play 168 courses offering 445 rounds of golf in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee and West Virginia. Three courses feature unlimited rounds! Some restrictions apply. Local golf courses participating include Mountain Pub-Links at Pikeville, John M. Stumbo Park Golf Course at Allen, Jenny Wiley State Resort Park at Prestonsburg and the Pikeville Area Family YMCA Driving Range. The golf pass may be used through the end of 1997, with some exceptions noted on the pass. Take advantage of this opportunity to play some prestigious courses that otherwise would be unavailable to the public. The Golf Pass makes a great gift for the golfer in the family, for a business associate, or even a preferred client. A $35 donation to the American Cancer Society covers the greens fees at 168 courses designated in the covered area.

Additional passes - $25.00

Carts required but not included.

You can order your 1997 Golf Pass by calling 437-3960 and "Tee Off" against cancer! Passes are now available at the Appalachian News-Express.

MISSISSIPPI BASS FISHING A DAUNTING EXPERIENCE FOR THIS PRO

Professional bass angler Mickey Bruce recently fished a national tournament on the Mississippi River, and describes the experience as "daunting and difficult."

"There is so much water it's overwhelming," laughs Bruce, a member of the Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff who has fished on other major rivers in his career but never on the Mississippi when it was several feet high.

"The first thing you do when fishing the Mississippi is to get off the main river itself and into one of the calmer backwater areas. Once you get into the sloughs and off-river lakes, the habitat begins to look more familiar."

"I doubt there are many large-mouth bass out in the main river itself where the current never slows down." Bruce fished out of Moline, Illinois, located in Pool 15 of the river but motored about 60 miles upstream into Pool 13 to work a huge, shallow protected backwater.

"The key to fishing any large river system like this," he explains, "is looking first for places where bass can spawn. It has to be a large area that provides food and cover and which does not have a current that flows through it."

"If you find that type of area, you'll generally find bass. It's true on rivers throughout the United States, and especially on the Mississippi. It took nearly 50 pounds to win our tournament."

The Evinrude pro does not believe bass migrate in and out of the backwater areas on the Mississippi, primarily because the flow of the main river current is so strong.

"I don't think bass would ever leave a backwater area unless conditions absolutely forced them to," he says. "The bass are spawned in the shallow water of the backwaters and they never move very far away, which is why you go straight to these types of areas when you're looking for fish."

The Mississippi River backwaters Bruce fished extend for miles and include stumps, standing timber, and several types of vegetation. In addition, there are islands, bays, small channels, and even lakes available for fishing.

"Everything seems to be magnified," Bruce laughs again. "The first thing anyone fishing here does is purchase the best river navigational chart he can and study it carefully."

"The backwater areas will be outlined so an angler can choose where he wants to fish. I wouldn't dream of fishing any part of the Mississippi without first studying a good map."

While fishing the Mississippi River tournament, Bruce and the other anglers had to lock through several dams each morning to get to their chosen areas, and then lock back through those same dams as they returned to the weigh-in site.

"I probably had about three hours a day to fish," the Georgia angler explains.

"The engineers kept the locks open for us on a prescribed schedule, actually holding up the river's barge traffic for us."

"The one thing you did not want to miss was getting into a lock on their schedule because it might be hours before you could get in again."

VEGETATION AND CURRENT CAN BE KEYS TO FINDING SUMMER BASS

When he's looking for summer bass, tournament angler Ron Shuffield narrows his search to just two places: grassbeds or river current.

"There are lots of places bass can be in the heat of the summer, but finding those places is not always easy," explains Shuffield, a member of the Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff and winner of several national bass tournaments.

"Grassbeds and current are two of the most reliable places, and they're not difficult to locate."

If a lake has any type of vegetation, Shuffield will look there first. That's because vegetation, like milfoil, hydrilla, arrowhead, or moss creates shade, provides cover, and offers protection to fish. The water around vegetation is often a few degrees cooler, too.

"Local marinas and area anglers will be able to tell you if a lake has a lot of vegetation and where it's located," continues Shuffield. "If a lake has a lot of grass, then these same sources should also be able to tell you which areas of the lake are productive."

"Once you do locate the grass, don't try to fish at all. I like to concentrate along the outside edge, such as points and indentations."

The Evinrude pro's favorite lure choices for this type of fishing include topwater lures early in the morning, then plastic worms or jigs worked very slowly, along the bottom. Shuffield's most productive depths range from 12 to around 20 feet, depending on water clarity.

"If you're on a lake without any vegetation, I recommend going as far as possible up on the lake's largest tributary and fishing logs, stumps, and other shallow cover," says Shuffield.

"Basically, you'll be fishing in a river so you should have current as well as off-colored water. Bass stay shallow year round in these conditions and they're not difficult to find."

Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis is available immediately without a prescription in an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream or new easy applicator liquid form. Arthur Itis is guaranteed to work or your money back.

Mayfield making his mark

When the words "racing" and "Kentucky" are coupled together, minds automatically shift toward thoroughbreds storming down the homestretch in the Kentucky Derby. However, Kentucky has made its own contributions to the world of stock car racing as well.

In particular, the city of Owensboro has produced its own fraternity of NASCAR drivers. Those include three-time Winston Cup champion, Darrell Waltrip, and his younger brother Michael. Also products of Owensboro are the Green brothers David, Jeff and Mark. And then there is Jeremy Mayfield, driver of the Kranefuss-Haas number 37 K-Mart/RC Cola Ford.

Mayfield, currently in his fourth full season on the Winston Cup tour, is enjoying his finest year to date. Cracking the top-ten in the NASCAR Winston Cup point standings after consecutive top-five finishes, he and his team have a tremendous amount of momentum built heading into this weekend's Miller 400 at Michigan.

In the last two races, Mayfield has jumped from 17th to 10th on the strength of a fourth place run at Dover and a fifth place effort at Pocono. Over the last seven races, just five other drivers have earned more points than Mayfield. Over that span he has four top-ten and two top-five finishes.

After moving to Nashville, Tennessee at an early age, Mayfield climbed into go-karts at the age of 13 starting his racing career. Having caught the "racing bug," he moved as quickly as he could up through the minor leagues of motorsports, his largest obstacle being the age limitations at weekly racing venues.

As soon as he was of age to do so, Mayfield was behind the wheel of a street-stock. He then moved into late-model stocks at NASCAR Winston Racing Series tracks such as Nashville and Whiteville, TN.

Scott Cornett baseball camp to be held

Alice Lloyd Eagles baseball coach Scott Cornett will conduct a baseball camp at the Allen Park beginning Thursday, June 12, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Cost for the camp is $25 per camper.

Players need to bring their own baseball shoes, glove, baseball pants or sweat pants, and bat. Each player will receive a camp T-shirt.

For more information, contact Scott Cornett at (606) 368-2101 or (606) 436-2108.

Pittsburgh Pirates to hold tryout camps

The Pittsburgh Pirates will conduct tryout camps at the following locations in West Virginia:

- Friday, June 13.....St. Cloud Commons Field, Huntington.
- Saturday, June 14.....Lefty Hamilton Field, Williamson.
- Sunday, June 29.....Frank Loria Memorial Field, Clarksburg.

The camps will begin at 9 a.m. and continue into the afternoon. Any player 16 years of age or older is eligible to attend. By attending, neither the player or the Pittsburgh Pirates are obligated in any way. It should prove to be a worthwhile experience and could possibly lead to a career in professional baseball.

Players must pay their own expense to and from the camp. If the Pirates are interested in signing a player, the player will be reimbursed for all expenses incurred. He must also provide his own uniform, shoes, and glove. All other equipment will be furnished by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

American Legion team members must have written permission from their legion coach or post commander to attend. Players drafted by any major league club this June are not eligible to take part in this tryout.

The camps will be under the direction of Steve Fleming, Supervisory Scout for the Pirates. He will be assisted by Tom Baker, Scouting Assistant for the Pirates.

In 1993, he moved on to the ARCA Series where he was Rookie of the Year in 1993. He set that particular series on fire with eight top-five and 10 top-ten finishes. It was there he caught the eye of many NASCAR Winston Cup car owners and found his ticket to "big-time" stock car racing.

In 1993, Mayfield ran one Winston Cup race with owner Earl Sadler. He started the '94 season with Sadler's part-time effort where he ran four races. That same year, he also drove four Winston Cup events for T.W. Taylor. Both Sadler and Taylor lacked the major sponsor and Mayfield signed with legendary NASCAR driver and car owner, Cale Yarborough.

He ran the final 12 races of the '94 season with Yarborough and remained there until September of last year, when he swapped rides with John Andretti to become the pilot of the number 37 K-Mart/RC Cola Ford owned by Michael Kranefuss and Richard Haas.

It is worth noting that Mayfield has one of only six active crew chiefs who have won Winston Cup championships calling the shots in his pits. Paul Andrews, who won the 1992 championship with the late Alan Kulwicki, came on board in December with the Mayfield team.

Mayfield is extremely excited about his recent success and the attitude of his team.

"We have momentum on our side. We have a great attitude, a winning attitude," said Mayfield. "I wouldn't trade places with any driver on the circuit right now. The thing that makes me feel so good is the fact that Paul and I are so new to this team."

"I just got here in September and Paul started in December. Most race teams this new are still trying to figure each other out at this point in the season, not sitting in the top-ten of the point standings. Most race teams this new are wondering when their first top-ten of the season is coming, not sitting here with five top-tens and a couple of top-fives and figuring that first win is coming pretty soon."

"Most race teams this new aren't getting pats on the back, they're getting shoved out of the way," said Mayfield.

Jeremy Mayfield is one driver that definitely has the potential to break into victory lane before the season is over.

ANSWER TO LAST WEEK'S TRIVIA:

As you saw in last Sunday's Pocono 500, the front-stretch of this unique track was the sight of plenty four-wide racing. One of the longest straights in NASCAR Pocono's front-stretch measures 3,470 feet in length.

THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION:

What driver currently in the top-five in Winston Cup points picked up his first career win at Michigan?

UK won't be 'University of Swoosh,' C.M. Newton says ... (stop laughing!)

Glad and sad. That was the reaction of some 'UK assistant basketball coaches' (blush) when UK director of athletics C.M. Newton listed details last week of the athletics department's latest long-range sell-out of a college sports giant to Nike Company.

A 5-year deal with a 5-year option totalling nearly $8.5 million. Consider the double-speak in two Newton remarks.

"We're not going to be the University of Swoosh. Our mark will be pre-eminent," he told reporters.

Pre-eminent. Defined as superior to or notably above all others.

UK's block K logo might be pre-eminent, but, in view of, say, Tiger Woods' attire these days, allow me to suggest we wait and see which tail wags this dog.

And, Newton said, "We will become, along with the Michigans, the North Carolinas, the Florida States and others, one of Nike's national schools. We're known nationally."

Pardon me. UK will now be alongside the aforementioned? Gee, how many weeks since UK officials were crowing because of a national poll result that said UK basketball is the most popular program in America?

Kentucky will be alongside Michigan and North Carolina marketing its image. And all this time we believed UK basketball has, by itself, ranked ahead not beside these paragons in attendance, overall fan support, overall victories, NCAA championships; and enjoyed more national exposure via television.

But yes, UK's deal with Nike is about 'show me the money!' and nothing else.

Ah, but let us not be completely cynical. There are reasons to be glad about UK's sell-out too.

Any money gotten from Phil Knight's Nike pockets is a good thing.

The school (actually Newton) and not a coach will decide which shoes, shorts 'n shirts student-athletes will wear.

UK's image will go international, giving Kentuckians more reason to be proud, and happy to live here.

Maybe the deal means loyal ticket buyers to UK football won't have to worry about a price hike for awhile. (yeah, right)

Note: Basketball ticket prices for home games will increase next season — $20 for lower arena and $15 for upper arena.

Maybe Newton and the athletics department will cancel a current plan of charging students attending games in Rupp Arena. (yeah, right)

Maybe the latest financial bonanza will mean a savings on school mailings to UK alumni begging for more money. (yeah, right)

Maybe the annual $200,000 Nike donation to the Cawood Ledford scholarship fund and/or UK's Athletics In Service community outreach program will mean more public disclosure of how that money is allocated.

And maybe we can be jubilant for the fellow who got the commission on UK's Nike deal. No word on who it was, but he's probably in the Bahamas by now.

One other perhaps sad note in all this — those carrying the Nike check mark around Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena next seasons, the student-athletes? They get nothing.

But hey, let us celebrate for the University of Swoosh...uh, Kentucky.

RICK TO TUBBY

From Rick Pitino to Tubby Smith. Without divulging a name, a UK official was asked last week how is it different working with Tubby Smith after Rick Pitino?

"Tubby is more personable and more level headed too."

"I mean let's face it, people from up East are just different. Tubby grew up in a crowd. He's a guy who, after Georgia would win a basketball game, could be seen running through the student section doing high fives."

The official added, "But Rick had a rock star image, an aura that's, well, going to be different for Tubby. It's going to take awhile."

Comment: The view here is Orlando 'Tubby' Smith, nor anyone else is going to come close to duplicating Pitino's off-court charisma. Because their backgrounds and personalities are poles apart.

Tubby Smith must paint his own portrait.

MOREHEAD'S DARRIN HORN

What does Morehead State men's basketball have to 'sell' high school (and junior college) prospects?

"A couple, three things really," assistant coach Darrin Horn says. "A chance to be part of something special, a rebuilding program here that is similar to what Western was doing 6-7 years ago."

"And we will be playing a good non-conference schedule (all on the road)."

The Eagles play at Kentucky, Louisville, Cincinnati, Evansville and North Carolina State next winter.

"And the obvious sell is Kyle Macy. He's a class act with great character and actually he has great recognition out there too."

Horn is anxious to do his first summer camp recruiting circuit in Indianapolis and Princeton, New Jersey. And, since Morehead will also pursue in-state student-athletes with vigor, the Blue Chip camps at Georgetown College June 22-26 and July 6-10 and 20-24, will be on the schedule as well.

"We plan to build from in state out," Horn says. "We think there are good prospects here in Kentucky like (Mr. Basketball) Brandon Davenport."

Owensboro's Davenport signed with Morehead last month.

Morehead and Macy could not do better than be represented by Darrin Horn. If the future of college basketball falls to committed young men like the Lexington native and Western graduate, then it will be in excellent hands.

Footnote: Horn is excellent for public speaking engagements.

RUPPIAN 'IRONY'

The specter of Kentucky's legendary coach Adolph Rupp so often criticized, condemned and branded a racist, can be seen in a new light of irony.

In a recent profile on Oklahoma Republican Congressman J.C. Watts, a black man, the writer, Anita Hill (of Clarence Thomas fame) said, "if Watts is to continue his rise (a future vice-presidential candidate, perhaps), he must deal straightforwardly with the inconsistencies between his personal history and his political rhetoric, some of which are born of the times and expectations of blacks and whites..."

Ah, a black man having to explain his personal history and rhetoric within the times and expectations in which he live(d). Adolph Rupp would understand.

DIS 'N DATA

Basketball. The Kentucky portion of the Kentucky-Indiana series is June 28 at Farnham-Dudgeon Civic Arena in Frankfort. Tip-off time for the girls game is 5:05 EST, with the boys contest to follow.

Silver Charm's running speaks for itself, but is there a more handsome horse out there than Kentucky Derby and Preakness champion? ... Major League Baseball: Lots and lots of empty seats. ... Did Cleveland Indian fanatics 'wake up' the White Sox's Albert Belle or what? ... MLB: Don't you love to watch umpire Frank Pulli call balls and strikes? ... Most knowledgeable analyst in MLB? No contest, Dave Campbell, ESPN.

Lemme see if I have this straight ... Rick Pitino walked away from a job that included making sure players attended class, ate their Wheaties and got to bed on time, for one that includes dealing with a deadbeat dad (ex-UofL player Greg Minor) who resists paying child support for three children he fathered out of wedlock.

READERS (RIGHT) WRITE:

Note: Letters are edited for the sake of brevity.

Ohio residents holds dear ties to Old Kentucky Home...

Robert Wilson of Norwood, Oh. (with family ties in Bracken Co.) writes to say Kentuckians would be amazed at the number of UK fans in central and southern Ohio. He laments the sparse media attention paid to UK.

"People in Kentucky don't know how fortunate they are to be able to see and hear UK games on television and radio."

Comment: The eighth annual UK Convention, or O-High Club gathering of UK fans in the Buckeye state is set for July 19 at Eastview Baptist Church near Middletown. Scheduled to speak are Phil 'Cookie' Grawemeyer, Adrian 'Odie' Smith and Kevin Grevey, along with new football defensive coordinator Mike Major and UK director of athletics C.M. Newton.

For information about attending telephone Jim Porter in Middletown at 513-746-8758

Fan rips 'Da Sports Writer...

Joyce Vincent, Brownsville: "I'm sick of you calling Pitino 'Da Coach'. He's gone so now you can get off his back. Let's see if you have enough nerve to call the black coach 'Da Coach'. Probably not! (Because) you would probably have some kind of charges brought against you."

WORTH REPEATING

Pitcher Matt Anderson, native of Louisville and St. Xavier High School graduate who now stars for Rice University, was chosen No. 1 by the Detroit Tigers in baseball's spring draft last week. Afterwards Anderson's mother told the Courier-Journal: "I'm so proud of Matt and proud of Kentucky. We have great Little League programs, and this should be encouragement for all the kids and parents in Kentucky. Anything can happen."

And so it goes.

GORDON RIDES TO VICTORY AT POCONO

Jeff Gordon scored his sixth Winston Cup win of the 1997 season, as he took the checkered flag for the second consecutive year at Pocono Raceway.

"It was the pit crew that won the race," Gordon said. "They made all the difference. If Jeff Burton had been able to move up on my rear bumper, I'm not so sure we could have held him off. But, thanks to the guys in the pits, they did a super job. They got me out when I needed it. They were just awesome."

Burton did lead the most laps, but during the last pit stop, Gordon had too much of a lead, and Burton had to settle for runner-up position.

"We had a good car," said Burton. "I can't say it was a perfect car. We had a rubber bushing fall down so we couldn't make an adjustment on the track-bar. I'm not sure it would have made any difference if we could have adjusted it, but I wish we could have had the opportunity to try."

TOP 20 FINISHERS:

- 1) Jeff Gordon, 2) Jeff Burton, 3) Dale Jarrett, 4) Mark Martin, 5) Jeremy Mayfield, 6) Ted Musgrave, 7) Darrell Waltrip, 8) Geoff Bodine, 9) Terry Labonte, 10) Dale Earnhardt, 11) Derricke Cope, 12) Morgan Shepherd, 13) Michael Waltrip, 14) Kyle Petty, 15) Sterling Marlin, 16) Ricky Craven, 17) Wally Dallenbach, 18) Steve Grissom, 19) Jimmy Spencer, 20) Rick Mast.

TOP FIVE POINTS LEADERS:

- 1) Jeff Gordon and Terry Labonte,

- 1,955 (Tie), 3) Mark Martin, 1,894, 4) Dale Jarrett, 1,826, 5) Jeff Burton, 1,772

ROOKIES SWEEP TEXAS TRUCK RACE

Rookies Kenny Irwin, Boris Said, and Rick Crawford swept the first three positions in the NASCAR Truck Series, Pronto Auto Parts 400 at Texas Motor Speedway.

Irwin, who started the race in fifth, took the lead from pole-sitter Mike Bliss on lap 113 of the 167 lap event, when Bliss had to pit because of a flat tire on his Ford.

TOP 10 FINISHERS:

- 1) Irwin, 2) Said, 3) Crawford, 4) Chuck Bown, 5) Mike Bliss, 6) Bob Keselowski, 7) Dave Rezendes, 8) Randy Tolsma, 9) Joe Ruttman, 10) Ken Bouchard Cintas Rookie of the Year contenders: 1) Irwin, 121, 2) Crawford, 99, 3) Said, 70.

TOP 10 POINTS LEADERS:

- 1) Rich Bickle, 1,343, 2) Jack Sprague, 1,303, 3) Kenny Irwin, 1,288, 4) Mike Bliss, 1,283, 5) Butch Miller, 1,234, 6) Chuck Bown, 1,234, 7) Joe Ruttman, 1,224, 8)

- Dave Rezendes, 1,199, 9) Jimmy Hensley, 1,146, 10) Jay Sauter, 1,143.

The next Craftsman Truck Series event will be June 21 at Bristol Motor Speedway.

CARELLI'S CREW FINED $10,000

In one of the stiffest fines ever handed down in the Craftsman Truck Series, NASCAR Racing Officials levied a $10,000 penalty against Richard Ren III, crew chief for the number 6 Chesrown Racing Chevrolet driven by Rick Carelli.

The penalty was a result of unapproved axles found by NASCAR officials in a post-race inspection following the Pennzoil VIP Discount Center 200 run at New Hampshire Speedway.

According to a NASCAR statement, the axles were in violation of the Craftsman Truck Series rules, and did not conform to NASCAR rules, respectively.

Such a ruling normally means the item in question could give the user an unfair advantage over other competitors.

With the threat of showers present last Saturday, Sitka's 201 Speedway once again prevailed, delivering a full evening of dirt track racing.

Fans had the opportunity to witness side-by-side battles, especially in the corners, where many days of effort with a bulldozer cut down the racing surface by as much as two feet in places, eliminating all of the bumps, providing racers with the smoothest surface seen in quite some time.

Melvin's Jody Puckett took the checkered flag in the Claim Bomber feature, taking the advantage coming out of turn four on the second lap. Puckett moved half of a car-length ahead of second place runner Kevin Baker.

Puckett extended his lead over the next several laps, while Baker's second spot lead went to a healthy advantage over Eddie Blair's car. Lap five proved to be the end of Baker's bid for a win as overheating problems put his car on the trailer.

Blair, last week's feature winner, took over second place, but Tomahawk's Jackie Buskirk, after giving chase, overtook Blair and finished behind Puckett for second place.

It was the first feature win of the race season for Puckett. Buskirk placed second and Clavin Pack third.

The closest battle of the night occurred in the Super Bomber feature, as two veteran track competitors battled for the top spot. Inez's Beadie Blackburn and Jim Lemaster of Falcon, battled side-by-side until Blackburn powered to the front of the pack with Lemaster running a close second.

The first of only two caution flags flew on lap three, when third place runner, Glenn Patton, spun his car off the fourth turn. On the restart, Lemaster went to the high-side of turn four grabbing the lead from Blackburn.

From lap four to the 11th lap, Lemaster and Blackburn staged the closest competition of the season, as both stayed side-by-side around all four corners and on the front and back straightways. Only inches separated the two, yet each driver allowed the other room to run, without contact.

Blackburn powered back to the point out of turn four on the seventh lap, moving around Lemaster to regain the lead. Lemaster still kept pressure on Blackburn until the belts came off his Camaro car. From there to the finish line, Glen Patton gave chase to Blackburn. However, Blackburn extended his lead to well over seven carlengths. Patton would close a little during the finals stages, but at the finish line it would be Inez's Blackburn taking the checkered flag in the feature. Blackburn dedicated his victory to his father, Willie Blackburn. Patton finished second, followed by Rodney Webb and Johnny Osborne.

RACE NOTES:

Freeburn's G.T. Norman made his debut for 1997 at 201 and won the Claim Bomber consolation race....Sitka's Jerry Honeycutt won the Nas Hog feature leading all 12 laps, avoiding late race crashes from lapped hogs and crossing the line ahead of Sitka's Truman Napier and Gary Jennings.

Some traditions have held firm

On a recent Sunday afternoon, Wilma and I were driving from the Huntington Mall. There was little or no commercial traffic (translated: no coal trucks), so we were moving south on U.S. 23 at a comfortable clip.

That is, until somewhere near the Johnson/Lawrence County line we came up behind a string of cars either completely stopped or moving about five or ten miles per hour.

"Uh oh, there's been an accident," Wilma said. She was wrong, because as we rounded a little curve we saw that a funeral procession was creeping toward us, and those in cars in front of us had simply stopped or slowed down in respect for the dead. As a matter of fact, where the shoulder was wide enough, some had even pulled completely off the road.

After the procession had passed, we picked up speed again and got to wondering if people in other parts of the country paid respect in a like manner.

It wasn't more than a couple of weeks later that we came across an article in the paper discussing that exact same thing.

Written by Gracie Bonds Staples of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, it pretty much came to the same conclusion that we had: such tradition is more or less a Southern thing.

"There is no law for it," Staples wrote. "Today it is more common in small rural communities, where everyone still knows everybody, than in large urban areas."

Her article noted, however, that more often than not these days, the route to the cemetery involves travel on larger highways, thus making it less practical, even unsafe in some cases, to stop or slow down for a funeral.

But in many parts of the south, and apparently that includes Eastern Kentucky, folks still do it, even though we don't know who has died.

I find it interesting that such traditions seem to have held firm, even after funerals themselves have changed.

For instance, when I was a kid, it was absolutely unheard of to conduct a funeral service anywhere other than a real church, and it was considered near sacrilege to leave a body at the funeral home. The deceased was always brought home for the wake. The funeral home brought in chairs, neighbors baked cakes and pies, young children romped and giggled in the front yard until nearly midnight, and grown men sat with the dead for a night or two before the funeral.

Unfortunately, perpetual care cemeteries weren't common, either, and men from the neighborhood would dig the grave, in either a family plot or the community cemetery, which more often than not, was located at the very top of the hill nearest the residence of the deceased. Six or eight men were then forced to carry the coffin a hundred yards or so straight up a hill to its final resting place.

Thankfully, that type of scene seldom occurs anymore. It's good to know, however, that we still have respect enough for the deceased to at least slow down, or even pull over and stop where possible, when we meet a funeral procession on the highway.

Participants of the Survivors Skills Workshop watched as Gabe Takacs showed them to do a home repair project.

Women and men prepare to handle life's little emergencies

by Janice Shepherd

Women — and men — from eight counties became better prepared to handle some of life's little emergencies, such as burst water pipes or windshield wiper replacement, during a survival skills workshop on May 23.

The workshop, sponsored by Prestonsburg Community College's Homemaker/Single Parent Career Development Program and KY Tech/Mayo Regional Technology Center, was held in the Wilkinson/Stumbo Convention Center at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Sessions included auto mechanics, plumbing, electricity, home repair, self-defense, welding, heating and cooling, money management, first aid, career choices and stress management.

Joe Stewardson, an instructor in auto tech at Mayo, taught attendees how to change oil and tires on their cars. He also gave them tips on troubleshooting and choosing a mechanic.

Jim Recktenwald, with Mountain Comprehensive Care, put his home repair skills to use and taught participants of his workshop how to light a hot water heater and furnace and how to deal with repairs to sinks, faucets, and commodes.

Jim Conley, an instructor at Mayo, conducted a workshop in electricity that showed quick fixes for home appliances and how to handle problems with the fuse box. Participants repaired a home extension cord and got to take it home with them. Individuals attending the home repair workshop took home cans of WD 40 lubricating oil and screwdrivers. They learned how to spackle, patch, and paint and how to install locks. Gabe Takacs of Johnson County was the instructor.

Billy Meade, a Kentucky State Police officer, taught a class on self-defense. Bobby McCool, Mayo instructor, conducted a workshop on welding. Keithen McKenzie, also from Mayo, held a heating and cooling workshop.

Polly Spencer, a Department of Social Insurance JOBS case manager, taught participants how to choose between food and the cut-off notice in a session on money management. She also discussed credit problems and how to fix them. Participants received cookbooks to take home with them.

A first aid class rounded out the morning session. That class was taught by Mike Mays, with the Prestonsburg Fire Department.

Afternoon sessions included lectures on career choices, conducted by Elizabeth Bishop and assisted by Amy McLoney with the Commonwealth Educational Opportunities Center at Morehead State University, and stress management, conducted by Justina DeLong with Mountain Comprehensive Care.

The workshops are spearheaded by Jean Rosenberg, with the Homemakers and Single Parents program at PCC.

Purchasing the grill to fill the bill

When you buy a grill, base your decision on which features you want and the grill's sturdiness. Three types of grills are available for purchase: gas, charcoal and electric.

GAS GRILLS

Gas grills can be fueled by either liquid propane (LP) or natural gas. Gas grills generally offer more features than charcoal or electric grills. Features to consider include a large cooking surface, warming racks, a side burner for cooking side dishes, a grease catcher, a built-in grid for grilling delicate foods and a rotisserie attachment. Some even come with a water or wood chip compartment for steaming and smoking.

Consumer Reports rated 11 grills in June, 1996. The top rated grills included Weber Genesis 1000 ($480); Weber Spirit 500 LX ($370); Ducane 1504SHLPE ($560); and Char-Broil 465-9590 ($400). Gas grills priced between $100 to $300 are fine for basic grilling. More money usually buys better construction, more features and the ability to cook foods besides steaks to perfection.

CHARCOAL GRILLS

Charcoal grills range in size from small portable models and open braziers to kettle grills, square covered cookers and large wagon grills. Charcoal grills are generally less expensive than gas grills. Features to look for include sturdy construction, porcelain coatings, vents in the top and bottom of the grill and an ash catcher. Charcoal grill cooks are more likely to use wood chips to enhance the flavor of grilled foods. Indirect cooking is easily accomplished on a charcoal grill.

ELECTRIC GRILLS

Electric grills are good options for those who live in apartments or condominiums where charcoal or gas grills are not allowed.

Equipment safety

Inspect your gas grill after winter storage for gas leaks, deterioration, proper assembly and burner obstructions. Never attach or disconnect a propane cylinder when the grill is in use or hot. Never store a gas tank indoors. When lighting a gas grill, keep the lid open to prevent an explosion. If the burners fail to light in 5 seconds, shut off the gas and wait 5 minutes before attempting to relight the grill.

SAFE SMOKING

TECHNIQUES

Grilling slowly over indirect heat in a closed charcoal grill is called smoking. Smoking adds flavor to large cuts of meat and keeps them tender during the up to 8 hours it may take to cook.

Use high quality charcoal to build a hot fire. Pile about 50 briquets in the center and when they are covered with grey ash, push them into two piles. Center a pan of water between the two piles. Wood chips such as mesquite can add additional flavor. Use dry chips for a fast smoke or wet them for sustained heat.

Center the food on the grill over the water pan, close the lid and keep the grill vents open. The temperature should be maintained at 250° to 300°F for safety. Add about 9 coals every 1 to 2 hours.

Now that you know more about selecting a grill, here are a few recipes to try!

APRICOT GLAZED BEEF KABOBS

Yield: four servings
1 pound top loin beef, cut into one-inch cubes
10 ounce jar apricot preserves
1/4 cup orange juice
1/4 cup margarine

University of Kentucky, College of Agriculture

In a small saucepan, stir together preserves, juice and margarine. Simmer until margarine is melted. Place beef cubes in small container and use 3/4 cup of apricot mixture to coat the beef. Marinate at least 30 minutes. Reserve the remaining apricot mixture to serve warm alongside the kabobs. Place beef cubes onto 4-6 skewers. (If you are using bamboo skewers, soak in water for an hour to prevent burning). Grill over hot coals for 10-12 minutes, turning once. Baste often with marinade. Nutritional Analysis: 449 calories, 24 g protein, 47 g carbohydrate, 19 g fat, 98 mg cholesterol, 202 mg sodium.

HONEY MUSTARD-GLAZED STEAK WITH GRILLED ONIONS

Yield: two-3-ounce steaks
1/3 cup Dijon-style mustard
1 Tablespoon parsley, chopped
1 1/2 Tablespoons honey
1 Tablespoon cider vinegar
1 Tablespoon water
1/4 teaspoon hot red pepper sauce
1/8 teaspoon coarse black pepper

2 5-ounce boneless beef top loin steaks, cut 1-inch thick and well trimmed
1 large onion, cut into 1/2-inch thick slices

Combine the first seven ingredients. Brush beef steaks liberally with glaze on both sides. Place beef steaks and onion on grid over medium coals. Grill 15 minutes for medium rare (145°F) to 20 minutes for medium (160°F) or until the desired doneness is reached, turning once and again brushing with glaze. Nutritional Analysis: 333 calories, 36 g protein, 25 g carbohydrate, 11 g fat, 94 mg cholesterol, 1073 mg sodium.

LEMON CAESAR GRILLED CHICKEN

Yield: four 3-ounce servings
1/3 cup lemon juice
1/3 cup olive or canola oil
1/4 cup Parmesan cheese, grated
2 Tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 pound chicken breasts halves, skinned and boneless

In small bowl, mix all ingredients except chicken. Reserve 1/4 cup marinade, cover and chill. Pour remaining marinade over chicken, cover and chill for two to three hours. Remove chicken from marinade and discard marinade. Grill until tender, basting frequently with reserved marinade. Nutritional Analysis: 334 calories, 29 g protein, 3 g carbohydrate, 23 g fat, 72 mg cholesterol, 632 mg sodium.

ROSEMARY JUMBO SHRIMP KABOBS

Yield: four servings
1 Tablespoon olive or canola oil
1/2 lemon peel, grated
24 jumbo shrimp, peeled and deveined
4 sprigs rosemary fresh, 8-10 inches long

Salt and pepper to taste

Mix oil with lemon peel. Skewer six shrimp on each rosemary sprig by holding the shrimp down with one hand and pushing the rosemary branch through the shrimp, allowing the branch to stick out on both ends. Brush shrimp with lemon oil and season with salt and pepper. Place skewers of shrimp on the grate and cook for three to four minutes on each side. Nutritional Analysis: 77 calories, 9 g protein, 1 g carbohydrate, 4 g fat, 64 mg cholesterol, 329 mg sodium.

GRILLED GARDEN MEDLEY

Yield: six-eight servings
2 large tomatoes, large chunks
2 medium zucchini, sliced
2 medium summer squash, sliced
1 small onion, sliced
2 Tablespoon margarine
Salt and pepper to taste

Wrap all ingredients together in heavy duty aluminum foil. Bake over medium to high coals for 30 to 45 minutes depending on desired doneness. Nutritional Analysis: 76 calories, 2 g protein, 9 g carbohydrate, 4 g fat, 10 mg cholesterol, 226 mg sodium.

GRILLED CORN ON THE COB

Yield: One serving
1 ear corn on the cob
1 1/2 teaspoon margarine
Salt and pepper to taste

Pull back the husks from corn, leaving husks attached at the base. Remove silks. Fold husks back over corn and soak in cold water for 3 to 4 hours. Remove from water. Pat dry and spread margarine over each ear of corn. Pull husks up over corn and tie with string or a strip of one of the husks. Grill over medium coals, turning frequently until tender, about 20 to 30 minutes. Nutritional Analysis: 184 calories, 4 g protein, 31 g carbohydrate, 7 g fat, 16 mg cholesterol, 80 mg sodium.

GRILLED POTATOES

Yield: 4 3-ounce servings
1 pound red new or white potatoes, 1-inch cubes
2 Tablespoons oil
Salt and pepper to taste

Cook potatoes until barely tender when tested with a fork. Rinse in cold water and drain well. Thread potatoes on skewers. Brush lightly with oil. Grill over medium coals, turning occasionally, until tender, about 10 to 15 minutes. Nutritional Analysis: 127 calories, 2 g protein, 15 g carbohydrates, 7 g fat, 5 mg sodium.

FCRTA holds memorial meeting

The Floyd County Retired Teachers Association held its third annual memorial service, June 5, at the Josie Harkins Schoolhouse at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park. Roberta Fugate, president of the organization, led the proceedings in which all retired teachers were recognized and lauded, but more specifically, those who died during the past year.

Invocation for the service was given by Danese Amburgey, who read a tribute to all teachers and closed with a prayer. Alice O. Martin, led the pledge to the flag.

Providing music for the occasion were the McDowell Trio of Libby Hall, Trish Cieslak and Joan Chaffins. They honored both the deceased and those present with "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "America," "I'm Just a Poor Wayfaring Stranger," "What a Glorious Day That Will Be." "Wish You Were Here," and "Joy on the Other Side or Jordan."

Others participating in the event were friends and family members of the 11 retired teachers who have died since June 6 of last year. A candle was lit for each of the deceased, who included Effie A. Centers, Virginia Alice Draughn, Sonia B. Greer, Eugyle S. Martin, Tilden Howard, Denzil Halbert, Kenneth R. Akers, Martha R. Lee, Chalmer Frazier, Herbert Prater and Olga Preston. A proclamation and a rose were presented to those who did the candle lighting for the deceased.

The solemnity of the occasion was broken only once and that was for a "Happy Birthday" salute to Alice O. Martin, who rumor has it, turned 72 on June 5.

The benediction was given by Danese Amburgey, after which those present enjoyed light refreshments and a tour of the little one-room school.

Signing the register at the memorial meeting were the following members, family members and friends: Donna Centers Cole, Charles Centers, Sheila J. Akers, Marie Mullins, Ruby Akers, Marsella C. Bradley, Syrida Martin, Doris Osborne, Etta Scott, Alice O. Martin, Imogene Caldwell, Darryl Greer, Jored Greer, Danese Amburgey, America Nichols, Jenny Wiley, Lonzo Lafferty, Judith P. Music, L. B. Price, Margaret G. Tackett, May B. Lee, Mary A. Lee, Gladys Boling, Annis C. Clark, Elizabeth L. Frazier, Kay Anne Frazier Wilborn, Alice V. Williams, Sarah Laven, Jo Ann Johnson, Edith Martin, Daniel Branson, Willie Elliott, Delphia J. Heating and cooling components were examined during a workshop at the Wilkinson/Stumbo Convention Center.

Rosenberg said ten agencies, such as GED programs, Hazard New Chance, teen pregnancy programs and the Magoffin Learning Center, brought participants to the Survival Skills workshops. About 104 people attended the sessions.

Rosenberg said that one of the goals of the workshops is to teach participants that they can do things they previously thought they could not do, and to know they can obtain higher paying jobs after acquiring those skills.

"Good things happen when people let the door open," Rosenberg said, and referred to several of her former students who obtained degrees at Mayo and higher paying jobs in the workforce.

"And (Rosenberg) is a door opener," Gina Amos, one of her students, said.

USING WILDFLOWERS IN THE LANDSCAPE

by Pat Spicer
Floyd County Cooperative
Extension Agent for Agriculture

Americans have recently begun to appreciate the beauty of wildflowers. Wildflowers provide an eye-pleasing addition to the landscape, are easier to maintain, attract birds and small wildlife and can provide large areas of color to contrast with grass of formal gardens.

Wildflowers can be started from seed or transplants can be used. You should not dig up wild plants on your own, nor should you buy from commercial dealers who dig wild transplants. Be careful to introduce invasive pest species like kudzu and multiflora rose.

Planting a wildflower bed is a lesson in patience; wildflowers need good soil-to-seed contact, plenty of moisture to germinate, and relief from weed competition. A wildflower bed should include a mix of perennial and annual wildflowers, and some grasses. Perennials live and flower for more than two years, often not blooming for the first one or two years.

Annuals complete their life cycle in one year and should be reseeded if they are truly native to the area. Biennials take two years to complete their cycle, developing a root system and vegetative growth the first year and blooming the second. There are very few biennials in nature. Both annuals and biennials reestablish by reseeding.

One of the most critical parts of wildflower bed establishment is the choice of plants and source of seed. The seed is not cheap, costing from $60 to $300 per pound. Wildflower seeds are a specialty product, and production costs are high. One way to judge the quality of wildflower seed is by the amount of information that comes with it; e.g., germination rates for each variety of seed, species included, and percent by weight of each species.

When planting a wildflower bed keep in mind, what competition there will be among the plants you are using. Also choose plants that are suited to growing conditions for the area. Know what type of soil you have and how much seed to plant in the area where you want the bed.

There is no right or wrong way to establish a wildflower bed. Each site will be different. Each situation will present its own challenge. The most successful project, however, takes these three factors into consideration.

• Soil Preparation. Soil should be tilled, cultivated or scarified to rough up the surface of the soil. Tilling is not recommended unless soils are heavily compacted because it often turns up many new weed seeds.

• Weed Control. This includes killing or removing aggressive plants and eliminating weed seed in or on the ground by fumigation or at least using minimum tillage to keep weed seeds buried. After the bed has become established, weeds must be controlled on an annual basis if the bed is to reach its full potential. It is much easier if the weeds can be controlled from the beginning and young weeds pulled regularly.

Seeding or Planting Seed. This can be done by hand or machine broadcasting, cyclone seeder, modified no-till drillseeders, hydroseeding, or hydromulching. If cost is not a factor, plugging with wildflower transplants or laying down a wildflower sod is an alternative. Both methods result in almost instant success, and also give more positive control over the composition of the bed.

Remember when you plan your wildflower bed that establishing large areas will require not only more plants but also more maintenance. Small beds pocketed in the right sites in home yards may be a much more realistic approach for homeowners.

For more information on establishing wildflower beds in your landscape, contact Pat Spicer at the Floyd County Extension Office at (606) 886-2668.

Birthday

Hall celebrates seventh birthday

Jordan O'Bryan Hall, son of Chad and Angie Hall, celebrated his seventh birthday on May 28. The theme of the party was Space Jam. Family members and friends attended.

He is a student at Melvin Elementary School and is presently participating in Pee Wee baseball.

His maternal grandparents are Tommy Hall of Weeksbury and Rosemary Isaac of Wheelwright. Paternal grandparents are Terry Dean Hall of Hi Hat and Mitzi Crisp of Bypro.

leg?"

A-OK went on to say, "It is no small irony that in trying to save money, the state and nation may wind up spending much more on these older citizens: where one district lost $37,473 to care for people in their homes, it calculated that it will cost Medicaid $237,672 to support these same people in nursing homes, the only remaining option."

The A-OK article continues, "Cuts were made recently in a broad range of services to older Kentuckians, from adult day care programs to home care, to senior citizen center support, to home delivered meals to transportation. If these reductions are not addressed, more may follow."

"These are issues that may well affect you, even though you may not think so today. The aging agencies and services of the Commonwealth try to provide assistance to every senior citizen who needs it, and, at one time or another, almost all of us, or members of our families, do need it."

I join with the A-OK and encourage you to call your representative or senator. You can learn who serves your area by calling toll-free 1-800-592-4399. "To leave a message for your legislator call 1-800-372-7181."

In closing, let me explain briefly how your legislator will get the personal message you send. Your call will be answered by calling toll-free 1-800-592-4399. "To leave a message for your legislator call 1-800-372-7181."

In closing, let me explain briefly how your legislator will get the personal message you send. Your call will be answered in Frankfort. The message you leave will be typed onto a computer by the person who answers your call. Your message will then be sent electronically to your Legislator's office—or given to your legislator when the legislators call in for their personal messages—since the legislature is not in session at the present time.

You will be heard! I urge you to take a few minutes of your time to speak on behalf of the Kentucky Homecare Program and other senior citizen issues that might be of chief concern to you or a loved one at this time.

Without your voice, the people in Frankfort may not know how badly our senior citizens are hurting. Our older Americans need their help now! The Kentucky Homecare Program, as it was established in 1982, is needed more today than ever. Today we have more senior citizens over the age of 60 than we had in 1982. Many of these people could stay in their homes much longer if services were available to help them remain at home. Considering the figures quoted above, think what a savings this would be for our state. A program like the Kentucky Homecare Program is not only needed but adequate support for it makes good financial sense.

This column is dedicated to senior citizens throughout the Big Sandy region. It is written as an outreach effort for the Kentucky Benefits Counseling Program serving Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties. For more information about this program, contact: Charles Slone, Benefits Counseling Coordinator at 886-3876 or toll free at 1-800-556-3876.

In this article, I read about an 83-year-old woman in Western Kentucky. The article stated: "Through funding from the state, she had been getting meals, homemaker assistance and personal help. But her meals and personal services had to be terminated when social services budgets were cut recently by both federal and state agencies."

In this same article it discussed the case of a 70-year-old Lake Cumberland woman who has been partially crippled by polio since she was 16... "She was receiving help through the homecare program to get to needed medical services. But, because of budget cuts, she was discharged from the homecare program. The immediate question now is, how will she get to the doctor in order to get the cast taken off her

Garden Phil-osphy

If you're planting your garden by the phases of the moon and signs of the zodiac, here's the information you'll need for the upcoming week.

And I don't know how it's been in your area, but in my garden there's not a whole lot happening because it's too wet, or too cloudy, or too cool—or all three.

We'll hope for better days.

MOON IS LIGHT NOW

The moon is in the light phase now and will remain there until the next full moon on June 20. Throughout this period only those vegetables that produce above the ground should be planted.

NO PLANTING TODAY

If you were planning to do some planting this evening after supper, you'd be better off forgetting it.

The sign is in Leo (the heart), a killing sign. Reserve today's gardening activities to cultivating, deadening—anything but planting.

FLOWERING DAYS BEGIN WEDNESDAY

A series of flowering days begins Wednesday when the sign moves to Virgo (the bowels), one of the flowering signs.

Virgo remains in control Thursday and Friday, too, followed by Saturday and Sunday under the influence of Libra (the reins), the other flowering sign.

On any of these days you may plant flowers, but avoid planting vegetables unless you're planning to eat the blooms.

The next great days for general vegetable planting will occur next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, June 16-18, when the sign moves to Scorpio (the secrets), another of the fruitful signs, and the moon remains in the light phase.

On any of these days you may plant anything that produces above the ground.

Worldwide Equipment honors employees

Worldwide Equipment recently honored its top employees during an annual awards banquet held in Knoxville, Tennessee, and Prestonsburg employees earned several honors.

Honored were Elizabeth Sparkman, Joyce Akers, Lennis

Newsom, Jeff Bates, L.E. Simpkins, Danny Troxell, and Mark Craft.

Sparkman was named Corporate Office Employee of the Year. She has been with the company for 17 years and works in the accounting department. She and her husband, Don, and their son, Lance, reside at Hi Hat.

Akers was named Worldwide Equipment's Office Employee of the Year. She has been with the company for four years and is employed in the finance department. She resides in Prestonsburg and has three children.

Newsom was designated Prestonsburg Group Parts Salesperson of the Year and Worldwide Equipment Inc. Parts Salesperson of the Year.

Bates was named Prestonsburg Division Salesperson of the Year; Simpkins was named Prestonsburg Group Employee of the Year; and Danny Troxell, with the Prestonsburg Division, was awarded the Credit Manager of the Year honor.

Mark Craft, with the Prestonsburg Division, was named Worldwide Equipment Technician of the Year.

The company also honored the Prestonsburg Division as its Division of the Year.

Elizabeth Sparkman is Worldwide Equipment's Corporate Office Employee of the Year. She has been with the company for 17 years.

Joyce Akers was named Worldwide Equipment's Office Employee of the Year during recent ceremonies honoring the company's outstanding employees.

Commerce Corner

This past week was one of learning for me as your Executive Director. On Wednesday, June 4, I attended a community meeting in Pikeville hosted by the US Army Corps of Engineers regarding the Haysi Dam Project. The potential project extending from Haysi, Virginia, to the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River here in Kentucky has requested the support of the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce.

I went to the meeting thinking that it could be something we would support, but I did not realize the impact it will have on our area. Peace of mind, is how it was described by one citizen.

The project would contribute to tremendous flood control in our county, giving our citizens peace of mind. In addition, the project promises to deliver a boost to tourism and the economy of our area through the recreation of white water rafting. Our organization has the mission of improving the quality of life for our citizens, therefore, I feel this is a project that our organization must support.

My next experience led me to the beautiful Cumberland Falls State Park. I was invited by our County Solid Waste Coordinator, Mike Vance, to attend the spring conference of state solid waste coordinators as a member of the Floyd County Environmental Planning Committee.

by Carla Coburn

The conference was informative, and I was surprised to see how passionate the directors were about solid waste.

It emphasized to me the importance of our newly-formed Environmental Planning Committee.

The committee is really making a difference in beautification of our county. We collected 172 tons of trash during our "Clean-Up Kentucky" week; that's a lot of trash that isn't floating in the Big Sandy River!

We plan to schedule another clean-up this fall throughout the county, and the committee is currently continuing efforts in recycling and on several other projects. We welcome citizen involvement; you can make a difference in your community!

Groundbreaking ceremonies to be held

Groundbreaking for this region's largest building construction project will be conducted June 18, at 8 p.m., in the valet parking area in front of Pikeville Methodist Hospital.

"This is a very exciting time for Pikeville Methodist Hospital," hospital administrator Martha O'Reagan Chill said. "This groundbreaking will begin the actual construction project that will lead to a whole new realm of health care in this region."

"The groundbreaking is not going to be your usual groundbreaking," she added. "It's going to be a very fun, festive, family event. Governor Paul E. Patton is our special guest speaker and there will be food and fireworks!"

Actual site preparation work has begun with the work on the Harold's Branch culvert and the renovation for a new emergency room entrance. The construction of the new ten-story tower will begin in July.

Even though this is an enormous project, Pikeville Methodist Hospital will remain 100 percent operational at all times during the construction.

The new building will be ten stories tall and will house all patient care areas. Phase One of the project is expected to be completed 24 months after construction begins.

Community Trust Bank announces promotions

Jean R. Hale, president and CEO of Community Trust Bank, NA, recently announced a number of promotions. The following employees were named vice president: Jonda Patton in the Pikeville market; and Mark Johnson, Greg Stacy and Nita Selders in the Lexington market. Named to the position of assistant vice president were Kay Brown of the Pikeville market; Donna Rodgers in the Campbellsville market; and Michelle Young in Lexington.

Community Trust, headquartered in Pikeville, has assets of over $1.7 billion. Additional offices are located in Ashland, Campbellsville, Flemingsburg, Frankfort, London, Middlesboro, Mt. Sterling, Somerset, Versailles, Whitesburg and Williamsburg.

Dotson honored at banquet

Worldwide Equipment Inc. recently honored Irvin Dotson as Worldwide Equipment's Employee of the Year at the 1996-1997 annual awards banquet held in Knoxville, Tennessee. Dotson serves as vp/controller and assistant corporate treasurer and has been with the company for the past four years at the corporate headquarters in Prestonsburg. He is married to RoseAnna Dotson, and they reside in Pikeville. The Dotsons have two sons, Jim and Irvin Jr.

Terry Dotson, president/CEO of Worldwide Equipment highly praised Mr. Dotson's dedication and service to the company.

BLASTING DAMAGE

Blasting operations occur in areas of construction, highway construction, strip and deep mining, rock quarrying, excavation, and demolitions. Blasting operations are almost always covered by the blaster's insurance policy. But if you don't file a claim, you can't collect, no matter how much damage you have suffered. Often, even after filing a claim, you will be offered a settlement for far less than the amount of actual damages.

Damage to your home from nearby blasting operations is difficult to detect, but could cause thousands of dollars damage to your home and property. Usually, an unexplained tremor, shaking of your home, is a good indicator that blasting is being conducted nearby. A property owner should always write down the date and time any time a vibration is felt. Notice for cracks through blocks, bricks, slabs, driveways, patios, sheetrock, etc., as well as stuck or non-fastening doors and windows. Also note clouded water from wells and a sewer system that suddenly malfunctions. If you have one or more of these problems, it could be a sign that you have suffered blasting damage.

What can you do? Give us a call and we will be happy to sit down with you and schedule an evaluation of your property to determine if you have suffered blasting damage. If you have, we will work hand in hand with you and your attorney from start to finish, to make sure you are properly compensated.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE Pursuant to Application Number 836-5271 Major Revision No. 1

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.070, notice is hereby given that Matt/Co., Inc., 432 Meadow Branch, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653 has applied for a major revision to an existing underground coal mining and reclamation operation located 0.7 miles north of Dana in Floyd County. The major revision will add 0.00 acres of surface disturbance acres and will underlie an additional 0.00 acres making a total area of 469.64 acres within the revised permit boundary.

The proposed major revision is approximately 0.25 mile south from KY 1426's junction with Cecil Branch County Road and located 0.50 mile west of Johnson Fork. The latitude is 37° 33' 48" and the longitude is 82° 41' 27."

The proposed major revision is located on the Harold U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be affected by the major revision is owned by Billy A. Williams.

The major revision proposes to change the post-mining land use from the existing pre-mining land use of forestland to a post-mining land use of pastureland.

The major revision application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 2705 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director, Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

A hearing date for this bond release request has been set for July 21, 1997 at 1:00 p.m., at the Department for Surface Mining and Enforcement's Regional Office, 2705 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653. The hearing will be canceled if no request for a hearing or informal conference is received by July 18, 1997.

Written comments, objections, and requests for a public hearing or informal conference must be filed with the Director, Division of Field Services, #2 Hudson Hollow Complex, Frankfort, KY 40601 by July 18, 1997.

NOTICE OF BOND RELEASE

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.093 notice is hereby given that Square Circle Coal Co., Inc., 413 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653 (606-886-2330) intends to apply for Phase II and III Bond Release on Permit No. 836-5014 which was last issued on December 12, 1984. The application covers an area of approximately 200.23 acres located at Printer in Floyd County.

The permit area is 2.50 miles southeast from the KY 122's junction with KY 2030. The latitude is 37° 30' 45" and the longitude is 82° 43' 07" and is located on the Harold 7 1/2 minute USGS quadrangle maps.

The performance bond (Surety) now in effect for the permit is $4,600. 100% of the original bond amount of $10,300 is included in this application for release.

Reclamation work thus far performed includes: backfilling and grading, sampling and testing, liming, fertilizing, seeding and mulching, and was completed in the Spring of 1989. Results thus far achieved include: establishment of vegetation and the post mining land use in accordance with the approved post mining land use plan.

Written comments, objections, and requests for a public hearing or informal conference must be filed with the Director, Division of Field Services, #2 Hudson Hollow Complex, Frankfort, KY 40601 by July 18, 1997.

A hearing date for this bond release request has been set for July 21, 1997 at 1:00 p.m., at the Department for Surface Mining and Enforcement's Regional Office, 2705 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653. The hearing will be canceled if no request for a hearing or informal conference is received by July 18, 1997.

NOTICE OF BOND RELEASE

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.093 notice is hereby given that G&C Coal Co., Inc., 413 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653 (606-886-2330) intends to apply for Phase II and III Bond Release on Permit No. 836-5020 which was last issued on December 15, 1983. The application covers an area of approximately 151.50 acres, located at Dena in Floyd County.

The permit area is 0.17 miles southeast from the Spurlock Road's junction with KY 1426. The latitude is 37° 33' 04" and the longitude is 82° 41' 06" and is located on the Harold 7 1/2 minute USGS quadrangle maps.

The performance bond (Surety) now in effect for the permit is $4,800. 100% of the original bond amount of $10,355 is included in this application for release.

Reclamation work thus far performed includes: backfilling and grading, sampling and testing, liming, fertilizing, seeding and mulching, and was completed in Fall 1989. Results thus far achieved include: establishment of vegetation and the post mining land use in accordance with the approved post mining land use plan.

Written comments, objections, and requests for a public hearing or informal conference must be filed with the Director, Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

This is the final advertisement of this application. All comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be received within thirty (30) days of today's date.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE Pursuant to Application No. 836-5340, Major Revision #1

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.070, notice is hereby given that Czar Coal Corporation, HC 64 Box 915, Debord, Kentucky 41214, has applied for a major revision to an existing underground coal mining and reclamation operation located 2.7 miles south of Odds in Floyd, Johnson and Martin counties. The major revision proposes to add an additional 44.29 acres of underground disturbance area and 0.00 acres of surface disturbance area for a total permit acreage of 491.59 acres.

The proposed major revision area is approximately 2.9 miles southwest from Daniel's Branch Road's junction with KY State Route 3 and located 0.4 mile north of Dick's Creek. The latitude is 37° 43' 16" and the longitude is 82° 40' 02".

The proposed major revision is located on the Lancer U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The overlying surface area to be affected by the major revision is owned by Pocahontas Development Corporation, Sally Turner Heirs and Harkins Mineral.

The major revision application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 2705 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653-1455. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, US 127 South, No. 2 Hudson Hollow, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

NOTICE TO BID

The City of Prestonsburg will be accepting bids for laying blacktop on city streets and properties, as needed, for the 97/98 fiscal year. The bid should be based on the TOTAL PRICE PER TON LAID. The City will be utilizing state price contract for materials. Bids must be submitted to the City Clerk by 4 p.m., June 20, 1997. The city has the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

The City of Prestonsburg is an EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER.

NOTICE OF BANK ACQUISITION
Citizens National Corporation, 620 Broadway, P.O. Box 1488, Paintsville, Kentucky 41240, intends to apply to the Federal Reserve System for permission to acquire 100% of the common and preferred stock of Josephine Bancshares, Inc., 1st & Court Streets,

P.O. Box 471, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. The Federal Reserve System considers a number of factors in deciding whether to approve the notification, including the record of performance of banks we own in helping to meet local credit needs.

You are invited to submit comments on this application, in writing, to the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, 1455 East 6th Street, Cleveland, Ohio 44115. The comment period will not end before July 11, 1997, and may be somewhat longer. The Federal Reserve Board's procedures for processing applications may be found at 12 C.F.R. part 262 (as revised, 49 Federal Register 5603 (February 14, 1984)). Procedures for processing protested applications may be found at 12 C.F.R. 262.25 (1984). To obtain a copy of the Federal Reserve Board's procedures, or if you need more information about how to submit your comments on the application, contact Community Affairs Officer at the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, Ms. Laura K. McGowan, Assistant Vice President, at 606-579-2891. The Federal Reserve will consider your comments on the notice if they are reserved by the Reserve Bank on or before the last date of the comment period.

Shower mom with gifts

(NAPS)—Everyone gets invited to a baby shower sooner or later. For the newcomer, the task of finding the perfect gift can be daunting. And, even if you're a seasoned veteran, how do you pick a present that won't be humdrum and given in triplicate?

The options are endless. The key is not buying anything too obscure—remember, moms need practical items.

Homemade presents are cherished, especially if you're handy. Think about making a special picture frame covered with colorful fabric or painted to match the baby's room.

Storybooks for infants also make great gifts. Both moms and dads spend countless hours entertaining their babies and soothing them to sleep. Choose either cloth or board books with lots of animated and bright pictures. Infant learning toys such as stacking rings or cups are practical as well.

New parents always appreciate clothing. There won't be a lot of time to shop once the baby is born, and basic layette items for newborns are necessities that are often overlooked. There are so many choices for clothes as there are manufacturers.

Baby B'Gosh layette from OshKosh B'Gosh offers infant wear with unisex styling and easy-on-easy-off features. Their packaged layette basics are a cinch to buy. Snap-crotch bodysuits are great for layering under soft overalls. Hats, drool bibs and booties are essential and affordable accessories. Opt for non-traditional colors such as lavender, periwinkle and yellow for boys and girls.

It's also nice to give clothing gifts in larger sizes such as 12 months and 18 months, as long as the outfit can be worn in any season. A pair of OshKosh denim overalls is a classic example—they don't wear out and can be handed down through the family.

For more expensive items, consider teaming up with a friend to offset the cost of a car seat, stroller, baby swing, or baby monitor, which are exceptional gifts guaranteed to be used. Diaper disposal systems work wonders to eliminate odors and compact used diapers.

And don't forget mom. She could use special pampering after the baby is born. Gift certificates for a manicure or stress-relieving massage are always welcome, or have a friend pitch in to hire a house cleaning service.

If you still don't know what to get, just ask the parents-to-be. You'll probably end up with a list a mile long!

Advice About Fertility

By Richard Marrs, M.D.

(NAPS)—Infertility affects 5.3 million couples in the U.S. It affects both men and women, and it can be caused by many factors, including hormonal imbalances and certain diseases. The good news is that infertility is now often successfully treatable—but the most important step is for couples to understand fertility and make the right choices in seeking treatment.

In my practice, I find that couples who understand reproduction are usually better able to make decisions about pregnancy and infertility treatment. In my new guide, Dr. Richard Marrs' Fertility Book, I identify the important facts everyone should know about fertility. For instance:

• A healthy couple in their mid-30s has only about a 20 to 25 percent chance of conceiving a child in a single ovulatory cycle. Many of the newest treatments for infertility equal or better these odds.

• A woman's fertility declines after age 30 and declines more rapidly after age 35.

• One of the most common mistakes couples make is to avoid seeking an infertility specialist when they are having trouble conceiving. An infertility specialist has specific training and experience in reproductive health.

• Infertility affects men and women in roughly equal numbers. It is definitely not a "women's disease" as many people mistakenly think.

• There are many new treatments for infertility today. Some may sound quite complicated. The only way to find out if one is right for you is to seek the advice of an infertility specialist.

• Because infertility affects both men and women, it is essential for both partners of a couple to have a medical examination.

We are developing new ways to treat infertility every year, and someday soon we may be able to help all couples who want a biological child to have one. The most important step is for couples to get the information they need to make the right decisions about treatment.

The more a couple knows about fertility—the better their chances of success!

Did you know ?

(NAPS)—A new book, The Physician Within You (Health Communications, Inc., paperback $12.95) is at local bookstores. It offers insights into the healing power that experts say, can be found within everyone.
